31 Teachers, Over 600 Pupils, as High School with New Extension Opens for 1950-51 Scholastic Year

Well Trained Staff and Modern Equipment Provide Education Facilities Second to None

Lachute Has Institution to be Proud of

Upwards of 600 pupils flocked to Lachute High School on Tuesday morning — all wondering whether or not they would occupy one of the new classrooms which have just been opened for the first time — and whether they would be instructed by one of the new teachers. With the largest enrolment on record, the teaching staff, headed by Principal F. H. J. Royal, M.A., had an interesting time directing the pupils to their various classrooms. There was no confusion, however, and when the second school bell had rung, all pupils were in their proper places — a fact which gave evidence of smooth running organization.

The increased enrolment was largely due to the fact that the schools at St. Andrews East and Lakefield had been closed and all the pupils from those communities brought to Lachute. A number of new school buses were in evidence, too—one operating from Carillon through St. Andrews East to Lachute, one from Ogdensburg through Brownsburg to Lachute, and one from Lakefield. A new conveyance has also been added, operating from Upper Lachute; this replaces an old vehicle that was used temporarily last year. The other routes, from Thomas' Gore, East Settlement, Chatham and Dunany, are continuing as they were last year.

There are now a total of 31 teachers on the staff at Lachute High School. Fourteen of these are newcomers to the staff, including the seven additional teachers. Miss Gertrude McMahon and Mrs. Enid Dixon have a total of 68 beginners. Miss Grace McMahon and Miss Joan Addy have 66 in Grade II. Miss Addy taught in the Morin Heights Intermediate School last year, having completed her teacher's course at Macdonald College the year before; her home is in Montreal. Mrs. Doris Robinson and Miss Mary Farnsworth have charge of the two grade III's. Mrs. Ruth Graham and Miss Irene McFeeters are the Grade IV teachers. The latter comes from the neighboring town of Hawkesbury and graduated from the Intermediate Class at Macdonald College last year.

Mrs. Elva Armstrong and Mrs. Alma Walker have the two Grade V classrooms, and Mrs. Mabel McDonell and Miss Mary Smith, Grade VI. Miss Smith comes to Lachute after three years' successful teaching, two at Arundel and one at Morin Heights. She was a former graduate of Lachute High School, and is a resident of Arundel. Miss Marion MacLachlan and Mrs. Verna Armstrong have Grade VII, and Mrs. Norma Rogers and Mr. Arthur Bond are in charge of Grade VIII. Mr. Bond comes here from New Brunswick and holds a first class teacher's license; he has been vice-principal of Perth High School and principal of the New Denmark High School. He is specializing in Mathematics in the High School grades. Mr. John C. Hawes, B.Sc., has his headquarters in Room IXa. He taught for a year in the new school at Hudson Heights, and is instructing in Guidance and Science in the High School grades, particularly Chemistry in Grade XII.

Mrs. Audrey Burton, B.A., and Mrs. Mary McGerrigle, B.A., have the two Grade X rooms, the former specializing in English and the latter in History and Latin. Mrs. Burton was formerly Miss A. F. Ascah and comes to Lachute after several years in Hudson; she is a resident of Farnham, Que. Mr. R. J. Burton, B.Sc., and Mr. Robert Wyse, B.Sc. and B.Ed, are in charge of the two Grade XI rooms. Mr. Burton, a graduate of Bishop's, has worked several years as research chemist at Shawinigan Falls. Mr. Wyse is a native of Nova Scotia, having taught at Mount Allison University, and one year as principal in a school in New Brunswick. Mr. Austin Thompson, M.A., has as his home room, Grade XII. Mr. B. A. Millar, M.A., and Miss Frances Murdoch are the French specialists, assisted to a certain extent by Miss Farnsworth.

Miss Barbara Vrooman, B.Sc., is the Household Science specialist and comes to Lachute highly recommended by McGill University. Mr. H. K. Russell, B.Sc. in Agriculture, is the specialist in this subject. He too is a native of New Brunswick and has been principal of a 10-room school. Mr. Robert J. Berry, B.Sc., is the specialist for Physical Education. A graduate of McGill University, and resident of Montreal, he comes to L.H.S. after a successful year at Westmount Junior High School. Mr. H. W. Salisbury, specializing in Industrial Arts, is from Nova Scotia and holds a Superior First Class Mechanic's License from that province. This is the first year that a full-time teacher has been engaged for that department.

Miss Anne J. Gulliver is specialist in charge of the Commercial Courses. She too is a native of New Brunswick, and holds a First Class License from that province. Mr. S. McKyes, L.R.S.M., a graduate of McGill University, is the Music specialist. He will spend a certain amount of time in Brownsburg and will act as the supervisor of Music throughout the Central Board Unit. Mr. McKyes comes to Lachute after 10 years of successful teaching in Westmount Junior High School. He acted as one of the adjudicators at the Music Festival held here last spring.

Considering the new extension to Lachute High School, now complete with the most modern equipment, and staffed throughout with highly trained, experienced teachers and specialists — Lachute can now boast of educational facilities which compare with those being offered in any other community in the country. It is rumored that an official opening is being planned, when everyone will have an opportunity to inspect the new building. This will be duly announced when all the plans have been completed.

Sidewalk Survey Protested at B'burg

Brownsburg — At a special meeting of the Brownsburg Council last week, a motion was passed calling for tenders on the waterworks extension on St. Lawrence and St. George. Notice of motion was also handed in to have the loan by-law moved at a later meeting. . . The regular monthly meeting was held on Tuesday evening when it was revealed that no steps had been taken to implement the Council's instructions, as the engineers of the project could not be contacted and the call for tenders had not been issued. The Council was in no mood for delay in this matter, and the discussion showed that action would be demanded, and if necessary other engineers put on the job.

The survey of St. Joseph Street to determine where sidewalks should be laid, was completed and the surveyor's account was before the meeting. The total cost was $825.00. Councillor N. Somers thought the Council should contest the bill, as there was a second survey resulting from an error of the surveyor's which the Council would not pay for. The secretary, Emile Hebert, pointed out that the whole survey of Brownsburg cost $1,500 and now one street costs more than half as much. An item of 300 pickets at $30 was also questioned as being too many and too dear. . . The plans were not before the meeting — they were expected in a few days — but arising out of the survey, Mr. W. Cooley attended to protest the line cutting off some 3 or 4 feet from the front of his property. He was willing to abide by the first or false survey, which encroached upon his property about 8 inches, but he claimed the second survey taking a greater amount was not correct. He had measured his property several years ago when he purchased it, and had his lines laid out then. His was the original line.

Councillor Somers wanted to know why the land owners on either side were on the line as now surveyed and Mr. Cooley's projects outside the line almost four feet. Mr. Cooley was unable to say why this is so, but maintained his line was right. The Mayor was of the opinion that the Council was not going to pay $825 for a survey which was not right. Regardless of what property any man claims to be his, the Council had a road right of 36 feet and the Council was going to retain it. When Mr. Cooley asked what steps the Council proposed to take in the matter, Councillor Somers replied that the present survey lines were "it", and if Mr. Cooley disputed that fact, he would have to have an independent survey and prove the present line was not correct. Mr. Cooley asked if the Council would rebuild the wall in a new position if they removed it. The Mayor quickly vetoed any such action, it would lead to endless complications and everybody along the street would want the front of their property built up. . . The matter dropped.

The asphalting of the streets had been concluded, and authorization to pay the sum of $7,655.40 was voted.

Arrangements were made to have the chimneys cleaned — the work to start immediately.

It was proposed to undertake the work of putting a new lining in the reservoir, used for fire-fighting purposes, at a cost of $4,000 — the money to be borrowed for this purpose.

Old Coins Treasured

Following our reference last week to an 1827 penny in the jeans of a local taxi driver — it seems there is no dearth of ancient currency in these parts. Two readers visited The Watchman to exhibit coins of antique vintage, and some of them were rare enough. These included —

A Bank of England "five shilling - one dollar" coin struck in the reign of George III — a heavy silver piece 1¾ inches in diameter; date 1804.

A French 20¢ silver coin, showing the head of Napoleon III.

An American 3-cent silver coin dated 1862.

A Bank of Montreal 1844 "Province of Canada" bank token, and a Canadian "Province du Bas" halfpenny dated 1837.

A George III coin minted in the early 1700's, and early 19th Century pennies depicting George III and the Duke of Wellington.

Two Fire Calls On Tuesday

Lachute fire-fighters were summoned to two minor fires on Tuesday. The first alarm was sounded at 7.50 a.m. to a home near the Exhibition Grounds, where it was discovered the housekeeper had left an electric iron, with the current connected, on a sink table. The iron burned through the tabletop, but did little damage otherwise.

At 9.40 o'clock that evening a small blaze occurred at the home of André Lefebvre on Grace Street. The occupants had been cooking on an oil-stove in the back kitchen, and a pot boiling over, caused the flame to flare up, igniting a wall. The fire was extinguished with little difficulty, and no great damage was caused.

Teachers' Camp Held at St. Faustin

Miss Ruth Low, assistant supervisor of English in the Protestant Schools of Quebec, directed the third annual Teachers' Camp from August 24 to September 2 at beautiful Lac Quenouille, near St. Faustin.

It is Miss Low's purpose in this venture to bring a cross-section of the province's teaching personnel in contact with leading women of other professions, for mutual inspiration and exchange of ideas. The teachers came from such widely separated places as Bourlamaque and Gaspé, from Buckingham and Granby, from the Eastern Townships and Montreal. They met and talked individually and in groups with the following resource personnel:

Dr. Florence Farmer, specialist in Nutrition Research, Macdonald College, Que.

Miss Catherine Fraser, specialist in Teen-age Library Work, Westmount Public Library, Westmount, Que.

Dr. Minnie Gomery, medical missionary, 50 years in India, of Montreal West, Que.

Miss Glady Hibbard, ornithologist and specialist in Biology, Strathcona Academy, Outremont, Que.

Miss Olive Hibbard, secretary, Ladies' Morning Musicale, Montreal.

Miss Betty Jaques, art instructor, School for Teachers, Macdonald College, Que.

Miss Millicent Luke, graduate in Religious Education, Oshawa, Ont.

Miss Louisa Mayova, graduate of the Hartford School of Religious Education, United Church port worker, Montreal.

Miss Jessie Mennie, education officer, National Film Board, Ottawa.

Miss Uraturi Vaswani, member of the staff, Information Officer, High Commissioner for India, Ottawa.

Since Dr. Farmer and Dr. Gomery and seven of the teachers had been at camp previously directed by Miss Low at Oolahwan and Memphremagog, they helped the newcomers to get to the heart of the matter quickly, and from the very first there was a feeling of ease and companionship, which engendered interesting discussions around the fireplace, while boating, hiking, bathing, or at mealtimes.

Unfortunately, one could not be everywhere at once, but among the fine memories which this observer possesses were discussions on the new India and the old; the place of music in education, and many sing-songs involving melodies new and old; the quality of art, music and literature in Canada; the use of films in education; demonstrations in art, astronomy and botany; the relation of string figures in Indian lore; the problems of teen-agers in reading and literature; the problems of New Canadians; and the teacher's responsibility in giving youth a firm foundation of character and faith so that it may face this complex civilization with high standards and high ideals.

Watchman Publisher Visits Overseas

J. S. Giles, publisher of The Lachute Watchman since 1896, is at present revisiting relatives in the Old Land. Mr. Giles is here seen relaxing at the rail of the Cunard liner "Ascania" as he sailed recently from Montreal. He will spend his 82nd birthday (October 4) with his sister at Weymouth, Dorsetshire.

Parish Delegation's Proposal for Annexation Part of St. Jerusalem

At a lengthy session of Town Council, held last evening under chairmanship of Mayor Leopold Carriere, a delegation came forward to propose the annexation by Lachute of a portion of St. Jerusalem Parish adjacent to the southern boundary of the town — a section which, in part, is already considered from a population standpoint as synonymous with Lachute Town.

The delegation comprised Mr. E. M. Jones, secretary-treasurer of the Parish (who was chief spokesman), and several of the councillors and ratepayers.

The portion of land concerned in this proposal includes the former Barron farm from Bethany Road to Isabella Street, and the Fraser farm from the town line south to the Golf Club. The delegation had engineer's plans of this tract, showing subdivisions and projected waterworks and sewerage — which in the event of annexation would be supplied by the Lachute Town system. Cost of such works, according to the engineer's estimate, would be $135,000. The property valuation in the area concerned, amounts to little over $125,000, yielding a tax revenue from assessment amounting to $9,000 annually.

The proposal appeared logical to the Council and it was agreed that the matter would be given close study and a reply forwarded to the St. Jerusalem Parish Council within 30 days.

All councillors were present at this meeting, and many other matters were dealt with — which will be reported in next issue of The Watchman. The meeting was adjourned till September 20.

Rev. H. Baugh Begins New Duties October 1

The Rev. Horace G. Baugh, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, of Lakefield, has accepted the incumbency of the Parish of Morin Heights and Mille Isles, and will begin his duties October 1. At the present time the Rev. H. G. Baugh is rector of the Parish of Grand Manan, N.B., and for the past seven years has been serving in the Diocese of Fredericton. He has achieved considerable success, and become well-known throughout that province through his regular devotional periods conducted over the radio.

He is an active member of Mananook Lodge, No. 38, F. & A. M., Belyea Lodge L.O.L. 158, Icthus Oddfellows Order, Southern Cross Knights of Pythias; Chaplain to the G.M. branch of the Canadian Legion; vice-president of the G.M. Ministerial Association; chairman of the Public Library, and an executive on many other organizations. He is editor of the "Island Crusader", a weekly paper. He has one daughter, Marlena, age six years.

The new rector of Morin Heights and Mrs. Baugh already have many friends in the parish, as he served the two churches while studying at McGill University and the Montreal Diocesan College.

Junior Fair and Calf Club Show on Labor Day

Keenest Competition Among Juvenile Showmen at Local Exhibition Grounds

Colorful Event for School-Agers

It was Labor Day in every sense of the word for some 142 contestants who displayed their exhibits last Monday at the Children's Fair, in the main building of the Lachute Exhibition Grounds. The entry list represents a 100% increase over last year. . . The children were up early preparing their vegetables, grain and flowers — putting the last touches to their handicrafts — or whipping up some cookies, muffins or biscuits in high anticipation of seeing a red ticket attached when the judges later announced their decisions.

It had been Labor Day for many days for those in charge, who left no stone unturned to make this event the success it proved to be. Mr. Norman MacGeorge as chairman, and Mr. Irvin Bain, along with their committee, deserve much credit. The Frontier Women's Institute did their part, too, in serving up the best of refreshments.

This venture may be measured as a worthwhile training for local youth, from five standpoints:

1st. In appreciation to the Quebec Provincial Department of Agriculture, for supplying the seed free of charge.

2nd. It teaches them that "Not failure, but low aim, is crime."

3rd. It teaches them to "get along" with other boys and girls.

4th. It instils the elements of showmanship.

5th. It demonstrates that "the surest way not to fail is to determine to succeed".

Mr. Albert Ogilvie had a real task before him when he came to judge the cucumbers, with 72 exhibits, and the beets, carrots, corn and tomatoes — which were represented in such creditable exhibits that no boy or girl need feel disappointed if he did not win an award this time.

Mrs. L. Hume was the envy of the other judges, for she had the privilege of sampling the cookery. Mr. A. Bothwell was kept busy too, judging the grain and the handicrafts exhibited by the boys. Mrs. Geo. McGibbon judged the girls' handicrafts, which included dishcloths, pot-holders, guest towels, booties, aprons, bed socks, pillow cases and ankle socks.

The flower show was also well worth seeing — with sweet peas, asters and petunias making a colorful display.

While the judges were thus occupied, the boys and girls of Chatham Calf Club, under supervision of Mr. Donald Robertson, provincial Calf Club fieldman, were preparing their animals for the show. Mr. Donald McPhee, of Vankleek Hill, was judge in this department. Competition was in progress too for the coveted prize awarded to the best judge of cattle.

Tickets were being sold on a registered Holstein calf, "Pontiac Albino Ganax", and late in the afternoon the draw was made — Mr. Leonard Boa being the lucky winner.

Mr. A. Bothwell, in conclusion, thanked the prize donors and all who had contributed, in effort, time and interest, to the success of this event.

Calf Club prize winners are listed hereunder. Prize winners in the School Fair exhibits, also donors of Calf Club prizes, will be published in next issue.

Arnold Horses Win At Toronto Exhib'n

Toronto, Sept. 1 (CP) — Gilbert E. Arnold of Grenville, breeder of draft horses, took top honors in judging of Belgians at the National Exhibition livestock show.

Waterloo's Dan, pride of the Arnold stables, was awarded the grand champion and senior champion stallion ribbons in the Belgian class. Arnoldwold King took the reserve senior championship ribbon.

Gilbert Arnold's entries also won four of six classes judged Friday in the Percheron stallion class.

Priest and Six Passengers Injured in Head-On Collision Near Ashton, Ontario

The Rev. Father Paul Manseau, popular curate of St. Louis de France, Brownsburg — driving home from Boston with a party of six — met with a serious accident Saturday evening near Ashton, 23 miles from Ottawa, on Highway 15. The group included the priest's sister, Mlle Jeanne Manseau, 21, and six young folks from his parish, who had shared this annual outing in recognition of their services as monitors during the season at Brownsburg swimming pool and recreation centre. They had been absent for a week.

Injured in a head-on crash with another car were Father Manseau, 33, who suffered a broken nose, severe facial cuts and shock; his sister, who suffered bad cuts and contusions about the face; Lucette Proulx, with a dislocated hip and fractured jaw; Louisa Raymond, with concussion; Jocelyne Racine, with a broken leg; Fernand Lepine, head injuries and shock; and Bernard Therrien, who suffered a sprained foot.

All the above were from Brownsburg with exception of Mlle Manseau, whose home is in Hull, Que. Bernard Therrien was brought to his home in Brownsburg, but the remaining six were detained at the Ottawa Civic Hospital for treatment of their injuries; Fernand Lepine was released from hospital yesterday.

Two occupants of the Ottawa car with which Father Manseau collided, were also injured and taken to hospital. It is reported three other automobiles piled into this latter car following the collision.

The priest and his passengers were travelling in a hired auto from Lachute Drive-Yourself; both machines were wrecked in the impact.

The accident occurred around 8.50 p.m. — the holiday party expecting to reach home that night.

90th Birthday Celebrated By St. Eustache Lady

"Windy Ridge", the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Shearman, St. Eustache, was the scene of a happy event on Labor Day, September 4, when a family gathering took place to celebrate the 90th birthday of Mrs. George E. Williams, mother of Mrs. Shearman.

For the first time in a number of years all the grandchildren and great chandchildren were present. Those from out of town were — Mr. and Mrs. Garth Kent and their daughter, Violet, of Athelstan, Que., Miss A. Jean Shearman, R.N., of Montreal, the Rev. John Shearman, B.A., B.D., of Chelsea, Que., Miss Helen Lamb, R.N., of Aurora, Ont.; other members of the family were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hall and Master Douglas, of St. Eustache, George Shearman, B.A., and Stewart Shearman, both of St. Eustache.

While Mrs. Williams is well and alert, she is not able to take a very active part in the work of the Ladies' Aid Society of the St. Eustache United Church, which she organized 30 years ago, and in which she still retains the office of president. This society honored her 90th birthday with a presentation of a beautiful bathrobe. The presentation was made by Mrs. George Woodwark and Mrs. Tom Coles, who were also charter members of the society.

Prior to coming to St. Eustache in 1920, Mrs. Williams and her husband, the late George E. Williams, took an active part in the work of the Young Men's Christian Association and Emmanuel (Congregational) Church, of Montreal.

District Optometrists To Meet at Ste. Agathe

Optometrists of the Laurentian district are holding their annual meeting at the Chez Maurice Hotel in Ste. Agathe on Saturday, September 16. Dinner, at 7.30 p.m. will be followed by a dance. In the afternoon a golf tournament will take place at the Ste. Agathe Golf Club.

Mr. B. Massicote and Mr. L. H. Yelle, of this town, are members of the Optemetrists' organization for the district.

Brooks, Alta. (CP) — Rules of the local baseball tournament allowed the two finalists to pick any three players from teams they defeated in the semi-finals. One of the three picked by Carmangay, Alta., was Hans Saxton of Brooks who hurled an 11-0, no-hit victory in the final.

Gatineau LINES

Radio Interference

Practically everybody who owns a radio has experienced, at one time or another, the annoyance of having a good program spoiled by "interference" from other electrical equipment of various kinds. This interference may spring from a variety of sources — from defective appliances, from motors improperly equipped to overcome the annoyance, from branches of trees rubbing against power lines, and occasionally from power lines themselves.

The thing we would like to stress is that in almost all cases radio interference can be overcome easily and inexpensively — but it requires the co-operation of those owning the appliance which is causing the trouble.

Electric motors, welding machines, electric razors, all are quite frequent causes of radio interference noises. In cases such as those, any experienced electrical contractor can overcome the trouble by correcting faults in the appliance itself or by installing a simple noise eliminator. Every time such steps are taken by the person owning the appliance involved, the result is better, more noise-free radio reception by his neighbors — sometimes by persons miles away, in fact.

The interference resulting from the rubbing of branches against power lines can, of course, be eliminated entirely by making sure that the branches can't rub against the lines. The power company keeps crews of men constantly at work trying to make sure that power lines are kept free of branches, but customers can help too by drawing the attention of the company to trouble spots which might otherwise be missed, and allowing the power company to remove the branches and trees.

Then there is the interference sometimes resulting from the presence of high-powered lines in the vicinity of the radio. Here the power companies do everything they can to reduce the nuisance. Technical experiments are constantly underway to find ways of reducing such troubles, and they are becoming less frequent as a result.

Intn'l Plowing Match

Winners in both the horse and tractor "Esso Champions Trans-Atlantic" classes at this year's International Plowing Match will be awarded gold medals and a four weeks' tour of the British Isles with all expenses paid —according to Roy Shaver, president of the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

The 1950 International matches take place in Tecumseh Township near Alliston, October 11, 12 and 13. At a special ceremony on October 11, Hon. W. E. Harris, Ontario minister of citizenship and immigration, will officially open the annual event and tour the "tented city" that will house the latest in equipment and labor saving devices for the farmer. Premier Leslie Frost will be the guest speaker at a banquet in the Beeton Community Arena on the 13th, marking the close of the plowmen's classic.

Second prize winners in the Trans-Atlantic classes, which are sponsored by Imperial Oil, will each receive a silver medal and $150 in cash. Twelve other cash prizes will be awarded in each class.

The tractor competition is open to all "Esso Champions' Tractor Special" winners at Ontario Plowmen's Association branch matches and all plowmen from other provinces. Previous Trans-Atlantic trip winners will not be eligible.

In the horse-drawn plow class all plowmen who qualified at branch matches after October 15, 1948, may compete. Gold medal winners in this class in previous years will not be eligible. This class is also open to plowmen from other provinces in Canada.

During their all-expense-paid trips to the British Isles as the guests of Imperial Oil, the gold medallists will attend a number of old country plowing matches, visit outstanding farms and livestock stations and see many historic sites. They will be accompanied by a manager appointed by the Ontario Plowmen's Association. The tour will take about four weeks and includes a short stay in New York City.

Pruning Small Fruits

Pruning small fruits such as currants, gooseberries and raspberries is often neglected. These fruits must be pruned regularly to get the best production, says R. H. Anderson of the Melfort Experimental Station.

Currants are best pruned in the early spring while the wood is dormant. Red and white currants bear most of their fruit on short spurs on two-and-three-year old wood. Pruning in this case consists of removing wood older than three years and thinning out all weak growth. The aim is to have vigorous young growth to take the place of the wood older than three years. Lateral growth and tips of new growth may also be removed in the fall, to keep the shape of the bush and to induce spur growth.

Black currants bear much of their fruit on one-year old wood and on the laterals of two-year old wood. It is important to have a supply of one and two-year old stems. All older stems should be removed and the younger stems thinned to ten or twelve stems per plant depending upon the condition of the plant.

The fruiting habit of gooseberries is practically the same as red and white currants, most of the fruit is borne on two-and-three-year old stems. They should be pruned to leave approximately three one-year stems, three two-year and three three-year stems. All branches in contact with the ground should be removed. The pruning may be done in the fall or in the spring before growth begins.

In the case of the raspberry, the canes bear fruit in their second season and then die. Pruning, therefore, consists in removing the canes which bear fruit as soon as the harvest is over, and thinning the new canes where these are too numerous. In thinning the new canes, the weak ones should be removed first and then any surplus of strong ones. The canes that remain should not be closer than six inches apart; preferably nine to twelve inches. In the early spring, six inches may be pruned off the tips of the canes. This encourages strong lateral growth, which bears most fruit.

Storage of Ear Corn

Ottawa — Ear corn that is to be kept for feeding or marketing is usually stored in some kind of crib immediately after it is harvested. This storage is necessary because the corn may contain 20 to 30 per cent of moisture or even more at the time of harvest and some further drying is required in order to prevent loss from spoilage.

Well matured corn, containing up to 25 to 30 per cent moisture in the grain at harvest, may be stored safely in cribs in eastern Ontario and Quebec, and areas with similar conditions provided certain precautions are taken. First of all, there is no purpose in harvesting the crop earlier than necessary, because the ears dry faster in the field on the stalks than anywhere else. Therefore, allow the ears to remain in the field as long as possible before harvesting in order to reduce the moisture content. In harvesting, the husked corn should be removed as completely as possible before cribbing and all green or soft ears sorted out and fed at once. Only well matured, clearly husked ears should be placed in the crib. If the corn tends to be on the high moisture side, then delaying harvesting until the cooler weather arrives is a second reason for leaving the corn in the field as long as possible. Moist ears cribbed in warm weather are more liable to spoil than if cribbed when the weather is cool.

The type of crib used may be of a temporary or permanent nature but in any case it should not exceed 4 or 5 feet in diameter unless the corn happens to be very dry, that is, down to around 20 per cent moisture. The crib floor should be well off the ground to provide ventilations from underneath and the crib walls must be constructed of slatted material in order to allow good ventilation from all sides.

ROSIER CHEEKS FOR APPLES

Rosier cheeks on apples have been obtained by Cornell University's agricultural experimental station by the use of a new spray — sodium diethyldithiocarbamate, states C-I-L Agricultural News. The spray itself does not add the color but increases the pigment, anthocyanin, in the apple. Spray-treated apples, it is claimed, showed about 40 per cent more color than untreated ones. Further details and a commercially acceptable spray remain to be worked out.

DISEASED CATTLE

Sydney N.S. (CP) — A total of 26,317 cattle in Cape Breton have been tested for tuberculosis in the past few weeks and 406 have been ordered slaughtered, the department of agriculture announced.

THEM DAYS

Toronto (CP) — At a birthday party recently Mrs. William Scott recalled she didn't have much trouble getting along on her husband's $5 a week salary when they were first married. A quarter would buy three dozen eggs, three pounds of round steak or two pounds of butter. That was in 1885.

The first printed colored advertisement was for a rug.

Nature's Conservation

WHEN PIONEERS started to clear land, they usually sought right away to drain any swamp they found in their property, clear away the shrubbery that covered it, and turn the reclaimed land into a field.

They argued that, from a farming standpoint, the swamp in its natural state was waste land. They said, too, that often the swamp had formed part of an ancient riverbed and its black earth was capable of producing good crops.

The farmers of today are coming to deal differently with the swamp land that remains. They preserve it as an esset to their property.

The new attitude toward the swamp stems from recent interest in conservation, which includes protection of wild life, checking of soil erosion and the prevention of damaging spring floods.

Ask an up-to-date farmer how he regards his swamp and he'll tell you it affords cover for many kinds of animals and birds. Wild life nests in its shrubbery and grassland and the young birds and animals later find their way to other parts of the countryside. When a stream flows through the swamp, there is often good fishing.

The water that fills the swamp in the spring — and provides a setting for a bullfrog chorus — moistens surrounding forests and fields during the period of most rapid growth.

A stream that runs through a swamp has its own flood control system. Its waters, checked by the tangled growth along its banks, are unlikely to sweep down in a spring freshet to carry away valuable topsoil.

The soil of most swamps still is rich, black and silty. But it doesn't tempt the farmer any more. He knows that the old swamp can serve him best if kept the way it was left by nature.

Women, Work and Money

A BRITISH industrialist said recently, "We have to get an entirely new interpretation of two things — money and work". Here is one place where women can contribute to the world outside the home. Men earn the income, but women largely spend it. Today, with the rising cost of living, the challenge is greater than ever to make a wise use of what we have. If women are demanding, they lay an extra burden on their menfolk and contribute to the spiral of inflation. If they are good stewards, they help to create a sound economy, not only in our homes but in the nation. By their attitude to money, they make either wage-slaves or free men.

How do women regard their work? They can think of themselves either as household drudges or as responsible administrators of their domain. They can be slaves to their work, or they can use work as a means of caring for and training their families. The wife can honor her husband's work, free him to give his best through it, and use all her resources of heart, head and home to reinforce what he is doing. She can train her children to respect work well done, to feel pride in doing a good job. She can build a family team where all share in decisions, in doing things together, and learn thereby the fun and satisfaction of common enterprises. The way women learn to do and to distribute the work of the home will have far-reaching effects in education and in industry. If there is no "sabotage" in the home there will be none in the nation.

No Substitute for Work

SCIENCE has invented many mechanical devices and chemical processes that have lightened and speeded up all forms of manual and clerical work, but no one has yet invented a substitute for work — writes Lewis Milligan. Indeed it may be said that, while work has been lightened, it has been intensified. With all his inventions, modern man has not found relief from the necessity of working for a living. It has been remarked that, the only hope of relief from having to work for a living is to get a "break" by winning in a sweepstake. Judging by the wide sale of sweepstake tickets, there are millions of people living in the same hope. But it is a vain hope, except for a minute number of "lucky" ticket holders. And that is fortunate for the world in general, for if it were possible for everybody to win a fortune in sweepstakes, the entire machinery of modern life would come to a full stop.

There is no escape from work. For the vast majority of the people in this world the edict issued at the exit from the Garden of Eden is still in force. All our scientific labor-saving devices have only increased the necessity for work in a far greater variety of occupations, and the tendency is for man to become a slave to the machines he has created. An American scientist recently suggested the possibility of developing a race of synthetic men, half ape, to relieve civilized man of the heavier and mechanical forms of labor. But he pointed out that it was the necessity of work that led to the development of the human brain and man as we now know him. If civilized man ceased to work for a living he would deteriorate mentally, morally and physically, and the half-man would develop and supersede him. — "Blessed is he who has found his work; let him ask no other blessedness", wrote Carlyle; and he was a hard worker.

TOWNSHIP councillors hereabouts who had an expensive time with winter-worn roads last spring might profit from this story by Earl Wilson:

A visitor asked a local councillor: "How are the local roads?"

"Fine", he replied. "We've abolished bad roads."

"Big job, wasn't it?" said the visitor.

"Not at all", the councillor said. "Wherever the going is particularly hard, we don't call it a road. We call it a detour."

DISCUSSING the hazard of a glaring headlights, The Christian Science Monitor offers the following suggestion: "The cardinal rule of night driving is to keep one's eyes on the outer edge of the road rather than looking into the glare of headlights. Since this is true, would it not be worth while to outline the edge as well as the centre of the pavement with a white or reflecting paint strip?"

Sleeping Out!

September is the last good chance for sleeping out. In some ways it is the best month, the mosquitos being gone, at least theoretically. Also, there is more night to sleep out in than there was in early summer when you first thought of sleeping out. Of course, one should have gotten around to it in July, and it's hard to remember how August came to be missed. It just slipped by, one night following another comfortably indoors on the spring mattress.

Some fairly bright people assert we should be sleeping out to get in practice for guerrilla warfare after the country is occupied. This kind of thinking tends to keep one indoors, enjoying the creature comforts up to the last.

The fact must be faced that sleeping out is not a pleasure. It is a satisfaction rather than a pleasure. Even an air mattress and a sleeping bag provide less comfort than the bed back there indoors. Things work up under the hip when you sleep out. They work up under whichever hip is down. The moonlight gets in the eyes, or the starlight. Dew descends. Little breezes shiver or full-out winds blow. There may be a spatter of rain, or real rain. There may be too much cold or heat or both at various times of the long night. Unaccountable noises intrude. Somebody pads out and inquires if you really like it there under the tree, or flat on the lawn, or wherever it is you are keeping house for the night. The sun starts coming up too soon, away ahead of when it shows indoors. A dog comes by and looks to make like you are a tree.

Most people have slept out, in one or another of the wars of these times, or during a camping trip, or when it was too hot to sleep inside. Deliberately moving out for the night from a bed that suddenly is revealed to be sumptuous, requires imagination, fortitude and a lot of getting-around-to-itness.

The effort is worthwhile, and September is the last good time for it in 1950. It is worthwhile to stir yourself up by finding again that the sky is not just a still picture hung above the street light, but that it has depth and movement. Sleeping out, you renew your spirit in ponderings. Your back may be a bit stiff in the morning, but the rest of you will be on better terms with your environment. — The Printed Word

STILL CLANNISH

Apart from the obvious thought that it is inconceivable the Indians would want this continent back, the feeling on the part of at least one of their number that it is their land, should not be taken lightly. To set themselves apart from the rest of Canadians or Americans, as they obviously do with such an opinion, indicates that they have not been absorbed as they might have been if there had been anything but a policy of isolation during the past four centuries.

75th Birthday Celebrated at Mabel

Mabel — On Sunday afternoon, September 3, relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. R. Black, Mabel, to extend best wishes on her 75th birthday.

Members of her family who were able to attend were — Mr. David Black, Mr. and Mrs. R. Warwick and children, Robert and Patricia, of Brownsburg; Mr. and Mrs. John Mahon, of Calumet; her granddaughter, Mrs. O. Boland, and children Shirley Ann and Dawna, of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. J. Black and children, Helen and David, of Mabel. Two other daughters absent on this occasion were Mrs. M. Murphy, of Toronto, and Mrs. E. Murphy, of London, Ont.

Supper was served to 16 guests. The table was decorated with autumn flowers. Mrs. Black has been a resident of Mabel for over 50 years. Best wishes are extended to her for many years of happiness.

Golfers and bathing girls have the same ambition — to go around in as little as possible.

IN MEMORIAM

BEATON — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Ellen Beaton, who passed away September 12, 1947. — Always remembered by Christie, Ross, and grandchildren.

"Gone, dear Mother, gone forever;
How we miss your smiling face;
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place."

BEATON — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Ellen Beaton, who passed away on September 12, 1947. — Always remembered by her husband and family.

"Loving memories never die,
As years roll on and days go by."

CHAMPAGNE — In loving memory of a dear husband, Felix Champagne, who passed away Sept. 11, 1949. — Ever remembered by his wife, Dolly.

"A beautiful memory, dearer than gold,
Of a husband whose worth can never be told;
Alone, unseen, he stands by my side
And whispers, 'Don't grieve, death cannot divide'.
Deep in my heart the memory is kept
Of one I loved and can never forget,
And though the years be many or few,
I'll always be thinking, dear Felix, of you."

CHAMPAGNE — In loving memory of a dear father, Felix Champagne, who passed away Sept. 11, 1949. — Ever remembered by Joe and Elsie.

"When twilight hours draw near
And sunset frames the sky,
We think of you, dear Dad,
And the happy days gone by;
Thoughts of you come drifting back
Within our dreams to stay,
To know that you are resting
When twilight ends the day."

CHAMPAGNE — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Felix Champagne, who passed away Sept. 11, 1949. — Always remembered by Rose, George, Allan and Fern.

"He was a father, so true, so rare,
The trials he went through, there's few could bear;
He never complained, he was not that kind,
He was one of those dads so hard to find.
Deep in our hearts the memory is kept
Of a dad we loved and can never forget."

GRAHAM — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Jennie, who passed away Sept. 6, 1946. — Ever remembered by her husband, family and grandchildren.

YOUNG — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Margaret (Waite) Young, who passed away very suddenly Sept. 7, 1948. — Always remembered by her husband, Asa, daughter, Ruby, son-in-law, Wyman, and grandsons, Willis and Carl.

"Deep in our hearts there's a picture
Worth more than silver and gold;
It's a picture of you, dear Mother,
Whose memory will never grow old.
There's a smile we remember forever,
There's a memory fond and true,
There's a token of affection
And a heart-ache still for you."

FOR PARENTS ONLY...

A Weekly Feature of Helpful Hints for Child Training, etc.

For Safety

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

A small boy with a wagon, a pail and a hose loves to "play fireman". But a real fire is no joke! The danger in loss of life and property is too great. The clanging bell and the siren, the gleaming red of a fire-truck attract children, but a fire is no place for them.

But fires do remind parents of their own responsibility to teach their children how to be safe from fire, what to do in case of fire, and to make their homes as fireproof as possible.

Important Rule

There are three definite rules which every boy or girl should know.

Matches are not toys. Do not play with them.

Keep away from stoves.

Do not tinker with electric plugs, irons, fans, heaters or any electrical equipment.

Children should also know that if a fire breaks out in a house, the first and most important rule is to leave the building as soon as it is discovered! Stay away from it to be out of the way of adult fire-fighters, and do not go back for anything. Children, in a panic from the smell of smoke or the sight of flames, often run to a higher floor, hide in a closet or under a bed. Many a child's life has been lost because the child has gone back into his home to look for a pet dog or cat. It if is impossible to escape, children should know to go to a window or balcony and call for help, remaining there as long as possible. Firemen with a net or with ladders then have the chance to rescue them quickly.

Even a small child can tell a neighbor at once if he sees a fire. A school age child should know where to phone in to the fire department and how to turn in an alarm. An older youngster can also learn how to use a hand fire extinguisher.

Whatever a child's age, he should know not to run if his clothes catch fire. This is the worst thing to do because the flames are fanned by this action. The right thing to do is to cover one's face and roll on the ground or on the floor, or wrap something such as a blanket or a rug tightly around the body so as to smother the fire. Anyone who has been overcome by smoke or fire gases should be carried to the fresh air and a doctor called at once. Artificial respiration should be started if the patient is not breathing, but alcohol or drugs should not be given.

School children are used to "fire drill". Part of the child's protection in case of an emergency is knowing exactly what he should do in case of fire. Why not discuss fire safety in a "family council"? Why not carry out "fire drill" practice in the home? Older children in the family can help parents check on other possible fire hazards, such as oily rags in a cellar. The price of safety from fire is eternal vigilance, knowing what to do and the ability to keep cool in face of danger.

Making Full Use of Family Allowances?

Why Not Start a "Dollars For Education" Account at the B of M

It's a wonderful thing for parents to be able to feel they're bringing up their children in a land of opportunity — as they are in Canada today. They have a great incentive for planning ahead, for making sure that their children will be able to get the most out of life.

A good education is one of the best ways of preparing them for the future, and the Family Allowance cheque can provide the key to such an education.

You may not find it easy to save the whole of each month's cheque, but why not put part of it away toward High School and College expenses? Donald Hay, manager of your local branch of the Bank of Montreal, points out that you can open an account for this purpose with as little as a dollar.

MORE SOCIAL ILLS

Winnipeg (CP) — A two-year survey by the Council of Social Agencies shows that central Winnipeg has more social ills than any other part of the city. The report listed more broken homes, more illegitimacy, more juvenile delinquency, more adult crime, more bad housing, and less play space, in the central area.

Tiny "Fire Truck" Tested in Forests

Temagami, Ont. (CP) — A tiny tractor, designed to "take the pack off the back" of the forest ranger has been developed for woods, transportation in the rugged Temagami country of Ontario.

The tractor, being tested by the Research Division of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, was developed at the southern research station near Toronto.

Driven by a six horsepower motor, it carries loads up to 800 pounds through some of the roughest country in the province. It is intended, primarily, for use during the forest fire season.

On the way to one fire it carried a complete power pump unit, including rotary pump, two cylinder gasoline engine, 1,000 feet of hose, couplings, tool kit and fuel.

On occasion, it has carried a man in addition to the other load and officials believe it could be used as a means of removing injured personnel from fire lines if necessary.

The tractor is guided by one man who walks behind it and directs it through handles, similar to those used on a horsedrawn plow. Intricate clutch mechanism allows it to be turned within its own length of about four feet.

SPIDER FRIGHTENS BIG GAME HUNTER

Port Elizabeth, S. Africa (CP) — A Port Elizabeth woman who once faced a charging elephant and killed it at a distance of 15 yards, says the common household spider "scares her stiff".

The woman, Mrs. Ursula Lloyd, formerly Lady Hanson, a London society woman, recently returned from a safari in Kenya, where fellow-hunters named her "One Shot Lloyd" because of her accurate shooting.

County Farms Shown On 90-Year-Old Map

Kettleby, Ont. (CP) — A 90-year-old linen-back map of York County which shows the location of every farm in the county in 1860, is in the possession of a resident here.

The map is five feet square and yellow with age. It carries the title, "Tremaine's map of the County of York, Canada West and of the City of Toronto."

Frederick J. Foley, owner of the map, says it was bequeathed to him by an old resident of the district when he died. Mr. Foley says he would like to see it bought by some public institution so the public could see it.

In addition to showing the location of every farm in the county, the map also carries the name of the owner or lessee of each one.

Pictures of well-known Toronto buildings are also shown. They include St. Lawrence Hall, the Toronto Exchange, Trinity College, Osgoode Hall and what is believed to be Toronto General Hospital.

Intoximeter Experiment, Check on Drunken Driving

Providing they prove successful in Toronto tests, a new device called the intoximeter or drunkometer are likely to come into general use to determine the degree of intoxication of drivers who have been drinking.

"They certainly would be a big help", said a spokesman for the police, when asked his opinion.

Degree of Alcohol

Toronto police, in co-operation with the University of Toronto's department of pharmacology, have been conducting scientific tests to determine conclusively the concentrations of alcohol in car drivers which lead to traffic accidents.

The survey has been planned by researchers in the department of pharmacology with the aid of various groups and persons including Deputy Attorney-General Cliff Magone; the Liquor Control Board; Provincial Analyst Joslyn Rogers; Chief Constable John Chisholm, and Inspector Vernon Paye of the Ontario traffic division.

Part of the study is being financed by the Dominion public health grant to the department of pharmacology. Early in the fall the department will work with provincial police in a similar study.

Fair Test Is Aim

Law enforcement officers hope that the results of the surveys will convince the public and the judiciary that chemical tests for drivers who drink are fair and accurate — that they will convict the guilty and free the innocent.

They are sure that the tests offer proof — "beyond a reasonable doubt". And they are hoping some way will be found to use these tests more widely in Canadian courts.

The devices most commonly used by police are called intoxemeters or drunkometers. The suspect blows into a balloon and the result shows the amount of alcohol concentration in the blood.

Some of the judiciary are inclined to scoff, saying: "That may be all right but I would rather believe the evidence of an experienced officer. Besides, what about the man who can hold his drinks better than another?"

Chemical tests supporters have an answer to both points.

The evidence of even an experienced policeman is only opinion evidence they say. As for the second point, human beings burn or oxidize their alcohol at varying rates. This test measures not what has been consumed, but the residue of alcohol in the blood at the time of the test.

Relation Is Shown

All scientific tests show there is a definite relation between alcohol in the blood and the degree of intoxication.

According to C. W. Muehlberger, toxicologist for the Michigan Department of Health Laboratories, Lansing, Mich., with blood concentrations of up to .05 per cent alcohol in the blood, the effect of alcohol is negligible, and all persons are considered sober.

However, recent experiments in Stockholm, Sweden, have shown a decrease in the ability to drive safely when the concentration of alcohol in the blood is as low as .03 per cent.

With blood concentrations above .05 per cent, but below .15 per cent, some persons are under the influence of alcohol, and some are not. In this doubtful zone, obviously the person with the higher concentration is more probably under the influence.

From .15 per cent up to about .5 per cent in the blood stream all persons are "under the influence", regardless of their resistance to alcohol or their previous experience in drinking. At .5 per cent, of course respiration may be paralyzed and the person may die.

There appear to be two main advantages to chemical tests: They will make it easier to convict persons who are guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol; they will help to free those who have the odor of alcohol on their breath, but who have had less than the amount that would affect their driving.

One thing not easily understood by the layman is that while alcohol in the blood is related to the degree of intoxication, there is some variation. And this variation may be as much as threefold.

For example, one person may be under the influence when his blood alcohol concentration is .05 per cent while another may not become affected until concentration of .15 per cent is reached.

Some persons showing a figure as low as .05 per cent concentration of alcohol in the blood would be menaces on the road.

Researchers are convinced that as far as driving is concerned, all persons with .15 per cent or over regardless of natural or acquired tolerance, are incapable of driving safely. If called upon to meet an emergency they lack sureness to adjust.

This could mean the difference between an accident or no accident. It could mean your life.

GOOSE BAY HAS NEW COMMANDER

Q.W.I. Representative At Country Women's Conference Overseas

Letters have been received from Mrs. R. Thomson, President of the Quebec Women's Institutes, who is en route to the 6th Triennial Conference of the Associated Country Women of the World, in Copenhagen. The last was written aboard the S.S. "Empress of France", the day before she docked at Liverpool and tells of a calm passage, meals "out of this world", and the courtesy being shown by the C.P.R. to the Canadian party, which consists of the delegates to this conference.

To quote from Mrs. Thomson's letter, "We, the Canadian party, 23 of us, have had an uneventful passage across the North Atlantic. The first two days we were in sight of land all the time till we passed bleak Belle Isle. On Sunday we saw a small iceberg and it was very cold. Tomorrow we land at Liverpool at 8.00 a.m. and spend the week-end as guests of Cheshire W.I. Every day on board we held meetings, discussing policy and resolutions that are to be presented at the A.C.W.W. Conference. The C.P.R. has extended every courtesy possible". The following week is to be spent visiting Scottish Women's Institutes, then a week-end at Denman College before crossing to the continent.

"This is proving a marvellous experience", Mrs. Thomson adds, "and I am more than grateful to the Q.W.I. for making it possible".

Men are we, and must grieve even when the shade of that which once was great is passed away.
— Wordsworth

PARADOXICALLY, Bruce Webb's signature tune is "Without a Song" — the very thing he has plenty of. He has handled a variety of jobs since he left school in Toronto in the late thirties, but he has enjoyed using his big bass voice for as long as he can remember. His development as a professional artist is entirely a post-war phenomenon. Currently he is heard across Canada in his own 15-minute show on the CBC, Wednesdays at 10.15 p.m.

Curb That Impulse!

Strangely enough, there are people who do not leap with joyous anticipation to answer the ringing of the telephone. Among these may be numbered tired business men just sitting down to a hot dinner, and distracted housewives feeding the baby with one hand, stirring the pudding with the other, while with non-existent third and fourth hands they endeavor to stop junior's torturing of the cat and turn the grilling steak — if they are lucky enough to be able to afford one!

With no thought except for the immediate present, many people rush to the telephone at what are known to be inconvenient hours, for conversations which could easily wait an hour and a half or two hours, or even indefinitely.

A great boon to humanity was the invention of the telephone, linking as it does far-flung places and peoples. It is invaluable in time of illness or trouble, but like everything else its use in immoderation can be an evil.

As for those over-long conversations about nothing, others sometimes want to use one or the other of the lines involved. So remember, lengthy chinwags can blacklist you among your friends — act accordingly! — Exchange

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

Conservation is a frequently-used word these days Nor are we awakening to the seriousness of the situation a minute too soon. The increasing evidence of soil erosion, floods and poor soil management is appalling. As I travel the province, the signs of increased pride in our homes thrills me but bare hillsides, deep gulleys and rich soil deposited in hollows modify my feelings of jubilation.

Even the urban dweller can do his part to help the situation by maintaining soil fertility and planting trees. There is no need to wait until next spring to plant one, as most will do well when planted in September.

Rimmed

If you look longingly at andirons and fire baskets for your fireplace but decide they're still beyond the budget, try this simple suggestion picked up while visiting a friend's cottage. An old steel tire rim had been picked up at a junk yard and cut with a hack-saw as shown in the illustration. Placed in the fireplace, the rim was particularly effective and not unattractive. The open space permitted good draught and the rim made the task of cleaning out the ashes much lighter.

Jewel Boxes

Christmas is still a long way off but at least one person is thinking about it. I found my sister making jewel boxes as Yulstide gifts for a few of her friends. Tin powder boxes and cardboard cheese boxes were being transformed into attractive jewel cases. The bright plaid covering on some of the boxes was as eye-catching as the frugalness of the idea.

Ski Holder

If you have tripped over your skis all summer as they reclined in the corner of the garage, you'll be receptive to a suggestion for their storage. Try hanging them between the studs as shown in the illustration. I did and it has been marvellous.

Maternity Hospitals Lack Nurses, Rooms

Sydney, Australia (CP) — Most Australian mothers go to maternity hospitals to have their babies. Very few children are born at home even in the Commonwealth's remote areas.

But there is a shortage of accommodation and in order to make sure of hospital care, rooms must be booked at the beginning of pregnancy.

In both Melbourne and Sydney, some large public hospitals are releasing patients three to four days after the baby's birth to relieve the pressure on staff and accommodation.

In Sydney, Crown Street Women's Hospital — biggest women's hospital in Australia, set in a slum area but patronized by the wealthiest of Sydney women as well as by the poorest — has very reluctantly adopted this system to save space and reports surprisingly good results.

Normal stay in the hospital is 10 to 14 days, but, if a woman is agreeable, she is now released four days after the child's birth.

Hospital officials check first to ensure that the mother will have a friend or relative in her home to do all the housework and doctors and nurses pay regular daily visits to see that no complications arise.

Nothing is so satisfying to a wife as to see a double chin on her husband's old flame.

FASHION HINT

A date dress that is striking and fashionably smart, without sacrificing its youthful appeal, is a treasure. Here two separates get together for young sophistication. The blouse is of wool jersey with a little rolled collar of satin. The sleeves are loose underarm and draped at the elbow. The satin skirt has a built-up waist band and one large pocket of the jersey, quilted and stone studded, with petal-like turned back flaps. It is charming in two shades of brown, light for the top, deeper for the skirt.

THE WICKED LADY

Winnipeg (CP) — Way back in 1769, when Margharetta (the Wicked Lady) Hall eloped with a highwayman at Withyham, England, she took a pair of pistols with her. The ancient flintlocks arrived here recently as a part of a legacy bequeathed to Gordon Hall. Hall wonders whether he has inherited the ghost that family tradition claims follows the pistols wherever they go.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Weyburn, Sask. (CP) — Summer holidays came to an untimely end for children here after only one month of summer holidays. School officials decided to open the school earlier in the summer and have a prolonged holiday during cold winter months.

Squash – the Vegetable Of A Hundred Varieties

Squash includes edible fruits of many varieties of gourds. Squash come in divers shapes and sizes. Color, flavor and texture also vary greatly.

Among the well known kinds of summer squash are the "patty pans", "Scalloped", "Cymling", "Crookneck", and "Zucchini" squashes. These types are used when under-ripe before the seeds have fully developed or the skin toughened. Vegetable Marrow must also be used when very young and tender but the seeds and skin are removed before cooking.

Pumpkin pie is associated in the mind with Thanksgiving, but there is no reason why early varieties of pie pumpkin and yellow squash cannot be made into this delectable dessert and enjoyed during the late summer and early fall.

From the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, we have received several excellent recipes for using summer squashes.

Sautéed Summer Squash

3 Small summer squash, 1 egg, ¼ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, ½ cup fine dry bread or cracker crumbs, 4 tablespoons fat.

Peel squash if skin is not tender, slice crosswise in 1 inch slices, (there should be 18 slices). Beat egg slightly, add salt and pepper. Dip squash slices in egg then in crumbs. Cooks in hot fat in a covered pan until golden brown on one side; turn and brown other side. Yield: six servings.

Squash Casserole

3 Summer squash (Zucchini or other small varieties, sliced), 2 medium onions (sliced), 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper.

Arrange sliced summer squash and sliced onions in alternate layers, sprinkling each layer with flour, salt and pepper. Cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350°F., until tender, about 30 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Squash Puff

3 Cups mashed, cooked squash, 1 cup soft, stale bread crumbs, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon baking powder, 2 egg whites, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1 tablespoon brown sugar.

Combine squash, bread crumbs, salt, pepper and baking powder. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into a greased casserole, brush top with melted butter and sprinkle with brown sugar. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., until well puffed and set, about 40 minutes. Yield: six to eight servings.

FRENCH GIRL GUIDE

Flin Flon, Man. (CP) — Girl Guides here have received word from Dr. Lotta Hitchmanova, Unitarian Church European relief head, of the safe arrival in France of a complete outfit for graduation sent by the Guides to their adopted sister, Jeannine.

HER PRIVILEGE

Noranda, Que. (CP)—Mrs. Luther C. Barrette won a divorce last year on the grounds of "intolerable severity" after her husband threatened her with a gun. Mr. Barrette was given a one-to-three year sentence. He was paroled last month and the couple re-married.

ONE AT A TIME

Paris, Ont. (CP) — A lady purchased a nightie here for a baby expected soon in her town. Two weeks later the store clerk received a letter asking for a duplicate nightgown as the baby had turned out to be two. The next day a third letter came asking for another nightie as the babies had turned out to be three. The fascinated clerk waited, but no more letters came.

Chili Sauce Ready For Mid-Winter

It may not be a compliment to the Canadian homemaker when the members of the family help themselves so generously to chili sauce or tomato catsup, but at least they appreciate this family brand of pickle.

As far back as records extend, we learn of man's search for spices and condiments to add flavor and accent to his food.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, have many "musts" which apply to pickling and several of them are important in making chili sauce when good flavor and color are essential.

Spices should be used with care. A dark color or bitter flavor may result from using too much spice or from boiling the spice too long with the vinegar.

Vinegar gives its flavor to the pickle so it is important that a good quality vinegar be used. Cider and blended vinegars have good flavor and are excellent for use in chili sauce.

Many recipes for chili sauce have been tested in Canada's Kitchen and several were considered excellent. Some that were tested of course were variations on the regular recipe, using various ingredients. Another was called uncooked chili sauce and, as the name suggests, is really an uncooked pickle. The color and flavor of this chili sauce was particularly good and some housewives will want to make up at least one batch for later use. Care should be taken to follow directions carefully, and sterilized, air-tight sealers should be used as containers. This type does not keep so well as the cooked variety and so should be used early in the season.

One type of chili sauce tested may be cooked on top of the stove or in the oven. This method will be appreciated by most housewives since the sauce is out of the way and very little stirring is required except during the last hour of cooking. For making the full recipe, the home economists used an enamel roaster (9" x 15") and the raw mixture was 2 inches deep. By the time the sauce was finished, the volume had decreased and the mixture was about 1 inch deep. The whole recipe yielded about 4 pints sauce.

Oven Chili Sauce

7 lbs. Tomatoes (about 35 medium), 5 medium onions (2¼ cups chopped), 2 sweet red peppers (¾ cup chopped), 2 cups diced celery (¼"), 1½ sticks cinnamon (4"), 1½ teaspoons whole cloves, 1½ teaspoons whole allspice, 1 small, dried chili pepper, 1½ teaspoons nutmeg, ½ teaspoon ginger, 1½ tablespoons salt, 1½ cups sugar, 2 cups vinegar.

Peel tomatoes and chop coarsely. Put onions and sweet red peppers through the food chopper, using the coarse blade. Tie stick cinnamon, cloves, allspice and small chili pepper in a cheesecloth bag. Combine all ingredients in a wide, shallow pan, such as a roaster. Bring to boil on top of stove, then place in a slow oven, 300°F., and cook until thick, about 3 to 3½ hours. Stir occasionally during the last hour of cooking. Remove spice bag and pour into hot, sterilized sealers and seal. Store in a cool, dry place. Yield: about 4 pint sealers.

If desired, this chili sauce may be cooked slowly on top of the stove for about two hours.

Uncooked Chili Sauce

8 lbs. Tomatoes (about 24 large), 3 large white onions (2½ cups thinly sliced), 1 cup cut celery, 2 large sweet red peppers (1½ cups sliced), 2 large sweet green peppers (2 cups sliced), 3 cups vinegar, 3 cups sugar, ¼ cup coarse salt, 3 tablespoons mustard seed, 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon.

Blanch tomatoes, cold dip, peel and slice coarsely. Measure — there should be 4 quarts (20 cups). Place tomatoes in a cheesecloth bag, hang and allow to drain thoroughly for about 1 hour. Slice onions thinly and cut each slice in half. Cut celery crosswise in ⅛" strips. Add with onion to the tomatoes. Cut red and green peppers into strips (¼" x 2") and add to tomato mixture. Mix vinegar, sugar, salt, mustard seed and cinnamon and bring to boiling point. Pack vegetables solidly into hot, sterilized sealers, pour hot liquid over the vegetables to completely cover. Seal. Store in a cool, dry place. Do not use for at least a month. Yield: about 10 pint sealers.

Measles is an infectious disease and lowers the victim's resistance to other more serious infections, such as pneumonia, bronchitis, and infections of the middle ear.

Appreciation – And Correction

TO THE EDITOR

Petts Wood, Kent,
England.

Editor, The Watchman.

Dear Sir: I have just had the privilege of reading the articles which recently appeared in your paper under the name of your Assistant Editor and which were entitled "I Too - Saw England".

May I say how much I enjoyed those articles, which I found both instructive and informative, and that my enjoyment was in no way influenced by the fact that the writer of them has been my very good friend for about 35 years.

There is, however, one statement of Mr. Titman's in Article III which I should like to correct. He states that the price of pipe tobacco is 1/10½ an ounce, but this should read 3/10½, or, relying on his calculation, about 62 cents an ounce, for medium-priced tobacco.

As a reader of occasional numbers of The Watchman for many years past, may I wish it, and its staff, the best of luck in the future.

Yours faithfully,
L. A. Piercy

Thank-Offering Service, Lachute Baptist Church

The Rev. John R. Armstrong, pastor of Snowdon Baptist Church and secretary-treasurer of the Union of Regular Baptist Churches of Ontario and Quebec, is to be special speaker at the annual Thank-Offering service of the Women's Mission Circle of Lachute Baptist Church, on Thursday evening, September 14, at 8 o'clock. During the course of the evening, Mr. Armstrong will be showing some new and interesting slides on "Union Missions". Mr. Beverley Ward, B.A.,B.D., who has been doing field work in the Norgate Development, will also give a brief report. This meeting is open to the general public, and all are cordially invited to attend. A missionary offering will be received.

Pretty Wedding at Undermount Farm

Pollock - Brown

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown at 3.30 o'clock on Friday, August 25, when their only daughter, Violet Rachel, became the bride of Mr. William Keith Pollock, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pollock, of Lachute.

The Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiated and Mrs James Pollock played the wedding music. The sunporch, where the wedding took place, was tastefully decorated with standards of colored gladioli, ferns and other cut flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Mary Pollock, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and Miss Elva Bale, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid.

Mr. Forbes McOuat was best man, while Mr. Ronald Sullivan acted as usher.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white embroidered organza made with fitted bodice, Peter Pan collar, and short sleeves with matching elbow mitts. Her finger-tip veil was of tulle illusion, made in fan effect, and she carried a bouquet of Madonna lilies and baby's breath.

The attendants wore gowns alike, made of the same material as the bride's, with fitted bodices and sweetheart necklines; they also wore matching elbow mitts and carried bouquets of colored gladioli, with crowns of white sweet peas. The maid of honor was gowned in pale green and the bridesmaid in pink. They both wore sterling silver bracelets, gifts of the bride.

Mrs. Brown, mother of the bride, wore a dress of navy blue sheer with navy and grey accessories, and a corsage of pink gladioli. Mrs. Pollock, mother of the groom, wore a two-piece dress of navy blue crepe, with white and navy accessories and a corsage of red gladioli.

About 75 guests sat down to a buffet supper provided by the L.O.B.A., the bride's table being decorated with white and pink petunias.

Guests attended the wedding from Amherst, Mass., New York, Montreal, Ontario and other parts.

With best wishes of friends in the community, the young couple have taken up residence at their home near Lachute.

Mid-Summer Wedding At Harrington Church

Marshall - MacRae

Harrington United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, August 12, when Barbara MacRae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl MacRae, became the bride of James William Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, all of Harrington.

The Rev. S. J. Pike, of Brownsburg, officiated. Mrs. Thomas Fox played the wedding music, and Miss June McLeod sang "At Dawn" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of nylon net over taffeta, fashioned with a long bodice and full skirt, a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her veil was finger-tip length and she carried an arm bouquet of peach gladioli.

Miss Gilda MacRae, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a dress of baby blue corded taffeta fashioned similar to the bride's; she wore a blue floral headdress and carried a colonial bouquet of multi-colored sweet peas. Miss Jean Smith, bridesmaid, wore a dress of yellow net over taffeta, a yellow floral headdress, and she carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas. Little Miss Avis MacRae acted as flower girl for her sister, wearing a peach corded taffeta dress, a halo of matching flowers, and carrying a tiny colonial bouquet.

Mr. Thomas Fox, cousin of the groom, was best man, the ushers being Mr. Cecil Bigelow and Mr. Ross Swail.

The bride's mother wore a rose flowered dress with white accessories and a corsage of blue bachelor buttons. The bridegroom's mother wore navy figured crepe with green accessories, and a corsage of pink bachelor buttons.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the groom, where the bridal table was decorated with summer flowers and centred by the wedding cake. Later the couple left by motor — the bride wearing a tartan green gabardine suit with brown accessories.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hill, Mr. and Mrs. William Williscroft, and Miss Catherine Turner, all of Montreal, Mrs. David Miller, of St. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morrison, of New Glasgow, and Mrs. Malcolm MacRae, of Lachute.

X-ray is necessary for the detection of early tuberculosis, the symptoms of which are not easily recognized. The disease in its initial stage often cannot be discovered by an ordinary physical examination.

A lean horse for a long race is a wise expression. A lean body for a long life is equally wise, because the death rate from heart disease is 50% greater for those who are overweight.

Lakefield

W.I. Bazaar

Lakefield Women's Institute held a bazaar and food sale at Kerr's Farm last Saturday. The members of this branch express appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. A. Kerr for their kindness in providing the hall for this event; also to little Miss B. McDonald for her success with the fish pond, which was a great attraction for adults and children; and to all who helped in any way to make this bazaar a success.

Three New Booklets

"Can You Live Forever in Happiness on Earth?" is a 32-page booklet containing the public talk delivered by N. H. Knorr at the International Convention of Jehovah's witnesses in New York, August 6, 1950. It will thrill you to read it. Only 5c a copy.

"Evolution versus The New World." This 64-page, colored-cover booklet tests the evidence for evolution and weighs the case for the Bible's new world. The one is a bubble, the other a hope with sure foundation. Prove these facts for yourself. Only 5c a copy.

"Defending and Legally Establishing the Good News." The features of this 96-page booklet include a memorandum of law relative to the work of Jehovah's witnesses. It is of value to witnesses, judges, lawyers and all others interested in the guarantees of freedom. 10c per copy.

All three booklets will be sent postpaid for only 20c. — Write: The Watch-Tower, 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto.

Eight Days in New York

The international convention of Jehovah's witnesses held in New York City is now a matter of history. All who were present will remember it as eight days brimful of Scriptural instruction, admonition and encouragement. But as time passes, memories dim. Wouldn't you like to refresh your memory occasionally? Then read the

REPORT OF INTERNATIONAL ASSEMBLY OF JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

A review of the assembly's fine points from time to time will aid you to relive those pleasant days and to recount the blessings to others. Or, if you were unable to attend, you will doubly appreciate this complete, 96-page report of five convention issues under one cover which describes all eight days of the convention. It is of the same dimensions as "Awake!" and may be had for 25 cents a copy. — 40 Irwin Avenue, Toronto, Ont.

Barrett* Rust-Proofing Paints

SILVEX* ALUMINUM PAINT Now, a really effective, ready-to-use aluminum paint. No mixing! Just open the can, stir lightly, and brush (or spray) it on. Resists moisture, corrosive fumes, even salt spray . . . reflects light and heat up to 75%. Use all-weather, all-purpose "Silvex" Paint to protect any metal, wood or concrete indoors or out.

EVERJET* PAINT Another fine Barrett rust-proofing paint. Apply "Everjet" Paint with either brush or spray to any exposed metalwork. Dries fast to a hard, black, glossy surface that seals the weather out.

STOP LEAKS with Plastic Elastigum* Cement. Seals flashings, ideal for patching. A thin coating of Liquid Elastigum* Cement reseals old roll roofings.

STOP SEEPAGE with Hydronon* Paint. An ideal damp-proofer for cement or wood.

INSULATE with Barrett* Rock Wool. Available in Batts, Blankets, Loose or Granulated forms.

NEW ROOFS cost less than you'd guess! Ask about Barrett* Asphalt Shingles with a whole new selection of colour harmonies. For barns, you can't do better than hard-wearing Barrett Storm King* Roll Roofing.

Your Barrett dealer sells Protection Plus

He stocks a complete line of roofing, insulation and weatherproofing materials. He's got what it takes to stop almost any weather. Whether your problem is leakage, seepage, rust or rot—see your Barrett dealer first!

KINDERGARTEN OF THE AIR, the CBC's daily program for children between the ages of two and six, is responsible for the smiles displayed above by Mrs. Dorothy Adair and her pupils at Givens Street Public School in Toronto. Although designed for the pre-school children who huddle around the radio to hear songs and stories by Dorothy Jane Goulding and Ruth Johnson, the program is also popular with the youngest school-age groups. The program commenced its fourth season of broadcasts September 5 on stations of Trans-Canada.

Recent Wedding in Lachute United Church

Ogilvie - McMahon

The United Church at Lachute, decorated with pink and white gladioli, was the scene of the wedding on August 26, at four o'clock, of Joan Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. McMahon, and William John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Ogilvie, all of Lachute. The Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiated at the ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Kenneth McOuat. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Robert Ogilvie, aunt of the bridegroom, sang two selections, "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You".

Maid of honor and only attendant for her sister, was Miss Jean McMahon, and Mr. Robert Ogilvie was best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. John McMahon and Mr. Douglas Ogilvie.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and stand-up collar, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and a full skirt flowing into a slight train. Her headdress, a coronet of satin and lily-of-the-valley, held her fingertip veil of tulle illusion. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli.

The maid of honor wore a rose-pink taffeta dress, full-length, with round neckline, puffed sleeves and a full skirt. Her headdress was composed of a barrette of pink asters, and she carried a colonial bouquet of mauve, pink and white asters.

Mrs. McMahon, mother of the bride, was gowned in a street-length dress of Queen's blue crepe, with black accessories, her corsage being of pink carnations. Mrs. Ogilvie, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy blue dress with touches of white, and navy accessories, with red roses as the corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony, in the church hall, where the floral decorations were composed of baskets of multi-colored gladioli and sweet peas.

Later, the couple left by motor for Toronto and other points in Ontario, the bride travelling in a beige gabardine suit with navy blue accessories and a shoulder spray of pink gladioli.

Out-of-town guests included relatives and friends from Harrington, Howick, Montreal, Ottawa and St. Jerome.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogilvie will reside in Lachute.

Brownsburg Girl Is Bride at Brome, Que.

Best - Galbraith

At Brome Anglican Church, Brome, Que., on Saturday afternoon, September 2, at 4 p.m., the marriage took place of Helen Allison Cairns, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Galbraith, of Brownsburg, to Harold William, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Best, of Cowansville, Que. — the Rev. W. Sedge officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Patricia Fee, of Sweetsburg, Que., was the bride's only attendent. Mr. Archie Frechette, of Richford, Vt., acted as best man for his cousin.

The bride wore a street-length gown of navy blue sheer trimmed with white, a navy velvet hat, and navy accessories. She wore a corsage of orange gladioli.

The bridesmaid was dressed in a grey crepe gown with navy blue accessories, and she wore a corsage of pink gladioli.

A small reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. Later Mr. and Mrs. Best left for a short trip. They will reside in Cowansville.

The bride is a graduate of Grace Hospital, Ottawa, and is at present on the staff of the B. M. P. Hospital at Sweetsburg, Que.

Back to School

This week the halls of learning — from the little red schoolhouse to the pretentious institution of specialized knowledge — open their doors to the thousands of happy, cheerful, carefree pupils who enter with a zest for living that the musty tomes of history, its wars and calamities, its ever-changing geographies, its seething political mire and economic expediency, will soon dampen and discourage of ever reaching a bright horizon in this strife called — life.

We have made life so complicated now that we use up half of it preparing to live it. The greatest waste of time and talent takes place in our halls of learning, we prostrate ourselves before the fetish of — education. We plug our round son or daughter into the square hole of our desire, and wind up by taking what's offered in an effort to keep body and soul together. . . and finally end up in war which shoots body and soul apart.

There is nothing that can be done about it — it's the spirit of the age we live in. Until we rely more upon a study and understanding of the spirit, and less upon the body and our material instincts, we must travel this road of confusion and uncertainty.

Junior Agriculture

Junior (in many cases with the obvious assistance of Pappy) put on a magnificent agricultural show at the Lachute Fair Grounds on Labor Day. Despite unfavorable weather there was a large crowd, and a feeling of cheery fellowship pervaded the proceedings. The display of vegetables dressed up in their attractive surroundings, was one of the finest on record. Why this trace of corn had a red tag to denote first, rather than the one with the blue or yellow, is a mystery to whose tenets we have never been initiated. They all looked alike to us; or perhaps our perverse nature saw some extra merit in the one relegated to the lower degrees. But everyone seemed happy, and we failed to hear one adverse criticism of the whole affair.

We were particularly interested in the showing of calves, yearlings and cattle in general. The judge was a most painstaking individual and everyone seemed to agree with his findings. Showers of cold rain passing by, did nothing to dampen the ardor of the youthful exhibitors, and the circle of spectators (though scattered for shelter) soon reassembled to continue their observation of a very interesting event. There were no side-shows; there were no blaring loudspeakers; there was no distraction from a grand agricultural show.

Regrettable Accident

The people of Brownsburg heard with feelings of regret the details of a bad automobile accident to Rev. Paul Manseau and his youthful charges near Ottawa over the week-end. Fr. Manseau is widely and favorably known by all the people of the village, and the severe injuries to himself and his pupils was the subject of deep concern and sympathy.

Central School Board Faced With Largely Increased Expenditures

Higher Transportation and Staff Salaries; Auditor's Findings as Basis for Year's Budget

The regular monthly meeting of the Argenteuil - Two Mountains Central School Board was held in the High School here Monday evening, with all members present and Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., in the chair.

Certain members of the local board of Gore, headed by the chairman, Mr. W. S. Andrews, attended for the purpose of discussing certain details concerning transportation of Lakefield pupils to Lachute.

The Auditor's Annual Report and Consolidated Financial Statement was presented to the Board by the auditor, Mr. T. C. Corry, C.A. This report revealed that expenditures for the year totalled $275,461, and that the total revenue amounted to $245,564, leaving an operating deficit for the year of $29,897. However, in view of the fact that the Board began the year with a revenue surplus of slightly more than this amount, the Board found itself at the end of the last school year with a small revenue surplus, no outstanding loans at the Bank, and all accounts paid.

When questioned by Mr. Cottingham concerning the budget for the current year, the Auditor reported that a considerable amount of preliminary work had been done, sufficient to indicate that expenditures would be considerably higher. This was partially due to increased teachers' salaries. During the past year considerable pressure had been brought to bear by the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers to have a uniform scale adopted throughout the province. In fact, all teachers were requested to delay signing contracts until March 31 on this account. However, the Central Board had already made certain adjustments on its scale, and it was to the credit of the teaching staffs of this unit that an overwhelming majority of the teachers decided to accept the salaries offered, even in those cases where the Central Board scale did not compare with that of the Association.

At the same time the Board was obliged to engage additional teachers in those schools where the enrolments had increased. This was especially true in Lachute, where seven additional teachers have been added to the staff.

Preliminary budgets as submitted by the local Boards also revealed that routine operational costs would be higher this year — such as janitor service, supplies, electricity and so forth.

Mr. Cottingham pointed out that the Board had been obliged to purchase additional school buses. Whereas it is usually possible to engage someone with a small truck to transport a few children, no private individual is prepared to buy a regular bus capable of conveying 50 or more children. With the school in St. Andrews East closed, provision had to be made to transport more than 55 children from that area. Conditions had also become intolerable in Chatham, with the bus from that district arriving at school with over 65 pupils. It was found necessary to change this route so that the original Chatham bus does not have to travel north of No. 8 Highway. A new route was established, beginning in Ogdensburg and travelling through Staynerville to Brownsburg and Lachute. During the last few years two home-made buses of rather ancient vintage have been operating from Mille Isles to Morin Heights. As these were too small, most uncomfortable, and did not conform with safety regulations, they had to be replaced. Another transportation problem arose in Avoca when it was found necessary to bring all the children from there to Grenville. The small bus formerly in use was found to be inadequate. This had to be replaced by a larger vehicle, and the smaller unit was put on the Lakefield run.

In concluding his remarks on the budget, the Auditor stated that, if the revenue for the current year remained exactly the same as it was last year, the Board would be faced with a very large deficit. However, there was evidence that revenue from taxes would be somewhat increased, due to the fact that many municipalites had revalued all properties, and, to a certain extent, corrected some of the injustices which had prevailed. At the same time there was always the chance that government grants would be increased, although no definite promises had been made. However, as the present government had seen fit to increase grants each year, it was felt that the same would apply for the coming year. For example, ordinary grants which are paid regularly to Lachute High School have been increased almost four times compared to those of five years ago.

The meeting was concluded with a request to the Auditor to assemble all possible information, in order to present a comprehensive budget at the next meeting. It was understood that this was to include revenues as well as expenditures, so that the Board would be in a position to know whether or not they are to be faced with the unpleasant duty of having to adjust tax rates.

No man ever becomes a Communist until he has given up all hope of ever becoming a Capitalist.

September Session Of Town Council

At the regular session of Town Council, September 6, main business of the meeting was a representation proposing the annexation of that portion of St. Jerusalem Parish contiguous to Lachute — which was dealt with in last week's Watchman.

• • •

CORRECTION ON FIGURES

Certain figures in connection with this proposal were misquoted—being unchecked due to the short time available before publication. . . Total valuation of the area concerned is $250,000 and the tax revenue $1,500 per annun (instead of $125,000 and $9,000, as stated, the latter figure being the total tax revenue of St. Jerusalem Parish). Engineer's estimate for waterworks and sewerage is $135,000, as stated in the article.

• • •

Accounts to the total of $96,942.12 were approved by Council. Also a request for $10 increase a week in the contract for garbage collection, submitted by Jos. DeBellefeuille, was agreed to.

A petition signed by 264 ratepayers in Lachute Mills requested the Council to intercede for repair or repaving of Princess Street, which is maintained by the Quebec Department of Roads. It was stated that the Mayor had written to the provincial deputy, Mr. W. M. Cottingham, requesting early attention to this thoroughfare, and also to Grace Street.

On behalf of the Lachute Badminton Club, Jas. Pillage, appeared before Council to seek rental of the Auditorium every Tuesday and every second Thursday during the coming season. The use of the public hall was granted, at a rental of $100 a year.

L. J. Dumais Reg. requested a permit to erect two steel fuel-oil tanks adjacent to the C.P.R. track, and permission was granted, subject to cancellation at any time without reponsibility of the town, and providing the property be fenced to satisfaction of the Roads Committee.

Tenders were considered for supplying of coal and wood for the municipal buildings — H. Lafleur quoting $25.50 a ton for Welsh and $24.50 for Anthracite coal; L. J. Dumais quoting $24 for Anthracite, and $6 a cord for 16" wood; and C. E. Doris quoting $23.70 for coal.

It was moved that the latter tender be accepted. Whereupon it was moved in amendment that the Lafleur tender for coal (25 tons at $25.50) be accepted. The amendment was carried — Alderman W. Morrissette, P. Chartrand and E. Provost voting contrary.

Regarding the supply of wood, it was voted that 15 cords be ordered from L. J. Dumais Reg. at the price quoted, delivered at Lachute.

The Mayor and the Secretary-Treasurer were authorized to sign an agreement for acceptance of a tract of land, free of cost — namely, a 10-ft. width to be used as a lane between Fraser and Dicw streets, East Ward, given for this purpose by Leopold and Laurier Carriere.

Three building permits were granted — to Edgar Pollock for erection of a house on Main Street East; to René Dion for addition of a kitchen at rear of his premises on Bethany Street; and to Giles Publishing House Ltd. for construction of an industrial building on Foundry Street.

A motion was considered to regulate hours of the police personnel, Constables Lepine and Sabourin to work for two-week periods alternately on day and night shifts. The motion was passed on division — Aldermen W. Morrissette, J. Belanger and P. Chartrand dissenting.

It was also moved and carried that Cst. W. Lepine be commissioned as deputy chief of police during the absence of Chief D. Villeneuve at any time.

Mayor Leopold Carriere presided, with all members of Council in attendance. The session was adjourned until September 20.

Big Job Here in Phone Construction

One of the largest construction programs ever undertaken by the Bell Telephone Company in this vicinity will provide telephones to the majority of Lachute urban applicants now waiting for service — according to L. W. Ball, the company's manager for this region. The project, which is expected to be completed next spring, involves the erection of more than 2,500 miles of wire, in groups of hundreds to form a cable, and will cover many sections of the Lachute town area.

In addition, Northern Electric technicians are busily engaged in the installation of new facilities in the exchange building. The new equipment consists of 140 "multiples", each multiple representing a new telephone number. A new switchboard, to help handle the heavy load of calls now passing through the Lachute exchange, is also being installed.

"It is one of the biggest jobs we've ever undertaken in this area", Mr. Ball said, "and it will take crews of Bell Telephone workmen many months to complete it. The project is not only extensive, but also very complicated. . . We are placing a cable containing more than 909 pairs of wires underground along Water Street and another large cable under Bethany Street. We are also erecting thousands of feet of smaller cable along Barron, Bethany and Hamford Streets, and along the north and south side of Main Street.

"In all, more than 57,000 feet of cable will be laid underground or erected on pole lines in the Lachute area. The cables, connecting with smaller cables and wires branching out throughout the community, will all be terminated at the central office. There, they will be connected to the new central office equipment to bring service to new subscribers."

Although the outside plant project is not scheduled for completion before next March, Mr. Ball pointed out that new telephones will be connected after the central office extension is completed and as the outside plant work progresses. All waiting applicants who will be served by the new facilities will be advised well in advance, he said.

Italian Immigrants For Farm Labor

J. G. Lamontagne, manager of the local National Employment Service branch, has received word or another group of selected farm immigrants from Italy, due to arrive in Canada shortly. Any farmers willing to engage such workers for year-round employment are asked to contact Mr. Lamontagne for further information.

FINANCING OF RINK PROJECT

OUT-OF-TOWN SERVICES OF FIRE DEPT.

Apropos our recent mild criticism of progress in the erection of the skating rink, we have been handed a set of figures outlining the progress made to date. We have also been informed that sufficient funds are not available to justify an early start on a structure as elaborate as we were at first prone to expect. While donations promised in periodic payments amounting to $17,000 would be enough to justify the committee in proceeding with the work, the actual amount collected is still far short of encouraging. To speed up collection of the amounts promised, it is necessary to start the work; but to start the work it is necessary to have more of the money promised.

Ways and means of overcoming this difficulty were under discussion at a meeting last week, and it was thought possible that the Municipal Council could help by issuing debentures or some other such means of putting more money into the hands of the committee.

According to the statement we have already referred to, the committee feel assured of a fund of over $36,000, without taking into account whatever assistance the government will contribute — as indeed it should under its youth welfare program. The total money required to complete the rink in its bare essentials is estimated at $43,000.

Farm Forum Topics Open October 30

Newfoundland farmers will join their fellow-Canadians in Farm Forum when the 1950-51 National Farm Radio Forum season begins on October 30. This announcement was made by Floyd Griesbach, National Farm Forum Secretary, when he returned from a recent trip to Newfoundland after attending a conference of the island's adult education workers. Arrangements were made to organize groups this year on an experimental basis, under the direction of Dr. Florence O'Neill, Director of Adult Education.

Since many Newfoundland farmers are also fishermen, their outlook on agriculture is somewhat different from that of straight farmers, Mr. Griesbach said. Last year the Farm Forum broadcasts were heard in Newfoundland, but no attempt was made to organize listening groups.

The coming Farm Forum season will open with the highly debatable subject, "Can We Farm on Shorter Hours?". This will be followed by discussions on soil conservation, health and social security, marketing, international food problems, and rural education. The topics are based on choices indicated by the Farm Forum groups and by the delegates that attended the National Farm Forum conference in Brandon, Manitoba, on June 22-24 of this year.

Following are the Farm Forum topics for the coming season:

Series I — Farm Management

Oct. 30 Can We Farm on Shorter Hours?
Nov. 6 Who Should Pay for Soil Conservation?
Nov. 13 Forests — Slash or Save?
Nov. 20 What the Forums Say.

Series II — Health and Social Security

Lachute Man Shot Near St. Donat, Que.

Montreal — Provincial Police were investigating the circumstances surrounding a mysterious shot fired last week-end by a person near Lake Caribou, which injured Ovila Chenier, 19, of Lachute.

Police said Chenier was working near the lake, not far from St. Donat, when a bullet hit him in the leg.

Despite the wound, he managed to hitchhike to Montreal, where he entered the Notre Dame Hospital.

Name Directors for Plowing Contest

The 16th annual meeting of the Argenteuil Plowmen's Asociation was held in the Court House last Friday.

There were 15 nominations for the appointment of nine directors, and the following were elected:

Stuart Armstrong, W. Brass, Watson Berry, Simon Wilson, Gavin Walker, Theodore Murdoch, Stanley Smith, Irvin Bain, Ben Hammond. . . Mr. Hammond was elected president for the 1950 Plowing Match, with Ernest Emmett remaining as secretary-treasurer.

It was arranged that the Plowing Match be held on Monday, October 9 — the location to be duly announced.

The directors hope to make arrangements this year for the holding of a dance, about two weeks after the match, on which occasion the prizes will be awarded to the successful winners.

Annual School Fair Held at Arundel

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel—Ideal weather attended the annual School Fair of the Arundel Consolidated School, held Saturday, September 9, in the school auditorium.

In the morning the sports were held, under direction of Mr. Hillrich, assisted by Mr. Melvin Graham. Each event had its full quota of contestants. More interest was shown in the games by the spectators this year — which tended to urge each contender to do his or her best.

While the sports were in progress, the judges were viewing the exhibits of vegetables, flowers, sewing, knitting and cooking, entered by 40 of the school pupils. At the close of the judging, these exhibits, with their accompanying prize-winning tickets, were opened to the public.

During the afternoon, Mayor R. B. Henry distributed the prizes, and Mr. Alex Bothwell, agronomist, gave a friendly and encouraging criticism to the youthful contestants.

Judges for the display of vegetables and flowers, were Mr. Reid and Mr. Bothwell, while the judge of the cooking, sewing and knitting was Miss Campbell, newly appointed demonstrator for Macdonald College. Mrs. F. Davis, president of the Arundel Women's Institute, then thanked all who had worked to make this School Fair a success, and the meeting was brought to a close with the singing of the national anthem.

Winners of the special prizes were as follows:

The P. Staniforth Prize, for largest number of exhibits, was won by Miss Shirley Graham, as also was the Cooke Bros'. prize for the Girls' High Aggregate.

The Graham Store prize for the Boy's High Aggregate was won by Douglas Staniforth.

A special prize for the best exhibit of sewing and knitting, donated by Mr. and Mrs. C. Gray, was won by Miss Shirley Graham.

The president and members of the Women's Institute, who have sponsored these Fairs from the first, wish to take this opportunity to thank all who worked so hard for its success on this occasion.

Problems Aired at Meeting in Morin

Morin Heights — The visit of Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., and Mr. Gaston Munich, County Warden, to this community was held September 6 at the Bellevue Hotel. Prior to this meeting Mr. Cottingham and Mr. Munich, together with all members of the Council, were guests of the Lake Echo Citizens' Association, and a pleasant time was spent at the home of Mr. Paul Ostiguy, kindly loaned by that gentleman for the occasion.

At the meeting held in the Bellevue Hotel, Mayor Chas. D. Campbell with a few appropriate remarks introduced the two principal speakers.

Mr. Munich again discussed the matter of vital importance to the province and to this county in particular, that of the Government making permanent roads in the form of cross arteries, to serve the main highways. He gave a resumé of what was happening at the meetings held by the County Council and the Federation of Municipalities, which were of interest to those assembled at the meeting.

Mr. Munich spoke on the building of the new school at Morin Heights, and also of those that had been erected elsewhere in the province and those that were still in the construction stages.

Ladies' Night Auspicious Opening To Seasonal Sessions of Lions Club

Service Group Embarks on Year's Program With Enthusiasm—H. J. Lamarche President

Tuesday was Ladies' Night for the Lachute Lions Club, meeting at the Legion Memorial Hall — this being the first club gathering, following suspension of social activities for the summer months.

Horace J. Lamarche, president of the club, was chairman at this successful meeting—where a full program of entertainment, with Peter Nadeau, of Valleyfield, as special speaker, was enjoyed by the members and their lady guests.

Two new members were inducted, Romain Desjardins and Donald M. Hay. Ian Gordon was honored as "Lion of the Day", Past-President Phil Roy paying a brief tribute to his loyal services and wishing him well on his approaching marriage. He was presented with silver entree dishes. His fiancée, Miss Betty Campbell, and her mother, Mrs. S. S. Campbell, both present at this meeting, were presented each with a corsage of roses by Mrs. Willard M. Steeves.

Past-president's and past-secretary's buttons were presented by Lion Fernand Legault to Lions Herbert Rigg and Ian Gordon, respectively.

Mr. Nadeau, guest speaker, gave an inspiring talk on "What a Service Club is Worth to a Community". The speaker was introduced by Lion Jas. Lowe and thanked by Lion Gordon McOuat. Lion Ralph FitzGerald, chairman of the program committee, deserves considerable credit for the success of the proceedings.

• • •

Although this was the first Lions' assembly opening the new season, a review of the summer's activities showed that the club had been far from dormant in its aspects of community service.

The relief committee has given attention to several cases arising during the vacation months, including the financing of a tonsil operation and supplying milk to a needy family of five children.

The Lions' donating of swimming-pool admissions was a boon to hundreds of children in this community, a total of 1,600 free tickets, provided by the club, having been tendered by local boys and girls at the Ayers recreation centre.

Lions Club welcome signs have been erected on the main highways approaching town. These signs state the place and days of meeting, so that visiting Lions may take advantage of the club gathering while in town.

Recently hundreds of cards have been distributed by this organization giving instructions for

Recall Conditions Of 40 Years Ago

"Good Old Days" Reviewed on Wedding Anniversary

At a wedding anniversary celebration last Saturday, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell, of Dalesville, some of the events and scenes of 40 years ago in that district passed under review. Following are a few of the memories revived on this occasion — Mr. Wes Freeland having compiled these little items, to which various friends added their quota of recollections:

Lachute had wooden sidewalks and crosswalks, with a stream down the centre of Main Street.

Dorion, of Lachute, and E. J. Johnson, of Brownsburg, had the only automobiles in the area, while the fastest carriage horses were owned by Jim Flood, Fred Hooper, Lachance and Malo.

The Canadian Northern built a line to St. Andrews — some claimed it was the G.O.P. ("get out and push") service between Lachute and St. Andrews. . . The wood-burning Carillon & Grenville Railroad was going strong.

The first hand-cranked, silent moving pictures were shown in Brownsburg by Bill Birch and Tom Newling. The gramophone was the centre of entertainment in those days.

The year 1910 saw the sad loss, for the British Empire, of King Edward VII. Halley's Comet made its last appearance (until 1985).

Twenty-five granite cutters were imported from England to the bustling Quarry, west of Brownsburg, where 100 men produced carloads of cut stone for the Laurentian Granite Company who shipped it to build the Windsor Station in Montreal.

Best of all, a nickel was worth five cents. Ira McFaul's massive ledger for 1910 shows that a three-piece suit could be bought for $8; butter 25¢ a pound; eggs 12¢ to 20¢ a dozen; sugar 5¢ a pound; tobacco 5¢ a plug. . . . Someone recalled that beef was 10¢ a pound, with half price for quantity purchase.

Bill Graham (Brownsburg) recalls selling for 15¢ a 14-foot two-by-four, and during the same year Paul Sabourin complained of having to pay $11 a thousand for lumber to build a home.

Council Matters In Morin Heights

Morin Heights — The regular meeting of the Morin Heights Council was held on Tuesday, September 5.

Many matters of importance for the advancement of the municipality were discussed. Particularly such matters as a garbage dump, which has been a "must" for a long time. Finally an offer was made by Mr. T. E. Seale for a piece of land of about 18 acres, which, without becoming a nuisance to any portion of the municipality, would be a suitable place. The matter was thoroughly thrashed out, and subject to the approval of the Minister of Health and the Minister of Lands and Forests, this portion of land will be accepted.

The matter of oil for the furnace, the toilet accessories, and electric light fixtures for the new Municipal Building was brought up and settled.

A study of the traffic problems, which had been made at the request of Councillor R. E. Jamieson, was presented by the Police Director, C. Baumel, and was accepted with a further request that from time to time such reports shall be presented to the Council.

The Fire Chief's regular monthly report was received, showing that the volunteer brigade had again proven their worth, in the saving of a large barn full of hay at Christieville, situated upon the property of Chas. Steele.

The matter of an extra "I" beam for the hose tower was taken up, and as there was sufficient room available, it was decided to have same installed while the construction was taking place — which means that the future is now taken care of, as the tower will have space for the hanging of 25 lenghts of hose.

A question on the municipalizing of a road, was left over until legal opinion had been procured.

The selling of the winter roads was authorized, and certain property transfers approved.

An important item on the agenda was the appointing of a public works committee of three to study what future works could be undertaken for the benefit of the municipality. The chairman is Councillor R. E. Jamieson, with Councillors Willis Seale and Philias Guenette to assist.

Councillor Max Baumel was appointed Commissioner of Finance.

As the annual visit to this municipality of Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., and Mr. Gaston Munich, was to be held on Wednesday, September 6, the Council adopted certain resolutions to be presented at that meeting — all relevant to work very necessary for the future prosperity of the community.

Gatineau LINES

Voltage Drops

In any territory where the demand for electric power is increasing as quickly as is the case in the area served by Gatineau Power, it is inevitable that sometimes the demand will exceed the ability of the power company to install new lines, new transformers and new equipment fast enough to take care of the situation. Throughout this summer, Gatineau Power has been making every effort to catch up with the demands of its customers so that excessive voltage drops will be a thing of the past.

In this respect, the problem of the Power Company is quite different from — for instance — the problem of a Telephone Company. Since the phones can only be installed by the Telephone Company, it is able to limit the loading of its circuits until there are sufficient available.

It is not so for a Power Company. A Power Company brings power to a new customer. The customer installs electric lights and begins using a small quantity of power, then he begins to realize all the advantages of electric service and installs other equipment using electricity to pump his water, cool his food, cook his meals, wash and iron his clothes, clean his house, operate his dairy, etc., without previously advising the Power Company of his requirements. The electrical customer can add to his demands for power and overload the facilities of the Power Company to the point where the service deteriorates.

For the Power Company, it means a constant race against time to increase facilities fast enough to keep even with the new demands being made.

Customers can do much to help their power company — and improve their own service — by doing two things:

(1) They can warn the company in advance whenever they are installing additional electrical equipment. This gives the company a better chance to meet the increased demand before it occurs rather than after.

(2) They can keep the nearest office of the power company informed as to exactly where and when voltage drops occur. Such information is of considerable help in planning to eliminate the trouble in the most effective manner. At the same time, it might be pointed out that once the load becomes so heavy that voltage drops occur, the trouble is often something which cannot be eliminated overnight. It takes time to build, ship and install the heavy equipment necessary to complete the job.

Insulating Plants For Winter

Ottawa — Fortunately for gardeners, most cold climates have a fair snowfall. It is nature's way of protecting plants and the best insulating material at the lowest cost. In windswept sites, however, some provision must be made to hold the protecting cover of snow on the plants. For this and other reasons it is advisable to have a thick hedge or planting of shrubbery on the windward side of the garden or a covering of spruce branches over each bed. If a covering of snow can be maintained there is no need for other insulation, says R. W. Oliver, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Unfortunately, there are many sections where a good snow covering cannot be maintained due to fluctuation in temperature. The winter of 1949-50 was notoriously bad all over and much damage to herbaceous plants resulted. Sudden freezes after a thaw cause the ground to heave, breaking the roots and exposing them to drying action; as well as the extraction of moisture from cells of woody plant tissue and causing death to the twigs. Under such conditions an insulations mulch helps to prevent the sudden transmission of temperature fluctuation to the soil or to the woody tissue.

The first point of consideration about such insulation is that it proof material to keep out the wet, suggy mass, which would not only spoil the insulating value, but create a suffocating blanket as well. Leaves are frequently used but are often unsatisfactory for this reason. Whenever they are used they should be removed early in the spring before they have a chance to pack down. Straw is a little better but has the same fault. Wherever they are used to cover climbing roses, these materials should be covered with roofing paper or some other waterproof meterial to keep out the wet, but this is not practical over the whole perennial border.

New insulating materials are proving of value in districts where over-winter mulch is necessary. Blankets of rock wool and glass fibre have proved satisfactory experimentally and should prove useful for owners of small borders in districts where insulation is needed. The same materials are useful for wrapping rose bushes and other tender shrubs. They are, of course, more expensive than natural mulches but for the city dweller probably they are easier to obtain.

SOIL DRIFTING

The people of Saskatchewan are becoming more concerned about soil drifting, and they are beginning to realize that the one way to stop this drifting is by use of field shelterbelts. Trees when planted in strips across a field reduce the wind velocity, thereby preventing soil erosion and the evaporation of moisture from the surface.

Meeting of District Poultry Producers

The present situation of the poultry industry being such that quite a number of good poultrymen find it almost impossible to carry on, a meeting of poultrymen from Argenteuil, Two Mountains and Terrebonne is being called in order to try and find possible remedies to bring about an improvement.

The meeting will be held in the church basement at St. Jerome, on Monday, September 18, at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be under the chairmanship of Messrs. Albert Gingras, president, Co-operative Mill, and Arnold Greene, president, Co-op. Hatchery, both of St. Jerome.

Closing Dates, Entries For Ottawa Winter Fair

With the new $450,000 livestock building now in operation, this year's Ottawa Winter Fair, to be held in the Coliseum, Lansdowne Park, October 23rd to 27th inclusive, will provide better and larger accommodation for livestock than ever before.

A total of $25,000 is being offered in prize money to entrants in the various competitive classes.

Closing date for entries for heavy horses, Classes 1 to 106, including horses suitable for hunters and for saddle, for cattle, sheep and swine is October 2nd. For light horses, Classes 201 to 297, for the Horse Show, the evening feature, the closing date for entries is October 9th. That date is the limit for entering seeds, fruits, vegetables, ornamental horticulture, junior agriculture and poultry.

This year there will be championship shows for Ayrshire, Holstein, Jersey and Guernsey dairy cattle, also for sheep and swine and the Junior Farmers Eastern Ontario Calf and Swine Club Championship Show.

As in recent years there are to be this year attractive exhibits of export and domestic foods and honey. The poultry exhibits will be an important feature of the Fair.

Only one other Fair in Canada exceeds the Ottawa Winter Fair in size and importance. It is an event of great importance from an economic point of view to everyone, particularly to farmers.

Lachute Lions Club

emergency calls for use of the "pulmotor", in cases of drowning or asphyxiation. And it is in this factor of service—having provided a portable inhalator for life-saving — that the Lions Club has proved its value notably to the community. Letters are quoted in the current bulletin, testifying that this equipment had been instrumental in saving two lives this season — one in the case of electric shock suffered by a power company employee, and the other, a victim of heart seizure.

As a recreative sidelight in the off-season, Vice President E. M. Jones arranged a golf tournament at the Dunany Golf and Country Club, which was keenly enjoyed by many of the members.

The Lions' regular bulletin, incidentally, now appears in a new format with an attractive cover in purple and gold.

Lions W. M. Steeves and J. S. Giles were delegates of Lachute branch to the International convention in Chicago this summer.

Lion Stanley Church, while visiting in Sault Ste. Marie this month, attended a meeting of the Lions in that city. Guests on this occasion were students from a dozen different countries, attending the Michigan State University. Main feature of the evening was a team "quiz", which revealed interesting aspects of social, economic and industrial life in such countries as Greece, Norway, Puerto Rico, China, Lebanon, Siam, Japan, Burma, Iraq, India and Colombia.

The Economy of Using the Best

The economy of using the best possible materials is made apparent in the upkeep problem. A house or business building may be "thrown together" with cheap material, and it may "look all right," but after it has stood the shock of weather, the real test comes.

It is false economy to use poor materials — and we so advise everyone who buys from us. Our success is due to honesty in materials and prices.

Many Problems Aired at Meeting in Morin Hts.

He further suggested that individual letters be sent to him giving suggestions that would assist in making this county more progressive, and stressed the fact that local municipal problems could be handled in the same manner, as these letters would be evidence of support when bringing matters before the higher authorities.

Mr. Cottingham then spoke and thanked those assembled for attending this meeting and giving him a chance to speak to them individually.

The practice of this yearly visit would be continued so long as he held the confidence of the people, and was acting as their representative, as he felt that by these informal visits he would each year meet the members of all municipalities, and could discuss with them personal problems as well as matters which they felt would be of interest for their own section.

He then asked if there were any present who would like to question him on matters which they felt should receive his consideration before opening of the next session of Parliament.

R. Ivan Gnaedinger, chairman of the Lake Echo Citizens' Association, spoke of the pressing need for an improvement to the road leading to Lake Echo. Councillor R. E. Jamieson also spoke upon a resolution that had been passed by Council requesting that this matter of widening and straightening of the Lake Echo road should be given immediate attention, as it was in a dangerous condition with the amount of traffic now passing over it.

Councillor Willis Seale then spoke on a resolution which had been adopted by the Council concerning the Lachute road and its unsatisfactory condition, particularly the hill at J. E. Seale and Son's lumber yard, and again at that portion of the road which crosses Lot 44 in Range II, also on the Lachute highway.

This Councillor then presented a another petition requesting colonization money from next year's budget for colonization roads within the municipality.

Councillor G. A. Parthenais then presented a further petition, in the form of a resolution from the Council that a new bridge be built at Christieville, as the present one was in a dangerous condition; he also added his plea to that of Councillor Seale, that colonization money be granted for the country road running through Range I, connecting Christieville and Lake Echo.

Mr. Cottingham received the petitions as presented by the councillors, and congratulated them on the manner in which they had pressed their points. He promised fair consideration to all of them, as he had personal knowledge of the places mentioned and the need for improvements.

He then stated the long-needed new bridge crossing the Simon River at Joseph E. Brown's, on the cross-artery joining Christieville to Lake Echo, was to begin the next day, September 7.

The meeting closed at around midnight, a great deal of business having been discussed.

Mayor Campbell thanked those present for coming and presenting their problems direct to the Member and the County Warden, and stated that the Council appreciated gatherings such as this occasion, as they were of great assistance to the councillors when considering the future welfare of the municipality.

Important Business

ONE OF THE casualties of the rail strike was the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, of which this newspaper is a member.

The convention, now at least temporarily postponed, would have made few headlines, even in the press of the host province. But that does not mean it would not have been important. The very fact that the representatives of over 500 newspapers, representing communities large and small from British Columbia to Newfoundland, take time out for a get-together, is in itself big news.

Annual conventions of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association are a form of Dominion-Provincial conference minus the constitutional problems. They are meetings of minds at which common and uncommon problems are explored by men and women whose job it is to work with opinion.

Weekly newspaper editors are important people, even if they do say so themselves. They are important not because of who they are, but because across their desks flow the cross-currents of community life at a level at which it can be interpreted relatively accurately. From the editorial and news columns of the weekly newspapers of Canada can be gained a sure insight into the inner workings of the nation. The town and village press is a true reflector and a true light, interpreting and guiding. It is a Gallup poll whose accuracy has never been questioned.

Publishing a weekly newspaper is, indeed, a much bigger and more important business than most of its editors believe.

Making Hunting A Safer Sport

AT LEAST 95 per cent of all hunting accidents each fall can be avoided if every hunter acquaints himself with the fundamentals of safe gun handling and constantly practices them. These fundamentals are simple and serve a dual purpose: they help keep hunting a safe sport and make for better marksmanship.

There is no excuse for carelessness in gun handling, whether the weapon is loaded or not. The cardinal rule of gun safety is "treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun." Always remember — never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload first. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.

Carry only empty guns — taken down or with the action open — into your automobile, camp or home. Whenever you pick up a gun, indoors or outdoors, always first point the muzzle in a safe direction and examine the piece carefully to make sure whether or not it is loaded.

Pointing a loaded gun towards a companion is the unpardonable sin of shooting ethics. Do it just once and you have lost the respect and comradeship of your friend, and branded yourself a thoughtless novice or a careless, dangerous shooter with whom it is unsafe to go afield.

It is a compliment to be invited to go hunting with an experienced gunner. It means he believes you will observe all safety rules and practice good sportsmanship. Don't let him down by taking chances and you'll help make hunting a safer sport. It's just as easy to be careful as careless.

Living As Canadians Do

IF CANADIANS needed any further demonstration of the vice-regal family's desire to live as Canadians do, they have it now. . . The 17-year-old daughter of the family, Rose Alexander, has become a typist like thousands of Canadian 'teen-age girls, and is increasing her knowledge of Canadian ways in an Ottawa insurance office.

Time was that vice-regal daughters confined their activities to the gentle arts of painting, singing and needlework. The business world was as remote as Tibet. Teas and parties left no time or thought for training in a career.

Life is different for Rose, who punches a clock like the other girls, joins them in lunch-room gossiping and takes part in office social activities. Striding out of Rideau Hall to work, she is a heartening symbol of the independence of modern youth and the wisdom of forward-looking parents.

The public's acceptance of her entry into business as not too unusual, is a tribute to the Alexanders, who have been breaking new ground since their arrival in Canada in 1946. After her mother shot a hole-in-one and her father played cribbage with reporters, Rose could hardly top her parents in Canadian ways.

The governor-general has driven his own jeep around Ottawa, thrown his shoulder into pushing a stalled car from a Gatineau snowdrift, fished and ski-ed and made friends everywhere with his friendliness and charm. All, of course, without detracting in the slightest from the dignity of his high office.

Canadians will applaud his daughter's decision to take a job, and wish her well in this and everything else she undertakes.

Cup Runneth Over

NEW PSALM from the "Western Christian Advocate" of Macon, Georgia:

"The government is my shepherd, I need not work. It allows me to lie down on good jobs; it leadeth me beside still factories. It destroyeth my initiative; it leads me into the paths of the parasite for politics' sake. Yea, tho I walk through the valley of laziness and deficit spending, I will fear no evil; for the government is with me; its doles and its vote-getters, they comfort me. It prepareth an economic Utopia for me by appropriating the earnings of my grandchildren. It filleth my head with bologna; my inefficiency runneth over. Surely the government shall care for me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in a fool's paradise forever."

THE FIRST responsibility of any business is to give service to its customers. To do so it must remain solvent. Profits are just as essential as wages. A business which makes no profit, employs no one.

Canada's Young Track Athletes

SPORTS CAMERA
By Lorne Bruce

Canada will be a leading contender for track and field honors at the 1956 Olympics.

That's the prediction of Lloyd Percival, director and head coach of Sports College, a national organization devoted to physical fitness and operated somewhat along the lines of the Red Cross.

Percival made the statement after 22 records were established at the 1950 Canadian junior track and field championships.

The roly-poly track enthusiast said most of the new marks were set by youngsters with another year in junior ranks and he forecast that even more records will be established next year.

Asked about his comment that Canada now has junior track and field competitors among the world best, Percival said he can "prove on paper" that this country's junior teen-age athletes are as good or better than those of any other country.

He expects a junior team will be going to Europe next summer. The team would be composed of athletes from all parts of Canada.

Percival was firm in his reply to some track and field men who charge that he "burns out" his athletes while they are still juniors.

Not Widely Held

"They can give no examples", he asserted. "They cannot explain their remarks. The theory of young athletes being burned out is held by only a few persons in Canada. If an athlete doesn't get enough variety, he'll get stale mentally as well as physically.

"Any physiologist will say he doesn't recognize any such thing as being 'burned out'. I'll say an athlete can get stale. But a balance in activities and a good diet will prevent that.

"In the last four or five years I've never had an athlete go stale. (Percival coaches the North Toronto Red Devils club).

"All our lads are properly examined, checked regularly — at every work-out. We pay careful attention to weight. Weight can be a perfect indicator of condition. A teen-ager should be putting on a little all the time. All our boys have diet sheets showing what and how much they are eating."

One of his test-group graduates, Don Scott McEwan of Ottawa, set a United States intercollegiate two-mile record a few months ago. Scott, now 22, attends the University of Michigan.

Talking about his Red Devils, he said that although 90 per cent are of junior age, the club has won the Canadian senior track and field aggregates the last two years.

The Red Devils grew out of a Sports College test group, a group of young athletes who took part in an experiment to reveal the results of certain training techniques.

"A couple of the kids decided they would like to form their own club", he added. "They formed the Red Devils — in 1947 the club had seven members. Now there are 28."

DEATHS

DEY — At Winnipeg, on Sept. 1, 1950, after a short illness, George Herbert (62 years), of Gypsomville, Man., beloved husband of Ida Patterson, and son of the late Mary Jane Kirkpatrick and Robert Dey.

WARWICK — At the Children's Memorial Hospital, Montreal, Saturday, Sept. 9, 1950, Kenneth John Warwick, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Warwick, of Lachute.

IN MEMORIAM

CHAMPAGNE — In loving memory of a dear father, who passed away Sept. 11, 1949. — Ever remembered by Sandy, Florence and Richard, grandson Donald.

"Deep in our hearts there's a picture,
Worth more than silver and gold,
It's a picture of you, dear Father,
Whose memory will never grow old.
There's a smile we will always remember,
There's a memory fond and true,
There's a token of affection
And a heartache, Dad, for you."

CHAMPAGNE — In loving memory of a dear father, who passed away Sept. 11, 1949. — Ever remembered by Neil, Alice and Lloyd.

"With tears we watched you sinking,
We watched you fade away;
We tended you with loving care
But could not make you stay.
We watched beside your bedside
As the lonely hours passed;
And how our hearts were broken, Dad,
When we knew you breathed your last."

CHAMPAGNE — In loving memory of my dear father, Felix Champagne, who passed away one year ago, Sept. 11, 1949. — Always loved and remembered by Gordie, Pearl and family.

"We do not need a special day
To bring you to our minds,
The days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
God give us strength to fight
And courage to bear the blow —
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know."

WAITE — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Chesser S. Waite, who passed away Sept. 12, 1948. — Ever remembered by his loving wife and family.

"The stars are brightly shining
Upon a silent grave
In it lies a precious one
But whom we could not save.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes fill up with tears
Only God knows how we miss him
At the end of two long years."

Barn at Staynerville Destroyed by Fire

The barn at James Hutchins' farm, on "Paul's Montee" between Route 8 and Staynerville, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin last Thursday evening around five o'clock.

Neighbors rallied to assist, and with the aid of a fire crew and equipment from Lachute, the frame farmhouse, 50 feet from the barn, was saved from imminent destruction. Water was applied from the fire department's booster tank, also pumped from supplies drawn from local wells. Two animals in the barn, and some of the farm machinery, were moved to safety.

It is reported there is only a small coverage of insurance to meet the loss.

The profession of acting was confined entirely to men in ancient Greece.

A Weekly Feature of Helpful Hints for Child Training, etc,

Your Child At School

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

The home and school are partners in the task of education — of drawing out the best in each child. In order to do a good job they must work in harmony with each other and be in agreement over the purpose of school training.

Schools today try to guide the intellectual, the physical, the social and the emotional development of scholars. These are not four separate compartments of life, but are inter-related. The teacher in each grade has a school curriculum of various studies which she must teach to her class. At the time she treats each scholar as an individual with different capacities and needs.

The training of the intellect is much more than memorization of facts, the acquiring of knowledge. This is necessary, of course, but a scholar must also learn how facts are related to life. A little child does not first learn arithmetic from abstract tables, but from counting concrete objects. He knows that there are two wheels on big brother's bicycle and four wheels on his little wagon. Mother has helped him count the wheels himself, not once but many times. . . . "one . . . two"; "one, two, three, four . . "

Children are not all poured into the same mould, nor are they expected to learn at the same rate or reach the same stage of proficiency The old plan of scholars competing strenuously against each other for the highest standing based on marks is gradually being discarded. The report card, especially in the lower grades, shows the scholar's progress as excellent, good, fair, or poor in each subject. Each child is encouraged each term to do the best work of which he is capable, to observe, think for himself and to improve in the subjects where he is weak.

The physical training at schools includes time set aside for organized games and exercises in the yard outside or the gym. Under a competent teacher, boys and girls benefit greatly from this instruction. They also grow in their own idea of the sensible rules which contribute to good health.

The importance of being able to get along with other people is widely recognized in today's world. Not long ago a prize picture in an American-wide competition was that of a boy with a bandaged head and a black eye sitting on a step disconsolately reading Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People". Scholars develop as social beings not so much by reading text books, but by working and playing with others. In the projects in the classroom under the teacher's direction, pupils add to their store of knowledge and they also practice cooperating with others towards a definite goal.

At school a child must "take turns" and conform with the rules of good sportsmanship. Gradually a scholar leaves behind temper tantrums, sulking, crying — the explosions he used as a little youngster when life was too difficult for him. One of the most valuable ways in which a teacher helps a pupil is by giving him the encouragement he needs in order to achieve emotional control.

Bank by Mail, If You Live Out of Town

Be an Early Morning Customer Without Leaving Home

Every morning, before the bank is open for business, the staff of the Lachute branch of the B of M are busy with the deposits of the day's first customers — whose mail has just been received.

Among the Bank of Montreal's 1,700,000 account-holders, are many who find it more convenient to do their banking by mail. Whether they have cheques or cash to deposit, money orders to despatch or other banking business, they let the mail call at the bank for them. And the helpful, efficient staff of the B of M carry on from there.

If Banking by Mail would solve any of your problems, drop a line to Donald Hay, manager of the Lachute branch. He'll be glad to send you the B of M's special folder about this useful service, and make any arrangements that will help you take advantage of Banking by Mail.

An old Texan, attending an angler's banquet in California, was slightly irked as speaker after speaker told tall tales of West Coast fish. Finally, the visitor from the Lone Star State was asked for a few remarks. "Well, we don't have any fish in Texas worth bragging about", he began humbly, then, holding his hands about 12 inches apart: "I never saw any bigger than that."

He stopped briefly, surveyed the gathering blandly, and concluded: "Of course you have to remember that we always measure our fish between the eyes."

Geo. Little, Organist To Give Recital

Geo. Little, one of Canada's leading organists, is presenting a recital here at the Lachute United Church, Thursday, September 28.

Mr. Little studied at the Paris Conservatoire, and was chosen in the entrance competition as one of the four new students to enter the organ class of Marcel Dupré. Actually he began his musical studies in Fredericton, N.B. In 1941 he received his Bachelor of Music degree from Dalhousie University, Halifax, and the following year was appointed Director of Music in the Halifax City Schools, holding at the same time the position of organist and choir director at the Church of St. James, in Dartmouth, N.S.

Winner of the Dalhousie Scholarship presented by the Halifax Ladies' Musical Club, Mr. Little continued his studies in Montreal, where he was organist and choir director at the First Presbyterian Church. A piano student of Isidor Phillipp and a theory student of Dr. Alfred Whitehead, he received the degree of Bachelor of Music from the University of Toronto. In 1947, Mr. Little and his brother Carl formed a duo-piano team which gave many concerts in Montreal and in the Maritime Provinces, and gave radio recitals for the CBC. Mr. Little conducted many choral concerts in Montreal, and his work received high praise from the critics.

In 1948 his choir was chosen to sing for the George Brewer Memorial Concert, conducted by Dr. Wilfrid Pelletier of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

In 1948, Mr. Little went to France as a scholarship student of the French Government. There he studied orchestra conducting, theory and organ at the Ecole Normale and at the Conservatoire National in Paris. He was supply organist at the American Church in Paris, where he was heard in several concerts. He is also Director of Music at McGill French Summer School, and supply organist and choir director at St. James United Church in Montreal.

Mr. Little will be on the CBC organ music program Wednesday, October 4, from 10.30 to 11 p.m.; following an organ recital in Montreal the previous evening.

MAN-EATING SHARK

Barr'd Islands, Nfld. (CP) — Two Barr'd Island fishermen reported a man-eating shark of "tremendous proportions" rose out of the water near their rowboat near here recently. The open-mouth creature slashed in pursuit of their fleeting boat for several hundred yards before abandoning the chase.

Main St. Electrical Store Under New Proprietorship

The establishment operated by Aimé Prégent at 172 Main Street, has been taken over by Metropole Electric Inc., whose main office is in Montreal, and the store now bears the registry of its president, L. E. Dansereau. There is another branch of the same firm at St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac, and manager for the two stores is Armand Roy. Guy Lafortune, of Lachute, continues with the establishment under its new owners.

The L. E. Dansereau store specializes in all electric appliances, also having a gift and phonograph record department, and a stock of supplies for the electrical contracting trade. The shop has latterly been undergoing general renovation and changes in lighting.

Aimé Prégent, the former proprietor, has moved to Gatineauville, where he has gone into the hotel business.

Winner of Morris Car Needs Driving Lessons

Had Gerald P. Keating been an optimist, he would have started to take driving lessons the moment he sent in his entry form to the "Win a Morris" contest sponsored by Toledo Motors Ltd., of Montreal, distributors of these British cars.

As it turned out, tall, handsome, Gerald Keating was caught napping. Just recently, he received the keys of his brand new Morris from Mr. W. S. Kickley, president of Toledo Motors — but he will have to wait for his license before he can drive it home. His 10-year old son George was treating his father to a few "I told you so's" while they were choosing together the right color and model. George feels responsible for his father's predicament. It was he who picked up the entry form at Papineau Motors Sales Ltd., next door to their house.

"He gave me no peace until I mailed that form", Mr. Keating said. "He took me down to have a good look at those neat Morris cars so I would know just what to say about their five outstanding features."

Mr. Keating's entry was judged best of many that were carefully examined by executives of Toledo Motors Ltd. and their advertising agency, The F. H. Hayhurst Co. Limited.

First production, Edna Park's "Check Book", was broadcast over the district radio, satisfying a much-needed desire for such entertainment not only in settlements but in the lonely, outlying cabins in the district.

Due to atmospheric conditions radio reception from outside the northern area is not often clear and this program was happily void of static.

Gertrude Crummey of Halifax and Ralph Bewley of Toronto played the leading parts. Dorothea Adams of Toronto directed.

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

Conservation is a frequently-used word these days . . . Nor are we awakening to the seriousness of the situation a minute too soon. The increasing evidence of soil erosion, floods and poor soil management is appalling. As I travel the province, the signs of increased pride in our homes thrills me but bare hillsides, deep gulleys and rich soil deposited in hollows modify my feelings of jubilation.

Even the urban dweller can do his part to help the situation by maintaining soil fertility and planting trees. There is no need to wait until next spring to plant one, as most will do well when planted in September.

Rimmed

If you look longingly at andirons and fire baskets for your fireplace but decide they're still beyond the budget, try this simple suggestion picked up while visiting a friend's cottage. An old steel tire rim had been picked up at a junk yard and cut with a hack-saw as shown in the illustration. Placed in the fireplace, the rim was particularly effective and not unattractive. The open space permitted good draught and the rim made the task of cleaning out the ashes much lighter.

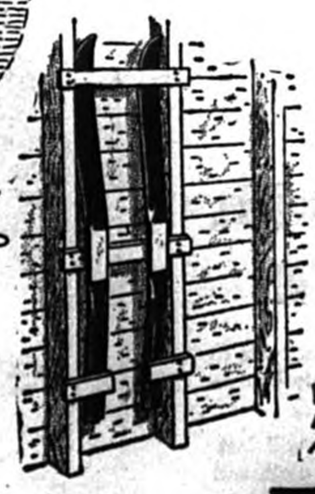
Jewel Boxes

Christmas is still a long way off but at least one person is thinking about it. I found my sister making jewel boxes as Yuletide gifts for a few of her friends. Tin powder boxes and cardboard cheese boxes were being transformed into attractive jewel cases. The bright plaid covering on some of the boxes was as eye-catching as the frugalness of the idea.

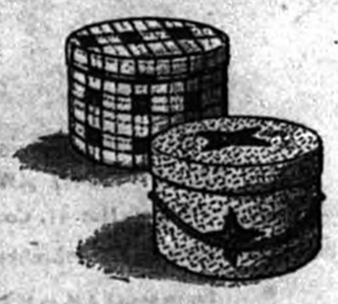
Ski Holder

If you have tripped over your skis all summer as they reclined in the corner of the garage, you'll be receptive to a suggestion for their storage. Try hanging them between the studs as shown in the illustration. I did and it has been marvellous.

OLD TIRE RIM AS ANDIRONS



FOR STORING SKIS . . . NAIL TWO CLEATS ACROSS THE STUDS AND A PAIR OF OPEN CLEATS AT THE BOTTOM.



NOVELTY JEWEL CASES . . . DISCARDED POWDER AND SMALL CHEESE BOXES COVERED WITH COLOURFUL MATERIAL.

This is one of a series of advertisements presenting many helpful little ideas which, it is hoped, will prove of practical value to those interested in working around the home and in the garden. Watch for more of these suggestions in future issues of this publication.

Rev. A. G. Moore to Fill Granby Pastorate

(Our District Correspondent)

Cushing—The Rev. A. G. Moore has had a unanimous call to Granby United Church and will be preaching his farewell sermon in St. Mungo's Church on October 1, much to the regret of his parishioners in Cushing and the outlying districts. During the three years of their stay in Cushing, the Rev. and Mrs. Moore have endeared themselves to all they have come in contact with, and the good wishes of their many friends accompany them on their departure.

Preaching Services, Lachute Baptist Church

Evangelist William Dynes, of Toronto, gifted Bible teacher and baritone gospel singer, will conduct a series of special services in the Lachute Baptist Church, beginning Sunday, September 17, through to Friday, September 29. (Sunday services, 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.; week-night services, except Saturday, 8 o'clock).

There will be special singing at all the above services. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kettyle, well known radio gospel singers, will be heard in several numbers at the evening service this Sunday. A hearty invitation is extended to all to attend.

Nuptials at United Church In St. Andrews East

Stephens - Dorion

The United Church at St. Andrews East, adorned with pink and white gladioli and other autumn flowers, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, September 9, at four o'clock, when Miss Elsie Helen Dorion became the bride of Mr. Eric Stephens, of Lachute.

The Rev. A. G. Moore, B.A., B.D., officiated at the double-ring ceremony, and Miss A. L. Wales, of St. Andrews East, presided at the organ.

Mrs. Keith Brown, of Montreal, attended her sister as matron of honor, and Miss Ethelyn Ferguson was bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Owen Stephens, of Lachute, and the ushers were Mr. John Giles and Mr. Ken Falconer, also of Lachute.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Albert Dorion, wore white figured organza with a slight train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a headdress of lily of the valley.

The matron of honor wore turquoise blue figured organza, and the bridesmaid wore pink figured organza. Both wore matching headdresses and carried colonial bouquets.

Mrs. Dorion, the bride's mother, wore a street-length dress of wine crepe trimmed with lace, with grey accessories.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Hendell, of Montreal, sang "O Promise Me".

The reception in the church hall was attended by about 50 guests, the supper being served by the members of the Women's Guild.

For the wedding trip, by motor to Ottawa and other parts, the bride wore a grey dress with black accessories and a shoulder spray of red roses, and carried a beige coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens will reside in Lachute.

Visit Here on Behalf Of Red Shield Appeal

Major T. L. Carswell, Salvation Army public relations director, and Major John Smith, were here from Montreal yesterday in the interests of the Red Shield Annual Appeal, which will be brought before the public October 15 to 31.

Mr. E. A. Hibbard, who has given good service to the cause for many years in this community, is honorary chairman; and Mr. D. M. Hay (his successor as manager of the Bank of Montreal) is chairman of the local campaign.

The visiting officers anticipate the usual generous response with which Lachute and Brownsburg have given support to the Salvation Army in past appeals.

Two Silver Wedding Anniversaries Celebrated

A Lachute Road couple, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Fraser, passed their 25th milestone of wedded life recently. John Fraser and Miss Edith Albright were married September 2, 1925, in the old Christ Church, St. Andrews East.

They were guests of their family — Lillian (Mrs. James Burton) and Frances, of Montreal, and George, at home — at a quiet celebration in honor of the occasion, and were presented with a handsome set of silverware.

A pleasant sequel to this anniversary was a motor trip with their daughter and son-in-law (Mr. and Mrs. J. Burton), during which Mr. and Mrs. Fraser visited Peterborough, Rice Lake and Toronto, where they spent two days at the National Exhibition.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Ewen W. Albright, of Lachute and St. Andrews East, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last Saturday — receiving many cards and greetings, also gifts from their family, relatives and friends. They were entertained by their family Saturday evening at a supper at the Alpine Inn, Ste. Marguerite.

Mr. and Mrs. Albright (formerly Isabel Wason) were married September 9, 1925, at the latter's home near Lachute. They have three sons and one daughter.

• • •

Mr. Ewen Albright and Mrs. John Fraser are brother and sister — consequently there were two weddings within a week in the Albright family 25 years ago.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Groundwater have returned to Beech Ridge after spending the summer months in Prince Edward Island.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Church recently spent a week visiting relatives in Sault Ste. Marie, Blind River and Espanola, Ont.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weaver and young son, former residents, renewed acquaintances last week-end while en route from Toronto to their home in Halifax, N.S.

• • •

Miss Florence Gadley, of Outremont, Que., was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Pillage.

• • •

Miss Alice Derouin is spending a vacation visiting friends in Vermont and New York, having travelled by plane from Dorval to Rutland, Vt.

• • •

Mrs. Stanley Goldsworthy is spending some time at Shawbridge, convalescing from her illness for which she was under hospital treatment in Montreal.

Miss Mary Pollock, of the Bank of Montreal staff, who motored to the States with Mr. and Mrs. Partridge recently, returned by plane last Saturday after spending a pleasant vacation in New York.

• • •

Mrs. J. K. Burns, who has spent the past six weeks visiting her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Cleland, proceeded last week-end to Moncton, and will leave this Sunday by plane for her home in Renfrew, Scotland.

• • •

Major F. C. Walker and Mrs. Walker, of Jonquière, Que., Mr. and Mrs. Jim MacDonald, of Dolbeau, Que., and Mr. Miles G. Walker, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McGibbon this week.

• • •

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Derouin were Messrs. Carl Tibert and Jack Brown, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Seguin, the Misses Joan Seguin, Averil Beamin and Pauline Beavais, and Mr. Edmund Seguin, all of Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael M. Nason, of Verdun, returned yesterday from a motor trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Flint, Mich., where they were guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. James B. Smith. They are spending the remainder of the week at their cottage at Half Moon Lake.

• • •

Arriving aboard the Cunard Liner Ascania at Montreal this week are Mrs. Melvin Scott and two children, of Lachute, and Mrs. Annie Masson, of Brownsburg, who have been visiting overseas.

• • •

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Assaly announce the engagement of their daughter, Norma Mary Jane, to Mr. Norman Motter, the son of the late Mr. N. Motter and of Mrs. Motter, of Outremont, Que. — the wedding to take place in January.

• • •

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Everett McGibbon, of Lachute, announce the engagement of their daughter, Annie Clarke, to Mr. Arthur S. C. Goldup, of Montreal, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Goldup of Kent, England. The marriage will take place the latter part of September.

40th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated at Dalesville

Thursday, September 7, marked the 40th wedding anniversary of two of the district's well known residents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Campbell, of Dalesville.

The following evening they were pleasantly surprised by a large gathering of friends and relatives from the district and from Montreal. An enjoyable evening was spent, during which some of the events of 40 years ago, were recalled. At that time The Lachute Watchman recorded that the bride, Miss Emma Morrow of Plantagenet, Ont., "wore a dainty gown of White Mull and carried lilies of the valley and orange blossoms".

The bridesmaid, a sister of the bride (now Mrs. A. Forrester, of Saskatchewan), was unable to attend this reunion. The best man, Stuart Campbell, now of Lachute, was present on both occasions — and the latter was able to recall some very interesting but more personal happenings of 1910 and earlier.

Anniversary gifts were graciously received; a beautiful walnut coffee table in Duncan-Phyfe design was a gift from friends, presented by William James Tomalty, formerly of Dalesville. Other remembrances included rich glass and chinaware, and matching fire screen with brass dogs.

Worshipful Master of the Dalesville Orange Lodge, Herbert Potter, presented a certificate of honorary membership to Mr. Campbell.

The group had arranged also for refreshments, including a suitably decorated three-tier wedding cake to simulate the original of 40 years ago.

Mr. C. L. Stephens endeavored to record, with flash-bulb camera equipment, the joyful happenings of the evening, including the cutting of the cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell expressed heartfelt appreciation for the gifts, the pleasant evening, and the real friendship demonstrated by many people over the past 40 years.

Lachute String Group Meets Next Tuesday

First meeting of the season for the Lachute String Group will be held in the new music room of the Lachute High School, next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

It is hoped that all previous members will be present, and a cordial invitation is extended to any person who may play a string instrument or woodwind. Information may be had by contacting Messrs. Maurice Bedard or Jack Gorman.

Member of Old Lachute Family Dies in Montreal

Late Miss Norah Christie, R.N.

Funeral service for the late Miss Norah T. Christie, a nurse for the past 18 years who died early last Monday in hospital, was held at the D. A. Collins Funeral Chapel, Sherbrooke Street, on Wednesday afternoon, and the remains were brought here for interment in the Lachute Cemetery.

Miss Christie was the youngest daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. George H. Christie. Born in Lachute, she attended the Lachute Academy and after graduation she studied at Macdonald College School for Teachers.

After teaching for a number of years at Kensington and West Hill High Schools she entered the Montreal General Hospital School for Nurses, where she graduated with honors in 1932. She practised nursing until her death.

She was an active member of Westminster Central United Church in Montreal.

She is survived by two brothers, Dr. Edward Christie, of Lachute, and Keith Christie, of Montreal.

Local Couple Bereaved

Sympathy of many friends is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Ross Warwick, Chatham Street, whose infant son was stricken with a respiratory ailment recently, and died five days later, September 8, in the Children's Memorial Hospital. . . . This is Mr. and Mrs. Warwick's second bereavement — their other child having died at birth.

The funeral of the boy, Kenneth John, 2½ months of age, was held Sunday afternoon — the Rev. Chas. Maclean conducting service at Lachute Presbyterian Church, in the presence of relatives, neighbors and friends.

Eight Days in New York

The international convention of Jehovah's witnesses held in New York City is now a matter of history. All who were present will remember it as eight days brimful of Scriptural instruction, admonition and encouragement. But as time passes, memories dim. Wouldn't you like to refresh your memory occasionally? Then read the

REPORT OF INTERNATIONAL ASSEMBLY OF JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

A review of the assembly's fine points from time to time will aid you to relive those pleasant days and to recount the blessings to others. Or, if you were unable to attend, you will doubly appreciate this complete, 96-page report of five convention issues under one cover which describes all eight days of the convention. It is of the same dimensions as "Awake!" and may be had for 25 cents a copy. — 40 Irwin Avenue, Toronto, Ont.

Three New Booklets

"Can You Live Forever in Happiness on Earth?" is a 32-page booklet containing the public talk delivered by N. H. Knorr at the International Convention of Jehovah's witnesses in New York, August 6, 1950. It will thrill you to read it. Only 5c a copy.

"Evolution versus The New World." This 64-page, colored-cover booklet tests the evidence for evolution and weighs the case for the Bible's new world. The one is a bubble, the other a hope with sure foundation. Prove these facts for yourself. Only 5c a copy.

"Defending and Legally Establishing the Good News." The features of this 96-page booklet include a memorandum of law relative to the work of Jehovah's witnesses. It is of value to witnesses, judges, lawyers and all others interested in the guarantees of freedom. 10c per copy.

All three booklets will be sent postpaid for only 20c. — Write: The Watch-Tower, 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto.

"Let God Be True"

— Romans 3: 3-4

We, according to His promise, look for a new heaven and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. — II Peter, 3: 13.

For Christ must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that he shall destroy is death. — I Corinthians, 15: 25-26.

Of what will the new earth consist? The Bible shows that the present wicked rulers and their organizations will be replaced by an organization of princes who will rule the earth in justice. These princes will include men who proved their faithfulness to God from Abel to John the Baptist. All such received a good report because of their faith, but have not as yet received their reward. (Hebrews 11: Acts 2:29, 34). Their resurrection will be to life on earth, not heaven. (Matthew 8:11, 11:11; Daniel 12:13). Among such will be fleshly ancestors of Christ Jesus whom he will make princes in all the earth. — Psalm 45:16.

Under the rule of these princes the original purpose of God in creating the earth will be realized: all the earth will become a paradise filled with righteous creatures who will exercise loving dominion over the lower animals and will serve God in spirit and truth. Peace, health and life will replace war, disease and death. — Psalm 72; Isaiah 33:24; 9:7. I Corinthians 15:25, 26.

Find out more about God's wonderful promises for the righteous New World by starting a search of the scriptures. Send for the New World translation of the Christian Greek Scriptures; also the beautiful book, "Let God be True". $1.85 for both books. — 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto, Ont.

"I enjoyed my shopping today!"

Yes, I really enjoyed my shopping trip—I bought all the things I saved for!

That's the way I plan my bigger purchases. They seem to come easier, and more quickly, when I put something into the bank regularly. I like the comforting feeling of watching my account grow.

I hate keeping too much cash around the house. It's so convenient to have the bank take care of it. And my bank book tells me where I stand.

I guess most women are much like me—housewives with modest savings who find their neighborhood bank handy, useful . . . always obliging.

September's Queen – The Tomato

Three generations ago tomatoes were considered poisonous. Some daring person ate one of the beautiful fruits and survived. From that time on, the tomato has steadily increased in favor as a food. Nutritionists gave impetus to its popularity by emphasizing the food value.

The dictionary tells us "the tomato is a wholesome and nutritious fruit" but less emphasis is put on its use as a fruit than as a vegetable. Actually the tomato is equally good as a vegetable or fruit and either green or fully ripe.

The Italians called the tomato the "golden apple" and English people often referred to it as a "Love apple". To many people a fully red-ripe tomato tastes much better when eaten out of the hand, picnic style, just as they eat an apple.

The green tomato does not get as much publicity as the red but it could add interesting variety to many meals.

The home economists of the Consumer Section at Ottawa suggest several ways to use those tomatoes which would otherwise be nipped by the first frost before they ripen.

Green Tomato Scallop

6 Medium green tomatoes, 4 large onions (sliced), 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 2 teaspoons sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, pepper, 2 tablespoons bacon fat.

Wash and slice tomatoes. Arrange tomatoes, sliced onion, and bread crumbs in layers. Sprinkle tomatoes and onions with sugar, salt and pepper and dot bread crumbs with fat, having bread crumbs on top. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., for 30 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Green Tomato Marmalade

5 Cups chopped green tomatoes, 3 cups sugar, 1 lemon (grated rind and juice), ¼ cup chopped, preserved ginger.

Wash and peel tomatoes. Put through food chopper using coarse blade. Add sugar and let stand overnight. In the morning bring to boil gently for 35 minutes. Add grated lemon rind, lemon juice and chopped ginger and boil rapidly for about 20 minutes longer. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal. Yield: about 4 cups.

Green Tomato Relish

1½ lb. Green tomatoes (12 small), 1½ lb. tart apples (6 medium), 1½ medium onions, 1 sweet red pepper, 2½ cups vinegar, 2½ cups sugar, ½ teaspoon cayenne pepper, 1½ teaspoons ginger, ½ teaspoon turmeric, ½ teaspoon salt.

Wash tomatoes, remove stems and any scars. Peel, core and quarter apples. Peel onions and wash and remove stem and seed pod of pepper. Put tomatoes, apples, onions and red pepper through a food chopper using fine blade. Boil vinegar, sugar, cayenne pepper, ginger, turmeric and salt for 1 minute. Add the chopped vegetables and apples and simmer slowly for ½ hour stirring occasionally to prevent scorching. Pack in hot sterilized jars and seal. Yield: about 8 cups.

Visits to the dentist at regular intervals will prove to cost only a fraction of what it will if these visits are postponed until the teeth obviously need treatment.

A woman in a grocery store was shocked by the high price of apples. "They're high all right, ma'am", said the clerk. "But that's because they're so scarce".

"Why", protested the woman, "just this morning I read in the paper that there was such a bumper crop of apples that they're rotting on the trees".

"That's just it, ma'am", the clerk replied; "That's why they're scarce. It doesn't pay to pick them." — The Reader's Digest.

Auxiliary Activities on Behalf of Brownsburg Legion Memorial Hall

Brownsburg — The Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Brownsburg Branch 71, held their regular monthly meeting in the Social Club on Friday night, September 8. A review of work since the June meeting showed that the branch had held a successful picnic at Lake Macdonald in July, for the Senior and Auxiliary families. In August the Auxiliary had conducted a booth at the C-I-L picnic and sold tea and sandwiches, and through this effort more money was realized for the Legion Memorial Fund.

This fall the branch plans many more activities to augment the fund. In September there will be a card party; in October a tea and sale of home-cooking; and in November the Auxiliary will sponsor a show. The members hope, through these different events, to contribute appreciably to the Memorial Fund. Now that the building is progressing so satisfactorily, it is hoped the people of Brownsburg will patronize these many activities, so that the hall will soon be completed and fully furnished.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webb have returned to Windsor, Ont., after spending three weeks with Mrs. K. de la Ronde.

Mrs. J. Leslie Tedford, of Westmount, and Mrs. Arthur Grubert, of Hudson Heights, were guests of Mrs. de la Ronde last week. . . Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yale, of the Town of Mount Royal, were at Mrs. de la Ronde's on Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webb, Mrs. de la Ronde, Mrs. Lalonde, Mrs. Roth and Miss Audrey Eaton were at the Seigniory Club on Friday last.

Mrs. E. C. Calder attended the funeral of the late David Hawthorne, at Brigham, Que., on Tuesday.

Last year Canada, including Newfoundland, exported about $100,000,000 of fisheries products, making Canada the world's leading fish-exporting country.

Morin Heights

(Intended for last issue)

Mr. Marvin Dudley, of Ormstown, spent a few days here with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Doherty.

Mrs. A. S. Cleland, of Peterborough, Ont., has closed her cottage at Lake Anne and is now visiting Mrs J. H. Davis.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Forsyth included — Misses Nancy Oswald and Sheila MacLaren, of Kenogami, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tryer and Miss Lillian Gallagher, of Montreal, Miss Doris Watson and Mr. Jack Stromach, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Mr. E. Dey spent the long week-end with his brother, Mr. Melvin Dey and Mrs. Dey.

Mrs. Phil Temple returned to Montreal after spending two months at her cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack MacKimmie and daughter Bonnie, of Lachute, spent the long week-end with her sister, Mrs. E. Kneeland and Mr. Kneeland.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Bickerdyke and Mr. Baird Davis spent the long week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kneeland and children, Linda and Craig, and Miss Beatrice Bethell, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Watchorn.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Paquette and son spent a day here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Basler.

Gordon and Keith Nesbitt spent the holiday week-end at their home here.

Misses Margaret and Mary McConnell, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Tousignant and family spent the long week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McConnell.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Wm. Forsyth, and to Messrs. Matt and Melvin Dey, in the death of their brother, Herbert, who passed away recently after a brief illness in hospital at Winnipeg.

Special Singing, United Church

The Young Adult Group of the United Church have held singsongs in the church every Sunday evening again this past summer. For the final evening they invited several guests, who had helped during the season, to be present and again entertain the congregation. These included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter, Mrs. A. Manthorpe, Mrs. T. Hanson, Misses D. Campbell and Mr. Simpson, with Mrs. Geo. Watchorn at the organ.

Archer Scored Triumph On Royal Montreal Course

Gets Carling Breweries "Order of News Merit"

Playing a practice round over the South course of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, where the Canadian Open Golf Championship was held recently, Jack Archer, professional of the Lachute Golf Club, scored a sensational 6 under par 66. Par for this course is 36 - 36 — 72, and to give an idea just how high a 6-under-par score rates, only two players in the first four in the Canadian Open managed it. Jim Ferrier, winner of the open, scored a 66 in his third round, and Stan Leonard, Canadian pro from Vancouver Marine Drive, shot the 4-under-par in his second round. In his low-scoring round of the Dixie Club, Jack Archer chalked up five birdies on the first nine for 5-under-par. On the back nine he was penalized a stroke at the eleventh hole, where his ball went into the water, winding up with a bogie-five. His final score on the back nine was 35, one under regulation figures.

In recognition of his feat, Jack Archer was presented with the Carling Breweries "Order of News Merit". The scarlet hunter's cap, symbol of this recognition, was accompanied by an engraved certificate recording his scoring an outstanding 6-under-par 66 over the South Course of the Royal Montreal Golf Club.

In Brownsburg . . .

The question of financing this venture should not be too difficult, having regard to the many like projects which have been undertaken in neighboring communities. During the last war, recreational activities were subsidized to an extent beyond all comparison with the present small venture. Brownsburg is what is known as a "company town". Personal pledges have been given for sufficient funds to enable the Rink Association to get the work done. With a little vision — an investment in social welfare — those pledges could be converted into available cash.

Fire-Fighting

The present fire-fighting equipment of the Brownsburg Council is one of the finest and most up-to-date. This equipment was obtained over a period as a result of forethought, hard work, and government assistance. This latter is available to any municipality up to 50 per cent of its own commitments. The possession of this fire-fighting apparatus, amounting as it does to a value exceeding $10,000—with the very valuable addition of a trained crew — is a guarantee of protection for the people of Brownsburg, and in addition is regarded by insurance underwriters as a lessening of the risk of fire and property damage, with a result that premiums are eased.

To send this equipment outside the area for which it is intended, does two things — both of which are bad. It deprives the area of fire protection, and causes the insurance rates to go up.

Recently, calls have been received from outside the municipality for assistance in fighting fires. Those calls place the Council in an awkward position, and a refusal to send the equipment may be looked upon as an ungenerous, cold-blooded act. This is not so. Instructions have been issued by the Provincial Fire Department (who paid the greater amount of the cost of this equipment), that it may not be sent outside its allotted area.

In many cases — in fact, in most all cases — there is no source of water to supply the equipment if it was on the spot; it would therefore be useless and a mistake to send it to such a fire.

Where there is water, and fire protection is required, arrangements could be made beforehand to have the services of the fire brigade on call — so that if a fire does occur, doubt and uncertainty will not hamper a quick despatch of the brigade.

Madeleine Parent Held In Textiles Disturbance

Montreal — Madeleine Parent, organizer for local 102 of the United Textile Workers' Union of America (A.F.L.), was charged in Recorder's Court with inciting others to criminal acts, following a disturbance at 6.30 a.m. Monday, at the Hochelaga Street plant of the Dominion Textile Co.

Recorder-in-Chief Roland Paquette set her trial for September 18, and released her on a deposit of $200 or $500 bail.

Two men arrested at the disturbance, one for common assault, the other for grievous assault, were also ordered for trial on the same date.

Ch. of Commerce Renews Effort for Equalized Mail Rate in Town Limits

First General Meeting After Vacation Season

A general meeting of the Lachute Chamber of Commerce, reopening the season's deliberations, was held Monday evening, with Mr. J. R. Charron, president, as chairman.

Minutes of the last general meeting were read and accepted.

It was unanimously agreed that a committee be formed to study the highway situation in this area, and report to the board of directors. The deplorable state of Route 41 was again brought to the attention of the meeting, and also the slow progress made on Route 31.

The secretary outlined a plan whereby the Chamber of Commerce could be useful to other organizations of Lachute and district, by keeping a calender of the "coming events", and thus avoid duplication among organizations apt to arrange programs or public functions on the same date.

President J. R. Charron was named to meet the Federal M.P. to discuss the postal situation in Lachute, in an effort to obtain from the Postal Department a uniform rate for mailing in Lachute and Lachute Mills — the latter being identical with Lachute in municipal matters, but so named for postal purposes only; also requesting to have letter boxes installed at strategic places some distance from the post offices.

It was decided that the Chamber of Commerce should have membership certificates issued to members.

Mr. J. R. Charron and Dr. R. A. Dumais were named delegates to the provincial annual meeting of "La Chambre de Commerce de la Province de Quebec", at Toronto, September 24 to 27.

Bertrand L'Heureux was named chairman of the membership committee.

It was brought to attention of the gathering that regular directors' meetings are held the first and third Mondays of each month, at the Victoria Hall, and that all members are welcome to these assemblies.

Rev. E. G. May to Retire After 56 Yrs.

Incumbent of Trinity Anglican Church, Ste. Agathe, for the last 16 years, the Rev. E. Geoffrey May will retire on September 25. He has been in the ministry for 56 years.

Mr. May will officiate at his final services at Ste. Agathe on Sunday, and will leave the following day for a brief visit to Winnipeg. He will afterwards reside in Toronto with his daughters, Mrs. S. E. Rider and Miss Barbara May.

"During all the long years of my ministry, I have missed only six Sundays away from church, and each time it was due to illness, Mr. May said. "I'm looking forward now to sitting in the congregation while someone else preaches."

Born in London, England, Mr. May will be 81 on November 11. He obtained his Master of Arts degree at Cambridge, and afterwards received his theological training at Wells Theological College, England.

Upon ordination, he served as curate of Pilling, and in 1905 came to Canada to become assistant to the late Rev. J. C. Farthing, rector of Woodstock, Ont., later Bishop of Montreal. The following year he took a teaching position at Trinity College School, Port Hope, where he stayed until his appointment as assistant to Very Rev. J. Norman, Dean of Quebec.

In 1899, Mr. May returned to England. While at St. Nicholas Church, Brighton, he married Mabel Zita Kemp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kemp, of Toronto. He returned to Canada in 1911 becoming rector of Wiarton, Ont., for two years before accepting the charge of St. Andrews East, Que.

Six years later, in 1919, he was appointed rector of St. James Church, Hull, and in 1921 was named Rural Dean of Clarendon, a post he held until he went to Ste. Agathe in 1934. Leaving Hull in 1925, Mr. May was in charge of the Chelsea Missions until 1934.

In the spring of 1934, Mr. May became incumbent of the Parish of Ste. Agathe des Monts, and also chaplain of the Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital there. In June, 1945, the parish debt was erased and the church was consecrated by Bishop John Dixon. At the close of last year, application was made to have the parish recognized as self-suporting, and, upon the approval of the Diocesan Synod, Mr. May was appointed first rector.

Horses Win at Vankleek Hill

Many local horse fanciers showed at the Vankleek Hill horse show and all were successful, returning home with ribbons both in heavy and light horse classes.

"Just Pete", shown by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McGibbon, and "Shirley Peters", shown by the Wm. Hewitts, Brownsburg, returned home with firsts. "Rambling Ace" also won two firsts for the Hewitts, while "Jackie Mack" won a second and a third place for Alwyn Stewart, Brownsburg. In the class for harness horse driven by a lady, Mrs. Gordon MacNeill, Williamstown, Ont., took first with her hackney "Dainty Lassie", Mrs. Geo. MacGibbon was second with "Just Pete" and Mrs. Hewitt third with "Shirley Peters". In the teams of roadsters, Pete and Shirley took the red over the entry of Gordon MacNeil. In the heavy harness division, Cecil Whyte, of St. Jerome, and Gordon MacNeill, Williamstown, split the decisions both ways, but the MacNeill entry won the tandem class with his smooth-going pair.

In the General Purpose class another local exhibitor, Theo. Murdoch, was the winner. Also in the ribbons were the two entries of John Heatlie & Son.

A. T. Cleland, St. Hermas, was top winner in Clydesdales shown on the line and in harness. Gilbert Arnold was also a heavy exhibitor, showing over 100 horses and with his top-quality animals won many ribbons.

The extremely bad weather caused the harness races to be cancelled.

Population of Canada Approaches 14 Million

Ottawa (CP) — Canada's population has topped the 13,850,000 mark.

The Bureau of Statistics has estimated that it reached 13,871,000 at July 1 — the latest date for which figures are available — for a gain of 143,000 over the January 1 total of 13,728,000. At July 1 last year, it was 13,579,000.

The increase in the previous half-year was 149,000, making an estimated gain of 292,000 in the 12 months ended June 30.

In 1941, when the last official census was taken, the population was 11,507,000.

Entry of Newfoundland into Confederation last year accounts for 348,000 of the 10-year gain.

Court Postpones Trial Of Madeleine Parent

Montreal (CP) — Trials of Madeleine Parent, Quebec organizer of the United Textile Workers Union of America (TLC-AFL) and two other workers of the union in connection with a disturbance outside the Hochelaga plant of Dominion Textile Company, September 11, were postponed last Monday.

Miss Parent is charged with inciting to assault in connection with the disturbance arising from the distribution of pamphlets by UTWA workers in connection with a vote September 22 by the company's 5,000 employers to decide union affiliation.

The rival Textile Workers Union of America (CCL-CIO) has charged the UTWA with being Communist dominated.

Two men, Paul Croteau, 22, and William Mozder, 26, charged with assault in the disturbance, also had their trials postponed to September 27. All three are free on bail.

Society's Unique Trip By Rail to Huberdeau

Montreal — The Canadian Railway Historical Association has planned a trip which will appeal to train enthusiasts and lovers of scenery.

On Sunday morning, October 1, a replica of the first Canadian National diesel car to cross the continent, will leave Montreal for Huberdeau. It will stop every 20 miles or so in order that passengers may explore the surrounding countryside and take photos. The car will return early in the evening.

The excursion has been organized by the association in cooperation with the Canadian National Railways to commemorate the 26th anniversary of the record breaking journey of diesel electric car 15820 which travelled from Montreal to Vancouver in 67 hours.

Blood Donor Clinic Date Sept. 28th

Following revised arrangements for the Red Cross mobile blood donor clinic here, the date has been advanced from October 12 to September 28 — next Thursday. Hours of this clinic, to be held in the Auditorium basement. will be from 1.30 to 4.30 p.m., and from 6.30 to 8.30 p.m.

In connection with the Red Cross free blood transfusion service, made possible by voluntary donations at these clinics, it is noted there are now 28 Montreal hospitals where patients may have the benefit of free transfusions, and 12 other institutions to link with the scheme when supplies permit — besides 17 hospitals outside the city, including the Providence Hospital in Lachute.

Convener of the clinic on behalf of the Lachute Red Cross Branch is Mrs. Geo. McGibbon. Secretary for enrolments in Lachute is Miss Janet McOuat (tel. 695), and in Brownsburg, Mrs. Chas. Prosser (tel. 2537).

B'burg Mourns Old Resident

Late Mrs. John Graham

On Friday, September 15, one of Brownsburg's oldest residents passed away, in the person of Emily Ellen Vary, wife of the late John Graham.

Born August 2, 1860, at Louisa, she married the late John Graham in October, 1886. Her husband predeceased her in February, 1948.

The late Mrs. Graham was the last survivor of her family. For over 30 years she had resided in Brownsburg. Her death followed an illness of several months, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Jordan.

The funeral service was held Sunday in the United Church at Brownsburg, the Rev. S. J. Pike officiating. Burial was in Dalesville Cemetery.

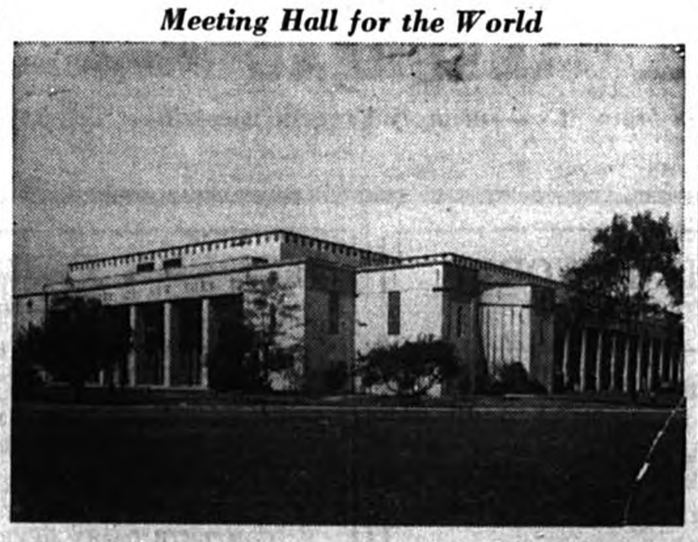
The late Mrs. Graham is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Fred Jordan; her sons, Herbert and Russell, of Brownsburg, George, in Lachute, and Charles, in Niagara Falls; five grandchildren and eight great grandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

Pall-bearers were her nephews, Charles Vary, Charles Prosser, George Hamilton, Grant Kennedy, Leslie and Urbane Tomalty.

Friends and relatives from Montreal, Rosemere and the surrounding district attended to pay their last tribute of esteem.

Much mental ill health in later years could be avoided if parents and teachers attempted to understand the children in their care and trained their minds to cope with the problems they would meet as adults.

Meeting Hall for the World



In this building at Flushing Meadows, New York, representatives of 59 countries are meeting this month as the General Assembly of the United Nations. More than 1,000 delegates, alternates and advisers are representing their countries at the session, the Assembly's fifth, at which almost every world problem will be discussed.

Franciscan Cleric from Egypt to Officiate Sunday

Next Sunday a big rally will take place at the Shrine of Notre Dame de Lourdes, situated on the Brownsburg Road. His Excellency Bishop John of Capistran Cayer, former Provincial of the Franciscan Fathers in Canada, and now Apostolic Vicar of Alexandria, Egypt, will say Mass for the Pilgrims at 10 o'clock.

In the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, His Excellency will bless a statue of Our Lady located in front of the chapel. After this ceremony the gathering will proceed to the top of the hill where, at the foot of the grotto, His Excellency will preach in both languages.

After his sermon, His Excellency will officiate for the benediction of the Holy Sacrament and will also conduct the veneration of Saint Bernadette Soubirous' relic, which is treasured at this shrine.

Everybody is welcome to this sacred observance.

Promiscuous Shooting

There is a law against carrying fire-arms, openly, in Brownsburg. Juveniles are prohibited from carrying or firing weapons of any sort within the municipal area. Some time ago we reported the case of some mischievous boys drilling holes with .22 bullets in water pails provided for fire protection in a dangerous area at the C-I-L proving grounds.

On Sunday last, a .22 rifle bullet smashed through the stained glass rose window of the St. Louis de France Church. This beautiful window depicted a representation of the patron saint of the parish, in leaded lights; it had only been recently installed.

Chief Foucreau, investigating, seized the rifle.

Dangerous Driving

The campaign is now on in Brownsburg to make driving more pleasant for everyone, and the lot of the pedestrian less dangerous.

That it is necessary, may be judged from the fact that recently two taxi drivers were found speeding along the No. 8 Highway between Lachute and Ottawa with the "accelerator to the floor".

Taken to St. Jerome, their licenses were revoked for a period of one year, and a fine of $40 each imposed. This exemplary sentence for the protection of the public was amply justified, yet the following week both were back to make application for return of their licenses. . . We are please to record their application was not granted.

Prowling Dogs

Some people keep chickens to supply their tables with fresh eggs. Other people keep dogs for pleasure or amusement — or, as their neighbors often think, for their nuisance value. Like social distinctions, the two don't mix — as a poultry owner found this week when prowling dogs raided his hen-run and left 15 out of 50 chickens to supply him with eggs. The others lay along the roadside in various stages of incompleteness.

Skating Rink

The committee in charge have been busy on preparations to get this venture underway. It is expected that with the start of building operations, pledged and promised subscriptions will start rolling in so that work can proceed without interruption. Much as we would like to have the structure sufficiently advanced for operation this season, it is not possible to do so. Materials have been placed on order, but with supplies in doubtful stock, delivery will be slow. Funds are slowly mounting from pay-roll subscriptions. Fresh subscriptions would be very welcome and are greatly needed. Now is the acceptable time to help in putting the project over the top. . . Come on. Let's show what we can do!

Education

Most schools in Canada opened with little fanfare last week. Stores featured "back to school specials". Some kids got free books, and some got books they paid for, all from a selected list which gave the title of the textbook followed by the author's name. One — we are not sure whether it was the author's name or a comment: "Modern Chemistry" Dull.

Miss Trouble

We were hoping that Miss Canada would hold together long enough to put Canada's international speed-boat reputation on the map. But no such luck. Everything went wrong — prop, shaft, super-charger, gear-box and what not. One would imagine that the engine which took thousands of bombs to Berlin could take a little speed-boat along the 40 miles of the Harmsworth course. But no. We just read that man and machine takes a greater beating along that 40 miles than the boys took going over Berlin. We still wonder why something didn't happen to justify the name of the winner "Slo-Mo-Shun".

Unfair Rates

Montreal recently paid an American, Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, $2,000 for winning the Canadian Open golf championship. Toronto paid a Canadian, Cliff Lumsden, $5,950 for seven hours' swimming in winning the Lake Ontario Derby. He was followed home by two more Canadian swimmers, while the best home talent could do in the Open was Stan Leonard's fourth place.

"Help"

A few weeks ago a bevy of smart salesgirls visited Lachute and Brownsburg to collect for the blind. They were rather hazy as to authority, but the cause was a worthy one, and very few questions were asked. As the collection was a breach of the law within the municipality of Brownsburg, the police chief required production of written authority and found that the girls had a leader, a gentleman who was also hazy on the number of girls under his charge. He produced a paper which he said was from the Late Cardinal Villeneuve, unsigned, and he informed the chief that it was customary to deduct 50 per cent from the collections for expenses. Owing to the fact that he did not have municipal authority, the amounts as shown in his book as having been collected were returned to the donors in Brownsburg. Amounts under one dollar were not listed.

Cat Raises Alarm in St. Andrews Hotel Fire

St. Andrews East — Around 2.30 a.m. last Saturday the proprietor of St. Andrews Inn, Gaston Dupré, was awakened by the crashing of glass in his establishment. Hurrying to the spot, he found the hostelry's cat in a panic among bottles and glasses, endeavoring to escape from smoke and flames in the bar, where fire had broken out and ignited the walls of the room. Mr. Dupré and other inmates had little difficulty in quelling the blaze, by means of three fire extinguishers, and the damage was slight.

Teachers Guests Of Women's Inst.

The Lachute Women's Institute held its opening meeting for the fall season on Wednesday, September 13, in the Legion Memorial Hall.

The public address by Canada's famous "roving reporter", John Fisher, will be given in the new auditorium of Lachute High School on Thursday evening, October 5; tickets for this event were given to all members to sell, and are being sold at other centres throughout the county. Those who listen to "John Fisher Reports" every Sunday evening over the CBC are looking forward with keen anticipation to hearing and seeing him in person.

The president, Mrs. F. A. Brennian, also announced that there will be a treat in store for all Institute members and their friends at the next regular meeting on October 3, when Miss E. Lorraine How, Director of the Junior Red Cross of the Province of Quebec, will visit Lachute to address the Women's Institute. Mrs. George Muir, convener of Health and Welfare, stated that Miss How would speak on Junior Red Cross work and also describe her official visit to the outposts of Labrador as representative of the Red Cross.

The president called on the two delegates to the W.I. June Convention at Macdonald College, namely, Mrs. R. McOuat and Mrs. A. Taylor, to give reports of this convention. These reports were most interesting and very ably given.. Among several well known lecturers heard at the convention were Dr. Baruch Silverman, Professor Steppler, Mrs. Morton, Miss Hayward, Kate Aitken, and Mr. Dunsmore.

At the close of the business meeting a social hour was held around the fireside, during which the members entertained the staff of Lachute High School. Mrs. Brennian greeted all the teachers and teachers' wives, tea was served by the social committee, and members of the staff who are new to Lachute were made especially welcome.

Duck Shooting Now Permitted in Area Of This County Specified "Central District"

The official summary of 1950 Game Laws for the Province of Quebec is now available to hunters through game wardens and license vendors. The Minister of Game and Fisheries, Hon. C. E. Pouliot, M.D., urges all sportsmen to obey the principles of conservation by keeping within daily bag and possession limits. Restrictions are imposed, not to deprive the sportsmen of freedom of action, but that each sportsman may enjoy his legal share.

The 1950 summary contains maps showing deer and migratory bird hunting districts, and lists the persons in each county who are authorized to issue transport permits for deer — those authorized for this purpose in Argenteuil being Game Wardens Leslie Bates, Fernando Lamarche (Lachute), and Gordon Cook (Arundel).

Moose hunting is permittedt throughout the province, except in parks and fish and game reserves, from October 15 to 31, inclusive.

Except in the counties of Vaudreuil - Soulanges, where deer hunting is prohibited throughout the year, deer hunting dates (as they affect this region) are as follows: Zone C, September 25 to November 24.

Deer hunting license fees are as follows: Residents, hunting in general except moose and fur-bearing animals, $1.10; non-resident, $30.50; non-resident club members, $20.50.

Hunting of red foxes and bears is permitted the year round except in fish and game reserves.

Bird hunting seasons are as follows: Partridge, September 23 to November 20, throughout the province.

For duck hunting in the two districts within this area, the following dates are specified:

Central district: September 16 to November 9.

Southern district: October 14 to December 1.

Bag limits per day, are — ducks, 7; partridge, 5.

(Consulted on the zone definitions for duck hunting, Game Warden Leslie Bates recommends all hunters to consult the handbook, since this county embraces two distinct areas, Central district and Southern district, in which the dates are different.)

Leslie Bates draws attention to a clause concerning firearms which is apparently not listed in the handbook of regulations — namely, that it is unlawful to carry a loaded gun or rifle in an automobile. The regulation concerning transport of deer is also important — requiring that a cancellation be marked on the hunter's license when the official shipping tag is given out.

Mr. Bates voices the sentiment of his fellow wardens in this county, and of all good sporting hunters, in urging respect for the law and conservation of game resources.

Non-Alcoholics Mark Anniversary

The first anniversary of the "Cercle Lacordaire and Stè. Jeanne D'Arc", non-alcoholic organization in this community, was celebrated by the society Tuesday evening at the Auditorium, with about 700 persons in attendance.

The local president, Donat Daigneault, opened the proceedings and welcomed the gathering. There were delegates present from Montreal, St. Hermas, St. Jerome, St. Andrews East, Brownsburg, Ripon, St. André Avelin, Papineauville and Hawkesbury — accompanied in each case by a member of the Catholic clergy. The Rev. Father W. Lacourse and the Rev. J. P. Savage were present from this parish.

Principal speaker was the president of the parent association, Roger Ellyson, of Nicolet, Que. . . Introduced by J. G. Lamontagne and thanked by Félicien Lamarche, ex-president of the local group, Mr. Ellyson's address was well received by the audience. The program of entertainment featured Mme Pinchaud, violinist, Guy Rouleau, bass soloist who has appeared with "Singing Stars" of Toronto, and a pianist — all from Montreal.

This local non-alcoholic organization, Branch 583 of "Le Cercle Lacordaire et Ste. Jeanne D'Arc" now has 275 members.

A Useful Service to Local Organizations

Lachute Chamber of Commerce is providing a useful service for district groups and clubs, in keeping a record of dates reserved for local functions. To avoid duplication, therefore, club committees may call the C. of C. secretary to learn if other events are billed in Lachute or Brownsburg for a certain day. Such committees can also co-operate by notifying the Chamber when setting dates for their public functions.

The C. of C. secretary, André Lefebvre, may be contacted by phone at No. 76, or at his residence, No. 367-M.

Pastor at Harrington Feted by Sunday School

(Our District Correspondent)

Bell Falls — Mr. Colin West, B.A., student pastor of the Harrington United Church during the past six months, and who ended his work here on Sunday last, was feted by the Sunday School at a supper held in the Orange Hall on Saturday evening.

Some 79 persons were present. An address of welcome was given by Dougal Page, superintendent of the Sunday School, in which he also thanked Mr. West on behalf of the young people for his helpfulness this past season.

Master Harvey Bates and Miss Heather Bates presented Mr. West with a handsome electric lamp on behalf of the Sunday School, as a gift in honor of his approaching marriage. The recipient thanked the children and those present for their kindness.

Presentations were then made by the teachers of the Sunday School to the pupils of the various classes. . . Motion pictures were also shown, which brought the evening to a pleasant conclusion.

Those from a distance who attended were — Mr. and Mrs. West, Sr., of Montreal, Mrs. J. C. Chalmers, of Smiths Falls, Miss Jessie MacCallum and Miss M. J. Stewart, both of Montreal.

M.L.A. and Warden Conclude Meetings

Report on Tuesday's Assembly at Brownsburg

The itinerary of annual visitations arranged by Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., and Mr. Gaston Munich, County Warden, took in the Village of Brownsburg on Tuesday, and concluded last evening with the final meeting at Chatham municipal hall.

At the Social Club in Brownsburg there was a representative gathering of councillors and taxpayers, with Mayor Jas. Donaldson as chairman.

Mr. Munich spoke on measures throughout the county municipalities, to effect some uniformity in property valuation.

Reference was made during the meeting to the Protestant school extension now in progress, for which Mr. Cottingham had been successful in procuring a provincial grant. Questioned on fulfilment of the $13,000 project in local street-paving, Mr. Cottingham inferred that it was too late to complete the work this season, but he hoped to have the necessary appropriation to see it through next year. The Lake Louisa road, and the slow progress on Route 31, was also discussed; Mr. Cottingham intimated that personal letters from constituents in areas hampered by such delays, were an effective instrument in his approaches to the department. Mr. Cottingham cited an opinion in The Lachute Watchman, which he had clipped and brought to the Minister's attention. . . With continued effort, and the weight of such opinions, he hoped for more rapid progress on this particular road under the next budget allotment for highways.

Lifetime in Community, Reaches 89th Birthday

Born at Geneva, Que., on September 23, 1861, Mrs. Annie (Buchan) McGibbon, who lived the greater part of her life in Brownsburg and the last 20 years in Lachute, will celebrate her birthday on Saturday next.

Mrs. McGibbon still enjoys good health and is proud of the fact that she can still read without her spectacles.

Her friends, both young and old, wish her many more years of continued good health and happiness.

Electrified Quebec

The people of Quebec Province use more electricity per person than any other people in the world. In the past half century we people of Quebec have started using electricity for so many purposes that now we have come to take for granted the fact that it is always waiting to work for us when we want it. Few of us stop to think of the vast amount of money necessary to build the power stations, the lines and the transformers which make it possible to use electricity. Gatineau Power, for instance, has nearly $150,000,000 invested in the job of producing and distributing electricity to its customers.

* * *

Train-Washing Machines

Many housewives in the Gatineau area tackle a big pile of washing with their electric washing machines each week, but few of them would like the thought of washing one of the 300-ton locomotives which pull Canada's trans-continental trains. But there is a washing machine even for that. Electrically operated, it has 14 different rotating brushes, and scrubs a locomotive spotless in 15 minutes — as compared with the three hours the job used to take.

* * *

A Lot of Energy

It would take two men, working 50 minutes out of each hour, to create the energy which the average electric light bulb burns in that hour. It would take 50 men to create the energy which the average electric range burns each hour.

* * *

Regulating a River

The storage dams on the Gatineau River do more than help in the production of electricity. They regulate the flow of the river so that everybody living near it benefits. Once the Gatineau was a raging torrent flowing at more than 70,000 cubic feet per second in the spring — then dropping to a trickle of 2,000 feet per second in the winter. Thanks to the mighty storage dams built by Gatineau Power far up the river, today the flow remains almost constant at 10,000 feet per second throughout the year.

Electrified Farms

A few years ago, the average farm customer served by Gatineau Power used 370 kilowatt hours of electricity per month — today the average farm use is almost three times that amount. In addition, the number of farm customers has increased more than three-fold in the same period. It all adds up to an impressive advance in electric living on the farm. The average mile of farm circuit serves 5 or 6 farm customers, and costs close to $3,000.00 to install.

How Soil Erosion Lowers Crop Yields

How yields and soil and water losses are influenced by manuring, crop rotation, contour cover cropping and contour strip cropping has been investigated for four years at the Central Experimental Station, Ottawa. With a clay soil and on 5 and 10 per cent slopes, some very interesting results have been obtained.

The need for erosion control measures has varied considerably from year to year. For instance, on corn plots in a rotation on a 10 per cent slope, with cultivation up and down the slope, the amount of soil removed per acre by erosion was 7.70 tons in 1945, 45.29 tons in 1946, 0.87 tons in 1947 and 0.57 tons in 1948.

Since these experiments have been in progress only a few years the different cropping practices established for erosion control have had no pronounced effect on the yield of the crops. However, the effect of erosion is shown by a comparison of the yields from a rotation of corn, oats, alfalfa, on plots located on the 10 per cent slope and on a level area above the slope. For the last three-year period, the average yields per acre on the level area were 12.73 tons of corn, 59.7 bushels of oats and 3.94 tons of alfalfa, while on the slope the yields were 7.7 tons of corn, 41.2 bushels of oats and 3.92 tons of alfalfa. Thus, although there was no real difference in alfalfa yields, corn and oat yields were considerably less on the slope.

Another test was run to find what happened to yields when surface soil was removed by erosion, from a loam field. The average yield per acre for nine crops of barley was 28.5 bushels on normal soil, 22.5 bushels where three inches of soil was removed, 12.2 bushels where all but one inch of surface was removed, and 3.4 bushels where all the surface soil was removed.

Alfalfa over a three year period produced an average yield of 2.79 tons per acre on the normal soil, 2.39 tons when three inches of soil was removed, 1.94 tons where all but one inch was removed and 1.44 tons where all the surface soil was gone.

This shows that alfalfa, where it is adapted, provides good cover and produces relatively better yields than grain crops on eroded soils. A further test showed that fertilizers gave profitable returns, regardless of the field's state of erosion.

High Quality Milk

Ottawa — Best quality dairy products come only from high quality milk. High quality milk comes only from proper treatment of the dairy herd and care of the milk utensils.

Feeding and management of the dairy cow with emphasis on sanitation are essentials in maintaining healthy animals. Well lighted and ventilated barns with a constant supply of clean water are of prime importance. Controlling flies through regular spraying prevents one source of contamination. The best quality milk is obtained through the use of well-tinned or stainless steel utensils, free from crevices and easy to clean.

A dairy cleaner (powder) and brush give the best results in cleaning as they cut the dirt and milk film. It is preferable to use a sterilizing solution on the utensils before milking but, if this is not done they should be scalded after washing and left inverted in the sun to dry. Utensils should be protected from dirt and insects.

An important step in keeping the cows clean is to clip the udders and hind quarters. Just before milking wipe the udder of each cow with a clean cloth dipped in a chemical sterilizing solution. At the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa a separate cloth is used for each cow and it has been found that this reduces the bacterial count and spread of disease.

To maintain flavor and keeping quality, milk should be cooled to 50 degrees, or even lower. This can be done by immersing the cans in cold water, cooled by ice or by a cooling unit.

FARM FOLK HARVEST SASKATOON BERRIES

Dauphin, Man. (CP) — "Let's go pick Saskatoons", is a frequently-heard injunction in western rural households during summer months.

The luscious western berries, as large and blue as wild grapes, ripen in profusion on bushes that grow just a little higher than the average head.

Country folk pick the Saskatoons into 10-pound honey pails, dumping them into larger buckets as the pails fill. In farm homes, they are canned for later use, made into juicy pies or prepared for city markets, where they compete with their first cousin, the blueberry.

Aerial Seeding In New Zealand

Auckland, N.Z. (CP) — Aerial farming has become a recognized part of New Zealand farm practice and the country is on the verge of much larger developments under which aircraft will play a major role in boosting output from the land.

Use of aircraft on New Zealand farms has been directed chiefly to the spreading of fertilizers and grass seed. New Zealand is a mountainous country and a large part of the pasture land is steep. Under the intensive farming methods used in the Dominion fertilizers are spread regularly to maintain the productivity of grazing land, but the spreading of lime, superphosphate, basic slag and other aids to pasture growth has been a major problem in large areas of hill country. As a result the high country farms have carried far fewer stock that those of the more accessible lowlands. In addition paucity of pasture growth has led to extensive erosion in some hilly areas.

Since 1948 the problem has been tackled on a large scale by experiments in aerial fertilizing and sowing. The New Zealand air force has worked on the task in conjunction with the soil conservation and rivers control council, farmers' organizations, fertilizer manufacturers, and the government.

Seed Bombs

The first experiments were made with aircraft fitted with special hoppers carried in the bomb bays and each holding a ton. One hopper was filled on the ground while the aircraft was aloft spreading the load from another. The aircraft were manned by a pilot and "bomb aimer", who was guided either by marks on the ground or by walkie-talkie radio. In many cases grass seed was mixed with the fertilizer and sown at the same time.

Experiments were conducted mostly on hills too rugged for the use of ground fertilizer spreading machines. In the past it was necessary to spread by hand — a long laborious job involving carting of bagged fertilizer by sledge or packhorse over rough country even before the spreading started.

The tests proved conclusively that earial top dressing was quite as successful as hand spreading.

Chimney Sweeping

Notice is given to the public of Lachute that annual cleaning of chimneys is required by municipal by-law, and that the town employees are now making their rounds for this purpose, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily. Property-holders kindly arrange for such direction as may be required when the cleaners call.

The Economy of Using the Best

The economy of using the best possible materials is made apparent in the upkeep problem. A house or business building may be "thrown together" with cheap material, and it may "look all right," but after it has stood the shock of weather, the real test comes.

It is false economy to use poor materials — and we so advise everyone who buys from us. Our success is due to honesty in materials and prices.

Montreal's First Drive-In Bank

The Bank of Montreal will shortly erect Montreal's first drive-in bank. Cashing cheques or making deposits will be a simple, speedy matter for customers at the bank which will be located on Decarie Boulevard at the corner of Cote Ste. Catherine Road. A broad driveway will carry customers up to the drive-in bullet-proof wicket. A second feature of this branch is the spacious parking lot at the rear to accommodate customers who have more lengthy business to transact inside. This is the second drive-in branch to be opened by the Bank of Montreal. The first began operation last June in Vancouver — the first bank of its kind in Canada.

The Delights of Fall

THOSE WHO mourn the passing summer should take heart. They need reminding that the season we now are entering has its attractions, too.

Autumn has a quality all its own. It is made up in part of subtle ingredients: the smell of wood smoke and burning leaves; the softened outlines of familiar scenes across haze-filled valleys; crisp nights that stir the blood with the feeling of frost in the air.

True, the fall lacks summer's blaze of flowers. But here and there some sturdy survivor of the first frosts delights the eye in the garden. And where the flowers leave off, the trees begin. Witness the glory of the maple and sumac in the autumn.

Autumn time is harvest time. When the crops are in, farm folk feel a glow and sense of lightened responsibility that more than makes up for the loss of the summer's warmth. But before that happy ending is attained, there's a period of toil in the fields that taxes the stoutest muscles.

Perhaps it was that sense of accomplishment that led to the ancients' pagan rites at harvest time. The farmer, in garnering a good crop, has beaten many enemies — insects, windstorms, hail, frost, as well as his own natural inclination to take it easy.

Looking forward to Thanksgiving is one of the delights of autumn. That is the time for children's parties and barn dances. The sound of old-time fiddling and young folks' laughter is good to hear when the hard work's done.

Then the farmer, surveying the fruits of his labors, can say with Keats:

"Season of mists and mellow fruitfulness,
Close bosom-friend of the maturing sun;
Conspiring with him how to load and bless
With fruit . . . "

Progress Is Down, Not Up

IN THE RECENT rail strike one union leader is quoted as saying that the companies were unwilling to permit their workers to participate in the higher revenues which would flow from Canada's increased industrial prosperity.

That sort of thing sounds fine. It is right that every Canadian should be better off as a the nation as a whole develops. But there is a major falacy in the idea that constantly rising wages in one industry, no matter how large or how important, benefit the nation as a whole, or that any one industry has a prior right to tap our national wealth.

Canada and Canadians will enjoy greater prosperity in the world as our techniques and resources permit us to lower real prices, to produce and deliver goods and services for a constantly lower expenditure of manpower.

From 1890 to 1947 statisticians and economists tell us that the share of the manufacturer's dollar in this country absorbed by direct wages and salaries varied hardly at all. It was 21.3% in 1890 and 20.7% in 1947.

And as a matter of fact the percentage share of the dollar going to "direct labor" was at a low of 19.9% in 1927 and at a high of 23.9% in 1932 in the depths of the depression. In other words when prices were falling, the employees got a larger share of the total dollar sales of their employers. Moreover the wages they received bought more.

Some day perhaps we will realize that we as individuals and as a nation make more progress by reducing prices by more efficient production methods and wider markets, than by constantly raising them.

There Ought to Be a Law

A SPORT WRITER in a city daily recently began his column: "Fishermen and tourists agree that legislation is long overdue which will direct boat liveries and resorts to keep their boats clean . . under penalty of a fine".

Oh, brother! Grow up!

This is not a socialist state in which the government runs or regulates everything. Nor do we want it to be.

If there are to be laws telling people to keep their boats clean, there will be laws telling taxicab operators to sweep out the back of their cabs, telling home owners that they must cut their lawns once a week and plant certain types of flowers.

Certainly marine or road taxis should be kept clean but the obvious answer to the operator of a dingy carriage is not to hire it.

This is a free country and one of the privileges of this freedom is to do a job badly if you so wish.

A minimum of legislation and a maximum of education should be the objective of any democracy. And generally speaking, you cannot legislate people into doing something which they do not want to do in the first place.

Just as soon as our legislators learn that elementary lesson of human nature, just so soon will our governments offer truer representation of the views of the majority of the electors. . . You cannot go to Heaven on a law.

IN ALL fairness, it should be pointed out, with similar prominence to that afforded reports of increased living costs, that the percentage of wage increases has advanced, and continues to advance, more rapidly than the cost of living percentages increase — says "Industry", the bulletin of the Canadian Manufacturers Association".

If the price of a roast or the cost of Junior's shoes are "murder" compared with pre-war prices and these items are construed as newsworthy — then the thickness of Pa's pay envelope today compared with his wage in 1939 is newsworthy, too!

IT HAS been wisely stated that the wealth and health of this world lies in the top six inches of the surface. Conservation of this top six inches is a problem of maximum importance to every nation in order that its people and their posterity may be well nourished or even survive — remarks the Campbellton (N.B.) Tribune.

COUNTRY TOWN: a place where, when you meet a friend crossing the street, you don't have to scurry for the sidewalk to complete your chat.

THE WEEKLIES SAY..

ACCIDENT-PRONE

Those who repeat and repeat on traffic violations are the cause of most accidents. It means they are unstable in their driving habits, ignore the usual safety driving precautions, or are just plain killers at the wheel who don't care what happens.

— Elmira (Ont.) Signet

QUESTIONABLE ARRESTS

Police at Val d'Or arrested three more Baptist evangelists for so-called obstructing traffic. Police in too many towns are inclined to ignore lotteries and other forms of gambling and vice flourishing under their noses, while pushing a form of Communistic persecution on people trained to the ideas of a democratic country.

— Granby Leader-Mail

THE GOLDEN RULE

We do not feel that any thinking person in this country wants to see state control of medicine. At the same time, sound policies must be adopted whereby the greatest amount of good must be provided for the greatest number of people.

— Campbellton (N.B.) Tribune

DON'T WANT CHARITY

If we are to have a national old age pension scheme, it should be removed entirely from the category of charity. Taxation through payroll levies should not be misnamed "contributions".

— Kamloops (B.C.) Sentinel

PLEA FOR WATER SAFETY

In any community where facilities are available it is sound business to promote swimming and water safety tests. There are countless residents of this town and area who have never had the opportunity of knowing how to swim or have any knowledge of water safety.

— Hanna (Alta.) Herald

TOURISTS' MEDAL?

We must regretfully inform those hardy American holidayers who have braved all previous obstacles that we still want them, but they have to bring their own gasoline if they want to be sure of getting home. It would be in order for the Canadian government to strike a medal for those travellers who eventually reached northern Manitoba in the year 1950.

Giving the Bride Away

(Toronto Telegram)

Emancipation of women at the sacrifice of custom, has taken a somewhat aggressive turn with the announcement of the minister of the Free Christian Church in Doncaster, England, that hereafter there will be no "giving the bride away" so far as he is concerned.

Women in general and brides in particular will no doubt subscribe to the minister's pronouncement that women are not like cattle to be given away. It is, however, scarcely an apt simile since people who possess cows rarely give them away, not when milk is likely to fetch twenty cents a quart.

The custom of giving the bride away is a relic of the time when the father not so much parted with his daughter as a gift but actually sold her, probably for cattle. The abolition of this quaint practice has admittedly deprived the modern ceremony of its intrinsic meaning and robbed the father of some return for the expenses a wedding involves. As The Owen Sound Daily Sun-Times cynically observes: "Come wedding day, daughter is normally all father has left to give".

But to ban giving the bride away suggests that the next logical step in freeing women from barbaric traditions is the "coming out" party, a ritual which debutantes and their mothers appear to regard as of vital importance and an indispensable preliminary to marriage. This custom derives from the taboo practices of savages who imprison their maidens in a hut until they "come out" to be married. The event is the occasion for considerable celebration, but to celebrate at a special party, the emergence of a modern damsel who has known no confinement since release from the perambulator must seem to the father to have much less meaning than the comparatively real process of giving her away.

Morin Man Takes Bride, Ceremony in Vermont

Davis - Mace

On September 9 at Ferrisburg Community Methodist Church, Ferrisburg, Vermont, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Martha Field Mace, daughter of the late H. Seward Mace and of Mrs. Mace, of Ferrisburg, to Mr. Baird Spence Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Davis, of Montreal and Morin Heights. The Rev. William Ingham officiated. Mrs. John Carpenter, of St. Albans, Vt., played traditional music and Miss Margaret Hurley, of St. Albans, was soloist at the ceremony and at the reception. Native evergreens, baskets of white gladioli and asters were the decorations, with a Canadian and an American flag at the front of the church.

Maid of honor was Miss Margaret MacKinnon, of Toronto, and other attendants were Mrs. George Clouston, of Montreal, and Miss Margaret Hurley, of St. Albans.

Best man was Mr. Eric Bennett, of Montreal. Ushers were Messrs. William Mace, of Ferrisburg, brother of the bride, E. Leslie McCarty, of Montreal, and Norman Vallieres, of Cornwall, Ont. Mr. Sam V. Mace gave his sister away.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with high-necked buttoned bodice, sleeves of lace, and modified train. Her long veil of tulle and lace had been worn by her maternal grandmother and her mother. She carried a bouquet of white roses and swansonia. All three attendants wore full-length gowns of forest green moire taffeta, and carried colonial bouquets of Pinocchio roses with matching tiaras of roses in their hair.

A reception was held following the ceremony, on the lawn at the home of the bride's mother. The couple left for Cape Cod, Mass., for their honeymoon. They will reside in Cornwall, Ont.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bickerdike, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nesbitt, Messrs. Gordon and Keith Nesbitt, Morin Heights; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Brown, of St. Donat; Dr. and Mrs. B. C. MacLean, Miss Jean MacLean, of Rochester, N.Y.; Mrs. J. H. Davis, Miss Margaret Davis, Mrs. Thos. Buxton, Mrs. Alan Buxton, the Rev. C. R. Wood and Mrs. Wood, Miss Doris Watchorn, all of Morin Heights; Lt. Commander F. Jones, of Aylmer, Que., and many others from Montreal.

Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of McGill University.

GETS IN THE BLOOD

You have heard of the call of the sea, or the prairies, and most people know the feeling of some call or other. Now we have brushed up to within a few feet of this oil-pipe laying business, we know there is a drag there too — and we can easily understand that after even a few months anyone continuously exposed must have a bit of oil in his blood.

A Weekly Feature of Helpful Hints for Child Training, etc,

Helps to Obedience

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"It is almost bed-time, Helen and John. Better start putting away your toys", mother calls to her small daughter and son.

"Mummy, do we have to go to bed now?" John questions.

"Do let us stay up a little longer! We are having such fun!" Helen pleads.

It is hard for a mother to close her ears to these pleas, but bed-time is bed-time and she has asked her youngsters to start to get ready for the end of their day. What is she to do about this difficult problem of trying to have a happy bed-time? How is she to get the co-operation of her son and daughter in going to bed willingly?

One practical technique many mothers employ is using the clock as their friend.

"Go and look at the grandfather clock and see if it says bed-time is here!"

Somehow, as soon as a child can read the time, he finds it easier to follow the impersonal directions of the hands of the clock pointing to bed time than give in to his mother's direct command.

Most modern parents agree that in thinking of obedience they must keep in mind training a child to grow into a self-disciplined adult. The little child needs a good deal of definite direction from mother and father. But as the years pass, a boy or girl should become increasingly responsible for his or her actions. The over-strict parent who has been a dictator at home, demanding instant, unquestioning obedience is not training a child to stand on his own feet and make his own decisions as a grown-up. On the other hand, the too-indulgent parent who lets a child do as he likes or gives an order and does not see that it is carried out, also fails his child in preparing him for a world where there are certain things he must do and certain obligations he must carry out. What are some practical suggestions to parents struggling with the problem of avoiding conflict and establishing the habit of obedience?

It is strange how often imperfect fathers and mothers expect perfect obedience all the time from their child! This is setting too high a standard for any healthy, normal youngster with a will of his own. Of course he won't want to "mind" every time mother or daddy speaks to him! Sometimes his failure to obey is partly his parent's fault because the directions given to him were too complicated for a little child to follow. At another time he is absorbed in his play and mother does not make sure that he heard and understands her command. It is little wonder that he does not do what he is told!

There is always a reason (although sometimes it is hard to find!) for contrariness. Disobedience may be a bid for attention from a child who longs for a little more loving or more interest in his small affairs on the part of the mother or dad. Every healthy pre-school child passes through a "negative" stage when he wants to say "No! No!" to almost every suggestion. There are several good rules for parents to follow in coping with disobedience at this or any other time when a boy or girl refuses to comply with a parent's request.

In making it easy for a child to obey, parents should agree on the minimum essential things to which the child must conform in his daily routine. Never let Junior set one parent's word over against the other parent's wishes, in order to get his own way! Mother's request should never be disputed or questioned by father, and vice versa. Never give a command unless you are in a position to see to it that your child carries it out. Give as few orders as possible, mean each command you give, and expect obedience from your child. Tact and courtesy are as important in dealing with a child as in any relationship.

Never shout or whine at a child in order to frighten him or arouse his sympathy to get obedience. Last, but not least, put yourself in your child's place when you give an order. Is it a reasonable request?

Is this command consistent with the "rules" which he had to obey yesterday? A normal child is reasonable, and will usually respond to sensible orders, which he knows he must carry out. Mother and father should see the habit of obedience as a necessary part of character training, but parents should not expect never to be opposed.

SONGSTRESS Juliette is looking forward to another busy season at CBC Vancouver. This past summer she was featured vocalist on a number of national network programs including Current and Choice, Summer Romance and Burns Chuckwagon. She also made a guest appearance on CBC Startime. When the fall and winter musical programs are arranged by CBC, Juliette is certain to be in the spotlight in more than one of them.

"John Fisher" Ranks as Canadian Institution

All Canada knows John Fisher, and John Fisher knows all Canada. Through his national CBC broadcast "John Fisher Reports" in addition to several Dominion-wide sponsored series, hundreds of thousands of listeners recognize his voice and distinctive style. He receives over 2,500 requests annually to appear as guest speaker at conventions, service and study clubs in Canada and the United States. . He will be heard here in Lachute in a program sponsored by the Women's Institute on October 5, as advertised in this issue.

Gathering material for his broadcasts has taken "this wandering observer and story teller" from the isolated Magdalen Islands on the Atlantic seaboard to the equally distant Queen Charlotte Islands on the Pacific coast; from the bush-plane-lands of the far North, to south of the Mason-Dixon. He has logged over 137,000 miles in Canada alone seeking stories as varied as agricultural fairs to the Quebec Conference of the Allied leaders.

Nor is his compass restricted only to Canada. John Fisher has made extensive tours to Europe. In the United States there is an increasing demand for his broadcasts and personal appearances. His knowledge of French which he acquired at the University of Western Ontario Summer School, Trois Pistoles, Que., enables him to interpret the Jean Baptiste to Johnny Canuck. Wherever he travels he brings an outstanding blend of dispassionate observation warmed by keen understanding.

In his travels Mr. Fisher has been given honorary citizenships in many Canadian communities; spoken to hundreds of schools, to universities, to church congregations and industrial gatherings, and from the floor of provincial legislatures. International grain trading once was suspended to allow John Fisher to address the Winnipeg Grain Exchange members on behalf of a charitable drive. . . John Fisher's career is Canada, her way of life, her relationship in the world. He has become a Canadian institution.

Nearly extinct a few years ago, Canada now has 1,000 trumpeter swans.

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man."

Wonder how many follow this practice? I can't help thinking there would be a marked improvement in man's dealing with man if we all did. It would be equally hard to imagine people of this calibre living in houses that were not attractively landscaped. A few well chosen and artfully placed shrubs will work wonders in transforming the appearance of your property. Right now is the time to transplant them.

Wipe Your Feet

I suppose it is only human nature to put off until tomorrow what you don't feel like doing today! One job I have been avoiding in my own back yard must be done at once, if for no other reason than to keep the housekeeper happy. Invariably dirt tracks into the kitchen on my shoes after a session in the garden, even though I try to be careful. A shoe scraper at the back door is the answer and it will have to be installed before a visit to a marital relations board is involved. I plan to make mine out of an old hoe blade.

Indoor Gardening

Now that the thoughts of the gardener will soon be turning indoors, here are two ideas I'm working on. My picture windows do frame a picture in summer while the garden is in bloom but present a dreary sight at times during the garden's off season. By making a large fernery, I'll be able to enjoy an indoor garden all winter this year. The other ideas is one I dug out of a magazine recently. If you enjoy making miniature dish gardens try the idea illustrated for your container.

Record Cabinet

If you have an old piano that has finished its period of usefulness, don't scrap it but make a cabinet for records or books out of the frame. By using the old wood and giving it a new finish you'll be surprised at the attractive case that can be made at reasonable cost.

Wedding Solemnized at At Louisa Church

Sutton - Creswell

In St. Aiden's Church, Louisa, Que., on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, the marriage was solemnized of Eileen Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Creswell, of Louisa, and Mr. Howard Leslie Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sutton, of St. Emedee, Que. The Rev. C. W. P. Baugh officiated at the ceremony, and Mrs. Baugh played the wedding music.

Miss Ethel Golden, the bride's cousin, of Brownsburg, Que., was maid of honor and Miss Mildred Creswell, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Horace Creswell, and ushers were Messrs. Tolbert Gauley and Carmen Sutton.

Mr. Creswell gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a white sheer gown with embroidered yoke and full skirt, and matching embroidered fingertip veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of deep pink gladioli buds.

The maid of honor wore a gown of maize nylon marquisette over taffeta, with matching headdress, and carried a bouquet of deep violet gladioli buds.

The bridesmaid wore a dress of mauve sheer with matching bandeau and veil, and carried a bouquet of variegated gladioli.

The reception followed the ceremony, in Louisa Hall, where fall flowers and streamers composed the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton left for their wedding trip by motor, the bride travelling in an aqua gabardine suit with black accessories. Upon their return they will reside in St. Emedee.

In Britain today, officially a home is an "accommodation unit".

Pretty Wedding Ceremony At St. Giles, Grenville

MacLean - Gaudry

A very pretty wedding was held on Saturday, September 9, at four o'clock, in St. Giles Presbyterian Church, Grenville, when Winona Clara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gaudry, was united in marriage to Mr. Nolin Wendel MacLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. David MacLean, of Bell Falls.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. D. W. Ellis, Pentecostal minister of Harrington, assisted by the Rev. Geo. Olley, Baptist minister, of Ottawa. Mrs. Russell Owens, organist of St. Matthew's Anglican Church, played the Wedding March. The church was tastefully decorated with baskets of gladioli and other late flowers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and attended by Miss Vivian Hoare as maid of honor, Miss Iris MacLean and Mrs. Stuart Owens, sisters of the groom, as bridesmaids; also little Dian MacLean, niece of the groom, and little Judy Lyon, of Ottawa, cousin of the bride.

Mr. Frederick Gaudry, of Syracuse, N.Y., brother of the bride, was best man, while Mr. Stuart Owens, of Brosseau Station, and Mr. Wyman MacLean, brother of the groom, acted as ushers.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin with tight-fitting bodice, and long sleeves tapering to points over the hands. The shoulder-length collar was beautifully embroidered and appliquéd with inserts of net and tiny sequins. A long net embroidered veil was gracefully draped from a net halo with carnations on either side. She carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The maid of honor was gowned in green taffeta and wore a halo of silk net with ribbon and bow of taffeta in matching color and streamers which hung to the waist. . . . Miss Iris MacLean, bridesmaid, wore yellow sheer crepe with a headdress of silk net and ribbon trim and bow in matching color. . . Mrs. Owens, bridesmaid, was in mauve nylon and headdress to match in silk net with ribbon trim and bow. The attendants all carried hand bouquets of gladioli in colors to match their gowns.

The little flower girls were in pink and blue floor-length organdy dresses, trimmed with lace, and with ribbon hairbands to match their dresses.

Mrs. Victor Gaudry, mother of the bride, was dressed in coral crepe, with a black hat and accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. David MacLean, mother of the groom, wore a dress of black flowered silk, with grey hat and accessories to match, and a corsage of pink roses.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

For travelling, the bride wore a beige gabardine suit and a copper-colored velvet hat with feather pom-pom, and brown accessories. Mr. and Mrs. MacLean left for Toronto and Niagara Falls. They will make their home in Ottawa on their return.

Psychology Needed By Sideshow Barker

Calgary (CP) — Phychology is the chief requirement of a successful sideshow barker, says Ken (Duke) Wilson, chief salesman of one of the leading performances in the Royal American shows this year.

"And if you add suspense, you have the right combination. If I find the crowds indifferent, I add a little suspense. I call out the girls and keep the best towards the last. When I see interest appear, I spring the best I've got."

Where does psychology come in? . . . Well, a barker has to judge his crowd. If they are mostly elderly people "you sell them on the beauty of the show and the elaborate costumes". If they are mostly young men, sell them on the girls.

"If they are fathers and mothers, then you have to be really careful."

"A sideshow announcer must be careful not to use too perfect English", says Dude, who runs a school for barkers in the winter at Tampa, Fla. "Talk smoothly and naturally, because the customers will resent it if you appear smarter than they are.

"The days of the leather-lunged seller are gone", he says. "Today is the day of the microphone".

As a "thank you" for 75 million food parcels, Britain will build modern accommodation for its Commonwealth and U.S.A. students.

IF YOU NEED PERSONAL LOAN THINK OF "MY BANK" FIRST

B of M Personal Loans Cost ½ of 1 Per Cent a Month

There are times of emergency or sudden opportunity when you need cash in a particular hurry. And you may find that paying cash for a big job or purchase is much more convenient and economical than buying by bits and pieces. Your best plan then is to pay a call on Donald Hay, manager of the Bank of Montreal in Lachute, and talk to him about a personal loan.

These B of B Personal Loans are low-cost — 6 per cent per annum, and you pay interest only on what you still owe. If you borrow $100, and repay over a year in monthly instalments, it will cost you just 27 cents a month. The interest on other amounts is in proportion.

If you have a regular income and are in a position to repay, there is money for you at the B of M. Mr. Hay will always be happy to talk over any financial problems you may have — in complete confidence, of course. Lending money is his business, and he deals with all comers according to the bank's guiding principle: "When you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favor."

New Handicraft Expert For Quebec W. Inst.

The resignation of Miss E. M. Birch as Handicraft Technician for the Quebec Women's Institutes has just been announced. She has accepted a position as handicraft instructor in the Government Hospital at Nanaimo, in her native province of British Columbia, and is leaving for that place at the end of this month. Under her capable direction this service offered by the Q.W.I. has grown rapidly and her departure is keenly regretted by all who have had the privilege of working with her.

Miss Ida Bruneau, of Westmount, has been appointed to fill this vacancy on the Q.W.I. staff and will take over Miss Birch's schedule immediately so there will be no break in the work. Those branches having courses booked in the various handicrafts will still be served on the dates assigned to them.

Miss Bruneau is a graduate of this year's class in handicrafts at Macdonald College and comes highly recommended for this important position.

VALUE
SALES

A Big, impressive, powerful car — with generous room for six . . . Canadian engineered for Canadian conditions and for economical operation — all this at a price that's far, far lower than the cost of any comparable car!

With value like Chevrolet's it's no wonder that in a recent impartial survey among thousands of motorists from coast to coast, Chevrolet proved to be in greater popular demand than any other car.

More Chevrolets are sold in Canada than any other make! In the past five years, Canadians have bought over 50,000 more Chevrolets than any other make — and the lead is growing every day, in all parts of the country!

LOW FIRST COST · REPUTATION · ECONOMY

LOW FIRST COST — Compare price tags first! Then examine the car — inside, outside, under the hood. Chevrolet is priced among the lowest of all — far below any comparable car! And it's a full-sized six-passenger car — safe, impressive.

REPUTATION — Thousands of motorists recently named Reputation as the leading reason for voting Chevrolet their favorite motor car, in a survey conducted from coast to coast, among owners of all makes.

ECONOMY — Chevrolet's highly-improved more powerful engine features a new carburetor that not only steps-up performance but means even greater economy of operation. And owners agree Chevrolet costs less for maintenance service than other cars.

STYLING · PERFORMANCE · DEPENDABILITY

STYLING — Inside and out, Chevrolet's a style star! Above all, the new Chevrolet's lines have a quality look — the look of a big, impressive motor car . . . and that's just what this Chevrolet is!

PERFORMANCE — This year, as every year, Chevrolet clearly out-performs its rivals . . . on super-highways, on back concessions, in stop-start traffic. And Chevrolet's performance stays brilliant!

DEPENDABILITY — Complete dependability — that's the Chevrolet by-word! Superb engineering for Canadian conditions, plus skilled service at modest cost by authorized dealers everywhere keep maintenance costs down, dependability up!

SAFETY · ROOMINESS · TRADE-IN VALUE

SAFETY — Chevrolet gives you greater safety! Powerful, heavy steel box-girder frame . . . new more rigid Bodies by Fisher . . . big wraparound bumpers . . . exclusive Certi-Safe Hydraulic Brakes . . . and ample power to pull you out of danger in a tight spot!

ROOMINESS — Chevrolet's a six passenger car, for sure! There's no more squeezing in, but room aplenty for six grownups to ride in comfort on extended trips. And Chevrolet's convenient trunk has amazing capacity — it's bigger than ever before.

TRADE-IN VALUE — Because Chevrolet is first in the low-price field with all the qualities that Canadians want most . . . because it's renowned for long life, Chevrolet is the favorite among used-car buyers as well as new. That means a higher trade-in value for you!

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Noted Canadian Organist To Present Recital

George Little, Canadian organist who is presently giving a concert tour in Canada, will play at Lachute United Church on Thursday, September 28.

He will play works by his teacher, Marcel Dupré, by César Franck, and by the early French composers Clérambault and Grigny. Particularly fitting on his program will be works by Bach, as this year commemorates the 200th anniversary of his death. This great composer has written much fine church music, and Mr. Little will include in his program the Prelude and Fugue in D, the Sonata in C minor, the well-loved Toccata and Fugue in D minor, and Chorale-preludes by the great composer.

While guest organist at St. James United Church in Montreal this summer, George Little played the organ for the CBC's Sunday broadcasts, "Children's Music", during July. Mr. Little was Director of Music at the French Summer School of McGill University, a position he held two years ago before going to France to study at the Paris Conservatoire as a scholarship student of the French Government. In addition to directing the Summer School choir and French Song Groups, in which a comprehensive survey of French and French-Canadian Folklore is made, he gave a course on the history of French music, using the pipe organ to demonstrate the works of some of France's great composers. He also lectured on "Teaching French through Music", a course designed to illustrate methods of teaching oral and conversational French through singing.

As guest artist of the Bicentenary Celebration of Dartmouth, N.S., Mr. Little gave an organ recital there during the anniversary week in August. During September, Mr. Little is making a recital tour in the Maritime Provinces, with concerts in Fredericton, Moncton, Bathurst, Campbellton, Charlottetown, and other cities. He will also give programs in a number of communities throughout Quebec, including Lachine, St. Lambert and Montreal, before returning to Paris to complete his studies at the Conservatoire.

To Be Heard in Organ Recital

George Little, Canadian organist now on a concert tour before resuming his studies in Paris, who will play at the Lachute United Church next Thursday.

Ministerial Association

The Argenteuil Protestant Ministerial Association will meet at 10 a.m. on Monday, September 25, at the Baptist Church, Lachute. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Wm. Dynes. All members and clergy of the County are invited to be present.

Evangelistic Services At Lachute Baptist

The special preaching services being conducted in the Lachute Baptist Church with Evangelist Wm. Dynes, of Toronto, gospel singer and gifted Bible teacher, will continue through to Friday, September 29, Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m., and every week-night (except Saturday) at 8 o'clock. In addition to Evangelist Dynes, baritone, who sings gospel selections each night, there will be other special vocal numbers.

The attendance and interest in these services is most encouraging, and a cordial invitation is extended to all to hear this able preacher.

Special sermon topics of this evangelist for the Sunday services are as follows: 11 a.m., "The Holy Spirit", 7.30 p.m., "The Cross and Its Relationship to Us".

"Let God Be True"

— Romans 3: 3-4

We, according to His promise, look for a new heaven and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. — II Peter, 3: 13.

For Christ must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that he shall destroy is death. — I Corinthians, 15: 25-26.

Of what will the new earch consist? The Bible shows that the present wicked rulers and their organizations will be replaced by an organization of princes who will rule the earth in justice. These princes will include men who proved their faithfulness to God from Abel to John the Baptist. All such received a good report because of their faith, but have not as yet received their reward. (Hebrews 11; Acts 2:29, 34). Their resurrection will be to life on earth, not heaven. (Matthew 8:11, 11:11; Daniel 12:13). Among such will be fleshly ancestors of Christ Jesus whom he will make princes in all the earth. — Psalm 45:16.

Under the rule of these princes the original purpose of God in creating the earth will be realized: all the earth will become a paradise filled with righteous creatures who will exercise loving dominion over the lower animals and will serve God in spirit and truth. Peace, health and life will replace war, disease and death. — Psalm 72; Isaiah 33:24; 9:7. I Corinthians 15:25, 26.

Find out more about God's wonderful promises for the righteous New World by starting a search of the scriptures. Send for the New World translation of the Christian Greek Scriptures; also the beautiful book, "Let God be True". $1.85 for both books. — 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Three New Booklets

"Can You Live Forever in Happiness on Earth?" is a 32-page booklet containing the public talk delivered by N. H. Knorr at the International Convention of Jehovah's witnesses in New York, August 6, 1950. It will thrill you to read it. Only 5c a copy.

"Evolution versus The New World." This 64-page, colored-cover booklet tests the evidence for evolution and weighs the case for the Bible's new world. The one is a bubble, the other a hope with sure foundation. Prove these facts for yourself. Only 5c a copy.

"Defending and Legally Establishing the Good News." The features of this 96-page booklet include a memorandum of law relative to the work of Jehovah's witnesses. It is of value to witnesses, judges, lawyers and all others interested in the guarantees of freedom. 10c per copy.

All three booklets will be sent postpaid for only 20c. — Write: The Watch-Tower, 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto.

Entertained for Bride-Elect

Friends have entertained at three recent functions in honor of Miss Betty Campbell, whose marriage to Mr. Ian Gordon takes place this Saturday.

Fellow members of the Bank of Montreal staff were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hay at their home on Bedard Blvd., where Miss Campbell was presented with a china tea set. Mrs. Owen Riddell entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home in the Theoret Apartments; and Miss Campbell was also guest of honor at a bridge and china shower at Mrs. Edmund McFaul's on Main Street.

American building craftsmen are 50 per cent more productive than British construction workmen, according to members of a British committee that toured the United States to study industrial practices.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Charron, Dr. and Mrs. Roger Dumais, are leaving by automobile Saturday for Toronto to attend the Province of Quebec Chambers of Commerce annual convention, September 24 to 27 inclusive — the first occasion on which the Quebec body has met outside this province. . . Mr. Charron, president, and Dr. Dumais, vice-president of the local group, are official delegates representing the Lachute Chamber of Commerce.

Music Group Changes Night of Meeting

At the first organizational meeting of the Lachute String Group, held Tuesday evening, it was decided that Monday evenings would be more suitable for the regular practice meetings.

There is still need for expansion in this organization, and any person who plays a string instrument or woodwind is cordially invited to contact Maurice Bedard, president; Miss Monique Charlebois, secretary; or Burton Millar.

Mr. Angelo Fassio has again consented to conduct the group, and practices are held in the new music room of Lachute High School every Monday.

GRAHAM — The family of the late Mrs. John Graham wish to express sincere thanks to their friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy extended them during the illness and death of their mother.

WARWICK — Mr. and Mrs. Ross Warwick wish to thank all relatives and friends for kindnesses shown in their recent sad bereavement.

IN MEMORIAM

CHAPMAN — In loving memory of a dear son and brother, William John, who passed away Sept. 22, 1948. — Ever remembered by Mother.

"Some may forget you
Now you are gone,
But we will remember,
No matter how long."

NIXON — In memory of a dear mother, Mrs. James Nixon, who passed away Sept. 17, 1946. — Always remembered by Kate, Joe and Jimmy Provincal.

"Deep in our hearts there's a picture
Worth more than silver and gold,
It's a picture of you, dear Mother,
Whose memory will never grow old.
There's a smile we will always remember,
There's a memory fond and true
And a heartache, dear Mother, for you."

PROVINCAL — In loving memory of a dear father, Frank L. Provincal, who passed away Sept. 21, 1945.—Always remembered by his son, Joseph, daughter-in-law, Kate, and wee Jimmy.

"The stars are brightly shining
Upon a silent grave,
In it lies a precious one
But whom we could not save.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes fill up with tears;
Only God knows how we miss you,
Dear Father, after five long years."

McMICHAEL — In loving memory of a dear friend, James White McMichael, who passed away Sept. 10, 1941. — Always remembered by his friend, Joseph E. Provincal.

"I do not need a special day
To bring you to my mind.
The days I do not think of you
Are very hard to find;
God give me strength to fight
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know."

STEWART — In loving memory of my dear son, Eden, who passed away Sept. 22, 1943. — Dad.

"In silence I think of you."

Correction

A communication from the Young Adult Group asks a correction of the term "singsong", in reporting of their Sunday evening presentations at the United Church. These are more accurately described as "hymn sing services" . . . Also, the reference to a "final" evening gave a misleading impression, as these programs actually are continuing throughout the autumn months. — Ed.

"I wonder if everything will be all right?"

JIMMIE is one of nearly 300,000 young Canadians who start school this month. They are taking their first steps toward a grown-up world which their mothers and fathers are now shaping. Quite understandably today's parents, conscious of the unsettled conditions in the world today, are wondering if everything will be all right for their Jimmies.

The Sandwich Meal

School bells are ringing again after the long summer holiday and on five mornings in each week many homemakers are faced with the problem of packing the noon meal for some of the members of their families, in a lunch box. Perhaps the man of the house or an office worker is included among those who require a packed lunch.

Although the carried lunch does not necessarily contain sandwiches, the meat, eggs, cheese or fish which provide the substantial part of the meal are easily carried and easily eaten if made into sandwiches. Sandwiches also have an advantage because they may be prepared in the evening, carefully wrapped and kept in a cool place until the next day. When the household is fortunate enough to have a home freezer, several weeks' supply of sandwiches may be prepared at one time. Any well-seasoned meat, cheese or fish filling may be used provided the sandwiches are well and carefully wrapped. A cellophane, which is specially made for use with frozen foods, aluminum foil or pliofilm bags are excellent wraps to use for such occasions. Special attention of course must be given to the wrapping to ensure the exclusion of air so that a moist, good flavored product results.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, suggest the following spreads for either immediate or later use.

Green Tomato - Pepper Sandwich Spread

2 Cups ground green tomatoes, 3 green peppers, 3 sweet red peppers, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup water, 6 sweet pickles (chopped), ¾ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons mustard, ½ cup vinegar, 1 cup sour cream, 3 eggs.

Grind enough green tomatoes to make 2 cups without the juice. Grind green and red peppers and mix with tomatoes. Sprinkle with salt and let stand 10 minutes. Drain off juice, add water and cook until tender. Add sweet pickles and keep mixture hot while preparing dressing. Mix sugar, flour, mustard, vinegar, sour cream and well-beaten eggs. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Pour over tom- until thickened. Pour over tomato-pepper mixture, blending well. and cover with paraffin.

Yield: approximately 4 cups. . . Note: This spread may be kept indefinitely when stored in a covered jar in the refrigerator.

Cheese-Meat Sandwich Spread

1 Cup grated Cheddar cheese, 1 cup ground cooked meat, ¼ cup finely chopped pickle, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 2 tablespoons salad dressing, salt and pepper to taste.

Combine chese, meat, pickle and mustard. Mix well. Add salad dressing to moisten. Season with salt and pepper. Yield: 1½ cups.

Tomato - Meat Spread

2½ Cups ground cooked meat, 2 tablespoons grated onion, ½ cup tomato juice, few grains cayenne pepper, 1teaspoon chili powder, salt and pepper to taste.

Combine ingredients and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thoroughly blended and reaches the boiling point. Cool and store in covered container in refrigerator or other cool place. Yield: about 2½ cups.

Savoury Beef Sandwich Filling

1½ Cups minced, cooked roast or corned beef, 1 cup grated, mild cheese, ½ cup chopped sweet pickle, 1 teaspoon grated onion, ½ cup salad dressing, ½ teaspoon salt.

Combine ingredients and blend together lightly. Yield: 3 cups. Note: This filling will keep several days if kept covered and cold.

MORNING CUP OF TEA GOOD FOR HOUSEWIFE

London (CP) — The government has given its blessing to one of Britain's favorite morning habits — "elevenses".

It says a 10-minute break in the morning for a cup of tea is a good idea, at least for the housewife.

"A break for tea and a look at the paper is not a waste of time", said the government-sponsored National Institute of Houseworkers. "The housewife will gain fresh energy to go on with the morning's work". The Institute's sanction for elevenses appeared in its offici.l magazine, which also made these observations:

The "fussy housewife" is one who wears herself out worrying about tidiness and dislikes having her routine upset.

The "happy-go-lucky housewife" lives in a muddle and disturbs husband and family by her unpunctuality and lack of method.

"The ideal housewife" finds the best and fastest way for each job, enlists other household members in certain tasks, and finishes one job before starting another.

Here's a bargain for you!

I will run a dozen errands
...make appointments, do your shopping
...stand guard over your safety
...carry you to the side of a sick friend
...save you worry, and effort, and hours
...make your work easier, your life pleasanter.

How would you measure your telephone's true worth? Its endless convenience. Its life-saving speed in time of need. The steadily growing number of people it brings within your reach . . . All these things contribute to the sum-total of telephone value.

Yet in dollars-and-cents cost, your telephone remains one of the smallest items in your family budget; even a smaller part than it was before the war.

Today, as always, your telephone is big value.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

IF YOU ARE WAITING FOR A TELEPHONE, or for a higher grade of service, you have our assurance that you will have it just as quickly as we can provide the necessary facilities. Our continuing goal is to provide the kind of service to all who want it, when and where they want it.

Farewell Gathering

A splendid representation from the churches to which the Rev. A. G. Moore has ministered for the past three years, gathered at Cushing last Saturday night to wish Mr. and Mrs. Moore godspeed on the eve of their departure for Granby, Que.

Harvest Thanksgiving Service will be held at Christ Church, St. Andrews East, this Sunday, September 24, at 11 a.m.

Presentation at Cushing To Rev. and Mrs. Moore

(Our District Correspondent)

Cushing — Last Saturday evening at the Stone Hall, members and adherents of the congregations of Cushing, Grenville and St. Andrews East, entertained at a surprise party for the Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Moore, and presented them with proof of their sincere regard and affection, in the form of a substantial gift of money, to be spent on something that will be a lasting memory of their parishioners here and also in the outlying districts.

Mrs. M. Wilson, president of Cushing W. A., presented the gift, assisted by Mr. John Innes, who expressed the pleasure of the Rev. Mr. Moore's friends in the fact that he had been appointed to a more important charge, also the sincere regrets of all present at losing them, as their going means a distinct loss to all who have enjoyed their acquaintance, as well as leaving the pulpits of the four charges vacant.

Mr. Moore, in replying for himself and Mrs. Moore, said that there had to be mutual love and respect on both sides before such a happening as this could take place in a community. Mr. Moore also stressed his pleasure at the evident unity of spirit shown by the different congregations, as proven by the large assembly present at this time.

Community singing was enjoyed, with vocal and instrumental numbers contributed by artists from the gathering.

Church Interests

The Women's Association entertained Mr. Colin West, student pastor of the Harrington and Kilmar pastoral charge, at a bean supper last Wednesday evening in the Campbell Hall. Songs and music were rendered by Mr. Walter Young, and addresses were given by Mrs. J. Page and Mrs. J. John. With sincere good wishes on Mr. West's approaching marriage, Mrs. H. Page and Mrs. A. I. Brown presented him with a purse of money on behalf of the organization.

Service will be held in the Harrington United Church on Sunday at 11 a.m.; Sunday School prior to service, at 10 a.m.

Weir

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Allan and two sons returned to Montreal recently after spending the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beaven.

Mrs. Bertha Beaven has left Weir to spend the winter in Montreal with her son and daughter-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beaven celebrated their first wedding anniversary touring the Eastern Townships, then spending the week-end at the home of the latter's friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Beattie, in Melbourne, Que.

Presentation at St. Andrews East

St. Andrews East — At a recent gathering of members of the Women's Guild of the United Church, a handsome black leather handbag, which included a gift of money, was presented to Mrs. May Charman in recognition of her 25 years of faithful and very efficient service as treasurer. Mrs. Charman, who is not in good health, was so surprised and overwhelmed by the gift that she was unable to express her thanks fittingly. She now takes this opportunity to extend her appreciation and heartfelt thanks for the gifts and the spirit of kindness which prompted them.

England refused to bring back flogging during a recent crime wave.

Brownsburg

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Duguid, of Montreal, were week-end guests of relatives here.

Sympathy is extended to the relatives of the late Mrs. John Graham, who passed away at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jordan.

Mrs. C. E. Proser and Miss Betty Prosser spent last Saturday in Montreal.

Mrs. H. Zimmer left by plane last week to visit relatives in Scotland.

The Mission Circle of the Maple Avenue Baptist Church held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. G. Anderson last week. The topic, "Home Mission Work", was read by Mrs. F. Barker. Plans were made to send a food parcel to a missionary in India, and also to send a quilt to a family in Winnipeg who had suffered from the recent floods.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allan, of Sarnia, Ont., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Mason this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Vary, of Timmins, Ont., visited relatives here this week.

Mr. John Bewick, of Saint John, N.B., is spending a short visit with his granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Hewitt. Mr. Bewick will visit Mr. and Mrs. Cy Bewick in the Town of Mount Royal, before returning to Saint John.

The United Church Sunday School will join with the congregation in their annual Rally Service next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The topic of the program is "The Healing of the Nations". Members of the school will take part. The Sunday School will assemble at 10.30 in the hall to make arrangements for the service.

Waste-Paper Salvage

Householders of Brownsburg are asked to save their waste paper, as the Boy Scouts will be making a collection in the early fall. Definite dates will be announced.

TOURISTS' PET

Dryden, Ont. (CP) — John Brune, caretaker at a nearby lodge, has three dear friends — but actually they're deer friends.

Two of the deer, Biscuit and Buckwheat, are full grown. Their tiny offspring hasn't yet been named.

Visitors at the lodge are amazed at the tameness of the animals, which will stand for hours to be petted.

"The deer are certainly fond of Johnny", says the lodge operator. "They tag along wherever he goes. He'd be lost without them — and they'd be lost without him".

B'burg Scout Team Comes 2nd in Prov. Rifle Shoot

Brownsburg — The 1st Brownsburg Troop of Boy Scouts had two teams entered in the competition for the Jeffrey Burland Shield, which is competed for annually by troops throughout the Province of Quebec who wish to enter teams of sharpshooters in this .22 calibre rifle event.

The team entered by Crawford Park (Verdun) won the shield this year with a total of 491 points out of a possible 500 (98.2%). St. Stephen's (Lachine) placed 3rd with 483 points (96.6%).

Brownsburg was the only troop with two teams entered. The first team placed second, with 489 points (97.8%), just 2 points behind the winner.

Team standing — L. Brewer 100 - 4x, R. Golphin 99 - 5x, W. Cribb 99 - 5x, R. Johnston 98 - 2x, R. Kennedy 93 - 3x.

Brownsburg No. 2 Team was in 5th position, with 475 points (95%) — B. Mason 99 - 4x, G. Pasco 98 - 3x, G. Gordon 96 - 5x, C. Duncan 93 - 2x, R. Mason 89 - 1x.

Brownsburg won the shield in 1949.

The troop is somewhat like an orphan these days while the Protestant School is undergoing alterations. However, last week-end six Scouts, one Rover Scout and three Leaders hiked to Rearden's Lake and camped overnight in their tents. It was reported they hiked most of the way in, and all the way out, with their kits on their backs, a distance of about eight miles one way. Scoutmaster A. B. Waller claims that none of the party suffered from the severe frost which occurred during the night.

Teachers' Conference Held Here on Reading, Key Subject in Education

Helpful Demonstrations; Child Psychology, Its Bearing on Aptitude and Receptivity

On September 25 and 26 at Lachute High School, teachers, principals, supervisors and inspectors from Argenteuil and Two Mountains and neighboring counties convened to attend demonstrations, lectures and discussions on the most modern methods of teaching Reading, the key subject of the course of study.

Miss Margaret Hoffman, Educational Consultant with Scott, Foresman and Company, specializing in Reading and Elementary Science, was the leader of the two-day conference. Miss Hoffman possesses a two-year Normal School Certificate from Shippensburg Teachers' College, Pennsylvania. She has her degree in Science and her Master of Arts from Northwestern University. She has done graduate work in Science at Columbia University under Dr. Craig, and at the University of Chicago under Dr. Beauchamp. Her teaching experience includes four years as a grade teacher at Carlisle, Pa., six years as a grade teacher at River Forest, Illinois, two years in the United States army as a teacher, one year in Hawaii at the Kamahama School in Honolulu, one year as a grade teacher in Petersdale, New York. Her three years' experience as an educational consultant with a publishing company has taken her into many areas of the Eastern United States and Canada where she has met every variety of problem that a teacher may face. Her own wide experience has given her a sympathetic and understanding approach to those problems.

On Monday Miss Hoffman demonstrated with Grade II pupils to the teachers of Grades I - III the early techniques and methods of teaching reading. She stressed the necessity of confirming the pupils' readiness for reading. When a child comes to school he brings with him a personality and background different from that of every other child in the class. He differs in his physical, social, mental and emotional levels. Some children at the age of six are not yet fully developed in muscular co-ordination. Their vision may still be farsighted, so that they may have difficulty in noting the fine distinction between the appearance of an "h" and an "n", or between an "o" a "c" or an "e". The child is often an individual who has to learn to work in the society of those outside his family. Mental capacity is different so that the same approach obviously will not meet the needs of all. Children have their emotional problems often resulting from being required to meet the demands thrust upon them by an adult world. All this is the concern of the teacher, who must recognize these factors in order to assist each pupil to achieve his own fullest capacity. The primary teacher has tremendous responsibility. All her skill, patience, understanding and love for children will help to bring confidence, independence and growth. Parents can help their children to meet the challenge by giving them, not training in the text, which is the teacher's task, but experience in every aspect of life which will help to bring meaning to the reading about those experiences. Story-telling, the child's own personal library, his contact with people, places and things are all essential preparation for training in reading which provide him with a background upon which a teacher can build.

Miss Hoffman then spoke in detail about the methods for developing techniques. Briefly, these were the fundamentals of word perception, beyond which, in the past, much reading has not gone; comprehension of the material read, which requires understanding of the author's intent; reaction of the person to the material read, which requires intelligent feeling on his part; and integration or development of the personality because of comprehension and reaction. Critical, thoughtful, appreciative and intelligent reading is the aim of the reading course.

On Tuesday, Miss Hoffman developed these concepts on the Intermediate level, using pupils from Grade VI to demonstrate techniques. Teachers of Grades IV to VII were in the audience. On both days rural school teachers were present, and principals, who are concerned with the entire reading program in their schools.

There was opportunity for interested and animated discussion regarding ways and means of developing skills and abilities and of finding the time and materials needed for adequate development. Teachers left the conference inspired, stimulated and helped to meet their problems.

This event was the culmination of long-term planning resulting from awareness among professional people that the ability to read with comprehension, to interpret thoughtfully, to appreciate plot and character, to make judgments, to draw conclusions, to see the relationship between cause and effect, to adapt reading rates to the material read, and many other aspects of the training in reading, is not achieved by isolated efforts on various grade levels, but is the result of coordination and cooperation from the earliest grade level to the highest.

Mr. Brash, Supervisor of English for the Department of Education, expressed his appreciation of the splendid over-all picture which Miss Hoffman gave of the vital importance of reading. Miss Low, Assistant Supervisor of English, spoke with great sincerity of the way in which Miss Hoffman, in her discourse, had shown how security of achievement could prevent many maladjustments in adult life. Miss Stewart, newly appointed Helping Teacher in Mr. King's district, and formerly on the staff of the School for Teachers, Macdonald College, was interested in Miss Hoffman's presentation, as was Mr. King, Inspector of Schools for the Department of Education, who felt that the conference was a valuable and worthwhile experiment in the field of education.

The Music Room of the Lachute High School was filled to capacity on both days and was an ideal place for holding a conference of this kind. The Lachute School Board, by making its facilities available, not only in the conference room but also in the cafeteria, contributed much to the outstanding success of the event. The Central School Board of Argenteuil and Two Mountains, with its efficient organization, gave support to the project, and assistance with refreshments.

The Local Boards, by encouraging their teachers to attend, have contributed to the success of the program in their schools — a brief investment of time with a return that will be far-reaching.

The teachers and principals concerned with the teaching of reading who came from Lachute, Brownsburg, Kilmar, Rivington, Bell Falls, Harrington East, Arundel, St. Eustache, Grenville, Morin Heights and outside areas such as Ste. Agathe, Terrebonne Heights, New Glasgow, St. Jerome, Rosemere, Namur, Hull, Gatineau Mills, Buckingham, Duhamel and other schools, expressed to this reporter their appreciation and gratitude for the opportunity for such a valuable experience.

Wins Award in Intn'l Essay Contest

Mrs. A. Graham's W.I. Entry on "The Countrywoman's Day"

Macdonald College—The Quebec Women's Institutes won honorable mention with a book prize in the international essay contest on the subject, "The Countrywoman's Day", sponsored by the Associated Country Women of the World. Word of this has been received from Mrs. R. Thomson, Q.W.I. president, who has been representing the latter organization at the A.C.W.W. Conference just concluded in Copenhagen.

This contest resulted from an endeavor to portray conditions among rural women the world over, and was carried out in every constituent society, the three best entries in each country being selected and sent on for the international competition. The three best essays from the Quebec entries were submitted by Mrs. F. J. Wilson, Cavagnal W. I.; Mrs. A. Graham, Frontier W.I.; and Mrs. Clive Smart, Stark's Corners W.I. Mrs. Graham's essay won the international award previously mentioned. Canada won another award among the 14 presented, but particulars as to the other name were not mentioned in this letter from Mrs. Thomson. She adds that these were presented by Mrs. R. Sayre, A.C.W.W. president, at a ceremony held on "Danes' Day" at the convention. This was held at a large forum outside the city. Greetings were brought by the 23 countries represented, a speech given by the Prime Minister, and the delegates entertained by folk songs and dancing, given in traditional costumes. Danish handicrafts were also on sale.

Boy Scouts of the 1st Yellowknife Troop in the Northwest Territories travelled 950 miles to attend Sylvan Lake Scout Camp in Alberta this summer.

Local Date for Change of Time

Some confusion has followed the reverting to Standard Time in certain neighboring centres, and the change of rail schedules, while Lachute still remains on Daylight Saving Time. . . It may be recalled that D.S.T. was adopted here by council order "until further notice", and that the town will go back to Standard Time on the week-end of October 28-29, to conform with the practice in Montreal.

Routine Business At Town Council

Since the major issue of the moment, St. Jerusalem's annexation proposal, requires more lengthy study by Lachute authorities — business at the adjourned council meeting here last Wednesday was of comparatively minor importance.

With Mayor Léopold Carrière presiding, all members were present with the exception of Aldermen J. Charlebois and W. S. MacKimmie.

Permission was granted to the Bell Telephone to proceed with construction of plant and cable as outlined in their plan.

It was decided to invite tenders for supplying of an oil-burning heater for the Victoria Hall.

Building permit was granted to M. E. Rice for the construction of a residence in Mountain View.

It was ordered to install two new street lights, one in Mountain View and the other on Princess Street.

C.P.R. Man Feted On Retirement

(Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — On Friday afternoon, September 22, officials of the C.P.R. in Montreal gathered in the Board Room to express their appreciation and best wishes to Mr. W. R. Jeffrey, tax commissioner of the Company, on the occasion of his retirement from active service.

The vice-president and general counsel, Mr. F. C. S. Evans, on behalf of his colleagues presented Mr. Jeffrey with a well-filled billfold and two cases of pipes, in recognition of his loyal and efficient service.

The chairman of the Board, Mr. G. A. Walker, was unable to be present through illness, and sent his personal regrets and good wishes.

A further presentation was made by Mr. Jeffrey's personal staff, and a miniature cactus garden was sent to Mrs. Jeffrey as a memento of the occasion.

For many years machinery, not including farm machinery, has been the leading or among the first three principal commodities imported into Canada.

This, apparently, is the first news of Paul Lynch received by friends here since World War II, in which he served with the Black Watch, was promoted to the rank of sergeant, and was wounded at Caen, France, with other Lachute casualties. Paul attended Lachute High School, then worked for three years at Geo. Paul's store on Main Street, before enlisting, very young, with the Canadian forces. On his discharge he went direct to the West, presumably to join his mother on the Pacific coast.

Farmer Victim Of Fatal Fall

An old and well known resident of the North River farming community, Fred Wilson, died accidentally on Monday from injuries suffered in a fall.

Mr. Wilson, still active in spite of his 69 years, was standing on a beam in his barn, forking straw for the cattle, when he lost his balance and fell. His son, Sidney Wilson, who operates the farm and lives nearby, immediately came to his father's assistance. Mr. Wilson was carried to his house and received medical attention. On orders of his physician he was placed in an ambulance around noon that day, to be conveyed to a Montreal hospital. The patient died, however, before the ambulance had gone beyond the town limits.

Coroner Dr. Jules. Lafleur, on making formal enquiry, pronounced the death accidental — due, he stated, to internal haemorrhage.

A large assembly of relatives and friends gathered at the home in North River settlement, to pay tribute yesterday afternoon to this respected member of a pioneer farming family. The remains were laid to rest in Lachute Cemetery.

Gatineau Lineman Injured on Job

Réal Lepine, 25-year-old employee of Gatineau Power Company, suffered fractures of both feet when a pole collapsed last Sunday at the Company's Mirabel substation.

It is reported Lepine was with a crew of linemen transferring wires to a new pole on Sunday afternoon. Before completing the job the young man fell to the ground with the collapse of a partially rotted pole, and was severely injured. Fellow workers brought him to the Providence Hospital, Lachute, where he was attended by Dr. Marc Papineau, and X-ray examination revealed fractures in both feet. On Monday the victim was transferred by ambulance to the Sacred Heart Hospital, at Cartierville.

This is no time for a Race!

The unseen figure of Death rides beside the motorist who races a train to a level crossing. . . The way may look clear, and there may seem to be a split second in which to avert calamity. Unfortunately for many of the 140 who were killed and the 549 who were injured in 443 railway crossing accidents in Canada in the 12-month period ended June 30th last, the train was moving faster than they judged, or they were closer to the point of impact than they imagined; and they paid a high price for their impatience. The old rule of STOP, LOOK and LISTEN applies with more force than ever today when more automobiles and trucks are on the road. Make sure you have a clear path over the crossing; obey the signs placed there for your protection. It's better to be delayed a minute than to be killed or maimed.

What's This! . . Elusive Pig in Minister's Garage

"Guests at the parsonage" appear not unfrequently in our social items. . . The garage at the Baptist manse on Grace Street, however, harboured an unusual fugitive this week — in the form of a fine fat porker. . .

It seems that Leslie Tomalty, of Dalesville, while driving to Montreal with a load of market hogs Tuesday morning, stopped at his brother's home in Lachute — then proceeded on his way, unaware that one of his pigs had slipped out of the rear of his truck.

Neighbors discovered the pig roaming over the select Grace Street properties. They drove it into the nearest vacant accommodation, the minister's garage!

Leslie Tomalty meanwhile had discovered his loss around East Settlement, where he stopped his truck to adjust a flapping tailboard. He drove back to Lachute, inspecting the fields and farms along the highway, and eventually retrieved the lost porker where it had been given temporary haven.

Police-Fire Chiefs To Visit Lachute

PROVINC'L ASSOCIATION TO HOLD LUNCHEON MEETING

Lachute will play host to the Quebec Police and Fire Chiefs' Association next Wednesday for the regular luncheon meeting of this organization.

The visitors, including wives and lady guests, are expected to number approximately 100. Mayor Léopold Carrière will extend the civic welcome at Lachute Golf and Country Club, and guest speaker will be the Hon. Justice H. Barrette. Mr. Philippe Valois, M.P., and Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., are expected to attend the gathering, where Mr. Fernand Legault will act as master of ceremonies.

Following luncheon at the Lachute Golf Club, the party will be conducted on a tour of the Ayers Limited Mills.

President of the Quebec Police and Fire Chiefs' Association is Chief Raoul Latour, of the neighboring town of St. Jerome.

Service Club's Practical Contributions Prove Valuable Asset to Civic Progress

Further evidence of the Lions Club's interest in civic development has been witnessed by the public this week, with the erection of school crossing signs at intersections near the local schools, and also in the installation of 10 public garbage cans at strategic points on Main Street. (This latter improvement has been consistently advocated by The Watchman for some years past.)

While the Lions have been acclaimed hereabouts for their generous achievements in charity and public welfare — the public notes with gratification these more material contributions to the town. The "welcome" signs on the approaching highways, and the pulmotor for use in district emergencies, are other appreciable and worthwhile gifts. But it seems there is something still more ambitious in store, in terms of public safety and protection. . .

At the club meeting on Tuesday evening, under chairmanship of President Horace Lamarche, it was decided to purchase a radio-telephone system for the local police and fire service. Demonstration of this equipment by two different firms, was a highlight of the meeting. The Lions clearly heard exchanges of conversation, with an automobile travelling the Montreal highway almost to St. Hermas.

The membership subsequently voted to purchase a Marconi two-way short-wave outfit which, duly installed in the town services, will include the following: Phone transmitter and receiver at police headquarters; equipment installed on police chief's car and patrol car, also on fire truck and fire chief's car; remote control extensions to police chief's residence and fire chief's office. . The effect of these installations will be to permit conversation between any of these points, stationary or mobile, and will ensure immediate contact between the public and the town police and fire services at all times.

It is hoped by the Lions Club to make the formal presentation of this equipment during Fire Prevention Week.

"IN BROWNSBURG"

Specially Contributed

Four tenders were received in response to the Council's advertisement for the extension of waterworks to supply the streets of St. Lawrence and St. George, and a small project at Maple Avenue North. The bids were as follows:

Laurentian Industries Ltd.	$9,611.45
Kelly Co., Hawkesbury	$11,868.20
T. F. Hall, Brownsburg	$12,395.00
Albias Pepin Ltée	$13,416.45

The Mayor asked the Council's engineers, Messrs. Gouin & Dorain (whose representative was present) if credentials of those tendering had been checked. It was replied that this had been done, and Councillor N. Somers proposed the work be given to the lowest bidder, and that the reservoir be repaired for the balance left over as between cost and engineer's estimate. . . Councillor Denault seconded, and the contract was thus let to Laurentian Industries Ltd.

Mr. Thibeault, representing the contractors, subsequently attended the meeting and assured the Council that local labor would be employed as far as available except for keymen and engineers.

Sidewalks Again

A petition signed by a number of taxpayers along St. Joseph Street protested against the recent increase in cost from $1.44 to $1.65 per foot. . . Mr. Charbonneau, who presented the petition, said he felt it would not be fair to have to pay 20 cents a foot more than the other people in Brownsburg who had sidewalks put in during the past few months. In some cases it made a difference of $30 in the over-all cost. If a difference in cost has to be paid, he thought the Council should absorb it.

The Mayor explained that recently a call for tenders was made and Mr. Brisson, the previous contractor, was the only one applying, and at a higher cost. The increase was understandable when it was considered that cement had increased from 75c per bag to $1.25 during the last year or so. If the petitioners felt they could get the work done at the old price to the satisfaction of the Council by a reliable contractor, that might be considered.

Councillor Somers stated the extra cost was explained by the higher cost of materials and he felt this should be borne by the owners.

Mr. Charbonneau suggested that the work be left over till cement returned to a lower price.

Councillor Lavoie found several of the petitioners were not affected by the sidewalk as it did not lie along their property. Some others — there were only seven who were affected — were those who were loudest in their demands for the sidewalk to protect them from surface water.

The Mayor, in answering the points put forward, said the Council would delay for a time in laying the sidewalks, provided that those who claimed they were suffering surface water damage heretofore, sign a release to the Council of any damage that might be caused during the time they have asked for delay.

Mr. Charbonneau offered to have a reply to the Secretary before Monday of this week.

It was decided that Summer Time would end on October 29, clocks to be set back on that date.

Chimney Cleaning

The Fire Brigade members took over the work of cleaning chimneys in their respective areas. Two reasons for this innovation is that firemen become acquainted with roofs and chimneys, and they know the chimney has been cleaned.

Fire Chief A. Robbins has asked this column to call attention to a by-law which makes it mandatory for house-owners whose chimneys have been cleaned, to clean inside pipes, fireplaces and stoves within 24 hours of the time the chimney is cleaned.

Detour

Maple Avenue is back to normal after having been blocked for a week by filling from the Protestant School sewerage installation.

Legion Hall

The roof of the Legion Hall has been completed and inside work started.

Prowlers

For the past two week-ends some youths circling the village in an automobile have been inducing young girls to sit in and accompany them in their car. Parents should be on the alert for possible danger to their daughters, and would be well advised to warn them of the risk they run in accepting such invitations. The police department is anxious to procure the license number of such cars, and a call to the Chief's office will bring immediate action in rounding up the culprits.

Women's Institute Branch Meetings

Brownsburg Women's Institute had 29 ladies present at the September meeting. An interesting address on Nutrition was given by Dr. A. R. Coté. Three new members were welcomed. Mrs. A. Campbell was presented with a spray of gladioli in honor of her 40th wedding anniversary. This branch won first prize on the hooked rug exhibits, second on crocheted handbag, and fifth for the best handicrafts display, at the recent Ottawa Exhibition.

Frontier branch had 19 members at their meeting. The members catered for the School Fair at the exhibition grounds, and gave money for prizes. The September meeting was held at Dunany Golf Club, where Mrs. N. Morrison was hostess. There was a demonstration on hooked rug-making. The roll-call "a cut of meat and a savoury way to cook it".

Lachute W.I. had 29 ladies in attendance. The members answered the roll-call by describing an interesting place they had visited. Mrs. Angus Taylor and Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon gave reports on the Macdonald College convention. Afternoon tea was served to the High School teachers and friends in the Legion Memorial Hall.

Lakefield had 10 members present, answering the roll-call with "a verse I learned at school". A report on the card party and food sale showed that $80 had been realized for the funds. A letter was signed and sent to the Federal member on the subject of sex crime perverts. Mrs. Ross Evans, who recently returned from a visit to England and Wales, gave the highlights of her visit.

Upper Lachute - East End reports 18 members present. Dr. L. Turcotte, County Health Officer, gave a talk on poliomyelitis.

Quarterly Session Of County Council

HELD THIS MONTH IN COURT HOUSE BUILDING

The quarterly session of the municipal council of Argenteuil County was held in the Court House here on Wednesday, September 13, with the County Warden, Mayor A. G. Munich of Montcalm, presiding.

The following mayors were in attendance — G. E. Arnold, Grenville & Augmentation; S. Cavanagh, Grenville; J. B. Donaldson, Brownsburg; R. C. Whinfield, Calumet; F. W. Allmen, Carillon; L. J. Boa, St. Jerusalem; T. Fournier, St. Andrews East; C. Campbell, Morin Heights; Dr. R. B. Henry, Arundel; H. Barlow, Wentworth; R. McRae, Harrington; A. Kyle, Gore.

Councillors Donaldson, Henry and Cavanagh were appointed official delegates to represent Argenteuil at the Union of County Councils, to convene in Quebec City on October 23 and 24. Councillors Arnold, Gratton and T. Fournier were named as substitutes, with the Secretary also to accompany the delegation.

Bills to the amount of $691.88 were approved for payment.

The Secretary was asked to write Mr. James W. Graham, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, asking what measures can be taken on behalf of district farmers to protect their sheep from destruction by dogs.

The Secretary was also requested to write the provincial deputy for this constituency, asking him to see that as regards labor employed on the new bridges in River Rouge, preference be given to Argenteuil men.

The proces-verbal on the Kingsey River, fourth range of the Township of Grenville, as presented by Z. Plouffe, special superintendent, was duly accepted and homologated, and it was resolved that the Quebec Minister of Agriculture be requested to take charge for execution of the proper drainage on this watercourse without delay.

Gatineau LINES

"Manufacturing" Electricity

Most people are familiar with the basic steps involved before any manufactured product reaches the home. Although the details vary, generally the pattern is something like this: —

(1) Raw materials are collected and taken to a factory.

(2) A product is made from these materials.

(3) The product is packed in packages of various sizes.

(4) It is sent out to distribution points, by rail, ship or truck.

(5) It is delivered to the home, frequently after being broken down into smaller packages to suit the convenience of the buyer.

This process has been going on a long time, and is generally well understood. Not so well understood is the great similarity between the electrical business and any other manufacturing system. Partly because the electrical industry is relatively new, and partly because different terms are used, it is not always easy to see how much a hydro electrical enterprise is like a manufacturing business.

In general, however, the steps are the same. A large volume of water corresponds to the raw materials; the generating station corresponds to the factory where the raw materials are made into a product. The high tension lines are the highways and railways over which the electricity flows to distribution points. Sub-stations package it into required sizes. It is delivered to you over the local power lines. Unlike many products, however, once your premises is connected you do not have to order electricity in advance but at a flick of the switch, it is yours for the asking. You use what you require and get it just when you want it.

Sunnyacres Sketches

RANDOM WRITINGS ON THE RURAL SCENE

By Margaret Cook

Now we are in that most beautiful of seasons (wails of protests from the pessimists!) and we approach winter, which is to be endured (boos from the teen-agers!) . . . It is never sensible to argue with a teen-ager — for, before one has properly marshalled his arguments, his opponent has ceased to be an adolescent and is ready, nay eager, to be an adult. Having spent some 10 years teaching adolescents, it is a matter of wonder to me that such a fuss is made over a transitory stage. . . But we digress, we were speaking of seasons.

How subtle must be the mind of the Creator to have provided for our fickle fancies by the change of seasons; how dull do we find routine, yet, too, how oddly comforting! The early Church Fathers were wise enough to copy this plan, so that no sooner have we recovered from the light and warmth of Christmas than we are plunged into the austerity and gloom of Lent, which is, in turn, followed by the triumph and glory of Easter. So are we led from shade to light so that neither becomes unbearable.

Something of all this was in my mind as I made a farewell tour of Sunnyacres. I began by easing off a plank at the well and gazing into the clear depths, with a shudder of distaste for the chlorinated sewage we should be soon drinking. Then I climbed the hill above, caught a foot on a sapling and found myself sprawling on the warm earth. It smelled delightfully of the pine needles all around, so I hitched myself forward till my head was under the tree and gave myself up to a blissful state of semi-sleep. But this was short-lived, for a sparrow discovered an intruder and chiruped to his fellows —

"Come here, come here,

Whereupon, three or four arrived and discussed me thoroughly; presently a rabbit also came to inspect, so I felt that the walk had better be continued. But before doing so the odor of almonds must be traced to its origin. All through my siesta, I had been conscious of it, and almond has always meant elegance to me. We had a housekeeper who always used almond essence for cakes when guests were expected. At other times, vanilla sufficed. Doubtlessly a psychiatrist could make something sinister of this relic of childhood, but I am not conscious of any effect other than a kindly feeling for almond. So now I was thrilled to realize that an acre or two of dead bracken gives an unmistakable scent like almond essence. Note, an acre or two; the odor from a small area is merely sweet, something like that of sweet clover.

Pleased with this discovery, I wended my way toward Mud Lake. The blackberries had been spoiled by the rain and were now depressing little grey masses, but the viburnum bushes above them were beautiful, the leaves crimson and green, the berries a pinky red with here and there a blue one for contrast. The golden-rod was still gaily yellow and everywhere beneath it were the orange aminita mushrooms — poisonous, remember! Some tiny puff-balls were also about. Let me remind you that all puff-balls that are still white inside and cut like cream cheese, are edible; not only edible but delicious.

From the plateau above Mud Lake there is a delightful view. Between two tamaracks at the top of the hill, one catches blue glimpses of the little lake; above it rises a bluff that sweeps around to join the highway near Lake Hughes. On this Autumn day, the hillside rejoiced in the jewel-tones of Fall, mixed with the soft greens of the firs; over all brooded a typical September sky, big puffy clouds floating so close to earth that one felt one could stretch out a hand and touch them. For the thousandth time, I was thankful that Fate had brought me to this ancient and beautiful land. The words, "The true North strong and free", were here fraught with meaning, a meaning we do not always apprehend as we see Canada from the populous cities.

Presently, it was time to join the family, one of whom at least has not yet learned the need to be alone sometimes. According to a recent article by Dorothy Thompson, the ability to be happily alone is the end of all education; if she is right, a lot of people, some of them educationalists, are wrong.

Finally, we have to announce the addition of a blue Persian kitten to our menage. Inevitably, some reader will comment, "I knew she would be a cat woman. Why doesn't she get a nice dog?" Without reviving an age-old controversy, allow me to point out that cat-lovers are in good company. Mohammed and Cardinal Richelieu were lovers of cats, and in our own day, the modern leaders of thought, the movie actors, think highly of cats; witness James Mason and his wife, who travel from continent to continent with a group of cats. Anyway, this one's name is Peter Benito — Benny, for short; and one reason this article is more daft than usual is that all the little girls in the neighborhood have been making visits of inspection since 10 o'clock this morning, and it is now five o'clock. I have just decreed that visiting hours are over — too late to save the article!

Advertising Campaign By Dairy Farmers

The Dairy Farmers of Canada national advertising campaign will get under way in December, stated President Gilbert McMillan, following meetings of the dairy farmers directors in Toronto. . . With 400,000 dairy farmers putting up $300,000, plans call for advertising of dairy foods and regular information services to Canadian housewives regarding the use of dairy foods.

Mr. McMillan pointed out that dairymen realized Canadian housewives had a tough job in preparing three interesting meals each day in line with the family budget. For that reason dairymen were interested in getting across the fact that dairy foods were not only good foods, but economical to buy. Through a new dairy information service to be announced in the near future housewives would be made aware of not only the value but new ways of handling dairy foods.

Two U.S.A. ships, fitted as industrial fairs, will visit world ports.

A Real Home

A real home is made by the home-loving spirit of those it shelters — otherwise it's just a house. But, it is essential that the house be well planned and well built, of the best materials. It assures comfort, and comfort makes the house home-like.

Many of the best homes in this town and county have been built of materials from our yards. Their owners have profited by trading with us — and so may you.

Canadian Radio

MUCH has been said and written of the relative merits of privately-owned and state-run radio.

Here in Canada, with both systems well established, we are in an enviable position for comparison. With some 94 per cent of Canadian homes owning a radio, nearly everybody has views of some kind on the matter. . . But the controversy seems to remain unresolved.

Some people are vitriolic concerning "singing commercials" and what they call "programs designed for the lowest common denominator". Others are equally opposed to what they regard as a "monopoly" or the "artiness" they claim to see in some of the non-sponsored shows.

Many people, however, choose a middle course. They point out that each individual is free to listen to any program he wishes and, well, "live and let live".

And after all, there are certain things which can be done better under one system or the other.

As far as the commercial stations are concerned, they are subject to considerable competition; their existence is dependent on the number of listeners. Thus, they have to produce the best show they can, artistically and technically, that will attract the largest audience. This competition keeps them on their toes at all times.

For the state-run organization, the situation is slightly different. It carries sponsored programs, of course, but one of its functions is to do things which could not be tried by private stations. The production of serious music and drama with fewer time restrictions, educational programs and the presentation of native talent in all spheres, are among things more easily done under the less rigorous limitations of such a system.

In the final analysis, few people would advocate nothing but commercial radio; few listeners would wish the removal of the competition provided by private stations.

The set-up is not perfect, but Canadians have the reputation of striking a favorable mean. Have we achieved this in the realm of radio?

Bargains Galore

SO YOU THINK the cost of living is pretty steep? — asks that bright little trade leaflet, "Ediphone Voice-Writing". Maybe you'll feel better about things after reading this list of prices just received from a Moscow correspondent. White bread is 68 cents a pound; potatoes, 10 cents a pound; butter, $5 a pound; rice, $1.67 a pound; pork, $4 a pound; milk, 38 cents a quart.

If you want a new suit, be ready with $277.25. Shoes are $85, and a woman's suit is $128.75. A woman's dress costs $111, while her shoes set Dmitri back $87.50. A portable typewriter is a buy at $249.50.

By American official calculations, wages in the country average something less than $150 a month. These prices (it is added) came into effect as a result of recent price cuts.

Demolition!

WE ARE not complaining . . . but if our pages appear with fault and blemish this week, we plead some justifiable excuse. The fault is likely due to mental distraction; the blemish due to rubble on our type-forms. . .

The fact is, The Watchman Office is in a state of demolition, making way for a larger and more modern building. The rafters are being literally torn from above us. The editorial desk is a shambles; the linotype operator suffers cold chills, through the gaping apertures that surround him; the make-up man has splinters in his hair and plaster down his neck; and the pressman has debris in his ink and on his rollers. Our telephone and light circuits are intermittently broken. . . So altogether, we labor under difficulties; these are the veritable "growing pains".

And the worst is yet to come. So readers and advertisers will kindly bear with us in the trials that beset our future issues.

Decentralization

CANADIAN towns and smaller centres are good places for industry to settle, according to a resolution passed by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce at its 21st annual meeting held in Banff, Alberta, just recently. In this resolution entitled "Decentralization of Industry", it was pointed out that there is a trend in North America toward decentralization; getting away from the big centres of population into the smaller communities. This is due to the proximity of smaller towns to important new markets, and the increased efficiency, improved public and human relations which can be achieved in towns, the resolution stated. Also decentralization is desirable from a defence and strategic viewpoint.

The resolution urged its members to pursue a policy of decentralization where economic and engineering surveys indicate that it is desirable. It also recommended that the Dominion Government proceed without delay to decentralize war industries, in order to reduce the potential danger from bombing or sabotage.

THOSE WHO only like work if they can watch it, have had a field day in Toronto since the huge subway construction has been creeping, block by block, up Yonge Street. One day last week 1,250 were counted busily "watching work" at the most northerly excavated section.

Pulp By-Product May Prove Useful In Making Rubber

American Chemists Also Hear Of New Enriched Bread That Speeds Growth

By Alton L. Blakeslee

Chicago (AP)—A waste product from paper-making could boost the supply of synthetic rubber, according to Prof. K. A. Kobe of the University of Texas.

The waste chemical can be turned into a form of styrene, one of the two main ingredients in GR-S (Government synthetic) rubber, he told the American Chemical Society.

Rubber made with it has greater elasticity and other qualities superior to the usual synthetic rubber, he said.

The waste product is para-cymene, a by-product in the sulphite pulping of spruce wood. It can be made into para alpha dimethyl styrene to replace or supplement styrene.

One question, he said, is whether the wood-pulp industry could recover para-cymene at low enough cost for use in the rubber industry.

Enriched Bread

A new enriched bread that speeds growth was reported by Hans R. Rosenberg and Edward L. Rohdenberg of the biological laboratory, Dupont Company, in New Brunswick, N.J.

It contains synthetic lysine, one of the essential amino acids or protein building blocks of muscle, nerve and other body tissues.

Rats fed the fortified bread grew faster than rats eating the bread without lysine, they said. The rats eating enriched bread reached greater weights than those not getting it.

Wheat protein is relatively low in lysine, and milling takes out some of it. Baking does not destroy much of the synthetic lysine added to flour, they said.

A diet adequate in meat, milk, cereals, eggs and bread supplies enough lysine for proper nutrition, the chemists said. But the enriched lysine bread might help humans who needed more of it.

THE WEEKLIES SAY..

PLEA FOR EFFICIENCY

Some day perhaps we will realize that we as individuals and as a nation make more progress by reducing prices by more efficient production methods and wider markets than by constantly raising them.

— Granby (Que.) Leader-Mail

THANK YOU

It is easy to take for granted the services done for one by others. So we would like to say "thank you" to all those who provided transportation during the recent railway strike. Many truckers and bus drivers went out of their way to give courteous service despite the strain of long hours and overburdened facilities.

— Virden (Man.) Empire-Advance

CIVIC FRANCHISE

The next six weeks will see several important election dates. Anyone with an ounce of concern about our civic business should take time to find out how many vacancies there will be to fill on the council and school boards, and what the prospects are for the filling of those vacancies.

— Dauphin (Man.) Herald and Press

COMMUNITY INTEREST

We are happy to see interest in the proposed Carrot River and District Memorial Skating Rink revived. Any project, however large or small, which will directly benefit the whole community, if tackled by all in a co-operative manner, is bound to be successful.

—Carrot River (Sask.) Observer

POLICE COURT ROOM

We don't know who is responsible for providing proper court room facilities, the provincial or municipal governments, or both. Whichever it is, if the police court business continues to boom as in the past few years, some arrangement should be made for more adequate quarters.

— Geraldton (Ont.) Times-Star

IRRESPONSIBILITY

There is one quite serious blemish on the community record, and one which may well cause concern — the untidiness of some properties, and vandalism. There are too many people, old or young, who have not developed a proper sense of pride in the community or responsibility towards it.

—Cochrane (Ont.) Northland Post

LEARNS SCOUTING BY SIGN LANGUAGE

Vancouver (CP) — Five months ago a Scoutmaster approached 13-year-old Pete Chapreon's hospital bed and asked:

"How would you like to become a Boy Scout?"

Pete's eyes glowed and he nodded. He couldn't talk because his throat had failed to develop due to an accident as a baby. He breathes through a metal tube in his windpipe.

Pete took his course by sign language and passed with flying colors.

A Scout commissioner presented him with a neckerchief and a toggle made by his pals from a tree in his native Prince Rupert.

After that comes a series of plastic operations to restore his speech and throat.

POSTER "PIN-UPS" A TRAFFIC HAZARD?

Chelmsford, Eng. (Reuters) — Posters of scantily-clad women, often criticized here on moral grounds, now are assailed as a potential cause of road deaths.

Members of the eastern accident prevention association recorded their strong disapproval of "Jane Russell-type posters on billboards in prominent places near main roads".

Such posters, the association feels, distract the attention of motorists when they should be giving undivided attention to their driving.

NOT QUITE READY

Vancouver (CP) — A proposed $200,000,000 subway system for the city, to provide swift mass transportation and distribution of commuters between business and suburban districts, has been shelved temporarily by the civic board of works. General objection was that the plan calls for a population of some 2,000,000. The city's present population is 386,000.

Farmers Too
know the immeasurable benefits of water supply and waste-disposal. No barn is MODERN without running water. No dairy can operate efficiently on hand-pump methods.

Pumping Systems

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hartley spent the week-end at their summer home. On their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Paintin and Mrs. S. Armstrong, who have spent the holiday season at the residence of their niece, Miss Olive Hartley.

Mr. Eddie Whelehan and son, Bobby, of Montreal, were guests of their aunt, Miss M. Whelehan, for the week-end.

Miss Mildred Douglas, of Montreal, was the guest of Mrs. Wm. Usher on Saturday; on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. R. Robinson, of Lachute, were guests of Mrs. Usher.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prior returned to Montreal after spending a week's vacation at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Danford and son, Hugh, of Montreal, spent Thursday at their summer home.

Mrs. J. D. Weir is spending this week in Guelph, Ont., as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cutten.

Mrs. S. Stalker and family, who have been guests of Capt. and Mrs. T. W. Weir, returned to the city last week-end.

Sgt. Martin Akenson, of Ottawa, spent the week-end with his wife and family.

Wed at Brownsburg

Franche - Fisher

The marriage of Evelyn Erma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney B. Fisher, of Brownsburg, to Mr. Gilles René Franche, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edouard Franche, of Hawkesbury, Ont., took place on Saturday morning, September 23, at 11 o'clock — Rev. l'abbé Coursol officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin with tight-fitted bodice, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and a full skirt. Her floor-length veil of nylon was held by a coronet, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Patricia Fisher, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, wearing a gown of blue taffeta, a headdress of roses, long white gloves and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. Arthur Gagné, of Lachute, cousin of the bride, acted as best man for the groom.

The bride's mother wore a street-length dress of printed navy blue crepe, with black accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother was unable to attend.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, and later the happy couple left on a motor trip to Cornwall, Ont., and the United States. They will reside in Brownsburg.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. B. Bazinette, Mr. and Mrs. L. Fortin and Mr. and Mrs. J. Goulet, all of Cornwall.

Snapshot Treasure

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"What lovely pictures you have of your children", Mrs. Blake said almost enviously to her neighbor, Mrs. Brown, "You must have a real knack with a camera! I can't get our Jimmie to stay still long enough to get a snap of him. The few pictures John and I have taken have been a waste of money".

"I've had my picture failures too", Mrs. Brown said quickly, "But my husband and I both wanted a picture record of our youngsters from their earliest years, so we made a hobby of finding out some rules for amateur photographers, and some secrets about taking successful pictures of children.

Any parent who wants to take snaps of his child but hesitates because he feels so green at picture taking should invest in a helpful simple handbook such as the Canadian Kodak Company's "How to Make Good Pictures". A public library usually has several books and magazines on photography too. The basic rules for picture taking include such details as:

Keep your camera perfectly still when you click the shutter.

Be the right distance from the object you are taking.

Do not "shoot" into the sun — have the sun behind you.

Keep your lens clean and fingers away from it.

Turn your film to the next number immediately after taking a picture.

Watch your background! Do not let it compete for attention with the objects you are taking. A figure in light clothes against a dark background, is a good plan.

Use your imagination to avoid mistakes — a tree branch which seems to be sprouting out of a person's head looks ridiculous. So does a "feet first" shot where the laws of perspective have been forgotten — the soles of the shoes appear enormous compared to the size of the rest of the body.

These and other mechanical details can be quickly mastered. One of the most valuable things for an amateur photographer to do is to discover why some of his snapshots are so poor. Ask a friend who is experienced at photography or even the man who develops your pictures, what was the reason for a blurred or unsatisfactory picture — then don't make the same mistake twice!

Children are born actors. They lend themselves to informal action shots. Don't take stiff, unnatural pictures of a child and his chums standing at attention in a straight line, staring at the camera. Always have your camera loaded, ready for an unexpected shot.

Pictures, taken at any season of the year, which tell a story of happy days give pleasure to all who see them. They are priceless treasures to parents in the years to come. How grandparents and fond relatives love snapshots slipped into a letter. What joy a picture can give! The investment in a camera and film, the time and study and patience necessary to master the art of taking pictures are small indeed compared to the pleasure snapshots can give now and with the passing years.

Blood Donor Clinic in Lachute Today

A Red Cross leaflet publicizing these clinics states as follows:

"It's a wonderful feeling to know that — 30 minutes of your time and one pint of your blood make the difference between LIFE and DEATH. On the very day you give a pint, it may be rushed to someone for an EMERGENCY transfusion — or it may be dated and tagged and sent to a hospital ready for instant use when needed. . . No CHARGE will ever be made for blood or blood products in hospitals serviced by the Red Cross. . . You are LUCKY to be living in a community that has a blood program; it protects YOUR NEIGHBOR and YOUR OWN FAMILY. — Enroll as a Red Cross BLOOD DONOR.

The local clinic, in Lachute Auditorium basement, is continuing this evening (Thursday) from 6.30 to 8.30 o'clock.

Late Mrs. W. MacVicar Mourned by Friends in Brownsb'g District

Mrs. Walter W. MacVicar passed away at her home in Brownsburg on Tuesday, September 19. The former Elizabeth Ann Armstrong, daughter of the late Robert Armstrong and the late Sarah Patterson of Lachute, she was in her 75th year at the time of her death.

The funeral service was held in the United Church, Brownsburg, with the Rev. S. J. Pike officiating, assisted by the Rev. C. H. Maclean and the Rev. John Armstrong, nephew of the deceased.

The late Mrs. MacVicar was a steadfast supporter of all good causes in the community. She was an honorary member of the Senior Women's Association in the United Church, having joined the Methodist Church Ladies' Aid about 38 years ago and maintained her membership ever since.

With her late husband, who predeceased her four months ago, she lived in the community for over 50 years and they celebrated their golden anniversary two years ago.

The late Mrs. MacVicar leaves to mourn her loss one daughter, Mrs. Russel Graham, three sons, John, Robert, and George, all of Brownsburg, also two grandsons, two sisters and six brothers. Her death brings about the first break in the family of nine children, of whom she was the eldest.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Stanley Smith, Edmund Smith, James Hay, Gordon Pollock, Archie Murdoch and Bert Graham. Interment was made in the Lachute Cemetery.

The esteem in which the late Mrs. MacVicar was held was fittingly demonstrated by the many beautiful flowers in tribute to her memory.

PARTY CRASHERS EAT $6 OF FOOD

Johannesburg (CP) — Shortage of the luxury items considered by some people to be essential for good living— and shortage of the cash to buy these articles that are available — are factors that have led to a big increase in gate-crashing at local parties. So brazen have the uninvited guests become that hostesses are taking special measures to keep them out.

A caterer who does a lot of work for private parties now puts a member of his staff at the front door to check on the guests. He said that not for many months has his check tallied with the list provided by the host.

The first figure is for simple cocktail parties and the other for de luxe buffet suppers. These prices are for food only.

Depending on what he drinks, the gate-crasher's cost in alcohol ranges from 4s 6d. to 15s.

PLUGGING KNOT-HOLES

Edmonton (CP) — There are 24 police on duty around Clarke Stadium when Edmonton Eskimos play home games. There are nine city police outside to direct traffic and maintain order. Inside, there are 15 special constables to patrol the fence to keep out non-paying guests.

FIRE SWEEPS PAPER

Arnprior, Ont. (CP) — Fire swept through the offices of the weekly Arnprior Chronicle, heavily damaging equipment. The week's edition of the paper was off the press and mailed and the employees were out to lunch when the fire started. Presses, typesetting machines and other equipment were damaged, as was an apartment above the office.

Around the Home...

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man."

Wonder how many follow this practice? I can't help thinking there would be a marked improvement in man's dealing with man if we all did. It would be equally hard to imagine people of this calibre living in houses that were not attractively landscaped. A few well chosen and artfully placed shrubs will work wonders in transforming the appearance of your property. Right now is the time to transplant them.

Wipe Your Feet

I suppose it is only human nature to put off until tomorrow what you don't feel like doing today! One job I have been avoiding in my own back yard must be done at once, if for no other reason than to keep the housekeeper happy. Invariably dirt tracks into the kitchen on my shoes after a session in the garden, even though I try to be careful. A shoe scraper at the back door is the answer and it will have to be installed before a visit to a marital relations board is involved. I plan to make mine out of an old hoe blade.

Indoor Gardening

Now that the thoughts of the gardener will soon be turning indoors, here are two ideas I'm working on. My picture windows do frame a picture in summer while the garden is in bloom but present a dreary sight at times during the garden's off season. By making a large fernery, I'll be able to enjoy an indoor garden all winter this year. The other ideas is one I dug out of a magazine recently. If you enjoy making miniature dish gardens try the idea illustrated for your container.

Record Cabinet

If you have an old piano that has finished its period of usefulness, don't scrap it but make a cabinet for records or books out of the frame. By using the old wood and giving it a new finish you'll be surprised at the attractive case that can be made at reasonable cost.

Radio "Teachers" in Action

With the return to the air of the National School Broadcasts on Friday, October 6, at 9.45 a.m., CBC producers are busy lining up actors and actresses to bring the dramatized scripts to life. Here's a typical group caught during a rehearsal for a school program in the Toronto studios at the close of last season's series. Left to right are Don Harron, Peter Mews, Alex McKee, Alan King and Frank Peddie. In the control room are Kay Stevenson, who has produced a great many programs for classroom listening, and R. S. Lambert, Supervisor of School Broadcasts for the CBC.

WHAT IS THE COST OF A "B of M" LOAN AT SIX PER CENT A YEAR?

Well, the answer's pretty surprising. If you borrow $100 from the Bank of Montreal, and repay it in twelve monthly instalments, the interest comes to just 27 cents a month. You pay interest only on what you still owe.

From time to time an occasion may arise when it's wise to borrow — so long as you can get fair terms. You may have some major purchase you wish to make, which will be much more economical if you pay cash. Or you may have doctor's and hospital bills to clear off. Or you may be offered a business opportunity that calls for a down payment. If you need money for a good purpose, and are in a position to repay out of income, you'll find helpful assistance at the B of M.

Donald Hay, the local manager, will be happy to talk over your needs with you — in complete confidence, of course. Lending money is his business, and he deals with all comers according to the bank's guiding principle: "When you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favor".

By special concession of the Minister of Trade and Commerce, a limited number of paper-bound copies has been set aside for ministers of religion, bona fide students and school teachers, who may obtain copies at the nominal price of $1. each. Applications with remittances for paper-bound copies must be forwarded to the Dominion Statistician, Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa.

Local Couple Pledge Vows In Pretty Ceremony At United Church

Gordon - Campbell

The marriage of Christina Elizabeth (Betty), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Stuart Campbell, of Lachute, to Mr. Kenneth Ian Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Archibald Gordon, also of Lachute, took place here on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, the Rev. W. B Rosborough officiating. Mrs. Kenneth McOuat played the wedding music and Miss Faith Holtby sang during the signing of the register. Autumn gladioli were used to decorate, with white gladioli on the altar.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of ivory slipper satin, with a fitted bodice, having a curved, swathed neckline and sleeves ending in points over the hands and a bouffant skirt, fashioned with a full back panel, falling into a train. her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held by a bandeau of satin and she carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white gladioli blossoms and Rapture roses.

Mrs. Mark Walsh, of Shawinigan Falls, Que., as matron of honor, and Mrs. Edmund McFaul, of Lachute as attendant, were in Period frocks of satin, with bodices having portrait neckline and jackets and full skirts fashioned with pleats at the back, the matron of honor being in bronze and the attendant in gold. They wore bandeaux of bronze and gold ostrich feather tips in their hair, and carried bouquets of bronze and gold chrysanthemums.

Mr. George E. S. Leggett acted as best man for Mr. Gordon, and the ushers were Mr. Stuart A. Gordon, Mr. Thomas A. Stewart, Mr. C. Duncan Duclos and Mr. Alex H. Holden.

Mrs. Campbell, the bride's mother, was gowned in wine silk faille and wore a grey hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of yellow Goldilocks roses. Mrs. Gordon, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of aqua crepe trimmed with sequins, chocolate-brown matching accessories, and a corsage bouquet of bronze gladioli blossoms.

The reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, where gladioli in autumn colors and garden flowers were used as decorations; the bride's table, centred with the wedding cake, was arranged with white asters and yellow and apricot gladioli blossoms.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Gordon left by motor for Quebec and Vermont, the bride travelling in a suit of forest green gabardine and wearing a matching hat, brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of orchids.

"Let God Be True"

— Romans 3: 3-4

We, according to His promise, look for a new heaven and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. — II Peter, 3: 13.

For Christ must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that he shall destroy is death. — I Corinthians, 15: 25-26.

Of what will the new earth consist? The Bible shows that the present wicked rulers and their organizations will be replaced by an organization of princes who will rule the earth in justice. These princes will include men who proved their faithfulness to God from Abel to John the Baptist. All such received a good report because of their faith, but have not as yet received their reward. (Hebrews 11; Acts 2:29, 34). Their resurrection will be to life on earth, not heaven. (Matthew 8:11, 11:11; Daniel 12:13). Among such will be fleshly ancestors of Christ Jesus whom he will make princes in all the earth. — Psalm 45:16.

Under the rule of these princes the original purpose of God in creating the earth will be realized: all the earth will become a paradise filled with righteous creatures who will exercise loving dominion over the lower animals and will serve God in spirit and truth. Peace, health and life will replace war, disease and death.
— Psalm 72; Isaiah 33:24; 9:7. I Corinthians 15:25, 26.

Find out more about God's wonderful promises for the righteous New World by starting a search of the scriptures. Send for the New World translation of the Christian Greek Scriptures; also the beautiful book, "Let God be True". $1.85 for both books. — 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto, Ont.

John Fisher Known as "Canada's Best Booster"

Lawyer, newspaperman, broadcaster, writer — is John Fisher, Canada's "Roving Reporter", who will be heard in Lachute next Thursday. His background is as Canadian as the man himself. His family came to New Brunswick in the 1780's, as United Empire Loyalists, and distinguished themselves in church, state and industry. A great-uncle was Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada; his maternal grandfather, a well-known Anglican cleric and orator; his father is president of a nationally known firm of stove manufacturers.

Since his first coast-to-coast broadcasts in 1943, Mr. Fisher has gained increasing popularity and stature as a Canadian interpreter. Winner of the Beaver Award for "Best Canadian Commentator", John Fisher also has been awarded twice the La Fleche Trophy for "Distinguished contribution to Canadian radio". Recently he was voted "Canada's best booster" by the nation's editors and radio broadcasters. On March 7, 1950, Mr. Fisher was given an Honorary Degree, Doctor of Laws, by the University of Western Ontario, London.

In connection with this program, its sponsors, the Lachute Women's Institute, have procured the services of the popular Brownsburg Male Quartet.

Preaches Farewell Service At Weir Anglican Church

(Our District Correspondent)

Weir, Que. — On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Church of the Redeemer was well filled with members and friends to attend the Rev. G. R. Barnett's farewell service. Mr. Barnett has spent the past 18 months in this community, and has been highly respected by all who knew him. Though friends regret very much his departure, all join in wishing him success in his new field of labor. The Rev. Barnett leaves shortly for Calgary.

"Singing Kettyles" At Closing Service

This Friday night brings to a close the special evangelistic and Bible-teaching services being conducted by the Rev. Wm. Dynes, of Toronto, at the Lachute Baptist Church.

Special singing will be featured at the closing services, Thursday and Friday, at 8 o'clock. On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kettyle will sing several gospel selections.

One and all are cordially invited to hear this able preacher of the Word, and also the gospel singers.

Annual Divine Service Of Orange Order

(Our District Correspondent)

Grenville — Members of the L.O.B.A. and L.O.L. in Grenville and district, with visitors and juvenile members from other parts of Argenteuil County, Buckingham, St. Eugene, Ont., and Cassburn, Ont., gathered Sunday afternoon for their annual divine service at the United Church in Grenville.

The service was conducted by the Rev. A. G. Moore, assisted by the Rev. P. R. Stote, of St. Matthew's Anglican Church. The Rev. Mr. Moore in his sermon emphasized the duties of the Orange Order as a religious organization, basing his remarks on the Book of Joshua (chap. 2).

After the service the members of the Association, preceded by two pipers from Montreal, paraded to the Grenville Consolidated School, where refreshments were served by the ladies of the Order.

Fall Conference of Baptist Churches

The Fall Conference of the Montreal-Ottawa Association of the Union of Regular Baptist Churches (Ontario and Quebec) will be held Thursday, October 5, in the Snowdon Baptist Church, Montreal — the afternoon session at 2.30 o'clock and evening session at 7.45. Special guest preacher at these services will be the Rev. James Norwood, of Detroit.

Organ Recital Tonight, Lachute United Church

Tonight (Thursday) George Little, the celebrated Canadian organist, will play in the Lachute United Church. Mr. Little has just completed a trip to the Maritimes, where he gave several organ recitals and was warmly acclaimed.

As a student of Marcel Dupré, George Little has had the inspiring experience of studying three times each week with the world's greatest organ recitalist. Mr. Little will be able to compete next year for the Conservatoire's highest distinction, the coveted "First Prize". He now holds a diploma of the Ecole Normale de Musique in Paris, in addition to his Canadian degrees from Dalhousie and Toronto universities.

Wedding of Interest to Friends in Weir, Que.

Jemmett - Moore

St. John's Anglican Church, New Liskeard, Ont., was decorated with baskets of flowers on Saturday afternoon, September 16, for the marriage of Lowana Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Moore, and Charles Douglas Jemmett, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jemmett, all of New Liskeard. The Rev. Norman D. Knox performed the double-ring ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. O. R. Craig. During the signing of the register, Miss Winnie Barker sang "Oh Perfect Love".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with old-fashioned lace panels. Her French veil was held by a pleated satin headdress, and she carried a nosegay of red roses and white gladiolus petals.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. G. H. Booth, of Ottawa, as matron of honor, and Miss Muriel Jemmett as bridesmaid. Mrs. Booth wore a gown of light green marquisette with white lace Queen Anne collar, and a picture hat; and Miss Jemmett wore a pink marquisette gown and a picture hat. Both attendants carried nosegays of yellow and white mums.

Mr. Garry Eckensviller was the bridegroom's attendant, and the ushers were Bob McKelvie and Ralph Ewing.

A reception was held in the auditorium, where over 100 guests were received by the bride's mother, wearing a navy silk frock with navy and white accessories. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who wore a navy flowered silk frock with navy and white accessories.

The tables were beautifully decorated with bouquets of flowers, and a lovely three-tier wedding cake centred the bride's table. Members of the Parish Guild of St. John's Anglican Church catered, and a number of the bride's young friends served the guests.

For the wedding trip to North Bay, the bride wore a navy suit with navy and pink accessories, and a white topcoat. . . The young couple will reside in New Liskeard.

Guests from out-of-town attending the wedding included — Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. D. Booth and Mr. Jos. Booth, all of Ottawa; Mrs. Ray Williams, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. E. McCrory, Mrs. D. McCrory, of Timmins; and Mrs. Harry Gillen, of South Porcupine.

Arundel Man Takes Bride at Rosemount

Swail - Gittens

At the Central United Church, Rosemount, at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, September 23, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Edith Kathleen Gittens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gittens, of Rosemount, to Mr. William Swail, son of Mrs. Avis Swail and the late William Swail, of Arundel, Que.

The Rev. Belbin officiated at the marriage. Mr. Juld was organist and Mrs. B. Frampton soloist. Autumn-colored gladioli composed the decorations. The bride's only attendant was Mrs. George Chamber. The best man was Mr. George Chamber, and the ushers were Mr. Sidney Swail, of Arundel, brother of the groom, and Mr. Edward Philibert, of Montreal.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a gown of blush pink slipper satin, fashioned with a lace yoke neckline and long sleeves tapering down to the wrists, ending in points over the hands. She wore a bonnet headdress of tulle illusion edged with lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mrs. George Chamber, the matron of honor, wore a dress of baby blue satin with a Chinese neckline and a hooped skirt. Her headdress was a bonnet of matching satin and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a dress of grey tissue faille, lace trimmed, with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a dress of green crepe with a bead-studded top, with black accessories; and she wore a corsage of yellow Johanna Hill roses.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Rialto Hall — the bridal couple leaving later to motor through the Eastern Townships. The bride wore for travelling a navy blue gabardine suit with accessories of pale blue, and a corsage of red roses.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Baron Smith, of Cornwall; Mrs. Cecile Daoust of Beaconsfield, Que.; Mrs. Wm. Swail, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Swail, Jr., of Arundel; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Swail, of Lachute; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Swail, of Kilmar; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dixon, and Miss Grace Dixon, of Dalesville; and Miss Marion Dixon, of Macdonald College.

In Pusan, South Korea, local Boy Scouts served as traffic directors when the regular police force was sent North to handle the civilian population evacuating the battle areas.

Pies Preferred

History does not record the name of the Chef who, of necessity, made pies of apples instead of meat. His apple pies were so successful that pie soon became more popular as dessert than as a main course dish. The variety of dessert pies has increased until there are hundreds of fruit, custard and gelatine-sponge pies from which to choose.

The homemaker who is able to make good pastry holds the key to popularity in her home and community. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, say that there is no good or bad luck in pastry making. It is accuracy in measuring and care in handling that counts. There are many excellent methods and recipes for pastry. The following modern method of mixing pastry makes it almost failure-proof:

Plain Pastry

3 Cups sifted all-purpose flour (or 3⅓ cups pastry flour), 1½ teaspoons salt, 6 tablespoons cold water, ¾ cup lard or mild-flavored fat.

Mix flour and salt. Remove ½ cup of the flour and blend the remaining flour until the pieces are the size of small peas. Mix in the flour paste, combine until the dough clings together. Chill before rolling. Makes enough pastry for 3 nine-inch pie shells; or 1 double crust and 1 nine-inch shell; or 3 dozen two-inch tart shells.

There are, however, several points which are worth keeping in mind.

Too much flour makes tough pastry.

Too much shortening makes the pastry dry and crumbly.

Too much liquid makes heavy pastry.

Too much handling spoils the tender texture.

It is this last point on which the novice often stumbles. In her efforts to make the perfect pie, she works with the pastry too long.

The pastry is most important in pie-making but it is the filling that gives the pie its character.

These tested recipes should be added to the list of favorites:

Butterscotch Peach Pie

One 9-inch unbaked pie shell, 20-oz. can of peaches, ¾ cup brown sugar, 3 tablespoons butter, 3½ tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon vinegar.

Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Drain liquid from peaches and slice the fruit into the pastry shell. Mix the peach syrup and brown sugar and bring to boil. Melt butter, add flour, salt and cinnamon. Add this mixture slowly to hot liquid and cook until mixture is thick and smooth, about 5 minutes Remove from heat and add vinegar. Pour the sauce over sliced peaches and cover with a lattice of pastry strips. Bake in a very hot oven, 425°F., until done, about 25 minutes. Yield: one 9-inch pie.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie

3½ Cups cooked pumpkin, 1 cup brown sugar, 3 egg yolks, 1½ teaspoons ginger, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon mace, ½ teaspoon allspice, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, 3 egg whites, 2 baked 9-inch pie shells.

Mix pumpkin with ¾ cup brown sugar, beaten egg yolks, spices, salt and milk. Cook in the top of a double boiler until thickened, about 20 minutes. Beat egg whites until stiff, beating in remaining ¼ cup sugar and fold merringue quickly into the pumpkin mixture. Pour filling into the baked pie shells and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., for 10 minutes. Cool and serve. Yield: two 9-inch pies.

Marriage at Brownsburg

Kennedy - Smith

In the United Church manse at Brownsburg, Que., on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the marriage was solemnized of Mabel Eileen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lachlan Smith, of Cushing, and Mr. Joseph Ross Kennedy, of Dalesville. The Rev. S. J. Pike officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ruby Smith, and the best man was Mr. Lloyd Boa.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of aqua blue gabardine with black velvet accessories. Her pearl necklace and bracelet to match were the gift of the groom. She wore a shoulder corsage of sweet peas.

The maid of honor wore navy blue taffeta and a corsage of sweet peas.

A reception was held at the bride's home. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. Kennedy, Mr. Bob Kennedy, of Dalesville, Mrs. W. McAdam and Floyd, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. L. Kennedy, of Brownsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. V. Elliott, of Cushing

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will live in Hamilton, Ont.

DISTRICT NEWS FROM OUR COUNTY CORRESPONDENTS

Cushing

Mrs. Jean Robson, of Montreal, closed her summer home here on Friday, and returned to the city.

Mrs. L. Morrow, of Brownsburg, and son Ernest, of Montreal, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Morrow. Mrs. Wesley Morrow spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Graham, of Lachute.

Wamest congratulations from this community are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, on their recent marriage. Mrs. Kennedy was the former Eileen Smith, of Cushing.

At the Provincial W.C.T.U. convention which followed the Dominion convention in Montreal last week, Mrs. W. Y. King was reappointed superintendent for Anti-Gambling and Mrs. Archie Graham was appointed again as Quebec Page editor for "White Ribbon Tidings".

Mrs. Roy Dobbie accompanied Mrs. J. A. Bradley and son, Ian, also Mr. D. Bradley, of Carillon, to Ormstown on Sunday, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. McComb.

Miss Helen Hoare and Mrs. W. H. Godwin, of Montreal, were at "Glenelen" on Sunday. . . Mr. and Mrs. A. Hoopers of Montreal, also occupied "Cedar Ridge" for the day.

Miss E. Agnew, from Sussex, England, also Mrs. M. Pringle, of Longtown, England, are spending a two weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. Coney. Week-end guests at "Stonehaven" were Judge and Mrs. S. Vardon, also J. Wells, R.C.N., all of Montreal, and Mr. Russel Wells, of Ompah, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. E. Barry and daughter, Bonnie, were Sunday guests.

Guests at Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Fuller's recently were Mr. and Mrs. Croll, Sr. and Jr., of Hudson Heights, also Miss Nellie Hodgson.

Master David Wright, of Montreal, was a week-end guest of his aunt, Mrs. W. Y. King, of "Ingleside".

The Misses Annie and Betty McDowell, also Mr. John McDowell, of Montreal, were in Cushing on Sunday and have closed "Glenifer" for the season.

Frontier W.I. will hold their meeting on the afternoon of October 3, at Mrs. Archie Graham's. The subject is Education; roll-call, "A school I have attended"; contest, "Something made from a yard of cloth". An interesting debate is expected.

Mr. Gerald Cushing and daughter, Sherrie, of Montreal, occupied "Millside Cottage" for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Fuller and son, Donald, were in Montreal on Sunday paying their last respects to Mr. Fuller's aunt, the late Mrs. Effie Greenless. Those in Cushing who remember Mrs. Greenless recall her with love and respect. She was the former Effie Fuller, of the Fuller Road.

Mr. Geo. Burton and son, Scott, spent the week-end with Mrs. Burton, who is the guest of Miss Leila Cleland at present.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Wilson are holidaying in the Maniwaki district.

Mr. and Mrs. L. McGain spent the week-end at their summer home here. Mr. and Mrs. A. Hollingworth, who occupied their cottage during the past week, will visit Mr. and Mrs. Cordoner at Burlington, with their little son Bobby, for this week.

Miss Marjorie Beecher entertained her cousins, Miss Helen Maw and Robert Maw, of Montreal, at the Beecher summer home, "Lilac Lodge", over the week-end. Mr. R. Maw has just returned from spending the summer months with a surveying party in British Columbia.

Mrs. J. Dugan and brother, E. Armour, of Montreal, were guests of Mrs. L. M. Gaston on Wednesday.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Petit De Grat, N.S. (CP)—Alfred F. Boudreau opened a general store here on September 3, 1900, when times were so hard in the fishing industry he had to accept fish in payment. He still operates the store after half a century, keeping the books and taking care of general correspondence.
