

The Lachute Watchman

Home Newspaper of Argenteuil and the Ottawa Valley

VOL. LVIII.

LACHUTE, QUE., APRIL 6th., 1933.

No. 14

Highway Expert Addresses Board of Trade

An interesting evening was spent by the members of the Lachute Board of Trade, when, on Friday last in the Town Hall, the guest speaker Mr. Van Scoyoc, Consulting Engineer, of Montreal, gave a most illuminating and instructive address upon the subject of "Modern Highway Construction". The discourse was illustrated by two films showing varied stages of the methods used in laying a cement-concrete highway, this being a type which is rapidly replacing other road structures because of its durability and its almost negligible cost of maintenance.

The speaker, by way of introduction, noted that his subject might be dealt with from three viewpoints—from that of an economist interested only in finance; or as a contractor interested chiefly in methods of construction; or by an ordinary citizen interested mainly as a user and to some extent also as the payer of the bills. And it was from this last viewpoint that Mr. Van Scoyoc thought his remarks would be most acceptable.

Speed the Great Factor.

Great changes in the past few years have been brought about in highway traffic, said the speaker. Horses very often helped out the "horseless carriages" in the early days of the automobile, but today they play but a small part in taking care of passenger or freight movements. We have come to feel that the controlling factor in modern life is speed, and when the lowest priced car on the market is guaranteed to go 70 miles an hour, and will do even more, there seems to be some justification for this feeling. Speed is here, and the counteracting factor is Safety, which means that on the heaviest travelled roads near our larger centres of population, the thoroughfares must be paved to a minimum width of 30 feet. It means also bridges with a paved roadway at least as wide as the highway at either end, and with at least one sidewalk if the span is of any considerable length. It also means the abandonment of sharp curves and square corners, and the avoidance of grades which do not permit of clear vision for sufficient distance to keep a car under complete control. Possibly more than any of these, it means the provision of a riding surface, with minimum of skidding tendencies, in all kinds of weather throughout the year.

Construction Economy.

Another great factor in Highway Construction is Economy, a true conception of which is much more complex than may at first appear. In all too many cases this is based upon construction costs only.

But after all, the indirect costs are likely to be more important, particularly to the user. We all know there is a wide difference in surface maintenance costs on the various types. Figures were recently compiled for ten of the States in America, where uniform methods of keeping costs make the figures comparable. They show the average surface-maintenance costs vary from $600 per mile per year on gravel, to $123 a mile on cement concrete. The highest individual cost for any one state is $3770.94 per mile per year for Macadam, this being in the State of New Jersey. The lowest is $53 per mile for cement concrete, in Oregon. We have not seen in publication the maintenance costs for Quebec, but in Ontario they vary from $397.08 for gravel to $67.06 for cement-concrete.

Tire and Gasoline Saving.

We all accept the fact that it costs money to buy gasoline, but we fail to realize that on the average it costs for automobile fuel 1.43 cents per mile on gravel and only 1.09 cents on concrete or a difference in cost for this item alone of $21.00 for 5,000 miles, the average yearly use.

Figures reported by the Highway Research Board at Washington, D. C., show that tire-wear on good Macadam roads was from 2 to 17 times as much as on cement-concrete. On poor Macadam it was 56 times as great! The saving in tire cost per vehicle-mile, on concrete as compared with gravel, is approximately 1/2 cent per mile. This means an additional individual saving on a 5,000 mile basis of $25.00 per year. These two items alone mean more to the individual user than his registration fees and gasoline tax combined. To a provincial system with an average daily traffic of only 1500 vehicles, when

(Continued on page 7)

Ladies Curling Club Elect Officers

The Semi-Annual Meeting of Lachute Ladies' Curling Club was held on Monday afternoon, when the election of officers for the coming season took place, resulting as follows:

President, Mrs. John Hay; Vice-President, Mrs. H. Cousens; Treasurer, Mrs. W. McArthur; Secretary, Ms. F. A. Brennan; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. McNeill; The Board, Mrs. E. H. Wilson, Mrs. J. Gall, Mrs. Dr. Drew, Miss Gladys McOuat, Decoration Committee, Mrs. G. Calder Jr.; Miss J. McOuat, Mrs. Anderson. Auditors Miss Riddell and Miss E. Fraser. A hearty vote of thanks was given the past officers.

Vankleek Hill Boy Wounds Companion

While demonstrating how to shoot like cowboys, Lawson Mooney, 12 years old, of Vankleek Hill, recently shot and seriously wounded his companion, Freddie Mullen, also aged 12.

The boys decided to go shooting rabbits. Young Mooney secured a loaded 22 caliber revolver from his father's trunk. On the way to the bush, Mooney decided he would show his chum how cowboys handle revolvers. But apparently the demonstration was unsuccessful for one of the bullets lodged in young Mullen's groin.

He was taken home in a serious condition and was afterwards removed to Ottawa Civic Hospital.

Lachute Golf & Tennis Club

The Annual Meeting of the Lachute Golf and Tennis Club was held on Wednesday evening, March 29th., in the Lachute Town Council Room.

After the annual and financial reports had been submitted, and adopted, the election of officers was held as follows:

President, W. J. Bryant; Vice-President, L. L. Legault; Secretary-Treasurer, Frank A. Scott; Manager, E. M. Jones; Golf Captains, Rev. H. Cousens and W. J. Bryant; Tennis Captain, Fernand Legault; Board of Directors, E. F. Ayers, T. K. Haller, Rev. H. Cousens, J. R. Charron, G. Valois, P. Chabot, G. Puttfoot, P. G. Roy, Gordon McOuat and Eric Middleton.

The Spirit of Sacrifice

If any season should inspire mankind to charity, it is this season of Lent, which foreshadows the supreme sacrifice of Christ for the redemption of men.

A tribute to that epoch in history — to that life and death which marked a stride in man's aspiration to something better — is the sacrifice which is made throughout our modern organizations for the spreading of Christ's message.

We are familiar with many phases of this work, and one branch in particular calls for our co-operation — affords us, in turn, the opportunity to make some small sacrifice in the spirit of the season.

The merit of Church Service Broadcasting is undisputed; the need of assistance is also undeniable. One has only to think of this feature in terms of our sick, shut-in, and isolated human creatures — and consider what it would mean if they were deprived through lack of support, of this only contact with Church fellowship. The thought is enough to impel our generosity.

Ten more days remain, during which contributions may be handed to this newspaper on behalf of the Crown Trust Company's Broadcasting Fund. It is hoped our readers will respond and make this effort worth while. Any amount is welcome, large or small.

Town Council Meeting

The regular meeting of Town Council was held in the Town Hall on Wednesday, Mayor A. Larocque presiding. Aldermen present were, Jno. A. Rice, J. P. McKimmie, C. Miller, J. Speight, O. Laurin, H. Lamarche, Emile Legault, R. Ledoux and G. Raymond.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved and the Financial Report adopted.

Ex. Mayor Dobbie asked permission to erect a new building in place of the sheds in rear of his property on Main St. Mr. Bradford also asked for a permit to build a two-storey house on Robert Street.

Mr. Girouard lodged a complaint of stagnant water lying on the north side of C.P.R. track near the Skating Rink.

Alderman Millar moved that tenders be called for the collection of garbage. Alderman McKimmie seconded the motion and tenders were called for Apr. 18.

On motion of Alderman Lamarche, seconded by Alderman Raymond, daylight saving will come into effect on April 30th, continuing until September 30. Carried unanimously.

A largely signed petition was presented from ratepayers in the East Ward for construction of a sewer drain. Its necessity was fully realized and additional signatures will be secured so that the drain will be executed from the town line and likely continue to Nova Scotia Bank.

Next to South Africa, Canada is the largest gold producer, having come up from $16,000,000 in 1913 to $63,000,000 in 1932 and taken second place from the United States. Engineers in position to be informed are predicting $70,000,000 in 1933 and $100,000,000 within five years.

St. Jerome Mayor Wins Re-Election

Alfred Cherrier, medical veterinary, was re-elected on Monday for the second term as Mayor of St. Jerome by a majority of 340 votes over Leopold Nantel and Eugene Leveille. Mayor Cherrier had 926 votes, Nantel 584 votes, and Leveille 199 votes.

Alderman J. A. Lessard, was elected with a majority of 264 votes, over his opponent Odile Millette.

Alderman Joseph Bastien, was elected with a majority of 252 votes, defeating two opponents in the persons of Charles Aubry and Adelard Lebeau.

Alderman Lucien Gervadeau had been elected by acclamation on nomination day, March 27 last.

Two things we can be thankful for in Canada are the fact that the banks haven't declared a holiday and nobody has shot at the Premier. — Winchester Press.

Curling Club Semi-Annual

The Men's Curling Club met last week for their semi-annual gathering and election of officers. The minutes and reports having been submitted, prizes were awarded for the season's play. One of the most interesting of these awards was, perhaps, the Mackie Senior Cup, which is held this year by Mr. Jas. P. MacKimmie and his three sons. The event of this cup becoming a family trophy was marked by an additional prize from the donor, Mr. John Mackie, and Mr. MacKimmie senior received the gift of a handsome carpet rug.

Officers were appointed for the ensuing year as follows: President, John MacKimmie; vice-president, J. Kilgour Wilson; secretary, Harold McFaul; treasurer, J. R. Charron. The complete presentation of trophies comprised:

Granite Bonspiel—Mr. Haller, Wm. Scott, Wm. Deacon, J. A. Brennan (presented by R. McArthur.)

Stackhouse Cup won by D. J. Bates, Jim MacKimmie, J. Falconer, and J. Gall, skip. (presented by H. M. Gall.)

Mackie Jr. Cup, won by J. E. Walker, P. Valois, E. K. Wilson, R. A. Giles (presented by John MacKimmie.)

Mackie Sr. Cup won by J. MacKimmie, Jno. MacKimmie, W. S. MacKimmie and J. P. MacKimmie, skip (presented by R. P. Fraser.)

Dunany Cup won by A. J. Quinn Jim MacKimmie, R. Todd, R. P. Fraser (presented by J. W. Gall.)

Houston Cup won by F. A. Brennan, G. Valois, E. K. Wilson, R. Charron, skip, (presented by Dr. Drew.)

Tarleton Cup for points, won by John MacKimmie and R. McArthur (presented by Robt. Todd.)

President's Prize, won by Dr. J. H. Mason and E. K. Wilson (presented by the President, W. J. Deacon.)

The more you study a great man's remedy for dull times, the more you wonder what made him great.—Stockton Record.

75 Millions a Year = A National Bill

The gigantic railway problem with which this country is faced demands prompt action on the part of the authorities at Ottawa. The entire situation, as brought to light in the discussions occupying the attention of Parliament during the present session, has revealed a condition that threatens to engulf our Dominion in a morass of debt, from which we will be unable to extricate ourselves unless drastic measures are adopted at once.

The Railway Bill was introduced in the House of Commons by Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, on Tuesday, March 7th. In the course of a statesmanlike discussion of its content he stated quite frankly there would be necessarily some difference in matters of minor detail, but the principles included in the bill were based entirely on the report of the Commission, and suggestions would be welcomed from any part of the House. At the same time Mr. Manion made a strong plea for the exclusion of partisanship from the debate upon so vital a question. He said, "I should like to repeat, and I do it most respectfully, I believe this whole question is so wrapped up with the future development of this country that it should be dealt with on the high plane of strong Canadianism rather than in any sense of partisanship."

An example of how some of our politicians view the situation may be gleaned from the contrasting attitude of Mr. Irvine, member for Westsaskawin, who is recorded in Hansard (of Thursday, March 16, p. 3280) as saying in part:—

In my opinion, Mr. Speaker, the objective of this parliament should be one national railway system, and that system may be evolved in one of two ways. The first method of bringing about one national system of railways would be by having the Canadian National successfully compete with the Canadian Pacific until that road became bankrupt, when it might be taken over at bankrupt prices. So far as I know there is only one other way to face the facts as they are and conscript or expropriate the Canadian Pacific as it now stands. There is no other course open except the yielding of the Canadian National to the Canadian Pacific, thus losing to the Canadian people the investment they have guaranteed by the assets of the nation.

Another instance of direct partisan and personal influence, is found in the words of Mr. Verville, federal representative for Lotbiniere, who concluded his remarks (Hansard of March 22nd., page 5 of translation) in the following manner:—"I shall vote against the measure . . . finally because it is submitted to the house by the government and its leader, in whom I have no faith."—A more candid confession of political motives superseding the public welfare, cannot be imagined in a public pronouncement.

How strangely these opinions contrast with the note struck by Mr. E. W. Beatty, in his memorable speech before the Canadian Club at Winnipeg:—"I am innocent enough to believe that one can be an officer of a great empire transportation company and still be a reasonably good Canadian—honest with himself and with his fellow Canadians."

Bernard K. Sandwell, F.R.C.S., of Montreal, in writing of the railway situation, asks a relevant question. Have Canadians really stopped to think what might be the situation of this country if the entire annual payment for use of capital in the Canadian Pacific were a fixed and inescapable charge, guaranteed by the credit of the nation, as is the case with the entire annual payment of the use of capital in the Canadian National Railways?

The interest charge on the Canadian National—not including the interest on unearned interest—is 75 million dollars per annum, the majority of that interest charge being due to bondholders outside the Dominion; and it is pledged by the signature of the Government, so that if the C. N. R. ceased to operate tomorrow, the 75 million would still be annually payable, until the end of time, or until the principal as well as the interest had been paid off.

Compare this with the capital structure of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The amount paid out by the railway as remuneration for the use of capital during 1930 was 57 1/2 million dollars. But 38 millions of this was in the form of dividends on stock, common and preferred, on which no dividend whatever need be paid unless

(Continued on page 7)

Free Tickets to Lachute and Brownsburg Pupils

Two Rex Theatre tickets are awarded this week to local High School pupils, the lucky winners being Verna Bates and Shirley Leggett, numbers 41, 151 In Brownsburg School Reports, two lucky numbers 29 and 62 fall to M. Devine and G. Vowles. These pupils may receive their tickets at The Watchman Office. Two passes have been awarded also among pupils of the local College.

The hardest job a kid faces is that of learning good manners without seeing any.

At the regular meeting of the Lachute W. I. on Tuesday of this week, most interesting papers were read on Home Economics by Mrs. Jas. Gall, Mrs. Leggett, and others. The convenor for the pleasant afternoon was Mrs. Stuart Campbell.

The Mission Band of the United Church, under the able direction of Mrs. MacNeill, gave a most interesting program of the May-pole Dance, recitations, dialogues and other missionary items, on Saturday afternoon last which was greatly enjoyed by all present. A silver collection was taken in aid of Missions.

Mr. James W. Gall appeared before the Council in support of a letter from the secretary of the Victorian Order appealing for a special grant from the town. The Order, better known to us as the Red Cross because the ladies of Lachute have done much to maintain this work in town for the alleviation of sickness especially among the poor of our community, is now depleted in funds. Nurse Dixon has done excellent work, but the services have been largely of gratuitous nature, so that funds are badly needed to carry on. The mayor said the Council would give the matter due consideration and results made known at next council meeting.

Mr. Gelinas appeared on behalf of the Retail Merchants Association and spoke for the merchants of the town whose petition had already been read by the secretary, urging that the town should take action in exacting a $200 tax from the chain stores, and outside traders. The Mayor and Chairman of Finance were authorized to secure legal advice on the matter. The secretary was instructed to write the Postmaster-General and also Hon. Sir George Perley, urging re-establishment of the 2c. tax between the upper and lower post-offices, in that Lachute and Lachute Mills are part of each other in all matters pertaining to town interest.

Dunany Cup won by A. J. Quinn Jim MacKimmie, R. Todd, R. P. Fraser (presented by J. W. Gall.)

The more you study a great man's remedy for dull times, the more you wonder what made him great.—Stockton Record.

John McDonald, N. S. Contractor Dies

John R. McDonald, 72, veteran general contractor and builder of churches, died last week at his home in Antigonish, N. S.

Mr. McDonald worked in Montreal for some time, and in his later years constructed several Roman Catholic churches in his native province. Many years ago he resided in Lachute, where the Protestant Cemetery wall and other local structures were erected by him in the skillful execution of his trade. Mr. McDonald was a faithful subscriber to this newspaper.

THE CAPTAIN'S CORNER

For Our Boy Readers

THE CAPTAIN'S WEEKLY LETTER.

"HOME AFFECTIONS"

Dear Boys:—

This is rather a sacred subject to write about. I use the word "sacred" deliberately because, if there is one thing that we talk least of and think most about, it is our home and our feelings in regard to it.

This is as it should be; for we regard our home, not so much as a house or place of residence, but that particular location where we expect to find our Mother and Father and those others who are bound to us by ties of blood. Many years ago I remember a small boy who used to go home from School, call out for his Mother, Dad or brothers, and if they were out, and the place deserted, he would walk up and down outside till they came back. No, he was not frightened at being in the house alone, but unless it was occupied by some member of his family, the place meant nothing to him—it was not home.

As we grow older we realize that there are other homes, equally sacred.—Those we come to make for ourselves, and others provided by dear and valued friends. They become the centre of mutual trust, confidence and service, and for this reason stand out in vivid contrast to all other places that are not homes!

Let us try, all through our lives, to keep the spirit of home affections burning brightly in our lives. Let us always remember that the love of home and home life is a proud and sacred tradition with all British people.

When you are tired with your work and play—

Is it not then that you want to say,

When you come to the end of a long long day—

"Let's go home"!

Your affectionate friend,

THE CAPTAIN.

When the Redskin Ruled

THE CAPTAIN'S SERIAL
STORY OF ADVENTURE

Special to The Watchman

Chapter 13.

"Heroes Make Countries, Cowards break them down."

—Wright.

As the Commander continued to speak, all who were assembled on the deck listened with rapt attention. Even "Sunny Jim" who professed himself weary of such "preaching" as he called it, came under the spell of what he heard.

"That's a real man, Master," he whispered into Edgar's ear. The boy nodded, too intent on what was being said to reply.

At length however, Captain Wainwright brought his remarks to a close with a curt order for the crew, to return to their work and the passengers to disperse. By this time all sign of land had disappeared and the ship was sailing the wide expanse of ocean, her sails close-hauled to catch every bit of breeze there was.

"Let's go down to the cabin for awhile," suggested Walter. "We can unpack some of the things we shall require on the voyage." But Edgar refused to consider any such idea: "What, leave the deck?" he replied with scorn, "Why, we have seen nothing as yet. I have a much better plan. We will explore—Come on, you slacker!" Both boys made their way to the forward part of the ship and very soon looked down onto a lower deck; on this were gathered a crowd of people for whom but the poorest accommodation had been provided.

"Where do all these come from?" asked Edgar in amazement. "I did not see them with us when the captain was making his speech." "Nor I," responded his chum. "I suppose they would not be permitted on this deck." There seemed to be some grounds for the youngster's half-contemptuous remark, for the men, women and children appeared to be of the lowest possible type. Quite a number had dark skins and jet black hair, while others were garbed in costumes such as the boys had never seen before. There were children sitting in groups, playing and often fighting among themselves and receiving but scant attention from their parents. An atmosphere of hopelessness seemed to have surrounded the inhabitants of this portion of the vessel, and very little consideration for their comfort offered by the ship's officers. Indeed the boys were quick to notice, these people were often roughly pushed aside by the sailors who had to pass through them in the course of their duty.

At that moment "Sunny Jim" joined them. "Well, young Masters, I see you are interested in those unfortunates," he remarked, after taking quick notice of the expression on their faces.

"Yes indeed" answered Walter. "We were wondering who they were, and where they come from." "As to who they are, it would be difficult to tell you. And where they come from—well, think of all the countries you have read of in your books, and that will be the answer. But this I can tell you, most of them are slaves and are joining their masters, at the end of the voyage. That is," the speaker added softly, "if they live so long!" The boys turned a questioning glance "Do you mean to say that some of them will die?" "Without a doubt. Do you not know what it is like down there, Master," answered the little man gravely. "Very little food is provided for them, and none too much water; while if we get becalmed for many days and the weather is hot, many will be carried off by disease!"

"Poor people!" Edgar exclaimed with sympathy. "Can nothing be done for them?"

"What would you?—They are but slaves. It is hardly to be expected that all of them will arrive at their destination. In about three weeks there will be plenty of room for those that are left."

It sounded a brutal remark for Sunny Jim to make, but it must be remembered that in the days of which I am writing the lives of people such as these were little valued. Ignorant, and helpless, unable to read or write, they were the victims of their more enlightened masters. These indeed were the dark

AUNT JEAN HERSELF

A Column for the Kiddies (Copyright)

SNOW PATCHES

By Aunt Jean

You lazy ragged fellows, It is time that you were gone, Do hasten away to the river, For I want to rake my lawn. I am sure I saw a bluebird Fly from that hollow post A flash of blue wings, a little song, It could not have been a ghost. Ah no! there's a kill-deer plover Flying right over-head, There's a faint perfume all over, And the maple buds are red. There's a hint of gurgling laughter In the brook, there by the pond, And I am sure in the midst of the lily beds I'll find a pale green frond. Your frosty spell is broken, Your power to chill is gone, Quick march! away to the river, I want to rake my lawn!

NANCY'S PUP

An Uninvited Guest (Cont'd)

They could not see either Bert or the bear, but they heard Uncle Ned talking to someone as he came around the corner of the sugar-house. He was saying, "A bear in the sugar-house? Tut, tut, child! You are surely dreaming."

Seeing the two scared faces framed in the doorway Uncle Ned said jokingly, "What is this I hear? Have you lads been playing bear and scaring Bert?" "No, Uncle Ned, the bear was playing bear himself, I guess, for we all saw him. I hope he has not eaten up all the taffy," Keith laughed a weak little laugh. He had been scared of the bear, and afraid it might attack Bert—so much so that he felt more like crying than laughing.

"The taffy," Uncle Ned said, and went to the dark corner to look. "Sure enough, something has eaten most of the taffy. Not only eaten it but has upset it and filled what is left with leaves and pieces of twigs."

A sniffing sound came from above his head. Billy wanted to come down again but the ladder looked so far away, and the taffy was spoiled.

"Billy," his Uncle said in surprise. "How did you get up there and what is the matter?" "I want to come down and I can't," Billy wailed, "and that beastly bear has spoiled all the taffy."

"We will soon make some more taffy, son," said Uncle Ned. "It's the bother of keeping that bear out that is worrying me. I wonder where the beggar came from. I never had a bear in the sugar-house before." Holding out his arms, he told Billy to jump.

Letting go his hold of the beam Billy shot forward into his uncle's arms, "just like a real little flying-squirrel!" Uncle Ned said, as he held him close before setting him down.

"I wonder how we will get word to Grandma that we'll have to make some more taffy before we can have the party?" queried Bert. "She sent us to tell you to come in early as there was company coming. She might worry if we did not go back soon, and I'm sure we boys are not anxious to go alone." "We will get Uncle Dick to tell her the party will have to be delayed for an hour or so. I see him coming, so I suppose he is the company?" Bert just smiled. Uncle Ned had only guessed one person; he would not tell him about the others.

"We've got a message for you to take to Grandma, Dick," Uncle Ned began, as he shook hands with his brother. "We want you to tell her there has been an uninvited guest at her party and he has eaten all the taffy! So we shall have to make more before we come in."

When Uncle Dick was shown the almost empty bucket and the upset tins. "A bear, no less. Where did he come from?" he exclaimed.

"Must have had his winter bedroom quite near here, and the smell of boiling taffy has awakened him. He had a good feed to begin with anyway. I shall have to keep the sugar-house door shut. One never knows when he might come back for more."

"I don't think you need worry, Ned. He is likely putting as much distance as he can between your cabin and himself right now!"

Billy gave a relieved sigh. He hoped what Uncle Dick said was true. This was his first experience with bears and he did not like it.

Uncle Dick went back to give grandma the message.

"Don't tell Grannie who the uninvited guest was, Dad," called Bert after his father. "We want to have a taffy story to tell when we go home."

"All right, son, I'll keep your dark secret. But don't be too long making your second lot of taffy—or you may have another guest looking for it!"

Billy crept closer to his Uncle Ned. He did not understand Uncle Dick meant only that he might be back himself in search of taffy if they did not hurry. But Uncle Ned noticed the little frightened movement and he understood. Sitting down on a stool before the cheerful fire, he took Billy on his knee. "Close the door, Bert please," he said, this child is shivering."

Billy relaxed against his uncle's broad shoulder and sighed happily. He need not watch the door for fear of a big shaggy body and ugly head, for Black Queen and Major would take them to the house so quickly when they were ready to go that it would take a pretty smart bear to catch them. A sudden fear caught him. What if the bear had got Black Queen!

His uncle felt the sudden tremor that shook his small body. He looked down and saw that Billy's face was chalk-white.

"What is the trouble now, son," he asked holding him quite tightly.

"Black Queen, Uncle Ned, where is she? Won't the bear—?"

"So that is it, eh!" his uncle laughed. "No, the bear won't get Black Queen or Major either. They are quite safe in the shed close by. I always drive them in there out of the wind when I'm boiling sap and have time to take them to the barn. The door is shut tightly, so you will have your drive home with them shortly. The taffy will soon be ready . . . See how the bubbles form when I blow it through the slit in this big wooden spoon. They are much like soap bubbles, only smaller. When you can blow bubbles with your taffy it is ready for the snow."

"May we test it Uncle Ned?" Keith asked.

"You will have to go outside for snow if you do!" said Uncle, days of world history, when the only law was the survival of the fittest, and when "might was right." We have indeed much to be thankful for, that in these happier days Christian love and fellowship make such conditions impossible.

"I think," remarked Edgar after a few minutes of silence, "If you wish Walter, we will go down to the cabin."

To be Continued.

Children's Rubber Knee Boots

All Sizes from 8 to 2 $1.25

Men's Knee-Length Rubbers

Everything for the Sugar Camp

at special prices

John McFaul & Son

Telephone No. 8.

Main Street.

with a twinkle in his eye.

Keith looked at Bert a minute in silence. "Huh! Who's afraid?" he said at last picking up a saucepan and saucer and starting for the door.

As he opened it the cool night air rushed in, and soon the sugar house was filled with steam. Billy could scarcely see the others, it made the place so gloomy, just like a heavy fog on a morning in September. Only this was a sweet sticky fog.

"This taffy tastes like more!" cried Bert. "but we must not be greedy. There'll be lots of time to eat it when we get it to the house. The girls must be waiting anxiously for some."

"I expect they are" said Uncle Ned. "But I am going for the horses now, at least, just as soon as I put this fire out. I always see that the fire is out before I leave; it does not matter whether it is a brush-fire or a picnic camp-fire. Fire is a good friend, but a bad master, and it does not take long getting to be master once you let it get out of bounds. I have seen so many bush fires in my day, caused just through the careless leaving of little fires or the dropping of matches in dry woods, that I have learned to be careful myself. I hope you boys will always be careful too. Don't leave matches or cigarette stumps lying around when you grow up."

"We won't, Uncle Ted! We are never going to smoke cigarettes anyway. Teacher says there is enough nicotine in a cigarette to poison a dog, if it was put in his mouth in the raw stuff. You won't catch us filling our lungs with poison," asserted Bert.

"That's the boy!" Stick to that. You will never repent doing so, for as my teacher used to tell me when I was a little shaver like Billy here—Tobacco empties your pockets, scents your clothes, and makes a chimney of your nose. And it often leads to worse habits, such as whiskey drinking and drugs. The one creates a craving for the other, and between them all; instead of being an able, sound-bodied man, you're a nervous wreck!"

By this time the fire was out, the horses ready, the taffy in the sleigh, and Black Queen was chewing her bit in her eagerness for home and her dish of oats.

Grandma met the boys at the door, looking a little anxious. "What happened to the taffy, boys, that Uncle Ned had to make more? I know he had it all ready, at least he told me he'd have it in good time."

"He did, Grandma, but—but it met with an accident" stammered little Ned. He was not going to give the game away until Uncle Ted came in. Dad and Mother had arrived, and there was a stranger whom Grandmother introduced as Professor Dixon.

"Professor Dixon!" Bert said. "Good! I am going to ask him some questions before I sleep to-night. They say that he can tell you anything you want to know."

"Gee!" said Billy, peeking sideways through the sitting room door, "He must be a cyclo-pedia."

Uncle Dick had great dishes of clean snow ready, and everyone had so much taffy that they felt as sticky inside as the taffy forks were on the outside!

"What's the matter?" questioned Uncle Dick, as Billy set

(Continued on page 7)

How many days in the month do you feel your best? You can add to these sunshine days by simply obeying nature's laws.

The first of these laws is regular elimination. Avoid common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help aid regularity. ALL-BRAN also contains twice the iron of an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much more pleasant than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. Directions on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Groceries

Canned Goods, Fresh Provisions

Grain, Flour, Feed; Preserves—

The need immediately suggests

Campbell Registered

"Old Established and Reliable"

Main Street,

Telephone 50.

Men's Silk, Wool, and
Cashmere Socks, Reg. 75c
Now Clearing at 50c pair

W. Banford & Son

Hardwood Flooring

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY

All grades in stock at our yards,

BETHANY ROAD, LACHUTE

Price $35.00 per thousand and up

Cottingham Supply Company

Phone 29.

Box 623.

Silence is golden—but it never yet made a sale. Use the Watchman Want Ads.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

DR. G. A. CLUNIE, L.D.S.
Surgeon Dentist
Over Dominion Stores
Here Every Day
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

DR. W. M. HOOPER,
Dental Surgeon
235 Main Street, Phone 209.
Lachute, Que.

L. L. LEGAULT, K.C., Barrister and Advocate
295 Main Street, Phone 60.
Lachute, P. Que.

Z. N. RAYMOND, L.L.B.
Notary Public
Telephone 166 w.
281 Main Street, Lachute, P.Q.

GALL & JONES
General Insurance
Phone 95 ring 2
Bethany Street, Lachute.

GAETAN VALOIS, L.L.L.
Notary
Money to loan on security
Depositor of the late J. E. Valois' notary's papers.
Lachute, P. Que.

J. F. LAVIGNE, B.A.,
Public Notary
Municipal, Provincial and Victory Bonds handled
Telephone 178
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

G. GILLESPIE DUNLOP
Formerly of Edinburgh, Scotland
Barrister, Advocate, Solicitor
Practicing in Ontario and Quebec
103 Main Street West
Phone 93, Hawkesbury, Ontario,
Phone 604 r 2, Grenville, Quebec.

PHILIPPE VALOIS,
B.A., LL.B.
Advocate
(Son of the late J. E. Valois)
245 Main Street, Lachute.
Phone No. 81

GERARD RAYMOND
Advocate, Barrister & Solicitor
Insurance Exchange Bldg.
Suite 725
276 St. James St., West, Montreal
Telephones HARbour 2113 and
HARbour 2114
Office at Lachute every Saturday,
No. 281 Main Street,
Telephone 166 w.

SHERIFF'S SALE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned, LANDS and TENEMENTS have been seized and will be sold at the respective times and places mentioned below.

FIERI FACIAS DE BONIS ET DE TERRIS

Superior Court.

Canada,
Province of Quebec,
District of Terrebonne,
No. 4760.

FELIX BOURGEOIS, of Sainte Dorothée, district of Terrebonne, plaintiff; vs. HERMENEGILDE GIRARD, of Saint Eustache, district of Terrebonne, defendant.

As belonging to the said defendant the following immovable, to wit: A farm situate in the parish of Saint Eustache, district of Terrebonne, known and designated under number two hundred and seventy nine (No. 279) on the official plan and book of reference for the parish of Saint Eustache, county of Two Mountains—with the buildings thereon erected, less and to be deducted the lot of land, as fenced in, belonging to Ernest Lahaie, the said farm bounded on the South by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

To be sold at the Catholic parochial church door, in the village of Saint Eustache, district of Terrebonne, on the TWENTY FIFTH day of APRIL, nineteen hundred and thirty three, at TEN o'clock, in the forenoon.

J. W. CYR,

Sheriff's Office, Sheriff.
Saint Jerome, March 18, 1933

WILLIAM ROBERTS
C.P.A., C.G.A.

Certified Public Accountant

Commercial and Municipal Audits

660 St. Catherine St., West
Montreal.

Making History in Argenteuil

Extracted from files of
The Watchman.

50 Years Ago.
Friday, April 13, 1883.

The business started last August by Mr. Hambleton, manufacturing Bobbins, Spools, Skewers, etc. for Dominion trade and export, was put into the hands of a company the other day with a capital of $10,000.

Mr. Chisholm purchased here last week from the Acadia Powder Co., 800 kegs of Blasting Powder for his works on the Kingston & Pembroke Railroad.

St. Andrews. Roads are almost impassable in our village, but the bridge is cleaned off and makes a nice promenade for the young folks, thanks to Mayor Simpson.

The Victoria Foundry, which recently engaged additional hands, is obliged to work night and day to meet increasing business. Messrs. Chapman & Drysdale are also doing a rushing trade, and all our manufacturing establishments appear to be in a prosperous state.

The Government has decided not to alter the existing regulations as to the admission into Canada of American whiskies in bond.

Settlers in Moose Jaw are now agitating for a Post Office. Mr. Alex. McCallum is painting his blacksmith shop.

25 Years Ago.
Friday, April 10, 1908.

A number of young men from this vicinity are going to the States for the spring drive.

Edina. The dwelling house belonging to Mr. Milo Hutchins was burned last week, caused by a spark from the chimney.

Mr. A. Newton of Christieville, was in town this week visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hay and daughter, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Cruise this week.

Inspector Parker made a visit this week to Lachute Academy.

A regular meeting of the Board of School Commissioners included Chairman H. M. Gali, and Commissioners H. J. Giles, G. F. Calder and W. H. Garrettsee.

In a recent copy of "The Scotsman" we are pleased to note one of our old Academy boys, Mr. John Drew, has taken first class honors in the winter session examinations at Edinburgh University, where he is pursuing his studies.

River Rouge. A number of young people enjoyed a moonlight drive to the sugar-camp of Mr. Martin Burwash at Cote du Midi.

How Mafeking Solved its Currency Problem.

The recent auctioning of a Mafeking scrip shilling at a Toronto Scout fund campaign dinner recalls with new interest the way in which Colonel Baden-Powell, the resourceful defender of Mafeking during its siege in 1900, solved the problem of the town's currency shortage. The later originator of the Boy Scouts had printed and signed by his army paymaster a voucher "good for the sum of 1s." and backed by the promise to exchange it for coin "on the resumption of the civil law." At the top of the voucher appeared the Lion and Unicorn of the British coat of arms.

The voucher sold in Toronto reads: "January, 1900. No. A 3266. Issued by the authority of Colonel R.S.S. Baden-Powell Commanding the Rhodesian forces). This voucher is good for the sum of 1s. and will be exchanged for coin at the Mafeking Branch of the Standard Bank on the resumption of civil law. (Signed) H. Greener, Capt., Paymaster."

We advertise - because

we know our Meats, Vegetables, and Canned Goods have the freshness and quality we claim for them.

We invite you to shop here regularly, and share this confidence in reliable foods.

Jos. Speight, Butcher

Fanciful Fables

CUSHING

(Omitted by Error last week)

Mr. George Fuller spent a recent visit in Toronto.

Mrs. J. Innes arrived home from a very pleasant visit with her daughter, Mrs. Dr. H. McGerrigle, of Hanover, New Hampshire.

Miss Frances Douglas was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas.

Mr. Roy Dobbie who has been spending the winter months visiting his sister, Mrs. J. Moss of Oakland, Cal., and his brother, Mr. James Dobbie, of Vancouver, arrived home on Thursday.

Mr. Alton Douglas left recently for Toronto and other points in Ontario.

Mr. Harold Call who has been spending the past few weeks in the hospital, has returned home.

Miss Muriel Cooke spent the week-end with friends in Grenville, and is the guest of Mrs. Walter Mann, of Stardale, Ont., this week.

Miss Janet Watson, of Lachute Road, was the recent guest of Mrs. T. Weir.

Miss Doris Armstrong, of Lachute Road, was the week-end guest of Mrs. W. Canning.

The Board of Stewards' Oyster Supper passed off very pleasantly on Friday night. Owing to postponement and bad roads, the crowd was not so large as last year. But the supper was up to the mark, so was the programme. Mr. and Mrs.

T. Gourley, of Little Rideau, Ont., favored with violin and piano selections which were much enjoyed. The remainder of the program was furnished by our talented local young people, the Misses Dorothy and Helen Weir singing very sweetly in duet, also favoring with piano duets. Miss C. Cooke accompanied, and also favored with a recitation.

Keith Canning pleased the audience very much with several solos as well as describing "Sister's Best Fellow" in a very celled in a vocal solo unaccompanied way. Mary and Walter Starnes favored with piano duets which were much appreciated, and Mr. Roy Dobbie, welcomed on his return from the Coast, was pressed into service, giving one of Harry Lauder's selections "A Wee Doch and Doris."

At the close of this song, Mr. Maclean said that the custom was still followed by giving the guests a drop before they took their departure but in these days we used tea, instead of the inferior stuff of earlier days.

CLEANING AND PRESSING

Work done by hand and guaranteed satisfactory.

Orders called for and delivered, and work promptly executed.

Gents' Suits 75c., pants 35c.

Children's suits and overcoats, from 20c.

D. ROSS & S. PATRON

Top of Hill, near St. Onge Hotel

Brownburg, Que.

A 14-p.

$1,000 FOR NAMES another MYSTERY CAKE

First Prize $250, Second Prize $100, Third Prize $50, 60 Prizes of $10 each

Miss M. McFarlane Created the Recipe for this

MAGIC MYSTERY CAKE

Contest Rules Read Carefully

- Contest is for residents of Canada and Newfoundland only.
- All you do is name the mystery cake. Only one name from each person.
- PRINT at the top of your paper in ink (or typewrite) "Miss McFarlane's Mystery Cake." Under this, print your suggestion for a name. Then, in the lower right-hand corner, print your own name and address, clearly and neatly. Do not use pencil.
- Do not send the cake itself—just the name and your own name and address. It is not essential to bake the cake to enter the contest.
- Members of our own organization or their relatives are not eligible to take part in this contest.
- Contest closes APRIL 30, 1933. No entries considered if postmarked later than April 30 midnight. No entries considered if forwarded with insufficient postage.
- Judges: Winning names will be selected by a committee of three impartial judges. The decision of these judges will be final.
- Prize winners will be announced to all entrants within one month after contest closes.
- In case of a tie, the full amount of the prize money will be paid to each tying contestant.
- Where to send entries: Address your entries to Contest Editor, Gillett Products, Fraser Avenue, Toronto 2.

NOTE: Other Magic Mystery Cakes coming! Watch for them in later issues of this newspaper.

Get busy . . . Join the thousands of Canadian women taking part in these fascinating contests

HOW about putting an extra $250 in your pocketbook? Name this Magic Mystery Cake. Perhaps you'll win that first prize!

Miss M. McFarlane worked out the recipe for this month's mystery cake. It's simple and economical. You'll like its delicious flavor, too! Read the recipe through. Then try to think of the very best name you can to describe it.

Better still—make the cake yourself, if you like. And be sure to do as Miss McFarlane advises—use Magic Baking Powder.

Other well-known Canadian food experts share Miss McFarlane's high opinion of Magic. In fact, the majority of them use and recommend Magic exclusively because it gives consistently better results.

Make up your mind to enter this Magic Mystery Cake contest right now. Try to win one of the 63 cash prizes.

Here's Miss M. McFarlane's Recipe . . . can you name it?

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter
1 cup sugar (granulated)
2 cups pastry flour (or $1\frac{1}{4}$ cups bread flour)
3 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup chopped walnuts
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup strong coffee (strained and cold)
3 egg whites
Cream butter thoroughly; add gradually sugar creaming well with butter. (Note:—It is the thorough beating and blending of these first ingredients that lay the foundation of the final texture of your cake.) Measure dry ingredients—sift together twice. Add dry ingredients alternately with the strained cold coffee. Beat thoroughly until all ingredients are evenly blended. Add chopped walnuts. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour batter into greased pans—filling only two-thirds full. Bake in oven 350° F. for 25 minutes.

FROSTING: Have ready 1 cup icing sugar (or more). Cream 3 tablespoons butter with 2 tablespoons of this sugar; add 2 tablespoons strong coffee. Sift remaining sugar with 1 tablespoon cocoa (dry). Add to butter. Beat till light and fluffy. (Note: To have icing with a smooth glaze—use liquid hot.)

When you bake at home

the new, FREE Magic Cook Book contains tested recipes for dozens of tempting dishes. Send for it. Address Gillett Products, Fraser Avenue, Toronto 2.

The Watchman

and

OTTAWA VALLEY

ADVOCATE

Published at Lachute every Thursday

J. S. Giles, Editor & Proprietor

Subscription Rate per annum—
In Canada—$1.50.
In United States—$2.00.

Notices of Entertainment, Concerts,
Announcement, etc., 10 cents count
line. Minimum 50c.—if billed 60c.

Want and For Sale advertisements,
10 cents per count line, minimum 50c.
—if billed 60c.

If replies are directed to Watchman
Office 25c. extra charged.

Cards of Thanks, In Memoriam Notices, Births, Marriages and Deaths 50c. With each verse additional—25c.

Note:—When estimating, count
every six words or fraction thereof
as one line.

(Note:—All locals advertising any event from which there are financial proceeds will be charged at the above
rate.)

RADIO COMMISSION

SPEAKS AGAIN

Criticism has been directed toward the Radio Commission in its early stages—but this was to be generally expected; no worth-while enterprise ever succeeded without it.

Some critics have attacked it on the grounds of expense; others on the nature of its functions. Among the latter, the Judge Rutherford broadcasts have excited perhaps the most heated comment. Any who have taken the trouble to learn the facts of this case, however, will agree that the Commission has acted within its legitimate province and no more.

This column has given credit to the Commission in its preliminary achievements. It is further interesting to note a regulation will now limit advertising in radio programs; in no case will direct advertising be permitted to exceed five per cent of the broadcast. . . And at the receiving end of radio, we believe there are few, very few, who will condemn this regulation. There was never a move more desperately needed.

ATTACKING A PROBLEM

FROM WRONG ANGLE

C. P. R. and C. N. R. police are being reinforced by the Royal Canadian Mounted in a campaign to rid the trains of hoboes. Every sympathy is entertained for the railway companies, who have suffered as much as either the municipalities or individual citizens from this travel-craze of our unemployed. The problem is one of nation-wide concern, but the fever which has obsessed our youthful transients—who find adventure more easy to obtain, and often more attractive than work—will be difficult to subdue. The travel-craze is a prevalent evil. Spring is at hand, and it is likely the railways' campaign will only divert this undesirable traffic to the highways, thereby shouldering the inconvenience onto our motorists and truck-drivers.

THE LAST WORD IN

"CIVIC WELCOME"

(Contributed)

"Welcome to our town . . ."
In any community, the first impression of friendliness and cheer to a newcomer, will last forever; but if, on the contrary, that impression is to the detriment of the community, the new settler will remember only a place of gloom, and lacking interest.

Whether it be the cover of a book, an interview of strangers—or the settling of a family in a town, that first impression must be one of appeal, in order to make a solid foundation of appreciation.

Mayor Ralph H. Webb, of Winnipeg, knows how to do it, and other cities and towns would do well to follow his idea.

Mrs. B. is a stranger in Winnipeg. After a day, the mail discloses an envelope from the city hall. The newcomer wonders whether it is a summons, a bill, or a notice of taxes. The letter is opened, and a neatly printed sheet first attracts her attention. "Why, it's signed by His Worship . . . Hm.—what is it all about?" And further perusing the letter she comments again, "Hm—this is rather a nice welcome."

The reader learns that "Miss P." is coming to extend personal greetings from the city, and to assist in any way possible. Every advantage is to be found; educational facilities here are unsurpassed anywhere in Canada; electric light, heating and transportation systems (she is told) are second to none; parks and playgrounds perfect in all seasons; the people are naturally hospitable and neighborly; and the climate is conducive to both health and happiness. The city business institutions are full of energy and optimism, ready to be of service; and the various churches are glad to extend their welcome. Concluding, it will afford pleasure to help in any way towards the comfort of the new citizen, in the hope this town will be her permanent home.

"My gracious," exclaims Mr. B. "this is just the place I have been looking for!"

After a while the said "Miss P." arrives to extend greetings on behalf of the city. This person is, of course, attractively dressed and prosperous looking, with a personality which speaks of her joy in the duty she is performing. Besides bringing her message of welcome, she carries a parcel, containing samples from the various stores catering to the public in everything from silk stockings to pork sausages. There are free samples of tea, butter, milk, biscuits, bread, etc. There is a free taxi ride, a month's subscription to a library, and a complimentary meal at a leading restaurant.

—Mrs. B. will never forget her first impression of Winnipeg, and the cheerful welcome she received.

This style of welcome is not restricted only to large cities. The smaller towns may well take

SUCCESSFUL CALF CLUB

1932

The Annual Meeting of the Lachute Boys and Girls Calf Club was held on Saturday afternoon, April 1st, and in spite of the inclement weather a large number were present.

The first business was the payment of prizes for the year 1932. The following is a list of the winners:

Janet Boa $19.26; Leodas Ouellette $17.75; Margaret Murdoch $11.75; Norman Bradley $12.25; Willie Boa $10.50; Gordon Bradley $10.25; Willie Murdoch $10.25; Lexie Tittle $10.25; Donald Clark $8.00; Howard Doig $7.75; Kenneth Kettle $7.75; Jeannette Lacasse $7.75; Milton Tittle $6.50; Eddie Duncan $6.25; George Dorion $6.25; Keith Boa $6.00; Remi St. Jacques $5.75; Douglas Dixon $5.75; Clifford Armstrong $4.75; Rene St. Jacques $4.50; Gladys Berry $4.25; Alberta Dorion $4.25; S. Noble $4.00; Russell Noble $3.75; Lucille St. Jacques $3.75; Keith Tittle $3.75; Lester Ward $3.50; Gerard Maisonneuve 25c.

Mr. J. P. Fleury of the Federal Dept. of Agriculture was present and spoke of the splendid work that had been done during the past years by the farm boys and girls of this district. Mr. Fleury made special a lesson from this enterprising example, and through the co-operation of citizens, merchants, council, churches and other institutions, a solid foundation may be laid for future citizenry.

(Continued on Page 5)

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, April 5th.—What amounts to an evasion of the sugar tax to the tune of $5,000,000, is engaging the serious attention of the federal government these days. If facts are as serious as early reports suggest, a quarter of a year's supply was hurriedly secured by wholesalers, and for the next few months a wide section of the Canadian public will be paying two cents a pound tax on sugar which the wholesalers were able to get from the refiners tax-free. In other words the public will pay some five million tribute, not to the federal treasury, as was intended, but to sugar dealers clever enough to outwit the plans of the government.

As to charges of a "leak" in budget news several days in advance there is no official information available at Ottawa, but the manner in which, on budget day itself, certain wholesalers, notably at Vancouver, were able to circumvent the tax, is pretty well known. The news got out at Ottawa about 3.30 p.m. and was immediately broadcast far and wide. Out at Vancouver, because of the difference in time, it was only 12.30 noon. The tax did not become effective until midnight. Thus the sugar dealers had 12 hours in which to "load up." They are reported to have hired fleets of motor trucks and got busy.

The department of national revenue is considering ways and means of meeting this evasion. One idea is that the tax be made retroactive, so as to apply from March 14th, the week before the budget. Another suggestion is that in future the budget speech be delivered in the evening, instead of at three in the afternoon.

Beauharnois Goes to Holt?

A stir has been created here by the claim that the Beauharnois power project, built with the intention of breaking the power monopoly in Quebec, is soon, by a re-organization process, to pass into the hands of the Holt group, which will then become the most powerful Hydro monopoly on earth. Beauharnois was in difficulties to secure money to complete the work. Except for an American group which Premier Bennett turned down, the Holt interests were the only ones who could supply the cash.

Under the reorganization, it is said, there will be 762,000 shares of common stock, the holders of which are to control the new company. Montreal Light Heat and Power (a Holt company) gets 200,000 of these as a bonus for underwriting $13,500,000 of bonds, which provide the money to complete the project. With these bonds go another 240,000 shares. Thus the Holt company will have 440,000, and control.

Farmer Gets Short End.

Sensational news evidence in the milk inquiry being conducted by the agricultural committee shows that at a time when farmers are netting a little over two cents a quart, the average officials' salary of a Montreal subsidiary of Borden's Ltd. of New York is $2,765. The treasurer was getting $8,000, while the president and the vice-president each received in 1932 a salary of $13,500. The gross profit of the company last year was $155,734.27. Its capitalization rose from $299,000 in 1914 to $500,000 in 1921 and $1,500,000 in 1930. Of recent months, according to witnesses, a farmer has been receiving at most a few cents a day for his labor.

When a consumer pays a dime for a quart of milk, where does it go? Evidence submitted by E. H. Conklin, general manager of Borden's Farm Products Co. indicated the following:

The farmer got	2.15 a quart
Handling charges at depot	.46c.
Transportation to city	.64
Pasteurization etc.	1.19
Selling & delivery	4.12
Bottles	.19
Income Tax	.08
Net profit	.68
Unaccounted for	.12
Aver. selling price	9.63c

Lachute High School

Reports

Grade XI, Eng. Composition.

A- P. Beveridge, L. McCallum, L. Canning, G. Robinson, J. Wales.

B+ E. King, R. Stephens, L. Walker.

B A. Hooker.

B- H. Beveridge, E. Foreman, D. McFaul, C. Murdoch, M. McVicar.

C+ M. Berniquier, E. Campbell, G. Hadley, G. MacQuaig, E. Morrow, A. MacPhee, M. Robinson, E. Rodgers, E. Martin.

D+ M. Gordon, N. Jackson, M. McQuat.

D O. Stanforth, M. Langille, W. Silvester.

D- J. Black, G. McFaul, Geo. Robertson.

Grade X, Geometry.

A+—100% G. Morrison, S. Morrison, A. Rosborough.

A+ E. Davis, R. Hadley, J. MacKenzie, S. Roberts, M. Walker.

A V. Bates, L. Davis, Hazel LeCras, D. Leishman, G. Martin, B. Miller, C. Miller, S. Milnes, L. O'Reilly, V. Silvester.

A- L. Kerr, D. MacFarlane, B. B. Clunie, M. Kelly, B- M. Doig.

D- M. Bates, W. Davis, Wm. King.

E. W. Derby, Mac Walker. Class per cent 87.+

Grade IX, Geography.

A- H. Ashworth, A. Cleland, B. J. Picken.

B- L. Gordon.

C+ E. Aitkin, B. Langille, E. Pollock, E. Stephens.

C J. Clark, D. Copeland, G. MacRae.

C- E. Silvester.

D- M. Lyster.

D R. Bridgen, L. Graham, U. Morrison.

D- M. McGibbon, C. O'Reilly, E. L. Belanger, A. Berniquier, C. Drew, G. Scott.

Grade VI and VII, Music

2nd Term

A+ R. Bedard, G. Leggett, S. Leggett, E. Rosborough, M. Gibson, P. Patterson, G. Moore, K. Miller, E. Couvrette, A. Shaded.

A L. Armstrong, H. Miles, C. Armstrong, S. Drew, F. Hume, H. Morrison, M. MacLean, D. Cooke, M. Boyd, L. Brown, J. Hay, M. Hume, E. Heatlie, J. Milnes, R. Brennan.

A- C. Elliott, A. Dorion, D. Wheatley, D. MacKimmie, H. Lister.

B A. Ward, J. Pollock, Archie Cox, D. Hammond.

B- H. Morrison, K. MacLean, C. J. Boa, D. Rodger, Freddie Stein, M. Gordon, E. Boyd, E. Jackson, V. Hammond.

D+ K. Boa, B. Pollock.

D L. Bates, K. Bradford, C. MacNaughton, F. Hind, S. Cleland, K. Dion, H. Deacon, E. Copeland, R. Gordon, C. MacKimmie, A. Boyd, E. Clifford, G. Pollock, H. Belanger.

E R. Dawson, F. Maiden.

Grade VI, English

A L. Bates.

B R. Brennan.

B- E. Boyd, M. Brennan.

C+ H. Miles, S. Drew.

C K. McLean, S. Leggett, M. Boyd, D. McQuat.

C- K. Bradford, H. Belanger, H. Morrison.

D+ H. Deacon, G. Leggett, R. Bedard, A. Shaded, J. Pollock, A. Cox, C. Elliott, D. Hammond, B. Pollock.

D C. Armstrong, H. Lister, L. Armstrong, K. Boa, F. Maiden.

Grade IV, Geography

A G. Boyd, V. Hooker, R. Robinson.

- E. Kettle, B. Langille, J. Maiden, R. Maiden, M. McRae, G. Riddell, C. Rogers.

B+ I. Clifford, G. Sly.

B H. Anderson, W. Chapman, D. Gordon, E. Hammond.

B- N. Anderson, H. Belanger, W. Boa, J. MacKimmie, R. McLean, B. McNown, D. Stewart, H. Wheatley.

C+ L. Belanger, B. Bigras, G. MacKimmie, G. Stein.

C G. Cox, F. Jenkins.

C- R. Armstrong, G. Scott, L. Scott.

D+ P. Lynch.

D C. Riddell.

E W. Bellingham, I. Cleland, K. McLean, R. MacNaughton, S. Moore, P. Shaded.

Grade III, Le Français

A F. Assaly, L. Carpenter, H. Deacon, L. Deacon, R. MacRae, J. Stansfield.

A- E. Rashcovsky, I. Simon.

B+ B. Arran, J. Bigelow, J. Dorion, D. Drew, R. Elkington, M. McKiddie, A. McQuat.

B S. Chapman, R. Hadley, I. Leishman, P. Nichols, B. Burns.

B- I. Cox, R. LeCras, R. Morrison, W. Richards, B. Stewart.

C+ F. Richards, A. Todd.

C J. Lees, P. Lloyd, E. McFaul, G. Warwick.

C- J. Neill, A. Pollock, H. Warwick.

D E. Clifford.

E D. Matthews . . .

BURNS LECTURE

A lecture on the Haunts of Burns, by Mr. John Gordon last Friday, took the more varied form of a regular program, in which the United C. G. I. T. and local talent contributed to the theme of "Caledonia stern and wild." The event took place in the United Church hall, and was enjoyed by a considerable audience.

While a picture of the national poet was thrown upon the screen the C. G. I. T. choir opened the evening with a song entitled "There was a Lad who was Born in Kyle," followed by "Corn Rigs."

Mr. Gordon then led his audience in a most entertaining manner on a tour of Scotland, his illustrations and anecdotes bearing particularly upon the Haunts and Haunts of Burns. The lecture was interspersed with appropriate vocal numbers, which included "Bonnie Doon" and "Scots Wha' Tae," by the C. G. I. T. girls; "Mary of Argyle" as a solo, by Mr. Owen Todd; "Green Grow the Rushes, Ho" by Mr. Chas. Duncan; and "Afton Water" by Mr. Neil Anderson. Mrs. R. Giles and Mrs. K. McQuat sang in duet "Oh wert thou in the Cauld Blast," followed by a quartette number, "Comin through the Rye," together with Messrs. Duncan and Todd.

Rev. W. B. Rosborough voiced appreciation for these enjoyable items, and to those who have contributed to the pleasure of the program. The evening closed with a hearty rendering of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem.

C. P. R. CHEAP RATES FOR EASTER

Tickets good going from Thursday, April 13th, 1933. Return limit, Tuesday, April 18th, 1933. Fare and one quarter for the round trip.

Special Excursion to Quebec. Good going Saturday, April 15th. Return limit, Monday, April 17th. Return fare $3.00. J. S. Giles, Agent.

Lucky numbers in the above lists this week are 41 and 151. Two Pupils may have their free tickets for Rex Theatre matinee by calling at The Watchman Office. . . See winners on Page 1.)

SUITS MADE TO ORDER FOR TROUSERS

$20.50

$4.50

A large range of colours to choose from including blue and grey serge, brown stripe and grey stripe. Suits of better quality material made at very reasonable prices.

GEO O. LICOP, TAILOR

49 Foundry Street,

Lachute, Que.

CHEVROLET

ECONOMY MADE IT THE LEADER*

HAULING economy means more than ever—if you judge by sales figures, which show that more Chevrolet Trucks are being sold today than any other kind! Big, new Chevrolet-built bodies easily hold capacity loads. Chevrolet's efficient six-cylinder engines set records for low-cost operation. The rugged Chevrolet chassis minimizes upkeep costs. And it's a well-known fact that a Chevrolet is one of the lowest-priced trucks you can buy—whether you choose the nimble Pick-Up Delivery model or a husky, heavy duty 2-ton Maple Leaf.

CHEVROLET* LEADERSHIP

Charted from official registration figures as at December 31, 1932

CHEVROLET	34.81%
TRUCK "A"	29.33%
TRUCK "B"	9.33%
TRUCK "C"	6.53%

* In a year when VALUES were paramount CHEVROLET assumed OUTSTANDING LEADERSHIP in the ENTIRE TRUCK INDUSTRY.

CT-2D

MASON MOTOR SALES, Lachute, Que.

Assoc. Dealer,—DORAN & STEPHENSON, Brownsburg, Que.

H. G. BRANNAN, Calumet, Que.

CHEVROLET SIX-CYLINDER TRUCKS

Buy
Flour and Feed
at Lachute Bakery

Successors to H. Filion, Main Street.
Tel. 106.

Want Ads.

STORE TO RENT—On Main Street. Apply Mrs. R. Miller.

FOR SALE.—Three male spaniels about 2 months old. Mother well bred bird dog. Apply Ross McAdam, Phone 61 r 3, St. Andrews East.

A-5-1-c.

FARM TO RENT.—Four miles from Lachute on highway, consisting of 100 acres, large brick house and outbuildings with stock and implements. Rent reasonable to responsible party. For full particulars apply to Mrs. D. Cleland, 50 Robert St., Lachute.

A-5-1-p.

HOUSE TO LET.—On Princess Ave., West Ward, immediate occupancy. Apply Jas. Catton, 83 Robert St., Lachute.

A-8-1-p.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT.—Comprising 9 rooms and very large garden. Cheap rent to right party. Apply to G. Raymond, 78 Main St., Lachute.

A-15-2-c.

FOR RENT.—Two Apartments of 7 rooms each, in the Assad Block, Main Street, heated, with bath and all modern conveniences. Apply Assad's Store, Main Street.

HOUSE TO RENT.—On Main St., East Ward, by first of May, with modern conveniences. Apply Mrs. D. Stalker.

A-6-2-p.

TOWN COUNTRY, Big Pay, Cash Bonus, Taking orders, Highest quality Lowest Priced Shirts, Etc., Free Sales Kit. Uneeda Shirt Distributors, 370 Edmonton St., Winnipeg, Man.

E. O. W. X

FLAT TO RENT.—In the East Ward, 4 rooms and bath. Apply to Leslie Morris, Lachute, 36 Foundry St.

14-2-p.

HOUSE TO RENT.—Situated on College Street, near C.P.R. Station; 8 rooms with all modern conveniences. Double Garage. Apply to A. J. Elliott, Lachute.

X

HOUSE TO RENT.—On Bedford Boulevard, near corner of Bethany Street, a good brick dwelling with all modern conveniences, fireplace, garage, and outbuildings. Apply to S. Laurin, 71 Bethany Street, Lachute.

A-28-4-p.

HOUSE TO RENT.—On corner of Grace and Bethany Street. Modern conveniences. Good Garage. Apply Arcade Ethier, Bethany St., Lachute, Phone 49.

A-14-2-c.

GOOD FARM for Sale, situated on banks of North River, five miles from Lachute, three miles from St. Andrews. Ideal for camping, fishing and swimming. Good cultivation, about 166 acres. Priced below cost. W. J. Brown, Lachute, R. R. No. 2, Que.

A-14-2-c.

WANTED.—On Lake Louisa, a furnished cottage for the entire summer season. Moderate rental. Address E. L. Holmes, Chem. Building, McGill University, Montreal, P. Q.

A-7-1-p.

Coming Events.

Tea Meeting

The Lachute United Church will hold their Annual Tea Meeting, on Thursday, April 20th, in the Church Hall. Keep the date open. Posters later.

Rex Theatre closes on Good Friday.

Two fires of minor importance occurred in town on Wednesday, and the fire brigade turned out promptly in response to calls. A peculiar outbreak was subdued in the awning over H. M. Lavigne's shop-front in Lachute Mills, the cause of which was a mystery. The smoke and flames were noticed in the canvas, which was rolled up, and the material was burnt to a depth of 15 feet before the trouble was subdued. The previous call, at 8.30 a.m. was to a chimney fire at the Poitras place near Cottingham Supply Company on Bethany Street.

"Topaze" is a dramatic success of the French stage, now translated into many languages, and portrayed on the screen with John Barrymore in the leading role. A clever production—depicting a firm idealist in conflict with the twists and temptations of modern graft—a man strictly honorable, but his conscience slips into the mould of worldly standards and conceptions. It is fascinating, and immensely human. One day only, Saturday 15th., at Rex Theatre.

NOTICE

Any old linens etc. not in use will be gratefully received by the V. O. Nurse who is badly in need of same for bandaging purposes in the homes of the needy.

TENDERS

Tenders are hereby called for the collection of garbage in the town of Lachute. Work to begin at the discretion of the council and to end about November 1st., 1933. Garbage shall be collected once a week in each ward. Price asked shall be on a weekly basis. Tenders will be opened and considered at the council meeting to be held on Tuesday, April 18th., at 8 o'clock p.m. Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Germain Filion,
Secretary-Treasurer.

A-14-2-c.

BAILIFF'S SALE

Superior Court, No. 4434. To be sold on the farm of Joseph M. Kennedy, Rawcliffe, Township of Grenville, at one p.m., April 18th. (Tuesday) 1933, five cows, five heifers, five sheep and one cream separator (De Laval).

A-15-2-c

WANTED—A second hand 22 Rifle in good condition. Apply to 22 Foundry St., Lachute after 6 p.m.

HOUSES TO LET.—On Boulevard Bedard, all with modern conveniences. Apply G. Bedard, Main St., Lachute.

X.

Town Locals.

Miss L. McDowell spent the week-end visiting friends in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Adi Fassio, of Montreal, motored to Lachute last week-end.

Miss McMann, R.N. of Montreal, was a recent guest of Mrs. John Hope.

Rev. W. LeCras spent Thursday last in Ste. Agathe the guest of Rev. A. Mitchell.

Mr. Eddie Elm, of Montreal, spent the week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. Goldsworthy.

Miss Lulu Miller, of McGill University, was the week-end guest of her mother, Mrs. Robt. Miller.

Miss Willow Lavery, of Montreal, spent the week-end here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Walker McArthur.

Miss Martha Elm and Miss Dorothy Devine, of Montreal, were week-end guests of Miss Muriel Boyd.

Rev. J. Lackey, of Montreal, is spending a few days this week visiting his many friends in Lachute.

Mr. John Hope of Amos, Que., paid a brief visit to his home last week-end.

Mr. Gordon of Montreal, who was the Burns lecturer at the United Church on Friday last, was the guest of his niece, Mrs. A. Aitkin during his stay in town.

Mr. Rosborough will preach particularly to Young People at next Sunday evening's service in Lachute United Church. He would like to have as many of his Young People's Society as possible to attend the service.

The many friends of Eric King, of Brownsburg, will be sorry to learn that he is an inmate of the Montreal General Hospital, having gone down on Monday morning, to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

The Canadian Authors' Association of Montreal, pay fitting tribute to the late Miss Charlotte Bradford, of Lachute, in an award known as the Charlotte Bradford Prize offered by the Poetry group in its recognitions for Canadian verse.

Preparations are being made for a good programme in connection with the Tea Meeting on 20th. April in the Lachute United Church. This will be up to the usual high standard but further particulars will be given next week and we would ask you to keep the date open.

—Mr. Lapierre has moved from his store adjoining the Liquor Commission to that of Mr. Geoffroy Bedard, near the Bank of Nova Scotia, where he invites the public to visit him in his new quarters. With all jewelry, watches, rings and novelties marked down, this affords the public an opportunity of procuring some genuine bargains.

Beginning Easter Sunday evening, and continuing every night - excepting Saturday - for two weeks or longer, an exceptional series of special evangelistic services will be held in the Baptist Church, Lachute. Rev. William Fraser, Pastor of Ambassador Baptist Church, Windsor, Ontario, (formerly for ten years Secretary-Assistant to Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields in Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto) will be the visiting preacher, and will fearlessly deal with timely subjects, a list of which will appear in our next issue. A feature of every service will be special vocal selections, in addition to the hearty congregational singing which characterizes all gatherings in the local Baptist Church.

BIRTH

McCOMB.—At St. Chrysostome, Que., on Friday, Mar. 31st., to Mr. and Mrs. H. McComb, (née Ruth Dobbie), a daughter.

AERONAUTICS

News-Snaps from the Flying World

J. CLAUDE ROBY

More than 200 lbs. of mail was carried from Vienna, Austria, to Semmering, 78 miles away in a glider. The motorless flight was made in 1 hour 40 mins.

Special chartering of aircraft for exploring and hunting is considerably on the increase in Africa.

For the first time in history the great mount Everest was crossed by airplane recently.

Regular dirigible air service covering ports around half the globe, is contemplated by experts here and abroad.

A contract calling for mail and passenger service by air between Montreal and New York has been renewed.

American-operated airlines carried 540,681 passengers during 1932, an increase of 88,000 over the previous year.

Jean Mermoz, French airman, plans to hop off from Brazil for France. Mermoz is flying a giant tri-motored plane.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife have announced their intention to live in Wales.

An attempt to lower the world's altitude balloon-flight record is soon to be made by a Russian scientist.

The balloon which the Frenchman Piccard used on his altitude flight is to be exhibited at the Chicago World Fair.

Both the number of planes arriving at Montreal and the number of passengers have increased in the past year, the increase in passengers being over 100 per cent.

Eddie Cantor!—But you don't have to be told. Coming shortly, at the Rex Theatre.

CALF CLUB (Continued)

mention of the first place in the judging competition which was won by two boys (Leodas Ouillette & Lexie Titley) at MacDonald College last summer but as Lexie Titley was under 12 years of age unfortunately these boys could not go to Sherbrooke and Toronto to compete for Provincial and International Championships.

At the Ottawa Fall Fair this club exhibited two groups of calves and won second prize on each group.

The officers elected for the year 1933 are as follows:—President, Norman Bradley; Vice-President, Georges Dorion; Secretary, Leodas Ouillette.

This club is under the direction of Alex. Bothwell, local Agronomist and his assistant, L. Beaudin.

ERROR

Through an error in last week's issue the name of Miss Grace Hadley, was inserted in place of Miss Gladys Hadley, whose announcement appears below:

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hadley, of Lachute, announce the engagement of their second daughter, Gladys Elizabeth, to Mr. George Alexander Muir, of Lachute, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Muir. The marriage will take place in May.

Automobile Insurance

LOWEST RATES
HIGHEST SERVICE

Special Farmers' Policy

Ernest Deslauriers,
32 Grace St. Phone 180.
Lachute, Que.

REX THEATRE

April 7—8

Lillian Harvey, the International Star; Henry Garat the New French Sensation and Conrad Veidt in Congress Dances

Saturday Matinee 3 p.m. 25c

April 9-10

Another Special Double Program

A Red Hot Musical Comedy With Joan Blondell, Ricardo Cortez, Ginger Rogers in "Broadway Bad"

First Showing in this Province

KEN MAYNARD in "Dynamite Ranch"

A Thrilling Western Drama Comedy: "Acid Test"

April 11-12-13

One of the Biggest Attractions of this Season

CLARA BOW in her Big Hit

Call Her Savage

A Splendid Production with Marvelous Acting. You are assured of a really enjoyable Entertainment.

Added Attraction—Comedy: "Art in the Raw" Also Pathe Review

APRIL 14th.

GOOD FRIDAY — CLOSED

Saturday, April 15.

For One Day Only

John Barrymore, Myrna Loy supported by an All Star Cast

"Topaze"

An international success. A play that was for two solid years in New York. Now on the screen with John Barrymore at his best.

Now on Display at our Showrooms THE NEW FORD V-8

The roomiest and most powerful Ford car ever built. 112 inch wheelbase—bodies are wider and nearly 12 inches longer. 75 horsepower engine. Over 80 miles an hour. New all-aluminum cylinder head, giving more power, smoothness and economy.

Complete details now available at our Showrooms

You are cordially invited to call in and LOOK IT OVER.

GEO. Y. DEACON, Ford Dealer

PHONE NO. 26. LACHUTE MILLS, QUE.

FIRE!

Why take chances

when you can buy a $20.00

Fire Extinguisher for

$10 while they last

Fully charged and ready for use

T. McOUAT & SON

Lachute Mills

SPRING SPECIALS!

Great variety of all new goods in Ladies' & Gents' Suits & Coats.

150 Ladies' Dresses, reg. $6.75 for $3.95

50 Ladies' Coats, pure wool tweed, latest styles at $7.95

Men's Suits (all wool serge) different shades and 2 pairs of pants for $14.95

A visit to our store will ensure you real satisfaction.

ASSALY'S

Main St., next to Rex Theatre.

ROBERT HAMILTON

for
FLOUR, GRAIN, & FEED

Also Best Prices on

COAL

Phone 240.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
© 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for April 16

JESUS TRANSFIGURED

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:2-29.
GOLDEN TEXT—And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. John 1:14.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus God's Son.
JUNIOR TOPIC—With Jesus on a Mountain Top.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Glory of Jesus.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Meaning of the Transfiguration.

In II Peter 1:16-18 is given an inspired interpretation of the transfiguration by one who was present and knew all that transpired. When Christ announced his death which was to take place on the cross, the disciples were greatly perplexed as to how victory could issue from death. Peter, James, and John accompanied Jesus into the mountain. They went there to pray (Luke 9:28).

In order to revive their drooping spirits and restore their confidence he was transfigured before them. Two men were sent from the realm above to talk with Jesus about his approaching death at Jerusalem (Luke 9:31)—the very thing about which the disciples had refused to talk (Mark 8:31-33). The transfiguration is, therefore, a foregleam of the coming Kingdom. It gives the outline of the order and method of the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom.

I. Jesus the King Glorified on the Mountain (vv. 2, 3).

He took the disciples "by themselves" and was "transfigured before them." This shows that the purpose of the transfiguration terminated upon the disciples and not upon Christ. Christ's rebuke to Peter for his unwillingness to hear concerning his death seemed for a time to estrange the disciples from him. His shining raiment was typical of that glory which shall be manifest when Christ comes back to earth. His appearance on the mountain typifies his visible appearance on the Mount of Olives (Zech. 14:4, 9).

II. Peter, James, and John Represent Israel in the Flesh in Connection With the Kingdom (v. 2).

Christ is peculiarly the King of Israel. According to Ezekiel 37:21-27, the Israelites are to be the central people in Messiah's Kingdom.

III. Moses and Elijah Appeared in Glory With Jesus (vv. 4-13).

These men in the glorified state are typical of the state of the saints in glory. Moses who was once denied entrance into Palestine now appears in glory. He represented the redeemed of the Lord who shall pass through death into the Kingdom. Elijah represents the redeemed who shall pass into the Kingdom through translation. Some shall be living upon the earth when the Lord comes, who without dying shall be changed and thus pass into the Kingdom (I Cor. 15:50-53; I Thess. 4:14-18).

1. Peter's proposal (vv. 5, 6). So definitely was the method of the Kingdom unfolded before Peter that he proposed to erect tabernacles, one for Christ, one for Moses, and one for Elijah. It is true that the unveiling of the majestic person of Christ somewhat disconcerted Peter, yet he grasped its central meaning and proposed to celebrate the advent of his Kingdom which had been prefigured in this tangible way.

2. The divine voice out of the cloud (vv. 7, 8). God declared Jesus to be his beloved Son in whom he was well pleased. The way to know what is pleasing to God is to study Jesus.

3. Christ's charge (vv. 9-13). He charged them that they should tell no man concerning the things which they had seen until he had risen from the dead.

IV. The Purpose of the Establishment of the Kingdom Demonstrated (vv. 14-29).

When they descended from the Mount of Transfiguration they witnessed a great multitude in a state of perplexity. The immediate cause of this state was the grievous condition of a young man possessed with a demon (v. 18), whose father had appealed to the disciples to cast out the demon, but they were unable to do so. When they brought him unto Jesus, the foul spirit was rebuked and came forth. This young man's state is representative of the nations who are grievously oppressed by the devil. Just as this young man was grievously oppressed, causing him to cast himself into the fire and into the waters, so the nations even today in their great perplexity are doing the things which will result in their own destruction. The devil will be peculiarly active in the oppression of men and nations in the last days.

Confess Christ

There cannot be a secret Christian. Grace is like ointment hid in the hand; it betrayeth itself. If you truly feel the sweetness of the cross of Christ, you will be constrained to confess Christ before men.—Robert McCheyne.

God's Revelation

Unless we muse much on God's revelation of his word, no tree of zeal for his glory will grow in our souls.—O. O. Shelton in The Bible Today.

Hints for Homebodies

Specially written for Readers of The Watchman.
By JESSIE ALLAN BROWN

THE TAX ON SUGAR

There is one thing sure — we none of us like to pay taxes, so the tax on sugar is certain to be unpopular. However if the finance minister was trying to tax every man woman and child in the country he could not have hit on a surer tax. Does some one rise to remark, what about the diabetic who cannot eat sugar? Oh, well! There are exceptions to everything, or should we say exemptions? The large consumption of sugar is purely modern. A hundred years ago, the amount each person used in a year was 15 pounds. Now the average amount is 100 pounds. Does your family use 100 pounds per person a year, or have you any idea? I have never kept an accurate account of the amount we use but I am safe in saying that we do not use quite half that amount. So some one else gets our share of the sugar and of the taxes.

Sugar has no building power, contains neither vitamins nor minerals, and supplies no roughage. The excessive use of sugar is one of the causes of the frequently found acid condition. The new tax will cause hardship to some people, but if it lessens the amount of sugar consumed it might be a good thing for the health of the country at large. It is a valuable food but the trouble is that we can get too much of even a good thing.

PROPERLY TIMED MEALS FOR CHILDREN

The undernourished child is not always the outcome of poverty, as many of them are to be found in homes where there is plenty of food. Children are frequently undernourished without their parents recognizing it. If your child is thin, with shoulder-blades which are inclined to be prominent, and is listless, check up on its weight and try to put on a few pounds.

Sometimes such a simple thing as the time of the family meals is enough to cause undernourishment. Two causes of this sort have come under my notice recently. A late dinner is the offender in both cases. The first is children of school age. They come in at noon starving hungry — so hungry that their mother has formed the habit of making an extra slice of toast at breakfast for each of them and leaving it in the bread-box ready. Dinner is never ready when they get home so they eat this toast ravenously and when they sit down to dinner, they don't want this and they don't want that, and eat only half a meal. In this case the remedy is easy to find. The mother only needs to make the effort to get dinner ready earlier as there is no one coming in for it but her children as her husband is home only for week-ends. Let the children eat their dinner before the fine edge of hunger has been taken off.

The other case is a little two-year old. His father comes home at one for dinner and by the time dinner is over it is almost two. The youngster is never put to bed until after his daddy has gone back to work and consequently does not get to sleep until almost three. That means five o'clock before he awakens. The result of this is that he is in the house all afternoon and he does not go to sleep until 9 o'clock or so. He is being cheated out of a part of the fresh air he should have and about two hours sleep each night. He should be fed at twelve and be put to bed at one and that would bring his schedule to form and give him the requisite amount of sleep. It would mean more work but would be worth it.

Both these mothers are anxious to do the very best for their children but they do not see that the fault is theirs. If your children are not eating or sleeping properly, turn a searching eye on the time of their meals and their bed-hour.

WEIGHT OF PACKED FOODS

When you buy packaged foods do you notice the weight? It is always on the package—sometimes very inconspicuously, but it is there, as it is required by law. If you know that you are buying by weight, it is all right, but if you think you are getting pound packages, you had better study your package. Baking powder weighs 14 oz., raisins 15 oz., currents 11 oz., spaghetti 10 oz., dates 10 oz. The weight on some of your packaged cereals will give you a shock, if you have not noticed them before, specially when you compare the price of the whole cereal, to that which you are paying for prepared cereals. There are many advantages in buying packaged foods, but buy with your eyes open and know what you are paying for. By the way, those weights are not necessarily the weights of all packages, they are just the weight of some I happen to have on hand.

MERINGUES

Meringues (a French word pronounced mer-ang) are so old-fashioned that they are a novelty to most people. We serve meringues for two different purposes and our guests hail them with delight. Small meringues may be served for afternoon tea and much larger ones, eaten with a fork, are delicious for dessert.

Meringues are quite simple to make. Beat the whites of 3 eggs until stiff, then add 1 1/4 cups of sugar, two tablespoons at a time and beating after each addition. Add 1/4 teaspoon vanilla. Cover the bottom of a baking pan with unglazed paper and drop the mixture by spoonfuls. The meringues will not spread very much but will raise considerably, so do not fill your teaspoon full if you wish a small meringue. If a larger size for dessert is desired, use a heaping spoonful and form into an oval shape. The baking is the most important part. They must be done in a very slow oven of about 250 degrees and are dried out more than actually baked. Cook from 50 to 60 minutes. If after 45 minutes, they are not delicately browned, increase the heat slightly. Remove from the paper quickly. When cooked take out any soft portion in the centre and dry out in the oven if necessary. If the hole is made in the centre of the bottom with a sharp pointed knife, it will be easy to do. Put the meringues together in pairs with whipped cream, sweetened and flavoured. Serve shortly after filling. Used as a cake they are eaten from the fingers but for dessert, forks are used.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches, Sunday, Apr. 9th.

The Golden Text is: (Psalms 103:2, 3). "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases."

The following passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible, and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound." (Isaiah 61:1).

"Hatred, envy, dishonesty, fear, and so forth, make a man sick, and neither material medicine nor Mind can help him permanently, even in body, unless it makes him better mentally, and so delivers him from his destroyers." Two essential points of Christian Science are, that neither Life nor man dies and that God is not the author of sickness." (Science and Health Pages 404, 349.)

PUBLIC NOTICE

Canada
Province of Quebec
District of Montreal

SUPERIOR COURT "IN BANKRUPTCY"

In the Matter of the Estate of: GUS SCULNICK, hotel-keeper, of the Town of Ste. Agathe des Monts, County of Terrebonne, Province of Quebec, therein carrying on business under the name and style of SCULNICK'S HOUSE.

Debtor

NOTICE is hereby given that on TUESDAY, the SECOND day of MAY, 1933, at the hour of 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon, there will be sold by public auction, in conformity with the Bankruptcy Act, Article 45 and sections, which give it the effect of a Sheriff's Sale, at the Parochial Church door, at the Town of Ste. Agathe des Monts, County of Terrebonne District of Montreal, Province of Quebec, the following immovables, to wit:

1o. A piece of land known and designated upon the cadastral plan and in the book of reference for the parish of Ste. Agathe des Monts as being a part of lot number eleven A in the fourth range of the township of Beresford, measuring seventy-two feet front by one hundred and eight feet in depth, English measurements more or less with all the buildings and ameliorations thereon, bounded in front by St. Andre St. in rear by P. Vanier, on one side by Laurier Ave. and on the other side by the property hereinafter described.

2o. Lot number sixteen upon the sub-division plan of lot number eleven A in the fourth range of Beresford, upon the cadastral plan and in the book of reference for the parish of Ste. Agathe des Monts, measuring sixty feet front by one hundred and eighty feet in depth, English measurements more or less, with all the buildings and ameliorations thereon.

The said immovables shall be sold in virtue of a judgment rendered by the Superior Court, District of Montreal, Bankruptcy Division, on the 31st. day of January, 1933, and bearing the number 284 on the records of the said Court.

Conditions of Sale: A deposit of $500.00 (Five Hundred Dollars) shall be paid at the time of the adjudication of sale and the balance on the passing of deeds. Other conditions shall be announced on the date of the sale.

Montreal, March 21st., 1933.

N. GRUBSTEIN,

Trustee.

Office: 157 Craig Street West, Montreal, Que.
Lancaster 7601.

A Mafeking Shilling.

A scrip shilling issued by "Col. Baden-Powell" during the siege of Mafeking in 1900 was auctioned at a Toronto Scout fund campaign dinner, and brought $35. It was donated by Rotarian H. L. Stringer, who served at Mafeking under Colonel Baden-Powell.

Scouts have Saved over 200 Lives.

Since the inauguration of Scout awards in Canada in 1921, 251 medals have been given for life saving or notable work in a serious emergency, and 49 Certificates of Merit and 25 Letters of Commendation for valuable service in lesser emergencies. The medals include 14 Bronze Crosses, for life saving at grave personal risk, 108 Silver Crosses for life saving at serious personal risk and 120 Gilt Crosses for life saving without serious risk, or other notable work in an emergency.

Watchman Want Ads
Bring Results

Eyes for the Blind

In ever-increasing numbers this country as police dogs, are being employed as guides for the blind. The dogs used are generally females for they are less easily distracted than males. They require only three or four months of training to lead a blind man safely through crowded streets and dangerous construction work. The commands, "right," "left," and "forward" are known and obeyed by the dogs but also they are trained to disobey if carrying out the order involves danger. The intelligence of these dogs is beyond belief and one sees them in action.

A SOLUTION TO YOUR REQUIREMENTS—
WATCHMAN WANT ADS.

"Americans Come To Me".

George Bernard Shaw, whose pungent wit has enlivened the world cruise of the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain", when he arrived at San Francisco recently, denied he had ever said he would never visit America.

"What I said," the Irish dramatist remarked, "was there was no need for me to visit America, as all interesting Americans come to see me."

That this was true is proved by the picture, for here in the Mayfair lounge of the 42,500 ton liner, he is seen with Mayor Angelo Rossi, who not only went to Shaw, but dressed himself in his cutaway and wore a carnation.

Attention, Mr. Farmer!

Everyone knows the sales value of a Smart Appearance Your Maple Syrup will find a ready buyer if it is put up in an attractively labeled can . . . Call on the Watchman Office for colored labels bearing your own printed name and address . . . Good Advertising at a small expense, in our

Maple Syrup Labels

HOT CROSS BUNS

LACHUTE BAKERY

Telephone 106.

Main St., Lachute.

Give your Watch a Chance

All machinery, especially the light, delicate mechanism of a watch, needs a good cleaning and overhauling occasionally.

Now is a good time. The cost of repairs was never cheaper. And in slack seasons like the present, more time and care can be given to each individual watch or clock. Also it will be repaired and returned to you more promptly.

We are using the most modern and greatly improved methods of watch repairing, which will certainly prolong the life and usefulness of your watch.

F. E. Earle, Jeweller, Main Street, Lachute

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired. Broken lenses repaired.

How about that new Sink or Bath Room?

Prices on Request.

R. McArthur & Son

Phone 172 w.

144 Main Street

M. A. BELANGER
Jeweller.
Bethany St., Lachute.
Wide and Up-to-date Choice of
GIFTS and JEWELRY
Quick Service on Watchmaking
and Jewelry Repairs

MISS M. V. SLATER
Wedding Gifts of Taste
Watch, Clock and Jewelry repairs
Jewelry, Silverware, Cut Glass,
French Ivory Watches and Clocks
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

Bring your Radio troubles to LACHUTE RADIO
SALES & SERVICE
Radio Supplies. Free Tube Testing
Prompt and Efficient Service
W. J. DOIG
271 Main St., Phone 820.

H. LACHANCE
Expert in welding of all metals.
Shop in the C. P. R. yard, Lachute, equipped for all kinds of work,
including Cog and Gear rebuilding,
Auto Body, and Mud-Guard
repairing, Painting, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed

If you have any plastering
work to be done,
See
J. R. A. CARIGNAN
145 Princess St., Lachute.
Tel. 121 r 3.

LACHUTE MARBLE
AND GRANITE WORKS
We deal in Foreign and Domestic Marble and Granite, first class
work and the best material, in all latest designs, always on hand.
Satisfaction guaranteed in all kinds of Cemetery Work, Monuments or Headstones.
W. M. Scott, Proprietor.

INTERIOR DECORATING
Painting, paperhanging, and decorating. Estimates given on all work if desired, also agent for Empire Wall Paper, at very moderate
prices. Complete line of 1932
samples. Book of two hundred to choose from.
R. N. MOORE,
285 Main Street, Lachute.

FLOWERS! FLOWERS!
Orders filled on Short Notice
Bouquets, Wreaths, Sprays Etc.
FOR ALL OCCASIONS
Delivered to Any Ship in Montreal
Dock, or to any hospital, free
of charge
Order from
MADAME A. FASSIO
Phone 344. 225 Main St.

LACHUTE
BOARD OF TRADE
Meets last Thursday of
Every Month
J. W. Gall, President,
J. S. Giles, Secretary

LACHUTE EXPRESS
PHONES: Lachute 348j or 348w.
Montreal, Marquette 3966 or 7293
Daily Service between Lachute
and Montreal.
All loads fully insured.
Montreal Warehouse:
Care of J. B. BAILLARGEON,
8 Queen Street.
N. W. BOYD, Prop.
Try us for service.
68 Robert Street, Lachute, Que.
Residence: 89 Robert Street.

SPENCER GARMENTS
Individually Designed for Figure Correction, Style Health & Comfort
Represented by
GLADYS M. DRAPER, R.N.
342 Main St., Lachute
Phone 250.

AUNT JEAN
(Continued)

his fork down with a big sigh.
"Nothing, Uncle, I just guess
I've got a proper fullness of taffy for this time!"

"I think we all have" Prof.
Dixon said, smiling at Billy and it is getting very near bed-time for little chaps. I shall be leaving early in the morning, before you are up, so was wondering if there is anything that you would like to ask me before you go to bed?"

Billy sat up straight; a sudden thought had struck him. Bert had said Prof. Dixon could tell you anything that you wanted to know. "Professor" he said suddenly, "Where is Nancy's Pup?"

The professor looked astonished. "Nancy's pup", he said slowly. "I do not think I understand."

Now wasn't that funny question to ask a learned college professor? But you see, children, Bert had said "anything that you want to know"—and this was something indeed which the entire Craig family wanted to know! Perhaps they will find out before long?

Lovingly,

Aunt Jean.

DON'T PUT UP WITH an UGLY SKIN

Fruit-a-tives give new beauty

"I was run down and listless. I felt brittle all the time. My face was a sight, due to pimples and rash. I was ashamed to meet people. 'Fruit-a-tives' proved just what I needed. In less than two months my skin cleared up, I got rid of severe constipation and felt full of pep."

Fruit-a-tives . . . all drug stores

Straight Through Lent—

A welcome change from a heavy winter diet are menus that contain Hot Cross Buns. They give variety and new zest to every meal. You'll want them all during Lent.

Hot Cross Buns—sugarfrosted, toothsome, rich with delicious raisins.

For sale by
J. A. MacKimmie,
Lachute Mills.

HOT
CROSS
BUNS

"750 MILLIONS A YEAR"
(Continued from page 1)

it is earned the rate of payment on the common stock has already been cut in half, and if this cut is maintained the distribution will be diminished by 16 million dollars a year. If necessary the whole 38 millions could be lopped off, and no obligation, public or private, would thereby be defaulted, no bankruptcy proceedings be incurred, no blow be struck at our national credit.
Let us not forget that the owners of capital invested in the C. P. R. have to share the troubles and difficulties affecting the country; but owners of the capital put into the C. N. R. share nothing; they receive their pound of flesh, no matter how near the knife may approach to the vital parts.

Premier Bennett tells the Commons that the Canadian National is, to all intent and purpose passing into the hands of receivers. The Government, he explains, is following the course pursued by a court in receivership proceedings, of setting up a small body of receivers. Any larger body, he argues, might easily lead to disaster.

The Premier's own statement offers the strongest argument for amalgamation and is in striking contrast with the views expressed by the member for Wetaskawin, who appears quite ready to sacrifice the interests of the C. P. R. in order that bond-holders of the C. N. R. may continue to reap their benefits.

In commenting on the railway situation, the Border Cities Star of Windsor, Ont., (March 11th.) says:

"Everyone who has given the slightest study to the railway question, and particularly to the troubles of the Canadian National, must know that the publicly-owned system has not the slightest chance to get on anything like a paying basis.
If there should be anyone who doubt this he might be interested in a quotation from Mr. Man-ion's speech in Parliament this week. The Minister of Railways said that he had made it his business to find out how shipments of wheat compared in the last year with one of the previous years considered as an outstanding period in the progress of the railways. 'I found out',
Mr. Manion said, 'that in the year 1929, 4,600,- 000 tons of wheat was shipped on the railways, and in 1932, 5,300,000 tons, an increase of 700,- 000 tons in 1932 as compared with 1929; yet the gross revenues of the Canadian National Railways were down in 1932, as compared with 1929, as by $125,000,000. . . . It is the low purchasing power of the Western farmer due to the low prices he is receiving for his grain which causes his inability to purchase the goods of the Eastern producer. This in turn prevents the prosperity of the railways as well as of the industrial plants of the country. There is no purchasing power, no effective demand.'"

"Figures of all kinds—freight, passenger, express, etc.—reveal the hopelessness of trying to continue the operation of two gigantic railway systems in Canada. As an example of the staggering size of this proposition, the losses of the Canadian National system between 1925 and 1932 are given at approximately $439,126,000.
The year 1928, from a railway earning standpoint, was the best in the history of Canada. Yet even in that year the Canadian National fell short by $29,800.00 of earning its interest charges due to the public and to the Government."

"Figures quoted by Mr. Bennett in the House this week include the statement that securities of the various railways which form the Canadian National system—securities in the hands of the investing public in many countries—total nearly $1,300,000,000. Just repeat those figures—nearly thirteen hundred millions of dollars—guaranteed either by the Dominion or the Provinces. And this figure does not include the sums that have been paid out by the Canadian taxpayers from the consolidated revenue of the nation or borrowed by them and handed over to these railways. The latter sum, Mr. Bennett reveals, amounts to nearly one thousand millions of dollars—a grand total of something like $2,- 300,000,000. Nor in Mr. Bennett's total was there included the interest upon the moneys thus invested by the people, through their Government, in this enterprise. 'If I were to do so,'
Mr. Bennett said, 'it might be unsafe; the aggregate would be so large.'"

HIGHWAY EXPERT ADDRESSES LOCAL
BOARD OF TRADE
(Continued)

combined with the economy of maintenance, they mean a yearly saving of over $5,000.00 a mile, without taking into account the differences in first cost of the two types, gravel and concrete.

Comfort in Driving.

Road comfort is another important feature.
An even surface with no tendency to skidding puts a real zest into motoring, and as "tourism" is said to be our second greatest industry to-day, it is necessary that we look to this particular feature. The tourist industry may be encouraged by seeing that our highways are constructed in such manner as to give the country the best roads; the best roads, incidentally, are built for permanency and eliminating the excessive maintenance costs.

At the close of his address opportunity was extended for free discussion, after which President of the Board of Trade, Mr. Jas. W. Gall, called upon Mayor A. Larocque to move, and Mayor E. J. Walker of St. Jerusalem to second, a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Van Scoyoc for his kindness in coming to address the meeting.

QUEBEC MUNICIPALITIES IN DEFAULT

Notice in the Quebec Official Gazette states that the Quebec Municipal Commission will file in the Superior Court at Rimouski, March 13, a petition for the purpose of having declared in default the municipal corporation of the village of St. Benoit Joseph Labre, Matapedia County.
Similar petitions will be filed at Perce, Gaspé, declaring in default the municipal corporation of Escoumains, Saguenay County.

TOURIST TRAVEL DECLINED

An indication of a general decline in tourist travel from the United States into Canada during the past year is seen in the figures supplied to the Review by F. T. Pattison, Collector at Fort Erie, Ontario. At this point is the Peace Bridge, one of the main and popular international arteries. Over the Peace Bridge in 1932 there passed 1,633,195 automobiles and other motor vehicles. In 1931, the volume of traffic comprised 2,269,648 automobiles, a decrease for 1932 of 636,453. The ferry which plies between Fort Erie and Buffalo made a better showing, there being 452,636 motor vehicles carried in 1932, as against 310,469 in 1931, an increase of 142,167. The total decrease in travel at Fort Erie was 494,286 automobiles.

PRESERVING A PAST FOR THE FUTURE

From coast to coast there are several organizations founded on the unselfish purpose of preserving scenes of historical interest, natural appeal, and architectural distinction in this Domi-on. It is a motive which cannot be too strongly commended. A body of this kind was incorporated last month under title of The Architectural Conservancy of Ontario. But it is thought a still wider interest might be devoted to the cause, particularly of guarding our traditional landmarks, which modern development is striving to efface.

Municipal progress is concerning itself with the future as much as with the present. Efficiency is the ideal, through the virtues of safety, sanitation, solvency and service. Just pride is evidenced in stately buildings, fine parks and up-to-date utilities. But in the frantic advance, communities are ignoring that asset of the Past, which no committee of experts, planners, or builders can ever duplicate. The most that can be done is to preserve community history for the future, marking with due reverence the sites and scenes of pioneer nation-building.

One cannot help remarking how European cities are permeated with tradition. And to the visitor at least, this musty charm is equally refreshing as the atmosphere of garden cities and model settlements.

Brownburg School Reports

Grade X, Geometry
D. McQuat 95, A. Dixon 91,
L. Townsend 79, E. MacLeod 76,
M. Roberts 73, S. Seary 71, D.
Bourne 71, P. MacKenzie 68, K.
Murdoch 68, G. Wilson 40.

Grade IX, Algebra
B. Stewart 100, J. Clarke 95,
A. Connelly 93, M. Murdoch 92,
R. Todd 88, T. Stewart 81, S.
Tomlinson 68, V. Kettyle 59.

Grade VIII, Grammar.
H. Masson 80, E. MacKenzie
77, K. Bloxham 75, L. Hamilton
73, L. McQuat 68, E. Dixon 67,
D. Prosser 65, A. Brown 61, D.
Steele 58, C. Fletcher 58, M.
Devine 57, J. Morrow 55, M.
MacAllister 53, C. Martin 51.

Grade VII, Geography.
J. Dixon 86, R. Martin 71, A.
MacQuaig 70, A. Galbraith 69,
W. Campbell 66, L. Stewart 64,
D. Dixon 63, E. Kettyle 60, W.
Wilson 60, E. Hutchin 59, W.
Seary 57, J. Graham 56, M. Biglow 52, E. Turney 52, R. Anderson 51, G. Lonsdale 46, B.
White 43, E. Hewitt 40.

Grade VI, General Information
L. Tomalty 85, L. Stewart 84,
Cl. King 84, M. Hutchin 83, G.
Prosser 79, C. Low 79, J. Walsh
78, W. Smillie 77, S. Lupien 75,
W. Hamilton 74, W. Smillie 70,
G. Vowles 66, M. Low 65, R. Dyson 64, C. Graham 64, D. Todd 62, A. Hardie 61, H. McQuat 60,
L. Bigelow 58, E. Thompson 56,
R. Mowforth 54, E. Campbell 53,
W. Steele 52, G. Vary 52, M.
Hazel 52, J. Hardie 47, H. Morrow 47, N. MacKenzie 42, E.
Gunn 42, Co. King 40, A. Bourne
38, D. Kennedy 35, T. Hardie 35,
A. Williams 34, F. Steele 26.

Grade V, Geography
W. Murdoch 85, B. Ardill 83,
N. Tomalty 78, L. Ball 75, J.
Lambertson 74, L. Diron 74, P.
McAdam 73, L. Steele 72, E.
Tomalty 71, M. Bourne 71, Y.
Gagne 71, A. Butler 70, D. Boyd
70, W. Birch 70, B. Morrow 70,
S. Stewart 68, H. MacAllister 65,
T. Bourne 65, M. Campbell 64,
J. Doran 63, V. Jackson 62, B.
Hutchin 60, E. Campbell 60, E.
Boyd 56, G. Gagne 56, M. Enlow 53, J. Tilsley 53, M. Birch 52,
D. McCulloch 51, G. Maitland
51, W. Kennedy 48, H. Kettyle
46.

Grade IV, Reading
E. Williams 95, M. Dixon 95,
D. Graham 95, J. Todd 94, G.
Witham 94, G. Boyd 93, L. Lonsdale 93, G. McKinnel 93, M.
Robbins 93, L. Hansen 92, H.
Stewart 92, J. Walsh 92, Dot.
Doran 91, L. Devine 91, H.
Hewitt 91, E. Hutchin 91, J.
Kennedy 91, F. Castle 89, D.
White 89, J. White 89, D. Williams 89, R. Izzard 89, J. Morrow 88, G. Vowles 85, R. Morrow 84, H. Tilsley 84, H. Wilson 80, A. Castle 79, G. Vowles 73,
E. Gagne 72, Des. Doran 70, P.
Leroux 70, W. Kennedy 60.

—Two lucky numbers, 29 and 62, give the pupils standing in that order in the above list a free ticket to any Rex Theatre Matinee. The winners (see page 1) may have their tickets by calling at The Watchman Office.

A new restaurant is decorated in the cubist style. It will be an additional novelty if they serve square meals.—Punch.

Pretty Young Thing: "Are you sure these curtains won't shrink. I want them for my bedroom windows."

Candid Clerk: "Lady, with your figure, you should worry whether they do or not."

SPECIAL LOW FARES
for EASTER

Return fares between any two points in Canada
at regular one-way fare
and a quarter.

GOING DATES

from April 13th. to 16th.

RETURN LIMIT

midnight, Tuesday, April 18th., 1933
Information and fares from your local agent.

J. S. Giles, Town Agent, Lachute
Canadian Pacific

It's Spring in the Home!

NEW SPRING WALL PAPERS
SIMMONDS' IRON BED (Double).
MATRESS, and SPRING — $12.95 (We are the only agents in town for these genuine Simmonds' Products.)

VICTORIAN WALNUT (5-piece)
BEDROOM SUITE — $69.50
(Regular Price $125)

HENRY'S STORE

H. M. LAVIGNE, — LACHUTE MILLS.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

make breads light and tasty..

FOR OVER 50 years Royal Yeast Cakes have been the standard of quality.
Sealed in air-tight waxed paper, they keep fresh for months. Keep a supply handy.
And send for the ROYAL YEAST BAKE
BOOK to use when you bake at home.
Address Standard Brands Ltd., Fraser Ave.
and Liberty St., Toronto, Ont.

Try this Easy-to-Make Recipe for FORM CAKE

Cream ¼ c. sugar with ¼ c. butter. Add to 1 beaten egg and beat until light. Add 1 c. lukewarm milk. Stir well. Add 1 cup Royal Yeast Sponge*, ¼ c. citron, ¼ c. raisins, ¼ c.
chopped almonds, ¼ tsp. salt, and enough flour to make soft dough (about 4 cups). Knead well. Cover and set aside in warm place free from draughts to rise until double in bulk (about 1½ hrs.). Knead down and place in well-greased tube pan. Brush top with egg and bake in moderate oven about 45 minutes.

ROYAL YEAST SPONGE

Soak 1 Royal Yeast Cake in ½ pint lukewarm water for 15
min. Dissolve 1 tsp. sugar in ½ pint milk. Add to dissolved yeast cake. Add 1 quart bread flour. Beat thoroughly.

Cover and let rise overnight to double in bulk, in warm place free from draughts.
Makes 3 to 4 cups of batter.

Our free booklet, "THE ROYAL YEAST CAKE," tells how Royal Yeast Cakes will improve your breads, and suggests pleasant ways to take them.

BUY MADE-IN-CANADA GOODS

Churches

THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S NINE REASONS

Why A Man Should Go to Church

1. In this actual world, a churchless community, a community where men have abandoned and scoffed at or ignored their religious needs, is a community on the rapid down grade.

LACHUTE UNITED CHURCH

Rev. W. B. Rosborough, B.A., B.D.

10 a.m., Sabbath School.

11 a.m., Morning Worship.

Subject: "A Faithful Saying."

7 p.m., Evening Service.

Subject: "A Three-fold Challenge To Young People."

All young people are very cordially invited to this service.

8 p.m., Thomas' Gore.

A Communion Service will be held on Easter Sunday at 11 a.m., with Preparatory Service on Good Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

All are cordially invited.

BROWNSBURG

UNITED CHURCH

Rev. A. E. Hagar, Pastor.

Sunday, April 9th., 1933

10 a.m., Sunday School and Bible Classes.

11 a.m., Morning Worship.

Subject: We are bound to go on.

7 p.m., Evening Worship.

Subject: Jerusalem on the night of the betrayal.

All are cordially invited.

Wednesday, April 12th., Auxiliary Meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Jordan, 7:30 p.m.

BAPTIST CHURCHES

Rev. F. W. Dyson, Pastor.

Dalesville 11 a.m.

Brownsburg 3 p.m.

Lachute 7 p.m.

Lachute Subject: "The Jailers Question."

MAPLE AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. E. G. Baxter.

10 a.m., Sunday School.

7 p.m., Evening Service.

"The Message of the Cross".

Wednesday 7:30 p.m., B.Y.P.U.

Friday, 7:30 p.m., B.Y.P.U.

Grenville Baptist:

11 a.m., Grenville Service.

3 p.m., Chatham West Service.

FRENCH BAPTIST CHURCH

The Quarry French Baptist Church Services are held every Sunday, as follows:—

Sunday School 10 a.m.

Worship 11 a.m., (Bi-Lingual).

No morning service on the 2nd. Sunday of each month.

Rev. J. G. Poitras, Pastor.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND

Palm Sunday

St. Simeon's, Lachute

11 a.m., Morning Prayer

Week day Services

Wednesday 8 p.m.

Good Friday 10:30 a.m.

St. George's Brownsburg.

7 p.m., Evensong.

Week day Services

Friday, April 7th. 7:30 p.m.

Good Friday 7:30 p.m.

Rev. W. LeCras, Rector.

LAKEFIELD SERVICES

Sunday, April 9th., 1933

Louisa 10:30 a.m.

Dunany 2:30 p.m.

RAILWAY POOL PASSENGER SERVICES

The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways have agreed, in principle, to pooling of competitive passenger services wherever practicable. Detailed arrangements for making the pool effective, East and West, will take some time to complete, but in order to effect immediate economies the two companies have arranged for a partial pooling of passenger service between Montreal and Toronto, and the pooling of all passenger services between Ottawa and Toronto, these consolidations became effective April 2nd. An economy

∴ District News ∴

ST. ANDREWS EAST

Mr. Black, of Montreal, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Albert Dorion.

Mr. Willie Perks, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Perks last week-end.

Miss Allison Taylor is spending a week the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Taylor, Isle aux Chats.

Dr. Will Pitcairn was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pitcairn over the week-end.

The Boy Scouts entertained the C. G. I. T. last Friday evening, at a sleigh drive and taffy feed.

Mr. Henry Barclay and Mr. W. J. Pitcairn spent Thursday in Montreal.

Mrs. R. P. Reid, of New York, is spending a few weeks here the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Neve.

"Resolved that the progress of a country depends more on manufacturing industries than on agriculture" will be debated on by six members of the Young People's Society of the Presbyterian Church next Friday evening. Those taking part on the affirmative side are: Miss R. Bradley, Mr. Lloyd Muir and Mr. Willie Gates. Negative: Miss Janet Watson, Mr. Ernest McQuat and Mr. Ernest Rodgers. This debate will be open to the public.

The funeral of the late Emily Elizabeth Hollyman, wife of Mr. Thomas O. Paquette, of Carillon, took place last Monday afternoon from Christ Church. A large number of friends and relatives attended the service which was conducted by the Rev. R. S. Booy. Mrs. Paquette will be greatly missed in the Women's Auxiliary of which she had been a member for a number of years and an enthusiastic worker. She is survived by her husband and three sons to whom we extend our sincere sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones spent Saturday in Montreal.

Don't forget Dr. Maude Abbott's lecture on "The Shrines and Temples of Ancient Greece and the Beautiful Isles of the Aegean Sea" Friday evening, April 8th. in the United Church, 8:30.

CUSHING

Mr. Fenton Elliott of Ottawa, was the week-end guest of his father, Mr. G. W. Elliott.

Mr. Donald Maclean, of Sherbrooke, spent several days with his parents at the manse.

Mr. Robt. Evans spent several days last week in Ottawa.

Miss Alberta Cleland, of Montreal, spent a few days this week, visiting friends in St. Philippe and Cushing.

Cushing Community Club are holding a taffy night on Friday evening of this week.

The Women's Missionary Society of St. Mungo's Church will meet at the home of Mrs. T. W. Weir on Tuesday afternoon, April 11th. This will be a combination work and business meeting.

The last day of March left a little spring blossom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McComb, of St. Chrysostome, as a farewell gift in the form of a baby daughter. Mrs. McComb was formerly Miss Ruth Dobbie, of Cushing.

Grenville: Service will be conducted in the Baptist Church this Sunday at 11 o'clock and on every alternate Sunday throughout the summer.

St. George?

The Sunday-School teacher was telling her class of boys the legendary story of St. George. She concluded, and asked for the name of the dragon-slaying hero. Promptly came the answer, "Baden-Powell!"

of well over half a million dollars per year will result from these initial developments in the pooling arrangements.

The pooling arrangement is an extension of the continued reduction in passenger service to meet the decline in passenger traffic. It is felt that the pooled services will provide ample facilities for all present requirements.

BROWNSBURG

Mrs. P. A. Wood, of Montreal, spent a few days visiting Mrs. H. Gardiner. Mrs. Jas. Reid, returned on Sunday night accompanied by Miss T. Prosser and Mr. Dowling.

Miss Gladys Stevens and Miss Elsie McFaul, of Montreal, spent the week-end with their aunt, Mrs. Moncrieff.

Don't forget "Nora Wake Up" will be given in Mr. Goyette's Hall, on April 28th., at 8 p.m. Adults 33c.; children 18c.

With a Council Meeting and Tax Collecting the Social Club Room was a busy place on Monday.

Mr. Eric King, eldest son of Mr. William King was taken to the Montreal General Hospital on Monday last to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Alvin Stewart of the Bank of Nova Scotia Staff, of Manawaki, is home on a three weeks' vacation.

Mrs. F. Kettle entertained at a five hundred party on Friday evening. Miss Ruby McFaul winning the prize.

Miss Ruby McFaul gave a very enjoyable tressau tea on Friday afternoon. Miss McFaul is leaving for New York, where her marriage to Mr. A. Gordon will take place shortly.

Mrs. James Davis has been removed to the hospital in Montreal, where she is under treatment. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Miss Elva McFaul is on the sick list, a victim of la grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman McGibbon spent the week-end with friends in Montreal.

Mrs. Golphin and Mr. David Golphin were in Montreal over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McQuaig spent the early part of this week with friends in Ottawa.

Mrs. Wm. King and Mrs. Robbins, of Brownsburg, are spending this week in Montreal, owing to the illness of Eric King who is now in hospital.

CUSHING WEST

Mrs. Gordon Higginson, of Hawkesbury, spent Thursday last as the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Capt. T. Weir.

Miss Muriel Cooke, is visiting Mrs. Walter Mann at Stardale, this week.

Miss Alberta Cleland, of Montreal, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers at St. Philippe over the week-end.

Mrs. E. J. Mahoney and sons Billy and Teddy spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. R. Funcheon at Monalea.

A very pleasant and well-attended meeting of the St. Mungo's Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Capt. T. Weir on Thursday last.

Messrs. S. Whelehan and D. Hartley motored up from the city on Saturday and spent the week-end with their friends here. They were unable to make the trip in their usual record-breaking time owing to the fact that they were obliged to come by way of St. Jerome the road between St. Eustache and Lachute being in some places impassable.

The Community Club are planning their annual taffy festival in the hall for the latter end of the week.

Miss Doreen Harmon who spent the past two months with friends at Greece's Point, returned to Montreal on Saturday.

MILLE ISLES

We are glad to see spring once more; everything looks so bright and cheerful in this countryside.

Mrs. M. Captain is spending a few weeks in Montreal.

Mr. R. Knight has returned from Montreal.

Mr. W. Wood spent a few days in Montreal recently.

Miss H. Dawson and Mr. H. Wood spent last Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Noble.

Miss B. Bruce, Mrs. G. Kirkpatrick and son Sydney, were the guests at Lily Crest on Tuesday.

Mrs. John Noble and Mrs. Ward spent a few days in Montreal visiting many friends; the latter is returning in a few days to the Montreal General Hospital for observation.

MORIN HEIGHTS

Miss Mona Kennedy returned home to Pine Hill on Tuesday last, after spending three weeks the guest of Mrs. R. Kennedy.

Miss Olive Seale, of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Seale.

Miss Ailsa Seale left on Monday morning to visit friends in Montreal.

Mrs. Rufus McCullough returned home on Sunday last, after spending the past two weeks in Montreal.

Rev. Jos. Irving, of St. Lambert, occupied the pulpit in the Trinity Anglican Church on Thursday evening, March 30.

Mrs. R. W. Robinson and Miss Maida and Master Malcolm of Montreal, arrived on Sunday last to spend a couple of weeks as the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. Greene. Mr. Robinson accompanied his family and remained until Wednesday morning.

On Friday evening last the C.G.I.T., as well as a few invited guests, were entertained at the home of Miss J. Campbell.

After a short business meeting games were played, followed by singing. The hostess then served dainty refreshments which proved an enjoyable climax to the social evening.

THE "DEFICITEER"

"Deficiteer" is one of the very latest of those newly coined words for which the English language is famous. Years ago we heard a great deal about the individual or organization that made too much money so the "profiteer" became a by-word with a contemptuous implication. Business however has been assailed by a worse enemy who has recently been named the "Deficiteer" indicating the individual or organization who sells at or below cost of production, otherwise the personification of unbridled competition. "The deficiteer" says one writer, "causes a vicious cycle. He sets the price and others must follow, or they can get no business. When this extends over a period long enough for the bank to see the poor results credit is lowered or cut off. This causes merchandise to be thrown on the market to raise immediate cash. The market becomes demoralized and everyone in that line suffers loss. Credit to everyone is then curtailed and this continues until the market is in the hands of those best fitted to survive or until some outside influence intervenes to stabilize the market. In the meantime, in order to reduce losses, salaries are cut, with resultant lessening of buying power, and thus a lowered demand, so that prices must again be cut to stimulate business and again a reducing of salaries and wages, cutting down the buying

DANGER

Get rid of badly worn tires NOW!

Tire blow-outs, and tires worn so smooth that they skid easily, cause thousands of accidents every year. Don't wait until it is too late. Get rid of your worn tires NOW.

GOOD YEAR

12 months guarantee against defects and road hazards

Paquin Garage

55 Foundry Street, Lachute

A Blend of Distinctive Quality

"SALADA" GREEN TEA

"Fresh from the Gardens"

power yet further and so on until the final result, if the process is not checked, would be the loin cloth for apparel and goat's milk for food."

The deficiteer is the pivot point of a vicious circle which repeats upon itself and he himself cannot escape the disaster toward which his tactics are forcing his contemporaries. No line of business is exempt from his pernicious machinations. He may crop up anywhere at any time. The existing depression has produced very many of these birds of ill omen in all countries and in all lines of business activity. To no small degree he has aggravated a situation already sufficiently serious and is responsible for much of the unemployment, misery and want that prevails.

—(Cornwall Freeholder)

Eddie Cantor in "The Kid from Spain", expected at the Rex Theatre early in May.

Turtle For Two.

The turtle was "in clover" when this picture was taken, and "in the soup" shortly after. The background study in black and white is provided by the Misses Marion Webster and Helen MacKay, of Montreal, on board the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain", in which they cruised around the world. The turtle, like many other rare and exotic delicacies consumed by four hundred passengers during their 30,000 mile cruise, only went part way.

Automobile Painting

Have it done properly, by

CLAUDE St. JACQUES

43 Robert Street, Lachute

Carriage and Body Repairs, Sign Lettering, Table-top refinishing in lacquer

Preliminary Spring Sale

Ladies' and Children's Outfitting of all kinds

Prices to the Lowest Point

To make room for Summer Stock

Fantaisies Parisiennes

227 Main Street, Phone 336, Lachute, Que.

Easter

Flowers

A large assortment of Easter Flowers will be on sale at the following stores:

Robert McFaul, Lachute.

Mrs. Lonsdale, Brownsburg.

E. C. Calder, St. Andrews E.

Phone your order; don't delay

A BEAUTIFUL GIFT FOR MOTHER

The Lachute Watchman

Home Newspaper of Argenteuil and the Ottawa Valley

VOL. LVIII.

LACHUTE, QUE., APRIL 13th., 1933.

No. 15

Quebec Sees the Light

A Front Page Editorial

While Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and the Senate were passing the Relief Measures Act as a statutory amendment—the purpose of which is to prolong “charity” relief in preference to relief works for the unemployed—Premier Taschereau was endorsing Montreal’s move to curtail direct assistance in favor of relief undertakings to provide employment. “This Government”, said Premier L. A. Taschereau, “has always favored relief works, and has invariably viewed direct relief in the light of an economic and moral evil.”

It is encouraging to find Quebec thus takes the lead, to outrole a system which is fast undermining the initiative of our unemployed. A few rural municipalities, including this town of Lachute during the past winter, have shown it is possible to provide work economically, on business lines. It seems feasible that such efforts could be practised on a larger scale, to afford employment to the vast body of jobless Canadian citizens.

Direct relief has been found less costly! The recent provincial conference embraced it, in the interests of economy. For the same reason, Federal Parliament pursues it, and the Senate confirms it. But if there was ever an instance of false economy, it is this policy. . . . The Commons, admittedly, are directed by popular opinion; the taxpayer decries the high cost of government, and administrative expenses are cut accordingly. Therein lies a vicious cycle. The ratepayer, who suffers most from depression, dictates the very policy which is hindering the return of prosperity.

It is recognized that hard times have arisen, not through the scarcity of money, but because the dollar has retired from circulation. Work will set the currency rotating; public works, moreover, will stimulate all classes of labor, industry and profession, as nothing else can.

How shall it be done?—for public improvements cost money, taxpayers’ money. Nevertheless, funds should be forthcoming; loans should be authorized where necessary, and if taxes rise accordingly—well, we still believe the citizen with a doubled earning power will not seriously object to higher taxes.

In face of the universal urge to economize, this may be considered a drastic recommendation. But it is the logical deterrent from stagnation. . . it being understood, of course, that the policy of spending implies the exercise of judgment and discretion; there are public works which are obvious luxuries—they spell extravagance; but there are improvements which are useful, profitable, self-justifying—these represent investment.

In St. Andrews East a few days ago, a debate was held on the resolution, “That the progress of a country depends more on manufacturing industries than on agriculture.” No report of this discussion has been heard to date, but we venture to suggest that plain logic supports the affirmative. Agriculture sells largely to home markets; the farmer today is suffering severely from the diminished buying power of our Canadian communities. Increased industry will stimulate that buying power, restoring to the dollar its legitimate function as “legal tender.” And we repeat, public works in turn can stimulate the industries, as nothing else can (—for no private or corporate concern has the resources of a government, to sponsor so vast a bid for rehabilitation.) Building, structural, and engineering trades will respond to the demand; other manufactures will pulsate to the worker’s ability to spend on long-felt needs.

Commerce is suffering today from Economy—misinterpreted and misapplied. Governments, municipalities, institutions, have been railroaded into a panic retrenchment. It is true that public opinion, in a measure, has throttled normal activities. And we are glad to note the first gleam of disillusionment here in Quebec, where our administrators are revolting against “charity”, which demoralizes, and inclining to an enterprise which will react on the life-stream of Production.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said to weekly newspaper men in Ottawa recently, “There never was a time when the Government was doing more for the people than now, and that Governments were so unpopular as at present.”

Monthly Report of Argenteuil W.I.

Chatham held their annual meeting; elected Mrs. S. W. McGibbon, Pres.; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. J. D. Lepine, Mrs. G. Todd; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. H. R. Ardill. One new member received at this meeting.

Frontier elected officers reported in previous issue, excepting Mrs. Frank Fuller as Child Welfare and Public Health convenor. Roll-call “How I made my talent money”, also read letter from Green’s Norton Institute, Northamptonshire, England. Donated money to Children’s Memorial Hospital and Scientific Temperance Educational campaign. Arranged program for year’s work and donated quilt to fire sufferers, and candy to an invalid.

Jerusalem-Bethany also held their annual meeting, at the home of the president, Mrs. E. Kettle. Roll-call “Canadian Authors”. Decided to send exhibit to Can. Nat. Exhibition in August. The president, much to the delight of the members, was re-elected. Vice-presidents, Miss Margaret Walker, Mrs. G. Walker; Sec’y., Mrs. L. Boyd; Treasurer, Mrs. K. Sly; Convenors, Agriculture, Mrs. K. Sly;

Child Welfare and Public Health Miss M. Walker; Education and Better Schools, Miss M. Leishman; Home Economics, Mrs. G. Walker; Immigration, Mrs. N. Boyd; Can. and Nat. Events, Mrs. D. Rodgers; Can. Industries, Miss H. Hume; Publicity, Mrs. L. Boyd, Mrs. Kettle, Miss Margaret Walker to arrange the programme for the coming year.

Lachute re-elected all their officers and convenors. Had good reports of the year’s work from Secretary and Treasurer. Current Events were read by Mrs. Leggett; also an interesting Home Economics programme was given with Mrs. Campbell as convenor. The branch is donating $2.00 per month to High School for milk for undernourished children. Sending maple sugar to English Institute. Roll-call, “Pet Aversion.” Splendid attendance at both March and April meetings.

Lakefield re-elected their officers, unanimously. Mrs. Kuhring read a paper on “Aliens that cannot be deported,” which was very interesting. The Branch planned for a first-aid kit for the school.

(Continued on Page 3)

Injured Sawing Wood

George Maiden, while engaged in sawing wood on the farm of Mr. Kenneth McDougall, of North River, had the misfortune to come in contact with the circular saw and his hand was badly damaged, one finger being severed and another cut to the bone.

Last Call for Sunday Broadcast Fund

Watchman’s Contribution List Will Close, Early Next Week

Readers are reminded that the local fund, sponsored by this newspaper and authorized by the Crown Trust Company, on behalf of the broadcasting of Sunday services from Montreal, will conclude next Monday or Tuesday; and any wishing to subscribe informally through The Watchman should kindly do so without delay. Small amounts are welcome.

We do not believe the continuance of this good work was ever seriously threatened by lack of funds. Our appeal has not been made in that spirit, as a plea in desperation for a losing cause. It has been spontaneous, in sheer appreciation of what we consider a fine, wholesome Christian venture. And it is felt this particular community, with no undue sacrifice, could bear a small burden of the expense. Someone has to pay—and pay heavily. Why should Lachute neglect its share, here where people are better able to give than many of the sick, ostracized, and isolated people who

Thanks be unto God for His gifts: the Easter radiance, the Easter message, the Easter demonstration, the invincible faith of Easter. — Spare not to get some Easter flower. It is the symbol of what God has in His plan for our souls.

—The Sentinel.

An Inter-Provincial Softball League

There is a proposal to form a team, representative of Lachute, to enter the Inter-provincial Softball League which would comprise Vankleek Hill, Hawkesbury, Brownsburg and possibly Lachute. . . It is understood there is a trophy in the form of a cup, donated by a prominent merchant of Hawkesbury, to be awarded at the end of the season to the winning team.

Anyone desirous of participating, either as a player or supporter, is requested to communicate for further particulars to Gordon (Bill) McFaul, Lachute Mills, and George Abraham, Main Street. Efforts to support this enterprise and encourage the sport of Softball in Lachute will be appreciated. The league season will probably commence sometime in May and will close in August.

Lucky Numbers for School Pupils

Winners of free matinee tickets to Rex Theatre, according to lucky numbers in the school reports published this week, are—Douglas McKimmie 31, Kathleen McLean 137 (in Lachute); S. Seary 8, and L. Ball 116 (in Brownsburg). Tickets may be secured at the Watchman Office—and for the information of Brownsburg winners who are not able to call immediately, these matinee passes will be good at any future time.

Argenteuil Unchanged in Political Redistribution

The various constituencies of Quebec Province are being adjusted for a more equitable representation in the next provincial elections, but it is understood Argenteuil will remain unchanged as a political division. Terrebonne, now an electoral county of 38,611 population, will be reduced to 34,054 by dropping the town and parish of Ste. Therese and taking in St. Donat from the constituency of L’Assomption. Ste. Therese will now be included in Laval-Two Mountains a territory embracing most of the riding of Laval plus the provincial county of Two Mountains.

Youth’s Actions Upset Hawkesbury Meeting

Leads Officers a Merry Chase Before Capture

A special joint meeting of the Hawkesbury town council, board of trade, and school boards called to discuss the town’s financial situation last week, was thrown into sudden disorder when a young man suddenly rose to his feet, crashed his way through overturned chairs to the front of the platform, and in strong language, began abusing Mayor Woods, the councillors and the policemen present.

The youth, Alphonse Jebault, aged 19, of Hawkesbury, led the officers a merry chase around the room until he was finally caught and sat on by provincial police Constable Lloyd McLure. He gave no reason for his actions, as he was led away and placed in the cells. He was taken to the L’Orignal jail.

listen in.

It may be mentioned, this effort has not met, so far, with a hearty local response; but it is hoped enough may be collected before next week to make it worth while.

What Other People are Doing

Comment on Current World Affairs (Contributed)

Three months ago we were asking ourselves—would England pay? Was she going to default, as France was threatening to, and subsequently did. Three months from now the same question will again arise, and the same arguments will again be discussed pro and con, unless meanwhile some arrangement is come to, whereby the question will be determined. The British Premier, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald has announced his intention of visiting Mr. Roosevelt, for the purpose of discussing the Debts question and arranging a basis for a preliminary conference, to prepare the ground for a Conference where the Debt question will be reviewed. The British people are feeling pretty strongly about those endless, abortive conferences, which are being held in all the health resorts of the world. Whilst admitting that Ramsay MacDonald is the one man from whom anything in the nature of progress can be expected, and who can claim a greater share of success from Conference proceedings than any other statesman in the world to-day, it must also be borne in mind that the American people are very diffident of discussing the War Debt question at all. Considerable publicity is obtained by American people who, no matter how ill-timed or illogical the statement may be, are disposed to say that a slice of Canada or some other British interest can be used as barter in the settlement of the War Debts. The fact that the foolishness of such a suggestion has not appeared to these people, makes it the more difficult to arrive at any satisfactory conclusion to this difficult question.

Hitler, who was a plain corporal during the war, who never rose above a plain corporal, and who is to-day employing Gen. Von Hindenburg as his second-in-command, is a striking example of the power of oratory. If there is one thing Hitler can do and do well it is to address the mob. Empty verbiage alone could not win to the German Chancellor the million of people who are today proclaiming him as the saviour of the Fatherland. He is also a student of psychology; he told the German people what they all along wanted to convince themselves of but were too cowed to proclaim. Hedged in on all sides by what they considered enemies, paying tribute for a war they believed they won, and bereft of a figure-head to inspire them, their efforts towards salvation as a nation were listless and without co-ordination. . . . Along comes Hitler, who tells them they won the war, that they are the people, that they will not be bound by unjust treaties, that they will not be ruled by Jews. Germany for the Germans — and immediately their inferiority complex vanishes; they again strut the “goose-step” and hold their heads up; and above all they vote for Hitler. Can Hitler bring Germany out of the wilderness? Time alone will tell.

Manchuria is now in the hands of Japan, and there is no one to say her nay. It is a heavy blow to the League of Nations and Disarmament Conferences. It is also a lesson to the various powers, one which will ring its echoes down the corridor of time. It teaches self reliance. An economic war against Japan, as proposed by some publicists, is worse than useless. England thoughtlessly imposed an embargo on arms and the other powers immediately took up England’s contracts and supplied the armaments, so that England went back to self-reliance and withdrew the embargo. She now has her ammunition factories working night and day. An economic war would end the same way—apart from its immoral side. It would serve also to inflict greater hardship on China. It is doubtful if all the powers could come to agree in making the embargo complete; and even if it could be enforced, what is there to prevent Japan from penetrating into China until the Chinese, in sheer self-preservation, would cry out to raise the embargo.

The Free people of the United States have been granted a little more freedom. They are now allowed to drink beer. After fourteen years in which the States jails were filled to overflowing as a direct result of drink, beer has again become legal. The people of twenty-three states can now get a glass of beer without the risk of becoming blind, hi-jacked or jailed. The other States fall into line by degrees, until by the 9th. June, West Virginia will surrender to the beer-flow.

According to the International Labour Office at Geneva, there were 975,000 more people unemployed in March this year than in March last year. The only countries of any importance not included in this survey are the United States and Russia.

Robert Boa Dies in 81st Year

An aged and respected resident of Upper Lachute, in the person of Robert Boa, passed away at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Pollock, on Tuesday, April 4th.

Of a quiet and unassuming manner he won the respect and confidence of all with whom he came in contact, and had enjoyed good health until a few weeks ago, when the shock of a fall is thought to have hastened death.

During his early life he was connected with the former Presbyterian Church and served in various offices in connection with its work. His example and influence was always for good in the community.

In 1879 he married Miss Ellen Smith, and in 1929 a happy celebration of their 50th Anniversary was held.

His wife, one son, William F., and one daughter, Mrs. Charles Pollock, are left to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father.

The funeral took place on Thursday the 6th. inst., and was conducted by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough, assisted by the Rev. W. LeCras. Interment was made in Lachute Cemetery.

Premier Brownlee has introduced a bill in the Alberta Legislature to increase the gasoline tax from five to six cents a gallon, which is, roughly, a third of the sale price of the fuel. As a straight $5 reduction has been made in the price of automobile licences the motorists of the province may accept the new charge philosophically and live in the hope that the limit has been reached. Montreal Gazette.

W.M.S. Thank-Offering

The Women’s Missionary Society of Lachute United Church held their Easter Thank-Offering meeting in the Church Hall, on Thursday afternoon, April 6th. A very inspiring and helpful address was given by Mrs. Roy Stafford, of Montreal. A duet rendered by Mrs. R. A. Giles and Mrs. K. McQuat was also much enjoyed. The proceeds amounted to $82.50.

Prefers to Take Jail Term

Louis Rouleau of Hawkesbury, elected to serve three months in jail rather than pay a fine of $125 and costs when he was convicted in police court on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

THE CAPTAIN'S CORNER

For Our Boy Readers

THE CAPTAIN'S WEEKLY LETTER.

"THE GREATEST VICTORY OF ALL"

Dear Boys:—

What is the Greatest Victory? Here is a question that must interest you, or you are not the fellows I take you to be. There are many kinds of victories, are there not?

There are the victories won on the field of battle; by brave soldiers fighting against a fierce and warlike enemy.

There are the victories which brave men win over the forces of Nature, as for instance the wonderful flight over Mount Everest, the largest Mountain in the world and hitherto unconquered!

And there are victories, the greatest of them all, which men win when fighting to overcome the moral weaknesses which possess them and which lower their character and spoil their lives if not vanquished.

Now, as far as the soldiers in battle are concerned, I trust that for you there will be no call on your courage or strength in such a thing as War.

As for the forces of Nature, it is my hope that in future days you will play your part manfully in overcoming them, should opportunity arise.

But, with reference to the Greatest Victory of All, this I pray is what you are striving for, now.

As a result of Victory there is Reward! The soldiers receive medals, and the grateful thanks of their Country. The explorers and scientists receive honour and acclamation from their fellow citizens. . . . But the man who fights to conquer self and overcome wickedness, receives a more wonderful distinction—for unto him is given the divine gift of holiness, to which is attached self-respect, joy and happiness.

This, dear boys, is to my mind the Greatest Victory, and day by day it is being won—

*"Like other Victories, it does not die away,
Or like the Sunshine fade at end of day;
It does not falter, or on chance depend,
But rides in triumph to the Journey's End."*

May God give you such a Victory, and its sure reward of joy and happiness.

Your affectionate friend,

THE CAPTAIN.

When the Redskin Ruled

THE CAPTAIN'S SERIAL
STORY OF ADVENTURE

Special to The Watchman

Chapter. 14.

*"There is magic in a voyage at Sea".
—Holmes*

"And now what shall we do?" asked Edgar, as the last article was stored away in the limited space of the small cabin set apart for the two boys. And moving away from the empty box at his feet, he added, "If only Father were here we could get him to tell us more about Canada, but he has gone with the ship's Captain for a long talk, at least I think that's where he is." Walter grinned. "From the tone of your voice one would imagine that you have a grievance against your Father for deserting you," he chaffed. "What about Sunny Jim?" he added thoughtfully. "He ought to be able to entertain us in some way. Let's go and find him if we can." But Edgar shook his head. "No Walter, you may be surprised but I have had enough of that man's society for awhile. There seems to be something about him I can't understand, some mystery or other that baffles me. Of course it's all silly, but do you know, I don't believe he is quite what he makes himself out to be. What do you think yourself?"

"That you are permitting your imagination to run away with you, Edgar," responded his chum. "After all it does not matter much what he is, does it? He met us on our walk, made himself agreeable, and Mr. Dickson has engaged him as a servant. Beyond that we need not bother our heads. . . . I suggested him because, of all the people on this ship, he is the only one we know." "But do we know him?" persisted the younger boy, a petulant expression on his face. "That's just my point. Don't forget, we are going to a new country about which we know very little, and though my father must have knowledge of what he is doing, he seems to be trusting this man far too much. Do you know, I heard him say he was to have complete charge of all the stores and equipment when we landed? I should not be surprised if he even gave him authority over us." "And supposing he did," came the earnest reply. "Would you seriously rebel against that, Edgar? Sunny Jim says he has been to Canada before, knows the difficulties and dangers, and can save us from getting into no end of difficulties. It will be a very different thing when we have grown up and are men."

For a few minutes there was silence between the two friends and then Edgar, with an unsatisfied grunt, made for the door. "Oh well, have it your own way Walter," he said ungraciously. "I suppose what you say is right, only don't come to me for sympathy when you are ordered about by one who is, after all, only a servant. You won't like it any more than I do, however much you may pretend. Can't you show me some way in which we can occupy our time? We have days, and weeks, on this old ship, you know."

Walter was just about to reply to this outburst when a resounding knock came on their cabin door, and without waiting for permission to enter Sunny Jim presented himself.

"Ah, the young masters are together," he said with a smile. "Come, that is good; I was looking for you everywhere."

"And now you have found us," rejoined Edgar, with almost a sneer, "what do you want?"

Sunny Jim continued to smile. "I want," he commenced slowly, as if choosing his words with care, "the young masters' attention: There is an open space on the deck below this to which we must go, and down there we will do some wrestling and other exercises that will be good for you." Both youngsters looked in amazement at the speaker. Could they be mistaken or was there almost a note of command in the words he had just spoken?

AUNT JEAN HERSELF

A Column for the Kiddies
(Copyright)

FOLLOW OUR LEADER

God loves the little children;
He sent his son to die
Upon the cross at Calvary,
To save both you and I.

He was laid in Joseph's garden,
Bound in with stone his tomb,
But angels hovered near him.
Dispelling death's dark gloom.

God waked Him on Easter morning,
He rose from death's dark night
To make for us a pathway,
Up to his Heaven bright.

NANCY'S PUP

Some Questions Answered

Mother Craig told Professor Dixon the story of Nancy's pup while the little cousins and Uncle Dick listened with great interest. They had not heard of this before.

Prof. Dixon said laughingly "Your very first question has floored me, young man. You will have to give me another chance and ask me another question, an easier one Billy, please."

Billy looked thoughtful. At last he said, "I don't think there is anything else I want to know just at present." He felt that he was being made a baby of. It was all right for a fellow's uncle to pick you up and pet you, as though you were quite small, but it was quite different with a strange professor. Anyway he was not a real "cyclopedia" or he would have known where mother dogs put puppies when they wanted to hide them.

"Well, that is quite too bad," Prof. Dixon said, with a little chuckle in his voice, "but perhaps Bert has a question he would like to ask."

Bert felt suddenly shy, but managed to ask why the weather was so queer. Why it was warm one day and quite cool the next?

"It all depends on the surface of the sun," Prof. Dixon said. "There are parts of the sun that radiate more heat than other parts. Sun spots, they are called. They vary in size and form all the time. Scientists are not really sure yet what makes them change. Sometimes there are volumes of electricity and heat coming from the sun to the earth and other times not so much. A lot depends on air currents too. If they come from the far north, they are cold currents, if they come from the south or over-heated dry deserts, they are warm currents. A lot depends on the velocity of those air currents, when the wind is blowing softly it is not quite so cold and the leaves just quiver, you know that the air current is just moving at the rate of five or six miles an hour. . . . When the branches sway it is moving at fifteen miles an hour. When the biggest branches on the trees are tossed about, the wind is moving at the rate of twenty-five miles, but when it picks up sticks and blows them around, blows down chimneys, turns Maud's umbrella inside-out, its rate of travel has increased to almost seventy-five miles an hour; then it is time for all little folks to be inside. What do you think, Nora?"

"I think that it is all very in-

"But we have other plans" began Walter indignantly, only to have his sentence cut short.

"Which must be put aside, my master," interrupted Sunny Jim. "Come we are wasting time. Take off your jacket and shoes, and follow me. My orders are to train you in all physical exercises and you must obey."

Very reluctantly the boys removed their jackets and kicked off their shoes, and on further instructions rolled up the sleeves of their shirts. This done, Sunny Jim led them down the hatchway till they reached the deck of which he had spoken. "Now stand over there" he directed, pointing to the centre, "and I will teach you what you have to do."

To be Continued.

Children's Rubber Knee Boots

All Sizes from 8 to 2 $1.25

Men's Knee-Length Rubbers

Everything for the Sugar Camp

at special prices

John McFaul & Son

Telephone No. 8.

Main Street.

alarm. "Don't begin talking about bears just before I go to bed. Why, I would be so nervous I should not be able to sleep. . . . And when I did sleep I'd have bad dreams! No bear stories until morning, Bert please."

"All right, Uncle Ned, I won't worry you about it till morning. I did not know your nerve were weak."

"I didn't know either," said his uncle, giving his ear a friendly tweak as he passed by.

Bert went to bed wondering why Uncle Ned had not wanted the story told just then, but through the night he understood.

Billy was so tired that he had crawled into bed half-dressed and it took the united efforts of Bert and little Ned to get him roused enough to finish the undressing.

"Late hours do not suit Billy," giggled Keith as he watched the two older boys struggling to get the youngster into his pyjamas.

"It is not only that—it was the excitement of seeing the bear and I'm afraid he has had more taffy than is good for him."

Grandma left a big dishful right beside him and before I noticed what he was doing he had eaten the most of it," said Ned.

"Speaking of taffy, Ned, Uncle said he thought just the smell of it had attracted the bear. Do you suppose the smell of taffy attracted Prof. Dixon to Grandma's house tonight. If you remember he said he happened to call tonight."

"Perhaps it did, Bert. I know it attracted us, not the smell exactly but hearing there was going to be taffy. Perhaps some one told him too."

The boys had been given the big bedroom, which had been their father's room when they were all at home. There were two double beds in it, so they could all sleep in the same room.

"If Billy was not so sleepy we could have some fun" grumbled Keith. "I would just love a pillow fight. I have been looking forward to one ever since I knew we were to be here together. Hey, Bill!" he said, shaking him, "wake up."

Billy just rolled back his eyes in a frightened sort of way and muttered "The bear, the bear," diving under the bed clothes at the same time.

"There is no bear, you little goose" said Bert, laughing. It is just Keith trying to get you to play with him."

"Aw! leave me alone, I am, I am—" his voice trailed off into silence; he was asleep again.

"You will have to wait until tomorrow night, Keith," Ned said. "When Billy goes to sleep that is the last of him until morning." . . . But it was not the last of Billy that night! He surprised them later on. . . . Uncle Dick was not surprised though. What happened was just what he expected.

—If you can guess, children, what happened to Billy, you will know the title of the story for next week.

Lovingly,

Aunt Jean.

Clean Hands and Faces in Tibet Were Wolf Cubs'.

An unexpectedly found Wolf Cub Pack on the borders of Tibet produced the first boys with clean hands and faces "in many days of wanderings," according to a recent traveler. The Cubmaster was a Tibetan, "much respected even though a Christian."

When you're HEALTHY you're HAPPY

HAPPY days are usually healthy days. Why not add to these sunshiny days!

Poor health and constipation go hand in hand. Get rid of common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and-vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN is also twice as rich in iron as an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much better than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

Groceries

Canned Goods, Fresh Provisions

Grain, Flour, Feed; Preserves—

The need immediately suggests

Campbell Registered

"Old Established and Reliable"

Main Street,

Telephone 50.

Men's Silk, Wool, and

Cashmere Socks, Reg. 75c

Now Clearing at 50c pair

W. Banford & Son

Hardwood Flooring

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY

All grades in stock at our yards,

BETHANY ROAD, LACHUTE

Price $35.00 per
thousand and up

Cottingham Supply Company

Phone 29.

Box 623.

FIRST CHOICE OF ALL CANADA

12 months guarantee against defects and road hazards

GOOD YEAR

Goodyear quality is famous. More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind. You could not have a safer guide. Come in and price your size. You'll be surprised how little they cost.

Paquin Garage
55 Foundry Street,
Lachute

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

DR. G. A. CLUNIE, L.D.S.
Surgeon Dentist
Over Dominion Stores
Here Every Day
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

DR. W. M. HOOPER,
Dental Surgeon
235 Main Street, Phone 209.
Lachute, Que.

L. L. LEGAULT, K.C., Barrister and Advocate
295 Main Street, Phone 60.
Lachute, P. Que.

Z. N. RAYMOND, L.L.B.
Notary Public
Telephone 166 w.
281 Main Street, Lachute, P.Q.

GALL & JONES
General Insurance
Phone 95 ring 2
Bethany Street, Lachute.

GAETAN VALOIS, L.L.L.
Notary
Money to loan on security
Depositor of the late J. E. Valois' notary's papers.
Lachute, P. Que.

J. F. LAVIGNE, B.A.,
Public Notary
Municipal, Provincial and Victory Bonds handled
Telephone 178
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

G. GILLESPIE DUNLOP
Formerly of Edinburgh, Scotland
Barrister, Advocate, Solicitor
Practicing in Ontario and Quebec
103 Main Street West
Phone 93, Hawkesbury, Ontario,
Phone 604 r 2, Grenville, Quebec.

PHILIPPE VALOIS,
B.A., LL.B.
Advocate
(Son of the late J. E. Valois)
245 Main Street, Lachute.
Phone No. 81

GERARD RAYMOND
Advocate, Barrister & Solicitor
Insurance Exchange Bldg.
Suite 725
276 St. James St., West, Montreal
Telephones HARbour 2113 and
HARbour 2114
Office at Lachute every Saturday,
No. 281 Main Street,
Telephone 166 w.

WILLIAM ROBERTS
C.P.A., C.G.A.
Certified Public Accountant
Commercial and Municipal
Audits
680 St. Catherine St., West
Montreal.

Making History in Argenteuil

Extracted from files of
The Watchman.

50 Years Ago.

Friday, April 20, 1883.

R. Banford & Co. have the best line of 9c. prints . . . Five pounds Japan Tea for $1.00 . . . West End Cash Store.

Birth: At Lachute on the 18th. inst., to Mrs. John McCluskey, a son.

The Orange Incorporation Bill was defeated this week by a majority of 36 votes.

The boom of Messrs. Campbell & Co. broke on Wednesday night and a large number of logs came floating down the river. Some of them struck our office shed completely wrecking it, after it had resisted the ice floes.

In the marble works of Mr. G. L. Moir we had the pleasure of viewing a large round disc four feet in diameter, bearing the inscription "St. Andrews Town Hall, 1882"—the workmanship of which reflects great credit on Mr. Moir.

H. R. H. Princess Louise has arrived in Ottawa at last, via the Canada Atlantic Railway.

25 Years Ago.

Friday, April 24, 1908.

Mr. Wm. McFaul left on Monday for a business trip to Newfoundland in the interests of A. Grier & Son, Lumber Merchants.

Mrs. T. Christie Sr., of Montreal, was the guest of her son, Dr. G. Christie, this week.

Messrs. O. B. Lafleur and Sons expect to commence building operations on the new Post Office next week.

Mrs. Henry and children, of Renfrew, were in town this week as guests of her sisters, Mrs. Deacon and Mrs. R. McArthur.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Simeon's Church, on 23rd. when Mr. E. J. Hailes, organist of the Church, was united in marriage of Miss F. A. Barrows of this town, Rev. H. Charters, officiating. A reception was held afterwards at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Giles.

Miss McLeod, of Montreal, spent Easter week in town with Miss Clunie.

AN UNHAPPY PROSPECT

Irish villages are "sprucing up on the American plan" in the hope of attracting tourists. Good heavens, is the tumbledown shack in Athlone going to become a hot-dog joint?

—Border Cities Star.

If a man has information he may shift his position, but if he has only prejudice he will stand his ground until he is run over.

There can't be another boom right away. It will take 20 years to produce a new crop of trustful idiots. —Buffalo News

Better Cooked Foods WITH THE NEW

Coleman
Safety Instant-Gas

The Modern Stove for Rural Homes!

Have downy angel food cakes, Parker House Rolls, tea biscuits, delicious meats . . . better foods of all kinds . . . in the "flavor-saving" Coleman oven! The new Instant-Gas Stove with its marvelous features, makes it easy to cook foods in a more appetizing way. Lights like gas . . . instantly. Cooks like gas . . . makes and burns its own gas from regular gasoline.

MODEL No. 932
with Concealed Fuel Tank and Green-Green Rippletone Finish.

MODEL No. 902
Standard Range finished in snow-white porcelain.

MODEL No. 974
Sturdy Utility Stove with 8 burners. Brown Enamel.

Handsome new models with concealed fuel tanks; glistening porcelain finish in the new Rippletone effect; new and beautiful colors. They set the pace in style as well as mechanical perfection. Various models to suit every cooking need.

The Instant-Gas is the safe, dependable, economical stove. It's ready . . . instantly for any cooking job. And it's a real money saver . . . average fuel cost per meal for a family of five is only 2¢. Be sure to see these new modern stoves that put an end to cooking drudgery. They make cooking an easier, pleasanter task.

ASK YOUR LOCAL DEALER

or write to

THE COLEMAN LAMP & STOVE CO., Ltd.
TORONTO, 8, ONTARIO (SR-12X)

Buy
Flour and Feed
at Lachute Bakery
Successors to H. Filion, Main Street.
Tel. 106.

Lachute High School Reports

Grade X, English Literature
A M. Kelly, L. O'Reilly, M. Walker.

A- B. Clunie, H. LeCras, A. Rosborough.
B+ M. Walker.
B G. Martin, G. Morrison.
B- D. Leishman, D. McFarlane, S. Milnes, V. Silversen.
C L. Kerr, S. Morrison.
C+ M. Bates.
C- V. Bates, E. Davis, Robt. Hadley.

D+ L. Davis, W. Drew, B. Miller.
D W. King.

D- W. Davis, M. Doig, John MacKenzie, C. Miller.
E W. Derby.

Grades VI and VII,

Physical Drill

2nd. Term

A+ E. Rosborough, C. Armstrong, D. MacKimmie.

A R. Bedard, S. Drew, Margaret Gordon, E. Jackson, E. Couvrette, P. Patterson, A. Shaded, F. Stein, H. Miles, H. Deacon, K. Bradford, L. Bates, G. Leggett.

B H. Belanger, S. Leggett, F. Hume, M. Gibson, M. McLean, C. Elliott, D. Cooke, M. Boyd, K. McLean, G. Moore, L. Brown, I. Hay, K. Miller, Janet Boa.

Grades VI and VII

Physical Drill

2nd. Term

E. Boyd, D. Wheatley, Margaret Brennan, J. Pollock, E. Heatlie, V. Hammond, A. Ward R. Brennan, E. Copeland, Ross Gordon, C. MacKimmie, Arnold Boyd, H. Morrison, L. Armstrong, H. Lister, A. Cox, S. Cleland, K. Dion.

C F. Hind, F. Maiden, Keith Boa, B. Pollock, R. Dawson, H. Morrison, D. Hammond, Gladys Pollock, J. Milnes, D. McQuat.

D D. Rodger.

E C. MacNaughton.

Grade VI, Le Français Oral

A A. Shaded.

A- R. Brennan.

B+ L. Bates, H. Belanger, R. Bedard, K. Bradford, A. Brennan, S. Drew, G. Leggett, S. Leggett.

B H. Deacon, D. Hammond, H. Lister.

B- E. Boyd.

C+ J. Pollock.

C A. Cox, H. Miles,

C- D. McQuat.

D+ K. Boa, M. Boyd.

E C. Armstrong, L. Armstrong, C. Elliott, K. McLean, H. Morrison, B. Pollock.

Grade VI, History.

A L. Bates, M. Brennan, G. Leggett.

A- K. Bradford, D. Hammond

S. Leggett.

B+ H. Deacon.

B R. Brennan, R. Bedard, J. Pollock.

C M. Boyd, E. Boyd, S. Drew,

C. Elliott, H. Morrison, D. Mc-

Ouat, H. Miles, A. Shaded.

D+ L. Armstrong, H. Lister.

D B. Pollock.

E C. Armstrong, K. Boa, A. Cox.

Grade V, English Literature

A- H. Carpenter, E. Morrin.

B+ M. Bates.

B H. Brennan, D. Hay, R. Laurin, L. McFaul, A. McGibbon, K. Patterson.

B- A. Brennan, M. Mc-

Kenzie.

C+ S. Brown, J. Canning, V. Mackrith, R. Tossie.

C T. Berniquier, L. Copeland,

E. Hooker, P. Rowe.

D+ L. Lloyd, E. White.

D M. Belanger, G. Robinson.

D- A. Ashworth, M. Bigelow

E. Bigelow, E. Gauley, K. Kettle, L. Pollock, D. Robertson.

E A. Boa.

Grade IV, Tables

A+ H. Belanger, I. Clifford,

G. Cox, D. Gordon, B. McNow,

M. McRae, V. Hooker, G. Riddell, R. Robinson.

A H. Anderson, R. Armstrong

L. Belanger, W. Bellingham, G.

Boyd, W. Chapman, E. Hammond, G. MacKimmie, J. Mac-

Kimmie, J. Maiden, R. Maiden,

K. McLean, R. McLean, R. Mac-

Naughton, C. Riddell, C. Rogers,

G. Scott, L. Scott, G. Sly, Grace

Stein, D. Stewart, H. Wheatley.

A- N. Anderson, F. Jenkins,

P. Lynch, P. Shaded.

B+ B. Bigras, W. Boa, E.

Ketty.

B B. Langille.

B- I. Cleland.

Lucky numbers this week are

31 and 137. Winners may receive matinee tickets for the Rex

Theatre by calling at the Watchman Office.

SIX-FOOTER CLUB FORMED

A club, all of whose members must be more than six feet tall,

has been formed in Bradford,

England, to protest against inadequate leg room in theatres and headroom in buses and trams.

The latest thing in men's clothes is women.

—Brandon Sun.

An Easter Prayer

In that far-off eastern garden
There was solemn silence there,
Where the perfume of the flowers
Rose like incense on the air.

The little birds, expectant,
Sat tense on leafing boughs,
On that wonderful Easter morning
When our Saviour—Christ—arose.

There, glorious guardian angels,
Their watchful vigil kept,
As o'er the dim old landscape,
The dawn of morning crept.

The bees all ceased their humming,
And nature held her breath,
Our Lord was awake—and coming
From out the jaws of death.

As that silent white-clad figure Emerging from out the tomb,
His face wore a smile so tender,
That the lilies, burst in bloom.

And the birds, forgetting silence,
Poured anthems, note by note,
In peans of adoration,
From each tiny joy-filled throat.

With arms out-stretched in blessing,
He stood, a moment there,
His eyes, the world caressing,
His heart, a silent prayer.

'Twas wafted up to Heaven,
To the Great White Throne above,
This plea—"that his erring children Might know—that God is Love."

MONTHLY REPORT OF ARGENTEUIL W. I.

(Continued from page 1)

Morin Heights held enjoyable meetings with full attendance. Roll-calls—"Child training," "Habits in Health,"

"Courtesy," "Obedience," Neatness, etc. also Helpful Household Hints. A bulletin from Canadian Social Hygiene was read by Miss Ailsa Seale, on "Common Colds".

April meeting has given up to Child Welfare. Flowers were sent to sick friends in the community and hospital. Officers elected: Mrs. J. E. Seale;

Vice-President, Mrs. R. J. Seale; Sec.-Treas., Miss Ailsa Seale. Suggested programme for year's work, arranged by programme committee, was read and approved.

Pioneer held annual meeting, the new president being Mrs. G. Smith. Remembered sick member; plannel work; heard report of year's work. Also held a taffy social and packed a box of household goods for fire sufferers.

Upper Lachute had novelty sale of articles; fancy quilt on hibition; election of officers. Interesting address on life of Washington Irving by Mr. Clifford Hall of Lachute High School also vocal selections by Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Graham. Sent fruit to a sick member.

—J. Graham.

The Bank of Montreal has Never Wavered in Its Course . . .

In times of expansion or depression, in the best and the worst of economic conditions, Canadians have learned to rely upon the unwavering safety and helpful service of the Bank of Montreal.

Older than the Dominion itself, yet young as the latest sound business enterprise of Canada, this bank keeps strong and efficient by pursuing its traditional policy of banking practice consistent with safety for depositors, and by adjustment of its services to the demands of modern business.

When dealing with this institution, you have the assurance of safety and good banking service, whether your account be large or small.

BANK OF MONTREAL

Established 1817

TOTAL ASSETS IN EXCESS OF $750,000,000

Lachute Branch: T. K. HALLER, Manager

Head Office: Montreal

The Watchman

and OTTAWA VALLEY
ADVOCATE

Published at Lachute every Thursday

J. S. Giles, Editor & Proprietor

Subscription Rate per annum—

In Canada—$1.50.

In United States—$2.00.

Notices of Entertainment, Concerts,

Announcement, etc., 10 cents count

line. Minimum 50c.—if billed 60c.

Want and For Sale advertisements,

30 cents per count line, minimum 50c.

—if billed 60c.

If replies are directed to Watchman

Office 25c. extra charged.

Cards of Thanks, In Memoriam Notices, Births, Marriages and Deaths

50c. With each verse additional

25c.

Note:—When estimating, count

every six words or fraction thereof

as one line.

(Note:—All locals advertising any

event from which there are financial

proceeds will be charged at the above

rate.)

IF THERE'S a downright pessimist among our readers, we would recommend him to read the observations of our Ottawa correspondent on Page 6. Statistics are a bore to the average hit-and-run reader, but they do afford comparisons. And right now they would appear to indicate a definite improvement in many lines of business. . . Wilfrid Eggleston affords a brief and spicy earful, recounting the most interesting discussions

every week in Parliament, under "The Ottawa Spotlight."

AUTO LICENSES UNDER

DISCUSSION IN

LEGISLATURE

A bill of Martin B. Fisher, of Huntingdon, which proposed to fix the cost of automobile licenses proportionately to the time the cars were being used was defeated in Quebec last week.

In support of his measure, the member for Huntingdon explained that at the present time there were thousands of automobile owners who were not in a position to pay for their licenses and therefore, were unable to use their cars. On the other hand, if the law was changed so that the amount of the license was based on usage and short time licenses issued, they would be enabled to use the cars, and the Government would increase its revenue proportionately to the major number of cars utilized.

From the viewpoint of justice and equity, it seemed only fair that car owners should be charged only for the time that they used their cars. The present conditions were abnormal for car owners and it was only just that the Government should come to the relief of the owners who were unable to pay a yearly license, but able to pay a license for the time during which they used their cars.

Hon. R. F. Stockwell, Provincial Treasurer, claimed if such a measure was adopted the Government would be losing a revenue of one million dollars a year, which would upset the budget of the province substantially. Moreover, his department would be obliged to increase the numbers employed on the inspection staff so as to keep track of cars being used or unused.

Everywhere, in Canada, the minister continued, taxes were based on possession and not on usage. He concluded by proposing that the measure be not adopted now but in six months, which had the effect of rejecting the measure.

Maurice Duplessis, leader of the Opposition, supporting the bill, congratulated the member for Huntingdon on his courageous and opportune move in the matter, adding that it was not fair that the licenses be charged on cars when not used.

He claimed that automobiles were taxed 300 per cent more here than in Ontario. The principle of the present legislation was anti-British and anti-Liberal, he said. He appealed to the House to relieve automobilists from part of their burden.

Hon. J. E. Perrault, Minister of Roads, stated that the license act had been created years before the Government had undertaken to construct and maintain roads, but that later, it was applied to this purpose. Thanks to the revenue derived therefrom, the Government had been enabled to build and maintain a fine network of highways, he said.

Mr. Ferrault protested against the assertion of the Leader of the Opposition to the effect that automobilists of Quebec were more highly taxed than those in Ontario. He explained that there were 500,000 cars in Ontario compared to 170,000 in Quebec.

Messrs. Sauve and Barre, supported the bill, while Mr. Fisher concluded the debate, by restating the necessity of relieving the owners of some of their burdens in the matter of taxation.

A vote was taken on the Stockwell amendment, which meant the rejection of the bill, and it was adopted on strict party lines by a vote of 44 to 9.

SHERIFF SALE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned

LANDS and TENEMENTS

have been seized and will be sold

at the respective times and places

mentioned below.

FIERI FACIAS DE TERRIS.

Superior Court

Canada,

Province of Quebec,

District of Terrebonne.

No. 4562.

DAME DIANA RAYMOND,

widow of Charlemagne Monette,

of the town of Saint Jerome,

district of Terrebonne, plaintiff; vs.

ISAAC ERNEST ALLAN, of

New Glasgow, said district, defendant.

As belonging to the said defendant, the following immov-

ables, to wit:

1. An emplacement in the town of Saint Jerome known under number thirty of the subdivision of official lot number two hundred and eighty four-A of the official cadastre of the town of Saint Jerome;

2. An emplacement in the town of Saint Jerome, forming part of lot number twenty nine,

of the subdivision of official lot

number two hundred and eighty

four-A of the official cadastre

for the town of Saint Jerome, bounded as follows: measuring five feet and seven inches in width on Latour Street, same width at the North gable end of the house erected on the said lot and starting at this latter point, running to the Northwest corner of the barn and thence continuing in following the said barn up to the depth of the said

lot;

3. An emplacement in the town of Saint Jerome, known under number twenty seven,

of the subdivision of official lot

number two hundred and eighty

four-A, of the official cadastre

for the town of Saint Jerome.

These three emplacements form but one and the same lot of land and are to be sold as such—with the buildings thereon erected.

To be sold at my business office, in the Court House in the town of Saint Jerome, district

Terrebonne, on the SECOND day of MAY, nineteen hundred and thirty three, at TEN o'clock in the forenoon, (Standard

Time).

J. W. CYR,

Sheriff's Office, Sheriff.

Saint Jerome, March 27, 1933

TENDERS

Tenders are hereby called for the collection of garbage in the town of Lachute. Work to be begin at the discretion of the council and to end about November 1st., 1933. Garbage shall be collected once a week in each ward. Price asked shall be on a weekly basis. Tenders will be opened and considered at the council meeting to be held on Tuesday, April 18th., at 8 o'clock p.m. Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Germain Filion,

Secretary-Treasurer.

A-14-2-c.

A SOLUTION TO YOUR

REQUIREMENTS—

WATCHMAN WANT ADS.

Brownsburg School Reports

RESULTS OF EASTER EXAMINATIONS

(Figures denote percentage of possible marks)

Grade X, *Latin

D. McQuat 84.5*, A. Dixon 80.1*, L. Townsend 79.1*, K. Murdoch 72.6*, P. McKenzie 68.8, M. Roberts 68.2, E. McLeod 66.8, S. Seary 62.4, D. Bourne 58.8, G. Wilson 46.

Grade IX

B. Stewart 83.6, J. Clarke 71.7, T. Stewart 69.6, R. Todd 68.6, M. Murdoch 67.2; S. Tomlinson 63.3, V. Kettyle 63, A. Connelly 60, G. Moncrieff 52.

Grade VIII

D. Prosser 72.5, L. McQuat 72, L. Hamilton 71.6, H. Masson 70.3, E. Dixon 70, M. Devine 68.3, M. MacAllister 62.5, A. Brown 64.2, E. MacKenzie 61.9, J. Morrow 60.9, C. Martin 59.3, K. Bloxham 57.2, D. Steere 56.7, C. Fletcher 59.5.

Grade VII

J. Dixon 84.9, D. Dixon 76.9, A. Galbraith 69.8, E. Hutchin 68.1, J. Graham 68, E. Turney 66.9, L. Stewart 65.8, G. Lonsdale 61.4, W. Campbell 60.9, A. MacQuaig 60.6, R. Anderson 64.1, E. Kettyle 63.9, W. Wilson 61.2, E. Hewitt 60.1, W. Seary, R. Martin 59.6, M. Bigelow 59.2, B. White 58.5.

Grade VI

M. Hutchin 88.2, S. Lupien 87.3, G. Prosser 84, J. Walsn 81, W. Smillie 76.9, W. Steele 75.6, H. McQuat 75.5, L. Tomalty 74.4, L. Stewart 74.3, W. Hamilton 71.2, R. Mowforth 71.2, C. Graham 69.5, H. Hazel 69, Cl. King 68.8, C. Low 68.3, N. MacKenzie 66.1, W. Smillie 65.6, L. Bigelow 64.4, G. Vowles 64.2, R. Dyson 63.5, A. Hardie 63.1, E. Campbell 62.7, M. Low 62.6, E. Gunn 61.3, A. Bourne 61.2, T. Hardie 60.5, D. Kennedy 57.3, Co. King 56.7, J. Hardie 56.6, G. Vary 56.1, D. Todd 53.2, E. Thompson 49.8, A. Williams 47.7, H. Morrow 45.7, F. Steere 41.6.

Grade V

B. Ardill 89, E. Tomalty 83, N. Tomalty 82.5, Y. Gagne 82.3, M. Bourne 81.1, W. Murdoch 78.6, B. Morrow 78.5, W. Birch 77.7, A. Butler 76.5, V. Jackson 75.6, T. Bourne 73.5, S. Stewart 70.9, J. Doran 70.5, J. Tilsley 70.1, D. McCulloch, L. Dixon 69.8, P. McAdam 69.1, M. Campbell 68.1, J. Lambertson 67.9, E. Boyd 67, H. MacAllister 66.7, L. Steele 66.1, B. Hutchin 63.2, G. Maitland 63.1, M. Enlow 63, G. Gagne 62.3, M. Birch 59.8, D. Boyd 59.7, W. Kennedy 53.7.

Grade IV

D. Graham 92, M. Dixon 89, L. Hanson 87.4, L. Lonsdale 86, J. Todd 85.4, G. Boyd 85.3, H. Stewart 85, J. Kennedy 84.7, D. Williams 84.5, H. Tilsley 84, W. Hewitt 83, E. Williams 82.1, J. White 82, A. McKinnell 81.7, G. Witham 81.4, L. Devine 79.7.

Des. Doran 79.3, M. Robbins 79, Dot. Doran 78

Want Ads.

STORE TO RENT—On Main Street. Apply Mrs. R. Miller.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—Comprising 9 rooms and very large garden. Cheap rent to right party. Apply to G. Raymond, 78 Main St., Lachute. A-15-2-c.

FOR SALE—Two ladies' spring coats, in good condition. Sizes 38 and 40. Apply the Watchman office, Box 600, Lachute, Phone 27. A-14-1-c.

FOR RENT—Two Apartments of 7 rooms each, in the Assad Block, Main Street, heated, with bath and all modern conveniences. Apply Assad's Store, Main Street. X

FLAT TO RENT—In the East Ward, 4 rooms and bath. Apply to Leslie Morris, Lachute, 36 Foundry St. 14-2-p.

WANTED—A second hand 22 Rifle in good condition. Apply to 22 Foundry St., Lachute after 6 p.m.

HOUSE TO RENT—Situated on College Street, near C.P.R. Station; 8 rooms with all modern conveniences. Double Garage. Apply to A. J. Elliott, Lachute. X

HOUSE TO RENT—On Bedford Boulevard, near corner of Bethany Street, a good brick dwelling with all modern conveniences, fireplace, garage, and outbuildings. Apply to S. Laurin, 71 Bethany Street, Lachute. A-28-4-p.

HOUSE TO RENT—On corner of Grace and Bethany Street. Modern conveniences. Good Garage. Apply Arcade Ethier, Bethany St., Lachute, Phone 49. A-14-2-c.

GOOD FARM for Sale, situated on banks of North River, five miles from Lachute, three miles from St. Andrews. Ideal for camping, fishing and swimming. Good cultivation, about 166 acres. Priced below cost. W. J. Brown, Lachute, R. R. No. 2, Que. A-14-2-c.

RELIABLE PARTY needed immediately to distribute Watkins 150 Famous Household and Farm necessities to established Rural trade. Car needed. Credit furnished. Apply quickly, J. R. Watkins Co., 940 Inspector St., Montreal, Dept. R-303. A-24-2-c.

TOWN COUNTRY, Big Pay, Cash Bonus, Taking orders, Highest quality Lowest Priced Shirts, Etc., Free Sales Kit. Uneeda Shirt Distributors, 370 Edmonton St., Winnipeg, Man. E. O. W. X

HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS FOR SALE—comprising 2 bedroom sets, Chesterfield suite, also flat top desk and Studebaker Roadster. Apply to G. M. Smith, Brownsburg.

FARM TO RENT—Four miles from Lachute, on highway, consisting of 100 acres, large brick house and outbuildings with stock and implements. Rent reasonable to responsible party. For full particulars apply to Mrs. D. Cleland, 50 Robert St., Lachute.

Coming Events.

The Popular St. Simeon's Players will present the sensational Farce, "THE ADVENTURES OF GRANDPA," (3-act Comedy) At the Auditorium, Friday, May 12th., 1933 Orchestra.

Concert
Concert by St. Andrews Ladies' Choral and Dramatic Society, Tuesday evening, April 25th., at 8.15 in the Town Hall, St. Andrews East. Admission Adults 40c.; Children 25c. A-21-2-c.

Tea Meeting
The Lachute United Church will hold their Annual Tea Meeting in the Church Hall, Thursday, April 20th. Good programme consisting of Instrumental, Choral and Quartette numbers, tenor solos and readings. Supper served from 5.30 to 8.30. Admission 50c.

Afternoon Tea
An afternoon tea under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Mungo's Church, will be held in the Cushing Community Hall, on Saturday afternoon, April 15th. Silver collection.

Permanent Waving
Messrs. Roger and Romeo, of Montreal, will be in Lachute from the 12th. to 30th. of April to give Permanents of all the latest creations.
Prices $3.00 and $5.00
Work guaranteed or money returned
Mr. Leger's Barber Shop, Phone 322 for appointment.

A Magyar Chief's Tent for B.P.
For his use at the world gathering of Scouts this summer near Budapest the Hungarian Scouts are providing Lord Baden-Powell a magnificent compartment tent decorated after the manner of the tents of the chieftains of the ancient Magyar tribes of a thousand years ago.

FOR SALE—General Store, Gas station, 12 roomed dwelling, modern convenience, situated on Lake Dawson, 10 miles, Lachute Route 30, SNAP TO QUICK BUYER. Apply Miles Copeland, Lakefield, Que. A-13-1-p.

PASTURE—Any persons in the vicinity of Cushing, Chatboro, Stonefield, St. Philippe, Carillon, or Staynerville, having stock to put out to pasture, would do well to apply to Arthur Jollicoeur, Grenville, R. R. No. 1, for his prices. A-14-1-c.

LOST—Red Leather Chesterfield Cushion on the road between St. Hermas and Lachute, route No. 8, April 11. Please leave at Muir Bros. Gas Station, and get reward. —J. E. Bourbonniere.

HOUSES TO LET—On Boulevard Bedard, all with modern conveniences. Apply G. Bedard, Main St., Lachute. X

Town Locals.

Miss Kelly is spending the holidays visiting in Huntingdon. Miss Louise Deacon is visiting friends in Ottawa this week. Mr. G. Taylor is spending the holidays with friends in Waterloo.

Miss Elsie Salter is spending the Easter vacation in Huntingdon, Que.

Miss L. McDowell, is spending the Easter holidays at her home in Shawville.

Mrs. Geo. Graham and Mrs. Geo. Leggett are spending the Easter holidays in Ottawa.

Mr. Norman Thorborn, of Montreal, spent the week-end visiting his relatives in town and at Louisa.

Mr. Wilson Gall of McGill University, was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gall.

"Topaze", on Saturday only at the Rex Theatre, is highly recommended to movie lovers who prefer the Best.

"The Adventures of Grandpa" Don't miss it this time. It's a real live wire. Plan to come along and bring your friends. So-ooo-or? we'll be seeing yer.

Miss Doris Campbell, of Montreal, spent the week-end in town, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell.

Miss Evelyn Hamilton, R. N., of Montreal, paid a short visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Hamilton, over the week-end.

—Hand your contributions to The Watchman before Tuesday next, and support the Sunday Broadcasting from Montreal.

Messrs. A. Doig, Andrew Boa, Ross Hume and Mrs. T. Hume were in Montreal on Saturday last, attending the funeral of their aunt, the late Emily Scott.

—Excursion to Montreal. Good going Saturday April 22. Return limit, Monday, April 24. Fare $1.00. J. S. Giles, Town Agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fraser, and son Athol, also Mr. Guy Fraser, of Montreal, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Doig.

Messrs. Stewart Jones and Gordon Drysdale, and the Misses Irene Doig, Agnes and Grace McMahon, of Macdonald College, are spending the Easter holidays at their homes here.

—The Mummy—comes back to life—next week at the Rex. Don't miss this uncanny and sensational picture

As announced in our last issue, Rev. William Fraser, of Windsor, Ont., will open a series of evangelistic services in Lachute Baptist Church on Easter Sunday evening, and his first subject will be "The Folly of staying out after midnight." The Sunday evening service will begin at 7 o'clock, and week-night meetings (every night excepting Saturday) will open at 7.45. Mr. Fraser will speak at Dalesville in the morning, and at Brownsburg in the afternoon, on Sunday.

What is one of the many tiresome and seemingly endless jobs in the home? Dish-washing— isn't it? Well, here's a chance to get out of it for one evening at any rate. Make up your mind to attend the Tea Meeting in the United Church on Thursday evening, 20th April, and have a good time with the fine things to eat, followed by a first class programme of instrumental and vocal music, as well as humorous readings, etc.

Rev. Chas. H. Este, the well-known coloured preacher of Union Church, Montreal, will be the elocutionist. He has an enviable reputation in this line of entertainment.

The vocal soloist is Mr. D. J. Munn, a blind student at the United Theological College, in Montreal.

In addition to these, there will be a number of Choral Selections from the members of the choir the C.G.I.T., and a mixed quartette.

AN APPEAL FOR EAR PHONES
Since the inception of electrical Radios, the old style Ear-Phones are now discarded. At Laurentian Sanatorium however, they are now being fitted up for the use of each individual patient. You can make some one happy by turning in your old phones to Deacon's Store or the Watchman Office, when they will be forwarded and made good use of.

BIRTH

MURDOCH—At Staynerville, Que., on April 4th., to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Murdoch, a daughter.

DEATHS

BOA—At Upper Lachute, on Tuesday, April 4th., 1933, Robert Boa, in his 81st year.

SCOTT—At her late residence, 4454 Rivard Street, Montreal, on April 5th., 1933, Emily Scott, youngest daughter of the late Archibald Scott and Agnes Boa, formerly of Beech Ridge, Que.

IN MEMORIAM.

KEARNS—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Hubert Kearns, who passed away April 19th., 1926. Ever remembered by his loved ones.

MARTIN—In fond and loving memory of a dear husband and father, Paul Martin, who passed away April 18th., 1921. Twelve years have passed since that sad day, God called the one we loved away. For in our hearts he liveth still. Ever remembered by his loving wife and family.

LOUGHREN—In fond and loving memory of a dear father, Sidney Loughren, who departed this life April 17, 1928. God knew that he was suffering And the hill was hard to climb So he closed his weary eyelids, And whispered peace be thine The flowers we placed upon his grave Will wither and decay, But the love for him who sleeps beneath, Will never fade away. Sadly missed by his daughter, Nettie.

MOORE—In loving memory of my dear husband James Moore, who departed this life, April 13th., 1929.

Our hearts still cling to memory dear Of one who was called to rest. Ever remembered by his loving wife and sister.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Robt. Boa and family wish to thank all kind friends and neighbors for sympathy and assistance in their recent sad bereavement and for floral tributes.

—Mr. Lapierre has moved from his store adjoining the Liquor Commission to that of Mr. Geoffrey Bedard, near the Bank of Nova Scotia, where he invites the public to visit him in his new quarters. With all jewelry, watches, rings and novelties marked down, this affords the public an opportunity of procuring some genuine bargains.

CHEESE FACTORY CHANGES HANDS

Mr. Clarence Dixon announces that he has taken over the Staynerville Cheese Factory and solicits supply of milk from the farmers of that district.

Mrs. Jas. Ogilvie of Grenville, and Miss Lydia Morrison of Hawkesbury were visiting with friends in Lachute and vicinity last week.

Automobile Insurance

LOWEST RATES
HIGHEST SERVICE

Special Farmers' Policy

Ernest Deslauriers,
32 Grace St. Phone 180.
Lachute, Que.

REX THEATRE

APRIL 14th.
GOOD FRIDAY — CLOSED

Saturday, April 15.
For One Day Only
John Barrymore, Myrna Loy supported by an All Star Cast
"Topaze"

An international success. A play that was for two solid years in New York. Now on the screen with John Barrymore at his best.

Saturday Night Extra
Surprise Drawings to the holders of the Lucky Numbers
Saturday Matinee 3 p.m. 25c.
HAPPY EASTER

April 16—17
TOM MIX with TONY in
"The Terror Trail"

And on the same programme:
"No Living Witness"

With Gilbert Roland, Barbara Kent, C. Myers, N. Beery
A tremendous Dramatic Situation of a Blackmail Racket Sound Cartoon: "Toby and Aces Up"

Sunday Matinee 3 p.m. 25c.
By Special Permission—a Children's Matinee will be given on Monday, April 17, at 8 p.m. Admission each child 15c.

April 18-19-20
Come on Everybody, let's be kids again, and see the story that thrilled us so much in our youth, that we never forgot it
D. Fairbanks in Mr. R. Crusoe
Com: "The Strife of the party"
Novelette: "The Killers"

April 21—22
IT COMES TO LIFE
"The Mummy"

With Karloff the Unkanny, supported by Zita Johann, David Manners, and many other well-known screen stars.

Now on Display at our Showrooms THE NEW FORD V-8

The roomiest and most powerful Ford car ever built. 112 inch wheelbase—bodies are wider and nearly 12 inches longer. 75 horsepower engine. Over 80 miles an hour. New all-aluminum cylinder head, giving more power, smoothness and economy.

Complete details now available at our Showrooms

You are cordially invited to call in and LOOK IT OVER.

GEO. Y. DEACON, Ford Dealer

PHONE NO. 26. LACHUTE MILLS, QUE.

FIRE!

Why take chances

when you can buy a $20.00

Fire Extinguisher for

$10 while they last

Fully charged and ready for use

T. McOUAT & SON

Lachute Mills

SPRING SPECIALS!

Great variety of all new goods in Ladies' & Gents' Suits & Coats.

150 Ladies' Dresses, reg. $6.75 for $3.95

50 Ladies' Coats, pure wool tweed, latest styles at $7.95

Men's Suits (all wool serge) different shades and 2 pairs of pants for $14.95

A visit to our store will ensure you real satisfaction.

ASSALY'S

Main St., next to Rex Theatre.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

(By REV. P. H. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago)
© 1931, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for April 23

JESUS REBUKES SELF-SEEKING (Temperance Lesson.)

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:30-32.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love worketh no ill to his neighbour; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law, Romans 13:10.
PRIMARY TOPIC—My Playmates.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus' Test of Greatness.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Others First.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Sin of Selfishness.

I. The Stupidity of Self-Seeking (vv. 30-32).

Jesus with his disciples was on his way to Capernaum for the last time. He sought a way of retirement in order to be alone with his disciples so as to lead them to apprehend the meaning of the cross. The teaching which was interrupted at Caesarea by Peter's rebuke is now resumed and with definiteness he declares the future event as already present.

1. "The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men" (v. 31).

2. "They shall kill him" (v. 31).

3. "He shall rise the third day" (v. 31). While pressing continually upon them the fact and necessity of the cross, he always showed them the bright side—his triumphant victory over death in the resurrection from the dead. The hearts of the disciples were so steeped in selfishness that they failed to grasp the meaning of his teaching.

II. The Wrangling of Self-Seeking (vv. 33-37).

1. The searching question (v. 33). Because Christ was omniscient he knew the secrets of their hearts. The fact that the disciples were wrangling about official position while the Lord was facing humiliation and death for them and for the whole world, shows how completely alone he was in his sorrow.

2. The silent disciples (v. 34). They were ashamed in his presence when the selfishness of their hearts was revealed.

3. The stinging rebuke (v. 35). "If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all." The greatest men are those who are willing to take the lowest place and serve others.

4. The striking illustration (vv. 36, 37). He took a child and set him in the midst of them, thus in a concrete way enforcing his teaching. The child was an illustration of ignorance and dependence. By example and word he showed that true greatness is expressed by willingness to aid the weak, to enlighten the ignorant, and to serve those in need. All who render such service do it not merely to the needy ones, but to Christ and God. True greatness, therefore, consists not in self-seeking, but in rendering cheerful service to the needy in the name of Christ.

III. The Intolerance of Self-Seeking (vv. 38-41).

1. John's guilty conscience (v. 38). In the light of the teaching of Jesus, John was disturbed over having forbidden a worker for Christ who did not follow after him. Doubtless this intolerance was in part due to jealousy for Christ, but also for selfish ambition. Many times bigotry is mistaken for zeal for Christ.

2. Whom to tolerate (vv. 39-41).

a. Those who are casting out devils (v. 39). We should really satisfy ourselves that supernatural works are being done. Are demons being cast out? However, this is not final, for there is a supernatural work not of God (Matt. 7:21-23).

b. Those who are doing supernatural works in Christ's name (v. 41). All workers going forth in the name of Christ and for the glory of Christ should be given Godspeed, even though not members of our church or school. "Forbid him not."

IV. The Awful Issue of Self-Seeking (vv. 42-50).

1. Ruin to others (v. 42). Self-seeking usually results in ruin to others.

2. Ruin to the individual (vv. 43, 45, 47). In both cases the issue is eternal torment. Selfishness is opposed to God; and that which is opposed to him must be eternally separated from him. Self-renunciation should be so complete that we should be willing to abandon the most necessary and lawful things in life—hands, feet, eyes—when they become occasions for stumbling either for ourselves or others. No matter how dear or how necessary the friendship, faculty, or possession, if it leads to disloyalty to Christ, it must be forsaken. Spiritual surgery must be employed even when the loss is as great as the sacrifice of a hand or foot. Better suffer the temporary loss and pain of such separation than to suffer eternally.

Leaving the Gospel

"Wrong views of Divine truth among the people of God are always the immediate forerunners of a total departure from the Gospel on the part of a great body of professors of religion."—Robert Haldane.

Angel Feet Nearby

The dusty road is far more likely to be trodden by angel feet than the remote summits of the mountains where we sometimes vainly would go.—Selected.

Hints for Homebodies

Specially written for Readers of The Watchman.
By JESSIE ALLAN BROWN

A HOPEFUL SIGN

One of the hopeful signs is the attitude taken by most councils about their budgets. Up to now, they have decided the amount of money to be spent and then looked about for ways of raising the necessary amount. Now, they have taken another method. They have found out the amount of money they would have to spend and have tried to cut their expenditures to fit. It is the sensible way. Imagine what chaos household accounts would be in, if women decided that there were a certain number of things they must have and then expect their husbands to earn enough to pay for it. As a matter of fact, that is what the occasional husband has to do. I heard one woman say, that the best way to make a financial success of a husband, was to demand a lot.

The healthy household or government budget is not worked that way. The amount of money should be known and the expenditures made to fit. That is the way women run their household expenditures and if they had ever had anything to say in the spending of public monies they likely would have used the same sensible method. This spending the money first, then hunting for new things to tax to raise it is no good. Women are accustomed to doing without and scrimping and saving. What a pity it is, that advantage is not taken of this experience and ability when it comes to spending the public money.

SLIP COVERS

Slip covers are a real help to many a woman who is trying to make her living room attractive. Sometimes they are used to bring colour into an otherwise dull room; sometimes they are used to change the colour and to make a chair of the wrong shade blend into a harmonious whole.

More often they are used as a measure of economy to cover shabby upholstery. Twice lately I have seen them used very effectively for this purpose. One was a very large comfortable over-stuffed chair. Lovely to sit in but literally worn to shreds. A slip cover was made for this from a coarse piece of unbleached cotton—the kind that is frequently called 'factory cotton.' It was dyed a deep cream shade with coffee and looked remarkably well and did not betray its humble origin.

A pair of wicker chairs were given new life by the use of slip covers. These chairs were hopelessly shabby, but slip covers of an English-looking chintz rejuvenated them.

Slip covers may be purchased all ready to fit onto your chairs or chesterfield, but they are more expensive than home made ones. It is quite an undertaking to make a slip cover for a chesterfield but anyone who is handy with a needle can manage a chair slip cover. Draft your pattern on paper and do your experimenting with it before you put scissors into your material. It is wise to pin closely and fit it until you have the desired result before doing the actual sewing.

BE SURE TO PLANT SPINACH

When you are planning your garden do not forget to include spinach, if you have not been accustomed to growing it. Spinach is a valuable addition as it comes early before the other vegetables are ready. Imported spinach is at its best now, but of course no vegetable is as good as the home grown one. Spinach has so many uses other than a plain dinner vegetable. It has a real affinity for eggs and as eggs are cheap just now spinach and eggs make a good supper-dish—appetising, healthful and cheap. What more could you ask?

Try adding spinach to your scrambled eggs, or spreading it over your omelet before it is folded. A poached egg on a mound of spinach is delicious—if you serve it on toast so much the better. Have you tried spinach as a salad? I have known people who dislike spinach served any other way enjoy it in a salad. It is very simply done. Just mix your cold cooked spinach with salad dressing. I like to add chopped hard cooked egg, either mix it with the spinach or sprinkle it on top as a garnish. Spinach is a welcome addition to a meat, a fish or a purely vegetable salad. If you mould it (I sometimes use a glass egg-cup for a small quantity) the spinach will look more attractive.

Spinach is a valuable food as it contains minerals vitamins, and is valuable for roughage. To many people it is an acquired taste. If your family do not enjoy it help them to learn to like it by cooking it properly. First it must be thoroughly cleaned. This is done most easily by lifting it out of the water, rather than draining the water off. One young lad said, 'I know there is iron in spinach. I can taste it.' Alas! Too often the sand is there to taste. It is not necessary to add water to cook it in as enough clings to the leaves to start it and then it finishes cooking its own juice. Spinach is so often ruined with over cooking. Watch it closely and cook only until tender. I have frequently had it tender in less than ten minutes. The older the spinach, the longer it takes to cook, naturally. The last thing is to drain it properly. And that is quite a chore. But there is nothing more unappetising than to see a vegetable floating about in a sea of undrained liquid. Put in a colander and chop. Season to taste and don't be too sparing with the butter.

ASPARAGUS AND PINE-APPLE SALAD

Place several sticks of asparagus, either canned or fresh, on slice of canned pineapple. To bind the asparagus with a narrow strip of pimento adds to the appearance and flavour of the salad. Serve this with the salad dressing of your choice. This is a simply made salad and is very useful one as it may be served for Bridge refreshments and yet it is not too elaborate for a dinner salad as it goes well with meats.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Daily Paper for World Scout Meet.

This summer's international Scout Jamboree in Hungary will have its own daily paper, the "Magyar Cserkesz" (pronounced "maddihar chaircase"). It will be printed in four languages Hungarian, German, French and English.

Scouts Fight Smallpox with Song.

Carol singing against smallpox was the unusual public service rendered by Scouts of Lahore, India. Some seven or eight hundred people had died of the disease, and Sir Geoffrey de Montmorency, Governor of the Punjab, called upon the Boy Scouts to aid in a vaccination campaign. During Christmas week and until January 7 Scout carol parties covered every section of the city singing songs against smallpox and uncleanness, and advising vaccination. As a result many thousands of men, women and children came to the vaccination posts, and substantial progress was made in the fight against the dread disease.

A Greek Scout Honour for B.-P.

The Medal of Merit of the Boy Scouts Association of Greece has been awarded Lord Baden-Powell and the International Scout Commissioner, Mr. Hubert Martin.

The International Scout Hostel.

It is announced that the International Scout Chalet at Kandersteg Switzerland will be open July 1st. Hundreds of Scouts from every part of Europe meet there each summer.

The Ottawa Spotlight

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Specially Written for Watchman Readers

Ottawa, April 12—We've had plenty of gloomy news all winter: here is a brighter budget for Easter:

Wholesale prices rose between February and March more than any month since August, 1929, when the depression began. Higher prices were registered for wheat, hogs, steers, lambs, hides, butter, fresh and cured meats, barley, corn, flax, rye, peas, flour, bran and shorts! How's that for one month?

Wheat prices are now fully 12 cents per bushel above the low mark reached four months ago. On wheat in store in Canada the value to-day is about $30,000,000 higher than then.

In the first two months of 1933 Canada exported 1,369,200 lbs. of fresh beef. In the corresponding months of 1932 she shipped only 547,500 lbs.

In the past twelve weeks Canada shipped 7,863 head of live cattle to the British market. Only 409 head were shipped in the same period a year ago.

Bank debits, which reflect activity of business, rose six per cent after seasonal adjustment.

Employment figures at the beginning of March, after seasonal adjustment, showed a rise. Improvement was registered in manufacturing, notably of textile, rubber, iron and steel products, also in mining and construction.

Imports of crude petroleum rose from 35,000,000 gallons in January to 37,500,000 in February, and the sales of new automobiles, trucks and buses jumped from 1,802 to 2,399. Exports of rubber tires rose to 38,144, being practically double the corresponding month a year ago.

Car-loadings, the most sensitive barometer of business activity, now stand at about the same level as on January 1st. In the first three months of 1932 the index fell fourteen points, so that this year's showing is much more impressive.

The total volume of Canadian exports for the fiscal year ending March 31st is calculated to be almost exactly the same as in the previous 12 months. In the face of world decline of trade this is held by government commentators to be a remarkable achievement.

Canadian lumbermen expect to benefit from the difficulties which are developing between the United Kingdom and Russia.

Canadian Railways are moving rapidly to meet the need for increased economy and efficiency. Pool trains on which tickets of either lines will be accepted, are now operating between the large centres. The express companies of the two lines are expected to merge soon. The annual statement of the Canadian National tabled in the House recently showed that had it not been for the unfortunate loss on foreign exchange, which had nothing directly to do with railway operation, the government railway would have actually made a better showing of some five million dollars in 1932 as compared with 1931—a remarkable achievement in the face of declining business.

Quiet but Busy Week

Parliament Hill last week? There were few sensations but a lot of business was transacted and now they are talking of getting through by the end of April. "Twill be a heavy grind, if they do." The Sweepstake Bill, which would legalize one event a year in any province wishing to run it, passed the Senate and made a start in the Commons. Present prospects however, are that it won't get through. The milk inquiry met in camera to form plans for putting more teeth into the investigation. Witnesses are proving rather reticent. Senator Meighen rose in the Upper Chamber and disavowed any improper connection with the transactions in Ontario Power Service bond. The House witnessed the rare spectacle of two prime members disagreeing with the leaders. General Ross took the government to task for prison administration and Pen Davies of Athabaska attacked the gold standard.

ROBERT HAMILTON

for
FLOUR, GRAIN, & FEED
Also Best Prices on COAL
Phone 240.

"Never mind—we'll soon fix that"

Mrs. Hendry was in great distress. She had broken her spectacles and the prescription was at the optician's in the city.

"That means I can't go to the social tomorrow night," she said. "Whatever will I do?"

"Don't worry," Tom Hendry consoled her. "I'll just 'phone the optician right now and he can have a new pair here in tomorrow's mail."

In any emergency, great or small, your telephone is ready to help. Long Distance is easy to use, clear, quick and surprisingly inexpensive.

For 30 cents
you can telephone about 100 miles

by making an "anyone" call (station-to-station) after 8.30 p.m. See list of rates in front of directory.

Long Distance is surprisingly inexpensive

HOT CROSS BUNS

LACHUTE BAKERY

Telephone 106.

Main St., Lachute.

Give your Watch a Chance

All machinery, especially the light, delicate mechanism of a watch, needs a good cleaning and overhauling occasionally.

Now is a good time. The cost of repairs was never cheaper. And in slack seasons like the present, more time and care can be given to each individual watch or clock. Also it will be repaired and returned to you more promptly.

We are using the most modern and greatly improved methods of watch repairing, which will certainly prolong the life and usefulness of your watch.

F. E. Earle, Jeweller, Main Street, Lachute

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired. Broken lenses repaired.

How about that new Sink or Bath Room?

Prices on Request.

R. McArthur & Son

Phone 172 w.

144 Main Street

M. A. BELANGER
Jeweller.
Bethany St., Lachute.
Wide and Up-to-date Choice of
GIFTS and JEWELRY
Quick Service on Watchmaking
and Jewelry Repairs

MISS M. V. SLATER
Wedding Gifts of Taste
Watch, Clock and Jewelry repairs
Jewelry, Silverware, Cut Glass,
French Ivory Watches and Clocks
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

Bring your Radio troubles to
LACHUTE RADIO
SALES & SERVICE
Radio Supplies. Free Tube Testing
Prompt and Efficient Service
W. J. DOIG
271 Main St. Phone 820.

H. LACHANCE
Expert in welding of all metals.
Shop in the C. P. R. yard, Lachute,
equipped for all kinds of work,
including Cog and Gear rebuilding, Auto Body, and Mud-Guard
repairing, Painting, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed.

If you have any plastering
work to be done,
See
J. R. A. CARIGNAN
145 Princess St., Lachute.
Tel. 121 r 3.

LACHUTE MARBLE
AND GRANITE WORKS
We deal in Foreign and Domestic Marble and Granite, first class
work and the best material, in all
latest designs, always on hand.
Satisfaction guaranteed in all kinds
of Cemetery Work, Monuments or Headstones.
W. M. Scott, Proprietor.

INTERIOR DECORATING
Painting, paperhanging, and decorating. Estimates given on all work if desired, also agent for Empire Wall Paper, at very moderate
prices. Complete line of 1932
samples. Book of two hundred
to choose from.
R. N. MOORE,
285 Main Street, Lachute.

FLOWERS! FLOWERS!
Orders filled on Short Notice
Bouquets, Wreaths, Sprays Etc.
FOR ALL OCCASIONS
Delivered to Any Ship in Montreal
Dock, or to any hospital, free
of charge
Order from
MADAME A. FASSIO
Phone 344. 225 Main St.

LACHUTE
BOARD OF TRADE
Meets last Thursday of
Every Month
J. W. Gall, President,
J. S. Giles, Secretary

LACHUTE EXPRESS
PHONES: Lachute 348j or 348w.
Montreal, Marquette 3966 or 7293
Daily Service between Lachute
and Montreal.

All loads fully insured.
Montreal Warehouse:
Care of J. B. BAILLARGEON,
8 Queen Street.
N. W. BOYD, Prop.
Try us for service.
68 Robert Street, Lachute, Que.
Residence: 89 Robert Street.

SPENCER GARMENTS
Individually Designed
for Figure Correction, Style Health & Comfort
Represented by
GLADYS M. DRAPER, R.N.
342 Main St., Lachute
Phone 250.

"He is Risen"

One earliest dawn Faith journeyed to the Saviour's tomb
Grieved by a knowledge of the blackest crime that ever shamed the world, (A crime that rent the veil of temple and hid the light of sun).
These simple women hastened on, 'mid bright'ning light, bereft and sad, alone;

To watch, perchance to weep and pray, beside a sealed-up stone,
If haply they could enter in, with spices and with unctions rare, anoint
the body of their Lord—

When! wondrous sight! their earth-dimmed eyes were opened to behold,
And Lo! the stone was rolled away, and angels of His presence stood Where but their Lord had laid.

"He is not there," the glorious vision spoke. "Remember what he said—Take comfort, go, seek, and with him find ye everlasting life".

Oh monstrous error of belief, the Master with the dead?
No sepulchre of human thought, no rock-hewn piece of earth,
Could hold within its finite space, the power of Truth divine,

E'en tho' the craft of carnal mind, wrecked vengeance to its full,
E'en tho' the buffetings and scorn, the scourge and cruel thorns,
Combined to force the torture of the cross on one, The Nazarene,

Whose patient love for all mankind, fulfilled the law, endured the test,
And showed the way, obedient to his God and by His wisdom led Arraigned at Pilate's judgment seat, deserted by his friends,

Accused, insulted and condemned, "he opened not his mouth".
To doubts and fears, to questioning, he answered "Go"
Bear witness to the works that ye have seen. How dead are raised

And lepers cleansed, both sick and sin are healed, while lame can walk,
And blind receive their sight. These signs are given."
—Yet calumny and brutal force prevailed, or so to mortal concept seemed,

And Jesus, God's forever son, whose tender prayer, "Father, forgive, they Know not what they do," was uttered when with suffering spent,
They placed within that silent tomb, his work of grace to finish,

'Twas there he proved, to guide all men, the truth of God's creation,
Oh blessed theme of Easter morn, for he is risen, Hallelujah!
Death is vanquished, graves are rift, and life eternal is;

The vaults of heaven resound aloud, as all creation sings,
And spring, awake, rejoicing, adds anew, her peans of praise,
Adorning, white lilies bend and bow their stately heads;

Of Spirit born, in perfect beauty of transcendent form,
And far above these earth-held clouds of sense,
Jesus now, Christ anointed, rests in purest harmony with the Father, God.

Brownburg, P. Q., Canada. LAURA R. LONSDALE.

C. P. R. CHEAP RATES FOR EASTER

Tickets good going from Thursday, April 13th., 1933. Return limit, Tuesday, April 18th. 1933 Fare and one quarter for the round trip.

Special Excursion to Quebec
Good going Saturday, April
15th. Return limit, Monday, April 17th. Return fare $3.00.
J. S. Giles, Agent.

A Happy Easter—

Comes as reward of a Lent wisely spent.

Keep your heart light and digestion sound by eating freely of these Hot Cross Buns.

Light, digestible, rich in Bread-nutrition.

Eat more

HOT CROSS BUNS

FOR SALE BY
J. A. MacKimmie,
LACHUTE MILLS.

How the goodwill of kind-hearted citizens is worked upon is told by the Carleton Place Canadian. It says a merry member of the floating fraternity who struck the town last week from off a freight picked up an old shoe and pathetically used it in a house to house canvass to wheedle small contributions towards its repair. The skeleton shoe won fat victories, inasmuch as the tear-stained genius was able to boast in the evening that he had collected the fabulous sum of twenty dollars. Truly, our people are very generous to weeping Willies who can present meekly and adroitly an alluring tale of woe.

—Granby Leader.

Watchman Want Ads
Bring Results

SUPERIOR
COUNTER
CHECK
BOOKS
CARBON LEAF
CARBON BACK
STYLES
ORDERS TAKEN
AT THIS OFFICE
WATCHMAN OFFICE

BROKEN FAMILIES, CAUSE OF MUCH POVERTY

Another reason for much of the poverty that prevails at the moment is broken family ties and unstable home life, writes Col. W. J. Brown in the Municipal Review. Thousands of people have become poor through broken families. The breaking up of a home by the desertion of husband or wife is a direct cause of poverty and distress. Too many people live in apartments and flats. A rented flat is a mean substitute for a house of one's own. Living in boarding houses and eating out while innocent in themselves and possibly necessary as a temporary measure are not helpful in stabilizing the social structure. The church is one of our greatest social agencies and is directly responsible for the character of our family life, but if the church cannot help to solve the problem of the modern family there is indeed a black outlook for the civilization of which we form a part. A knowledge of social science would seem to be of sufficient importance to make it a major study in every theological and divinity school throughout the length and breadth of the continent; but such is not the case. The men who should lead the community in this supremely vital undertaking have only their own initiative to guide them.
It is quite true that the church as such has only limited responsibility; but there is no reason why the church should not assume more effective leadership in dealing with the complex social problems of the age and country. In the churches are the people who determine the character of their respective communities. When these people are thoroughly informed and wisely guided they will work intelligently to ameliorate the conditions which result in social ills and social maladjustments.

TELLING MR. CITIZEN WHAT HE PAID FOR CITY SERVICES

Many cities divided their tax rate to indicate what part of each tax dollar goes for each governmental function. The City of Hinton, W.
Va., has gone one step further and has computed on each taxpayer's bill the actual amount in dollars and cents paid for fire protection, street lighting, police protection, garbage and trash removal, street cleaning and repairing, and the construction of improvements. Instead of showing that 16c. of each dollar went for fire protection, the taxpayer of Hinton is informed, for example, that he paid $6.48 for fire protection for himself, family, and property for a year. The same individual is informed that he paid only $2.52 for garbage and trash removal for the year. Such a presentation of facts is novel and while it would probably be impractical in a large city it certainly will go far in demonstrating that public services are furnished to the taxpayers at a reasonable cost.

CITY GROWTH

In an article on great cities in the United States in the January Geographical Review, Mark Jefferson remarks that it is not easy to answer the question "Is New York larger than London?" Political New York is definite enough, a matter of area. But a great city may lie across the boundary line of a State, served by railroads, buses, trolleys and ferries, the density of population thinning with the suburbs. Thus the metropolitan district, called by the census "New York-Northeastern New Jersey", covers 2,514 square miles and in 1930 contained 10,901,424 people. "There are, in fact," writes Mr. Jefferson "as many New Yorks as you care to assign boundaries to." And so of London, the county, 117 square miles with 4,396,821 persons, and the Greater London, 8,202,818, occupying 693 square miles. Push back the London boundaries to include 2,514 square miles like "New York-Northeastern New Jersey," and the population would soar far above 8,000,000. Take in all of the four home counties, and eleven millions would be reached. "It is a recognition of the inadequacy of legal boundaries of cities that impels censuses to lay out metropolitan districts." A great city is more than "a continuous brick-and-mortar unity."

"Let there be No More War"

A Poet's Plea

At this particular season of the year, when winter storms are over and there's a resurrection promise in every budding tree, in every tiny blade of grass that pushes its way up through the bare brown sod—the world in general should not only be thinking of, but praying for that much-to-be-desired, intangible thing called Peace . . . Instead of allowing fear, jealousy, and covetousness to run riot in their minds and hearts until they gain the mastery, and once more there is a danger of the hell-hounds of war being loosed amongst civilized Christian nations—when wholesale murder will be committed to the tune of excited music, and with flying banners.

War is nothing less than wholesale murder
Our young men and our married men too, are taken—to settle the disputes of nations, when they themselves have no part in the quarrel. They are sacrificial offerings upon the altars of the nations' greed and hate. They who—as John Galsworthy that great author-poet of England put it (in his final poem Valley of the Shadow)
"dreamed not of dying"—are carried away to become targets for machine guns, air-bombs and hidden snipers.

Surely God created man after his own image for a higher end than that.

Our Saviour in one of His last talks with His disciples said "My peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you." Let us earnestly endeavour to retain that peace and echo John Gals-worthy's prayer as the poet lay on his death bed at his beautiful home in Pulborough, Sussex, England. His last thoughts were not a prayer for his own safety, but a plea for all mankind,
as he wrote:

God, I am travelling out to death's sea,
I, who exulted in sunshine and laughter, Dreamed not of dying—death is such a waste of me!

Grant me one prayer: Doom not the hereafter
Of mankind to war

Let not my sinking
In dark be for naught, my death a vain thing!
God, let me know it the end of man's fever!
Make my last breath a bugle call, carrying Peace o'er the valleys and cold hills forever!

The above poem was sent to the Montreal
Branch of Canadian Authors by Mrs. Galsworthy, on receipt of a letter of sympathy from that organization. With all our hearts we echo his prayer, that there may be "Peace o'er the valleys and cold hills forever," recognizing the truth that when death was "such a waste" of this pure-hearted and brilliant writer—what an unpardon-able waste War must be, in millions of young lives . . . Let us have no more war, even though it bring inflated prosperity to some.

J. G.

THE IDEAL CITY

A city, sanitary, convenient, substantial, where the houses of the rich and poor are alike comfortable and beautiful, where the streets are clean and the skyline is clear as country air, where the architectural excellence of its buildings adds beauty and dignity to its streets, where parks and playgrounds are within reach of every child, where living is pleasant, toil honorable and recreation plentiful, where capital is respected, but not worshipped. Where industry thrives and brings prosperity alike to the employer and employed, where education and art have a place in every home, where worth and not wealth gives standing to men, where the power of character lifts men to leadership, where interest in public affairs is a test of citizenship and devotion to the public weal is a badge of honor, where government is always honest and efficient, and the principles of democracy find their fullest and truest expression, where the people of all the earth can come and be blended into one community life, and where each generation will vie with the past to transmit to the next a city greater, better and more beautiful than the last.

CLEANING AND PRESSING

Work done by hand and guaranteed satisfactory.

Orders called for and delivered, and work promptly executed.
Gents' Suits 75c., pants 35c.
Children's suits and overcoats, from 20c.

D. ROSS & S. PATRON
Top of Hill, near St. Onge Hotel
Brownburg, Que.

A 14-p.

SPECIAL LOW FARES for EASTER

Return fares between any two points in Canada
at regular one-way fare
and a quarter.

GOING DATES

from April 13th. to 16th.

RETURN LIMIT

midnight, Tuesday, April 18th., 1933

Information and fares from your
local agent.

J. S. Giles, Town Agent, Lachute
Canadian Pacific

It's Spring in the Home!

NEW SPRING WALL PAPERS

SIMMONDS' IRON BED (Double),
MATTRESS, and SPRING — $12.95
(We are the only agents in town for these genuine Simmonds' Products.)

VICTORIAN WALNUT (5-piece)
BEDROOM SUITE — $69.50
(Regular Price $125)

HENRY'S STORE

H. M. LAVIGNE, — LACHUTE MILLS.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES
the best dry yeast for home baking

ROYAL Yeast Cakes have been the standard for over 50 years.
Keep a supply on hand to use when you bake at home. Sealed in airtight waxed paper they keep fresh for months. And get the ROYAL YEAST BAKE BOOK—23 tested recipes. Address Standard Brands
Ltd., Fraser Ave. & Liberty St., Toronto, Ont.

STREUSEL CAKE—a favorite ROYAL YEAST CAKE
recipe. Easy to make, delicious!

To 1½ cups Royal Yeast Sponge* add 2 tablespoons butter, creamed, ½ cup light brown sugar, 1 egg well beaten, 2 cups flour to make soft dough. Knead thoroughly. Place in greased covered bowl in warm place. Let rise until double in bulk (about 1½ hours). Roll out dough ½ inch thick, prick with fork, brush top with melted butter and sprinkle with streusel topping. Let rise in warm place about 30 minutes. Bake at 350° F. to 400° F. Makes 4 cakes.

STREUSEL TOPPING: Cream ¼ c.
butter with ¼ c. sugar and mix with ½
c. flour, ½ c. bread crumbs and 1 tsp.
cinnamon. Stir until dry and crumbly.

ROYAL YEAST SPONGE
Soak 1 Royal Yeast Cake in ½ pint lukewarm water for 15 minutes. Dissolve 1 tablespoon sugar in ½ pint milk.
Add to dissolved yeast cake. Add 1 quart

Our free booklet, "The Royal Road to Better Health," tells how Royal Yeast Cakes will improve your health, and suggests pleasant ways to take them.

Buy
Made-in-Canada Goods

Churches

THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S NINE REASONS

Why a Man Should Go to Church

2. Church work and church attendance mean the cultivation of the habit of feeling responsibility for others.

LACHUTE UNITED CHURCH

Rev. W. B. Rosborough, B.A., B.D.

10 a.m., Sabbath School.

11 a.m., Communion Service.

7 p.m., Special Easter Service.

Subject: "Lessons from the Empty Tomb."

All outside appointments are cancelled for the day.

A service "Preparatory" to Communion will be held on Good Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Special Easter Music will be sung as follows:—

Morning Service.—"What are These that are arrayed in White Robes?" (Choir).

"Why seek ye the Living among the Dead?" (Double Mixed Quartette.)

Evening Service.—"They have taken away my Lord."

(Double Mixed Quartette.)

"Be glad then, Ye Children of Zion." (Choir.) "King Ever Glorious." Tenor solo from the "Crucifixion," (Neill Anderson.)

BROWNSBURG

UNITED CHURCH

Rev. A. E. Hagar, Pastor.

Sunday, April 16, 1933

10 a.m., Sunday School and

11 a.m., Morning Worship.

Easter Service.

Subject: "The way of Life."

7 p.m., Evening Worship.

Subject: "Who will roll us away the Stone?"

All are cordially invited to these Easter Day Services.

Special Evangelistic Services

BAPTIST CHURCHES

Rev. F. W. Dyson, Pastor.

Dalesville 11 a.m.

Rev. Wm. Fraser, of Windsor, Ont.

Brownsburg 3 p.m.

Rev. Wm. Fraser.

LACHUTE 7 p.m.

Rev. Wm. Fraser, begins two weeks' series of Special Services.

Opening Subject: "THE FOLLY OF STAYING OUT AFTER MIDNIGHT"

MAPLE AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. E. G. Baxter.

6.00 a.m., Easter Sunrise Service.

11 a.m., Morning Service for School and Church.

7 p.m., Evening Service.

"I am He that Liveth."

Monday, 7.30 p.m., Quarterly business meeting.

Wednesday 7.30 p.m., B.Y.P.U.

Friday, 7.30 p.m., Prayer Meeting.

FRENCH BAPTIST CHURCH

The Quarry French Baptist Church Services are held every Sunday, as follows:—

Sunday School 10 a.m.

Worship 11 a.m., (Bi-Lingual).

No morning service on the 2nd. Sunday of each month.

Rev. J. G. Poitras, Pastor.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND

Easter Day.

St. Simeon's, Lachute

7.45 a.m., Holy Communion.

11 a.m., Holy Communion and Sermon.

7 p.m., Evensong and sermon.

St. George's, Brownsburg.

9 a.m., Holy Communion.

3 p.m., Evensong and sermon.

Good Friday:

10.30 a.m., Service at St. Simeon's.

7.30 p.m., Service at St. George's.

Rev. W. LeCras, Rector.

LAKEFIELD SERVICES

Sunday, April 16, Easter Day

St. John's Church, Shrewsbury 10.30 a.m.

Holy Trinity Church, Lakefield 2.30 p.m.

∴ District News ∴

WEIR

Services in the Church of the Redeemer on Easter Sunday will be:—

9 a.m., Holy Eucharist; 7.30 p.m., Evensong, with special hymns and Music. Visitors welcome.

Mrs. Wm. Thompson arrived home on Tuesday evening from Toronto, where she was the guest of her mother, for the past month.

Mr. Jas. Duncan, of Montreal, spent the past week at his residence here.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams, of Montreal, are at present the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Williams.

Mr. Fred Watson, of Waterloo, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Morgan.

Miss Ethel Beaven, of Montreal, was the Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bennett.

Sugar-making is in full swing here, but up to the present the season has been very poor.

Miss B. Gaherty, of Montreal, has arrived at her cottage for the season.

ST. ANDREWS EAST

Mr. and Mrs. George Elder and two little daughters of Hudson, were the guests of his parents last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Elder.

Mr. Norman McGregor was a visitor here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pease left Tuesday morning to spend the Easter holidays in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kelly of Montreal, are spending a few days the guests of Mr. J. Fraser, Lachute Road.

Principal Rackstraw spent the week-end in Montreal.

Mr. Lloyd Muir and Mr. Willie Gates spent the week-end at their homes here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson, of Montreal, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Neve last Sunday.

Miss Jeanette Wales spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wales.

Miss Ruth Bradley was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bradley, Lachute Road.

The funeral of the late Angus Fraser took place last Friday afternoon from the home of Mr. Thomas MacAdam, River Rouge. The service was held in the Presbyterian Church Dr. Ballantyne officiating assisted by the Rev. J. Macaskill. Mr. Fraser was in his eighty-fifth year and was the last of his family and one of the few remaining links of days long gone by. His grandfather was one of the pioneers that came with Major Murray's Highlanders from Scotland.

GRENVILLE

Mr. Arthur Lancaster of Montreal, spent the past three weeks with his uncle, Mr. J. Carson, in Grenville Bay.

Mr. Fraser Carson, of Ste. Agathe, spent a week recently at his father's home, in Grenville Bay.

Mr. Jack Cummings is visiting his father, Mr. T. Cummings.

After a long illness borne with great Christian patience, Mrs. William McCrea passed away on Sunday, April 2nd, at her home in Grenville Village. She was of a kindly and lovable disposition and will be sorely missed by her husband, four young daughters and three sons. The community extends heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

Funeral service was held on Tuesday morning at her residence, conducted by Rev. Mr. Maclean, interment following at Harrington.

Asleep in Jesus! Blessed sleep From which none ever wakes to weep.

A calm and undisturbed repose, Unbroken by the last of foes.

—Rev. Theatre closes on Good Friday. A special attraction for Monday will be the Children's Matinee at 3 p.m., admission 15 cents. Tom Mix will appear in a Western Thriller, and a good Comedy will add to the attraction.

BROWNSBURG

The many friends of Rev. Mr. Lackey were pleased to see him last week visiting in this vicinity.

Mr. Ira McFaul, with Miss Ruby and Miss Elva, left on Tuesday morning by motor for New York.

The weather has put an end to syrup making, with only a small "run" this year.

Mr. Ernest Copeland has rented the Graham Garage.

Mr. Roland Moncrieff left on Saturday of last week for a business trip to Simsbury. Mrs. Moncrieff is spending a few days this week with friends in Montreal.

Nora, Wake Up!—Don't forget the time and place, in Goyette's Hall on Friday, April 28, at 8 p.m. Come and see which you would prefer, the old fashion mother whom Nora is ashamed of, or the modern up-to-date mother of Nora's friend.

The Chatham Women's Institute met on April 6th., in the C.I.L. Club Rooms. Eighteen members and four visitors were present. Mrs. Alan Dixon gave an interesting paper entitled "For a successful Vegetable Garden," this being the month set aside for Agriculture. Miss Draper, R.N. spoke on the Spencer Garment, a subject most interesting to women. The Institute were most pleased to welcome as new members the following ladies: Mrs. Maitland, Mrs. D. McCulloch, Mrs. Lem. Wilson.

CUSHING

Mr. Andrew Walker, of Lachute, spent Monday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Sheppard.

Mr. James Black, of Mabel, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham on Tuesday.

Miss Ruth Lieshman spent the week-end at her home in Lachute.

Mrs. C. L. Meserve, of Montreal, is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Innes, at present.

A few people braved the elements Friday night and attended the Community Club's taffy social, spending a pleasant social hour or two afterwards; plans were made to meet again on Friday evening, April 21st.

Communion service will be held in St. Mungo's Church, Sunday evening, April 16th.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. T. W. Weir, on Tuesday, when the regular W. M. S. meeting was held, also a Missionary quilt was "quilted."

Workmen have arrived from Montreal to erect a summer cottage for Mrs. S. Beecher on the old Jane Nicholson property and expect to have same completed within three weeks.

MORIN HEIGHTS

Mrs. J. E. Seale returned home on Tuesday, after spending the week-end with her sister, Mrs. O. Dawson, of Huntingdon.

Miss A. McCulloch is visiting friends in Hudson Heights.

Mr. Lorne Brown, student at Macdonald College, arrived home on Saturday last and has been teaching in the High School for the past week.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. H. Paquette on Tuesday afternoon last.

Miss E. Pilus left on Wednesday morning to spend the Easter vacation at her home in Knowlton.

The April meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of the President, Mrs. J. E. Seale. There was a record attendance in spite of the bad weather and everyone voted it an excellent meeting. The evening was devoted to the study of Child Welfare. The roll call was answered by Child Training, Habits in Health, Courtesy, Obedience, etc. Interesting Current Events were read and discussed. Miss Ailsa Seale read a helpful and instructive pamphlet on "Prevention of the Common Cold."

On April 5th., the members of the Rustic Bridge Club entertained the members of the Morin Bridge Club and other guests at a Bridge and Supper Dance. Rev. W. J. Lummis acted as M.C.

Prize winners for the evening were Miss A. McCulloch, Mrs. E. Robinson, Mrs. K. Smith, Miss M. Syvret, Messrs. (Jerry) Boyd, J. E. Seale, M. Larose and Charles Baamel.

For entertainment violin solos were rendered by Messrs. M. Larose, E. Robinson, accompanied by Mrs. H. Paquette, and songs by Mr. Frank Dudgeon. After the supper appropriate speeches were made by members of both clubs.

Special prizes were also presented to Mrs. F. J. Watson and Jerry Boyd of the Rustic Bridge Club for the highest aggregate score of the season. Everyone appeared to have enjoyed a good time.

ST. ANDREWS EAST

The debate "resolved that the progress of a country depends more on manufacturing than agriculture" held in the Presbyterian Church Hall last Friday evening proved both exciting and instructive. Although the speakers all did very well, the decision was given in favor of the affirmative, the points being very close. Great credit is due Mrs. Ballantyne in encouraging her young people to practice public speaking in such an interesting way. While the points were being counted, Mrs. T. Webster and Miss Grace McQuat accompanied by Miss Rodgers sang a duet which was enjoyed by all present.

Last Saturday evening in the United Church Dr. Maude Abbott generously shared the pleasures of her last summer's travels with a highly appreciative audience. Included amongst her slides were views of ruins of temples which were built hundreds of years B. C.—Mars Hill where St. Paul preached—the birthplace of Hippocrates the "Father of Medicine" on the island of Cos and the famous Colossus of Rhodes where the Knights of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, now known as the St. John's Ambulance, was started.

The W. A. of the Anglican Church met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ball.

SHERIFF SALE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned LANDS and TENEMENTS have been seized and will be sold at the respective times and places mentioned below.

FIERI FACIAS DE BONIS ET DE TERRIS

Superior Court
Canada,
Province of Quebec,
District of Terrebonne,
No. 4590.

J. T. CLEMENT, insurance agent, of Saint Jerome, said district, plaintiff; vs. WILFRED DESFORGES, of Grenville, said district, defendant.

As belonging to the said defendant, the following immovable, to wit: All that parcel of land or emplacement situate in the village of Grenville, aforesaid district, forming the Northwest corner of lot number eighty two (No. 82) thus known and described on the official plan and book of reference for the aforesaid village of Grenville—with a stone house and other buildings thereon erected. And comprising all the land enclosed within the following boundaries and as presently occupied, to wit: Bounded on the North by Chapel Street, on the West by Baie Street, on the East by the land of Leopold Clement, on the South by a strip of land separating the land presently given from that of Georges Daviau. This strip of land having been so left as a common right of way between the two emplacements.

To be sold at the Catholic parochial church door in the village of Grenville, district of Terrebonne, on the SECOND day of MAY, nineteen hundred and thirty three, at THREE o'clock in the afternoon (Standard Time.)

J. W. CYR,
Sheriff's Office, Sheriff.
Saint Jerome, March 27, 1933

Enjoy This Finer Quality

"SALADA" TEA

"Fresh from the Gardens"

THE REVD. JAMES FRASER OF CUSHING

(CORRESPONDENCE)

Editor, The Watchman,

Dear Sir:

In reading over your clippings of twenty-five and fifty years ago, from time to time, it has occurred to me that possibly your readers in this vicinity might be interested in a few recollections of my uncle, the Revd. James Fraser, of Cushing, Que. I remember him as he gently but firmly allured his flock to brighter worlds, and by strictly living out his principles he led the way. To commence, I will recount according to my best recollection, (and those also of his son, the Rev. James Macdonnell Fraser) his regular Sunday morning prayer, as nearly word for word as possible. The prelude to this prayer was always varied to suit the times and circumstances but in the main this prayer was the same always.

—C. F. Kains.

"Holy and Ever Blessed God Our Heavenly Father—we bless Thee for Thy love and mercy vouchsafed to us this Sabbath day in the face of Jesus Christ."

"We humbly acknowledge our shortcomings and beseech Thee to pardon and absolve us from our sins."

"We commend to Thee all who in any special way need Thy love and care. In particular those of this congregation who may be in sorrow and affliction. Raise up the sick if such be Thy holy will, to health and strength."

"Bless our King and Queen, the Prince of Wales and all members of the Royal Family."

the Governor-General of the Dominion, the Lieutenant-Governors of our several Provinces—all Judges and Magistrates—embue them with wisdom from on high; may we under them and they over us, lead quiet and peaceable lives in Godliness and honesty.

"Be pleased to bless the whole Church of God, by whatsoever name Thy people may be known. Break down barriers of separation between us; and may we all see eye to eye and face to face and recognize each other as brethren. Bless, we beseech Thee, that portion of Thy Vineyard to the which we more immediately belong. Peace be within Zion's walls, prosperity within Her palaces. Bless Her ministers and elders. Her managers and teachers, those who worship within Her walls, and all who wait upon Her services. Give each a blessing suited to their day and need. Grant times of refreshing from on high."

And now, O Lord, what wait we for—our Hope is in Thee, with us when we dwell, in all with us when we dwell, in all our out-goings and in all our incomings, be Thou our Guide. Unite such as propose meeting together again in this world, unite us all at last around Thy Throne which is in heaven. Now, may Grace, Mercy and Peace from God the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, Rest and Abide with you, and all The people of God for evermore, Amen.

BAILIFF'S SALE

Superior Court, No. 4434. To be sold on the farm of Joseph M. Kennedy, Rawcliffe, Township of Grenville, at one p.m., April 18th. (Tuesday) 1933, five cows, five heifers, five sheep and one cream separator (De Laval). A-15-2c

Fanciful Fables

Preliminary Spring Sale

Ladies' and Children's Outfitting of all kinds
Prices to the Lowest Point
To make room for Summer Stock

Fantaisies Parisiennes

227 Main Street, Phone 336, Lachute, Que.

We advertise - because

we know our Meats, Vegetables, and Canned Goods have the freshness and quality we claim for them.

We invite you to shop here regularly, and share this confidence in reliable foods.

Jos. Speight, Butcher

The Lachute Watchman

Home Newspaper of Argenteuil and the Ottawa Valley

VOL. LVIII.

LACHUTE, QUE., APRIL 20th., 1933.

No. 16

What Other People are Doing

(Contributed)

Among England's visible exports for 1933 must be listed one item perhaps more hearable than visible, namely George Bernard Shaw. An actor ever, Shaw refused to be interviewed by New York's reporters, columnists, and news-flash announcers, thereby gaining for himself distinction as being the first celebrity to forego this means of introduction to the American public. Some time ago Shaw began his address to the people of the States by saying "You Boobs," over an international radio network. On the present occasion Shaw culminated his quarter-century of malignant characterization by informing the "Yanks" that their constitution was "only a charter of anarchy"—and thousands of people attended to applaud him! In the House of Representatives one solitary member is reported as saying, "It is an incredible thing that the American people (it is not reported if Mr. Beck included Canada) did not have sufficient pride to permit him to pass through the country as beneath our notice." Evidently Mr. Beck's notice was also attracted by the Irish playwright. But then, Mr. Beck is a lawyer, whereas George Bernard Shaw is—well, George Bernard Shaw.

Prime Minister McDonald of England has arrived in to States to discuss with President Roosevelt the burning question of War Debts. Just before his departure from England, His Majesty The King sent his best wishes for success; and altogether the omens are propitious to success. Our own Premier Mr. R. B. Bennett will also be in Washington during those momentous days, as also Premier Herriot of France. The economic situation will be viewed from all possible angles by this world-wide representation. Mr. Bennett's part in the discussions is likely to be an important one; enjoying the confidence of the Canadian people and unhampered by default or political exigencies his position will be a strong one. Mr. McDonald, the great apostle of peaceful social evolution, will be the dominating influence towards a successful issue. Mr. Roosevelt, if he can continue to enjoy his almost dictatorial powers, can be a force of great good, but his ambit of usefulness can be greatly circumscribed by the archaic offices of his country's constitution. Premier Herriot will have a difficult task, to overcome the taste left in the mouths of Mr. Roosevelt's countrymen by the "French default dish." The mooted plan of the French government to spend $1,000,000 in U. S. propaganda will also be a deterrent to Mr. Herriot's usefulness.

Local Firemen Are Kept Busy

Seven Calls in few days

The firemen answered the first of a series of quick calls on Monday, when a fire of minor importance caught the chimney of a dwelling occupied by Mrs. Jean Gagné, near the Convent.

High winds on Tuesday accounted for an epidemic of chimney fires which kept the local firemen on the hop, if not actually fighting the fires.

Mr. T. Dallaire's property on Mary Street, occupied by Eug. Lafortune, had a chimney fire at 4 p.m. At 5.30 there was a similar occurrence at Mr. Richard Graham's, Grace St.; and later at Arthur Thibeault's, Robert St., firemen were on hand in each case alert for any spread of flames to the buildings. . . . A more serious outbreak occurred in the roof of the Charlebois residence where a spark from the smokestack of the adjoining furniture factory ignited wood-work under the tin roof. The firemen subdued this outbreak and there was little damage.

Mr. Ernie Woods' farmhouse near the Golf Course on Bethany had a close call Wednesday afternoon, when sparks from ignited stove-pipes caught in the wood shingles of the roof. Neighbors turned out to assist, and had the blaze under control when the fire-truck arrived to complete the work. Hose was connected to a roadside pond, and water was pumped onto the roof. The damage is estimated at around $200. An extensive plot of grass in the rear of the house was alight from flying sparks, and more serious damage might have resulted.

In the early hours of this morning Chief Geo. Y. Deacon and his men responded to a call on Chatham Street, which might have ended disastrously. Report of this fire which numbered the seventh call in three days, is given more fully on Page 4.

Took Fire to Firemen

Firemen usually are called for outbreaks. One night this week, however, William Ness, of Ottawa, found his car on fire and instead of following the usual procedure hurried with his car to the fire station, and firemen extinguished the blaze before serious damage was done.

Free Barter Column for Watchman Readers

Clean-up week will be soon at hand, and this is the season when householders wish they might dispose of a variety of "truck"—odds and ends of furniture, chattels, etc. around the home. Money is scarce; folks would not willingly flock to buy such items. But there are many who might care to barter some article, which the householder needs and would readily accept in exchange.

This newspaper will conduct in one or perhaps two issues, a free Barter Column for its readers, announcement of which will be given next week. It is suggested this might be profitably used by car owners; unemployed seeking work; landlords having property to rent for goods; farmers seeking to exchange stock, machinery, or produce. Think it over, and be ready to take advantage of the opportunity.

—What Other People are doing.

Sir Austen Chamberlain in the British House of Commons had something to say about Prussian savagery in relation to the boycott of Jews in Germany. Germany is reported as protesting the remarks of the former Secretary of Foreign Affairs through her London embassy.

The Hitler cabinet has restored titles and decorations which were repealed by his Republican predecessors and future orders will be conferred by President Von Hindenburg or his successors.

The return of legal beer to the United States has not prevented the underworld "czars" from retaining their grip on the kudos which made them all-powerful. Bootleg "foaming amber" is on sale, equal in every respect to the legal thirst-quencher and quite within the law in alcoholic content, but away lower in price than the tax paying brew. In many cases bootleg beer is put up under legally established trade names but undersold in price. The demand is increasing for a stronger "kick" than the 3.2 affords, and the Beer Barons are finding a profitable source of revenue in meeting this demand.

The Sabotage Trial of six Englishmen in Russia continues to produce sensational revelations. Charged with wrecking dynamos and turbines which they installed for their company, Metropolitan-Vickers, on contract with the Soviet Government, and with collecting information of military importance for which they paid enormous bribes, they are faced with capital offences. One of the defendants, William McDonald, provided the first sensation by confessing his guilt on all charges. The other repudiated both his evidence and purported confession, and even yet appears to be cowed by third degree methods. Undoubtedly there were serious and unexplained breakdowns in the Metropolitan-Vickers installations; turbines and dynamos developed faults with alarming frequency; nevertheless there are many factors which can contribute to such occurrences. Engineering technique, unsuitability of the machinery to climatic conditions, or (and most probable of all) inexperience of maintenance. Regardless of the technical aspects, this trial bears every semblance of a "frame up". And considering the reputation of Russia's O.G.P.U., MacDonald's confession will not occasion surprise.

Enthusiastic Attendance at Easter Services

The Easter devotions in local churches were well attended and appropriate messages from the pulpits conveyed the solemnity of Eastertide. On Sunday, with flowers decorating the various churches, a spirit of devotional enthusiasm upheld the hope and significance of the day. Many united in the Communion services and at the local United Church some sixteen new members were enrolled. Sunday evening marked the opening of a series of evangelistic sessions, at the Baptist Church, which are drawing good attendances and will continue through the evenings of next week, under Rev. Wm. Fraser, of Windsor, Ont. . . . Special Easter music added considerably to the enjoyment of the devotions in the various churches.

Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon Elected

Mrs. George Y. Deacon was honored last week in being elected president of the Police and Fire Chiefs' Association Ladies' Reception Committee, at a meeting held in the Windsor Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon take keen interest in the activities of this provincial body, attending regularly at the various functions, from which Mr. Geo. Deacon derives benefit for the furtherance of his work as local fire chief.

Girl's Body Found at St. Eustache

The body of six-year-old Therese Richer was discovered near St. Eustache on Tuesday, after being immersed 4 months and 8 days since the child fell through the ice beneath the deBellefeuille bridge.

The body was removed to the victim's home where a jury under Dr. Ludger Labelle, of St. Jerome, coroner of the Terrebonne district, disposed of the case with a verdict of accidental death by drowning. Alphonse Des Ormeaux, a farmer who has his home three-quarters of a mile from the bridge testified that as he was inspecting his muskrat traps near the shore, he saw clothing emerging from the surface of the river. The farmer procured a rowboat and investigated, finding the child's body floating near the surface. The body was brought to the shore and the coroner was notified.

"Eindrücke aus Canada"

(Impressions of Canada)

A German Visitor Expresses his Views

Writing recently in Neue Zürcher Zeitung (a German-Swiss newspaper published at Zurich) K. von S. gives a refreshing view of the contrast between Canada and the United States as it appears to the visitor from abroad. The impression is typically Old World, measuring in terms of character rather than in material values, and his acquittal is generally in favor of the Canadian people.

It is an unusual condition that a thin invisible line divides us—two territories alike in scenic appearance and two peoples alike in tongue. But the contrast between New York City and Montreal, says the writer, is the transition from New World fever and excitement to the calm tranquility of Old England.

On crossing the line, the first Canadian encountered by this Teuton visitor, stood in his well-kept garden proudly surveying the blooms which, he asserted, were from bulbs originating in the far-away Crimean Peninsula. His grandfather had taken them to England; their progeny had been translated in Canadian soil. . . . This simple pride in historical and foreign connection—how different from the viewpoint our visitor had left behind in America, where the travelled citizen is considered one who has severed the self-sufficient bonds of patriotism; one who has sought the superiority of vague Bohemian atmospheres! So it is, one looks in vain below the line for a little touch of Europe or the breath of Old World tradition. Yet in Canada the atmosphere is distinctly European—as surely as roast beef and beer waft the essence of England, suggesting those hostilities so queerly in contrast with the dazzling, nervous interior of the New York speak-easy and the got-to-be-going tempo of clandestine delights. In that big city, even Nature appears to be relegated to the background and tall buildings contend with the very skies for the right of existence.

In our Canadian homes, the pictures of Royalty will drag you back to the courts of Europe. Yet, commenting on this circumstance, K. von S. believes the respect of Canadian-born citizens for royal constitutions—is not so much the esteem of love and affection, as a deep reverence for the tradition of monarchies, the protective ties of Union. Mother England and the King do not suggest either domination or servitude; they symbolize a bond for the preservation of everything most cherished to the citizen and to Canada as a nation.

(Continued on page 4)

Passing of War Veteran The Late Wm. Doig

The passing of William Doig, whose death occurred at noon on Tuesday, April 18th., at his home on Main Street, removes one of our citizens who owing to partial paralysis has been confined to the house for several years.

Deceased was the son of Mrs. Robt. Doig Sr. and was born Jan. 2, 1866, in the stone house on Bethany Road (known as the Dixon home), and in his boyhood attended the Jerusalem school. At the early age of 18 he went West and there found his life work centered largely as organizer for the Foresters Society. Responding to the call of his country Mr. Doig enlisted with a Winnipeg Regiment and served overseas, afterwards returning to his native surroundings, where he lived with his wife in quiet retirement.

Mr. Doig was married to Annie Watts of Mount Forest, Ont., on April 29th., 1891, and their family of three comprise Mrs. (Dr.) Harry Pickard of Pennington, Sask., Mrs. Melvin Burke, of Flint, Mich., and W. R. Guy Doig, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, at Saskatoon.

The funeral took place this afternoon, Thursday, at 2.30, service being held in the United Church and conducted by the Rev. Mr. Rosborough, where a large number of relatives and sympathizing friends attended and followed the remains to their last resting place in the Lachute Cemetery.

The many beautiful floral wreaths bore silent tribute to the departed.

Improvised Lethal Chamber

Stray dogs in Hawkesbury pay the extreme penalty, as result of a measure to prevent the spread of rabies. The police chief, Joe Beaulne, has devised a lethal chamber by which dogs may be destroyed as humanely as possible. He has a specially built large crate, with a glass top. Into this he places the animals, and attaches one end of a short pipe to the exhaust of his automobile; the other end of the pipe is inserted in the box. Turning on his engine, he allows the carbon monoxide gas to enter the box. Dogs are thus painlessly exterminated, and death is practically instantaneous.

Spring having definitely established itself, there has been activity in the local automobile market and among the garages. Mr. P. Chabot, registrar of licences, has also been kept busy, and the season indicates no marked depression among local car owners.

Brownburg United Had Successful Services

The Easter services in the United Church both morning and evening were well attended. A fine array of cut flowers and house plants beautified the altar and gave the church a bright appearance, thus creating a very nice impression for the services. A male trio ("Nailed to the Cross") and a mixed quartette ("On Calvary's Brow") were very effectively given, both morning and evening, while in the morning a solo ("His Loving Thought") was well rendered by Mr. Tom Pasco and at night "The Old Rugged Cross" by Mr. Tom Anderson. The singing was much enjoyed by all present.

Thos. A. Cummings, Veteran of Nile Expedition

Thomas Anson Cummings, a pioneer steamer captain on the Ottawa River and one of the eight steamboat pilots selected by the British Government in 1882 to command steamers on the Nile River in Egypt at the time of the Gordon Relief Expedition, died yesterday morning at his home in Grenville. He was 82 years of age. Mr. Cummings was the last but one of the eight steamer captains who participated in the relief of Gordon at Khartoum, the only survivor now being John Williamson, also of Grenville. Of the

(Continued from Page 5)

"Royal Scot" due Montreal on Friday

The famous "Royal Scot" comprising a locomotive and eight railway coaches, is on its way to Canada, and will arrive at Montreal probably tomorrow, aboard the S. S. Beaverdale. After being unloaded and placed on exhibition for a period in Montreal, the train will proceed by rail to Chicago.

THE CAPTAIN'S CORNER

For Our Boy Readers

THE CAPTAIN'S WEEKLY LETTER.

"NEW PLACES"

Dear Boys :

I am writing this letter from a place I have never been to before, and because of this it has an interest all its own.

What do you look for first when arriving in a town or city that is quite new to you? Do you look for large buildings, wide streets or beautiful parks? Do you search for a river or lake, a wood or mountain slope? Perhaps you do, but let me tell you this that all the time your thoughts are really intent on discovering something new. Something that in all your experience has never come your way before. You almost expect this, because of your arrival in a new place.

This happens to all of us in such a situation, but very seldom do we discover what we seek. Who was it that said "There is nothing new under the sun"?

Now I know a better plan. When you arrive in a new place look for something old. Look for a turn in the road, a twist in the river, or a glen in a wood, that will remind you of some happy memory. If you search hard enough you must eventually find it. The people you meet on your way are strangers. The road you travel is unfamiliar; even the hill you climb is weary, and long because you know nothing of what is on the other side. But the birds you hear will sing the same old songs; the breeze that fans your face will have the same old loving touch, and (like Edgar, in our story) you can look up and find the same old stars twinkling in their friendly companionship. Then we arrive at the shady nook with the ferns and wild flowers growing at our feet. Surely we say to ourselves "We have been here before. Look, there are the trees we used to climb, and even the rock on which we were glad to rest when play was over." Then we laugh at our mistake, for are we not just wayfarers coming for the first time to this new place? That is true and yet—

*It pleases me to search and often find
A magic place that quickly brings to mind
The thoughts of home and all the loved ones there,
And of their joy partake a moment's share.
It does not matter that I'm far away
We meet in spirit here at close of day.*

Your affectionate friend,

THE CAPTAIN.

When the Redskin Ruled

THE CAPTAIN'S SERIAL
STORY OF ADVENTURE

Special to The Watchman

Chapter 15.

*"With tearful eyes and small hands clenched
He stood defiant to his World"—*

—Hunter

An hour or so later two very tired and subdued boys returned to the cabin and flung themselves on to their small bunks. Walter gave a groan. "I don't believe there is a bone in my body that does not ache," he said ruefully. "Even now I can't understand how he made me do the things I did."

"Because we could not help ourselves," replied Edgar, tears of mortification welling up in his eyes. "When you refused to go down on your hands he simply lifted you off your feet and kept you dangling in the air till you called out you would do it."

"But how did he get me off my feet?" persisted Walter. "He is only a small man and yet his strength is amazing. When he gripped my arms I could not move without hurting myself." "Some rotten trick or other, I suppose," retorted his chum bitterly. "It seems though as if in all the days to come, we are to do as he bids us. Did he not say we would be on that deck again early tomorrow morning for more of the 'exercises' as he calls them?"

"He did" the elder boy replied. "But listen, Edgar, there was something else he said which did interest me. You heard him talk about the large lakes in Canada, almost as big as the sea we are sailing over, well, Sunny Jim insists it is necessary to know how to swim, and, when you were running round the deck he told me we were both to learn. Indeed he said that not knowing how to swim might cost us our lives."

Edgar commenced to rub his legs. "Oh, he said that, did he? Teach us to swim when we get to Canada! All I can say is that, if he continues to treat us like this, it won't be necessary for we shan't have any lives to save!"

There was such a piteous expression on the youngster's face as he said this that, though Walter himself felt not a little indignation at the way they had been disciplined by one who, after all, was but a servant—he was compelled to laugh. This did him a lot of good and immediately he began to feel better.

"Come, Edgar" he chided. "Don't be too distressed. If this treatment we are getting is going to help us in a new country, well, unpleasant as it is, I am going to try and bear it. After all it will be jolly good to know how to swim like a fish. Let's go on deck."

Not without difficulty, because of their stiffness, the boys put on their shoes and jackets and climbed the stairway. A cool breeze was blowing and a late afternoon sun shed its golden rays across the waste of water. Look where they would there was no sign of land, and for the first time in their lives they experienced the wonderful sensation of being "at sea."

Above their heads, in a cloudless sky of the deepest blue the first star of evening shone out.

Edgar pointed to it and whispered. "How strange. Why, I saw that star last night at home. It looks as if it is coming with us." "It will always be with us, my boys," answered Tom Dickson, who joined them in time to overhear his son's remark.

"And look over there" Walter added excitedly; "What is that big round light coming up out of the water?" "Why, that is the moon, Walter. Do you mean to tell me you don't recognize your old friend? It will get smaller as it rises and then there will be a silver pathway right across the sea. Now tell me lads,"

AUNT JEAN HERSELF

A Column for the Kiddies
(Copyright)

BOBBY'S WISH

Mother Nature has washed her face,
Said Bobby with a grin.
She had it covered with a cold
white scum,
And icicles on her chin.

The fairies lent her a scrubbing brush,
And a monstrous shower bath.
She scrubbed and scrubbed the scum right off
To make room for the grass.

I heard her coaxing for violets
To trim her nice green dress,
Some tulips too, I am sure she
said,
And dainty ferns I guess.

I wish she'd always keep her dress
With flowers dotted o'er,
I am sure that I don't want to see
That white scum any more.

NANCY'S PUP

Seeing Things at Night

Uncle Ned and the others were not long going to bed after the children went, because as Uncle Ned said "sap and syrup-making wait for no man, and he must be up early to get the buckets empty for the next day's run."

The house was very quiet for a time, just the occasional snap of dying embers in the cooking stove and soft snores from Grandma's room, and decidedly heavier ones from Uncle Dick's room. He had always been counted as the champion of the family in that line, at least so Uncle Ned had laughingly told him earlier in the evening.

All were asleep but Rover. He was on guard as usual. The earlier part of the evening he guarded the front of the house.
but when traffic stopped passing on the road he came around to the back and sank down on a pile of old bags by the shed door.

He was especially tired tonight. He had had a terrific battle with a large ground-hog, who had persisted in digging out a back door to his home quite too close to the house to suit Rover. Rover had growled warn-ingly for a long time before jumping at him, but the groundhog, had not heeded him at all, just kept on digging.

Neither of them could be called the victor, as the battle had waged from time to time all afternoon. Rover must have wondered why no-one came to help him.

Not knowing anything about the taffy party of course, he could not realize that his master and mistress were much too busy to wonder why he was barking so much that afternoon.
Seeing that no-one came when he barked excitedly for help he just fought until he was tired.

The ground-hog was tired too.
He could not understand what business that big brute of a dog had interfering with him when he was preparing such a splendid doorway for Mrs. Groundhog and her family, so that they might reach quite easily the ten-went on the Squire, "How did you get on with your physical exercises?" "We hated them" answered both, with forcible decision.

"Ah! You did? Well, just come over here with me and I will show you something."

The boys accompanied their senior as he led them to another portion of the deck, and then pointed to the fully extended figure of a man. Even in the fast fading light they could see his face was white and drawn and his eyes closed.

"Is he dead?" asked Edgar, in a frightened whisper. "No, not dead" replied his father, "but he no doubt wishes he was.
He is suffering badly from what is called sea-sickness. It is to prevent that happening to you, that Sunny Jim gives you exercises!"

Edgar and Walter looked at each other, and then at the man lying almost at their feet. They did not speak, but Tom Dickson was satisfied he would hear no more complaints—and he was right.

(To be Continued.)

Children's Rubber Knee Boots

All Sizes from 8 to 2 $1.25

Men's Knee-Length Rubbers

Everything for the Sugar Camp
at special prices

John McFaul & Son

Telephone No. 8.

Main Street.

Keith, Bert, and Ned covered their heads in fright; the noise was so terrifying.

Uncle Dick and Uncle Ned collided with each other in the hall on the way to Billy's room.
They stopped to laugh and rub their bruised heads for a moment, then Uncle Dick said
"Stop at mother's door and tell her not to get up; I'll attend to Billy."

He knew that it was Billy, as soon as he had heard the noise.
He had been rather expecting something like this!

He found Billy sitting up in bed still howling. "Billy! Billy!" he said "don't shout so;
you are frightening Grandma."

Half awake, Billy slid out of bed and met his uncle as he came across the room. "Save me; Save me," he shrieked. "They are all after me!"

"I won't let them get you, Son," his uncle said, half-laughing, as he caught Billy up in his arms and sat down on the bed.
"I know just what is the matter. I used to see things at night too when I was a wee chap like you and had too much to eat before I went to bed, or had more excitement than what was good for me."

"But Uncle Dick, I saw them" sobbed Billy; "They were right here in the room. Lots and lots of brown bears coming right at me. One was on top of me. I could see his big sharp teeth and his wicked eyes. Nancy was there too, she came in by the window, and a whole lot of puppies were climbing onto the bureau."

Billy turned his head to look towards the bureau. "Look!"
he almost shrieked "there's one there yet. I did see them, Uncle Dick."

"Huh! That's not a pup on the bureau; that's my brown sweater. I threw it there when I was undressing," Bert said.

Hearing Uncle Dick's voice in the room the boys had jerked the covers off their heads at once. They knew that whatever was happening, would soon be all right.

They were rather ashamed that he should see them with their heads covered, but who could blame them, awakened so suddenly by such unexpected, blood-curdling yells.

"How would you like to come and sleep in my bed for the remainder of the night, Billy?"
suggested Uncle Dick.

"Oh, may I?" Billy stretched out eager arms. "Why surely, you may. Come along, I will keep the bears away from you, you may be sure."

Meeting grandma in the doorway he continued. "Now Mother, just trot back to bed. I am looking after Billy. There is no need to be alarmed." "Isn't there something I can do?" she asked.
"Not the least little thing,
Mother. Billy is all right now.
He is coming to bed with me.
We will fight the bears together."

So the household settled down to sleep once more, or tried to some of its members succeeded, but some did not. I wonder if you can guess, children, who it was that could not sleep? If I could only hear you answer me I am sure you would say Billy but you would be wrong.

—Lovingly,

Aunt Jean.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH COMMON CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation gets its grip on a person almost unawares. It often starts with such little things. Headaches. Listlessness. Bad complexion. Unpleasant breath. If unchecked, it may seriously impair your health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this danger by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B.
ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of iron for the blood.

Biological tests demonstrate that the "bulk" in bran is similar to that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than taking unpleasant patent medicines. Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Serious cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg & London, Ontario.

Groceries

Canned Goods, Fresh Provisions
Grain, Flour, Feed; Preserves—

The need immediately suggests

Campbell Registered

"Old Established and Reliable"

Main Street,

Telephone 50.

Men's Silk, Wool, and
Cashmere Socks, Reg. 75c
Now Clearing at 50c pair

W. Banford & Son

Hardwood Flooring

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY

All grades in stock at our yards,
BETHANY ROAD, LACHUTE

Price $35.00 per
thousand and up

Cottingham Supply Company

Phone 29.

Box 623.

It's costly to gamble with a second-choice tire!

Goodyears cost no more, so why gamble on a second-choice tire? Goodyear Tires are first choice by more than 2 to 1. For eighteen years they have outsold any other make. Could you ask greater proof of Goodyear's better value?

GOODYEARS All-Weather Tread
Size 4.75x19	$9.36
Size 5.00x20	$10.40
Size 6.00x18	$15.65 (Tax Included)

GOODYEAR
Paquin Garage
55 Foundry Street,
Lachute

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

DR. G. A. CLUNIE, L.D.S.
Surgeon Dentist
Over Dominion Stores
Here Every Day
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

DR. W. M. HOOPER,
Dental Surgeon
235 Main Street, Phone 209.
Lachute, Que.

L. L. LEGAULT, K.C., Barrister and Advocate
295 Main Street., 'Phone 60.
Lachute, P. Que.

Z. N. RAYMOND, L.L.B.
Notary Public
Telephone 166 w.
281 Main Street, Lachute, P.Q.

GALL & JONES
General Insurance
Phone 95 ring 2
Bethany Street, Lachute.

GAETAN VALOIS, L.L.L.
Notary
Money to loan on security Depositor of the late J. E. Valois' notary's papers.
Lachute, P. Que.

J. F. LAVIGNE, B.A.,
Public Notary
Municipal, Provincial and Victory Bonds handled
Telephone 178
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

G. GILLESPIE DUNLOP
Formerly of Edinburgh, Scotland
Barrister, Advocate, Solicitor
Practicing in Ontario and Quebec
103 Main Street West
Phone 93, Hawkesbury, Ontario,
Phone 604 r 2, Grenville, Quebec.

PHILIPPE VALOIS,
B.A., LL.B.
Advocate
(Son of the late J. E. Valois)
245 Main Street, Lachute.
Phone No. 81

GERARD RAYMOND
Advocate, Barrister & Solicitor
Insurance Exchange Bldg.
Suite 725
276 St. James St., West, Montreal
Telephones HARBOUR 2113 and
HARBOUR 2114
Office at Lachute every Saturday,
No. 281 Main Street,
Telephone 166 w.

WILLIAM ROBERTS
C.P.A., C.G.A.
Certified Public Accountant
Commercial and Municipal
Audits
660 St. Catherine St., West
Montreal.

Making History in Argenteuil

Extracted from files of
The Watchman.

50 Years Ago.
Friday, April 27, 1883.

About 8,000 tons of high grade phosphate, representing a quarter of a million dollars, is at present at Buckingham station of the Canadian Pacific, also at the Windsor wharf, awaiting shipment.

A Bank is much needed at Lachute. Our merchants now have to conduct their business through the nearest Bank, at St. Jerome.

Six of St. Andrews' men left this week for the Northwest.

The Government is about to pass the sum of $3,000 for the building of L'Original wharf, provided the corporation of the village furnish $1,000.

A new and substantial wharf, on the site of the old one familiarly known as Park's Wharf, nearly opposite the Calumet station, has been recently erected by P. O'Brian, Esq.

The Emperor and Empress of Russia will reach Moscow and the coronation will take place on May 27th. The State entry into the City of St. Petersburg will be made June 10th.

Quebec Parliament House was completely burned last week. The building cost $36,000 to construct; it replaced one which was accidentally burned 30 years ago, a short time after its erection to replace that destroyed in Montreal.

"Toronto Saturday Night—

In the autograph marts of New York Greta Garbo's signature brings the most money, being worth more than twice Abraham Lincoln's. Abe was a celebrity in his own way but it has to be admitted he wasn't strong on sex-appeal.

Her BACKACHES have GONE!

Quick, sure relief with Fruit-a-tives

"Your splendid remedy acted like a tonic to my entire system. I can't begin to tell what I suffered from backaches due to kidney derangement. When I would bend down it seemed that I couldn't straighten up again. I was continually awakened at night from the same cause. Dizzy, sick headaches and a weak stomach made me feel perfectly wretched. Now thanks to your wonderful 'Fruit-a-tives', I am enjoying life again."

Fruit-a-tives . . . all drug stores

25 Years Ago.
Friday, May 1, 1908.

Messrs. T. McQuat & Son are evidently believers in annexation to the States, as they have opened this week a 30-ton car of red sand from Albany, N. Y., to be used for moulding purposes.

Mr. Hugh Fraser jr. expects to leave shortly for Winchester, Ont., where he intends entering business.

Mrs. Geo. Patterson has sold her property in the rear of the Presbyterian Church to Mr. Jno. Campbell.

A series of concerts are being given in Victoria Hall by the Australian Concert Co. and Dog Show. In a pie-eating contest on Wednesday, Master Charlie Palliser proved an easy winner.

The village of Notre Dame de Salette, on the Lievre River, 16 miles above Buckingham, was wiped out by a landslide early Sunday morning. 37 Persons are reported to have lost their lives when 14 of the 22 houses forming the little hamlet were overwhelmed by the mass of earth which slid from the high bank into the flooded river.

Cushing: Mr. C. F. Kains has been making things interesting in the vicinity of Greece's Point for those who have taken logs out of the river and used them for their own purposes. Mr. Kains it appears, has been appointed by the Ottawa River Boom Co. to look after stray timber, and is determined to do his duty at all costs.

Picks Up Own Ear

Josef Steinmetz, a shoemaker, of Schonbach, Austria, had the unpleasant sensation recently of seeing a human ear lying on the ground and finding it was his own. As he entered the local inn, he slipped and fell, brushing against a chair with his right ear. He felt no pain, but as he got up the ear lay on the ground. Putting his hand to his head he found it was his own. The perplexed inn cronies sent for the village doctor who was able to explain at once what had happened. The shoemaker had come a long distance in the bitter cold and the ear was badly frostbitten, so that it fell at a touch without any appreciable sensation to its late owner.

—Excursion to Montreal.
Good going Saturday April 22.
Return limit, Monday, April 24.
Fare $1.00. J. S. Giles, Town Agent.

THE ROYAL SCOT VISITS CANADA

The famous Royal Scot express of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway will be seen on Canadian rails for the first time in her history when this noted train is sent over to be exhibited at the World's Fair at Chicago. Arriving at Montreal by steamship about the end of April, the famous train will be assembled here for her run to Chicago. At the conclusion of the exhibition, she will again run through Canada to be reloaded for shipment to Britain.
From Montreal to Chicago the Royal Scot will traverse the rails of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with stops en route at Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and other points. On her return journey she will travel over the lines of the Canadian National Railways with similar stops for public inspection at various towns and cities. Details of the itineraries of this famous train en route to and from Chicago will shortly be announced.

Canadians will have an opportunity to compare the Canadian locomotives to which they have become accustomed with the 6100 of the L. M. & S. which hauls the Royal Scot, and they can also visualize the tremendous changes and improvements in engine design which have taken place since the old "Lion", forerunner of the British 6100 class was in use.

Top photograph shows the "Lion" with her train which was forerunner of the Royal Scot, and below, the Royal Scot with the 6100 locomotive, one of the fleet which hauls her on record runs between England and Scotland.

AN APPEAL FOR EAR PHONES

Since the inception of electrical Radios, the old style Ear-Phones are now discarded. At Laurentian Sanatorium however they are now being fitted up for the use of each individual patient. You can make some one happy by turning in your old phones to Deacon's Store or the Watchman Office, when they will be forwarded and made good use of.

CIGARETTES

Cigarettes entered for consumption in Canada during 1932 numbered 3,718,186,256; made up of domestic 3,713,314,266, imported 4,871,990. Excise duty collected on cigarettes during the year amounted to $21,343,169.

CANADIAN AUTHOR MAKES BIG HIT

The literary hit of the year has been made by Frederick Niven, an author residing near Nelson, B.C. whose novel entitled "Mrs. Barry" is described by Compton Mackenzie in the Daily Mail as a profoundly moving book, and is hailed as a classic worthy to stand beside Sir James Barrie's "Margaret Ogilvy".
Although Frederick Niven has a long list of books to his credit, and has always enjoyed a following among the critics, this is his first appearance among the "best sellers". He worked his way through Canada early this century, and at one time handled baggage and freight for the C. P. R. at Nelson, B.C. He eventually took up a small holding on Kootenay Lake twenty years ago, where he has secured excellent local colour for his western stories.
"Mrs. Barry" is a novel of life in Glasgow, where at one time Frederick Niven edited a newspaper.

An old Chinaman was delivering laundry in a Wild West mining camp — hearing a noise behind him he turned around and saw a huge brown bear sniffing at his tracks in the newly fallen snow. "Huh!" he gasped, "You like my tracks? I make more of them." And he did.

ROBERT HAMILTON

for
FLOUR, GRAIN, & FEED
Also Best Prices on COAL
Phone 240.

"CELLOPHANE," ALL-CANADIAN PRODUCT, IS BASICALLY SAME AS ARTIFICIAL SILK

One hundred and thirty-five Canadians are employed in the manufacture of "Cellophane" at Shawinigan Falls, and large quantities of home-produced spruce wood-pulp, besides many chemicals made in Canada, are used in the process.

The transformation of the spruce pulp that looks like heavy cardboard sheets into the scintillating and diaphanous films that we see used everywhere for a multitude of purposes is a highly interesting one. The chief ingredient, wood-pulp, arrives in sheets on the fifth floor of the factory, where it is placed in a press and steeped in caustic soda. The compound which results is shredded on the fourth floor and "aged" on the third. Delivered to the second floor, the "aged" alkali cellulose is placed in a rotating barrel with carbon bisulphide and changes to orange cellulose xanthate. On the first floor the xanthate forms an orange-coloured liquid, known as viscose, when mixed with a solution of caustic soda. Large storage tanks receive the viscose for ripening before it is ready to be cast.

It is not generally known that up to this point "Cellophane" is basically the same as artificial silk, and that the difference comes at the casting stage. Silk is extruded in fine threads, while "Cellophane" takes form in thin sheets.

When the viscose is properly ripened it is forced under pressure into an acid bath where it coagulates and forms a continuous film of the required thickness. A set of rollers carries the film through a washing and bleaching process into a bath containing glycerol—a liquid which increases the pliability of the film. After the film has been dried over heated rollers, it is taken to the finishing area for a last inspection, packing and shipping to all parts of the Dominion and Newfoundland.

The practice of inexperienced horsemen in watering their horses after feed is a dangerous one because the digestive fluids are interfered with and sickness is often the result. "Water before feeding (in a quantity depending on the warmth of the horse) and again before going to work, when only a moderate drink will suffice", is the advice of farm experts.

1832 1933

Keeping Pace

DOWN through the years—since it was established in 1832—The Bank of Nova Scotia has steadily kept pace with the advancing needs of Canadian industry and enterprise. Today, as in the past, it offers to sound business not only complete facilities for the performance of every banking function, but more—an individual attention to the needs of each client.

World-wide facilities in every department of banking

The BANK of NOVA SCOTIA

OVER A CENTURY OF BANKING SERVICE

Coast to Coast in Canada

NEWFOUNDLAND, JAMAICA, CUBA,
PUERTO RICO,
DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

NEW YORK, CHICAGO, BOSTON,
LONDON, ENGLAND

The Watchman and OTTAWA VALLEY ADVOCATE

Published at Lachute every Thursday
J. S. Giles, Editor & Proprietor

Subscription Rate per annum—
In Canada—$1.50.
In United States—$2.00.

Notices of Entertainment, Concerts,
Announcement, etc., 10 cents count
line. Minimum 50c.—if billed 60c.

Want and For Sale advertisements,
10 cents per count line, minimum 50c.
—if billed 60c.

If replies are directed to Watchman
Office 25c. extra charged.

Cards of Thanks, In Memoriam Notices, Births, Marriages and Deaths
50c. With each verse additional—25c.

Note:—When estimating, count
every six words or fraction thereof
as one line.

(Note:—All locals advertising any event from which there are financial proceeds will be charged at the above
rate.)

JUST A FAIRY STORY.

Robert Quillen in the Fountain
Inn Tribune

Ten men who were financiers, chipped in ten dollars each and bought a fine cow that gave ten gallons of milk every day.

The milk was divided at night and each man received one gallon as his share.

Soon the neighbors far and near heard about the wonderful cow and said to one another,
"Think of getting a whole gallon of milk every day. What a wonderful return on a ten-dollar investment. I wish I had a share in her."

When this talk was repeated to the ten men, they held a meeting and one of them said, "Let us give these people what they want. Our shares in the cow cost us ten dollars each, and we can sell other shares at the same price."

So they went to a printer and obtained one thousand sheets of paper bearing the legend: "One share in the cow." Then they sold 500 shares at $10 each, which brought them $5,000 and divided the other 500 among themselves as their reward of being smart.

Each man of the ten now had 51 shares, whereas in the beginning each had but one.

But one of the ten began to worry.

"Look here," he said, "Every fellow who bought a share in this cow will expect a gallon of milk tonight, and the cow gives only ten gallons. When the milk is divided into one thousand and ten parts these new shareholders won't get a spoonful. Shares will drop to nothing. We'd better unload while we can."

So the ten men went out on the street to find investors and each of them sold the fifty shares that had been awarded to him and thus they obtained a second $5,000 to divide among them.

But now night was drawing near and again one of the ten began to worry.

"There will be a row at milking time," said he. "Hasten abroad and persuade each of the shareholders to sign a proxy, which is a joker authorizing you to cast as you think best the vote to which his share entitles him.
Then return with the proxies and we shall do some voting."

At twilight the men met at the barn, and in their hands were 1,000 signed proxies to represent the absent shareholders.
And the ten were entitled to vote in their own right, for each still held his original share.

"Now," said the one who did the talking, "We must organize.
This company needs a president, a treasurer and eight vice-presidents. That gives each of us a job. And since there are ten of us and the cow ten gallons, it is moved and seconded that each of us receive a salary of one gallon of milk per day. All in favor say 'Aye.'"

The motion carried without a dissenting vote.

And then they milked the cow.

There are two times in a man's life when he should not speculate; when he can't afford it, and when he can.

—Mark Twain, 1835-1910

The Ottawa Spotlight By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, April 19th.—All eyes at Ottawa are turned to the forthcoming conferences at Washington and London in the hope that something will be devised to start Canada again on the road to prosperity.

The amount of work going on behind the scenes both at Ottawa and Washington suggests that Premier Bennett and President Roosevelt mean to talk turkey.
Premier Bennett has had a staff busy for several weeks drawing up proposals for a trade treaty with the United States and the American legation here has been studying the existing tariffs between the two countries forwards, backwards and upside down.

Semi-official reports, believed to be wholly accurate, say that President Roosevelt is prepared to offer valuable concessions, perhaps even free entry, for Canadian live cattle, fish and lumber.

In return the United States will ask Canada to remove the present arbitrary and uncertain dump duties and other an-noyances to the American exporter.

The United States also seeks more considerate treatment of American coal, steel, machinery, chemicals and a range of manufactured items.

In order for Canada to concede what the United States asks, some modification of the Ottawa agreements is necessary, according to informed American opinion, as reported here.

This can only be done by consent of all interested parties.

The fact that it was done in respect to a dozen items in the recent Rhodes budget shows that there is no insuperable obstacle along this line.

Every entry to the United States market for fish, lumber and cattle would prove of great benefit to nearly every province in Canada, say the trade experts here.

As many as 500,000 live cattle a year were at one time sold to the United States, but when the Hawley-Smoot rates were applied, running from $20. to $30. per animal, this trade fell at once to zero, or nearly so.

Two years ago exports of fresh and frozen fish to the U. S. ran over ten millions; last year this fell to $6,400,000.

Exports of unmanufactured or semi-manufactured lumber, which ran over 50 million dollars two years ago, were down to one-third last year.

In a word, any tariff changes which would restore the sales of these products to their old levels would mean many millions in the pockets of Canadian exporters, and would re-employ thousands of men in the fisheries, the lumber camps and on the ranches.

Farmer Cheated by Company?

The milk inquiry continues to furnish the most sensational news at the capital. A former book-keeper of a Montreal dairy company swore that by use of "fictitious" surplus, that is, giving only surplus price to farmers and then selling the milk to consumers at the regular rate, the company in the first nine months of 1931 had paid producers from 3c to 19c less per hundred pounds than the farmers were entitled to, and that in the one month of September, 1931, alone, this was equal to cheating the farmers out of $1,370.

W. H. Taylor (Lib. Norfolk-Elgin, told the committee he had been informed that the Borden Company of New York had telephoned its Canadian office to "clear all files" of evidence which might be damaging if brought out at the inquiry. Officials of the company were unable to throw any light on this alleged conversation.

The Borden subsidiary at Ottawa, a $1,700,000 company, has built up reserves of over two million dollars, of which $745,- 761. represents profits made in the past five years. The New York company owns all the stock and can at any time remove this profit surplus to the United

Ten Escape from Dwelling-house Fire Through Bedroom Window

EARLY MORNING BLAZE ON CHATHAM STREET

A fire in the early hours of this morning destroyed a house on Chatham Street, the property of Jas. Colford, occupied by Mr.
Jos. Poulin and family, when ten persons escaped in scanty attire through an upstairs window and onto the kitchen roof.

Fire Chief Deacon and his men were summoned at 1.40
a.m., and found the building completely ablaze; and connecting two hose lines with the fire truck pump, managed with difficulty to extinguish the blaze.
The house was completely gutted however, the property damage estimated at $2,000 at least. The brick walls and frame withstood the blaze. Mr. Colford, it is understood, has $1000 insurance on his property, and Mr. and Mrs. Poulin have $1000 on the furniture and effects, which were almost completely consumed. The latter suffered burns about the hands and face, in an effort to save a box of valuable papers from the burning kitchen.

The outbreak started downstairs, presumably from an overheated stove-pipe. A spark from the fire caught the shingle roof of the neighboring C. P. R.
tank, and the firemen had considerable difficulty in reaching it as the building was locked and the roof was inaccessible.

EINDRUDE AUS CANADA — IMPRESSIONS OF CANADA (Continued from page 1)

Even the farms are different; and journeying northward across the 49th. parallel, agriculture becomes imbued with an air of permanency. The worldly estates of the U. S. farmer suggest he may be prepared to transport his person and his properties elsewhere on short notice; but to the North, the agriculturist has settled with the permanency and solidity of his pioneer for-bears. Our farmers are an integral part of the population. But it is to be feared, according to this writer, the farmer below the line is underestimated; he is considered inferior to his more enterprising fellows who drift citywards in preference to tilling the humble soil.

The social equality of the French Revolution—was rather surprisingly lacking to our European visitor here in Canada.
There was a certain class distinction which reminded him again of his native territories; and equality of social status was more marked among the American people among whom he mixed. In one observation, too, he appears very emphatic. Citing a German proverb to the effect that it is "better to be a good servant than a bad king," he remarks that in all occupations the people here in Canada appeared satisfied with their lot, executing their tasks with quiet efficiency and no element of discontent. This fact impressed upon him as forcibly as any, a certain stability and soundness in our national affairs.

And with such vast characteristic differences between the two peoples—he concludes—there is little need for a more definite territorial division between Canada and her neighbor to the South!

—These unsolicited impressions will be acceptable to most Canadian readers. But in all fairness to our American cousins, it should be observed again, the comparison is based upon Old World conceptions of culture and character, rather than on modern standards of efficiency and progress.

SHERIFF'S SALE

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned
LANDS and TENEMENTS
have been seized, and will be sold at the respective times and places
mentioned below.

FIERI FACIAS DE BONIS ET DE TERRIS

Superior Court.
Canada,
Province of Quebec,
District of Terrebonne,
No. 4771.

CHARLES GUINDON, of Saint Joseph du Lac, district of Terrebonne, plaintiff; vs. ADE-LARD DENIS, of Saint Benoit, said district, defendant.

As belonging to the said defendant the following immove-
ables, to wit:

1. Those three lots of land situate in the parish of Saint Benoit, known and designated under numbers three hundred and thirty four, three hundred and forty eight and three hundred and fifty seven (334-348-

States, witnesses stated. Asked if he knew of any farmer in the Ottawa area who had built up any kind of a reserve by producing milk for them, the general manager of the Ottawa dairy admitted that he could not name any.

357) on the official plan and book of reference for the said parish—with the buildings thereon erected.

2. The West part of lot number two hundred and twenty six (W. Pt. 226) on the official plan and book of reference for Saint Placide, as described in the deeds registered in the Registry Office of the county of Two Mountains, under Nos. 37122
and 38075;

To be sold at the Catholic parochial church door of the parish of Saint Benoit, county of Two Mountains, District of Terrebonne, on the NINTH day of MAY, nineteen hundred and thirty three, at THREE o'clock in the afternoon.

J. W. CYR,
Sheriff's Office, Sheriff

—Mr. Lapierre has moved from his store adjoining the Liquor Commission to that of Mr.
Geoffroy Bedard, near the Bank of Nova Scotia, where he invites the public to visit him in his new quarters. With all jewelry, watches, rings and novelties marked down, this affords the public an opportunity of procuring some genuine bargains.

A SOLUTION TO YOUR REQUIREMENTS—
WATCHMAN WANT ADS.

$1. Excursion to Montreal

via C. P. R., $1.00 from Calumet, Grenville, Staynerville, Lachute

Saturday, 22nd. April

Good Going all Trains Saturday
Good to Return by all regular Trains up to and including Monday, April 24

Tickets on Sale—Town Agent, J. S. Giles or at local C. P. Depot.

AERONAUTICS

News-Snaps from the Flying World
J. CLAUDE ROBY

A re-union of war-time flyers is to be held in Montreal.
The air mail service between Rimousky and Montreal is to be renewed. The planes pick up the incoming mail on steamers at Rimousky and fly to Montreal, thus saving over 48 hours.

A steam-powered plane was successfully flown at Oakland, Calif., recently. A speed of over 100 m.h.p. was attained.

An emergency flight was made recently to Noranda, Que., when a miner was mutilated in a mine accident.

Maryse Hilz, French aviatrix, has completed her solo flight from Paris to Tokio in record time.

Flying operations have been suspended for a short while at Noranda, Que., and the planes are changing their skis, used for winter flying, to pontoons.

R. Rousseau of Callender, Ont., has made a successful flight in his home-made plane.
Rousseau received flight instructions in Toronto.

Amelia Earheart, U. S. avia-trix, has been awarded the French Harman International Trophy in recognition of her solo Atlantic flight.

Pennsylvania Airlines have announced the acquisition of a Stinson trimotor plane. This plane is the third to be added to the company's fleet in as many months.

Special Evangelistic Services in Lachute Baptist Church

The Rev. Wm. Fraser, of Windsor, Ont., a gifted and forceful speaker, is attracting large gatherings to the Baptist Church in a two weeks' series of Special Evangelistic Meetings.
A firm believer in the infallibility of the Word of God, Mr.
Fraser delivers his message in a fearless manner, and his topics subjects carry forceful conviction in their unfolding.

The meetings start at 8 o'clock each week-night evening except Saturday and on Sunday at 10 o'clock, when Mr. Fraser will speak on "The Power of His Name." Other subjects to be dealt with will be:—

The Only Solution to the Drink Problem.

God's Righteousness against Sin Righteousness.

The Devil's Last Throw.

Will God Hold Preachers Responsible for the Damning of Souls?

The Flood is a Fact! Is the Firm
a Myth?

Qualifications for New Testament Christians and Church Officers.

Why Trouble Comes.

The Rev. Mr. Dyson extends a warm welcome to all. Special singing adds to the enjoyment, so come to these meetings and bring a friend with you.

Buy Your Washer NOW --and get a set of Enamel Kitchenware FREE

As a special inducement to buy now, we are continuing our offer, announced last week, of a 10-piece set of porcelain enamel kitchenware (valued at $20.00) free with each washing machine purchased for $75.00 or over.
Call and see our large stock of washers and make your selection now.
Easy terms if desired.

Easy Terms Can Be Arranged

GATINEAU POWER CO.,

LACHUTE, QUE. RAWDON, QUE.

The Northern Electric Seal is a symbol of quality—a guarantee of fine materials and workmanship and perfect performance.

Wash and Wring at Same Time

The Northern Electric Model "B" Playmayd Washer is a wonderful time saver. Not only will it wash a batch of clothes in 8 minutes, but while the machine is washing the clothes, the wringer can be at work also—wringing the first batch dry while a new lot of clothes are being washed.

You will like the easy, silent, efficient operation of the Model "B". It takes every particle of dirt out of heavy garments or sheer lingerie—without the slightest injury to the fabric. Tub is porcelain enamelled, inside and out, and finished in beautiful light green mottled enamel.

Northern Electric
A.B.C. WASHERS

SUITS MADE TO ORDER FOR $20.50
TROUSERS $4.50

A large range of colours to choose from including blue and grey serge, brown stripe and grey stripe. Suits of better quality material made at very reasonable prices.

GEO. O. LICOP, TAILOR

49 Foundry Street, Lachute, Que.

Automobile Painting

Have it done properly, by CLAUDE St. JACQUES
43 Robert Street, Lachute

Carriage and Body Repairs,
Sign Lettering, Table-top refinishing in lacquer

Want Ads.

STORE TO RENT—On Main Street. Apply Mrs. R. Miller.

FOR RENT—Two Apartments of 7 rooms each, in the Assad Block, Main Street, heated, with bath and all modern conveniences. Apply Assad's Store, Main Street. X

WANTED—A second hand 22 Rifle in good condition. Apply to 22 Foundry St., Lachute after 6 p.m.

HOUSE TO RENT—On Bedford Boulevard, near corner of Bethany Street, a good brick dwelling with all modern conveniences, fireplace, garage, and outbuildings. Apply to S. Laurin, 71 Bethany Street, Lachute. A-28-4-p.

RELIABLE PARTY needed immediately to distribute Watkins 150 Famous Household and Farm necessities to established Rural trade. Car needed. Credit furnished. Apply quickly, J. R. Watkins Co., 940 Inspector St., Montreal, Dept. R-303. A-24-2-c.

TOWN COUNTRY, Big Pay, Cash Bonus, Taking orders, Highest quality Lowest Priced Shirts, Etc., Free Sales Kit. Uneeda Shirt Distributors, 370 Edmonton St., Winnipeg, Man. E. O. W. X

HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS FOR SALE—comprising 2 bedroom sets, Chesterfield suite, also flat top desk and Studebaker Roadster. Apply to G. M. Smith, Brownsburg.

FARM TO RENT—Four miles from Lachute, on highway, consisting of 100 acres, large brick house and outbuildings with stock and implements. Rent reasonable to responsible party. For full particulars apply to Mrs. D. Cleland, 50 Robert St., Lachute.

HOUSES TO LET—On Boulevard Bedard, all with modern conveniences. Apply G. Bedard, Main St., Lachute. X.

FOR SALE—Three Pure Bred Ayrshire Calves (bull), one yearling—also a wire-wheeled rubber-tired buggy in good condition. Apply Watchman Office. A-20-1-p.

FOR SALE—Two ladies' spring and fall coats, sizes 38 & 40. Good as new. No reasonable offer refused. Phone 27, The Watchman Office. A-20-1-c.

GARAGE TO RENT—Dry, in good repair, easily accessible. Apply Louis Lafleur, Foundry St.

WANTED—Small summer hotel, tearoom, or summer resort. Will rent or operate on percentage basis. State location. Box M., 600, Watchman Office.

TO LET—7 roomed house with modern convenience, No. 14 Clyde St., Centre Ward. Apply James Catton, 83 Robert St. A-26-1-p.

WANTED—LUMBER
Dry Pine 1"—1½" & 2"
Dry Basswood 1"—1½"
Dry Spruce 2x5—2x6—2x8.
—Write stating price, quality etc., to Box C., 600, Watchman Office, Lachute.

Coming Events.

The Popular St. Simeon's Players will present the sensational Farce, "THE ADVENTURES OF GRANDPA," (3-act Comedy) At the Auditorium, Friday, May 12th., 1933 Orchestra.

Concert
Concert by St. Andrews Ladies' Choral and Dramatic Society, Tuesday evening, April 25th., at 8.15 in the Town Hall, St. Andrews East. Admission Adults 40c.; Children 25c. A-21-2-c.

St. Simeon's Club
A meeting of St. Simeon's Club in the form of a social evening will be held in McArthur's Hall on Monday evening, April 24th., at 8 o'clock.

I.O.O.F. Anniversary
Laurentian Lodge, No. 14, I.O.O.F., are observing the 114th. Anniversary of the Order in a Lodge Room Celebration on Tuesday next at 8 p.m. Annual Church Service will be observed at the Lachute United Church on Sunday, April 30th., at 11 a.m. Daylight Saving Time.

MEETING TO FORM SOFTBALL CLUB

Tomorrow, Friday, a meeting will be held at 8.15 p.m. in Abraham's Store, Main Street, for the purpose of organizing a local Softball Club, electing officers, etc. All those interested in the sport are invited to attend.

—Protect your home at small cost by putting a chain guard on your door. We have them.

T. McOuat & Son
Miss Hazel Leishman, of Quyon, Que., and Miss Bernice Macdonald, of St. Canute, spent the Easter holidays as guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leishman.

Mrs. P. A. Lafleur and Mr. Lionel Lafleur, of Montreal, were visitors at the latter's parents, on Good Friday.

—Treats in store for Rex Theatre goers. "The Mummy," appearing tomorrow and Saturday, is an uncanny and gripping production. Eddie Cantor, coming May 7th., in the Kid from Spain at regular Rex prices. Rasputin and the Empress and also The White Sister, two big attractions, will appear in the near future. Don't miss these exceptional bookings.

You don't have to live in Boulogne to talk baloney any more than you have to be a corpse to enjoy Chopin's Funeral March.

—Blotter Jottings.

If wives only knew what stenographers really thought of their husbands, they'd quit worrying.

—"Saturday Evening Post."

Town Locals.

Miss Nellie Laurin visited friends in Montreal over the week-end.

Miss Katharine Giles spent the week-end in Montreal, visiting friends.

Mrs. Crompt, of Montreal, is spending this week in town, the guest of Mrs. S. Goldsworthy.

Rev. H. Cousens is spending a few days in Toronto this week, attending a meeting of the Presbytery.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Black, of Lachute, spent Easter Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Leishman.

Miss Westley and Mr. R. Woods, of Montreal, were Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stansfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Finlay of Montreal, were in town for Easter, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Creswell.

Miss Gladys Cruise, of Montreal, is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cruise.

Mr. Dudley Collins, of Melbourne, Ont., is paying an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Goldsworthy.

Mr. Hugh Gall of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, is spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gall.

Mr. Wilson Gall and Miss L. Miller, of McGill University, are spending the Easter holidays at their homes here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Labelle and Miss Dorothy Labelle were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Robinson for Easter week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Brown and Miss Reta Brown also Bobby and Lois Brown, of Montreal, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Robinson, Easter week-end.

Mr. Wm. Campbell left on Monday for Vancouver and Victoria and expects to spend the summer months at Preston, B. C.

Messrs. Perley and Harry Murdoch also the Misses Jessie, Bessie and Kathleen Murdoch motored to Breckenridge on Sunday.

Miss J. Murdoch, of Breckenridge, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Murdoch, spent a few days in Montreal last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. McArthur and daughter June, Miss Willow Lavery, and Mr. Robt. McArthur motored to Ottawa, and spent the week-end with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Adi Fassio, of Montreal, were week-end visitors with their father and brother in town.

BIRTH

FULLER—On April 17th., to Mr. and Mrs. Irving Fuller, a son.

DEATHS

DOIG—At Lachute, Que., on Tuesday, April 18th., William Doig, in his 68th. year.

CUMMINGS—At Grenville, Que., April 19th., Thomas A. Cummings, in his 83rd. year. Funeral on Friday, April 21, at 2.30 p.m.

IN MEMORIAM

ASHE—In loving memory of a dearly beloved wife, Cecelia Delavigne, who passed away on April 17th., 1930. Greatly missed by her many friends and ever remembered by her sorrowing husband.

BEERS—In loving memory of my dear sister Lila, who passed away April 25th., 1930. She had a smile that everyone loved. A heart as good as gold To those who knew and loved her. Her memory will never grow old. Jessie Though your smile is gone forever, And your hand we cannot touch, We will never lose sweet memories Of one we loved so much. Parents and family.

THOS. A. CUMMINGS, WAS VETERAN OF NILE EXPEDITION

(Continued)

eight chosen by the British Government four were from Canada and four from the United States. They were chosen because of their experience in navigating rivers abounding with rapids, such as were found on the Nile.

Captain Cummings was born at Grenville in November, 1850. While still a young man he took a position as purser of the steamer, "Canada" which ran between Ottawa and Whitehall, N. Y. Some years later he became captain of the same steamer and in later years commanded several other steamers on the Ottawa.

When the British Government was looking for steamer captains to go to Egypt, he and Capt. Williamson, of Grenville, were highly recommended by the late Capt. Bowie, then officer commanding the old steamer "Empress" which ran between Ottawa and Montreal. Shortly before he left for Egypt, Capt. Cummings married Miss Robins Leroy, of Grenville, daughter of the late Orron Leroy, pioneer Ottawa River pilot and lumberman. His wife died in 1926.

He was decorated by the British Government and the Khedive of Egypt for the part he played in the Gordon Relief Expedition. The medal received from the Khedive was made from a captured cannon.

While in Egypt, Capt. Cummings piloted a steamer from Wady Halfa to Kartoum and during his service there he became acquainted with the late Lord Kitchener who led the relief forces. Capt. Cummings frequently spoke of Lord Kitchener to whom he referred as a "splendid soldier."

Following the relief of Gordon, the British Government urged Capt. Cummings to remain in Egypt, and offered to bring his family out from Grenville. He preferred however, to return to Canada.

Surviving him are two sons, Harry Cummings, of Hibbing, Minnesota, and John I. Cummings, of the Department of Public Works, Ottawa; and three daughters, Miss Bessie Cummings at home; Rhoda, Mrs. R. Allingham, of New York City; and Mildred, Mrs. (Dr.) O. A. Lefebvre, of Montreal.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at Grenville, and burial will be in the family plot of the old cemetery there. While it has not been definitely announced, it is understood that the members of the Masonic Order in the district will conduct a service.

A fair attendance at the Rex children's matinee on Easter Monday enjoyed Tom Mix in an exciting Western and the inimitable Fairbanks in Mr. Robinson Crusoe. Parents will appreciate Mr. Fassio's trouble and effort to secure this latter picture in time for the children, showing it in preference to a Racketeer thriller which was on the regular bill.

I have no property, I owe a great deal; the rest I give to the poor.

Francois Rabelais, 1495-1553

Automobile Insurance

LOWEST RATES
HIGHEST SERVICE

Special Farmers' Policy

Ernest Deslauriers,
32 Grace St. Phone 180.
Lachute, Que.

REX THEATRE

April 21—22

"The Mummy"

IT COMES TO LIFE

With Karloff the Unkanny, supported by Zita Johann, David Manners, and many other well-known screen stars.

Com: "Niagara Falls"

Cartoon: "Silvery Moon"

Also News Reel

Saturday Matinee 3 p.m. 25c.

April 23-24

John Gilbert, Robt. Armstrong, Mae Clarke in

"Fast Workers"

And on the same program:

TOM KEEN in

"Beyond the Rockies"

A blazing drama of the Raw Frontier. It's a heart-thumping action tale.

Cartoon: "The Last Mail"

Sunday Matinee 3 p.m. 25c.

April 25-26-27

The Epic Thriller!

Too Big For Words!

"Air Mail"

Different from any Air Picture ever produced with Ralph Bellamy, Gloria Stuart, P. O'Brien, L. Bond and Slim Summerville. Com: "Micky the Ape Man"

Cartoon: "Happy Hoboes"

April 28-29

"What Price Hollywood"

with Music, Song and Dance and cast of well-known favorites Saturday Matinee 3 p.m. 25c.

Coming Attractions:

"The Kid from Spain"

"Rasputin and the Empress"

"The White Sister", Etc.

Now on Display at our Showrooms THE NEW FORD V-8

The roomiest and most powerful Ford car ever built. 112 inch wheelbase—bodies are wider and nearly 12 inches longer. 75 horsepower engine. Over 80 miles an hour. New all-aluminum cylinder head, giving more power, smoothness and economy.

Complete details now available at our Showrooms

You are cordially invited to call in and LOOK IT OVER.

GEO. Y. DEACON, Ford Dealer

PHONE NO. 26. LACHUTE MILLS, QUE.

Spring is Here!

—with those Housecleaning and Decorating jobs; with the joys of gardening; with the "touching up" of your automobile and property; building, etc.

Phone us at 12J, and we will help you in selecting the most serviceable tools and household aids.

T. McOuat & Son

For Prompt Delivery

SPRING SPECIALS!

Great variety of all new goods in Ladies' & Gents' Suits & Coats.

150 Ladies' Dresses, reg. $6.75 for $3.95

50 Ladies' Coats, pure wool tweed, latest styles at $7.95

Men's Suits (all wool serge) different shades and 2 pairs of pants for $14.95

A visit to our store will ensure you real satisfaction.

ASSALY'S

Main St., next to Rex Theatre.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
© 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for April 30

JESUS SETS NEW STANDARDS OF LIVING (Stewardship Lesson)

LESSON TEXT—Mark 10:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. Luke 6:31.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus and the Children.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Choosing Time.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Making the Right Choice.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—All for Christ.

1. Concerning Marriage (vv. 1-12). The question touching divorce which the Pharisees temptingly put to Christ brought forth teaching which exhibits marriage in its true light.

1. Marriage should not be degraded by divorce (vv. 1-5). Marriage was instituted by God and was intended to be indissoluble. Moses suffered divorce, limited and regulated it. Its existence indicates the coarseness and perverseness of man. Its real cause is sin. Perhaps the most outstanding evidence of the blighting effects of sin is seen in the increasing number of divorces.

2. Marriage God's primal law (vv. 6-8). The ideal law of life for the subjects of Christ's kingdom is marriage. This is proved by the fundamental fact of sex. "God made them male and female." (v. 6). The union of the male and female natures is physical, mental, and spiritual. In marriage the male and female natures are mutually complemented—"They twain shall be one flesh; so then they are no more twain, but one flesh" (v. 8).

3. Marriage has God's sanction (v. 9). When God created Eve and brought her unto Adam, he declared that man should leave his father and mother and cleave unto his wife and that they shall be one flesh. God performed the first marriage ceremony.

4. Remarriage of the divorcer is adultery (vv. 10-12). The marriage relation can only be dissolved by death and sin. Marriage is for life. Divorce for other than marital infidelity does not give the right to remarriage.

14. Concerning Children (vv. 13-16). The union of the male and female natures according to God's primal law of marriage, lays the foundation for family life. The normal issue of such union is children. It was fitting that Jesus in connection with the divine law of marriage should set forth his estimate of children. Christian men and women will regard children as the property of the Lord and will esteem it a high and holy privilege to train them for him. Observe:

1. Children brought for the touch of Jesus (v. 13).

2. Parents rebuked by the disciples for bringing their children (v. 13).

3. Jesus' reply (vv. 14, 15).

a. "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God" (v. 14).

b. "Whoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein" (v. 15).

4. Jesus' action (v. 16). He took the children up in his arms and blessed them. Where Christ rules, childhood is sacred.

111. Concerning Riches (vv. 17-31).

1. The young ruler's question (v. 17). This young man was in earnest. He came running and kneeled to Jesus. He was a young man with a lovable personality. Jesus loved him. While moral, earnest, and courageous, he had a defective theology. He thought that eternal life could be obtained by good works.

2. Jesus' reply (vv. 18-20). He put his finger on the weak spot in the young man's life. He knew that possessions gripped his heart, revealing the fact that he was a covetous man, a violator of the tenth commandment.

3. Lacking one thing, and yet lost (vv. 21, 22). When the Lord pointed out to him that the love of money was the defect of his life, he chose wealth rather than Christ, and perhaps parted company with the Lord forever.

4. The peril of riches (vv. 23-27). Jesus said, "How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!" Discerning the astonishment of the disciples he said further, "How hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!" The difficulty does not lie in the fact that a man possesses riches, but that riches possess him. Wealth is a mighty power and in itself is good. It will provide bread for the hungry, and send the Gospel to the ends of the earth. It is a short step from the possession of riches to trusting in them.

The Best Proof

The best evidence of the inspiration of the Word of God is found in the word itself. When studied, loved, obeyed, and trusted, it never disappoints, never misleads, never fails. It satisfies.—J. Hudson Taylor.

The Noblest Life

The noblest life is to live as his children that we may reveal to others the blessings of his presence, his guidance and his peace.—Thomas J. Garland.

Dancing Advocated as Remedy for Human Ills

Not infrequently the alleged "quack" of one generation finds justification in the next, and the recommendation of dancing as a cure for mental and physical ill is so cautious a scientist as Sir Arthur Keith may rehabilitate the memory of Donald McAlpin, who a century ago set up as a healer by dancing a strathspey. (Eng.) Guardian.

A shepherd and a famous dancer, Donald was reputed to have cured his mistress of a mysterious malady by dancing a reel with her, and this story being noised abroad his cottage was besieged by crowds of sick folk who hoped to rid their ailments by persuading him to dance with them.

Donald, whether he believed in his own power or not, was shrewd enough to take advantage of such a stroke of luck. He engaged an ancient piper as assistant, and between them the pair evolved a course of dancing treatment for almost every ill to which the flesh is heir, establishing an extensive practice from which, for a time, they derived a considerable income. The doctors, of course, denounced him as a charlatan, but it seems just possible that he hit on a real remedy for certain troubles.

Ruins of "Great Wall" in the Peruvian Andes

Like China, Peru once had a great wall—the "great wall of Peru." This wall was revealed in photographs of remote sections of the Peruvian Andes taken by the Shippee-Johnson aerial expedition. They reported the great wall as being near Huancayo along the ridge of the Andes east of Lima, Peru. As usual there is a good deal of skepticism regarding the authenticity of the find. But Philip A. Means, archeologist and author of "Ancient Civilization of the Andes," says these ruins are probably those of a long boundary wall built by the ancient Chancas in their fruitless effort against the powerful Incas. He thinks it possibly dates back to the Eleventh century. Mr. Means points out that similar walls have been found in other sections of the Peruvian Andes although they have not been so large as that reported by the Shippee-Johnson bunch.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Beautiful Brioni Isles

Little as we may know in America of Yugoslavia, we should always associate with that little known land, the lovely Brioni Isles. They have broken into the newspapers recently because of the death there of Karl Kuppelwieser, whose family made these islands the paradise of the Adriatic, which was sought out by royalty and by the modern notables from George Bernard Shaw to Eugene Tunney. They were malaria-infested islands when Kuppelwieser bought them 25 years ago, but today they are noted for their freedom from mosquitoes. The late Archduke Ferdinand wanted to buy them, but they were not for sale. Ask any tourist who loves the Adriatic and he will say, go to the Isles of Brioni.

Ancient Egyptian Headdress

The Horus headdress for Egyptian women came into use in the Ptolemaic times. Originally, in the earlier history of Egypt, it was customary for a king to have his statue modeled with a hawk back of him showing the protection of the god Horus. Later, Isis, the wife of the god Osiris, was sometimes shown with wings of a hawk, a sacred bird of Egypt. A large figure of the goddess would have the wings like long arms protecting a small mortal standing in front of her. As time passed this was abbreviated into a headdress worn by women of the royal family.

Cuban "Santa Claus"

The Day of the Three Kings, January 6, is the great boys' and girls' day in Cuba. That is when the presents come. It is the Three Kings bearing gifts they picture in their minds for days ahead.

The toys may not be fine. They may be only little carts made from pieces of packing box board, or doll chairs, cradles, etc. These are oddly painted.

Children come first in the Cuban family. Cuban parents will even make personal sacrifices in order that the children may have gifts and playthings.

His Comment

They were spending a holiday in Morocco.

"Think, Ernest," she said. "Supposing brigands should come now and take me from you?"

"Impossible, my dear," her husband assured her.

"But if they did come and carry me away, what would you say?" she insisted.

"I should say the brigands were new to the game—that's all," he replied.

Columbus

Though there has been much recent questioning as to his ancestry and birthplace, most biographers agree that he was born at Genoa, Italy, about 1451 and was the son of a wool-comber and weaver, Domenico Colombo, whose family had lived in Italy for generations. He kept a journal or diary of his voyage, the original of which has disappeared, but an abridgment of it is to be found in his biographies.

Hints for Homebodies

Specially written for Readers of The Watchman.
By JESSIE ALLAN BROWN

WATCHFUL WAITING

My desk is at a sunny South window and is a favorite place for the cat to sleep. Sometimes she generously allows me to use the desk, but other days there is a continuous struggle. To-day has been just one of those days. I have been trying to work all morning but there has been a series of interruptions. If it wasn't the door-bell it was the telephone. Then there was food in the oven and I had to keep an eye on it. The cat just waited ready to jump the minute I moved. The very second I left my chair she made for it and before I could turn around, was up on the desk. Each time I came back she had to be forcibly ejected. Talk about watchful waiting! This line finishes my work for this morning so she may have it for all of me.

ROLLS

We are accustomed to getting good rolls and buns from our bakers, but there is just something about good home-made rolls that makes them a treat to most people. Really, they are not so much work at that. The recipe which follows is the easiest I have ever used, and I believe it makes a nicer roll than any I have made before.

The first time I used it, the rolls were like the proverbial feather, and to tell the truth, I guess I was a bit puffed up over them. We were having guests and the family suggested more rolls, so I very willingly complied. Pride goeth before a fall. The first rolls were parker house and were of course separated in the pan. The next lot were close together, and I made the fatal mistake of cooking them at as high a temperature and for the same length of time as the parker house. They looked to be sufficiently cooked and I took them out of the oven. Unfortunately, I did not take them out of the pan myself. When we went to eat them, we found them a doughy mass, and not nearly cooked. We managed to eat a layer off the top and bottom and left the heavy centre. That lesson is well impressed on my memory—rolls cooked close together require longer to cook, than those that are separated.

To make the rolls, combine 2 cups scalding milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, and 3 tablespoons shortening (I prefer butter). Cool until lukewarm. Meanwhile soften 2 cakes compressed yeast in 1/4 cup lukewarm water, add 1 teaspoon sugar. When the milk mixture has cooled, stir in the yeast. Next add 2 beaten eggs and 4 cups bread flour. Beat this thoroughly. Add 3 cups bread flour and as much more as can be stirred in without kneading. Usually the 3 cups is sufficient. Brush the mixture over with melted fat, cover tightly and store in the refrigerator until ready for use. This mixture will keep for days and may be made into rolls as required. If I wish to make up the rolls the same day, I usually let it stand in the refrigerator for an hour at least.

To make into rolls, roll out on a lightly floured board to thickness of 1/2 inch. Cut with a biscuit cutter the desired size. From there on they may be finished in several ways. If you want a bun shape into a ball and put them close together in the pan. If you wish a crustier roll shape into a ball and put into muffin tins. To make parker-house rolls cut with biscuit cutter and make a crease slightly on one side of the centre, with the back of a knife, brush the edge of the roll with a little melted fat, and fold over the larger side on the shorter, pressing the edges firmly together. Arrange in a pan about two inches apart. Cover the rolls with a towel and let rise in a warm place from 2 to 3 hours, and bake in a hot oven of 425 degrees from 10 to 15 minutes. Bake slightly longer if the rolls are close together. The rolls should rise at a temperature of from 75 to 85 degrees. I have found that at a temperature of 85 degrees the rolls had doubled their bulk in 2 hours time, and were lighter than when risen at a lower temperature and for a longer time. The use of a thermometer is a great help. When the rolls are removed from the oven brush the tops with melted butter.

You will notice that in this recipe, it is not necessary to let the dough rise until double in bulk and then to cut it down before forming into rolls, and there is no kneading. If you are not accustomed to working with yeast, there is only one thing to watch, and that is that yeast must never be put into a hot liquid or the yeast will be killed and will not grow to lighten the dough. Watch carefully that all liquid is lukewarm. A good test is to drop some on your wrist and if it does not feel hot, you are safe in using it. This recipe is so simple that I hope it may tempt some who have never made rolls before to try it. The dough may be made into rolls as required but I find it less trouble to make them all up at once, and freshen them by putting them in the oven for a few minutes before serving.

THREE EGG SPONGE CAKE

3 egg yolks
1 1/4 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups cake flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
2-3 cup warm water
3 egg whites

Beat egg yolks until lemon colored, add sugar gradually, beating well at each addition. Sift flour before measuring, then add baking powder and cream of tartar. Add water and sifted dry ingredients alternately. Fold in the beaten egg white and pour in a greased paper lined pan. Bake in a moderate oven of 325 degrees from forty to fifty minutes. This batter is very thin and a pan eight by twelve inches is a suitable size. This is a very inexpensive cake with eggs at their present price and keeps well.

"Oh no, dear. I'm sure he's a kind man. I just heard him say he put his shirt on a horse which was scratched."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE WEEKLY EXCERPT

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 23rd.

The Golden Text is: (Matthew 24: 13) "He that shall endure unto the end the same shall be saved."

The following passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope." (1 Thessalonians 4: 13).

"Every mortal at some period, here or hereafter, must grapple with and overcome the mortal belief in a power opposed to God." "Earth's preparatory school must be improved to the utmost." "Death will be found at length to be a mortal dream, which comes in darkness and disappears with the light."

Service is a By-Word

at this up-to-date
Filling Station

Bring your Car for general Service—Oiling, Tire Inspection, Greasing, and Refilling Crank Case, Gear Box and Transmission to suit the season and temperature

YOUR CAR DESERVES EXPERT ATTENTION

We invite old friends and new, to take advantage of our Service in the interests of a successful motoring season.

Tires, Gasoline, Grease & Oils

MUIR BROTHERS

MAIN STREET, LACHUTE

★ ★ AN EASY WAY OUT OF A MEAN JOB ★ ★

Stains flush off with Gillett's Lye . . .

ONCE a week just pour Gillett's Lye—full strength—down your toilet bowls and drains. It removes all stubborn stains without hard scrubbing and rubbing. Cannot harm enamel, is non-injurious to plumbing. Kills germs and banishes odors, too.

Keep a solution of Gillett's Pure Flake Lye on hand for all your household cleaning. One teaspoonful dissolved in a quart of cold water makes a safe, economical cleanser. Use it for greasy pots and pans, the kitchen floor, sinks and bathtubs.

And be sure to get the genuine Gillett's Pure Flake Lye. Order a tin today. Ask for it by name at your grocer's.

GILLETT'S LYE

Free Booklet

The Gillett's Lye Booklet tells you how to use this powerful cleanser and disinfectant for domestic heavy cleaning jobs.

Also contains full directions for soap making, disinfecting and other uses. Ask for free Standard Brand Lye Booklet, Fraser Avenue & Lachute Street, Toronto, Ontario.

* Never dissolve in hot water. The heat of the lye itself melts the water.

EATS DIRT

Give your Watch a Chance

All machinery, especially the light, delicate mechanism of a watch, needs a good cleaning and overhauling occasionally.

Now is a good time. The cost of repairs was never cheaper. And in slack seasons like the present, more time and care can be given to each individual watch or clock. Also it will be repaired and returned to you more promptly.

We are using the most modern and greatly improved methods of watch repairing, which will certainly prolong the life and usefulness of your watch.

F. E. Earle Jeweller, Main Street, Lachute

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired. Broken lenses repaired.

How about that new Sink or Bath Room?

Prices on Request.

R. McArthur & Son

Phone 172 w.

144 Main Street

Are you a Coupon Clipper ?

The difference between a hair-dresser and a sculptor is that a hairdresser curls up and dyes, while the sculptor makes faces and busts.

BUSINESS CARDS

M. A. BELANGER
Jeweller.

Bethany St., Lachute.
Wide and Up-to-date Choice of
GIFTS and JEWELRY
Quick Service on Watchmaking
and Jewelry Repairs

MISS M. V. SLATER

Wedding Gifts of Taste
Watch, Clock and Jewelry repairs
Jewelry, Silverware, Cut Glass,
French Ivory Watches and Clocks
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

Bring your Radio troubles to

LACHUTE RADIO
SALES & SERVICE
Radio Supplies. Free Tube Testing
Prompt and Efficient Service
W. J. DOIG
271 Main St. Phone 820.

H. LACHANCE

Expert in welding of all metals.
Shop in the C. P. R. yard, Lachute,
equipped for all kinds of work,
including Cog and Gear rebuilding, Auto Body, and Mud-Guard
repairing, Painting, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed.

If you have any plastering

work to be done,
See
J. R. A. CARIGNAN
145 Princess St., Lachute.
Tel. 121 r 3.

LACHUTE MARBLE

AND GRANITE WORKS
We deal in Foreign and Domestic Marble and Granite, first class
work and the best material, in all
latest designs, always on hand.
Satisfaction guaranteed in all kinds
of Cemetery Work, Monuments or Headstones.
W. M. Scott, Proprietor.

INTERIOR DECORATING

Painting, paperhanging, and decorating. Estimates given on all work if desired, also agent for Empire Wall Paper, at very moderate
prices. Complete line of 1932
samples. Book of two hundred
to choose from.

R. N. MOORE,
225 Main Street, Lachute.

FLOWERS! FLOWERS!

Orders filled on Short Notice
Bouquets, Wreaths, Sprays Etc.
FOR ALL OCCASIONS
Delivered to Any Ship in Montreal
Dock, or to any hospital, free
of charge

Order from
MADAME A. FASSIO
Phone 344. 225 Main St.

LACHUTE

BOARD OF TRADE

Meets last Thursday of
Every Month

J. W. Gall, President,
J. S. Giles, Secretary

LACHUTE EXPRESS

PHONES: Lachute 348j or 348w.
Montreal, Marquette 3966 or 7293

Daily Service between Lachute
and Montreal.

All loads fully insured.

Montreal Warehouse:
Care of J. B. BAILLARGEON,
8 Queen Street.

N. W. BOYD, Prop.

Try us for service.
68 Robert Street, Lachute, Que.
Residence: 89 Robert Street.

SPENCER GARMENTS

Individually Designed
for Figure Correction, Style Health & Comfort

Represented by
GLADYS M. DRAPER, R.N.

342 Main St., Lachute
Phone 250.

The Unusual Visitor

By Edgar A. Guest

He dropped into my office with a grin upon his face,
He talked about the weather and the college football race.
He asked about the family and told the latest joke
But never mentioned any one who had suddenly gone broke.

He talked of books and pictures and the play he'd been to see.

Clever quip his boy had made he passed along to me.
He praised the suit of clothes I wore and asked me what it cost

But he never said a word about the money he had lost.

He was with me twenty minutes, chuckling gayly while he stayed

O'er the memory of some silly blunder he had made.

He reminded me that tulips must be planted in the Fall.

But calamity and tragedy, he mentioned not at all.

I thought it rather curious when he had come and gone.

He must have had some tale of woe, but didn't pass it on.

For nowadays it seems to me that every man I meet

Has something new in misery and moaning to repeat.

So I dedicate these lines to him who has his share of woe

But still could talk of other things and let his troubles go.

I was happier for his visit in a world that's sick with doubt,

'Twas good to meet a man who wasn't spreading gloom
about.

MODERN BEATITUDES.

Blessed is the man whose calendar contains prayer meeting nights.

Blessed is the man who is faithful on a committee.

Blessed is the man who will not strain at a drizzle and swallow a downpour.

Blessed is the man who can endure an hour and a quarter in a place of worship as well as two hours and a half in a place of amusement.

Blessed is the man who is generous to his neighbor in all things except the application of the sermon.

Blessed is the man whose watch keeps church-time as well as business time.

Blessed is the man whose loyalty to his church is superior to his "itching ears."

SUPERIOR
COUNTER
CHECK BOOKS
CARBON LEAF
CARBON BACK
STYLES
ORDERS TAKEN
AT THIS OFFICE

WATCHMAN OFFICE

Better Cooked Foods WITH THE NEW

Coleman Safety Instant-Gas

The Modern Stove for Rural Homes!

Have downy angel food cakes,
Parker House Rolls, tea biscuits,
delicious meats... better foods
of all kinds... in the "flavor-saving" Coleman oven! The new Instant-Gas Stove with its marvelous features, makes it easy to cook foods in a more appetizing
way. Lights like gas... instantly.
Cooks like gas... makes and burns
its own gas from regular gasoline.

MODEL No. 932
with Concealed Fuel Tank
and Cream-Green Ripple-tone finish.

MODEL No. 902
Standard Range finished
in snow-white porcelain.

MODEL No. 974
Sturdy Utility Stove with 1 burner. Brown finish.

Handsome new models with concealed fuel tanks; glistening
porcelain finish in the new Rippletone effect; new and beautiful colors. They set the pace in style as well as mechanical perfection. Various models to suit
every cooking need.

The Instant-Gas is the safe,
dependable, economical stove.
It's ready... instantly for any cooking job. And it's a real money saver... average fuel cost per meal for a family of five is only 2¢. Be sure to see these new modern stoves that put an end to cooking drudgery. They make cooking an easier, pleasanter task.

ASK YOUR LOCAL DEALER

or write to

THE COLEMAN LAMP & STOVE CO., Ltd.
TORONTO, 8, ONTARIO

(SR-12X)

Current Notes of Municipal Interest

Three Rivers Seeking Grant

A delegation from the city of Three Rivers waited on Premier Taschereau recently, and asked for a grant of $100,000 towards the cost of celebrating the 300th birthday of that city. A similar request is being made upon Ottawa. . .
Mr. Taschereau promised consideration.

Chicago May Name Successor to Late Mayor Cermak

The State House of Representatives has granted Chicago city council power to name a successor to the late Mayor Anton J. Cermak, whose term expires in 1935. The House passed, at the insistence of Governor Henry Horner, an emergency bill allowing the council to elect one of its members or an outsider to the mayor's chair.

Montreal's Big Undertaking

Digging up a city park, building a 400,000-000-gallon reservoir in the hole, then putting the park back on top of the big tank is a project which commences with approval by the Legislature of an $850,000 special loan for the Montreal Water Board.

The "Perfect Town" for 1932

Last year Banner Elk, N.C. did not spend a cent for work relief, see a business house fail, a foreclosure, or any person arrested for a misdemeanor or crime. In fact, it was the fourth year the policeman failed to make an arrest.
Neither has a business failed nor a foreclosure been made in four years. The town finished the year with no indebtedness, had a surplus in the treasury, and saw the city council lower taxes from 40 to 10 cents. The treasury balance? About $3.

Westmount (Que.) Police Chief Honored

Chief William Wren, head of the Westmount police and fire departments, was presented with a pair of fieldglasses in a handsome leather case by a number of friends in commemoration of the thirty-fifth anniversary of his entry in the Westmount police and fire departments.

150 Jobless Evicted in Vancouver

More than 150 persons were evicted from furnished apartments following action taken by members of the Lodging and Restaurant Keepers' Association when the city refused to pay higher rentals.

Promptly at noon, March 20, set as a deadline for action from the city, house-keeping rooms of 70 families were padlocked. Throughout the afternoon and evening landlords in other apartment houses followed a similar course and by nightfall more than 150 persons crowded city relief offices seeking shelter.

Relief Committee Member Murdered in Illinois

John Ward, member of the West Frankfort, Ill., relief committee, who had been active in prosecuting 25 persons receiving public aid while they had bank balances, was shot and killed by several men who fired at him from an automobile and drove away.

Relief Not Repayable

Persons in receipt of relief are not expected to make any restitution for any monies or goods that they may receive; nor are towns and villages expected to reimburse the government for expenditures. This statement was made by Premier Henry in the Ontario Legislature when it was discovered that a certain town had been in the habit of making recipients of relief sign a promise of repayment when possible.

Veteran Fire Chief Retires

One of the most useful servants of the public is the fireman—comments the editor of Montreal Gazette—and the chief who directs the work of the department is an important official indeed. Especially is this the case in a big city, where the safety of life and property frequently depends on the quickness with which the firemen respond to the alarm. In London, Mr. Arthur Reginald Dyer, the chief officer of the Fire Brigade, is due for retirement and the newspapers have been publishing tributes to him. Mr.
Dyer is but 55 years of age, but he has completed over twenty-eight years' service in fighting fires, and has held the position of chief officer since June 1919. One newspaper account says that he was born with a zest for fire-fighting in his veins. His father, who was a keen volunteer fireman, was one of the founders of the National Fire Brigade Association, and up to the time of his death was chief officer of the fire brigade at Alton, Hants. It was natural, with this paternal example before him, that the son should also take to the business of fighting fires, which is an exciting enough career even in ordinary circumstances. Mr. A. R. Dyer, who was appointed as assistant divisional officer of the London Fire Brigade in 1904, and promoted divisional officer in 1909, has had his share of excitement, for he has been near death on at least two occasions. Once he was buried under falling debris, which caused fatal injuries to a brigade superintendent, and again in a big fire at Whitechapel in January, 1912, when he sustained a fractured skull. For days his conditions were critical and the King was among those who made solicitous inquiries. When he first joined the service there was one motor appliance; now there are some 200, including 87 motor pumps, 75 motor escapes and ten turntable ladders, or water towers.
He has seen the horses disappear to make way for complete motorization. Now he himself voluntarily makes way for younger men.
Chief Dyer is entitled to his pension and to the praises that the public is according him. Peacetime heroes deserve such recognition.

VICTORIA COUNCIL AND THE PRESS

At the regular meeting of the Council in Victoria, B. C., Alderman J. D. Hunter moved for a "camera" discussion, and Ald. Williams flatly opposed it, as did also Ald. McGavin, who said:

"The camera meetings I've seen since I came on this council have been a joke. What is the use anyway, when everything becomes public in the papers next day. We had a meeting here last Friday that was supposed to be in camera, and it was all in the papers next morning."

"It was in the paper the same afternoon," interjected Alderman Williams. "When I left the meeting I read all about it in the Times."

"Well, I'm on record against excluding the press and the public," said Alderman McGavin.

Alderman W. D. Todd said any reasonable person realized that some matters of civic business should be dealt with in camera.

"As far as the meeting last Friday is concerned we might just as well not have held it in camera, because of the way the council has treated the salary proposals to-night," said the mayor. "When you exclude the press, it is the job of the reporters to find out what happened and they will," he added.

Alderman Todd said he thought the council would get the better legislation if all meetings were afraid to express themselves in an open meeting.

"They should not be on the council, then,"

Alderman J. Adam commented that the public depended on the press for the accounts of the council's work. Where it was essential that a camera session be held the press should be invited to stay, a policy that had been used in the past.
The reporters had never broken faith in this regard as far as he knew.

When the meeting went into camera to discuss a personal matter the press was invited to remain.

How Schliemann Found

His Perfect Helpmeet

Schliemann (the excavator of Troy) went to Greece, a middle-aged man, believing in the simplicity of his heart that he would find the manners of Acadia. He was to begin married life over again after an unfortunate experience in Russia. What more fitting than a Greek wife? It is hardly credible, but he asked his old Greek tutor to find him one. It is not incredible that the tutor found one for the wealthy foreigner among his own relations!

Before they were betrothed he gave her a viva-voce examination, including the reciting of passages from Homer by heart. She passed! The marriage was nearly broken off when the millionaire asked her why she was ready to be his wife. She replied:
"Because my relations have told me that you are a rich man." And he had come to Greece sure of finding simplicity of heart.

Yet the marriage took place. And it succeeded. Mme. Schliemann survived to see her husband's reputation established beyond the reach of ridicule. She made a perfect helpmeet to the grown-up boy. His instinct had been right in matrimony against all the probabilities, as it was in archeology against all the antiquarians.—
London Saturday Review.

These Bargains are

Real Money Savers

Ladies' Spring Coats

All New Styles. Wonderful Bargains for $7.98 up

GOOD PRINTED FLAT CREPE
at 98c.

Ladies' New Model Spring Hats

Extra Fine, at $1.49

Assad's Store

238 MAIN STREET

Not a Pleasant Prospect.

Mrs. Cross—This book says that married women live longer than single ones.

Cross—Heavens, woman! Do try to talk about something pleasant.

Object, Matrimony.

"So you don't believe in advertising, eh?" scornfully remarked the up to date business man.

"No, I don't," insisted his sad eyed neighbor. "I got my wife that way."

THE PUBLISHERS, LACHUTE WATCHMAN LACHUTE, QUE.

Enclosed please find $.....on my subscription account. Please acknowledge by receipt and changing the label on my paper.

Name

Postal Address

Churches

THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S NINE REASONS

Why A Man Should Go to Church

3. There are enough holidays for most of us. Sundays differ from other holidays in the fact that there are fifty-two of them every year. Therefore, on Sundays go to church.

LACHUTE UNITED CHURCH

Rev. W. B. Rosborough, B.A., B.D.
10 a.m., Sabbath School.
11 a.m., Morning Worship.
Subject: "Fullness of Life."
7 p.m., Evening Service.
Subject: "The Surplus of Christianity."
2.30 p.m., East Settlement.
3 p.m., Thomas' Gore.

BROWNSBURG UNITED CHURCH

Rev. A. E. Hagar, Pastor.
Sunday, April 23rd., 1933.
10 a.m., Sunday School and Bible Class.
11 a.m., Morning Worship.
Subject: The Sabbath.
7 p.m., Song Service. Choruses from Children of the Mission Band.

Friday, April 21, Young People's at 8.15. Topic by Mr. Wallace Wilson.

Friday, April 28, Play: "Nora Wake Up", 8 p.m.

Special Evangelistic Services

BAPTIST CHURCHES

Rev. F. W. Dyson, Pastor.
Dalesville 11 a.m.
Rev. Wm. Fraser, of Windsor, Ont.
Brownsburg 3 p.m.
Rev. Wm. Fraser.
LACHUTE 7 p.m.

MAPLE AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. E. G. Baxter.
10 a.m., Sunday School.
7 p.m., Evening Service.
"Risen with Christ."
Wednesday 7.30 p.m., B.Y.P.U.
Friday, 7.30 p.m., Prayer Meeting.

FRENCH BAPTIST CHURCH

The Quarry French Baptist Church Services are held every Sunday, as follows:—
Sunday School 10 a.m.
Worship 11 a.m., (Bi-Lingual).
No morning service on the 2nd. Sunday of each month.
Rev. J. G. Poitras, Pastor.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND

1st. Sunday after Easter
St. Simeon's, Lachute
11 a.m., Morning Prayer.
St. George's, Brownsburg.
2.30 p.m., Evensong.
Rev. W. LeCras, Rector.

LAKEFIELD SERVICES

St. Aidan's Church, Louisa
10.30 a.m.
St. Paul's Church, Dunany.
2.30 p.m.

SPRING

We welcome thee, beloved Spring,
To thee both man and beast do sing
The trees and flowers lift up their heads Towards heaven, and thank Him for their needs

The flying sky-larks voice doth raise
A thrilling note . . . a song of praise
For spring is here; O, welcome spring Earth crowned in glory, as a king.

The trees in bud . . . the lilac's bloom,
And nature's carpet shows no gloom
Majestic hills with beech and fir,
Do usher Spring without a stir.

Green-covered valleys, they do know,
For wintry winds no longer blow.
Beasts of the forests, yes, they dance,
For spring is here at every glance.

Does man rejoice, like beast so wild?
Or sing in praise, like bird so mild?
He should, of course, for Spring is here,
Earth's wondrous beauty doth appear.

J. F. G.

∴ District News ∴

LAKEFIELD

In spite of bad roads there was a good congregation in Holy Trinity Church Easter Day, quite a few city people took advantage of the opportunity to be with the home-folk in church, as well as in family gatherings.

Mr. Wm. John is home again after his serious operation in Montreal. His many friends wish him a speedy and successful convalescence.

The passing of Mr. Ed. Lyons of Sherbrooke, P. Q., son-in-law of Mrs. Dawson Sr. and brother-in-law of the Messrs. Lorne and Arthur Dawson, has left a vacancy in our little community. His quiet but genial and forceful personality, won the friendship of all whom he met. Mrs. Dawson and family have the sincere sympathy of this neighborhood.

An impressive service in Holy Trinity Church on Good Friday brought to an end the series of Lenten services for this year.

GRENVILLE

Easter service was held in the United Church at 3 p.m. in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Weymouth P. Gaudry and little son Victor, of Greenfield Park, were guests of his mother on Good Friday.

Mrs. Skelcher, of Montreal, is spending the Easter holidays here.

Mr. M. Campbell, of Montreal, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McIntyre Sr.

Mr. Jack Stewart suffered a painful accident, when his kneecap was broken by a kick from a horse. He is now in Dr. Smith's Hospital, Hawkesbury, and his friends extend wishes for a prompt recovery.

Easter Services were well attended at St. Matthew's Church, the building being crowded for the eleven o'clock service. Special Easter music was sung, including an anthem "In the light of Easter Morning", by the Choir. At this service a handsome pair of brass Altar Vases, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hampton, were dedicated. The same donors also provided cut flowers, which were afterwards given to the sick.

The organization for the Restoration Fund is now complete. The Committee in charge includes Mr. Hugh Rayson (chairman) and Messrs. Walter Dewar, Ray Dawson and W. L. Bradshaw. Canvassers have been secured and the canvass will be undertaken during the week of April 23rd. Miss Pearl Dawson is in charge of the Women's part of the campaign, and Miss Lois Cooke will be Campaign Treasurer for the Sunday School.

CUSHING

Mr. G. W. Elliott spent Monday in Montreal.

Misses Ivy and Elsie Graham of Montreal, are the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham.

Miss Margaret Canning, of Macdonald College, spent Easter week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Canning.

Mr. and Mrs. R. McLellan, of Montreal, were week-end guests at the manse.

Miss Helen Maclean, R. N., spent the week-end with her parents, Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Maclean.

Miss Nellie Hodgson, of Montreal, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank Fuller, during Easter week.

Our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Irving Fuller on the birth of their little son.

The community club is meeting on Friday night of this week in the club room.

Miss Melba Elliott, of New Ross, N. S., and Mr. Fenton Elliott, of Ottawa, were the guests of their father, Mr. G. W. Elliott, for Easter. His sister, Mrs. Vance, also of New Ross, N. S. was his guest at the same time.

The Missionary afternoon tea held in the club room was much enjoyed, especially the program given by the girls of the Mission Band, Norma and Catherine Cook, Dorothy and Helen Weir, also Mary Starnes. Miss M. Whelehan also favoured with a beautiful recitation, quite in

CUSHING WEST

Mr. Wallace Walford and a party of friends spent the Easter holidays at Pine Cottage. Mr. Stewart Walford also spent Friday evening there.

Dr. Cushing accompanied by Doctors Shippman and Gill motored up and visited his residence here on Sunday.

Mrs. S. O. Hartley had as guests for Easter, her daughters the Misses Olive and Katie Hartley also the Messrs. Wilfrid and Douglas Hartley, of Montreal.

The Ottawa is now clear of ice the jam at Greece's Point having broken up on Sunday—the "Argenteuil" and crew left for Lachine on Tuesday morning.

Messrs. S. Whelehan and L. Grace, of Montreal, also the Misses Grace and Katie Whelehan and Mrs. R. D. Hartley were motor guests of Mr. E. Whelehan on Sunday.

Disturbing reports that rabies were prevalent in the vicinity of Hawkesbury have been heard lately but no sign of the disease had been noticed in this locality until Monday of this week, when a small dog apparently in an advanced stage of the dread disease appeared in Greece's Point and attacked and bit the young son of Donat Dupuis. The animal is confined until he can be examined and the child has received treatment at Dr. Smith's hospital.

Mrs. R. Pinkerton returned on Friday last from a fortnight's visit to friends in New Glasgow.

Residents in the neighborhood have been kept busy during the last few days acting the Good Samaritan to motorists who become mired on the road leading to Chatboro which in common with most other roads in the county is entirely impassable in spots.

The maple syrup season which has just come to an end has been the nearest approach to a total failure in the memory of the well known "oldest inhabitant." The quantity turned out by local producers is only about one third as much as last season. Even the maple trees have gone back on the poor farmer.

Miss Louise Greig arrived home apparently quite recovered we are pleased to report from the effects of her recent operation.

Miss Dorothy Weir spent Monday as the guest of Miss Irene Derrick at Carillon.

—You've heard him and smiled! Don't miss seeing him, and enjoy a hearty laugh.—Eddie Cantor at the Rex, May 7th.

BROWNSBURG

Miss Kerr, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. D. McOuat, returned recently to Montreal.

Mr. Clarence McKiddie, of Ottawa, was a guest of his parents here for the week-end.

Mrs. Peter MacQuaig was in Montreal for a few days last week.

Mrs. David, of Montreal, is visiting this week with Mrs. M. McLeod, who is making a speedy recovery from her recent illness.

Miss Eleanor Hanson is spending the Easter holidays at her home.

Mrs. John Graham and Mrs. F. Jordan entertained the Ladies' Auxiliary of the United Church at the home of Mrs. Jordan, on Friday evening last.

Mrs. H. J. Deacon was in Montreal on Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Ball and baby daughter are home from Montreal.

Mrs. J. Anderson of Brownsburg, was the hostess at a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday last in honor of Miss Jeanne Vallieres, whose marriage to Mr. S. H. Stilwell took place on Saturday last.

keeping with the missionary programme and much enjoyed by all present.

Mr. C. L. Meservey spent the Easter holidays with his wife at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Innes.

Mr. G. W. Elliott and family motored to Ottawa on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Beecher and family accompanied by Mr. Jno. Maw motored from Montreal and were the Easter week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers, of St. Philippe.

MORIN HEIGHTS

Miss Belle Grant, of Montreal, spent the Easter week-end the guest of Miss G. M. Seale.

Miss Elma Goldthorpe, student at Macdonald College, was a week-end guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goldthorpe.

Master Grant Bishop, of Montreal, arrived on Saturday last and is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Brown.

Miss Olive Seale is spending her Easter vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Seale.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward, Master "Jimmy Junior" and Miss Eva Campbell spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. S. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Greenc accompanied by Mrs. Robinson and her two children motored to Montreal on Saturday last.

Mrs. J. D. Davis, Miss Patricia and Master Baird Davis spent the Easter week-end visiting friends in Montreal.

Mr. Walter Silverson and Mr. Raymond Campbell, students at Lachute High School spent the Easter vacation at their respective homes.

Miss Ailsa Seale returned home for Easter after spending two weeks visiting friends in Montreal.

Her sister, Miss Ethel Seale also spent the holidays at her home here returning to Montreal on Sunday night.

On April 7th. about 16 of the school friends of Miss L. Silverson surprised her at her home, it being the occasion of her birthday. The guests came laden with gifts and good things to eat and a most enjoyable evening was spent playing games.

Mr. W. Lacken, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lacken and Mr. and Mrs. C. Burns, motored from Montreal on Friday last to attend the funeral of the late Mr. J. Conley.

The C.G.I.T. held a special Easter meeting on Friday afternoon, April 14. The leader, Miss Grace Seale, gave a report of the activities of the group since it was formed in October. There followed a Devotional Period which included Easter Hymns, a Scripture Reading, a story by the leader, recitations by Miss Olive Boyd and Miss Theresa McConnell and an Easter Anthem by the group. The meeting closed with the singing of "Taps."

One of the oldest and best known residents of Morin Heights died on Thursday, the 13th. inst., in the person of Mr. John Conley Sr. The late Mr. Conley was in his 96th. year and had spent the greater part of his life in Morin Heights. He is survived by his wife, Hannah Watson, and six sons, Richard and John, of Morin Heights; Charles and Albert of Lachute; and George and Joseph, of Montreal.

The funeral took place on Saturday the 15th. inst., Rev. H. Jekill, of Montreal, officiating, assisted by Rev. H. J. Lummis, of Morin Heights. Many relatives and friends were in attendance.

MARRIAGE

Stilwell—Vallieres

A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Saturday afternoon at the St. Louis de France Presbytery, Brownsburg, when Jeanne Vallieres, was united in marriage to Mr. Sidney H. Stilwell. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Bouchard.

The bride who was unattended was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. J. Vallieres and wore her travelling suit with hat of navy blue to match. Mr. John Dewar supported the groom.

After the marriage ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gaudreau. Mr. and Mrs. Stilwell left on the evening train for Quebec, followed by the good wishes of their many friends. On their return, they will reside in Brownsburg.

We advertise - because

we know our Meats, Vegetables, and Canned Goods have the freshness and quality we claim for them.

We invite you to shop here regularly, and share this confidence in reliable foods.

Jos. Speight, Butcher

ORANGE PEKOE BLEND "SALADA" TEA

"Fresh from the Gardens"

ST. ANDREWS EAST

Miss Hazel Brown and Miss Jean Brown were the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Brown, during the Easter holidays.

We are glad to welcome to our village Mr. and Mrs. Milton Yale of Montreal, who have rented Mrs. Patton's house.

Miss Bessie Woods is spending the Easter holidays the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Woods.

The Ladies' Guild of the Presbyterian Church held a sale of home-made cooking at Mrs. Macdonnell's store last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. John DeWitt is spending the Easter holidays as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob DeWitt.

Miss Helen Cather returned to Montreal last Thursday morning, after spending the winter months at the home of the Misses Pitcairn.

Miss Kay Bradley and Miss Ruth Bradley are spending the Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bradley, Lachute Road.

Don't forget the St. Andrews Ladies' Choral and Dramatic Society Annual Concert, which is being held in the Town Hall, Tuesday evening, April 25th.

Miss Beatrice Robertson and Miss Barclay are spending the Easter holidays with Mrs. W. Robertson.

Miss Margaret Taylor is visiting her mother Mrs. Taylor, during the holidays.

The approach of spring attracted many owners of summer homes on the river shore, to spend the Easter holidays here.

The Good Fellowship Circle will meet Thursday evening, April 27th. instead of Tuesday, April 25th., on account of the Choral Concert., which is being held on the latter date.

Miss Vida Brophy, of Ottawa, is visiting Miss J. Barclay, The Hill.

Miss Green is spending the Easter holidays in Lancaster, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones spent Saturday in Montreal.

Miss Alma Booy and Miss W. Booy spent the week-end here, the guests of their parents, Rev. R. S. and Mrs. Booy.

WEIR

Miss Dorothy Owen who is attending West Hill High School in Montreal, spent the Easter holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Owen.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Larose were Mr. and Mrs. K. Cowan and daughter Mildred, Miss A. DeFazio, and Mr. E. Larose, all of Montreal.

The saw-mill opened here on Monday morning affording work for many of the local unemployed.

Mr. E. J. Craig, of Stanhope, spent the week-end at his home here.

The Misses Gertrude and Keta Bates, of 16 Island Lake, are spending the Easter holidays visiting their many friends in Weir.

Mr. Alex. MacNab and Mr. Wm. Harvey, of Montreal, are spending the holidays at their cottage here.

Col. and Mrs. E. A. Williams, of Montreal, spent the holidays at their summer cottage.

Mr. Lyall Larose paid a short visit to Montreal last week.

Mr. Donald Hunter spent the week-end in Montreal, returning home on Sunday.

Dig in -- Get the Business

(Renfrew Mercury)

Here's a very simple philosophy. One either goes ahead, or he perishes. Do not let your business perish. The country continues to eat, drink and wear clothing, attend shows, dress for church or party, sit on chairs, sleep in beds. The banks are gorged with idle money. Prices are lower than in many years—a wonderful time to buy, if you have the cash. Sixty per cent. of the people do have ample money. Not as much as in flush years, of course, but the dollar goes further. Well, what's hopeless about all this? Dig in—get the business! Newspapers are the liveliest method to get business. Use your local newspaper! Don't let your business perish!

We advertise - because

we know our Meats, Vegetables, and Canned Goods have the freshness and quality we claim for them.

We invite you to shop here regularly, and share this confidence in reliable foods.

Jos. Speight, Butcher

The Lachute Watchman

Home Newspaper of Argenteuil and the Ottawa Valley

VOL. LVIII.

LACHUTE, QUE., APRIL 27th., 1933.

No. 17

What Other People are Doing

(Contributed)

The United States dollar bill is now without gold to back it. The dollar is still worth one hundred cents, just as our Canadian dollar; but unlike our dollar in this respect — one cannot say that it is equal to a gold dollar. Canadian gold dollars are few and far between, to the ordinary individual; but that is as it should be. Gold is an expensive commodity and very little of it represents quite a lot of wealth. If we jingled our entire wealth in gold dollars there would be a lot of wear and tear on the gold, just as there is on our dollar bills. But when our currency bills are badly worn, or lost, we can obtain new ones without any loss; whereas if we lost a gold dollar, or a portion of it through rubbing against another dollar, our loss would be irretrievable and could not be replaced. There is a definite amount of gold in the world, but a practically unlimited amount of paper on which to print dollar bills. Nevertheless we cannot go on printing dollar bills ad infinitum.

Lachute United Church Tea-Meeting

Lachute United Church held its Tea-meeting last Thursday evening up to the regular standards of entertainment and of popularity in this annual function. The tables were patronized by a generous number, who enjoyed the profusion of goodly fare. The subsequent program, under chairmanship of the minister Rev. W. B. Rosborough, was one of outstanding merit and variety. Mr. D. J. Munn, C.A., vocalist, and Rev. Chas. H. Este, colored elocutionist and entertainer, supplemented local talent which was in fine form. This included the Church choir, C.G.I.T. and mixed quartet in several interesting numbers, accompanied by Miss Ruth Todd. Visiting ministers, Revs. Macaskill and Hagar, voiced appropriate remarks, and the occasion was generally voted an entire success. Proceeds amounted to upwards of $200.

If we did so, our bills would become as valuable as the handbills of weekly bankruptcy sales we find in our mail boxes. To place a definite value on our money bills the government guarantees to back each dollar with its value in gold. For every dollar bill we possess we can be sure that there is a gold dollar in the vaults at Ottawa.

In the States the same method of supporting the dollar obtained, just as the pound was supported in England and the franc in France. But the States has now gone off the gold standard, or in other words does not guarantee that a gold dollar exists for each dollar bill in circulation. England did likewise some months ago. France, like Canada, still backs the franc with gold. In addition to gold there are also other securities; but that effects our present definition very slightly. Going off the gold standard may mean very little to one country and quite a lot to another. When England discarded it, prices changed but little, and although the pound went down very rapidly it soon floated up again, and reached its level of most usefulness in a very short time. The States dollar has now gone down and will continue to gyrate through the financial fog, governed by certain considerations till it too will reach its floating level. This level, like the pound depends upon many things—most of which can be controlled by financial acumen, as was the case in England—or become disastrously uncontrolled, as was the case in Germany.

The chief consideration governing the flight of a unit such as the pound or dollar is inflation. England firmly decided against printing banknotes to meet the demand; against inflation. Germany decided to stave off the crisis by paying with paper—inflation—till the German mark became about as valueless as our bankruptcy handbill. The States have now decided to resort to the printing press; with what results we must wait and see.

(Continued on page 4)

Robberies Emphasize Need of Night Police Patrol

Over Thousand Dollars' Worth of Clothing Stolen

Pool Room Proprietor Also Loses Stock Valued Fifty Dollars

Clothing valued at around $1,000 was stolen from Asaly's Store on Main Street in the early hours of Sunday morning, the bulk of which was promptly recovered through the activities of police detectives in Montreal, who discovered the stolen goods being offered for sale in an apartment house situated at 1107 St. Elizabeth St. Three Montrealers were arrested, being unable to give satisfactory explanation for possession of the goods.

Mr. Assaly, who conducts an up-to-date dry-goods business, was first aware of the robbery at 9 a.m. Sunday, when he discovered the front door of his shop broken into, the outside padlock being broken and two locks forced with a brace and bit. The proprietor resides above the store, but heard nothing of the marauders; it seems however, a large Packard car was observed by Mr. Desjardins of the Lunch Car, parked in front of the premises at 2.30 or 3 a.m. Sunday.

Provincial police were notified at Montreal and Hull. Mr. Assaly went to Montreal Sunday, and returned Monday, but was notified to go back to the city to identify goods which had been found in the investigation of another robbery case. With exception of $200 worth of

HEIRS TO ESTATE SAID TO BE IN THIS LOCALITY

An executive corporation in Boston is seeking one Francis Bambridge or his heirs, who are thought to be residing in this territory. Bambridge was last known to be residing in Canada in 1870. He or his next of kin, it is understood, are being sought in connection with a substantial inheritance, and should communicate immediately with the police authorities in Lachute, by whom this notification was received.

clothing, his goods were recovered at the Elizabeth street dwelling. They comprised boys' coats and suits and a new consignment of ladies' dresses. A few dollars left in the cash register had not been touched, as the machine could not be readily opened without making a noise.

Adrien Labelle, Edmond Beaudry and Edouard Belanger were arrested and lodged in the city jail; they will be brought to St. Jerome for trial on May 2nd.

Pool Room Broken Into

The Pool Room at the rear of Desjardins Hotel was the scene of a robbery one night last week, when thieves forced the door and made away with cigarettes and tobacco valued at a round fifty dollars. No-one was seen in the neighborhood, nor any evidence to suggest the identity of the robbers.

Lachute Citizen Bereaved

Sympathy of this community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Bradford of Main Street, in the untimely death of their daughter Lillian May, who became married nearly seven years ago to Mr. Lamb, of Thurso, and has since resided at that place. The young lady had suffered since last June with heart trouble. She was the only child of her parents, and was formerly well known in Lachute as a local Academy pupil. She was born in 1902, being only in her thirty-first year at the time of her death, which occurred at her parents' home on Monday last. The funeral was private, conducted at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, by Rev. Henry Cousens.

Popular Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding

The Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Copeland at Hill Foot, last Tuesday marked their half century of happy married life together, and was the occasion for congratulations by their family and friends who assembled together at their home. Incidentally this is the original farmstead where Mr. Copeland was born, in 1856. During his long residence in the community, his interest in local education and progress has drawn recognition, his services on parish of St. Jerusalem school board being keenly appreciated; and with his esteemed wife, formerly Miss Catherine Ann Walker, he has commanded the respect of this neighborhood wherein he counts a wide circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Copeland were married in April 1883 by the late Rev. Jno. Mackie, at the pastoral residence in Lachute. Mrs. and Miss Ethel Mackie were in attendance at Tuesday's celebration. The three children, Melvin who lives at home, Albert and Amy (Mrs. Albert Cleland) who are settled in the immediate neighborhood, were present to rejoice with their parents. The guests included also: Mr. and Mrs. C. Pattie, of Hawkesbury; Mrs. Jno. Jackson, Mrs. Dave Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Calder, Rev. and Mrs. H. Cousens, Mr. and Mrs. And. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McQuat, Wm. James, Miss Jennie Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Cleland, Mr. and Mrs. (Albt.) Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. D. McPhail, Mr. and Mrs. T. Boyd, Miss Jessie Walker.

Anglican Synod Meeting

The Seventy-fourth Annual Meeting of the Synod of the Diocese of Montreal, was held on the week following Easter. It was well attended, most of the clergy of this district being present and a number of the lay delegates. The Bishop's Charge dealt largely with the present economic crisis. In his Synod Sermon, Dean Salmon, of Ottawa, urged that the clergy be given more time to think and that the laymen should relieve them of some of the business details, so that the Church should be better able to present Her message to her ever-changing environment.

Besides the adoption of the usual reports and other routine, the new Canon on Pensions was adopted after a long discussion. Resolutions condemning Sunday funerals and expressing sympathy with the Jews were also passed. A resolution presented by the Rev. E. G. May, condemning immoral publications, was very sympathetically received and was finally referred to the Social Service Committee for further action.

Among those in attendance from the district were Rev. Rural Dean Booy (St. Andrews), Revs. W. LeCras (Lachute), K. N. Brueton (Calumet), C. W. P. Baugh (Papineauville), W. J. H. Lummis (Morin Heights), A. J. Mitchell (Ste. Agathe), and Mr. R. Dawson (Grenville.)

Swap Ads Free Next Week

In next week's issue of The Watchman, Exchange and Barter advertisements will be inserted free of charge, in our Want column.

Everybody has something he would like to exchange—a tractor, a banjo, a piano, an encyclopedia, a radio, a bull-pup or a pedigree calf. Spring stock-taking and our free Barter Ads. offer you a rare opportunity.

Advertisements should be penned as briefly as possible, as in the following examples:

WILL EXCHANGE Hand power washing machine, for quantity of good stove wood. Apply A.B.C. WANTED.—Seed Potatoes, will give oats or wheat in exchange. Apply D.E.F., R. R. No. 1, Lachute. PAIR SKATES and Boots, new—will accept 22 Rifle in exchange. Apply Lachute.

This office may be used for reply purposes, although we prefer that advertisers should use their own names. Write us immediately; this service is FREE for one week, May 4th.

Inter-Provincial Soft-ball League

A General Meeting of the League was held at the Riondon Athletic Association's Club Rooms, at Hawkesbury, on Monday evening last, 24th inst. A delegation from Lachute comprising H. McEntyre, Joe Berniquier, "Sonny" Underhill and H. Parkinson attended for the purpose of affiliating a Lachute team with the league. After consideration of this application, duly proposed and seconded, the Lachute entry was carried by vote. Lachute, therefore, is now represented by a team in this league, and it remains for the public to support this new venture in the seasonal sport.

The meeting elected new officers for the season, which resulted by ballot as follows:—

President—Mr. W. R. Hall, of Vankeek Hill; Hon. President—Mr. H. Greenspoon, Hawkesbury; Vice-President—J. Lambertson, Brownsburg; Secretary—Mr. Wm. Steele, Hawkesbury; Executive—Messrs. W. Williams and R. McAllister, of Hawkesbury; E. L. Johnson, Brownsburg; H. Hurley, Vankeek Hill; H. Parkinson, Lachute.

The league comprises seven teams, namely Hawkesbury with three teams, Research, Shamrocks, Nationals; Brownsburg, with two teams, Reds and Blues; Vankeek Hill, and Lachute.

The Lachute delegates on Monday had a view of the championship trophy, in the form of a large and handsome Cup, won last season by the Hawkesbury Research team. It would be imprudent at this early date to predict that Lachute might be the holders at the end of their commencing season, but the promoters of the local team feel confident their players will make a very determined effort to put Lachute's name on a real trophy, where it has not appeared before.

It is understood this cup may be placed on view in a local store window, if it can be arranged, very shortly.

Still Going Strong

Mr. A. M. Campbell, former resident on the Brownsburg Rd. and for many years an editorial writer for this paper, goes on record as a firm believer in pasteurization, writing recently in reply to a correspondent of the Carleton Place Herald. Mr. Campbell attacks the veiled humor of this contributor on so obvious an issue, and from the manner in which he roundly retaliates, we note our friend "The Linkman" wields his pen still with a power of wit and agility.

In the average Canadian home the most important breeding place of the clothes moth is in the hot air furnace pipes amongst the fluff brushed through the radiators.

Regional Fairs Now in Effect

Lachute Preparing for a Bigger, Better Exhibition.

The Board of Directors of the Argenteuil Agricultural Society have been busily engaged during the past few weeks in preparing the programme of Lachute Fair, which is being held on June 14, 15, 16 and 17.

With a view to creating greater interest among our local farming communities, both Provincial and Dominion Departments of Agriculture have decided upon adopting new plans, as a try-out for future agricultural fairs.

It has been felt that the best results have not matured from the system followed in past years.

There has arisen a certain "professional" showing — with the same herds tending to take the same places in the various classes, in one after another of these fairs; while local breeders in the various districts, feeling they could not compete successfully in such company, have too often visited their fairs in the capacity of spectators only.

What is needed is that we should foster the spirit of honest rivalry; and the governments, both at Quebec and Ottawa are desirous of trying the new system of regional fairs, wherein the invitation, "Open to all Comers" will now be eliminated. Thus a division has been effected and regular exhibitions will now be held at Lachute, Three Rivers, Valleyfield and Sherbrooke during the summer and fall. Our own Fair will take in 10 counties, including Argenteuil, Two Mountains, Gatineau, Hull, Jacques Cartier, Labelle, Laval, Papineau, Pontiac and Terrebonne.

It is felt this new plan will bring out more local exhibitors, and so make for wider influence among live-stock men of the fairs of Quebec, and necessarily a wider distribution of the prize money offered. It will also encourage greater interest in these shows. The time is now drawing near, with Lachute Fair only two months away; so the directors are hoping exhibitors will avail themselves of this new opportunity, preparing their live-stock to win laurels in the 1933 exhibition.

DRAMATIC PRESENTATION BY CONVENT PUPILS

The Auditorium was crowded on Tuesday evening for the performance of a religious drama, "Vers la Lumière", depicting the experience of Madeleine (Magdalen) through sin, conversion and spiritual triumph. The scenes were enacted entirely by the pupils of the local convent of St. Anastasie, their sincerity and expression meriting praise, both for the children participating and for the training they had received. The varied characters, and the environment of Palestine in the days of Christ, were forcefully portrayed in the costumes of the players, which exemplified the theme and bore out the atmosphere of a biblical presentation.

The evening was made doubly enjoyable by the renderings of the Lachute Brass Band, which executed several numbers under the leadership of M. A. Guenette. Other musical numbers included a splendid pianoforte sextette, and a violin duet with dual piano accompaniment. These were rendered by local convent pupils, and spoke highly of the cultural attainments of that institution.

Choral and Dramatic Concert

St. Andrews Choral & Dramatic Society staged an interesting concert on Tuesday evening, presenting a program of unusual merit both in performance and in selection. The choral items embraced classical and religious themes, ably directed by Mrs. H. P. Bezanson and accompanied by Miss A. L. Wales. There were elocutionary numbers, and an enjoyable one-act Comedy entitled "The Kleptomaniac", directed by Mrs. J. Macaskill and presented in a manner most creditable to the St. Andrews players. Both to the Society and to those in attendance, the event proved a gratifying success.

Glimpses of Pioneer Life in Passing of Chatham Resident

There passed away on Saturday last at her home in St. Philippe, one of our oldest and most respected county women in the person of Mrs. Andrew Graham. It is rarely one can claim to have spent over 90 years in the same locality as she had done.

The deceased lady was formerly Mary Smith, eldest daughter of John Smith and Margaret Dale of the pioneer milling family of Dalesville. Always in readiness to help when needed, she had spent a long and useful life in her community. When a mere child she assisted her father who was a river pilot, driving with him to meet the rafts of lumber at Grenville, then driving the long, lonely way back over the rough roads of 80 years ago, which in some places were thickly bordered with dense woods—just as daylight would be breaking, and with only a smaller brother cuddled asleep beside her for company. Stopping at her home for a brief rest and change of horses, she would bravely start out again to Carillon to await her father when his rafts had safely shot the rapids into the smooth waters and his duties for the day were over. A devoted daughter to a delicate mother, she had carded, spun, woven and made by hand most of the garments for the large family of brothers and sisters, until her marriage to Andrew Graham in 1865, when she went to reside just a mile from her family home.

She pursued the same career of usefulness in her married life as in the days of her girlhood, until a few years ago when ill health and failing eyesight made her more dependent upon others.

Her husband predeceased her 4 years ago, also one son David who passed away at Fernie, B.C., some years ago. Her only daughter died in infancy.

She leaves to mourn her loss, 6 sons, William A., of North River, Richard of Lachute, Andrew R., of St. Philippe, Archie, of Cushing, Fredrick A., of St. Philippe and Alfred E., of Grand Prairie, Alta., as well as 20 grandchildren and also 15 great grandchildren.

The largely attended funeral service was conducted at her home by the Rev. J. W. Maclean of St. Mungo's Church, Cushing, assisted by Rev. G. W. Elliott, and the remains were taken to St. Andrews East Cemetery for interment.

The pall bearers were her five sons and one grandson, William Graham, Jr.

IMMUNIZATION AGAINST DIPHTHERIA

The County Health Unit announces its clinic for inoculation of Lachute children against diphtheria will be held at the Unit offices in the Court House May 5th, from 2 to 4 p.m., second inoculations to follow on May 26th.

Full announcement of these clinics throughout the County will be published in The Watchman next week, space permitting.

THE CAPTAIN'S CORNER

For Our Boy Readers

THE CAPTAIN'S WEEKLY LETTER.

PICTURES

Dear Boys:

I am sure that all of us like Pictures. From the days when we were very small it was the book which had the greatest number of pictures that we enjoy most. If these were colored so much the better, for they held our interest and amused us for quite a long time. We were so impressed with them that very often we tried to copy the figures and scenes upon which our eyes rested.

In other words we tried to be Artists! Very few of us unfortunately, have the skill to draw or paint; but all of us can, if we will, learn to appreciate beautiful pictures, and maybe learn the lessons they would teach us.

One day, many years ago, an artist was painting a picture in Wales which is part of the British Isles. It was Sunday morning and a minister said to him "You should not be working, you know, on a Sunday."

The artist laid down his brush and looked at the man who had spoken, noting his long black coat and the Bible he was carrying under his arm.

"You are about to preach a sermon to your people," he replied with a smile.

"I am" was the somewhat stern reply. "Well, that's exactly what I am doing," came the answer, "but mine will last longer than yours. When this picture is finished it will hang in a public gallery in a big city. People will come in hundreds and look at it and, I trust, admire the beauty of these mountains and rivers, and they will think—Do you know what they will think?—The Minister shook his head.

"Well, they will see and know something of the glory of God's wonderful creation, and my sermon will be preached" . . . For a minute there was silence and then the artist felt a hand on his shoulder and a voice said

"Forgive me, you are right. The work of your hands will give a finer message than that which I shall render with my voice this morning."

Just then the bells rang out and the minister hurried away. It is indeed true that some pictures are wonderful teachers, but we shall never learn from them until we realize their beauty and understand their message.

A great man once said that a room without pictures was like a house without windows.

Your affectionate friend,
THE CAPTAIN.

When the Redskin Ruled

THE CAPTAIN'S SERIAL
STORY OF ADVENTURE

Special to The Watchman

Chapter 16.

"It's always morning somewhere in the World."
—Stevens.

Several days passed by without any unusual occurrence to disturb the voyage of the good ship "Swallow" as she sailed her way across the broad Atlantic. Each morning saw the two boys actively engaged in their physical exercises, under the strict tuition of "Sunny Jim." Though the youngsters were at first inclined to rebel at this curtailment of their liberty they soon came to realize it was without a doubt improving their physique and keeping them from that most unpleasant malady, sea-sickness.

Also their instructor did not fall into the error of making the work monotonous but varied it as much as possible. One day he said to them.

"Now, young masters, I think it will be wise for you to take up pistol practice. In the country to which you are going there are many dangers and a knowledge of how to handle a pistol is almost a necessity. "But," protested Edgar, "we have our guns, surely we do not need so clumsy a weapon as a pistol I have never fired one, but I am told it is a heavy weapon and hurts the wrist."

"Not if you know the right way to use it" replied Sunny Jim. "A gun is very useful if your enemy is still some long way from you, but at close quarters the pistol is the better weapon. Come," continued the little man, drawing the pistol from his holster as he spoke, "Let me see you hold it in the correct manner."

Both boys in turn handled the weapon but failed to satisfy their instructor. "You make the common mistake of placing the first finger on the trigger, and that will never do. That finger is needed to lay along the barrel to steady it, and you pull the trigger with your second one. Now try again."

For a long time he kept them hard at work, taking up and laying down the pistol in the proper way, until they were able to do it quickly.

"Now you can practice taking aim. As soon as you raise the pistol fix your eye on the target and bring your arm in line, taking care that the end of the barrel points to the lower part of the object you are aiming at—for you must remember that at the moment of firing the pistol is bound to jump upward."

For a further half-hour the work went on, until Sunny Jim expressed himself satisfied at their progress and as a reward promised them on the first calm day some actual firing.

"How can you manage that?" eagerly asked Walter. "Quite easily. Soon we are bound to run into a dead calm when the ship will be hardly moving at all. We will then get a bottle, seal it and throw it overboard, and we will see which of you hits it first!" Edgar smiled. "We shall need plenty of bottles!"

But Sunny Jim shook his head. "It's not as easy as you think, and you will be an expert if you hit your mark once in every ten shots."

It goes without saying, the proposed pistol practice was looked forward to with no little excitement by the two chums. Indeed, Edgar was so keen about it that he mentioned what had been promised them to his father.

AUNT JEAN HERSELF

A Column for the Kiddies
(Copyright)

OPINIONS DIFFER

By Aunt Jean

Two little spring birds build their nest, in the same big tree. One was a flaming oriole, The other a titmouse wee.

The oriole made hers of threads of silk, Bits of string and yarn, Woven around some milk-weed stalks,

From the field behind the barn. She fastened it tightly to the highest branch

Of this old, old elm tree, And there she swung with each passing wind,

To the alarm of the titmouse wee

Who sat in the croft of a hollow branch, On her nest so snugly made, Hidden safely there, from prying eyes,

Of hawks, that swarmed the glade. "Oh dear me", said the titmouse wee,

"What a silly place for a nest. —What a foolish bird that oriole is;

I like my way the best!"

NANCY'S PUP

More Night Surprises

Rover kept on growling from his look-out near the barnyard gate but his growls began to sound half-hearted and sleepy. It was such hard work for him to keep awake. If that big monster would suddenly disappear what a relief it would be for him!

He had a great desire to go back to his comfortable bed, on the heap of bags and leave it alone. It did not seem to be doing any harm, and it never seemed to move at all. He sat up quite straight, got to his feet quite prepared to be brave, to turn his back to this thing whatever it was, forget about it and go to bed properly. He must have some rest if he must resume his tussle with that ground hog in the morning.

The wind had been whining through the trees for some time now, and was beginning to stir the branches quite noisily. The moon came out and peeped through the trees, throwing such strange shadows on everything and particularly on Uncle Dick's big sleigh-tongue. It made it appear to be moving slightly.

Poor tired Rover sat down again with an uneasy whine, he must watch a while longer to see what was going to happen.

Upstairs, May was tossing restlessly, first to one side of her portion of the bed, then to the other. She was doing her utmost to move quietly, but when one has the toothache it is impossible to keep quiet unless one is a stoic and May had never heard of stoics.

Maud suddenly opened her eyes and asked what was the matter. "Toothache!" May's voice was a cross between a whimper and a sob.

"Toothache!" Maud said, "You poor child! I wonder if we can get something to stop it. Grandma always keeps toothache drops in the house, I am sure. I think I saw a bottle in the kitchen cupboard when I was helping Aunt Sue with the dishes!"

"But Maud! We simply can't rouse the household again tonight. They have had one scare through Billy's howls; I don't want to disturb them again!"

"We won't need to disturb them. We can steal down to the kitchen by the back stairway and get the bottle ourselves."

"Oh, Maud! I would be much too frightened to roam around a strange house in the dark by myself," May said.

"Grandma's house is not a strange house, May; and I am not afraid," Maud said, getting out of bed and starting towards the door.

A little shiver of fear crept over May as she lay watching her. Realizing that Maud was really going downstairs by herself, May hopped out of bed, tiptoed after her, whispering softly, "Wait for me. I'm coming with you."

Maud waited on the landing and the two girls stole quietly downstairs, hand in hand. Their grandmother always kept a soft dark woolly mat at the bottom of the stairs, May looked at it rather fearfully. It looked so very black in the ghostly moonlight faintly shining through the heavy Madras curtains. "What is that black thing at the bottom of the stairs? It looks like something covered with fur," she whispered.

"Just Grandma's new wool mat. It won't bite us. If you are afraid, stay here and I'll go over to the cupboard by myself. The matches are on a shelf close by. I will have to light one to find the right bottle. Mother says we should never take chances with bottles of medicine. We should always look them over very carefully before taking," said Maud, wisely.

The girls stood whispering on the second step from the bottom, May still watching the mat rather doubtfully. It looked as though it had a hump in the middle, and mats with humps in the middle were not inviting things to step on! There might be something underneath them.

The wind which had been blowing quite hard, seemed all at once to increase in volume. Something fell with a loud crash outside the window. Rover gave a wild, frightened bark, and came dashing on to the verandah, and banged against the kitchen door as though seeking admittance from some terrible danger.

There was really nothing to be afraid of, but Rover and the girls did not know that of course

The washboard, which had been hanging on the outside kitchen wall, had fallen into the wash-tub! The unusually heavy wind had waved the tree branches so hard that Rover thought the monster was coming after him, and had fled howling to the house for safety!

May was so startled that she loosened her hold of the stair rail and stumbled on to the mat.

A wild howl rose from its depths! Something dark dashed across the kitchen floor and stood spitting at them from a corner, yellow eyes glaring fiercely from the darkness.

May caught hold of Maud's arm so tightly that her nails dug into the flesh. Her teeth chattered. She was trembling so that her limbs would scarcely hold her slight weight. "Maud!" she gasped, "Maud, what was that?"

Maud's voice shook slightly. She had been startled too. Who would not have been? So many sudden and unexpected noises at the same time!

"It must be Prince," she whispered. "He was lying on the mat and you stepped on him when you fell." "Poor Prinnie, poor Prinnie," she called softly, starting to walk towards him. But Prinnie was not fond of little people at any time, and much less so when they came tumbling over him in the night, disturbing his rest. He arched his back higher than ever, and being a long-haired Persian, he looked a monster indeed, spitting and growling defiantly as Maud approached him from the other side of the room.

"Don't touch him, Maud, please don't. He looks terribly angry. He might spring at you and scratch your face." May, following closely behind Maud, reached out and caught her by the shoulder, to hold her back. There was a sharp, snapping sound right beside them. It sounded in the half-darkness like a pistol shot.

A light flared up for a moment. The strangest-looking apparition stood framed in the doorway of a little room—a room for odds and ends.

With muffled shrieks the two girls fled towards the stairway, mounted it swiftly, dashed into their room, and locked the door.

"Do you wonder that they were afraid, children! I am sure we would all have been scared too, if we had been with them."

—Lovingly,

Aunt Jean.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

Consider the editor! A child is born unto the wife of a merchant in town. The physician getteth 35 plunks. The editor writeth a stick and a half and telleth the multitude that the child tippeth the beam at nine pounds. Yea, he lieth even as a centurion. And the proud father giveth him a Cremona.

Behold the young one groweth up and graduateth. And the editor putteth in the paper a swell piece. Yea, a peach of a notice. He telleth of the wisdom of the young woman and of her exceeding comeliness. Like unto a rose of Sharon is she, and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dress-maker getteth two score and four iron men. And the editor gets a note of thanks from the sweet girl graduate. (May-be!)

And the daughter goeth on a journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column solid. And the fair one remembereth him from afar with a picture postal card that costeth six for a jitney.

Behold, she returneth, and the youth of the town fall down and worship. She picketh one and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto the editor a bid to the wedding, and behold the bids are fashioned in a far city.

Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth his bit.

The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the dead, and the darned thing cometh out "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and cancelth their subs, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and fourth generations.—Eagle Delano, Minn.

A SOLUTION TO YOUR REQUIREMENTS—
WATCHMAN WANT ADS.

Groceries

Canned Goods, Fresh Provisions

Grain, Flour, Feed; Preserves—

The need immediately suggests

Campbell Registered

"Old Established and Reliable"

Main Street,

Telephone 50.

Men's Silk, Wool, and
Cashmere Socks, Reg. 75c
Now Clearing at 50c pair

W. Banford & Son

Hardwood Flooring

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY

All grades in stock at our yards,

BETHANY ROAD, LACHUTE

Price $35.00 per
thousand and up

Cottingham Supply Company

Phone 29.

Box 623.

Children's Rubber Knee Boots

All Sizes from 8 to 2 $1.25

Men's Knee-Length Rubbers

Everything for the Sugar Camp

at special prices

John McFaul & Son

Telephone No. 8.

Main Street.

(To be Continued.)

There's a run on GOOD YEAR
PATHFINDERS

because motorists are getting big value out of this lower-priced Goodyear tire.

A genuine Goodyear.
Supertwist Cords.
Thick, rugged tread.
Heavy side walls.

Yet priced surprisingly low. Only Goodyear can put such value into a low-priced

tire. We have your size! Let us give you prices.

12 months guarantee against defects and road hazards

Paquin Garage
55 Foundry Street,
Lachute

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

DR. G. A. CLUNIE, L.D.S.
Surgeon Dentist
Over Dominion Stores
Here Every Day
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

DR. W. M. HOOPER,
Dental Surgeon
235 Main Street, Phone 209.
Lachute, Que.

L. L. LEGAULT, K.C.,
Barrister and Advocate
295 Main Street, 'Phone 60.
Lachute, P. Que.

Z. N. RAYMOND, L.L.B.
Notary Public
Telephone 166 w.
281 Main Street, Lachute, P.Q.

GALL & JONES
General Insurance
Phone 95 ring 2
Bethany Street, Lachute.

GAETAN VALOIS, L.L.L.
Notary
Money to loan on security
Depositor of the late J. E. Valois'
notary's papers.
Lachute, P. Que.

J. F. LAVIGNE, B.A.,
Public Notary
Municipal, Provincial and Victory Bonds handled
Telephone 178
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

G. GILLESPIE DUNLOP
Formerly of Edinburgh, Scotland
Barrister, Advocate, Solicitor
Practicing in Ontario and Quebec
103 Main Street West
Phone 93, Hawkesbury, Ontario,
Phone 604 r 2, Grenville, Quebec.

PHILIPPE VALOIS,
B.A., LL.B.
Advocate
(Son of the late J. E. Valois)
245 Main Street, Lachute.
Phone No. 81

GERARD RAYMOND
Advocate, Barrister & Solicitor
Insurance Exchange Bldg.
Suite 725
276 St. James St., West, Montreal
Telephones HARBOUR 2113 and
HARBOUR 2114
Office at Lachute every Saturday,
No. 281 Main Street,
Telephone 166 w.

WILLIAM ROBERTS
C.P.A., C.G.A.
Certified Public Accountant
Commercial and Municipal
Audits
660 St. Catherine St., West
Montreal.

Making History in Argenteuil

Extracted from files of
The Watchman.

50 Years Ago.

Friday, May 4, 1883.

The Commission of the Peace for the District of Terrebonne, comprises John McAlister, John Smith, Gavin J. Walker, John
Roe, F. C. Ireland, Thos. Bedard
Wm. McQuat, Jos. Stanforth, Welf Hills and Thos. Barron
in the village of Lachute.

Mr. John Hay, an enterprising farmer of Lachute, has purchased the imported Clydesdale "Dainty Lad," from Robt. Ness of Howick.

There is not a single tenement unoccupied in Lachute, the demand being greater than the supply.

Apropos of Julian Hawthorne's ridiculous novel, "Dust," the Saturday Review amiably invites the author to explain how an officer who was one of the guards of Napoleon at St.
Helena contrived to get himself killed at Waterloo!

Mr. Jas. Morrison, Shrewsbury, has been awarded contract for fencing the property opposite the Court House, in La-chute, from Barron's Bridge to the Railroad Bridge.

Bears are causing annoyance to farmers in Wentworth and Gore. Mr. James Morrison, in the past 24 years, has killed 34
bears in the vicinity.

Messrs. Hamelin & Ayers have lately imported a lot of very fine machinery from the States.

Lachute Caledonia Club advertise their Annual Sports to be held at the Lacrosse Grounds on the Queen's Birthday. Among the interesting events are —Quits, Hurdle and Barrel Race, Tossing the Caber, Highland Fling, and Putting the Stone.

25 Years Ago.

Friday, May 8, 1908.

An old landmark of this County passed peacefully away on Monday, at his home in the West End, in the person of Thos.
Todd, aged 78.

An imaginative reporter to La Presse had in last Friday's issue a sensational article dealing with the floods at Lachute, illustrated with a large size picture of people being piloted around the town in boats.

Mr. Percy Squires left for Brantford on Thursday last.

Contract for the erection of a new Presbyterian Church in Brownsburg has been awarded to Mr. Jas. W. Cottingham for the brick work and Mr. J. Lalonde, St. Andrews, for the carpentering, etc. The church will cost from five to six thousand dollars.

Early closing is now in force among local stores.

A delegation of Grenville townsmen passed through here to interview Hon. W. A. Weir, in Montreal, in the interests of having a bridge erected to span the Ottawa River.

Mr. G. F. Calder attended the re-union of the graduating class in Arts of the year 1855 at Mc-Gill.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Calder, of Dalesville, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Mr. Calder is one of the original settlers in that district.

18,000 Spruce, balsam and willow trees are being planted in Upper Lachute to extend the barrier against sand drifts, which have now covered 1200 acres of what was formerly good farming land.

So live that you will never need to urge your wife to be a good sport about it. Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.

New Rector: "Do you have matins here now?" Verger:
"No, sir. Linoleum all the way up the aisle."

"Junk" in the attic? Someone might be glad to own it; and you could probably exchange it for cord-wood, produce, or something you need. Make use of the free Barter Ads. in next week's Watchman.

—Take advantage of low prices while they last... Build a home you can call your own.
—Take advantage of the summer season... Build a country cottage and enjoy complete week-end relaxation.

Consult

Alcidas Laurin

80 Grace Street Phone 246J. Lachute, Que.

Summer Camps .. Modern Homes

Of Municipal Interest

FACTS CULLED
FROM THE PRESS

Doubt About a Quorum

From Australia (as reported by the Shire and Municipal Record) comes a humorous commentary on a prickly situation. At a Goulburn City Council meeting, Alderman Goodhew remarked that box thorns were peeping through fences in many of the streets, to the inconvenience and discomfort of passers-by.

Alderman Goodhew: We should have an inspection.

The Mayor: We will.

Alderman Goodhew: Yes, we will speed by in cars and come back no wiser than before we set out.

The Mayor: All, right we'll walk.

Alderman Goodhew: That's the idea.

Voice: It's doubtful if we'll have a quorum under the circumstances.

The council however, agreed to make the suggested inspection.

Board of Control Costly to Ontario Municipalities

In Ontario, the Town of Tecumseh, having defaulted and enlisted Government control for the administration of its affairs, subsequently received a bill of something over $3,000.00. Sandwich West council decided to pay their account of $992.73 for salaries and expenses, including travelling costs of the controllers while the Town of Sandwich is contesting a bill received from the Board for over $2,000 for 6 month's services.

Council Sets Precedent

Council set a new precedent at its meeting on Monday night when a motion was proposed and seconded that "leave be given to introduce a by-law . . . and that the by-law be read a first time," and this motion was voted down.
We have been reporting Council meetings for a good many years and this is the first time in our experience that any Council has refused to permit the first reading of a by-law. It is not our purpose to question the why or wherefore of opposition to the by-law. The thing many people will question is Council's refusal to allow the by-law to be read. In all municipal bodies the usual procedure is to give every by-law proposed its first reading and if the members are opposed to its contents, to vote against it on its second reading or amend it to suit. How otherwise are the members of Council or the ratepayers generally to know what the contents of a by-law are if they refuse to allow it to be read?

Carleton Place Canadian

Blame Tramways for Deterioration of Water-Mains

Montreal Tramway Company's "grounds" for street car tracks are responsible for electrolysis that is eating away large iron water mains in various parts of the city and gradually the city will have to replace those sections with concrete pipe, according to Ald. J. Olonzo Savard, president of the Montreal Water Board.

New Use for Fire Truck

Sirens screaming, the fire truck rushed through darkened streets to the rear of a hospital in Dubuque, Iowa, and firemen worked feverishly to focus spotlights on the operating room. The hospital had been thrown into darkness when the city power failed.

In the operating room Ray Slacht, 13, son of one of the firemen, was operated on for appendicitis by the emergency light afforded by the fire truck.

Those Receiving Relief Forbidden Pool Rooms

All pool room proprietors in Carleton Place, Ont., have been notified by the chairman of the relief committee that any person receiving relief from the town must not be permitted to loiter around or take part in any game or games on the premises.

Any violation of this order by the owner or proprietor will result in the cancellation of their pool room license. Each proprietor has been served with a list of those frequenters who are on relief and the order will be rigidly enforced.

May Work Part Time and Still Be on Relief

Persons on relief in Ottawa will be permitted to work at part time jobs without being removed from the relief lists, provided an accounting of the work done and the remuneration received is reported to the Public Welfare Board.
There has been considerable speculation regarding the status of persons on relief who accepted part time jobs and the feeling had gone abroad that such persons would be taken from the list of those eligible for relief if it was discovered. In conference with J. A. Ellis, secretary of the Unemployment Relief Committee for Ontario, members of the Public Welfare Board got a ruling from Mr. Ellis on this subject.

The order-in-council under which direct relief is administered states relief shall be given to "families in need."

PUBLIC AUCTION

There will be sold by Public Auction at the residence of JAMES COWAN

Beech Ridge, Que., between Lachute and St. Andrews
SATURDAY, APRIL 29, 1933

The following effects:—Five pure bred Holstein milk cows, (all milking), 1 Holstein bull, 2 yearling heifers, 3 spring calves, 2 work horses, mowing machine, horse rake, hay loader, gang plow, walking plow, two horse corn cultivator, wagon, 2 expresses, buggy, Chatham fanners, barn timber, soft and hardwood lumber, spring tooth and drag harrows, sloop sleighs, rack sled, horse fork and carriage, rope and pulleys, double pulley and blocks, De Laval Cream separator, silo rods and silo lumber, log chains, whiffle-trees, eveners, double harness, cart, express and buggy harness and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Everything to be sold without reserve as proprietor has sold his farm.

Sale to commence at 11 a.m.
Sharp.

TERMS: $10.00 and under cash, over that amount 9 months credit on furnishing approved joint notes. 6% off for cash.

It is necessary to go back to the year 1916 to find revenues of the Canadian railways on a level comparable with 1932. The following figures show that in 1932
as compared with 1916:

Railway Operating Revenues	5.5%
Railway Operating Expenses	20.9%
Net Revenue from Railway Operations	50.6%
Railway Tax Accruals	135.7%
Net Railway Operating Income	58.3%
Railway Property Investment	34.6%
Rate of Return on Investment	69.0%
Revenue Freight Ton Miles	23.3%
Revenue Passenger Miles	50.3%
Actual Gross Ton Miles	17.2%
Payroll of Engine and Train Service Employees and Telegraphers	31.3%
Train Miles	22.8%

Our free booklet,
"The Royal Road to Better Health," tells how Royal Yeast Cakes will improve your health, and suggests pleasant ways to take them.

BUY
MADE-IN-CANADA
GOODS

Keep ROYAL YEAST CAKES

handy in your kitchen...

FOR over 50 years Royal Yeast Cakes have been the standard wherever dry yeast is used for home baking. Order a supply. Sealed in air-tight waxed paper, they stay fresh for months. And get the ROYAL YEAST BAKE BOOK to use when you bake at home... 23 tested recipes. Address Standard Brands Limited, Fraser Ave. & Liberty St., Toronto, Ont.

SWEET ROLLS made with Royal Yeast Cakes (overnight dough method)

1 Royal Yeast Cake
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons lard
6 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
4 egg yolks
1 teaspoon cinnamon
(optional)
8 cups flour

sugar and the salt. Beat in the yeast and 3 cups flour. This makes a Spongy Dough. Let rise overnight. In morning, cream together the egg yolks,
remaining sugar, cinnamon, and beat into the sponge. Add rest of flour to make a smooth dough. Knead thoroughly and let rise till double in bulk.
Form into Parker House Rolls or any other shape. Let rise till light and bake about 25 mins. in a moderate oven, 375° F.

In the evening, dissolve the yeast in 1/4 cup of tepid water.
Scald and cool the milk, add the shortening, 2 tablespoons

Here and There

Another sale of salmon angling leases is announced in New Brunswick for the famous waters of the Upsalquitch River which will be leased to the highest bidder at a sale to be held in Fredericton, April 27. The leases will be for ten years from March 1, 1933.

Canadian railway salaries have experienced severe cuts over the past few years. This has applied to officers as well as to workers on the trains and along the lines. The recently issued annual report of the C. P. R. announced that E. W. Beatty, Chairman and President of the C. P. R., had instituted a special cut of 15 per cent. for himself and the Company's directors. This makes a total cut of 25% for them since the decline in earnings began.

Nipigon River's famous speckled trout don't know it yet but the ukase has gone forth that non-residents shall pay only $5.50 for an annual fishing license, or about half the charge hitherto.
Further, Nipigon guides will offer their services this year for $23.00
a week as against $28.00 in 1932.
These trout in the Nipigon pools and in those off the islands at its mouth including St. Ignace, run to seven pounds and up.

Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan recently hung up a new speed record when she travelled the 2,329 miles from Honolulu to Victoria in four days, eight hours and three minutes, clipping seven hours, 47 minutes from her best previous time for the voyage and much outdistancing the best mark for any other Pacific liner except the Empress of Canada.

The literary hit of the year has been made by Frederic Niven, Canadian author, living near Nelson, B.C., whose "Mrs. Barry" has been recently hailed by authorities as one of the most profoundly moving books ever written.
Mr. Niven, who thus breaks into the ranks of best sellers, earlier in the century handled baggage and freight for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Nelson.

H. F. Mathews, general manager, Canadian Pacific hotels in western Canada, with headquarters at Winnipeg, has been promoted general manager of the company's hotel system from coast to coast, with headquarters in Montreal, according to a recent announcement by E. W.
Beatty, chairman and president of the railway.

—Protect your home at small cost by putting a chain guard on your door. We have them.

T. McQuat & Son

Automobile Painting

Have it done properly, by CLAUDE St. JACQUES
43 Robert Street, Lachute

Carriage and Body Repairs,
Sign Lettering, Table-top re-
finishing in lacquer

The Watchman

and OTTAWA VALLEY
ADVOCATE

Published at Lachute every Thursday

J. S. Giles, Editor & Proprietor

Subscription Rate per annum—

In Canada—$1.50.
In United States—$2.00.

Notices of Entertainment, Concerts, Announcements, etc., 10 cents count line. Minimum 50c.—if billed 60c.

Want and For Sale advertisements, 10 cents per count line, minimum 50c.—if billed 60c.

If replies are directed to Watchman Office 25c. extra charged.

Cards of Thanks, In Memoriam Notices, Births, Marriages and Deaths 50c. With each verse additional—25c.

Note:—When estimating, count every six words or fraction thereof as one line.

(Note:—All locals advertising any event from which there are financial proceeds will be charged at the above rate.)

OPEN SEASON CALLS FOR NIGHT PROTECTION

The need of a police patrol at night has become evident in Lachute by the recurrence of robberies among our store-keepers, who are subjected to this variety of misfortune perennially as the highways open and unwelcome visitors become more frequent. This is the open season, when rural towns are accessible and the "get away" is easy and inconspicuous; and it is reasonable that Lachute should be protected at night by a police patrol. Our merchants with heavy investments in movable merchandise, pay their taxes to the municipality and deserve this measure of protection. It is hoped the matter may be brought up for early consideration before the local Council.

It is believed the provincial traffic police this year have instructions to concentrate their attention on the highways, leaving traffic control in the towns entirely to the civic authorities. It is therefore obvious that there can be no relaxing of police duty in town during the daytime, when traffic and traffic abuses are heaviest; it is reasonable that our police officer, who fulfills his duties conscientiously and to the general satisfaction, should be supplemented by a night watch.

THE TIME TO MANIFEST YOUR CIVIC PRIDE

With the advent of spring it is pleasing to walk through the town and note the activity everywhere in evidence, as our residents are working to beautify their premises, be they personally owned or only tenanted. There are still a few eyesores, because of indifference on the part of some who need the prompting, but let us as citizens who have a priding feeling towards our town, accept this as part of our duty and encourage such neighbors to take a hand in the general advancement, for it is by such effort and good example that response will surely follow. Let us all catch the spirit of helpfulness and thus generate real community welfare among our citizens so that visitors who may enter this town throughout the year will receive a goodly impression. Thus they will be able to pass along the word, that Lachute is both a pretty and a pleasant place to live in.

AN HONORABLE DEFEAT

Mr. P. A. Lafleur, M.L.A. was defeated last week in the mayoralty election for Verdun. The victory of Herve Ferland, only—it is not very surprising other candidate for the honor, represents a triumph for the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. This is significant, and is regarded ominously by politicians in the metropolis and through Quebec.

But considering the working element concentrated in Verdun, and also how distress has unsettled the old constitutions that a candidate of proven worth and experience should go down in defeat before a more radical opponent. Nor should this be taken seriously to indicate more general penetration of labor interests into provincial politics. Local friends and acquaintances of Mr. P. A. (Pete) Lafleur will sympathize with him in his narrow defeat and wish a more fortunate outcome in his future contests.

It is said that Samson was a great advertiser. He took two columns and brought down the house.

—Ottawa Journal.

The Ottawa Spotlight

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, April 26th.—In 1930 an elaborate and expensive war pensions machine was set up to ensure that the veteran got 'the benefit of the doubt' whatever the cost. Both parties were in a generous pre-election mood and the change was approved. Money was more plentiful in those days. Now, with the government having to look at every nickel before they spent it, a backward step has been taken. Amendments have been introduced to the Pensions Act which will abolish the Pensions Tribunals, simplify the machinery in other ways, save some $400,000 a year. The generous mood has died down from financial necessity and from now on all new claims for pensions will be closely examined, it seems. Veterans' associations, while anxious to co-operate with the government in these hard times, are not very enthusiastic about all the proposed changes.

A Dairy Export Board?

Ottawa entertained a dominion conference of dairy farmers last week. The most interesting proposal was that of setting up a dairy produce board along the lines of the Patterson scheme in Australia.

As outlined by J. R. Love M.L.A. of Edmonton, it would take care of dairy surpluses in such a way as to prevent them from depressing the market and controlling the domestic price. Last year Mr. Love said, 125,000,000 pounds of creamery butter were produced during the months of May, June and July. Only 3,000,000 pounds were exported, but this small quantity governed the domestic price.

A dairy produce board along the lines suggested would, he said, have levied six cents per hundred pounds upon all production, used the sum raised to cover the loss on the 3,000,000 lbs. exported, maintain the domestic price, and thus save (at the rate of 4 to 5c per pound) some five million dollars to the dairy farmers of Canada in that short period.

Canada's Wheat Gamble

Farmers of western Canada are happy to see wheat prices climbing again. The happiest man, however, is John I. MacFarland, who as director of Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers' Ltd. indirectly holds for the federal government vast quantities of wheat, according to Winnipeg grain market gossip not far short of 150,000,000 bushels. About half of this was passed on to him by the pools when they got into financial difficulties early in 1931, and the remainder was accumulated in an effort to 'stabilize' the market last fall. When wheat fell to 38 cents at the close of 1932 the paper loss on those stocks was upwards of $35,000,000 it was charged in the House. But if wheat climbs another ten cents a bushel from the levels received last week, Mr. MacFarland will be able to report to Hon. E. N. Rhodes that he will not have to call on him for any help. That in turn will be a great relief for a Minister of Finance, who has plenty of troubles finding money for other things.

Interest rates Down

Last week Mr. Rhodes announced that on May 1st interest paid on deposits in savings banks and in the post office would fall from 3 to 2½%. Rumor has it that in six months' time it will again be cut to 2%, but this probably depends on events in the meantime.

If the Canadian dollar keeps on rising as a result of U. S. inflation it will help many people in Canada who owe money over there. In the mass the sum is colossal, running to about $275,000,000 a year. If the exchange situation improves further, as much as $30,000,000 a year in adverse exchange will be saved by Canadian debtors.

The rise in wheat prices, the better feeling as a result of developments in the United States, and the belief of lumbermen that the action of Britain in banning Russian lumber will help trade, have been the most hopeful features of the last few days.

Peter Heenan, ex-minister of labor, has been putting up a valiant fight in the House on behalf of the railwaymen of Canada. He fears that the 'arbitrary tribunal' which is to enforce 'compulsory co-operation' between the two railway systems means more unemployment

WHAT OTHER PEOPLE ARE DOING

(Continued from page 1)

Now we might ask ourselves why did the States go off the gold standard? Premier Ramsay MacDonald, who was on the high seas when the move was made, does not believe it was made to achieve a more strategic position in the economic battle which the nations are about to engage in. President Roosevelt says it was for the purpose of raising commodity prices to get more money for what they have to sell. Raising commodity prices means more than just that. If prices rise, the dollar will buy less and the working-man in the States will be the first to feel the pinch it may bring in more money from the importer of States goods, but before that is accomplished the States working-man will find his weekly wage has lost much of its purchasing power. . . . What is the advantage of rising prices? It is doubtful. The immediate advantage will be that stocks of producers and manufacturers will become worth more while they lie in stock or in the shipping room. The farmer will receive more for his produce; the 25c. he gets extra for his wheat will help to pay his arrears of rent. The man who has bought stock will find that it made money while it lay on his hands. The manufacturer will get more for his goods and he in turn will take on more labor. It looks very fine—but—"there's many a slip"; and the great drawback is that the dollar will buy less. It is a vexed question and your guess as to the outcome is as good as mine; and most likely we are both wrong.

Canadian Banks are to reduce their interest on bank savings deposits from 3% to 2½%. There is about one thousand five hundred million dollars on deposit in Canadian banks; and if no-one else profits, the banks stand to gain quite a bit!

The recent trial of the English engineers in Russia had its repercussion in Canada. Immediately after the verdicts were announced England placed an embargo of 80% of Russia's exports to Britain. Russia retaliated with a 100% embargo on English goods to Russia until such time as England lifted her embargo. Amongst Russia's heaviest exports to England were wheat and lumber. Canada may thus have an opportunity of increasing her exports in these two commodities.

It has been calculated that a man finding himself in Chicago and wishing to visit all the exhibits at the World's Fair at least once will have to spend $87.50. — Better wait for the Lachute Fair!

He wants an amendment which will require a 'proclamation' and considerable notice before the tribunal takes action, so as to give railway organizations time to examine the proposals and make representations. At writing it looks as though he will win his point.

SUPERIOR COURT

"IN BANKRUPTCY"

CANADA
PROVINCE OF QUEBEC
DISTRICT OF MONTREAL

In the Matter of the Estate of: Gus Sculnick,

HOTEL-KEEPER, OF THE TOWN OF STE. AGATHE DES
MONTS, COUNTY OF TERRE-BONNE, PROVINCE OF QUE-BEC, THEREIN CARRYING ON BUSINESS UNDER THE NAME AND STYLE OF SCUL-NICK'S HOUSE

Debtor.

NOTICE is hereby given that on Wednesday, the SEVENTEENTH OF MAY, 1933, at the hour of 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon, there will be sold by public auction, in conformity with the Bankruptcy Act, Article 45 and sections, which give it the effect of a Sheriff's Sale, at the Parochial Church door, at the Town of Ste. Agathe des Monts, County of Terrebonne, District of Montreal, Province of Quebec, the following immovables, to wit:—

10. A piece of land known and designated upon the cadastral plan and in the book of reference for the parish of Ste. Agathe des Monts as being a part of lot number eleven A in the fourth range of the township of Beresford, measuring ninety-six feet front by one hundred end eight feet in depth English measurements more or less, with all the buildings and ameliorations thereon, bounded in front by Saint Andre Street, in the rear by P. Vanier, on one side by Laurier Avenue and on the other side by the property hereinafter described.

20. A piece of land known and designated upon the cadastral plan and in the book of reference for the parish of Ste. Agathe des Monts, as being a part of lot number eleven A in the fourth range of the township of Beresford, measuring sixty feet front by one hundred and eight feet in depth, English measurements, more or less, with all the buildings and ameliorations thereon, bounded in front, on the east side, by St. Andre Street, in rear, on the west side, by lot number 11A-19 on the north side by the lot hereinafter described and on the south side by another parcel of land known as lot 11A, belonging to Auguste Miron.

The said immovables shall be sold in virtue of a judgment rendered by the Superior Court, district of Montreal, Bankruptcy division, on the 12th. day of April, 1933, and bearing the number 284 on the records of the said Court.

Conditions of Sale: A deposit of $500.00 (five hundred dollars) shall be paid at the time of the adjudication of sale and the balance on the passing of deeds. Other conditions shall be announced on the date of the sale.

Montreal, April 12th., 1933.

N. GROBSTEN,

Trustee.

Office: 157 Craig St., W., Montreal, Que.
Lancaster 7600-7601.

= A. C. LAPIERRE =

Jewelry Store

G. Bedard Block, Main Street opposite Main Garage

Our Stock Must Go!

Premises have to be vacated first week in May Silverware, clocks, watches, jewelry

Rare Bargains

EVERYTHING positively AT COST or lower

Household furnishings, etc. and Store Equipment will also be offered for sale.

Customers are requested to kindly call for Watches and Jewelry left for Repairs.

AERONAUTICS

News-Snaps from the Flying World

J. CLAUDE ROBY

The second flight over Mt. Everest was successfully undertaken a few days ago.

A trans-Atlantic flight is to be made in the first week of June by a Scotch-Canadian flyer. The flight will be from London to Quebec and is an attempt to create a scheduled over-sea air service. The plane to be used is the "Sourdough," a veteran of arctic flying.

Rolf Bremer, Finnish flyer, is planning a round-the-world flight from Finland.

Arrangements are being made to place a refueling base on the New Brunswick coast where Balbo and his twenty planes will stop on their way to Montreal.

Rev. R. P. Couture from James Bay has purchased a plane for his travels in the North.

Canadian Airways have made public their acquisition of a "Dragon" airliner. This will be the only multi-motored plane used commercially in Canada. The plane is of English make, is powered with two 130 h.p. engines and carries eight passengers.

While all other modes of transportation are lacking business, air traffic increases day by day. United Air Lines of U. S. have recently placed orders for sixty giant twin-motored all-metal air liners. Eastern Air Transport, which flies passengers, mail and express from New York to Florida, has also added a number of new twin-engined airliners.

A New Ad.

To guide you to the Season's Best Bargains

"Au Bon Marché"

Very Special this week . . .

Ladies' Silk Blouses 89 c. Assorted Shades

Ladies' Shoes at 1.49 up

Men's Oxfords at $1.89

F. Shaded -- 234 Main St.

Telephone 66

10 PIECE SET of KITCHENWARE FREE

For a limited time we are making this big special offer. A 10-piece set of porcelain enamel kitchenware—valued at $20.00—will be given free of charge to every purchaser of a washing machine priced at $75.00 or over. Call and see a demonstration of the Northern Electric Model "B" Playmayd Washer.

GATINEAU POWER CO.,

LACHUTE, QUE. RAWDON, QUE.

The Northern Electric Seal is a symbol of quality—a guarantee of fine materials and workmanship and perfect performance.

Wash and Wring at Same Time

The Northern Electric Model "B" Playmayd Washer is a wonderful time saver. Not only will it wash a batch of clothes in 8 minutes, but while the machine is washing the clothes, the wringer can be at work also—wringing the first batch dry while a new lot of clothes are being washed.

You will like the easy, silent, efficient operation of the Model "B". It takes every particle of dirt out of heavy garments or sheer lingerie—without the slightest injury to the fabric. Tub is porcelain enamelled, inside and out, and finished in beautiful light green mottled enamel.

Northern Electric
A.B.C. WASHERS

SUITS MADE TO ORDER FOR TROUSERS

$20.50

$4.50

A large range of colours to choose from including blue and grey serge, brown stripe and grey stripe. Suits of better quality material made at very reasonable prices.

GEO O. LICOP, TAILOR

49 Foundry Street,

Lachute, Que.

Want Ads.

STORE TO RENT—On Main Street. Apply Mrs. R. Miller.

FOR SALE—Grist Mill and Water Power. Good water power, 65 foot head, ideal location for manufacturing plant. Apply J. M. Graham, Brownsburg, Que. M-6-2-p.

FOR RENT—Two Apartments of 7 rooms each, in the Assad Block, Main Street, heated, with bath and all modern conveniences. Apply Assad's Store, Main Street. X

WANTED—A second hand 22 Rifle in good condition. Apply to 22 Foundry St., Lachute after 6 p.m.

FOUND—On Grace Street, between Boys' School and Court House, a Rug. Owner can have same by calling at the Watchman Office and proving identification.

LOST—A Silver Case Watch with Elgin movement, between P. Chabot's on Main St. McQuat's in West End & McFaul's store in Brownsburg. Finder return same to this office and be rewarded.

FARM FOR SALE or to Rent to responsible party. Ideal homestead. Six miles from Lachute on Ste. Agathe highway. Good house and out-buildings. Three lots of land, good bush and timber. Water power and Electric Light system installed. For particulars apply proprietor, Albert J. Scott, Bethany Street, Lachute, Que. M-6-2-p.

HOUSES TO LET—On Boulevard Bedard, all with modern conveniences. Apply G. Bedard, Main St., Lachute. X

GARAGE TO RENT—Dry, in good repair, easily accessible. Apply Louis Lafleur, Foundry St.

WANTED—Small summer hotel, tearoom, or summer resort. Will rent or operate on percentage basis. State location. Box M., 600, Watchman Office.

WANTED—LUMBER
Dry Pine 1"—1½" & 2"
Dry Basswood 1"—1½"
Dry Spruce 2x5—2x6—2x8.
—Write stating price, quality etc., to Box C., 600, Watchman Office, Lachute.

FARM FOR RENT—Consisting of 210 acres with 100 acres under cultivation, the remainder a sugar bush. With stock and machinery. Situated 3½ miles from Lachute. Good fishing and hunting. Apply Box 81, Lachute Mills.

FOR SALE—Furniture, Store Fixtures, and a good Westinghouse Combination Electric Stove, at Bargain Price. A. C. Lapierre, Jeweller, Main Street.

HOUSEKEEPING position wanted, either in town or on farm. Experienced. English speaking. First class references. Apply Box L., 600, Lachute, Que. Phone 27.

TO LET—7 roomed house with modern conveniences, No. 14 Clyde St., Centre Ward. Apply James Catton, 83 Robert Street.

Coming Events.

The Popular St. Simeon's Players will present the sensational Farce, "THE ADVENTURES OF GRANDPA," (3-act Comedy) At the Auditorium, Friday, May 12th., 1933 Orchestra.

Red Cross Meeting
The regular monthly meeting of the Lachute Red Cross Society will be held on Wednesday afternoon, May 3rd., at 2.30 p.m., in Victoria Hall.

I.O.O.F. Anniversary
Laurentian Lodge I.O.O.F. Annual Church Service will be observed at the Lachute United Church on Sunday, April 30th. at 11 a.m. Daylight Saving Time.

Frontier W. I.
The Frontier W. I. is holding its monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon, May 2nd. at the home of Mrs. John Douglas.

LAKEFIELD

Mr. Ralph Andrews has remodeled and enlarged his Dance Hall, (known as Ralph's Corner) to the extent of 60 feet in length, adding greatly to the appearance of this fair village. Ralph will be starting his seasonal dances in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Andrews accompanied by Miss H. Evans and Miss G. Davis, of Montreal, spent Easter weekend at the Chateau.

Miss V. Tomalty and Miss M. Sherritt spent the week-end in Montreal.

Miss Mary Holden has returned to Montreal, after spending a few days as the guest of Miss Reta MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. McKay have reopened their cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilcrest and family of Montreal, have moved into their home for the summer.

MORIN HEIGHTS

Mr. Carl Seale spent Monday and Tuesday in Montreal.

On Wednesday, April 19th., Miss Audrey Watson was hostess at the tea hour to a number of her young friends. Audrey was celebrating her eleventh birthday.

On April 19, Mrs. J. E. Seale was called to the bedside of her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. R. Cameron, who is critically ill in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

A special meeting of the Ladies Aid of the United Church was held on Tuesday afternoon last, at the home of Mrs. Jack McCullough, thirteen ladies being present. After the business part of the meeting was concluded and while the ladies served, Mrs. J. D. Davis gave a very vivid description of the Medieval Morality Play "Every Man" which is being presented in The Church of the Messiah, Sherbrooke St., West, Montreal. Mrs. Davis had attended the dress rehearsal while in Montreal at Easter.

Town Locals.

Mrs. Geo. Graham was in Montreal over the week-end.

Mrs. H. V. O'Reilly spent the early part of this week in Montreal.

Mrs. H. Banford visited friends in Montreal over the week-end.

Miss M. V. Slater spent the week-end visiting friends in Montreal.

Mr. William Hodge, of Montreal, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Cruise.

Mrs. Gruer and daughter Margaret, of Lachine, are visiting Mrs. T. Fraser this week.

Mrs. Louis Lafleur and daughter Margaret spent the week-end visiting friends in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reid, motored from Toronto and spent Easter with the latter's sister, Mrs. Harry Carpenter.

Miss Helen V. Brown and Miss Gean Marshall, of Montreal, and Mr. John Dobbie, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. Dobbie.

Mrs. Melvin Burke and son, of Flint, Mich., are spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Doig.

Mrs. R. Beers and children, of Sherbrooke, have returned home after spending a pleasant visit with friends in town.

Mrs. Crompton returned to Montreal, on Monday last, after spending the past week the guest of Mrs. S. Goldsworthy.

Master Harry Carpenter spent the recent Easter holidays with friends in Montreal, and attended the six-day Bicycle Races and Boy Scout Jamboree.

Miss Marion LeCras who has been visiting her parents at the Rectory has returned to resume her studies at St. Helen's School Dunham, Que.

Miss Stella Scott has returned to her school in Morin Heights after spending the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scott.

"Clear All Wires" (next week, May 5 and 6, at the Rex theatre) is a sensational newspaper theme, in which Lee Tracy upholds the role of star journalist on international assignments. Love and comedy temper the super-speed of press-room drama, and the production is one which will appeal to all honest-to-goodness movie lovers.

Mr. Habib has sold out his business in Brownsburg to Mr. G. O. Lajoie, of Montreal, who will take over the business on May 15th. Up to that time Mr. Habib is calling a special sale of all his goods, especially shoes, as Mr. Lajoie does not intend to stock this line.

"Clean-up-Weeks"—April 24 to May 6th—are being observed in a general effort to clear the town of winter refuse and unsightly waste. Garbage collectors have been concentrating this week on the town East of North River, and next week will be reserved for the West End—after which garbage collection will proceed regularly on Tuesdays and Wednesdays throughout the season.

DAYLIGHT SAVING will be observed in Lachute through the coming months, and clocks will be advanced one hour on Saturday night. Many local churches are adjusting their hours of service, and those interested will do well to consult the Church Notes on page 8.

DEATHS

LAMB—At Lachute, Que., on Monday, April 24th., Lillian May Bradford, beloved wife of Lloyd Lamb, and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bradford, in her 31st. year.

GRAHAM—At St. Philippe, Que., on Saturday, April 22, Mary Smith, widow of the late Andrew Graham, Sr., aged 90 years and 6 months.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. William Doig wishes to thank all those who assisted in any way and for sympathy shown during her recent sad bereavement.

Mrs. J. H. Scott wishes to thank all kind friends and neighbors for sympathy and assistance in her recent sad bereavement and for floral tributes.

BROWNSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. F. Kettyle spent the Easter week-end with friends in Mountain, Ont.

Miss Anna Poitras spent Easter week in Ottawa.

Mrs. C. Stewart has returned after a visit with friends in Montreal.

Mr. Alvin Stewart has returned to his duties in the bank at Manawaki, Que., after a pleasant holiday at his home.

Miss Ida Fletcher, of Quebec, spent the Easter holidays at her home here.

Mr. Ira McFaul and Miss Elva returned on Friday last from a motor trip to New York.

Mrs. Wm. Stewart and Miss Eileen McGibbon were in Ottawa last week-end.

Miss Hamilton spent the holiday at her home in Shawville, Que.

Miss Rose-Mary Poitras, of Ottawa, spent the Easter holidays with her father, Rev. Mr. Poitras.

Mr. Denis Staniforth and Miss Boyd, of Montreal, were welcome visitors to this community during the Easter holidays.

Mrs. H. Gardiner spent the Easter holidays visiting her sisters in Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Smith and little daughter are leaving shortly for England. Their many friends wish them the best of luck and a safe trip.

Automobile Insurance

LOWEST RATES
HIGHEST SERVICE

Special Farmers' Policy

Ernest Deslauriers,
32 Grace St. Phone 180.
Lachute, Que.

A feature of the Song Service in the United Church on Sunday evening last, was the rendering of three Easter Choruses by members of the Mission Band, under the direction of Mrs. Thompson. All numbers were well given with expression and sympathy, and created an excellent impression. The singing showed careful and painstaking training and in every respect was quite up to expectations. Many expressions of real appreciation were offered the youthful singers, and to their able leader, for the pleasure afforded by these items of the evening's program.

HARRINGTON

Mr. John Dobbie spent a few days with his parents in Lachute last week.

Miss Jessie Dobbie and Miss Jean Marshall, spent the Easter holidays at Mr. R. Dobbie's.

Miss Edna Polter, Miss Elsie MacTavish and Miss M. McLean spent the week-end visiting friends in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Copeland, of Lachute, visited friends here on Sunday last.

Miss G. McRae and Richard MacTavish, of Lachute Academy, spent the Easter holidays with their parents.

For Housewives

Who Want Brighter Homes

TWO BRUSHES FREE

Call at our Store before
MAY 6th.

Brushes will be given to adults only, and one set to a family.

R. McArthur & Son,
144 Main Street.

REX THEATRE

April 28-29

"What Price Hollywood"
with Music, Song and Dance and cast of well-known favorites Com: "Stealin' Home"

Also News Reel
Saturday Matinee 3 p.m. 25c.

April 30—May 1st.

By SPECIAL REQUEST
we present one of the BIGGEST SUCCESSES of the FRENCH SCREEN
Henri Garat & Lillian Harvey in La Fille et Le Garçon

And on the Same Program:
Ken. Maynard and the Wonderhorse "TARZAN" in

"Drum Taps"

With Los Angeles Boy Scout Troop No. 107. The most unusual Western Picture of the year.
Com: "Drug on the Market"
Sunday Matinee 3 p.m. 25c.

May 2-3-4

Right From Broadway to You Lee Tracy, Benita Hume, Una Merkel, James Gleason in

Clear all Wires

Not often do you know in advance how you're going to like a Picture.
Com: "The Giddy Age"
Hodge Podge: "Across America in 10 minutes"

May 5-6

Seth Parker and his Jonesport Neighbors in

Way Back Home

A Radio Sensation on the Screen for the first time.
Special Added Attractions:
Stan. Laurel and Oliver Hardy in SCRAM

Now on Display at our Showrooms THE NEW FORD V-8

The roomiest and most powerful Ford car ever built. 112 inch wheelbase—bodies are wider and nearly 12 inches longer. 75 horsepower engine. Over 80 miles an hour. New all-aluminum cylinder head, giving more power, smoothness and economy.

Complete details now available at our Showrooms

You are cordially invited to call in and LOOK IT OVER.

GEO. Y. DEACON, Ford Dealer

PHONE NO. 26. LACHUTE MILLS, QUE.

Spring is Here!

—with those Housecleaning and Decorating jobs; with the joys of gardening; with the "touching up" of your automobile and property; building, etc.

Phone us at 12J, and we will help you in selecting the most serviceable tools and household aids.

T. McQuat & Son

For Prompt Delivery

SPRING SPECIALS!

Great variety of all new goods in Ladies' & Gents' Suits & Coats.

150 Ladies' Dresses, reg. $6.75 for $3.95
50 Ladies' Coats, pure wool tweed, latest styles at $7.95
Men's Suits (all wool serge) different shades and 2 pairs of pants for $14.95

A visit to our store will ensure you real satisfaction.

ASSALY'S

Main St., next to Rex Theatre.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
© 1932, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for May 7

JESUS FACES THE CROSS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 10:32-52.
GOLDEN TEXT—And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem. Luke 9:51.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Doing Hard Things.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Doing Hard Things.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Cost of True Greatness.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Greatness Through Sacrificial Service.

I. Jesus Foretells His Death and Resurrection (vv. 32-34).

This is the third time he makes this prediction. This time it was while on his way to Jerusalem.

1. Jesus going before the disciples (v. 32). Jesus was going with the full consciousness of the awful tragedy of the cross before him, the treachery of Judas, the fiery persecutions of the priests and scribes, the unjust judgment, the delivery to Pontius Pilate, the mocking, the scourging, the crown of thorns, the cross between malefactors, the nails, the spear—all were spread before him. The notion that the death of Christ was incidental to his career is most fallacious. The very purpose of the incarnation was the vicarious death (Heb. 2:14).

2. The amazed disciples (v. 32). His utterances and demeanor filled their minds with perplexity and their hearts with awe.

3. The crowd followed in fear (v. 32, B. V.). The strange atmosphere and happenings struck them with awe and fear.

4. Jesus instructed the twelve (vv. 33, 34). In this state of confusion Jesus called them to himself and patiently instructed them as to "what things should happen unto him."

a. "Delivered unto the chief priests and scribes."

b. "They shall condemn him to death and deliver him to the Gentiles."

c. "They shall mock, scourge, spit upon, and kill him."

d. "The third day he shall rise again."

II. The Ambitious Request of James and John (vv. 35-45).

1. What it was (vv. 35-37). It was for a place of pre-eminence in the Kingdom. According to Matthew, their mother was the intercessor (Matt. 20:20). Christ had told them of the awful agony of the cross and also of the glory which should follow. It was not entirely for their glory that they made this request, but because of their personal desire to be with their Lord.

2. Jesus' reply (vv. 38-45).

a. To James and John (vv. 38-40).

(1) Their misconception rebuked. "Ye know not what ye ask."

(2) Positions of glory in Christ's Kingdom are earned, not obtained through favor or arbitrary assignment. The way to honor is through suffering. The cup which they were to drink was all that they were to suffer because of his crucifixion.

b. To the ten disciples (vv. 41-45).

(1) Their displeasure (v. 41). They were displeased with the request of James and John, because they were not free from selfish ambition.

(2) True greatness declared (vv. 42-45). To minister to others is greater than to be ministered unto (v. 43). Among the Gentile nations greatness was conceded to those who exercised authority over others. The highest standard of Christ's Kingdom is to forget self in devoted service to others, even to the giving of one's life.

III. Jesus Cures Blind Bartimaeus (vv. 46-52).

Though already bearing the weight of his cross, he had time for gracious deeds. Blind Bartimaeus received his sight.

1. Bartimaeus' request (vv. 46, 47). As soon as he heard that Jesus was passing by he cried to him for help. The fact that he addressed him as the Son of David showed that he recognized his Messiahship.

2. Rebuked by the multitude (v. 48). This rebuke provoked even a more earnest cry from Bartimaeus.

3. The blessing granted (vv. 49-52). Though Jesus knew his desire, he wished him definitely to commit himself. Note the progress in the experience of Bartimaeus.

a. A blind beggar (v. 46). b. His cry for mercy (v. 47). c. The persistence in his cry (v. 48). d. His response to the call of Jesus (vv. 49, 50). e. His specific request (v. 51). f. He immediately received his sight (v. 52).

How quickly an earnest soul may pass from sore need to jubilant discipleship.

Hypocrisy

I saw about a peck of counterfeit dollars once. Did I go to the window and throw away all my good dollars? No. Yet you reject Christianity because there are hypocrites, or counterfeit Christians.—W. E. Biederwolf.

Show Them Christ

Let every preacher show the people a Crucified Savior and may it never be said by any who sit under your ministry, "Where are the prints of the nails?"

"HAD CONSTIPATION SINCE BIRTH OF MY FIRST CHILD"

Then Mrs. King Discovered ALL-BRAN

We quote from her voluntary letter:

"I have suffered from terrible constipation since the birth of my first child—9 years ago! I have tried everything and nothing had any lasting results. Very reluctantly I tried your 'ALL-BRAN' with no faith in it at all. Much to my surprise, I have not had to take any medicine since starting to use ALL-BRAN, 4 months ago."—Mrs. Doris E. King (address furnished upon request).

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking pills and drugs—often harmful. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Remarkable Carving

With a pocket knife and a piece of glass, Mowritz Peterson, of Portland, Ore., carved a model of the frigate Constitution that is all of wood, even to its 37 sails. Each sail was carved and shaved down to a thickness of an eighth of an inch, from a block of wood three inches thick. It took an average of four days to make each sail, and a year to finish the boat. The hull was made of western red cedar and the sails of Idaho white pine. Two other woods, Port Orford cedar and California sugar pine, were used for the smaller parts.

Impasse

The somewhat irascible superintendent of a public edifice watched two women going through the building opening doors and then retreating. He approached them and said: "It beats all how people will wander around without asking directions when we employ attendants to direct them. Now then, what are you ladies looking for?"

"Politeness," murmured one of them softly.

Spade's a Spade

Ted may not be a bridge expert but he knows his cards. One day he was sent to a neighbor's to borrow a spade that Dad wished to use. But the neighbor said he had none. Then Ted's attention was attracted to a card game that was in progress and running to the table he picked up an 'ace' and excitedly exclaimed: "Why, here's a spade."

"You've heard him and smiled! Don't miss seeing him, and enjoy a hearty laugh.—Eddie Cantor at the Rex, May 7th.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 30.

The Golden Text is: (Job 31: 3) "Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity?"

Among the Scriptural citations comprised in the Lesson-Sermon is the following: "Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous. For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish." (Psalms 1: 5, 6.)

Also comprised in the Lesson-Sermon are the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Science reveals the necessity of sufficient suffering, either before or after death, to quench the love of sin." "It is error to suffer for aught but your own sins. Christ, or Truth, will destroy all other supposed suffering, and real suffering for your own sins will cease in proportion as the sin ceases." (Pages 36 and 391.)

Have you discarded your battery Radio? They are still in use in the country where there is no electric power service. Exchange your set for something useful—through the free Barter Ads. next week.

Hints for Homebodies

Specially written for Readers of The Watchman.

By JESSIE ALLAN BROWN

SPEND WHEN POSSIBLE

A well-to-do woman very proudly remarked, the other day that she had not spent a cent on clothes for a year, had not bought as much as a shoe-string. We should not judge other people, and as this woman is very much interested in underprivileged children, it is more than possible that the extra money has gone to help them. On the other hand, there are women who are taking advantage of this present wave of economy to do without the things that under normal conditions they would buy. They may feel that what they would spend would not make much difference. Individually, it would not but collectively, it would make a material difference. Every purchase that is made means work for some one. And it is work that is needed, not charity.

FURNITURE SHOULD BE BALANCED

Most women like to buy something new for their homes, at Spring-cleaning time. This year it may not be easy for some of us to do this, but if we cannot buy new things, let us look around and see that we are making the best use of the things we already possess. Look at your furniture with the critical eye of an outsider, pretend that it is not yours at all, and see if it is not possible to rearrange things to better advantage.

Many rooms lack balance. For instance, all the large heavy pieces may be on one side. We may not recognize that a room lacks balance, but we will know instinctively when we see it that it is not a comfortable looking room. See that your room is well balanced and that your furniture is arranged in hospitable groups.

I have a room in mind which disregards all known decorating rules and in consequence is not a happy room. The room itself is not too well shaped, as it is too long for its width, consequently being narrow. Try and see this room in your mind's eye. The large window faces North; double doors on the South; on the West wall is the piano and chesterfield; the East wall has a French door and a large bookcase is between the window and the French door, not flat against the wall but angle-wise because of the door.

The effect is to dislike a chesterfield in front of a window, but there are times when there is no other place for it. In this room it would be much better in front of the window than on the same wall as the piano. At present there is a large comfortable over-stuffed chair in front of the window. There is no other chair near it and there it stands in splendid isolation. Anyone sitting in it is isolated too. The room would be much larger looking and more attractive by re-arrangement of the furniture. The chesterfield

BOOKS PROHIBITED

According to the April issue of National Revenue Review, publications at present banned from importation into Canada include the following:

Jail Bait, a book by Sally Chayes; Almanach Gaulois, a French illustrated magazine; Calgary Eye Opener, monthly; Film Fun, monthly; Lady By Chance, a book by Charles G. Shaw; Female, a book by D. Henderson Clarke; The Cautious Amorist, book by Norman Lindsay; Ballyhoo and College Life, illustrated monthly magazines. All the foregoing are American publications, with exception of the second named, which is printed in Paris.

might be placed in front of the window; the piano moved along the wall into the position the chesterfield now holds; the bookcase taken from its angle-wise position in front of the door and put in the wall space South of the door; then the large chair might be put in front the French door where the bookcase is now. The chair would be close to the chesterfield and would foster a more friendly feeling. At present, there is a small table beside a chair that no one would ever choose for comfort. If this table were placed beside the over-stuffed chair then the lamp and smoking paraphernalia which it now holds would be of some use and would make for comfort and friendliness.

The present vogue for small tables makes for comfort. Try to have a small table by each chair that will be chosen in which to read. This will take care of the books, the magazines, the smoker's accessories, the sewing, or the apples or candy which may be in use. A bridge or table lamp by which to work or read is much better than central lighting.

Again I say, look over your room with an impartial eye and see if by re-arrangement you cannot improve its appearance and its comfort.

PROPERLY HUNG PICTURES

The rule for picture hanging is, to hang the mat eye-level. This is one of the most frequently broken rules in interior decoration. People who should know better will insist on hanging their pictures too high. This room about which I have told you has the pictures hung so high that you would almost have to stand on tip-toe to reach the frames. It would be impossible to dust them without standing on something. That of course is the least objectionable part of it. What is the use of hanging up a picture if it is so high that you cannot enjoy it to the fullest? Friends of ours have just bought a very lovely oil-painting, which cost them a considerable amount of money and of which they are justly very proud. It is hung so high that you fairly have to peer at it to see what is all about. It would add very much to the enjoyment of the picture if it were hung low enough to properly woe it.

Sometimes there is a great unevenness in the height of pictures in the same room. It will add to the balance and the feeling of restfulness in the room, if all pictures are hung with the bottom of the frame, the same distance from the floor. That of course is a general rule which cannot be applied to pictures hung in groups.

TO IMPROVE FRUIT SALADS

If you wish to give a zip to your fruit salads, make a dressing of equal parts of whipped cream and mayonnaise and to this add a generous dash of cayenne pepper.

Neighbor: "Why is your car painted blue on one side and red on the other?"

Speedy: "Oh, it's a fine idea. You should just hear the witnessess contradicting one another."

We advertise - because

we know our Meats, Vegetables, and Canned Goods have the freshness and quality we claim for them.

We invite you to shop here regularly, and share this confidence in reliable foods.

Jos. Speight, Butcher

How about that new Sink or Bath Room?

Prices on Request.

R. McArthur & Son

Phone 172 w.

144 Main Street

WHY INSTITUTE MEMBERS ARE INTERESTED IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY

In Canada today the textile industry is the largest employer of women industrial workers. Out of 90,000 workers employed in Canadian factories, one half are women.

The majority of the mills are situated in small places of under 10,000 population. These mills serve as a local source for employment not only of men but of women where such employment is needed and help maintain the smaller towns as local markets and social centres for the farming districts surrounding these towns.

The people of Canada are mentally and physically of as high a grade as any people in the world. Its women and girls are especially intelligent, adaptable and energetic. The climate is suitable for the working of textile fibres. In many parts of Canada natural water is unrivalled throughout the world for textile purposes. Those are some of the reasons why goods produced in Canada are of such high quality.

The principal textile fibres manufactured in Canada are wool, silk, cotton, artificial silk and flax.

The silk industry is an important and growing industry, there being about forty-three mills in Canada producing silk goods.

Raw silk is imported into Canada just as it is reeled from the cocoons and all the rest of the work is done here, thus supplying the maximum amount of labour to Canadian workers.

Artificial silk, rayon and celanese, are produced in Canada from wood pulp and from cotton linters. The rayon mills are situated at Cornwall, Ontario, and the celanese mills at Drummondville, Quebec.

There are many knitting mills in Canada, using wool, silk, rayon, cotton threads and these various fibres in combination. The full-fashioned hosiery mills turn out the finest silk stockings in the world. The Silk Products Manufacturing plant in Sherbrooke is the largest plant producing full-fashioned hosiery in the British Empire. All full-fashioned hosiery now used in Canada is made in Canada. In 1931 there were twenty-one mills producing this class of goods.

All goods manufactured in Canada are dyed and finished here. There are no woollen or knitted goods sent out of Canada to be dyed and finished, but on the other hand, there are five large plants that in the past have done nothing but dye and finish woollens and knitted goods produced in England and France.

ROBERT HAMILTON

for FLOUR, GRAIN, & FEED

Also Best Prices on

COAL

Phone 240.

Service is a By-Word

at this up-to-date
Filling Station

Bring your Car for general Service—Oiling, Tire Inspection, Greasing, and Refilling Crank Case, Gear Box and Transmission to suit the season and temperature

YOUR CAR DESERVES EXPERT ATTENTION

We invite old friends and new, to take advantage of our Service in the interests of a successful motoring season.

Tires, Gasoline, Grease & Oils

MUIR BROTHERS

MAIN STREET, LACHUTE

Give your Watch a Chance

All machinery, especially the light, delicate mechanism of a watch, needs a good cleaning and overhauling occasionally.

Now is a good time. The cost of repairs was never cheaper. And in slack seasons like the present, more time and care can be given to each individual watch or clock. Also it will be repaired and returned to you more promptly.

We are using the most modern and greatly improved methods of watch repairing, which will certainly prolong the life and usefulness of your watch.

F. E. Earle, Jeweller, Main Street, Lachute

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired. Broken lenses repaired.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

No Police Required

A "filler" news item mentioning a police force as one of the Scout-operated features of the 1933 World Jamboree in Hungary has drawn a statement of arresting significance from Dominion Headquarters of the Boy Scouts Association. This is

BUSINESS CARDS

M. A. BELANGER
Jeweller.

Bethany St., Lachute.
Wide and Up-to-date Choice of
GIFTS and JEWELRY
Quick Service on Watchmaking
and Jewelry Repairs

MISS M. V. SLATER

Wedding Gifts of Taste
Watch, Clock and Jewelry repairs
Jewelry, Silverware, Cut Glass,
French Ivory Watches and Clocks
Main Street, Lachute, Que.

Bring your Radio troubles to
LACHUTE RADIO
SALES & SERVICE

Radio Supplies. Free Tube Testing
Prompt and Efficient Service
W. J. DOIG
271 Main St. Phone 820.

H. LACHANCE

Expert in welding of all metals.
Shop in the C. P. R. yard, Lachute,
equipped for all kinds of work,
including Cog and Gear rebuilding,
Auto Body, and Mud-Guard
repairing, Painting, etc. Satisfaction guaranteed.

If you have any plastering
work to be done,
See
J. R. A. CARIGNAN
145 Princess St., Lachute.
Tel. 121 r. 3.

LACHUTE MARBLE
AND GRANITE WORKS

We deal in Foreign and Domestic Marble and Granite, first class
work and the best material, in all
latest designs, always on hand.
Satisfaction guaranteed in all kinds
of Cemetery Work, Monuments or Headstones.
W. M. Scott, Proprietor.

INTERIOR DECORATING

Painting, paperhanging, and decorating. Estimates given on all work if desired, also agent for Empire Wall Paper, at very moderate
prices. Complete line of 1932
samples. Book of two hundred
to choose from.

R. N. MOORE,
225 Main Street, Lachute.

FLOWERS! FLOWERS!

Orders filled on Short Notice
Bouquets, Wreaths, Sprays Etc.
FOR ALL OCCASIONS
Delivered to Any Ship in Montreal
Dock, or to any hospital, free
of charge
Order from
MADAME A. FASSIO
Phone 344. 225 Main St.

LACHUTE
BOARD OF TRADE

Meets last Thursday of
Every Month

J. W. Gall, President,
J. S. Giles, Secretary

LACHUTE EXPRESS

PHONES: Lachute 348j or 348w.
Montreal, Marquette 3966 or 7293

Daily Service between Lachute
and Montreal.

All loads fully insured.

Montreal Warehouse:
Care of J. B. BAILLARGEON,
8 Queen Street.

N. W. BOYD, Prop.

Try us for service.
68 Robert Street, Lachute, Que.
Residence: 89 Robert Street.

SPENCER GARMENTS

Individually Designed
for Figure Correction, Style Health & Comfort

Represented by
GLADYS M. DRAPER, R.N.

342 Main St., Lachute
Phone 250.

the declaration that police are never required at international Boy Scout gatherings, no matter how large.

In illustration reference is made to the gathering of 53,300 Scouts from 73 different countries and parts of the British Empire at Arrowe Park, Birkenhead, England, in 1929. The Birkenhead authorities, learning that this canvas city of youth would include in its population thousands of lads from the recent enemy countries of the Great War—France, Germany, Belgium, Hungary, Russia, Poland, as well as Britain and the United States—on opening day posted police at strategic points about the park, "to keep the peace." By the end of the second day the last Bobby had been withdrawn.

Boyhood, as yet unspoiled by suspicion and hate, plus the Scout code of world brotherhood, had made misunderstandings impossible. Friendliness and confidence were taken for granted, without regard to colour, creed, race or language. A frequent scene was a laughing group of boys, all of a different country, hands on one another's shoulders, joking and "talking" somehow with gestures and a polyglot invention of their own called "Jamboree."

At the end of the two weeks' camp one of the heads of the Canadian Scout contingent chatting with the police inspector of the area, inquired what he thought of the gathering.

In accustomed phraseology the inspector replied: "There wasn't a single case of crime or disturbance to report."

Will these lads, when grown up, ignore the teachings of suspicion and hate, and continue to meet in friendliness and good will? Let us hope so. It could mean much to this suspicious old world.

Canadian Scout Paper goes to Kabul

Kabul, Afghanistan, has been added to the wide overseas mailing list of the Canadian Scouting monthly, "The Scout Leader." The request came from Mohammad Yakub, at the Kabul Ministry of Education.

Scouts' Important Part at Roosevelt Inauguration.

During his inauguration
President Roosevelt had four Boy Scouts as his personal aides.
Some 800 Scouts assisted the traffic police along the line of march of the inaugural procession, 760 acted as ushers and ticket takers on reviewing stands, and 20 served at the ten first aid stations.

The Scout Motto in other languages.

Scouts of other lands say "Be Prepared" thus: Albania, "Pregati"; Austria and Germany,
"Seibereit"; Belgium, "Toujours pret"; Chili, "Siempre listo"; Denmark and Norway, "Vaer
beredt"; Finland and Sweden,
"Var redo"; France, "Soit pret";
Holland, "Waakt"; Iceland,
"Vertu Viduin"; Latvia, "Esi Modrs"; Poland, "Czuwaj"; Portugal, "Sempre alerta."

Jamboree Scouts will visit Rome

It is expected that many of the Catholic Boy Scouts attending this year's Scout gathering in Hungary will visit Rome and be received at the Vatican before their return.

"Rora"

The Rovers (older Scouts) and Rangers (older Guides) of England now have their joint publication, a quarterly magazine, "Rora." The title represents the first two letters of Rover and Ranger. "Rora" carries information of common interest on folk dancing, play acting, hiking, music, etc.

SUPERIOR!

COUNTER
CHECK BOOKS
CARBON LEAF
CARBON BACK
STYLES

ORDERS TAKEN AT THIS OFFICE

WATCHMAN OFFICE

Better Cooked Foods

WITH THE NEW

Coleman

Safety Instant-Gas

The Modern Stove for Rural Homes!

Have downy angel food cakes,
Parker House Rolls, tea biscuits,
delicious meats... better foods
of all kinds... in the "flavor-saving" Coleman oven! The new Instant-Gas Stove with its marvelous features, makes it easy to cook foods in a more appetizing
way. Lights like gas... instantly.
Cooks like gas... makes and burns
its own gas from regular gasoline.

MODEL No. 932
with Concealed Fuel Tank
and Green-Green Ripple-tone finish.

MODEL No. 902
Standard Range finished
in snow-white porcelain.

MODEL No. 978
Sturdy Utility Stove with 3 burners. Brown finish.

Handsome new models with concealed fuel tanks; glistening
porcelain finish in the new Ripple-tone effect; new and beautiful colors. They set the pace in style as well as mechanical perfection. Various models to suit
every cooking need.

The Instant-Gas is the safe,
dependable, economical stove.
It's ready... instantly for any cooking job. And it's a real money saver... average fuel cost per meal for a family of five is only 2¢. Be sure to see these new modern stoves that put an end to cooking
drudgery. They make cooking an easier, pleasanter task.

ASK YOUR LOCAL DEALER

or write to

THE COLEMAN LAMP & STOVE CO., Ltd.

TORONTO, 8, ONTARIO

(52-122)

Administration of Towns in Europe

Favorable Impressions from the International Congress.

Two American delegates to the International Congress of Local Authorities, held in London last May, have issued a substantial report on their findings of local government in Europe. The report, written by Donald C. Stone and Alice B.
Stone, has been published under auspices of the International City Managers' Ass'n. (Chicago) and is entitled, "Some Observations on Municipal Practices in European Cities." The Municipal Review (London) digests these American impressions in its February issue as follows:

"There are two features," say the authors,
"very much in favour of the English system.
First of all, the real administrative officers are never elected. They are appointed by the committees of council. This eliminates, at the outset, 90 per cent. of the ballyhoo and confusion which characterise our municipal elections."

In the second place, Mr. Stone notes that "there is an enviable characteristic of British financial administration which reflects certain conditions in its public service as a whole which unfortunately we do not possess in the United States. I refer to the maturity of their cities and counties, a long established tradition of general recognition by the public that tenure of office of administrative officials must be secure, the high ethics of public service of councilmen, the country-wide insistence that there must be absolute honesty in governmental affairs, the ability of the government to attract to the public service the best brains and character that the country has to offer."

At the same time it is Mr. Stone's view that city government to-day is too complex to rely upon laymen, and, in this connection, "the only thing that saves the British system is the high sense of public duty which usually makes the council member a reasonable man to deal with and agreeable to sound proposals of his department head." There is not, he thinks, adequate administrative supervision and co-ordination in finance. "In the nature of things, the town clerk can never be a chief administrative co-ordinator, because he does not control the budget or financial machinery. Without an executive budget the amount of money to be allotted to a particular department depends largely upon the energy and persuasive ability of the head of a particular department and his committee. In this way, certain departments have received more than their due share of funds when judging the balance of community service as a whole."

Apart from this point, Mr. Stone is full of admiration for the "splendid practice" in the preparation of the budget and for the excellence of municipal accounting. In short, he considers English local government "excellent, but not without defect," and is of opinion that a responsible executive would improve it enormously.

This he finds in the continental countries—an executive branch of the local government which maintains a general administrative control over all local activities—and, whereas this executive differs from country to country—in some places it is an individual, in others a collective body, and elsewhere it is both—its responsibility for the preparation and execution of the budget is closely fixed. The methods practised in each country are described by Mr. Stone in detail, and this reveals the extensive control which is, in most of these countries, exercised over local finance by a representative of the central government.

Mr. Stone mentions, apparently with approval, the German system of appointing the same person in local areas to carry on both communal and state services. This, he says, "utilises an official's time to advantage and also assists in harmonising state and local government." It does not appear to occur to him that this places the person in the difficult position of serving two masters, whose interests are often opposed, a drawback which is certainly very widely felt.

The question of the advantage or disadvantage of such an executive in local government, largely independent of the elected body which appoints it, was one of the principal subjects discussed at the recent International Congress. The continental view was generally in favour of it, both in principle and in practice, but the Germans appear to be tending recently towards the English attitude of keeping full responsibility in the elected council.

Mr. Stone praises highly the English street cleaning and refuse disposal. As to the latter he says: "Refuse disposal methods in England and Scotland are unique. The main object is to salvage as much material as possible, and to dispose of the refuse at the lowest cost possible without nuisance. You may say, 'Why, of course, that is what we are trying to do in the United States.' True, but the main difference is that the British have accomplished something whereas we are still talking about it for the most part." He refers with much appreciation to the work of Mr. Dawes, and writes at length on "Bradford, the Mecca of controlled tipping".

Refuse collection on the continent is also said to be good, and special reference is made to the replaceable container system in Cologne, and to the systems of Amsterdam and the Hague.
Part of the Dutch practice, which is especially singled out for praise is the costing method. In England, on the other hand, there is little cost accounting, as to street maintenance, "for day-today administrative purposes."

Police organization is a subject which occupies a large proportion of this report, and in almost every respect Mr. Stone finds the English police superior to those in the United States.
Indeed, almost his only criticism is that "the physical headquarters of most of the departments are not very inviting... Many of them do not provide in an adequate and attractive manner a place for the receiving of complaints or transacting business with citizens." Who will say that this criticism is not justified?

In connection with each subject touched upon Mr. Stone shows his interest in statistics, and it is interesting to find that here, again, England is ahead of other countries. "The central governments in continental European countries do not collect information concerning local government operation to the extent of the Ministry of Health in England. Although the countries conduct periodic censuses which show similar information about cities as our Bureau of Census reports, almost nothing exists concerning the services of cities and their cost." The International Institute of Statistics is attempting to remedy the situation and, says Mr. Stone, has made noteworthy progress in the collection of statistics of municipal activities all over the world. In view of the difficulty of obtaining comparable information, this Institute is now, jointly with the International Union of Local Authorities, considering the advisability of taking one public service at a time and standardising the returns for that.

FALSE ECONOMY

In reference to the efforts of the Waterloo Council to save money, The Swanton Courier says: "If thieves and bank robbers read the papers they will all be making for Waterloo, P. Q., because the powers that be have cut the night con-stable's 'salary' to $7.00 per week, and expect him to keep awake, alert and on the qui vive from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m." This hits the nail on the head and it will be surprising if some insurance companies do not investigate the capabilities of a night watchman who will work for such a salary.
It is not long ago that certain insurance companies issued a warning to managers of factories against the practice of trying to get a cheap night watchman without regard to his ability to protect when protection was required.—Granby Leader.

TORONTO WILL HAVE POLICE RADIO

Following the lead of Montreal and large United States cities, Toronto is to have a fleet of radio-equipped police cars. A sum of $22,000 will be placed in the estimates to start the system.

TOWN SOLD FOR TAXES

Deserted when the Wheelwright Paper Co.
shut down, the hamlet of Wheelwright, in Western Massachusetts, will be sold for $21,000. due in back taxes. The town of Hardwick probably will buy it in March and resell the property to any prospective mill operator for $15,000.
The village has a mill building, twenty dwellings, a $100,000 concrete dam, sidewalks, a sewer system and hydrants.

UNEMPLOYED HAVE RIGHT SPIRIT

At a meeting of a number of unemployed men and some members of the Welfare Relief Association of Gananogue, Ont., the matter of street cleaning was discussed. The men volunteered to clean the streets without cost to the town.
Promptly next morning, ten or twelve men reported for work. They were given the town's utensils and at once took over the new job. As a result of their generous action, a citizen said he would increase his contribution to the relief fund.

Religious Unbelief

Infidel is a term given to disbeliev-ers in religion by those who do believe, rather than by themselves. An infidel is one who does not believe in religion, or, often, in the particular religion of those about him. An athe-ist is one who denies the existence of a God; while an agnostic is one who professes ignorance as to whether or not there may be a God, a future existence, etc., and who often holds that man cannot possibly prove the matter either way. The inventor of the term agnostic was Thomas Huxley.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Divisional Line

The Continental divide of North America consists of a continuous line extending north and south from the Arctic seas to the boundary between Panama and Colombia. In the United States it follows, as a rule, but not always, the most elevated portions of the Rocky mountains. Water falling east of this line flows into the Pacific.
The term "Great Divide" is a popular one, but rather indefinite in meaning, and applies to a vast region in Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado traversed by the Continental divide.

These Bargains are

Real Money Savers

Ladies' Spring Coats

All New Styles. Wonderful Bargains for $7.98 up

GOOD PRINTED FLAT CREPE
at 98c.

Ladies' New Model
Spring Hats
Extra Fine, at $1.49

Assad's Store

238 MAIN STREET

Churches

THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S NINE REASONS

Why A Man Should Go to Church

1. Yes, I know all the excuses I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees, or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, as well as in church. But I also know as a matter of cold fact—the average man does not thus worship.

LACHUTE UNITED CHURCH

Rev. W. B. Rosborough, B.A., B.D.
10 a.m., Sabbath School.
11 a.m., Morning Worship.
This service will be attended by the members of Laurentian Lodge, No. 14, I.O.O.F., in commemoration of the 114 Anniversary of the Founding of their Order.
7 p.m., Evening Service.
Subject: "Work."
2:30 p.m., East Settlement.
Services on Daylight Saving.

BROWNSBURG UNITED CHURCH

Rev. A. E. Hagar, Pastor.
Sunday, April 30, 1933.
Services are on Summer Time.
10 a.m., Sunday School and Bible Class.
11:30 a.m., Morning Worship.
7:30 p.m., Evening Worship.
All are cordially invited to be present.
Monday, April 31, Sunbeam Mission Band at 4 o'clock.

Special Evangelistic Services

BAPTIST CHURCHES
Rev. F. W. Dyson, Pastor.
Dalesville 11 a.m.
Rev. Wm. Fraser, of Windsor, Ont.
Brownsburg 3 p.m.
Rev. Wm. Fraser.
LACHUTE 7 p.m.

MAPLE AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. E. G. Baxter.
Daylight Saving Time
10:30 a.m., Sunday School.
11:30 a.m. Morning Worship.
7:45 p.m. Song Service.
8:00 p.m. "The Torn Veil."
Wed., 7:30 p.m., B.Y.P.U.
Fri., 7:30 p.m., Prayer Meeting.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND

2nd. Sunday after Easter
St. Simeon's, Lachute
11 a.m. Morning Prayer and Litany.
7 p.m., Evensong.
St. George's, Brownsburg,
3 p.m., Brownsburg.
Services will be held on Daylight Saving Time.
Rev. W. LeCras, Rector.

LAKEFIELD SERVICES

St. John's Church, Shrewsbury 10:30 a.m.
Holy Trinity Church, Lakefield 2:30 p.m.

MARGARET RODGER MEMORIAL

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Rev. H. Cousens, B.A., B.D.
Sunday School 10 a.m.
Morning Worship 11 a.m.
Evening Service 7:30 p.m.
Brownsburg Worship 3 p.m.
All services on Daylight Saving Time.

GRENVILLE

Miss Lillian Steele spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. W. Eaton in Montreal.
Miss O. Laviolette was the guest of her brother in Montreal last week-end.
Miss Vera Gauley has returned to Montreal, after spending the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gauley.
Mrs. Allingham and son have returned to New York, after a short stay at her old home here, during the illness and death of her father, Mr. T. Cummings.
Mrs. (Dr.) Lefebvre, of Montreal, is still visiting her sister, Miss B. Cummings.
Miss McVicar, of Vankleek Hill, was the week-end guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. McVicar.
Rev. and Mrs. Boshart, of Montreal, and Rev. and Mrs. Riley, of Ottawa, attended the funeral of the late Mr. Cummings. Old friends were glad to see them in this village again.

The new U. S. dirigible, U. S. S. Macon, made its first flight on April 21. Tests have begun which will last six weeks.

∴ District News ∴

ST. ANDREWS EAST

Mr. and Mrs. George Elder and two little daughters visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Elder last week.
Mr. Frank Hollywood spent Saturday in Montreal.

Mrs. Harold Yale and Miss Jean Ferguson, of Montreal, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Yale last week.

Miss Ida Hooper was the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. Charman last week-end.

Dr. B. N. Wales spent the week-end in Montreal the guest of his niece, Mrs. Percy Corbett.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tarlton and Mr. and Mrs. B. Yale, and two children, of Montreal, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Yale.

Residents of St. Andrews were sorry to hear of the passing of Mr. Seymour Jones, at Burlington, Iowa, on Wednesday, April 19. In his youth, Mr. Jones was one of the bright students at the Wanless Academy of Carillon. His successful career as a hardware merchant reflects credit to his native town. At the time of his death he was in his seventy-eighth year. He is survived by one son, Norman Jones, a partner in the hardware business, and a daughter, the wife of Professor Hendel, of McGill University.

The Ladies Guild of United Church met last Wednesday afternoon, April 19th., in the Church Hall. The next meeting will be May 10th., when Mrs. Macaskill, Mrs. H. P. Bezanon, Mrs. L. H. Bezanon and Mrs. E. Charman will be the tea hostesses.

Miss Ruth McLaughlin spent several days in Montreal this week.

Over sixty persons from this village took advantage of the excursion to Montreal last week-end. These excursions have proved very popular during the winter and have been greatly enjoyed.

CUSHING

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Innes, of Montreal, are the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Innes at present.

Miss M. Wilson, of Hudson, has been spending the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Fuller.

Misses Ivy and Elsie Graham, of Montreal, and Mrs. J. Sandford, of Lachine, motored up on Tuesday to attend the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Andrew Graham Sr.

Misses Katherine and Eleanor Owens, of Aldershot and Ottawa who have been spending the Easter holidays with their mother, Mrs. D. W. Owens, have returned home.

Mr. Alton Douglas, of Eastern Ontario spent the Easter holidays with his parents in Chatsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans were in Lachute on Monday.
Mrs. John Sommerville and daughter Isabel of St. Philippe, were the guests of Miss Christie Graham, on Saturday.

Mr. R. J. Graham of Lachute, spent the week-end the guest of his brother, Mr. Fred Graham.

A very pleasant meeting of St. Mungo's Ladies' Association was held on Thursday of this week at the home of Mrs. John Innes.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

ALTERATIONS IN Passenger Train Service

effective
Sunday, April 30, 1933

For particulars, apply to J. S. GILES, Town Agent.

CUSHING WEST

Miss Muriel Cooke returned on Sunday from a month's visit to Mrs. Walter Mann at Star-dale, Ont.

Those from the vicinity who took advantage of the reduced rates to Montreal on the C.N.R. over the week-end were Miss Whelehan, Mrs. T. Ranger and Mr. Geo. Moncrieff, also Mrs. R. Welden of Stonefield.

Miss Eileen Smith, of Montreal, is a guest of Mrs. Usher this week.

Mrs. Usher arrived on Saturday last at her home here, after an absence of some months, the greater part of which she spent with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Wishart, at Belleville, Ont., but for the past few weeks she was the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Keatley, at Ottawa. Mr. Franklin Keatley accompanied his mother from Ottawa and is spending a few days here.

Mrs. Jas. Watson also arrived home on Saturday from spending the winter at Maniwaki with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Watson, and also visited with her daughter, Mrs. Rev. Norman Dowd, at Ottawa.

The Watchman regrets, owing to pressure of space, it is unable to publish Dr. B. N. Wales' address on The Seignior of Argenteuil, delivered last Friday before the Antiquarian & Numismatic Society in Montreal. This is a topic of particular interest in the County, and the address will appear if possible in next week's issue.

Rex Theatre

Coming Attractions:

"The Kid from Spain"
"Rasputin and the Empress"
"The White Sister", Etc.

Province of Quebec,
Municipality of Chatham,

Special Notice is hereby given by the undersigned, Albini Lamarche, secretary-treasurer that I will be at Brownsburg Club House, on Saturday, the 29th. of April from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. for the collection of Municipal taxes.

Signed,

ALBINI LAMARCHE,

A-27-1-c.

CALUMET

The Easter Services at Trinity Church was well attended, the number of communicants being the largest for some years. The Church was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants, and the Easter Music was sung with enthusiasm.

A number of the young ladies of this village, who are away teaching or engaged in other work, returned home for Easter.

The A. Y.P.A. held their first social evening on Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bridgen. Nearly all the members and several friends were present, enjoying a very pleasant time under the capable direction of the Social Committee headed by Mrs. Walter Welden.

The Restoration Fund Campaign is being conducted this week. Mr. Harold Brannan and his Committee are confident of a good response to their appeal. On Sunday, April 23rd. the Church service at Trinity was so arranged that the congregation was able to hear Canon Cody and the broadcast from Winnipeg.

Mr. Woodrow Bridgen is at present confined to his bed through sickness. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Miss Dakin was the guest of her brother, Mr. F. Dakin, for Easter.

On Easter Sunday, announcement was made that the late Miss Rhoda Elizabeth Whinfield had left $100 to Trinity Church. This amount has been added, in her name to the Endowment Fund.

Seek Health Where Others Find It

RENTING HEALTH WIPES AWAY ALL THE GUESS WORK

Know For Certain Your Case Will Be Benefited Before Spending Much Money on Uncertainties—Investigate

"Renting Health" is just another way to prove first that Electro-Magnetism will do for you, what it has done for thousands, before you spend money in buying.

This most startling offer made by special arrangement now fixes the rate so low, it is within the reach of every home to try Electro-Magnetism on the weekly or monthly rental basis for home use.

If health is not fully restored at the end of the first rental period, it may be rented for another week or month, and then, if you desire to buy, all rent paid applies on the purchase price. In no instance are you compelled to buy.

Many homes have been brightened many hearts may be gladdened and many sufferers have again been restored to health and happiness, because some one in the family has investigated this "New Way to Health."

Science is responsible for this new discovery. For over 40 years men have experimented to determine the effectiveness of Electro-Magnetism in the treatment of disease.

Its amazing value lies in the depth to which it penetrates, and is, as though electric energy were poured into your very veins. Through its stimulating forces it is intended to strike at the very cause of chronic troubles, viz:—"Toxic Poisoning."

Science has definitely proved that most diseases are caused by the presence in the tissues of poisonous waste matter—present because the body has been unable, without help, to oxidize this waste and eliminate it—and science offers you the logical remedy in Harmony which increases oxidation by inducing an alternating magnetic field through the body, thus striking at the very source of the trouble.

ELECTRO-MAGNETISM

Asthma Anemia
Arthritis
Bronchitis
Catarrh
Constipation
Eczema
Gall-Bladder
Goitre
Hemorrhoids
Insomnia
High Blood Pressure

to convert ordinary city current into magnetism within your body, stimulating circulation of the blood increasing vital energy, relieving congestion and pain, increasing the oxidation and pain, increasing the oxidizing power of the blood.

Because Electro-Magnetism tends to thoroughly eliminate toxic poisoning from the entire system, the diseases mentioned below, many of which it is said arise from toxic poisoning, have very successfully responded to electro-magnetism.

STRIKES AT THE CAUSE OF

Heart Trouble
Nervous Disorders
Neuritis
Paralysis
Poor Circulation Rheumatism
Lumbago

Sciatica
Sinus Trouble Stomach Trouble
Tumors
Ulcers
Varicose Veins

HOW TO USE ELECTRO MAGNETISM

Attach to a light socket and use it right over your clothing for five to ten minutes two or three times daily. There is no shock, no discomfort, but a restful, soothing feeling. It is just as simple as the illustration shows.

Thousands Have Regained Health Through Use of Electro-Magnetism Why Not Give it a Trial Yourself?

How can I get well and keep well? This question is in the minds of thousands, especially those of you who have tried so hard to regain health—and failed thus far.

The answer is—free your system from the toxic poisons that may cause your ills, stimulate the blood stream and aid nature in its effort to eliminate the wastes from the body. Will Electro-Magnetism do this?

Frankly, friends, you will never know until you try. We never make claims, as to what it will do for anyone. We say, "TRY IT" and prove to yourself, that your case can be helped.

By reading these testimonials you may learn what has inspired them. They did, just what you must do—and that is INVESTIGATE.

MONTREAL HARMONY OFFICE:

Bank of Commerce Bldg., 980 St. Catherine St., Cor. Metcalfe
Hydro Approval No. La2608—Guaranteed 10 years Manufactured in Canada
Phone: Lancaster 0808.

A Quality Which Is Incomparable

"SALADA" GREEN TEA

"Fresh from the Gardens"

Comfort -- Saving

You get both in a "SEMI-READY" garment. Comfort—because the garment is tailored to make you feel at ease when wearing it. Saving—because the price is right and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Ask the Man who wears one

Made to your Measure from $22.50 up.

W. G. Staniforth, Main St

Boots & Shoes Repaired.

Vankleek Hill Seed Cleaning Plant

All seed cleaned and graded

PRICES: 100 lbs. one cleaning 15 cts. 2 cleaning 25c.
1,000 lbs. or more, one cleaning 12 cts. 2 cleanings 20c.
Cleaning and grading, 100 lbs. 25c. 1,000 lbs. 20c.
Small seed, first cleaning 50 cts. 2nd. cleaning 25c.
3rd. cleaning 25c.
500 lbs. or more, 1st. cleaning 40 cts. 2nd. cleaning, 20c.
3rd. cleaning 20c.

Vankleek Hill Agricultural Society Props.

A. G. ODGEN, Operator

DOCTOR REPORTS RECOVERIES IN SPECIFIC CASES

Findings Taken From Columns Clinical Medicine and Surgery Published in June 1928 Issue

Results obtained in specific disease conditions by use of Electro-Magnetism were published in Clinical Medicine and Surgery, in the June number, 1928.

These were reported to the Medical profession through this publication and the results since then have borne out his contentions in a wonderful way. The results as published were as follows:

In 347 cases of HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE, reduction occurred in every case of treatment. Arteritis showed satisfactory results fully 75 per cent of the cases. Usually moderated rapidly and mobility was restored in all except in whom the ankylosis was of many years duration. In 72 cases of various types, pain was relieved in 27 cases of MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM, mostly in old people, there were NO FAILURES in those cases where it was possible to correct the conditions.

In 24 cases of SCIATICA and LUMBAGO, immediate relief occurred. 5 cases permanent recovery followed only a few treatments. Eleven cases recovered within one month.

Of 16 cases of NEURALGIA and NEURITIS, nearly all were relieved even at the very first.

VARICOSE VEINS were markedly reduced and the pain was generally relieved promptly in 27 cases.

DIABETIC ULCERS, occurring in two patients, healed. One case of diabetic gangrene of the toe is not tending. The pain of ulcers was markedly relieved. Six cases of varicose ulcers—all healed.

ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS—cases of asthma are completely relieved and one case of bronchitis in old lady. Many treatments are required.

ECZEMA showed rapid improvement, itching usually being relieved by the first treatment. Infants with eczema were very satisfactory patients. The dry eruptions were stubborn.

CONSTIPATION was corrected more than half the cases, sometimes with considerable disturbance for several days, due to liver stimulation.

The pain of STOMACH ULCER was promptly relieved and a general improvement was evident with increased acidity. INSOMNIA in various nervous conditions showed marked improvement.

In PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT with irritability and tenesmus, results were extremely gratifying, relief being immediate. Many cases of general debility and weakness, which no definite diagnosis was shown generally improved conditions.