WEEK-END ROBBERIES IN LACHUTE

Store and Railway Sheds Burglarized

Between Saturday night and Sunday morning a robbery occurred at J. D. Lemay's Store in Lachute, under similar circumstances to a burglary at this same establishment a few weeks ago. In each case the marauders had taken to the railway tracks and the goods were afterwards recovered on C. P. R. properties.

The store was broken into during the early hours of Sunday morning; it was when citizens were on their way to church that the broken glass was noticed in the front door of the store. Mrs. Lemay was at church herself when first notified of these discoveries.

On investigation it was found that some $250 worth of goods, comprising bales of material, clothing, and a case of biscuits, were missing. A quantity of the stolen goods was found on Sunday, in the C.P.R. section shed nearby. Three lads by the name of Potvin, Bourgeault and Bergeron made the discovery, and meanwhile it became known that other goods had been found near Vide Sac, where the night freight had demolished a handcar abandoned on the track. It was concluded the thieves had made their get-away on this car, taken from the section house, and seeing the freight as it rounded a curve had hurriedly left the car and the goods, and taken to the woods.

Mr. Lemay went to Montreal on Monday to identify the stolen property, which had been removed to Outremont station. In the meantime, also, a number of tools had been found missing from the C.N.R. section shed. These were found in Lavigne's yard adjoining the Lemay store, the intruder doubtless having brought them to break into the store. Entrance was gained however, by a hole in the glass door which had been cut apparently with a diamond.

Most of the stolen goods were recovered. Fifty cents in coppers had also been taken from the till. C.P.R. detectives arrived to investigate the theft of the railway equipment. The identity of the robbers has not been established; it is thought they are men from out-of-town, and indications suggest they have knowledge and working experience of railway equipment.

TEST MUSICAL TASTE OF COLLEGE STUDENTS

(Musical Review of Canada)

According to the New York Times of recent date, the musical taste of 817 Cornell students has just been appraised by a survey conducted by four students in a course given by Professor Gilbert D. Ross of the Department of Music.

The results, made public by Professor Paul Weaver, head of the department, indicate a cross section of college musical taste through the ten questions presented, ranging from "Do you like 'modern music'?" to "Who is Rachmaninoff?"

Among the instruments played by students, the piano is the favorite, especially with women, with the violin second. The other twenty-one instruments ranged from the cymbals to the organ, the ukelele to the library chimes.

Students in agriculture prefer band music to any other, while underclass students in general leaned to dance music, leaving the preference for symphony to the more mature upperclassmen and the students in the College of Architecture.

Over half of the students liked both popular and classical music about equally well. Opera

LACHUTE I.O.O.F. ATTEND ANGLICAN SERVICE

The Annual Church Parade of the Lachute Oddfellows, was held in the St. Simeon's Church on Sunday morning last.

The day was ideal, and a good representation of the brethren assembled in the Lodge rooms under the direction of Noble Grand, Wm. R. McFaul, and then paraded to the church.

Previous to the sermon, the Rev. Winter LeCras expressed his pleasure and extended a cordial welcome on behalf of the church to the visiting friends.

An appropriate address on "Friendship" was delivered by the rector, and many allegories of true companionship were illustrated in the inspiring sermon.

After the service, the Order returned to the Lodge Rooms to disband.

THE GRAND JURY SYSTEM

As Canada's judicial system is modeled after that of Great Britain, it is interesting to learn that the mother country has discharged its last grand jury. On this occasion a prominent Britisher, learned in the law, declared: "Over many years Parliament has raised so many protections against improper convictions, that the necessity for the services of grand juries has gradually diminished. So plentiful are the barriers raised in defense of an accused person that it is surprising that prisoners are convicted at all." This statement is equally applicable to Canada. The grand jury has become superfluous and a wholly unwarranted burden upon the public treasury. Judicial tyranny, which it was designed to thwart, is no longer possible. Fair treatment for accused person is assured without the presence of a grand jury and the periodic inspection of public buildings can be just as efficiently carried out by members of the County Council.

THE REASON WHY

(Oshawa Times)

The chief reason why newspaper advertising has increased so much in recent months is that progressive merchants and firms realize that it is the best method by which to secure their share of the increasing business.

With the return of warmer weather and the lure of the open river, it is not too early to issue again a warning, to those of our young people engaging in the healthful exercise of swimming. At this season there are always a number of accidents that are too often the result of carelessness. The laws of nature demand a certain lapse of time after participating in a hearty meal yet so many ignore this claim with disastrous results. Safety First will save much trouble.

received third place in voting. Forms of music disliked, included bagpipes, yodeling, jew's harp, calliope, organ, violin, piano, opera and soprano solos, women expressing aversion for sopranos.

Among the sixty-two composers named as favorites, Wagner and Beethoven took first and second places, with 70 and 64 votes, respectively. The next nine were: Victor Herbert, 46 votes; Irving Berlin, 34; George Gershwin, 30; Tchaikovsky, 23; Bach, 22; Brahms, 21; Chopin, 21; Schubert, 12, and Jerome Kern, 10.

Practically all the students who named Wagner as their favorite composer liked Guy Lombardo as orchestra leader.

INCREASE REPORTED IN MOTOR LICENCES

A slight increase in the number of motor licences issued in Quebec Province this year as compared to last has been recorded in 1934 to date, according to the provincial revenue.

The approximate increase is 5,000, with 57,000 licences issued up to the present time compared to 52,000 last year.

UNITED CHURCH MISSION BAND ENTERTAIN

Tribute is due to the juvenile members of the United Church Mission Band, who gave a splendid program in the church hall, on Saturday afternoon.

The entertainment consisted of good variety of plays and songs, which were all interpreted in fine manner, which evidenced conscientious practice and hard work on behalf of the kiddies, and demonstrated what can be done with good leadership.

Particular mention should be made of the "Vorean Play", and "Daffodil Song." They were exceptionally brilliant, and the latter was duly enhanced by the picturesque setting, and dresses of those participating.

Collection amounted to over $20.00.

Watchman files indicate that a post office was first established at Morin just fifty years ago, in 1884.

The first week of May impresses one with the prospective enjoyments of Summer. It also reminds us that Lachute Spring Fair is not far distant. This annual event is dated for June 13-14-15-16, and it is not too early to begin "boosting" in order to make the Fair a record success.

THE DERBY RACE

"THE BLUE RIBAND OF THE TURF"

(Contributed)

During a debate in the English Parliament, Lord George Bentinck said to Disraeli, the Premier, "You don't know what the Derby is." "Indeed I do," the Premier remarked, "It is the Blue Riband of the Turf." The phrase has stuck and the Derby still is the Blue Riband of the Turf. The conditions of this year's Derby Race are as follows: Derby Stakes (about one mile and a-half) of £100 each, £50 forfeit if declared by the Tuesday in the week before running, £25 forfeit if declared by the last Tuesday in March, 1933, or £5 only if declared by the first Tuesday in July, 1933, with £3000 added; for entire three-year-old colts and fillies—colts to carry 9st., fillies 8st. 9 lbs; owner of second receives 10 per cent, owner of third 5 per cent; breeder of winner receives £500.

Unlike the Grand National which I described last week, the Derby is a flat race, and speed is the outstanding requisite; yet strange to relate, very little difference exists between the time per mile in the two races; just a matter of two seconds or a little more. The name of the race, like a lot of other weighty decisions, was decided on the toss of a coin. The owner of Diomed, winner of the first Derby, was a guest of the Earl of Derby in the year 1780. With some other guests, prominent Turf figures, they decided to inaugurate a sweepstake for three-year-olds. Lord Derby suggested the name of the race be Bunbury Stakes in honour of his guest, Sir Chas. Bunbury countered with the suggestion of the Derby Stakes, in honour of his host. The toss

SIGNAL HONOR TO LACHUTE LAWYER

L. L. Legault, K.C., Elected to Montreal Bar Association

Mr. L. L. Legault has the distinction of being the first among members of his profession in this district to receive officialdom in the Montreal Bar Association.

At the annual meeting of this body last Tuesday in Montreal, all posts were filled by acclamation with exception of the appointment of a Secretary. The office of batonnier went to Senator Andre Fauteux. Other officers elected by acclamation were: J. A. Mann, K. C., treasurer; Alexandre Prudhomme, K. C., B. Panet Raymond, K.C., Stuart McDougall, K. C., L. L. Legault K.C., and Gerard Lemire, members of the Council.

BRIGADE SUMMONED TO GRASS FIRE

During noon hour last Tuesday the Lachute Fire Brigade were summoned to a grass fire in the rear of Mr. W. S. MacKimmie's residence in East Ward. Burning rubbish had been fanned by the wind, and spreading to the dry grass a blaze threatened to ignite structures at the rear of neighboring dwellings. The Brigade arriving on the scene promptly averted this danger.

Three weeks ago the ice came down the river and floods were imminent in various sections of the town. This week the ice-man is delivering blocks at the back door, while grass fires and a preliminary heat wave mark a complete turn in weather conditions.

GOLF SEASON WILL OPEN SATURDAY

Golfers will welcome the announcement, that play will reopen on the Lachute golf course next Saturday. The management of the local Club has announced the opening, conditional upon fine weather, and an interesting season is anticipated.

QUEBEC SUNDAY SCHOOL TRACK MEET

The Sunday Schools of the Province of Quebec are holding a mammoth Track and Field Meet at the McGill Stadium on Saturday, May 19th. This should prove to be an attractive affair for the boys of the Churches. It is for boys only, and the age range is between the ages of 12 and 18 or older. Last year over 300 entries were received. And the Meet was a great success. There are 30 events in all. They are divided into six events in five divisions according to age and weight. Relays are included. Entries are being invited this year from 450 different Churches of the Province. It is an Inter-denominational Track and Field Meet, and is being conducted by the Religious Educational Council of the Province. Mr. Hay Finlay of McGill is chairman, and D. I. Forsyth, secretary. Some prominent athletes, Y.M.C.A. officials, and leading church workers will be handling the affairs pertaining to the Meet. National awards include: Trail Ranger Shield, Tuxis Shield and medals to individuals making highest individual aggregates. Local awards include: Shields for Intermediate and Senior Groups making highest group aggregate; also individual medals and ribbons.

LACHUTE TOWN COUNCIL

The regular monthly meeting of the above Council was held on Wednesday evening last, at which were present Mayor A. Larocque and Aldermen J. A. Rice, O. Laurin, J. McGibbon, H. Lamarche, K. McQuat, E. Legault, G. Muir, C. Durocher and G. Raymond.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved, as was also the financial statement for the last five months, with a total of $10,038.26.

Mr. A. McQuat presented a petition from property-holders on Grace Street for proposition to lay new sewer. As other petitions were understood to be in circulation for Foundry Street and Main it was decided to leave matter in abeyance for a few days.

The report of Kilgour, Adams & Co., was received and read relative to arbitration of damage loss on the Auditorium fire which was established as $18,392. The amount was accepted by council and a meeting will shortly be called in consultation with citizens' committee, to get matters under way for its renovation.

Dr. Rodrigue urged that the council publish the financial statement of the town in order that the ratepayers may know the assets and liabilities representing the town's financial standing. Other members of the Council were of the same opinion.

For the sixth successive year, Dr. C. M. Higginson of Hawkesbury (who is now opening an office in Lachute) has been elected to the Presidency of the Central Canada Veterinary Association at Ottawa.

ESTEEMED CITIZEN DIES SUDDENLY

THE LATE Q. R. McADAM

Death came suddenly Thursday morning, to Mr. Q. R. McAdam, after a short illness from pneumonia. Deceased gentleman, who was in his 69th year, was born at River Rouge, and had spent a number of years in the Western States, returning some 21 years ago, to take up farming at East Settlement. He retired in 1927 and has since resided in Lachute. He was married in 1896 to Miss Catherine Mary Gordon, who survives. One child Stuart was born but died in infancy.

A man of Christian character and highest ideals he was loved by all, and will be deeply mourned by the many who knew him.

A devoted member and elder of the United Church, he took a deep interest in its welfare and for many years was a teacher and superintendent of the Sunday School.

He was also greatly interested in the Masonic Order, having recently completed office as Worshipful Master of Argenteuil Lodge, No. 67, G.R.Q., and only last week received his 32nd degree in the Scottish Rite, at Montreal.

One brother Thomas and one sister Agnes (Mrs. James McQuat), both of River Rouge, are left with his devoted wife and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon, May 5th, at 3 o'clock from his late residence, Bethany Street, to the United Church, Lachute.

SATURDAY IN SPRING-TIME

Saturday in Springtime
Is just the bestest day,
'Cause then we go for flowers
Across the broad highway.
Way over in the dark woods,
Where everything smells sweet,
And heaps and heaps of flowers
Are clustered round our feet.
We gather Trilliums and Daffies
And skip about and sing—
The bestest days of all the year
Are Saturdays in Spring.

THREE FEATHERS MORE

For a few moments Three Feathers More felt that there was nothing left to live for. Her head drew disconsolately back amongst her ruffled feathers when Tufty trilled again, "Hey! Hey! Hey! Why don't you get going. You can catch them quite easily if you want to."

"I believe I can," said the robin, brightening up, "but they've been so mean I don't know that I want to. I shall have to go North, of course, and I should like to go to the old orchard where Mother told me I was born. She has told me so much about it that I can almost find the way by myself, but it's a long trip alone." She looked inquiringly at Tufty, who felt all his feathers rise up in pride at her inviting glance but his friend Jenny Wren had made him promise to wait for her, and her "Day, Day, Day," was sounding softly through the trees right now. Besides, he might not want to go as far north as Three Feathers More; he did not usually go to the North, at least not far North.

The strange robin who had lingered so long at Magnolia Terrace happened along, and said "Why not come along with me? I, too, must be getting along. I should not have lingered so long here but—" and he hopped up beside Three Feathers More, twisted his head from one side to the other, and looked at her with his keen bright eyes. "All right" chirped Three Feathers More, "let's go!"

Flying across to the limb where Tufty sat, she caressed him gently with her beak and flew away.

Mother Robin and her daughters were settled and had their nests built before Mother Robin missed Three Feathers More. She had chosen a new place for her nest this year, the high-up sill of the granary window, and had been so busy gluing the ends of straw and sticks to the glass, in just the right way, that there would be a clear space left, from which she might watch for possible danger from inside the granary—that she had not had time to think of anything else.

When she had her nest built to satisfy herself, she laid a pretty blue egg in it, as a sign to all new comers that this nest was occupied. Then she started out to see how many of her daughters who had picked up mates on the way North had built near her, and just where their nests were. She found Yellow Beak's nest up under the ledge of the verandah roof, quite near the back kitchen door.

"You were rather foolish Yellow Beak," she said, "to build so close to that door, every time it opens you are going to get a big fright and fly off your nest, and will be cooling your eggs every time you do that, and perhaps pull some of the eggs out in your hurry."

Yellow Beak took her scolding very meekly; she wanted to tell her mother that it was none of her affairs, where she had built her nest, but she was too glad to see her go without asking if she had warned Three Feathers More, to say anything that would cause her to linger. When her mother scurried away in fear at the sudden opening of the kitchen door, she chirped as though in laughter and settled down to lay her first egg.

Mother Robin flew to the Yellow Transparent Apple tree and found that Speckled Back was nesting there. She looked the place over doubtfully, and said "Almost too low, my dear! Black Pussy is pretty good at climbing trees. Do not be surprised if you find your little ones gone sometime when you come back to the nest. Perhaps she won't find out about it though until they are hatched and big enough to shift for themselves. You must warn them not to sit on the lower limbs when they come out."

With a cheerful Poot! Poot! she flew away to search for Crooked Tail and Three Feathers More.

"I might have known that I would find you in some silly place," she exclaimed to Crooked Tail. "Your ideas about a nesting place are about as crooked as your tail."

Crooked Tail did not like this speech of her mother's. She had never liked anyone to mention her crooked tail. "What's the matter with the place?" she chirped shrilly. "I am sure it is well sheltered with vine leaves. If I go in and out quietly no-one will ever guess that my nest is there at all."

"No-one but Striped Body, the snake," replied Mrs. Robin sharply. She did not like to be talked back to by her family. "I built a nest there in these vines myself once, and thought that no-one would ever know it was there; but Striped Body found out and crept up almost to my nest. He was just taking a rest on a thick vine before climbing up to me when Nancy saw him. She was quite small then, and was playing with her dolls in the shade of the vines. She did not know what he was, and she called her mother to 'Come and see the funny big worm.' Her mother came and looked so horrified to find Striped Body near her little daughter. She snatched up a stick and tried to hit Striped Body with it. He darted down from one branch to another and wriggled to the ground as quickly as he could. And he never came back again while I was there. You may be sure that I never made a nest in these vines again; and I think you are foolish, foolish to build here."

Crooked Tail was just a little afraid that perhaps Striped Body might pay her a visit, and was so busy wondering if she should change and build somewhere else, that she did not pay much attention to what Mrs. Robin was saying when she asked if she knew where Three Feathers More had her nest—and so she did not answer her question.

Seeing her thus staring into her almost finished nest, and not paying any attention to her question, Mother Robin flew away to seek out Three Feathers More and her nest.

"I must see that the dear child is safe" Mother Robin was chirping to herself, as she flew about from bush to bush and from shed to shed looking for her favorite daughter. Once she thought she had found her. A robin was peeping out of a nest on a high beam in the carriage shed. With loving chirps old Mother Robin flew up onto the beam beside the nest.

SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 6, is "Everlasting Punishment." The Golden Text is: (Genesis 18: 25) "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?"

The following passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." (Galatians 6: 7).

"Error excludes itself from harmony. Sin is its own punishment."

"Jesus suffered for our sins, not to annul the divine sentence for an individual's sin, but because sin brings inevitable suffering." (Science and Health pages 337 and 11).

The Editor draws attention to overdue subscriptions to The Watchman. Many subscribers are in arrears through negligence or oversight, but these unpaid subscriptions are a costly matter in the weekly newspaper office, where every dollar-and-a-half is needed to keep things going. HAVE you noticed that your happiest hours occur on days when you feel your best?

Have more of these happy days. You and all your family. Guard health while you have it. Keep on the sunny side of life.

The greatest enemy of health is common constipation. It may cause loss of appetite and energy. Certainly it kills enthusiasm! Yet it can be banished by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to relieve common constipation. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much pleasanter to eat this delicious ready-to-eat cereal than to take patent medicines. Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

Thoughts in Passing

By L. V. Armstrong

There must be some import-hopes that it will produce ant officials in Japan who have great ambitions. They would like to dictate to the rest of the world (which is covering quite a lot of territory) what trading is to be carried on with their cousins on the mainland, (who number something over three hundred millions.)

How the great munition companies must resent this! Why, they might lose one of their best customers. That would be sufficient to convince them that the sooner they make the 'man on the street' believe the Japanese are a menace to his home and country the better. If they succeeded, then they would be rubbing their hands in unholy glee. Another first-class war would be all they could desire.

The teachings of history count for little or nothing when poisonous propaganda begins to flow. The average man allows himself to be duped again and again into going to war.

It may be also noticed that there are many at Ottawa who declare that it would be absurd to consult the people on the advisability of taking part in another war. Would they themselves not welcome an opportunity to express their opinions were they ordered to give up their homes, their work and everything they hold dear before entering into a sphere of activity which would mean almost certain death? Of course, they know perfectly well they will never have to go to the front. Perhaps this explains their attitude.

No doubt the farmers of Canada see the semblance of a New Deal in the Marketing Bill which has been recently introduced at Ottawa. Perhaps they such results as will enable them to agree with those who claim that the depression is really disappearing.

This new brain-child of the Government's, because of the vast number of people it would affect in Canada's greatest industry, deserves, at least the careful co-operation of the entire House. If it can be reasonably proved that it would not be of any benefit, then it should be discarded. But, when it is argued that this should be done merely because it is unconstitutional, or for some such reason, it appears that petty politics comes before the real needs of the country in the minds of many at the Capital.

The seriousness of the times necessitates departures from the old methods. The day calls for men who are capable of grasping the realities of the times, and, considering all sides without prejudice or ambition, lead the way to recovery.

It is worthy of note that the new party at Ottawa is desirous of lending their whole-hearted support to any measure which they believe to be to the advantage of the majority.

It is reported from time to time that this fellow Dillinger, so badly wanted in the United States, is headed for Canada. This is not at all likely. A man who is as smart as he in his line must know that crossing the boundary would be the same as giving himself up.

If he should try to effect his escape by way of the prairies, a man by the name of O'Brien would very soon learn of it. He would, no doubt, detail one or two men who might be dressed in bright-red coats, blue breeches with a heavy yellow stripe

They could then turn him over to the five thousand old men who are reported after him in half a dozen different states across the line.

(Although he may be caught by the time this appears in print, it is a good idea anyway).

Oscar Wilde was a poet and writer, who, like Robert Burns is being more appreciated as time goes on. He was grossly misunderstood in the day in which he lived. He died an apparent failure. To-day, the world is gradually recognizing him.

Read his book entitled "The Picture of Dorian Gray." It is something original. Only Oscar Wilde could have written it. Turning from that to the work, "De Profundis", it is difficult to realize that the same man was the author of both. And yet, it is only with a knowledge of both that one can hope to know the real man.

These works will live. So will many of his plays, poems and delightful fairy tales. Future generations will read and reread them.

How long ago is 1918?

In the process of spring-cleaning, when all sorts of forgotten things are unearthed, an English magazine, dated June of that year, was found. While giving it the customary glance, an article was seen with descriptions of the very latest in bathing suits. There were pictures of young ladies apparently fully dressed, complete with hats and long sleeves to the dresses. In explaining how to make them, it asserts that the "smaller size requires FIVE AND ONE-HALF YARDS of 36-inch material, with a three-quarter yard of contrasting material for collars and facings."

How many pocket-handkerchiefs will six, and a quarter yards of material make?

That's how long ago 1918 is.

Worldly Goods — A young lawyer was getting married. They had reached that part of the ceremony where the minister said: "With all my worldly goods, I thee endow."

From the back of the church came a hoarse whisper: "There goes his brief case."

CITIZENS AS JURORS IN CASES INVOLVING CITY

Regina city council has endorsed a request of the City of Saskatoon for legislation to prevent citizens sitting as jurors on actions against the city, solely because they are ratepayers and, therefore, interested parties. The application for legislation is the result of a recent court decision.

REFUSE ATTRACTED PESTS

Residents of Elmwood, a suburb of Winnipeg, had no objection to rotten eggs thrown in the garbage from an egg-candling plant, but they rose in complaint when the refuse attracted hordes of rats. The rodents were preyed upon by all the neighboring cats, who in turn attracted numerous dogs and the vicinity became a veritable bedlam, giving rise to complaint by the citizens and removal of the egg-candling company.

ARCHITECT PROPOSING TO STRAIGHTEN THAMES

William Walcott, noted London architect, has offered a proposal to "straighten the Thames" between Greenwich and Battersea, and thus reclaim a strip of land 900 feet wide and three and a half miles long through the part of the city that has the heaviest traffic and is most densely populated.

The old Surrey Commercial Canal already runs part of the way from Greenwich in a direct line toward Battersea, and the extension of this waterway in a deeper and wider form to carry the waters of the Thames now flowing in a great loop past the Houses of Parliament and the Victoria Embankment would be the first stage of the stupendous undertaking. Its cost, Mr. Walcott contends, would be offset by the value of the land reclaimed in the most expensive part of the city for building purposes.

CITY CANNOT RECLAIM FOR ERROR BY CASHIER

Through the error of a cashier in the civic employ, a Montreal taxpayer was tendered a receipt for the full amount of his taxes due—$398.43—when, according to the City of Montreal, he had only paid the amount of $298.43. Recorder Aime Leblanc, of the Recorder's Court, dismissed an action instituted by the city to recover $100 from that taxpayer, pointing out that while the city's claim seemed plausible, they were based on mere presumption, whereas those of the taxpayer were emphatic — he had formally sworn under oath that he had paid the full amount of his tax-bills.

Evidence before the court revealed that the defendant owned properties upon which taxes amounting to $398.43 were due. On September 29, 1933, according to the city, he went to the City Hall and paid $298.43 of this amount, but, through an error of the cashier, was tendered a receipt for the full amount of the taxes due. The mistake was only discovered that evening when the cashier checked up his accounts and found himself $100 short. He attributed his mistake to the fact that he erred in adding up the tax-bills at time of the actual payment.

But the defendant swore that he had paid the full amount, and flourished his receipts as evidence.

The claims of the city had much plausibility, the Recorder suggested, but seemed to be based upon mere presumption; on the other hand, the statements of the defendant were emphatic.

MISSED ONE COUNCIL MEETING IN 53 YEARS

William Moore, for the past 53 years clerk of Athol Township, Prince Edward County, in Ontario, is dead at the age of 74 years. In the years he was clerk he missed only one meeting of the township council and, taking the office over before he became of age, he never voted at a municipal election.

Immediate prosecution of all theatres in Toronto presenting shows of an "offending" nature was ordered by the police commission after hearing, at a public session, considerable evidence as to the nature of the burlesque shows that had been staged during past weeks.

250,000 VISIT MERSEY TUNNEL

It was estimated that well over 250,000 Easter holiday visitors took a two-mile walk through the great tunnel under the Mersey connecting Liverpool and Birkenhead, which is to be opened by the King in July. Excursionists from all parts visited the new tunnel, pouring through in a steady stream. Through a small admission levy nearly $35,000 was obtained for the benefit of Merseyside hospitals.

SEVERE WINTER GAVE PROMINENCE TO WELDING GENERATORS AS PIPE THAWING EQUIPMENT

The unusual severity of the past winter, with its record snows and ice and sub-zero temperatures, has placed the electrical thawing of frozen pipes in the limelight, according to Canadian General Electric engineers. Arc-welding generators have been particularly useful for this service.

Although the practice of heating frozen pipes by passing an electric current through them is not new, it has taken a season when frozen water lines formed the rule and not the exception to bring the advantages of this thawing method into prominence. Such advantages are particularly apparent when the frozen pipes are underground or otherwise inaccessible.

Arc-welding generators, because of their special electrical characteristics are extremely well suited to the work. High currents are required at relatively low voltage, and load resistance—the resistance of the length of pipe in the circuit—varies widely from job to job.

The process itself is simple. The leads from the generator are connected to the pipe or piping system so as to include the frozen section in the electric circuit. The heavy current warms the pipe and shortly melts the ice. The current required and the time necessary to effect thawing depend on the size and length of the pipe. For instance, it has been the experience of some users that 250 amperes will thaw a ¼ inch pipe 300 feet long in from 3 to 10 minutes—and again that a 3-inch pipe 100 feet long will take nearly an hour with the current in the neighborhood of 500 amperes. Voltages involved vary widely, usually between 10 and 50 volts being required. It is therefore readily understood why a welding generator, whose output voltage can be varied over a considerable range for several different current values, is so well adapted to thawing.

To obtain portability and mobility, a welding generator for pipe thawing is ordinarily mounted on a motor-truck. A gas engine is the normal driving unit and the two machines can be either belted together or direct coupled.

Many welding companies owning truck-mounted welding generators have been able to render valuable emergency pipe-thawing service.

MONTREAL BUYS FIRE EQUIPMENT

Three tractors for the Montreal Fire Department have been purchased by the City Council from the Seagrave Fire Engines, Ltd., at a cost of $27,000, on recommendation from Chief Carson. Ten such tractors are already in service in the city.

Trucks for the roads department costing $5,400 were also the subject of an appropriation; and another was of $1,800 for two half-ton trucks for the municipal works yard.

Mayor of Hamilton says each trip of the civic ambulance costs $5 while private firms will give the same service for $2. It looks as though the taxpayers were being taken for a ride.

A PREVALENT WEAKNESS

It is a remarkable fact that those who most heartily deplore the burdens of taxation are often the most enthusiastic in urging expenditures to benefit their own interest or their own community. Every subsidy, for whatever purpose, is paid out of public monies, and represents an increase in the mill rate, a cent on the amusement tax, the gasoline tax, the dog tax, the income tax. The reaction is infallible, and it is a puerile brain that cannot grasp it.

The man who seeks self interest through his representative is immoral; his tactics are unethical, he encourages the worst type of politician, and he gratifies his own ends at the expense of his fellow voters.

Something of the same principle is evidenced in deputations to parliament which seek special monetary favors without some imperative cause. Celebrations and situations which involve extraordinary expenditures by municipalities, must be borne on equal footing. Not only the municipalities, but organized bodies and institutions without number have fallen prone to this tendency, until parliamentarians are embarrassed with increasing demands for access to the public purse.

To effect governmental economy, one must employ consistent treatment. It will avail nothing to close departments and dismiss staffs, at the same time acquiescing to the demand of every applicant for public funds. Organizations must realize this fact, and only in the most urgent need must they have recourse to government aid. Fewer deputations and saner financing will do most to ease the strain of taxation.

EVIDENCE OF TRUE PUBLIC SPIRIT

In contrast to the New World weakness of ransacking the public purse, it is refreshing to note the progress made in England toward purchasing the famous Sinai Codex for the British Museum. This coveted biblical manuscript was subject of a previous editorial in these columns, and it is gratifying to learn that $46,000 of the $50,000 objective has been raised by voluntary contribution, with promises of other substantial amounts. This represents half of the purchase price. The other half is guaranteed by the British Government.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, principal trustee of the Museum, has meanwhile issued an appeal to leaders and churches of Britain to raise as much as possible of the total purchase price of £100,000 and thus relieve the Government of the necessity of paying half of this immense sum. It is a public spirited gesture, and one which will doubtless find response among the English people.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES FAVOUR MARRIED PREMIERS

If Canada's Premier had been a married man, house-keepers would not have had to bear the hardship of a tax on sugar—was the opinion expressed at a recent Women's Institutes Conference held in South Fraser Valley, B.C. A married man would have been aware that such a tax would be a burden to house-wives and would react upon the children of the family. Hence the conference was strongly of the opinion that in future one of the qualifications of a Canadian Premier should be that he be married.

This suggestion is the gist of a press paragraph issued from the Quebec W. I. headquarters. While giving publicity to the idea, the Editor declines any responsibility for its logic.

We were not in favor of the sugar tax—any more than we cherish the taxes upon other necessities of daily life. But between this circumstance and the unmarried status of Premier Bennett, we fail to draw any connection. We believe the importance of sugar in child nutrition is as self-evident to Mr. Bennett as to the father of a prodigious family. That the levy was one of the least popular in the Conservative regime is unfortunate for the present Government; but then, taxes are raised of necessity, not as a bid for public favor.

With due respect to the Institutes and their splendid work, we submit that their argument is ill-founded. In Quebec, by way of contention, both the Premier and Minister of Highways have private automobiles, yet car licences in Quebec are well nigh extortionate. And automobiles, like sugar, are hardly in the luxury class to-day.

The Ottawa Spotlight

A Weekly Review of National Affairs
By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, May 2.—Another striking instance of the way the farmer is "gypped" by the present system of distribution was supplied by the Stevens "mass buying" inquiry last week, when it was disclosed that the tobacco-grower only receives 1½ cents average for the tobacco which goes into a 25 cent package of cigarettes. According to the witness, even an additional quarter of a cent for that quantity of tobacco would make things much better for the tobacco producer. This reminds one of the evidence brought out before the milk inquiry a year ago of farmers getting two cents a quart for milk which sold a few hours later to the consumer for ten or eleven. In the case of tobacco, the processing and the excise tax explain a large part of the spread, but a set-up which gives the original primary producer only 6% of the selling price of his product does seem at first glance to have something rotten about it. No wonder there is so much enthusiasm about any legislation which appears to promise an improvement in this respect. Instead of the primary producer getting what's left—if any—when distribution costs are subtracted from the selling price, why shouldn't the primary producer get at least the cost of operation plus a modest profit first, and then the distribution cost be added to find out the selling price? That is the question many people are asking, and it has prompted such legislation as the Weir Natural Products Marketing Act.

Why Market Is Opposed

The aim of the Weir Marketing legislation is, I think, wholeheartedly endorsed by all members of the House. The reason the Liberals are making such an attack on it is because of the sincere belief which at least some of them hold, that it will prove a flop and leave the primary producer in even worse shape than he is now. The Liberals for the most part still entertain the idea that the only final salvation for the primary producer is to enlarge our markets, and exchange goods for goods. The Conservatives are retorting that the world has changed, and that markets no longer exist. The C.C.F. and independent members, who are pretty solidly behind the Marketing Bill, argue that planned production and consumption is inevitable, and that the sooner Canada gets her productive and distributive machinery ready for the new era, the better it will be.

The Budget Debate

Criticism of the Rhodes budget proceeded along lines which were forecast. Hon. J. L. Ralston did his usual thorough job as financial critic of the opposition. Some of his points seemed to be a trifle picayune. After all, it is one of the easier jobs in the world to shoot full of holes such a document as almost any government is compelled to present during the trough of the depression. The people of Canada—one sometimes feels—are not very interested in a debating victory of the Liberals over the Conservatives, or vice versa. They are much more profoundly concerned over some drastic constructive action which will tend to improve conditions in the country, reduce unemployment and improve the lot of the masses. I doubt, therefore, whether Col. Ralston's masterly smashing of the Rhodes budget will have made much impression on the country. Moreover, I think it is apparent that the attack being made by Liberals on the gold tax, both federally and provincially, is dead against the sentiment of the times, and, for that matter, pretty well opposed to Liberal policies of the past. Surely a transfer of a tax which affects 11 billion Canadians, many of them just getting by, to a smaller group of shareholders of gold stock, for the most part much better able to pay the tax, is a sound move. If only some adjustments can be made to keep up the development of low grade ores, and prevent the discharge of any considerable number of miners, then the tax, I would think, would be quite beyond criticism. I hear that in South Africa the government takes twice or three times as much of the bonus on our gold.

Protection for Investors

The new Companies Act which was introduced last week is not as sweeping as the government would have liked, since much opposition was experienced from the provinces. But, among other things, it puts a crimp on the high-pressure salesmen who call at people's doors, call them up on the telephone, long distance or otherwise, and try to sell them securities. Heavy fines are provided to stop the practice.

The Lachute Board of Trade have decided upon holding a Banquet in Desjardins' Hotel, on Thursday, May 17th., and the President, Mayor A. Larocque, with his committee, is now busy outlining a good program for the occasion.

While numerous surveys have been made for the route of the Trans-Canada Highway, the men, now idle, are anxiously looking for the construction to start. The work, which was held up most of the summer, with blame placed upon one party or the other, only got away to a good start when winter overtook us, and the men were consequently called off. Now we are looking to the Minister of Roads at Quebec to carry out to fulfillment promises made last summer. No doubt our local member, Mr. Geo. Dansereau, has this in mind, and will urge the government to an early start.

IT'S LIVER THAT MAKES YOU FEEL SO WRETCHED

Wake Up Your Liver Bile and Get A New Lease of Life. No Calomel Is Necessary.

For you to feel healthy and happy, your liver must pour two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels, every day of your life.

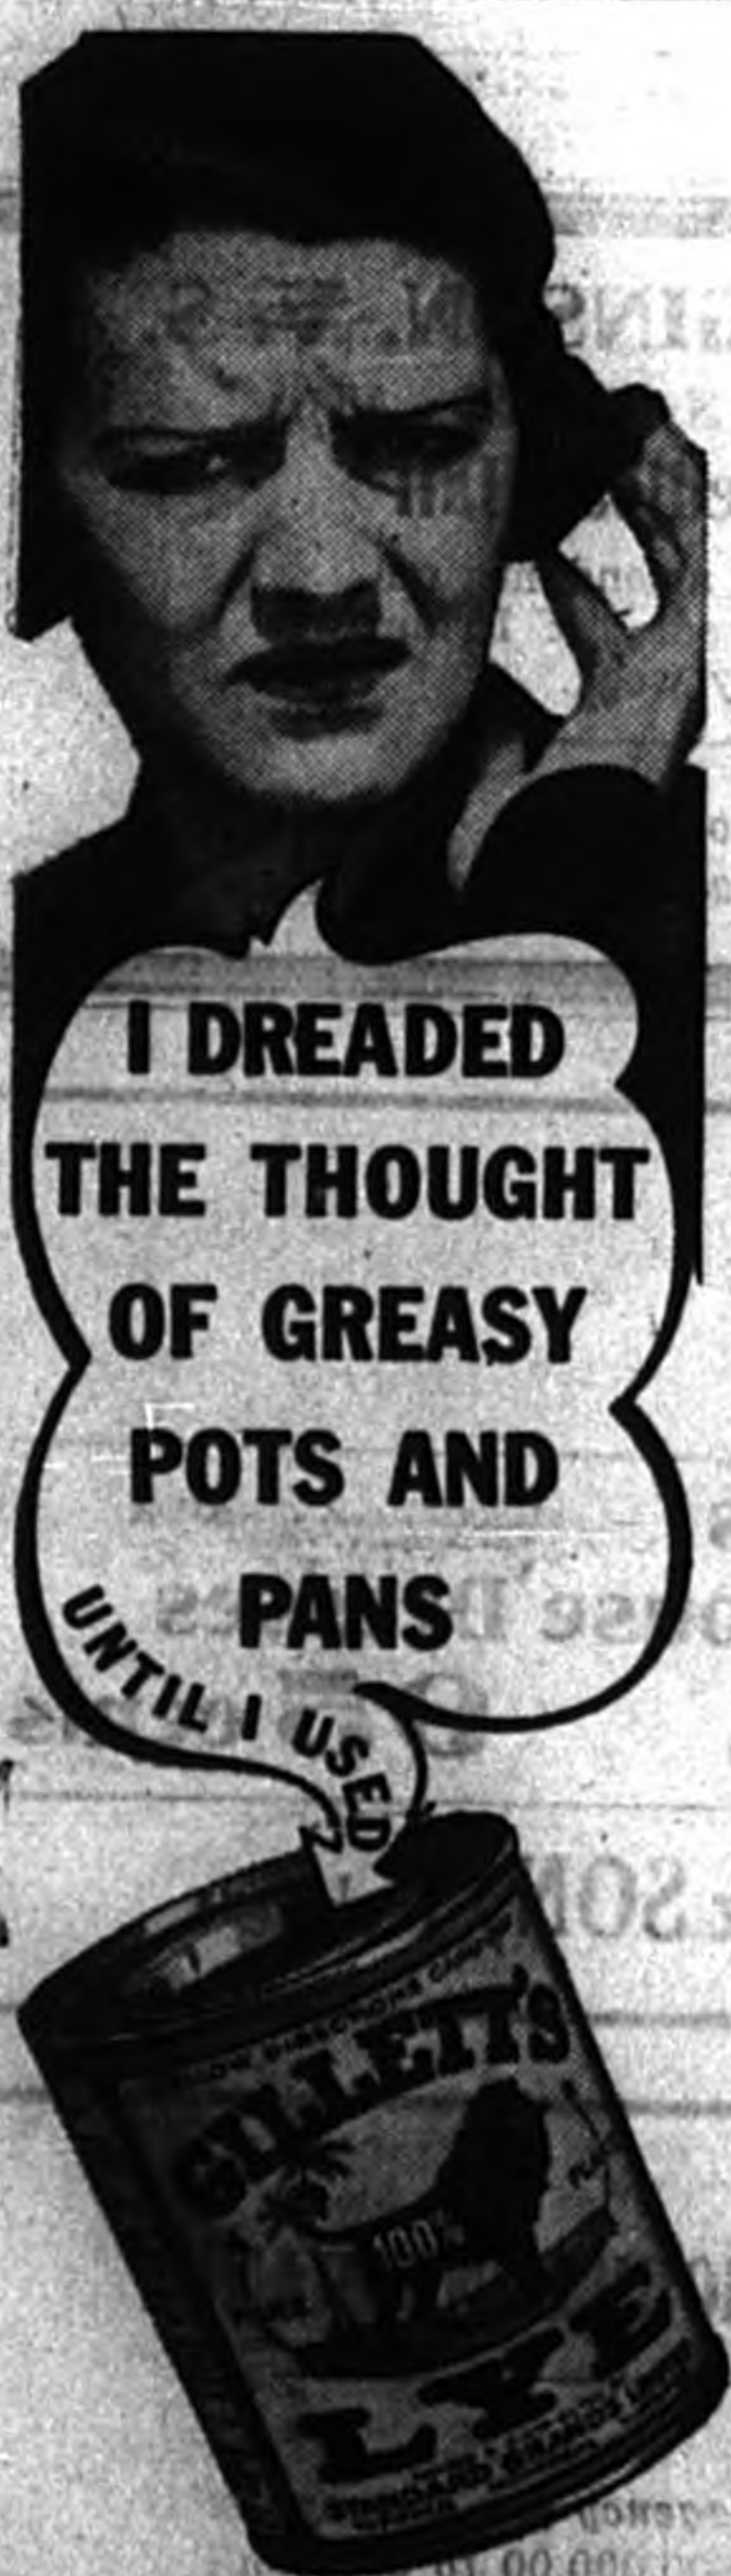

Without that bile, trouble starts promptly. Your food just won't digest the way it should and your bowels are sluggish. Food decays inside you and your entire system is undermined by this poisonous waste matter. You have indigestion—the discomfort of gas, bloating, heartburn and sourness. You are prey to headaches. Have a tongue like cotton-wool, a nasty taste in your mouth, bad breath and ugly skin. You haven't anything like the pep a healthy person should have. In fact you are generally wretched.

How can you expect to sleep up a condition like this completely by taking some bowel-mover like salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage? They can't wake up your liver bile.

Avoid calomel (mercury). Buy yourself a box of old reliable Carter's Little Liver Pills. All vegetable, pure, gentle, safe. They'll wake up your liver without upsetting you. Bring back the glad-to-be-alive feeling, again.

Don't waste your money on substitutes. Be definite. Ask for Carter's by name and get them. Look for the name, Carter's, on the red label. 25¢ at all druggists.

Friendships are the flowers of joy that grow unbidden in the pathway of life. A true friend sticketh closer than a brother, and a trouble shared with a friend will be a trouble no longer.

It cuts through grease—makes messy kitchen jobs easy!

DON'T be a slave to kitchen chores. Just use a solution of one teaspoonful of Gillett's Pure Flake Lye dissolved in a quart of cold water. It puts an end to stubborn stains. Lifts grease and grime off like magic!

Gillett's Lye is indispensable for all your heavy cleaning... for stopped-up drains... for toilet bowls. Order a tin from your grocer today. Say good-bye to hard rubbing and scrubbing!

*Never dissolve lye in hot water. The action of the lye itself heats the water.

FREE BOOKLET—Be sure to get the new revised Gillett's Lye Booklet... it tells how this powerful cleanser and disinfectant will lighten dozens of household tasks. Contains full information for soap making, thorough cleaning and other uses on the farm. Write for free copy to Standard Brands Limited, Fraser Ave. & Liberty St., Toronto, Ont.

MOTHER'S DAY

If the florists did not start the idea of Mother's Day, they have done a great deal in fostering it and it has developed into a good thing for them. Any right-minded person does not need to be told to remember their mother and to do it on a certain day. I never wanted to do anything for my mother on Mother's Day, nor do I want our children to do anything for me. We are told to 'honour thy Father and Mother' but we do not need to confine it to the first Sunday in May. Perhaps it is because I lack that kind of sentiment or perhaps I resent someone telling me I must do a thing, but whatever the cause is, I dislike Mother's Day. I find that there are a large number of women, whose opinion I respect, feel the same way about it. To my mind there is something very queer about anyone who needs a special day to remember to love their mother and then has to be told to do it. I cannot endure Mother songs and we hear so many of them. The other day some passionate tenor was singing a very touching Mother song, on the radio, when one of our boys remarked 'Mother songs give me a pain.' My sentiments exactly. If you wish to wallow in sentiment and require a special day to remember your mother, go ahead and do it. That is your privilege. Somehow, Mother's Day leaves me cold.

MAKING MOTHERS OLD

Since we have started on the subject of mothers, we are going to write a bit more about them. Have you ever noticed the way some children make their mothers old? Daughters are the worst offenders. These daughters fairly kill their mothers with kindness. They care for them all the time and will not let them do anything for themselves. They decide where they can go, what they will wear and even what they may have to eat. It is all done with the best of intentions and out of a great love but it does make a woman feel old to have too much care taken of her. They are frightened to let their mother go any place for fear something might happen, or they might not know how to find the way or some such foolishness. It seems to me that when a woman is beginning to get old and has brought up a family, she should be able to decide things for herself and do what she likes. Maybe she never has had much chance to have her own way before. I would advocate giving mothers every care but to let them do as they like and not to wrap them in wool and make them feel old and helpless. When there is no initiative, life is deadly dull, so let the mothers initiate their own plans and carry out their own ideas. Just think a minute and I am sure you can all name mothers who are made to feel old. Be kind but not overwhelmingly protective.

GIVE MILK TO THE IRRITABLE

If the calcium in our blood falls below a certain level, it affects our nerves and we become irritable. When your family becomes irritable look for the cause and try to make a change in conditions. If it is lack of sleep, this should be remedied. Quite often, however, irritability is the result of wrong food. It may not be caused in each case by a lack of calcium but it will not hurt anyone to get more of it. Milk has a high calcium content and to use more milk is one of the easiest ways of adding calcium. So the next time your family is cranky bring on the milk. Of course you can't rush up to the children or friend husband with a glass of milk and force it down them. You must be much more subtle than that. If they are ready to drink more, all well and good, but even if they are not you can add a large quantity of milk by your choice of foods. Cream soups are one easy way of using milk. The number of desserts which require milk is countless. Creamed vegetables (if your family like them); many children heartily dislike them, creamed savoury dishes for supper or lunches, creamed salmon, lobster, shrimps, in fact any of the fish, fresh or canned. Scalloped dishes require milk and there again you may use the sea foods and have the added satisfaction of increasing the iodine. Scalloped potatoes are a meal in themselves and certainly use a lot of milk. Chocolate or malted drinks either hot or cold are usually popular. See that your family gets a least a quart of milk a day each and find out what that will do toward straightening out the irritations and bringing peace to the family. But let that be your secret. No need to tell them all you know, because then it may lose its effect.

A musician with a tin whistle played right through a village in Fife without getting anything. As he passed the last door he turned towards an old native. "Man," said he, "I havna got a farthing in the hale toon."

"I'm no' thinkin' ye wud," replied the Fifer, "Yes, see we do a' oor ain whistlin' here."

How is the date on your subscription label?

BLACK HILL CAKE

1 cup white sugar
1/4 cup butter
1 egg
1 cup milk
2 level teaspoons cream of tartar
1 level teaspoon soda
2 cups flour

Cream butter and sugar and add well-beaten egg. Add sifted dry ingredients and milk alternately. Put 2/3 of this mixture in a buttered pan and to the remainder add 2 tablespoons molasses, 1/2 teaspoon cloves and 1/2 teaspoon all-spice. Mix well and pour on top of the first mixture. Bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees. Ice as desired. This is an old-fashioned cake. The recipe came from a German family and had 'butter the size of an egg.' I measured that much and found it to be 1/4 cup. An old-fashioned icing seemed fitting so I used a Caramel Icing made by boiling 2 cups brown sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon corn syrup, 1 tablespoon butter until it forms a soft ball in cold water. Let stand until luke-warm, add vanilla and beat until thick.

BAKED SPINACH AND EGGS

Put a layer of seasoned, finely chopped, cooked spinach in a baking dish, which may be brought to the table. Break an egg for each serving on this. Season with salt and pepper and cover with grated cheese. Cook in a moderate oven of 325 degrees until the eggs are set and the cheese melted.

An English W. I. Outlines Year's Program

For the interest of Women's Institute members, of which there are many among our readers, the County Publicity Convenor has submitted the following copy of the year's program as outlined for an English Women's Institute. The program was sent to our local Pioneer Branch.

Jan. 2nd.—New Year's Party.
Jan. 3rd.—Tea for Old People.
Jan. 4th.—"The proof of the pudding is in the eating." Cooking demonstration, Poultry Trussing, and using up odds and ends. Social half-hour and games.

Feb. 1st.—"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast." Demonstration "Reed Instruments, making and playing". Social half-hour, Concert.

Mar. 1st.—"Trifles make perfection — perfection is no trifle." Demonstration on Patchwork. Bulb Competition.

April 5th.—"Quiet, patient work often brings striking results". Upholstery. Social half-hour. Dancing, Patchwork Competition.

May 3rd.—"Wisdom is made up of two parts, learning and doing". Discussion of agenda of general meeting in London. Competitions.

June 7th.—"If you know a good thing pass it on." Members' Night.

July 5th.—"Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag." Talk on County Regiment. Social half-hour. Acting and games.

Sept. 6th.—"A merry heart goes all the day." Talk—"Care of the Feet." Social half-hour. Concert.

Oct. 4th.—"A little rabbit-skin to wrap a baby in." Skin curing. Social half-hour. Games.

Nov. 1st.—"Sweets to the Sweet." Chocolate making.
Dec. 8th.—"Life isn't holding good cards, it's playing a bad hand well." Annual general meeting. Members' Whist Drive.

Dates to Remember

April 18th.—Novices' Handicraft Exhibition, Northampton.

May 2nd.—Half-yearly Council meeting, Northampton.

Dec. 12th.—Annual Council Meeting, Northampton.

This programme is published to convey an idea of the work carried on by English sister-members of the W. I. It may be of help to share in their interests, also in suggesting future programmes. It is also noted on the top of this very neat little programme, the "Greens Norton Branch" advertise the fact that they are "Federated under the National Federation of Women's Institutes."

THE STORY OF JONES

The sales manager, obviously upset, dashed into the President's office.

"It's Jones, our salesman", the sales manager explained. "Used most insulting language. Told me to fry my face, and said you could go and chase yourself."

"He did, did he?" aid the President. "We'll see; he's been with us five months. What business has he done?"

"Five hundred dollars the first month," said the sales manager, reading from a book, "four thousand dollars the next month, fifteen thousand dollars the next, forty thousand dollars the next."

"H'm!" murmured the President. "I often think I ought to take a little more exercise, and I dare say the caretaker will lend you a frying-pan."

the race instead of the regular jockey. During the race it was noted that Parsons was lying along the horse's neck. He won easily. When asked to explain his unorthodox seat he explained he was whispering to the horse. Several objections have been lodged to Derby winners chiefly on account of age or substitution. In 1844 Running Rein was objected to by the owner of the second horse, Orlando. After hearing the evidence the Jockey Club dismissed the objection; later further proof was offered and they changed their decision. The case was then taken to the law courts, but the result remained the same as the judge asked to have the horse produced. This the owner refused to do. In the same race Leander, another horse, was injured and had to be destroyed; when he was examined it was discovered he was a four-year-old. The owner was disqualified from ever entering a horse in the race again. When Hermit won the Derby in 1867 the Marquis of Hastings lost £100,000 on him and had to sell his estate to pay the debt. The horse broke a blood vessel a few days before the race and started a 100 to 1 chance. Fred Archer, one of the greatest jockeys that ever lived, rode five horses to victory in the

EXHIBITION PRIZE LISTS PUBLISHED

The Prize Lists of Lachute Spring Fair (which takes place on June 13-14-15-16) are now published and are being sent out by the Secretary-Manager, Mr. A. Bothwell. It is pleasing to know that our district has, through reciprocal arrangements with the Provincial Governments and the directors of the Ottawa Winter Fair, been enlarged to include that part of Ontario East, including Russell, Prescott, Frontenac, Glengarry, Dundas, Stormont, Carleton, Renfrew, Lanark, Peterboro, Haldiburton, Northumberland, and others.

This is good news, as many of our exhibitors go far afield to match with the best in open competition, and proudly carry home many trophies which, while bringing honors to the winner also reflect credit upon the County. Thus Argenteuil has been brought into prominence through its good breeders.

Already indications are pointing to a bumper exhibition. The President and Directors are doing much work in preparation and are putting everything into first-class shape to ensure the high standard of excellence which previously has won widespread recognition for our grounds and show-ring second to none in the Province.

BRIGADE FOUGHT FIRE ON MEIKLE STREET

Receiving a call at 10 o'clock last Friday evening, the Lachute Fire Brigade rushed to the property of M. Bigelow on Meikle Street. On arrival at the scene, they found volumes of smoke pouring from the windows, and before the hose was put into operation, the downstairs rooms burst into a fierce blaze.

Two lines of hose were laid, the pressure being boosted by the truck pump, which soon had the fire under control in the downstairs. Suddenly, however, the second storey was enveloped in flames, but with the aid of ladders and by quick action, the whole blaze was soon subdued.

The firemen were at the scene for about an hour, and hundreds of spectators flocked to see the fire; some, being a little too inquisitive, were rewarded with a shower bath.

The fire was believed to have started from overheated stove pipes, and the damage was considerable.

HONORED BY GOOD FELLOWSHIP CIRCLE

The Good Fellowship Circle of St. Andrews East assembled in the Hall of the United Church on Monday evening, April 30. On that day, Dr. B. N. Wales celebrated his eighty-third birthday, and the Circle made a special Supper program in his honor. The convenor of the refreshment committee, Mrs. L. H. Bezanson, had made an attractive birthday cake, decorated with red candles. The President, Mr. Snowdon, gave a short resumé of the doctor's life from college days to his return to his native town, and presented the best wishes of the members of the group. Congratulations were also tendered to Col. Hooker whose wedding anniversary coincided with the same date. Dr. Wales and Col. Hooker responded briefly and thanked the friends for their cordial good wishes.

4 ARRESTS IN THEFT AT SUMMER COTTAGE

Culprits Lodged in St. Jerome

Sentence Pending in Chicken Thefts

Two men were arrested on Monday night and two on Tuesday, on an old score of house-breaking and robbery at a summer cottage abutting on the Louisa road a few miles past Dalesville. The house was ransacked last March, and through the diligence of Constable Lionel Gagne and provincial police the arrests were effected and it is understood certain of the men admitted to the theft. The prisoners are three Brownsburg men named Proulx, Aubin, and Paquin, and a fourth named Dinella, of Montebello. Much of the stolen effects, including kitchen utensils, suits, sweaters, plate, a Kodak and fishing equipment, were recovered from the homes of the men.

The quartet were lodged in the town hall at Lachute, where they were questioned by Detective Morrow, of provincial police headquarters. On Tuesday night they were removed to St. Jerome to await their trial.

During the past two weeks nine such local arrests have been made and prisoners taken to the county jail. Sentence is pending on culprits taken in

CONFER WITH ARCHITECT ON AUDITORIUM

Lachute Town Council met with a Citizens' Committee on Tuesday evening in the Town Hall, to confer with Mr. Gariepy, Architect, of Montreal, relative to the rebuilding of the Auditorium.

The discussion was general, questions being raised as to the advisability of installing a low pressure heating system, making the building fire-proof, and as to whether there was need of as much ornamentation in the interior or that the walls would be better left plain. Construction of dressing rooms and enlargement of the stage were also matters that came before the meeting. Mr. Gariepy stated that he would prepare two plans and have same ready to submit to the Council and Citizens' Committee by the end of this month. It could then be decided which plan would be acceptable, tenders could be immediately called for and the work put into execution.

LATE MRS. J. C. JAMES LAID TO REST

Mrs. Jas. C. James, formerly Isabella Walker, widow of the late J. C. James of Lachute, entered into rest early Saturday morning, the fifth inst., having been laid aside for more than four years with intense suffering, born with extraordinary patience and fortitude.

A model wife and mother, Mrs. James came of that sturdy Scottish pioneer stock which settled this district one hundred years ago, stamping a character upon it which it bears until this day.

Mrs. James leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Miss Mary at home and Mrs. Wm. Garard, of Toronto, one son William, six grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Helen Tombs, of Montreal.

The largely attended funeral took place from her late residence, 310 Main Street, on Monday afternoon, at 2.30, conducted by Rev. W. B. Rosborough of the United Church, assisted by Rev. Jas. MacKenzie, of Saskatoon. Rev. Dr. McLeod was also in attendance.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Ernest Walker, J. A. MacGibbon, Robert Todd, Geo. Stanforth, John R. Wason and John S. Pollock.

MONT LAURIER HIGHWAY UNDER WATER

For several days now the Montreal-Mont Laurier route near St. Jovite has been closed to motorists because the waters of the Devil River have risen considerably and it will be some time before the road can be used again. In the meantime pedestrians have been unable to cross the little red bridge over the Devil River, which is still covered with water, and a boatman is ferrying them across.

Covering a distance of 200 feet from the north end of the bridge upwards there is water four feet deep on the road. On the highway near St. Faustin there are also several pools of water.

Motorists who have to go above St. Jovite are forced to make a detour either south through Arundel or further north through Lake Mercier, detours which add some seven miles to their journey.

MADAME DAGENAIS IS DENIED PETITION

Judge Refuses Application for Change of Venue or Bail

Application for change of venue or bail in the alternative, was refused this week (according to a Canadian Press dispatch) in the case of Mrs. Aurora Dagenais, held in Montreal jail in connection with the death of two Lachute children, the sons of Gregoire Raymond. In the ordinary course of events Mrs. Dagenais will not be tried until St. Jerome Assizes in January.

After Mr. Justice Joseph Demers had stated, last Monday, that there appeared to be no special circumstances in the case to make a change of venue advisable, defence counsel intimated a further application for bail would be made.

In pressing for a change of venue to speed up the trial, defence counsel drew attention to the recommendation of the magistrate at the preliminary hearing that the case should be disposed of as soon as possible. He claimed Mrs. Dagenais was not in good health and said her interests would be prejudiced

ST. JEROME CENTENARY IN SEPTEMBER

Anniversaries marking the foundations of our cities, towns and villages offer a splendid opportunity to chronicle the history of our various communities. In recent years, several such anniversaries have been observed in Canada. This year will witness the fourth centenary of the discovery of Canada, and the tercentenary of the city of Three Rivers. Other centennials of lesser importance, but invested with historical significance, will also be commemorated in 1934.

The neighboring town of Saint-Jerome will thus celebrate, this year, the anniversary of its foundation. St. Jerome is aptly called Queen of the North; the town stands as a gateway to the age-old Laurentians, those grim, brooding sentinels silhouetted against the Northern sky. The beauty of its setting and surroundings is not lost on the citizens of the province and tourists. While its history taken as a whole is known, how many are acquainted with its beginning, its religious, municipal, school, commercial and industrial annals—the worthy deeds of its pioneers their unquenchable spirit of peaceful and fruitful conquest, the town's onward march in various fields of endeavour and the promising future it holds? Hence, the festivities at Saint-Jerome will afford opportunity to review a glorious past and bringing out more saliently the history of one of the most progressive towns in the province.

The parish of Saint-Jerome was canonically erected in 1934. There were at that time only a few scattered homes on the shores of the North River. In the past hundred years, this locality has developed marvellously, and the time is well chosen to record its history and make it better known to our people. The dawn of progress for Saint-Jerome coincided with the advent of the far-famed priest and colonizer, Father Labelle. This patriotic and far-seeing priest, a man of action and boundless energy if there ever was one, supported by courageous pioneer citizens, launched the town upon an era of progress and prosperity from 1868 to 1891.

In order to fittingly celebrate this centenary, the people of Saint-Jerome have formed a citizens' committee which is now arranging its program.

MOTHER O' MINE

If I were hanged on the highest hill,
Mother o' Mine,
I know whose love would follow me still,
Mother o' Mine.
If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
Mother o' Mine,
I know whose tears would come down to me,
Mother o' Mine.
If I were damned of body and soul,
I know whose prayers would make me whole,

SOFT-BALL LEAGUE HELD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Soft-ball League was held on Monday night at the Social Club, Brownsburg, with the retiring President, Mr. Hall of Vankleek Hill, in the chair. Mr. Steele, Hawkesbury, Secretary, Mr. Lambertson, Vice President, as well as the following delegates were present: Vankleek Hill, H. Hurley; Lachute, J. Abraham, H. Steele; Hawkesbury, P. Dunne, M. Brosseau; Brownsburg, M. V. Trayers, L. Wilson, F. McGibbon, and Mr. T. G. Pasco.

Mr. Hall briefly addressed the meeting, and paid tribute to the fine spirit and sportsmanship maintained throughout last year's activities. He expressed great pleasure in being associated with such a fine aggregation of players, and was delighted to be able to state that not one incident of unseemly conduct arose to mar the progress of a very interesting and, at times, exciting series of games throughout last season's schedule.

The first business of the meeting was the election of officers for the coming season. At the outset, Mr. Trayers observed that for the past few years, but without any set intent, the office of President had rotated around the clubs. Two years ago Hawkesbury had the honor. Last year, Mr. Hall did the honours for Vankleek Hill, and while it was not a definite arrangement, and was entirely in the hands of the delegates, he would suggest that this year Brownsburg should be accorded the office.

Mr. Hall agreed it was a good thing that the office be rotated in connection with chicken thieving, which had been conducted wholesale on the Chatham front and between St. Philippe and Hawkesbury recently. It is understood the prisoners in this case pleaded guilty, and sentence will be given on 21st inst.

PROVINCE TO PLANT 25,000 APPLE TREES

With a view to encouraging apple growing in the province of Quebec, 25,000 apple trees will be planted in various sections of the province during the early part of the summer, according to announcement made by the Department of Agriculture this week.

Of the 25,000 trees, 12,000 will be planted by the Quebec Promological Society, 10,000 by the Quebec Fruit Producers Club and the balance by individual arboriculturists.

and he was in favour of a Brownsburg man this year.

Mr. T. G. Pasco was then proposed, but was unable to accept owing to an accumulation of work during the next few months. He considered it a tribute but would be unable to do justice to the trust imposed on him. Mr. John Lambertson was then unanimously chosen, and in a hearty speech, thanked the delegates. The office of Vice-President was voted for between Mr. Abraham of Lachute and Mr. Harold Hurley of Vankleek Hill. On a show of hands Mr. Abraham was declared elected.

Mr. Hall paid glowing tribute to last year's secretary, Mr. Steele, which was seconded by Mr. Pasco. Mr. Steele was a popular choice and unanimously selected.

The rest of the business was merely routine. Briefly, there were eight teams entered: Lachute 1, Hawkesbury 3, Brownsburg 3, and Vankleek Hill 1. A deposit of ten dollars, plus one dollar Secretary's expenses, to be lodged before Saturday 12th, by each club.

In all matters within the League the Rules of the Ontario Soft-ball Association will be the governing authority.

The next meeting will be held at the Research Club, Hawkesbury, on May 16th., when a provisional schedule will be available for discussion.

PRESENTATION AT ST. JOHN'S, SHREWSBURY

A most interesting event took place at the conclusion of divine service at St. John's, Shrewsbury, on Sunday last, when the minister, Rev. Allan E. Mount, in the name of the congregation presented a purse to Mrs. John Good, as a slight token of their appreciation of her faithful and talented services as organist. This spontaneous tribute to Mrs. Good's efforts in Shrewsbury was very feelingly spoken of, and in a few heartfelt words Mrs. Good thanked her friends for the gift.

PASTOR TAKES CHARGE ARUNDEL UNITED

Rev. Hugh MacPhail, Pastor of Arundel United Church, bade farewell to his congregation last Friday, after having had charge of their field for the past year and a half, and is now in charge of Amherst Park United Church, Montreal.

At the farewell service on the previous Sunday, Rev. MacPhail chose for his subject "Christianity as I see it" and touched on many interesting and helpful points. At the close of the service he personally thanked the congregation for their deep interest in the church work and for the kindness shown him by everyone.

With this transfer the congregation loses one of its most loved and devoted pastors. During his incumbency the Sunday School saw a great increase in attendance and more than thirty new members were admitted into the Church. Outside of church work he took a great interest in all kinds of sports, and all his friends extend wishes for his continued success in his new field.

A farewell party was held in his honor in the Church Hall last Wednesday evening, at which a delicious supper was served by the ladies. After supper a speech was read by Mr. H. C. Cooke on behalf of the congregation and the presentation of a beautiful gift was made by Mr. E. Graham. The evening ended with a sing-song.

The congregation of the Church and residents of this community extend a hearty welcome to the new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Cushing, who are expected to arrive this week.

AN EXCITING TIME

Old Mother Pussy Cat
Was out walking with her kits,
Along came a rough dog
And scared them 'most to fits.

Wee Tab climbed up a plum tree, Tibbie found a hole,
Fluffie saw the wagon,
And crept beneath the pole.

Tommie stayed by Mother,
Arched his back and tail,
Spat at Mr. Rough Dog
And gave a funny wail.

Rough Dog stopped to look at him
And what do you suppose,
Tommie jumped right at him
And almost scratched his nose!

To old Mother Robin's surprise, the robin on the nest rose up with her wings outstretched threateningly and her sharp eyes glaring, and chirped angrily, daring her to come any closer to her nest. This was not Three Feathers More! Certainly not. Old Mother Robin was so surprised that she hurried away without even asking the strange robin if she had seen anything of her missing daughter.

Flying back to her nest she found Mr. Robin turning the pretty blue egg around quite proudly. She was so nervous and angry that she flew at him and pecked him quite hard. "You silly thing," she said "Don't you know any better than to be turning that egg around so much? You will have it all churned up inside and there will be no little bird in it, after all my trouble in laying it". Right on top of that she demanded that he tell her at once the whereabouts of Three Feathers More.

All this was too much for Mr. Robin. He knew nothing about their lost daughter and told her so, in an angry voice. It was her business to look after the family, not his, and if she wanted to find Three Feathers More she should just go and look for her!

The sound of their father and mother scolding each other in such a fierce manner brought all the other daughters from their nests, besides other birds of the neighborhood. Crooked Tail was the last to arrive, she had decided to leave her nest right where it was, as she just must have some place to lay her first egg, not later than the next day; so she waited to put in a warm wool lining before going to see what the trouble was.

By that time Mother Robin had found out that Three Feathers More had not started with the others. She did not know the poor child had not been told that the family were starting North. She just thought that Three Feathers More in her usual dallying way, had lingered behind and was no doubt lost, or had been caught by something. Mother Robin had scolded and pecked the daughters all around in her anger, especially Yellow Beak, whom she had told to look after her; then Crooked Tail came along. "Poot! Poot! You," Mother Robin shrieked angrily at her. "You would not even answer when I asked you about Three Feathers More, and you knew all the time she was not here."

"I did not hear you" chirped Crooked Tail, quite meekly.

"Did not hear me?" shrieked Mother Robin "who would not hear me, I'd like to know?"

"Why anyone could, Mother Robin," chuckled Mr. Cat Bird, who had been sitting on a lilac tree, laughing so hard that he did not see two birds flit quietly into the old orchard and hide behind a currant bush.

Mother Robin realized that Mr. Cat Bird was laughing at her, also that this family row was making a great deal of fun for the other birds, and with an angry flit of her tail she flew off to the creek to bathe and cool herself off.

The two new birds who had just arrived kept very quiet and soon were fast asleep. They were quite tired after their long journey, and rested quietly until late in the day, when they hopped to the ground and dug some worms from the soft rich ground under the currant bush. "This would be as good a place as any", one birdie said to the other as she hollowed out a nest amongst the dead leaves along the garden fence. She was too tired to build a nest; besides there was no time, that egg must be laid at once.

A few days after, Nancy was busily raking the dead leaves from the garden, and her mother was surprised to have her come quickly to the house with a little blue egg in her hand, "Look, Mother!" she said, "I found this little egg in the leaves by the garden fence. I am so sorry I did not see that nest in time to save it. There were two eggs but I broke one with the rake. I think that's a robin's egg, don't you?"

"Tut! child!" her mother said, "a robin never makes her nest on the ground; but it is very much like a robin's egg. I had no idea that any other bird laid eggs so much like a robin's."

Several weeks later Nancy decided that the ground was quite dry enough for a game of tennis, and she went to pick up the old can she used for her marking-powder, which had been lying on its side all winter on the tennis court. She was very much astonished to find a bird's nest inside, with three blue eggs in it. "Mother!" she called again, "I am sure this is a robin's nest in this can."

Her mother was hard to convince, but Nancy pointed out a robin on the fence post some distance away that seemed very anxious about that particular can. "Come away from it, Nancy, and we will see what happens," said Mother.

Watching closely they saw the robin fly to the can and go you!" exclaimed Nancy, "You said a robin never made its nest inside. Now, what did I tell you about the ground, but that one has."

"It must be a new hand at nest building, I hope the cat does not find out where it is." But the cat did, and the owner of the nest happened to be at home. She flew in Pussie's face quite fiercely, uttering wild little cries for help.

Old Mother Robin heard her, and screamed "That is Three Feathers More. I know her voice. She is in trouble of some sort." All of the robins flew to help her, and when Nancy and her mother arrived on the scene, each one armed with a broom, Mrs. Pussie was so bewildered by the attacks of so many robins at once that she was not able to reach the baby birds.

PROTECTION ACT

R. S. C. 1927—Chapter 140

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada hereby gives notice that it has, under Section 7 of the said Act, deposited with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa and in the office of the Registrar of the Registry Division of the County of Prescott at L'Orignal, Ontario, and in the office of the Registrar of the Registry Division of the County of Argenteuil at Lachute, Quebec, a description of the site and plan of an aerial telephone wire crossing proposed to be constructed over the Ottawa River, from the north-east side of Lot Number 23, in the Broken Front Concession of the Township of East Hawkesbury, in the County of Prescott, Province of Ontario, to a point on the south part of Lot Number 368 on the Official Plan and Book of Reference of the Township of Chatham, in the County of Argenteuil, Province of Quebec.

And take notice that after the expiration of one month from the date of the first publication of this notice, The Bell Telephone Company of Canada will, under Section 7 of the said Act, apply to the Minister of Public Works, at his office in the City of Ottawa, for approval of the said site and plan, and for leave to construct the said aerial telephone wire crossing.

SHE ATE ALL-BRAN
TWELVE YEARS WITH FINE RESULTSDelicious Cereal Relieves Constipation

Read this very enthusiastic letter:

"Something like eleven or twelve years ago, I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started, it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market.

"My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clean taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN.

"If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person (address furnished upon request).

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. How much safer than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily for most types of constipation. For serious cases, try it three times daily. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Nancy caught her and locked her up until the birds were able to fly, so that the Robin Family were quite happy, particularly Old Mother Robin—who was quite proud of her newest grandchildren, even if they did not have three bright feathers more in their breast.

Thoughts in Passing

By L. W. Armstrong

There are rumours that a Federal Election is to take place this year.

Regardless of this particular party or that, should there be an election this year?

A very large number of Canadians have been and still are experiencing serious hardships.

They look to their representatives in Parliament to do their utmost to alleviate these conditions.

They know that little or nothing can be done in Parliament unless there is a certain degree of co-operation in the interests of the people.

They believe the problems facing the country are of sufficient importance to warrant the casting aside of purely political differences and individual gains.

They expect that everything possible will be done in order that taxes, if not decreased, should, at least not be increased.

They consider it plain common sense to cut down expenditure when the revenue is down.

Can it be honestly maintained that our Members of Parliament, especially during the present session, are putting forth their best efforts in the interests of their electors; that they show a willingness to co-operate in solving serious problems; that purely political differences are not in evidence and that drastic measures are effected to cut down expenditures?

The answer is only too evident.

A Federal Election must cost a great deal of money if there is as much spent in every constituency throughout Canada as we have reason to believe there is in this one.

If it all comes out of the public purse it is a very poor demonstration of economy.

If it does not all come out of the public purse, then it must be assumed that there are private individuals who would gain immeasurably by having this or that party in power.

Then, should the present Government be overthrown a great deal of time would be lost before the new party could get under way. And during this time, the heavily-burdened people continue to suffer.

An election this year goes a long way in proving that our representatives on either side of the House have failed in fulfilling their duties as leaders of the people of Canada.

The Dominion Government has gone security for the Canadian Pacific Railroad to the extent of $60,000,000.

Even to such a wealthy country as Canada, that is a great deal of money.

The President of the Railroad must have experienced great relief, when, after trying New York and London he found a 'backer' in Ottawa.

It is to be hoped that he will show his appreciation by doing his best to co-operate with the Railroad which his 'Good Samaritan' owns.

Concessions must be made by both parties if either of the two great systems are to survive.

It is in the interests of future generations that these roads continue to operate.

The future belongs to the Land of the Maple Leaf, and, in the not too distant future, when there are five or ten times as many people living under that emblem, two efficient transcontinental railroads will be an absolute necessity.

POWERFUL RADIO TUBES ARE BEING TESTED

Six 100-kilowatt water-cooled radio transmitting tubes, each nearly five feet high and six inches in diameter, among the largest ever constructed, are being tested at the field experimental depot of the Bell Telephone Laboratories at Whippany, N. J. It is expected that they will be utilized in a new long-wave transoceanic telephone station to be located "on the Maine coast." Together the six tubes will provide several hundred kilowatts of energy. Approximately 200 amperes of electric current are required to light each filament.

In contrast to the six modern mammoths of glass and copper, it is recalled that in 1915 more than 500 bulbs of the largest type then available were required in a single transmitter to carry on the first transoceanic telephone conversation.

St. Jerome to Celebrate Centenary

The commemorative festivities will be held on September 2nd. and 3rd. next, that is to say on a Sunday and a Monday (Labor Day).

The celebration will be of a two-fold character, the first day devoted to the religious festival while the second day will witness the civil commemoration. The centenary program will be published shortly.

The occasion will not be merely a local celebration, but will also be a home town rally. All former residents will avail themselves of this event to return to their birthplace, gather around old familiar firesides and rekindle cherished memories. It is stated that in the course of the past hundred years there is not a 'Jeromian' family which has not contributed in some form or another to the town's progress.

The coming centenary will also commemorate the first successful settlement of that magnificent region directly north of Montreal, a region now dotted with well-tilled farms, and throbbing with agricultural, commercial and industrial activity. Yet, barely one hundred years ago, this vast domain was covered with virgin forest that challenged even the stoutest hearts amongst the pioneer settlers.

Worthy of notice is the fact that Saint-Jerome's centenary will take an enduring form. Father Elie H. Auclair, noted French-Canadian literateur, has consented to write the storied past of the town and district. This historical record will be published within the next few months.

The spirit of this commemoration is that of Joseph Howe, the famous Nova Scotia statesman who gave utterance to these noble sentiments: "A wise nation preserves its records, gathers up its mementoes, decorates the graves of the illustrious dead, repairs the great public structures and fosters national pride and love of country by perpetual references to the glories of the past."

especially on one great commemorative occasion, just as we observe our many calendar holidays for Heroes and canonized Saints, no more deserving than Mothers.

For, who more than Mothers will enter into the enjoyment of the day with zest?—those dear Mothers who are alive and well enough to enter into the spirit of The Day. And, as for those who are gone, who "will not pass this way again", we hope will be hovering near and knowing something of what is being expressed, in remembrance—flowers, and thoughts, and songs.

Mothers should naturally like to be loved and cuddled, thoughtfully cared for, and protected—to feel the arms of their children about them, in acknowledgement of what they have sacrificed for them.—And you too, Jessie, may some day fall for the endearments of your children—even on Mother's Day. We hope they will remember.

If God made anything to be glorified, He surely made good Mothers! And also, beautiful flowers and songs with which to say lovely things to them. Let the sun in glowing brightness bless Mother's Day.

Assurance of SAFETY

The first requirement of the investor, particularly the small investor, is assured safety; income yield is of lesser importance. That is why so many hundreds of thousands of Canadians regard their savings deposits in this bank as the best type of investment. The income may not be so attractive as the promised yield of certain securities, but it is sure and steady, while the principal itself is safe and always remains at full face value.

urges in the Hidden Plan and through Mothers as the media between Matter and Spirit—in this manifestation of divinely bestowed gifts we recognize the tribute to Mothers, their claims justified and vindicated. In this acknowledgement, the integrity of Mothers is assured.

So let us honor our Mothers, when the Day comes.

Jessie Brown says, "I never wanted to do anything for my mother on Mother's Day, nor do I want our children to do anything for me." Further, she says, "I cannot endure Mother songs, and we hear so many of them."—Poor dear woman! That complaint comes like a wail for "help" across the dark waters, and it smacks a little of the tone of Betty Brainerd. This expression in song, Jessie calls, "wallowing in sentiment". She also says, "I dislike Mother's Day." And, more, that one of her boys is exactly in accord with her sentiments: "Mother songs gives me a pain"—Poor boy! Then, the writer herself, says, "Somehow, Mother's Day leaves me cold." Instantly, we think of the ever-comforting hot-water-bottle; believing that, had she been feeling comfy and well, these words could never have been written by her.

Things like that do happen when people are not feeling well.

As for the impetus given to Mother's Day by the florists, whose financial gain is the motive—as Mrs. Brown implies who would really blame them if such were the case? Business is business after all; but when it is done with flowers and love entwined, how much more lovely! If we are not mistaken, however, we think the idea of "Mother's Day" originated among the worthy women of the Women's Council—not the Florists.

Life cannot be too overly strewn with the beauty and color, so let it be beautified with flowers. As for the cost, after all this is just one way of circulating money. Stagnant money is as useless as water in an old pond. There need be no compulsion felt about the matter: it is similar to giving to the Foreign Missions. . . . "Do as your conscience dictates—not as your neighbor does or thinks."

Jessie Brown writes further of the way some children have of making their mothers feel old. Re-read it all for yourselves. But, we think we sense aright the underlying touchiness. . . . There are little convolutions of the consciousness which tell us when we are commencing to grow old; there are the dimming eyes, the wrinkles, and the gray hair.

—We wonder, perhaps, is this the cause? . . . But after all, isn't there much to be honored in age itself? Years of living and accumulating those beautiful things of the spirit that cannot be taken from us.

To love and be loved makes life worth while. What the world really wants, is more and more sentiment, and liberal expressions of it. . . . to the exclusion of our striving for the material and ignoring of spiritual-values. Alas, what we term "success" is not contained in the material possessions.

What, we ask, is this little span of life intended for, if not to contribute toward brotherhood and contentment? Mothers we have with us but once, each one of us, so let us do honor to them all the time; but

TONIC FOR A LAQUID CAUSE!

To the names of Mazo de la Roche, Dr. Banting and others who in recent years have won glory to Canada in the arts, letters and pursuits of learning, the Dominion is proud this week to honor Percival Price, Carillonneur of Ottawa, who has been awarded the 1933 Pulitzer Prize in Music. The award is in recognition of the year's finest production by a music student of America, and takes the form of a $1,500 Scholarship in Europe.

The distinction is specially acclaimed, inasmuch as Canada appears, to some at least, to have lagged behind in Music while producing characters and works outstanding in other branches of study. There can be little doubt that, as in poetry, fiction, art and science, there is a wealth of talent among the Canadian people. It is ardently hoped that our latent intelligence in music may some day claim a wider recognition, presenting itself in the certain national characteristics which mark our achievements in other lines.

To Mr. Price—who has become known to all and sundry through the Peace Tower carillon, heard frequently on Canadian radio broadcasts—warm congratulations are extended. His personal success, however, measures little in comparison to the advancement it represents in the musical standards of this country.

WILFUL TAX SLACKERS

The problem of tax arrears (says our exchange, the Cornwall Freeholder), is one of the most serious confronting all municipalities. Added to those who are "up against it" and find it impossible to raise the money, are those who are able to pay and who take advantage of present conditions and do not make the effort.

Over in the States these wilful tax slackers are characterized as wreckers of their own communities in this time of need. At a meeting of the National Conference on Government at Atlantic City there was strong criticism of these slackers. Here is what Thomas H. Reed of Ann Arbor, professor of political science at the University of Michigan, says about them:

"While the federal penitentiary yawns for income tax dodgers, the payment of taxes on property from which all our local governments are chiefly supported, has become optional since the depression," he said. "The time has come to call a halt on thoughtless legislation, which, in protecting the poor home-owner, whom everyone wants to protect, makes slacking easy."

"It is a mistake to assume that those who cannot pay are responsible for all or even most of our unpaid property taxes. They are, it is true, the great numerical majority of delinquents, but for the most part they are small taxpayers, and in the average community they owe but a minor part of the unpaid total."

"Most of the larger defaulters are able to pay but they are forcing schools to cut out valuable courses of instruction, shorten the terms and sometimes close. They have closed public libraries or brought them to poverty. They have cut police and fire protection to a dangerous minimum, and where the essential services of local government are still carried on, the tax-striker and tax-slacker have put the burden too heavily on the shoulders of underpaid teachers, policemen and firemen."

The Ottawa Spotlight

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, May.—As a rather sorry foil to the picture of tobacco-growers selling their wares at a figure considerably below the cost of production, the Stevens committee last week was given an earful of some of the profits made by tobacco companies which merely distribute the product which the farmer grows. For an initial investment of $25,000, representing a 50 per cent interest in the National Tobacco Co., the Imperial Tobacco company has in the past five years received dividends aggregating $1,375,000. It was brought out by the persistent questioning of Norman Sommerville, the counsel of the committee. Those shares originally worth but $25,000 had subsequently risen to a present value of $2,000,000. It was inferred.

The financial structure of the Imperial Tobacco company was under keen examination, and it was brought out that although only $14,000,000 odd in cash was actually invested in the company, its capital structure, by acquisition of other companies had grown to over $63,000,000, while the present market value of the stock was in the neighborhood of a hundred million dollars.

The Panic Week

Members of the parliamentary committee were curious as to what happened during the so-called "panic week" of 1931, when the price of tobacco fell from 30 cents a pound—a figure at which growers could probably 'get by'—to 20 cents a pound, which, for most of them, meant a price below cost of actual production. One Monday morning the price was 30 cents: the following it was only 20, and the explanation given by the tobacco executives was not sufficiently lucid for Hon. H. H. Stevens, who served prompt notice that he wanted a better explanation by the following day.

The capacity of the distributor to exist comfortably—even to prosper during the reduction of the primary producer to destitution, was illustrated a year ago in the case of milk production, and some evidence of a similar sort came out at the tobacco probe. One leading company made thirty-one million dollars in profits between 1929 and 1933. The spread in a 25 cent package of cigarettes which goes to the manufacturer was admitted by their representative to be nearly 8½ cents. This is a fearful condemnation of our economic set-up. Last week we had the grower admitting that he only received 1¼ to 1½ cents for the tobacco which went into the cigarettes; now we have the spectacle of a manufacturing company getting 8½ cents, much of which was obviously profit. This is the sort of thing which arouses rebellious thoughts among the primary producers.

Even the most loyal supporters of the capitalistic system admit that inequities of this sort must be stamped out of the system, if the relations between producer, distributor and consumer are to remain harmonious. Supporters of the new Marketing Bill urge that its provisions could be used to check that sort of thing.

Gold Tax Changes

Tobacco was the highlight of the week, but we also had some news about gold. Instead of a straight ten per cent tax on the selling price of gold, a change to one-quarter of the bonus, with exemptions and modifications, has been announced. The idea is to withhold the tax from the shoulders of the small or low-grade ore mine just struggling to get started, and to collect the bulk of the revenue from the large and highly profitable mines, which can best afford to cough up the coin.

We had the Premier of British Columbia here last week, asking assistance from the federal treasury, and rejecting with decision any suggestion that in return B. C. should submit in any measure to the dictation of the federal government. Premier Bracken, a year ago, had to agree to a similar restriction, though he didn't like it much. He who pays the piper likes to have something to say about calling the tune. That is the theory on which the federal authorities are working.

Plenty of High-Pressure Talk

The Banking committee has heard plenty of theory,—so much that little progress on the Bank charters has yet been made. G. G. McGeer of B. C. put on a show which had Major Douglas thrown completely in the shade for rapid-fire oratory and platform technique. A few members undertook to quiz McGeer but he threw every one for a considerable loss each time. In the Senate there was very nearly a war on the subject of peace, Messrs. Murdoch and McRae exchanging some heated words over the League of Nations.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 13, is "Adam and Fallen Man."

The Golden Text is: (I Corinthians 15: 22) "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

The following passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound, that . . . even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord." (Romans 5: 20, 21).

"Life is, always has been, and ever will be independent of matter: for Life is God, and man is the idea of God, not formed materially but spiritually, and not subject to decay and dust." "The elements and functions of the physical body and of the physical world will change as mortal mind changes its beliefs." (Science and Health, pages 200, 124).

"YOU DON'T PAY ONE PENNY EXTRA FOR THIS 3 TIMES SAFER TIRE"

Something had to be done to make tires safer. Every year thousands are killed or injured when blow-outs throw cars out of control. Goodrich engineers met the challenge with Life-Saver Golden Ply. This amazing invention resists the terrific heat inside the tire. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Blisters do not form. The cause of blow-outs is eliminated before they even start. No wonder thousands are changing to this "3 times safer" tire that gives months of extra mileage too! Come in to-day and see us.

If she had to remain in custody until early next year.

Crown counsel said the application seemed to be based on "two or three words too many uttered by the magistrate to the effect that the case against the accused was not very strong. The magistrate had, however, found the testimony against her strong enough to send her up for trial and that was what mattered."

"There was a clear contradiction," defending counsel retorted, "between two of the Crown's main witnesses, the medico-legal expert and the stepmother of the two children, as to the hour and the manner of their deaths."

Judge Demers remarked that provision was made in this district for only one assize term a year and this was considered to meet the administrative needs when the district was organized. He did not feel the case was one where he should interfere with the ordinary course of procedure.

Here and There

The British Columbia Chapter of the I. O. O. F. held its "coming of age" meeting at the Empress Hotel, Victoria, recently, at its twenty-first annual convention. Premier Patullo welcomed delegates from all over the province, and many distinguished guests were present.

The annual reduction in cost of summer railway travel under the heading of low summer fares, will be put into effect by the Canadian Pacific Railway on May 15th next, according to official announcement. The reduced fares will have extensive limits and stopovers.

Port Hope, on the south bank of the Fraser River, ninety miles from Vancouver by the Canadian Pacific, is a place where the Almighty has most lavishly set down in a land of wonderful beauty rivers and lakes abounding in game fish, writes B. Stone Kennedy, editor of Western Fishery.

Dr. Frank N. D. Buchanan, leader of the Oxford Group movement, is expected to launch another campaign in western Canada this Spring, commencing at Winnipeg May 1, taking in Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria, and culminating with a selective "house party" at the Banff Springs Hotel early in June.

The success of low cost all-expense tours in the Canadian Rockies instituted by the Canadian Pacific Railway last summer has prompted the company to repeat these four, five and six-day trips during the coming summer. Each trip affords 126 miles of motor-ing, and can be made either east-bound from Field, B.C., or west-bound from Banff, Alberta, at the convenience of passengers.

A. C. Leighton, R.B.A., president of the government art college at Calgary, who will again this summer hold his summer art school for selected students from the Province of Alberta at the Kananaskis Dude Ranch, near Banff, has picked a location surrounded by the most magnificent of Rocky Mountain scenery.

The skunk is not the king of the woods, said George Corsan, naturalist, addressing the Kiwanis Club at the Royal York Hotel recently. "Hold him up by his tail," said Mr. Corsan, "and he will become innocuous." He didn't tell the Kiwanis if he had actually accomplished this feat.

Toronto got its full measure of music-makers lately when the most famous bandmasters of the continent assembled at the Royal York Hotel for their annual convention. Captain Charles O'Neill was the president and they came from all parts of the United States and Canada.

Town Locals.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Carson, of Ahuntsic, spent Sunday with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gunn, of Montreal, were week-end visitors at Hill Head.

Mrs. Gruer and daughter, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, are the guests of Mrs. Thos. Fraser.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Drysdale, of Dorval, attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Jas. C. James.

Miss Allison Cottingham, of Montreal, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cottingham.

Mr. Guy Tombs, of Westmount, was in Lachute on Monday, attending the funeral of his aunt, the late Mrs. Jas. C. James.

Mrs. Robert McFaul and Mr. Jack Miller were in Montreal on Monday, attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Oscar, of St. Lamberts.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Richardson, of Brownsburg, left on Friday for a tour to England, Scotland and other points in Europe.

Mrs. C. Gillard and daughter have returned home, after spending the past week with her mother, Mrs. Parson, in Montreal.

The many friends of Mrs. Chas. Foster, of Brownsburg, will regret to know that she is undergoing a slight operation in the Montreal General Hospital.

Mrs. Allan Muir and little daughter are spending a short visit with Mrs. Muir at Lime Ridge, Que., and will leave for her home in Lynchburg, Va., on Monday.

Mrs. Whittaker and Miss Isabel Gunn, of Winnipeg, and Mr. Jackson Gunn, of Montreal, spent Sunday at Hill Head, with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hume.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Calder, Miss Evelyn Hamilton, R.N., and Miss Shirley Hamilton, of Montreal, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton over the week-end.

Mrs. W. Faucher and daughter Dorothy, of Winnipeg, are the guests of Mrs. R. A. Giles this week, leaving on Friday by Empress of Australia for her home in England.

Mr. H. E. Desjardins was in Montreal this week, attending the annual meeting of the Provincial Hotel-keepers Association and was elected a member of the Board of Directors.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hall and son Charles were in Montreal last Saturday, bidding farewell to their niece, Miss Constance Bissex, who sailed on the Montcalm, via England for Africa, where she will take up Missionary work. Miss Bissex for several years resided with her parents in Brownsburg.

The Ven. Archdeacon A. P. Gower-Rees, Rector of St. George's Church, Montreal, will be in Lachute on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week (May 15th. and 16th.) and will be the special preacher at a service to be held on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock D.S.T., in St. Simon's Church, to which all are cordially invited. On Wednesday, the Archdeacon will conduct a Quiet Day for the Clergy of the Deanery.

Archdeacon Gower-Rees was appointed to succeed the late Archdeacon Overing who passed to his rest on September 5th. 1933, and this will mark his first visit to the Parish.

The Dance held at Black & White Pavilion on Tuesday evening last was a decided success, and Mr. Douglas McQuat, who was responsible for bringing "Geo Wade and his Corn Huskers" to town, is congratulated on his enterprise. There was a fine, friendly spirit pervading and many old timers joined with the young in 'doing their turn' as of yore. In last week's issue of The Watchman impression was given that Mr. McQuat had rented the Pavilion for the summer; this however, is incorrect, as he is representative of Frost & Wood Co'y., and has no time or inclination to engage in other interests, with exception of this occasion which took the form of a real get together and reunion among his old friends.

Mrs. Sykes, of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. H. W. Giles this week.

Mrs. Crabbe, of London, Ont. was the week-end guest of Mrs. Geo. Creswell.

Misses Gabrielle and Mariette Joly spent the week-end in Montreal, the guests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. D. Daoust

Mr. Beatty, in his recent speech to the shareholders of his company offered a very comprehensive solution for the railway problem.

Can it be carried out?

He maintains that co-operation alone is not enough, that both roads must be under the one management "with a division on an agreed basis of the net earnings of the properties jointly operated."

This latter clause, no doubt constitutes the real problem connected with the solution. Arranging for both roads to operate under one management will be comparatively simple to coming to an agreement for the division of the earnings.

The theory is good, but to apply the principle may prove to be an altogether different matter.

It also seems from Mr. Beatty's speech that he struck a note when he said that the truck must be accepted as a means of transportation in the best interests of a great many people.

Have you ever noticed how the swallows act when a cat is crossing the yard?

The cat is their common enemy and they unite to swoop down as if to attack it.

Hundreds of thousands of years ago man had a host of common enemies in the great animals of the forest, giant reptiles and even birds in the air.

But that day has passed. Man no longer fears extinction from these common enemies. He can now subdue with comparative ease the most vicious creatures on the earth or in the air.

This became possible because man possesses the greatest attribute among all forms of life—a brain capable of infinite development.

Could we not assume, then, that man, having vanquished his common enemies can now live in peace and harmony with all the world?

Peace and harmony! How those swallows would mock if they had a brain capable of recognizing the extent of these virtues among the genus 'Homo'.

Man, with all his brains, in this enlightened day stands in deadly fear of an enemy infinitely more terrible than any which our prehistoric ancestors ever faced.

The name of this enemy is Man.

Day after day, nations continue to devote more money and more brains, to develop more perfect ways and means for wholesale slaughter among men.

And, to make it even more ridiculous, it is not a case of civilized man against uncivilized man nor Christian against pagan, but the 'civilized' against the 'civilized' and the 'Christian' against the 'Christian'.

And man, with his superior intelligence pities the swallow as it swoops down on its vicious enemy, the cat!

THE DEPRESSION
AFFECTS HEALTH

This depression is going to have a serious affect on health for many years to come. The rich can always afford doctors; many of the poor are in better health than they have ever been because they are getting a wiser choice of food, and children are getting milk who have never had it before and they are getting medical attention; but the great middle class, who like to pay their bills (and that includes the most of us) are the worst sufferers. I come in contact with a large number of women and I hear them say that they know they should go to the doctor, but they hated to spend the money, or that they owed the doctor and would not go to him until they got that bill paid. Minor ailments frequently become serious if neglected. Proper food is not being chosen because it costs too much. I heard one woman say that her rheumatism was worse because she could not afford to buy the fruits and vegetables she was supposed to eat. Another said she had to take a laxative each day because during the Spring months vegetables and fruits cost too much. Another one said that she was not feeling well because she had not been able to buy the prescribed food but as long as she ate as the doctor told her she was well. Dental attention is just as important for health as medical attention and there are innumerable people who know that their teeth need attention but will not go to a dentist because they have not the money to pay and will not have an unpaid bill hanging over their heads. Children's teeth as well as adults' are being neglected, unfortunately. People are putting off glasses until they feel that they can afford it and the whole system suffers from eye-strain. Doctors are having difficult times. I know one busy doctor who has collected only one hundred dollars since Christmas. Another one with a large practice collected ten, twelve and fifteen dollars in three successive months. Doctors need patience to be paid for their services; people need medical attention which they are not getting. There is something wrong in the whole system. We are educated by public funds but health which is surely as important as education is attended to if we happen to have the money. And too many of us lack both health and money.

VARIETY IN FLOURS

Life is a complicated affair these days. Everything we do and all the things we use. Take flour for an example. In the old days when you said flour you did not have to specify which kind. There was just one kind and it was used for all purposes. Now there is a flour specially suited to different kinds of baking and most women keep several varieties on their shelves, although some few stick to one kind which is called all-purpose, and that is just what it is. But you will have better results if you use the special flours. Use bread flour for bread and rolls; pastry flour for pastry; cake flour for cakes; and whole wheat flour for as many uses as possible. There are many women who question the use of cake flour as it is more expensive.

There is no doubt that you can make a good cake without it but it costs only a few cents for each cake and I like to use it for sponge or angel cakes or if I want a specially nice butter cake. There are quite a few women who keep bread flour just to use in making hot biscuits. That is entirely a matter of one's own taste. Personally I prefer a biscuit made with pastry flour as I think it makes a softer, lighter biscuit, but I know that not all my readers will agree with me. Wouldn't life be monotonous if we all thought alike or even cooked alike? If you are accustomed to using just one kind of flour, add other kinds gradually and see if you do not have better results.

A SALAD PLATE

Instead of individual salads, a salad plate with a variety of foods from which each person can choose their own assortment makes a pleasant variety. A large round plate or a platter is suitable and I find that a salad plate very often proves to be just the needed extra that I like to have if I am having company for high tea. We eat with our eyes and a plate of this kind may be very attractive to look at. Sometimes I envy the magazines their illustrations, especially those done in colour. I like to use something straight to radiate from the centre and divide the plate into sections, such as celery, asparagus or onions. Then arrange as artistically as possible (all art is not in pictures), as many salad materials as are available. Lettuce, tomatoes, cress, radishes, olives, cucumbers, green pepper rings are all suitable. The other night I used some of my pickled beets as I lacked red in the ensemble. Pass one or more varieties of salad dressings and your salad is complete.

RHUBARB TAPIOCA

1/4 cup quick tapioca
1 1/2 cups hot water
3 cups rhubarb cut in pieces
1 1/4 cups sugar
Mix ingredients in top of double boiler and cook for 15 minutes or until the rhubarb is soft and the tapioca clear. Stir frequently. Chill and serve with cream, either whipped or plain.

CORN FRITTERS

1 can corn
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 eggs
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
Sift the dry ingredients into the corn and mix. Add the well-beaten egg yolks. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Droy by spoonfuls and cook on a hot greased frying pan. Serve with meat.

TENDERS FOR COAL AND COKE

SEALED Tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tenders for Coal" will be received until 12 noon, (daylight saving), Wednesday, June 6, 1934, for the supply of coal and coke for the Dominion Buildings, in the Province of Quebec.

Specifications and forms of tender can be obtained from the Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa; the Clerk of Works, 150 St. Paul St., West, Montreal; the Superintendent, 150 St. Paul St., West, Montreal, and the Clerk of Works, Customs Buildings, Quebec.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions.

The right to demand from the successful tenderer a deposit, not exceeding 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, to secure the proper fulfillment of the contract, is reserved.

By order,
N. DESJARDINS,
Secretary,
Department of Public Works,

CONCRETE
Paving
Makes Road Budgets Go Farther

By ending costly upkeep, concrete lets communities concentrate on mileage and width, without burdening the taxpayer. It offers notable advantages to the individual motorist as well. Superior tractive qualities that minimize skidding; less wear and tear on car and tires; clearly defined edges; exceptional night-time visibility; are among them. Advocate concrete paving. It means safe, economical driving and saves your community money.

Prisoners in Lachute Burglary Case Escaped From Jail at St. Jerome

LOCKED TURNKEY IN CELL AND STOLE PRISON CASH

After holding up the night guard at the point of a revolver, Jail, gagged and tied the turnkey, locked him up and escaped on Tuesday night, after changing their clothes and stealing the sum of $61 from the jailer's desk.

The fugitives were two who were convicted for the robbery of Lemay's store in Lachute, and also a third whom they released from a neighboring cell.

It was 9.30 o'clock when the escape took place. The prisoners used a ruse to trick the night turnkey into position to be held up with a revolver.

Two of the prisoners, Lucien Larocque, and Albert Gobeil, were in a cell on the ground floor of the jail building at the north west side. The turnkey was in bed close by, having put all fifteen prisoners of the jail to bed at eight o'clock daylight saving time.

At 9.30 o'clock one of the prisoners in the ground floor cell knocked on the door and the turnkey, A. Nadon, went to investigate. Lucien Larocque came to the cell door and asked for a drink of water. Nadon was not dressed.

"Let me out of the cell and I'll go for my drink and come right back," said Larocque. Nadon consented and let the prisoner go alone to the bathroom where there was water and a glass. In a few moments the prisoner returned.

As he drew alongside Nadon, Larocque pointed a revolver at the turnkey and ordered him to remain quiet. Nadon was forewarned and Larocque took the keys from him and threw them into the cell where Gobeil picked them up and opened the door. The two prisoners then

TRIO PROMPTLY RE-ARRESTED

15 Detectives in Man-Hunt

15 Detectives under the orders of Sergeant Lasnier conducted the man-hunt in the neighborhood of St. Andre Avenue to which the three prisoners made their escape Tuesday night from St. Jerome. Information uncovered by Sergeant Lasnier led him to believe that he knew where at least one of the fugitives was and he made the presence of the police conspicuous. He then withdrew all of his men but two, Sergeants Gauthier and Marsolais. They waited near the farmhouse to which the police had been directed, but the name or owner of which they would not reveal, and one of the three men came out shortly after the other detectives had left.

On his being arrested by the detectives he disclosed where his two companions had fled. By 6 o'clock yesterday morning they arrived at a shack in the bush five miles distant from St. Andre and there found the men. The refugees had taken time in St. Andre to provide themselves with meat, other provisions and beer, and these they had taken to the shack.

All three men were taken back to St. Jerome and lodged in the jail again.

tied Nadon hand and foot and placed a gag in his mouth. They carried him back into the cell they had occupied and left him there. Locking the door of the cell the two men went to the jailer's office on the same floor and forced it open. In this office are kept the prisoner's clothing. They smashed the lock of the jailer's desk. Inside they found the sum of $61 and took the money. They left the building by a side door. They locked all doors and took the keys with them. Before leaving they went to the second floor and released a third prisoner there.

It took Nadon twenty minutes to rid himself of his gag and bonds. He was unable to get out of the cell, however, and was forced to go to the window and smash the glass. He shouted from there for help at the top of his voice. At last he was heard by a neighbor, who ran to the jail building and rang the bell of the jailer's home which is on the fourth floor of the building. Jailer W. Michaud answered the summons and when told of the turnkey's plight rushed to the cell and released him. After obtaining the details of the escape and discovering the robbery of the clothes and the money from his office, the jailer notified Sheriff J. W. Cyr.

The sheriff immediately communicated with the provincial police and officers headed immediately toward St. Andre Avenue, in which direction the men were said to have escaped.

FIRST OFFICIAL VISIT OF ARCH-DEACON

Sermon at St. Simeon's

Preceding the "Quiet Day" of the Anglican Clergy of this diocese, a special choral service was held in St. Simeon's Church, Lachute, on Tuesday evening.

This service marked the first official visit of Arch Deacon Gower-Rees, of St. George's Church, Montreal, who succeeded the late Arch Deacon Overing.

Other visiting ministers were Rev. Gordon Addie, of Rawdon; Rev. Booy, St. Andrews East; Rev. Baugh, Papineauville; Rev. Brueton, Grenville; Canon Garrett, of Hawkesbury; Rev. Lummis, of Morin Heights; and Rev. Radmore, of Mascouche.

The Rector, Rev. LeCras conducted the service, and singing was led by the Lachute and Brownsburg Anglican Choirs.

The first lesson from Isaiah 42, was read by Rev. Booy, and the New Testament lesson from John 16, by the Rev. Gordon Addie.

EXPROPRIATION VALUE OF GOLF CLUB LAND

Difference of Opinions

The Public Service Commission last week heard the case of Lachute Golf Club vs. the Quebec Department of Roads, relating to the expropriation of part of the Club's property, for the widening of the Montreal-Ottawa highway. The commission will have to decide between two widely divergent views as to the value of the land expropriated. While the club seeks $4,522 for the land and damages to the amount of $500, the Department of Roads has made an offer of $200. Experts from both sides testified as to the respective views and the case was taken under deliberation.

MASONIC MEETING WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

On Monday last Argenteuil Masonic Lodge, No. 67, was honored by a visit from Right Worshipful Brother W. E. N. Hodgins, of Pontiac Lodge, Shawville, who is District Deputy Grand Master for this year. There was a large turnout locally, and lodges from Arundel, Hudson, Aylmer, Grenville and Hawkesbury were represented. An exemplification of the second degree was creditably given by the officers and a pleasing event during the evening was the installation of Rev. Bro. Macaskill as Chaplain of Argenteuil Lodge, by the distinguished visitor Bro. Hodgins.

After the work of the evening all retired to the banquet room to partake of refreshments. Short addresses were given by the D.D.G.M., Bro. Hodgins, Rt. Wor. Bro. Conn, District Grand Chaplain, Rt. Wor. Bro. Locke, and other brethren, all of which were inspiring and greatly appreciated.

A similar meeting was held at Arundel on Thursday last when Laurentian Lodge received the D.D.G.M. on his official visit. At that meeting there was also a large number of visitors and a most profitable and enjoyable evening was spent.

MINISTERIAL MEETING

Rev. E. T. Baxter, President of the Ottawa Valley Ministerial Association, occupied the chair at a meeting of the association in Hawkesbury United Church on May 7th. Rev. A. E. Hagar and Rev. J. J. Poitras were also in attendance from this vicinity.

SUCCESSFUL OPERETTA AT ST. ANDREWS

St. Andrews East.—Last Friday evening people were coming on every road that led to St. Andrews Town Hall. They were coming to "The Feast of the Red Corn." It was not a corn boil nor corn soup; but a real feast of dramatic music. The Ladies' Choral and Dramatic Society of St. Andrews E., have given of their time to the worthy purpose of building up a community spirit, and developing cultural taste. In coming together for rehearsals they had opportunity for fellowship, and prepare themselves to contribute to a larger community something more satisfying than that which is hurriedly prepared.

The opera does not go away back into antiquity, but is of comparatively recent origin. Though the Greek dramas were operatic in character, as the chorus was an important feature in them, the opera proper is of recent date and like many good things in music is of Italian origin. About the close of the sixteenth century the poet Riuccini wrote a drama on the classical story of Daphna, which was set to music by Peri, the most celebrated musician of the age. Ever since, musical dramas of various kinds were produced. Paul Bliss who belongs to our age has produced the operetta "The Feast of the Red Corn" featuring Indian customs and superstition interwoven with romance and charm. In Venice we are told that the first stage for opera was built in 1637. Let us hope that it afforded more space than most of the stages in our municipal halls. The greatest obstacle to the success of the whole performance according to the observation of the writer was the lack of ample space on the stage. The quality of the acting and singing would not be repugnant to the ears of Reginald de Koven, Victor Herbert, Darnowsky, or even Richard Wagner.

As shown above, the operetta had an Indian setting and the different characters felt quite at ease swinging their representations of crude Indian instruments. Mrs. L. H. Bezanon, who performed as Weeda Wanta, Queen of the Wanta Tribe sang her solo part well and her costume was appropriate to her role. Miss Muriel Judd as Impee Light, was free and easy on the stage. She was adorned in most becoming robes and acted well and sang sweetly.

CONSTABLE DIED SUDDENLY ON MONDAY

Constable Lionel Gagné, who had been for several years in the service of the Town and was a familiar figure on the streets of Lachute, succumbed suddenly to an acute attack of indigestion last Monday evening. The constable had been under medical care for some time with digestive trouble, but had suffered nothing so severe as to interfere with his duties. He had eaten his regular evening meal last Monday, and afterwards complained of pain and discomfort. As he grew worse, Dr. A. Rodrigue was summoned and Gagné expired in his presence at around 8 p.m.

The late constable resided on Meikle street, and is survived by his wife and seven children. He was 37 years of age. A largely attended funeral took place this (Thursday) morning at Ste. Anastasie Church, numerous citizens attending to pay their tribute, and their sympathy to the bereaved family.

County Women's Institutes Hold Fourteenth Annual Convention

The 14th. Convention of the Argenteuil County Women's Institutes was held in McArthur's

"PARENTS' NIGHT" AT Y. P. S.

The Y. P. S. of the Lachute United Church held their regular meeting on Monday evening, which was featured as "Parents' Night."

Mrs. Leslie Morris, the president, was in the chair, and after the business routine was over, she extended a cordial welcome to the guests, and also expressed the pleasure of the society to those present.

A special musical programme was arranged; the first contribution was from Mr. Fassio, who gave three beautiful violin solos, which were rendered with his usual artistic style, and were indeed greatly appreciated.

Following, a C.G.I.T. quartette, composed of the Misses Berniquier, Aitken, Shaded and Clunie, sang a very sweet number titled "My Mother's Prayer." The third item was a brilliant piano rendition by Mr. R. Seigel of Brownsburg, who dazzled the audience with his speedy fingering.

Two Hawaiian Guitar numbers were given by Miss J. Valpy, which added a good variety to the musical evening. The last item was a piano solo by Miss Dumouchel, who gave a very fine interpretation to her contribution.

The appreciation of the society was amiably expressed to those assisting in the program by Mrs. Morris.

A social hour was enjoyed afterwards, with carpet bowling, and refreshments were served.

93 YEARS YOUNG, STILL ENJOYS FISHING

Matthew Scott, one of our oldest residents, received congratulations this week on his 93rd birthday. Mrs. Hurdman of Brackenbrige, Que., and Mrs. Lusk, of Luskville, Que. daughters of Mr. Scott, came to rejoice in the occasion and offer felicitations, together with Miss Winnifred Hurdman, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott and local members of the family.

Mr. Scott is hale and hearty, attends regularly at the United Church services, and is a familiar and respected figure around town. He still enjoys a fishing expedition, and last week landed 8 nice trout. He modestly narrated to Watchman representatives how, at Long Lake, Lakefield, with his rod and line in a short time he out-fished a younger sportsman operating three fishing rods!

HON. H. H. STEVENS ON RED CROSS

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade & Commerce, will be the speaker on Monday evening, May 21st., at 9.00 p.m. in the series of broadcast talks on the work of the Red Cross in Canada. This series will be broadcast on national network.

SOFTBALL SCHEDULE

The Inter-Provincial Softball schedule, covering teams in the local league, has been drawn up, and we are informed the first game is to be played in Lachute next Monday evening at 6.45 o'clock, between Vankleek Hill and the local Tigers. The schedule will be duly published in this newspaper.

Hall, Lachute, on Wednesday of this week, about 125 ladies being present.

The president, Mrs. Douglas Davis, occupied the chair and reports of a most successful year were brought in from the different branches in the county.

A bountiful mid-day lunch was served to the ladies and during the afternoon, Mrs. Bezanon, of St. Andrews, sang very sweetly, and a piano solo was rendered by Miss H. McFaul. A most inspiring address was given by Miss H. McCain, of MacDonald College, Supt. of W. I. for Quebec. The newly elected officers were brought in for the coming year: Mrs. Kuhring, of Lakefield, President, and Mrs. H. Ardill, of Brownsburg, Sec'y. Hearty votes of thanks were given to the retiring officers.

The County Convenor of Publicity submits the following report of branch activities during the month:

MONTH'S ACTIVITIES OF W. I. BRANCHES

Chatham Branch had for their subject this month "Canadianization & National Events", and responded to their roll-call with the names of Canadian birds and their habits. Eleven members were present to listen to Mrs. Talbot's interesting address on this subject.

Frontier had ten members present at an interesting agriculture meeting. Several papers on that subject were read, and a roll-call of "Noxious Weeds" was responded to. A demonstration of "Waterless Cooking" was held the same week, at which 20 ladies were present.

Jerusalem-Bethany had fourteen members and five visitors present to witness a very interesting demonstration on "Sandwich Making" by Mrs. Robert Hamilton. Roll-call, naming a County in Quebec and its County Town. In the absence of Mrs. G. Walker, Miss M. Walker read her paper on "Home Economics", also gave Current Events.

Lachute Branch had eighteen members present, to be entertained by a splendid address on "Spring Planting" by Mrs. G. Clunie. Their roll-call was a long the same line, being "My Favorite Annual". A donation of a rug for Lachute Consolidated School was received by this Branch from Ayers Limited.

Lakefield had an interesting "Home Economics" meeting with a talk and demonstration on "Useful Household Gadgets" by their president, Mrs. Kuhring, as well as a paper on "Home Economics" by Mrs. Shearson. Their May meeting was "Agriculture", with an address by Rev. E. Mount, on "The Value of the Vegetable Garden in the Home" and a roll-call replied to by naming "Favorite Annuals". This Branch combined the work of the two months in one, having no regular meeting in April. They also exchanged flower slips and seeds. Mrs. Kuhring reviewed Current Events from previous month.

Morin Heights reports its two last meetings, namely for April and May. April meeting heard an interesting address by Miss Olive Seale on her recent trip to Europe, accompanied by an exhibit of photographs and souvenirs. An interesting letter from Mrs. Honey of Abbotsford was also read and discussed. The hostess at this meeting, Mrs. J. E. Seale, treated the members to Taffy and other dainty refreshments. Fourteen members and three

TIME TO BE HAPPY

A merry Robin Red Breast Sang a song so gay, Cheer up! cheer up! cheer up!
he sang,
It is the month of May.
The lambs are skipping on the hills,
The fish swim in the brook,
But Billy Boy's going after them,
With his new line and hook.
The daffodils are nodding
To purple violets there,
The wind is playing hide and seek
With Mary Bella's hair.
Cheer up! cheer up! Be happy all
And try some good to do, Don't miss a chance, dear little folk,
Then you'll be happy too.

BILLY GOES FISHING

A regular war-whoop sounded outside the sitting-room door.
It opened with a rush and Billy dashed into the room, stood on his head a moment then began a series of wild somersaults.

"Billy! Billy!" his mother cried, as she gathered into her arms little Baby Lucille, who had been awakened suddenly by the noise and was now screaming as loudly as it was possible for a baby of her age to scream.

"Billy," she said again. "Why couldn't you remember that this is the time Lucille takes her morning nap, and come in quietly, instead of like wild Indian!"

"I am sorry, Mother, about waking Babe, but I was so excited that I had to let off steam somehow. You see, Ted's dad is taking him fishing and has invited me to go with them.
Perhaps his Uncle Dick may go too, and if he does, Ted says that we will hear some wonderful stories. May I go, Mother?
Say yes, do please, Mother."

"With two grown men to look after you, you should be all right I should think, but you know I am always nervous when you are near water. You are so reckless, you know, Billy."

"I'll be careful, Mother, if you'll only say yes." Billy's voice and eyes were full of entreaty.

"When does Mr. Bond plan to go?" his mother asked.

"This afternoon, Mother, to Billow's Creek, then perhaps Twenty Fourth of May back to

Green Pond Camp. Please, Mother, may I go?"

"If Daddy says yes" conceded his mother, with a twinkle in her eye.

Mother knew that Daddy never said "no" as a rule to anything Billy wanted to do that was not really harmful.

"Whoopie!" shouted Billy,
"then I am pretty sure of going. I am sorry, Mother, I forgot about Babe again. Let me push the carriage back and forth for a while. Perhaps I can put her to sleep that way.
I deserve to have to push it a long time too, for forgetting the second time. I guess what Teacher says about me is true. She says I am a real Scatter Brain."

Billy paid for being a Scatter Brain by having to play with the baby until his mother got dinner ready for Daddy.
And the baby had evidently decided she was not intended to sleep any more that morning.
She lay quietly in her carriage as long as Billy kept moving it, but the moment the motion ceased there was a wail of protest from its occupant. "Dear me," murmured Billy, "I didn't know babies could be so bossy.
No wonder Daddy says that Baby owns this house!"

But even the longest period of waiting comes to an end, and when dinner was over Billy, with his Daddy's consent, started off to meet Ted and his father and Uncle Dick, proudly carrying his own father's lightest fishing rod. It was almost too heavy at that, but Billy was so proud of having the loan of it that he did not mind its weight.

The drive in a high-powered car to Billow's Creek did not take very long. In spite of his hurry to get to the creek, Billy thought the car was getting there a little too quickly. There were no high-powered cars at Billy's home, nor low-powered ones either, and he was enjoying his ride very much.

"All out!" said Mr. Bond with a smile, stopping the car at a point where the waters of the creek had crept into a deep hollow in the bank. "I think you boys had better try your luck here, while Uncle Dick and I go a step further down, but remember, boys, do not go too close to the water in case you fall in. And do not chatter too much or you will scare the fish away and no-one will get any."
"Huh, Dad!" chuckled Ted
"the idea of us being able to scare a fish with just talking!"
"If you talk too much and too loudly" said his daddy, "you will find out."

He showed them how to bait their hooks and cast the line into the water before going off to see how Uncle Dick was getting on.

For some time the boys flicked their lines in and out of the water, but without catching anything, until Billy suddenly shouted, "Whoopie! I have caught something. My, but it's heavy, I cannot pull it in at all."

By L. W. Armstrong

Hon. H. H. Stevens.

Honourable H. H. Stevens is Minister of Trade and Commerce. He is also a man of marked ability.

He made a very fine speech to business men in Galt, Ont., not long ago, and another in Montreal.

He made it perfectly plain that he condemned the business ethics of the day.

He even went so far as to inform his audiences that unless they proceeded to eliminate some of the outstanding evils, the Government would be forced to intervene.

Mr. Stevens' greatest shortcoming seems to be an over-abundant amount of faith in the inherent goodness of men.

Big Business has the whip hand, and, as is nearly always the case, the advantage will be taken.

More preaching will accomplish little or nothing. There will have to be outside intervention, before business executives will begin to shoulder their rightful share in alleviating the prevailing distress.

The old adage still stands:
you can't make a silk purse from a sow's ear.

Mr. Stevens is, no doubt, the most prominent figure among those who are eliciting so much information from business executives at Ottawa.

The public now has a chance to see how thousands of primary producers, together with thousands of wage earners are at the mercy of huge corpor-

On the one hand, prices below cost of production and starvation wages are paid.

On the other, dividends are allotted to share-holders—people who, for the most part, have more than enough, and individuals receive salaries sufficient to feed, clothe and shelter over one hundred people comfortably.

Such situations present problems which call for intelligent consideration.

While there is the danger of going off half-cocked, there is also the danger of relapsing into a state of apathy concerning matters of interest to all.

G. B. S. Declining?

A notable English dramatic critic, Rupert Harvey claims that George Bernard Shaw is no longer the great playwright he was; that his most recent works are quite common-place and do not attract the audiences of the past.

Critics have been wrong too often in the past for such words to carry much weight.

Nevertheless, it is quite reasonable to suppose that he is right. The famous cynic with the whiskers was born in 1856.
Many people do begin to slow down when they have celebrated so many birthdays.

Be that as it may, G. B. Shaw is the author of "Saint Joan," a play, which, it is generally accepted, will insure a place for him in the realm of dramatics among future generations.

Possibly Mr. Harvey met with the same reception from the old man as have many others of his kind.

The criticisms sound a great deal like the little dog barking at the big dog's heels.

Another War?

The boys in the Upper House at Ottawa seem to be having a grand old time trying to decide whether or not Canada should continue as a member of the League of Nations.

According to the newspapers, one of them has been quoting figures galore to prove that war isn't what it used to be.

He claims there was an ancient Roman war where 70,- 000 were killed out of a total of 76,000, whereas, at Vimy Ridge, there were only 4,500 Canadians killed out of a total of 81,000.

Distressing, isn't it?

He goes on to say that he is "entirely out of sympathy with those people who are for peace at any price. No nation ever grew great unless it fought for its rights. Slushy sentimentalism leads to spineless ineffective nationhood."

The thing to do, then, is to rush into another great orgy of wholesale slaughter in order that the nation may become strong and healthy.

His arguments seem slightly inconsistent when he further claims that the last war cost 30,000,000 lives and $400,000,- 000,000 in property.

It would be necessary to add the casualties and the damages of a considerable number of wars in history to equal those amounts.

It might be also noticed that he does not compare the number of non-combatants—innocent women and children—who were cut down in the Great War, to those in wars of the past.

Despite these arguments of this high authority, there are many who will continue to believe that war is still what it used to be, and then some.

Most Especially Conducted

The Captain and the crew, the ship's Doctor, and more particularly the kindly, motherly stewardesses of the Canadian Pacific liner Montclare all shared the responsibility of personally conducting the recent trans-Atlantic journey of Mary Estella Barr, of Halifax. Mary Estella has six months of very active life behind her, and the best wishes of the Montclare's personnel for many happy years to come. The journey was necessary because Mary Estella is motherless, and her father, Peter Barr of Halifax, though unwilling to part with his baby daughter, yielded to the wishes of his parents in Leith, Scotland, to send the baby to them. Her grandparents met her at Glasgow.

"HEAL THYSELF!"—STEVENS TO BUSINESS

If candid, corrosive criticism be good for the soul, then Canadian business owes something to Mr. Harry Stevens. For the Minister of Trade and Commerce talks to our industrial leaders in a manner so politically unorthodox as to be positively refreshing. Certainly a change from the "soothing", sycophantic attitude of the average politician to the militant candor of Mr. Stevens in Montreal on Friday night is a mighty change for the better. As good for business as it is good for politics.

Business men—Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce have been the worst offenders—have a habit of telling Governments how they should run the Government. Their pet hobby is public expenditure. A meeting of a board of trade without a resolution calling upon the Government to balance its budget is a sort of modern miracle, while a Pullman smoker without an up-and-coming young financier who couldn't cut Government expenditures by 100 million dollars, means that nobody is travelling.

In Montreal, Mr. Stevens addressed to these gentlemen a few most wholesome truths. One of the things he told them, and one of the truest was that they themselves, probably more than any other class, were responsible for Government expenditures. For example:

"The minister accused business men themselves of being responsible for the heavy governmental expenditures of the past 15 years. Who opposed the Canadian Governmental Merchant Marine project?" he asked. He wondered if the heavy machinery manufacturers, the business-men engaged in the paint, varnish and lumber industries, had opposed the scheme. "On the contrary, the greatest degree of pressure was brought to bear on the government of the day by these same businessmen to proceed with that program," he declared.

Those who have watched Parliament Hill know that this is true. Who are the leaders of the deputations which, day in and day out, year after year, come to Ottawa demanding expenditures? Nine times out of ten they are business men, the prominent figures of the communities which seek expenditures. All for economy as members of Boards of Trade, they are all for something else when some public work is in the offering promising benefit for themselves or for their district.

But Mr. Stevens, while he was at the glass houses, threw one other stone most effectively. Thus:

"And what have these same business men done on their own behalf? They have increased the mortgage bonded indebtedness of industries and business corporations in Canada from $220,000,000 to $1,178,000,000 in the past 17 years, or by 500 percent. Yet business expansion and output have only increased 50 percent in the same period."

"Turn your eyes on your own activities. See if criticism cannot be directed to yourselves in this respect."

The Journal, in its humble way, has pointed to this thing again and again. Pointed to the fact that business men, active in criticism of the Canadian National Railways and the Government on the score of extravagance, have been doubly guilty on the same score in the matter of their own enterprises. All of us were crazily optimistic at the same time and in the same way. Thinking we were on the top of the world and that things must go on and up unceasingly, we built overheads and created problems, for which our economic organization was hopelessly inadequate. Governments were no worse than business; public business no worse than private business. If anything, in truth, the politicians were the least blameworthy.

To have a politician like Mr. Stevens, capable of telling the truth and not afraid to tell it, is a good thing. And, incidentally, there were one or two other things in the Minister's Montreal speech that industry might well ponder profitably.

CITY VAULT DEFIED LOCKSMITHS

Business was at a standstill in the city hall of Peterboro, Ont., one day recently when the heavy doors of the city vault refused to open. The safe contained all the important municipal papers. Two locksmiths were called, in an effort to open the antiquated vault, but they finally gave it up. Charles Curtis, city tax collector, finally opened the lock in one last lingering twist of the dial.

Keeping Pace

DOWN through the years—since it was established in 1832—The Bank of Nova Scotia has steadily kept pace with the advancing needs of Canadian industry and enterprise. Today, as in the past, it offers to sound business not only complete facilities for the performance of every banking function, but more—an individual attention to the needs of each client.

EDITORIAL

CIVIC PRIDE—NOW OR NEVER

To urge upon citizens the need of cleaning and beautifying their premises, is one of the perennial duties of a home-town newspaper. Although the need is self-evident, The Watchman repeats this spring-time plea, directing the attention of its readers in a personal way to the needs of their buildings, yards and properties. . . . Garbage collection is now proceeding regularly and there is no excuse for litter and trash around town.

Lachute is a settlement beset by two evils to which we make particular reference—not that our town differs in these respects from other rural communities. . . . When approaching Lachute by C.P.R. train these drawbacks are both evident; around the streets, particularly the back streets, they are equally obvious, and equally distasteful. . . . We mean, first, the number of unpainted and weather-worn sheds, outbuildings, and even factories. A coat of paint here would work miracles; a coat of white-wash would be cheaper but just as effective. . . . Second, we deplore the quantity of scrap and junk cherished in numerous back-yards as items of intrinsic value. There is a neighboring scrap heap for material of this kind, and it is respectfully urged that derelict automobiles, buggy-tops, paramulators, and all such mobile or stationary blots upon the landscape, be removed from public view.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

With the season yet in its infancy, prospects look bright for a decided upturn in the automobile, tourist, and allied businesses. Among our county tourist centres, it is pleasing to note several establishments making a bid for brighter days. It is in a time like this, following years of depression, that the stamina of our business men comes to the fore.

An up-and-coming campaigner will tune-in on reviving trade and secure his share, but the man who sits back and waits for things to pick up will never know when the depression is over.

Incidentally, in the distributing of worthwhile goods and services, the keynote to success is publicity—a factor in which the local newspaper office is ready to collaborate. Printer's ink accelerates progress, and wide-awake communities should use lots of it.

LOCAL BURGLARY CULPRITS BREAK JAIL AT ST. JEROME

In the meantime the sheriff made an investigation in the town and learned that the three men had gone to a local taxicab driver named Viger and rented his automobile.

Sheriff Cyr stated that Larocque and Gobeil were in the jail since April to serve a sentence of two months for burglary. They were convicted of robbing the Lemay store here in Lachute some time ago. He also suspected that the pair were wanted in Cornwall, Ont., for escaping from jail there. Larocque, he said was 19 years of age and was known also under the alias of Lavolette. Albert Gobeil is 29 years of age and enjoys the alias of Paul Chretien. The sheriff had been in communication with Ontario authorities and an officer was to have come in June to take the prisoners back to Ontario in the event of their being the men who escaped from jail in Cornwall.

The third escaped prisoner is a resident of the Boys' Farm at Shawbridge. He has been at the farm for six years and is reported as being one of the most troublesome boys in the institution.

The sheriff, the jailer, and the turnkey were unable to explain how Larocque, the prisoner who seemed to be the ringleader of the escape plot, managed to obtain a revolver.

The Ottawa Spotlight

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, May 15.—Sensation was piled on sensation during the tobacco inquiry last week, which quite overshadowed any developments in other parts of the hill. Parliamentarians and pressmen tend to become 'hard-boiled' about scandals and insinuations, but the most cynical of them all got a few stiff jolts as witnesses came forward and revealed conditions in the tobacco industry. It was not that anything definitely criminal, perhaps, was uncovered. It was the gravely disturbing spectacle of women crying at starvation prices for raw tobacco, set alongside mammoth figures of high profits in the manufacturing end, princely salaries and bonuses going on while the tiller of the soil was virtually giving away the product of his labor, at a price which hardly returned him his actual cash outlay, and which left little or nothing either as wages or as interest on his investment.

The Gist of the Evidence

Just to boil down for ready reference and quick reading the highlights of the inquiry last week, here they are:

In the five years 1929-1933 the Imperial Tobacco Co. which buys about 75 per cent of the Canadian crop, made profits of $32,477,100, its subsidiaries made an additional $3,748,000.

A combination of salary and bonus amounting to over $140,000 was paid to the president, and even in the worst of the depression his income from this source never fell below $90,000. Five or six other officials received sums of fifty, sixty, seventy thousand and more. As against this salary a Canadian cabinet minister only received $14,000 and a prime minister only $20,000.

The bonus paid to these executives was calculated so that as the profits of the company rose, their share went up.

Tobacco Was Going Down

A vivid account of the way tobacco buyers literally 'drove down' the market from a reasonable price of 30 cents a pound, in the fall of 1931, to a figure as low in at least one case of 15 cents a pound, with scores of cases of 16 to 20 cents, was given to the committee.

"Instructions from New York" was the reason given by one of the chief buyers for the fact that after starting at 30 cents a pound one week the price fell to less than 20 cents soon afterwards.

The reason given by representatives of the tobacco company for this reduction in price was that the crop was large, and over-production appeared to have arrived.

Charges that the Imperial Tobacco company had tried to drive him out of business were aired by a cigar manufacturer of l'Epiphanie, Quebec.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE Q. R. McADAM

The funeral of the late Q. R. McAdam which took place on Saturday, May 5th., was largely attended by many sympathizing friends and relatives. A short service was held at the house, before going to the United Church, where the Rev. W. B. Rosborough and H. Cousens paid fitting tribute to the one who had during his lifetime been so faithful, to his church and his fellow men.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Leonard and Allan McQuat, Ross and Stewart McAdam, Stewart Walker, Archie Gordon, Robert Hadley and George Muir.

The large number of floral tributes bore silent testimony of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Interment was made in the Lachute Cemetery where the committal Service was conducted by the Masonic Order of which he was Immediate Past Master and an honored Member.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to his widow, Mrs. Q. R. McAdam and his immediate relatives.

Weary at last of the long day's toil,
He has laid life's burdens down
To rest in that land from sorrows free

The land of the soul's renown.

He has learned the secret eternal
That death's but an open door
That swings to let heaven's glory through

As we drift to that better shore.

He has gone away for a little while
And a veil is drawn between Which though dark to our closed vision

Gleams for him with a rainbow sheen.

It was only a step in the shadow
Then rest in the garden of love
'Tis parting below in the darkness

'Twill be union in light up above.

SOURD ON THE WORLD?—THAT'S LIVER

Wake up your Liver Bile

—No Calomel necessary

Many people who feel sour, sluggish and generally wretched make the mistake of taking salts, oil, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage which only move the bowels and ignore the liver.

What you need is to wake up your liver bile. Start your liver pouring the daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels. Get your stomach and intestines working as they should, once more.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will soon fix you up. Purely vegetable. Safe. Sure. Quick. Ask for them by name. Refuse substitutes. 25c. at all druggists.

Welden Motor Sales, Calumet, Que.

When you've looked at all Three Lowest-Priced Cars and Compared the Prices you will realize that Plymouth Quality is within the reach of any Motor Car Purchaser . . . This is the supreme achievement of Chrysler Engineering and Manufacturing Genius . . .

THE new Plymouth Six gives you four vital quality features. Two of them are safety features and two go to give you a smooth ride.

TWO SAFETY FEATURES

Hydraulic brakes, as perfected by Chrysler engineers, are the safest kind of brakes. They are always equalized and prevent three-wheel braking. They operate with a touch of the toe . . . and will stop on a dime!

Plymouth all-steel body, reinforced with steel, is the only kind of body that satisfies a modern-minded motorist. It's the only really safe kind of body. All-steel electrically fused into one shock-resisting whole—it's as modern as a steel bridge or a steel Pullman.

TWO COMFORT FEATURES

Plymouth Independent Front Wheel Springing is the same as used on some of the world's highest priced cars. The long, soft coil springs of specially processed molybdenum alloy steel permit the wheels to "step" over bumps and prevent "back seat bounce".

Floating Power engine mountings are much more than "rubber cushions". They permit the engine to absorb its own vibrations. The passenger doesn't feel the engine at all!

Try and match these features at Plymouth's low price. Certainly—"Look at all Three", but be sure and ride in the New Plymouth Six. Accept your Plymouth dealer's invitation today.

Hints for Homebodies

Specially written for Readers of The Watchman.
By JESSIE ALLEN BROWN

WHO IS CLEVER?

What is your idea of cleverness? There seems to be only one standard of cleverness in a child, and that is if they get along at school and stand high in their reports. It makes no difference what else they can do well, if they are not brilliant at school they are considered dull. When they leave school the criterion is shifted. With some people it is entirely a matter of money. If they make money they are considered clever. Others think a person clever if they are well-read and keep up with the modern books. To have a veneer of sophistication and to know what is going on in the world of the theatre appeals to some as being clever. Women who are very good housekeepers are considered to be very clever by some. Those who work with their hands and do good needlework are apt to consider anyone who does good handiwork as being clever. I have several friends who have that last standard and because I neither sew nor knit manage to make me feel as if I were the most useless person on earth. Let us try to remember that there is more than one way of being capable and if a person is not clever in your particular line, before you condemn stop to think of what they can do that would be beyond your capabilities. Everyone is capable along some special line. I heard one woman who has very brilliant sisters deploring the fact that she was so dumb in contrast to them and that she could do nothing well. Her husband quickly spoke up and said 'you are a good mother, and you are a good cook.' She is both, and her brilliant sisters are neither.

MINERALS IN THE LAND

A country which grows good animals should be a healthy place in which to live. Animals require a considerable quantity of calcium and phosphorus in their food and if the land is depleted, the vegetation grown on it cannot be of high value. Limestone regions produce good stock. We all know of the famous Kentucky race horses and they are fed on the equally famous Kentucky blue-grass, which is grown in a limestone region. Dan Patch did not come from Kentucky but he came from a limestone region in Kansas. The water which flows through the land is the greatest factor in supplying the minerals we need and if we live in a part of the country where the water contains a sufficient quantity of calcium, phosphorus, and iodine we stand a much greater chance of having good health.

WINDOWS IN CLOTHES CLOSETS

I actually have seen a house that has windows in its clothes closets. Wouldn't that be a comfort? Usually they are such dark airless places. Those of us who have electricity can get around the darkness by having a light in the closet but it is hard to get air. It is a good plan to leave the clothes closet door open at night to air and to prevent that closed up smell that clothes manage to get. Coming back to the light question, I remember seeing advertised a light for just such a place. It is run on a battery like a flashlight but is designed to hang in a dark place. If we had women architects we would have more practical things such as windows in clothes closets.

ASPARAGUS

One of my ambitions which has not yet been realised is to own an asparagus bed. Just imagine having all the really fresh asparagus you wanted. Some of you are luckier than you know. Like every other vegetable, asparagus must be properly cooked to be at its best. The tender tips do not require as much cooking as the tougher ends, so if the asparagus is being cooked whole, stand it up so that the ends are in the water and the steam is sufficient to cook the tips. A double boiler is a fine thing to use as an asparagus cooker. Stand the asparagus in the small part of the boiler and cover with the larger part turning it upside down. Usually about twenty minutes is required for cooking.

Asparagus may be served with the usual seasonings of butter, salt and pepper or it may have a sauce. Cream sauce is the one most frequently used but do not confine yourself to the one sauce as there are other interesting ones. Cheese sauce is made by adding grated cheese to your cream sauce. The dish may be turned into a scalloped one by putting the creamed asparagus with or without the cheese, into a buttered baking dish, covering with buttered crumbs and baking in a moderate oven. We started out to be Saucy so we had better return to them. Lemon Butter sauce is simply made, by adding the juice of a lemon and a little grated rind to hot melted butter. Crumb sauce is made by browning a cup of dry bread crumbs in a half cup of melted butter. A little lemon juice adds to the flavour. The Crumb sauce is not served on the asparagus but is passed in a sauce dish.

Asparagus and eggs are a pleasing combination. Cut in inch pieces, cook in salted water and add to scrambled eggs, omelet, or combine with eggs in a salad.

RHUBARB ROLY POLY

Make a pastry of 2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 7 tablespoons shortening and 1/2 cup cold water. Roll to about a thickness of 1/2". Spread with 1 lb. of rhubarb cut in thin slices, 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, 4 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, and add 3/4 cup raisins and 1/2 cup chopped walnuts if desired. Roll up like a jelly roll, dust with cinnamon and bake on a buttered dish in a moderate oven of 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

MAPLE TAPIOCA PUDDING

1 cup maple syrup
1/3 cup thick tapioca
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
2 cups milk, scalded
1/2 cup chopped walnuts if desired.

Cook the tapioca, salt, syrup and milk in the double boiler for 15 minutes or until the tapioca is clear, stirring occasionally. Pour a small amount of the mixture over the beaten egg yolk, stirring steadily. Return to the double boiler and cook until thickened. Chill. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg white and the nuts if used. Chill and serve with cream.

OPERETTA AT ST. ANDREWS EAST

Miss Alice Hooker as Fudgee, Miss F. M. Macaskill as Pudgee and Miss Jean Brown as Wudgee, the children of the Queen, were fittingly attired and did their part in a creditable way.

Mrs. J. Macaskill represented the Old Squaw, sorceress of the Tribe with splendid gift of impersonation. She sang with a rich and full contralto voice. Her acting would suggest years of experience.

The chorus was well blended, strong and clear. Their part was to represent "Spirits of Happiness and Joy" and no one had need of feeling cheerless while they sang. Those in the Chorus were: Mrs. Jas. Burwash, Mrs. M. P. Burwash, Mrs. Victor Willett, Mrs. J. Willett, Mrs. A. C. Macdonell and Mrs. James Judd. Each of them wore costumes that were true to Indian ideas of color and style. They were animated by an honest desire to play the game and do their share in making the whole performance a success. Their swaying, rhythmic movements were well in keeping with the accurate time indicated by the baton.

The Contraltos representing "Spirits of Sorrow and Woe" were: Mrs. W. B. McClintock, Mrs. T. Webster, Mrs. L. M. Hooker, Miss M. Foley and Miss M. A. Yarker. They sang their parts with color and variety. In this group was a happy blending of strength and quality of voice. They acted well and interpreted intelligently.

Miss Mona Foley gave evidence of being well trained in the dancing art, in the "Dance of the Flaming Arrow" and "Sleep Dance". Her movements were graceful and her interpretation of Indian awe and mysticism was well done.

The Ghost Dance was assigned to Miss Muriel Judd, Miss Alice Hooker, Miss Foley, Mrs. L. H. Bezanson and Miss Yarker. Their actions and appearance suggested angels rather than ghosts. If ghosts have such agility no wonder they did such mighty things as are attributed to them. The Ghosts performed skilfully and gracefully.

Mr. Judd as the great King of the Tribe was an attractive figure amidst all the colors and natural background in the closing scene.

No small credit is due Miss Léonie Ladouceur, the accompanist, for the success of the operetta. She played in an accommodating and efficient manner.

The Drummer, Col. L. M. Hooker, according to the title prefixed to his name often heard the drum when it sounded for battle and led in weary marches. In the part the colonel had in the operetta he was not thinking of blood but he was thinking of victory and he successfully drummed the actors to a happy conquest of their audience.

Mrs. H. P. Bezanson who directed the Operetta deserves much credit for the splendid musical drama which she has succeeded in staging to the delight and benefit of those who filled the hall.

FIRST OFFICIAL VISIT OF ARCH DEACON GOWER-REES

On behalf of the congregations of St. George's Church, Brownsburg, and St. Simeon's Lachute, Rev. W. LeCras extended a cordial welcome to the clergy.

During introductory remarks Arch Deacon Gower-Rees expressed his pleasure in being in Lachute and said that "inspiration does not depend on great crowds" and that it was his joy in sharing the spirit of Christ with a few.

Prayer, meditation and inspiration were the reasons given for the "Quiet Day", and he said that ministers of Christ were not immune from temptation, so this day was laid aside to seek richer and worthier service in Christ, and the power of the Holy Spirit.

The Arch Deacon spoke on "Fasts and Festivals" and said that "Christians forget the real significance of the feasts" and often during the season of Lent, petty rules are followed, "like a germ to peril the soul", while the true reason of Lent was neglected.

He also pictured the average person's idea of Easter, and asked "What is the good, if He is not risen in our hearts anew?"

The importance of keeping the period of Ascension, was also forcibly dealt with by the speaker, and said that Ascension Day was as important as Christmas and Easter days, the program of Christmas incomplete without it.

"No picture is so beautiful and inspiring as that of seeing the Man being conveyed to Heaven, in the presence of the Father," said the Arch Deacon and "the head once crowned with thorns, now crowned in glory."

Several questions and problems of the Ascension were answered, and how words of comfort are given to those who mourn, through the symbolic act of the ascending to heaven.

"Whitsuntide" and the power of prayer, was also enlightened to the congregation, and in closing, he told of how the Father's hand was always ready to help those in trouble, and that the companionship of the Holy Spirit was with us, even to the end.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

visitors were present. Their May meeting had nine members and four visitors, to answer to a roll-call of "Rhubarb Recipes". In the absence of Mrs. Wesley Doherty an instructive paper on "The Fly—More Than a Nuisance" was read by Miss Bragg. Being Mother's Day month, the President read a delightful parable regarding "Mother" and pleasing, suitable poems were given by Mrs. Davis.

Pioneer Branch meeting was on "Agriculture". They were favored with a splendid address on "Some Aspects of Farming", by Mr. H. L. Hamilton, Field Representative of Macdonald College.

Upper Lachute-East End had several papers by the different Convenors, on "The Value of Birds in the Destruction of Insects on Plant Life" and on "Growing Roses". The twenty members present also had an interesting social discussion of Mother's Day.

NAVIGABLE WATERS PROTECTION ACT

R. S. C. 1927—Chapter 140

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada hereby gives notice that it has, under Section 7 of the said Act, deposited with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa and in the office of the Registrar of the Registry Division of the County of Prescott at L'Orignal, Ontario, and in the office of the Registrar of the Registry Division of the County of Argenteuil at Lachute, Quebec, a description of the site and plan of an aerial telephone wire crossing proposed to be constructed over the Ottawa River, from the northeast side of Lot Number 23, in the Broken Front Concession of the Township of East Hawkesbury, in the County of Prescott, Province of Ontario, to a point on the south part of Lot Number 368 on the Official Plan and Book of Reference of the Township of Chatham, in the County of Argenteuil, Province of Quebec.

And take notice that after the expiration of one month from the date of the first publication of this notice, The Bell Telephone Company of Canada will, under Section 7 of the said Act, apply to the Minister of Public Works, at his office in the City of Ottawa, for approval of the said site and plan, and for leave to construct the said aerial telephone wire crossing.

CONCRETE

for Safer Motoring and Balanced Budgets

What a sense of security concrete paving gives! Tires really grip its skid-resisting surface; edges are clearly defined; night-time visibility is unusually good. And it means driving economy as well as safety, through reduced fuel consumption and retarded vehicle depreciation. Advocate concrete, the permanent pavement that needs so little upkeep. It assures your community maximum new mileage with cost kept well within budget limits.

CUSHING

Miss Annie Weir has returned from spending some time in St. Andrews East and is occupying her old home for the present.

Capt. J. D. Weir, of St. Anne de Bellevue, was in Cushing on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Beecher and family of N. D. G., spent the week-end at their summer home in Cushing.

Misses Ivy and Elsie Graham of Montreal and Verdun, were week-end guests of their parents.

Miss Francis Douglas was a week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham were, Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott and Miss M. James, of Lachute, also Mrs. W. Garard, of Toronto.

St. Mungo's Missionary Auxiliary is entertaining the Sectional meeting in St. Mungo's Church on Friday of this week, opening meeting at half past nine o'clock.

Mr. J. Gaunt, of Montreal, spent the previous week-end with his wife and daughter in Cushing.

See Greta Garbo in Queen Christina this week at the Rex.

BROWNSBURG

Mrs. R. Stewart and Miss E. McGibbon visited friends in Chesterville on Sunday.

A cable was received announcing the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Richardson in England.

The many friends of Mrs. C. Foster are pleased to know she is home, after receiving treatment in the General Hospital and is much improved in health.

Owing to poor health Mr. T. Carpenter has resigned as caretaker of the Social Club, a position he has filled for some years, and has purchased the Jas. Donaldson Livery.

Mrs. Edwards, formerly of this village, has returned and with her daughter has taken up residence again in Brownsburg.

A considerable number spent the week-end at the various lakes and some nice catches of fish were reported.

Mrs. Robert Tomalty left on Monday for Montreal, where she will spend a few weeks.

Mrs. Geo. Kennedy is in Brownsburg this week, the guest of her sister, Mrs. McAllister, renewing old acquaintances.

The C.C.F. programme really advocates universal suffering, votes for socialists and the abolition of property.

HONORS FOR LOCAL LADS IN PROVINCIAL S. S. TRACK MEET

Broke One Record, Equalled Another

Representing local Sunday Schools, five young athletes from Lachute took part in the Provincial Track and Field Meet at McGill Stadium last Saturday, winning honors again without exception, and adding to the good repute of our county runners in widely contested events.

The lads were Kenneth Falconer, Bernard Jenkins, Cyril and Sidney Drew, and Kenneth Kettle, accompanied by Sidney Roberts.

The entry lists were heavy, but in three different classes the Lachute boys took firsts, seconds or thirds, in one case equalling a previous record and in another making a new record for this Meet.

In Class I, Sidney Drew established a new record of 205 ft. in the baseball throw. He took second place in the 50 yards, 2nd. in the running high jump, 1st. in Putting the 6 lb. Shot, and tied for 3rd. in the potato race.

His aggregate points were highest in the Class, and he was awarded the medal for that distinction.

In Class III, B. Jenkins won the running high jump at 4 ft. 11 ins., K. Kettle taking second. In the running broad jump Kettle took second and Jenkins third.

In Class IV, Falconer equalled the standing record for 100-yards dash, 10 3/5 seconds. He also took 2nd in the running broad jump, while Cyril Drew tied for third place in both running high jump and the potato race.

PROV. SAFETY TROPHIES AWARDED B'GG. PLANTS

Establishing an exceptionally fine record in view of the hazardous nature of the operations carried on there, the Dominion Ammunition Division of Canadian Industries Limited, of Brownsburg, was awarded the Quebec Minister of Labour's Trophy for the year's most outstanding safety record in the entire province. This remarkable achievement was commented upon by various speakers at the Safety Conference, held under the auspices of the Quebec Association for the Prevention of Industrial Accidents, and which opened on May 15th., in the Mount Royal Hotel in Montreal, lasting for two days.

The same division also made the best safety record in the Mines, Pits and Quarries classification of the Inter-plant Competition, winning, for the third consecutive time, a Cup which now becomes the property of the plant. On the day of presentation, this division had completed an unbroken record of 860 days without a single lost-time injury.

Another division of C-I-L to receive a Cup was the Pyralin Division, also located here at Brownsburg, which, although a smaller unit insofar as number of employees is concerned, recently attained a record of five consecutive years without an accident, a splendid record bearing witness to the importance attached by Canadian Industries Limited to accident prevention in all of the company's plants.

The awards were presented by the Hon. C. J. Arcand, Minister of Labour in the Province of Quebec, to Arthur B. Purvis, President and Managing Director of Canadian Industries Ltd., who received them on behalf of the divisions involved, although, as Mr. Purvis pointed out, "it was the workmen who really earned them." Amongst the speakers of the morning were Mayor Houde of Montreal, and Arthur Gaboury, General Manager of the Safety Conference,

REV. COUSENS SPECIAL PREACHER, VANK. HILL

Rev. Henry Cousens, B.A., B.D., will be guest speaker at the Knox Presbyterian Church in Vankleek Hill next Sunday. The date will mark the 110th. anniversary of the Church, and special services are to be held in observance of the occasion.

TWO GAMES CONCLUDE BOWLING SERIES

Two concluding games of the Carpet Bowling series were played during the week, the Oddfellows' teams proving victorious in both engagements. At the Presbyterian hall on Wednesday of last week the games resulted as follows:

ST. SIMEON'S GIRLS HELD SOCIAL EVENING

The St. Simeon's Girls' Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary held a social evening at the Rectory on Tuesday, this constituting their final meeting for the summer.

The Rev. K. N. Brueton of Grenville kindly brought his lantern, and slides were shown, first on the Parables of Our Lord, then others of a lighter nature. Games were then indulged in, after which refreshments were served.

A few of the mothers were present and were welcomed by Mrs. LeCras, who also, on behalf of the girls, thanked Mr. Brueton for the loan of his lantern. Mrs. LeCras also congratulated the girls on the interest shown and work accomplished since the formation of the branch, and hoped that the same interest would be displayed when they returned in the Autumn.

It would be well to understand that recovery means getting over a bad spell—not getting jazzed up again.

who congratulated Mr. Purvis on the remarkable success of C-I-L safety endeavours and emphasized the point that safety measures were primarily in the best interests of the employees themselves, although careful workman invariably produced a finer finished article. This is of particular importance in the manufacture of cartridges, for instance, where the slightest deviation from accuracy would mean inefficient performance, and, possibly, danger to the consumer.

W.M.S. SECTIONAL MEETING HELD AT CUSHING

The W. M. S. Sectional Meeting for the Ottawa Valley was held in St. Mungo's United Church, Cushing, on May 18th. The convention was largely attended, and a program of devotional and business sessions, interspersed with vocal offerings and addresses, was enjoyed by those in attendance.

A fuller report of the proceedings, omitted through lack of space in this issue, will appear in next week's Watchman.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF C. O. F.

A large meeting of the Court of St. Anastasia, No. 520 of the Catholic Order of Foresters and the initiation of fifteen new members of this Court took place at the Knights of Columbus Hall, at Lachute, on the May 15th., and was presided over by the local Chief Ranger, Bro. Gaetan Valois.

At this occasion a cordial reception was given to several members of the Executive officers of the Province of Quebec, who were present at the gathering, namely: Bro. Numa E. Brosseau, K. C., High Court Trustee of Chicago and Chief Ranger of this Province, Bro. Sirois, Vice-Chief and Head Organizer, and Bro. Emile Gauthier, Sec.-Treasurer of the Provincial Court of Montreal.

During the course of the evening, two of our local officers, Dr. Alexander Rodrigue, Recording Secretary, and Omer Paquette, Financial Secretary of this Court for 37 years, had the honour of being decorated members of Legion of Honor (third degree) by Bro. Brosseau, High Chief Ranger.

After the usual ceremony and reception, the officers and members of the Court returned home, much satisfied with the proceedings and large assembly, hoping also to come back to Lachute again soon.

LOCAL TIGERS LOSE TO VANKLEEK HILL

Mayor Larocque Pitched First Ball in Tigers' Opening Fixture

Despite scattered showers the local Tigers opened their softball schedule on Monday evening by playing hosts to Vankleek Hill.

Lack of practice was in evidence, and the local team was unable to overcome a big lead which Vankleek Hill gained in the first two innings. The game ended 20-6, in favor of the visitors.

Mayor A. Larocque stepped into the pitcher's box and tossed the first ball, while the president of the Vankleek Hill Club donned the catcher's glove at the receiving end.

Tigers visit Maple Leafs of Hawkesbury on Monday, 28th. inst., and are at home to

SIR GEORGE H. PERLEY RECEIVES DECORATION

Sir George H. Perley has received one more decoration to add to the many which now adorn him—a further distinction upon which his local friends and constituents extend warm congratulation. The latest decoration is of a military character—the Canadian efficiency decoration.

Having served in the Canadian Militia in the capacities of honorary lieutenant-colonel and honorary colonel of the 17th. Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars for 20 years, Sir George is entitled to the decoration; and the official list of recipients issued by the Department of National Defence this week includes his name.

Sir George was appointed honorary lieutenant-colonel of the Hussars on February 14, 1914.

LECTURE, "HOW I WON THE WAR"

Rev. Norman Rawson Entertained Gathering at United Church

In the range of emotions from hilarity to pathos which characterized an outstanding address by Rev. Norman Rawson, last Thursday in the Lachute United Church, the speaker succeeded not only in delighting his large audience but also in conveying a memorable message. His topic was "How I Won the War"—and, sifted through a medley of humorous, touching, and sometimes crude experience, the essence of his victory was a realization which could it but receive universal recognition, would end war for all time. For Captain Rawson returned from all the disillusionment of the War to "preach himself back into religion." The redeeming light of his long experience had been the love of his own mother which had stood as a thing supreme and unshaken through anxiety. And in his search for a post-war philosophy, Rev. Norman Rawson realized that nothing but the more infinite love of "the lowly Nazarene" could bind together all creeds and races to ensure lasting peace.

This, briefly, was the manner in which the lecturer "won the war." And through the hundreds of occasions which he has repeated this now famous discourse, one feels he must have spread his doctrine to good purpose. Rev. Rawson is a speaker of wide experience. He occupies the pulpit at St. James United Church, Ottawa, and on the evening of his visit was accompanied by a small group of artists who added greatly to Brownsburg Blues on June 4th. The Board of the local College have kindly consented to allow the Tigers to use the college grounds—so this season all home games will be played at that spot.

ENTERTAINMENT INTERSPERSED WITH POLITICS

Gave Rise to Protest

The Lachute Arena housed a large gathering on Sunday evening when the well-known Montreal radio artists and entertainers, Messrs. E. Loiseleur, Louis Bedard, Geo. Dufresne, Lucien Robert and Miss Lucille Turner, tendered a clever programme of vocal and instrumental music. The event was arranged under auspices of the Young Liberals of Argenteuil, the proceeds from the sale of tickets being for the benefit of this newly formed association; assurances had been given by the promoters, however, that no politics were to be injected. There arose a discordant note in the proceedings when one of the speakers made slighting references to our Federal Member, the Rt. Hon. Sir George Perley, who for so many years has been a faithful representative of this County, and it was felt that Mr. Jos. Belanger was perfectly within his rights when he offered public protest, stating that the audience had paid to hear a concert and not a political discourse.

CURRIE SCHOLARSHIPS FORMED IN LONDON

Establishment of two scholarships at the University of Western Ontario in memory of the late Sir Arthur Currie, have been authorized by the Board of Governors of the Ontario institution.

The scholarships, made possible by donations of several London citizens, will give each winner $800, in the form of a $100 annuity for four years and a $100 tuition fee credit during the same time.

They are open to select students in schools of Western Ontario who show high standing in middle or upper school matriculation courses and prowess in athletics.

The awards will be made to the two students gaining highest averages of six middle or upper school matriculation examination papers.

the enjoyment of the evening. These included Mrs. Silver, pianist, Miss Queenie Baker, soprano, and Miss Margaret Ogilvy, violinist.

Rev. Rawson's wholesome humor imbued his narrative with sheer comedy, although it was but the recollection of experiences common to every soldier in the War. They were the impressions one recalled so vividly under his spell—from the humiliations of inlistment and initiation into service, to the misguided idea of "new world crusaders going to adjust the balance of the old"—and the repelation as they came into contact with British military and civilian life. The speaker's references to England might not be considered strictly typical, but his anecdotes were designed to show the most humorous glimpses of his contacts, and to unveil the certain warmth and hospitality which met the contingents overseas. In his feast of good fun, there was a spice of tragedy, and in the ease with which he moved his listeners from mirth to sadness and from ecstasy to reverence, one beheld Mr. Rawson's unusual power as a speaker and entertainer.

Rev. W. B. Rosborough was chairman of the evening, extending a welcome to the visiting friends. At the close of the address Mr. A. A. McQuat expressed the appreciation of the Church and the audience, in a few well chosen words. The National Anthem concluded a most pleasurable gathering.

SHORT WAVE ENTHUSIASTS WILL PICNIC AT LACHUTE

Members of the amateur radio fraternity in this town appear to stand in good favor with their fellows, and Lachute has made itself heard to good advantage on select wave lengths. The fact is evident in the intention of Montreal Amateur Radio Club to visit this spot for their annual picnic again this year. The event will be held on June 10th., at Doig's picnic grounds on the banks of the North River. Some 45 members, their friends and families, attended the event last spring at the same place; this year it is expected double the number will be present, including members of the Montreal Club and amateurs of the neighboring country.

Licensed operators still number only four in this community, but they are progressive in the matter of performance and continually improving in technique. Among recent triumphs Mr. Ted Hammond, known in radio society as VE2GH, reports a recent conversation with Edinburgh through his phone transmitter, while his brother, Mr. Gerald Hammond, made an even rarer contact with Japan, holding the message and exchanging greetings with another amateur. This was by radio telegraph.

Interest runs high among the amateurs. They are a sociable species, with much in common; and, weather permitting, they are assured of a pleasant gathering here for their annual "hamfest."

SUCCESSFUL B. OF T. BANQUET

The Board of Trade Annual Banquet held last Tuesday evening at Desjardins' Hotel was a gratifying success. The enthusiastic attendance was equalled only by the spirit of goodwill which prevailed, and it was generally felt such Board of Trade gatherings, substantiating the activities of the regular monthly meetings, are instrumental in promoting a closer bond for community welfare.

At the head table were seated: the President, Mayor A. Larocque; Geo. Dansereau, M.L.A.; Rev. H. D. J. Brosseau, Drs. Rodrigue and Lalande, Messrs. W. M. Scott, C. Tremblay, A. Quinn, L. L. Legault, K.C., and J. S. Giles, Secretary.

Rev. Father Brosseau, of Grenville was the principal speaker of the evening, being introduced by Mr. L. L. Legault. His topic was both timely and forceful, stressing the need of progressive leadership among men. The rapid advancement of the times, he contended, had not met with adequate enlightenment and initiative in our leaders. "Men of vision and flare; men of poise and principle; men wholly devoted to a noble cause, ready to sacrifice purse, position and favor that the cause may triumph. This kind of leadership," he said, "is necessary for success, in every field of human endeavor."

Mayor Larocque was toast master, and the respective toasts were ably responded to. Mr. Georges Dansereau spoke briefly on the Province, while ex-Mayor C. Tremblay discoursed on the ideals and the material assets of Lachute—a community for which he has always exemplified unquestioned concern. Mr. M. A. Quinn touched briefly on the industrial aspects of modern living, and Dr. Lalande dealt with the subject of Health in its local and wider aspects. Community singing and violin selections by Mr. A. Fassio added to the pleasure of the evening.

Appropriate remarks by the President brought the event to a close and the gathering dispersed with a rendering of O Canada.

AUNT JEAN HERSELF

A Column for the Kiddies (Copyright)WHAT THE TADPOLE DID
By Aunt Jean

A tiny, big-eyed tadpole
Was swimming in a nook,
Chasing shining bubbles
In a rippling brook.
"Oh dear!" he sighed, "it's lonely Playing by myself,
I used to have a comrade
But he changed just like an elf.
We were playing hide and seek,
Beneath that hollow log,
When all at once, before my eyes,
He turned into a frog!"
A fat old pop-eyed bull frog
Sat blinking in the sun,
"Chug-a-rum, chug-a-rum" he cried,
"You are a foolish one.
Your comrade has stepped up a bit,
He's over on that shelf,
Before you know just where you are You'll be a frog yourself!"

Afraid to call loudly for help to haul in his big fish, Billy whispered to Ted and run and get his dad and uncle.
Ted ran, and in great excitement whispered to them that Billy had caught a whopper, so big that he could not pull it in to shore.

The two men exchanged puzzled glances, but both followed Ted to where Billy stood, perspiration running down his face but holding tightly to his fishing pole.

Uncle Dick took hold of the pole and gave it a tug. "You must have caught one of those four-legged ones, Billy and by the feel of things he is holding tightly to something immoveable, with all four of them!"
Billy laughed and hopped up and down in great excitement until Ted's daddy said, "I am afraid, Billy, that it's a big stump you have caught. It has been floating slowly down the creek. When your hook got caught in it you towed it into shore where it has caught on a tree root and refuses to be towed any further."

Billy stopped hopping around:
his face took on such a look of disappointment that Uncle Dick just had to laugh. "Never mind, Billy," he said, "I caught lots of that kind of fish when I started fishing first. You and Ted take the little scoop and catch some minnows, for bait for our big fishing trip on the Twenty-Fourth of May. Meanwhile we will cook the fish we have caught and I will tell you some strange things about fish while we eat them. I have just spied a basket in the back of the car which I'm sure is filled with cookies and such, and I can scarcely wait until we get the fish fried to see what is in it."

The two little lads hurried off with the scoop, and were not long in catching minnows enough for bait. These they put in a deep pail of fresh water to preserve them until they should be wanted, then hurried back to the flat rock where Ted's daddy and Uncle Dick were setting out the contents of the basket.

When everything was ready and the boys were seated on hummocks of soft moss, Uncle Dick too a sharp pointed stick and gravely drew zig-zag marks all around the big flat rock.

When he saw the puzzled look in the boys' eyes he laughed quite heartily, sat down beside them and said "Now we are safe. No witches will get the cookies while we are eating our fish and sandwiches."

"Full of tricks as usual, Dick," said Ted's Father. "You will never grow up."

"Listen to him, Boys! He says I will never grow up and I am just six feet two inches in height. Never grow up indeed! I leave it to you boys, to judge whether I am grown up or not. Am I Billy?"

"If I were as tall as you I should think I was grown up," said Billy. "I don't think I'd want to grow much taller than you are."

"Never mind about that, Uncle Dick," said Ted "but tell us why you drew that funny crooked line around us. I am quite anxious to know."

"I told you, did I not," said Uncle Dick with a merry twinkle in his eye, — "to keep the witches from coming to eat our cookies."

"Aw, Uncle Dick! don't be fooling us; you know there are no witches around here."

"I am not so sure," Uncle Dick replied "What put that big stump on Billy's hook if it was not a witch. I'll bet he was riding on it and wanted to get towed into land. He smelled our cookies and wanted some. Don't you dare uncover them now, Neddie, until we are ready to eat them. In old England hundreds of years ago folks drew zig-zag lines around their fire-places to keep the witches from coming down the chimney and out into the room,
— but even so, with those molasses cookies around, a zig-zag line might not prove a perfect barrier."

"How do you know they are molasses cookies, Uncle Dick?"
asked Ted "You haven't opened them yet?"

"Old Fuzzy Buzzy has just told me," said Uncle Dick "with a grin, as again that bewildered look appeared on the boyish faces."

"Old Fuzzy Buzzy!" said Billy, trying to chase a big bumble bee away with his cap. "Do you mean this old grumbler?"

"I do!" laughed Uncle Dick.
"He smells the molasses but cannot make his way to it because of the waxed paper they are wrapped in."

"He is certainly making a determined attempt to find where they are," Billy made another swat at Mr. Fuzzy Buzzy as he spoke.

"Leave him be, Billy," said Uncle Dick. "He won't hurt us and he will have to be going home to Mrs. Fuzzy Buzzy very soon, as the sun is going down.
See! he has given it up already, and is going off. Watch him keeping in the sunlight as he flies. Scientists tell us that ants and bees are led home by the sun. They say if you watch a colony of ants out for a walk you will see that they are travelling in the direction of the sun and that if you cause a shadow to fall on their path they will immediately turn around and go in the opposite direction." As Uncle Dick talked he was busy with his hands;
the boys were watching Mr.
Fuzzy Buzzy making his way home, and could not see what he was doing. — Now, Children, what do you suppose he was doing?

Lovingly,

Aunt Jean.

Thoughts in Passing

By L. W. Armstrong

England, the Peace-maker.

England leads the world in the presentation of peace.

When there are wars or rumours of wars, the Mother-land is expected to take the initial step.

At the present time, she is involved in two controversies;
one in South America and the other in the Far East.

The latter is by far the most important. There is the possibility that the situation in that part of the world may develop into the most serious menace to the Occidental world in history.

Europe should stand by England to the last man in preserving the integrity of China.

It is not so long ago that Japan was as backward a nation, from a military standpoint, as China is to-day.

At the present time, she is reckoned among the Great Powers.

Should she be successful in gaining control of China's hundreds of millions and transform them into a great fighting unit, the white race would find themselves facing a common enemy.

Then again, should the European nations continue to wage war among themselves, they will be in no position to even make a protracted resistance.

Moreover, who knows which side, Russia, with her millions, will favor?

If ever England needed great statesmen she needs them now.
Definite steps must be taken to-day. To-morrow will be too late.

England and France.

"The old order changeth and yieldeth place to the new."

In our studies of history at school, we learned of many protracted wars between England and France. Until 1914 those two nations were always in opposition.

But now they have become friends and are endeavouring to come to an agreement about disarmaments.

France maintains that she will not disarm unless England agrees to assist her in event of her becoming involved in another war.

But the steady and unexcitable English are careful not to commit themselves.

They have not forgotten what it cost them to stand by their agreement to preserve the neutrality of Belgium.

Nevertheless, it is hoped that the friendship which now exists between these two powerful nations will lead to something more than a mad armaments race.

Canadian Serfs.

The facts which the Stevens Inquiry Commission are uncovering at Ottawa are almost unbelievable.

Is it any wonder there is marked unrest throughout Canada?

How can any country under the sun hope to recover when its primary producers are being bled white year after year?

It is reported that the tomato growers are but serfs under present conditions.

Why specify the tomato growers?

What about the milk producers, the tobacco, fruit, corn and wheat growers?

They work twelve and fourteen hours a day at the most menial tasks, and have nothing to show for it in the end.

Huge concerns force them to accept prices which are below the cost of production.

It is reasonably safe to assume that the present government can insure their success at the polls next year, should it, in the meantime be successful in enacting drastic measures to alleviate these situations through the new Marketing Bill which has been recently passed.

Bitter Pills.

This much-talked-of Marketing Bill and the Stevens enquiry proceedings must be unusually bitter pills for those who claim they are one hundred percent capitalists.

How these die-hards would howl to high heaven if it so happened that it was the Honourable Mr. Woodsworth and his followers who were conducting these proceedings!

It might be news to a great many to know that the first plank in that party's platform concerns "planned economy".

Recent developments would seem to indicate that that is precisely the direction in which we are headed.

Where are they who used to set up such a wail about the government keeping out of business?

The Higher Justice.

Mention was made in these columns a few weeks ago concerning that man of Jasper, Alberta, who was arrested for a crime he committed twenty-five years ago.

It is interesting to note that the United States has decided to drop extradition proceedings.

That is what had been hoped for.

Justice has been done.

Lovers of things beautiful—homes, gardens, flowers, fences, trees—harken to the call of Spring. The brown pulsing earth needs your help in preparing the way for your favorite children of the garden. Fences, hedges, trees, earth, and flowers, all will be in need of your strong arms, admiring eyes, and loving hearts. A few spare minutes each day or evening out there should be, even for yourselves, a splendid rejuvenating tonic. The thought of digging into the soil of old Mother Earth—handling it, fashioning it, and nourishing it, with the anticipation of what it is going to bring forth from that inner-sea of beauty, should be a stirring influence.

Beautification of the home and environment should guarantee its own returns, to those who make the effort. There is never loss of value, in either time or money expended on the grooming of the home.

Let there be gardens of beautiful flowers and vegetables at every homestead. For gardens express largely the character of those within—those who care for them, and those who do not! If mute, inanimate things can be said to speak, then gardens certainly—they speak of their Community life, whether it be of city or country village.

Human beings spend thousands of dollars on other ostentatious displays, endeavoring to measure-up with the Joneses; then why not in the less expensive, but infinitely more desirable gardens, with the beauty and trim-groomed home environment! These are the things that linger longest in the hearts of absent ones in later years, when they are far distant, and the old homestead is a pleasure to recall. Make them beautiful, and something to feel proud of.

The vibrations of new life are throbbing in the atmosphere about us. As we wander through the woodlands, the emerald shoots are peering above the brown stubble of last year's growth. Once again, the wheel of Time has brought the kindly benevolence of Spring's presence—an always welcome guest. It is the loveliest of all seasons if there can be any preference, for they are all so delightful. We want them all; and yet, we do want springtime most; for with it comes a stimulating appeal to our sense of beauty, transcending all others. Its display of colors and forms calls exclamations of joy in the beholding, though we see them year after year.

As soon as the season is sufficiently warm, Mother Nature gets busy at once, preparing the garments for her children's happy Carnival. Southward to Northward the caravans approach, in company with the birds and their many toned orchestras.

Through woodland dells, where sap-buckets but lately adorned the trees, there is an unseen stirring beneath the brown-leaved carpet. Tender new growths are making their way out to the sunlight from bleached-white roots. First come the fresh greens, and then all at once, a shower of colors and forms of all varieties!

Amongst them are the friendly Pussy-Willows. They are the first to meet us at every turn and bend in the highways, along foot-paths and line-fences, but most profusely along the river-banks.

Springtime comes with its glory of flowers; with its music accompaniments of soft-winds, rippling streams, bird-songs, children's laughter; with its ploughmen, baseball players, marble-players, dogs barking, kites flying, and urchin smiles along the way, altogether making an ensemble of melody which, in our repertoire of Calendars and Clocks, might well be termed a "Spring Symphony".

MUSIC: THE LANGUAGE OF THE SOUL

Music is a language; the language of the soul. Music is universally appreciated and practiced; traits of it are evident in most every stage and walk of human life. With most of us music is one that extends over the entire course of our lives. It lulls the infant to sleep; it gives vigor to the boy at school; it entertains the young in their folly; it gives joy to the old folks at home. Music makes its appeal in some degree to every living soul. It has the power to bring together all the people of the earth irrespective of religion, color or financial conditions, that they might unite their prayers in one harmonious rhythm. It has the power to mould the character and shape the destinies of men. It has the power to inflict suffering, anguish, despair and sorrow while it also shares enlightenment, peace and happiness. Music is a God-given force, a sublime power, a splendid influence, a ministry both strong and tender and of tremendous significance in its application to our daily existence.

Music is the one solid ground for true internationalism, the one realm in which politics and commercialism and petty hostilities do not enter. For if we do not find concord in music, where on earth is it to be sought? —Gabriel Hines.

"Toronto Bay," a new waltz written and dedicated to the City of Toronto by Lieut. J. J. Gagnier, director of music for the Canadian Grenadier Guards was accepted by Mayor W. J. Stewart at a civic banquet given during the annual convention of the American Bandmasters' Association held in Toronto.

The Ottawa Spotlight

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, May 22.—The primary producers of Canada look like "a ragged crowd armed with scythes and clubs fighting mechanized forces armed with machine guns" according to the vivid military imagination of Major W. W. Kennedy of Winnipeg, who has been sitting in the Stevens committee long enough to get thoroughly disgusted with the economic disparity which has been so luridly revealed.

The latest scandals charged in the Stevens inquiry may be briefly summarized:

Independent tobacco retailers charged that they were compelled to give Imperial Tobacco brands prominent display and that in some cases streamers and posters of competitors were torn down.

A combine to maintain the price of fertilizer above its fair market value in certain parts of Ontario was alleged by M. M. Robinson of Hamilton.

Vegetable growers were virtually forced to sign contracts which compelled them to take all the risks, it was claimed. Prices below production cost were paid in many cases, and low wages paid to workers in the canning factory.

What's the Remedy?

In the unequal battle between the distributor or the manufacturer, and the primary producer, what is the remedy? There are two answers being given.

The first is: Give the primary producer a machine gun too. Give him a marketing act which will enable him to form a producer monopoly which can talk on equal terms to monopoly manufacturers and distributors.

The second is: Take the machine gun away from the big fellows who have it now. Crush these great mergers and combines, or any monopolies of that sort. Put the farmer and the manufacturer again on the basis where they can do battle—or co-operate, if you like that idea better—on equal terms.

This issue must be settled

It is no exaggeration to say that the lid has been lifted off conditions by the Stevens inquiry which have appalled the masses of the people, and their legislators, and there will be no rest for any government until it takes steps to have them drastically improved.

The budget debate, almost forgotten in the welter of other things, died abruptly after a lot of shadow boxing and much repetition of ideas. Probably the persons who take part in it derive benefit; possibly the country is better off as a result. But an agitation is growing up for the shortening of these interminable discussions. The people want action; not so much controversy; that is the sentiment which one hears often.

Premier Bennett Scolds Press

All governments get annoyed at agitations, many of which are carried on through the press. The present government is no exception. The press is continuously modifying the action of any government, by expressing the will of the people—or the desires and ambitions, at any rate. In a democratic country, this is inevitable. What Premier Bennett is justified in attacking is the publication of gossip and rumor as fact. Gossip and rumor, properly labelled, serve useful purposes, most newspaper editors think. The abuse, not the fair use, of unconfirmed reports, is the objectionable feature. At the same time many listeners thought it was highly indiscreet of the prime minister to refer to suppression of the papers adopted in some countries. Some people came away with the impression he was referring to Hitler and Mussolini.

To be Privately Owned

Another attempt to have the new Central Bank publicly owned collapsed in committee. Some people fear that the credit of the country will, as a result, be even more firmly in the grip of a small group of financiers. Others, recalling the buses of public ownership, political influence and manipulation, would rather take a chance with a properly safeguarded bank which was a privately-owned institution. It's largely a question of outlook and experience.

—It's the old story: "I'm afraid my wife won't let me go." See Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy as delegates to "Sons of the Desert" convention. The laugh of the season, at Rex Theatre next Sunday to Wednesday.

CONCRETE Paving

Makes Road Budgets Go Farther

By ending costly upkeep, concrete lets communities concentrate on mileage and width, without burdening the taxpayer. It offers notable advantages to the individual motorist as well. Superior tractive qualities that minimize skidding; less wear and tear on car and tires; clearly defined edges; exceptional night-time visibility; are among them. Advocate concrete paving. It means safe, economical driving and saves your community money.

ACCIDENT TO FIRE TRUCK

Lachine firemen who were answering a call to the S.S. Kinmount, property of the Canada Steamship Lines, which was docked all winter in the Lachine Canal, had a narrow escape when the axle of their hose wagon broke and a wheel rolled into a restaurant.

GARDENING PLAN UNDER WAY

St. Johns, Que., is adopting a community garden plan for local unemployed. A long study of the matter was held recently by the council, following which it was decided that the names of those who desire to possess a community garden during the coming season must register at the office of the unemployment relief committee. The land would be rented by civic authorities and then placed at the disposition of the unemployed for gardening purposes. It was explained that the council would also endeavor to procure seeds from the Government, which will be distributed among the gardeners.

HORTICULTURE AT WASHINGTON

The National Botanic Garden of Washington, D.C., costs the United States Government about $114,000.00 per year from the standpoint of upkeep for its greenhouses. It is claimed that at that rate an expenditure of $50.00 is necessary to produce the flowers which the ordinary florist sells for $5.00.

Further investigation reveals that the wives of the members of Congress are the beneficiaries, in that roses are liberally provided to them for almost every occasion free of charge.

It would appear that the flowers are giving place to brickbats now that much criticism of the old custom is in the air and strong opposition is being brought to bear against the alleged extravagance. The transferring of the supervision of the Garden from the control of the Senate to the Agricultural Department is advocated by Senator Joseph T. Robinson.

WINNIPEG CENTRAL HEATING DISCUSSED

Central heating as a public utility service, especially in residential districts, was discussed by W. G. Chace of Toronto, in an address to the Engineering Institute at Montreal. Mr. Chace is an authority on the subject, having been associated with the installation and maintenance of extensive central heating system in Winnipeg, and it was upon the plants now operating in that city that his remarks were chiefly based.

Heating whole districts from central stations has many advantages over individual systems, said the speaker, and he outlined several. Among the improvements mentioned were decrease of dust and smoke both in the homes themselves and in the atmosphere of the neighborhood, with consequent benefit to the health of the community; considerable reduction in the risk of fire, which in Winnipeg is reflected by decreased insurance rates; elimination of much traffic caused by house-to-house delivery of fuel.

Central heating has been applied to business districts in many cities since 1877, said the speaker, but recently it has been found equally practicable where homes of the better class are situated close together. The cost to the consumer is somewhat higher than the expense of individual heating, but he claimed that this increase was more than justified by the improvements in service and reduction in many incidental expenditures. The actual workings of the Winnipeg systems were described in full and technical detail, and illustrated by lantern slides.

PROPERTY OF UTILITIES IN STREET TO BE TAXED

By a vote of 18 to 17, the private bills committee of the Quebec Legislative Assembly decided to allow the City of Montreal to impose a special tax on property situated in the streets of the city belonging to telegraph or telephone companies, lighting companies, electricity organizations or similar utility companies.

The tax, it was ruled, must not exceed five per cent. per annum of the value of the property according to the municipal evaluation roll, and the Montreal Tramways Company will be exempt from it.

MEDERIC MARTIN FIRST TO SEEK TAX DISCOUNT

Hon. Mederic Martin, M.L.C., for twelve years mayor of the city of Montreal, was the first citizen to take advantage of the City's offer of 4 1/2 per cent. discount on property taxes for 1934-35.

The former mayor was in the van of an endless line of property owners who went to the City Hall to seek details of the way in which the discount offer works.

L. F. Philie, director of finance, said the first day's experience of property tax discount was "highly encouraging".

The discount is in the form of interest on whatever sum the taxpayer prepays on his taxes, based on the period between the day he pays and October 1, due date for the taxes.

URGING A CANADIAN "WORLD'S FAIR"

T. H. Veetch, of Niagara Falls, Ont., recently requested Mayor Wenige to make official recommendation that a "World's Fair" be held in Canada, preferably at Niagara Falls, in honor of the late Thomas Edison and the late Sir Adam Beck. The fair, Mr. Veetch suggested, would take the form of an electrical exhibition, giving all manufacturers an opportunity to present the latest scientific achievements. Mr. Veetch gives an elaborate sketch as a suggestion for advertising matter, picturing Niagara Falls as the link between Canada and the United States.

PERJURY CHARGE RESULT OF MISSTATEMENT FOR CANDIDATURE

Wilbur Merton Cramp, town councillor at Orillia, Ontario, is charged with perjury in connection with a declaration taken by him as a candidate for council in November 1932—states the Amherstburg Echo. At that time the defendant took the usual declaration of candidate for office and also was sworn in after his election. One of the clauses printed on the back of this form reads: "I am not disqualified under the provisions of section 53 of the Municipal Act or under any other act." Among the disqualifications provided in the Municipal Act is "A person who is an undischarged bankrupt or insolvent within meaning of any Bankruptcy Act or Insolvency Act in force in Ontario." In the evidence submitted was a document which was certified by the registrar of the Supreme Court of Ontario that Councillor Cramp made an assignment in connection with a business venture in Bowmanville and was not discharged until June 16th., 1933, about six months after he took the declaration oath. The Crown Attorney made a submission that Councillor Cramp's declaration did not contain the truth and that he therefore committed perjury. The case was bound over to a higher court and in the meantime the accused was set free after posting bail of $9,500.

UNANSWERED PRAYERS

By Elizabeth V. Munro

I like to think
That every little gift of life I craved
And was denied,
Has gone, some other lonely soul to cheer.
That every wish
I breathed to Heaven's blue and saw no more
Has winged its way
To some sad heart and wiped away a tear.

For only God
Can know the things we need to fill our lives,
And so it is,
That when resentment burns within my soul,
I try to think

PRINCE TELLS GOOD ONE AT REGIMENTAL DINNER

The Prince of Wales, renowned for his appreciation of a good story, told one recently that newspapermen thought worth reporting.

Speaking before a dinner of the Welsh Guards as colonel of the regiment, His Royal Highness told a yarn about a man who went to a doctor and said he was experiencing considerable pain.

The doctor asked the man where he felt the pains, but the sick man could not locate them with accuracy. The doctor ordered his patient to put a piece of paper under his vest and make a mark on it wherever he felt a pain during the next few days.

When the doctor called on the man a few days later, the paper was missing. The patient asked his wife to find it. She asked her daughter what had happened to it and the daughter said:

"Do you mean that piece of paper with all the holes in it? We put it in the piano and it played 'O God our help in ages past.'"

Capt. Charles O'Neill, leader of the Royal 22nd. Regiment Band, while attending the American Bandmasters' Association annual meeting in Toronto, was chosen chief adjudicator for the national state band contest at Urbana, Ill.

NATURALLY we are proud to have created Canada's most popular automobile. All the more so because people are counting values—comparing quality—checking on delivered prices—as never before in automobile history.

Chevrolet has always been stronger on proof of value than on mere "claims". People recognize this in Chevrolet's many exclusive features: Fully-enclosed, protected "Knee-Action". Body by Fisher, valve-in-head six cylinder engine with Blue Flame head, Fisher built-in Ventilation, exclusive YK frame, to mention just a few.

And just as long as motorists go on comparing, checking and testing, Chevrolet will hold and increase its great sales leadership. Because Chevrolet refuses to compromise on quality. The industry's leading engineers... the great General Motors Proving Ground... and an organization with "an ear to the ground and an eye to the future"...
take care of that. Low delivered prices—easy GMAC terms.

DODGE - DE SOTO

Direct Dealer for Brownsburg and District

New 1934 117" wheelbase Dodge Six . . . bigger, stronger, more rugged than ever . . . with independent front springs, Floating Power, all-steel body, 7-Point Ventilation, built in luggage compartment.

OLD RIGID TYPE FRONT AXLE—One wheel hitting a bump causes the whole car to tilt. The springs are called upon to perform several duties and steering problems are complicated.

WITH DODGE "FLOATING CUSHION" WHEELS as the shock is taken up by the long, soft coil spring of special alloy steel. No shock is transmitted to frame or to the other wheel. Perfect steering is achieved.

TWO NEW BIGGER DODGE CARS

Again Dodge offers you greater value for your dollar. Two, big rugged cars—one on 114 inch wheelbase with 77 horsepower, priced right down among the low priced cars . . . another on 117 inch wheelbase with 82 horsepower.

All the features that made such amazing records for Dodge in 1933 plus a host of new features that will make even greater records for Dodge in 1934.

"Floating Cushion" wheels give Dodge superior independent front springing . . . Make bumps into ripples . . . make ripples disappear.

Floating Power engine mountings absorb engine vibration and prevent it reaching the passengers. This eliminates one of the chief causes of driving fatigue.

"7-Point Ventilation" banishes drafts without robbing you of the "touring car" pleasure of wind when you want it.

Check Dodge feature-by-feature by the unique "Show-Down" plan. This simple plan enables you to compare Dodge against all competitors. Shows you in black and white the reasons for the increasing popularity of Dodge.

See the new Dodges . . . drive them . . . Prove to your own satisfaction that Dodge gives better value before you buy a car.

NEW DE SOTO THE LOWEST PRICED AIRFLOW CAR

Satisfy yourself that a ride in the Airflow De Soto is more restful than sitting in your favourite armchair. Prove to your own satisfaction that you can write a letter, read a book, or go comfortably to sleep at any speed.

Don't take anybody's word for it. Ride in the Airflow De Soto yourself and you'll know why we say this is not just a "streamlined car"—it's a new, effortless way to travel.

Learn why you ride between the wheels, not over them. Why you ride inside the frame, not on top of it. Get the full explanation of Dynamic Balance, Floating Ride, Airflow and Floating Power.

Get the sense of safety that comes from riding in a car forty times as strong as conventional cars. Equipped with self-equalized hydraulic brakes for swift, safe stops at any speed.

Get ready for the ride of your life in the Airflow De Soto—the lowest priced Airflow Car.

Three big people find plenty of room in the front seat of the Airflow De Soto. Beautiful modern chromium seat frames permit the air to circulate beneath the seat . . . add to the draftless comfort of the Airflow De Soto. Floating Power engine mountings eliminate all vibration.

New distribution of weight gives hitherto undreamed of riding qualities. Passengers sit cradled between the axles at the point of least movement. Placing the engine over the front axle permits rear seat to be placed 20 inches in front of the rear axle. The Airflow De Soto has longer, softer front springs.

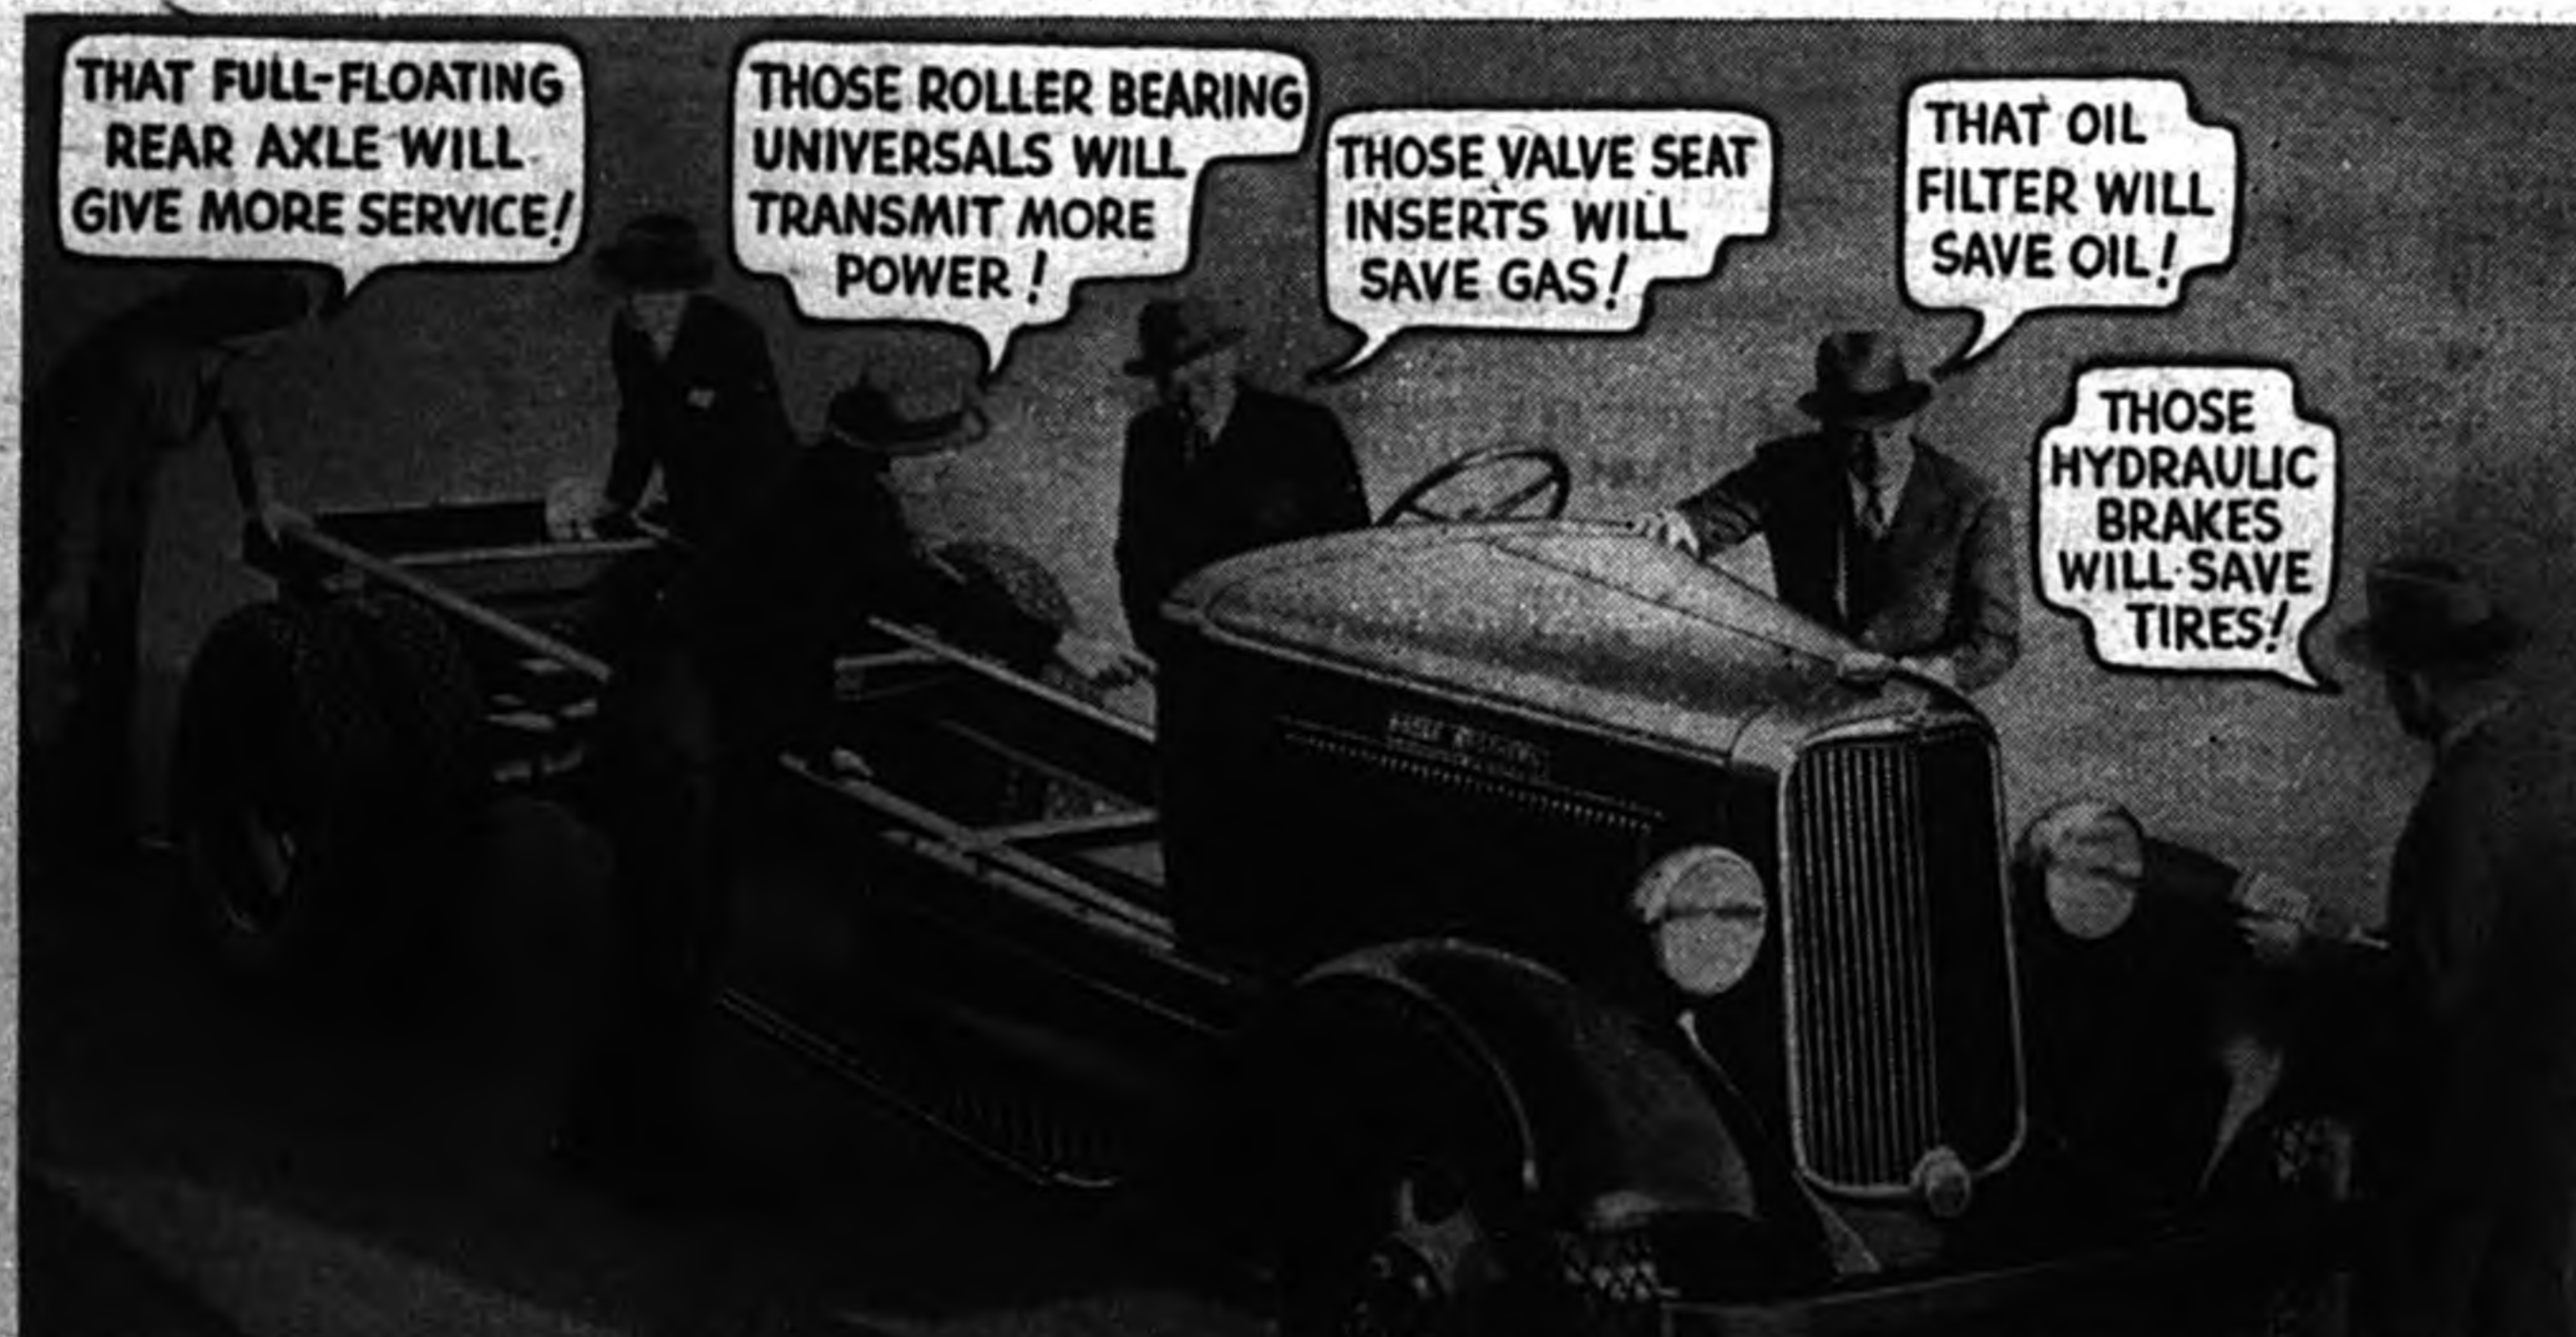

The six-passenger Airflow De Soto Sedan—A car with seats like chesterfields, front and rear . . . built to carry six passengers in comfort. Powered by a 100 horsepower aluminum head engine.

NEW DODGE TRUCKS

Don't Buy Any Truck Till You Compare With Dodge

You've got to be able to "deliver the goods" when you make a challenge. We challenge you to compare Dodge Trucks point-for-point against all other trucks. We know that Dodge will come out first in any fair comparison because we know that Dodge trucks have more to offer.

Get the Dodge Truck "Show-Down" plan from us . . . it gives you a list of Dodge truck features . . . and it lists the features of other trucks. You have before you in black and white exactly what you can buy for your dollar. You can see for yourself and prove for yourself that Dodge trucks lead the field in costly features by an almost unbelievable margin.

Greater Profits With Your Dodge Truck

Take a look at these features . . . they save Dodge Truck owners gas . . . oil . . . tires . . . and repair . . . yet they are only a few of the many superior Dodge features.

Dodge Trucks have hydraulic brakes (less wear on tires), cast iron braking surfaces, full floating rear axle, full pressure lubrication, 4-bearing crankshaft, valve-seat inserts, roller bearing universals . . . eighteen extra value features in all.

You save on the cost of a Dodge Truck . . . you save on upkeep and repairs for as long as you own the truck . . . you increase your profits and build up your business because Dodge Trucks are beautiful—because they are more dependable, more reliable both on the short trip and the long haul.

Hints for Homebodies

Specially written for Readers of The Watchman.
By JESSIE ALLEN BROWN

PATIENCE

Patience is one of those things that you cannot measure with a yard-stick. There are so many kinds and varieties of patience that you cannot say arbitrarily that such and so is very impatient or on the other hand is very patient. Because the same person may be both. I listened to a discussion about a man and one person said he had an unusual amount of patience. This was met with surprise as every one else considered him a very impatient man, a bit short in the grain in fact. Then it developed that the man who thought there was great patience was associated with him their work very well with infinite patience. That is a characteristic of people who do their work exceptionally well—infinitely patience, nothing too much trouble in the work, but not much patience with other things or with people. That is especially true with men. Women's work is spread over so many things that they have not time to exercise the same degree of patience. One thing I do know and that is it is impossible to be a good cook if you are not willing to have enough patience to take the necessary time. You cannot hurry the process of cooking and make a good job of it. Examine your next failures or near failures and just see if they are not due to being in too much of a hurry.

MUFFINS

Most everyone likes hot bread and muffins, and this time of year they are one of the pleasant ways to give a fill-up to the appetite. There are dozens of good muffin recipes but the most important thing about making muffins is the mixing. Do not over-mix. Stir in the flour just long enough to moisten all of it and do not stir until the mixture is smooth. The first time you try this you are sure to have misgivings because the mixture will look lumpy but will find that you get a smooth topped muffin without peaks. Muffins for breakfast are usually hailed with delight and they can be managed easily for Sunday mornings with a little forethought. If I have weekend company I like to make muffins for Sunday breakfast as it is easier to do than to provide hot toast for a number of people at the same moment. To make breakfast muffins I do not use the usual cake method, but on Saturday when I am at the rest of my baking, I make my dry ingredients in a bowl and rub in the shortening as you do for biscuits. If I am adding raisins, dates or figs I put them in with the dry ingredients. I cover this over and leave it until the morning and then all that is left to do is to add the beaten eggs and milk, mix quickly and pop into the oven. Muffins made with whole wheat flour and a dried fruit are a wholesome addition to the diet.

HOME-MADE BLOCKS

A very discerning uncle, and a great uncle at that, has made some very small friends of ours a set of blocks. They are so much better than the ones that we buy that I would like to tell you about them and maybe some other children may be as fortunate. This man has a fondness for wood and acquires useful pieces here and there, so the blocks are made of different shapes and sizes, as suggested from the shape and size of the piece of wood at hand. There are a number of the usual cube shaped blocks, there are flat pieces of different shapes, there are round ones cut from an old curtain pole, but the greatest treasures of all are pieces of an old organ that have shaped ends. These are perfect treasures as they can be used for making a roof, a tunnel, a bridge and dear only knows what else. The blocks are painted various bright colors and then varnished and so are a joy to look at and to handle.

POTPOURRI

Mix a teaspoonful of sage with the sugar for your rhubarb pie to prevent the juice from overflowing.

Never use raw pineapple with a jelly powder or any form of gelatine as it will prevent it from jelling. Cook your pineapple before adding.

If you have used egg whites in cooking, poach the left-over yolks and hard cook them for use in salads, sandwiches or creamed dishes.

WHOLE WHEAT MUFFINS

1 cup flour
1 cup whole wheat flour
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons melted fat
1 egg
5 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Sift dry ingredients. Add beaten egg, milk and melted fat, stirring as little as possible. Bake in hot greased muffin tins for 25 minutes in a hot oven of 400 degrees.

NUT MACAROONS

1 cup chopped walnuts
3 egg whites
½ cup cracker crumbs
Vanilla or almond flavouring.
1 cup sugar

Beat egg whites very light, add sugar gradually. Fold in nuts and flavouring. Drop from a teaspoon on buttered paper and bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees.

ALL-BRAN RELIEVED HIS CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Brought New Health to Mr. Bartholomew

We quote from his voluntary letter: "I had considerable trouble with my stomach. Digestion was out of the question. I got medicine which gave me only temporary relief."

"Then I thought of taking ALL-BRAN. I started eating a cereal dishful two or three times a day."

"It has been over a year now since I ate that first dish of bran, but from that day to this I have had the pleasure of enjoying the proper functioning of the digestive organs."

"Thanks to ALL-BRAN. I still eat it regularly and like it better all the time."—Lester Bartholomew (address furnished upon request).

Constipation is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote elimination. ALL-BRAN supplies both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Certainly this food is more natural than taking harmful patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily will usually overcome most types of constipation. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

DO YOU like cheery breakfasts? Here's one your family will enjoy. Kellogg's Corn Flakes with milk or cream and sliced bananas!

Kellogg's are extra refreshing. A real energy-food—easy to digest. Kept oven-fresh and flavor-perfect by the heat-sealed inner WAXTITE bag. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Kellogg's FOR FLAVOR

OF RARE CONVENIENCE

In unpleasant weather it is a rare convenience to house-wives, to be able to telephone for their provisions and grocery requirements.

It is better still to know their orders will have the same attention as they would receive at the counter. Make use of this service.

A New Kind of Motoring
Thanks to these McLaughlin-Buick Triumphs

KNEE-ACTION WHEELS
"Knee-action" permits each front wheel to follow the irregularities in the road without transmitting shock to the opposite wheel or to the frame and body of the car. No pitching, bouncing, jarring.

AIR-CUSHION TIRES
Air Cushion Tires of entirely new design "swallow up" vibrations resulting from riding over stones, shallow holes and pavement strips. They carry only 24 lbs. pressure for traction, safety and comfort.

CENTER-POINT STEERING
Center-control steering, in connection with the new front end design, provides 20% increased efficiency and ease in turning and parking the car. Wheel shimmy and wandering are eliminated.

RISE STABILIZER
The new Sway Stabilizer—a spring steel bar—is mounted across the rear end of the frame to prevent the car body from swaying or rolling from side to side. Corners are rounded on even keel.

ALL over Canada, you'll find owners acclaiming the new McLaughlin-Buick. Just as much for the fashion in which time-proved fundamentals have been refined as for its new "Knee-Action" floating ride... Vacuum-Power Brakes... Automatic Starting... and improved No-Draft Ventilation. If your neighbor is one of those happy motorists who owns a 1934 McLaughlin-Buick... ask him about the new kind of motoring that McLaughlin-Buick has achieved. Or better still, come to our showrooms—drive the car itself—and make your own exhaustive test of this challenging new Straight Eight.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Arundel boasts the first Scout in the county to obtain his Gold Cord, in Troop Leader Earl Morrison, who in the past five years has passed proficiency tests and examinations in eighteen Badges. He was congratulated at the Friday night meeting of his troop by the Rev. G. W. Phillips, District Scout Master for the Laurentian District.

At this meeting Scouts of the 2nd. Laurentian Troop, (Arundel) were given their pass cards in the following tests:

In congratulating Scout Master J. C. Velt on the excellent showing of the Troop in general and the outstanding merit to be seen in some of the boys in particular the D.S.N. registered his regret that former Troop Leader Wenville Graham had declined to pass the tests for the three cords as he is quite capable of doing so; but as he desired to leave the troop to take over the Cub Pack as Acting Assistant Cub Master the troop was to be congratulated on producing so splendid a leader for another branch of Scouting.

At the conclusion of the meeting the D.S.M. announced the appointment of Troop Leader Morrison to be acting A.S.M. of the troop.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 27th., is "Soul and Body".

The Golden Text is: "The very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." (1 Thessalonians 5: 23).

The following passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands. For in him we live, and move and have our being." (Acts 17: 24, 28 to);

"Man is the expression of unchangeable and eternal; and man co-exists with and reflects Soul. Soul or Spirit is God, Soul, God, for man is God's image." (Science and Health pages 477 and 119).

AGRICULTURAL SURVEY OF PROVINCE

The annual agricultural survey carried out by the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture is under way in this province. Throughout the Dominion 140,000 questionnaires have been sent out to rural school teachers to be distributed among farmers. The questionnaires are returnable in June.

Last year Quebec province headed the rest of the Dominion, 40,987 farmers sending back replies.

The survey is made annually by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, with co-operation of the Provincial departments, with a view to obtaining information as regards live stock figures and crop data.

TRAGEDY ATTENDS DOLLARD CELEBRATION

Man Drowned in Ottawa River

Third Successive Year Fatalities Occurred at Carillon Event

Last Saturday, occasion of the Dollard des Ormeaux anniversary at Carillon, tragedy occurred among a party travelling to the spot by steamboat from Montreal. An unidentified man fell off the steamer Beloil, which was carrying a load of teachers and cadets up the Ottawa River to the Dollard monument. The man fell overboard opposite Ile Decarie, and was drowned in the river. No one was able to say who the victim was, nor how he fell into the water, but eye witnesses said that he was seen to lose his balance over the rail of the steamer.

The "man overboard" alarm was immediately given and boats were lowered. The river was searched for some time but no trace of the man was found.

Priests and cadets on their way to attend the Dollard des Ormeaux celebration at the monument in Carillon, were aboard the steamer Beloil at the time of the drowning. The steamer stopped only for a few minutes and then carried on. The celebration was held as usual.

This is the third successive year on which the Dollard celebration has been marked by fatal mishaps, and the event would seem to spell inevitable tragedy among the Dollard enthusiasts.

In 1932, a motor truck returning from the celebration carrying school children was struck by a falling tree near Chute a Blondeau, resulting in the death of a school teacher and six children.

In 1933, a youth riding a bicycle was killed near Monalea when he was struck by an automobile while returning from the celebration.

INCREASE IN LOCAL AUTO REGISTRATION

Mr. P. Chabot, auto licence registrar for the County, has records to confirm the obvious upturn in use of automobiles this year. In spite of the later season, at this date the local registrations number 50 vehicles ahead of last year's registration at the end of May. And with licences still coming in, the total number for 1934 should show a large increase before the season is over.

LACHUTE FAIR NEEDS PUBLIC BOOST

It is pleasing to note the co-operative spirit of our citizenry, in falling in line so readily with the general town clean-up. It is encouraging to our city fathers as they see the improvements going on, in new construction and beautification. Many townfolk at this time are busy with paintbrush and paint, embellishing their properties, which will all have good effect as we bid welcome to the large influx of visitors to which the town plays host during Fair Week.

Lachute Fair will be held on June 13-14-15 & 16, and the directors are busily preparing for this annual event. The secretary announces strong entries in all lines. Grounds and buildings are all in excellent shape. The famous Grenadier Guards Band, fireworks display, a good stage performance, and fine midway, have been secured—assuring lots of fun and variety, as well as exciting horse races.

The Fair is a real get-together, and we are looking for a larger crowd than ever. The directors spend much time in arranging the details of this event, and it is for the public in general to talk about it and boost the Fair from now until the gates are thrown open on June 13th.

LATE MRS. JAS. McOUAT OF BROWNSBURG

At Maple Grove, Brownsburg, on Monday, May 21st., one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of this County in the person of Jane McOuat, relict of the late James McOuat, entered her eternal rest. She was in her 88th year. Despite her advanced age she had enjoyed excellent health until three years ago, when a painful accident began a period of invalidism that terminated in her death. During this time of suffering her quiet courage and gentle faith increased in their ministry and lighted the way of triumph for her.

Mrs. McOuat spent her entire life in this community. She was born at Hill Foot, the ninth child in a family of eleven born to John McOuat and Margaret Pollock. After her marriage to James McOuat she lived at Maple Grove till the time of her death. Her husband died in 1911. They are survived by their seven children, Andrew Erskine and Margaret Calder at Maple Grove, Mrs. Jos. S. Burrill, of Indian Head, Sask., Mrs. Gavin M. Walker and Walter Stewart, of Vancouver, B.C., Campbell John, of Cowansville, and James Ralph, of Orms-town. There are eight grandchildren. Mrs. David Pollock, of Lachute, is a sister.

The funeral service was held at the old home on Wednesday afternoon, May 23rd., and was conducted by Rev. A. E. Hagar, of Brownsburg, assisted by Rev. J. A. MacKenzie. The Brownsburg Male Quartette sang two of her favorite selections, "Softly now the light of Day" and "The hour of my departure's come." Three sons, Erskine, Campbell and Ralph and three nephews, A. A. McOuat, George McOuat and Alex. Pollock acted as pall bearers. The flower bearers included Messrs. Gordon McOuat, Wm. Cottingham, Gavin Walker, Melville Smith, Kenneth McOuat, Eric King and Masters James McOuat and Ronald MacKenzie. The interment took place at Lachute Cemetery.

"Father in Thy gracious keeping, Leave we now our loved one sleeping."

HEAVY LOSSES IN STE. THERESE FIRE

Week-End Outbreak Destroyed Sawmill and Residence

Engineer of C.P.R. Milk Train Raised Night Alarm

With a loss of $20,000 only partly covered by insurance, the sawmill, lumberyard and residence of Ernest Thibault, general contractor of Ste. Therese, was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. Outhouses of a neighbor were also destroyed. One man burned both his hands slightly in attempting to save some household goods.

The fire was discovered at 12.05 o'clock by Engineer Duff Jones, of the C.P.R. milk train bound for Calumet which had stopped at the station. The engineer saw the flames and rushed to the Thibault home and awoke the occupants. The volunteer fire brigade of Ste. Therese were soon on the scene. They found that the flames had already spread from the wooden sawmill building to the lumber in the yard and to the two-storey wooden dwelling. The firemen concentrated their efforts on preventing the flames from spreading but a strong wind prevailed and it was not until 2.30 o'clock the blaze was under control.

When it was seen that the fire threatened to reach serious proportions the fire brigades from the Willis and Co., the Lesage et Cie., and the Dominion Furniture plants were sent to the scene with their apparatus to aid the local firemen.

Thibault, owner of the destroyed property, estimated the loss at $20,000 and said he carried only $5,000 insurance on his plant.

RELIC OF INTEREST AT CARILLON

Interest has centred upon a massive iron lock found recently on the shore of the Ottawa River at Carillon. The relic weighs in the neighborhood of 75 lbs. It was located in a gorge, some 50 feet below the remains of an old stone building, now almost imperceptible in the undergrowth.

The relic is thought to be a lock from the old powder magazine of garrison days, and at the time of the explosion may have been shot down to the place where it was found, and lain there for a full century. This, at least, is the opinion of Dr. B. N. Wales, local historian, as communicated to T. D. Titman, of the Lachute Watchman, who made and reported the discovery.

INTERESTING SPEAKERS AT B. OF T. BANQUET

In The Watchman's report of the recent Board of Trade Banquet at Lachute, space did not permit a resume of subjects discussed by the speakers on that occasion. One or two of the addresses, therefore, are here reported for the interest of our readers; the discourses were highly interesting and we regret it is impossible to give a full verbatim report of all the topics, in the limited space at our disposal.

A Pilgrimage into the Past (Mr. Clement Tremblay)

It would be commonplace to lay emphasis on the geography, topography, picturesqueness, and other features about our town to men of the County of Argenteuil assembled here, who know as much or more than I do on this particular question. To be at all interesting, therefore, if such a quality is mine, I will pass in review certain facts touching upon trade and commerce, since our organization is a Board of Trade or a Chamber of Commerce, and those facts in a more or less classified order will recall to mind the events leading to the existence of a town such as Lachute, or any other town, as a community of a few thousand inhabitants has inevitably reached

GOOD JUMPING AT MCGILL MEET

Following up their successes at the recent Provincial Sunday School Field Day, local boys were in attendance at the Molson Stadium last Saturday for the McGill Interscholastic Track Meet.

It is noted in the Intermediate Class Kenneth Falconer took first place in the running broad jump, at 19 feet; while the Junior Class, K. Kettle came second in the same event, jumping nearly 16 ft. 10 ins.

These boys upheld the honors creditably for the local High School, which stood in good company at the final count, with 8 points to its credit. Ottawa Glebe took the highest total of points, 44, thus retaining the Glassco Cup, emblematic of the team championship for this Meet.

EDUCATION NEEDS COURSE IN ETHICS

(Editorial in the Orillia Packet-Times)

The Hon. H. H. Stevens expresses the opinion that what is needed in Canada is a higher standard of business ethics. If the principles of Christianity were applied to every day affairs, he believes that many present problems would be solved. To bring this about is a matter of education and of the development of individual character. But what are the school systems of Canada doing in this direction? In a conscious, organized way, scarcely anything. The plays of Shakespeare and the Journals of Caesar have a place on the school curriculum, but beyond a somewhat perfunctory daily reading of a short portion of Scripture, the Bible is not studied. From a literary standpoint alone the Bible is the very basis of English language and literature. Yet we are told that when a university class was asked recently who Jonathon was not one could furnish the answer. Our children are taught arithmetic, algebra and geometry but no organized system of ethics by which they shall be expected to govern their public and private relations with society. These matters, the most important features of education, are largely left to the initiative of the individual teacher, and to the untrained ideas of indifferent parents. Is not an educational system which omits religious and ethical training failing in one of its fundamental purposes? Lord Shaftes-

LACHUTE AMATEUR HAS PRIOR CLAIM

Made Radio Telegraph Contact with Japan

Yesterday's Montreal Gazette claimed a triumph for H. Chadwick, amateur radio operator of Beaconsfield, Que., in having made definite contact with a short-wave operator in Japan. Mr. Chadwick was stated to be the first amateur to have achieved this feat.

Last issue of the Watchman, however, made note of the fact that Mr. Gerald Hammond, Lachute amateur, had recently held conversation over his wireless telegraph with an operator in Japan, and he therefore has prior claim to this distinction than the operator at Beaconsfield. Nor are these the first contacts to be made in this province, an amateur at Three Rivers having "worked" Japan with success at an earlier date.

Mention was made last week of the Montreal Amateur Radio Club's picnic to be held at Doig's grounds, Lachute. The date was given as June 10th.; this event however is to be held next Sunday, 3rd. inst., and an interesting gathering is expected.

LEGISLATION ON TAX ARREARS

The Secretary of Lachute Town, Mr. Germain Filion, draws attention of the ratepayers to an Act which has been adopted at the last session of the Provincial Legislature concerning both municipal and school taxes. By virtue of such Act all taxable immovables which on June 30th., 1934, still owe the whole or part of taxes due for two years must and shall be sold by the Secretary in absolute independence of the Council, whose intervention is completely ignored by the law. As an example a property which on the 30th. of June, 1934, owes its 1934 taxes and $1.00 of last year's taxes shall at a date to be advertised in the paper, be sold for the full amount of taxes due on the date of the sale. The purpose of this notification is to advise delinquent rate-payers to govern themselves accordingly, and to save them from being taken by surprise in July next.

bury, the greatest of English social reformers, believed that an educational system which omitted religious training was building on sand. When he was in Orillia, at the age of eighty, the Rev. E. F. B. Meyer, the revered Baptist preacher and author, admitted that one of the mistakes of his life which he most regretted was the part he had played in the campaign for putting a stop to the teaching of the Church of England catechism in the Board Schools of England. "I would do anything in my power to get it back again," he said, "for I am convinced now that the national character cannot be maintained at a high level without religious training in the schools." If character is to be the most important product of our Canadian schools then steps must be taken for its development. Sharpening wits without developing character is an ineffective procedure. A purely secular system of education cannot but produce a materialistic society. We would suggest to our Orange friends that they should bend their efforts to have the open Bible which is their boast given its proper place in the public schools rather than to frustrating the effort of their Roman Catholic fellow citizens to obtain a measure of financial justice for their separate schools.

FOUR CASES HEARD IN MAGISTRATE'S COURT

The Magistrate's Court in session last Tuesday had four cases for trial at the Lachute Court House. The court was presided over by Mons. Donat Lalonde, district magistrate.

Cayer vs. Flannigan Breach of Contract

Suit was heard against Dr. C. L. Flannigan, by Plaintiff Moise Cayer, who sued for balance of contract on work to be executed on property at Bevan Lake. The case was dismissed with costs, on the grounds that the work was defective and caused damage to Dr. Flannigan's property.

Clement vs. Campbell Defamation of Character

A case for defamation of character was contended by Jos. Clement against R. Campbell, both residents of Pine Lake. The action was for alleged defamation of character resulting from a disputed boundary line. Damages were awarded to Clement, the plaintiff, for the sum of $10, and $20 costs.

Fortin vs. Lacoste Killing of Dog

The case of Arthur Fortin vs. German Lacoste, for damages over the killing of a dog belonging to Fortin, which was run over by a car owned by Lacoste, was awarded no decision, the case being taken en delibere.

Perreault vs. Perreault Tutorship

Jeanne Perreault entered suit against David Perreault, regarding costs of proceedings commenced but not completed, to hold a family council for appointment of tutor to the said Jeanne Perreault. The action was dismissed with costs.

W.M.S. SECTIONAL MEETING AT CUSHING

The W. M. S. Sectional Meeting for the Ottawa Valley was held in St. Mungo's United Church, Cushing, on May 18, 1934.

The morning session of the convention opened shortly after ten o'clock. The sectional president, Mrs. J. Macaskill was in the chair and read the call to worship which was followed by the hymn, Fling out the Banner, Far and Wide. The devotional service was conducted by delegates from Lachute. Mrs. Hamilton read the scripture lesson from the sixty-second chapter of Isaiah. Mrs. Bradford offered a prayer of thanksgiving for the beauties of the spring world, and asked for God's blessing on the work of missions, far and near, and on the conference just opening.

The minutes of the 1933 sectional meeting were read and approved. The following committee was appointed to nominate a secretary for the next two years: Mrs. Maclean, Cushing; Mrs. Lilly, St. Andrews; Mrs. McGibbon, Lachute; Mrs. Gordon, East Settlement; Mrs. Thompson, Brownsburg.

Mrs. Macaskill then introduced the speakers from Montreal: Mrs. Sutherland, Presbyterian President; Mrs. Loveys, Vice-President; Mrs. W. Scott, Vice-President; Mrs. Smith, Missionary Monthly Secretary; Miss L. Bridgman, Presbyterian Secretary; and Mrs. Graham, whose daughter has gone as a missionary to Japan. Miss M. Lamb, missionary on furlough from West China, and Mrs. Lighthall, a former Presbyterian officer, were also introduced to the convention.

Mrs. Sutherland brought greetings from the Presbyterian. She expressed the conviction that the duties of office give large opportunities for service, and the privilege of coming in close contact with those small

A DISAPPOINTED CAT

Swinging gaily in a cradle, Warmly-lined and deep,
Some tiny, baby orioles
Were cuddled, fast asleep.
Greedy Tom, the old striped cat,
Watched that swinging nest, Planned to steal those baby birds
From 'neath their mother's breast.
Up the tree he scrambled,
Crept out upon a limb—
The baby birds were oh, so near,
—But they were not for him.
Snap went the limb on which he sat,
With a bang he struck the ground.
He waited not to wash his face,
But dashed off, with a bound.

I do not know whether you have guessed what Uncle Dick was doing while the boys were watching Mr. Fuzzy Buzzy hurrying home before the sun went down. If you have not, you will soon find out.

"I am glad" said Billy "that I did not hurt Fuzzy enough with my cap to prevent him from flying home. I suppose Mrs. Fuzzie and all the little Fuzzies will be watching for him." Billy had a happy home and he suddenly remembered how his mother and he watched for daddy coming home, and he was glad that Mr. Fuzzie had really not been harmed.

Carefully scrapping the last piece of fish from the bones and throwing the bones into the dying fire, he said "I still have room for some of those molasses cookies, Uncle Dick, if you are ready to open them now
Why! where have they gone?
The parcel was lying right in front of me."

He looked at Ted, who blink-ed back at him in surprise. He had not noticed that the cookies had disappeared.

"I am beginning to think that your zig-zag lines did not keep the witches away after all, Uncle Dick," said Ted, "they seem to have disappeared. No-one has got up from here, so could not have carried them away."

"I told you that this was Canada, Ted, and the zig-zag lines might not save our cookies.
Now will you believe in witches?"

"Great, big, tall, six-foot ones, Uncle Dick," said Ted with a chuckle. He had discovered the merry twinkle in his uncle's eyes and guessed at once who was the witch.

"They're in your fishing-tackle bag, Uncle Dick!" he shouted "I can see the shape of them."

"You are quite a good guess-er, Teddy Boy; that is just where they are. We will eat them at once before anything more serious happens to them."

Taking the parcel out he passed the cookies around again and again until they were all finished except a few crumbs. Billy took them to a little mound not far away and dropped them in a heap. "For Mr. Fuzzie," he said, "when he comes back tomorrow."

As they lay on the grass resting a few moments before starting home, Ted's father said
"You are just as fond of molasses cookies now, Dick, as you were when a little lad. Do you remember Aunt Bettie asking you how much you would take to come and work for her, when you were a tiny laddie?"

"I should say I do. All the folks kept telling me about it until I was almost grown up. I told Aunt Bettie that I would work for her for a cent a day and all the black cookies I could eat."

"Black cookies," said Ted with a shout of laughter, "what a funny name for them. They are not black, they are brown."

"Yes, but Aunt Bettie called molasses black strap, so I called her cookies Black Cookies.
They were just wonderful. All the children in the neighborhood loved Aunt Bettie's cookies."

As the grown-ups started packing their fishing things Ted exclaimed "You did not tell us any fish stories, Uncle Dick.
You said you were going to tell us some."

"Did I not? I thought I told you about the witches."

"Aw! witch stories are not fish stories, Uncle Dick. Won't you tell us something about fish?"

"Why, of course," said his Uncle Dick. "Fish have fins, a snout, two eyes and a tail."

"Uncle Dick!" shouted Ted, leaping up and rushing at his uncle with a great pretence of beating him. "You are only teasing. We know all you have just told us. We want to hear something that we do not know."

"All right then, Ted, a fish is a cold-blooded animal!"
"There you go again, Uncle Dick, trying to fool us!" Ted shouted, half laughing. "You are the biggest tease."

"But I'm not trying to fool you, Ted. The dictionary says a fish is an aquatic animal and that its blood is cold, except perhaps in the larger bodied ones. You look it up in Dad's big dictionary when you have time, and see what is said about fish. It is beginning to get quite chilly so I won't stop to tell you much about fish, but I'll just tell about the one that carries a lamp on its nose."

Billy and Ted did not like to accuse Uncle Dick again of fooling them, but I am afraid they thought it; but he was not fooling in this either. He went on to say that it was called the Torch Fish, because it had been created with a little sack of some kind on its nose which it could light up whenever it chose.

"When it was hungry it lighted this lamp; the smaller fish, thinking it was something bright which perhaps they could eat, darted forward to catch it and were caught themselves in the mouth of the Torch Fish.
He just had to light up this little lantern when he was hungry and he soon had all he wanted to eat."

"The mean old thing!" said Billy "—to fool the little fishes that way."

"Another fish" said Uncle Dick, "is a member of the Goby family, one of the oldest of the fish families. But I think I'll keep that story until our next fishing trip. Billy's mother will be expecting him home very soon."

—Aunt Jean.

A GOLDEN CHAIN

"One good turn deserves another,"
So the good old adage reads,
Pass it on then to your brother,
He again—to others' needs,
Thus by love the world encircling
Make of golden deeds a chain,
Till that act of yours comes working Round in turn to you again!

Thoughts in Passing

By L. W. Armstrong

Decline of the League.

The influence of the League of Nations as an institution for peace has almost expired.

It is surprising that it has lived for so long, because it is doubtful if it ever received the entire support of any nation.

England, as one of its chief sponsors sold thousands of dollars worth of munitions to both China and Japan during the invasion of Manchuria.

While the League is endeavouring to put an end to the war in South America, the United States is supplying nearly all of the materials for the hostilities.
It is a well-known fact that the Germans killed hundreds of English soldiers during the Great War with 'made-in-England' guns.

How can we hope for any lasting results from an institute for peace under such circumstances?

The various governments which support the League must first agree to control the sale of armaments in their own countries.

So long as these cancerous concerns are allowed free rein they will continue to destroy any work done by the agents for peace.

It would seem that the League of Nations was an institution born before its day. The world is not yet sufficiently removed from barbarism for it to have any lasting effect.

Whither Democracy?

In 1917 thousands of soldiers from the United States were called to Europe to "make the world safe for democracy."

The majority of them believed such high-sounding words coming from their president worthy of the supreme sacrifice on their part.

To-day we find considerably less democracy than there was then.

Russia, Italy, Germany are decidedly non-democratic, while France, Austria, Japan and others are steadily drifting from the fold.

And what about the United States? The rest of the world considers it a quasi-democratic state to-day.

Those soldiers fought and died, motivated by high ideals, in vain. Such has been their reward.

The same is true for all the hundreds of thousands who died in that absurd conflict.

Canada's Railroads.

Mr. E. W. Beatty makes it quite plain as to where Canada stands with regard to her railroads.

It is strikingly apparent that quack-politicians have had too much to do with one of this country's chief problems—transportation.

Unless the old competitive policy is soon discarded, neither of the great roads can hope to survive.

Should either go into receivership, Canadian bonds would certainly not prove to be so attractive either at home or abroad as they are to-day.

And Canada, a young and growing country, must guard her credit.

Larger News Type.

Many people are criticised from time to time because they do not show sufficient interest in national affairs.

One very good reason may be found in the fact that the type in the average newspaper is so ridiculously small that to attempt to read, for example, those four-hour speeches by our august statesmen reduces one almost to the point where optical treatment is necessary.

While recognizing the necessity to economize, it is surely a poor policy to do so at their reader's expense.

Imagine the reception a modern novel would receive if the print was as small as it is in the newspaper.

Are these publishers in league with the opticians?

In these days of reforms, he would be a public benefactor who would bring about a reform in the size of news type.

The Dairy Commission.

It is now a matter of months since a Commission was appointed by the Quebec Parliament to assist the dairy industry of the province.

This Commission was vested with the authority to arrange for prices to be paid to the farmers who sold fluid milk which would cover the cost of production.

That means that they would receive considerably more than they do at the present time.
(The Commission of a year ago discovered that the price the farmer received for his gallon of milk was less than cost.)

The interference of the Government last spring brought new hope to the farmers.

But there, so far as is generally known, the story ends.
The last word was that the Commission had been appointed.

That no doubt means that they had started to draw their salaries.

While recognizing the magnitude of the problem, many hundreds of farmers would be greatly interested in knowing if these men are even trying to earn their salaries.

The Commission has the authority and the data on which to work. When will action be forthcoming?

Surely the farmer has the right to request an answer.

"It pays to be truthful in advertising." —Edward A. Filene.

A Pilgrimage into the Past

At the beginning of commerce, in Canada and elsewhere on this American Continent, local manufacturers supplied practically all of the wants of the people. Most everything needed by the community was made at home. Each of the inhabitants exchanged the products of his labor for the goods produced by others. The primitive community had little intercourse with the outside world, and, of course, had only the most primitive of transportation agencies. As soon as the artisans of the early village, the tailor, the smith, and the carpenter and others began to specialize in their chosen lines of work, it became necessary for them to employ assistants.

With an increase in population, the demand for manufactured articles became greater and the raw materials at home were soon found to be insufficient. Greater quantities of raw materials, therefore, had to be brought from other and sometimes distant sources of supply.

It was then found more economical for men to specialize in the manufacture of the various parts of the articles of commerce. For instance, the farmer produced the skin, the tanner tanned it and the shoemaker made it into shoes. You can then readily understand just how, in the process of exchanging or bartering one commodity for another, the first Grist Mills, Carding Mills and Saw Mills fitted in the picture, the merchants, the mill owners and the artisans all co-operated with the farmer for the common good, thus giving rise to the various Trades and a division of labor. Soon the production of finished products became greater than necessary for home consumption which gave rise to shipping the surplus goods to markets where they could be sold, and to do this required a transportation agency new to these people and forced them to look about for cheap, suitable means to carry on their business in a manner that would assist in assembling raw materials and the distribution of goods in quantities.

Some of the members of the early community gave their time to the manufacture of articles for daily use, while other members devoted their time to agriculture or the production of food products.

The two principal causes which gave birth to commerce, as we know it were:

(1) The unequal distribution of the products needed by man in the various sections of the country and (2) the centralization of skilled labor at certain points, often because of climate conditions. A country which is rich in certain products sells its surplus to other countries in exchange for articles which it does not or cannot produce. For instance, Canada sells its surplus of wheat, meat and dairy products of which it has an abundance, to other countries, for Cotton, Wool, Silk, Tea, Coffee, Sulphur and other materials which it does not produce at all or has only in a limited supply.

The division of labor, and supplying of the wants of man and the distribution of the products of commerce cause man to engage in trade. (This gives you an idea of the why and wherefore of the business relations of our present industries throughout the American Continent with British Empire and other Countries of the Globe.)

As, through this laborious process of evolution, small home industries needed expansion, to become what they are today, it became necessary for some agency, not only for carrying the raw materials from sources of supply to the factories, where they had to be manufactured either partially or completely, but also for distributing the articles to the various markets. This agency was the common carrier.

Transportation went through quite a process of evolution like everything else and goods which had previously been moving from place to place by boat, barge, oxcart, wagon, by beast of burden or even on the backs of humans were finally transported by the much superior agency—the Railroad.

In this kaleidoscopic narration, we now come to the great event in Lachute which was to mean so much for its increase in population and whatever importance it has today, from the rank of a small village, the laying of the railway tracks of the C. P. R. which was to link up by efficient and fast service our town to the Metropolis of Canada and the rest of the world.

An industrial town is the result of a strategic position in relation to trade and the raw materials necessary for producing the articles of commerce.

At this time, we can admire, that courage, that sturdy fearlessness, that spirit of daring, that sagacity which animated the pioneers of our country. This same ambition which moved them to leave home and to cross the then wide Atlantic Ocean, animated them to do and dare in the land of their adoption. No danger was grave enough to daunt our ancestors. No obstacle was too great to be overcome. They conquered field and forest, bridged rivers, scaled mountains, leading eventually to the tunnelling of mountains, sinking mines and spanning the continent with steel rails.

They proved themselves men—men and brave women in those days. Evidence is ample here in Lachute and district that pioneers of the best stock, eminently worthy of their forbears, laid foundations of this and other towns in Argenteuil which the old timers know experienced prosperous times. One must necessarily wonder at their keenness of vision and initiative in exploring and choosing strategic sites for their activities and developing their undertakings to the extent they did, as much as facilities of finance and transportation would permit at that time whether in agricultural, industrial and commercial pursuits.

Within my own experience 30 years ago, this town was forging ahead in kindred activities were under the control of men of considerable personality who had seen success respond to their laborious efforts, in fact they were themselves pioneers or worthy sons who had laid the foundations of their business undertakings. Lachute was a Town of solid, reputable and comfortably well situated business men in all branches of industry and commerce. Commerce was about at the end of the period when products and supplies were bartered to a certain extent against produce from the farm. Everybody, if my memory serves me faithfully, seemed to be contented and happy in all walks of life. The lumber business was still in its hey day, numerous lumber camps being operated in the thick wood limits not far from Lachute and logs in quantities were being driven to the mills. The farming community for miles around Lachute as well as the whole town population were being supplied by the town merchants. The five hotels of the time were doing good business and their bit of usefulness. The bakers, the blacksmiths, the butchers etc., were doing well.

Another chapter began with the advent of the Automobile which labored with difficulty and slowly at first on roads more or less rough and unfit for travel in rainy days. Finally, an era of improved highways commenced under government control and with improved automobiles and passable highways under all kinds of weather conditions, our town's business in all departments, with the exception of industry, had inevitably to suffer the shock of keen competition from the large City of Montreal with its great show of merchandise in unlimited selection. Fortunately our local industries having adapted their activities to the supply of their products throughout Canada and other countries greatly increased in size and capacity; in thirty years, the industrial and kindred population doubled the number of Lachute's inhabitants or practically so. Our commercial world adapted itself to the changing conditions in a very creditable manner. It is with deep regret that one pauses and recalls to his mind those of the pioneers of commerce and industry who have disappeared along with the great goodwill they possessed with the population. There are still a certain number of the old guard left and, with the younger element, they are making a brave and hard fight, and by dint of hard work, courage and the grit which characterized their forbears, they are still holding the fort undaunted and unbeaten.

They certainly have a heroic undertaking to keep progressing with the ever changing conditions as the Chain principle in store-keeping has now entered a wedge in Lachute since the last couple of years, and our local tradesmen now have to face competition in certain important lines from powerful organizations backed by enormous cash working capital, gigantic buying power at the lowest possible cost and a mathematically precise selling direction trained in the art of merchandising on a profitable basis. We already have two chain units, and when the time is deemed favorable, chain units in other lines such as meats, drugs, cigars etc., will eventually operate here, without a doubt. We are entering the phase when all that is romantic in the development of a village or a town as I have portrayed will end. The individualism of olden days, the splendid buccaneering qualities of our early captains of commerce and industry are passé and we now have to face the start of a period of merchandising actuated by high finance—representing thousands upon thousands of shareholders in Canada and the United States who do not even need to know about Lachute and its inhabitants to be successful. Chain units in commerce are a progeny of modern business same as the steam shovel is a progeny of man's invention, and, after they have paid their taxes, they become part of the community and have to be accepted as the new order of things replacing the old, gradually if not immediately.

In conclusion, it is evident that our Lachute tradesmen cannot remain asleep at the switch and the fast moving events will ever keep them awake to keep their own footing in the battle for existence and their share of the business. Whether done by chain units or independent retailers, business will continue to prosper in Lachute and district and it will necessarily be a question of the survival of the fittest. Those who will try to start in business without capital or, if even with the necessary capital, they do not keep up with the most efficient methods of merchandising, prompt and polite attention to customers, quickness of service, keen study as to the best articles to offer for sale in every line, attractive display of goods and intelligent marking of prices as well as timely and forceful advertising, they will be inevitably doomed to failure.

It would appear that our town will satisfactorily emerge from the de-

Mr. Peter Robinson has built a new house on Chatham Street.

The foundation of Dr. Geo. Christie's new residence indicates that a substantial building is to be erected.

There is to be a new School House built on Princess Avenue, in the West End, and beautifully situated.

The School Commissioners have engaged Miss McGibbon as teacher for the West End School for the coming year.

There was a heavy frost on Monday night, with considerable damage reported to young crops.

McQuat & McRae have just finished a very nice machine for cutting key seats in shafting—a machine of their own invention. They are now engaged in building a large Face Lathe, and a blacksmith shop in course of erection will house a heavy Trip Hammer which, with their other facilities, will enable them to do much work which hitherto had to be sent to Montreal.

Is the "Thirteenth" Unlucky?

An Adventurous Life

Is the 13th. lucky or unlucky for Captain Oscar Marchand? During his career as a high dare-devil diver, he has had several narrow escapes from death.

Whilst with a travelling circus in South America, on the 13th. of June a lion escaped; Captain Marchand was up his ladder ready for the dive! The people ran to safety, falling all over his wires which held the ladder 106 feet in the air. He jumped into his tank, and on coming to the surface the lion was standing with his paws on the tank, where the fire attracted its attention. The lion tamer came and netted the beast, and no damage was done.

The 11th. Battalion will go into camp at Morin Flats this month, instead of at Three Rivers.

Mr. Ray Styan spent a brief holiday visit in Magog.

Rev. Mr. Mount, of Bedford, Que., spent a few days visiting acquaintances in town this week.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. J. C. Hutchins on Wednesday, when his only daughter, Florence Ethelwynne Campbell Hutchins, was united in marriage to Mr. William Brennan. Miss Ruby Rowe supported the bride, while Mr. Frank Brennan officiated as best man.

The Shot Shell dept. of D. C. Coy. at Brownsburg has orders for at least two years in advance up to its full running capacity.

Mr. W. J. Deacon, of Campbell's Bay, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Deacon.

At a meeting of the Town Council a request was made by Mr. Brossard to rent the Town Hall for a moving picture entertainment. It was agreed to rent the hall for $2.25 per night for 15 nights.

The graphite mines of Messrs. T. & Peter Conlin at Dunany have been leased for the coming year and will commence operations at once.

Count Zeppelin has achieved the wonderful feat of covering 850 miles in 37 hours in a dirigible balloon which travelled in any direction the Count desired.

Dallas, Tex., a wind arose without warning, loosening all the cables on the ladder structure, and causing it to sway dizzily. The Captain jumped — and the three top sections of his ladder followed him!

On July 13, 1928, at Hollywood, he was "doubling" for a well-known film actress, attired in evening dress. The story required that he should be kidnapped and carried away in an airplane. He was to jump into a certain lake. The airplane, however, developed engine trouble and crashed nose down into the water. So he did not have to jump!

On the 13th. of September in the same year, he also risked his life while doubling for a well known actor on a burning building. The pipe down which he was intended to slide became red hot and he could not even go near it. By this time the building was ready for the final collapse. Captain Marchand jumped to a "Jack Tower" (the tower used by camera men for overhead work), thus saving his life, but landing himself in hospital for three weeks with bad bruises and burns.

ULTRA-MODERN MUSIC

José Iturbi, the celebrated Spanish pianist, who played in Montreal a short time ago, has his own ideas about modern music. "I am interested in modern music," he states, "but I am also interested in Beethoven and Bach."

"I cannot say that I am a specialist in the music of any composer. I think the ultra-moderns have more or less lost their way, and do not know quite where they are going. Much of what they write seems to me to be music to be read rather than to be played. In that sense it is absolutely interesting."

"Trite though it may be to say that this is a result of the post war state of mind, I believe it is true. The mind of all the world was sick. How could it have been otherwise? But the point many lose sight of is that there is no reason, in accepting ultra-modern music, for throwing overboard all that has gone before. When all's said and done, Bach did have a certain disposition for music."

TREND OF THE MOVIES

China's "New Life Association", an organization for the moral uplift of society, has turned its guns on the American movies. Sex films, featuring girls, romance, beauty, and love, many of which are now being shown in China, are derogatory to the nation's morals (the organization charges), and these fascinating productions are contaminating the public.

That Oriental morals are highly superior to those typified by American films, is little doubted, and it is a fact bearing credit to the populace of the East.

In the run of American films we have, indeed, held the same conviction. But in the more recent trend, which cannot yet have reached the white screens of the East, there has been noted a distinct improvement. Sex and romance, which after all are but essential to living, are portrayed still; but their glamor is tinted with the essence of higher principles. Their pervers are held up rather as examples of wrong-doing than as heroes of modernism. Graft and racket are present attributes of society. They appear just as frequently on the screen, but shorn of their glory, and represented as an existing menace.

The trend is in the right direction. And if film producers pursue their present whim, which is to exploit wholesome literature and historical subjects, it may be hoped a more palatable diet may ultimately exclude the sensational fare of recent years.

The Ottawa Spotlight

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, May 29.—The successful floating of another Canadian loan in England at the lowest interest rate for many years will give new hope to those who believe that re-funding of Canada's debt is essential before we can hope for a return of prosperity. As contrasted with the 5½ per cent coupons which it was necessary to attach to Canadian bonds during and after the war in order to attract investors, they were replaced—in this latest issue—with coupons paying only 3¼ per cent. Even a saving of one per cent on the debt of Canada would ease taxpayers' pockets to the extent of $25,000,000. a year, while a similar operation on our railway debt would mean another $100,000,000 to the good. Indeed, if the principle could be extended to the whole funded debt of Canada, the saving would be over $80,000,000 a year in taxes—something like $40. a year off the load carried by every family head in Canada, and paid in the form of direct or indirect taxes. Happily there are signs that the trend of interest rates is definitely lower, and if governments have the courage and ingenuity to take advantage of it, there should be a marked improvement in this respect before many months are past. In Australia such a move was unquestionably the beginning of better times, and so it was in the United Kingdom also.

Doukhobors to Lose Votes

Members who have seen the draft of the new franchise and election bills say that as originally designed the Doukhobors are to be deprived of their voting privileges. At first glance this may seem to be an unimportant matter, since very few Doukhobors have ever voted anyway. But the reason for which the Doukhobors are to be deprived of their franchise, if the report is true, is a disturbing one to many people. They are to be disenfranchised because they decline to take arms against other countries in event of war. Fears are being expressed on Parliament Hill lest this policy be extended to Quakers, Mennonites, conscientious objectors, and even outspoken members of the United Church ministry who have spoken out against war.

A death struggle between an Eskimo and a live wolf is just one of the gripping episodes portrayed in "Eskimo", appearing next week at Rex Theatre.

Plymouth De Luxe 4-Door Sedan

"BUILT BY CHRYSLER"
The Best Engineered Car in the Lowest Priced Field!

PLYMOUTH sales are gaining by leaps and bounds. Registrations of new Plymouth cars in Canada for the month of March were over three times the sales of March last year.

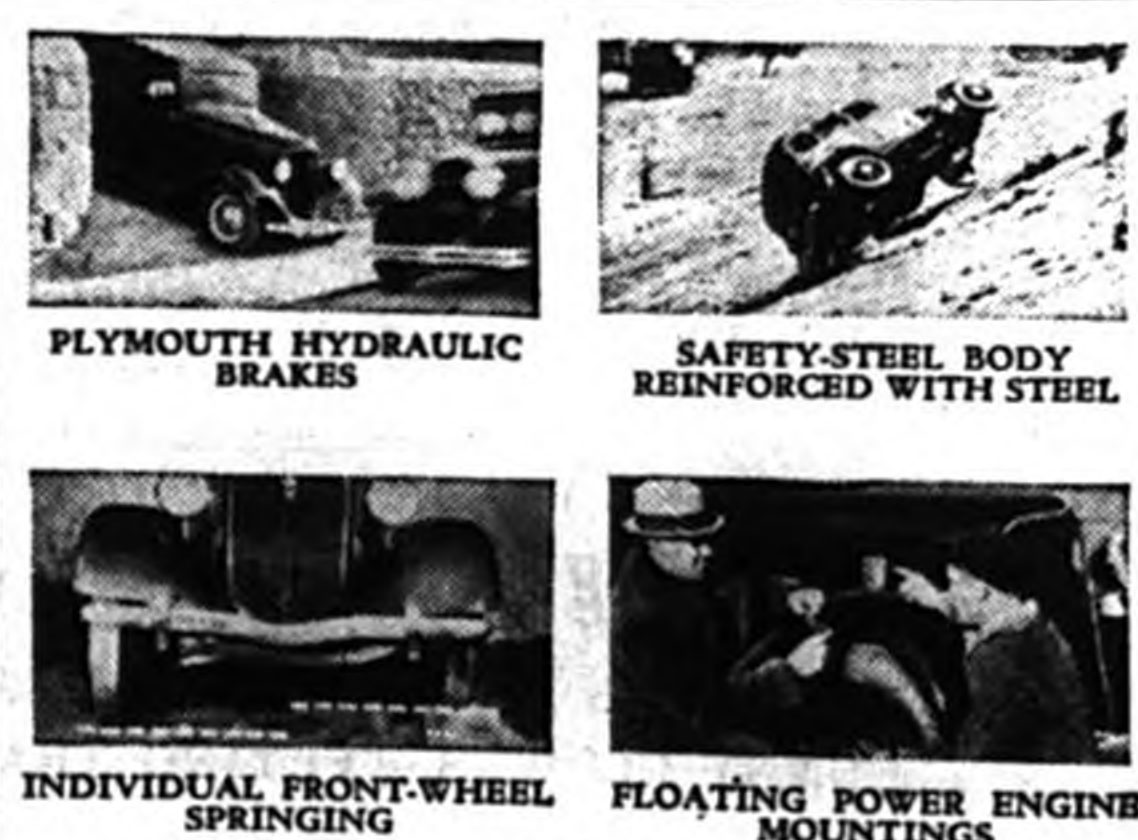

There can be only one answer to this—Plymouth owners are talking to their friends. They are enthusiastic about the way Plymouth performs, proud of its appearance and satisfied that they bought the best car in the lowest priced field.

HYDRAULIC BRAKES are one of the sources of their delight in driving a Plymouth car. They stop the car quickly, smoothly and they never become unbalanced—never cause swerving. Hydraulic brakes are the simplest type of brakes and require no lubrication—seldom require adjusting. They are the safest brakes made.

THE PLYMOUTH ALL-STEEL BODY is the greatest motoring protection you can give yourself and your family. It is all steel reinforced with steel... all the parts electrically fused into one shock-resisting whole... it does not rattle... cannot rot.

FLOATING POWER ENGINE MOUNTINGS banish engine vibration—one of the greatest sources of driving fatigue. The Plymouth motor is cradled in its two rubber mountings which are scientifically placed so that the engine absorbs its own vibration. No engine vibration can reach the passengers.

INDIVIDUAL FRONT WHEEL SPRINGING is found in even the lowest priced Plymouth. Plymouth is the only car in the lowest priced field that gives you individual front wheel springs. It is the same type of springing that is used in some of the world's highest priced cars.

LOOK AT ALL THREE LOWEST PRICED CARS—but make sure you drive a Plymouth before you buy. Make sure you get these four features vital to your safety and comfort. Your Chrysler-Plymouth dealer invites you to have a demonstration today.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held on Wednesday evening to accept the new plans submitted by Architect Gariépy, to whom the work of reconstruction has been entrusted. There are diversified opinions as to changing heating system from hot air to low pressure steam and other improvements, but tenders are being called, to be opened on June 12th., when it will then be decided which plans to adopt.

CUSHING WEST

Mr. and Mrs. N. Matthews of Stardale, were guests of Capt. and Mrs. T. Weir on Sunday.

Mr. Jack and Miss Annie McDowell, also Mr. McDowell Sr., arrived on Monday last at their residence, which they have opened for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cutten and son Hartley, accompanied by Mr. J. Inglis, motored up and visited at the Hartley home on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hartley and daughters, Muriel and Connie, were guests of Mrs. Hartley Sr., over the week-end.

Dr. Cushing and family occupied their residence here during the latter part of the week and on Saturday, with their guests the Misses Helen Byers of Montreal, and D. Campbell, of Toronto, motored to 16 Island Lake where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cushing.

Messrs. Eric Young and Hugh Danford, of Montreal, visited the cottage of the former's uncle, Mr. Leonard Young on Saturday. Mr. Young is expected to arrive from New York groups, whose faithful contributions make possible the work of the society as a whole.

Mrs. Usher of Cushing, conducted the memorial service. She paid reverent tribute to the late Mrs. Henderson, to Mrs. Pease and Miss Caution of St. Andrews and to Mrs. W. McLachlan of Chute au Blondeau. Mrs. H. P. Bezanon gave a sympathetic rendering of One Sweetly Solemn Thought.

Mrs. W. Scott addressed the convention on the value of making a new start with nature's new year. She spoke of the importance of bringing young people into touch with a vital faith, and pointed to the fact that the spiritual conquests of Jesus were mostly among young people.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Stuart of Brownsburg, contributed a vocal duet, Face to Face, which was much appreciated by the audience.

In her opening remarks, Mrs. Smith, Missionary Monthly Secretary, referred with regret to the fact that the number of subscribers is greatly reduced for the present year. She called attention to the function which the missionary magazine performs in keeping the subscribers in touch with what the sisterhood of the church is doing to strengthen the lines of communication between the missionaries at the front and the home base.

The County President of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. H. P. Bezanon, brought greetings from that society, and best wishes for a beneficial and fruitful conference. In the prayer which followed, Mrs. Maclean asked for growth of temperance work throughout the world and a realization of the havoc that intemperance can make in national life.

Mrs. Gifford, Literature Secretary, was the next speaker. She drew attention to the importance of background in the study of missions, and said that when we are working to Christianize the people of a foreign country, unless we know the greatness of their history, the depth of their thinking, the richness of their culture, we cannot hope to reach them. She felt that much care should be exercised in the selection of books for the furnishing of the mind.

Mrs. Maclean of Cushing, cordially welcomed the delegates from sister societies and the visitors from Montreal. She referred to the interesting history connected with St. Mungo's Church, and paid a glowing tribute to "one of the former pastors and his wife, Rev. Jas. Fraser and Mrs. Fraser. In her reply to the message of welcome, Mrs. Gordon of East Settlement, spoke of the inspirational value of the convention and the rest and refreshment that it brought to the delegates. The session closed with prayer by Mrs. Zimmer of Brownsburg.

The afternoon program of addresses and discussions was interspersed with musical and devotional items.

The nominating committee reported that they had appointed Mrs. J. Hay to the office of secretary for the next two years. On behalf of the Lachute ladies, Mrs. McGibbon invited the sectional group to hold the 1935 convention at Lachute. This kind invitation was gratefully accepted. Votes of thanks were extended for the hospitality and assistance which had made this gathering a success. Collection for the day amounted to $25.55.

"Jack" C. Miller Succumbed to Brief Illness

Sorrow has been cast throughout this district by the sudden death of Jack Miller, who for the past eighteen years has been resident in Lachute and a faithful employee in the store of Mr. Robert McFaul.

On May 16th. he entered the General Hospital for treatment, but pneumonia set in and despite all medical assistance, he passed away on Thursday morning.

He was 36 years of age, and came from Gaspé, Que. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Miller, one brother Alfred, of Ottawa, and one sister, Jennie, of Mont Pedier, are left to mourn his loss.

A member of the Anglican Church, and of a bright, cheery nature, he will be greatly missed in his large circle of friends. Interment will take place at his home in Gaspé.

BIRTH

McOUAT.—At Port Huron, Mich., on May 12th., to Mr. and Mrs. Cameron McOuat, a son.

DEATH

MILLER.—At the Montreal General Hospital, on Thursday, May 31st., Jack T. Miller, age 36 years.

IN MEMORIAM

CARPENTER.—In loving memory of our dear father, George Carpenter, who passed away 12 years ago to-day, May 31, 1922.

Quickly and quietly came the call,
His sudden death surprised us all;
We have lost but God has gained
One of the best the world contained.

Ever remembered by Bob.

STEWART.—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Wm. F. Stewart, who passed away June 5, 1931. Ever remembered by his wife and son Alwyn.

BARGAIN EXCURSIONS TO AND FROM WESTERN CANADA ON BOTH RAILWAYS

One Cent Per Mile Bargain Fares Offered by Both Railways.—Between June 10 and 30.—Limit of 45 Days Allowed.—Optional Routes Over C.P.R. and C.N.R.—Stopovers Allowed.

Thousands of Canadians wishing to visit friends or relatives either in Eastern or Western Canada will benefit greatly from the announcement by C. P. Riddell, chairman of the Canadian Passenger Association, that from June 10 to June 30 inclusive, a round-trip fare on both Canadian railways of one cent per mile will be effective to Western Canada from all points east of and including Windsor, Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury, Capreol and Cochrane in Quebec, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia.

The cent-a-mile coach excursion tickets will be good to all points in Ontario west of and including Port Arthur and Armstrong, and to all stations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

On the other hand an equal opportunity is presented residents in Western Canada by the announcement that cent-a-mile rates to all points in Eastern Canada will be placed on sale June 8 to June 30.

A very generous return limit of 45 days is granted on these excursion tickets which, however, provides that the going and returning journeys must be made over the same railway except where the interchangeability of tickets is permitted in the existing pool zones. Stopovers will be allowed at Port Arthur, Armstrong, and any point west thereof, going and returning on tickets issued in Eastern Canada and at Port Arthur, Armstrong and any points east going and returning on tickets issued in Western Canada.

Tickets will be good in coaches but will be honored in tourist sleeping cars on payment of a slight additional passage fare charge for each passenger in addition to tourist car berth rates. The usual baggage allowance will be made as on regular tickets.

This vast tide of travel which will be stimulated by the cent-a-mile excursions, will flow not only from Eastern Canada westwards but from Western Canada to the east. An unusual opportunity for school teachers and students owing to the convenient dates of sale of these tickets, is also presented with a choice of optional routes over the same railway.

The one cent per mile fares are thus not only offering an impressive saving over the regular fares but will provide many with a chance to see those parts of the Dominion which would otherwise be denied them, including such world famous scenic districts as Banff, Lake Louise, Jasper and Minaki, where many excursionists may be able to spend a portion of their time.

Every arrangement has been made by both railways to ensure the smooth operation of this excursion movement and as a development of the local excursion idea, it is expected to prove an equal stimulus to traffic over greater distances.

Lachute Spring Fair, June 13, 14, 15, 16.—Keep talking!

WHAT ARE WE DOING TO PREVENT WAR?

Sometimes I wonder if we are so civilized after all. Observers of world affairs tell us that war is coming. They differ in the number of years to pass before it comes but they are united in the idea that it is inevitable. Others tell us that the means of warfare in the next war are so appalling that they are almost unbelievable. Yet what are we doing to prevent war? It is true we have the League of Nations. It has accomplished some things of minor importance but when it comes to anything big, it fails to function. Just so long as people make money out of armaments, so long will we have war. It is common knowledge that huge sums are spent in propaganda. It is not so long ago that an American brought suit against a steel company for his commission in promoting an abortive peace conference. Those who are in touch with youth in England tell us that there is a great feeling against war among them. They say they are not cowards but they see the uselessness of war and they do not want to fight. The same holds true among our Canadian young men, as it must in any country which is not government-ridden. Part of the trouble is, that those in power who make the decisions are not of fighting age. If they had to proceed immediately into the front ranks they might think differently about it. If women predominated in governments no matter what the country might be, there would be no war. If peace could only be made glamorous! But there are no uniforms, no bands with their exciting music for peace. Peace-time camps where the men in the ranks would be free from all responsibility and where men might enjoy men's companionship, might be a substitute for the pleasant side of war. We grow up idealising War and its heroes. Let the schools place the emphasis on Peace-time heroes for a change. We talk, but what are we actually doing to prevent us from drifting into war?

CANNED GOODS FOR VARIETY

When I happened to remark that I used a good many canned foods, a woman looked down her nose at me as much as to say I was a lazy scut. It certainly is not laziness that prompts me to use canned foods for I seldom use them 'as is'. I use them to give variety to our meals and to make it possible to use more fruits and vegetables. Then there are so many interesting and healthful sea-foods that we inland people cannot get unless we buy them in cans. The sea-foods add to our precious store of iodine, and we are very apt to lack it in our diet; and the fruits and vegetables give us other necessary minerals and vitamins and add to the bulk. I would not replace fresh foods with canned but I do like to make full use of the canned ones.

When a can is opened it need not be used all at once but may do duty for several days in flavouring different dishes. A can of peaches makes two desserts. Try it sliced over a fresh cake with whipped cream on top for a short cake. I like to bake the cake in muffin tins, then cut a circle from the top of each cake, cover with sliced canned peaches, moisten with a little juice, replace the top, cover with whipped cream and garnish with a slice of peach. Two days after I last made that dessert I made a Peach Bavarian Cream. I made an orange jelly using the peach juice as the liquid and adding enough water to make up the quantity. If oranges are in the pantry I like to add the juice and a part of the grated rind of an orange. When the jelly cools and begins to get syrupy, beat with a rotary egg beater, add the cut up peaches and fold in some whipped cream. Taste to see if any more sugar is required.

A can of mushroom soup makes a delicious mushroom sauce and is particularly good poured over veal and cooked in a casserole in the oven. The veal should be browned first in the frying pan and usually it is necessary to add a little extra water. Creamed Clams are a favorite dish with us. There is considerable juice in a can, so I save that and combine it with tomato juice to make an appetising cocktail. A can of asparagus tips will make delicious asparagus rolls and a cream soup may be made with the ends and the juice. The asparagus rolls are made by dipping the asparagus in salad dressing, placing on a slice of bread with the crusts cut off, and rolling up tightly. A little extra butter at the corners makes a good stickem. For a variation from the usual meat, potatoes and vegetables, try doing them all in one dish, some day when you have a cold roast. Grind your meat (lamb will do) into a casserole and season, if you have any gravy use a little of that. Then pour over this a can of vegetable soup. Put a layer of mashed potatoes on top, pop into the oven for a half hour or so and there is your dinner all in one dish. Hurrah from the dishwasher.

Olives may be a luxury but these days when appetites are a bit jaded, they are an appetising addition to other foods. I had a small tea not so long ago and I served olives and radishes. I love that combination, partly because of the color contrast. They were not all used so the next day we had a salad of very finely cut lettuce (this happened to be the outside leaves of a large head lettuce), a few chopped stuffed olives, radishes and a hard-cooked egg. The salad dressing was a boiled one to which I added just a teaspoonful of mayonnaise. The rest of the olives went into some creamed veal and made it a special dish instead of something ordinary. Women really do not need to do puzzles because they can make zig-zag ones of their meals, fitting a piece in here and another bit there until they make a harmonizing whole.

LIME AND MINT JELLY

Add 2 cups boiling water to 1 package lime jelly powder. Let cool until syrupy, then fold in 1 cup whipped cream, ¼ cup crushed after dinner mints and ½ cup crushed canned pineapple. Chill until set in individual moulds or in a large one as desired. Serve on lettuce with whipped cream folded into the salad dressing. Try this at your next party as it is especially good.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it.

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson (address furnished upon request).

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

pression in contrast with many other towns not so well situated and those who have the real qualities possessed by our pioneers will entertain no pessimism nor timidity. The rewards of tomorrow will not come to those who are willing—but to those who have faith and vision and confidence enough to buck the tide.

There is everything to be gained in co-operation and our Board of Trade can be of use in solving problems at times. The great Copper Magnate, Guggenheim, used to say that he believed eight heads (his own and his seven sons) were better than one, and he kept his own family together for defense and offense.

You will pardon me, fellow members, if I have taken the liberty to trace this picture of the past and present conditions in our Commercial World and if I have taken the liberty to pass these comments and suggestions. A pilgrimage in old times sometimes makes us bolder in the new.

I have perhaps imposed upon your generosity in consuming this time in the spirit of that small boy in the country who came in and told his mother that he had set the old brindle hen on two dozen eggs. "Why", she said, "you don't expect her to hatch two dozen, do you?" He replied, "No—but I just wanted the darned old thing to spread herself."

SUPERIOR LEADERS ARE NEEDED TODAY

(Rev. H. D. T. Brosseau)

We are so taken up with the depression and its incidental difficulties that we fail to realize the far more important fact that we are living in a changed world. The depression is only a proof that economically we have failed in our readjustments to this changed world. This failure has been due to a lack of enlightened leadership. Sometimes changes are brought about deliberately; they are then orderly, because fore-planned and directed by the mind of man. Sometimes these changes burst upon him and in the last 25 years, in such rapid succession that human minds, even the minds of our leaders, have not seemed capable of keeping pace, with the result that there has been no control of these changes and no direction given to them. In fact they have not been understood in their far reaching implications, and hence there has been no proper and orderly adaptation of our economic, social and political system to these new conditions. Hence the depression and the threatened collapse of our whole system, economic, political and social.

We have had leadership of sorts. There are, in fact, three kinds of leadership, namely, supine, superficial, and superior leadership. Supine leadership is that condition in which leaders have eternally to be prodded into action—where leaders act only when forced by the pressure of personal interest or popular demand. Those are the selfish leaders. The superficial leaders are convinced that the present system is perfect. They are so busy with routine procedure that they fail to notice the changes that are taking place; those who quietly plod along in their "one horse shay", seemingly and almost blissfully unaware of the rest of the world that is whizzing past them in motor-cars and aeroplanes. These, too, are the senseless leaders. The superior leader is the wide awake and intelligent helmsman who not only sees what is going on but studies the trend of things so as to adapt himself constantly to changing conditions — to direct the changes and control them by orderly re-organization of men, material and method. Men of vision and flare, men of will and work; men of poise and principle; men wholly devoted to a noble cause, ready to sacrifice purse, position and power that the noble cause may triumph.

This kind of leadership is necessary for real success in every field of human endeavor—for the safe guidance of any and every group, be it the family, the club, the municipality, the province, or the nation. This kind of leadership is required for true progress in any phase of human life—intellectual, physical, social, economic or religious. These indeed are the selfless leaders.

As the father must lead the family, cognizant of the differences between two distinct generations, and reconciling the conduct of the home to changed viewpoints and conditions, so must the leader in every phase of activity adapt his guidance to modern conditions.

This applies to a Board of Trade, as it applies to every other organization with the interests of the community at heart. Superior leadership is the only leadership which deserves the name.

In the early pioneers, adaptability was the key-note of their success. In an utterly new world of strange conditions, they fought to adapt their methods, and they produced remarkable results.

To those of the present day a like challenge is offered to pioneers of new thought. For upwards of 5,000 years the world has been striving to produce enough for everyone. We have now reached that stage; and

HUMAN PARADOX

Nature is fond of paradoxes, but her masterpiece of inconsistency is probably Man.

He invents rich and spicy foods and employs expensive cooks to tempt his palate—and then pays expensive doctors to cure him of dyspepsia.

He invents every possible labor saving device to make his life easier—and then has to invent reducing machines, golf, dumb-bells and Indian clubs to take off his weight and give him some exercise.

He appointed a day of rest—and spends it walking around in the hot sun hitting a little golf ball or straining his back over a radish patch. He sets legal holidays for rejoicing and merry-making, and spends them in sleeping off the hangover from the night before.

He invents airplanes so that he may travel among the clouds and submarines so that he may travel under the sea. Yet, when his wife takes the car and he has to walk on the face of the earth, where the Lord intended him to travel, he bitterly resents it.

Yes, Nature certainly turned out some highly finished work when she made the male of the human species.

while some question the use of modern machinery, I say you can't stop invention or the energy and mind of man! Instead of destroying crops and wilfully slaughtering cattle, we must meet the new conditions by intelligent leadership.

Our leaders in family, in organizations, in civic bodies, churches and parliaments, must be men of high principle and unselfish, who recognize the cause as noble, and are willing, if necessary, to sacrifice position and power for the common good. We must meet present times by stepping out boldly to try something new and, if needs be, not afraid to plunge a little in order to re-adapt ourselves to the present-day conditions.

MODERN INDUSTRY IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION

(Mr. M. A. Quinn)

A question much in evidence today is: Does modern industry play a truly constructive part in western civilization? Should not commerce, that is, the urge for trade development, shoulder the grave responsibility for the terrible cataclysms that are the constant result of a grasping nationalism and tyrannical ambition? What element of good has trade contributed to the story of mankind? Especially today are there groups of radically-minded men, often tremendously sincere, who are demanding an answer to such questions.

I would rather say to such critics, "Where would western civilization be had not industry laid a solid foundation upon which our churches, our universities, our homes, our whole social structure could be erected?" It would be foolish to deny that error and dishonesties have been committed, but I think the great balance of fair-minded historians and critics would agree today that industry is a great contributing factor to the progress of humanity. The world of commerce is not made up only of mills and merchandise, of dynamos and lathes. Rather is it the core of civilization upon which our livelihood and existence depend. Binding nation to nation, individual to individual, in a mutual system of confidence and goodwill, which are the roots of successful business, whether the market is internal or international.

History is the constantly repeated story of rise and decline of nations or states, the sum total of which is represented in our present civilization, and we find there that trade and industry have supplied the motive power without which the greatest discoveries, the most beneficial advances, indeed the greater part of the artistic and literary treasures of the world, could not have been made.

For it is not too much to say that civilization followed the caravan of commerce, since the days when the

FEELING IS LARGELY LIVER

Wake Up Your Liver Bile...
Without Calomel, And Feel Like a Million Dollars.

Nothing can put your system out of kilter more quickly than your liver. All it has to do is stop pouring its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels—and life certainly gets grey. That sluggish flow of bile slows up digestion and elimination and makes you "feel punk". Your stomach acts up—gas, bloating, sourness, pain. Your breath is bad and the taste in your mouth is nasty. Your head aches. Skin is blotchy. All, of course, because your system is full of poisons.

Mere bowel movers like salts, oil, mineral water, roughage, laxative candy or chewing gum are not good enough to correct this condition entirely. You're livery and you must wake up your liver bile to be happy again.

Avoid calomel (mercury). The thing for you is a box of Carter's Little Liver Pills. They never upset you because they're purely vegetable, gentle and safe; but how they change your new on life!

Don't waste your money on substitutes. Be definite. Ask for Carter's by name—and get them! Look for the green Carter's on the red label. 25c. at all drug stores.

From this primitive trading first emerged the antiquated guild crafts, then the early domestic industries, followed later by the industrial revolution and finally by the factory system; these are the successive steps of modern business.

Gradually, too, there evolved principles which are the guiding precepts of all truly successful commerce today. People became aware that the masters of industry, in order to maintain the high reputation necessary for continued trading from generation to generation, had shifted their tenets from an attitude of self-defence, in other words, they had made business a thing of morals, and its pursuit a dignified and self-respecting profession.

Antipathy and prejudice were slowly worn down until Schools of Commerce were established in the home of conservatism, the Universities, and gradually the professions were in danger almost of neglect.

It was no longer possible for men to overlook the vital contributions made by industry to civilization. For commerce is the prolific mother of invention, and discovery after discovery was made under its tutelage. The telephone, for instance, once the acme of luxury, is now regarded as an imperative necessity.

Of course, under these impulses, the constant tendency of business was to become infinitely more complicated. Businessmen of today can no longer trade in haughty isolation, and hence we find a general trend towards cohesion and collaboration. Units have combined, mergers have been formed. An example of this modern trend in industry is to be found in Canadian Industries Limited, whose history has been one of constant and careful amalgamation in order to obtain expert production of the commodities which the company places upon the market, stabilizing prices and eliminating distributive wastage. Since these commodities are generally necessary for the basic industries of Canada, such as mining, agriculture, forestry, water power, construction, and so forth, it is fair to say that the modern method of industrialism contributes in an indispensable fashion to prosperity and well-being of the Dominion.

The Oxford Dictionary gives, as one definition of the word Industry, "Habitual employment in useful work." I lay stress upon the word "useful" for there is assuredly no doubt but that the industry realizes today, as never before, its immense power, and that only by using it, not with selfish lack of regard for the man next door, but as the responsible guardian of public welfare, can it play its part in restoring normalcy to a world which is only just recovering from war and post-war economic chaos.
