DIRECTOR OF PROVINCIAL HEALTH DISCUSSES COUNTY UNITS

DR. A. LESSARD BEFORE QUEBEC MUNICIPALITIES

PUBLIC HEALTH VIEWS ON TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. Alphonse Lessard, who directly supervises the Argenteuil Health Unit and similar centres in rural Quebec, spoke on Tuesday before the Quebec Union of Municipalities in convention at St. Hyacinthe.

Dr. Lessard told the convention that he was glad to make his plea to the municipal leaders, since at past conventions he had talked to good purpose, and many municipalities had endeavored to do their utmost towards health betterment. Though he had often talked of the problem of tuberculosis, he felt he should do so again, since the situation was still very serious when it was kept in mind that Quebec's death rate was 98.4 per 100,000 of population, as compared to 40 in the Scandinavian countries and 50 in Ontario. True, there had been progress made here since 1926, yet 2,927 people had died in Quebec of that disease in 1933. This led Dr. Lessard to the matter of living conditions and the need for fresh air.

County Sanitary Units

Unfortunately in too many homes fresh air and the sun were treated as enemies. The fight against tuberculosis was in reality a fight for hygiene and the greatest means towards that end had been the creation of the county sanitary units. When the province was entirely girded with these units it would be able to show as good statistics as other provinces. The conception was now general that tuberculosis was acquired

ARSON AND ATTEMPTED MURDER CHARGED IN PTE. FORTUNE CRIME

Formally committed for trial at L'Orignal on Monday, John A. McKinnon, 27, of Pte. Fortune, faces charges of attempted murder and arson. He will appear at the final Assizes which will start October 22 in L'Orignal. The circumstances, as reported by newspapers closer to the scene of the crime, reveal that McKinnon admitted to having set fire to the residence of John Smith, by throwing a can of ignited gasoline into the two storey frame house, and that he fired shots which wounded Arthur Smith, 20, son of the Smiths, because he was jealous over Eureka Smith, 23, a sister of Arthur, keeping company with another man.

(Circumstances of the shooting as told in these columns last week, were erroneous.)

In giving his story to the police, McKinnon claims he was mentally unbalanced when he went to the Smith home carrying a can of gasoline and a loaded gun.

McKinnon said that he went to the Smith home, a short distance from his own residence, about two o'clock Friday morning. He admitted having thrown a can of ignited gasoline in through the window.

Awakened by the smashing of the window and the crackling of the flames, the Smiths hastened via the rear stairs to the back door of their home. Here McKinnon met them with a volley of shots and Arthur was struck in the neck, the side, the hands and fingers.

Discharge of the gun immediately attracted the attention of nearby residents, who vainly attempted to extinguish the blaze. The Smith home is in complete ruins.

Old Lachute Resident Met Tragic End

BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN MENTALLY DEPRESSED

Thomas Boyd, an old resident of this town, was found dead in the yard of his residence here on Sunday afternoon, with a 38 calibre revolver near at hand. Two neighbors, Messrs. Boa and Lister, were surprised to hear two shots, shortly before noon. Rushing to the rear of the Boyd home, they found the victim lying on his face in the yard, where he had shot himself above the heart.

Mr. Boyd had been employed for some time with the Cottingham Supply Company, but had not been working of late. Although in indifferent health, he had not been seriously indisposed, and had made arrangements to go picking blueberries with a friend on the day he met his death.

An inquest held on Sunday afternoon by Dr. J. H. Mason, district coroner, brought forth a verdict that the victim had met death by his own hand, and no blame was attached to anybody.

Mr. Boyd was sixty-seven years old. He is survived by his second wife, Eliza Muir; he had relatives in the locality and descendants in other parts of Canada. The funeral was held from his late residence on Monday, Rev. H. H. Consens officiating.

MISS GLENYS ANDERSON DIED AT STE. AGATHE

Mingled with deep regret at the passing of Miss Glenys Anderson early Wednesday morning, were feelings of relief in the termination of a long sickness cheerfully and courageously borne. Glenys was the niece of Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon, with whom she had made her home in recent years since the passing of her mother. She died at Ste. Agathe, where she had spent much time during her three years of illness. She was 16 years of age, but despite her youthful years she numbered among her friends numerous local acquaintances besides her associates at the Ste. Agathe Sanatorium. Many had wondered at the radiant and cheery disposition — a quality undiminished by her long confinement, and imparting itself often to those in happier circumstances who had visited her in her sickness.

The funeral, conducted this afternoon by Rev. W. LeCras at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon, was largely attended. Beautiful flowers bore evidence of a wide-felt esteem and sympathy for the bereaved. Glenys is survived by her younger brother, Norman, besides her aunt and uncle (Mr. and Mrs. Deacon) and their three children, who counted her a happy and beloved member of their family.

One of the three victims of the recent explosion at Waverley, N. S., was Joseph Cole of Hudson Heights, explosives demonstrator and expert of the Canadian Industries Limited. A largely attended funeral was held on Monday at Hudson Heights, tribute being paid by numerous friends from Hudson, Rigaud, and Montreal.

taken to Dr. Kelly's hospital, where it was feared that amputation of several digits will be necessary.

According to Constable Lloyd McClure, McKinnon, in admitting the crime, said he had been jealous of Eureka Smith, with whom he had formerly been very friendly. Recently, the accused said, Miss E. Smith had been keeping company with some other person and this angered him.

GOVERNMENT BUILDING ROADS AT GRENVILLE

(By Our Grenville Correspondent)

The Government is improving the village roads here as well as constructing a new road to connect the Montreal - Hull Highway with Chapel Street, starting from Mr. Jas. Ogilvie's corner and proceeding through farms and also removing Mr. J. Stewart's house. Chapel Street is much wider and will be a fine thoroughfare when completed.

Most local unemployed men now have work, either on the roads or in the mills.

The deer hunting season in this section of Quebec is to be limited to a period from October 1st. to November 30th.

SCHOOL PASS LISTS MADE PUBLIC

Among successful candidates in the High School Leaving examinations last month, the following are announced from the Lachute High School, giving the total marks secured out of a possible 1,000:

Wales, Grace B., 805; Ashworth, Harry, 593; Aitkin, Edna, 627; Bridgen, Ronald, R., 704; Cleland, Alison C., 681; Graham, Lloyd A., 619; Lyter, Alexander M., 564; Stewart, Beryl M. M., 622; Weir, Dorothy W., 723; Bates, Mona Z., 636; Craig, Daisy C., 494; MacFarlane, Dorothy A., 473.

Of these, the three last named obtained their certificates by taking supplementary exams. Miss Grace Wales took leading rank among her fellow pupils, and was numbered also among those gaining over 80 percent of possible marks.

Leader in the 1,504 entrants this year was a Mount Royal H. S. scholar. Of the 1,362 regular candidates in the province for School Leaving certificates, it was reported over 70 percent had been successful.

TYNDALE CAMP DOES EXCELLENT WORK

MANY ENTERTAINED AT SUMMER SETTLEMENT

Nearly seventy of Montreal's population, including mothers, girls and boys, were reported to be enjoying residence at Tyndale Camp, near St. Andrews East, last week. The camp is operated through the efforts of the Presbyterian Church in Montreal, and the number of persons taken to the retreat during the summer months will reach into the hundreds.

The Rev. Dr. A. S. Reid, secretary of the Montreal and Ottawa Synod, visiting this camp named after the scholar, John Tyndall, of Bible translation fame, reported that the guests, some of the city's less privileged citizens, were delighted with their surroundings and trying to forget the fact that they would have to return soon to Montreal and give place to another group due for a summer holiday under canvas.

Tyndale Camp, at Isle aux Chats on the North River, is organized by the staff of the Presbyterian Mission on Seigneurs St. and had been in existence since 1929, the purpose being to give a real holiday to the women and children in the neighborhood of the Mission by taking them up to the camp in groups for ten-day periods throughout the summer months. The Mission carries out its programme of services and meetings during the rest of the year at the settlement house.

LACHUTE FORD SALES-MAN TOOK PRIZE

Good Record at Local Sales Depot

The season's count to date at Geo. Y. Deacon's Ford Sales, Lachute, is no fewer than 77 new Ford cars and 115 used models sold. This upturn in sales is in keeping with the general improvement noticed this year in the automobile industry.

Mr. George Graham, as head Ford salesman for the local establishment, took a high count in the June records for this section of Quebec, for which he received second prize awarded by the company, a handsome engraved silver cigarette case. The competition is based on the number of new Fords sold during each month.

TOWN LADY WIDELY MOURNED

There passed away on Monday, July 29th., at the home of her son-in-law Mr. Leonard Boyd, Lachute, Mary Hill Brown (Minnie), beloved wife of the late William J. Cleland, who predeceased her only two months ago.

She was born at St. Louis, Que., and was in her 69th year. She leaves to mourn her loss four brothers, Robert of Martintown; Edmund, of St. Andrews East; David of Los Angeles, Cal., and Scott of Montreal; two sons, James of Regina, Sask., Dawson of Aurora, Ill., and one daughter (Hilda) Mrs. Leonard Boyd.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from the home of her daughter, and thence to Lachute Cemetery. In the absence of Rev. W. B. Rosborough, the service was conducted by Rev. Jno. Macaskill of St. Andrews East, assisted by the Rev. Albert Cleland of Norwood, Ont.

The pall-bearers were — two brothers, Messrs. Ed and Scott Brown, three nephews, Ross and Clarence Brown and Gordon Smith, and a cousin, Mr. John Rice. The large attendance and floral tributes bore testimony to the high esteem in which Mrs. Cleland was held.

HEPBURN SLASHES RELIEF LISTS IN ONTARIO

SINGLE MEN MUST WORK ON FARMS

The reluctance of unemployed in Ontario to accept farm jobs, many of which are being offered with no response from those on relief, has resulted in a curtailment of the dole to all physically fit single men in the province, on instructions of Premier Mitchell Hepburn. The order becomes effective today.

With farmers clamoring for help, said the Premier, there was no need to feed able-bodied single men from the public purse. "We are going to compel single men to go out and take farm work. After the harvest is over we will reconsider our action, but until then relief stops for single men."

"We are satisfied that many relief recipients are seeking lives of idleness rather than usefulness," said the Premier, "and the province cannot stand the drain of relief expenditures. It is costing us well over $3,000,000 monthly."

The Premier estimated there were 15,000 single unemployed men on relief in the province in addition to about 25,000 single men living at home and receiving relief through the heads of their families.

Among single unemployed men living in hostels were many physically unable to work and these would remain on relief, he said.

Neck Broken in Fall From Hayload

TWO LADS INJURED IN MISHAP AT MABEL

Despite the seriousness of his injuries, hope is entertained for the recovery of Fred Pollard, 13 years of age, of Montreal, who broke his neck in falling from a load of hay last Thursday, at the farm of Mr. Archie Murdoch, Mabel. His 14 year-old friend, Clayton Lee, of Verdun, who was spending the summer with Pollard at the Murdoch home, also sustained a fracture of the arm above the wrist.

It is learned that the two lads were playing on the loaded wagon when the team of horses started, throwing them backwards to the ground. Dr. J. H. Mason was summoned from Lachute to render assistance, and Pollard was removed to the Royal Victoria Hospital where it was found that his neck was fractured. Latest reports indicate he may recover. Young Lee remained on the farm, and is making good progress.

At the Annual Convention of the Weekly Newspapers Association, held last week in Toronto, the Lachute Watchman received honorable mention for weekly papers of its class entered in competition.

THE WHEAT SITUATION EXPLAINED

The following short essay on "Wheat" — author anonymous — rather neatly summarizes a situation only too familiar to many of our readers. We pass it on in the hope that, even if it only confirms their experiences in trying to guess the probable course of the market, the humour may provoke a momentary smile.

"Wheat, it appears, is a seed that is planted and grown to keep the producer broke and the buyer crazy. It is planted in the Spring, mortgaged in the Summer and lost in the Fall. Its quality varies according to the amount of rain or frost experienced during the growing season. A man who can guess nearest to this quality is called a Wheat Grader by the public and a Gosh Darn Fool by the farmer. The price of wheat is determined at primary markets and goes down when one has bought and up when one has sold."

All this reminds us of the story of the buyer who, working for a group of millers in Eastern Canada, went West to watch the wheat market. After a few days of deliberation he wired his principals to this effect:

"Some think wheat will go down, and some think it will go up. I think so too. Whatever you do will be wrong. Act at once."

PHOTOGRAPH CAUSE OF DIVORCE ACTION

When the wife of a doctor at Carlsbad went to a photographer's shop to collect some films that were being developed for her, she was asked if she would like to take some prints from a film belonging to her husband. Now, as a result, she has instituted proceedings for divorce. The prints showed her husband with another woman. The doctor is now suing the photographer for the costs of the case, and for whatever alimony he may be called upon to pay. He claims the photographer's breach of professional confidence is responsible for all the trouble.

STATEMENT OF FACTS ON LIQUOR REFERENDUM IN WENTWORTH

CORRESPONDENCE

OPEN LETTER TO RATE-PAYERS OF TOWNSHIP

Editor, July 27th., 1935. The Watchman,

Dear Sir:—

Would you kindly publish in your paper, "The Watchman," the enclosed open letter to the ratepayers of the Township of Wentworth.

Owing to the fact that there seems to be some misunderstanding among the ratepayers of the Township in regard to the real facts that brought about the recent referendum held in the Township, I am taking the opportunity of laying the facts before them.

During the late fall of last year a number of ratepayers in the district of Montfort asked me to try to have the license of the Montfort Hotel cancelled by the Liquor Commission owing to the fact that the Hotel did not come up to the legal requirements demanded by law and the proprietor (who by the way pays neither Municipal or School tax but rents a property in Montfort) was keeping open house at all hours and could not at the time give decent accommodation to tourists and travellers and was practically running a Saloon, not a Hotel.

On my application being made to the Quebec Liquor Commission the license was cancelled, but the proprietor with the help of the influence of the local organizer (who by the way is a Montrealer—has the County of Argenteuil not enough prominent Liberals without importing them from Montreal?) the li-

READER THROWS LIGHT ON THE ENDURANCE OF LOCAL MILITIA MEN

THE GOOD OLD DAYS!

Editor, Watchman:

Dear Sir:

A short time ago, while looking over some old papers and letters, I found a letter dated 1826 which may prove of interest to your readers. It is a military order calling the militia men of this district to march to St. Andrews to meet His Excellency, the Earl of Dalhousie, Governor in Chief of the Province of Canada, and to be inspected by His Excellency.

On studying it over I could not help thinking that the men of that day must have possessed great powers of endurance in order to stand all the marching and drilling required of them in one short morning. They were to assemble at their Companies' parade ground and then march with military equipment to St. Andrews and be on hand there for ten o'clock.

Now, just consider what this implies. They would have to come out from Lakefield, the Gore, Mille Isles, Arundel, etc., as well as Lachute, march to St. Andrews and be on hand there at ten o'clock. Then they would have to go through all the drill and manoeuvres required for inspection. And, besides all this they would have to return home the same afternoon.

Truly, they must have been very robust and of great endurance in those days to stand all that. And remember, too, there were no buses or taxis in those days.

Then again, those men would have to be up and finished with breakfast by four or five in the morning in order to do all that marching in time. Certainly the following is a good stiff bit of literature —

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

It's Camp-Fire Picture Time

"Keep a Picture Story of Your Camp-fire Parties"

DURING these fine summer days just about everybody, it seems, wants to take advantage of every opportunity to get out to the country, the lake or seashore for camping, marshmallow roasts, corn roasts, clam bakes, beach parties and what have you.

Taking pictures at night around the camp fire is a lot of fun and the results pleasing and out of the ordinary. Since the introduction of the Photoflash lamp there has been a tremendous interest in camp-fire pictures for this lamp is so simple to operate. The Photoflash lamp is similar in appearance to a common electric bulb and can be screwed into a special holder resembling an ordinary hand flash-light tube. These holders are very inexpensive and can be purchased at almost any store selling photographic supplies. The flash is set off by pressing the flash button and it gives an intense light without any noise or smoke.

This is how you take a camp-fire picture. The people should be grouped as close to the fire as comfort will permit. The arrangement of the group can be viewed in the finder of the camera by having someone hold a pocket flash-light or fire-brand at each side of the scene. This will indicate just what and who are included in the picture.

And let me warn you—be sure you have everybody in full view in your finder. Otherwise you may find the decapitated body of a dear friend appearing in the finished print.

It is well not to have the fire too bright, nor yet allow it to die down to embers when the picture is made.

With the camera resting on a tripod or firm support, set it at stop f.8 or U.S. 4, open the shutter, and set off the flash bulb and then be sure to close the shutter immediately. When using the Photoflash bulb hold it to one side of the camera, and slightly behind it. The latter position prevents possibility of lens flare from the flash. Here's one simple precaution:—see that the camera is placed where possible smoke from the fire may not be blown towards the lens or between it and the subjects.

Remember too it is not necessary to own an expensive camera to take camp-fire pictures at night. You can take such pictures—and good ones—with a box camera by using the largest stop.

So if you are planning on an outdoor party at night over this weekend, or a camping trip, be sure to be prepared to take some fascinating Photoflash pictures. Here's wishing you a lot of fun and good pictures.

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN, PAID $1 FOR TOWEL

Railway towels come high, especially when a traveller's conscience pricks him for appropriating one. F. J. Buller, Treasurer, Central Region, Canadian National Railways, received the following letter:

"Some years ago I took a small towel from a C. N. R. sleeping car, when going to Winnipeg. I now enclose one

A LITTLE CITY GIRL'S COMPLAINT

I am going to the country, but I don't expect to sleep. They have such funny noises 'mongst the cattle, and the sheep—

And loudly, loudly the wind blows down

Grandpa Johnston's chimney.

The 'skeetoes and the katydids keep humming all the time Right through the night until it sounds

Just like a little rhyme—

As loudly, loudly the wind blows down

Grandpa Johnston's chimney.

I lie awake and watch the clouds

Playing hidey with the moon, As she peeps into the window of my little attic room—

As loudly, loudly the wind blows down

Grandpa Johnston's chimney.

My grannie says I am fanciful, when she hears me say That fairies come from out the woods

And dance 'till break of day Outside my window on the lawn And keep me wakened all night long—

As loudly, loudly the wind blows down

Grandpa Johnston's chimney.

SEA SHELLS

Lulu was playing with her shells on the beach, counting them over and over in a sing-song sort of chant—"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven—eight, nine, ten, and just eleven. One shell more and I'll have a dozen, then I shall laugh at Betty's cousin." Betty's cousin was an imaginary person whom Lulu had thought of just to make her little song rhyme. She sang it softly over and over until her mother, who had been reading quite close by her small daughter, said, "Why Lulu, I do believe you have sung Babs to sleep. I shall have to take her to the cottage and put her in her crib."

Lulu stopped singing to look at her wee sister lying asleep on the rug at her mother's feet, and thought of the many times she had tried, oh so hard, to sing her to sleep when mother was busy so that she might be able to run out and swing underneath the tree. She could not do that when Babs was around, as Babs might toddle under the swing and get hurt. Babs never would go to sleep for her when she wanted. Now, when she did not want her to sleep, she was sleeping. If mother was going to the cottage she would have to go too, "Oh dear!"

"Come, Lulu," said her mother as she gathered up her magazines, lifted Babs and started for the cottage. "Bring the rug for Mother please."

"Oh, Mother," begged Lulu, "I want to get just one more shell, a big big one; these are so tiny. Can't I wait just a little longer? I'll bring the rug in then. Please Mother. If you let me stay just a little longer I may find a pixie shell." "A pixie shell, child—what kind of a shell is that? I have never heard of a shell of that sort."

Lulu laughed—a queer little cackling laugh. "Of course you did not, Mother, I named it that myself. May Adams found one the other day that reminded me so much of the little pixie in Aunt Jane's garden that I called it a pixie shell and I've been longing to find one like it ever since I saw May's shell. Please let me stay, Mother, I won't be too long?"

Mother, looking into her little girl's eager eyes, hesitated. "I have never left you alone by the sea before, Lulu, but if you are sure you will not forget to come in very soon, you may stay for a few minutes—but not for very long."

"Oooh! you darling" said Lulu, giving her mother a fierce hug, "I won't forget."

Sitting down she started singing, "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven—" then suddenly she stopped; a new thought had come to her mind. Why should she sit just in the one place? Why not race over to that big rock. Perhaps she would find a pixie shell over there. In a moment her little sun-tanned feet were scampering over the beach while the shells which she had gathered up in her tiny skirt clattered and clashed together.

The rock was farther away than she had thought, and she was tired and hot when at last she reached it. She leaned against its rough sides panting, for a few moments, before she noticed something creamy white on a shelf in the rock. She scrambled up to see what it was "Oooh!" she shrieked, "a pixie shell, a pixie shell, and heaps and heaps of other shells." Sweeping them to one side with her tiny hands she lifted the pixie shell to a narrow ledge still higher up and curled up on the shelf in the rock.

"This rock has a 'normous lap," she giggled, "just made for little girls, I guess. And here's a sing-song shell too." Picking it up she held it to her ear so that she might listen to its purring song. The wind played hide and seek with her curls and tickled her little bare toes as she sat listening, listening, until the pixie shell on the narrow ledge opposite, turned into the pixie in Aunt Jane's garden and sang warningly in her ear,

"Listen not to the song of the sea, It is a traitor and beckons thee. List not to its song, lest you stay here too long—Flee, little Lulu, flee, flee, flee." Lulu wanted to obey the pixie, but she was just too tired, and her eyelids were so heavy that she could not lift them. So she cuddled down still further in the rock's 'normous lap and slept just as soundly as Babs was sleeping in her little cot in the cottage.

It was some time later when Lulu's mother awoke from her nap to find that there was no little girl on the swing under the big elm. She looked in all of the corners where Lulu usually played, but did not find her. The tide was coming in and had covered the beach where she and the children had been sitting in the afternoon. All that could be seen of it was a queer-looking brown lump, which she found was the rug which Lulu had tossed into a heap before running to the rock. The water had not quite covered it. Jerking it up out of the water she looked where it had lain in great fear, but Lulu was not underneath it. Where could the child be? Running to the coast-guard's cottage she asked if they had seen Lulu, only to be told "No."

Alarmed, she begged the coast-guard to find her little girl, and he rather solemnly replied, "I will, Ma'am, if she is to be found." Telling his son to go in the opposite direction and search the beach, the coast-guard set out to seek in the direction of the rock, while Betty's mother stood calling and calling, "Lu-lu, Lu-lu, where are you, dear?" her voice almost choked with frightened sobs. The coast-guard passed right

Thrill Seekers to Have Their Innings

Automobile Races Two Afternoons at Ottawa Exhibition Creator and His Band Daily.

Thrill seekers will have their innings at the Ottawa exhibition from Aug. 19 to Aug. 24, inclusive. For the last two afternoons of the week Hankinson Speedway of New York will present a six-event automobile racing program under the sanction of the contest board of the American Automobile Association.

Twenty or more drivers, representing the cream of the crop of foremost speed talent, will take part in the program which has been definitely linked with two championship circuit 1935 contests. The first titular honors will be awarded for the eastern district by the A.A.A., while the second, the Hankinson circuit championship, involves a much wider territory and brings to the winning driver the most coveted of all diadem awards annually.

The Hankinson organization, headed by Ralph A. Hankinson, silver thatched veteran, is the oldest and largest promotional company in America sponsoring recognized automobile races, and this year is observing its silver anniversary. Hankinson activities this year extend from Ottawa to Florida, and from the Atlantic sea-board to the Mississippi river. The wide scope of activities makes possible the securing of the best drivers in the country and brings assurance of keen rivalry in every event. Last year's races showed that the Ottawa track is safe and fast, and several improvements have been made to enhance the races for this year.

For the first four days of the week there will be horse races in addition to the program of high-class vaudeville offerings, replete with thrills and novelty.

A hundred and one other attractions will be featured.

by the rock in his hurry to reach a little cave where children playing were often trapped by the tide, and it was not until he was coming back that he noticed something pink fluttering in the wind on the shelf in the rock, and waded out to see what it was. There was Lulu, still soundly sleeping, with the sing-song shell clutched in one hand and the pixie shell in her lap. The wind had blown it there while the greedy waves reached up higher and higher, and in a short while would have reached Lulu as she lay asleep. Lifting her gently the coast-guard carried her to her mother, who was terrified to see her little daughter lying so still in his arms. "She is only asleep, Ma'am, but she had a narrow escape. I found her on a ledge of that big rock. This tiny pink skirt fluttering in the wind was what saved her. I caught sight of that and went to see what it was."

Betty was quite surprised and startled when she awakened on the couch in the cottage and heard that she had been almost drowned; and while she still loves sea shells she never asks to stay behind when her mother leaves the beach. She remembers the pixie's song and obeys it.

The Forty-ninth Parallel

"Fifty-four forty or fight" was the bellicose slogan which won the presidential elections of 1844. But fortunately President Polk's actions in the settlement of the dispute over the sovereignty of the Oregon Territory were more moderate than the words which had served him so well in the campaign. For some years peaceful negotiations continued. And in June, 1846, Great Britain and the United States agreed to divide the Pacific coast area, hitherto occupied jointly, by extending the 49th.

parallel boundary past the mountains to the western sea. Had the American claim as far north as 54° 40', the southern limit of Alaska, prevailed, Canada would have had no province of British Columbia to-day.

Under the Treaty of 1846 a joint commission, headed by Archibald Campbell for the United States and Colonel J. S. Hawkins for Great Britain, carried on field operations until 1862. To trace and mark the boundary through that mountainous, forested and unpeopled region was a formidable task. Cairns were erected and vistas cut in the woods at many points. And where the new frontier reached the sea a substantial monument was built which still stands as a landmark to commemorate the peaceful settlement of one of the most contentious boundary disputes in North American history.

The work of the Campbell-Hawkins commission had an amazing sequel. When towards the end of the century settlers began to flock into the border country they applied to their respective Governments for information as to the exact location of the boundary. It developed that the report of the commission had not been printed and neither in Washington nor in London could the original copies be found! It appeared as if the expensive and painstaking work of years had been wasted. By the merest chance a Canadian official stumbled upon the British copy of the manuscript, buried in the dust of decades in the Greenwich Observatory. This greatly lightened the task of a new field party which completed a permanent marking of the border in 1907.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR SUMMER RESIDENTS

Ottawa.—In addition to the large movement of automobile tourists who visit Canada each year, thousands maintain summer cottages in the Dominion. It is estimated that 30,000 people from the United States have summer residences along the Canadian shore of Lake Erie and the Niagara River alone. In keeping with the policy of the Canadian Government to facilitate the movement of automobile tourist traffic, customs regulations amendments have been made for the benefit of prospective summer residents.

The regulations provide for the admission of furniture and household effects free of duty and taxes, as in the case of settlers' effects, when brought in on their first arrival by non-residents of this country for use in furnishing summer cottages owned by them here, provided such effects have been owned by them for at least six months prior to arrival. This concession will be of particular interest to those non-residents who are constructing, or may hereafter build summer residences throughout Canada, but more particularly at such well known resorts as St. Stephen, Lucerne, the Thousand Islands, Muskoka, and in the Rockies.

It is felt that as the Canadian investments of summer residents who build their own cottages here is, in many cases, greater than that of the average settler, the summer resident should receive equal privileges with the permanent settler with regard to the importation of his effects at the time of his first arrival. Any goods imported after first arrival, for the permanent equipment of the summer home, or new goods imported are subject to duty.

The temporary visitor to Canada who resides in leased or rented premises will still enjoy the privileges of the importation of household effects on deposit, such deposit to be subject to refund on exportation within eight months from the date of importation.

CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM

The statement to the press made by Mr. Bennett on July 11 clarifies the muddled political situation to some extent. At least the voters know now where the Conservative Party stands.

"Our constitution must be reformed and amended if we are to be in a position adequately to deal with many problems that have arisen during the past few years," the Prime Minister said; and again: "No substantial advance can be made without amending the constitution."

That's plain enough. Too, it is consistent with Mr. Bennett's stand in the House of Commons during the last session. When Mr. Stevens urged that the reform legislation brought down did not go far enough, and Mr. King was fearful that it went too far, Mr. Bennett maintained steadfastly, backed by the opinions of the Government's legal advisors, that the reform programme outlined in his radio addresses was implemented in the legislation introduced, just so far as that programme could legally be implemented, under the British North America Act, and no farther.

"I am for reform!" Mr. Bennett said in his first radio speech last January. His brief statement indicates that now, in July, he is more than ever for reform. He wishes now to reform the Constitution, in order that he may legally and in orderly manner reform social and economic evils that have developed during the past twenty years.

SAY IT QUICKLY—98 MILLIONS!

Twenty-four years ago, Quebec collected $49,026 from registration fees on motor vehicles. Last year, the amount had increased to $5,257,755, but the peak of the collections was reached in 1930, when $5,490,611 was collected from this source alone.

In addition to registration fees, gasoline taxation came into effect in 1924, in which year, with a tax of two cents per gallon, $66,398 was collected. The tax was raised to three cents per gallon in 1925 when collections jumped to $1,012,003. A further increase occurred in 1928 and the province collected five cents per gallon.

Last year, with a tax of six cents per gallon $5,127,488 was poured into the provincial treasury by motorists on their purchases of gasoline, and in a space of twelve years, $37,648,526 has been collected in gasoline taxation. Aggregate collections for registration fees ($61,144,951) and gas tax ($37,648,526) have amounted to $98,793,477 since 1911 and 1923 respectively.

Gen. Van Horne has stated that the Canadian Pacific line will be completed by Oct. 1 across the Rocky Mountains, which will give rail communications from Halifax, N. S., to Vancouver, B. C.

Mr. S. MacKimmie, of Lachute, is converting his carpenter shop into a dwelling house.

Indignant French Canadians in Ottawa held a meeting to protest against the hanging of Riel in effigy on Wellington Street during the procession in honor of the Ottawa Sharpshooters.

Mr. George L. Moir, marble worker, is now permanently located in his new building on the Burroughs property, Main Street. In the rear Mr. Campbell has a window blind factory, which is worth seeing.

Riel's trial is now on at Regina. From evidence to date there is every probability of his being found guilty.

Geo. McKeever, shot by Indians on the Saskatchewan River, is still living but his recovery is doubtful. Numerous bands of marauding Indians are said to be roaming the prairies.

Death—At Rivington, on July 28, 1910, Donald McIntosh, postmaster, aged 73.

A meeting of the "Clans" was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Milan, Grenville, being a re-union of the different outlying districts connected with St. Mungo. The C. & G. train left Carillon at 7 p.m., stopping at every cross-road and reaching the social grounds at 8 p.m. with three hundred aboard. Rev. James Fraser presided.

THE MUD IS FLYING

W. A. Fraser, M.P. for Northumberland, in denouncing Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstruction Party leader, as a "political hypocrite" and "economic illiterate," displays a lack of discretion which the Liberals can scarcely be proud of.

A local exchange flying under Liberal colors also suggests that Stevens is offering reconstruction to remedy the destruction which he and his colleagues have brought about.

If Liberal firebrands have no sounder arguments to offer, they might better hold their peace and place their trust in the gods of the ballot box. They can serve no constructive purpose by reviling men of sound and honest intentions like Hon. Mr. Stevens, who has taken his lead only in response to the public demand for reform.

UNEMPLOYED IN BRITAIN LOWEST IN FIVE YEARS

It was announced last month that the number of Britain's jobless had reached the lowest level in five years, during June, and that more persons now are working than at any time records have been kept during the last 14 years.

Having fallen nearly 45,000 in the past month, the jobless just exceed by 110 the figure of 2,000,000 which the Government has been aiming to reach since the worst days of the industrial depression. The figures given were 1,555,184 wholly unemployed, 361,325 temporarily stopped and 83,101 with casual employment.

NO UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM IN RUSSIA

The International Labor Organization, in its June News Bulletin, reports that relief payments to the unemployed have been discontinued in the Soviet Union, there being no unemployment problem in Russia. The rapid industrialization of the country has created a great volume of employment, the number of wage-earners having increased from 12,167,900 in 1929 to 23,225,000 in 1934. Another important development is the general introduction of payment by results, which implies an abandonment of equality of incomes. Attention is being concentrated upon increasing the production of goods, whereas in the first five-year period, the principal effort was devoted to the creation of means of production.

Skating Old Sport

There are references to skating in the old Norse legends of Iceland, and in many of the early books of continental Europe. In England in the Twelfth century, skates were made from the brisket bone of an ox and fastened by pieces of leather to the soles of the wearer's boots. Thrusting a stick into the ice helped the skater move forward. An iron runner in a wooden frame was first used in the Fourteenth century, and this gradually developed into the steel skates.

The Ottawa Spotlight

A Weekly Review of National Affairs
Specially written for The Watchman

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, July 30.—Japan and Canada have declared trade war on one another after weeks of negotiations. Japan has applied a 50 per cent surtax on ten leading articles of Canadian produce. Canada replied with renunciation of the 1911 treaty and a 33 1/3 per cent surtax ad valorem on all Japanese goods entered for customs after August 5th.

Japan was Canada's fourth best customer in 1934. Only the United Kingdom, the United States and the Netherlands bought a larger quantity of Canadian produce.

Japan is tenth on the list of the countries from which Canada buys imports. Last year the ratio was about $4. to $1. in Canada's favor.

Japan buying about $16,000,000 of Canadian wheat, lumber, fish, metals and other products while Canada was buying $4,000,000 in Japanese silks, toys, cutlery and other goods.

These are Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures. It is stated by trade experts that the balance of trade is not quite so heavy in Canada's favor as appears on the surface. Considerable quantities of silk enter Canada from Japan via the United States it is said.

THE CHIEF SUFFERERS

The chief sufferers from this trade war will, presumably, be the wheat farmers, the lumber, paper and pulp exporters of Canada, and the consumers of these commodities in Japan, who will have to turn elsewhere for their supplies of these goods, or pay the Japanese surtax.

There are two sides to the story, and both will be given here: but it seems highly unfortunate that at a time when all markets for our export commodities were so gravely needed, trade conflict should have broken out.

A. O. Dawson, general manager of the Dominion Textiles, says that every textile mill in Canada would have had to close down if the Japanese requests had been granted.

The general public do not seem to have been aware that due to the Canadian currency dump duties, tariff rates of 100, 200 and 300 per cent were being paid on entries of goods from Japan. I have never seen this fact given prominence until the other day, when a Toronto paper reported the various duties on a shipment of two bales of silk from Japan, which cost $550. or so, and on which the total duties were $1,800.

Of course those who study trade and tariffs at Ottawa knew that the currency dump duty worked out at a very high rate. It comes as something of a shock to know that we were collecting as much as 325 per cent duty on shipments of silk.

The ordinary duty on Japanese silk is 45 per cent ad valorem plus 10 cents a yard. The silk shipment mentioned above was worth about eight cents a yard, invoice price. So, without the currency dump, the total duty on that shipment would have been about 14 cents a yard. A duty of 14 cents a yard on silk worth eight cents a yard seems to the average buyer quite enough, without a dump duty which adds as much again.

Japan had two grievances against Canada. One was that we were charging duties running up to 200 per cent and more. The other was that we were buying only one dollar's worth of Japanese goods for every four Japan was buying from Canada.

On the Canadian side it should be said that the Bennett government, after considerable negotiation, did offer to moderate the currency dump duty. The exact basis of the alterations doesn't matter here. The reduction was to be effective for all countries with depreciated currencies. The detail of the discussions has not been made public, but evidently the Japanese were not satisfied with the offer. Expecting to speed up the parley, they issued an ultimatum, that unless the currency dump duties were taken off entirely a surtax would be applied. Mr. Bennett is not the sort of man to tremble at Japanese ultimatums, with the result that the currency dump duty stayed on, and, when the Japanese government acted, some more duties went on also. It almost taxes the imagination what the duty on a shipment of Japanese silk must be by now, with the surtax added to all the other duties. It also goes without saying that with all the taxes piled on taxes the trade between the two countries is due to take a tumble almost at once. British Columbia will be the most direct sufferer from the loss.

The P. E. I. results came with a sickening thud to the government at Ottawa. The Bennett ministry has taken plenty of tough blows in its term of office, but this was one of the worst.

The middle of September is still the popular date for a general election, but no indication of any kind has yet come from Conservative headquarters.

FACTS ON LIQUOR REFERENDUM IN WENTWORTH

ense was renewed and the hotel again was wide open Sunday, election day, and at any time.

After several attempts to have the license permanently cancelled had failed, the ratepayers of the Montfort District applied to the council to have a referendum held in the township and as more than the number required by law signed the petition the council could not refuse the demand.

The local organizer who always travels via Montfort to his property in the district for some unknown reason travelled by way of Laurel and failed to find his name on the voters list at the Laurel Poll; he went to Montfort and without waiting to ask for any explanation used threats and abuse and created a disturbance that were unbecoming to a man of his education and position as one of the organizers of the Liberal party in the County of Argenteuil.

During my terms of office as Councillor and Mayor of the township of Wentworth I have always endeavored to give fair play to all the ratepayers in the township, politics have never interfered with municipal business.

Thanking you for your courtesy in giving me the opportunity of placing these facts before the ratepayers of the Township of Wentworth.

Yours truly,

in youth, the youthful body being impregnated with tubercular poison, there being lack of resistance to the infection, and, therefore it was logical to urge that childhood be protected against the scourge. But, asked Dr. Lessard, how could the slum child be protected, lacking air, proper and sufficient food and with only the streets as playgrounds? The situation was such as to emphasize the importance of the placement of children, living in improper health surroundings, with healthy families and in healthful surroundings. This service had been organized by the Provincial Health Bureau in 1929. Children were taken from surroundings where they were exposed to contagion and placed with farmers. Experience in France had shown the benefits of this placement system, the figures in that country showing that children of the slums, whose parents were tubercular in many instances, were liable to infection up to 60 p.c. and died of the disease up to 40 per cent, whereas when the children, while still unaffected, were transferred to proper surroundings the chances of death by tuberculosis were cut down to one per cent.

"If the means at the disposal of our service permitted us to make the system of placement universal in the province, the problem of tuberculosis in Quebec would be settled in one generation," declared Dr. Lessard. "Since 1919 close to 1,000 children have been taken from the populous and poor districts of Montreal, Quebec, Three Rivers and Shawinigan to benefit under this system. It is only the reduction of our budget that has restrained our activities in that direction. With improvement in financial conditions we will certainly increase the number of these children, who after going to the country have only the desire of remaining there. If we could apply the system to all children who are in contact with tubercular people, within relatively few years the victory would be complete in the fight against tuberculosis."

However, said Dr. Lessard, what could not be done on a big scale could be done on a smaller scale, and a means towards the end was to organize summer colonies for children of congested districts. In various parts of the province there were tent colonies established. The movement was quite recent in the province, though in France, England and Germany such summer colonies had been in vogue for more than half a century and were becoming more and more general.

These summer colonies in Europe had proven to be one of the best means of prevention. A child living in slum conditions was a candidate for tuberculosis, especially in the heat of summer.

Church Parade Held at Louisa

Headed by the Brownsburg O.Y.B. Lodge, No. 417, and attended by many members of Loyal Orange and L.O.B.A. lodges throughout the county, the annual church parade and divine service of L.O.L., No. 717 was held on Sunday last at 3 p.m. at St. Aidan's Church, Louisa. The speaker was the Right Worshipful Grand Master of Quebec, Rev. W. J. H. Lummis of Morin Heights, who delivered a most able and appropriate address, using as his text "Ye shall be Witnesses". He was assisted by the Rector, Rev. C. W. P. Baugh. Special hymns were sung, accompanied by Mrs. Baugh at the organ.

On the return to their Lodge the master of L.O.L., No. 717 thanked the sisters and brethren for joining with them, and they also listened to a few short remarks from distinguished visitors. Among the many visitors present were W. H. Brady, D.G.M., and L. W. James, Grand Secretary of Montreal.

REGATTA AT LAKE LOUISA

The Annual Regatta at Lake Louisa, which takes place this Saturday, Aug. 3rd., is being eagerly looked forward to by both young and old. A splendid program of varied aquatic events has been arranged, and it is hoped that a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity of having a good day's fun. There will be fireworks and a bonfire at night and a hearty invitation is extended to all.

Ste. Anastasie Tombola in Progress This Week

The festival of Ste. Anastasie Church grounds, although interrupted by inclement weather, has drawn big crowds during the evenings of this week, and proceeds are proving gratifying to Rev. Father Labelle and those who have put wholehearted effort into the venture. The tombola is being held in aid of the parish funds, with a construction of a fine new church in view at a future date.

The grounds have presented a festive appearance, with booths and amusements attracting enthusiastic patrons. The function continues this evening under management of the Knights of Columbus. Last night's session was supervised by young ladies of the church, and Monday evening by the married ladies. Tuesday's program was postponed on account of the rain. Lachute Brass Band is rendering valuable assistance, the general atmosphere being livened with musical entertainment.

The Late John S. Clunie

The death of John S. Clunie occurred at the Montreal General Hospital on Wednesday, July 31st.

Mr. Clunie was born in 1856 at St. Martins, Que., and came to Lachute with his parents when only twelve years of age. He worked here for a number of years, and in 1874 moved to Montreal where he occupied a position as book-keeper and accountant for 60 years. Until his recent illness he had enjoyed splendid health and had only retired two years ago.

He was a member of Mount Mariah Lodge, No. 38, A. F. & A. M., Montreal, for over 50 years, was a life member, and served as Master in 1889.

There remain to mourn his loss one brother, Dr. Geo. A. Clunie, and two sisters, Mrs. Wm. Hay, and Mrs. Geo. Hay, all of Lachute.

The funeral was held from the home of his brother on Thursday, service being conducted by the Rev. W. LeCras. Interment was made at St. Andrews East Cemetery.

MEDICAL INSPECTION

If there is not medical inspection in your school have your family doctor go over your child before he starts to school for the first time. When our son had his last medical inspection I went over to the school and had a chat with the doctor. It was heartening to meet anyone who was as enthusiastic about his work as he was. It is amazing the number of minor things they find to correct. Children who appeared to be in the pink of condition have defects that if caught in time can save serious trouble. The doctor has a card for each child in the school and if he changes schools his card goes with him. On one side was the academic report and on the other the medical history. There were things on that card that I had forgotten all about. For instance he asked about the ears. I had completely forgotten about an ear condition which was serious at the time but cleared up completely. But the doctor did not forget. It was there in black and white and because of it his ears were most thoroughly inspected. Governments can get money to cure things but they seem to find it difficult to provide money for prevention. It would take only a fraction of the money that is spent in hospitals and institutions of various sorts to prevent much of the trouble. The attitude of the Medical Schools is partly to blame as until recently the emphasis has been placed on curing and not on preventing. Naturally people take their health attitudes from the doctors. We will get what we want only when we make the effort to demand it. Women's organizations cannot do better work than to help preventive measures.

FRUIT CUP

A fruit cup plays a double role as we may start the meal with it or it may serve as a dessert. Make use of all the fruits available whether fresh or canned. Let it stand for a little while to blend the flavours and serve very cold. Most fruit cups are improved by the addition of one of the citrus fruits. If nothing else is available use lemon juice. To my way of thinking, lemon juice improves any mixture of fruits. If you use it as an appetiser at the first of the meal increase the amount of lemon juice and lessen the amount of sugar. A little garnishing goes a long way to add to flavour and appearance. Try crushing a mint candy of whatever colour suits your colour scheme. Little cinnamon candies give that bit of red which most people like. Even a leaf of mint dipped in powdered sugar makes it look cool. Always remember we eat with our eyes.

SCARLET RUNNER BEANS

Do you look on the Scarlet Runner merely as a decoration or do you use the bean as a vegetable? Many people think that it is very nice bean of all. Cut it lengthwise in very thin strips and cook as you would any green bean.

PLANT LETTUCE AND SPINACH

Usually when the tomatoes are at their best, lettuce is old and past the fresh tender stage. It is a good idea to plant a few rows now to use for fall salads. It will soon be time to plant spinach for late use. Leafy vegetables are so good for us that we should try to use them as much as possible.

GOLDEN SALAD

Dissolve 1 package of lemon jelly in 1½ cups boiling water. Let cool and when beginning to set, add 1½ cups canned pineapple, ¼ cup grated raw carrot, 1 teaspoon preserved ginger chopped fine. Mould in individual moulds. May be used with cold meats.

COFFEE FLUFF

½ lb. marshmallows
1 cup strong hot coffee
1 cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/8 teaspoon salt

Put marshmallows in the top of double boiler and pour over the hot coffee. Stir till smooth. Chill until the mixture begins to set. Fold in cream, whipped, and add vanilla. This mixture may be served chilled, or it may be frozen.

PEACE THE IDEAL OF WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

Outstanding among the subjects occupying the minds of Women's Institutes in every country of the world where they are organized is that of international friendship. At the annual meeting of the "Associated Country-Women of the World" held in London recently, the subject was discussed in connection with the reports presented from various parts of the world, all of which showed that progress was being made in linking together the women of the world in the cause of international peace. More and more women are realizing the tremendous influence they may exert in the cause of peace if they will but take the matter seriously to heart.

WHO IS THE PRETTIEST GIRL IN YOUR TOWN?

We read in old books of women who were 'the toast of the county', or of some girl who was 'the prettiest girl in the town'. Could you say who is the prettiest girl in your town? I doubt it. There are few outstanding pretty girls these days. Not that the girls are not as pretty as they used to be. Far be it! But the general average is so much better, that it is almost impossible to stand out. It used to be that if a girl wasn't pretty there wasn't much that could be done about it. But that theory has been discarded. Ready-made clothes have brought good style within the reach of everyone. Permanent waving and wide-spread use of hair-dressing specialists has made it possible for every woman to have a decent looking head. Then there is the almost universal use of cosmetics. It used to be that even a touch of powder was put on in secrecy but now a woman whose nose is unpowdered looks unfinished. Women should use cosmetics intelligently and artistically. After all is it any worse for a woman to choose a colour for her face that is becoming than it is to choose a dress of the most becoming shade or for a man to pick a tie that will enhance his manly beauty? Even the actresses who are supposed to have a corner on the beauty market do not stand out as they did in bygone days. Echoes of the beauty of Lily Langtry still come down to us. Probably some of our modern actresses are just as beautiful but they have more competition and cannot be as outstanding. Not many of us are beautiful but let us all try to make the most of what we have.

—J. A. B.

London's Bridal Weavers Make Silk on Old Looms

Few people know that the magnificent silk-velvet required for royal robes worn on state occasions is made in the East-end of London, and by a few old men and women who weave the finest silk in the world on the original Jacquard looms set up by their Huguenot forefathers more than 250 years ago, says a writer in Tit-Bits Magazine. They are the last of London's weavers, survivors of a once flourishing colony of some 30,000 people inhabiting Bethnal Green and Spitalfields. Their usual work is the weaving of silk cloth for expensive neckties and Jewish praying-shawls, exported in large numbers to Europe and America.

But there are important occasions, such as the weddings, when the weaver folk of Bethnal Green are roused to unusual activity, and then all other work is set aside. Only these old weavers can make the exquisite silk velvets required, and they still keep as souvenirs remnants of the material made for the coronations and weddings of Queen Victoria, King Edward VII and King George V.

The Week's Fashion News

Written Specially for The Lachute Watchman
By the Montreal "FASHION SCRIBE"

If you'll let "Fashion Scribe" have any say in the matter, you'll find that being out of Montreal does not mean being out of touch. The end of her pencil is simply quivering with news about fashion happenings... to tell you what's being worn, what shows indication of being worn, even what the newest ideas are in home furnishings and kitchen gadgets.

There are some nice homey goings-on in the Montreal shop windows this week of which you should be told. A big corner window of one of the larger stores showed a happy lawn scene with everything from the huge scalloped-edge umbrella to the dresses worn by the vacationists in cool-looking white with red. Even the furniture was in red and white... red-enamelled steel curving into amazingly comfortable looking chairs with white leather cushions, the arms also curving to the shape of one's person and formed of narrow ridged wood like the slats of dove-tailed woodwork. Red and white is apparently the newest idea in out-of-doors summer furnishings.

Another window display makes it plain that the humble ostrich need no longer hide its head in the sand and keep out of the public gaze. Every single hat in the place had ostrich feathers somewhere about it. There was a double net hat with a medium brim—yes, dear readers, it was entirely made of net—and flat ostrich plumes were plastered underneath the brim on each side. All this in black. You can imagine how fetching fair hair would look peeping from beneath the duskiest and shadowy softness! There were other hats made entirely of ostrich tips overlapping on a thin net foundation. These were tiny toques no bigger than caps. One of these swept its strands of plumes vertically so that the effect was of curly, wispy "bangs" all around the head. "Paris goes in for Ostrich Detail" said the card towards the front of the window.

One is beginning to see a new trend in colour. Deeper, richer tones. Renaissance colours are invading the early Fall fashion world. The play "Les Cenci" in Paris and the art exhibit at the Petit Palais in the same city are responsible for the definite love of the colours seen in Italian Renaissance canvases. You'll be seeing a lot of gorgeous shades like Veronese green and Madonna blue this autumn, and it will be fun to have one's first Fall dress in a "live", vibrant colour rather than just black.

Usefully active Scottie pups are few and far between. Most of those I know confine their activities to chewing up stray rubbers and handy chair legs.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Aug. 4th., is "Love."

The Golden Text is:—"The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee."

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook.

"A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another." By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." (John 13:34, 35).

"The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good. Love giveth to the least spiritual idea might, immortality, and goodness, which shine through all as the blossom shines through the bud." (Science and Health page 518).

The Sudden Passing of Mrs. Agnes O. A. Rumbolt

This community was shocked on Thursday last to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Agnes O. A. Rumbolt.

The deceased had been in the best of health. On retiring Wednesday evening, however, she was suddenly seized with a heart attack, and passed away within a few minutes. She was in her 55th year. Her husband, the late George Rumbolt, predeceased her fifteen years ago.

She leaves to mourn her loss four sisters, Mrs. M. MacNaughton, New Auburns, Wis.; Mrs. Jas. Smith, Chetek, Wis.; Mrs. A. Renaud, Wawbe-wawa, Ont.; Mrs. O. Renaud, Morin Heights; and one brother, Louis Dubeau of Montreal. There remain also two daughters—Mrs. G. Turmel (Alice) of Huberdeau, Mrs. D. Labrosse (Mabel), of Weir, and two sons, Delmar and Raymond of Weir; also eight grand children.

The funeral, which was conducted by Rev. G. W. Phillips, assisted by Mr. John Owen, took place at the Church of the Redeemer on Saturday morning last. Interment took place in The Glen Cemetery.

The sympathy of this community is extended to the bereaved family in their sudden and sad loss.

The pall-bearers were the Messrs. Delmar and Raymond Rumbolt, Donat Labrosse, T. Marion, L. Dubeau and Arthur Loudin.

During the pastor's holiday, services in the United Church, St. Andrews, will be conducted by the Rev. J. Rushtin Heyworth of Chicago, and Mr. E. C. Kelloway of the United Theological College, Montreal. On August 4 and 18 Mr. Heyworth will preach in the morning; on August 11 and 25 Mr. Kelloway will occupy the pulpit at the morning service. All the evening services in August will be conducted by Mr. Heyworth in the form of a brief lecture, followed by an open forum and discussion. The subjects for the evening forums will be as follows: (1) Are we religious? (2) What is religion? (3) What is God? (4) Is religion man-made? A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested.

QUEBEC LUMBER INDUSTRY GROWING

The manufacture of lumber has progressed greatly in the Province of Quebec during the past few years, nearly 2,000 sawmills being in operation in the province at present, according to a report of the Department of Lands and Forests. At the end of 1934, some 1,832 sawmills were operating in Quebec. Many were portable mills and hundreds were of the small stationary type, but modern in every respect. During the past few years the principal kinds of sawn wood in Quebec were: birch, hemlock, maple, white pine, jack pine, basswood cedar and spruce. During the winter of 1933-34, a total of 30,942 men were employed in forestry operations.

Coming, Aug. 14, at the Rez Theatre, Victor Hugo's master classic — Les Miserables And on the following week Rider Haggard's immortal "She" . . . Two literary favorites you should not miss seeing.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the form supplied by the Department and in accordance with the conditions set forth therein. Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque if required to make up an odd amount.

Note.—The Department, through the Chief Architect's office, will supply blue prints and specification of the work on deposit of a sum of $25.00, in the form of a certified bank cheque payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works. The deposit will be released on return of the blue prints and specification within a month from the date of reception of tenders. If not returned within that period the deposit will be forfeited.

By order,

N. DESJARDINS,
Secretary.Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, July 22, 1935.

LOVES TO EAT THIS CEREAL, IT CHECKED HER CONSTIPATION*

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Helped Miss Kesterke

We quote from her letter: "Three years ago, I became constipated. I tried many laxatives. But as soon as I got used to each kind, I began to get the same trouble."

"Last summer I was on my vacation. They served Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I just loved it. I eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every morning, and ever since I have not had to take any more laxatives."—Miss Margaret Kesterke. Address on request.

*Due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle. It resists digestion better than the fiber in fruits and vegetables, so it is often more effective.

Isn't this food safer than risking patent medicines? Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. If seriously constipated, use with each meal. See your doctor, if you do not get relief.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Pine Most Useful

For general construction purposes no wood excels pine. This does not mean that hardwoods should not be used but rather that pine has that combination of acceptable properties which especially adapts it for structural use. These qualities are: Strength, stiffness, ability to hold shape and ease of working. They also season well and hold paint.

Early Political Corruption

Back in Eighteenth century England, political corruption was carried on in an open manner. Gentlemen wishing to buy government positions and office-holders having them for sale advertised in the newspapers. Often, too, prices were mentioned some running as high as $15,000.—Frelling Foster in Collier's Weekly.

Post-master General Praises County Member, Sir George Perley

Hon. Arthur Sauve Speaker at St. Columban

Warm words of appreciation of the work of Rt. Hon. Sir George Perley as a member of the Bennett Government, and acting Prime Minister at various times in the absence of the Prime Minister, were voiced at St. Columban this week by Hon. Arthur Sauve, Postmaster-General. The parish of St. Columban is still at present in the constituency of Two Mountains-Laval, but under the redistribution will become part of Argenteuil.

"I do not know of any man who has shown so much public spirit in the accomplishment of his duties in the council of the Crown or in Parliament as Sir George Perley," declared Mr. Sauve. "Despite his age, he has remained in magnificent manner equal to all the tasks which his chief in his wise inspiration has confided to him because of his vast experience and the certainty of his judgment."

"Certainly, Sir George has well deserved the compliment which the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King paid him in the course of last session, on which occasion the Liberal leader remarked, 'The conduct of Sir George Perley is an example, and creates in itself the monument which some day will be erected in thankfulness to him.'"

SIR GEORGE PERLEY TO VISIT CONSTITUENTS

From the announcement appearing on page 4 of this issue Sir George H. Perley, who has been the honored representative of this county in the House of Commons for so many years, has outlined a program of his tour through Argenteuil, for the purpose of meeting his many constituents. While not seeing eye to eye with Sir George on party lines, there are many who admire and appreciate the work he has done during the time he has served the County as its member; and to all such he extends a hearty welcome. Partiality has never been one of Sir George's policies, as he has always recognized differences of opinion in honest conviction.

SUCCESSFUL REGATTA AT LAKE LOUISA

Ideal weather attended the Annual Regatta held at Lake Louisa on Saturday last. Starting early in the afternoon, the various sporting events were run off in quick style; much interest and keen competition was shown by the many who took part. There was a large gathering of people at the water's edge, who cheered heartily as each contestant strove to reach the winning point. Much merriment was caused by contestants who vainly attempted to reach the end of the slippery pole. Tug of war and canoe tilting also caused great amusement.

During the evening the distribution of prizes was held, and a sing-song led by Mr. Wm. J. Bryant, also a bonfire and fireworks.

The various committees are to be complimented on the excellent way in which things were managed and many were heard to remark, "It's the best yet."

Thanks are also expressed to those who made donations, and to all who helped to make the day a success.

A NOTICE TO OUR ADVERTISERS

"Pay Locals" in The Watchman are chargeable at a rate of 10 cents a line, with a minimum of 50 cents. No notices of a business nature are given free publicity. The exceptions to this rule are announcements of purely charitable functions, at the publishers' discretion.

Pay Locals include classified items, such as Coming Events and Want Ads, also Notices. Births, Marriages, Deaths, etc. are charged at a straight 50 cent rate, also. In Memoriam items; in the latter case, however, verses are inserted at an additional cost of 25 cents each verse.

Advertisers are asked to make note of these particulars, which are given in detail on page 4, column 1. Reference is made also to charges for box numbers and for billing.

OFFERING CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION

Highly commendable is the action of an organization known as Au Service de l'Enfance, of 1230 Visitation Street, Montreal, which has, for its objective arrangements for the adoption of children. In St. Jerome this week, homes where there are no children were visited by an Oblate Father and a nurse of the organization, in an effort to inspire parental affection for six little tots ranging in age from 8 days to 6 years, who were offered for adoption. The success of their venture is not yet reported, but it is to be hoped there will be a ready response.

While fully recognizing the responsibility entailed, the knowledge that one has extended the opportunity of home life and useful citizenship to some orphan child, will bring ample reward for the sacrifice thus made.

British Unemployed Under 2,000,000 Mark, Lowest Since 1930

For the first time since before the crisis of 1931, Great Britain records this week a number of registered unemployed below the 2,000,000 mark—an elusive goal at which the Government has aimed for several years.

Figures show the unemployed at 1,972,941, a decrease of 27,169 compared to June, and 153,319 compared with July of last year. It is the lowest total since 1930.

The improvement gives solid ground for satisfaction, the Minister of Labor declared in an accompanying statement, as seasonal factors usually bring about an increase in unemployment at this time of the year. These have been out-weighted by more favorable influences, so the figures for July are exceptional in several respects.

The number of persons on the insurance lists increased by 20,000 during July to a new high level and since September of 1931 they have increased by about a million.

Improvement in unemployment is rarely experienced in July. A drop occurred in six out of eight administrative areas, however, the only ones to show increases being Scotland and the Midlands, the former due to temporary causes and the latter to slackness of local industries.

Improvement occurred in the engineering, iron and steel, motor-cycle, electric cable, woollen and worsted hosiery, trans-

TOMBOLA REALIZED GOOD PROCEEDS

Returns from the Tombola held last week by Rev. Father Labelle, curé of Ste. Anastasie Parish, in the interests of his new charge, proved most gratifying. Amounts received from the four evenings' activities totalled upwards of $1300, which, we understand, is being laid aside for the new church fund.

DOW BASE-BALLERS VISITED LACHUTE

WON GAME WITH AYERS TEAM

The Dow Brewery baseball line-up, headed by a spirited band of trumpets and drums, arrived Sunday at the Ayers playing field to meet the local Ayers Limited team.

The visit was one of three in a week-end tour by the Dow team; in each of the three engagements the Montrealers won a sure victory. The game at Lachute was the 49th. game played by the Brewers. Dow has won 44 games, tied two and lost three.

The Lachute team was augmented by Pero, one of the best hurlers of the Ottawa Valley League, and Fasulo, his regular catcher. Even so, the visitors proved a superior team and carried off a victory to the tune of 12-1.

PASSED FOR DIPLOMAS MACDONALD COLLEGE

Among successful students at Macdonald College, which has just terminated its fifth annual summer school for teachers, are the following from Lachute and vicinity:

Advanced Elementary Diploma—Minnie E. Clifford, Louisa; Lottia A. McDowell, Shawville; Elsie Salter, Glenelg—the two last named being formerly on the local High School staff.

Intermediate Diploma—Mrs. Elsie I. Prowse, Lachute.

Advanced Intermediate Diploma—Wilhelmina Clarke, Brownsburg; Grace D. Smith, Lachute; Hanna E. Smith, Montreal.

A substantial increase was recorded in the enrolment this year for the advanced elementary class as successful attendance for four summers in this class will be recognized by the award of the intermediate diploma.

An innovation this session was the introduction of school children into certain classes for demonstration purposes. Miss Blanche Stewart, instructor in kindergarten methods in the School for Teachers, taught educational handiwork, J. Murray Gibbon, of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, gave a special lecture, illustrated by slides and music records, on the relation between music and poetry in the Elizabethan age.

Motion pictures illustrating the value of visual aids in the teaching of geography, science and health were used, while an outstanding feature of the work in French was the reservation of three tables in the dining room where French alone was spoken during meals. One evening in each week was devoted to French songs.

port and distributive, and hotel and boarding house trades. Coal mining also showed more favorable employment figures.

A decline was shown in the tailoring, boot and shoe, cotton, building and public works and contracting industries, while the decline in Scotland was due chiefly to the temporary unemployment of jute workers in Dundee, who registered as they went on seasonal holidays.

THANKSGIVING DAY TO BE OBSERVED OCT. 14

Thanksgiving Day in Canada has been set for Monday, Oct. 14. A proclamation has been issued declaring the date. This follows the practice since Remembrance Day was created a holiday separate from Thanksgiving Day, of having the national thanksgiving on the second Monday of October.

HOLSTEIN CATTLE SOLD NEW YORK BREEDER

TEN ANIMALS BOUGHT OUT OF LOCAL HERDS

Breeders of pure bred Holstein cattle in the Lachute, Ormstown and Huntingdon districts have recently completed the sale of three shipments of cattle to the United States.

Mr. C. Hinman of Densboro, N. Y., purchased one of these shipments, forty head in all, 29 of which were taken from the herd of C. E. Ewing, Glenelg, and the remainder from the Lachute district as follows: Arthur Daoust & Son, St. Hermas, four head; A. A. McGibbon, Brownsburg, three; Albert D. Stewart, Lachute, two; and Leonard Boa, St. Hermas, one. One animal consigned by L. McLean of Finch, Ont., completed this shipment.

WEEK-END ACCIDENTS ST. JEROME DISTRICT

Four automobile accidents, in which nine persons were slightly injured, were reported in St. Jerome and district over the week-end. None of the victims was seriously enough injured to be removed to hospital.

The first accident occurred on Saturday when two private automobiles collided in St. Jerome.

Later the Provincial Transport autobus took the ditch near St. Therese and two women passengers were slightly injured. The bus, travelling from St. Agathe to Montreal, was well filled with people at the time.

On the highway between St. Jerome and Shawbridge two trucks collided on Saturday night, and one of them broke the railing of a culvert and remained suspended over the precipice. No one was injured.

Early Sunday morning an automobile containing seven persons collided with another machine carrying six passengers, on the highway two miles north of St. Jerome. Six persons were slightly injured in this mishap, and traffic was tied up for over half an hour before provincial motorcycle policemen could get the wreck cleared up.

NEW ONTARIO LICENCES BLACK WITH WHITE LETTERS

Glossy white letters on dull black will be the Ontario automobile marker combination for 1936. At the Ontario Reformatory, Guelph, many thousands of plates have already been turned out.

Messrs. J. A. Rice, G. F. Bedard and Alcidas Laurin have been making a survey of town properties this week in their capacity as valuers. We understand they have tempered their judgment with good sense, and have sought to encourage beautification, rather than increase valuations for those who have improved their properties. This is as it should be, and their action is well taken.

NEW LAURENTIAN MAP WILL AID MOTORISTS

For the convenience of its members, the Royal Automobile Club of Canada has decided to compile a new large scale map of the Laurentian area, which will be ready for distribution early next year, according to announcement by A. McNamee, manager.

The new R.A.C. map will show not only the main highways, but also the numerous lakes, second and third class roads and trails which are neither indicated on existing maps nor sign-boarded by the Government, he declared. Type of surface and condition of the various routes will also be plainly marked, as well as the location of desirable resorts, fishing and hunting lodges, and the names and locations of the lakes which have not been "fished out."

The map will take in the territory bounded by Hull on the west, Grand'Mere on the east, Ferme Neuve on the north, and Montreal on the south.

Many Local Improvements Bear Credit to Mayor and Council

Citizens of this town are pleased to note that Mayor Dr. J. H. Mason and his council, with commendable zeal, are bending their efforts to the beautification of the community in general. These projects are not confined to any one section, and evidences are not lacking to prove that each department of the council is right on to its job.

One of the principal improvements is the paving of Main Street from curb to curb, which is now in progress by the Provincial Roads Department, the town having completed all connections to the sewers in that section.

A new sewer is also being laid to the High School, and one on Grace Street, for which residents have been contending for some time.

Another marked improvement is the widening of the road opposite the Memorial Park, at a spot by the river which has been looked upon as a source of danger for years. This will make a pleasing adjunct to the park itself and add further to its beauty.

During the past week Gatin-eau Power Company has placed two effective street lights of new mechanical design on the Main Street for demonstration purposes. Just whether this system or central lighting will

Matters For Attention of Town Council

The regular session of the Town Council was held in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening. Pro-mayor C. Durocher presided, with aldermen K. McQuat, G. Muir, O. Laurin, H. Lamarche, W. J. Deacon, J. McGibbon and secretary-treasurer G. Filion in attendance.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

A petition from the storekeepers of the town was presented by Mr. Assaly, to amend the early closing by-law, the contention being that much of the business is going out of town as the stores in outlying districts are kept open. A comparison of this request with the list demanding the original change, revealed the same signatures on both petitions. As there were 32 petitioners to the by-law and only 18 for its return to the two nights' closing, Mr. Assaly was requested to secure more signatures, and present his petition again at next meeting.

An application from the Champlain Oil Company to install their tanks on the C. P. property bordering Bethany and Foundry Streets was granted, on motion of Ald. H. Lamarche, seconded by Ald. W. Deacon, providing the company complies with the requirements of the Railway Commission.

Mr. Geo. Laurin appeared before the Council complaining he had been stopped in the construction of a house he was building in the West End. The council contented there must be some just cause for this intervention, and on motion of Ald. G. Muir, seconded by Ald. K. McQuat, the Road Committee were asked to confer with the Board of Health and ascertain this reason.

Alderman H. Lamarche reported that he had received serious complaints of low wages being paid by some firms in town, and he moved that the secretary write the department at Quebec requesting an investigation. This was seconded by Ald. O. Laurin.

THUNDERSTORM CAUSED FIRE AT GRENVILLE

POWER SERVICE DISRUPTED

Grenville—The heavy thunderstorm last Sunday night did considerable damage at Grenville. The Gatineau Power Company's sub-station near the Perley Bridge was completely destroyed by fire, having been struck during the storm. The repair men managed to restore the lights for the village by Monday night, but the canal is still in darkness, owing to necessity of special equipment. The home of Mr. A. H. Clark was also damaged, but fortunately no one was injured.

be adopted is still being considered, but whichever is acceptable the innovation will be a decided improvement upon the old lighting, which has not been conducive to the best interests of the town.

By these evidences Lachute is now moving ahead, and it is encouraging to know that the citizens generally are beginning to comment and take interest in the town's progress.

A large outdoor clock was presented to Camp Tamara-couta, Montreal's permanent Boy Scout camp site, by ex-Scouts of the 1st Westmount Troop. The clock was given in memory of members of the troop who lost their lives in the Great War.

IF COMMUNITIES HAD THE SCOUT SPIRIT

Says the St. John's, Nfld., Weekly Herald, after describing the energy with which Scouts and Rovers of Grand Falls set about renovating an old store and its neighborhood as a Scout headquarters: "What could the people of Grand Falls not do if they could only be animated by a similar community spirit."

A CANADIAN LEGION TRIBUTE TO SCOUTING

"There is no better work the Legion can undertake than helping along the Scout Movement. It teaches boys the amenities of life, how to be useful and self-reliant, and to direct their energies in safe and sane channels."—President R. A. Patchell, Carleton Place Branch, Canadian Legion, in advocating the sponsoring of Scout Group.

LANDING OF THE ROMANS—1935

Shades of ancient Roman warriors must have rattled ghostly shields in protest when Boy Scouts of Oxford played the part of hardy legionnaires in a nageant "The Landing of the Romans." Not that the lads didn't wave their swords and shout effectively. It was the handsome steel helmets. They were old bowler hats, minus rims and painted with aluminum.

A SCOUT PILGRIMAGE TO MECCA

A unique pilgrimage to Mecca was that of 74 Scouts and Scouters from the Iraq government schools at Bagdad. Boys and leaders were in Scout uniform, and travelled in their own caravan of cars over the modern highway to the sacred city of Mohammedans. King Ibn Saud greeted them at Mecca, and granted them the privilege of taking pictures, and other special concessions. King Ibn Saud is a strong friend of the Boy Scouts, of whom there are some 12,000 in Iraq.

SAILOR WILL SEE WELL

Admiral Lord Nelson may have got along quite well with only one eye, but the powers at the British admiralty have just decided that bad eyesight cannot be tolerated in the modern British navy.

So the order has gone forth that any sailor or marine with defective eyesight must wear spectacles.

First appearance of a sailor with spectacles is being eagerly awaited in the mess decks of British war vessels, where the admiralty order has been received with guffaws.

THE SPOILED PARTY

Betty had a party for her pets Upon the sunny lawn—
And this is what she told me Just after they were gone . . .

"I had just a dreadful time, Miss Puss was very naughty, I set her by my Teddy Bear And she was oh, so naughty.

She spat and spat at Teddy, And made poor Fido bark, And upset all the goats and things,

From out my Noah's Ark.

She walked across the table, Right over my nice cake, She knocked my dollies off the bench

And made their poor heads ache.

I won't 'vite Pussy next time I've a party on the lawn, But shut her in the wood shed, Till all the guests have gone!"

CHUMS

There was just two days between their birthdays. One was black as coal the other was dappled black and grey. Their mothers were very friendly, so these two mares and their two little foals stayed together in the pasture all summer, until it came time for the fall ploughing and the mothers had to work. The little foals were such wonderful company for each other that they did not miss their mothers very much, except when it came meal time, then they seemed to be trying which one could squeal the loudest as they ran up and down the field trying to find a gap in the fence so that they might reach their mothers. But they had to wait until Beverly and Ronnie let down the bars and led the mares into the field and left them until it was time for them to work again. Flapper and Dapper, as Beverly and Ronnie named them, were always glad when night came. It was quite all right to play with each other in day time, but they were just like little children, they wanted their mothers when it got dark, and would snuggle up quite close to them, so close at times that they were in the way when they wanted to reach a particularly nice tuft of grass, then the mothers would squeal at them, little sharp squeals and wrinkle up their faces and shake their manes; but Flapper and Dapper did not worry in the least over that performance. They just trotted around to the other side and snuggled close again.

When Jack Frost came and turned all the beautiful green grass a dull brown and the faded leaves came tumbling down from the trees, Flapper and Dapper got many a fright. They would stand shoulder to shoulder and snort as the flurries of leaves tumbled about them.

Quite often Chipper, the red squirrel, tossed butter nuts down on their backs just to frighten them, then chattered and chuckled and told the world all about the fun that he was having. In spite of all this they were not a bit glad to have to go into the pasture in summer and sharing the same box stall in winter; never for a moment did they imagine that things would ever be any different.

The third summer saw quite a change in their lives. Each colt was hitched up with its mother, whom it had quite forgotten, and driven in a big noisy wagon. At least it seemed tremendously big to them, and they were not a bit satisfied. They called for each other, but this old harness would not let them go. Flapper had grown up into a beautiful, strong limbed black horse, and decided that if they did not let her go to her chum she would just kick until they did! Beverly and Ronnie were quite sorry about it, as they did not want her punished and were afraid their daddy would punish her severely. But daddy was a patient man and he petted and stroked her instead, talking to her all the while until at last she grew quiet and walked along with her mother. But how she did hate those chains rattling about her feet. Dapper hated them too. He did not kick when he was hitched up, but kept jumping and rearing up in the air until their daddy got Sam to hold him by the bridle and lead him around the yard.

This performance went on day after day until the colts got so used to being hitched up that they could be safely teamed together, but Mr. Bond never hitched them unless his harness was quite secure "You never could be too sure of colts," he explained. Beverly and Ronnie just loved to go riding with their dad when he drove Flapper and Dapper. They would sit holding tightly to the rail of the express seat and argue as to which of the colts, Flapper or Dapper, were lifting their feet the quicker (much to their daddy's amusement.) He could not see any difference—but he did love Flapper, with her glossy black coat, the better of the two. They were now well broken and working in the fields as their mothers did, when one

"CONDEMNED" BOX CARS AID THE UNEMPLOYED

The Canadian National Railways yards at Scarborough, a few miles outside of Toronto, have been used as a storage yard for old box cars, pronounced unfit for railway service. For some months their number had steadily been added to until about 500 cars were awaiting demolition. To break them up would have been costly involving the moving of several special trains to various points on the system. The problem was solved when an agreement was made with the officials of Scarboro township that the unemployed on the relief list would do the work in return for relief vouchers. During recent weeks work has thus been given to more than 1500 men. The township officers have the selection of the wood obtained, but the men are also permitted to take a certain quantity of boards home, the better pieces to be used for building purposes and the "scrap" for winter fuel. A large number of railway men, who have been off duty, have also found work in dismantling the steel frames for who was tearing around the pasture in despair at being left behind. For a few days Flapper was kept in the stable at her new home, but one afternoon Mr.

Falconer turned her out with his other horses. They all came and sniffed at her, but she turned away from them and threatened to kick if they came too close. Finding that Dapper was not among them, she threw up her head and called him repeatedly. From far away across the fields came an answering cry. Flapper waited for nothing more but darted off in the direction from which it came. Fences were in her way, and she had never jumped a fence before; but now she went over them just like a bird. On and on she went, calling and calling. Dapper answered her, and came galloping to meet her as she crashed over the last fence. They sniffed and sniffed each other then trotted over to their favorite maple tree and stood in the shade, Flapper's head resting against Dapper's neck. When the work is finished only the steel work and the trucks will have to be moved to the shops, which effects a pronounced savings in the "dead-head" movement.

VALUATION CASES IN CHATHAM CITED

My remarks on the above subject, regarding taxable land and taxable labor cannot in justice be considered by all from the same basis. But as to land and its taxable value, I would hold that in justice to everybody in a locality the old law in use since the time of Adam, the law of supply and demand, cannot be improved upon; for where the centre of population grows, land values will take care of themselves when sold even under the hammer of the auctioneer. There is always someone with a little loose change in his pocket who will keep it from going a-begging and selling below its value. But as the land values rise in one locality on account of increase of population, so they also fall in a neighboring locality as it gradually becomes depopulated, and on account of lack of demand of houses the building industry commences to fall off and the demand for building lots finally ceases altogether; often a number of houses there become vacant or a poor class of tenant occupies them and what they bring for rent will not pay their up-keep let alone taxes and insurance. Still our valuers insist on keeping up their valuation, because they were once worth so much. (If you would do this or do that with them, as some others are doing, you will make them worth the valuation we are placing upon them. And you make enquiry about the profits made on the properties they have named, only to find that the said properties have gone steadily behind for some time, though they have been used as a criterion to raise your valuation on if you will only follow in their footsteps).

I understand that before the valuers started to make their round in Chatham, a petition was entered to have them changed and more practical men appointed. But before these men had acted who was there to say they were not practical men for they had not been yet tried. We are told that by their fruits ye shall know them; after I have told a few circumstances in the case I will leave my readers to judge—from three instances in their valuating tour, in three successive miles. What they based their three different standards of valuations on in such a short distance I am at a loss to know; I doubt very much if they know themselves, and if they are right now, why the former valuers did not follow the same rule before them.

One man buys a place for less than $500 and he is valued in the last valuation at $1000 because "if he does so and so with his purchase he will make a fortune out of it."

Another buys a property on which application had been repeatedly made for the reduction of valuation, to no effect though the place was dilapidated; he puts new roofs on the houses and rents them, and his valuation is lowered this time.

Another buys a property much in dilapidation and spends considerable to put it in repair, that requires a good deal including lumber and roofing and taking down old buildings. At the early stage of the repairs the valuers call and raise the valuation; three years later they call again; among them is one who sold the lumber to repair the place, and he is all for increasing the valuation once more, I made the proposal that he had derived benefit from the sale and should bear part of the extra valuation, whereas the owner had locked up his cash in said lumber and could not derive a further profit from it when he nailed it on his building. My attention was drawn to a tennis court that is about completed but no fence around it yet, and the extra valuation is put on. Later the tennis court is fenced and the general public for miles around avail themselves of the opportunity to play on said tennis court;

A grievance complained of by ministers of the churches is the unlawful running of freight trains on Sunday and our Town Council should endeavor to have this nuisance removed.

We congratulate our confrere of the Gazette, Thos. White, Esq., on his deserved promotion as Minister of the Interior.

On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Thos. Tomalty of back Chatham, was driving a load of hay to his barn and going down a steep hill he was afraid the load would be upset and jumped off, falling on his right arm which broke at the wrist.

At last the town of Lachute can boast of a fire engine, hose and reel. It arrived here yesterday morning, and was tested under the direction of Engineer Perry of Montreal, to the entire satisfaction of the fire brigade and citizens.

The members of Argenteuil Lodge, No. 67, assembled on Saturday evening at Bro. John Hope's for the purpose of making a presentation to Brother Edward Robinson who was leaving for Hamilton on Monday.

and once again the valuers call and decide that, on account of the tennis court, the valuation be increased again. And the general public have used this tennis court more than the owner himself has, many not even taking the trouble to roll it after they were done playing. Nevertheless the owner is taxed for being a public benefactor, his valuation being raised.

The reading public can draw their own conclusions as to the qualifications of our valuers and the rule of thumb methods which they apply.

HINTS FOR THE HOT WEATHER

During this month, when the temperature may be hovering around the eighties and nineties, there is need for a certain amount of readjustment on the part of sweltering humanity if bodily discomfort and attendant illness are to be avoided. When the hot spell comes, one of the wisest things any man or woman can do is to keep a close watch on his or her diet.

This diet business, according to health authorities, should be an all the year-round practice. However, it is especially important in torrid weather. If one is accustomed to three square meals a day, winter and summer, with substantial fare such as heavy steaks at mid-day, don't be surprised if the hot weather leaves you groggy, says one authority, who says that salads, fruits, cool drinks and so on are in order during hot weather. At any rate it is advisable to save the flapjack, hamburger and fatty foods for the cooler months of the year.

There are also other hints that are worthy of attention, such as bathing soon after a meal, too much exposure to the hot sun, bathing in water that is cold, all of which are harmful and effect the heart. Too many precautions cannot be taken for the safeguarding of one's health at any time, for the summer months have their lures and temptations.

Bears "Roll in Wealth" in Streams of Yukon

Despite world money standards, Ur-us horribles, the Alaskan grizzly bear, sticks to the gold standard, or rather, the gold standard sticks to him. When a University of Michigan forestry professor went prospecting in bear hides brought from the Yukon region, looking for new types of animal parasites, he found the expected fleas and unexpected flakes of gold scattered throughout the fur.

When the professor hunts for parasites he carefully combs out the suspected fur and then "pans" the dust in a small dish with water, much as gold is panned by prospectors. Panning his bear dust, the professor was pleased to find fleas, dead and dried up. Looking more closely he saw yellow flakes. Examined under the microscope, with the surrounding organic material stained, the yellow metal gleamed out characteristically and unmistakably.

How the bears collected the gold flakes in their thick fur is a mystery. Small amounts of gold are found in many Alaskan stream beds and the metal may have been caught under the animal's claws, later to be transferred to the fur in scratching operations, or the bears might have "rolled in wealth" on the shore of some quiet Yukon stream, picking up stray flakes of the mineral that old sourdoughs have sought ever since the great strikes of the '90s.

The Pokeberry

The pokeberry, Phytolacca americana, also known as inkberry or garget, is a perennial that dies to the earth each year and attains a height of three to eight feet. The root is thick and somewhat poisonous but the young succulent shoots are sometimes used as a substitute for asparagus. The white flowers are in long racemes and are followed by dark purple juicy berries a quarter of an inch in diameter. These are not poisonous. The plant often grows in clearings and waste places, occasionally becoming somewhat troublesome as a weed.

Fireflies' Light Strong

Certain fireflies emit a light that, although only one-fiftieth of a candle-power, is so penetrating that it passes through paper, flesh and wood. In fact, X-ray photographs of these substances have been made by this insect illumination.—J. T. Finlay, Emporia, Kan., in Collier's Weekly.

Origin of Word "Clue"

The word "clue" is from the Old English, "cluwe," a ball of thread, the thread of life, which, according to the fable, the Fates spin for every man. The figurative meaning, a piece of evidence leading to discovery, is derived from the story of Theseus, who was guided through the labyrinth by the ball of thread held by Ariadne.

EDITORIAL

A PROBLEM TO TACKLE

We can remember when transients stopped at the door and pleaded for work. In those days, of course, they were not known as transients. Now one is sometimes compelled to believe, their nomad psychology has taken on a dignity in keeping with this better-sounding title of transient. The old-time hoboes at least had pride enough to enquire for work . . . (We are mentioning, of course, a distinct class; there are still those exceptions—men conscientiously seeking employment. But there are the others—many of them—who appear to shun the very thought.)

Previous to August 1st. a measure was enforced by Premier Mitchell Hepburn in Ontario to curtail the dispensing of relief to single unemployed men throughout the province. Reluctance of single men to accept farm jobs, many of which are being offered with no response from those on relief, resulted in this decision, concerning all physically fit single men in the province.

—This order, however, was never put into effect, the Premier having withdrawn his decision—doubtless concluding that farm vacancies were insufficient to accommodate all cases of unemployment. Mr. Hepburn has been criticized, both on his decision and on its withdrawal.

A ruling of this kind applies now in Saskatchewan. On instructions of Hon. R. J. M. Parker, Minister of Municipal Affairs, every able-bodied single man on relief in the province must accept farm work or be immediately cut off relief roles.

The conditions indicate with certainty a deplorable state of mind among unemployed across the Dominion, and also that authorities have wakened to the necessity of action—not only to afford material relief, but to amend an unsavory morale among certain classes of jobless citizenry. The latter may be a larger undertaking than material relief, which has already taxed government resources to the utmost.

"We have reached the property tax saturation point—the stage where any further levies are more than offset by increased delinquencies."

—George D. Bogle, Mayor of Denver.

Complaint is made at Brandon, Man., that farm work jobs at $20 to $25 a month with board are being offered at the employment office, but finding no takers.

GIVES CONTRACT FOR ADVERTISING

The City Council of Montreal has granted to Advertising Sites, Limited, an exclusive contract for five years with option of renewal for another five years, the first period to yield $500 a month or $30,000 a year to the city.

The company in question has to deposit $1,000, and provision is to be made that the advertisements placed on bridges, tunnels and subways owned by the city shall be "artistic" and in accord with the approval of city engineers.

TOWN TO RECEIVE MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Coldwater (Ont.) village council received with pleasure the announcement, by Ald. William Sheppard, that the Sheppard family intend to erect and equip a public reading library to be given to the town as a memorial to their father, W. J. Sheppard, outstanding citizen of Coldwater, who died last year. Plans are being drawn and it is the intention of the family to erect a cut stone building with beautiful appointments and grounds.

The Ottawa Spotlight

A Weekly Review of National Affairs
By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, August 6.—It has long been the view of the Liberal strategists that the forthcoming election can be won without effort, and that the most prudent course on the part of Liberal leaders is to avoid making blunders. Mr. Mackenzie King being, on the whole, the shrewdest politician of his generation—the 'five cent piece speech' not being forgotten—we may be pretty sure that he will not commit any grave indiscretion between now and the date of the general election. On the theory that, so long as he avoids mistakes, he can win the election hands down, there was not much to criticize about his first radio address. It was not spectacular, but it was thoughtful and reasoned. It made no play to the gallery at all, and I suppose many listeners and readers found it dull stuff. But in a quiet way it set forth the Liberal leader's point of view, and offered a minimum of opportunity for the criticism of opponents. Mr. Bennett and others will openly laugh at Mr. Mackenzie King's passion for parliamentary institutions, and the hungry will wonder whether the retention of the ancient liberties will guarantee anything resembling a square meal. But it is at least consistent with his position over the past five years, it avoided clap-trap or crude appeal to popular prejudice, and was on a fairly lofty if somewhat uninteresting plane.

SLAP FOR NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

The advocates of 'national government', many of whom are sincere thoughtful people, and a few of whom are manipulators seeking to avoid the impending attack upon the 'Big Interests' will find cold comfort in Mr. Mackenzie King's radio addresses. One wonders whether it was worth while going after such a straw man as National Government; because, after all, there has not been for many years the remotest possibility of a national government being set up in Canada: the political conditions are simply not right for it. There has not in recent months been any indication that even the most obscure back-bencher among the Liberal parliamentarians would agree to enter a union government, and as for the possibility of interesting such persons as Mackenzie King, Lapointe, Stewart or Euler, some or all of whom would have to be agreeable, the idea is absurd.

The blunt fact concerning the coming election, which Mr. Bennett realises as well as everybody else, is that the most formidable opponent of the administration is not Mr. Mackenzie King, and certainly not either Mr. Stevens or Mr. Woodsworth. It is our old friend General Depression. In 1930, when asked what chances Mackenzie King had for 'coming back', Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen said, to a friend: "I have never known an administration to be returned in the midst of a depression."

THE DEPRESSION OVER?

Of course we are being told that the depression is over, and that the reason we have weathered the gale so well is that we have had the Bennett government in power. A good case can be made out for Canada's relatively happy position. But I asked my barber to-day whether times were getting better and he replied: "They are getting worse." Evidently my barber had not read the bulletins of the bureau of statistics. But I think there will be a lot of people on polling day who will be in a similar position.

First meetings were held last week by the Employment and Social Insurance Commission, the body headed by former premier Gordon S. Harrington of Nova Scotia, Tom Moore of the Trades and Labor Congress and N. R. Beaudet of the Montreal Life Assurance Co. This commission has four distinct duties, one of which is the creation and regulation of an unemployment insurance scheme, in which some 1,700,000 wage-earners will at once begin to participate—whether they wish to or not. Another duty is the building-up of a federal employment office system, starting with the present nucleus, and taking in, presumably, most of the provincial systems. The duty of providing some sort of insurance or relief schemes for the unemployed men not now eligible to benefit from unemployment insurance is a third duty, and the final one is the preparation of data looking toward a system of national health insurance.

Mr. Bennett returned from a brief holiday to complete the final preparations before dissolving parliament. The stage has been set for a long while, and the spectators are anxiously waiting for the curtain to rise.

St. Jerusalem Council Will Continue Road Work

OPERATIONS WILL BE RESUMED ON NORTH
RIVER STRETCH

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Jerusalem Parish Council was held on Monday, the following being present: Mayor J. E. Walker and Councillors J. E. Armstrong, A. Nicoll, A. J. Scott, J. S. Pollock, J. G. Hadley, L. J. Boa and the secretary, J. W. Gall.

A request for the cleaning of parts B. and C. of the water course known as St. Jerusalem, Vide Sac, East Settlement and Upper Lachute was duly discussed and granted, Mr. Z. Plouffe being named and appointed Syndic.

The Government having granted the council $2000 on a 50% basis for new graveling work, it was moved and resolved that this money be spent on the North River Road, continuing on from the mile already made, as from T. McQuat's east, the total amount expended to be from $3,500 to $4,000. Mr. W. J. Boyd was appointed as foreman of this new work.

A number of accounts were rendered and ordered paid.

Boy Scouts Held Camp Near Kilmar

The First Grenville Troop of Boy Scouts spent the week of July 29, under canvas at McLeod's Lake, near Kilmar. Fourteen boys were present under the leadership of the Rev. K. N. Brueeton, Scoutmaster, assisted by Mr. Ronald Bridgen. The time being short, only a little badge work was done, but some tests were passed; Gerald Allard and James Welden qualified for the Tenderfoot Badge; Lyle Kirby, of Kilmar, was also invested as Tenderfoot, as a Lone Scout attached to this Troop. The hot weather and the vicinity of water seemed to call for swimming activities, and two notable long distance swims were made, namely P. L. Russell Gauley (1½ miles) and Scout G. Allard (¾ mile). Some aquatic races were held resulting as follows:—Swimming Race, Gauley, Allard, Foreman, Long Dive — Gauley, Allard and Owens, Foreman. Long Distance Race — Gauley, Welden, Allard, Under Water — Welden, Owens, Allard. Backward Race — Kirby, Gauley, Allard. Mr. F. Hicks, Provincial Field Secretary, paid a welcome visit, and inspected the Camp on Tuesday.

The Scoutmaster tenders thanks to those who provided free transportation and lent various equipment that made the camp possible.

A severe electrical storm broke here on Sunday evening with heavy thunder and torrential rains lasting to a late hour. Ste. Rose also suffered badly from hail, which created havoc among the fields of grain and corn.

Only Few Days to Ottawa Exhibition

It is now a matter of only a few days until the Ottawa Exhibition for 1935 will be opened by Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden. Each year finds this exhibition attracting patrons from a wider radius, taking in Ontario, Quebec and a large section of the United States along the border. With the attractions prepared for this year, the exhibition week, Aug. 19 to 24, should be memorable as the best in the exhibition's splendid history.

Outstanding will be Createore and his band, to be heard in two concerts daily. The great maestro stands alone as a maker of music, and his band is as near perfection in its execution as one could hope for. He is the popular idol of music lovers, and doubtless people from a long distance will travel to hear him.

Another stellar attraction comes from far off India and will include the richest creations in gold, silver, pottery, marble, ivory and other products of the artistic craftsmanship of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh. In addition, the will be a baby jungle.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given by the undersigned, that a poll will be held in the Club House, Brownsburg, on Monday, Aug. 12th., from the hour of 8 a.m. until 6 p.m., standard time—for the purpose of electing a Mayor and Councillors of the newly incorporated Village of Brownsburg.

Signed—A. Lamarche,
President of Election

Above layout shows a good cross-section of what is being done these fine summer days at the Algonquin Hotel, St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, New Brunswick. Right, Lady Moyra Ponsonby, daughter of Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough, at the conclusion of a drive from a tee at the well-known 18-hole championship golf course of the hotel. Centre shows that part of Katy's Cove dedicated to swimming, with youngsters and grown-ups alike in the sparkling waters or about to enter them. Inset illustrates another sport—sailing—with Miss Margot Redmond, daughter of Mr. R. M. and the Honorable Mrs. R. M. Redmond, of Montreal, sailing with her father and Captain Wren, off St. Andrews. Left is Miss Eugenie Auerbach, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Auerbach, of New York, all set with spade and bucket on the sands of Katy's Cove, to enjoy the late seasons.

The Algonquin Hotel represents just about the acme of summer days enjoyment and is a paradise for kiddies and grown-ups, too. Sea bathing in the warm waters of Katy's Cove and sun bathing on the shining sands are two of the most healthful and entertaining occupations of those who visit this popular and smart resort to which Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough have given their patronage of late seasons.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Fogarty and children returned home to Galt, Ont., on Saturday last, after having spent a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Nichols and family have returned to their home in Asbestos, Que., having spent their holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, and other friends.

Winners of the Lucky Spot Dance on Saturday at Ralph's Place, Lakefield, were Mr. D. Kennedy and Miss Margie Lane of Montreal. The Elimination Dance prize was won by Miss Doris Dodds and Mr. Bruce Watt, of Montreal.

Mr. A. McAllister arrived home on Wednesday morning from Wetaskawin, where he has been on a visit to his son Ward, who last month was suddenly taken seriously ill. Mr. McAllister reports a good trip and we are pleased to hear that Ward has passed the danger point and is making slow but good progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and children, of Montreal, are spending this month at Lake Louisa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Firminger and family, of Mount Royal, are spending a month at Lake Louisa.

Miss Leona Walker, of Montreal, spent Thursday last with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Walker.

A new arrangement of services in Lachute Baptist Church became effective on Sunday last—to continue indefinitely—when well attended gatherings were held both morning and evening, with Mr. Roy Hisey (former pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Verdun) in charge. Mr. Hisey is an able, fearless preacher, and his two messages were listened to with close attention. The fifteen minutes' song service, with which all evening services will commence, was greatly enjoyed.

Beginning tomorrow (Friday) evening, Mr. Hisey will conduct a weekly, week-night meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Titley, at Thomas' Gore.

Death at Brownsburg

On August 6th., at Brownsburg, the death occurred of Margaret Tomalty, wife of the late Duncan MacKiddie, in her 61st year. Mrs. MacKiddie is survived by a daughter, Grace, a son Clarence, and also by four brothers—William and David of Brownsburg, James of Montreal, and John of Hoosier, Sask. The funeral service was held at Mrs. MacKiddie's late residence 2.30 p.m. this afternoon.

SUMMER SLIMMING

Summer is the time to reduce with the least possible discomfort. People who are too heavy often say that they do not eat much. It may be the truth at that and then again they may be mistaken. Often they gain not because they eat too much but because of the wrong choice of food. They eat the things that are packed with calories. Fruits and vegetables should bulk largely—no pun intended—in the diet of the reducer. The most important thing to remember is that we eat until we feel comfortably full. Our hunger is soon satisfied but we want to feel full. As the stomach is an elastic organ the logical thing to do is to shrink the stomach. It will only take a short time of eating less than we want, to do this, and after that reducing is easy. After you have taken off the pounds you will not be apt to take them on again as your stomach will be smaller and you cannot eat as large meals as you used to, without discomfort. If you are reducing you will be living chiefly on fruits and vegetables and as they are digested and pass through the stomach in about two hours, you are apt to be hungry at the end of that time. It is not that you are actually hungry but that you feel empty. This is an uncomfortable feeling and while it lasts, because your stomach will get accustomed to the different type of meal, take something to eat when you feel discomfort. A drink of fruit juice is a good choice or some fruit or a cracker or two. Anything that has a low calorie content is suitable. The point is that it is not necessary to feel uncomfortable. We are creatures of habit and all we have to do is to accustom our tummies to less food. The reverse is true if we are trying to gain. We must deliberately eat more than we want in order to get our stomachs in the habit of requiring more food. These ideas are not just theories but have been proved time and again, with myself, my family, my friends and others who have come to me for weight adjustment.

THE YELLOW BRIAR

Never have I seen so many yellow roses as I saw this year. It has been a good year for roses and the yellow ones were a sight to see. The yellow briar seems to be a country rose for I do not see them in the city but they grow in profusion in some parts of the country and in the towns. We happened to do considerable driving this year while the yellow roses were in bloom and there were some gorgeous ones to be seen. Driving West of our city we did not see many. Probably in the neighborly way of gardeners they would be passed on from one to another. The yellow briar always makes me feel homesick for the only one I ever knew intimately was in a neighbour's garden—a dear old Irish lady, I loved that bush as a child and perhaps it has made me sentimental about the rest of them. Have you read Patrick Slater's "The Yellow Briar"? It is a book about the pioneering days of the latter half of the last century in Ontario and the people in it are mostly Irish Canadians. It is well worth reading and should be in every Canadian library. Besides giving a picture of early days it is full of a homely philosophy. This book interested me especially because my paternal grand parents came out from Ireland in that same period and settled in a district not far from the setting of the book. All through it I was reminded of them. Even if you were not fortunate enough to have your grandparents come from Ireland to Ontario I am sure you will enjoy the book.

FERTILE PERENNIALS

When the perennials have finished blooming we are apt to neglect them until the next season. This is a mistake as they should be well fertilized and growth for the next season encouraged. August is the month to plant perennial seeds.

FLOWER GARNISHES

For a change from the usual lettuce, parsley or cress, why not try a garnish of flowers? Pick one that suits your colour scheme. Ribbon sandwiches with cheese between the outer layers and orange marmalade in the middle and a garnish of nasturtiums are easily arranged. Colour white cheese to match your flowers and add any additional flavour that is suitable.

POTPOURRI

Pare cucumber and score deeply with a fork before slicing to give a scalloped edge.

Try crushed peanut brittle on ice cream.

If fruit is carried in egg cartons when picnicking, it will not bruise.

COCOANUT MACAROONS

1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1/2 lb. cocoanut
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Cream butter and sugar. Add well-beaten eggs, sift in flour and baking powder, and stir in cocoanut. Drop by spoonfuls on a buttered pan and bake in a moderate oven of 325 degrees. These are very quickly mixed and specially good.

TASTE IS A MATTER OF COUNTRY

Taste is a matter of country. What one nationality enjoys another does not for the reason, generally, that the food is foreign to them. This is the case of maple syrup and maple sugar, so familiar to Canadians but which is practically unknown in England and Scotland except to a small fraction of the public, according to the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways. Golden syrup, on the other hand, which is made from cornstarch, is quite popular and much cheaper, so that there is a considerable amount of difficulty in introducing maple syrup and sugar to the market. Efforts, however, are being continued and there is already a small but growing trade in Scotland.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES TO SHARE IN PEACE GARDEN

Of the three thousand acres set apart by the Manitoba and Dakota governments for the establishment of an international Peace Garden, one acre is to be allotted to the Women's Institutes of Canada to be planted with suitable flowers and shrubs. The plot to be devoted to this purpose will be situated quite close to the Memorial Cairn, on the stones of which the words, "We pledge ourselves never to take up arms against each other," are to be inscribed.

The Women's Institute committee in charge of this matter is under the convenorship of Mrs. T. O. Cahoe of Pilot Mound, Manitoba, and is meeting with enthusiastic support from the Institutes all over Canada.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 11th., is "Spirit."

The Golden Text is:—"He that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." (Galatians 6:8).

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—

"This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law." (Galatians 5:16-18).

"Man walks in the direction towards which he looks, and where his treasure is, there will his heart be also. If our hopes and affections are spiritual, they come from above, not from beneath, and they bear as of old the fruits of the Spirit." (Science and Health, page 451)

The Week's Fashion News

By the Montreal "FASHION SCRIBE"

If you'll let "Fashion Scribe" have any say in the matter, you'll find that being out of Montreal does not mean being out of touch. The end of her pencil is simply quivering with news about fashion happenings... to tell you what's being worn, what shows indication of being worn, even what the newest ideas are in home furnishings and kitchen gadgets.

Montreal, August 3.—People who are drawn to colour, as a moth to flame, have been raving about the lovely gradations and tones throughout the talkie, "Becky Sharp" at a local theatre this week. The costumes of the Napoleonic period gave the men a chance to wear bright "plumage" as well as the women. But to-day in many parts of the world there is just as much colour used in men's outfits as in the early 19th. century. Take India. A big department store in Montreal has a whole big window display showing "modern" Indian wearing apparel. And how the people on the street are clustering around to look! There is a costume of the Royal Servant, with a coat as red as a British Grenadier's and balloon trousers eight yards round at the top. There are lovely saris, 9-yard scarfs, which serve as complete dresses for the women; they wrap around the hips in a sloped tier arrangement, then swathe the upper part of the figure, even to hooding the eyes. A "purdah veil" of brown cotton with two peep-holes for the eyes is all enveloping and 'tis said that the Indian female wears it from the time she is eight years old so that she may be seen by no man.

The very low-heeled "flats" I have mentioned before as being supremely fashionable are of Indian inspiration. You see these shoes on the streets here, and you see similar types also this week in the window display of Indian curios and costumes.

If you have been spending much time lately reaching for something long, cool, refreshing and with ice in it, you may be interested in knowing about an energy-saving sort of cocktail shaker. It has a detachable top that you wind up like a toy train. When you attach this to the glass container, it "unwinds" its long mixer with a brisk motion like that of an animated egg-beater... and keeps on going for several minutes.

Ever hear of a bean stringer? I'm not "stringing" you when I say there is such a thing. It is small, inexpensive, and formed of metal with a hole in the centre through which you pull the string bean. It absolutely undresses the poor bean, removing from it all the thready material which is bothersome to the palate.

ARE YOU A LOVER OF GOOD LITERATURE?

As the best literary classics appear dramatized on the screen, movie-goers find added benefit in attending these popular shows. A re-acquaintance with the world's best authors adds untold pleasure to the regular movie performance. Two of the best and finest novels appear in this week's Rex Theatre announcements: Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" and Rider Haggard's immortal "She." The screen's best players do ample justice to the roles they fill... See program on page 5.

Is anyone else in the world glad that you are in it? Then your life is worth living. If not, you can make it so.

SEASON'S BIGGEST VALUE

Rovers Go A'Roving

Here are five Canadian Rover Scouts on board the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of York, in which they sailed from Montreal to attend the World Rover Moot being held this year in Sweden. Eastern and Western Canada are represented by the five, who, left to right, are: L. P. Dominik, of Peterboro, Ont., Allan Hiron, of St. Paul, Alta., A. B. Patterson, sea scout, of Oshawa, Ont., Kingston Webber, of Edmonton, and A. C. Kessler, of Saint John, N. B.

The Canadian Rovers will form part of a British contingent of 1,500 attending the Rover Moot, or nearly half the entire number expected to attend. They will be in camp for six days at the Moot headquarters on Ingaroo Island, not far from Stockholm. Elaborate preparations have been made by the Swedish Rovers, hosts of the gathering, who are headed by Prince Gustaf Adolf, eldest son of the Crown Prince of Sweden. The camp will have a fire brigade, telephone system, post-office, hospital and will publish a daily newspaper in the four official languages of the Moot, English, French, German and Swedish.

The Swedish Moot will be the second World Rover Moot. The first was held in Switzerland in 1931. Two of the five Rovers in the above picture, A. C. Kessler and Allan Hiron, attended the 1931 Moot.

DISTRICT NEWS

WEIR

Mrs. F. Ladouceur, of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Loudin.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pilkington and family returned to their home in Verdun on Sunday, after spending the past month in Mrs. Lyatt's Cottage.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Loudin were Mrs. Len. Clohosey, Miss Margaret Loudin, and Mr. Leslie Champagne, all of Montreal.

Mr. Arthur McGrandel, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. S. McGrandel, son Stuart and daughter Eva, of L'Annonciation, Mrs. P. Leroy of Montreal, and Mrs. Jas. Bailey of New Liskeard, spent Monday calling on friends in Weir.

This community was pleased to see Mrs. A. Larose, home last week-end, having spent the past month in Montreal, undergoing treatment at the General Hospital.

Two very pretty baptisms took place in the Church of the Redeemer on Sunday morning, when the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Williams received the name "Shirley Anne" and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John MacLean received the name "Wendell John." Mr. John Owen officiated at this service.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Williams included Mr. and Mrs. P. Hobson, daughter Mercy and son Percy, the Misses Winnie Fitzjohn, Pearl Pain, and Thelma Gillespie, all of Montreal.

Miss Esther Creek, of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Creek.

Among those who spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Marion were Mr. and Mrs. Alex. MacNale and daughter Lois, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. L. Lapierre, all of Montreal.

Miss Fern Kerr, of Montreal, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kerr.

CUSHING

Mrs. Herbert Macomb, of St. Chrysostome, Que., and little daughter Lois, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dobbie this week.

Master Donald Jolley, of Calumet, is spending this week-end the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham.

Miss Elsie Graham is the guest of Miss Robinson and the Misses Foreman at Slavery Lake this week.

Mrs. Frank Gaston entertained St. Mungo's Ladies' Aid on Thursday of this week. A very interesting feature of the meeting was the christening of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gaston's twin daughters.

Mr. James Smith, of Cote St. Paul, is spending the summer months with his grandmother, Mrs. Walter Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nowlan, of Quebec, and Mrs. H. Nowlan, of Carillon, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaston on Tuesday evening of last week.

Mrs. T. W. Weir and daughters are camping at Lake Louisa this week.

Mrs. H. Sleeth, of Montreal, is spending a few holidays at the cottage with his wife and family. Mr. L. Maw and Miss Margaret Maw were week-enders at Hill Top Cottage.

Messrs. A. Fraser, of Ottawa, and W. A. MacDowell, of Wrightville, Ont., were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham and family were guests of Capt. and Mrs. George Walker, of Metcalfe, Ont., on Sunday, also of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Walker, of Russell, Ont.

CALUMET

Mr. A. Gardiner, of Montreal, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Robinson.

Miss Dorothy McLachlan and Mr. O. Scott, of Ottawa, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Brannan. Mr. Alvin McLachlan, who accompanied them to Calumet, will spend a few weeks with his grandparents.

Misses M. and E. Foreman spent a few days in Montreal.

Miss G. Gilmour, of Brownsburg, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jolley for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Brannan spent the week-end at their cottage.

Mr. Alan Comba, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Comba and little son, and Mr. R. Comba, spent the week-end in Ottawa.

Miss B. Fee, of Montreal, is spending a few weeks at the

Brownsburg Election for Mayor and Councillors

From the number of names submitted yesterday at nomination proceedings for Mayor and Council of the newly incorporated Village of Brownsburg, the approaching election would indicate great interest. The following is a list of citizens who have been placed in nomination:

For Mayor — McGibbon, S. Wyman; Mason, John; Parizeau, H.

Councillors — Brunelle, Albini; Charron, Omer; Cooper, Wm.; Dagenais, Eugene; Donaldson, James; Graham, W. J.; Legault, Omer; Lacasse, Joseph; McFaul, Geo. Ira; Ouellette, Ludger; Robbins, Arthur W.; Vowels, Frank C. Sr.

Lions Club Held Meeting

The regular meeting of the Lions Club was held last evening at the Cosy Inn with a good attendance of members and guests.

Several proposed activities were discussed and referred to the various committees for consideration.

Lion Doré Lepine was boosted by Lion Bill Cottingham. Lion Lepine's prizes were won by Lions Cottingham and G. Valois.

At the meeting held on July 17th., Lion H. M. Lavigne was boosted by Lion Germain Filion. Lions Dr. Sauvé and H. P. Johnson drew the winning numbers and received Lion Lavigne's gifts.

The next meeting will be held on Aug. 21st. at the usual time.

Seven Hurt in Accident on Lachute Road

Two trucks in which men were being transported to excavate at a gravel quarry on the Todd farm, Lachute Road, were in collision this morning at around 7 a.m. In one truck, the property of O. Guidon and driven by Mr. Poulin, were ten men engaged in digging gravel for the construction work on Main Street. This vehicle, in passing an empty truck driven by J. Morrisette, got into loose gravel, and as the driver lost control, went into the ditch.

Seven men were hurt — but not severely, except in the case of Mr. Brunelle, father of Constable Brunelle, who suffered a broken leg and was removed to hospital.

DISTRICT NEWS

BROWNSBURG

There was a meeting of the Chatham Council in the Social Club premises last Monday.

Miss A. McLennan, of Buckingham, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. Kettyle.

Mr. Clarence MacKiddie, of Ottawa, and Miss Grace MacKiddie, of Toronto, were called home on Saturday owing to the illness of their mother, Mrs. Duncan MacKiddie, who passed away on Tuesday morning. Her passing is mourned by a large circle of friends.

CUSHING WEST

Mrs. Usher, accompanied by Mesdames Murray and McDiarmid, of Montreal, who are her guests this week, motored to Ottawa on Tuesday.

Mr. Jamie Fraser, of Bancroft, Ont., arrived last week on a visit to his cousin, Mr. C. F. Kains. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Kains and Miss Edwards, of Ottawa, were also guests at the home of Mr. C. F. Kains on Saturday last.

Miss Nellie Popham, of Montreal, is spending a week's vacation as a guest of Miss Tina Young.

Mr. Gilbert Wall, well-known musical composer of New York and Montreal, spent the latter part of the week as the guest of Mr. Frank Rowan at the home of Mr. Young.

Dr. Shannon, of the Children's Memorial Hospital, Montreal, was a guest of Dr. H. B. Cushing at his home here on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Walford and daughter, of Lafayette, Ia., are motor guests of Mr. Walford's parents at Pine Cottage.

Mr. Eddie Whelehan, of Montreal, is spending a week's vacation with his friends here.

The Misses Irene Hart and Frances Twomey, of Concord, N. H., arrived last week by motor and are visiting the former's aunt, Miss M. Whelehan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. James and family of Lachute, are vacationing at Mrs. C. L. Cooke's.

Mr. E. J. Mahoney, of Montreal, is spending a two weeks' vacation as a guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. W. J. Robert. Mrs. Mahoney left on Monday to visit friends in New York and Forest Hills, L. I.

Miss Katie Hartley is spending a few weeks in Cowansville on professional duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinch and son, Reginald, of Montreal, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hartley.

Miss Ella Cunningham of Montreal is spending the week at Mr. S. Whelehan's.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hartley, also Mayor Cooze of Greenfield Park, were guests of Mrs. Hartley Sr. recently.

Mrs. R. Pinkerton is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jas. Harcourt, at New Glasgow.

A large and interested audience listened to an address by Mr. G. Valois of Lachute, on the responsibilities of farmers to their hired help," at the monthly meeting of the Frontier Women's Institute in Community Hall on Tuesday evening. This address served to clarify some matters in regard to which opinions were somewhat hazy, and it was learned with some relief that, except in cases of culpable negligence on their part, farmers are not responsible for injuries incurred by their help, as they do not come under the Compensation Act.

ST. ANDREWS EAST

Mrs. Coleman has returned from Chibougamu, where she has been visiting her husband, having made part of the trip by airplane.

Miss Lawson is spending a few days at the home of Miss Dewar.

A very pleasant ten days was spent at Col. L. M. Hooker's camp on the bank of the Ottawa River by a group of young ladies of Lachute Road and vicinity. They were accompanied by Mrs. James Judd. The group included Mrs. Judd, Misses Muriel Judd, Christina Hooker, Phyllis Doig, Janet McKenzie, Jeannette Watson, Eileen Gordon, Eileen Morrison, Kay and Eleanor Bradley, Eileen Bryson and Ruth Bradley. This camp has been the scene of many pleasant outings, and Mr. Hooker is to be congratulated on his generous spirit in allowing people to camp on this site.

GRENVILLE

The century-old walls of the Grenville Parsonage, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Crooks, rang with music and merriment last Friday night when a large crowd attended the Box Social held there on the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Crooks. Music was provided by Low's Orchestra and by Messrs. Grant Dodd and R. Dawson. The sale of boxes reached a considerable sum which was handed over to the Wardens of St. Matthew's Church. Everyone present reported a good time and the evening was voted a complete success.

Mr. E. L. Brueton, of Verdun, spent the week-end at the Rectory.

Miss M. Everett, accompanied by Miss Sweeney, of Montreal, is at present a guest of Miss L. McMillan.

Brighten up with ALL-BRAN!

You've had days when you've felt discouraged and low. Nothing seemed to go right. Frequently these dreary days can be traced to common constipation, due to lack of "bulk" in your meals.

This ailment may cause headaches and loss of energy. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and food-iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN resists digestion better than the fiber in fruits and vegetables. It is gentle—and often more effective. Isn't this natural food better than taking patent medicines—often harmful?

Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal, in chronic cases, if not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Brighten days with ALL-BRAN! Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Parliament Dissolves---Voting Set for October 14th.

COL. GEARY TO SUCCEED GUTHRIE

Just before six o'clock last night Premier Bennett announced the dissolution of the 17th. Parliament and the date of the general election as October 14. The writs will be dated tomorrow and will be returnable on November 9.

Earlier in the day there was accomplished a partial reconstruction of the Cabinet, with the swearing in of four new Ministers as follows: Col. G. R. Geary, of Toronto, as Minister of Justice to succeed Hon. Hugh Guthrie; J. E. Johnson, chief Conservative organizer, as Minister of National Revenue to succeed Hon. R. C. Matthews; W. G. Ernst, M.P. for Queens-Lunenbourg, N. S., as Minister of Fisheries; Samuel Gobeil, M.P., for Compton, as Minister Without Portfolio.

It was stated by the Prime Minister that for some time at least, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, recently appointed to the Senate, would continue as Minister of Finance so that he might complete important work already undertaken in connection with refunding operations this fall. Two other Cabinet portfolios, those of Post Office and Marine, have yet to be filled. The names of Hon. Maurice Dupre, Solicitor General, and Lucien Gendron, K.C., of Montreal, continue to be mentioned in connection with these.

Appointment of a number of Senators and judges was also announced by the Prime Minister. For New Brunswick, Hon. A. T. Leger, Provincial Treasurer in the Tilley Ministry, and Hon. B. Frank Smith, M.P. for Victoria-Carleton, are named to the Senate; Hon. W. H. Harrison, Attorney-General in that Cabinet, is named to the Court of Appeal of New Brunswick, J. H. L. Fairweather, K.C., to the King's Bench, and Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, former Premier, becomes judge of the counties of Saint John and Albert, and also a local Judge in Admiralty.

For Quebec one Senator is Hon. Dr. Eugene Paquet, who was a member of the Meighen Ministry in 1926. It is understood the second is J. C. H. Dussault, K.C., of Montreal.

For Manitoba there are named two new Senators, Col. H. A. Mullins, M.P. for Marquette, and John T. Haig, M.L.A., and well-known lawyer of Winnipeg.

The personnel of the Canadian Wheat Board, as announced this evening by Premier Bennett, is as follows: Chairman, John I. McFarland, Calgary; vice-president, David L. Smith, of Winnipeg, and the third member is Dr. H. Grant, Assistant Professor of Economy at the University of Manitoba.

Breaks Leg at Lacrosse Game

In the match on Sunday afternoon, when Alexandria lacrosse team were testing their skill with Lachute in a well-contested game, Stanley Church, star player of our locals, met with a painful accident to his right leg, which was broken below the knee, just as the whistle had blown, in closing with victory in Lachute favor.

Fire at Clear Lake

Lachute Fire Brigade responded to a hurried call from Dunany yesterday afternoon, where the summer home of Mrs. E. H. McCoy was completely destroyed by fire, and it was with great difficulty that the neighboring buildings escaped as the danger was great owing to their close proximity. Everything was a total loss.

SPEED-BOAT LIMIT IS 6 M.P.H ON CANALS

Six miles an hour instead of four is the new speed limit for boats up to 40 feet in length in the Carillon - Grenville canals, according to notification from the Department of Canals in Ottawa. Many yachtsmen have found it difficult to cut their speed down as low as four miles an hour through the several beautiful miles of canals east of the Club, avoiding the rapids in the Ottawa where Dollard des Ormeaux made his historic stand over three centuries ago.

The waves at greater speeds cause damage to the walls of the canals, and on one occasion a careless motor-boatist speeded up the canal wide open doing forty miles per hour, and lifted a work-boat clean up onto the bank, leaving it high and dry.

Several cruisers are expected at the Seignior Club this week for the fourth annual horse show, from Thursday to Sunday. Accommodation will be at a premium and many owners may sleep aboard their crafts.

Wedding of Interest

A wedding of great interest took place recently at Inverness, when Miss Grace Elizabeth McKinnon was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick Copeland Walker. The ceremony took place on the beautiful lawn of the bride's parents, and was performed by the Rev. D. E. Flint, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Inverness. Mr. and Mrs. Walker spent their honeymoon in the Muskoka lakes, Miss Ethel Walker and Lakes, also visiting their sister, Mrs. Rogers of Lachute, and their many other friends. They will make their home in Kenogami.

More Roads for the North

A delegation composed of Mayor L. Adamson of the Township of Wentworth and of Councillors G. Holt, A. R. Mosley, and secretary, N. Morrison, conducted by L. L. Legault, K.C., met the Hon. J. E. Perreault on the 9th. of August last, and obtained a grant of $4000. for this year to construct the Laurel, Montfort, and Morin route from Pine Hill, St. Michel, Heights.

The government has pledged itself to pay 75% of the total cost.

The Late Mrs. J. W. Todd

There passed away at her home, Lachute, Que., on August 8th., 1935, another old and respected resident of the County in the person of Mrs. John W. Todd, (nee Jean MacGillivray). The deceased, who was in her 88th. year, was born in St. Jerusalem and lived there until the death of her husband over 32 years ago, since which time she has resided in Lachute.

The funeral took place from her late home on Saturday, August 10th., to Lachute Cemetery, and in the absence of her pastor, the Rev. W. B. Rosborough, was conducted by the Rev. J. D. Macaskill of the United Church, St. Andrews, Que. The pall bearers were Andrew Walker, George Fraser, James Leishman, Paul Leishman and A. A. McGibbon. She leaves to mourn her death, two sons, Guy and Gilbert of Lachute, and two daughters, Mrs. G. W. Hardie, of Brownsburg, and Mrs. H. J. Hammond, Hawkesbury, Ont. One brother, Simon MacGillivray, Montreal, also survives.

QUOTATION FOR TODAY

Give me the money that has been spent in war, and I will clothe every man, woman and child in an attire of which kings and queens would be proud. I will build a school-house in every valley over the whole earth.— I will crown every hillside with a place of worship consecrated to the gospel of peace.

—Charles Sumner.

YOUTH DROWNED IN NORTH RIVER

While bathing in the North River at Plage Lemay, two miles from St. Jerome, James Byrne, 16 years of age, of St. Jerome, slipped from a stone and was drowned. The body was recovered some time later and the case was disposed of by Coroner J. R. Brais, M.D., with a verdict of accidental death.

Information given the coroner was that the boy was bathing with several others and had been sitting on a large stone some distance from the shore. Suddenly he slipped from the stone into the water and failed to reappear. Mrs. H. E. Rochon, who resides on an island nearby, saw the mishap and summoned the police. Chief Latour went to the scene and dived into the water himself with E. Corbeil and Fernand Charbonneau in an effort to recover the body. Charbonneau was successful, and artificial respiration was practised on shore for half an hour, but the victim failed to revive. Dr. J. A. Latour had been summoned and pronounced the boy dead.

SOME SIDELIGHTS OF EARLY ADMINISTRATION IN LACHUTE

Mr. J. S. Giles, Editor The Watchman,

Dear Sir,—Being very much interested in your extracts of the Watchman files of fifty and twenty-five years ago. You have given lately some details of the incorporation of the Town of Lachute in 1885 and in connection with it, I thought that your readers might enjoy knowing some interesting matters that I have unearthed from the archives of the City Hall.

It seems as if the Town, after its incorporation, has had more expenses than revenue for in 1887 a loan By-Law to borrow $6,700.00 was approved of by the rate-payers. The money so obtained was to pay some debts incurred from the time of the incorporation. Among the principal items mentioned in the By-Law I notice the following:

Peter Cruise, $54.00 for hospital lot and building and repairing the bridges known as Cruise's and Little Gully.

James Barley, $300.00 for contract Fish's Bridge. Duncan Joss and William Moore, $450.00 for contract West River Bridge.

Parish of St-Jerusalem, $564.03 settlement between Town and Parish Abbott, Tait & Abbott, $25.00 Law expenses.

R. P. de la Ronde, $141.20 Law expenses.

I. A. N. MacKay, $300.00 Law expenses.

William Davidson, $78.00 services as Town Officer.

Gavin J. Walker, $226.85 services as Secretary-treasurer.

William Perry, $500.00 for fire engine.

Jas. A. Ogilvie, $325.25 for fire hose.

Thomas McQuat, $52.24 expenses to fire engine.

Gavin J. Walker, banker, $518.53 costs of incorporation.

Various Merchants, $17.50 charity to poor families during small-pox epidemic.

James Dudderidge, $145.00 services for surveying the Town.

Joseph David, $409.00 contract building hospital.

Dudderidge & Mitchell, $55.00 for hose reel.

Patrick Dunbar, $45.15 for expenses in connection with first election of Mayor and Aldermen.

R. P. Manley, $4.50 for chairs for the Council Room.

The By-laws for a term of fifty years maturing in 1937. It therefore means that the old fire engine which has been out of service for many years is not paid for yet. The same thing can be said of the old bridges which have all been replaced by steel ones. The new steel bridges are not all paid yet neither, but our second charter secured in 1920 is paid although the first charter of 1885 is still owing.

The interest on the bonds was 6% and the whole issue was sold to the Standard Life Assurance Co., which still owns them. Out of the original amount of $6,700.00 the Town still owes $4,400.00 maturing on Nov. 1st., 1937.

Our grandfathers certainly were good financiers for they went into expenses for their sons and grandsons to pay back without the latter having the benefit of the articles purchased long ago.

G. FILION, Secretary Lachute Town.

HULL - OTTAWA DISPUTE

HON. T. D. BOUCHARD HOPES TO ARRANGE SETTLEMENT

Hon. T. D. Bouchard, Minister of Municipal Affairs, Trade and Commerce, will meet the mayors of Ottawa, Hull and some of the small municipalities adjacent to these two cities at a conference to be held Friday afternoon of this week. The conference is for the purpose of endeavoring to put an end to the little war which has been raging between Ottawa and Hull, and the other municipalities, as regards taxation of outside merchants and farmers.

Mayor Theo. Lambert of Hull, and Mayor P. Nolan, of Ottawa, are believed to be willing to have reciprocity in the matter of permitting outsiders to do business in their respective municipalities, but the difficulty has been as regards the smaller municipalities. As matters stand at the present time Ottawa charges heavy licence fees against Hull merchants delivering goods in Ottawa, or selling in the Ottawa markets, and vice versa.

Congratulations

The many friends of Mrs. John Mackie will join with her family in wishing her Many Happy Returns of her 92nd birthday, which she celebrates today, surrounded by her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren, who will spend the day with her. We are pleased to report that she is in the best of health and spirits. The Watchman joins in trusting she may be spared many many more birthdays to come.

Great Activity on Main Street

Work on the Main Street is making great headway. Quite naturally there are the usual critics who line the roadside and discuss the why's and wherefores as to modes of procedure, but Mr. T. Pilon who is the road boss for the contractor and has had 16 years of experience at road making, just has the men in town, everyone to their job, and everything is running in systematic order. The soil taken from the road is being divided among the citizens, many of whom are taking advantage of the opportunity to level up their properties. Considering the work entailed, it is being executed with but slight inconvenience to traffic. About 65 men, 7 teams and 20 trucks are engaged in the work.

Lachute and Early Closing

To Editor of the Watchman:

Dear Sir:—

I have no desire to interfere in the affairs of Lachute Town, but I feel that the farming community and others, who patronize the merchants, are vitally interested and the fact that the stores are closed four nights out of the six, it means a great inconvenience.

If certain merchants desire to go to the lakes for their evenings, well and good, but why should those who are willing and anxious to serve their customers be prevented from doing so.

I believe there are many business men not in favor of closing so many nights, as it is often a great inconvenience, especially to those living at a distance.

I think our Motto should be "A Pleasure to Serve."

SPEEDY MARITIME STAR WINS 100 AND 200 METERS EVENTS

The elusive sprint title she has sought for years was in the grasp of Aileen Meagher on Saturday last, following clean-cut victories at 100 and 200 meters in the women's Dominion track and field championships. The slim Halifax girl streaked through four heats and the finals to prove conclusively her right to speed honors and a berth on Canada's Olympic team next year.

Stiffest opposition to Miss Meagher's bid came in the 200 meters when Violet Montgomery, a tall challenger from Winnipeg, forced the Nova Scotian within one-tenth of a second of her own Canadian record for the distance. A superb burst of speed from the long-striding Maritimer brought victory in the last dozen yards in the good time of 25.5 seconds. Toronto's Hsieh Hopkins was a close-up third.

Track records remained intact as early promise of ideal conditions was shattered when intermittent heavy showers left the grounds of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association rain-soaked and the track heavy. Only records of the day were set in junior field events—high jump and discus throw.

Laurels Athletic Club of Toronto won team aggregate honors when they amassed a total of 63 points, a margin of 21 over the second-place Pats Olympic Club of Montreal. Toronto Lakesides finished in third position with 29 points and Hamilton Olympic fourth with 22.

Miss Meagher had an easier time in the 100 meters, the event she has been unable to win in a Dominion meet until Saturday. Noted as a slow starter, the only senior entry from the Maritimes unleashed a terrific burst of speed in the closing stages to win her heats and final.

Miss Meagher is a niece of Mrs. Jos. Bernier, and was in Europe last year attending the British Empire games in London.

Toronto laurels accounted for both senior and junior 400 meter relays, winning the major event in 50.7 seconds with Manitoba's team second and Hamilton third. Lakeside was second in the junior with Pats, Olympic Club of Montreal third.

Pats accounted for the intermediate 400 meter relay with a clean-cut decisio over the second-place Laurel Club, Lakesides finished third in this event, negotiated in 53.1 seconds.

Billie Wagner of Toronto Ladies threw the baseball 187 feet to win the senior event from Winnipeg's Robina Higgins. Thelma Walmesley of Copper Cliff, Ont., was third.

Sneeze was Amplified

An amusing anecdote of the World War, now come to light, has to do with a party of observers sitting with their microphone in front of the forward trenches. Night after night one of the receivers showed signs of an explosion of unusual violence somewhere in No Man's Land, so a party silently crept up to investigate. They found — a shell-hole and into this large shell-hole it had become the nightly custom for an enemy sniper to crawl. What with the dampness, the sniper simply had to sneeze. The explosion, located by the microphone as only a sneeze.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

VACATION PICTURES

Land or sea offers unlimited opportunities for snapshotting.

WITH the arrival of really warm summer weather, beautiful trees and flowers, we begin to think in earnest about outdoor life and vacations. I suppose one could go on a vacation without a camera but that would be like trying to sail a boat without a rudder. To say the least it would seem that something important was missing.

When planning a vacation you should look forward to the snapshots you are going to get, for on your return to home and work, and in later years when your trips become fond memories, you can always turn to your snapshots and enjoy your vacations over and over again. Snapshots pay dividends on your vacation investments in continued pleasure long after your return.

There is one important thing to keep in mind in vacation snapshotting and that is the variety of light conditions you may encounter in your travels. Picture taking might well be classed in four groups, according to the exposure they need, and by adopting as a standard exposure for each group, one that is intermediate between the shortest and longest that will make a satisfactory exposure, there will be only four exposures to consider and these can be memorized.

These four groups are as follows: Number one:—Marine and beach scenes and extreme distant landscapes. Number two:—Ordinary landscapes showing the sky with the principal subject of your picture in the foreground. Number three:—Nearby portraits in the open shade

... by that I mean not under trees or the roof of a porch and last—shaded nearby scenes.

These four groups, or classes, just about cover the different types of pictures you will want to take on your vacation. With modern-day film and cameras, exposure problems have been greatly simplified but it is still necessary to use a little good judgment and not expect the impossible from your camera.

There are many types of cameras to meet every requirement of the photographer, whether he is an amateur or a professional, but no camera is capable of taking all types of pictures under all conditions. It is true that some cameras are more versatile than others. One may have an extremely fast lens which permits the taking of snapshots under adverse lighting conditions and if it also has a fast shutter you can take pictures of subjects moving at extreme speeds. Other cameras have lenses and shutters of various speeds to take pictures—and good ones—within certain limits and conditions.

Almost every dealer in cameras and photographic supplies has printed outdoor exposure tables giving details of exposures, etc., in the four classes mentioned above. Ask your dealer for one of these outdoor exposure guides and then go forth with your camera and take the kind of pictures you'll be proud to show your friends.

USE YOUR IMAGINATION

"I am making cake," cried little May Tiny pail in hand—
Pouring water on to heaps
Of shining, sea-beach sand.
"Mine's a dam," said Bobbie Lee
Stroking sun-tanned shins,
Yet there they stood those tiny heaps
As much alike as twins.
What fun they had, those little folk Imagining by the sea—
Could we but do that with our time,
What a happy world 'twould be!

WHO LIKES APPLES!

Prudence was sulking, quite a dreadful thing to do. But when a little girl's favorite apples are Transparents and her absent-minded dad brings Duchess instead, and not too ripe ones at that, for her after noon tea party—Prudence thought that she should be allowed the privilege of sulking and showing that she was quite out of temper.

Her daddy thought that she sulked and showed her temper quite too often for a nice, well brought-up little girl, but jolly young Aunt Molly said that the name was all to blame. "If I had a name like poor little Prudence here, I would sulk and name to call a poor little inno-show my temper too. Such a cent babe", she chuckled as she heard the vigorous tap tap of a cane coming down the hall. "Grandmother Prudence is coming to the defence" she remarked, dropping demurely into the hammock. She was busily knitting when Grandmother Parker peeped out of the door to see who had been running her name down. Small Prudence had been named for her daddy's mother.

"Prudence is a wonderful name" the old lady asserted after a few minutes of silence. "It is a name to live up to, and if some people I know only had a little of it in their make-up they would not be so senseless as to be setting little folk against their names." Grandmother Parker was looking at her small namesake's rebellious face, not realizing that it was apples, not names—that were the cause of such sulky frowns.

Without waiting to hear the remainder of Grandmother Parker's speech small Prudence grasped the basket of apples and "casting prudence to the wind" as her big brother Ted accused her so often of doing, she started out to the back lane quite determined to throw away the offending apples. She heard voices and stopped to look. A new family were moving into the house that had been empty so long in the lane. A group of little dark-faced children were huddled together watching their elders moving the rickety furniture into place.

Prudence forgot about her anger in watching them. "That baby is cute" she murmured. "I hope Mother will let me play with it. It is much nicer than my big doll."

Thinking of her doll brought her afternoon tea party to mind; she must go and get her doll dressed before Mina came. Mina's doll always looked so nice Aunt Molly said it was because Mina's doll always looked so nice. Aunt Molly said it was because Mina was careful with it and did not throw it down in dusty corners as Prudence did. Jumping up quickly, she stumbled over the basket of apples.

"Oh dear she cried," there are those horrid apples again. I won't eat them. I won't! I won't! Daddy should remember what I like." The pout began to appear again and all her pretty smiles fled before it.

A gust of merry laughter from the group of children drew her attention again. One of them had a toy monkey that climbed a pole when it was wound up. Some of the older folks had found it in the house.

Prudence liked the sound of their laughter and wished they would laugh again. Suddenly she thought of the despised apples. Picking the basket up, she ran to the back-yard fence and dumped them all right out in front of the little foreign children. "Who likes apples?" she called faintly. They did not understand what she was saying but they knew what apples were when they saw them, and they scrambled after them with joyous shouts while Prudence looked longingly on. When she told her mother what she had done, Mother said "You will not have any for your own party." "Ah" said Prudence, "I shall not mind now. It made me glad inside to see how pleased those children were."

Next story—"Charms."

Lovingly, Aunt Jean.

Outstanding Features Include Creator and His Band and Spectacular Revue of Revues.
Next Monday, August 19, the Ottawa exhibition will be officially opened by Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden. It will be the 48th annual of the Central Canada Exhibition Association and every indication is that even the marked successes of previous years will be eclipsed.

Entries received for various departments indicate that visitors will see the finest horses, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and pets and dogs in competition for the generous prizes offered. The saddle and harness classes which will be judged in the evening in the Coliseum arena will make a wonderful show for horse lovers.

Special features are outstanding. Notably will be the matchless Creator and his band, to be heard in two free concerts daily. For the grandstand evening performance the headline offering will be the Revue of Revues, one of the most elaborate productions ever presented on an outdoor stage, with dances, music and comedy, presented by a talented cast, mostly girls. Stellar vaudeville and fireworks will round out the bill.

In the afternoons the grandstand vaudeville bill will be augmented by horse races for four days and automobile racing on the Friday and Saturday. These will give real thrills as the fastest of dirt track speedsters will compete.

From far-off India will be seen a baby jungle which will attract old and young. Wild animals, live fish and game birds also will be shown by the Ontario Game and Fisheries Department.

DINING ON ADMISSION TICKETS

A "can of food" was the price of admission to a Parents' Night of the 40th. Toronto (Church of the Redeemer) Scout Group. The result, 118 "admissions" toward the food supply of the summer's camp.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES ADD- ING SCOUT BOOKS

One of the signs of the increasing interest in Scouting is the adding of books on Scouting subjects to public libraries. Recently 19 new volumes were added to the Scout section of the public library at Medicine Hat, Alta., and 54 to the library at Saskatoon.

AS A GIFT, A COUPLE OF ELEPHANTS

As an expression of appreciation of their reception and entertainment during a visit to Japan, the Boy Scouts of Siam presented a pair of Siamese elephants to the Scouts of the Flowery Kingdom. The animals were driven 200 miles from the interior of Siam, and are now ensconced respectively in the zoos at Tokio and Osaka.

BRIDGEWATER'S SILVER JUBILEE ARCH

The citizens of Bridgewater, N. S., are maintaining throughout the summer the King's Silver Jubilee Arch erected on the bridge spanning the La Have river. To the local Scouts and Girl Guides has been assigned the duty of raising and lowering each day the Union Jack that tops the arch. In turn, week about, two Scouts or Guides, in full uniform, raise the flag promptly at 8 a.m. and lower it at sunset.

bile show, pure food show, junior agriculture competitions, model home, a new midway and scores of other factors will appeal to young and old, urban and rural visitors.

Reduced railway and bus fares have been arranged and special provision in the grounds has been made for parking automobiles. Coupon tickets giving five admissions for one dollar may be obtained from branches of the Bank of Nova Scotia and at various business places before the opening of the exhibition. These tickets are transferable, and the purchasers effect a saving of fifty cents on each strip. There will be six full days and nights, Aug. 19 to 24.

A. Because it makes man moan.

Weird Eastern Country Seems Another Sphere

The name, Mountains of the Moon, is believed to have arisen from a mistaken translation from Arabic; but it has fitted well into the atmosphere of mystery that has surrounded Ruwenzori for centuries; and it has a figurative justification because of the weird appearance of the mountain slopes. The relatively few white men who have made the arduous climb have all noted the impression that they had blundered into some alien world. The combination of excessive moisture, altitude and equatorial sun has produced a unique vegetation that in many ways is utterly fantastic.

After emerging from the dense tropical forests of the lower slopes, a climber feels like a Lilliputian visiting the meadows of Broddingnag. He walks among parsley plants, nine feet high, "bird-seed" three times his height, and heather plants, relatives of the low Scottish shrub, that have expanded into great trees 70 and 80 feet tall. To add to the weirdness, colored mosses—brown, yellow, green, white and red—are all about underfoot and overhead. They grow in huge cushions that encircle the limbs of the heath trees like giant mushrooms impaled on a skewer. The unearthly appearance is heightened usually by fog, through which the strange growths loom dimly; and there is a continual drip of water from limbs and moss clumps.—Montreal Family Herald.

Warm Winds Aloft

The air-layer 145 to 220 miles above the earth, called the ionosphere, is fairly constant in temperature, and is disturbed by warm winds having a temperature of 300 degrees Kelvin, or about 80 degrees Fahrenheit, it was reported to the Physical Review, by Dr. E. D. Hulbert of the Naval Research laboratory. The ionosphere winds blow in all directions from the point directly beneath the sun, and their paths are similar to those of streams of a liquid poured on a rotating sphere.—Literary Digest.

Mayor Advocates Tax Levies on "Incomes, Inheritances, Sales"... Would Abolish Tax on Real Property

AN AMERICAN VIEW

George D. Bogle, Mayor of Denver, in the Christain Science Monitor
"Our Jumbled Taxes"

The diversified demands on public revenues resulting from unemployment constitute the greatest test ever made on a jumbled taxation condition. I use the word "jumbled" for the reason that it does not seem to me that the word "system," which is so often used in speaking taxes, is either applicable or accurate.

It is my firm conviction that nation-wide conditions demand nothing less than a tax "system." We desperately need a system so co-ordinated that national, state and local governments may work co-operatively instead of at loggerheads with many conflicting imposts and an endless chain of tax collectors.

Since this nation was founded, and since many nations older than ours were established, property has borne the heaviest load in the cost of government. In Colorado 78 per cent of all taxes are paid by real estate. Men and women who have built homes and businesses on real property have been taxed and taxed and taxed. Relief has been promised but it seldom has been forthcoming. To add to the burden, a national and world-wide financial stringency insistently calls for more and more taxes just at a time when property owners are least able to bear them. As a matter of fact, we have reached the property tax saturation point in the United States—the stage where any further levies are more than offset by increased delinquencies.

It is my firm conviction—and I do not wish to appear sensationally grave merely for the effect—that our entire governmental structure will break down unless we substitute for old methods of taxation a really efficient, new style tax system, such as outlined in this article.

I am in favor of ultimately abolishing the tax on real property, and of raising all needed revenue for the operation of federal, state, county and city governments from three tax sources: incomes, inheritances and sales.

In effecting this change, I believe the first step should be to abolish the tax on homes and owner-operated farms. This plan could be made to distribute taxes justly, not only in times of business depression, but at all other times as well.

I am unalterably opposed to tax-exempt securities, and to all other forms of tax exemption, for instance, the exemption of salaries of government officials and employees. I see no justice in tax exemptions. I think the President of the United States should be taxed on his whole income; that members of Congress, state Governors, and all other federal, state, county and municipal employees—even the Mayor of Denver—should pay their share of the Government's cost, just like the butcher, the baker, and the candlestick maker.

No further interest-bearing national securities or interest-bearing state bonds should be issued. Let currency represent both. The capital that is now invested in these securities would then be compelled to seek other channels for investment and be subject to just taxation.

I am not a Socialist, but I do believe that the nation's wealth has been concentrated in the hands of too few of our people and that this situation is growing more and more acute under the present methods of taxation. Only recently the Bureau of International Revenue reported that although the nation's income sank in 1933 to the lowest level in eighteen years, the number of persons whose incomes exceeded $1,000,000 a year had doubled in 1933 over 1932.

Levying of sufficient income, inheritance, and sales taxes to cover all governmental expenses would throw the entire burden on those who have the ability to pay, and relieve those whose failure to pay has been amply demonstrated. In addition, it would in years to come effect a more equitable distribution of the nation's wealth and would result in more and better homes.

The "bull in the china shop"—in other words, the center of our trouble—is in Washington, and it seems to me that attempts on the part of local tax associations, city councils and state legislatures to work on this tax problem is simply a futile effort to lead the bull out of the china shop by the tail instead of by the ring in his nose.

Members of Congress were elected as representatives of their local communities. They should study the necessity for public revenues from every angle. And they should study the available sources for this revenue—every source, that is to say, except the property tax—and then they should establish a single collection agency, preferably the local governmental units. All funds should be sent to Washington and then partially reallocated to the states, counties and cities, in, of course, an exact proportion to amount contributed. In other words, place all the cost of government on the three imposts and have all collections made by a single unit of government, which unit can make the distribution of revenues to the various branches of government.

I think the primary foundation for a nation-wide, co-operative tax system lies in compulsory local registration and annual income reporting of every citizen in the nation.

I believe this is in keeping with the declaration: "One nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

August 14, 1885.

The road and bridge committees have let contract for repairs to Fish's bridge to Messrs. Duncan Joss and Wm. Munro, of Lachute, for the sum of One hundred and sixty-five dollars.

On Saturday night between 11 and 12 o'clock a gang of rouses going along Foundry St. shouting and singing, when opposite the residence of Mr. Davidson, threw a stone through one of the windows, the stone weighing half a pound. Full benefit was meted out for breaking the peace.

On Sunday night fire wiped out much of the village of St. Eugene.

The petition set up in the legal proceedings before Hon. Judge Belanger, that Thomas Barron had usurped and thrust himself into the office of Mayor of Lachute Town and held and unlawfully exercised that office by taking the oath and presiding and assisting at meetings of persons styling themselves as Councillors. The pleas set up that Thomas Barron was lawfully elected and had a right to the office.

Great interest was manifest in the Atlantic Low Tariff Cabling Organization by the announcement of Mr. W. A. Leggo, of the rates being only one fifth of those that the patrons of the existing Trans-Atlantic Cabling Company now pay. The dealing with so great an amount of traffic in an inexpensive manner is made possible by the employment of the Leggo System of Rapid Automatic Cabling, valued on this route because of its great earning power, of Thirty Millions of Dollars, represented by Thirty Thousand Shares of $1000 each.

SILO HISTORY

The silo has an interesting history and its ancient origin outdates that of the barn and crib, according to an authority at the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. It was probably first used by the Teutons as a pit for making that old culinary favorite, sauerkraut. Julius Caesar adopted the idea for storing feed for his animals during the Roman campaigns, and the word "silo" itself is derived from the Latin "sirus" or "silus", meaning cellar. The first silos closely followed the Latin conception. They were mere holes in the ground lined with straw or stone and filled with cut fodder, principally peas, beans, lentils, clover, or cabbage. The pioneer settlers along the rough shores of New England found the ground difficult to dig and surmounted the obstacle by building their pits above the ground. So originated the modern form of the silo.

The Part the C. N. R. Plays in Marketing Canada's Crops.

So essential to the trade, commerce, and general welfare of Canada are the various classes of freight carried in the course of a year by Canadian National Railways that it is difficult to give pride of place to any particular one, but in their all-round importance to every section of the community, agricultural products must rank very high. They form the backbone of the nation's business activities and contribute directly and in large volume to its industry and employment everywhere.

During 1934 the C. N. R. carried over eight and a half million tons of agricultural produce, being an increase of 6.44% over 1933. In this total are included 134,700,000 bushels of wheat, 14,000,000 bushels of corn, 35,700,000 bushels of oats, and 15,500,000 bushels of barley; the aggregate of these commodities showing an increase of 4.1% when compared with the preceding year.

It is interesting to note that the average haul of each ton of wheat was approximately seven hundred and fifty miles.

Without the rail facilities of the C.N.R. no doubt some of this agricultural produce might still have reached a market, but it could only have done so at a much higher cost to the producer, and the quantity would necessarily have been negligible... for practically all the crops which enter into the figures above enumerated were placed in freight cars at points where the only rail transportation obtainable was that provided by Canadian National Railways.

These crops come from far scattered districts... in many cases from sparsely populated communities... but they are the result of the labours of men and women who each year create millions and millions of dollars of new wealth for Canada. In this work the C.N.R. is their partner and helper.

As is well known the crop movements of recent years have been much below normal... much below the standard of productivity of our prairies and agricultural areas, and much below the volume which the C. N. R. is equipped to handle. The figures quoted should, therefore, be considered in that light.

The carriage of agricultural produce is, of course, only one of the activities of the C.N.R. In every branch of rail transportation it is equipped to give the best of service... all the year round... under all conditions... economically, courteously, and competently. Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

During the present Summer season the C.N.R. is providing special fares and excursions between points throughout Canada. These are exceptional travel bargains. The nearest C.N.R. Agent will be glad to give full particulars.

CANADIAN HORSES TAKE WELL IN AUSTRALIA

Down in Australia Canadian Percheron horses are making a name for themselves. Some high-grade Percherons were imported from Canada last year and received very favorable comment, according to the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways. It would appear there is an opening for Canadian horses in Australia, particularly Percherons and Clydesdales.

NEW BRUNSWICK WATERS BEING STOCKED WITH TROUT

Anglers need have no fear of lack of sport in New Brunswick with the constant restocking of lakes and rivers which is being carried on, according to the Fish and Game Department of the Canadian National Railways. One branch of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Protective Association placed half a million trout fry during the present season to date. The Association is also active in the propagation of pheasants and the Fredericton district report over 1,200 eggs produced by birds which were imported to re-establish stocks.

ADMIRALTY MESSENGER CARRIES KING'S TIME

The King's Time prevails in London, according to the Canadian National Railways, which describes the formalities that are undergone daily when the Irish Mail carries the King's Time to Holyhead. Each day a special messenger brings a watch from Holyhead to London. The watch is carried to the Post Office, wound and handed back to the Overseer, who carries it to Euston station where it is placed on the Night Mail to carry the official time back to Holyhead. An Admiralty messenger has been performing this function daily since 1837.

EDITORIAL

AFTER THE ILL WIND

MAYBE this late lamented chain letter craze wasn't a dead loss, after all.

Postal authorities at Denver, where the whole business started, checked up on the results the other day, and discovered that the extra mail caused by the fad netted Denver postoffice workers extra pay to the extent of about $20,000.

Furthermore, Uncle Sam himself profited, Denver postoffice receipts for the two months the fad lasted running some $50,000 above normal.

The postal service in Canada also benefited at various points, including Montreal, though not proportionately.

It is both surprising and gratifying to learn that this, one of the silliest fads the American people ever took up, actually did someone some good. In fact, it looks as if everyone profited by it—except the suckers who mailed dimes and dollars.

The Ottawa Spotlight

A Weekly Review of National Affairs
By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, August 13.—While Premier Bennett sits in his office in the East Block grappling with the numerous and weighty problems which still confront the administration, or reconciling the conflicting claims of faithful party workers for senate seats, deputy ministerships, commission memberships and the like, his three political opponents are touring the country making hay while the sun shines. Mr. Bennett will ultimately get through the mountain of work which was piled on his desk when he got back from his brief and mysterious holiday, and then the country will get the benefit of a fourth outburst of oratory. In Mr. Bennett's case it will be largely 'ethereal'—as one of the wags in the House termed the January addresses, much to Mr. Bennett's annoyance—on account of the prime minister's health; but in addition to radio addresses, he intends to make at least a brief appearance in every province. Now that Mr. Mackenzie King has completed his radio series, has spoken at Kingston and is now in Western Ontario, and the Liberal program has been revealed, the electors can begin to weigh the four platforms, and—if they have not already made up their minds—decide where their support will go on October the 14th.

In a word, isn't this the choice:

Mr. Woodsworth: socialism and planned economy.

Mr. Stevens: state-regulated capitalism and extensive public works.

Mr. Bennett: A 'Reform' version of 'Canada First'.

Mr. Mackenzie King: Back to parliamentary government and forward to trade liberation.

SUMMARY PROCEDURE

Canada
Province of Quebec
District of Terrebonne,
No. 5554.

SUPERIOR COURT

ALFRED MASSON, garage-owner of the parish of L'Annonciation, district of Terrebonne, Plaintiff.

JOSEPH BRIGGS, of the city and district of Montreal.

The defendant is ordered to appear within a month.

St. Jerome, Aug. 14, 1935.

The prothonotary of the Superior Court.

JOSEPH FORTIER

A22-2c.

Of course brief generalizations are never quite fair or adequate: still, those seem to be the 'broad lines'. I saw some reference to a denial by Mr. Woodsworth that the C.C.F. party was socialistic, but isn't the sub-title of the C.C.F. still what it was in 1932, namely, Farmer-Labour-Socialist?

THE WHEAT PROBLEM AGAIN

The wheat problem has again been demanding the attention of the Cabinet; and by the time this appears in print the policy of the new Board may have been made public. It is still a grave matter; in some respects it gets worse the longer it is confronted; but developments on the North American continent and in the Argentine have at least relieved certain aspects of it. The yields of wheat on the American continent may be 300 million bushels lower than appeared likely a month or six weeks ago; and this may be sufficient to save western Canada and the Canadian government from the debacle which appeared imminent should a heavy harvest have been reaped in the United States and Western Canada.

It would make an interesting argument as to whether a heavy crop at a low price or a light crop at a higher price is the better for Canada as a whole. Just now the latter seems preferable. It is small comfort for the western farmer already in fearful difficulties to be told that the rust or drought which has again robbed him of his harvest is beneficial to Canada as a whole, however. And the transportation Companies, including the government-owned Canadian National, need all the volume of traffic they can get. But the tax-payer in Canada owns 200 million bushels of wheat from last year, and if the effect of drought and rust in other parts of the world enables him to get a decent price out of that 200 millions—enough, say, to break even: a tremendous potential loss, and new burdens of direct taxation on the Canadian people, will have been avoided.

HELPS THE GOVERNMENT

From a political viewpoint, the deterioration of wheat prospects in various parts of the world, including Canada, turns out to be favorable to the Bennett government. The very thorny problem of setting a minimum price of wheat is not quite such a cruel dilemma as it appeared six weeks ago. If the United States had come through with a large harvest; and if Canada was heading for a 'bumper' crop, it would have been very difficult to justify a minimum price of more than, perhaps, 60 cents a bushel at Fort William, which would be little more than 40 cents a bushel at the average country elevator. This would have been greeted with a cry of indignation and alarm from the Lake of the Woods to the Rockies. Now, with much smaller world surpluses looming, it may be possible to set the price as high as 75 cents a bushel without inviting disaster. If the western wheat grower is assured of a minimum of 75 cents, plus whatever additional sums the actual sale of the wheat will bring; he will be much better off than he feared. Whether wheat can be grown for 75 cents basis No. 1. Fort William at a profit is, perhaps doubtful. Some farmers can do it in some years, of course. But in any event a basic price of 75 cents would enable most farmers with a decent crop to 'get by'.

SIMPLIFYING THE PROBLEM

(Toronto Star)

If a group of people were wrecked upon an otherwise uninhabited island, where all were kept busy climbing the trees for coconuts, cultivating little gardens, weaving garments out of grasses and making furniture out of trees and rushes—if that happened and then, by some miracle, there floated to that island a machine which would enable one man to pick all the coconuts for the community, a second machine which would enable another man to care for all the gardens, a third machine which would enable a man to make clothes for all and a fourth which would enable one person to make all furniture required, would it be a calamity? On the contrary, there would be an equal supply of products with a less expenditure of labor and hence with a greater degree of leisure. The world's problem is not by any means so simple as that, but it is along those lines. And the ultimate solution, though it involves less labor, does not involve misery and want. On the contrary, there will be more things than ever before for more people than ever before. The fulfilment may still be in the distance, but in time it will be achieved.

IDA MCCLUSKEY DIES AT MONTREAL

The sad death of Ida Margaret Elena McCluskey, which occurred at the Notre Dame Hospital, Montreal, on August 6th., came as a shock to the whole community.

Ida who was only 13 years of age, was born in Laurel, and made her home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt. McCluskey there. While swimming on Silver Lake, she had a severe fall on a raft, which proved fatal, only eight days after an operation.

The funeral service was held in the English Church at Laurel, conducted by the Rev. I. Owen, in the midst of many sorrowing friends and relatives, interment taking place at Lost River, beside the late Mrs. Jas. McCluskey. The pall bearers were Messrs. Victor and George Leblanc, William, Bertie, Geo. and Willie Morrow. A large number of floral tributes were sent from friends and relatives in respect of the departed. Kind hearted and always cheery, she will be greatly missed by her many chums and relatives. She leaves to mourn her loss, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Leblanc, three sisters, of Cartierville, Montreal, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt. McCluskey, of Laurel, besides a host of friends. Mr. and Mrs. McCluskey are most appreciative of the many expressions of sympathy and kindness shown them in their sad bereavement.

CAMPS

The number of camps for boys and girls is increasing each year which shows that parents must like them as well as the children. They are a modern development and do more for the children than just to give them a good time. Physically they are a good thing as they provide plenty of sun, fresh air, and exercise. But there are other advantages as well. When there were six or seven children in the family, children did not have to learn how to get on with other children while living with them. That is one of the advantages of a camp, for children must learn the actual give and take of living with others. And there is nothing that shows up a person's character like camping. You think you know a person very well but when you camp with them all sorts of traits, good and bad, crop up. The discipline of regular living and regular duties is good for the modern child. Then it is a good thing for any child who is inclined to be fussy about their food to have to eat meals which have not been specially prepared for them. There are a great many camps to choose from at varying prices, the cost of the camp being no criterion as to its effectiveness because some of the best camps are among the cheapest ones. Find out about the different camps and pick one that is most suitable. Modern parents are apt to fuss too much over their children. We have fewer children and more time. It is well to have children get away from their parents' protectiveness. Children do not need to know they are sent to camp for their own good. Let them continue to think they are going for a good time only.

VEGETABLE PLATES

If you find that your family are not really enjoying a vegetable dinner but mess it about or eat it grudgingly, the fault is probably yours. To assemble a vegetable plate requires both art and knowledge. So pretend you are an artist and make a picture with vegetables. It can be done. The reds and greens and the varying shades of yellow give plenty of colour to play with. The first rule is to serve contrasting colours. Then you must consider the quality of the vegetables. Cabbage and spinach would not be a good combination as they are both leafy vegetables. Beets and carrots are not a good choice together, nor are peas and beans. Put the beets, peas and cabbage together and you have a contrast in colour and in kind. Potatoes should be made interesting for the vegetable dinner and not served just plain boiled or mashed. The very small new potatoes, boiled then browned in a little fat either in the oven or on top of the stove are a good choice. The little potatoes served in a cheese sauce add interest, flavour and nutriment to the vegetable plate. Potatoes rolled in butter and then in chopped parsley look and taste good. Tomatoes or beets can be added to any plate for a colour contrast as every one likes a bit of red. You may not want to keep your plate strictly a vegetable one, try garnishing it with bacon or you may serve scrambled eggs. Use all your art to give the family a vegetable dinner they will enjoy and never whisper that they are eating what is good for them.

BACON CURLS

Bacon curls are a most effective garnish for many foods. To curl the bacon, cut the slices in half, cover with boiling water and let stand a few minutes. Pour off the water, roll the bacon and fasten with a tooth-pick. Brown either in the frying pan or in the oven. Remove tooth-pick before serving.

CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon each cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cream tartar
1 teaspoon soda
1 tablespoon cocoa
Put all above ingredients through the sifter and add two well-beaten eggs and 1 cup cream. Bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees. This is a very good cake with a slightly different flavour than the usual chocolate cake and is very easy to make.

PICKLED BEANS

2 quarts string beans
1 1/2 cups vinegar
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
2-2/3 tablespoons mustard
2 tablespoons flour
3/4 teaspoon turmeric
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon salt
Wash beans, cut off ends, remove strings and cut in suitable pieces. Cook for fifteen minutes in salted water and drain thoroughly. Mix the flour, sugar and spices and add slowly the vinegar which has been brought to the boil. Cook until the mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Add the beans and cook for five minutes. Put into sterilized jars and seal.

SOUR CREAM PIE

1 cup sour cream
1 cup white sugar
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 cup raisins rolled in flour
Beat the egg yolks and add the other ingredients. Mix thoroughly and pour into an uncooked pie shell. Cover with a meringue made of the two egg whites and 4 tablespoons sugar. Bake in a slow oven of 300 degrees for 15 minutes.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Aug. 18th., is "Soul".

The Golden Text is: "I will set my tabernacle among you; and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you," and will be your God, and ye shall be my people." (Leviticus 26: 11, 12).

The following correlative passages are selected among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—
"Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God." (Psalms 43: 5).

"Soul, or Spirit, is God, unchangeable and eternal; and man co-exists with and reflects Soul, God, for man is God's image." (Science and Health, page 120).

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES PROVIDE OCCUPATION FOR THE SCHOOL CHILDREN

While not yet having gone the length of providing supervised play grounds for school children during holidays, the Women's Institutes have nevertheless taken steps in providing recreation for boys and girls during the period when no settled tasks are provided otherwise. Believing that the old adage "Satan finds mischief for idle hands" still holds, W. I. members have voted money for community tennis courts and the supervision of games. Sewing classes are being held during the summer months for girls, and garden contests for both girls and boys have been arranged. Sports programs in connection with picnics and field days have tended towards friendly athletic emulation. Many branches, too, are planning School Fairs, with generous prize lists, for early autumn and the boys and girls in such communities are busily occupied in looking after their intended exhibits of poultry, flowers, and handicrafts.

PRISON SURGEON ON CRIME REDUCTION

Dr. Amos O. Squire, surgeon at Sing Sing prison, addressing a Rotary International Conference at Niagara Falls, N. Y., offered four ways by which crime might be reduced: 1. Deport alien criminals. 2. Give the boy who has made his first mistake another chance. 3. Back the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. 4. More attention by parents to their own children. He added: "Back Boy Scouts and Girl Guides because they are developing character. I never had a boy enter prison who admitted he was a Boy Scout."

The Week's Fashion News

By the Montreal "FASHION SCRIBE"

If you'll let "Fashion Scribe" have any say in the matter, you'll find that being out of Montreal does not mean being out of touch. The end of her pencil is simply quivering with news about fashion happenings... to tell you what's being worn, what shows indication of being worn, even what the newest ideas are in home furnishings and kitchen gadgets.

Montreal, Aug. 10.—Many a domestic rift is caused by an abandoned cigarette; it is the easiest thing in the world to forget that a tiny smouldering end can tip off the edge of an ash container, and seriously damage a cherished table. We came across the sort of ash tray that helps do away with this sort of smoker's dilemma. It is called Prest-o-out and has a small ball in its exact centre, with a metal rim encircling this ball. All one has to do in wearying of a cigarette is to insert the glowing tip under the metal rim, and presto! out goes the flame like a charm!

A petite prediction for autumn; everyone will be wearing Renaissance colours. We told you so... and we tell you again... Window displays have already played up the Renaissance theme. The latest is Ogilvy's, St. Catherine Street window with an imaginative background of a mediaeval scroll, bearing spidery lettering like that you see in hand-drawn manuscripts of four hundred years ago. The wording "Renaissance Berets" draws the eye down to eight different versions, all in velvet and with jutting fronts.

Another new type of chapeau looks as if someone took a pair of shears and sliced the fore part of the brim straight across. We saw one on the street just to-day. In the new ginger brown, the entire hat made of grosgrain ribbon.

Ideas are coming thick and fast to knitwear designers. At a local golf club the other day... by the bye, the golf tournaments are now in full swing... we saw a new type of boucle suit. It was two-piece, with the top knitted to look like a loose crochet-stitch. The rust shade was one of the Titian reds that will be about a lot this Fall.

The children can't keep away from Lafontaine Park these days. There has been an exhibition of baby animals from India, a royal lion cub about six months old, tigers and mongooses, wolves and leopards all of tender age. The lion looked very bored at noon last Friday, though he was the centre of attention. "Daddy, why don't you call those little things mongeese instead of mon-gooses?" asked a damsel of bright, enquiring mind, looking at the tiny cageful of Indian snake-eaters. Dad pretended to be too busy admiring the leopard cubs to answer. The child

CONTRIBUTING TO IDLENESS

(Kingsville Reporter)

An acute shortage of farm labor is reported in rural Ontario, according to Government employment officers. Fifteen to 20 dollars per month with board and lodging is the wage offered. A dozen jobs were offered to 500 men at Rock-cliff relief camp, where some of the men are on strike, but only five volunteered to go to the farms. Comment on this state of affairs would be unnecessary if it were not for the fact that every taxpayer in the province is contributing towards the support of this lazy bunch. Hitch-hikers are constantly walking past "man wanted" signs on farms, refusing to pay any attention to them.

'PHONE CALL ROUND WORLD.

(London Daily Telegraph.) Two men sitting in a New York building the other day spoke to each other by 'phone round the world—over 23,000 miles.

It was the first time a telephone call has circled the globe. The conversation lasted 15 minutes without interruption, and the reception was perfect.

The International Telephone Exchange in London took part in this experiment. No special arrangements were made, except that the circuit was cleared in advance. A Post office official said, "The call was transmitted over the transatlantic telephone service to the International Telephone Exchange in London; then to Amsterdam by cable; then by radio to Java; by radio to San Francisco; and so to New York. The reception was instantaneous, though on its way round the globe the call, by New York time, travelled from the present into the future, then into the past and back into the present again."

DUNANY LADIES HOLD BAZAAR

Under the convenorship of Miss Violet Copeland, the ladies of Dunany held a very successful bazaar at the home of Mrs. James Morrison, Clear Lake, on Saturday afternoon last. The weather proved favourable and the setting ideal for the event. The proceeds which were quite satisfactory will be used for the benefit of St. Paul's Anglican Church, at Dunany. Those in charge of the various booths were — Woollen goods, Mrs. Parkes; Fancy goods, Misses F. and V. Gain; Plain sewing, Mrs. D. Brown and Miss S. Morrison; Home cooking, Mrs. N. Morrison and Mrs. Boyd; Flowers and Vegetables, Mrs. Robt. Gain; Fish pond, Misses K. MacVicar and R. Copeland; Afternoon tea, Mrs. MacVicar and Mrs. MacDougall, assisted by Miss Marion MacVicar and the Misses Morrison.

To St. Andrews East

There's a charming little village, that is called St. Andrews East, Nestled down beside the river, with hills on either side. And a picture of the landscape on which your eyes may feast. Is unequaled in its beauty, tho' you travel far and wide.

And as I walk around it, there come memories fond and sweet. Of the many kindly friends I used to know, whose days are done. And their faces come before me, as I turn my wandering feet To the quiet little graveyard, where their names are carved on stone.

And to keep the Scotch tradition, you must see the fine Auld Kirk. With its modern stained glass windows, and its organ grand and tall. The collection plates, Baptismal font, the pulpit, praise the work. Of the loving thoughts for whom there hangs a tablet on the wall.

And what about the Minister, who is loved by one and all. And who preaches just the gospel in the good old fashioned way. That you don't forget his sermons, and you try to heed the call, Of the loving voice of Jesus, tho' you oft have gone astray.

The charred and stained old Bible, that came safely thro' the fire. Still stands to show how bitter were the ways of which we've heard. When the kind deeds of the ladies, were baffled by the ire, Of the Parson who objected to such means to serve the Lord.

The beauty of the houses that are built up on the Hill, By the Allens and the Irwins, with their fountains and their flowers, And down beside the river live the Simpsons whose good will, Has helped to give the writer many happy pleasant hours.

The MacMartins, Larmonths, Walshs of whose very kind attention. To the visitor within their gates, is noted far and near. The Farclays, and the Abbots whose names we're proud to mention, All show the fine material that come to us from there.

Now the history of "St. Andrews" is a thing to read about. And the Engineer is noted who built the first Canal. For he opened up the waterway, that helped the river boat, And the navigation easy on the way to Montreal.

So now you see "St. Andrews" is quite an historic place, And the families who have left it, are spread o'er all the earth, Bringing credit to their Home Land, and continuing the race, Of the stalwart good Canadians, who owe to it their birth.

When back now in the City, pleasant memories fill my mind, Of the charming hospitality, the beauties of the land, That nature crowns with glory, with her wondrous touch and kind That I cannot suppress my impulse to send these lines by hand.

Anna Larmonth.

NO MARKETING NECESSARY

"Liza," said Rastus, her dark-half, "I favors a chicken dinner tomorrow."

"Now dat's too bad," replied Liza. "I'se 'fraid de stores am all closed by now—it's after 9 o'clock."

"I specks so," agreed Rastus. "Did you aim to buy sompin'?"

LUCID

Pat: "That was a foine sentiment Casey expressed at the dinner last night."

LIVING UP TO THE COVENANT

If Italy does break the covenant and resort to war, then Britain and every other League member are pledged to break off "all trade and financial relations," and to prohibit and prevent "all intercourse between the nationals of the covenant-breaking State and the nationals of any other State."

If this country keeps the covenant she does that. And Signor Mussolini, before he commits himself further, should be told that Britain intends to keep her word.

PRESERVING ROOT VEGETABLES

Root vegetables, such as beets, carrots and parsnips, may be preserved during the entire winter in a perfect state of keeping them packed in dry sand. The sand should be placed in boxes or barrels in a dry, cool part of the cellar or store room, in layers alternating with layers of vegetables, until the receptacle is full. From this storage the vegetables may be dug out as required. Why any one should go to the trouble of canning beets when they will keep perfectly well all winter in sand, and are fully as palatable when cooked, is a mystery. Some members of the Women's Institutes in their study of economical ways of cooking and of time saving, have discovered this fact about vegetables, and are passing it on for general use.

C. I. L. Employees Staged Picnic at Brownsburg with Old-time Gusto

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL OF ANNUAL EVENT

Dominion Sprint Champion in Race with Montreal Star

SKILLED RIFLE SHOOTING. FULL PROGRAM

After a lapse of a few years the employees of Canadian Industries Limited, Brownsburg Divisions, held a very successful revival of their picnic festivities, in which the old time gaiety and merry-making featured the verve associated with this popular event. A committee of the Employees' Social Club had charge of the arrangements and the smoothness with which the various sports and activities were conducted bore eloquent testimony to the painstaking thoroughness with which the committee had worked. Dexterous management marked every phase of their varied duties in the presentation of this event. Great credit is due to Mr. T. G. Pasco who, as chairman of the committee shouldered the major part of the work and responsibility. Unselfish effort on the part of the other members, especially "Sid" Stilwell — the ubiquitous secretary — had its reward in the success of the picnic.

The weather was all that could be desired. The scorching sun was in one of its deepest-tan coating moods, but to the numerous spectators seated around the natural amphitheatre, its effect was reflected in an emerald mosaic through the foliage which shades the picturesque grounds of the C. I. L. Company.

CALUMET SCHOOL WON RED CROSS FLAG

ST. CANUT AND THOMAS' GORE RECEIVE HONORABLE MENTION

Once again the Village of Calumet is winner of the Red Cross Flag for this section of the Province, while the St. Canut and Thos' Gore Schools, the Ste. Therese Elementary School, and the Intermediate School, New Glasgow, have done such outstanding work that they have received Honorable Mention. Calumet school and the Intermediate School of Maryland are also the winners of the James' Pangman Trophy, which goes to the schools winning the Red Cross Flag for three years in succession.

These flags, the object of keen competition among the 1,637 branches organized in the Province, are awarded to the school in which the best Junior Red Cross Program is carried on for the year. So widespread is the organization that it has been necessary to divide the Province into 14 sections for this purpose. In order to win a flag, a Branch must be responsible for an all-round programme of health, service and international friendliness. It must carry out a well planned health campaign. It is interesting to note how practical these Juniors are and how unerringly they concentrate on their greatest need. The Juniors of Calumet concentrated on cleanliness and exercise in the open air. The Junior Red Cross of Hull took an intensive course in Home Nursing and First Aid. Maryland Juniors under the leadership of the older members held a campaign against the spread of contagious diseases.

Health campaigns are not restricted to personal hygiene.

LACHUTE ACQUIRES A VILLAGE PUMP

ITEM FROM THE WATCHMAN OF AUGUST 21, 1885

An abundance of good pure water is now supplied to the public by a pump ingeniously fixed on the sidewalk directly opposite the butcher shop of Messrs. McArthur & Co. in the West End. It is the Town Pump — but without expense to the town, as a few public spirited citizens subscribed to lay pipes to a spring in a cellar and a pump for public use. People come even from the East End to water their horses at this fountain. A large trough is always full and overflowing.

KILLED BY STONE TRUCK AT BROWNSBURG

Inquest was held this morning into the death of Paul Bedard, a young man of Brownsburg 17 years of age, who was struck and killed by a truck loaded with stone.

Herbert Graves, Brownsburg, driver of the vehicle, gave evidence before a jury empanelled by Dr. J. H. Mason, coroner, that his truck overtook Bedard while travelling at a slow speed. Bedard was at the roadside and as Graves blew his horn to pass, the victim, evidently soliciting a ride, ran out toward the truck and put his hand on the door of the cab. He then passed from view. Graves, with his passenger and employee, Russel Martin, rushed back and found the man unconscious. They concluded he had been struck by the box of the truck. He was placed on the load and rushed to Dr. Cote's office in Brownsburg, two miles distant, where he died a few minutes after.

Other evidence confirmed these particulars. Dr. A. R. Cote, however, gave his opinion that the truck had passed over the man and crushed him. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

MONTREAL GIRL CHOSEN "MISS N. AMERICA"

Miss Geraldine Starr, 21-year-old Montreal girl, has won the title of "Miss North America."

The comely miss was chosen winner in an international beauty contest held on Saturday at Old Orchard, Me., with Canadian and American girls competing. The judges included Miss Juliette Major of Montreal.

Beautifying of the school is an important part of every Branch programme. In this particular the Juniors of Chelsea raised funds for a new bookcase; Juniors of Bristol Ridge planted maple trees in their school grounds in honour of the King and Queen; Juniors of Ste. Therese scrubbed their desks and windows and put up new blinds and window boxes.

Community service played an outstanding part in the efforts of each Branch. Development of local service was outstanding in Junior Red Cross efforts. Branches everywhere tried to meet the problems of their locality. Children requiring medical care, varying from glasses to emergency operations for appendicitis, were reported to the Provincial Office. Clothing, hampers, school books, free milk etc., were distributed to those in need. Layettes, knitted

DREW LOTS, ALDERMEN TO RETIRE

Three aldermen who are to retire from the St. Jerome city council in October were selected recently by lot. They are Aldermen Arm. Filion, A. Lesard, and A. Charlemagne Huot. The city council recently in session decided also to request postal authorities to ship mail from Montreal by truck so that it will arrive early in the morning to permit delivery by the carriers in the forenoon. At the present time trains do not transport mail from Montreal until around 10 a.m. The door to door mail delivery in St. Jerome is a recent innovation in postal service.

PASSING OF MRS. JOHN MACKIE IS WIDELY MOURNED

LINK WITH DAYS OF PIONEER SETTLEMENT AND RELIGIOUS PROGRESS

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mrs. John Mackie, one of this town's oldest and most loved citizens, who passed away on Wednesday morning.

Late Mrs. John Mackie

Mrs. Mackie celebrated her 92nd birthday on Thursday last. On this occasion, surrounded by her children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and many loved ones, a happy reunion was held.

Mrs. John Mackie was born in Greenock, Scotland, a daughter of the late Capt. Robt. Dun-

City of Moose Jaw Has Most British-born

HIGHEST PERCENTAGE OF PRAIRIE CITIES

The Moose Jaw Board of Trade news letter gives interesting particulars on the birthplace of population in the principal cities in the Prairie Provinces.

The 1931 census shows that there is a higher percentage of people of British birth in Moose Jaw than in any other Prairie city — 87.7% of Moose Jaw's population being of British birth, compared with 87.1% in Brandon; 83.9% in Saskatoon; 83.6% in Calgary; 82% in Edmonton; 81.9% in Regina; 80% in Medicine Hat; and 78.6% in Winnipeg.

Two Catholic Memorials Dedicated With Fitting Ceremony During Week

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND LOCAL CEREMONIES

Grotto on Brownsburg Road Bequest of Late Miss Pearl Ayers

IMPOSING CROSS ERECTED IN CEMETERY GROUNDS

A shrine recently erected near Brownsburg Road as a bequest of the late Miss P. Ayers was the scene of a pilgrimage, in which hundreds of friends and devotees of the faith gathered on Sunday for the benediction of this memorial by prominent Catholic clergy of the district.

Fev. Father Bouchard of Brownsburg, priest of the parish, presided over the ceremonies and a fitting sermon was delivered by Rev. Father Metro of Montfort. A Brownsburg choir of the Ladies of the Virgin rendered appropriate singing.

In a tribute to the late Miss Pearl Ayers and the devout spirit of her family in works of local benefit such as this, the shrine was also pronounced a public spot at the request of Mr. & Mrs. W. H. Ayers, in accord with the wishes of the late Miss Ayers. The community were invited to consider the sanctuary a public site. A big attendance witnessed the ceremonies. The shrine, erected adjacent to the Ayers Orchards and overlooking the Lachute - Brownsburg highway from a prominent elevation, is a beautiful structure which commands the attention of passing motorists and pedestrians.

ARGENTEUIL W. I. ACTIVITIES FOR THE MONTH

Chatham Branch heard a very interesting address on Immigration given by Mrs. Cockfield at the home of Mrs. A. Campbell, Dalesville, with fourteen members and two visitors present. Mrs. H. R. Ardill read Current Events.

Frontier Branch had an interesting open meeting of special concern to farmers, with Mr. G. Valois, guest speaker, giving an address on the liability of farmers in the case of injury to farm helpers in their service. The subject of the evening being Legislation, the roll call was the name of a noted Canadian lawyer. Mrs. J. W. Maclean also gave an interesting talk on Women's Part in Canadian Progress.

Jerusalem - Bethany featured Education and Better Schools in their meeting, hearing a splendid address on the "Schools of Today and of Days Gone By," by the County President, Mrs. G. F. W. Kuhring. A Grandmother's Day was also celebrated at this meeting, a great many of the members

The bridesmaid was dressed in a two-piece peach lace gown trimmed with velvet and pleated net, a picture hat of pale blue basket-weave straw, with peach velvet trimmings and pale blue crepe slippers. She carried a bouquet of variegated sweet peas and gypsophila.

Following the church ceremony, a reception was held at the Huntingdon Chateau, after which the bride and groom left for a cruise to Bermuda, the bride travelling in a navy-blue tailored suit with blue accessories and a silver fox fur, the gift of the groom.

On their return they will reside at Lachute.

BROWNSBURG POST OFFICE CONTRACT

J. F. WICKENDEN, THREE RIVERS, WAS LOW BIDDER

According to the Commercial Review, John F. Wickenden of Three Rivers, Que., is understood to have submitted the lowest bid on general contract for construction of the new $25,000 post office on the Hardie lot at Brownsburg, for which tenders closed earlier this month.

Plans are by Grattan D. Thompson, architect, Montreal, and the structure is a public building to be raised by the Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

John F. Wickenden, it is recalled, was contractor for the C.P.R. station at Lachute, rebuilt a few years ago.

LAST OF PIONEER FAMILY LAID TO REST

MRS. WM. STANFORTH OF ARUNDEL

The funeral of the late Mrs Stanforth, wife of the late William Stanforth, Sr., was held from the Chapel of Jos. C Wray & Bro., Montreal, on Saturday morning, the Rev. A. S. Ross, D.D., of Montreal West officiating. Interment was made here at Lachute. Mrs. Stanforth died after a long illness at the home of her daughter Mrs. J. B. Mabon, Montreal West, on Thursday last. She was in her 87th year. Formerly Mary Thomson, she was the last of her generation of a pioneer family of Arundel where she was married to William Stanforth, who predeceased her by thirty years.

After spending 30 years of her life in Arundel, she lived in Lachute for 20 years, afterwards residing in Montreal.

Besides her daughter, there survive three sons, S. J. Stanforth, of Westmount, G. H. Stanforth, of this town, and D. A. Stanforth, of Lashburn, Sask.

PRETTY WEDDING AT HUNTINGDON, QUE.

SANFORD — DUNCAN

The marriage of Margaret Anna, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Duncan, to Frederick John Sanford of Lachute, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Sanford, Montreal, took place on Wednesday afternoon, August 21st., at 4 o'clock, in St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Huntingdon. Rev. J. B. MacLean, D.D., officiated at the ceremony.

Ferns and summer flowers were used in the decoration of the church. Miss Edna Sanford, sister of the groom, acting as bridesmaid, was the bride's only attendant. Mr. John Duncan, brother of the bride, was best man, while Messrs. P. M. Sanford, H. P. Roberts, C. Gillard and W. C. Henderson were the ushers. Miss Helen Hall presided at the organ. During the signing of the register, "All Joy be Thine" was rendered by Mr. W. J. Stephenson, of Montreal.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a French gown of white satin made on simple lines, the skirt lengthening into a train; the shoulders and sleeves were smocked, tipped with pearls. Her loose flowing veil was held in place by a small wreath and cluster of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses and lilies of the valley.

YOUNG MONTREALER IS DROWNING VICTIM

LOST HIS LIFE WHILE BATHING AT WEIR

Quebec's toll of drownings was augmented by a bathing fatality at Pine Lake near Weir on Saturday, when Rene Loiselle, a Montrealeur, 22 years of age, was drowned in 10 or 12 feet of water.

At around five o'clock he was bathing in the lake. With his father and sister nearby, the young man was seen to jump from a floating raft. He was wearing water-wings; these must have failed to support him, or for some other reason — probably a heart attack. Loiselle sank beneath the water. His body was brought to the surface seven minutes later, and although artificial respiration was applied he failed to regain consciousness. Dr. Dalpe of Montreal, holidaying in the vicinity of Weir, was called to the scene and arrived shortly after the accident. He pronounced the victim dead.

Dr. J. H. Mason, coroner for this district, made investigation of the circumstances and decided that death had been accidental. The body was removed to Montreal for burial.

CARILLON CHILD DROWNS IN NORTH RIVER

TRAGIC SEQUEL TO PICNIC

The second drowning within a week in Argenteuil County, claimed the life of a child nine years of age, from Carillon, on Saturday. The victim, Yelande Castonguay, was with her sister Georgette and a friend Francoise Antonie Lefebvre, picnicking on the North River, a mile or two back from the village of Carillon.

It was 5 o'clock in the evening when the party, taking a boat out on the river, got into difficulties near a dam and were swept by the current down-stream. The three were able to clutch a bridge under which the boat was carried, and their cries attracted priests who were in the neighborhood. Two were rescued, but little Yelande Castonguay slipped from the grip of her attempted rescuer and sank in the water.

She was recovered unconscious within a space of five minutes. Dr. L'Allier of St. Andrews East was quickly summoned to the scene, arriving 15 minutes after the accident, but could do nothing for the victim: she was pronounced dead. Dr. J. H. Mason of Lachute, coroner, on investigating the case, gave a verdict of accidental death.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

LABOR DAY PICTURES

Opportunities are unlimited on Labor Day for story-telling pictures such as the above.

IT'S hard to realize that the good old summer time has rushed by so fast and that we will soon be enjoying our last holiday of the summer season—Labor Day. But even if it is the last, it's almost the best from a picture-taking angle.

The above snapshot is just one example, and there are countless others.

As there is such a variation of light in different locations it is not possible to give any set rule for diaphragm openings and shutter speeds. For instance, when the above picture was made the sun was shining brightly but the picnic party was shaded by surrounding trees. The snapshot was taken with a folding camera got the correct exposure when he set the diaphragm opening at f/8 and the shutter speed at 1/25 of a second. But suppose this was a beach party; no trees are near to cast shadows but instead the bright sunlight is blazing down on the party and additional light is reflected from the water and sand. Then what?

You could then set the shutter speed for 1/100 of a second with the f.11 diaphragm opening. This setting of the diaphragm opening and shutter will serve two purposes. First—you will have the proper exposure, and second—at 1/100 of a second it will not be necessary for your subjects to "hold still" when the picture is snapped.

If you have a box camera you would open it to the largest stop for the picture above and a smaller one for the beach picture.

Although the principal rules for good picture making have from time to time been given in the Snapshot Guild, some readers may be benefited by a review of a few of them:

If there is any doubt, always give a little longer exposure.

Avoid prominent straight lines such as telegraph poles and trees and horizons which seem to cut the picture in half.

Never allow the sun to shine directly into the lens of your camera or there will be a flare of light on the negative.

Do not try to crowd too many objects nor too much scenery into a picture. Simplicity is the keynote of art in photography.

Two-thirds land or two-thirds sky makes for better composition in a landscape photograph than one-half of each.

With ordinary cameras fast moving objects should always be photographed with the most rapid shutter speed and the largest lens opening.

With that review, here's to more and better pictures over Labor Day.

According to reports at the 25th. annual meeting of the Boy Scouts of America, experiments at St. Joseph, Mo., and Buffalo, N.Y., proved it possible to reduce juvenile delinquency in areas of high delinquency by the organization of Scout activities.

CALL OF THE SEA ON THE PRAIRIES

That the call of the sea persists in the blood of boys on the prairies is suggested by the enthusiasm with which junior leaders of the 2nd. The Pas Scout Troop of Manitoba acted as crew of the S. S. Tobin of the Ross Navigation Co. on a cruise up the Saskatchewan river. The boys were assigned watches, and in turn acted as engineer, stoker, wheelman, deck hand and ship's cook.

SCOUT FORTITUDE

Wrote the physician of Scout B. L. Bonning of Weston-Super-Mare, England, who was awarded the Cornwall Badge, for exceptional fortitude: "He was continuously recumbent, his system poisoned and his limbs crippled by large and painful wounds. Nevertheless I remember only his radiant smile and sturdy voice. If an operation was ordered he resigned himself to it in a most manly way, although the previous one had nearly cost him his life. . . Such cheerful courage and endurance surpass any I know in howling the spirit of man triumphing over hopeless odds". In spite of his suffering Scout Bonning passed his First Class tests, bit by bit.

THE PARK

In summer when my mother Lets me out of doors to play, I scamper to the flowery park And stay and stay and stay.

I sail boats in the basin
Of the fountain, and I dip
My bare toes in the water
And splash and splash in it.
I sit and watch the birdies
As they come to it to drink,
And peck the crumbs I scatter
Close to the fountain's brink.

A park is just the bestest place
That any child can be When it's hot, and there's a fountain
With the water running free.

CHARMS

It was hot. Not a breeze stirred the leaves of the old poplar on the street corner. The children seemed depressed and quarrelsome. Bobby and Teddie were almost coming to blows over a collection of marbles. Jean had jerked Betty's doll from her arms and thrown it under a park seat, when suddenly an old gentleman who had been sitting watching the children drew a flute from his breast pocket and commenced playing softly.

Instantly the quarrelling stopped. The children leaped to their feet and gathered around the player, seemingly drinking in the melodious music.

The old gentleman played several tunes, then smilingly said, "So the charm still works, eh children?"

"The charm?" said Betty, "Why, what do you mean?"

"I saw that the heat was making you children forget the command 'Little children love one another,' so I decided to charm the evil spirit of anger away with music—and I think I have succeeded. You do not feel like quarrelling now, do you?"

"No!" the children shouted gaily, "we do not!"

"Music," the old gentleman said, "is one of our greatest charms. It saved my sister's life once; but perhaps you do not care to hear."

"Oh yes, we do!" the children replied in chorus, "please tell us the story."

"It was in India, when I was in the army there, and my sister was keeping house for me. They were to have a concert in the church and a mass of greens and flowers had been brought in and laid on the floor to be used for decorating. My sister went to the church, which was right next to my quarters, to practise her piano solos."

"Later, wondering why she had not returned, I went to the church and heard one tune being played over and over again. Peeping inside I saw a sight which I shall never forget, and which chilled every drop of blood in my body. My sister sat playing, playing, playing—while a large snake lay coiled a few paces away, its ugly head stretched upward, swaying back and forth with the music."

"Whipping my gun from my belt, I fired and rushed in to catch my sister before she fell fainting beside the snake in its final death agony."

"Music has charms, children, whether you hear it played or play it yourself. I advise you little folk to learn to be music-makers. You never know when it will be of great benefit to you or your friends."

Picking up his flute he played "Oh Canada," very softly, before he turned and walked out of their sight.

Next story—Guess What!

Lovingly, Aunt Jean.

15,000 DRAWINGS TO MAKE MICKEY MOUSE PICTURE

It takes 300 people three weeks to make a Disney picture and 15,000 drawings are required, stated William Erskine, director of the Walt Disney enterprise. He was travelling in the interests principally of his internationally famous little pal, Mickey Mouse, and believed the general atmosphere and surroundings of Jasper National Park and Maligne Lake, areas in Alberta, will be productive of some new ideas for the interesting wee chap. Mickey Mouse has been shown in 88 countries. Three Little Pigs was the most sensational picture Disney has produced, according to Mr. Erskine. He is now working on Who Killed Cock Robin.

GLASGOW WILL BUILD 70,000 HOUSES IN A DECADE

Elimination of slums has been taken up by the United Kingdom with the determination to have the work completed at the earliest possible date. Scotland will see builders busy during the next few years carrying out the schemes drawn up. The corporation of the City of Glasgow will build 70,000 houses in the next 10 years and the Paisley corporation 2,000 according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways. Canada ranks second as a source of supply for softwoods for the Scottish market, excepting pit props, box boards and sleepers, etc., Latvia being the largest source of supply.

DO YOUR SHARE TO STOP THESE KILLINGS

The following plea, backed by startling statistics, is made public by the New York State Bureau of Motor Vehicles:

Three thousand persons are killed every month in the United States in automobile accidents. In New York State such accidents resulted in the loss of one life every three hours during 1934, and one person was injured every five minutes, in a total of 82,875 automobile smash-ups.

Many of these deaths, injuries and accidents could have been prevented if all drivers involved operated their vehicles carefully and in obedience to traffic rules and laws.

Another growing cause of preventable deaths is monoxide gas. Do not keep your motor running in a closed garage and do not drive a car with windows completely closed. Do not closely follow a car with a smoking or odorous exhaust. If headache, drowsiness, dizziness, or nausea come on you while driving, shut off the engine and open windows.

First Real Estate Deed in Ohio Executed in 1762

Probably the first real estate deed in Ohio took place in 1762 in what is now Tuscarawas county.

Christian F. Post, a Moravian missionary of Pennsylvania, went to that section to determine the practicability of establishing a religious post there. Believing the Indians would receive him kindly, he began clearing the land and building a cabin, said to be the first cabin on Ohio soil, except the temporary shacks of traders.

With a village on the opposite side of the stream, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the redskins became suspicious and an investigation committee called him over for a conference. Post explained that he had come to instruct them in the arts of living and agriculture and to administer the word of God. The land, he told them, was needed for raising vegetables.

His manner of presentation, most interestingly, so impressed them that they agreed to let him lay off a square tract 50 steps on each side. Captain Pipe stepped off the plot, drove stakes at the corners and in Indian fashion decided to the missionary his right to the land. The agreement was evermore respected by the Indians.

STORIED SPOTS FROM SEA TO SEA

By W. J. Banks, B.A.

The Chateau of St. Louis

When Champlain landed at Quebec in July, 1608 to found the permanent settlement around which Canadian history centred for centuries, he began immediately the famous "habitation" by the shore of the river. But from the first he recognized the need for a fort on the brow of the hill, though it was not until a dozen years had passed that he was able to build it. This first fort on the cliff was of wood, suitable only as a defence against savages. But its strategic position where the river's channel narrowed indicated that Champlain foresaw already the danger of attack from the English, whose colonies on the Atlantic shore were beginning to prosper.

The site of the modest fort was well chosen indeed, for it was destined to become the very heart of New France and no spot in all America has seen a longer or more striking sequence of historic events. Though Champlain later built stronger defences it was left for later governors to fulfil his dream of a real citadel of stone and mortar. The fort of St. Louis became the Chateau of St. Louis from which, as the viceregal residence, New France was governed throughout its subsequent history. By Frontenac's time the one-storied stone building was in bad repair and almost fell about the ears of the old warrior. Through his efforts it was rebuilt, later further enlarged, and as a handsome three-storey structure housed several British governors of Canada prior to its destruction by fire in 1834.

The ground occupied by the Chateau, and almost certainly by Champlain's original fort, is now covered by the magnificent Dufferin Terrace, show-place of modern Quebec. And thereon stands the handsome statue to Samuel Champlain, the man whose courage, faith and labor made possible the glorious destiny of the colony he founded in that place three hundred and twenty-seven years ago.

Speed of Light

Light, traveling at a rate of 186,284 miles a second, is many times faster than sound, which in dry air moves of a mile in less than five seconds. In water sound travels five times as fast as in air, and in iron or steel 15 times as fast as in air.

Long, Hard Battle

There are no definite figures giving the number of Indians killed, as the whites settled this country. However, 6 per cent or 7 per cent of the Indian population was estimated to have been exterminated.

PRIVY COUNCIL DECISION IN CASE OF LONG STANDING

Lawsuit on Taxation of Telephone Switchboards

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London has allowed the appeal of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada against a Court of King's Bench decision in favor of Ville St. Laurent, Que.

The action was taken against the company originally to recover municipal and school taxes in respect of a switchboard.

The principle involved in the Bell Telephone Company's successful appeal in London was whether the switchboard in the local exchange of Ville St. Laurent, a suburb of Montreal, was an immovable property subject to municipal real estate taxes. Judgment rendered by the Privy Council allows the telephone company's appeal and upholds the judgment of Mr. Justice L. A. Rivet, of the Montreal Circuit Court, declaring the switchboard not assessable for such taxes.

Judge Rivet declared the switchboard was subject to removal and replacement and was therefore movable and not assessable, supporting the argument of the company against taxation by the town of St. Laurent. The municipality carried the case on appeal to the Court of King's Bench, appeal side. The higher tribunal unanimously allowed the appeal, rejecting Judge Rivet's decision.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council have now restored Judge Rivet's judgment. Pierre Beullac, K.C., of Montreal, appeared for the telephone company before the Privy Council and Aime Geoffrion, K.C. also of Montreal, appeared for the town of St. Laurent.

REAL EMPLOYMENT

(Moose Jaw Evening Times)

A thoughtful American observer on business and politics says: "Unemployment remains as great a problem to President Roosevelt today as it did the day he accepted office." This goes to show that even the most stupendous works programme by the Government will not take the place of employment by people serving one another usefully in trade and commerce—exchanging the things they produce and have, for the goods and services they enjoy and want.

CITY DEBT TREND

A recent National Municipal Review carries the yearly figures on bonded debt of cities—this year including 274 cities of the U. S. and Canada. Most interesting feature is the debt trend observable from 217 cities which were in both the 1934 and 1935 tabulations. In those cities net debt (excluding self-supporting) showed a reduction of $105,305,000 from the total of $5,166,434,000 of a year ago. New York City alone showed a reduction of $170,299,000, but since the figure is an estimate and is not official, it is eliminated in interpreting the trend. In the other 216 cities there was an increase from $3,698,500,000 to $3,764,500,000, or $106.07 to $107.93 per capita. In this group 90 cities increased, 126 reduced their net debt. Philadelphia was one of the reducers. Its net bonded debt fell from $419,459,400 to $400,802,612, or from $215 to $205.44 per capita.

Lions Club Meeting Last Evening

The regular meeting of the Lions Club of Lachute was held on Wednesday evening at the Cosy Inn, with a fair attendance of members and their guests.

The Ottawa Spotlight

A Weekly Review of National Affairs

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, August 20.—Four days before it would have automatically dissolved anyway, the Seventeenth Parliament of Canada was formally brought to its conclusion last Wednesday, and within a couple of hours Premier Bennett, in the midst of a welter of appointments, announced that voting to appoint an Eighteenth Parliament would take place October 14th. The date was much later than had been generally wanted, or predicted, and coincided with Thanksgiving Day. However, the feast was moved back to October 24th. Even so, with all the adjusting and conciliating, the date for nomination day coincides with the Day of Atonement of the Jews. The newspaper paragraphs have been busy with the suggestion that election day will be the real day of atonement, and that voting day was to have been one of Thanksgiving, but now isn't. Read it as you like.

Along with the announcement of voting day we had four new ministers of the crown, five new senators, several civil service appointments and a large number of judgeships. The senate appointments are, as usual, party rewards in the main. A good deal of interest is attached to the elevation of Col. Harry Mullins, colorful western cattleman to the Chamber where he is preceded by such illustrious figures of the lariat and the chaps as Pat Burns and Dan Riley.

REBUFF FOR CIVIL SERVICE

The appointment of John A. Sullivan ex-M.P. for St. Ann, Montreal to be deputy postmaster-general had Ottawa by the ears. Not that Mr. Sullivan isn't a courteous and cultured gentleman, much liked on both sides of the house. But the assistant deputy, P. T. Coolican is one of the leading civil servants in Ottawa, and highly merited the promotion. This is the second time in recent years that a capable civil servant has been passed over and a purely political appointee chosen instead. It begins to appear that the highest rank in the permanent civil service is not intended as a possible goal for the ambitious public servant: no matter what his merit, he may have to be content to fill second place. Much criticism was levelled at the government because of this appointment; and that in the Marine department was classed with it. Appointments which were generally applauded, and which illustrated Premier Bennett's recognition of merit, were those appointing Charles H. Bland to the chairmanship of the Civil Service, and J. R. MacGregor, formerly Mr. Rhodes' private secretary, to be secretary of the Tariff Board.

The October election date means that the campaign will be singularly long and suggests that it may also be singularly dreary before it is done. One reason advanced for the late date was the anxiety to make sure that the farmer would not be disenfranchised by reason of his harvesting activities. Behind the scenes it was reported that postponement until mid-October was also regarded as a shrewd party move, in that the other three leaders would have shot their bolt and be easy victims for a refreshed R.B. and his cohorts who would, presumably, after taking it easy for another three weeks, come triumphantly along at the close.

MacKENZIE KING RESTS ALSO

If this was the picture in the mind's eye of the government tacticians, it was rapidly destroyed by the announcement of Mackenzie King that he too would, in view of the late election, take a recess. He went back to the sylvan attractions of Kingsmere, his summer cottage up the Gatineau, and will, no doubt, be thankful that the bulk of the campaigning is to be carried on in cooler weather. All sorts of rumors to explain the late voting were bandied about Ottawa, one of the strangest being that the government wanted the new Reconstruction Party to have time to develop its campaign properly. One doubts very strongly whether the government would lift a finger to make things easier for Mr. Stevens.

C. I. L. EMPLOYEES ENJOY FINE PICNIC AT BROWNSBURG

The crowd was large, colourful and happy. Visitors from neighboring towns and cities augmented the numbers of both spectators and competitors. Sir George Perley took advantage of the occasion to renew old acquaintances, and was in cheerful reminiscent mood.

Valuable prizes were on display for award in the several events, and keen competition marked the program of athletics. Considerable interest was manifested in the Montreal-to-Brownsburg cycle race chiefly due to the entrance of a Brownsburg boy, "Bob" Taylor. Fourteen contestants started this grueling fifty-mile grind. The winner, Helliker, of the Wolf Club, Verdun, completed the race in the remarkable time of 2 hrs. 4 mins. 34 secs. Unfortunately young Taylor met with an accident which deprived him of a very good chance to gain premier honours.

Local rivalry contributed much to enliven the tug-of-war event, and after a gain and a loss, a steady pull of 2 mins 10 secs. duration was required to pull the West Side east.

Miss Eileen Meagher, Dominion sprint champion and Olympic representative for Canada and Mr. Maurice Hughes, Montreal M.A.A.A. Pro., Quebec quarter mile champion, staged a thrilling duel in the 60-yard sprint. A choice program of musical selections was played by the Lachute Band, under the capable baton of Mr. Guenette which served further to enliven the proceedings. At night a beautiful fireworks display was enjoyed by thousands sitting around in the cool night air, discussing the end of a perfect day.

dressing as grandmothers of olden days and having as their guests the modern grandmothers of their community and their friends; pictures of the group were taken during the festivities. Old fashioned songs were sung by members of the Institute.

Lakefield made plans for a picnic, which was successfully held recently.

Lachute and Morin Heights went "holidaying" this month.

Pioneer held a picnic in the interests of Child Welfare and Public Health, also a Home Cooking Sale in the interests of Home Economics. Their roll call was "Favourite Old-fashioned Names."

Upper Lachute - East End enjoyed two addresses on Immigration, namely, "First impressions of Canada" by Mrs. J. S. Giles, and "The New Settlement Scheme" by Miss Hannah Smith. Current Events were given by Mrs. Gordon Miller and twenty-two members present answered the roll call by stating reasons why they were members of the Women's Institute.

TWO CATHOLIC MEMORIALS ARE FITTINGLY DEDICATED

Another memorial was fittingly blessed in a recent observance at the Lachute Catholic Cemetery. This was an imposing crucifix in the cemetery grounds. Rev. Father Labelle of Ste. Anastasie Parish conducted the devotions and a sermon by Rev. Father Roger Lafleur, O.M.I., of Chambly Basin, a native son of this town, bore appropriately on the ceremony.

The cross and crucifix, erected at a cost of $516, was made possible by voluntary contributions. A collection on this occasion, amounting to the net sum of $29.76, will be further devoted to the cemetery funds.

See "Cardinal Richelieu", one of the historical masterpieces of the year, starring George Arliss—now showing for three days at Rex Theatre.

HANDLING COMPLAINTS

Tact is very necessary in doing business and no place is it more necessary than in the handling of complaints. If grievances are properly handled they may bring business instead of losing it. I am going to tell you about the way two business firms handled very similar complaints. One day we found that our milk was in a dirty milk bottle. We took it to the dairy and the manager was quite hurt that we should object to a dirty bottle. He showed us the bottle washing apparatus and his attitude was that with the number of bottles they had to wash every day, it was only to be expected that an occasional dirty one might escape notice. That finished us. If he did not expect to get all the bottles clean every day, then we did not want to get our milk from that dairy and as we buy three quarts of Jersey milk and a bottle of cream every day, our purchases are above the average. Last week we bought rolls and the bottoms of them were decidedly dirty because the pans had not been properly washed. I told the manager about it and he thanked me very profusely and apparently sincerely for telling him. He said that he was paying men to do that job and if it was not being properly done he wanted to know about it, as the rolls were wrapped and it was not as easy to inspect them. He asked if he might send for the rolls so that he could confront them with the evidence. He made me feel that I had done him a favour. Now isn't that tact and good business?

A TIP TO JUNE BRIDES

One of the very best ways of making a husband happy is to have the meals ready on time. So June brides take heed! We all know that children are cross and peevish when they are hungry and what are men but grown-up children? The poor dears never lose many of their child-like qualities. When a man comes in tired after a day's work he craves the comfort of a good meal and it is up to the wife to see that he gets it, because it is a part of a wife's job to keep her husband happy. Any woman who habitually has late meals is inefficient but there are occasions in even the best regulated families when it is impossible to avoid being delayed. Every trade has its tricks and there are a few harmless ones that might be tried here. The first one is most important. Always have the table laid. If you can't have it completely set for goodness sake get the cloth on anyway and try to get a dish or two on it. It does not make the dinner any nearer ready but it makes a man think it is nearly ready and that is the main thing. It is a very flat feeling to come in ready for a meal and to find not even the cloth on the table. So give them the illusion of a meal anyway. Then take a tip from the good restaurants. They always put on a glass of water, rolls and butter and perhaps celery or olives, so that you can begin nibbling right away and allay the pangs of hunger. Why not give your husband a cup of hot soup and a cracker or a cool drink or a glass of tomato juice, depending on the weather and his taste, while he is ensconced so comfortably with his paper? Likely you won't fool him, but he can't say much when he is being made comfortable. Anyway he won't want to if he just gets something into his tummy. Whatever you do, don't forget to get the cloth on the table.

OVEN CANNING

Canning always means extra work, but of all the ways to do it oven canning is the easiest. For one thing it eliminates the heat from the steam of either the open kettle or the boiling water. The first requisite is a good thermometer. Most stoves have them these days, but if there is not one on the oven, easel thermometers which stand in the oven may be purchased. Fill the sterilized bottle with prepared fruit, adjust the sterilized rubber and fill to overflowing with syrup. Adjust the cover loosely, place in a dripping pan and put in an oven of 250 degrees. Pint jars require 40 minutes and quarts an hour. Remove from the open oven and tighten the tops. That is all there is to it. Simple isn't it?

PROPORTIONS FOR SYRUP

Thin Syrup—1 cup sugar to 2 cups water.
Medium Syrup—1 cup sugar to 1 cup water.
Heavy Syrup—1 cup sugar to ½ cup water.
Boil sugar and water for 5 minutes.
Pint jars of large fruit require about 1 cup syrup; small fruit about ½ cup syrup.

ENGLISH SEED CAKE

One cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 5 eggs, ½ oz. caraway seeds, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla.
Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar slowly and cream between addition. Add flavoring and the yolks of the eggs which have been beaten until pale yellow. Beat egg whites until stiff and add alternately with the flour and baking powder sifted together. Sprinkle in caraway seeds and beat thoroughly. Bake in a loaf pan in a moderate oven of 325 degrees for about an hour.

SOUR CREAM DRESSING FOR CUCUMBERS

Three quarters of a cup of sour cream, 1 tablespoon vinegar, dash of pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Mix ingredients and pour over thinly sliced cucumbers. A dash of paprika gives a bit of colour interest.

To test custard put a silver knife in the centre. If the knife is dry when it comes out the custard is done.

GEORGE ARLISS
who plays a masterly role in "Cardinal Richelieu" this week at the Rex Theatre. A success warmly acclaimed in the city theatres, this picture needs no introduction to local film fans. Do not miss it!

WATER FOR POULTRY

Extremely warm weather often causes heat prostration among poultry, therefore an abundant supply of clean, fresh water should be available to the growing and laying flock. As water makes up 66 per cent of an egg, its use is imperative. Clean water is necessary, not only from the standpoint of sanitation, but also to help control egg flavour.

THE FORGOTTEN WOMAN (Porcupine Advance.)

There are women who fly, smoke, get a divorce, paint, or run for parliament, and so feel they are not forgotten. But the average woman strictly minds her own business—scrubs, washes dishes and children, goes to church, is a good cook and a good scout generally and gets scant mention in the newspapers. She is the heart of the nation, the hope of the people, and the glory of the race. Yet too often she is the "forgotten woman." Something should be done about it, but what? One woman asked about it promptly replied, "Forget it!"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 25th, is "MIND."

The Golden Text is:—"Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ." (I Corinthians 2:16)

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God; how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out. For of him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen."

"Mind is God... We can have but one Mind, if that one is infinite. We bury the sense of infinitude, when we admit that although God is infinite, evil has a place in this infinity, for evil can have no place, where all space is filled with God." (Science and Health, page 469)

The Week's Fashion News

By the Montreal "FASHION SCRIBE"

If you'll let "Fashion Scribe" have any say in the matter, you'll find that being out of Montreal does not mean being out of touch. The end of her pencil is simply quivering with news about fashion happenings... to tell you what's being worn, what shows indication of being worn, even what the newest ideas are in home furnishings and kitchen gadgets.

August 17.—Of all things... we're being told that the latest type of coiffure makes the top of the head look as slick and wave-less as though topped by a skull cap. Around this novel smoothness is built a careful arrangement of tiny flattened curls, so that one ends up by looking like a Raphael angel. It sounds like something that should be labeled "For Youth only."

Bubble, bubble, toil and trouble... canning days are certainly hard on the system. Then, more than ever, a shady lawn and a comfortable "deck" chair seem just about paradise to the busy woman who stirs a kettleful of steaming cherries with one hand and wipes Little Junior's nose with the other. If the deck chair canvas is too old and holey for use, there is an inexpensive way of remedying matters. I saw it in a Montreal store, but you could run it up yourself on your sewing machine. Take the required length of striped awning material, stitch seams at each end as you do for curtains, and insert a strong cord, making loops which slip over the wood of the chair to sling the fabric into place.

Baseball is having lots of people gripping the edge of their seats with excitement. Montrealers you see at these thrilling games are still wearing light summer outfits. On cool days however, you can count on seeing some new knitted wool suits. A plain, double-rib kn't sweater with a plain round neck and a well-fitting skirt made to match in the same knit, was worn by a young person of college age and good fashion sense. She had added a short string of pearls to her outfit... these hanging somewhat below the ribbed collarless edge, and promoting an especially becoming neckline.

Veils are very up and doing. They are staying on the hat and off the face... sometimes stiffened and flying out and giving the whole the prettiest air of animation. It is new to use veils as hat trimming rather than mere nose coverings.

Time Standards

The earth turns on its axis every 24 hours, rotating from west to east. Sun time is taken from the time when the sun apparently crosses the meridian at a given place. Since this changes as one goes east or west, it has been necessary to establish different standard time zones, based on the meridians. 75, 90, 105 and 120 degrees West, in this country. Places within about 7 1/2 degrees of each of these lines of longitude take the time at these meridians as their standard, no matter what their local or sun time may be. Many cities adopted a daylight saving time for the summer months, advancing their clocks an hour so as to take advantage of the early morning light and to save light and fuel in the evening. The United States time zones, running from east to west, are eastern, central, mountain and Pacific. The continental railroads adopted these standards as early as 1883, hence the term, railroad time.—Detroit News.

Waiting for the King

Canadian undergraduates who go to the Old Country in their summer vacations enjoy many unusual sights and meetings but the group shown above, encountered its biggest thrill when the royal automobile was stopped and the King and Queen chatted with them about Canada.

This party is one of many from Canadian universities that visited Great Britain this year under the auspices of the Overseas Education League by the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain. They visited England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales and saw many famous schools and colleges in the British Isles, in addition to the sight-seeing features that are a part of every Old Country tour. The group was viewing Buckingham Palace from the Mall when Their Majesties set out for a drive. They stopped the car and chatted with the Canadian students for 10 or 15 minutes.

ted and sewn garments, carpentry work of all kinds, were prepared and a number of schools held entertainments for the community as a whole.

These Branches contributed in service through their Provincial Office. Through the annual calendar sale and self-denial funds they augmented the Crippled Children's Fund which, for the year 1934, totalled $5,857.74; through this, 321 children from Quebec received hospital care which it was impossible for their parents to finance.

Realizing that every Branch forms a separate link in a great chain of Juniors encircling the globe, which at the close of 1934 totalled over fourteen million children and young people from fifty different nations, many Branches got into direct contact with fellow members in other countries. The Juniors of Calumet, for instance, continued their correspondence with their friends in Holland, Australia and Japan and started a new contact with Poland.

DOCTOR SAID SHE NEEDED "BULK" FOR HER CONSTIPATION*

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief to Mrs. Maneely

Read the following unsolicited letter:

"Up to five years ago, I knew no end of suffering caused by constipation. I used all kinds of laxatives but only found relief till I got used to them. My physician told me to get some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and instructed me how to use it.

"I did just as I was told by my doctor, and today I send my highest praise for what your ALL-BRAN has done for me."—Mrs. Jas. Maneely, Jr. Address upon request.

*Due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

ALL-BRAN provides gentle "bulk" to help overcome common constipation. It is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" of ALL-BRAN is often more effective than the "bulk" in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not corrected this way, see your doctor.

Isn't this food much pleasanter and safer than risking patent medicines? Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

TRIBUTES TO THE LATE MRS. J. MACKIE SHOW MARKED ESTEEM

LARGE GATHERING AT FUNERAL

Friends from far and near assembled at the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church last Friday to pay their last respects to one who had labored long and faithfully in the religious upbuilding of this community, the late Mrs. John Mackie. Laid to rest in the presence and sorrowing of treasured friends, and amid representatives from the spheres of activity to which she had lent unstinting support, the ceremonies were a fitting close of a life-long contribution to humanity and to the welfare and harmony of her fellow creatures.

Rev. H. H. Cousens, officiating at the church service, paid an eloquent tribute in the following words:

"We have assembled here today to pay our tribute of respect to the memory of the late Mrs. Agnes Mackie, who during her long sojourn in this community has been as a Mother in Israel. We cannot think of her presence in our community as being accidental, but rather as part of a Divine Plan. God sent her to us, and now he has called her home."

"When she became the bride of the late Reverend John Mackie, she joined her life with his to be of service to her Lord and Master, Jesus Christ, and having put her hand to the plough she never looked back with longing or regret, but steadily persevered even in the face of hardships and discouragement."

Dr. A. J. Vining Revisits This District

Forty-eight years ago the district about Grenville, especially Rawcliffe, and later Ogdensburg, was greatly stirred by gospel meetings under the leadership of a student from Woodstock College, A. J. Vining. This week, the student evangelist of those days, now Dr. A. J. Vining, president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, has been preaching Old Gospel sermons with the same fire and greater eloquence in the Baptist Churches of this district.

On Monday evening a large, appreciative congregation listened to his gospel preaching in the Maple Avenue Church, Brownsburg. After the service an hour of fellowship was enjoyed around well provided tables in the church basement.

Tuesday evening in the Chatham West Church more friends, old and new, were enriched by the preaching and personality of this veteran speaker.

On Wednesday evening the Grenville Baptist Church, which Dr. Vining helped to build, rang with the same challenging, pleading voice.

As a student he was used of God to change the lives of many. Dr. Vining still believes and presents the same gospel, with a power that is unabating. Friends wish him godspeed and hope that he may be spared to return again to this district at some early time. On Thursday and Friday evenings he will be in Vankleek Hill and Breadalbane.

306,800 ATTENDED OTTAWA FAIR

The Central Canada Exhibition, seasonal attraction for hundreds of people from this section and the Ottawa Valley area, recorded the third highest attendance known in the 48 years of the association—according to figures given out by H. H. McElroy, genial manager of this annual event at Ottawa.

The weather, most problematical feature in forecasts of assemblies such as this, was the most favorable observed in many years during the Exhibition. A total of 306,800 people passed through the turnstiles for the six days. It was the greatest attendance in the last 10 years. The two other years which eclipsed the 1935 mark were 1922, when the number was 307,000, and 1925, when 309,200 people attended the fair. Last year the attendance was 275,900.

CYCLE RACERS APPRECIATED RECEPTION AT C.I.L. PICNIC

Mr. T. Pasco, Sr., of Brownsburg, received the following letter shortly after the Brownsburg C.I.L. Picnic reported in these columns last week.

Verdun, Que.,
Aug. 21, 1935.

Dear Sir:

We wish to take this opportunity of again expressing our fullest appreciation to you and your fellow members of the C.I.L. Social Club, for the wonderful reception given to the bicycle riders and officials at your annual field day. The boys were very pleased with the beautiful prizes given, and enjoyed themselves thoroughly while there.

Results of the race were as follows:

1st.—Ch. Helliker (Wolf Club) Time 2 hrs. 4 mins. 32 secs.
2nd.—P. Latreille (Sylvester Club) Time 2 hrs. 7 mins. 30 secs.
3rd.—K. Armstrong (Wolf Club) Time 2 hrs. 9 mins. 28 secs.
4th.—D. Barton (Sylvester); 5th.—B. Taylor (Wolf); 6th.—B. Adams (Wolf); 7th.—G. Churchill (Wolf); 8th.—B. Williamson (Wolf); 9th.—C. Pocetti (Sylvester); 10th.—A. Berry (Sylvester); 11th.—J. Valliquette (Sylvester); 12th.—P. L'Italien (Sylvester); 13th.—K. Wilson (Wolf); 14th.—R. Martineau.

Please convey our thanks to Mr. Taylor for his great help in making the race a success.

We are yours respectfully,
Wolf Cycle Club

Quebec Credit High in London

A. P. B. Williams, Assistant Provincial Treasurer of Quebec, on arrival from England this week, assured interviewers that the London market looks favorably on Quebec governmental administration.

"Money is abnormally cheap in London for refunding operations," he added. "The lists for a £10,000,000 refunding loan for India were closed within five minutes and at a low per cent. An Australian offering was immediately oversubscribed."

Mr. Williams remarked that Quebec's credit stands high in London, and pointed out that the 4½ per cent. 1936 bonds, one of the few issues listed in the Old Country, are selling above 102.

PARIS SPORTS PROMOTER SEEKS OTTAWA STARS

Roger Strauss, sports editor of L'Auto, Paris, was in Ottawa last week seeking the services of a number of Ottawa hockey stars for the Francais Volants, French team in Paris. Strauss, who has been on a transcontinental tour, spoke highly of his trip through Canada and said that he had contacted a number of players whom he thought would go to France this year.

NEW MCGILL PRINCIPAL ARRIVES FROM ENGLAND

Eager to assume his new duties as principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University, but frankly admitting that he had a great deal to learn about Canada in general and Canadian educational matters in particular, Arthur Eustace Morgan M.A., former head of University College, Hull, arrived in Montreal yesterday, having docked at Quebec on Tuesday.

A BRIDGE--OUR KINGDOM FOR A BRIDGE!

The Rouge River Bridge, Montreal - Hull Highway

While appreciating the work now in execution on the Grenville - Lachute Highway, which is to become part of the Trans-Canada Route, The Watchman would, once again, respectfully draw the attention of Provincial and Federal authorities to the promised construction of a new bridge over the Rouge River at Pte.-au-Chêne.

Mayor W. Beauchamp, of Grenville Township, holds documents in which government engineers condemned this bridge several years ago. Last year it was necessary to engage a patrol at each end of the bridge to detour cars and trucks of too heavy tonnage. This caused much annoyance and ill feeling, with the result that repairs were made. But confidence is not fully restored and numbers of motorists feel a sense of insecurity in passing over this flimsy structure. With improved roads and increased traffic a new bridge is imperative. It is not fair to the north shore section that business should be diverted to the Ottawa south shore, especially since the former route has much more to offer in scenic attractions.

Sudden Passing of Mrs. Melvin C. Copeland Mourned by Many

The funeral of Mrs. Melvin C. Copeland, which was held in the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church on Tuesday afternoon, was attended by a very large assembly of friends and relatives.

Cut off so suddenly in the bloom of young womanhood, her death was the cause of genuine sorrow throughout the whole community. On Saturday evening Mrs. Copeland had left her home to pay a visit to friends in Lachute, and while calling upon Mrs. Robt MacGibbon she was seized with a heart attack and passed away almost instantly.

Mrs. Copeland was formerly Miss Irene Hewitt, and was in her 41st year. She was married to Captain M. C. Copeland in 1913, and leaves her husband and two sons to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother.

Service was conducted by the Rev. H. Cousens, who in his sermon commented on Mrs. Copeland's interest in church work and in the young people of the congregation. The Church and the Home, he avowed, were the two spheres of activity in which she would be most sadly missed. "God planted a human flower in our midst," said the minister; "it was more precious to some than to others, but it was admired by all. Its life was not long, nor was it wasted, for it brought happiness and joy."

"There is no death! An angel form walks o'er the earth with silent tread; He bears our best beloved things away And then we call them 'dead'. He leaves our hearts all desolate, He plucks our fairest, sweetest flowers; Transplanted into bliss, they now Adorn immortal bowers."

Campaign Against Trespassers on C.N.R. Bridge at Grenville

As the result of a raid made on the C.N.R. bridge from Grenville to Hawkesbury last Friday afternoon by Constable J. M. Menard, special agent of the investigation department Canadian National Railways police, Montreal, and Chief Jos. Bealne of the Hawkesbury police, seventeen residents of Hawkesbury were apprehended and ordered to appear before Magistrate Labrosse of Vankleek Hill in police court at L'Orignal. They are charged with trespassing.

According to police, this bridge is used by hundreds of residents daily despite numerous warnings, including signs posted at each end of the structure. Recently a young lad lost his life while crossing eastward to swim in the Grenville canal. It is the intention of the police to prosecute everyone in future caught trespassing.

9,000 Mile Trip by Airplane

Mr. Norman Holland of Montreal, managing director of Brandram Henderson, Ltd., left last week on a 9,000 mile business trip by airplane. His route covers Newark Airport, the southern extremity of the U. S., across the Caribbean Sea to Georgetown, Demerara, thence down the east coast of America to Rio de Janeiro, and to Buenos Aires. The return trip will touch Trinidad, Barbados, Porto Rico, Miami and back to New York. The itinerary will occupy 40 days.

vice, interment was made in Lachute Cemetery.

Seignior Club Hunting Dates Fixed

The hunting season for deer within the limits of the Little Nation Seignior owned by the Seignior Club Community Association, Ltd., will open on October 1, and close November 30, it has been decreed by Hon. J. N. Francoeur.

NOVEL RECOMMENDATION FOR FIRE PROTECTION

Early problems of the "Fire Protector Company" here in Lachute are suggested in a scheme advocated by The Watchman of Aug. 28, 1885.—just fifty years ago.

Says the Editor: Arrangements ought to be made by the Council to have a supply of water ready in case of fires, by offering a premium for the first four puncheons of water, and every subsequent puncheon to be paid for, the fire engineer giving each carter a ticket for every puncheon he brings to the fire. By this means a tolerable supply of water might be secured. This was the course pursued by town corporations in Ontario and Quebec before they got waterworks with tanks at the street corners. Each carter kept in his yard overnight a puncheon full of water, and the harness for his horse in a convenient place, so that he could hitch to his cart and off to the fire as fast as he could.

HAND-HEWN SILOS SHOW SKILL OF EARLY SETTLERS

MAY BE SEEN IN SHAWVILLE DISTRICT

In the farm district inland from Shawville, Que., stand a number of silos which are far removed from the utilitarian structures usually seen in modern farm buildings. They have withstood the test of time during three or more generations of farmers, and were entirely constructed by hand without the use of a single nail or steel binding hoop. The same technique was employed in their construction as in the building of a log cabin.

Polygonal in form, each silo is made up of hundreds of hand-hewn logs cut so accurately that they fit together perfectly. To the hardy pioneers who built them, there was doubtless nothing unusual about their construction. There was abundant growth in the pine forest that formerly covered this area and it was logical that the material at hand should be used since the land had to be cleared for farming purposes anyway.

In this day, however, it is doubtful if the fine skill in axemanship which was originally employed could be duplicated. At first glance one of these silos seems like just another drab grey outbuilding, lacking paint and blending into the general picture of buildings owned by not-too-well-to-do farmers. Closer inspection reveals it is not the usual cylindrical structure but an eight or ten sided one and is built of hundreds of hand-hewn logs.

Even after years of service the corner joints of the log cabin construction are still practically perfect and weather proof; no crack at any corner joint nor any check in the logs themselves is larger than will permit the insertion of a match end. No doubt the pine wood was carefully selected before being cut and it is likely that much wood was discarded for fuel in this process. Today the wood is still sound and shows very few signs of rot.

Capped with a circular, shingled roof, it is not unusual to see a silo that towers 30 or 40 feet into the air, showing no signs of tilting or collapse, which speaks well for those settlers who built so well for the future that their handiwork has lasted long after them.

BANQUET, PRESENTATION HELD IN HONOR OF KILGOUR WILSON

HAPPY EVENT AT CARILLON

On Tuesday evening a banquet was given at Anderson's Hotel, Carillon, in honor of Mr. Kilgour Wilson, who is shortly to step into the ranks of matrimony. Some 50 guests assembled to partake of a bounteous turkey supper and to extend to Mr. Wilson their best wishes for happiness in his new venture. Mr. Jas. W. Gall, in well chosen words, further expressed the good wishes of all present, to which the honored guest made a fitting reply. A very pleasing part of the evening's program was then performed as Mr. Ken McQuat, on behalf of those in attendance, made the presentation of a chiming clock as a slight token of respect and friendship.

Regret was expressed by Messrs. W. S. MacKimmie and F. E. Earle at the absence of a good friend, "Bill" Blakely, who is still in hospital, and his kind sentiments forwarded to the gathering were reciprocated with good wishes for a speedy recovery.

Mr. W. J. Cottingham efficiently filled the position of Toast Master. Mr. A. Bothwell, in proposing a toast to Miss Gee, spoke most highly of the bride to be, and congratulated Mr. Wilson on his splendid choice.

Later in the evening, an enjoyable program was provided by local and Montreal talent. Messrs. Courville and Mitchell at the piano, with Mr. Noel Emblem and his xylophone, kept things lively, while old time as well as modern dancing was enjoyed by all.

Arundel Man Charged With Arson

Charged with arson, Alfred Earl, 35 years of age, of Arundel, was taken to St. Jerome last Thursday by a detective of the Provincial Police, and arraigned. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded until September 11 for enquete.

Earl, who was once a patient at the Ste. Anne de Bellevue Military Hospital, is charged with having set fire on the night of August 2, to the outhouses and home of George Dobie, of Arundel.

The fire, which is charged against Earl, took place shortly before midnight in a barn, housing a large quantity of farm machinery which could not be saved, the loss being set at $2,000. Following the fire, investigation was made and a complaint sworn out by detectives.

Earl could not raise bail, and was consequently lodged in jail to await his hearing.

Fire Destroyed Factory at Ste. Adele

An outbreak of fire last Friday night caused $5,000 damage to the wood-working factory of Telephore Frappier, the only factory in the town of Ste. Adele.

The building was completely destroyed with the season's work contained therein. The blaze caused anxiety for a short while as the building is close to the White House, where the Sisters of Providence house sick nuns. However, it was not necessary for the nuns to evacuate their building.

Several telegraph and telephone poles caught fire but these flames were extinguished before the poles fell and no interruption to service resulted.

The factory is on the main Montreal - Mont Laurier highway.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

DON'T BE EMBARRASSED

Don't let crowds interfere with your picture taking, for there are too many picture possibilities to overlook.

EVERY day we learn more about amateur photographers and, surprising as it may seem, find that many feel somewhat embarrassed taking pictures in view of the public eye. They shrink from the attention they erroneously believe they attract. To feel that way is really absurd.

That type of self-consciousness will be the cause of your missing many interesting pictures. You can rest assured there is no thought of ridicule on the part of those who may be apparently watching you snap a picture. Nine chances out of ten the spectator is envious and wishes he owned a camera or had one with him.

There are times, however, when you may want to conceal your camera—and your actions—as much as possible; not because of embarrassment but for the sake of an unusual, human interest picture.

Everywhere you go in a city, whether it is in the park where babies are perambulated by their nursemaids, or in the gloomy slums where some immigrant mother hangs out the family wash while ragged little urchins play perilously on upper balconies, you can find dramatic, story-telling pictures. As you walk through the streets and parks there are countless opportunities for snapshots that are really unusual, and such pictures breathe new life into your snapshot album.

When you come upon a good picture possibility in the form of a person or persons in action, that is the time you want to conceal your camera and intentions as much as possible, for to get the best results, your subject should not be conscious of your presence. On approaching such subjects, it is best to set your focusing scale at a distance from which you believe you will get the best results. Judge your light and properly set the diaphragm and shutter speed. When you are "all set," approach your prey quite nonchalantly and when you reach the proper distance to take the picture you are after, shoot without further delay and your unsuspecting victim will have unknowingly furnished you with good snapshot material.

This kind of amateur photography can be employed in so many places. This is especially true in the summer, for if there is any place to get informal, candid camera pictures, it is on picnics, at your local swimming pool, or the favorite old swimmin' hole, at the seashore or summer resort.

And, speaking of summer resorts, have you noticed the number of nationally known people—stage and screen stars, members of socially prominent families, and even great business leaders—who are pictured in newspapers and magazines with their cameras in action. It has really become the smart thing to own and use a camera.

So sally forth with your camera with all the abandon of a sailor strolling with one of his many sweethearts and get the kind of pictures your friends will talk about and praise.

JOHN VAN GUILDER.

POOR OLD PEDRO

Some thirty or thirty-five years ago, we perused avidly a journal rejoicing in the name of the Union Jack Weekly which always devoted its pages solely to a "full length detective story." For our weekly 5c we obtained great enjoyment from the stories of Sexton Blake, the detective, and his intelligent dog Pedro who always assisted in tracing the murderer to his lair.

One of our younger friends recently called our attention to the Union Jack Weekly. After a lapse of more than three decades we rejoiced at again seeing the familiar, inscrutable features of our old friend Blake who, despite our own gray hairs, appeared not a day older. We immediately inquired about the dog Pedro; but were told that Sexton Blake had never had a dog.

Intrigued with this news, we dipped within the cover to learn just how the crimes were solved without a reproduction of the blood hound's distinguished face and nose on the front cover. To our regret we learnt that Blake had discarded the crude 19th century methods of crime detection. He catches criminals now by the latest scientific methods including psychoanalyses, chemical laboratories, radio, and aeroplanes.

We regret Pedro's death, his sacrifice on the altar of science, because we feel that kids would still obtain pleasanter emotions from a faithful old blood-hound than from test tubes. The only moral we can think of concerning Pedro is that, perhaps the world loses a great deal in keeping up to the times.

OUR FRIEND THE TOAD

Our friend the toad is a busy old chap.
A busy old chap is he—
Catching flies and creeping things
In the children's garden wee.

All day long he sits and blinks
Under some barberry brush,
And longs for the sun to go to bed.
For the evening's cool, dim hush.

Then he hops and hops to the garden beds
Darting his sharp furred tongue,
In the flower bells and leaves' curled tips
And gathers in one by one . . .

The bugs and beetles that flit at night
And sap the life from the flowers—
Our friend the toad is a gardener kind
In the long, dark, sleeping hours.

GUESS WHAT!

"Guess What!" - Billy's voice was full of hidden mystery as he tiptoed softly to the garden seat, where his sister Frances was peeling apples for their mother.

"I can't guess, Billy, tell me please," Frances coaxed.

"Huh!" Billy exclaimed scornfully. "You would be a spoilsport. Why can't you play the game?"

"Oh, is it a game?" Frances cried delightedly, dropping the last peeled apple into the pan and jumping to her feet.

"Course it's a game!" answered Billy. "What did you think it was?"

"I thought perhaps you had something new to tell me," Billy's eyes twinkled. "Aw g'wan, it's a game. Will ye play it with me Frances?"

"Just as soon as I carry these apples to Mother" said Frances, picking up the dish and hurrying to the kitchen with it.

When she was out of sight Billy lay down on the grass and rolled over and over, chuckling to himself all the while.

Frances came back much sooner than he expected, and stood watching him in surprise. "Billy Peters!" she exclaimed. "Whatever is the matter with you?"

Billy stopped chuckling and sat up. "Guess What!" he said looking impishly up into her face.

"Oh I see!—the game goes on. All right, I'll try and guess why you were rolling about so. You have a pain in your tummy, and were trying to get ease."

"Say!" said Billy in disgust "did ye ever hear of a fellow chuckling that had a pain in his stomach?" Billy never used the word tummy; he thought it quite too childish.

"I don't think I ever did, now that you have brought the matter to my notice." Suddenly she burst into peals of laughter.

"What are you laughing at Silly?" he asked, in a grievous sort of a voice. "Guess What!" taunted his sister, with a toss of her head.

"Huh!" the boy snorted "that silly game." "You started it Billy," said Frances. "Why can't you try and guess what I was laughing at. I tried to guess why you were rolling about."

"Share the fun! Share the fun!" shouted a gay voice just across the hedge. "There's Dick and Madge," exclaimed Frances, jumping up and running to the gate. "Come on in folks, and help us play our game."

"What sort of a game is it?" asked Dick. He thought it was quite too hot to play games, and edged his way to the hammock. The hammock was rather a good place when it was hot, especially when it was under the huge elm tree. "Guess What!" said Billy with a giggle.

Dick stopped and stared at him. "Don't be foolish, Bill," he said, "you know very well I never could guess, if I tried ever so hard."

"It's a cross-word puzzle" Madge shouted, "I am sure that Frances has got a new one."

"You are cold, freezing cold" Billy chuckled, "try again."

"I wouldn't mind if I were really a bit cold for a change" said Madge, "so if guessing right is going to make me hotter I think that I won't guess any more." Dropping to the ground she started to fan herself vigorously with Frances' large sun hat.

"What is this hat made from?" she asked suddenly, stopping and looking it over carefully. "Guess What!" Billy shouted. Madge stared at him in surprise for a moment. "What is the matter with him?" she asked, turning to Frances. "Guess What!" was Frances' roughish answer.

Not another word would either Frances or Billy say, although Madge and Dick asked several other questions. "I don't think that you are a bit nice today," said Madge at last. "I am going home until you get into better humor." Jumping up she ran towards the gate but Frances was too quick for her. She caught her before she reached the gate.

"Madge dear," she said laughingly, "That is our game. 'Guess What' is the name of it. When anyone asks a question we say 'Guess What.'"

"Oh!" exclaimed her friend. "I did not understand I thought you were making fun of me. It sounds jolly when you understand."

"Yes, but you have to have someone new to try it on," said Billy, "and here comes Uncle Ted. Guess what he wants? I was going to tell Frances when I came to her in the garden, but thought I would have a bit of fun first."

"Haven't you told them yet Billy Boy?" asked Uncle Ted. "No, but I am going to right this minute. Uncle Ted is going to take us in the car to Wild-Wood Cove for a picnic and we can fish and go in bathing and everything. None of you guessed that now, did you?" "I should say not!" said Madge. "It's the best news ever."

"Be ready in ten minutes," called Uncle Ted as he went to see if Madame Elizabeth, as he jokingly called his car, was in good humour.

There was a sudden scurrying of children towards the house to get ready for the drive, and a sudden silence fell on the old garden.

Next story—Wild-Wood Cove. Lovingly, Aunt Jean.

FROM NEW BRUNSWICK ELECTIONS

A good story is reported from the recent election in New Brunswick. A Liberal candidate was introduced to his audience by a youthful-looking, clean-shaven chairman. Arrayed on the platform was also a collection of party stalwarts. The candidate launched briskly into his speech, but the young chairman behind him was called out of the meeting, and the chair taken temporarily by one of the old gray beards on the platform. In a pause in his peroration, the speaker paused to appeal to "Mr. Chairman". Seeing the old gray whiskered gent in the chair so recently occupied by a mere stripling, his jaw dropped, his eyes bulged, and finally getting his breath, he exclaimed "Great heavens, have I been talking that long."

Johannie: "Mother, do all fairy tales begin 'Once upon a time?'"

Mother: "Not always, son. Sometimes they start with 'My dear, I was detained at the office.'"

BOY SCOUTS THE WORLD OVER

FOUR NATIONAL SCOUT BIRTHDAYS

The 25th birthday anniversaries of Boy Scout associations in four different countries were celebrated this summer—the United States, Poland, Finland and Denmark.

MORE INDIAN BOY SCOUTS

As in Canada, a number of Boy Scout troops have been organized on American Indian reserves. Recent Scout "tribes" have been established on Choctaw and Pueblo reservations.

WILD PIGS IN BELGIUM

Scouts of one district in Belgium have been earning money by hunting wild pigs in the neighbouring forest. For each pig secured they receive £3. Only First Class Scouts are allowed to hunt.

CEASE RECOGNITION OF LIBERIA SCOUTS

Failure to carry on to expected Scouting standards has caused the International Committee of the Boy Scouts Association to suspend recognition of the Boy Scouts of Liberia, Africa.

SCOUTS OF OTHER LANDS IN FINLAND

For the two 25th. birthday Jamboree camps in Finland this summer, Scout contingents came from Hungary, Estonia, Denmark, Norway and Sweden, and smaller parties from other countries. There were competitions in scoutcraft, athletics and archery. A pageant represented the bringing of the Christian faith to Finland.

JAPANESE SEA SCOUTS' LONG CRUISE

Sea Scouts of Japan completed a four months' Scout goodwill cruise in waters of the Far East aboard the 159 ton brigantine Givu-Wani-Maru. They called at Manila, Saigon, Bangkok, Singapore and Batavia.

FOREIGN SCOUTS DANISH HOME GUESTS

A Danish National Scout Jamboree July 27—Aug. 9 celebrated the 25th anniversary of Det Danske Spejderkorps, the Danish Scout Association. The camp was held on the site of the World Scout Jamboree of 1924. During the second week of the camp Scouts from other countries were guests in the homes of Copenhagen.

Modern Devices for Improving Waterworks Service

By L. A. SMITH Superintendent Water Department, Madison, Wisconsin in "The Municipality" (Wisconsin).

MANY SIMPLE DEVICES NOW AVAILABLE TO INSURE BETTER SERVICE TO CUSTOMERS

Uninterrupted Service

When I first took the office of waterworks superintendent at Madison, nearly 20 years ago, it was common practice to shut off water for the repair of mains, services, hydrants or valves at any time that it was convenient to the water department by simply notifying the property owners. In some cases water was shut off for four or more hours. This was poor service and the time has passed when water can be shut off except in actual cases of necessity such as a main break of considerable consequence. Our customers are paying for the best possible service, and good service should mean continuous service. In order to give our customers as nearly as possible continuous service we have adopted three changes in policy and have made use of several modern devices—all of which have reduced the number of times that water has to be shut off and the length of time that it is shut off.

We maintain a regular night man for emergency service which can be handled by a single person, and we also operate a night crew from 10.00 p.m. to 6.00 a.m. to take care of valve, main and hydrant repairs in which it is necessary to shut off the water. Both the emergency night man and the night crew are provided with trucks.

The second change is the adoption of the policy of building manholes around all of our gate valves prior to street improvements so that no excavation is required in case of a valve repair. The policy is followed of installing a gate valve on every hydrant lead so that it is not necessary to shut off the main in case of a hydrant repair.

Leak Locators

One of the simplest and most effective devices in locating leaks is the aquaphone. This is simply an old fashioned telephone receiver with a pointed pin inserted at the place where the wire ordinarily enters the receiver. This device amplifies the volume of sound so that leaks can be located which cannot be heard under ordinary circumstances. The simplicity and low cost of the aquaphone justifies its use by even the smallest water utility. The aquaphone is used in three ways: First, by meter inspectors when they are reading the meters to find out whether there are any service or main leaks in the vicinity. When the characteristic hissing sound is heard the meter reader reports the location and a work order is issued. Second, the aquaphone is also used by our hydrant inspector to detect leaks in hydrants or mains and services in the vicinity of hydrants. When it is determined that a leak exists in a certain locality quite often effective results can be obtained by driving a pointed rod down to the main and listening, which is the third method we recommend for the use of the aquaphone. The city of New York uses aquaphones almost to the exclusion of other sound amplifying devices with very successful results.

There is another device—the electric leak locator—which consists of a flat plate with four pointed lugs which can be inserted into the ground electrically connected to an amplifier with storage batteries and ear phones. This device provides a much larger amplification of sound and is of value in detecting extremely small leaks which could not be heard with an aquaphone. However, its use is limited to location where the traffic is light, and if it is desirable to use it in the business district it can only be used successfully at night. This device is extremely valuable in locating leaks under pavements where a rod cannot be driven down to the main because of its sensitivity. By its careful use a leak can be so accurately located that it is necessary to make only one pavement cut.

Dip Needles

Another device which has been commonly used for a good many years and which we consider so valuable that we have equipped every service truck with one, is the dip needle. This is also a comparatively inexpensive and simple device and is recommended for common use. The dip needle enables a person to locate valve boxes or service boxes which are buried. In a great many cases these are only covered with a few inches of dirt and their location can be readily determined. We have located service boxes which have been covered with 18 inches of dirt by use of this device. It is extremely valuable in locating service and valve boxes when snow and ice are on the ground.

Pipe Locator

The electric pipe locator has saved our department large sums of money in the past by enabling us to accurately locate service and distribution lines. This device consists of a buzzer, coil, dry cells and ear phones, together with 100 feet or so of copper wire. If a service enters a house and we have no record of its location, an electrical connection is established by connecting one side of the battery to a sill cock at the house where the service location is unknown and connecting the other side of the battery to another sill cock or hydrant in the immediate vicinity. When the buzzer is turned on an electrical contact is thus established and by using the coil and ear phones and examining the area within the electrical circuit a person can tell definitely when they have passed over the pipe line in question. We have located services which were installed a good many years ago in rather peculiar locations and of which we had no record. In general this would be impossible to do by any other means except by actual excavation. We have also used the ordinary physician's stethoscope to great advantage, particularly within buildings in definitely locating leaks under basement floors or in walls. The stethoscope provides an amplification slightly greater than the aquaphone and has the advantage that it has two ear phones so that extraneous noises are largely eliminated.

25-Year-Old Son Makes Political Debut in New Crusade

Pembroke, Ont.—Francis H. Stevens, 28-year-old son of Hon. Harry H. Stevens, Reconstruction Party leader, made his political debut here recently at a nomination convention for Renfrew North.

Young Stevens arrived in Ottawa from Vancouver and immediately set to work on the organization of the National Youth Movement which is a fundamental plank in the Stevens Reconstruction Party platform.

A National committee of young men and young women bringing together youth movement groups from every province will be announced next week, Francis Stevens declared in an interview following his address to the Renfrew North electors. "The Reconstruction Party was not a party to advance the interest of Hon. H. H. Stevens," he stated. "It was a party to express the will of the nation."

The thousands of trekkers—youths in their teens—being shuffled back and forth across the country, moved on by the police, with their only haven a relief camp, was a situation the nation, young and old, must consider, he declared. The only solution that had been offered these young trekkers was revolution. Young men were graduated from school with only two alternatives. This was to sponge on their parents or "hit the highway" to a relief camp. That was the reason he had come east to work for the youth movement, he said.

Francis Stevens was graduated from University of British Columbia in 1927, a bachelor of arts. He has a platform manner reminiscent of his father, a low penetrating voice and displays an almost complete absence of gesture. There were a number of hecklers in the town hall audience, but the young man dealt with them in a manner that showed he is timber for a most capable platform orator. He made a striking figure with his brilliant red hair and flashing steel-grey eyes.

Mr. Stevens spoke in Ottawa West later in the week and declared that "never before in a Federal election did the issues so definitely concern youth." He pleaded for a chance for youth to work with the older men and women to put the burden of Canadian reconstruction on the shoulders of youth, where it rightly belonged.

OLD SMOBILE

Go Motoring Costs When You Own an Oldsmobile

OLD SMOBILE OWNERS who formerly drove expensive automobiles are amazed at the economy of "The Car That Has Everything". Others who have "stepped up" from small cars are delighted to find in Oldsmobile little increase over the low running costs to which they are accustomed.

But then, most people know Oldsmobile's reputation for thrift. Moreover, they realize that, later on, when ordinary cars require repairs and overhauling, Oldsmobile will be delivering the same satisfying, trouble-free service. Why? Because General Motors has built into it dependability and long life.

Oldsmobile for 1935 gives you, among scores of desirable modern features: solid steel "Turret Top" Bodies by Fisher; Hydraulic Brakes; Knee-Action; Synchro-Mesh Transmission; and No-Draft Ventilation. Why not test for yourself the worth of each of these advancements. We will be glad to demonstrate for you a Six or Straight Eight. We are eager to show you how surprisingly easy it is to become an Oldsmobile owner.

The Ottawa Spotlight

Weekly Review of National Affairs

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, August 27.—Through deaths, resignations, appointments, loss of nomination and other causes, an unusually large exodus has already taken place from the old House of Commons membership. No matter what happens on election day — and it will probably be plenty — many of the more prominent and colorful characters have already passed to other fields. A casual check of the parliamentary guide indicated about thirty members on one side or the other, mostly Conservatives, who are definitely out of the battle already. The following list does not pretend to be complete:

Col. James Arthurs (Parry Sound) elevated to senate; Hon. George Black, retired because of ill health; C. E. Bourgeois, Three Rivers, elevated to Senate; J. L. Brown, Lisgar, failed to obtain nomination; A. U. G. Bury, Edmonton East, given judgeship; Harry Butcher, (Last Mountain) riding abolished; Col. Thomas Cantley, Pictou, made a senator; D. J. Cowan, Port Arthur-Thunder Bay, made a judge; Hon. Alfred Duranleau, former Minister of Marine, made a judge; Dr. Emile Fortin, Levis, elevated to Senate; W. F. Garland (Carleton) lost nomination; Hon. Hugh Guthrie, made chairman of the Railway Board; Hon. J. A. MacDonald (P.E.I.) elevated to Senate; Hon. Murray MacLaren, made lieutenant-governor of New Brunswick; F. R. MacMillan, Saskatoon, lost nomination; Col.

Harry Mullins, Marquette, elevated to Senate; F. P. Quinn, Halifax, elevated to senate; Col. J. L. Ralston, retired to devote himself to law practice; Hon. E. N. Rhodes, elevated to Senate; Hon. Arthur Sauve, elevated to senate; R. K. Smith, Cumberland, N.B. made deputy minister of Marine; B. F. Smith, Victoria Carleton N.B., made a senator; J. H. Stitt, Selkirk, Man., made civil service commissioner; J. A. Sullivan, St. Ann, Montreal, made deputy postmaster general; A. B. Thompson, Simcoe, appointed to Farm Board; A. F. Totzke, Humboldt, lost nomination; J. F. White, London, lost nomination.

WILL DUNNING RETURN?

The retirement of Col. J. L. Ralston, the financial critic of the Liberals, leaves them without a first class man to put in as Minister of Finance in case they win on October 14th. Of course it has not been unusual to go out of politics for a Minister of Finance. Besides, there is Hon. Charles Dunning. The former Saskatchewan farmer and now successful financier will not, it is said, contest a seat in the coming election; and yet it is quite possible that if the Liberals win he will be invited to return to the post he held briefly after the death of Hon. James Robb in November 1929.

The victory of William Aberhart and 'Social Credit' in Alberta is likely to have an important effect on federal election activities.

It will give encouragement to Hon. H. H. Stevens and J. S. Woodsworth as indicating that in some sections of the country at least the voter is disposed to give new forces a trial.

THE ABERHART VICTORY

It will shake somewhat the complacency of the Liberals for whom things have been 'breaking' in the most sensational way recently. It rebukes the Liberal demand for a 'solid Liberal Canada' and some small consolation for the failure of the Liberals in Alberta will be seen by the Bennett government as marking, perhaps, the end of the long series of Liberal victories. At the same time it is difficult to see in what way the federal Conservative party can get much satisfaction out of the Alberta results. The Liberals will repeat what Mackenzie King said in one of his broadcasts, that it is always during long periods of Conservative rule and bad times that these parties of revolt develop.

Some interesting situations are certain to develop in the relations between Alberta and the federal government over taxation, interprovincial trade, the issue of currency, and so forth. Sceptics concerning the Aberhart $25. a month basis dividend plan claim that his money can only be secured by one of two methods: taxation and inflation, the latter being another form of taxation in essence. If the latter method is attempted, the Alberta government will be up against the exclusive right of issuing currency. The provinces are also, under the constitution, limited to direct taxation.

Another likely effect on the Aberhart victory is the adoption by one or more of the federal parties of more radical monetary and credit planks in their platforms.

Passing of Calumet Lady is Deeply Mourned

There passed away on Sunday, Aug. 25th., at her home in Calumet, Alice Kennedy, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy and beloved wife of John A. Prophet. She was born in Grenville Que., on July 28th., 1885. She leaves to mourn her loss a loving husband, one daughter (Doris) Mrs. Arthur McHardy of Montreal; two sons, Irvine at home and Bertan, of Montreal, also one brother, Joe, of Brockville, Ont., and four sisters—Mrs. Thomas Tomalty of Edwards, Ont., Mrs. John S. Dixon of Dalesville, Mrs. Robt. Kennedy, of High River, Alta., and Mrs. Thomas Bennett of Calumet.

The funeral was conducted at her late residence on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Mr. Maclean of Cushing, assisted by Rev. Mr. Jobb, former pastor of Calumet United Church, and Rev. E. G. Baxter, of the Maple Avenue Baptist Church Brownsburg.

The service was largely attended and beautiful flowers bore evidence of a very widespread esteem and sympathy for the bereaved.

SUTTON'S AMBASSADORS CLAIM DISTINCTION

The "Canadian Ambassadors" under the management of Myron Sutton have achieved a unique record in the musical sphere.

This orchestra, organized a little over three years ago in Niagara Falls, Ont., has had a phenomenal career. Many difficulties arose in organizing the group, due to scarcity of first class colored musicians in the Dominion, but with patience and careful adjustment the aggregation was welded into a body that can justly claim to be Canada's Greatest Colored Dance Orchestra.

They have the distinction of being the only colored orchestra to appear before His Excellency.

The group have played in the leading clubs in Ontario and Quebec. Miss Evelyn Campbell, direct from New York night clubs, who is featured with the Ambassadors, will chase away the blues with her southern songs and dance specialties. See announcement of final engagement at the Black & White.

QUEBEC CONSERVATIVES ORGANIZE

Plans for establishing a permanent provincial Conservative organization in the province of Quebec have been completed and announcement is made as follows:

Hortensius Beique, M.L.A. for Chambly, is general president of the organization for the whole province, with Brigadier-General C. A. Smart, M.L.A. for Westmount, as vice-president, and Pierre Bertrand, M.L.A. for St. Sauveur, Quebec, vice-president of the Quebec district.

LAMENTATIONS OF JEAN BATISTE ON RECIPROCITY

WAY back in 1911, evary one she's bien contente, Wit Grande Sir Wilfred Laurier, who lead le Bonne entente, Til one sad day his brain it work wit great velocity; An wat you tink dat word he use ?—'twas Reciprocity.

IT mak no never mind to me, jus what dat word can be, But everyone say it mean, You join de state so free; But me I'm pure blood Canadian, an ask you tell me why De Liberal an Conservateur mak such a dreadful cry!

FOR if to work together, bring back prosperity, I say by gosh for sure I vote for Reciprocity— An now we know Sir Wilfred knew much better dan de rest, For toute le monde is crying "Reciprocity de best."

SO now I'm shame for tink just wat I do so long ago For listen to de oder man to show me how to go, So wen notre Monsieur Bennett say, "I go for it provide, You dont let dese Americans get too much on dere side."

FOR dose Americans dey all seem satisfy To give dis Reciprocity for sure a little try; An jus de same den Roosevelt say, "We try a ting for once, An if it no work, why den de scheme it get de bounce."

SO now let Uncle Samuel come an if he want to trade, Sure les Canadiens will show how quick to make de grade, We soon find out, jus if its only talk of politician Who want to keep de power an boss de whole position.

FOR me I'm only Canadian, you call "Le Habitant", An try to find de bes I can, what mean de Gouvernement; For after more dan fifty years of building tariff wall De nations now for sure dey have no beesness left at all.

SO many tings now going on all trou dis poor ole worle, Dat me I keep on wondering so ma head she's in a whirl, But I'm sure certain for everyone Reciprocity de ting, An vote for it, and don give a dam—if its Bennett, Stephens or King.

Dunany Church Service on Theme of Oxford Group Movement

One of the most inspiring services ever held in St. Paul's Church, Dunany, took place on Sunday evening last. The church was filled to capacity. Rev. C. W. P. Baugh conducted the service, assisted by H. G. Baugh, student minister. A special address on the aims and motives of the Oxford Group Movement was given by Mr. Templeman, of the Montreal United Theological College. This was followed by a special chorus by the Oxford Group.

A solo, rendered by Mrs. Dougherty, and special music by the organist for the evening, Mr. Dumbrel, completed a service that will long be remembered by those present. Rev. Mr. Baugh preached on "God so Loved," while the hymn added appreciably to the spirit of the text.

RESPECTED LADY DIES SUDDENLY

The sudden death occurred yesterday afternoon of Mde. Alfred Desjardins, a lady well known and widely associated in Lachute, particularly in the West End. At a social gathering in the afternoon, she felt unwell and left for her home on Chatham street; no sooner had she arrived, however, than she collapsed and died—the cause of death being a heart attack.

Mrs. Desjardins was formerly Miss Gagnier of Greece's Point, but had been a resident of this town for about 30 years. She is survived by her husband, a lifetime employee of Ayers Limited, and a large family, to whom the sympathy of this community is extended in their sad loss.

A huge vote was polled in the Alberta provincial elections; which seems to prove that harvesting does not keep the farmer from going to the polls to cast his ballot.

SIGNS OF PROSPERITY

The building industry is said to be the index of prosperity. If that is so then better times have arrived in this part of the country. As we drive about we cannot help but notice the number of new homes that are being built and the rural districts are building their share. This year the farmers seem to be doing a lot more painting than usual. Fixing-up must be contagious. There will be districts where nothing is being done, then a few miles farther along house after house will have new paint. Many of them have gone so long without paint that they feel it is not safe to allow them to go longer. Then when one place is painted it makes the next owner realize how shabby his place looks. It is a good thing to fix up even one thing as that stirs our ambition and shows up some other thing which looks shabby. All that is needed is to start the ball rolling.

THE ROSES THAT BLOOM IN THE SUMMER

Haven't the roses been wonderful this year? A reward for the destruction of last year. As I write I look out my window at the beautiful contrast of delphinium, running the gamut of all the shades of pink, our neighbors are most kind in providing pictures for us to see out of our windows. My kitchen table is under a window and the neighbor on that side has provided a riot of rambler roses that are a sight to see. We have a pink rose bush which is about 15 feet long and I am not exaggerating when I say that it had thousands of roses on it when in full bloom. Even nature does not make its colours fast and the roses faded a little lighter each day. When they first came out they were a very deep pinky rose and as they became lighter in colour there would be roses of about five different shades on the same rose bush. If only they could bloom all summer!

EXERCISE AND WAKE UP

When you are limp from the heat and you feel that you cannot make another move, take some exercise. It sounds a bit goofy doesn't it? I don't mean to exercise your arms or legs as probably they are getting all they need, but take some exercise to stir up your midriff section. It will stimulate your circulation and lift you out of the doldrums. You need not do them very strenuously nor for a long time, but a few times for each exercise will do something to you. You may have your own pet exercises but here are some good ones that are easy to do. Lie down with the arms outstretched—the bed will do but the floor is better. See how close your right leg can come to touching your left fingers, keeping your shoulder blades flat. Then reverse the process and touch your right fingers with your left toes. When you have done that a few times, pretend you are riding a bicycle and pedal vigorously. Then try the time-honoured one of touching your toes with your fingers without bending your knees. That of course is done standing up. To make it more effective, lock your thumbs together and swing alternately to the left and to the right as you come up. You will be surprised how much better these simple exercises make you feel, I know. I have just done them.

CUPID'S BUSY YEAR

Cupid had a busy year in Canada during 1934, according to Government statistics which show that 73,023 marriages were performed. The number of marriage solemnized in 1934 was the largest in the past five years and represents an increase of 9,158, or 14.3 per cent. over 1933 figures. More recent figures show that the marriage rate this year will be even higher than in 1934. For the first five months of 1935, January to May inclusive, 21,230 Canadians stepped up to the altar as compared with 20,798 in the same period of 1934.

The fact that more young couples are now getting married and setting up house indicates, possibly better than any carefully prepared index, returning public confidence and improving economic conditions in the Dominion. The purchase of household furniture and equipment by newly married couples and the number of wedding presents showered on them accelerates industrial production and retail trade. This is reflected in the increases registered in retail sales during the popular wedding months, particularly in the furniture store reports.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 1st., is "Christ Jesus."

The Golden Text is: "I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." (John 1: 9)

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. . . . For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace." (Isaiah 9)

A TRIBUTE TO THE LATE MRS. JOHN MACKIE

An affianced bride of winsome grace,
With youth's own glory in her shining face,
She crossed the ocean, borne by winds of chance,
To be the well-loved Mistress of the "stane kirk manse."

Fearing not toil, nor billows' roll,
Firm of purpose, serene of soul,
She accepted the task by her Master assigned,
With eager hopes and a willing mind.

Though often gripped with a longing grim,
For the dear "hame folk" and the cities' din,
In the strange, new world she played her part,
And faced the future with a steadfast heart.

And watched the pioneer homes arise
From their woodland dells 'neath variant skies,
While the lonely settlers breathed her name,
With hearts brimming o'er with sweet acclaim.

To rich and poor, alike—she stood,
A gracious pattern of motherhood,
Encircling each in the golden chain
Of her love, tolling daily, without thought of gain.

Through the changing times her open door,
Welcomed friend and stranger—yes, o'er and o'er,
While her tender smile and kindly face,
Cast a fadeless radiance all through the space.

Of the years that came and passed away,
From pioneer times till this modern day,
When our hearts enshrine her in memory's expanse,
This dear, departed Mistress of our pioneer manse.

The Week's Fashion News

By the Montreal "FASHION SCRIBE"

If you'll let "Fashion Scribe" have any say in the matter, you'll find that being out of Montreal does not mean being out of touch. The end of her pencil is simply quivering with news about fashion happenings . . . to tell you what's being worn, what shows indication of being worn, even what the newest ideas are in home furnishings and kitchen gadgets.

Montreal, August 24.—Two viewpoints enter into the choosing of school outfits. First—the wish of the 12-year old to look about 18. Second—the intelligent desire of her mother to keep her childlike. Wool jersey dresses suit from all angles and the stores are showing smart new ones . . . some with hand-embroidery on sleeves and at neckline, others shirt-waist type. Jersey is considered just about perfect by everybody from grown-ups to children in New York and Paris for autumn street wear.

When children are still in long socks and just before the difficult age, they look best in English types of clothes with "line" and simplicity. You see adorable ones now for back-to-school . . . flecked tweed coats with matching hats . . . and monotone tweed coats often with buttons down the front from neck to hem.

With Montreal still dizzy from the recent hot spell it gave one a sense of shock to see a fur cape at the Piccadilly Club. That was on Friday . . . and the temperature had dropped some tens of degrees from Tuesday's heat, otherwise the sight of fur would have been unbearable. It was of lapin, elbow-length, and with shadow stripes of a deeper beige. It was worn with a dark green sheer wool dress with a low front flare in the skirt, and a green felt tricorn. The whole effect was stunning enough to holds the first faint morning beams, ere cometh the full radiance of a risen day. So shone the pale star to the prophet shepherds; yet it traversed the night, and came where, in cradled obscurity, lay the Bethlehem babe, the human herald of Christ, Truth."

make one believe in all the chatter about fur capes being "in" for autumn.

There is no telling what the shoe designers will do next. Their latest is cutting off the toes of the oxfords in a sharp blunt way that is unbelievably becoming, making the foot look inches shorter. The square toe must have a squared-off type of heel so that balance may be maintained. This new type of medium high heel is called Chinese, for reasons undivulged to the general public.

Some people have the gift of discovering the right sort of colour accent and sticking to it. Dubonnet Red was the deep red that went about with all the smart set this summer. Another one-tinge-deeper-tone of this red is being noised about as the successor to Dubonnet Red's popularity. It is called Oriental Oxblood, and has been seen about town already in square-toe shoe and scarf.

Here is a way of using up odd scraps of flat fur. (The idea was inspired by a window display of new dresses on St. Catherine St.) A rectangular piece of leopard fur was placed panel-wise from neckline to below the waist, and was circled by a leather belt. Another fashion hint; resurrect all your old plumes and have your milliner arrange them in the new ways on your Fall hats. Feathers of all sorts are extra fashionable.

GOOD ADVICE

Just keep the heart a-beatin' warm,
Be kind to every feller;
Look for the rainbows in the storm,
But—carry yer umbrella!

Be brave to battle with the strife,
Be true when people doubt you;
Don't think that money's all in life,
But—carry some about you!

An' when it's time to shuffle off,
An' you have done yer mission,
Just put yer trust in Providence—
An' call a good physician.

AS A CEREAL.

OR IN COOKING

It's FINE either way!

It's so handy to have a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the kitchen. Serve it as a cereal. Use it also as a wholesome ingredient in your muffins, breads, omelets, waffles, etc. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B, as well as iron, an element of the blood.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct common constipation, due to insufficient bulk in the diet. In severe cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

The "bulk" of ALL-BRAN does not break down during digestion as does that of leafy vegetables, and is therefore more effective for furnishing the needed "bulk." It is a delicious laxative food . . . far better than patent medicines.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

HERMIT CAKE

3 eggs
1 cup butter
2 1/2 cup flour
1/2 lb. lemon peel
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon soda
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1 lb. dates
1/2 lb. almonds
2 teaspoons lemon essence

Cream butter and sugar and add well beaten eggs. Dredge the dates, the blanched almonds and the peel, with flour, after cutting them in small pieces. Add flavouring and sift in the dry ingredients. Add the dredged fruit and nuts and beat thoroughly. Bake in a moderate oven of 360 degrees.

CUCUMBER SALAD

Pare cucumbers, quarter lengthwise and remove seedy portion. Cut in cubes, add a little chopped onion if desired, and mix with salad dressing just before serving.

WATERWORKS SERVICE

Complete Records

Another item of value, although it cannot be properly called a device, is our so-called "black book." We maintain in the city engineer's office large record books with cloth backed sheets approximately 24 x 30 inches on which are shown to scale the location of all mains, hydrants, valves and services, giving accurate dimensions from the property lines. Photostatic copies of these original records are made and bound in book form. One of these books is provided for each of our service trucks, one is available in the water department office, one at the pumping station and one at the service building. This enables our employees to make prompt shut offs and saves a considerable amount of time which would otherwise be spent in consulting the original record. This has the further advantage in providing a duplicate of our original record should it be destroyed in any way.

This young man has been studying the pipe organ

Radio Interference

The water department operates four unit wells and two booster pumping stations which are electrically driven, as well as a steam driven D. C. generator at the main station. Wherever electricity is used there is the danger of radio interference and we have a portable R.C.A. radio with which all of our electrical units are tested periodically and particularly when there is a complaint of radio interference.

There is no question in my mind but that the use of modern devices for locating pipe lines service boxes and leaks are fine investments and, undoubtedly, pay for themselves from an economic standpoint. We have approximately $300 invested in these devices and I am satisfied that they return annually several times this amount in the saving of labor. There are two definite advantages, however, other than economic—first, that we are able to give better service, and second, that excavations are not made without definitely knowing the exact point at which to dig. This eliminates much criticism which occurs when pavement cuts are made, particularly in new pavements.

for only nine months, but shows promise of being one of Montreal's finest organists.

On September 8th., special preacher in the Presbyterian Church will be Rev. H. Trust, D.D., L.H.D., Principal of Bangor Theological Seminary Maine. While in St. Andrews Mr. Trust will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stonard.

Spain's Night Watchmen

Relieve Police on Duty

Every visitor to Spain, writes the Madrid correspondent of the London Sunday Observer, notices the "sereno," or watchman, who, with his pouch of keys and small oil lamp dangling from his chest and with his metal staff in his hand, forms one of the chief notes of city life after dark. Madrid's "serenos" come in large part from Galicia. They form the butt for much good-natured fun on the variety and musical comedy stages.

The fact that the "Madrilenos" live almost exclusively in large blocks of flats usually at least five or six stories high makes the work of the watchman relatively simple. The house porter, unlike his unfortunate colleagues in France, is free of all responsibility for the comings and goings of the occupants of his house while the "sereno" is on duty.

In some Spanish towns the "sereno" wears a typical uniform, but in Madrid a flat-topped hat is his only official distinction. He ranks, however, as belonging to the "armed forces," and two years' imprisonment is the minimum punishment for even the slightest assault on his person. His presence in the streets avoids the necessity for police patrols, and Madrid is probably the only capital in Europe whose streets are not regularly patrolled by policemen throughout the night.

As Mistress of the Manse, she brought honor to the Church with her great dignity, gracious hospitality and sterling Christian character. In this capacity she received the members of the congregation; sometimes as brides and grooms to be married, when she sent them away with good wishes for happiness and joy; sometimes she received them as parents who brought their children for baptism and she would cuddle the bairns in her motherly arms, and sometimes she received them in trouble and sorrow, then she sought to comfort and console. For about forty years she labored with her husband in a quiet and unostentatious manner, announcing the feet of her Master with the fragrant spikenard of service, doing what she could. She bore with Christian fortitude the loss of her husband, and passed through the furnace of her affliction by continuing her zeal and enthusiasm for the Church and interesting herself in its work and members even to the last of her widow days.

"She never ceased to be the week, with the usual picnic dinner in the club room at the noon hour.

Frontier Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Theodore Murdock on Wednesday evening, Sept. 4th., when Miss Freda Mason will give a travel talk and a reception will be held for local teachers.

Miss Agnes Gilfillan, of Montreal, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cooke.

Miss Violet Kidd, of Potsdam, N. Y., is spending a few days in town.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Morrison and family recently paid a few days' visit to Brockville and Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Perley Staniforth, of Ottawa, are spending a few days at the summer home of his parents.

Mrs. A. D. Worthington, Miss D. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. T. Gunning and Messrs. C. Perkins and W. D. Worthington, all of Montreal, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Cooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Staniforth and family recently paid a visit to Mrs. Staniforth's home in Nova Scotia.

Miss Winnifred Cooke, of Vancouver, B.C., is spending her vacation here at her home.

The congregation of the United Church have been fortunate in having a number of well known pastors during the past few Sundays, amongst whom were Rev. S. Cooke of Selby's

'Mistress of the Manse' the mother of the congregation, the humble servant of Jesus Christ, being sympathetic in sorrow and sickness, anxious in distress, and happy in peace and prosperity.

Like a beautiful flower she diffused the fragrance of her faith and affection to the Glory of God and the benefit of mankind. The sense of our loss as a church and community makes us sensitive to the greater loss of those near and dear to her, and we tender to them our heartfelt sympathy in their sorrow. With them we mourn her loss and with them we thank our loving Heavenly Father for His gift to us in her. As friend and mother the late Mrs. Mackie will be greatly missed, but the fragrance of her memory

Bay, Ont., Rev. Albert Johnson of Cookshire, Que., and Rev. J. G. Katsunoff of the United Church of All Nations, Montreal.

Miss M. Pope, of Montreal sailed last week for England where she will spend a month visiting relatives and friends.

A number of the young people enjoyed a corn-roast on Morrison's Beach at Beavin Lake on Monday.

Mr. Gordon Cooke spent a few days in Montreal last week.

The dance under the auspices of the local Hockey Club, held in Staniforth's Hall last Friday, was a decided success — both financially and socially.

Miss Cooke Entertained Before Going to England

The following social item is extracted from the Montreal Star:

Prior to her departure for England last Friday, Miss Gertrude Cooke, whose marriage to Dr. C. S. Fosbery, O.B.E., is to take place at Stratford-on-Avon in September, has been entertained a great deal in Montreal and Arundel, Que. Among those who entertained were: Mr. Baillie of Lower Canada College, and Mrs. Baillie; Dr. and Mrs. C. Flanagan, the Misses Wilson-Smith, Miss A. Macfie, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert, Miss E. Gruer and Miss M. Martin, Miss Riddell, Mr. and Mrs. Gilfillan, Miss Ethel Cooke, Miss E. Elliott, Miss G. Smeaton, Mrs. Wm. and influence shall linger with us and never be forgotten."

Near shady wall a rose once grew
Budded and blossomed in God's free sight
Watered and fed by morning dew
Shedding its sweetness day and night.

As it grew and blossomed fair and tall
Slowly rising to loftier height
It came to a crevice in the wall
Through which there shone a beam of light.

Onward it crept with added strength
With never a thought of fear or pride
And it followed the light through the crevice length
And unfolded itself on the other side.

The light, the dew, the broadening view
Were found the same as they were before

The Algonquin Hotel, St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, New Brunswick, opened for the summer season at the end of June, and is now the centre of much holiday activity. Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Beasborough were among the guests and the famous Katy's Cove bathing beach is again as in former years very popular with the children and the younger set.

With the increasing popularity of vacation trips on the Great Lakes, the Canadian Pacific has expanded its Great Lakes steamship service to include calls at Port Arthur on westbound voyages as well as eastbound. These ships have been outfitted with deck sports, including quoits, shuffleboard and deck golf. Dancing and music bring pleasure to the evening hours. The schedule makes it possible to take an enjoyable week's trip going either way with overnight stops at both ends, Port McNicoll and Port William.

THE LAST STRAW

Rex Theatre is in the hat business — buying up straw headgear of the Maurice Chevalier style. If you have a discarded model it is worth money at the box office; call and claim your 10 cents.
