TOURISTS HAD NARROW ESCAPE, OKA FERRY

Five persons, two men and three women, had a narrow escape from a watery grave when the rear wheels of their automobile rolled off the ferry while they were crossing the Ottawa river, between Oka and Com0. Quick action on the part of two fishermen averted disaster; they saw the car rolling off the ferry, jumped aboard and held the bumper until help arrived.

The accident occurred just before the ferry operator placed blocks against the rear wheels of the car. Witnesses said that the ferry was just leaving Oka, when it struck the dock with such force that the automobile with its five occupants started moving backwards. The two rear wheels were already in the water when the fishermen jumped aboard. The river is about 15 feet deep at this point.

A $25,000 appeal has been launched in Montreal, to carry on the work of Tyndale Memorial Camp at Lakefield.

ON THE TRAIL OF '98 --- INTERESTING LECTURE BY "MIKE" MAHONEY

GUESTS ROYALLY ENTERTAINED AT LIONS CLUB "LADIES' NIGHT"

Through the humors and tragedies of the Yukon gold rush, listeners were transported last Thursday evening by Mike Mahoney, veteran prospector and pioneer of the North West. His illustrated lecture was a star attraction at the annual Ladies' Night of the Lions Club, held in the Auditorium. The event was largely attended, numerous guests and friends sharing the open hospitality of the local club.

The occasion was also a rally of the Ottawa, Montreal and Buckingham Lions, to appoint their new Deputy District Governor. Lion Bruce Walker, president of the Buckingham branch, was elected to succeed Lion Clifford Cotter of Ottawa—a signal honor conferred by district members of the Lions Club International.

The evening measured up to the standard of previous guest nights held by the local Lions; all in attendance were unanimous as to the pleasure afforded by this occasion. Speakers included the chairman, President Lion Gaetan Valois, and Lion Rev. H. H. Cousins, of Lachute, also representatives of the visiting clubs. The evening was interspersed with violin music by Mr. Angelo Fassio, ably accompanied by Mr. Dick Sancton of Kilmar, and piano numbers by Mr. Paul Courville. Refreshments, delightfully served, were

Route 31 is Hazard to Motorists

Criticism of a hazardous stretch of highway familiar to motorists in this district appeared recently in the correspondence column of the Montreal Star. The letter reads as follows:

"Dust! Dust! in thick clouds increasing the danger of an already dangerous byway," is the way a tourist described his trip to the Laurentians over route 31. From Lachute to Pine Hill the road, 12 feet wide at most, without shoulders of any kind, filled with blind hills, curves and narrow bridges, is little short of a nightmare, yet it is classed as a highway and forms part of one of the most scenic Laurentian tours from Montreal. To the tourist the attitude of the Minister of Roads in not having dust preventative placed on this road as has been done in other years, in not at once providing work for many on relief by widening the road, eliminating blind curves, hills and narrow bridges, is simply past comprehension. Certainly no progressive business would allow such a road as route 31 to exist and still talk of attracting tourists. It is an insult to the intelligence of the traveller, be he a tourist or a native of Quebec.

—R. Mallette.

—Since publication of this letter there has been evidence of some attempt to "lay" the dust on this road. The general effect, however, is not greatly improved (Ed.)

Dr. M. Abbott Honored by Medical Fraternity

SUPERANNATED THIS YEAR FROM MCGILL

Dr. Maude E. Abbott of St. Andrews East, curator of McGill medical history museum, received a signal honor last week in the presentation of a gold medal by the Ontario Medical Association in annual convention. The award was made on the merits of an exhibit by Dr. Abbott in connection with her research in cardiac disease. The exhibit consisted of photographs, drawings, paintings, charts, diagrams, and tracings having to do with congenital cardiac disease. It also included specimens showing various types of fish and reptilian hearts.

Dr. Abbott, who is assistant professor of medicine at the University, is being superannuated this year under McGill's retiring plan. Dr. Abbott graduated in medicine from Bishop's College, then in Montreal, as McGill at the time did not permit women to take the medical course. Her training as an interne was done at the Montreal General Hospital and later McGill conferred on her an honorary medical degree. Dr. Abbott is a licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons (Edin.) and is a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians of Canada.

REV. J. H. LYNN LEAVING DISTRICT FOR ONTARIO

Kilmar, Que.—Friends here will regret the departure of Rev. J. H. Lynn, minister of the United Church, who is leaving this field to assume a new charge at Dundee, Ont. Mr. Lynn has won local esteem since coming to this community, and is popular both for his sincere personality and his effective pastorate in the United Church.

Invitation Tournament at St. Andrews Golf Club

In the 18-hole medal play invitation tournament at St. Andrews Golf Club on Saturday, Guy Rolland, brilliant young Laval-sur-le-Lac golfer, started the year's competitive campaign with leading honors. The event was staged under sanction of the Province of Quebec Golf Association, with a day's card of 39-39-78, six strokes above par for this difficult layout.

Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to Replace Commission. Empowered to Borrow $500,000 to Construct New Stations... Political Broadcasts Under Fire

"THE OTTAWA SPOTLIGHT"

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, June 2—A new chapter in Canadian radio history appears to be opening with the recommendation of the radio committee, tabled a few days ago. This was, on the whole, the most vital news in a rather dull week. Legislation will be introduced in a few days which will abolish the present commission and set up a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, very much along the lines of the set-up in Great Britain.

At present, of course, there are three highly paid commissioners, who divide the work and responsibility of direction between them. The committee which investigated the operations of recent years were rather critical of this type of organization. There had been laxity and divided control, they asserted.

The new Corporation would be headed by nine Governors, representing all regional interests in Canada, and consisting of men "of broad outlook, having a knowledge of the tastes and interests of the listening public and who can make a definite contribution to the solution of the problem before the corporation."

Coronation Proclaimed in Ritual of Heraldry

FIRST TIME CEREMONY BROADCAST BY RADIO

In the ritual of heraldry, "His Majesty's pleasure" concerning his coronation was proclaimed to the Empire on Friday from the scarlet-draped walls of Friary Court, St. James's Palace.

Silver trumpets, the sonorous tones of the Garter King-at-Arms, Sir Gerald Wollaston, a brilliantly-uniformed detachment from the Brigade and trappings of heralds and pursuivants shared in the ancient ceremonial.

Microphones carried the words and sounds afar, and then the brilliant cavalcade clattered and jangled through the crowded streets to read the proclamation at Charing Cross, Temple Bar, and the Royal Exchange.

It took Sir Gerald Wollaston 10 minutes to read the proclamation "touching upon the Royal coronation and the solemnity thereof" from a yard-wide scroll. When he concluded the

"CRANBERRY CORNERS" BY ST. ANDREWS CAST

St. Andrews E.—On Saturday evening, May 23rd., the Town Hall at St. Andrews East was crowded to see the players of the Presbyterian Church performing a comedy in four acts, the setting of which was a rustic environment known as "Cranberry Corners." The plot of the play disclosed the antagonism between the simple minded, industrious country folk and a certain type of city snob who often forgets what the urban centers owe to the tillers of the soil.

NEWSPAPER PRINTS APT WARNING TO DRIVERS

"Memorial Day celebrators: The Tribune requests that persons who intend to mix liquor with automobiles in Memorial Day (May 30) celebrations kindly leave typed obituaries and photographs or one-column cuts with the city editor before beginning the day's observance. The clearing of the accident stories thus will be facilitated for the city news staff. Automobiles already have claimed 16 lives in Tulsa this year."

COMMITTEE TO ASSIST QUEBEC INDUSTRIES

With a view to encouraging small enterprises, based on the resources of Quebec, by graduates of technical and professional schools (commercial or agricultural), a special study will be made this summer by a "Small Industries Committee" of local and regional resources, whether agricultural, forest or mineral, throughout the province.

Created on the initiative of Dr. Henry Laureys, director-general for technical education, the committee includes Esdras Minville, professor at the School of Higher Commercial Studies, chairman; Paul Riou, professor at the same institution; J. M. Gauvreau, director of l'Ecole du Meuble; Arthur Villeneuve, of the Polytechnic School; and P. N. April, director of the Intermediate School of Agriculture of Ste. Martine; Oscar Beriau, director-general of the Handicrafts Organization, and Dr. Laureys.

During July and August this body will give special study to the district of Lower Quebec. It will study the condition of agriculture, industry, commerce, the movements of population and their causes, etc. The information thus collected will be made available for anyone who is seeking an opportunity to set up a small business.

THE EDITOR RECOUNTS PLEASURES OF RECENT TRIP

The mighty St. Lawrence, famed from the early historical days of Jacques Cartier, is a great artery of commerce and one of the scenic wonders of the world. Here is presented, during the two full days each way—going and returning, a background of romance harking back to the days when adventurous Frenchmen planted their first colonies.

Favored weather was with us, but as was to be expected, the sound of the bugle summoning to lunch and dinner had no appeal for several members of the party. However, this was only a temporary inconvenience and was soon forgotten in the excitement of the pleasures in store.

SPINE FRACTURED WHEN KICKED BY HORSE

Elmer Berry, a young man of Thomas' Gore, was removed to hospital in Montreal yesterday morning suffering from a kick in the back by a young colt. According to medical opinion his spine was broken. The man was unconscious. Working for Mr. Michael Mooney at St. Columban the victim had been helping to dock the tail of a colt, which reared unexpectedly and kicked him in the back. Berry went to the house, suffering somewhat but believing himself not seriously hurt. However, he lapsed into unconsciousness, and was still unconscious when taken to hospital on the Wednesday morning train.

PROGRAM COMPLETE, LACHUTE FAIR

Cloudy skies and wet weather are being looked upon by the directors of Argenteuil Agricultural Society as a hopeful sign that we may have fine days for the big Lachute Fair, to which county folks are looking forward, a couple of weeks from now.—It is, in fact, only two weeks hence, that Lachute will be en fête to welcome the tourists and friends who join with us in this celebration. Let us get behind it with a will. The directors have spent much time and trouble in preparing a fine program for the Exhibiton. The dates are June 17-18-19-20. There will be splendid vaudeville entertainment, fireworks display on Thursday and Friday nights, good horse racing, the celebrated Sims' New Midway embracing many new features, and music furnished by the Royal Canadian Artillery Band of Montreal, under direction of our own townsman, Mr. A. Fassio. We can well lay claim in no show in Eastern Canada can be seen a better array of cattle, horses and livestock than are exhibited at the Lachute Fair.

ONTARIO MINISTER FOR ST. ANDREWS PULPIT

Filling a call to St. Andrews East, Rev. G. H. Smith of Morewood (Ont.) United Church will exchange pastorates with Rev. J. Macaskill, who has ministered for ten years in the community and in St. David's parish, and has made a wide circle of friends in this territory. Mr. Smith, who has been pastor for four years at Morewood, will take over his new duties on July 1st.

A farewell sermon to his friends in Lachute was given last Sunday when Mr. Macaskill conducted the morning service at Lachute United.

heights, the swift historic river from which it presents an almost medieval appearance. This city was founded in 1608 by Samuel de Champlain; in 1629 was captured by the British, and four years later was restored to France. In 1759 the battle of the Plains of Abraham finally gave Quebec and Canada to the British. In 1775 American revolutionary forces attacked the famous citadel at the top of the rock. This commands the St. Lawrence for many miles, while the ramparts, the high gabled roofs, lofty spires and narrow climbing streets, give Quebec the charm of an Old-World fortress city.

From this point to a part of the river beyond Metis, is the fertile Isle of Orleans, and we catch a glimpse of Montmorency Falls, which are over 100 feet higher than Niagara. Next we pass Grosse Isle, the Dominion Government Quarantine Station, and on the north shore the bank of the river rises abruptly over 1800 feet into the promontory known as Cape Tourmente.

Following luncheon on the second day out, the members of the C. T. A. held their convention and elected their officers for the ensuing year; then, with the ladies they lent themselves to full participation of life on ship board, which proved most interesting. Deck sports, bridge parties, playing the ponies, dancing and concerts kept one pretty busy.

We now pass the shore of Antigonish Island and the coast and islands of the Maritime Provinces into Strait of Canso, skirting the shore of Nova Scotia while on the opposite bank is the tourist paradise of Cape Breton. Now out on the broad Atlantic we leave sight of land and launch out for our next port of call, which is Bermuda.

The approach to this gem of the ocean elicited many expressions of joy as the snug little island came into view early on Monday morning, and the sight of its white-topped roofs amidst the green cedars which abound

Traffic Men Moved to Compassion

Police respected a polite appeal and gave "discouraged" motorist a break recently in Cambridge, Mass.

Two patrolmen about to put a parking ticket on a car noticed a note under the windshield wiper, which read:

"Dear officer, please do not tag my car. My left rear tire is flat, my spare tire is flat and my spark plugs are wet. Discouraged."

The patrolmen called Sergeant John King on the telephone and asked him whether or not they should tag the car. "Of course not", King replied "he's had trouble enough already."

was a sight long to be remembered. Customs formalities over, it was not long before we were driving behind a span of horses driven by a negro coachman, which reminds one of the "Gay Nineties." It was so different from the hurly-burly of the motorized world in which we live. Just imagine a spot today where there are no automobiles to dodge, and where transportation is mainly by carriage and bicycle. Buildings are made from the coral stone of which the island is composed; the roads are dustless and cut through the coral rock, they wind between cedar groves or hedges of red and white oleanders, while flowers grow in profusion everywhere. And then on all sides is the sea. So clear is the water that marine vegetation may be seen clearly at a depth of thirty feet.

Our two-day sojourn on the island was all too short, but our time was well occupied in a comprehensive sight-seeing program which included a scenic trip from Hamilton, the Capital, on the Bermudian Railway to the ancient former capital of St. Georges, founded in 1522, where we visited the old church, St. Peter's, built in 1713, and saw a number of ancient tablets and relics of bygone days.

From St. Georges we proceeded to the marvellous Crystal Caves, which have been a never-failing wonder to all who have visited them, their beautiful formations taking all kinds of fantastic shapes. Another feature of unusual attraction was the Bermuda Aquarium, which shows a collection of marine life at close view. The varied species with magnificent colorings and peculiar markings will linger with us for all time. Visits to a perfumery were made the next day, and one saw the process of manufacture, which was also explained by an attendant. Upon arrival by bus at the Elbow Beach Hotel, the party were treated to use of bathing suits, towels, and lockers, and with few exceptions they enjoyed the bathing for an hour before taking lunch. Then followed the return to our hotel where another banquet was tendered us by our genial host, Mr. Woods, who with his good wife, made our stay at the Hamilton Hotel so very pleasant.

'Cranberry Corners' Presented at St. Andrews East

The cast was composed of ladies and gentlemen who seemed to be very much at home in their various roles.

Ernest McQuat in the role of Tom Dexter, "nature's nobleman", was modest and dignified, persistent in love but not too demonstrative.

George Rodger Jr., as Sydney Everette, acted the part of the high-browed gentleman who loved himself immensely. As a callous man of the world he did his part in a creditable manner.

John Hall, who impersonated Ben Latham, a dejected and broken down wanderer, appeared supported by the benevolent Tom Dexter, who did not realize he was befriending his future father-in-law. Ben managed to keep his hair from becoming as disheveled as one might expect, and his ample moustache clung tenaciously to his stiff upper lip. Mr. Bell had opportunities for dramatic acting, and in that capacity he revealed qualities worthy of being developed.

Wm. Bradley acted a part in which he was himself. His chin-whiskers made him a real old-timer. As Andrew Dexter he could maintain a good argument with Hezekiah Hopkins. He kept well within his part and acted to good advantage.

Ernest Rodger, as Hezekiah Hopkins, was most heated in temperament when his favourite political party was challenged. His improvised beard was very becoming. But one argument he could not uphold was that against marrying Mrs. Muslin, who no doubt talked him into submission. As a certain type of country character, in quiet rural surroundings, and full of curiosity on visiting the great city, Ernest acted out his none too easy part with credit to himself.

Ross Hyde, as Nathan Speck, the hired man, was as quiet and unpretending as he is in real life. He was well chosen for his part.

Margaret Hamilton, as Carlotta Bannister, appeared in becoming costumes as a sweet city girl in love with a true country lad; and in all her unhappy experiences with those who would deter love's freedom, she showed fine qualities of character.

Mrs. MacDonell portrayed the part of Anastasia Bannister, a social climber. As she appeared on the stage applause broke out from the audience, evidencing her popularity among the gathering. Her command of words showed culture, and her posture was regal. When lost for a word, this player without any hesitancy would create another, and carried her part to perfection.

Mrs. John A. Bradley, as Amelia Dexter, was a winsome personage who displayed the wholesome common sense, the kindly good will of the best type of country woman.

Ruth Doig, always well received, appeared as Mrs. Muslin. She kept her tongue in motion, but incidentally handed out a store of wholesome advice. She captured her man — perhaps by force of argument, and altogether she performed with a true understanding of her part.

Eileen Bryson, as Ella Ann, was a handy girl on the farm. Woe to the one who crossed her path. She claimed herself immune from the advances of men, but finally surrendered to the persistence of Nathan Speck. Miss Bryson did good work in her role on the cast.

Last, but not least among the actors, was the butler, whose part was taken by J. A. Bradley. With calm dignity he goose-stepped from one objective to another and left the impression of a born butler.

All were pleased with this performance and much credit is due to those who arranged and directed the play.

Harris—What kind of a fellow is Willis Notsofast?

Clarence—Well, the other night the lights went out in his girl's parlor and he spent the rest of the evening tinkering with the fuses.

followed by a session of dancing, in which Mr. Sancton again proved himself a versatile pianist. Dr. J. O. Touchette was winner of the door prize, an Ayers quality rug.

THE TRAIL OF '98

Lion Michael Mahoney may well be considered a celebrity of the Ottawa Valley. His early home was in Buckingham—in which community he is still much at home. His massive stature and his typically Irish characteristics have stood him in good stead, for the hazards and privations of Yukon pioneering outmatched the weaker physique and crushed the spirit that saw no good in the cussedness of nature. "Mike" has not missed the humor of living. The iron in his make-up has taken on the velvet of civilization, and today Mike Mahoney is a platform speaker, a raconteur and a social light.

One of the few remaining sourdoughs of the gold rush of '98; an associate of Robert W. Service and Rex Beach; reputed to have been an eye-witness to the storied shooting of Dan McGrew—Mr. Mahoney is making his debut on the Canadian Radio Commission network, speaking on June 1st., 8th., and 15th. at 9.30 EST. And his Lachute audience will vouch for the fact that he is well worth listening to.

SMITTEN WITH THE GOLD FEVER

Mr. Mahoney described his first symptoms of the gold fever. In 1897, at the age of 17, he was an out-of-work lumberjack in the City of Ottawa. Rumors of gold discoveries in the far Yukon echoed in the East and—like the government dignitaries of today, said Mike Mahoney—he traversed the continent at the expense of the railroad, enjoying the luxury of a car to himself—a box car. Starting out with three dollars in his pocket he arrived at Seattle penniless, and after new adventures in seeking employment, embarked as chamber-maid to a cargo of horses on a vessel plying to the Skagway River.

CIVILIZATION IN THE RAW

Here, amid the muck and confusion of a gold-crazed community, he first experienced the conditions that had settled on this territory. He was not long in joining the heartbreaking trek, northward and inland to the virgin goldfields. In the quagmires of that trail, said the speaker, 9,000 horses left their bones to rot—and those that survived, at the summit of the climb were shot, for their usefulness was ended. It was a tortuous journey that took toll of man and beast. Then came the hazardous passage along treacherous waterways. Among his equipment each prospector carried a whip-saw, and the boats they built were crude and varied—some like packing cases, some like coffins. But every trail, said Mike Mahoney, has a silver lining. Tradesmen set up their shacks along the route—blacksmiths, shoemakers and, in the settled communities, primitive hotels and glamorous gambling saloons, wherein the bark of a pistol sounded the knell to quarrelsome temperaments. The Northwest Mounted Police, charged with the preservation of peace and order, had a formidable undertaking on their hands; the speaker paid them unstinted tribute.

MAHONEY, RIVER PILOT

Business instinct seems to have superseded the gold-lust in prospector Mike Mahoney. At this juncture he saw possibilities in the piloting of craft through swirling rapids—an art in which he was adept, for he had labored on the swift rivers of the East. He therefore hired himself to pilot the heavy boats, laden with feverish humanity and expensive equipment, into the land of unstaked claims and potential wealth. Travelers knew the dangers; they readily engaged this riverman who knew the channels and laughed at dangers. His fees ranged from $50 to $150. The business suggested a lucrative sideline. Mike Mahoney became an insurance broker. He insured his loads, at a $50 premium for $5,000 coverage. He had no capital, but now were his clients to know that! If the load went down, so did Mike Mahoney, and—no Mahoney, no insurance. Thus the speaker explained the principle, in his apt manner.

COSTLY LIVING

Mike made money. But still the prosaic labors of pan-handling did not appeal to him. It was a fact that out of 4,000 who staked claims in the Yukon gold-field, only 200 actually struck gold. Mahoney's bent was transportation. He made his way to Dawson and purchased dogs—at a price, no doubt, for the market was high. Among his exhibits on the screen, the speaker showed typical bill of fare from a Dawson City restaurant. Bowl of Soup $1.00; Plain Steak $3.50, it said; Champagne in the bar-room cost from $20 to $40 a pint. A shave and haircut cost $1.50, a bath $2.50—and they were rare indeed. From Dawson, Mike Mahoney rushed to Nome with his dog team, fishing through the frozen lakes and streams, and shooting such animals as might offer sustenance for man and dogs.

Scenes were shown to illustrate the manner of living in the North West. The animals and birds native of the north. The Eskimo and Indian types. The methods of panning gold, the shacks, and hovels built of snow along the trail. The reindeer herds, and the manner in which their hides were used as garments by the natives.

OVER THE WASTES TO A FUNERAL

Mahoney contracted to carry mail out of Nome to the northernmost part of Alaska. Then later he joined the stampede to Fairbanks, arriving there to learn news of the death of Judge Humes. The venerable judge, ex-mayor of Seattle, had been sent as judicial authority to this new territory, but the rigors of the climate had told upon his advancing years, and death had cut short his labors. Friends and compatriots were anxious that his remains be taken to Seattle and fittingly interred. But the rivers were frozen up. The Far North was inaccessible by ordinary routes. And here it was that Mike Mahoney, the veteran musher, was enlisted to carry the precious burden to the coast and thence to consign it by ship to the Washington State capital.

MIKE READ HIS OWN OBITUARY

Mahoney's twenty-six day journey to the coast, freighting the coffin of the dead judge from Fairbanks into civilization, was an epic of endurance. Wolves trailed him. Hunger and exhaustion impeded his progress. Chasms opened in his path. And down in the cities of the world newspapers blazed the story of his failure and listed him another victim of the frozen wastes. But Mahoney came through. Almost desperate, out of the nightmare of that journey he came upon two Indians who bore him to their shack, fed him and his dogs, and sent them refreshed on their way. Arriving by boat at Seattle with his precious freight, the traveler was warmly acclaimed. Public tribute was paid

These men would serve for nominal salaries, actuated mainly by a spirit of public service, it is supposed. They would govern the general policy of radio in Canada.

The actual operation would, however, be controlled by a single, able, highly paid executive, the general manager. This executive would have an assistant.

SUGGEST MAJOR MURRAY

Major Gladstone Murray, a Canadian who has risen to very high rank in the British Broadcasting Corporation, has been repeatedly mentioned for the new post. It is not yet clear whether he would be available.

Of course the mere change of management will not transform Canadian broadcasting into a close copy of British broadcasting overnight, even if that were desirable. The Canadian corporation will be faced with a completely different situation. In Canada there are still numerous private broadcasting stations, and while it is proposed to gradually absorb these, except for the very small ones, into the national system, they will continue for some time to be an important factor. Meantime, the recommendations of the committee are that programs

British Motorists Will Visit Canada

150 CARS TO TRY NOVEL EXPERIMENT

Because of congested roads in England, and frontier, currency and other restrictions on the Continent, British automobile tourists are turning their eyes to America, according to Graham Lyon of the Junior Car Club of London, staying recently at the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal. He is in Canada to make arrangements for a series of four motorcade trips which will bring approximately 350 visitors, in 150 cars, to Canada this summer.

The first group, a party of 85, in 35 cars, will sail from Southampton on the Queen Mary on July 22. Members of the "rally", as they call it, will be entertained in New York and will then go to Washington, to be received by President Roosevelt. They will come to Canada by way of Detroit, will visit Niagara Falls, Toronto and Ottawa, and will be in Montreal August 6, sailing the next day on the Duchess of Richmond. A reception and dance will be tendered them here.

The three other parties will come direct to Canada, the first on the Empress of Britain.

Very few motorists of Great Britain have come to Canada in the past, Mr. Lyon said, and he hoped that the rallies would be the beginning of a large interchange. He is already planning for return motorcades from Canada on the occasion of the Coronation of His Majesty King Edward VIII next year.

him in substantial terms, and he received a purse of $10,000 cash, with a railroad pass to any point he might desire.

THE TRAIL TO TRIUMPH

Mike Mahoney hit the trail again, but this time in comfort and luxury, coming first to Ottawa and his home surroundings. One of his valuable dogs, he said, was buried here at Buckingham. He had brought it home to share the delights of a civilized territory.

Those delights, however, could not hold Mahoney, whose blood tingled with the fever of the Yukon. He later returned. His earlier experience in gold-digging had been an unhappy one. This time, he stated, he proved more fortunate, and having returned to the mining fields he staked a new claim and took out no less than $165,000 worth of gold dust within three months.

At this happy climax Mr. Mike Mahoney concluded his talk, which had proved enlightening and interesting in every sentence. Hearty thanks were accorded him by Rev. H. H. Cousens on behalf of the Lachute Lions and their gathering. A pleasant social hour was concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

issued by private stations should be under the supervision of the new corporation.

The government has already intimated that the committee's report was acceptable, and that the changes would be made.

The principle of national ownership of the radio broadcasting machinery was endorsed and reaffirmed by the committee. It was urged that steps be taken to improve and extend the present Canadian coverage. Realising that the grant which the commission has been receiving out of the federal treasury has not been adequate for the building of as many new stations as are needed, the committee advised that the new corporation should be empowered to borrow up to $500,000. from the federal government for such a purpose.

If the corporation is set up as recommended, it will be free from party control in the matter of the engagement and dismissal of employees and their remuneration.

CRITICISE POLITICAL BROADCASTS

"Mr. Sage" and other political broadcasts of the last general election came in for some criticism by the committee, and it was urged that in future a stricter supervision of such broadcasts should be provided. The committee went so far as to recommend that no political dramatized broadcasts should be permitted in future.

The present commission will be automatically retired by the creation of a corporation, but it is expected that most of the personnel of the present commission headquarters, including one or more of the chiefs, will be absorbed into the new corporation.

The new corporation will have the power to publish papers, books, magazines, to acquire copyrights in literary, musical and artistic works, gramophone records, to collect news etc., if the recommendations of the committee are fully implemented in the legislation.

This bill will be perhaps the major one still to come before the legislators. There is talk that the Bank of Canada act will not be proceeded with this session. The revision of the elections and franchise machinery will not be proceeded with this session, except sufficiently to deal with by-elections.

Robert W. Service
Forsakes Literature

No more will Robert W. Service, famous Yukon poet, write poetry or prose. He has turned to composing music and, according to a letter to his friend, Clement Burns, in Ottawa, has forsaken literature. Service, who lives at Cote-du-Nord, France, writes, in part: "I seldom think. I don't believe in it. I try to develop a vacuity of mind and childlike insouciance. Also to cultivate my capacity for ignorance. I am of the opinion that mental obtuseness is a great factor in longevity. In fact, a certain cheerful idiocy is to be prized."

RELAXING IN A BIG WAY

Much has been learned about the value of perfect relaxation in a day's routine—how even a brief abandon of activity in body and mind can restore one's energy and capacity for thought.

There is one man who is "relaxing in a big way." His mellow years henceforth will be one long, luxurious laze—in which one can charge no suspicion of indolence, for this is no other than Robert W. Service, Canadian prospector and poet, who has labored among the best of 'em, both with his hands and with his brain.

On the same principle of relaxation to restore the nerves, Service believes in "aging gracefully," free of care and worry and ambition. He advocates a "benign obtuseness" and a "cheerful idiocy" as an aid to long living.

WON'T THESE RELIGIONISTS BE GOOD?

The Arabs are a very religious people. The Jews are "God's chosen people." Both have strong teachings about living in peace and accord with neighbors. However, since the Jews began coming into Palestine in large numbers (due in part to the persecutions of the race in Germany) the Arabs have been objecting more and more. Objections have reached the stage of personal violence and there have been nearly half a hundred untimely funerals.

Sir Arthur Wauchope, Britain's High Commissioner in Palestine, is having his troubles making these religionists be good.

The situation recalls childhood scenes. When you and the neighbor children went berrying, a person who found a good patch was considered lucky. Moreover, it wasn't right for others to encroach upon it. However, if he left the patch others might, with propriety, go into it. The Jews once controlled Palestine—the land of milk and honey, oranges and cement and olives. They left. The Arabs went in. The Jews want to come back. The Arabs, numbering about 780,000, don't like it. Britain is determined to give the 400,000 Jews at least an even break in their old home-land. Planes are scouting out the rioting Arab bands.

There appear to be complications. But Britain's first task is to make the religionists in Palestine behave. Religion never claimed to be a specific for human perverseness. The most it claims, in general, is to be a palliative. There are individual exceptions. But with faces toward the East, it is going to be interesting to see what will happen during the ensuing months.

GRADUATION—FOR WHAT, AND TO WHAT?

June graduations remind us that, while there are not more than eighty per cent as many positions open for the graduates as in better years, the occasion symbolizes a wealth which no one can take away. The graduate who has earned his diploma has a mind that has been made agile, better able to grasp things.

His mind has been disciplined to know that accuracy alone gets the right answer and that the way out of a problem is through.

His education has acquainted him with some of the great and good in ages past. It has taught him how to look up and find out things. It has, in most instances, made him easier to live with. Such knowledge as he has gained has opened doors into such vast rooms of knowledge that he realizes, as he did not before, that what he knows is small indeed, compared to what he does not know.

These qualities: an inquiring mind, accuracy, determination to get the answer, and a realization that what is to be learned is great, while what is known is small—are great assets which, with a right attitude toward life and his fellows, will sooner or later enable him to win out.

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN SMALLER TOWNS

Building operations in Canada's smaller towns are sources of encouragement. The following, from The Coleman (Alta.) Journal, will be read with interest as indicative of a new prosperity getting under way.

"Not since the earlier days of the town's history has there been so much activity in local building circles. Increased employment at the mines is making itself apparent in a most forcible way by the number of new houses being erected in East and West Coleman, as well as in the central portion of the town. In addition to building, many interior improvements are being made, and heating and bathroom appliances are being installed in many homes, giving full time employment to all engaged in the building and allied trades.

"In all parts of town one notices new buildings being erected, and in most instances they are of substantial construction, an improvement on the old shack type of building so often seen in mining towns."

EVOLUTON OF A COUNTY NAME

GHASTON, GASKIN, AND LATER, GASTON

(Contributed)

The passing of John Gaston, of Greece's Point, at the ripe age of over 75, opens up a page of past history of this locality which your correspondent seems to have overlooked—circumstances that are almost a century old.

Alexander Ghaston emigrated to this country from Co. Antrim, Ireland, about 1840, with his family of boys and girls—James, Roy, John, and Alexander; Esther (who later became the wife of Robert Nichols), and Mary (who afterwards became Mrs. Bailly of Montreal). Alexander Sr. became employed in Hawkesbury for the Hon. Peter MacGill in the capacity of oatmeal miller, and many large barrels of oatmeal were made and packed by him in the flourishing mill, and shipped by him to the old country. James Roy, the elder son, secured a position as a civil servant in the Department of Canals at not too remunerative a salary of about 60 cents per day and, his father meeting his death soon after by accident, he was left the sole supporter of his younger brothers and sisters. He turned himself resolutely to the task before him; poor as he was, he supported them, and saw to it that, though his own education was very slim, theirs should not be neglected as far as he was able.

It so happened that, at this time, the Chatham School as it was then known, (now District School No. 2, Cushing) was under the tuition of one John Dewar, who taught there for over twenty years. He was a graduate of Edinburgh University, and John and Alexander Jr. just drank in the knowledge that he unfolded to them. They were both quick at the uptake, but Alexander was so swift that he often kept his teacher up till midnight preparing lessons in order to keep ahead of him. It was not long till James, their elder brother, found positions for them with the "forwarders" of those days with whom his labors brought him in contact. As often happens in a new country their name has undergone some change; they were then known as Gaskins; even in this locality they were known by that name, which John and Alexander took with them on leaving home.

It was not long till they became forwarders on their own hook, as well as aldermen and mayors of the towns along the great lakes, wherein they finally made their homes.

trumpeters blew a fanfare and Sir Gerald cried in ringing tones: "God Save the King." Shortly thereafter the procession set out for Charing Cross. Four mounted policemen in modern uniform led the way and the Marquess of Salisbury, High Steward of Westminster, followed the horsemen in an open black carriage.

The coronation date is announced for May 12, 1937. This was the first time the formal, centuries-old proclamation had been broadcast, with motion picture cameras grinding away at the scene.

Joseph Howe Subject of Interesting Talk

LACHUTE SPEAKER AND ARTISTS CONTRIBUTE TO ST. ANDREWS PROGRAM

St. Andrews—The Good Fellowship Circle of St. Andrews United Church was organized to promote goodwill among its members and to extend its service to the community by means of special programs.

Several speakers from outside have favored the Circle with instructive addresses, and others have contributed musical numbers to the programs.

On Tuesday, May 26th., Rev. W. B. Rosborough, B.D., of Lachute, inspired the members and others present with his vivid picture of the personality of that great journalist and statesman, Joseph Howe, of Nova Scotia. As a man of letters he was a creative genius; as a politician he fought for freedom and all the blessings of responsible government. In his views he was a true Empire Loyalist, but with a broad co-operative spirit towards other nations. Mr. Rosborough made Joseph Howe live before his listeners; in clear style and well chosen words, interspersed with selections from Howe's discourses, the speaker helped to immortalize one of the world's greatest patriots.

Before the lecture a delightful program of music and readings was enjoyed. Mrs. R. A. Giles sang, with rich quality of voice and clear enunciation. Miss Edna Aitken, as a reader, interested her audience with well selected material delivered with care and grace; her piano solo was also much enjoyed. Accompanist for the vocal numbers was Miss Ruth Todd.

Century Record in Old Argenteuil Family

In company with other forwarders of those days, viz. James Walker, Hugh MacClellan and others, they roved the great lakes and surmounted endless difficulties. They brought wheat from Canadian and American ports, and laid the foundation of Montreal as the greatest wheat harbour of the world. Time will never tell how much of all this is due to the perseverance of James Roy Ghaston, to his self denial and insistence upon sending his brothers to school when he could ill afford to bear the expense on his slim income. This expense hampered him much in after life when he came to the rearing and educating of his own family, as well as paying for his home.

I well recollect him—a sturdy, elderly man with a sonorous voice that could easily be heard on a clear night a mile away from the top of the Chute-a-Blondeau light houses, where in the end he met his death by falling from near the top of the highest one to the ground, breaking several rungs out of the ladder in his fall. His young son, with his father lying dead at the foot of the ladder, scaled the same broken ladder on that windy night and lit the lamps—fulfilling the duty of his dead parent.

And, as often happens with men of such open handed nature, he left a widow (Miss MacFarlane of Perth) and a comparatively young family not too well provided for.

John, his elder son, lately deceased, married Miss Mary Milne, the daughter of a Scotch farmer, who bore him four children—James, of Ridgetown, Ont.; Margaret (Mrs. Robert Clark), of St. Catharines, Ont.; Frederick, of Parent, Que.; and Grace (Mrs. Allan Gleason), of Foss Mills, Ont.

He was long an employee of the civil service and also for many years an employee of the Ottawa Transportation Co.

A large gathering of relatives and old friends followed his remains to the grave, and he was laid beside his wife in the shadow of old St. Mungo's Church, where they had both been members for over fifty years—within hearing of the Chute-a-Blondeau rapids, from which he had never wandered far away, and overlooking the mighty Ottawa River as it rolls seaward. And here, from the tall old maples, the birds chant their requiem hymn of peace.

Mr. H. G. Baugh, of the Montreal Diocesan Theological College, is vacationing at the Parsonage, Lakefield.

Mrs. Alex. McGibbon returned recently from the Montreal General Hospital, and is progressing favourably.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dobbie of Harrington, and Mrs. S. Bates of Avoca, were guests of Mrs. P. Dobbie on Tuesday.

Miss Margaret McGregor, of Winnipeg, Man., is visiting Mrs. James McFaul and her many friends in town.

Mrs. Bruce Bradford returned home on Thursday last from the Royal Victoria Hospital, and is making a good recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Riddell left for their home in Jackson, Mich., this week, after spending a pleasant visit in town.

Mr. W. S. Johnstone, of Bremmer Bridge on the Rouge River, spent Wednesday in Lachute, proceeding to Montreal last evening.

Mrs. W. Hunt and son, Mr. Deacon Hunt, have arrived from New York to occupy their Lake Louise cottage for the summer.

Mrs. G. H. Holland and Mr. Ivan Holland, of Montreal, have re-opened their summer cottage, "Ivan Bower", on the North River.

Dr. and Mrs. Cassidy and children left on Monday for their home in Lewistown, Pa., after spending a ten-day vacation with Mrs. John Campbell.

Miss Kathleen Clunie, who has been visiting her parents for the past two weeks, left on Sunday to resume her nursing duties at the Homoeopathic Hospital, Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and son, Mr. and Mrs. David Campbell and Miss Dora Campbell, of Montreal, spent the week-end visiting their mother, Mrs. John Campbell.

Mr. Philippe Roy returned on Saturday from a two months' business trip in England, reaching Montreal by the Duchess of York on Saturday.

Mr. D. Duchesneau is rushing the work on his new hotel to completion, and hopes to have it in readiness to accommodate visitors who will be attending the Lachute Fair on the 17th. to 20th. of this month. After the disastrous fire of last March which destroyed his premises and caused heavy loss, he has set to work and remodeled the old structure and made additions, converting it into a hostelry right up-to-date and worthy of this enterprising town.

A special Young People's Service will be held in Lachute United Church next Sunday evening. The service of praise will be led by a Young People's Choir, and the preacher will be Rev. Norman Coll, M.A., B.D., minister of Parkdale United Church, Ottawa, and formerly secretary of Religious Education for the Conference of Montreal and Ottawa.

—Have you heard him? Evangelist Roblin is speaking each night at Lachute Baptist Church. A welcome awaits you!

Aged Lady Mourned in Brownburg District

On Saturday, May 30th., the death occurred of a beloved friend in the community, Mrs. Daniel Thompson, better known as "Granny" to her relatives and acquaintances. She was formerly Miss Catherine McKiddie, and died in her 72nd. year.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. A. E. Hagar at her late residence, the service being led in prayer by her son-in-law, J. Richards. The hymn, "Abide With Me" was rendered by the church choir.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. J. Richards, J. Donaldson, W. Lawton, S. Thompson, H. Elliott, sons-in-law of the deceased lady, and Mr. D. Bell. The remains were interred in Ogdensburg Cemetery.

The late Mrs. Thompson leaves to mourn her loss—her husband, two sons, six daughters and eight grand-children. "Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep."

BOY SCOUTS THE WORLD OVER

A SCOUT-GUIDE SPONSORED HOBBY FAIR

Nearly a thousand hobby exhibits were entered by pupils of the local and district schools for a hobby fair held under the auspices of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides of Burlington, Ont.

WHY MUSSOLINI AND HITLER OPPOSE BOY-SCOUTING

"Scouting was abolished in Italy and Germany because Scouting helps a boy to think for himself. Dictators do not want people to think. The abolition of Scouting in Germany and Italy is not a setback for Scouting. It is a proof of the value of the training."—J. S. Wilson, Camp Chief, Gilwell Park.

KING TALKS OF SCOUTING AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONSHIPS

In the course of an address to a thousand representative

Boy Scouts from all parts of Britain, gathered for the third National Scout Service at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, King Edward thus referred to the international importance of Scouting: "The Scout Movement in its best and widest form is international, and that in these days is a thing of very great importance. I would like you all to remember when you have grown up, when your Scouting days are behind you, this international aspect, because this country will always have to take a leading part in the affairs of the world."

B.P. MEETS SCOUTS IN UNEXPECTED PLACES

A diary kept by Lord Baden-Powell during his recent tour in Africa records meeting Scouts and Guides of many races and creeds and in many unexpected places. At Port Said he was welcomed by Maltese, Greek, French and English Scouts and Guides, "all smartly turned out and full of enthusiasm." Other mixed posses of welcome met him at Ismailia, Cairo, and Abbassieh. At Port Sudan there were Scouts from each troop in the Sudan, some coming 1,000 miles. At Mombassa there were Arab, Indian, Muslim and British Scouts, and at Nairobi and Kikuyu native boys of many tribes numbering over a thousand. Budu, Uganda, brought out an assembly of 1,100 native Scouts and Guides and two troops of East Indian lads. And so on down the East African coast, with the addition of Portuguese Scouts at Lorenzo Marquez.

"How many sons have you, Mr. Poppelreuter?"
"Two living and one that played the saxophone."

BABY BIRDS

I saw four wee, tiny robins
Teetering on a wire,
Fluttering little stubby wings
And longing to fly higher.

Their wondering eyes kept blinking
And winking, for the light
Of Mr. Sun's bright shining
Would make them shut up tight.

The other day four pale blue eggs
Lay in the wooded nest,
Where did those robins come from
I wonder, can you guess?

THE POTATO PATCH

Ted was scowling fiercely as he kicked holes in Betty's and heap by the end of the yellow shed. "Why, oh why!" he growled, "must a fellow's holiday be spoiled by having to plant potatoes. It's all right for us kids to sing at school, 'The twenty-fourth of May was Queen Victoria's birthday, if we don't get a holiday we'll all run away,' but it's another thing to get a holiday and have to spend it planting potatoes. I'd just as soon be in school as planting potatoes any day. It is not half so hard on a fellow's back."

"Or his temper either," laughed May, as she hurried towards him. "Come on, Ted, be a sport and smile over it."

"It's easy for you to talk, May." You did not want to go fishing with the gang as I did.

"It is quite too bad about that part of it, Ted," his sister said soberly, "but you know Dad never disappoints us without making it up to us in some way."

"I don't see how he can make it up to me for a disappointment like this. Fred Jones was going to let me try out his new fishing rod. I might have caught a whopper with it." May turned her face quickly to hide a smile. Ted had been going to catch whoppers ever since he had been a small boy, but had never succeeded in doing so yet. "You might have, Ted," she said at last, "but that pleasure will still be before you."

"But," said Ted in a peevish voice, "I want it right today."

"I suppose you do, Brother, but Dad wants to get the potatoes planted today too. He claims it is late for planting now, and it is not his fault that the hired man happens to have a sore knee just now and that Dad hasn't been able to get the potatoes planted sooner."

"I suppose not," grumbled Ted. "but I wish Sir Walter Raleigh had left those roots where he found them. We'd never have had to plant the old things if he had."

"And we would have gone without lots of delicious meals," laughed May. "You may be glad that you did not live in the time of King Frederick William of Prussia: he tried so hard to familiarize his people with potatoes that he threatened to cut off their noses and ears if they refused to plant them."

"Well," said Ted, still crossly, "he's not around here and I have a big notion to refuse to plant potatoes on a holiday."

"They'll grow just as well planted on a holiday, laddie, as on an ordinary day." His father, who had drawn near while they talked, spoke quietly, with a twinkle in his eye.

Ted's face reddened. He had not meant his father to hear him complaining; he hurried to lead Dolly out of the stable for him. She had the habit of walking away to snatch a few mouthfuls of grass before she started her day's work—which was very nice for Dolly but not so nice for the one hitching up the team.

Ted liked working with the horses, and his face expressed great pleasure as his father placed the lines in his hand and bade him drive to the field, while he himself settled down in the wagon and took Betty on his knee. Mother Harper had protested that Betty was too small to go to the field, but Betty was so keen to plant 'tatoes that she had given in to let her go with the others if May promised to see that she did not get in the way of the horses. This May had consented to do, and found that she was kept busy preventing the mischievous little one from grasping the lines and pulling them from Ted's hands.

Shep and Lady gambolled by the side of the wagon, snarling playfully and rolling over each other, dashing off every few minutes to surprise a stray chipmunk or a squirrel, much to Betty's delight.

Betty wanted to get down and run with them when they did this, and May had to distract her attention by telling her about the sand by the potato patch and pointing to her own tiny pail inside Daddy's big one, with the wooden spoon all in readiness to mix mud pies with the clear water which trickled out from under a rock in the corner of the field. Mother Harper had wisely put these playthings in the wagon, knowing that Betty would soon tire of planting 'tatoes.

Lovingly, Aunt Jean.

"Now, girls," said the restaurant manager to the waitresses. "I want you all to look your best today. Add a dash of powder and take a bit more care with your hair."

"Something special on?"

"No. The beef's tough."

Important passenger: "How long will the next train be, porter?"

Porter (who has had enough of it): "Can't say, sir, to a foot or two. Probably four or five coaches and an engine."

A captain was complaining, at a dinner, that, because of the dumbness of his officers, he was obliged to do all the work of the company. Said he:

"I am my own first lieutenant, my own second lieutenant, my own sergeant, and—"

"Your own bugler," interposed one of the company present.

Lachute Academy—The Inspector's report shows a very favorable standing for the Lachute Academy compared with the other academies in the province. In some branches it stands first and in others it stands second, and the whole standing is such that an increased Government grant is secured. This speaks well for the head teacher and assistants.

It is reported that the Dominion Government has granted $22,000 towards the proposed levee along the St. Lawrence at Longueuil.

We are greatly pleased to have a visit from our much esteemed friend, the Rev. Mr. McDowell on his return from the Methodist Conference which was being held at Quebec City during the last two weeks. He is spending a few days with his many friends in town.

St. Andrews—The Venerable Archdeacon Lonsdell, M.A., who has retired from active work, and who has left here to take up residence at Kingsey, Que., was the recipient, on Wednesday evening last, of a purse of gold and a handsomely framed photograph of the school.

The Annual Convention for Lachute District of the Sunday School Union of the Province of Quebec will be held in the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday afternoon and evening, June 6th., commencing at 3 p.m. Rev. E. T. Copel and others will address the meeting.

It is a pleasure to report that at the Sessional Examinations at the McGill Normal School, Miss Katie M. Campbell of Dallesville succeeded in obtaining the Honorable Superintendent's Gold Medal. The Misses Gertie McEwan and Amy L. Hyde of St. Andrews, and Emma S. Laviere of Bethany, also passed successfully.

A most interesting and instructive lecture, "Britain in Peace and War", was given by Rev. E. Thomas in the Victoria Hall on Friday evening last. The lecture was profusely illustrated by a splendid array of pictures shown by Dr. Alexander.

The annual meeting of the Bible Society was held in the Baptist Church, on Monday evening, and was presided over by Mr. Barron. Rev. H. Charters acted as secretary and gave a very encouraging report of the year's work.

Hints for Homebodies

YOU CAN'T FIND WORK WITHOUT LOOKING FOR IT

There is a twelve year old boy who is a great worker and is always looking around for ways to earn money—and finds them. One day he said to his mother, "I am going over to Mrs. A's to see if she has any work for me." Mrs. A. is a friend of his mother's and frequently had odd jobs for this boy to do. The mother, fearing that the boy might be a nuisance, hesitated about letting him go and said, "I think you had better wait until Mrs. A. asks you." The answer she got was, "Mother, if you want a job you have to ask for it. You can't find work without looking for it." The mother let him go as she very rightly felt that any boy who had that attitude towards work should be encouraged.

VANITY

Are men vainer than women? Horace Annesley Vachell says they are in "When Sorrows Come". He says that one of the minor proofs is that women do not kill themselves for vanity. In their case the heart over-balances the head. Vanity is a dominant instinct with most of us. "Vanity and jealousy fill hell to the brim—the hell, I mean which we make of this world." If we stop to analyze our actions and our emotions we would find that more of them are actuated by vanity than we suspected, even in those of us who feel that we have little vanity. Vanity is most frequently associated with personal appearance, yet we may be vain about many other things. I had never thought of vanity being the cause of suicide, yet when you think of it, depression through failure is the cause of most self-inflicted deaths. Failure in material things is the most frequent cause, yet failure in physical health may cause a mental aberration ending in mental depression, sufficient to have the person take what seems the easiest way out—easier than to face the world in changed circumstances. Next time you are feeling depressed search for the underlying cause and see if vanity has not considerable to do with it. When we realize that vanity is causing us so much misery we may be able to face it squarely and overcome it.

BREAST FEEDING

Many of the old ideas women had about breast feeding have gone into the discard. One was that bottle feeding was less trouble. Now that most doctors advocate giving an occasional feeding from the bottle to the breast fed baby in order to facilitate weaning, mothers are able to be absent for longer than the usual four hour period and are not quite so tied. They find it much less work when they do not have to bother with boiling bottles and making up feedings. The old idea was that babies should not be fed from two breasts at a feeding as that decreased the flow of milk. Instead of lessening the supply of milk it increased it as sucking stimulates the flow of milk. Another exploded idea is that breast feeding and bottle feeding should never be mixed. Even a small quantity of mother's milk is better than none at all and if the milk supply is not sufficient it is advisable to continue nursing and to complement this with a bottle after each feeding. Let the baby have the benefit of breast feeding.

OLD STAND-BYS

I am constantly experimenting and trying out recipes in order to bring new ones to my readers. So much so that I unconsciously have had a guilty feeling when I use an old one. Thinking it over, I have decided that this is a mistake. Old recipes that have stood the test of time and are still found good are to be treasured. New readers are constantly being added and old ones may not always clip the recipes so that even the old ones may be new to many. Just to prove that I am no longer going to feel opologetic about using my old stand-bys I am going to give you two right now. The first one is one that I got in a cooking-class when I was going to Macdonald Institute. It was a favorite at home and I used it frequently. It has been the favorite cookie for most of the family in my own home and I have made them literally hundreds of times.

DATE DROP CAKES

1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 cup dates, cut in pieces
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon soda
1 1/4 cups flour
1/2 cup walnuts
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon each nutmeg and cloves
Cream sugar and butter, add beaten eggs. Sift in flour, spice and soda. Add dates and nuts and mix well. Drop on a buttered pan and bake in a moderately hot oven of 375 degrees. Sometimes I use raisins instead of dates and sometimes a mixture. By way of a change in flavor, sometimes I decrease the cinnamon and increase the nutmeg. If you like a flat, thin cookie, use a scant 1 1/4 cups flour, but if you like a high, thick one, more like the rock cookies, use the full cup and a quarter.

BOILED SALAD DRESSING

1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 egg
3 teaspoons mustard
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup water
4 1/2 tablespoons sugar
3/4 cup vinegar
1 cup milk
Mix dry ingredients, moisten with water and mix until smooth. Add vinegar, slightly beaten egg and butter. Cook over a slow heat until it almost comes to a boil, stirring constantly. Add milk gradually and continue stirring until it again comes almost to a boil. This is a specially good dressing for leaf lettuce.

Gardens in Lachute

You can hear the talk almost anywhere: "My peas are up several inches How are yours?"

"Mine have been up a week. I used to plant mine earlier but I found they matured about as quickly if put in a little later."

And so it goes. The gardens are an absorbing topic of conversation. Supplies of certain favorite items canned last season are running short and "there's nothing like your own canned stuff."

Some plant and hoe and weed from habit; some to have something to do; some because they like to see the things grow; and most of us because we like a few real fresh vegetables for the picking in the cool of the early morning or evening.

In connection with all this garden talk, the following from an article by Rex Beach in June Cosmopolitan is interesting:

"You'd think, wouldn't you, that a carrot is a carrot—that one is about as good as another as far as nourishment is concerned? But it isn't: one carrot may look and taste like another and yet be lacking in the particular mineral element which our system requires and which carrots are supposed to contain. Laboratory tests prove that the fruits, the vegetables, the grains, the eggs and even the milk and the meats of today are not what they were a few generations ago. (Which doubtless explains why our forefathers thrived on a selection of foods that would starve us!) No man of today can eat enough fruits and vegetables to supply his system with the mineral salts he requires for perfect health, because his stomach isn't big enough to hold them! And we are running to big stomachs"

No longer does a balanced and fully nourishing diet consist merely of so many calories, or certain vitamins, or a fixed proportion of starches, proteins and carbohydrates. We now know that it must contain, in addition, something like a score of mineral salts.

It is bad news to learn from our leading authorities that ninety-nine percent of people are deficient in these minerals, and that a marked deficiency in any one of the more important minerals actually results in disease. Any upset of the balance, any considerable lack of one or another element, however, microscopic the body requirement may be, and we sicken, suffer, shorten our lives."

Husband — "One more payment and the furniture's ours."
Wife — "Good! Then we can throw it out and get some new stuff."

The Week's Fashion News

Written Specially for The Lachute Watchman
By the Montreal "FASHION SCRIBE"

"Get Outdoors" is the big theme in New York and Montreal at the moment, and the big stores are backing up the movement with the most exciting clothes you ever saw. Togs in which colour and line and comfort are all combined in an admirable manner. There are culottes which invite you to hike, golf, bike or merely lounge in them . . . shorts that give you the freedom you want for tennis . . . bathing suits and sun togs to swim in or laze under the summer suns . . . beach accessories that inspire you to holiday plans at the sight of them. The culottes are shown in both white and gay colors, as are the shorts and swim or sun togs. Look for printed linens, for bright shirts to go with colorful shorts . . . beach bags that look like water jugs . . . scarfs and hats that manage to be cool as well as gay and becoming.

White is still important, as it always is the moment summer hoves in sight. Featured are two new cool fabrics known as Sharkskin and Alpaca—smooth and with plenty of body to fit and make-up into suits and frocks and jackets. Of course, the color is introduced in accessories, for the fashion story is really "White and . . ."

Ever stop in front of a handkerchief counter and admire the colour and designs while-wishing for some way to make use of them other than to mop warm brows or flutter gayly in the wind? That's just what we did in New York, and just look at the information we obtained. We found that bright linen hankies in moderate sizes could be folded into the most charming jabots to go with linen or white suits . . . that large gay cotton ones made grand halter tops, beach hats and bundle bags, merely with a bit of clever folding and a stitch or two. Think what you could do to your holiday wardrobe in this manner.

Like to make several costumes out of your linen suit with the aid of a few extra pieces, small in cost? Here's how. You pick out a dark jacket and wear it with the light skirt, or a dark skirt to wear with the light top, or one of those gay flannel jacket tailleurs that come in bright or dark tones to don either over the suit or to top the skirt. Think out your colour schemes—choose the extra jackets and skirts to go with as many shades as possible in your wardrobe, and then switch them about to your heart's content.

Summer coats are more versatile than for several seasons. There's the classic English polo cloth in its soft cream shade as usual . . . but there are also fine and porous string lace types either in cotton or linen. These most often in swaggy lengths and in white, natural or pastel and deeper tones that blend beautifully with white or lighter summer frocks. They're smart over evening gowns as well. And another attraction about them is that in almost every case the prices are moderate.

CONSTIPATED* 25 YEARS, ALL-BRAN BROUGHT RELIEF

Delicious Cereal Corrected His Condition

Here is Mr. Johnson's letter: "I got a package (of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN), and before the package was gone I was very much better."

"So I have been eating it for two or three weeks, and my constipation* has gone, and I was constipated* for 25 years or more. Hoping this may help some one to better health. I am a new friend to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."—Mr. J. B. Johnson (address upon request).

Mr. Johnson's letter is one of many. Millions find Kellogg's ALL-BRAN corrects constipation* satisfactorily. It supplies the "bulk" missing in the average meal.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild and effective. It absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the intestines. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

Isn't it more sensible to use this natural food instead of taking patent medicines? Just eat two table-spoonfuls daily. If not relieved, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. It is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Mrs. Charman spent the week-end in Montreal.

Mrs. Tozer and Miss Tozer, of Halifax, called on Mrs. Bezanon and Rev. Mr. Macaskill at the Manse on Saturday.

A host of friends in this community are gratified at the recognition accorded Dr. Maude E. Abbott, who was recently awarded a gold medal by the Ontario Medical Association for her research in cardiac disease.

The Reading Circle held its last meeting for the year on Monday, May 25th., at the home of Mrs. Pitcairn. The first period consisted of a fireside chat on Music. The leading part in this discussion was taken by Mrs. H. P. Bezanon, whose unusual musical talent makes her an authority on the subject.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Kuhring, who spoke on Modern Education, and her address was much enjoyed by those present.

At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Pitcairn.

The members of the Reading Circle expressed their great regret at the resignation of their President, Mrs. Bezanon. They feel that it will be impossible to fill her place, when she leaves St. Andrews, as she has given her time and talents so generously to all their undertakings.

WEIR

FIREMEN PUMPED WATER 2½ MINUTES AFTER ALARM SOUNDED

At an inspection by Chief Chevalier of the Fire Commissioners' Office of Quebec, last Friday, the Lachute fire brigade responded to an alarm and had their fire truck pumping water from the North River just 2½ minutes after the siren was sounded. Chief Chevalier expressed his satisfaction with this performance.

TOWN COUNCILLORS MET SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS ON ANNEXATION

PROVISIONAL AGREE- MENT TO WITHDRAW FROM BILL

A special meeting of Lachute Town Council was held jointly with the Catholic and Protestant School Boards in Victoria Hall on Monday evening. Town Councillors present were Mayor Dr. J. H. Mason, Aldermen J. W. McGibbon, Wm. J. Deacon, H. Lamarche, C. Durocher, K. McQuat, F. Deslauriers, Geo. A. Muir, and Omer Laurin. Representing the Catholic School Board were Ph. Chabot, Chairman, and Commissioners A. Rodrigue, T. Trichard, J. W. Lefebvre; on behalf of the Protestant School Board the following Commissioners — Dr. J. H. Mason, chairman, and Messrs. J. W. Gall, Geo. Y. Deacon, Wm. Jackson, Dr. J. M. Drew, and Dr. G. A. Clunie, secretary.

A motion was passed by the Commissioners that a request from both School Boards be made to the Town Council to drop the proposed annexation of a part of the Township of Chatham, owing to the fact that the said Boards are prepared to grant Ayers Limited and the Dominion Shuttle Coy. a fixed valuation of $300,000 for a period of ten years for school purposes only. The various Commissioners were unanimous in support of this resolution.

After due consideration a resolution bearing upon withdrawal from the bill was passed by the council. This resolution was to the effect that the Council agree to withdrawal as party to the bill for annexation, providing the two industries mentioned accept the fixed valuation of $300,000 as suggested, for a ten year period for school purposes only, and that in the case of their refusal the Town remain a party to the bill.

Heard Report From "100 International"

At the regular One Hundred Club supper held at Desjardins Hotel last evening, interesting reports were heard from the club's four delegates to the "International" convention in Ottawa, held last Monday. These representatives, Messrs. W. McArthur, Gordon McQuat, H. Parkinson and R. W. Elliott, were much impressed with the friendliness which marked the gathering, and brought back a clear conception of the business proceedings which most concerned the local organization. It was gratifying to know that a Lachute member, Centurion G. McQuat, had been appointed second vice-president of the International Association in its election of officers.

Following the practice of drawing upon resources within the club membership, Centurion H. Parkinson addressed the gathering. His talk dealt briefly with various types among club members, and his observations might be aptly applied to the case of almost any organization. President J. E. Dumais occupied the chair, and a successful meeting was enjoyed by those present.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR K. OF C. COUNCIL

The new executive for 1936-37 in the Lachute Knights of Columbus, Council No. 2752, was elected on June 9th., resulting in the following appointments: Grand Knight, Gaetan Valois; Deputy Grand Knight, H. M. Lavigne; Chancellor, A. Brunelle; Corresponding Secretary, Leonard Bedard; Secy.-Treasurer, Y. M. Desjardins; Advocate, Phil. Valois; Warden, Alex. Guenette; Syndic: P. Chabot, J. D. Lepine, and Albini Lamarche; Interior Guard, Russell Robinson; Exterior Guard, Fernando Lamarche; Fin. Secretary, J. E. E. Dumais; Lecturer, Hector Lamarche; Chaplain, Rev. L. E. Cloutier.

CITY FATHERS NOTE UNSANITARY CONDI- TIONS, NEW SUBURB

In last week's report of the Town Council proceedings, The Watchman refrained from comment on the findings of the Council, which adjourned on that occasion to inspect the Laurin settlement in the West End. Stating the situation mildly, however, the Council found a disgusting state of squalor and filth, that necessitates immediate action to avert an outbreak of disease. "The poor we have with us always", but this does not justify the existence of a slum area which is a menace to the health of any community.

Enterprise is commendable at all times. Geo. Laurin has built up a number of houses on the property he has acquired, but avaricious haste in completing these dwellings without proper sanitation is to be condemned; strict observance of the building by-laws must be complied with or serious consequences will be the result of too much laxity on the part of our officials.

The necessity of proper town planning is in strong evidence, and it is up to the Town Council to have the situation cleaned up at once, and to see that a repetition does not occur.

Gala Evening on Tennis Club Grounds

Tennis enthusiasts of this town, both young and old, witnessed a gala session on Saturday evening on the courts of the "Plaisez-Vous" Tennis Club, located on Melkie Street. Through the enterprise of the club promoters, Messrs. S. Laurin and Horace Lamarche, arrangements were made with the Mount Royal and Verdun Tennis Clubs to send five players to Lachute to give an exhibition of tennis. These players are classed among the strongest members of the clubs in Montreal. The courts were well lighted, and the grounds along with the log cabin club house presented a pleasing picture to spectators seated along both sides of the court. Crowds also viewed the games from the street. Mayor J. H. Mason, who was to have been present, was unavoidably detained and in his absence Mr. G. J. Cheley was called upon to extend a welcome to the visiting players.

The first game of the evening was a ladies' singles between Mrs. Austin and Miss F. Lacasse, two outstanding lady players from Montreal. This event was closely contested and followed with much interest.

A mixed doubles followed — a contest between Montreal players, namely Stuart Veysey and Mrs. Austin against John Clocski and Miss F. Lacasse. They gave an interesting display of mixed doubles as one could wish to see.

PETITION ON PAYMENTS TO MILK SHIPPERS

Frost in the month of May has caused damage estimated to lessen the crop of fruit in the district by 50 percent, experts told members of the Association des Producteurs de Lait du District de Montreal, at a meeting held in Ste. Scholastique. It was stated that Ste. Anne des Plaines had been the chief sufferer and that there the loss would be about 75 per cent.

A petition was drawn up at the meeting to be forwarded to the provincial Minister of Agriculture asking that the association be authorized to control the collection of payment for milk and transportation of the milk. It is pointed out in the petition that many members of the association and others do not abide by the regulations and therefore the association wants to exercise a better control.

LACHUTE FAIR ENTRIES ALREADY 20 p.c. HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR

Next week Lachute will be en fête for the Annual Exhibition, and citizens are expected to co-operate by decorating their premises in a festive manner for the occasion.

The directors of the Agricultural Society have been working hard to make this Lachute Spring Fair the biggest and best in the history of the Society. They have secured fine talent for the vaudeville turns before the Grand Stand, and the Sims Greater Shows, of Hamilton, will bring one of the best midway entertainments that have been seen here. Horse racing will again prove a star feature, with fireworks displays on Thursday and Friday nights and music furnished by the 2nd. Montreal Regiment Royal Canadian Artillery Band, under able leadership of Mr. A. Fassio of Lachute.

So much for the entertainment; but Secretary-Manager Alex. Bothwell assures us there is a 20 p.c. increase in the number of exhibitors over last year, and forty extra stalls are being erected to accommodate the large entry of horses — which speaks well for the high quality of livestock to be expected at this Fair.

Saturday will be young people's day, when children under 12 will be admitted free and competition of live stock judging will be held for the boys and girls.

With this in mind, let citizens help in extending a royal welcome to the visitors who come to join with us in this annual event. Let everyone do his best in contributing to the success which Lachute Fair justly deserves. The Lachute Wo-

C. P. Fullerton on Can. National Railways... And McGeer on Bank of Canada Act... Senate Demurs on Indirect Taxation by Provinces

"THE OTTAWA SPOTLIGHT"

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, June 9.—Public control of credit, the Canadian National Railways and the powers of taxation to be enjoyed by the provinces in future were the three major issues during the week.

Hon. C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the Board of Trustees which has been administering the affairs of the Canadian National during the last two and a half years, came before the railway committee with an eloquent defence of the Board's administration. He showed that the affairs of the railway have been improving, with economies effected in a number of directions, and the plant maintained in such a way as to be able to take advantage of improving

GAETAN VALOIS WILL REPRESENT NOTARIES

At a meeting of the Chamber of Notaries for Terrebonne District, held at St. Jerome last week, Mr. Gaetan Valois of Lachute was elected as representative for this section of the Provincial Chamber of Notaries.

The Granby police department is to have an automobile for its exclusive use, according to a decision by town councillors.

CONDUCTED TOUR FOR BROWNSBURG CONS. SCHOOL PUPILS

(By Our Brownsburg Correspondent)

Brownsburg — Education through observation, a system much in vogue in Austria and to a lesser extent in Germany, is being adopted by Mr. D. Staniforth, principal of the Brownsburg Consolidated School. The mighty St. Lawrence, so beautifully described in a recent series of articles in "The Watchman", is a scenic phenomenon of unsurpassed beauty. Yet to those who have observed its various shades and lineaments, how inadequate is the most gifted word-picture, compared with a visual eyepicture of its majesty. Only those who have travelled down its busy waterway can tell.

In the present instance the pupils in the higher grades are to be taken on a conducted tour of the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa and of the Experimental Farm nearby. Through the generosity of Sir George Perley and the willing co-operation of the pupils' parents and other Brownsburg residents, this tour has been made possible. A word of thanks to Sir George, who has taken a very active part in arranging the tour, would not be amiss at this stage. The date is set for next Saturday and the result of Mr. Staniforth's innovation will be watched with interest.

Engineering Course Successes at McGill

In the mechanical engineering course at McGill, J. Alex. McGibbon of Brownsburg takes a high standing in third year, while in the engineering course Raymond S. Campbell of Morin Heights, and Sam W. Milnes of Lachute Mills, are also reported successful in their year.

SIX DAYS, LONDON TO ST. MARGARET'S, QUE.

After completion of the Queen Mary's first transatlantic trip, it was revealed that five Englishmen filled a luncheon engagement at the Alpine Inn, St. Margaret's, just six days after they had lunched together in London, the Empire Metropolis.

The day after meeting in London they boarded the R.M.S. Queen Mary on her maiden voyage. Arriving in New York they flew to Montreal, and thence drove to St. Margaret's, lurching with a Ste. Agathe citizen just six days after their previous gathering.

Garbage removal in Three Rivers, Que., is now done at night.

HAWKESBURY LOSES TWO INDUSTRIES, ASKS LOWER COUNTY ASSESSMENT

A resolution was passed at the last meeting of Hawkesbury councillors petitioning the County Council to reduce the town's assessment, in consequence of two industries having withdrawn and diminished the sources of local revenue. The resolution was framed in the following terms:

Whereas the Municipal assessment of the Town has suffered a reduction due to the demerolishment of two of its most important industries—Manson's Limited which employed 90 men a year, and the Hawkesbury Lumber Co. which employed 550 men a year and 50 houses, a mill, machinery removed from mill, and other buildings went to ruin;

And whereas the only remaining source of revenue is derived from the salaries paid by the Canadian International Pulp, which Company employs only 350 men per year of whom 35 per cent reside outside of the Town;

And whereas the financial position of the Town in consequence of its loss of revenue and of assessment due to the above mentioned causes make it impossible for the Town to meet its obligations to the United Counties of Prescott and Russell, as well as to its other creditors;

And whereas the County assessment of the Town of Vankleek Hill is $389,389, and the County assessment of the Town of Rockland is $351,147, and the County assessment of the Town of Hawkesbury is $1,400,000 which makes it an unfair equalization in the County assessment of the Town of Hawkesbury;

In consequence of all the above mentioned grounds, the Town of Hawkesbury demands a considerable reduction of its County assessment and begs the County Council to consider that the action of the Town in demanding such reduction is based merely upon its desire and its need to obtain justice, and the Town shall appreciate all effort made by the County Council to grant that justice which the Town has a right to expect. Drowned While Fishing Near Ste. Agathe

The seasonal toll of drownings in this section of the Laurentians has commenced, with the death of a young Ste. Agathe man in a fatal mishap last Sunday. Napoleon Valade, aged 26, of Ste. Agathe, was drowned in Horse Shoe Lake, four miles from the town. The body was recovered one hour later and Dr. J. R. Brail, of St. Jerome, coroner of the district, disposed of the case with a verdict of accidental death.

Valade was on the lake fishing alone in a boat. At one o'clock other fishermen saw him some distance away. Looking in his direction later, they noticed the boat was empty and rowed over to the spot. It was an hour before P. L'Archeveque, of Montreal, found his body, by diving into the lake a short distance from the empty boat.

Coroner Brail was told that Valade was subject to spells of weakness; it was believed he had fallen while standing in the boat.

THIRD JAIL - BREAKER FROM L'ORIGNAL IS RECAPTURED

After a year and 11 days of freedom, Leopold Desjardins, 17, of Hawkesbury, is back in L'Orignal jail, from which he made a sensational escape with two companions on May 25 last year.

Desjardins was arrested on a vagrancy charge at St. Jerome, on Thursday last, and was held for Hawkesbury police. In the party which went to St. Jerome to bring him back was Police Officer Beaulne, who was seriously injured by an assault for which Desjardins was waiting to be charged when he escaped.

Two companions of Desjardins who participated in the escape from L'Orignal were re-arrested several weeks after they had gained liberty.

INSPIRING THEME AT UN. YOUNG PEOPLE'S SERVICE, LACHUTE

A sermon well suited to the occasion was delivered by Rev. Norman Coll, M.A., B.D., at the Young People's Service last Sunday evening at Lachute United. The visiting preacher, from Parkdale United Church, Ottawa, spoke on the text, "Behold, I make all things new", from Revelations — and left with his listeners an inspiring message along the ideal of the Federated Young People's Societies, which charges Christian youth with the building of a new world.

The service was conducted by Mr. Stuart Armstrong, president of the Lachute United Y.P.S. The Young People's choral group supplemented the choir, rendering music appropriate to the theme of the service.

Charter Presented to Local A.Y.P.A.

A successful rally was held by the Local A.Y.P.A. Council, in Grenville Masonic Hall on June 5th. Delegates and A.Y.P.A. members were present from Calumet, Arundel, St. Amede and Lachute, including Rev. W. LeCras, Canon Fee, Rev. K. Brueton and Rev. G. Wolfendale. Unfortunately Rev. G. Stone from St. Amede was unable to be present. Canon Garrett, members of the Hawkesbury Young People's Club, and a number of Montreal delegates were guests.

The meeting opened with prayer, followed by a hearty welcome extended by Mr. R. Sanction, President of the organization. Each branch proceeded next to furnish entertainment in an allotted time. The program consisted of solos, trios, quartets, piano solos, accordion solos, tap-dancing, dialogues, sketches, selection rendered by the Hawkesbury Young People's Club and last, but not least, an Amateur Broadcast from the Arundel Branch, giving amusing news forecasts and featuring a number of songsters.

The Charter of the Local A.Y.P.A. Council was officially presented by Mr. F. Reed, Vice-President of the Dom. A.Y.P.A. Council, to Mr. R. Sanction, President. This presentation was followed by addresses from several interested workers.

More than one hundred and fifty partook of the refreshments served. The remainder of the evening was spent in a sing-song and dancing, music being furnished by the orchestra from Hawkesbury.

Annual Meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Held at Boston

Boston, Mass., June 8 — An appeal to Christian Scientists to work for the demonstration of World Peace, the reading of reports by church officers on the various activities of the movement throughout the world and sustained demand for the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, marked the annual meeting today of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The addition of 22 new churches and eight new university organizations, making a total of 2751 branches of The Mother Church and 55 college and university organizations, was announced by the Department of Branches and Practitioners.

Among new Societies was one formed by the natives in a mountain province of the Philippine Islands. They had been holding services over a period of years and this past year came to the point in growth where they were able to go forward as a branch of The Mother Church.

Around six thousand Christian Scientists representing every state in the Union and practically every civilized nation in the world attended the meeting.

Introducing the theme of World Peace, William P. McKenzie for the past year chairman of the Board of Directors, told the audience, "There is a rising demand in the hearts of men for freedom and justice. Can it be met by fair dealing? This requires self-government, does it not? Instead of battling with others to set them right, let a man become right himself and influence his neighbor by his good example." Mr. McKenzie designated the way in which peace can be realized, pointing out that "when in a branch church growth has been made to the point that members respect one another and show deference and courtesy, work is done in friendliness. May not a time be coming", he asked, "when in congresses and parliaments good will of this sort will show like harmonies and results?"

As retiring President, Dr. Frank C. Colby declared it "encouraging to find that Christian Scientists are realizing more fully and more keenly that Christian Science is something more than a glorified theology; that it is a demonstrable Science; the Science of Being; the Science of true Christianity."

Following which he introduced Mrs. Elizabeth Cadwell Tomlinson as the new President of The Mother Church. In her address, Mrs. Tomlinson spoke in somewhat the same vein as Mr. McKenzie, declaring that "the developments of this hour in world history are not disheartening to the thinker in Christian Science. These developments corroborate and fulfill our Leader's prophecy: 'War will end when nations are ripe for progress.' As humanity ripens in courage, in purity of purpose, in increasing virtue, in holiness, this vision will hasten the day prophesied by our Leader when the Christ spirit will cleanse the earth of human gore."

Esra W. Palmer, re-elected Clerk of the Church gave information on the relief work done by the church. The Relief Fund of The Mother Church alleviated distress caused by hurricane in Florida; by earthquake in Montana; continued work at the Veterans' Hospital, Oteen, N. C.; and those whose property was damaged by tornado in Mississippi and North Carolina; and assisted suffering from floods in southern and eastern states. Relief was dispensed among Christian Scientists and non-Christian Scientists in 14 states. In the course of this work assistance given to or through a number of ministers of other denominations who have expressed much appreciation for the assistance and the spirit in which it was administered.

Royal Canines Visit Canada

The social status of the canine world on the Pacific Coast moved up several notches recently with the arrival at Vancouver, over the C.N.R., of three aristocrats among the toy breeds: they were the eBlgian Griffons, so much fancied by European nobility. This rare and ancient breed has been sponsored by many royal families. They were imported from English kennels by Mrs. Montague Furber, well known in social circles, who returned with them following a lengthy stay in England. Dog fanciers are displaying a keen interest in the arrivals since they are little known here.

Some of the Hollywood stars favor the Belgian Griffon and it is not uncommon for these toy dogs to sell in four figures. The little dogs are stars in their own right, and on the trip across Canada they had numerous admirers as they took their airing.

tion for the assistance and the spirit in which it was administered.

William M. Bartlett, Secretary to Trustees under the Will of Mary Baker Eddy, reported expenditure of more than $150,000 during the year just past, "to more effectually extend and promote the religion of Christian Science."

William W. Davis, Executive Supervisor of Christian Science Charitable and Benevolent Institutions, reported increased guests at both the Pacific Coast and Chestnut Hill Sanatoriums as well as loyal support of the Pleasant View Home.

As Manager of Committees on Publication, C. Augustus Norwood declared, "We may well rejoice at the continued progress of our religion and the continued growth of our organization. But, when we consider how many years were required to leaven the thought of the world sufficiently to make it possible for our Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, to establish the religion and the organization of Christian Science, we must realize that the work of accomplishing her purpose to 'reinstat primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing' has hardly more than begun."

Mr. Norwood disclosed that through the publication of religious items and the radio-casting of religious programs and news comments from The Christian Science Monitor, friendly relationships have been established with about 2000 newspapers and 300 radio stations.

Miss Margaret Murney Glenn as chairman of the Board of Lectureship for the past year cited cases of instantaneous healings, which had taken place as a result of public lectures on Christian Science.

She disclosed that members of the Board of Lectureship carried Christian Science messages to the four corners of the globe, lectures being given in Africa, Australia, Hawaii, China, Japan, Java, Ceylon and India; in the City of Mexico, South America, Bermuda, Canal Zone and West Indies, Great Britain and Ireland, continental Europe and Scandinavia, and in Canada, the United States and Alaska.

The fruitage of Christian Science in healing all manner of disease and disorder was attested in testimonials read by Mrs. Jennie H. Jarvis.

Obituary

The Late Mrs. W. H. Neff

A former resident of this district, Mrs. Walter H. Neff, passed away early Monday morning, June 1st., at her home in South Hadley Falls, Mass. Deceased lady was formerly Miss Flora Dorion, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dorion, of Brown's Gore, and was born there in 1866. In her early years she resided in Lachute Mills and was one of the first employees in the finishing room of the J. C. Wilson Paper Mills where she worked for some seven years. She later took up residence in the States where she married Mr. Neff in 1906. Besides him there remain to mourn her loss, one brother, Charles of Shawville, Que., and two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Robertson and Mrs. Felix Charlebois of Lachute Mills.

The funeral was held from her home on Wednesday, June 3rd., burial taking place in Forestdale Cemetery. Messrs. Ernest Robertson and Henry Charlebois, of Lachute Mills, attended the funeral.

The Late Narcisse Robertson

After a short illness Mr. Narcisse Robertson died Wednesday, June 3rd., in hospital at Montreal, where he had been taken early Monday morning suffering from acute appendicitis. A respected citizen of Lachute for many years, he was well known in this community.

The funeral took place on Friday morning from Ste. Anastasie Church. His loving wife, one daughter, Lilly (Mrs. Pressault of Montreal) and one son, Joseph, are left to mourn his loss.

During last year 79,900 births, 48,117 deaths, and 35,097 marriages were registered in 67 cities and towns of Canada having populations of 10,000 and over. Increases of 1/2 per cent in births, 6 per cent in deaths, and 5 1/4 per cent in marriages were shown over 1934.

Well-Known Racing Driver Makes New Records

Accomplishing what no other driver has done, Louis Meyer, well-known racing driver, roared to his third victory in the annual auto race at the Indianapolis Speedway to establish a new record of 105.66 miles per hour for the gruelling 500 miles.

"This race is the world's greatest tire test", declared G. Y. Deacon, local Firestone representative in commenting on the race. "Into these 500 miles is packed all the stresses and strains of 40,000 miles of ordinary driving. So gruelling is it that only 15 cars finished out of the 32 that started. We are very proud that Firestone Tires were on the winning cars again this year. For the past seventeen years all the winners have used Firestone Tires."

In Meyer's opinion much of the credit for the new records in speed and fewer accidents is due to Firestone high speed tire developments. With the question of tire safety no longer a factor, drivers' confidence and freedom from worry has greatly improved their driving ability and opportunities.

Where City Dwellers Enjoy Holidays

Up in Northwestern Ontario where the game fish grow large and put up a spirited battle, the Canadian Pacific Railway has well equipped chalet-bungalow camps at Devil's Gap, near Kenora, and at French River for the accommodation of fishing enthusiasts from all over the continent. Arrangements can be made, too, to take care of visitors to Nipigon River, another famous resort for game fishermen.

Year by year these favored spots, unspoiled by the civilization from which they are separated by a few short hours of train travel, attract more and more visitors. The camps offer a happy combination of the joys of the great out-of-doors and the comforts of the city. At the Devil's Gap and French River Camps, the cabins are lighted electrically, costly furnished, and have running water. Many of them have shower baths and all have screened verandahs. Efficient maid service is maintained.

Although fishing is the main attraction at the Devil's Gap Bungalow Camp, just a pleasant boat ride's distance from Kenora, other amusements are swimming right at the camp dock, a nine-hole golf course within easy walking distance, and organized excursions by motor boat or canoe over the great stretch of water. The camp will be open this year from June 26 to September 14. A special attraction this year will be the Old Home Week which will be staged by Kenora from July 6 to the 11th.

The French River Camp provides especially good fishing and golfing. Fighting "muskie," great northern pike, large and small mouth bass, "wall eyes," and other game fish are found in abundance. A few years ago a 56-pound "muskie" was taken there and many heavy fish are brought in each season. A picturesque nine-hole golf course is situated on Dry Pine Bay, and there is tennis, swimming, a sandy beach, and dancing at night. The surrounding country provides delightful hiking and canoe trips. The camp will open on June 20 and close on September 20.

Wedding Invitations and Announcements are a specialty of the Watchman Print. Their quality rivals the work of city engravers. In Old English or Script type... Don't assume that local printing is "not good enough." Call and inspect our samples; we leave them to your judgment.

Agricultural Classes in Seignior Club Horse Show

Three agricultural classes and a farmers' flat race give rural interest to the fifth annual horse show of the Seignior Club, being held on the show grounds north of Montebello July 2nd. to 5th. One of the smartest in the country, this show attracts spectators from a wide radius, and features horses from the best show stables in Eastern Canada. His Excellency the Governor General, Lord Tweedsmuir, has graciously extended his patronage to the event, and an interesting turnout of horse show enthusiasts from Montreal, Ottawa and certain American cities is anticipated. Over forty classes and steeplechase races make up the program.

The three agricultural classes are: 1, single mare or gelding to be owned by an exhibitor living within a 25 mile radius of Montebello; first prize $10., second to fourth ribbons. Class 2, heavy draught teams for a challenge trophy presented by Lt. Col. J. R. Booth of Ottawa, open to teams valued under $1000; first prize trophy, second to fourth ribbons. Class 3, General Purpose Pair, to be owned by an exhibitor living within a 25 mile radius of Montebello; first prize $10., second to fourth, ribbons. Animals in each case to be shown before an appropriate vehicle.

Noted among the executive committee for this year is the name of Mr. Kilgour Wilson, Lachute.

"The greatest happiness of the greatest number is a sound criterion, if we remember that by far the greatest number are not yet in existence."

—Dean Inge.

The Battle Against Weeds

To make a good lawn you must fight the weeds continually. Dig out dandelions, burdock, purslane, plant by plant. Or squirt kerosene from a small oil can on the individual plants. Ammonium sulphate retards weed growth and promotes grass growth. Spray with this, half a pound in a gallon of water, two or three times a year, applying a gallon to each hundred square feet. Top dressings help in the weed fight by making grass plants stronger so that there are only a few individual weed plants to contend with. Extra watering helps greatly, especially in July and August when witch- or crab grass makes its greatest and quickest growth. Soak your lawn liberally; one good soaking is worth a dozen light sprinklings.

"GERRY" McGEER'S OUTBURST

Gerry McGeer's slashing speech on the Bank of Canada act, which he regards as a failure on the part of the government to fulfil its campaign pledges, was the highlight of the week. It was couched in highly insurrectionary terms and was delivered to a tense House. The mayor of Vancouver boasts a flow of oratory slightly of the demagogic variety and he has a capacity for getting under people's skins when desired. Aftermaths were expected in party caucus but the incident was allowed to die down.

The government continues to be able to find cheap money, and one big financing operation was carried on with a minimum of effort. The refunding operations due this year and next should save the country between five and ten million dollars in interest annually, depending on the success of the next flotation.

stead of legalizing indirect taxation by the provinces, the outcome of all this will be an abandonment by the provinces of indirect taxation, and thus a return to the situation as proposed by the Fathers of Confederation.

The Bank of Canada bill, which proposes to convert the central bank from a privately owned institution to one in which the majority ownership and control is in the hands of the government of the day, served to show rather wide gulfs of feeling between the several parties in the House, and even between sections of the Liberal party.

Fifty murders in Kenya Colony, Africa, were caused by the taunts of young girls who told their admirers to get blood on their spears before courting them, a British officer sent to investigate was told by a native headman.

SENATE REJECTS TAX CHARGE

In the Senate, the Liberal government is still outnumbered about two to one. Before the session started, there were numerous predictions of opposition to government measures. The first vote of ministerial legislation, however, arrived last week when the Senate rejected the proposed amendment of the British North America Act which would have given the provinces the right to levy indirect taxation.

Even that was not a division on party lines; it is quite conceivable that the Senate might have rejected it even with a Liberal majority. The members of the Upper Chamber are alarmed at the possibility that the provinces, empowered to levy indirect taxation, might levy taxes which would act as trade barriers between the provinces. The Senate thinks a step like this demands further study and consultation between provinces and the federal government.

Meantime the provinces will, one supposes, continue to levy, illegally, certain indirect taxes which they imposed in some cases years ago, and which the amendment to the constitution, had it gone through, would have legalized.

FEDERAL INVASION OF FIELD

The Dominion government is regarded in some quarters as primarily responsible for the situation. It will be recalled that the B.N.A. Act gave direct taxation as a field to the provinces. But during the war the federal government, with its income tax, invaded this field, and nowadays it relies upon the income tax to provide a very substantial share of its revenue. It is conceivable that in-

A MILLIONAIRE'S ESTIMATE OF HITLER

Charles M. Schwab returned from Europe and said that he considers Hitler's popularity in Germany is genuine "because they (German business men) credit him with bringing order out of chaos." With smaller fry not daring to voice their real opinions that makes it unanimous, like the recent election.

THREE LOCOMOTIVES ABEAST

Three locomotives could ride abreast through the Queen Mary's funnels. Of all the publicity material furnished to the press, that statement stands out as describing most vividly the size of this great vessel.

Other interesting facts are: that her engines are as powerful as fifty locomotives; that if stood on end she would nose up above Niagara Falls; that her siren, tuned to a lower bass A, can be heard ten miles.

URGED LOCAL EMPLOYMENT WITH OUTSIDE PRINTING

An alderman of Montreal took exception to a circumstance in connection with "Clean Up Week", which was widely boosted through posters all over the metropolis.

To co-operate with the city's plan to induce citizenry to beautify their surroundings and at the same time find odd jobs for the unemployed, a local firm manufacturing a widely-known cleanser distributed gaily-hued badges bearing the words "Clean Up Week" and the picture of a busy little cleaner. The alderman scanned the badge, and on the reverse side found the imprint of the lithographers—a printing firm in Chicago, Ill.!

"So that's how we're going to give employment to the jobless in Montreal", remarked the alderman, "by having Clean Up Week badges lithographed in Chicago! A fine idea, when we have printers and lithographers in Montreal and many of them unemployed."

A COLLEGIATE TOWN COUNCIL

Formation of a junior council, with the chief executive from the ranks of Collegiate Institute students, was advocated by Mayor W. H. Comstock, at the town council meeting in Brockville, Ont., "to educate pupils in municipal life, who do not know a fire hydrant from a by-law."

A resolution appointing the mayor and clerk to interview the Board of Education on the idea was passed after considerable comment.

The mayor would use last year's voting lists, with pupils whose parents are entitled to vote by ward system forming their own council. The successful candidates would attend next council meeting, sitting beside present aldermen, while the successful mayoralty contestant would share the mayor's desk.

PRESENTATION TO VANCOUVER

The corporation of the City of London has decided to offer to the city of Vancouver a replica of the mace used by the City of London. It will be presented by the Lord Mayor, Sir Percy Vincent, when he visits Vancouver in August to attend the Golden Jubilee of the granting to Vancouver of its charter.

June Weddings

POLLOCK — THOMPSON

The Westmount Park Church was the scene of a quiet wedding, Saturday, June 6th., at 4 o'clock, when Florence Evelyn, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Thompson, of Lachute, was united in marriage to Mr. Edgar Olcott Pollock of Brownsburg, youngest son of Mr. Hugh Pollock and the late Mrs. Pollock of Lachute. The Rev. J. Lavell Smith performed the ceremony. The church was nicely decorated with flowers for the occasion.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, wore her travelling dress of navy blue sheer crepe, with accessories in navy and white and a shoulder streamer of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Miss Edna Kerr, the bride's only attendant, wore navy and white figured georgette, with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mr. Sterling Pollock acted as groomsmen for his brother.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Queen's Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Pollock later left by motor for the Gaspé Coast, the bride travelling in a grey plaid top-coat, navy hat and accessories, and wearing a marten fur, a gift of the groom. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Pollock will reside in Brownsburg.

YOUNG — MacTAVISH

The marriage took place at Margaret Rodger Memorial Church, Lachute, on Wednesday, June 3rd., of Miss Elsie Rose Gwendolyn MacTavish, only daughter of Mrs. Duncan and the late Duncan MacTavish of Harrington East, to Mr. Coral Alexander Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Young of Calumet, Que. Rev. Mr. H. Cousens performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle Mr. Malcolm MacTavish, entered the church to the strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Helen McFaul of Lachute. The bride was gownned in lovely white satin with a tulle veil caught by orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of carnations, roses and baby's breath. She was attended by Miss Edna Poulter, gownned in mauve satin, with an arm bouquet of mauve tulips and lilies of the valley. The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Mr. Richard MacTavish, the ushers being Mr. Delbert MacTavish and Mr. Stanley MacTavish, cousins of the bride.

After the ceremony a light buffet luncheon was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacRae. Later the bride and groom left by train for Montreal and other points, the bride travelling in a brown ensemble with hat and other accessories to match.

On their return a reception was held at Belle Falls, where a delightful time was spent. The number of gifts and well-wishers showed the esteem in which the young couple are held.

Gala Evening on Tennis Club Grounds

Possibly the event which attracted the greatest interest was an excellent two-set match between John M. Cheley of the local club and Louis Duff, one of the junior city champions of Montreal. These two boys had met on former occasions in Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal, and gave a good account of themselves.

The men's doubles displayed some real tennis and gave the onlookers a thrill. The teams were composed of Stuart Veysey and John Cloeski, against John Cheley and Louis Duff; this latter combination made a strong team.

After the matches, the Lachute Club in a body acted as hosts to the visiting players at the Cosy Inn. The guests were received by Miss C. Laurin and Horace Lamarche. A tasty buffet supper was served. Miss Pauline Paquette, graciously played for the guests of the evening, while Miss Peggy Beveridge entertained with tap dancing, gracefully executed.

Mr. Guy Legault in a few well chosen words extended the thanks of the Club to the visiting players for their kindness in visiting the Lachute players. Mr. Paul Gelines, Secretary of the Province of Quebec Tennis Association, responded on behalf of the Montrealers and promised that Lachute during the summer would have more ranking tennis players from Montreal visit them for exhibition games.

The promoters of the Lachute Club, Messrs. S. Laurin and Horace Lamarche, are to be congratulated upon their enthusiasm in the interests of the sport, tennis having become possibly the most internationally played game of the day, as well as being a most enjoyable and healthy recreation. The Lachute Club is well conducted and is an asset to the town since it affords an excellent source of pleasure to those who care to participate, as well as to those who enjoy watching the games.

It is a great dishonor to religion to imagine that it is an enemy to mirth and cheerfulness, and a severe extractor of pensive looks and solemn faces.

Lakefield School Closing

On Friday afternoon pupils, parents and friends gathered in Lakefield School for the closing exercises. Rev. C. W. P. Baugh acted as Chairman. The report of the school year as read by the teacher, Miss Stella Scott, showed that a favorable year had been passed by the pupils. Several of the pupils attained excellent standing, while others did not succeed in making their grade. The Chairman then proceeded to award the prizes. Mrs. Shearsmith, on behalf of the W. I., presented two prizes; two awards donated by Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Kuhring were presented by the Chairman; three Bibles given for highest standing in Scriptural Knowledge, were presented by the donor, Mr. Horace G. Baugh; and Miss Scott presented several books awarded by the teacher herself. A short entertainment followed the presentation of prizes, the scholars giving a good account of themselves. Mrs. Kuhring gave an interesting talk to the children. The program closed with "God Save the King."

The new orchestra playing at Ralph's Place, Lakefield, is reported to have made a big hit on Saturday night for the square and round dancing.

Successes in Course of Household Science

Noted among successful scholars in the second year at MacDonald College for Bachelor of Household Science are Miss Eleanor C. Campbell of Dalesville and Miss Anna K. Rosborough of Lachute, who took notably high percentages in certain subjects.

June Meeting of County Council

The regular meeting of the County Council was held in the council rooms at the Court House yesterday, there being present—H. Parizeau, Warden, and Councillors C. J. Stanforth, J. E. Walker, Dougald MacTavish, A. Dawson, Jas. Chambers, H. Lajeunesse, L. Adamson, C. Roy, R. Legault, W. X. Beauchamp, W. Desjardins, J. E. Seale, A. O. Kerr and R. D. Owens.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. A resolution was submitted and adopted that the Council request the Agricultural Society to name the resident warden of the County as a permanent director of the Society. A grant was then voted to the Society of $500.

The Road Inspector, Mr. E. Kettyle, was instructed to look after cleaning of ditches between the Parish of St. Jerusalem and St. Andrews East, these being on the properties of Messrs. Legault, Smith and others.

A committee was appointed of the Warden, the Secretary and Councillor E. J. Walker, to consider installation of a blower system for heating the Court House.

A communication from Mr. Johnstone of the Bremmer Bridge relative to water storage systems was left over to next meeting.

Baptist Convention in Lachute, Closes Tonight

Lachute Baptist Church has been the centre of much activity during the past week and this week, for, in addition to a special evangelistic campaign which has been in progress since Monday evening, June 1st, with Rev. Leander Roblin of Otterville, Ont., as the special speaker, the annual Association of the Montreal and Ottawa District churches took place here this week, and is closing tonight (Thursday) with a great gathering. An unusual feature of the Conference was an extra session this morning, arranged for the examination of Mr. Roy Hisey, Pastor of the Lachute Church, and Mr. Charles Hardie, Pastor of the Dalesville Church, with a view to their Ordination to the General Ministry, which Ordination took place later in the day.

The special session this morning was opened by Rev. M. Doherty of Buckingham, and the examination of Messrs. Hisey and Hardie, by a special Council convened for the purpose, though in the presence of a large gathering, took place. The annual sermon by Rev. R. E. Jones followed.

The actual ordination of Mr. Hisey and Mr. Hardie was the first feature of the afternoon gathering, the Ordination sermon being preached by Rev. W. W. Fleischer, a former pastor of the Hisey brothers. Reports of Missions, also of Sunday School work and Young People's Societies were presented in the second part of this session. Election of officers took place also, following the presentation of the report of the nomination committee. Resolutions, including one of appreciation for the splendid provision made by the Baptists of the district for entertainment and meals, and one expressing regret at the absence, through illness, of Rev. James Hall of Ottawa, without whom no such Conference is complete, were unanimously approved.

The closing sessions tonight opened with a rousing song service, followed by another outstanding address by Rev. W. W. Fleischer. There was further special singing and the Conference was brought to a fitting close by Rev. L. Roblin in a Gospel message such as he alone can deliver.

CONSTIPATION* MAY CUT DOWN YOUR ENJOYMENT OF LIFE

Long Neglected, It May Even Develop Serious Consequences

Common constipation* keeps you from being at your best. It causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches and loss of appetite. You feel below par, lack your usual vigor.

So many people treat this condition as a slight matter. But it can be the starting point of serious trouble. It contributes to a general run-down condition. With lowered bodily resistance, you are more likely to pick up the first chance infection you meet in your everyday routine.

Common constipation is due usually to insufficient "bulk" in meals. Fortunately, a delicious cereal supplies gentle "bulk." Within the body, the "bulk" in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and cleanses the system.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. Two tablespoonsful daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN often. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company as an effective laxative food for constipation.* Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk"

BOY SCOUTS THE WORLD OVER

$150 PER DELINQUENT,
2c PER SCOUT

According to Walter W. Head, President of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, the cost of maintaining the Scout organization in the city of St. Louis, Mo., is 2 cents per day per Scout. This he compares with an average of $150 per day spent for the arrest and conviction of each boy charged with juvenile delinquency.

HOUSING PROJECTS INCLUDE SCOUT HALLS

A new housing estate experiment in the Borough of Heston and Isleworth, England, the setting aside of a site for a Boy Scout headquarters—has been so satisfactory in results that the Corporation has decided to make similar provision on all their estates. An announcement to this effect was made by the Mayor of the Borough.

ANOTHER MAGISTRATE PAYS TRIBUTE TO SCOUT TRAINING

Addressing the Wallaceburg, Ont., Kinsmen's Club on Scouting, Magistrate S. B. Arnold of Chatham added his experience to that of other magistrates by declaring that on only two occasions during his many years on the bench had boys come before him who had been Scouts. One of these was a mental deficient and the other had been in a Scout troop but a short time. Magistrate Arnold highly commended the effectiveness of the Scout training in starting boys right.

WHEN KING GEORGE WINKED AT B-P.

Lady Baden-Powell, recently speaking of the late King George's interest in Scouting and Guiding, told of His Late Majesty's reference to the Princess Royal's love of Guiding, during a garden party at Buckingham Palace. "She is always doing this," said the King, holding up his fingers in the Girl Guide salute, and with a wink at Lord Baden-Powell added: "You know, the Guides are going to beat the Scouts if you don't look out." "And that," said Lady Baden-Powell, "is the last picture I have of him in my mind,—making the Guide salute."

$5,000 PRIZE PEACE ESSAY

The essay on "World Peace" which won for Scout O. W. Mathews III, of Portland, Ore., the $5,000 college scholarship offered by Eddie Cantor, the comedian, was based upon the writer's personal experience. He was a member of the American Scout contingent at the International Scout Jamboree of 1933 at Godollo, Hungary, and based his essay upon observation of the mutual friendliness and goodwill shown there by boys of many nationalities.

The actor was boring his listener badly:

A SLUMBER SONG

The wild ducks are flying,
But baby is lying,
Safe in her mother's arms,
The tempest is raging
But Babe, so engaging,
Is safe from its rude alarms.

Her wee eyes are closing
And Rover is dozing
Close by her mother's chair;
When she lies sleeping,
Close watch he'll be keeping

At last the potato patch, as their daddy called it, was reached and they were all quite busy putting 'tatoes to bed. Betty described the planting in that way. May and Ted dropped potatoes into the hills their daddy had made, and he covered them, patting the earth down firmly with the hoe. Betty followed bravely, reaching down to each hill to leave the print of her tiny palm as a final good-bye pat.

As they worked their father told them the different tales of how potatoes were introduced into Europe in 1565, and that Sir Walter Raleigh was said to have brought them again from a foreign country in 1585. He told them how there seemed to be some confusion amongst historians as to who actually was the first to introduce potatoes into Europe, and he had read of some man with a queer Spanish name, Pedro de Creza de Leon, finding them early as 1538 in Peru, where they were evidently a regular food of the natives, who made a sort of flour with them; this, when dried in the sun, made a finer flour than wheat flour. The Spanish women used it to make biscuits and sweetmeats all the time. Also, Louis XVI of France gave a man by the name of Parmentier permission to plant potatoes in sandy land that was almost useless for other purposes, and when they were all ready to eat Parmentier surrounded them with a guard of soldiers by day to attract the people's attention to them, so that they would be tempted to steal and taste them for themselves when the guard was withdrawn. In this way the people grew interested in them and clamored to be allowed to grow them, too. The King used the blossoms as a button-hole boutonnet, and Queen Marie Antoinette placed clusters of them in her hair.

So occupied did May become with the tales her daddy was telling, that she forgot to keep her eye on her little sister. When she did remember her and looked around hurriedly she could not see her. "Daddy!" she exclaimed, "Betty is lost", and she ran wildly to the entrance of the field, falling over her baby sister, who was lying asleep with her head on a pile of empty sacks and another one pulled over her. She had put herself to bed like the potatoes! She was quite safe though, as She and Lady had stretched themselves down one on each side of her and were keeping their eyes open for possible intruders. Shep growled from time to time at an inquisitive ground hog who would persist in sticking his head above ground to look curiously at the group.

Seeing that she was quite safe, May ran back to help her father and brother finish the planting. They finished at noon, much to the children's surprise. They had thought that so many potatoes to plant meant an all-day job, but working cheerfully and steadily had soon seen them all underground. Daddy Harper picked up Betty who was still sleeping, and kept her in his arms all the way home, though the jolting of the wagon awakened her before they had gone very far.

"How about surprising Mother by taking her for a drive to Lake Louise this afternoon, children?" he asked, as they neared the house.

Ted's whoop of joy startled Dolly and Dick, so that they sprang forward, and he almost lost his balance and only saved himself by grasping the front of the wagon.

After dinner, when the proposed car drive was announced, Mother Harper looked rather anxiously at her baby daughter and said, "But Betty must have her sleep first." "No! no!" cried Betty, "I slept with the 'tatoes in the 'tatoe patch. I'm all ready to go to see Louise." They all laughed at Betty's quaint talk.

Daddy Harper went up to the attic where his boyhood treasures were stored, and brought down a wonderful fishing rod that folded up in a case. Handing it to Ted he said, "See if that rod will catch a whopper for you."

—It did. His first one! May gathered cedar sticks and they soon had it roasting for their supper.

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

Specially Written for Readers of The Watchman.
By JESSIE ALLEN BROWN

I MEET A READER

Not very often do I actually come into contact with any one who reads this column, so I treasure the occasions when I do. I was at a convention and got into conversation with the lady who sat beside me. We talked of this and that, as women do, and she mentioned the town from which she came and it happened to be near my home town. Then she spoke of the town in which she grew up. One of the papers in this town has printed Hints for Homebodies for years. She said that she had often wondered if Jessie Allen Brown was a real name. It is. I was quite thrilled to find that she clipped a good many things from the column for her scrap book. One of the differences between writing and speaking is that the writing goes forth blindly and you cannot tell just what readers find most interesting. I try to vary the contents so that if one thing does not interest perhaps the next will. I do quite a bit of speaking, and one of the things, that never fails to intrigue me is that when people speak to me after and mention something which has interested them, seldom do two people speak of the same thing. The thing that strikes home is the thing that interests us, and as our experiences differ, so do our reactions to what we read or hear.

TRAIN A CHILD TO AMUSE ITSELF

We all know people who lack the ability to amuse themselves—they simply must have company. They are apt not to be very discriminating in their choice of friends, as they cannot be alone. They are to be pitied. Probably this is the result of wrong training as a child. Every child should be trained to stay alone and to learn to amuse itself. Mothers should realize that this is a necessary part of training. This training should start from the time it is in its carriage and in the play-pen. When the baby tries climbing out of the pen a room should be prepared for the child to play in alone. Few houses have a separate play-room but some room can have the dangerous things removed so that it will be safe for the child to play in alone. It may be necessary to put a gate on the door but it is worth it. Worth it from two standpoints. For the child, because it will get the training which will be of value for the rest of its life.

For the mother, because it will allow her to go about her necessary work without interruptions and she will be a better mother because she will be less tired. A supply of toys should be kept for this solitary play-time. They need not be expensive ones as children enjoy boxes, spools, blocks and pieces of wood as much as the more costly toys. This training to be alone is very necessary, where there are several children, as well as for the child who is accustomed always to being in the same room as its mother.

LET THE EXECUTIVE PASS SMALL ACCOUNTS

Many men's organizations empower their executives to spend up to ten dollars. This is a plan which could be followed to advantage by women's organizations. It saves considerable time which is taken up by passing of small, necessary accounts. Then it avoids some embarrassing moments. We have all been present at meetings, when an account for a gift, or for flowers sent because of sickness or death, has been brought in and the recipient has been present. The average executive will be more careful of the money than will the club as a whole, because they are responsible for the financing and to allow them to spend small amounts as necessary is a great convenience. If the organization in which you are most interested would benefit by this, how about bringing up the question at the next meeting? If you bring it as a motion it will save time and be easier for your president.

SPINACH

Gritty spinach is an abomination and it is so unnecessary. Spinach should always be lifted out of the water in which it is being washed and the grit will fall to the bottom. The easiest way is to use two pans and continue washing until there is no grit left on the bottom of the dish. Cook in the water which clings to the leaves and do not add any additional water. Stir just once after it begins to boil, add salt and cook until tender. It is not possible to say how long that will be. This spring I have had spinach which was tender with ten minutes cooking and some that required twenty-five minutes. Watch carefully, test often and do not over-cook. Drain thoroughly, season with salt, pepper, butter and a pinch of sugar. Try a dash of nutmeg in it for a change or press in a bowl, turn out and cover with chopped hard-boiled egg.

SCRAMBLED EGGS WITH ASPARAGUS

Cut 1 bunch of asparagus in inch pieces and cook in salted water until tender. Beat four eggs, add 4 teaspoons milk, and salt and pepper. Pour into a well-buttered frying pan and cook over slow heat, stirring occasionally. When the eggs begin to set, add the asparagus and stir only enough to prevent sticking. Serve with toast.

HOT MAPLE SAUCE

1 cup maple syrup
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
dash of salt

Add a small amount of milk to the flour and rub until smooth, then add gradually the rest of the milk and the syrup, the butter and salt. Cook slowly until slightly thickened and smooth. Add vanilla. Serve hot on ice-cream or with any desired pudding.

Trees and Gardens

The beginner at gardening would be spared many mistakes if she knew what to plant under certain trees or how to lay out the garden in relation to whatever trees are on the grounds. One learns very soon that even grass grows skimpily under elms, and that huge doorway maples present a real problem, while under solitary fruit trees, flowers seem to thrive.

The Week's Fashion News

By the Montreal "FASHION SCRIBE"

Looks like summer has come in earnest at last, and cool, smart new fashions are springing up on all sides, like mushrooms overnight. Our predictions about white are fast coming true. White dresses—white suits—white shoes—white hats—they're being worn by smartest women. Of course, there's bound to be a dash of colour about the costume, too. Dark tones in blouses team up with the white suits and gay buttons or hat or shoes go along with the white frocks. Drifting white gowns are being seen in the evening, too. Often in chiffon or organza, and these adopt brilliant sashes and carry along a flourish in the summer wrap which is ultra smart in quilted taffeta.

Amidst all the white there's a newcomer which has been attracting much notice in New York. We speak of black linen. Cool? Yes, it is, very—and smart too. Neatly tailored, and with sheer white touches, it's an ideal choice for those who have to brave the city heat for a whole day and aim to look fresh and trim after it.

Have you noticed all the grand new weaves in rayon this season? Gone completely is the old idea that rayon was something you bought because it was cheaper, though not as smart as the silk you couldn't afford. Each season has brought a tremendous improvement and behold, the summer 1936 weaves are at the top of the fashion list. Stub weaves, drop-stitch effects, linen-like fabrics, gleaming, smooth crepes—our mere description can't do them justice. Only your own two eyes can do that. Resolve to look into the matter the next time you are in a fabric department. We can promise you keen enjoyment.

Patent leather comes to us in the most wonderful collection.

Up and Down

In London they have repealed an old law which made a husband responsible for his wife's public statements. She is now sufficiently adult to stand up for herself. In China they have banned permanent waves. Possibly they feel if women get too "stuck-up", it will be harder to hold them down. Do the men fear that modern athletics may develop too many Lady Tarzans and make a return to the reign of the Amazons imminent?

Woman Claims Crab in Stomach, Medico Says "Impossible"

Scores of residents of North Side (Endicott, N. Y.) have been calling on Mrs. Charles Uhler, 62, to see a crawfish or creek crab which she declares she vomited up Sunday night, after it had lived in her stomach 29 years.

Doctor Jno. Hudock, summoned by Mrs. Uhler next morning, declared it impossible for the crab to have lived in the woman's stomach any length of time, pointing out that the digestive fluids would dissolve it.

However, Mrs. Uhler believes that she swallowed the egg of the crab while drinking from a stream in her native Czechoslovakia before coming to America twenty years ago. She has had stomach trouble 29 years and dates the disorder from the time the crab became active.

The crayfish was found by her in the dooryard Monday morning where she had been ill Sunday night.—Endicott Bulletin.

The above is cited as a tall fish tale for the season.

Diocesan Vice-President Visiting Speaker at W.A. Branches

The visit of Mrs. Loiselle, Vice-President of Montreal Diocesan W. A., to the W. A. Branches at Calumet and Grenville, was greatly appreciated. On Wednesday she spoke to a meeting of members and friends in Trinity Church.

The local President, Mrs. W. Bridgen, introduced the speaker, and a vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. I. Arnold and Mrs. F. Dakin. After the meeting tea was served by the members of the W. A. in Mrs. J. Brannan's Tea Room, kindly lent for the occasion. On Thursday Mrs. Loiselle addressed the Grenville Branch in the Mission Room. Mrs. R. White, the local President, introduced her and thanks were moved by Miss P. Dawson and Mrs. Bructon. Tea was then served by the members. At both places quite a large group of ladies attended the meeting and greatly enjoyed the addresses.

Mrs. Loiselle's theme was the same at both meetings, namely, to show how the W. A. is doing the Lord's work and that their progress, giving, and Dorcas work are all a genuine service for Christ.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Loiselle spoke of the Girls' Branch, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Rosa Matthews, Grenville. Lantern slides of the work of the W. A. were shown. Mrs. Matthews served refreshments at the close. Mrs. Loiselle expressed great admiration for the girls and their leader in maintaining the work in spite of difficulties.

In response to questions at the senior meetings Mrs. Loiselle gave an interesting account of the fire at Aklavik Hospital, and the members were glad to hear that sufficient money has been raised to start rebuilding at once.

Preparations for celebration of the Centennial of St. Mungo's Church are in progress. This will take place July 4th. Rev. Jas. Fraser of Picton, Ont., son of the late Rev. Jas. Fraser, a much beloved pastor of St. Mungo's for many years, will preside at the Memorial Service on Saturday morning, with visiting ministers speaking in the afternoon after the serving of dinner in the Stone Hall, which is now being renovated. On Sunday Rev. D. L. Livingstone, a former student pastor now residing in St. Albans, Vermont, will occupy the pulpit. There will be soloists from Montreal also a male quartet, at the concert in the Stone Hall on Saturday evening and at several of the other services. Letters in explanation of the services and plans are being mailed to distant friends, but it is hoped that all those interested in old St. Mungo's who read The Watchman will attend some, if not all of the services. The observances are open to all who are interested.

Notes and Comment from Brownsburg

Miss Mary Devine, daughter of Mr. James Devine, Brownsburg, has obtained her Reporter's Diploma in Sloan-Duployan shorthand from the Sloan Duployan College, England. Miss Devine was granted her Intermediate Certificate after only five weeks' tuition. Seven weeks later she entered for and obtained, with highest marks, the final or Reporter's Diploma. Miss Devine was a pupil of Mr. M. V. Trayers, who is a Certified Teacher of the system.

Brownsburg students have been very successful in the recent college graduate exams. The latest to receive notice of their success was Miss M. McQuat, daughter of Mr. Erskine McQuat, and Master Eric King, son of Mr. Wm. King.

In the realm of sport Mr. "Bobbie" Taylor keeps the name of Brownsburg to the fore. Last year Bobbie had quite a number of wins over the 25 and 50 mile routes on his roadster. The first cycling event in which he took part this season was run off last week. Bobbie took the lead from 50 competitors and held the pacing position for twenty miles; on the line he was beaten by those who nursed their strength to the lee of his pacing wheels.

There seems to be no special inducement needed to urge citizens to beautify their homes in Brownsburg. Painters are busy in every section of the village, and an attractive appearance is the result.

Next Sunday the celebration of Corpus Christi takes place in the Catholic Church. The procession leaves the church after High Mass and houses and streets will be gaily decorated for the visitation of the Host. A large number of the faithful will take part.

CAMBRIA

The marriage of Miss Margaret Morrison, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison of Montreal, to Vernon Morrow, son of the late Mr. William Morrow and Mrs. Morrow of Mille Isles, took place quietly on Saturday afternoon, May 30th., at the home of the bride's parents in Montreal. The Rev. G. H. Craik officiating. The two bridesmaids were Miss Isabel Morrison, the bride's sister, and Miss Mildred Miller. Mr. Leonard Morrow acted as best man for his brother. The bride and groom left later for a motor trip.

The marriage of Mr. Frederick George Black, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Black, and Miss Dorothy May Morrison, only daughter of the late Mr. George J. T. Morrison of Morin Heights, took place in Morin Heights on Tuesday, the 9th inst.

In the past year quite a number of the young people of Mille Isles have entered the state of matrimony. Fortunately some are still making their home in Mille Isles, although a few have gone to live elsewhere.

The Faulconbridge families, of Montreal, spent the week-end here at their cottage.

Mrs. Walter J. Maxwell, Joyce and Donald, are spending a week in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Doig and little daughter, also Mrs. Doig's father, Mr. Robert Morrow, motored to Mr. Victor Morrow's on Sunday. Mr. Morrow is remaining for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Pollock and daughters, Connie and Ann, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morrow on Sunday.

They were on their honeymoon, and had just had their first disagreement.

Said he: "Perhaps I was a little cruel."

"Yes, you were!" she replied.

"I wasn't!" he said in a hurt tone. Then: "Well, look here, I'll say I was cruel if you'll say I wasn't."

"Very well, peach-blossom, you weren't."

"Then, I'm sorry if I was."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

STEELE—In loving memory of our dear Mother, who passed away June 9, 1935.

Mother dear, we think of you
And think of how you died;
To think you could not say goodbye
Before you closed your eyes.
No one knows a mother's worth
Until she's taken from this earth
But when we see your picture
A smile still seems to say
Do not weep for me dear family
We shall meet again some day.

Ever remembered by her loved son David, Maizie, and Violet Jean.

STEELE—In fond and loving memory of our dear Mother, who passed away on June 9, 1935.

A wonderful mother, woman and aid,
One that was better God never made;
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true,
One in a million, that mother was you.

Ever remembered by her three daughters, Mabel, Mary, and Gertrude.

MASON—In loving memory of our youngest son, William Frances (Will), who left us on June 11th., 1931.

LACHUTE SPRING FAIR NOW IN PROGRESS

UNEMPLOYED SEEK TO RESUME DAMAGE SUIT FOR FALSE ARREST

LONG DRAWN-OUT COURT CASE STILL PENDING

A number of Lachute citizens attended the Superior Court session under Justice Philémon Cousineau at St. Jerome on Monday to witness proceedings connected with a damage suit against Lachute Town by four unemployed men, instituted last year. In February last three of the plaintiffs, Paul Joly, Rosaire Gariépy and Romeo Chartrand, who had entered action of $1,000 each in damages for false arrest, filed a desistment and withdrew their action against the Town. Since then, however, their attorney P. A. Fortin has sought a court annulment of the withdrawal, by civil petitions, thus enabling his clients to resume actions for damages. Notice having been given in due order, however, these petitions were not presented on Monday and the case could not proceed.

Nor was the remaining case taken up at this sitting of court. This is the original suit for damages, Wilfrid Gauthier vs. Town of Lachute, but due to informality in presenting notice of suit within the time prescribed by law, the matter is left over with the other three cases until the fall session of Superior Court.

FIRST AID INSTRUCTOR AT CAMP KANAWANA

Arrangements have been made with the Y.M.C.A. to have an instructor of the St. John Ambulance Association all summer at Camp Kanawana, near St. Sauveur, to teach the boys in the camp first aid.

This is the first move by the association to provide for first aid instruction in as many summer camps as possible this season. It is expected that in Camp Kanawana over seven hundred boys will be given instruction. The course will commence July 4, when John Phillips will be the instructor. He will give a class of one hour each morning for two weeks. He will then be replaced by another instructor for the next two weeks and so on until the end of the season. The examiner will be Dr. Leigh Crozier, camp medical man. It is expected that some 150 boys will take the course each two weeks.

Some of Prime Minister MacKenzie King's own party men are shouting Whoa! and some Giddap! Bystanders who think that he has a lot of horse-sense are watching interestedly.

CORPUS CHRISTI PARADE IN BOTH PARISHES

Processions in observance of the feast of Corpus Christi were held last Sunday in the parishes of Ste. Anastasie and St. Julien. The Sacred Host was borne through the streets with choral incantations. Further manifestations were held before the residence of Mr. St. Onge on Meikle Street, and in the West End before the residence of Mr. Brisson where temporary altars had been erected. The observances were witnessed by a large gathering of Catholic parishioners.

Among Ayrshire dairy cows which qualified in the R.O.P. through records reported for the month of May, was Willow-bough Snow Maiden, a 4-year-old owned by Mr. H. T. Cowan of Grenville.

HAWKESB'Y MILL GIVES WORK TO 150

The saw mill of the Canadian International Paper Company at Hawkesbury began season's operations last week with three shifts, totalling 150 men, instead of the two shifts as in former years. The unemployment situation of Hawkesbury is expected to be considerably relieved.

Exhibits and Amusements Are of High Order — Weather Prospects More Hopeful

BELIEVED NEVER BEFORE A BETTER PROVISION FOR SUCCESSFUL COUNTY FAIR

The outcome of many weeks' planning by public spirited citizens, who give time and effort every spring for the success of their county's biggest co-operative venture, is seen in the Lachute Spring Fair—which is now commanding local interest, drawing hundreds of distant visitors and stirring childish pulses with the circus fever.

Outlining the agricultural program—which is familiar to all interested, through the regularly published Fair Book—yesterday, the opening day, was devoted to the placing of live-stock, which was a considerable undertaking, for this year's entries reach a mark of 20 per cent higher than the 1935 list, and new stables and stalls have been added to accommodate the animals. In the evening judging commenced in the light harness horse classes.

Today the judging of heavy horses, beef cattle, Jersey, Canadian and Grade stock has been proceeding, and this evening judging continues in the light harness horses.

Tomorrow, Friday, there will be judging of horses in the heavier agricultural classes, and in the light harness classes again at night. Meanwhile the judges of cattle will make awards in the Ayrshire and Holstein breeds.

On Saturday the parade of all horses and cattle will be featured during the afternoon, in the show-ring. This is an attraction which stirs the admiration of all quality-conscious livestock enthusiasts, and there are many such among the rural population of Argenteuil. The evening will see a continuance of the light horse judging, and the hurdle jumping, saddle, and team events, which present a handsome sight.

AMUSEMENTS — ORDER OF PROGRAM

Meanwhile there is no lack of appeal in the lighter side of the program. Horse racing commences this evening, will be featured again tomorrow evening, concluding Saturday afternoon and evening, when it is expected a record crowd will be on the grounds to witness the attractions.

SUCCESSFUL EVENTS AT GOLF CLUB SATURDAY

Keen interest was manifest in golf activities at the local course on Saturday. A two-ball foursome, sealed-hole competition was won by Mrs. G. G. Mitchell and Mr. Alan Biggar. A special sweepstake competition for men was won by Rev. H. Cousens, with a nine hole score of 42. Fine weather favored this occasion, which was attended by many local enthusiasts.

Next Saturday being Exhibition week there will be no competition. The Saturday following, however, a four-ball foursome will be played.

ARRESTED IN LACHUTE, CARRYING FIREARMS

According to a despatch from St. Jerome, a young man, Alfred St. James, 21 years of age, who said he came from Montreal, was arrested here in Lachute on Friday charged with illegal possession of a firearm. The arrest is reported to have been made by Detective Robert of the Provincial Police. The man was arraigned Monday morning before Magistrate Lalande at St. Jerome and pleaded guilty. He was remanded until June 29 for sentence.

STE. AGATHE HAS TOO MANY GAS STATIONS

Evidence in the case of the Shell Oil Company of Canada, Limited, vs. gasoline dealers established in Ste. Agathe, was heard at last week's sitting of the Quebec Public Service Commission.

The Shell Oil is seeking a permit to erect a service station in Ste. Agathe. Opposition to the company's project was voiced by six gasoline dealers of the town. They argued that there were already too many gasoline distributors in the village with the result that all of them were barely managing to make a living. Moreover, there already was one Shell agent, and introduction of a second one would place distributors of other products at a disadvantage, it was pointed out.

Joseph Tasse, sales manager in Montreal for the company, testified that in his opinion the spot where the proposed station would be erected would be the best in the northern district. E. D. Godin, former mayor, said that the project had been approved by the town council.

Adrien Beaudry, chairman, said that there was no doubt that there were too many gasoline stations in many places in the province. The commission was endeavoring to prevent the number from increasing uselessly but in some cases commissioners were facing a fait accompli, just as when truck drivers asked for a driver's permit after having already purchased the vehicle. Court's duty was first of all to be equitable. In the case before them he felt refusal of a permit would cause a serious prejudice to people who had taken part in negotiations and sale of land for the erection of the station. He regretted that the Ste. Agathe Town Council was placing the commission in such an embarrassing position but he would nevertheless hesitate to substitute his judgment for theirs in the matter. The case was finally taken under advisement.

Warm Welcome to Visitors at the Argenteuil Agricultural Society's Annual Spring EXHIBITION

Investigating Committees Turn In Reports... Inquiry on Better Electoral Representation... Govt. Annuities Going Up — Have Sold Below Cost.

"THE OTTAWA SPOTLIGHT"

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, June 16.—Signs that the end of the session is not far away begin to multiply. The committees, which have been looking minutely and laboriously into such widespread problems as the marketing of wheat, the cost of farm implements, the system of voting, veterans' cases, government annuities and railway finances, have reached the 'reporting' stage. They table their recommendations and findings in the House of Commons; and then it is up to the government to carry them out, if it fits in with government policy.

The wheat-marketing committee, as expected, advised a longer and more exhaustive inquiry into the problem of disposing of our greatest export commodity. They suggest a royal commission, to recommend what is the best method of handling wheat in Canada, whether by government board, farm co-operatives or a private system; and also to look into Canada's external markets and see which way the wind blows.

The Committee looking into the voting system came to no conclusive finding, except to

SOLD FAKE PRODUCT AT ST. ADOLPHE

Charged with obtaining money under false pretences, and with the theft of a dog valued at $35 at St. Adolphe de Howard, Jean Girard, 29 years of age, who gave an address in Montreal, was arraigned at St. Jerome Monday. He pleaded guilty.

Girard was arrested on Saturday afternoon by Provincial Police. They claim that the accused was selling bottles containing ordinary water, but labelled javel water, to residents about St. Adolphe. In passing a house, the detectives claim, Girard saw the dog and took it. Girard was out on parole from the penitentiary.

TYNDALE CAMP WILL OPEN ON JUNE 30

YOUNG BATHER DROWNED IN NORTH RIVER

Believed to have been a victim of heart failure, Edwin John Griffin, 13 years of age, of Montreal, disappeared in the North River while bathing at Shawbridge on Sunday. His body was found later by searchers.

Witnesses said the boy disappeared immediately after jumping into the river. When he did not reappear a search was started. When the body was found artificial respiration was practised but the youth was dead. At the inquest conducted by Dr. J. R. Brails, district coroner, Dr. Maxwell Lightstone of Montreal, who examined the body, reported there was no water in the lungs and that death followed a fatal heart seizure. The verdict was "death by asphyxiation due to submersion."

THREE MEN INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Three Brownsburg men sustained injuries in an automobile accident while driving toward Lachute Saturday evening. The victims were George and Arthur Racine and J. Arue. George Racine, who was driving, lost control of the roadster, which took the ditch near Ayers' Orchard on the Brownsburg Road and catapulted to the other side of the highway, landing upside down. The occupants were thrown clear of the machine, all receiving injuries, the driver being most seriously hurt with broken teeth, facial injuries and bruised arms. He is now progressing favorably and the other two occupants of the car a little worse for their experience although slightly cut and bruised. The men were brought to Lachute by Guy Boyd and Albert Watchorn of Louisa, Roland Giroux and Geo. Pilon of Hawkesbury. After receiving treatment here by Dr. J. H. Mason and Dr. L. P. Sauve, they were taken home to Brownsburg.

Speed Boat Lands on Top of Truck

Adolph Spreckels, wealthy sportsman, was injured seriously on Sunday at Seattle when he lost control of his motorboat and the craft raced up the beach of Green Lake, hurtled through a crowd of spectators and crashed on top of a truck. Several spectators also were hurt.

Mr. Spreckels was thrown high in the air against a telephone pole, where he hung suspended by an arm from one of the spike-like climbing steps until removed by spectators and rushed to hospital.

Agricultural Fairs Have Time-Honored Origin

THE BARTER OF PEASE, HEMP, DRY COD AND PORPOISE OIL

Before the first Canadian census was taken in 1666, the fun of the fair was relegated mostly to private celebration, after the barter of pease, hemp, fresh seal and porpoise oil, clapboards and dry cod, salted salmon, eels, and planks, druggist, bolting cloth, cloth made from nettles, serge, leather and furs at Quebec, Three Rivers or Montreal, while, later as the results of the establishment of agricultural societies in both Lower and Upper Canada, agricultural fairs blossomed out into full social, economic and political institutions.

In Upper Canada, the Niagara Peninsula has always been intimately associated with the trade and barter of agricultural produce. In 1535 Jacques Cartier observed the practice of members of a tribe in the Peninsula who were noted traders in tobacco, moving freely among other tribes and at times staging an exhibition that nowadays would be classed as a tobacco fair. However that may be, the first agricultural society, with accompanying fair, to be recorded in Upper Canada in 1791 on the separation of the province with Lower Canada, was the Niagara Agricultural Society. Similar societies soon spread to other parts of the province, and in 1806 at York (Toronto) an attempt was made to form a province-wide society. In 1882 the great fair at Queenstown was intended as the first all-province show, but was not inconveniently crowded.

Throughout the past 140 years, the various governments, Dominion and Provincial, have regarded fairs with more than a kindly eye as a means of social progress. In 1918 the Legislature of Lower Canada passed an Act granting financial aid to district county agricultural societies, and in 1830 the Provincial Parliament of Upper Canada made an allowance of $100 ($500) to encourage the establishment of agricultural societies. Since that time both Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture have continued to give assistance to agricultural fairs.

BBC Program to Honor Canada on Dominion Day

On Dominion Day, Wednesday, July 1, the Canadian Radio Commission will broadcast on its coast-to-coast network a special program of one hour and forty minutes duration, produced by the British Broadcasting Corporation in honor of Canada's national birthday.

The program will be picked up by the Commission's short wave receiving station at Ottawa and transferred to the national network. It will commence at 6.00 p.m. EST and continue until 7.40 p.m.

The program will open with the playing of "The Maple Leaf Forever" by the BBC Empire Orchestra. This will be followed by a fifteen-minute address by the Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain. After this Frederick Grinke, Canadian violinist, will be featured as soloist in a concert by the Empire Orchestra. The program will conclude with a "Canadian Party", a program contributed to by variety artists and others from Canada who are now in London.

Land, Industry, Valuation and Taxation

(Contributed)

I take occasion to repeat myself, that the valuation of this county is carried on more or less by the rule-of-thumb; and to prove my argument this time I will use the words of some of our valuers for the Township of Chatham.

When our valuers had nearly finished their work they did not know just where their work ended, so they did a little overlapping and valued some properties in the next township that had already been valued by the proper assessors. On learning of their error they continued no further. In the adjoining township they made a comparison of the two valuations they had covered and found that the first valuation, by the proper valuers, was much higher than their second valuation on their methods applied in the Township of Chatham. If that is not a clear evidence of rule-of-thumb work in valuation of our county, I would like to know what else it can be called. It is admitted by our own valuers. And if impropportioned orders of this sort are in effect all over the county, where are we heading? And if we allow this state of things to continue the double weight of it will, as Oliver Goldsmith said, "soon ruin all below."

With this idea in my mind, about a year ago I attended a meeting of the Chatham Council when it was advertised there would be a revision of the newly made Valuation Roll, armed with some witnesses in case of emergency, hoping to obtain redress. And when one of the properties in question came up in regular order, I gave the history of that property for the last seventy years. When its location was, then, a business centre, it had sold for $500.00 and since that time it had three times almost fallen into dilapidation. It was bought and sold three times for less than that sum, and repaired a number of times, only to fall into dilapidation again because the returns from it had never been sufficient to pay for its upkeep, insurance and taxes. And once during that period it had sold for taxes, until finally it turned up as a frozen asset in an estate valued at $200.00. In a moment of weakness I took an option on it at that figure without making a thorough examination of it, and when I ultimately made an examination of it I was delighted to hand over my option without a cent of profit to another party and be free of it, for the timbers were rotten from cellar to roof. During the interim that my option was running, our valuers appeared on the scene of action and valued this property at $1000.00—$500.00 more than it had sold for seventy years ago when its location was in somewhat of a business centre—though this had then ceased to be of use there for the purpose it was erected. Property in that location has since deteriorated in value at least 50%.

When I presented my case to the Council the questions I was asked did not bear on the valuation of the property at all, as valuations are laid down in our municipal code to be governed by three pertinent considerations, viz: the rental it will command, the cost of keeping in repair, and the insurance.

Who had bought it and what were they going to do with it? Did they expect to make any money out of it?—and a number of other ejaculations that did not bear on the subject of valuation at all; these were the questions I was asked; and the valuation was left at $1000.00.

The mayor remarked that the Council must support the valuers in what they had done, but he omitted to say whether he case was right or wrong—though he did say that the building could never be built for twice that amount. A blind man would know that without being told, though the location of the building were in the heart of the African desert and its valuation were nil. And with that, my protests were ignored and the next lot in order was taken up. My witnesses did not get an opportunity to be heard in the matter.

As these letters are to be taken from notes made while I attended meetings of the Chatham Council in the past year, the subject of Land, Industry, Valuation and Taxation will be continued in my next C. F. Kains

IMPERIAL WAR MUSEUM MOVES TO A NEW HOME

The Imperial War Museum, one of the most interesting museums in the world, is being moved from South Kensington, London, to the former Bethlem Hospital in the Geraldine Mary Harmsworth Park, Southwark, London, which is to become its permanent home. Our photograph shows one of the most interesting exhibits in the museum. It is a model of one of the famous British long range guns in action, with the late King George V and King Edward VIII stand on the left watching the operations.

register its opposition to proportional representation or the single alternative vote. On compulsory registration and compulsory voting it returned a neutral report, suggesting that further study another session was necessary. In view of the disparity between votes cast and members elected at the last general election, in October 1935, there has been widespread demand for some reform. It appears, however, that the cure is not easy to discover. Possibly before another general election some improvement in the existing system can be introduced.

NIGGER IN THE WOODPILE

The committee studying the farm implement problem came upon a rather startling example of 'secret protection' during the week. It transpired that the apparent duty on farm implements has not been the real one, because of a dump duty regulation of the customs department, originally issued in 1907 and modified several times since. In essence, this regulation prevented a leading United States manufacturer from selling to the Canadian subsidiary implements at the same price at which it sold its implements to the American distributing company.

This in turn has meant that against its own inclinations the American company has had to charge extra in order to avoid the dump duty when the implements crossed the border. The Canadian farmer has paid the extra shot, and the Canadian manufacturer of farm implements has benefitted from the additional protection. At least that is the conclusion members now the low tariff Liberals are of the committee draw. And out to abolish the dump duty regulation; and some of the more trenchant ones would abolish dump duties on all lines of goods. Such a step is highly improbable, but it would not be surprising to see an intensive drive against them in some quarters.

HIGHER COST OF ANNUITIES

Government annuities are going to cost more in future, it would seem. The Senate committee which has been inquiring into them, claims to have proved that they are being sold at substantially less than cost. Annuities sell for a sum which is based on two main factors; the normal 'expectancy of life' of the person obtaining the annuity; and the earning power of money. The expectancy of life, because of medical advances and other things, has been rising; and the investment yield of money has been falling. Private annuity companies, and the state annuity scheme in the United Kingdom, have raised their rates two or three times since the beginning of the century. But the Canadian annuities are still being sold on mortality tables prepared from the experience in Great Britain between 1863 and 1893.

The government annuities were deliberately made as cheap as possible in order to encourage persons of modest income to provide for their old age as reasonably as possible, and there will be some opposition to a raise in rates. But with annual deficits on other matters running into scores of millions, there will be a disposition, one imagines, to make the government annuity scheme come a little closer to supporting itself. If nothing is done, it will not be many years before each year the government will have to vote millions to make up for the inadequacy of annuity income into the federal treasury.

Some minor changes were recommended in pensions legislation by the committee which studied the subject. The age limit for beneficiaries of the War Veterans' Allowance Act (for the 'burned-out' veteran) will be 55, if the recommendation is adopted.

AN APT COMPLAINT

One of the PWA workers on Riverside Drive was complaining because he had no shovel. He finally told the foreman about it. "Gee whizz," he geewhizz'd, "I haven't any shovel!" "Well, whadda ya kickin' about?" was the answer, "you don't have to do any work if you ain't got no shovel!" "I know," pouted the fellow as he stamped both feet, "but I haven't got anything to lean on—like the other guys!"

Pioneer C.P.R. Engine Has Modern Role

When Gaumont-British Company films The Great Divide at Revelstoke, B.C., this month, a tall old "iron horse" will play a prominent part. Just out of the repair shops in Winnipeg, the Canadian Pacific Railway engine that pulled Canada's first coast-to-coast train into the western terminus, Port Moody, on July 4, 1886, and into Vancouver the following year, No. 371, will make its farewell tour in this motion picture and by fulfilling engagements during Vancouver's Golden Jubilee celebrations.

Excitement created in Port Moody when the first transcontinental train arrived will be relived this summer. One of the outstanding Jubilee features of historical significance will be the re-enactment of this important event, which will take place at Port Moody, twelve miles from Vancouver, on July 3rd.

Later in the Jubilee season, the engine will be the feature of a similar celebration in Vancouver to commemorate its arrival at the infant seaport's depot upon piles, on May 23, 1887.

EDITORIAL

ANOTHER SUMMER

June 21st. marks the beginning of another summer. — Whether we expect to see still another summer does not concern us for the moment. This is another summer and we expect to make the most of it. We like the gorgeous colors of autumn. When everything is blanketed with the white of winter we find something to like about that. And when the birds start tuning it up and the growing things begin to fairly hop up in spring we say "isn't it marvelous!" But June and summer offer a variety of cloud and rain and sunshine and good things a-growing which holds the greatest charm for the greatest number.

A writer who signs himself A. M. has said "We see in the changing beauty of the earth the everlasting weaving of that living garment of God of which the greatest German spoke." It was another great German who taught us to look on beauty as the reflection of the Infinite, and it was a Frenchman, teaching us to place beauty among the great virtues, who declared that the Beautiful gives us the highest revelation of God that we are allowed to see."

We show courtesy and appreciation toward an artist or writer when we give full attention to the enjoyment of his work. Let us enjoy summer and be glad, forgetting what is behind nor peeking ahead into what is before. Or as Whittier put it:

"No longer forward nor behind,
I look in hope or fear;
But grateful, take the good I find,
The best of now and here."

PROHIBIT PEDDLING OF MEAT

To curb the practice of house to house meat peddling, the Pembroke (Ont.) Council has passed a by-law prohibiting the sale of fresh meat in quantities less than a quarter carcass other than in places authorized by the authorities.

Town Council members felt that peddling of meat on the public streets is unsanitary and detrimental to health since inspection of meat sold in this way is almost impossible. It was also held that this practice was unfair to butchers who pay high taxes.

CANADIAN SPIRIT WANTED

(Edmonton Journal)

"In this country", says Senator Prevost, "inhabited by people from so many lands, we feel that a Canadian spirit must rise above political parties, above various races and creeds, above private interests. As in the Forum of ancient Rome, where men of different origins and of all ranks gathered side by side and became equals, once they could say 'Civis Romanus sum', so Canadian citizenship, in this Confederation, must make us equal, united, proud and strong." But first Canadians must learn to say, and think: "I am a Canadian"; not "I am an Albertan" or a Nova Scotian or an old Ontario boy.

Spectators at the grand-stand vaudeville on Lachute Fair Grounds are thrilled by the Helen Back Trio performance. These aerial acrobats exhibit a brand of skill, fearlessness and muscular strength which is a show complete in itself.

A Brief Impression -- Attractions at Lachute Fair

The various vaudeville turns featured on the platform before the grand-stand are proving of high standard for thrills, comedy and talent, and the show-bill will be put on periodically during the remaining days of the Fair.

Supplementing these features and livening the program, the 2nd. Montreal Royal Canadian Artillery Band is doing good work, the bandmen proving themselves well up to the quality of groups in wider repute. The band is under direction of Capt. H. D. Dickinson himself, who is familiar to radio audiences, and his personal appearance in Lachute is appreciated by Exhibition patrons.

Interest in the Sims' Midway is by no means confined to the younger folk—who, being admitted free on Saturday, will all have the opportunity of enjoying its big-time circus attractions. It took five railway cars and several trucks to bring the "props" for this show, which is new to Lachute and includes many novel rides and side-shows.

The pyrotechnic display this year is a vivid climax to the day's pleasures. Spectacular fireworks will be thrown on "nature's inky screen", on Thursday and Friday evenings.

In the dining and refreshment rooms, the Lachute Women's Institute are drawing a generous patronage. The catering for this event, no small undertaking, is proving a credit to the Lachute ladies, and from present indications their efforts should be well repaid when the last lunch is served and the reckoning taken. One hears nothing but satisfaction in comment among their customers on the grounds.

UNLISTED DIVERSIONS

Among less spectacular amusements one might mention the quiet enjoyment of just observing. Today, on a few acres of ground adjoining Lachute, are assembled an assortment of types and characters peculiar to the rural fair. There is a certain fascination in the nomad population of the midway—folks whose effects conform to the dimensions of a few iron-bound trunks—whose "home" pours out at intervals, in strange places, taking the form of a tent, shabby blankets and unbreakable tableware. Then one stands in mute amazement before the itinerant vendor, the physician who can cure all ills, the show-man who never knew fatigue—but who has a store of sentiment, loved ones, ideals and ambitions unspotted by the world of passers-by. How they talk! Not the least marvelous of their qualities is that flow of language, rivalled only by the immortal brook of Tennyson. . . . The back-country visitor; this is the biggest day of the year for him and his sun-bronzed youngsters. And if their Sunday clothes are ill-fitting, their hands calloused with toil, and their eyes and mouths agape with strange sights—no one notices or cares, except the interested observer who finds fascination in folks and fellow creatures. . . . Yes, indeed, there is a lot to see at the country fair.

MID-WAY IS CLEANEST SHOW IN DOMINION

As previously noted, the Fred W. Sims Midway, of Hamilton, presents a number of new and thrilling amusements—in which the owner takes pride there is not a hint of anything obscene or questionable. This fact should reassure parents who hesitate to give their youngsters free rein on Children's Day.

The Merry-Go-Round is the largest circle—the Ferris Wheel is the highest in Canadian shows. The Caterpillar Ride is fast and thrilling. There is also the Chiroplane Swing and the Tilt-O-Whirl. The Stanley Family present a unique side-show as magicians and fire-eaters. The Henniford Family are also magicians, whose bill includes 13 illusions worthy of Houdini himself. Professor Sygnal, a Finlander, does strong man acts, in company with a strong woman and this muscular team is attracting numerous spectators. In addition the Mickey Mouse Circus offers special amusement for the kiddies, and the Hill Billy Show of Music completes the list of attractions—altogether making a very fine and complete midway.

LINE-UP OF CATTLE EXHIBITS

In spite of the additions made to provide for the twenty percent increase in livestock exhibits, every available space is occupied, many exhibitors having to double up in order to accommodate the arrivals. Though glowering skies prevailed at the opening yesterday there is a goodly attendance, and the big array of horses and cattle promise the keenest of competition in all classes.

The cattle breeds are led by Ayrshires, with W. H. Coverdale, President of Canada Steamship Lines, and J. D. Mode of Vankleek Hill, Ont., showing a full herd, including Ardgown Valda, which holds the highest record in North America on twice-a-day milking; Dr. T. W. Smith of Hawkesbury, Lochie McRae of Vankleek Hill; Jno. Bompass of Bells Corners, Ont.; and Lachute breeders including Messrs. Erskine Rodger, Smith Bros., J. H. Black, E. J. Miller, J. P. Bradley, W. J. Rodger, W. A. Bradley, Douglas Simon and Albert Leishman are prominent with their fine Ayrshire exhibits.

Holstein breeds are led by Legault Bros. of St. Hermas, who carried off the Grand Championship for aged bull and won 8 firsts at the Ormstown Fair. A. Paquette of St. Vincent de Paul also has a good string including an animal with which he won the grand champion female. Harvey Huseau of Oka, A. Daoust, Wilson Bros., Jas. McKenzie and Wm. Robert of Lachute, have also a fine array of stock which promise an exceptionally strong competition.

Jerseys are exhibited by Grisdale Bros., of Iroquois, Ont.; Maxwellton Farm, Ste. Anne; Jersey Health Farm of Isle Bezaud; Andrew Boa and G. R. McColl of Lachute.

MAIN BUILDING ATTRACTIONS

Among the many attractive displays in the show building is the exhibit by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. One feature of this set-up is a display illustrating Home Beautification. Uncultivated grounds are contrasted in model form with planted surroundings. The desirability of making the home environment more attractive is clearly exemplified. A second portion of the exhibit is given over to Pasture Improvement. Results obtained from experimental efforts are shown and suggestions for practical application are offered in this display.

Canadian Industries Limited has an exhibit which is both instructive and interesting. Samples shown by the Fertilizer Division afford many suggestions to the progressive farmer, while the Dominion Ammunition Division features a very complete line of modern rifle cartridges and shot shells. Other products such as explosives and safety fuse are displayed and full information is available to the spectator.

A display which always creates local interest is that of Ayers Limited, featuring an elaborate array of the well-known home-town products and arousing a justifiable pride among Lachute people. These woolen goods and blankets present a wealth and variety of color. The display is under direction of Mr. C. Duncan.

The Cottingham Supply Company is again occupying a prominent space in which varied lines of paints and building products are well display. The old slogan of this Company—"Everything to Build Anything", is aptly upheld.

J. W. Lefebvre is also on hand with washing machines, sewing machines, radios and refrigerators.

Others represented are the Perley Fur House and the Yervant's Oriental Rugs, of Montreal, both featuring very fine exhibits.

Dr. Paquette, of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, is showing an exhibit illustrated by slides and pictures, of the department's laboratory work in connection with livestock.

The Gatineau Power Company, with demonstrations of practical electric appliances, are in their usual stand, displaying all the latest models in labor saving devices.

Mr. and Mrs. Illingsworth are again present with their perfumery, also giving character readings from handwriting, while Mr. and Mrs. Evans are demonstrating a sewing machine attachment for wool and rag rug-making which proves of fascinating interest to the lady visitors.

Who Started Father's Day?

Many people doubtless hold the idea that since we have Children's Day and Mothers' Day we should have a Fathers' Day. Back in 1915 Maude Stearns Ellison of Winthrop, New York, began to be more active in bringing people's attention to the fact that the world had been blessed with many noble fathers like hers and that the churches should set apart a special day in their honour. Her father, O. P. Stearns, was a travelling salesman who covered a large territory selling shoes, but when Sunday rolled round he managed to get the horses home in time for church. Through Mrs. Ellison's efforts and others, the U.S.

finally set aside the Sunday nearest to June 22nd. as Fathers' Day.

Banks Will Close for Two Days

The public is reminded that two bank holidays are effective next week, namely King's Birthday and St. Jean Baptiste. Local banks will be closed accordingly on Tuesday and Wednesday, 23rd. and 24th. inst.

MEALS OFTEN FAIL TO GIVE NEEDED INTERNAL EXERCISE

ALL-BRAN Relieves Common Constipation*

Meals that are low in "bulk" are a common failing of the average American diet. Frequently, these meals result in irregular habits.

Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" is often a consequence. This condition causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches and loss of appetite. Even serious disease may develop.

Banish the danger of a diet low in "bulk" by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. This delicious cereal is an abundant source of gentle "bulk."

Within the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which exercises and strengthens intestinal muscles, and cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily, with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

How much pleasanter to enjoy this natural food in place of pills and drugs. Serve ALL-BRAN either as a cereal, or cooked into muffins, breads, etc. Eat it regularly for regular habits.

ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

BOY SCOUTS THE WORLD OVER

ROVER SEA SCOUTS ON COASTGUARD DUTY

When the Coastguard Chief of the South Gare Station, on the English coast, met with a serious cycling accident, the 1st Tees Rover Sea Scout Crew volunteered their services over the week-end to relieve the assistant officer. Fourteen Scouts did watch duty of four hours each in turn, and kept the station log.

A NOVEL GOOD TURN

When a miner employed at the New Michael Colliery, East Wemyss, was compelled to vacate a room he occupied with his wife and two children, the local Boy Scouts came to the rescue. They erected a tent adjoining their Scout Hut, and offered hospitality to the family until such time as they could secure a home in the district.

A LETTER TO THE OVERSEAS SCOUT COMMISSIONER

"As one of the passengers on the R.M.S. 'Almazora', which called at the ports of Freetown and Bathurst this month, I feel I should like to inform you how we all appreciated the attention of the Boy Scouts at each port. They were of the greatest help in showing places of interest and in helping the passengers in various ways. I was much struck with the smartness of their turn-out. I think some of us were glad of the opportunity of making a small donation as the Scouts refused any gratuities."

English Boy Movie Star Will Holiday in Canada

The picturesque little town of Hope, B. C., snuggled down between mountain walls at the entrance to Fraser Canyon, will be host this summer to the English boy actor Fred Bartholomew, whose uncle is night operator for the Canadian National Railways there.

When the youthful star of David Copperfield arrives sometime this month, he will find an Indian pony and a beaded buckskin jacket awaiting him. These things he doesn't know. They are to be his vacation surprise, a present from the uncle after whom he is named.

Last September, Uncle Fred visited young Fred, in Hollywood. When last he saw him in the little village of Warminster, in Wiltshire, the boy was three. Now he is 12, and around him is built a kindly but artificial wall that preserves his English accent and magnificent stage craft. In British Columbia Freddie will find new freedom in his carefree holiday. With him will be his aunt, Miss Millicent Bartholomew, who raised him to stardom, and his grandparents, the father and mother of the C.N.R. Operator, who is looking forward to donning the boxing gloves as they did in Hollywood and riding with young Fred as they did in Yosemite.

Tremendously proud of his nephew, Mr. Bartholomew is anxious that the lad should escape for a while to a new atmosphere. In Hollywood he bought him a ten gallon hat. The prize at this end will be a pony and the buckskin jacket.

THE BIRDS' CONVENTION

The birdies held convention in the meadow by the pines, And the bees all came a-humming From the honey suckle vines.

The humming-birds kept order As they whirled from tree to tree Telling little, chuckling tom-bits To behave themselves, you see.

The catbird stopped her mocking And the chick-a-dees kept still When they saw the shining sharpness Of the humming bird's strong bill.

The owl in solemn manner Called the name of every bird, Made a mark upon a birch tree As an answering chirp was heard.

When he'd make the entire roll-call All the birdies flew away To look for grubs and insects In the garden, o'er the way.

IN LILAC TOWN

The rain had stopped pouring down from the sullen-looking sky, and here and there little bits of blue were shining through, although the Merry Little Breezes were still rolling the clouds about overhead.

Marylyn, who had been kept in the house the greater part of the day on account of the wet weather, opened the side door and danced out into the garden and down the gravelled walk to where a huge clump of lilacs stood, their sweet fragrance filling the air so that their perfume could be detected some acres away.

Marylyn walked around and around the lilacs until she felt herself getting dizzy. Reaching out she caught the door-post of the summer-house, and stepped inside.

She stood leaning against the door until the lilac bushes ceased swaying dizzily and became normal again, and the queer feeling in her head had gone away. Then she went over to the couch which brother Ned had made so that her mother could lie down and rest, in view of the pretty flowers that surrounded the summer-house. Picking up the pillows she shook them until they were soft and plump, then lay down where she could still see the lilac blossoms nodding through the open doorway.

"Oh, you beautiful things!" she cried, holding out her hands to them; and she was quite startled to hear a piping voice say quite saucily, "Do you mean us?" She could not see the speaker, but she replied, "I meant the lilac blossoms." "There aren't any lilac blossoms," the pert voice made reply, "There aren't any lilac blossoms, I say." "There aren't any lilac blossoms?" Marylyn repeated, parrot-like after him. Then, "What are they, if they are not lilac blossoms?" she asked.

"They are Trumpet Fairies," replied the bird with the curved bill, who resembled a hummingbird—yet it was not a hummingbird because its mate, which Marylyn could see clinging to a small branch above her hanging nest, was singing her babies to sleep and hummingbirds, she knew, did not sing like that.

"Trumpet Fairies? — But they are hanging to the tree!" she exclaimed.

"That's because they are prisoners just now" said the sun-bird. "They were naughty once and did not blow their trumpets to salute the King, so the Queen became angry and sentenced them to imprisonment so many weeks each year. But the King, being tender-hearted, begged that they should not be imprisoned in a gloomy cell, so the Queen relented, and chains them each year to a lilac tree instead."

Marylyn did not know whether to believe this bright-breasted, saucy bird, so she tried to change the subject by asking him just who he was. "Oh, I am a sun-bird" he warbled, "I come from Africa, Asia, the East Indies and Australia." "Oh, that is impossible" cried Marylyn. "What's impossible?" asked the bird, "there's nothing impossible in this world. It's only lazy folks who think that things are impossible. They are too lazy to work things out and make them possible."

"Oh, but what you have just said is impossible," exclaimed Marylyn, "you could not come from all these countries at the same time." The little bird twisted from side to side uneasily for a moment, before saying, "Marylyn, you are too exact. I meant my family of course. We are to be found in all those different countries." "Oh, indeed!" said Marylyn, "I did not know that. I had never heard of you before."

"You may have heard my Latin name, but we sun-birds never use it; it is too long for us to remember; just imagine having to tell anyone that we are Nectariniidae!"

Marylyn tried to repeat the name after him, but stopped half way with a nervous giggle. "How do you come to be here?" she asked, to hide her confusion.

Lovingly, Aunt Jean.

RESPECTFUL

Bill: "Since childhood, I have always respected a woman with a strap in her hand."

Understanding

It is, after all, a good old world. It is you, and I, and others like us, who get out of tune with the harmonies of life. We turn deaf ears to the kindly things our neighbors would tell us, because we are piqued over a fancied wrong. We close our fists and shake them, daring others to test our strength. We place a premium on physical prowess and mortal combat, and a wreath of glory on the victor. And we forget a neighbour who, in the quietness of his mental laboratory, gives his life to develop a solace to mankind. Whatever wrong there is in the world is man-made, and until man learns the simple rule of thoughtfulness—the understanding of the other's viewpoint—he must suffer the consequences of a disappointed life. (Exchange)

Specially Written for Readers of The Watchman.
By JESSIE ALLEN BROWN

KILLED WITH KINDNESS

This last year two of my very good friends have moved to other cities. I planned to have a party for each of them and in each case they asked as a favour to them to please not have a party. They said that people meant to be kind but so many parties were being given that they were exhausted. They felt that they knew me well enough to ask me not to do it. Being killed with kindness, so to speak. Some of the brides must be married in a daze, after so many parties. I counted twenty-one parties that had been given for one bride and doubtless there were many I missed hearing about. We enjoy honouring our friends, but it would be well to temper our kindness.

OBEDIENCE

Things have a way of swinging from one extreme to the other and then they gradually right themselves and a more moderate action results. The old fashioned type of blind, unquestioning obedience, a "do as I say" kind, was followed by a period of sugar-coated orders so that the child's spirit would not be broken. Good sense shows that neither of them is right and the thinking parent realizes that obedience is necessary but that usually it is possible for the child to see the reason for the command and a thinking independence will be developed, rather than a blind submissiveness. We, as parents, unquestionably are flattered by instant obedience but it may not be the best thing for the child. In the first place we do not want them to grow up into adults who do what they are told without thinking the matter over. Then too, we want them to develop the habit of finishing what they start, but how can we expect them to do this if we make them drop things in the middle without giving them a chance to finish? I am not advocating that a child should not obey, but I do think that when possible they should understand the reason for the required action; and that commands should be given long enough ahead of time so that a child has a chance to either finish what he is doing or to leave his task in order to continue at a more convenient moment.

LACK OF APPETITE DURING EXAMINATIONS

This is the month of examinations, both school and music, and very often children's appetites are affected, because of nervous strain. Do not try to force a child to eat but give five small meals a day. Have plenty of orange juice and milk. The days are apt to be hot and if you have a cool drink of fruit or milk or some milk preparation, with cookies or sandwiches, ready for the child at four, it is usually relished. Vitamin B stimulates the appetite. It is to be found in roots, tubers, greens, whole grains, and glandular organs such as liver and kidneys. It is so widely distributed that it is easy to get. Make whole wheat bread sandwiches, oatmeal cookies, graham flour muffins, and use bran in your cooking. Feed frequently; use plenty of orange juice and milk; and do not worry yourself or the child about eating. Nothing is worse for the appetite than to be coaxed to eat.

CLEANING TIPS

Artificial flowers may be freshened by steaming and then straightening into place while damp. If flowers need cleaning they may be washed in gasoline. I have heard that if garments made of celanese have been dry-cleaned they may be washed safely afterwards. Can't vouch for that.

CARROTS

Was out to dinner the other night and I had the best tasting carrots. On remarking about them, my hostess said that they were cooked with the skins on, put under cold water and the skins slipped off as you do beets. Then they were cut in rounds and re-heated in the double boiler in butter. These particular carrots had been cooked the day before. I have since tried them that way myself and the flavour is delicious and slightly different — probably due to the outer layer not being removed by scraping.

GRAHAM DATE BREAD

3 cups graham flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 lb. dates
2 cups sour milk
Mix ingredients and pour in a buttered loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven of 375 degrees for an hour.

CREAM CHEESE PASTRY

1/3 oz. package cream cheese
1/4 cup shortening
1 cup flour
Cut the cheese and shortening into the flour using two knives or a pastry blender. Blend until the mixture holds together. Roll on lightly floured board. Cut in rounds. Put a small spoonful of jam or orange marmalade on one half of the round and fold over. Pinch the edges together and bake in a hot oven of 450 degrees.

Cushing Ladies Heard Interesting Talk by Missionary

CHINESE MARITAL CUSTOMS

(By Our Cushing Correspondent)

Cushing—Mrs. Howard Taylor of Philadelphia, missionary of the Chinese Inland Mission who with her husband is spending some time at Ingleside, gave an interesting talk on the work to members of St. Mungo's W. M. S. on Tuesday of last week. Photographs were shown of the Christian workers, their homes and families, a Chinese market place and members of the Mai Tribe ploughing to prepare the land, still under water, for rice planting.

Mrs. Taylor asked for prayer for the work of the "Door of Hope" and "Child Rescue", to which our Mrs. Catherine King of Cushing is devoting a great part of her time. This "Door of Hope" is the rescuing of girls who are unwilling inhabitants of houses of ill-fame, having been sold there as slaves. The Child Rescue work is along the same lines; rich proprietors of these places go about amongst the homes of the famine district and buy up little baby girls to be trained to this life from their youth. Hundreds of these little ones have been rescued and are being fed and trained to good useful lives by the Mission.

Mrs. Taylor spoke of the non-Christian marriage practices, where the girl does not see her husband until she is married to him, marriage being contracted by the parents when the bride pair are still babes. In this way every man in China is married whether he be halt, lame, blind or even in imbecile. One beautiful young married woman had taken poison. The missionary was called to cure her and later, seeing the inhuman looking creature she was married to, understood her desperate plight. One of the pictures was of a Christian bride couple; the bride looking just like one of our own brides, was clinging to her husband's arm — which was an unusual sight in China; as well as not meeting until their marriage, the bride couple in non-Christian homes are not allowed to converse with each other for two years.

The brides in China always wear pink wedding veils, as white does not suit them. The photographs were all so well finished that one realized that, in photography at least, the Chinese are not behind the rest of the world. Mrs. Taylor told of many encouraging features of the work, as well as the seamy side of it.

HOME TO ROOST

Husband (home early): Ah! There's no place like home. Wife: What's happened at the club, darling?

United Church W. M. S. and Mission Band Gatherings

The W. M. S. of the United Church held their closing meeting for this season on Thursday last. Presentation of two life memberships was one of the pleasing events of the afternoon.

The president, Mrs. R. Bradford, conducted the meeting and reports from the various committees were heard. A beautiful autograph quilt was donated by Mrs. T. B. Hume. A solo by Miss Peggy Beveridge was much appreciated. Plans for making "talent money" during the summer months were discussed and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

On Friday afternoon the Mission Band, under the leadership of Mrs. McNeil, entertained their parents and friends. The various parts taken by the children in their drills, songs and plays showed what great care and patience had been spent upon them by their leader during the winter months.

Waves Were His Fortune

Watt gazed upon his mother's tea-kettle when escaping steam lifted the lid, and turned what he had seen into fame and fortune. Henri Marcel of France watched his mother's beautiful curls and resolved to help other women to have something akin to them. He developed a twist of the wrist and a knack of using irons which resulted in the Marcel wave. Thus it was that a barber working for a pittance took pity on the straight-haired members of the fair sex and incidentally made himself fabulously wealthy. It all comes out now because he died recently at the good old age of 84.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 21st., is "Is the Universe, including man, evolved by atomic force?"

The Golden Text is:—"The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens". (Proverbs 3: 19).

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word, was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. In him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not." (John 1: 1, 3-3).

"In the universe of Truth, matter is unknown. No supposition of error enters there. Divine Science, the Word of God, saith to the darkness upon the face of error, 'God is All-in-All,' and the light of ever-present Love illumines the universe. Hence the eternal wonder,—that infinite space is peopled with God's ideas, reflecting Him in countless spiritual forms." (Science and Health, page 503).

The Week's Fashion News

By the Montreal "FASHION SCRIBE"

Flowers are still everywhere in the Parisian mode. The Mid-Season Openings proved this but they also proved that you had to think up new ways to wear them. Long stemmed tulips and roses rest lengthwise on the crown of a hat with the blossom out just beyond the brim or a-top it. Blossoms often form the shallow crown of the wide-brimmed hats Parisians so love. You also wear them in your hair in your belt by day as a corsage in the evening. The tendency is to large single or at least not more than three blooms rather than to the profuse bouquets of the earlier season.

Texas is having a Centennial celebration and New York celebrates, too! Hence a steady stream of fashions Texas inspired. We hear of Cactus colours and straws and admire the tailored shirtwaists, divided skirts and vests of Texan design. Novelty jewelry comes in clips and pins which catch the holiday spirit by simulating saddles, spurs, wagon wheels, stirrups, etc., and they are such fun to wear. Gay neckerchiefs also carry out the ranch idea and you'll find them gay and smart on any sporting summer occasion.

Cotton Knits are all the rage... they're so cool and so easy to keep fresh and new looking! If they simulate hand-knits all the better, and you'll find them smartest in slim two-piece effects. Natural, soft yellows, pinks, blues and greens are topping the popularity list.

Country clothes remain wonderfully simple, and are they smart! Shirtmaker dresses, tailored skirts often divided, shirts, vestees to don over the shirts when summer breezes blow... they are all so carefully tailored and that's their special appeal. Becoming to most any figure, too. Play around with colour for your individual effects.

Cotton piqué goes on its cool way to immense fashion importance. You can wear it from morn till night and be smart every single minute of the time. Easy to launder, too. Use it in white or pastels or cheery prints for play togs—in tailored daytime dresses and even in those cleverly cut dance frocks you are planning for summer and holiday evenings.

Discovered grand new flower sheers the other day. They actually hold on to the flower after clipping and prevent that downward scramble which often results in nasty scratches and a soiled dress. Garden lovers will find them very useful indeed and they are quite inexpensive.

Miss Edna Woods spent the week-end in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Al. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart Sr. have just returned from a week's vacation in Windsor, Ont.

Miss Reta Galbraith and Miss Elsie MacLean spent Friday of last week in Montreal.

ST. ANDREWS EAST

Miss Elizabeth Walsh and Dr. Aylin spent Sunday at the home of the Misses Walsh.

Mr. George Ford, of Winnipeg, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Larry Porter.

Miss Janet Watson has taken a position with the Sun Life Assurance Coy. in Montreal.

The concert under the auspices of the United Church drew a large crowd on Saturday evening. The program was an excellent one, and every one will look forward with pleasure to the return of the artists in the autumn.

Service in the Presbyterian Church will be held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock (S.T.) instead of in the morning. Rev. Alexander Shaw, D.D., of St. Columba Church, Glasgow, Scotland, will be the special speaker. Mrs. Hawkins of Ottawa will be guest organist and Mr. Alan Murray the soloist. Mr. Shaw is one of the sixty Scottish ministers visiting the Presbyterian Church in Canada this month. There will be no evening service.

Tyndale Camp has re-opened for the summer. Another dwelling has been added. The committee, of which Dr. Donald of the Church of St. Andrew's and St. Paul's is chairman, hope in time to replace all the tents with similar buildings.

Mrs. Chas. Hyde spent Saturday and Sunday in Montreal, the guest of his daughter, Miss Gladys Hyde.

Members of the Montreal Executive of the Presbyterian made their annual visit to the W. M. S. of the Presbyterian Church here on Wednesday last.

Mrs. Baker, the President, gave a splendid report of the recent council meeting in Toronto.

GRENVILLE BAY

Mrs. F. Bennett and twin sons, Lawrence and Frank spent the week-end in Grenville, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brechin.

Mrs. Grey and Mrs. Brechin entertained the ladies of St. Giles Church last week. Tea was served by Mrs. Wm. Gill and Mrs. T. Grey. Mrs. Bates of Avoca, on her way home after spending some months with her daughter in Boston, Mass., was a welcome visitor at this gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cameron and family have settled in Mr. Carson's house.

Mrs. Dan McIntyre suffered broken ribs in a bad fall recently.

Mr. Jim Cousins and son, Eddie, have moved to the Pillon farm.

LAKEFIELD

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Thos. McCambly. The attendance was large and much business was transacted. It was arranged to hold a picnic on July 1st., in Mr. Tomalty's Grove. Arrangements were also made for the annual lawn social to be held on the parsonage grounds, Wednesday, July 22nd., details of which will be advertised later.

CUSHING WEST

Owing to St. Mungo's Church being redecorated, service will be held in the Stone Hall, Cushing, at 11 a.m. as usual, on Sunday next. Pastor Rev. Mr. Maclean will repeat the sermon preached by the Rev. Mr. Nair 100 years ago.

ST. ANDREWS EAST

Mr. Alan Murray spent the week-end at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ffolliot Shaw and children, and Miss Hilda Shaw, spent Saturday and Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Brash are spending some time in the city visiting friends.

Ralph Lalonde spent the week-end with his mother at her cottage here.

Dr. Wm. and Mr. Keith Pitcairn were home for the week-end.

Miss Ida Hopper was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charman, this week.

Miss Booy was a recent guest at the Rectory.

Mr. Jack and Miss Dorothy Howell were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Howell.

The concert in the Town Hall on Saturday evening was well attended and much enjoyed. It is hoped that the Fairmount Players will give another performance here in the fall.

The Ladies' Dramatic and Choral Society held a meeting on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Macdonell. On this occasion, as a token of appreciation on the eve of her departure from St. Andrews, Mrs. H. P. Bezanson was presented with a handsome club bag. This is one of many societies in the community in which Mrs. Bezanson will be greatly missed.

CUSHING

Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Brien on Sunday. Mrs. R. McMeekin of Cote St. Paul, was a week-end guest at the O'Brien home.

Mrs. Donald Maclean, of Sherbrooke, spent the week-end at the Manse. Miss Helen Maclean, R.N., of Montreal, was also a week-end guest.

Mrs. H. Sleeth, of Montreal, and Mr. John Maw of Montreal, spent the week-end at Lilac Lodge, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Beecher.

On Sunday Rev. J. W. Maclean expects to give a sermon which was preached in the church almost a hundred years ago by Rev. Mr. Mair. This should be a prove very interesting feature.

The Frontier Branch of the Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Jas. Murdoch on Friday, June 26th.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Cushing and Point Fortune will meet at the home of Mrs. Joseph Bradley of Carillon Wednesday afternoon June 24th. The annual election of officers will take place. The meeting was an exceptionally interesting one. It was held as a farewell surprise to the former president, Mrs. H. P. Bezanson, at the home of her son-in-law, Rev. J. Macaskill, St. Andrews East. Mrs. Bezanson was presented with a beautiful handmade bedspread, with the good wishes of the Union. Mrs. Bezanson will be much missed in the work.

CAMBRIA

Mr. W. J. Pollock's illness necessitated his going to hospital for treatment and blood transfusions. Friends hope for his speedy improvement.

Mrs. Stuart Elder, of Lachute, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Maggie Morrow.

Mrs. Overson was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Phillips during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Elder, of Lachute, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Maxwell, also Mr. and Mrs. Willie Morrow, on Thursday last.

Many friends both young and old assembled for the reception held in Ward Bros.' Hall for Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Black of Mille Isles last Thursday night. The young couple received numerous gifts testifying to their popularity in the community. An enjoyable evening was spent, continuing into the early hours next morning.

WEIR

Mrs. Henry Williams spent a few days in Montreal last week, returning home on Friday.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Knight on the occasion of their marriage, which took place at St. Johns, Que., on June 6th. Mr. and Mrs. Knight are taking up residence in Mr. C. B. Gallupe's house.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Lenington and family, of Montreal, have rented Mr. Levi Kert's house for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Fraser, of Montreal, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Williams.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. E. M. Schippel has returned home from the hospital, where she underwent a serious operation recently.

Mrs. Godfrey Craig, Mrs. C. O. Bennett and Mr. Edward Craig attended the wedding of Miss Bella Craig and Mr. Robt. Hess, which took place in St.

Phillips Church, Montreal West, on Wednesday, June 10, 1936. A reception was given for the couple in Stanforth's Hall on Friday evening.

Miss Ethel Morrison returned to Montreal after spending a few days the guest of her mother, Mrs. Henry Morrison.

Notes and Comment from Brownsburg

A rather serious accident took place on the Lachute road about a mile from Brownsburg on Saturday night, when a car driven by a boy named Racine got out of control and lurched to the side tearing the shoulder of the road for a distance of fifteen feet before it turned turtle, coming to a stop on the opposite side of the road by striking a tree stump. Racine was badly lacerated about the face and body; another young man sitting beside the driver was also injured. The car was telescoped beyond recognition by the force of the impact and is a total wreck.

This week's Safety Slogan—"Better go slow than go in an ambulance."

Death removes a notable figure from among Brownsburg residents, in the person of Mr. Hugh Polson who was buried on Sunday. The deceased was of a kindly nature and by his passing a genial soul has been removed from our midst.

After a one-sided victory over Lachute last week the Brownsburg soft-ball team had to submit to defeat at the hands of a superior Hawkesbury team on Monday night's game. The game was interesting all the way and the end found the teams divided by just two points.

CUSHING WEST

The Misses Helen Byers and Adele Coleman were guests of Miss Mariorie Cushing the latter part of the week.

Mrs. T. W. Weir and Mrs. S. O. Hartley are spending Wednesday and Thursday in Ste. Anne de Bellevue as delegates from the Frontier Branch of the W. I. at the convention being held at Macdonald College this week.

A number of ladies from the vicinity attended the sectional meeting of the W. M. S. at Cassburn, Ont., on Monday.

Mr. Wilfred Hartley, also the Misses Olive and Katie Hartley, were guests of their mother, Mrs. S. O. Hartley, over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. D. Hartley and son, Kenneth, also spent the week-end here.

The Misses Grace and Katie Whelehan, also Mr. Charlie Kelly of Montreal, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. E. Whelehan.

The Misses Tina and Edna Young, also Miss Olga Wood and the Messrs. Eric and Donald Young, were week-end guests of Mr. Leonard Young. Mr. Frank Rowan who was also Mr. Young's guest last week, left for New York Sunday evening en route to spend the summer with friends in Hollywood, Cal.

Messrs. W. Harwood, Rupert Caplan, Gerald Rowan and Christopher Ellis, of C.N.R.M. radio station, Montreal, were guests of Mr. Frank Rowan at the residence of Mr. Leonard Young on Thursday last.

Mrs. J. Canning, of Stonefield, was the hostess on Tuesday afternoon of a very enjoyable meeting of St. Mungo's Ladies' Aid.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McMeekin, of Ottawa, were guests of the former's parents at Stonefield over the week-end.

GRENVILLE NORTH

Mr. Fred Murray, Miss Frances Murray and Mrs. Hugh Cousins were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Taylor at Isle-aux-Chats.

Mr. J. Laviolette and family, also Mr. J. Goodman and family, spent Sunday at their summer homes here.

Mr. D. Isaacs is at present visiting his aunt, Mrs. R. Weldon.

Mrs. D. Burns, Miss Katie and Mr. Ed. Burns of St.

A blend of the world's most fragrant green teas

"SALADA" GREEN TEA

Philippe, also the Misses By-sons and Mr. J. Robert, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnson.

Mr. Fred Murray motored to the state of New York and spent the week-end with friends.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Gauley were Mrs. Clarence Mott, Mr. Fred Gauley and son, Lester, of Kilmar; Mrs. Wm. Vicars of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dixon and Mr. Roy Dixon of Dalesville; and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Stewart.

MORIN HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Knight and sons, Miss Olive Seale and Mr. L. Hollingsworth, of Montreal, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Seale.

Mrs. Rufus McCullough and Miss Annie Seale are at Macdonald College attending the Annual W. I. Convention this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson and little daughter, of Montreal, were Sunday visitors in Morin Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Trites, of St. Laurent, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Rufus McCullough.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Weeks, of Montreal, were Sunday visitors of the former's mother, Mrs. W. Ward.

Mrs. J. Gilby, of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry Gilby.

Successful Entertainment at Lakefield

On Friday evening last, local talent of Lakefield presented a concert which has been unsurpassed in this community for many years. Given under auspices of Holy Trinity Church W.A., the entertainment held the complete attention of the audience which crowded into the Gibb Parish Hall.

The program opened with "O Canada". Rev. C. W. P. Baugh, acting as chairman, introduced the various items of the program, consisting of a Song and Chorus, led by Harold Maslin; "My Ain Folk", by Mrs. Dixon; and a play, "So's Your Aunt Anna", which was one of the main hits of the evening. Mr. Dixon mystified the audience with his numerous tricks of magic. "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere", was sung by H. Maslin; Mr. and Mrs. Robson were encored to sing "When You and I were young Maggie". After presenting "Silver Threads among the Gold", a quartet comprising Rev. A. E. Mount, Leonard Legg, H. Maslin and M. Robson sang several songs, and another one-act play, "Don't Tell a Soul", brought the program to a close. The national anthem was sung in conclusion.

Particular praise is due to Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, whose untiring efforts for the past several months culminated in the excellent production of the two plays staged during the evening.

Fair a Great Success

Gilbert Arnold, Local Breeder and Importer, Wins 5 Champs

Grateful indeed were the directors of the Lachute Fair when on Saturday night they were able to close the gates of the Fair grounds with the satisfaction of knowing that it was the most successful exhibition ever held in connection with the Agricultural Society, and although the weather at times proved most threatening, the rain held off, and nothing interfered to mar the occasion.

The exhibitors were far more numerous than previous years and Mr. A. Bothwell was compelled to refuse many entries. The keenest of competition was evidenced in all classes.

Mr. Gilbert Arnold of Grenville, who has the distinction of being the largest importer of pure bred horses in the world came to the fore, leading his fine animal "Dock" to the grand championship in Belgian stallions, this being the fourth consecutive win by this animal at Lachute exhibitions. It was also three times grand champion at the Toronto Royal Fair and this year beat the grand champion of last weeks Ormstown Show where Dock was not exhibited. In the Belgian mares Mr. Thompson of the Jersey Health Farm of Isle Bezaud, captured the grand champion honors. One of the famous Dawes Black horses, which Mr. Arnold had himself imported for the National Breweries last year, won grand champion honors in Percheron stallions. Mr. Arnold appeared with a string of over sixty head of Belgian Percheron and French-Canadian horses and in the latter class also carried off both grand championships for stallions and mares claiming also the junior champion in Belgian stallions with his "Complete Tom", his Ormstown winner in this breed. "Collard Mine" winner of last year's class at the Toronto Royal, also won the Percheron female grand championship.

The senior and grand championship in Ayrshires went to a two year old bull, and newly imported by J. H. Black and sold to the Hon. Dr. Herbert Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. This is one of the outstanding bulls to have come to this county from Scotland.

The Grand Champion in Holstein Bulls was lifted by Legault Bros. of St. Hermas, the junior being won by James McKenzie.

C. J. Miller captured the junior championship with the Ayrshire bull "Springlea Chuddy" also, the junior champion female, "Springlea Perfect Lady." These two champs were from the sire Barborough Reflection, this being the herd sire.

A new innovation this year was the evening program of variety turns before the Grand Stand on Saturday night. In addition to the vaudeville turns the audience were treated to a very fine display of fancy driving, riding jumping etc., in which thanks were profusely tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Poirier and family, Messrs. Nesbitt, DeForge and Krueger for their kindness in furnishing this pleasing attraction.

A very encouraging feature of our Agronomist's work in this county was the strong competition of some 35 boys and girls who took part in the following:

Halter Making Contest, Dairy Cattle showmanship and judging, Horse and Swine judging. The competitors were scored on the following basis: 50 points

PICKPOCKETS AT FAIR

All fairs where crowds congregate seem to entice the light-fingered gentry who are after easy money and Lachute Fair proved no exception.

Last Friday, Mr. St. Jacques was relieved of $56.00 while on his round of the Midway. Detective Robert, who was on the look out for suspects noted a couple of chaps well dressed, who were moving around in suspicious manner. Seeing they were followed they shot out of the grounds but Robert gave chase and apprehended them along with two others.

On looking through his album he found the pictures of the men, who admitted the theft and offered return of the money. It was only when returning to the grounds that detective Robert learned of the complaint of St. Jacques' loss, who was able to describe the nature of the bills which corresponded with the money found on the crooks.

They appeared before Magistrate Donat Lalande at St. Jerome on Monday, and pleaded not guilty. They were remanded for enquete until June 29 and bail was fixed at $950 in each case.

The prisoners who appeared on three charges were Benny Abrahamovitch alias Silverman, 42 years of age, and Percy Blunt, 42 years of age. The pair charged only with vagrancy are Jack Silver, alias Joseph Stitzer, 31 years of age, and Percy Larris, alias Seiltzenberg, 32 years of age. None gave any address.

Rev. Arnold Mathews leaves shortly for new pastorate

The Rev. Arnold Mathews, B.A., B.D., of Drummondville, will leave shortly to take charge of the pastorate of Memorial United Church at St. Catharines, Ont. Arnold, as he was better known at Lachute, is a son of the late Rev. Albert Mathews, a former beloved Methodist minister here, and graduated from Lachute Academy. His marriage to Miss Evelyn Crow, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Crow, of Dorchester, Ont., is announced to take place early in July.

Wedding at Lachute

MacLEAN — BATES

The marriage took place at the United Church Manse, Lachute, on Saturday, June 20th., of Hazel Arthurs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Bates of Avoca, to Mr. Kenneth J. MacLean, son of Mrs. MacLean and the late Archie MacLean of Avoca, Que. Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiated.

The bride, who entered the room on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. John Dobbie, was gowned in white silk lace over satin. Her circular veil was held in place by a lace and tulle turban, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Hugh Bates attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a pretty white silk crepe suit with white crepe hat and accessories to match. Her corsage bouquet was pink roses. The groom was attended by Mr. Hugh Bates.

After the ceremony, a luncheon was served at "The White Inn", Hawkesbury. Later the bride and groom left by train for Montreal and other points, the bride travelling in a white silk crepe suit with white hat and accessories to match.

SEIGNIORY CLUB HORSE SHOW

—With entry confirmed today from the famous Oriole show stables at Toronto, owned by Colonel R. Y. Eaton, some famous horses with the longest noses and bluest blood have joined the group participating in the Seignior Club Horse show taking place on the beautiful fair grounds north of Montebello next week from Thursday July 3rd. to Sunday July 5th. Entering four horses in many classes, especially in the hunter and performance group, the Oriole entries are expected to make a good showing, though competition is expected from several other famous Canadian stables whose entries are expected momentarily and who likewise competed in the Seignior Club show last year. Though several other stables have promised entries and not yet registered officially, the show is already made up of horses from many different districts.

Miss Rita L. Hare of Britannia, Ontario, near Ottawa, the Royal Canadian Dragoons at St. John, P.Q., the 17th Duke of York Hussars in Montreal, Roy Anderson, Montreal, O. D. Robinson, Toronto, R. W. Lovell of Montreal, entering from Montebello, P.Q., and the Seignior Club stables, all have sent in applications.

Flat, steeplechase, and trotting and pacing racing will provide a stimulating supplement to the show ring events during the Seignior Horse Show, and last named taking place on Sunday and being of special interest to the country people who usually turn out in large numbers. The race tracks encircle the show ring and two small mounds in the grounds from which it is possible to see the progress of each race, and the spectacle is always an attractive one, many smart dresses marking the gallery.

Notes and Comment From Brownsburg

AN ANNUAL OUTING

The general opinion regarding the Lachute Fair is that it was "bigger, better and brighter" than ever. To the people about Brownsburg the "Fair" is something more than an exhibition of agricultural animals and implements, it is a milestone along the year's course of events which is used as a mark to refresh the memory in future days. The importance of the Lachute enterprise cannot be gainsaid, it has become an institution to the people of the district. This year the weather-man relented from his traditional ill-humor, and glorious weather, combined with a well thought out and interesting programme provided an enjoyable entertainment.

C. I. L. PICNIC

Arrangements are now under way towards organizing the usual C. I. L. picnic. This year the date has been advanced to July 11, and a more diversified and elaborate programme is being attempted. In addition to the usual athletic sports, and children's events, an attractive musical and vaudeville entertainment is being provided to fill in the later hours of the evening.

ELECTION ACTIVITY

Roadmaking and electioneering are almost synonymous terms in the province of Quebec, and when we see a sudden burst of activity on roadwork we must be excused from connecting it with the forthcoming election. It is an obvious fact that our roads are in a scandalous, if not dangerous state, and that necessary and urgent work is required to get them into satisfactory traveling condition. Nevertheless the present attempt to remedy the previous neglect leave us without any undue enthusiasm, when we consider the sudden stoppage corresponding with the counting of the votes at last election. There is one consoling fact however, if the present absorption of labour continues till election day we should be thankful for the fact there was an election. The Brownsburg - Lachute road is in urgent need of attention, no isolated patching with gravel will suffice, the road is worn and the sole badly fractured, material has been sparsely used and without proper binding was in many places useless. Starters are a menace to traffic, and the short-sighted policy of blasting the exposed crown tends to further starve the roadway. The plain fact is apparent, the road needs systematic rebuilding, and now that the taxpayers' money is being expended it is incumbent to see that it is not wasted in sporadic boodoggling.

TREASURE HUNTING

Residents of Brownsburg were mildly surprised on Monday night to see bevy of young girls rushing helter-skelter through the streets in obvious excitement. There was no need for alarm, the mercury was not responsible, it was merely a treasure hunt.

Many Significant Changes In Legislative Programme

"THE OTTAWA SPOTLIGHT"

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, June 23rd.—The session just concluded was more eventful than first sessions following elections usually are. It sat for nearly five months, and placed several score measures on the statutes of Canada. Critics of the government say that the achievements of the Liberal party to date have been slight, measured against the plight of the people and the stagnation of business. Supporters of it maintain that a splendid beginning has already been made toward better times; and that a large number of the government's pre-election pledges have already been implemented.

Without passing judgment one way or the other, here is a list of the major achievements of the session:

MAJOR ACHIEVEMENTS

Abolition of the Canadian Radio Commission; and substitution of a Canadian Broadcasting Commission based on the British system.

Passing of legislation to give parliament majority ownership and control of the Bank of Canada. Critics of the government protest that complete con-

HELD FOR BANK ROBBERY

With the arrest in Ottawa early Monday morning of Anatole Latreille, 28 years, of 63 Poplar street, Ontario provincial police believe they have placed their hand on the second of the two armed desperados who on Tuesday last made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Bank of Nova Scotia at Russell, Ont., and who were driven off before the flaming revolver of C. H. Stewart, manager of the bank. Early Saturday morning a man giving his name as J. A. Leo Bertram, 22 years, 136 Bay street, was arrested by Constables W. H. Kennedy, of Ottawa, and R. H. Wannel, of Hawkesbury. On Sunday he was taken to L'Orignal and booked in under the name of Real Bertrand, 26 years, of Ottawa.

Latreille was arrested at his home, 63 Poplar street, by Provincial Constables Harold H. Dent and R. H. Wannel, together with City Detective Duncan MacDonell, about 8 o'clock. He was arraigned at Rockland before Justice of the Peace John C. Ryan, on a charge of robbery with violence, and remanded until Friday, June 26th., where he will appear before Senior Magistrate R. Labrosse. He will be represented by John B. Woods, of Hawkesbury, who has also been retained by Bertrand.

Both men are being held at the jail at L'Orignal and will appear together. Inspector Lochee, who is directing the provincial police in the Ottawa territory, accompanied Latreille to L'Orignal together with the two provincial constables.

United Church Holds Successful Lawn Social

The Social held on the Manse Lawn of the United Church on Tuesday evening was well attended and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The programme was a musical one and furnished by the Lachute Brass Band, with other selections of String and Harmonica from friends of Brownsburg, according to solos by Edwin Gauley, bagpipe selections by D. Fletcher, guitar duet by Messrs. Pilon and Laverre and a cornet solo by Mr. Guinette.

An enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the singing of "O Canada." Proceeds amounted to approximately $80.

Orangemen meet at Harrington

The Semi-Annual meetings of the County and Scarlet Chapter of the L.O.L. Lodges of Argenteuil were held in Harrington on Saturday last, presided over by Rt. Wor. Bro. Stanley Holt of Lachute. Every Lodge in the County was well represented. The County Master presented his report of the expenses relative to the meeting of the Rt. Wor. Prov. Grand Lodge of Quebec, held in the Lachute Auditorium on May 8th., which proved very satisfactory. The members of Harrington Lodge served a splendid supper. An invitation was also extended to the County to attend a County Celebration in Mr. Watchorn's Grove on Saturday, July 11th., under the auspices of the Dalenville and Louisa Lodges. The next place of meeting will be at Lachute in January 1937.

J. Adelard Godbout, Minister of Agriculture, was sworn in last week as Prime Minister of Quebec, following the resignation of Premier Taschereau and the announcement of another election in Quebec is billed for the 17th. of August.

Mr. Godbout will be Premier until the Provincial election. Mr. Taschereau chose him as his successor, he said, first because he is young and in touch with youth, and second, because he is a practical farmer, knowing the needs of agriculture as the foundation of the prosperity of the Province.

In face of the exposures that have been brought to light the position is not by any means one to be coveted and the new Premier is apparently having a very difficult time in selecting his cabinet. In the meantime there is great activity in the Opposition camp and the demonstration accorded Mr. Duplessis in Three Rivers, at which it was reported there were 25,000 people present, evidenced a keen desire to place the Duplessis group in the saddle.

When Mr. Duplessis reached the platform he was given a welcome that was of a nature to comfort any leader entering on a general election. With him were Oscar Drouin of Quebec East, chief National Union organizer; Mayor J. E. Groggier of Quebec, former Montmagny member; Dr. Philippe Hamel of Quebec Centre; Dr. Marc Trudel, Harry Quart, Hon. Ernest Ouellet, Patrice Tardiff of Frontenac, C. A. Sherman of Compton, J. A. Begin of Dorchester, Pierre Bertrand of St. Sauveur, William Tremblay of Maisonneuve, P. A. Lafleur of Verdun, and a host of others. There were flowers for the chief, presented by little girls, who insisted on recognition much to the embarrassment of Mr. Duplessis.

Duplessis Declares Regime Has Fallen Low

Mr. Duplessis said, in part: "The present Prime Minister is the heir of a regime that has fallen very low indeed, I hope he will not bring it any lower. The people however will not forget what inheritance he has. He is the heir of the regime, and in politics as elsewhere, the heir has to take responsibility for the debts of the estate. He is responsible for the methods which go with the inheritance, the more so since for the past six years he has been jointly responsible for those methods.

"I am profoundly touched to receive from my colleagues of the Legislature and from my friends throughout the province this testimony, not to myself, but rather this manifestation in favor of the cause which we are jointly defending, the national cause, the cause of the people of Quebec.

Government Tactics Called Very Simple

"Gentlemen, the tactics of the Quebec Government in this matter are very simple. They had to stop an inquiry that had barely started. For I have said, and I repeat, that the scandals we have revealed do not represent one-tenth of one per cent of what we are still able to prove. "When I use that proportion, I am not exaggerating. You may remember on April 20 last, my birthday, how you gave me an unforgettable demonstration, and I told you then that the Government could not hold out. It is as true, what I am telling you now, as that was then. That inquiry has been momentarily silenced. Please note my words. I am not going to talk about those who have trol and ownership should have been seized; and that the Liberals in this respect have ignored their pre-election pledges.

Ratification of the United States trade agreement.

Reduction of duties on cotton textiles, machinery, glassware, farm implements, gasoline, fruits and vegetables.

Increase of the sales tax from six to eight per cent; and a number of minor changes in the income and excise taxes. Reduction of automobile duties. Exemption of young metalliferous mines from tax.

Replacement of the Board of Trustees of the Canadian National Railways by a Board of seven directors, with a closer contact than formerly with the Minister of Railways.

NEW BRANCH LINE

Authorization of a branch line to be built by the Canadian National Railways between Rouyn and Senneterre, Que., to open up some rich new mining territory.

Formation and appointment of a National Employment Commission of nine members, which aims to provide jobs, also to collect statistics, and to supervise the expenditure of moneys on unemployment relief purposes.

Consolidation into one department of the former departments of railways and canals, marine, and the civil aviation branch formerly under the department of national defence.

Consolidation of immigration, colonization, mines, interior Indian affairs, N. W. territories and Yukon branch into a single department.

Creation of a central harbours board, to govern the affairs of the national ports, which were formerly under separate commissions.

Authorization of national parks in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

A sum of nearly seven million dollars was voted to recompense farmers who delivered their grains to the 1930 pools and were adjudged to have suffered thereby, as compared with farmers who sold through other channels.

A number of amendments were made to the existing legislation government war pensions.

PUBLIC WORKS SCHEME

A public works scheme was launched to create employment, providing for work in national parks, on roads leading to mining areas, on mining explorations, the elimination of grade crossings, the Trans-Canada highway, etc.

Amendments were passed for the following Acts: Customs Act, Toronto Harbour Commission Act, Copyright Amendment Act, Canada Shipping Act, Dairy Industry Act, Act Regarding Carriage of Goods by Water, the Judges Act and the Juvenile Delinquents Act.

Permission legislation was brought in via the Senate which would create a system of free harbour zones in Canada, where goods could be stored and trans-shipped without payment of customs duties.

Studies were made by the several select and standing committees of the House of Commons on the following subjects:

Marketing of Wheat
Government Annuities.

The Cost of Farm Implementations.

Elections and Franchise, proportional representation and the single alternative vote, compulsory registration and compulsory voting.

An invitation
TO SEE THE WORLD'S ONLY RANGE THAT COOKS at TWO TEMPERATURES automatically

DEALER'S NAME
ADDRESS, ETC.

Here's NEW FREEDOM FROM YOUR KITCHEN

THE worries and responsibilities of cooking vanish when you install this completely automatic range. No matter what you may be cooking, the dual-automatic control of your Westinghouse Range will assure you of the correct method and successful results.

If it's a roast that requires two temperatures, the control will bring the current up to a high searing temperature to seal in the juices, then cut down to a lower heat to complete the cooking ... If it's an oven dinner that requires a receding heat ... or a cake that needs a steady, maintained heat, your Dual-automatic range will provide the exact type of heat required ... That's why it's the world's most completely automatic range ... the range that eliminates guesswork.

Accept this invitation to see it right away. Let us show you how easy it is to own the last word in electric ranges.

EX-MAYOR BRINGS ACTION

Ex-mayor James McIlvenna of North Bay, Ont., threatens a $100 damage action against the city because his dog, impounded by an enforcement officer, was allegedly shot before the time limit set by the by-law for holding such animals had expired.

Mr. McIlvenna says his suit is a disciplinary action to show closer adherence to the terms of by-laws is desirable.

PUBLISHED NAMES OF TAX DELINQUENTS

Publication of names of property holders in tax arrears has had a beneficial effect, in Quebec City. In two weeks after the publication of names, the Treasurer reported more than $50,000 was paid in taxes on the properties.

City Council recently adopted a resolution suspending forced sale of properties in arrears of taxes, for six months in deserving cases.

SPRINKLER SYSTEM SET FIRE ALARM

While an elevator man in a Montreal building was quietly going about his duties after closing time, he was surprised to see the fire department invading his premises. He explained to the firemen that there was no fire, and that he had been simply flushing down the court yard with the hose.

The chief was positive that an alarm had been sounded and started to search the building. Examination showed that no sprinkler heads were open in the automatic system and that there was no fire.

Then they started tracing the hose line that the elevator man had been using, and found that he had connected it to the sprinkler system low-point valve by mistake.

"I would point out that municipal rates were never meant to liquidate national liabilities. This tremendous problem of unemployment and relief is as much a national obligation as is war. Public opinion would not ask municipal governments to finance the cost of war; yet we are asked to shoulder a large and increasing share of the cost of relief."

—Mayor Stanley Lewis, Ottawa.

Workers constructing manholes beside the new federal building in London, Ont., uncovered wooden gas pipes said to be 50 to 60 years old and in almost perfect condition. The pipes, made of tamarack, were about six inches in diameter.

MUST PAY TAXES FIRST
(Halifax Chronicle)

In these days when so much difficulty has been met with in the collection of taxes, due in large measure to the ill consequences of the depression, the report of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities makes reference to a Swedish expedient, which may not be without merit.

In Sweden, it seems that before anyone can purchase liquor under its government control system, he must first show a receipt showing that he has paid his taxes. How much or how little difference this would make in our own province we have no means of knowing, but it certainly smacks of robust sense.

Only a Free Press Can Keep the People Informed

"Only a free press can keep us informed concerning the shackles which may be being forged for our wrists. The newspapers deserve the backing of the public, as institutions as well as sources of entertainment." So said John Edwin Price, nationally known author and lecturer, in a recent address. In support of his statement he referred to the Supreme Court decision in favor of the Aberdeen (S.D.) American and News. A politician found guilty of forgery had been fined by a circuit judge $300 and had been given a farcical sentence of six months. The newspaper termed the sentence a "Pat on the back", also stating: "The honorable judge should doff his regal robes, don sackcloth and sit in ashes until his penitence is complete."

Judge Howard Babcock, thereupon hailed editor and publisher into court and pronounced sentence of $200 and 30 days each, the latter suspended pending "good behaviour, with no other condemnation or contempt of court." The American Supreme Court subsequently reversed this decision, saying among other things, "The need for a free and unfettered press is perhaps more urgent in this country today than it ever has been before."

MANY people who have suffered for years from indigestion do not know that too much acid in the stomach often is the cause of digestive discomfort.

Bisma-Rex is a new antacid powder that acts four ways to give quick relief. It neutralizes excess acid, relieves the stomach of gas, soothes irritated stomach membranes and aids digestion of foods most likely to ferment. Bisma-Rex is sold only at Rexall Drug Stores.

"Curly Top, Curly Top, Just where are you going?" I asked a little blue-eyed lad who was rowing, rowing, rowing. In an old tub in a hollow, Where the grass grew long and thick; For a paddle he had borrowed His grandpa's walking stick! "Hush!" he whispered, bright eyes shining "Keep very quiet please. . . There's a big fish in this water, So you must not even sneeze, 'Cause the noise you'd make would scare him And he'd go back to the sea Before that I could catch him, And I want him for my tea." I stole away quite softly Scarce daring there to breathe Lest I spoil the laddie's pleasure In his game of make-believe.

IN LILAC TOWN

The sun-bird did not reply to Marylyn's questions for a minute or two. He was too busy chasing a little black fly along the branch of the tree to do so. When he had caught it and swallowed it he came sidling back to answer Marylyn's question.

"Mr. Fork Tail the swallow from the swale behind the swamp invited me to come he said and I came, that's how."

"You did not fly all the way from Africa did you?" Marylyn asked. "Not all the way, Miss Inquisitive the sun-bird said, his bright eyes twinkling down first at her then at the spider that was weaving a web quite close to her head. "We flew part way then when the tossing waves made us too dizzy we flew on to ships and rested and ate crumbs and spiders and whatever we could find until we got rested again."

Marylyn was just going to say something when the big spider who was weaving just above her suddenly decided to come down for something he had forgotten and in doing so ran across Marylyn's hand. "Oh! oh!" she tried to say but found that her voice was gone and she could only make queer sounds. She struggled to get up but seemed to be weighted down to the couch.

A cat bird giggled above her head, "Some one's been greedy and eaten too much it said; night mares only visit those who eat what they should not before they go asleep."

Marylyn tried to say that she was not asleep, but still could not control her voice enough to get the words out. An immense dragon fly came zig-zagging in at the summerhouse door and hovered above her head, its immense eyes seemed to her to be boring right into her face it looked at her so long and earnestly "What is she doing here?" he asked the cat bird, "has she come to join the gardeners at the garden party?"

"Oh say!" giggled the cat bird, perhaps she has, I had not thought of that, but she's sound asleep and cannot go to a garden party in her sleep. How shall we wake her?

"Ask Mrs. Dormouse" buzzed a drake-fly fluttering into the summer-house almost bumping into the dragon fly. "Ask Mrs. Dormouse, she ought to know how to wake sleepy heads seeing that she is a sleepy head herself."

"Mrs. Dormouse has gone to Dr. Claw Hammer to have the tooth out that she cracked eating acorns last night so you can't ask her", said Mr. Dorbeetle the June Bug, who was battering against the outside of the tiny window. "I saw her passing by a short time ago on Jumper the Hare's back. You will have to find some other way to wake Marylyn. If you would just open this window and let me creep over her face I should be surprised if that did not wake her."

Marylyn tried to wriggle her feet and hands in an attempt to wake herself up. She was sure that she was not asleep—that something was holding her so that she could not move or speak but she must get free before they let Mr. Dorbeetle in. The thought of him crawling over her face made her shiver. "She's moving! she moving!" screamed the cat bird; she's going to wake up herself. She will be in time for the garden party but what shall we feed her on? Fuzzy worms or snails?"

"Oh dear! oh dear! oh dear!" wailed Mrs. Veery, do not put anything more on my shoulders. Mrs. Cat Bird had looked at her when she asked the question. "I am almost out of my senses now trying to arrange this feast to suit everyone. Oh my what a time I have had. I promised Mrs. Robin that she should have all the angle worms that she could eat if she would attend and not an angle worm have I found today."

"Go and look under the red current bush" shouted Mr. Dorbeetle, "I saw dozens of them stretched out under the edge of a rock as I dug my way out to the sun. You had better hurry too, as I saw Madame Topknot and her brood coming into the garden through a hole in the fence as I flew away."

Lovingly, Aunt Jean.

BOY SCOUTS THE WORLD OVER

Ten thousand young trees were planted this spring by Galt, Ont., Scouts on their newly acquired camp site, Peacehaven, near Drumbo.

SEA SCOUTS BUILD A 27 FOOT WHALER

The building of a 27-foot whaler has been completed by the Rover Sea Scouts of the Pointe Claire Yacht Club, Montreal. The boat, probably the largest ever turned out by Canadian Sea Scouts, was constructed during the past winter, under direction of a professional builder. It is a sturdy, roomy craft, and will permit of lengthy training cruises.

SCADDING OF MOOSE RIVER A SCOUT LEADER

Alfred Scadding, of Moose River Mine tragedy, was formerly Assistant Scoutmaster of the 1st. Queenstown, Ont., Scout Troop. "He was a man who, could meet any emergency," states a Queenstown correspondent in the "Niagara Falls Review". The lighting of the smoke signal fire which first informed rescuers that the men were still alive was attributed to Scadding's Scout signalling ingenuity.

A COAST GUARD STATION FOR HAMILTON SEA SCOUTS

Hamilton, Ont., Sea Scouts will shortly become the happy possessors of a coast guard station, in the form of an old excursion steamer, the "Brockville", permanently anchored at La Salle wharf, through the co-operation of the Hamilton Harbour Commission. The boat will be equipped with telescopes and wireless, to be used in discovering and assisting with mishaps on Hamilton Bay. The "Brockville" formerly plied between the city of that name and a summer resort, Butternut Bay.

THREE RIVERS SCOUTS' FOLKLORE FESTIVAL

A successful Folklore Festival, which included the singing of old river songs of the St. Maurice River Valley, was an achievement of the Jacques Cartier Troop of Catholic Scouts of Three Rivers, Que. In preparation for the festival a party of older Scouts was sent up the river to interview old folks of the district and secure the words and tunes of old time chansons, and the steps of nearly-forgotten dances. The Jacques Cartier Scouts were congratulated by the City Council upon the success of their venture. The Folklore Festival may become an annual event.

AN ENGLISH TRAINING CENTRE FOR UNEMPLOYED YOUTH

Another in a chain of Boy Scout Training Centres for helping young unemployed men to qualify for various domestic service jobs has been opened at the Mansion House of Llan-frechfa Grange, Newport, Monmouthshire. The new Centre, open to boys of 15 to 17, is being operated under arrangements with the Ministry of Labour. Other similar training centres in operation at Hedeningham, Quendon, Cirencester, Badminton and Ossemsley have been highly successful. The instruction includes cooking, housework, gardening, car driving and auto mechanics, and general Scout training.

NOTES ON A CONVENTION

At a convention of trustees recently, two very challenging papers on desirable charges in education were given. The trustees were interested but there was no discussion and practically no questions asked. Immediately afterward the question of finances and school grants came up. There was no lack of interest then and so many wanted to speak or to ask questions that it was difficult to give them all a chance. Excitement ran high. Naturally, they were interested in the finances because they are responsible for them, although to hear the criticisms that the trustees too frequently get, one would think that they were indifferent to costs. I felt that if more attention were paid to what they were going to get for the money spent, we would have a better system of education. Conditions are very different to what they were a generation ago and yet to all intents and purposes our education is the same. Sometimes jealousy between different boards holds up reforms. Academic and technical staffs do not work together to complement each other but each try to further their own interests. Unfortunately, the smaller towns and the rural centres lack technical opportunities and they have as much right to them as the larger centres. We are still trying to educate by horse and buggy ideas instead of using modern transportation. One teacher could cover a large area so why not have itinerant teachers for technical education?

BUYING HEALTH

In 1916-17, in London, Ontario, there were 150 babies per thousand, died between the ages of one month and five years. This last year there were 32 babies per thousand, and 10 of these were from outside the city of London. A reduction from 150 to 32 is remarkable. This is due to public health nursing and to the clinics, both for sick and well babies. Where could public funds be spent to better advantage than in work of this kind? There are still too many babies and mothers die from preventable causes. No matter how well a mother thinks she feels she should see a doctor in the early months. Most doctors do not charge extra for this care as it makes the work at birth much simpler. I wish all the prospective fathers could be impressed with the fact that it is their duty and privilege to see that the mother has proper care and that she cannot have it if she does not see a doctor in time. Many needless deaths of mother and child could be prevented.

ALLERGY

Doctors and their parents have known for many years that certain plants will cause hay-fever. Research work is constantly adding to the number of plants, foods and foreign matters in the air which cause asthma, eczema, and some forms of head-ache, as well as hay-fever. This peculiar sensitivity is called allergy. They are finding some unusual things to which people are sensitive. Dust from the home, wool, hair, dog dandruff, feathers and fumes from gasoline and turpentine are among the things that cause trouble. Then there are foods. Wheat is frequently found to be a mischief-maker. Sometimes it is milk or eggs. Salad oils made from corn caused asthma in one man I know. Blue-coal was the up-setting factor in another man's health. Still another got eczema whenever he handled tulip bulbs. Doctors who are trained in this de-sensitising work cure or give great relief to most of their patients. Hay-fever sufferers should not wait until the season starts before starting treatment.

ICE CREAM, A GOOD FOOD

Will I be popular with the children! If properly made ice cream is a good food and an ice cream cone is much better for the youngsters than candy. The only time that ice cream is not good for them is when it is given a short time before a meal and spoils the appetite. Eaten at the proper time, ice cream will help supply the milk that all children require.

SIMPLE WAYS WITH STRAWBERRIES

Choose perfect berries and arrange around a mound of fruit sugar with hulls on. Serve for breakfast or with a cool drink and cookies for simple refreshments.

Sliced with oranges. Useful if short of cream.

Mashed and sweetened: Chilled and served in sherbet glasses topped with whipped cream.

In meringues with whipped cream.

SUNSHINE STRAW-BERRIES

Wash, hull and weigh berries. Measure an equal amount of sugar and arrange layer by layer in a kettle. Let stand for at least a half hour to draw out juice. Cook slowly for ten minutes, stirring carefully so that the berries are not broken. Pour into platters, cover with glass and place in the sun. Stir three times a day and bring in at night. Hot sunny days should be chosen but if the berries are not plump and thick in three days, keep them in the sun an extra day. Bottle in sterilised glasses and cover with wax. Do not heat before bottling.

STRAWBERRY PINEAPPLE CONSERVE

2 quarts strawberries
2 cups shredded pineapple
4 cups sugar
1/2 cup water

Mix ingredients and cook until thick. Pour into sterilised jars and seal with wax.

QUEBEC WOMEN'S INSTITUTES REPRESENTED AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

FALLS IN THE HOME ARE TOO NUMEROUS WAYS TO AVOID THEM

From "Prevention", Organ of the Quebec Safety League

You will be astonished to learn of the great number of falls which occur in the peaceful home.

Falls are responsible for nearly half of all home injuries, and are often fatal. It is interesting to note the time of life at which we are most susceptible to falls. Between the ages of 0 and 4, falls are responsible for 8% of accidental deaths in the house. Between 5 and 14 years, the percentage increases to eighteen; from 15 years to 60, it reaches 35%, and it is remarkable that from 60 years on, 75% of fatal accidents are caused by falls. It is therefore imperative that falls be prevented by a rigid maintenance of good order, and by repairing when necessary.

If we study carefully the causes of these falls, we find they can easily be eliminated. Improperly illuminated stairways and corridors, broken rails defective stairs, etc.—Floors with uneven boards or unguarded openings, especially in cellars or attics, are a frequent cause of accidents.

On waxed floors, small rugs are liable to skid and make you fall. They should be fastened to the floor. Wet linoleum is dangerous and should be promptly dried.

The prompt removal of ice or snow around the house will prevent numerous falls. The same care should be taken with grease or any similar substance on the floor. In an orderly house, furniture should never be allowed to become so worn out or broken as to be a cause of falls.

You have frequently read of little children falling from windows; proper screens should be provided or a bar should be placed and only the top part of the window usual for ventilation.

Porch railings frequently rot and decay. They should be kept in good condition. Gates should be provided at the head of stairways, for the safeguarding of little tots.

Never stand on chairs, boxes or tables to reach high objects. Use a good step-ladder for such purposes as hanging pictures, arranging curtains, cleaning shelves, and you will be safe.

Safety Hints

To be safe, remember the following advice:

- 1 Parents should forbid their children to climb trees or poles.
- 2 Unnecessary haste has caused many a painful fall.
- 3 Never go up or downstairs with too heavy a load in your arms.
- 4 Always look where you are going. Daydreamers fall everywhere.
- 5 Pick up anything over which people are liable to trip and fall.
- 6 Repair broken or defective stairways, ladders, balconies, etc.
- 7 Don't climb on chairs, boxes and the like. Use the proper step-ladder.

Collapsible tubes, in which come such household commodities as toothpaste, commence in the form of a button of tin no larger or thicker than two Canadian five cent pieces, says a writer in "The C-I-L Oval." These are extruded under pressure of from 150 to 600 tons up the sides of a steel rod, thus forming the body of the tube. The tubes are then lacquered, printed and polished.

The Week's Fashion News

By the Montreal "FASHION SCRIBE"

The summer season is in full swing and there's little that's startling in the way of new fashions. Fall trends are beginning to appear on the horizon and in another week or two will be more definitely defined. Meantime people are getting out and enjoying themselves . . . packing all the fun and exercise and fresh air they can into the two or three weeks out of the fifty-two they can spend as they will. And that brings us back to the subject of holiday togs. We've already told you of the culottes and shorts and sport sets which should be as brief or as long as your tendency to take the sun. Bathing suits are seen in the new dressmaker types which often use a real silk or an acetate weave over an all wool jersey. One of the smartest accessories noted on the beach last week-end was a hooded rubberized silk cape which looked and felt like Cellophane. Transparent and glistening in the sunlight it brought out the color of the turquoise bathing suit beneath and was adequate protection against the breeze which had a tendency to be cool. These capes allow you to feel the warmth of the sun and prevent you from blistering. Beach mattresses which can be blown up with air are a popular accessory. Spread them out on the sands or right out on the water and stretch out in comfort.

We've seen and admired so much in furniture that's new and comfortable and stands up under the weather. Great couches for the lawn with frame work in wood and the cushions deep soft affairs well stuffed and covered in a cool smooth fabric . . . large colorful parasols to both decorate and scene and keep you out of the direct path of the sun . . . tables easy to move and firm in construction . . . everything to make living out of doors almost twice as much fun as formerly.

Recent sizzling days created much interest in the new air-conditioned foundation garments now being shown. They're made from air-conditioned cotton and give the required support without keeping the air altogether away from the body. These air-conditioned fabrics (we mentioned them in pyjamas recently) are also used in slips and nightgowns.

Dots or with dote . . . the formal for many a smart summer ensemble. The dotted print forming the whole frock or used in the jacket over white or pastel tones. They manage to look trim and cool even on warmest days and we've been admiring them about town and in the country.

Square necklines are a forecast in sweaters for Fall. If you're planning on knitting any it would be well to look into this fashion. They are particularly becoming and though square not necessarily low.

Thinking of buying furs this fall or coming winter? Prices in some cases have already gone up and according to recent reports it would be an excellent idea to purchase now. Styles need not worry you because the new 1936-37 models are already being shown and they're exactly what you'll be choosing in the fall. Neck-pieces, too, are a splendid present investment.

Wool Spun From Rock and Slag

To most people wool is usually associated with sheep. It may come as a surprise, however, to learn that wool is also "spun" from rock and blast furnace slag, from asbestos and also from glass. Those wools are used for insulating purposes in gas and electric ranges and for pipes. They are also used for sound absorption. One would scarcely associate rock and slag with radio broadcasting, but these play a considerable part in the production of programs by British Broadcasting Corporation. Wool made from the rock and slag is used for deadening of sounds in the studios, the walls being covered with the wool which is held in place by wire netting and covered by some loosely woven fabric. The floors are also treated with slag or rock wool. Considerable quantities of rock wool are manufactured in the United States and it is imported into Great Britain in a fairly large amount. Stove manufacturers in sources of supply for rock wool in Canada, states the Industrial Dept. of the C.N.R., samples having been displayed at the recent Building Trades Exhibition and British Industries Fair held in Birmingham.

Wedding Invitations and Announcements are a specialty of the Watchman Print. Their quality rivals the work of city engravers. In Old English or Script type . . . Don't assume that local printing is "not good enough." Call and inspect our samples; we leave them to your judgment.

Geologists Go North this Summer

Two geological parties will be sent into the little-known Canadian North this summer by the Dominion Department of Mines, with instructions to carry examinations as far north as the Arctic Circle. Each party will be composed largely of students of geology and mining from the University of Alberta and the University of Saskatchewan, with enough trained geologists to permit the operations of sub-parties.

Last year the Department of Mines mapped a 10,000 square-mile area in the vicinity of the Yellowknife River basin, northeast of Great Slave Lake, approximately one-third of which has been defined as excellent prospecting ground for precious metal deposits. One of the parties will this year undertake the examination of a 10,000-square-mile area to the south-east of Great Slave Lake. Nothing is known of the geology of the area, with the exception of a narrow strip along the Talston River, which was examined in 1914. This initial exploration indicated the presence of belts of greenstone, which suggest the occurrence of mineral deposits. Work this summer is designed to trace the extensions of these favorable belts, to locate and map other similar belts in the region, and to examine known mineral occurrences, including the recent gold strike east of Talston River.

The other geological party will make a detailed examination of the mining properties located between Lake Athabasca and Great Bear Lake. These include the gold deposits on the north shore of Lake Athabasca and on Outpost Islands, Yellowknife Bay; the pitchblende deposits at Hottah and Hardisty Lakes, and the deposits of radium and silver ores at Echo Bay, Great Bear Lake.

Commercial aircraft will be used extensively in the work of the two parties as it has been in all recent mining operations in the North. Aircraft will be used for initial reconnaissance work; for the transportation of men and equipment to favourable locations; and as a means of maintaining contact among the several sub-parties.

seen fit to leave us. That would be playing into the Government's hand. They would like us to waste our time talking about those who left us. But the people can pronounce on that.

"We are going to fight the Government and nothing else. And you workers, farmers, fellow citizens who know me to the depth of my soul, you know that if I am poor in money and if my health is impaired, I am still rich in the ambition to work for my province. And I am rich in loyalty to you. We are not going to play into the Government's hand by permitting them to distract attention from the scandals on which we have thrown the light of day.

"I do not care about the attacks they make on me. I will not deign to reply to them. I don't care a whit about that. You have only one reply to give them. 'Duplessis rose in the house and, in the midst of the great inquiry, he told Mr. Taschereau and he'd told Mr. Godbout, and all their ministers, all that corrupt and corrupting Government, 'I am going to denounce your scandals without pity and without hesitation, and I care not a whit for any of you. I have clean hands and a clear conscience.'"

CONSTIPATION*
LIGHTLY

Poor Health May Be the Price of Neglect

Too many people dismiss common constipation* as a matter of no great consequence. Yet this condition causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches and loss of appetite. When it is allowed to continue, it may lower your resistance, and so increase your chances of catching a serious illness.

Common constipation often develops when you eat meals that lack sufficient "bulk." Your system fails to get needed internal exercise. Fortunately, today you have a generous source of effective "bulk" in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Within the body, the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass, which gently cleanses the system. This natural laxative food also supplies vitamin B and contains iron.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN often. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company as an effective laxative food for constipation.* Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.
