Red Cross Life Membership Given In Recognition of Notable Service

Miss Alice Riddell Active in Branch Through 2 Wars and Intervening Years

The Lachute Red Cross Society meeting yesterday afternoon was a notable occasion, attended by Mayor L. Carrière and other speakers — the highlight of the gathering being the presentation of a life membership pin to Miss Alice Riddell, of Lachute. This outstanding honor, accorded by the provincial Red Cross organization, is in recognition of specially devoted service.

Under chairmanship of the president, Mrs. Geo. McGibbon, the gathering was attended by representatives of all units affiliated with the branch. Following the business of the day, Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon, past president, was called upon to introduce the honored member, who has served the branch for many years in the capacity of treasurer.

Referring to work of the Red Cross throughout the war, and the need for continuance of voluntary workers for the supplying of civilian needs — Mrs. Deacon recalled that a small group of women during World War I had given the same patriotic service in this town. Following the Armistice, the Lachute group had continued to function. At its lowest ebb the membership numbered 10; but at the outset of the second World War, Lachute was one of only three centres in the province, outside of the cities, which had a branch of the Society in active existence. . . Miss Riddell, said the speaker, was one of the few who carried on through all the years; and when World War II brought still more arduous duties to her as treasurer and worker in the group, she had always given unstintingly of her energy and interests. . . . Lachute branch of the Society had therefore chosen Miss Riddell for this recognition accorded by headquarters.

An appropriate gesture was evidenced when Pte. Carl Wert, a former prisoner-of-war, was then called upon to present the coveted pin. The chairman regretted that two other repatriated war prisoners from this town — Lt. Gordon Drysdale and Pte. Edgar Cruise — were not present; but their families were represented in the gathering and linked the occasion with one of the most notable war activities of the Red Cross, namely its efforts on behalf of servicemen in enemy camps.

Mayor Carrière spoke briefly, adding his sincere congratulations on this occasion. His Worship also made reference to the current National Clothing Collection, and solicited the cordial support of the ladies present.

A veteran of World War I, Robt. A. Giles, also eulogized the record of Miss Riddell and her family, both in war services and in all efforts for the welfare of the community. It was recalled that a member of the family, the former Winnifred Riddell (Mrs. Hunter, Vancouver), was the only woman of this county to have served with the colors in the First Great War. As a nursing sister, she later took her place with the veterans of that war to be feted by their home town and receive presentations.

Appreciation for the kindly remarks and honor conferred upon her, was expressed by Miss Alice Riddell in a few well chosen words to the audience. She would long be proud of the tribute they had paid her.

In conclusion Mr. Wert was recalled for ad lib questioning on his experiences in German prison camps. His replies revealed many interesting facts, and again impressed the great benefits enjoyed through shipping of Red Cross parcels to prisoners.

Truck Driver Is Victim of Fatality Near Arundel

A jury under Dr. Jules Lafleur, joint district coroner, pronounced death accidental in the case of a Huberdeau resident, Joseph Bazinet, 64, who in stepping from his truck on the highway near Arundel last Friday, was hit by another vehicle, driven by Lucien Provost, also of Huberdeau. The victim was taken to the General Hospital, Montreal, where he succumbed the following day.

Det.-Lt. James Haney, of the Provincial Police, investigated. Lucien Prevost, of Huberdeau, was the driver of the automobile, which failed to halt soon enough when the victim suddenly stepped out of his truck.

According to medical sources, the mishap was contributory to the man's death; he had previously suffered a heart ailment, which was aggravated by injury and loss of blood sustained in the accident.

Pleads Not Guilty Window Breaking

Appearing before the District Magistrate at St. Jerome last week, Albert Normand, age 24, pleaded not guilty on a charge of disturbing the peace. The case arose out of the breaking of the A. & P. Store window on Main Street, in a brawl which occurred late Saturday night, September 15. Gerald Gerard, of Chatham, who was also arrested by Police Chief D. Villeneuve in connection with this incident, was later released after appearing before a Justice of the Peace.

Normand's trial is set for October 29. Case for the prosecution is in the hands of Philippe Valois, advocate of this town.

Fire, Police Chief Visit Schools for Fire Prevention

National Observance of Fire Prevention Week October 7 - 13

Paving the way for a greater emphasis on Fire Prevention Week (October 7 to 13), local schools were visited last Monday by Fire Chief Geo. Y. Deacon and D. Villeneuve, Chief of Police. Principals and directors of the schools, both Protestant and Catholic, agreed to initiate practices in preparation for fire drills to be staged as part of the campaign, when the two chiefs will visit the schools and record the time taken in each case to vacate the building after sounding of the alarm.

Local activities for Fire Prevention Week will commence with the usual parade of fire brigade and equipment, Monday evening. The theme will be stressed from pulpits of the churches, and during the week talks will be given at schools and public gatherings.

Annual Poster Competition

Pupils from the high school grades in this town are eligible to compete in the annual poster competition, a Dominion-wide contest, from which the winning poster is selected for use in the following year's Fire Prevention Campaign.

In this connection the Lachute Fire Brigade offers prizes of $3, $2 and $1 to Protestant pupils, and the same to Catholic children. Best entries from the various towns are submitted to the provincial organizers, and each province awards prizes of $25, $10 and $5. The Dominion Fire Prevention Committee then selects from these entries the best poster, and a $50 grand prize is awarded. . . Merit of the posters is judged not purely on the art aspect, but on originality of ideas, and simplicity and forcefulness of their expression.

Recidivist Back To Penitentiary

At St. Jerome court before District Magistrate Donat Lalande, sentence of two years in penitentiary was imposed upon John William McDonald last Wednesday. He was tried on a charge of theft, in connection with the stealing of a car owned by Alfred Louette at St. Canut.

The incident recalled by this case occurred on the night of May 23 last, when an automobile was found abandoned where it had crashed through a fence at Simon's Crossing, west of Lachute. The driver of the car was not immediately apprehended; but the next day, when a stranger reported at the police office here suffering from head and leg injuries which he claimed to have received in a brawl, Police Chief D. Villeneuve handed him over to the Provincial Police, who escorted him to a Montreal hospital. The victim, McDonald, turned out to be a recidivist with a long police record, having spent only two years at liberty between penitentiary terms during the past 12 years.

Found guilty of stealing the car in which he later crashed at the level crossing, McDonald was "sent down" for another two years.

One of our bachelor readers remarks that, after viewing the fashions to be seen on the streets today, he is in favor of donating most of them to the National Clothing Collection.

Directors of Weekly Newspapers Association Meet in Quebec City

By R. A. Giles

C.W.N.A. President

HUGH TEMPLIN

Editor and publisher of the Fergus (Ont.) News-Record, who was elected president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association at Quebec City.

Conventions having been banned in Canada, the annual gathering of weekly newspapermen representing some 600 membership, and extending from coast to coast, had this year to be curtailed, but a meeting was arranged for the Directors of the Association, who with their wives and a few visitors numbered about 75.

The three day session was held at the Chateau Frontenac, always a delightful spot for conventions and tourists, and a place which can often be revisited without becoming tiresome.

Mr. Walter Legge, our cofrère from Granby, was in charge of all arrangements and was the recipient of a beautiful leather traveling bag as a token of appreciation for the splendid work he had done.

Luncheon was tendered by the city on Thursday at which Mr. Viau was the speaker. He is the Industrial Commissioner of Quebec City.

The Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, Sir Eugene Fiset, entertained the party at a delightful reception at Spencerwood Thursday afternoon.

Lachute Airman Awarded D.F.C.

Flt. Lieut. Albert Winmill, of the R.C.A.F., a Lachute boy and former High School pupil here, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. Details of the citation are not known, but the information states the award has has been announced and investiture will take place at a later date.

The young Air Force officer, since discharged from the services, is now residing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Winmill, in Verdun. (Mr. Winmill was foreman machinist here at T. McOuat & Son Ltd.) . . . Flt. Lt. Winmill married Miss Grace Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stein, Lachute Mills.

THIS WAR VICTIM MOTHER and baby believe "the only good Nazi is a dead Nazi". From such a dead Nazi, "Mom" obtained the overcoat which covers her and the baby. Millions of others in war-ravaged lands need all the serviceable used clothing you can give to the National Clothing Collection which will be carried on throughout Canada from October 1st to the 20th. The drive is sponsored by the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund and distribution to the liberated peoples of Europe will be under the direction of U.N.R.R.A.

Election Officer, New Appointment

Hervé Filfe, Lachute business man, has received official notice from Quebec of his appointment as District Returning Officer, for purposes of provincial elections in this constituency.

(This appointment, which formerly was made at the time of an election writ and for the duration of one particular election, is now on a permanent basis in Quebec Province, similar to Federal D.R.O. appointments.)

Mr. Filfe is successor in the job to Notary Gaetan Valois, also of Lachute. Mr. Valois, however, remains as Returning Officer for Federal election matters in Argenteuil. In fact, he has a long record in this capacity, both in Dominion and Provincial elections. The first contest here for which he acted was a federal by-election February, 1922, following the death of P. R. McGibbon, M.P. He was Returning Officer for the next Provincial election, which occurred in February, 1923, and has held both offices with creditable efficiency ever since.

Youthful Gangsters Nipped in the Bud

Five youths with sinister leanings ran afoul of the law recently, and were taken in charge by Police Chief Villeneuve to appear before J. E. Dumais, J.P. Their arrest followed complaints that a gang of youths, with their faces masked in handkerchiefs, had made their appearance after dark at various places in town. Notably on Wilson Street and in the town park, they had been terrorizing women pedestrians. No criminal intent was specified in the charge against them, but the timely intervention of the police may be credited with curbing their rowdyism at an early stage in its career.

Oldest of the gang was a grown adult of 22, whose intelligence, however, is rated well under par. Other youths were aged 19 and 17, all lacking the schooling and discipline of average boys. Justice Dumais gave them a well needed reprimand, and assessed them the costs of the proceedings.

Chairman of Montreal Prot. Board Heard at St. Andrews School Closing

Prize Distribution; Program Staged By Pupils at Annual School Function

(By Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — The closing exercises for the year 1944-45 of the Protestant Consolidated School were held on Friday evening, September 28, at the town hall. Mr. R. W. Burry, chairman of the School Board, presided.

Chairman's Remarks

In his remarks the chairman mentioned the new heating arrangements for the building. He invited the parents to visit the school and confer with the teachers from time to time. Pupils were asked to co-operate in the National Clothing Collection now under way, by bringing articles to school where they would be collected for shipping. He thanked Dr. A. L'Allier for the loan of material and Mrs. Nickerson for assistance in training of the senior pupils. He said 68 pupils were in attendance, with four teachers. Miss Mills and Miss Bartlett were new members of the staff this year.

Guest Speaker

The guest speaker, the Rev. Dr. Malcolm Campbell, chairman of the Protestant Board of Education for Montreal for the past 15 years, was introduced by Mr. Burry, who had also served on Montreal School Boards and at Outremont. Dr. Campbell contrasted the schools of his boyhood with those of today. Formerly the process of education, he claimed, had consisted too often of cramming or memorizing details of information. Now the idea is more elastic, and education consists mainly in fitting pupils for the role in life they are best fitted to fill. The influences bearing on the child are (1) parents, (2) child associates outside the home, (3) teachers at school. These all mould the child physically, mentally and spiritually. The Parent-Teacher Associations, working harmoniously in many communities, have prevented the stunting in any particular phase, of many children's developments.

Creditable Program Given by Pupils

The proceedings opened with the singing of "O Canada". Various items on the evening's program were given as follows:

Two school songs, "I Love You, Canada" and "Lilli Marlene".

Primary exercises, by boys and girls.

Vocal duet, "Bell-Bottom Trousers", by Elizabeth Robertson and Jean MacAdam, the latter in sailor's costume.

Song, "I've Got Tuppence", by Donald Parker.

Play, "East to West", by Grades IV and V.

Vocal duet, "New Moon Over My Shoulder", by Velma and Eileen O'Brien.

Piano Solo, "Sleepy Lagoon", by Mary Robertson.

Distribution of prizes by the Rev. Wm. MacMillan, D.D., the Rev. T. A. Ball, the Rev. J. S. Nickerson, and Mr. Geo. Y. Deacon, Quebec Protestant Committee of Education.

Play, "The Guest of Honor", by pupils of the senior grades.

"God Save the King"; accompanist, Mary Robertson.

A collection received by Jean MacAdam and Elizabeth Robertson on behalf of the Junior Red Cross amounted to $13.35.

The pupils giving musical numbers, while young in years, were troupers of well known talent. The big surprise was the fine performance given by Frances McOuat, Margaret Robertson, Isobel Morrison, Stephen Blair and Kenneth Entwistle in the play "The Guest of Honor". The diction was good and movements natural. Kenneth Entwistle's portrayal of the aged veteran, feeble in frame but strong in spirit, and with a homely dialect, was quite convincing.

Prizes were awarded as follows:

Novel Theatre Fee, Clothing Donation

As a gesture in support of the National Clothing Collection in this community, a special program is announced by the Rex Theatre management, the fee of admission being 10 cents plus a garment or pair of shoes, as a donation to the collection.

With this and similar efforts on the part of organizations, collaborating in a well-organized drive for which Mayor Leopold Carrière as committee chairman — Lachute should do a worthy share in the Cross-Canada campaign.

Date of the theatre performance is Thursday next, October 11, with special pictures for the night, commencing at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Crafts Displayed, Annual Meeting of Historical Society

The eleventh annual meeting of the Argenteuil Historical Society was held in the Museum at Carillon last Saturday afternoon. The secretary, Miss Beatrice Robertson, read the minutes of the previous meeting and Miss Edith P. Simpson presented the financial statement, which showed a bank balance of $253.62.

As president, Dr. H. B. Cushing outlined the steady progress that has been made during the past year, gratefully acknowledging many gifts from interested donors. In kindly terms Dr. Cushing referred to the loss sustained in the death of three of the Society's executives, in the persons of Archibald Kains, W. J. Pitcairn and J. E. Walker, whose deaths had occurred since the last annual meeting.

The members of the Historical Society have every reason to feel proud of the Museum, for during the few years of its existence it has accumulated a vast display of antiques; these are of inestimable value to the younger generation as an educational medium, for through these exhibits may be traced the story of the pioneers and the handicaps they encountered.

The slate of officers was again re-elected, and warm thanks were expressed to Dr. Cushing, Miss Robertson and Miss E. Simpson for their very efficient work in the past years.

Interesting Talk And Display

As guest speaker on this occasion, Mr. Deane H. Russell, secretary of the Interdepartmental Committee on Canadian Hand Arts and Crafts, gave an outline of the numerous economic and cultural benefits to be enjoyed through the practice of useful crafts. The speaker explained that by far the greatest number of people interested in handcraft work these days, as always, are those who make things at home and primarily for use in their own homes. The next largest group might be those who are considered to be in the hand industries class, or those who make articles for sale. A smaller, but very important group, are the professional or studio craftsmen, who may command highest prices for their work as it is often original and displays higher standards of design and workmanship. Another important group — all those who design and make first models for industrial products — can do much towards raising the general standards of appreciation for well-designed and well made products.

After reviewing the educational, cultural, social, recreational and therapeutic benefits of practising crafts, Mr. Russell illustrated these values with a number of samples brought from Ottawa. To illustrate the home-production-for-home-use programs were examples of rug making, knitting, needlecraft and wood carving. Professional crafts were represented by pottery, metalwork, leatherwork, glassblowing and ivory; while recreational interests were suggested by leatherwork, wood carving, needlework, etc.

At the conclusion of Mr. Russell's talk, members of the Society and friends enjoyed a closer inspection of the work displayed.

Won Successes at Ontario Fall Fairs

At the Avonmore Fall Fair local Clydesdales won high honors last Friday. John Heatlie & Son, Ogdensburg farmers, took eight first awards and two seconds, with their pure bred Clydesdale horses. They also won Grand Champion among the mares on show.

At Maxville, Ontario, the previous week, these animals won three first prizes, also Grand Champion and Reserve Champion mare.

FARM TOPICS

Lift Restrictions on Farm Machinery

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced the removal of all ration restrictions on farm machinery and equipment, including tractors.

Dealers will be expected to honor outstanding ration certificates before filling orders from new accounts.

All production restrictions on farm machinery and equipment were lifted on August 20 and, while no immediate substantial increase in production is expected, the industry is planning to increase production as manpower and raw materials become available. It is expected that in the current production year supplies available to Canadian consumers will be 20 percent greater than in the previous year.

It is expected that the implement dealers will give preference to the requirements of returning servicemen, and farmers are asked to confine their purchases to those items which are most urgently required.

Warns Farmers Against Risky Investments

The Hon. L. Barre, Minister of Agriculture, recently urged that farmers keep a careful watch on savings accumulated during the past few years. "The experience of the past two great wars should serve as a lesson to us. We are all aware of the huge amounts of money which have been lost in problematical undertakings, either fantastic or non-existent. Farmers have lost in such rackets money running into millions of dollars," he said.

"The demons of speculation", the Minister added, "would take advantage of the post-war period to rifle the hard-earned savings of the farmer. They may even have begun to operate. Investments in new companies yielding fancy returns of 10, 20, and even 30% will be alluringly dangled before credulous country folk. I do not question the right of anyone to take a chance but, as Minister of Agriculture, it is my duty to advise farmers — be cautious and look for absolutely sound investments; and the best one of all still remains, the soil, your land, the farm."

1½ Million Eggs to England Last Week

The largest shipment of eggs ever sent overseas from an eastern port, left Montreal last week for England when 75 carloads of 720 cases containing 30 doz. eggs each were heaved aboard the freighter "Coralis". The eggs were the produce of Canadian farms and were laid during the months of April and May and placed in cold storage at a temperature of 30°F. Six carloads were from the Montreal district, one from Three Rivers and one from Quebec.

This is our first attempt at supplying Europe with treated refrigerated eggs, which are classed "B", large and medium. They were inspected and re-classified when taken from storage; cracked and spoiled eggs (which, from Quebec, formed barely 7%) were discarded. Each egg received a coating of parrafin to prevent evaporation and to prolong its keeping qualities. On board ship, eggs will be kept at a temperature of 50°F. and Federal Inspector Mr. Cochrane will be in charge of this precious cargo. He will sojourn two years in England to supervise future shipments and to advertise Canadian eggs.

This undertaking of shipping cold-storage eggs should prove beneficial to all poultry-keepers.

Rotary to Welcome District Governor

Douglas Silverston

At its meeting next Thursday, October 11, the Rotary Club of Brownsburg will welcome Mr. Douglas Silverston, Governor of the 170th District of Rotary International. This District is truly International, inasmuch as its 35 member clubs are located in the United States and in Canada.

Mr. Silverston, a graduate of Oxford University, England, and a teacher by profession, was professor of Mathematics at Loyola University. At the outbreak of the war, he offered his services to the Royal Canadian Air Force, and since 1940 has been Chief Instructor at the R.C.A.F. station at St. Eugene, training students under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan. He is the immediate Past-President of the Rotary Club of Hawkesbury. During his term as Governor of this District, Mr. Silverston will stress the needs of Youth's Service to combat Juvenile Delinquency

Mr. Silverston is one of the 141 Governors of Rotary International who are supervising the activities of some 5,400 Rotary Clubs with nearly a quarter of a million members in more than 59 countries throughout the world.

Despite the war, this world-wide service organization continued to grow in numbers and in strength. Since July 1, 1944, 219 new Rotary Clubs have been organized in 14 countries of the Americas, and in Australia, China, England, Finland, Guam, Iceland, India, New Zealand, Northern Ireland, Scotland, Sweden, Syria, Union of South Africa and Wales.

Year's Work Ahead For Minesweepers

London — At the moment there are still a hundred British minesweepers in service. They will have to carry on their hazardous work for at least another year in order to clear Britain's shores of mines. The Royal Navy itself laid down 100,000 anchored mines in home waters, and the enemy also managed to lay a large number. At the present time, about 300 to 350 mines are being rendered harmless each week, but the work may have to be interrupted during the winter. Thus the main task of clearing Britain's shores of dangerous mines will probably not be completed until next summer.

It's the man who looks ahead who gets ahead.

GOOD management . . . essential to successful farming, as to any business enterprise . . . is largely a matter of timely marketing and careful spending . . . waiting for the time when it is most favourable to buy.

We all want things now . . . things we have not been able to get for the past several years. Some of these things are necessities . . . some are things that will contribute to our comforts and pleasures.

Eventually, these things will be more plentiful. By waiting a little longer we will help to keep prices of things we need at lower levels and we will buy at better advantage when we do buy.

Meantime we can invest our savings in the safest securities obtainable . . . Victory Bonds. More Victory Bonds will be offered this Fall. They pay 3% interest . . . double bank interest . . . and they are "liquid capital".

If we need cash in an emergency any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time. And any bank will loan money on Victory Bonds.

The Ninth Victory Loan will be our last opportunity to buy Victory Bonds for a whole year, so buy double this time—the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

FARMERS CAN BUY VICTORY BONDS ON CONVENIENT DEFERRED PAYMENTS THROUGH ANY BANK

. . . just sign a short form letter which Victory Loan Salesmen carry (banks have copies) ordering the bank to buy Victory Bonds for you. Pay 5% when ordering and the balance at any time during the next 12 months. The interest the bonds earn pays the interest on the bank loan.

Thanksgiving !

THANKSGIVING, this year, is a season rich with a special significance. Deep in our hearts we are vividly aware of it — even though, consciously, we may associate the festival still with the earth's perennial bounties, and blessings bestowed upon us in the wondrous ways of Nature.

With the Thanksgiving theme this year, comes a simultaneous appeal — a heart-rending cry for clothing, that simplest of elementary necessities which our fellow creatures by the millions are sadly lacking. Could anything more thoroughly impress OUR cause for thankfulness ! We in Canada have known absolutely nothing of deprivation inflicted at the hands of an inhuman foe. . . . Can one sanely contemplate the sufferings of the European peoples . . . can one read, untroubled, the horrors now being exposed by survivors of the infamous prison camps . . . can we be aware of these things, without an inward surge of gratitude that Providence spared us such indignities.?

Thanksgiving. . . One year ago the world was groaning still beneath a malignant blight. The tide had barely turned. There was a ray of hope, that civilization would soon be rid of the monsters gnawing at its vitals. The struggle was long and painful. The slim ray broadened, and brightened, and then the light of Victory dawned. . . First in Europe. . . Then in the Pacific. . . And at last, Peace !

Thanksgiving, 1945, has a meaning more momentous than any we may see again. So, for the turn of events in this past year, let us be ever grateful —let us be ever humble — let us be ever ready to share our fortunate lot.

Lady, Relax !

THE PSYCHOLOGISTS and psychiatrists have frightened us so badly that sometimes the returned veteran wonders if it is he, or we, who are not quite normal ! — This remark was made recently by Doris Hedges, in a Montreal radio address on "The Veteran as A Human Being". . . . . An amusing article in The New Yorker magazine puts it very well; it says in part: "A man can endure plenty of things, and can adjust to many situations, but he can't endure being treated with studied intelligence by any other members of his society. A husband would rather be caught in the beam of an enemy searchlight than in the awful glare of an understanding woman. Our advice to girls with husbands coming back from the war, is to relax !"

Turn Back the Page

NO BRIGHTER ILLUSTRATION is provided of the way in which Canada is returning to peacetime thinking than the pages of Canada's newspapers in the last few months. They reflect strongly and happily the manner in which editors, quick to sense readers' changed line of thought, turn from the record of war to stories we used to read in those glad days before 1939 when atomic power was a Sunday-supplement dream.

There may be a bit too much about gunmen and bank holdups in the papers these days, but it is more than balanced by the items we read about city council meetings, nice old ladies reaching their 100th birthdays, of record-size tomatoes being produced and young DFC's coming home and going back to school.

There was little room for that sort of news when overseas events filled front pages to the exclusion of all but the most important events from the small centres in Canada. The datelines were European and Asiatic, their content a hard recitation of grim facts, as war news must be.

Times have changed. True, news of the occupation of defeated countries still predominates but since VE-Day a steadily increasing number of stories appear that are not important, don't concern war but still interest every newspaper reader in a happy way war news never could.

There was the occasion in Ontario shortly after the European war ended when a small boy was lost in the woods. It would have been dismissed in few words during wartime. In peace it was worth columns in metropolitan newspapers. Publishers sent planes hunting for the boy, stirring up interest that may be credited with his rescue.

In the long days of peace we hope newspapers will have much of that "unimportant" sort of news to publish — the first robin, a record-size pumpkin, another world's end predictor, many golden weddings, a new egg-laying record, centenarian interviews. Let them come. We love them.

THIS OLD WORLD has had the ice age, the stone age, and the machine age, to mention only a few. The present era may go down in history as the Strike Age, for there are strikes all over the country and in every kind of business, with every kind of excuse thrown into the ring. — Durham (Ont.) Chronicle

Where State of War Continues

NOWADAYS we are being jostled by problems of peace. Almost everything we read, all the utterances of public men, tend to emphasize the fact that the war is now history. . . Yet, the Ninth Victory Loan which will be opened to the public on October 22, is definitely a war loan.

There exists no magic wand to waft military forces from the scenes of battle back to their home surroundings. Unfortunately, long after the enemy cries surrender, the cost of war goes on. It is estimated, for example, that Canada must raise about $25,000,000 during the present year to provide medical attention and hospitalization for the men coming back wounded and sick. Last year, members of the House of Commons were told that $750,000,000 would be needed to pay gratuities and take care of re-establishment credits of men returning from battle. One year having passed since then, the cost of that undertaking has now reached about $900,000,000. In addition to all that, the Canadian people must meet the cost of bringing the troops home, the maintenance of our forces of occupation in Germany. Pay of the men who are waiting demobilization goes on. Cheques to dependents keep going out until the soldier has his discharge.

There are heavy domestic expenditures, made heavier by the unprecedented demands of reconstruction in the country, included in the total of the Ninth Victory Loan objective. But of this we can be sure. The major portion of the money in this Loan is needed to cover the cost of war.

"Death Stood at Attention"

A CATACLYSM in the history of humanity could have found no description more arresting than these words of Churchill, on the subject of the atomic bomb : "Mankind has never been in this position before. Without having improved appreciably in virtue or enjoying wiser guidance, it has got into its hands for the first time the tools by which it can unfailingly accomplish its own extermination. That is the point in human destinies to which all the glories and toils of men have at last led them. Death stands at attention, obedient, expectant, ready to serve, ready to shear away the peoples en masse; ready, if called on, to pulverize without hope of repair what is left of civilization. He awaits only the word of command. He awaits from a frail bewildered being, long his victim — now for one occasion only — his Master."

An Obligation to Your Child

HERE IS a short story — concerning a once happy family that was struck by a disease, a now preventable disease.

It is a true story of a family tragedy before the advent of toxoid which prevents diptheria. It could have happened to any family, and it could happen today to any family in which the children have not been given toxoid protection against that dread killer — diphtheria.

A farm family lived in a somewhat isolated district. There were five happy children and the parents worked hard to provide for their little ones. . . . Suddenly, two of the children developed sore throats. The mother, not knowing they had something other than common colds with sore glands, treated them as most mothers would do in an out-of-the-way place, where doctors are seldom seen except in cases of severe illness.

All the mother's ministrations proved ineffective, however, and the two—a boy of 10 and a girl of 12 — grew steadily worse and the other three became ill also. . . Finally, a doctor was called. The first two were dead by the time he arrived. He found diphtheria was the cause and that the other three also had the disease. In less than a week they were dead, too.

Toxoid would have prevented diphtheria having hit that happy family — the way it can prevent a similar tragedy from striking at any number of Canadian homes where the children have not been immunized against the disease.

—The object of our story is to draw attention to the current observance of National Immunization Week, sponsored by the Health League of Canada (September 30 to October 6).

The Health League seeks to prevent illness through prevention, and toxoid will prevent diphtheria. There are likewise immunizing agents for the prevention of other communicable diseases, such as whooping cough and scarlet fever. Also, vaccination must be kept up if smallpox is to remain where it is — eliminated.

A DISTINCTIVE feature of a rural community — remarks one of our exchanges — is the way telephone and electric light poles are utilized as community bulletin boards. In all seasons, brightly colored posters decorate the poles. They may announce a hockey match or an auction sale, a concert or a society tea. Long after the event has come and gone, a remnant of the poster can be seen fluttering from the pole, reminding the passers-by of the event.

Gleanings from Ottawa

Canada Too Modest?

● I have been looking at a map showing the distribution of Mutual Aid by Canada to the nations of the world. It made me wonder whether perhaps we are too modest about our part in the War. Just the other day I heard Dr. T. V. Soong, premier of China, telling newspapermen that we are not a boastful people, and that we are inclined to hide our light under a bushel. Certainly his words of gratitude to Canadians were heartening.

But modest or not, we would do well to study Mutual Aid, as provided by Canada, and take pride in the part that we have played.

* * *

Far-Reaching Aid

● To return to the map, which is part of the second annual report of Mutual Aid. Radiating from Canada are strong black lines which denote the paths Mutual Aid has travelled. Great Britain, France, Tunisia, Algeria, French West Africa, Libya, Egypt, Iraq, Iran, India, Ceylon, the Cameroons, Tanganyika, Rhodesia, French Equatorial Africa, the West Indies, New Zealand, the Solomon Islands, New Guinea, Australia, the Philippine Islands, China and Soviet Russia. These were the names I saw.

The end of Mutual Aid, September 2, does not mean the end or delay in the flow of essential civilian supplies to our allies, as Finance Minister Ilsley pointed out in the House of Commons. The Mutual Aid report showed a total expenditure from its inception to March 31, 1945, of $1,715,945,000.

Most of the countries receiving Mutual Aid will require credits to obtain what they need from this country, and negotiations are now proceeding.

Just as the path that Mutual Aid has travelled is a diverse one, so have been the activities of this great contribution of Canada.

* * *

Goods, Not Dollars

● As the report points out, Mutual Aid is a device which has removed the dollar sign from obstructing the flow of Canadian aid to battlefronts. Not dollars, but goods, were sent. Bullets delivered under Mutual Aid to the armies of Great Britain or Russia can hardly be called Canadian gifts to these countries, since the final recipients of the bullets were the enemies of Canada.

Another striking feature of the report is the part that Canadian inventions played in final victory. Canada, for instance, was the first to develop and put into use an accurate anti-aircraft fire control radar set. Another instance: the Canadian-developed universal trestle, an intermediate support for the Bailey bridge, lessened the difficulty in crossing very wide rivers.

The United Kingdom, of course, benefitted greatly, through Mutual Aid. But did you know that Canadian Mutual Aid to the Soviet Union during the fiscal year 1944-45 amounted to $97,633,000, or more than three times that of the previous fiscal year?

And did you know that drought in Australia severely affected that continent and New Zealand, and that in consequence Canada has supplied New Zealand with wheat?

Mutual Aid has had its part to play in the liberation and reestablishment of France. Goods and services provided to France under Mutual Aid during the past year amounted to about $17,552,000.

Under the Mutual Aid agreement with India, military vehicles and wheat have been contributed to the war effort of that country. These goods were shipped largely in vessels owned and operated by Canada.

Mutual Aid has also had an additional task in the procurement of Canadian supplies for UNRRA.

These are just random jottings from the Mutual Aid report, but they do indicate to us the scope of Canada's war effort.

Praise Agricultural Scientists of Canada

"Our prairie farmers should be grateful indeed to our agricultural scientists" says a recent issue of the Searle Grain Company Bulletin in a message of thanks to the agricultural scientists of Canada. "If ever there has been a season conducive to the multiplication of rust spores," states the Bulletin, "it is this season. Generous rainfall and high humidity prevailed over the Red River Valley in Manitoba, and at a time when rust usually had its onset. From the Red River Valley rust used to spread rapidly over Manitoba and the greater part of Saskatchewan, destroying wheat crops in its wake. Thanks to the development by Canadian scientists of rust resistant wheats, the prairie farmers this year will suffer practically no loss from wheat stem rust."

Writing in similar manner in the Weekly Market Review in praise of "Our Invaluable Scientists", Dr. H. G. L. Strange, points out that "these rust-resistant wheats were introduced by plant breeders, plant pathologists, and other agricultural scientists, whose valuable work is made possible by the institutions with which these scientific workers are associated. Our farmers, and all of us indeed, are therefore extremely grateful for the splendid work which agricultural scientists and their institutions have done. The comparatively small sums of money spent by the Governments on maintaining Experimental Farms, Agricultural Departments of the Universities, and the Rust Research Laboratory, have certainly returned to our farmers and to this country of Canada immense annual dividends".

CLOTHES FOR EUROPE

One may think that with the end of the war appeals of one kind and another would cease, but such is not likely to happen for some time to come. Thus it is that an appeal for used clothing is being made during the month of October. It is such a worthwhile cause that we feel sure it will receive a ready response from all persons in the country. — Huntingdon Gleaner

A 70-Million-Dollar Pay Cheque

The pulp and paper industry's annual payroll of 70 million dollars in the mills is an important contribution to the nation's stability. It's a lot of money! It is the largest peacetime payroll of any Canadian manufacturing industry, earned by the 37,000 men and women employed in pulp and paper mills alone.

Regularly, every week or two, they know their pay envelope will come to them and they can plan their living and expenditures on the basis of steady employment.

It is good to note, too, that the weekly wage rate in this industry is considerably higher than the average paid in all major manufacturing industries.

The $70,000,000 mill payroll does not include an even greater amount currently being paid to about 150,000 seasonal woods workers.

* THE PULP AND PAPER INDUSTRY OF CANADA

*80 companies, small and large, with 103 mills from coast to coast.

BIRTH

BATES — At Dr. Smith's Hospital, Hawkesbury, on September 29, 1945, to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bates, of Lachute (née Helen McCullough), a daughter, Jean Lillian. Both well.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

McFARLANE — Thanks are tendered by Mr. John and Miss Emma McFarlane, brother and sister of the late Miss Elizabeth McFarlane, to the many who attended her funeral and to all friends who in other ways expressed their tribute and sympathy.

IN MEMORIAM

CHAPMAN — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandma, who passed away September 30, 1944. — Ever remembered by William, Hazel and Lillian.

"Memories are treasures no one can steal,
Death is a heartache no one can heal;
Some may forget you, now you are gone,
But we will remember, no matter how long."

SILVERSON — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Geo. H. Silverson, who passed away October 7, 1944. — Always remembered by his loving wife and family.

"A shadow rests upon our home,
We miss his smiling face,
Where'er we turn, where'er we go,
We see his vacant place.
God is good, He gives us strength
To bear our heavy loss,
He is the only one who knows
How bitter is our loss."

STANIFORTH — In loving memory of our dear father, who died September 26, 1940. — Ever remembered by Roy and Clara.

"Quietly and quickly came the call;
His sudden death surprised us all;
A sudden change in a moment fell,
Without a word to say farewell."

IN MEMORIAM

CHAPMAN — In loving memory of our dear mother, who died September 30, 1944. — Missed, loved and longed for always by her daughters, Sarah and Charlotte, and son, Albert.

"You can only have one mother,
Patient, kind and true;
No other friend in all this world
Will be as true to you.
For all her loving kindness
She asked nothing in return.
If all the world deserts you,
To your mother you can turn.
So all we can do, dear Mother,
Is to go and tend your grave
And leave behind a token of love
To the best mother God ever gave".

CHAPMAN — In loving memory of a dear sister-in-law and aunt, Edith Coombes, who died September 30, 1944. — Always remembered, sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beattie and family.

KILPATRICK—In loving memory of my dear father, George Kilpatrick, who passed away October 2, 1939. — Ever remembered by his daughter, Phyllis.

"Some may forget you,
Now that you are gone,
But I will remember, Dad
No matter how long."

MONCRIEFF— In loving memory of dear father and grandfather, who passed away October 1, 1940. Ever remembered by Carrie and family.

"You live with us in memory still,
Not just today, but always will."

SILVERSON — In loving memory of George H. Silverson, who passed away October 7, 1944. — Ever remembered by his daughter Eva, Frank and Alex.

"There is a sad but sweet remembrance,
There is a memory fond and true,
There is a token of love, Father,
And a heartache still for you".

TOMALTY — In loving memory of dear mother, who passed away October 4, 1942. — Always remembered by her sons and daughters.

"Loving memories never die;
As months roll on and years go by,
Deep in our hearts a memory is kept
Of one we loved and will never forget."

Army Trucks for Quebec Farmers

Four-Wheel-Drive Machines To Be Available, Says Farm Forums Sec'y

Farmers of this district who have been casting envious eyes at military motor vehicles will soon have an opportunity of securing surplus four-wheel-drive vehicles through the Quebec Council of Farm Forums, it was announced by R. Alex Sim, Secretary of the Council. Arrangements for distribution of these trucks were made jointly by the Quebec Council of Farm Forums, Union Catholique des Cultivateurs, Quebec Department of Agriculture and the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. Details of the means of securing the four-wheel-drive trucks will be announced at a Farm Forum rally at Lachute on October 11.

Another interesting feature of the Rally will be an address by Ralph Staples, National Secretary of the Farm Forums, who will speak on "The Future of Agriculture and the Importance of Farm Organization".

Memorial Rink For Vankleek Hill

Vankleek Hill — A campaign to raise $18,000 for a Memorial Rink in Vankleek Hill to commemorate those who served in World Wars I and II started last week. After the First Great War the people of the community were not given the opportunity of expressing in a tangible way their appreciation of those who had sacrificed so much during the war. The second World War having drawn to a close, it was felt by citizens of the town that the time had come when a fitting memorial should be erected. And it was considered no memorial could be more appropriate than a covered rink, which would serve the community as a rink in the winter time and as an auditorium during the summer months.

An application for shares has already been received from a former resident of Vankleek Hill now residing in California.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Ladies' Groups in St. Andrews Churches

St. Andrews East — The Women's Guild of the United Church held their monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon, September 26, at the manse.

The business period, conducted by the president, Mrs. Lawson Taylor, consisted mainly of plans for a supper to be held on Friday evening, October 19, with a sale of needlework. Talent money earned by members during the summer was reported by the treasurer. Mrs. Ed. Morrison, a new member of the congregation, was welcomed. A picnic tea was served.

• • •

The W.A. of Christ Church were entertained at the home of Mrs. John Fraser, Jr., on Thursday afternoon, September 27. It was decided to hold a tea and sale of needlework on Saturday afternoon, December 1. After the business session refreshments were served by Mrs. Wm. Antle.

"Rally Day" Observance At Brownsburg United

Brownsburg — The Rally Day service of the Sunday School was extended over from Sunday, September 23, to last Sunday, when the school as a body gathered with the congregation in the morning service, to observe a special program based on the "Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom". The superintendent of the School, Mr. C. J. Wheeler, conducted the program leading up to the Dedication of parents, teachers, officers and others in cooperation with the school for more fruitful service. A number of prizes were also distributed for efficiency during the year.

On the previous Sunday the Rally Day missionary offering was made by the Sunday School, attending in a body to hear a message from Rev. R. G. Burgoyne, of Montreal — who, with Mr. A. Hamilton, also of Montreal, was the guest preacher at the service. Mr. Hamilton was soloist for the occasion.

Y.P.U. Meeting

Mr. Linton W. Armstrong, of Lachute, was guest speaker at the Y.P.U. meeting on Monday, his topic being "The League of Nations and World Peace." Mr. Armstrong so "modernized" his subject as to appeal to the very youngest of the group. Mr. Russell Graham will be the speaker next Monday evening.

Anglican Deanery Meets Representatives of Budget Committee for Diocese

A meeting of the Deanery of St. Andrews, to confer with the Budget Committee of the Diocese of Montreal, gathered in the Presbyterian Church hall on Tuesday evening.

The meeting was convened by Rural Dean W. J. Ellis of Rawdon at the request of the Lord Bishop of Montreal. The Budget Committee was represented by the Venerable Archdeacon J. F. Morris, B.A., B.D., R. W. Louthood and C. K. Howard.

The clergy present were the Rev. E. G. May, Ste. Agathe, the Rev. A. E. Hawes, Grenville, and the Rev. C. R. Lang, Lachute. Lay representatives were present from Grenville, Calumet, Kilmar Brownsburg and Lachute.

The purpose of the meeting was to give the Budget Committee an opportunity to explain to the lay representatives the financial setup of the Diocese and the way in which the capital funds are administered, and to present the needs of the Diocese.

It was pointed out that the Church of England is a "family" and that the Budget Committee does not assess each parish; it knows the financial needs of the Diocese for the extension of Christ's Kingdom and it apportions to each parish a share of the total amount of money that must be raised. — This is not an "assessment" but an apportionment according to the known financial means of the parish.

The task of endeavoring to meet the apportionment in each parish should be regarded by every member of the Anglican Communion as a privilege — a way of sharing in the work of the church.

All present welcomed this opportunity to hear representatives of the Budget Committee, and went away with a greater appreciation for those who handle the financial task of the Diocese, and with a determination to do their best to support the Committee in its endeavors.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the Ladies' Guild of Lachute and Brownsburg.

Christian Endeavor

The regular meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society was held Monday in the hall of the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church.

The meeting, presided over by Miss Ruth Orsborn, featured the subject, "Christianizing our Ideas of Right and Wrong". The Rev. E. Orsborn in presenting his talk on this subject, stressed that in our thoughts and actions we should seek Christ's standard as our goal, and in this we should take particular care to our thoughts, for wrong thoughts can be more harmful than wrong actions.

It was felt by those present, that the ideas expressed were particularly pertinent because in so many cases human beings consider that Christian effort ends in right actions only.

Please note that, as the coming week-end is a holiday, no meeting of the group will be held Monday, October 8. The next meeting will take place the following Monday, October 15.

C.G.I.T. Meeting

The C.G.I.T. held their regular meeting on Monday afternoon, with 14 members present. In the devotional period Lewina Bradford read the scripture, and business of the group was brought before the members.

The affiliation service will be held on October 9. All mothers of the C.G.I.T. girls and members of the W.M.S. of the church are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

"Taps" was sung in conclusion of the meeting.

Presbyterian Y.P.S.

The regular weekly meeting of the Presbyterian Young People's Society was held last evening in the Sunday School hall. President Ruth Orsborn presided, Helen McFaul and Bob Reynolds participating in the worship service.

Seven members were able to attend the Sunday evening service concluding the recent Fall Rally activities. Joseph Proctor, president of the Y.P.S. Union was to have given an account of the Rally, but was unable to be present; this report will be given at a later date.

Next week the Society will hold a social meeting, to which all members and young people of the church are invited; the meeting will start at 8.30 p.m.

TRADITION WINS

Ottawa (CP) — Meatless Tuesdays notwithstanding, haggis will be served across Canada on St. Andrew's Day, Tuesday, Nov. 20, the Prices Board has decided. Confronted with the issue between haggis and a meatless day, the Board decided rationing would bow to the traditional Scottish dish.

Big Job Awaits Dollars Invested In Canada's Ninth Victory Loan

Argenteuil Organized to Carry Its Weight in Rehabilitation Financing

Victory Loan headquarters in Lachute has announced the appointment of Philippe Valois as co-chairman of the Argenteuil Public Relations Committee, with T. D. Titman. Mr. Valois, well-known local resident, succeeds Georges Héon, K.C., M.P., who has been elected to the House of Commons in Ottawa since the Eighth Victory Loan.

The Argenteuil Advisory Commitee is composed of the following: Geo. H. Héon, K.C., M.P., Hon. Geo. E. Dansereau, M.L.A., Gilbert E. Arnold, Gilbert E. Ayers, H. G. Brannan, Leopold Carrière, James Donaldson, J. S. Giles, Dr. R. B. Henry, John Irwin, James W. McGibbon, A. G. Munich, Arthur J. Quinn, Col. J. E. Seale, J. Smart, E. W. Smith and C. J. Staniforth.

Canada's Ninth Victory Loan campaign will feature the two-loans-in-one appeal, the aim being to raise all borrowing requirements for one year. The proceeds will be used to finance commitments arising out of the war, rehabilitation of the Armed Forces and the requirements of post-war reconstruction.

Victory has been won; the end of hostilities is the end of many war costs. But we now face new tasks which bring new needs. Thus total outlays and borrowing requirements will continue at high levels.

For instance, men in hundreds of thousands must be brought back to Canada from overseas. . . . The wounded and the sick must be restored to health. Veterans must be given a good start in civilian life. Many will be trained for new jobs. . . . War service gratuities and re-establishment credits will be paid. . . . People in war-torn countries need food, clothing medical and other supplies to relieve suffering and distress. The money Canada will spend and lend for these purposes is an investment in the future peace and prosperity of the world. . . . Then, there are outlays of various kinds to clean up the war program and to start us on our way towards normal peacetime living.

These are reasons why Canada's borrowing requirements for the next year will remain at a high level even though direct war costs have declined. These are reasons why Canadians are being asked to continue their present savings program for another year.

Plans to win the peace, plans for high employment and prosperity in the days to come, are now being laid. Continued saving over the next year will help these plans succeed.

War production has come to an end. Production for civilian use is on the way up. But, the supply of new things to buy at current prices is still very much less than the amount of spendable money in the hands of Canadians. As long as this condition remains, there will be upward pressure on prices, pressure which should lead to inflation, then to mass unemployment, misery and hardship.

Spending increasees this pressure, saving reduces it. By helping to maintain stability, saving will help us to win the peace. — Sign Your Name to Victory. Buy Ninth Victory Loan Bonds.

Recommend for Town Bus Line Given by Council

The regular session of Lachute Town Council was held last evening in the council chamber, with Mayor Leopold Carrière, Aldermen Alex Bothwell, R. A. Dumais, J. R. Paquette, Wilfrid Morissette, Henri Trichard, Gilbert Ayers, Omer Laurin, Leonard Bédard and Stanley Holt in attendance.

Télesphore Robinson asked the Council for a recommentdation to operate a bus service in the Town of Lachute. The recommendation was granted for a trial period of one year.

Accounts were approved for a total of $2,404.42.

A building permit was granted R. A. Giles to erect a cement block garage at the rear of his apartment house on Main Street.

A petition was read from property owners of Main Street requesting Council to extend the sewer line from Barron's Bridge to the Fire Station along the North River, in order to avoid the flooding of cellars every spring. The Mayor was authorized to secure advice from an engineer as to whether the extension of this sewer would remedy the situation.

The Mayor was also authorized to purchase a heavy-duty truck for snow-plowing of the streets.

"The Influence of A Radiant Personality", United Y.P.U. Topic

The program at the Lachute United Y.P.U. last evening was under the direction of the Missions convenor, Mrs. Edith Clark, whose theme, "The influence of a Radiant Personality", portrayed the "missionary spirit" right here at home by means of our own personality.

"Reflecting light", said the convenor, "is one of the Christian's first duties, not through conscious effort, but by achieving such quiet serenity and poise, and joyous confidence, that the divine can shine through and reveal itself to others".

Speaking on the influence of one's personality on others, Mrs. Clark said "Whether we realize it or not, each of us emanates some intangible influence either to build up or to destroy. We cannot enter a room without, however slightly, changing the atmosphere, making those present glad or sorry for our presence".

Quoting G. K. Chesterton, who said, "There is the great man who makes every man feel small, but the really great man is the man who makes every man feel great", the convenor gave many examples of our attitude to others and of the radiant personality.

In conclusion, Mrs. Clark said: "In Jesus Christ, more than in any one else who ever lived, all these qualities were combined, making him veritably "the light of the world". What dignity it would give to our lives if we could be used thus by God for the fulfilment of His purposes. A spirit of cheerful confidence with a tender response to human needs, is an infallible sign of the Christian life".

The convenor was thanked by President Jack Gormas. Next week, the Fellowship convenor, Miss Elva Ness, will direct the program.

It was decided by the Union that a clothing drive will be made in co-operation with the local organizations. Members are requested to make every effort, and members of the United Church are asked to contact Y.P.U. members if they are unable to deposit their parcels at receiving stations as announced by the Mayor.

Japanese Barge Camouflaged as Island

This low level photograph, taken from an R.A.F. Sunderland operating from an advance base in Burma, shows how the Japanese camouflaged their barges in the Gulf of Siam in an attempt to avoid air attack. This one was supposed to represent a tree covered isle off the coast. These barges, sailing and motor vessels, attempted to run supplies to the Japanese armies in Siam.

Dental Health

Q. — What can be done to cure halitosis ?

A. — Halitosis, better known as bad breath, is a disagreeable topic for discussion, but its actual presence is even more objectionable. It can be caused by a number of conditions, such as: an unclean condition of the mouth; infected tonsils; infected nasal membrane; diseased sinuses; certain diseases of the lungs; digestive disorders, etc. Obviously the cause must first be determined before the condition can be remedied. This may call for the help of both the physician and the dentist. One of the most frequent causes of bad breath is an unclean mouth. If bad breath persists after the mouth has been placed in a healthy condition by the dentist, a visit to the physician is most certainly advised.

Thanksgiving !

Thanksgiving time is drawing near,
A happy season of the year
That fills our hearts with love and cheer
And thanks to God, so kind and good
Who gives us shelter, clothes and food.

Oh, praise to God, whose Son on high
So loved all sinners he would die
That we might love and glorify
His priceless name forever.

Then, thank Him now and praise His name,
His gifts of joy and goodness claim;
For worldly peace and bounteous love —
For all His gifts, praise heav'n above.

Educat'n Facilities Offered to Veterans

By M. V. Trayers

If you are a veteran and consider that you should continue at school or enter a university, it is advisable to contact the school or university and obtain particulars of the courses which are open to you and the subjects necessary for entrance and continuation. Then see your Rehabilitation Committee to have them send you before a counselor. You have 15 months in which to qualify and some rehabilitation schools are giving a year's high school work in three months. All training and education is pointed towards a job, so make up your mind and aim straight. If you take up correspondence classes or even high school, pay your own way, don't use up your rehabilitation money. You may need it when you start at the university. Remember, if you use up all your credit, you are no longer eligible to benefit under the Land Act for a small holding, etc. Strange as it may seem, you may take full time training and still be able to avail yourself of the Land Act benefits under P.C. 5210. You get a living allowance of $60 a month if single, $80 if married, and you may earn up to $40 a month without decreasing your allowance. You get free medical care while taking your course. Married men taking vocational training away from home are allowed $5 per week extra.

Some recent changes were made, such as allowing a veteran to use his re-establishment credit to go into partnership in any active business. Your partner need not be a veteran. You can now use the full $4800 and the $1200 granted for the purchase of equipment to purchase a farm for $6,000. . . . Here is a note to those out of the service for some time. "There is a large fund built up at Ottawa belonging to veterans who have not claimed their gratuities or re-establishment credits". Check with your nearest local committee; you may have some coming.

THE CHALLENGE OF AN EMPTY PLATE*

* BEEF – 140,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.
The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on for Canada 225,000,000 lbs. this year.
We supplied only 85,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

* PORK – 100,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.
The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on Canada for 450,000,000 lbs. this year.
We supplied only 350,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

* CANNED MEAT – 70,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.
The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on Canada for 114,000,000 lbs. this year.
We supplied only 44,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

In most liberated European countries, there is a desperate shortage of meat.

As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can — and will — help to meet the emergency.

The job will not be finished at the year's end. Food scarcities in Europe will continue until the next harvest.

★ ★ ★

This year, Europe is relying on Canada for a minimum of 789 million pounds of beef, pork and canned meat.

Up to the end of August, only 479 million pounds had been sent.

How soon can we bridge the gap?

Livestock marketings are normally at their heaviest in the last four months of the year.

If we are to help feed the hungry peoples of devastated Europe, this is the time to make our greatest effort.

★ ★ ★

To do our part, we must reduce our own consumption of meat and also assure that everyone in Canada gets a fair share.

That is why rationing is necessary.

MEAT RATIONING ADDS TO EVERYONE'S WORK

The producer who slaughters, the retailer who sells, the consumer who buys and eats—they all play a vital part.

AS A CONSUMER, HERE IS HOW YOU CAN CO-OPERATE

1. Try to plan your meat purchases before leaving home by determining what cuts you intend to buy and their approximate weights.
2. Make sure you have enough valid coupons and tokens to cover your proposed purchases by referring to the Consumer Coupon Value Chart and the Coupon and Token Calculator. Copies may be obtained from your Local Ration Board or Ration Branch.
3. Know the dates your "M" coupons become valid.
4. Do not buy more meat than you really need.
5. Avoid shopping at rush hours.
6. Be patient. Remember — your butcher may have inexperienced help.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

Diversified Topics Occupy Meetings Of W.I. Branches

Pioneer branch of the W.I. held their meeting September 12 with an attendance of 15. The members stood in silence in memory of their late president, Mrs. James Drew, who died in August. Letters were read from Mrs. Smallman concerning W.I. work. Mrs. Bazinet read an outline from the provincial convenor on Health and Welfare, also an appeal from the War Services convenor for used clothing, and an outline on Publicity. The members were piecing a quilt during the meeting to put in a box for the occupied countries. The 1st vice-president, Mrs. G. Armstrong, was unanimously named to fill the vacancy caused by the president's death. A poem, "What have we done today?" was read, also articles on "The possibilities of Penicillin" and "Career, the New War Front" were read by Mrs. Bazinet. The roll-call was "Does it pay to work and leave the child behind?" This branch also welcomed a new family in the community, Mr. and Mrs. C. Leishman. Mrs. Leishman and two former members joined the group. Plans were made to collect clothing.

Frontier branch held their meeting September 4. An address on "Changing Phases of Education" was given by Mr. D. Staniforth, principal of Brownsburg School. Short articles on Education were given in roll-call form by the members. A contest was held, naming prominent men of today. Prizes were given; and Mrs. L. Gaston and Mrs. A. Graham were equal.

Jerusalem-Bethany branch held their meeting September 12th with an attendance of 14. The meeting opened with the Mary Stewart Collect and prayer. The roll-call was "A Rule on Etiquette". One dollar was voted to the Foundation Fund; $2.10 was voted to buy stamps from the F.W.I.C. The convenor of Education read a paper entitled "Don't blame the teacher".

Lakefield branch held their meeting September 4, with 11 members and two visitors present. There was a raffle of a cushion, which was won by Mrs. Ken Robson. A letter was read from Mrs. Smallman. Arrangements were made for a banquet to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the branch. Mrs. L. Westgate was the winner of a spelling contest.

Morin Heights meeting was attended by 14 members and three visitors. Six ditty bags are to be filled. Members are planning a reception for boys returning home from overseas. A "military whist" was held September 19, to raise funds. The roll-call was to name a boy or girl in the services. Mrs. Wm. Kennedy, convenor of War Services, reported that 265 articles had been completed in the last quarter.

Brownsburg branch held their meeting September 6, with 24 members and 13 visitors present. 60 Ditty bags were distributed. A surplus of maple sugar and also chocolate bars were donated to the military hospital at Ste. Anne de Bellevue. A life membership pin and certificate were presented to Mrs. Wayman McGibbon on her departure to live in Vancouver. A demonstration of sandwich-making was given by Miss Janet McOuat. Members enjoyed a visit to Carillon Museum, followed by a picnic.

Milles Isles branch held their meeting September 14 with 11 members and seven visitors present. Mrs. Smallman's letters were read. One dollar was contributed to the Princess Alice Foundation Fund. A committee was formed for the collection of used clothing for shipment overseas. A letter from Mrs. Bagshaw was read in which he expressed thanks for receipt of $21 from this branch, to be used for blind and maimed children, victims of war. War Savings stamps to the value of $20 were sold. Mrs. F. Chauvin, president of the Y.W.C.A. in P.E.I., gave an interesting talk on handicrafts. The Dupuis Frères prize, a woollen blanket, was on display. This branch had the distinction of winning the most prizes for handicrafts at the Lachute Fair. Tickets are to be sold on a blanket, to augment the branch funds.

Upper Lachute-East End held their meeting September 14, with seven members and four visitors present. A talk on the new Central School Board for the County of Argenteuil was given by Inspector L. J. King.

Foundation Fund

Quebec is joining with the other provinces in supporting the creation of a Foundation Fund to further work among the youth of Canada. Princess Alice, who is herself a patroness of the F.W.I.C., has asked that instead of the usual parting gift the money raised for that purpose be set aside for creating this Fund. Reports coming in from individual branches show this tribute to a beloved lady is receiving unanimous endorsement with their financial support already forthcoming.

Hints for Homebodies

TRUE TALES

We hear so much these days about the unconcern of sales people that there is a pleasant little tale that shows the other side of the picture. A Saint John High School girl works in a men's shop on Saturdays and holidays. This particular store does a large business among the Merchant Navy. Men of all nationalities come in and many of them speak little or no English. French was useful as many had a smattering of it even if they could not speak it fluently. This girl was able to use her High School French to good advantage, and that in itself is quite a feat. Sailors from a Greek boat came in and they spoke no English. They wanted to buy Christmas presents for their families, and they showed this girl their pictures as a guide. The store staff helped, with this girl doing the most because of her French, and they chose suitable presents. Then they made a list of other presents and told them where to go to get them and the men were very pleased. The next time the ship came to this port, they brought a box which had presents for the staff of the store and a particular one for the girl who had been so helpful. They brought her a set of jewelry, a brooch, ear-rings, and a bracelet of excellent filigree silver.

THREE RULES

A great deal more time and money was spent on the study of nutrition for animals than for people. Animals that were properly fed were more valuable, and money talks. Healthy, long-lived people meant money saved for insurance companies so finally they turned their attention to what made people healthier. The Life Extension Service Institute have examined millions of people and have come up with a set of ten rules which will help to give better health. Several of them are concerned with what we eat and their first rule is to Watch Your Weight. A survey showed that mortality among people 25% or more overweight was 175% above normal. There are very few instances which show that overweight is caused by some physical cause, but the cause in most people is that they eat too much. They may not eat so great a quantity of food as some of their leaner friends, but they eat too much of the food high in calories. There is only one way to reduce weight, and that is to eat less. Then they found that although many people ate enough, they ate the wrong kind of foods and they did not get sufficient minerals and vitamins to keep them healthy. Education in nutrition is badly needed. If some one can make money out of it maybe the public at large will be better educated on the food question. More power to them! Water is cheap, but many do not drink enough of it. At least six glasses of fluids a day should be taken — that includes tea, coffee, milk, or whatever liquid is drunk. Attention to just these three rules will help to give us a longer and healthier life.

GIVE FEW COMMANDS

One of the mistakes parents make most frequently is to give a command without enforcing it. It is wise to think before we speak and if we give a command see that it is carried out. If a child is told to do something and gets away with not doing it, how can it be expected to obey when it is really necessary? Parents need training as well as do children and one thing they should learn is to give very few commands and then follow them through to the finish once they are given.

UPSIDE-DOWN BEEF PIE

¼ Cup sliced onion, 1 can condensed tomato soup, ½ lb. ground beef, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups flour, ¾ cup milk, 2 teaspoons of baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika (optional), 1 teaspoon celery salt, 3 tablespoons shortening.

Cook the onions slowly in a little dripping until tender, add the soup and the beef and cook slowly while preparing the biscuit mixture. Sift the dry ingredients and rub in the shortening. Add mik and mix thoroughly. Put the meat mixture in a baking dish and cover with the dough. Bake in a very hot oven of 475 degrees for about 20 inutes. Turn upside down on a plate.

SPICE DROP CAKES

One cup of brown sugar, ½ cup shortening, 1 cup chopped dates, or raisins, ½ cup chopped walnuts, ½ teaspoon soda, 2 eggs, 1¼ cups flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon each cloves and nutmeg.

Cream the shortening and sugar and stir in the beaten eggs. Sift in the dry ingredients, add the fruit and nuts, and stir until blended. Drop from a teaspoon on to a buttered cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees. I like a thin cookie, so I make the ¼ cup of flour a scant one, and the thin mixtures allows the cookie to spread. If you like a thicker cookie use the full ¼ cup of flour. When nuts are scarce, I use fewer of them and more fruit.

URGES ADVANCE IN OBSTETRICS

British Woman M.P. Says Modern Days Call for Modern Ways

Leeds, Eng. (CP) — Half an hour was spent by the National Conference of Labor Women here discussing what Dr. Edith Summerskill, Parliamentary Secretary, Ministry of Food, called the most important commodity in the world — babies.

In that time, she said, 30 babies had been born in this country — one every minute. Probably 29 were born without any relief to the mother, in the same primitive way as their great-grandmothers gave birth to children.

"It is no good," said Dr. Summerskill, "for older women to tell the younger generation: 'We had 13 children without an anaesthetic, why can't you?'

"You cannot relate the life of the modern woman to that of her grandmother. She will not accept 19th-century conditions in this century."

Dr. Summerskill urged that midwives should be trained in the use of analgesia, a modern method of painless motherhood. She was also in favor of giving the housewife "some measure of economic independence."

Among the improvements she wanted for mothers were good houses, full and free educational services and labor-saving devices in the home such as electric washing machines.

How are your window screens? Pretty shabby?

Fall is a good time to spruce them up. A stiff brush or a good hosing will remove summer dust. A coat of paint gives winter rust protection and lightens spring chores.

TIME STANDS STILL FOR THIS ACTRESS

NEW YORK (CP) — Forty isn't the bugaboo age for women it used to be, as is proved by many glamorous women in private and public life today.

One of these, Hollywood's Selena Royle, believes modern makeup, improved diet and exercise are responsible for the beautiful appearance of the modern woman.

As for herself, Selena pays no attention to her birthdays except "to celebrate them." She thinks that women are likely to develop a terrific mental hazard about their age.

Her grooming routine is simple. Though she has never had her blonde hair cut, she discovers new ways to do it — usually drawn back from the face, for a more youthful effect.

Cleansing and nourishing creams are used at night, soap and water in the morning. She applies a thin film of oil over her skin before applying make-up. Her lipstick is governed by the color of her costume, but she usually leans towards very warm reds as she thinks dark lipsticks make blonds "look ghastly." She warns against older women using rouge and she never uses it hersolf.

"A busy woman is a happy one" says Selena, who has been active throughout the war in the Red Cross, assembling 18 shows a month for four military hospitals around Hollywood. She also is one of the founders of New York's Stage Door Canteen.

Salena is not particularly fond of fancy foods or sweets and leans toward a slight diet, eating plenty of vegetables and drinking lots of milk. She always manages to get some form of exercise every day, being especially fond of swimming, riding and tennis.

BRIDGE-PLAYING WIVES BAR HUBBIES FROM JOB

New Orleans, Sept. 27 — Husbands of bridge-playing wives were rejected for work on the atomic bomb, because of the utmost recrecy required. Dr. Joseph C. Morris of Tulane University, who aided in recruiting of research workers, revealed recently. "Many cards of the rejectees bore the code symbol 'BPW' which stood for 'bridge playing wife,'" he said.

TIMING THE STITCH

Part of the "stitch in time" routine is keeping a sharp lookout for spots that are wearing thin and applying reinforcement measures before holes appear. At this stage any similar material may be used for the patch, which will be invisible when applied to the wrong side of the garment.

Stout leather patches applied to the knees of boys' breeches when new will add months of wear. Look to old purses and gloves to furnish the leather.

And cake that is baked with Regal Flour is filled with delicious, tempting flavour, too, so that it requires no icing to give it added appetite appeal! Regal Flour turns out cakes so tasty, so even, so fine in texture, everyone exclaims over them with enjoyment. It is both easy and thrifty to use Regal Flour for all fine baking. Regal Flour has the consistently high quality and elasticity to make good bread, and the lightness and smoothness to bake perfect cakes and pastry. One flour for all baking saves time, trouble and money.

Regal Flour is sold in 98's, 49's, 24's and in the handy 7 lb. bag with handle.

PLAIN WHITE CAKE

½ cupful butter
1 cupful granulated sugar
2 eggs
¼ teaspoonful salt
½ cupful milk
1¼ cupfuls sifted Regal Flour
2¼ teaspoonfuls baking powder
½ teaspoonful orange extract
¼ teaspoonful vanilla

Cream together the butter and sugar. Add the egg yolks well beaten. Sift together the dry ingredients and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk. Beat well. Fold in carefully the whites of the eggs beaten until stiff together with the flavourings. Bake either in a loaf pan at 350°F. for forty-five minutes or in cup or layer-cake pans at 375° F. for thirty minutes.

Weekly Editors Meet in Quebec

A dinner on Thursday evening presided over by Hon. Jonathan Robinson, Minister of Mines, was addressed by Hon. Onesime Gagnon, Provincial Treasurer.

Mr. Blair Gordon, president of the Canadian Manufacturers Association and Dominion Textile Co., addressed the luncheon gathering on Friday.

Friday evening the Association dinner was held, at which Mr. Chas. John Stevenson, of Cambridge, N.Y., publisher of the oldest weekly in America, "The Washington Post", founded in 1788, was guest speaker. His topic was "This is Your Home Town," and his address was greatly appreciated as he mingled his remarks with humor and an appeal for loyalty.

Mr. Phil Galbraith, the retiring president, was the recipient of a beautiful engraved tray in recognition of his valuable services, while Mrs. Galbraith and Mrs. Charters were each presented with Murray Bay blankets.

Mr. Harry Smith, Press Representative of the C.P.R., was host at a reception for the group and was given a silver cigarette case as a momento and slight token of esteem, for his interest and co-operation with the weekly press. Mr. Smith has now retired from active duty with the Railway.

Mr. Ted Blandford entertained at luncheon at the Royal Canadian Golf Club. A tour of the Citadel was made and spots visited where the Great Powers had met in their conferences.

Quite a number took in the Saguenay trip, leaving Quebec Sunday morning and reaching Montreal Tuesday. The weather was ideal and the restful trip with excellent meals, gave one the impetus to start in to work again with renewed vigor.

Mr. Hugh Templin is the new president. A man of keen ability and wide experience, he edits and publishes the Fergus News Record. 1st Vice-president is Major Walter Ashfield of Grenfell, Sask., with R. A. Giles as 2nd vice-president.

DUCK FISHING

Montreal (CP)—Frank and Harry Kenny went fishing the other day at Lavaltrie on the St. Lawrence river but couldn't catch any fish. However Frank managed to hook a duck on his line and bring it home.

Lions Addressed by Fellow Member, on Industrial Topic

The regular meeting of Lachute Lions Club was held Tuesday evening at the Golf Club premises, with President Leopold Carrière in the chair.

Reports of the different committees were received, and the Lions were urged to go "all out" in the drive for clothing to fill the needs of oppressed peoples in Europe.

Lion Geo. Y. Deacon, in his capacity as Fire Chief of the town, drew attention of the members to Fire Prevention Week, October 7 to 13, and the obligations implied by this observance. He cited interesting figures on the per capita fire loss in Lachute, as compared with other centres in this province.

Speaker of the evening was Lion Alex Vessie, who delved into a past phase of his career to explain the sources, manufacture and applications of rubber in its different forms. "Just about the most versatile material that man has at his disposal", rubber gives service in numerous articles essential to everyday use.

In the processes of its manufacture, Mr. Vessie's audience found special interest; and the speaker having spent several years in this line of occupation, his information was both authentic and instructive to the gathering. . . . Thanks were expressed for his interesting talk.

Field Secretary Visits Boy Scouts

At their meeting on Wednesday, September 26, the Scouts and Cubs were favored with a visit from Mr. Frank Hicks, field secretary of the Scout Association of the Province of Quebec. Mr. Hicks was accompanied by Mr. Smith, scoutmaster of the Bedford Troop. The visitors gave short instructive talks to the Scouts and wished them success through the coming year.

Six boys, all former Cubs, were enrolled as Scouts at this meeting —Jimmy Campbell, Bobby McMahon, Bobby Giles, Donald McRae, Lester Kelly and George Young.

What can you spare that they can wear ?

KNOW QUEBEC BETTER...

The Bourgault Brothers, master craftsmen in wood — Associated Screen News Photograph

Do you know Quebec? Do you know, for example, that Quebec stands out among the provinces for the high quality and the faithful characterization of her wood-carving? The handicraft which had its source in architecture was first employed to decorate the interiors of churches and other buildings. In many cases handed down from generation to generation, it has attained the status of pure art.

Modelling mainly in fine-grained basswood, talented wood sculptors reproduce with truth and rare beauty religious figurines, portraits, studies of people, customs and animals, in fact, a never-ending array of interesting subjects. The world at large, recognizing such creative skill, has "beaten a path to Quebec's door"—establishing a widening market, and encouraging development of the art.

Wood-carving is one of many native Quebec crafts, some born of the necessities of pioneer life—all contributing to a culture which is as much a part of Quebec as her 20th century industrial expansion. For Quebec is a land of contrasts, where Old customs live in harmony with New ideas and modern methods. Winding lanes . . . high-speed highways; hand looms . . . vast, machine-packed factories; quiet villages landmarked by graceful spires . . . busy cities indicated by towering skyscrapers.

Rich in history and culture, generously endowed by Nature, mellowed by her share in the strain, toil and sacrifice of Canada's war effort, Quebec looks forward to the happy day when, with her eight sister provinces, she will help work out Our Country's glorious destiny!

QUEBEC PRODUCES FOR WAR

To Quebec's already glorious history has been added her wonderful contribution to Canada's war effort. Pulp, paper, native ores and manufactured metals, clothing, chemicals, textiles, ships, foods, petroleum, electrical supplies, to mention only a few products of her mines, mills and factories: $2,703,387,600.09 subscribed by her people in eight Victory Loans: thousands of men in the navy, army and air force who have distinguished themselves on global battlefronts. Thus have her sons and daughters recorded Quebec's part on Canada's wartime honor roll.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Creditable Effort Here to Publicize Aims, Objects of National Campaign

The fact that Fire Chief Geo. Y. Deacon and his brigade are out once more to impress Fire Prevention upon this community, was evidenced by the wailing of sirens and the parade of equipment Monday evening, at the outset of the campaign. Geo. Y. Deacon and D. Villeneuve, chief of police, are giving attention this week to the local schools — by means of fire drills and talks they are stressing the theme upon young minds in their most receptive years.

It is obviously impossible to inspect each residence, business and store property of the town, and it therefore becomes a duty of the citizens to make a check-up of their premises, removing all hazards such as litter in basements, or inflammable materials near heating units, pipes or ash-dumps, and also replacing thin or rusted stove pipes before the colder weather sets in. The common-sense precautions against fire are simple and generally known.

During his talks before various audiences, Fire Chief Deacon has had recourse to statistics compiled by the Dominion Fire Prevention Association as regards fire losses. The figures show Lachute to be in a favorable position among towns of its size, with a per capita loss in 1944 of $1.55. A comparison with Ontario and Quebec centres in the same population brackets shows the following losses :

Lachute, pop. 5,000	$1.55
Ontario
Leamington 5,456	1.55
Renfrew 5,673	4.13
Wallaceburg 5,088	1.00
Quebec
Beauharnois 5,300	5.49
Ste. Therese 5,000	6.63
Noranda 5,500	8.11
Pointe aux Trembles 5,975	5.20
Ville La Salle 5,800	6.31

(St. Jerome, with a population of nearly 15,000 and a paid, full-time fire brigade, had a per capita loss of $1.99, while Hawkesbury, 6,2[illegible] had a rate of $1.89 — both higher than Lachute.)

While the fire authorities here claim no laurels for Lachute's good showing, it is evident the town's fire protection service has been instrumental in curbing the loss. Another factor, no doubt, is constant vigilance — which is the theme and reason of the present Fire Prevention observance. The occasion should therefore be an incentive to householders, storekeepers and those engaged in local industries to co-operate 100 percent for Fire Prevention.

The publishers of this newspaper again request that news items and advertising be handed in as early as possible during week. The Watchman cannot do justice to news, correspondence or charitable appeals when they arrive in quantities too formidable to handle just before press time. . . . This applies particularly to events happening several days before, the report of which may not be forthcoming till press day or the night preceding. In this manner our typesetting facilities are overtaxed and space is often lacking.—Please co-operate.

Memorial Tribute To Young Airman, Dalesville Church

A service was held in Dalesville Baptist Church on Sunday, October 7, in memory of the late Flt. Sgt. Donald Kenneth Clark, who gave his life for King and Country on January 14, 1945.

The Rev. Geo. Hicks conducted the service and chose for his text the words, "Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory." During the service, Flt. Lt. Dennis Milden, R.C.A.F., who has served overseas in contact with many flying men, described the impressions he has gathered from his experience with these men, of what they think of when in action.

The congregation stood in silent memory of the late Flt. Sgt. Clark, after which the Last Post was sounded by Mr. Gordon Anderson, of Brownsburg. A trio consisting of Mrs. Keith Morrison, Miss Ada Morrow and Mr. Reg Morrow sang the beautiful hymn, "Some Golden Daybreak".

Letters were read which had been received by the father of the dead airman from R.C.A.F. personnel overseas, one being from a surviving member of Donald's crew.

Several servicemen attended, including R.C.A.F. representatives from the airport at Pendleton, Ont. The ushers were two of Flt. Sgt. Clark's friends who have both served overseas, Clifford King, of the R.C.A., and James Low, who has recently been discharged from the Air Force after completing a tour of operations.

Winnipeg Labor Council has decided to request Attorney-General J. O. McLenaghen of Manitoba to establish a 40-hour week without reduction in pay for workers in the province, it was announced.

A True Story

(Contributed by W. H. Price)

Yesterday, as I was entering a hotel dining room for dinner, I noticed a well be-ribboned soldier buying a package of cigarettes at the counter. He obviously had a "few too many" under his belt, and the clerk drew my attention to the fact that he was putting his customer's wallet in a pocket of his tunic.

Last night, when I arrived at the same hotel for supper, the soldier was standing at the counter with the same clerk and a policeman. I reported that I had seen the wallet placed in his pocket and had watched him leave the hotel. During the afternoon he had dropped in at one or two other "spots" and eventually discovered his wallet was missing.

For about one hour the policeman and soldier revisited every place the soldier had been to during the afternoon. The wallet — containing about $100 — was still missing. The soldier had to leave for a distant city that night, and was in a real jam. Well, it was tough luck, but nothing could be done about it. . . .

However, about a half hour later, the clerk mentioned to me that the soldier wanted to sell a Victory Bond. I told him to get it and I'd buy it. I did, and a very grateful soldier is now out of a serious predicament, and arrived in that distant city on schedule.

— With the Ninth Victory Loan campaign just around the corner, I thought this incident worth passing on. It proves that Victory Bonds are as good as cash and readily saleable at any time. Anyone might have been that soldier, or have had a similar need to raise funds in a hurry for an operation or some other emergency.

Over 400 Rabbits For Show, Wool, Experimental Use

Having acquired a farm here for a hobby and relaxation, a Montrealer, Mr. E. Emmett, has so far confined his livestock to several hundred rabbits. The profit in this venture may not be readily apparent to a layman — but Mr. Emmett avers these rabbits are much sought after as wool producing animals.

Mr. Emmett is partner in a well known firm of veterinary chemists, R. Bell & Sons, and it is his wife who is actual instigator and manager of the rabbit ranch. Mrs. Emmett has about 100 Angoras, from which she clips and exports the wool, and also as a diversion spins it into yarn and knits articles for her own use. A number of the rabbits are being sold and shipped to Indiana State, at the present time.

In addition to Angoras, there are between 300 and 400 New Zealand Red and Chinchilla breeds. These, according to Mr. Emmett, are for wool and various purposes, including a few for experimentation along the line of his business, veterinary medicine. The reaction of certain drugs, including penicillin, is being noted through blood analysis of treated animals.

Mrs. Emmett's rabbits have won distinction at the shows — latterly, at the Aylmer rabbit show, having taken seven prizes with nine rabbits entered. At the last show held in Toronto, 1944, they also won several awards.

The Emmett farm is situated on the Bethany Road, just east of Lachute golf course.

MOUNTAIN OF FLOWERS

Toronto (CP)—Canadian military personnel in Britain sent an average of 2,000 bouquets daily or a total of $8,000,000 worth of flowers, to their mothers, wives and sweethearts at home since October 1941, John Hunt, president of a British florists' organization, said here.

ARGENTEUIL'S VICTORY LOAN OBJECTIVE SET AT $1,075,000

Offender Fined for Left-Hand Parking

A suit instituted by Lachute Town and heard before Dis. Magistrate D. Lalande at the local court Saturday, involved a local tradesman on a simple traffic charge, but was considered in some quarters as a test case on enforcement of the town's by-laws and a challenge to local police authority.

The charge was that of violating by-law No. 127 which prohibits parking of vehicles on the left-hand side of the road.

In defence, it was claimed that personal animosity had moved the officer to press this charge; also that an obstruction of building materials at the right-hand sidewalk had justified the driver parking his truck on the other side. Countering the former argument, the Police Chief showed to the judge's satisfaction that he had acted without discrimination, having issued a warning before serving the summons when the offender continued in defiance of the law.

A fine of $10 and costs was imposed by the court.

Violated Price Ceiling

The second case before the magistrate was that of the Wartime Prices & Trade Board local administrator versus a west-end merchant, charged with selling potatoes above the ceiling price. The defendant was found guilty and sentenced to a fine of $50 and costs.

Attorney for Lachute Town and for the W.P.T.B., in these respective cases, was the firm of Legault & Legault, represented by Fernand Legault.

Four Injured at Chute à Blondeau

Two men are in critical condition in Montreal hospitals as a result of injuries suffered when an automobile careened off the south-shore Montreal - Ottawa highway at Chute à Blondeau, and somersaulted into a creek on Monday night. Two others suffered minor injuries and were treated in hospital at Hawkesbury.

Jean Lauzon, 47, suffered a fractured spine and was transferred from Hawkesbury to Sacred Heart Hospital. L. P. Pelletier suffered a fractured skull and leg injuries, and was taken to the Montreal Neurological Institute.

Others injured were Jewel Lauzon, 49, who suffered a dislocated shoulder, fractured ribs and face lacerations, and Antoine Chevrier, 39, who suffered bruises and shock. All were residents of Montreal.

At Hawkesbury, police said the driver, Jewel Lauzon, lost control of the car when he struck a soft shoulder while attempting to pass another vehicle.

SEAMEN CAMPAIGN

Saint John, N.B. (CP) — Campaigning for continuation of their war risk bonus of $44 monthly, merchant seamen carried signs in front of Parks Steamships Company, Ltd. Members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (A.F.L.), they carried signs such as "Merchant seamen heroes today, hungry tomorrow".

Painful Accident In Sawing Wood

While sawing wood at his farm in Dunany last Thursday morning, Norman Boyd was the victim of a painful accident. His right hand was caught by the blade of a circular saw, and his thumb, three fingers and part of the little finger were severed.

Geo. Hyde, who was working nearby brought Mr. Boyd to Lachute without delay, and he received first aid at the surgery of Dr. R. Percival. Later he was taken to Montreal and admitted to the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Whether you run them or just patronize them, black markets leave a black mark on anybody's character.

Steady Progress Of Main Street Shopping Centre

Further improvements are noted in the Main Street business section of Lachute.

Following demolition of an old residential landmark, the Crozier home near the United Church, the proprietors of this site — Edgar Pollock and H. D. Graves, of Brownsburg — have now started preliminary work for the erection of a business proprety.

The larger of the two store premises in the Walker block has been vacated by Jos. Assaly, dry-goods merchant, and is now being renovated by Gerald Walker for his own occupancy. Gerald, who was discharged after serving with the R.C.A.F., intends to conduct a stationery and novelty business. . . . Mr. Assaly is following his former line of business at Hawkesbury.

A time-honored stand, Campbell Reg'd, is also undergoing renovations inside. The new proprietor, H. E. Carson, is making changes to improve his display and facilitate the business of storekeeping. His plans are being restricted, for the time being, to face-lifting of the interior.

Another bright spot on Main Street is the newly painted shoe-repair shop of Urg. Quesnel. The next-door establishment, North River Motors Ltd., has capitalized on this store's expanse of white siding, to paint an arresting sign advertising its business and products.

Less conspicuous to passers-by but equally active, Don MacRae, new agent for B-A oils, is now installed in an office over the garage housing his trucks. . . . And at the Lido Restaurant, where wartime difficulties have curtailed the serving of meals, Fraser C. Morrison, formerly of this town, is now back and in charge of the catering for this restaurant, owned by Robt. Hadley.

92nd Birthday At Arundel, Que.

Full Attendance Lions Club Bingo

A crowd of about 650 people attended the Lions Club "bingo" on Friday evening at Lachute Auditorium. Community service work, billed as the club's post-war program, together with a brand of entertainment of sure-fire appeal — these factors accounted for the enthusiastic attendance. Many attractive prizes were displayed on the platform; and with President Leopold Carrière as M.C., and Lions Phil Roy and Jas. W. McGibbon conducting the show, a happy and expectant spirit prevailed.

Climax of the evening was the final round, for which two handsome boudoir chairs were the prize. This was won by Miss Yolande St. Denis. A diversion in the proceedings occurred when a box of groceries, won by Miss Jeannette Pharand, was donated back to the club to be sold by auction. Mrs. L. Barron, with the topmost bid of $25, acquired the box and again generously turned it back to the club. In the second auction it was purchased by Lion Gaetan Valois for $14.

The event entailed much effort and organization among the club committees, but evidence pointed to a willing collaboration and many to share the job. The Lions expressed keen satisfaction with the outcome.

During the evening President L. Carrière, also in his capacity as mayor of the town, solicited public support for the Nation Clothing Collection in Lachute.

School Closing Exercises Oct. 19

The annual closing exercises and prize giving of Lachute High School will be held in the Lachute Auditorium Friday evening, October 19, at 8 o'clock.

This year's exercises will include a number of selections by Lachute High School Glee Club and an address by Dr. W. H. Hatcher, Assistant-Dean, Arts and Science, McGill University.

The pupils are to assemble at the school and proceed in a group to the Auditorium. Parents and friends of the school are welcome.

Speed Limits in Quebec Province

The Dominion Government having repealed the order-in-council setting speed limits on Canadian highways at 40 miles an hour, the Province of Quebec has now followed suit. In future, automobile speed limits will be determined by the Motor Vehicles Act adopted in 1940, and speed limits are as follows :

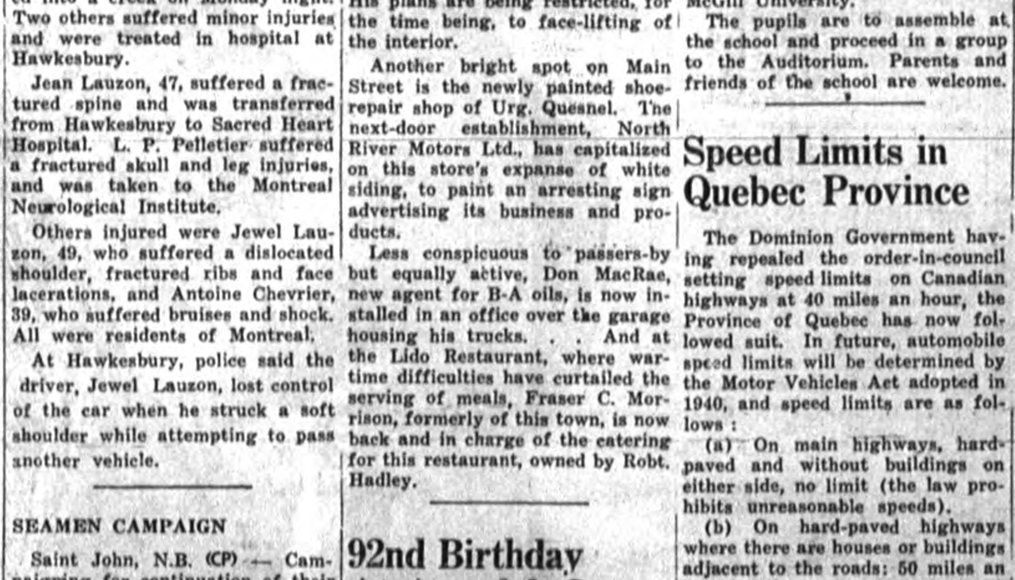

(a) On main highways, hard-paved and without buildings on either side, no limit (the law prohibits unreasonable speeds).

(b) On hard-paved highways where there are houses or buildings adjacent to the roads: 50 miles an hour.

(c) On mountain roads or on straight gravelled roads: 40 miles an hour.

(d) On hilly, winding roads, on curves, commercial districts, in front of schools, at street crossings, and at level crossings: 20 miles an hour.

Organizer Attributes Backwardness to Reticence on Time-Payment Purchasing

The joint-chairmen of Argenteuil's Victory Loan Committee, Clement Tremblay and William M. Scott, announced yesterday that the County's Ninth Victory Loan objective for General Sales and Payroll Savings had been set at $1,075,000.

The joint-chairmen pointed out that Argenteuil had exceeded this amount in three of the last five Victory Loans, results being as follows :

4th Loan	$1,123,900	—	106.03%
5th Loan	1,116,050	—	111.60
6th Loan	912,900	—	117.79
7th Loan	1,092,660	—	128.54
8th Loan	1,010,950	—	108.70

As previously stated, the Ninth Victory Loan will be "two-loans-in-one", since there will definitely not be another Loan next spring. Therefore, officials of the local organization are hoping that the 128.54% mark of the Seventh Loan will be exceeded. Results of the Eighth Loan placed Argenteuil last of the 25 Units in the Northwestern Region, whose average was 130.90%. From last to first, in what may well be the last chance, is, in effect, Argenteuil's objective.

The goal set by the local executive is not beyond reach. In spite of eight Victory Loans, latest statistics show that bank deposits of the general public are at the highest level in Canadian history. Money is obviously plentiful throughout Canada and there is no reason to believe that Argenteuil is an exception. In fact, results of the Eighth Loan showed Two Mountains with 167.73% , Terrebonne with 128.28% and Papineau with 124.25%. In the face of these results from surrounding counties, it behooves Argenteuil to "pull up her socks."

It would appear that a great deal of Argenteuil's decline is due to the reticence of her citizens to purchase Victory Bonds on extended payments. They fail to understand that buying on the monthly savings plan is actually SAVING ON TIME. This misconception probably is due to the fact that if one buys a car, refrigerator, fur coat, tractor or some necessity "on time", and is unable to meet a payment when it falls due, all is lost. When one buys Victory Bonds "on time", and is unable to meet a payment, the bond may be sold and the purchaser retains whatever monies have been paid in. Buying Victory Bonds "on time" is, therefore, the safest and best way of saving for that car, refrigerator or other accessory one wants to buy when the supply is greater and prices more reasonable.

The Argenteuil Victory Loan Committee intends to feature the monthly savings plan and the deferred payment plan as much as possible. Both call for only a 5% initial payment and 12 months to pay. With these easy terms every wage earner should be in a position to buy twice as many bonds as in former Loans when the initial payment was 10% and the balance payable in six months.

Remember, if you buy twice as many Ninth Victory Loan Bonds, your monthly payments will remain exactly the same as before.

We can do it!

Many at Funeral Of Well-Loved Lachute Resident

The Late Mrs. A. Bothwell

Friends and fellow townspeople gathered Monday afternoon at St. Simeon's Anglican Church to pay their last tribute to Mrs. Alex Bothwell, whose death occurred at her home here Friday night following a long illness.

The late Mrs. Bothwell was a well loved member of this community. Appreciated for her part in many organizations and endeavors, she will be greatly missed in the town's activities. She was a member of the Anglican Church and past-president of the Guild; past-president of the Women's Institute, Lachute branch, in which she had been honored with a life membership; also an active member of the local Red Cross. To a wider circle in this county she was known for her efforts in organizing school fairs, and through a cheerful collaboration with her husband in agricultural and exhibition work.

The former Jessie Gilbert, of Dunham, Que., she was a graduate of Stanstead College, of Dunham Ladies' College, and of Macdonald College school for teachers.

She is mourned by her husband, provincial agronomist for this county, and her niece, Miss Jessie Myatt, who has resided here with Mr. and Mrs. Bothwell. There remain also two sisters, Mrs. W. Myatt (Winnifred), Montreal, and Mrs. Wm. Hazzard (Hilda), of Spencer, Mass.; and a brother, Pte. Howard Gilbert, with the armed forces in Holland.

The funeral was conducted by the Rev. C. R. Lang, of Lachute, and the Rev. W. C. LeCras, of Cote des Neiges, former rector here. The church choir was augmented by members of the other congregations. A profusion of flowers bore mute but eloquent tribute to her memory.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. S. S. Campbell, F. A. Brennian, Ross Muir, Arnold Scott, L. W. Armstrong and Gavin Walker. The remains were laid to rest at Lachute Cemetery.

Letter of Gratitude On Behalf of Bombed Civilians

For the people of Britain the nightmare of hostilities is ended, yet there still comes the occasional note from civilians who distributed, or personally benefitted by, Canadian Red Cross shipments for bombing victims. One such letter, addressed to Mrs. Thos. Iddon, Lachute Mills, was read before the branch meeting of the Red Cross here last week. Its contents are as follows :

Sandown, Isle of Wight

Dear Friend :

While packing up some of the lovely things you Canadians sent us for our bombed-out people, (which we had not to use), I came across your card in one of the personal kits, so I thought that I would send you a line and let you know that we are sending them away to the less fortunate than we here. You have no idea how th bombed-out did appreciate your wonderful gifts, and I speak from experience as I had to issue them on several occasions, as I am Deputy C.O. of the W.V.S. here.

We can hardly realize that the war in Europe is over and are still thrilled at not having to blacken out after nearly 6 years of it; and we have now got rid of our air-raid shelter, which was a good friend to us.

Yours Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Nancy Patton

Directors' Meeting, Prot. Cemetery Of St. Andrews E.

(By Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — The directors of the Protestant Cemetery Board met here on Saturday afternoon, October 6, at the home of the president, Mr. Charles Hyde. Mr. M. Alner Snowdon was elected secretary-treasurer and superintendent of the cemetery grounds, to fill the vacancy left by the death of Mr. W. J. Pitcairn. However, as Mr. Snowdon is still engaged in war work, all business is referred to Mr. Hyde till spring.

A motion of appreciation of the late Mr. Pitcairn's services was passed, and the secretary requested to write a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Pitcairn and sons.

The communities of Pte. Fortune and Cushing, as well as St. Andrews East, are represented on the Board. These communities have reason to feel grateful satisfaction with the directors, past and present, who have given freely of their time and services to enhance the naturally fine site of this historical burial ground.

Britain Seeks German Timber

London (Reuters) — Proposals for obtaining timber from Germany for use in the United Kingdom are to be discussed by a small mission of British timber experts.

Headed by Gerald Lenanton, director of the Home Timber Production Department of the Ministry of Supply, the mission is leaving for Germany to investigate timber conditions in the British zone.

PENICILLIN IN CHEESE

50,000 More Men Needed in Woods

Owing to the extra demands for forest products, special emphasis has been placed on the appeal of the Minister of Labor for 50,000 additional men to reinforce those now engaged in operations in the woods. Every man on the farms who can be spared after the harvest has been finished is required, and men in the cities are to be canvassed. This year the woods operations are of more national and international importance than ever. With an adequate force of workers in the woods all over Canada, home building in the Dominion, will be helped next year to a large extent by the cut of sawlogs in the woods during the coming winter.

The pulp and paper industry, which fulfils the very important function of producing paper for Canada's great export trade and also for home consumption, will require a heavy cut of pulpwood, while the reconstruction of Britain and Continental Europe will call for huge quantities of lumber, and Canada is expected to meet a large part of these demands.

Used Truck Parts to Make 2-Ton Trailer

Suggestions in regard to selecting and assembling used truck parts and tires for the construction of a two-ton farm trailer tractor, together with a plan and specifications of the machine, are given in agricultural engineering circular No. 13 by J. M. Armstrong and E. C. Bain, of the Field Husbandry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. A two-ton trailer built according to the plan and specifications given has been in service for several years. This trailer has been loaded frequently in excess of three tons without any evidence of structural weakness in the framing or axle, and there has been no noticeable wear on the tires at tractor speeds.

Detailed information is contained in the suggestions which deal fully with the selecting and fitting the front axle from 1⅛ or 2-ton used truck for a 2-ton capacity trailer; the frame used with an inverted front axle; the hitch frame made of 4" pipe welded together in the form of a Y; the hitch lock, brakes, and platform, together with all the necessary measurements of the axle assembly, main frame, hitch frame (pipe), alternate hitch frame (channel), hitch lock, and platform. A copy of the circular may be obtained by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Australia Short Of Farm Workers

Canberra (CP)—Australia's rural industries are short of 120,00 men, it is estimated by R.C. Wilson, former director of manpower for New South Wales.

When war began these industries employed 500,000 men. Of these 70,000 went into the army and 80,000 into secondary industries.

As 30,000 have gone back to the land, making a total of 380,000 men, the shortage, compared with the 1939 figure, is 120,000. However mechanization, speeded up by manpower shortage, may mean that fewer men will be needed in the industry in future.

How many servicemen will go on the land is uncertain. There is official talk in New South Wales of settling 10,000 at the rate of 1,000 a year. The state government has under inspection 236 large estates totalling 2,255,000 acres.

Test New Process In Curing Tobacco

Danville, Va. (CP) — Govement experiments at the Pittsylvania County Experimental Station using coal in curing tobacco may change a laborious process generations old.

The most onerous job of tobacco raising is the three-day-and-night vigil in the curing barn where the grower and his family work in shifts to keep the hickory or oak wood burning in the fire box. Temperatures must be carefully varied.

E. M. Matthews, director of the experimental station, says the tests were conducted with a coal furnace, stoker and thermostatic control synchronized to permit the farmer to go about other business while the tobacco cures.

Matthews says a barnful of tobacco could be cured with $3 worth of coal and that the tobacco used in the experiments tasted as sweet as that cured with hickory and oak wood.

"PEST" DESTRUCTION

19 Percherons from Arnoldwold Farms Sent to Colombia

By J. S. Cram
Assistant Farm Editor of the Family Herald & Weekly Star

Four truckloads of purebred Percherons recently left Canada en route to Bogota, Colombia. Consisting of 6 stallions and 13 mares they were shipped by Gilbert Arnold, of Grenville. One stallion was consigned to the government of Colombia, while all the others are going to the Caja Agraria at Bogota, which is buying them for several Colombian breeders.

The horses were selected by two Colombian veterinarians representing their government. While on this continent they also bought several head of cattle and horses in the United States.

One of the stallions is six, all the other horses in the shipment ranging from three to five.

The horses went by truck to New York, under the supervision of Gilbert Arnold, Jr. Before leaving they had to get a clear bill of health, and the trucks had to be fumigated. They were sealed at the U.S. border for the remainder of the trip to the New York stock yards. There they will go on board ship for the long journey down the east coast and through the Panama Canal.

All of the stallions were bred by Gilbert Arnold and most of the mares came from his stock. All of the mares were bred to Arnold's new stud sire, Jason.

One of the stallions in the shipment was Konsulator, a son of Kable, grand champion Percheron stallion at the Royal in 1935, and this year at Lachute and Ormstown. Konsulator is out of Lucy, a former grand champion at the Canadian National.

Among the mares in the shipment is May Abonne, 1944 grand champion Percheron mare at Lachute Fair.

Squirrels Nuisance In Forest of Dean

Gloucester, Eng (CP) — Grey squirrels, said by naturalists to have come from North America, have become the chief vandals in the Gloucestershire's Forest of Dean, since gamekeepers went away to war.

They not only destroy trees but raid orchards, strip poultry pens, and bound into houses after food. They frighten women and children as they bounce through open bedroom windows, and often they are found in kitchens.

A forestry commission official said that only a nation-wide offensive could do any good. Mass shooting parties were needed and nine pence (18 cents) a tail is being offered those who have permits to shoot. Grey squirrel shoot-clubs can get cartridges free.

REHABILITATION

Here are a few more of the questions that service people are asking about the rehabilitation program.

How do I apply for my Re-establishment Credit ?

After discharge, visit the District Supervisor of Re-establishment Credit at the local (or nearest) office of the Department of Veterans' Affairs. He will want to see your War Service Gratuity Statement. His approval must be given for the use you intend to make of the credit. If you want . . . . say . . . . to purchase furniture for your home, he will be easy to convince. In this case you would then go to your merchant, pay one-third of the bill and get an invoice for the other two-thirds of the cost. This invoice, together with a formal application for your Credit, should be sent to the District Supervisor, who will pay it. You will later get a receipt. Be sure to contact the Supervisor before you make any commitments for your credit.

* * *

What happens to my pay if I have to continue hospital treatment after discharge?

You will get your pay. If you are discharged because of sickness or wounds resulting from your service, pay of rank and dependents' allowances are continued for up to a year. If you are granted pension entitlement for your condition, this payment may be continued longer where necessary.

* * *

Is the D.V.A. University grant paid only for special courses, or will I have a free choice of my subjects?

There is only one string attached — you must satisfy the rehabilitation officials that the courses and subjects you enroll for will actually help you make a living later on and that you are adapted for the training. Where your course is to be a technical one, there won't be much doubt about it. On the other hand, some people — those planning to teach, for example, — would certainly be eligible to take subjects which might not look very "practical" at first glance.

* * *

I expect to be discharged from hospital. Does this mean that I lose my thirty-day repatriation leave?

Evidently you returned to Canada physically unable to take your repatriation leave and, being discharged in hospital, will never get it. However, when you leave the hospital, you will find waiting for you thirty days pay and allowances in lieu of that leave. This is in addition to your rehabilitation grant.

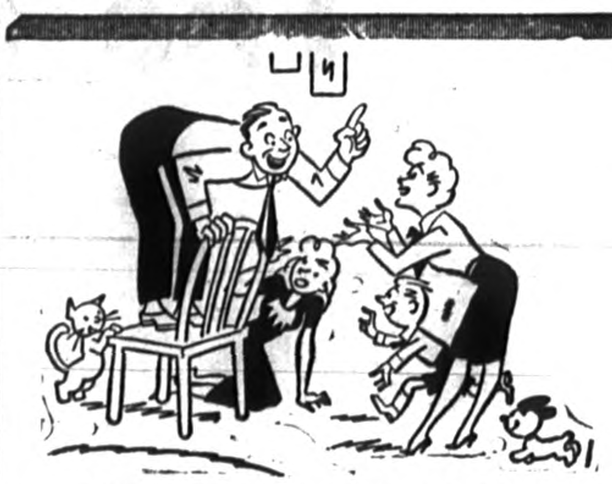

(If you have a problem, drop us a line to Wartime Information Board, Ottawa.)

WE'LL HAVE THE MONEY

LIKE thousands of other Canadians, farmers will welcome the 9th Victory Loan as another opportunity to save money to provide for future plans.

Victory Loans have provided an excellent means of helping the war effort, at the same time contributing to our own personal welfare.

Canada needs more money now . . . to make loans to foreign countries so that they can establish credits which will enable them to buy food and other things which they require.

This food will come from Canadian farms; these goods from Canadian factories. When we help to create markets for our farm produce abroad . . . and when we help to keep Canadian factories busy . . . we help to maintain good prices for the things that Canadian farms produce.

Victory Bonds also provide a reserve fund of working capital for our own use . . . so handy to have so many times. Any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time, or loan money on Victory Bonds if we need cash.

. . . and for our future plans, we'll have the money required for things we want to do . . .

Get ready to buy more Victory Bonds this Fall. Buy double this time — the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

Farmers Can Buy Victory Bonds On Convenient Deferred Payments Through Any Bank

. . . just sign a short form letter which Victory Loan Salesmen carry (banks have copies) ordering the Bank to buy Victory Bonds for you. Pay 5% when ordering and the balance at any time during the next 12 months. The interest the bonds earn pays the interest on the bank loan.

National Problems for Everyday People

THE MANY PROBLEMS confronting Canadians as this country changes over to peacetime conditions are to be discussed by the Citizens' Forums of Quebec this season.

Subjects to be discussed during the winter's program, which started Tuesday of this week, include rehabilitation of veterans, full employment, housing, labor-management relations, education for jobs, international agreements, and numerous others, all of interest to every Canadian. Tuesday's topic was, "What Is Citizens' Forum?" — and on October 16 the subject will be, "Full Employment in A Free Society".

A special attempt is being made to reach ex-servicemen and women, many of whom took part in similar group discussions while in uniform and who wish to continue activity along this line.

Citizens' Forums were organized two years ago, under the joint sponsorship of the Canadian Association for Adult Education and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Non-partisan in character, the organization has received support of all recognized political parties in Canada.

The object of Citizens' Forums is to help create an informed public opinion, the essential basis of sound democracy, and to press for things needed to make the Four Freedoms permanent and real. On this subject the Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, said in a convocation address at Bishop's College, Lennoxville:

"Everyone must do his or her part by working for and supporting those things which promote unity, well-being and happiness of their fellow-Canadians".

Anyone interested in getting together a group of friends for a weekly discussion of vital questions with the help of radio broadcasts and specially prepared background material, should get in touch with: Mrs. Margaret Howes, Secretary of Quebec Citizens' Forums, 1504 Sherbrooke St. W., Montreal, or telephone: FI 8182 for further information.

Make Way for Sport

ANOTHER golden era is dawning for sport as an aftermath of war; not just in terms of gate receipts — wartime sport didn't suffer in that respect — but in the calibre of play in organized leagues and in the general participation in all types of recreational activity by the men and women from country and hamlet as well as from town and city.

The return to civilian life of more than half a million Canadians will give sport its impetus. Many entered the services as mere boys. They are coming out as mature men, with physical strength and mental alertness developed far beyond their years. They will bring back to sport the color and vigor it lacked in the later war years.

The sport boom of the 1920s was an outgrowth of the first war. Then the most striking successes in organized leagues were scored by university teams. Returning veterans bolstered teams in the Intercollegiate Union in the east to such an extent that they rode roughshod over other hockey and football teams in many seasons.

The same story is being told again although it may not reach its climax until 1946. The Intercollegiate Union is sponsoring organized sports for the first time since 1939. Football, hockey and track and field are on the way back. Young men home from the wars are flocking to school and unquestionably they will seek recreation along with their studies.

Professional hockey, which drew plenty of fans during the war years despite a crying lack of material, wil benefit in the coming season. The hockey greats are coming back — Syl Apps, Tommy Anderson, Milt Schmidt, Bobby Bauer, Porky Dumart and dozens of others. Some may find it difficult to keep pace with the youthful stars who grew up while they were gone. But they may face even fiercer competition from the boys who were good junior hockey players when they went into the services and now are coming back to try to embark on ice careers.

The fierce competitive spirit war develops is bound to influence post-war sport. That's where the color will come from, the vigor, the speed, the zest which appeal to customers and performers alike.

Far from Impoverished

THE OTHER DAY an observer in England remarked, "The British came out of the war tired, cross and impoverished." He was referring to the people of the British Isles . . . If he were doing his observing here, he might use a current wisecrack and say, "The Canadians came out of the war tired, cross, period."

Such an observation might be justified. Located far from the scenes of battle, Canadian homes, factories, public services, remained intact throughout the war. Thus this country was able to satisfy the demands of a war-hungry machine. And in so doing, Canadian citizens earned money on a scale never equalled here before. Right now, in addition to holding several billion dollars worth of Victory Bonds, Canadian citizens have a total in savings banks accounts which is the highest in the history of Canada.

A critic might label us "cross and tired". But if he really knew us, he would not describe us as ungrateful or selfish.

Confirmation of our true national spirit will be forthcoming in the Ninth Victory Loan campaign. To provide for the civil re-establishment of our men who fought and to provide at least a little of the goods which impoverished people across the Atlantic must have to survive, our people will buy bonds as enthusiastically in the Ninth campaign as they did in the previous eight Victory Loan campaigns.

Post-War Casualty

CITIZENS of Halifax, it is reported, are giving a royal welcome to the returning troops. Whenever a transport docks, they assemble in crowds, cheering and bearing gifts. It's a charming custom and one that should help to advertise the virtues of Halifax to the rest of Canada.

But in the opinion of Sergeant John Doe, it can be overdone. The sergeant had spent four years overseas, going through the blitz and D-Day without a scratch. He was feeling full of joy on a sunny August morning when he stood with thirteen thousand other soldiers on the deck of a transport and gazed down at the cheering Haligonians.

Then one husky Halifax maiden tried to improve the occasion. With a delivery that would do credit to a big league pitcher she threw a bag of candy up to the deck where Sergeant Doe was standing. The sergeant did not see it coming. His peaceful mood was abruptly shattered. So were three of his front teeth.

— The Printed Word

PEACE also brings its problems, remarks the Chesley Enterprise. — Theatres, restaurants, churches, and other places will again need gum-removal squads now that gum is available for civilian use.

A Call to Canadians

Oh give to the needy in Europe, I pray,
Give to the needy — now, today!
Those who now suffer in Holland, in Greece,
The victims of war, who wanted but peace.

The youngsters are helpless, they'll shiver with cold,
So open your hearts and with love enfold
These ill-fated children who patiently tread
The streets in the cities while searching for bread.

They choke back the tears when they find none there,
So open your hearts and show them you care,
These innocent children whose countrymen bore
The burden of suffering, the carnage of war.

The winter is coming, so bitter and cruel,
Their clothing is tattered, there's shortage of fuel,
Their covers are threadbare, their garments, their shoes
— The enemy plundered the best he could use.

Their need is most pressing — so answer it now,
Let's send all we can, and in gratitude bow
That our country was spared the destruction of war —
Let's give from our hearts, and be blest evermore.

Truck Gardens Grow On Jap Battlefields

Detroit (CP) — Pacific Islands seized from the Japanese now are being farmed with American-made equipment by soldiers and natives working under the direction of the Foreign Economics Administration. The FEA farming representative landed on Guam nine days after the island was taken.

Plows now are turning up garden furrows in the Fiji, New Hebrides, Admiralty and Marianas islands. Four thousand five hundred acres are under uniformed men who were picked for their farming backgrounds, while about 200 Japanese civilians are helping on Saipan and Tinian.

"The Guam natives are by nature the most mechanically inclined people I ever saw," said A. C. Browne of Palo Alto, Calif., one of 15 FEA agricultural experts engaged in the project. "They are eager to buy farm machinery," he said on a visit to Detroit.

The gardens are started by request of the military command. After the ground has been cleared of brush, trees, and the debris of battle, the farmers go to work with any material at hand.

What can you spare that they can wear ?

GLEANINGS FROM OTTAWA

By FRANK MORRISS

Knee Deep in Bulbs

● You'd better not whistle "Tip-Toe Through the Tulips" to botanists and inspectors of the Plant Protection Division of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa. They have been not only on their toes, but literally up to their knees in packages of tulip bulbs, sent to relatives in Canada by members of the Armed Forces stationed in Holland.

The Canadian boys in Holland, in keeping with the good old tradition, believe in "saying it with flowers," but as blossoms won't stay fresh long enough to make the journey to Canada, they have sent the little brown bulbs that will push up through Canadian soil next spring in a riot of reds, yellows, pinks and mauves.

The headache of all this, as far as the botanists and inspectors of the agricultural department are concerned, is the fact that the bulbs have to be examined for plant disease. However, only about one per cent have had to be destroyed.

History certainly does race on. It is only a matter of months since we were reading that the people of Holland were eating bulbs to stave off starvation. And now, in the fall of 1945, we have the news that bulbs are being sent to Canada to fulfill their original mission . . . . brightening up the landscape.

It's all very heartening, isn't it?

Boys' Town in Canada

● We've all heard of the famous Boys' Town. Father Flanagan's community has been the subject of stories in the newspapers and films featuring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney. But have you heard of an unusual Boys' Town?

On the shores of Lac des Francais, near Joliette, Quebec, 60 delinquent boys have established a camp under the direction of Father Albert Roger of Montreal, and his two assistants. The boys organize their own election campaign, and elect their own mayor and aldermen. Each alderman has charge of one of the six log cottages which comprise the camp.

Besides the mayor and council, the campers also elect each year a chief of police and a chief fireman and a ministry of roads. Infringements of camp rules are taken up in the regular Saturday morning court in the council hall, where cases are heard and defended.

The original site of the camp was purchased by the Quebec provincial government. The Chambre de Commerce des Jeunes de Montréal handles the expenses of the boys, which come to about $1 a day for the three-month camp period.

The boys from the camp, taken from the ranks of those in their early teens who have been in trouble with the juvenile court officials, are selected by Father Roger.

It's an idea that will pay rich dividends in citizenship.

Bugs, Beware

● I see that all restrictions, other other than export, have been removed from three important agricultural insecticides — rotenone, nicotine and DDT.

The Canadian use of rotenone has been restricted since the Pacific war cut off importations from the East Indies. Extraordinary demands for tobacco resulted in nicotine being placed under controls. Military requirements absorbed all available supplies of DDT.

Nicotine, by the way, is still very scarce, A. M. W. Carter, Director of Pesticides, reports.

Vulture Fat Claimed As Rheumatism Cure

Birds Protected by Game Laws Bring Fancy Prices in Palestine

Jerusalem (CP)—Hot vulture fat is claimed as a rheumatism cure by some Transjordan and Palestine country people, who say that if the bird is not too old and tough it makes a delicious meal.

Vulture dealers charge $10 a bird in Transjordan, and more in Palestine, but as vultures are protected by game laws, vulture trade is something of a black market.

Two cases of successful blitz cures of rheumatism with vulture fat have been claimed recently. One of these, Mohammed Yousef, an Arab messenger employed at the British Council, was in such acute pain that he was taken to a hospital, where doctors could not help him. An 85-year-old friend prescribed vulture fat.

The morning after the hot fat had been applied to his joints, the messenger said, he sprang out of his bed like a deer. But there is a school of thought in Palestine which says the fat of an eagle would do as well.

PLANNING for EXPANSION OF RURAL TELEPHONE SERVICE

To keep step with farm progress and to extend service to more farm families, the telephone industry is working on important new devices and methods.

Plans are already under way for resuming the rural telephone expansion program suspended in 1940, when equipment and material became urgently needed for the armed forces. Surveys are being made to determine the needs and to provide the facts for carrying out plans to expand farm telephone service.

The goal is to bring the telephone to the greatest possible number of farm families.

Hundreds in Queue For Sale of Houses

Walsall, Eng. (CP) — As a result of a tip that 400 houses, property of the First National Housing Trust, were for sale, a queue began to form at 5.30 in the morning that by 9 o'clock numbered 500 persons.

The sale was on a "first come, first served" basis, but preference was given to service and ex-service men. The properties were sold on a 99-year lease for prices ranging from £500 ($2,250) to £557 ($2,585).

Complaint !

"In the meantime," said the assistant, "I will call attention to the need for keeping a close watch on the condition of the pens allocated for public use."

National Clothing Collection

FLASH!

In order to ensure the success of this campaign, a door-to-door collection will take place on the afternoon of MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, from one o'clock. Householders are requested to get bundles together and place them on their doorsteps, where they will be collected.

The following organizations will undertake collection for the respective wards: Lachute Branch of the Legion, the East End, including all the streets east of Bethany. Knights of Columbus, the West End, including entire section on the other side of the River. The Lions Club, the centre part of Lachute. . . . The Red Cross will assist in the packing of the bundles, in the basement of the Auditorium.

Don't forget the date! . . . What can you spare that they can wear? ?

ATTENTION!

Pour compléter notre objectif durant cette campagne, une collecte à domicile ou de porte en porte sera faite, LUNDI LE 15 OCTOBRE, commençant à 1 heure p.m. On prie instamment les citoyens de rassembler leur colis de vêtements ensemble, de les déposer sur le devant de leur porte où ils seront recueillis.

Les organizations suivants ont accepté de faire cette collecte pour les quartiers ou districts suivants: La section Lachute de la Légion, la partie est de Lachute. Les Chevaliers de Colomb, la partie à l'ouest de la rivière du Nord. Le Lachute Lions Club, la partie centre de Lachute. . . . La Croix Rouge aidera à l'empaquetage des colis, dans le sous-basement de l'Auditorium.

N'oubliez pas la date! N'oubliez pas les indigents des pays ravagés par guerre!!

WHALERS MAY RETURN

Halifax (CP) — Whalers, a familiar sight to Nova Scotians at the start of the war, may return under a permanent set-up. Plans are being made for a Canadian whaling company to operate in the Antarctic and work from a base in the Maritimes.

Public enemy No. 1 in these times is the man who looks out for No. 1 at all times.

Births, Marriages and Deaths

Births, Marriages, Deaths, In Memoriam, etc., 50 cents each insertion; 5c a line extra for verse with In Memoriam.

MARRIAGE

WELDON - CHAMBERS — On Saturday, October 6, 1945; Ellen Margaret Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chambers, St. Philippe, Que., to Leslie Thomas Weldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Weldon, Grenville, Que.

DEATHS

BOTHWELL — At Lachute on Friday, October 5, Jessie Gilbert, formerly of Dunham, Que., beloved wife of Alex Bothwell.

BRADLEY — At Carillon, Que., on October 5, 1945, Jessie Watson, dearly beloved wife of Robert J. Bradley, in her 72nd year. Funeral held on Monday, October 8, at 2 p.m., at the Presbyterian Church, St. Andrews East.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

BERUBE — The family of the late Ernest Berubé wish to extend their sincere thanks and appreciation for the kind expressions of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings, received during their recent bereavement.

BOTHWELL — Alex Bothwell wishes to express deep appreciation for the many kindnesses and expressions of sympathy extended to him in his sad bereavement.

IN MEMORIAM

CRAIG — In loving memory of a dear brother, Tpr. Norman Craig, who was killed in action October 15, 1944. — Ever remembered by Stanley and Inez.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friends."

LANGILLE — In loving memory of dear Melvin, who passed away October 12, 1934. — Ever remembered by Mother, Dad, sisters and brothers.

"Loving memories never die
As years roll on and days go by,
Deep in our hearts his mem'ry is kept,
The one we loved and will never forget."

Many Mourn Loss, Lady Resident of Rural Community

Late Mrs. Robert Bradley

St. Andrews East —

On Monday afternoon, October 8, the funeral service for the late Mrs. Robert Bradley was held at the Presbyterian Church. It was conducted by the Rev. Wm. MacMillan, D.D., assisted by the Rev. J. S. Nickerson, of the United Church. The metrical version of Psalm 23 and "Rock of Ages" were sung. Dr. MacMillan spoke from the text, "I am the Resurrection and the Life," giving a message of assurance and deep comfort. Mrs. Bradley's strong faith in God, in the life everlasting and the ultimate triumph of Right, her kindly disposition and unselfish ministrations to her family and the community, had surely prepared a "fitting place" for her among "the many mansions" of Christ's kingdom.

Besides her husband, the chief mourners were four daughters, Mrs. A. R. Martin, St. Sauveur, Mrs. J. H. Berryhill, Washington, D.C., Miss Eleanor Bradley, New York; and Miss Ruth Bradley, Montreal; two sons, Mr. Douglas Bradley, Montreal, and Pilot Officer Norman Bradley, Toronto; also three grandchildren, John, Kay and Jessica Berryhill.

The pall-bearers were Messrs Chas. Hyde, Ernest Cooke, Norman MacGregor, Robt. McVicar, Jas. Thompson and Jas. MacKenzie.

Previous to her marriage Mrs. Bradley was Miss Jessica Watson, daughter of the late Robert Watson and his wife Janet Hooker; she was born in Fort Bragg, California. The first few years of her married life were spent in that State, where Mr. Bradley had a fruit orchard. Coming back to Canada they lived on Lachute Road, operating the farm now owned by Stanley Rodger. Upon the opening of the Museum at Carillon, Mr. Bradley accepted the post of curator. Mrs. Bradley, who was 71, passed away at her home on October 6, after several months' illness. One son, Robert, had predeceased her, in 1930.

Mrs. Bradley was a life member of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church, and a life member of the Women's Institute. Lady Tweedsmuir pinned on her the coveted life membership emblem when she visited a rally of the Argenteuil W.I. Mrs. Bradley was the last charter member of Pioneer branch. She had served a term as W.I. county president, and held offices from time to time both in the Institute and the church W.M.S. group.

The family were all present for the funeral service, also Mr. A. R. Martin, son-in-law, Mrs. Douglas Bradley, daughter-in-law; Mrs. W. Goodfellow, Watertown, N.Y., a sister; Mrs. Jas. Judd, a sister, and Mr. Judd, of Vaudreuil, Que.; and Mr. W. G. Watson, Lachute, a brother. A capacity attendance of friends and neighbors marked the affection and esteem in which her memory is held. There were many lovely floral offerings.

Interment took place in St. Andrews East Cemetery.

Parishioners at Arundel Honor Minister and Wife on Departure

Arundel —

On Monday evening, October 8, a large number of friends gathered in Staniforth's Hall, Arundel, at a farewell party in honor of the Rev. Frank R. and Mrs. Hughes, prior to their leaving for Albany, N.Y., where Mr. Hughes will take up new duties in the Anglican Church.

During the evening Mr. Jack Smith made a short speech expressing the people's regret in the Rev. and Mrs. Hughes' departure, but wishing them every success in their new field of work. He then asked Mrs. Hughes to come forward, and the following message was read to her by Mrs. E. J. Craig, of Weir, on behalf of the W.A. of Arundel Parish.

"Dear Mrs. Hughes : On the occasion of your departure from our midst, we, the members of the W.A. would like to express our regrets at your leaving and also to offer some sincere token of our appreciation of the all-too-short friendship which you have formed with us. We are therefore tendering you a life membership in our association, and therewith the membership pin.

"We sincerely wish both you and your husband God's richest blessing, happiness and success in your new field of church work, and hope this expression of our gratitude will serve to remind you through the years to come of the fact that, though we may be separated by distance, we are one in our aims and objects — these, with the fond memories which go with you, will unite us all in thought and spirit for the future.

"So on behalf of the W.A. we ask you to accept the membership and pin, with our sincere good wishes."

Mrs. John Bishop, of Arundel, then presented her with the certificate, and Mrs. Chas. Tutching pinned on her the gold emblem.

Mrs. Hughes thanked everyone for their kindness and said they could have done nothing that would have pleased her more.

Mr. Hughes was then presented with a purse from the congregation, and a sing-song followed after which refreshments were served and the evening was brought to a close by the singing of God Save the King.

Y.P.U. Annual Convention For Montreal Presbytery

The 16th annual convention of the Montreal Presbytery Young People's Union of the United Church of Canada is being held at St. Andrews United Church, Westmount, on October 13 and 14.

The theme of the convention is "Active Service With Christ". The Rev. Bruce Millar, executive secretary to the moderator for the "Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom" is the theme speaker. The commission leaders will be Miss Elinor Harwood, Toronto; Mr. John McLeish, Valleyfield; Dr. Stewart Allen, M.D. (formerly of China); the Rev. J. I. MacKay, Montreal; and Mr. Jack Wallens, Toronto.

The convention will open at 2 p.m. Saturday, continuing until Sunday evening. A large gathering of young people from Montreal, Lachute, Huntingdon and the surrounding districts is expected so that they may obtain first-hand knowledge of what the Crusade is and what their part is in it.

Officers Elected in Presbyterian Y.P.S.

The regular meeting of the Presbyterian Y.P.S. was held last evening, with the best attendance noted to date this year.

President Ruth Orsborn and Cecil McFaul led the worship service. Joe Procter, president of the Montreal Union, gave a brief outline of the Y.P.S. campsite at South Lancaster, Ont., where the Y.P.S. are erecting a permanent camp for summer use.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was held, the following being appointed:

Honorary president, Rev. E. Orsborn; president, Cecil McFaul; vice-president, Joe Procter; secretary-treasurer, Freda Parker.

Program committee, Joe Procter (chairman), Ruth Orsborn, Evelyn McFaul.

Entertainment Committee, R. Underhill.

Refreshment committee, Helen McFaul.

Press secretary, R. Underhill.

A vote of thanks to the retiring officers was unanimously passed. Discussion was held on the possibility of holding an "old fashioned" church supper in early November, the date and further details to be announced later.

The evening having been planned as a social meeting, the business session was brief, followed by a variety of games, quizzes and a singsong, closing with refreshments.

Past members, and any young people of the church, are invited to join in the weekly meetings. The committee is planning to have full programs until the Christmas season.

Boy Scouts of Canada have been asked by John A. Stiles, Chief Executive Commissioner, to give all possible assistance in the National Clothing Campaign to provide needed clothing for Europe's ill-clothed millions.

Rev. C. R. Lang Speaker At United Y.P.U. Meeting

The meeting of Lachute United Church Y.P.U. was under the direction of the Christian Fellowship convenor, Miss Elva Ness, and her guest speaker was the Rev. C. R. Lang, of St. Simeon's Church, Lachute.

In opening his remarks, Mr. Lang said, "I have always remembered the advice of Dr. Norwood, when he was minister of the City Temple, London, and speaking to us students in Toronto, when he said, 'Never turn down an opportunity', and that is one of the reasons why I am here tonight, after being extended an invitation to speak to this group."

Speaking on "Christian Fellowship", the Rev. Mr. Lang said that Christ had given a new conception of humanity, a new dynamic power, and faith in God. He said that Christianity was an experimental religion, learned by experience, and "if we walk in the light as He is in the light, we will have fellowship one with another".

The speaker stressed three leading points pertaining to fellowship in Christ — honesty with God and ourselves, to yield ourselves completely to His service, and the seeking of truth. He said that this was the age of scientific search for truth, but that there were some things that couldn't be measured, calculated or proved by the five senses; a sixth sense was evident to prove that love and warmth of human souls was existent.

Concluding, Mr. Lang said real religion led one to Christ; and fellowship meant that people were re-born into the family of Christ.

The speaker was introduced and thanked by Miss Elva Ness.

During the devotional period, the scripture was read by Miss Gladys Styles and the prayer offered by Miss Vivian Rick. A current event was given by Miss Ness.

It is planned to hold a Hallowe'en party on Tuesday October 30.

The guest speaker next week will be Mr. Linton W. Armstrong.

And a girl who will scream her head off at a mouse will go right out and climb in a car with a wolf.

Wedding Saturday At St. Philippe

Weldon - Chambers

The marriage of Ellen Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Chambers, of St. Philippe, Que., to Leslie Thomas Weldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Weldon, Grenville, Que., took place on October 6 at 6.30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. S. J. Pike officiated. The wedding music was played by Mrs. M. MacDougall, and Mrs. Pike sang "O Perfect Love"

Given away by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of turquoise crepe, carrying white carnations. Miss Phyllis Weldon, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, wearing a darker blue crepe and carrying pink carnations.

Mr. Jas. Chambers, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony a supper was served, after which the bridal couple left by motor for Toronto, Windsor and other points, amidst the good wishes of their many friends.

Local Couple Wed Recently

Hadley - Cox

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized recently at St. Simeon's Anglican Church, Lachute, when Clover Eva, eldest daughter of Mrs. Gordon C. Cox and the late Mr. Cox, of St. Philippe, Que., was united in marriage to Mr. Creswell R. Hadley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hadley, of Lachute. The Rev. C. R. Lang officiated. The church was beautifully decorated with variegated gladioli.

Given in marriage by her uncle Mr. Leslie Weldon, the bride looked charming in a white triple sheer and lace gown with sweetheart neckline, made on fitted lines with a finger-tip veil, and carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Eileen Holt, of Lachute, was attired in a mauve crepe floor-length dress and hat to match with shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The two little flower girls, Marilyn Cox, sister of the bride, and Leonie Elder, were dressed alike in yellow floor-length water-wave taffeta, carrying bouquets of mauve sweet peas.

The groom was supported by Mr. Herbert Gordon, of Lachute.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid a bracelet, and to the flower girls silver bracelets.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit and black accessories, with a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a blue street-length dress, hat and gloves to match, with a corsage of roses.

Great Artificial Port Now Being Dismantled

London (CP) — The great artificial port of Mulberry, the invasion harbor off the Normandy coast, is disappearing, as salvage experts raise the sunken ships which formed the breakwaters. Two of the ships have already been refloated, brought to the Clyde and beached.

Work on four other vessels is nearing completion and three or four vessels a month may be raised by divers and a fleet of salvage craft. The 60 ships sunk to form a 24,000-foot breakwater are of varying sizes and include the French battleship Courbet and H.M.S. Centurion. It is not expected that all the ships will be raised.

French experts previously thought the artificial port might be converted into a mercantile marine base or a fashionable seaside resort, but the plans were found impracticable and recently it was decided to salvage the ships.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

Hints for Homebodies

By Jessie Allen Brown

NEW BRUNSWICK POTATOES

Chance plays a greater part in our lives than we sometimes realize — it even plays a part in industries. The Maritime Farmer tells of the part chance played in the start of exporting New Brunswick potatoes. A Miss Savage of New York spent her summers near Fredericton. She was very enthusiastic about the New Brunswick potatoes, in fact, she said that was one of the things which brought her back each year. She suggested to one of the growers that he should export them to New York, and offered to get in touch with a reliable merchant she knew. This was done and so the first potatoes were exported purely by chance. The soil and climatic conditions of parts of New Brunswick are particularly suited for growing potatoes and, although New Brunswick has only 4% of the total population of Canada, in 1943 it grew 25% of the potatoes grown. Besides potatoes for food, quantities are exported as seed potatoes. Other industries have started and the culls are used in starch factories. They have gone into dehydrated potatoes in a big way in the war years, whether that remains a peace-time industry is still to be proved. Industrial alcohol and plastics are among the possibilities for future use of potatoes. Industries developed to use home products would be a boon to the Maritimes.

EMOTIONS INFLUENCE HEALTH

Our emotions have a great deal to do with our health. If we lose our temper or worry about things we upset our nervous system and this acts directly on our digestive system. Gastric ulcers seem to be increasing in frequency and it is estimated that about 80% of them are caused from nervous tension. It is a queer thing, but many persons are proud of their bad tempers, and others are inclined to boast about how they worry. The family meal table is no place for acrimonious discussions. With the rush and bustle of modern life it sometimes seems that meal time is the only time the family is together and then too often all grievances are aired. Why mothers will go to all kinds of trouble to get a good meal and then will turn it to dust and ashes by nagging and scolding is hard to understand. Men are not free from blame on this score either. They pay for the meal so they had better try and get their money's worth by having a pleasant happy time, and getting full value of the food that is eaten. The question of why Johnny got such poor marks in Latin or why Mary wasn't in earlier last night has no place at the table.

FOLD IN

So many recipes which use stiffly beaten egg whites direct you to fold them in instead of the usual stirring. This is because the beaten This is because the stiffly beaten egg whites are used to make the mixture light and cutting or stirring it would destroy the air cells and the mixture would not be as light. Egg white cells are like tiny balloons and when they are beaten they stretch and fill with air. Stirring or rough handling will break the walls of the air cells and the air will escape. The folding motion is down, across, and up, and should be done slowly and gently.

SPONGE CAKE

1 Cup sifted cake flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, speck of salt 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 6 tablespoons hot water, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat the egg whites until stiff adding half the sugar gradually. Beat the egg yolks until thick and lemon colored and add the remaining sugar gradually. Stir the hot water and the vanilla into the egg yolks and fold this into the egg whites. Sift in the dry ingredients and fold them into the egg mixture. Bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees.

BANANA SPONGE

1½ Tablespoons gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 2 cups milk, ½ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons lemon juice. 3 ripe bananas mashed, 1 egg white.

Soak the gelatin in the cold water. Heat the milk and add gelatin and sugar and stir until dissolved. Chill until partially set. Stir in the lemon juice and bananas and fold in the stiffly beaten egg white. Chill until set

GIRL SPRAY-PAINTER SURPRISES HER BOSS

Regina Decorator Thought He Had Hired a Novice, But Soon Changed His Mind

Regina (CP)—Tom Hughes, Regina decorator, was pleased when selective service authorities told him they had a painter for him; saddened when they said the painter was a woman. But Mr. Hughes now is smiling — the girl has turned out to be one of the best painters on his staff.

She is Wylda Arnold, of Regina, and her ability is understandable, for her father, W. J. Arnold, and brother, Alfred, also are painters.

When Miss Arnold began work here nothing much was expected of her, but when she covered 5,000 square feet in one day with a paint sprayer she convinced Mr. Hughes that she could hold her own with men.

For two years she worked in Vancouver with an aircraft company spraying paint on planes. She liked Vancouver but didn't care for the work, and when the company began laying off employees she returned to Regina, asked selective service what kind of job they had to offer. Officials grinned politely when she said she was a qualified spray painter.

Mr. Hughes needed help badly when selective service told him they had a woman painter, hired her thinking she would be useful in carrying paint here and there, mixing some of it and turning the compressor on and off

Miss Arnold was taken to a job involving spraying same storage drums her first day on the Hughes staff. Her employer said she picked up a sprayer, seemed to know how it worked, so he left her and returned to Regina.

That day Yylda covered 5,000 square feet with paint, and Mr. Hughes said proudly, "That's high-average for even a man". Top-flight male painters have been known to cover 7,000 square feet in a day.

Wylda likes the work but says little about it. She intends, though, to continue to paint as long as there is work for a woman painter to do.

TRAP THAT DUST

Do your dusters absorb dust or merely flick it off into the air from where it eventually returns to rest once more on the furniture? You won't need to dust as often with dusters treated this way. Place two tablespoons of liquid furniture polish in a large screw-top jar. Tip and turn the jar until the inside surface is covered with polish. Put clean dusters . . . old pieces of soft cotton are hard to beat . . . into the jar and let them stand for a day or two.

IN PRAISE OF WOMEN

Whatever else the war has brought to pass there can be no doubt of the increased fields which have opened to women generally. Women have always shouldered their responsibilities in wartime, but never have they assumed responsibilities so great as in recent years.

— Woodstock (N.B.) Sentinel

Decline in Work, B'burg Red Cross

Brownsburg — The September report for Brownsburg Red Cross branch, shows the following articles completed by voluntary workers :

Service, 13; Hospital, 31; Civilian Clothing, 14; Civilian Knitting, 24; W.A.S. Knitting, 1; Quilts, 2; — total, 85 articles.

Wool used — Forces, 5 lbs. 10 ozs.; Civilian, 4 lbs.; W.A.S., 8 ozs. — total 10 lbs., 2 ozs.

This shows a decrease of 175 articles, and 7 lbs. 5 ozs. less wool used, than in the month of September last year.

Child's Food Habits Depend on Mother

Food habits are formed very early in life, and whether these habits are good or bad depends almost entirely upon the mother. Teaching a child to eat new foods takes skillful handling and the Nutrition Division of the Department of National Health and Welfare offer a few tips on how to do it.

Keep strong-flavored foods, sweets and gravies away from a child until he has acquired a taste for the "must" foods — milk, eggs, fruits and vegetables. Introduce new foods in extremely small amounts, even less than half a teaspoon at a time. Fruit juice may be introduced in drops or by half-teaspoonful, increasing the amount gradually.

When a new food is given to a child something he has already learned to like may be served also. Just at first the new food may be mixed with a familiar one but this practice should not be continued.

Be sure food is palatable, free from fibre and easily digestible. At first purée vegetables and fruits, strain the fruit juices and scrape the meat. Later vary the form, serving fruits and vegetables cooked or raw, and cubed, sliced or mashed as you please.

A NEW DRESS FOR SUE

Could little Sue use a new dress? Then make her one from two of her outgrown or worn ones. Choose contrasting colors . . . a striped and a plain material are good. One dress provides yoke sleeves and perhaps a band to insert in the skirt. The other dress makes the skirt, collar and cuffs.

HARVEST PROBLEM

The meat problem is tough in every respect. The W.P.T.B. publishes information that many women's organizations throughout the country have wired approval of the measure. In fact, these constitute nothing more than outpourings of emotion. Our guess is that fewer messages of support would be forthcoming if the women in question had to drudge around cleaning a flock of chickens every day to eke out the meat supply at harvest time.

— Melita (Man.) New Era

LIPSTICK WARDROBE IS NEW GLAMOR AID

New York (CP) — The modern miss considers it a tragedy to be found wearing the wrong shade of lipstick with her gown and she wouldn't be caught in a blackout with such discord as an orange lipstick and purple gown.

It has become more of a possibility in the last few years to find matching lipsticks, but cosmeticians, realizing that many women cannot afford to buy a new lipstick every time they purchase a new hat or dress, are attempting to simplify matters by packaging inexpensive lipstick wardrobes that contain every shade anyone would need.

To make it simpler, one manufacturer suggests a lipstick wardrobe for medium brown, brunette, blonde, reddhead and silver grey hair types.

For the medium brown-haired girl they suggest a lipstick wardrobe containing four shades. There is a "red velvet" lipstick to blend with shades of tan, rust, gold and brown; a "pink champagne" for all shades of blue; "plush red" for purple, lavender and fuchsia tones, and "red raspberry" for all shades of green.

F. W. I. C. Stamps

The suggestion of F.W.I.C. stamps to raise money for the National Emergency Fund is proving very popular in this province. Almost all branches report ordering on the proposed basis of ten stamps per member. Many are exceeding this amount thus ensuring a substantial contribution to this important part of Institute work.

Lachute Boy Scouts

The regular meeting of the 1st Lachute Troop Boy Scouts was held October 3, opening with the usual flag-raising and inspection.

Scoutmaster Duncan gave a talk on the Union Jack, describing its composition and the proper way to display it.

Bill McMartin, leader of the Eagle Patrol, gave an efficient demonstration on how to make a camp bed with two blankets and a ground sheet.

After games had been played, the meeting was closed in the usual manner — following which the "Court of Honor" was held and it was decided that tenderfoot tests would be tried next week.

WHOLEHEARTED RESPONSE REWARDS CIVIC DRIVE IN NATIONAL CLOTHING CAMPAIGN

Town Gives Creditable Account As Appeal Nears Its Conclusion

Lachute's participation in the National Clothing Collection, for the ill-clad and war-destitute people of Greece and the Western European countries, was a credit once again to this community which usually plays a ready role in such patriotic campaigns.

Mayor Leopold Carrière and his committee enlisted the aid of several business establishments to act as receiving centres, and the public response in depositing clothing at these places exceeded early expectations. Then, as a final effort to collect all available material, a house-to-house canvass was conducted on Monday afternoon last — again with good results. This collection was preceded by advertising displayed around the street on the auxiliary fire truck, and the whole campaign was well publicized.

In the final collection, several organizations co-operated to cover the town — including Lachute branch of the Legion, the Knights of Columbus and the Lions Club. In sorting and bundling the mass of contributions, which exceeded 8,000 pounds from Lachute Town, the local branch of the Red Cross gave sterling service. The work was executed in the Auditorium basement.

Dates of the national campaign are from October 1 to 20, so in the remaining two days there is still an opportunity for those who have neglected to clear out their attics and store-rooms for useable clothing.

Theatre Program

A substantial return in this drive also resulted from a special program arranged at the Rex Theatre last Thursday, in which the admission price was a nominal fee of 10 cents plus some article of footwear or clothing. The management reported the public attendance was not high but there were numerous large bundles tendered at the wicket, which gave the desired boost to this collection. Lachute Boy Scouts gave assistance here in receiving the parcels.

Thanks to Public and Assisting Groups

Mayor L. Carrière has requested that the thanks of his committee be conveyed, through this report, to all who gave assistance in the drive — in collecting, transporting and sorting of the gifts; and also to the public, without whose generous response this community would not have made such a fine showing.

Neighboring Centres

An interim call from the committee at Brownsburg in last issue of The Watchman, an appeal at Avoca, and a report this week from St. Andrews East — suggest that in many surrounding communities the campaign was well organized and received enthusiastic support.

St. Andrews Gets A Ton of Clothing

New Boys' Brigade Group Undertakes Collection

St. Andrews East — The St. Andrews East branch of the Boys' Brigade, organized this autumn under the leadership of Kenneth McAllister, undertook a door-to-door campaign on Saturday, October 13, for the National Clothing Collection. Transportation was supplied by E. C. Calder to the receiving depot at the Presbyterian Church hall; 38 large boxes of bedding, garments, hats and shoes were turned in, and several more are expected this week. In all about a ton of clothing will be shipped from here.

District Governor Gives Challenging Address on Official Visit to Rotary

Brownsburg — The regular Thursday dinner meeting of the Rotary Club, held at Carrière's Hotel, took the form of a ladies' night. Wives and friends of members took part. District Governor Douglas Silverston was the special speaker for the evening and delivered a timely address on "Juvenile Delinquency". He was introduced by President Sam Ross of the Brownsburg Club.

Guests, introduced by Secretary Wes Freeland, included J. S. Giles, District Governor of the Lions Club; Leopold Carrière, Mayor of Lachute and president of Lachute Lions Club — and Mrs. Carrière; Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, immediate past-president of Lachute Lions Club, and Mrs. FitzGerald; Leon Harcourt, president, Hawkesbury Rotary, and Mrs. Harcourt; John Chalmers, manager, Canadian Safety Fuse Co., and Mrs. Chalmers; Omer Legault, chairman, Brownsburg Catholic School Board, and Mrs. Legault, Joseph Joly, president of the North Baseball League; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Martin, Lachute, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nesbitt, Montreal.

Immediately following an excellent chicken dinner, a short singsong took place, led by Norm Somers, with Harold Barrie at the piano.

The very thought-provoking address, summarized below, was followed by dancing. During orchestra intermissions, Lomer Carrière acted as master of ceremonies and persuaded several members to sing, tell stories and play the piano. These included piano solos by Mrs. Douglas Silverston, Harold Barrie and a duet by the latter and Sam Rose; as well as song-leading by His Worship Mayor Carrière. Armand Bourgon sang to his own accompaniment.

Grece's Pt. Citizen Last Member of Pioneer Family

The Late J. Benjamin Desforges

Cushing W. — An old and respected resident of this district passed away last week, in the person of Mr. Benjamin Desforges, whose death occurred at his home in Grece's Point on Sunday evening, October 7, in his 83rd year.

Mr. Desforges was the last surviving member of a numerous pioneer family, who came to this locality about the middle of the last century. In his earlier years he, in common with most of the young men reared in the picturesque village of Grece's Point, followed the lumbering business on the Ottawa River, and he was an interesting raconteur of the events and happenings of those colorful days of the past. In later years, he was employed on the locks of the Grenville Canal, and more recently was retired, owing to failing health and advancing age.

Mr. Desforges was twice married, first to Mlle Pilon, of Chatboro, by whom he had a family of two sons and two daughters — Messrs. Ignace Desforges, of Grenville, and Eldège, of Grece's Point, and Mesdames Pharand, of Montreal, and Vachon, lately of Chatboro and now residing in Grece's Point. By his second wife, the former Mlle Thibodeau, of Ste. Scholastique, he leaves two sons and a daughter, Messrs. Gaston and Roland Desforges, and Madame Lucien Larose, of Montreal. His entire family were present at his bedside when he passed peacefully away.

The funeral, which was attended by a large number of friends, relatives and neighbors, took place Wednesday morning October 10, to the parish church of St. Philippe, at which Mr. Desforges had been a faithful attendant all his life. Solemn High Mass was conducted by the parish priest, with two attendants — and the remains were laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery.

Pall-bearers were his seven grandsons, Messrs. Fernand, Georges, Rodrigue, Jean, and Rejean Desforges, also Gerard and Emanuel Pharand, of Montreal.

The sympathy of this community is extended to the sorrowing family.

It's not just to build a new world for our children, but to build our children for a new world.

Many at Funeral Of Well Known B'burg Resident

The Late Gordon Tomalty

Brownsburg — On Tuesday afternoon in the United Church, Brownsburg (graciously made available for the occasion because of its spaciousness), there was held one of the most largely attended funerals ever to take place in the community, that of the late Gordon Tomalty, whose death occurred in the Montreal General Hospital on Sunday morning, following a prolonged illness.

Service was conducted by the Rev. W. H. Leaton, pastor of Maple Avenue Baptist Church (of which the deceased had been a faithful attendant), and participated in by Rev. S. J. Pike. The gathering was representative of every section of the surrounding country, including many from distant places, who filled to overflowing the large auditorium, many occupying also the basement. The combined choir sang, by special request, "Shall we gather at the river", and Mr. Frank Steere rendered a solo "Softly and tenderly". Congregational hymns were "From every stormy wind that blows" and "The sands of time are sinking". A profusion of flowers bore silent testimony to the high esteem in which Mr. Tomalty was held.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. Stanley Boyd, Howard Dixon, Stanley Holt, George McGibbon, Nelson Morrison and Linton Tomalty.

Numerous members of the Orange Order were present in regalia, and the funeral service of the Order was read at the committal in Lachute Cemetery.

Gordon Robert Tomalty was born at Louisa, Que., on December 26, 1892, the only son of the late Robert Tomalty, and of Mrs. Tomalty now of Brownsburg. He was married November 17, 1920, to Mina Margaret Dixon, of Dalesville, who survives him, with two daughters, Norma and Frances, and one son, Alvin. Besides his mother, wife and children, he leaves also four sisters, Mrs. Nelson Jones (Mabel), of West Medway, Mass., Mrs. Norval Blair (Gladys), of Saskatoon, Sask., Mrs. George W. Creswell (Alma) and Mrs. William H. Tomalty (Gertrude), both of Brownsburg, also a foster-sister, Miss Edith Brown, of Brownsburg.

Huge Union Jack Flown in Belfast

London (CP)—Huge flags of the United Nations have flown in London streets during celebrations of victory, but a flag-making firm has set forth that really big flags seldom are seen.

The world's biggest flag was a Union Jack for Belfast, measuring 75 by 37 feet. The next largest was another Union Jack, 45 by 22 feet, also made for Northern Ireland. The third is a White Ensign, 42 by 21 feet, made to be flown from the tower of Limehouse Church in London, which has the right to fly this flag.

Tribute to Memory Of Late Guardsman

A memorial service for the late Gdsm. Geo. Mervyn McOuat, killed in action on the Western front March 28, 1945, is being held at the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning, October 21, at 11 o'clock.

Gdsm. McOuat was the son of Murray McOuat, formerly of Lachute and now of Montreal. He was serving with the 21st Cdn. Armoured Regiment, Governor General's Foot Guards, when he met his death, at the age of 30. A brother, Gdsm. Lawrence McOuat, has returned from active service in Europe and is now awaiting his discharge from the services.

Local Airmen Back to Civvies

Cpl. Robert Woods, formerly of the Bank of Nova Scotia staff at Brownsburg, visited recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Reid in that village. Following his discharge from the Air Force he left this week for a position in the branch of the bank at Barrie, Ont., and will be joined later by his wife and child, from England.

LAC. Gerard Trudel, brother of Aimé Trudel, who served with the Snowy Owl squadron in Britain, has been discharged and is now in the employ of Farmer Brown's Motor Sales, Brownsburg Road.

LAC. Lloyd Graham, who also served with the R.C.A.F. in Britain, received his discharge from the services last week.

From the Army

Cpl. Andy Paulsen, who has secured six months' leave of absence, is now working with Mr. Albert Ogilvie at the Lachute Nursery.

Forestry Troops Want Magazines

Members of the Forestry Corps unit in their two camps at Pine Hill and Lost River, appreciate the gifts of magazines from local citizens. Officers of the contingent say this literature has been pretty well devoured, and a new supply for the camps would be very welcome. Any persons having fiction or periodicals to donate, may leave same at the showroom of North River Motors Ltd., Main Street.

Morin Hts. Airman Promoted O'seas

Morin Heights — Word has been received that P/O Baird S. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Davis of Morin Heights, has arrived in England from India, having completed his tour of operations in the Burma campaign.

Enlisting before he was 19, he graduated from No. 9 A.O.S. at St. Johns, Que., in January 1944 as a Navigator-Bombardier with the rank of Sergeant, and went overseas in May of the same year. After further training he was posted to No. 437 "Husky" squadron and participated in operations in Holland and Belgium, and was promoted to Flight-Sergeant before being drafted to the East in January 1945.

Attached to 117 squadron R.A.F. of the South East Asia Air Forces, he completed 700 hours flying shortly before V-J Day. Back in England he was advised by Canadian Headquarters of his promotion to commissioned rank, which was retroactive to the time he was in India. While in the Repat Wing awaiting transportation home, he was confined to hospital in Bournemouth for a short time, but has now recovered and expects to leave for Canada in the near future.

Morin Hts Citizen Masonic D.D.G.M.

The annual meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of the Province of Quebec was held in the Masonic Temple in Montreal on October 10, when the honor of two appointments for the Ottawa district, Grand Lodge, was accorded to Argenteuil County members of the Order — Carl Seale, of Morin Heights, a past master of Arundel Lodge, being elected District Deputy Grand Master, and the Rev. W. B. Rosborough, also a past-master, of Lachute Lodge, being appointed as District Deputy Grand Chaplain.

Eight members attended from Argenteuil Lodge, also delegations from Arundel and Grenville.

Lions Club to Hear CBC Correspondent From War Fronts

Reporting on the National Clothing Collection at the regular meeting of the Lachute Lions, held at the Golf Club on Tuesday evening, Lion President Leopold Carrière announced that upwards of 8,000 lbs. of wearing apparel had been collected for the distressed people in war-torn Europe, and in his dual capacity as mayor of the town and Lions Club president, he wished to take the opportunity of thanking all of the kindred organizations for the very fine co-operation they had extended.

Lion L. Rozon presented his report on the "bingo" held recently in the Auditorium, which had replenished the treasury to the extent of over $450.

The president announced the next night of meeting as November 6, to which a cordial invitation had been extended to the Brownsburg Rotarians. The speaker for this special night is Capt. Marcel Ouimet, who covered the African and Italian campaigns as war correspondent for CBC, then proceeding to Western Europe and reporting the Allied advance from D-Day on. His address is being anticipated with keen interest.

District Objectives and Sales Force In Argenteuil Victory Loan Campaign

Ninth Victory Loan objectives for the various canvassing districts in Argenteuil County, as announced by Victory Loan headquarters this morning, are as follows :

Lachute	$425,000
Brownsburg	190,000
Calumet	115,000
Grenville	100,000
St. Andrews East	85,000
Morin Heights	50,000
Arundel	30,000
Weir	30,000
Huberdeau	25,000
Unallocated	25,000
	$1,075,000

As the Ninth Victory Loan actually represents "two-loans-in-one", all objectives are higher than those of the Eighth Victory Loan. However, the new Loan offers easy terms over a period of twelve months instead of over six months as in previous Loans. A 5% initial payment is all that is required now compared with the 10% payment heretofore.

Applications for Ninth Victory Loan Bonds may be placed through any branch of a chartered bank in Argenteuil County or through any one of the following official Victory Loan salesmen :

Lachute — J. R. Charron, Alex Guenette, Fernand Legault, Lionel Rozon, Arnold Scott, Harry Scott, Angus Taylor, Real Urbain.

St. Jerusalem — Arthur Pollock.

Gore — Amos Kerr.

St. Philippe — James Derouin, Fred H. Renaud.

Cushing — John Innes

Brownsburg — John Connelly, John Duncan, John Mason, C. E. Prosser, A. B. Stewart, Stanley Thompson.

Dalesville — J. A. Campbell.

Grenville — Gilbert E. Arnold.

Calumet — M. R. Robinson.

Harrington — Dougald MacTavish.

Avoca — Mrs. Allan MacPhee.

St. Andrews East — Wm. Entwistle, Ernest W. Rodger, Lucien Savard.

Hunter Lost in Bush Over Night

At Lost River on Sunday evening a Lachute townsman, Russell Rodgers, had the uncomfortable experience of being lost in the bush. He had entered the woods around four o'clock with Delbert McTavish, also of this town; they had separated, and later, during a downpour of rain which threatened to continue all night, Rodgers found he had lost his bearings. He came across a stream and followed its course, eventually approaching a lake, just as darkness set in. There was a camp on the lake, and here he settled for the night.

His companion, Delbert McTavish, searched the bush north of the highway till midnight, firing shots to attract the lost hunter. He abandoned the search, and early Monday morning organized a posse of neighbors. They eventually saw smoke from the camp fire, and found the missing man at what is known as McRae's Lake, four miles in the bush north of the Lost River highway.

Annual Armistice Ceremony Planned

16 NEW VETERANS ENROL IN LEGION BRANCH

Another large attendance of servicemen turned out for the regular meeting of Argenteuil Branch, No. 70, of the Canadian Legion, held at McArthur's Hall on Tuesday.

Sixteen ex-service men were duly initiated as new members of the branch, in a very impressive ceremony.

Plans were completed for the annual Armistice Day service to be held on Sunday, November 11. The service this year will be held in the Auditorium at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, instead of in the morning, to allow special services to be held in the local churches at the usual hours. All members of the Legion Branch are requested to parade outside the Auditorium at 2.45 p.m. — World War I veterans with berets and medals, World War II veterans with campaign ribbons (wearing of uniforms optional). All ex-servicemen are cordially invited to join in the parade.

Comrade R. A. Giles was appointed chairman of the Poppy Fund drive. The poppies sold on this occasion are made exclusively by disabled veterans and the proceeds used on their behalf.

Next regular meeting of the Legion was announced for the third Tuesday in November.

Women's Inst. Topic Commands Attention -- Timely Thought to Uptrend in Child Delinquency

Parental Responsibility Shown in Childhood Deficiencies and Needs

A challenge to take up the study of problems of child delinquency was left with the Study Group of Lachute Women's Institute by Mrs. Gordon Wyness, at a recent meeting held in the High School. She suggested as an aim the establishment of clinics along the same lines as our Health Units, where parents and children could iron out their difficulties, before they became major problems, with properly trained advisers.

Mrs. Wyness prefaced her talk by quoting a verse of poetry by Mrs. J. Graham, of Cushing, entitled "Little Hands". . . Following is a synopsis of the speaker's address :

Every generation re-discovers and re-evaluates the meaning of infancy and childhood. The aim of every individual, now peace is here, is to make sure that war will not happen again. This lies to a great extent in the hands of parents and guardians, and depends largely on how we evaluate the child.

Major Problems :

Our problems are as follows. . . Juvenile delinquency is on the increase. Why? A child commits an offence against the law and is consequently hauled before a judge and often committed to a cell for a time, to await results. These cells may have been occupied by prostitutes, drunks, etc., and are often in a filthy condition. Perhaps this child's first offence is just a thoughtless prank, but he gets the same treatment as a hardened criminal.

Dyson Carter's study of the way Russia had attacked her social problems, as told in a booklet "Sin and Science," was mentioned in comparison and as a basis for study.

Changed Attitude

Our attitude to the solution of this problem should be that every child has the right to grow up into a normal adult. This means that all parents should give their children, first, faith in themselves, and second, hope for the future. These, in turn, give peace of mind, and security; and finally self-control is instilled in the growing mind.

Every child has the right to normal parents, a normal home; these needs should be answered. Similarly, adequate recreation and wholesome environment. Every child, too, has the right to be treated as an individual, no matter how large the family. Every one in that group has different characteristics. These should be studied, by parents and teachers. No hard or fast rule of procedure can be applied.

Each child should be given a goal to live for, and encouraged by every means to achieve it.

Goals to Attain

1. Give the child, at every stage, help in the joy of living. — A physically well, rightly treated, socially secure child, is naturally a happy child.

2. Inner Self Control. — An adult must plan, from its birth, to gradually retreat from the child.

3. Avoid the child's becoming morbid. — There are three dangers here:

(a) Fear — instanced by frightening the child with thoughts of "I'll tell your father," or the policeman, etc. — a very poor form of discipline.

In Elevator Crash

Joseph N. Robinson, who resided here on Grace Street during the time he was employed at the Brownsburg munitions plant, was one of the 15 persons injured in the crash of an elevator last week at the Defence Industries Building, near C-I-L House on Dorchester Street, Montreal. Receiving a painful foot injury, Mr. Robinson was given treatment at the Western Hospital and conveyed to his home in Town of Mount Royal.

Nations that take it easy today will be easy meat for aggressors tomorrow.

Parade Saturday To Inaugurate Victory Loan Here

To inaugurate the Ninth Victory Loan campaign in Lachute a parade of cars and vehicles will be held on Saturday, October 20, at 3.30 p.m. Citizens are asked to decorate their vehicles and join in the parade, which will start from the Auditorium. — Let's go, Lachute!

FARM TOPICS

Speeding Release Of Men on Farms

In ensuring the speedy release of men from the armed forces for farm work, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, says the Agricultural Labor Survey Committees set up in each of the 13 mobilization divisions of the Dominion, under the sponsorship of the Agricultural Employment Division of his Department, have been doing a good job. The Committees have close contacts with the armed forces and have been successful in securing the release of men. Since July 1st of this year, more than 5,000 applications for the release of farm workers have been reviewed.

While the Committees deal mainly with farm workers, they also advise in some areas on the release of men for logging, fishing, and food processing plants. The Committees also advise farmers and others in basic industries on the procedures involved in securing men from the Services who are anxious to take up work in any of these lines.

SHERBROOKE WINTER FAT STOCK SHOW

The Provincial Fat Stock Show opened at Sherbrooke yesterday, to conclude on the 19th with an auction sale of the qualified animals exhibited. The annual show is held under the auspices of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association in co-operation with the Provincial Beef Cattle Breeders Association. The Quebec Department of Agriculture grants $2.000 to be distributed among exhibitors.

Last year, the sale of 507 head of livestock — 148 beef cattle, 262 market lambs and 97 bacon hogs — brought over $60,000. The grand champion steer was sold at $2.90 a pound, the best three bacon hogs $1.00 a pound and the grand champion market lamb, $5.00 a pound.

Minerals and Vitamins

Minerals and vitamins are important in winter pig feeding. The cereal grains are low in calcium (lime), hence the big need in pig rations is for lime or calcium supplements. Skim-milk, buttermilk, commercial concentrate and tankage aer well supplied with calcium. Lacking these additional materials, calcium in the form of high-calcium limestone should be added to the grain mixture at the rate of one pound limestone to 100 pounds of grain. Stiffness and crippling commonly develop if Vitamin D is not supplied and a lack of Vitamin A may result in a lack of resistance to disease. Mixing one teaspoonful of a standard feeding oil in the feed daily for each pig will insure an adequate supply of both vitamins. The oil should be given the pigs reach a weight of 100 to 110 pounds.

Culling of Young Poultry Stock

(Experimental Farm News)

When the birds in a poultry flock have been in lay a sufficient length of time, weaknesses in certain individuals will appear and culls will show up. In many cases these birds will die, says B. F. Cheney, Head Poultryman at the Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville, N.S. Many of these could have been removed from the flock at an earlier date, with considerable saving in feed, labor and housing space.

There are three particular periods when this can be done conveniently. The first culling should be as day-olds when all small, poorly developed chicks should be disposed of without any hesitation. During the brooding period there will always be some stunted chicks which apparently have not the ability to utilize their feed to advantage. These should be removed as they appear.

When the pullets are being put out on range there is an opportunity to handle the pullets individually. Considerable saving will result if all small pullets, and those lacking in pigment of the yellow leg varieties, are taken out.

The third and most rigid culling should take place when the birds are being housed for the winter. Many are put into the laying house that should be marketed for meat, thus saving months of useless feeding, as well as effecting a reduction in the future mortality of the flock.

A considerable proportion of adult mortality is not the result of faulty management in the laying house, but rather dates back in most cases to faulty incubation, brooding and rearing, or poor stock. The sooner these faults are recognized by the producer, and rectified, the greater will be the saving.

Flying High -- Across Canada

By J. A. McLAUGHLIN

Jottings of a Tyro's Ottawa-Vancouver T.C.A. Flight

Wakened on the eventful day by the alarm's whirr to realize "This is it!" — Looked out the window — the day was clear with promise of more ninety-five degrees heat — Had the usual breakfast without noticeable tremors but felt that pre-game bowling playoff excitement — The taxi came early and whisked me down to the Chateau Laurier for the airlines bus — Stepped outside the hotel for a last look around the Plaza in the crisp air of eight-thirty a.m. — Ottawa looked good to me, murky old Union Station and all —

The bus arrived and there was the momentary rush of packing everyone in — the forty--five minute drive to the airport is the last stage of the "pre-flight" — Another line-up at the airport as tickets are checked and bags weighed — Dismayed to find mine fourteen pounds over the forty pounds allowed — cost me sixty-nine cents a pound extra — Handy men stowed our bags in a plane on the tarmac while the passengers jockeyed for places of advantage for a quick break when the door opened — Suddenly realized on spotting my own Gladstone being loaded, that the plane was to be my "wings" so she got closer attention than before —

A couple of minutes more and the signal was given to load — we were checked off by the trim stewardess as we ducked through the low narrow doorway into the plane's cabin — Hand baggage into overhead compartments — Found a seat left, third from the back, without a "reserved" card on it — A noticeable slant downward from the forepart of cabin gangway to the plane's tail —

The pilot and co-pilot came aboard — the kind of men to be trusted — looked like American soldiers — good morale evident — Suddenly a roar like a thousand outboard motors cutting loose on the right side of the plane — That kept up for several minutes, then shifted to the left of the twin motored job — the whole plane quivers and shakes — The stewardess goes through the cabin attaching safety belts for tyros like me — Slowly the plane taxis out the runway, her nose sniffing the wind like a charger — an infernal splitting noise from the engines — the landscape blurs as we rush madly to the edge of the horizon — you grab your belt tensely — the wheels are clear and up we go, rising fast over trees along familiar highways — at last we are aloft — and with relief one relaxes —

Rideau lakes an emerald pattern — Field shimmering below in alternating shades of green, brown and yellow — Strange, no animals standing in the fields — Layouts of farm buildings an many farms thousands of feet below draw one's imagination back to the early builders of our Canada — if they could have seen their handiwork as we do, they would have been proud-farsighted folk! Pilot gunning the engines all-out at take-off Malton Airport, Toronto, then away to the West —

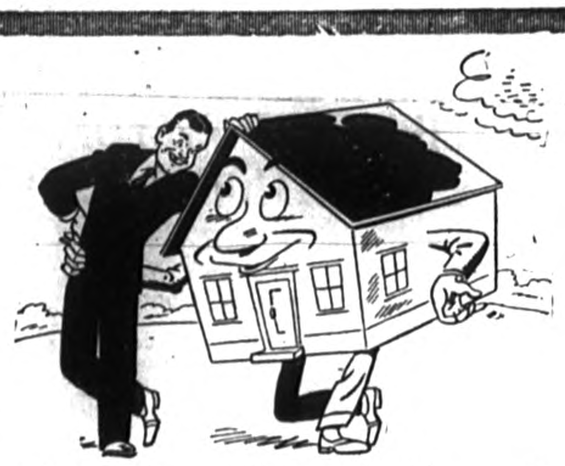

Holland River experiment in soil cultivation by Dutch community at Holland Landing, Ontario, near Bradford — their fields of root crops like strips of all colors pasted on a paint color card — First view of Lake Simcoe was near Barrie — water light green — small launch on the lake stationary, resembling a torpedo with the spray flying on both sides — Gravenhurst at the entrance to Muskoka Lakes like a toy city in a large department store — The country north of Muskoka so barren, a fellow-traveller remarks, "Blueberries, black bass and deer and you've said it all" — Learning more of the character of rivers, and their shades are as varied as the color of leaves on the trees — The French River, home of the big "muskies" a black and turgid ribbon —

Best seats in the 'plane are at the extreme back — one can see forward without the wing interfering — there are fourteen seats, seven each side, and an aisle down the centre wide enough for one person to walk — seats are something like those in air-conditioned cars on best trains — In the rack over one's head is a blanket and a small pillow — The temperature is comfortable, about eighty degrees — there is a temperature adjustment above each seat — I'm sitting in short sleeves with my collar loose — apart from a rumbling in the ears and some pressure in the legs the sensations are little different at 4,000 feet than in a motor car —

Had a good look at Callander but didn't see Papa Dionne or the quints — it's quite a sawmill town — lakes, lakes, lakes, every size and shape imaginable — At Haileybury and New Liskeard saw the goldmines — sludge from the mines has turned the lakes to a dirty yellow — The Temiskaming River becomes the Ottawa River below Mattawa — Logged off clearings in the bush look like well laid out potato fields — From 8,000 feet up we saw a car exceeding the 40-mile speed limit on the highway below — We just ran over a cow with her back up (a small air bump) and woke up the girl in the seat ahead of me — she's a stewardess on vacation now returning to her T.C.A. run out of Vancouver —

The inner man is now well fortified — we had to wait for lunch until we left Porquis Junction behind at 1.20 p.m. but the wait was worthwhile — orange juice, cold chicken, potato salad, tomato relish, lettuce, carrot and raisin salad, bun and butter, and butter tart and tea — all served in a square tray no larger than a foot square — and tasty —

Tax Concessions

AN UPLIFT, both moral and material, comes to the "little man", in Finance Minister Ilsley's new budget — a budget perhaps never before more eagerly awaited. Besides a 16 per cent drop in personal income tax, there is a soothing potion for that perennial headache, the filling out of income tax forms: Mr. Ilsley promises they will be "greatly simplified". But past experience prompts a certain skepticism; we'll wait and see.

The budget was neither disappointing nor elating, neither spectacular nor dull. The Finance Minister held the attention of the House of Commons, and there was standing room only in the galleries as he gave the country his message in a 10,000-word document. He told the House personal income tax was reduced, the 100 per cent excess profits tax lowered to 60 per cent, the 10 per cent war exchange tax on all imports from non-Empire countries removed and the eight per cent sales tax on all machinery of production removed.

Greater concessions were made to business because Mr. Ilsley was concerned with loosening the shackles of heavy wartime taxation on private enterprise. As regards personal income tax, however — "I think there is no doubt that the personal income tax will continue to occupy a major place in our taxation structure," he said. "The extent and nature of the requirements of the government will necessitate dependence on the personal income tax as a major element in the taxation system. It should be, however, an income tax carefully reviewed to ensure its efficiency and its suitability to post-war requirements." He felt this was not the time to embark on such a revision since there were uncertainties of future revenue requirements and re-allocation of Dominion-provincial financial arrangements now under consideration by the provinces.

The Good Old Ways

WAXING nostalgic on a domestic pastime now threatened by the inroads of science, the Picton (Ont.) Gazette heaves this editorial sigh: "While this new-fangled DDT exterminator is all to the good, some of us will lay down the old fly-swatter with regret. There was a profound satisfaction in eyeing a fly buzzing around the room, watching it land, creeping up on it stealthily to avoid its thousand eyes and then — smack, a clean hit. While DDT is probably more efficient it has taken some of the sporting element out of the battle against flies. No more personal combat, no more duel of wits — just plain extermination."

Jolt!

HERE COMES a jolt to another time-honored custom. According to the Port Arthur News-Chronicle a Toronto doctor has written to the press condemning the practice of sending flowers to patients in hospitals, saying it takes up valuable time of the nurses in caring for them. . . . . The superintendent of an Ottawa hospital, the Port Arthur newspaper adds, said the average stay of patients in hospitals would be reduced one or two days if unnecessary visits from friends were eliminated.

THOUGHTFUL housewives in Winnipeg are reported to have put marbles and penknives in the pockets of boys' suits donated to the national clothing drive. Compacts have been placed in women's coats, and darning needles and wool in stockings.

Retribution

THERE IS A GRIM, uncharitable satisfaction in the news which comes out of Germany. . . . . That conquered populace — which had raised to power a maniac — and gloated in each new, diabolical invention of his horde to destroy mankind — those hero-worshippers on the home front of Germany, were ever a question mark in our calculations. At first we considered them innocent of the Nazi crimes; then, nonplussed at their gullibility and their loyalty to the frenzied cause, we branded them as sharers in the guilt of their country; then finally, outraged, we feared that again, as in 1918, they would escape the penalty and retribution they deserved.

Not so, however. While the fiends of Oswejcim and Belchen now stand trial like mass-scale gangsters, what goes on at home in Germany? Emerging from the ruin and rubble which was the ultimate fate of their proud cities, here is the picture today — a more homely but no less realistic tale of recompense. . . . .

The approach of winter in Germany aggravates a situation where communication lines have been blasted by Allied bombers.

A British observer, just back from Berlin, reports conditions on this score in the bombed and refugee-swollen German capital. Perhaps nowhere in beaten Germany and Japan is the situation more critical — or more typical. Despite the deceptive appearance of normality in the central area of the city, miles of streets around are mere lanes in the rubble and uninhabitable shells of buildings. Black market cafes manage to serve up luxury meals — at prices far beyond the reach of all but the most affluent minority. Meanwhile, occupation forces must cope with the difficulties of getting food into the larger cities without adequate communication lines.

The general masses of Berlin are just getting by on 1,250 calories in standard rations supplied by the authorities. This amount of nourishment does not produce enough energy to sustain work. Consequently the job of reconstruction lags and the cycle is complete again.

The British observer concludes that the menacing prospect of the coming months in Germany is not so much direct starvation as that a considerable proportion of the population will freeze to death. With lowered physical resistance, the danger of epidemics is all too obvious.

Must Wait Their Turn

MANCHESTER girls who married Canadian servicemen are demanding that they be brought to Canada at once, they and their babies. They have a Maple Leaf Wives' Club which is making a protest against shipping delays.

We all must have the deepest sympathy with these forlorn young women who see their Canadian husbands sent home while they must remain behind. They want to take up their Canadian lives, to see their new homes, to unite their families.

And yet there is another side, and it would be difficult to maintain the argument that wives and children should have priority over servicemen. Shipping being what it is, with hundreds of thousands of British troops, of Canadians and Americans on their way home or awaiting their turn, there must be delay for some — and it must not come to the men of the fighting services so that preference can be given civilians, even the wives of soldiers and airmen.

It would be a wonderful thing if everybody could be moved at once, who wants to come home, but that not being possible these new Canadians must wait their turn. It is a pity, but there seems no reasonable alternative.

Gleanings from Ottawa

By FRANK MORRISS

Fall Musings

● I suppose the desire to own a home is pretty universal. I know I have visions of a post-war home, with plenty of the improvements that I have been reading about. It is very pleasant to relax, these fall evenings, and think of the things that you will have one of these days. How many of these fall musings are just idle dreams, and how many of them will be realized, I don't know. But as the song says, "I can dream, can't I!"

And when I'm not using these crisp fall evenings to think about homes of the future, I'm exclaiming about the fruits and vegetables that the farmers of Canada are supplying the table with.

For instance those medium-sized green squash (I call them pepper squash, but I don't know if that's the right name). Is there anything more delicious! And peppers, red and green ones. Stuffed with sausage meat, and baked, or chopped up in a salad . . . I can go for that any day in the week. And so many of the other vegetables are delicious at this time of the year. Eggplant is one of them, and Swiss chard is another. Later on this winter, when we can't get these things . . . or else the imported ones will be too expensive . . . we're really going to miss them. I know I am.

• • •

Now It Can Be Told

● It is good to know that "reasons of security" no longer hold up information about all sorts of things in which we all have a vital interest.

For instance, how much of our food is going to which countries. Take canned meat, an important relief food. The Canadian Meat Board now reports that up to September 15, overseas shipments of Canadian canned meat during 1945 totalled 49,419,794 lbs.

The largest portion, 25,387,944 lbs. went for distribution through UNRRA to Greece who got 7,645,704 lbs.; Poland 7,305,336 lbs.; Yugoslavia, 5,808,780 lbs.; Czechoslovakia, 4,358,088 lbs.; and Albania, 270,036 lbs.

To be used in military relief 16,924,354 lbs. were shipped.

HONESTY PAYS

For years the buying trend was down, except for war materials. Apparently it was never going to stop. But now it has turned up over a wide front. . . . One family which came to purchase a car during the war, and members of which suffered much at the hands of dealers who took no trouble, explained nothing, guaranteed nothing — "there's the car, take it or leave it" — will long remember and patronize whenever possible the firm which was courteous and honest.

Flying High . . .

We're west of Kapuskasing now at 2.20 and our visibility has been reduced from nearly a hundred miles each way from the plane to zero — it's raining and we can't even see a cloud — this is blind flying all right — We can see flitting black clouds below us like smoke from a C.P.R. engine — The rain didn't last long and now we are flying along on a feather mattress of fleecy clouds a thousand feet below — Wonder if the stewardess has a built-in gyroscope the way she walks up and down with trays full —

Can't get over the impression that I'm playing Santa Claus with the white, white clouds all around and T.C.A. the reindeer "dashing through the snow . . . " Now the clouds cleared suddenly for a brief moment and the sun came through and maybe 10,000 feet below a little lake popped into view like half an egg shell with the yolk turned green — The retractable landing gear reminds me of a giant crab flexing its muscles — this gear acts as a brake when we're coming in on a landing field — This Lake of the Woods country is grand scenery when you can see it through cloud breaks — Underneath the plane the C.N.R. weaves and winds like a sandy ribbon and the odd train crawls like a slow ant with a heavy load in its mouth — Being up here with the clouds massed all around gives one a queer sense of detachment and relaxation — The lakes are so many mirrors reflecting the clouds and occasionally a plane wing —

Winnipeg was stunning from the air and we circled from south to north over most of it so had a good view — Outstanding was the junction of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers on the west side, then the drop down to the airfield with hundreds of yellow training planes drawn up in neat rows — couldn't help thinking how an invading force could make short work of them —

We have just passed through a brief hail storm — somewhere near the Manitoba-Saskatchewan border — The hail bounced off the metal wings of the plane — We're in a ten-passenger job now since Winnipeg and with the same engine horsepower — There's more vibration in the plane and my eardrums hurt — We can't talk so well — T.C.A. uses the smaller plane for the mountain crossing too —

Once again we're glad of the woollen blanket into which our stewardess tucks us — They are so personal about their attention without being fresh — We're having a bit of "weather", as the aloft expression goes, when clouds come up and the flying is rougher — On goes the "life belt" as we drop down for a look at Regina and a ten-minute stop — the only times we wear the belts are when taking off and landing —

West of Regina and in the heart of the grain country — I am surprised at the practice of cutting the grain without making it into sheaves but putting it into windrows to be threshed by combines — At each end of a field there is a "V" of various sizes, which is apparently more convenient for turning equipment — most of the grain is already out here — The prairie is one vast flat chessboard, with the farm buildings the pawns — Supper of potato salad, cold lamb and jelly, mixed vegetable salad, apple tart and fruit cup and coffee — I wasn't so hungry as at noon —

Followed the meanderings of the South Saskatchewan River west of Swift Current — flat prairie land about here — First glimpse of the Rockies from just west of the Alberta-Saskatchewan border — Vision good again, nearly a hundred miles each way to the horizon — best seats are still at the back of the plane — Near Tabor, Alberta, saw an oil well being drilled — First rainbow I've seen from a plane — it moves with us —

Hit a big air-pocket just now — made the pilot drop his lunch and grab for the controls — the stewardess had just given him his meal and she was standing in the doorway, so I could see his reaction — an experienced traveller estimated the drop at one hundred feet in a couple of seconds — worst of the day —

Off to the south some fifteen miles is Raymond, Alberta, where there is a large settlement of Mormons, said to be excellent farmers — Farms appear to have no livestock in the fields; we're too high to see them —

At 12,000 now, ceiling 4,500 feet, but here and there we get an open spot and see the multi-colored carpet of vegetation below — we are west of Lethbridge but still not in the mountains and it is nearly dark — the windows are steaming up for the outside temperature is thirty-five degrees — we are comfortable in the cabin with suitcoats and blankets over our knees — I had to get drops in my ears a few minutes ago because of the intense air pressure and cracking sounds in the drums — the stewardess says the pressure is usually greater going down —

It is nearly dark and we are now over the mountains — there are half a dozen snowy peaks a thousand or two feet below us — I've just looked down in the valley where there aren't any peaks and man oh man, ah don't want to have to step out of this plane nohow before we all gets to Vancouver — Several ferry command pilots on — they sleep blissfully — it's old stuff to them — twice a week run over the same crossing —

Lightning flashes far off to the south; we seem to be as high as the lightning — odd to see the pink-colored horizon after the sunset with the clouds level with it and we are above the clouds — A little town 12,000 feet below resembles jewels strung in a dark necklace — darkness is holding off very well — we can still see the river's winding shape — This time a town with a pattern of white, green and red lights far below — evidently neons in the business section —

Stewardesses wear grey uniforms with blue blouses and grey forage caps — all registered nurses and stiff competition for jobs — they are well satisfied with pay and working conditons — One was taking a busman's holiday, travelled East to Halifax, Toronto and New York on her vacation pass — thrilled to death — She told me trick about relieving pressure on eardrums by holding nose tightly and blowing out through ears —

We've left the Kootenay River behind and are now over the Kootenay Range — the highest peak is around 9,000 feet so we have several thousand to spare — it's perfectly clear up where we are — all the fleecy clouds are below us — Now it's totally dark except for the winking lights of the occasional town in the distant valleys below —

I dozed and the next thing I knew we were over the myriad lights of Greater Vancouver and dropping fast — my ears pained because I had forgotten to keep chewing gum or yawning while I was asleep — never chewed gum so many hours on any day in my life — The stewardess came around and closed the curtains on our windows — a war order precaution — One more fastening of the safety belt — Circling about for twenty minutes through the overcast to find the field, then gently down in a perfect landing, goodbye to the Stewardess and back to an everyday world.

District Governor In Challenging Address to Rotary

During the past few years there has been noted an alarming increase in juvenile delinquency. This is believed to be in part a condition which has resulted from the war and the domestic situation which has accompanied it. The youth of our generation is receiving, at least in theory, a training for the future that is, or should be, the envy of less favored lands; a training hardly dreamed of by our forefathers who pioneered this vast and once unknown continent. Yet, in spite of all this we are faced with the problem of widespread delinquency among those who are destined to be the source of a nation's strength a generation hence. You cannot pick up a daily newspaper in any sizeable city without failing to see disturbing signs that all is not well with the younger folk. You cannot fail to note the rising tide of crime, petty or grave, that daily comes before the courts of this or any country. Speak to any responsible official of either church, school or young people's club, and you will be told that delinquency among juveniles is no longer a mere question; it has become an acute problem. It would be vain for me to suppose that in a short talk like this I could academically discuss the entire question. It is too vast and too complicated to attempt, let alone solve. But I would like to discuss the main root of the problem and thereby hint at the cure.

You cannot take a number of youthful delinquents each displaying different forms of vice, and treat them with any degree of success, if you presuppose that ALL are merely expressions of the same kind of disease. . . . In these cases, delinquency is a symptom of something far deeper, and the only sane solution is to get to the root or the cause. The causes are varied and many. In some cases it may be physical abnormality, in others psychological, social environment and a host of other causes. And to meet with any success, these causes must be discovered and removed. Stern and stereotyped punishment in this instance is useless and in many cases harmful. Careful examination will show the same results in the case of many so called institutions of reform or correction. They specialize in incarceration and stern discipline, and very little else. Where such is the case, the results thus obtained are purely negative.

The problem of delinquency today is not only confined to the abnormal youth; it has reached, and affected, boys and girls that are in every respect normal and healthy. Here is the problem as it directly affects us. Now the root of the trouble is not hard to find. It is right in the home — that old-fashioned institution that is gradually becoming as impersonal as a hotel. And once the home ceases to be a home, once it sinks to the level of a bridge club, or assumes the atmosphere of a fairly respectable cafe, once it has no more meaning to a young man or young woman than a mere place to sleep to gather rest for the morning, then it has ceased to be what it was intended to be since the dawn of civilization — the training ground for a strong, virile, healthy nation. Wherever the dignity of the home has declined, so too has the morality and the decency of the State. Furthermore, no amount of schooling can supply the defect of home life. The school can build on a good foundation, but it can never supply that force and vitality and affection that should permeate the atmosphere of a home.

Broken homes and unhappy homes are today responsible, to a great degree, for the prevalence of juvenile delinquency. It is only a step, and an easy one at that, from the nominal home to the juke-box, and many a boy's and girl's future has been, unfortunately, formed in the fetid atmosphere of the cheap pool-room which necessity and unconcerned parents have forced them to for a home.

We must not assume, however, that all juvenile delinquents come from homes where the parents themselves are lax in their morals and disregard their responsibilities. The fact of the matter is that a great number of the juvenile delinquents come from good homes — homes where the parents have always led respectable lives. When this happens the war is usually called to blame. . . . But I wonder how many parents are going to stand by and be satisfied with that explanation. I wonder how many parents will wring their hands and say hopelessly, "Juvenile delinquency is encouraged by war. We have been at war, so there is nothing that I can do about it."

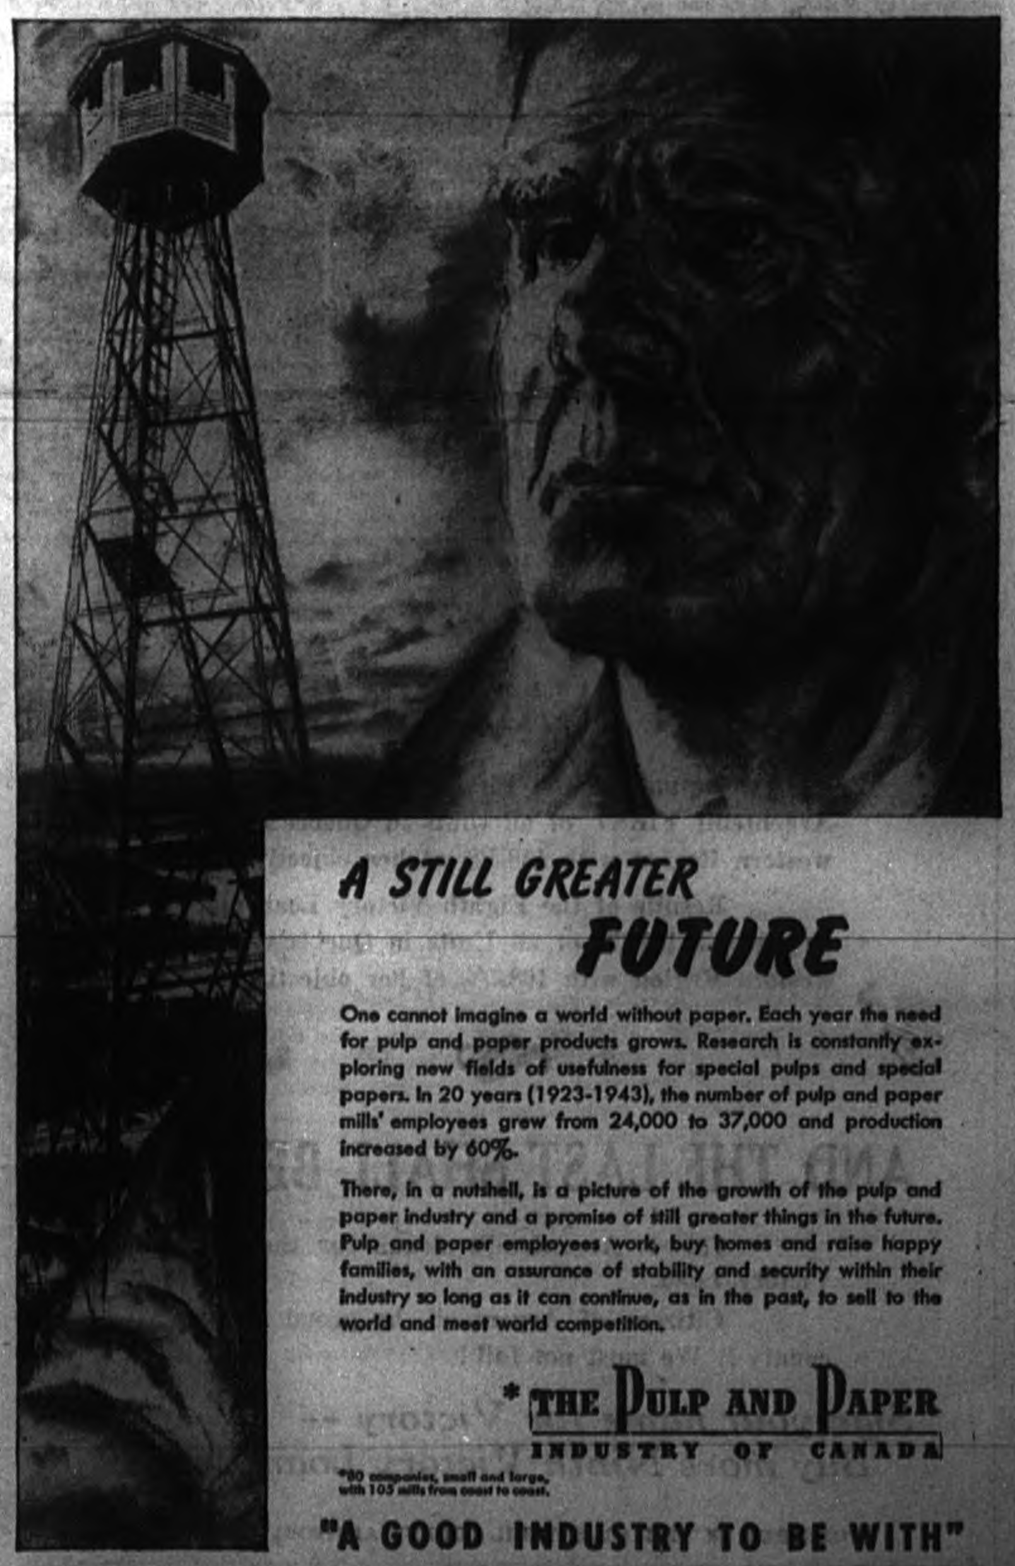

Parents must be ready and willing to meet the challenge. How can parents best meet this challenge? Parents should be models for their children to follow. The value of parents in teaching by example has been recognized for a long time. Solomon said, "Train a child in the way he should go." The modern wise man adds, "And go along with him."

No child is born honest or dishonest; he is trained that way. When a child steals, he is not a thief. A child lies before he becomes truthful. He steals before he becomes honest. Becoming honest is a learning process. Teach a child self-discipline. Do not lose sight of the fact that our prisons are inhabited by people who learned self-expression but not self-discipline.

Too many parents and children themselves erroneously believe that modernism permits free expression of their instincts. This leads to . . . prostitution . . . flaunted conspicuously in cities by school girls, thefts and crimes before the age of reason has been reached, and murder of parents by children who find them troublesome. The fault is not with modern principles, but that they are not enforced. The experts on juvenile delinquency all think in social grooves, apparently proposing only that more and more money be spent for clubs, playgrounds, social workers, etc. After they get all these things, they will still need the answer — proper discipline.

The home is still the cradle of our culture. Discipline should be established there on proper lines. If the home is broken up by parental delinquency then discipline will have to be exerted somewhere else.

When thinking of juvenile delinquency we must not overlook the large majority who stick to the right and conventional paths. Youth must not be charged under a blanket indictment. The boys who were in the military service of our nation did a great job. They led fine, upright, patriotic lives of which they and their families may be proud. When we think of juvenile delinquency, let us not forget to slide to our knees and thank God for the millions of youngsters who are the real backbone of the coming generation.

A STILL GREATER FUTURE

One cannot imagine a world without paper. Each year the need for pulp and paper products grows. Research is constantly exploring new fields of usefulness for special pulps and special papers. In 20 years (1923-1943), the number of pulp and paper mills' employees grew from 24,000 to 37,000 and production increased by 60%.

There, in a nutshell, is a picture of the growth of the pulp and paper industry and a promise of still greater things in the future. Pulp and paper employees work, buy homes and raise happy families, with an assurance of stability and security within their industry so long as it can continue, as in the past, to sell to the world and meet world competition.

BIRTH

HAY — At the Providence Hospital, Lachute Mills, on October 10, 1945, to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hay (née Lillian Fox), a son.

DEATHS

BIGELOW — Died at Dr. Smith's Hospital, Hawkesbury, on October 2, 1945, Verden Orn, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bigelow, Kilmar.

TOMALTY — At the Montreal General Hospital on Sunday, October 14, 1945, Gordon Robert Tomalty, beloved husband of Mina Dixon, of Brownsburg, Que., in his 53rd year. Funeral held Tuesday from Brownsburg United Church, interment at Lachute.

IN MEMORIAM

COUSINS — In proud and loving memory of our dear son and brother, Spr. Clifford Cousins, R.C.E., who died of wounds October 16, 1944, in Holland. — Always remembered by Mother, Allan and Frances.

"Gone from sight, but not from mind,
The best of brothers that one could find,
We think of you today as ever,
For in our hearts you will live forever.
We think of you, Clifford dear,
And often repeat your name,
But all that is left to answer,
Is your photo in a frame.
We were not there at the hour of death
To hear your last faint sigh,
Or to whisper just a loving word,
"Clifford dear, good-bye!"

McFAUL — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. W. R. McFaul, who died October 19, 1939. — Ever remembered by her loving husband and family.

"We who loved you, sadly miss you,
As it dawns another year."

IN MEMORIAM

COWAN — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Frank Cowan, who passed away October 18, 1943. — Ever remembered by her two daughters and son.

"You left behind some broken hearts
That loved you most sincere,
We never did, nor ever will,
Forget you, Mother dear."

DAVIS — In fond and loving memory of a dear son and brother, Pte. Wesley T. Davis, killed in action in Italy, October 20, 1944.— Always remembered by his loving Mother and Brother Fred.

"One lonely year has passed
Since our great sorrow fell,
The shock we received that day
We still remember well.
We never knew the pain you bore,
We did not see you die,
For you were killed in action,
And could not say Goodbye.
We think of you so often,
But the only thing to answer
Is your picture on the wall."

GAIN — In loving memory of my dear husband, Bob, who passed away October 23, 1944. — Always remembered by his loving wife, Edith.

"Dear Bob, you're not forgotten,
Though you are on earth no more
Still in memory you are with me
As you always were before,
You often said how I would miss you,
Those words have proved too true
I lost my best, my dearest friend,
Dear Bob, when I lost you."

GAIN — In fond and loving memory of Robt. A. Gain, who passed this life October 23, 1944. — Ever remembered by Wilma.

"Our lips cannot tell how we miss him,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
God alone knows how we miss him
In his home that seems empty today."

McFAUL — In loving memory of my dear wife, who passed away October 16, 1929. — Ever remembered by her husband, Archie.

"While she rests in peaceful sleep
Her memory I shall always keep."

Bishop Visits Calumet For Confirmation Rites

Calumet — Bishop Dixon of Montreal conducted the confirmation services held on Thursday evening in Holy Trinity Church. The church was decorated with late autumn flowers and colored leaves.

Ten young people of the parish were confirmed, those belonging to this church being Miss Evelyn Welden, Misses Doria and Edwina Dumoulin and Master James Welden. The bishop gave an inspiring sermon.

Christian Endeavor

The regular Monday evening meeting of the Christian Endeavor group, held in the Margaret Rodger hall, was capably conducted by George McGibbon, and the evening's topic, "The Church in Post-War Days", was presented by Mrs. George McGibbon.

The speaker expressed the thought that the Church, in the future uncertain years, will meet its obligations only if its members strive to put aside their petty differences for a more harmonious unity; fill their hearts with consideration for their fellow-men; work to maintain their freedoms (religious, economic and civil); aid the distressed, and, in general, put into action their highest impulses. By their so doing, the Church will attain its prerogative of virile leadership over the peoples of the world.

Next meeting of the group, on Monday, October 22, will be conducted by Mrs. G. F. Calder.

Activities in B'burg United Church

Brownsburg — Mr. R. Graham was the speaker at the Y.P.U. on Monday evening, giving an interesting talk on "Human Relations." Mr. Graham was introduced by the minister, the Rev. S. J. Pike, and thanked by the president, Mr. James Carpenter. Next Monday evening the meeting will take the form of a social gathering, when the report of the recent Y.P.U. Convention in Montreal will be given.

The church anniversary is being arranged and will include Sunday and Monday, October 28 and 29, The Rev. Dr. Wm. Sanford Reid, of Montreal, will be the preacher on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. For Monday evening, at 7.30, Sqd. Ldr. Rev. A. O. Lloyd, of Ottawa, a former minister, will be the guest speaker. Other features will include music, in which singers from Lachute United Church will take part. The Women's Association will serve refreshments at the close of the gathering in the church hall.

The minister will exchange pulpits next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock with the Rev. R. S. Nickerson, of St. Andrews East, who will speak on "The Crusade for Christ and His Church". A service of song will be held in the evening at 7.30 o'clock. Old familiar hymns, with comment, will be used, and other numbers suggested by the congregation.

Senior C.G.I.T.

The Lachute C. G. I. T. held their regular meeting October 9, members of the W.M.S. of the United Church and mothers of the C.G.I.T. girls being present. The affiliation service was held on this occasion, after which the girls served tea, and Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon voiced the thanks of the ladies for the enjoyable afternoon. Badges signifying their affiliation were given the girls by the W.M.S.

The weekly meeting was held again last Monday afternoon in the United Church basement. It was suggested to hold an initiation on November 2. The group will not be meeting next Monday, having received an invitation from the Women's Society to attend the thank-offering in the church on Tuesday.

Presbyterian Y.P.S.

The regular meeting of the Presbyterian Y.P.S. was held last evening. President Cecil McFaul occupied the chair, R. Underhill and the Rev. E. Orsborn leading in the devotional service.

Joe Procter, president of the Presbyterian Union, addressed the meeting, outlining the Rally activities, at which some 120 members of Y.P.S. groups, led in discussion groups by eight ministers of the Montreal district, joined in fellowship, worship and discussion of Young People's activities in church life. The Rally closed with a vesper service, the Rev. D. Lloyd, of Cornwall, Ont., being guest speaker. His theme was "God in the World," in which he stated that we should shape our lives to God's way, rather than try to shape God's way to suit the ways of the modern world.

The executive committee, having met during the week, submitted a slate of activities and programs which will prove of religious, educational and recreational interest, and which was accorded unanimous approval. The next program will take the form of an open discussion on the subject "Woman's place is in the home."

Plans for holding the "old-time home-cooked supper" were also discussed, this event to be held in the church hall on Thursday, November 15. This supper being sponsored as a means of augmenting Society funds, the public are cordially invited to keep the date in mind.

Due to the special performance next Wednesday of "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn", on behalf of the Princess Alice Foundation Fund, the Society will hold its meeting on Thursday evening, October 25.

After adjournement of the meeting, a few ends of carpet bowling were enjoyed.

Pretty Ceremony at Grenville Church

Beauchamp - Donaldson

The marriage of Gladys Elva, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Donaldson, of Chatboro, to Mr. Ulysse Wilfred Beauchamp, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Beauchamp, of Grenville, took place at 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 6, in St. Matthew's Anglican Church, Grenville, where gladioli and autumn flowers decorated the altar. The Rev. A. E. Hawes officiated.

Miss Joan Laviolette as maid-of-honor, and Miss Beryl MacIntyre, as bridesmaid, attended the bride, and little Eileen MacIntyre, niece of the bride, was flower girl. The best man was Mr. Ronald Matthew and the ushers were Messrs. Elmer Gauley and Donald Pridham.

Mrs. Russel Owens played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mrs. M. Dewar sang "O Perfect Love".

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and net over white satin, made on princess lines and buttoned down the back, with long sleeves falling to a point over the hands. Her three-quarter-length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a bandeau of net and pearls and she wore a necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of Better Times roses and heather.

The maid-of-honor wore a floor-length gown of blue taffeta and net and a shoulder-length veil of net held in place with a coronet of blue ostrich feathers, and she carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

The bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of pink taffeta and net, a shoulder-length veil of net and pink ostrich feathers, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The flower girl wore a floor-length frock of pale yellow moire taffeta, and carried a bouquet of mauve baby 'mums.

Mrs. Donaldson, mother of the bride, wore a street-length dress of black crepe romaine and black accessories, and wore a corsage of American Beauty roses.

The reception was held at MacIntyre's Hall, and while supper was being served Lowe's Orchestra played appropriate music. Autumn flowers formed the decorations. Later the happy couple left for Arnprior and other points west. The bride wore for travelling a green tweed suit and green coat with beaver trim, with brown accessories and a shoulder-bouquet of American Beauty roses.

On their return they will reside in Grenville.

"Missionary Caravan" to Visit Lachute Nov. 1

A "Missionary Caravan" with exhibits of movies and program presentation, will visit Lachute on November 1 to appear at the Auditorium. A program for school pupils will be given at 3.45 p.m., and a program for adults at 8 p.m. All are cordially invited to attend. A collection will be taken to defray expenses.

The Missionary Caravan is sponsored by the Diocesan Missionary Committee of the Anglican Church.

"International Peace" And Its Problems Discussed at Y.P.U.

Thought-Provoking Topic by Linton W. Armstrong

Guest speaker at the Lachute United Church Y.P.U. last evening was Linton W. Armstrong, who chose for his address the topic of "International Peace."

After quoting from an address which he gave 15 years ago, when society thought that war was outlawed by the workings of the League of Nations, Mr. Armstrong stressed the fact that the second Great War really started in 1930 when Japan invaded Manchuria, even though nine great powers had signed the pledge guaranteeing China against aggression. He then described the exploits of the dictators of Italy and Germany.

The speaker claimed that the old method of power-politics has failed, because "we have not reached that state of goodwill between nations." He said that there was talk of a world police force, and that this idea was "booed down" 20 years ago. Mr. Armstrong suggested that the U.S.A. alone could police the world at the present time, through the instrument of the atomic bomb. "We must outlaw war", he added, "the only alternative is annihilation."

That Christian civilization has taken so long to learn a few simple facts was strongly placed before the audience . . . child labor in Britain's mines in 1800's . . . . trying to build a world society of different races and creeds . . . when people in their own communities cannot get along with their neighbors or fellow churchmen.

Mr. Armstrong clearly emphasized that the youth of today will have to face "momentous decisions" in future, of sending the right men to our parliaments, so that our "best" efforts may be put to winning the peace.

The speaker was thanked by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough.

The meeting next week will be under direction of Culture convenors, Mary Scott and Doris Leroy, and will be held on Tuesday.

UNITED CHURCH GROUP BOWLING LEAGUE

The Bowling League of the United Church will hold a meeting on Monday, at 8 p.m. All societies are asked to have representatives present.

HIGHWAY TRANSPORTATION BUILDS CITIES

THE growth of cities and towns has always been influenced by the transportation facilities provided for them . . . and everywhere that motor coach transportation has been established it has helped to build the centres served by the highways.

Flexible, safe, dependable, the convenience and comfort of motorcoach travel have made it first choice with many thousands of people.

No other form of land travel offers its patrons the scenic value of motorcoach service, and the new parlor-car motorcoaches, already in post-war use, provide luxurious improvements that increase the pleasure of passengers.

Travellers are seated higher in the new coaches, and windows are enlarged to provide an unobstructed view of scenic points of interest. The deeply cushioned, reclining seats are equipped with white head-rest towels. Ventilation facilities are improved. Baggage compartments are dustproof and waterproof.

The Provincial Transport Company is steadily re-establishing services over routes served before the war. The rate of progress is governed only by the rapidity with which new coaches can be obtained, or existing coaches released from essential war industries.

What makes a little farm a BIG FARM?

It has been said that "a rich man is only a poor man with money". You have also heard that "money makes the mare go" and that "nothing succeeds like success".

Old sayings like these tell you to see the manager of the Bank of Montreal if you need money to make your farm a better farm —if you see opportunities for increased income from increased production.

You do not ask a favour when you ask for a loan at the Bank of Montreal. Lending money is our business and our manager will welcome the opportunity of discussing your plans with you. He will be glad to study your prospects with you, plan with you, discuss actual and promised revenue, and work out with you a plan of convenient repayments.

Many big farms—successful farms —in all parts of Canada were little farms once. For their development many of their owners have relied on timely loans from the Bank of Montreal. Your B of M manager invites you to share their experience.

The Minister of Labour appeals to FARMERS

& WAR WORKERS

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell
Minister of Labour

to WORK IN THE WOODS THIS WINTER CUTTING PULPWOOD

VITAL to Canada's economy at this time is the forest industry. Forest products must be produced in increasing quantities to maintain employment, and to aid in reconstruction at home and abroad. Job opportunities in the woods this winter offer better conditions than ever before. We appeal to every man who can work at a woods occupation to offer his services —and be assured of steady, healthy employment for the Fall and Winter months.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

Hints for Homebodies

By Jessie Allen Brown

NUTRITION

I heard a good Nutrition story the other day. A social worker tried very hard to get a poor family to eat whole wheat bread instead of white, trying to teach them that the brown bread would be much better. She did not have much success as each time she visited them they were still eating white bread. Finally she thought she would try showing the mother pictures of the rats which had been fed brown bread and had grown so much larger than those which had eaten just white bread. When the woman saw the pictures she said, "That settles it. No brown bread in this house; the rats are as big as we can stand now".

TOLERANCE TO NOISE

One of the outstanding differences between youth and age is the tolerance to noise. The love of noise is normal for youth, and children should have plenty of opportunity to be as noisy as they like at a suitable time and place. They need to get it out of their systems, so they can be quieter in the presence of their elders. I have read somewhere or other that tolerance for noise lessens from the age of thirty. That is another good reason why people should have their children when they are young and able to take their noise in their stride. Children may have a few quiet games, but when they are having the best time they are usually yelling at the top of their voices. When they get to High School age they still like noise. Look at their delight in the loudest juke-box in the neighborhood. Even older than that, they still like noise. If the young people are alone in the house, the first thing a parent usually does when coming in is to turn down the radio as it is apt to be going full blast. Children and young people must learn to consider others and not disturb unduly, with too much noise, but they should have a chance each day to make all the noise they want. That is one of the disadvantages of living in apartments or in crowded quarters. It is hard on children to have to keep quiet all the time when in the house. If noise bothers us, it is a sign we are growing old. Let us recognize this fact and make opportunities for the young to be as noisy as they like, when it does not disturb others.

HAVE THINGS HANDY

Now that the pressure of war work is over, we should have more time to see our friends. We should make a point of continuing the friendships made while we were doing that same work. We have come in close contact with people we would never meet ordinarily, or casual acquaintances have developed into real friends, for there is no better way to make a friend than by working with them. Most of us do not feel really hospitable unless we have served our callers with a cup of tea or some other refreshment. We can save time and effort if we group things together for easy serving. Have four cups with their matching saucers, four spoons, the sugar bowl filled, and the cream pitcher near by. Have four napkins whether paper or linen, with them, and the cake plate handy. If things are all together and can be gathered in one fell swoop, it is much easier. Too often the right saucers have to be sorted out to match our nicest odd cups, and the other things all scattered in different places. Do not serve anything which takes time to prepare. If it is one of those days when you are just out of cake or cookies, don't worry, but have thin bread and butter or hot buttered toast, and no apologies. Most of us have had the experience of calling on a friend, who in an excess of hospitality, has spent most of her time in the kitchen. When I call, I go to see a friend and not to get something to eat, and I want to spend that available time with my friend.

CREAMED FISH AND POTATO CHIPS

Make a cream sauce using 2 tablespoons flour to 1 cup milk, and combine this with 2 cups cooked fish. Place alternate layers of creamed fish and potato chips in a greased casserole. Season each layer with salt and pepper and a little minced onion. Have the top layer fish and cover with buttered bread crumbs. Bake a half-hour in a moderate oven of 350 degrees.

RASPBERRY CREAM PIE

½ Cup sugar, ⅛ cup flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup cold milk, 1½ cups hot milk, 1 teaspoon butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 egg yolks, 2 egg whites, 3 tablespoons sugar, raspberry jam.

Mix together the flour, sugar and salt and stir in the cold milk. Add the hot milk and cook over low heat or in the double boiler until thickened, stirring constantly. Pour a little of this mixture over the beaten egg yolks, add to the hot mixture and cook for three minutes. Add vanilla. Spread a baked pie shell thinly with raspberry jam and pour in the cream filling. Beat the egg whites until stiff and beat in the 3 tablespoons of sugar gradually. Spread this meringue on the pie and bake in a slow oven of 325 degrees until it is delicately browned.

Personality Factor In Feminine Appeal

Painter of Movie Stars Says Make-Up Not Necessary Key to Success

New York (CP) — The next time you feel inclined to look like your favorite movie star, think twice before you copy her lips, the curve of her eyebrow or the color of her hair. Because it may not be any of these things that are responsible for her appeal.

You may find it is her personality that has contributed to the star's success, says Ladislas Segy, who has just completed a series of paintings of moving picture actresses to be shown at his next portrait exhibit.

If you must imitate a star, Mr. Segy advises, discover the personality key of the one that is most like you. Then try to develop your personality along the same lines. With so many types in the movies this shouldn't be difficult. He explains:

"Your admiration may lead towards Katherine Hepburn, who has more of the cool calculating type of intellectual appeal. If you like independence you can be of this type and attract an intellectual man."

To attract a man who likes to be dominated you've got to have a bit of the Bacall in you. Lauren, says Segy, is the mysterious type of person who emphasizes her mystery in her walk, speech and general manner.

Garson Technique

But if you want the man to wear the pants, he says, you can appeal to the he-man with a little of the Greer Garson technique. This is the ultra feminine type who must constantly be building a man's ego and must adjust herself to his whims without saying boo!

Hedy Lamarr is the beauteous type and one of Hollywood's exceptions. She is the decorative type of woman a man marries because he likes to see her admired by other people and because he likes her cool and composed attitude showing "intellectual control", says Segy, who adds:

"If you are a nervous and sensitive woman, like Bette Davis, you should appeal to the cultured type of sensitive man.

"But if you are cool and detached like Veronica Lake, whose passive personality flares up only under extreme pressure of circumstances, you will probably attract the cool, reserved type of man."

Of course you may find yourself not in sympathy with any of these personalities. In that case, advises Segy, develop your own. And if you are the "naive" type don't underestimate yourself. There are many developing this charm.

Child Delinquency

(b) Curiosity — concerning sex, etc. A parent usually leaves the child unsatisfied on this subject. There should be more adequate instruction at home, and less of children learning these things from others with a morbid desire to exaggerate.

(c) Inferiority complex — a sense of insufficiency in the child.

(d) Teach the child to face facts squarely. Help him or her to avoid day-dreaming and the world of make-believe, by showing how real and inviting everyday life can be.

Movies and magazines, though educational in some ways, present an artificial and exaggerated way of life to the young mind. Guiding and Scouting can offset these to a great extent; also hobbies should be encouraged.

(e) Confidence in moral principles.—It must be principles, rather than rules or habits of conduct, that make a child's life happier. Remember, an uncertain future is a menace to childhood. A rock-bottom basis for good citizenship can be established with principles. Look at our ten commandments, which Moses drafted in Egypt as a basis for good citizenship. All Christ's teachings are based on good principles.

The result of such goals being reached, means maturity — and this is the parents' responsibility. Today we have more juvenile delinquency because these goals of childhood are not being reached.

Direct Causes of Delinquency

The causes of this unhappy state are:

1. The environment factor. — Poverty, Unemployment and Low Income.
2. Poor housing.
3. Poor family relationships — Quarrelling parents, divorce, etc.
4. Poor recreational outlets.
5. We should eliminate the profits in sex traffic — follow the Russian system of reform — call to judgment all the men of supposedly high repute who operate these houses in large cities and towns throughout Canada, at high profits — thoroughly undermining the morale of this heritage which is ours to make or mar.

The challenge to parents is to encourage a love of beauty and maintain a constant fight to uproot ugliness. To have normal, socially accepted children, we must eradicate the causes of juvenile delinquency. If we secure the joy of living in sure strength of purpose, and impart calmness and security to every child, we will have contentment for all, and "Thy Kingdom Come" will be an ideal much nearer to realization.

W.I's Are Again Filling Ditty Bags

At this season of the year the major activity of the Institutes of this province is the filling of ditty bags for the Navy League. The cessation of hostilities has brought no slackening in this work. All branches report not only the usual amount ordered for this purpose but in several instances a substantial increase. Institutes on the Gaspé Peninsular are particularly interested in this project, realizing, perhaps more than the rest of us, what it means to a sailor to receive a ditty bag crammed with comforts in their cheery Christmas wrappings and containing a personal greeting card. In many instances this may be the only remembrance he receives.

Good Mixer — Yes, That's Her Job

Conshohocken, Pa.(CP) — If you want to cement a lasting friendship with pretty Rita Hartzell, just mention she's a good mixer. That's her business. She's working with a cement crew!

A junior high school pupil here, 16-year-old Rita moved to Conshohocken from Camden, N.J., two months ago. She asked George Gebhardt, cement contractor, for a job after school and on Saturdays. He put her to work learning the cement business. "She does a better job than most men in the gang," says her boss.

BLACK FLAGS on U Boats

When Nazi U-boat commanders hoisted black flags of surrender, it was a "go ahead" signal to the three out of every eight Canadians who normally depend for their livelihood on export trade.

For five years the flow of foreign trade has been largely a government responsibility. But now, to help create peacetime jobs, Canadian enterprise must do its full share in finding customers abroad. This means doing business all over the world, in strange and distant cities, in a hundred languages and currencies.

Canadian banks have a key role in this complicated but essential peacetime task. Every day their foreign branches and correspondents arrange credits, handle documents and perform other intricate operations to bring buyers and sellers together across the obstacles of distance, language and custom.

This banking service is of primary importance to business and to every Canadian worker as Canada turns to the task of re-creating trade abroad to provide jobs at home.

Empire Chief to Visit Canada

Official announcement has been made that Lord Rowallan, Chief Scout of the British Empire, will visit Canada in the fall of 1946. Lord Rowallan, a Scottish peer, was appointed Chief Scout last February. He succeeded the late Lord Somers. Lord Rowallan had a distinguished record as a soldier in both the first and second world wars. Using Boy Scout methods, he was extremely successful in training commandos. He was awarded the Military Cross for Gallantry.

D. Bradford Takes Highest Aggregate, Macdonald Sports

At the Macdonald College track meet last Thursday, Douglas Bradford of North River starred for the highest aggregate points (excluding the three-mile marathon, which was yet to be run). Bradford is participating today with the Green and Gold (Macdonald) entry in the McGill sports.

440-Yards, time 1:01.4.
220-Yards, time 25.9.

The 100-yard event was won by a brother, Floyd Bradford, in 10.9 seconds. Floyd was recently discharged from military service.

These boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bradford, North River. Both are in their first year Agriculture, while another son Russell, who stars on the Macdonald football team, is taking the fourth year course.

Fire Chief Heard At Scout Meeting

In the absence of Scoutmaster C. L. Duncan, Assistant Scoutmaster Mac Walker was in charge of the meeting on October 10.

The Assistant Scoutmaster of the Brownsburg Troop was welcomed to the meeting by Mr. Walker.

Later in the evening Fire Chief Geo. Y. Deacon addressed the boys on the subject of fire prevention. He stressed the value of Scout training and vigilance in the prevention of fire hazards. Mr. Deacon's talk was very interesting and much appreciated.

Moose Jaw Scouts' 35th Birthday

The Boy Scouts of Moose Jaw, Sask., are celebrating their 35th anniversary this fall. Scouting was introduced in Moose Jaw in 1910 by Rev. Dr. Salton of Zion Church. A contingent of the original troop attended the coronation in London in 1911. One of the originals of this group was Frank C. Irwin, now Executive Commissioner for the Province of Ontario. Mr. Irwin also made the trip to the Coronation, and later served Scouting in the United States and India.

MEAT RATIONING

Ridiculous is the requirement that the farmers and meat producers deposit meat coupons to cover the meat consumed in their own homes. . . However, farmers being the honest people they are may turn in a lot of coupons; but being the hard working and therefore hungry people that they are, they will also eat meat — all they want of it.

KNOW QUEBEC BETTER...

Quebec Pulpwood Harvest National Film Board Photograph

Do you know Quebec? For example, do you know that Quebec leads all Canada in the production of pulp and paper . . . is the centre of the world's newsprint industry, the source of more rayon pulp than any other province . . . leads in the manufacture of kraft paper . . . turns out about half of all the other types of paper made in Canada.

Actually, 46% of our nation's 105 pulp and paper mills are located in Quebec. These, capitalized at nearly 350 millions, employ some 40,000 men and women, have a gross output of about $170,000,000 (1942 figures). And, so far, the surface has scarcely been scratched. Wartime needs have brought about countless new uses for wood cellulose products. Endless postwar opportunities in plastics, plywoods, streamlined housings and furnishings, etc., assure tremendous expansion for the industry.

Pulpwood forests, like all natural resources in the province, are being carefully husbanded,—for thriftiness and the long view are as characteristic of Quebec folk as their industry and inventive genius. Our nation is grateful alike for these vast assets and the human traits that so capably develop them. The combination has helped make it possible to build her war effort into one of the wonders of the modern world; teamed with those of the other provinces, it assures future happiness, prosperity and greater unity for all Canadians, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

QUEBEC PRODUCES FOR WAR

To Quebec's already glorious history has been added her wonderful contribution to Canada's war effort. Pulp, paper, native ores and manufactured metals, clothing, chemicals, textiles, ships, foods, petroleum, electrical supplies, to mention only a few products of her mines, mills and factories: $2,703,357,600.00 subscribed by her people in eight Victory Loans: thousands of men in the navy, army and air force who have distinguished themselves on global battlefronts. Thus have her sons and daughters recorded Quebec's part on Canada's wartime honor roll.

Assistant Superintendent of V.O.N. Heard at Semi-Annual Meet of W.I.

Provincial Demonstrator Also Here, Members Attend from County Branches

Argenteuil Couty Women's Institutes assembled for their semi-annual convention in Lachute High School on Saturday last, with the county president, Mrs. N. E. Smillie, in the chair.

After the singing of O Canada, the opening Ode and repetition of the Mary Stewart Collect, a one-minute silence was observed for W.I. members deceased since the May convention.

Minutes of the May convention and of the board meeting held this fall were read by the secretary, Mrs. S. Smith. The treasurer reported a balance of $112.92.

Each of the branches was urged to support current W.I. interests, including the self denial fund, ditty bags, the Blue Cross hospitalization plan, rehabilitation plans, and the Princess Alice Youth Fund.

At this point the W.I. provincial demonstrator, Miss Evelyn Walker, was introduced by Mrs. N. E. Smillie. Miss Walker spoke on the organization of junior groups of W.I., also advocated a close contact between W.I. groups and the Cercle Fermière, believing that much could be derived from an interchange of ideas. . . . The president thanked Miss Walker, who is to revisit Lachute in the near future to demonstrate "Meatless Dishes". The other eight branches of the county were invited to attend this demonstration.

At this stage in the program a sing-song was ably conducted by Mrs. Angus Taylor, with Mrs. S. Campbell at the piano.

Fair work was then discussed. Three new convenors, namely Mrs. C. Dixon, Miss J. McKenzie and Miss E. Napp, were appointed.

The roll-call was taken, 76 members and six visitors being present.

Miss Christine Livingston, assistant superintendent of the V.O.N., was introduced by Mrs. G. McGibbon. She expressed appreciation for the opportunity to attend this conference, and spoke on the subject of "Nursing in Rural Areas". The speaker stated that there are 100 branches of the Victorian Order from Atlantic to Pacific which have been in the service for 48 years, and that they serve three-quarters of the urban population. All nursing visits were made under the supervision of a doctor, and no one is refused care through inability to pay. The average cost per visit in Canada last year was $1.04. . . . Thanks to the speaker were expressed by Mrs. S. Smith.

Mrs. N. E. Smillie, in her address as county president, stressed the fact that although victory had been won, "peace was yet to be won, and we must not think nationally but internationally . . We must have one world or no world. We all know the effect of the atomic bomb, and we should be thankful for a country like Canada and be more sympathetic towards the peoples in less fortunate circumstances. . . Victory has been won, representing a debt we shall never be able to repay. So in building a bridge for our young people, which they must cross — build it well and strong — for we go this way but once". The president urged the members to work hard during the months to come and to live as Women's Institute members should.

The convention concluded with the singing of the national anthem, after which refreshments were served.

Dwelling Burned At Huberdeau

The home of J. P. St. Georges, which also includes the post-office at Huberdeau, was razed by fire on Sunday morning — the property and contents being a total loss. Mr. St. Georges also conducted a local wholesale business at these premises. His loss was only partially covered by insurance.

The residence is in the centre of the village. According to report, Mr. and Mrs. St. Georges were attending church and their two children were at home when the fire occurred. The property is not far distant from the church, and when the alarm was raised parishioners flocked to give aid. However, nothing could be done either to check the blaze or to save the household effects. The St. Georges children were unhurt.

The flames were so fierce that the Richer Hotel, a frame structure on the opposite corner, was blistered with the heat and citizens began removing furniture from the hotel. A fire pump was brought from the forestry station at Barkmere, and water was applied to the walls of the hotel and adjacent buildings.

Natural Death Coroner's Verdict

In a camp situated some distance from the highway between Brownsburg and Dalesville, Réné Hamel, aged 42, of 346 St. Catherine Street East, Montreal, died during the night of October 15. The Montrealer had been under hospital treatment, and his death followed an illness from which he had been suffering for several months. A companion staying with him at the camp walked to the highway to advise the authorities. Dr. A. R. Cote, of Brownsburg, district joint-coroner, pronounced death due to natural causes.

HOW DO WE SHIFT GEARS FROM WAR TO PEACE --- KEYNOTE OF THOUGHT AMONG CITIZENS' FORUMS ACROSS THE DOMINION

Post-War Adjustment Under Study by Thousands of Groups Across Canada

Brownsburg — The Brownsburg "Lighted School" discussion group, affiliate of the National Citizens' Forum, held its first full-dress discussion on Wednesday night. The subject under discussion, "Full employment in a free society", had been handled over the air the previous night by such distinguished speakers as Sir William Beveridge, the Hon. C. D. Howe and others, providing the keynote for discussion by the thousands of such groups all over Canada.

The war has ended, with an almost overwhelming suddenness. We are fairly catapulted into the post-war, into the problems and tasks we always knew were waiting for us behind the immediate emergency. A great effort has ended, but a different and more complicated effort has begun. We stand at a critical point in man's history. We are aware that the decisions we make now will set the pattern for life in our world for years to come. Our thinking and our planning take on a new urgency for we know that they must be translated into action now.

In Citizens' Forum this year, a question is being asked that demands an answer: How do we shift gears from war to peace, in Canada and in the world? We are going to deal with the problems of Canadian reconstruction at this moment under consideration by the Dominion and provinces. In our groups this winter, we will take our place at the Reconstruction Conference. Also we will explore the field of international collaboration within the United Nations Organization and make up our minds about it. Ultimately, public opinion decides the big issues. Legislators can go no further than the people are willing to go. Without substantial support, the wisest and most far-seeing policy is impotent. In the last analysis, responsibility rests with us.

We tackle the problem of full employment first because it is basic. It is the greatest single issue facing the world in which we live. Every troop-ship that docks, every war contract cancelled, confronts us with this fact. Each step we take towards a solution of this major question brings us nearer to solving the other problems with which it interlocks. Full employment is literally a cornerstone in the reconstruction of world society. International agreement and collaboration must form the background for all effort in individual countries.

Employment is everybody's business. The term "full employment" may seem to suggest the big city with its masses of employees and vast industrial plants. But actually the problem enters, not only every house and apartment block in the city, but every town, village and farm to the remotest edge of settlement. Prosperity is indivisible — everyone ultimately depends on the regularly well-filled pay envelope.

Gv't Planners View Site of Brownsburg Community Centre

"IN BROWNSBURG"

(Specially Contributed)

The Community Council Executive — who have charge of the arrangements to create (which is the appropriate word) a Community Centre comprising a skating rink, children's playground and a swimming pool embracing a memorial to the 14 war dead, and a tribute to the 465 who marched to the defence of Canada from Brownsburg — had a visit from Provincial and Federal planners on Wednesday. Mr. Norman Somers, energetic chairman of the Executive, and Mayor Donaldson and Armand Bourgeon acted as a committee to present the plans and inspect the location with the government representatives. Georges Héon, K.C., M.P., who made the arrangements to have the plans approved on the spot, was unavoidably absent.

Clothing Collection

The National Clothing Collection in Brownsburg was a notable success. It is estimated that upwards of 5,000 pounds of serviceable clothing was collected exclusive of a very large collection forwarded through the Catholic Church committee. The spirit of the campaign was a happy one, collectors becoming infected with a generous and pleasant reception with which they were met by the people.

For Winter Sport

The Brownsburg Citizens' Forum, "The Lighted School" group, are at present making arrangements to operate a skating rink for the coming season. Present plans call for the formation of a Skating Club in which the membership fee of $1 entitles a member to full skating privileges for the season. Hockey matches can be arranged and games played between members for a similar fee.

Victory Loan Campaign

The Ninth Victory Loan parade on Saturday sent the campaign off to a fine start. An effort is being made this time to have early returns posted, with a view of holding interest at fever heat during the whole course of the campaign. We have often felt that Argenteuil, and Lachute and Brownsburg district in particular, were poorly served in daily press notices of progress made. So far as published records go, we never held any. If our achievements were as modest as our recording of them, then they were modest indeed.

Loan rallies have been held in the three industrial plants here, and rapid progress is reported; at the time of writing, the Canadian Safety Fuse Co. has topped 70% of its objective.

Youth Dies in Hunting Mishap Near Laurel

André Richer, 14-year-old student at Mont St. Louis College, Montreal, was killed in a hunting mishap while on a visit to Chapleau Lake last week-end. The youth had arrived at Laurel Station with his brother from Montreal. They joined a party of acquaintances to hunt deer on a mountain at Chapleau Lake, the 10 hunters separating into two groups. One of the parties, of which Richer was a member, set out to stir up game in the bush, the other group awaiting results.

A single shot was heard around 3.30 o'clock, and when the hunters later assembled together it was found the 14-year-old Montrealer was absent. They fired further shots and called to attract his attention, thinking he might be lost in the bush. A search was then instituted, and at 7.20 in the evening the boy was found dead, with gunshot wounds through his chest.

Provincial Detective Leopold Dauphin, of Lachute, proceeded to the spot to investigate the case, and the district joint-coroner, Dr. Jules Lafleur, Lachute, held an inquest, the verdict being "accidental". The physician gave his opinion that death had been instantaneous.

Safecrackers Visit C.P.R. Depot Here, Attempt Foiled

ONE ARRESTED HERE AFTER SERIES OF ROBBERIES SUNDAY NIGHT

A series of entries and attempted robberies Sunday night in Lachute pointed to a trio of thugs who visited the town with the intention of making a clean-up. As a result, one man was in the police cell here Monday morning and escorted to Montreal Tuesday by the chief of police, while most of the stolen goods were believed to be recovered.

Safecrackers Foiled

Highlight of the night's depredations was a break-in at the C.P.R. station. Here the gang crashed a window and reached in to release the catch. They broke into the Leger Garage and Daigle blacksmith shop, across the station yard, and from the latter establishment removed an acetylene welding outfit. They set the tank outside the C.P.R. office, with the pipes entering through a window, and with this perfect set-up they went to work on the safe. They did some damage to the shell, but were stalled in their efforts to reach the cash, when the gas in the cylinder ran out and the torch failed.

Stole Tires from Auto

Meanwhile D. Villeneuve, chief of police, was kept busy with a series of unusual happenings in the town. While on patrol he first met a stranger carrying an auto tire, in the middle of the night. He questioned the man, who gave his name as John Millen, of 5039 Notre Dame Street, Montreal, and who stated he was taking the tire to a garage for repair. The case looked authentic, and the man was allowed to proceed.

Later, at the town office Chief Villeneuve received a call from G. Cousineau, wholesaler, stating he had found a lock broken on his premises. It was while on his way to investigate this incident that the officer again encountered Millen, on Foundry Street with his automobile, which bore a taxi license. In examining the car, the police chief discovered two spare auto wheels and tires which obviously did not belong to Millen's car. At this point the stranger was placed under arrest. At the police office he stated he hed been hired to bring two men from the city in his taxi. The fare, he added, was $16 — but on searching the man, the officer found only $3 in his possession.

A call later in the morning, from Dr. L. P. Sauvé, revealed that a pair of tires had been removed from his car, at his property on Foundry Street. The tires discovered in the taxi were subsequently identified as those which had been stolen.

Loot Discovered

It was at 6 a.m. that police headquarters were advised of the robbery attempt at the station. A search around the premises unearthed a cache of stolen goods in the freight shed nearby. They included several parcels containing some valuable clothing. . . . The matter was reported immediately to the railway authorities, and Detective Trepanier came here from the C.P.R. investigation squad to take charge of the case on behalf of the railway. It was established the station had been entered around 3.30 a.m., and that three men were involved.

Other Robberies and Entries Around Town

Another recent robbery was reported at the office of A. D. McGibbon & Sons, lumber merchants, on Chatham Street. On the morning of October 13, it was found that an attempt had been made to open the safe during the night. Employed in this attempt were an axe and two hammers, stolen from the railway tool shed. These were found abandoned on the premises.

It was believed the robbers were interrupted by police patrolling this section in an automobile several times during the night.

During the night of October 15 a thief entered the H. M. Lavigne Store, also in the west end. All outside doors of the building, with one exception, are equipped with alarms, and it was by this door the thief made his entry. Two men's suits, two overcoats, hats and ties were stolen from the stock.

BACK PAY $11,000

Calgary (CP) — Flt. Lt. Doug Wilson returned from three years in a German prison camp to find his back pay and gratuity totalled $11,000. He will take a science course at the University of Alberta and build himself a home.

Peace demands a generalship as great, if not greater, than war.

Attractive Displays For Victory Loan

Three local stores are featuring special window displays in connection with the Ninth Victory Loan campaign.

The show window at John McFaul & Son stresses the theme of the present campaign, "Sign Your Name for Victory", in a most impressive manner.

Another display at Bedard Limited features a wounded veteran of World War II as the patient of a very charming nurse, and illustrates the expense involved in the care of our sick and wounded soldiers, sailors and airmen.

The third window at Lachute Lumber and Manufacturing Company illustrates the "savings features" of Victory Bonds. Money so invested will be readily available to purchase a new radio, refrigerator, automobile, home, washing machine, etc., when goods become cheaper and more plentiful.

The Victory Loan board has reappeared next to the post-office, after a thorough face-lifting by A. R. Bissell, of Louisa.

Local merchants are requested to feature Victory Loan posters as much as possible during the three weeks of the campaign, and windows similar to those mentioned above are very definitely encouraged by the local committee.

ARGENTEUIL AT 45 p.c. OF VICTORY LOAN QUOTA BROWNSBURG LEADS COUNTY -- LACHUTE 2nd; MAGNIFICENT RESPONSE FROM INDUSTRIES

A report from Victory Loan Headquarters today shows that Argenteuil County attained 45% of its $1,075,000 objective for General Sales and Payroll Savings in the first three days of the Loan. This is by far the best start Argenteuil has had in any Victory Loan to date.

Brownsburg leads the County with 90%, followed by Lachute with 63%. Grenville is next with 25%, followed by Arundel 24%, St. Andrews East 10%, Morin Heights 7% and Calumet 3%. No reports have been received as yet from Weir or Huberdeau.

Employees of the various industries in Argenteuil, who were addressed at numerous meetings by Teddy Burns Goulet, well-known impressario from Station CKAC of Montreal, are giving a magnificent response.

C-I-L Plastics Division has already reached 190% of its $7,550 objective and hopes to hit the 200% mark. Employees of C-I-L "Dominion" Ammunition had subscribed $154,000 on an objective of $93,700, equivalent to 164%. Even before their Victory Loan meeting employees of Ayers Limited had signed up for $8,550 of their $71,800 quota. Canadian Safety Fuse reports 72% to date.

Employees of the Bell Telephone Co. here were the first Payroll Savings group to over-subscribe. They got $2,250 on a $1,200 quota —187.5%. Employees of Lachute Lumber Co. had reached $6,000 on a $5,950 objective, being the first group in the Group Payroll Section to exceed their objective.

A statement issued by the joint-chairmen for Argenteuil is of particular interest: "Division 11 of the Northwestern Region of Quebec, which includes Terrebonne and Two Mountain, has issued a challenge to our Division 12, which among other counties includes the Counties of Papineau and Hull. We have accepted the challenge in the firm belief that when the final results are published Argenteuil will head the list of all 25 units in the Northwestern Region."

Another spokesman for the Argenteuil Committee gave the following statement to The Watchman today: "In previous Loans we were always accused of holding back results. This is absolutely incorrect. We reported results publicly as they were received. This time Lachute was the only town to be mentioned over the radio after the first day. We are now told that we have already attained our objective and that there is no need for additional buying. This is ridiculous. Remember, we finished last of all 25 Units in the Northwestern Region in the Eighth Victory Loan. We may be doing well now — in fact we are in 4th place — but there is still a long way to go. I predict that if we fall to get 125% of our objective this time we will end up in the lower half of the Northwestern Region".

Remember our Argenteuil slogan, folks: THE LAST SHALL BE FIRST. Our slogan will triumph if we all SIGN OUR NAMES FOR VICTORY.

Due to an oversight of the local organization, the name of Donald MacRae was omitted from the list of Loan Salesmen published in The Watchman last week. Mr. MacRae is an important member of the Lachute sales organization, and the Committtee wishes to apologize for this oversight.

Bank Appointment, Former Townsman

KENNETH ROY ELLIOTT, whose appointment as Assistant Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Edmonton has been announced from head office.

A native of Lachute, he first entered the service of the Bank here in 1922, and served in various branches until appointed Accountant at Kitchener in 1933. Since 1936 he has served at Toronto and Regina, and now becomes Assistant Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Edmonton.

10 Establishments Broken Into At Brownsburg

Brownsburg — This village on Tuesday night was the scene of numerous entries and minor robberies. Premises broken into were mostly stores, including H. Pariseau's, Sterling & Hodge's Grocery, Jos. Denault's butcher shop, the Lafleur butcher shop, Carrière's Hotel, Capitol Theatre, M. Gagné's restaurant, and Chez Claire (a lady's establishment in Emile Hebert's building). A private garage at the home of Stan Harris, St. Joseph Street, was also broken into, and a store on the same street, where the occupants in an upstairs dwelling, hearing marauders in the basement, shouted and scared them into a hurried retreat. Most of the places were entered by basement doors or windows, but the only definite loss reported up to last night was a bag of sugar and cigarettes taken from the Sterling Grocery.

Constable Durocher of Brownsburg and Det. Leopold Dauphin, of the provincial police, stationed at Lachute, searched the various premises for clues to identify the culprits.

Successful Year Reviewed, Closing Exercises of Lachute High School

Glenys Bradford Winner of Highest Honors in School Graduating Class

A large audience attended the annual closing ceremonies of Lachute High School, held in the Civic Auditorium on Friday last. There were marked improvements in the proceedings this year; prize distribution was speeded up, a public address system installed, and, during the well arranged program, musical selections interspersed the addresses.

Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, chairman of the school board, directed the program. Also on the platform were School Commissioners W. M. Cottingham, S. S. Campbell, Geo. F. Calder, Stuart McFaul; Inspectors E. S. Giles and L. J. King; the chairman of the Brownsburg Consolidated School, Mr. J. Dixon; Georges Héon, K.C., M.P.; Mayor Leopold Carrière; the Revs. E. Orsborn, C. R. Lang and W. B. Rosborough; Mrs. Geo. Leggett, Mrs. Geo. McGibbon and Mrs. E. Smith, representing the Women's Institute; Geo. Y. Deacon, of the Quebec Protestant School Committee; the guest speaker, Prof W. Hatcher, of McGill University; C. Howard Bradford, principal of Lachute High School; the school secretaries, Dr. G. Clunie and M. E. Walker, and many of the prize donors.

Chairman's Address

A report of the year's progress was given by the chairman, Dr. FitzGerald, who after extending a welcome to the two new commissioners, Geo. F. Calder and Stuart McFaul, reviewed the major work accomplished during 1944-45. He gave satisfying statistics regarding the scholastic efforts of the pupils, claiming that the averages obtained at Lachute were higher than the provincial average; congratulations were extended the principal and teachers.

Dr. FitzGerald spoke of the recent renovations to the school building, and of the gratifying results with healthful environment for the pupils. Another important development mentioned was the establishment of the Central School Board; in this regard he added, "Lachute High School may be the keystone of the arch" of the county school system.

The chairman thanked the Lachute Lions Club for their interest in the welfare of the school, notably in sponsoring the skating rink that was donated by the club.

Problems of large enrolment and divided classes were viewed by Dr. FitzGerald, and he hoped that these difficulties would be overcome.

Concluding, he congratulated the prize winning students on their achievement, and wished them a happy and successful year.

School Year Reviewed

Principal C. Howard Bradford was then introduced; after giving the list of enrolments by grades and teachers, he gave the total number of students as 439, the highest in the history of the school.

"The entire school program", said Mr. Bradford, "was developed with one idea in mind — to provide for the complete development and welfare of the children concerned. As we all realize, education today means much more than it did a few years ago, yet the theory of the ancient Greeks was not far from our present philosophy, 'We regard a man who shows no interest in public affairs, not as a harmless, but as a useless character'."

Farm Rally Told Disposal Plan for Army Vehicles

A large crowd gathered at Lachute High School on Thursday evening, October 11, to hear Ralph Staples, National Secretary of the Farm Forums for Canada. This event marked the opening of Forum activities for another season, and all local branches were well represented.

Stuart Armstrong, of Lachute Road, an active member in Farm Forum circles, acted as chairman for the rally. Following a few remarks, he introduced Alex Sim, Quebec secretary. Mr. Sim stated that he and the other visiting speakers had been travelling from one section of the province to the other all week, attending rallies of this kind, and that there was little doubt but that the coming year would be their most successful one.

Mr. Sim then introduced Jos. Galway, his assistant, who has but recently been appointed to that post. Mr. Galway explained how the War Assets Corporation was making army trucks available to the farmers at cost price through the Farm Forum. (Information published on page 4, this issue.)

Mr. Staples was then introduced, and proved to be an able and interesting speaker. He spoke of the work being done by other branches in various sections of Canada, and showed how the Farm Forums were now a recognized institution. He also outlined some of the farmers' chief problems and maintained that the solution for these problems must come from the farmers themselves and not from any outside agencies. He added that a great deal could be done by means of more intelligent co-operation among farmers, and by the establishent of co-operatives. It was clearly evident that he had first-hand knowledge of his subject, being a farmer himself, from Ontario.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

ENLARGE HYDRO PLANT

Toronto (CP) — Enlargement of the Decew Falls generating plant at a cost of $7,000,000 will be undertaken immediately, Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission officials announce.

Geraldton, Ont. (CP) — German prisoners of war have helped relieve a critical situation in the paper industry this year by cutting nearly 1,000,000 cords of pulpwood in Northern Ontario, authorities have just disclosed.

EX-PRISONERS FATTEN

Regina (CP) — Prairie soldiers repatriated from Japanese prison camps are judging the progress of their return to normal health by the number of changes in uniform they must make. Because of weight increases some have required four new uniforms between the time of their release and their arrival home.

Submarine Coal Will Be Mined

London (CP) — Cumberland miners may produce coal from workings, 10 miles out to see if transportation and ventilation problems can be overcome, a survey by a committee of coal owners, mine workers and others for the Ministry of Fuel and Power showed.

According to the survey proved reserves in Northumberland which are capable of being worked at present amount to more than 1,760,000,000 tons. In addition, it is estimated 340,000,000 tons lie in seams not definitely proved.

Main reserves in Cumberland are under the sea, limiting proved reserves to 310,000,000 tons, but the total including unproved workable reserves, is estimated at 583,000,000 tons.

The committee considered that time spent by miners walking to and from working places is excessive and should be reduced by additional shaft sinking or provision of underground transport or both. The time lost in this way in Northumberland was estimated at 1,700 manshifts a day and in Cumberland at 250 man-shifts a day.

Special attention to the introduction of intensive mechanization, with accompanying improvement in loading and transport arrangements was recommended for both areas by the committee.

Compressed Sawdust New Domestic Fuel

Fort William, Ont. (CP) — The answer to an old problem of what to do with waste sawdust from sawmills has been found in the manufacture of a new form of domestic fuel produced when the sawdust is pressed into the form of small logs.

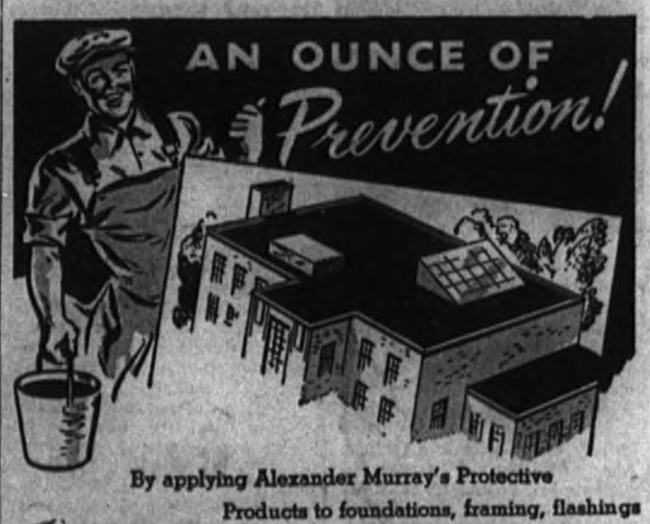

A new plant at Fort William, — the first in Canada — has begun production of the material, called Press-to-Log, which is made by subjecting the sawdust to high pressure of 20,000 pounds per square inch in small cylinders or dies.

The pressure breaks down the structure of the sawdust particle, eliminates moisture, and produces a small log, 12⅛ inches long, four inches in diameter and weighing eight pounds, which is comparable to the weight of rock and coal.

Pres-to-log is of much the same composition as coal, which is vegetation, usually trees, subjected to pressure underground for thousands of years. In the case of the new product the method of pressure has been hastened.

Value of Pres-to-Log as fuel has been proved by tests made under various conditions in the United States. Among its advantages are that it burns well with a minimum of ash, soot and smoke.

It should particularly appeal to housewives because a basement stocked with this fuel can be kept as clean as any other room in the house, and the logs can be handled without soiling the hands.

SHORTAGES HAMPER BRITISH BREWERS

London (CP) — A good crop of barley, more barrels and more workers in the brewing industry are needed to prevent a threatened beer famine in Britain.

"The labor problem is our biggest," an official of the Brewers' Society said, "and it does not look as if we shall be able to get workers into the industry in time to prevent a shortage this coming winter.

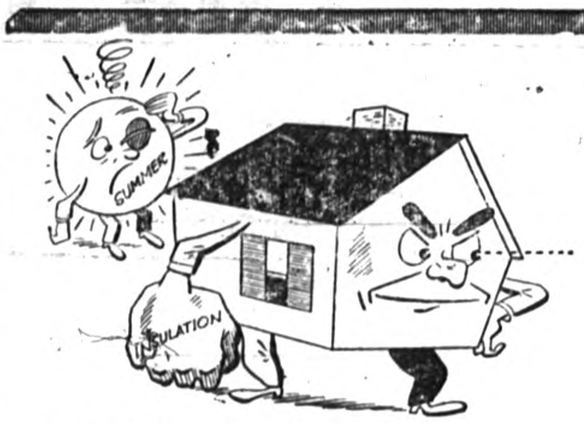

"No wood for making barrels has been imported for several years and it is impossible to get replacements. Breweries are throwing dozens of them into the scrap heap every week."

At present most London taverns are open from 11.30 a.m. till 3 p.m. and from 6 p.m. till 10.30 p.m. Beer supplies are fairly plentiful. Spirits generally run low halfway through the evening. In country districts conditions are slightly better and more beer and spirits

Most publicans are experiencing are available late in the evening. a shortage of glasses. Some report losses of as many as 500 glasess during the V-J celebrations

DURABLE CLEANER

Montreal (CP) — John Hamdgus, 45-year-old window cleaner, fell from the 10th story of a building here, crashed into a wire netting eight floors below and was able to smile and talk as an ambulance took him away. Hope was expressed that his injuries were not critical.

A Message TO FARMERS from a Farmer

H. H. Hannam is President and Managing Director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. In a message addressed to farmers, Mr. Hannam says:

"The farmer who is wise will look ahead and plan carefully.

"And in these years when prices and returns are more satisfactory than they have been, when labor is scarce, when farm machinery is restricted, when building materials are not readily available, a good course to follow would be that of putting a substantial share of the year's earnings into sound securities such as Victory Bonds. These reserves will not only provide a measure of insurance against difficulties in less favorable years, but at such time when supplies are favorable and costs will probably be lower, their purchasing power will be greater and return from them correspondingly increased.

"We believe this is good planning from the farmer's standpoint. At the same time, it is the very best of planning from the standpoint of the Nation."

'T.N.T. Revue' for Victory Loan Here, All-Girl Troupe

ONLY EXCLUSIVELY FEMININE SHOW

The Argenteuil County Victory Loan Committee is sponsoring a performance of the "T.N.T. Revue" at the Lachute Auditorium on Tuesday, October 30, at 8.30 p.m. Admission will be free, but children under 16 years of age will not be admitted under any circumstances.

The "T.N.T. Revue" is an all-girl show and is sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. It was one of the first troop shows on the road after the outbreak of war, having started rehearsals late in 1939. Since January 1940, the Revue has been performing at the rate of one or more shows a week to all branches of the Armed Forces. In the past four and a half years they have travelled many thousands of miles, to such camps as Valcartier, Ancienne Lorette, Lauzon, Petawawa, Kingston, etc., in all sorts of conditions and weather.

As a unit, the "T.N.T. Revue" is made up of various types of entertainment not the least of which is a sleight-of-hand act by Hilda, the only female magician in Canada. It is the intention of the Revue to continue on its mission of spreading cheer to lonely soldiers as long as there is a military camp in existence.

The "T.N.T. Revue" is directed by Mrs. Peter Riorden. Gwen Bamford is the stage manager; Margaret Weir, mistress of ceremonies; Willa Schlosser, pianist; while Mr. Sydney Dunk, the only male connected with the show, acts as business manager.

Appreciation of the efforts of the Argenteuil Health Unit in assisting in prevention of sickness, was voiced by the principal, who added, "If the child is not healthy he will not be successful in any undertaking".

The organizing of the Student Council during the year was lauded as a means of developing the science of "democracy in action", with the training of students to run their own affairs, and to interest them in the affairs of the nation. The importance of sports was also emphasized by Mr. Bradford.

Speaking of extra-curricular activities of the school, in the training of students in the broader arts, painting, music, manual wood work, household science, etc., Mr. Bradford said. "One is apt to say all of these extra-curricular activities and specialized subjects may be good but they should not be taking the place of the original organized study of the school. If the school does not undertake this work, who will? The fact cannot be denied that such studies are part of the education of any boy or girl."

Scholastic Record

The scholastic record of the year was portrayed in the following results: Grades 1 to 4, over 90%; 5, 74%; 6, 90%; 7, 74%; 8, 70%; 9, 90%;; 10, 80% and 11, 71%.

Concluding, the principal appealed for co-operation between home and school, in the development of proper and healthful pastimes, so that the child would not "spend his time on the street corners, including the post office corner, simply because there is no organized life for him at home".

Inspector E. S. Giles was introduced by the chairman. Mr. Giles spoke as an "old grad" of Lachute Academy, and paid tribute to a former teacher of many years ago, in the person of Miss Paton.

Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P., was also called upon to address the meeting. He congratulated the parents on having such an efficient and hard-working board of commissioners, and spoke very highly of the school Glee Club, which is under the direction of Mr. Earl Morrison, of McGill University. "Education", added Mr. Héon, when speaking to the pupils, "looms very high on the horizon . . . don't let your school down . . . and pay heed to your teacher".

Guest Speaker Leaves Lasting Message

The guest speaker of the evening, Prof. W. H. Hatcher, B.A., M.Sc., Ph.D., assistant dean of Arts and Sciences of McGill University, was given an interesting "build-up" by the chairman.

Prof. Hatcher gave the students and parents some good advice, in his unique and commanding style of oratory. After captivating the attention of the pupils, he linked the traditions of the hard working pioneers to the students of today, and said that they were part of the future.

He suggested that those attending school should aim to specialize in one profession or trade, and to do that one thing better than anyone else. Dr. Hatcher added that it was important to choose an honest profession; then turning to the parents, he left a thought-provoking observation "Children are naturally honest . . . they learn dishonesty from the grown-ups".

Commissioner W. M. Cottingham moved a vote of thanks to Prof. Hatcher.

Choral renditions of the school Glee Club brought forth appreciative applause, and many compliments were extended to the director, Earl Morrison, M.Sc., who has done much to create a love of good music among the local pupils. Mrs. Stewart Campbell assisted at the piano.

Students Win Honors

Miss Glenys Bradford won most of the awards in the graduating class of '45, while John Entwistle was a very close second in this class. Mary Bennett led her class, Grade 10, thereby winning the Bellingham Scholarship. Other Bellingham Scholarship winners were, Audrey Heatlie, Grade 9; Aileen Gain, Grade 8, and June McArthur, Grade 7.

Shifting Gears from War to Peace . .

We have immediately behind us a period of the greatest industrial expansion the world has ever known. Employment during the war reached peak levels in almost every country among both belligerents and neutrals. In Canada, at the end of four years of war, something like 800,000 more workers were drawing wages and salaries from industry than in 1939. All industrial countries scraped the bottom of the employment barrel. We experienced an acute condition of over-employment. The demand for labor was too urgent, for many worked at the expense of education, health and family stability.

Great Britain entered the war with 1,000,000 workers registered as totally unemployed. In September 1939 there were 400,000 Canadian workers without employment, and more than a million men, women and children on direct relief.

What basic economic factors underlie this startling reversal, this drastic change from the search for a job, to the search for a worker? Mainly two simple facts.

(1) During the war the total of investment in production by government and by private enterprise reached an all-time high;

(2) All the product manufactured was absorbed in the limitless needs of war. When we realize that our nation's daily war production bill reached a peak of $9,000,000 a day, we gain some idea of our enormous investment in plant and equipment, and of the imperative demands for workers. Thus war made it possible for us to fulfill the two main conditions to avoid mass unemployment — an industrial investment in production geared to take care of the number of workers on the labor market, and the ability of the public to consume the goods manufactured. War does it, but at a price.

Why do we have booms and depressions? . . . What happened in 1929? Will the same thing happen again? If you have an enquiring mind, let us pose a question for your consideration — in the words of Henry George: "Go into one of the new communities where the Anglo-Saxon vigor is just beginning the race of progress; where the machinery of production and exchange is yet rude and inefficient; where the increment of wealth is not yet great enough to enable any class to live in ease and luxury; where the best house is but a cabin of logs, or a cloth and paper shanty, and the richest man is forced to daily work — and though you will find an absence of wealth and all its concomitants, you will find no beggars. There is no luxury, but there is no destitution. No one makes an easy living, nor a very good living; but everyone CAN make a living, and no one able and willing to work is oppressed by the fear of want . . . . But just as such a community realizes the conditions which all civilized communities are striving for and advances in the scale of material progress — just as closer settlement and more intimate connection with the rest of the world, and greater utilization of labor-saving machinery, make possible greater economies in production and exchange, and wealth in consequence increases, not merely in the aggregate, but in proportion to population — so does poverty take a darker aspect. Some get a better and easier living but others find it hard to live at all. The "tramp" comes with the locomotive, and almshouses and prisons are as surely the marks of material progress as are costly dwellings and magnificent churches. Upon streets lighted with electricity and patrolled by uniformed policemen beggars wait for the passer-by, and in the shadow of college, and library and museum, are gathering the more hideous Huns and fiercer Vandals of whom Macauley prophesied: "Why? Why does poverty follow progress?"

We are practically starting a new era. Will the same old cycle of booms and depressions follow or will we find a new formula? What will be the role the Government will have to play. Will Government works be provided to take up the slack; and if Government decides to step in to supplant private investment, how will democracy fare?

Think it over, and having thought it over, get into a discussion group and hear the other fellow's point of view. In the last analysis, responsibility rests with us.

BETTER MILKING - MANAGED MILKING MASTITIS CONTROL

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1945

McARTHUR'S HALL, LACHUTE

8.00 O'Clock in the Evening

Dr. George H. Hopson is a graduate of Cornell University and has spent his active business life in the study of various factors affecting the production of milk, such as the development of the cow's udder, the secretion of milk, the ejection of milk, the hormone and stimuli, mastitis control, udder health and sanitation.

He has the faculty of discussing his subject in the average man's language and leaves nothing to the imagination. Dr. Hopson has a message for all dairymen, whether machine or hand milkers. This is an opportunity you have been waiting for

You cannot afford to miss this meeting and practical demonstration on these subjects.

The TELEPHONE HAS SERVED THE FARMER WELL

For more than half a century, the telephone has served the farmer well . . . in business . . . in emergencies . . . in more pleasant living.

There was the farmer, for example, who wro e that his telephone enabled him to get better prices for his crops.

"It gets me to market in a few seconds," he said, "and at the best time."

Today, the number of rural telephones is at an all-time high. When materials and man-power are again available, it will be much higher. Telephone service for farms will be even better than ever before.

DEEP SINCERITY IN ROTARY TALK, BY "HUMANITARIAN AND FRIEND FROM U.S."

Brownsburg — The regular dinner meeting of the Rotary Club was held at Carrière's Hotel on Thursday last. President Sam Ross occupied the chair, and the Rotarians and guests listened to an inspiring address by a great humanitarian and well known consulting engineer of Washington, D.C., Mr. Charles E. Wood.

Speaking of "High Ideals", this good friend from across the border certainly left the feeling that, if we could only have more like him in these two countries — yes, in the world — our problems would not be so complex, and good will would be a greater force.

Mr. Wood, very young and very keen for his 71 years, has worked on engineering projects around the world. In South America, the Panama Canal, England, Germany and many other countries, he has seen mammoth engineering works.

He referred to the great feats of this war, stating that the "Mulberry" project, the great portable docks, were twice the size of the Panama Canal.

The war dealt in "great large things". . . . Peace deals with "great little things", he said. Greater respect for morality, discipline and God are needed if the peace we all want is to be achieved. Rotary can help — especially among the youth — the real wealth of the nation.

We thought before the war that youth was "going to the devil", but the great challenge showed that their training, by school teachers and youth leaders such as in Scout organizations, was of a sound nature. . . . Mr. Wood felt that parents do not pay enough attention to their children. They claim to be interested but don't even know their teacher, their Scoutmaster, the quality of the school, or even the name of their Scout troop. "How can you lead them, if you don't show the slightest interest?" the speaker asked.

Due to their lack of interest Mr. Wood did not feel that parents could claim much credit for the wonderful showing made by their boys in this great war.

Having been connected with the Scout organization for many years, the speaker gave much credit to this movement, as well as to school teachers, who never get the credit they deserve. . . . Rotary can assist by helping Scout troops. In the United States they have organized over half of the Scout groups, according to Mr. Wood.

The speaker mentioned the pitiful conditions in the devastated areas of Europe, and commended Brownsburg on its clothing drive. Knowing conditions first-hand, and being able to speak with sincere sympathy, Mr. Wood created a desire in his audience to get busy and be of more use in rectifying conditions.

Rotarian Sid Stilwell introduced the speaker, and Leo Holt thanked him on behalf of the club.

Dr. Ralph Percival introduced the guests, who included Fred Sanford and Mac Walker, of Lachute, Jake Lynch, Erskine McOuat, John Duncan and Lemuel Wilson, of Brownsburg.

First Truck Sale On October 30

On October 30 the first official sale of Army-type trucks to farmers will be conducted, R. Alex Sim, Secretary, Quebec Council of Farm Forums, announced today.

The demand is so great, Mr. Sim pointed out, that applications will be assembled by the U.C.C. and the Farm Forum Council. These applications will be placed in a draw and the names will be drawn out until the supply of trucks is exhausted.

Those whose names are drawn will be notified and a certified cheque to cover the price must be in to War Assets before November 9. The trucks released from Montreal will be ready for delivery on November 14, and those in Quebec City on November 16.

Subsequent draws will be announced from time to time as equipment is declared surplus.

Application forms have been published in a number of daily and weekly papers. These may be clipped out and used. Printed forms will also be mailed to agronomes and Farm Forum secretaries this week, it is hoped.

Only bona fide farmers are eligible to apply for trucks. Only one application per farm operator is allowed.

Two types of truck will be on sale on October 30, as advertised.

The Quebec Council of Farm Forums is not in a position to vouch for the condition of the equipment on sale, and it is hoped that only those farmers who need the equipment, and can use it efficiently, will apply.

Attention, Quebec Farmers

ARMY TRUCKS FOR SALE

15 cwt., ceiling price $330.00

Field artillery tractor, ceiling price $280.00

ARMY PATTERN TRUCKS

Four Wheel Drive

To be sold to farmers by War Assets Corporation in co-operation with the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

These trucks were designed for military use and vary from conventional design in many respects. In view of this and the fact that farmers have greater ingenuity and opportunity than others to put these vehicles to many uses besides those for which they were designed, it has been decided to restrict their sale to farmers on the following understanding:

(1) Operating and maintenance expense will be higher than those of standard design of a similar load carrying capacity.

(2) The Corporation, the original manufacturer, the agent of the manufacturer or the Federation will not be obligated in any way —

(a) To supply or continue to supply special type and size of tires with which the vehicle is equipped.

(b) To make available maintenance spares peculiar to the vehicle and not normally manufactured.

(3) The Corporation, the original manufacturer, the agent of the manufacturer or the Quebec Council of Farm Forum accepts no responsibility for the mechanical condition of the vehicle, the sale being purely on an "as is" and "where is" basis.

(4) The ultimate trade in or resale value of these trucks will be purely nominal. They will be sold accordingly.

(5) Deduction will be made from the ceiling price established by Wartime Prices and Trade Board to cover the cost of painting and the estimated cost of necessary repairs, in accordance with Motor Vehicle Controller's Order No. A-1493.

SPECIFICATIONS:

All vehicles shown are four-wheel drive; four speeds ahead and one reverse; right-hand drive, semi-cab over engine; four-wheel hydraulic brakes with mechanical emergency handbrake; split-type wheels, single rear tires; and, when available, spare tires, spare wheels and tarpaulins. Engines, either Ford V-8, 95 H.P. at 3600 R.P.M. or Chevrolet, 85 H.P. at 3400 R.P.M. Other specifications:—

Tires, pneumatic	9.00 x 16	10.50 x 20

The field artillery tractor is equipped with a winch with front and rear fairleads (roller guides), wire cable approx. 125 feet long, ⅝" diameter; speed 573.2 ft. per minute in high gear at 1,000 R.P.M. It is fitted with a two-door steel Sedan-type body, seating seven passengers, with inside lockers for equipment and tools and outside lockers for vehicle gear. The truck bodies are of steel or wood construction as available, but not optional.

Trucks available for farmers at any time will be distributed by means of a drawing which will be conducted under the direction of a committee comprised of representatives of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the U.C.C., the Quebec Council of Farm Forums and the Quebec Department of Agriculture. Those whose names are drawn will be notified and will be given 10 days to send certified cheque when sales orders will be issued. Dates of drawings will be advertised as arranged.

To Quebec Farmers:

If you are interested in securing any Army-type truck for Agricultural purposes, fill in this form, have it countersigned by the Secretary of your local forum or your Agronome and mail it promptly to R. Alex Sim, Secretary, Quebec Council of Farm Forums, Macdonald College P.O., Que.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Brownsb'g United Church Anniversary

Brownsburg — Marking the 37th anniversary of the present building, the 93rd of the first structure, and the 104th milestone of its history in the community, the Brownsburg United Church will hold special Anniversary gatherings on Sunday and Monday next. On Sunday morning, the Rev. Dr. W. S. Reid, of Montreal, son of Rev. Dr. W. D. Reid who was student-pastor on the Avoca and Harrington charge 55 years ago, will be the guest preacher. The choir and male quartet will render special music. The service will commence at 11 o'clock. On Monday evening at 7.30 Sq. Ldr. the Rev. A. O. Lloyd, of Ottawa, assistant minister here in 1922 and 1923, will be guest speaker. A short program of music will be given by artists from Lachute and Brownsburg, and it is expected that an elocutionist will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd from Ottawa, who will be glad to renew acquaintances in this community. The Rev. W. B. Rosborough, the Rev. W. H. Leaton and others will bring greetings. A silver offering will be taken. The Women's Association will serve refreshments following the gathering, which will be held in the auditorium in the newly decorated hall.

Another outstanding event is scheduled to take place on Wednesday evening, November 7, when a group of 16 artists from the Church of All Nations, Montreal, under the Rev. Dr. R. G. Katsunoff, will give a feature presentation in the Capitol Theatre. The public are asked to keep this date open.

Sq. Ldr. the Rev. A. O. Lloyd, the special speaker Monday evening, who was assistant to the late Rev. George McKinnon in 1922 and 1923, went from Trinity United Church, Montreal, to Bell St., Ottawa, where he has been for the past 11 years. Joining the R.C.-A.F. as Chaplain in June 1940, Mr. Lloyd put in five and a half years, leaving with the rank of Squadron Leader. He spent two and a half years overseas.

Sq. Ldr. (Rev.) A. O. Lloyd, guest speaker for the Brownsburg United Church anniversary Monday evening, October 29. Mr. Lloyd was assistant minister in Lachute and Brownsburg in 1922 and 1923.

"Development of Culture In Lachute", Subject Of Y.P.U. Discourse

Hallowe'en Party To Be Held Next Tuesday

The program at the Lachute United Y.P.U. this week was under direction of the new Christian Culture convenors, Mary Scott and Doris Leroy. The scripture was read by Allan Hammond and the prayer by John Giles. An interesting current event, "Hospital Train", was given by Joan McMahon.

Guest speaker for the evening was C. Howard Bradford, principal of Lachute High School, who was introduced by Mary Scott, convenor. Mr. Bradford chose for his address a topic of particular interest to local residents, "Development of Culture in Lachute", and dealt historically with the early settlers in this vicinity, who were ambitious for their children to have an education; and the struggles, financial and otherwise, of the teachers of pioneer times.

Mr. Bradford mentioned local places of historic interest, such as the first school in the county, situated in the east end near the Walker residence; of the Sons of Temperance Hall, now known as the Victoria or Town Hall; and of the first churches in the vicinity, and their branches of cultural development.

The speaker was thanked by Mary Scott.

A Halowe'en party, for which all members are requested to wear costume, will be held next Tuesday.

Play in Aid of Building Fund

Members of St. Simeon's Church, Lachute, are producing a play entitled "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick", in the Lachute Auditorium on Friday, November 16.

This play is a wholesome "rural" comedy in three acts, written by Lieut. Beale Cormack; it shows how a farmer from Oklahoma got ahead of the "city slickers". The character Aaron Slick is played by W. H. Maslin, of Brownsburg; Mrs. Rose Berry (an Oklahoma widow), by Mrs. W. Wade, of Lachute, and Mr. Wilbur Merridew, (the crooked speculator), by W. Shearsmith, also of Lachute. These leading roles are supported by other local artists.

Proceeds raised by this concert will be applied to the building fund of St. Simeon's Church.

Purchase Main St. Business Sites

The old Miller store property on Main Street, which was acquired some time ago by Don MacRae, local businessman, has again changed hands. Mr. MacRae demolished the building on this property, which was no longer adaptable to modern business needs, and since then its development has been a matter of speculation to the public. Last week the site was purchased by Ewan Albright and Ross McAdam, farmers of the St. Andrews district, and it is understood they intend to erect premises suitable for a farm machinery agency. Wm. Watson, who recently disposed of his farm on Lachute Road, is mentioned as an associate in this business.

Another old landmark, the Cosy Inn, next to the post office on Main Street, was sold this week. A long rambling structure which retains a certain old-time dignity in this section of large storefronts and bright lights, the property has been owned for some years by Wm. M. Scott. The new proprietor is a member of the local professions, Jacques E. Beaudoin, Notary.

Christian Endeavor

The program of the Monday evening meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society, ably conducted by Mrs. George Calder, proceeded through hymns, Bible reading, and sentence prayers, to the topic of the evening, entitled "What Determines Our Character". The subject, discussed by the Rev. G. T. Spriggs in a pleasant, informal manner, dealt mainly with the importance of developing the Christian qualities. In substance, Mr. Spriggs showed that, unlike the lower animals, each human possesses a character differing from that of his neighbor, the development of which depends, partially upon his parentage and upbringing, but mainly upon himself. Mr. Spriggs emphasized the point that, in character building, our objective should be to form as lofty a character as possible, and that can be accomplished only if we "walk in the footsteps of God". The next meeting, Monday, October 29, will be a Halowe'en social under the direction of Mrs. Robert Cairns.

Presbyterian Y.P.S.

The Presbyterian Y.P.S. meeting will be held tonight (Thursday), being changed so that members could attend the Red Cross special show last evening. The schedule of programs is planned to offer a wide sphere of religious, educational and recreational diversity. Next week the meeting will also be held on Thursday evening —November 1, in the form of a fancy dress Hallowe'en party.

Among current items of business is the planning of the old-time home cooked supper, Thursday, November 15 — revival of a once annual event in the Presbyterian Church organization.

Another mattter of interest is the Presbyterian Y.P.S. camp project. Societies of the Montreal and Ottawa districts are erecting a permanent camp, situated at South Lancaster, Ont., on Lake St. Francis. It is hoped to have the camp ready for use during the summer of 1946; it will consist of a chapel, an assembly and mess hall and residence camps. This camp will will be for use of Society members.

Pretty Wedding at St Mungo's, Church

Bailey-Holmes

St. Mungo's Church, Cushing, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, when Hilda Muriel Dorothy Holmes, daughter of the late Sgt. Major Holmes and of Mrs. Holmes, of Montreal, was united in marriage to Mr. Harold Victor Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bailey, of Toronto.

The Rev. S. T. Burman of St. Mungo's was the officiating minister. The wedding music was played by Miss Alice Davidson, who also played during the signing of the register, "Jesu, Son of Man's Desire." The church was prettily decorated with yellow and bronze 'mums and autumn foliage.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Geoffrey Holmes, the bride wore an afternoon gown of Elizabeth blue crepe with matching velvet hat, pink veil and pink gloves, carrying a small velvet muff covered with Sweetheart roses.

Miss Florence Holmes, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing torquoise blue crepe with black accessories, and carrying a black velvet muff covered with Talisman roses.

Mr. Raymond Holmes, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

The bride's mother was gowned in silver-grey crepe with fuchsia and black accessories.

A reception was held at the home of Miss Davidson, where a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table, and the house was prettily decorated with white baby 'mums, scarlet barberries and white waxberries. Tall white candles in silver candlesticks were on the bride's table and at other vantage points. Guests from a distance were Mrs. H. Austin, of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. G. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. J. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Beecher, Mrs. J. L. Maw, Miss Helen Maw, Mr. and Mrs. G. Holmes, Miss F. and the Messrs. Ray and Gerald Holmes, all of Montreal.

After the reception, the bridal couple left for Montreal and other points, followed by the good wishes of their many friends — the bride travelling in a black and white pin-check suit with black accessories.

Here's Quick Relief from
SINUS PAIN
3-Purpose Medicine Helps Clear Out Congested Sinus Areas

ONE best way to get relief from torturing sinus pain is to clear congestion from nasal passages and give sinuses a chance to drain. A few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol in each nostril is usually enough to bring this comforting relief.

3-Purpose Medicine . . . Va-tro-nol is so successful because it does three important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose; (2) helps clear out pain-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many sinus sufferers say it's best relief they've found. Try it!

VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

Meeting a World-wide Challenge

The Canadian pulp and paper industry depends upon world markets. Our newsprint capacity is four times greater than that of any other nation. Over 85% of all the pulpwood cut in Canada is converted into pulp and paper products and exported to 40 different countries.

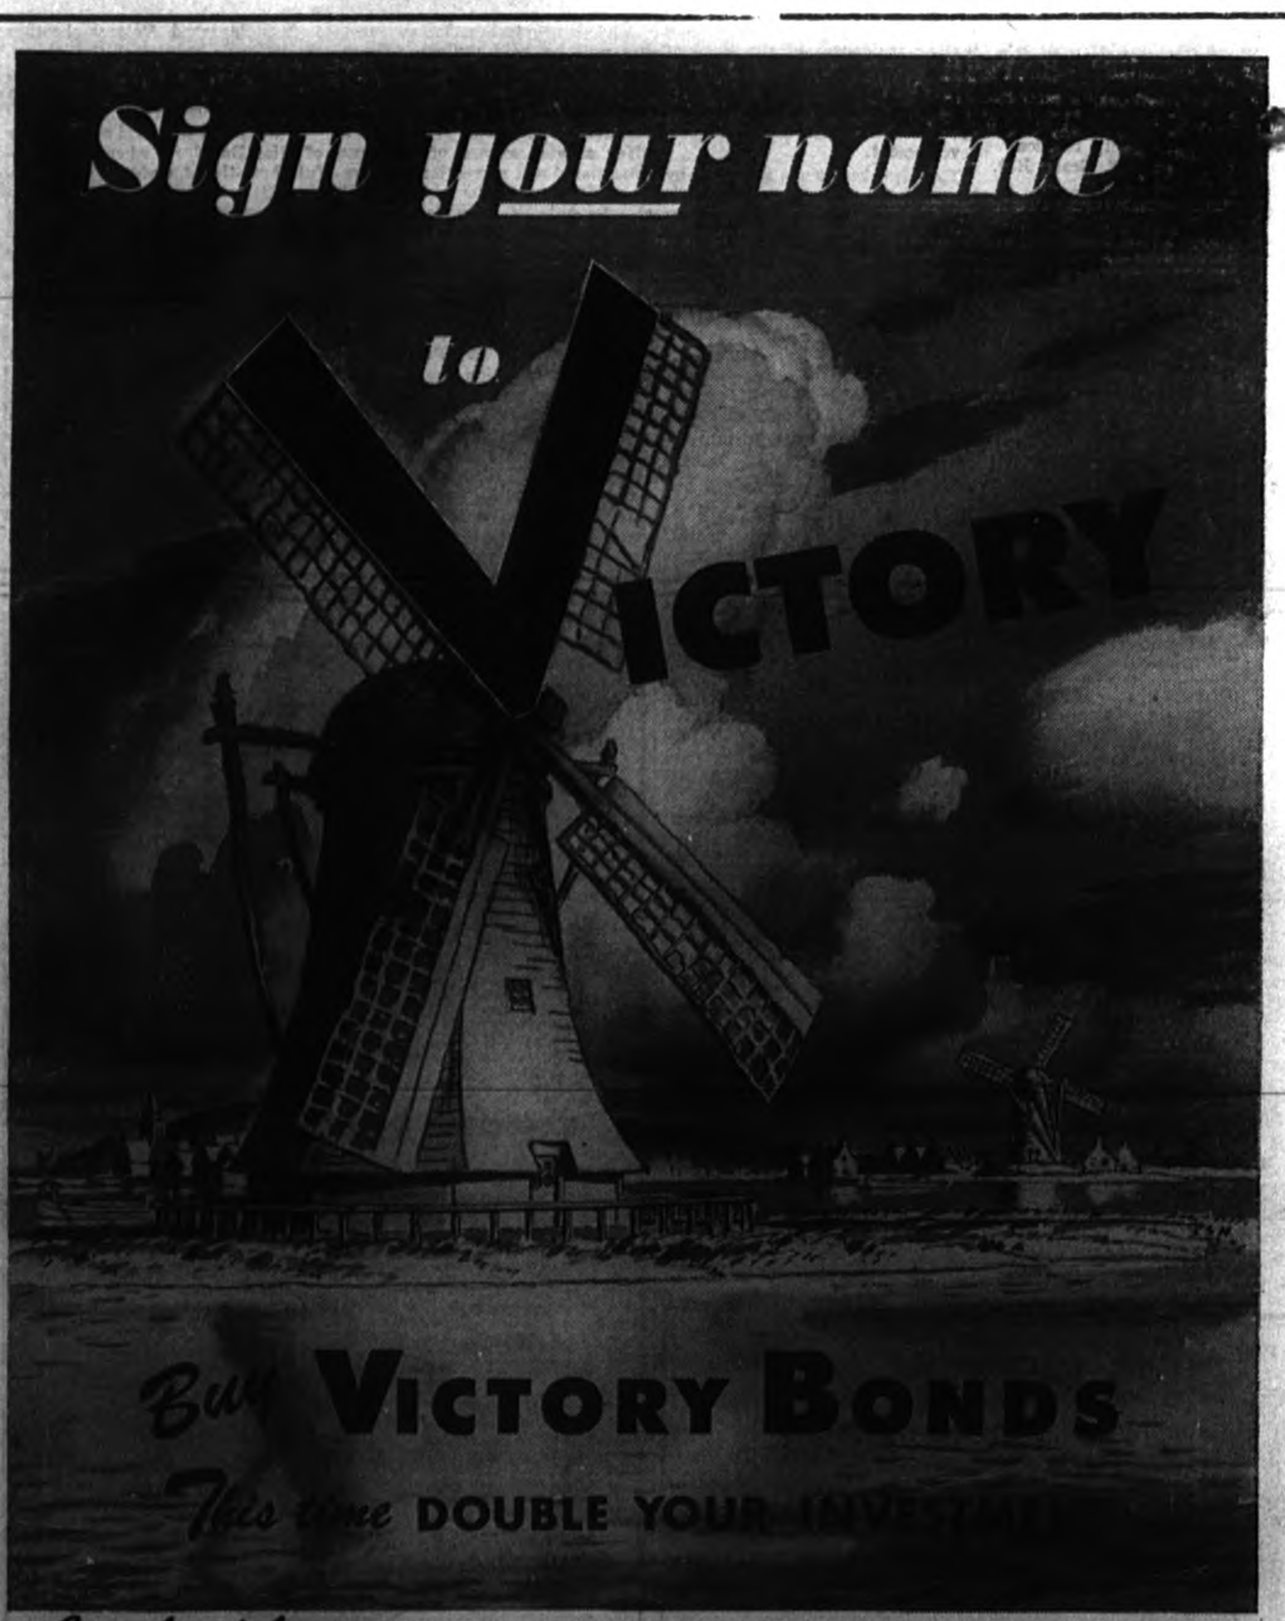

Today, there is world-wide demand for our pulp and paper products.

Tomorrow, we must face the challenge of price competition from foreign countries in their fight to regain lost markets. Then, even more than in the past, the industry will need the fullest support of its employees to maintain the position their wartime efforts have helped to win.

* THE PULP AND PAPER INDUSTRY OF CANADA

*80 companies, small and large, with 105 mills from coast to coast.

Bridge-Work

Q: After having two upper and two lower back teeth on each side removed, is it advisable to get permanent bridge-work or partial plates, or is it all right to go without plates since eating is not impaired?

A: It is difficult to understand how the loss of eight molar teeth can fail to impair chewing of food. Certainly dental restoration should be made to replace these lost teeth. Whether the restoration should be in the form of a fixed or removable appliance depends upon the condition of the mouth. This must be decided by the dentist.

NEW BRUNSWICK FERRIES

New Brunswick has so many rivers and some of them are quite wide. It would be an expensive proposition to build bridges in all the necessary locations, so instead of bridges they have ferries in some of the places. They used to be free for the people who lived in the neighborhood, but now they are free for everyone. Most of these ferries run on cables. There comes a day when the rivers are frozen and the ferries cannot run. The Highway Department marks a road across the ice with evergreen trees, because in a snow storm or at night people have been known to lose their way.

FAITH

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could keep our child-like faith throughout our lives? Unfortunately, it is lost on the way. A child has such implicit faith that you are going to do what he wants that when he holds his arms and asks you to do something with such an expression of expectancy — you simply have not the heart to disappoint him. Children have faith that their parents are going to get them the thing they want so much that parents move mountains to fulfill that faith. Most of us lose too much of our faith in people because others have disappointed us. Maybe if we still believed in them they would live up to our faith.

WHOLE GRAINS

We are constantly advised to use whole grain cereals and we are apt to think that means only porridge or some form of breakfast cereal. There are many other pleasant ways of adding whole grains to the menu. Whole grain means, of course, the entire grains used. There are many cookies and squares that use oatmeal or some of the prepared breakfast cereals. Many of the nicest nut or fruit loaves contain whole wheat flour. Then there are muffins and hot biscuits. Recently I have been using oatmeal in meat loaf instead of bread crumbs and I find it makes a better textured meat loaf that slices better. It doesn't take much ingenuity to add a considerable amount of whole grains to the diet to the benefit of all. Why do we need whole grains? Chiefly for the amount of the Vitamin B they contain.

MEAT LOAF

A meat loaf is one of the ways of making a little meat go a long way because extenders can be used with the meat. To make it go still farther, and taste even better, I like to put a thick layer of dressing in its middle. Make your favorite poultry dressing and then stir in a beaten egg to make it slice better. Take half of the meat mixture and shape in your roasting pan, cover evenly with the dressing then cover this completely with the remaining meat. If you like to have it in a loaf shape, grease loaf tin itself, as it is easier to ed meat in it, then let stand for a little while and turn out carefully into a roasting pan. I like to do this rather than cook it in the loaf tin itself, as it is easier to make the gravy and I like to have the entire surface browned rather than just the top. A piece of boneless chuck is an excellent cut to use for a meat loaf and 2 lbs. just takes 1 coupon.

2 Lbs. ground meat, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ onion finely chopped, ½ cup oatmeal, 1 egg, beaten.

Add onion, salt, and oatmeal to the meat and mix lightly. Stir in the beaten egg and form into a loaf. Bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees for 1 hour.

DATE SQUARES

1¾ Cups oatmeal, 1½ cups of flour, 1 teaspoon soda, ¾ cup of shortening 1 cup brown sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 lb. dates.

Sift the flour, soda, and salt, add the sugar and oatmeal. Rub in the shortening (I use ¼ cup butter and ¼ cup lard). Spread tow-thirds of this mixture on an ungreased pan about 10" by 12" and put evenly into place. Spread with the dates and sprinkle over this the remaining mixture. To make the date filling, cover the dates with water and cook until they are soft and fairly dry, stirring frequently. Sometimes it is necessary to add a little more water before the dates are sufficiently cooked. Cool the dates slightly before spreading. Bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees, and cut in squares. This is a good large recipe and I find it makes a lot for the sugar used as the dates help sweeten the mixture.

W. Inst. Membership Receives Boost With Hospitalization Plan

The Blue Cross hospital plan is steadily growing in favor with the Institutes of this province. Every month brings reports of more branches enrolling. In many cases new members are joining the W.I. in order to obtain this benefit. Scotstown, in Compton County, had an increase in membership in one month of 14 as a result of adopting this plan.

ARTIST'S CAREER

Frances Loring, distinguished Canadian sculptor and broadcaster on art topics, will be the speaker for the final talk in the CBC series, "Your Next Job". Her address on "The Career of the Artist" will be broadcast on Tuesday, October 30, at 4.18 p.m. Miss Loring is one of the founders of the sculpture society of Canada and the creator of some of the Dominion's best-known monuments. Her architectural work includes the Queen Elizabeth highway approach to Toronto and the decorative panels of Rainbow Bridge, at Niagara Falls.

October Meetings of Women's Institute Branches in Argenteuil

Lachute Branch W.I. held their meeting October 2, with an attendance of 26. They discussed the filling of ditty bags, clothing to be sent to the U.N.R.R.A., and parcels to be sent to two returned soldiers in hospital. All members were asked to give $1 for the self-denial fund. Mrs. A. Taylor and Mrs. C. Duncan were appointed to represent the Lachute W.I. at the semi-annual convention in Lachute High School, October 20. Mrs. H. Bradford and Miss Janet McOuat will be in charge of the next regular meeting, in November. Mrs. Shearsmith gave an interesting paper on the highlights of the June convention held at Macdonald.

Morin Heights — The October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. L. Kennedy, with Mrs. W. Seale as joint hostess. A "military whist" was held last month, $19.70 being realized. This money is to be used, half for decorations and half for prizes, at an entertainment for the returned soldiers to be held on Saturday, October 27. The roll-call was, "A way to encourage children at school." Mrs. W. Seale, convenor of Education, read a splendid paper written by Ethelwyn Hobbs on "The Family Allowance". She also extended a welcome to the school teachers who were present at the meeting. A spelling bee was held. An auction sale of original bags netted $3.50 for the funds. There were 15 members and two visitors present.

Pioneer Branch held their meeting October 2, with 16 members and nine visitors present. The roll-call was, "A textbook I used at school." An address on new school laws, rules and problems was given by Mr. Geo. Y. Deacon, of Lachute. Five dollars was donated to the scholarship fund for Lachute High School, and a similar sum towards buying a blanket or gift for the overseas collection; also it was arranged that a gift be given to a faithful member who has left the community. Mrs. Armstrong welcomed teachers from St. Andrews East Consolidated School, also Mrs. Deacon and three teachers from Lachute High School who were guests. A solo, "The Old Village Choir", by Miss E. Ness accompanied by Miss N. McClenaghan, was greatly enjoyed, as was also a singsong led by Miss Ness.

Jerusalem-Bethany held their meeting October 5, with an attendance of 12. The meeting opened by singing the Ode and repeating the Mary Stewart Collect and Prayer. The roll-call was, "A recent Medical Discovery". The convenor of Health and Welfare read an interesting paper on "Pilot Plant for Health".

Frontier Branch held their meeting October 2 with an attendance of 15. An address on "Nutrition Values" was given by the Health convenor. Affiliated dues were paid to the Museum, and one dollar per member donated to the Princess Alice Youth Fund.

Mille Isles held their meeting October 12, with eight members and three visitors present. The roll-call was a verse from Proverbs about women. Ten ditty bags have been filled. Arrangements were made to attend the semi-annual convention. An auction of potted ferns brought $1.50. The ferns were donated by a member of the branch. Sale of War Savings stamps amounted to $6.50.

Upper Lachute and East End held their meeting October 12 with an attendance of 10. A talk was given by Mrs. Ethel Clarke on "The German General Staff", and an article on Mackenzie King was read by Miss Hannah Smith. Six ditty bags were to be filled.

Lakefield branch held their meeting October 15 with nine members present. A banquet was held at Kerr's Farm to celebrate the 25th anniversary of this Branch. Ditty bags were filled and boxes of clothing were sent to the National Clothing Collection. Life membership pins were presented at the banquet to Mrs. Amos Kerr and Mrs. Harry Scott.

Regal Flour is sold in 98's, 49's, 24's and in the handy 7 lb. bag with handle.

You, too, can be proud to show off your baking!

WHAT a thrill to pull out of the oven a pan of fresh-baked biscuits—every biscuit perfect! Think how it sets you up in your own estimation, and makes you envied even by your mother-in-law! You can achieve consistent success in your own baking, once you learn to rely on fine, white Regal Flour.

When you use Regal Flour, you get lighter, whiter, and more even baking, both in biscuits and in bread. You get big, high, fluffy, tasty cakes, and the kind of smooth, flaky, delicious pastry you love to set your teeth in! Get the benefit of Regal's 33 years of expert experience. Choose Regal!

REGAL BISCUITS

2 cs. sifted REGAL FLOUR
4 tsps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
2 tbsps. butter, or 1 tbsp. butter, and 1 tbsp. lard
¾ c. milk or diluted milk

Sift the flour, then measure and sift twice with the baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with two knives, and add the liquid gradually. Toss on floured board. Pat lightly till ½ inch thick. Cut and bake separately, on greased tin, in hot oven (450 degrees) about 12 to 15 minutes. Recipe makes 12 biscuits.

Lachute Boy Scouts

At last week's meeting of the 1st Lachute Troop Boy Scouts, Frank Bedard received his Gold Cords and Gordon Jamieson his First Class and Grade A Cords. These two Scouts are to be congratulated on their achievement.

Stuart Gordon received the Poultryman's badge and Gordon McGibbon and George Rowe were awarded the Leatherworker's badge.

Troop Leader Owen Riddell directed a period of games. Assistant Scoutmaster Walker and Patrol Leader McMartin gave instruction in first aid.

On Saturday afternoon a well attended hike was held on the mountain. The Scouts followed a previously laid trail, at the conclusion of which they had their supper outdoors.

A Hallowe'en party is to be held on Friday, October 26.

Girl Guides

The regular meeting of the 1st Lachute Girl Guide Company was held Monday, October 22, in the basement of Lachute High School.

This meeting being "upside-down night", the majority of the girls came with their uniforms back to front.

Approximately 20 of the girls were initiated, the remainder to be initiated into the group on October 29.

Harrington

Home from Overseas

Gnr. Malcolm Campbell has arrived home from overseas. This information is forwarded by his mother, Mrs. W. J. Campbell, of Corunna, Ont. — the family having formerly resided here.

Gnr. Capbell enlisted in 1941 and spent three years on overseas duty, serving in Sicily and Italy. He had met a number of Harrington boys, including Evan Fox, whom he had seen shortly before he met his death. . . "Mac" Campbell again expresses appreciation to ladies of the Harrington Church who sent him boxes while overseas.

Lake Keatley

Mr. Howard Young and daughter, Wanda, returned recently from Montreal — the latter having undergone a tonsilectomy operation at the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Prizes Awarded To Lady Golfers

The closing meeting of the Lachute Ladies' Golf Club, and presentation of prizes, was held recently at the club house. Mrs. Gavin Walker was appointed convenor of the nomination committee for the year 1946.

Afternoon tea was served and the awards were given out as follows:

President's prize — Mrs. H. Rigg.
Vice-president's prize, B. Class—Mrs. W. G. Wade.
Ayers cup — Mrs. G. Walker.
Runner-up — Mrs. G. Valois.
Ringer prize — Mrs. A. Ogilvie.
Handicap prize—Mrs. G. Valois.

Officers for United Church Bowling League

Officers for the Lachute United Church Bowling League were elected on Monday, Allan Wilson being chosen for a second term as president and Miss Ruby Parsons as secretary-treasurer. Jack Gorman is the games convenor, with Stuart Armstrong and Miss Grace Rosser on the rules committee. The refreshment committee comprises Mrs. Laurin and Mrs. Brown.

The schedule will be arranged as soon as it is decided how many teams will participate in the league.

He's a CROSSED FINGER Driver too

Another breakdown! The worker in this illustration drove with fingers crossed, hoping that his car would stand the rigours of fall and winter driving without expert attention. We suggest that, before another day passes, you bring your Dodge or DeSoto motor car or Dodge Truck to us for a thorough inspection. Worn parts will be expertly replaced with those which are Chrysler-engineered, factory-approved and inspected.

Don't be Sorry! Why take the chance of driving with your fingers crossed? It will be too late to avoid delay when a breakdown occurs.

It's better to be safe than sorry. 'Phone us NOW for an appointment, and be assured of expert service and repairs with the latest factory-recommended tools and equipment.
