Conservative Position Not Rosy In Quebec, Says G. H. Héon, M.P., Before Party Gathering in Toronto

Federalism, He Asserts, Rests on Full Recognition of Two Racial Elements

Speaking in Toronto Tuesday night before a rally of five Progressive Conservative Associations in that city, Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P. for this constituency, gave no uncertain views concerning the position of the Conservatives in Quebec. His address appears also as a serious effort to interpret this province in a section which is notably prejudiced, and to rectify certain misconceptions in those quarters.

Following are brief extracts from Mr. Héon's remarks:

"— Rightly or wrongly, Torontonians are represented as individuals who prefer Britain to Canada, and are prepared to sacrifice Canada to imperialistic needs. But those of your fellow-citizens I have met today, have convinced me that they are just as anxious as we are in Quebec to put an end to racial and religious prejudices, divided loyalties, and toil together towards a united, sovereign Canada.

"Never shall we be able to ascribe to ourselves the proud appelation of a nation, unless one individual ceases to look upon the other as an inferior national type.

"I must state frankly that I hesitated to accept the invitation to speak in Toronto tonight. I spoke here in 1938, and there was such a furore about my frankness then, that I doubted seriously whether it would serve any purpose if I came back. However, some very broad-minded Conservatives from Toronto have almost convinced me that I would serve Canada's best interests and possibly the true Macdonald-Cartier type of Conservative interests, if I came to Toronto again, and spoke my mind as an independent, free-speaking, liberty-loving Conservative from Quebec.

"I am speaking only for myself and possibly, those French-Canadian Conservatives who think as I do. I have no authority to speak for, or on behalf of, anybody else.

"A fanatical, narrow-minded section of Canada's politicians, Canada's press, and Canada's radio stations, has stated that Quebec is a problem to Canada. I should like to point out that Quebec is one answer to the problem with which Canada is faced today, and incidentally an answer to the problem with which the Conservative party is faced today.

"I have been asked very often by Conservative stalwarts why the Conservative party has made such a niggardly showing in Quebec during the last 35 years. The answer is simple: both English and French-speaking Quebeckers have lost faith in the Conservative doctrine.

"There is surely something wrong with the policy of a party which, during the first fifty years after Confederation, secured more than half the votes in Quebec, and has not been able since 1935 to elect more than one French-speaking representative!

"In practical terms, the Conservative party has forgotten what Mr. King has always remembered: there are 62 seats in Quebec, 5 seats in Ontario, 3 seats in the Maritimes, 2 at least in the West, or 72 seats in the House of Commons, which are held by French-speaking Canadians; and, what with the C.C.F. and Social Credit groups, no major party can come into power without securing a substantial backing from these 72 constituencies.

"As long as Conservatism is allowed to be represented by its opponents and by some of its proponents, as the stronghold of all that is imperialistic, centralizing and French-hating, then just as long will Conservatism fail to recruit adepts in Quebec.

"Further, unless the Conservative party can do something to placate an openly hostile French press and replace its come-out-of-the-shed-two-weeks-before-election organization, headed by men who have repeatedly lost their deposits as candidates and are despised by, and laughed at by the rank-and-file worker and voter, it is good-bye Mr. Chips, for Conservatives in Quebec. Give us a sane, 100% Canadian, undivided-as-to-loyalty, broad-minded, faith-inspiring policy; give us an organization which shall be effective and respected; give us bold, aggressive, sterling leadership; and Quebec will do its reasonable share towards reinstating Conservatism in the esteem of all Canadians.

"And lastly, for God's sake, let Conservatives drop the detestable word 'Tory' from their vocabulary. A Tory is a reactionary, in the popular mind; the very word is abhorred by all progressive groups not only in Quebec, but in all Provinces. Personally, I would sue for libel, anyone who would call me a Tory!

"Quebec is not the disquieting national factor it is represented to be. It is, with Ontario, the strongest pillar supporting Canadian Confederation; although it has its extremists whose bark is far worse than their bite, they no more represent Quebec than Tim Buck, Sam Carr, or Dr. Shields represent Ontario. Both French and English-speaking Canadians of Quebec are tolerant, law-abiding Canadians, loyal to their King, fully cognizant of their true situation within the Commonwealth, and will never run away from their responsibilities in peace and in war.

"Prejudice against Quebec remains rampant, and unscrupulous politicians and ward-heelers are constantly exploiting these prejudices to further their own ends by gaining support with the gullible. Quebec is represented as a backward, priest-ridden, isolationist, Indian-reserve type of province; nothing is further from the truth. English-speaking groups in the other provinces who speak disparagingly of Quebec seem to forget there is in Quebec a very important, very distinguished, very active English-speaking minority, which

Final Tribute Paid to Late J. Ed Armstrong

The funeral of the late John Eddie Armstrong, who died suddenly last Friday at his home in East Settlement, was held on Sunday afternoon, April 28. The service was held at his late residence, burial taking place in Lachute Cemetery.

NOW EQUIPPED FOR DROWNING MISHAPS

Through the enterprise of the Lachute Lions Club, the town fire department this week acquired a boat and equipment to meet drowning emergencies in the locality. Complete with oars, grappling iron and lifebuoy, the boat is slung to the rafters of the fire hall, ready to be lowered onto one of the department's trucks for quick response in any case of accident. . . In the event of a drowning mishap, the public should bear in mind to telephone the fire department for help.

Hotel Business and Main St. Sites in Recent Deals

Following false rumors which have circulated frequently concerning the sale of Hotel Desjardins, Lachute's biggest hotel, this business has now definitely changed hands. A transfer was completed Tuesday by which the property and business was acquired by two well known townsmen — Germain Filion and Paul Lefebvre.

This hotel is linked with the early days of Lachute Town, and under its present ownership for many years past, H. E. Desjardins, the proprietor, has been essentially a part of the establishment. Having never taken a holiday from the job, it is now his firm intention to "go fishing" — and hunting in the fall — both pastimes to which he is a complete stranger.

Germain Filion, town clerk, secretary and general factotum, is leaving his position to enter wholeheartedly into the business. Paul Lefebvre, his partner, will do likewise; he has been engaged in the family business of household furniture.

A deal was completed last Saturday which will have some bearing on the business appearance of Main Street. Paul (Pep) Pariseau, who for many years has been employed in the office of Boyd's Lachute Express Ltd., purchased from A. P. Paquin his frame residence and the business property occupied by the Chinese laundry. In the latter building, or on its present site, it is Mr. Pariseau's intention to open a store with a more modern and attractive front. To be called the "Esquire Shop," his new venture will specialize in men's wear. . . Mr. Paquin has for many years past spent the winters at St. Petersburg, Florida.

Oddfellows Attend Divine Service At Brownsburg

Brownsburg — The anniversary proclamation by J. M. Dever, Grand Master, Grand Lodge of Quebec, I.O.O.F., to all Subordinate Lodges, acclaiming the 127th anniversary of Odd Fellowship, 26th day of April, A.D., 1946, was observed by Laurentian Lodge, No. 14, Lachute, when the members attended divine service in the Brownsburg United Church conducted by Past Grand, the Rev. S. J. Pike. The Brethren from Lachute and Brownsburg were extended a cordial welcome, and the minister prefaced his sermon with the greeting of the Grand Sire, D. D. Monroe: "Odd Fellowship has now lived, striven and thrived for 127 years. Since April 26th, 1820, when our forefathers in Odd Fellowship celebrated its first anniversary, tremendous volumes of history have been enacted. The world has experienced on many occasions the depths of despair, the heights of hope, the nearness of annihilating defeat and the immeasurable relief of victory over something too awful to contemplate. But Odd Fellowship since that first birthday, despite two wars of world-wide dimensions, has developed into a vigorous international fraternity known as the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Following in the footsteps of Thomas Wildey and his associates, its membership of millions may rightly be proud of its fruitful harvest to the end that men and women are engaged in loving service to humanity".

"Oddfellowship Entering a New Age" was Mr. Pike's theme; a new world is being created, he said, and the great task in this New Age is to help direct the world along the paths of Universal Brotherhood, with the irresistible force of Friendship, the soothing influence of Love, and the illuminating light of Truth, the three cementing links of Odd Fellowship.

The male quartet, comprising Messrs. T. J. Anderson, F. Hazel, F. Hosgood and T. G. Pasco, sang two selections.

NAVIGATION OPENS ON OTTAWA RIVER

(Our District Correspondent)

Cushing W. — Navigation has once more resumed on the Ottawa River, with the opening of the Grenville and Carillon canals on April 30. The oil-steamers Britamette and Super-test passed up the same day, also a boat bound for the Gatineau for a cargo of newsprint.

At the regular session of Town Council last evening, Germain Filion, secretary-treasurer, announced his intention to devote his time to his newly acquired business, the Hotel Desjardins, and offered the Council his resignation, to take effect May 31, 1946. The resignation was accepted with regret, and a bonus of one month's salary was voted Mr. Filion as an appreciation of the good services rendered during his 17 years of office.

Community Moved By Sudden Death Of Business Man

The Late Lionel Rozon

Many interests in this community — ecclesiastic, fraternal and commercial — are deeply moved by the death of Lionel Rozon, a successful local business man, which occurred suddenly yesterday morning at his home on Bedard Blvd. following a cerebral haemorrhage. The news of his untimely passing was a shock to the community, for this young townsman enjoyed the esteem and friendship of his fellow-citizens, both French and English-speaking.

Lionel Rozon, 39 years of age, was the surviving member of a well known insurance firm, Deslauriers & Rozon — whose senior partner, Ernest Deslauriers, one equally esteemed in this community, predeceased him a year ago this month.

Holding office as Grand Knight in Lachute Council of the Knights of Columbus, Mr. Rozon was a fourth degree member of that order. He was also vice-president of Lachute Lions Club, a member of the male choir of Ste. Anastasie, and a member of Lachute Golf Club. He had been active in the Victory Loan campaigns, and in numerous social and community enterprises.

He was born in the Lachute Road settlement July 25, 1906, but since the age of 16 had lived here in town, making his home with the late Mrs. Earle prior to his marriage in 1939. He was an automotive mechanic at the former Argenteuil Motors garage before entering the insurance business with the late Ernest Deslauriers.

He is survived by his wife, the former Albertine Poirier, and five young children — Nicole, Claude, Evelyne, Helene and Daniel.

The remains, now resting at the Menard & Menard funeral home, will be laid to rest at the Catholic Cemetery on Saturday, with funeral rites at Ste. Anastasie Parish Church at 10 o'clock a.m.

There are Boy Scouts in 47 countries of the world, in addition to all parts of the British Empire and Commonwealth.

Rotary District Conf'ce Held at Seigniory Club

The annual conference of District 170, Rotary International, was held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week at the Seignory Club, Montebello.

Three hundred Rotarians and their ladies gathered in social fellowship to plan for the future of the organization.

Talks were heard on various aspects of Rotary by Norman Foster, Ottawa; Ralph Wiber, Ogdensburg N.Y.; George M. Elmendorff, Plattsburg, N.Y.; Lt. Col. Brosseau, St. Jerome; H. Yoder, Watertown, N.Y.; Rev. C. Scott, Hawkesbury; D. Gasper, Hull, Que., and J. M. C. Duckworth, Montreal. Mr. T. D. Finn, executive editor of the Ottawa Citizen, spoke at the closing luncheon.

A large delegation from Brownsburg and Lachute attended the banquet and ball on Wednesday, when Christopher Ellis was the speaker. The ladies were entertained at the Manor House, under the direction of Mrs. John Roney, wife of the conference chairman.

The conference was international in nature, there being many American guests. Delegates attended from a wide area, including Maniwaki, Montreal and St. Jerome, Que.; Kingston and Ottawa, Ont.; Watertown, Ithaca and Malone, New York, and many other clubs.

Mr. Harry Yoder, a prominent businessman of Watertown, N.Y., was elected Rotary district governor for the year commencing on July 1.

The conference was organized by the present district governor, Douglas Silverston, assisted by Chairman John Roney and the Aylmer Club.

Timely Talk on Income Tax, at Rotary Dinner

Brownsburg — Taxes, always a very worrisome yet very important problem, was the subject of an instructive talk at the dinner meeting of the Rotary Club, held April 25 at Carriere's Hotel.

The speaker, Mr. Robert N. A. Kidd, chartered accountant, of Montreal, joined Cooper Brothers & Co. of London, England, in 1919, has formed offices for them at New York and Montreal, and at present is partner for Canada. While he did not claim to have all the answers, his many years of tax and accounting experience made it obvious that he had most of them.

Before a tax can be raised, there must be something to tax. Income taxes are computed upon the income of the individual or business. It follows therefore that there must be a careful accounting. Barter even in its most primitive form necessitated some system of accounts. In the school history books there used to be a picture of the Phoenicians trading with the Ancient Britons, and sitting on one side was a Phoenician keeping tally on a stick with notches. . . Modern accounting is relatively young. Income Tax is younger still in this country. The Income War Tax Act was passed in 1917. The Canadian Income War Tax Act is simple, and is easier to work with than the complex British and American statutes.

There is a tendency on the part of the businessman to regard the Income Tax office and officials as a police station and policemen. Actually it is their wish to be of every assistance in co-operating with the public; to maintain friendly and helpful relations and assist everyone in arriving at the correct amount of taxes. If you have difficulty with your returns, the speaker suggested seeing the department immediately. He believed we were fortunate in Canada, in having extremely active, intelligent men in our income tax department.

The majority of small businessmen do not keep adequate records of their business. This only causes trouble and results in the use of arbitrary methods in arriving at taxable income. The man without a simple set of books is only building up trouble for himself. Under a 1944 amendment to the Income Tax Act, every person in business who is required to pay income taxes himself, or to collect or withhold taxes from employees or others, is required to keep records and books of account. If you do not comply, you may be subject upon summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $1,000.

Who must make a return? You are required to make an income tax return if you are liable to taxation under the Act or upon written request from any authorized official. It is the practice to request returns from all single persons whose gross income exceeds $660, and all married persons whose gross income for the year exceeds $1,200. It is also usual to request returns from persons taxable in the prior year who fail to make returns in the current year.

After an examination of your return by the Income Tax Department, you will receive a notice of assessment either verifying the amount of tax in your return or stating the additional amount due. You are required to pay any additional amount due, together with interest, within one month of the notice of assessment. If you disagree with the assessment you have one month in which to appeal. It is suggested that as soon as you receive a Notice of Assessment with which you are not in agreement, you take action immediately to have the matter discussed with your Income Tax Inspector. Many unwittingly ignore these notices and are penalized. These notices are the danger signal to you, that something in your return is not correct and requires adjustment. In the absence of fraud or misrepresentation the

Is the Cartel A Menace?

Another Thought Provoking Topic Before Brownsburg Lighted School

No Matter of 'Remote' Concern; Public Interest Involved to Point of Prices On Essentials; Free Enterprise Affected

(Specially Contributed)

Cartels seem to be very far removed from the concern of the ordinary citizen. Cartels are instruments in the hands of Big Business with which very few of us have anything to do. Only a few men in all Canada have anything to do with their formation or have any inside knowledge of their operation. Thousands of people who work in industries governed by cartels or existing as a result of them, are unaware of the fact and know nothing at all about them. . .

Are they really so remote, or are they any concern of ours? Let's probe the question a bit. It has been charged that cartels affect the price we pay for the goods we buy; that they affect the employment situation; that they poison international relations and endanger world security. Perhaps cartels entwine themselves about our everyday life.

What are cartels? The answer, as supplied by a report prepared by the U.S. Government, tells us cartels are arrangements among business enterprises engaged in the same type of industry to avoid some or all forms of competition.

International cartels are cartels which include business enterprises domiciled under more than one government and doing business across national frontiers. Members of cartels are business rivals who decide to come together on terms for their joint benefit. Cartels have their origin in the trade associations or guilds of the Middle Ages. But it was not until the full tide of industrial revolution between the years of 1870 and the turn of the century, that cartels emerged as we know them today. It is a product of capitalism. It is generally recorded that the Bismuth Syndicate formed in 1870 was the first international cartel. Thirteen years later the International Railmakers Association for the first time on record divided the export market in a commodity among its producers. By private agreement made in London, the British, German and Belgian railmakers were allotted a definite percentage of the world trade in their product.

Stress Fine Points Of Ayrshire Breed At Barn Rally

The Laurentian Ayrshire Breeders' Club held an interesting barn meeting at the farm of Fred O. Peterson, Lachute Road, last Saturday.

As Mr. Peterson practises line-breeding, similar to that exemplified by the late Mr. Budge of St. Genevieve, of the Penshurst strain — he was pleased to show the guests his herd-sire, Maska Man O'War, who traces his ancestry by both dam and sire to Penshurst Man O'War, with the record number of 167 qualified daughters.

For the judging competition four heifers were brought out, sired by Ascott Advancer's Warden, Class AA, himself a grandson of Penshurst Man O'War. This was a very uniform class and quite difficult to judge. All the dams of these heifers qualified on R.O.P. and had production records as immature animals of over 9,000 lbs.

In the mature cow class, dry cows, a granddaughter of Penshurst Leto Champion with seven qualified daughters was placed first.

Winners of the judging competition in the men's classes were Messrs. R. S. Walker and Clarence Brown, and in the junior classes, Misses Shirley Bradley and Loraine McOuat. Mr. G. Tremblay, St. Eustache, was in charge of the judging and gave sound reasons for his decisions in placing the animals.

A novel feature introduced by Mr. Peterson, was the weight guessing competition. The subject was a cow weighing 1445 lbs. and Jas. Thompson won with the closest guess of 1450 lbs. In the usual calf drawing, Harlow Warwick, of Lachute, held the lucky ticket.

Branch Meetings Of Women's Inst.

Pioneer branch of the Women's Institutes held their meeting April 1 with an attendance of 15 members and one visitor. The roll-call was Kitchen Hints. Articles were read by Mrs. D. Rodger and Mrs. C. Leishman. The president read a letter from Mrs. Smallman, and also donated a quilt-top to the branch. A recipe was given for increasing butter resources. Mrs. G. McGibbon, of Lachute, gave a paper, "Houses versus Homes". She also exhibited a number of interesting handicraft novelties.

Lachute branch held their meeting April 2 with an attendance of 41. Members paid their Blue Cross fees. Lachute W.I. will have charge of the dining-room lunch counter at the Exhibition this year. Members are reminded to have their entries ready for the handicrafts exhibit. A quotation from a poem was read by Mrs. George McGibbon, "Are you an active member, or do you just belong?" This branch has again renewed affiliation with the Associated County Women of the World (A.C.W.W.). Mr. Stuart Jones gave a talk on the Rambles of a Soldier. He told about military training, camp life, scenery and adventures as they moved from camp to camp across Canada before going overseas.

Frontier W.I. members held their meeting April 2 with an attendance of 24. There was a demonstration on tatting and smocking. The roll-call was "Your Favourite Fancy-Work."

Morin Heights held a "military whist" which netted $13.94. The president mentioned the National Clothing collection, and asked all members to support this collection as much as possible. A "military whist" was planned also for April 24; Mrs. Carl Seale kindly offered the prizes. This being Treasurer's Night, Mrs. Lacken conducted a "True and False Quiz". A new member, Mrs. Wm. Nesbitt, was welcomed. The roll-call was "My Favorite Program". Twenty-two members and 4 visitors were present.

Brownsburg meeting was held April 4, with 38 members present. The sum of $5 was donated to the County Scholarship. A reading was given from a "Gleanings" book compiled by Mrs. C. Prosser. Motion was made to hold a 20th anniversary supper to celebrate the forming of this branch, on May 3. Motion pictures were shown, on the evils of venereal diseases, followed by a picture on handicrafts. A brooch was presented to a parting member.

Jerusalem-Bethany meeting was held April 15, with an attendance of 19. The topic was Agriculture. The roll-call was answered by naming "a flower beginning with the first letter of your name." A very interesting talk was given by Mrs. Emmett on the Commercialization of Angora Rabbits. The sum of $50 was donated to the war veterans' fund for the Parish of St. Jerusalem.

Upper Lachute-East End held their meeting April 12, with 11 ladies present. A paper on "Grow your own vegetables at your own back door" was read by Mrs. Stanley Smith.

PROTEST TWO-YEAR DELAY IN SETTLING MONTREAL POWER CASE

Hydro Nominee on Arbitration Board Considered Most Unfair

Claim Earnings Belong to Power Company Pending Settlement

Emphatic protest against the scandalous and intolerable unfairness and injustice which has thus far been displayed in the expropriation of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power property, and an insistent demand that there be immediate action taken to relieve the consequences of legislation and its administration which have actually confiscated income from such properties and threaten virtual confiscation of a substantial portion of the capital was voiced in a resolution at the recent Annual Meeting of Montreal Light, Heat and Power Consolidated. The question was raised whether the provisions of the Civil Code were not being broken by the Government taking possession of the property of the Company before compensation had been paid, and by appropriating the earnings of the Company amounting to upwards of 30 millions of dollars during the past two years. The Commission has been using this money for every purpose except payment to shareholders.

In the vote of confidence to the directors for their services, M. H. Gault said that these responsible executives were gentlemen of great business ability who at considerable personal sacrifice had given much of their valuable time to do all they could to look after the interests of 29,000 shareholders, and had also done more than almost any other organization to make Montreal the Metropolis of Canada.

During the meeting the point was emphasized that the shareholders were not a handful of millionaires. Five-sixths of the 29,000 shareholders were holders of 100 shares or less, and 10,000 of them held 10 shares or less, most of whom had taken up their stock at $50 a share under the customer ownership plan introduced some years ago. Charitable organizations, churches and other institutions were also holders of shares, and had been deprived for two years of sources of revenue on which they were entitled to rely.

The resolution was proposed by Marcel Pinsonnault, Jr., who said he was speaking for himself and the members of his family, representatives of a substantial interest in the capital stock of the Company. Mr. Pinsonnault remarked, "Speaking as a French Canadian, proud of the history of my people in the development of Canada and of the reputation which up to now we have enjoyed for stability in economic thought and a sound philosophy with respect to the rights of private property, I find it embarrassing to discover that the Government of my Province is less considerate of so large a group of our citizens as compose the shareholders of Montreal Light, Heat and Power Consolidated than has been an admittedly socialistic government in Great Britain."

Mr. Pinsonnault's resolution concluded with the following words:

"Therefore upon motion resolved that this meeting of shareholders do authorize and direct the president and directors of the company to forward a copy of this resolution and its preamble to the Prime Minister and to each member of the Government of the Province of Quebec as well as to each member of the Legislative Assembly and of the Legislative Council as indicating our emphatic protest against the scandalous and intolerable unfairness and injustice which has been thus far displayed in the expropriation of our property, and our insistent demand that there be immediate action to relieve us from the consequences of legislation and its administration which have actually confiscated our income from our properties and threaten virtual confiscation of a substantial portion of our capital."

HIGH EARNIN POWER

Several important issues were raised during the discussion. One was eligibility of L. E. Potvin, chairman of the Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission, to act as one of the arbitrators named to fix the amount of indemnity to be paid by the Government for the assets of the Company. It was stated by John S. Norris, president, that the Company's record of earnings supported the conviction that had it been left in possession of its properties it could have continued indefinitely to pay the dividend of $1.50 per share per annum which shareholders had enjoyed for an unbroken period of 14 years prior to the expropriation, and that the demonstration of the earning power of their properties was a most convincing argument as to the value of those properties.

The balance sheet presented to the meeting showed that the assets of the company amounted to $249,645,335, and the liabilities to $86,733,056, indicating an equity for the shareholders of $162,000,000, without taking into consideration the earning power of the properties taken away from the Company calculated to be equal, in the hands of the Government, to $4.25 per share per annum, based on the reported earnings of the Commission and the Company for the year 1945.

George Campbell, K.C., another shareholder, maintained that under the Civil Code ownership of a thing, whether moveable or immoveable, gave the right to all it produced and therefore the shareholders were entitled to the earning power of their property until such time as compensation had been paid for it in such an amount as to place the owner of such property relatively in the same financial position as before his property was expropriated.

Reference was made by several shareholders to the methods adopted by the British Labour Government in acquiring the stock of the Bank of England and the coal mines, in contrast to the action taken by the Quebec Government. It was pointed out that stockholders of the Bank of England had been guaranteed they would continue to receive the 12 per cent divident, which had been paid for many years, while in the legislation nationalising the coal industry provision had been made by the British Government for payment of compensation assessed upon the age-old principle that the price should be that at which a willing buyer could purchase from a willing seller, and that pending the fixing of the indemnity payable to the owners of the coal properties they should receive interim income compensation for two years at least based upon the prior earning value of their properties.

POTVIN APPOINTMENT UNDER FIRE

Criticism of the appointment of Mr. Potvin as one of the three arbitrators was voiced by Mr. Pinsonnault and Mr. Campbell. The former said that while conceding the absolute integrity of Mr. Potvin, it is not fair to him or to the shareholders of the company that he should sit in judgment upon the adequacy of an offer made by the commission of which he was the chairman, and for which offer he must assume a certain share of the responsibility. Mr. Campbell said that it was an elemental principle that no man shall be judge in his own case. " may not have any personal interest, but how can he claim to be disinterested when he is head of the Commission now in possession of our property?" he asked. An arbitrator is exercising a quasi-judical function and it is essential that he shall be impartial. Can Mr. Potvin suggest that he is disinterested when he has been for two years the head of the expropriated property — it is a case of the purchaser fixing his own price and imposing it on an unwilling seller, because all he is required to do is to persuade one of the other two arbitrators to his view — what chance is there of an impartial decision?

Mr. Norris said the question of the qualification of the Chairman of the Commission to act as an arbitrator would be referred to the legal department to see what action it was possible to take.

Reference was made during the meeting to the controversy between the Quebec Hydro Commission and the Montreal Trust Company as trustees for the holders of the bonds of the Beauharnois Light Heat & Power Company, as to whether such bonds were redeemable before maturity. Mr. Norris said that among the assets owned by the Montreal Light Heat & Power Consolidated were $12,000,000 at 5 per cent notes of the Beauharnois Co., the interest on which was one of the principal sources from which the present reduced dividend of 50c per share had been derived. The Hydro Commission had attempted to prepay such notes and instruct the Trust Company to apply the moneys tendered to the redemption of bonds of the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Consolidated for the payments of which bonds the Commission was now by law, responsible. The Company had withheld its consent to such action, and the Government had introduced in the Legislature Bill 39 (since passed), the sole purpose of which was to legalize the arbitrary and unwarranted action of the commission, Mr. Norris told the shareholders that the Premier had justified the proposed legislation upon an alleged commitment contained in a letter written in April 1940 consenting to the prepayment of these notes, but Mr. Norris said that commitment was conditional upon the company being directly or indirectly or indirectly in control of Beauharnois at the time of prepayment. He had written to the Premier drawing his attention to these facts, but had received no reply from him.

Mr. Campbell criticised the action of the Government in introducing bill 39, (since passed) asserting that the Courts of the Province had been instituted to decide on controversies between parties as to the meaning of a document. "Is it fair to introduce ex-post-facto legislation to take the place of the Courts?" he asked. "I suggest it is vicious in principle to introduce legislation to meet a particular situation in which the government or its nominees is one of the parties particularly interested and to deprive the other party of the right of the right of access to the Courts and an impartial tribunal."

LOSS TO PROVINCE

A. L. Caron, seconding the resolution, expressed pride in what the Montreal Light Heat & Power Consolidated had achieved, and quoted a statement by the secretary of a prominent U.S. Electric company who had visited their power plants that it was "one of the most efficient public utility organizations on the North American Continent." Mr. Caron said the long delayed start in expropriation proceedings had tired out many stockholders who needed revenue and had had to sacrifice their stock at low figures. He asserted that the government had had no mandate to carry out the expropriation, and that it had already done immense harm to the province, for he knew of large industries that had been considering coming into the province who were now going to Ontario to install their plants. This would mean a loss of millions of dollars to Quebec province.

Mr. Caron said that if the government was expropriating the Montreal Light Heat & Power Consolidated and withholding for two years any payment either on capital or on earnings from the shareholders, it was not due to the fact that the company was not well administered, for it was one of the greatest industrial successes of Canada built up by men of technical and administrative ability. "When the government took over the liquor business in this province it was not a great boon to the province — we are not buying liquor any cheaper today than we were," he remarked.

Donald Deacon, Toronto, deplored the methods adopted in expropriation proceedings by the government as likely to injure the reputation of the province, which had built up the finest institutions in industry in Canada because people had confidence in those at the head of them and invested a great deal of money in the developments of the natural resources of Quebec. He urged the government to change its present policy and quickly arrange a fair settlement with the shareholders.

Pierre Beullac K.C., urged a united front by the shareholders and aggressive action to give them some relief.

FARM TOPICS

Revenue $665,000 from Quebec Strawberries

The 1945 strawberry harvest in Quebec totalled 3,500,000 quarts, an increase of 71% over the poor crop of 1944, which was 2,044,000 quarts.

With prices at 8c per quart less than those of two years ago, this decrease was more than made up by a higher production, so that berries sold at 19c per quart, totalled $665,000, whereas in 1944 the value of the crop was $429,000.

The Federal Market Service which publishes these figures, gives Canada an over-all production of 16,705,000 quarts at a total value of $4,083,000.

Where Good Oats For Seed Produced

This spring, the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, again plans to sow a large acreage to oats earmarked strictly for seed. Instead of raising oats for feed, the farm propagates best varieties for quality seed.

This serves a double purpose: exchanging seed for feed, the Farm is able to obtain nearly three times the quantity of feed oats it could raise from its present acreage, and it provides farmers with quality seed of the latest varieties at a reasonable price.

Although the Experimental Farm benefits financially by concentrating on the production of seed oats, the average farmer benefits even more. Dr. L. H. Newman, Dominion Cerealist says: "In its desire to ensure the average farmer getting a start in producing new and better varieties of oats, the Cereal Division follows the practice of increasing the new varieties under its control. It was not uncommon in the past," he says "for some dealers to corner the market on seed of new cereal varieties and to take a big profit from the farmer. But now the farmer need pay no more for seed of high-yielding, non lodging oats than he pays for older and inferior varieties".

MAGIC CARPET

To city folk, who take electricity as a matter of course, there can be no conception of the luxury which electric power will bring to the farmer and his wife.. Electricity is indeed a magic carpet for farming communities, and a pioneer can look forward to an era of less manual work.

— Vernon (B.C.) News

FARMING LURES

What can we do to bring the young boys and girls back to the farm? Can we glamorize the way of doing things, should city improvements be incorporated in farm homes, should hours be more regulated and should arrangements be made for more Sundays and holidays free? Would these things prove more attractive and thus solve the problem of a shortage of farm help? Certainly something will have to be done to remedy the condition. — Huntingdon Gleaner

Church Membership Increase

IN THE DECADE 1931-41 Canada's population increased by more than a million, and most religious denominations correspondingly reported an increase in adherents. The one interesting point, however, is that during the period the number of people who said they "followed no religion" dropped ten per cent, and according to the Canadian Almanac's statistics, 5,000 persons who classed themselves as pagans in 1931 apparently embraced some form of religious belief by the time of the 1941 census.

That religious groups have jumped in membership, and the number of non-believers has decreased, does not necessarily mean that Canadians are living a more righteous life, but it does show that increasing numbers are finding a solace and comfort in religion unobtainable through any other pursuit. It is to be noted also that the 1941 census was taken in wartime, and especially in a period when the war was going most unfavorably for the Allies. Many people are quite content to live within themselves just so long as life is proceeding calmly, but the minute trouble appears on the horizon they immediately feel the inclination to prayer.

Indications point to the fact that great numbers who found comfort in times of distress are continuing to lend support to their religious organization. There is no greater moral force for the good of the community than the church. Everyone should support it !

Courtesy Pays Dividends

THIS YEAR thousands of American tourists will come to Canada. They will spend millions of dollars here in what is one of the country's biggest industries, and the influx is expected to reach an all-time high.

Let us therefore, before the season gets underway, resolve that we shall do all in our power to make the stay of the tourist an interesting one, that we shall treat our American friends with courtesy and so impress them that they shall want to spend their vacations for years to come in Canada.

Courtesy and kindness cost little; they pay big dividends. Go out of your way to help the tourist, give him a friendly welcome, be truthful, and above all do not try to "fleece" him.

Remember that a satisfied tourist will tell his friends at home. — He also will tell his friends if he has had an unpleasant experience.

A Woman's Viewpoint

MANY WOMEN have felt that the radio program, "Soldier's Wife", has been an insult to the intelligence of Canadian women — writes Jessie Allen Brown, in a paragraph to which we give editorial prominence this week. The powers-that-be apparently thought the only way to get women to listen to the ration and other W.T. P.B. information was to use a soap-opera as the filling in the sandwich. Women have shown their willingness to co-operate with the Board and it is reasonable to believe they would have listened to the bulletins of The Household Counsellor if presented "without benefit of story". The drama may be as good as any of the other soap-operas but it is still tripe, and many women have been so disgusted they listen to none of it. Do you know how much that program cost? In answer to a question in the House, the information was given that the program cost $4,431.78 a week — that means $230,452.56 a year. That approaches a quarter of a million dollars a year, and it has been going on for several years. Women have done a good job in upholding price control, which has made our country the envy of the world, but they do not need to be fed a lot of pap to continue doing it. Women have a lot of unused political power and some of it might be used in protesting about such a foolish expenditure of public monies. . If you agree with this — concludes our contributor — let your voice be heard at your women's organizations.

Springtime in England

A LOT OF young Canadians, and a lot of not so young, will have their own degrees of nostalgic reaction these days to those treasured words of Browning: "Oh, to be in England now that April's there."

The warmth of spring will be on England now, on Sussex and Surrey and the Downs and the tangled beauties of Devon. But for the first spring in seven the comings and goings of Canadians will not dominate whole sections of this south.

The Canadians are home again, those that will come home. They will be remembering England now as the calm before the storm of battle. Even those who maintained their professed dislike for all she represented could seldom deny an appreciation of her beauties.

The profund silence of a country evening, the ageless charm of ageless buildings, the furrowed perfection of the voluptuous downs, the wheel of a bicycle against a sunken road, the long haul of the pump that brought beer to the counter of a favorite pub, the draw of London, rain yesterday and probably rain tomorrow.

All these things come to mean England. All these things were life itself in England. And all these things were brightest and best in spring—even the rain — when the dreary winter was done and blackened nights grew shorter.

Now for thousands, for tens of thousands, they are only memories. For some they were memories that were strong enough to keep them there after the others had come home. They make their homes there, a few thousand of them.

But there were thousands of Canadians who left England without any nostalgia. They learned nostalgia in other places, on the battle-fronts. Many changed their minds about England by going to those elsewheres.

Home again now, those Canadians may read Browning's words again and attach to them a far deeper significance than they ever did before Browning wrote them in Italy. Many a Canadian of lesser literary note penned many a similar theme from Italy from 1943 to 1945.

The essential difference was that the Canadians declined to support Browning's seasonal limitation.

More Statistics

A NEW FORM has made its appearance from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, a monthly report of employment, payrolls and man-hours, to be made out each month by employers. According to a letter which accompanies the forms and the booklet of instruction as to how to fill them in, it is intended to keep the government "informed respecting the current employment situation."

With the National Employment Service, and the Unemployment Commission both supposedly keeping these records, just why a third bureau should also work on the same line is a question, unless the other two services are a total loss.

Possibly the government hopes to avert any unemployment by putting as many people as possible at work making out government reports.

Is the Cartel A Menace?

What are the charges against cartels?

The activities of international cartels have been under investigation both in the United States and Canada. What are the charges brought against them? Why are they seen as a threat to peace? International cartels divide the world into trading areas in which it is stipulated that no competition may take place. Each participant in the agreement undertakes not to sell in markets assigned to others. Member companies in the United States, for example, agree to stay out of a given foreign territory in return for immunity from competition at home. This means that in some cases cartels dictate the nation's trading policy, operate as private trade barriers against imports, and act arbitrarily to cut off exports. Regardless of world needs, cartels deliberately restrict the production of certain commodities. They plan for scarcity in order to maintain prices at high levels.

By private agreement, powerful and self interested groups determine how much of each commodity shall be produced, where it shall be produced, and who shall produce it. They decide upon what conditions a new producer can come into the business or industry. Such restrictions end "free enterprise".

Cartels may gain control of patents for the purpose of suppressing them and preventing the development of new processes and new products. They retard technical progress in order to maintain the demand for products already on the market.

Cartels make every effort to prevent the successful functioning of independent enterprises by cutting off their sources of raw materials, by refusing to grant them patent licenses, by price wars, etc. The independent organization has to 'play ball' or else—.

In the matter of world security, they have been accused of setting the wheels in motion for World War II. The re-establishment of cartel connection between German and allied companies in the munitions industry aided the revival of Germany's armament production the 1920's in defiance of the Versailles Treaty. Cartels acted to prevent the production, outside Germany, of new materials of war, thus placing Germany at an advantage when war came. . . .

What are the answers to these charges?

Price controls, as imposed by cartels, have been widely defended as a useful stabilization of the market. Wild fluctuations in prices and uncontrolled competition between giant producing groups are held to be the only alternative. Cartels attempt to deal with the hazards of trade. Advocates of the system argue that regulation of trade in the world's major products is a necessity The fact that governments have entered into commodity agreements for the control of such products as tin, natural rubber, tea, coffee, sugar and wheat, give point to this contention.

Do cartels affect Canada?

The government at Ottawa, under the Combines Investigation Commission headed by F. A. McGregor, undertook to study this question. This report recently published makes interesting reading. . . .

As part of the policy to extend Empire trade, Canada had in 1932 altered her tariff to make plate glass items free under the British Preferential Tariff. The automobile industry welcomed the removal of duty and expected to import large quantities of plate glass from Great Britain. The cartel, however, had other plans. British glass in quantity was not earmarked for Canada. The plans of the Canadian government were ineffective.

Electric lamps in Canada are a product largely controlled by an American corporation which has agreements with the principal producers in England, Belgium, Holland, France, Germany and others. These agreements exclude the foreign product from the Canadian market, and bar Canadian manufacturers from exporting. The long-life bulb, for instance, common in European countries is not permitted to be marketed in Canada.

Radium, which was first produced in Austria, is another example; so also is magnesium, aluminum, television and others.

As an example of price control: Tungsten carbide is a hard metal composition of great industrial importance in cutting tools, extrusion dies, and wear-resistant surfaces. It was sold in the U.S. in 1928 at $50. a pound. General Electric and Friedrich Krupp formed an agreement, and up went the price to $453 per pound. In 1940 the price was still $205 per pound. In April 1942, after an indictment under the anti-trust laws, the price fell to $27. per pound. A General Electric engineer asserted that the manufacturing cost was about $8 per pound.

The high price of certain dental plastics has been equally striking. A cartel has control of the U.S. market for acrylic products, including methyl methacrylate dentures. The price of methyl methacrylate powders to commercial moulders is 85 cents per pound, but the power of the monopoly raised the price to $45 per pound for the same product when sold for denture purposes to dental laboratories and dentists.

— The foregoing source material selected from the Canadian report of the McGregor Commission and the U.S. report of the Kilgore Committee, was considered by the Brownsburg Lighted School Group in an endeavor to find an answer to the question, Do you believe that the projected conference on international trade should take steps to eliminate the cartel entirely, or do you believe that cartels should be permitted to continue in a modified form? . . . The best defence against all forms of monopoly is the alertness of the average citizen. Membership in a Citizens' Forum group in your own neighborhood is the best means of learning the facts and of voicing your opinion to the best advantage.

SPRING PAINTING

Regina (CP) — Southern Saskatchewan farmers are busy this spring doing painting they didn't do during the war. Many barns and homes are sporting new coats of paint. Record crops, higher prices and the fact that money spent on painting is deductable from income tax combine to explain the brush activity.

HONEST INJUN

La Biche, Alta. (CP) — Ned Seenum of White Fish reserve 50 miles south of here is an "honest Injun." In 1921 he dropped into a grocery store here and put $8.95 worth of groceries on the cuff. Recently he returned and plunked down the yellowed bill and $8.95, and left with a dignified "Thanks".

CHILDREN AND TRAFFIC

Too many parents allow their children to play on the roads. One accident, however slight, can cause a lot of grief — to the child, the parents and the operator of a car who was unfortunate enough to have the accident. Children are worth a little attention.

Request Continuance of Motorcoach Service

A group of 42 mayors, aldermen, members of the Chamber of Commerce and others, representing 16 municipalities between Hull, Lachute and Montreal, located on Highway No. 8, appeared before the Provincial Transportation and Communications Board in Montreal last week, to report their satisfaction with motorcoach services provided by the Provincial Transport Company along the route connecting their municipalities and to express their opinion that it would not be in the public interest to interfere with these services as presently operated. Permission for their continuance was granted by the Board, and it is expected that a third daily service will shortly be put into operation along this route.

Germain Filion, secretary-treasurer of Lachute, appears in the above picture together with Mayor Legault, Calumet, Mayor Adrien Rochon, St. Philippe, and the mayors or representatives of other communities west from Lachute to Hull.

Whale Hunting

London — Aircraft will play an important part in the British whaling expedition due to leave for the Antarctic next autumn. John Grierson, Flight Superintendent of British United Whalers — the company organizing the expedition — told the Daily Sketch that planes will be catapulted from a base ship, will carry out reconnaissance work and assist the chasers in every possible way. Walrus aircraft will be used. These are biplanes which with their dual purpose land and water undercarriage will be able to land on the sea.

All Aboard

London — The smallest public railway in the world has been demobilized and was early in March reopened to passengers. It is the independently-owned Romney, Hythe, and Dymchurch Light Railway in Kent, with 15-inch gauge, and cars built to scale. When the engineer sits at the back of the steam-driven locomotive half of his body protrudes from the little cab. While used normally as a novelty by summer tourists, the line is also utilitarian, since it is the only one serving the three towns by direct route. During the war the coastal area where the R.H. & D. makes its 12-mile run was banned to travelers, and the railway was requisitioned to do a war job. Fitted with anti-aircraft guns, it fought with the enemy, and also transported thousands of tons of material and pipeline for Pluto, the giant pipeline under the sea. Now, its armour removed, the small carrier has resumed its civilian career.

Special Services, Next Two Sundays at Brownsburg United

Brownsburg — Youth Sunday will be observed next Sunday morning at the United Church, when Miss June Patterson of Montreal will speak on behalf of the Young People's Union of the Montreal Presbytery. The minister, the Rev. S. J. Pike, will be assisted by young people of the congregation.

The following Sunday will be Mother's Day, May 12, when all the organizations of the church are requested to pay their tribute; a prepared order of service will be followed at the morning service. The day will be more particularly observed at the 7.30 p.m. service when a talented ladies' quartet from Montreal will sing several numbers, under the direction of Mr. Wallace Robertson. The Rev. R. G. Burgoyne, also of Montreal, will bring a gospel message. Mr. Burgoyne has been here on former occasions; the group will also be accompanied by Mr. A. W. Hamilton.

The regular meeting of the Official Board was held Monday evening and heard the glowing account of the pre-Easter and Easter gatherings as sponsored by the Crusade Committee. Another meeting of the committee will be held soon to continue plans for further church extension. The congregation's part in the National Pension Fund Campaign was also taken up, and Messrs. C. J. Thank-Offering Meeting, A Special Invitation

St. Andrews E. — The Thank-offering meeting of the W.M.S. of the United Church, to be held on Sunday evening May 5, at 8 o'clock, is an open meeting to which men as well as women interested in the missionary enterprise are invited most cordially. The speakers, Dr. Janet Wong and her husband Dr. Cheng, are young Christians of modern China.

The Girl Guides contributed Easter anthems at the Pte. Fortune and St. David's Church services on April 28.

The W. A. of Christ Church met on Thursday afternoon, April 25, at the home of Mrs. Fred Robertson. It was decided not to hold the usual food sale on May 24. Instead, cash contributions will be donated by members.

LARGE ACCESSION TO MEMBERSHIP OF LACHUTE UNITED

Sunday, April 28, was a red letter day for the congregation of Lachute United Church, when an audience which taxed the capacity of the church participated in the communion service and 104 persons were received into the membership.

The music was inspiring, and the minister, the Rev. W. B. Rosborough, delivered an impressive sermon on "The Unavoidable Christ", taking as his text the words found in John 20,26: "Then came Jesus, the door being shut, and stood in the midst."

He emphasized the fact that Jesus often meets people where they do not expect to find Him. He said: "It is impossible for any of us to exclude or avoid the great Lord and Master of mankind. Shut the door against Him — bar it as firmly as you can — yet you cannot escape the all-pervading influence of Jesus Christ.'

"Frontier" Churches Represented in Laymen's Pension Fund Drive

Pointing out that "ministers go wherever there are 'people' " a joint statement by Wm. M. Birks, L.L.D., Montreal, and D. H. Gibson, C.B.E., Toronto, hon. chairman and executive chairman respectively of the United Church ministers' Pension Fund drive, stresses the important work done "through years of depression and hardship as well as in better years by low-paid ministers in outlying 'frontier' communities across Canada and in Newfoundland — as well as in the larger population centres of the Dominion."

The National Committee, of prominent church laymen from all Provinces and Newfoundland, states that it is "looking forward with confidence to a nation-wide support of church members everywhere." The total objective is 3½ million capital for the ministers' pension fund, and the drive is being carried out by volunteer laymen canvassers representing churches in every locality.

In reference to the urgent pension needs of aged ministers, Committee members emphasize that "Canada needs these men — and more like them," and stress the need for young men to be encouraged to enter the ministry of the church.

Successful Dance By B'burg Legion

Brownsburg — The dance sponsored by the Brownsburg Legion Branch 71, held in the Social Club on April 26, was well attended, despite unfavorable weather. Popular approval of the orchestra, headed by Rollie Moncrieff, was testified by the dance floor being crowded for each number. The spot prize was won by Mrs. Harvey Wilson and the door prize by Miss Laura Maloney, both of Brownsburg. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Branch attended to refreshments and the checking service, in an efficient manner.

The occasion offered the climax for a drawing of lucky tickets, sponsored by the Brownsburg Branch. Winner of the $50 Victory Bond was Miss Beverly Bradley, of Lachute, while the winners of War Savings Certificates were as follows:

Mrs. V. Fisher, Brownsburg, $25 certificate; Miss Edna Ambeault, Lachute Mills, $15; Miss Glenna Gaudreau, $10; Miss D. White, 5917 Gatineau, Montreal, $5; Wilson & Gordon, Lachute, $5.

Prof L. Joslyn Rogers, of the University of Toronto, who has investigated many murder cases, asks a very pointed question: "How much chance has a boy or girl in life who has a drunken mother?" No greater tragedy can befall a child than to be brought up in such a home.

Income Tax . .

Minister may not re-assess you with respect to any taxation year after the expiration of six years from the day of the original assessment.

It may interest you to know that the Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants has recently prepared and presented a brief calling the Government's attention to the following points that they would like to see remedied :

1. The Act itself requires clarification, in that it has been built up by a series of amendments, and it would help if this were rewritten.

2. With the shortage of skilled assistance, assessments are in arrears, and this requires speeding up.

3. Interest is charged on underpayments — and should be allowed on overpayments.

4. The Minister has discretion in some 90-odd sections of the Act and it is felt that this should be changed so that the law would be definite in such instances and not left to the discretion of the Minister.

5. Appeals under the Act are cumbersome and an expensive proposition. This requires an easier approach for the dissatisfied taxpayer.

The questions that were asked, were of considerable interest. Your reporter will record the answers as he understands them:

Are sweepstake winnings taxable? No.

Are large expenditures for repairs deductable? Yes, if they are necessary, although it may be required to extend the amount over three or four years.

Are bank charges deductable from the interest allowed? No. The former is looked upon as a personal expense, not a carrying charge.

If you buy stock and sell it for double what you paid, do you pay tax on the money you made? Not unless you are a stockbroker or do this often enough to make a living at it. It is a capital gain. However, if you sold the same stock for half what you paid, you could not deduct the loss from your salary income. For this reason you could lose more money in a year than you make, and still have to pay income tax. This investment could of course be a business, a car or a house, instead of stock. You would of course have to pay tax on dividends from the stock, earned profit from the business, etc., regardless of whether you sold at a loss or gain.

Most important of all — don't ignore a notice of assessment.

The speaker was introduced by Herbert Graves and thanked by Howard Tomalty. Melville Trickey and Norman Morrison, both of Montreal, were guests.

WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW

GALL & JONES, INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENTS

Predecessor, "Jim" Gall, Literally Pedalled Insurance on a Bicycle through District

A glimpse at the past record of this firm takes us back to early days in the insurance business in this county. In 1914, James W. Gall more popularly known as "Jim" Gall, launched out as agent for the Scottish Union and National Insurance Company. Jim smilingly recalls how he used a bicycle to get around to St. Andrews, Brownsburg, Lakefield and other neighboring localities.

His first office was upstairs in Creswell's former feed store, moving in 1916 to the Lavigne building; and in 1923 he built the up-to-date residence and office at 5 Bethany Street.

To many proprietors this office has become well known, for in 1913 Mr. Gall become secretary-treasurer of the Parish of St. Jerusalem; in 1921 was added the books of the County Council, and in 1941 the books of the Township of Wentworth.

In 1931, Edward Jones became partner to Mr. Gall, and the firm was known as Gall & Jones. "Eddie", brought up in Lachute and educated at the Academy, in 1911 became an office employee of the J. C. Wilson Paper Mills. There he worked until he enlisted with the Black Watch in 1915. After four years overseas, he returned to his position at Wilson's in 1919. In 1926, he became representative of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada.

Together these two business men enlarged their scope of operations until, today, the firm represents approximately 40 companies in General Insurance, the Imperial Life Assurance Company, Bond agents and real estate agents. Eddie is now the Secretary-Treasurer of the Argenteuil County Council, the Parish of St. Jerusalem and the Township of Wentworth.

But all men who work long and faithfully deserve a rest . . and in 1943, Mr. Gall retired. Eddie carried on alone until January of this year, when he took his younger brother, Stewart, into the firm. Stewart was a school teacher in Quebec City prior to enlisting with the Royal Rifles in 1940. After more than five years' service, he decided on his return from overseas to become associated with the firm of Gall & Jones.

The two brothers are resolved to keep up the good name of the firm and render reliable and faithful service to the people of this county.

'DALE'S MILL', EARLY INDUSTRY, GAVE NAME TO COMMUNITY

Now Operated by J. Arthur Campbell, Seventh Son in Old County Family

In 1830, what is now one of the oldest businesses of the County of Argenteuil was established in Dalesville, where Daniel Dale set up a saw mill on the stream just below the Baptist manse. Here he received and sawed custom logs for 20 years. In the meantime a grist mill was added which filled a great need, not only in that particular settlement but in a large part of the county, for farmers came from all corners of Argenteuil to have their grain ground into oatmeal, cornmeal or buckwheat flour. It is of interest to note that, after some time, this community was called Dale's Mill. Later the name was changed to Dalesville.

In 1850 Ebenezer Henry purchased Mr. Dale's business, which he sold a few years later to a Mr. McGee. The latter operated a short time only.

In the early '70's John Campbell took over the saw and grist mill. A this time the machinery was still somewhat primitive. The sawing was done by an up-and-down saw which worked slowly, necessitating day and night shifts in order to make use of the water when at its highest level. In 1878 Mr. Campbell installed a circular saw, then later, an edger and planer. These improvements increased the speed of the operations and the quality of the finished product.

In 1904 Mr. Campbell moved downstream to build a new mill on a more advantageous site. At this time the grist mill was abandoned. Like the previous owners Mr. Campbell had at first sawn custom logs only, but with the increased speed of his output logs cut from his own timber limits could also be turned into lumber. Thus, his whole attention was given to the lumber industry.

In 1910, after John Campbell's death, his seventh son, J. Arthur Campbell, took over the business, which he still operates. Although many improvements have been added in the last few years the mill still runs entirely by water power. A dealer in all kinds of lumber, Arthur Campbell saws for export and for the Canadian trade.

As each successive owner had done, Mr. Campbell still lives on the old Dale property.

Every Wife should answer these questions:

Without you, could your husband provide the RIGHT care for the children? Probably not without extra money to make some suitable arrangement . . . which is good reason why you, as his partner in the business of running the home, should carry insurance on your own life. In any partnership, protection against sudden emergencies is important . . .

Does it matter WHICH life insurance company you choose?

It does matter! Life insurance companies are much alike as to policies and rates, but actual long-term results vary widely. We invite you to compare The Mutual Life of Canada's record with that of any other company. Evidence of the satisfaction of Mutual Life policyholders is furnished by the fact that whole families and succeeding generations have entrusted their life insurance programs exclusively to The Mutual Life, and each year approximately 35% of its new business comes from policyholders. Ask your Mutual Life representative to explain the special features of this Company.

Hints for Homebodies

By Jessie Allen Brown

FIRST-AID FOR HATS

Spring hats are on the tapis now and sometimes a little rejuvenating may make an old one wearable again. Many women begrudge spending much on Spring and Summer hats as they wear them so little. Steam is the most important first-aid. Brush the hat very thoroughly first. I have wondered if the fine brush that comes with the vacuum cleaner equipment mightn't be a good thing to use. Our cleaner is hors de combat so I can't find out for myself. Any how, clean the hat of as much dust as possible, then hold it in the steam over the spout of a fast boiling kettle. Dont steam the hat until it is limp as a very little will freshen it. Place flat and let dry very thoroughly before handling. Steam will refresh either felt or straw hats. If flowers are wilted give them the steam treatment, too, and then put back to shape with the fingers before drying. Veils become very bedraggled but if they are not torn they can be brought back to life by putting a piece of waxed paper on the ironing board, then pressing the veil on it with a moderately hot iron. It will stiffen up and be as fresh as paint. Speaking of paint, flowers which have lost their colors may be touched up with water colors.

EATING PROBLEMS

One of the hardest things for mothers of small children to learn is to give them small enough helpings. In their anxiety to have the child eat they overestimate the capacity of the youngster. The Nursery Schools could teach most mothers considerable about feeding their children. They serve very small helpings — often measured by teaspoons. Then they let the child have as many helpings as they want. Some of the schools allow the child to have as many helpings of dessert as they have had of the first course. One school gave the cod liver oil before the dessert and one lad made quite a holler because he could not have a dose of cod liver oil before each serving of dessert. The Nursery Schools get their share of children with eating problems, but they handle these by simply ignoring them. The food is put before them, and if they do not eat, nothing is said, and the plate is taken away. Usually two or three days of this is enough for any child and he settled down to eat a good meal just as the other children do. A number of children eating together is a good thing as each child likes to eat what the others do. Ignoring the child who does not want to eat will work at home as well as at school. Many children unconsciously try to get attention by refusing to eat. The little darlings love to see their parents in a dither. The moral should be obvious.

UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

If you can buy a plain cake or cup cakes here is a way to turn them into an interesting dessert. Cover the bottom of a cake tin or muffin tins with corn syrup and add a little piece of butter, the amount being based on your supply. Put this in a moderate oven for five minutes. Cover this with sliced canned peaches, pineapple, prunes, cooked apple sections, apple-sauce, or any fruit available. Place your cake over this and return to the oven for 10 minutes. Turn upside-down to serve and with whipped cream if possible.

WHIPPED CREAM

There is no whipping cream available, but the top portion off the bottle of cream will whip if it is a day old. At least ours does. A little lemon juice helps if it is a bit stubborn. A small bowl is a help as the beater must be well covered. Shallow cream is hard to whip. It seems luxurious to have whipped cream these days, but actually the same amount of cream will go farther if whipped than if served as pour cream, as the whipping increases the volume.

CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 Cup sugar, 1½ cups flour, ¼ teaspoon each cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartartar 1 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon cocoa, pinch of salt, 2 eggs, 1 cup sour cream.

Sift the dry ingredients, and stir in the beaten eggs and cream. Pour into a buttered pan 8" by 8", and bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees. This is a delicious cake with a slightly different flavor than the usual chocolate cake.

1946 is an all-important year

FOR CANADA'S TOURIST BUSINESS

MILLIONS OF AMERICAN VISITORS are expected to come to Canada during 1946 for their post-war vacation.

It won't always be easy to accommodate them. We still have our crowding and shortages. We are still in the aftermath of war. This is the very reason we should all take special care to be courteous and considerate to our guests this summer.

This year, of all years, we must maintain the reputation we have won for true hospitality.

YOU MAY NEVER SEE A TOURIST, BUT... tourist dollars flow to you. The grocer, the garage man, the farmer, the office worker—everybody benefits directly or indirectly from tourist spending, and the extra work and income it creates. Last year, tourists in Canada spent more than one hundred and fifty million dollars. In the years ahead, as our ability to handle tourist traffic grows, who is to say how big this business may become? For Canada is in an enviable position—a natural vacation land next door to the most travel-minded nation in the world. This is an all-important year! It may be difficult in many ways yet it holds great promise for the future.

THEY'LL BE TALKING ABOUT US... We want them to come again. We want them to tell their friends: "We had a marvellous time in Canada!" By making them truly welcome, we can win millions of enthusiastic salesmen for Canada—"satisfied customers" who will pass on to many times their number the story of Canadian hospitality and of Canada's unlimited attractions as a vacation land.

The Tourist Business is Your Business!

Duplessis on Theme of Prov. Rights Tells Ottawa 'Quebec Not For Sale'

French-Canadians in the Ancient Capital Acclaim Premier for His Stand at Conf'ce

By GUY GAGNON,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Quebec, May 7 (CP) — Quebec Province is not for sale and its national survival is worth much more than money. With this assertion Premier Duplessis left the Dominion-Provincial Conference to return to Quebec Friday, and be greeted by a cheering crowd of 10,000 persons.

The conference was adjourned indefinitely without any decision being reached, but the Quebec premier said he was still ready to consider any new proposals from the Dominion government.

Problems discussed at Ottawa were expected to be studied by the provincial cabinet this week but it is doubtful whether any further statement on the question will come from the Quebec government.

"Ottawa asked us (the provinces) to exchange and even sell our rights for money," said Mr. Duplessis to the admiring crowd which greeted him on his return. "I answered that Quebec Province is not for sale, that our right to live and survive is worth much more than money. A well-thinking Canadian has no right to forget that the soul and heart are no commercial merchandise and that by touching our rights, one was attacking the very soul and heart of French Canadians."

He also appealed to political opponents for national solidarity. He asked Liberal, Conservative, Nationalist, Bloc Populaire and independent supporters in the province "to unite so as to accomplish the mission which is ours and to ensure our survival".

Questions discussed at Ottawa were of such importance "that they must be looked at above all political considerations." Mr. Duplessis said he went to Ottawa as a Canadian and not as a political leader. He urged confidence in his government for "national solidarity".

Grand Knight of Local K. of C. Council Paid Fitting Honors at Funeral Rites

The funeral of the late Lionel Rozon, well known business man and Grand Knight of the Lachute Council, Knights of Columbus, was held Saturday morning from Ste. Anastasie Parish Church. The ceremony of tribute was one of the most impressive here for several years, being attended by a host of business and fraternal associates, besides dignitaries of the Order in which he was a valued member.

The large gathering, and the profusion of flowers which filled three landaus in the procession, bore testimony to the loss experienced in this comunity through his sudden passing.

M. Ludger Faguy, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, was represented at the funeral by S. E. Dussault, of Hull, Que., district deputy. Honorary pall-bearers were all fourth degree Knights — J. E. E. Dumais, H. E. Desjardins, Albini Lamarche, Notary G. Valois, H. Filfe and John McDonald.

Other fourth degree members in attendance were — Dr. A. Dugal, Geo. Hamel and Henri Renaud, of St. Jerome; J. B. Chenier, of Ste. Monique; H. Pariseau, and D. Lepine, of Brownsburg; Antonio Bussiere, Dollard Charlebois, J. H. Leduc, Bernard Lalonde, Marc Seguin, Jos. Bertrand, of Rigaud, Que.; Geo. Methot, of St. Hermas; Dr. E. Lalande, of Montreal: Dr. L. H. Yelle, of Montebello; Rolland Lamarche, J. A. Menard, G. Cousineau and J. E. L'Heureux, of Lachute.

About 200 third degree members attended from the Lachute and neighboring councils.

Among the notables were Hon. G. E. Dansereau, M.L.A., Georges H. Heon, K.C., M.P., and Mayor Leopold Carriere, of Lachute. There were also representatives from many Montreal offices of the Insurance companies with which the late Mr. Rozon had business dealings.

Attending from a distance were his father and brother, Joseph and Henri Rozon, from North Lancaster, Ont., also a brother the Rev. Laurent Rozon, from Arvida, Que., and numerous relatives from far and near.

The Rev. L. E. Cloutier, of St. Julien Church, spiritual advisor to the Lachute K. of C. Council, officiated at the funeral rites, assisted by the Revs. W. Lacourse and W. Laplante. At the lateral altars were the Rev. C. Corbeil, of St. Philippe, and the Rev. P. Savage, of Ste. Anastasie.

The specially augmented choir was supported by three soloists, Gerald Demarais, Paul Trottier and M. Tremblay, with F. Gratton as organist — all of Montreal.

The remains were borne in a long and impressive cortege to their last resting place at the west end cemetery.

Messrs. Menard & Menard had charge of the funeral arrangements.

QUESTION OF TIPPING

People visiting large cities are confronted continually with the problem of tipping — tips to taxi drivers, hotel porters, waiters, barbers, in fact, just about everyone you do business with. So many expect extra remuneration that the original idea of tipping has been turned into a racket, and it is just about time "Sucker" John Q. Public closed his purse on the giving end.

Lakeview Man, War Veteran, Is Drowning Victim

DROWNED WHILE FISHING; WAS UNDER TREATMENT AT STE. ANNE'S HOSPITAL

Lakeview — The community of Lakeview was shocked to hear of the death of James Alexander Dewar, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Dewar.

Born at Pense, Saskatchewan, he was in his 25th year. Left to mourn are his wife, the former Lucille Smith, of Ile Perrot, to whom he was married only two months ago; his parents, one sister, Myrtle, and two brothers, Douglas, a returned veteran, and Malcolm.

It was learned that, while the young man was fishing in the Ottawa River opposite Ste. Anne de Bellevue, his line got caught, and as he stood up to try and retrieve it he fell into the water. With him in the boat was his six-year-old nephew, John Marshall, of Ile Perrot. A war veteran with four and a half years' service overseas, he was receiving treatment at Ste. Anne's Military Hospital.

The funeral service was conducted at his home here, by the Rev. Doxee, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue. The remains were laid to rest in the Lost River cemetery.

Pall-bearers were all war veterans — his brother, Douglas Dewar, of Lakeview, two uncles, George Campbell, of Montreal, and William Dewar, of Lost River, his father-in-law, Mr. Smith, of Ile Perrot, two cousins, Elmer Dewar and Buddy Beaton, of Lost River.

Many flowers were sent in sympathy and tribute, and there was a large attendance at the funeral.

Relatives and friends were present from Ile Perrot, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Lachute, Three Rivers and Montreal.

Stolen Auto in Accident Here

A car stolen in Montreal was found abandoned where it had struck a tree four miles east of Lachute, on the St. Jerome highway. The car was headed towards Lachute, and the crash took place at a curve in the highway. Local traffic officers learned of the mishap Tuesday morning. The automobile, which belonged to Simon Daigue, of Montreal, was a complete wreck.

Police officers in St. Jerome next day encountered two men who admitted they were in the car, but stated they were unaware it had been stolen. They claimed it had been in the possession of a friend from Montreal, whom they had met in St. Jerome.

Gov.- General to Open Lachute Fair

Viscount and Lady Alexander have been invited to officially open the 127th annual Lachute Spring Fair on Wednesday, June 12, according to an announcement by J. H. Black, president of the Argenteuil Agricultural Society. It is understood the invitation has been graciously accepted.

In his invitation to Canada's new Governor-General, Mr. Black said that the presence of Their Excellencies would be "a salute to all Canadian farmers, who this year merit encouragement in their duties as they play such a tremendous role in the food production of the world."

"We sincerely feel and humbly suggest that your honored presence would be a great inspiration not only to the farmers but to the entire community" he wrote.

Receives Call to Maxville, Ont.

A special meeting of the Presbytery of Glengarry of the Presbyterian Church was held in St. John's Church, Farran's Pt., near Cornwall, last Friday, when a call was submitted from St. Andrew's Church, Maxville, addressed to Capt. Howard A. Doig, of the chaplaincy service, formerly minister at Sydney, Cape Breton. The call was well signed and was supported by Rev. M. N. McDonald, of Avonmore, interim moderator, and by elders from Maxville Presbyterian Church.

The presbytery unanimously sustained the call, and appointed the induction to take place at Maxville on a date to be fixed later.

—Capt. Howard Doig preached in Lachute last Sunday, having occupied the pulpit here several times since departure of the Rev. E. Orsborn from the Margaret Rodger Memorial Church. Capt. Doig is a native of these parts and widely related in the community. Friends extend good wishes in his new appointment.

Wed 52 Years Ago

(Our District Correspondent)

Weir, Que. — Congratulations from many friends in this community are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, who will attain their 52nd wedding anniversary next Thursday, May 16. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are both enjoying quite good health. They have 11 children living, all of whom are married, and also 26 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

NEED FOR TIDINESS

Around the town park and main thoroughfare, there is a crying need for a few wire baskets or boxes for the depositing of waste paper. In the hope of promoting public consciousness for a tidy town, the authorities should at least provide the incentive.

The beautiful lawn fronting St. Simeon's Church had the appearance, this morning, of a circus ground, with orange wrappers and cartons strewn by passers-by. Wherever there is a potato wagon or candy store nearby, the lawns and gardens are subject to the same disorderliness — Cellophane wrappings and boxes being carelessly discarded.

Children are more affected by the direction the parents take themselves, than by the correction the parents give their children.

Auto Crashes Into Bridge

Four young men returning to Montreal Tuesday night came to grief when their automobile overran the curve approaching Barron's Bridge from the Brownsburg Road and climbed up the superstructure of the bridge, injuring two of the occupants. The accident occurred shortly after midnight.

The car was badly buckled and damaged. The driver, Allan E. Gordon, Westmount, received a cut about the mouth and had several teeth broken. A passenger in the rear seat, Chas. Stewart, Montreal, suffered a cut near the eye. The other occupants, uninjured, were Ivan Fraser, Westmount, and Jas. Stewart, who resides in Lachute.

The accident was investigated by Traffic Officer Albert Legault, Brownsburg. Police Chief D. Villeneuve, of Lachute, conveyed the injured men to the surgery of Dr. F. W. FitzGerald for treatment. The motorists claimed that a blow-out occurred in one of their tires as they were approaching the curve, which caused the car to swerve into the curb and iron-work of the bridge.

The men proceeded to Montreal next day.

Arundel to Form W. Inst. Branch

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — On Saturday afternoon Mrs. N. E. Smillie, county president of the Women's Institute, gave an interesting talk to the Arundel ladies on Institute work. It was decided at this meeting to organize a branch of the W.I. in Arundel.

A TRAFFIC HAZARD

Another crash at the western approach to Barron's Bridge stresses the need for effective warning signs at this point. A car was wrecked and minor injuries resulted from this accident . . but there might have been far more serious consequences, for several cars have already plunged over the river bank at this spot, where the highway narrows and curves unexpectedly, presenting a hazard to all unfamiliar with the road.

A reflectorized sign, visible to drivers some distance before reaching the danger spot, might offer the correct solution. But the need is imperative NOW; delay may prove costly in human lives.

Elect Golf Club Executive and Playing Officers

NEW "PRO" INTRODUCED AT OPENING MEETING OF SEASON

The opening meeting of members of the Lachute Golf Club was held last Thursday evening in the clubhouse, under the chairmanship of Gilbert E. Ayers.

Among items of business considered by the meeting, that concerning the 1946 slate of officers drew keen interest. The major officers as previously elected at a directors' meeting, were announced by the chairman as follows:

President, Gilbert E. Ayers; vice-president, Thos. Milnes; secretary, Chas. L. Duncan; treasurer, Geo. E. Leggett.

The members then elected additional officers as follows:

Match Committee — Captain, H. Rigg; asst. captains, Clarence Rogers, Laurier Carriere, Albert Ogilvie, Geo. Tattersfield, Jack McIndoe.

Entertainment, Albert Ogilvie.

Publicity, Alex Vessie.

Towards the close of the meeting, Mr. Ayers introduced the club professional, Jack Archer. Mr. Archer announced steps would be taken this summer to make some of the changes and improvements to bring the course in line with the final planned layout. These included completion of the practice fairway, the lengthening of the fourth, eighth and ninth holes, and the building of suitable trap hazards throughout the course.

The meeting finally broke up amid a general feeling of optimism for the success of the coming golf season.

Deep regret was felt in Brownsburg at the sudden death of Mr. Lionel Rozon, of Lachute, who was popularly and favorably known in business circles here.

Not For Sale

Following representations made to the Hon. Ian A. MacKenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, the Wartime Houses offered for sale recently were withdrawn from the market. Several of those houses are occupied by veterans and war workers, and their sale and removal would be a disaster. Assurance has now been received that they shall not be sold as long as they are required by the present occupants.

That Long!

Tall stories — or is it measured tales — are going the rounds already, although the fishing season is still young. Judging by the big ones that got away, there is good fishing to be done yet.

Road Signs

Most of the direction signs in this district are on the roads in a horizontal position. School signs, like the errant scholars, are mostly absent. Of course, it will be some time yet before the snow flies, and by that time — if the experience of other years serves as an example — the roads will be about ready for travelling upon.

What Shortage?

Building construction is going on apace. Two grills, two garages and a number of business premises are under construction. Owing to lack of materials very few, if any, residential houses are going up, but we certainly need them.

Girls' Groups Hold Parents' Night ; Evidence of Constructive Training

Hawkesbury and Brownsburg Contingents Attend Guides' and Brownies' Rally Here

On Monday evening the Girl Guides and Brownies of Lachute held their first Parents' Night, in the form of a rally at the Auditorium. Mrs. I. Wade extended a cordial welcome to the large number of parents and friends present, thanking them for their interest in the girls' activities. She also expressed the pleasure the leaders had felt in working with the Guides and Brownies, and extended their appreciation to the girls for their co-operation and perseverance in the past year. A welcome was extended to the Brownsburg Guides and Brownies with their leaders, the French-speaking Guides from Hawkesbury with their leaders, and the leaders of the English Guides from Hawkesbury.

Mrs. Geo. F. Calder presented second-class badges to a number of Guides and Brownies.

The two companies then displayed some of the work they had done during the year. Main feature of the Guides' performance was a routine march, carried out with marked precision. The Brownsburg Guides sang a song descriptive of the Guide Chalet in Switzerland. A sing-song followed with Miss Helen McFaul at the piano.

Mrs. F. W. FitzGerald, president of the local Association, spoke a few words in praise of the work carried on by the Guides and Brownies, and extended thanks to the leaders of the two companies. She also thanked Miss McFaul for her part as pianist.

Miss A. MacRae thanked the parents and friends for their kind attention, assuring them that their interest meant a great deal to the girls. The evening was brought to a close by repeating the Guide Prayer.

"Water Safety" — Swimming Facilities And Instruction, Viewed by Red Cross

At the regular meeting of Lachute Red Cross branch, held on Wednesday, May 1, this group received warm commendation on its splendid efforts during the war years — a letter to this effect having been sent by Mrs. Andrew Fleming, provincial president. The packing and finishing of goods were specially mentioned.

A bulletin is to be issued each month from Montreal headquarters of the Society — for which items of interest, and suggestions, are invited from all branches.

The balance of monies from the Prisoner of War fund has been turned over to be used for dependents of former war prisoners.

A specific program has been arranged by the War Work Committee at headquarters as a peacetime project. This will consist, in part, of knitting and sewing destined for Gt. Britain and Europe. These are to be requisitioned for, and will be supplied to voluntary workers at the monthly meetings. The president has also arranged for quilts to be made at the community workrooms.

Reports were given by the various local committees.

The drive for membership is progressing, and the chairmen are confident of obtaining their objective of 1,500 members for this district.

A report was given on the use of the hospital bed and wheel chair.

The water safety and swimming pool project was discussed. Red Cross headquarters are prepared to train and pay instructors for this work. It was considered a costly proposition for this town, however. Suggestions as to the possibility of using natural resources here in Lachute, along the banks of the North River, with proper protection for the smaller children, were given at the meeting. This would hinge upon the provision that the water passed the standard of purity needed for swimmers of all ages. The number of fatalities each year from drowning is increasing, and this is considered a much needed community project. A knowledge of swimming and diving, at an early age, is essential to meet the dangers. It is hoped that in the near future steps will be taken by local organizations to finance and provide means for promotion of this healthful exercise.

Next meeting of the branch will be held June 5 in the Victoria Hall, at 2.30 p.m.

Albini Lamarche For Role of Town Sec.-Treasurer

ASSISTANT ALSO APPOINTED; MAYOR HAS CASTING VOTE ON DECISION

An adjourned session of the Town Council took place last evening to consider applications for the positions of town secretary-treasurer and assistant secretary-treasurer.

Members of the Council in attendance were — Mayor L. Carriere, Ald. W. Morissette, Alex Bothwell, Henri Trichard, Omar Laurin, S. Holt, L. Bedard, J. R. Paquette and D. G. MacRae.

Applications received were as follows:

For assistant secretary-treasurer — J. Alex Rochon, $1,200; Roger Valois, $1,800.

The Council accepted the application of J. A. Rochon. The successful applicant, born and brought up in Lachute, is the son of Mrs. J. A. Rochon, Meikle Street, and is back from active service in the Navy. Before the war Mr. Rochon served as a clerk in the town office during periods of rush work, and is therefore acquainted with some of the routine duties.

For the position of secretary-treasurer the following applications were received:

Chas. E. Dorris, $1,500; Antonio Laurin, $1,700; Jules Lamarche, $2,000; Eugene Cyr, $2,080; C. Lacasse, $2,200; J. A. Lamarche, $2,500; Bernard Gosselin, $3,600. An application received Thursday morning from Maurice Campeau could not be considered.

It was moved by Ald. J. R. Paquette, seconded by Ald. Henri Trichard, that J. A. Lamarche be appointed secretary-treasurer, at a salary of $2,500 a year.

It was moved in amendment by Ald. Omer Laurin, seconded by Ald. Wilfrid Morisette, that Antonio Laurin be appointed, at a salary of $1,700 a year.

A sub-amendment to appoint Eugene Cyr had no seconder and was dropped.

The vote on the amendment was as follows:

In favor — A. Bothwell, Omer Laurin, Wilfrid Morissette, D. G. McRae;

Against — J. R. Paquette, Henri Trichard, L. Bedard and S. Holt.

There being four in favor and four against, the Mayor gave the casting vote against the amendment.

The vote was then taken on the main motion for the appointment of J. A. Lamarche at $2,500 a year.

In favor — J. R. Paquette, Henri Trichard, L. Bedard, S. Holt.

Against — Alex Bothwell, Omer Laurin, Wilfrid Morissette, D. G. MacRae.

There being four in favor and four against, the Mayor gave the casting vote in favor, and the motion was therefore carried.

* * *

Commenting today on his vote in the above question, Mayor Leopold Carriere affirms his stand that, despite a wide variance in the bids, experience of the applicants was the factor guiding his decision. In a corporation such as Lachute Town, with its financial and administrative complexities, he considered Mr. Lamarche, with his background of municipal business, as the best applicant. Colloquially he voted "not so much for Albini Lamarche as for the interests of the town". The Mayor also expressed approval to the appointment of J. Alex Rochon as assistant secretary.

FARM TOPICS

Dearer Machinery

The general categories of Canadian-made farm machinery and parts subject to the recent increased highest retail price ceilings by 12½ per cent are planting, seeding, and fertilizing machinery; plows; tillage implements and cultivators; haying machinery; harvesting machinery; sundry machines for preparing crops for market or use; farm power machinery; farm wagons; trucks and sleighs; dairy machines and equipment; spraying equipment and dusters; domestic water systems and pumps; barn yard equipment, and miscellaneous equipment.

Urgent Need for More Home Gardens

Emphasizing the fact that an increased number of home gardens will help to meet the desperate world food shortage, A. M. Shaw, chairman of the Food Information Committee, said: "The Victory Gardens of the war years are still needed in the war against want. Once again they can help to win victory over a bitter enemy of humanity — famine".

A quarter of a million Victory Gardens would be a suitable goal for this year, Mr. Shaw said. The food produced in these gardens will make possible increased shipments of staple products such as wheat, meat, cheese and eggs to the hungry people in several countries. The 226,000 home gardens planted in cities and towns across Canada in 1944 produced approximately 120 million pounds of potatoes, carrots, beets, turnips, cabbage, onions and other garden produce.

There is ample seed available on the market, as well as tools and fertilizer to meet the needs of Victory gardeners. A helpful pamphlet entitled "The Wartime Garden" may be obtained free from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Cut Hay Early

(Ontario Agricultural College)

This is the season of year when we should be planning to save our hay crops, our cheapest winter feed, says Dr. O. M. McConkey, Department of Field Husbandry at Guelph.

Farmers should plan to cut hay early in order to secure (1) more protein per acre (2) more digestibility (3) more aftermath pasture (4) more high protein hay in the barn.

Ask the man in your neighborhood who feeds early cut hay. Successful farmers find that early cut hay is more palatable, maintains milk production, and saves feed bills.

A successful dairy man in Oxford County found that his herd production dropped from 12 to 9 cans of milk per day when he stopped feeding from a mow of early cut hay to a mow of late cut hay.

The hay crop is the most valuable single crop grown for winter feed in Ontario. The point is that the hay crop can be easily improved in feeding value by using (1) better balanced mixtures of legumes and grasses — there are too many old Timothy fields, which give low yields of low protein hay; (2) by seeding on fertile soils, which are high in organic matter. The minerals, Lime, Phosphorus and Potash are very important to ensure good catches of seeds and to increase the mineral content of the fodder; (3) by early cutting, which is most important for high protein and digestibility; (4) by curing to minimize weathering as much as possible and to preserve the valuable leaves which contain most of the protein and minerals. Green, well-cured hay contains the valuable vitamins, especially A and sunshine increases vitamin D content during the curing process.

Hay plants become woody as they approach maturity and hence are less digestible. Careful digestion experiments have shown that young grass is digested 83%, while this same grass left to the late hay stage is only digested about 52%. In other words, of every load of late cut hay the farmer hauls into the barn, the animal can only use about 50% of it. Why not cut hay earlier and get better feed.

New Wheat Variety Gets Final Tests

Test Proves New Seed Better Than Regent and Other Kinds

Ottawa, April 30 (CP) — Dominion agricultural experts have developed a new wheat variety which in a three-year test in Manitoba has proved superior to Regent, Thatcher and other varieties in yield and resistance to leaf rust and smut.

The new seed, known so far only by its laboratory name of "R.L. 1834.1," has been developed at the Dominion Laboratory of Cereal Breeding at Winnipeg from the cross "Regent X Canus" and now is undergoing final quality tests.

Its development was disclosed in the laboratory's annual report, released here recently by the agriculture department.

The report said the steady advance in plant breeding in Canada had etsablished as a permanent principle that cereal breeding paid dividends far beyond the costs involved.

It cited as proof of the part plant breeding is taking in the cereal production in Western Canada the popularity in the prairie provinces of such varieties of wheat as Thatcher, Regent, Renown and Apex and the varieties of oats known as Vanguard, Ajax and Exeter.

Regent and Renown wheat and the three varieties of oats all were bred at the Winnipeg laboratory.

At present, Regent wheat is predominent in Manitoba and is second only to Thatcher in Manitoba and Saskatchewan combined. In Manitoba and the eastern half of Saskatchewan, Ajax, Vanguard and Exeter are almost the only varieties of wheat grown.

Relatives from the South

THIS SUMMER Canadians are in the embarrassing position of having relatives coming to stay with them for the summer without knowing exactly where they're going to put them up. The relatives — possibly 3,000,000 of them from south of the border — are welcome enough, but they'll present housekeeping problems the country has never faced before.

Family conferences are being held to discuss methods of sprucing up the spare bedroom, unused during war years, and plans are being made to have the children double up in one room to provide a little more living space. There are preparations to give the guests the best available in food and entertainment and to provide them with the warmest possible welcome so that they'll be sure to come again.

Incidentally, they're rather well-to-do relatives, and it is estimated they may spend about $200,000,000 during the summer.

British Columbia and Ontario have already introduced legislation to organize tourist accommodation and other provinces are planning to follow suit. But this legislation, though timely, will not take effect for a year or more, and tourist bureaus across the country are reporting inquiries in record numbers from United States holidayers.

Those most directly concerned with the tourist traffic — summer hotel owners, hunting and fishing guides and restaurateurs — are doing what they can to prepare for the season, but they'll need plenty of help from the rest of Canada in making the visitors' stay a pleasant one!

A great deal of what the country has to offer requires no work from the individual citizen. It won't be necessary to polish up the lakes and rivers, to repaint the trees or to do a landscaping job on the mountains and valleys. And a little effort, perhaps even a little self-sacrifice, on the part of Canadians to help our visitors feel at home will benefit the home folks — and send those relatives home happy.

Death Stalks the Highways

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has called a conference to be held in Washington to try to find some means of reducing traffic accidents in the United States. The situation is appalling and is getting worse — states a timely editorial in the Ottawa Farm Journal. Highway deaths so far this year, in United States, are 50 per cent higher than last year. In January 3,000 Americans were killed in motor vehicle accidents, and it is estimated that the total for 1946 will reach 40,000, with a million injured. By comparison the colossal property loss is unimportant.

American authorities tell us the main causes of accidents are speed, drunken driving, and faulty vision — which is to say the driver is the person responsible. 'Nobody can prevent accidents except the man at the wheel. Nobody drives dangerously without knowing that he is driving dangerously — continues the editorial.

Caution in driving, always vital, is especially important this year. The roads are filled with cars which have passed their best years, and thousands of cars run on tires no longer safe for high speeds. Many highways are in a bad state of repair, and add to the perils. Speed is more dangerous than ever before.

THERE HAVE been 700,000 weddings in Canada since 1935. We wonder how many thousand arguments resulted.

THERE WILL BE general approval of the government's order which bans the use of red netting on baskets of peaches. This has often been termed the "red veil of sin."

More Clothing Needed for Europe

THE MISERY which has piled up in Europe after the war — hunger, disease and destitution — is sapping millions of men and women of energy, the will to achieve, and even of hope itself. A world deprived of the strength and courage of millions is a world that is also shorn of its best chance for the re-establishment of order and lasting peace. In every possible way help must be given to restore war-sufferers to health and vitality. One of the ways in which every individual Canadian can help is to donate some used clothing for these people, for it will help them to maintain their self respect, give them courage and hope for the future.

It has been stated that Canadian clothes closets, chests and cupboards yielded sufficient clothing, shoes and bedding last October to help meet the requirements of one million and a half men, women and children. But according to UNRRA and other relief agencies who are working in Europe and Asia, this is only a very small percentage of the destitute, homeless and looted millions of these continents. In the face of inflation, scarcity and ruin, these people have not the means, and no hope of obtaining the means, to buy what little new clothing there is available. Prime Minister Mackenzie King has emphasized that the conditions are so appalling that this second appeal to the generosity of the Canadian people is imperative, and has the fullest support of the Dominion Government.

At least one serviceable garment is being sought from every man, woman and child in the national collection which is scheduled for the latter part of June — anything that any member of the family wears and can spare is urgently needed. Those who are now putting away their sturdy winter clothes can do a humanitarian service by donating some of them to the forthcoming National Clothing Collection.

Let's All Retire!

WARNER and Swasey, manufacturers of machine tools in Cleveland, Ohio, ran a full page advertisement in a recent issue of "Newsweek", as follows:

"Whenever some conservative man in Congress or business tries to trim government spending because it is adding to our staggering national debt, he is shouted down by those starry-eyed lads (whose thinking has a foreign accent) with the statement, 'The size of the debt doesn't matter because we owe it to ourselves'. If that is sound economics, then here's an easy way for everybody to have that more abundant life without the hard work which so many seem so anxious to shun. Let's have the Government issue $100,000 in government bonds to every citizen. Then we can all retire and live on the income !"

Canada Mourns

Canada mourns for her sons and her daughters
Who never more will return to her soil,
Mourns with the fathers, the sons and the brothers,
Mourns for their loss, and their added toil.

Canada weeps with the weeping mothers,
Sisters, daughters, sweethearts and wives,
Weeps for their pain, their heartache and sorrow,
Weeps for the loss of those gallant young lives.

Canada's proud, as proud as her people,
Of those heroes who went from her shores,
Proud of the standard they kept high and spotless,
Proud of the flag that her youth never lowers.

DELAYED ACTION

It's a good thing America's air raid wardens of a couple of years back didn't have to make use of those fine-looking helmets for anything more perilous than a black-out drill. The Department of Commerce announces that the National Bureau of Standards has just gotten around to testing whether bullets are deflected by the helmets, which because of the steel scarcity were lightly constructed. The results: "The bullets went in one side and came out the other." —N.Y. Times

LOOK TO THE FUTURE

A while back, we were all talking about the cars of the future, the homes of the future, etc. Our cars and our homes were to be something ultra-special. . . Well, this is the future and what have we got? Where are the so-called "cars of the future"? In fact, where are the cars? So, since such specials that were half promised us "for the future" did not come, let us now look again to the future, when for a week-end jaunt, we can go soaring in a rocket plane and bounce radar beams off the moon.

INDUSTRIES WANTED

This newspaper may be doing so much whistling in the wind to mention the fact that Woodstock could derive a great deal of help from the establishment of new industries in our vicinity, but it does seem to us to be the most important matter facing this community at the present time. We must arrive at some sort of a solution to the problem which faces the veteran returning to this, his home country.

—Woodstock (N.B.) Sentinel-Press

LET'S CLEAN UP

It has been said that a good citizen is one who, among other essentials, seeks to make his or her town a better, happier, and cleaner place in which to live. This problem is by no means new, but is as old as the town itself. Dirty streets tend to a grey, weary, hopeless feeling, while clean ones, on the contrary, make for courage, comfort and satisfaction.

Spry Centenarian Ignores Ducking

Wallaceburg, Ont. (CP) — Fully-clothed and weighted down with mackinaw and heavy boots, James Knight fell into the river at Wallaceburg last fall, spent eight minutes in the ice-filled water and emerged without even catching cold. Next day he went back to work painting his house.

Knight looks 65 and feels fit as 50, but his baptismal record shows he is 100 plus.

He paddles his own flat-bottomed boat up a mile and a half of river for supplies twice a week, saws his own wood, does all the chores and figures he'll be around for another 10 years or so. His 75-year-old wife thinks so too.

At a party given in his honor April 6, Knight said he had danced and generally had "a whale of a good time." He admits taking the odd drink when he's "with the boys" and likes a cigarette once in a while.

The Old Refrain

The young pinko was holding forth.

"If we can do it in war, we can do it in peace," he proclaimed, enunciating that great thought in the manner of one who had received it as a private revelation from Heaven.

"I wouldn't disagree with you for worlds", said the Old Grouch, "but don't you think we're proving your point in practice?"

"How do you mean?" asked the Y.P.

"Well," said the O.G., "just take a look at what we're doing in peace that we did in war. We took thousands of new employees into the Civil Service during the war. We've still got them, or most of them, on the public payroll. We did without cuffs on our trousers, and clothed an army division with the cloth saved, according to Government propagandists. Now we can't even get the trousers.

"The Government watered our whiskey and increased its price during the war. It's still watered and still expensive.

"We couldn't buy new cars without priorities while the war was on. Try to get one now".

"But that wasn't what I meant at all!" protested the Y.P.

"I know it wasn't," said the O.G. "But think it over, my boy, think it over." — The Printed Word

CROSS-COUNTRY GLEANINGS FROM THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS

By 'Country Editor'

● That this ignoring of the independent variable, the human factor, which has caused so many perfectly conceived governmental structures to collapse like houses of cards when applied to human conditions, is the opinion of the outspoken Brooks, Alta., Bulletin, adding: In times of great stresses and strains men of government become more envious than ever of men of science. They are tempted to treat their material as an engineer treats his. But this is not an Anglo-Saxon tradition. We are not enamored by the cold logic or perfection of the mechanical drawing. We prefer to obey what we are pleased to call our political instincts.

● Keep your chin stuck out, is the motto of the Dauphin, Man., Herald, even on spy-business, saying editorially: "Canada has to protect herself against people who profess foreign loyalties, and, doing so, should not kow-tow to anyone, not even dictators who preside over hundreds of millions."

● Why U.S. exchange argues the Letter-Review of Fort Erie, Ont., putting it this way. The $ U.S. exchange question gets too little discussion. The present plan of giving a premium on $ U.S. which will buy less than $ Canadian is one of the most powerful factors in producing the present demands of labor for higher wages. Why the government must continue this extraordinary policy is still a fact concealed even from the Cabinet. It is confined to a few economists in the Finance Department and the Bank of Canada.

● What next? Silk raising in the Okanagan of B.C. The mulberry, upon which silkworms feed grows excellently in Penticton, and a small amount of silk has been raised successfully in an experiment by V. Evanoff, a retired farmer, who has made a hobby of horticulture.

Every FATHER

...should answer these questions:

"How much are my savings really WORTH?" The cash value of your savings is not what counts most. What is important is the amount of continuous income they would provide, if your wife and children were left without other means of support. In most cases ordinary savings can't provide enough! That is why you need life insurance . . . "Is it important WHICH life insurance company I choose?" It is! Life insurance companies are much alike as to policies and rates, but actual long-term results vary widely. We invite you to compare The Mutual Life of Canada's record with that of any other company.

Evidence of the satisfaction of Mutual Life policyholders is furnished by the fact that whole families and succeeding generations have entrusted their life insurance programs exclusively to The Mutual Life, and each year approximately 35% of its new business comes from policyholders. Ask your Mutual Life representative to explain the special features of this Company.

OBITUARY

OLD RESIDENT OF GRENVILLE DIES IN HIS 89th YEAR

There passed away on April 12 an old resident of Grenville, in the person of Donald Vean Cameron, in his 89th year. His wife, formerly Emma Densmore, predeceased him 36 years ago.

The late Mr. Cameron is survived by his four sons, Allan, Peter, Clayton and Jack, and one daughter, Mrs. Wm. Burke, of Cornwall, Ont.

The funeral was held Sunday, April 14, and was largely attended, the service being conducted by the Rev. S. T. Burman in the United Church at Grenville. Burial took place in St. Andrews Cemetery.

Those who attended from a distance were his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burke and sons Harold and Howard, of Cornwall; his grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Laribee and Mr. and Mrs. Art Pritchard, of Ottawa; his nephew, John McLean and daughter Shirley; his niece, Mrs. Vallance and son Leonard, of Maxville, Ont.

Pall-bearers were his two sons, Allan and Peter, H. Densmore, John Owens, Wm. Burke and Wm. Gauley.

ELDEST MEMBER OF CALUMET FAMILY DIED AT AYLMER

Calumet — The funeral of the late Miss Mary McHardy — who died at the age of 87 at Aylmer, Que., on Saturday, May 4 — was held Monday afternoon, with service in the Anglican Church at Calumet, conducted by the Rev. A. E. Hawes. A large gathering of friends and neighbors attended to pay their last tribute of respect. The flower-laden casket bore silent testimony of love and esteem. Hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "There will be no night there".

The pall-bearers were her six nephews, Walter, James and Robert Welden, and Arthur, Kenneth and Thomas McHardy.

Miss McHardy was born here, daughter of the late John McHardy and Hester Crosier and the eldest of a family of 12 — six of whom survive, one brother John, her sisters Sarah, Catherine, Ann, Christine and Grace, the youngest. Ann (Mrs. James Welden), being sick in hospital, was not able to attend the funeral.

Burial took place in the Scotch Road cemetery.

Human Negligence Big Factor in Highway and Street Accidents

• By TRACY D. le MAY, Commissioner of City Planning, City of Toronto

I could guide you through a maze of statistics that would probably bore you and in the end prove nothing but what we already know, that hundreds of thousands of people have died and millions have been maimed and injured on the North American Continent in the last two decades, because of what? Not because of the failure of mechanical equipment (mechanical defects are cited as the cause of less than 1/10th of 1% of all accidents); not because of the failure of road builders (any car, however decrepit, can be operated on any road, however dangerous, by a competent driver who knows the limitations of both the vehicle and the road); not because of the failure of the forces of law — but because of the failure of human beings.

The records of the National Safety Council, which parallel Canadian experience and which I have used because of their completeness, state that 50% of all drivers involved in collision accidents are guilty of the violation of some traffic rule or regulation, and that over 60% of the pedestrians involved are similarly responsible. These failures result annually in an economic loss estimated at the staggering total of $1,150,000,000. Of this amount public vehicle accidents are responsible for $350,000,000; the balance is attributable to the use of the automobile alone. In addition, the cost of home and occupational accidents amounts to $1,550,000,000. These figures are truly a challenge to the community worthy of acceptance. Against this Goliath of destruction are allied the forces of the three "E's", Engineering, Education and Enforcement, which, although suffering setbacks as in 1941 when there was an upward surge, are gradually whittling down the totals or at least preventing their continual rise.

Fatality records which alone are available over a period of years for comparative purposes show well-defined cycles and climbed from a total of 18,400 in 1923 to 33,700 in 1931. Possibly as a result of the depression, the 1931 record shows a drop to 29,500 in 1932, followed by a rise to 39,643 in 1937, and a drop again in 1938 to 32,582. This was followed by a rise to an all-time high of 39,969 in 1941. Gas rationing obscures the picture after that but surely there must be some significance to these fluctuations that may help to diagnose the basic reasons for traffic accidents.

Presented before the Canadian Good Roads Association.

On the face of it there appears to be some connection with national prosperity, not because of increased financial ability to operate an automobile (the fatalities per 100,000,000 miles in 1937 were 15.9, and in 1938 12.9, while in 1941 they were 12.7, and in 1942 10.8), but because of some deeper psychological cause affecting the temperament of the individual, perhaps a lightheartedness brought about by a lack of financial worries following the passing of the depression.

On the other hand, some observers have claimed that there is a marked increase in the accident rate at the time of a National crisis such as may engender absent-mindedness and abstraction. This, however, was not the case in 1929 when the collapse of the stock market brought worry to many two years before the accident peak in 1931. However this may be, there is doubtless supporting evidence for the claim that at any rate it would appear to be a logical process. Perhaps you will not find this very conclusive but on the other hand you may find it sufficient to support the contention that accidents are in a degree related to a state of mind.

There is a great variety of statistical data available to support the claims of different cities that vigorous action under one or other of the three "E's" has produced a marked improvement. One city will show that an intensified enforcement programme has produced results, another a marked reduction following improved street lighting and extensive channelization; and a third, the benefits of education.

These claims are all well-founded, but yet, in spite of these efforts, the annual returns from year to year do not as a rule single out these cities as appreciably safer than cities in which these special efforts have not been made. Perhaps, however, if they had not been made, conditions would have gone from bad to worse and the National totals have shown a marked progressive increase instead of a fluctuating but nevertheless slight overall improvement. Comparing the five-year period, 1927 to 1931, with a similar period, 1937 to 1941, we find the average annual fatalities per 10,000 registered vehicles to have decreased from 11.96 to 11.5; not a very impressive gain over a period of 15 years of preventative activity, but nevertheless a gain. On a vehicle mileage basis the record is appreciably better, showing a reduction per 100,000,000 miles from 17.24 to 11.08, but since this doubtless indicates increased car mileage attributable to increased highway travel involving little accident exposure, it can hardly be taken as evidence of improved driver and pedestrian habits.

One thing about highway as distinct from urban travel is the increased severity of accidents due to increased speed. Highway engineers can build safety into their highways but nevertheless accidents do frequently occur, perhaps because the apparent inherent safety of the road has a tendency to weaken a driver's sense of responsibility for his own safety and the safety of others. On the other hand, there are highways so evidently dangerous that accidents rarely occur. These conditions give rise to the double paradox that a highway may be so safe that it is dangerous, or so dangerous that it is safe. Perhaps the ultimate in highway safety will only come when highways are constructed with a concave cross-section and the cars operated by indirect radio control. Even under these conditions, however, I still have sufficient faith in unpredictability of driver action to feel that some way will be found to have an accident, and a good one too.

The basis of accident preventative action is accident analysis, which, carefully carried out, will provide the engineering, educational and enforcement authorities with evidence of specific trends for selective attack. For instance, in Toronto statistics clearly show that elderly people are the principal victims on main highways, and children on residential streets; that only a small percentage of accidents take place within a mile of the driver's place of residence; that certain

Hospital Village

Under plans now being developed by the medical faculty of the General Infirmary at Leeds, England, the hospital is moving to the country, to become a new type of institute: the hospital village.

As centre of the health village the new hospital will have 500 beds. It will care for all the usual types of cases: general medicine, surgery, and so on. A further 350 patients, in need of medical care but not confined to bed, will live in hostels, or village hotels.

Workshops, set in park-like surroundings, will be open to convalescent patients, who will train themselves back to health while working at the bench, lathe, jig saw, loom, or pottery wheel. Those who are disabled will be taught how to regain use of their bodies by clever specialists in occupational therapy.

Part of the health village is to be reserved for handicapped children of the district who will be taught in the hospital wards and who, if able to get up, will attend the village school.

3rd Annual Concert Staged by B'burg Scouts and Cubs

Brownsburg — The third annual concert staged by the 1st Brownsburg Troop of Boy Scouts and the Wolf Cub Pack, which is directed by the Brownsburg Boy Scout Group Committee, was held successfully on Friday, April 26, in the Consolidated School.

Sam E. Rose acted as master of ceremonies and performed his duties admirably.

The program opened with the flag raising ceremony, followed by a "reasonable facsimile" of Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy. Handling emergencies was depicted by the Lion Patrol, led by Stuart Vary. Piano solos were rendered by Ralph Zimmer, Don Martin and Connie Hosgood. A burlesque boxing match was staged by Jimmy Hazel and Buster Smart. The referee was attacked by both contestants for trying to stop the bout. Bobbie Warwick's recitation of "Dad Bought a Car" was favorably received. A bridge-building display was completed on stage by the Scouts. Paul Ingram rendered some haunting Hawaiian music on the guitar. A demonstration of elementary work on parallel bars was given by a group of Scouts. Dean Prosser, as a flaxen haired siren, and George Pasco, sang a duet, which was applauded lustily. A First Aid display was staged by the Wolf Patrol. These boys really applied bandages and splints without hesitation.

An Advancement Review by the Scouts, with commentary by Scoutmaster R. B. Elliott, was found very informative. Tommy Goldthorpe rendered "Bell Bottom Trousers". The Bulldog Patrol staged an interesting display of signalling. Paul Zsombor sang an old southern song, accompanying himself on the ukelele.

The Cubs gave a demonstration of physical drill, led by Ross Keatley. A camp fire scene followed, with songs by Cubs and Scouts.

The public address system was handled by Dennis Staniforth.

Mr. Rose expressed appreciation to all who had contributed to the success of the program.

Piano accompaniments were played by Miss M. Cumbers.

The change in policy, having all items on the program given by the Scouts and Cubs, was favorably received by the audience, which numbered about 300 persons.

FIRST ALL EXPRESS TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT

HISTORY was made in Canadian commercial aviation recently by one of Trans-Canada Air Lines' big, four-engine, Lancastrians when it took off from Montreal airport on a special trans-Atlantic flight to Prestwick, Scotland, carrying an all express load, no passengers being aboard the plane. It was the first flight of its kind and was arranged to take care of the large number of shipments that had been flown to Montreal from as far east as Halifax and as far west as Vancouver by T.C.A's domestic service. Space for these shipments was not available on the regular trans-Atlantic flights notwithstanding a recent increase in schedules from three to four flights weekly.

Over 6,000 pounds of Canadian manufactured products made up the cargo, part of which is shown above being loaded into the aircraft from an express truck at the airport while the cargo agent and customs officer check each package. The shipments were distributed from Prestwick to various points in the United Kingdom, France, Belgium, Holland, Finland and India.

We must convince other nations of our good intentions while we keep an adequate defence against their bad intentions.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

The Anglican Advance Appeal

Canadians attending the Anglican Church throughout the Dominion will be invited to subscribe a total of $4,300,000 towards the objective of the Anglican Advance Appeal, from May 12 to 19.

The Montreal diocese objective will be $409,500 and this amount has been re-allotted among the Anglican parishes of the diocese.

Ten major items are included as reasons for the national objective of $4,300,000. They are as follows: Allotment of $1,300,000 to the pension fund; $1,400,000 for supporting and extending the work of the Church; $100,000 for educational work; $55,000 for social work; $100,000 to aid in restoration of Anglican Churches in Gt. Britain; $90,000 to assist churches in Europe ravaged by war; $205,000 for general synod administration purposes; $50,000 for extensions to Church House; $800,000 for diocesan local needs; $200,000 for the extension of organizations and administrations in the Dominion and the diocese for a three-year period.

As part of its plans the general committee has sent to all churches an outline of plans for organization and collection of subscriptions, pointing out that these can be made in four instalments divided over a three-year period.

W. W. Southam, Montreal Diocesan Chairman, has stated that every modern means of bringing this Appeal to the attention of all parishes will be utilized, and that the task of raising the Montreal objective will constitute a vigorous challenge to the people within the Diocese. He pointed out that at this critical period in history the strength of the Church and its work is a responsibility which all should share.

KNOW QUEBEC BETTER...

Weaving the Traditional Arrow Sash

Do you know Quebec? Do you know, for example, that the arrow sash (ceinture flêchée) is still woven by skilled fingers today? The history of this dashing adornment goes back to the end of the eighteenth century when it was introduced at L'Assomption as a means of identifying men from rival fur companies. Measuring 8 ft. long by 8 inches wide, with a two foot fringe at either end, braided from tough, hard wool in a design fixed by tradition, it is a thing of beauty much sought after by collectors and museums.

The arrow sash is but one branch of the handicrafts which the Government has encouraged by establishing 18 schools and 22 vocational centres. Successful exhibitions have focussed outside interest on the activity; department stores find a ready market for its products.

Once again, we have proof of the kind of planning that inspires mutual interest and therefore mutual respect, thereby contributing to the unity of purpose which will make Canada one of the world's great nations.

QUEBEC BUILDS FOR THE FUTURE

In 1608 Champlain brought the first colonists to Quebec. Today, Quebec's population is 3,000,000, her retail trade $800,000,000.00 per year. She leads all Provinces in the production of hydro-electric power, textiles, lumber, newsprint, footwear, processed tobacco, asbestos and aluminum. Natural resources, agriculture and transportation are being developed wisely. And now, Quebec, her people deep-rooted in the love of their homeland, prepares to share with her sister Provinces, Canada's bright and glorious future!

St. Andrews East—The annual meeting of the Bible Society was held Thursday evening in the Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Dr. Wm. MacMillan, president for the past year, in the chair. Lantern slides illustrating the life and work of the three pioneer missionaries who left Canada for foreign service — Geddes, the Gordons, and Evans — were shown by the travelling secretary, the Rev. John McNab.

The Y.P.C. joined in this meeting instead of following their usual program. Collections by the St. Andrews branch of the Society will be made later.

Mother's Day, Sunday, To Be Observed at Brownsburg United

Brownsburg — Youth Sunday was observed under auspices of the Y.P.U. last Sunday at the United Church, and several of the young people assisted the Rev S. J. Pike in the morning service, including the president, T. J. Carpenter, who opened the devotions and later in the service sang "The Stranger of Galilee". Keith Graham read the scripture lesson and four young ladies took up the offering. The Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies were also present with their leaders. Miss June Patterson, of Montreal, past-president of the Montreal Y.P.U., was the speaker for the occasion.

Go-Ahead to Secure Lot and Build New Anglican Church

At a congregational meeting at St. Simeon's Anglican Church last evening, called to decide upon proceeding on a new church building, it was resolved to dispose of the present building and site on Main Street, also the existing rectory, and to erect a new church and parsonage on an appropriate site elsewhere. The committee in charge was authorized to act accordingly, and to report on available lots which would be suitable for the purpose.

Contract for construction of the new church in accordance with the architect's plans was awarded to J. H. Pollock.

SHORTAGE OF TEACHERS

Recent reports tell of an alarming shortage of school teachers. The cessation of hostilities and the subsequent return of teacher-veterans has not, apparently, brought much in the way of relief to a situation that has been acute since the early days of the war. First of all, the teaching profession must be made attractive to the best of our young men and women. This can only be done by adequate salaries and decent living conditions. — Digby Courier

SOWING DISCONTENT

Today the years of centralization of industry have proven what was gained in greater production did not pay off in a happier life and method of living with those employed in the great units. It did not bring more contentment. Perhaps it had a distinct bearing on our present spirit of unrest in labor. At any rate the greatest unrest seems to be in the larger units of labor.

Talent Displayed in Amateur Show at St. Andrews East

St. Andrews East — "A good time was had by all", describes Saturday evening's concert at the town hall. Doubtless the sum of about $70 which was netted will provide a good time for a child in Europe, as the Y.P.C. sponsored this entertainment with that objective in view.

Miss Elsie Dorion, who contributed a vocal solo, tied with Laurie Gagnon of Montreal, violinist, for first place. Miss Dorion received a lovely blanket donated by Ayers Ltd., and Mr. Gagnon an album of records donated by Dupuis Frères.

Miss Steere, of Brownsburg, placed second, winning a pyrex casserole (Eaton's).

A vocal solo won third place for Murray Bryson — Scout knife (Miss T. Walsh and Mrs. R. Giroux).

4th, Isabel Morrison, vocal solo with guitar accompaniment — a pyrex teapot (G. Duhamel).

6th, Mr. C. Wheeler, Brownsburg, recitation — tie (Mrs. D. Morrison).

7th, Mr. F. Steere, Brownsburg, vocal solo — tie and shaving cream (E. Ladouceur).

8th, Joan Percival, Lachute, piano solo — cup and saucer (Bedard's).

9th, Mary and Margaret Robertson, vocal duet — toilet sets (Y.P.C. and Mrs. Burry).

Unranked were — the Dorman sisters, three boxes of Laura Secord candies (Y.P.C.)

Elizabeth Robertson and Jean MacAdam, vocal duet — boxes of stationery (Miss E. Walsh and David Larocque).

Betty Girling and Shirley O'Brien, vocal duet — necklace (Miss Audrey Eaton) and Chinese checkers (from "A Friend", Carillon).

O'Brien sisters, vocal duet — boxes of correspondence cards (Miss M. Walsh, Mrs. MacMillan).

As a number of performers were unable to attend, some gift prizes are on hand. At a future meeting of the Y.P.C. their disposal will be decided upon.

The very proficient master of ceremonies, Mr. Arthur Lefort, was presented with a fine crystal smoker's set.

The judges were the Rev. S. J. Pike, Messrs. René Giroux, Linton Armstrong, Mrs. Wylde and Miss C. Lavallé. Accompanists were Mrs. Thos. Webster, Mrs. J. S. Nickerson and Miss Mary Robertson.

Great credit is due to Mrs. Ross Hyde, convener of the committee, for procuring talent and prizes, as her efforts contributed greatly to the success of this project.

Human Negligence in Accidents

intersections show a frequent recurrence of similar accidents; that traffic signals based on insufficient warrants, increase accidents; that pedestrian accidents are more often than not the pedestrian's fault. These clearly point the way to remedial action of an engineering, educational or enforcement character.

And speaking of enforcement, at least in Ontario, one cannot help wondering at the preferred position occupied by the pedestrian. He is never charged with causing an accident. If he is run down, the daily paper the next day states Mr. So-and-So stepped from behind a parked car and was struck and seriously injured by a car proceeding in a southerly direction. P. C. John Law investigated and the driver was not held. But what of the pedestrian who caused the accident? In Denver some years ago it was reported that charges were always laid against the pedestrian in such cases, and just as a matter of record it was further noted that those appearing in Court with the most bandages usually drew the biggest fines. And then there is Cleveland, I think, where it was stated to be the practice to arrest a drunk on sight, on the grounds that he was an accident about to happen.

Much can be done by enforcement, but I take issue with my friends in the Ontario Motor League on their objection to police traps. This is a war; and in war, secrecy as to the number and disposition of your forces is of paramount importance. People react very quickly to fear of penalties, and I am sure that doubt as to when and where you are going to be checked up is more conducive to safe driving than a feeling that the sky is the limit so long as an officer is not in sight. This may be heresay, but nevertheless I feel it to be sound logic.

I have said little so far about the third "E", Education. Engineering and enforcement can do their part, but to education we must, I believe, look for our greatest progress. We must through education inculcate a safety consciousness that will be assisted by engineering and enforcement but which will not be dependent on it. Dr. Clarence M. Hincks, General Director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, in addressing the Board of Trade in Toronto recently is credited with the following statement:

"A small percentage of our population is responsible for a majority of our accidents.— This small percentage is known technically as accident-prone. Many of them became that way because they had never been given the opportunity during their childhood to make their own decisions."

I quote this to show that education as a medium for the effective reduction of traffic accidents may be a long and continuing job. Starting in the formative period of our mental process it would tend to produce alertness and a subconscious recognition of what to do and what not to do. It must bring about an acknowledgment by society that a breach of traffic regulations or the rules for courteous driving is antisocial and that a driver who habitually does those things and so deprives other drivers of their rightful share of the highway should be a social outcast just as much as the burglar or anyone else who takes what is not his. The man who exceeds the speed limit or parks in a prohibited area and gets away with it, is not a hero or clever — he is just mean, and should be so viewed, not only by those he embarrasses or endangers, but also by his associates. Perhaps some day evolution will produce a safety-conscious race. In the meantime these and other material phases of an educational programme can and will produce results. However, we as individuals do not have to wait, we can educate ourselves today and every day, if we take a leaf out of the Boy Scouts' Code; if we, every man, woman and child in the Dominion, every day as we pass through our front doors to pursue our daily tasks, say to ourselves, "Today I will be careful". With that universal mental attitude we could rest assured that the job of accident prevention would be more than half done.

Christianity sired democracy. Christianity sired human freedom. It gave democracy and human freedom to the world because it gave to the world the doctrine of the dignity of the individual, of the human soul, gave to the world the teachings of love, of mercy, of fair play, of compassion and pity, of individual responsibility.

"Skull Session"

The Richford, Vt., Journal-Gazette tells of the Richford firemen having a "skull session." To explain what this is, an excerpt from the article reads as follows:

The firemen are aware that they are unfamiliar with the interior of our mills, factories and large blocks in our village. Their first skull session was at Atlas Plywood plant, when they went through the plant to discover location of passageways, doors, etc., so in case they were called to such a plant they would know their way around. They plan to continue this study until the firemen become familiar with basements, location of heating apparatus, chimneys, communication doors, etc. They believe they can do a better job at fighting fire as well as give better protection to the firemen in case they were trapped within a building.

If the fire department knew just when and where they were to be called next, they could save all the bother by just visiting one building, but fire is always unexpected, therefore the department feel they should begin a course of study to acquaint themselves with the buildings they may be called upon to protect. — Granby Leader-Mail

HE FORGOT SOMETHING

Walkerton, Ont. (CP) — A local garageman is a trifle red-faced. A motorist who had a tire repair job done noticed considerable difficulty in steering. After everything else had been tried, a tire was taken off and it was found the garageman had left a 13-inch screwdriver between the tube and casing.

A Call to Action

addressed to All Members of the Church of England in Canada by

THE MOST REVEREND DERWYN T. OWEN, D.D., D.C.L.

Primate of all Canada

NEVER has humanity been in greater need of the Christian Gospel, the inspiration and guidance of Christian teaching and the Christian spirit.

To-day we give thanks for a physical victory over forces opposed to every Christian principle. But these forces must still be fought in human minds and hearts. The only new order worth building is a Christian order. At home and abroad, the Christian Church faces a renewed challenge.

That is why the Church of England in Canada is making an appeal to her people for rededication, self-sacrifice and constructive action.

This movement seeks to make Anglicans more truly Christian; to make them conscious of the historic mission of their church; to strengthen the spiritual, educational and social work of the Church at home and abroad; and to provide funds for additional Clergy, for the pension fund, for helping the Mother Church in England and the Churches in Europe in their work of rehabilitation, for providing youth training and leadership, and for assisting all Dioceses in meeting their local needs.

The Appeal was launched in our Churches on the Feast of the Epiphany, Sunday, January 6th, and will continue till May 19th. In its spiritual aspects it has already reached the homes of our people and its programme will continue over years to come.

During the week of May 12th to 19th, every member of the Church of England in Canada, so far as possible, will be visited by a fellow member, authorized to receive contributions to the $4,300,000 fund needed to carry out the financial program.

I bespeak from every one of our members and friends the earnest, prayerful consideration of this urgent need. I am confident that if every individual does his and her part, the combined objective of spiritual enrichment and financial support will be fully achieved.

Derwyn T. Owen

ORPHANS OF WAR FIND REFUGE ON ENGLISH ESTATE

Victims of Nazi Camps Regain Health and Happiness Under UNRRA Plan

Lingfield, Surrey, Eng. (CP) — Six hundred orphans who survived the horrors of Auschwitz, Ravensbruek, Dachau and Belsen are being nursed back to health and happiness in small hostels scattered over England.

More are arriving every day by British troop transport to fill the country's quota of 1,000 under a rehabilitation scheme sponsored by UNRRA.

Their lives have been saved but their future is still uncertain. UNRRA authorities said national and international laws make their adoption difficult, and so far no master plan has been made for them to re-enter a normal, civilized world.

Bedtime is the most poignant hour of the day for the 20 orphans, ages 4 to 18, housed here in the mansion of Sir Benjamin Drage. The children are happy and busy all day, but when games are put aside and each child is tucked into his own patchwork-quilted cot, the tiny faces grow wistful and thin arms cling around the necks of the older orphans acting as little mothers to the younger children.

Those of school age go each day to the little school in the village, where they are learning English.

They have not forgotten their experiences. One little 10-year-old girl cries bitterly at night. "Don't hurt my little brother — please don't take him away," she begs. Her brother cannot be found.

Under the care of the Jewish Refugee Committee, the children are being given all the love and attention possible. Their strongest characteristic is demonstrativeness and a craving for affection. Next in importance is pride of possession. Each child has his own clothes, pyjamas, bathrobe, slippers, toys and bedside table or some drawer where tiny possessions, free from prying eyes, can be hoarded and watched over jealously.

The Nightly Bath

And a hot bath every night is high on the list of wonders. A file of tiny bathrobed figures, eyes shining in their thin faces, cropped heads just sprouting down, trail Indian-fashion down the corridor on the way to the bathroom.

Six-year-old, curly-headed Judith, lovely little Viennese, rolled up the sleeve of her robe and solemnly showed me her "vaccination mark", the ugly numerals 1009 branded on the soft flesh. Twi minutes later she was happily playing fountains with her mouth-wash.

Straight-haired, solemn-eyed Tanja, six-year-old. German, has an uncertain smile that disappears so quickly you wonder whether it was ever there at all. Proudly she showed her snowy towel, hanging in a row of eight. The labels "Tanja," "Vicki," "Fritz," "Lizzi," "Zdenka," "Magda," are lovingly fingered. To belong to anything, even to a label, gives the children pleasure.

Found wandering over the battlefields or in the woods where they lived on roots and nuts, these children were transported to the camps from the Jewish orphanage in Theresienstadt, Czechoslovakia, after their parents had been arrested by the Nazis.

Offers of homes for these children have been received from all over the world, but cannot be considered for two or three years, according to UNRRA. It will take at least that time to trace any relations still living. Some of the children now in England are waiting for transport to take them to relatives in America or Palestine.

Some of Canada's young stars of concert stage and radio, who made their first appearance at the Manitoba Musical Festival, are seen in the National Film Board's new production "A City Sings", released in the Canada Carries On Series.

Hints for Homebodies

By Jessie Allen Brown

JUNCOS

We are frequently exhorted to put out crumbs for the birds in the winter. I must use the wrong kind of crumbs or put them in the wrong places because the birds never touch them, and it ends in me having a clean-up job to do to get rid of the untidy looking crumbs. Yesterday we had a fall of snow after having lovely warm weather. I noticed some birds in a cedar hedge just a few feet from our back door and I thought they might be migrating and finding it difficult to find food in the snow. So I threw out some crumbs once more and scarcely had the door shut when down flew two Juncos who eagerly picked up the crumbs. There were dozens of them around on the hill behind the house so several times throughout the day I added to the supply of crumbs and I never looked out but there were one or two birds having a meal. This morning when I first looked out there were several Juncos and a song sparrow having breakfast. The snow is white and unmarked except for a few feet around the spot I had thrown the crumbs and it was filled with foot-marks of the birds. We never seem to see the Juncos except in early Spring. They are such friendly little birds.

STRESS TASTE

The fact that a certain food is good for them is stressed too much in feeding children. Food should be eaten because it tastes good. In fact, a little reluctance in giving some of the foods they really should have might be a good thing. For instance raw carrots cut in match-like strips are a very good food and children should get plenty of them. They will eat them because they like the crunchy taste. Two teachers who run school cafeterians report that they cannot supply enough. They serve them as often as they can find time to prepare them and the youngsters will eat as many as they can get. They have a place in a school lunch which is carried from home. Crisp spinach leaves, turnip strips, lettuce, and wedges of raw cabbage are all good things to tuck in to the box of lunch. No matter how many carrot strips I put in the lunch they were all eaten, and sometimes I put so many in I was almost ashamed. Then I found that I was supplying more than my own lad's as the others liked them too. The lunch is an important meal for a child and great care should be taken in choosing the proper foods.

ASPARAGUS

Asparagus would be a welcome vegetable at any time, but coming as it does early in the Spring, it is even more welcome. Because of the long, late Spring in the Maritimes asparagus can be grown only in a very few sheltered locations, and I have only once been able to buy local asparagus. By the time asparagus gets from Ontario to the Maritimes, it has lost considerable of its flavor, and has added considerable to its cost. I certainly miss having plenty of good asparagus, but then, look at the lobster we get. You can't have everything in this world. It seems almost a shame with anything as delightful as asparagus to remind you that it is very good for us. It is a good source of vitamins A, B1, and C.

BEST COOKING METHOD

The tips of asparagus are very tender while the lower stalks are tougher and require more cooking. If both are cooked immersed in water, the tips are overcooked and apt to be broken, by the time the stalks are tender. To obviate this, tie the asparagus loosely in a bundle and put stem end down in the bottom part of a double boiler in about two inches of water. Invert the top of the boiler over this and boil until tender from 12 to 20 minutes. Add salt to the water, and for the last two minutes of cooking, slip the asparagus down so that it lies flat and the salt has a chance to penetrate all parts. If you have any doubts as to the freshness of the asparagus, a teaspoon of sugar added to the cooking water will make a great improvement to the flavor. Perfectly fresh asparagus does not require this. Use the water in a soup, or as part of the liquid for cream sauce to serve on the asparagus. For creamed asparagus, I like to cut the asparagus in inch lengths, and cook the lower ends of the stalks a few minutes, and then add the tips.

CANNED PINEAPPLE

My neighbor uses this method of canning pineapple, and the product is very delicious. I hope to do some this year. Cube the pineapple and put a little in a pint bottle, then add one-half cup of sugar. Fill the bottle with cubes, packing as firmly as possible. Process in hot water bath for a half-hour after the water begins to boil. No water is added as the fruit and sugar make sufficient liquid.

OATMEAL CRISPS

2⅔ Cups oatmeal, 1 cup brown sugar, ½ cup shortening, melted.

Mix the ingredients, using the hands to blend thoroughly. Spread as thinly as possible on a cookie sheet, pressing firmly together. in a moderate oven of 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Cut in squares while hot and let cool on the pan. Naturally butter tastes best but these days we have to use what shortening is available.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"The weather broadcast said fair, but you know we have such a poor radio set."

The doctor's son was showing a playmate around his father's office. The lad spied a mounted skeleton and asked where it came from.

"He's had it a long time. I think it's his first patient."

Watchdog!

Laden with luggage, the weary traveller sighed as he saw the empty parking space of the village station. He went inside and asked the station master where he could get a taxi.

"Just call 136," said the station master, pointing to a pay telephone booth in the corner of the dingy waiting room. The traveller called the number and got the expected answer: "Deposit five cents, please."

He obeyed, but something was wrong with the cash receiver. The connection was not made. He jiggled the hook and again heard: "Deposit five cents please."

Explanation was useless, even when the second nickel failed to register. Bertha was the watchdog of the telephone company's treasury and she was determined to let no unpaid calls go through.

The traveller hung up and explained the situation to the station agent who was starting to close his office.

"Come in here and use my phone," said the agent, opening the door.

Once again the traveller asked for 136. But Bertha was on the job and recognized his voice.

"Oh no you don't!" she exclaimed, and broke the connection.

The traveller eventually got his taxi by putting ten cents in the pay telephone box.

John Dunne Buys Partners' Interests, Argenteuil Arena

A meeting of the directorate of "L'Arena de Lachute Ltée," who operate the Argenteuil Arena, was held on April 26 last, at which time the resignations of Jerry M. Sauvé as secretary-treasurer and Edouard Latreille as director, were accepted. Pressure of business in Montreal forced these two officers to retire from the company, and their holdings were sold to John H. Dunne.

A new directorate will be elected during the course of this week, announcement of which will appear in The Watchman.

SPORTS CAMERA

By EDGAR SIMON,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Harry C. Hatch has probably amassed enough of the King's guineas in King's Plate purses to start himself a sterling bloc, but the Toronto sportsmen will be out for his third straight victory in the Canadian turf classic this year, along with jockey Bobby Watson who booted his last two winners home.

Winter-book odds have favored Kingarvie, chief standard-bearer for Col. R. S. McLaughlin's Parkwood Stable of Oshawa, Ont., but the combination of Watson and Hatch's Blue Sweep will merit considerable attention from the horseplayers as betting interest in the Plate quickens towards post time, May 25.

On hand at Toronto's Woodbine Park for his first look at Canadian racing will be Canada's new governor-general, Viscount Alexander. And racing enthusiasts all over Canada will be glued to their radios to follow the 87th running of the oldest continuously-run race on the North American continent.

Staged at a number of Ontario tracks in its early years before Woodbine became its permanent site in 1880, the Plate was first captured by J. White's Don Juan. The Hatch of this era, White took the Plate six times in 20 years.

Hatch's record stands at five victories in 10 years, but both he and White take a back seat to the Seagram Stable of Waterloo, Ont., which has won the classic 20 times.

One of the earlier renewals brought considerable excitement at London in 1865 when Free Press Bob, the winner, proved to be a "ringer" and was disqualified. The second horse, Spring, was also disqualified when his rider lost his lead pads and was unable to weigh in after the race. Lady Norfolk, finishing third, was eventually declared the winner.

Originally limited to Ontario-breds, the mile-and-one-eighth race now is open to three-year-olds bred anywhere in Canada and some Western Canada horses have contested the event since the Ontario restriction was lifted in 1943.

Shortest priced horse ever to win the Guineas was R. S. McLaughlin's Horometer, who also set a record for the mile-and-an-eighth distance at 1:54⅕ in 1934.

A 1-20 shot, Horometer helped the bookies forget their black year of 1942 when Maternal Pride came home at 92 - 1.

A 16-year-old monopoly of two provinces on the Memorial Cup title was unchallenged this season as Manitoba and Ontario teams clashed in the junior hockey final.

Since 1931 when Regina Pats took the crown, the two provinces have had the cup to themselves. Winnipeg Elmwoods, Monarchs and Rangers, St. Boniface Seals and Portage La Prairie have been the Manitoba winners and Toronto St. Michael's, Oshawa Generals, West-Toronto Nationals, Newmarket Redmen and Sudbury Wolves have been the Ontario titleholders.

Scientist Discusses Procedure and Implications of 'Splitting the Atom'

Principle Known to Research Chemists Since 1940, Claims Rotary Speaker; Secrecy Surrounds Only Mechanics of the Bomb

Brownsburg — At the regular Thursday dinner meeting of the Rotary Club held at Carriere's Hotel on May 9, members were forewarned of possible world destruction and yet inspired with hopes of vast energy "piles," heating whole cities or recovering the wealth of minerals from sea water. The story of Atomic Energy was given in a talk by Dr. Morris Wayman, of the research staff of Canadian International Paper Company, Hawkesbury. A graduate in chemistry from the University of Toronto, Dr. Wayman said he did not claim to be an authority on the subject but felt the "implications" were so far reaching, that public thought should be directed to this scientific marvel of our age.

THE IMPLICATIONS OF ATOMIC ENERGY

Power

In man's struggle for survival against the destructive forces of nature, the power of his good right arm has often proved inadequate. However, through his brain, man has been able to call other natural forces to his assistance. We use the wind to turn windmills. We generate electric power from falling water, or from the tides. More recently, photoelectric cells of great power have been developed which make possible good conversion of sunlight into electrical energy. A large part of our power comes from burning coal or fuel oils. These developments have meant great advances for mankind — they have released him from subservience to the whims of nature and have made possible a longer and more joyful life. For this reason we should welcome the development of a new source of power which we now have at our disposal, atomic energy. This source of energy is very great — perhaps limitless.

Source — Matter to Energy

We get this power by converting matter into energy. The fundamental fact on which this new development is based is that matter and energy are essentially equivalent, and that under proper conditions, one can be converted into the other. This was just worked out by Einstein more than 40 years ago, and his theories were proven in Japan last August. If we had a way of converting the whole mass of a pound of coal into energy, we would get as much heat from this one pound as we now get by burning 2½ million tons — a factor of 5 billion times.

Atoms

One of the ways of converting matter into energy on a large scale is by splitting atoms. — What are atoms?

Everything we see around us is made up of little bits of stuff called atoms. These are the ultimate finest division of any element — and usually occur together in groups of certain kinds. Take gasoline, for example. It is made up of carbon atoms and hydrogen atoms arranged in a particular way. When it burns, the oxygen atoms of the air attach themselves to the carbon atoms and to the hydrogen atoms and separate them, forming carbon oxides, and the hydrogen oxide we call water, This rearrangement produces enough energy to drive your car, but that is not very much by our new standards, and the amount of matter actually lost in the process is very small.

Atomic Structure

Atoms are not uniform masses, but are made up of simpler particles. At the center of an atom is a nucleus, which contains almost all the weight of the atom, and around this nucleus revolve lighter particles called electrons. In 1911 Rutherford, the British scientist who worked at McGill for some years, compared the atom to the solar system, with the nucleus like the sun in the center, and the electrons revolving around it like planets. The nucleus (the sun) and the electrons (the planets) are charged with electricity. Because of these electric charges, electrons can be split off atoms rather easily.

Splitting the Atom

But that is not what we mean by "splitting the atom". That popular phrase refers to splitting the nucleus. The nucleus of the simple atoms is solid and substantial and hard to split. But the largest and most complex atoms are not so stable, and in fact their nuclei split spontaneously to give off particles of matter and beams of energy.

Weekly 'Hops' to Conclude Saturday

The final event of the season's "Saturday Night Hops" sponsored by Lachute Women's Institute for the youth of this community, will be held Saturday, May 18, at the Auditorium. As a special attraction, Lowe Bros.' Orchestra will provide the music; and as usual, refreshments will be provided in conclusion. The dance will be held between the hours of 8.30 and 11.30 p.m.

Members of the committee who arranged these affairs express satisfaction with the outcome. There has been a good response, and they appear to have filled a need among the age groups represented in the attendance. With the experience gained this season, the Institute plans to organize for a still more successful effort next winter.

Earns Promotion In Edmonton

David C. Raitt, a resident of the West who is cordially remembered by many older citizens of Lachute, was recently promoted in the employ of the City of Edmonton, to the position of superintendent of the city light department. Dave Raitt, son of the late James Raitt, formerly resided here and was active on the ice in Lachute's roaring hockey days. He and his wife returned from the West for a visit last year.

TO SHOW CRAFTS OF PUPILS STUDYING DOMESTIC SCIENCE

The Household Science department of Lachute High School is holding a demonstration on Friday, May 17, at 2 p.m.

Pupils of Grades VII to XI will display their handiwork of the past year.

Parents and friends are invited to attend. Tea will be served.

MOTHER'S DAY TEA CLOSES ACTIVITIES OF C.G.I.T. GROUPS

After a very successful season, the senior and junior branches of the C.G.I.T. held their closing event of the year, the annual Mother's Day tea, which took place in the United Church hall last Saturday.

Tasteful decorations were arranged, and about 60 persons sat down to supper.

President Helen Underhill, of the senior group, extended a welcome and proposed a toast to the King. The Junior Group president, Jean Underhill, also extended a welcome.

A toast to Mothers was proposed by Villa Murdoch, responded to by Mrs. Theo Murdoch. The Guests were toasted by Mary Lou Hooper, and Mrs. Stewart Campbell made the reply. The W.M.S., parent society of the C.G.I.T., was toasted by Betty Brown, with Mrs. Rupert Bradford, president of the former society, responding.

A review of the year's work was given by Mrs. M. Lyster, co-leader of the C.G.I.T. Mrs. H. Jacobsen, leader of the local C.G.I.T., expressed her appreciation of the assistance given by willing workers throughout the year, and formally resigned from the leadership of the group. An appreciation of Mrs. Jacobsen's effort on behalf of the girls was voiced by Mrs. R. Bradford and Mrs. W. K. McArthur.

The girls, mothers and guests concluded the gathering with community singing.

NOVICE HORSEMAN HITS THE TURF

Paul Rochon, a well-known figure on Main Street, was thrown from his horse while riding one evening this week, but luckily suffered only minor scratches and ripped trousers.

The incident, as reported by his companion riders, happened as the horse started to kick and buck. Rochon managed to quieten his mount but a few minutes later it reared again and Rochon, losing his balance, was thrown over the animal's head. Luckily, he managed to fall alongside rather than in front of the horse, and this no doubt spared him more serious injuries.

Rochon assured his friends this was the first and last time he would go horse-back riding.

BARN, LIVESTOCK DESTROYED BY FIRE AT ARUNDEL

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — Arthur Burns suffered a heavy loss here on Sunday afternoon, when fire destroyed his barn and most of the livestock.

Oldest Resident, Mrs. Jos. Bedard, Dies at Age 96

The death of Mrs. Joseph Bedard, the oldest resident of Argenteuil County, occurred yesterday morning at the home of her son, Aquila Bedard, on Main Street, Lachute.

In her 97th year, she had been in indifferent health for the past few years.

Mrs. Bedard had spent her entire lifetime in these surroundings. The former Angele Labelle, she was born at St. Andrews East, where her father, Paul Labelle, was a blacksmith to the pioneer populace of that countryside. In St. Andrews, among her youthful contemporaries were the late Jack McGibbon of Lachute, and the late William Todd of Lachute Road, figures both notable for their longevity but who in the latter years have passed to their reward. At 16 years of age Angele Labelle came to Lachute to reside with a sister, and around the age of 17 she was married to Joseph A. Bedard, a merchant of the town. In her married life she took active part in the affairs of her church and community.

She is survived by her four daughters, Mrs. E. L. Denis, Mrs. J. A. Deschambeault, Mrs. E. C. Ricard, Mrs. Donat Dubé, and her three sons, all well known citizens of this town, Aquila, Geoffroy and E. Chas. Bedard; also several grandchildren.

The funeral rites will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in Ste. Anastasie Parish Church, interment following at the west end cemetery. The remains are resting at the Menard & Menard funeral home on Foundry Street.

CARL SEALE, DIS'T DEPUTY, VISITS MASONIC LODGE

Argenteuil Lodge, Lachute, of the Masonic Order, was officially visited by the District Deputy Grand Master, Rt. Wor. Bro. Carl Seale, on Monday evening of this week.

Grand Honors were extended to the guest by a large attendance of brethren, after which the first degree of the order was exemplified. The officers of the lodge were congratulated by the D.D.-G.M., who also expressed his pleasure at being present with so many old friends. Rt. Wor. Bro. Carl Seale was accompanied by his father, a former D.D.G.M., Rt. Wor. Bro. J. E. Seale, also of Morin Heights.

The Master of the Lodge, Wor. Bro. Geo. Rodger, extended a welcome to the honored guests.

After closing of the session, the members assembled in the hall for social fellowship.

Several Army Men Aboard Troopship

Due at Halifax today aboard the Ile de France were the following army personnel from this district, whose names appeared on the official sailing list:

Spr. L. W. Elder, Lachute Mills; Pte. E. Legault, Brownsburg; Pte. W. Aubin, Lachute Mills; L/Cpl. A. Daviau, Grenville; Sgt. J. L. Judd, St. Eustache; Pte. A. Prevost, Lachute.

New Transport Bears Advertising For Local Company

Favorable publicity for Lachute as an industrial town will result from an addition to the fleet of transports operated by Boyd's Lachute Express Ltd. A new trailer made its appearance on the highways recently bearing an advertising display for J. C. Wilson & Co., paper makers, for whom the express company does regular freighting. The brand new tractor and trailer are the last word in modern transport construction; the interior of the trailer is handsomely finished, and the Wilson signs, listing the various paper products and featuring the company's crest, are well done.

Together with the familiar Ayers transport operated by Boyd's Express between here and Montreal, this will do much to publicize Lachute as an industrial centre.

FIREBOX LETTER LATE

Regina (CP) — A letter marked "found in fire alarm box" was received by Mrs. Katie Erina of Hamilton — just six months late. City firemen found the letter in a small space just under the top of the box during an inspection.

The returning soldier this time wants a hand in building a world that works — not a hand-out from one that doesn't.

New School Bus In Service for Chatham Route

The school municipality of Chatham last week acquired a bus for the conveyance of children to Lachute — a vehicle which cannot fail to remove the drudgery from schooldays, and which will undoubtedly thrill every little passenger that climbs aboard.

The bus, which is the property of the Chatham School Board and in charge of Alvin Heatlie, who has had the driving contract for some time past, went into operation on Monday morning. Its ample accommodation, modern construction and smart appearance are in keen contrast to the privately owned vehicles used on seme of the Lachute school routes.

With easily adjusted windows, it will provilde adequate ventilation in summer; and for the colder months, there is an effective heater. For safety purposes there is a large emergency door at the rear. Entry is made at the front of the bus, where the door is operated by a lever within reach of the driver. On a Ford truck chassis, the body is all-steel and designed for the specific purpose of a school bus. There is seating capacity for 40, but on its first demonstration trip last week, it seated 50 young children comfortably. Later a total of 90 piled in for a ride "around the block". The bus is painted light green and presents a business-like appearance.

Cost of the new autobus was $4,800 — towards which it is expected the Department of Education will give substantial assistance.

GEORGES HEON, M.P., PRESENTS CHARTER FOR LEGION MEMORIAL CAMPAIGN AT BROWNSBURG

Explains Purposes, Aims and Legal Technicalities Behind Campaign

Brownsburg — The Legion's drive for funds to erect a War Memorial Hall was officially launched at a public meeting in the Social Club on Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance to hear Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P., explain the purpose, aims, legal technicalities and authority of the committee appointed to undertake the work. Through the good offices of Mr. Héon the committee obtained from the Federal Government a charter under the War Services Act of 1939 enabling them to proceed with the collecting of funds.

Frank E. Earle, president of the Lachute branch, was on the platform to support the venture, and several prominent citizens were present, evidencing their sympathy with the movement.

"Jack" Seary, president of Brownsburg Legion, opened the meeting as chairman. He recalled that after the last war it was the hope of the returned men that a suitable meeting place where thy could come together for recreation, business and education might be erected in Brownsburg. Some abortive attempts were made, but nothing developed as a concrete fact to fill the need. Since their return from the last war the idea was on their minds that a hall should be erected, he felt it was badly needed and he was pleased that now their desires were on the way to fruition.

Mr. Seary then introduced Mr. Héon, in his capacity of trustee of the fund.

Mr. Héon, in opening his remarks, stated in connection with the campaign that, although this project is undertaken and sponsored by the Brownsburg Legion and most, if not all the work, will be done by the members of the Legion — nevertheless, the organization and control of funds were under control of a distinctly separate organization, namely the Brownsburg Canadian Legion War Memorial Fund. This organization was in turn responsible to the Federal Government, and the funds collected to be consecrated solely for the purpose for which the charter stipulates.

The Federal Government thus provided a guarantee for the public, that the money would be spent solely for the purpose for which it was donated.

Further it is charged that no collector can request a donation unless such collector is authorized by the three persons set down under the act. The three persons in whom this authority is vested are Mr. Héon himself, Mr. Georges E. Dansereau, M.L.A., and Mr. James McGibbon. While the administration of the fund was safeguarded by these guarantors, a further registration had to be made under the act by which Mr. Dave Cooper and Mr. Héon would act as treasurers of interim accounts.

It has also been stipulated that, in the event of an adverse report by the auditors, the charter shall be subject to termination by the minister, and the fund may then be administered for whatever purpose for the public good the minister decides.

The charter states that the amount is for the sum of $35,000. After making the legal position clear, Mr. Héon viewed the work before the organizing committee. It was "a great and noble, but a bold venture . . . . The building of a memorial of such worth will take the energy, inspiration and determination of a loyal and willing organization. It will also take disappointments before you put it across. The great thing is to put across the idea of what is going to be done. The work of the organization must be before the minds of the people, their cooperation must be obtained and uncertainties and doubts must be clearly and promptly attended to. The work which is now being undertaken — the building of a memorial —must be an ideal . . a crusade with a purpose. We forgot after the last war the ideals which our boys fought for, the purposes for which they laid down their lives, and the trust which they placed upon us to carry out the work they left unfinished." Mr. Héon cautioned that the building of this memorial requires the cooperation of all the people of Brownsburg, and they must work together and work hard before the memorial is completed. "It will not be built by a few; it is the litte man who fought the war, who ensured us freedom and prosperity, that will have to build it, and possibly pay for it also."

Dave Cooper, president of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, received the charter from Mr. Héon, and on behalf of the committee sponsoring the memorial project, thanked him for the trouble he had gone to in connection with the matter and for having come down from Ottawa to present the charter at this meeting.

Speaking on the business of the meeting Mr. Cooper said that "we who remember are privileged to give". Some people thought the objective was too high; but if 300 families each gave $100 donations, then the work would be accomplished. He had in mind that the memorial might take the form of the Chamber of Remembrance as in the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa, reproduced in miniature. The object was a memorial, and it must be borne in mind that an honored place must be reserved for this main object; other additions are merely incidentals.

Frank E. Earle also addressed the meeting and issued a warm welcome to the members of the Brownsburg Legion to call in at any time to the branch of their comrades at Lachute.

The proceedings closed with the national anthem.

Members of the Women's Auxiliary served refreshments, under the able guidance of Mrs. Harold Mason, president.

Before Britain Lifted Bars

Eleven hundred Jews aboard a schooner at La Spezia, Italy, stated that they were "determined to blow up the ship and themselves" if barred from proceeding to Palestine, according to the head of the Italian Zionist organization. They stated further that if British authorities continued temporizing them they would again go on a hunger strike. The refugees come from many parts of war-torn Europe and, strangely enough, not one of them speaks Italian. The photo shows how the ship is used as a home and the dock as a place of recreation, sunbathing and for the hanging wash. Britain finally allowed their admission.

Former H.S. Principal Addresses Banquet for '46 Graduating Class

Lachute and County School Commissioners Among Guests; Clifton L. Hall Talks on "Graduation in A Post-War World"

The annual graduation banquet for the Grade XI class of Lachute High School was held at the school last Friday evening. On this occasion the pupils of Grades IX and X were hosts to the graduating class, the teachers, the local and county School Boards, as well as many other friends of the school.

Grade X class president, Donald Wilson, acted as toastmaster, and on behalf of his classmates welcomed the guests and expressed regrets for some friends who were unable to be present. The toast to the King was proposed by the Principal, and was followed by the singing of the national anthem. Toasts to the Graduating Class and to the Guests were proposed by Kenneth Dawson and Grant Riddell, respectively; these were replied to by Peter MacGibbon, class president of Grade XI, and Mr. E. K. Wilson on behalf of the guests. Ernestine Cooper, a member of the graduating class, proposed the toast to the School, to which Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, chairman of the local School Board, fittingly replied.

The guest speaker of the evening, Mr. C. L. Hall, was introduced by Frank Bedard. Mr. Hall, a former principal at Lachute for 12 years, spoke on "Graduation in A Post-War World." He pointed out to the graduates that an "investment" had been made in them — that investments must pay "dividends" and they would therefore have to see that the dividends they were able to return were high. Furthermore, he stressed the need of high school graduates in this post-war era in order to help replace the heavy losses sustained during the war years, when so many of the most promising youth of the land had lost their lives.

Mr. Hall expressed the hope that those graduating had learned several things from their school life which were not actually included in the textbooks. Among these he hoped they had acquired "a breadth of mind" and developed a "clear vision and a healthy skepticism". The lessons of this past war have shown that all people have their rights, and that we must consider not only those who are known to us, but also be tolerant to all peoples and creeds. The speaker expressed the desire for "a deepened humanity" and hoped that the pupils had developed this not only in the classroom but also on the playing field. Mr. Hall was thanked by Donald Hooper.

Following the banquet the guests enjoyed dancing in the school music room — where decorations had been most attractively arranged by the pupils, with the help of some outside friends of the school.

Community Affairs At St. Andrews E.

St. Andrews East — The Citizens' Committee having located a suitable field for a sports ground, the matter of reserving the "Common" for a park was brought before the Council at their meeting on Monday evening, May 6. By a majority vote the Council decided to allow the use of the common for sports.

The C.N.R.'y notified the Council that their petition to continue the Sunday trains throughout the year, was received too late to comply. The rail schedule had been made up some time before. . . . This summer the Montreal train will arrive Saturday afternoon instead of at 7 p.m.

Car Stolen Twice, Quick Succession

An unhappy experience occurred to Melville Trickey, a resident of Brownsburg but latterly of Montreal. Having recently recovered his car after it had been stolen, he was disconcerted the following day to find it missing once again!

Provincial police recovered the automobile and returned it to the owner after the original theft. Then, parking outside his home in the city, Mr. Trickey returned to find the car had again disappeared. He communicated with the police and eventually traced the car to the city garage, where patrolmen had towed it after noticing the license number corresponding with one previously reported stolen.

When the owner asserted himself and claimed his car had already been returned to him, no evidence could be found on the record to prove it. However, it turned out that the city police department had received notification by teletype, but in some way their system had slipped up, and the information had not been relayed to the radio patrol cars.

After much trouble and delay Mr. Trickey recovered his car — also collected damages for the lock, which police officers had forced to examine the interior.

Bus Terminal for Ste. Agathe, Que.

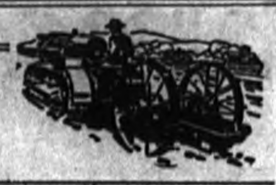

The opening of a new motor coach terminus at Ste. Agathe is designed to keep pace with the increasing importance of the town as a hub of bus services for the Laurentians, according to officials of Provincial Transport Company.

The terminus provides off-the-street embarkation facilities for from 15 to 20 buses at a time, and will be used both by the Provincial Transport services running between Montreal, Lac Tremblant, St. Donat, Ste. Agathe and other Laurentian points and by the services of Carier and Frère which pass through Ste. Agathe to and from Val d'Or and other principal mining centres of the Abitibi district.

The terminus is located in a newly completed building of the Mount Royal Dairies Limited and, in addition to providing a modern waiting room and rest rooms for travellers, it will offer a milk bar for light refreshments.

Poisoned Bran for Cutworm Control

In cutworm control, it is important to be prepared for their attack at the first of the season, because cutworms are usually active and feeding before most crops are even in the ground, says Alan G. Dustan, Dominion entomologist. Poisoned bran bait has given the most effective control for many years. This bait is made up of bran 25 lb., Paris green one pound, and water about two and a half gallons.

The dry ingredients should be mixed thoroughly first. The water is then added to the bran and Paris green. In mixing the bait, add only enough water to make the material the consistency of wet sawdust. Do not make it sloppy but have it so that it will crumble in the hands and slip through the fingers easily.

Land that was heavily infested last year should be treated before the plants are set out. This is done by broadcasting the bait 15-20 pounds per acre a few nights before transplanting. One application should be sufficient but, if the cutworms are very numerous, a second should be made two or three days after the first. Always spread bait in the evening, just before dusk, and choose a warm, still night for this work.

If the attack is unexpected and the plants are already in the field, the bait should be applied around the base of each plant, using about half a teaspoonful per plant. A second treatment may be made two or three nights later.

Best Seed Potatoes For Home Garden

Table potatoes should not be used for seed; only certified seed potatoes should be planted. Such potatoes have been inspected twice during the growing season and again after harvest by qualified inspectors of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Only potatoes found to come within the standards set by the Department are permitted to be sold as seed. Genuine certified seed can be obtained from seed stores. All packages of 10, 15 and 25 pounds will bear a sticker giving the name of the variety and the certification number. Bags of 50 pounds or more have a government certification tag attached, giving the name of variety, the certification number and the date of inspection. There are two sizes of certified seed — 1¼ to 3 ounces, and 3 to 12 ounces. Either size is suitable for the production of table potatoes.

Potatoes should be planted in a well prepared soil. Tubers of 3 ounces or more should be cut into pieces called sets. Each set should contain at least one eye, and should be blocky — not sliced thin. The sets can be placed about a foot apart in rows 4 inches deep and 28 to 30 inches between the rows. If a horse-drawn cultivator is to be used, it may be necessary to place the rows 30 to 34 inches apart. Planting should be done early in May.

Overpaid Farmer Returns Surplus

Twin Falls, Idaho (CP) — Arch Coiner, Twin Falls county farmer, took a disc plow he didn't need to a farm auction and left before another farmer bought it for $227.50.

"Too much," said Coiner when he heard about it. Then he sat down, wrote a cheque for $50 and asked Mrs. Bill Hollenbeck, wife of the autioneer, to mail it to the buyer.

"Now I can sleep well tonight," he said.

Challenge of the North

ANNOUNCEMENT that the Canadian Army, which recently took over the Alaska Highway from its American builders, will employ civilians for maintenance crews, represents the latest call for service in Canada's rugged northland.

Those who answer the call will be the type to whom the North ever has held an irresistible lure — the young adventure-hungry, intrepid men willing any time to exchange the smoke and din of the city for the pure air of the high forest, men born to see what lies back of beyond.

The army men and maintenance crews will work in one of the wildest and most beautiful parts of Canada. To them, such places as Blueberry, Muncho Lake, Summit Lake, Suicide Hill and Steamboat Mountain will become familiar.

Along the highway itself lie resources to be discovered. In the area it serves, thousands of square miles of territory challenge the aerial mapper and the ground surveyor. Farther north, along the rim of the Arctic, vast riches in oil and minerals await the hardy prospector and developer. No one yet has mined the copper Samuel Hearne discovered in the Great Bear Lake area 150 years ago. Canadians have barely started to exploit the commercial possibilities of fishing in the cold northern lakes.

Already the foundation has been laid for a new era of development. The expedition of Exercise Muskox added to Canadians' knowledge of little-known sections of the north. The expanding work of the re-organized Dominion Meteorological Service takes more young Canadians into the Northland. The part aviation and radio will play in the future can only be imagined.

The old pioneering spirit that spread civilization and industry over a wilderness of rock and bush lives again in Canada's North. Young Canada, imbued with the daring and stamina handed down from its ancestors, will answer the new challenge.

The People's Main Concern

PARLIAMENT goes solemnly about its business. The Dominion Cabinet and the premiers of the provinces gravely discuss their common affairs. We suspect that the Canadian public have an attitude of more than a little indifference to it all.

What the average Canadian wants, and wants now, is lower taxes. Specifically that means lower income taxes. He sees that the war has been over for a year, he feels that if Government spending is not away down it ought to be, and he wants a substantial tax cut effective right now.

— Ottawa Farm Journal

Ottawa and Succession Duties

TIME MAY YET prove that Duplessis and Drew were right in preventing the Federal government from taking over succession duties and other tax gathering powers that probably would have continued for all time — says the Granby Leader-Mail.

No one who has had any dealings with succession duties would like to see this continue longer in Federal hands. The Notaries Association of Quebec has already gone on record as protesting at the length of time taken by the Dominion Government in settling estates, but they did not tell the whole story (the editorial continues). . . .

The troubles of settling an estate have always been legion, and in the last few years, it has been necessary to submit two reports, one to the Provincial and one to the Federal governments. The length of time taken by the provincial government to appraise an estate has been considered too long; while the time taken by Quebec is about three months, Ottawa takes a minimum of six months, and in many cases much longer.

But that is not all. Ottawa charges five per cent interest on the duties from the time of death until the duties are paid. Inasmuch as this delay is the fault of Ottawa, and is altogether too long, this added imposition of five per cent interest is just too much of a good thing.

In all cases, this long delay is annoying, but when the estate consists of a small business, which may be tied up for the best part of a year, it is in many cases disastrous to that business.

* * *

The really sad part of the picture is that the man who pays the bills, the taxpayer, was entirely overlooked at the Dominion-Provincial conference, which presented the appearance of a number of ghouls squabbling over the spoils wrung from the taxpayers.

If the break-up results in Ottawa awakening to the need of a little more economy, and puts the brake on too much social legislation, it will have been a good thing.

Implications of Atomic Energy

Radio Activity

This was discovered to be true of uranium in 1896 by Becquerel, a French scientist, and we call this radio activity. Radium, discovered by Pierre Curie and his Polish wife Marie, is another example. In their spontaneous splitting, radium or uranium lose weight and give off energy. But when these atoms split they only split off a small fragment — a chip, we might say, leaving the larger mass of the atom in one piece, so that only a relatively small amount of energy is given off.

Fission

But in 1938 Otto Hahn, a German chemist, found a way of splitting uranium nuclei in almost equal halves. In this split there are many chips given off and very large amounts of energy. Other elements — such as Thorium will also undergo fission.

Neutrons

The method of splitting the atom is rather simple. One of the fundamental particles of which any nucleus is made up, is the neutron, so called because it is not electrically charged, that is, it is neutral. Because they have no electrical charge, neutrons are not deflected by the electric fields of any atom, and hence make very penetrating bullets with which to attack nuclei. They are easy to make. In fact, some are floating around in the air all the time. When a neutron is fired at the nucleus of one kind of uranium, U235, the nucleus splits, and a very large amount of energy is given off.

The Chain Concept

Not only is energy given off, but also more neutrons, which keep the ball rolling. This keeping-the-ball-rolling is called a chain reaction. A piece of pure Uranium 235 will keep on splitting faster and faster until it is all split, and enormous quantities of energy are given off. The chain reaction is so fast that it is an explosion, and U 235 is excellent material for atomic bombs. The gathering of the rare U 235 was one of the major undertakings connected with making atomic bombs in the United States of America.

Plutonium

The more common type of Uranium, U 238 will not split when attacked by neutrons. Instead, if conditions are right, it captures the neutrons and undergoes a series of chemical changes which produces a new element called Plutonium. Plutonium is remarkable in that it behaves just like U 235. The making of Plutonium is the main endeavor of the United States atomic bomb factories, and is one of the main tasks of the Chalk River plant in Canada. The advantage of Plutonium is that it makes possible the use of whole uranium.

Atomic Bombs

What is an atomic bomb?

An atomic bomb as we know it today is essentially a piece of U 235 or plutonium, equipped with suitable devices for preventing a premature explosion, and for initiating an explosion when one is wanted. The piece must be of such a size and shape and must be surrounded by suitable materials to keep it exploding when once the explosion has started. Nothing has been made public about the mechanics of the bomb. That is the big secret.

The Secret

It is to be made perfectly clear that the mechanics of the bomb is the only real secret we have. All the fundamental principles necessary to produce the atomic bomb were well known to the whole scientific world in 1940, and no country can claim them for its own.

On the Shortage of Cedar Bird Houses

Montreal (CP) — Another housing shortage has cropped up. The Province of Quebec Society for the Protection of Birds is worried — good bird houses come under the current shortage list.

Time was when the society could get a gross of good British Columbia cedar bird houses every year for its members. Now bird lovers are entering their third year of a shortage of B.C. cedar shingles and again the feathered friends will have to do without new cedar homes.

Now is the time of year to put bird houses in the garden. Miss Theodore Lambert, a member of the society, has looked over the housing situation in a number of Montreal pet shops and found a wide variety of houses — but none of cedar.

Some of them are very artistic from the outside, she said, but every bird lover must look them over carefully to make sure the inside is suitable.

Apparently, it's important to have rough wood on the inside walls so that the birds can get out properly. Most of the store-bought houses now are of bark, scrap wood and odds and ends.

The Society goes by a National Parks Bureau table with strict rules for the making of bird houses.

It's more fun to give than to lend — and often costs about the same.

During the past month, the 1946 Woodstock Town Council has pressed forward a vigorous campaign for the collection of back taxes and water rates owing to the community, and in the course of this campaign both the council and the town's officers have been the target for some criticism. It seems reasonable to believe that even though this criticism was evidenced, the majority of citizens, since it is in their own best interests, are in favor of the town council's policy. CHILD IN MISHAP WHILE ALIGHTING FROM SCHOOL BUS

(Our District Correspondent)

Calumet — Penny Foreman, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Foreman, escaped serious injury on Friday afternoon returning home from school. Whether she fell from the bus or whether she disembarked safely and then was struck by an oncoming truck, seems to be a point of confusion in the mind of the young victim and spectators. The mishap occurred in front of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Robinson's house, where the child was carried and first aid administered. Later a doctor, summoned to the scene, reported her suffering from shock, but aside from being very badly bruised, she was otherwise unhurt.

The funeral took place on Wednesday last from the home of his sister, Mrs. Jolin, at Lachute, to the Church of St. Philippe — interment being made in the adjoining cemetery.

Mother's Day Services And Christenings at Morin Hts. Churches

(By Our District Correspondent)

Morin Heights — The Mother's Day service was observed in the United Church on Sunday morning, when the Sunday School pupils took charge.

Mr. J. D. Davis, superintendent, acted as leader. Miss Barbara Brown read the scripture lesson. Miss Lillian Mangeau and Miss Doreen Elder gave readings on "My Mother". Peter Hannah, Huntley Seale, Eric and Richard McCullough also read portions of Scripture. The junior girls expressed a welcome in verse, to the large attendance of parents and children. The offering was received by senior S. S. members — Huntley Seale and Eric McCullough, after which the Rev. S. Rowe spoke briefly on the observance of Mother's Day.

At this service the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Hannah was christened; the child was given the names Duncan Gerald.

Flowers were placed on the altar in memory of Mrs. Arthur Davis.

• • •

At Trinity Church the Rev. C. W. P. Baugh also conducted a Mother's Day service. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Da Rold was christened, receiving the names of Susan Louise — the latter name having been carried forward to the fourth generation. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watchorn were the godparents.

Medical Couple from China, at St. Andrews Thank-Offering Meeting

(By Our District Correspondents)

St. Andrews East — The Easter thank-offering service of the W.M.S. of the United Church was held on Sunday evening, May 5. Miss M. L. Lamb, vice-president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Nickerson was orangist. Girl Guides formed the choir, assisted by Mrs. F. Robertson and Miss Elsie Dorion, and they contributed an anthem during the offertory. Guides Mary Robertson and Margaret Robertson received the offerings.

The guest speakers were Dr. Janet Wang and her husband Dr. C. J. Chen. Dr. Chen's address dealt with the hardships — such as cold and insufficient food, and separation from family — endured by the students of China during the war with Japan — and the difficulties encountered, such as lack of books, laboratory equipment, and long treks to West China from occupied provinces. Dr. Wang spoke earnestly and gratefully of the devoted service of the missionaries which led to her conversion to Christianity. She is happy in her chosen profession and hopes to be of great service when she and her husband return to their native land, not only in healing bodies and minds but also in saving souls.

A vote of thanks from the auxiliary and friends was moved by Mrs. Lilly.

Fireside Hour Enjoyed By Evening Worshipers

The old hymns were sung and enjoyed with enthusiasm by a large group who assembled in the church hall after the Sunday evening service at Lachute United Church.

Many old favorites were requested for the singsong and the group responded well. During the interludes, a contralto solo was sung by Miss Elva Ness, "Teach Me to Pray", a poem was read by Miss Mary Scott and two selections were sung by Ruth MacKimmie and Wayne Riddell.

Light refreshments were served by members of the Y.P.U.

Mother's Day Services Strike Impressive Note In Brownsburg 'Crusade'

Brownsburg — Continuing special services under the auspices of the Crusade Committee — on Mother's Day, last Sunday, the program issued by the Religious Education Council was followed at the morning service and the theme used by the Rev. S. J. Pike was "Crusading with Christ in the Home".

With a capacity audience again at night, the minister was assisted by talent from Montreal, including a ladies' quartet — Mrs. W. Robertson, Misses B. Wallace, Olive Skieth and Mary Moon. They were accompanied by Mr. Wallace Robertson in two numbers, "God's Love" and "Motherhood." Mrs. W. Robertson sang, as a solo, "Mother Dear". The Rev. R. G. Burgoyne, also of Montreal, spoke from the text, John 19:26, "Behold Thy Mother". During the course of his sermon Mr. Burgoyne gave some touching incidents of his prison work, in which he has been engaged for the past 25 years, in seeking to reconcile young prisoners with their homes and mothers.

Another pleasing feature of the service was a presentation made to Mr. A. W. Hamilton in the form of a music edition of a special sacred song book — "In view of his good-will visits", as Mr. Pike said in making the presentation. Mr. Hamilton, while taken by surprise, replied in a suitable manner. . . His son, Ian, and Mrs. A. D. Richie, also accompanied the group from Montreal — who, with the members of the choir, were entertained in a social way at the manse following the service.

NON-SMOKERS HAVE RIGHTS

The deluxe, streamlined cars which many railroads are planning sound very inviting. But a continuing flow of letters from our readers makes it plain that no number of new features designed for their comfort will offset the discomfort of being constantly subjected to tobacco smoke and smell while travelling.

Exports of Canadian produced penicillin have been made to many foreign countries. Indicative of the practically world-wide demand, air shipments of penicillin from Canada have been made to Poland, Iceland, India, and China.

UNRRA is building penicillin production units in Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, and the nucleus of the technical staffs for those units is being trained in a Canadian laboratory. Equipment is also being obtained in Canada for the units.

What Every GO-AHEAD FARMER Should Know . . . .

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS
Today, scores of farm improvements can be undertaken by farmers even though they may not have the ready cash.
How?
By borrowing under the Farm Improvement Loans Act from the Bank of Montreal.
The Farm Improvement Loan Plan is too detailed to set out in full, but here are some typical questions about these new loans and the answers to them:—
Q. What are Farm Improvement Loans?
A. They are advances authorized under the Farm Improvement Loans Act for the assistance of farmers who want to make their farms more productive, more profitable, more comfortable and convenient. These loans are obtainable at the special loan rate of 5% simple interest.
Q. How much can I borrow?
A. Up to $3,000, depending on your requirements for farm improvement.
Q. For how long can these loans run?
A. Generally speaking, for longer periods than have hitherto been possible. In certain cases, repayment may be spread over as many as ten years.
Q. How do I repay?
A. By monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual instalments . . . the terms are flexible and depend on your particular requirements . . . they can be adjusted to meet your convenience and individual circumstances.
Q. For what purpose can I get a loan?
A. For any of those mentioned in the check list in this folder and for numerous others. Like other farmers, you have your own particular plans and problems and we, at the Bank of Montreal, will be glad of the opportunity of working them out with you.
Q. Are there any other bank charges besides interest?
A. No . . . except for the interest, there is no fee or service charge of any kind made by the Bank.
Q. Is it true that a loan can save me money?
A. Yes. By enabling you to improve your production and by assisting you to install labour-saving equipment, a Farm Improvement Loan can actually earn money for you. Furthermore, it can make it possible for you to take discounts by buying for cash — a saving that is in many cases more than enough to cover the interest charge.
Q. How do I go about getting a loan?
A. Call on the manager of your nearest B of M branch. You will receive a cordial reception and will find a genuine desire to assist you. Naturally, your affairs are discussed in the strictest confidence and you need have no hesitation in "laying your cards on the table".

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Mother's Day Theme, Maple Ave. Baptist

Brownsburg — Mother's Day was celebrated with appropriate services at Maple Avenue Baptist Church. In his sermon, based on John 19:26, "Woman, behold thy son", the pastor emphasized the importance of the childhood of Jesus. "Childhood and motherhood are glorified for ever by the fact that Jesus was a child and Mary was his mother", he said. "If you are ever tempted to speak lightly of those things which concern motherhood, remember that you are dealing with something which God instituted and which He honored by His participation." The Rev. Mr. Leaton went on to deal with what he said were the three most important factors in life — our relation to God, our relation to other people, and our attitude towards ourselves — indicating the part that a mother can play in fashioning young lives aright. "Woman behold thy son. What kind of a man will he be? And what of your daughter? They will be largely the men and women that you teach them to be. The child who is obedient to an earthly parent will the more readily render obedience to the Heavenly Father. The child who is considerate of brothers and sisters will more perfectly understand a larger brotherhood. The child who respects his own person will be respected by all."

Several children took part in the evening service, which was arranged to celebrate the completion of the Junior B.Y.P.U. missionary project. In their monthly "missionary night" meetings these boys and girls have raised $25 to further the missionary cause in Bolivia, India and the homeland. In order to bring this before them in concrete form and to keep a chart on their progress, they have applied "bricks" to the sides of a model church at 10c a brick. The congregation, on leaving the church building were able to view a very effective tableau consisting of the model completely bricked and lighted, while behind the table three boys held placards bearing the names of the three mission fields.

Sunday Schools Organize, Grenville and Chatham

The Baptist congregations at Grenville and Chatham West are very hopeful about their latest venture. For years there has been no Sunday School of any kind in these places and no religious instruction for the children apart from a few minutes in the course of the regular services. Some families have partly overcome this lack by a correspondence Sunday School course.

Last summer, however, classes were arranged for the children at Grenville preceding the afternoon service, and more elaborate plans have been made for this year. The school is already in progress with an enrolment of more than 20, and interest growing.

The school at Chatham West is entirely new. In this case the whole congregation remains after the 2 p.m. service, dividing up into three classes. For the present the Bible Class is operating as a discussion group until the pastor is freed of some of his other duties.

"Farmers' Electric Supply" Gives Local Service on Refrigerators

DEALERS IN MANY ELECTRICAL LINES FOR FARM, HOME AND BUSINESS

Under the name of "Farmers' Electric Supply Reg'd" a business designed to meet the growing trend of electrification, especially among the farms of this district, was started here last winter. The firm, associated with Lachute Electric Reg'd and Farmers' Supply Company through its two partners, Aime Pregent and Jim McOuat, ties in admirably with the electrical business and the farming community. The proprietors maintain a fully equipped shop at the Farmers' Supply premises, and they offer the public something really new to Lachute — all-round local service on any type of refrigeration unit; this will obviously save the expense of servicing from the city.

Farmers' Electric Reg'd is selling commercial and domestic Kelvinator refrigeration equipment — including house and hotel refrigerators, quick-freeze units for the home, reach-in boxes for restaurants and hotels, walk-in boxes for butcher shops, dairies, fox and mink farms, and milk coolers for the farmer. . . . Another line, the Gem milk cooler, is procurable with or without automatic controls, while Surge and Conde milking machines are also for sale, and replacement parts supplied in time of need. Moffat electro pails and other electrical appliances are handled — all of which are coming back into production.

For home entertainment, Stewart-Warner radios and phonograph attachments are a popular line featured by this firm.

"Get the best things first — get them at Farmers' Electric", is the slogan with which Messrs. Pregent and McOuat are out to promote big sales; and both fully trained and familiar with the lines they sell, they offer service "Any make, any-where, any time".

Aime Pregent is well known hereabouts as a qualified and careful electrician. He has tackled big contracts in wiring plants and public buildings, and in erecting power lines for rural electrification.

Jim McOuat, son of Ralph McOuat, was employed four years at the Vivian Deisel Works in Vancouver, apprenticed as a machinist and Deisel stationary engineer. He then served three years in the R.C.N.V.R. as chief engineer aboard a rescue tug running out of Newfoundland.

Why Anglicans must raise $4,300,000

IN ORDER to strengthen the arm of the Church and enable it to meet the challenge of postwar needs with intensified effort at home and abroad, members of the Church of England in Canada are asked to provide the sum of $4,300,000.

This money is urgently needed to carry on the Church's educational and social work in Canada.

To meet Diocesan and general synod needs as well as the expenses of organization and administration.

To carry on missionary work at home and abroad, to assist the Mother Church in England and the Churches of Europe in their work of rehabilitation.

To strengthen the pension fund for missionary clergy.

The money will be allotted in the following way:

Pension Fund	$1,300,000
Missionary Work	1,400,000
Educational Work	100,000
Social Work	55,000
Church in Britain	100,000
Churches in Europe	90,000
General Synod Administration	205,000
Extension of Church House	50,000
Diocesan Needs	800,000
Organization and Administration	200,000

Spiritual re-dedication must bear fruit in self-sacrificing practical endeavour if the Church is to meet its Christian obligations.

Be prepared to lend YOUR support to the limit of your ability when the Visitor calls during the week of May 12th to 19th, or mail your offering to your Diocesan Headquarters. 1A-46

HAWKESB'Y BRIDE AND HUSBAND TO RESIDE IN WEST

Ingram - Kelly

The marriage of Miss Lois Margaret Kelly, daughter of the late Fred W. Kelly and of Mrs. Kelly, Hawkesbury, Ont., to Mr. Henry David Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ingram, Milestone, Sask., took place very quietly Saturday afternoon, May 4, at the home of the bride's mother. The Rev. Dr. B. T. Holden officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Mr. Alvin Kelly, was attended by her sister, Miss Gwendolyn Kelly, as bridesmaid, while her two younger sisters, Misses Joan and Jean Kelly, acted as flower girls. Mr. Will Proudfoot was best man and Miss Doris Kelly, another sister of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride chose a gown of white silk crepe with full skirt and fitted bodice; her fingertip veil was arranged in halo effect and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue crepe cut on princess lines and carried pink and white gladioli. The flower girls were a picture study with their white Swiss dresses smocked in pink and blue, and carrying bouquets of spring flowers.

Immediately following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served, after which the happy couple left for a short honeymoon, the bride travelling in a powder blue dressmaker suit, blue hat and veil, with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram will reside in Saskatchewan.

"Cackle Berries"

By Edna Jaques

There is a core of old fashioned common sense in a hen.

Early to bed, early to rise is her motto. She scratches for her living and looks after her chicks with motherly care.

As a rule she gets her day's work done in the morning and has the rest of the day to herself, just to do what pleases her fancy. Maybe she'll rest in the shade of the buggy, dust her feathers in the flower bed, or just shop around the farmyard looking for tender morsels of food and add sugar and spice to her diet.

The only boasting she ever does is a few shrill notes when she's laid an egg. Perhaps she knows how important her contribution is to the welfare of mankind. . .

She's important to our export trade, too. S. C. Barry, associate chief of poultry marketing service, said recently, "Canada's present market in Britain for grade A eggs is almost limitless". In 1945 the major part of 90 million dozen eggs imported into Britain came from Canada. He pointed out that if the British people in the years ahead ate just one more egg a week than they did before the war, it would take just twice our present surplus of eggs to provide it.

In 1945 Canada produced 395 million dozen eggs. This was 34 million dozen above the 1944 figures.

In 1946 it is estimated the output of eggs will be about 17 million dozen less than in 1945.

During 1946 exports of dried egg powder will total 11,200,000 pounds — equivalent of over 33 million dozen shell eggs.

Since 1940 a total of 267 million dozen eggs have been shipped to Britain from Canada.

We think our lowely hens have stacked up a war record that will be hard to beat.

Besides this, the general pricing regulations in Canada have been satisfactory to the extent that they have been mutually agreeable to both consumer and producer.

Not only that, but stabilized prices have left less of a spread between winter and summer prices and have enabled farmers and producers to plan better.

The hen is an old fashioned lady, but we like her.

By Jessie Allen Brown

NO HAMBURGER

Here is a little story I heard up in Moncton. Doughnuts and coffee were being served at the Moncton station to returning men on their way through. There is a diner just across from the station. Two young airmen with grins on their faces said to one of the women when she was serving the doughnuts, "our hearts are broken. We have been let down". When she asked what the trouble was, they told her they had gone across to the diner to get a hamburger and couldn't get one because it was Friday. When she asked if they had meat on the train, they said they had, put they had promised themselves that the first thing they would get when they arrived in Canada was a hamburger, and they had been waiting for that hamburger for so long. What a let-down! Anyhow, they would not have to wait long, so maybe they had it in Montreal on Saturday.

THE VIRTUES OF SKIPPING

Sometimes you hear people say with such smug satisfaction "that they never skip a line" when they read. Personally, I skip whenever I feel like it. There are many reasons for reading. Most people read for entertainment, amusement, or relaxation. If what you are reading does not provide any of these, what is the virtue in reading every word? Why not skip until you come to a place that does provide what you are looking for? Sometimes you read for information of a general nature and you may be very much interested in a part of a book but the remainder leaves you cold. There again, why not skip? Sometimes you read to study some one thing thoroughly. When you have mastered that and you are not definitely interested in the next chapter, I can't see the sense of wasting time on it. I am one of those persons who can always find time to read — no matter how busy I may be. J. V. McAree once wrote that rather than read nothing he would read the mail-order catalogue, or a railway time-table. Lacking all else I have read both at times. Sure, I skipped, but I found plenty of interest in the parts I did read.

STUDY THE ADVERTISEMENTS

There are many good food ideas to be found in advertisements. Some of the colored illustrations are really works of art. Color should be a definite factor in our own cooking. Just now I saw a meat advertisement with a picture of a stuffed roast of veal. The dresing had three green cucumber pickles in the centre. They add color and would give a different flavor. This particular dressing was made with bread crumbs but these days when we are all trying to save using too much bread, it would be a good idea to make the dressing with oatmeal in place of bread crumbs. I particularly like a dressing with a few currants added to it with veal. Just make your usual dressing, onions, herbs and all and add a handful of currants. If currants are not available, raisins may be used. I have used raisins with the oatmeal dressing and it is really good. A boned rolled shoulder of veal makes an inexpensive roast to stuff and is almost as good as the more expensive leg. Another picture in this particular advertisement was of a veal loaf with pimento stuffed olives added. Added color and flavor again. A row of hard-cooked eggs down the centre of a meat loaf makes it more interesting. Papers and magazines have plenty of good food ideas free for the trying.

BUTTER SAVERS

A request has come in for some suggestions on what to serve company without using butter. I can only tell you what I do and hope it may prove helpful. I lean heavily on cheese and crackers (round ones if I can get them). Frequently I use a sandwich spread; I have given you this recipe before but as it is specially good and keeps well I will repeat it. Either cream cheese or the spread can be used without butter. If you want a bit of decoration a slice of stuffed olive in the centre, or a wreath of chopped parsley around the edge, or just sprinkled over the cheese, adds to the scenery. When I use plain cream cheese I often put a dab of carefully hoarded jelly in the centre. Cheese and jelly are always good together. These days my company is most apt to get Sponge Cake, Chinese Chews, or Meringues for their sweet, as none of them require butter.

SANDWICH SPREAD

1 Tablespoon sugar, 1 egg beaten, 1 tablespoon flour, 4 tablespoons vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt.

Mix sugar, flour, and salt, rub smooth with the vinegar, then add beatten egg and cook in double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Add 4 oz. package of pimento cheese, 1 can pimento chopped, and stir until dissolved. Remove from the heat and stir in 2 hard-cooked eggs and ⅛ bottle of olives, chopped. The last twice I have made this I have omitted the olives and thought it an improvement.

SPONGE CAKE

4 Eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon of lemon essence, dash of salt.

Sift the cake flour, then measure and add the remaining sugar gradually. Add flavorings. Fold the yolks into the whites, then sift in the dry ingredients and mix with a folding motion. Pour into a pan, preferably a tube pan, and bake in a slow oven of 325 degrees, about 45 minutes. A sponge cake pan should never be buttered but if it once has been greased then it must be buttered each time. Invert the cake on a rack or place the edges of the pan on two knives and let stand till cold when the cake will fall out with very gentle loosening. This method of mixing is slightly different than the old way and I have never had a failure when using it.

What a relief it is when you have deposited your money in the bank! No more worry lest it should be lost or stolen! You need only keep a little ready cash in your pocket or in the house. Bills can be paid by cheque and your cancelled cheque is your receipt.

When the teller hands you your pass book, you glance at the balance and know to a cent how much money you have. You are so accustomed to your bank's accuracy that you seldom bother to check the figures.

The very fact that you—and some 5,000,000 others—take all these conveniences as a matter of course is a daily demonstration of your confidence in the dependability and efficiency of your bank.

HOLLYWOOD MOVES TO JASPER PARK

Bing Crosby and Joan Fontaine Stars in Big Production

Jasper Park, Alta. — Hollywood moves to Jasper National Park late this month when Paramount sends a company and production crew totalling 180 persons to this famous resort in the heart of the Canadian Rockies to film exteriors for "The Emperor Waltz", gay production with a background of Vienna and the Tyrol.

Bing Crosby and Joan Fontaine, who will star, will head the cast at the location.

The region was selected by the studio because of its scenic beauty and the picture will be filmed in technicolor. Paramount's experts considered Jasper National Park the only mountain and lake area on the continent to compare with the Tyrolean Alps, which is the locale of the sequences to be filmed.

Crosby and Miss Fontaine will enact love scenes at Maligne Lake and other spots in the park, and the lake will resound with Crosby's love songs and other musical numbers especially written for the picture.

The "Emperor Waltz" is set in Vienna of 1906. Crosby is cast as an American phonograph salesman who in the course of trying to sell Emperor Franz Josef, portrayed by Oscar Karlweis, a phonograph, meets the Countess, Joan Fontaine. The love story of the American "Commoner" and the titled Viennese lady is set against a colorful background. The scenes to be enacted at Jasper represent a Tyrolean village, a hotel and the Emperor's hunting lodge.

The Winnipeg Boys' Choir, long one of the most popular choirs participating in the Manitoba Musical Festival, appears in "A City Sings", produced by the National Film Board in the Canada Carries On Series.

New Directors Named for Arena

At a meeting held here recently, two new directors were named to l'Arena de Lachute Ltée., which operates the Argenteuil Arena. They are John Pariseau and Joe Berniquer, two well known local business men and sports enthusiasts. The former is connected with the restaurant business in Brownsburg and has recently branched out in Lachute by leasing the Arena restaurant for a period of three years. A modern, up-to-date restaurant is now under construction and will be rushed to be in readiness for the opening wrestling show on May 24. Joe Berniquer, another well known Lachute resident, is in the radio business. Joe formerly starred for Lachute High School in hockey and track, and he will assist John Dunne in his coaching duties to the Lachute Hockey Club next season.

Arena Pot-Pourri

The lobby of the Arena is being completely changed, as promised, and a ladies' rest room will be one of the many innovations included in the plans.

The wrestling card for the first show, as mentioned in the Arena advertisement, will be publicized on posters early next week. The prices are moderate for this type of a show, and public reaction should be favorable.

Many other shows will also be brought here throughout the summer season, provided they attain a certain standard of amusement and entertainment.

Brownsburg Plans Civic Reception In Honor of Returned Servicemen

Committee Named on Council Initiative To Arrange Dominion Day Gesture — Occasion of Social Club Annual Picnic

Brownsburg — A public meeting convened at the instance of the Brownsburg Municipal Council was held at the Social Club on May 17 for the purpose of electing a Citizens' Committee to organize a civic reception for returned Brownsburg war veterans.

Mayor J. Donaldson was in the chair. There was a large attendance of the general public, in addition to representatives of the various service organizations, to assist the councillors in the business of the meeting.

The Mayor explained roughly the purpose of the meeting, and then called on Councillor Norman Somers to convey the feeling of the Council on the matter.

Mr. Somers said that for some time the Council had felt a civic reception should be held to welcome the boys returned from overseas, and along these lines had received many letters urging such action; these letters were from private individuals as well as service organizations in Brownsburg.

The Council was glad to accept responsibility for this initiative, he said, but felt that a committee should be formed who are closer to the desires and problems of the returned veteran, who would prepare plans and organize the reception.

This meeting had been called to select such a committee, and the Council recommended the committee be composed of six members and a chairman, whose duties would be to work up first the details of the reception, which would be approved by the Council, and the committee to be given full powers to carry on after that approval has been received.

The Council had the following further recommendations to make:

1. That the reception be held Dominion Day, since Dominion Day is Canada's national holiday and the logical time for a function of this sort. The Social Club have been approached to determine if such a reception could tie in with the Social Club picnic, and have determined that there will be two hulls in the picnic program, during which the picnic committee would be happy to co-operate, namely from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. or from 3.30 p.m. to 6 p.m.

2. The Council would recommend that only veterans who have enlisted from Brownsburg, be included in this reception.

3. That any money required for expenditure in connection with the reception be raised by the committee, by whatever means they deem adequate.

Mr. Somers further recommended that this general meeting avoid detailed discussion on what form the reception should take, and devote its efforts entirely to the formation of a committee, and give that committee full support in order to put the reception across successfully in the short time available.

Nominations

Mr. M. V. Trayers was unanimously elected to act as chairman of the Citizens' Committee. (Mr. Trayers was not present at the meeting and it was therefore not possible to obtain his comment on his choice as chairman).

The chairman then suggested that the committee be formed of volunteers, in order that a good organization could be obtained of willing workers who would have the time to devote to the job. Subsequently, on a suggestion of Mrs. Mason that some women be included, the chairman called for nominations.

The following were elected on the committee: C. Moseley, N. Somers, Jules Lemay, C. Wheatley, Mrs. N. E. Smillie and Mrs. W. Fletcher.

New Structure For High School At Buckingham

Concrete is being poured this week on a fine new structure for the Buckingham High School. The school is being erected on a new site, previously occupied by one of the spacious McLaren residences, which was demolished. Cost of the building will be in the neighborhood of $200,000, the plans including 12 classrooms, domestic science and manual training quarters, basement playrooms, and a combined gymnasium and assembly hall of ample size.

A county school board, similar to the organization recently formed for this area, is now in progress of formation at Buckingham, where there are 15 municipal school districts which might be included in the central educational body.

Capt. J. D. Weir To Retire from Transport Dept.

Capt. J. D. Weir

The man who played a major role in making the St. Lawrence the best lighted waterway in the world, is ready to call it a day after 42 years' service as superintendent of lights and buoys, and now Montreal agent for the Department of Transport — says a fitting tribute in the Montreal Star, referring to the retirement of Capt. J. Davison Weir, a well known son of Argenteuil County.

There are few skippers and pilots who don't know Capt. Weir — the article continues. Through the years he has kept the slogan "the sun never sets on an unlighted buoy in the St. Lawrence" a reality and a safeguard to mariners in all types of weather. In his 42 years there hasn't been a major accident in the river due to faulty aids of navigation.

Now, he feels, the time has come to step down and at the end of the season he'll go into retirement far from the brightly lighted river that has been his first love. Many of the buoys that now dot the inland waterway are his own invention, some of which have equals nowhere in the world.

Winter Buoys

Among his inventions are the winter buoys that replace summer navigation aids removed in the fall, and the can spar, a revolutionary aid for inland navigation. Of the many winter buoys placed at the end of the season only 15 per cent are not in place when the time comes to pull them up in the spring. Of these only three per cent are not recovered.

The buoys cost $1,500 each and they are recovered by cables drawn from the sterns of government vessels during the season. They are fished out as soon as the master of the ship gets a "bite" and are taken to Sorel and readied for another season. It is the most unique operation of its kind in the world.

Capt. Weir comes from a family of seafarers. His father, Capt. Thomas Weir, was a master mariner and a shipbuilder. He sailed with his father for many years, entered the towing and wrecking business, and finally received his first government appointment, as master of the lighthouse tender Maisonneuve. His ability as an expert on aids to navigation was responsible for his appointment in 1909 as assistant superintendent of lighthouses for the Montreal district. In 1913 he was superintendent of construction and lights.

300-Mile Route

Capt. Weir's territory is a big one covering more than 300 miles of waterway, several hundred buoys of every type, and his division has some of the finest buoy service boats in the world.

Mariners call Captain Weir "the silent worker" and few know the long days and nights he spent perfecting the St. Lawrence River buoy system. He knew that one misplaced light meant his career and possibly the lives of men as well as ships and cargoes. He made it a point to have skippers report any light or buoy out of place and immediately on being notified he despatched a special vessel to service it.

At his office on the Montreal waterfront, where clanging winches and shrill whistles are heard throughout the day and night, Capt. Weir is finishing out his final months in the service.

"I can't say I won't miss being here," he said to an interviewer, with more than a little regret. "It has been a great experience, one that few men would not regret leaving. But my time has come. Now it is somebody else's turn."

Bear Trapped In Avoca District

(Our District Correspondent)

Avoca, Que. — A bear was trapped in this vicinity Saturday evening last, by Edward G. Young and Clarence MacLeod.

Having seen the bear molesting their sheep, the pair both took a shot at the animal but missed. A sheep and six lambs had been killed in their flocks, and incensed by this loss the men followed the trail and set a trap, in which the marauder was caught that same night.

It is reported a number of bears and wolves have been sighted recently in the surrounding country.

$300 Top Price Paid at Ayrshire Calf Sale Here

The "Laurentide" Calf Sale, an auction of purebred Ayrshire heifer and bull calves held at the exhibition grounds here last Saturday, proved a successful event in spite of unfavorable weather conditions. Sponsored jointly by the Laurentian and the North of Montreal Ayrshire Breeders' Clubs, this was the second annual event of its kind.

Average price paid for the 40-odd animals sold by Wilfrid Marcoux, auctioneer, was $90. The top price of $300 was paid by J. H. Black, of Lachute, for Mille Roches Léonne, raised by R. Trepanier, Oka, and a daughter of Carnell Jack's Choice.

The inclusion of five young bulls among the animals for sale, was an innovation in this year's list. They found a ready market at good prices.

Credit for the success of this event is due to the president, Maurice Joubert, and the sales secretary, Felix A. Hungerbuhler; these men, with the able assistance of W. Erskine Rodger, handled most of the details and arrangements of the sale.

Through limitations of space, the complete list of animals, owners and buyers is held over for later publication.

This picture is not an exaggeration. The infants and children who have no more to wear than this little babe run into the hundreds of thousands in the war-devastated areas of Europe. They need serviceable used clothing which can be supplied to them through the National Clothing Collection for overseas relief to be held June 17-29 under the auspices of Canadian Allied Relief. This worthy campaign will be conducted on a nationwide basis.

Todd, at present at Debert Camp, N.S., has been awarded the Canadian Efficiency Decoration. This award is given for long and meritorious service in the Canadian Army. Capt. Douglas Todd, well known hereabouts, is with the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers.

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — Officially this community has no "Clean-Up-Week", but within the last few weeks people have shown they are all for it. With new hedges and fences going up, lawn mowers and clippers kept busy, and individual grass and rubbish fires — Arundel is living up to its happy reputation as "such a clean, pretty village".

Stubborn Blaze In Mill Section

A property belonging to A. Denis on Ayers Street, Lachute Mills, was the scene of a stubborn blaze last Friday evening. Fire broke out around 6.40 o'clock in a section of the property occupied by J. Bisson, and had gained considerable headway on arrival of the fire brigade. Sheds adjoining on two sides, and another building in close proximity, caught in the blaze, and the firemen laid three lines of hose to combat the spreading flames. The building in which the original outbreak occurred was sheeted with galvanized iron, and the firefighters had difficulty in reaching the focus of the fire.

Authority Reviews Development Of a Local Product, Blasting Fuse

Rotarian John Chalmers, Speaker, Is Plant Manager at Brownsburg

Brownsburg — At the regular Thursday meeting of the Rotary Club last week, Rotarian John Chalmers, manager of the Canadian Safety Fuse Company, Brownsburg, gave a talk on the Fuse Industry.

The speaker was born in Markdale, Ontario, and received his early education in Owen Sound, later graduating in chemical engineering from Queen's University. He joined the staff of the Canadian Safety Fuse Co. in 1933 and became manager in 1939. . . Mr. Chalmers was introduced as speaker by Stewart Jones, of Lachute.

Safety Fuse is a device used in commercial blasting to set off a charge of powder. The word "safety" in the name is not without much meaning. Today safety fuse is considered safe enough to ship parcel post through our mails.

This is quite different from the early days — but to go back earlier, in the days of the pyramids, stone was quarried with hammer and chisel, and the use of wooden wedges or plugs which were soaked with water, causing expansion which split the rock. In 1627, in Hungary, gunpowder was first used as a blasting charge. The hazard was enormous. However, methods of boring for charges were not developed, and use was limited. Half a century later, the tin mines of Cornwall began using black powder to do their heavy work. When it is considered that the only light in the mines was given by candles, the hazard of powder can well be imagined. Some device is imperative to prevent the blast destroying the person igniting it. The first attempt at fuse, was a train of open powder to the main charge. The next step was to pack the powder into straw, reeds, and and later goose quills, nesting into each other. The accident rate was extremely high.

The sight of so many accidents led William Bickford, of Cornwall, England, to try for better methods. He first tried bagging the powder in paper, but really hit upon the solution when he visited a rope factory. He funnelled powder into twisted strands of hemp rope, coated them with water-proofing varnish, and in 1830 patented "Miners' Safety Fuse".

This fundamentally is the method used today, although much science has been added to obtain accurate timing and even greater safety through standardized, dependable quality manufacture.

All safety fuse was imported into this great mining country of ours, prior to 1919 when the Brownsburg company was instituted. It now employs about 60, and is proud of the fact that no major accident has occurred from powder in 25 years.

The blasting charge has changed from black powder to a nitrocellulose powder, used in the form of dynamite. This has further increased the safety of mining. Dynamite requires a detonating cap at the end of the safety fuse, to set it off.

The Cornishman's dream of greater safety has thus been accomplished.

Mr. Chalmers was thanked by fellow member Tom Hall.

During the meeting, President Sam Ross told of his visit to the Rotary Club of Sherbrooke and the cordial reception he received. This completes a tour of clubs, in cluding Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Brockville, Valleyfield, St. Jerome, Hawkesbury and Westmount, durwhich several ideas were obtained by the charter president, for the local club.

Service Club Bowlers Regaled at Tuesday Session of Lachute Lions

Harris Sherwood, Rotary President-Elect, Is Guest Speaker — Reviews History and Growth of Brownsburg's Major Industry

Members of the local Service Clubs Bowling League were guests of Lachute Lions Club at their regular meeting, held at the Lachute Golf Club on Tuesday evening. A warm welcome was extended to the visitors by Lion President Leopold Carriere. Following the dinner and a brief business meeting Lions Jack Giles and W. M. Steeves were elected as delegates to attend the district convention to be held at Niagara Falls, June 23 to 26. The distribution of trophies to winners in the Bowling League then took place.

Presentation of Trophies

The Lions Club annual trophy, given to the team in first place at the end of the schedule, was won by the Rotary team. The trophy was presented to D. Lepine, captain, by J. S. Giles.

The Rex Theatre annual trophy, to the champions, was won by Knights of Columbus Blues piloted by Gaetan Cousineau, and presented by the donor, Angelo Fassio. Six trophies, also given by Mr. Fassio, were presented to members of the team — Gaetan Cousineau, Vienny Racine (captain), Reg Courtien, Ronald Hebert, Jules Lemay and Dick Neveu.

A special annual trophy given by Messrs. D. Lepine and Ira McFaul to the team recording the highest string of the year was won by the Lions, with the amazing score for a five-man team of 1264 — which means 253 average for each man — a record for local bowling. The trophy was presented to Fernand Legault, captain of the Lions team, by Mr. J. Roy, a guest from New Westminster, B.C.

Marcel Deschamps, of the Lions team, won trophies for the highest average of the league, 214; highest single of 336, and highest triple of 786.

Ronald Hebert, for having highest average of the play-offs and second average of the year, was voted the most valuable player to his team and was presented a special trophy donated by Dr. Jules Lafleur.

Ira McFaul was presented with a special trophy donated by President Lion Leopold Carriere for the following achievements — the only player of the league who missed no games throughout the season — also bowled the highest single of the team 326, and the lowest of the team 56, and was voted the most valuable player of his team.

A special trophy given by Adelard Ouellet was presented to Fernand Legault, captain of the Lions team, for having bowled one night with his fur coat on and 104° fever, having been in bed when called for duty to replace an absent player; and for outstanding contribution to his team.

A special trophy was also given by Yvanhoe Chevrier for the loudest partisan of the leagues; a draw was made between D. Lepine, Dr. Jules Lafleur and Gaetan Cousineau — and President Lion Carriere drew the winner, Dr. Lafleur.

Leonard Ayers was voted the most valuable player of his team and received a special trophy donated by Gaetan Cousineau.

Marcel Deschamps, organizer of the Service Clubs Bowling League, acted at Master of Ceremonies for the trophy presentation.

Harris W. Sherwood, president-elect of Brownsburg Rotary Club, and assistant works manager of the C-I-L, gave an interesting address on the early days of the company, and its activities and growth. The speaker was introduced by Lion Dr. A. R. Coté.

Referring briefly to the origin of the Hamilton Powder Company in 1862, Mr. Sherwood touched upon historical highlights in regard to the powder industry at Brownsburg. These may be briefly summarized as follows:

1878 — Dan Smith, a forebear of Dr. Willis Hooper, went to the United States and returned to start up a black powder mill on the property of George Brown, from whom the name of Brownsburg was derived. George Brown, by reasen of his daughter's marriage, became related to the McGibbons of Lachute and Brownsburg. The mill produced one keg of powder per day.

1882 —His business was purchased by the Acadia Powder Company and dismantled. Dan Smith was given a job and shares in the Company — became wealthy— retired in Kingston.

1887 — Nobel magazine located on Bain property in Brownsburg. The magazine was originally in Montreal and was first moved to Carillon, and later to Brownsburg. This was due to the existence of a law in England which required no explosives to be stored within 50 miles of the King's palace. A similar law was passed in Canada. This magazine had nothing to do with the ammunition factory at Brownsburg.

1887 — Ammunition Plant of Dominion Cartridge Company established at Brownsburg. In 1886 Captain (Gatling Gun) Howard was imported from the United States at the time of the Riel Rebellion, and he later interested the Hon. John Abbott, Hon. John Hamilton, T. C. Brainerd and others in the starting of an ammunition factory in Canada.

There were then fulminate of mercury buildings, which had been erected by the Canadian Government, at Brownsburg, and due to this and the fact that there was water power at Brownsburg, this location was chosen for the ammunition plant. Howard went ahead with the organization of the plant, importing several carloads of machinery. He also secured four mechanics from New Haven. He had at that time 15 employees, including two women, three girls and one boy. (At the peak of the recent war the number of employees reached 3,500. At present the figure is approximately 900).

1899 — Nobel Explosives acquired control of the Hamilton Powder Company.

1910 —Canadian Explosives Ltd. (C.X.L.) was formed, representing the merger of several explosives companies, including the Hamilton Powder Company, a small company manufacturing acids and fertilizers and the Dominion Cartridge Company. The latter then had an established ammunition factory in Brownsburg. This marked the beginning of the relationship between Nobels of England and du Pont of U.S.A. with C.X.L., which has continued right up to the present time.

1914-1918 — C.X.L. played a large part during the first World War by supplying munitions to the Canadian Government, as did the C-I-L during the second World War.

1919 — C.X.L. started to diversify its operations, acquiring three companies:

1. Company manufacturing a coated textile known as Fabrikoid, which had a nitro-cellulose base.
2. Plastics.
3. Paint and Varnish.

These products all contained nitro-cellulose as the principal raw material. It is also the basic ingredient of dynamite.

1925-1926 — Two other explosives manufacturers consolidated with C.X.L., which then became the sole producer of dynamite in Canada.

1926 — Imperial Chemical Industries (I.C.I.) of England was formed.

1927 — Canadian Industries Limited was formed in Canada, and this marked the beginning of an expansion program in the manufacturing fields of acids, alkalis and other heavy chemicals — ammonia and salts.

The speaker referred to the operations of Defence Industries Limited in handling ammunition contracts during the last war; and in measuring particularly the success of Canadian Industries Limited, he believed a review of the past 15-year period showed the company had creditably fulfilled a three-fold obligation, namely to its investors, to its employees, and to the consumer-public.

FARM TOPICS

Soldier Settlement

Four hundred veterans from this province have qualified for establishment on a farm under the Veterans' Land Act, according to Stéphane Bolly, district superintendent of the Veterans' Land Act for the Province of Quebec.

The Act provides, among other things, that the Government may absorb a maximum of 38% of a farm establishment of $6,000. Many ex-servicemen, however, are not aware of this and are missing a splendid opportunity for assistance to help them settle on a farm of their own. Any veteran who is a farmer's son, or has been raised on the land, will be welcome at any regional offices of the Veterans' Land Act.

Small Devices Which Save Farm Labor

Among the farm labor saving devices assembled or invented by the Engineering Section, Dominion Field Husbandry Division, are many items of auxiliary utility, quite apart from the plans and specifications for heavier farm machinery. For example, full information with detailed plans and specifications may be obtained for making necessary articles for poultry, such as range water unit, self-waterer, feed trough, water fount, mash feeder, feed mixer, range shelter, and a roost and pit.

For sheep there are single and double feeders and for hogs there are a hog breeding crate, loading chute, feeding troughs for all sizes of pigs, self-feeder, pig creep, weighing crate, green feed rack, alfalfa feed rack, hog feeding platform, and farrowing pen. Among miscellaneous articles are a harrow dumping device, a breeding stall and bull pen for cattle, feed alley cart, home-made anvil, wagon jack, fly trap, bag holder, seed treater, potato cutter, potato sorter, handy farmyard cart, and a low slung wagon. As in the case with heavier farm trucks, tractors, and other machinery, full information with plans and specifications may be obtained by writing to, or visiting if convenient, the Engineering Section, Field Husbandry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Army Farm Success

New Delhi (CP) — Inquisitive farmers of Jharera, near here, are flocking to the Rajputana Rifles Regimental Centre, wanting to know how the Army farm yields twice as much barley per acre compared to the yield on their farms.

The soldiers tell them the "magic" is better seed wisely used, and fertilizer from manure, which the villagers bake into discs and burn. And the troops show them how.

Ten months ago the "Rajrif's" 16-acre farm was a barren waste. Now it is gaining fame as a pre-release school in agriculture, where men of the Rajputana Rifles are getting a nine weeks' course in better farming. The farm has successfully experimented in growing different kinds of wheat and fodder.

Antoni, Magician, Here Next Monday

Antoni, reputed to be Canada's leading exponent of the magic arts, is billed for two performances at Lachute Auditorium next Monday — matinee for children and evening show for adults. Tickets are on sale at the Royal Café, 219 Main Street.

Some really mystifying feats are included on the magician's 2½ hour performance. The show is accompanied by a glamorous troupe, including girls and musicians, and over five tons of 'props', costumes and effects.

One of Antoni's acts is "Hitler and Stalin", created by himself as a wartime sensation, and a mystery impossible to fathom. "Chamber of the Three Ghosts", "A night in Hong-Kong" and other sensational numbers complete this colorful and intriguing show.

Représentation du magicien Antoni, le lundi prochain

Le fameux magicien Antoni sera à l'Auditorium de Lachute le 27 mai, et y donnera dans la même journeée deux représentations — l'après-midi réservée aux enfants, et le grand spectacle du soir aux adultes. Les billets sont maintenant en vente au Café Royal, Lachute.

Les différentes illusions que présentent la troupe d'Antoni sont modernes sous tous rapports, nouveaux et comme le disent les rapports des journaux, c'est une "explosion de surprises". La troupe emploie de 10,000 à 12,000 livres de matériel, illusions, trucs de grande classe, décors, costumes, etc. Parmi les principales présentations mentionnons — une conception du maitre de la magie lui-même, qui vous transporte au pays de la mystification et du rire — une énigme impossible à déchiffrer "Hitler et Staline" . . . "Le Cabinet et les Trois Fantômes" . . . "Substitution et disparition en 3 secondes", plus vite qu'une dame change d'idée . . . . "Le Mystère de la Cage Dorée" plaira aux plus difficiles; et les personnes intéressées à l'Orient seront servies à souhait en voyant "Un soir à Hong-Kong", un acte de magie orientale complet, valant à lui seul le prix de la représentation.

The Brownsburg War Memorial

A Few Questions Answered

Brownsburg —

There are always a number of questions which arise in people's minds when projects designed for community improvement are mooted. The present case is no exception. Most of us can recall that it was only a couple of decades ago when it was a four to five-hour journey to Montreal by motor car. There was some opposition then to increased taxes for improved roads. But they came, and are now considered essential. Travel is less hazardous; the farmer can market his products more easily; and the distribution of goods is facilitated. Living conditions have improved thereby. Similarly, it was only a matter of from three or four years ago when Brownsburg was without water or sewerage facilities, despite the fact that communities of similar size had installed such services thirty and forty years, and more, previously. But they came to Brownsburg finally.

In recent years there has been an awakening of civic pride, and the inhabitants have been taking stock of what is required to bring the community up-to-date. Enterprising citizens started building sidewalks, and, although much has yet to be done in this respect, definite progress has been made. It is recognized that a skating rink is urgently required; a park with recreational facilities and a wading pool for young children, and a community hall and youth welfare centre are also needed. Enlightened citizens are giving serious consideration to all these things. The Catholic Youth Committee has already built a swimming pool.

The Brownsburg Branch of the Canadian Legion also took cognizance of the community's shortcomings, and reached the conclusion that, in view of its increasing strength, it should play its part in advancing the town's interests. It has been established that approximately 500 boys and girls enlisted from Brownsburg and district, a number of whom made the supreme sacrifice. It is the Branch's and the town's duty to record for all time the sacrifices made by these youngsters, and the idea was conceived to campaign for a Living War Memorial which would embody a Shrine of Remembrance and at the same time serve some useful purpose. For a great many years Brownsburg has been handicapped by the lack of a suitable community hall in which to conduct its various activities, and there have been no suitable quarters which would permit a planned program for the welfare of those in the 'teen ages. An ambitious scheme, therefore, was decided upon to campaign for a Memorial Hall, and application was made to Ottawa for permission to do this. It was considered that the job should either be "well done" or left entirely alone, and it was felt that the community would concur in this respect. Thus, the objective was fixed at $35,800.00, which it was thought would be sufficient to build a beautiful and permanent Memorial in which all in Argenteuil would have pride and could use.

It was realized that the present is not a propitious time to build and the plans call for the building to be erected in 1947, which leaves approximately one year to raise the money. While the actual campaign, therefore, is from June 10 to July 1, inclusive, this year, the payment of pledges can be extended over one year. Being authorized under the War Charities Act all donations are deductible from taxable incomes. It is hoped that the community will support the project to the fullest extent and put the objective over the top. Brownsburg and the county have been extremely generous in national drives for worthy purposes. Surely the same generosity will be shown for a local project which also has good motives and will, in addition, perpetuate the memory of those who died in order that we might retain the freedoms which we possess.

The plans call for a building to be placed in a beautiful setting and, undoubtedly, it will prove an attraction to tourists, with resulting benefit to Lachute and Brownsburg. There will be a "drive-in" and parking facilities. The "Shrine of Remembrance" will be located in a conspicuous place, and the hall proper will be capable of seating upwards of 400 people. It will have a full-size stage and also dressing rooms. The basement will have a kitchen, a restaurant and facilities for 'teen age recreation. — Is this not an objective worth while, and does it not merit your support?

A Break for the Merchants

ONE OF the revolutionary changes the war made in the shopping habits of Canadians seems destined to become permanent.

The time was when store owners operated on the principle that they had to keep their doors open long hours to serve all their potential customers. Now they assume that if they limit their hours they will have the customers anyway.

That comes from a wartime lesson. The necessity of conserving electrical power for war industry, coupled with the wartime shortage of labor and commodities, led to early closing. City stores began to close on the traditional Saturday shopping night; town and village stores cut their six open nights a week to one or two. They still had all the business they could handle and owners and clerks found that life was more agreeable when they didn't have to work a 60 or 72-hour week.

Now that the war is over there is no indication of any reversal of the trend. Rather, it is being extended. Some big city grocery stores are closing all day Mondays instead of the traditional Wednesday afternoon closing — the idea being to give employees a long week-end.

Barber shops offer a striking example. It wasn't long ago that they stayed open late every night, often until past midnight Saturdays. In such cities as Toronto they now close no later than 7 p.m. and are closed all day Wednesdays.

There has been some public inconvenience. Some persons forgot to do their week-end food shopping early on Saturdays. But their one lesson is usually enough, and now the public has been pretty well trained to get to the stores when they are open.

For the employees, the change has meant a new life. They once had time only to work, eat and sleep. It took all day Sunday to rest up from the tough Saturday stint — early morning until late at night. Now they can have some well-earned leisure and recreation. From them at least, would probably come a most emphatic vote against any return to the "good old days".

Status of Citizenship

CANADIANS soon will be — Canadians. While few persons had any real doubt of this before, State Secretary Martin's citizenship bill which passed through the Commons last week definitely establishes and recognizes Canadian citizenship for the first time. Formerly the only definition of citizenship was found in the Immigration Act.

The change will be a welcome one to many Canadians travelling abroad who have been puzzled by the designation, "British Subject," on their passports. In future, all Canadian passports will carry the words, "Canadian citizen."

Polished in a careful, clause-by-clause study in the Commons, which brought out many and varied shades of opinion on the principles, ideals and rights of citizenship, the bill now requires only approval of the Senate and proclamation before becoming law.

The bill, when proclamed, will establish these principles and conditions of citizenship:

1. Women will be given the right to decide their own nationality where previously they automatically assumed the nationality of their husbands. A Canadian woman who married a man of another nationality will be able to retain Canadian citizenship if she wishes.

2. Women who marry Canadians will qualify for Canadian citizenship one year after establishing residence in Canada.

3. Native-born Canadians, British subjects domiciled in Canada, brides of Canadian servicemen and all those who now possess naturalization certificates, will be declared Canadian citizens immediately upon proclamation.

4. Non-Canadians who have served with the Canadian forces outside Canada will qualify for citizenship after one year of such service.

5. The bill will maintain the status of British subjects with the advantage that Canadian citizenship papers will be supplied on request after five years — the legal period of residence. Once in possession of citizenship papers, they will have the right to enter Canada under diplomatic protection.

6. Naturalized Canadians will lose their citizenship if they remain out of the Dominion for six years or more without declaring their intention of remaining Canadians by official endorsement on a passport or citizenship certificate.

Lost or Strayed

IN NORTH PLATTE, Nebraska, the Rev. Harold M. Mallett, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, recently placed an advertisement in the lost and found section of the local newspaper which read: "Lost or Strayed: About 250 church attendants who were last seen on Easter Sunday. No questions will be asked if those returned are willing to have their Easter zeal every Sunday."

The Rev. Mallett has taken a rather unusual method to draw attention to a problem which troubles many a cleric in charge of a church: How to keep up the attendance and interest of the backsliders.

It is amazing the number of people who go to church only on special occasions. The churches are so thronged at the religious festivals of Easter and Christmas that we sometimes wonder if it is not the commercial aspects of the occasion, rather than religious zeal, which prompts such large attendances. We doubt if a large number of people who attend could relate the true religious meanings of the festivals.

A full congregation is a pleasing sight at Eastertime, but the many people who attend for the sole purpose of showing off their new finery are not the real supporters of the church. It is the person who attends consistently, Sunday after Sunday, who gives the strength necessary for the maintenance of the church. The community which has a sound church life is a wholesome and effective one, whose members contribute to the advancement of the country as a whole. It is true that church members are not perfect; in fact, the more one is conscious of the true meaning of religion, the more one realizes his own impurities. The Bible teaches that no one is without sin. The church, then, is a place where a community worships, its members trying to learn and to do the will of God on earth. The more we as citizens attend our churches and support them, the greater will be the moral advancement of our community.

The Instalment Plan

WE HAVE wondered many times who invented that great sales stimulator, sometimes referred to as the painless extractor of money — the instalment plan of buying. There is no doubt but what the instalment plan has increased the buying power of consumers many times, and has enabled people of ordinary means to enjoy comforts they would probably do without were it necessary to put down the full cash price at one shot.

The instalment plan is a form of saving. Many people lack the will-power to lay by a small amount each week, and spend their salaries quickly. For such people the weekly payment plan is the right medicine. The trouble is, some people get a little too enthusiastic and try and buy too many articles at once and they end up with the financing company taking them back.

The instalment plan has enabled Canadians to save millions of dollars. It is good purchasing method providing the system does not get out of hand. Dealers themselves can do a great deal in guarding against abuses.

CANADIANS taking part in the Victory parade in London will be loudly applauded and cheered by the Britishers, who fully realize the great part Canada played in helping to bring about the war's end.

JUST because there are shortages of certain lines of merchandise, it doesn't mean that you have to be niggardly with kindness, courtesy and cheerfulness.

REMEMBER that a tourist well received in Canada this year, will not only return, but will tell his friends of Canadian hospitality.

"To Be Reborn"

(By Abbé Arthur Maheux)

To be reborn, emerge from a lower to a higher life! To turn to the higher things, towards an ideal! To taste of the nobler things, feel a revulsion for that which is base, vulgar and narrow; die to a past of hatred and prejudice. Strip off the sombre garments of racialism. Don the splendid and new garb of Canadianism. Kill in oneself all that is bad; prejudice, unclean anonymity, the desire to crush others and the vain ambition to dominate the masses. To free oneself from servitude, the slavery of customs which are offensive to neighbors, and of wrongly-inspired traditions. To get out of the swamp in which we have lived for too long and enter upon a new highway, the triumphant highway on which our country, Canada, is embarking with confidence.

To strip, yes strip ourselves of all that is bad in each one of us: intolerance, calumny with regard to other groups or merely misstatement concerning other sections of the country, and lies regarding the intentions of others; that thick crust which envelops the heart and blocks the rays of sympathy and kindliness.

* * *

To no longer remember the names by which people were known in Europe or Asia, but to give each to the other the fine name of Canadian. Master in oneself the old man, which should be killed, and become a new man, a citizen of Canada.

To fill oneself with pity for the weaknesses, with kindliness for attitudes of others, with sincere humility in order not to crush others in our silly vanity, and with patience for the lapses of other national groups. To bear with one another from end to end of the land, devote ourselves unselfishly to the common weal of the whole country; stifle quarrels and forgive the past.

To be permeated, in a word, with charity, that charity which binds us to an ideal of perfection; to fill the heart with a great desire for peace, between provinces and between groups. Make of this Canada a big, sound and solid body motivated by a generous soul.

To re-read the Holy Gospel and the beautiful writings of Paul, not in order to criticize another religious group, but to see whether as an individual or a group we are truly animated by a Christian spirit.

To be grateful to the other groups for the services they have rendered our common country. Teach others all that we know and that is useful, for our country. Be not downcast in appearance, nor bitter of speech. Be content and happy to live in so fine a country as Canada. Sing the praises of this great country, in verse and prose, in speech and action.

To place Canada in the highest rank, the only one that belongs to her, in all that we do or plan to do.

Each one is possessed of his own little devil, which leads him towards certain thoughts and attitudes, towards ugly feelings and monstrous acts; which inclines him to distort the intentions and deny the good works of others. There are such individuals in the national as well as the religious domains. We must not listen to them.

Are you dominated by some inner devil? Are you possessed by a demon of prejudice, of intolerance, of racial vanity, or of injustice?

Examine your soul and cleanse it of its iniquities. We must be reborn.

The Anglican Advance Appeal

Special sermons on behalf of the Anglican Advance Appeal have emphasized the necessity for intensive effort on the part of all Christians to make possible, by the spreading abroad of a Christian way of life, a lasting and permanent peace. Clergy and eminent laymen have stressed the forward approach, as highlighted in the allocation of the fund being campaigned for. Of the total objective of $4,300,000 a sum of $2,700,000 is to be set aside for missionary work. $1,030,000 will be spent in Canada for the supply of clergy and buildings in the home mission field. $150,000 will go to India for the medical mission in the Kangra District where new buildings and helpers are urgently needed; a like amount will go to meet the need of rebuilding and replacements. The sum of $1,300,000 will be set aside to ensure that all missionary clergy will have a reasonable pension on retirement after a lifetime of service. As stated by Mr. Stafford Roberts, Toronto Diocesan Campaign Organizer, "We have in the Atlantic Charter a promise of the Four Freedoms but these unfortunately are not the property of our Clergy." He said, "Freedom of Speech and Freedom of Worship they certainly have, but all too often they have neither Freedom from Want nor Freedom from Fear. It is the responsibility of the laity to ensure that those who are called to serve them should be assured of all Four Freedoms."

The National Film Board has recently been experimenting with new methods of producing synthetic sound for its films. Instead of recording real sound, synthetic sound, which cannot be produced by any instrument, is drawn or photographed directly onto the film.

What Neighbors Can Do

This news story appeared in a London, Ont., paper some months ago:

"Charlotte St. is situated in the midst of London's busiest industrial district. It houses 23 families, and 48 children. Some years ago, two vocant lots afforded some small place for play. Victory gardens pushed the children onto the street.

"Man-power shortages increased the problems of little children. Many mothers were employed for half-days, several undertook full-time jobs. The children had to fend for themselves after school, and throughout the long summer vacation. Most parents dreaded the summer holidays with its broken windows, trampled gardens, disgruntled residents, absentee parents, deprived and frustrated children which had to be faced. The neighboring school ground was forbidden territory, the streets dangerous, back yards too small and too hazardous for any vigorous play, especially softball.

"Mrs. X....., being elderly, didn't enjoy the romps and ravages of boys and girls; Mr. Y..... worked nights and didn't appreciate children when they played with their dog under his window. Parents strove to restrain their children as complaints grew in number, and tempers edged in the summer heat."

The news story tells how Mrs. Charles Parkinson, a resident of the street, tried to interest the parents of the children on the street in taking action towards finding the children a playground. All agreed it would be a good thing, but they couldn't see how it could be done. When school closed and nothing was done, Mrs. Parkinson canvassed the street and adjacent blocks asking "what mother wouldn't pay 25 cents a week toward a supervised playground?" In three days she had collected approximately $25.

Next step was to obtain use of the nearby school grounds. She was told the school grounds would be opened if there was a supervisor. Selective service dug one up for her, a school teacher, who would undertake the job for the summer. The neighborhood was enthusiastic but dubious about the success of the project. Many felt that the novelty would wear off, the contributions would decrease after the first two or three weeks.

While Mrs. Parkinson persevered with her weekly canvass, the supervisor planned a programme of sports for the older children, kindergarten activities for the young ones. Equipment was first lent, then given outright by neighbors. Neighborhood merchants helped. What had been a noisy street with all the makings of a juvenile delinquency problem, became an orderly, happy street. And all of it was accomplished through neighbors working together. — Exchange

Old Records Recall Moose Jaw in 1903

Back in 1903 just before Moose Jaw was incorporated as a city, a member of the board of trade was sent into the northern part of the United States to advertise the town. He was given $300 for expenses.

These and other interesting facts are recorded in the original minute book of the board of trade. It belonged to the late lieutenant-governor of Saskatchewan — Thomas Miller — and his son has turned the book over to the present board.

The book records that after the advertising campaign, correspondence flooded into the office at the rate of six letters a day.

The original board consisted of 33 members and they had the same worries to contend with as the present board.

The pressing problem, at the initial meeting, was, as it is now, the water supply. They were worried about where they were going to get water and where they would store it when they got it. But they were optimistic then.

The next year they considered building a court house, a jail and a site for a cemetery was selected.

In 1901, the book records that coal sold for $10.50 a ton and that the people objected to the price. They thought it should sell for $7. Early in 1903, wiring the city for electric lighting was discussed.

Apprentices Build Houses in England

Six houses built by building apprentices at Rotherham, England, were opened by the Minister of Works. Two houses built by apprentices at Erith, were opened at the same time by the Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Health.

The lads who have built these houses are training under the "Apprentice Master Scheme", which was adopted early in 1945 by the Ministry of Works on the recommendation of the Building Apprenticeship and Training Council. This scheme, which aims at speedy recruitment and training of building craft apprentices, in order to build up as soon as possible a strong and efficient building industry, has attracted world-wide interest. The Dominions, the United States of America, and the Allied Control in Germany have all followed the scheme closely.

The basic principles of the scheme are that boys trained to be apprentices are given an opportunity to earn and build while they learn under the guidance of an apprentice master nominated by the Local Joint Apprenticeship Committee. The L.J.A.C. applies to the Local Authority for permission to adopt this scheme in their area. If building by boys costs more than normal building, the Local Authorities who build under the scheme are reimbursed by the Ministry of Works, who finance and administer the scheme in co-operation with the Ministries of Labor and Health.

The service of the boys counts towards their period of apprenticeship, and they are transferred to normal apprenticeship in the industry as soon after six months' training as employers are ready to receive them. The boys receive normal apprenticeship wages under the scheme, and are enabled to undertake building work under sound instruction from the start of their training. All boys working under the scheme are registered as approved apprentices by the Building Apprenticeship Training Council.

Arrangements have now been made for the carrying out of building work by apprentices in about 40 areas in different parts of the country.

SOLVES MYSTERY OF 'SCREWY' LETTERS

Fate Aids Edmontonian who Traces Incorrect Addresses

Edmonton, (CP) — Frank Stone of Edmonton's postal staff now has good reason to believe in fate. He's been dubbed the "screwy letter sleuth" by his fellow workers, because, for the second time in four months, he's found two addresses — and both in unexpected places.

For some time Mr. Stone had been dealing with incorrectly-addressed letters intended for a returned Edmonton soldier and mailed from the Netherlands. He made every effort to find the addressee, but one day, when another wrongly-addressed letter was added to the growing pile, the harassed letter tracer threw up his hands in despair and decided to go out for coffee.

While sitting at the counter Mr. Stone fell into conversation with a man beside him. The man threw his discharge papers on the counter, remarking, "There, I'm out." In the ensuing conversation Mr. Stone was asked where he worked, and replied he was a post office employee.

"That's where my brother works," said the man. Mr. Stone investigated and found a co-worker was the very man for whom he had been looking.

A similar letter mystery was solved in December, when Mr. Stone discovered the man assigned to help him during the Christmas rush turned out to be one for whom he had been looking for more than three months.

"Sleuthing? Heck, it's fate," says Mr. Stone.

WORTHY GROCER

Ottawa (CP) — A wastepaper basket, an honest shopkeeper — and luck — re-united a serviceman's wife and her purse containing $338 of her husband's gratuity money. The purse was left on the counter of a fruit store here, fell into the waste paper basket and was discovered when the shopkeeper tidied up for the night. He gave it to police, who returned it to the tearful and relieved woman.

BATHTUB SLUMBER

Winnipeg (CP) — Sleeping in a bathtub proved costly for Thomas Kelly when he came here for a visit. He was found in the bathroom of a rooming house, having sneaked in during the night. Kelly was charged with unlawful entry and fined $15 or 10 days in jail. His explanation: "I couldn't find lodging for the night."

MADE IN CANADA

The young doctor, just starting in practice, went to the bookshop to see if he could buy some second-hand books relating to his profession. He was offered the book, "What to Do Until the Doctor Comes."

"That is not the book I want," he told the assistant. "I'm looking for one on, 'What to Do Until the Patients Come.'"

A good deacon, making an official visit to a dying neighbor, who was a very churlish and unpopular man, put the usual question: "Are you willing to go, my friend."

"Oh, yes," said the sick man, "I am."

"Well," said the simple-minded deacon, "I am glad you are, for all the neighbors are willing."

Implications of Atomic Energy

The Pile

It is to be hoped that bombs will not be the main use of this great power. In order to slow down the process and control the energy, active material is heaped in a huge "pile". The main practical difficulty was found in keeping the fast escaping neutrons from U 235 in an area where they would do further splitting. Fermi, an Italian who had worked on the problem in Rome and more recently in America, suggested the use of a moderator such as carbon graphite. This was found successful and layers of U 235 and the moderator, form the energy "pile", the first one of which was built on the campus of the University of Chicago, December 2, 1942.

The Record — Hahn

Let us look at the record. The first actual fission of uranium was performed by Otto Hahn, a German chemist working at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute in Berlin, and he has just been awarded the Nobel Prize for his work. Who is Hahn? We all know that many of our leading scientists received training in German Universities. Hahn represents the opposite. He was trained at University College, London, graduating about 1904, and making significant contributions to the chemistry of radioactivity there. From there he went to McGill University where he did still further important work on radio activity. Then he went back to Germany. His record in the following 30 years is marked by two outstanding characteristics — brilliant experimental work on the one hand, and very poor powers of interpreting his results on the other. Several of the most important theoretical developments in atomic science are based on Hahn's experiments and other people's interpretatations. The fission of Uranium ran true to form. It took the brilliant experimental chemist to do the work of fission, to identify minute traces of elements among the fission products, elements of such weight that they indicated that the atom had actually been split into two large pieces — but he did not grasp the full implications of his work.

Lise Meitner

The story from there is dramatic. Lise Meitner was a physicist who had worked with Hahn for 30 years. As a team — he the chemist, and she the physicist — they were among the real leaders of atomic science research. But Nazi racial laws caught up with her and she had to leave Germany. She continued her work in Sweden. When the fission work was done, it was she who saw clearly the significance of what had been accomplished.

Bohr

In January, 1939, she told Niels Bohr, the great Danish scientist, of this work and her interpretation. Bohr was about to leave for the U.S.A., but first he started the work on splitting uranium at his laboratory in Copenhagen. In the U.S.A. he told the scientists about these results, and by the end of January the work had been repeated at four separate laboratories in the U.S.A. The experiments were also successful in Copenhagen, and in Paris, under Joliot. During 1939 nearly 100 papers on this subject were published.

Time

Now the point to be stressed, is that given the idea, it was a matter of a few days work for scientists in many different countries to repeat the experiments and get the same results. When anyone tells you there is something very mysterious or very difficult or very secret about this fundamental work, just bear that in mind. The fundamental knowledge necessary to obtain atomic energy is well-known — it is the common property of the scientists of all countries.

Starting from that same pool of common knowledge, any country can if it so desires build atomic energy factories or make atomic bombs. They may not arrive at the particular mechanical solution achieved by the Americans and Canadians. But that is essentially an engineering problem which is capable of more than one solution. The blue prints can be of their own designing. But the effect can still be just as great. For that reason the speaker believes that the "secret" is really such that we have no reason whatever to rely on it for protection.

Other Solutions

Even from a fundamental point of view, the particular kind of atomic bomb which we have made is not the only kind, or even the best kind. For example, building-up atoms instead of splitting them also releases tremendous energy — in fact the heat of the sun is supposed to be derived mainly in this way.

Innovation at Boyd's Lachute Express -- Teletype Maintains 8-Hour Contact with City Warehouse

Behind the steadily growing business of Boyd's Lachute Express Ltd. there is obviously a zeal and enthusiasm to keep abreast of the times. Evidence of this fact is the latest innovation — teletype communication with Montreal, which keeps the local office in touch with its city depot eight hours a day. This has a marked advantage over the leasing of a phone circuit which previously afforded only 15-minute contact daily. And the benefit it will bring to customers may be readily understood.

This step is in keeping with the progressive policy of Boyd's Express. One has only to look over the offices, warehouse and truck service department on Bethany Road, to be impressed with this fact. Or one may recall the strides this firm has made since it commenced business here in 1930. — It is a long story from that date, when Nat Boyd, now president of the concern, left the hills of Dunany to start hauling for the public. He housed his truck in a barn on Foundry Street, but it was not long before he rented a cement-block warehouse on Robert Street. Designed to accommodate four trucks, these quarters gave promise of meeting all needs for many years ahead. . .

But — today — Boyd's Lachute Express Ltd. operates no fewer than 19 transport vehicles — which include tractors, semi-trailers, a four-wheel trailer and several trucks. Besides its promoter, president and guiding genius, Nat Boyd — the company employs on its night and day shifts 26 transport men, three warehousemen, two garagemen, and four office workers. Replacing Paul (Pep) Pariseau who has now ventured into business on his own under the name "Esquire Shop", specializing in Gents' Furnishings, is Jack Davis, of Montreal. Mr. Davis prior to his coming to Lachute had been associated with the Canada Firebrick Company in Montreal for seven years as Cost Accountant and Office Manager. Also dealing with the public at the Lachute office are, Stanley Morrison, despatcher and billing clerk (a former employee back on the job after serving in the Air Force), and Lucien Rock, leger-keeper. In charge of the Montreal office is likeable Fred McLeod, whose good nature has won him many friends among the business public of Montreal.

In the garage and repair shop maintained by this establishment, Burrill Todd, veteran mechanic, fills an interesting role. With 19 vehicles in operation, and among them — 13 automotive engines to develop defects, and 120-odd tires carrying continuous loads — the garageman's routine lacks nothing in variety. All average repairs are handled here, including welding and body work, and the shop is well equipped. A record is kept of the company's tires, which now tabulates the performance of 74 tires installed since the record was started. All tires are branded with a number and the company's initials.

The loading platform, a scene of activity on arrival and departure of the transports, has facilities for three trucks and five trailer vans at a time, though it is seldom all spaces are occupied at once. A weigh-scale of 6,000 lbs. capacity is built into the floor. Boyd's Express hauls the products of several large industries in the district, including bulky and heavy goods, but considering the volume of freight handled, the warehouse here presents an orderly scene.

With such facilities and equipment, and behind them a firm resolve to serve the public well, Boyd's Lachute Express enjoys the confidence of residents and business firms alike. All the way from plant machinery and household furniture removals — to that special consignment of grandmother's preserves to John Q. Citizen in the suburbs — Boyd's will do the job. Wintery weather and road conditions may cause the inevitable headache . . there are worries and anxieties behind the scenes . . but it is only by surmounting such difficulties that this company exemplifies its slogan, "Ship the Safe Way".

Anglican Advance Appeal Objective Doubled at St. George's, Brownsburg

Lachute United Y.P.U

Closing Meeting Next Wednesday

The regular meeting of Lachute United Y.P.U. was held Wednesday evening in the church hall; the vice-president, Doug Gordon, presided in the absence of Jack Ogilvie. Jean Tomalty recorded the minutes.

Calumet Exceeds Quota In "Advance Appeal"

Calumet — The Anglican Advance Appeal —the spiritual aspect of which was ably handled by the Rector, the Rev. A. E. Hawes — was successful also in its financial objective. In the week of May 12 - 19 the laymen of the parish visited all the homes for donations. These donations may be paid over a period of three years. On Sunday at the morning services in the parish, the gifts of money were offered up in thanksgiving on the altar. The objective, which in this parish was $1,100, was generously over-subscribed — the collections being in excess of $1,600.

Pretty Wedding At United Church

Garrioch - Heatlie

The marriage of Evelyn Doris Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Heatlie, of Lachute, to Dr. Gordon Grey Garrioch, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Garrioch, of North Battleford, Sask., took place here Saturday afternoon in the United Church, the Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiating. Mr. Jack Gorman played the wedding music and Miss Helen McFaul sang "Through the Years", during the signing of the register. Snapdragons and ferns intermingled with cherry and plum blossoms were used as decorations in the church.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a torso bodice, having a scalloped heart neckline and long sleeves finishing in points over the hands and a full skirt falling in a short train. Her veil of tulle illusion, extending beyond the hem of her train, was worn with a shoulder-length veil of the same material caught at each side of her head with gardenias; she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and sweet peas.

Mrs. Gordon Anderson, sister of the bride, as matron-of-honor, and Miss Sheila Garrioch, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid, were gowned alike in frocks of robin's egg blue crepe with very full floor-length skirts and wore tiny matching hats with shoulder-length veils of cyclamen red tulle and long mittens of the same color. They carried shower bouquets of sweet peas shading from light pink to deep cyclamen.

Capt. A. F. Gigot, R.C.A.M.C., acted as best man for Dr. Garrioch, and the ushers were Mr. Gordon Anderson, of Brownsburg, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mr. Kyle Blair, of Franklin Centre, Que.

Mrs. Heatlie, the bride's mother, wore a gown of turquoise crepe with black accessories and a corsage bouquet of Briarcliffe roses.

Mrs. Garrioch, mother of the bridegroom, was in a suit of moss green crepe and wore a brown hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of yellow roses.

A reception was held at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith, where spring flowers were used to decorate.

Later Dr. and Mrs. Garrioch left for Banff, Jasper and Lake Louise, the bride travelling in a grey dressmaker suit with a black hat, accessories of the same color, a corsage bouquet of gardenias, and carrying a top coat of cerise wool.

The out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Garrioch, parents of the bridegroom, of North Battleford; Capt. A. F. Gigot, R.C.A.M.C., of Fredericton, N.B.

The Power of the Atomic Bomb

Atomic energy has great potentialities for peace-time development — which can bring greater happiness to us all. But the atomic bomb is essentially an instrument of destruction. It is very much more powerful, and less selective in its choice of victims than any previous weapon. It is the weapon of total war — war on whole populations. There is no defence against it. There is no secret about it sufficiently important to provide a defence against it. We know that the Americans are still making them. In France a special department of Government has been set up to develop this field, and the head of the department has cabinet status. Sweden also is setting up an elaborate organization. There is no doubt that the Russians also are working away at this problem, and it is said that they have already had successful field trials of an atomic bomb. The existence of atomic bombs in the arsenals of the world is a constant threat to our own existence and to the continued peaceful development of our civilization.

The race is on.

Wherein lies our hope?

There is only one way to prevent the use of atomic bombs in warfare, and that is to prevent wars, the speaker thought. The hopes of mankind are pinned today on the United Nations Organization as a last test of mankind.

Scientists

Scientists have been blamed for many of the evils of our world, including the atomic bomb. But scientists are repudiating this idea and today are discussing taking independent action to set humanity back on the path of progress, and to prevent the manufacture and use of atomic bombs. The movement began in the great Bomb Project laboratories in the U.S.A., supported by many leading American scientists who helped make the bomb possible, and is spreading rapidly. They are discussing the formation of a World Association of Scientists to prevent disaster.

The speaker quoted two of these many scientists: Harold C. Urey, Nobel prize winner, key man in the American bomb development, says:

"(1) If atomic bombs are made in one country, they will be made in all industrial countries of the world."

"(2) If atomic bombs are made in all these countries we will spend our days in deadly fear that they will be used, and in time they undoubtedly will be."

"(3) By one means or another no atomic bombs must be made anywhere in the world and they must not be in the possession of any government of any kind".

(4) Our peacetime applications of atomic energy, or, in fact, of anything else, are of no importance whatever unless the danger of atomic bombs is banished from the earth."

Urey concluded by hoping that this weapon is sufficiently terrible to make possible the bringing of peace to the earth.

In Britain, Sir Henry Dale, then President of the Royal Society, sees a grave danger to Science itself in the development of "Total War" and expresses the hope that "The Scientists of all the world may yet stand together against it, determined to preserve the integrity of science, to prevent its further perversion from its proper and beneficent uses, and to save civilization from misusing science for its own destruction. He quotes as the program of modern scientists the Charter of the Royal Society, given in 1663 "promoting by the authority of experiments the sciences of natural things and of useful arts, to the glory of God the Creator and the advantage of the human race." This 280 year old mandate Sir Henry proposes as a beacon to the world.

There was a time when good citizenship consisted in taking good care of one's own family, and, when the occasion warranted, helping to provide for the unfortunate of one's own small community. In times of national crisis such as war, good citizenship demands that we think beyond the boundaries of our own community and think in terms of the nation. Today, as long as the danger of atomic war exists, we are in state of world crisis, and good citizenship demands that we think beyond our national borders and think in terms of humanity. This is the thought the speaker wished to leave with his audience.

SOUNDS FISHY

Regina, (CP) — The queer antics of slightly inebriated gentlemen usually fail to startle onlookers. But Reginans recently looked with interest after a couple of soldiers weaving down the street. The interest was not in their erratic movements — but one had dangling between his thumb and forefinger a very large, very dead fish.

The Spanish Touch

Alys Robi, French, English and Spanish-speaking songstress on "Latin American Serenade," is expected to put her Spanish to fluent use with the arrival of Chicho Valle, Cuban singer now co-starring with Mile Robi. The two Latin experts sing with Don Miguel and his orchestra over the CBC Dominion network, Sundays, at 10.30 p.m. E.D.T.

PLOW RECALLS PIONEER DAYS

Winnipeg, April 30 (CP) — From Stromness in the Orkney Islands north of Scotland to the Selkirk district some 25 miles northwest of here, lies a furrow in history turned by a 91-year-old plow recently put on exhibit in the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The plow was forged in Stromness in 1855 by the great grandfather of James Clouston of Selkirk who sold it to a grain company here. When Mr. Clouston's father sailed from Scotland to New York in 1860 he took with him his family, household effects and the plow.

The plow then travelled by covered wagon from New York to St. Paul, Minn. It remained there for two years while Mr. Clouston worked as a blacksmith and in his spare time built a barge.

In 1863 the family floated the barge and moved up the Mississippi and down the Red River to Winnipeg — the plow one of its prized possessions.

But the Barge and plow would not stay put and two years later the family moved on to the Selkirk district where the wandering plow has remained until its recent removal to Winnipeg.

LONELY POSTMASTER

Beauport, Que. (CP) — The postmaster of this town near Quebec probably will lose out on a lot of town gossip. A door-to-door mail delivery is the reason for this. Formerly, the town's 5,000 population collected their mail at the post office.

KEEPS CHILDREN HEALTHY

George Anderson, veteran Winnipeg sportsman, gave one of the most convincing arguments for daylight saving. "Fresh air," said Mr. Anderson, "means good health. Daylight saving will keep the people, especially children outdoors."

MORE LONG DISTANCE CALLS THAN IN WARTIME!

JUST two years ago we were serving 975,000 telephones. There are now 120,000 more telephones and as a result Long Distance calling has steadily increased even though the war is over. Actually the volume of calling is now about 100% higher than when the war began.

That's why it is so helpful when you observe the proper sequence, as shown below, in making Long Distance calls.

We are building new lines and new switchboards but it will take some time to get them into use. In the meantime we'll appreciate your help and understanding, especially if your call is delayed.

WHEN YOU PLACE a Long Distance Call

FIRST, give the operator the name of the distant city . . .

THEN, the telephone number of your party . . .

THEN, when the operator asks if, your own telephone number.

If you don't know the distant telephone number, please make a note of it for future use when you hear the operator repeat it.

KNOW QUEBEC BETTER . . .

Bird's-eye view, Bonaventure Island, off the Gaspé Coast

Do you know Quebec? Do you know, for example, that Quebec offers an unequalled variety of attractions for visitors!

A favorite haunt of tourists is the rugged Gaspé coast where, in 1534, Jacques Cartier first set foot on Canadian soil . . . where mighty cliffs rise from the blue waters of the Atlantic and a coastal road dips like a sea bird as it skims by famed Percé Rock, Cape Cove, the village of Gaspé and many another picturesque place.

Then there are the Laurentian Highlands, the St. Lawrence, Gatineau and St. Maurice Valleys, the Saguenay, quaint, old-world Quebec and Metropolitan Montreal. To visit them, tourists spend $50,000,000 in a normal year.

The people of Quebec have every reason to be proud of this and the other rich resources. Having developed them wisely they are enjoying their reward in the great contribution they make towards the building of a greater, more united Canada.

QUEBEC BUILDS FOR THE FUTURE

In 1608 Champlain brought the first colonists to Quebec. Today, Quebec's population is 3,000,000, her retail trade $800,000,000.00 per year. She leads all Provinces in the production of hydro-electric power, textiles, lumber, newsprint, footwear, processed tobacco, asbestos and aluminum. Natural resources, agriculture and transportation are being developed wisely. And now, Quebec, her people deep-rooted in the love of their homeland, prepares to share with her sister Provinces, Canada's bright and glorious future!

LET RUSSIA TRY FRIENDLINESS

I am beginning to be a bit fed up with being told to understand and feel friendly towards Russia. I have read all I can lay my hands on about Russia, from her novelists down to the newsmen who have written so much in newspapers, magazines, and books about the country. Like most people I have found it a bit confusing. Certainly, there seems to be a great deal of good in their scheme of life, but much of it would not suit the people on this Continent. Friendliness and understanding are not one-way streets. Why are the Russian people not given a chance to know something of us and our way of life? Sure, we feel friendly towards the Russian people, but I would like for a change to have them told to learn to know and understand us. Apparently from the accounts of the Canadians and the Americans who have been in Russia, the people are very friendly but have very little knowledge of our countries! Why?

COOK WITH IMAGINATION

A reader asks if I always use recipes. Goodness, no! There are plenty of dishes I always use recipes for, even things that I make frequently year after year. The recipes are those which suit me exactly and why clutter up my brain remembering quantities of ingredients when it is so much simpler to let the recipe book do the remembering. Then there are other ones which were not recipes to begin with, but I have made them and changed them slightly each time of making until they are just right for us, then I may write them down so I will get them right each time, and these are the ones which are so often passed on to you. Some of the best things I make could never have a recipe because I use whatever is at hand, usually based on left-overs. Those are the things that are most fun to fool around with, and to get intriguing and sometimes surprising results. If there are too many left-overs, it means poor judgment in estimating quantities. Appetites do vary and there are times when there is no way of avoiding them. Often I cook enough to have a left-over to use the next meal. Then too I buy such things as olives, mushrooms, green peppers, and pimentoes, planning to use them in several dishes. Basic recipes are a necessity in cooking but there are many interesting variations which do not require a recipe — only imagination and a zest for cooking.

SUBSTITUTES

Some of the substitutes and innovations which we tried in our wartime cookery were better than the originals and will be used even after the day comes when we can buy the things we want. Corn syrup is one thing I have not used to any great extent, although there are a few things I like to have it on hand for, with the shortage of sugar and the can of syrup staring me in the face I have used it more frequently and for some things have liked it much better than all sugar. The Butterscotch Squares is an old-time recipe that is much improved by the use of syrup. Maybe you have been getting better raisins than we have; ours have been dry and so hard they fairly rattled. When you put them in a cake or cookies the cooking was not enough to soften them and it certainly does not improve a cookie to bite into a hard piece of raisin. I started covering them with hot water, just barely covering, and then bringing them to a boil and then let stand a few minutes. Then drain and cool. The raisins are plump and soft and seem to have more flavor. Unless the raisins we get in the future are better than my memory of them is, that is another little trick I will continue to do.

BUTTERSCOTCH SQUARES

¾ Cup brown sugar, ¼ cup corn syrup, ¼ cup butter 1 egg, 1 cup sifted cake flour, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ cup walnuts, ½ cup raisins, teaspoon vanilla.

Put the butter, sugar and syrup in a saucepan and stir over low heat until the mixture bubbles, let cool to lukewarm. Cover the raisins with hot water, bring to a boil, let stand a few minutes, then drain and cool. Add an unbeaten egg to the cooled sugar mixture and stir well. Measure the flour after sifting, add the baking powder and salt, and sift into the first mixture. Blend well, then add vanilla, nuts and raisins. Pour in to a buttered 8" x 12" pan and bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees for 25 minutes. (I have not tried using shortening but I imagine it should taste almost as good.)

SPINACH ITALIENNE

Cover a shallow baking dish with hot spinach which has been cooked and seasoned. A glass pie plate is a suitable dish. Poach eggs and place on the spinach. Cover lightly with grated cheese and place in the oven until the cheese is melted.

HOTHOUSE HATS KEPT IN ICEBOX

Boston (CP) — Hothouse hats, which bloom at a predetermined date and are kept in the icebox with the milk at night, are the newest fancy in summer headgear.

The hats, which establish a new high in chapeau glamor, are designed for the wearer and are the origination of Eleanor O'Neill, a Boston florist with a flair for the unusual.

Miss O'Neill has levied upon science in the creation of her hats since she specializes in designing chapeaux for anniversaries and dates to be remembered, and to do this must be assured of blossoms that flower on the date the customer wants a hat. These flowers are brought into bloom with a new device which maintains constant heat flow. Scientists who developed the mechanism conducted tests which showed that the flowers could be made to bloom at any predetermined day, thereby assuring Miss O'Neill of the fragrant materials she converts into hats.

The festive bonnets sell for $10 to $40 and will last for five days provided they are parked in a refrigerator at night.

"Flower hats provide a new and exciting way of expressing the wearer's personality," says Miss O'Neill. "If she is the glamorously fragile type I use such flowers as gardenias, camellias or carnations in the pale shades. If she is a girl with many different personality facets, I combine the flowers, using some that are exotic and others that are more simple — perhaps a white orchid as the central flower with two or three butter fly orchids and a spray or two of white buddleia for fragrance. For a South American brunette who reminded me of Carmen Miranda, I made a tiger lily hat and the night she wore it she was a sensation."

Miss O'Neill says she rarely makes two hats alike. "Every girl's personality is different; I try to express her individuality," she explains.

Socks Commemorate Founding of Town

Richmond, B.C. (CP) — A pair of socks knitted by Mrs. Hugh Boyd, 91, resident of Ireland and widow of Richmond's first reeve, will be preserved in a glass case to commemorate the town's founding. Mrs. Boyd sent the socks to Maj. J. S. Matthews, anecouver archivist, and he suggested they be kept as a memento.

Major Matthews said: The same hands that made coffee and sandwiches for the 'mudflatters' who came in gumboots to found in her home the municipality of Richmond, made these socks.

PARKING PROBLEM THREATENS REGINA

Hamilton Girl Investigates City's Traffic Problems

Regina (CP) — The West doesn't often ask the East for advice but it is getting it now from Sue Gordon, 26-year-old town-planner from Hamilton, who is in Regina, in her professional capacity as statistician, economist and research specialist.

It is a return to the west for Miss Gordon for she was born in Saskatoon and moved to Hamilton at the age of six months.

She is an assistant to Blanche Lemco, manager of the town planning office here, under the supervision of Dr. E. G. Faludi, planner of several Canadian cities.

At present Miss Gordon is working on statistics concerning juvenile delinquency, population trends and traffic conditions. She says Regina is soon to be faced with a serious downtown parking problem.

"Protek" is just another instance of the way in which chemistry works seeming wonders, easing so many of our daily burdens with bright new products.

with a new rat-killer... poison for poison ivy... sustex for hens... and dynamite for ditches.

Rats are smart. They just won't eat anything that tastes as if it might be poison. Now man is going after them with a new chemical called ANTU, so potent that a millionth of a pound can kill a rat, and the rats don't seem to notice the taste.

Now we're set to give Poison Ivy and Poison Oak, so long a scourge to the unwary, a dose of their own medicine! They'll be poisoned with AMMATE, a new and powerful chemical potion that makes them wither up and die. One or two lbs. of AMMATE will clear a patch 100 square feet in area.

Remember CEL-O-GLASS...: the flexible cellulose-acetate glass substitute which many farmers used before the war, to get egg-producing ultra-violet rays into their henhouses? Well, it's coming back soon to civilian life, complete with a 5-year performance guarantee. CEL-O-GLASS not only brings in sun and keeps out cold. It eliminates breakage costs as well.

Someone might well coin the phrase, "a ditch in time saves nine men's time", or words to that effect, especially since ditching with dynamite has now become a science. Farmers, as well as explosives engineers, are putting explosives to work in this way more and more. And in doing it they save labour, time and expense.

Brownsburg — A soccer ball has been obtained for the Brownsburg Scouts and Cubs and the boys will be given an opportunity to learn the game. Several committee members have offered to give instruction.

Gerald Fletcher passed the test for the Pathfinder badge, and Ronald Elliott passed the tests for Pathfinder and Debater.

Among badges won by Wolf Cubs recently are — Robert Warwick, Collector; Paul Ingram, Collector, Guide and House Orderly badges.

Guides Visit Brownie Group

Brownsburg — The local Brownie group, under the leadership of Misses A. Zimmer and Dolly Steere, had an interesting time last week, when the Brownsburg Guides with their leaders, Miss G. Vowles and Miss G. Izzard and their committee, attended the Brownie meeting and presented them with a "toad stool" in appreciation for the part which they took in the concert presented by the Guides a few weeks ago. Miss Zimmer expressed her thanks for this gift, which will be used at the Brownie meetings.

Games and a sing-song were enjoyed, after which the Brownie Committee served refreshments.

The meeting was closed by singing "Taps" and the national anthem.

The leaders of both these groups are to be congratulated on the fine work they are doing among the girls, in training them to "Be Prepared" to be good citizens of the community.

Timmins, Ont. (CP) — Elizabeth Ferrier, Scottish war bride, had misgivings for a time when her husband apparently did not appear at her arrival here. She quickly joined another war bride and went home with her until the situation was straightened out. Later her panicky husband found her. He had been only two cars away when his bride alighted from the train.

Governor-General and Viscountess To Officially Commemorate 127th Annual Event, Lachute Spring Fair

"A Salute to Canadian Farmers"

Their Excellencies' Acceptance of Invitation Seen as Gesture of Tribute to Agriculture

By COLIN A. GRAVENOR

"Teamwork won us the war and it will win us the peace if we stick together as we did in the fighting days", said Alexander of Tunis and Errigal, in one of his first speeches after coming to Canada as the representative of the King of Canada.

That is the spirit in which he accepted the invitation to open the 127th Argenteuil Agricultural Society's Lachute Spring Fair, to pay his respects to the men, the women and the children of Canada who are responsible for Canada's substantial produce of farm, field and orchard.

Their Excellencies, who have from the moment they set foot in Canada, shown evident pleasure in their duties, have been commented upon by many for the manner in which every deed and gesture aids in great understanding and linking of all Canadians with the democratic principles which the British way of government stands for.

While the visit of Their Excellencies to Great Britain during the early part of June, and the fact that their return was not scheduled until June 10 or 11, would have readily permitted declining the invitation to "officially open" the Fair on June 12, the acceptance of the invitation was made immediately, with the proviso "weather permitting" — meaning of course weather in the high altitudes over the Atlantic Ocean.

Lachute is proud of the honor that the Governor General may be dining in state in London on Monday, and opening the show in Lachute on Wednesday. It is no small wonder that schools are to be closed, that the streets will be decorated. The Canadian Legion, the school children, the Boy Scouts, and community groups, the Agricultural Society members and directorate, and the Argenteuil Mayors, will all form a vast reception committee to commemorate the arrival of Their Excellencies.

Governor General Alexander is a great soldier. He is loved and admired by his comrades in arms. His vice-regal duties are not easy. He has accepted them knowing the heavy responsibilities that they carry. No woman could be better suited to share this than Viscountess Alexander. Their family rounds out what might well be, if time, distance and circumstances were different, "the typical Canadian family".

Early arrangements call for the motorcade to proceed from Ottawa to Lachute, to be received at the home of one of the leading residents. From there the party, including the reception committee, with the Mayors of the county represented by A. G. Munich, Sr., County Warden, will proceed to the Fair Grounds for brief opening ceremonies and a brief address of welcome by the President of Lachute Fair. After the Governor General officially opens the Fair, a tour of the buildings, the live-stock judging rings, the other attractions of Lachute's "typical country Fair" will be made. The Horse Show will present a special event, probably a Hunter class the type in which Their Excellencies are most interested from a horse-riding aspect.

And when Viscount and Viscountess Alexander depart for Ottawa, they may rest assured that they have launched the 127th — and oldest — Spring Fair in Canada in a manner that could not be paralleled.

Debunks Scare On Infestation of Lake Louisa Fish

Anglers' Officers Elected

A near-panic having ensued among the fraternity of the rod and reel, over circulation of reports concerning worms in Lake Louisa trout — an authoritative voice at the Anglers' Association meeting in Brownsburg last evening has considerably eased the situation. The speaker, Sterling Pollock, said in effect that infestation of trout in this manner was by no means rare; he is also reported to have said (in effect), the huskier the worms, the healthier the fish!

A specimen of trout from Lake Louisa having been preserved in alcohol and sent to Macdonald College laboratory for examination, Mr. Pollock declared his belief that a report forthcoming from Prof. Taylor, of McGill, would confirm his opinion.

Association Organizes

The foregoing was but a sidelight of the meeting, attended by around 40 enthusiasts at the Social Club last night. Chairman Norman Somers called upon another visitor, G. Benoit, in the interests of organizing a distinct Association of Anglers for this district, to lend weight to a projected Federation of Anglers' Associations which might bring more effective influence to bear, in representations to the Quebec Government. Mr. Benoit elaborated on the advantages of this plan over the set-up of affiliate branches.

It was decided with some enthusiasm to organize here for the season, and officers were accordingly named. The election resulted in the following appointment for a one-year term:

Les Keatley, president; W. K. McArthur, vice-president; Alex Clark, secretary; Lomer Carriere, treasurer.

Eight members were named to the directorate for varying terms of office.

Site Cleared for New Theatre

Demolition of an old dwelling with store-front, and excavation for concrete foundations, mark the commencement of construction of a new theatre building. The site is on Main Street west, near the Mary Street intersection and overlooking the North River.

The Fassio brothers — who already operate the Rex Theatre in Lachute, the Capitol and Arcade at Brownsburg, and a movie circuit in rural communities of the district — are erecting a cement block building, 120 x 60 ft., with stage, screen and all the appointments, lighting and acoustics, of a modern theatre. With the entrance on Main Street it will include a large lobby, and there will be seating accommodation for 300 to 400 persons. Fronting on the thoroughfare, two stores will be included in the building, with two apartments above. The property will be of fireproof construction.

Questioned on their plans, the proprietors state it is their intention to conduct English and French movie shows similar to the procedure at their present establishments, but the new theatre will afford better facilities for stage performances, such as road shows and dramatic programs. It will be available also for strictly local presentations, and in this regard it is hoped the theatre's facilities will foster dramatic talent in the community.

RENEW ACQUAINTANCES

While attending the Canadian Legion conference at Quebec, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford McBride took occasion, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Harry McIntyre, of Labelle, to renew old acquaintances in this town. . . The McBride family were residents here some 35 years ago. Clifford went overseas during the First Great War, and was wounded. He is now practising as a physician in Edmonton, Alta, and expressed surprise at the change and progress apparent in Lachute since his departure.

St. Hermas Farmer Killed by Tractor

A tragic circumstance occurred Monday on a farm at St. Hermas, when M. Victor Lorrain, aged 44, was killed by his own tractor. The farmer, well known around Lachute where he delivered eggs and produce to his customers, was harrowing in his field. As he was about to attach the harrow to the tractor, around 3 p.m. on Monday, he stood beside the machine and set it in motion to back it up. The victim made a false step, and the heavy tractor passed over his chest, causing fatal injury.

Coroner Joseph Page, of St. Benoit, investigated the tragedy and returned a verdict of accidental death.

Victor Lorrain is survived by his wife, the former Yvonne Desjardins, and three children. He was a nephew of Mgr. the Rev. Raynaud, Bishop of Pembroke diocese.

The funeral will take place tomorrow, Friday, at St. Hermas Village.

Windsor (CP) — Frank Snyder, Windsor house painter who wore eight military ribbons including the Victoria Cross when arrested on the street, was sentenced to a year in reformatory for falsely wearing decorations.

Part of Cache Recovered

A salvage crew is shown with a stack of ingots, believed to be silver and platinum, which was recovered from the bottom of Tokyo bay by navy divers. More than $125,000 worth of the precious metal is believed to have been recovered as divers, expanding their area of operations, stumbled into several large piles. The under-water hoard, which was dumped into the bay by the Japs last July, was thought by Jap sources which gave information of the cache to military government officials to be worth about $2,000,000,000.

We Who Have Health...

On June 2 Canada will pay tribute, in a special way, to her sick and disabled, young and old alike, who are confined through illness or disability to their homes, hospitals or other institutions. This is the day when the public at large will remember with visits, letters and gifts, those who are laid aside. These people, the sick and shut-in, are an inspiration to everyone; by their ability to meet adversity with cheerfulness, they earn our admiration and regard.

But remembrance—a precious thing in itself — should also be a practical thing. In this connection shut-ins should be generously remembered. Their one desire is to be accepted as members of the community—to feel that they are not forgotten. Shut-ins' Day is an opportunity to revive old friendships, to make new friends, and to gain a fuller appreciation of their problems and abilities. Recognition, consideration and affection are as much desired by the shut-ins —and valued more—than by any other group.

So, while June 2 is a day of remembrance, resolve not to let other days be days of forgetfulness.

Showing Cattle At Ormstown

Among cattlemen who have entered exhibits from this district in the Ormstown Exhibition next week, are — Jas. McKenzie and J. Meyer, Lachute, and F. W. Allmen, Carillon, showing Holsteins; J. P. Bradley, Lachute, showing Ayrshires.

Building Activity By Businessmen

Extensions and building of new premises around Main Street include — a concrete-block garage in course of construction near the station yard, where Cléo Léger, the proprietor, purchased land from H. Lachance. The present Leger Garage will be occupied by Gordon & Lyster Reg'd, for their machine shop.

At the rear of the Assad Block a frame building is being erected by Quentin James for his use in the electrical business.

Across the street, further extensions are under way at the rear of John McFaul and Son's already spacious store.

Work is progressing on the Food Lockers Ltd., establishment on Clyde Street.

Finishing touches are being added to the Albright & MacAdam building and the Pollock & Graves block on Main Street, both of which are now occupied for business. Parizeau's new "Esquire Shop" is also nearing completion.

In the west end, the Michel Malacket store and dwelling, which was recently gutted by fire, has undergone a facial uplift in the modern style, while the interior of the premises is also being completely renovated.

These are a few of the more notable improvements along the main thoroughfare. Business and residential building is in progress on all sides, indicating the trend of a general building boom in this town.

Child's Eye Is Injured by Stone

(Our District Correspondent)

Calumet — Little Jimmy Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Boyd, met with an accident on Thursday evening last. While setting off firecrackers with a group of older boys, a stone was thrown which accidentally hit him in the eye. He was rushed first to Hawkesbury, then to a Montreal hospital, where hope is held that he will retain the sight of his eye.

PRESIDENT LAUDS W. INST. WORKERS

"It has been said that God gave us memories so that we could have roses in December. . . . I have come to the December of my term of office", said the retiring county W.I. president, Mrs. E. Smillie. And in this vein the speaker recalled with pleasure the co-operation and pleasant relationships she had enjoyed in her work with the Institutes during the past two years.

"The first rose in my bouquet of memories is Faithfulness", she said. Commending the faithful effort of her fellow officers and conveners in the county organization, she paid special tribute to Mrs. Stanley Smith as secretary, with whom she had had many contacts in the business of the Institutes.

The second rose was Loyalty, the third was Relationship, and the fourth was Fragrance — in each regard the president had a word of cordial commendation for the Institute workers, and a pleasant recollection of her associations.

For the incoming officers she bespoke the same co-operation which she had enjoyed, towards the progress of "this great world-wide organization" and for the welfare of "Home and Country". In closing, Mrs. Smillie repeated a poem by Howard Arnold Walter which she had quoted two years ago on her election to the presidency:

I Would Be True

"I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be true, for there are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare.

"I would be friend to all — the foe, the friendless;
I would be giving and forget the gift;
I would be humble, for I know my weakness;
I would look up — and laugh, and love, and lift."

Milk Truck in Highway Mishap

A milk truck from Lowe Bros'. Dairy came to grief on Highway No. 8 yesterday afternoon, when the driver, Emmett Lowe, swerved aside to avoid a youngster who ran into his path. The accident occurred just east of Marelan station. The child, in company with adults along the highway, ran into the road, then seeing the approaching truck, seemed undecided in which direction to turn. The driver had no alternative but to swing his truck into the ditch, to avoid striking the child.

Emmett Lowe escaped without injury. His truck was slightly damaged. The vehicle was loaded with 85 cases of milk bottles, half of which were smashed and the contents spilled on the roadside.

To Pay Subsidies on Milk to September 30

The following statement with respect to milk subsidies was made by Hon. J. G. Gardiner in the House of Commons, May 16.

"It has been decided that the consumer subsidy on fluid milk will be removed as of June 1, and control over prices will be returned from that date to the provincial milk boards. That is, in so far as control of prices is concerned the position will revert to where it was prior to the coming into effect of the prices board so far as fluid milk prices are concerned. In order to allow provincial boards an adequate period in which to make necessary price adjustments, a subsidy of fifty-five cents per 100 pounds will be paid to producers of fluid milk from May 1 to September 30, 1946, it being understood that this subsidy will be removed completely at the later date. It is provided that the subsidy be limited to thirty-five cents in areas where the Agricultural Food Board considers this adequate. That is replacing the provision which was there before, that in those certain areas the limit was twenty-five cents. In view of recent adjustments in the price ceiling on butter, no further action in respect of the present subsidy on butterfat for creamery butter is considered to be required. It is necessary for certain reasons to give further consideration to the subsidies on milk entering into cheese and into processed milk. The result of these discussions will be announced shortly. It is definitely understood that if any adjustments are made they will be upward as compared with the present summer subsidy. That is, if any adjustments are made on the cheese and the processed milk those adjustments will be upward as compared with the subsidies provided for the summer."

W.I. Conference of 10 Community Groups, Impresses Potential of A Broad and Wholesome Influence

New Branch, Arundel, Recently Added

Mrs. Robt. McFaul Elected President of County for Ensuing Year's Activities

The 26th annual convention of Argenteuil Women's Institutes was held at Lachute High School on Saturday, May 25, with a very large attendance — although not all of the more than 300 members were present.

The morning session commenced with a recital of the opening ode and the Mary Stewart Collect, also the salute to the flag.

The newly formed Arundel branch was then officially welcomed by the president, Mrs. N. E. Smillie of Brownsburg, who presided over the entire sessions. In welcoming Arundel branch, which makes the tenth group to be formed in this county, Mrs. Smillie presented Mrs. P. Staniforth, their president, with a Women's Institute pin.

County conveners gave excellent reports, although some mentioned the fact that not all branches had fulfilled their obligations in reporting to the conveners. Agricultural conveners had been behind, only six out of the nine branches having reported — in spite of the fact that the provincial convener for Agriculture has stressed the need of more interest in, and discussions on, that subject during the year. Two branches reported having sent seeds to Britain.

An error was recorded in the Health and Welfare report, as Brownsburg branch was credited with the making of 89 picture scrapbooks for children's hospitals — whereas it was the members of Frontier branch who achieved this effort and delivered the scrapbooks to the head of the Junior Red Cross, Mrs. Ruth B. Shaw personally, for distribution among the sick children. As far as it is known, Frontier branch is the only Institute in the county which remembers the children in this way.

Lachute branch took the lead in the number of parcels sent to men and women in the armed forces.

The War Service convener, Mrs. G. Miller of Lachute, reported that 29 quilts, two afghans, 186 ditty bags and 27 bundles for Britain had been reported to her, as well as $16 in cash donated for Red Cross work, $219 for the Self Denial Fund, $21 for blind and crippled children, $4 for the War Distress Fund, $4 towards sending seeds to Britain, six bags of fur for lining seamen's vests, 311 knitted articles and 299 articles of sewing.

Much more work had been done that was not directly reported through this channel — which is an oversight on the part of the branches, as the organization should receive the credit it rightly deserves.

The War Distress Fund was sponsored by Mille Isles branch, the children of that locality having also assisted, in the interest of other children not so fortunate as themselves.

The War Service convener also reported that two Victory Bonds to the value of $100 each had been purchased and two War Savings folders filled.

Branch secretaries reported briefly on "welcome home" parties given for returned veterans; prizes donated to their local schools; interesting roll-calls relating to home improvements, poultry raising, etc.

Morin Heights reported sponsoring of a Girl Guide company — other branches, a Youth Hostel.

A yearly scholarship for rural pupils taking entrance examinations in Lachute Consolidated School is provided by the County W.I. assisted by some of the branches. . . Nor is the social side of this work neglected, judging by the number of socials and picnics reported.

The Blue Cross membership in the branches is steadily growing and finding favor with all concerned.

Frontier branch had the highest number of members present. There were 20 in attendance; however, as the winners of the banner were decided on percentage of membership, the prize this year goes to Upper Lachute - East End.

Reports of Home Economics demonstrations included leathercraft, cooking of meat, remaking of clothing and advice on making wartime clothing last longer, also an interesting address on "What Young Brides Should Know". . . Every branch convener of Home Economics had reported to the county convener — as was also the case in Education and Better Schools.

Amongst things mentioned by Mrs. G. McGibbon, in giving the county report, were — two travelling libraries made use of; one Book-of-the-Month Club; 125 books sent to the Salvation Army; one Study Group; educational broadcasts discussed; and a generous donation given by the Institutes to the Princess Alice Foundation Fund, for work among the youth of our land.

Provincial Vice-President Speaks Of Institute Matters

Miss Dresser, first vice-president of the Provincial W.I., gave a very interesting talk on W.I. work and also read a letter sent by the president, Mrs. Smallman, who was unable to be present. The speaker asked that suggestions for a new name for the "Self Denial Fund" be sent by Argenteuil delegates who will attend the June convention at Macdonald College.

Miss Dresser also warmly commended the "Save the Children Fund" but requested that all donations to this project be sent in through the regular channels of

Cleric Bereaved At Ste. Agathe

The Late Mrs. E. G. May

The funeral of the late Mrs. E. G. May — whose death occurred suddenly at Ste. Agathe last Friday, in her 71st year — took place Monday afternoon at Ste. Agathe, interment following at St. Andrews East.

The service at Trinity Church, Ste. Agathe, where her husband, the Rev. E. G. May, has been incumbent for the past 12 years, was conducted by the Rev. Stanley A. Rider, of Montreal, son-in-law of the deceased, in the presence of a large gathering of parishioners and residents, both English and French-speaking members of the community. The organist was Mrs. Hayward Jack, of Montreal. Hymns sung were "Unto the Hills Around" and "I Know that My Redeemer Lives".

Chief mourners were her husband, the Rev. E. G. May, her son, Stephen, of Queen's University, Kingston (formerly of Lachute); two daughters, Mrs. Stanley Rider, of Montreal, and Miss Barbara May, of Ottawa; a sister, Mrs. Geo. Harcourt, of Lachine; two nephews and a niece.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. Fred Cole, Sr., Jas. Jacobsen, Fred West, Alvin Kempffer, Hayward Jack, G. H. Shaw, Ed Clark, Ed Dowling and Dr. F. Learn Phelps.

At the family plot in the old Christ Church graveyard at St. Andrews East, the committal rites were conducted by the Rev. C. R. Lang, of Lachute, and the Rev. E. A. Findlay, Town of Mount Royal. Many old friends of the family in that community, where the Rev. and Mrs. May occupied the pastorate many years ago, were present to pay their final tribute. Also present at the graveside were many members of the clergy, including the Rev. Canon R. Howard, the Rev. O. W. Howard, the Rev. D. B. Harrison, the Rev. Thos. Ball and the Rev. G. T. Spriggs.

Highway Crash At Chatboro

Four persons were injured in an auto-truck collision on Route 8 near Chatboro, ten miles west of this town, early Sunday morning when a car driven by David Christie, 24, of Hawkesbury, crashed into a parked truck in charge of Roland St. Denis, 36, of Papineauville.

The truck, carrying an estimated eight-ton load, was parked atop a hill, reportedly without tail lights.

Only one of the four injured was hospitalized at the Notre Dame Hospital in Hawkesbury. She was Miss Muriel Senecal, 20, of Hawkesbury, who suffered shock and a lacerated lip. The others, who left after treatment, were Christie, St. Denis, and Murray McLeod, 29, of Hawkesbury, all of whom suffered from shock.

Traffic Officer Howard Jones, of Calumet, investigated the accident.

Who Is Archaic?

CHANGE is continuous in the world, but not always creative. The canvas must have the touch of the artist. You can't expect creative changes to take place in a world which has lost touch with its Creator.

There are circles today which hold that "belief in God is archaic". But what could be more archaic than going back to cave-man days, even if we dignify our "caves" with the modern term of "bomb shelter"?

The fact is that the great creative strides in history have been taken by men who not only believed in God but believed that God could direct them.

In shaping the American constitution, Benjamin Franklin declared that without God's concurring aid "we should build no better than the builders of Babel."

We ourselves, apparently, create little but problems. To begin creative change in dealing with these problems we need to change our tune, admitting that it is the non-believers who are archaic. If people everywhere inspire us to start, mankind will not only live through the atomic age but come out of it with a better world.

Opportunity Knocks

THE FIRST YEAR of peace has not brought the luxuries, the comforts and the prosperity we had dreamed of at the war's end. The promises of the future which did so much to spur us on during the dark hours, have not materialized. Instead, our reconversion to normal production has been beset with labor strife, crippling industry to a point where it seems that we are heading towards a severe business depression of our own making.

Probably there has never been a time in the country's history when we had so much to gain by hard work. There are world markets, unopened to us before the war, begging to buy, and we have the opportunity to stop in and grab them off before other countries get into production. The world cries out for food. There is such a vast amount of goods needed for the home market. Automobile manufacturers estimate it will be five years before they can meet present needs. Hundreds of families need houses. Thousands are clamoring for radios, washing machines, furniture and other necessities.

There is so much to do — yet this year of peace has been disappointing. Not only have we had our own labor troubles, but Canada's prosperity has been further hampered by a series of industrial disturbances in the United States. Unions in one industry after another have made use of the strike weapon. Every time a man has walked off the job, his action has been felt by a worker in some other trade.

Surely there is something wrong in our political and economic system, when a continent can be almost paralyzed by the direction of a few labor leaders, wielding more power than any government agency.

If we are to prosper we must work hard, and at once. This country has grown to its present state because our forefathers did not shirk. They were the pioneers who cleared the farms and tilled them, not by machines, but by the strength of their own arms. They knew how to work. . . There must be no slackers in our day either. . . The requirement is for men who will do an honest day's work, employees who do not hold the 'what's in it for me' attitude. Fairness by both management and labor is essential. There must be a living wage, with sickness and accident insurance, that which makes for a family's financial security. But in return the worker must show an intensity of application, a pride in his craftsmanship. There must be a diminution of labor's attitude of something for nothing.

Pioneers are needed in science, industry, education, social study. So much good can be brought to the world by applying our energies, physical and mental, to the problems at hand. Life gives nothing free. So we say to Canadians: Work for our own prosperity.

On Watering A Lawn

ABOUT THIS TIME of year the man to whom watering the lawn and garden is a rite as well as a pleasure, begins to have his innings. From June until October he can loaf away an hour or so each night while seeming to be industrious, supplementing nature's contribution to the color of the garden, and widening his philosophic horizons through contemplation.

The true lawn watering enthusiast is definitely not the type who attaches the hose in a hurry, directs a blasting stream to the grass for a few minutes and then tosses it back into the cellar. Nor is he the type who uses a sprinkler and goes about things he considers more important.

The real enthusiast takes at least an hour about it, and scorns sprinklers. He works best if he has a garden chair or verandah steps on which to sit. The garden should also be well within the range of the hose he controls. Larger plots involve tiresome walking, and dragging the hose — both destructive to contemplation. A deep, well filled pipe that will last a long while is almost a necessity.

Given these, our man is almost content. There is, of course, the matter of the sun. Perfect conditions call for a chair facing east so that the setting sun will shine over his shoulder and into the spray, dreaming up delightful rainbows that can be moved to and fro with the easy swing of a wrist. . . . Making your own rainbows is one of the nicest things about watering the lawn under this system. . . But most important of all is the time all this affords for contemplation.

Some will hold that a man lazy enough to sit for an hour watering a lawn won't think of anything useful. But it's our idea that some of the most satisfying thinking ever done has been done on front lawns — in the cool of evening — with the music of water falling, a peaceful accompaniment.

For A Low-Priced Car

DELIVERY PRICES in the United States on 1946 automobiles range from several dollars to more than $300 above the 1942 price for the same makes and styles. The basic price is almost unchanged, but the engineering and styling changes are said responsible for the large differences between the 1946 and 1942 prices. In Canada, too, the signs point to a more costly automobile, no matter what make you prefer.

The price increase will cause disappointment to many who have been waiting for a long time for some manufacturer to produce a family car in the price range of $600-700. It has often been mentioned in the press, but the car itself never seems to materialize.

The present low price range for automobiles in Canada is around $1,300, slightly less for some makes and slightly higher for others in this class. Even with wages at their present high rates, $1,300 is too much money for the working class family to invest in an automobile The average wage earner, after he pays his taxes and various assessments has little left.

A car is not the luxury it once was considered. There is no reason why every family should not have the opportunity of enjoying the pleasure a car can give.

We would like to see a low-cost people's car on the market, perhaps without some of the luxurious appointments, but sturdily built and made for cheap operation.

ACCORDING to the United States Weather Bureau, the world may be started on a half century of progressively colder weather.—About mid-July we will probably be calling for faster progress!

Well, what d'you know!

Every Canadian farmer sees prosperity ahead. He knows the world is short of food and food is money.

The question most farmers are asking today is "How can I get my share of that prosperity to come?"

That calls for equipment—modernization—possibly new gadgets to mechanize some of the last strongholds of hand labour around the farm.

The Bank of Montreal is ready to offer the necessary financial aid to go-ahead farmers who wish to improve or modernize their farm equipment, buildings and lands.

Visit your Bof M manager today. Discuss your needs freely. He is ever ready to be helpful. Remember, when you ask for a loan at the Bank of Montreal you do not ask a favour.

Was YOUR long distance call delayed?

MOST Long Distance calls go through all right. But from time to time there is a delay.

That is because there are so many more telephones now and so many more people are using Long Distance.

We're hard at work adding new switchboards and lines and training many more operators to get Long Distance service back to pre-war speeds and even faster.

In the meantime, when you find circuits extra busy you can help relieve the load by observing the proper sequence, and by being patient if there is a delay.

WHEN YOU PLACE a Long Distance Call . . .

FIRST, give the operator the name of the distant city . . .
THEN, the telephone number of your party . . .
THEN, when the operator asks it, your own telephone number.

If you don't know the distant telephone number, please make a note of it for future use when you hear the operator repeat it.

Lachute Girl Is Wed in Danish Lutheran Church

Janson - Jacobsen

In the Danish Lutheran Church, Montreal, on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, the marriage was solemnized of Kirsten Jacobsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jacobsen, of Lachute, to Frank Janson, son of Mr. Theodore Janson and the late Mrs. Janson, of Pointe St. Charles. The Rev. Mr. Beck officiated, in the Danish tradition — Miss Beck playing the wedding music.

Red tulips formed the floral decorations for the ceremony.

Miss Else Jacobsen attended her sister, and Mr. Fred Janson was best man for his brother.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Paul Jacobsen, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white jersey with fitted bodice and a sweetheart neckline. Her three-quarter length veil of tulle illusion was held in place with a white lily - of - the - valley diadem. She wore long jersey mitts with matching gloves. Her only ornament was a double string of pearls with matching earrings, and she carried a bouquet of red tulips and white jonquils.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the bridegroom's home in Pointe St. Charles, where spring flowers were used to decorate the rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Janson later left for a trip to Sorel. On their return they will reside at Pointe St. Charles.

BISHOP'S VISIT 100 YEARS AGO

In these advanced times it is a matter of routine for the Bishop of Montreal to visit the parishes and conduct the ecclesiastic affairs of his Anglican diocese. The chronicle of such a visit one hundred years ago, however, strikes one with the contrast in travelling facilities, and in other conditions existing a century ago.

In The Church Messenger for May, is reproduced the Bishop's sketchy report of a tour made in July, 1846; the following lines relate to the parishes of this particular district:

"Took steamer from La Chine to Carillon on Ottawa River, to St. Andrews Village — confirmation, 300 present in church. Rev. W. Abbott in charge. To the Gore, 16 miles distant (Lakefield), Rev. I. McMaster in charge — it is a blessing to see a church (an unsightly edifice in its exterior) in such a place, completely in the woods. 150 present and 13 confirmed. To Grenville. Confirmation. Mr. Abbott has a Curate, Mr. Sutton. July 19, 1846, I crossed the superb and elegant suspension bridge, which spans the Ottawa below the magnificent Chaudiere Falls, to Hull."

Annual Convention Of County W. Inst.

the W.I. — Actually hundreds of dollars had been donated by W.I. members directly to the Fund, for which the W.I. could have no record, since it had not been donated through the organization; the W.I. contribution appeared small, in consequence. Miss Dresser also advised against giving of memberships to organizations and clubs without first having the matter looked into by officials of the W.I.; often such names were requested only in order to exploit the members. Miss Dresser reported that rates for delegates to the Macdonald convention had been increased this year, and she also suggested that county presidents meet with their delegates during the convention and explain matters of discussion which may not have been fully understood. Miss Dresser also recommended the purchase by members of Madame Vautelet's booklet, "Post-War Problems" — at a cost of only ten cents each.

Members from the ages of 16 to 26 were invited to take part in the four Age Contests, particulars of which had been sent to the branches.

Miss Dresser continued: "We are not living in the glory of the past but looking to the future. We are W.I. members not for what we can get out of it, but for what we can give." She spoke of the Institutes' interest in the housing problem, assistance in the fight against V.D., and she urged interest in any other subject that is for the welfare of our country; she strongly advocated getting the young girls interested in the W.I. movement, as "the way to keep young people on the farm, and especially girls, is to give them every interest that we can."

Other Views and Angles

Mrs. N. E. Smillie suggested that we have a charter, so that charter members of the different branches could be kept account of.

Mr. C. W. P. Baugh, who has charge of the "Book of Remembrance", read the names of those who had passed on since the last convention — eight in all — and after a few sympathetic remarks asked the members to stand in honor of those "who walk with us no more".

Guests of honor at the noon luncheon included Mayor Leopold Carriere of Lachute, Mrs. Carriere, Mr. J. S. Giles, to whom the Institutes are much indebted for space used by them in The Watchman, also Dr. and Mrs. L. Turcotte.

The Mayor in his address assured the members of the new branch that they were associating themselves with "a lovely group of women".

Mr. Giles, in more serious strain, stressed, in his own words and by recitation of a poem, that "we get out of life what we put into it", also that there never was a time when the common bond of friendship was more needed.

Dr. Turcotte, county health officer, expressed great pleasure in the formation of a branch of this organization in Arundel, because of family associations with that part of the county. He also gave an interesting talk on children's diseases, accompanied by statistics to prove his points. One of the diseases that had taken more children's lives in the county in the past few years than any other was one which as a rule is not generally considered dangerous, namely whooping cough.

Musical numbers were provided in the afternoon by Brownsburg branch. Two young school girls, K. Moseley and M. Cumbers, favored with vocal duets, which were much appreciated, accompanied by Mrs. C. Wheeler. Miss Cumbers also gave a piano selection.

Miss Walker, provincial W.I. demonstrator, gave an interesting and lengthy address on House Cleaning—the main point of which was, that if women kept their homes systematically clean, there would be no need of the annual or semi-annual upset of house-cleaning time. Her admonition was, "Budget your work. Keep clean".

Speaks on Housing

Prof. Heimpel, Agricultural engineer from Macdonald College, was introduced by the Lachute president, Mrs. G. E. Leggett. Prof. Heimpel proved a worthwhile speaker, on the pressing subject of the housing situation. He spoke on the building and repairing of homes — a topic which many of the ladies present were wishing that their husbands could have shared with them.

Mrs. Alvin Heatlie, convener of Resolutions, read some very fitting resolutions which were duly accepted by the members.

Adélard Héroux, 55, is typical of thousands of Canadian workers who have made pulp and paper their lifelong calling. Adélard has worked in the same paper mill at Grand'Mère, Que., for nearly three decades, rising from the rank of helper to that of paper inspector. A keen participant in company affairs, vice-president of the union syndicate, Héroux is not only a credit to his firm and his trade, but also an asset to his community where he is active in church, welfare, and civic movements. Here is another proof that Pulp and Paper breeds good citizens.

"I reckon that the paper industry is as beneficial to me and the other boys as it is to the country. My employment in the industry has been permanent, if you call 29 years permanent, and this great industry offers to other Canadians, participating in it, a firm foundation for their well being and security."

Hints for Homebodies

By Jessie Allen Brown

STRANDED

We had the unusual experience of being stranded in a snowstorm at Easter. We left Saint John for Halifax on Easter Sunday. There had been a slight snowfall Saturday night but not to amount to anything, and the sun was shining brightly. The farther we went the more snow there was but not very much. When we got within a few miles of Moncton we caught up with the snowplow and wondered why in the world it was out on a day like that. We soon found out. Within a mile we got into a traffic jam and were stuck in the snow like a good many other cars. The snowplow came along and managed to get a passage made and shovels and manpower got the cars started. It took us almost two hours to make those last four miles in to Moncton. When we got there we found the hotels crowded as the flights had been cancelled. However, we got a room and we had to spend the night in Moncton as the roads were impassable beyond. The next day we saw miles and miles of wires down and tangled into an awful mess. Besides this, poles were snapped off and many of them were broken like match-sticks. The power was off for a while in Moncton and the gas pressure went down until the gas finally went out. Moncton uses gas largely for both cooking and heating and they were without it for two days. Every customer had to be notified before the gas could be turned on as some of the jets might have been left on when the gas went out and no chances could be taken. In certain places there were drifts of six feet and of course higher where the snowplow had piled up the snow. This was on Monday and when we returned on Wednesday the roads were dry and there were only traces of snow left where the worst drifts had been. When Easter comes so near the end of April one certainly does not expect the weather to behave in such a fashion.

LOCAL FOOD COLLECTIONS

The Government Food Information Committee says, 'It is difficult to explain to generous citizens anxious to help in every way possible, that local collections of food hamper rather than help the overall effort to maximum food shipments. The packing, shipment, and ultimate distribution of these foods add further complications to an already difficult task and the net effect of such local efforts is to increase the problem of the authorized government and international agencies in procuring supplies for bulk shipments'. I am one of those who still have to be convinced that local food collections would not be a good thing. You have, as I have, foods on your shelves you would be anxious and willing to donate. Things which have been kept for emergencies but which could be replaced by foods unsuitable for shipment. If clothing can be collected, then why not foods? It would not seem to be impossible because the people in the United States are doing it. They have containers in the churches and in stores and other places in which to place foods suitable for shipment. The Government may be right but we would all like the opportunity of doing some personal giving.

LADY READING

Some of you may have heard Lady Reading speak, either on her tour of Canada, or over the radio. She is an able speaker and had many interesting things to tell. She heads the Women's Voluntary Service, which is still functioning. Democracy is a word which is prated about a great deal. It is not mentioned in connection with England and Scotland, of course — but I wonder if they are not nearer to true democracy than any other country. They have all had the same treatment. All women, regardless of social status, have had to work. They have each received the same treatment as to food, clothes, furniture and household supplies. She said that morale was made up of little things. That is true. Most people can take big things in their stride but the constant irritation of little things gets them down. Think of those women having still to stand in queues for almost everything they buy, and then finding less to buy than ever before. I feel very strongly that we are not doing nearly enough for them. We have so many things we could very well share. Even little things like handkerchiefs. Lady Reading said they were developing into a nation of snifflers, as a handkerchief took a half coupon, and they were reluctant to use their sorely-needed coupons for them. We have grumbled about our shortage of tissues but we have always been able to buy plenty of hankies.

SPREADS

If we use spreads on bread or crackers we may manage without buttering them. Many hotels are now serving cottage cheese at their butterless meals. Sandwich spreads make a little butter and a little cheese go a long way.

SPANISH SANDWICH SPREAD

¼ Cup butter, 2 eggs beaten, 3 teaspoons mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup white sugar, 1 scant cup of vinegar, 1 small tin pimento chopped, 1 large green pepper chopped, ¼ lb. package of cheese, ¼ cup milk.

Cook the first five ingredients over hot water until thick, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients and cook until thick and smooth. Pour in sealers. This will keep in the refrigerator for weeks.

RHUBARB IN SPRINGTIME

Early rhubarb, rosy and tender, needs very little cooking and also little sugar, which is an advantage in these days of rationing. If the garden contains a large patch of rhubarb, canning part of it would prove to be a boon next winter. It is wise to can rhubarb while the stalks are young and tender. Later on in the summer they are apt to become woody.

The home economists of the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture recommend several methods of canning rhubarb. Here is one method that will prove a favorite when a serving of fruit is desired for lunch or supper. It is called the "dry sugar method".

For 1 quart of canned fruit, use: 4 cups rhubarb, cut in one inch lengths, ½ cup sugar and boiling water. Pack the quart sealer half full of cut rhubarb, add about ⅓ of the sugar. Continue to pack sealer with alternate layers of rhubarb and sugar. When full, cover with boiling water to within one quarter inch of top of sealer. Seal tightly and tilt gently back and forth to dissolve sugar. Loosen seal slightly and process in boiling water bath, allowing fifteen minutes for pints and twenty minutes for quarts. Remove sealers from the water bath, complete the seal and allow to cool in an upright position.

That takes care of many desserts for next winter but here are three recipes using fresh rhubarb.

RHUBARB PUFFS

1 Cup thinly sliced rhubarb, ½ cup sugar, ⅓ cup shortening, 1 egg yolk, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup of sifted all purpose flour, or 1 cup plus 2 tbsp. pastry flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ⅓ cup of milk, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves, 1 egg white.

Mix the rhubarb with ¼ cup of the sugar and place in the bottom of six greased custard cups. Cream the shortening and vanilla. Add the remaining ¼ cup of sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add the egg yolk and beat until fluffy. Mix and sift flour, salt, and baking powder, and add alternately with the milk to the first mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white Pour the batter over rhubarb in the custard cups and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for about 30 minutes. Serve with rhubarb sauce.

Rhubarb Sauce: 2 cups of sliced rhubarb, 2 tablespoons sugar, ⅓ cup honey. Place sliced rhubarb, sugar and honey in a covered saucepan. Bring to the boiling point. Reduce heat and cook for 10 minutes. Six servings.

RHUBARB WHIP

1½ Tablespoons gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 2 cups hot stewed sweetened rhubarb, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 egg whites, pinch of salt.

Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Add to hot rhubarb and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Place in refrigerator or other cool place and allow to partially set. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff, but not dry. Add the jellied mixture and continue to beat. Turn into one large or several individual moulds and chill. Serve with custard sauce made from the two egg yolks. Six servings.

BAKED RHUBARB

4 Cups rhubarb, ½ cup brown sugar.

Wash rhubarb thoroughly, cut in one-inch pieces. If rhubarb is tender it should not be peeled. The peel gives a delicate "pinkish" color to the sauce.

Put with sugar in a covered casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) until tender, about 45 minutes. To vary, add ⅓ to ½ cup raisins. Six servings.

MEN OUTNUMBERED

Paul Lortie Meets G. Garibaldi at Arena Tomorrow

Final Contest Major Attraction In Friday's Mat Program

600 Witnessed Opening Wrestling Event Here last Week

The wrestling card for tomorrow night at the Arena here will include some of the fastest and roughest matmen in the game. In the preliminary Les Ryan, noted Fordham University football star and weighing 231 lbs., will be matched against John Swenski, 228 lbs., the new Polish-American terror from Buffalo, N.Y. This will be one fall — 30 minute limit.

In the semi-final, George Cagney of Quebec City, "world's junior heavyweight title-holder" will face Jimmy Austeri, Brooklyn cyclone. Austeri, weighing 221 lbs., made a sensational debut in the Montreal Forum last night and is rated the most notorious roughhouse wrestler to emerge from the Brooklyn East Side. This is his second bout in Canada, and John Dunne, local manager, is very pleased that Eddie Quinn is giving the fans in these parts the opportunity of witnessing a veritable tornado against the smooth-working and experithe experienced Cagney. This will also be one fall — 30 minute limit.

In the final, Gino Garibaldi of Italy, weighing 229 lbs., one-time champion of the world, who has wrestled from coast to coast and is a very tough hombre, will endeavor to show Paul Lortie the difference between top heavyweight and junior heavyweight wrestling. Paul Lortie made a sensational debut against Al Tucker here last week, but wrestling fans are well aware that Tucker is not Garibaldi. Paul will weigh 215 lbs., and this bout will be the best two-out-of-three with a 90-minute limit.

The referee for the show will be Sammy Mack, an experienced third man in the ring. The arena management requests all patrons to refrain from entering the ring. The wrestlers have to protect themselves from outsiders, and anybody interfering with or threatening them does so at his own risk of injury. The popular prices included in the advertisement and on posters will still be in effect.

Last week's show attracted a crowd of over 600 people, and they all left the arena well pleased with the performance.

HARNESS HORSE RACING

"Sports Camera"

By WILF GRUSON, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Harness horse racing, developed in the United States from a country fair attraction to a prominent metropolitan area sport, now is experiencing growing pains in Canada.

In the eyes of Canadian harness racing officials the future of the sport in the Dominion has never looked brighter. One noted government racing authority goes so far as to predict that if the government sanctions pari-mutuels to facilitate betting the sport should rise beyond their fondest dreams.

That is about the only factor that is required for the sport to grow in prestige to a point where it may rank with straight horse racing, as an attraction. Trotting officials know this and efforts are continually being made for authorization to operate pari-mutuels to replace the bookie system.

Already, even without parimutuel betting, the improvements introduced in the sport have done wonders to attract fans who at one time would not have thought of going to trotting and pacing races. These improvements include bigger purses, night racing, dash races to replace heat events, a new starting gate, better conditions and management.

The success already achieved in the United States can be seen from the fact that last year at the Westbury Track on Long Island, New York, crowds of more than 25,000 was not infrequent. This spring the sport was introduced to California racing followers at Santa Anita and the two-month-long meeting drew large enough crowds to warrant officials to make plans for a bigger meet next year.

Canada's prestige in the sport soared recently when a Canadian-owned horse, Blue Again, defeated a crack field of pacers in the $50,000 1¼ mile Western Harness Grand Pace at Santa Anita. Blue Again, owned by R. W. Leatherdale of Windsor, Ont., covered the distance in the world record time of 2.2¼, a full second under the former mark set by Phil O'Neil in 1925. The purse was the richest every offered pacers.

Blue Again isn't a Canadian bred horse, but this took away nothing from his great victory against the world's best pacers. He was noteworthy since he beat the entry of Sep Palin of Indianapolis. Leatherdale bought Blue Again from Palin for $4,100 and, at the time of the sale, Palin thought he had kept the better horse.

Baseball

To see the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League in any other place but the cellar might be considered an optical illusion, but if they pick up any more sluggers like outfielder Johnny Wyrostek, they'll be turning the spot over to some other club.

Johnny came to the Phils in a two-for-one trade which sent Vince Dimaggion to the St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for him and second baseman Emil Verban. He's been clouting the ball at a terrific pace since then and has kept his average around the .350 mark. Before the season is out he will have something to say about the loop batting championship.

"SALADA" TEA

New Product at Fair, of Interest To Farmers

One of the cattle barns at this year's Lachute Fair is being treated with the latest germicide and insecticide. The brand name, CARBOLA 2% DDT DISINFECTING WHITE PAINT, perhaps best explains this product. It gives a smooth, white, non-peeling finish; fights germs of Bang's Disease and Typhosus, and is effective for at least three months in controlling flies. Put up in powder form, it need only be mixed with water and applied either by brush or, as in the case of the Fair building, by spray gun. CARBOLA will be available in Lachute at the Farmers' Supply Company, 84 Foundry Street. -1c
