DEADLOCK REMAINS, STRIKE ENTERS FOURTH WEEK

Local 164 Has Certificate Revoked For Refusal to Accept Arbitration

Company Takes A Hand--Calls Meeting of Strikers in Auditorium

At the Lachute Auditorium on Sunday night a capacity crowd of Ayers textile workers and their sympathizers seemed little perturbed by the fact that their Union (Local 164 of the United Textile Workers of America) had no official existence, and no longer was recognized as bargaining agent between the workers and their employers. Madeleine Parent, local organizer and one of the principal speakers, by way of contradiction cited Article 18 of the Labor Relations Act maintaining that "nothing shall prevent any unrecognized organization, having a majority support of the workers, from negotiating with the employers on terms and conditions of labor" — or words to that effect.

How the workers feel about the situation today — beyond the echo of such soul-stirring assemblies — is another matter, best known to those with an ear to the ground and an eye to the dwindling exchequer. Some will affirm the workers are solidly united in their demands. Others go so far as to claim over 50 per cent are restless after three weeks of idleness, and anxious to resume work on any reasonable compromise. However, these are opinions; following are the facts. . . .

It is recalled that Ayers Limited directorate gave promise of a reply last Friday to the strikers' proposal for a temporary contract, which included among other clauses an increase of 12c an hour in basic wage rates. . On Friday, Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P., acting as mediator, received the promised communication — but it made no reference to terms of the proposed contract; it was not what the workers expected. . . . The Union's certificate having been revoked in the meantime, the letter from Ayers Limited stated explicitly that the Company considered Local 164 no longer officially authorized to speak for their employees, and the Company would not continue to discuss proposals put forward by that organization.

By way of clarifying their attitude, the Company added further — it would not negotiate with any legally constituted organization unless — "(1) all employees return immediately to their work, and (2) within 72 hours of their return, the employees name their representative for a tribunal of arbitration"; after fulfilment of these terms and resumption of work, the Company would pay an increase of 4c an hour pending decision of the tribunal, as offered at the outset of negotiations.

Revocation of the Union's authority was pronounced last Thursday in a telegram from P. E. Bernier, secretary of the Quebec Labor Relations Board — Madeleine Parent and Georges Bedard, president of Local 164, having (according to the wording of the charge) ignored repeated requests to comply with the provisions of arbitration, and the Union having "failed to justify this attitude". "In view of the flagrant violation of Article 24 — " reads the preamble of this pronouncement.

To date, therefore, Quebec Labor Relations Board holds the workers obliged to appoint new bargaining agents (a new Union) or to select representatives from among themselves to negotiate on their behalf. . . Madeleine Parent, on the other hand, interprets the Act as still authorizing her Union to act in the employees' interests. . . . (It is learned that, despite this stand, Mme Parent, Kent Rowley and their attorney appeared Tuesday before the Board in Montreal, with a request that the revocation order be reconsidered.). . . .

Such, in brief review, is the situation which now creates an impasse in settlement of the Ayers strike.

At Sunday's meeting there were roses and good cheer — these, at least, were the outward evidence of less happy emotions. Madeleine Parent was presented by her followers with a bouquet "in celebration of her liberation". Mme Parent's appeal from conviction of the courts had been won, by a judicial ruling handed down the previous day. This triumph was interpreted by several speakers as a victory for organized labor and also a rebuff to Premier Maurice Duplessis.

Mme Parent, reviewing developments of the past week, denied any part in threatening letters sent to members of the Ayers family. The strike had been conducted in an orderly manner, she claimed. But, now, the "second stage" of proceedings was one of "action" — on which, however, she did not elaborate, except to call for a full-strength picket line the following morning. (It is understood there were rumors of gate-crashing by a group of C-I-O followers.)

Georges Bedard, as chairman of the assembly, expressed gratitude to various storekeepers, farmers and dairymen who had contributed to support of the strikers' families. The local brotherhood of Wilson Paper Co. Ltd. employees tendered a cash donation, through their president Joseph Joly. Other speakers brought the fire of enthusiasm and messages of encouragement, from Montreal and Valleyfield textile groups, while Alphege Beaudoin, president of the provincial "Federation", was another forceful speaker.

During the week certain rumors may have suggested to the Union authorities that all was not unanimous — but Kent Rowley, president of the "International" in Montreal, spoke last but not least to reaffirm his conviction. "Despite rumors and reports", he was convinced there never was strike organization more solid than that which existed at the local mills. Mr. Rowley protested vehemently the manner in which Quebec had revoked the Union's certificate, but the workers' proposition was still unchanged, he said; they would hold out to adjust their grievances now, rather than accept a compromise and reopen the dispute again in 1948 or 1949.

* * *

Meanwhile the extensive mills at Ayers Limited remain strike-bound. Pickets are on patrol — Provincial Police constables remain on guard — though none, save a skeleton staff of maintenance men, attempts to enter the factory gates. The business of the town suffers notably from the loss of $18,000 in weekly pay envelopes; merchants make no secret of this falling-off in retail trade. The strike today enters its fourth successive week. And while "strike funds" are being dispensed in certain cases, it is reported other workers' families — perhaps too proud to admit their need — are hungry and in want. — But — c'est la grève, m'sieur! The strike continues.

By letter addressed to each individual employee, the management has invited the workers to the Auditorium this afternoon (Thursday) to meet the directors, and hear a statement of their policy in the present strike and in future relations with their employees.

Receives Belgian Croix de Guerre

Louisa, Que. — Sydney Berry received from Ottawa recently the Belgian Croix de Guerre with Palm and Insignia, in recognition of his gallantry on the field of battle during World War II.

Mr. Berry enlisted in 1940, and after training and service in Canada and Newfoundland, went overseas in the Royal Canadian Engineers and was awarded Corporal stripes. He returned home in 1945, eventually being discharged.

The community is proud of the service rendered by this man, and congratulations are extended on receiving this token of valor from an Allied country.

Wesley Freeland Elected President Of Rotary Club

Brownsburg — At their regular weekly meeting last Thursday, April 24, the Rotary Club of Brownsburg elected their officers for the year 1947-48. President Harris Sherwood was in the chair.

W. W. Freeland, secretary since the club's inception in 1945, was elected president, with Norman Somers, chairman of the carnival committee, as vice-president. Harold Barrie, who has assisted Mr. Freeland in his duties as program chairman, was appointed secretary by acclamation. Harold Dando was elected as treasurer, while the board of directors for the next term consists of Bill Graham, Edgar Pollock, Dave Schwartz and Harris Sherwood, the retiring president. The above members will take over their respective offices in July, the beginning of the new Rotary year.

President Harris Sherwood and Secretary Wesley Freeland, with their wives, leave this week-end for the Rotary district conference, which is being held in Watertown, N.Y., on May 4-5-6. It is hoped that ideas may be gained at this conference which will aid the club in better carrying out its program of service for the community.

Barbara Ann Scott To Officiate at Opening of Fair

Highlight of the opening day at Lachute Spring Fair, June 11 next, will be the inaugural ceremonies at which Miss Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa will officiate. The skating queen's acquiescence to visit Lachute and appear in this capacity, was announced yesterday by J. H. Black, president of the Argenteuil Agricultural Society.

(Earlier plans provided a possibility that the Hon. Winston Churchill, during a proposed visit to the Dominion, might honor this community with his presence. A reply to this request was received by the directors, stating that Mr. Churchill would have been glad to accept the invitation, but that it did not however concur with his program.)

Barbara Ann Scott, world figure skating champion, has been idolized by young and old across the Dominion, since her triumphs this past winter. With her prowess on the ice, she combines a grace and poise which justify the people's pride in this charming 18-year-old Canadian girl.

Just prior to her participation in the Lachute ceremonies, Barbara Ann on June 7 will be guest of honor at the Toronto Men's and Women's Press Club annual "By-line Ball" where she will be acclaimed as "Princess of the Press for 1947".

Mr. Black and fellow directors of the Argenteuil Exhibition feel gratified that Miss Scott has agreed to include this engagement in her round of appointments, and fair-goers without a doubt will accord her a glad hand of welcome.

Stimulus to Talent

A novel plan for helping to develop talent, is announced by E. G. Bascom, Sherbrooke, chairman of the Eastern Townships Committee of the Quebec Council of Community Schools.

The help for communities is being provided through two Leaders' Schools to be held in the Eastern Townships during May. One will be at Knowlton, where the sessions will be held on the five Fridays in May, while the other will be at Lennoxville and will take up the five Saturday afternoons.

The courses to be given at both schools include Community Leadership, Drama, Art in the Community, Recreation, Music, Public Affairs, and Handicrafts. They will mostly take the form of discussions led by highly qualified experts, and students' actual problems will be dealt with. In the Art course, students will prepare display models.

Since this is a Leaders' School and its capacity is limited, only those in positions of leadership or sponsored by community organizations will be enrolled. But it should not be difficult for anyone who has been at all active in community life to get such backing.

Each community is being encouraged to send six students to one of the schools. While the courses are laid out primarily for adults, Scouts and Guide leaders should find them very helpful in their work.

R. Alex Sim of the Adult Education Service, Macdonald College, and Robert Taylor of the National Film Board, Lennoxville, have been working closely with the committee in developing its plan. Further details about the schools may be secured from the registrars — Miss Elizabeth Watson, Sweetsburg, or Mr. E. J. Perry, Lennoxville.

Eyesight which requires correction, may account for poor grades of some school children — doctors declare.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD AT ALEXANDRIA BUYS BUILDING

Alexandria — The Board of Trustees of the local high school has completed purchase of the former R.C.A.F. ground instruction school building at St. Eugene from War Assets Corporation, and it is expected the building will provide some 4,000 square feet of building material for an addition to the high school.

The addition to the high school will provide classrooms for shop-work, agricultural science, home economics, gymnastics and a commercial course. The commercial course has yet to be approved by the Department of Education.

As the result of a large enrolment the high school has found itself cramped for space in the teaching of these subjects.

Isaac Boisvenue, a local contractor, will be in charge of the erection of the temporary addition to the school.

April Programs, Argenteuil Co. W.I. Branches

Arundel—Twenty members and two visitors were present at the Arundel W.I. meeting in April.

Brownsburg branch had an attendance of 31 at their meeting. A 20 lb. parcel was sent to England. Mr. E. H. Peters, Agriculture teacher for Lachute High School, was the guest speaker; his subject was, "Beautifying the Home Grounds." Mrs. William Fletcher, past president, was presented with a life membership. Congratulations were sent to the newly organized French W.I., which has a membership of 81.

Frontier. — Thirteen members and one guest were present. The roll-call was, "stain removers". A personal parcel was sent to England. This meeting featured Home Economics, with a very interesting paper given by the convener, Mrs. John Douglas, on the subject, "Scientific Research for Food Vitamins". There was a contest in drop cakes: 1st. prize, Mrs. J. H. Fuller; 2nd, Mrs. Basil Clarke.

Jerusalem - Bethany. — Sixteen members attended this meeting. The roll-call was, "A good point about the lady on your right". An interesting paper on Gardening was read by the convener, Mrs. N. MacGeorge. A jumbled word contest was held. . . The president welcomed to this meeting a war bride, Mrs. Andrew Cleland, and Mrs. D. Rodger on behalf of the members presented her with a beautiful table lamp.

Lachute branch had 55 members and visitors at their April gathering. Two members, Mrs. George Leggett, who had been president for five years and Mrs. Geo. Tattersfield, treasurer for seven years, were presented with life memberships in appreciation of their faithful services. The sum of $75 was donated to the Red Cross campaign. Mrs. A. G. Lamontagne, convener of Home Economics, had on display some beautiful applique work. Each member was given a card commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Women's Institutes. Afternoon tea was served. Mr. Lloyd Creswell invited the members to the new premises of Food Lockers Ltd. for an inspection tour; a demonstration on frozen foods was given.

Lakefield. — No meeting was held, owing to road conditions.

Pioneer. — Eighteen members and six visitors attended this meeting. The roll-call was "Hints for removing stains". Mrs. E. Bazinet, Current Events convener, recited "Come to the Institute," and read other articles. Mrs. Hooker, convener of National and International Relations, read articles on radium given by Canada to UNRRA . . Miss Janet McOuat, of Lachute, gave a demonstration on making sandwiches, which was greatly appreciated. . . There was a contest for white bread, with six entries: 1st prize, Mrs. Wheeler; 2nd, Mrs. Bazinet; 3rd, Mrs. L. Hooker; 4th, Mrs. J. P. Bradley. Miss J. McOuat and Mrs. Geo. Leggett were the judges. Incidentally, Mrs. Wheeler (the first prize winner) is the eldest lady in this group.

Several Changes In Local Business

One or two business changes have taken place recently — some of which are not readily apparent to the shopping public.

The Lachute Medicine Shop, or Venus Café, Main Street, which has been operated for a number of years by Jos. Poitras, has now been taken over by E. Harbour, formerly of Gaspé. Mrs. Harbour is assisting him in the store.

A well known property on Main Street, the old Rice store and residence opposite the United Church, was acquired recently by Messrs. Aimé Pregent and Jim McOuat. (These business partners have incorporated their firm, operating now under the title Farmers' Electric Supply Ltd.) Their plans are to occupy the adjacent residence and to completely modernize the store — when they can secure occupancy. The premises are now rented by N. Héroux, plumbing contractor.

On Foundry Street the Licop Tailor Shop in A. Raymond's building is now occupied by a plumbing, heating and electrical engineering firm, A. E. Greenmark. With head office in Montreal and a branch at St. Sauveur, this new Lachute enterprise is in charge of Mr. A. Wilkins. . . The S. Goldsworthy travel agency has also established an office in these premises.

$45,000 ADDITION PROPOSED FOR B'BURG PARISH CHURCH

"In Brownsburg"

Specially Contributed by M. V. Trayers

Brownsburg — A parochial committee, at the instance of the clergy, have decided that the St. Louis de France Parish Church is to be enlarged, to accommodate the increasing congregation. It is estimated the cost of the building project will be about $45,000. The present grounds are adequate to allow for the addition, and the finances of the church are in a sound state. Monthly collections will be made during church services to defray the expense.

"Don't Buy Chocolate Bars"

This was the admonition which captioned a number of notices posted about Brownsburg during the week. The notices went on to say that chocolate manufacturers declared an increased percentage of 210 on profits of 1946 as compared with 1945. Inquiries at the merchants' revealed that an abundance of supplies were now available, whereas a few weeks ago it was almost impossible to obtain deliveries. Sales were slow and in some cases supplies were turned back.

Costly Lumber

Controls have not yet been lifted on lumber, nevertheless at the last meeting of the council among the monthly accounts a bill was received from a local merchant which revealed that a quantity of dressed birch used for flooring the truck was calculated at $200 per thousand feet. The council directed that the bill be examined by W.P.T.B. before payment was sanctioned.

$100 A Minute

It has been calculated that the proceedings of the House of Commons cost the country $100 a minute. Recently a member who had asked the Hon. Douglas Abbott (Minister of Finance) a question to which he received what he described as a facetious reply, retorted "I asked the question of Abbott the Minister, not Abbott of 'Abbott and Costello'. Some of our radio comedians receive a lot of money, too."

Stresses Danger Of Grass Fires

Before winter set in, early this week — news was communicated by Fire Chief George Deacon that the local brigade had been called to combat three grass fires within the town limits. (He has since had no reason for complaint on this score, for the ground has been covered with snow or saturated with rain).

With the return of dry weather and the springtime urge to clean-up one's yard and property, the danger of grass fires getting out of control will doubtless recur. The public are advised to take no chances with this hazard; a breeze may carry the blaze to nearby buildings in quick time, resulting in a conflagration which may prove costly to property owners.

At Conference of Princess Alice Fund Trustees

A meeting of interest to women across the Dominion was held Monday in the capital, to review the progress of the Princess Alice Foundation Fund, inaugurated in 1946. It was the first annual meeting on this project, and discussion centred upon the manner of administering the fund, which was subscribed by Canadian women in honor of Her Excellency Lady Alice, consort of Canada's former Governor General, the Earl of Athlone. The idea was warmly approved by Her Ladyship in lieu of a gift on her departure from this country.

The total amounts collected from all provinces constituted a fund of $51,050, with a revenue exceeding $1,500. With this amount, in accordance with the purpose of the fund, two scholarships were awarded last year, each leading to the degree of M.S. (Master of Social Science), designed to foster a university student in the requirements of community leadership. In view of the widespread need of young citizens with this knowledge and ability, there was a general opinion among the committee and delegates that the endowment should be used annually to provide shorter term courses for a larger number of students. The matter was left in the hands of a committee.

Chairman of the assembly was Hon. Senator Cairine Wilson. Among the speakers was Watson Sellar, a member of the trustees, and J. McEwan, who spoke with particular reference to leadership in youth recreation.

Attending from this area was Mrs. George McGibbon, of Lachute, who will doubtless report more fully to the ladies' organizations interested.

American "Pre-fabs" in Paris Suburb

French children stand outside a row of American bungalows in Noisy-le-Sec, a suburb of Paris. 85% of the town was destroyed in 1944 by bombs, and a model village using American prefabricated houses, is replacing it. First homes were given to families of five or more whose own houses were destroyed during the bombing.

ST. ANDREWS TRAIN SUNDAY P.M., ON TRIAL BASIS ONLY

(Special Request)

St. Andrews East — For many years past, it has been the desire of numerous residents living between Hawkesbury, St. Andrews East and Montreal, that a Sunday night train service operate between these points during the summer season. The C. N. Ri'y was petitioned with regard to this matter, and the company consented to operate a Sunday train service, on a trial basis only. Should the patronage of this service not prove sufficient, the train will be discontinued with the change of the time-table, June 22nd. It is therefore to be hoped that all persons interested in maintaining this service, will do their utmost to patronize it.

Animal Disease — A Constant Hazard

W. R. SWALES, B.V.Sc., Ph.D., of Macdonald College, writing in the C-I-L Oval ("Science and Sustenance")

Veterinary medicine, as applied to food-producing animals, differs from other branches of medicine chiefly in that sentiment is lacking and monetary value of the animal determines the extent of the application of modern veterinary science. In the days of depressed prices of agricultural products there was a tendency to neglect animal diseases if they were not transmissible to man. However, increased values and the urgent need for more food has changed this situation, and the public has suddenly realized that the economy of the country depends upon an efficient program of disease control.

Canada, up to the present, has been fortunate in being well protected from many of the major animal plagues that have devastated the livestock populations in some other countries. However, we still have animal disease problems that can make farming a very hazardous business, and thus the building and maintenance of a strong veterinary profession are essential. Four provinces of the Dominion have adopted state-assisted veterinary medicine, and the development of new organic chemicals, anti-biotics, biological products and insecticides is paying large dividends by reducing losses from diseases that were once believed to be inevitable or incurable. The one fact that must be realized is that the control of animal diseases requires real co-operation between the livestock owner, his governmental authorities, and practising veterinarian, veterinary research laboratories and the manufacturers of drugs.

Examples of animal diseases that require continued attention are contagious abortion, tuberculosis, mastitis and shipping fever of cattle; pneumonia, enteritis, erysipelas and rhinitis of pigs; parasitic anaemia, nodular disease and parasitic enteritis of sheep; swamp fever, sleeping sickness and parasitic diseases of horses, and an array of bacterial, virus and parasitic diseases of poultry. In addition, there are many conditions which are directly or indirectly related to vitamin, mineral or protein deficiencies and to imbalance of function of the endocrine organs.

Let us consider the progress that has recently been made. The introduction of a suitable living vaccine has made possible the production of resistance in calves to contagious abortion, and this measure, couple with governmental co-operation and great care in preventing the introduction of a new, "virulent" organism, makes possible the building of herds free from this serious disease. Mastitis in cattle has been shown to respond to co-operative efforts between the owner who takes great care in protecting his animals from udder injuries and also exercises strict hygiene, and the veterinarian who employs efficient methods of diagnosis for a herd survey and then treats all infected animals with penicillin or other effective agents.

The development of the drug phenothiazine has revolutionized methods of controlling certain diseases caused by worm parasites. The most spectacular effect has been in the control of sheep diseases. Nodular disease, caused by "knots" or nodules which are formed around young worms in the wall of the intestines, has been the common cause of slowly failing flocks in eastern Canada, but preventive treatments with large doses of phenothiazine have resulted in the elimination of the parasite from large areas. This chemical has also kept the other serious worm parasites of sheep under good control. In one selected area in Nova Scotia it was shown that two annual treatments resulted in a considerable increase in the sheep population and a change in the percentage of Grade A lambs from 19 to 68 of the annual kill. In the Macdonald College flocks and in those of the Central Experimental Farm, at Ottawa, both nodular disease and parasitic anaemia (Stomach worm disease) were virtually eliminated by two annual treatments of the adult animals before they went to spring pastures.

"Sulpha" drugs have been proved to be powerful weapons against animal diseases. Their uses against various forms of pneumonia, acute mastitis, strangles in horses, calf scours, abortion in mares, common wound infections and secondary infections in virus diseases such as distemper, are well known. A recent development is the finding that sulpha-dimethipyrimidine and closely related compounds will check the development of acute coccidiosis in chicks, even after bleeding from the intestine has commenced. At the present time this disease, which constitutes one of the greatest hazards in the poultry industry, is being brought under control on an experimental scale, and widespread use of the sulpha drugs through proper channels is anticipated for the near future. One probable application of sulphonamides to practical control of occidiosis is their use as agents to inhibit serious disease while young birds are being exposed to infection and thus are acquiring immunity. This is, of course, an additional measure, as those sulpha drugs possessing the pyrimidine structure are effective in checking annual outbreaks. In common with all such drugs, these sulphonamides must not be used promiscuously, as the effects on growth of continued dosing are not as yet clearly defined.

Owing to the long period of winter, when animals are in barns menta, and here the disease problem is often complicated by these predisposing or weakening deficiencies. Regions deficient in phosphorus, cobalt or iodine are particularly troublesome. Fortunately, these mineral deficiencies can be readily corrected by the use of artificial fertilizers and correctly prepared mineral mixtures.

Oing to the long period of winterter, when animals are in barns and feeds are stored, there will always be a problem of deficiency of vitamins A and D, unless the use of artificial supplements is more generally adopted. One need only mention the high incidence of rickets, calf scours, winter dysentery and susceptibility to various parasitic and bacterial diseases in animals in the early spring to illustrate this point. Insect-borne diseases become important in the summer but the new insecticides and repellents are already making inroads upon these causes of loss. It is probable that the judicious use of D.D.T. and related insecticides will reduce the incidence of disease to a marked extent. The livestock industry still awaits an efficient and economical fly repellent for use on large animals to stop the continued torment of tabanid flies.

The newer disinfectants and antiseptics, particularly the anilines, flavines and quaternary ammonium compounds, are proving to be valuable weapons in the prevention of common infections. We are becoming more and more aware of the importance of scientific experimentation, professional skill, co-operation in our efforts to produce healthy livestock for Canada and the world. All in all, it is quite apparent that we are in the midst of an exciting period of development insofar as chemistry, veterinary science, and the animal industry are jointly concerned.

TWO CHURCHES TO BENEFIT FROM PLAY BY DRAMATIC GROUP

Popular Performance in Lachute Auditorium Wednesday Next

It all started a year ago — when the L'Orignal Anglican Church needed a new roof, and the idea was conceived for a dramatic presentation. A few members of the church, with a number of friends from other denominations, formed the Hawkesbury Dramatic Club, and the play chosen was a full length comedy entitled, "Here Comes Charlie" (by Jay Tobias).

This play, successfully presented in Hawkesbury, L'Orignal, Vankleek Hill and other places last year, will be staged again, at the Lachute Auditorium on Wednesday, May 7, under auspices of the Lachute United Church Young People's Union.

Due to the fact that Junior Heatlie (well known in these regions) is in the cast, it was decided by the players that their 50% of the proceeds should be devoted to the home church of this young performer, namely the Grenville Baptist Church. The production will be under direction of Capt. Ernest Johnson, and an experienced cast will round out the program.

In the 17th century a bill was proposed in the Bermuda legislature to outlaw horses. Many of the same arguments used against motor cars were given — too fast and too dangerous for Bermuda's roads.

GOVERNM'T MISSION LEAVES TO SELECT MORE POLISH VETS

The government mission to select 1,100 Polish veterans for farm work in Canada, left for Great Britain last week-end.

Labor Minister Humphrey Michell stated that the procedure used in selecting the 2,900 Polish veterans who arrived in Canada last fall will again be employed — that is to say, the Poles who apply for permission to come will be cadefully interviewed to decide their suitability for farm work under Canadian conditions, while a thorough medical check-up, including X-ray examinations, will be made before any man is accepted.

The movement will be supervised by the Agricultural Division of the Dominion Department of labor. The mission will be headed by George V. Haythorne, Director of the Labor Department Agricultural Division, assisted by overseas medical and agricultural officers.

The provincial Departments of Agriculture will co-operate with the Department of Labor in distribution and placement of the men on arrival here. It is intended that the despatch of men from the Old Country to Canada will be made just as soon as the selection procedure can be carried out and shipping is available to bring the men across.

With daylight saving time in places and not in others, you'll now be able to drive somewhere and get there before you left.

Those long, flowing, follow-through fenders—there's a style note you'll see echoed in automotive fashions for a long time to come. That generous beam amidships—there's the drivingroom you've been seeking, with legroom, headroom, elbowroom all around.

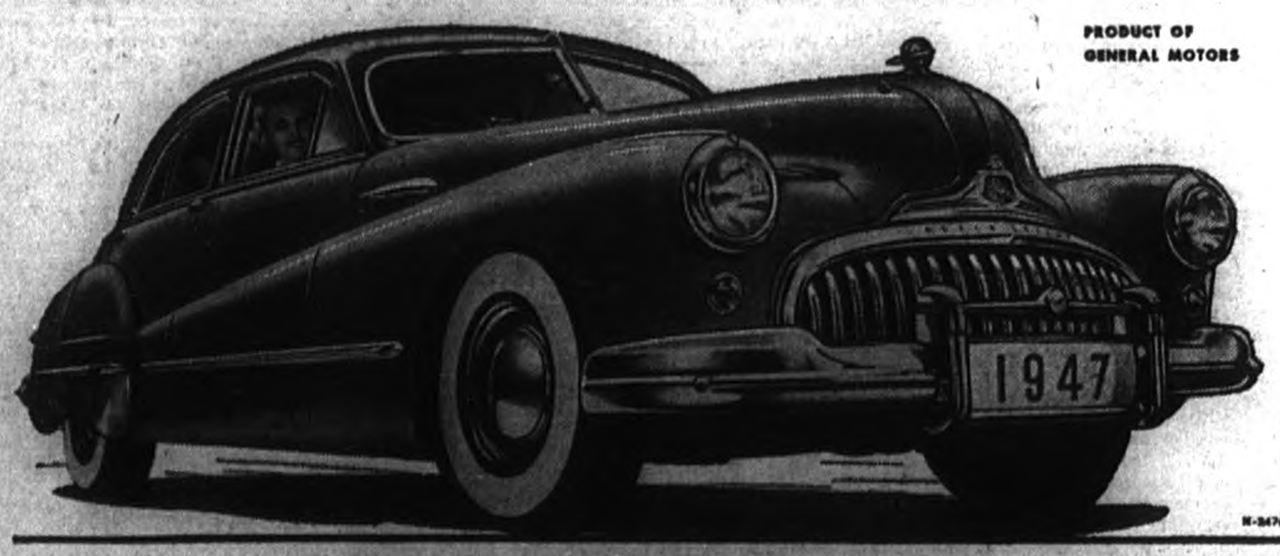

That broad, deep bonnet spells power aplenty—eager, lively Fireball power from an engine that seems to stay forever young. That hug-the-road look means steadiness; coil springs on all four wheels spell matchless, floating ride; wide-swinging doors open on interiors both handy and handsome in arrangement.

In a word—here's a car squarely on target, whether you go for style or size, performance or value. Here's Canada's most wanted car—and easily Canada's most sought-after buy.

The demand for new cars is still so great that it may be some time before you take the wheel of your new Buick. Make sure your present car keeps rolling. The better its condition, the safer you are . . . and the higher its potential trade-in value.

Time to Spruce Up

SPRING days mean clean-up, paint-up time in countless communities across the land. With the newly formed Chamber of Commerce giving impetus to the effort here, from May 12 to 21 (coinciding with the national drive) Lachute should experience a thorough face-lifting.

This year the annual effort to spruce up the town takes on special urgency. For one thing, during the war many properties had to get along without needed repair and paint jobs. Labor was scarce, materials couldn't be found, and other tasks demanded priority. Now householders can turn their hands to replacing worn-out fixtures and to give building exteriors a fresh coat of paint.

Canadians this year can expect one of the biggest tourist seasons in history and that's an added reason for making towns as attractive as possible. First impressions count in all communities, and a trim business district often leads visiting motorists to stop for a few hours instead of driving through. They remember a good-looking town next year, too.

Even if some stores lack the wide variety of paint shades they offered in pre-war days (manufacturers say certain types of imported pigments are in short supply), and it may be necessary to accept a substitute for some special type of fixture, householders will find that by catching up on their improvements this spring they can also be protecting their property for days ahead.

But who needs an excuse to get out in the sunshine with ladder and paintbrush, to gather up broken tree limbs and shattered fence pickets and burn them in pungent-smelling bonfires, and to do the half-dozen other jobs that must be done before time comes to tackle the garden? This time, business and pleasure can be a happy combination.

The Trout Season

SPORTSMEN of the Eastern Townships (according to one of our weekly exchanges) were somewhat indignant to find that the trout season had been open since April 1 and no effort had been made by the Department of Game and Fisheries to publicize this earlier date. Apparently, even the game wardens in that area had been unadvised, the only information on the change being stated in the Department's pamphlet issued to tourist bureaus and license agents.

Thanks to our wide-awake news sources, Watchman was able to publish this information earlier in the month — with the result that several sportsmen, having no advice on this advanced opening of the trout season, doubted our authenticity until we quoted our source of information. (In view of the intervening weather, we doubt if the change has been of much benefit to enthusiasts of the rod and reel!) . . The Ontario season opens today, May 1.

We agree with our contemporary, that such measures should be more widely publicized; and we believe the weekly newspapers, in general, accept news items of this kind in a co-operative spirit.

The Church, Past and Present

A LANDMARK in the religious life of this community — the old St. Simeon's Anglican Church — this week undergoes the first stages of demolition. Viewing the retrogression of church life in many areas, and notably in rural parts, it is a source of gratification that this loss to Lachute is a mark of progress rather than of decadence — for St. Simeon's will be rebuilt on lines and dimensions more suited to the modern need.

Looking back, it is significant that the pioneers recognized the true value of the church, because every settlement, no matter how small, had its own edifice. It was one of the first buildings erected, and the spiritual guidance provided gave them the inspiration to go about the job of building a new nation. But many today do not perceive the importance of religion in everyday life, and as a result, fail to support the church. The burden is left to the faithful few, and often they are not strong enough to carry the load, so that churches are forced to close. The tragedy is that young people in some remote rural districts are growing up without benefit of the church's leadership.

Modern times bring new responsibilities, new problems, but none that cannot be solved by the grace of God. True worship in the true church brings guidance to modern sons and daughters, just as it did to the devout pioneers. A people worshipping thus in Christian fellowship finds the wisdom and power that only God can give.

Ahoy ! !

FROM OUR Ottawa commentator, R. J. Deachman, we received a sudden jolt. He awakens us to a recollection of the pre-war days — the peace, and its attendant evils, that passed all understanding. Concerning the evils he cites but one, and bids us steel ourselves for its return. . .

Rarely do we consider the consequences of our actions (writes Mr. Deachman). The Canadian National Railways has been a profitable business during the war. It is only a short time since the end of the war, and the announcement now appears that the C.N.R. has a deficit of nine millions and anticipates one somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty-five or thirty million, probably more, next year. The workers are now making application for additional pay which, on the C.N.R. alone, will amount to $10,500,000. Once granted to the C.N.R. workers, it must be granted also to the C.P.R. workers.

It is perhaps not a bad guess to point out that in two or three years from now the railways will be considered our major problem. Yet the suggestion is that because the C.P.R. has accumulated certain surpluses it should live on its fat and not be permitted to raise freight rates. . . The ruling passion of the world today (this writer ruminates) is to live on the seed grain, that is, to devour all reserves accumulated by corporations and individuals looking forward to the future. It was not the spirit of the fathers which established this code. We should be seeking to conserve resources and spending money for that purpose. If we are determined to spend it on the immediate cost of living, the future will be dark indeed.

The Older Veterans

A REPORT from the Canadian Legion draws attention to the older war veterans, men in their forties and fifties, some of whom served in the first Great War, who are now having difficulty finding employment. The demand at practically all employment agencies across the Dominion is for younger men, whether it be seasonal work or steady employment. And while it is understandable that the requirement should be in favor of young workers, there are many positions which the older veterans are capable of filling. A review of labor needs by industries and firms would disclose many positions which these men could handle efficiently, and in some instances even better than younger employees.

A middle-aged man is far from being "on the shelf". He is generally more stable than a younger man, often more thorough in his work. If he follows a trade or profession, his years of experience will cause him to turn out a better finished job. He is often more dependable and generally can be relied upon to accept responsibility. There are many positions of a supervisory nature for which these jobless veterans are well qualified.

The Department of Veterans Affairs in the Dominion Government has come to bat for the older veteran who has found it difficult to get placed, and through various rehabilitation committees a campaign has been started to interest employers in the possibilities of adding some of these men to their payrolls. It is worth remembering that these men made many personal sacrifices to serve our country during the war. It would be a display of great ingratitude if we passed them by now.

THE GOVERNMENT charges all of us who own radio receiver sets $2.50 for a license each year. The government is in complete control of radio. That being the case it should do something to compel those who have electrical devices that interfere with radio reception, to put on gadgets which will stop this interference, or demand that manufacturers place these static eliminators on appliances as standard equipment.

Urge Observance May 18 Of World Children's Day

The following letter has been forwarded by a Watchman reader, as deserving widespread attention:

Everybody knows about Mother's Day and Father's Day, but not everybody knows that there is a World's Children's Day known as GOODWILL DAY — May 18.

The idea originated at an International Educational conference held in San Francisco in July, 1923. It was endorsed by the Parent-Teacher Federation of British Columbia in April, 1924 — which requested the Provincial Department of Education to have the day observed in some fitting manner in all the schools of British Columbia. As a result, a committee was formed consisting of representatives of the Department of Education and the Parent-Teacher Federation to draw up a suitable program for use in the schools of the province.

The Department of Education of Alberta did likewise, and for a number of years Godwill Day was observed in the schools of both provinces. Interesting programs were rendered and with the help of the Junior Red Cross parcels of dolls, pasters, etc., were sent to the children of other lands, and contacts established. On May 18, 1937, and again in 1938, the CBC broadcast a message of goodwill from the children of Wales to the children of the world.

Since the second world war, Children's Day has been largely forgotten, but is not this just the time to revive it again? A selfish spirit of nationalism is threatening the world's peace. The feeling is strong among thoughtful people that we must instill into the children's plastic minds goodwill toward the children of the world. Our Missionary Societies and other groups are working most earnestly towards this end. It is the best guarantee of future world peace.

May 18 falls this year on a Sunday. It will give the Sunday Schools an opportunity to revive the observance of Goodwill Day, perhaps by a short talk or a story of children in some other land, and a hymn such as Rev. Basil Matthew's "Far Round the World Thy Children Sing their Song". The day schools might remember it on Monday, and other groups plan for a suitable program of some kind.

We feel confident that you will approve our recommendation that CHILDREN'S GOODWILL DAY, May 18, should again find its place on our national program.

Faithfully yours,

Women's Christian Temperance Union of Montreal.

Farmers Lose Rights to Shoot on Own Lands

According to press reports the C.C.F. government of the Province of Saskatchewan is introducing a bill to amend the Game and Fisheries Act, which in certain circumstances will prevent a farmer from hunting or fishing on his own land. The effect of the legislation appears to be that in case a farmer puts up signs, "No Shooting or Fishing", his property automatically becomes designated a game sanctuary on which no one, including himself, can hunt or fish without permission of the government bureaucracy.

The excuse given for the proposed legislation is that the erection of such signs opens the way for the owner of the property to lease the game privileges to commercial interests and that sort of private enterprise comes under the socialist taboo. If the case is as stated it is certainly a novel way of circumscribing individual liberties. To prevent wild ducks stripping whole fields of wheat, farmers better not put up these signs.

Mr. Baillie, who arrived in Canada a few weeks ago, will be accompanied by his wife, who will bring special messages in gospel song. Everyone is urged to attend these services, which have promise of rich blessing for these days of uncertainty.

Brownsburg — The series of hymn and story services will continue next Sunday evening in the United Church when hymnody of Irish origin will be observed. Familiar hymns will include "What a Friend We Have in Jesus", "Look, Ye Saints" and "We Sing the Praise of Him Who Died" — the singing of which will be led by the male choir. On Mother's Day, May 11, a special program, with the Sunday School taking part, will be the order at the morning service. The evening service will conclude the series of Song and Story, with a selection of popular and familiar hymns.

Lachute United Y.P.U.

The regular weekly meeting of the Lachute United Y.P.U. was held last evening, with 14 members present.

The meeting was opened with a hymn. The scripture was read by Mabel Beattie, and Clarence McNaughton led in prayer.

Owing to the small attendance this week, the convener's program was postponed.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 13. Friends are also reminded that the Y.P.U. is sponsoring the play, "Here Comes Charlie", to be held in the Auditorium on May 7. Tickets are available from the members.

Claims Movies Not Cause of Delinquency

Normal children are not overstimulated by the movies, Dr. Clarence B. Allen, professor of education at Western Reserve University, told members of the Motion Picture Council of Greater Cleveland recently.

"In 20 years of experience I have never seen a case where either the movies or the radio was responsible for any bad act on the part of a child", said Dr. Allen. "Pressed for a reason, a child may 'alibi' a movie, but this has no basis of fact. Juvenile delinquency is an indication of maladjustment and the cause of maladjustment is the home. Most of it rises from overprotection and a simplification of environment." Dr. Allen added he would prefer a child to see a bad movie rather than no movie at all, because a child learns what is good only by seeing what is bad.

New Physician In West Ward

In the growing mill community of Lachute, where numerous stores and many new homes have sprung up in recent years, a newcomer to the local professions has now established a medical practice, in the new apartment building erected by Rolland Lamarche on Princess Street. The young physician is Roger Lavigne, M.D., a grandson of one of this town's former mayors and business men, the late Eucharist Lavigne. He is therefore related in and familiar with the community.

Dr. R. Lavigne, a graduate of the University of Montreal, has served two years as an interne at the Notre Dame Hospital and one year at the Hotel Dieu. He also served two years in medical and surgical duty with the R.C.A.M.C.

Brown - Ward

In St. Simeon's Church on Saturday afternoon, April 19, at three o'clock, the marriage took place of Shirley, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ward, to Mr. Sidney Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Brown, of Dunany, the Rev. C. R. Lang officiating.

Mrs. H. Cowan, cousin of the bride, was at the organ. Mr. Alvin Ward gave his sister in marriage, and Miss Ruth Brown, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. The best man was Mr. Angus Woods, while Mr. Stanley Brown, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Lister Ward, cousin of the bride, acted as ushers.

The bride wore a gown of heavy white satin, the softly moulded bodice having a Peter Pan collar and long tight sleeves coming to points over her hands; her full, gathered skirt had a large bow at the back of the waist to form a bustle effect, and her train ended in a deep point. The long tulle illusion embroidered veil was held in pace by a halo of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of white and pink carnations; to the streamers was attached a silver horse-shoe. Her satin and plastic slippers had square mirror nail-heads, and she wore a three-strand pearl necklace.

The bridesmaid was gowned in pink chiffon, with yoke and sleeves in silk embroidery; she wore a pink tulle illusion finger-tip veil and a half wreath of roses and lilies of the valley, carrying an arm bouquet of Briarcliff roses.

The bride's mother wore an afternoon dress of flowered jersey with black accessories and a red fox fur. The bridegroom's mother was unable to be present.

A buffet supper was served at the home of the bride's parents. The couple then left on their wedding trip, the bride travelling in a coral suit with white sheer blouse and black accessories, with a shoulder-spray of Rapture roses. Upon their return from Ottawa, a reception was held, on the 26th, in the L.O.B.A. hall. The couple will reside in Lachute.

Townsman Weds Maritime Girl in Sackv'l Ceremony

McOuat - Fisher

A pretty wedding of wide interest was solemnized in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Sackville, N.B., yesterday afternoon at two o'clock by the rector, the Rev. J. R. Belyea — when Miss Mary Kathleen Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. H. Fisher, of Sackville, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Gordon McOuat, son of Mr. A. A. McOuat and the late Mrs. McOuat, of Lachute.

Miss Bess Carter, organist of the church, played the wedding music. The bridal party was met at the church door by the rector and the vested choir, which preceded them to the chancel steps singing "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden".

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown, which was of white satin. The veil of tulle illusion, held by a coronet of orange blossoms, extended into a long train. She carried a beautiful bouquet of Easter lilies.

The bride was attended by Miss Kathleen Ryan, of Paris, France, and Saint John, N.B., as maid of honor, who was wearing a floor-length gown of pale blue taffeta; and by Miss Helen Wood, of Bermuda and Montreal, as bridesmaid. Miss Wood wore a gown of the same model in pale pink. Their headdresses were bands of flowers caught up at the back with shoulder-length veils. They both carried nosegays of pink and yellow roses and white mums.

The groom was attended by Mr. McOuat Walker, of Lachute, and the ushers were Mr. Maurice Fisher, a brother of the bride, Mr. Alan Trites and Mr. Edward Fisher, cousins of the bride, and Mr. Fernand Legault, of Lachute.

Mrs. Fisher, mother of the bride, was wearing a floor-length grey wool dress and a hat of blue ostrich feathers. Her corsage was of pink roses. The church was artistically decorated with beautiful spring flowers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home, Acacia Grove, Sackville, where the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and decorated with pink roses and white mums.

Mr. and Mrs. McOuat left following the reception on their wedding trip to Bermuda. On their return they will reside in Lachute.

The bride joined the W.R.C.N.S. in 1941 and served until late in 1945, being posted to Washington, D.C. On March 15, 1939, she was presented to Their Majesties at Buckingham Palace.

Among those present at the wedding were Mr. A. A. McOuat, the Misses Janet and Edith McOuat, of Lachute; Mrs. G. Stewart Cameron, aunt of the bride, of Peterborough, Ont.; and Mrs. A. R. Torrie, of Shediac Cape, N.B.

New Car Ferry To Be Operated By C.N.R.

THE world's largest ice-breaking car ferry, the Abegweit, built for the Canadian Government to be operated by the Canadian National Railways in the Prince Edward Island service between Cape Tormentine, N.B., and Port Borden, P.E.I., was launched recently at the Marine Industries shipbuilding yards at Sorel, Que. The new ferry, when completed, will be the most modern and powerful afloat.

The Abegweit will be considerably larger than any ship previously built for this service, being 372½ feet long, 61 feet wide and having a 7,000 gross tonnage. A five-deck vessel of all welded steel plate construction, she will accommodate 950 passengers, 60 automobiles and 19 railway cars. Her speed will be 16½ knots.

Eight 1,500 horsepower diesel-electric generating units will power four motors, each operating a propeller, two forward and two astern. The blades of the propellers, which are 13 feet in diameter, are made of a heavy thickness of cast nickel steel to withstand the additional heavy work as ice choppers. The four blades of each propeller are bolted on the hub and are adjustable in pitch. Each can be individually replaced.

Modern in every way, the Abegweit will be completely equipped with radar and ship-to-shore telephone. The propulsion motors will be directly operated by four engine-controllers located in the pilot house. Telegraphing to the engine room will be a thing of the past for the new car ferry's crew.

The big, powerful, streamlined car ferry, which will go into Canadian National Railways service when the work on its luxurious and up-to-date passenger accommodation is completed, is shown in the top photograph immediately after the launching. In the lower picture, the Abegweit is seen just before she was lowered to the water.

Halifax (CP) Sunday movies and sports have been added to a summer entertainment for service personnel and their families here.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

Scene Unchanged

St. George, the oldest settlement in Bermuda, is reminiscent of Elizabethan days with its casement windows, narrow streets, gabled roofs and tiny shops. The rent of Masonic Lodge 200, St. George's ancient State House is one peppercorn per year, still collected annually by the Governor in person. This lodge is the oldest in the Western Hemisphere.

Cooking Under Pressure

By cooking the modern way, which is in a pressure saucepan, more and more homemakers find that they have extra time to themselves, besides discovering that many foods, specially vegetables, have a better color and flavor with less time spent on them.

Cooking under pressure has been practised for many years by homemakers throughout Canada. They have been able, in the canning season, to appreciate the advantages of this method, and, since the principle involved is the same in the new smaller pressure saucepans, they are enthusiastic about using them.

Time is a factor of great importance to every homemaker since there never seem to be enough hours in a day to accomplish all the tasks that fall on her shoulders. So, if this new method of cooking did nothing but shorten her time spent over the stove in the kitchen, it would then and there become a favorite. Since it also produces foods with good flavor and color, it pleases the whole family and does something towards keeping mother less tired and in good humor.

There are several makes of pressure saucepans on the Canadian market. The manufacturer of the make supplies a recipe book with complete directions, which should always be closely followed. Those suggested recipes should be used until the saucepan methods are familiar. When one has thorough knowledge of the mechanics of the saucepan, then and only then personal recipes may be tried.

The home economists of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, after testing recipes suggested by the manufacturers, have adapted the following from their own files:

Barbecued Spareribs

2 Lbs. spareribs, 1½ tablespoons fat, 2 cups canned tomatoes, salt and pepper, ⅛ teaspoon curry powder, dash of cloves, ⅛ teaspoon of paprika, dash of celery salt (or 1 tbsp. finely chopped celery), 3 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 small carrots thinly sliced, 1 teaspoon H.P. or Worcestershire sauce.

Cut spareribs into servings. Melt fat in pressure saucepan and brown meat thoroughly on all sides. Add tomatoes, seasonings and vegetables. Follow directions given by manufacturer and cook 15 minutes. Thicken gravy if desired. Four-six servings.

Baked Beans

2 Cups white navy beans, ¼ lb. salt pork, diced or smoked pork fat, 3 tablespoons brown sugar, 3 tablespoons molasses, 1¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon mustard, ¼ cup chopped onion, 2 tablespoons catsup, 2½ cups water.

Pick over beans and soak in water overnight, Drain and put in bottom of pressure saucepan with all the ingredients. Cook for 50 minutes. Six servings.

Braised Oxtails

2 lbs Oxtails cut in 2" pieces, ¼ cup flour, ¼ cup fat, 1½ cups hot water, 1½ cups canned tomatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon celery salt, 4 whole cloves, piece of bay leaf, 1½ cups diced carrots, ½ cup of chopped onion.

Wipe meat, trim off excess fat and roll pieces of oxtail in flour. Sauté in the hot fat in the pressure saucepan until well browned. Add water, tomatoes and seasonings and cook under pressure for 50 minutes. Cool pressure saucepan according to directions given by manufacturer, add vegetables and cook under pressure for 5 minutes. Six servings.

Lonely 'Date Pests' Harass Hello-Girls

Johannesburg (CP)—Lonley men who ring up for a chat while their wives are away, and others who fall in love with the voice at the exchange, are among thet many trials of girl telephone operators in South Africa.

Many lonley men, llying on farms, ring up for a chat about things in general. They are a nuisance when the lines are busy, especially as some are so easily offended. Others want to make an appointment for tea or a cinema. Others are merely "date pests."

The experiences of girls who had accepted these 'blind dates' are well-known on the exchanges, and only one operator in 100 now chances the possibility of meeting a "nice man."

On the other hand, some operators in various parts of the Union have fallen in love and married as a result of meetings arranged in this way.

Wife, to husband inquiring why they never have any money: "It's the neighbors, dear. They're always doing something we can't afford."

Pat, Don't Plaster Skin Glamor Powder

Your Beauty Begins At Mome, With Facial Clean-up

New York (CP) — Beauty begins at home, says Del Russo, head make-up artist at the Prince Matchabelli salon here. Starting with a thoroughly clean face, the steps in succesafully highlighting one's best features are simple.

First comes foundation cream, applied evenly over the face and neck. The eyebrows come next, before the powder. Go over the brows lightly with a brown pencil, then use a black pencil to feather them in where they are irregular.

Del Russo recommended cream rouge for all-day make-up because of its staying quality. Start with a V from the under cheek line up over the cheek. After the rouge comes the powder, patted on with no rubbing.

Lips are often the outstanding facial feature and make-up should give them the character they deserve, Del Russo said. Here again two colors are better than one—the darker used to outline the lips with a brush and the lighter used to fill in.

The finishing touch is the mascara which can be applied with a soft, natural look by keeping the mascara brush almost dry to avoid a beaded look.

Why Should Housework Be Looked Down Upon?

(Ottawa Farm Journal)

The Department of Labor has a plan for bringing single women to Canada from the "displaced persons" camps of Central Europe — Poles, Latvians, Esthonians, Lithuanians, Yugoslavs, mainly — to work in hospitals, institutions, and as domestics in private homes. At a meeting of interested persons in Ottawa the merits and dangers of the scheme were discussed very frankly, and some interesting information brought out.

For example it was said that the Ottawa employment office has from 400 to 500 applications for domestic workers which it is unable to fill, even at the prevailing high wages. At the same time, said Mr. C. E. Pickering, there were 2,797 unemployed women in Ottawa, and he told of something he had seen:

"The other day I happened to see a long line of women here in Ottawa lined up to draw their unemployment insurance benefits. On inquiring about them, I was told that the National Employment Service had no jobs open which they would accept. I feel we should try to do something which would place these women in jobs.

"It seems to me that many are turning down the same job that my wife is doing every day of the week. She doesn't think she's too good for it".

There is much good sense in Mr. Pickering's remarks. Large numbers of Ottawa women, in the war years and since, have been doing for themselves housework for which they had maids, when maids were available, and without any feeling that it is beneath their dignity or that it lowers them in the social scale. If help could be had they would be glad of it and pay well for it, not because housework is disgraceful but to secure more leisure for other activities, and the immigration scheme — under proper safeguards, of course — would fill a need. The dislike of Canadian women for domestic service as paid employment seems firmly fixed, and of course employment insurance and family allowances have done nothing to change the situation.

But it is curious, as Mr. Pickering suggests, that hundreds of women should be drawing unemployment insurance when there are hundreds of jobs open at high wages in household service. Somewhere we have lost our sense of proportion and have gained, and not to our credit, a feeling that to be paid for washing dishes and making beds, for preparing meals and keeping an eye on the children, is a disgraceful business unless one marries into it.

The suggestion that mistresses do not treat their maids properly is an outworn, nasty slur. The great majority of housewives . . . do show sympathetic regard for their employees, and to penalize these because of the less pleasing attitude of a few, is both unfair and absurd. The same suggestion has been made about farmers and their hired men. Time was when it was true in many cases but farmers have discovered that hired men will not go to hard taskmasters and have amended their ways. So have many housewives.

WIVES OF STUDENTS FIND GOING TOUGH

Married Veterans and Students at University of Toronto Number About 2,500

Toronto (CP) — Being the wife of a student veteran is a tough job, claim the people who should know — the wives themselves.

Approximately 2,500 students at the University of Toronto are married veterans. Their wives and families live near the university in furnished rooms, apartments and boarding houses, cut off from university life except for their husbands' preoccupations with lectures and exsminations.

The wives get together in sympathetic cliques and grouse about the $90-a-month veterans' allowances they try to eke out in a world of rising prises. Keeping baby quiet while the head of the house does his homework in the same room is just another problem.

The majority of young brides without children are part or full-time workers investing their wages in their husbands' careers.

The veterans themselves, who as a group earn high marks in their studies, haven't much time for fun. But there is a standing rule in these households: the husband devotes one night a week to wife and family. The other six, he works — under a Department of Veterans' Affairs ruling a veteran can only fail once.

Many of the other 6,500 veterans at U. of T. are engaged and need only a place to live to land more new brides into the community. Which all goes to show the human race can take it and still come back for more.

RICH, SPICY CINNAMON BUNS

Recipe

Dissolve 1 tsp. sugar in ½ c. lukewarm water; add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let mixture stand 10 min. Then stir well. Scald ½ c. milk, add 3 tbs. shortening, ¼ c. sugar, ½ tsp. salt; cool to lukewarm. Add 1 c. sifted flour to make a batter. Add yeast mixture and 1 beaten egg; beat well. Add 2½ c. sifted flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly, place in greased bowl. Cover; set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. When light punch dough down; roll out into oblong piece, about ¼" thick. Brush with 3 tbs. melted shortening or butter. Sprinkle with ¾ c. brown sugar, 1½ tsps. cinnamon, ½ c. raisins. Roll up lengthwise in a tight roll; cut in 1" slices. Place cut-side up, 1" apart in greased shallow baking pan. Cover; let rise in warm place until light, about 1 hour. Bake in 425°F. oven about 20 minutes.

Brownsburg Wins Season's Trophy At Badminton Meet

EDGES OUT LACHUTE TEAM

Last Thursday the annual District Badminton Tournament was held in Lachute Auditorium.

The trophy, donated by Tip-Top Tailors, was won by Brownsburg, who scored one point more than their season's rivals here in Lachute. Unfortunately, Kilmar and Calumet were unable to attend, thus only three clubs participated in this interesting climax to the Badminton season.

The official tally at the close of the evening was Brownsburg 11, Lachute 10, and Grenville 3.

A meeting of the Lachute Badminton Club, held Tuesday evening, marked the close of the season's activities. The club will reopen in October and plans are underway to start a junior club for teen-agers who wish to participate in this healthful sport.

Team Wrestling Thrills Crowd

At Leo Gravel's wrestling show last Friday at the Auditorium, two sporty youngsters from Lachute staged the preliminary bout, wrestling 20 minutes to a draw. The contenders were the Lascelles brothers, Rolland and Roger — who, although lacking professional speed and weight, proved themselves well versed in the elements of the game. Moreover, they put on a clean contest — which is scarcely what the fans expect in this rough and tumble sport.

In the main event, which lasted into the third round, there was not a dull moment. This was a four-man bout, with veteran Sam Chuck and Jos. White (Ontario Champion) matched against Geo. Brown and Fer. Clermont. Most remarkable factor in this bout was White's speed and agility. He did not last, however, to employ these qualities to their best advantage. Each team triumphed in the two opening rounds, and in the third Chuck and his Ontario partner clinched the victory. Excitement among the spectators reached a new peak in this four-man warfare.

In the supporting bout, Villain Paul Gaudette played his character-role to perfection. Behind his show however, there is a skill and strength of muscle which command considerable respect. His opponent Lou Carlo won the plaudits of the crowd. Each contender won a round, and in the third, after Gaudette had heaved his opponent out of the ring and thrown the referee to keep him company, Carlo was automatically acclaimed the winner.

Again, the crowd received their money's worth in thrills, and it was a merry session while it lasted.

Four-Week Strike Ends at Textile Mills

Reconciliation Effected Last Night Between Ayers Limited Management and Employees

Citizen Group Instrumental in Settlement

The strike at Ayers Limited textile mill concluded last night after an amicable agreement had been reached between the strikers and the Ayers directorate. Climaxing four weeks (to the day) since the walk-out at Ayers mill, the reconciliation caused jubilation among both factions, and among the Lachute citizenry at large.

During the past week, the industrial picture of this community has presented an exciting scene. . . . Events occurred with unrelenting rapidity and with wide implications, in the feud between textile strikers and the management of Ayers Limited. With most of these developments the local public are familiar, through radio and daily press reports — the latter accompanied in one instance by lurid photographs of the riot scene near Ayers' plant.

The upheaval has been in the spotlight of Quebec affairs, having been discussed even before the provincial legislature. . For outsiders interested, and for local readers not fully posted on the events of the week, The Watchman here chronicles the incidents since last reporting in this journal:

Spectacular Entry Into Ayers Plant

Retracing the story of the strike to its turning point, at 8 o'clock last Friday morning . . . on the instance of the Ayers management at a meeting the previous evening in Lachute Auditorium (three weeks after the outbreak of the strike), a number of employees dissenting from the strike movement lined up to re-enter the mill. Together with the office staff and foremen, the parade numbered perhaps 150 persons. They had the assurance of police protection, and they were amply safeguarded from possible violence by picketers. Provincial police and plain-clothes officers were here in force, to a reported number of 60-odd. The picket line had been dispersed before arrival of the strike-breakers. Madeleine Parent, Union organizer, had been arrested for interference with law officers, together with a man and woman from the strikers' ranks — Benoit Robertson and Mme J. Brodeur.

Led by Gilbert E. and Thomas Ayers, Clement Tremblay, and the spokesman for the management, Marc Carrier (and joined later at the head of the procession by Messrs. Leonard and Richard Ayers), the line marched from the Auditorium to the factory gates, and entered past the jeering crowd without incident. . . These processions of willing workers were continued regularly each day, commencing from the parish church, with police protection, and up to yesterday had increased to an estimated 300 (according to claims by the Company). Shipments of goods were resumed, and in certain departments operations were restored.

Reports from the mill offices this morning revealed that most of the Ayers Limited workers (over 90 per cent) had returned to their jobs. At Dominion Shuttle Co. Ltd. there were still six men and two women in the picket line, with a total of 63 employees out of 275 back at work.

Five Arrests on Day Of Strike-Break

It was following this sensational move that the first evidences of violence occurred, when the police forcibly subdued a number of the strikers, and blood was spilled in the fracas. Léonidas Gagné and Réné Tassé received minor head injuries — these, and another named Armand Dupuis, bringing the arrests to a total of five at this stage. The trio, taken to St. Jerome, were later released on $950 bail. Madeleine Parent, facing charges of illegal picketing and obstructing the law, was freed on bail of $3,000. Mme Brodeur was also liberated, on parole — Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P., having interceded on her behalf.

* * *

Union Protests

An outcome of this eventful day was a heated protest from R. Kent Rowley, Canadian director of the United Textile Workers of America, and by Bernard S. Mergler, Union counsel, on an "unprovoked attack" of the Provincial Police, and "sheer brutality" in breaking up the picket lines. Court action against the police was threatened.

* * *

Company's Ultimatum

At this stage the Ayers management reiterated appeals to the strikers to return to their work. The Montreal press ascribed to Clement Tremblay, secretary-treasurer of the Company, the following statement: "Everyone can come back to the plant, even the most recalcitrant. Bygones will be bygones, and we hold nothing against even the most enthusiastic strikers. But we will certainly take measures against those who interfere with workers who want to go back to their jobs". . . . "Miss Parent will no longer impose her views — and that goes for all other labor organizers — upon the peaceful Lachute residents", this statement added.

During the week-end letters were sent to all employees out on strike, informing them that if they did not return to work by Thursday, the deadline date, their employment cards would be forwarded to the National Employment office — implying dismissal from the payroll.

Mme Parent, released from custody, had meanwhile returned to Lachute. . . All went well at the Ayers plant until the week-end, but the Union organizers staged another rousing assembly at the Auditorium Sunday night, and climaxed their efforts by throwing another monkey-wrench into the works. . .

Agitators Called Strike At Second Plant

It was a Union show and a packed house at the meeting Sunday evening. Abuses were heaped upon the Provincial Police, with particular venom for Capt. Norbert L'Abbé, in charge of the contingent here, and for Lt. Leopold Dauphin, the district detective. There were the usual supporting speakers, with Kent Rowley and David Coté (M.P.P. for Rouyn-Noranda) adding their quota of indignation. The latter gave promise he would air the grievance before Quebec Legislature next day so that the press and public would be well informed—a promise which was duly fulfilled. It was intimated at this meeting that Dominion Shuttle Company workers would be out on strike next day in support of the Ayers workers.

* * *

This, too, materialized — a strike which the public conceives as contrary to all law and reason. . . . The situation, as understood by this journal, is that the Shuttle Company employees, affiliated with the Canadian Association of Wood Workers, entered contract with Gilbert E. Ayers and the management in March of this year, for a 12-month period. The strike was based on demands equivalent to those of the textile workers, for 15c an hour basic wage increase and other clauses similar to those at Ayers Limited.

Police subsequently intervened to permit entry of non-striking workers, and a small but undetermined number returned to their jobs.

* * *

Having thrown this bombshell into the already aggravated scene, the Union organizers were next to find themselves in trouble. Parent came to grips with the law during Monday night, after a long "siege" at the Union headquarters on Main Street. Here Mme Parent and Azelus Beaucage, Union business manager, were arrested around 2 a.m. Tuesday, on charges connected with the illegal [illegible] Beaucage [illegible] ley was placed under arrest in Montreal. Mme Parent was again released Tuesday afternoon, on $2,000 bail, but returning to Lachute she was re-arrested at the Union hall and returned to St. Jerome jail. . . . An intrepid campaigner for these industrial upheavals, Mme Madeleine Parent probably established a record in her escapades here, with three arrests by the Provincial Police within a period of five days. (This story, written for The Watchman Wednesday night, will be incomplete without her latest movements.)

In Lachute on Tuesday five others were arrested in connection with the strike at Dominion Shuttle. All employees of the Company, they are — Charles Barker, Reynald Gilbeault, Roland Duquette, Conrad St. Denis and Mme Simone Lepage. They were charged with illegal picketing.

Citizen Group Takes Hand in Affairs

It was at this point that a faint gleam of hope came from another quarter. On the instigation of Georges H. Héon — who had been acting, to this stage, as intermediary between the Ayers management and the strike committee — a number of leading citizens assembled Monday evening at McArthur's Hall, to discuss what might be done from an independent source. Mr. Héon reviewed the situation to date, leading up to the strike at Dominion Shuttle that morning. Fernand Legault was named chairman, and a committee representing the Town Council, the Board of Trade and various clubs and organizations, was formed to confer with the strikers and approach the problem from a community angle. This committee included — Fernand Legault, Wm. Cottingham, Jos. Gosselin, Ald. Jos. Belanger, Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, Dr. Jules Lafleur, Dr. Marc Papineau, Geo. Deacon, and Georges Lefebvre.

A meeting between this committee and a considerable body of strikers was held Tuesday night, and proved highly encouraging, opening the way for negotiations with Mr. Gilbert Ayers on a new line — among other things, an employee-management basis by which all grievances in the plant might be discussed at first hand with the directorate. This prospect held appeal for the less radical-minded workers, at least judging by the reaction evidenced before the meeting, and further conferences were continued — with the outcome that last night the strikers, through representatives named among themselves, accepted the current proposals of Ayers management and agreed to return to work this morning, Thursday.

Through the mediation of a citizens' committee formed here Monday night (a group which was accorded the confidence of both management and strikers), leaders from among the workers met with the directors and effected a settlement on terms laid down in the Company's circular letter to its employees. (The agreement specifies a 4c increase in hourly wage rates, retroactive to March 24, plus additional increase when operations return to normal, likely in the week of May 19-24. Also four paid statutory holidays.) . . The Company outlined a plan for employee representation to discuss grievances and working conditions, and also to collaborate on a scheme for social and recreational welfare of the workers.

The Company persistently refused to deal with outside organizers, and won their point through a direct settlement with their employees.

W.I. Budget Aids Various Worthy Causes

The regular meeting of Lachute Women's Institute was held Tuesday afternoon in the High School, with Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon in the chair.

After reading of the various reports, the speaker for the occasion was Mrs. George McGibbon, convener of National and International Relations, who gave an interesting address on the UNESCO. (Her outline of this international venture will be presented in next issue, space permitting.)

Of particular interest to the public was the 1946-7 statement on financial support given by this branch to many diversified interests; details are as follows:

Red Cross $25; Salvation Army $10; Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital $10; Grace Dart Home $10; Girl Guides $15; Boy Scouts $15; Que. W.I. Service Fund $35—Total $120.

Library Fund $50; School Prizes, County Scholarship $25; Advertising $20; Travelling Expenses for delegates to annual convention $20; Child Welfare $50; Educational purposes (Study Group) $50.—Total $165.

Soup fund for school $60; Blankets for war brides $80; Power saw for school $80; Provincial and County fees $75; Home Economics $16; and running expenses $89.—Total $400.

Youth Injured, Thrown off Horse

Suffering painful injuries when thrown from a horse last Sunday, Albert Meyer, 18, of Rivington, was taken to Dr. Smith's Hospital at Hawkesbury. In a semi-conscious condition on admittance to the hospital, he was kept under observation, and is now reported to be recovering satisfactorily at his home.

Meyer was riding bare-back on a quiet farm horse. The animal stumbled on the rough road, and the rider was thrown heavily onto the gravel highway, falling on his head and shoulder. He was unconscious when carried to his home near the scene of the accident. He was later taken to hospital in his father's truck, suffering severe head lacerations and suspected internal injuries.

Clean-Up Campaign to Open with Parade

OPENING DEMONSTRATION MONDAY NIGHT

Townfolk Urged to Co-operate in Clean-Up Drive, May 12th to 24th, Sponsored by Chamber of Commerce

Two committees of the Lachute Chamber of Commerce — concerned respectively with Town Improvement and Publicity — met Tuesday evening to discuss local plans in connection with the National Clean-up Campaign, which is scheduled to take place across Canada from May 12 to May 24.

In order to stimulate public interest it was decided to hold a parade on Monday evening, May 12, starting at the town limits at the east end of Main Street at 7 p.m. sharp.

A long procession of cars and trucks, appropriately decorated to suit the occasion, will proceed down Main Street to the West End and through all the most important sections of the town.

The public in general and especially all members of the Chamber of Commerce are invited to participate in this parade, and to enter wholeheartedly into the spirit of this event.

It is the earnest hope of the organizers that every citizen will do his share in order to make the campaign a success — that all premises will be housecleaned both inside and out — that all yards and vacant lots will be cleared of rubbish and debris — and that these conditions will be maintained throughout the year.

It is also intimated that special attention will be given to those property owners who neglect to do their part in making Lachute a clean town.

Late A. Hills Was Well Known in Local Business

The death of a well known citizen and businessman, Albert Arthur Hills, occurred Friday, May 2, at his home, 49 Bedard Blvd. A son of the late Geo. W. Hills and of Mrs. Hills, he was born in Lachute and spent his entire lifetime in the community.

The late Mr. Hills was a member of the Kirk Session of the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church, also a member of the Masonic and Oddfellow fraternities.

The funeral service, held Monday afternoon from the Presbyterian Church, was very largely attended. Rev. Chas. Maclean was officiating minister. Pall-bearers were Messrs. Russell Carpenter, J. R. Charron, Wm. Cottingham, H. M. Gall, Chas McFaul and Ross Muir. The remains were laid to rest in Lachute Cemetery.

Chief mourners are his wife, the former Ella C. Riddell; his mother; one sister, Mrs. Chas. Joss, of Three Rivers, Que.; and a brother, Wm. M. Hills, of Winnipeg.

Those attending the funeral from a distance were — Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Joss, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Carpenter and Mr. Theron Carpenter, all of Three Rivers; Mr. William Hills, Winnipeg; Dr. and Mrs. L. Middleton, Plymouth, N.H.; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stewart, Kingston; Mrs. Lincoln Riddell, Mrs. Ivan Carpenter, Mr. Roy Carpenter, Mr. Eric Middleton, Mr. and Mrs. George White, all of Montreal.

Giant Hawk Is Caught in Trap

Harrington, Que. — A giant hawk was caught in a fox-trap on the farm of 'Skates' Smith, Harrington, and was taken home alive. The bird weighed 12 lbs. It is claimed it had a wingspread of 7 feet 10 inches, measured 24 inches from tip of tail to bill, and its claws spread out to 10½ inches.

Cordial Relations In Evidence at Lachute Lumber

Leopold Carrière, president of Lachute Lumber Company Ltd., honored by his employees.

On the occasion of his birthday last Tuesday, ex-mayor Léopold Carrière was honored by his employees at Lachute Lumber and Manufacturing Company Limited, who presented him with a gift in token of the good spirit which exists between them and the officers of this company.

On Tuesday afternoon all employees of the plant assembled together, and Raymond Major in the name of his fellow-workers presented a beautiful cigarette case to "Paul" Carrière, president of the company. Replying to this generous gesture, Mr. Carrière remarked "There are in the lifetime of each one of us, anniversaries which we like to remember — but believe me, I shall never forget my birthday anniversary of this date". The president then touched upon a matter in the minds of many citizens at this critical time: "This morning", he observed, "there were false rumors, which I did not care to believe, and which I now have substantial reason to deny — that our plant was to be closed today on account of a strike! Your cordial attitude on this occasion certainly contradicts such rumors, and demonstrates there are no differences existing between the employees and the officers of this Company. To those who saw fit to spread the rumor, you are now giving an irrefutable answer in this evidence of friendly relationships between us".

Roméo Legault extended thanks to Mr. Carrière in the name of all present; refreshments were then served.

History of Parish Recalled as Old Church in Process of Demolition

Interesting Story of Old St. Simeon's

Contractors are now engaged in demolishing a Main Street landmark, the old St. Simeon's Church, in preparation for rebuilding on the same site. This step in the progress of the Protestant community arouses a certain curiosity as to the origins of the Anglican faith in these parts, and the building of this church. An interesting chronicle is recorded in the following story, in which the writer has gleaned material from from various sources :

The first Anglican Church services were held here about the year 1815, by a travelling missionary who occasionally officiated in a barn or schoolhouse, as opportunity presented itself.

The first parish register was authenticated by Mr. Thomas Barron, C.C.C., on January 3, 1868. The authentication states that the register was presented by the Rev. Francis Codd, minister of the United Church of England and Ireland in Lachute and surrounding places. He first held services in the old College building; then in a hall owned by David Christie on Main Street east of the home of W. J. Rogers

Miss Eliza Pollock (afterwards Mrs. Thos. Evans) collected money to buy a melodeon.

Among the church members and adherents at that time were Mr. Burroughs (a lawyer), the Clunie family, the Misses Howard, and the family of Thomas Pollock Sr. Mr. Codd lived in a house that had been occupied by Hugh Allen. He had services also in Hill Head school house. He only remained about a year. His last official act recorded in the register is dated September 20, 1869.

Then there appears to have been an interval of about nine years, during which no regular services were held in Lachute.

The Rev. L. O. Armstrong, of Lakefield, held occasional services in Lachute and sometimes had students come from Montreal to conduct services.

They conducted worship in the old Court House, where the Lachute memorial park is now. One of these students was Mr. Sweeney, afterwards Bishop Sweeney of Toronto. . . Mrs. Geo. Christie was organist at that ime.

The Rev. H. J. Evans took charge of the parish about the beginning of 1878. His first official act recorded in the register is dated February 3, 1878. He lived in the west end of the town, in or near the house occupied by Dr. Menzies, though at first he and his family boarded with Mrs. Burch. Mr. Evans held services at Louisa, New Ireland, Glen of Harrington, Arundel, Rockaway and Ponsonby. He walked to and held services in all these places during the week, and walked home again to hold Sunday services at Lachute.

After a time Mr. Thos. Pollock collected money at Arundel, and Mr. Robt. Evans at Lachute, to buy Mr. Evans a driving outfit. The following winter Lachute presented him with a raccoon coat, a very serviceable gift considering the long distances he had to travel in the cold winters.

It was during Mr. Evans' incumbency that St. Simeon's Church was built. The church was consecrated on October 11, 1881, by Bishop Bond.

The account of these services, as printed in The Watchman of that time, is as follows:

Tuesday, the 11th inst., was a day "much to be remembered" in Lachute. It was a day of rejoicing by our friends of the Anglican communion in this locality, and their Episcopal friends from St. Andrews and Carillon, and many belonging to other churches in Lachute and elsewhere, who joined for the nonce and took part in the impressive service of the Consecration of St. Simeon's Church.

Among those from a distance present on the occasion were (from Montreal) The Lord Bishop, Rev. Canon and Mrs. Baldwin, Rev. Canon and Mrs. Evans, Rev. R. Lindsay, His Honor Chief Justice and Mrs. McKay. (From St. Andrews) Rev. Archdeacon Lonsdale, and many ladies and gentlemen of his congregation. (From Lakefield) Rev. C. and Miss Boyd. (From Grenville) Rev. J. Rollitt. (From Papineauville) Rev. J. Catermole, (From Aylmer) Rev. Rural Dean Robinson. (From Chambly) Rev. Canon DuVernet. (From Abbotsford) Rev. F. Robinson and the Misses Craig. (From Rawdon) Rev. F. A. Allen.

Space will not permit us to enter into any length description of he service. Suffice it to say the church was crammed both at the consecration service in the morning, and at the missionary meeting in the evening. The service was an extremely impressive one. The clergy above named with Rev. H. J. Evans, Incumbent, appearing in their surplices and hoods — the music was appropriate to the occasion, and the singing extremely hearty. The sermon by the Rev. Canon Baldwin was one not soon to be forgotten. His thrilling eloquence, his impassioned oratory, his earnest exortation to lead a sanctified life, made a deep impression on his hearers. The offertory at the consecration was in aid of the funds of the church.

Labor Disturbance Use of Auditorium, Before Council

Priority business at Town Council meeting last evening, presided over by Mayor Alex Bothwell, was a resolution pertaining to labor union activities and use of the Auditorium in this connection. The town records show the following motion and amendment :

Resolution

Proposed by Ald. Omer Laurin, seconded by Ald. Joseph Belanger.

1. Whereas a strike and labor differences are now existing at Ayers Limited and Dominion Shuttle Company Limited, and other strikes and labor differences may threaten other industries in the Town of Lachute.

2. Whereas these strikes and labor differences may bring on disorder and class troubles;

3. Whereas public interest, peace and good order must be maintained by this Council;

4. Whereas public meetings in halls owned by the Corporation, held by the interested parties in these strikes and labor disputes, existing or apprehended or by their representatives or sympathizers, are liable to disturb peace and good order and threaten public interest;

It is Resolved:

That the existing resolution dealing with the location and use of public halls owned by the Town of Lachute be immediately suspended, and that as of today the use and location of municipal halls be denied to employers and employees, their agents, representatives or sympathizers, where strikes and labor differences are existing or threatened, till this Council, in plenary session, otherwise decides.

The present resolution applies to all locations already consented or promised, for all dates after May 6, 1947.

Amendment

In amendment, it was moved by Ald. W. Morrissette, seconded by Ald. Lucien Lacoste:

That the renting of the Auditorium be continued without change.

Voting for the above amendment: Aldermen Morrissette, Lacoste, Lucien St. Jacques, David Laurin, Stanley Holt.

Against the amendment, and for the main motion: Aldermen Omer Laurin, Jos. Belanger, D. R. MacRae, Arnold Scott.

Observe Parking Rules, Especially On Main Street

With the advent of the spring season, and the influx of tourists anticipated with warmer weather, Lachute Town authorities are requesting a strict observance of the traffic by-laws. Speeding on the thoroughfares, and disregard of stop signs, are offenses which not only menace public safety but also invite prosecution of the offenders.

The parking problem is one which demands 100 percent co-operation from local drivers, who are well acquainted with the rules. The difficulties already presented by disorderly parking on Main Street, illustrate the need of closest collaboration from the public in peak shopping hours. It is pointed out that angle-parking at the curb is prohibited on Main Street. Cars should be parked parallel and within 6 inches of the sidewalk. A road crew will be engaged in painting the markings for centre-parking and intersections, and the municipal police will be giving special attention to the enforcement of these provisions.

FARM TOPICS

Edited by E. H. PETERS, B.S.A.

Helpful Suggestions On Farm Garden

Having decided on the location of the home vegetable garden, such location being without shade, next comes the preparation of the soil, which should preferably be a rich loam and well drained. Better results may be expected if the ground was ploughed or dug up in the fall and given a good dressing of barnyard manure, says William Ferguson, Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. When planning the layout of the garden it should be done to provide for a variety of vegetables.

Before starting to plant the home garden it is well to bear in mind that the tall-growing plants should be at the north side of he garden where they will not shade the smaller plants. The soil should be well worked up before sowing or planting. Rows should be marked, preferably with a line pegged into the ground at each end of the row. If power machines or horse-drawn cultivators are to be used the rows must be sufficiently far apart to accommodate the equipment, but if the garden is to be worked by hand the rows may be considerably closer so as to save space and labor.

The cool growing varieties of vegetables should be sown as soon as the ground can be prepared in the Spring. These include the salad crops such as radish, lettuce and spinach. Peas should also be sown early. Often much labor and good seed are wasted by not sowing properly. Seed should be sown with care and at the proper depth. The proper depth for radish and lettuce is ¼ inch; for spinach ½ inch; peas 2 inches, onion seed ¾ inch or onion sets, 1 inch potato sets should be 4 inches deep; beets, carrots, swiss chard and parsnips are all sown ½ inch deep. Seed of late cabbage may also be sown early to a depth of ½ inch in a small row. Young plants of early cabbage which should have been started under glass in late March, or which may be bought as young plants from commercial gardeners, should be set out at the same time as the late cabbage is sown.

As soon as danger of frost has passed sow beans and corn 2 inches deep, cucumber ½ inch, and squash ¾ inch. Cucumber, squash, and similar vegetables are usually sown in hills with 4 or 5 seeds per hill. After the young plants are up the weakest should be removed leaving 2 or 3 strong plants per hill. The hills should be from 6 to 9 feet apart. Tomato plants are also set out when frost is over, usually 2 or 3 feet apart. Further sowings of beans, beets and carrots in late May or early June can be made so as to extend their picking season.

During the latter half of June, the late cabbage plants, which were sown earlier, should be transplanted to the plot where they are to be finally grown. At the same time rutabaga or swede turnip seed should be sown ¼ inch deep. Seed of Chinese cabbage should be sown ½ inch deep, about mid-July. Radish and spinach for fall use should be sown between mid-July and early August.

Further information on planting and growing vegetables is given in Special Pamphlet No. 75 which will be sent on application to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Grassland Farming

Climatic conditions throughout the Lower St. Lawrence Valley, although very favorable to the growing of pasture and hay crops, cannot be considered as ideal for grain production, says the Dominion Experimental Station at St. Anne de la Pocatière, Que. Accordingly, plans have been made to enlarge the program of grassland farming investigations in which alfalfa and Ladino clover are featured in seed mixtures to build up the soil fertility. Methods of harvesting and storing forages are also being studied.

Some New Methods Of Insect Control

Every farmer and gardener knows that to ignore the damaging effects of insects would often mean practically no crops. There is scarcely a growing plant in farm or garden that is not subject to attack by one or several destructive insect pests.

The entomologists of the Dominion Department of Agriculture knowing the serious menace of insects to agricultural production have prepared a series of pamphlets dealing with the methods of control for a variety of insects. The pamphlets give in brief, yet easily understood terms, information on the insects and the methods of control.

Following are a few of the titles of the pamphlets: Cattle Lice Control; The Carrot Rust Fly; Control of Insects Attacking Vegetables under Glass; Insect Control in Lumber Camps with DDT; How to Foretell and Control Outbreaks of White Grubs.

The list can be obtained from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and a copy of any of the pamphlets will be sent on request.

The strongest principle of growth lies in human choice.
— George Eliot.

Suitable Varieties of Vegetables for Freezing, Methods Employed

Vegetables and fruits grown at home or purchased at the market may be prepared for freezing by following a few simple rules. Care should be exercised in the selection, and only fresh fruit that is picked at the time of its best development should be used.

The general procedure can be best described by an example. Let us say you are intending to pack and process some peas. The varieties best suited to freezing are the Thomas Laxton and the Alderman (Telephone). Non-starchy peas that have been picked at the best point of their maturity should be used. In small quantities peas should be shelled by hand so that the wrinkled pods of over-mature peas can be thrown out. The shelled peas should be washed in cold water, then placed in a colander or wire basket and put into rapidly boiling water. Each pound of peas must have at least one gallon of water. Scald for one minute, lifting the peas up and down in the water the whole while to distribute the heat evenly through the entire batch. Remove and immerse peas in very cold water, 50 degrees Fahrenheit or lower if possible. Use two gallons of cold water to the pound of peas. When the peas have cooled to 60 degrees or lower remove, drain and place in moisture proof containers — heavy parrafin bags or Cellophane lined bags are good — use not more than one and one-half pounds to a container. The product should then be placed in the sharp freezer as quickly as possible. If it is necessary to keep them in a warm atmosphere over a few minutes, they should be iced or refrigerated in some manner.

Generally speaking, the process as outlined above is suitable for the prepartion of most vegetables. Some varieties of vegetables will give better results if blanched by steam rather than boiling water. In the case of these varieties a pressure cooker is entirely satisfactory. In using boiling water be sure that the water is boiling as rapidly as possible since intense heat is required to properly preserve the product.

The following material will give the information necessary for the processing of other vegetables. Unless otherwise specified proportions of water and product are the same as used with peas and the same procedure is followed.

Asparagus

Washington Asparagus is best adapted to freezing — the tender tips are most desirable but longer spears may be used if trimmed down to approximately six inches in length. Steam in a pressure cooker is most satisfactory for blanching. Small stalks take three and one-half minutes and the larger ones should be steamed for four and one-half minutes. If blanching is not practical, use six quarts of boiling water to one quart of vegetable. Boiling time—three minutes.

Spinach

There are two varieties of spinach adapted to freezing, namely, Victoria and Savoy. Use young, tender leaves and stalks. Wash thoroughly in cold running water and blanch in boiling water for one minute using three quarts of water to one pound of vegetable.

Sweet Corn On Cob

Eight row Golden Bantam, Golden Cross Bantam or Narrow Grain Evergreen are good varieties. Pick corn before starchiness develops — that is, corn for cooking, as corn on the cob is the correct maturity for freezing. Use only uniform size ears. Steam is preferable for blanching. The small ears take six minutes, medium size ears eight minutes and larger ears ten minutes.

Cut Corn

Blanch in the same manner as corn on the cob then cut the kernels from the cooled blanched corn and wash in large amounts of cold, running water to remove bits of cob and silk. Drain kernels and pack.

Lima Beans

The varieties best suited to freezing are Henderson or Illinois Large Podded and the green beans are the most satisfactory. Use boiling water for blanching. Small beans should be boiled for two

The Economy of Using the Best

The economy of using the best possible materials is made apparent in the upkeep problem. A house or business building may be "thrown together" with cheap material, and it may "look all right," but after it has stood the shock of weather, the real test comes.

It is false economy to use poor materials — and we so advise everyone who buys from us. Our success is due to honesty in materials and prices.

Eddie started his job today!

THE MANAGER of the furniture factory in Eddie's town landed a big order. It meant he had to buy a lot of extra lumber, increase his payroll.

He lost no time in putting the whole thing up to the manager of his local bank. Together they worked out how much money he would need to take care of wages and other costs until he delivered the goods. Then, with the backing of his bank, he got to work on the order.

... And that's where Eddie came in. He was put on the payroll—given his first chance to learn a trade. Right now he's on his way home to tell Mom and Dad how much he likes his new job.

Unhappy Prospect

MUCH OF THE sentiment surrounding federal elections in this county is doomed, it seems. That is, if the shuffle of redistribution follows the outline prescribed in the sub-committee reports. The constituency will be no longer considered as Argenteuil—but Argenteuil-Two Mountains.

Sentiment, and elections, may sound incongruous terms. In the urban and suburban ridings, that may be the case; but here, not so. In the rural polling divisions, how true it is, that voting centres and party campaigners are as traditional as the old stone landmarks that dot the countryside. Even in the electoral feuds existing from generation to generation, there is the mellow essence of something inseparably tangled with the roots of democracy. Even the mudslinging and corruption of the electoral campaign, are aspects unimportant in this time-honored and cherished system of voting for the man we want. . . .

Yes, there is sentiment. How deep, how real, only the old campaigners will fully comprehend.

The constituency of Argenteuil recalls illustrious names; there are memories we could not readily share with neighbors in our next-door riding The box-stove in Avoca hall, and the heater in St. Placide school-house, may be essentially alike — but the rafters will ring to vastly different themes. The community of St. Placide has little in common with our voters north of Pointe au Chene.

We hope for the best — but the best we can anticipate is a happy compromise. It seems to us there never could be one candidate, of whatever hue, to satisfy all partisans in these two extensive ridings.

Membership in Canada

THE PASSING last year of the Canadian Citizenship Bill has done little to make Canadians realize their responsilities as citizens. It is a piece of legislation that is forgotten already by most people, and what might have been an instrument of unity, is now nothing but another document on the pile of unused statutes. There were many who hoped the Bill would be used to remind Canadians of their duties as citizens, but the authorities have failed to take advantage of opportunities offered by the measure.

Citizenship is a "membership in Canada" and it involves an equal share in all the privileges and duties of any other citizen in the whole of our country. It means doing away with geographical prejudices, and taking on a national outlook. Young Canadians should be taught that the well-being of other communities is as important to national life as the prosperity of the district in which they live. We cannot attain a world outlook unless we first adopt a national viewpoint.

Profanity in Young People

THERE SEEMS to be an increase in the use of profanity by younger people. Hardly a day passes but that one doesn't overhear profane words in public. It is not uncommon to hear young girls use swear words. Perhaps it may be considered the smart thing to do by the younger people, but it is a vile habit. It most certainly adds nothing to a person's character, but merely shows a lack of vocabulary. To 'teen-agers we say: If you learn to keep your speech clean now, you'll be glad of it in later years.

THE SASKATCHEWAN Government reports that there are thousands of farms in Saskatchewan which haven't had an application of paint in ten years. A similar condition exists in the rest of Canada. The countryside could be brightened up considerably if farmers would use the paint brush and whitewash spray where they are needed.

Budget and the Cost of Living

THE GENERAL public has had time to study the announced changes of the new budget, and reactions seem to be that the budget failed to come up to expectations. The feeling exists, no doubt, because prior to the budget address the taxpayer, through no fault of the Government, was led to expect great reductions, and he is discouraged now when he discovers that the changes mean little in the way of saving his pocket book.

The item receiving most attention is the reduction in income tax averaging 29 per cent. This is a sizable cut, yet since it is not effective until July 1 of this year, the percentage of reduction for the entire twelve months of 1947 is only half of 29 per cent — 14½. The significance of this is noted when one examines the case of a married man earning $2,000 a year. In 1946 he paid $68 in income tax. In 1947 he will pay $52. The budget thus brings him a saving this year of $16 or 30 cents a week, a rather inconsequential sum when one considers the high cost of present-day living.

The other major change announced by Finance Minister Douglas Abbott is the elimination of the excess profits tax — although it will not take effect until 1948, so that business firms get no benefits whatsoever in 1947. It was expected some consideration would be given to business in the way of encouragement, but for this year at least they must operate under conditions imposed during the war years.

* * *

So much for what Mr. Abbott has given us. But what did he forget? He neglected entirely the hidden and indirect taxes, which amount to more than a billion dollars. He did nothing to cut the special charges on amusements, motor cars, household appliances, amusements, tobaccos and cigarettes. He ignored the special taxes on soft drinks and candy bars. Many of the taxes on these commodities were introduced under war emergency measures. It is difficult to understand why they must be still in force nearly two years after the end of hostilities.

* * *

What is worrying the general public is the high cost of living, and the budget does practically nothing to relieve it. The housewife knows the $16 income tax reduction is a small amount when it comes to do the family shopping. In fact, the income tax saving was wiped out almost entirely the day following the budget speech with the removal of subsidies from butter and cheese, thereby raising the prices per pound of these two commodities by ten cents and four cents respectively.

The cost of living is what matters today; it must be reduced. It is an indisputable factor in the present strikes and industrial disputes. Has the Government failed to appreciate this fact?

The budget forecast, even after allowing for a surplus of $190,000,000, calls for expenses of over two billion dollars in the coming year — a figure more than three times Canada's 1938-39 budget. It is evident from the estimates that there is need of great economy at Ottawa. The fact that we have a national debt of more than 13 billions, ought to be reason enough for a policy of careful spending.

* * *

Our opinion in brief: Mr. Abbott has the right figures, but the wrong dates. He has failed to take effective action to lower the cost of living.

PEOPLE WHO feel inconsequential in the daily round, should find inspiration from the fact that when the great liner Queen Elizabeth was stuck on a sandbar, it was the LITTLE tugs that moved her off. Despite her powerful engine, the great liner was unable to do the feat herself.

Parliament has had a debate on the cost of the chocolate bar, it being pointed out that eight cents is a rather excessive price for a child to hand across the counter. Perhaps a solution would be to cut the bar to a five-cent size, although most children will tell you that the bar is small enough as it is.

Always treat with a grain of salt any news from that fellow, "an authoritative source."

"MY WEEK"

By R. J. DEACHMAN

In the Good Old Days

Once in a while when I think the world is going wrong I take a squint at an old diary which my father had when he was alive and in which he recorded the events of his day, the prices paid and received, and a few other odds and ends worth while. In 1886 my brother left home and became an apprentice in a drug store. I note that at the time father paid $12 for a suit of clothes for him and $14 for another. Socks were 50c a pair, four print shirts cost $2.50, and a white shirt, high class stuff, $1.00.

My brother received $40 for his first year's service, $50 for the next and $60 for the third. Now a perfectly green boy, such as he was, entering the business gets from $12 to $14 a week from the start. Of course, some get a great deal more, for the drug store now is not a place which merely sells drugs, that is often a small part of the business. It sells a little of everything and, as one man remarked to me, we value the apprentice by his ability to sell rather than his knowledge of the drug business. That is the determining factor. So, in many cases the wage rate is higher than the level mentioned here. A young man untrained was of little value in the drug store of olden days but under new conditions he earns more and gets more.

Now, here is a true story, but not recorded in my father's diary. I found out the facts 42 years after the event. We put a stone foundation under our barn in 1896, there were also some alterations in the structure itself. The carpenter who did the "framing" received $1 a day, the foreman who supervised the building of the stone wall under the barn received $1.25. One day the boys suggested to my father that they lay a corner-stone and put under it, in a space provided for the purpose, a letter written by him, two local papers and a city daily, and 25c — in order to show the people in the distant future when the walls would crumble, the condition of the world at that time and a sample of our currency.

Forty-two years later in the little Village of Gorrie, three miles from our old farm, an elderly man came up to me and asked if I remembered him. I said: "Yes, I do". He said: "Do you remember the time we laid the corner-stone under the barn?" "Yes", I answered, "I remember it quite well". "Did you know", he said, "that when the old man's back was turned I swiped the quarter out of the wall and we went down that night and had five glasses of beer out of it. I bet the old man never knew that." He never did. All of which makes clear one thing, boys will be boys, whether they get $1 a day or $7. The only difference is that they probably did as much or more for the $1 they then earned as they would for the much higher pay of today.

Fund Would Protect Ontario Drivers

Toronto (CP) — Hon. George Doucett, Ontario Highway Minister, told the Ontario Motor League that regular automobile insurance "protects the other driver", but hat the proposed unsatisfied judgment fund of the Ontario Government would protect everyone who drives.

He told the league's annual meeting that the $1 fee which had been suggesed as a contribution to the fund by everyone taking out a driver's licence, was "a small amount to pay to protect yourself, your family and your own property".

Creative Banking

IS MONEY plus VISION

As a chartered bank, our first duty is to safeguard the depositors' money—so let it work at useful jobs where its future will be secure. That responsibility calls for critical judgment. Creative banking calls for that and something more: vision and a willingness to share the borrower's point of view . . . the knowledge and experience to recognize a good credit risk, and the ability to help it prosper. That's the kind of banking today's business needs — the kind of banking we like to do.

OBITUARY

Calumet Citizen Was 45 Years Agent for C.P.R.

The Late Arthur R. Robinson

Calumet — The death of Arthur R. Robinson, one of Calumet's oldest residents, occurred suddenly at his home here recently, in his 79th year.

He is survived by his widow, the former Louise Lemay; four sons, Ross, of Gatineau Point, Percy and Ralph, of Calumet, and Grant, of Montreal; one daughter, Hazel, at home; and his sister, Mrs. Jane Cummings, of Namur.

The funeral service was held in the Papineauville Anglican Church with the Rev. A. E. Hawes and the Rev. Owen Pritchard conducting the services. Interment was at Papineauville Cemetery.

Mr. Robinson was a lifelong employee of the C.P.R., having been agent here for 45 years. In 1898 he obtained leave of absence, and with his wife and family went to California; there he bought and operated a fruit ranch, at Corning, Cal. In 1900 he returned, built his present residence and resumed his former position as agent. For the past few years he has been retired.

He was school secretary-treasurer of the Municipality of Grenville for many years, and was ardent for the advancement of education in the community.

He will be greatly missed by all in this village and especially by the children, to whom he was a genial friend. Deepest sympathy is extended to his wife and family in the passing of this beloved figure from our community.

SPEEDERS' WEAK SPOT

Certain drivers seem unable to curb their desire to "see how fast she'll go". Surely we are not going to wait until some life is sacrificed on the altar of speed before taking definite and positive action to halt the practice. We suggest a few stiff fines handed out to offenders caught. Hit in the pocketbook, they may consider before trying their speed again.

— Digby (N.S.) Courier.

Lach. Mills Family Suddenly Bereaved

Late Mrs. Ernest Robertson

The former Jane Nadeau, of Montreal—wife of Ernest Robertson, an old employee of Gatineau Power Company and well known citizen of this town — died suddenly Tuesday night at the Providence Hospital, Lachute, where she was admitted only a short time previously. Forty-three years of age, she was a daughter of the late Emile Nadeau and Mrs. Nadeau, Montreal. She was married in 1927.

Left to mourn her passing, besides her husband, are six sons — Emile, Ernest, Jacques, Claude, André and Roger; and two daughters, Marguerite and Marie-Paul. She is survived also by her two sisters, (Annette) Mme R. Lecuier, Montreal, and Mlle May Nadeau, Ottawa; and a brother, Paul Nadeau, Montreal.

The funeral rites will take place at St. Julien Parish Church on Friday at 10 a.m.

(Burial of Mr. Ernest Robertson's sister, who died in Hull, Que., last January, will also take place in the west end cemetery on Friday.)

Former Resident Dies in Sudbury

The Late Mrs. Lindsay Lee

A former resident and loyal member of the Baptist Church, Mrs. Lindsay Lee (Katie Beers) succumbed to a lengthy illness last Monday at her home in Sudbury, Ont., at the age of 61 years.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alex Beers, she spent the early part of her life in this community. She was first married to William Ball, C.P.R. telegraph operator, and photographer, who was well known to the older generation hereabouts. Mr. Ball predeceased her, and she later moved to Tisdale, Man., where she was married to Mr. Lindsay Lee. They then moved to Sudbury, where they have resided for the past six years.

The late Mrs. Lee is survived by her husband; one sister, Mrs. A. Kyle (Edith), of Montreal; and three brothers, Norman Beers, of Niagara, Bob, of Sherbrooke, and Donald of this town.

The funeral was held this afternoon (Thursday) at Lachute Baptist Church, where she served for many years as organist during her residence here. The Rev. W. H. Britton conducted the service. Interment was made in the family plot at Lachute Cemetery.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Saturday Night Rallies

Another special program is scheduled this Saturday night at Lachute Baptist Church. The Rev. Kenneth Drennon, of New Jersey, will be special guest speaker and Mrs. Drennon, radio singer, will be bringing the gospel in song; she is an outstanding vocalist whose ministry in song has been a blessing to many.

Mr. Elton M. Britton, of Toronto, will also be present and take part in this service. Mr. Britton is en route to Jamaica to do missionary work for the summer. This will be a service worth travelling miles to attend. Everyone welcome.

Brownsburg United

Brownsburg — At the United Church next Sunday, Mother's Day services will be held both morning and evening. A program compiled by the Religious Education Council of Quebec, will be used at the morning service, in which the Sunday School will participate. The supplement accompanying the program will be taken by some of the older pupils of the school.

The male choir will again have charge of the music at the evening service, with a special selection of hymns. Messrs. R. Graham and C. J. Wheeler will briefly outline the role which the men have been playing in leading the singing for the services — as well as their future plans.

Example is a lesson that all men can read. —Gilbert West

At the 7 o'clock service Mr. Elton Britton, of Toronto, will be guest speaker. Special singing will be a feature of these services.

STAGE COMEDY IS SUCCESS, ATTRACTS LARGE AUDIENCE

One of the best stage performances in years was held at the Lachute Auditorium last evening when the Hawkesbury Dramatic Society put on their 13th presentation of "Here Comes Charlie."

Bouquets are due to the entire cast for their portrayal of the various roles, headed by Miss M. Ross as Charlie, Roy Johnson as Larry Elliott, Randolph Higginson as Ted Hartley and Mrs. Mel Steele as the dominating aunt.

The director of the group was Capt. Ernest Johnson, to whom congratulations are due for this fine presentation.

Appreciation was expressed by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough and the Lachute United Y.P.U. president, Allan Hamond, to the players and to the large audience.

During the intermission, Mr. Bories Arran, of the St. Simeon's Players, complimented the performers, and reminded the audience of the return of "Aaron Slick", a popular comedy presentation, next Wednesday at the Auditorium.

and amounted to $31. The ladies and gentlemen of the congregation and other kind friends had provided for a sumptuous collation in Victoria Hall which was partaken of (after service) by many friends from a distance and others.

At the missionary meeting in the evening addresses were given by the following clergymen: Rev. Canons Baldwin, Evans and DuVernet, Rev. Archdeacon Lonsdale, Revs. R. Lindsay, F. Robinson, F. A. Allan and the Bishop. We trust His Lordship's words of love and wisdom may in their fruits be proportionate to the affection and esteem in which he is held by all. The offertory in behalf of the mission fund amounted to $10.76. Immediately after the meeting an invitation was given to all present, about 150 in number, to partake of supper at Victoria Hall, and many availed themselves of the invitation.

The friends of St. Simeon's Church feel thankful the day was such a fine one, and that everything passed off in such a satisfactory manner.

The Sunday Services (for the present) will be as follows: Sunday morning at 10.30; Sunday afternoon (Sunday-School) at 2.30; Sunday evening Service at 7.

Mr. Evans' departure from the parish at the end of December, 1883, was greatly regretted by all his parishioners. He was made Canon by Bishop Bond, and served for several years till his death as rector of All Saints Church, Montreal.

He was succeeded in the parish of Lachute by the Rev R. Wyndham Brown, who was incumbent for but a short time, from January, 1884, to April, 1885. On the 23rd day of August, 1885, the Rev. W. Saunders, B.A., was placed in charge of the parish, and later was appointed Rural Dean of the Deanery of St. Andrews. It was largely through his efforts and generous contributions that the fine residence for the clergyman was erected. During his tenure of office Arundel and the districts joining were in the year 1886 formed into a separate mission, with the Rev. W. Harris as its first incumbent.

Owing to ill health Mr. Sanders resigned in 1892 and was succeeded in the parish of Lachute by the Rev. Alex Boyd Given, who died while still in charge, on March 11, 1903.

It was during Mr. Given's incumbency that the fine church at Louisa was built. He was succeeded by the Rev. Herbert Charters, B.A., who did faithful work for nearly nine years. He resigned in January 1912, and was appointed rector of the Parish of Sutton. He was the first minister of the Church of England to conduct worship in Brownsburg, now an important part of Lachute Parish. Students from the Montreal Diocesan Theological College then conducted the services of the parish for a couple of months.

The Rev. Geo. H. Gagnon, M.A., had charge of the parish from the the spring of 1912 to the fall of the same year.

After a short interval during which the parish was served by students from the Montreal Diocesan College, the Rev. J. A. Lackey, L.Th., was appointed incumbent. He came to take charge on February 14, 1913. His ministry in the parish was concluded on November 27, 1932. During his ministry the beautiful stone church in Brownaburg was built in 1929. He was succeeded by the Rev. W. C. LeCras whose first service in the parish was on December 4, 1932. He remained rector until August 31, 1941.

For a time services were held by visiting clergy. The Rev. B. J. Thorpe became rector, from January 4, 1942 to January 2, 1944, after which, services were held by visiting clergy and lay readers. On May 19, 1944, the Rev. C. R. Lang, the present rector, was inducted into the charge.

To Ratepayers of the Township of Harrington

Having had the privilege of serving the Township of Harrington for some twenty-four years, the last twenty as your mayor, I wish to thank the public for the confidence they have imposed in me and at the same time to announce that, for reason of business and advancing years, I shall not be a candidate at the coming election for councillors.

It has been a pleasure to serve you, and I should be failing in my duties if I did not thank the Councillors, present and past, for their support and co-operation in the public good. I believe they will excuse me if I go out of my way to pay a humble compliment and word of appreciation to our Secretary, Pierre Cantin, whose experience, tact and knowledge has always been a strong right arm upon which to lean.

Boyd's Express Extends Transport Services to Include Buckingham

A further expansion is noted in the business of Boyd's Lachute Express Limited, which recently acquired another transport and permit to include Buckingham in their run of operations. This new business has been taken over from the Frank McKinnon Transport, and it is learned that Boyd's Express Ltd. now have 10 highway units busily engaged over their route of operations — Montreal-Lachute-Buckingham.

WHEN we were a bit younger, "it ain't hay" was a smart way of saying that the money involved was really important.

We'll wager the man who coined the phrase was not a farmer. Because a farmer would see that there is a lot of similarity between the hay in his mow and important money . . . money in the bank.

For the wise farmer stores hay—not just enough for a mild winter, but enough for the longest, most severe one.

And the wise saver provides not only for the expenditures he plans . . . for money to spend wisely on worthwhile things . . . but for the unforeseen emergency—the unexpected opportunity.

During the war years, nearly half a million more Canadians realized that setting aside money in a savings account at the B of M was sound commonsense—like the farmer putting hay in his barn. That makes a million and a half B of M depositors following a policy that is at once in the best interests of the individual depositor and in the best interests of the nation.

For money in the bank doesn't lie idle. It works constantly in two ways. It works for the saver and it works for national prosperity—providing, by loans and investment, the capital that creates employment. It helps to produce goods . . . to produce prosperity.

Safety Deposit Boxes Available at B of M

The new safety deposit boxes recently received at the Bank of Montreal office here, are in great demand — Mr. Eric Hibbard, local manager, tells us. However, several are still vacant and ready for immediate use. Certainly this is of interest to those Lachute residents who, because of the wartime scarcity of these boxes, had to keep their valuables at home.

No matter how good a hiding place you think you have in your home, your valuables are never really safe there. Fire and burglary are ever-present dangers. Securities, insurance premium receipts, deeds and other important documents — investments representing the savings of a life-time — can be destroyed by fire in a matter of seconds, or stolen and gone forever, as many a Canadian family can testify.

Commenting on the advantages of this type of protection, Mr. Hibbard said, "There is no need for Lachute residents to run the risk of losing the results of years of careful planning and saving. By renting a B of M safety deposit box, they can be sure papers and other valuables are well protected. And the cost is but a cent or two a day".

Mr. Hibbard added that he would be glad to have all those interested drop in at any time to discuss their safe-keeping needs. (advt. 1c)

Snoring, so often accepted as inevitable, should receive medical attention — declares the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

Association for the Blind Asks Support of Quebec Women's Organizations

In 1874 compassion for the blind by two Frenchmen at a Parisian burlesque show at which blind persons in ridiculous costumes performed, brought the first move to improve the lot of sight bereft persons. Braille in 1829 invented his system of writing and reading. McKay Institute for the Deaf began teaching of blind children in Montreal in 1910, when P. E. Layton, blind himself, by valiant efforts from 1907 to 1910 resulted in incorporation of the Montreal Association for the Blind with a Provincial Charter.

These events, with outline of education and training for blind people, were the background for a stirring speech on behalf of the blind last Friday at a meeting of the Quebec Women's Institutes at Hemmingford.

Mr. Layton pointed out the economic value of this and kindred organizations that enable blind persons, through the highly modernized methods of teaching and training, to become almost or entirely self supporting.

Mr. Layton stressed the great need for the interest and co-operation of women's organizations throughout the province in the remarkable work of the Montreal Association for the Blind.

Through the work of P. E. Layton, in 1910 a campaign was successfully launched to raise $100,000, a three-day bazaar raised $25,000, and a single tag day, the first ever held in Montreal, netted $20,000, both the latter events establishing records.

Land was purchased on Sherbrooke Street West and on these eight acres, in 1912, the School was built and a free Braille lending library instituted at the same time. The factory building was erected in 1914 and in 1926 an extension was added.

In narrating all this Mr. Layton described operation of the school, where all regular subjects are taught as well as typing, music and handicrafts. The factory and the efficient manufacture of brooms, brushes and maps were described; also method of contacting blind children in the home — anywhere in the province of Quebec — with a view to the child, the younger the better, being educated and trained to be self supporting at maturity.

Mr. Layton was invited to give this address with the object of enlisting sympathies of Quebec women in aid of the blind.

"Hospitality consists in a little fire, a little food, and an immense quiet." — Emerson.

'Thickeners' for Sauces

During the scarcity of supplies Canadian homemakers have had to use different types of "thickeners" for sauces, etc. The Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture received many inquiries as to the relative thickening power of wheat, potato and rice flours, cornstarch, and most recently, wheat starch. After experimenting with these different flours and starches, they found that rice and potato flours and wheat starch have approximately the same thickening power as cornstarch and twice as much as all-purpose flour.

Eggs are also thickeners, and when the supply is plentiful they can be used in place of starch or flour thickeners. Conversely, when they are scarce and consequently high priced, they may be replaced, at least in part, by other thickeners. One-half tablespoon of cornstarch or 1 tablespoon of all-purpose flour may be substituted for 1 egg, and vice versa.

Comparative Table for Thickeners

Cornstarch — 1½ tablespoon to 1 cup liquid. White flour (all purpose) — 3 tablespoons to 1 cup liquid. Wheat starch — 1 tbsp. + 2 teaspoons to 1 cup liquid. Rice flour — 1 tbsp. + 2 teaspoons to 1 cup liquid. Potato flour — 1 tbsp. + 2 teaspoons to 1 cup of liquid.

Chocolate Cream

2 Ounces unsweetened chocolate, 3 cups milk, 4 tablespoons cornstarch (¼ cup) — OR 8 tablespoons white flour (½ cup), OR 4½ tablespoons of either wheat starch, rice or potato flour — ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Add chocolate to 2½ cups of the milk and heat in top of double boiler until chocolate is melted. Mix cornstarch or white flour or either of the other thickeners with sugar and salt and blend with the remaining half-cup of milk. Add slowly to hot mixture in top of double boiler and stir constantly until mixture thickens. Cook for 20 to 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add well beaten egg yolk and cook 3 minutes. Remove from heat, add flavoring and fold in the beaten egg white. Chill. Six servings.

Lemon Snow

4 Tablespoons cornstarch (¼ cup) — OR 4½ tablespoons of either wheat starch, rice or potato flour, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups boiling water, 1 lemon, 2 egg whites.

Mix cornstarch or either wheat starch, rice or potato flour with sugar and salt thoroughly together. Gradually add boiling water, stirring constantly. Cook over direct heat until thick and clear, about 5 minutes. Add grated lemon rind and juice (3 tablespoons) and pour the hot mixture slowly over the stiffly beaten egg whites, stirring until well blended. Pour into individual sherbets and chill. Serve with custard sauce using egg yolks. Six servings.

Instructive Themes at Study Group Session

Convener for the W.I. Study Group meeting, held at the Lachute High School on Tuesday of last week, was Mrs. F. S. McGibbon, of Lachute. Members of the High School domestic science class were welcomed to the gathering, and two interesting and instructive films on the theme, "Key to Better Living", were shown by Kenneth Falconer, of the firm of Food Lockers Limited.

Mrs. J. G. Lamontagne, co-convener of the program, demonstrated different stitches and methods used in appliqué sewing. Two of the ladies demonstrated different styles of smocking, and the knitting of diamond socks also proved a popular subject of study at this meeting.

Celebration for 40th Anniversary

Mount Maple — Friday evening, May 2, was the occasion of a gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jackson, in honor of the 40th year of their marriage. The family were all present except one son, Stanley, and one daughter, Eva, who were unable to attend. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Morrison, of Lachute (sister of Mrs. Jackson), Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McAndrew and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Purdy and daughters, Beulah and Joyce.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson received several acceptable gifts, including a purse of $25 from the members of their family.

Supper was served at 10.30 o'clock, with a three-layer fruit cake made by Mrs. Jackson and tastefully decorated by Mrs. Wesley Doran.

This occasion was also the 18th birthday of their youngest daughter, Jean, who arrived from Montreal, accompanied by her friend, Miss Vivian Dougan. Jean was presented with a clock from members of the family.

Title-Holder Seen In Wrestling Show

There was no falling off in the crowd at Leo Gravel's wrestlefest, last Friday at Lachute Auditorium — which indicates the public like this brand of entertainment, while fully aware of its gags and pseudo-sensations.

Most popular bout of the evening was a three-round affair which was lacking in the usual showmanship, but strong on points of clean and skillful wrestling. "Flash Gordon" Levesque, lithe and speedy, met Joe White in this encounter, the second event on the program. White won out in the first round, with a gruelling arm and leg torture technique. Levesque clinched the second session in quick time, pinning his man to the mat after a well-timed drop kick. Levesque also won the final round, and the match, holding his opponent shoulders-down to the count.

A "championship" bout, feature of the show, saw "Tiger" Delisle as challenger against Marcel Ouimet, provincial title-holder in his class (which the promoters omitted to announce). Delisle was acclaimed winner in the first stanza, while the champ won the other two in quick time, to retain the title. Delisle, fooling few among the audience with his wild-man antics, proves the super-villain and pulls down the house with a tirade of boos. — A great performer, this man.

In the preliminary bout Paul Gaudette, another untamed desperado, played his role to perfection, yet exhibited considerable strength and skill as a matman. He won the decision against Bob Taylor, who starred as hero in this one-round event.

Referee Kid Lyons was floored in the closing scene, by Bad Man Delisle — and a lively time was enjoyed by all the fans.

Leo Gravel announces the next wrestling program for Friday, May 16.

New Partnership

After serving many years in the automobile business here, George Graham — a well known townsman — has now entered into partnership with Geo. Paul in the roofing and tinsmith trade. It will be of interest to his friends to note that, in this move, Mr. Graham returns to the tools and techniques of his old craft, for he learned tinsmithing and followed the trade for many years prior to his connection with local garages. . . . In his growing business, George Paul assures the public of still better service with this new addition to the firm.

Paper Salvage Aids Scout Fund

Brownsburg — The Boy Scouts Group Committee of Brownsburg wish to express appreciation for the generous way in which the citizens responded to the salvage paper collection, held April 15. Over 7,000 lbs. of paper was shipped to Montreal and netted the sum of $47.18 — from which carrying charges have to be defrayed.

Not only does this help the Boy Scouts' fund, it also helps the Spring Clean-Up; and the paper is actually in great demand, owing to the existing shortage of pulp and paper products.

If citizens will continue to save waste paper, another collection will be made in the fall.

Ayers Textiles Again Producing; Respite in Labor Demonstrations

Nearly 40% of Employees Enter Dominion Shuttle Co.; Pickets Reduced to Handful

With the importation of A. F. of L. affiliates, including members of the Canadian Seamen's Union, and a few from Valleyfield with oratory and enthusiasm to bolster the workers' cause, there has also been a steady following of reporters and photographers at the scene of the factory picket line, at Ayers Limited and the Dominion Shuttle Company. There was a visiting delegation this week from the Civil Liberties League, including members of the clergy from Montreal, who came to examine conditions at first hand on behalf of the labor faction. David Coté (M.P.P. for Rouyn-Noranda) was also seen in the vicinity of the picket line early this week. He was among the speakers at the Sunday strike rally.

In the meantime, A. F. of L. spokesmen, Provincial Police and the mill management have been quoted at wide variance regarding the number of workers back on the job . . . all these factors obscuring the true picture on Lachute's industrial front. (Our Brownsburg correspondent this week gives an apt idea of the confusion in the minds of outside "onlookers".)

Today the mills are closed in observance of the religious holiday. Concerning latest attendance figures, The Watchman was informed last night (from the most reliable sources available—in one instance the punch-clock itself) that the count at Ayers Limited yesterday was "approximately 375" including staff and superintendents (35); and at Dominion Shuttle Co. 107 including staff and foreman (18), out of a total of 275.

Provincial Police officers have remained on duty at the mill gates. There have been further arrests this week, including Kent Rowley, Textile Workers' director, and two seamen here from Montreal. Implications of the Seamen's Union having participated in the picketing, with possible far-reaching effects, have been mentioned in the daily press. Views of their president, Harry Davis, and of Premier Maurice Duplessis, have also been aired in the news columns.

It is now stated from St. Jerome that bail has been cancelled in the case of Kent Rowley, and that no bail will be permitted in future arrests connected with industrial disturbances here.

The Strike Coverage

Having endeavored to report the progress of the Ayers strike with strict fairness and impartiality, The Watchman has apparently fallen short of its constructive aim. In these shortcomings it shares a general criticism levelled at the daily journals.

But inasmuch as class, race, politics and other irrelevant factors have now been edged into prominence, The Watchman desires to play no part in such matters. Statements of fact have been misconstrued as capital for controversy, and the extremists are quick to fan these differences into flame.

There are factions in this conflict which have no interest in Lachute whatever, except as a battleground of strategy and ideas. There are others who live and have their being in this community — and in the interest of these, their ultimate harmony and well-being, The Watchman in future leaves all lurid details to the daily news and radio reports.

Elsewhere on this page we review the strike to date with utmost brevity and (we hope) impartiality.

Children Hurt In Explosion of Blasting Caps

An accident occured Sunday afternoon at East Settlement in which four juveniles were hurt in an explosion of blasting caps. Two, Maurice and Roger Piché, 16 and 14 years of age, respectively, were sent to the Jeanne d'Arc Hospital, Montreal, the older boy painfully injured about the eyes, and the younger with numerous lacerations about the hands and arms. Two others, Henry and Angus, sons of Harry Todd, East Settlement, were less seriously hurt.

It is learned that the boys had found the caps around the farm buildings and, not realizing their potential danger, were treating them as playthings.

Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, gave medical treatment and ordered the Piché boys removed to hospital. The younger lad is now home again, and Maurice reported making a good recovery.

Waterworks Problem, Issue of Major Importance in Brownsburg Village

Specially contributed by M. V. Trayers

Brownsburg, Que. (intended for last issue) —

"With everything you say we are in full agreement except one thing — we haven't got the money to put in the waterworks (on the French Hill). Fifty thousand dollars doesn't grow on trees, you know."

"Where did the one hundred and fifty two thousand dollars grow with which you put in the waterworks in the first place? Tell me that."

Taxpayers from "across the tracks" were again before the village council, in an effort to have a promise, made by the council to extend the water utilities to the Chenier property, implemented. The discussion ranged over every aspect of the question—with assertions and denials, charges and counter-charges exchanged with lightning rapidity, subtle sarcasm and veiled threats of legal penalties — tempered with sympathetic agreement in some things and caustic controversion in others. The council were charged with having instructed the petitioners to "go ahead" and put in the domestic installation — that a water line would be at their boundary fence within a short time. However, there was no record of this promise, and no recollection of it among the councillors. The council is willing, in fact anxious, to put in a suitable and ample supply of water for those people, but —. Well, here's the situation.

The council borrowed $152,000 to install the present system.

The installation was carefully planned and plotted, and government approval for the scheme obtained. A referendum of the people was obtained, and although a sizeable minority voted against the proposal, it was proceeded with and consummated. During the course of excavations for the laying of the necessary pipes, etc., several additional sections of the village began to clamor for alterations and service not originally contemplated; among those loudest for facilities were many of those who voted against the proposal in the first place. The amount borrowed could not be increased, as the utility had been calculated on the basis of a self-supporting economic unit, repayable over a period of thirty years. Whether through ignorance of the political implications, or simple honesty of purpose, the council arranged for gilt-edged security by a provincial government guarantee, to secure a federal government loan. The upswing in costs following and during the war made the repayment of the loan and interest such a heavier burden that simple justice demanded that financial relief from the exact provisions of the debt be considered, with a view of revision. The local member to the Federal Parliament was approached to obtain some measure of relief. Mr. Jas. W. McGibbon, who was then in office, undertook to place the matter before the competent authorities, but all his efforts were unavailing up to the time of his retirement from the Commons. During the course of these proceedings several other municipalities similarly circumstanced, were generously exempted from repayment of large amounts of their outstanding debts; but (and this is where the crux arose, as the succeeding member soon learned) the loans which they were committed to repay were not guaranteed by such gilt-edged security as was the Brownsburg loan. Therefore the order was, and still is — pay in full.

Not only did the Federal Government refuse (or delay, as the matter is still in abeyance) any relief from the burden of the loan, but

Crown Attorney For Duration of Labor Troubles

Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P., has asked that the following statement be made public through the medium of this newspaper:

"In view of the fact that certain elements, otherwise well intentioned, would dearly wish to make a political issue of the local labor differences — and as I am not willing to become their tool or victim — I have asked the Attorney General to relieve me of my duties as crown attorney until the present labor conflict is ended.

"Therefore the Attorney General has appointed Noel Dorion, K.C., senior crown prosecutor for the judicial district of Quebec, as special crown attorney for this district whilst the labor situation remains unsettled. Mr. Dorion is located at Desjardins Hotel, Lachute, until further notice. Every citizen concerned with the maintenance of peace and order, or anyone who may be threatened or intimidated, many communicate with him, as he has full authority and power to act".

ARUNDEL SCHOOL STUDENTS' CLUB HOSTS TO PARENTS

Arundel — On Saturday evening last, the Arundel Students' Club held a banquet in the United Church hall, marking the closing of the club program for the present school term. Guests included the special speaker, the school commissioners, teachers and parents of the club members.

After supper, an interesting talk was given by Mr. P. Clark, vice-principal of Baron Byng High School and editor of "Teachers' Magazine". Following this, a motion picture was shown entitled "On Which We Build", depicting the progress of Protestant education in Quebec.

Mr. Alfred G. Morrison, president of the club, acted as chairman. The hall was decorated with balloons, daffodils, and the school colors, green and gold.

Barbara Ann Scott Will Not Officiate At Spring Fair

Barbara Ann Scott, world champion figure skater, has retracted her acceptance of an invitation to open the Lachute Spring Fair next month — according to a letter received by the Fair directorate from the amateur sports officials.

It was reported last week that Barbara Ann had been advised by the Canadian Olympic Committee, in her own interests, to be discreet in accepting invitations.

Lachute Fair officials state that Barbara Ann declined to accept expenses in connection with the invitation.

Mother - Daughter Banquet Held

The annual "mother and daughter banquet" of the C.G.I.T. group was held in the United Church hall on Saturday evening.

Guests present included the Rev. Chas. Maclean, the Rev. C. R. Lang, the Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Rosborough, Mrs. F. S. McGibbon, Mrs. S. S. Campbell, Mrs. G. Y. Deacon, Mrs. H. Jacobsen, Mrs. Norma Rogers, Miss E. Stiles.

After an enjoyable supper the following toasts were proposed:

The King — by Betty Brown, president.

The Mothers — by June McArthur.

The C.G.I.T. — by Mrs. W. K. McArthur.

The W.M.S. — by Marilyn Armstrong; responded to by Mrs. F. S. McGibbon.

The Guests — by Joyce Gordon; responded to by Mrs. N. Rogers.

Mrs. Jacobsen then presented a small prize to Betty Brown and Joan Laurin for perfect attendance through the year. The banquet was brought to a close with the benediction by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough.

Accept Offer of C. of Commerce, to To Assist at Fair

To the representations of a Chamber of Commerce committee offering assistance at the coming Spring Fair, the Agricultural Society directors have expressed their grateful acceptance.

The Chamber proposes to maintain an office at the Fair grounds, and to co-operate especially in directing out-of-towners to suitable accommodation. A "lost and found" department would be equally helpful, it was considered, in view of experience in recent years. It is also hoped to have a town map in readiness, and by various means to publicize Lachute, thus acting generally as a liaison agent between the Fair, the town and its numerous visitors on this occasion.

Clean-Up Drive Opens with Parade

Considerable ingenuity was in evidence Monday evening in the Clean-Up Parade, organized by Lachute Chamber of Commerce to launch the Clean-Up Campaign, May 12 to 24 inclusive. Many business firms co-operated by decorating floats, trucks and cars in a manner suitable to the theme. From a loud-speaker unit appropriate remarks were addressed to spectators along the route.

The campaign concurs with a similar move in communities across Canada, sponsored by the national organization of Chambers of Commerce. This town is liberally posted with placards bearing the national slogan, "Beautify Canada by Beautifying Your Community". There is every incentive to clean-up, paint-up, plant-up and light-up, and in this manner to express sincere pride in the community. Every citizen is summoned to an active participation in this campaign.

Town Business At May Meeting Of Council

At the May session of Town Council (reported only in part, through lack of space last week) the following matters received attention of the councillors, under presidency of Mayor Alex Bothwell:

Building permits were granted to Messrs. Léon St. Jacques, Rodolphe Gagné, Stanley Holt (on behalf of the Anglican Church), and Rodolphe Beaulne (with approval of the Roads Committee).

The Lighting Committee was authorized to install a street light at Mountain View and another on Isabella Street.

Permission was granted to the Chamber of Commerce for the staging of their parade May 12 to inaugurate the Clean-Up Campaign.

Contract for supplying and caring for flowers and shrubs in the Park this season, was awarded to Anders Paulsen.

Pool-room permits were granted to J. Come Bélanger, Armand Sabourin, and to Marcel Deschamps for the operation of his bowling alleys — with the provision that these places of amusement shall not open before 8 a.m. and be closed at 12 midnight.

A vote was taken on policy with regard to renting of public halls owned by the Town (as reported more fully last week).

Accounts were approved for a total of $4,236.77. Alderman Omer Laurin was appointed pro-mayor for the ensuing three-month period, and in conclusion $25 was voted as a grant to the baseball club conducted by Léo Gibeault.

Grenville Man Injured by Horse

(Our District Correspondent)

Grenville — Thorl Bennett was the victim of a painful incident here, when attacked by a vicious horse. One of his arms was broken, and the other hand severely crushed. The animal was destroyed before it could do more harm.

Vancouver (CP) — Posing as the representative of a construction company an unidentified man has victimized a number of truck owners. Obtaining a truck for a tryout, he would use the machine from one to four days before returning it to the owners.

TURN FIRST SOD FOR NEW CHURCH

Turning of the first sod for construction of the new St. Simeon's Anglican Church will take place at the site on Main Street next Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Major S. E. Smith, oldest member of the congregation and believed the only parishioner now living who attended the first devotions at this church in 1878, has been invited to perform this happy ceremony. Passers-by who have witnessed the demolishing of the old church during the past week, will be interested to note the first stages of reconstruction will be started without delay. Contractor for the building is Jas. Pollock.

Orange Order Grand Lodge Sessions Held

The annual sessions of the Provincial L.O.A. and L.O.B.A. were held here last Friday, in McArthur's Hall and the Lachute Auditorium, respectively. The attendance at all sessions was the largest in many years. The secretaries reported a large increase in membership in both branches of the Association. Keen interest was maintained in all debates during the gatherings.

The proceedings began with a public service in the United Church under the direction of the Rev. W. B. Rosborough, B.A., B.D., assisted by the Rev. C. R. Lang. The Rev. G. T. Spriggs, past Grand Master for P.E.I., preached on the "Functions of an Orangeman", urging the members to "speak and live for the truth as revealed by Jesus Christ".

The outstanding matter before the two Lodges was the launching of an appeal to the public and the entire membership of the Orange Order, in this province and the Dominion for $30,000 to establish a Protestant orphanage in Quebec.

Members of Laurentian Lodge No. 943, L.O.B.A. exemplified the 1st degree before the L.O.B.A. Grand Lodge. Among distinguished visitors attending the meetings were the Deputy Grand Master of Ontario East, J. A. Corrigan; W. J. Armstrong, editor of The Sentinel; J. Hammond, representative of the insurance department of the Order.

W. J. Armstrong installed the officers of the Grand L.O.L. as follows: S. Holt, G.M. (for the third successive year); C. Bradley, D.G.M.; Rev. R. S. Smith, G. Chaplain; L. W. Janes, G. Sec.; L. Tomalty, G. Marshal; W. J. Cooper and W. H. Brady, G. Auditors; Rev. G. T. Spriggs, Dep. G. Chaplain for Argenteuil; N. Morrison, Dep. G. Lecturer.

Mrs. E. Erskine, past Grand Mistress, installed the officers of the Grand L.O.B.A. as follows: Mrs. Prouse, G. Mistress; Mrs. Ball, Dep. G.M.; Miss Stephens, G. Chaplain; Miss Helm, G. Sec.; Mrs. F. Howarth, G. Treas.; Mrs. S. Holt, Dep. G. Treas.

The next place of meeting will be Wakefield, Que.

Candid Humor

It is often claimed that the queer markings on a Chinese laundry ticket are supposed to be the Oriental's description of his customer, for purposes of identification; but it remained for one of our Lachute residents to be given one of the most amusing appellations we have yet heard of. This citizen, the distance of whose head from his feet is rather extreme, recently took a pair of his shoes to a local repair shop, on which to have some work done. He was asked by the young lady clerk, in the usual manner, for his name — which, incidentally, is somewhat difficult for some to pronounce or transcribe. Upon calling for his shoes later, the customer was amazed to find his "name" pencilled upon one of the soles as "giraffe anglais". Our lanky citizen, far from being offended, thoroughly enjoyed this joke on himself, and has had many a good laugh in repeating it to his friends. (In fact, he contributed this little narrative so that our readers may laugh, too.)

Red Cross Hears Outline for Local Disaster Preparedness and Relief

Procedures Decided Upon at Recent Meeting and Formation of Committee

The monthly meeting of Lachute Red Cross branch was held recently in the United Church hall, with Mr. J. A. Gordon, president, in the chair.

A communication was read from the Chamber of Commerce, signifying their willingness to co-operate in the Swimming and Water Safety project, in any way possible. It was decided that the Red Cross committee on this venture would confer with the Chamber's sports and recreation committee, to discuss plans.

A full report of the Red Cross campaign was also given; the total for peace time work in Canada, collected in the Lachute district, amounted to $2,801.06.

It was also reported, in connection with the Princess Alice Foundation Fund, that sums collected from all provinces on behalf of this project amounted to $51,056. The fund is to be used for training selected students in youth leadership, by means of $1,500 in yearly scholarships. Two such scholarships of $400 were awarded last year to 2nd year students (both girls) — one from Laval University, and one from the University of B.C. . . Owing to the great dearth of leaders for youth centres it was urged that this is a worthwhile subject for schools and colleges to interest their pupils in.

An account of the first meeting of the National Work Committee, held in Toronto and presided over by Dr. Routley, was read. Last shipments of this year's quota are to be ready by June 1. Next year's quota will be ready in the fall. Great need still exists in Europe, where so many hospitals were destroyed and their contents completely lost. The re-establishment of these hospitals is urgently needed for the benefit of the stricken populations.

Peace-time Health and Welfare is to be taken up as a prime interest of this post-war period. Many suggestions were brought forward for future activities in this branch — to be dealt with at the next meeting.

Report Meeting of D. P. R. Committee

A report was presented from Mrs. Georges H. Héon, on the initial meeting of the D.P.R. (Disaster Preparedness and Relief Committee) of the local Red Cross — held April 15 at the Health Unit. The report stated as follows:

Dr. Turcotte was appointed chairman, and Mrs. Héon secretary. The other members present were — Mrs. G. F. Calder, Mrs. Leonard Ayers, Messrs Geo. Y. Deacon and Albani Lamarche.

The chairman outlined the organization, functions and purpose of the Disaster Preparedness and Relief Committee, and after due discussion the following decisions were approved:

(a) In all cases where the D.P.R. facilities and help of the D.P.R. committee may be solicited or indicated, such emergency calls shall be directed to Mr. George Y. Deacon, phone 9, who had previously given assurance to the committee, that with his brigade of volunteers he was fully prepared for any emergency. Mr. Deacon also stated the committee could count on the full co-operation of the Boy Scouts and Mr. Deacon, in turn, will report directly to the Chairman.

(b) Mr. Albini Lamarche will act as the Committee's liaison officer with the Town authorities, and will further be responsible for the securing of suitable buildings and emergency shelters for homeless victims.

(c) Headquarters of the committee, where supplies are also stored, will be at the Health Unit, and a key to the supplies' room will be always available at the town hall.

(d) A sub-committee composed of Dr. L. Turcotte, Mrs. G. H. Héon, Mrs. G. F. Calder, Mrs. Leonard Ayers, was chosen to enrol and train volunteer D.P.R. personnel.

(e) The committee, till further notice, will hold regular meetings every three months.

(f) The committee suggests to Lachute Red Cross that full publicity be given on the formation, purposes and facilities of the D.P.R.

IN BROWNSBURG

The Lachute Strike

Events connected with the work stoppage at the Ayers Mills are followed with avid interest in Brownsburg. The "on again, off again" conflicts of expression voiced over the radio and through the press, allow wide latitude for rumors of what happened this morning or late last night — who was arrested and who released — with a rapidity little short of bewildering. There is little doubt that opinion is strongly in sympathy with the suffering employees, who now appear as pawns in a display of rival policies. The facts of the situation have become shrouded in a welter of side-issues having no true relation to the main theme. It is a strange fact that the more carefully and definitely a regimented propaganda, be it fact or fancy, is presented to the common people, the more likely those same people are to question its authenticity. Old customs, old shibboléths, die hard — so that the workers of Brownsburg find much to sympathize with in the position which the workers of Lachute now find themselves. Sympathy by itself makes a poor meal, but we have been informed that something more tangible has been considered if not decided.

Marian Congress

Very extensive preparations are being made to make the forthcoming Congress at Ottawa a magnificent and successful religious spectacle. During this week a replica of the congressional ceremonies is being performed in Brownsburg. Several additional priests are partaking in the rehearsals at the St. Louis de France Church, and thousands of the faithful flock to attend the various offices. A candle-light procession and midnight Mass concude the services Wednesday night.

The Retort Discomfitting

Last week the Right Hon. C. D. Howe (Minister of Reconstruction and Supply) had this to say, speaking in the House of Commons on a question of privilege: "I am reported (in Hansard) as having made a considerable speech on Wednesday last. On that day I was attending a meeting of the aviation conference in Montreal. I was not here. I did not make the speech, nor do I agree with the sentiments expressed therein." Later during the same sitting of the House, as reported in the same copy of Hansard, the Hon. J. J. McCann (Minister of National Revenue), referring to a speech delivered by the Hon. Wm. Earl Rowe, hon. member for Dufferin-Simcoe, expressed himself thus: "He too evidently thought he was at the circus, but not in the capacity of carrying water. In fact, he appeared to be the main spieler in front of the big tent, inside the main gate where they keep the elephants". . . Mr. Graydon interjecting, "Maybe that is why Hansard confused him with the minister of reconstruction."

Fatally Crushed By Farm Wagon

Verdict of accidental death was returned after a coroner's inquiry last Thursday in the case of Joseph Decoste, 65, who was found critically injured near his team and wagon on the Dunany highway the previous night, and died at the home of Eugene Beaudet nearby.

The man was discovered between 7 and 8 p.m. by the mail driver, Wesley Woods. Apparently he was driving home from Lachute to the farm of Edward Morrison, where he was engaged cutting wood. The man had toppled from the express wagon, which was loaded with hay and feed, and one wheel of the vehicle passed over his body, crushing his chest and causing internal haemorrhage.

Coroner Jules Lafleur, M.D., of Lachute, was informed that the mail driver with the help of a neighbor, took Descoste to the Beaudet home in a farm jeep. Eugene Beaudet then set out to Keith Morrison's, about a mile distant, to phone for help. Mrs Beaudet remained with the injured man, who died some time after.

Police Chief D. Villeneuve, of Lachute, assisted provincial authorities in their investigation of the mishap.

After travelling around Western Canada, one comes to the conclusion that Winnipeg is the jay-walking capital of the West. Kash.

Pamphlet Tells How Farmers Can Use DDT

As a result of exacting tests in the past few years by agricultural scientists they have found that DDT can be used effectually in the control of a wide range of agricultural insect pests. Recommendations for the use of DDT against these pests are given in a pamphlet written by W. A. Ross, Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The new insecticide in spray form is effective against leafhoppers, flea beetles, Colorado beetles and to some extent against aphids. DDT in dusts or sprays can be used with good effect against the various species of cabbage worms on early sweet corn for controlling the European corn borer. It must not, however, be used on cucumbers or squash, because it may injure the plant, and some varieties of tomatoes may be injured by DDT.

For some of the most injurious fruit insects, such as grape leafhoppers, the rose chafer on grapes, the codling moth, pear thrips and the potato leafhopper on apple nursery stock, there are specific recommendations on how to use DDT in dry or liquid sprays.

Several insect pests that attack ornamental shrubs and shade trees can be controlled with DDT, so, too, can several greenhouse insects.

The bulletin gives the formulations for the use of DDT in the form of either sprays or dusts. It is available by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Weedkiller 2,4-D in Vegetable Garden

Most gardeners know by now that the comparatively new weed killer known as 2,4-D kills many weeds effectively, particularly those of the broad leaved varieties such as plantains and dandelion. Less generally known, perhaps, is the fact that there may be a place for this new selective hormone spray in the vegetable garden.

Preliminary tests at the Dominion Experimental Station, Saanichton, B.C., in 1946 indicated that 2,4-D, if applied before the young vegetable seedlings show above ground will control some garden weeds in areas sown with the lower germinating vegetables as onions, leeks, or parsnips. Care, however, should be taken to insure that this 2,4-D pre-emergence spray does not come in contact with the vegetable known to be susceptible to the hormone spray.

Tests at Saanichton indicate that some vegetables such as beet carrots, dill, lettuce, peas, spinach and turnips are almost certainly killed or dwarfed by 2,4-D when applied just as they are coming through the ground, or two weeks later when in the early seedling stage. Other vegetables, however, such as leeks, onions, corn and to a lesser degree parsley and parsnips apparently are not affected by the application of 2,4-D when breaking through the ground, and only slightly inhibited when sprayed two weeks later.

Some weeds commonly found in vegetable crops, like Western Yellow Cress, go out like a light when sprayed with 2,4-D. Other weeds, however, such as pig weed and lamb's quarters are more persistent particularly if they have been allowed to become well established. Tests have shown that all weeds should be sprayed if possible when they are in the tender seedling stage, using 2,4-D at the concentrations recommended by the manufacturer and at the rate of one gallon per square rod. While spraying may not kill all the weeds in the vegetable garden, the careful use of 2,4-D will help to eliminate much of the drudgery of hand weeding and hoeing for those gardeners who are interested in weed control by chemical means.

Custom may lead a man into many serious errors, but it justifies none. — Fielding.

Tribal Rites as Seen by Traveler, Described to Club

Brownsburg — At the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary Club on May 1, members and guests enjoyed an extremely interesting talk by James Moore, of Aylmer. President Harris Sherwood was in the chair.

Mr. Moore narrated many of his experiences during nine years spent in South America, from Mexico to Colombia. As physical director of the Y.M.C.A. in the Republic of Panama he introduced basketball and also organized the Panama Olympic Team. In addition, during his sojourn in Central America he headed many expeditions into the interior under the sponsorship of the Rockefeller Foundation, which is making a study of Indian Diseases.

"It is not generally realized," said Mr. Moore, "that some considerable attention was given to the building of a canal between the Atlantic and Pacific through Nicaragua, as it possessed a natural chain of rivers and lakes for most of the distance." Just at the time the decision was being made as to the route of the canal, the country issued a stamp with a picture showing one of its large volcanoes. This fact was seized upon by the pro-Panama faction, who claimed that an area where volcanoes existed would not be a suitable one for an important United States canal. Peculiarly enough, a few days after the final decision was made, a severe volcanic eruption and earthquake resulted in damming up the river intended as the main course of the canal.

Mr. Moore also described the head-shrinking ritual by various tribes of Indians in the northern section of South America. At this particular time, he and his wife were given an opportunity by the Indians to be on hand when the ceremony was performed. The ritual was carried out by the chief medicine men of the tribes. A large circle was formed with the men on the inside, but the women, dogs, and visitors farthest away — that being the order of respect accorded these three groups. Mr. Moore mentioned before proceeding, that white men are considered by the natives to possess very little intelligence. The object of head shrinking is to extract the knowledge thought by the natives to be contained in the head, and transfer it to various members of the tribe. This is accomplished by the chief medicine men pouring hot sand into the partly hollowed head. After this, it is passed around the circle of men from hand to hand, and at each stage it is touched to the forehead of the tribesman holding it. On its return to the chief medicine man, the now cool sand is emptied and more hot sand is placed in the cavity. The rite is continued until the head is considerably reduced in size. The shrunken heads are not kept as trophies but are thrown to the dogs or children as playthings; to the Indians they are of no further value, as all the knowledge has been extracted by this fantastic ceremonial.

The speaker also mentioned that Central America possesses pyramids, a product of Mayan civilization, which are said to exceed in height those of Egypt.

Mr. Moore was introduced by Linton W. Armstrong and thanked by Meville Trickey.

Guests included John Roney and Major Parkes, from Aylmer, Que; Ray Davidson, Brownsburg; and J. G. Lamontagne, Lachute.

The Clean-Up . . Civic Pride Goes Active

CIVIC PRIDE finds abundant (if perhaps theoretical) expression in platform speeches and newspaper editorials — but this week Lachute may see it exemplified in a more practical form, in CIVIC ACTION. This community has never before had organized leadership in the Spring Clean-Up urge; now in conjunction with the current national campaign, our recently established Chamber of Commerce is showing Lachute the way to a brighter, more attractive town.

The Chamber's parade on Monday evening, inaugurating this drive, was an unqualified success. In this venture, too, the committee deserves commendation. The national organization of Chambers of Commerce prescribed ambitious plans for these opening parades in the various communities: the committee here, treading on new ground with little time for preparation, preferred to start on less pretentious lines, with a more reasonable confidence they would succeed. And the demonstration made a hit; merchants, car and truck owners co-operated wholeheartedly.

Right-thinking citizens are grateful for this impetus, and property-owners have caught the spirit of the thing, resolved to collaborate 100 per cent in this worthwhile effort. We now earnestly hope that the campaign, lasting until May 24, will receive the same cordial support as in the opening demonstration last Monday.

We Plow the Fields

THE RASP-VOICED crow and the ear-cocked red breast have a common bond these mornings — listening to spring's growing pains, and eyeing the man behind the plow.

They do not watch apprehensively. They fear little from the bent back, the black-loamed boots of the man. They care little whether the furrowing blade is drawn by dobbin or diesel.

Perhaps, though, they do fear for the man. Perhaps they sense the irony of barren fields, the spirit-scorching of dusty drought. . . Perhaps while watching the man overcome these handicaps with his implements, brawn and brain, they grow envious of his evolution.

Maybe so. But have they heard that famine and malnutrition still sweep the world? . . . Have they been told of a United Nations food report which said the world last year grew more wheat and rye than in the best pre-war years? . . . . Would they recall that world food experts long ago discovered that famine is not the result of the earth's shortcomings?

The earth, generally, is good, and yields much — so much that sometimes man must bury food in the sea. — But if the crow and the robin were told such things, surely they would weep in despair for humanity.

A Wichita, Kansas, university professor who has regained his sight after eighteen years of blindness, says he notices that the bodies of modern girls "don't protrude at all." That may be your opinion, professor, but you should see some of them in slacks.

Will life be any more pleasant when automobile salesmen start pestering us to buy new cars?

RAIL FENCES are giving way to woven wire and steel posts. They have served their purpose well through the long years since men and boys split the rails that marked the subjugation of land to the husbandman's purposes. Old, weather-grayed and splintery, they are memorials to the men of yesteryear who played their roles well in the nation's unfolding drama.

Educational Opportunity

DR. G. HALL, president-elect of the University of Western Ontario, in a recent address made some statements which many educationalists discreetly prefer to sidestep. Dr. Hall was bold enough to state this simple truth: It is "nonense" to think that there is equality of educational opportunity in Canada. University education, he declares, is not available to every bright boy or girl in the Dominion. He pointed out that students who reside in the immediate vicinity of a university can live at home and attend classes, while students from the smaller centres and rural districts have to find an extra four or five hundred dollars every year to pay for their room and board. The rural student, Dr. Hall claims, has to pay twice as much for university education.

It is often the case that many superior students can never get to university because of the cost of such education. Families in the lower income brackets cannot afford to give their children the benefits of higher education. This fact is borne out in a recent survey, which discloses that only 21 per cent of the superior students whose parents have incomes of less than $2,000 ever attend university. At the same time one hundred per cent of the superior students from the higher income brackets get to university.

Dr. Hall contends that every secondary school should be provided with five or six university entrance scholarships, large enough to provide for tuition fees at least. It is a suggestion to which educational authorities should give some thought. We must not neglect the minds of young Canadians. They are too valuable to the country's future. Every bright student should be given the opportunity to obtain a higher education.

SINCE THIS is the season of the year when grass is beginning to grow; and as people who live in corner lots are as hopeful as anyone else for a pleasant expanse of green lawn; mightn't it be wise to issue a warning to corner-cutting boys? Our suggestion is that teachers ask their scholars to keep to the sidewalks.

Just how the government proposes to balance temperance education with tremendous liquor profits, has not yet been revealed. "THE SPECKLED TROUT"

Based upon a picture painted especially for Carling's.

This is one of a series of illustrations on the subject of the Conservation of Canada's natural assets designed to emphasize the fact that the beauties of unspoiled nature that we enjoy today are a precious birthright which we must protect for tomorrow.

† COPYRIGHT BY CARLING'S, 1946

"A Beauty"

A swirl beneath the surface, a ripple where a moment before quiet water had mirrored the leaves above . . . And then—an explosion of iridescent beauty as the speckled trout leaps high in search of food.

Since the days of Izaak Walton the joys of angling have captured the hearts of many men, and we in Canada have been endowed with a stock of fighting fish unparalleled in the world. But by our very enthusiasm we have endangered the sport we love. Many waters which formerly teemed with fish are now barren. Many species have vanished entirely from their old haunts.

Our governments, both Provincial and Federal, have instituted restocking programmes, built fish hatcheries, and passed laws for the protection of game fish, but without wholehearted and active public support, mainly in the observance of daily catch limits, these measures will fail.

Conservation is not just a doctrine to be preached to hunters and fishermen. It is a vital part in the continuance of our national economy, and must, of necessity, fail if its measures do not receive the full support of all Canadian citizens.

during the building of the Wartime Housing Ltd. colony, the government through its agency commandeered a section of potentially profitable property already laid with water lines, paid for out of the loan obtained—without reimbursing the corporation, whose lines it took and whose facilities it utilized. Had those lines been laid in Chenierville, the section now in dispute, rather than in the property taken over by the government, this crux would not have arisen and the council would be an estimated $22,000 better off, financially.

It would take on a conservative estimate $75,000 to complete the facilities now required. The council is loath to go before the people for sanction of this amount, especially as the taxes for water are high and will remain so during amortization period of the loan; and further, the people who must be asked to vote for this sanction, include those who are at present supplied with water and paying those high taxes.

On the other side of the ledger are the petitioners, whose case deserves consideration and recognition. These people are without water or sewerage, in a congested soil which is a breeding ground for contagious disease. Some among them have built nice homes, modern residences worthy of a much better locality. They have fitted their homes with all the appliances of modern sanitation, awaiting feeder lines to supply the utilities. None has been provided. In their stead, the Board of Health doctors have condemned their homes as unsanitary — forbidden them to employ primitive means of sewage disposal such as septic tanks or dry toilets, such as their means might permit. They have informed them, in the interests of their health and the health of their children, that very little further time can be granted before condemning their homes and forcing them to move to a more sanitary locality. Under the power invested in them on behalf of the provincial government, they state that funds or loans can be obtained from or through the government at Quebec to rectify this unfortunate situation. . . .

There the matter stands. If the council apply for those funds to Quebec they forfeit whatever chance they now rightfully claim of redress from the Federal government; so between two stools someone will most likely fall to the ground.

Parking of Cars

Parking will henceforth be allowed only on one side of the street, throughout all Brownsburg. The place is getting so big that residents have difficulty learning the names of all the streets. A proposal to adopt the New York system of numbered avenues, and streets running at right angles, was postponed till a later session. The difficulty in adopting the suggestion seems to be that name plates have already been obtained and some erected.

Costly Lumber

The council received a new and reduced account for the lumber supplied by a local merchant for the floor of the municipal truck. Maybe controls were of some use, after all.

The Old Hen Gets In a Stew

Chicken has become a frequent "must" on Canadian menus. It is the most versatile of meats, and may be served with the simple economical meal or for "company" dinners. Chicken has few equals when it comes to delicious flavor and appetite appeal.

The time of year is almost at hand when the old birds will be culled from the chicken flocks. These birds may be used in several ways. They may be steamed, stewed, fricasséed or canned for later use.

These older birds are prepared as for roasting, but require a long, slow cooking, using moist heat to soften and make tender the tough connective tissue. Chickens cooked in this manner will lose some of their juice and flavor, but it is regained when the broth is served as gravy with the meat.

Fowl is usually cut into serving pieces before stewing and then placed in a kettle, half filled with lightly salted water. It should be simmered, covered, until the meat is tender. It should never boil. The pieces should be turned occasionally to ensure even cooking throughout. A tablespoon of vinegar added to the water helps to make the meat more tender. It is sometimes necessary to replenish the water during the cooking period. A young fowl will require from 2-3 hours to cook tender.

Fricasséeing is another method of cooking fowl. The bird may be cut into serving pieces, rolled in flour and browned on all sides in hot fat. Then simmered in a small quantity of water or tomato juice.

If stewed fowl is to be served cold, it should be allowed to cool for an hour or more in the broth —the meat will be more moist. Three to four cups of cooked meat will be obtained from a four to five pound chicken.

There are many ways in which the meat from stewed or steamed chicken may be used in appetizing combinations. The home economists at Ottawa suggest chicken shortcake, chicken pie, or chicken croquettes if you like it served hot. For those who like it cold, a chicken salad, sandwich or jellied aspic may be appealing.

Fricasséed Chicken with Sour Cream

4-lb. Chicken, cut into serving portions; 3 tablespoons vinegar, ½ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup fat, ½ cup chopped onion, ¼ cup chopped parsley or celery leaves, 1½ cups sour cream.

Rub chicken with vinegar and roll in mixture of flour, salt and pepper. Melt fat and brown chicken on all sides in hot fat. Place browned chicken in large casserole, add onions, celery leaves and cover with sour cream. Cook covered in a moderately slow oven 325°F. until tender, 2½ - 3 hours. Six servings.

Chicken Mousse

1½ Tablespoons granulated gelatine, 2 tablespoons cold water, 3 egg yolks, 1½ cups chicken broth, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon of pepper, 2 cups of cooked chicken chopped, ¼ cup chopped sweet pickles, ½ cup of heavy cream whipped.

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Beat egg yolks and add chicken broth. Cook in top of double boiler until mixture coats spoon. Add salt, pepper and soaked gelatine. Stir until dissolved. Cool mixture until partially set. Add chopped chicken, pickles and fold in the whipped cream. Pour into a greased mould and chill until firm. Unmould on bed of lettuce and garnish with sliced tomatoes, sliced hard cooked egg, watercress and radishes. Serve with mayonnaise. Six - eight servings.

Britons Becoming Coffee Drinkers

London (Reuters) — Britain is becoming a coffee drinking country, according to Dr. Edith Summerskill, Parliamentary Secretary to the Food Ministry.

Increase of the use of coffee since before the war has been three-fold, she told the House of Commons when asked to explain why coffee came under price control.

Footnote: Most Britons still boil grounds in an open pot with milk and water — and call it coffee.

Buddy Langille Wins Title For Bolodrome Alleys

MRS. STUART WILSON TAKES BOWLING HONORS IN LADIES' SECTION

Buddy Langille is the new bowling champ at the Bolodrome here, having defeated a field of 52 entrants in the 1947 singles tournament. Buddy for his nine strings rolled a total of 2187 pins, for a nice average of 243. His closest opponent was Julien Gauthier, last year's title holder, who lost to Buddy only the very last box after leading all through the tournaments. His grand total was 2182 pins — just five pins behind, and the same average of 243. Paul Desnoyers 221, Claude Paquette 217, Eug Lafortune 214 and Antonio Patry 212 were runners-up. The highest single was 356, rolled by Langille, and the highest triple 819, by Paquette.

Mrs. S. (Janet) Wilson won the singles championship for the ladies, with 1854 pins for a 206 average, closely followed by Norma Assaly who averaged 204 for her nine strings with a total of 1829 pins. The highest single of 290 was rolled by Therese Bernicquer and Helen Martin, and the high triple of 689 was rolled by Miss Assaly.

The Province of Quebec Bowling Championship for 1947 will start at the Bolodrome Saturday — in three events, singles, doubles and five-man team. The local boys will have strong opposition in the latest entries filed with Bert Giroux, tournament secretary. Among the Montreal teams, the Prince Rigaud League, one of the oldest in Montreal, is entering four teams. The National A.A.A. is another strong entry, while E. Spada, one of Canada's outstanding champions, is expected with his team this coming Sunday. Montebello, Hawkesbury and St. Jerome have over 75 entries. Among the best local entries in the five-man event, Jimmy Duncan and Julien Gauthier have two very strong quintets.

In the local leagues' play-offs, none has so far reached the finals. In the Commercial League, the Bombers are still engaged with the leaders Mutual Life, each having won two and drawn one in the 4-out-of-7 semi-finals. . . Albert Malaket, winner of the Section B, is waiting to meet the winners between Courtien Bakery and Patisserie Francaise — the latter now leading 2 games to 1.

In the Ladies' Commercial League the teams have just reached the semi-final, with Lachute Bakery engaging Ayers Ltd. No. 2, and Brownsburg High School meeting Patisserie Française.

In the Commercial Mixed League, Brownsburg Plastics are waiting to play the winners between National and the Employment Office — to be decided tonight.

In the Ladies' Lachute League, Nightingales are to meet the winners between Bluebirds and Canaries, the latter leading 2 to 1.

Ayers Ltd. Inter-Departmental League are expected to start their play-offs tomorrow night for the semi-final.

Knights of Columbus are engaging the Brownsburg Social Club in the final for the Service Clubs League.

The Dynamiters, piloted by Bert Rigg, are engaging the Hookers (R. Gravel) in their first game of a 2-out-of 3 series.

This is the last week to file entries for the Brownsburg Bowling Academy singles championships; many from Lachute have entered for this tournament.

Salesmanship, the "forgotten factor", is back again among the things that count. . Mr. Merchant, check up on your approach, in little details like sales-slips, statements, bill-heads, stationery. See The Watchman for fine printing.

Chamber Commerce Hears Projects Outlined; Charter Night and First General Meeting Since Inauguration

Group's Program Includes Many Worthwhile Plans Contributing to Civic Improvement

The first general meeting of Lachute Chamber of Commerce was held at the Civic Auditorium on Monday, when the official charter was presented and a solemn declaration given by the officers of the organization, elected on March 18 last. J. Albani Lamarche, town secretary-treasurer (representing Mayor Alex Bothwell) presented the charter to the president of the Chamber, Bertrand L'Heureux. Lachute Chamber of Commerce, the second bilingual Chamber in Canada, is now therefore a member of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

The executive for the present term took the oath of office before Mr. Lamarche; the officers are B. L'Heureux, president; André Lefèbvre, secretary; Georges Beaulieu, treas.; Stewart Jones, 1st vice-president; Laurent Lamarche, 2nd vice-president; James Lowe, J. B. Menard, Dr. R. A. Dumais, Linton W. Armstrong, Dr. M. Papineau and Walter Gordon, directors.

Speaker of the evening was Romeo Dufort, director of the French section of the field service department, Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Introduced by Philippe Valois, advocate, Mr. Dufort spoke of the importance of mass education on questions of national interest, of developing a better-informed public pinion, and of industrial development. Stewart Jones thanked the speaker.

Year's Program

Georges Beaulieu, as chairman of the program committee, outlined the organizational routine and certain projects planned for the year. Among the latter are the following ideas:

Eliminating interference in local radio reception.

Encouragement of home construction, in accordance with Government plans, to ease housing shortage in this community.

A program of industrial expansion.

To help reorganize the Lachute brass band.

To foster a school of music.

Organize a ski-club.

Recommend to town council verification of street numbers, clarifying of street names, etc.

Contribute to Fire Prevention campaign.

Organize a window-display competition among merchants.

Social Hygiene campaign, one week's duration.

Obtain agreement among stores on observance of statutory holidays.

Clean-Up and Embellishment Campaign, with prizes for merit among householders co-operating.

ACCLAMATIONS FOR ARUNDEL COUNCIL

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — Dr. R. B. Henry (mayor) and Councillors Ernest Swail, Hugh Boyd and Alfred Morrison were renominated Wednesday for a further term on the Arundel Council. There being no further nominations, they were elected to office by acclamation.

ALL QUIET ON LABOR FRONT

LEGAL BATTLES TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER LABOR CONFLICT

Far from embattled factory gates and the fervor of Sunday strike meetings (in the Courts at Montreal and St. Jerome, to be exact), the labor dispute at Ayers Limited has resolved itself into a phase of legal proceedings which promise to be complex and of long duration.

In the spotlight of these actions will be Mme Parent, Messrs. Rowley and Beaucage. The lesser lights — including Georges Bedard and Edouard Gauthier, officials of Local 164 United Textile Workers, now on bail — will also face trial, with others arrested in the recent hectic weeks. . Danger of any future disturbances here seems definitely outruled, since Noel Dorion, K.C., threatens to invoke the Riot Act if necessary.

Throughout the Province and the Dominion, Lachute has received unfavorable prominence. An international angle is now suggested by conferences in Montreal between Percy Bengrough, Elphege Beaudoin (high-up labor executives in Canada) and Frank Fenton, U.S. official of the A.F. of L. Anthony Valente, the Union's international president, has also protested to Ottawa and to the Canadian embassy at Washington against the detention of Union officials without bail.

On all these aspects the local public is well informed, through daily press and radio reports.

At the Ayers plant it is reported a 26-member organization, a representation along the lines of a works council, is functioning harmoniously between management and employees. With production in full swing and many applicants reported for jobs, it would seem that the "strike" is no longer a strike in the accepted meaning of the term. There are a few picketers on hand, but apparently no labor problem. As far as outsiders can discern, the dispute now hinges on the A.F. of L United Textile Workers' claim to existence here, and their authority (if any) as bargaining agent.

At Dominion Shuttle Company Ltd. the walk-out still includes a majority-count of the factory employees. The management stated this week they were "reorganizing" accordingly, to meet production needs in the plant.

Resigns as Municipal Secretary-Treasurer

It is learned that Edward M. Jones of Lachute, who among other offices has been serving as secretary-treasurer of the Township of Wentworth, has tendered his resignation from that position, effective June 1 next. His duties will be assumed by Roger Comtois, of the notarial firm of Valois & Comtois, Lachute.

CAR OVERTURNED OCCUPANTS UNHURT

On Route 8 between Grenville and Calumet, around four o'clock last Sunday afternoon, two passenger cars came into collision and one overturned completely, but by some freak of circumstance, none of the occupants received injury.

According to Patrolman Albert Legault, of Brownsburg, who was called to investigate — a car driven by Elie Cartner, of R.R. 1, Vankleek Hill, was passing an auto proceeding westward in the same direction, driven by Miss Flora Drouin, of Buckingham. The cars sideswiped, and Cartner's machine somersaulted to the roadside, landing with four wheels in the air. Neither the driver nor his passenger was hurt, but the auto was damaged to an estimate of $500.

Butter-Making And By-Products Described to Club

At the regular meeting of Lachute Lions Club, held in Desjardins Hotel Tuesday evening, an interesting talk was given by Lion Horace Lamarche on the operations of Lachute Creamery Ltd., of which firm he is the managing director. . . Following is the gist of Mr. Lamarche's address:

"In order to give some idea of the processing of milk, let us suppose that we take a can of milk to the creamery. The can is first emptied into a receiving vat, placed on a scale. The milk is weighed, then thoroughly stirred before taking the sample which will determine the butterfat content. The can itself is sent to the washer to be cleaned, sterilized, then returned to the farmer.

"Let us consider this sampling of milk — a matter which still causes us much worry. All milks, of course, do not contain the same percentage of fat, and when a decrease occurs for any reason, it never pleases the farmers. As it is impossible to prove authenticity of the result except when the test is made in front of the producer himself, patrons have to rely on the integrity of the Creamery to which their milk is shipped. The law forbids us to pay for milk on any other basis, and we do our utmost to be fair to everyone.

"After the milk is weighed, a weigh slip is given to the farmer. The milk is then pumped into a large 15,000 lb. vat, from where it passes by gravity through an air-tight separator, of a skimming capacity of 10,000 lbs. per hour. The cream goes in pasteurizers and the skim milk is pumped into vats in the Casein department.

"The cream is pasteurized to a temperature of 170°F., destroying all the germs, and is then cooled to a temperature of 50°F. to be churned.

"Our plant is equipped with three pasteurizers containing sufficient cream to churn 2,000 lbs. of butter at a time. Three churnings a day are made during the summer months. When butter is made, it is packed in boxes, and placed in the refrigerator to be cooled for cutting in one pound prints, and distributed to the grocers.

"The buttermilk coming from the churn is pumped into a vat in the drying department, dried in powder on drum dryers, and used for human consumption or poultry feed.

All Branches Represented at County W. Inst.

Annual Convention Attended by Over 100 Members

Welcome Innovation in the Forming of New French Speaking Group

The annual convention of Argenteuil Women's Institutes was held in Lachute High School on Saturday, with 102 members and many guests in attendance. Mrs. Robt. McFaul, the county president, presided.

The chairman welcomed two members of the "Cercle des Fermières", newly organized in Brownsburg. This branch, whose motto is "For Home and Farm", has now 125 members.

Mrs. Wm. Fletcher, of Brownsburg, presented the county organization with a gavel, painted in the W.I. colors. This had been made by Mr. Fletcher. A cordial vote of thanks was tendered.

Conveners' reports showed much work accomplished during the past year. A brief memorial service was conducted by Mrs. C. Baugh, and two minutes' silence was observed for six members who had passed on during the year.

Mrs. Geo. McGibbon, Junior W.I. supervisor, told of her work, and urged any branches with girls to try and interest them in the Junior W.I. Mrs. McGibbon also gave a report on the Princess Alice Foundation Fund, to be used to train youth leaders. She also extended best wishes of the convention to Miss W. Smillie, one of the young members, who is leaving shortly for Yorkshire, England.

Regret was felt that the provincial representative, Mrs. R. Thomson, of Abbottsford, was unable to be present. Miss E. Walker, Macdonald College demonstrator, gave interesting hints to "Make Your Dollar go Farther". She congratulated this county on having the largest membership in the province — Lachute being also the largest branch in the province. Miss Walker took as her topic, "Food, Clothing, Shelter — Operating, Development and Protection", and urged the budget plan. "Budgeting is a necessity", she said. "No government, no business man, tries to work without a budget. Let our budget manage our expenses, rather than let them run us and have nothing left but worries."

In a short address, the president emphasized that, although war is over, peace is a long way off. . . "Individual members have the virtues to bring about peace — be friendly, be strong, have faith and above all, courage." She was also pleased to announce that Mrs. Alfred Staniforth, of Arundel Branch, had been informed that her shopping bag had taken first prize in the Lady Tweedsmuir competition for the Province of Quebec. This bag was made from a jute potato sack and worked in colored wool. The committee have kept it to compete with exhibits from other provinces.

The president thanked the retiring officers for their loyal support in the past year.

The gathering was then favored with a piano selection by Miss Joan Percival, and a vocal solo by Miss Helen McFaul.

Hon. pres., Mrs. N. E. Smillie; pres., Mrs. Robt. McFaul; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. G. Leggett; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. D. J. Rodger.

Fair Work — Mrs. F. Barker.
Agriculture — Mrs. J. W. Maxwell.
Health & Welfare—Mrs. W. Seale.
Education — Mrs. Lemuel Wilson.
Home Economics—Mrs. H. Millar.
National and International Relations — Mrs. L. Hooker.
Publicity — Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh.

The resolutions committee then read the resolutions. (Through lack of space these are held over for publication in next issue.—Ed.)

Mayor A. Bothwell, of Lachute, was a dinner guest at the convention — for which the Lakefield branch were the hostesses, Lakefield having the largest percentage of members present.

Seek Rooms to Accommodate Visitors Here for Lachute Fair

HOME OWNERS ASKED TO CO-OPERATE BY NOTIFYING CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Final arrangements have been completed for the Lachute Chamber of Commerce to take charge of the billeting during Fair Week. Any householders in the town or surrounding area who have a spare room they would be willing to rent for one night or more during Fair Week, are requested to call J. B. Menard (telephone No. 106) and leave their names, addresses and such other information as may be required.

The public are invited to work with this organization, to attempt to fill a long-felt want in connection with the annual Spring Fair. Thousands of strangers will be visiting Lachute for this, the most important event of the year in Argenteuil County. Citizens can do much to make them welcome by assisting in finding accommodations, and there are many who can do their part by offering the use of a spare room.

Exhibition an Example of County Co-operation

May 21 (Special) — Very few communities have behind them such an outstanding record of county effort and co-operation as Argenteuil County, and now for the 121st time the district is readying itself for the annual Lachute Spring Fair.

Vigorous promotion, increased prize monies, stimulated interest in entries and competition, has inspired the Directors to predict: "The 1947 Show will exceed all records. We are particularly pleased that it will do so at this time, for it surely demonstrates the tremendous spirit of co-operation and well-being that exists in Argenteuil between manufacturers, farmers and others".

Livestock Entries Close Saturday, 24th

BUILDINGS HAVE BEEN REMODELED

Lachute Spring Fair will open June 11 with "everything clean and fresh" — according to Alex Bothwell, secretary-manager. A local contractor, Alcidas Laurin, has been working with a large crew of men remodeling the kitchen and lunch counter and providan emergency room for the Red Cross in case of accidents. A new barn for dairy cattle is under construction, as well as an additional building for the exhibits.

Mr. Bothwell adds — with some emphasis for the exhibitors concerned — that livestock entries close May 24, this coming Saturday.

BANK HOLD-UP STIRS SERENITY OF ST. ANDREWS VILLAGE; THUGS ESCAPE OVER COUNTRY ROADS

A bank hold-up created a stir in the placid community of St. Andrews East last Saturday noon. Just one minute before closing time, 12 o'clock, two bandits entered the Bank of Nova Scotia premises and, pointing revolvers at the manager and a lady assistant, took over the contents of the cashier's till, then ordered the manager and clerk into a back room, where they locked the door. The pair then escaped by the main entrance, their pockets bulging with a haul estimated around $2,000.

The bank manager, J. L. Duchastel, was at the cashier's desk. Miss I. M. Jardine, clerical assistant, was relieving from Montreal and had been only two days at the St. Andrews branch. There were no customers in the bank at the time. According to the staff the intruders, both wearing dark glasses, spoke in English but with a noticeable accent.

After complying with their commands, Mr. Duchastel lost no time in escaping by a rear door, and immediately raised the alarm at the Fournier store nearby. A team and wagon stood outside the store, and A. J. Fournier promptly had the vehicle turned to block the road. An automobile was also turned across the thoroughfare. By this time the bandits had reached their car and speeded westward, mounting the sidewalk to pass these obstacles. At Ladouceur's corner they headed in the direction of Lachute. According to subsequent reports from farmers, they were seen on the Beech Ridge road; it was even noted they took a blind turn, suggesting they were not thoroughly familiar with the road. There are several directions which they could have taken from this settlement to reach the neighboring highways.

Meanwhile Mr. Duchastel had communicated with W. M. Steeves, manager of the bank at Lachute, and within 10 minutes of the hold-up, Lachute town police and the detective squad at Ayers Limited were informed. Provincial Police officers, armed with a description of the pair, patrolled the neighborhood and mounted guard at the bridges. But apparently the bandits had a headstart which enabled them to make a clear get-away.

According to residents of the village, the two men were seen the previous evening in the tavern of a St. Andrews hotel. They were described as being about 25 years of age. It is also reported the auto license revealed they were in possession of a stolen car.

SHOP-LIFTER AT LACHUTE MILLS

At the Geo. Y. Deacon hardware store last Saturday morning a Lachute Mills woman was detained for questioning by the town police, the proprietor presenting both circumstantial and material evidence of shop-lifting. . . The woman, under suspicion at this store and other business places in the west end, was allegedly caught with the goods — including an electric hotplate, an electric iron and a light-bulb, which she had slipped from the counter into her shopping bag. No charge was pressed. It is reported the miscreant admitted her guilt and settlement was made out of court.

TRAIN WRECK AT GRENVILLE OBSTRUCTS RAIL TRAFFIC 24 HOURS; LIGHT TOLL OF INJURIES

Highest tally of the train-wreck victims at Grenville last Thursday night was a rumor of "nine persons killed". . . And those who viewed the resulting havoc (the spectators numbered many thousands from the surrounding countryside) might well have credited this heavy toll. Actually, however, there were no deaths, no critical injuries, so far as can be ascertained. Ten persons, including three members of the train crew, received hospital treatment at Hawkesbury. One of the vic- was from Lachute — Joseph Constantineau, of Foundry Street.

Shortly after 7.30 p.m. the west bound passenger train jumped the rails, at a spot a quarter-mile this side of Grenville station. As the locomotive plowed into the ties and tore the track into twisted ribbons, the tender and two cars, buckled up behind, while the two following passenger cars left the track. The five remaining coaches, including three sleeping cars assigned to pick up a gathering of conferees at Montebello, remained on the track.

The train was passing a switch at the Grenville siding when the derailment occurred, and it was stated the brakes had just been applied to halt the train at the station. The locomotive and tender came to rest on their side, almost at right angles to the track. The express car was also on its side, straddling the ditch some distance from the right-of-way, fortunately between two poles carrying communication wires. Down the slight embankment on the opposite side of the track, a combined mail and "smoking" coach was also on its side. The third and fourth cars were upright, though derailed, and throughout the train, with exception of the engine and express car, the electric lights remained illuminated after the crash.

It was reported that a blaze occurred in the express car but was quickly extinguished.

S. A. Quinn, conductor, was painfully hurt about the leg. R. M. Clay, baggageman, and J. A. Verner, trainman, were also injured. They were conveyed to Hawkesbury for hospital treatment, by taxis and cars waiting at the nearby station. Passengers also taken to hospital were Mrs. Laurence Lafleur and Miss Idola Quellion, both of Thurso, Que.; Miss Marion Lemay, Montreal; Maurice Giroux, Montebello, Que.; and Real Villemaire, Fassett, Que. besides the Lachute man, previously mentioned. Jos. Constantineau, well known section-foreman here, was returning to Buckingham after the holiday, to resume his job next day. He was in the mail-passenger coach, and suffered a torn scalp and dislocation of the neck. He returned immediately from hospital, but has been confined to his home since the accident.

Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, physicians and ambulances from the district hurried to the scene as soon as word of the accident was circulated in these parts.

Traffic on the north shore line was disrupted until the following evening. Wrecking crews, working all night and through Friday, had the track cleared and rails relaid for the evening trains passing 24 hours after the crash.

Local Oddfellow Grand Master of Provincial Lodge

At Quebec Grand Lodge sessions of the I.O.O.F., held at the Mount Royal Hotel last Friday and Saturday, W. K. McArthur, of Lachute was elected Provincial Grand Master — which may be considered a signal honor to a member of Laurentian Lodge 14 of this district.

In the Encampment branch of the Order, Walter Bain of Quebec City was elected Grand Chief Patriarch, and Miss Viola Noble, of Richmond, was named president of the Rebecca Assembly, which also held its annual sessions on this occasion.

Concluding the Grand Lodge and Rebecca Assembly on Saturday, there were 250 present at the closing banquet.

There were members attending these sessions from widely scattered parts, even as far distant as the Southern States. Those present from the Lachute body were—Messrs. W. K. McArthur, J. Cunningham, S. S. Campbell and Arthur J. Campbell.

Spring's Uncertain Progress

(Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — Spring advances slowly — two green steps forward, one frosty step backward. This week the toads are sheeping loudly, grosbeaks and other birds have followed the pioneering robins and starlings—while double windows and storm doors and being shed cautiously. The belated greenness of April is upon fields and lawns, but the white blossoms need more sunshine coaxing to make their Maytime dates. Dandelions nod to the belated narcissi and daffodils.

Settlement in N.S. Coal Strike

HERE at Gardner Pass on the highway from Sydney to Glace Bay, mining picketers block the passage of bootleg coal from the Glace Bay district to Sydney. Bootlegging of coal, that is private digging of coal in small and generally shallow mines has been permitted for private use and for hospitals and other institutions, but the miners have prevented its production for other sales. . . A settlement is in prospect as the Maritime coal strikers vote tomorrow in a referendum to accept or reject a compromise offer by the mine operators.

Subsidies Off Butter and Cheese but Returns to Producers Higher

In the House of Commons on April 30, the Right Hon. James G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, made the following statement with respect to prices of certain dairy products and eggs:

"In view of the fact that subsidies on butterfat used in the manufacture of creamery butter and on milk in the manufacture of Cheddar cheese will be discontinued, and that certain production costs, notably of feeds, have increased, I wish to announce at this time certain agreements that have been made that will affect returns to producers with respect to butter, cheese, evaporated milk and eggs.

Butter

"The Wartime Prices and Trade Board have increased the ceiling price on butter by ten cents per pound effective May 1.

"From January 1, 1944, to date, the subsidy paid to producers of milk for the manufacture of creamery butter has been on the basis of ten cents per pound butterfat, equivalent to 8½ cents per pound of butter. The new ceiling, therefore, not only compensates for discontinuance of this subsidy but also provides an extra 1½ cents per pound of butter.

"Another factor influencing returns to many producers of milk for butter production is an agreement recently negotiated with the British Ministry of Food for the sale of at least eight million pounds of roller skim-milk powder, at a price of 13½ cents per pound.

"It was announced some time ago that in the event of an increase in the ceiling price of butter, action would be taken to capture the increased inventory value of stocks of butter held at the time the ceiling was changed.

Cheese

"The cheese agreement with the Ministry of Food covering the production year beginning April 1, 1947, has been amended to incorporate the following prices for export cheese delivered F.O.B. factory shipping point or grading station shipping point:-

	Cents per pound
First Grade	25
Second Grade	24½
Third Grade	24

This new price of 25 cents per pound for First Grade cheese compares with 23.3 cents per pound which the Ministry of Food had previously agreed to pay.

"The returns from the 25 cent price provided under this amended 1947-48 contract represent an increase of 1.7 cents per pound of cheese above those available in the 1946-47 contract year from the 20 cents per pound price for cheese plus the subsidy of 30 cents per hundred pounds of milk used in the manufacture of Cheddar cheese.

Evaporated Milk

"The subsidy paid on milk used in the manufacture of evaporated milk was discontinued as of September 30, 1946. Effective October 1, the W.P.T.B. authorized an increase in the ceiling price of evaporated milk sold in Canada so that returns to producers would not be disturbed as a result of the discontinuance of the subsidy. The pack of milk (600,000 cases) for the Ministry of Food under the 1046-47 contract had already been completed by that date.

"With respect to the 1947-48 contract, the Ministry of Food has already agreed to purchase 600,000 cases of evaporated milk in the production year beginning April 1, 1947, at a price of $5.25 per case, basis f.o.b. ocean steamers Montreal, Vancouver or New Westminster or, in the event of shipment through some other port, f.o.r. the ports mentioned. This would give producers the same returns for milk as they received in the 1946-47 contract year when the Dominion Government paid a subsidy on milk used for this purpose.

"In view of the higher returns that have now been provided for cheese and other dairy products, negotiations are now being carried on with a view to amending the 1947-48 contract for evaporated milk at a price to be mutually agreed upon which will keep returns to producers of milk for this purpose in proper relationship with returns for other dairy products.

Eggs

"Prices for eggs under the British contract are to be advanced by 1½ cents per dozen. An additional increase of 1½ cents per dozen will be effective on fresh eggs purchased under the British contract for export in the shell from September, 1947, to January, 1948, inclusive.

"These adjustments have been concurred in by the Ministry of Food in order that egg production, and supplies to Britain, will not be curtailed as a result of recent advances in poultry feed costs or of further advances in feed prices which may occur when subsidies on feed grains are removed.

"Whether or not these adjustments will compensate in full for increases in feed prices which have taken place or may take place in the future the British have made it clear, that this is the limit to which they can go under the present contract.

Six Million Chicks Hatched in Province

On the first of May, certified and cooperative hatcheries of the Quebec Province reported that six million chicks — a million and a half more than last year's figures — had been hatched out to date; this is almost a 2% increase over 1946. Cooperative hatcheries produced 4,329,000 chicks, and private establishments 1,600,000. Total number of eggs incubated was 8,700,000. In view of the fact that hatcheries started operations one month earlier this year, it is foreseen that they will necessarily close earlier. It is expected that the 1946 level will be reached, i.e., 10 million chicks. The higher price of grains and mash was a disturbing factor with poultrymen, particularly around the Montreal district, but a reassuring note came with the recent announcement that higher export prices would stabilize this condition.

Turkey raising will also increase this year. Day-old turkeys are in great demand, and the Quebec hatcheries will not be able to supply requirements.

Arrangements Complete For Ottawa Exhibition

At the Central Canada Exhibition in Ottawa, from August 18 to 23 inclusive, hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of the finest livestock will be shown, and the value of agriculture and horticulture products will be high. These will be brought to the Exhibition by men and women engaged in the development of the science of agriculture within the great area served by the Exhibition.

In manufacturing and industrial exhibits, the value of the show itself will run into many thousands of dollars. More than 150 of the largest Canadian business houses will be represented in the big display.

To round out the organization there will be the educational, hobby and other competitive sections which have been set with a lavish hand by the directors and management.

The Grandstand Follies will be featured in the evening entertainments, with a wonderful display of fireworks. In the afternoon there will be a combination circus, rodeo, and vaudeville program. Goldman's internationally famous band will play every afternoon and evening, and the World of Mirth will bring the greatest collection of rides, shows and games ever seen at an Ottawa Exhibition.

As a novel attraction the Exhibition is giving $5,000.00 away in prizes to holders of advance tickets. Prizes will include two automobiles. Draw for the prizes will be made on the last night of the Exhibition.

Safekeeping for Valuables

Wills and Personal Valuables May Be Kept in a B of M Saftey Deposit Box

Fire and theft are a source of worry to those keeping valuable papers and possessions at home. Some people take certain precautions to guard against these menaces, but omit to safeguard against the danger of forgetfulness.

For memory is a tricky thing. Over the years, matters once in the foreground of the mind are gradually forgotten as those of the moment replace them. So, in the event of fire or disaster, or any other crisis, many families are unable to locate wills, family records and the securities provided for their support. Have you provided for the future security and comfort of your family by placing your valuables in a really safe place, such as a safety deposit box at the bank?

Discussing this matter of forgetfulness a few days ago, the local Bank of Montreal manager, Eric Hibbard, remarked on the truth of the old proverb, 'out of sight, out of mind'. "During the war years", he said, "many Lachute residents had to run the risks involved in home-safekeeping, when safety deposit boxes were unobtainable. But it is no longer necessary, for a new supply of boxes was received at the B of M office here a short time ago, and a few are still available for rental."

Mr. Hibbard pointed out that a B of M safety deposit box provided safekeeping requirements at a very low cost. He added that he would be glad to have those interested to drop in at the branch whenever convenient, as he would be only too pleased to help them make safekeeping arrangements best suited to their individual needs. The Lure of Food

IT'S GOOD NEWS for Canadians as well as visiting Americans that tourist officials are encouraging the production of better, more distinctively Canadian food in an effort to ensure that visitors will return another year.

With few exceptions, hotels and restaurants serving the tourist customer, are now producing good meals in clean surroundings, but when you've said that you've said everything. There's nothing Canadian about the food, nothing that will make the visitor's mouth water next winter and make him determined to come back.

The southerner is served the Ontario attempt at fried chicken, and the New Englander the Quebec version of deep apple pie. The meals are acceptable, filling and pleasant enough but the visitor retains no memory that will draw him along the same road next summer.

In Alberta they are doing something concrete about the matter. They have opened a competition, with $1,000 in prizes and medals, to find a recipe for a meal or single dish that will be as distinctively Albertan as the Calgary Stampede.

Tourist officials there hope others will emulate Mrs. Alice Brainard, postmistress in the little settlement of Brainard in Northern Alberta. Her meals are so well known that distinguished travellers come miles out of their way to sit at her table. Her pickled carrots and spiced pies have drawn vice-regal visitors far off their paths.

The raw material isn't lacking anywhere in Canada. The provinces have the necessary foodstuffs and the inherited cooking skill to produce dishes as good as any in the world. In the Maritimes they used to make a dish called salt cod and pork scraps, that still makes our mouth water. It's cheap, but tasty, and there's no reason why it couldn't be given a name of its own and become a regional trademark.

In Quebec they make the best pea soup in the world. In Ontario palate-tingling fresh-caught bass are handy to tourist resorts. Manitoba has its Winnipeg goldeye, and so on across the country.

There's no more to it than developing a good dish, choosing an appropriate name and spreading word that it can be served better here than anywhere in the world.

The tourists will come flocking. And, of course, we ourselves will hitch our chairs up to the table with new anticipation.

Seeding from the Air

A NEW development in agriculture is seen from recent reports which tell of areas being seeded from the air. In one instance, a British plane flew over fields which were too wet for ordinary machinery to work. Ninety acres of wheat were sown. In another instance, about 200 acres of a strip-mined coal field near Estevan, Sask., was seeded to sweet clover from the air, the job being completed in about ten minutes. The clover seed was poured from the side of the aircraft over the area, which was too wet to be seeded in the ordinary way.

It is not likely that every farmer will have an airplane to do his seeding, but it may come about that some air service will contract with individual farmers to do their seeding from planes. While such practice is said to be ten to twenty per cent more expensive than when normal methods are used, the amount of time saved may make it worthwhile.

WE THINK newspapers would be doing Barbara Ann Scott a great favor if they forgot about the incident of the automobile and left her alone for a while.

A Single Chief of Staff

MAJOR-GENERAL C. R. Pearkes, V.C., made a sound suggestion in the House of Commons the other day when he urged that Canada's three armed forces be placed under a single chief of staff, in order to achieve unification in carrying out a defence plan for the Dominion. Many will feel that the move should be made as soon as possible in order to streamline our defence set-up in keeping with modern warfare.

The success achieved by Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force (SHAEF) under General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, is ample evidence for the need of a single chief of staff. Supreme Headquarters forged the armies, navies and air forces of the allied nations into the unified striking force which brought victory. Gen. Eisenhower's staff included officers of all arms of the services, and by pooling their ideas and resources they were able to overcome the enemy. The lesson to be learned is obvious.

The great opposition against a single chief of staff, unfortunately, comes from top officers in the various services. They fear for their personal positions, fear that an officer from some other arm of the service might obtain superior rank. An army officer fears that he may have to take orders from an air force office and a naval officer fears he may have to submit to the wishes of an army office. Such an attitude, of course, is selfish and narrow-minded. It has no place in matters concerning our national safety. There must be a spirit of co-operation, a determination to do what is best for the country.

What Is "Inspired Democracy"?

THE WORD DEMOCRACY has suffered much discredit from two causes. First, it has been misused and twisted by extremists of right and left who have made it by turns a butt for their gibes and a cloak for their totalitarian aims. Second, it has sometimes stood for nothing much except inefficiency because we, who inherited the benefits of democracy, have failed to live in a way that makes democracy possible.

For democracy in its true sense can only be made up of those who deliberately prefer the good of the whole to their own selfishness. Its essence is not the wide sharing of privilege but the wide sharing of responsibility. The strength of democracy is thus the strength of human character. But the evidence of history teaches that, even at its best, human character is not enough.

And so today we must look beyond the purely human conception of democracy to the further vision of an inspired democracy in which every individual not only contributes his own best but is also instructed and guided by God.

Inspired democracy will not come about by the action of a few leaders appealing to the self-interest of the masses, playing down to human nature instead of pointing men to their true destiny. It can and will come to the leaders and to the millions of ordinary people and families through the new quality of life and the new teamwork which God gives to those who listen to Him and obey Him.

In an inspired democracy every individual enjoys to the full the "perfect freedom" of obedience to the still small voice of God — freedom to realize his highest ideals and the best that is in him. In an inspired democracy every individual, whatever his background or train power, has an equal chance of playing a decisive part. For everyone can listen to God. And everyone whose heart is willing can be used by God here and now in the remaking of the world.

Labor - Management

To hear some people talk, you would suppose that co-operation between labor and management is a revolutionary idea. Nonsense! For generations labor has had a part in management. Workmen have always shared the boss's troubles and helped him to meet competition. They have made suggestions to increase the efficiency of production, and the boss has helped them through periods of illness and hard times.

We are all stockholders in the business that pays our wages. If the business is losing money, salaries are cut, more work is loaded on fewer people, antiquated machinery is pushed a little harder. When the company is making money, everybody benefits. You can't separate the laborer from the investor. Both take hard knocks in times of depression and rejoice together in prosperity.

"BOYS"

After a baby has grown out of long clothes, after it has acquired freckles and so much dirt that well-meaning relatives do not care to kiss it between meals, it becomes a boy.

A boy is nature's protest to the scientific statement that there is no perpetual motion. He is a man, minus pride, pretence, greed, and about 110 pounds. When he grows up he will exchange romance, energy, bashfulness and warts for these possessions.

Boys are not ornamental; they are useful. Were it not for boys, the newspapers of the world would go undelivered and unread, and a thousand circus elephants would starve for the taste of a peanut. Boys are also useful in running errands. The zest with which a boy does an errand is only equalled by the eagerness with which the old fashioned clergyman approached the conclusion of his sermon. With the aid of five or six adults, a boy can readily do all the errands for a family of two.

The boy is a natural spectator; observing is his passion. He watches parades, fires, fights, ball games, dogs, ice wagons, hand organs and airplanes with the same fervor. But he will not watch the clock. The man who will invent the clock which will stand on its head and sing a song when it strikes the hour will confer a great boon on millions of families whose boys are forever getting home to lunch about suppertime — if then.

Boys are not popular except with parents, but they have many desirable possibilities. One of them is that they will grow up to be men some day. Another is their trustworthiness. You can rely absolutely on a boy if you know what to rely on. Trust him to get into trouble every day and he will never disappoint you.

Boys are abstemious, never eating except when awake. They are also very durable. This accounts for the fact that the world is still populous. A boy, if not washed too much and if kept in a cool, dry place for a while after each accident, will survive broken bones, fireworks, swimming holes, hornets, runaways, fist fights, pirate bands, Indian massacres and nine pieces of pie at a sitting. . . . If only some method of making a boy's clothes as durable as he is could be discovered, life would become more attractive for boy-growers.

1947 Tourist Trade May Create Record

Thousands of Inquiries Received by Government Travel Bureau

Ottawa (CP) — The land of "vacations unlimited", Canada this year looks forward to what Trade Minister James MacKinnon has termed the "greatest tourist influx in her history".

Last year 21,000,000 United States visitors spent more than $220,000,000 in the Dominion. This summer, if a magazine called Canada — Vacations Unlimited" and thousands of dollars spent on publicity do their work, even larger numbers of guests can be expected.

The magazine, a 50-page colorful booklet showing the Dominion's playgrounds and holiday facilities, has been issued by the federal government travel bureau under the supervision of its director, Leo Dolan.

Theme of the magazine is the Dominion's offer of "a welcome 4,000 miles long" from Atlantic to Pacific, from Maritime salmon streams to West Coast mountains.

On its pages are portrayed in unequalled beauty the colorful British Columbia flower gardens, Alberta mountain lakes and ranches, Saskatchewan's seas of waving wheat fields, Manitoba's inland fishing and untravelled north country, Ontario's forest camping grounds, Quebec's historic sites and river cruises and the Maritimes' ocean beaches.

There is information on how to enter the Dominion, what things visitors can take back with them and where they can make hotel reservations.

Tourist bureau officials say inquiries from all parts of the world have been received. In March as many as 3,000 letters a day poured into the bureau's offices in the trade department here. Still more have been arriving at various provincial government tourist information services.

The main bout — Right vs Wrong. Every other fight is secondary.

"Consumer Branch" Officially Closed

Montreal — Last week marked the official closing of the Consumer Branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, one of the most unusual organizations ever established and one which has, during the war years and since, played a vital part in maintaining the economic stability of Canada.

Known as the "nation's shoppers", these women watched prices and quality, warned against black markets, explained shortages, taught clothing conservation, gave voluntary help in the distribution of ration ration books, worked in housing registries which found accommodation for nearly 100,000 people, and perhaps most important of all, advised the Board in the formation of policy.

The present director of the Branch, Mrs. Rene de la Durantaye will continue for a further period to serve consumers generally as well as women's organizations.

An outstanding feature of the Consumer Branch voluntary organization has been the spirit of unity displayed throughout by the women, welcoming the opportunity of working together in a national cause. Of the 17,000 voluntary representatives, nearly 5,000 were French-speaking women.

Late Mrs. Frank Roe

The death occurred suddenly early Friday morning of Mrs. Frank Roe, the former Ada May Alice Logan, who spent her early childhood in this community and attended Lachute Academy.

Born in 1908 at Wanstead, Essex, England, she was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Logan, of this town. As a small child, she came to Lachute from England with her parents in 1910, and lived here until her marriage to Frank Roe, of Wendover, in 1931.

Left to mourn her passing are her husband and four children, George, Lucy, Catherine and Lotta, as well as her parents and three sisters, Grace, Jessie and Dorothy, of Lachute, and one brother, James C. Logan, Montreal.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon and was conducted by the Rev. Armitage, of the Rockland Baptist Church, of which Mrs. Roe was an adherent. The large number in attendance bespoke the esteem in which she was held in the community where she had lived since her marriage.

"The skim milk, which is now in the Casein Department, is precipitated by means of a secret process to extract the protein, which is commercially called Plastic Casein. The Casein in the vats forms a large quantity of small granulated particles mixed with the whey. The whole mixture is pumped into a rotary washer, 25 ft. long, surrounded with a very fine screen cloth. The whey passes through the screen and the fine particles of Casein stay in the rotary washer. A slope of one inch per foot gradually brings the Casein to sprinklers, which wash it thoroughly. The Casein drops into a box at the other end of the washer, and is immediately pressed and dried.

"This dried Casein forms a white, crispy material, which is ground in powder and shipped to plastics manufacturers.

"As our Creamery is the only one making Plastic Casein in this province, and as buttons are mostly all made from Plastic Casein — the buttons on your suit are doubtless made from milk produced by your local dairymen.

"In conclusion, the whey left after the Casein is extracted, is dried by the same process as the buttermilk, ground and used for livestock feed."

'UNESCO' Aims, Topic at W. Inst.

(A talk given by Mrs. George McGibbon, convener of National and International Relations, Lachute branch Women's Institute.)

Since wars begin in the minds of men, it is in the minds of men that the defences of peace must be constructed. . . . Peace must be founded, if it is NOT to fail, upon the intellectual and moral solidarity of mankind. — This is the constitution of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Canada belongs to UNESCO. Such a membership is a call to mature thinking, both nationally and internationally, and it is a big responsibility for a new country, only comparatively recently accorded national status. New countries are usually thought of as the home of new opportunities, but the people who live in them cannot avoid their ancient heritage of custom and prejudice, which keeps alive traditional concepts regarding race, religion, language and the proper ordering of society.

We have become "one world", in a way undreamed of by those who smiled at the imaginings of Jules Verne when he wrote "Around the World in Eighty Days", but it has all happened so fast that we accept the idea with our minds more than with our imagination. When Lindbergh flew the Atlantic 20 years ago, we were breathless at the speed made possible by the Air-Age. When Wendell Willkie went round the world in 160 hours of flying time, we glimpsed some of the less tangible implications of fast travel. It took an atomic bomb, however, to convince us that, from 1945 on, neither whistle-stop nor metropolis were safe from the will to destroy, but the horror of Hiroshima is apt to be forgotten in a sea of words about the causes of war.

It is easy to get lost in the maze of "symptoms" which we see around us — such as economic conflict, boundary disputes, armament races, and so called population pressures — but membership in UNESCO demands a will to action not only in helping the other fellow set his house in order, but in never losing sight of the war-provoking attitudes which can grow unorganized and unchecked in our own back yard. Acts of Parliament will not eliminate them; Royal Commissions will not control them.

A program of immunization is called for if we are to demonstrate a democratic way of life, which will make Canada's membership in UNESCO meaningful to harassed countries who wonder if the "long labor of liberty" is worthwhile.

You say, how does "immunization" work? . . . Social Security is one imperative. There must be security of employment at a living wage. There must be housing which is adequate and reasonably priced. There must be health services available to all, without intolerable expense. Education must be freed from the malnutrition which has limited the schools, crippled their program and sent many underpaid teachers off to other employment. Welfare services, which have been a sort of ambulance service for the unfortunate, must grow in an outward expression of the community's sense of responsibility for the people.

Only intelligent citizen-participation will bring this about. We must have a blue print of this good life — which is our goal, if we are to help war-torn nations neutralize the seeds of aggression and hostility and move toward a stable future.

Knowledge of the arts, crafts, literature and music of our fellow Canadians will not only help us to know them, but will make us better able to understand countries from which they came during the four hundred years which makes up the history of Canada.

Science can give us destruction, but unless it is integrated into the over-all pattern for the common good, it will not give us either Security or Salvation, no matter how fast jet-propelled planes fly, or how many people have refrigeration with the latest in quick-freezing units!

Intellectual co-operation which was to save the world in the 1920's petered out. We the people, have the right to demand that UNESCO shall not be allowed to peter out for lack either of spiritual or financial resources. We might demand the Canadian Government to establish a national commission, through which we can express our convictions, that the world of which we are a part must sow the seeds of peace in the minds of men, so that the oil fields and the atomic bombs cease to be the deciding factor.

We are apt to say, "Let George do it". There are many organizations (including our own) gnawing away at some aspects of the problem. . . . What are you doing to help UNESCO succeed? Is the price you are paying not a stingy rent for your place in the world, which at its worst is so much better than that which some of our neighbors occupy? . . . If you don't believe it, look at some of the pictures of Greek children.

What are the findings to date of UNESCO?

Many national organizations want to share in the furtherance of UNESCO, which is some contrast to the lack of interest in the Organization for International Intellectual Co-operation in the 1920's.

Even though enemy countries do not come under consideration for help, there are enormous problems involved in building, repairing and equipping school plants, and in rehabilitating educational personnel and pupils, especially in China and the countries of Eastern Europe.

The special committee in connection with rehabilitation and construction has an objective of $100,000,000 to be raised by voluntary subscription. They look to Canada for several of these millions. The Canadian Educational Association last year collected 10 tons of educational supplies through Canadian schools in response to an appeal from UNESCO. These were shipped to Europe and distributed through UNRRA. It is hoped also that Canada will help independently organized camps such as those of the International Y.M.C.A. in Poland last year.

Know Quebec Better....

Do you know Quebec? For example, do you know that, in Montreal and Quebec City, our Province has two of the largest seaports in Canada? Montreal, among the great ports of the world is second only to New York in capacity and equipment. Montreal's grain elevators can store some 15,162,000 bushels of grain—her cold storage warehouses offer nearly 5,000,000 cubic feet of space for meat and other perishable stocks. Recent figures show imports at Montreal valued annually at $442,436,323; at Quebec, $18,205,508; exports from Montreal at $90,457,156; from Quebec $19,306,398. Here we have another side of the busy life of our Province. Small wonder, then, that Quebec looms so large in the Canadian scheme of things. Pioneer province of our Canada, Quebec is rich in historical background, natural resources and industrial development—but, most of all, in the spirit of her people who have helped to build a nation which today has the greatest potential of any in the world.

UNESCO Subject of Women's Inst. Topic

Over half the world's people grow up illiterate. UNESCO's aim is to give "a minimum fundamental education to all persons". Research, experimentation and spread of information may prove useful guidance for Canada in the efforts to reduce the high rate of illiteracy among our Northern Indians and UNESCO will work closely with all other United Nations agencies, such as the World Health Organization, the Food and Agriculture Organization, and the International Labor Organization.

Other sections to be studied are libraries and museums, media of communication (press, radio, and films), natural sciences, social sciences, philosophy and humanistic studies and creative arts. Responsibility for their implementation was left in the hands of the Executive Committee of 18, under the chairmanship of Mr. Victor Doré (formerly Superintendent of Education for Quebec), now Canadian Ambassador to Belgium and the Secretariat in the Hotel Majestic, Paris, under the direction of Prof. Julian Huxley, the Director General. They will report to the next General Conference, to be held in Mexico City next fall.

The study of our prisons, jails, and industrial schools, would lead us to believe that in the way they are managed at present, they are as likely to offer instruction in criminality as they are to restore offenders to a useful way of life. Do you not think it social folly to take crime for granted, and to deal only with its end result — the criminal — without trying to reform him? You will agree that we must try to prevent offences against society, and the development of a delinquent group. What causes delinquents? you say. Poverty and economic insecurity, unemployment, sickness, poor housing, inadequate recreation, poor and insufficient education, lack of vocational guidance and training, family disharmony — these all breed delinquents.

The unfortunate thing is that those who are particularly interested in delinquency find that it calls for very much more than they can possibly undertake to set in motion. This gives them a great sense of frustration. So I think it is up to each organization to do its part — it may seem like a very small part, but we must look at it from an over-all viewpoint. I think you will agree that the penal reform outlined in the Archambault Report is not enough. . . . As of March 31, 1946, on the registers of our seven penitentiaries were 3,362 (3,310 men, 52 women) an increase of 233 over the preceding year; 143 had served overseas in World War II. Did you know that this cost $3,165,041 a year — or $2.73 a day for each inmate? The survey shows causes to be — defective family life, penal neglect, each of religious training, individual personal defects, and intemperance.

"Since wars begin in the minds of men it is in the minds of men that the defences of peace must be constructed. . . . Peace must be founded, if it is NOT to fail, upon the intellectual and moral solidarity of mankind." — This is the constitution of United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

In conclusion it is my opinion that a comparatively elementary education for all peoples, with a religious basis — if not more to be desired, is certainly much less dangerous to the community or the world at large than is the most advanced education divorced from all religion. Religion, in my point of view, is the only effectual restraint upon man's lower nature, upon the ruthless ambitions and the sadistic violence that prompt him to make might his right by waging wars of conquest.

Lest We Forget — Victoria the Good

Specially Contributed by Janet Pollock Graham

Victoria The Good — a name well earned by this gracious lady, who reigned longer than any other English sovereign — 64 years, from 1837 until her death in 1901 — and who had such a remarkable memory for faces and facts.

When a child out walking with her mother, they were caught in a shower of rain and went into a small cottage for shelter. A small boy, evidently resenting this visit from strangers, approached from a corner and struck the little Victoria a resounding whack on the back, which surprised and frightened her so that she burst into tears. The boy no doubt forgot this little happening in a few days, but not so Victoria, who reminded him of it many years later when he, a young man desirous of entering the priesthood, had to have her permission to do so. The story goes that the young Queen gave her permission with the added words that she thought him quite suitable for that work "seeing that he was so well versed in the laying-on of hands".

Another episode recalls a walk on the moors of Scotland when she was much older, and again a rain storm threatened. Going into a small cottage the Queen asked for the loan of an umbrella. The good wife not recognizing her royal visitor, with the usual caution attributed to Scotch people, presented her with an old one, with the remark that she "wouldna gie her her best one, for she kenned fine that she wouldna get it back again".

The late Queen Victoria had a good mother, who saw that her daughter had an education befitting her expected station in life, while at the same time making no allusion to those expectations, until Victoria was a young lady; then a sheet of paper was placed in her history book enumerating the kings and queens of the past, and the present king, her uncle, with her own name inscribed below his.

Studying the paper gravely for a moment she raised her eyes to the face of her governess and said, "I will be a good queen" . . . and all through the years that followed, she kept her word, so that Tennyson wrote of her, "She wrought her people lasting good"; also "Her court was pure; her life serene" — which could not be said of many of the earlier rulers of England.

The young Queen, it is told, proposed to her future husband and proffered him a rose. He cut a slit in his tight uniform and placed the rose inside, over his heart, as a proof of his delighted acceptance.

Twelfth Night cakes were ordered every year by the ton from a famous confectionery shop in Berkley Square, London, but wedding cakes seemed to be quite unknown until Queen Victoria set the fashion by ordering one for her wedding. So great was the public curiosity concerning this cake, that more than 21,000 people passed through the Berkley Square premises to view it.

Five years after ascending the throne, in 1842, the young Queen had her first glimpse of Scotland, from the deck of the royal yacht, "The Royal George", and no one could have foreseen at that time, that this would be the beginning of a hundred years of "Highland Seasons".

The Queen's visit to the capital was an outstanding success, and her tour through the Central Highlands a memorable one. From this, her first experience with Scotland and the Scots, dated Her Majesty's attachment to that land which she so gladly visited during her lengthy reign. The Royal Family still make Balmoral Castle their Royal residence.

It was Queen Victoria who first established the Balmoral Highlanders, and it was at Balmoral Castle that she first received the news of the fall of Sebastopol, just three days after she had taken possession of the large, new castle.

Queen Victoria had a wonderful knowledge of piping and pipe music which she evidently handed down to her grandson, the present Duke of Windsor, who has been known to slip away from a shooting party for an afternoon with the pipes.

This momentous first visit to Scotland ended with a ball, the Queen leading off, gowned in a dress of palest pink, trimmed with Brussels' lace and quiltings of ribbon. Her partner, Lord Willoughby, was a gallant figure in full regalia, with his bonnet of dark blue velvet and chieftain's badge of eagle's feathers, fastened with his emblems, a sprig of holly in diamonds.

That was the memory carried away by the Queen and her husband, when, next morning, they turned South to begin their homeward journey. That, and the thought of lovely dawns and soft green days, of barbaric wildness and true loyalty.

During the reign of this good Queen, the British Empire grew from a population of barely two hundred millions to something over five hundred million souls, and a great many eventful happenings are down on record as belonging to her reign. . . Australia became famous because of the discovery of gold in 1851. . . . India, that hotbed of unrest, was handed over to the Crown in 1858 by the British East India Company, which was something like the Hudson Bay Company. . . . The beginning of steamship traffic from all over the world was noted in 1853, by the arrival of the steamship Genova, which was the first one to ascend the St. Lawrence, coming to Montreal. . . . The British Government (on behalf of Canada) paid the Hudson Bay Co. £300,000 for the territory that is now Manitoba, Alberta and the Territories, which has been considered the most profitable real estate deal in Empire history.

But Victoria's reign was not taken up entirely with business deals or social functions. This good Queen found time for religious meditation as well, and it is stated that after attending a divine service in St. Paul's Cathedral the late Queen asked her chaplain "if one could be absolutely sure in this life of eternal safety". His answer was that he knew of "no way one could be absolutely sure".

This was published in the Court News and read by a humble minister, who, after much thought and prayer, sent a note to the Queen which read: "To Her Gracious Majesty, our beloved Queen Victoria, from one of her humble subjects: With trembling hands, but heart-filled love, and because I know that we can be absolutely sure even now of our eternal life in the Home that Jesus went to prepare for us, may I ask Your Most Gracious Majesty to read the following passages of Scripture: John III, 16: Romans X, 9-10". After further remarks the minister signed his name "John Townsend".

In about two weeks a modest-looking envelope was received with the following message — "To John Townsend: Your letter received, and in reply, would state

The picture of precise and exacting manufacture, with engine tolerances often closer than in airplane practice—bodies floated on new Silent Zone mountings for tautness and quiet—everything from rear-axle strut rods to water pump seal all tidily buttoned up to give you the best to be had today.

You don't have to be told how eyes follow you when you're behind this wheel. You can sample for yourself the great ease of this gallant traveller, the comfort, the room, the thrill-of-a-lifetime lift that answers every nudge of your foot on the treadle.

So many people want Buick, and only Buick, that the demand continues far ahead of our ability to deliver. But this big, brawny beauty deserves your last ounce of patience . . . so while you wait, depend on your GM Dealer's expert service to keep your present car on the road.

Parents' Night At High School

What has come to be an annual event and known as "Parents' Night" was attended at Lachute High School on Friday evening by over 250 fathers and mothers of pupils, keenly interested in the work of their children, their teachers and the class rooms in which a considerable part of their early life is spent.

A tour of inspection was made of all the grades, each teacher being present to meet the parents and discuss both individual cases of pupils and the general course of instruction.

In the lower grades particularly, it was pleasing to note the many and varied drawings so neatly and cleverly done by the pupils under capable guidance of their teachers, whose work among the younger children is truly one of love. Ingenuity was quite evident and who can tell, perhaps from these small endeavors great artistic talent may develop.

The manual training room was quite interesting, and a number of useful articles made by the younger boys were on exhibit. A splendid collection of tools are available and to have the privilege of learning the proper method of their use, should be keenly appreciated.

Parents were seen examining the books of their own children and talking to the different teachers relative to their work. Some, in fact many, had never met before with Johnny's, Mary's or Bobby's instructor; this gave them an opportunity to become acquainted.

In all it was a most profitable and pleasant evening, and principal and teachers are to be congratulated on the splendid work being accomplished.

Our only criticism is this: there should be a parents' night at the beginning of the school term in order to become better acquainted and thereby create a more sympathetic mutual understanding.

Novel W.I. Program In Historical Vein

By District Correspondent and W. I. Publicity Convener

Arundel — The monthly meeting of Arundel Women's Institute was held Wednesday evening, May 14; 27 members were present, and six guests. The president, Mrs. Gordon Cooke, occupied the chair.

A motion was carried regarding purchase of cups and saucers for use of the branch.

A letter was read from the committee of the Lady Tweedsmuir Competition addressed to Mrs. Alfred Staniforth, informing her that she had been awarded first prize for the Province of Quebec for her entry of a shopping bag; the bag was now being placed in competition against entries from other provinces.

During the evening a pretty coat pin, donated by Mrs. E. A. Bulley, was raffled, and the proceeds donated to purchase of the cups and saucers. The pin was won by Mrs. E. Smillie.

A report on current events was read by Mrs. Homer Cooke.

The convener of National and International Relations, Mrs. Ella Wilfong, then presented a mock radio play. This dealt with the history of Argenteuil, from the year 1682, depicting the re-appearance of a long-dead great-grandmother to her great-granddaughter. It told of the vicissitudes of the early settlers, in both serious and humorous vein, touching on Lachute, Brownsburg, Dalesville, Lost River and, finally, Arundel.

The program was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, as a number among the audience were decendants of the pioneers mentioned.

Those taking part were — Great-grandmother, Mrs.. Frank Davis; Great-granddaughter, Mrs. E. Graham; Narrator, Mrs. Ella Wilfong. Incidental music was arranged by Mrs. E. A. Bulley, who was at the piano. A vote of thanks was tendered the artists by Mrs. Douglas Cooke.

The members had as guests on this occasion — Mrs. E. Smillie, past-president, and Mrs. Robert McFaul, president, of the County Women's Institute, each of whom gave a short talk and conveyed best wishes from the W.I. sister branches. Refreshments were then served in conclusion.

Victoria the Good

that I have carefully and prayerfully read the portions of Scripture referred to. I believe in the finished work of Christ for me, and trust by God's grace to meet you in that home of which He said, 'I go to prepare a place for you.' (Signed) Victoria Guelph."

There is preserved at Windsor Castle, which is the oldest of the still inhabited castles, a nest of frosted silver, composed of hundreds of silver twigs, leaves, scraps of heather, each little fragment being perfectly made and finished. This nest had been a gift to the Queen from the Czar Alexander of Russia and at the time of its arrival it had contained three pearls of exactly the same size and lustre.

Whether Scott (of Scrapbook fame) had any items regarding gifts sent her from the Usurper Theodore of Abyssinia or not, is not known, but in one of his Scrapbook items of 1935 we note a picture of the afore-mentioned gentleman with hair waved on top in lengthwise ribs, a bandeau and long, flowing ringlets. Below this picture is the message that Queen Victoria spurned the offers of this gentleman, and continuing: "The Emperor became so officious because he was ignored, that a British Expedition entered Ethiopia and overthrew him in 1868."

An age-old legend concerning the filling of a spring-fed bath pool states that when this pool fills with water a member of the royal family will die. This spring is reputed to have filled before the death of the Prince Consort, Albert, husband of Queen Victoria, and of Queen Victoria herself and the Duke of Clarence, first son of King Edward VII; also when King George V died. Three days after his death the water vanished and cattle were grazing there once more.

One part of the late Queen's will affecting the present day, was the disposal of the famous Koh-i-noor diamond. This she willed not to the future Kings, but to their consorts, because on its presentation to her by the East India Company, she had studied its history and decided that no harm would come to the crown of England if ever the stone was lost by a woman. For this reason she decreed that no English King should ever wear it.

Although Victoria the Good has been many years in the tomb of the Kings and Queens of England, the influence of the Victorian Age is still felt, and to it, no doubt, are due the many good qualities in our present ruler.

SERVING CANADIANS C-I-L CANADIAN INDUSTRIES LIMITED THROUGH CHEMISTRY

"Chemistry? IT DOESN'T MEAN A THING TO ME!"

IF YOU WERE a farmer it might seem that way at first glance. But take another look!

Those fine crops, which mean so much to Canada's health and economy, often depend upon chemical fertilizers. Weed and pest destroyers, orchard sprays too, are but a few of the services that chemical research extends to agriculture.

Through good times and bad, the chemical industry plows a straight furrow, ever moving forward to create better things for farm, industry and home. Look to chemistry with confidence for a finer future . . . and to the C-I-L oval symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For instance:

HERBATE

AMONG the many contributions of chemistry to agriculture and horticulture is the killer, "Herbate" that eliminates mustard-weed, dandelions, plantain and other weeds without harming grain or grass. It is a product of Canadian Industries Limited, Head Office, P.O. Box 10, Montreal.

Canning Time Is Extra Sugar Time

Every ration book holder will have more sugar this year because syrups and commercially canned fruits are no longer rationed. The homemaker who does little canning of fruit will find that she may buy her supply of canned fruit and have more sugar on hand for other uses. The woman who prefers to can her own fruit will use her sugar for that purpose and perhaps supplement her regular sugar supply with syrup. Also for variety she may use some commercially canned fruits which were not plentiful at the fresh state.

Five canning coupons become valid in May, some of which will take care of the first fruit, rhubarb. Although rhubarb is often canned without sugar, the home economists at Ottawa say that a little sugar gives better results, in color and flavor.

They recommend using a medium syrup, 1 cup sugar to 1 cup water. The rhubarb should be thoroughly washed, then cut in 1-inch pieces. The cold pack method is preferred for rhubarb. Pack the jars, cover with boiling syrup leaving a headspace of half an inch. Process in the boiling water bath — pint sealers 10 minutes, quart sealers 15 minutes. If an oven with automatic heat control is used, pints are processed 20 minutes and quarts 25 minutes.

The use of tin cans for rhubarb is not as satisfactory as sealers; only enamel tins should be used.

Rhubarb Conserve

14 Cups rhubarb (4 lbs., cut ½" pieces, 3 cups raisins, 7 cups sugar, juice of 2 oranges, rind of 2 oranges thinly sliced, 1 cup of walnuts.

Combine rhubarb, raisins, sugar, orange rind and juice. Let stand ½ hour. Bring to boil and boil uncovered, 40 minutes, stirring frequently. Add walnuts, coarsely chopped, and boil to jam stage — about 5 minutes. Pour into hot, sterilized jars. Cool and seal. Yield: about 12 cups.

Rhubarb Cream

4 Cups diced raw rhubarb, 3 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 2 egg whites, 2 tablespoons sugar.

Mix diced rhubarb, flour, salt and ½ cup sugar. Let stand one hour then cook over hot water for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Beat egg yolk until light. Pour rhubarb sauce over egg yolk stirring meanwhile, then return to double boiler. Cook 3 minutes. Fold in meringue made with stiffly beaten egg whites and 2 tablespoons sugar. Pour into sherbet glasses. Chill. Six servings.

RECIPE

Add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 tsp. sugar to 1 c. lukewarm water. Stir and let stand 10 minutes. Scald 1 c. milk, add 5 tbs. sugar; add 2 tsp. salt and cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast mixture. Add 3 c. sifted flour and beat until perfectly smooth. Add 4 tbs. melted shortening and 3 c. more sifted flour, or enough to make easily handled dough. Knead well. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. Punch dough down in bowl and let rise again in warm place until nearly doubled in bulk, about 40 min. When light, roll out into rectangular sheet ½" thick. Brush with melted butter or shortening; cut into strips 1½" wide. Pile 7 strips together; cut into piece 1" wide. Place inch-side up in greased muffin pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light, about 1 hour. Bake in 400°F. oven for 20 minutes.

my Husband asked my choice

...and I said CHEVROLET

"Why was Chevrolet my choice? Because, like most women, when I shop my one idea is to get the most value for my money—and Chevrolet is the car that gives you just that. As far as beauty, comfort, and all-round quality are concerned, Chevrolet is way up there with the big cars. Yet when it comes to price—well, the price is so much lower it's hardly believable. And another thing I like—the upkeep cost won't strain our family budget! Yes, my choice was Chevrolet, and my husband says I couldn't have chosen better.

Big-Car value in small details, too! Most Chevrolet models have retractive assist straps, ventilating rear-quarter windows, ash receiver set into the top of the instrument panel, and either one or two in the rear passenger compartment.

Team Match at Wrestling Friday

George Brown and Jean-Louis Renaud were the star performers in last Friday's wrestling at the Auditorium. Renaud, a newcomer here, angular in physique compared with Brown, won the plaudits of the crowd — while Brown, a self-appointed desperado, played the villain to perfection. The latter won the first fall, employing most of the felonious tactics in the repertoire of matmen. . . The crowd howled with glee when, two or three seconds after the opening bell, Renaud floored his opponent with a drop-kick and held him shoulders down for the count. . . . The finale called for something spectacular, and the concluding round was drama packed. Kid Lyons, referee, went into active service for a really killing climax. Brown, in the heat of battle dumped his opponent out of the ring; then by way of evening scores with Lyons, he hurled the meddling referee after Renaud on the floor. At this stage—like the home-town boy who redeemed the widow's mortgage — the champion came passing by, in the person of Marcel Ouimet (who had staged his performance in a previous bout and changed to outdoor clothes). Hearing something of the uproar as he passed the ring, the champion hurdled the ropes and floored the ruffian Brown. Renaud and the referee having meanwhile revived their spirits, both clambered onto the canvas , and Lyons proclaimed the Slim Man victor of the fray. It was a good performance, and the fans roared their approval.

Georges Deparoy was villain in the supporting bout with Champion Marcel Ouimet. Each man triumphed for one fall, and in the final Ouimet applied the arm torture, to which Deparoy declined to submit (despite near-supplications of Kid Lyons, down on his knees). Deparoy rallied from the ordeal and ungratefully threw Lyons over the ropes. (It was quite a strenuous evening for the Kid !) The referee however, came back to raise the Champion's hand in triumph.

Leo Gravel was manager and master of ceremonies. Leo Clouette of Montreal, the promoter of these weekly programs, announced a team match for this coming Friday.

53rd Anniversary Celebrated at Weir

(Our District Correspondent)

Weir, Que.,—On Saturday evening, May 17, a celebration was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Craig in honor of the 53rd wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Williams. There are 56 members of the family, including grandchildren and great grandchildren, and 40 of these were able to be present at the gathering.

One of the grandsons, Wendell MacLean, aged 13, accompanied by a friend Hugh Wilson, arrived from Montreal and provided entertainment for the evening, playing old Scotch selections on the bagpipes; they also piped the 'bridal' party into the house upon their arrival.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Williams were escorted into a room prettily decorated with white streamers, and in the centre of which was a large hamper of groceries and a sum of money. These were then presented by Mrs. W. H. Williams on behalf of the family, and the guests joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows". Mrs. R. Williams expressed thanks for the gift, and for the extreme pleasure of this occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams received many congratulations and good wishes, also a cablegram from England. They were mentioned as the longest-married couple among anniversaries noted on the "Time Was" program, Station CJAD. They also received a lovely bouquet of spring flowers, by the evening train.

Good wishes of this community go out to Mr. and Mrs. Williams for many more happy anniversaries.

Rotary Members Attend Verdun Charter Night

Sam Ross Organizer and First President of New Branch

Brownsburg — The Verdun Rotary Club last Thursday evening received its charter in the Rotary International from District Governor Harry J. Yoder, of Watertown, N.Y., and many gifts from other clubs in District 170.

Sponsored by the Rotary Club of Montreal, the new club has 25 members, with Sam Ross as president. Mr. Ross, well known in this district, was primarily responsible for founding the Rotary Club here and was its first president.

Over 200 people attended the dinner in the LaSalle Hall, including delegations from Montreal, Westmount, Montreal - Westward, Brownsburg, St. Jerome, Valleyfield, Brockville, Hawkesbury and Watertown, N.Y.

Mayor Edward Wilson welcomed the establishment of a Rotary Club in Verdun, declaring that it was an indication that the city was growing up, having four service clubs now established — which meant a lot of people in the city doing good work for the benefit of the whole community.

Mr. Lachance, of the Montreal Rotary extension committee and chairman of the evening, told of the progress made by Rotary in Quebec, and of the desire of the French-Canadian people to share in the effort to promote unity and good-will among all races and religions.

C. M. Hodgdon, president of the Montreal club, wished the new branch success, and pointed out that if the four objects of Rotarianism were properly applied, the club would be of distinct benefit. The greatest expansion of Rotary within the past two years had been in Quebec Province, which indicated the desire of the individual to live in harmony with his neighbors. "We do not claim that Rotary is a substitute for religion, but every Rotarian should be faithful to the religion which is his choice," said Mr. Hodgdon.

Dist. Governor Yoder said that where the spirit of Rotary existed there was liberty, for it set them free from the fetters of prejudice and linked all together in understanding and brotherhood. Co-operation and leadership, personal development of service, were the principles which indicated the Rotary spirit.

Mr. Ross, who received the charter, thanked the District Governor for coming to Verdun to present it.

W. S. Emery, governor-elect for the 170th District, also expressed his congratulations.

Protests Wanton Killing of Birds At Lake Louisa

TO THE EDITOR

Montreal, May 26, 1947

Editor, The Watchman.

Dear Sir:

Your interest in all things pertaining to the welfare of your district is well known. It is for this reason that I write to you and your paper.

While at Lake Louisa I was surprised and disgusted to see young men and boys shooting down birds and small animals for the mere pleasure (?) of killing them. One little song bird dropped near my car.

Surely something is wrong with the home, school and church training that does not in some way teach boys and young people generally to love animals. I am told that ammunition is very cheap in Lachute and Brownsburg. Even if this is true these "children", for they can be nothing more, mentally at least, could find some form of target practice that would not kill the song birds and small animals that add so much to the pleasures of Lake Louisa.

Perhaps the Service Clubs of Lachute and Brownsburg could institute a campaign that would have for its objective a definition of sportsmanship and common decency. Such an effort would prevent the complete murder of all the small life around this beautiful lake.

— Yours respectfully,

Jean Martin

Urge Attendance Church Services Month of June

At a recent meeting of the Argenteuil Protestant Ministerial Association, a resolution was passed which solicits the accord of local churches in the general observance of June as a "church-going month". It is asked by the secretary of the Association, the Rev. Chas. Maclean, that this appeal be presented by fellow-ministers before their congregations, with their personal comment and emphasis. Following is the resolution passed:

"Resolved that: We members of the Argenteuil Protestant Ministerial Association join with the ministers all over Canada in urging the entire membership of our Protestant congregations to observe the month of June as a 'Church-Going Month'. We hereby ask all in our constituency to attend their own church each Sunday, thus speaking to all on behalf of our faith in Jesus Christ as the One Mediator between man and God."

Ayrshire Annual Heifer Calf Sale Average $129 Paid

Perhaps on account of the late season, with the farming community taking advantage of a rare sunny day — a rather small crowd of buyers turned up at the third annual heifer calf sale and show at the Lachute Exhibition Grounds last Saturday.

An innovation at this event was the classing of the heifer calves in the morning.

Auctioneer Ray Demers, from Lennoxville, did an excellent job, and created two records. The average last year was approximately $94 on 40 head of cattle; — this year under adverse conditions the average price was $129.60 and a new top price was paid for an animal consigned by J. H. Black, well-known Ayrshire breeder, and president of Lachute Fair. This animal was bought by Walker Gordon Laboratories, of Charles River, Mass., for $430.

Three bulls were bought by — Theo Sauvé, St. Andrews East, for $260; W. Harkness, Huntingdon, $130; and Delmar Copeland; Lachute, $100.

Harry Hurley, Vankleek Hill, paid $127, $102.50, $75 and $122.50 for four heifers. Allan MacDonald, Maxville, bought three head for $135, $127.50 and $125, respectively.

F. O. Peterson, of Lachute, bought four head, for $155, $80, $75, and $69. George Henderson, of Pointe Fortune, paid prices of $137.50 and $75, while Ben Hammond, Lachute, paid $140 and $127.50.

Delmar Copeland, Lachute, bid $65 for a heifer; D. E. F. Watts, St. Eustache, $105; E. W. Rodger, Lachute $152.50; Allan Rodger, Lachute, $95; S. Thompson, Martintown, $162.50; Theo Murdoch $100; and F. A. Hungerbuhler, Carillon, $90.

Stewart Walker and Theo Murdoch acted on the selection committee, and the quality of animals was considered superior to those consigned to the sale of 1946.

Impressions of Mexico Narrated To W.I. Group

VISITOR IMPRESSED BY DEEP CONTRASTS OF SOUTHERN COUNTRY

Contrasts in Mexico — which is made up of 28 States, two Territories and a Federal District — become apparent from the moment you enter the country, stated Mrs. Franco Consiglio of Montreal, addressing a recent gathering of the Lachute W.I. Study Group. Mrs. Consiglio had just returned from an extended trip to Mexico.

High mountains and deep valleys dot the countryside. . . . Contrasts were provided by the palatial homes of the wealthy and the stark sordidness of the hovels of the poor, said the speaker — remarking that the dull adobe huts of the peons, gaily planted with flowers, presented a colorful background to apparently colorless lives.

Dress also provided comparisons: the beautifully tailored, stylish costumes of the modern Mexican woman, and the shapeless dress of the more primitive barefooted type. This latter always tops her costume with a "rebosa", which in the daytime serves as a cradle for the inevitable baby and at night is worn as a shawl.

Men's dress also presented contrasts: the serape and sombrero of the peon, and the well-cut clothes of the city dweller.

'47 Grads Feted At High School Anuual Banquet

Toasts Sponsored by Youthful Orators at Social Function

With the assistance of Miss G. Styles, Household Science teacher, the pupils of Grades IX and X assumed full responsibility for the event. The tables were attractively prepared and the lunch room was tastefully decorated.

There were 34 members of the graduating class, and among the invited guests were members of the local School Board, the Central School Board, Mr. George Y. Deacon, member of the Protestant Committee, with their wives, and the school teaching staff.

Grant Riddell ably filled the role of toast master. Mr. F. H. J. Royal, principal, proposed the toast to the graduating class, and Donald Wilson, president of the Student's Council, responded. The toast to the school was ably presented by Miss Olive Trayers and replied to by Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, chairman of the local School Board. Miss Betty Brown proposed the toast to the guests, and Mr. Angus Taylor replied.

Mr. Dennis Staniforth, principal of the Brownsburg Consolidated School, was guest speaker. He dealt with many of the broader aspects of school life, especially those outside the regular curriculum. Eleven years ago, he recalled, the members of this graduating class had taken their first big step, when they began their life at school. Now, reaching a further turning point in their lives, they had arrived at the end of their school days and were about to venture into the world. He stressed the fact that school life, regardless of what is learned in the classroom, fills no small part in the molding of personal character and leaves indelible impressions for a lifetime. Mr. Staniforth observed that, while so many pupils feel they heartily "dislike" school — when the time comes to leave, the majority are convinced they have really enjoyed the experience and associations, although they did not realize it at the time.

Donald Hooper ably thanked the speaker. During the remainder of the evening dancing was enjoyed in the music room, which had been elaborately decorated to suit the occasion.

FUNERAL HELD OF 6-YEAR-OLD BOY, HIGHWAY VICTIM

At the early age of six years, eight months, Charles O. H. Baldwin, the son of Mrs. Rene Laurin, formerly of Lachute, met his death by accident recently at Papineauville. The fatality occurred May 19, near the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Laurin, while the youngster was riding his tricycle. It is reported the child was hit by a truck and instantly killed.

The funeral was held last Wednesday from St. George's Church, Brownsburg, conducted by the Rev. C. R. Lang, and the remains were laid to rest in the Brownsburg section of Lachute Cemetery. There were many beautiful flowers in mute sympathy to the bereaved parents.

Correspondent Views Surface Hazards of District Highways

"In Brownsburg"

Specially Contributed

Isolated

The many people in Brownsburg who provide themselves with a car and all the expense that such provision entails, are constantly wrestling with a question of what road they shall select for their Sunday's spin or evening's run — for, no matter whither they turn, in addition to the normal hazard of automobile driving, they also run the risk of smashing their cars and endangering their lives on what a benign administration has been pleased to call "roads". There are four roads leading from Brownsburg for any one of which "you pays your money and you takes your choice". The Lachute road is an example of what roads are in most other places, but in this case it is an enticement to destruction on the streets of Lachute. If you do succeed in manouevering past the holes on Main Street, you meet the pitfalls of the St. Jerome highway (I guess it's called) or the equally uncertain venture of No. 8. The road to St. Philippe is like a map of the British possessions, only the holes are unavoidable and not colored red. What we call the "Quarry road" is like what you would expect a quarry road to be, except that the quarry is much nearer to Brownsburg and right along the road surface. Then, of course, we have Route 31. Someone writing to the newspapers called it Rut 31. Perhaps that describes it as well as any other designation.

No Wonder!

An automobile owned by a man named Desforges, used as a taxi, smashed into a bridge just outside the village during the week. It's a miracle how the occupants escaped serious injury, as both the car and the bridge were badly damaged.

Clean-Up . . .

Collect and dispose of any old rags, waste paper or other junk which may be lying around. Basements, attics, cupboards and storerooms are ideal places for storing things, but sometimes they become breeding places for mice, rats and disease-bearing vermin. Clean out these spots and dispose of unwanted junk through the local salvage committee, or send it to the town dump.

Paint-Up . . .

A good coat of paint will improve the appearance of your home and protect walls, floors and machinery. Paint is one of the most effective stimulants for better housekeeping.

Plant-Up . . .

Flowers play an important part in civic beautification. Flowers should be planted whenever possible to brighten up the dull spots. Lawns and hedges should be trimmed.

During the Canadian Beautification Campaign national and local business men are combining with the Junior Chambers of Commerce to present the slogans — Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Plant-Up, and Light-Up as guides to action.

Brownsb'g Legion Keenly Active

Brownsburg — During the past months, Brownsburg Branch of the Canadian Legion has acquired a new spirit of enthusiasm and fellowship which has been especially noticeable in the increasing attendance at each meeting, and participation by most members in every discussion.

The desire to attend as many meetings as possible recently resulted in a proposal and adoption that two meetings be held each month in order that members who work on shifts may attend at least one meeting each month. True, the fishing season is on and Spring planting is at its peak, but there are very few who do not circle the second and fourth Tuesday of each month on their calendar, and reserve those nights for both educational and recreational purposes.

From these meetings have come many sound suggestions which have the ultimate thought of both aiding the War Memorial Fund and keeping the members together. Results of the suggestions put into practice have been gratifying to those who have worked hard to make them successful.

At the present time the Legion has initiated a subscription drive in aid of the War Memorial Fund which will result in the holder of a lucky number becoming the proud owner of a 1947 model General Electric refrigerator; and the amount subscribed to date has placed this fund several steps nearer to its ultimate goal.

Housing Program For Town Site at Mountain View

A general contracting firm, the Tower Company Ltd. — with offices at Bethany St., Lachute, and Montreal — is undertaking a housing program at the Mountain View town site, off the Brownsburg Road. The excavating and preliminary work is already in progress.

According to George Jacobsen, an official of the company, this development will comprise a number of houses designed by a well-known Montreal architect in co-operation with a consulting engineer. Hardwood floors, modern bathrooms, rockwool insulation and Johns-Manville shingles are features incorporated in these homes, which will be "priced as low as possible to provide much needed housing in this town". The houses are to be built under the National Housing Act, and are Government approved.

Mr. Jacobsen adds that his company (successor to Precision-Built Homes Ltd. in Lachute) has put up buildings all over Canada during the war years. Manager at the Bethany Street office is Jean Belanger.

Review of W. Inst. Meetings for May

Arundel. — Mrs. R. McFaul, county-president, and Mrs. N. E. Smillie, hon. president, visited this branch for their May meeting.

Brownsburg had an attendance of 30 members. Plans were made for a card party. Mr. Julian Rowan gave a talk on "Plastics in the Kitchen", illustrated with many articles made in plastics. Mrs. J. B. Frances was presented with a W. I. pin and Miss W. Smillie with a silver rose bowl. Both these members are leaving for other parts.

Frontier branch had 18 members present. A fruit basket and "get well" cards were sent to sick members. A taffy party was held in aid of the funds. A box was sent overseas.

Jerusalem - Bethany meeting was attended by 15 members. The roll-call was a hint on removal of stains. The Home Economics convener had as her guest speaker Mrs. Geo. McGibbon; the topic was "The March of Dames". Mrs. McGibbon also had a display of handicraft. Two young men of the community, recently married, were remembered by this branch.

Lachute branch meeting was attended by 33 members. The ladies were urged to get their Fair exhibits ready. Mrs. Geo. McGibbon spoke on "Canada and UNESCO. A demonstration was given on appliqué, smocking and diamond socks. At the Study Group films were shown by Food Lockers Ltd.

Lakefield had 11 members present. Plans were made for catering at the annual convention in Lachute. The Blue Cross plan was under discussion.

Morin Heights had 22 members and one visitor. Plans were made for the convention in Lachute. Another "military whist" was planned. Two parcels were sent overseas. Squares were brought for a quilt to be made and raffled. Mrs. Wm. Doherty, Agriculture convener, read an interesting paper on the care of house plants, hyacinth bulbs and cactus seedlings.

Mille Isles had seven members and one visitor. The new Blue Cross plans were discussed. $2 was realized from a sale of bulbs. Plans were made to hold a card party in July.

Pioneer branch had 18 members, one new member and two visitors. The roll-call was to name the "national flower" of a province. The members exchanged plants and Sunshine bags were distributed. The sum of $5 was voted to the Red Cross Campaign and $5 to Fair work. An article was read on the merits of different flower varieties, and an address on vegetable gardening was given by Mr. E. H. Peters, of Lachute High School. Gifts were brought for an overseas parcel.

Upper Lachute - East End had 14 members and five guests; $10 was donated to the Children's Memorial Hospital. The members discussed means of raising money for the funds. Two new members were welcomed. The convener of Education had as her guest speaker Mrs. Frank Black, of Montreal, who described her trip to California last winter.

Preview Suggests Optimism Well Founded

The annual Lachute Spring Fair, to be held June 11 - 12 - 13 - 14, promises to maintain the high standard which has been established over the past few years. According to Alex Bothwell, the secretary manager, the entries in live stock and poultry closed Saturday, May 24, with a very heavy showing in all sections — most particularly in the Dairy Cattle, some classes having as many as 30 entries.

One new feature on Saturday, June 14, will be the Junior events for boys and girls. The Federal Government has provided over $150 to be offered in prizes for a boys' and girls' judging competition.

Horse racing will be a highlight on the last three days of the Fair, and the Midway will be in operation all four days.

Judges

Light Horses — Dr. J. Bovaird, London, Ont.

Holsteins — Eladio Susaeta, Chili.

Beef Cattle — Prof. L. H. Hamilton, Macdonald College.

Dairy Shorthorns — Prof. L. H. Hamilton, Macdonald College.

120 Exhibitors Entered

A list of exhibitors, furnished by the secretary, shows a total of 120 — comparable to the showing of last year's list. Newcomers noted among these livestock fanciers include: Cyril and Clifford Caperon, St. Eugene, Ont.; G. P. Cains & Son, Bainsville, Ont.; Paul Coallier, Montreal; Claude and Mrs. DeAngelis, Montreal; Mme L. A. D. Duhamel, St. Eustache; Roland Pigeon, Vercheres, Que.; A. B. Weber, Kitchener, Ont.

Every provision has been made to assure that the 121st annual Lachute Spring Fair will be an outstanding success.

* * *

"The test of a community is how well it can put over a big project against circumstances. We have had the weather against us — and other circumstances in Lachute which have been far from beneficial — yet we are not swerving from our determination to beat all the old records", states W. M. Cottingham, an active committeeman in the Fair preparations.

Formation of a committee to find rooms for visitors — the increase of dining room accommodation on the grounds and better restaurant facilities in town — larger prize monies — an increased number of classes — improvement in the accommodation of horses and stock — all these are factors contributing to the optimism of the directors.

Most active in the advance organization of the show have been Gilbert E. Arnold, James MacKimmie, Stuart Armstrong, Mayor A. Bothwell, Clement Tremblay, W. M. Cottingham, and of course J. H. Black, the active and enthusiastic president.

"Provided we are favored with good weather, we think that the all-time high attendance of 19,000 will be broken this year", said Mr. Black.

Terms Royal Winter Fair "Show Window for Canada's Agriculture"

Some valuable suggestions as to the real place which should be held by the Royal Winter Fair in Canadian and international affairs were made recently by Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director, Experimental Farms Service, at the Royal Winter Fair annual meeting in Toronto. The Royal, he said, was without doubt the great show window for Canada's agriculture and came at a season of the year when it was a "culmination" exhibition. That meant that the county and district, regional and Championship, Grade A and Grade B, and some of the other winter fairs had already been held, and it was only logical that the real top winners came to the Royal to obtain supreme honors at this, the greatest of Canada's agricultural shows.

But the Royal Winter Fair was more than that. It was international, and American winners of all classes of live stock and agricultural products should be encouraged to prove their worth at this, the greatest and most comprehensive fair of the Continent. It was more comprehensive than other great American shows.

Although the Royal was Canada's great show window and was comprehensive, Dr. Archibald doubted whether it had reached the limits in either of those points. Canada produced as fine foodstuffs as any country. Was that fact pointed out to Canadians or visitors? Canadian grains won championships at Chicago or other shows with ease. Why were the wheat kings not crowned at the Royal instead of Chicago? That applied to oats, barley, peas, soybeans, flax, and many other crops, including Canadian grass and clover seeds.

Again, the excellent show of fruit which was put on at the 1946 Royal by some of the more progressive growers of Ontario was appreciated. But if the Royal is a National Show, why were the other big producing provinces not stimulated to use every means at their disposal to sell their surplus goods in Canada and on the export market to make an adequate display of their products in competition?

But the Royal Show should not be constituted purely as a producers' show. It is also a consumers' show, and for lack of space, equipment and the like, that point was very often forgotten.

How useful it would be if there could be in each section of a big consumers' show, regular demonstrations as to the sources of various cuts of meat and of all the phases mentioned. One would like to think that the Royal would be the one place at which it could clearly be demonstrated that consumers and producers alike appreciated the value of agriculture to the great country of Canada. A truly great Royal of the future must be a great educational institution. It can be international only if truly built first as a national show.

There's a purpose back of Pontiac!

First of all, it is designed to give you fine performance — really fine performance — performance that will give you a thrill every time you take the wheel. This applies to the engine, to the car's roominess and comfort, to its roadability and handling ease.

Yet — Pontiac is also designed to give you economy — to operate inexpensively — to be easy on service — and to last a long, long time. In short, Pontiac is designed to give complete satisfaction — at the lowest possible cost.

The stack of orders piled up for the new Pontiac are gratifying testimonials to the quality and beauty of this finest of the famous Silver Streaks. Unfortunately, so many orders also mean that many who choose Pontiac must wait. So if your car-wise head and heart say 'Pontiac' . . . your present car will give you better, safer service while you wait if you have it checked regularly by a General Motors dealer.

Censorship of Books

IT IS UNFORTUNATE that many present-day authors seem to think it necessary to play up sex and to introduce into their books descriptions bordering on the obscene. And while it is obvious that such books are written to satisfy a popular demand, it would be a welcome change if authors were to take it upon themselves to write with a more wholesome outlook.

This increasing output of salacious literature is prompting a certain section of the public to agitate for a board of censors to pass on all books before publication, in the same way movies are passed before being shown to the public. And while we sympathize with the people urging such a move, we are against this sort of censorship. Obscenity is not an absolute term, the same all times for all people. A censorship board would be harmful to literature as a whole, and would have a tendency to curb free expression. Any ban imposed on a book would only arouse curiosity and tempt people to try and get a copy, when otherwise they probably would never read it.

But there is such a thing as good taste, and many present-day books are not in that category. The challenge, we believe, is up to the authors. They must guard against obscenity and offensive literature, even though it may mean reduced sales.

Social Significance of Queueing

HOSPITALITY as a social grace requires a good deal of understanding, perhaps even some unconscious psychoanalysis — since basically it is the art of making the newcomer feel at home.

The vistas opened are endless. For an artist a word on the latest showings, for a toper a brimming cup, for a housewife a query about soap or maple syrup.

The thought arises whether we are being proper hosts to those 47,000 British war-wives our boys brought home. What do they miss that they had at home? It could be that disordered mobbing of our street-cars and the maddening bargain-counter crush inspires a nostalgic twinge in those who knew the patient hours of the queue.

At Berwick-on-Tweed, 50 British housewives have formed the Sausage Queueing Club. Its outings and socials will keep alive friendships formed in six years of standing quietly in mist-soaked line for bread-crumbs in a casing. And there was the studious London lady who learned by rote the whole of Miss Rosetti's "Goblin Market" when queueing for tomatoes last summer.

It may be that an important aspect of home-management is being ignored as economists and politicians argue over the relaxation of controls on a lengthening list of home commodities. Do vanishing queues mark a loss of opportunity for day-to-day feminine contacts or threaten a diminution of literary thought? The social consequences should not be underestimated.

WHEN IT COMES to frank advertising, take this one of a notary public in the Alaska Highway News: "Get your will made now. Don't wait until you're dead. Your son, your daughter, your wife, in fact your whole damn family will curse you if you don't."

Confusion About Victoria Day

IN A WESTERN Ontario town — remarks the Ottawa Farm Journal — the council solemnly proclaimed May 24 to be Victoria Day and ordered its observance as a public holiday. That is like a town council ordering that Christmas shall be observed on December 25 — continues the editorial.

In Quebec there is some confusion because, it appears, a provincial statute about public holidays makes no mention of Victoria Day. But no more than an Ontario town council, can a province abolish or confirm Victoria Day, because Victoria Day was proclaimed and named by an Act of Parliament many years ago and stands as law unless it is changed or repealed by Parliament.

There is confusion too about the name — observes the Journal. Many insist upon calling May 24 "Empire Day", but it is no more Empire Day than it is Thanksgiving or Dominion Day. Empire Day is not the name of any national holiday in Canada. Where observed it is provincial, and in Ontario is no more than a day specified by the Department of Education when, in the discretion of school boards and principals, patriotic exercises may be held in the schools. That and nothing more is Empire Day.

These facts have been stressed in other years, but error persits. To many people May 24 is just another holiday and just as pleasant by one name as another.

Not Anxious to Work

THE GENERAL lack of desire to work has been commented upon frequently, but the employment officer of a local industry tells of two recent examples which he encountered.

A husky looking young man was being interviewed after applying for a job at this factory. After telling where he worked before, he was asked why he had left his former employment to which his reply was that he "wanted a rest". "When did he leave?" He didn't remember. "How much was he paid?" He didn't remember.

He then volunteered the information that he was only interested in a job where he could sit down and didn't have much to do.

The second applicant brought a friend with him, and wanted to see the job before taking it. After looking at it, he said "Can't you find someone else to do the job?" His companion explained, "He's lazy, you know."

Such examples would have been incredible a few years ago, but since Unemployment Insurance has come into the picture, they are fairly common.

— Granby Leader-Mail

SPEAKING at the University of New Brunswick recently, Lord Beaverbrook revealed that Churchill's first wartime visit to the United States was made in a submarine, and that during a greater part of the voyage the undersea craft was exposed to attack from German planes. It brings to light another instance of Churchill's great personal courage, and his complete disregard for his own safety.

The Country Newspaper

Specially Contributed

When I was a little boy I remember being thoughtfully interested in an analogy which was used by a preacher to illustrate the loving care with which our Holy Mother the Church watches over our life and guides the journey which takes us to our destiny. She meets us when we enter this world a puny weakling, and shields and protects us till we wearily give up the ghost, after which she presides at the final obsequies and leaves us at the grave. . . . Later on in life while I supped at the fountain of learning the same analogy was expounded to convey the indebtedness which we owe the medical profession, whose interest in our progress through life begins where we begin and ends where we end. My mentor was of course, a disciple of Hipprocrates. . . . Now that I have had time to reflect on the aptness and adaptability of life to subordinate all things to its use and well-being, I wonder if "the country newspaper" cannot claim the self-same analogy as portraying the position it occupies in recording the story as it unfolds day by day.

I have read that "only in its columns do the ordinary event and the ordinary individual attain the stature of news". In this bewildering masquerade of life it is the standard or symbol of democracy — democracy which we all claim to love and which so many of us endanger. The printed word is a power which has changed the fate of nations, and like the Church and the Doctor, takes a benevolent interest in the destiny of each member of its community.

The country editor's readers know him personally, which can be an advantage or otherwise; and although the days have passed for the editor who exchanges subscriptions for a cord of wood or a quarter of beef, he does not feel under any compulsion to write something nice about the "party" or the town commissioners unless their action warrants it. The "country newspaper" is usually a one-man proposition, so far as ownership or direction goes, and even under the shelter of the political machine it is to their credit that so many of them use their opportunity to further the interest and good of the community. The individuality of the country press is reflected in the editorial, or should be. Its independence gives it a pungency which commands respect. To the editorial desk comes a greater cross-section of current opinion than can be obtained by any service or survey of institutes or polls. The country editor gets to know human nature pretty well, and he soon recognizes that it mills about the same grade as it does in the halls of the mighty. This fact has become recognized by the great metropolitan editors as a drawback to the great organs which they control; people like to have someone to quote or to cuss. The country editor with character and the right purposes gains influence that works against self-seeking, hypocrisy and spinelessness; so his place had to be filled in the huge mergers which destroyed all such individuality . . . and thus the columnists were born. As I have said, it may be an advantage or otherwise that the reader knows the editor personally; the same goes but with greater force to the writer with a "byline". His is the task of getting by the editor first and his readers afterwards. The editor may not agree with the opinions his "byline" correspondent expresses. On this point I might quote from a paper which invited a once-rival editor to a column on its own pages. In explaining the matter to its readers it had this to say: "Whether you agree or disagree with his opinions is for you to decide, just as we accord you the same privilege concerning the views in our editorial column. If occasionally there are varying thoughts expressed in adjoining columns, just remember that this is Canada".

Something of picturesqueness may have been lost with the passing of the newspaper wars that marked the old days of instability. Today things have changed. All is praise. The present motto of editors seems to be, "If you have nothing good to write — write nothing". Everything is subordinate to the hypocritical convention of blarney. If a reporter feels the urge to blast the hidebound conventions, he must vent his ire on some whipping horse like Communism or Franco Spain, or attach some silly appellation like the "Huns" or the "Nips" to our enemies, for the time being. How do you think a reporter feels about all this? Listen to the late Alexander Woolcott answer that question: "Sitting morose in the corner of a dingy and littered city-room, his feet on the desk, his hat tilted down over his eyes, weary of writing up windy banquets and never saying how deadly dull they were, sick of turning out routine obituaries and never once erupting with a hint of how delighted the bereaved were with their sad loss, every reporter certainly has sketched out some rebellious piece of his mind and thought that — though he may be fired next day, sued for libel, arrested for slander and enthusiastically horsewhipped by the parties concerned — it would be a sweet game to play and one well worth the candle. And here at last, apparently, was such a dream story come true in print.

"It was a wedding notice. The opening paragraph lulled one with its stock phrases and complete conventionality. It merely related that the daughter of the So-and So's had been united in holy wedlock on the preceding Wednesday to a scion of the house of Whoozis. I forget the actual names. One was also informed that the Reverend Such-and-Such of the Cedar Avenue Church, had performed the ceremony. So far so good. But then the false mask slipped and the story went on as follows:

"The groom is a popular young bum who hasn't done a lick of work since he got shipped in the middle of his junior year at college. He manages to dress well and keep a supply of spending money because his dad is a soft-hearted old fool who takes up his bad cheques instead of letting him go to jail where he belongs. The bride is a skinny, fast little idiot who has been kissed by every boy in town since she was twelve years old. She paints like a Sioux Indian, sucks cigarettes in secret, and drinks mean corn liquor when she is out joyriding in her dad's car at night. She doesn't know how to cook, sew or keep house. . . The young couple will make their home with the bride's parents, which means they will sponge on the old man until he dies and then she will take in washing. The happy couple anticipates a blessed event in about five months.' "

(—"Long, Long Ago," Alexander Woolcott.)

Sharp-Witted Sharpener

Among the pests and parasites that plague our garden lovers, add the following (from a district reader) . . .

"An agreeable and approachable man, hailing allegedly from Lachute, has been making the tour of this neighborhood, sharpening knives, lawn-mowers and what not.

"He is pleasant and makes the very best impression on his first trip. Then he comes around the second time to the ones who seem more gullible, and explains that his sharpening tools have gone on with a certain truck and he wants a little money — 75c or a dollar, to buy a few files locally. I happen to know that at least two have been caught with this little racket. Perhaps a word in the press might save others from being victimized."

HERE'S an up-to-the-minute version of that grand old tune, "In My Merry Oldsmobile". In the new words you'll find one of the outstanding reasons why Oldsmobile owners are so enthusiastically singing the praises of the 1947 Oldsmobile. What a smart looking car it is! . . . Long and low and smooth in its lines—tailored just to your taste. It's a smart performer, too, and it offers all the features you want.

"You'll be fresh when you arrive thanks to Hydra-Matic Drive*...

You go places with less effort in a new Oldsmobile with GM Hydra-Matic Drive*. Yet you get livelier performance, better economy, and greater safety than you did in old-fashioned driving. Hydra-Matic Drive* is the only fully-proved, fully automatic drive—and it's at its peak in the 1947 Oldsmobile!

"Just forget the clutch and gear—all you do is sit and steer...

There's no clutch pushing with GM Hydra-Matic Drive*—not even a clutch pedal in the car. And all gear shifting is automatic, through all four forward speeds. Just take the wheel of an Oldsmobile and sit back in comfort, enjoying the smoothest driving you've ever known!

"What a happy day it will be for you when your Oldsmobile is here!"

To you who are waiting for your new Oldsmobiles—our thanks for your patience . . . our tribute to your wisdom. The demand for Oldsmobile with the new GM Hydra-Matic Drive* is so widespread that it still greatly exceeds the supply. Make sure your present car carries you conveniently and safely through the waiting period by having it checked regularly by your GM dealer.

*Hydra-Matic Drive is optional at extra cost.

HELPS TURN Ideas INTO PRODUCTS

THE RRAL creator in business today is the man with an idea — and the ability to turn it into something tangible.

Creative banking has helped many a man build an idea into a profitable business . . . . has helped him through all the stages until the goods are completed, neatly packaged, and moving across the dealers' counters.

But there's even more to it than that. For every package, for every useful machine, for every service that grows from an idea, men and raw materials are needed . . . . so money starts to flow again in wages and salaries, in sales and purchases.

You may have a sound idea, and you may need money to make it work. Talk it over with your Bank of Nova Scotia branch manager. He looks at ideas from the viewpoint of creative banking, he seeks an opportunity to put money to work intelligently, for the benefit of everyone.

BIG
AHEAD!

THE THOMPSONS are busy as bees, getting their place in shape for the tourist season. This year, with three more cabins, electricity and a modernized kitchen, they hope to do even better than before.

They were able to make these additions because last fall Mr. Thompson drove to town to see his bank manager. He knew about the nice little business the Thompsons had built up; a bank loan was quickly arranged.

Now the Thompsons can handle more tourists and increase their income. At the same time Canada will benefit from the extra tourist dollars they take in.

Contrasts in Mexico

wares displayed directly on the sidewalk, and the tortillia vendors, whose presence was always heralded by the sound of vigorous clapping of the hands, which is necessary to flatten the dough into pancake-like rounds before being baked.

Yesterday and today were evident in modern factories and primitive craft shops working side by side. The latest models in automobiles were in sharp contrast to burroes laden with merchandise or straddled by a peon seated practically on his tail with his legs dangling on either side.

The lush vegetation of the country was offset, the speaker claimed, by the care necessary in selecting food. All vegetables must be cooked and the wide selection of fruits must not only be peeled but should be washed before peeling.

Mrs. Consiglio was enthusiastic about the magnificent climate, where nothing was "tentative — weather permitting"; it was always fine. But the speaker pointed out the high infant mortality rate of 42%. Statistics showed, also, that the life span of the Mexican woman was only 45 years.

Mrs. Consiglio drew attention to the delight of shopping in Mexico. The handicrafts were magnificent, and very low in price in comparison with manufactured goods. Nylon hose were 15 pesos, or approximately $3 a pair. The quickest way to arrive at the price of anything, she said, was to divide the figure by five, as the dollar was equal to $4.85 in Mexican money.

The speaker laughingly pointed out that a very meagre knowledge of Spanish was all that was necessary. How to count in Spanish, and the question "Cuanto vale?" (how much), would carry you a long way in Mexico.

Mrs. Consiglio closed by stressing the delights of Mexico as a holiday haven and emphasized the strides that have been made, and are in the formative process, to enrich the lives of the Mexican people and to make of the country an even greater mecca for tourists.

Resolutions at County W. Inst. Annual Conf'ce

Resoutions of thanks were passed, including —

Guests present at the conference, for their interest and co-operation.

Argenteuil Agricultural Society and the Robin Hood Flour Co.; prizes donated for W. I. handicrafts at Lachute Fair.

In addition, the meeting endorsed the following resolves submitted by the Resolutions Committee:

"Whereas, in the interest of Health and Welfare, we deplore the lack of sanitary facilities in our County, particularly in Public Places, especially the Fair Grounds — be it resolved that we Institute members urge the committees in charge, to do something to correct this need, especially in view of the thousands who use these places.

Whereas we, the Women's Institute, have received great praise from the Government for our loyal support to the Consumer Branch of the W.P.T.B. in guarding against inflation — be it resolved to continue our vigil on prices and quality, until this threat is over.

Whereas a list of proposed changes in the legal status of married women have been placed before our Provincial Government, be it resolved that we study laws governing women in our province, so that we may be in a position to voice our opinion on the subject.

Whereas "wars begin in the minds of men" — be it resolved that we, the Women's Institute, do all in our power to sew the seeds of peace.

Whereas Canada has comparatively recently acquired National status — be it resolved that we, the Women's Institute accept it as a challenge to mature thinking both nationally and internationally.

Whereas we feel a dearth of leadership in our community — be it resolved we co-operate and and encourage our youth to avail themselves of any training available along these lines.

Whereas we are greatly indebted to Mr. Giles and the staff of the Lachute Watchman for their kindness in giving our Institute work so much publicity, be it resolved we tender them our hearty thanks and appreciation.

Whereas our executive and retiring officers have worked hard during their term of office, be it resolved to extend to them our appreciation of their endeavors, and assure them of our co-operation during the coming year.

Freezing Coming Of Strawberries

According to facilities available — and taking into account personal tastes — strawberries may be frozen, canned or made up into jam.

If there is a quick freezing locker plant in your community, frozen strawberries will most probably be your choice —since in freezing, the color, flavor and shape are so well retained that it is a joy to have frozen berries to serve out of season. Some varieties of strawberries freeze more successfully than others, so it is recommended to check with provincial Agriculture authorities for vaieties suitable in your district. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Ottawa, say that only fruit of a high quality should be frozen. The strawberries must be ripe but firm, and at the ideal stage of maturity for immediate table use. Speed and care in preparing a..d handling the friut are very important. To prevent the fruit from losing its original flavor, appearance and texture, a small quantity only should be prepared at one time for freezing.

The strawberries are washed and sorted before being hulled; then they are packed either whole or sliced in cold, medium syrup to cover or in dry sugar. A medium syrup is made with 1 cup of sugar and 1 cup of water. For dry sugar use 4 lbs. of prepared fruit, about 12 cups to one pound of sugar, 2 cups.

The packed containers should be frozen immediately after packing. If they are to be frozen and stored in a locker plant, each container, as it is packed, should be placed in a refrigerator or very cold place until all containers are ready, and then taken to the locker plant without delay.

Homemakers who do not have freezing facilities are interested in the best recommended method for canning strawberries. The recommendations for preparing and handling the strawberries are the same for canning as for freezing.

There are two methods recommended for canning strawberries, the Cold Pack method and the Hot Pack method using the same strength of syrup, that is a medium one which is made using equal amounts of sugar and water.

For the Cold Pack Method:

The syrup is made then the washed and hulled strawberries are added and slowly brought to the boil and simmered for 1 minute. The kettle is then covered, removed from the heat and allowed to stand for one hour. Then the sealers are packed, leaving the required headspace of a half-inch and sealed according to the type of sealer used. The processing is done in the boiling water bath, pint sealers are processed 15 minutes and quart sealers 20 minutes.

For the Hot Pack Method:

The syrup is brought to the boil in the kettle, then the strawberries are added, the kettle covered and removed from the heat and allowed to stand for one hour. The strawberries in the syrup are then brought to the boil, packed hot with the required headspace and then processed for 15 minutes for both pint and quart sealers in the boiling water bath.

An Evening in Spring

A soft blue mist comes floating
Across the rain-washed hills,
Lingering long in shadowy nooks,
Hovering o'er the rills.

Darkening clumps of cedar trees
Veiling them from sight,
As Springtime winds come whispering
Along the paths of light.

But there, in the west, a cloud of rose
Breaks through the misty trail,
A sunset — in the vale.

The fluted notes of a robin's song
Echoes against the wood,
Proclaiming the joys of life to all,
And the thrill of motherhood.

Darkness falls, and drifting moonlight
Turns the lake to shimmering gold,
As the gay salute of a whippoorwill
Floats out, from a rock-strewn wold.

As we muse on the mysteries of Nature,
And Spring's recurring course,
Our hearts go out, in worshipping
To God, the Eternal Source.

APPETIZING APPLE CAKE

RECIPE

Add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 teaspoon sugar to ½ cup lukewarm water, and let stand 10 minutes. Then stir well. Scald ½ cup milk, add 3 tablespoons shortening, ¼ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon salt and cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup sifted flour to make a batter. Add yeast mixture and 1 beaten egg. Beat well. Add 2½ cups sifted flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly and place in greased bowl. Cover and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. When light, punch dough down and divide into 2 equal portions. Roll dough ½ inch thick; place in 2 well-greased pans (8½ x 11½ x 2" deep). Brush tops with melted butter or shortening; sprinkle with ¼ cup granulated sugar. Peel and core 12 apples; cut into eighths; press into dough, sharp edges downward; close together. Mix 1½ teaspoons cinnamon with 1 cup granulated sugar; sprinkle over cakes. Cover and let rise in warm place until light, about ¾ hour. Bake in moderate oven at 400°F. about 35 minutes.

14th Edition of L.H.S. Annual

The 14th edition of the Lachute High School "Annual" is now on the press, and early next week this publication will be for sale by the school pupils and at the newsstands.

The school colors — white, blue and gold — are attractively featured in the leatherette cover, and the contents include a dedication to A. E. Thompson, B.A., who has been in charge of the guidance program of the school, with news and views of the graduating class and the higher grades. Articles on sports, literary achievements and social events also make interesting reading, while many excellent photos lend added appeal to the general make-up.

The edition is produced under direction of the Students' Council of the school. The publication is a somewhat expensive undertaking, therefore it is hoped that ready support will be given to the students in charge of its sale and distribution.

Top-Scorers Seen In Quebec Title Bowling Contests

QUE. DOUBLES RECORD IS BROKEN

COMMERCIAL LEAGUES NOW IN FINALS

Thirty-nine teams have played to date in the Province of Quebec championship bowling held at the Bolodrome alleys. In the five-man team event, the Laviolette and Baribeau St. Jerome quintet piloted by J. St. Pierre led the field with a score of 3,313, an average of 222 per man.

Richard Lemay, of Hawkesbury, shared the doubles honors with his partner Pat Dunn, scoring 1,696, an average of 283 — this score being 59 pins more than the last Canadian Open held in Toronto, and only 93 pins less than the all-time world record.

Lemay also leads the singles event with 809, an average of 270 a game.

This coming Sunday at 3 o'clock, two teams, from the Franc-Rigolos League, Montreal, and the Eastward, also from Montreal, are to bowl on alleys 3-4-5, while two Montebello teams, one representing the Brading's piloted by M. Bourgeois and the other representing the Joannis bowling alleys, play on alleys 2 and 6. M. Laurin from Hawkesbury will pilot his team, led by P. Dunn and R. Lemay, on alley 7.

Bowling fans of Lachute will witness a real exhibition in these contests. Two local teams are expected also to bowl on Sunday.

Jeep Fire-Truck Demonstrated

A number of town officials and industrial representatives from the district witnessed an interesting demonstration of fire-fighting equipment here Friday afternoon. This performance, featuring a Willys-Overland "Jeep" fire-truck, was arranged by Northland Automotive Equipment Reg'd, distributors for this company — who have been wide-awake in publicizing the merits of the civilian "jeep" in winter and summer, on the farm and on the highway.

Friday's demonstration was held on Main Street West, opposite McArthur's Hall. The "Jeep" fire-truck drew its water supply from the North River to pump three streams of water simultaneously with considerable power.

The new pumper, designed for use in farm communities, small towns, or industrial plants, is equally adaptable for use from hydrants, and is capable of tossing 375 gallons per minute with a pump pressure of 120 pounds. The spectators appeared genuinely impressed with its performance.

The fire-truck, with a gross weight of 4,256 pounds fully equipped and with four passengers, carries 550 feet of hose in 2½" and 1½" sizes. The little machine can be driven up to speeds of 50 m.p.h. An additional 1,000 feet of hose and equipment can be carried with a trailer attachment.

Wrestle-Session Well Supported

Two local youngsters, Jos. Pagé and Paul Desjardins, boxed three rounds to a tie, as a preliminary event at the Auditorium last Friday. Marcel Deschamps refereed, and the boys put on a sporty show.

Feature bout of the wrestling program was a team match, with Paul Gaudette and Jean Latreille versus Marcel Ouimet and Bob Taylor.

Latreille floored Taylor to win the first fall, while Ouimet triumphed over Badman Gaudette for the second. . It was not as simple as all that, for all the nefarious tactics of the trade were introduced to make things pleasant for the crowd. In addition Kid Lyons, referee, found himself frequently at the receiving end, and Aurele Robin — unheralded intruder from Act I — added his quota of comedy and drama. There was, in fact, a full and varied menu of both. . .

In the third stanza Gaudette pinned Taylor for the count, and Lyons proclaimed the villainous duo victors of the bout. . . All then retired, except the protesting losers — and when Lyons came back again into the ring, the plot was complete; on evidence of misdeeds which had escaped his eye, he reversed his decision and awarded the bout to Ouimet and Taylor. . . The crowd yelled its unqualified approval, and all went away happy.

In the runner-up bout, Robin (the pseudo-hooligan previously mentioned) lost in three rounds with "Flash Gordon" Levesque. — The latter displays a speed and agility which the fans would like to see more often, in a bout of wrestling stripped of dramatics and atrocities.

Leo Clouette, promoter of this show, announces another program for tomorrow night. (See advertisement).
