LARGE AREAS FLOODED ALONG OTTAWA RIVER

Level Has Dropped Slightly in Past Few Days

Up and down the Ottawa River and the Lake of Two Mountains, damage caused by flood waters has piled up to an inestimable cost. Hardest hit are the summer cottages, nestling along the shore of this waterway which — although fluctuating with seasonal thaws and rainfalls — has never within living memory reached its present high level.

(It is reported from Carillon this morning that the waters have receded only slightly, a matter of two or three inches.)

Accompanying are photographs featured by the Montreal Gazette last Monday, taken during the week-end when the flood was at its peak. Those who traversed the rivershore highway, forecast much damage to roads where the waters had undermined the pavement. Even along the North River opposite the John Irwin property at St. Andrews East, the water was overflowing the highway, and it reached a level almost to the concrete bridge across the Riviere Rouge.

Farms and year-round residences bordering the North River appeared also heavily hit, in the village and district of St. Andrews. Gardens and outbuildings were submerged, and water lapped at the foundations of numerous homes.

At Carillon a similar scene was evident last week-end. Robert Bradley, curator of the museum, looked out disconsolately at the strewn fences, and the flotsam of rubbish over the beautiful museum grounds. The lawn and flowerbeds were completely under water, and waves lapped at the veranda posts. In the basement rooms — one used for the exhibit of old-time implements and furnishings, others used as storage and washrooms — there was a foot of muddy water. The havoc at this spot alone will present a sorry sight when the water subsides.

Among the casualties last week was a complete cottage which floated downstream and was swept over the dam at Carillon. With a door open and swinging as the building tossed in the current, the cottage still appeared whole and undamaged. A salvage party went out in a boat and secured the building downstream.

OTTAWA RIVER FLOODS CURTAIL OPERATIONS AT C.I. PAPER MILL

(Intended for last issue)

Calumet — a large number of men are unemployed here as a result of the Canadian International Paper mill being closed down due to the high water. Never before has the water reached its present height — the mill yard being completely submerged. During a recent rainstorm the water rose seven inches.

Springtime Navigation

It is reported that water was 18 inches deep over certain sections of Highway 29 last week-end. Here an autobus is seen plowing through the flood between St. Andrews and St. Placide.

A Small Idea of Flood Damage

The cottage of Saul Dubois near St. Andrews East is seen half submerged. The property, under construction, had cost $2,000 and was not yet completed. Damage to summer homes along the Ottawa River has reached an extent difficult to estimate. . . . Mayor Georges Duhamel and Rene Giroux, of St. Andrews East, are seen above in a "water taxi" inspecting the cottage.

WESTMOUNT HONORS FALLEN TEACHERS

Three former members of the staff of the Westmount Junior High School killed in the Second World War were honored at a memorial service Monday afternoon in front of the Academy Road school.

The three men in whose memory the service was held were — Lt. Hugh Wilson Gall (son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gall, Lachute), and Lt. Kenneth Charles Simms, both of the 1st Battalion Black Watch (R.H.R.); and Sqdn.-Ldr. Leslie Neil McCaig, D.F.C.

Canon Oliver, M.C., of St. Matthias Church, and Rev. Berlis, Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, conducted the service.

King's Birthday A School Holiday

Monday, June 9, will be observed as a school holiday here, in celebration of the King's Birthday. From the viewpoint of Lachute High School pupils, this was a pronouncement of major importance arising out of the school board assembly on Tuesday.

Actually, at this meeting under chairmanship of Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, there were more perplexing matters under discussion, for the school building project now before the commissioners involves many problems. According to the chairman, the board will receive a visit shortly from members of the Department of Education, who will look over the plans and confer on particular aspects.

Great Yarmouth, Eng. (CP) — Landladies need new supplies of crockery so badly they offer credits on holiday visits in exchange for plates and cups.

Cattle Entries Well Over '46 Mark; Indications Suggest Lachute Fair Should Top Previous Attainments

BETTER ACCOMMODATION AND DINING FACILITIES; BUILDINGS IMPROVED THROUGH FINANCIAL AID

Prospects point to everything "bigger and better" at the annual Lachute Spring Fair, which opens next Wednesday. Entries in dairy cattle have broken previous records — Ayrshires 191 head, Holsteins 125 head, Canadian cattle 20 head, Dairy Shorthorns 25 head. In sheep there are 207 head entered, and 100 swine. There are 165 heavy horses and well over 100 Light Horses. Practically all the entries will appear in the catalogue, which is now in the hands of the printer and will be available for distribution on June 10.

The entry list, however, is only one aspect which gives promise of outstanding success for this 121st annual exhibition . . . By way of entertainment, a pipe band from Glengarry will provide music for the four days and four evenings of the Fair. Horse racing will be prime attraction on June 12, 13 and 14. Wallace Bros'. Midway will provide the lighter diversions.

Considerable improvements have been made in the grounds and buildings this year. Larger space has been provided for the midway. A new barn for dairy cattle has been built, also additional stabling for the large exhibit of sheep. The lunch counter and kitchen have been remodeled, with extra facilities for serving meals to the public; there is also a Red Cross emergency room.

Through the efforts of James W. McGibbon, ex-M.P., federal grants of $3,000 have been secured for the building program, also $500 for Judges, as well as $500 in awards for Boys' and Girls' Competitions.

MERCHANTS AND CITIZENS CAN COLLABORATE IN VARIOUS WAYS

Bearing in mind that the annual County Exhibition is a medium of far-reaching publicity for the Town of Lachute and this County, the local Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the Agricultural Society urges the people of this town to exert every possible effort to make the event a real success.

Walter Gordon, chairman of the Local Business Improvement committee, invites all store-keepers to renew their displays in windows and leave store-fronts illuminated in the evening during Fair days.

Circulars will also be distributed by the Chamber of Commerce inviting out-of-town people to visit the local stores, and a tourist information booth will be erected at the Fair Grounds for the benefit of the customers.

STATUE OF VIRGIN AND CEREMONIES IN THIS DIOCESE

A statue of the Virgin Mary on its way from Cap-de La Madeleine, Que., to the Marian Congress at Ottawa, reached Ottawa Archdiocese last week-end and was on display at L'Orignal and Hawkesbury at special religious ceremonies presided over by Archbishop Alexandre Vachon of Ottawa. Similar ceremonies were held at other Ontario parishes.

The procession, accompanied by provincial police escort, arrived Tuesday at Grenville, where mass was held near the parish church. Ceremonies were conducted the same evening at Calumet, Pte. au Chene and Fassett, concluding at Montebello with midnight mass, Monsignor H. D. Brosseau officiating. The sacred emblem was then taken to Papineauville, Thurso and Buckingham for similar demonstrations.

The statue is known as the "Miraculous Statue of Our Lady of the Cape", and the ceremonies are part of the preparations being made for the Marian Congress June 18 to 22 when in prayers the Virgin Mary will be asked to intercede on behalf of World Peace.

Argenteuil M.P. Plays Host to Two School Groups in Visit to Capital

Two parties of school pupils are making conducted trips to Ottawa this week under the sponsorship of Mr. Georges Héon, M.P. for Argenteuil.

The Lachute party, composed of Grade XI (the high school graduating class) left by school bus this morning, Thursday, so as to be present during the House debate. The pupils will be received by Mr. Héon at Ottawa and accommodated in reserved seats in the visitors' gallery. Each will receive a copy of the Orders of the Day, and Mr. Héon will personally explain the proceedings as the business of the nation is transacted. Following this, the party will be the guests of Mr. Héon at luncheon in the House of Commons restaurant. They will have an opportunity to meet and shake hands with M.P.'s of different parties and constituencies. Under guidance of the Sergeant-at-Arms they will then inspect the Commons and Senate chambers, the Peace Tower, the Library and other spots of interest.

There are 30 pupils in the party, accompanied by Mr. A. E. Thompson and Miss Gladys Styles, of the teaching staff.

Brownsburg Group

The second party, comprising about 25 Catholic and 25 Protestant pupils from advanced grades of the Brownsburg schools, with their respective teachers, will leave on Saturday morning. This tour will be something of an experiment in visual education — comprising the two language groups. The party will be escorted by bilingual guides through the Houses of Parliament, the National Museum and the Ottawa Experimental Farm. They will be luncheon guests of Mr. Héon while at the House of Commons.

PRESENTATION TO B'BG CUBMASTER ON RETIREMENT

Brownsburg — Flashlights were recently presented to each member of the Boy Scouts Eagle Patrol, for having won the previous inter-patrol competition. Members of this patrol were Milton Mason, Kevin Smart, Harry Moseley, Jerry Izzard, Greg Mason, Bruce Mason.

At the conclusion of a Boy Scout Group Committee meeting, held in the Social Club on June 2, Mr. Earl Smillie (chairman) presented a brief case and a Silex stove to Mr. R. H. Morrison, on behalf of the Group Committee in appreciation for his splendid services as Cubmaster during the past several years. Mr. Herbert Potter has taken over as Cubmaster of the Wolf Cub pack, replacing Mr. Morrison who recently resigned.

Messrs. Arnold Waller and Julian Rowan are now assisting the Scoutmaster R. B. Elliott each Monday evening, and their assistance is greatly appreciated.

Notable Visitors Were Guests at Weir, Que.

(Our District Correspondent)

Weir, Que. — Mr. Frank Percival, Dep. Treasurer of the Province of Alberta, also Mr. H. J. Wilson, K.C., Dep. Attorney-General of Alberta, who is on his way to London to plead the Bill of Rights at the Privy Council (which case is coming up towards the end of June), together with Mr. Menerd, the Attorney-General of Alberta, were recent at the home of Mayor A. G. Munich. The latter two expect to sail from New York on the Queen Mary on June 11.

Young Woman, Accident Victim, Buried Yesterday

Swift tragedy claimed the life of a former Lachute girl, Mrs. Archie MacKenzie (Emily Plunkett), late Saturday night at Ste. Anne de Bellevue. Mrs. MacKenzie, 29 years of age, was struck by an automobile and died 15 minutes later at the Ste. Anne's Military Hospital.

A few minutes before the mishap the young woman had left her husband, aboard a bus on which he was continuing to Ste. Genevieve, his place of employment. She was crossing the intersection at Metropolitan Blvd., to return to the home of her aunt on St. Etienne Street, when she was struck. The driver, Gonsague Pilon, of Dorval, stopped his car, but the victim meanwhile had been dragged a considerable distance. She was taken to hospital but died shortly after admittance.

The funeral was held from Lachute United Church yesterday afternoon, the Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiating. Interment was made in the family plot at Lachute Cemetery. Pall-bearers were — Messrs. Frank McCaffrey, Gordon Elliott, Stuart and Clifford Armstrong, Stuart Wilson and John MacKenzie. There were many beautiful flowers in tribute to her memory.

The former Miss Plunkett was well known here and in Brownsburg, where during the war she did secretarial work in the lab of C-I-L Ammunition Division. Since her marriage she had also worked for some time as secretary to Prof. A. Heimpel at Macdonald College.

Besides her husband, formerly of Lachute Road, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Harry King, of Latuque, Que. A brother, Kenneth, who attended Lachute High School, predeceased her some years ago.

Sympathy is extended to the bereaved relatives.

UNSATISFACTORY CONDITION

The way in which the rental administration operates is far from satisfactory. There is one case in Granby where tenants have been trying for five months to find out what their rents are to be. In the meantime they have had to make substantial payments of rent in advance with the promise that when rental administration gets around to decide, payments will be adjusted.

Arnoldwold Fire Loss Includes 50-60 Purebred Horses

A considerable loss was suffered by Gilbert E. Arnold, Grenville, when his large barn adjacent to Highway 8-A was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. The property damage was secondary to the loss of many valuable horses 50-60 purebred breeding animals having been consumed in the blaze which spread rapidly through the large structure. Two mares and a stallion were saved — one of these having broken loose and reached safety. One of the mares was later destroyed, however, on account of burns.

Two night watchmen are employed around the premises. One had gone to another building, while the second, named Legault, was the first to raise the alarm. He was helping load an animal into a truck when the entire upper floor of the building appeared to burst suddenly into flame. Mr. Arnold, awakened by the alarm shortly after 5 a.m., looked from his residence to see the barn ablaze.

The outbreak, which occurred in a grain and hay loft, may have been caused by short circuiting of electric wires. Two carloads of feed had recently been unloaded. This, together with 250 tons of hay, and a medical laboratory with its contents, was destroyed, while the stock, including many show horses, were consumed in the blaze. Even the truck in the yard was burned.

Lachute and Hawkesbury fire brigades sent equipment to the scene. Fire Chief Geo. Y. Deacon and his men were able to render some effective assistance; connecting with a pond across the thoroughfare for their water supply, they were instrumental in saving part of the office and records.

Gilbert E. Arnold, of Arnoldwold Farms, is the largest horse breeder, importer and exporter, on the continent. His loss is only partly covered by insurance — to the extent of 20 or 30 percent. Among the animals were eight of the best Arnoldwold brood mares and their foals, and 12 prize stallions — a heavy cost, not only in monetary value but as stock selected and bred over generations and impossible to replace. The famed "Jason" was not among the stallions burned.

The worst thing about history is that every time it repeats itself, the price goes up. -Exch.

Lions Speaker Tells Vivid Tale Of Rail Progress

A graphic picture was presented by Lion Walter Gerrell, secretary of the Northmount Club of Montreal, at the regular meeting of Lachute Lions Club in Desjardins Hotel on Tuesday — his subject being "The Iron Horse". He revealed the part which rail transportation has played in civilization, how it has contracted the world and brought distant places together, thus tending towards an interchange of ideas which broadens the mind, and a wider acquaintance which is producing mutual understanding.

Modern civilization owes its advance in great measure to men of genius who, here and there, with painstaking and laborious effort, and often in the face of apathy, scepticism, ridicule and even more pronounced opposition, pursued their researches.

Transportation possesses great significance. The history of the Confederation movement cannot be understood except in connection with that of railway expansion.

"Watchman Advert Brings Results" from Far Pacific Coast

An advertisement inserted in The Watchman two weeks ago on behalf of the Brownsburg Legion Memorial Fund has brought a reply from Vancouver — the branch secretary having just received a subscription and request for tickets on the Legion's drawing for an electric refrigerator.

BREAKS RECORD, WINS 2 TITLES FOR REVOLVER SHOT

A considerable achievement has been attained by H. Y. Maranda, of the R.C.M.P. — who is related, and so closely connected here, as to be considered a "local boy". Maranda scored highest points for the Montreal Small Bore Rifle Association revolver-shot championship, against formidable competition. His highest individual score (194 x 200) in this league, establishes two records and merits the two provincial championships for this form of sport.

Brownsburg Councillors Study New Estimate on Waterworks Extension

"In Brownsburg"
Specially Contributed

Brownsburg — The new estimate for extending the waterworks system was under consideration at the regular Council session, and it was found to be over $2,000 higher than when last calculated. What is known as the Woodbine Avenue addition was listed at — Water System $4,118, Sewerage $7,854. The Chenier property addition was expected to cost in the neighborhood of $39,000. The plan submitted showed a breakdown of estimates for the various streets within the area to be served.

The Council were of the opinion that the scheme suggested would be self-supporting and favored going ahead with the work, as a very necessary public utility.

The councillors were not, however, in favor of adopting the suggestion of the Board of Health as employing an Order-in-Council of the Quebec Government as a means of raising the necessary loan, without the consent of the taxpayers of the corporation. It was therefore decided that after favorable legal advice a referendum of the people would be held, and if an affirmative vote was obtained the work would be proceeded with. A further meeting was convened for Wednesday evening. Meanwhile the secretary-treasurer was asked to bring the matter of costs to the attention of the people most concerned.

Parking

Parking difficulties are, and perhaps always will be, a problem in unplanned municipalities which like Topsy "just growed". By-laws have been enacted by the Council with a view of adjusting matters to the convenience of all concerned, but some individual cases suffer under considerations effected for the common good. After very careful thought, the Council have drawn up regulations which are expected to serve the needs of the village as a whole, and present indications are that no deviation from those regulations will be permitted. The latest by-law makes one-side parking on Main Street mandatory.

Youth Welfare

The Youth Welfare Committee sent a delegation before the local Councillors on Monday evening to request assistance in continuance of the work of maintaining the playgrounds and swimming pool organized and conducted by them. With the tightening of restrictions on games and bazaars by the "powers that be", the raising of funds has become difficult. The Council received the delegation very favorably.

Council Protests Slur in Montreal Newspaper Report

8 BUILDING PERMITS FOR NEW TOWNSITE

Among routine matters before the regular meeting of Town Council last evening, there were one or two highlights of greater interest. The meeting, under presidency of Mayor Alex Bothwell, was attended by all members of the Council.

Eight building permits were granted in the name of Lawrence Ward, contractor, for houses to be erected on the Mountain View townsite.

A decision was approved that notice be sent protesting a report which appeared in a recent edition of the Montreal Daily Star, which inferred the Lachute Council was "divided on political, racial and religious opinions" and that the Council was "spineless". Refuting the statement as false, it was moved by Council to request the newspaper to retract the remarks.

A motion was passed to draw attention of the Hon. A. Talbot, Quebec Minister of Roads, that the thoroughfares of Lachute are in a deplorable condition, and to request the Department to effect repairs as soon as possible.

The town roads committee was authorized to sell the Fargo truck owned by the corporation. Pool room licenses were recommended on behalf of Mme Napoleon Gagne and Antonio Patry. Accounts amounting to $4,715 were approved for payment.

High School Pupils Have Garden Plot

A small tract of land on Barron Avenue, loaned by Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, has been pressed into service by pupils of Grade XIII, and a few from the higher grade, as a community effort to raise flowers and vegetables. This diversion, under supervision of E. H. Peters, Agriculture teacher, should prove an example of intensive production in a small space.

Management of Poultry Growing Stock

Many chickens develop into culls because they never have an opportunity to become anything else. Better pullets can be grown when the young stock has access to plenty of growing green feed. The poultryman should so manage his range program to provide tender green feed throughout the growing period. With feed in short supply, it is very important that a suitable pasture system be provided.

Birds should not be kept on the same range year after year because of the possibility of a severe contamination, if diseased birds are present in the flock. Good drainage and aeration of the soil helps to keep down infection. Keeping the grass short or grazed closely, provides young tender growth for the birds and also allows greater penetrating power for the sun's rays.

During the hot season shade is advisable, but one must not sacrifice sanitation in doing so. The best means of providing artificial shade is to sow strips of corn and rape between the rows of colony houses or shelters.

Overcrowding in the range houses and shelters should be avoided, to prevent a serious set-back in the birds. A six by eight foot shelter will accommodate 75 birds satisfactorily. It is, therefore, necessary to provide proper ventilation anad aufficient roosting space. The shelters should be placed a good distance apart, and if you are using the movable type, these should be moved at least twice a week.

Birds must have plenty of space at the feeding hoppers and at the waterers to avoid overcrowding. These should be moved at least twice a week to prevent the ground around them becoming contaminated. Best results can be obtained by feeding a well balanced ration and having a liberal supply of fresh, clean drinking water available at all times. During the dry season of the summer it is advisable to add additional alfalfa meal or cereal grass to the rations to supplement the lack of green feed and to give bloom to the birds.

It is best to separate the cockerels from the pullets as soon as possible and place them on a separate range. This practice will give the pullets more room and a better chance to develop.

As soon as the first pullets start to lay on the range, some type of nest should be set up at each shelter or colony house. This is very necessary if you want your pullets to develop good nesting habits in the laying house.

Successful management of the growing stock requires the best principles and practices in order to produce high quality, mature birds.

A Centre of Interest At Ottawa Exhibition

Pure Food Shows have always been in the forefront of Central Exhibitions. This year from August 18th to 23rd at the Ottawa Fair, the Pure Food Show is expected to surpass anything hitherto shown in the capital.

Both city and country people are greatly interested in food, and the display has been arranged with a view to demonstrating the finest foods in the world of today.

Diverse booth arrangements with a central motif has made the Pure Food Building a thing of beauty— according to S. F. Dadson, chairman of the committee handling the show.

In its relation to other manufacturing and industrial activities the making of food is in a class by itself. The exhibits in the newly renovated and redecorated Pure Food building should be the mecca for many thousands of people during the Exhibition period.

Only 16.1 per cent of Canadian farms are served with electricity. The percentage varies from a high of 35 per cent in Ontario to a low of 0.21 per cent in Saskatchewan. Ontario consumes 79.75 per cent of the power used on Canadian farms. These figures, states the Agricultural Institute Review, indicate that there is great scope for further development and application of electric power to farms.

Journal Has Article On 'Diamond King'

African diamond prospector John T. Williamson, 40-year-old native of Montfort, in this county, was so broke seven years ago that his car ran on its rims —; he could afford no tires (according to an article in The Reader's Digest for June). Then — says the writer, George Kent — in 1941 the Canadian found what he sought — "an incredible diamond mine." If it turns out to be the richest diamond mine on earth, as some geologists predict, Williamson may become the world's wealthiest man.

The Williamson mine, according to the Digest, "is said to produce many more carats to the ton of pay gravel than the famous Kimberley mine — still the centre of the diamond realm." The Anglo-American Corp. of South Africa, Ltd., has already offered $20,000,000 for it, which Williamson turned down. His sales last year, "operating almost entirely by hand labor," are reported at $10,000,000. Yet he has only scratched the surface, digging no deeper than 12 feet. With machinery to bring up the heavier stones at greater depths, his earnings are expected to jump.

"The most eligible of bachelors", Williamson receives proposals from women all over the world, the article says. Some, addressed merely "Williamson, Africa," have reached him.

Helped financially by three individuals in his lean times, Williamson has paid all of them back many fold. He employs 6,000 natives and 200 policemen "to keep an eye on them". His workers have far more liberty than most diamond mines allow, but "those who steal are a small minority". Only two persons share Williamson's ownership of the mine. Of 400 shares, his brother Percy owns 100; an Indian lawyer holds one; Williamson himself has the other 299.

Diamond deposits are of two types, alluvial and pipe. More than 150 pipes, of which Williamson's is one, have been found in South Africa. Only 25 have produced. Williamson found six, all "sterile", before discovering the present one.

A Room to Rent?

RESPONSE to an appeal by the Chamber of Commerce for room-accommodation during Fair Week, has been reported highly encouraging. If residents are in a position to contribute in this way to Lachute's gesture of hospitality, they are sincerely urged to do so.

It boils down, in simple terms, to the merits of Lachute Fair as a community undertaking. There are some who vigorously protest "the money that goes out of town". There are others who appreciate the revenue that comes in. . . To the latter we may also add the year-round asset of good, wholesome publicity; the renown of local livestock, of dairying and industrial enterprise; and with these (still in terms of cold dollars), the project undoubtedly turns a substantial credit balance. . .

But, measured in the more important values of prestige and well-being, the Exhibition bears fruit a thousandfold. We need think only of the favorable news reports, read by thousands of farm and city readers beyond our community limits. We need consider briefly the achievements of our Fair directors in staging this immense undertaking; and of the Women's Institute, whose energies at the Fair bring rich returns to education and welfare work at home. These are factors that build our town, its clubs, schools, institutions — and, again, its business establishments. . . .

Have you a room to spare? We feel that, on serious contemplation, you will find this effort well justified.

State Intervention -- But It Sounds Worth While

WE FIND much to be commended in the new Ontario legislation establishing a Government fund to pay unsatisfied judgments in highway accidents. The rightful debtor in claims of this kind is, of course, the offending driver. But it is a widespread experience in this province, and doubtless in others, that the driver responsible for an accident is often not responsible in other respects. He is irresponsible in his actions, and irresponsible financially; he has probably failed to insure against accident . . and the loser in these cases is invariably the innocent victim of another man's carelessness.

Commencing with 1948 licenses, Ontario will collect a fee not exceeding $1 from every applicant for a driver's or chauffeur's permit, in order to finance the fund. The measure comes into effect July 1 of this year. The debtor in an accident judgment will not be permitted to operate a car until he has satisfactorily reimbursed the fund and established his financial integrity. George Doucett, Ontario Minister of Highways, states there are "reciprocal agreements with other provinces and states to deal with non-Ontario violators and delinquent debtors." Quebec motorists will be interested to hear the details of these provisions.

We have read no comment on this Ontario legislation. Some may protest that it is a case of state infringement on the business of automobile insurance. The salient advantage, however, appears in the protection it will afford to careful and responsible drivers. Loopholes in the traffic laws have left this class too long at the mercy of the traffic desperadoes.

FISHING is a sport where you generally expect a lot, are often disappoointed, but usually go back for more.

MERCHANTS who overcharge now, should remember that in a year or two they will suffer. Customers generally have long memories.

How It Works Out

INCOME TAX changes announced with the recent budget drew spontaneous commendation; but on closer study they have since been widely criticized, as inadequate to the rising cost of living. One of our exchanges last week drew attention to the detrimental effect of the tax in discouraging overtime work. To illustrate, the editorial quotes certain figures from the present tax tables. . .

Supposing a single man or woman is being paid 50 cents an hour for forty-five hours a week. Their gross pay would be 22.50, but with income tax of 1.80 their take-home pay (and that is what really counts) is only 20.70 or 46 cents an hour. If they work six hours overtime, at regular rates, the gross pay is 25.50, but the income tax jumps to 2.50 which leaves take-home pay of 23.00 or 2.30 more than their regular pay, which is only 38.3 cents per hour for the overtime.

If the same worker is paid time and a half for overtime, their gross pay would be 27.00 with 2.85 income tax, leaving take-home pay of 24.15. This works out to 57.5 cents an hour for the overtime, which is certainly a long way below time and a half.

If a single worker is paid 75 cents an hour, his actual take-home pay figures to 65.2 cents an hour, and with six hours overtime at regular rates, the overtime pay figures to only 55 cents per hour, or to 84 cents per hour at time and a half.

— It always works out that the worker receives much less for overtime work than he has a right to expect. Thus the government actually discourages a worker from doing any extra work — concludes the observer in this editorial.

A CONTEMPORARY has an answer of logic for those shouting to high heaven because some of Canada's largest employers made money last year: "Employers who couldn't make money in 1946 are poor prospects as employers. The outlook would be poor for Canada. The great depression of the thirties would not have happened if employers had been able to make money. The poorest type of boss is the boss who is poor."

More Government Extravagance

THE INCREASED cost of administering the Department of Labour in the recent budget has come in for considerable criticism, and an excellent example of how the money is frittered away is shown in the announcement that the Unemployment Insurance Commission is calling in employees' books "for attachment of a metal plate on which will be embossed the insured person's name and insurance number".

Some company has sold a fine bill of goods to the Government in these metal plates.

Three hearty laughs go to this sentence on the notice, "This will be of distinct value to you to ensure the correct spelling of your employees' names." — Granby Leader-Mail

HOW ABOUT SANITATION?

One of the most important branches of private enterprise serving the general public is the restaurant. . . BRITAIN'S EXAMPLE

Britain is unique among the European nations in that it is just about the only country whose currency has remained stable and in which black marketeering has not become a major problem. To the average Briton it would just not be "playing the game" to take more than he is legally entitled to.

PIONEER CORONER HAS PRESIDED AT 8,000 INQUESTS

Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, 85, Was Edmonton's First Medical Health Officer

Edmonton (CP) — Dr. E. A. Braithwaite who recently celebrated his 85th birthday here holds a record believed to be unequalled on the North American continent and perhaps in the world.

He was appointed coroner 51 years ago, and for 21 of those years has been Alberta's chief coroner, a post in which he is still active. During that time he has presided over an estimated 8,000 inquests.

Dr. Braithwaite was born in Yorkshire, England, in 1862. When he came to Western Canada, he joined the then Royal North West Mounted Police as a student surgeon, and in this capacity and as an assistant surgeon he served throughout the Riel Rebellion.

In 1911, he was made an honorary full surgeon. He retired from the forces in 1931, but was retained on the nominal list of officers. He now can claim the distinction of being longer on the police roll than any other member, living or dead.

He was graduated in medicine at Winnipeg in 1890; was Edmonton's first medical health officer, holding the position from 1892 1907. He became medical inspector for all Alberta hospitals, relinquishing the post in 1939.

Meantime he was Alberta delegate to the Dominion Hospital Council, and for 11 years was a member of it. He served eight years on the Alberta Medical Council. In 1944, Dr. Braithwaite was awarded a life membership in the Canadian Medical Association.

For many years he was the provincial commander of the St. John Ambulance Association. In 1933, in recognition of his work in this capacity he received a citation from the King making him a brother of the Venerable Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

Now Dr. Braithwaite can look back on a full career of public service which has enriched the history of Edmonton — and forward to still more years in the service of Alberta.

CONFUSING HOLIDAYS

It is about time something was done about public holidays which do not always fall upon the same day of the week. Nearly every year we have a situation such as that which caused confusion in the observance of Victoria Day, with most of the business places closing on Saturday and some taking the holiday on Monday, which invariably causes dissatisfaction among the public.

CONFEDERATION'S FAULT

They tell us that this drain away from our province of the cream of our youth, is caused because of our lack of industries. It seems that the trouble more than anything else is an economic sickness — the result of the ancient decision of these colonies by the sea to join Confederation. By that decision we cut ourselves off from our market to the south, and based our future on the Dominion of Canada.

Halt With Autobus Regulation Applies on Quebec Highways

All motorists who approach a bus which is taking on or discharging passengers on Quebec highways must halt their vehicles, and furthermore the bus drivers themselves cannot restart their machines until the passenger has either embarked or reached the side of the road.

The amendment to the Motor Vehcile Act effective from May 10 last, is not generally known, for the original bill made it apply only to buses carrying children, and the change to make it apply to all passengers, went through practically unnoticed.

The law actually reads as follows: "When a motor vehicle overtakes an autobus which is stationary for the purpose of taking on or discharging one or more passengers, the operator of such vehicle shall not drive beyond or meet such autobus, nor shall the operator of such autobus start same until all passengers are taken aboard or as the case may be, those who have alighted have reached the side of the road. This provision shall not apply within the limits of a city or town."

It is remarked by the Royal Automobile Club that this particular law does not apply within cities or towns, the presumption being that buses will draw into the curb to discharge or pick up passengers, and such cities or towns have their own traffic by-laws regulating this matter.

Telephone-Radio Topic Heard at Rotary Meeting

Brownsburg — The Rotary Club at their regular Thursday meeting in Carriere's Hotel, enjoyed an unusually interesting talk by Paul Ouelette of the Customer Relations Divn., Bell Telephone Company. Subject of the talk was, "It Takes More Than a Telephone", illustrating the rlose relationship that exists between radio and telephone communication.

"There is a great deal of equipment behind each telephone," the speaker declared, and then proceeded to demonstrate and trace the various types of equipment designed from the time of Alexander Bell to the present day. He described such radio telephone services as overseas, ship to shore, mobile, link system and relay systems, and emphasized the amplification given to the human voice to make it reach its far-away destination.

Telephones requiring no batteries, and microphones as small as a quarter, were exhibited. These were made possible by the use of "Alnico", an alloy of aluminum, nickel and copper which produces a very strong permanent magnet. "While midget-sized telephones could be easily made, they would be impractical", the speaker declared, "for they would readily get lost on your desk under a few papers."

By means of new equipment, Mr. Ouelette demonstrated how certain electrical waves could be focused, reflected, bent, blocked and polarized, and also their ability to penetrate certain objects.

The speaker was introduced by Norm Somers and thanked by Harold Barrie.

Guests included L. W. Ball and A. Patry, of St. Jerome, G. Lamontagne, of Lachute, and S. W. Milnes, A. R. Williams, Geo. Lefebvre, Jim Brigham and C. R. MacRae, of Brownsburg.

Salvation Army Clothing Canvass Monday–Tuesday

TRUCKS WILL CALL FOR SALVAGE DONATIONS

Through generosity of citizens in the district of Montreal contributing regularly to the Salvation Army Industrial Centre all manner of salvage and clothing, it has been made possible for the Centre to pack and ship to France 50 cases of good clothing which will be distributed amongst the needy. The contents of these valuable cases represents good will from many families here, regardless of nationality or creed.

Many must be cared for. The need is the call, and in response to this call the Salvation Army alleviates the suffering of humanity. During the past year clothing was given to 1,465 persons, the number of garments totalling 3,965.

A collection of salvage and used clothing will be made in Lachute next Monday and Tuesday, when truck drivers will be calling upon householders for their contributions.

Vivid Tale of Railway Progress

Had Confederation not been followed by the construction of trans-Canada railways, the lines of commerce would undoubtedly have continued to run West and South, which is markedly the case today.

The statesmen who in 1867 envisaged our cities of the future, must be credited with vivid imagination. The story of the plans for, and the building of, the trans-mountain railways, is an epic in its bigness; in its vast hazard it has something of the heroic; it is unparalleled in history.

On July 21, 1836, Canada's first railway, now part of the C.N.R. commenced operations on the 16-mile portage line between Laprairie and St. Johns, on the Richelieu River. Wooden rails, spiked to flat iron bars, carried the first train, with an engine that weighed six tons, two passenger cars and two freight cars, with distinguished guests travelling at the amazing speed of seven miles an hour. . . The incident is in vivid contrast to the picture of our modern trains of steel cars hauled by huge streamlined locomotives, or the Diesel engine which has recently been tested out at 95 miles per hour. The entire rolling stock at that time was two engines, four passenger and 22 freight cars. Today the C.N.R. alone has approximately 2,500 engines, 3,500 passenger cars and 100,000 freight cars.

Later the "C. and St. Lawrence" served Montreal, the cars being ferried across the St. Lawrence in summer and track laid across the ice in winter. When two trains met, the one nearer to the station had to back up.

In 1836 the public became railway conscious, but 12 years elapsed before the country embarked on the program of railway extension that was not to end until a vast network of rails covered he whole Dominion.

In July next, Montreal and Lachine are preparing to celebrate the coming of the Iron Horse 100 years ago.

The speaker was introduced by Lion Jos. Robinson, and thanked by Past District Deputy Lion Jack Giles.

Eleven members of Northmount Lions Club were present —

President Lou Cowan; Vice-President Wes Yonkie; Secretary Watt Gerrell; Lions Berny Greig, Ernie Haynes, Martin Crawford, Herve Michaud, Tic Doyle, Bob Berilla, Bill Ayrhart and Charlie Brady.

Boxes of Clothing for France

Due to generosity of people in the Montreal district, over $5,000 in picked clothing, packed in boxes as shown in the upper photo (below shown loaded on truck ready for transportation for shipping) have been made available for the really needy people of France. This is but one of the multitudinous charitable services of the Salvation Army.

Macdonald Coll. Plans Farm Day

MacdonaldCollege has announced plans for a big Farm Day, June 21, when it will hold open house for visitors. No efforts will be spared in making this a day to remember, state the College authorities.

In the past, small groups have visited Macdonald College every week throughout the summer. This year the College appeals to everyone who can, to attend on the big Farm Day when its many lines of activity will be reviewed.

All the College departments, including handicrafts, will have exhibits to show the type of work they are doing; and tours will be organized to enable visitors to see the livestock, poultry, gardens, orchards and grain and pasture plots. A new Agricultural Engineering Building and a new Cold Storage Plant will be officially opened. Visitors will have a chance to inspect the latest in farm equipment, and to ask questions about it.

Dinner will be served in the dining room for the first 300 who apply for reservations in organized groups, through their secretaries. Coffee will be provided for those who prefer to bring picnic lunches to eat on the College grounds.

The focal point for the day's activities will be the front door of the Main Building where, between 9 and 10 a.m., Farm Forum secretaries will register their groups and pick up the dinner tickets they have reserved. The only organized activity in the forenoon will be the annual meeting of the Quebec Council of Farm Forums under the chairmanship of its president, Stuart Armstrong of Lachute.

The first part of the program will consist of organized tours to the various departments, with loud speakers set up so that everyone can follow what is going on. Visitors will be able to gain a lot of first-hand information on the latest developments in farming.

Aaron Slick Comedy Acclaimed at Arundel

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — On Saturday evening at Stanlforth's Hall, the St. Simeon's Players from Lachute (under auspices of Grace Church W.A.) presented their three-act play entitled, "Aaron Slick from Punkin Creek". The comedy was excellently presented. The repartee was witty, and the action fast-moving — which contributed much to the success of the play.

There was a very appreciative audience, and wishes were expressed that the players would be coming back again soon. The Rev. Temple-Hill adequately conveyed the thanks of the audience.

The play was under the direction of Mrs. A. G. Leggett, and the cast comprised—Misses L. Millar, Shirley Leggett, Faith Holtby, Mary Preece, M. Stansfield, D. Clarke; Messrs. Harold Maslin, W. Shearsmith, Ralph Start, M. Townsend, D. Wilson, W. Mackenzie, L. Weatherdon and Bories Arran.

THE TEACHER
—a Conservationist
By educating today's youth in the ways of conservation, teachers can contribute greatly to the cause of conservation.

COPYRIGHT BY CARLING'S, 1947

Contrary to popular opinion, the Red-shouldered Hawk is most useful to man, particularly to the farmer. The keen eyes of these hawks are ever on the look-out for field mice, grasshoppers and crickets, which they destroy in countless numbers. Anyone who is familiar with the habits and characteristics of these birds is aware of their great economic value, and encourages them to nest near fields and meadows.

• "Scientific investigations into their feeding habits and the proof obtained by stomach-analyses changed the false notion that all hawks are bad."

"Can All You Can"

Canning methods, like everything else, have changed greatly during the past decade or so. They are no longer haphazard. When each step is followed with care there should be no worry about the keeping quality of the canned product; success is assured. For up-to-the-minute canning information, the home economists at Ottawa recommend their new, revised bulletin, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables".

In this booklet you will find the essential steps of canning outlined in a clear, easy-to-follow manner. It gives detailed information on such topics as the equipment used in canning, the preparation of containers, the selection and preparation of the product to be canned, packing the product, along with the processing, cooling and storing of the canned product. It also contains a Question and Answer section, where the reason for many failures may be found. Information on the making of jam, jelly and pickles has also been included together with a number of tested recipes.

To both the experienced and inexperienced homemaker, the bulletin "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" will prove a reliable source of information. You may obtain your copy by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Strawberry Jam

4 Quart boxes strawberries (or 8 cups crushed strawberries) 6 cups sugar.

Wash, hull, crush and measure strawberries. Bring to boiling point and precook uncovered, for 15 minutes. Add sugar, bring to boil and boil, uncovered, until jam stage is reached — about 12-15 minutes. Yield, 6½ cups.

To Can Asparagus

Wash, break off tough ends of stalks. Remove scales if necessary. Cut in lengths to fit containers. Tie in uniform bundles and stand upright in 2 inches of boiling water. Cover, bring to boil and boil 3 minutes. Pack hot, all tips up, except 3 with tips down in centre. Add 1 teaspoon salt per quart. Cover with boiling water, leaving headspace. Time to allow if processed in:

Boiling Water Bath — Pints and 20-oz. cans, 2 hours. Quarts and 28-oz. cans 2 hours.

Pressure Cooker (10 lbs.) — Pints and 20 oz. cans, 30 minutes. Quarts and 28-oz. cans, 35 minutes.

Rhubarb Chutney

2 Lbs. rhubarb (7 cups), 1 large onion, few grains cayenne pepper, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon ground ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ¼ teaspoon allspice, 1 teaspoon whole pickling spices (tied in cheesecloth bag), 1 cup vinegar, 1¼ cups sugar.

Wash and cut rhubarb into ½" pieces. Peel, slice and cook the onion in a small quantity of water for 20 mins. in a covered pan. Add rhubarb, seasonings and ½ the vinegar. Cook until rhubarb is tender. Add sugar and remaining vinegar. Continue boiling over low heat, uncovered, until the chutney is of the consistency of jam — about 45 minutes. Yield, 2 pints.

Local Quintet in Lead for Prov'l Bowling Honors

SEVERAL LOCAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIPS WON AT BOLODROME

Only four days remain for the Quebec Five-Pins bowling championships. On Sunday close to 50 bowlers from out of town invaded the alleys of the Bolodrome, but the 3,313 score of Laviolette and Laribeau, St. Jerome, in the first few games of the tournaments stood unbeaten. The Laurin team from Hawkesbury, piloted by Pat Dunn, came very close with 3,312. The Montreal bowlers, being ducks-pins specialists, had difficulty getting accustomed to the five-pins game, but nevertheless some made quiet a few scores over 350. Another runner up on Monday night was the Drivers' team, a local quintet, scoring 3,311. Patisserie Francaise, one of the best local teams, did not hit the range but will try again this week. Monday night the jinx was broken for the local boys, when Arc Supply (Oswald Carriere) came through with a score of 3,507, beating the previous leading score by 194 pins; this score is likely to remain in the lead. The team comprises Buddy Langille, Oswald Carriere, Reg. McRae, Fred Smith and Laurier Carriere. This coming Sunday will be the last day of the tournament.

Marcel Deschamps, Bolodrome proprietor, states that near the end of June the sponsors of this championship event, the Lachute Chamber of Commerce, will stage a banquet at the Golf Club for presentation of the trophies. All local clubs participating in the season's bowling will take part in this affair.

* * *

Patisserie Francaise is now leading 1 to 0 against Mutual Life in the final for the Commercial League championship. Geo. Boisvert, anchor man for the winning team, came close to a perfect game when rolling eight straight strikes to miss in the ninth box and finishing with a head pin.

Pierette Lafortune piloted the Lachute Bakery to the Feminine Commercial League championship this week, against Patisserie Francaise without a loss. The absence of Norma Assaly, runner up for the Bolodrome single title, handicapped the Patisserie in the final game. The winning team comprised — Misses R. P. Menard, P. Lafortune, Gisele Lafortune, J. C. Lafortune, Yolande Tremblay and Mae Gordon.

Roger Gravel's "Hookers" took the Golf Club mixed title and the Gilbert Ayers annual trophy; team —Mrs. J. G. McIndoe, Mrs. Peg Jamison, Miss C. MacKenzie, Messrs. Philippe Valois, Jack Ogilvie, R. Gravel (capt.)

Mrs. H. Rigg piloted the Nightingales to the Ladies' League championship and the Excel Bread trophy donated by Gaetan Laforest. The team included — Mrs. L. Turcotte, Mrs. W. M. Steeves, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. J. McIndoe, Mrs. H. Rigg and Miss J. D. Lamarche.

Preview of the Wallace Shows

The layout of Wallace Bros. Shows, arriving this week-end for business at Lachute Fair, reveals a number of features newly acquired by this company and therefore new to local Fair-goers.

There are one or two educational side shows, such as the Iron Lung (with patient under treatment); a biological exhibit and lecture entitled "Ever Since Eve"; and a giant live octopus. In the shows of entertainment there is an old favorite, the Monkey Circus, with a complete new setting to exploit the ingenuity of these simian performers; trained dogs and ponies appear in this same show.

Many new rides will afford thrills for young and old. These include the Motordrome, the Fly-O-Plane, the Kiddies' Boat Ride, and many others; in addition there is a pony track to fascinate the youngsters, a Fun House to exhilarate those who would explore its interior; and the Follies also present an elaborate show.

"The Show Beautiful", slogan of the current Wallace Bros. Shows, suggests the general setting has been revamped for colorful effect. A series of searchlights over the scene at night, is one example of this treatment.

Arena Echoes to Wrestling Fans

Highlight of two wrestling programs during the past week was — not the Fat Man from Missouri, nor the eye-gougers and below-the-belt artists — but two cleancut performers in Friday's bill, Jerry Bright and Leo Boucher. These two pitted their muscle, skill, and nothing else, in the second feature of this program, at the Lachute Auditorium. . . Bright won the first session. He was ruled loser in the second clash when Boucher wore him ragged with a grinding head-hold and Referee Kid Lyons halted the battle. In the final, Boucher was at the receiving end of Bright's relentless head punches, and Jerry won the contest — two out of three.

In the main bout Badman Gaudette won two straight falls against Villain Geo. Brown. In the preliminary show, Latreille was acclaimed winner after Aurele Robin had enacted his usual climax of slugging the referee.

* * *

At the Arena on Monday evening Jean Pusie, former hockey pro, and Jacques Trudeau, were the star performers — Pusie winning the first round by the disqualification route, and the second by battery and assault, when provoked by his opponent to employ rough-house tactics.

In the farce of the evening Legrand and Langevin, two well-built matmen, were wasted talent when pitted against the 625-pound "Blimp" Levy. They tripped the giant and finally pinned him for the count — one on each massive shoulder.

Pat Girard was the unpopular winner against Young McCoy, in the one-fall preliminary.

Promoter Leo Clouette, well satisfied with the public response, announced these programs to continue Monday evenings at the Lachute Arena.

Step Nearer to Purchase of B'bg Wartime Homes

Veterans' Minister Sends Commendation, Work of Rehabilitation Group

"In Brownsburg"
(Specially Contributed)

Tenants of wartime houses have received a questionnaire covering the purchase of these homes, which are to be sold to tenants for 15% down and balance as rent of a cost to be determined by arrangement. The Tenants' Association formed to carry the sale through, have been actively engaged in securing ownership at a cost within reach of the tenants and of reasonable value. Under the B.N.A. Act the purchase must be conducted in conjunction with the Municipal Council, before which body this matter came up for ratification at last meeting.

• • •

Rehabilitation Commended

The Right Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, in a letter to the honorary secretary of the Rehabilitation Committee, had his to say in connection with the work of that committee:

"I feel that I should thank you and your committee for the splendid work which I know you have been doing in the field of rehabilitation for our veterans. I hope you will pass my thanks to your committee, and may I further say, that if I can be of any additional assistance, I trust you will let me know. — Sincerely yours, Ian MacKenzie."

• • •

Dangerous Play

Brownsburg, which has been called the "home of Dominion Ammunition", has been noted for the great care which it exercises during the process of manufacture and the absence of accidents over long periods involving thousands of man-hours in making the various explosive products for which it is noted. It is surprising, therefore, that the inherent safety precautions so characteristic of the people have not been taught to the younger generation who some day will carry the traditions of their fathers. Indiscriminate shooting by young boys, particularly in the vicinity of the shooting ranges and picnic grounds, has been the cause of much damage to property. Wanton design or thoughtless irresponsibility is evident in bullet holes through fire buckets and hydrant boxes, rendering such safety equipment useless. Some accidents to person were reported, and with a continuation of such destructive shooting it will not be surprising if the grounds are prohibited to the general public.

Offer Advice for Polio Prevention

As a service in the public interest, Lachute Lions Club has circulated five thousand leaflets, French and English, giving advice for the prevention of infantile paralysis. The following hints are enumerated, on recommendation of the Argenteuil County Health Unit:

1. Don't delay to call your physician for any sickness, however slight, in your family during the period from June to September.
2. Observe these simple precautions:
   (a) Keep flies away from food.
   (b) Use only pure water and pasteurized milk.
   (c) Wash children's hands and faces before allowing them to eat.
   (d) Do not swim in polluted water.
   (e) Keep children and adults away from any sick persons.
   (f) Avoid getting overtired and extreme fatigue from exercise.
   (g) Avoid tonsils and adenoid operations during an epidemic.

Business Changes

Among recent changes in business ownership is the Rex Café, which has been successfully operated for the past few years by Roger Pagé. Mr. Pagé sold out recently to O. Deschamps, from Montreal.

Another Montreal partnership, Messrs. Gignac and Richer, recently took over the Dorius Lepine garage at Brownsburg — Mr. Lepine returning to his former line of business as a wholesale lumber dealer.

School Party Introduced to V.C., Col. C. C. Merritt, on Ottawa Tour

On Thursday last, the Grade XI graduating class of Lachute High School were guests of Georges Héon, K.C., M.P., at the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa.

On their arrival the group was met by Mr. Héon who had a highly interesting and educational program arranged for the afternoon.

After a group picture on the steps of the main entrance to the Parliament Buildings (reproduced on this page), the class assembled in Confederation Hall to witness the entrance of the Speaker to the House of Commons for the opening of the afternoon session. Following this, each member of the class was presented with a copy of "Orders of the Day" and a seating plan of the House of Commons. The group was then conducted to the visitors' gallery, where they were able to observe the opening of the House and the ensuing procedures and debate.

After following, with eager interest, the events in the Commons for more than an hour, the group was taken to Mr. Héon's office, where he explained something of the work and duties of a Member of Parliament while in Ottawa. This was followed by a delightful luncheon in the parliamentary restaurant with Mr. Héon. At the conclusion of the luncheon, Olive Trayers, on behalf of the group, suitably thanked the host for his kindness and hospitality.

After luncheon, accompanied by a guide the group toured the Parliament Buildings, including the Peace Tower, the Memorial Chamber, the Senate Chamber and the Parliamentary Library.

The opportunity to meet Col. C. C. Merritt, V.C., member for Nanaimo, was a highlight of the trip appreciated by every member of the party. A drive through the grounds of the Dominion Experimental Farm, and a drive around Rideau Hall, residence of the Governor-General, completed the program of the tour.

Lachute High School staff is deeply indebted to Mr. Héon for the interest he has shown in the pupils, and the painstaking efforts with which he arranged this enjoyable and informative outing.

Brownsburg — Over fifty pupils escorted by their teachers left here on Saturday morning for Ottawa, where they were conducted by special guides through the Parliament Buildings, the Experimental Farms and the Museum. Catholic and Protestant schools were represented and bilingual guidance and information was at their disposal during the visit. The party was entertained by Mr. Georges Héon and Mrs. Héon to luncheon at the House of Commons. Mr. Cyprien Lacasse on behalf of the French pupils, and Mr. Staniforth on behalf of the English, expressed their warm appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Héon for the splendid opportunity given the children, to see for themselves and learn at first hand how the affairs of the nation are conducted. No amount of written description could equal the knowledge they had acquired of the things which they had seen. One picture is worth a thousand words. Autographed copies of the group photograph were later presented to each member of the party by Mr. Héon as souvenirs of their trip. The pupils were conveyed by highway on the Ontario side, and returned on the Quebec side of the Ottawa River — which was at its highest point in 50 years, an interesting highlight in this historical waterway.

Lachute High School Party on Ottawa Tour

Georges H. Héon, M.P., with Mr. A. E. Thompson and Miss Gladys Styles, of the teaching staff, are seen with members of the Lachute High School graduating class on their recent visit to the Houses of Parliament and other spots of interest in the capital.

"Better American Troops Now, than Russians Later"

Following are excerpts from a speech by Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P. for Argenteuil, in the House of Commons debate on Bill 253, "to make provision with respect to forces of the United States when visiting Canada and with respect to the exercise of discipline and administration of such forces".

Hansard, June 5, 1947 —

"The bill before this house establishes a momentous precedent . . it means that there will be United States armed forces in undefined numbers on Canadian territory in peace time, and that they will have their own military laws and courts. In theory this move is repugnant to our much vaunted sovereignty, and in this hour of internationalism I am very much afraid that further offences against sovereignty will be committed, as they have been openly and sometimes cruelly committed in the last few years. However, Canada must act according to her own situation in a changing world which has put her at the cross-roads of the Big Five. No longer is Canada, as was stated at the Versailles treaty, a fireproof house far away from incendiary materials.

"The hon. member for Wetaskiwin (Mr. Jaques) stated, to my mind correctly, our position when he said that we may be the nut in the Russian-American nutcracker. But we cannot change this position, hard as we may try, although the position itself may be unenviable and is not of our own choosing. I believe that we must face the facts coolly, because we are pledging our own interests to hemispheric defence, and we cannot antagonize our powerful neighbor to the south. Rather should we accommodate him as much as we can. If the joint defence plan calls for United States troops to be on Canadian soil in peace time, we cannot logically or intelligently oppose a measure which provides for military laws and courts for these troops.

". . I wish to state, Mr. Speaker, that I shall vote for the bill as it stands. As I see it—and this may appear crude to some hon. members—it is better for Canada to have on Canadian territory, at this time, United States troops, than Russian troops later."

As one pessimist remarked — the car you can't get in a model that hasn't been decided on yet, is unavailable in most colors.

35 Years Clerk Of Township

(By Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — At the meeting of Arundel Municipal Council held on June 2, the resignation of Pierre Cantin as secretary-treasurer was accepted with regret. After 35 years in this office Mr. Cantin has been obliged to retire on account of ill health. His genial personality and valuable experience in matters of the municipal administration, will be sorely missed. (Mr. Cantin resigned some time ago as municipal clerk of Weir, Municipality of Montcalm.)

Mr. Percy Staniforth was nominated as new secretary-treasurer in Arundel Township.

Buried in Native Ottawa Valley

Late W. H. Villeneuve

Cushing W. — A number of friends and relatives attended the burial of the late Mr. W. H. Villeneuve, which took place Saturday morning last in the Roman Catholic Cemetery at St. Andrews East.

Mr. Villeneuve was born in Stonefield, and had spent the greater part of his life in this locality; he was well and favorably known here. He passed away in hospital in Montreal last Thursday, and the funeral service was held Sunday morning in St. Anthony's Church, Montreal, the remains being then conveyed by motor to St. Andrews for burial.

The late Mr. Villeneuve is survived by his wife, the former Miss Annie Bryerton of Carillon; four brothers, Messrs. Lawrence, Lowe, Guy, and Hayes Villeneuve; and one sister, Mrs. Randolph McKay, of Stonefield.

Accompanying the funeral cortege from Montreal besides his widow were his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ernest Poole, and daughter Betty, of St. Laurent; Mrs. J. Funcheon, Town of Mount Royal; Mr. Kenneth Bryerton and J. Daniel, of Montreal.

Brownsburg Pupils Guests of M.P. on Visit to Parliament Buildings

A French and English group from the Brownsburg schools enjoyed a similar outing on Saturday, visiting the Houses of Parliament and other spots of interest. Pictured in the above photograph before the main entrance to the Parliament Buildings, are school pupils in the company of (front row, left to right) Sister Marie de St. Gilles, Mr. Dennis Staniforth, Mr. and Mrs. Georges H. Héon, Mr. Cyprien Lacasse and Sister Marie de St. Alfred.

Death of Former Business Man

Late Isaie Laurin

The death of a well-known former business man, Isaie Martin Laurin, occurred yesterday at his residence in Verdun, where he had lived since his retirement. Mr. Laurin was 73 years of age, the father of Ald. David Laurin and of Ernest Laurin, who now carries on the wholesale fruit business which his father established on moving here from Ste. Dorothee 23 years ago. The late Mr. Laurin also erected the handsome business block at the corner of Main and Water Streets, and resided there for many years. His wife, the former Mary Ann Jones, predeceased him in 1940; the survivors include three sons and five daughters.

The funeral has been arranged to take place at the J. W. McGillivray funeral chapel, 3037 Wellington St., Verdun, at 2 p.m. on Saturday, followed by interment at Lachute Protestant Cemetery.

Corpus Christi Fete Marred by Weather

For the first time in many years, bad weather disrupted plans for the annual Corpus Christi processions in the neighboring parishes. The Catholic fete was observed in the various churches, attended by large numbers of parishioners. Tradition holds that this eventuality is an omen of misfortune for the coming year.

• • •

Brownsburg — The usual colorful procession could not be held on Sunday, owing to the inclement weather. The route of the procession had been tastefully decorated and preparations were on a large scale but the ceremonies had to be abandoned.

Commercial Show Outstanding

Quality Evident in Opening Events of Saddle and Harness Horse Performance

Superlatives have become commonplace in the description of Lachute Spring Fair. . Year by year the enterprise reaches new attainments; and viewing the Fair as a community venture, the local observer reflects in his impressions a pride which appears well justified. For the Fair is a symbol, a gesture, an achievement of the whole community. And regardless of the point of view — whether that of an outsider or a local townsman, whether an enthusiast of fine livestock or a mere spectator in the holiday mood — Lachute Spring Fair appears a highly creditable show.

Competition in Livestock Still Outstanding Factor

The motivating force in this Argenteuil County Fair since its inception, has been the competitive spirit in livestock fanciers. Today, in its 126th presentation, the Fair introduces a quality of stock which is again a credit to this countryside—for horses and cattle bred in Argenteuil are meeting competition from a wide area, and again claiming their quota of awards. The same merit is evidenced in physique and performance of light horses owned in this locality — hunters, jumpers, saddle and carriage horses, even to pacers which compete in the track events.

The livestock is not all to the honor and glory of Argenteuil, however — far from it. The Fair directors count on the support and patronage of exhibitors throughout Eastern Canada and the adjacent States — and these in turn find the competition worthwhile, and the hospitality encouraging.

Opening of the light horse show last evening proved the successful debut to a four-day program combining quality, skill and performance.

No figures are available at this early date. (The Exhibition opened only yesterday). The opening was marked by good omen from the meteorologists — and President J. H. Black and Manager A. Bothwell expressed optimism for attendance and the general outcome. Mr. Black saw indication of an even greater show than last year — and it is recalled, the 1946 Spring Fair broke all previous records.

Notable among the exhibitors again is Gilbert E. Arnold, of Grenville, who tops the entry list; in spite of the loss of 57 purebred horses in last week's disastrous fire, he has 94 horses in the stalls to compete in draft classes. Other exhibitors of heavy horses include W. H. Coverdale, Portsmouth, Ont.; Geo. Watson, Leonard, Ont.; and numerous others from this district and elsewhere.

Prominent among the Ayrshire men are Cummings Bros., Lancaster; Roland Pigeon, Vercheres; H. J. O'Connell, Ste. Genevieve; Mode & Sons, Vankleek Hill, and from this district, J. H. Black and J. P. Bradley.

Holstein specialists include — Norda Farms, Vankleek Hill; A. G. Garrett, Lancaster; Leslie Nixon, Vankleek Hill; Wilson Bros. and F. W. Allmen from this district.

Slack Bros, of Waterloo, Que., and Cecil Acres, of Vernon, Ont., are noted among the exhibitors of sheep, while Cummings Bros. are prominent with swine.

Trade Exhibits Varied, Show Post-War Revival

The post-war "pick-up" is evident on all sides at Lachute Fair, but perhaps most notably of all in the industrial exhibits this year. The Main Building, with curtailed space due to the innovation of hospital quarters and extension of the lunch room, presents many interesting displays. These include C-I-L Chemicals Division, with fertilizers and plant protection products of particular concern to the agriculturist; Vio-Bin (Canada) Limited with vitamin oils and concentrates, for livestock and medicinal use; Food Lockers Ltd., of Lachute, with Frosted Food products and equipment, also refrigeration, cooking appliances and radio.; Walker-Kingsbury Inc., of Lachute, with an attractive display for Royal Typewriters. . . . Upstairs the County Women's Institutes' display of handicraft draws unfailing attention, from county folk and visitors alike. Singer Sewing Machines, through their Lachute branch, also have an interesting display.

There is greatly increased accommodation for displays outdoors, arranged to better advantage than previously to catch the attention of spectators. Local firms and national manufacturers are well represented. The shows include — Shell Oil, with cattle sprays and domestic products; Farmers' Electric Supply Reg'd, Lachute, with Surge milkers and coolers, and with the Bendix washer, a star performer among household appliances; A. E. Greenmark Ltd., Lachute, with Fairbanks Morse machinery and devices, also oil-burners, water softeners and varied pumping, plumbing and heating equipment; T. McOuat & Son Ltd. with a good display for C-I-L Paints and Varnishes, also Reardon decorating products, and their Timken oil-burners, Coleman domestic heaters and water heaters. J. W. Lefebvre Ltd., Lachute, have the Servel kerosene refrigerator, General Electric, Frigidaire, Connor and other electrical products, together with household furnishings. . . Cormack Chinchilla Ranch, Ile Bizard, and Chore-Boy milking machines are also represented.

Elsewhere on the grounds, De Laval has a display of dairy equipment, stationary engines and other useful farm devices. Northland Automotive Equipment, of Lachute, also has an elaborate show of Willys Jeeps and auxiliary machines to perform numerous heavy jobs around the farm and shop. . . Yesterday, on the opening day, this firm had a demonstration of firefighting, road-building and other equipment in a lot adjoining the Fair Grounds, and the performance of these Jeeps and attachments was witnessed by many interested spectators.

Grimm Manufacturing Co. Ltd. has a syrup evaporator on display, and Cousson Frères are showing farm tractor equipment.

A centre of attraction, auspiciously situated on the heaviest traffic-way of the field, is the Lions Club booth displaying the Dodge car, prize in the drawing to take place Saturday on behalf of the club's charity funds. Opposite this traffic lane is the Chamber of Commerce office, with a personnel doing valuable work to assist all and sundry. One of the useful functions of this information stand is to secure accommodation for out-of-town visitors. The Brownsburg Legion No. 70 also has a stand for sale of subscriptions to the War Memorial Fund, in which a G-E refrigerator will be awarded. The prize is on view, and Legion representatives on hand for sale of tickets, at the J. W. Lefebvre Ltd. booth.

(Mr. Arthur Pollock is in charge of space for the commercial exhibits.)

W.I. Catering

The Lachute Women's Institute has enlisted a willing personnel to assure the success of their annual undertaking, that of catering to the hungry crowd. In this effort they will greatly appreciate the extension provided for the lunch quarters. Another change in layout of the main building is a Red Cross hospital room, quartered in the southwest corner, to meet such emergencies or accidents as may occur. Here Miss L. Harrison, R.N., is in charge.

Midway and Shows

The Wallace Bros. Shows have something really spectacular, with a number of new attractions and amusements, also several educational sideshows. Larger space was allotted this year for the midway and concessions. The special orange-hued train arrived here on Sunday and unloaded properties and machinery to create an imposing layout of booths, stands and sensational rides. The amusement area is a scene of light and color, for the promoters have paid special attention to this means of brightening the show and appealing to the crowd. There is an interesting addition in the mobile clinic, transported in a large white van. Here the workings of the "iron lung" are explained and demonstrated.

We have heard too much in the past from little Canadians who do not want any more people in Canada, because they themselves are doing very nicely.

Unified Action for Soil Conservation

(Abstract of address by R. H. Musser, U.S. Soil Conservation Service, Milwaukee, Wis., before Ontario Provincial Convention of Agricultural Institute of Canada, at Guelph.)

Conservation of soil and water resources is one of the most important problems before the world today. Soil conservation farming increases yields and lowers production costs of food and raw materials. Profitable farms pay more taxes. Soil conservation keeps silt out of streams and helps reduce floods.

The world has about 4 billion acres of productive cropland to support 2 billion people. That is an average of 2 acres per person for production of food and clothing the world over. It takes 2½ acres to meet the requirements of good living.

There's nothing much we can do about that except to conserve the land we have, use it wisely, keep it producing, and increase the efficiency of crop and livestock production. But all the efficiency in the world will do us no good if we lose the productive topsoil. As laymen and scientists, we must recognize that loss of productive land anywhere on the face of the globe affects the people and nations of every other part of the world.

Mr. Musser explained how the U.S. Soil Conservation Service cooperating with state college experiment stations maintains experiment stations (such as the one at LaCrosse, Wis.) and conducts research work on soil conservation.

"Scientific information obtained from research and practical experience, is applied to the land by farmers in nearly 1800 locally organized soil conservation districts established by farmer-elected boards of supervisors who are responsible to no state or federal agency. Soil conservation districts are the farmers' own organization, legal subdivisions of state government without taxing or bonding power, which concentrate on the problems of conservation and do not scatter their shots over a variety of activities. They are empowered to ask assistance in conducting their work from any local, state or federal agency that can help. Usually they get technical help on planning farms for soil and water conservation from the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and educational help from the state agricultural services."

Emphasizing the fact that topsoil can be maintained only by a "compete conservation plan" protecting and making the best use of each acre, Mr. Musser said. "No one practice alone is enough. No incomplete set of practices is enough. Only 'acre-by-acre treatment', planned right out on the land by the operator and the farm planner, and then properly applied and maintained, will provide for wise use and continued production of our crop, grazing and forest lands. Such a program is in compliance with nature's laws."

He mentioned the support which civic clubs, women's clubs, sportsmen's groups, commercial companies, bankers, farm organizations, radio stations, newspapers and magazines, chambers of commerce, and others are giving to the national soil and water conservation program.

In addition, Mr. Musser cited the incorporation of basic information about conservation of soil and water in the public school curricula, praising the work of many state departments of education, county school superintendents and teachers in this connection.

Future Farm Barn May Be Smaller

Mechanical engineers have often expressed the opinion that improvements in the design of barns have not kept pace with the advances in the design of farm machinery. This is not exactly true, writes W. B. Denyes in an article on "The Farm Barn", in the Agricultural Institute Review. Through the years, he says, barn designs have improved. If changes seem to have been slow, there are very good reasons for this situation.

The replacement value of farm buildings is close to the sales value of the land and buildings. A farmer cannot "turn in" an obsolete barn for a new one, so he hesitates to scrap a usable barn and build a more modern one. Many of the good barns scattered across the older provinces of Canada never would have been built if the old barn had not burned.

Perhaps a farmer's greatest fear is that of fire originating in a mow full of hay on top of a stable of pure bred accredited cows. Housed in a one-storey; metal clad and metal lined, insulated and ventilated stable, cattle are much safer, and if fire does happen, there is more time to release them. In an emergency, an extra five minutes may be the difference between getting the cattle out or not.

Considerable work on the advantages of feeding and handling chopped hay has been done in recent years. Field baling is also becoming popular. Much research, too, has been done on mow curing of hay, preferably in chopped form. Either of these methods will reduce the storage space needed and smaller barn lofts will suffice. These new methods of hay handling will probably make drive floors obsolete, with a saving to the farmer, because about 25 per cent of the upper storey is now taken up as a drive floor. Greater use of corn silos and ensilage hay will reduce barn sizes.

Obviously the changes in barn design must follow, not precede, improvements in the mechanization of the farm. Canadian contractors are able to supply suitable barns and good value for money expended.

Ottawa Exhibition Prize Lists Issued

Prize Lists for the Ottawa Exhibition, August 18 to 23, have now been mailed. However, a number of intending exhibitors have come into the picture since the last Exhibition, and they are requested to forward their names and addresses to the Exhibition management at Lansdowne Park so that Prize Lists may be mailed to them.

Entries for the general livestock divisions, horses, cattle, sheep and swine will close July 26; horse show, junior agriculture, poultry, agriculture and horticulture, dairy and other food products and handicrafts on August 2.

Exhibitors and their friends will also be interested in the great advance ticket sale campaign on which $5,000.00 in prizes, including two fine 1947 automobiles, will be given away. Only holders of Advance Sale Tickets will be eligible to participate. It is imperative, therefore, that applications for advance sale tickets should be made as soon as possible.

The program for this six-day event, the biggest of all Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec community shows, is the finest ever devised. Among the items is Goldman's world-famous band which will give two free concerts every afternoon. The horse show for five nights is another outstanding item.

Thanks to the Russians, the Salvation Army is being barred from Germany. But what region needs salvation more?

It's Fair Week!

FAIR WEEK has become a part of the perennial tradition which goes with rural life. No matter how great our scientific progress in this atomic age, the rural fairs — at least, as we observe them here in Eastern Canada — become generally more progressive and more popular.

There is something democratic about a rural fair, probably because it stems from community enterprise and community effort. In the days of the Lachute Fall Fair — scarcely remembered now by many of those active in our Exhibition plans — the proprietary interest was perhaps more widespread through the county, for there were many more exhibitors of farm, garden and kitchen produce. Rumor had it, in those days, that Aunt Sarah repeatedly collared the prize with her same red jars of jelly, or her same bright woollen afghan, year after year. Howbeit, farmers' wives and sons and daughters were mighty keen.

But still the Fair is an occasion for a farmer's holiday. While livestock standards improve steadily; while records soar higher, and the Fair outstrides its early pace — today, as of 20, 30, 40 years ago, the Fair Grounds are a meeting place for the farmers and the countryfolk who unpretentiously form the backbone of Canada's economy. We're glad to shake them by the hand, many whom we rarely meet in the day's round of affairs.

Father's Day

SUNDAY, June 15, will be observed—with sincerity, jocularity, and a variety of emotions —as Father's Day, echoing the slogan, "Honor dad—builder of our children's future".

Started three years before the first official Mother's Day, Father's Day was conceived in 1910 by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Wash. She felt the need of a special day to honor Father and "to call attention to Father's place in the home, the training of the children, the safeguarding of the marriage tie, the protection of womanhood and childhood".

Mrs. Dodd embodied her wishes in a letter to a Ministers' Alliance, which received it favorably. From this humble beginning, the day of remembrance gained impetus throughout the United States and Canada. The Father's Day tribute on June 15 marks the first official celebration of the day in Canada since before the war, during which period, with so many men away in uniform, it was not widely marked.

"Hardship" Taxes

HON. DOUGLAS ABBOTT, Minister of Finance, claims the 25 per cent tax on such things as alarm clocks, fountain pens, table silverware, and shopping bags is not a "luxury" tax; that nowhere in the Act is the word "luxury" used. He claims he has never referred to the tax as a "luxury" one, nor had his predecessor, the Rt. Hon. J. L. Ilsley.

Technically speaking, Mr. Abbott is correct. The tax was imposed during the war years to produce revenue and to discourage people from buying articles not considered a necessity. It served a useful purpose then, but in the post-war period when we are striving to reach a high level of prosperity, the tax is a handicap. The whole structure of tax levies needs to be brought up to date.

The unfairness of the tax has been exposed by Donald Fleming, Member of Parliament for Toronto Eglington. For instance, a refrigerator is taxable, an icebox is not; a vacuum cleaner is taxable, a carpet sweeper is not; an electric range is taxable, a coal range is not; fountain pens, clocks, watches, plated knives, forks and spoons are all subject to the tax, while oil paintings, expensive rugs and other items more aptly described as luxuries, are not taxed. You can spend $10,000 for an Old Master, yet not be taxed, but just try and buy a five-cent bottle of pop or a five-cent chocolate bar.

G. K. Fraser, Member of Parliament for Peterborough, explains it this way: "A worker must pay for the luxury of having an alarm clock to waken him in the mornisg so that he may go to work to earn enough so that at the end of the week he may have the luxury of seeing taxes deducted from his wage cheque by way of income tax".

We agree with Mr. Abbott that the 25 per cent levy should not be referred to as a "luxury" tax: it should be called a "hardship" tax.

Keeping Up-to-Date

WHETHER we are ready to admit it or not, this has become an age of internationalism. No longer is it sufficient for a citizen merely to keep up with happenings in his own county, his own province or even his own country. In this fast-moving period a development in a country or city thousands of miles away can affect a Canadian community.

The last war emphasized to Canadians that the time had passed when they could think of their country as a land isolated and protected by vast oceans on either coast. Events in Europe and in Asia were interlocked with the destiny of the Dominion. The end of the war left Canada with new and lasting responsibilities in helping to make and keep the peace.

The citizen shares those responsibilities because his representatives in parliament can carry out programs and policies only to the extent they are backed by the people of Canada.

Where can the facts be found that will enable a Canadian to express a thoughtful, well-informed opinion on an issue of national importance? To what source can he turn for background information on an international development?

Special departments of newspapers are one help — special commentaries by news analysts, interpretive articles by correspondents and other expressions of expert opinion. Magazines contain many worthwhile articles written from the Canadian viewpoint. Practically every library has timely books on current affairs.

An atlas or a globe kept near the easy chair often clarifies a news story or article. Reference libraries make available material for a debate or discussion and reports of surveys and similar activities can be obtained.

Keeping up to date needn't be dry or dull. It can provide an interesting way of broadening one's horizons, making new friends and gaining satisfaction from being in step with events.

Being informed and alert is more than the duty of a good citizen. It can safeguard liberty itself.

Immigration and Emigration

WE CANNOT — if we are to become what we should become — go on losing the cream of our population to another country. We talk eternally about immigration; we seem incapable of understanding that no immigration can much compensate for emigration — that nothing we can take in can take the place of our most vigorous and adventurous going out.

Parliament has been concerned passionately with Mr. LUDGER DIONNE and his Polish "slaves". We wonder if it couldn't more gainfully become passionate over the loss of thousands of our young people month after month to the United States.

"MY WEEK"
By R. J. DRACHMAN

One of the most amusing experiences I have had was to interview a number of city children who had their first experience of life in the country and in the small towns. There was one little girl about seven years old, I will always remember her. I wanted to test her knowledge and mentioned a number of people, asking if she knew who they were. She was good at it, but when I asked about Hitler, and this was before the war, she said:"He's in the cost of everything". There I was stuck. She could tell me no more. She was right, mind you, but where did she get the idea? I never found out.

* * *

Sometimes I am accused of being a pessimist. Once upon a time I heard a pessimist defined as one who had lived too long with an optimist. I am not sure which does the most harm, the one who believes that skies are always bright or the one who thinks it will never stop raining.

But let's go back to a real piece of pessimism. The Economist of London, England, is one of the oldest economic journals in the world. It was established in 1843. This is from the issue of May 8, 1847, just 100 years ago:

"The awful predicament in which the country is now placed, and the still more awful predicament into which it is fast hurrying, from causes over which human power can now exercise little or no direct control, render it the imperative duty of all to exert every effort of mind in order to avert, or at least to ameliorate, if possible, the disasters which impend over us."

How doleful that sounds in the light of today. The corn laws had just been repealed but the Act did not go into force until 1849. That was the beginning of Britain's greatness. The industrial revolution had begun, it was destined to be Britain's century of progress. Then why were the editors of a truly great journal looking at things from the darkest possible point of view?

It was the repeal of the corn laws which gave Britain its forward urge at that time. The door is open for a similar move on the part of the United States. The situation in the world today calls for the expansion of trade but tariff reductions can never be made while the United States the richest country of them all holds fast to the position of being the highest protectionist country in history.

KNOBBY KNEES SHY

Shorts in warm weather are undoubtedly the most comfortable garb, compatible with respectability, for men; that is for men who don't wander around in blackberry bushes. And yet no one wears them. The knobby knee has bowed to the baggy pant.

Rentals Regulations, Questions and Answers

Q. — Are all self-contained suites, apartments and houses permitted the 10 per cent increase?

A. — No, the 10 per cent increase applies only to accommodation which was completed and rented before January 1, 1944.

* * *

Q. — If a landlord had his rent set by the Rentals Board between January 1, 1944, and March, 1947, at a much lower rate than prevailing rates in the same district, can anything be done about it?

A. — The landlord should apply to the Court of Rentals Appeals in his vicinity, for an adjustment in his rent. This should be done before he offers his tenants the two-year lease.

* * *

Q. — Suppose a landlord is renting his property at a lower rental than that of similar property in the same neighborhood, can he now obtain more than the 10 per cent increase?

A. — Before offering his tenant the two-year lease, the landlord should make application to the rentals board for an increase not exceeding prevailing rentals for similar accommodation in the area.

* * *

Q. — If the Rentals Board should grant such an increase, may the landlord then request the 10 per cent increase?

A. — Yes, he may, by offering his tenant a two-year lease.

* * *

Q. — Under the two-year lease, has the tenant the right to break his lease on 30 days' notice?

A. — Yes, by giving 30 days' notice in writing to his landlord, the tenant may logically vacate.

Professor 40 Years Hasn't Missed Class

Montreal (CP)—He hasn't missed a class in 40 years. Pull yourselves together parents, he isn't a student. He's a professor.

Prof. Charles T. Sullivan, popular mathematics instructor at McGill University, is retiring at the end of the present session with the record of never having missed a class during his 40 years with the university.

"There were days when I would have gladly cancelled my classes, but I was the only one and my students were many", he says. "I did not like the thought of doing something which might interfere with the students' progress".

The late Sir Arthur Currie once described Prof. Sullivan as the "man with the stop watch".

This title, the way Prof. Sullivan best likes to be remembered, arose through the fact that for decades he acted as timekeeper — or in some other capacity — at practically every athletic event at the university.

Everyone agrees the world needs brotherly love instead of force, but most people are waiting for the other fellow to do the loving first.

New stenographer: How do you spell "graphic" — with one "f" or two?

Boss: Well, if you're going to use any, you might as well go to the limit.

"Before using your Hair Restorer I had two bald spots, now I have only one."

Coed: Shakespeare is immortal.

Boy friend: Oh, well, we all are once in a while.

The young swain had just finished declaring his intentions to his future father-in-law. "And now sir, that I have told you I am going to marry Anne, there's one thing I want to get off my chest".

The F.F.I.L.: "You just tell me about it, my boy."

"Well, it's like this", the lad stammered, "it's a heart with 'Mabel' and it's tattooed".

W.M.S. Annual Sectional Meet Held in B'burg

Brownsburg — The annual meeting of the Ottawa Valley Section of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church, was held in Brownsburg United Church recently.

Mrs. Rupert Bradford, of Lachute, sectional vice-president, was in the chair.

Representatives of various auxiliaries took the opening exercises, after which Mrs. Bradford called on Mrs. Stephen, newly elected president of Montreal Presbyterial.

Mrs. Stephen spoke of the advancement of the work and also of the need to go ahead in greater action, to "make the best of our blessings and face up to the tasks ahead".

The president, Mrs. Stephen, introduced the members of the executive who were present and these in turn gave a short resume of their various departments, pointing out the need for further advancement in all phases of the work.

Mrs. Wm. King, of Brownsburg, was soloist and Mrs. Wm. Usher, of Cushing, brought greetings from the W.C.T.U.

Miss Violet Saunders, of Montreal, was guest speaker, outlining her work at St. Columba House, Montreal, as well as her work in Japan which was interrupted by the outbreak of war. Upon her evacuation from Japan, Miss Saunders went to Trinidad, and then to Montreal, but expects to return to Japan in the near future to resume her work there.

The usual business followed, and the singing of the national anthem brought the meeting to a close. Supper was served in the church hall.

Rev. Nickerson Attends Maritime Conference

(Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — The Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Nickerson left on Monday for an extended vacation trip by motor to the Maritimes. They will attend the Maritime Conference of the United Church at Sackville, N.B., where their son, Mr. Colin Nickerson, will be ordained to the ministry. They will then visit Mrs. Nickerson's parents at Milford, N.S., and the Rev. Nickerson's father at Shelbourne, N.S. . . . During their absence services will be conducted here at 7.45 p.m. in the United Church, by the Rev. Dr. MacMillan — except on June 22, when a service of sacred song will probably be held.

Youth Leaders to be Special Visitors At Lachute Baptist

Saturday Night Rally and Sunday Services

The Rev. Roy Campbell, minister of the Hiawatha Street Baptist Church, St. Thomas, Ont., will be guest speaker at the Saturday Night Rally in Lachute Baptist Church, also at the Sunday services, morning and evening.

Mr. Earl Crowe of London, Ont., Gospel soloist, and a popular youth singer, will accompany Pastor Campbell and will be heard at all services. Christian audiences acclaim Earl Crowe wherever he goes.

During the winter months these two youth leaders have been much in demand at rallies both in United States and Canada, and their visit to Lachute promises blessing and inspiration to all.

This week will bring Saturday Night Rallies to a close for the season. Saturday Night Rallies were organized last September in order to meet a definite need in the community. The interest and regular attendance of so many on these occasions has crowned the effort with success. Already big plans are under way for the fall and winter program. To all who have helped in this project, and also to the Lachute Watchman for their co-operation, the Saturday Night Rally committee expresses a hearty "Thank You."

Lions Club and Ladies Are Guests Of B'burg Rotary

Brownsburg — On Thursday evening, June 4, at Carriere's Hotel, the Rotary Club had as their guests the Lachute Lions Club for a "Ladies' Night", at which the wives of members from both clubs were present. Guests at the head table included Mayor and Mrs. Omer Legault, of Brownsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Gordon McOuat, of Lachute. President Harris Sherwood was in the chair.

The speaker of the evening, Mr. A. C. Wilkinson, gave an exceedingly interesting and humorous address, the topic being "The Spoken Word." Mr. Wilkinson is advertising manager of Electrolux (Canada) Limited, and vice-president of the Advertising and Sales Executives Club of Montreal.

"We should never minimize the importance of words", said the speaker. "Words have destroyed friendship, have lost big orders, caused wars, and lost elections". "They have changed the course of history", he added, and cited as examples the false statements of Hitler, by means of which democracies had been fooled into believing Germany had no territorial ambitions. Another example of the power of words was found in the soul stirring speeches of Winston Churchill. "The words we use should be sincere," said Mr. Wilkinson, "and they should be short, rather than long". Lincoln's Gettysburg address was sincere and forceful and yet it was composed of the simplest words, most of them being less than two syllables.

The speaker warned against repeating oneself in speech or conversation, and he pointed out that one of the most "terrible" words in general use is the pronoun "I" followed by "me", "my" and "mine". The use of coarse words of condemnation should also be avoided, as they are a reflection on the one who uses them, rather than the one for whom they are intended.

The speaker was introduced by Linton W. Armstrong and thanked by Dennis Staniforth.

The gathering was entertained by the "Singing Waiters", a quartet comprising Harold Dando, Jack Davis, Dave Schwartz and Stuart Jones, who warbled several old favorites. An informal dance, which included square dancing, rounded off the evening, with Mr. Archie Robinson supplying the music for the set. Mrs. Joe Robinson and Mrs. Bill Seale were the lucky winners of corsages in the balloon dance.

Safety Awards to 'Gatineau' Employees

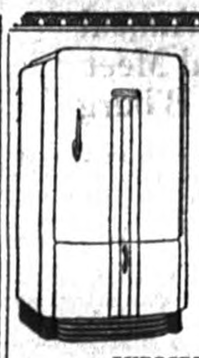

St Jerome — Life-saving and safe driving achievements of Gatineau Power Company employees were recognized last Saturday at presentations made at a meeting of the Employees Mutual Benefit Association of the company at St. Jerome.

A certificate and medal was presented to the Dorion gang for the successful resuscitation of two persons who had been knocked unconscious when they came in contact with a 2300-volt line last October. It was recalled at the presentation that the doctor who attended the victims had said that without the resuscitation applied by the Gatineau men, at least one of the victims would have died.

The certificate and medal were presented from the Canadian Electrical Association. In addition, individual medals went to each member of the Dorion line gang.

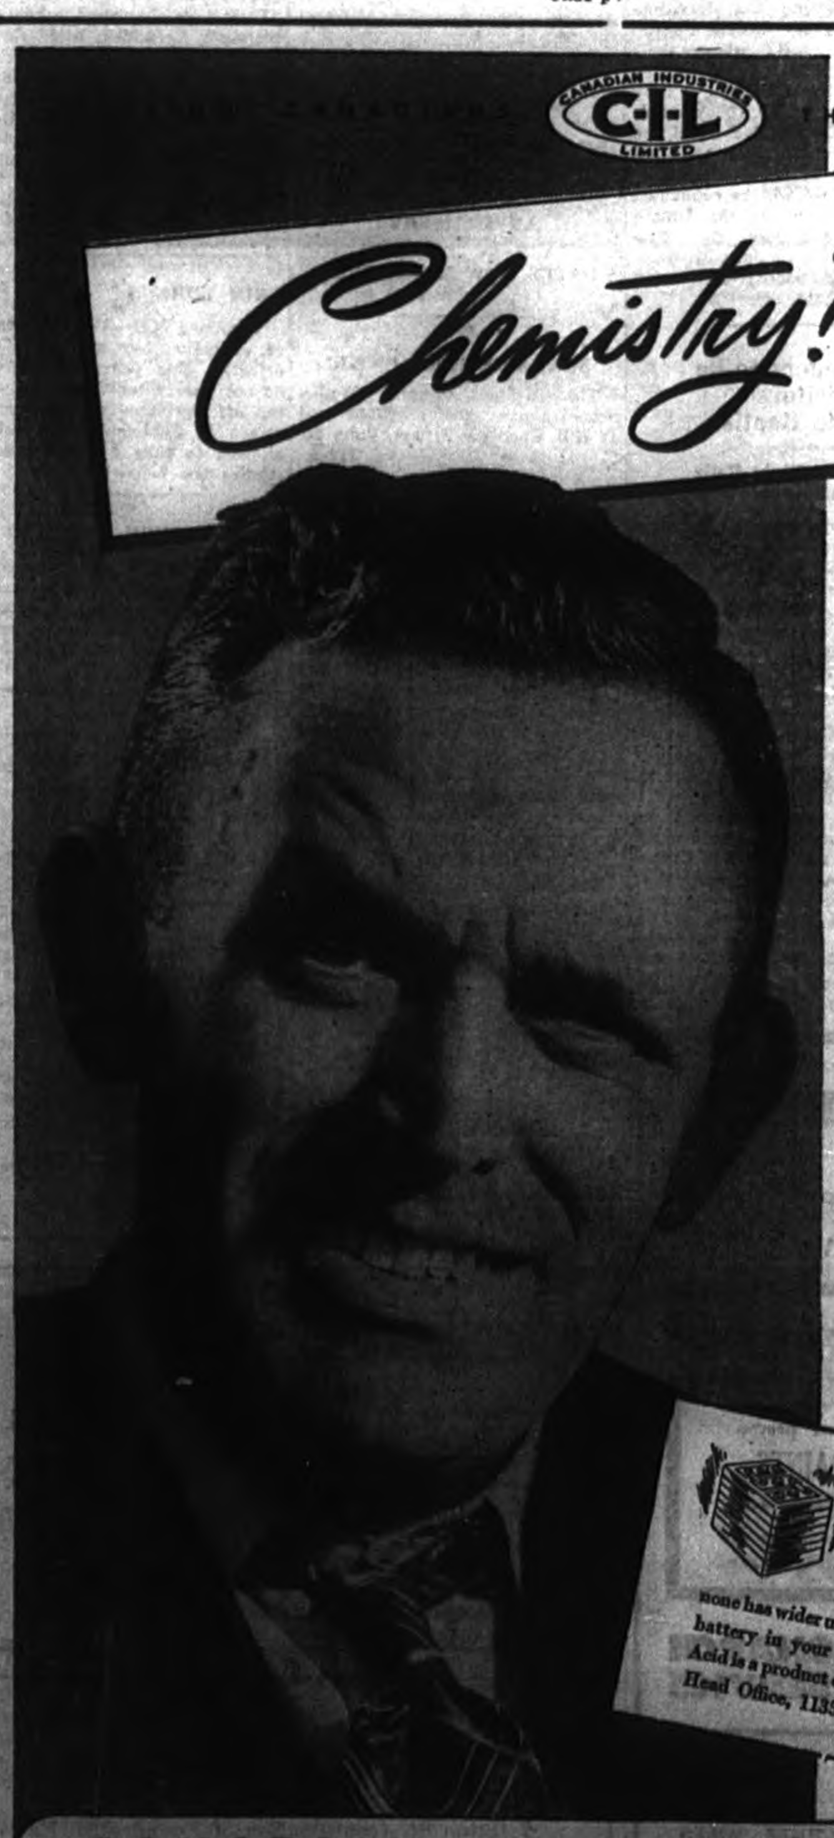

In other presentations, recognition of 10 years' accident-free driving by R. H. Bates of Hawkesbury and Henri Vanier of Dorion, were made by the company, in addition to the yearly buttons issued by the Quebec Public Utility Safety League for each year during which company employees drove without accident. Already this year a large number of buttons have been distributed for periods of one to eleven years.

THROUGH CHEMISTRY
Chemistry? How does it help me?

SOME MAY NOT realize it but there is hardly a job that doesn't depend in some degree on chemistry. It often provides the raw material or is a vital element in product treatment. In many cases the finished article is entirely chemical.
Chemistry's contributions to the home and individual are countless. Chlorine purifies the water we drink. Textiles are chemically treated to give them wearing qualities. Chemical fertilizers mean bumper crops. Chemistry produces paint, tans leather. As "Cellophane" it protects things we buy; as nylon or plastics, it serves us endlessly.
This is a chemical age, with the C-I-L oval as symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For instance:::
SULPHURIC ACID
Among the many commercial acids produced by chemistry, none has wider usefulness than sulphuric. Even the battery in your car depends upon it. Sulphuric Acid is a product of Canadian Industries Limited. Head Office, 1135 Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal.

'Mapleville Story' New Film Available For Local Showings

"The Mapleville Story", a film depicting life in a typical Canadian small town, is available now for general distribution in 16mm. size to fit non-theatrical projectors. Produced by Associated Screen News of Montreal, featuring a cast well-known on screen and radio under the direction of Gordon Sparling and with music by Lucio Agostini, "The Mapleville Story" is suitable for presentation to service clubs, church groups, schools and other organizations.

The film gives you a 20-minute glimpse of life in a Canadian town, of its business life and social forces. The basic truths of the town's economy, its business, social life, the country store, the bank and the school are worked into a background of good entertainment.

Prints of "The Mapleville Story" can be obtained from community film libraries and film councils; or you may ask your local bank manager for information as to the addresses of such councils or film libraries.

RICH, SPICY CINNAMON BUNS

Recipe

Dissolve 1 tsp. sugar in ½ c. lukewarm water; add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let mixture stand 10 min. Then stir well. Scald ½ c. milk, add 3 tbs. shortening, ¼ c. sugar, ½ tsp. salt; cool to lukewarm. Add 1 c. sifted flour to make a batter. Add yeast mixture and 1 beaten egg; beat well. Add 2½ c. sifted flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly, place in greased bowl. Cover; set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. When light punch dough down; roll out into oblong piece, about ¼" thick. Brush with 3 tbs. melted shortening or butter. Sprinkle with ¾ c. brown sugar, 1½ tsps. cinnamon, ½ c. raisins. Roll up lengthwise in a tight roll; cut in 1" slices. Place cut-side up, 1" apart in greased shallow baking pan. Cover; let rise in warm place until light, about 1 hour. Bake in 425°F. oven about 20 minutes.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

Menu Values with Veal

Veal and chicken both being white, delicately flavored meats, have much in common and are used interchangeably. At this time of the year, the homemaker may use well cooked veal as the basis for substantial supper salads and creamed dishes.

For the tender cuts of veal, which are legs, loins and shoulders, the home economists at Ottawa recommend cooking at a low to moderate temperature in dry heat. A moderate oven 325-350°F. should be used for the entire cooking period. Since veal is a dry meat with really little fat, it is recommended that the top of the roast be lightly spread with fat. Pork fat, either fresh or smoked is excellent for the purpose as it gives a very nice flavor to the meat. It will also mean that more gravy of good color can be made. Rolled or flat roasts are placed on a rack and rolled ones are turned every half hour. All veal roasts should be basted occasionally. For well-done veal, roast approximately 30-35 minutes per pound in a moderate oven 325-350°F., which you will notice is longer than the time allowed for either beef or lamb.

Less tender cuts like breast, flank, neck or stewing veal require long, slow cooking in moist heat; this means either braising or stewing. When these cuts are ground they may be pan-fried or made into an oven-cooked meat loaf just like any other minced meat. In braising, the meat is seasoned, then browned in a small amount of hot fat in a heavy pan. The meat may be floured before browning if desired. The liquid, which may be water, meat stock, milk, water from cooked vegetables, tomatoes or tomato juice, is added, the pan covered and the cooking done either on top of the stove over very low heat or in a slow oven, 325°F., until meat is tender. Raw vegetables are sometimes cooked along with meat. The liquid in the pan serves as the base for the gravy.

Veal Paprika

2½ Lbs of veal shoulder chops cut 1" thick, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon water, ½ cup dry fien bread crumbs, ½ cup of chopped onion, ¼ cup fat, 1 cup water, 1 cup sour cream, 2 tablespoons paprika.

Cut shoulder chops into serving pieces. Beat egg slightly with salt and water. Dip meat pieces in it, then roll in bread crumbs. Cook chopped onion in fat until golden brown, using heavy frying pan. Add meat and cook lightly brown. Add water, cover and simmer about 1½ hours or until tender. Add sour cream but do not stir. Sprinkle paprika over all, cover and cook about 15 minutes. Six servings.

Veal "Shanks Piquants"

6 Three-inch pieces of veal shank (about 4 lbs.), ¼ cup flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup fat, 2 cups tomato juice, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoons of horseradish, 1 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper.

Dredge meat with seasoned flour. Brown in fat using a heavy frying pan or Dutch oven. Combine tomato juice, Worcestershire sauce, horseradish, salt and pepper, bring to the boil and pour over meat. Cover and bake in a slow oven, 300°F., for 2 hours or until tender. Thicken gravy with seasoned flour left from the dredging. Serves six.

In radio work since 1940, Mrs. Hobbes fills the important post of consultant on consumer information for the CBC, and is well known as a free-lance writer for Canadian and American publications. She is married, has a grown-up son, and knows from practical experience how to combine housekeeping and a professional career.

UTILITY DRESS HIT OF FASHION PARADE

LONDON — (CP) — An evening dress price at 36s 10d ($7.25) and made from a utility fabric was shown in a mannequin parade at the British Industries Fair, Olympia.

It was of a light printed material with a tight-fitting bodice and short sleeves. Down the side of the skirt, from the waist to the hem, were solo drapes made from the same material. It had a V-neck and wide shoulders.

Fashion experts said the dress compared "very favorably" with £80 dresses made from yards of pink tulle embroidered with sequins.

W.I.'s Enthusiastic in Personal Parcels Plan

The Personal Parcel Plan continues to be a major activity of the Women's Institutes. Many friendly contacts have been established through this monthly parcel and the letters that are being received in acknowledgment. Particular needs are suggested and filled whenever possible, and special gift boxes were sent at Christmas and Easter, in many cases, in addition to the regular parcel. One branch sent warm under-clothing to their elderly recipient (surely a boon this past winter in Britain), and another reports a box of used children's clothing sent to their family.

From the Women's Voluntary Service, where the addresses were obtained, word has been received that the Q.W.I. is giving more support to this form of service than any other organization. Perhaps because neighborly sharing is an attribute of rural women, the Institute was more ready to enlarge this sharing to include our "neighbors" in England, who are so appreciative of this friendly gesture.

Hopeless Paralytics Now Taught to Walk

London (Reuters)—British medical science is making the lame walk and even patients whose spines were fractured with destruction of the spinal cord can learn to get around under the skilled hands of doctors and nurses.

Health Minister Aneurin Bevan, in the foreword to a ministry of health booklet, claims that Britain leads the world in rehabilitation of hospital cases.

A large proportion of these spinal fracture cases can now be taught to use the muscles of the upper part of their bodies, enabling them to get about in their wheelchairs, he said.

"They learn to walk on crutches — or even without crutches — with the aid of supports for their useless legs.

"Such cases in the past had nothing to look forward to but a life of complete inactivity, unable to leave their beds, paralyzed from the waist down and subject to terrible pressure sores and associated infection".

Our country is no stronger than its homes.

This tournament for the five-pins title of the province was sanctioned by the Canadian Bowling Association, and was for men only, in three different events — five-man team, two-man team, and singles. The strongest opposition came from Montreal, St. Jerome, Hawkesbury, Thurso and Montebello.

The new champions for the five-man event are Reg. MacRae, Buddy Langille (Bolodrome champion), Laurier Carrière, Fred Smith and Oswald Carriere (Cap.), playing for ARC Supply Limited, who rolled a total of 3,507 pins, an average of 234 per man. The runner-up is the Laurin Bowling Academy from Hawkesbury, piloted by Pat Dunn, who rolled a total of 3,456 pins for an average of 231 per man.

In the doubles event, Pat Dunn and Richard Lemay, from Hawkesbury, rolled a total of 1,696 pins for an average of 283 a man. The runners-up were Julien Gauthier and Marcel Deschamps, Lachute, with a total of 1,646, an average of 275 a man.

In the singles event, M. Deschamps of Lachute rolled a triple of 914 for an average of 305, after scoring a triple of 909. His closest opponent and runner-up was Buddy Langille, Lachute, with a triple of 867 (average 289).

Novel Departures In Harness Racing

By Fred Kerner

In the field of one of the more placid of sports—harness racing—there seem to be new ideas cropping up every year.

Last year the pacers were introduced to an automobile starting gate and this season they've gone completely modern with a barrier made of nylon netting.

The netting is suspended across the course and attached to pillars mounted on small rail cars running along the side of the track. The cars move forward and as they do the netting moves upward.

Weekly Newspapers' Tribute to Agriculture

Annual Gesture of Journals Across Canada, Linked with Interest of Farm Population

United Effort Has Won Farmers A Front Seat In Nation's Councils

Participating in the annual tribute of Canadian weeklies to the farmers of the nation, The Watchman is happy to combine a timely theme — in its reports and impressions of the recent Lachute Spring Fair. This event, held last week under auspices of the Argenteuil Agricultural Society, is eloquent in itself of the initiative of Agriculture in the district. Mr. H. H. Hannam, a leader in the agricultural progress of Canada, cordially supports the rural weeklies in their annual "Salute to Agriculture", in the following sentiments:

In the light of the success which attended the "Salute to Agriculture" conducted by the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association last year, it is pleasing to learn that the Association has decided to repeat the project again this summer. The proposal has been advanced that this become an annual program for the weeklies of Canada during the third week of June. This is worthy of consideration. Such a project should contribute much towards the ultimate objective of gaining official recognition for a "National Day for Agriculture".

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture heartily endorses the C.W.N.A. project again this year, and wishes it success. The community weeklies provide an important link between the urban and the rural residents of the Dominion. Many of the communities served by the membership of the C.W.N.A. are dependent almost entirely upon the prosperity of the rural areas they serve. Thus it frequently falls to the lot of the community weekly to interpret the problems of the farmers to urban residents, and vice-versa. In this connection the weekly newspapers have been generous in their use of the news of farmers' organizations, and in their editorial interpretation of their objectives.

The farmers of Canada enjoy the satisfaction of having achieved a record in organization not equalled in many lands. Through organization and united effort they have won for themselves a front seat in the councils of the nation. They have established a case for equality for agriculture as the only adequate basis for a balanced economy.

Having attained this status, it remains now for the farmers of Canada to measure up to their opportunities and their responsibilities. It is doubtful if the future has ever been as bright for the organized farmers of Canada, and, on the international level, for the farmers of the world, as it is at the present itme. There is a saying that the future belongs to those who are prepared for it. It seems to apply in this case. Whether or not the organized farmers of Canada are prepared and equipped to rise to the stature required of them to take full advantage of this opportunity for their time and generation, remains to be seen. It will require constructive informed thinking, the ability and readiness to compromise, and the foresight and courage to pioneer and persist.

Charity Drawing Highlight Saturday At Lachute Fair

Following an intensive three-day ticket-selling campaign at the Fair Grounds, the climax to a well planned service club venture was reached Saturday afternoon with the drawing for a Dodge car — the winner being a Lancaster, Ont., resident, Douglas Cameron, who had handed in his donation at the booth the previous day, to Jos. Gosselin who was assisting at the stand.

The Lions Club stole the show at Lachute Fair for this brief interlude. With fitting fanfare and parade, the prize (a handsome Dodge car), the officials, the accoutrements and the police escort, arrived at the platform in the shewring. Wet weather failed to dampen the roseate dreams and anticipations of hundreds of ticket-holders who witnessed the scene. Fair President J. H. Black, Lion President A. Gordon McOuat, Past President Leopold Carriere, and Mayor Alex Bothwell addressed the crowd over the loudspeaker system; the transparent drum was given its final whirl; and Mayor Bothwell drew the winning ticket, No. 8754. . . Mr. Cameron was later notified by telegram of his good fortune. He received the wire on Sunday and arrived here the following afternoon to take delivery — one of the happiest customers ever to enter the North River Motors showroom.

Total subscriptions to this campaign exceeded $5,900, and net proceeds on behalf of the Lions' Charity Funds will be well over $4,000. The outcome is gratifying to hundreds of citizens who had taken a personal interest — for this effort had reached the proportions of a community venture.

Lion Geo. Tattersfield was chairman of the drive, while Lion Geo. Davis, manager of North River Motors Ltd., (who provided the car at cost price) also suffered many headaches in the details of the job. The Lions Club members sold tickets to the value of $4,633 independently of those disposed of at the Fair ($1,277).

Special credit is due to the following, for the number of tickets sold — Geo. Davis, 789; Leo Carriere, 394; Alex M. Vessie, 315; G. Cousineau, 285; Eric Hibbard, 283; Horace Lamarche, 217; Geo. Y. Deacon, 200.

Meet to Discuss Purchase Terms, Wartime Houses

(By Our Special Correspondent)

Brownsburg — A well attended meeting of those interested in the purchase and sale of Wartime Housing was held at the Social Club on Tuesday evening when Messrs. Cook and Laurin, officers of Central Mortgage Corporation (a Crown Company formed for the purpose of liquidating Munition Makers' and other Wartime Housing Ltd. properties) were present.

J. Seary, president of Wartime Houses Tenants Association, introduced Myles Cook, who elaborated on the terms under which the houses could be purchased. The conditions of sale, as announced in the Commons by the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, have already been published in these columns: briefly the houses would only be sold to occupying tenants, payments would not exceed the present rental payments, and a down payment of 15% of the assessed cost, this to include interest and taxes and insurance. Mr. Cook now stated that the houses had been valued by the Corporation's assessor and were offered for sale at monthly payments of approximately $32 for a 12-year purchase, or $26 for a more extended period. The houses would be sold "as is", except that a foundation would be placed under them within one year and brick chimneys would be bracketed to some, to replace the present structures.

Several of the tenants present voiced disapproval of the high cost, and complained of the workmanship which went into the construction, and in some instances the low grade materials. Exception was also taken to the blanket cost, as some of the houses were much better constructed than others, and some occupied a far better site than others. The difference in location was not considered in the cost, the total of which would be in the neighborhood of $5,500.

Numerous questions were submitted to Mr. Cook, mostly minor details concerning plumbing, landscaping, insurance, etc. It was stated by Mr. Cook that under certain circumstances, and with the approval of the Corporation, tenants who found themselves unable to meet their payments could obtain permission to sell or rent or sub-let the house, before the five-year control period had expired. He also stated the present offer would not be reduced, but admitted that a reduction had been sought and obtained by purchasing tenants in another locality. He also stated he was not aware of any houses being sold complete with basement at so low a cost.

A meeting of the Tenants Association was held subsequently, and it was decided to send a delegation to interview the Minister of Reconstruction, the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, at Ottawa, with a view of placing the situation before him. It was also decided to secure an estimate from an independent assessor to place before the Minister.

It might be of interest to the tenants endeavoring to purchase these houses to present the following figures taken from Hansard of June 9 (page 3981):

Mr. Nicholson, M.P., asked the Minister —

6. At what price per unit were these houses (Wartime Housing) sold?

Mr. Howe —

6. Where property was leased by Wartime Housing Ltd., and houses sold to owners of the property, or houses sold for removal, prices range from $1,200 to $1,800, depending on the type of house.

Where property was owned by Wartime Housing Ltd. and houses sold to tenants with the property, price ranges depending on the type of house are as follows:

(1) Munition workers' houses from $2,200 to $3,500.

(2) Munition workers' houses (with basement) from $3,106 to $5,696.

(3) Servicemen's houses from $2,950 to $4,400.

At a recent meeting of the Brownsburg Corporation, when permission was asked by Central Mortgage Corporation to dispose of the houses under the terms already outlined, the Council added a rider to the effect that those houses should be sold at one-third of the cost, so as to provide the tenants with an insurance against deterioration, which would leave the Corporation with a number of shacks unkept and in disrepair in what otherwise might be valuable residental property.

Young Motorist Painfully Injured

In a collision between two cars at the intersection of Robert and Elizabeth Streets, Lachute, a young townsman, Fred Smith, suffered a critical injury, being taken to hospital with a fractured pelvis. The mishap occurred at 7.30 o'clock Saturday evening.

Smith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith, Beech Ridge, was proceeding west on Robert Street, driving his father's car, when another automobile driven by Henri Sabourin, travelling south up the incline of Elizabeth Street, approached the intersection. There was only a slight impact as the cars struck bumper to bumper, but Smith appeared to lose control and his car overturned in the road. The auto was completely wrecked, and the driver so severely injured that he was rushed to the Providence Hospital. Receiving medical attention from Dr. F. W. Fitz-Gerald, he was later removed by ambulance to the Royal Victoria Hospital. Surgeons then performed an operation to adjust the pelvic fracture, and the victim will likely be a considerable time under hospital treatment.

Fred Smith, 19 years of age, had been an employee at the Atlantic and Pacific Store in Lachute.

Patrolman Albert Legault, of Brownsburg, investigated the accident.

Safety Awards to Plastics Employees

Brownsburg — For running up a record of 700,000 accident-free exposure hours, the personnel of Canadian Industries Limited plastics plant here were presented last Friday with the C-I-L president's safety prize.

In presenting safety award pins to those meriting them, H. S. Chandler of the company's head office in Montreal, complimented all employees on their safety achievement. He said the plant suffered no lost-time accidents from August 26, 1944 to the present date. This period is roughly equivalent to one man working alone for 290 years, without a single mishap.

"Some of World's Finest", Comments Judge Of Draft Horses at 1947 Lachute Spring Fair

Outstanding Merit in Livestock Show

Races and Light Horse Events Rained Out on Final Day

— By Colin A. Gravenor —

With the season at least six weeks behind, and in spite of a downpour Saturday which turned the spacious Exhibition Grounds into a quagmire, the 1947 Lachute Spring Fair was nevertheless a marked success. Although the attendance was lower than last year, the show was outstanding from an agricultural viewpoint, both in the number and the calibre of cattle, horses and other exhibits.

Fine weather favored the Fair for at least three out of the four days, and when the downpour on Saturday caused a suspension of activities all agricultural events had been judged.

The Heavy Horse classes were particularly outstanding, with Gilbert Arnold's entries dominating the show and earning tribute of the judge as being "among the finest heavy horses in the world". All cattle classes were up in numbers — the total number of animals in the show reaching 1,400.

Committee chairmen and those largely responsible for the handling of the show included — President J. H. Black; Manager Alex Bothwell; Gilbert Arnold, Horse Committee; Stuart Armstrong, Ringmaster; W. E. Rodger, Cattle; Amedée Maisonneuve, Sheep, Swine, Poultry; Clement Tremblay, Finance; A. G. Munich, Reception; James MacKimmie, Races; W. M. Cottingham, Attractions; J. P. Fleury, Junior Agriculture; E. Emmett, Rabbits.

The officiating judges were — Light Horses; Dr. J. Bovaird, London, Ont.; Heavy Horses, Grant Summers, Aylmer West, Ont.; Ayrshires, Allister McArthur, Howick; Holsteins, Eladio Susieta, Chili; Beef Cattle and Dairy Shorthorns, Prof. L. H. Hamilton, Macdonald College; Jerseys, Hume Grisdale, Iroquois, Ont.; Canadians, H. Grisdale; Sheep, Swine, John McKellar, Vaudreuil, Que.; Poultry, Maurice Wallace, Iroquois, Ont.

Dispite the disastrous fire and heavy loss on his Grenville farm the previous week, Gilbert E. Arnold still had time and enthusiasm to attend to his innumerable duties as chairman of the Horse Committee, and to exhibit 97 of his famed horses.

Special credit was given James MacKimmie and his committee, including Albert Stewart, Ross MacAdam and Theodore Murdock, for the handling of the races. All events were keenly contested, and the performance was outstanding. Bad weather intervened to prevent this star attraction on the closing day.

Mrs. Clarence Dixon, of Brownsburg, was convener of the County Women's Institute show of handicrafts, which made a varied and highly creditable exhibit in the main building. There were ten branches associated in the project. Mrs. Robert McFaul, of Lachute, county president, made a presentation to Frontier Branch, for the most prizes received by members of this group.

Food Production Campaign

This pretty Czech girl is gathering the wheat harvest, part of a photographic publicity campaign by the Czech government directed at farmers to increase this year's crops to feed Czechoslovakia's own people and to help as many of Europe's starving as possible. Eyes of Europe are on the tiny central country, whose recovery has been the fastest of any country in the area.

Traffic Hazard In Centre Ward

With traffic steadily increasing, and paved thoroughfares contributing to a certain disregard of hazards, there are a number of streets south of the railway track in Lachute where doubt exists as to prior right of way. Robert Street is an example. This road was surfaced last year, and from a gravelled back-street it has since become a travelled thoroughfare. Barron and Elizabeth Streets, crossing north and south, have been in heavier use for many years, and the pardonable assumption is that these streets would have right of way. At both intersections during the past week or two, there have been accidents — one of them serious. It is time that Stop-Signs were erected at these points, and also at the west extremity of Robert Street joining Main; or otherwise some official ruling should be announced. (The precept that the driver to the right has priority, seems insufficient to avert accidents.)

It is recalled that at a Town Council meeting last fall there was an order for erection of Stop-Signs at Barron and Robert. If these signs are not procurable, the Corporation should have them made immediately and erected in the interests of public safety.

Driver Victim of Mishap in Races

With 10 pacers in the field for the opening event in Friday afternoon's racing, a spill occurred at the Fair Grounds race track when two sulkies collided, and both drivers were injured. Felix Turcotte of Mattawa, Ont., driver of Miss Dillon Axe, was only slightly injured in the leg, but Jacques Rozon of Maxville, driving Peter Man, suffered a fractured shoulder. In considerable pain from his injury he was taken to the Providence Hospital for treatment. His visit to Lachute Fair proved an unprofitable experience, but this was the only major mishap reported during the entire event.

Slants and Sidelights At the Exhibition

The Frontiersmen handled the traffic direction, under supervision of the Provincial Police, and there were no traffic snarls or tie-ups during the show, although traffic was exceptionally heavy.

* * *

A parade of picketers from the Ayers plants marched to the front gates of the Exhibition Grounds bearing placards, and attempted to enter. However, when informed they would be admitted only on payment of full entry price, they declined and after remaining at the gate for a period, took their departure.

* * *

The office of Alex Bothwell, Mayor of Lachute and Show manager, as usual was beseiged by the large crop of post entries, assorted requests, and questions of a wide variety.

* * *

Mr. Grant Summers, Aylmer West, Ontario, commented after judging the Percherons and Belgians that the show had some of the world's finest heavy horses. The daily press throughout Canada quoted him on this point.

* * *

For the first time in Lachute Fair history a South American, Mr. Eladio Susieta, of Chili, was the judge in the Holstein Cattle classes. He was recommended by the Holstein-Freisian Association to officiate in this capacity.

* * *

Among welcome visitors to the Fair was Brian White (Ottawa Farm Journal), who returned the day previously from a six weeks' tour in Holland. Mr. White subsequently reported the Fair in his journal, with high commendation for its general outcome.

* * *

Dr. James Bovaird, of London, Ontario, who officiated at the Horse Show, was complimented by several afterward on his handling of the entries.

* * *

For the first time since 1878 Mr. Archie McGibbon of Lachute Mills missed the annual exhibition. The year that the Fair was moved to its permanent home in Chatham Township, Archie McGibbon attended as a boy. During subsequent years he assisted and contributed his share for success of the show, and was a shareholder for a number of years. It was the first in 69 consecutive years that he had not been a familiar visitor to the grounds. A letter of regret was sent to him by the directors, hoping that he would soon be back on his feet and attend the 1948 show. Well over 80 years of age, Mr. McGibbon is at present confined to his home through illness.

LAURENTIAN DIST. MEETING OF JUNIOR CHAMBERS OF COM.

Of interest to the Lachute Chamber of Commerce and its considerable membership, is the coming regional congress of Junior Chambers (Les Chambres de Commerce des Jeunes) to be held June 29 at L'Assomption. The gathering will include branches from the Laurentian district— Berthierville, St. Felix de Valois, Joliette, Ste. Marie Salomé, L'Assomption, Ste. Thérèse, L'Epiphanie, Terrebonne, St. Jerome and Lachute.

The announcement of this congress exhorts all units to be substantially represented, and also extends a cordial welcome to ladies accompanying the members. Further information is available from the local Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Oh, Those Flies!

W. R. WHITEHEAD and F. O. MORRISON
in the Macdonald College Journal

Flies have always been among the most bothersome insects with which man has had to contend — because of annoyance or injury to him or his livestock, damage to his crops, or because they spread disease. In spite of this, flies are sometimes tolerated and apparently considered a necessary evil, without any effort being made to reduce their numbers.

Considered here are three common species of flies affecting livestock — the house-fly, the stable-fly, and the horn-fly.

The house-fly needs little introduction. It cannot bite; its most objectionable characteristics are the annoyance and irritation it causes and its association with filth in which it breeds. It is a most prolific breeder in horse manure, open latrines and various decaying matter, and from these places it flies to the barn or the house and spreads contamination.

To the average individual, the stable-fly closely resembles the house-fly. The stable-fly has one marked difference, however, it is a blood sucker; it has a formidable beak with which it is capable of piercing flesh. This species is the fly that "bites" during the still, sultry days of summer, often when rain is threatening. It prefers to breed in decaying vegetation.

The horn-fly is smaller than the preceding species. It, too, is a blood sucker which confines its activities to cattle. Masses of these flies congregate about the horns and on the withers, from which the animal has difficulty in dislodging them. It breeds in fresh cattle manure.

Control measures should be started early in the season. Flies are prolific breeders, and populations build up rapidly during the summer. The more flies are killed in June the less trouble it will be to keep them down later in the year.

DDT has phenomenal killing power for flies (less than 130,000,000,000th of an ounce kills a house-fly); and unlike other insecticides it retains this power for long periods, even when spread out thinly. The dry powder as a dust or suspended in water is harmless to the skin of animals, and is poisonous only if eaten.

I. For House-Flies and Stable-Flies

A. Coat exposed inside walls, ceilings, partitions, etc., of barn, piggeries, privies and other fly havens, with a thin layer of DDT. Surfaces that animals are likely to lick or chew should not be treated. This coating may be done by:

1. Applying a commercial residual type spray of 5 per cent DDT in a kerosene-like base at one gallon to 1,600 sq. ft. This may be painted on with a brush or put on with a small sprayer. The object is to coat the wall and avoid loss into the air. Do not let the solution remain on your skin or that of animals. One treatment should remain effective for two or three months. Sunlight, the presence of rust, lime whitewash, rough cement surfaces, excessive dust, or large numbers of flies continuously entering reduce its effective duration. This is the DDT to use when fly control is necessary in dwelling houses.

2. Applying 5 lbs. of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder (Deenate 50W, or similar brand) in 100 gallons of water per 8,000 sq. ft. This is the safer mixture and can be handled in greater comfort but leaves the walls temporarily wet. A garden or orchard sprayer can be used.

B. Treat the surfaces of manure piles, piles of rotting vegetation such as straw or garden refuse with 2 lbs. of wettable DDT powder in 10 gallons of water, every 4 or 5 days. Where manure is kept in sheds, the inside walls and ceilings should be thoroughly treated at frequent intervals with these or more concentrated preparations.

C. The above residual treatments have largely supplanted the old type household and barn sprays of pyrethrum or thanite in kerosene, but the latter are still useful to kill large fly populations in a building, or where walls cannot be treated. They are now called "space" sprays because you atomize them into the air instead of onto the walls and they kill only those flies present. Doors and windows have to be closed during their use. Many of these old space sprays have been greatly improved by adding ½ per cent DDT so that flies knocked down all die. But not enough DDT has been added to these sprays to have any residual effect when sprayed on walls.

II. Horn Flies and Stable-Flies

Since horn-flies stay on the cattle day and night, that is the place to get them. Stable-flies only remain on the animal when feeding. Here are two ways of treating.

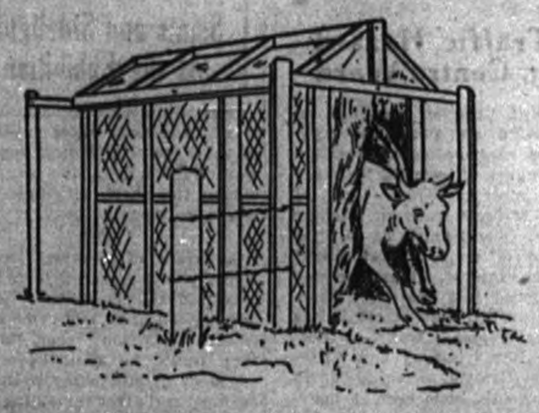

A. Spray, wash or dip the animals with 4 or 5 lbs. of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder in 100 gallons of water, using about ½ gallon of solution per mature animal. For horn-flies treat especially the neck, head and upper parts of the body. Where stable-flies are bad, the legs and underparts must be treated.

B. Considerable success has been attained in Australia using a horn-fly trap constructed in a gateway or lane through which the cattle must pass once or twice a day. The passageway through the trap is 33 inches wide and 10 feet long. The glass in the roof is coated on the inside with DDT and protected from the cattle by coarse screen wire. The animal passing through the trap has to brush between and under two sets of curtains, and eight weighted strips brush her legs and belly, dislodging the flies which rise to the light and contact the treated grass.

C. Since horn-flies breed only in cow manure good control measures include scattering fresh cow droppings mechanically with harrows, etc., and hauling out and spreading barnyard accumulations three times a week.

D. The daily or twice daily application of the old type cattle spray of pyrethrum or thanite in oil has been replaced by the above methods but DDT in oil must not be used on animals.

Carefully Kept Record Books Are Asset to Farmer

Among the many activities of the farmer which contribute to the success and efficiency of his business, the keeping of accurate and fairly complete records is probably one of the most important, yet is one of the most neglected.

Records that may be profitably kept by the farmer or stockman are many and varied. Among these are breeding and production records, records for identification of pure-bred or grade live stock, records of purchases and sales of live stock, feed, seed, machinery, other equipment and supplies. An annual inventory in which all live stock, feed, supplies, grain machinery and farm equipment is listed, together with a nominal value for each item, will also be found valuable in many ways.

While it may be assumed that all records are equally important and should receive equal care, those which are concerned with live-stock breeding operations are of a more urgent and vital nature than most others because of the probability of direct loss of income should they be neglected.

The different breed associations now require that complete records be kept in connection with the identification of live stock. In order to encourage and facilitate the keeping of such records, most breed associations provide, at a nominal cost, suitable record books for the livestock breeder and owner.

A record book especially adapted to the keeping of general farm accounts can be obtained for 10 cents from the King's Printer, at Ottawa. Some of the banks, farm machinery companies and other organizations offer farm books free for the asking.

Orchard Sprays Kill Livestock

Several cases of live-stock poisoning were investigated by the Kentville, N.S., Laboratory of the Division of Chemistry, Science Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, during the 12 months ended March 31, 1946. In the majority of cases it was found that the animals had gained access to orchard sprays and either ate grass wet with spray drift, or on which spray had dripped from trees, or drank water on top of flotation sulphur barrels, or had access to water contaminated in other ways from spray materials. In several cases, the level of arsenic in stomach contents, in milk, and urine was fatally high.

The Economy of Using the Best

The economy of using the best possible materials is made apparent in the upkeep problem. A house or business building may be "thrown together" with cheap material, and it may "look all right," but after it has stood the shock of weather, the real test comes.

It is false economy to use poor materials — and we so advise everyone who buys from us. Our success is due to honesty in materials and prices.

FREE SERVICES FOR FARMERS

For the purpose of assisting the farmers of Canada to meet the economic problems with which they are constantly confronted and to carry on the industry of Canadian agriculture to the advantage of the nation as a whole, the Dominion Government has several millions of dollars invested in free services and facilities.

No other industry has at its disposal such a wide and varied range of services and facilities provided by the Government. They include the Dominion-wide system of Experimental Farms and Stations, the divisions of Dairy Research, Botany and Plant Pathology, Chemistry, Entomology and Plant Protection of the Science Service, the divisions of Health of Animals, Plant Production and Livestock with their field services of the Production Service, the Marketing Service, in which is centralized the administration of all grading services of livestock and livestock products, dairy products, poultry, eggs, fruit, vegetables, canned goods, maple products and honey, and the Division of Agricultural Economics, which serves as a fact-finding body concerning production and marketing.

Results of the reasearch work and experiments of all these services of the Dominion Department of Agriculture are made known to farmers and the people of Canada generally through free publications, the press and radio, exhibits and other ways directed by the Publicity and Extension Division.

Those engaged in the industry of Agriculture, whether directly or indirectly, are invited to make full use of the services and facilities as outlined. They are free.

The St. Lawrence Seaway

WHEN President Truman addressed the joint session of the Senate and House of Commons during his visit to Ottawa, he spoke in the most positive terms regarding development of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterways scheme which would allow ocean-going vessels to touch such inland ports as Chicago, Duluth and Fort William. The President said that the "proposal for taking electric power from the river and bringing ocean shipping 2,400 miles inland, to tap the fertile heart of our continent, is economically sound and strategically important." He also said that "when this program is carried out — it will stimulate our economies to new growth and will speed the flow of trade."

It would appear from his address that Mr. Truman feels certain the project will be completed, and that he regards its construction as necessary to our future prosperity. His words, however, may have been directed more to certain groups, rather than Canadians, because there are many opponents of the project in the United States. Leading the fight against the seaway are representatives of States along the Atlantic seaboard and heads of railroads and lake shipping companies, whose business now comes largely from transporting goods from inland states to the present ocean ports. The opponents are now making strong protests before a United States Senate committee which is studying the matter. Mr. Truman's stand, made public at Ottawa, may do much to counteract criticism.

In Canada, the Government should determine what effect the seaway would have on ports in the Maritime provinces, and how great a loss of freight haulage it would mean to Canada's two main railroads. A study should be made of what competition the seaway would be to the Northern port of Churchill, where a two and one-half million bushel grain elevator, the most modern in the Dominion has been built. The Government also should begin planning now to compensate for losses that certain communities might suffer through its construction. There is no denying the seaway has many advantages. It would be beneficial to Western farmers and to industrial concerns in central Canada. It would stimulate our foreign trade and increase Canada's overall prosperity. It would hasten development of our country and would increase our stature as a world power. But before Canada appropriates our share of the cost — estimated by Lt. Gen. R. A. Wheeler, Chief of the United States Army Engineers, at $183,098,000 — every effort should be made to ensure that it will not have disastrous effects on any community or private company.

The Listening Audience

RADIO executives and producers in recent years have been regarding their output with a critical eye. Sensitive to the comments of listeners and columnists on the one hand, and to the commercial sponsors on the other, they have tried to take the pulse of their audience with listener surveys and at the same time pondered means of improving the quality of their broadcasts.

The surveys show that existing programs command a large audience, especially in the peak evening hours. The conservative-minded wing of the radio industry came to the conclusion that listeners are satisfied with what they hear, and that any departure from established broadcast patterns would damage radio's popularity.

Others, including some top executives, are less willing to admit that radio is everything its listeners would like it to be. To them, the surveys merely prove that the public is solidly radio-conscious — that while the air provides satisfactory fare for listeners of varied tastes, a considerable number of sets are turned on for hours on end from habit and without great regard for the type and quality of entertainment offered.

Many stations are emphasizing public service programs of immediate interest and benefit to their own community, undoubtedly losing listeners to network programs on other stations. Similarly, many attempt to encourage local performers, less experienced and often less able than the stars of New York and Hollywood, but commanding staunch support in their home town and occasionally rising to the top of the profession.

Some sponsors are said to be wary of "high-brow" programs of serious music or of an educational nature, preferring to cater to a larger audience with programs of a more general appeal. Yet the British Broadcasting Corporation has won a large and enthusiastic following for its Third Program by ignoring "popular" tastes and appealing directly to a more intellectul public.

All the experts agree that the listening audience is apathetic — letters of praise or condemnation come from a mere handful of more articulate fans. But what the radio fans really like and what they'll put up with — that's the $64 question.

Publicizing Canada

THE DISCLOSURE made by L. B. Pearson, Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs, that the Canadian Information Service has only four represenatives in the United States — two in Washington and two in New York — may help to explain another statement made by Mr. Pearson that the "ignorance" about Canada in the United States is "appalling". Little indeed is being done to publicize abroad Canada and the Canadian way of life.

If we fail to tell other nations about ourselves, it is no wonder that so many in the United States, our closest neighbors, believe that we pay taxes to Britain, or believe that we take orders from the Governor General, or believe that the Dominion is covered with snow and ice the year around. Canada has assumed a new importance in world affairs, and it's time we told other nations about ourselves. We need to expand our Information Service. The staffs at Ottawa now employed in "selling" Government departments for home consumption, might be with less extravagance channeled to a wider field, particularly to inform Americans about the Dominion. The result would be an increase in trade and commerce, as well as bringing about an even greater bond of friendship between the two countries.

Storekeeping in the "Earlies"

OUR OTTAWA contributor, R. J. Deachman, sends this item from the Sackville Tribune-Post.

"The rules and regulations which follow were for the employees in a Chicago department store in the 1880's. I wonder what would happen if we had to work under such conditions in this day and age?

"Store must be open from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. the year round.

"Store must be swept, counters, shelves and showcases dusted; lamps trimmed, filled and chimneys cleaned; pens made; doors and windows opened; a pail of coal and a bucket of water brought in before breakfast.

"Store must not be opened on the Sabbath unless necessary, and then only for a few minutes.

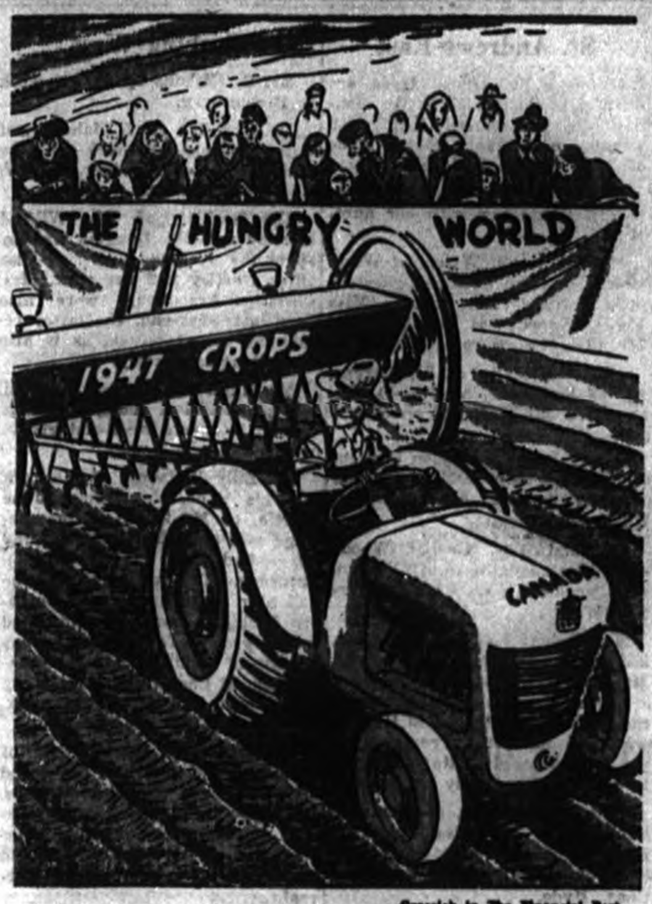

"The employee in the habit of smoking Spanish cigars, being shaved at the barbers, going to dances and other places of amusement will assuredly give his employers reason to be suspicious of his integrity and honesty.

"Men employees are given one evening a week for courting and two if they go to a prayer meeting.

"After 14 hours in the store, the leisure hours should be spent for the most part in reading."

We know a chap who is not really conceited. He's just got too much Vitamin "I" in his system.

One thing about a vacation, it makes you realize how nice it is to return home.

Ontario Highways Legislation Becomes Effective on July 1

Ontario's new highways legislation under which every judgment arising out of a motor accident must be satisfied, becomes effective July 1. Every judgment whether for personal injuries or property damage "if not paid by the responsible owner or driver, will be paid out of a special Government fund to be known as the unsatisfied judgment fund" said George Doucett, Ontario minister of highways.

"The limits imposed respecting payments from the fund are $5,000 for injuries to one person, $10,000 for two or more persons, and $1,000 for property damage relating to one accident.

"When the judgment is paid from the fund the debtor may thereafter neither own nor operate a motor vehicle until he has reimbursed the fund with interest, and until he has filed proof of financial responsibility. I should interject that this latter proof ordinarily implies a certificate of insurance or negotiable securities in the sum of $11,000.

"Our new law applies to all judgments relating to the operation of motor vehicles within our provincial borders. Our reciprocal arrangements with other provinces and more than 20 states are effective and of the utmost value in dealing with non-Ontario violators and delinquent debtors."

At another point Mr. Doucett declared the unsatisfied judgment fund will be created by the collection of a fee not exceeding $1 from each person securing a driver's or chauffeur's license in 1948. "It is my hope that it will not be necessary to collect the full authorized amount in each year."

Mr. Doucett, who detailed the various provisions of the legislation, said at the start of his speech that since 1930 when the compilation of statistics relating to traffic accidents began, 9,785 persons have been killed in Ontario traffic accidents.

Now Using More Power Equipment In Cleaning Land

In the operation of power equipment in clearing land for farms, a tractor bulldozer can root out a 20-inch stump in 60 seconds, which would require four to eight hours of labour to remove by hand and team methods. So the Engineering Section of the Division of Field Husbandry, Dominion Experimental Farm Service, demonstrated when gathering information for the revision and expansion of the bulletin, Land Clearing.

Consideration was given to all operations involved in reclaiming land, from the removal of heavy timber to breaking and tillage operations. The information compiled includes details on the removal of timber, pulp wood, brush, stumps and stones, the use of explosives, equipment, power machinery, and information on breaking, drainage, and seeding operations. A copy of the bulletin (Publication No. 739) may be obtained by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Report Increase Land Values of Occupied Farms

Average value of occupied farm lands in Canada for 1945 is reported at $32.00 per acre, an increase of seven per cent over the average indicated in 1944 and 1945, and an increase of 28 per cent over the 1935-39 average, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Increases in farm land values over 1945 levels were reported in all provinces, with the exception of Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick.

The upward trend in farm land values from prewar levels reflects, at least in part, the relative changes which have occurred in price levels of farm products and of the things which farmers buy. The bureau's index of farm prices of agricultural products for 1946 was 83.5 per cent above the 1935-39 level, while for the same year the index of prices of commodities and services used by farmers had advanced 45.4 per cent from the 1935-39 base period level.

Stage Artists Are Rivershore Visitors

Cushing W. — Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Weber, of New York City, are the guests of Mr. Leonard Young at his cottage at Grece's Point.

The Webers are well known in theatrical circles in New York. Laurence, son of a producer of many Broadway hit shows, is an actor whose career was interrupted when Uncle Sam called him a few years ago. He is devoting this year to the training of his fine baritone voice, with a view to entering the opera field.

Mrs. Weber's stage name is Judith Cargill, and she has just closed a successful season in support of Frederick March in his stage starring vehicle "Years Ago", in which she won critical acclaim for her portrayal of an eccentric physical culture teacher, a role that required her to cover up her natural good looks and appear in the unbeautiful costume affected by some women of the period of 1912. Miss Cargill specializes in eccentric comedy roles. A couple of seasons ago she played successfully the role of the frowsy housemaid in the hit play "Junior Miss", and was voted comedy queen by thousands of U.S. soldiers for whom she played on a U.S.O. tour of Army Camps. Her name is also familiar to soap opera fans as "Judy, the Ivory Girl".

More Feed Grains Required to Maintain Balance of Agriculture, Says Federal Minister Gardiner

During the war, agreements with Britain for supplying essential food products established a basis of prices reasonable to Canadian farmers. Similar agreements or contracts are in effect for the next one to two years, which means that farmers have a ready export market and are protected against any wide fluctuation in prices. These agreements with the British Ministry of Food call for any supplies over the amounts specified that can be made available of wheat, bacon, beef, cheese, evaporated milk, eggs, dressed poultry and several other products. There is also a high domestic demand for every kind of farm produce, and there is evidence that several other countries want certain food products from Canada. It is apparent, therefore, that whatever problems confront the farmers of Canada, markets just now is not one of them. If a sound balance of agriculture in Canada is to be maintained, the importance of a high ratio of meat and dairy production is essential. There has been an unavoidable sharp decline in meat production since the record year of 1944 and a slight falling off in dairy production. One of the principal causes of these declines has been the limitations of the feed supply, principally course grains. More feed grains will have to be produced if the present numbers of livestock are to be maintained, and still more if the production of meats and milk is to be increased, and there are ready markets for more of such products in Britain and other countries. Steps have been taken by the Dominion Government to encourage the growing of more feed grains by an adjustment of prices for barley and oats.

The supply position with respect to feed grains is at present dangerously low. There is practically no reserve. If sufficient feed grains could be grown in both Western and Eastern Canada to maintain the livestock on farms and provide a year's reserve supply to take care of demands in the event of a short crop year, it would be of tremendous economic advantage nationally and help to maintain a balanced agriculture, which may become unbalanced if the importance of livestock production is lost sight of.

To assist the farmers of Canada in carrying out a balanced program of production all the services and facilities of the Dominion Department of Agriculture are readily available. These services include those provided by Science, Experimental Farms, Production and Marketing. At the same time the Dominion Department co-operates in every way possible with the Provincial Departments, Agriculture Colleges and every other agency that has for its objective the development of Canadian agriculture. The maintenance of peace and the promotion of human happiness and security is intimately linked with food. The part of farmers in this is obvious.

Amateur Plumbers Menace to Health

Vancouver (CP) — A warning that the household handyman and tinkerer should leave plumbing work to experts, was sounded in a public address by Reginald Startup, veteran city plumbing inspector.

"The general public is not properly conscious of the importance of safe plumbing," he said. "If they were, they would not be so unduly economical about it. Plumbing is no job for an amateur when it is vitally connected with public health."

PROSPERITY

FOLLOWS IN YOUR FOOTSTEPS

It springs from the rich earth furrowed by your plough.

It is born of the wheat and the corn and the barley and all the food you produce.

"Yes, your crops are the very foundation of our nation's prosperity, because food is an absolute necessity for every man, woman and child . . . because the growing of food is Canada's most important primary industry. And the greater your harvests — the more solid is prosperity's foundation.

The food you grow is also helping to build a lasting peace by warding off famine in the war-ravaged countries of Europe, during these years of reconstruction.

Indeed, yours is a tremendous responsibility . . . to the nation and to the world. But Canada is fully confident that you will continue to produce all the food you possibly can . . . that your footsteps will never falter in the vanguard of prosperity.

Outstanding Merit In Livestock Show

Arnoldwold Horses Triumph in Draft Classes

Outstanding exhibits of the entire show were those of Gilbert Arnold; 97 of the finest heavy horses were his entries from Arnoldwold Farms. Judge Grant Summers was emphatic in the statement that these exhibits were among the best that he had ever seen, and he felt quite safe in saying they were "among the finest heavy horses in the world". Arnold repeated a number of his wins of the Royal Winter Fair, and also presented some new entries whose future in the show world is exceptionally promising.

"American Hal" repeated his Senior and Grand Champion Standard-bred Stallion award of the Toronto Show, as did "Arnoldwold Docette" in the Senior and Grand Champion Belgian mare. "Dolin de Cap Rouge" came first among French-Canadian stallions and Arnoldwold "Aline 5th" was the Senior Champion and Grand Champion mare in this breed, while "Waterloo Dan" won the Senior and Grand Champion Belgian Stallion.

"Arnoldwold Kenearcalyps" made his debut in the show ring to take the Percheron Stallion Grand Champion award, while "Leona" was the Percheron Mare Grand Champion winner.

Mr. Arnold continued to win all general classes, with exception of the fine win in the Belgian Yeld Mare class, won by Mrs. E. C. Budge of Thorncroft Farms, with her "Hyllmede Mary d'Or." Oscar Laurin, of St. Hermas, showed his "Ferme Eden Mina", a daughter of the famous "Dock", to win the first prize two-year-old Belgian filly.

The Grand Champion Clydesdale Stallion was Albert T. Cleland's "Inspiration Mac", with Grand Champion Mare "Peggy", shown by Geo. Watson & Son, of Leonard, Ont. This firm, having won the Harowitz Trophy for three successive years, became its permanent owner. They now replace it with a new trophy for the same class, the Agricultural Team class, and to be known as the George Watson Trophy for annual competition. W. H. Rodger, placing second, received the award when the winner handed it on to second-place contestant in the event.

H. J. O'Connell Leads in Light Horse Show

In the Light Horse Show, H. J. O'Connell was the major winner, collecting 18 firsts and 19 seconds during the show. Dr. Paul Latour with the champion saddle horse, and Capt Wm. Resseguier with "Kirk", winner of three classes, and Mrs. A. O. MacKay, winner of four, were other notable winners during the Horse Show.

Although the owners and riders were anxious to complete the show in spite of the rain on Saturday, it was decided to toss for the wins in some of the events. The result was that the entry of H. J. O'Connell won the Hunt Team over A. O. Mackay's entry and Stonedene Stables, of Ottawa. The latter were the winners in the Pair of Hunters by the same procedure.

Entries to the Horse Show came from Montreal and the Laurentians, Ste. Genevieve, Pointe aux Trembles, Ottawa, Lachute, Val d'Or and several other points.

Ayrshire Cattle Winners

The coveted Glen Urquhart Trophy for the best four Ayrshire cows was awarded to Cumming Brothers, of Lancaster, Ont., while the Georges Héon Trophy for Best Display of Ayrshires was presented to Roland Pigeon, of Vercheres, Que. The Grand and Senior Champion Ayrshire Bull went to J. H. Black, of Lachute; the Grand and Senior Champion Ayrshire Female, to W. Erskine Rodger, of Lachute. The J. A. Mann, K. C., Ayrshire Trophy went to W. H. Coverdale, of Portsmouth, Ont., for the Ayrshire Get of Sire, and the J. A. Mann, K.C., Trophy for Best Junior Herd to John P. Bradley and Son, Lachute.

Holstein Cattle

H. L. Guilbert, Eglantiers Farms, Vercheres, Que., won the Sherwin-Williams award for the Grand Champion Holstein female, also Grand Champion Bull in the same breed, and the T. Eaton Co. award for best herd.

Norda Farms received the John Bracken Holstein Trophy for the finest Junior Herd, while the Georges Héon Award went to H. L. Guilbert.

Holstein entries were up 45% over other years, a very satisfying indication for officials of the Holstein-Freisian Association, who attended the show in a goodly representation.

Beef Cattle and Dual Purpose

A sweep of three major events in the Beef Cattle class went to A. H. Robinson of Martintown, Ont., for the Grand Champion Beef Bull "Springbrae Militant", and Grand Champion Female "Springbrae Bessie", and also the best exhibit of Beef Cattle. He took all other firsts in Beef Cattle events.

The McColl Frontenac award for the Grand Champion Dual Purpose bull went to E. Kilgour Wilson, of Lachute, and the Grand Champion Female to A. D. McGibbon & Sons, of Lachute.

Other Breeds

The Grand Champion Jersey Bull was won by the Boys' Farm Shawbridge, while the Grand Champion Female went to the same exhibitors. The Boys' Farm took practically all awards in this group with the exception of Senior Get of Sire, Junior Champion Female Heifer Calf, reserve Grand and Junior Champion bull, which went to A. G. Hill of Hudson Heights, Que.

In the Grade Dairy breed, W. D. Pollock, Lachute, won all awards in all classes, with his "Groomsman's Flash", "Riverview Dorothy", "Hilda", "Ola" and other animals and his group. L. A. Sylvestre, Clairvaux, Bagot County, repeated this in the Registered Canadians, taking all awards with the 91 cattle entered from his farm.

Sheep, Poultry, Rabbits and Swine

George A. Hay, of Marvelville, Ont., won the T. McOuat & Son Ltd. Prize for best pen of Suffolk Sheep, while the best pen of Shropshires went to Slack Bros., of Waterloo, Que.

In the poultry judging George Lagacé, Montreal, had the best pen of Barred Rocks, while Dougall Cumming, of Russell, Ont., was the largest winner in the poultry events.

In Angora Rabbits, Mrs. L. Stavely Wallgate won the Doe, Senior and Junior, and the Buck, Senior and Junior, while Chinchilla Doe Sr. and Jr., and Buck Jr. went to G. D. Mode & Son, Vankleek Hill. The Sunnyhill Rabbitry won the Chinchilla Senior Buck class.

L. A. Sylvestre, of Clairvaux, Bagot, won the Best Yorkshire Boar award, while Carson Tomalty, Brownsburg, won the Best Yorkshire Sow in the swine classes. The best Bacon Hog exhibit was won by the Boys' Farm, Shawbridge.

President Truman at Seigniory Club

Taking a well-earned rest from his official tour of duty, President Truman informally met Canadian and United States newspapermen at the Seigniory Club, Montebello. In this picture, left to right, are President Truman, J. Hugh Campbell, manager of the C.P.R. department of public relations, and Prime Minister Mackenzie King. The informal gathering followed a luncheon for the parliamentary press corps of the two countries, at which Mr. Campbell was host for the C.P.R.

WIDOW OPERATES CHICK HATCHERY, ONT. SHOWPLACE

4,500 Laying Hens are Smart; They Have No Chores, Says Widow

Brussels, Ont. (CP)—A new saga of "The Egg and I" could be woven around Mrs. Louise Porter, owner and manager of this district's largest and most prosperous poultry ranch.

And folk in this Huron County town think visitors miss a bet — and an education in things a la chicken — if they neglect to drop in at the young widow's feathery showplace.

If Mrs. Porter seems more keen to talk of her farm than of herself, her friends might help. For example, they'd tell you that as a child Mrs. Porter took more than a passing fancy for hatchery inhabitants. Her father, Walter Rose, founder of the business which still bears his name, saw to that.

After her marriage, Mrs. Porter lived for a short time at Toronto, returning with her husband in 1939 to take over her father's ranch. In 1943, Mr. Porter was electrocuted while adjusting breeder equipment.

Left alone with two small children, Mrs. Porter assumed charge of the entire business. Her lifetime enthusiasm for poultry ranching brought expansion — more poultry, more brooders, more chicks and not a few griefs.

And, yes, town folk also would remind you — if Mrs. Porter failed to do so — that she is the first woman director of the Record of Production for Ontario poultry breeding.

A Day's Work

A day in the life of the director of the R.O.P. would be something like this:

At 4 a.m. begin sorting, preparing and boxing of 1,000 four-week-old pullets to be sent by early train. The sexer arrives by night and that means hundreds of day-old-chicks are ready for train and truck travel.

Next step is cleaning, disinfecting and vacuuming (that's right) of hatcheries. The heat is raised, eggs removed from incubators and the precision work of candling begins.

Fertile eggs are replaced in the hatchery, and more chickens are made ready for trains and customers who will call during the day for their consignments.

Hatching processes take place twice a week with each hatch averaging 6,500. Every section of the ranch needs minute attention for there is constant moving from hatchery to battery rooms to barns. Spare moments? They're few, sighs Mrs. Porter.

A barn, in process of remodelling, will have capacity for 4,500 laying hens who will supply 9,000 eggs come next hatching time. Therefore, range shelters must be made. . . And the day's not finished.

Looking over her ranch, Mrs. Porter can say—"Hens are smart". Sure, they're not in the poultry business.

Teamwork breaks deadlock. Compromise but skirts it.

DON'T WAVER. Say "Maxwell House". It's the same marvellous coffee blend whether packed in Super-Vacuum Tin (Drip or Regular Grind) or Glassine-lined Bag (All Purpose Grind).

Know Quebec Better....

Lobster Fishing Photo Courtesy Service de Ciné Photographie, Province de Québec

Do you know Quebec? Do you know, for example, that our Province's fisheries are considered among the most extensive in the world? Although far from the most important item in the varied harvest taken from the sea along the north shore of the River St. Lawrence and the Gaspe Peninsula, the lobster is receiving more attention as demand grows. Annual value of the catch now exceeds $500,000. As most of this is shipped out of the province, it means another boost for Quebec's income. To the Government of Quebec goes credit for the conservation and development of the fishing grounds, the building of warehouses and freezing plants, and the encouragement of co-operative societies. This same, far-sighted policy has been applied to the other basic natural resources of the Province. As a result, in a land of opportunity, nowhere is there available to the people a brighter future than that offered by Quebec.

THIS IS YOUR QUEBEC

Population 3,500,000; Retail Trade $818,671,000 annually; gross value of products $2,333,303,012; area, 523,860 square miles; leading producer among the provinces of hydro-electric power, textiles, lumber, newsprint, footwear, processed tobacco, asbestos and aluminum. Truly, ours is a land of promise.

Weir, Que. — The marriage of Miriam Dorothy, daughter of Mrs. M. McCoyd and the late Mr. McCoyd, of Liverpool, England, to George Owen, B.Sc., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Owen of Weir, Que., took place at the Church of the Redeemer, Weir, on June 14. The Rev. John Owen, of Quyon, Que., brother of the groom, officiated.

The Rev. L. Temple-Hill gave the bride away. She wore a floor-length white lace dress with double net skirt, elbow-length veil with petal-shaped headdress of netting, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and lily of the valley.

"An important part of my diet ever since my first bottle has been Crown Brand Corn Syrup. Now, that may be all right for a little character like myself, but let me tell you, these grown-ups sure are lucky what with Mom serving them Crown Brand Corn Syrup with so many of their dishes. And she uses it in her baking, too, as a sweetener. I can hardly wait until I'm old enough to have some hot waffles or pancakes smothered with delicious Crown Brand. If it's as good as it is in my cereal—mmmmm!"

For years doctors have recommended the use of Crown Brand Corn Syrup as a satisfactory carbohydrate acting as a milk modifier for bottle-fed infants.

ACCENT GIVES GIRL LEADING FILM ROLE

West Bromwich, Eng. (CP) — Although she has never acted in a movie, Cherry London, 21, has been picked to play a leading role with Stewart Granger and Valerie Hobson in "Blanche Fury" now being produced at Pinewood Studios, near London.

Anthony Havelock-Allan, producer, and Denis Van Thal, casting director, searched the country to find a girl with a Staffordshire accent to play the part of a barmaid with whom Granger falls in love.

Cherry sent her photograph and was picked after one interview.

Make new friends, but keep the old;
Those are silver, these are gold.
New made friends like new made wine
Age will mellow and refine.
Brows may wrinkle, hair grow gray,
But friendship never knows decay.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

A Picnic Lunch for Dominion Day Outing

As the Dominion Day holiday draws near a certain amount of planning gets underway in anticipation of thoroughly enjoying the occasion. Let us pretend that we are going to celebrate the holiday by having a pincic in a secluded spot near a river or lake, with a good place on the beach so that, if you wish, you may build a small fire without danger of doing any harm; where there is a very nice grassy green on which to spread the picnic table. Add to this blue skies and sunshine, temperature befitting the first of July, and the picnic stage is set.

Now, as children would say, what about the picnic — meaning of course the contents of the picnic basket. For them, and others too, eating with great gusto those things brought from home really makes the picnic.

The home economists ot Ottawa have done some planning for your Dominion Day picnic in their testing kitchen. Here is one of their picnic suppers which may appeal to you:

Tomato Juice — left in the can and chilled in river or lake.

Picnic Hamper Salad — carried in glass jar.

Lettuce, Radishes and green Onions.

Cheese Bread—plain or toasted.

Fruit Tarts.

Tea or Coffee, for the Grown-Ups.

Milk, for the Growing.

Picnic Hamper Salad

2 Cups diced cooked ham, veal or tongue; 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped; ½ cup canned peas, well drained; ¼ c up chopped pickle; salad dressing; salt and pepper to taste.

Toss all ingredients together. Mix slightly with enough salad dressing to moisten. Serve on lettuce with radishes and green onions.

Cheese Bread

1 Cake compressed yeast (or 1 tablespoon fast rising yeast); 2 cups liquid (water, milk or potato water); 1 tablespoon sugar; 1 tablespoon salt; 6 cups sifted all-purpose flour; 2 cupsh grated cheese; 3 tablespoons fat, melted.

Scald liquid, then cool to lukewarm. Use ¼ cup of the lukewarm liquid to diasolve yeast. Dissolve sugar and salt in remaining liquid and add to yeast mixture. Add 1½ cups of the flour, beat well and add melted, but not hot fat, blending thoroughly. Add remaining flour, mixed with the cheese, making a stiff dough. Toss on floured board and knead well. Place in a large greased bowl and let rise until double in bulk, about an hour.

Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., until the loaves shrink from the sides of the pan and give a hollow sound when tested—about one hour. Makes 2 loaves, approximately 1½ pounds each.

PIANO PAINS AUNTIE NIECE FINED POUNDS

Kingston, Eng. (CP)—More than 20 years ago a woman taught her niece to play the piano.

But she lived to regret it when the niece began to give piano lessons in an adjoining house, and she sought an injunction to prevent the lessons for more than three hours a day.

The injunction was granted on behalf of Mrs. Albert Tibble and nominal damages of £2($8) assessed against Doris Austin.

It's Long - it's Low - and you'll love it!

Young or old, you thrill to the sparkle of its massive grille, easily, clearly, the smartest on the road.

Grandson or grandpa, you take in the flowing sweep of those follow-through fenders—and unerringly spot in them the style-note destined to key the whole trend of car design.

Note that bonnet . . . sturdy, streamlined cradle for a massive Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight that wakes with a purr, pulses with power, fairly pleads for the privilege of taking you places.

Take in the great and gracious room so cunningly provided under sweeping roof lines . . . the wide, deep-cushioned seats.

Watch a Buick on the road—marvel at the down-to-earth sureness of low-slung weight, the easy rippling stride of a car cradled all around on soft coil springs.

Handling? A dream. Controls? Light as a kite. Value? Match a Buick point by point against the field. Nowhere today does a dollar buy a bigger measure of fineness and quality—or as great assurance of long and happy returns on your investment.

So many people want Buick, and only Buick, that the demand continues far ahead of our ability to deliver. But this big, brawny beauty deserves your last ounce of patience . . . so while you wait, depend on your Buick Dealer's expert service to keep your present car on the road.

Azores A Fairyland --- From Tourist's Viewpoint Only

ROTARY SPEAKER GIVES A REVEALING DISCOURSE ON MID-ATLANTIC ISLES

Brownsburg — On Thursday, June 13, the Rotary Club heard an interesting talk on "Life in the Azores" by John Morrison, of Morrison Wood Products Ltd., of Montreal West. Mr. Morrison was a Captain Pilot in the R.C.A.F. Coastal Command during the war, and was stationed for some time in these mid-Atlantic islands. He pointed out that most of us tend to take Canada and the conditions under which we live for granted. It is only when you actually see the living conditions of people in less happier lands, that you fully appreciate the good fortune of those who live in a country such as Canada.

The islands, which are under Portugal rule, are easily one hundred years behind other countries in technological progress. Everything is controlled by the military; civilians have no say in the government and very few legal rights. The rate of pay is approximately 1½ cents per day, and in order to keep ahead it is necessary for boys to start work at about eight or ten years old. Consequently, the rate of the literate male population is extremely low. Girls, on the other hand, are kept in a convent until they are 16, and are therefore much better educated.

Mechanization is unknown, and modern civilization as we know it exists only among the very few who control the island. From a tourist's point of view, the islands are almost like a fairyland, with palatial hotels for those who can afford them.

Being volcanic islands, no natural soil exists, only powdered volcanic rock, which over the course of time has been enriched sufficiently to support vegetation. Every square foot of productive land is utilized and it was not unusual to see "fields" no larger than a good-sized table, fenced off for farming.

The speaker was introduced by John Chalmers and thanked by Dave Schwartz.

The recent visit of the Brownsburg school children to Ottawa under sponsorship of the Rotary Club, was reported on by Dennis Staniforth, chairman of the Community Service Committee.

The Carnival Committee, under the chairmanship of Norm Somers, has drawn up tentative plans for the forthcoming carnival, which is expected to be held on August 7-8-9.

Visitors at the meeting included Hugh McEachran, of Dunany, and Ernest Brissant, of Hawkesbury.

SCHOOL GLEE CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

Lachute High School will conclude its activities for this term by a concert on Wednesday evening, July 25. This event will be sponsored by the High School Glee Club. The program includes songs which were prepared and rendered at the International Music Festival in Montreal. In addition to the Glee Club, there will be an orchestral group and a choral ensemble of Grade VIII girls.

Mr. Arthur Perlin, tenor, of Montreal, has consented again to help in making the evening a success.

The concert will present before the people of this town a record of the Glee Club activities, and an opportunity to hear some of the songs which made school music history at the recent International Schools Chorus, in which the Glee Club was very proud to participate.

A wise old trainer, asked for advice on winning races, said: "Well, sir, the thing to do is to get out in front at the start and improve your position from there on."

County Race Won By D. McTavish

Saturday's horse-race program was scratched due to a deluge which swamped the track, but the events on the two previous days drew keen enthusiasm and some fine competition. Owing to lateness of the season, and horses consequently not in the pink of practice, the distances were cut to three heats, of one-half, nine-sixteenths and one mile, respectively.

Delbert McTavish, last year's winner, paced home first for the county honors Thursday afternoon, with his Bob Grayno. Chas. Moseley of Brownsburg came second with his Brown Derby. The purse of $200. was contested by six entries.

In the 2.18 pace ($300) Miss Dillon Mac came first, driven by Geo. Chretien. Owners of this pacer were Hall Bros., from New York State.

In the 2.24 pace ($300 purse) Canada Direct, owned and driven by R. Bisson of Montreal, came first.

Five Young People Drowned from Canoe in Season's First Tragedy

Frail Craft Swings from Canal Approach into Long Sault Rapids and Capsizes

Five young people were drowned when their canoe capsized some distance above the Interprovincial Bridge near Grenville on Sunday evening. The tragedy occurred when they rounded the point from the Grenville Canal and were swept into the swift water, their slim craft capsizing in the current of the Long Sault Rapids.

Victims of the tragedy are — Bob Reeves, 21, of Grenville; Jean Groulx, 18, Donald Chapman, 18, and two girls, Aline Cousineau, 18, and Jeannine Roy, 17, all of Hawkesbury.

The mishap occurred at around 6.30 o'clock Sunday evening. Only eyewitnesses of the tragedy were Telesphore Shryer and his son, Fernand, of Pte. au Chene, who were fishing on the river shore near the mouth of the canal.

The four younger victims were quickly lost in the rapids, but it was stated Bob Reeves was seen swimming after the craft capsized. However, he appeared to be swept in the direction of a deep chasm in the riverbed, known as the "cellars", and suction of the current overpowered him. The bodies have not so far been recovered.

Bishop of Montreal on Visitation to Anglican Parish of Grenville

Grenville — At church services of the Anglican Parish of Grenville last Sunday, a group of young people were admitted to the Holy Communion. These children had been confirmed on the previous Sunday, at the time of the Episcopal visitation.

The Right Rev. John Dixon, Lord Bishop of Montreal, during his visit to the Parish spoke to the people concerning the work of the Church. He noted a growing interest in the field of religious activity, and pointed out that more and more people who had become "unchurched" were turning to the Church with the realization "that therein only could be found the cure for the afflictions of the world."

In speaking to those who were confirmed he admonished them always to remember "that the Church is the Family of God, the Body of Christ, the army and agent of God in His battle against evil, and the Way of life". . . "The privileges", he continued, "entail the responsibility of each member toward the whole, and if one member of the body of Christ is not fulfilling its function, then the whole body is handicapped".

At this service the Bishop also dedicated altar vases which were given by the Ladies' Guild of the parish. Mr. Wm. Jacob, of Hawkesbury, rendered a solo, "O, Lord Most Holy."

Sisters of Religious Orders Visit Family At St. Andrews East

(Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — Sister Peter Chrysologus, of the Sisters of Providence, Seattle, is the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Samuel Crevier. She went to Seattle in April, 1891. After graduating as a nurse from the Providence Hospital she worked there for some years, then was transferred to St. John's Hospital pharmacy. Her last visit to this village was in 1925. Now her return coincides with that of her niece, Sister Marie Samuel, of the White Sisters, of Africa, daughter of Mr. J. S. Crevier. Sister Marie Samuel has been at the mission at Ndala, Tanganyika Territory, since 1927. She is en route for Chicago and is expected here in a few days.

Sister Marie Jean de Bréboeuf, of St. Jean de Dieu Hospital, Montreal, is spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crevier. Other members of the family are expected soon. The one shadow in these joyful reunions is the fact that another sister of Mr. Crevier's died in Seattle in March, 1945. An illness of several years prevented her from taking the long journey east. She served her years as a religious sister in hospital and school duties. She was known as Sister Catherine of Genoa and was a golden jubilarian in the order of the Sisters of Charity of Providence.

Sister Peter Chrysologus had been kept informed of the changes and improvements that have taken place here, but declared her gratification that so many fine old trees, so characteristic of this community, have been preserved.

Boys' Brigade to Camp This Season At St. Andrews

Montreal—The Boys' Brigade camp at St. Andrews East will resume activities this season uder the new name, Camp Steadfast, recently given it by a group of former campers, who felt the name to be more in keeping with the motto of the Brigade ("Sure & Steadfast"). The camp is located on Albert Dorion's farm, not far from the village.

A working crew has been looking over the site and equipment so that everything may be in readiness before the opening date, July 12. Captain J. Howard Richardson will again be at the helm, with the following officers: Lieut. Sam Hallum, leader in charge of the Mount Royal Life Boy Team, a unit numbering over 60 young boys; Lieut. Alex G. Anderson, of the 1st Company; Revs. A. J. Mowatt and C. A. Selby. The camp enrolment is limited; if space permitted, it could break all previous records — a considerable number of applications will have to be turned down, as the quota has been reached.

Councillors for this summer's camp have been carefully chosen from the ranks of the 1st and 8th Companies of the Boys' Brigade. All have been given Water Safety and Life Saving instruction during the winter wonths, so that they may assume full responsibility for the water-front and give instruction to non-swimmers. For the most part, all campers will be Life Boys from the Town of Mount Royal.

Provide Pulmotor For Emergency Cases

For District Use in Cases of Drowning, Suffocation

A portable pulmotor purchased by the Lions Club is now in readiness for accident cases — such as drowning, carbon monoxide poisoning, suffocation by smoke, electric shock and heat stroke — and has been placed at the fire station for emergencies. Instruction in its use will be given to fire brigade officials, and the equipment will be immediately transportable as the need arises.

It is recalled that the Lions Club last year provided a rowboat for drowning accidents; this is also installed at the fire staion, ready for use at any time.

The pulmotor, manufactured in the United States, was delivered this week. Packed in a container resembling a large suitcase, it consists largely of the inhalators and two 18-inch cylinders containing carbon dioxide and oxygen. It is capable of treating four persons simultaneously. The Lions Club has arranged for use of this outfit free of cost anywhere in the district.

Motor Act Clause Applies to Midnight Horn-Honkers

The following amendment to the Motor Vehicles Act adopted by the Provincial Legislature, applies to all vehicles operating in the Province of Quebec:

Section 29 — "Every motor vehicle must, when operated on any public highway, be provided with a horn or other sounding device sufficient in capacity to be heard at a distance of 200 feet but which must not be used otherwise than as a signal of danger or when approaching a curve or the intersection of two streets, or when coming into a street or highway from a garage or private ground, and in such manner as not to produce a harsh or prolonged noise. Between the hours of midnight and six a.m. the sounding device shall be used in cities, towns and villages, and in any populated part of a municipality, only in case of necessity.

* * *

The Watchman cites the above clause not because it is in any way unique, but for the reason that it deserves particular emphasis in this town. The disturbance caused by auto horns on Main Street after midnight is becoming intolerable to residents of the neighborhood. The persistent honking of taxi or auto horns to summon passengers from a restaurant or lunch car, can by no means be interpreted as a "case of absolute necessity" as mentioned in the Act. It is time the authorities enforced the observance of this regulation.

Cycle Racer in 100-Mile Run

A high-ranker in pre-war bicycle racing, Bob Taylor, Jr. (of the Veteran's Taxi, Brownsburg) made his first comeback since being discharged from the Navy — coming sixth in a 100-mile course from Montreal to Ste. Agathe and return, on Sunday last. He finished strong among the contestants, which included some of the best cyclists in Montreal, and qualified for five worthwhile prizes.

Taylor will compete again in the Quebec race, a 160-mile run, on August 17.

Annual Vacation of Watchman Press

From July 12 to 19 inclusive, The Watchman Press will suspend operations for its annual week's vacation. To any customers threatened with a shortage of essential printing supplies, this notice is a reminder to order their requirements ahead. . . . There will be no issue of this newspaper on July 17. Advertisers please govern themselves accordingly.

Heavy Traffic to Marian Congress

The concluding celebrations of the Marian Congress in Ottawa last week-end, brought traffic by rail and highway from district parishes of Montreal and the associations, passing through this area to the capital and returning in a steady flood following the fete. No. 8 Highway was patrolled continuously over the police divisions between St. Eustache and Hull, and despite the stream of passenger cars and autobuses both day and night, no major mishaps were reported over this stretch.

Heart-Throbbing Moment

Mayor Alex Bothwell — who drew the ticket bringing good fortune and a Dodge 1947 car to a Lancaster, Ont., subscriber — is seen baring his arm before dipping into the transparent drum. The drawing was made during the continuous rain on the final afternoon at Lachute Fair. Lions Club officials and members prominently active in the drive, are also seen in the picture.

School Glee Club Heard in Recital at Civic Auditorium

There was a fair audience at the Lachute Auditorium last evening to hear the choral concert presented by Lachute High School Glee Club, under the able direction of Mr. Earl Morrison.

The Club performed creditably in many choral works, including both English and French songs, the most outstanding being "Non Nobis Domine", "Dear Land of Home", "En Roulant", "A Mighty Fortress" and "One World" — the latter two selections being part of the repertoire given at the International Festival in Montreal last month.

The solos by Mr. A. Perlin, tenor, of Montreal, were highly appreciated by the audience. "Duna" and "On Wings of Song" were featured in the first part of the program, and "O, Thank Me Not", with the dramatic interpretation of "Nirvana" making an excellent climax to his solo work.

A girls' chorus from Grade VIII rendered four numbers, and a boys' group gave a number in English and French.

Miss Joan Percival gave an accomplished performance in three pianoforte solos; this young artist's technique shows steady advancement.

Violin solos including "Gypsy Love Song", "Romance" and "Souvenir" were played by Mr. W. Hlibchuk, who interpreted these numbers with skill and feeling.

Mr. Morrison thanked all those who had assisted in the concert, and mentioned the fact that the choir was working under difficulties, with lack of practice during the school exam period. Credit is indeed due to the leader of the Glee Club, for the manner in which he is developing music appreciation among the school pupils.

The only criticism that was heard after the concert was the lack of discipline among many younger members of the audience, and there was no doubt that repeated and unnecessary noises resulted in putting the chorus and solcists "off balance". Future concerts should be supervised by the school authorities, and if children are allowed in the balcony they should be under capable charge.

Assistant Demonstrator For Women's Institutes

The Q.W.I. has announced the appointment of Miss Joy Guild as assistant to the Demonstrator-Secretary, Evelyn Walker. The need for such an assistant has been felt for some time, as with the continued steady growth in both membership and branches it was becoming increasingly difficult for Miss Walker to give the service she desired ever such a widespread territory.

Miss Guild is a popular graduate of the B.Sc. (H.Ec.) class of '47 at Macdonald College, and the members wish her well in her new task.

This is no time for small men in big jobs. We need great men in all jobs — even little ones.

Over 500 Attend Annual Meet of Farm Forums, Macdonald College

40 From Argenteuil Groups Take Part in Sessions and Educational Tours.

The annual meeting of the Quebec Farm Forums, held last Saturday at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, was the largest gathering of this organization to date, with between 500 and 600 persons in attendance. Forty people attended from the community surrounding Lachute, travelling by chartered autobus. There were seven such buses altogether, two having left Shawville at four o'clock that morning with 60 people aboard.

Stuart Armstrong, of Lachute Road, as president of the Quebec Council of Farm Forums, was chairman for the business proceedings. The meeting opened at 10 o'clock, when reports were presented and resolutions voted upon. Alex Sim, of Macdonald College, was present in the capacity of secretary-treasurer, and Joe Galway as secretary. The meeting adjourned at noon for lunch. Over 300 people were served in the dining room of the College, the remainder enjoying a picnic lunch in the spacious grounds, where tea and coffee were served. Other refreshments were on sale for convenience of the crowd.

The afternoon program included four tours, covering all points of interest in connection with the College and its agricultural pursuits. At four o'clock the new Engineering Building was officially opened, and the public were taken on a tour of inspection around this modern and efficient structure. These interesting events concluded around 4.30 o'clock, when the gathering dispersed and boarded the autobuses to return to their home communities.

At a Council executive meeting during the afternoon, new officers were elected. Gordon Shufelt, of Brome County, fills the presidency for the coming year and Floyd Grieshach was elected to replace Mr. Galway as secretary.

Douglas Bradford, of North River, is representative for this county on the Quebec Council.

President's Address and Departmental Reports

During the course of his address, President Stuart Armstrong remarked on the number of new groups and new persons taking part in the activities of the Farm Forums. "With this increase, our responsibility is increased," he added, "and we are that much stronger". He mentioned particularly the contacts with French-speaking agricultural groups, and the gratifying support from Que- Department of Agriculture.

"During the past winter all the broadcasts were very interesting; but the one that stuck in my mind, and this is my personal opinion, was "Who Will Farm in the Future?" Why should that be the $64 question here in Canada, especially when agriculture is Canada's greatest industry? Why are the young men and women leaving the farms? I can tell you, and you all know the answer. They leave because there is not enough money in it; they are 'starved off', that is why. We must throw away all excuses and anything else that will take us away from the main reason. For example, when the foods produced on the farm are increased ten cents a pound over the counter, and the price to the farmers is increased one and a half cents, then the farmer wants to walk out on the job, and who can blame him?

"I think that this is where the Canadian Federation of Agriculture fits in . . . Mr. H. H. Hannam claims the farmers have enough of a gamble at best with the weather, plant and animal disease, ill-health, accidents, and so on, without having the idea of an unknown market. In the past when we made our plans for our crops or livestock, we had no idea how much we would get for our returns; but the war created a market and proved to us that this is the solution to our problems, a market for our surplus. As I see it, we will have to support the C.F.A. in organizing a world market, and we will have to plan our farming on a world-wide basis and have orderly production and thus avoid dumping our surplus at a price below cost of production.

"This is where the Canadian Federation of Agriculture comes in. We can plan and discuss and then send in reports to the C.F.A. As you know, they have been to the Old Country this spring trying to organize a world food plan and to sell our products around the world".

The president concluded with a word of tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Galway, who had filled a popular and active role in the work of the Forums. Mr. Galway now moves on to a wider scope of activity, as secretary to the National Farm Forums. . . Floyd Griesbach, new secretary of the Quebec group, and his wife, were extended a warm welcome and good wishes in their work.

The secretary-treasurer, Alex Sim, and the secretary, Joe Galway, had highly gratifying accounts and an encouraging outlook for the future. Complete mimeographed reports for all departments of the Forums during the past year, make interesting reading, and are eloquent of a keen enthusiasm, to promote the endeavors of this organization in a practical way for the betterment of the agricultural industry.

Fish and Game Assoc'n Sponsors Crow Shoot, To Reduce Farm Pests

Brownsburg — At a meeting of directors of the Fish and Game Protective Association of Argenteuil, held in the Social Club at Brownsburg on Thursday evening, June 19, the opening of an annual "Crow Shoot" was announced by Ed Cribb, chairman of this committee. Mr. Cribb announced there would be three prizes, awarded to the three persons turning in the largest haul of crows' feet (two per crow) by the closing date, July 31. Time and place for the turning in of feet will be duly announced. The prizes will be $5, $3 and $2, respectively, or the equivalent value in ammunition. (Only members of the Association in good standing are eligible to compete.)

It is stated several farmers have already expressed approval of this effort towards the riddance of a perennial farm pest.

Other business under the chairmanship of Les Keatlie, president, was the appointment of various committee chairmen, as follws:

Membership, Bill Moseley.
Finance, Tom Dwyer.
Policy, Norman Somers.
Entertainment, Ed Cribb.
Surveys, D. Girard.

Secretary Alex Clarke also announced the provincial charter had been received, and that application had been made for membership in the Federation of Fish and Game Clubs Inc.

Citizen Certificates Presented at L'Orignal

Court and municipal officials were among the 58 residents of the United Counties of Prescott and Russell who received citizenship certificates at a ceremony held recently at the court house in L'Orignal.

Among those present was 80-year-old Alexandre Marion, for 38 years reeve of the Town of Rockland and father of County Judge C. W. A. Marion, who presided at the ceremony.

Citizenship certificates to the number of 58 were presented by Judge Marion. The recipients included representative citizens of the United Counties, "some of them English-speaking, some of them of French extraction, but all having in themselves those qualities which identify them as worthy of these certificates."

Judge Marion then administered the Oath of Allegiance, and appropriate addresses were given, stressing the significance of this ceremony.

A banquet was held afterwards at the King Edward Hotel in Hawkesbury, Warden Philippe Tittley presiding.

The answer to "Work or Want" is "Want to Work".

Why Milk Tests Vary

There are many known and unknown factors responsible for fluctuations in the quantity and quality of milk.

(Reprinted from Northwest Farms News and The Holstein-Freisian Journal)

Almost numberless reasons are given for variation in the test of individual cows or from milking to milking, from day to day, month to month, or year to year. However, it is difficult to ascribe a particular cause to a particular case because of the many factors involved and the fact that some one or more may escape attention.

Then, each cow does not react in the same way as another cow to a given cause, and even the same cow does not seem to always react in the same way. Professor Haecker stated this pungently years ago when he said: "Surely the ways of the cow are strange. She does, and she doesn't and then she does neither."

Fluctuation in quantity and composition of the milk from the same cow is greater and more common than is often assumed. Ask the man who has tested for years.

Assuming that the sampling and testing of the milk has been done properly and accurately, the following, in brief, are the causes usually assigned for variations in test:

The Breed

In a herd of ten cows or more one would expect about the following average per cent of fat for the different breeds: Jersey, 5.3 per cent; Guernsey, 4.9 per cent; Ayrshire and Brown Swiss, 4.0 per cent, and Holstein, 3.5 per cent.

Feed

Careful investigations show that the kind of feed will only temporarily affect the test of a cow's milk. While a sudden change of feed may either increase or decrease the test of milk, the cows will soon return to normal.

Cows underfed or starved for a time will tend to increase the test of their milk, particularly if they were previously in good condition of flesh. It may take several days for this increase to take place but it will continue for some time if the underfeeding in continued. The same result will take place when a cow is off her feed or out of condition for several days.

A temporary increase in fat content of milk is apt to result from feeds high in fat, such as flaxseed, soybeans, etc.

Underfeeding

The Minnesota College of Agriculture purchased ten cows from a farm where feed conditions were very poor. On this farm these cows produced an average of 3,340 pounds of 4.4 per cent milk. Under liberal feeding at University Farm they produced an average of 6,386 pounds of 4.65 per cent milk. They were then returned to the farm where they were fed scant rations and they produced an average of 4,492 pounds of 4.43 per cent milk. The good feed and care nearly doubled the amount of milk but the test of the milk was only slightly higher.

Condition

Cows in high condition of flesh at calving time will test relatively high for a time, but the test will return to normal as the excess body fat is "milked off." Cows in thin condition at freshening may test from 0.1 to 0.3 per cent lower for the year than the same cows freshening in good condition. Cows in heat and in high flesh tend to test higher.

Pasture

When cows are turned to pasture in the spring there is a tendency for the test to increase for a time and the live weight of the cow to decrease. Cows in poor condition or not giving much milk may not show much, if any, change in test. The temporary increase in test is ascribed to the cow being unable to eat sufficient grass to take care of her needs after being fed all winter and she "milks off" her body fat.

Weather

Except as influenced by stage of lactation, cows tend to test lower in summer than in winter. This is ascribed to heat rather than other causes. Also tests are sometimes higher on clear, cold days. Cows shipped from cold to warm climates tend to test lower. During the hot, drouthy weather of 1934 reports showed a lower than normal summer test.

Storms have no effect on test when cows are well sheltered. Cows exposed to cold, stormy, wet weather drop in production and may drop in test at the same time.

Cows freshening in the fall or winter will usually have a higher average for the year than the same cows freshening in spring or summer.

Age and Lactation

There is a tendency for test to increase slightly until a cow is 5 to 7 years, after which it may decrease. This is so slight as to be of no material consequence.

Fat percentage increases as lactation advances, being most rapid toward the end. The only exception is that the second and third months tend to be lower than the first month after calving when cows are in good flesh.

2,500 EXHIBITORS, CENTRAL CANADA SHOW AT OTTAWA

Taking into account all the competitive sections of the Central Canada Exhibition, more than 2,500 exhibitors, the majority from the Ottawa Valley, show their wares annually at the Exhibition at Lansdowne Park. These men and women come from a wide area and represent communities totalling more than a million people in population. This is the statement made by H. H. McElroy, secretary-manager of the Exhibition, who with his Board of Directors is making a direct appeal to the business men of Ottawa, to rally behind the great reopening Exhibition which will be held from August 18 to 23.

For those people who live within a radius of 150 miles from the Capital of Canada, the great Central Canada Exhibition is hailed as the biggest attraction of the year.

Apart from the splendid livestock, agricultural, industrial and other competitive exhibits exceeding two million dollars in value, there will be a program of attractions never been equalled in the past. The Grandstand Follies will hold forth every evening in front of the grandstand, and this is declared to be the most outstanding revue ever brought to an Ottawa Exhibition. In the afternoon, there will be vaudeville programs including circus, rodeo and variety acts.

Of probably the greatest significance to visitors will be the free programs to be given twice daily by Franko Goldman's world famous band of 50 musicians, while the World of Mirth midway has more than 25 rides, shows and games.

IMPROVED SERVICE IN GATINEAU CO. POWER PROJECT

The capacity of 24 substations will be greatly increased and three complete new substations erected to provide the transformer capacity necessary for the $700,000 Improvement Program of Gatineau Power Company, it was announced this week.

The original announcement of the program gave a detailed account of new lines to be constructed and new equipment needed, but made only passing reference to the substations. Such stations are places where groups of transformers take high voltage power off main transmission lines and reduce it to lower voltages for use on subsidiary lines.

The three new substations will be at Piedmont, where transformers of 1,000 kilowatt capacity will be installed; near St. Adele, where a new transformer station of 10,000 kilowatt capacity will be erected; and Thurso, where a 300 kilowatt substation will be installed.

While a portion of the program will be completed this summer, the greatest improvement will not be noticed until early in 1948, on account of delays in the delivery of heavy equipment.

Capacity of the substations in this area will be increased as follows:

	Present Capacity	Proposed Capacity
St. Canut	25 Kw.	75 Kw.
Lachute	1,275 Kw.	2,275 Kw.
Brownsburg	225 Kw.	550 Kw.
Ile aux Chats	150 Kw.	300 Kw.
Arundel	100 Kw.	300 Kw.

ALL THESE Are Needed

IF THE TELEPHONE installer brought along ALL the things needed to give service to those waiting for it, he would look something like this! The actual instrument, and the wire he uses to connect the house to the nearest cable, are only a small fraction of the whole installation job.

Back at the telephone exchange unbelievably complicated apparatus connects each telephone with all others, and with Long Distance lines to outside points.

Since the beginning of 1946, we have added 321 telephones to Lachute's telephone system. Much has been done — much is being done — to supply telephones to more people than ever before while continuing to provide the best service at the lowest cost.

Lack of Libraries

LIBRARY facilities in Canada, according to Miss Freda Wilson, president of the Canadian Library Association, are available only to 50 per cent of the people, whereas in Britain 99 per per cent have access to libraries. While our widely scattered population is no doubt a contributing cause, the comparison between the two countries shows that we are lagging far behind in the establishment of suitable library facilities. There are scores of towns and villages without libraries, and residents have no means of obtaining good books unless they purchase them outright or borrow from acquaintances. Of course, there is the argument that any community with progressive citizens would not be long without a library, but such movements are difficult to get started, and often lack of money is the big obstacle.

What is needed most is someone to give leadership in stirring up communities and getting residents enthused over such a project. We think promoting library construction in Canada affords an excellent opportunity for some national patriotic or service organization. An old proverb says a good book is a great friend, and in these days, people need friends.

Canada and the Atomic Secret

ALTHOUGH the matter is still shrouded in the greatest secrecy, it would appear from meagre press reports and guarded statements given out by Government officials, that Canada ranks next to the United States in the matter of atomic bomb research. We have the coveted uranium necessary for its manufacture, and we have scientists who have been engaged in atomic study since early in the war. The Americans say they are the only ones at the present who possess the knowledge of how to make the bomb. Britain and Canada, while assisting in the development, apparently never asked for the details. But shall Canada be the next country to possess the secret? Considering the activity at the Chalk River atomic experimental centre, it is not unreasonable to think so. If, and when, we reach that stage, the Dominion will assume greater importance in world politics.

IF ALL the world's politicians spent as much energy making friendships as they do holding grudges, universal peace would soon be realized.

WHAT HAS happened to all those people who want to change the name of Dominion Day to Canada Day?

AN OLD marriage wish is as follows: One year of joy, another of comfort, and all the rest content. And for all the brides of this month, we hope the wish will come true.

FIVE-DAY week? Deuteronomy 5:13 reads: "Six days thou shalt labor and do all thy work".

Unsavory Business

A NEW kind of black market has been exposed in New York, where certain unscrupulous doctors are said to be actually selling babies "under the counter". Taking advantage of an occasion when an unmarried girl gives birth to an unwanted child, the doctors seek out barren couples interested in adoption, and sell to the highest bidder. The price is said to have risen in the past few months from $1,500 for a girl and $1,700 for a boy, to a flat $2,500. Dishonest lawyers assist in the transaction.

That such a business should exist is shocking to decent-minded people. The physicians who so traffic in human lives are guilty of a loathesome crime and ought to be given severe sentences when apprehended. We can be thankful that Canadian doctors have a much higher regard for their profession and abide faithfully to the rigid code of ethics required of them.

Too Much Interference

OUR capitalism is modified by socialist experiments (remarks the Letter-Review of Fort Erie , Ont.) such as "public ownership" of public utilities, the redistribution of income by taxation, taking from the wealthy to give to the poor, and by attempts at governmental direction of business activities. These attempts are of varying value — some producing what seem to be useful effects, others obviously interfering with the freedom of the capitalist system to get on with its job. Broadly speaking, there is probably too much interference at the moment — not by any means too little.

Dollars that Stay at Home

THERE IS a big difference in dollars. — There is the "Tramp" dollar, the dollar that is spent away from home. Then there is the "Home" dollar with its "home" circulation, "home" benefits and "home" profits.

Though both of these dollars are marked "One Hundred Cents", the "home" dollar continues to multiply itself "at home" for community interests are mutual. Not so with the "tramp dollar" — once spent it is gone forever.

The success of Lachute and its surrounding territory contributes to the success of everybody in it. A prosperous town rests on the individual prosperity.

The advantage to you of spending your dollar at home is far greater than the "Tramp" dollar can possibly buy — even if it bought a hundred cents worth — and which it cannot possibly do, because the other fellow in the out-of-town field must make a profit.

There is big truth in this, worthy of your serious thought. It pays to trade at home.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT of the Canadian veteran has proceeded, so far, more smoothly than in the parallel situation following 1918. Nearly every able-bodied young man, certainly every one with training, has been absorbed.

"MY WEEK"
By R. J. DEACHMAN

"There is nothing new under the sun". Sometimes I doubt it. In his famous Gettysburg speech in November 1863, Abraham Lincon used these words:

"Government of the people, by the people for the people."

The phrase caught on. It has been used as an expression of democratic opinion throughout the world ever since.

The times and conditions of life — not man — create the greatest speeches the world has ever heard. In the preface of his translation of the bible John Wycliffe wrote these words:

"This bible is for the government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

That was published in the year 1382, 481 years before Lincoln's message.

Theodore Parker, a famous American preacher speaking in Boston, Mass., on May 29, 1850 said:

"A democracy — that is, a government of ALL the people, by ALL the people, for ALL the people; of course a government on the principle of eternal justice, the unchanging law of God; for shortness' sake, I will call it the idea of Freedom."

It sounds very different when the emphasis is on "all", the meaning too is quite different. Lincoln, however, placed his emphasis on the word "people". Some years ago a boy in delivering an address quoted Lincoln's words, an old gentleman came to him afterwards and congratulated him:

"Son", he said, "I liked the way you gave that speech, but you made the same mistake as everyone else. I heard Mr. Lincoln at Gettysburg, so I know what I'm talking about. Everyone says 'OF the people', 'BY the people, and 'FOR the people', but Mr. Lincoln said: 'of the PEOPLE', and 'by the PEOPLE', and 'for the PEOPLE'."

That makes a difference in the inference, for it becomes more comprehensive when we put the emphasis on "people". When it is read in that way it includes "all the people", which is beyond question what Lincoln meant it should.

* * *

Russia went too far when she recently changed the Hungarian Government. It would pay her, in the long run, if she withdrew and did it now.

General Marshall is the strong man of the United States, he knows the danger which might arise from Russian expansion. He doesn't want war with Russia, he knows what war means perhaps better than any other man in the United States. The effect of absolute war is the breakdown of civilization, the destruction of world economy.

The United States is stirring. It doesn't propose to meet Russia by machine guns and atomic bombs. The United States is coming to the conclusion that Europe can be rebuilt. Russia might even help. The task would be by the investment of capital to increase its capacity to produce at a higher level than ever before.

If that program evolves and develops, as it would, if it is given economic backing then it will add to the prosperity of the world. We may yet live to see a United Europe. If that could happen we might have a hundred years of peace — if a hundred why not a thousand?

This doesn't mean that the Russians must change their system of government, it only means a change of outlook. When men begin to realize, as everyone in the world ought to realize, that the prosperity of our neighbors is the best guarantee of our own, then we will have the basis of progress, which means not that I am my brother's keeper but that I, as a citizen of the world, want others to be happy and prosperous.

SIGHT SAVING IS A MAJOR WORK AT BLIND SCHOOL

Training of Children Important Function

Preservation of sight of the partially blind is a major function of the Montreal Association for the Blind and suitable employment, not necessitating much use of eyesight, has been carefully developed over the years, states T. R. Fenton, Manager, drawing attention to the fact that cases are becoming more numerous with the increase of population of Canada.

With facilities available today, believes Mr. Fenton, more cases of partial blindness than ever before are now brought to attention, whereas formerly there was no incentive to report such a condition.

The Blind, in Canada, in 1881 numbered 3,002, or 7 in every 10,000 of population; in 1941 the total had raised, with increase of population, to 9,962, or 8.7 per 10,000 of population.

Figures for the Province of Quebec in 1881 were, 1,102 blind, or 8.1 per 10,000 population. In 1941 the figures were 3,152 sightless persons, or 9.5 per 10,000. A rather remarkable comparison, points out Mr. Fenton, is that in 1881 figures were identical with the province of Quebec, but in 1941 Quebec exceeded the Ontario total by 21 blind people.

There are now actually 723 of school-training age or under, and it is evident that provision must be made for their education and for fitting them into society as useful citizens.

Mr. Fenton suggests these figures show the necessity of continued work of the Montreal Association for the Blind, particularly with young children, who have the facilities of complete education at the School on Sherbrooke Street West, to enable them to become self-reliant and self-supporting.

It really leaves nothing essential to be desired—in performance, in comfort or in handling ease. And, always, it is one of the most beautiful cars to be seen on the streets and highways.

The 1947 Pontiac Silver Streak is an example of what we mean. People who get it need envy no one—and the same will be true of those who get their Pontiacs in 1948, 1949 or 1950. Year after year, Pontiac is a fine care—in every respect.

The stack of orders piled up for the new Pontiac are gratifying testimonials to the quality and beauty of this finest of the famous Silver Streaks. Each "Sportsman's Show" broadcast will offer 15 minutes of tips on equipment, from steel rods and fancy flies to wiggly minnows and squirmy worms; advice on fishing technique; latest news about the best places to catch everything with fins; and frequent reminders about when it's legal to fish for what. Stories about extraordinary catches that have been landed, as well as tall tales about "the one that got away," will also be featured in the programs.

Jack Hambleton, fishing and hunting editor of the Toronto Globe and Mail, will appear regularly on the "Sportsman's Show" to share his rod-and-reel lore with radio listeners.

THE BIG BEAUTIFUL DODGE

GIVES YOU THESE TRADITIONAL DODGE QUALITIES...

DEPENDABILITY — Dodge from the first insisted on "Dependability". It was the guiding principle when the first Dodge was planned and produced more than 30 years ago. Year after year Dodge engineering improvements give Dodge owners Extra thousands of miles of trouble-free operation — add to the traditional Dodge reputation for Dependability.

SAFETY — In 1922 Dodge scored a "First" in automobile safety with an all-steel sedan. Two years later Dodge again led with equal-pressure hydraulic 4-wheel brakes for quicker, safer stops. Regularly, Dodge has added new safety features such as safety glass, and Safety Rim wheels which provide protection in case of a blowout — until to-day there is no safer car on the road.

COMFORT — The thrilling Dodge Full Floating Ride results from more than 20 important factors including Floating Power engine mountings; independent front wheel springing; balanced weight distribution; placing the rear seats ahead of the rear axle. In 1942, Dodge Custom was first in its price class with Fluid Drive — the greatest motoring advancement since hydraulic brakes and floating power.

ECONOMY — Dodge cars have always been economical to operate—BIG cars — real value in every price class. The powerful Dodge L-Head engines have fewer moving parts. Among the many wear-resisting features are "Superfinish"; an oil bath air cleaner which protects moving parts from grit; and four rings per piston for gas and oil economy.

DODGE STYLE AND BEAUTY, throughout the years, has matched Dodge engineering and design. Each new Dodge is acclaimed as "more beautiful than ever" — each new Dodge has added new enthusiastic owners to the ever-growing list of satisfied Dodge buyers.

Marriage Solemnized At Lachute United Church

MacKimmie — Skinner

The marriage of June Lilac, daughter of Mr. J. K. MacKimmie and the late Mrs. MacKimmie, to Willard Robert, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Skinner, took place at Lachute United Church on Saturday, June 21. The Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiated, assisted by the Rev. C. R. Lang.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her bridal gown was of white brocaded satin with a flowing skirt of double net. She wore a finger-tip veil of tulle illusion, her only ornament being a double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Joan MacKimmie, as maid of honor, and Miss Sheila Ryan as bridesmaid. The maid of honor wore a floor-length pink chiffon gown and a halo of blue flowerettes catching her shoulder-length veil of pink net. The bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of blue chiffon with a halo of blue flowerettes catching her shoulder-length veil of blue net. Both attendants were wearing a single strand of pearls, gifts from the bride. Their arm bouquets were of pink sweet peas.

Mrs. Skinner, mother of the groom wore a grey street-length gown with black accessories. Mrs. John Graham, sister of the bride, wore a street-length gown of blue floral print with black and white accessories.

Mr Donald MacKimmie, brother of the bride, acted as best man for Mr. Skinner, and the ushers were Mr. Earl Tomalty and Mr. Lloyd Kettyle.

The church was tastefully decorated with various spring flowers. Mrs. Stuart Campbell played the wedding music, and Miss Mae Gordon sang "Because," during the signing of the register.

A reception, immediately following the ceremony, was held at McArthur's Hall, when multi-colored pansies adorned the bridal table.

Entertainment was provided in the form of music and dancing in the hall upstairs.

The happy couple left for Montreal, later motoring to Quebec City and Newport, Vt.

At Brownsburg United

Brownsburg—A successful lawn social was held on Wednesday evening last by the Junior Woman's Association, at the church grounds. A slight shower intervened and the gathering repaired to the church auditorium, where a capacity audience enjoyed the program of entertainment. The artists included the choir, who rendered two numbers, accompanied by Mrs. C. J. Wheeler; Miss Bertha Richard, accompanied by Miss Louise Snyder, in a vocal solo; Miss M. Cumbers and Mr. Frank Steere, in a vocal duet; Mr. Gordon Anderson with three accordion numbers; several numbers by Mr. Junior Heatlie, of Lachute, with guitar accompaniment; vocal solos by Messrs. F. Steere and James Cunningham; and readings by Mr. C. J. Wheeler and the Rev. S. J. Pike, who acted as chairman.

• • •

The Sunday School picnic held at the grounds of Mr. F. Vowles on Saturday afternoon, proved a most enjoyable outing for the pupils, parents and friends. Arrangements left nothing desired to make the event a success. The purchasing committee for prizes and fruit included Misses Marjorie McOuat, N. Hanson, Winnie White and Mrs. Edgar Pollock. Messrs. H. Elliott and E. Donaldson were in charge of games; a treasure hunt for the girls was arranged by Misses J. Damant and A. Zimmer, while Mr. F. Hazel enlisted a staff for the races.

Thanks of the school are expressed to Mr. Vowles for the use of his grounds, to Mr. E. McOuat for supplying milk, and to the Senior Woman's Association for providing tea and sugar.

Echoes of the Exhibition

CLUB GRATEFUL TO COMPANY AND LOCAL MANAGER

The directors of Lachute Lions Club, in acknowledging the wholehearted co-operation which assured the success of their recent drawing, paid special recognition to one of their members, George L. Davis (since elected third vice-president of the club). The following extracts are from a letter thanking Mr. Davis as a prime organizer in this campaign:

Mr. Geo. L. Davis, Mg'r,
North River Motors Ltd.

". . . Words fail to express our thanks, to yourself for having made primary arrangements, and to your company for their zeal and ready acquiescence in offering this Dodge car to the Lions Club at cost — especially in view of the prevailing scarcity of automobiles.

"The drawing was a complete success, both financially and otherwise, and it was in no small measure due to the co-operation given by North River Motors Ltd., yourself and your efficient staff.

"Please accept our grateful thanks, primarily for the initiative you took in promoting the idea, and secondly, for the great amount of work and time you put into this worthwhile accomplishment".

(Signed) Fred J. Sanford,
Secretary.

CHAMBER OF COM. REVIEWS ACTIVITY AT LACHUTE FAIR

A report to the Chamber of Commerce on the Information Booth maintained at Lachute Fair, reviews the outcome of this enterprise as follows:

"The Information Booth was under charge of the Reception and Organizing Committee. The Booth was loaned through the courtesy of Mr. W. M. Cottingham of Lachute, to whom we are very grateful.

"The numerous services rendered by this Committee, and other fellow members of the Chamber, consisted of the following:

(1) Room service located for such people as news reporters, exhibitors and others. Approximately 45 calls filled.

(2) Information given by telephone, to long-distance as well as local callers, giving general information and the locating of persons wanted at the Fair. There were approximately 200 calls.

(3) Service to the Agricultural Society whenever and wherever possible, such as the time of the electrical fire in a barn, when we helped to locate the electrician in charge. We also assisted Mr. Linton Armstrong in the dispatching of horse show reports, etc., to the Montreal press and radio stations from the ringside. These reports were typewritten by us. Also several telephone calls were received and relayed to Messrs. Bothwell, Cottingham, and others.

(4) The Lost and Found service of this booth was instrumental in locating the parents of three lost children. Several other sundry articles were left in our charge, and returned to their rightful owners.

"The Chamber of Commerce Information Booth was greatly assisted by the local Boy Scout Troop, under the charge of Scoutmaster Quentin James, who acted as guides and runners, to relay calls and information. They were also a great help in locating persons on the Fair Grounds and keeping us in touch with the loudspeaker units. We cannot speak too highly of this service rendered by them.

"We would like to take this opportunity to thank fellow members, such as Mr. Gerald Walker, of Walker-Kingsbury Inc., who so kindly loaned the booth a typewriter for their use; Mr. T. Hammond, of Hammond's Radio Shop, for the use of a radio which was installed in the booth; the Lefebvre family, of J. W. Lefebvre Ltd., for supplying table and chairs to furnish the booth.

"We were greatly handicapped by the telephone not being on a direct line, and having no direct way of contacting or communicating with the loudspeaker units on the Fair Grounds, except by the aid of the Boy Scouts — which meant the loss of time in relaying calls of an emergency nature.

"It might have been a help if this Information Booth and the services offered had been given more publicity, such as mentioning it on the programs and other literature printed in connection with the Fair."

To put a rod through a curtain without catching the material, place a thimble on the end.

Presentations at Arundel

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — A pleasant gathering took place in Arundel United Church on Friday evening, June 20, when a dual presentation marked the highlight of the evening.

The Rev. A. E. Wilfong, who has had charge of the parish for the past three years, and Mrs. Wilfong, are now leaving to take up a new charge at Kingsbury, Que., and Mr. Homer Cooke, on behalf of the congregations of Arundel, St. Jovite and Grey Valley, presented them with a purse. Mr. Cooke mentioned that this had been Mr. Wilfong's first charge after his ordination — how both Mr. and Mrs. Wilfong had given such help and guidance to the congregation, and how they will be missed here on their departure. He also wished them Godspeed in their new work and warm wishes for their success. . . In paying tribute to Mrs. Wilfong, he stressed that she had been a guiding light to her co-workers and to the different organizations to which she belonged, and that her departure will be a marked loss to her associates.

Mr. Wilfong, in reply, spoke feelingly of the ties that had been formed here, and the pleasure they had both found in their work.

Master Ronnie Allan then presented Mrs. Wilfong with a corsage.

The second pleasant duty was the presentation of a smoking stand to Mr. M. E. Davis, who has devoted 35 years of faithful service to the church in the duties of secretary. This presentation was made by the Rev. Mr. Wilfong, assisted by Mr. J. Moncrieff and Mr. S. McArthur. Mr. Davis expressed surprise and pleasure at this gesture of appreciation.

A short musical program consisted of duets by Mrs. E. Bulley and Mrs. Gordon Cooke, piano solos by Mrs. Melvin Graham and Miss Lillias Davis, and a soprano solo by Mrs. T. Sevigny. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the congregation.

And because every control responds so readily to the lightest touch, I can drive a Chevrolet all day long without strain or effort . . . park it quickly and conveniently whenever I choose."

It's so beautiful!

"If you're like me—if you value appearance—you'll lose your heart to the winning charms of Chevrolet. You'll love its long, sweet lines, its roomy and luxurious interior, its rich upholstery. It's truly the most beautiful car we've ever owned."

It's so trouble-free!

"I never worry about delays or unexpected breakdowns in inconvenient places . . . now that I drive a Chevrolet! I wear my smartest, gayest costume, my most frivolous shoes—knowing I can depend on Chevrolet to carry me over good roads and bad, mile after mile, month after month, with never a need for even a minor repair."

It's CHEVROLET!

Yes . . . it's Chevrolet . . . the car that offers Big-Car quality at low cost. You'll recognize this Big-Car quality in Chevrolet's Big-Car beauty, Big-Car comfort, Big-Car safety, and in the many vital features found only in Chevrolet and higher-priced cars. And every model brings you the great plus value of Chevrolet's traditional economy of operation and low cost of maintenance.

The growing demand for the new Chevrolet is setting an all-time record. We cannot hope for many months to fill all the orders pouring in. If you are among the many who have set your sights on Chevrolet's Big-Car Quality at Low Cost, we suggest that while you wait, you rely on your Chevrolet Dealer's service to keep your present car running smoothly and safely.

NO ARTHRITIS CARE

Vancouver (CP) — While 500,000 Canadians are suffering from arthritis, nothing is done to give them medical care, said C. B. Romer, president of the Greater Vancouver Health League. Hospitals which have heavy calls on them from the general public "exclude arthritis cases because of the long time necessary to treat them".

SWEETER TASTIER White Bread

RECIPE

Put 1 c. lukewarm water in bread bowl, add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 tsp. sugar, stir; let stand 10 min. Scald 2 c. milk, add 5 tbs. sugar; add 5 tsp. salt; cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast with 1 c. water; add 6 c. sifted flour; beat well. Add 5 tbs. melted shortening and 6 c. more sifted flour, or enough to make easily handled dough. Knead dough quickly and lightly until smooth and elastic. Place dough in greased bowl, cover; set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch dough down in bowl; let rise again until about ¾ as high as first rise. When light, divide into 4 equal portions; shape into balls. Cover with cloth; let rest 10 to 15 min. Shape into loaves; place in greased bread pans. Cover; let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in 425° F. oven for 15 min., then reduce heat to 375° F. Finish baking about 30 min. longer.

"ALONG THE FAIRWAYS"

By Lachute Golf Club's Special Contributor

An energetic crew of volunteers from among the members made short work of the boulders along the new opening of number two fairway last Friday night. We would like to say that it is such wholehearted cooperation as this that will help to put the course in shape and keep it that way. We believe some of the members had more fun and expended less effort than they do on a nine-hole stretch. Shotmaker of the evening was our-captain, Roger Gravel, who scored the only "head in one" we have heard of to date.

* * *

Heard from the highway:

"Say, I wouldn't want a slice off number three!"

"Neither would I, I'd prefer all of that big hunk in the yellow shirt".

* * *

His name is Nick and you'd have a hard time telling a couple of Jacks and a Bobby that he isn't St. Nicolas himself. At least, they say he was in a generous mood last Sunday — finally abandoned the game altogether and started some late spring planting in the wheatfield across the fence.

"I'll double 'em up next time", says Nick.

* * *

New members and old, along with many visitors both local and out-of-town, attended the opening spring dance of the Golf Club held at the club house Saturday evening. Most clubs in the district, including Islesmere, were represented, and besides expressing keen interest in and admiration for the recent improvements to both club house and grounds, one and all enjoyed a fine evening of dancing.

* * *

If that golfer friend of yours turned up for work Monday A.M. with a red face, it wasn't entirely because of the scores he carded over the week-end. Genuine summer weather brought the members out for some of the best golfing to date, and sunburns are the fashion once more. When all the sod, sand and sulphur had cleared away, the following names appeared on the Jones Cup draw (with net scores in qualifying round):

Art Lapp 71, M. Assaly 74, Art St-Onge 75, D. Campbell 75, N. D. Sommers 78, M. Rubenstein 78, Jim Finlayson 78, K. I. Gordon 79, Barrie Elliott 79, R. Perrier 79, L. Carriere 80, H. M. Kerr 80, H. Morrison 81, J. McIndoe 81, G. McMullen 81, Bob Hamilton 82.

THE TEACHER
—a Conservationist
By educating today's youth in the ways of conservation, teachers can contribute greatly to the cause of conservation.

COPYRIGHT BY CARLING'S, 1946

Contrary to popular opinion, the Red-shouldered Hawk is most useful to man, particularly to the farmer. The keen eyes of these hawks are ever on the look-out for field mice, grasshoppers and crickets, which they destroy in countless numbers. Anyone who is familiar with the habits and characteristics of these birds is aware of their great economic value, and encourages them to nest near fields and meadows.

* "Scientific investigations into their feeding habits and the proof obtained by stomach-analyses changed the false notion that all hawks are bad."

*An excerpt from—"Protect These Predators" by Kerry Wood, in CARLING'S CONSERVATION DIGEST, Vol. I, No. 2, published by The Carling Conservation Club.
