Flourishing Future for Laurentian Playground Seen in Present Trend

Looking Back over Recent Years, Observer Views Amazing Growth of Mountain Resorts

"Developed to 10% of Potentialities"

Over a thousand people gathered at the recent "Water Ballet" at Ste. Adele en Haut. A commentary of this event —more particularly on its surroundings and their evolution over the recent years — makes interesting reading to the inhabitants of this area. Touring the Laurentians these days, one is struck by the great upheaval of modern times (commercial rather than geological), and here on the fringe of these big doings, it is interesting to recall the strides of growth, that seem to point to still greater developments ahead.

* * *

A button nosed little man with a grin from ear to ear, looked up at the stars that night, shining big and bright over the Laurentians; he looked at the depths of the swimming pool, and at the bronze figure of the Canadian Olympic girl diver poised on the board; and his eyes turned toward the crowd watching with intense interest. "Leo, this is nice, but this is nothing — wait until you see what the future holds".

The occasion was the recent "Water Ballet Under the Stars" at Ste. Adele Lodge. The speaker was George "Mickey" Wilson, and he was addressing D. Leo Dolan, Chief of the Canadian Travel Bureau. What was most significant was that the little man had backed his convictions with good hard cash, nearly half a million dollars of it, on the future of the Laurentians.

This might well be a milestone in Laurentians history, as the "oldest mountain range in the world" develops into a greater phase of activity, the fourth at least in the last 30 years.

It was not more than 25 years ago that anyone could buy just about the choicest lake frontage in the mountains, for a song. The Wheeler family were pioneers in the area, and Ste. Agathe was just beginning to develop, but only through the soldiers, and later the tuberculosis sanatorium there.

In brief, the Laurentians were rated a fourth rate farming country —a good lumbering country — and that's all. . . . Then the Laurentians began to develop as a summer resort area. Cottages began to spring up in such places as Shawbridge, Val Morin, Morin Heights, but few thought of venturing as far as Ste. Agathe, and practically none up to St. Jovite except those who had made the acquaintance of the Wheelers, a lumbering family from the U.S.

But at the first turn of the weather, by mid-September, the Laurentians were deserted. Lumbermen took the place of bathers, and the land was ripe with game of every description except moose. The second phase of Laurentian activity ended when skiing in its modern form began to develop. But it is only in the last 20 years that anyone but a "strange character" was seen heading for the mountains with the hickories. The roads were closed, and railway passengers looked with amazement at persons who found some strange pleasure in plodding along over the wintry wastes.

Then in the late 20's skiing began to seize the popular fancy; the arrival of expert trainers, the part played by such early exponents as the Cochand family and others, started the phase in Laurentian history which had reached a peak at the outbreak of the war, and continued through the wartime period as a result of so many hundreds of service men spending their leaves in the Laurentian resorts. The mountains definitely became more popular in winter than in summer.

It was ten years ago when such men as the late Tom G. Potter saw the great possibilities of the Laurentian area, and his dream in Ste. Adele is best described by one of the natives of the district: "We all thought Potter was crazy when he bought the old white house in Ste. Adele, and then bought a lot of farm land and some hills. We just knew he wouldn't ever get his money back — but instead he made this the busiest town in the Laurentians. He made land values here ten times as much as they are in any other community around here", said this citizen. "He brought business to this town, and today it is a very prosperous community".

Mr. Potter also purchased the Alpine Inn — the resort, golf course, and some 500 acres of playland developed since 1915. Burned to the ground and reconstructed, the new Inn was a half-million dollar investment which Potter made, against the advice of many, and won on.

However, when Potter passed away just over a year ago, many observers thought that it marked the end of the "climb". "The picnic is over, the war is ended, no more easy money, no more service men, watch these huge resorts crumble," commented one Ontario hotel-man, touring the Laurentian area. "Now is the time to sell".

It was not this advice, however, that influenced Mrs. Tom Potter to sell; the Estate was offered on the market. . . George "Mickey" Wilson, president of the Hotel Association of Canada, bought the Estate, for a price rumored to be $416,000. A disastrous fire burned down one of the buildings the day before the agreement was signed, but this did not deter him.

He called in Frank Bloodsworth, youthful managing director of the Toronto Hotel Association, outlined his plans for vigorous promotion in the United States, and for activities in the area. Weiner roasts, hay rides, table-tennis tournaments and all of the simple ideas which make a summer resort an interesting experience for people who want to get away from their every day way of living, were instituted. . . And the recent "Water Ballet Under the Stars" was a development of this program. Among the visitors was D. Leo Dolan, from Ottawa, whose duty is to spread the gospel of Canada's charms to the visitors far and wide.

"I can see . . that your idea is right", commented Leo. "When I okay advertising copy or speak to U.S. or Canadian audiences, I know that the Laurentian resorts back up my claims. This is a proof of what's happening up here".

To this the little man from Toronto — which is populated, it is said, with people who don't particularly care to take a chance — said, "Just stay around awhile and see what the future holds for the Laurentians; you ain't seen nothin' yet".

Creditable Results At Arundel School

Arundel — Parents and friends in this community take pride in the fact that the entire class of Grade X at the local school passed successfully in the June examinations. This is the third year in succession that the whole class has passed.

Golfer Scores Hole-in-One

Pierre Cangardel staged a new entry into the select few — scoring a hole-in-one recently at the local golf course, on the 165-yard eighth hole. The golfer used a No. 5 iron, and although he was playing alone, his perfect shot was witnessed by two of the greenskeepers.

Mr. Cangardel, of Montreal (husband of the former Miss Gisèle Legault) is an enthusiast of the Lachute course on his visits to this town. His triumph is the first hole-in-one recorded here this season. Jack McIndoe a local golfer, scored a similar success on No. 8 last summer.

Exhibit of Rare Timepieces at Carillon Museum

An interesting exhibit of old clocks — representing types transported from England and France by the New England settlers, and specimens of the first timepieces manufactured about 1800 in Connecticut — will be opened Saturday, August 16, at Carillon Museum. Descriptive pamphlets will be available. . . The display is initiated by Dr. H. B. Cushing, president of the Argenteuil Historical Society, for whom these early models hold a fascinating interest. The collection, which includes a number of clocks specially loaned for the occasion, will remain on view at the Museum.

An increased attendance was noted at the Museum last year, and the officials report this uptrend is still continuing. Since the period of floods and the late spring, this summer has brought evidence of an encouraging interest among the public of the Ottawa Valley and outside visitors.

Intimate Glimpses Of Newfoundland In Rotary Address

Brownsburg — At the regular Rotary Club supper on Thursday, July 24, an interesting topic, "Glimpses of Newfoundland", was presented by H. G. Hatcher, a fellow Rotarian of the Montreal Westward Club. Mr. Hatcher, introduced by Norm Somers, was a former Newfoundlander, and visits his native shores every year.

The speaker recalled important dates and occasions in the history of this island that may now become Canada's tenth province.

Although there is some disagreement among the historians, it is fairly well founded that John Cabot discovered this island on June 24, 1497, St. John's Day, landing at Bonavista. Upon Cabot's return to the old land, the King rewarded his pioneering servant 10 pounds sterling. "It is worth more today, having immense undeveloped sources of revenue", the speaker observed.

Fishing is the largest industry, great fortunes being made by ingenious and ambitious merchants. Yet, while the sea is a means of livelihood to the Newfoundlanders, it has also taken many hundreds of lives. "Lost with all hands" is a common expression heard there. Ministry and teaching are the chief professions, the educational system being very "rural", according to Mr. Hatcher.

On July 27, 1866, the Great Eastern Company laid the first Atlantic cable, from Ireland to Heart's Content. The old ships in the early days of trans-Atlantic navigation carried live cattle, sheep, etc., for their provisions.

On December 12, 1901, the first trans-Atlantic wireless message was sent by Marconi, who was visiting Newfoundland, experimenting in the transmission of wireles messages.

On June 14, 1919, the first non-stop air crossing was made by Alcock and Brown, and in 1932 Amelia Earhart became the first woman to fly the ocean. More recently history was made — in August, 1941 — when the "Atlantic Charter" was formed at the meeting of Churchhill and Roosevelt in a little bay off the coast of Newfoundland.

Newfoundland has a coastline of 6,000 miles and large natural harbours, but it is sparsely inhabited, having only 300,000 of a population.

Influential merchants, desiring to keep fishing territories to themselves, passed a law barring colonization, and consequently, the country was not developed. Later, when immigrants came to the island, the Irish settled in one part, the English in another, and so on — so that there are little communities following the trend of their mother countries in this new land of their adoption. Quaint and picturesque names — such as Heart's Desire, Happy Adventure, Seldom-come-by-chance, Joe Bott's Arm, Round Counter, and many more — were given to these little settlements.

Many amusing anecdotes are told among the natives, who are warmhearted, religious, intensely (perhaps narrowly) loyal to their country. Anyone owning a boat is a "skipper", and the label of "Uncle" is given to any aged man. The language in all parts is permeated with nautical terms. The native lingo is not always understandable to an outsider; seals for instance, are called "swiles", and a doctor is referred to as a "doctor-man".

After the war Newfoundland lost her markets and became economically poor. She is now intent on redeveloping her trade.

Keith Rutherford, thanked the speaker for his address, which was presented in a most interesting and entertaining manner.

"World Government"

Last Thursday, July 31, the speaker was Dr. Morris Wayman, who gave an analytical treatise on World Government and discussed its practicability in maintaining peace. The United Nations' Security Council was brought "down to earth" as an enterprise deserving the concern and interest of each individual citizen.

Rotarian George Zsombor introduced the speaker, and the thanks of the gathering were voiced by Rotarian Mac Walker.

PERU WANTS TRADE

Montreal (CP) — Peru and a number of other South American countries would like to import goods from Canada at once but find there is a shortage of goods for export, according to Samuel Eidelman, Lima, Peru, business man.

Young Air Cadet On U.K. Trip

Among the party of 36 Canadian Air Corps cadets who arrived at London Airport last week-end for a tour of the United Kingdom, was 17-year-old William Stewart, of Kingston, Ont.—a former Lachute lad; the son of William D. Stewart, former Bank of Nova Scotia manager here, he attended school in Lachute before the family moved to Kingston. He has belonged to No. 58 Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets for three and a half years and holds the rank of cadet sergeant-major. To be selected as a member of the visiting group, and to cross the Atlantic aboard a special York transport, is the highlight of his youthful experience in aeronautics.

Wm. Stewart's elder sister, Joan, who also attended Lachute school, graduated recently as a nurse from the Kingston General Hospital.

Pair of Crutches Found Abandoned, Police Mystified

Tragic possibilities were suggested in the finding of a pair of crutches, abondoned near the river bank between the two C.P.R. bridges. The discovery was made by G. Hooper Sunday afternoon, and the town police, on being notified, made enquiries in the district. They learned that a stranger with only one leg had been seen nearby, on Chatham Street, the previous evening. He was dressed in a brown suit and walking with the aid of crutches.

Discovery of the crutches led the police to a spot on the north bank of the river opposite the fire station. A trail through the brush indicated that someone had passed recently to the bank of the river. A search in the neighborhood, however, revealed no further trace of the man.

Bishop Lays Cornerstone for St. Simeon's Anglican Church

Members of the congregation and friends of St. Simeon's Anglican Church gathered at the site of the new structure Tuesday afternoon for an auspicious ceremony, the laying of the cornerstone for the church building.

The Rt. Rev. John Dixon, Bishop of the Diocese of Montreal, officiated, following the prescribed order of service in the Anglican Prayer Book. Members of the clergy present were the Rev. C. R. Lang, the Rev. G. T. Spriggs and the Rev. T. W. Ball, associated with the Lachute, Brownsburg and St. Andrews parishes; the Rev. A. E. Hawes, Rural Dean, of Grenville; the Rev. C.W.P. Baugh, of Lakefield; the Rev. W. H. Britton, Baptist pastor, of Lachute; and the Rev. W. J. Ellis, formerly Rural Dean and rector of Rawdon.

The rector, the Rev. Mr. Lang, read passages introductory to the service, and the Rev. Mr. Hawes read the Scripture lesson. The Bishop performed the actual laying of the stone. Bearing the simple inscription, "To the Glory of God — A.D. 1947", this stone was engraved and donated by Mr. W. M. Scott, local stonemason.

Following the brief service several among the gathering inspected the work of construction, which has progressed satisfactorily toward completion of the foundation walls and laying of the rough floor.

Andy Clark Tells Of Sugar Party In Mid-Summer

Following is part of a late-July broadcast of Andy Clark's "Neighborly News":

". . . So we will tell you about a maple sugar party in midsummer! Yes, and they boiled syrup out under the trees and poured the sugar on real snow, and it didn't happen in the Arctic Circle either. This gala feast was a 'party dress affair', and they also served pickles!

"It happened at Granby, Que., right near the state of Vermont, in the heart of the maple belt of Canada and the United States. This is believed to be the first sugaring-off party on such a scale ever held in Canada in mid-summer, with real snow as the cooler-off.

"The 'Granby Leader-Mail' says, for some unknown reason, there is no substitute for snow to turn hot syrup into taffy and bring out the full delicious flavor. Even shaved ice does not do the trick. To put on a sugar party in late July requires planning months before. So last winter, the Kiwanis Club arranged to have a large quantity of snow packed away in storage, and it came as fresh for service as when it mantled the sugar bush the day that March roared in like a lion. . ."

Kiddies' Concert in Garage Nets $7 For Jr. Red Cross

A group of youngsters, five to 11 years of age, staged an entertainment recently in a private garage on Bedard Blvd., inviting children and adults from among their neighbors, and even providing seats. There was a good attendance, and the admission fees netted $7 — which was afterwards forwarded as a donation to the Junior Red Cross headquarters in Montreal. This gesture brought a grateful acknowledgment from Mrs. Ruth B. Shaw, director, commending the children on their effort.

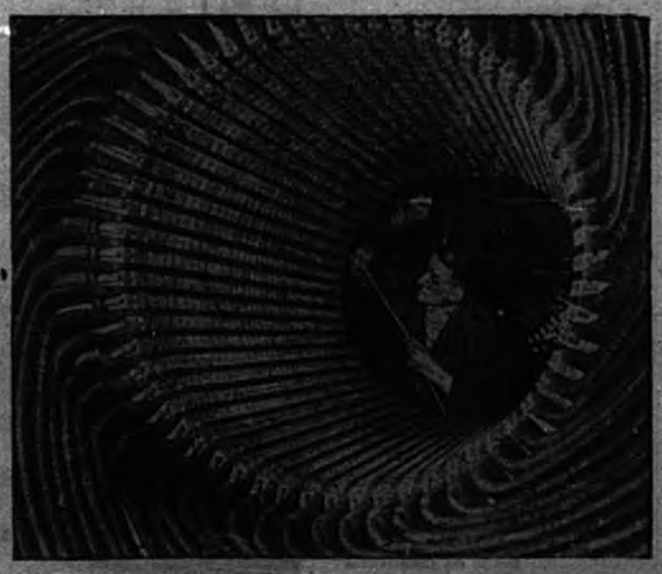

Seven youngsters took part, including Anne Dwyer, Neil McArthur, Heather Graham, Jean Ogilvie, John, Irene and Gail Dwyer. Their program comprised recitations, songs, and three brief skits. The door prize of a basket of fruit was won by Barbara Jenkins.

WELCOMED BY VISITORS

(Woodstock Sentinel-Press)

The council might well consider taking some action on the advisability of building a "comfort station" at some easily accessible spot in the business district. This town does a tremendous business through the year with the rural residents from the surrounding districts and properly kept facilities for their convenience would be greatly appreciated.

British Electrical Generating Equipment

Highest priority is being given for the manufacture of electrical generating equipment in Britain. During 1947-8 outworn generating plant which on account of the war has not been replaced, will be taken out of commission to make way for new plant. This picture shows work in progress on one of the newest machines, a 12,000 Kilowatt alternator running at 3,000 revolutions per minute.

Brownsburg Village Council Moves To Close Grills, Taverns on Sunday

Traffic By-Law Amended, Allows 60-Minute Parking One Side of Main Thoroughfares

"In Brownsburg"
(Specially Contributed)

Parking

The problem of parking cars on the streets of Brownsburg is difficult to solve. For the maze of intersections, due to the absence of any ordered planning in the good old days of the horse and buggy, no cut and dried by-law seems adequate to regulate the traffic to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The recent advanee in traffic control which plans to get parking off the streets and into a special lot, finds no favor with the merchants, and very little with the automobile owners either.

Everything from parking lots to parking meters was discussed at last meeting of the council, but it eventually resolved itself into a decision to allow 60-minute parking on one side of Main Street and Bank Street as an amendment to the present traffic by-laws of parking on one side of the street only.

Sabbath Observance

A delegation from an association interested in the moral well-being of the village, requested the council to pass a resolution supporting a demand for government action to close the local taverns and grills on Sundays. Evidently, by reason of loose drafting of the liquor regulations, the sale of liquor while not specificially permitted on Sunday is not specifically prevented either.

From the discussion everyone seemed to favor the non-opening of such premises, even the owners themselves. According to a signed petition 97% of the public wanted the "pubs" closed, so the council joined in the almost unanimous demand and passed a resolution in its support.

Property Valuation

There was a recent revision of property valuations within the Council area, and judging by the number and variety of protests against a raise in valuation brought before the last meeting — like the "cost of living" about which we heard so much, no one likes it; and like the "cost of living index" no one seems to understand it. Whether calculated in dollars and cents, or converted into percentages, it is equally elusive.

The valuators were not present to defend or explain their assessments, so that very little could be done about it. But one thing was certain, they were no respecters of persons; some of the council members were the most vociferous in calling attention to their own rating, its comparative inequalities and absence of basic standards. The secretary-treasurer offered the consoling information that, under the present assessment, the present rate of 115 on the mill will be reduced to 90.

BIG FISH CAUGHT AT ST. ANDREWS E.

(Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — While on vacation here, Mr. V. Lloyd Lilly had the happy experience of hooking a maskinonge weighing over 12 lbs. with a casting line. He caught hold of it by a gill to haul it into the boat, then wound the light anchoring chain around the struggling fish to secure it while he rowed ashore. . . Mr. Leighton York also caught a 9 lb. maskinonge last season.

Checking Storekeepers On U.S. Currency

Ottawa, Aug. 6 — At the request of the Foreign Exchange Control Board, the R.C.M.P. have commenced a country-wide check of the way in which storekeepers, service stations, hotels and others are handling U. S. currency received from tourists.

The U. S. dollar, spent by tourists in Canada are one of the main sources of foreign exchange needed to pay for Canadian imports in the United States. Therefore the Foreign Exchange Control regulations require that Canadian merchants and others turn the U.S. currency they receive in to their banks.

Reports indicate that many merchants are not turning in their U.S. dollars but are paying them out freely in change and in some cases selling them to the public in exchange for Canadian currency. This has led to the check-up, and where breaches of the regulations are found, prosecutions under the Foreign Exchange Control Act will be commenced.

Under the Regulations a merchant, hotelkeeper or other person serving tourists may accept U.S. currency at par and may make change in U.S. currency for non-resident tourists who tender U.S. currency for purchases; for this purpose a merchant may keep a reasonable amount of U.S. currency but, with this one exception, is required to turn in to his bank all U.S. currency he receives.

In no circumstances may the merchant pay out U.S. currency in exchange for Canadian money or in change to a Canadian resident, even though the latter may have tendered U.S. currency for a purchase.

Annual Regatta At Lake Louisa

Ideal weather prevailed for the annual regatta sponsored by the Lake Louisa Country Club last Saturday. A new procedure was followed this year — which simplified matters considerably — in running the junior events during the morning. All the sports were keenly contested, and distribution of the many prizes and cup trophies preceded a dance held in the evening.

Much credit is due to the organizers, and particularly to the ladies, who served excellent lunches and refreshments, through which a substantial sum was realized.

Results of the contests are published on page 8.

Council Votes Sum Towards 'Welcome' Signs

The regular session of Town Council was held last evening with all members present, under the chairmanship of Mayor Alex. Bothwell.

Accounts were approved to the amount of $4,134.75, and a grant of $250 was approved for the Agricultural Society.

A building permit was granted to J. A. Cléroux for a garage and dwellings above, at 12 feet from the sidewalk, on condition that before starting construction, the line fence which has been protested by John Lemay be reduced to 3 feet in height with 3 inches space between boards — all to the satisfaction of the Roads Committee.

The resignation of C. R. Miller as town employee was accepted, and the Council is calling for applications to fulfill the duties of caretaker for the Auditorium, park, town hall, etc.

An amount of $75 was voted towards erection of "Welcome" signs on No. 8 Highway.

The council decided to call for tenders for redecoration of the Auditorium with water-paint downstairs and upstairs — the tenders to be filed on or before August 25.

It was also resolved to calling for tenders for the plowing of streets in the limits of the town for next winter — tenders to be filed on or before August 25.

At a special meeting of the Council last Thursday evening — with Mayor A. Bothwell presiding — the councillors voted in favor of purchasing a new light delivery truck.

Testing Application of Pesticides with Fertilizer

C-I-L Agricultural News

A new revolutionary approach is now being made towards the control of soil-borne fungus diseases, soil insects and weeds by mixing fungicides, insecticides and weed killers with the fertilizer applied at the time of crop planting. Striking results have already been obtained in preliminary tests, the success of which may mean a substantial saving in time and equipment for farmers plagued by weeds and soil inhabiting pests.

Experiments using benzene hexachloride as an insecticide in fertilizer mixtures to control wireworms, are among the tests being conducted by the C-I-L agricultural chemicals division. The cutworm, another highly destructive soil inhabiting insect, may be killed by the same treatment. Several fungicides are also being tested in fertilizer mixtures to determine their value in controlling root and seedling diseases of vegetable crops. Arasan, an effective seed treating product for corn and vegetables, is one of the many fungicides under experiment.

Already, 2,4-D has been mixed with fertilizer to eradicate weeds in fields used for the production of grass seed. Fall application of this mixture has resulted in a marked reduction in the number of weed seeds in the grass seed harvested the following season. This treatment would not be satisfactory on clovers, because of the killing effect of 2,4-D on such crops.

Agricultural workers can suggest many applications for a fertilizer-pesticide mixture. Each proposed use, however, must be subjected to careful and exhaustive testing before being recommended as general farm practice.

Dipping Sheep

Sheep kept free from ticks and lice are in better health, are more easily kept in good condition, eat less, and grow more wool — all of which means more profit.

Sheep should be dipped at least once a year — preferably as soon as possible after shearing, but many owners give their flocks a second dipping in the fall in September or October to ensure the comfort and the health of the sheep during the winter.

Where a community dipping tank is not convenient for small flocks in distant parts, it is not necessary to construct an elaborate dipping plant. A large barrel or trough large enough to hold sufficient dip to immerse a sheep will answer the purpose. A small draining platform can easily be built so that the dipped sheep may stand until the dip has drained off.

Most standard dips will produce effective results, provided the directions of the manufacturers are carefully followed. Dips are sold in two forms — powder and liquid. The powder form requires a little longer to prepare and more caution and exactitude in the preparation of the bath. However, it has the advantage claimed by the manufacturers that the powder sediment remains long enough in the fleece to kill eggs when they hatch. The liquid form has the advantage of being easier to prepare and is effective, but, to ensure complete eradication, a second dip in two or three weeks is recommended. This is a safeguard applicable to all forms of dip. Young lambs should be kept away from the ewes for some hours after dipping, because the dip from the fleece invariably runs off the points of the teats, and there have been cases of nursing lambs having been poisoned.

Depth of Plowing

(Experimental Farm News)

In general farm practice the depth of plowing may vary from 3½ to 7 inches, depending upon the type and physical characteristics of the soil. The custom in a community is usually taken as a guide to the depth of plowing. The depth at which the best yields at the lowest cost will be obtained will vary according to the soil and the crop grown, and for this reason no general recommendation can be made to cover all conditions.

Experiments were conducted at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Nappan, N. S., over a period of 24 years comparing various depths of plowing a medium clay soil for oats and swedes.

Plowing timothy sod at a depth of 3 inches gave lower average yields of oats than depths of 5 to 9 inches. This was due to the competition from grass, which frequetly resulted when seeding was late due to excess moisture. Otherwise there appeared to be no effect from the varying depths on the yield of swedes or the hay crop in the rotation.

It was found that shallow plowing (3 inches) required less horsepower, but a longer time to turn the sod properly, as narrower furrows were necessary. This resulted in a higher cost per acre. Plowing at a depth of 9 inches was frequently difficult when the land was dry.

These results would appear to support the recommendation that the best depth to plow a medium clay loam soil is about 5 inches, at which depth the land can be turned properly with conventional plows and sufficient soil is available to work up a good seed bed.

Premier Drew to Open Ottawa Exhibition

Alderman E. A. Band, President, and H. H. McElroy, Manager of the Ottawa Exhibition, are making a special appeal to all people living outside the City of Ottawa to lend their support to the big first post-war Exhibition, to be held from August 18 to 23.

When all exhibits are in place and all attractions operating more than 5,000 people will be employed at the Exhibition. Alderman Band invites attention to the magnificent nature of the exhibits. The livestock will be a major show; the poultry and dog shows will be splendid, and there will be evening horse shows in the Coliseum. Women's Institutes exhibits, the Agricultural and Horticulture sections, Handicrafts and Cooking, Hobby and Baby Shows, will be highly representative. The Junior Agricultural section is said to be the finest in all Canada. Industrial, Manufacturing and Machinery exhibits are greater than ever before. School and educational exhibits will be featured.

The Exhibition will be opened by Premier George H. Drew on Monday, August 18, and there will not be a dull moment from then until the Fair closes.

May Bring Doctors From Europe

Regina (CP) — Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan stated that his Government might be compelled "reluctantly" to take steps to bring doctors and health technicians from Europe unless the Federal Government took some action.

He said negotiations between the Government and Canadian Medical Association concerning immigration of doctors had 'dragged along' for a year, while an acute shortage of doctors was felt in the country and especially in Saskatchewan.

"I think it would be the worst possible thing for us or any other province to set up our own system for bringing these needed people to our country", Premier Douglas said. "It would interfere with what is purely a Federal function and would result in every province having its own immigration set-up.

"However, if we don't get action from the Federal Government we will be reluctantly compelled to take action ourselves.

"FOREST FIRE"

Based upon a picture painted especially for Carling's.

This is one of a series of illustrations on the subject of the Conservation of Canada's natural assets designed to emphasize the fact that the beauties of unspoiled nature that we enjoy today are a precious birthright which we must protect for tomorrow.

† COPYRIGHT BY CARLING'S, 1947

"Forest Fire—The Common Enemy"

The scream of a rabbit pierces the hissing roar of the forest fire as a tall spruce bursts into flame like an oil-soaked rag. A deer, wild-eyed with terror, bursts from the undergrowth and makes for the protecting waters of a small lake where other creatures of the wild, forgetting all lesser fears, stand huddled together, shivering with fear of fire—their common enemy.

Crackling and hissing, its advance-line of windblown sparks reaching far ahead, the forest fire takes its terrible toll of wild life and forest wealth. In its wake nothing is left but blackened tree-trunks and desolation.

A lurid picture? Yes, but a true picture, and one that is seen all too frequently in Canada's forest lands. Statistics show that out of 6,000 forest fires in Canada every year, only one in six owes its origin to natural causes (lightning, etc.) The rest are caused by human agencies, and can be prevented.

As a shareholder in Canada's natural wealth, every Canadian has a vital interest in conservation. And conservation is the concern of all who are interested in the continuance of our national economy and our future prosperity, rather than the concern of a chosen few. The success of conservational measures depends upon the full support of all Canadian citizens.

For Safety on the Farm

THE UNITED States has just observed National Farm Safety Week — proclaimed by President Truman, who urged that farm dwellers set aside the period to devise means of preventing accidents. We think the President's message should apply as much in Canada as to the United States.

Despite popular conception that the farm is a quiet, restful place, statistics reveal that farming is one of the most hazardous occupations. Injuries from falls cause most casualties, injuries from farm machinery next, and from livestock third. Farmers do considerable climbing around barns, sheds and trees, which is the cause of so many injuries due to falls. Farm tractors take the biggest toll is machinery mishaps, while buzz-saws and mowers are almost equally dangerous. Among livestock, horses cause the most injuries.

Fires, generally the result of carelessness, frequently cause tragedies in rural homes. In most instances adequate fire fighting equipment is not available, and buildings are totally destroyed. The annual loss by such blazes amounts to millions of dollars.

It is lamentable that, when farm accidents occur, the victim often feels he cannot meet the cost of proper treatment. Time lost from work is not compensated. By comparison, the industrial worker enjoys much more security in his job, being protected by compensation agreements should he suffer injury while at work.

Radio and the Juveniles

A MAN who has spent most of his adult life helping Canadian radio reach its maturity, wrote recently: "A bulwark built of all the soap and cereals and cliches in the world won't save an empire that is built on unconcern for individual people. For without vision, the people perish."

We thought well of that. Then we thought of one aspect of radio, both in this Dominion and in the U.S., which in the past seemed to take "vision" by the suspenders and hide it away shamefacedly. You see, radio, then a struggling gossoon, was travelling the adolescent road, and its development was dependent on sales of counter goods—rather than goodwill of listeners, who wished the finest product broadcasting could sell. And that, of course, was — and is — entertainment.

However, a new trend has appeared on the air-wave horizon which, if projected generally down the line of the Dominion's broadcasting industry, bodes a new deal — particularly for radio's juvenile audience.

We are pleased with the trend. It recognizes, at last, that Canadian children are a pretty critical group. Radio is beginning to realize that youngsters prefer yarns about Canada's sports greats to all the hysterical, creaking-door monstrosities once thought so necessary for bulk sales of "Master Mastodon's Mush for Mighty Muscles!" Radio realizes it now has an educational role, and it must sell culture as well as commercial goods.

The broadcasters now know young Canadians would much rather hear how doughty fishermen of the Maritimes go down to the sea, fighting salty blows to bring home the swordfish. Teary-weary orphan serials? Guff! Canada has a frontier past, fairly crying for serialization along juvenile radio production lines.

Well, the new trend — that of using imagination and common-sense to produce intelligent entertainment for junior audiences — is well under way, from both publicly and privately-owned stations. Tell Junior to listen, applaud and, is necessary, "beef" — it's all to radio's good.

Holiday Time

SOME TIMELY philosophy on holidays comes this week from R. J. Deachman, our Ottawa contributor. (We had missed his cheery commentaries — for it appears he, too, has been away on holidays.) We quote these interesting observations on the Canadian scene. . . .

"In this new era — or should I say, in this great time of spending — holidays are costly. There is always a way out. I have noticed lately in American papers a few nice hotel rooms offered at $15 per day, per person. Cheer up! You can probably get as good a holiday in a cabin at a third of that vast sum, with meals included. I am glad that in this country of ours there are many common things which cost little. There are mountains and rivers, the sea and the open country. There are people too without much money just as interesting as those with longer purses. Not all the virtues rest with the poor, but poverty does not measure the wisdom of a man's mind nor his kindness of heart.

"Try as he will it seems extremely difficult for the farmer to take holidays. His position is different. The farmer does not work steadily from morning until night the year round. He works hard when he is working but there are times when he can afford to idle a bit. Holidays mean an absence from the normal occupation and in that sense he too has his holidays — and the car gives him a freedom unknown to the pioneers of other days, he can make good use of it."

Where Streets Are Paved with Gold

THE REVENUE Department at Ottawa reports business is better than ever. The money from taxpayers is simply rolling in. In the second quarter of this year — April, May and June — collections have totalled $668,135,329 or over $72,547,554 more than was collected last year during the same period. Increases are shown in almost every department, with income tax collections alone showing a jump of $18,000,000 in the three months.

In view of such good times in Ottawa, one wonders why the income tax cut effective on July 1 averaged only 29 per cent. Surely we might have been given better treatment. Perhaps Finance Minister Abbott intends to make other concessions — a reduction in the staggering tax on cigarettes; maybe he plans to reduce the $150 or so levy on new automobiles; perhaps he'll wipe out income tax altogether for persons with salaries under $3,000.

There are lots of ways Mr. Abbott could make life easier for the average worker. Surely the Government doesn't need all the money that is coming in! When one consideres that the $668,135,329 collected in April, May and June of this year is considerably more than the $502,171,354 collected in the entire twelve months of 1939, it would seem as if Ottawa could do with some lessons in economy.

BECAUSE Canada is desperately in need of trained medical doctors and nurses and there are hundreds of such persons in the DP camps of Europe, it is up to the medical colleges of the provinces and the nurses' organizations to ask for and accept them. Unless these do, Ottawa (the Shaunavon, Sask., Standard declares) cannot make a move to bring them over. So far, the paper claims, these groups have not asked for them.

IT IS CUSTOMARY to mount and dismount a horse from the left side. But at the Calgary Stampede, they seem to get off in every direction.

Towards Worker Security

— By M. V. Trayers —

There is nothing wrong in principle with an employee asking for more wages. There is nothing wrong in asking for more pay than a worker is getting for a given amount of work. There is nothing wrong in going on "strike" — the word is an abominable misnomer—to obtain a higher rate of pay in an effort to gain security for a worker and his family if, after exhausting all reasonable avenues of negotiation, such higher rate is denied.

Conversely, just as there is nothing wrong in principle with security for the worker, neither is there anything wrong in principle with technological development. The company which so improves its flow of goods in process, and increases its output while reducing its expense, in the long run enables the nation to supply more goods at less cost to more people.

While both these ideals may be worthy of attainment, a too rapid striving towards the ultimate goal makes them incompatible. Human rights, social security, freedom in all its phases, adequate leisure, and welfare for the aged, are God-given rights and accepted factors in man's heritage; but we do not possess them, and the frailty of human endeavor is the only barrier which lies athwart the goal of their realization.

Actually, all technological development should be beneficial, and when the optimum is reached, may or possibly should provide us with the green pastures reflected in the horizon of our imagination. But if the natural technological development of a decade is compressed into a year, unemployment and its attendant hardships are bound to come about. Some workers will carry a burden of unemployment during a period of readjustment, instead of having all workers benefit by gradual development over a longer period.

The answer to this problem, as with all other problems affecting industry, is the responsibility of management. Amid all the contentions between management and labor about laws, rights, privileges, practices and prerogatives, one thing becomes clear and more clear. It is that, unless management and labor stop fighting and get together on a basis of co-operating for the common good, this country is likely to share poverty instead of prosperity.

We have almost reached the point where it will be necessary for management, when it goes to the labor market, to guarantee security to the employee. Such security must consist of a guaranteed annual wage. Not before then can a worker be relieved of the worries of prospective lay-offs — can he be assured of the education of his children, and the future well-being of himself and his family.

The mirage of a few cents per hour to combat the rising cost of living creates a vicious circle, with wages always trailing sky-rocketing prices. The workers will never know the facts unless management tells them. Nor will the communities in which the plants are located, and in which the employee lives.

Information about this vital relationship, of costs to technological development and unemployment, is almost if not quite as important as disseminating information concerning "the company". Until workers and management understand this relationship, they will not give the co-operation necessary for the production job that must be done.

Federal and Provincial labor relation boards or arbitration commissions are not the answer. A lot more than laws and rights are at stake. Workers, led by mistaken, over-zealous, or ignorant prophets, can price themselves out of jobs, and industry out of markets. Only management can do the educational job needed to convince labor that in production lies the one road to worker security — and so far management is falling down on the job.

Letter after letter reads:

"The Finest Pontiac yet"

"In over 30,000 miles, I have had to replace no parts and my garage work has amounted to only a few minor adjustments." G. M. Frizzell, Dartmouth, N.S.

"Pontiac's powerful L-Head engine has proved itself to me in its greater economy, quietness, smoothness and longer trouble-free service, in actual operation." C. E. Kaasten, Fort William, Ont.

"As a motor mechanic familiar with all cars, Pontiac's powerful but quiet L-head engine is my choice." A. Brown, Regina, Sask.

"My work involves a high annual mileage over all sorts of roads. Dependability and riding comfort are, therefore, important qualities to me. In Pontiac I have them." P. L. Romkey, Halifax, N.S.

"Our many drivers have only compliments to express when speaking of our Pontiac cars. The steering ease and driving comfort over cobblestone roads and narrow winding streets make driving a pleasure." A. Gagnon, Quebec, P.Q.

A Product of General Motors

"I have always been an admirer of bodies by Fisher, and I believe Pontiac's streamlined grace is unsurpassed in the low or middle class fields." G. Mottershead, Toronto, Ont.

"I own and operate a taxi business and many years of experience have taught me that Pontiac cars are the best in quality, the lowest in operation expense." Ralph L. Harding, Yarmouth, N.S.

"We have several 1947 Pontiac cars, each of which has been driven more than 9000 miles, and which have given extraordinary performance. In other words, they offer the same quality as much higher priced automobiles." D. Gendron, Beauharnois, P.Q.

"I particularly enjoy its riding quality and am more than satisfied with the fuel economy." Don Grant, North Battleford, Sask.

"I have always driven a large car, but I find in Pontiac all the features I had in expensive cars at a great reduction." Thos. Graham, Medicine Hat, Alberta.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT — the 1947 Pontiac! And judging from the hundreds of letters we receive, it's something to write about too — especially if you're a pleased-as-punch Pontiac owner. Those who have driven Pontiac for years . . . and they are legion . . . tell us what their experience has told them . . . that the 1947 Pontiac is truly the finest of the famous Silver Streaks. Those who have never driven Pontiac before, express the jubilant, unqualified delight of people who have at last found what they have long sought — plus value in the low-price field.

To us, these letters are a constant source of satisfaction. The pride of ownership revealed in every word is only equalled by our pride in producing the 1947 Pontiac — a fine car made finer.

The stack of orders piled up for the new Pontiac are gratifying testimonials to the quality and beauty of this finest of the famous Silver Streaks. Unfortunately, to many orders also mean that many who choose Pontiac must wait. So if your car-wise head and heart say 'Pontiac' . . . your present car will give you better, safer service while you wait if you have it serviced by your Pontiac dealer.

Dalesville Church Scene of Wedding

Titley-Kennedy

On Saturday, August 2, at four o'clock in the Dalesville Baptist Church, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Wilma Jean Kennedy, daughter of Mrs. Kennedy and the late Russell Kennedy, of Brownsburg, and Mr. Milton Grant Titley, of Montreal, son of Mrs. Titley and the late Albert Titley, of Lachute, the Rev. George Hicks officiating. Mr. Francis Kettyle of Montreal rendered two solos, "The Lord's Prayer" being sung prior to the service, and "Because" during the signing of the register. Mrs. Kettyle played the wedding music. Baskets of pink phlox and white hydrangeas and potted ferns adorned the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Russell Silverson, of Lachute, wore a gown of white organza with a tight-fitting bodice, having a low sweetheart neck, long sleeves, and a sweeping skirt. Her floor-length veil of tulle illusion fell from a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas.

Attending the bride were Miss Mary Kennedy, her sister, as maid of honor, Mrs. Ward Mencrieff, bridesmaid, and Miss Nancy Ann McCormick, junior bridesmaid. The maid of honor, in pink, and bridesmaid, in blue, wore dresses of eyelet organdie with sweetheart necks, tight bodices and flowing skirts from gathered peplums, with matching eyelet picture hats and mittens. The junior bridesmaid, whose dress was fashioned along the same lines, was gowned in hand-embroidered organdie of pink and blue on white, with matching picture hat and mittens. All attendants carried shower bouquets of pink and blue sweet peas.

Mr. Keith Titley was his brother's groomsman, while Mr. Glenn Titley, also brother of the groom, and Mr. Norman Reside, cousin of the bride, acted as ushers.

A reception was held afterwards at the home of the bride's mother, and later Mr. and Mrs. Titley left to spend their honeymoon at Toronto, Niagara Falls and other points, the bride travelling in a wool crepe suit of powder blue, with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The marriage of Miss Bernice Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Black, of Rosemount, Que., to Mr. Basil Gordon Kilpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kilpatrick, took place at Knox United Church, Cote St. Gabriel, on July 26, at 4 o'clock. The Rev. S. Rowe officiated. During the signing of the register, Miss Lillian Pollock, of Mille Iles, sang "I'll Walk Beside You".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of powder blue crepe with matching headdress and shoulder-length veil. Her corsage was of mauve orchids.

Miss Iris Black, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a dusky pink crepe dress with white accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Garnet Kilpatrick, of Montreal, was best man for his brother.

Mrs. Black, mother of the bride, wore a two-piece dress of blue printed crepe with black accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Kilpatrick, mother of the groom, wore a black and white printed crepe dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A supper was served at the home of the groom's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Kilpatrick. The bride and groom then left for a motor trip to points in Ontario and New York State. On their return they were tendered a reception in the Victory Hall at Mille Iles.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. E. Hawes. Mrs. John Stewart, aunt of the bride, sang "Because" during the signing of the register. Mrs. Russel Owens played the wedding music.

The bride, given away by her father, was dressed in white nylon over satin, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Art Watson, of North Bay, wore mauve tulle over satin. The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret McRae and Miss Gwendolyn Stewart, cousin of the bride — the former wearing a pink nylon dress over satin, and the latter in yellow tulle over rayon. The flower girl, little Miss Hazel Brazeau, wore pale blue nylon.

The best man was Mr. Percy Brazeau, brother of the bride, while Messrs. Mansel Brazeau and Everett Burwash acted as ushers.

FEET, NOT MONEY BELONG IN SOCKS

Students with summer jobs will find it better to put their savings in a bank, rathes than in a sock—advises Eric Hibbard, local Bank of Montreal manager.

It's safer, and it earns extra money. Savings kept around the house are more likely to be spent impulsively, stolen or mislaid. Open your B of M account next pay-day . . and watch it grow.

"We made the SMART choice!" say OLDSMOBILE owners everywhere

"Writes R. A. Balmer, General Manager of a large Toronto furniture company. "After driving my new Oldsmobile 8 in winter weather and over roads unusually rough, I find you were very conservative in your recommendations, for the *Hydra-Matic Drive is certainly the smoothest thing in mechanism that I have ever experienced. I am really proud of this car, and for driving comfort, ease of handling, and general road-worthiness, I can only say I'm glad I bought an Oldsmobile. I made the smart choice."

And that's just an excerpt from one of the many, many letters sent in by Oldsmobile owners—letters that repeat again and again, "There's nothing else like it in driving! It's smart looking . . . smart handling . . . and the new *GM Hydra-Matic Drive is the smartest way of driving yet devised."

Yes . . . people who choose Oldsmobile make the smart choice . . . for Oldsmobile is the smart buy of the year. To you who are waiting for your new Oldsmobiles —our thanks for your patience . . . our tribute to your wisdom. The demand for Oldsmobile with the new *GM Hydra-Matic Drive is so widespread that it still greatly exceeds the supply. Make sure your present car carries you conveniently and safely through the waiting period by having it serviced regularly by your Oldsmobile dealer.

A PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

"The Hydra-Matic drive is simply a miracle"
"The ease with which it handles in traffic is superior to any car I have driven."
"I have never enjoyed driving any car more than I have my new Oldsmobile!"
"It is hard to beat Oldsmobile for comfort economy, and appearance"
"The simplicity of Hydra-Matic is remarkable"
"I cannot speak too highly of my new 1947 Oldsmobile"
"The smartest thing I ever did was buy an Oldsmobile"
"Oldsmobile is superior to any car I have ever owned."

Long, Cooling Drinks

Appetites lag in hot weather. . . There is some difference of opinion as to the efficacy of hot and cool drinks to make one feel cooler, but the majority favors the cold drinks.

Milk is food as well as beverage and cold drinks with a milk base and fruit, spice or chocolate flavor are excellent. For those who are not fond of plain milk, such drinks are a good way of forming the milk habit.

The mild acidity of fruit drinks seems to quench thirst and also add to the general feeling of coolness.

The Home Economists at Ottawa say that it is a matter of a moment to serve long, cool drinks if several syrups are kept on hand. Plain syrup made by boiling 1 cup of sugar with 1 cup of water is insurance against undissolved sugar being wasted in the bottom of a glass. Chocolate syrup and fruit syrups are easy to make and will keep for some time. Chocolate milk or fruit milk shakes or fruit "ades" are then quickly prepared.

Rhubarb Cooler

4 Cups diced rhubarb, 4 cups water, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup sugar; 1 lemon, grated rind and juice; 1 orange, grated rind and juice; 2 cups cold tea.

Cook rhubarb with water and grated rind 10 minutes. Strain. Add salt and sugar. Add tea and fruit juice. Eight servings.

Spiced Honey Milk

2 Teaspoons honey, ¾ cup milk, dash of cinnimon or cloves.

Mix flavoring and honey. Add milk and beat with egg beater. One serving.

Raspberry Syrup

2 Quarts raspberries, 1 cup water, 2 cups sugar.

Crush raspberries, add water and simmer 10 minutes in covered pan. Strain through cheese-cloth. Dissolve sugar in warm syrup. Store in a cool place. Yields about 3 cups syrup.

To serve — place ¼ cup of syrup in glass, add ¾ cup of cold water.

"ALONG THE FAIRWAYS"

By Lachute Golf Club's Special Contributor

It may be a bit early in the season to pick the outstanding rookie of the year, but may we suggest Ken Alcock, who never had a golf club in his hand before last June and who went out the other night and collected himself a 48. Do we detect that professional gleam in his eye already?

* * *

Joey Berniquer and Jim Findlayson battled through 21 holes before their first round Ayers Cup match was decided. Jim was four up on the turn, but Joey tied it all up on the 17th. Jim won it, one up on the 21st.

* * *

Elsewhere you may read of the feat of one of our members, Pierre Cangardel, who holed out his No. 5 iron tee shot on the short eighth. From fellow members at the Club, and the golfing fraternity in general, heartiest congratulations are certainly in order.

Hockey Club to Hold Banquet

OTHER LEAGUE TEAMS TO BE REPRESENTED

"AT THE ARENA"
By John Dunne

A "booster" Hockey Banquet is being held Wednesday next at Hotel Desjardins, at 8.30 p.m. Invitations are being mailed to all those connected with the Lachute Hockey Club during the past season. Belle Riviere, St. Jerome and Hawkesbury should also have representatives, and possibly two other localities contemplated in the six-team League set-up for the coming season. Guest speakers are also expected for this "stag" get-together.

The hockey set-up for Lachute looks very promising, although two or three of the local boys will be receiving invitations for try-out in leagues of higher classification. The local club will welcome any newcomers residing in Lachute or Lachute Mills desirous of a try-out with the team, for the coming season. These applications (to the secretary-treasurer, John B. Menard) should be forwarded only after September 15 when the local golf and baseball seasons are more or less completed. Physical training will again be conducted in connection with the coming season's hockey.

The Third Arena Annual should be in circulation sometime in September. It should be an improvement over the past two years. The cover will feature a cut of the Lachute Hockey Club banquet, and many other features will be included in its contents.

Many Fines Handed Out in Local Traffic Check-Up Last Week-End

Action on Orders of Police Committee, to Curb Violations and Safeguard the Public

A total of 75 fines were imposed by town police officers last week-end in a renewed drive to enforce the traffic regulations. Many of these levies have been met with heated protest; other offenders have paid the $2 fine without objection (if reluctantly); but in no case is it reported the violations will be contested in court. Principal offenders were those disregarding the speed limit, and, still more numerous, drivers who failed to halt their cars at "Stop" signs.

• • •

With the summer season in swing, and traffic at its peak, it is wholly in the interests of public safety that Lachute's traffic laws be observed. The traffic authorities and town police therefore have The Watchman's energetic support in enforcing the by-law and continuing to enforce it. Children's lives are at stake — and, if for no other reason, drivers should feel duty-bound to proceed with common sense and caution. The so-considered "prominent" citizen who protests the speed of taxi-drivers, while he himself frequently disregards the "Stop" signs, is utterly inconsistent. The law is for the humble and the "prominent" alike; there can be no discrimination, else there can be no safety. It is incumbent upon all citizens — taxi-men, aldermen, clergymen, business-men and newspapermen — to observe the law.

It will achieve worthwhile results to consider again these clauses of Lachute's traffic by-law (No. 127 — adopted August 3, 1932) :

Clauses from Traffic By-Law

Clause 3 — At crossings of public streets, the driver of a vehicle on one of the streets shall give the right of way to to the driver of a vehicle coming to his right on the other street.

Clause 4 — Any driver of a motor vehicle shall use the horn or sounding device only to give necessary signals, and in such manner as not to produce any harsh or prolonged noise; and between midnight and 6 a.m. the horn shall be used only in case of absolute necessity.

Clause 6 — No driver of a motor vehicle shall exceed the speed of 20 miles an hour. At street intersections the speed shall not exceed 8 miles an hour.

Clause 9 — No one shall be allowed to park a vehicle at the intersections of streets nearer than 25 - 35 feet (according to location, at discretion of the Roads Committee) from the corner of the street; no parking is allowed within 25 feet of a hydrant.

Clause 10 — All parking shall be made on the right hand side of the driver, within 6 inches of the sidewalk or curb.

Clause 17 — Every person driving a motor vehicle or motor-cycle shall come to a full stop at every "Stop" sign.

Special Exhibit at Carillon Museum

An interesting display of antique clocks — rare specimens of early craftsmanship — will be opened Saturday, August 16, at the Carillon Museum. The exhibition, which will remain on view for public interest during the season, will be opened at 4 p.m. by Dr. H. B. Cushing, president of the Argenteuil Historical Society. All friends of the Society, and those interested in the storied past of this countryside and earlier settlements, are invited to be present at the Museum on this occasion.

Protestant School Commissioners Pass '47-48 Budget

At a meeting of the Lachute Protestant School Commission on Tuesday the budget for 1947-48 was debated and approved.

Discussion arose on the appointment of a supervisor for schools within jurisdiction of the Central School Board. While realizing the necessity for coordinating the study courses in schools within the area, the commissioners felt they could not give approval to the absence of Lachute High School principal for this purpose, due to the heavy enrolment of pupils and demands of the local school. A suggestion to the Central School authorities was therefore outlined, recommending that arrangements be made for the Lachute principal to confer with principals of the district schools at specified periods, on the curriculum of study and similar matters.

In view of a vacancy occasioned by the recent resignation of Dr. F. W. FitzGerald from the Central School Board, the commissioners elected Jas. W. McGibbon as representative to that body.

Mr. Nelson Morrison, of Dunany, was present to discuss attendance of pupils from his area; and the meeting was also informed that St. Andrews East Consolidated School Board wished to meet with the proper authorities and discuss attendance of their scholars in Grades 8, 9 and 10 of the Lachute School.

All members of the Board were in attendance, with the new chairman, Jas. W. McGibbon, presiding.

Stable Blaze on St. Philippe Road

A stable and poultry-house at the rear of A. Foucault's residence on St. Philippe highway was consumed by fire last Thursday, around 10.30 p.m. Cause of the blaze was unknown. The frame structure was situated south of the road, near the Whissel construction plant. Lachute fire brigade were notified, but the fire was too far advanced for the crew and equipment to render effective aid. The building housed several hundred hens and pullets, a number of which were saved.

Lachute Open Golf Tournament Planned for Dates September 6-7

Now "One of Canada's Premier Sporting Events, Second Only to Canadian Open"

Plans are well under way for promotion of the annual Lachute Open and Amateur Invitation Golf Tournament. This event will be held at Lachute Golf Club on Saturday and Sunday, September 6 and 7.

Members were invited to a special meeting at the clubhouse recently, when it was stressed that full responsibility for promotion and success of this tournament would rest with them. On this understanding it was decided to proceed with plans, and a committee was selected to arrange details of the event. The committee includes — Messrs. Bert Rigg, Roger Gravel, George Tatterfield, Oswald Carriere, A. Ord Anderson, with A. George Leggett, Sr. to act as treasurer and Sam Milnes as secretary. Miss Hazel (Bobbie) Ogilvie was requested to serve as recording secretary for committee meetings. Bert Rigg was subsequently elected chairman of the committee.

The advertising poster was drafted and ways and means of raising money for the tournement were discussed. Various sub-committees were appointed covering all phases of the preparations. Financial details occupied considerable discussion, and a further meeting will be held this evening (Thursday) at the clubhouse.

All playing members of the club will be informed in due time of ways in which they can assist in the staging of this tournament. Local businessmen are being requested to lend financial assistance, and their response has been reported most encouraging.

The Lachute Open Tournament is one of Canada's premier sporting events, second only in golfing circles to the Canadian Open itself.

It brings this town and district a great deal of favorable publicity and is deserving of the wholehearted support of the club members themselves and of the community at large.

Live Ducks, Live Ponies and Gleeful Youngsters in Evidence at Rotary's Annual Carnival Held at Brownsburg

Brownsburg — Drawing for the prize of an automatic electric stove last Saturday night, by His Worship Mayor Legault, climaxed the third annual carnival of the Brownsburg Rotary Club — which proved a complete success.

(No. 2935 was the lucky ticket, held by Joseph Mendel, 5385 Hutchison St., Montreal. It seems that Rotarian Dave Schwartz, of Lachute, was in Montreal on a business trip and sold a book of tickets on the electric stove to the proprietor of the Millcraft Garment Company, who gave them to his employees. Mr. Mendel was the fortunate employee.)

The drawing for a beautiful utility case of plastic containing four Lucite and Nylon brush and comb sets, was won by Madeleen MacGregor of Brownsburg, with ticket No. 338. . . After announcing these lucky numbers over the loud speaker system Saturday night, President Wes Freeland thanked the many citizens present for their generous support.

A Variety of Interests

This year's carnival lacked nothing in interest—with live ducks being won by patrons; live ponies giving the children the thrill of their lives; and each night featuring a fireworks display that set the kiddies dancing with exclamations of joy.

The air rifle shooting range was an added attraction, while the "Mickey Mouse" balloons intrigued the youngsters. A ring toss, with colorful prizes, was a new and popular booth. Bingo, nickel toss, under-and-over, darts, a cocoanut shy and a sandbag toss, were back at their old stands. The sandbag toss gave several hundred free consolation prizes to the kiddies and was very popular. . In addition, Lachute and Brownsburg Rotarians, assisted by the ladies, combined to operate an efficient refreshment booth.

The weatherman saw fit to add his blessing to the weeks of work devoted by the Rotarians and their carnival committee, headed by Norm Somers.

The assistance given by many, in erecting, operating and dismantling the booths, coupled with the wholehearted support of the Lacute and Brownsburg citizens, is much appreciated by the Rotary Club, and will be repaid by an earnest effort to spend the money wisely and effectively for good in the community.

Playing a Part in World-Wide Service

A very brief summary of the service work carried out by the Brownsburg Rotary last year, has been presented in past issues of this paper, and a full year of service is planned for the 1947-48 Rotary year.

When it is considered that there are over 6,000 Rotary Clubs, some in almost every country in the world, with 305,000 members, the good that will be accomplished in this troubled world, is tremendous.

Due to this fact, the world-wide organization of Rotary is growing rapidly, and in many other communities like Brownsburg and Lachute, works side by side with Lions, Kiwanis, Kinsmen, etc., to make our towns, our world, a better place to live in.

Rotary is international and has members from all creeds, all nationalities and all races. Rotary has only four objects:— To encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and in particular, to encourage and foster:

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

3. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business, and community life;

4. The advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

40th Anniversary At Arundel, Que.

Arundel — An enjoyable event took place Tuesday evening, August 5, when Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bulley, who were observing their 40th wedding anniversary, were honored at a "surprise party" of about 65 friends and acquaintances here.

During the evening, on behalf of the friends present Miss Mary McArthur presented Mrs. Bulley with a shoulder corsage of pink baby roses, and Mr. Harry Ronalds expressed the congratulations of all present and presented them both with a purse of money. Mr. E. A. Bulley replied thanking the gathering both for himself and Mrs. Bulley.

Community singing and games were enjoyed and the serving of refreshments brought to a close a very happy evening.

Street Surfacing Now in Progress

Considérable road maintenance work is now in hand by the Quebec Highways Department in this vicinity. In Lachute town limits, resurfacing with tar and crushed stone was effected yesterday on a stretch north from the C.P.R. station crossing, including a portion of Bethany Street, and west along Main Street to the North River railway bridge. (It is reported progress on this job was delayed by a strike of truck drivers).

Similar resurfacing has resulted in marked improvement of the Lachute Road, from St. Jerusalem boundary to St. Andrews East. Portions of this job have been left for asphalt paving, to complete the stretch at a later date.

A portion of the St. Jerome highway, from Robertson's west to the town limits, has received the same surface treatment, while the next project will be the No. 8 highway from the town limits (Hamford Street) west to the Village of St. Philippe.

Provincial Construction Company are the contractors engaged in this work.

Program at Boys' Camp, St. Michel De Wentworth

CELEBRATIONS FOR 10th ANNIVERSARY THIS WEEK-END

At the Camp St. Louis, a vacation site for boys at St. Michel de Wentworth, 10 years of successful operation will be marked by speial celebrations this week-end.

This camp, with its attractive permanent buildings, situated on Lake St. Louis one mile from St. Michel village, is attended each season by approximately 125 boys, from eight to 20 years of age, who enjoy constructive pastimes and recreation for nearly two months of the summer season. They are students from Catholic schools in Montreal, Ottawa and various parishes in the Ottawa diocese, including Hull, Brownsburg and Lachute. The summer institution was founded, and has been supervised ever since, by the Rev. Arsene Hébert, who takes keen pride in the work. Father Hébert has also served as acting parish priest at the St. Michel mission church since 1934. At the camp he is assisted by his brother, the Rev. Joseph Hébert — both of the Ottawa Seminary staff.

Program of the celebrations this week-end will include a solemn high mass Saturday morning, with a religious pageant performed by the boys that evening, at 9 o'clock. Mass will be celebrated again on Sunday at 3 a.m. at the shrine, which has been constructed by the boys themselves. At 3 p.m. there will be vespers and benediction of the Holy Sacrament; and at 9 p.m. a candlelight procession.

Many interested visitors are expected for this anniversary occasion. Activities at the camp will conclude for the season on August 21.

Guides Enjoy Camp At Morin Heights

Brownsburg — A number of Girl Guides have just returned from spending a two weeks' vacation at the Guide Camp at Morin Heights. The girls were under leadership of their Lieutenant, M. Cumbers, and Miss Parker from Lachute. At this camp Miss Cumbers obtained her bronze medallion from the Royal Life Saving Society, for swimming and rescue work. The Red Cross Intermediate Swimmer's badge was won by M. Gagné, and the Red Cross Junior Swimmer's badge by Joan Thompson. A swimming and boat meet was held while at camp, and altogether, a pleasant time was enjoyed by the Guides.

On Monday evening a bonfire was held here, providing an opportunity for these girls to tell the other Guides about their camping trip.

PUMPKIN GROWS ON TREE

(United Nations World)

The Russians have a new invention — a pumpkin that grows on trees. They obtained it by crossing the old-fashioned vine pumpkin with the Greek, Italian, Japanese and Mesopotamian eggplant and the Chile bush pumpkin. The new fruit is an improvement over the vine type plant which takes up 60 square feet per plant and cannot be cultivated. The small pumpkin "trees" take up nearly 10 square feet and can be cultivated by tractor.

Brownsb'g Scouts' Week-end Camp

Brownsburg —

The Brownsburg Boy Scouts enjoyed their first camping trip of the year, spending last Saturday and Sunday at Lake Louisa. Ten of the troop were present, under the leadership of Arnold Waller, the Assistant Scoutmaster, and Lorne Brewer. The weather was ideal for swimming, hiking, suntanning, games and outdoor sleeping.

The Wolf-Bulldog patrol, with Joe Izzard acting Patrol Leader, Jim Izzard, Fred Greely, Paul Ingram and Arthur Morrison, won the closely contested patrol competition over the Eagle-Otter Patrol, including Gerry Izzard acting Patrol Leader, Bobby Warwick, Bruce Mason, Ernie Zimmer and Bill Cribb.

Special prizes went to Jim Izzard, who won the paper chase and Gerry Izzard who was judged the best all-round swimmer and diver.

Plans are under way for a similar trip before school re-opens — with provision that the next time there will be salt for the stew and an extra blanket for the Scoutmaster!

Get into each other's hearts, and we won't be at each other's throats.

Show Marks Opening Of Flying Club At Hawkesbury

Hawkesbury—The official opening day of the Hawkesbury Flying Club is slated to take place Sunday next, August 17, one day after the start of the St. Lawrence Zone Competition for the Webster Memorial Trophy, which is also being held at the Hawkesbury Airfield. The latter event is being sponsored by the Canadian Flying Clubs' Association.

Flying clubs and schools expected to be represented at the meeting include those from Kingston, Quebec City, Montreal and Ottawa.

The opening day of the club, which was formed a year ago, and which received its charter in September, 1946, will be celebrated by an air-show, including such events as a landing competition; aerobatic demonstration; glider towing; parachute jumps and preliminary flying instruction.

At the present time the Club owns an Aeronca Champion and a Cornell Aircraft, the latter having been taken over from the R.C.A.F.

Officers of the Hawkesbury Club include: Dr. Irwin T. Smith, president; C. L. MacKinnon, vice-president; L. G. Harcourt, secretary-treasurer.

The R.C.A.F. are engaged in mapping 700,000 square miles of unknown territory in the Canadian Northwest. It is intriguing in this modern age to learn there is so much undiscovered territory right in our own back yard.

Late Blight and Rot Appears on Tomatoes

Prof. J. E. Howitt, Department of Botany, Ontario Agricultural College, reports that Late Blight and Rot have appeared in two prominent tomato growing counties of Ontario. Growers are advised to start spraying or dusting at once on the appearance of this disease.

For information re control, growers may contact their Agricultural Representatives or the Department of Botany, O.A.C.

Prompt action may mean a substantial prevention of loss in this important crop.

Heading Off Trouble

There is a body of technicians receiving training to enable them to identify moulds in tomato products such as tomato juice, catsup, etc. Such a group is in convention at this time at Ontario Agricultural College under title of the "Mould Count School".

The training of technicians was started in 1945 by the Government. It is sponsored at this time by the Canned Foods Association of Ontario. The objective of the work is to train men and women to be efficient analysts in the tomato products industry so that they may determine the presence of moulds in the finished product. By proper and efficient methods of handling, the processor of tomato products is able to keep the mould count to a minimum.

In the present school there are 35 in attendance, who are remaining at the College for nine days under direction of Dr. Elder, of the Canadian Canners, Hamilton. Two outstanding American authorities are assisting, Mr. V. S. Troy, Chief of Microbiology, the Continental Can Co. Laboratory, Chicago, and Mr. Marion Hoy, specialist of the American Can Co. Laboratory, Maywood, Illinois, in addition to Mr. J. W. Conner of the Bacteriology Department at O.A.C.

Extremely abnormal demand for cement arising out of Canada's building boom, has embarrassed the manufacturers, reports Hardware and Metal & Electrical Dealer. Cement is being sold to contractors on a quota system, with housing and important industrial construction given first priority.

Management of Early-Hatched Pullets

By good management of early-hatched pullets, a very substantial increase in production of eggs during the fall and early winter should be attained. In this way, then, we can fulfilll our export contract for eggs — says Mr. C. M. Huntsman, Poultry Department, O. A. College.

The management of early-hatched pullets includes different problems than those encountered in the management of late-hatched pullets. Special measures must be used to take care of egg production on range, to give relief from high temperatures in the laying pen and to avoid fall moult, with the early-hatched pullets.

As soon as the pullets begin to lay, place oyster shell before them and provide them with nests. Nests placed outside of buildings should be protected from rain and sun. If nests are not provided for pullets on range, a great many eggs will be lost, broken and dirty.

It is better to leave the pullets on range when they have nests, and where they have green feed and fresh air, than to confine them to a laying pen without sufficient ventilation during a period of high temperatures.

Where possible, each pen in which early-hatched pullets are to be housed, should be provided with a yard where the pullets may have cereal pasture or kale, and exercise in the open air, till the snow flies. Green feed is essential for at least a month after the pullets have been placed in winter quarters.

It pays to move from range to laying pens as soon as there is a sufficient number of laying pullets to fill a pen. Then two or three weeks later, move in another group of laying pullets. This makes it possible to place the laying pullets on full feed while the remainder of the flock completes development on the range.

Frightening, rough handling, or the placing of too many laying pullets in a crate, may be the cause of considerable mortality. Poultry diseases are sometimes carried from one flock to another. A "Keep Out" sign on the poultry house door is a wise precaution.

Follow as much as possible the same method of feeding and watering as was used on the range. Make no change in the ration for at least two weeks after the pullets have been moved into winter quarters. After they have reached a production of 60 per cent and fail to make more than slight gains, change from growing to laying or breeder mash. It may be extremely dangerous, on account of new grain poisoning, to feed new grain before November. New wheat is most dangerous.

Keep a daily record of the consumption of mash and of whole grain as well as egg production. Mark a number of pullets and weigh them once each week, in order to have a close estimate of body weight. Slackening in the consumption of feed, loss in body weight, or appreciable drop in egg production, indicates that moulting is about to follow. This may be avoided by prompt use of mash moistened with milk; artificial lighting; pellets; or by small additions of fresh mash frequently.

Bird comfort, keen appetites, palatable feed, proper amounts of feed and of water, and regular attention, tend to prevent drops in egg production and to avoid moulting as is so often experienced in the management of early-hatched pullets.

Clean the Stables

Clean stables have much to do with keeping livestock healthy. With stock out on pasture comes an opportunity to do a little exra cleaning-up. After the stables have been thoroughly cleaned they may be sprayed with a limewash containing a suitable disinfectant. Flies and mosquitoes around farm buildings are a source of annoyance to both humans and to live stock, apart from being possible carriers of disease. The new chemical DDT is effective in helping to keep stables and other farm buildings free of these pests. Any of the commercially prepared barn sprays containing five per cent DDT may be used for this purpose, and the instructions of the manufacturer should be followed.

One gallon of spray will cover 1,600 square feet and sufficient DDT will be deposited on the surface to last for some months, though the length of time the spray will remain effective depends upon the nature of the surface sprayed, exposure to sunlight and weather, dust and dirt which may cover the deposit, the effect of the rubbing or sweeping the surface when cleaning, or contact with the bodies of animals or other objects. In addition to spraying the interior of stables and other buildings, the outside around doors and windows should also be treated.

PRIZE HERD FOR U.K.—150 purebred Holstein heifers, the largest shipment of cattle to the United Kingdom since before the war, are shown in the lower photograph moving into Canadian National Railways cars when they recently left Murco Farms at Lindsay, Ont., for Montreal en route to the United Kingdom. In the top picture, the prize herd is being inspected by W. E. Watson, manager of the C.N.R.'s Montreal Stock Yards, and W. J. Murphy, owner of the farms, just prior to their transfer to the ship. The heifers will restock dairy farm herds depleted during the war.

If it's Safety you want it's Plymouth you want

● If it's SAFETY you want—look at these great PLYMOUTH SAFETY features—SAFETY-RIM WHEELS—an exclusive safety feature with Chrysler-built cars—give you greater protection in the event of blowouts and other sudden tire failures. PLYMOUTH SAFETY ALL-STEEL BODY—gives extra strength, longer life and greater safety in case of accident. PLYMOUTH'S EQUAL PRESSURE HYDRAULIC BRAKES—pioneered and developed by Chrysler Engineers—psovide smooth, equal braking at each wheel. Stopping power is increased one-third with 25—30% less pedal pressure. These are only a few of the many outstanding SAFETY features of Plymouth.

All that Chrysler Engineers know about building fine automobiles goes into the great new Plymouth. Plymouth is Engineered throughout. Engineered for style —Engineered for comfort—Engineered for economy—Engineered foe performance and Engineered for your SAFETY. And, in addition to being the SAFEST Plymouth ever built by Chrysler, the big new Plymouth is priced right down with the lowest.

Check these Plymouth Features...

New Safety Hydraulic Brakes • Patented Floating-Power Engine Mountings to smother vibration • New Starter with button on dash • Safety-Rim Wheels for blowout protection • New Front-and Sway Eliminator • Rust proofing • All-steel Safety Body • New Body Guard Bumper • Hotchkiss Drive to cushion starting and stopping • Light-weight Aluminum Pistons • Wear-resisting Superfinished Parts • New Gasoline Filter.

PLYMOUTH'S SAFETY-RIM WHEELS PROVIDE PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS

Blowout with a Plymouth Safety-Rim Wheel—the air lets go, but the patented retaining ridges hold the tire straight and tight on the rim. The force of the revolving wheel gives the effect of air pressure in the tire. As the car slows down, the tire goes down and the danger lessens.

Deflated Tire on Plymouth Safety-Rim Wheel—see how firmly the tire stays on. Thanks to its patented retaining ridges, Plymouth's stop was straight and safe. Don't be without this proved protection. Every new Plymouth has Safety-Rim Wheels as well as many other safety features.

Blowout with Ordinary Rim Wheels—the air lets go, the tire twists crosswise or jumps the wheel entirely. With ordinary rim wheels, the car swerves, jerks on the steering wheel and has to be fought to a stop. BE SAFE WITH PLYMOUTH SAFETY-RIM WHEELS.

Heat Wave

CANADA EXPORTS many articles to the United States, with a financial value of millions of dollars. This August, however, it seems we've been sending south one of our most popular products — cool breezes to bring relief to the U.S. areas suffering from heat waves. (In these parts, most people would wish the Canadian breezes had stayed at home!) . . The New York Times, however, expresses its thanks in these words:

"We owe it all to reciprocity. Thank God for Canada, our true friend in need. If it weren't for our northern neighbor we would still be sweltering in the torrid torture of July. But Canada brews a brand of weather which is her most treasured export in summer. Her famous cold front, sealed with a maple leaf, may be a gruesome thing in January, but on an August night it 'softlier lies than tired eyelids upon tired eyes'. A blanket to wrap it in, is all anyone needs to restore the most drooping spirits. . . . . Rain, mildew and thermometers with high blood pressure have competed merrily to get us down. But it can't be done when that magic Medicine Hat starts turning out its cold front rabbits."

It is cheering to know that Americans find our weather so delightful. Personally we find it very hot.

What Price the Wife?

AT THE RECENT convention of the Liberal party in Ontario, provincial leader Farquhar Oliver paid tribute to his wife, without whom, he said, he could not give the time his political career required.

"My wife is invaluable. She runs our farm expertly," he continued. Undoubtedly many farmers realize just how valuable a wife is, but it took an American economist to transcribe that value into terms of dollars and cents.

After years of study, this economist said a farmer's wife is an asset worth precisely $2,760 annually. Just how he reached this calculation, isn't known, but on the strength of it the capital cash value of a good wife works out at about $91,000 if interest on an investment is taken at three per cent.

Most farmers probably didn't realize that, when they went to the altar, they came home $91,000 richer! If they were worth their salt, most farmers were not thinking in terms of cash at that point. But they must at some time have wondered how much their wives contribute to the everyday income of the family.

To a fair-minded man — especially after a good meal — a good wife, even if she cannot milk a cow or gather an egg in the barn, is worth a good deal more than $2,760 a year. In common justice he would put the figure at closer to $1,000,000 — as long as it's not included in his income tax return!

Of course there are many cross-entries in this calculation. The expenditures of a wife — even of a farm wife — on such things as a new hat, purse or hair-do, must be deducted from her earnings. On the other hand, a man coming home from the field or office and finding his house in order, his dinner hot, will be a miser indeed if he does not authorize a bonus — mental, of course, not cash — of a full year's pay. . . The bookkeeping becomes rather complex the further the subject is pursued, and it will probably always remain outside the range of the economists and income tax collectors.

Wordsworth, who was notoriously bad with figures, called her a "vision bright with something of an angel's light." This definition will serve better than any figures the economists are likely to produce.

GINGER ALE is described as the drink of the senses because it can be seen, heard, smelled, tasted and touched. Also, if liquor is added, it makes some people lose their senses.

The Tenth Province

SHOULD THE people of Newfoundland vote for union with Canada, and should the Canadian Parliament approve, the island as the Dominion's tenth province would be entitled under the British North America Act to elect seven members to the Canadian House of Commons and to have six seats in the Canadian Senate. Since there are no political parties as such in Newfoundland at the present time, leaders of existing Canadian parties probably are making plans to set up their organizations on the island. It's quite likely they are sounding out prominent Newfoundlanders already, with a view to getting the best available men in the key posts.

When Newfoundland had responsible government, up to 1934, the two main political parties were Liberals and Conservatives. However, the islanders have been subjected to such troublesome legislative and economic periods in the last decade that they may distrust the old established parties and turn to one of the socialistic-minded groups leaning more to the left. The Canadian C.C.F. and Social Credit parties would have just as much opportunity for success in Newfoundland as the Liberals and Progressive-Conservatives. Newfoundlanders would be hearing the platforms of the Canadian parties for the first time, and their reactions to the various political beliefs would no doubt have considerable effect on Canadian opinions. If Newfoundland becomes a tenth province, it will be interesting to observe the stategy of the various Canadian political groups.

Russian Strategy

IN THESE DAYS when many are expressing opinions that war with Russia may come at any time, it is reassuring that the internationally famous correspondent of the Canadian Press, Ross Munro, now on a Dominion-wide speaking tour, firmly believes that Russia is not in a p ition to wage modern warfare and probably won't be for another 15 or 20 years. From observations and contacts made inside the "iron curtain", Mr. Munro finds the Soviet a comparatively enfeebled nation at the present time. Her railways are in a terrible condition and she needs masses of rolling stock, while in industry and agriculture she is far behind.

What Mr. Munro foresees in the immediate future — and it already has begun — is a political and economic war. The two go hand-in-hand. Russia's rejection of the Marshall plan of aid to Europe, and her refusal to allow the satellite countries to accept the offer, clearly defines the issue between East and West. Since the early '20s it has been the goal of leaders in the Kremlin to spread the ideology of Communism throughout the world. We can see the plan at work here in Canada, where Communists are inspiring strikes, with a view to causing internal unrest. Similar activities, on a more advanced scale, are being carried out in Europe. Stalin and the other Russian leaders hope that by non-cooperation they can keep Europe in a state of chaos, and more or less in a condition of economic depression, until the peoples will turn to Communism as a last resort.

The democracies, however, are quite aware of Russia's "game". The Marshall plan indicates that the United States intends to go all out for European recovery. In view of the overwhelming natural and technical resources of the democracies, it seems almost a certainty that Russia will lose this economic "war". And in that case, Russia will be no more able to wage a military war 15 or 20 years from now than she is today.

PRIME MINISTER Attlee has declared that the United Nations is an organization which cannot stand still. It must go forward or backward. From observation of the current situation, it looks as if the organization at the moment is in reverse.

Humor in Business

"My Week"

By R. J. DEACHMAN

I met not long ago a banker, now retired. He had spent the greater part of his life, in different branches, mostly in the Province of Quebec. I asked him, as I often do with all classes of people, for the funniest incident in his business experience. This is the one he placed first in the list. I give you the story as closely as I can, but I cannot put on paper the fine Irish voice of the man who told it to me as he imitated the tone of his customer on this occasion.:

"In the town, which must be nameless, we had an account of an Irishman, a small contractor who carried a balance with us of from three to seven hundred dollars. One day a cheque came in which wiped out his deposit and left him with a deficit of about $200. I phoned him and suggested that he come in and cover up or give us some security.

" 'You are calling me about my account', he said, and every word sounded as if it came from Dublin. 'How much did you say I was over?' "

" 'Two hundred dollars', I answered".

" 'Now how much would I be having in your institution last week?' "

"I looked it up. $550, I told him."

" 'Then did I call you up?' "

" 'No, why should you?' "

" 'Then why in hell should you call me up now?' "

"I was stumped, what could I do with a man like that?"

"What happened then?" I said. "We paid his cheque, he covered it in two or three days. Sometimes he went over for a few dollars but we never mentioned it to. him. I always felt that his answer was worth any risk we took."

Here is another one from the same source:

"A man came in one day and asked the price of a Safety Deposit Box. The price was $5. He asked if I could let him have it for $4. I said, 'No, the bank doesn't cut the price, everybody pays the same'. He went out sorrowing.

"A few days later he came back and asked if we loaned money on victory bonds. This was during the first Great War and, at that time, we loaned up to the full value of the bonds. He came in the next day and wanted to borrow $100. I made out the note, he handed me the bond. Imagine my surprise when I looked at it, it was for $10,000. I asked him why he wanted to borrow $100 when he had a bond for $10,000. He suggested that he needed it, I didn't ask any more questions. After all, he was entitled to the loan.

"I forgot about it, then a few days later he stuck his head through the door and said: 'Well, it didn't cost me $5 to get a Safety Deposit Box from you, did it?' He was quite right. We paid him 3% interest and provided safety for his bond, he got what he wanted for $2 less than if he had rented a box."

"But he didn't get the box", I said. "No", said my banker friend, "but he certainly did get perfect security for his bond. On the other hand we still had the box, and may have rented it to some other needy soul. Besides, he may have lost a little by "loaning" that money to us at 3%. He might have made a better alternative investment. My own opinion is that he really wanted to get safety for his bond without paying us anything for it. Was it worth the effort?"

Will somebody please tell another story. Some day a book will be written entitled "Humor in Business". It may have been done already. It's a good subject.

The weeklies say...

POLICING VILLAGES

The Penetang council has availed itself of the opportunity of having a Provincial policeman act as village constable. Some weeks ago the village council of Bobcaygeon did the same thing, paying $1,700 a year towards the salary of the special constable. On the surface it looks like good business, but the long-view issue, which shouldn't be ignored, is whether this tendency to centralize police power is desirable from the best initerests of democracy.

BE A PAL, PA

One of our service operators sent us a note addressed to fathers, asking them to check their automobiles for gasoline before the boys go to visit their girl friends. He thinks the boys forget to check their cars, what with other things on their minds, and if the fathers performing this necessary deed, he would not be called out of bed at 1.30 a.m. to fill up some luckless boy's tank with gasoline.

MAIDENS — At the Providence Hospital, Lachute Mills, August 11, 1947, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maidens (née Edna McAdam), a son.

IN MEMORIAM

KELLY — In loving memory of dear Dad, Samuel Kelly, who departed this life August 16, 1937.— Ever remembered by Jennie and Mary.

"Not lost to those who loved him,
Not dead, just gone before;
He still lives in our memories,
And will for evermore."

LOUDIN — In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Robert John Loudin, accidentally killed August 17, 1946. — Ever remembered by Mother and Family.

"We little knew when we woke that morn
The sorrow the day would bring,
For the call was sudden, the shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear
Without a chance to say goodbye.
Tonight the stars are gleaming
On a lonely, silent grave,
Where sleeps in dreamless slumber
One we loved but could not save.
May Heaven's winds blow softly
O'er that sweet and hallowed spot
Where one we loved lies sleeping,
Never to be forgot."

MONCRIEFF — In loving memory of a dear father, George Moncrieff, who passed away August 19, 1946. — Sadly missed and always longed for by your loving daughter, Gertrude, and sons, Ted, Garfield and Gordon.

"A precious dad from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A chair is vacant near our own
That never can be filled.
Oh, Daddy, how we miss you,
We can't keep from feeling blue,
For we lost not only a daddy
But a pal that was good and true.
Your presence was our greatest pleasure,

Along the road of yesterday,
To live again in memory
The happy days that used to be.
To hear you laugh, to see you smile
To talk to you a little while.
We like to linger on the way
That leads us back to yesterday."

On a lonely silent grave,
Where sleeps in dreamless slumber
One we loved but could not save;
May Heaven's winds blow softly
O'er that sweet and hallowed spot,
Where one we loved lies dreaming,
Never to be forgot.
Many a lonely heartache,
Many a silent tear,
But always our loving memories
Of one we loved so dear."

Everything but the price tag says—
BIG-CAR QUALITY

YOU'LL LIKE THAT BIG-CAR STYLING!
You'll like the long, low lines of the new Chevrolet! You'll like the look of massiveness and sturdiness. That big, beautiful Unisteel body is by Fisher, you know — the only Body by Fisher in the low-price field!

YOU'LL LIKE THAT BIG-CAR PERFORMANCE!
What fun to drive a new Chevrolet. There's power and pep to spare in the only Valve-in-Head Engine that powers a popular-priced car. And Chevrolet's quiet, comfortable, road-hugging way of going is so restful—so relaxing!

THIS — YOU'LL LOVE!
But your greatest thrill will come when you find out that Chevrolet is in the lowest-priced line . . . the line that costs less for gas, oil and upkeep. Chevrolet's the one car that gives you Big-Car Quality at Low cost!

YOU'LL LIKE THESE BIG-CAR FEATURES!
Chevrolet's packed with features that give you Big-Car comfort and safety. Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes, for example, with exclusive design features for safer, surer stops. Unitized Knee-Action, for instance, that adds stability and ease of steering, as well as riding comfort.

The growing demand for the new Chevrolet is setting an all-time record. We cannot hope for many months to fill all the orders pouring in. If you are among the many who have set your sights on Chevrolet's Big-Car Quality at Low Cost, we suggest that while you wait, you rely on your Chevrolet Dealer's service to keep your present car running smoothly and safely.

Creative Banking
GIVES HER BETTER THINGS TO BUY

THERE are new fabrics for hats and purses, new styles in shoes; variety in costume jewellery, modern gadgets for the kitchen, better foods, a range of new furniture . . . and behind all the goods in all the stores across the country are hundreds of businesses, large and small.

If there had been no money available, and no men of ability to turn it into factories and goods, there would be far fewer products on the shelves and counters, far less variety in price and style, far less value to be had for your purchasing dollar.

At The Bank of Nova Scotia we're proud of our share in the creation and expansion of business. Over $200,000,000 is invested in commercial loans, helping large companies and small bring you better and better things in Canada.

Let's do it together!

Peaches for Quick Dessert

When a quick dessert is called for, there is nothing better than canned fruit. Served plain with cake or cookies, it is always satisfying. On the other hand if something a little more elaborate is needed, canned fruit forms the base of delicious pies, puddings and sauces. So if one has the storage space, the home economists of the Consumer Section at Ottawa suggest "canning what you can".

Following are directions for canning peaches. Being a sweet fruit, peaches need only a thin or moderately thin syrup. Thin syrup is made in the proportion of 1 cup sugar to 2 cups water (yield, 2½ cups syrup); moderately thin syrup 1 cup sugar to 1½ cups of water (yield, 2 cups syrup).

Hot Pack Peaches

Blanch peaches 15 to 60 seconds in hot water to loosen skins. Cold dip. Cut in half, remove skin and pit. Drop peaches into brine (1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart water), as they are prepared, to prevent discoloration. Drain, leave peaches in halves or slice and drop into hot syrup, bring to boil and simmer 3 minutes. Pack hot (placing peach halves cups down) in clean, hot sealers. Cover with the hot syrup leaving ½ inch headspace. Adjust rubber rings and tops. Process in the boiling water bath 15 minutes for pints and quarts, or in an oven with an automatic heat control, for 25 minutes, at 275°F., for pints and quarts.

Cold Pack Peaches

Blanch peaches 15 to 60 seconds in hot water to loosen skins. Cold dip. Cut in half and remove skin and pit. Drop peaches in brine (1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart water) as they are prepared, to prevent discoloration.

Drain, leave in halves and pack cups down, or slice and pack in clean hot sealers leaving ½ inch headspace. Adjust rubber rings and tops. Process in the boiling water bath for 20 minutes for pints and 25 minutes for quarts. The oven is not recommended for Cold Pack Peaches.

Helen Kirkpatrick, Chicago Daily News foreign correspondent, has been awarded the French Legion of Honor for journalistic accomplishment.

Tomatoes and Canning

Tomatoes are one of the easiest foods to can successfully, either whole or as juice, and their bright color and fresh flavor add interest to many hot dishes during winter months. In addition, canned tomatoes make a nice vegetable served cold or hot, spiced or plain, and tomato juice rates high both in palatability and as a source of vitamin C.

The following directions for canning tomatoes and juice are recommended by the home economists of the Consumer Section at Ottawa:

Cold Pack Tomatoes

Choose firm, ripe tomatoes. Set aside the irregular or broken ones to make juice. Blanch tomatoes 15 to 60 seconds to loosen skins. Remove stem and peel. Pack in clean, hot sealers or in plain tin cans, adding 1 teaspoon salt per quart sealer or 28-ounce tin can. Cover with hot tomato juice made by cooking, in a covered pan for 5 minutes, the irregular, broken or very large tomatoes (which have had ends removed and been cut in pieces,) pressing through a sieve or purger.

Leave ½-inch headspace in glass sealers and ¼-inch in tin cans. Adjust rubber rings and lids. Process in boiling water bath 25 minutes for pints and 20-ounce tin cans and 30 minutes for quarts and 28-ounce tin cans.

Because of their acidity, tomatoes may be processed in an oven which has an automatic heat control. Process pints at 275°F. for 35 minutes and quarts for 45 minutes.

Tomato Juice

Wash tomatoes, remove cores, but do not peel, cut tomatoes in pieces. Bring to boil and boil in covered pan 5 minutes. Press through sieve or pureer. Bring juice to boiling point. Pour into containers leaving ½-inch headspace in glass sealers and ¼-inch in plain tin cans. Add 1 teaspoon salt per quart or 28-ounce tin can. Adjust rubber rings and tops. Process in boiling water bath for 15 minutes for pints, quarts, 20 and 28 ounce tin cans (or pints and quarts only) in an oven with automatic heat control for 20 minutes.

1,000 WOMEN FROM D.P. CAMPS BEING BROUGHT TO CANADA

Ottawa — The Departments of Immigration and Labor report that the decision of the Government to check over women in the Displaced Persons' Camps of Germany to ascertain if they would accept and were suitable for domestic work in Canada, is being proceeded with immediately.

The selection teams made up of women representatives of the Department of Labor and the Immigration Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources, have left to join officials of these two Departments already in Europe.

Selection of women at the camps will be based on the needs for female help in domestic occupations in Canada. If this proves satisfactory, further movements of women will be carried out. Out of the first 1,000 it is hoped to relieve the acute shortage of housekeeping help in hospitals and similar establishments, where there is a marked lack of this type of worker. In future movements of women, attention will be given to the general need for household workers throughout the country.

All the women volunteering to come to Canada will be individually examined by the Selection Teams, and they will be chosen according to their occupational suitability and physical fitness.

CALGARY WOMAN EARLY PIONEER IN TB CONTROL

300,000th to be X-Rayed, 86-Year-Old Calgarian Has Fought Disease 39 Years

Calgary (CP) — A pioneer resident of Calgary, Mrs. William Carson, 86, has marked a milestone in the history of tuberculosis control in Alberta, as well as a milestone in her work of combatting the disease.

Mrs. Carson, who recently became the 300,000th Albertan to be X-rayed by the mobile chest X-ray units in the province, is often called the "Mother" of the volunteer tuberculosis control movement in Alberta.

She first started her work in combatting the disease in 1908. Now after 39 years of active interest she is proud of the development of TB control, and she is confident that through the X-rays the disease will soon become as rare as smallpox.

Set Up Sanatorium

Instrumental in starting the first sanatorium in the Calgary district, she felt keenly about victims of the disease who had come to the dry climate of Southern Alberta to cure their illness, but who had no proper care.

At that time the hospitals would not take TB patients, and neither would boarding houses, but she never gave up her efforts, and in 1910 with the help of another Calgarian, Mrs. Harold W. Riley, obtained a house, hired a nurse and set up a sanatorium.

There were eight patients to start with, and later after unceasing efforts they were able to obtain the present Mountain View home. Finally after the First World War, the present Central Alberta Sanatorium, built for military TB patients, was obtained and used for treatment of Albertans suffering from the dread disease.

For Young Travellers

A wait between trains in a strange city with a couple of children in tow is a prospect grim enough to appall the most competent young mother, but from now on the new three-room nursery in the C.P.R. Windsor Station in Montreal will give both parent and youngster a chance to rest, relax and freshen up before continuing their journey. Tht nursery is in charge of a trained matron, and its playroom (top) is equipped with an indoor slide, blocks and toys with which the kiddies can be turned loose. The "quiet" room (lower left) has cots for the children to sleep in and chairs for their mothers to relax. Two diminutive tubs are provided in the bathroom (lower right) where a young lady, from Northern Ontario en route to Nova Scotia is seen bathing her 14-month-old boy. A hot plate, bottle warmer and sterilizer are available for preparing milk and formulas, and the rooms are all decorated with pictures and "transfers" of animals and children. Miss Ethel Alexander, P.N., the matron-in-charge, who can be seen in the upper picture, keeps an eye on the children while mothers go about errands in the station — seeing about tickets or having a meal.

To Hold Regatta At Barron Lake

Lakefield — Residents of the Lake Barron (Long Lake) summer community are collaborating to stage a regatta Saturday afternoon, August 23, at Baker's Point. Plans are well under way, providing for contests in aqua-sports — rowboat, canoe and swimming races "open to residents of Lake Barron and vicinity" — and a printed program is in course of preparation. The events commence at 2 p.m. In the evening at Brown's Community Centre prizes will be awarded to the winners, and supper will be served by ladies of the settlement.

This is the first event of its kind to be held at Lake Barron, and the organizers are particularly gratified with the support received from residents, whose generous donations are making the regatta possible.

"ALONG THE FAIRWAYS"

By Lachute Golf Club's Special Contributor

Congratulations to our assistant pro, Nick Besner, on his fine showing in the Quebec Open at Whitlock. Nick tied for second place among the professionals, he and Jules Huot each carding 150 for the 36 holes. Stan Horne was the winner. The event was held Friday, August 8.

Nick's card for the day was as follows:

	Out	In
Par	36	36	— 72
1st Round	37	38	— 75
2nd Round	40	35	— 75

Hugh Kerr dropped a long putt on the seventh green, and the C-I-L Purvis Cup competition was all over for another year, as far as this district is concerned. He and Art Lapp were playing the finals last Saturday morning. Hugh repeats his performance of last year so far, going on to the Dominion finals in this competition. Needless to say, the gang here are pulling for him to bring back the cup.

Jack McIndoe won an easy one in the "B" Class championships when his opponent, Dr. Jules Lafleur, was called away on a case and defaulted after six holes of of play. Said the Doctor upon his return: "Lost the match, but saved the father!"

• • •

We watched Roger Gravel and George Leggett, all tied on the 18th, play an extra hole to decide their second round in the "B" Class. Two nice drives and then, not wishing to crowd each other, they picked sandtraps on opposite sides of the green. Both nicely out with one, but then George missed his putt — so Roger goes on to the third round.

We would just like to take belated note here of some of our touring trios and quartets who have been playing the summer field-day circuit. Hugh Kerr, Art St. Onge, Joey Berniquer and Laurier Carriere were at Elm Ridge July 23 and Art got himself a three-way tie for one of the prizes. His proxy lost three tosses in a row. Next was Grovehill, July 30, where Art, Laurier and Joey ran out of the money. Hugh was not along. On August 6 Hugh, Art and Laurier took in the field day at Laval. No luck there either, but they are not discouraged, and figure that their day will come.

Electrocuted by High-Voltage Power Cable

A victim of "accidental death while in the course of his duties", Ernest Robertson, 59, a well known townsman and foreman of the Gatineau Power Company, was electrocuted at the transformer station on Grace Street West during Monday night. The fatality occurred about 12.20 a.m. after Robertson and his crew had repaired a switch insulator, which had burned out in the severe electric storm that night throwing the town in darkness for an hour and 40 minutes.

Ernest Robertson had been working on the cross-arm carrying the switches, about 30 feet above the ground. The pole at which he was working carried high tension lines for St. Jerome, about five feet higher than the cross-arm. It was believed these lines were "dead" through failure of the circuit; actually, however, one line was still functioning, charged with 26,400 volts. After completing his job, Robertson stood erect, and his head contacted this wire. He was killed instantly, the upper part of his body being severely burned. The man collapsed, but his body hung suspended in the cross-arm braces, and it was with considerable difficulty that his fellow workers removed him from this position. Jules Lafleur, M.D., of Lachute, was summoned to the scene and pronounced the victim dead.

In his capacity as district coroner, Dr. Lafleur presided at the inquest Tuesday morning, held at the Menard funeral parlors. Evidence was heard from Delphis Brisebois and Bernard Vanier, two linemen who had been assisting on the job. The jurors returned a verdict to the effect that the victim had met death by accident while engaged in his work.

Ernest Robertson had been an employee of Gatineau Power Company for 22 years, and of its predecessor the Ayers electric system for five or six years. He was a loyal and conscientious worker. Only an hour or two before the fatality he had been present at a life-saving demonstration, being alert to every such phase of his occupation. The father of eight children, from seven to 19 years of age, he had suffered a series of misfortunes, having lost a sister, his wife and a brother by death within the past few months.

The funeral rites will be held tomorrow (Friday) at 9 a.m. in St. Julien Parish Church, Lachute Mills.

To Keep Editors In Good Humor

Many papers have reprinted the following editorial from the St. Mary's "Journal-Argus" because in every case they agree with the views expressed. . .

The "Journal-Argus" says: "Every week of every month there comes to the desk of the editors and business managers of all newspapers and many other offices in Canada, a mass of printed matter which from all practical purposes is a sheer waste of good paper. Statistics on this, figures on that, sketches on one thing and plans for another — all so unattractively gotten up that not one person in a hundred takes the time or energy to read them. With the costs of government soaring in Canada, and with very little increase in population to shoulder this extra drain, it seems that Canadians in general and business people in particular could very well do without all this statistical nonsense which is flooding our post offices and mail boxes and for which our private businessfolk are continually being plagued to turn in reports in order that these useless tabulations of figures may again be produced in endless procession."

The "Bowmanville Statesman", from which this editorial is requoted, adds a suggestion that the Finance Minister send one of his watchdogs on a week's tour of newspaper offices and see first hand how the editor's desk and wastepaper baskets are cluttered up with government literature and so-called releases which never see the light of day. It would be an eye-opener to any official who would make such a trip, and should be the means of recommending the dismissal of several hundred useless civil servants, besides saving enough money to reduce the annual budget thousands of dollars. And best of all, it would have the effect on editors in having a more kindly and cooperative feeling toward our federal government in practicing a much needed economy in at least one more instance.

Village Stressing Public Order with Police Authority

Appointment of a permanent police officer for St. Andrews East was made recently by the parish corporation. Gaetan Lavigne, former business man of the village, was engaged for the position, and is now on duty to maintain law and order in the community.

With this same object in view, display-cards are being posted in the municipality drawing attention to ordinances approved by the village authorities. They concern the orderly conduct of juveniles and adults, and among practices prohibited, by order of the Chief of Police, the following may be mentioned:

It is strictly forbidden — "for children to play or slide in the streets or on the sidewalks of the village.

"For children under 15 years to be alone on the street after 9 p.m.

"For children to yell at the park during or after a ball game."

"For children or adults to throw stones, bottles or similar objects.

"To kill or wound any species of birds or destroy their nests.

"To carry or discharge any firearms in the village limits.

"Accumulated snow or ice on sidewalks must not be thrown on the streets, etc., etc."

DISCUSSES AUTO INSURANCE RATES, QUEBEC PROVINCE

Recommends Legislation for More Effective Control of Reckless Drivers

The price of automobile insurance throughout Canada has been ascending steadily, and no relief can be expected until drivers realize that it is the accidents in which they are involved which determine the rates they pay for coverage — A. Leslie Ham, Montreal manager of the Canadian Underwriters' Association, told members of the Rotary Club at Sherbrooke this week.

The protection of human life, he said, far transcends in importance the material aspect of insurance rates, but a reduction of accidents cannot be achieved "except by legislation, the effective control of motor drivers through rescinding of their licenses and the impounding of their cars for cause".

Some progress has been made, insofar as legislative control is concerned, through operation of Financial Responsibility Laws in most provinces, and he singled out Manitoba, especially, as a province where their new law is bringing desirable results.

In Ontario, too, existing legislation has had a salutary effect since its introduction in September 1930, for in the next 15 years there were 82,423 licenses suspended for varying periods of time.

In Quebec, however, which has the worst accident record in the country, there is no such law in operation. Quebec drivers might wonder why their rates are so much higher than other provinces — in Montreal rates being twice as high as Toronto — and the answer lies in the bad accident record in the province. Insurance companies are helpless to correct the situation and Mr. Ham suggested that if the public would make its voice heard in governmental circles, some improvement would follow.

Winnipeg (CP) — One Canadian who evaded customs examination while possessing goods subject to duty couldn't stand his conscience. He sent Customs Collector J. T. Baillie $25 with an explanatory letter signed simply "A Canadian tourist."

City Father Learns Answer To Traffic Problem

"IN BROWNSBURG"

Efficient Police Work

The difficulty of enforcing the parking regulations has been a standing subject for discussion at the Brownsburg Council meetings. The matter was before the previous meeting, reported recently—following which one of the members possibly found the answer when he received two "tickets" within an hour for violations at Lachute!

Post-Office Robbed At Ste. Scholastique

Ste. Scholastique — A safe containing between $6,000 and $7,000 was stolen from the post-office at Ste. Scholastique recently. The postmaster reported the robbery next morning to provincial police headquarters in Montreal, and detectives were sent to investigate.

Barn Destroyed By Lightning

A barn was burned, and in a nearby farmhouse the lightning left a freakish trail of disorder, at Dalesville during the electric storm last Monday night. The bolt struck at Thos. Morrow's farm, around 10.15 p.m.

The one-storey barn, filled with hay at one end, was soon swept by flames; the loss included a wagon loaded with oats, and also two pigs. A team of horses was rescued.

Neighbors rallied at the scene and organized a bucket brigade to save a nearby woodshed. Meanwhile, helpers drove to Lachute to summon the fire brigade — the telephones both at Dalesville and Brownsburg being out of action. On arrival of the fire truck, 400 feet of hose was laid from the Campbell mill-pond, and water was directed on the shed and the side of the barn, thus averting a spread of the blaze.

Meanwhile in the home, occupants had recovered from the shock of the bolt and while some hurried to fight the blaze, others took stock of the damage in the dwelling. It was found that every electric fixture had been blown from the walls and ceilings, plaster had been ripped, and in one window all 12 panes of glass had been shattered. The house stands about 125 feet from the barn building. . . Several neighboring homes were slightly damaged, and the lightning bolt is reported to have plowed a furrow across the Morrow pasture, splitting and uprooting rocks in its path.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

VALUE OF FAIRS

The real reason why (rural) fairs have maintained their popularity is that they offer something that will appeal to everyone. There are patrons who are only interested in the prize pumpkins and field products; there are some who only go to see the horse races; and of course, it is the place where people meet friends that they see only once a year at the fair.

Specimens of Old Clock-making Art 'Warranted Good'

GATHERING HELD AT CARILLON MUSEUM

Saturday afternoon at the Carillon Museum was one of those occasions when folks of the Ottawa Valley gather to contemplate the achievements of the pioneering past. It was not a large assembly, for the number who take pride in preserving these mementoes of their forbears is lamentably small. They find some gratification, however, in the increasing number who visit the local museum these days and who view its displays with intense interest.

The feature last Saturday was the opening of a special exhibit of old clocks, which was sponsored by the Argenteuil Historical Society's president, Dr. H. B. Cushing. A descriptive talk was given by Dr. Cushing, revealing something of the romance in early clock-making, insofar as it concerned the homes of the settlers and the first exponents of this craft in North America.

Old Timepieces Were "Warranted Good"

Following is Dr. Cushing's foreword to a printed catalogue of these exhibits at the Carillon Museum:

"One of the most interesting of the exhibits in the Historical Museum at Carillon is a number of old clocks belonging to the pioneer families of Argenteuil County which have been donated or loaned by their descendants. These clocks give a fairly complete picture of the remarkable history of clock-making in America from 1800 to 1870.

"In the early settler's home the family clock was more than a mere ornament. It was an heirloom which regulated the whole life of the household. It was almost thought of as a living thing, was highly prized and bequeathed from father to son. The earliest of these timepieces were of course the grandfather clocks. These were imposing articles of furniture with handsome, usually mahogany frames, generally made in Europe, brought out by the immigrants and carried by incredible labor to the pioneer settlements. They were very expensive and only found in the wealthier families. They were entirely handmade by skilled artisans. Their works were of brass driven by weights and the whole machine of imposing size.

"About 1800 came the great change which might almost be called a page in American history. Trained clockmakers started making clocks in Eastern America especially in Connecticut. These clocks were made in great numbers by simple machinery, were of small size, either shelf-clocks or wall-clocks, and sold at a moderate price. The works of the earlier ones were entirely of hard wood.

"The designs of the cases were standardized and beautiful, following the types made by certain artistic geniuses, like Eli Terry and others.

"Most of the standard models are represented in the Museum and there are timepieces made by many of the men who became famous among the American clockmakers, such as Conant, Jerome, Ingraham, Seth Thomas, Gilbert and Hart.

"Nearly all these clocks have a printed paper pasted inside the case, giving general directions for their care and regulation, usually ending with the slogan 'Warranted Good'; surely justified by the specimens exhibited."

Demonstration on Life-Saving, by Noted Authority

At the invitation of Fire Chief Geo. Y. Deacon, a noted authority on life-saving techniques, L. B. Temple, was here Monday evening to give a demonstration on resuscitation practices. Mr. Temple, retired after 54 years' service with Montreal Light Heat & Power, was chief of the company's emergency crew. On call for all varieties of mishaps in the city and district, he has won wide repute, having saved hundreds of lives in his humanitarian occupation.

The demonstration, held at McArthur's Hall, was witnessed by police, firemen, Scout leaders and businessmen — a small but representative gathering.

Mr. Temple showed several improvements on the Schaffer method of resuscitation, ways of handling and moving unconscious subjects — all tried and proven in his long experience. Some of these techniques were, in fact, introduced by Mr. Temple, to become more generally adopted. Correct posture of the operator, rhythm and pressure for artificial respiration, were made clear. Application of moist heat to the victim (which he termed "50% of the fight"); the promptness of treatment, and necessity to keep the victim prone for two hours after recovery, were stressed as highly important. Mr. Temple dealt briefly with inhalator treatment in conjunction with manual aid, and advocated 93% ogygen and 7% carbon dioxide as the most effective mixture of gases. He mentioned caffeine, or strong black coffee, as an ideal stimulant to the recovering patient. As regards time elapsed before the Schaffer treatment, he considered 15 minutes the longest period, and 20 minutes exceptional, in which resuscitation might be effective.

Mr. Temple emphasized his points with practical precedure on a patient, thus giving a clear idea of treatment in cases of asphyxia from drowning, gas poisoning or electrocution.

Fire Chief Deacon was chairman, and Mr. Chas. L. Duncan thanked the speaker for his generous efforts in the public welfare.

Company Field Day Draws Large Crowd to Local Exhibition Grounds

Sports Program, High Calibre Entertainment Enjoyed by Mill Employees and their Families

The field day for employees of Ayers Limited and the Dominion Shuttle Company Ltd., and their families, proved a gala event at the Exhibition Grounds last Saturday. The attendance was high — numbering 2,500 people that evening — and the program included every provision for the pleasure of all ages and tastes. Fine weather prevailed, the sports were keenly contested, and the entertainment was loudly applauded.

Members of the Ayers family and directorate, personnel and employees of the two companies, and representative townsfolk entered wholeheartedly in the spirit of the occasion. The entertainment featured visiting radio artists, boxers and wrestlers — the latter including top-notchers in the profession. To this outside talent, local performers contributed an amateur program of song, music, oratory and tap-dancing. From the start of the races in early afternoon, till the climax of the wrestle session late that night, there was good natured rivalry throughout.

Marc Carriere, as organizer and master of ceremonies, voiced a popular sentiment in expressing the thanks of the crowd to Gilbert Ayers and his fellow directors. Not the least appreciative were the hundreds of youngsters who enjoyed the day and its attractions, including pop and ice cream to the extent of their capacity.

A pleasing feature of this occasion was the inauguration of a "25-Year Club" — about 60 old-time employees being presented each with a watch by the president, in recognition of their long service.

Principals in the entertainment were radio artists Miss Jeanne D'Arc Charlebois, Denis Drouin, and Miss Prudhomme, of C.K.A.C., as accompanying pianist. Master of ceremonies for the stage shows, and himself a star entertainer, was Marcel Gamache.

Prize-winners in the amateur program were — Men: Emile Larocque and Claude Quesnel. Women: Miss Audette Labelle and Miss Jeannine Labonté.

Spectators filled the grandstand to capacity during the entire program.

Visiting sportsmen, on invitation of Marcel Deschamps, local organizer, included gymnasts, athletes and cyclists from the Immaculate Conception athletic group, under supervision of Rev. Maurice Robitaille; amateur and professional boxers; and Larry Moquin and Jim Ostelli for the wrestling event — which was refereed by none other than Yvon Robert, idol of Montreal mat fans, direct from Old Orchard, Maine.

Handsome admission prizes for employees of the two companies were awarded to holders of the lucky tickets, as follows:

Ayers Ltd.: Electric refrigerator, Miss Marcienne Gravel; radio, Girard Brosseau; bicycle, Edmond Dallaire.

Dominion Shuttle Co. Ltd: Washing machine, Jean-Louis Clément; radio, Miss Yvette Durand.

A complete list of winners in the day's sporting events is published on page 8.

Brownsb'g Council Votes to Proceed On Waterworks Extension Project

"In Brownsburg"
(Specially Contributed)

The Brownsburg Corporation has decided to go ahead with the water system extension (so often discussed at recent meetings), at the former Chenier property. Tenders have been called for, under an authorization order obtained from Quebec which does away with the necessity of requesting a referendum of the people.

Youth Welfare

The swimming pool operated under the guidance of the Youth Welfare Committee has been delightfully appreciated by the children of the village during the hot, humid summer. Attendance, which is free, reached new high records, and one gets a satisfying feeling to just sit and watch the kids revel in the cooling water. Committee members are always present to see that no untoward happenings occur.

Rev. Father Bouchard Returns

After an extended holiday in the Mid-West and Southern States of America, Rev. V. Bouchard, parish priest of St. Louis de France, had an interesting account of his travels to recount on his return. He was greatly impressed by the large attendance at Sunday Masses in all the States he visited. He was pleasantly surprised by the virile condition of the Catholic Church among our neighbors to the south, and found their great fervor most edifying. He had a pleasant holiday, but found it good to be back nevertheless.

CHILD KILLED BY LOCAL TRANSPORT AT ST. MARTIN, QUE.

Montreal — Lucille Cleroux, aged four years, died in Ste. Justine Hospital Monday night a few hours after being admitted with a fractured thigh and pelvis. Her injuries were a result of being struck by a truck near her home at St. Martin. At the inquest at the Coroner's Court in Montreal, the victim's father, Athanase Cleroux, said the accident happened as the child was going with her seven-year-old sister, Claudette, to get some water. The inquest was adjourned until today (Thursday) to await the evidence of the truck driver, John Cleary, of Lachute Mills.

Barley-Oats Mix For Bacon Hogs

Best results in the feeding of growing pigs on a barley-oats mixture are assured only when the essential additions and corrections are made to these feeds when preparing the ration. The grains are best when coarsely ground, and for very young pigs the meal should be sifted to remove part of the harmful hulls.

There is little, if any, advantage to be gained in soaking ground feeds. Additional animal protein in the form of skim milk, buttermilk, meatmeal or commercial supplement is needed to supply the requirements of growing pigs. An insufficient supply of protein in the ration is a common cause of slow and costly gains.

Barley and oats supply less calcium than is required by pigs. Milk, meatmeal or tankage and commercial supplement all supply calcium in addition to the essential protein they contain. With inside feeding, the use of cod liver oil or pilchardene oil at the rate of a dessertspoonful per pig daily will compensate for the lack of direct sunshine and will supply also additional protective vitamins. The feeding of oil is usually discontinued when the pigs reach a weight of about 100 pounds. These suggested corrections and additions to the barley-oats mixture for feeding bacon hogs have been tested at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Brandon, and proved to be both economical and efficient.

Local Leadership Aids Farm Clubs

Much of the success achieved in organizing boys' and girls' club work depends upon voluntary local leadership, and the more efficient and active such leadership the better is the chance of a progressive organization being established in any particular community.

At a voluntary local leadership meeting held recently at St. Hyacinthe, Que., Roger Ellyson of St. Celestin, Nicolet Co., Que., was selected as president of a regional voluntary local leadership committee for the counties of St. Hyacinthe, Nicolet, Yamaska and Bagot. Mr. Ellyson, in 1936, won a National Championship "public speaking" contest organized by the Canadian Council on Boys' and Girls' Work at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto. It was mentioned at the meeting that at least one local leader met with his group of boys and girls for study every Friday evening, this particular evening being chosen as it conflicted less with homework given on other nights to those still attending school.

Prize Stock Breeding

By R. J. Deachman

My farmer friends will I think enjoy this. It is an item from The Economist, London, dealing with a remark made at the Royal Agricultural Society's annual meeting in 1847 — not 1947. Said a farmer pointing to a pen of Leicester ewes which had obtained one of the highest prizes: "They are pretty sheep, but I should like more size; 'tis always the 'pretty things' which obtain prizes at these shows." To this, at that time, The Economist answered:

"It must be recollected that breeding prize stock is in itself a business, and that to obtain the symmetry we all so much admire, some sacrifice of size is necessarily made, for in all very large animals there is usually a disproportion of parts. Now, the object of the prize breeder is to correct these disproportions, to produce a level, even-shaped animal, with all the good points of the particular breed fully developed, but no one point exaggerated so as to be greatly out of proportion. To succeed in this, implies the production of an animal of moderate size; and a moderately sized animal of good proportion is just what we, as practical farmers, at first sight, are apt to designate 'pretty'."

There is good sense in this. It shows good sense in the English farmer of a hundred years ago. What the good farmer seeks is not only a "pretty" animal but one which tends to produce the best cuts at the least cost. The economic factor determines the pattern of life not only in government but in farming.

Hay Mixtures

In experiments over a number of years at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lennoxville, mixtures containing alfalfa produced 13 per cent more dry hay than similar mixtures without alfalfa. A mixture of 8 lb. timothy, 3 lb. red clover, 1 lb. alsike, and 4 lbs. alfalfa yielded 4.67 tons, and was closely followed by a similar mixture composed of 8 lb. timothy, 4 lb. red clover, 2 lb. alsike, and 4 lb. alfalfa which produced 4.45 tons.

Gatineau Power to Reduce Industrial And Commercial Rates

Gatineau Power Company this week announced rate reductions for commercial and industrial users throughout the Gatineau system outside the City of Hull. In Hull minor downward adjustments have been made in the industrial power rates.

All reductions become effective with the first meter reading after September 1st. The new rates have been approved by the Provincial Electricity Board. The reductions vary, depending on the amount of power used by customers, with Commercial Rates slashed as much as 25% in some cases and Industrial Rates down more than 11%.

The new schedules of rates will be issued to commercial and industrial customers shortly.

Quite aside from the rate reduction, a number of new features will be introduced into both the Industrial and Commercial Rates. In future both types of customer will be allowed a 25% draw-down from the previous maximum demand — resulting in a considerable saving, particularly to those customers who have heavy seasonal loads. The new rate also does away with meter rentals.

In the case of small commercial premises forming part of a residence, the installed capacity which may be used under the Domestic Rate is increased from 500 to 1,000 watts.

Where a commercial customer has a demand in excess of 3Kv.A., but not reaching 4 Kv.A., the customer will be billed on the basis of 3Kv.A. This distinct benefit to the customer also applies to installations of higher capacity.

Court Action to Test Resale of New Autos

Windsor, Ont. (CP) — A test of the legality of a bond designed by automobile dealers to stop immediate re-sale of new cars on the used-car market will come before the County Court here next term.

The G. Tate Easton Company asks $300 for violation of a bond with Maurice O'Neil in which the latter guaranteed he would not sell within six months the car he bought unless it was first offered back to the Company.

In defence. O'Neil alleges the bond is "void and illegal" under the law. One of his reasons is that is was contrary to public policy.

The company said the measure was designed to stop the driving new cars "around the block" and selling them as "used cars" at black market prices, $200 or $300 above the original selling price.

No Mongrels Enter Canada

Only Canine Bluebloods Apply for Border-Crossing

Ottawa (CP) — Canada seems to be getting only the cream of the canine crop as visitors from the United States, at least so the files of the health of animals division of the agriculture department disclose. Strangely enough, in all the files kept by the department on dogs entering this country from the U.S.A., not one of the dogs is listed as a mongrel.

The nearest anyone has come to saying his dog hasn't a pedigree as long as its owner's arm was on a form that reached the department recently saying the dog was "mixed". Others are described as "part collie" or a "combination" but there are definitely no mongrels entering Canada.

Dogs brought into Canada from the United States and vice-versa must have a clean bill of health from a veterinarian. Great caution is taken to prevent the spread of rabies.

Water Safety Consciousness

IN A YEAR when we have read of so many drowning accidents and so much ignorance of common safety rules, the Red Cross Society continues to urge these rules on those whom they instruct in Swimming and Water Safety knowledge. These instructors, having received certificates authorizing them to teach Water Safety throughout the Province of Quebec, in turn pass on their knowledge to boys and girls of school age, particularly between 12 and 18 years. Canada has had the sad drowning rate of 1,000 yearly, 300 being the too high ratio from Quebec; but it is hoped these totals may be cut this year. The aim of the Canadian Red Cross Society is to have 5,000 instructors teach anti-drowning knowledge in all parts of Canada; Quebec already has 300 of these instructors.

The program is based on avoidance of accidents rather than on rescue methods, and on practices of safe swimming rather than on prize-winning technique. A large number of camps operated for underprivileged children in Quebec, have adopted the Water Safety program and are taking full advantage of the free instruction and awards offered by the Red Cross Society. Camp Chapleau in this County, operated by the Old Brewery Mission, and Camp Lewis of the Montreal Boys' Association, have for the last two years included the Red Cross Swimming Tests and Water Safety Examinations in their program. The "Fresh Air Camp" maintained and operated by the Montreal Daily Star is also actively interested in this work; and there are numerous others in this province.

In presenting certificates to instructors earlier in the season, Mr. Jackson Dodds, president of the Royal Life Saving Society, reminded his audience that by Water Safety instruction the American Red Cross Society had succeeded in reducing the drowning rate in the United States by half. Canadians can show equal determination. The Canadian Red Cross asserts it will not be satisfied till it can equal this record, nor will its instructors relax their splendid efforts till the boys and girls they teach have become "Water Safety Conscious".

A Trend to Worry About

OF LATE YEARS it has become unfashionable to have large families. A half a century ago five or six children were considered ideal; today the average couple favors two or three. Perhaps the economic factor is responsible to some extent: Couples are more concerned with their own happiness and security, and not inclined to make sacrifices in order to have children. An automobile often gets preference over a baby; yet it is true that a child brings joy into a home, greatly strengthening the bond between husband and wife. Large families are generally happy families.

A British researcher, Sir Cyril Burt, making a study of English educational standards, has found that the number of British students of scholarship ability will be approximately halved and the number of feeble-minded will be almost doubled in the next 50 years. The cause, as deduced by the Burt survey, is that parents in the better class homes are producing on the average only one or two children — many are childless — while parents in the lower classes are producing families twice as large. The fear is expressed that the failure of the intellectual classes to reproduce will result in a much lower standard of leadership in all walks of life. In the United States, the general conclusion is that the lowest third of the people produce families twice as large as the highest third.

The problem, now being studied in Britain and the United States, also faces Canada. Our statistics show that parents of University education have the smallest families. People who should be bringing children into the world, because they can give them the advantage of fine heredity and proper environment, are shirking their responsibilities. It is often argued that birth control should be acceptable because it is a means whereby poor families can keep from being overburdened with children. In reality, however, such is not the case, because poor families are reproducing faster than ever.

The danger of this trend to democratic institutions is readily seen. A backward person is almost as helpless as an idiot as a voting participant in helping to solve the problems of our complex civilization. He may be even more dangerous, because he is easily led by demogogues and dictators.

That "Cold" Label

"A COLD WAVE is moving down from Canada." . . That sentence, in the United States, perhaps does more than anything since Kipling's "Lady of the Snows" to label Canada as a land of parkas and earmuffs. It is repeated over the radio hundreds of times each winter, to millions of listeners.

The statement is literally true. So far as the United States is concerned, most of its cold does travel via its northern neighbor. There is nothing deliberate about this publicity for cold from Canada. But the sub-conscious effect on millions of people must be tremendous. Even a Canadian living temporarily in the United States, gets to wondering whether the ice age has returned to his native land since he left it. Such is the effect of the constantly-repeated sentence.

Canada extends in a narrowing segment to the North Pole, and so, taking our whole domain, we probably have to take responsibility for a lot of cold. That much of Canada is a long way from the Arctic, gets little consideration south of the border.

Of course this misty-mindedness doesn't exist at the border and there are millions of Americans throughout the country with a fair idea of our average state of being. But the majority seem to have no well-defined ideas concerning it. Sometimes one thinks they have the same feeling towards us as towards the household refrigerator. The kitchen is hot, but open the refrigerator door and inside it's cold. That's about what happens at the 45th or 49th parallel or whatever the boundary may be. South of that parallel all is normal, but swing open that parallel, brother, and there's ice and snow.

So don't be surprised when a tourist occasionally turns up for a bit of skiing in a Toronto or Montreal heatwave. How we could have done with just a day of skiing weather this August!

It is true that in summer there's a feeling of gratitude towards us when the word comes over the United States air waves that "A cold wave is moving down from Canada," but it still leaves the impression of parkas and earmuffs.

Immigrants Make Jobs

IT IS DIFFICULT to follow the reasoning of those who argue that, because we regularly lose many of our young Canadian men and women as emigrants to the United States, we should therefore do nothing about encouraging immigration — states "The Printed Word".

No one will deny that Canadians, particularly those with advanced technical training, can contribute much to the development of their native land if they remain here and put to use the skills they have acquired. But the encouragement to remain must be more tangible than pious hopes and sermons. The first requirement of the young graduate is a job, and in normal times he is likely to find a greater choice of jobs in the United States than in Canada.

The relative scarcity of openings for trained men in Canada as compared with the United States is no fault of Canadian business. It is a matter of the greater size and greater number of United States industries, and they have grown large and numerous precisely because of the open-door policy of immigration that prevailed there during the country's growing days.

If Canada's population were equal to or even half as great as that of the United States, the loss of our trained young people would be negligible. Until the discrepancy is repaired, we must face the fact that many of our young people will continue to drift away.

The movement can be reversed in time by bringing in immigrants who will not only make jobs for themselves but will create more opportunities for those who are already here. Discouraging immigration will only make the loss of our young people more probable.

TWO YEARS ago we hoped that the coming of peace would cause news commentators on the radio to speak in normal tones. However, they're still at it, breathlessly spouting away as if the world is about to end.

ABOUT this time of year the amateur gardener realizes all the back aches of last spring weren't so bad after all.

"Thank Heaven for My Enemies"

"My Week"

By R. J. DEACHMAN

Honorable W. L. Mackenzie King sat in the breakfast room of his country home in the Gatineau Hills. He had finished his frugal repast and was glancing over the morning papers. He had six at his left hand — six at his right. His hand moved to the right. He got the worst first — his tonic for the day — then turned to the editorial pages. One after the other he went through the six.

"Safe for another day" he said in a low tone, as he finished them. "Beware when thy enemies speak well of thee. . . They rarely do. On that basis it seems I may remain on the job as long as I want to do so. Now for the other papers. These are my faithful friends. Sometimes they ramble a bit from the true path but they come my way at election time. What is criticism anyway? It is merely an attempt to keep one straight, why should I object to it. Ah, well, I do as I like anyway".

"There are times when I am worried about Stalin. Not that I fear he will declare war on this or any other country, he is not ready for that — not ready yet, if he ever will be! Besides I doubt if he wants war. Only a fool wants war and Stalin is no fool. A man who can run the affairs of a nation without a critical press has a lot of wisdom.

"I am sorry for him. Here the papers speak ill of me or well of me or sometimes both ways. I wouldn't know what to do, if after reading a dozen papers this morning every one had told me how great I was and how every act of mine, right or wrong, was perfect. I am not always right, there are ghosts in my pantry. Political life is difficult. It would be easy to do what is right if I could always figure what is right. Thank heaven for my enemies, how could I live if no one told me what I ought to do — but" — and he paused and smiled: "I make the final decision."

I read the other day a statement that business in this country would like to get rid of labor unions. This is a preposterous suggestion. Labor unions have a very important function to fulfill, life would be more difficult without them. Merely because they at times abuse their privileges is no reason why they should be wiped out. What the average thoughtful man in the Dominion of Canada wants labor to do is to act strictly in its own interest.

Wages come primarily from production. If they came out of capital, industry would soon cease to exist. Normally labor has far more to gain from decline in the cost of living than it has from increases in wages. Wage rates in Canada did not increase materially between 1926 and 1939. The average money wage in 1939 was only $2 higher than in 1926, but in terms of real purchasing power it was higher by the neat sum of $219. Failure to realize such facts is one of the weaknesses of organized labor today.

Housing in Russia is a relatively simple problem. The Russian Government aims at providing each family with a floor space of 400 square feet. If emergency arises you are supposed to take in one of the neighbors and take care of him until he can get another house. Four hundred square feet isn't a very large space. It might do for a two-car garage. A family of two might live in it but Russians have large families. Try housing six or eight people in an area of four hundred square feet. Let me know how you get along.

In the United States the high cost of building hampers further progress, but these difficulties produce their own solution. Under the circumstances demand falls off, people find a way of living in more limited accommodation, in the end prices drop and we start all over again to build new homes — that, too, will come in Canada.

(R.C.M.P. Quarterly))

Recently a mother whose son was rejected by the Force, became indignant when she learned that the reason was illiteracy.

She immediately wrote the following message to the recruiting officer:

Dear Sir: I understand now that my son he is rejected from you for being illiterate. I want you to know he is decent, as I marry my boy's father a week before he was born.

He that voluntarily continues in ignorance is guilty of all the crimes which ignorance produces. — Samuel Johnson.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Rev. John R. Heyworth Speaker at St. Andrews Presbyterian W.M.S.

St. Andrews East — The August meeting of the Presbyterian W.M.S. was held on Wednesday, August 13, at the home of Mrs. Howard McOuat. It was a particularly happy occasion as the Rev. John Rushton Heyworth paid his annual visit as guest speaker. He gave an informal talk on present world pessimism and stressed the part that Bible reading, and knowledge of the Bible and its teaching, could contribute to the cure of this unhappy condition. He deplored the fact that the present generation is not familiar with the Bible.

Mrs. Cordon, of Tyndale Camp, was present and answered questions on the work of that Camp.

Mrs. George Rodger, Sr., was presented with a life membership certificate by Mrs. McCullough, after which the hostess, Mrs. McOuat, served tea.

W.M.S. of United Church

The August meeting of the United W.M.S. was held Tuesday afternoon at Miss Pitcairn's home. Mrs. Nickerson conducted the business period. Preaching Mission At Baptist Church

A special Preaching Mission will be conducted in the Lachute Baptist Church by Evangelist James Bailie, of Belfast, Ireland.

Mr. Bailie, a gifted Bible teacher and evangelist, during 1946 spoke more times than there were days of the year. Addressing several meetings in different parts of the district surrounding Lachute, his messages were "freighted with spiritual power, inspiration and blessing." Everyone is urged to attend these special services, which begin Sunday, Aug-August 31, and will continue every week night at 7.45, including Saturday, till September 7.

Know Quebec Better ....

Cape Trinity

Do you know Quebec? For example, do you know that millions of visitors annually are attracted from the four corners of the world by the scenic wonders of our Province? With modern travel facilities available everywhere, many visitors select as their vacation, the popular cruise down the broad St. Lawrence—past Capes Trinity and Eternity, "twin sentinels of the River of the Deep Waters"—to Tadoussac, romantic site of the oldest fur-trading post in North America, founded in 1599 —up the fjord-like reaches of the mighty Saguenay. Yes, Quebec is rich in beauty—the gift of a kindly Nature. But a progressive people have won from this beauty another, material wealth—in natural resources, agriculture, hydro-electric power and vast industrial development. Quebec, Canada's oldest settled part, has played a major role in Our Country's growth. United with her sister Provinces by bonds of mutual esteem and responsibility, she will continue to contribute generously to Canada's future greatness.

THIS IS YOUR QUEBEC
Population 3,500,000; Retail Trade $818,671,000 annually; invested capital $2,333,303,012; area, 523,860 square miles; leading producer among the provinces of hydro-electric power, textiles, lumber, newsprint, footwear, processed tobacco, asbestos and aluminum. Truly, ours is a land of promise.

Cool Calculation for Hot Supper Dishes

The home-maker who has spent the afternoon canning tomatoes or making pickles in summer heat, often wishes there were no hungry people coming home for supper. . . The situation is not improved by the extra guests who drop in half an hour before meal time.

The home-maker may sit down to a satisfying meal that attracts the eye and teases the taste, and at the same time be as cool as the proverbial cucumber herself, if she does a little planning and preparation in the morning.

The Home Economists at Ottawa suggest several ways to arrange this. A boiled ham or beef loaf, stored all ready in the ice box or cool cellar, and a large jar of salad dressing, are first aids in any meal emergency, for with greens from the garden for salad, and fruit for desert, the meal is on the table.

A hot dish stimulates the appetite and adds variety. This may be quickly served if some of the preparation is done ahead of time. Hard cooked eggs may be halved or sliced in a curry sauce, or they may become "à la King" in a plain cream sauce with bits of onion and sweet red peppers. Quartered tomatoes laid on hot buttered toast and covered with a hot cheese sauce make a new kind of rarebit.

Here are two good supper dishes, one hot and one cold:

Vegetable-Cheese Casserole

1½ Cups milk, 1 cup stale bread crumbs, 1 cup grated cheddar cheese, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs well beaten, 12 slices vegetable marrow (1 medium marrow), 2 tablespoons chopped onion.

Scald milk. Pour over stale bread crumbs, add cheese, salt and pepper, then add the well beaten eggs. Arrange the vegetable marrow in a greased casserole. Sprinkle with chopped onion and pour the milk and cheese mixture over it. Set in a pan of warm water and oven poach in a moderate oven 350°F, for 1 hour or until cheese mixture is firm. Six servings.

This may be prepared in the morning and baked in time for supper.

Jellied Veal in Green Peppers

2 to 2½ lbs. veal shank, 2 quarts water, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon celery seed or few sprigs celery leaves, 1 small onion sliced, 1 small carrot cut in half.

Place veal, water, salt, celery seed, onion and carrot in kettle. Cover, and simmer until meat falls from the bones, about 1½ to 2 hours. Dice meat — there should be about two cups. Strain stock and boil in an open kettle 10 to 15 minutes, or until flavor is concentrated.

2 tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup cold water, 2 cups veal stock, 2 tablespoons chopped sweet red pepper or pimento, 2 cups chopped veal, 6 medium green peppers.

Soak gelatine in cold water. Add hot veal stock, set aside to cool. When it begins to stiffen add chopped red pepper or pimento and veal. Wash and remove seeds from peppers. Fill with meat mixture. Chill until firm. Cut in slices crosswise. Serve on lettuce. Six servings.

For 'Teen-Age Cooks

By Betty Barclay

Children take great pride in being able to prepare a tasty salad or a main-course dish with which to surprise Dad at the evening meal.

Teach your children to do this. They'll be happy for the opportunity—and many a day, later on, you'll be very glad your 'teen-ager learned this lesson.

Here's a recipe for a delicious and healthful casserole dish. Start Lucy or Laura on this:

Chicken and Noodle Casserole

½ Pound egg noodles, 1 cup diced cooked chicken (more if desired), 2 cans condensed mushroom soup, 1 can milk or chicken broth, salt and pepper to taste,

Cook egg noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Drain Combine with the other ingredients and place in casserole. Bake at 350° for 30 to 40 minutes. Serves 8.

W. I. and Youth Hostels

The Quebec Women's Institutes are continuing to take an active interest in Youth Hosteling. Mr. Hoage, of the Canadian Youth Hostel Association, was a speaker at the meeting of the Q.W.I. Board and thanked the Institute for the support that had been given, particularly in reference to members acting as house mothers and in checking on conditions in hostels already established. He urged that this work be extended and asked expressly for information that would lead to opening up new trails. Any member wishing to get in touch with the Association may write to the Regional Office, Canadian Youth Hostel Association, Box 324, Montreal.

Housewives Disapprove Of Forty-Hour Week

Wellington, N.Z. (CP) — The 40-hour five-day week is a definite hardship of 75 per cent of housewives, according to an opinion poll conducted by the Wellington Housewives' Association.

Gradually introduced since the Government came to power 11 years ago, the 40-hour five-day week has been practically universal for several years. Chief complaint by housewives interviewed was the closing of almost all food shops all day on Saturdays and Sundays, making it necessary for them to buy sufficient food on Fridays to last until Mondays. Most housewives interviewed advocated a staggered five-day week allowing for the opening of food shops on Saturdays.

Single working women and girls without household responsibilities were 100 per cent in favor of the 40-hour week.

Begins New "They Tell Me" Series

After a trip to the islands of the Caribbean, where she gathered material and "special surprises" for a new series of "They Tell Me" programs, commentator Claire Wallace returned to the air on Monday over the CBC. Here she is shown in the CBC's Toronto studios with operator Wally King, discussing some technical aspects of her broadcast series.

Add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 teaspoon sugar to ½ cup lukewarm water, and let stand 10 minutes. Then stir well. Scald ½ cup milk, add 3 tablespoons shortening, ¼ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon salt and cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup sifted flour to make a batter. Add yeast mixture and 1 beaten egg. Beat well. Add 2½ cups sifted flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly and place in greased bowl. Cover and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. When light, punch dough down and divide into 2 equal portions. Roll dough ½ inch thick; place in 2 well-greased pans (8½ x 11½ x 2" deep). Brush tops with melted butter or shortening; sprinkle with ¼ cup granulated sugar. Peel and core 12 apples; cut into eighths; press into dough, sharp edges downward; close together. Mix 1½ teaspoons cinnamon with 1 cup granulated sugar; sprinkle over cakes. Cover and let rise in warm place until light, about ¾ hour. Bake in moderate oven at 400°F. about 35 minutes.

"ALONG THE FAIRWAYS"

By Lachute Golf Club's Special Contributor

It was best wishes all round for a good show as our club pro, Jack Archer, prepared Saturday night for his trip to the Riverside Club, Saint John, New Brunswick, and the P.G.A. tournament to be held there this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

• • •

To give you the long and the short of the corn roast Saturday night I suppose we should just mention Del Mitchell and Philippe Valois, cook and butler respectively, par excellence.

• • •

Laurier Carriere and Art St. Onge played top-notch golf to bump Hugh Kerr and Art Lapp out of the Ayers "A" Class Championship. As you are aware, Kerr and Lapp don't bump out of competitions very easily, but Laurier and Art "had their numbers". Hugh blamed it all on Laurier's booming drives and deadly putting — tells how Laurier pulled all the stops on No. 6 tee and persuaded the ball to a carry beyond the ditch and a roll to the foot of the big elm tree on the right. Try that on your drive some day. As for Art St. Onge, Art Lapp merely opined somewhat ruefully that, when a fellow insists on staging under par by a couple of strokes, hole after hole, he makes it awfully tough. We recommend to all galleryites the final 36-hole match in this championship, between Art and Laurier.

• • •

The Club was host to about 140 golfers from McColl Frontenac Oil last Friday. The visitors appeared to have had a most enjoyable day. We didn't see them along the fairways, but noticed they were no duffers at the 19th hole.

• • •

The old proverb, "Penny wise pound foolish", surely applies to a man who goes into the rough to look for a golf ball and loses his entire bag of clubs in there! If you haven't guessed who, then here's another clue: he is the same fellow who got his foot in the door of the Hall of Fame last year when he hooked his tee shot at No. 3 and scored a hole-in-one in No. 3 cup on the putting green. Our last clue is that he is one of our keenest golfers and an all-round good fellow.

• • •

We are happy to announce that the Red Cross is richer by $35 to $40 as a result of the benefit tournament held last Sunday. We understand all proceeds were turned over to the Red Cross organization.

• • •

The C-I-L Social Club turf-terrors were out in force last Saturday afternoon and their master of ceremonies, Ken Simpson, reports that a good time was had by all.

"Leadership and What It Takes," Topic at Rotary

RADIO SPEAKER AND CIVIC WORKER HEARD AT BROWNSBURG

Brownsburg — At their recent meeting in Brownsburg, the Rotary Club were hosts to a number of non-members who had so generously assisted in making their Carnival a success. The meeting also welcomed Mrs. Franco Consiglio, of Montreal, as guest speaker, who gave a very interesting address on "Leadership and What It Takes".

With the war over, it is a natural desire to want to relax and let others attend to the problems of the day — remarked the speaker —but never before has there been such a crying need for true leadership, because it is the sum total of local leadership on a world scale that will be the greatest factor in bringing lasting peace to the world. The definition of Leadership is, to make others want to do the thing you want them to do, with the aim to enrich the lives of others. Leaders are made — not born, as is the popular belief — leadership not being a question of technique but a matter of character. Anyone who is willing to make the effort can be a leader if first of all he or she can distinguish clearly for what they are striving. Is it an exalted position bringing you much glory? That is exhibitionism! . . . Is it freedom from responsibility and care? That is security! . . . No, leadership is a genuine desire to enrich the lives of others.

This enrichment can have world-wide significance or can be as humble as merely extending a helping hand to a less fortunate neighbor. In either sphere, you must visualize your ideal and bring to it the following characteristics: Will-power — a dogged persistence which refuses to give up in spite of difficulties . . . Knowledge — two-fold: facts and men. Leading is not bossing. . . Enthusiasm and confidence should be contagious, supplying energy and a sense of responsibility to have physical and moral courage. Ask yourselves the following questions: Am I an optimist or a pessimist? Can I delegate responsibility effectively? Can I avoid duplication? Do I speak with decision. Is my tone inclined to be dictatorial? Do I speak sufficiently loudly and clearly? Do I tire easily? Planning, deputizing and directing demand energy. Can I concentrate? Do I attend to essentials or do I fritter away time and energy over secondary details? Do I decide quickly. Am I good at alibis? Do I read, study and investigate into similar projects and interests?

Answer these questions and thus analyze yourself. In order to help develop characteristics, improve your posture, leaders do not droop! Concentrate and finish what you start. If some thought and effort is given to developing the qualities of a leader, even though the individual may have neither time nor opportunity for leadership on a large scale, he will realize what it takes. He will be able to distinguish between leaders and pushers. Above all else, he will appreciate the need for co-operation; he will not obstruct the efforts of others but will make up part of an intelligent following.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. George McGibbon and thanked for her interesting and witty talk by Mr. Dennis Staniforth.

Ottawa Girl Heroine In Minister's Rescue

Buckingham, Que. — Barbara Powers, 17-year-old Ottawa girl, led the rescue of a Baptist pastor, Rev. Roy Lawson, at Long Lake, 11 miles northeast of Buckingham, last Friday.

The young lady, vacationing at the summer colony with her parents, dove in to search for Mr. Lawrence after he had disappeared about eight minutes previously. She located his body and brought it to shore with the aid of George Erskine, of Burlington, Ont.

By the time Dr. Felix Wallingferd, Buckingham doctor, had been summoned, a two-hour application of artificial respiration by Miss Powers and Mr. Erskine had revived the pastor. He was taken to hospital for observation.

CHEAP PRACTICE

In the days when American dollars mean so much to this country and the rest of the world, the tourist trade is something that should be catered to and carefully looked after. Unfortunately there are some people who are bent on holding up the tourist through high prices for whatever he wishes to buy. — Huntingdon Gleaner

TO SPEND YEAR AT MICH. UNIVERSITY

(Our District Correspondent)

Avoca — Dr. Lester McCallum, who recently won a scholarship at McGill, left Sunday for Ann Arbor, Mich., where he will spend a year on research work at the university there. Dr. McCallum has won several scholarships, and his friends in this community wish him every success in his medical career.

Property Owners Protest Extension Of Gravel Quarry

St. Andrews East — Property owners lodged a protest recently against the extending of excavations in the C.N.R. gravel pit at St. Andrews. Signatories to the document are 19 proprietors, including members representative of the four local churches.

It is understood the operations of the railway company at this site are planned to embrace four more lots within the parish. The notarial protest is taken on grounds that the operations, hitherto confined to farm and rural land, will "surround and absorb several town lots"; that the operations are depreciating surrounding properties, changing the level of the land and detracting from moisture content of the soil, to the detriment of wells essential for the water supply of certain property-holders; and that the extensions threaten to affect the tax structure of the village. Moreover, objection is taken to operations of the gravel quarry on Sundays, and the works are termed "a nuisance and an eyesore".

The requerants, in presenting this protest on August 20 last, called upon the Company to "cease such operations as will cause an extension" to the gravel pit, and stated their intentioon to hold the Company liable for "all loss, costs, damage, detriment, delay or injury already suffered or which may hereafter be suffered" by reason of these premises.

Woman Aged 72 Killed in Auto Crash at Fassett

ACCOMPANIED NEIGHBOR ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON PLEASURE SPIN

A 72-year-old lady resident was the victim of a fatality last Sunday at Fassett, while out for an afternoon spin with a neighbor driving a new Motorette, lightweight three-wheeled passenger car. The victim, Mrs. L. H. MacDonald, and the driver, Thomas Morin, were thrown to the pavement when their machine was struck by a Montreal automobile operated by William Malo. According to police, both cars were travelling eastward on Route 8, when Morin turned left at the intersection of Pennsylvania Avenue in Fassett Village, just as the heavier automobile was about to pass him. The mishap occurred about 4.45 p.m.

Dr. E. P. Kelly was summoned from Hawkesbury to attend Mrs. MacDonald, and the woman was removed to the physician's clinic, where she died at 10.20 o'clock that night from cerebral haemorrhage caused by a skull fracture.

Patrolman Howard Jones, of Calumet, and provincial police from Hull investigated the accident. The Papineau County coroner, Dr. R. Bourgeault, of St. André Avelin, held an inquest Tuesday at Fassett.

Financial Confusion

Specially Written for The Lachute Watchman

By H. DENT HODGSON

Convertibility of British Sterling

Ottawa, Aug. 25 (CP) — The capital of three countries buzzed last week with mysterious rumors that were so far up in the high-finance bracket that few Canadians could understand it. . Crux of the situation was an announcement that Britain had decided to suspend convertibility of her sterling.

High financial experts shook their heads over the announcement and viewed it gravely. Sir Wilfrid Eady, British treasury official who negotiated the arrangement in Washington, said Canada would be "hard hit" by the move.

To the average man, "convertibility of sterling" meant about as much as "higgledy-piggledy". Canadians wondered what it was all about.

Two factors figure in the announcement: one was the British adverse balance of trade with Canada, and the other the Canadian adverse trade balance with the United States.

The convertibility of sterling meant that Britain, instead of converting foreign holdings of sterling into dollars on New York and other markets as she has done for the last six months or so, decided to limit such transactions by making them only in London, where they could be strictly controlled. Britain, in making the move, is protecting her supply of American dollars.

For Canada, it meant that Canadian business firms who obtained sterling, either through trade or legitimate channels, might no longer be able to trade it back to Britain through Canadian banks or the foreign exchange board, in exchange for United States dollars.

In a statement, Finance Minister Abbott said the British move would not seriously affect Canadian exporters, or Canada herself, because only small amounts of sterling are held in this country.

The minister also cleared up another worrying-point. Canada, which loaned the United Kingdom $1,250,000,000, has been improving her adverse trade balance with the United States by receiving payments from Britain in American dollars or gold for goods received. Mr. Abbot made it clear that this agreement still held, despite the British suspension of convertibilty.

In the year ended June 30, Canada received $220,000,000 in United States dollars or gold from the Unitede States dollars or gold from the United Kingdom, of which $135,000,000 came as part payment for purchases. These American funds have gone towards meeting an increasingly-serious adverse trade balance with the United States.

Thoroughly confused? So, said a high financial source in Washington, were technicians who tried to study the deal themselves.

Most Canadians rode along easily on the finance minister's statement that the British action would have little consequence on this country or its external trade.

If you are beside yourself with worry, think of someone besides yourself.

Red Cross Initiates First-Aid Boxes, Quebec Highways

PROMOTE NEW BRANCH OF PEACETIME WORK IN THIS PROVINCE

The Canadian Red Cross is adding another feature to its extensive peacetime program in this province. A new branch of the work is highway protection in case of accidents. Already similar steps have been taken in some other provinces and have proved to be a valuable contribution to safer motoring.

By a series of Red Cross first-aid posts along the highways, it is hoped to reduce suffering and even sometimes to save lives in cases of injuries incurred in auto accidents. Several first-aid posts have already been set up by Quebec Division of the Red Cross, and others will follow.

The supplies for the new first-aid posts are placed in a container near the highway and clearly marked so that motorists can get medicines, bandages, disinfectants and other first-aid materials. For a considerable distance in either direction there are arrows to point to the first-aid depot and to indicate the distance.

The Red Cross branch at Matane is doing pioneer service in this venture. Matane is roughly half way between Quebec City and Gaspe, on a route that is world-famous for scenery and consequently much travelled.

Later, it is hoped, such highway first-aid posts will dot the highways of the province. But for the time being a modest beginning has been made — so that experience ray be gained and applied to the wider application. In Quebec the particularly rigorous climate and the great expanses of unpopulated highway have meant special problems in carrying out the plan. For example, the containers have to rest on a solid base that will stand up to rough weather. . . Also in Quebec the signs indicating where the nearest Red Cross first-aid post is located must be in both languages. Even the equipment and materials must be labelled in both languages. Directions to aid an amateur in his first-aid work while he is waiting for a doctor are printed in both French and English.

The Red Cross takes the view that the alleviation of suffering and the prevention of complications that might result from neglected injuries following highway accidents are clearly a part of the Society's duty to Canadians in the years to come. No one can say how many lives may be saved by the timely use of these new Red Cross depots.

Vancouver (CP) — A new story of Chinese inflation was told here by Rev. Kenneth J. Beaton, just returned from missionary work. When he went to China, Dr. Beaton carried a cheque for $1,000,000 in Chinese funds, worth $300 in United States money. Within a month its value in American funds skidded to $50.

Fish and Game Protective Assoc'n Now Organized for Kilmar Area

Georges Dansereau, M. P.P., Guest Speaker; Demonstration by Fly-Fishing Authority

Sportsmen from the Calumet, Kilmar, Harrington and Lake MacDonald areas assembled in the comunity hall at Kilmar last Friday evening to organize and appoint committee chairmen for their branch of the Fish and Game Protective Association of Argenteuil.

As guest speaker, Mr. Georges Dansereau, M.P.P., told the audience that he was speaking to them as a sportsman and that to conserve and protect wildlife in this county was "money in the bank" for local people. With our wildlife at the back door of the heaviest populated area in the province, a fortune is available to the local residents if they will develop these resources and see that the wildlife is protected from lawless destruction.

The meeting was arranged by Robert Todd and Stan MacTavish.

Bill Gulline, sporting goods dealer of Montreal and an expert in the art of fly-tieing, gave a very interesting demonstration. With very few materials, his deft hands produced a fishing fly complete in a very short time.

Sterling Pollock, Montreal sportsman, presented some very interesting films on phases of wildlife. One sound film in natural color, which drew much applause from the audience, was directed and filmed by Mr. Pollock personally on Lake St. Louis.

Alex Clarke, secretary of the organization, served as chairman and the following were chosen to represent the Association in their locality: —

Chairman — R. Todd.
Membership — Stan MacTavish.
Education and Entertainment — C. Brown.
Finance — J. Kenny.
Surveys — A. O. Philipps.
Policy — W. Morrow.

Over 80 members have already enlisted for this group in the Kilmar area.

Many Co-operate For Success of Holstein Picnic

The annual picnic of the Lachute Holstein Club was held last Saturday at the farm of F. W. Allmen, Carillon, with over 60 members in attendance Sports events were held for both young and old, for which very liberal prizes had been donated. Several head of cattle from Mr. Allmen's herd were judged by W. A. Hodge, of St. Laurent, who is a director of the Quebec Holstein Association. He was assisted by H. Lajoie, secretary of the Association, who also assisted in organizing the sports events. Open judging took place after Mr. Hodge had completed, with 12 members placing animals in the same rating. Prizes for the judging were given accordingly.

The committee comprising Simon Wilson, Douglas Clark, Leonard Boa, John Meyer and Ernest Emmett, take this occasion to thank Mr. and Mrs. Allmen for their hospitality and for the use of their grounds, also Mr. Hodge and Mr. Lajoie for travelling from Montreal to be in attendance. Acknowledgment is made also to the following local storekeepers who kindly donated special prizes: McAdam & Albright, Lachute Farm Equipment, Farmers' Supply Co., Wilson & Gordon, Russell Rodgers, Douglas Hay and Jim Duncan, Owen Richards, Douglas Simon, George Y. Deacon, Farmers Electric Supply, John McFaul, and E. Emmett, of Bell & Sons Ltd.

Outlook on Protestant School Teacher Supply

Quebec (CP)—Dr. W. P. Percival, Provincial Director of Protestant Education, said this week that some Protestant schools in remote areas will remain closed this year, because of a teacher shortage which is "as great as ever." The number, however, would be small.

Dr. Percival told the Canadian Press that efforts were being made to find anyone who can teach, to help ease the situation.

In cities and towns it was expected practically every school and every class would resume when Protestant School children return September 2.

There would likely be some congestion in the first grade because of a high number of births during war years, he said. However, arrangements had been completed to handle these.

GOOD ROADS MEET, ST. ANDREWS, N.B. ON SEPTEMBER 8

Well over 500 delegates will assemble at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, New Brunswick, on September 8 for the opening of the 28th annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association.

Official representatives from every province will participate in the three-day meeting. They will be supplemented by experts in highway matters from Newfoundland, and from the States of New York, New Jersey, Washington, D.C., New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine, Minnesota, Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, Arkansas and Indiana. The convention will constitute therefore, the most important gathering of authorities on road transportation that has ever been assembled under the auspices of the Association, an organization founded on a non-profit, non-partisan, and non-political basis over 30 years ago for the purpose of collecting and disseminating information concerning highway construction and maintenance and the many problems connected therewith.

The wide variety of subjects will cover such phases of highway work as financing, administration, road machinery and equipment, frost action, city problems, cement and bituminous concrete construction, accident prevention, weights of vehicles, bus and truck transportation, secondary roads, and so on.

Organizations that will be represented at the convention will include the Highway Research Board, Washington, the American Road Builders' Association, American Association of Highway Officials of North Atlantic States, Ontario Good Roads Association, Canadian Automobile Association, American Automobile Association, Royal Automobile Club of Canada, Ontario Motor League and several others.

The Provincial Governments in Canada recognize the importance of the Convention and are delegating their Ministers of Highways, deputy ministers, and principal road engineeers to attend.

Gale Is Acid Test To Hardy Barley

Montcalm Variety Weathers Storm While Weaker Types Damaged

Winnipeg (CP) — A 60-mile-an-hour gale which recently pounded a small area around Winnipeg blew agronomists some good. It provided the acid test for Montcalm, a variety of malting barley originated by Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, and released in 1946. The new variety is in the process of multiplication.

For the first time anywhere, it is being grown in Manitoba on a commercial scale. George Gorter of St. Vital has a 100-acre field of Montcalm. J. H. Evans, deputy minister of agriculture, visited Gorter's farm after the gale, and the Montcalm field "stood up remarkably well" to the terrific wind. Another variety of barley, in an adjoining field, was heavily damaged. The grain was threshed from the stalks to the ground, and the necks broken as well. The defect of this variety, said Evans, is just that — weakness in the neck.

"The wind hits it around and the neck breaks off". But the stronger Montcalm, product of intensive crossing and study, withstood the whipping of the storm and suffered only minor damage.

Summer Shade For Range Stock

During the hot summer, growing stock will seek any shade that is available. The birds will develop better if they have the opportunity of getting out of the sun during this hot weather — writes C. C. Duncan, Poultry Department, O.A. College.

However, allowing birds to congregate in areas which are continually shaded may lead to trouble from disease and worm infestation. Trouble often occurs from this source in smaller farm flocks in allowing the growing birds to seek the shade provided by trees and shrubs growing around the farm buildings. The range should be far enough from the buildings that this cannot take place.

Any natural shade on or bordering the range can be made use of providing the lower branches of trees are cut off high enough to allow the soil beneath to be exposed to the sun for a portion of the day. If the soil in these partially shaded areas can be cultivated, so much the better.

Birds will make use of shade provided in and around range shelters. Shelters should be moved often enough to avoid contamination of the soil around them.

Handle Insecticides With Extra Care

Various insecticidal dusts and sprays have proven highly effective against a number of crop pests, but such treatments include potentially dangerous chemicals: lead arsenate, basic copper arsenate, paris green, cyanide and fluoride compounds, sulphur and nicotine.

The degree of toxicity of each of these insecticides varies according to the nature of its chemical composition. Sulphur dust primarily causes irritation of the mucous membranes of the eyes, upper respiratory tract and the skin; lead, arsenic, cyanide and fluoride compounds, if accidentally inhaled in sufficient quantities, may produce acute poisoning and death.

Prolonged contact with some of the arsenic and fluoride salts may also cause severe damage to the skin and mucous membranes, resulting in deep ulcerations. Those most subject to the dangers are grain elevator operators who load, unload, mix and sack the chemicals, as well as farm workers who apply the compounds to the crops in the form of dust or spray.

"Around the Country"

Jim Greenblat

Two sides to a story: — The New Glasgow, N.S., Chronicle commenting anent a proposed buyers' strike, thinks it would be rough on the shopkeepers, "the fellows who carried the wageless heads of families through the coal and steel strikes . . . the small merchants squeezed from top and bottom are not nearly as responsible for the high costs as the strikers may think. Buyers on strike in Cape Breton might see the point if the rest of us went on a coal buying strike."

"The practical sex" is what the Cranbrook, B.C., Courier calls woman; but she loses her sense of realism only in the theatre or the world of imagination; . . but "that some of the heroic looking idols are really heels does not seem to bother her."

The Red Deer, Alta., Advocate, which sometimes displays editorial leftish leanings, comes out flat that some increase in freight rates is both necessary and desirable . . ending up, "This is not to say that thirty percent increase should be granted, because it should not, but to say that some increase must and will be made, as the continued operation of the railways is essential to the maintenance of Canada's national life".

That we are heading into a depression is the easy thing to say for some "leaders of public opinion", opines the Camrose, Alta., Canadian, but deplores the fact that none of these wise guys are doing anything about steering us away from a depression, except talk. The Canadian is far from convinced that they are right.

OBITUARY

Wisconsin Businessman Born in This Community

Late Norman McGregor

Norman Patterson McGregor, nearly 84 years of age, died recently at Bruce, Wisconsin, where he had made his home since 1887.

Born here in the Lachute community, he was the youngest son of Richard W. and Jane McGregor, and was one of eight children. In the year 1892 he was married at Minneapolis to Clara B. Kees, who survives him together with a son, Clarence N., of Palmdale, Calif., and a daughter, Mrs. Clayton Malaise, Sr., of Bruce. There remain also two grandsons, two great grandchildren, and his sister, Mrs. Anne M. Larsen, of Oakland, Calif., besides several cousins in the United States and in these parts.

After leaving Canada in 1887, Mr. McGregor became a salesman, and represented two Minneapolis wholesale firms for 30 years. He then followed the banking business in N. Dakota for 10 years and in 1929 moved to Bruce, where he owned and operated the Farmers' Store; this on his retirement was taken over by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Malaise.

The late Mr. McGregor had been in failing health for the past few years. He was prominent in the Masonic fraternity, and a member of the Congregational Church. All business firms in Bruce closed for an hour in tribute to his memory, the funeral being held at Bruce Federated Church. The remains were buried at Minneapolis.

Since July 1944, he has been general manager of the Quebec Central Railway. From 1935 to 1939 he represented Missisquoi County in the Quebec Legislative Assembly. Mr. Brazeau will be in charge of the Laurentian division's 520 miles of track extending along the north shore of the St. Lawrence River from Quebec City to Montreal and up to Ottawa, and embracing the Laurentian Mountain vacationland. "FOREST FIRE"
Based upon a picture painted especially for Carling's.
This is one of a series of illustrations on the subject of the Conservation of Canada's natural assets designed to emphasize the fact that the beauties of unspoiled nature that we enjoy today are a precious birthright which we must protect for tomorrow.
† COPYRIGHT BY CARLING'S, 1948

"Forest Fire—The Common Enemy"

The scream of a rabbit pierces the hissing roar of the forest fire as a tall spruce bursts into flame like an oil-soaked rag. A deer, wild-eyed with terror, bursts from the undergrowth and makes for the protecting waters of a small lake where other creatures of the wild, forgetting all lesser fears, stand huddled together, shivering with fear of fire—their common enemy.

Crackling and hissing, its advance-line of windblown sparks reaching far ahead, the forest fire takes its terrible toll of wild life and forest wealth. In its wake nothing is left but blackened tree-trunks and desolation.

A lurid picture? Yes, but a true picture, and one that is seen all too frequently in Canada's forest lands. Statistics show that out of 6,000 forest fires in Canada every year, only one in six owes its origin to natural causes (lightning, etc.) The rest are caused by human agencies, and can be prevented.

As a shareholder in Canada's natural wealth, every Canadian has a vital interest in conservation. And conservation is the concern of all who are interested in the continuance of our national economy and our future prosperity, rather than the concern of a chosen few. The success of conservational measures depends upon the full support of all Canadian citizens.

Legion's Campaign to Fight Polio

THE LEGION'S campaign last year produced sufficient funds to provide all the larger hospitals throughout the Province of Quebec with polio equipment servicing units. The equipment included iron lungs and Kenny hot-pack outfits.

With this effort, however, the Legion does not consider its work completed in its war on poliomyelitis, and it has decided on a perpetual "March of Dimes" campaign to provide endowment funds for research work on this dread disease and kindred diseases at various universities. As a nucleus of an endowment fund McGill University was presented with a cheque for $15,000 by the Legion recently. This is merely a start and much more money will be needed to enable research work to be continued until victory over infantile paralysis is won. The present epidemic is indicative that this dread children's scourge has not yet been conquered. All branches of the Legion in this province — and it will soon be a national effort — have dedicated themselves to the task of raising funds for this fight, and the local branches will go into action next week, under the chairmanship of Sam Milnes for the Argenteuil Branch, and Mrs. M. Williams of the Women's Auxiliary for the Brownsburg Branch.

The Watchman has pleasure in endorsing this worthy enterprise, and the co-operation of service clubs and churches is recommended. It's a great work to help crippled kiddies back to normal life, but it will be a greater accomplishment if research finally finds a "preventative" or a cure in the incipient stages.

Defeating Our Ends

THE SITUATION on Canada's labor front is viewed with pessimism in "The Scene from Shingwauk Farm", a lively bulletin which penetrates the superficialities :

This is what is happening in Canada today: We Canadians are refusing to work for each other at wages we can afford to pay. Unless we wake up to the folly of what we are doing and change our ways, we will plunge ourselves into another depression. Nature has her own way of punishing those who transgress her laws. She does nothing about it. She allows them to deprive themselves of the benefits they would receive from obeying the laws. She is doing that now. She is allowing us to deprive ourselves of houses to live in, because we refuse to co-operate in providing ourselves with houses. She will probably allow us to go without a good many other things unless we learn to work together to supply them.

IT IS very nice when the state gives you a lot of things for nothing. It's a different matter, however, when they present you with the bill in the form of taxes. Nothing is free in this world.

Service Clubs

SOME PEOPLE are under the impression that service clubs are merely luncheon clubs where men go and relax and enjoy a bit of entertainment, some enlightenment and sociability of meeting with other men of the community. In part, this is all true, but these men thoroughly enjoy doing things in order that others may have the pleasures of the efforts they collectively put forth. — Huntingdon Gleanor

A PERSON gets wise as he gets older, but it's generally too late to do any good.

Heat and Industrial Fatigue

A CIRCUMSTANCE never before known in this locality, was the closing of two large industrial departments on account of the extreme heat and humidity. Even in the memory of oldtimers, this summer holds the distinction of being the hottest for many a year, and in the industrial plants the workers have suffered severe strain and discomfort.

The current issue of "Industrial Health Bulletin" has a comment on working conditions in industry, as follows :

"High temperature combined with high humidity is perhaps the most common cause of industrial fatigue. Under such conditions, coordination of body movements is impaired, resulting in reduced output and accuracy. Optimum temperatures giving the greatest feeling of comfort and the best conditions of efficiency should be about 70-72°F for light work in winter and 75-80°F in summer when the outside temperature is high. In a hot environment, air circulation is effective in reducing fatigue only if the humidity is reasonably low and the air temperature below body temperature. Special precautions including salt replacement and attention to proper hygiene, clothing and nutrition must be taken by workers exposed to high temperature."

— The "optimum" temperature of 75 to 80 degrees would have been as refreshing as a northern breeze, any of these recent afternoons when the mercury hovered in the 90's.

Meditation on Coal

IT SEEMS that there is little else but trouble in the coal world these days — remarks our Ottawa friend, R. J. Deachman.

Britain grew up and prospered on the export of coal. Coal was a great natural resource. It was in high demand throughout the world. British ships took on a load of coal and set sail for some port where they knew they could sell it. Then the agents of British shipping arranged for merchandise for the return journey hence commerce grew and prospered; but we are coming to the end of the coal age.

Coal will still be used in one form or another but we will reduce consumption in many ways. Germany was the first to make petrol out of coal. She added to this many by-products and it became one of the most important factors in German industry. In the United States they are wondering if it is not possible to burn coal underground and bring the power to the surface or changing the product to fuel oils and bringing that to the surface, thus getting greater economy of production. Some of these things may be a long way ahead but as costs rise, we find a better way. Even John L. Lewis may be an angel in disguise. By making coal dear, we may learn to find new and better uses for it.

Wanted, Cheaper Cars

PRICES of new cars still remain out of reach for the average person's income, and there is indication prices may be increasing in the near future. The lowest-priced car on the market retails now at around $1,400. This is more than working-class people can afford to pay, unless they intend to sacrifice necessities in order to buy a car. — Picton (Ont.) Gazette

Dominion-Wide Drama Movement Owes Much to Enthusiasm of Rural Groups

By FRED KERNER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Toronto (CP) — Canada's extensive Little Theatre movement owes a great deal of its success to the vital interest in dramatic art displayed by groups in rural centres and smaller municipalities. The amateur theatre movement boasts more than 2,000 drama groups from coast to coast. More than half are located in the Dominion's smaller centres.

Yet, despite the fact that these communities lack the size to be "cosmopolitan", this has not had a dampening effect on the quality of talent produced. Canada's "small town" talent has proven its abilities time and again.

Displaying as much originality as many a "big city" group, the "Little Theatre of the Little Community" has often shown foresight and capable experimentation in the selection and presentation of its plays.

High Calibre Talent

In the Manitoba regional festival this year, a group of players from Swan River which won the Swan Valley festival, presented an original Canadian play and won tribute for its efforts. This community of little more than 1,000 population is but one of the many which show creative thought in theatrical ventures.

Talent among these groups is of just as high calibre. In 1939, the best acting award went to a 55-year-old farmer from Clive, Alta., — a community of some 250 persons. In other fields this talent is echoed.

In the playwriting field, two prominent examples might be cited in Minnie Evans Bicknell of Marshall, Sask., and Gwen Pharis Ringwood of Lamont, Alta. The population of Marshall is less than 100, while Lamont boasts some 500 persons. Two plays in particular by these authors — "Still Stands the House" by Mrs. Ringwood and "Relief" by Mrs. Bicknell — have been widely produced in festival competition and out.

Mrs. Bicknell produced and directed her play in 1937 festival at Ottawa with a group from Marshall and received special praise from a very critical adjudicator, Michel St. Denis of France. This year "Relief" was produced by the Swan River group and won the award as the best Canadian play presentation in Manitoba regional competition.

Among other groups whose plays won critics' praise at regional festivals this year were: The North Battleford, Sask., Theatre Club; and the Swift Current, Sask., Cardston, Alta., Players; The Little Theatre group.

AMAZING TRAFFIC

There is apparently no sign of post-war depression yet. Anyone on the highways these days cannot help but be amazed over the ever-increasing flow of traffic, especially on week-ends. It is getting so that ordinary two-lane highways are inadequate to take care of the flow. — Carleton Place Canadian

FINE FOR YOUTH

In the life of a city, band music has an important place. The nucleus of a band organization, a training school for 'teen-age boys, is an activity that develops them and stands them in good stead in later years.

YUKON TAKES LEAD IN LONGEVITY RACE

More Reach 95-Year Mark There Than Elsewhere in Canada

Quebec Ranks Low in Longevity Figures

Winnipeg (CP) — If you want to live to be 95 or more you had better go — no, not west young man, but north — to the Yukon.

Statistics taken from 1941 Canadian census records show that more people living in the Yukon — based on 10,000 population — trim the par 78 in the life course than anywhere else in Canada.

There aren't 10,000 persons living or dead in the Yukon, but this common denominator was used in this search for the Canadian counterpart of the eternal fountain of youth. The Yukon's population is listed at 4,914, and of this total, two persons are 95 or more years of age. This works out to four persons per 10,000.

If you consider the Yukon in the same category as (ugh) Lower Slobbovia, you could try living in Nova Scotia where 3.4 persons in 10,000 are living at 95 or more. The Maritimes take third and fourth places, where 2.6 persons in each 10,000 living in Prince Edward Island reach the 95 mark, and in New Brunswick 1.6 persons in 10,000 top 95 years.

The records show that 1.3 Ontarions in 10,000 are among the sturdy few in the upper brackets, while Manitoba and British Columbia show one plus for each 10,000 persons. Manitoba's percentage is about on a par with the Canadian average of 1.2 in 10,000.

Alberta, contrary to public opinion, can only show .50 persons in 10,000 able to attain the charmed circle. Quebec is tied with Saskatchewan at .125 in life's game to reach the century mark.

Despite the similarity in climates with the Yukon, the Northwest Territories surprisingly show a large zero in the fight for longevity.

Marriage Vows at United Church

Clarke - Falconer

At Lachute United Church last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, Miss Violet Grace Falconer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Falconer, East Ward, became the bride of Mr. Keith William Clarke, of Lachute, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clarke, of St. Lambert, Que., the Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiating. Miss Helen McFaul played the wedding music. Baskets of pink and white gladioli formed the floral decorations, and the guest pews were marked with bows of white ribbon and pink gladiolus tips.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a period gown of ivory satin fashioned with tight basque bodice, having a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves with points over the wrists, the peplum hip interest ending in a train. Her finger-tip veil of Swiss net was caught with an orange blossom halo, and she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses and white gladiolus tips.

Mrs. George Fenwick, the bride's sister, as matron of honor, wore a floor-length dress of ice blue nylon made with puffed sleeves, sweetheart neckline, and tight waist with a flared bustle effect at the back. Her headdress, in halo style with shoulder-length veil, was of blue net, and her cascade bouquet was of pink gladioli.

Dr. Wallace F. Walford acted as groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. J. Sidney Drew and Mr. George E. Fenwick.

The bride's mother was gowned in navy blue printed crepe, with navy blue accessories and flower trimmed hat, Joanna Hill roses forming her corsage bouquet. The bridegroom's mother wore green and white printed crepe with Talisman roses at the corsage, and natural straw hat trimmed with a green feather.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where snapdragons and baskets of gladioli decorated the rooms, and the table was centred with the wedding cake. Later the happy couple left for an automobile trip through the White Mountains. Going away the bride wore a pastel green wool crepe suit, with tan lizard-skin shoes, matching color hat and gloves, and a corsage spray of yellow roses.

Mr. Clarke served overseas with the Dental Corps, and since his discharge has made his home in this community.

Out-of-town guests included — Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Clarke, parents of the groom; Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Walford, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fenwick, Mr. and Mrs. Armand Aubry, Miss Kay Miller, all of Montreal; and Dr. J. Huot, of Grenville.

TORSO SILHOUETTE 1925 MODERNIZED

The Latest British Fashions Highlight Low Waistline

London (CP) — The low waistline is again making its appearance on the fashion parade but Madame now refers to it as the new fitting torso silhouette.

Memories return of the 1925 chemise dress with its drapery below the hips and above-knee length. A new length and innovations of 1947 prove that although fashion may repeat herself she is never the slave to ideas.

Latest showings of the Rosalinde Gilbert collection highlight the low waistline plus sloping shoulders and accentuated bustline. One white chiffon gown makes clever use of criss-cross design above a full skirt, draped neckline finished in pearl clips and delicately puffed sleeves.

The accentuated bustline is achieved in another model by a bolero-effect with material gathered at the centre seam. Fullness is also suggested by draping loose panels which are flung over each shoulder.

A slit-front skirt with a rounded hemline is another idea borrowed from the past but altered to conform to 1947 styles.

Cap-sleeves, a high bodice and law front decolletage are featured on a distinctive model of maize-colored feathers tipped in black on a white ground.

French grey crepe is an effective material for a gown embroidered from neck to hip with silver sequins and bugle beads and a removable bolero jocket.

...so Mary will take up nursing after all

IT LOOKED for a while as if a temporary financial problem in the family might keep Mary from finishing "High". If she had to quit school to help the family income that would have meant good-bye to her hopes of becoming a nurse.
But here she is, starting her final year. Did her Dad suddenly come into some money?
No . . . and yes. He consulted his bank manager, who told him how the bank, through personal loans, often helped people to meet just such situations. Arrangements were made, and now Mary will take up nursing after all.
In 1946 Canada's banks made half a million personal loans to Canadian men and women.

Tomatoes in Varied Form

Catsup is still one of the popular ways of using the tomato out of season, but it has many competitors in the popularity contest — including tomato juice, canned tomatoes, tomato sauce and soup, chile sauce, etc.

Naturally at this time of year interest centres on the fresh luscious, vine ripened tomatoes. But the fresh tomato season is too short; and that is why, in many homes tomatoes appear at every meal for the few weeks they are abundant.

The home economists at Ottawa suggest recipes for tomato dishes they have recently tested and found to their liking. They also give you their two recommended methods for making tomato juice.

Tomato Mint Salad

1 Slice onion, 6 medium tomatoes, 2 tablespoons finely chopped mint leaves, 3 tablespoons salad oil, 1 tablespoon vinegar, salt and pepper to taste, ⅛ teaspoon sugar, ½ cup finely diced cucumber.

Rub salad bowl with slice of onion. Peel and slice tomatoes and place with chopped mint in the bowl.

Mix oil, vinegar, seasonings and sugar well together. Add diced cucumber. Pour over tomatoes. Chill thoroughly to allow flavors to blend. Serve on crisp slices of head lettuce. Six servings.

Cucumber Creole

2 Large cucumbers (approx. 8-9 inches long), ¼ cup milk-flavored fat, 3 cups chopped fresh tomatoes, OR 2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 green peppers (cut in thin strips), salt and pepper to taste.

Wash and pare cucumbers. Cut in quarters lengthwise and remove seeds. Cut in fingers about ½" x 3". Melt fat in pan and saute cucumber until browned. Remove to serving dish and keep warm.

Add tomatoes and green pepper to pan, cover and cook slowly 15 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Pour over hot cucumbers and serve. Six servings.

Tomato Juice

1. Wash tomatoes, remove core, cut into pieces. Bring to boil and boil covered, 5 minutes. Press through sieve or pureer. Bring juice to boiling point. Pour into clean hot containers, leaving ½-inch headspace in glass sealers ahd ¼-inch in plain tin cans. Add 1 teaspoon salt per quart.

Process in boiling water bath 15 minutes for pints, quarts, 20 and 28-ounce tin cans; OR glass sealers may be processed at 275°F., in an oven with automatic heat control, for 20 minutes for pints and quarts. (Do not process tin cans in the oven).

Miss Muffin's New Dress

By Betty Barclay

Vary your foods just as you would change your dress, to add interest to the occasion.

For example, a plain muffin is a hot bread in "every day" attire. But Orange Crunch Muffins, well, they are all dressed up for a banquet — and what a tasty dish they turn out to be, with their orange and wheat flakes flavors. Light and airy! Crunchy on top! Easy to make! All dressed up and ready to go . . . to the family table. Try them.

Orange Crunch Muffins

1½ Cups sifted flour, 3 tablespoons double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 cup milk, 3 tablespoons melted shortening, 1½ cups wheat flakes, 4 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, ¼ teaspoon water.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg and milk and add all at once to flour mixture; add shortening. To mix, draw spoon from side of bowl toward centre (15 times), turning bowl gradually. Chop spoon through batter (10 times). Add cereal and mix (about 5 strokes). Turn into greased muffin pans, filling each about ⅔ full.

Combine sugar, orange rind, and enough water to make a crumbly mixture. Sprinkle on muffins. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) 22 minutes, or until done. Makes 9 large muffins.

Edible Cactus

Prickly pear is a species of cactus edible to man and is eaten by coyotes, foxes and other desert animals.

Paris Still Bright, But Austerity Rules

Toronto (CP)—Paris would be no fair exchange for Toronto in the case of Elizabeth Wyn Wood, Toronto sculptor, who has returned from a meeting of the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural organization in France.

In the land of gourmets and exclusive fashions, Miss Wood prefers both the food and the clothes in Toronto to those in Paris. The pre-war fun-loving mood of the French is limited by the products available.

"Paris is still the centre of fashion but I went over in old clothes and came back in the same ones," she said. French women love nice things just as they did formerly but material is not to be found in the stores.

Marriage Solemnized at St. Matthew's, Grenville

Bigelow - Gauley

The marriage of Miss Althiea (Dolly) Gauley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corl Gauley, of Grenville, Que., and Mr. Walter George Bigelow, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bigelow, of Calumet, Que., took place at 2.30 o'clock, Saturday, August 9, at St. Matthew's Church, Grenville, the Rev. A. E. Hawes officiating. Mrs. Russel Owens was at the organ. Baskets and bouquets of summer flowers composed the decorations, the guest pews being marked with white satin ribbon.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Merle Gauley, as bridesmaid, and little Miss Bernice Bigelow as flower girl. Mr. Keith Bigelow, of Montreal, was best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long-sleeved gown of white lace and tulle fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her veil of tulle illusion was arranged in a halo effect, with lily of the valley on either side. She carried a bouquet of red roses and wore the groom's gift, a gold locket.

The bridesmaid, in pale blue sheer, carried a nosegay of pink carnations and phlox. The little flower girl, dressed in pink net over satin, carried a nosegay of sweet peas.

A reception was held at the bride's home, where the table was decorated with flowers and centred by the wedding cake.

Going away, the bride wore a blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The happy couple left by train for their honeymoon trip, then proceeding by plane to Arvida, Que., where they will take up residence.

Golf, Notwithstanding

By Fred Kerner
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Two aches are responsible for the cogitation and the resultant "expose" on golf.

Ache No. 1 is located around the spine, and is caused by 36 holes a day trying to crack 100.

Ache No. 2 resulted from the fact that the 100 still is unbroken.

Get the idea? Now read on at your own risk!

Golf is a form of work made expensive enough for a rich man to enjoy It is the physical and mental exertion made attractive by the fact that you have to dress for it in a substantial clubhouse.

It is what lawn mowing, ditch digging and carpet beating would be if those three tasks had to be performed on the same hot afternoon in short pants and colored socks by a gouty-looking gentleman who requires a different implement for every mood.

Golf is the simplest looking game in the world when you decide to take it up, and the toughest looking after you've been at it for 10 or 12 years. It is probably the only known game a man can play as long as a quarter of a century and then discover it was too deep for him in the first place.

The game is played on carefully selected grass with little white balls and as many clubs as a player can afford. These balls cost anything from 75 cents to $25, and the money represented by the balls lost by some golfers in a single afternoon amounts to quite a lot.

The Course

A golf course has 18 holes, 17 of which are unnecessary and are put in to make the game harder. A "hole" is a tin cup in the centre of a "green". A "green" is a small parcel of grass which costs about $1.98 a blade and is located between a brook, a couple of trees and a lot of unfinished excavation.

The idea is to get the golf ball from a given point into each of the 18 holes in the fewest strokes possible and with the greatest number of words.

The ball must not be thrown, pushed or carried. It must be propelled by curious-looking implements, especially designed to provoke their owner. Each instrument has a specific purpose and ultimately some golfers get to know what that purpose is. They are the exceptions.

After each hole has been completed, the golfer counts his strokes. Then he subtracts about six and says: "Made that in five"!

"That's one above par. Shall we play for 50 cents on the next hole, too?"

After the final, or 18th hole, has been completed the golfer adds up his score and stops when he reaches 86.

Then he has a shower, a tall cool drink, sings "Sweet Adeline" with six or seven other liars and calls it the end of a perfect day.

Sure, we'll be out again tomorrow. After all . . .

School Days Again

Now that the annual "back to classes" movement is underway, radio people as well as students and teachers have special interest in school curricula. In the picture above, R. S. Lambert, supervisor of school broadcasts for the CBC, and Alene Kamins, 12-year-old radio actress, run through a script "to get the feel of it," in preparation for a new seriees of "National School Broadcasts," to begin in October.

"ALONG THE FAIRWAYS"

By Lachute Golf Club's Special Contributor

Congratulations to our new club champion, winner of the Ayers Cup and President's Prize, Art St. Onge, who defeated Laurier Carriere in the finals in this event. The match between these two measured up to all expectations—a battle between a long hitter and a canny sharpshooter. Art was one up with one to go at the 35th green, so it took the full 36 to decide it, with Art taking the last one to win, two up.

• • •

Another match that should have been a good one, did not come off — when Jack McIndoe, that ardent exponent of the game, pulled a muscle in his shoulder and had to default to Roger Gravel in the "B" Class Championship. No one was more disappointed than Roger at having to win it that way. Roger has become the most consistent "B" Class player at the club and would have merited a slight advantage on the odds. Nonetheless, it would have been a good match. We understand Leonard Bedard is donating a cup for the "B" Class winner. Roger also wins the Vice-Presidents' Prize.

• • •

Fernande Valois and Bobbie Ogilvie attended the field day at Islesmere Club last Friday, and did us very proud indeed. Bobbie came off with second low net at 81 in the silver division, while Fernande took second low gross in the bronze, with 104. At present Bobbie is at Beaconsfield, where she is taking part in the Provincial Tournament of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union.

• • •

Under the direction of Sam Milne, Albert Ogilvie, Gilbert Ayers and Del Mitchell, and to the sound and sight of fireworks, a treasure-hunt got under way at the club-house and course last Saturday night. There was no little scurrying hither and yon in search of the prize, and after a couple of hours of following the scent, Syd Drew discovered that flagpole-sitting need not always be a hardship.

• • •

May we take this opportunity of saying "many thanks" to all those members who are sparing no effort in helping to prepare for a real weekend on September 6 and 7. We sincerely hope that the fine response to date will hold up under the strain as the time approaches. — Mr. Member, if you are asked to work for the cause, please lend a strong hand, for this is one more instance where many hands will make light work. Help to make your show, the Annual Lachute Open Tournament, a success.

LOOKING FOR DRACULA?

Guelph, Ont. (CP) — A touch of spine-chilling realism in the best Hollywood fashion was provided for the patrons of a Guelph theatre when a bat fluttered into the darkened interior, and dived and zoomed over the heads of startled customers for several minutes.

Gambling may be, probably is, a reprehensible practice, but if a man wants to squander a little money that way, surely it is his own business and he should not be branded as a criminal.
