Weekly Newspaper Publishers On Tour of Northern Ontario Centres

— By. R. A. Giles —

Each year publishers and editors of weekly newspapers meet in session to discuss their various problems and at these conventions which are held in different cities, they learn much which helps them in the publication of their papers.

Recently the meeting place was Toronto and after a full morning's work those present were guests for dinner of Mr. John Martin, director of Public Relations for Massey Harris Company, of Toronto. At the close of this delightful luncheon, a special picture made in honor of the 100th anniversary of this company, and depicting its steady growth was shown, incorporated with scenes and happenings of everyday life in all countries of the world. For this instructive and educative movie Mr. Martin was heartily thanked, while Mrs. Martin was the recipient of a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Sessions resumed during the afternoon and before leaving it was our pleasure to be recorded on the program "What's your Beef?" and heard by many on the following Monday morning.

Travel seems to be a privilege of newspapermen, and whenever the opportunity of going places presents itself, they generally take advantage of it. Ten years ago the Ontario-Quebec Division of our Association visited the North. On a similar invitation we left from Toronto on Thursday evening, via C.N.R., four sleepers and a diner being placed at our disposal. It is a novel and pleasant experience to be one of a party of almost 100 on such a trip, sleeping and eating on the train which for several days was our temporary home; and while one is somewhat restricted in moving round, the beds are most comfortable and meals delicious with courteous and efficient service from all employees.

Arriving in Timmins on Friday morning the party was conveyed by special buses to several mines where the operation of crushing, screening, and refining of gold was shown and explained. We were even allowed to handle a huge nugget, but strict precautions are taken among the workers to see that no screenings are taken from the mines illegally. We did not go underground on this trip, nor are the ladies very welcome down below, as their descending seems to be an omen of bad luck, and numerous miners have often refused to return to work after a woman's appearance in the lower regions.

With a population of around 35,000 it is absolutely essential that there be a recreational centre and in this respect Timmins is most fortunate. The McIntyre Arena is one to be proud of and here we were guests of the city for luncheon, being welcomed by Mayor Karl Eyre and having as our guest speaker Mr. R. Dye, manager of the Dome Mines Ltd., who gave us a brief history of the district and its activities. This large sports building is in use continually and has its varied seasonal activities and competitions. While we were at lunch there was a bedlam of noise from hundreds of children down in the big ring, for it was Circus Day for the kiddies who seemed to be having the time of their lives. Seats are available for 3,000 persons, and it is here that in winter, the hockey championships are decided while in the adjoining curling rink with its six sheets of ice many a bonspiel has been played to a close finish, with keen competitions among challenging teams. In summer with a replaceable hard wood floor, boxing, wrestling, and other attractions are provided for the many miners and their families in whose interests the building was erected. Basketball, bowling, and tennis are also prominent in the sport line and in all it is a wonderful set up of which any city might well be proud. Arrangements for our happy day in Timmins were taken care of by Mr. Merton Lake of the Porcupine Advance, who certainly did credit to the task allotted him.

Boarding the train again at 6.30 p.m. dinner was the next event and we were taken to New Liskeard, the home of our new Pesident Cecil Bond, who runs an up-to-date plant in a live little town of 3,500 population. Our arrival was somewhat delayed Friday evening but quite a number of our party attended a Golf Club Dance which was still in progress and landed back to their sleepers quite early in the morning. The highlight of the morning was a visit to the 23 acre mill and Head Office site of Hill-Clark-Francis, Limited. This plant is acknowledged to be the largest and most modern of its kind in Canada and one of the finest on the North American Continent. We were received by "Len" Hill, genial president and founder of the huge firm.

A conducted tour through this Northern Ontario plant revealed many interesting phases in the mass production of kitchen units and pre-engineered houses. We were informed that the company is currently engaged in large scale housing projects in Ottawa, Trenton and Peterborough. Another project of recent interest was the supplying of all millwork used in the construction of Sunnybrook Hospital on the outskirts of Toronto.

Pair Arrested for A Mean Offence

Town police officers arrested two men who tossed a beer bottle from their car late Saturday night on Main Street. Brought before J. Emile Dumais, J.P., on a vagrancy charge, the men pleaded guilty and paid a small fine.

You can only die for your country once, but you can live for it daily.

Reverberations of Lachute Fair Week

Harry Hammond, of Curran's Lake, Dunany, hiked from his home to Lachute Fair Grounds leading his handsome draft horse for exhibition. The distance is over 10 miles, and Mr. Hammond is around 70. After spending two days at the Fair and winning a prize in the draft horse class, the owner led the animal back home.

Believed to be a contact directly attributable to Lachute Fair, an exhibitor in the horse show called on The Watchman a few days later, looking for a place to settle in these parts. The visitor, a Montrealer, seemed to have been favorably impressed with this country-side.

To Give Topic at Historical Society Public Meeting

For the Argenteuil Historical Society's first public gathering of the season, announced for Saturday afternoon, July 10, one of the Society's own membership, Gaetan Valois, N.P., will be the special speaker. His subject will be the origin of French place names in this county. As a veteran of the notarial profession, and a member of one of the oldest families of the district, Mr. Valois will undoubtedly find much of interest in his records as material for this topic. He will speak in both languages.

The gathering, to which the public are cordially invited, will be held in the Museum at Carillon, where the increasing display of historic souvenirs now presents one of the most valuable collections in Eastern Canada. . Following the meeting, tea will be served to the public at moderate prices.

Property Changes On Main Street

The Neiderkorn property on Main Street, comprising the Fauteux ladies' shop, apartments, and a woodworking building at the rear, was purchased recently by Omer Boudreau of St. Andrews East (formerly a partner in the Riverside Hotel). Mr. Boudreau will use the plant as his headquarters for a building and contracting business.

While continuing in his trade as cabinet maker, Mr. Neiderkorn has also made a new venture in real estate, having purchased the brick duplex in East Ward belonging to the late Arthur Larocque. It is understood the new owner intends to convert the two dwellings into four modern apartments.

Both these property deals were effected through J. R. Charron, local realtor.

A building project is in evidence on the centre section of Main Street adjoining the Malacket store, where a new shop is being erected for the sale of men's wear. This business will be conducted by Gaetan, son of the proprietor, Michel Malacket. The site was the former shoe repair shop which was gutted by fire early this year.

Dr. R. Percival, owner of the property adjoining the memorial park, recently purchased a smaller residence on Bellingham Street towards the river. The former owner and occupant of this home was E. H. Peters.

Co-operation in Anti-Tb. Effort At Brownsburg

A total of 733 Brownsburg residents took advantage of the opportunity to be X-rayed during the two-day campaign held on Monday and Tuesday, June 21-22 —an effort which was sponsored by the local branch of the Anti-Tuberculosis League under the direction of Dr. G. Leclaire, tuberculosis clinician, and Dr. L. Turcotte, County Health Officer.

Brownsburg Rotary Club took the initiative in the organization of the campaign. The Municipal Council passed a resoultion approving the drive and offering its support. The local clergy made special announcements in their respective churches on two successive Sundays.

The Club sent personal letters to all families, inviting everyone to attend these clinics. Special slides were shown in the local theatres, and during the afternoons and evenings of clinic days, a car equipped with a public address system circulated through the streets of the town reminding the people to visit the clinics.

Dr. L. Turcotte estimates that 80 per cent of the total adult population of Brownsburg have been X-rayed for tuberculosis during the past year, so that the town now ranks among the few in the province which have taken such an active part in the fight against tuberculosis.

Special mention is due to Philips Industries Limited of Montreal, who furnished a special 70 mm. machine for this clinic and two technicians as operators. This modern equipment proved its value in the handling of large groups, low operating costs, speed and convenience to the public. A novel feature in this connection was that it was not necessary for the subjects to remove any clothing in order to be X-rayed. This also helped to eliminate delays; as many as 91 persons were X-rayed in 30 minutes. It is also interesting to note that this system permits the films to be developed at the rate of 700 an hour, so that on the day following these clinics all negative reports were on hand at the Health Unit.

The officials of the local branch of the Anti-Tuberculosis League feel deeply indebted to the Rotary Club which contributed so largely to the success of this effort, and also to the stenographic and reception assistants, and all who gave their support.

Orange Order Plans to Assist Immigrants

Hamilton (CP) — The Grand Orange Lodge of British America plans to assist immigrants to Canada.

A resolution adopted at the recent annual convention advocated the appointment of paid representatives in Great Britain and Europe to select and assist suitable immigrants. If possible, the plan will be carried out by the Lodge in co-operation with the Canadian Council of Churches.

Preparations and Prospects Viewed In Argenteuil Election Campaign

ENUMERATORS BUSY ON VOTERS' LISTS

The old-line parties in Argenteuil will lack no vigor in representation for the coming provincial contest.

Stalwart of the Liberal ranks and successor to his late father as M.L.A. for this constituency, Georges E. Dansereau will be right in the fight to retain the seat. With his long political experience and his past role as holder of two cabinet portfolios at Quebec, he is rated a certainty by all who consider Argenteuil unchangeably Liberal in provincial politics (also by many who think the vote might change but won't). Mr. Dansereau has been officially named the Godbout candidate. A convention of the party here will doubtless be called to confirm the choice.

For the Union Nationale representation Georges H. Héon, K.C., has been called upon by Premier Duplessis to summon and conduct a convention to select a candidate. Two accredited delegates from each polling district have the vote on this decision; and at this stage, a committee of partisans is busy rounding up the delegates. The convention is called for next Wednesday evening, July 7, at Lachute Auditorium. The procedure of voting by the delegates is called for 8 p.m., following which, admission will be extended to the interested public. . . Meanwhile there are several possible candidates mentioned for the U.N. nomination.

Most prominent in the running appear to be Wm. Cottingham and Léopold Carriere, both well known businessmen with administrative experience — the former in educational and the latter in municipal matters.

Albini Lamarche, secretary-treasurer of Lachute and formerly of Chatham, also has a certain following for the candidacy; while in St. Andrews East, Pierre Lanctot, B.A., states he has been approached by friends to seek the nomination. Bilingual, he served 4½ years in the Navy and is an insurance broker in Montreal and St. Andrews. . . The fifth name mentioned as U.N. candidate is that of Chas. Moseley, a well known resident of Brownsburg, while another aspirant, Henri Lecorre, has signified to The Watchman that he intends to seek the nomination.

The Union des Electeurs are in no state of doubt, having named their choice in the person of J. A. M. Cléroux, contractor and citizen of Lachute.

Edward M. Jones, of Lachute, has received the appointment of District Returning Officer for the constituency. Enumerators were set to work on Monday compiling the lists of voters, which must be completed by July 2. Newcomers to this district who may be doubtful as to their inclusion on the rolls, would be well advised to make sure, before the eventful day.

The provincial elections take place July 28; and from this survey of the local scene, it is apparent that Argenteuil will lack no zest in the fray.

Veteran Lumberman One-Time Mayor Of Lachute . . Recalled Confederation, And Arrival of First Train in This Town

LATE ARCHIE McGIBBON HAD COLORFUL RECOLLECTIONS

With the death of Archie D. McGibbon, the County of Argenteuil has this week lost one of its oldest, most respected and best-known citizens. Mr. McGibbon was in his 89th year and was the last surviving member of the family of the late Finlay McGibbon and Catherine MacArthur. He was born in Dalesville, Que., on the farm originally settled by his pioneer grandparents on their arrival in this country, in 1820, from Glen Lyon, Perthshire, Scotland.

At an early age Mr. McGibbon started a lumber business in Dalesville with his father, and later he and his brother, the late Peter R. McGibbon, formed the company of P. & A. McGibbon and built the first steam saw-mill in Argenteuil, which is presently standing in Lachute. After the death of his brother, he continued his interest in the lumbering business as president of A. D. McGibbon & Sons. To him the most interesting part of the business was the spring drives, 55 of which he successfully brought down the West River.

Mr. McGibbon was for nearly 70 years a familiar figure on the country roads, as he travelled summer and winter between the woods and his home in Lachute. He well remembered the first celebration of Confederation Day, on July 1, 1867; and he was also present at the arrival of the first railway train in Lachute. He took a keen interest in the affairs of the community, and was a former mayor of this town.

His wife, the former Margaret Mason, predeceased him in 1930. He is survived by five sons and four daughters — John H., of Powassan, Ont., Robert M., Douglas A., James W., George G., May and Catherine, of Lachute, Mrs. S. T. Burrows (Bessie), of Montreal, and Mrs. J. K. Patterson (Jean), of Calgary; also 13 grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Mr. John Mason, of Brownsburg, and the late Dr. James H. Mason, of Lachute, were brothers-in-law.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late residence, with burial at the old Dalesville Cemetery. The Rev. W. H. Britton, of Lachute Baptist Church, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Arthur Kelly, of Ogdensburg, N.Y.

An Equine Celebrity, But Blissfully Unconcerned

The "ripe old age of 36" which distinguishes Dougald MacTavish's horse at Harrington, bids fair to be a fact of international fame. At least, we note a local publication referring to the animal as "word famous" — and an "l" would make it universal.

From a casual conversation between the publisher and Mr. MacTavish some months ago aboard the Montreal train, this unusual record was reported as a news item in The Watchman. It was then cited by the late Andy Clark in his Neighborly News broadcast, and also widely quoted in the weekly press. A picture of this horse appeared in the Ottawa farm papers; and now his record crops up again, in "C.R.L. News", employee journal of Canadian Refractories at Kilmar.

Dobbin, it appears, has a life story. Of French-Canadian breed, he was once a city horse, who left the city early in life and came to live in the hills where there is good clean earth to walk on, fresh air, and green grass to nibble on. While in Montreal, he was owned by the James M. Aird Company, where he hauled a wagon on a delivery route. He was purchased by a Mr. Stewart, who first brought him to the country and who after some years sold him to Mr. MacTavish's father, with the understanding that the latter would keep him until he should die a natural death. Last report is that the old boy is still full of pep and able to take nourishment daily.

— So may fame follow this celebrity. But we rather think that, caring little for distinction, he revels in the calm tranquility of his old age.

Brigade Awaits Camp Opening

Montreal—Enthusiasm prevails among Brigade boys and Life Boys who are counting the days until Camp Steadfast opens at St. Andrews East. Many of them have camped for several years at this beloved spot, and the Director has been flooded with applications, a number of which will have to be rejected due to the limited accommodation. However, every effort is being made to see that all regular Life Boys and Brigade lads have an opportunity to enjoy this great fellowship.

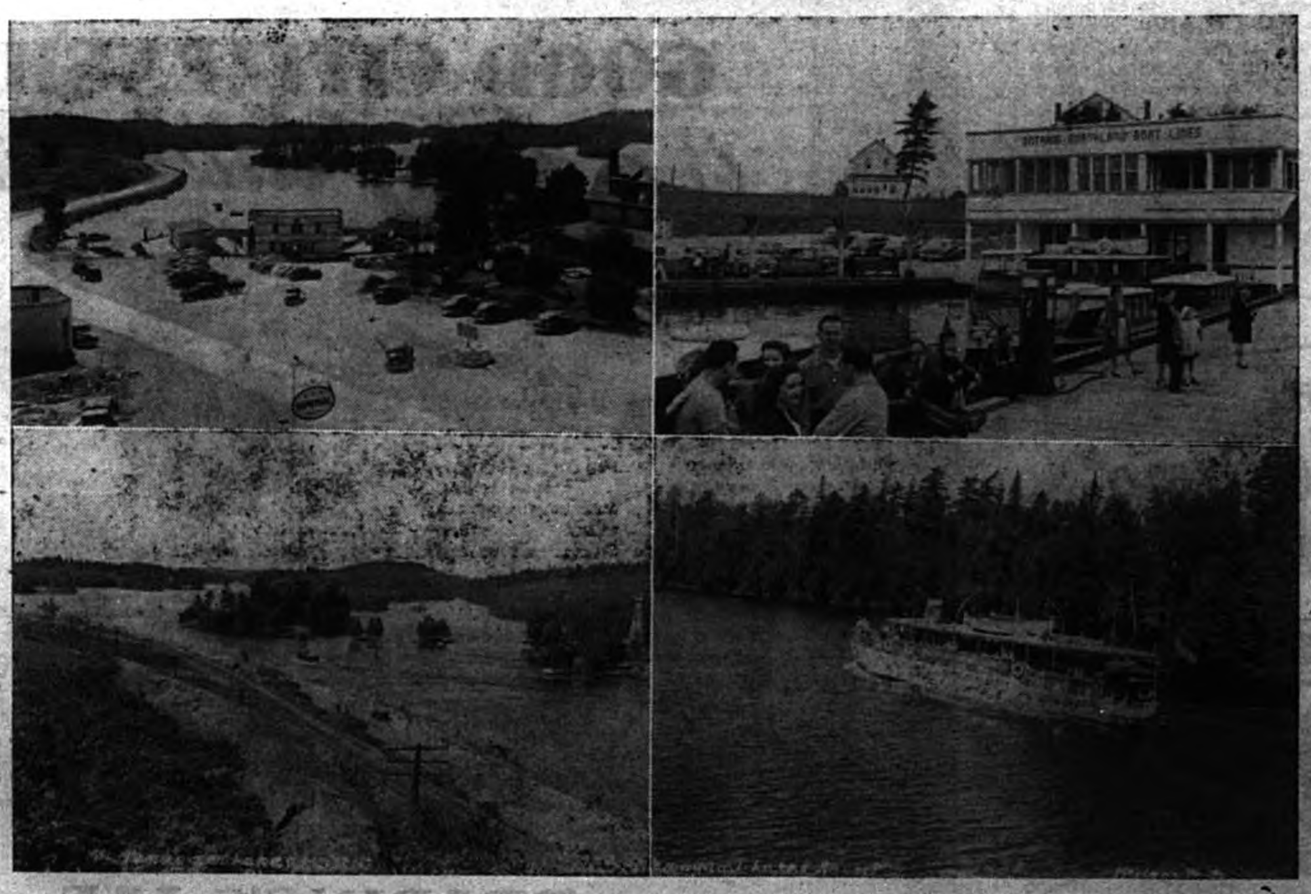

Large stocks of Model-craft as well as leather-work have been received. These will provide many thrilling moments during the daily instruction periods.

Sports will be a major feature with Edwin Goring handling soccer and Bud Dugan baseball. It is hoped that Alistair Riddell, a former N.C.O. of the 1st Company, may arrive in Canada from Glasgow in time to spend a few days. He has been a star player on the Brigade soccer team.

The Rev. C. A. Selby will arrive July 12 and remain throughout the whole period, taking charge of the Brigade section. Arrangements will be drawn up this week for several musical services, the first of which is a community gathering announced for next Sunday evening at Brownsburg.

BROWNSB'G GUIDES CLOSE ACTIVITIES

Brownsburg — The Brownsburg Girl Guide Company held their closing meeting for the summer on June 23. Presentations of awards and badges were made. Members of the local Association were present and witnessed the giving of individual and patrol awards which they had offered earlier in the year. The individual award of two weeks at camp was won by Isobel Low. Girl Guide rings were given to each member of the winning patrol, the Swallow Patrol, which consists of Gwen Beavis, (patrol leader), Joan Goldthorpe (patrol second), Nancy McCormick and Rita Golden. Mrs. Edgar Pollock, president of the Association, made the presentations.

Police and Firemen's Festival at St. Jerome

The St. Jerome police and fire departments sponsored a festival over the week-end in which sports, entertainment and a huge bonfire were featured.

One of the highlights was a tug-of-war between teams picked from the various industries in the town. The Mont Rolland Paper Mills Co. team won the cup, which is awarded annually.

The celebrations were under the direction of Police Director Roaul Latour. Mayor Charles Audry presented prizes.

BOLT AND NUT

The Wall Street Journal reports that a high school student gave the following definition of a bolt and a nut:

"A bolt is a thing like a stick of hard metal such as iron with a square bunch at one end, and a lot of scratching wound around the other end. A nut is similar to a bolt only just the opposite, being a hole in a little square of iron sawed off short, with wrinkles around the inside of the hole."

Gatineau LINES

Fishing is not only a pastime but also an important phase of the tourist industry in the beautiful country served by the Gatineau Power Company — a situation which gives timeliness to the recent invention of an electrified minnow bucket. The purpose of the bucket is to keep bait alive and kicking on long fishing trips. The bucket is equipped with a device powered by a six-volt motor which provides the necessary oxygen-water mixture for the minnows. The tiny motor operates off the car battery. Of course, there is no guarantee that fishermen equipped with the electrified bait bucket — and an imposing assembly of other valuable gear — will catch as many fish as the youngster who goes looking in the right places equipped with a line, a worm, a float and a rod he cut from a handy tree.

There is an interesting parallel between the development of the now-popular flashlight which operates on dry cell batteries, and the development of methods of transmitting electricity over long distances. The flashlight appeared in 1898 — just about the time the Province of Quebec was pioneering in long-distance electrical transmission lines. The flashlight provided a handy portable light which became an every-day household item. The electrical transmission lines brought the inexpensive, efficient service into the homes of thousands. While the flashlight is most useful in its place, it cannot compete with an electric light bulb, when it comes to providing good steady light at low cost. In Gatineau territory an average electric light bulb will burn for about ten hours at a cost of one cent for the electricity it uses. Of course, rates in the Gatineau territory are among the lowest in the world, but even where rates are higher, hydro-electric power is still a tremendously useful and surprisingly inexpensive service. All of which results from the vast developments of the past half century.

FARM TOPICS

Aphids — Plant Lice

Aphids are soft-bodied little insects which feed on the tender new growth of a great variety of plants. Those on vegetable crops are usually green in color but they may be yellow, brown, pink or almost white. One of the most troublesome forms, the cabbage aphid, appears bluish-gray, being coated with a white, waxy powder. This species attacks cabbage, cauliflower and turnips from July to September, wilting and curling the leaves or stunting the plants so badly that they fail to form heads, says W. G. Matthewman, Division of Entomology, Ottawa.

Since aphids are sucking insects, they should be sprayed or dusted with a contact insecticide containing nicotine, pyrethrum, rotenone or organic thiocyanate. Calcium arsenate, cryolite and other stomach poisons are completely ineffective against these insects. One of the best sprays may be prepared by dissolving two level tablespoonfuls of soap flakes in a gallon of water and adding two teaspoonfuls of nicotine sulphate to this mixture. For larger quantities (add ½ pint of nicotine sulphate and ¾ pound of soap flakes to 40 gallons of water, using twice the amount of soap with cabbage and cauliflower because of their waxy coating. A contact insecticide must actually hit the insects in order to give good results, so apply the spray to both sides of the foliage, using strong pressure. Spray only on a warm, calm day, preferably in the early part of the afternoon when the temperature is 70°F. or higher.

Cultivation Best

There is much interest among farmers today in the value of a "Chemical summer-fallow" as an alternative to cultural practices for weed control. The average cost to apply chemical on summer-fallow to destroy certain susceptible weeds is conservatively estimated at $1.40 per acre, 90 cents per acre for cost of chemical for one application and 50 cents per acre being the cost of operating a tractor or truck and spraying machinery. The herbicides at this rate do not kill the more resistant annuals and very few of the perennials. The cost of one application of chemical weed killer, is more than for one cultivation by one-way disc or cultivator. Mechanical cultivation not only destroys weeds but facilitates the intake and retention of moisture in summer-fallow.

THIEVES DOPE CHICKENS

Vancouver (CP) — Chicken thieves here have a new angle — they use narcotics on the birds. J. Olma reported to police theft of 12 chickens, but two of the flock were left behind. Police said they apparently had been doped in some manner.

FREAK CHICKEN

Truro, N.S. (CP)—A four-legged chicken was hatched on the farm of Foster Whidden here recently. The chicken uses only one pair of members but carries the other pair around as if ready for emergency use.

More Care Handling Eggs in Summer

Fresh eggs must be carefully handled if the poultryman is to receive the best returns when he markets the eggs. Warm summer temperatures and rough handling all tend to lower the quality of eggs.

If hens are allowed out in muddy yards, and nests and floors are not kept clean, too many soiled eggs result. Such eggs spoil rapidly because of the moulds and bacteria carried in the dirt. A similar condition arises from breakages in the nests, and for this reason it is desirable to provide a sufficient number of nests and to collect the eggs frequently, especially during the morning when most of the hens do their laying. Soiled eggs should not be washed; it is preferable to rub any dirt off with steel wool.

Male birds should be separated from the laying flock, as the warm summer temperatures will cause the germ of a fertile egg to develop. Warmth has the additional effect of lowering the cooking qualities of the eggs, consequently they should be stored at a cool temperature, about 60 to 65 degrees F., in a well-ventilated room and free from strong odours. A farm cellar is often suitable for this purpose.

Even with these precautions, eggs should be marketed frequently to avoid deterioration. Care is required during transportation; rough handling and bumping in a truck may cause the mixing of the yolk and the egg white.

Clean, fresh water and good feeding practices, using well-balanced rations, are important factors in the production of quality eggs.

Fly Control Boosts Dairy Profits

Two common types of flies attack dairy cattle during July, August and September — or longer, depending on the season. Stable flies, frequently confused with house flies, are one type. Horn flies are the second variety. These congregate on the withers just behind the animals' shoulders. Both are responsible for reduced farm income each year in the form of lower milk production.

One of the most profitable practices a dairy farmer can follow is fly control with DDT, suggests R. E. Cudmore, development manager of C-I-L's agricultural chemicals division. He points out that it is common to find production of milk per cow drop from five to 10 pounds per day during the fly season. At current milk prices this means a loss of 15 to 20 cents per animal per day. In a herd of ten cows this cost amounts to $1.50 to $2 daily. If this loss is sustained for the usual 50 days of the minimum fly period, a new piece of farm equipment is lost to flies.

Mr. Cudmore states that a 50 per cent wettable DDT formulation used on cattle is an economical remedy. Directions call for mixing one pound in 10 to 20 gallons of water and applying the spray mixture at the rate of about one quart per animal. The residual action of DDT makes it effective for a long time. Only the wetaable powder formulation, however, is suitable for use on farm animals.

While control of flies on milking cows is generally considered of major importance, dairy heifers should not be forgotten. The same material may be used on them with results evident in faster-growing, thriftier animals.

Poultry Shelters Can Be Bright

"As dirty as a pig pen" is one of the most common phrases for describing filth, and it is true that on some farms the pig pen is not exactly a landscape artist's dream.

Even on an otherwise well-managed farm the appearance of small buildings used for housing pigs or poultry is often so neglected as to look run down and desolate. Very often a pail of whitewash and a roll or two of bright green or red asphalt roofing will work wonders in turning a drab-looking farm-yard into a tidy, pretty little place.

Field shelters, frequently makeshift little structures, often spoil the appearance of a lovely meadow which is seen by hundreds of motorists every day. These, like the other small farm buildings, could be improved from both standpoints of safety and appearance with whitewash and the addition of bright colored roofing.

Not only should boxed self-feeders, brooder pens, sheltered hay racks for winter feeding, and troughs of all kinds be beautified in this manner, but also pump-houses and milk sheds, and even fence-posts on most farms would be improved by a touch of whitewash.

Farmer Shoots Brother, Then Drowns Himself

Achille Malo, 72-year-old farmer of Plaisance, drowned himself in the Little Nation river after turning a shotgun on his brother, Alexandre, 66. The latter was taken to St. Michael's Hospital in Buckingham, and little hope was held for his recovery. His right arm was amputated.

One of five elderly brothers living together, Alexandre was shot while sleeping in a ground-floor bedroom. The two brothers did not get along with each other. Achille held a grudge against his younger brother, according to police.

According to Detective John L. Ross, head of the Quebec Provincial Police in Hull, Achille entered Alexandre's bedroom and fired buckshot at him point-blank. He then dropped the shotgun and ran through the kitchen door to the river, about 500 yards away. His hat was found near the river shore, and a rowboat was found drifting half a mile downstream by police. Dragging operations were started by the provincial police.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

IT PAYS TO PRAISE

For too many of us it's easier to find fault and to criticise than to look for the good points in others. But isn't it better to overlook small irritations and petty annoyances . . . and give a word of praise whenever it is deserved? A kindly word from you often encourages and inspires the other fellow to better efforts. It's a small thing in itself, but it creates a warmer understanding. Friendly encouragement and unselfish interest in others prove your "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Dominion Day, 1948

CANADA as a nation is 81 years old. She has grown from a group of four eastern provinces just emerging from colonial status in 1867, to a dominion of nine provinces, half a continent bounded by three oceans and the world's longest undefended international boundary.

Canada has taken her place as one of the nations of the world whose voice and influence have come to be felt for good; her international responsibilities are greater than at any time in her history. As a member of the Security Council of the United Nations she is doing important work in an organization dedicated to peace. Prominent among the middle powers, she has assumed economic and social obligations to a world still gripped by the ill effects of war.

Perhaps Canada's most significant contribution to world progress has been made within the British Commonwealth of Nations. Her growth toward mature and autonomous nationhood following the recommendations of Lord Durham's report on the "Affairs of British North America" laid the pattern for the development of the Commonwealth. The dominion status of India, Pakistan and Ceylon, most recently added members of the Commonwealth, stemmed directly from the political development of Canada, first of British possessions to become entirely self-governing.

The application of Lord Durham's principles has long made obsolete the colonial conception of government. New self-governing territories are being developed in Africa, the West Indies and Asia, as each becomes more competent to manage its own affairs. Towards this end British colonial authorities have instituted long range programs of education, health, administration and law enforcement.

In 81 years Canada has become a great nation and an important world power. Her political progress has been reassuring to all believers in democracy. A disturbed world looks to the Western Hemisphere for leadership and support. Canada's past fits her to take up the challenge of the future.

On the Shelves and Counters

THE GENERAL STORE in many a one-horse community blossoms forth these days in a new front of plate glass and chrome. Inside one finds modern display counters and modern goods, but still the all-embracing variety of stock intrigues the casual visitor. Everything from cheese to bicycles, from needles to floor coverings, is there to meet the public need — and most of it, by some ingenious trick of management, exposed to the customer's view.

In a local butcher's shop last week, a new display of knitting yarn caught our attention; and it aroused our curiosity as to who buys what, and if so, where.

In a growing Toronto suburb, a so-called "super-pharmacy" has an extensive chinaware and electrical goods department, presumably because the district cannot support a hardware store; while down the street, the shining new food market boasts an extensive toiletries department. The business paper, Drug Merchandizing, poses this question: "When the district finally has a hardware store and perhaps another drugstore, will the super-pharmacy drop its hardware and the food market its toiletries?"

The real decision will be made by the consumers in that neighborhood. If they like buying toiletries in the grocery store, electrical and china goods in the drugstore, there would seem little likelihood of respective store operators dropping these departments. The drugstore's trump card in influencing consumers to buy, is to provide a service which makes it the most pleasant, the most convenient source of supply for their requirement, observes this trade journal. True it is, that bright surroundings and attactive displays will sell goods regardless of trade classifications.

HOW MANY of our members of Parliament rise in their seats to drone off something for Hansard, inaudible half the time and the rest of the time guilty of the greater crime of dullness! The Commons orator on our Hill seems to regard it as no slight or no indication of his ineffectiveness if the members about him are reading the funnies or writing letters home.

50 Years A Weekly Publisher

At the ripe old age of 84, Col. A. G. F. Macdonald, publisher of the Glengarry News for half a century, passed to his reward last Thursday. He was born in the not far distant town of Alexandria, and died there, after spending all but a few of his years in the community. How dearly he loved his native County of Glengarry, and how closely he was linked with the people and the welfare of his district, may be well imagined, for he was an editor actively concerned with the progress of his surroundings. In 1901-2 Col. Macdonald was president of the Canadian Press Association, which included the daily and weekly press of the country.

Col. Macdonald associated himself with the military life of the county, joining the 59th Battalion in 1897, and eventually rose to the command of that battalion. As Colonel, he was honored in 1913 by Sir Sam Hughes, then Minister of Defence, being selected among officers to accompany the Minister to Europe to attend military manoeuvres. In the First World War he was chosen to raise the 154th Battalion for overseas duty. When his battalion was broken up, overseas, in 1917, for reinforcement purposes, Colonel Macdonald was ordered home, he being over-age for front line duty. The men of the 154th were "his boys". At the time of his death he was still Honorary Colonel of the S.D. & G. Highlanders. Of his seven sons, Col. Macdonald sacrificed two in the service of his country.

Of his personality, and the hospitality of Colonel Macdonald and his late wife at their home "Garry Fen", The Watchman publishers have a very cordial recollection.

Death Likes the Holidays

A STRANGE thing about the holiday season is that it is also the most popular time for death to strike. Almost as soon as summer arrives, the accident and sudden-death toll mounts all over the country. A regrettable feature, too, is the fact that many of these accidents could have been avoided if only a few precautions had been observed.

Carelessness in various forms is usually the cause. People who cannot swim will venture out in boats and canoes in rough weather. What is worse, they will stand up in a small craft, cast for fish, try to change places with one another even while barely able to handle their craft. Others will venture beyond their depth or will try to swim in places where they know nothing about the currents or the holes.

All those organizations who sponsor swimming and life-saving classes deserve fullest support and commendation. Through their efforts more and more accidents can be avoided. Every community should be concerned over these deaths.

Automobiles are taking their toll, too. There are the drivers who must pass every vehicle in sight, who must beat the train to the crossing, who cannot learn to slow down when meeting trucks or other heavy traffic. There are those who are too careless about signaling their intentions to the other drivers, and there are the ones who never observe stop-signs or who pay no attention to traffic regulations. Worst of all, there are the ones who mix alcohol and gasoline. So the newspapers get their copy, the undertaker gets overtime work, and the country is robbed of what might have been good citizen material if given a chance by these wild men of the roads.

A strange feature about these summer deaths is the fact that it's not the visitors to this country who seem most liable. True, there will be the accidents in boats or planes or cars when vacationists fail to be careful in a country with which they are not familiar. But there will be far more among the residents themselves, and every individual, as well as every community organization, should do as much as possible to eliminate this summer-time list of fatalities.

SCHOOL CHILDREN would do well, before mounting their bikes, to recall the cycling rules and to follow them to the letter, since cyclists are governed by the provincial traffic laws as well as those of the town or municipality where they live.

Montreal (CP) — Twenty-nine Clydesdale horses that have been the pride and joy of suburban Outremont for years are to be sold. Owned by the community, they will be replaced by tractors and trucks.

Weekly Publishers Visit Northern Ontario Towns

Remarking on the shortage of lumber we were amazed to see stockpiles estimated to contain 7 million board feet in the Hill-Clark-Francis yard. The huge Hammerhead Crane with 60 foot boom lifts 5-ton piles easily, we were told. Other features of interest were the cut-off machines used to cut parts for pre-engineered houses. These remarkable time-saving machines were designed by Len Hill and built in Hill-Clark-Francis shops.

Guides told us that 2,500 cars of lumber are handled annually at the New Liskeard plant, while the chief sources of lumber supply are the district of Hearst, Timmins, Northwestern Quebec, British Columbia and U.S. mountain states. The company maintains large branches at Noranda, Timmins, Sudbury, Kirkland Lake, Bourlamaque and Wholesale Offices in Toronto and Vancouver. In addition to their own manufactured lumber products, this Company is a wholesale distributor for most products known to the building trades.

Something that really caught our eye was this — anyone who has ever tried to putty a pane of glass in a window realizes what a task it is and would I think do almost anything else in preference. Well, we saw a young chap putty sash after sash in the ordinary way, but with terrific speed and perfection. In fact he had the whole sash of 4 large panes completed while we would have been thinking about getting started.

From here our next stop was at the Canadian Splint Corporation, Limited, where operations were conducted in a somewhat similar manner to that of our local industry Dominion Shuttle Company. Huge booms of logs could be seen in the lake. These were brought up on a slide to the factory where they were cut in standard lengths. The bark was then peeled from them and when they were rounded a cutter performed the operation of further peeling them into thin layers, the thickness of a match. These long strips were then placed on top of each other, clamped tightly, and cut in width and length required. From here they go through different drying and polishing processes until ready for packing which is done quite speedily by young girls and they are now ready for shipment to other factories where the sulphur will be added and they will be boxed ready for sale.

At Hailebury we were official guests of the Town of New Liskeard at an informal dinner. Dalton Dean was guest speaker, and gave a brief but very interesting talk on the development of this section of the North Country.

Boarding our buses again we were soon speeding on our way towards Temagami. Here we boarded one of the new boats and with ideal summer weather, enjoyed a cruise of several hours on a beautiful lake of the same name. Hundreds of cottages, painted in bright colors, added to the scenic beauty which in the far north is just as alluring as many other yet more popular routes, although as yet not quite as easy to reach. However with the very efficent and quick service now offered by the railways these northern resorts are becoming more and more attractive to summer and winter tourists. On this trip a stop was made at the Trading Post at Bear Island (where the party picked up numerous souvenirs and took pictures of some of the Indians who had come down to see the boat land). Autos trailing boats and outboard motors were frequently seen; parties who were doing a little fishing here and there. The North is developing very rapidly and we foresee a great tourist boom in the near future.

After dinner at Temagami we boarded the train on the last lap of our trip. A novel feature of the Ontario Railway Company was the cafeteria car, something new to most of our party. Here you can sit up to a counter as you would do in a lunch car and be served in short order, with most appetizing food. Time passes all too quickly on these trips and it seems that we just before parting, get nicely acquainted, but all good things have to come to an end sometime and soon the porters were going the rounds making up beds, a rather welcome and restful idea, for everyone was tired after a most interesting but rather strenuous day.

To officials of the C.P.R., C.N.R., and Ontario Northland Railway our personal appreciation is extended, for without their co-operation this trip would have been impossible and with the quick, comfortable, and efficient service available, we would strongly recommend that anyone wishing something new or a change for summer vacationing should consider a tour of the fast growing Northern Ontario.

Leaving the party at Huntsville we motored to Stoney Point, some 22 miles and after crossing the lake by motor launch, joined a party of American publishers at Bigwin Inn. This also is a grand spot and although very much larger, resembles the Seigniory Club at Montebello. There were 21 Americans over on a Goodwill Tour of Ontario, all representing weekly newspapers printed in towns such as ours, some larger and some smaller, the same thing applying to their various newspapers. After a restful day a bus conveyed us through the Ontario National Park where we saw several deer roaming around, and on through many picturesque Ontario towns until that evening we reached Ottawa. On Tuesday our visitors were treated to a tour around Ottawa, a visit to the American Embassy and the Parliament Buildings where they saw the procedure of "opening", and later heard some of the discussions, in which Prime Minister Mackenzie King took part.

This party of Americans proceeded on for a further tour of Ontario while we bade them goodbye and returned home, tired but thankful to have been so far without accident and to have been so well cared for and entertained.

Pictures represent scenes around Temagami and show the landing dock, the dining room and the boat on which we made our trip.

Community of Weir Loses Old and Esteemed Lady Resident

Late Mrs. Peter McVicar

Weir, Que. — This community lost one of its oldest and most loved citizens, in the person of Mrs. Peter McVicar, who passed away quietly at her home on June 23 after a painful illness of 18 months which she bore with great patience and fortitude.

Mrs. McVicar, the former Armeline Richer, was born at St. Michel in 1865 and was first married to the late Daniel Chisholm, of Lost River. Of this marriage there was one child, (Isobel) Mrs. D. Charron. After the death of Mr. Chisholm around the year 1900, Mrs. Chisholm was married in 1907 to her present husband, who survives her. They took up residence in Weir, on a farm from which they retired and moved to the village about nine years ago. They had one daughter, (Mary) Mrs. F. Letourneau, who passed away 18 years ago, leaving two children, Lawrence and Lorrette Letourneau.

Left to mourn her passing, besides her beloved husband, are her daughter (Bella) Mrs. D. Charron, of St. Jerome; two sisters, Mrs. Adele Ouimet, of Sudbury, Mrs. P. Sabourin, of Belanger Village; one brother, Archie Richer, of Lachute; also seven grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the Roman Catholic Church at Huberdeau on Friday morning. Pall-bearers were her four grandsons, Rosaire, Julien and Fernand Charron and Lawrence Letourneau.

Former Avoca Resident Died in Hospital At Welland, Ontario

The Late Albert Arthurs

The death occurred unexpectedly, at the Welland County General Hospital recently, of Albert Arthurs, in his 55th year.

The late Mr. Arthurs was born in 1893 at Avoca, Que., the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arthurs. He went to Port Colborne 24 years ago, and was employed for a number of years on the construction of the Welland ship canal, also with the Gardner Construction Co. of Welland, and for the past 12 years with the N.S. and I. Railway as a substation operator.

At Lachute, on January 17, 1917, he married Margaret Jane Kelly, of Avoca.

The late Mr. Arthurs was a member and chairman of the board of trustees of Port Colborne Baptist Church, and a member of Avoca Lodge No. 721, L.O.L.

Surviving are his widow; three daughters, Mrs. John Wheatman (Grace), of Fort Erie, Mrs. Orville Waldriff (Hazel), of Humberstone, and Mrs. Boyd Wehlann (Margaret), of Welland; four grandchildren; five brothers, the Rev. Wm. Arthurs, of Wheatley, John and Wyman Arthurs, Dauphin, Man., Samson and Joseph Arthurs, of Avoca; also five sisters, Mrs. John Seale, Dauphin, Man., Mrs. C. R. Duncan, Stratford, Ont., Mrs. E. T. Resident Mourned in Rawcliffe Community

Late Mrs. Edmond Nixon

In the passing of Mrs. Edmond Nixon, on June 17, Rawcliffe lost one of its well known and respected residents. Mrs. Nixon before her marriage was Margaret Larocque, daughter of Mr. Charlie Larocque and the late Mrs. Larocque, of Scotch Road. Born in Rawcliffe 51 years ago, she lived her entire lifetime in this locality. She was known for her happy disposition and will be greatly missed by a host of friends and neighbors.

Although Mrs. Nixon had not been in good health for some time, her illness became serious only last November — an illness borne with true Christian fortitude.

She leaves to mourn her passing her beloved husband; three daughters, (Margaret) Mrs. Eugene Dubeau, Brownsburg, Mary, of Montreal, and Christie, at home; five sons, Guy, of Kilmar, Charlie, Joe, Wilfred and Clifford, all at home. She is survived also by her father, step-mother, and five brothers.

The late Mr. Moore was born in Pine Hill, Que., and moved to Latchford in the year 1907 with Mrs. Moore and three children. On Parliament Hill

— By M. V. Trayers —

Government Annuities

Some of us thought that the purchase of government annuities was a good thing. A lot more of us just began to find out how good it really was and then the government clamped down and took the good away. From April 19 of this year the rate of interest payable was changed from four to three per cent. Perhaps you think the change does not mean a lot. Well, let's look at it from another angle. Suppose you are 25 years of age and you want to plan for a pension of $100 a month at the age of 65. Before the change from four to three per cent in April it would cost you $129.12 a year, but now it will cost you $186.12 a year. That's 44 per cent more. If you are 20 years of age the plan will cost you $151.44 a year now instead of $101.28. If you are 35 years old it will cost you $295.08 instead of $218.64, and if you are 40 years of age it will cost you $385.08 instead of $294.48 a year before the change from four to three per cent.

Government annuities are before the people for over 40 years. They were never advertised or pushed like War Bonds or Victory Bonds. The number of contracts in existence as at March 31 this year was 210,796. Over fourteen thousand contracts were taken out from the 1st of January this year to the end of March. During the first nineteen days of April, up to the day the rate was changed, 1,519 individual contracts were taken out, the largest number ever taken out in a single month before that. Just as the plan was becoming popular the government stepped in and changed it.

British Goods

The chief reason we are not getting more British goods on the Canadian market is that the prices are too high. British textiles are piling up on the shelves in Britain because they cannot be sold on account of their high prices. In a discussion on Trade and Commerce, Mr. Quelch said that the removal of the tariff to help Britain did not change the price. The hon. member said he could buy English shirts in Ottawa in 1939 for $3, and a year ago he paid $9, and after the tariff was taken off he expected a slight reduction, but last week they were $9.50.

Mr. Howe interjected: "If my hon. friend is shocked by these prices I can tell him I bought some shirts the last time I was in Britain and I was shocked to find that the bill came to $20 per shirt.

The Marshall Plan

We have heard so much about the Marshall Plan, or E.R.P. as it is officially called. Radio and press have boosted it so much that we Canadians feel very small beside its stupendous string of figures. Well, the truth is that Canada got right in pitching to help the United Kingdom and all her old customers in Europe just as soon as the war was over. Since then Canada has been extending relief to Europe in proportion to our population, at more than twice the rate of the Marshall plan. Mr. Howe says, "It is well over twice. We have a record unequalled by any other country in the world."

Signs of the Times

Before very long there should be a reduction in the present rate of high taxes. When Mr. Abbott brought down his many-colored budget, chiefly black and brown, he refused any reduction because of the fact that times were good, and in good times we should pay our debts and perhaps put something aside for the rainy day. He feels we cannot be trusted to do that for ourselves, so he has the government do it for us. Mr. Sinnott, the Liberal member for Springfield, does not see it that way, so he wrote to Mr. Abbott and to Mr. Mackenzie King that he did not like it. This was followed up by six Liberal members, led by the hon. member for Waterloo North, Mr. Breithaupt, calling upon the Prime Minister and insisting that the government get out of the kitchen — insisting that there should be a removal of austerity taxes on electrical and other household equipment, dropping the sales tax from any food or commodities on which it still remains, and the use of subsidies again to bring down the high cost of basic food necessities. In an interview after their meeting, the member for Waterloo stated, "Mr. King told us he believed our proposals were very wise"; and again "Mr. King agreed with us that a housewives' budget would be very much in order." Mr. Stanley Knowles, commenting on this interview and incident, says, "It sounds like a division between the Prime Minister and the Minister of Finance, because the P.M. is reported as having agreed with these six or seven rebel Liberals who want a different policy from that pursued by the Minister of Finance."

The cost of living is still going up, and now we are informed that school children's text books will be from 50 to 75 per cent higher by the time the schools are open in the fall than they are now. It's no wonder that three recent by-elections were won by three candidates in opposition to the Government party.

The late Mrs. Clifford is mourned by her husband, and two sons, Eric and Ernest, one daughter Irene, four sisters, Mrs. N. Beaton, Lost River, Mrs. S. Mountain, Weir, Mrs. M. Tossie, Lachute, Mrs. M. Stone, Montreal, and one brother, J. W. Beaton, Lost River.

Women's Interests

The Color Parade

As summer days go by, the colorful produce of field and orchard marches on parade across our dining tables.

From the first early pink rhubarb to the last winter squash, the rainbow cannot rival the reds, greens, yellows and purples of fruits and vegetables. For those who "eat with their eyes" this color spectrum gives real delight. The range of flavors and textures is just as wide and just as tempting to the appetite.

During the summer season it is very easy to serve those "two vegetables besides potatoes" every day and also to have generous servings of fruits in season.

Vegetables cooked in a small amount of water until just tender-crisp, are beautiful to see, delicious to eat and retain most of their food value. Nothing supplements the flavor of cooked vegetables as well as butter, but there are many other appetizing sauces which are delicious.

Here are a few. Pickle little beets whole and have them ready to serve on a moment's notice. In a salad or a relish with cold meat everyone enjoys them, but when quickly reheated in the vinegar and served hot as a vegetable, they are extra good and require no fat. The vinegar may be thickened to serve as a sauce, if you like.

A little milk added to vegetables 5 minutes before they finish cooking will concentrate and thicken slightly if the lid is left off for those last few minutes. Of course, this applies only when vegetables have been cooked in the minimum of water. If there still seems to be too much liquid, it can be thickened with flour mixed with a little cold milk.

When the family has enjoyed radishes for several weeks and they have grown a little tired of them raw, then they may be cooked and served with a cream sauce.

Creamed Radishes

3 Cups prepared radishes, 2 tablespoons fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ cups milk, few grains cayenne pepper.

If radishes are small, leave whole; if larger, cut in half or dice. Measure 3 cups. Cook in boiling, salted water until tender (about 8 minutes). Melt fat in pan and stir in flour and salt. Add milk gradually, stirring until thick. Add cayenne pepper. Pour sauce over the hot, drained radishes and garnish with paprika. Yield: six servings.

Spinach and Onion

Choose spinach with fresh, crisp medium-sized leaves of good green color. Wash in slightly warm water to remove sand. Wash in several waters until the last one is free from dirt. Lift out of water. If water is drained off, sand clings to leaves.

Put two tablespoons minced onion in saucepan. Add 1 pound of spinach and two tablespoons fat. Cover and cook eight to ten minutes until tender. Drain, if necessary. Season with salt and pepper as desired.

Peas and Mushrooms Royal

4 Slices bacon, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 1½ cups sliced mushrooms, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk, 2 cups fresh peas, cooked.

Fry bacon, remove from pan and add onion and mushrooms. Cook until onion is golden brown and mushrooms tender. Stir in flour and seasonings; blend well. Gradually add milk. Cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Add peas and bacon. Serve on slices of hot buttered toast. Yield: six servings.

Christieville Girl Is Bride At Notre Dame de Grace

Romney - Watchorn

In Trinity Memorial Church, Notre Dame de Grace, at four o'clock on June 19, the marriage was solemnized of Velma Catharine, daughter of the late William Watchorn and Mrs. Watchorn, of Christieville, Que., and Mr. Audrey Lindsay Romney, son of the late Cyril Romney and of Mrs. Romney, of Westmount, the Rev. K. Naylor officiating. Mr. R. Frayne played the wedding music and Miss Evelyn Duncan sang "Wher-e'er You Walk" during the signing of the register. Larkspur and snapdragons formed the decorations.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. P. Ivall, wore a long-sleeved gown of white satin, fashioned on princess lines, the bodice having a net yoke. Her floor-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a headdress of orange blossoms, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Nora Watchorn as her sister's maid-of-honor and Miss Genevieve Romney as bridesmaid were gowned alike in pale yellow and orchid taffeta, with matching picture hats and mittens. Both attendants carried cascade bouquets of mauve and yellow sweet peas.

Mr. Noel Romney acted as best man for his brother, the ushers being Mr. Bruce de Cambra and Mr. Raymond Campbell, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Watchron, the bride's mother, was gowned in French blue with white accessories, her corsage being of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Romney, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in powder blue with navy blue accessories, with a corsage of Sweetheart roses.

A reception followed in the Salle Cartier of the Berkeley Hotel. Later Mr. and Mrs. Romney left for New York, the bride travelling in a navy blue dress with white hat and navy blue accessories and wearing a bracelet of white carnations. . . Many out-of-town guests were present.

The hardest thing for a youngster is to learn good manners without seeing any.

Farm Day at Macdonald

Farm Day for Quebec Farm Forums is now an annual event. Being held this year on June 19, with fine weather and a record attendance, it was a marked success. Unfortunately, it coincided with the Lachute Fair, so that Argenteuil was very poorly represented — reports Stuart Cooke, county representative for Farm Forums.

The new council elected were — President, Gordon Shufelt; 1st vice-pres., Carl Corey; 2nd vice-pres., J. D. Lang; past pres., Stuart Armstrong; executive member, W. G. MacDougal; sec. treas., Floyd Griesbach.

A full report of this gathering appeared in last issue of The Watchman.

Brownsb'g Team Scores Baseball Triumph

Brownsburg baseball fans went home happy again last Sunday, when Manager Maurice Danis again led his team to victory and evened up an old score with Montebello by beating them 6-3.

It would be difficult to cite any outstanding player in the type of ball now being staged by the local line-up. This was the second game of the year without an error.

Things looked bad in the first inning, when the hard-hitting Montebello team took a 2-0 lead, but a rally by the Brownsburg boys in the 5th changed the score to a 5-2 lead for the home team. From then on it was fairly easy sailing.

Brownsburg and Alfred are now tied for first place, so next Sunday's game between these two teams promises to be a real battle. It is hoped to see the Brownsburg fans all out to support the boys at Alfred.

Line-up for last Sunday's game was as follows:

R. Prud'homme C, M. Valle P, F. St. Onge 1B, M. Legault 2B, R. Maude SS, H. King 3B, P. E. Hebert LF, F. Leroux CF, B. Petley RF. Subs., M. Thompson, J. Murdoch, W. Tessier.

"ALONG THE FAIRWAYS"

Lachute Golf Club Special Commentary

Golf is a game shot full of long shots, trick shots, half shots and a wide variety of other shot types too numerous to mention. Two worthy shots, Clarence Rogers and Ralph FitzGerald, thought they knew every shot in the bag but when "Snapshot" Gravel showed them a tree-crotch billiard shot, they were completely shot!

Frank Reid, who used to play golf from "damp dawn till dewy dusk", did himself proud the other day with a sparkling 83.

Sunday was a blazing hot day. We noticed the Club President vigorously fanning a golf ball on No. 1 tee. But he and his nervous partner nevertheless set a blazing pace in the two-ball mixed foursome to break 90 and win top honors. Frank McCaffrey, his long-hitting opponent in the match, whose towering drives have been known to carry 75 - 80 yards, finally found one tee shot some 350 yards down the fairway. Frank was very modest about it, however, merely stating that he felt deeply indebted (about 250 yards deep, in fact) to the executive.

Howard Watson informs us that he has a secret formula for training sprinters. Claims that if he could start Jack from an anthill the hundred meters dash could be Canada's for sure in the coming Olympics. There were plants growing on the tee, and in among the plants there were some ants, and then there were ants — says Jack, "Brother, there sure were!"

11-4 Score in Local Softball Encounter

At Upper Lachute last Sunday, Moore's Restaurant softball team defeated Boyd's Express to the tune of 11-4. It was the first game for the Moore boys and they promise to be quite a team, ready to meet any outfit wishing to play them. Credit for their performance goes to Tommy Caldwell, manager, who has done an excellent job in coaching his boys.

There was one casualty in the game, when D. Leishman of Moore's Restaurant was forced to the side lines for the next six weeks with a dislocated shoulder.

Tommy Calder's line-up included — E. Moore C, S. Gordon P, K. Nicoll 1B, D. Wilson 2B, R. George 3B, A. Mair SS, B. Wolfe LF, D. Leishman CF, G. Mair RF, F. Pring sub.

On Sunday, July 3, this softball team will visit Lachute to play a return game with Boyd's Express at the French College, starting at 2 p.m.

If we don't fight for the best, we can expect the worst.

Nominations for Prot. and Catholic Schools

NEW BOARD ELECTED AT HARRINGTON-AVOCA

In the Township of Gore there are four candidates entered for election to two School Commission vacancies next Monday. The contenders are Wm. Stanley Andrews, Haddon Ira McDonald, James Thompson and Wilbert A. Sherritt. Mr. Thompson stands for re-election on expiry of his term as commissioner.

With five vacancies in the Protestant School Commission of Brownsburg, there is also no dearth of candidates. Ten citizens have been nominated, and in view of the interest in educational matters in this municipality, it is anticipated there will be a spirited contest next Monday. The nominees are —Thomas Anderson, John Connelly, Wm. King, George McCormick, Patrick Reilly, William Brown, Albert Dixon, Wesley Mason, Hugh Morrison and Howard Tomalty.

A five-man commission was elected by acclamation last Monday for the newly formed Rouge River Protestant School Board. The members elected are — John Fox, Jas. Trineer, John Bates, Saml. Smith and Elmer Gauley. At the first assembly of this board, next Monday, the commission will elect their chairman and engage a secretary.

Nominations for two vacancies in each of the local school boards, Protestant and Catholic, were held last Monday; and in the case of the Protestant board four names are entered, requiring a public vote which will be held next Monday, July 12.

For the Catholic board vacancies the two retiring members, Fernand Legault (chairman) and Emmanuel Laurin, were re-elected.

In the Protestant board the retiring members, George F. Calder and Stuart J. McFaul, are nominated for re-election, while papers were also submitted for Geo. Y. Deacon and James C. Logan. Voting on these four candidates will be held from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. D.S.T., with property holders of the Lachute Protestant School Municipality eligible to vote.

Three of the contenders are well known in the voting area — Commissioners Calder and McFaul having served in the past two-year term and shared in the problems of an enlarging school district, and the planning of a school extension to meet the needs of accommodation. Geo. Y. Deacon, a former commissioner, is a new nominee for office. Mr. Deacon served on the local board from 1930 to 1943, being chairman for several years during that period. He was appointed to the Quebec Protestant Committee of the Council of Education in 1942, and named chairman of the Rural Sub-Committee in 1945.

The fourth contender, James C. Logan, having been elsewhere engaged in the past years, is not so intimately known here, and some particulars of his record may therefore be in order. . . Graduating with a scholarship from Lachute Academy, he took the B.A. from McGill, with two years' post-graduate study in Education; then taking his M.A. from Columbia, in Administration of High Schools. On completion of a thesis he will also qualify for M.A. at McGill and M.Ed. at Bishop's. He served nine years as High School principal, and is now teaching at Mount Royal High School and Sir George Williams College. For four years he has been representative and delegate to different Protestant teachers' organizations. Mr. Logan is a property holder in Lachute Mills, where his home is situated.

Car Runs Amok, Main Street West

A drive-yourself car from Lauzon Automobiles, Montreal, with four Montrealers proceeding westward, overshot the curve at the fire station on Main Street, broke a telephone pole on the north side of the thoroughfare, then veered across the street to flatten a gasoline tank in front of Geo. Y. Deacon's store. . . This succession of crashes, occurring at 6.30 a.m. last Sunday, aroused the neighborhood and brought residents from their homes to view the damage. Fortunately none of the occupants was seriously hurt; only one of the men received slight injuries. The car, badly wrecked, was removed to Deacon's Garage.

Police Chief D. Villeneuve was notified and investigated the accident.

Rotary Reviews Year's Service To Community

Brownsburg — At a regular meeting of the Brownsburg Rotary Club, President Wes Freeland reviewed the work of the club for the past year. Efforts were continued to promote better citizenship throughout the community, while thoughtfulness and helpfulness toward the other fellow was stressed with many practical examples.

Contact has been established in the field of International service and bundles of clothing were despatched to England and Holland through Rotary Clubs there. A special fund of $300 was raised among the members as a contribution to the Rotary Foundation, a fund established to exchange students in countries where language and customs differ, in an effort to promote better understanding and good will.

Funds raised for charitable distribution amounted to approximately $1,500. Not all of the items can be listed. However, the major items of expenditure included — assistance to the Providence Hospital; four Boy Scouts and four Cubs assisted to attend summer camp; assistance to the French school sports field day; an educational tour to Montreal by bus for 25 English and 25 French higher-grade students; support to the outdoor skating rink; treatment provided for a crippled child, at the Children's Memorial Hospital; provision for an emergency operation on a 10-year-old boy who could not otherwise have received treatment; auxiliary equipment provided for T.B. clinic in Lachute; assistance to the Lachute High School Band, and hockey equipment for Brownsburg School hockey teams; some assistance provided for French School libraries; also the T.B. clinic sponsored by Rotary Club on two successive days in Brownsburg, to afford the opportunity for people over school age to obtain free X-ray.

The Rotary Club are grateful for the opportunity to have served the community in this way. The public are urged to support the club's annual Carnival, July 15-16-17, and thus enable this good work to continue for another year.

KEEP COOL!

No necessity of becoming steamed up about the hot weather with one of these handy salt tablet dispensers around. According to scientists, people suffer from heat and heat prostration because of the salt lost during excessive perspiration. In order to keep the body's cooling system functioning properly, additional salt must be taken to supplement that consumed in normal foods. Swallowing one to six tablets each day is the simplest way of doing this. Six tablets are especially recommended for men working in garages, bakeries, foundries, furnace rooms, coal mines, laundries, paint plants, hotel and restaurant kitchens and wherever the work results in considerable sweat. Salt also helps maintain the pep in athletes such as tennis and basketball players, boxers and wrestlers.

Visitor Injured In 30-foot Fall At Ayers Mill

An inspection tour of the Ayers Mills, part of a convention program here yesterday by a group of industrialists, ended unhappily when a youthful member of the party fell 30 feet onto a cement floor and suffered a fractured skull.

The young man, Luc Dufresne, 15, was accompanying his father and brother, from St. Pie de Bagot. In the van of the group, a few members took a short cut while inspecting the wool-sorting department, and young Dufresne lost his footing, falling down a vertical chute to the scouring department two floors below.

Carried to the medical room of the plant, the victim was attended by three local physicians, Drs. Jules Lafleur, F. W. FitzGerald and R. Lavigne. The mishap occurred at 4 p.m., and at 5.30 o'clock the youth was rushed by ambulance to the Neurological Institute in Montreal — Dr. FitzGerald accompanying him.

The visiting party were members of the Professional Association of Industrialists. Their all-day program included business sessions at Lachute Golf Club chalet and other program features. There were about 70 in the party.

USE WOODEN DRAINS

London, Ont. (CP) — Wooden drains laid more than 80 years ago may still be in use in older sections of downtown London, City Engineer W. M. Veitch said. Hollowed tree trunks fitted end to end were at one time used by the city, but Mr. Veitch said any such drains in use today would be privately owned.

System Is Keynote, Volunteers Erect Bleacher Stand

Brownsburg — An example of what could be done to elleviate the housing shortage situation was given in the past few days by members of the Brownsburg Social and Athletic Club, Inc.

The building project involved the erection of new bleachers at the ball diamond in the local Picnic Grounds, as an added feature to the grounds equipment. The Club called upon volunteer labor to complete the project, under the able direction of S. E. Rose, club president.

It is interesting to note that no carpenter craftsmen were used, the work being carried out by a group of approximately 25 men. Four sessions only were required, or an elapsed total of 8½ hours. This was accomplished, too, in exceedingly hot weather, which speaks well for the spirit of the erection crew.

The bleacher stands will seat over 200 persons and are built according to present day regulation standards for such equipment. According to President Rose, the secret of the success of the operation lay in Work Simplified Methods of erection — and apparently the work went so smoothly that holding-bolts were installed almost before the bolt holes were drilled!

The Club wishes to express its appreciation to all individuals who volunteered for the work, and to Canadian Industries Limited for the donation of the lumber required.

Brownsb'g Picnic Successful Event

Brownsburg — The annual picnic of the Brownsburg Social and Athletic Club was held last Saturday, and close to 2,000 people gathered at the picnic grounds to watch the various activities.

Trap, skeet and rifle shooting competitions were held in the morning, and the afternoon was taken up by races and other sporting events. The big attractions for the younger set proved to be the pony riding, the Black Watch pipe band from Montreal, and the fireworks display at night.

Brownsburg Flyers softball team won a decisive victory over Brownsburg Legion by a score of 5-0, and the day ended with a well attended outdoor square dance.

The prize winners of the day are reported on page 10.

Man Killed in Fall from Wagon

Pierre Larocque, 72-year-old resident of Hamford Street, fell from a wagon loaded with hay which had been cut on a vacant lot on Robert Street, and suffered injuries which caused his death late Monday night. The mishap occurred around 5.30 o'clock that afternoon. As the wagon was turning from the field into Robert Street, the front wheel locked underneath and jolted the load. The aged man fell on his head to the pavement, while two little girls riding on the load were thrown clear as the horse bolted.

Dr. W. FitzGerald, called to the accident, took the victim to his office and dressed his injuries, which did not appear to be serious. Later that evening, however, the man lapsed into unconsciousness at his home. Dr. R. Lavigne was called to attend him, but the man succumbed around 11.45 o'clock.

The district coroner, Dr. Jules Lafleur, investigating the incident on Tuesday, gave a verdict of accidental death resulting from cerebral haemorrhage and probable fracture of the skull. Sgt. Det. Albert Oggier, of Montreal, reported to provincial police on the details of the fatality.

George L. Davis Heads Lions Club For Coming Year

OFFICERS ELECTED AND INSTALLED

At the final meeting of the Lions Club this season, held June 29 at Lachute Golf Club chalet, officers and directors for the 1948-49 season were elected and installed in office. These are — president, George L. Davis; 1st vice-president, Horace J. Lamarche; 2nd vice-president, Herbert Rigg; 3rd vice-president, Gaetan Cousineau; secretary, Joseph N. Robinson; treasurer, Willard M. Steeves; Lion Tamer, Joseph Joly; tail twister, Gabriel Valois; immediate past-president, Dr. Roger Dumais. Directors — Fernand Legault, Ian Gordon, Phillippe G. Roy, Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, Edward M. Jones and George C. Tattersfield.

Considerable discussion took place regarding the hazard created by the quarry hole south of Bedard Blvd., where a young child was nearly drowned recently, and it was decided that the Club should use its influence in endeavoring to have this danger spot made safe.

Club finances were shown to be in splendid shape for the coming year, with quite a considerable sum in hand to be used for some major civic project not yet announced.

Distinctively Canadian

An example of Canada's characteristic contribution to New World architecture — the French-Colonial home. Featuring a steep sloping roof with a bellcast at the eaves, liberal use of dormers, and the snub-nosed chimney terminating abruptly at the gable ridge, this style is becoming popular over North America with homeowners who seek "something different." Set in a modern Canadian residential section, this home presents Old and New World features. The traditional black roof is retained with modern slate-black asphalt shingles. The French settlers decorated their homes in gay colors; here the shutters and doors are Chinese red. The remainder of the house is white, following the pattern of early settlers who whitewashed their dwellings to keep them looking clean.

AIRBORNE TRAPPERS

Nelson House, Man. (CP) — Indian trappers of this settlement 250 miles north of The Pas have taken to the air, by families, to speed up their trapping. Daily they board a small aircraft which flies them to their traplines, sometimes 60 or 70 miles away. Heads of families follow by dog team. When they arrive, camps are ready for them.

Cottingham Named U.N. Candidate For Argenteuil in Provl. Election

First Campaign Gathering in Constituency Held Last Night at Lachute Auditorium

At a meeting of delegates from the county electoral polls, held last evening at Lachute Auditorium, W. M. Cottingham of Lachute was elected official candidate of the Union Nationale party to enter the provincial contests July 28 next.

Official nomination day, July 21, will bring three candidates to the field in Argenteuil — W. M. Cottingham, U.N., Hon. Georges E. Dansereau, Liberal, and J. A. M. Cléroux for the Union des Electeurs — according to present indications.

Favorites in the candidature race up until last evening were W. M. Cottingham and Léopold Carrière. Mr. Carrière, however, withdrew from the running, and the only other nominees out of six "probables", were Albani Lamarche, Lachute, and Chas. Moseley, Brownsburg. Mr. Carrière and the two minority contenders agreed to support the popular choice. The count of ballots returned by the delegates was — Cottingham 105, Lamarche 18, Moseley 10.

This was the first public assembly in the local election campaign. Following a closed meeting for election of the candidate — which occupied considerable time and taxed the patience of partisans awaiting entry — the assembly was opened to the public. Congratulations and viewpoints were voiced from the platform. Mr. Cottingham publicly thanked the delegates for the honor accorded to him, and as candidate for the government party pledged his best interests to the welfare of this county and the general progress. Joint chairmen for the proceedings were Olier Renaud, M. L. A., and Dr. Albert Surprenant, of Montreal.

Kingston, Ont. (CP) — Five Queen's University medical men are to go to Southampton Island at the mouth of Hudson Bay to continue a study begun last year of the physical, nutritional and dietary habits of the Eskimo.

St. Thomas (CP) — A perfect cribbage hand was seen for the first time by L. F. McCutcheon, a player since boyhood. His wife dealt herself three five spots and the jack of diamonds and then drew the five spot of diamonds for a total of 29 points.

Open Meeting of Historical Soc'y This Saturday

The public assemblies at Carillon Museum arranged each season by the Argenteuil Historical Society, afford keen pleasure to the members and to local residents interested in the progress of this institution. Apart from the opportunity to renew acquaintance among those of kindred interests, the meetings are also livened by interesting spakers. Topic at the Society's gathering on Saturday afternoon, July 10, will be one of particular local interest — "The Origin of French Place Names in Argenteuil", by Notary Gaetan Valois, of Lachute. Mr. Valois, the speaker, is a member of the Society's executive.

This meeting is open to all residents and interested visitors, and the directorate, under Mrs. G. F. W. Kuhring (acting president since the death of Dr. H. B. Cushing), hope for a large attendance. After the proceedings, tea will be served to the public at popular prices.

Plan Highland Games at Maxville

Ottawa — Once again Canada's smallest county does things in a big way. . . On July 31, Glengarry County will play host to over 15,000 lovers of Scottish games and sports at a great Highland Gathering to be held in Maxville.

This ambitionus undertaking attempted by few cities in Canada does not deter Glengarrians, who make a habit of winning wars, hockey matches and even whole continents.

From this corner of Canada — which is forever Highland, where the cadence of the Gaelic softens the English speech — in 1914, and again in 1940, an entire regiment of fighting men went to battle.

Back to this county returned the discoverer of the Fraser River after claiming half a continent for his King, and in the shadow of St. Andrew's Parish Cross, Simon Fraser sleeps beside John Sandfield MacDonald, the first premier of Ontario.

The hot blood of Highland clansmen still flows in the veins of Glengarry youth, and her hockey teams have battled their way into Ottawa and district championships — her lacrosse and soccer teams are known wherever these great Canadian games are played.

Over $2,000 in prizes will be awarded at the gathering, and the entry list includes pipe bands, Highland dancers, pipers and athletes from all over Eastern Canada and the Northeastern United States. Of particular interest to Glengarry folks will be the tug-of-war between picked teams of the county's brawniest sons, and the soccer match which will split the county in two. Old-time fiddlers will play for the big "hoe-down" at night.

Chairman Mayor Angus A. MacDonald of Alexandria says that every effort will be made to accommodate visitors in private homes, but it is expected that because of Maxville's proximity to Ottawa and Montreal, most visitors will motor home after the games are finished.

President of the Glengarry Highland Games Committee is Peter D. MacInnes, of Maxville; J. D. MacRae, of Maxville, is the secretary.

Girl Drowned at Bevan's Lake

Elsie Mary Hunter, 20-year-old Montreal girl and an employee of Bell Telephone Co., lost her life Sunday afternoon around 2 o'clock at Bevan's Lake, Weir. Spending the week-end with her family at their cottage the young lady was swimming from a boat offshore with her younger sister. Both swimmers got into difficulty and cried for help. A male member of the party hurried from the shore and was instrumental in assisting the younger girl. The sister, however, had meanwhile sunk beneath the surface, in about 20 feet of water. The victim was recovered about 15 minutes later. Dr. R. Henry and Dr. A. Garon, summoned from Huberdeau, applied artificial respiration, but without success.

Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, conducted an inquiry and pronounced death due to accidental drowning. Det. Jules Arsenault made investigation on behalf of the provincial police headquarters in Montreal.

To Make Blueprint Of Town Water Supply System

Regular session of Lachute Town Council last evening was adjourned until Tuesday, July 13, owing to lack of a quorum.

A special meeting of the council held previously, on June 25, was called to discuss matters pertaining to the town water system. It was decided to purchase a pressure gauge to be installed in the town office, and the council also passed a resolution to have a complete survey and blueprint of the system undertaken by a qualified engineer. The councillors agreed to confer with Paul Poulin, C.I., of Ste. Agathe, to discuss this undertaking.

Mayor A. Bothwell presided for this special assembly, and all members of the council were in attendance.

Humor by Preference

By R. J. Deachman

What do people like to read? They like to read something that is light and humorous. I sent out a story the other day which had both these qualities. There wasn't much in it that I wrote myself; it was an exchange of letters between a hotel guest and the management of the hotel. It appeared under the title "Did It Ever Happen To You". Yes, it was bright and humorous and I had more comment on it than anything I have written for a year, and it compares favorably with two of my most popular stories "The Hawk and The Fish" and "A Sparrow Falls". People like stories with life, movement and humor, and in this country today there is very little humorous writing. We are a serious people, far too serious.

Gatineau LINES

As everyone knows, trees of one kind or another play an important part in our national life—a natural situation since forests cover about 57 per cent of Canada or some 1,300,000 square miles. The logs, lumber, firewood, pulp and paper and other products of the forests provide Canada with its second largest primary industry.

Forests and trees are important also when it comes to supplying you with electricity. It cannot be said, however, that they are an unmixed blessing. They have advantages and disadvantages. One useful service trees provide to power companies and their customers is that of forming a natural reservoir for water. As you know, water runs more quickly off an open field than off a wooded area. In making electricity from water power, it is important to have a steady flow of water at the generators. A flood one day — or one month—and a drought the next, is no good for making electricity. While other methods are used for regulating the flow of water, trees and forests are nature's reservoirs which help to keep a more or less steady volume flowing through the rivers.

The disadvantages of trees are found largely in connection with transmitting electricity over power lines. Broken branches or trees which blow down in storms will break power lines. During the course of a rainstorm, when trees become very wet, they also become good conductors of electricity. If a wet branch touches a wire it will interrupt the flow of current over the lines and cause lights to flicker. In certain circumstances, it will cause the lights to go out entirely. Power companies try to avoid this situation by removing trees or parts of trees which may foul the lines, but even with this care, accidents occasionally occur. So, if your lights flicker, it is best to call the power company as soon as possible and give them an opportunity to check the lines before something more serious develops.

Canada's Livestock Is Well Guarded

It is no mere happy chance that Canadian livestock are free from serious animal diseases such as foot and mouth disease, contagious pleuro-pneumonia, rinderpest, and other destructive animal plagues. This freedom from serious animal plagues is due in a large measure to the careful watch kept by veterinarians of the Health of Animals Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, on imports of livestock, livestock products and materials likely to carry infection from foreign countries where such animal plagues do exist — so Dr. T. Childs, Veterinary Director General told the Manitoba Veterinary Association at its annual convention held recently in Winnipeg. The service had its beginning in 1868 and the efficiency of the inspection is shown in the results — no serious animal plagues have ever gained a foothold in Canada.

This record is the more impressive when it is remembered that there are only two countries in the world, the United States and Newfoundland, from which it is generally considered safe to permit unrestricted entry of livestock and livestock products.

On the reverse, or export side of the picture, regulations with regard to livestock produced in Canada are just as strict. All animals slaughtered for domestic use are subject to inspection by the Health of Animals Division, and more than half of all the livestock in Canada are under the supervision of veterinarians for the control and eradication of disease.

Second Cutting of Clover and Alfalfa

About this time of year farmers are keeping a watchful eye on the flowering of second growth alfalfa and clover and wondering if it is worth leaving for seed. More than usual attention is being paid the weather. Dull cloudy days during which bees are inactive can mean the difference between good and poor seed setting. Another cause of loss often overlooked is the injury resulting from insects which attack heads of plants.

In Eastern Canada clover head weevil is the most serious pest while in the West it is the lygus bug. According to a report in C-I-L Agricultural News, yields may be increased by as much as 50 per cent if these insects are controlled.

Following extensive field tests, the report states, DDT is now recommended for wiping out these pests. A five per cent DDT dust applied at the rate of 20 pounds per acre or a three per cent DDT dust at 30 to 40 pounds per acre have been found the most effective formulations. To avoid killing bees, DDT should be applied about one week before the crops are in full bloom. One application is usually enough to give satisfactory control.

Since effects of DDT residue on livestock have not been fully determined, it is recommended that straw from these grasses should not be fed to farm animals.

Productive Livestock And Farm Income

(Experimental Farm News)

Studies of farm inventories and financial records on 63 Illustration Station farms in Ontario and Quebec show that the 63 farmers had a total of $898,488.65 invested in land and buildings, livestock, machinery and other equipment. Average investment per farm amounted to $14,261.72 or $132.94 per acre of land under crop. Of the total investment 64.7 per cent was in land and buildings, 18.7 per cent in productive livestock and 16.6 per cent in machinery and equipment. Thirty-one farms were above average from the standpoint of investment in productive livestock and these operators recorded a gross cash return of $52.36 per crop acre which was $11.33 per acre above that earned on those farms which were below the average in livestock for the group.

With an average area of 107.2 acres of cropland those farms with the more effective livestock enterprises received an additional $1,214.57 for the year's operations. Gross revenue per crop acre varied from $28.39 for the station with the lowest producing dairy herd to $84.45 per acre where the highest producing stock were maintained. In all cases the production capacity of the stock was more important than the numbers kept.

In a comparison of districts, the highest investment per acre of cropland prevailed in Central Quebec. Here the average area per farm of 72.8 acres was considerably below the average for the group. Effective use of rough pasture as a means of increasing the livestock carrying capacity of these station units brought cash revenues to a level that more than compensated for the extra investment per acre of land under crop. The highest proportionate investment in land and buildings was on the Western Quebec Illustration Stations. In this area some expansion of cash crops caused a marked reduction in the numbers of livestock kept. Examination of individual farm records showed more sustained revenues on those stations where productive livestock comprised more than 15 per cent of total investment. Station farms in Eastern and Central Ontario carried the highest money value and the greatest per cent of investment in livestock having on the average $4,135.58 per farm in dairy and hog enterprises.

These studies were conducted on the Dominion Illustration Stations, which are privately owned farms in Ontario and Quebec. Where the highest possible proportion of capital investment has been in productive livestock, the result has been higher revenues per acre and as well a more continuous source of income.

Super-Chicken Promised Soon

Researchers Expect More and Better Meat, Higher Egg Production

Victoria (CP) — A super-chicken, highly disease-resistant and heavy egg producer, may result within a year or so from experiments now being made by Dominion poultry research men.

Harry Gutteridge, chief of poultry division, Dominion department of agriculture, said during a visit here that scientists working under his direction may produce a breed which will be the answer to a poultryman's prayer.

In addition to high egg production, other qualities sought include fast-feathering, high quality and quantity of meat; white feathers, white flesh and white eggs.

Large eggs, small wattles, less susceptibility to freezing and lower mortality are also sought.

Seven or eight breeds, from white Leghorn to Cornish, have gone into the making of the new breed so far.

Finally an effort is being made to produce tougher shells. "We hope to develop eggs that will stand up better to packing and travelling conditions", said Mr. Gutteridge. "But of course, we don't expect them to bounce."

NEW B.C. INDUSTRY

Alberni, B.C. (CP) — Two Regina men are planning manufacture of various polishes using volcanic ash from extensive Great Central Lake deposits. The industry will be the first of its type in this area.

Quebec Party Visited Ontario Co-operatives

Ten members of the United Farmers' Co-operative, representing co-operatives from various points throughout the province of Quebec, made a tour of inspection recently to similar co-operatives throughout Ontario.

Each representative was sponsored by the individual Farm Forum to which he belonged. F. Griesbach, provincial secretary of Quebec Farm Forums, stated that the tour was of great interest to the party, many of whom had never been in Ontario before. He believed that the interchange of ideas between the co-operatives was beneficial and educational. "The majority of the co-operatives in Quebec are French-speaking and it is only in the past few years that English-speaking farmers have shown any interest in the co-operatives", he said.

The tour started from Macdonald College and included visits to feed, fruit growing and meat packing co-operatives in centres through southern Ontario. At Toronto the group were luncehon guests of the Ontario co-operative organization. At Collingwood they were entertained at Floyd Griesback's home, and they were regaled at a strawberry social in Thornbury by Art Musgrave, Toronto president of the United Farmers' Federation. Other points of interest included Simcoe, Guelph, Niagara Falls and, finally, Ottawa. . . The party were transported in two automobiles, and the tour occupied an entire week brimful of interest.

Mrs. Albert Titley, of Thomas' Gore Farm Forum, was a member of the party from this district.

MORE JOBS for Young Canadians

TODAY CANADA'S manufacturing capacity has been increased—and diversified—to an extent never thought possible in pre-war years. Now Canada can do more — can make more — offers far more opportunities to young Canadians commencing their careers today. While established industries have been expanding, new ones have been springing up. Over 200 new products formerly imported are now being made here.

EMPLOYMENT figures, too, tell the story of our emergence as one of the world's great industrial nations; today almost twice as many Canadians are engaged in manufacturing as there were before the war.

CAPACITY for steel production doubled; chemical output more than twice 1939 level; pulp and paper mills operating at 50% above pre-war: everywhere the magnitude of the advance is evident.

DEVELOPMENT continues: on new plant and new equipment nearly four times as much was spent by Canadian industry last year as in 1939.

"... UNTOLD OPPORTUNITIES"

"If one wants to give service and work, Canada is full of untold opportunities — greater than ever. It is well, too, for young Canadians not to overlook small towns and rural parts, because in these places the door is ajar, life can be gloriously free and very full."

... says ROY SHIELDS of Coboconk, Ontario. He and his brother Charles have, by industry and initiative, supported by loyal, hard-working employees, attained a remarkable success as General Merchants in their rural community. Their store has been referred to as the "Biggest Little Department Store" in the country.

Lo the Poor Eskimo!

CANADIAN school children, their noses in geography books on a fine June day, have often envied Eskimo youngsters. They had no schools, spent their days spearing fish and seal, and from the schoolbook pictures, seemed to get along all right without baths.

The kids down south can quit envying the copper-skinned children of the Arctic. Progress has caught up with them and Canada's first Eskimo day school has been established at Port Brabant on the Beaufort Sea, just about as far north as you can get without stepping on the ice cap that covers the pole.

We suppose it had to come some time. The Eskimo children couldn't be expected to go on forever without learning the undisputed fact that bathing is healthy once you get used to it. They had to be told some day that there are other things in life besides fishing and paddling a kayak and building an igloo. Detentions and examinations, for instance.

The Indians and some Eskimos who wandered that far south have been going to school for some time in Yellowknife in the Northwest Territories. And at Aklavik on the Mackenzie delta they've had Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and Brownie groups.

But we didn't think the truant officer would ever catch up with the kids on the rim of the Arctic Ocean. They've been doing without schooling since the first Eskimos crossed over from Asia in a century the new Eskimo kids will be able to identify better than we can.

No doubt their health will benefit and they should pick up enough arithmetic to put up a battle against sharp fur traders. Ottawa says they are given "practical training in their own environment." All we can hope is that it includes a bit of instruction outdoors in how to spear fish and pick off a running cariboo with a .30-.30.

Successor to the Grand Old Man

IN A FAREWELL address during prorogation night, Mr. King told both government and opposition Members of Parliament that, after 20 years and 20 days in office, he was resigning from the helm of his party. He would "without reservation" be out of both the leadership of the party and leadership of the country's government by the time parliament meets again.

But there was a reservation the 73-year-old statesman made. World circumstances, he declared, may drive him back to the familiar parliamentary bench he held so long. The "circumstances" were interpreted by many as the remote possibility of war. Barring this possibility, he would not tarry long a government leader.

But who can take his place? . . There are two candidates who appear to be major contestants for the political prize — both of cabinet rank. Agriculture Minister Gardiner, 64, is reported a favorite in the West. He has helped lift the Liberal party in Saskatchewan to a better position against the C.C.F. party in power. There were indications western farmer-delegates would vote strongly in his favor. The other prominent candidate is External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, 66. His pointed views on Canada's position in international affairs have gained him many supporters who would guard against a possible Communist insurgence.

The two appear definitely in the running. What might give Mr. St. Laurent an edge against his colleague is a victory for the Liberals in the Quebec election July 28.

Still there are others who might don the robe of leadership. These include such outstanding figures as Defence Minister Claxton, Health Minister Martin, Finance Minister Abbott, Transport Minister Chevrier and Trade Minister Howe.

In whatever way the political winds may swirl, candidates appear numerous. Even outside the cabinet there are two potentials. Either Premier Garcon of Manitoba or Premier Macdonald of Nova Scotia, or both, might decide to run the convention gauntlet for fame — according to observers of the political scene.

Cyclists Inconsiderate

ONE NEED not drive far afield in an automobile to be impressed with the need for regulation of bicycle traffic. Unfortunately, it is more difficult to impose the rules upon cyclists, and it devolves upon the riders themselves to exercise some thought for the public safety and their own survival — factors so often lacking in their calculations.

It is a common experience in automobile driving, to come across cyclists on the thoroughfare riding two or three abreast. Before they can adjust their position to single file, the car driver must slow down almost to a stop in order to allow safe passage of a pedestrian or another approaching car — and there is hazard to all parties concerned. When cyclists ride in groups they should — for their own safety — travel in single file.

It is also common on the town thoroughfares, even at busy hours, to see groups of boys weaving in and out with a total disregard for whatever traffic might be approaching them from behind. . . Such careless habits on the part of cyclists not only present a hazard to their safety, but they involve a danger to motorists who might be forced to swerve to avoid hitting those on bikes.

Room for A Clean-Up

WHILE the Lachute Spring Fair is still fresh in memory — and the management is doubtless reviewing its triumphs and its disappointments with a view to the greater success of this event next year — there appears in The Ottawa Journal an editorial which deserves consideration. . . Without casting aspersions on the conduct of the Midway here this year, there are, in all such showplaces, sordid and distasteful elements which will never be improved until the promoters of expositions (those with whom the Midway shows enter into contract) take a hand to demand their betterment.

Directors of the Central Canada Exhibition (says The Journal) have been well advised in deciding to take the Midway in hand. Last year in the post-war revival of the big Ottawa fair there were endless complaints about children and adults, but children particularly, being overcharged for "rides" and refreshments; complaints also that the Midway was dirty and ugly and badly in need of a clean-up which would apply not only to tents and paraphernalia but to sideshows and their posters.

Such a clean-up is promised by CCEA directors, on the word of the management of the Midway, and assurance is given that rides generally will be a dime for children, for adults rides and shows 25 to 50 cents, and the prices charged for hot-dogs and such are to be plainly posted.

All this is good, and we trust the directors and management of CCEA stand by their guns. It is time we were rid of the old idea that to be swindled at a fair is a normal experience and part of the fun, time to insist upon reasonable standards of honesty and decency. Decency includes banning pitiful human monstrosities and the posters advertising them, banning exhibits that are horrible or disgusting, banning such displays as a woman in an elleged "iron lung".

There is so much that is beautiful and inspiring in this world, so much new and thrilling, that it is more than time the two-headed calf and the "half-man-half-woman" were permanently retired from circulation.

Enters As Candidate For Election to Prot. School Board

TO THE EDITOR

Lachute Mills, July 5, 1948.

Editor, The Watchman.

Dear Sir:

Some months ago I was asked by some ratepayers if I would let my name be entered as a candidate for membership on the local School Board. I have thought the matter over, and have come to the conclusion that as a ratepayer and more particularly as a person working in the field of Education I would let my name stand. Being a graduate of the old Lachute Academy has always been a source of pride to me, and now in these times of stress and strain in the educational world when new projects — building projects and academic ones as well — are about to be entered upon, if my training and experience with other Boards can be of any use to the Protestant people of our school municipality, I humbly place that service at their disposal.

By arrangement with my own superiors, I am available at all times for work on the Board.

I wish to thank you for your kindness in publishing this letter.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES C. LOGAN.

Life Boys to Start Camp This Week-End

Montreal — The advance guard, under Capt. J. Howard Richardson's direction, will arrive at St. Andrews East on Friday and prepare the tents and other equipment for arrival of a most enthusiastic team of Life Boys, on Saturday afternoon.

This year's Life Boys will include the choir, which has been making steady progress since its inception a few months ago. It is the hope of Capt. Richardson that this group will continue to advance and be able to participate in the Junior Choir festival, next winter. All boys in this section are presently studying music.

The Life Boys will conduct a Fireside Service in St. Andrews United Church on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. This will be an occasion for singing the old well-beloved hymns, and enjoying an hour of good Christian fellowship. All are cordially invited to attend.

Campers arriving by train will be in charge of Neil Gartshore, swimming instructor, who has during the past year taught 41 of the boys to swim. He will remain throughout the week-end.

Plans are being drawn up for an "open house" day at camp, when visitors will be welcomed and which will feature a demonstration of Life Boys at work. This will include singing, maze drill, physical training, as well as other features.

SOVIET CONSERVATION

It might be enlightening to consider that Soviet Russia, possessor of the world's largest timber reserves, is apparently far more conservative-minded than we in Canada who are doing little more than conduct programs to help the woodlot owners realize the dire need of working with nature.

Opening Shots in Quebec Campaign

Joliette, July 4 — Federal members of Pariament have so much to do, notably in trying to get down income tax rates which "skin" the people, and in perhaps following the example of Quebec in giving the province a flag by giving Canada a flag of its own, that it might be well if they left provincial election matters alone and devoted themselves to these urgent federal problems — suggested Premier Maurice L. Duplessis speaking to a large open air meeting on behalf of his colleague, Hon. Antonio Barrette, Minister of Labor, again candidate for Joliette.

St. Eustache, July 4 — Hon. Paul Sauvé, provincial Minister of Youth and Social Welfare, opening his campaign for re-election in the Lake of Two Mountains constituency, asked a large gathering of electors to be returned to the legislative assembly on the strength of his accomplishments of the past four years.

"If, after you have given the situation very close study and find that I have not done enough for my constituents in the past four years, then put your X beside the name of my Liberal adversary", he stated.

The youthful minister told the crowd that the riding had done very well by him during his term of office.

St. Jerome, July 4 — Opposition Leader Adelard Godbout told a Liberal rally at St. Jerome that Premier Maurice Duplessis, and the policies of the National Union Government, had retarded the progress of the province of Quebec more than 50 years.

The Liberal leader, speaking at the local park, said that the policies favored by Mr. Duplessis tended to divide the country instead of working in the general interest of the whole population.

"I do not pretend that I am the saviour of my race", said Mr. Godbout, "but I do pretend and I do say that I am a French-Canadian. Aand as a French-Canadian, I believe that I should work in the interests of my race and my province and my family.

"Mr. Duplessis holds himself up as a champion of the liberties and rights of the French-Canadians. I think Mr. Duplessis has done more to harm the rights and prestige of French-Canadians than any other Prime Minister in the history of this province of ours."

FRENCH AS SHE IS SPOKEN

In London a large motorized conveyance for passengers is called a charabanc, from the French "char-à-banc", and in Paris the same sort of vehicle is "un autobus".

It is natural in Quebec Province, where people of two tongues mingle daily, that phrases should be swapped even more freely, although there is a strong and understandable desire on the part of French-Canadian intellectuals to preserve their own culture and to prevent too much mix-up of the languages. At the risk of these good people having a fit, we venture to note the business card of a small-town "entrepreneur", or contractor, in the Laurentian district. With his name changed for purposes of his security, the card reads: "Jean-Paul Laroche, Contracteur avec Bull-dozer."

The Women's Institute Arundel branch are holding their monthly meeting on Monday evening, July 12, instead of Wednesday evening, July 14. Members please take note of the change of date for this month only. The convener of the evening is Mrs. H. Johnston, Publicity, and films will be shown through courtesy of the Bell Telephone Co., under the supervision of Mr. F. J. Shaughnessy, manager of the Ste. Agathe Division.

A happy family reunion took place at the home of Miss Ina Scott, who had among her guests Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Scott and daughter, Miss Phyllis Scott, of Red Deer, Alta., and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Graham, of Innisfail, Alta. While staying in Arundel both families are visiting friends and relatives here; neither Mr. Graham nor Mr. Scott have been in Arundel for 30 years.

It seems to be a particular year for old residents to revisit the scenes of Arundel from which they have been absent for many years. Another instance is Mr. Dave Patterson, of Halifax, N.S., who was brought up on the property now owned by Mrs. J. Alexander, and whose father had a store there years ago. Mr. Patterson is making a short stay, renewing old ties and visiting the scenes of his childhood.

W.I. Effort

The Women's Institute of Arundel will hold a lawn social on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Staniforth on Thursday evening, July 15. Various booths will be in evidence to attract the patrons, including a fortune-telling booth. Three quilts will be drawn for, and there will be a fine program of out-of-town artists, augmented by some of Arundel's talented people. Mr. W. A. Smart and Miss Elizabeth Foley, of Montreal, and little Audrey Pope, tap dancer, of Montreal, will be among those taking part. A good turnout is expected, as the proceeds are to be used to defray expenses of the School Fair.

At Barkmere

Most of the cottage owners at Barkmere are occupying their homes for the summer season, and most of them have their quota of house guests. On good authority, we have been informed that plans for the annual regatta are now under way and that it will take place early in August. Full details will be given later.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER
Announces
New McCormick-Deering
MILK COOLERS

The New McCormick-Deering Milk Cooler. Note how the compressor unit is mounted integrally with the box.

The Only Coolers with Pneumatic Water Agitation

Cross section of the McCormick-Deering Milk Cooler showing how the ice-cold water circulates all around the cans.

A COMPACT, simple, fast-cooling milk cooler, manufactured, assembled, and tested complete (including both box and compressor unit) at the factory. That's the brand-new McCormick-Deering, another product of International Harvester designed to aid the dairy farmer in keeping down the bacteria count in milk.

The McCormick-Deering Milk Cooler cools milk to a temperature of 50 degrees or lower in an hour or less twice every 24 hours, and automatically maintains the temperature regardless of the weather. The pneumatic water agitator, an exclusive McCormick-Deering feature, makes this rapid cooling possible. It forces the air into the water from the bottom of the box and the constantly rising bubbles agitate the water near the ice bank, thoroughly chilling the water and keeping it circulating all around the cans, from the bottom up to and over the milk level.

Many other features of design and construction contribute to the high efficiency of the McCormick-Deering. Ask us to tell you all about this advanced method of cooling milk.

BEDFORD CORD FOR WOMEN'S SUITS

Tartans and Shepherd's Checks Also Popular With British Women

London (CP) — The famous Bedford cord, long known by horsemen for its toughness and wearing qualities, is becoming a popular material in Britain for women's suits.

At a big fashion show here recently it was evident that tartans and shepherd's checks were also keeping their lead among favored materials, with fine baratheas and hopsacks pressing them closely.

"Fashion Trade Weekly" says:

"While most of the houses participating followed the same small-waisted silhouette, they varied widely in their views on length and shoulder-lines. It is obvious that the term "mid-calf" length is an extremely elastic one, the interpretations varying by several inches."

"Although conforming to the new look in other details, British fashion houses are loath to depart from old look shoulders", the magazine said. "Here and there makers introduced the really soft unpadded shoulder that eliminates a set-in sleeve. But among coats and suits were many styles with built-up shoulders."

This is interesting because it gives women with bad figures a better chance to look as smart as those with the figure which dress-makers regard as an answer to prayer.

DELAYED SPEECH HAMPERS BABIES

Harrogate, Eng. (CP) — When babies are late in beginning to talk they often grow "anti-social" and later become misfits in their jobs, Dr. J. D. Kershaw, medical health officer for Colchester, Essex, told a health congress.

"Maybe their parents are to blame. The parents who watches a child and anticipates its every need eliminates the need for speech and so produces a delay in talking."

The home, he said, should not be a rock-like shelter against all the difficulties and troubles of life.

"It should be the bridgehead from which, as a secure base, the child can advance to conquer the frightening but exciting world into which he has been born."

QUICK WORK

Wallaceburg, Ont. (CP) — Fireman Roy McIntosh of this Western Ontario town staged his shortest run recently when clerks in an office next to the fire station turned in an alarm. McIntosh arrived in a few seconds and quelled a blaze in a waste paper basket with a hand extinguisher.

PLATES LOSE PAINT

Victoria (CP) — Paint-peeling British Columbia automobile plates are still worrying authorities, who have not discovered the cause. Some drivers have had as many as five new sets of plates because of the flaking away of the paint.

Folk Song Specialist

Alan Mills, baritone singer and guitarist of Montreal, whose Sunday song programs have won him a wide audience among younger listeners. He sings and plays at 1 p.m. on the CBC network and with each song tells the story of its origin. To his programs, called Folk Songs for Young Folks, Alan Mills brings a seemingly endless supply of songs, tunes and ditties which became part of his repertoire during several years in minstrel shows, grand opera and on the stage.

TAKES GOSPEL TO SEAFARERS

Woman Has Distributed Tracts On Montreal Waterfront for 29 Years

Montreal (CP)—The murky maze of grimy, one-way streets that fringe the Montreal waterfront apparently holds few terrors for Blossom Trelawny.

Believing that seafaring men are more in need of spiritual guidance than uptown landlubbers, she haunts the entrances of such waterfront hangouts as Joe Beef's and the Neptune, handing out printed texts from the Bible.

Her favorite text for the patrons of Joe Beef's is: "Behold how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

She adopted this one several years ago after a group of firemen from the Athenia rolled into Joe Beef's and got into a monumental scrap with some longshoremen. When the stevedores began to swing baling hooks, the firemen broke the rims off their beer glasses and used them as gouges.

Over at the Neptune, Miss Trelawny prefers to use: "Happy shall he be that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us." Impressed by the text, the management once pinned a copy to the door.

Then one day their most valuable customer — a man of astounding capacity — paused to read it and was knocked flat when someone pushed his way through the door. The card was promptly removed.

Sharp-faced, with iron-grey hair, Miss Trelawny has brought the gospel to sailors for 29 years. She first got the idea when a boatswain, torpedoed during the First World War, told her he had saved his life by clinging to a floating case of Bibles. He suggested that she do something to bring Bible teachings to sailors.

"I never thought much of men until I met that boatswain and discovered his love for the Bible," Miss Trelawny says. "I think I would have married him except for one thing. . .

"One night when we were at a movie I discovered he couldn't read."

Q.W.I. Service Fund Fills Its Purpose

The Quebec Women's Institutes Service Fund is steadily growing. The provincial treasurer, Mrs. G. D. Harvey, reports a total of $1,451.55 now on hand. The fund, which is supported by voluntary contributions from the branches, is used at the discretion of the provincial board to further work of the Women's Institute. A grant was received from the Quebec Department of Agriculture to assist in defraying expenses of the recent short course in "Leadership Training" held under sponsorship of the Q.W.I., but it was through this fund that the balance of the amount was met. This is but one practical example of the real benefit which will accrue to the organization from having such a fund to call upon as the need arises. For this reason members are giving it whole-hearted support.

Halifax (CP) — A paper-thin strip of shaving with the message, "George Blacklock laid this floor in 1841" was found hidden under the flooring of the Halifax Hotel recently.

GARDEN-GRAPH

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Canadian

If you like dahlias, growing them from seed can be a fascinating hobby if you have the time and are willing to take chances.

Buy a good strain, but don't be disappointed if the blossoms do not come true to description. Seed sown in February will flower the same summer, and make nice tubers.

Sow in flats with a heavy layer of sifted coal ashes under the sandy leaf mold to prevent damping off. The seed may germinate in five days and must be kept growing rapidly in a sunny window. Water only in the morning, by immersing the flat in a pan of tepid water.

As soon as the seedling is about two inches tall it may be transplanted. Soak the flat thoroughly before doing this. The first transplanting can be into paper cups in place of pots. Move the seedlings into large size pots as the root system develops.

Nip out the centre two leaves of each seedling to make them branch. Set out when warm enough, pot and all.

You can expect blossoms by August and good-sized tubers for next year. You can decide from the second year's flowering which ones are worth keeping.

Most flowers are cut in the bud stage or before they have reached full bloom, but this is not true of dahlias. They will keep longer if cut when fully opened.

The stems crush easily, therefore cut only with a sharp knife or shears. The stem should be cut on an angle so that it can absorb lots of water. Cut in early morning or evening, not in the heat of the day.

"Killing Time"

By NAT W. JACOBS, K.C.

The matters that I would discuss here deserve the consideration of the public mind, because they make for better citizenship.

In the first place, it may be noted that the average reader spends only 6% of his time in reading.

The difficulities in making full and proper use of books are greater today than ever before. Truly, the "battle of books" is on.

Frankly, what do most of us care about books? How much do we spend on books as compared to what we squander on frivolities?

The public seems to be content with "sales value". The fact that a book sells, is their criterion. This is wrong. We need, deserve and should demand better standards.

I cannot enumerate all the good books, for I have not the ability or the knowledge to attempt such a gigantic task. I know this much however, that books differ in worth as much as pure diamonds differ from topaz or glass.

Good books are not easier to find than good friends. Reading of good books is ours for the asking. It is possible for anyone, even though not a student, to develop a taste for it.

John Bright, a great man in the public life of England in his time, was once asked what was his most valuable desire . . to which he answered, "a taste for good reading". By that, he meant that good books bring us closer to life; they are the cornerstones of character-building, and charts on the sea of life itself.

Our lives are limited, and we love escape from our own narrow circles. Good reading helps us to float safely on the vast oceans of imagination, it increases our experience, it fascinates us with the drama of human life.

Reading is as necessary as eating and sleeping; and we should be as careful about our choice of books as we are in the selection of our food. A person wandering about in a crowded city, is, of all persons, the most lonely — similarly, those who take to books by chance or at random, are most certain to meet but few books that are worth reading.

Idle curiosity is definitely harmful. Those who form this sort of reading-habit apparently do so with the object of getting to the end quickly. They turn to the last chapter of the book with a sigh of relief, but they are not happy with their reading — they cheat, they skip, so that they can boast that they have read the book, and they take credit for reading or learning on false pretences.

Do not read just to kill time — this is the keynote of my thought. For those who read to kill time, might as well take a walk or go to sleep — it will do them more good — less harm, at least.

I do not say that reading for wholesome or innocent entertainment, or that books which amuse, should be discarded. In this sad or mad world of ours, a good laugh is worth while, but I persist — idle reading as a general habit is dissipation and should be avoided.

There is no human factor so potent for good, there are no greater benefits we can receive, than those to be derived from good books. We should, by all means, avoid the effects of inhaling literary garbage — we should have nothing whatever to do with literary tramps. We must learn how to discriminate.

The vast majority of books we shall never read — a great proportion of books are not worth reading at all. Perhaps it would be better for some to keep away from books altogether. What is certain, is that we must seek advice and follow a system. We must organize our tastes in order to reach the best books. We should remember that every book taken up without a purpose, is an opportunity lost. Every bit of chance or stray information we cram into our heads, is utter waste. This reading is soon forgotten. Let us recall the poet's lines: "deep versed in books, yet shallow in himself".

Books cannot do better than their writers. Therefore, we should try to learn something about the authors before we take to their books.

We should make certain that we know how to read, which is as important as knowing what to read.

Books should be teachers and not ornaments. How depressing it is to enter a home and see a beautifully-kept library, with all its standard sets luxuriously bound, yet with pages uncut — all, of course dusted daily, but never by any chance read. A library like this is a pitiful sight, just a place for show.

Most people do not read anything but the newspapers — and most people in a sort of automatic or mechanical way, quickly pass over matters which are deeply serious and require concentration. However, no one will deny that the newspaper is a household necessity, and that it frequently imparts facts and knowledge, even if in a scattered fashion. Newspapers, so to speak, have become a habit, generally a good habit.

The one thing that can be said about newspapers is that they seek to improve conditions and reform our living for the better. But, here we have the $64 question: "Do newspapers always achieve this purpose?"

The next question I ask, is: "What are we to do about our reading? Of one thing I am certain, we must learn to discriminate. We should be conscious of the fact that good reading impresses the thoughts that speak and the words that breathe; that good books may be the voices of the past and the dead, but they still speak.

Organically, the Shakespeares, the Miltons, the Byrons, the Macaulays, the Tennysons, the Twains, the Leacocks, the Langvilles, the Heines are dead, but their knowledge, their wisdom, their teachings, their wit, will live on forever in the books they wrote.

I have already compared books and reading to charts on the sea of life. To avoid shipwreck, we must pursue proper guidance. There are really no fixed rules, but the following observations may serve a useful purpose:

(1) Avoid reading to be in style. Do not read a book because your friend told you to do so. Can you be sure your friend has read the book, or does he speak from hearsay?

(2) Keep away from books that are widely advertised. Publishers who spend vast sums on popularizing their books, may have "lemons" on their hands.

(3) Do not look for bargains in books. A good book is cheap at any price.

(4) Never judge a book by its cover. The fact that a book appears in fancy binding and with beautiful illustrations, does not prove it is worth reading.

(5) Avoid suggestive or immoral books. Good reading should appeal to the brain and not to base instincts or passions.

(6) Get away from the habit of borrowing books. Possess your own; you will cherish them all the more. Books, like umbrellas, are seldom returned.

(7) Be systematic in your reading. Aim to read with a purpose. Be constant and consistent. Don't jump from one theme to another at the same reading.

(8) Read fact, fiction, or novel, but make sure that these have a living and vital message and depict life naturally and truthfully.

(9) Whenever possible, consult the critics. Read reviews. Learn all about books and their authors first.

(10) See good movies, especially those which portray good books. This method is very impressionable. Movies tell a story, playing or living the whole thing out, while we sit and look. What we see we remember longer. Just as in books, there are good and bad movies, and we must discriminate.

Finally, I would leave this thought in parting: "Do not read just to kill time". This is murder, in every degree.

Grim Outlook for Flood Victims Returning To Fraser Valley, B.C.

Vancouver (CP) — The "ghost towns" of the Fraser valley are coming to life once more. Almost deserted when the first surge of the Fraser River swept through puny dikes, town and farm homes are opening up.

The road back is a road of misery for many of the evacuees. They returned to find stoves rusted, kitchen cupboards warped and twisted, floors warped, carpets ruined, walls stained and soaked and bedroom suites a total loss. Water-soaked furniture crumbled at the touch of a finger.

The Agassiz district, 75 miles east of here, is typical. Already more than 100 families are back in their homes after health authorities pronounced houses fit for habitation.

Now the tough part of the battle begins. An example is the home of Jim Campbell and his wife. The first thing they see is the silt left by the last tenant—4½ feet of muddy river bottom.

The living room ceiling has a gaping hole 6 by 10 feet, cut by Mr. Campbell to allow him to move his furniture above the water. Previously he had mounted the furniture on stilts, but finding this elevation too precarious, he donned his bathing suit, swam into the house through the window, and cut the hole in the ceiling. Most of his lighter furniture is safe and dry.

Less fortunate home-owners, like the J. F. Melnyck's, had not time to move much of their furniture. Water virtually ruined the chesterfield, bleached the varnish off tables and chairs, and dissolved the glue in furniture.

After cleaning up sediment-covered floors with shovel and broom, farmers have to attack the land. Fields are buried under inches of mud. Silt is piled up against buildings like snowdrifts.

Timber Wolf Spree Is Menace to Moose

Cranberry Portage, Man. (CP)—Timber wolves are killing moose in northern Manitoba and one definite case has been investigated by Game Warden Joe Robertson. Walter Asmus, returning with a load of fish from one of the nearby lakes, was a witness to part of the struggle between a large bull moose and two wolves, and reported the fight to the game warden.

About 10 miles from Cranberry Portage, Robertson discovered evidence of the fight the bull moose had put up, and found the partly eaten carcass.

This, combined with the fact that fewer moose are reported in the woods, has led trappers and others to renew agitation for the use of poison in order to kill off the wolf population.

Mid-Summer Weddings in Lachute and District

Marriage Ceremony at Margaret Rodger Church

Riley - Cleland

At the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church on Saturday, June 26, at four o'clock, the marriage took place of Miss Elma Isabella Cleland, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Cleland, of Lachute, and Mr. Kenneth Prowse Riley, younger son of the late William Thomas Riley and of Mrs. Riley, of Montreal, the Rev. Charles Maclean officiating. Mrs. W. M. Cottingham was at the organ, with Mrs. Florence Argall as soloist. The floral decorations were arranged with baskets of white and pink peonies and summer flowers.

The bride was attended by Miss Phyllis Riley, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, and Miss Mabel Beattie as bridesmaid, with Miss Barbara Riley, niece of the bridegroom, as flower girl. Mr. Irving Cleland was groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Howard Riley and Mr. Stanley Cleland.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of blush satin fashioned with fitted bodice, fastened down the back with tiny buttons, her full skirt extending into a short train and long fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her finger-tip veil of tulle illusion fell from a coronet of blush satin, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white and American Beauty roses.

The maid of honor was wearing a gown of aqua parchment taffeta having a fitted bodice, short sleeves and a full circular skirt. Her headdress was a coronet of matching taffeta. The bridesmaid was similarly dressed in pale pink parchment taffeta, also wearing a coronet of matching taffeta. Both carried bouquets of variegated sweet peas. The little flower girl wore a floor-length gown of pale yellow taffeta, having a tight fitted bodice and a full skirt and short sleeves; her headdress was a bonnet of matching taffeta, and she carried a colonial bouquet of pale yellow roses and blue cornflowers.

Mrs. Cleland, the bride's mother, wore a delphinium blue crepe afternoon dress with black accessories. Mrs. Riley, the bridegroom's mother, wore a black and white printed crepe afternoon dress with black and white accessories.

The reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, where peonies and summer flowers were used to decorate. The bride's table, centered with the wedding cake, was decorated with summer flowers and lighted candles.

The couple left later for Ottawa, Thousand Islands, Toronto and the Niagara district to spend their honeymoon. The bride wore for travelling a two-piece teal blue suit, white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations. The couple will reside in Montreal.

Married Recently at St. Matthew's, Grenville

Noble - Gauley

The marriage of Miss Gladys Gauley, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corl Gauley, of Grenville, Que., and Mr. Ernest (Red) Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Noble, also of Grenville, took place at two-thirty o'clock Saturday, June 26, at St. Matthew's Anglican Church, the Rev. A. E. Hawes officiating. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Russel Owens. Baskets and bouquets of summer flowers composed the decorations, the guest pews being marked with white satin ribbon and peonies.

The bride was attended by Mrs. George Holt, sister of the groom, as matron-of-honor, Miss Merle Gauley as bridesmaid, and Miss Esther Gauley as junior bridesmaid. Mr. Jim Noble was best man for his brother, while Mr. Elmer Gauley and Mr. Leonard Welden were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long-sleeved gown of white lace and tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt. The long veil of tulle illusion was fastened to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

The matron of honor, in orchid taffeta, carried a spray of yellow roses. The bridesmaid, in pale blue sheer, carried a colonial bouquet of summer flowers, while the junior bridesmaid, in pink sheer, carried a similar bouquet.

A reception was held at the Century Inn, where a buffet supper was served to approximately 175 guests. The bridal table was decorated with flowers and centered by the wedding cake.

The happy couple then motored to Toronto, Niagara and other points in Ontario. For travelling the bride wore a fuchsia shorty coat over a blue jersey dress, and white accessories. They will reside in Grenville.

Couple Pledge Vows At Mille Isles, Que.

Rickaby - Black

June roses and ferns formed the setting for a pretty ceremony at the Presbyterian Church, Mille Isles, when the Rev. George Norman officiated at the marriage of Barbara Edna Black and William Roy Rickaby.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Black, of Mille Isles, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rickaby, of Montreal. Miss Lillian Pollock played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Pollock sang "Because".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Windsor white bridal satin with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt with bustle effect, her tulle finger-tip length veil being held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath with maiden hair fern. Her only ornaments were pearl earrings and a necklace.

Miss Hazel Noble, the bride's only attendant, was attired in pink rayon sheer with shoulder-length veil, and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations, baby's breath and maiden hair fern.

Mr. Leon Rickaby, brother of the groom, acted as best man, while Messrs. Percy and John Black were ushers.

Mrs. Black, mother of the bride, wore a dress of black flowered crepe with black accessories; her corsage was of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Rickaby, mother of the groom, wore a grey suit with white accessories, and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Kerr's Farm, Lakefield. Later Mr. and Mrs. Rickaby left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a grey ballerina suit, with white accessories. On their return they will reside in Verdun.

Member Feted by Baptist Young People

A surprise party was given at the home of Pastor and Mrs. W. H. Britton by the young people of the Lachute Baptist Church in honor of Miss Margaret Burke, Y.P. treasurer and a teacher at the Bible School, on the occasion of her birthday.

Family worship was conducted by Pastor Britton, and the Rev. Harold Charlton of Orangeville, Ont., brought a brief message, followed by games, after which the Rev. Britton presented Miss Burke with an album of sacred recordings, on behalf of the young people. Miss Burke expressed her surprise and sincere thanks. Refreshments were served, including a birthday cake. Assisting the hostess were Misses Muriel Boyd, Lillian Brown and Mrs. L. Plummer.

The happy evening was brought to a close with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds".

Even if the young people did stay home at night, they'd be lonely without their parents.

Come to Church

"And the hour shall be filled with music,
With songs, and praise, and prayer;
And the burdens of life shall be lifted
From all who enter there".

IT IS good for us in the general uproar of the world to pass through a season of quiet meditation and put our fingers on our spiritual pulses and see what kind of life we are living. We cannot best estimate our own life in the noise of the street and the turbulence of the world and need to retire within and shut the door that we may see with a quiet eye and balanced judgment what manner of persons we are. The world is too much with us, and late or soon we spend our spiritual substance in wordly ambitions and anxious living. Simply to step into the seclusion and quiet of a church tends to cool our fevered pulses and calm our agitated hearts and give us peace. God is the great need of our souls, and while we should always live in His presence, yet there are times and means for realizing in a special degree his nearness.

TEACH THE CHILDREN TO SWIM
Swimming days are here again! It's a wonderful sport : : : but it can be a dangerous one, particularly for the kiddies. You can help remove this danger. For example, never let the youngsters go into the water except under the supervision of an adult swimmer—and as soon as they are ready, teach them to swim! Next time the kiddies want to go for a dip, round up the gang and go with them: You can guide them—guard them : : : and surely that is "Good Citizenship".
You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Q.W.I. Gesture to Aid Flood Victims

An expression of sympathy for members of the Women's Institutes in British Columbia residing in the areas devastated by floods, was recorded at the recent annual convention of the Quebec Women's Institutes. This was given tangible form in a motion that recommended each branch in this province send at least three each of the following articles — hand towels, bath towels and face cloths. These are to be sent to Mrs. Stella Cummow, Superintendent, of the B.C.W.I., Victoria, to be distributed by her where needed. It is pointed out that assistance need not be limited to the above, but it certainly will fill a need with those housewives who lost everything in the flood disaster.

Good Taste in Meals

Fresh fruits for summer desserts are a bonanza to the homemaker on summer days. Cherries and berries are ready just when hot weather demands something to tempt the appetite.

Fresh raw berries are always greeted with enthusiasm when served with sugar and cream but for those who want to do something more interesting with these two beautiful fruits, the home economists of the Consumer Section, Ottawa, suggest two desserts and a cake.

Old fashioned Berry Cake never fails to win acclaim. This cake, spicy and full of berries, will keep moist for several days . . that is, if there is any left from the first meal.

Spice-Berry Cake

⅔ Cup shortening, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 eggs, 3 cups sifted pastry flour, ½ teaspoon soda, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ⅔ cup milk, 1 cup raspberries.

Cream shortening with brown sugar, add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift flour, soda, baking powder, salt and spices. Add alternately with the milk to the creamed mixture. Fold in berries. Pour into 2 greased 9" cake pans. Bake in a moderate oven 350°F., 35-40 minutes. Cool. Spread berry icing between layers and on top.

Berry Icing

½ Cup fresh raspberries, 2 cups icing sugar, 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Crush berries, add sugar, beating well. Then add melted butter. Beat until smooth and fluffy.

Fruit Crush

3 Cups fruit (pitted cherries, strawberries or red currants), ¼ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1½ tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup cold water.

Crush fruit, add sugar and salt. Bring slowly to a boil. Add gelatine that has been soaked in the cold water for 5 minutes. Add to hot fruit mixture, stirring until dissolved. Chill until firm. Serve with custard sauce. Yield: six servings.

Note: With very sour cherries and red currants, increase sugar to ½ cup.

Steamed Cherry Pudding

2 Cups pitted cherries, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour (or 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted pastry flour), 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons shortening, ½ cup milk.

Place pitted cherries into the greased top of a double boiler. Add sugar. Mix and sift the dry ingredients, cut in fat, and add the milk. Spread the dough over the berries. Set over boiling water, cover and steam 35 minutes. Turn out to serve. Yield: six servings.

Buying by Grade Protects Consumer

Canadian housewives who buy their canned fruits and vegetables by grade have few causes for complaint. When they pay a small premium for Choice grade they are confident of getting a better product than that labelled Standard. If they order Fancy grade, they get the best.

But behind this confidence are the Inspectors of the Fruit and Vegetable Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, whose job it is to interpret and enforce the canning standards. That it is a big job is readily seen when it is realized that 98 per cent of the fruits and vegetables canned in the Dominion are subject to national grading regulations.

The object of the regulations and the training of the inspectors, is not only to protect the consumer by providing a satisfactory product, but also to see that it is uniform wherever it may be bought throughout the Dominion.

To show how strict Canada's grading regulations are, a can labelled Fruits for Salad, must contain apricots, Bartlett pears, peaches, pineapple, and maraschino cherries, and the proportion of each fruit in the mixture must be in accordance with the established regulations. In addition, the grading for quality of the salad, must correspond with the quality grading regulations for all the fruits which it contains.

Though the grading regulations for canned fruits and vegetables are strict, they do reward the conscientious grower and canning company, just as they penalize the careless; and they protect the eventual buyer of the products—the housewife who buys by grade.

London Fashion Show To Be Biggest Ever

More Than 231 British Firms Work Overtime on "New Looks"

London (Reuters) — London's couturiers and fashion firms are working overtime to prepare for the capital's big fashion show to be held from July 19 to 30.

More than 231 firms will put on the biggest parade ever for overseas buyers. This is expected to strengthen the reputation of London as a world fashion centre and also to help the export drive.

Invitations to visit London for the show have been sent to leading buyers in 30 countries, including Canada, the United States, South Africa, Egypt, and South America and Western European countries.

Sixty-six model firms, 40 furriers, 22 milliners and 23 couturiers have banded together to make the "marathon" show a success.

The "big eleven" name of fashion houses, including Norman Hartnell, Molyneux, Digby Morton, Victor Stiebel and Worth, will participate.

Hartnell, who designs Queen Elizabeth's and the Princesses' clothes, says he has some fashion secrets up his sleeve.

London intends to be the best-dressed town in the world during the show. Overseas buyers will see fashion displays at their luxury hotels at cocktail time. Models will walk along the main thoroughfares in the west end in the latest "looks".

Brownsburg Again Victorious, at Alfred

Brownsburg—The highway from Brownsburg to Alfred was packed with Brownsburg ball fans last Sunday, when over 200 travelling by bus, station wagons, cars and motorcycles took to the road to back the home team — who beat their closest rivals by the score of 16 to 7.

It was good ball all the way, and the score is certainly no indication of the play; it was Brownsburg's hard hitting, plus the pitching of Maurie Thompson, who scored 10 strike-outs, that won the game. Alfred used up four pitchers; it looked like everybody but the mascot had a try at it.

After the game Jack Roberts, canteen manager of C-I-L at Brownsburg, presented Roger Prud'homme with $5 for hitting a home-run in the fifth inning.

Next Sunday Brownsburg plays in Wendover; anyone wishing to go by bus, please contact J. J. Seary or W. Tessier.

Following was the line-up for last Sunday's game — R. Prud'homme C, M. Thompson P, F. St. Onge 1B, J. Murdoch 2B, R. Maude SS, H. King 3B, K. Simpson LF, F. Leroux CF, B. Petley RF. Spares — M. Vallee, R. Summers, M. Legault, B. Tessier, P. E. Hebert.

"ALONG THE FAIRWAYS"

Don't forget the Mixed Tombstone competition coming up Sunday, July 11. Second round of the Jones Cup is to be completed by July 12, and the qualifying rounds for Club "B" class and "C" class championships in the offing for July 17, 18 and 19. Consult your fixtures card.

The Thursday night Men's Sweep produced no less than four in a tie for second low net, 66 each. It also produced a nonchalant 35 for the nine from the well-wielded weapons of that willowy walloper from Windsor, Arthur Lapp. A mixture of quality and control!

Others took a few more on the nine that night. We hear Art St. Onge is now taking lessons. Jack Reade won the high gross. . . So goes the game of golf.

Barrie Elliott picked a fine Saturday morning and the second round of the Jones Cup, to chalk up a very well played 80 and eliminate Ord Anderson.

Royal Raymond's 88 gross on Sunday was enough to eliminate Dick Richardson from the Jones Cup first round. It was also good enough to win the week-end sweepstakes.

The boys tell me they are going to be real tough about the handicap business, and three 18's must be handed in each month. Loss of handicap means loss of competition privileges. Plead your case with the captains.

Every Thursday night is Men's Ball Sweepstakes, and ladies are requested to please refrain from teeing off between the hours of 6 and 7 in the evening of that day.

Thursday Night Men's Ball Sweepstakes, July 1 —

1st low net, H. M. Kerr, 64.
1st low gross, A. Lapp, 70.
2nd low net, four-way tie with 66, includes K. Alcock, R. B. Elliot, O. Carrière, R. Gravel.

Saturday and Sunday Men's Ball Sweepstakes, July 3-4 —

1st low net, Royal Raymond, 58.
2nd low net, Roger Gravel, 64.
3rd low net, Herb Thorpe, 66.
4th low net, M. Assaly, 69.
1st low gross, J. Reade, 81.
2nd low gross, J. Findlayson and Art Lapp tied with 82. (J. Findlayson wins the toss).

Spirited Contests In Three School Municipalities

In contrast to the apathy of a few years back, when commissioners were nominated or returned to office, with the public knowing little and caring less — a school board election today is a matter of major interest in these parts. Increased consciousness of the importance of education, and public concern in the administration of school matters, accounts for the more general participation in these affairs.

The poll of 315 ballots last year, out of a possible 530 ratepayers, was considered high. Last Monday in Lachute there were 318 votes cast, but in the meantime the eligible list had increased to around 800, due to inclusion of Chatham in the School Municipality of Lachute. The vote, therefore, shows a percentage decrease from last year.

Winning candidates of the four local contenders were Stuart J. McFaul and Geo. F. Calder, both re-elected. The results, as reported by Secretary A. Taylor, were:

S. J. McFaul 266, G. F. Calder 202, Geo. Y. Deacon 114, Jas. C. Logan 31.

Lachute Protestant School Commission is therefore unchanged, as follows — Jas. W. McGibbon, chairman, G. F. Calder, S. J. McFaul, Ross Muir, Douglas G. Bradford.

In the Township of Gore, there were four aspirants for two vacancies on the board. The secretary, Mrs. W. Shearsmith, Lakefield, reports the following result: Wm. S. Andrews 31, Wilbert A. Sherritt 30, Haddon I. McDonald 25, Jas. Thompson 25.

The successful candidates, Messrs. Andrews and Sherritt, are newcomers to the school executive.

School election returns in Brownsburg, as furnished by the secretary, Geoffrey Scudamore, are as follows: Five school commissioners to be elected, nine candidates nominated. Percentage of electors voting, 61%.

George McCormick 110, William Brown 84, Wesley Mason 81, Hugh Morrison 75, Patrick Reilly 72.

Unsuccessful contenders were John Connelly, Alex Dixon, Wm. King and Thos. Anderson.

Big Doings, Unfamiliar Scenes Along the River Rouge

DREDGING PROJECT STRAIGHTENS COURSE AT EXPENSE OF NATURAL BEAUTIES

Along the quiet valley of the Riviere Rouge a scene of upheaval is marring the placid landscape. A large-scale drainage project is now underway, commencing in the region of Rodgerdale and working upstream. Mechanical shovels and bulldozers are changing the appearance of this waterway, deepening the channel and in many sections carving a new course for the river — a job which entails the uprooting of stately trees and removing huge boulders in the line of progress.

The Riviere Rouge (St. Andrews River; or River Rouge as it is commonly known among the English-speaking countryside) appears on the map as a sinuous stream winding through twists and turns. Its shallow bed has caused flooding in the upper reaches extending past St. Hermas into the County of Two Mountains. Spring floods in this area have proved a costly obstruction to farming, and the need for proper drainage has been stressed for 20 years or more. The Quebec Department of Agriculture is now undertaking the project, in agreement with the two counties concerned. The firm of H. J. O'Connell Ltd. are the contractors.

AND BEFORE — A PEACEFUL RIVER SCENE

The process of dredging has thrown up high banks of muck. These are being levelled off by the bulldozers, and although Nature will eventually reclothe the scars, much of the river's charm is disappearing in this ugly upheaval. Replacement of certain bridges will also form part of the undertaking.

Pictures

The two pictures above show, left, a view of the excavations, where the original stream may be seen branching to the left. In the foreground the new course is cut vertically through a pasture. Our reporter climbed ankle-deep over blue muck to look down on this scene. Right, looking upstream, a mechanical shovel on the bank of the new channel.

Election Campaigners Open Fire, Onslaught of Oratory in Argenteuil

LIBERAL SPEAKERS AT CIVIC AUDITORIUM

A large crowd (mostly seated or standing outside the building, on account of the oppresive heat) listened to the Hon. Georges-E. Dansereau and his Liberal campaigners Saturday night at the Auditorium. This was the first public assembly in the Liberal campaign.

Joint chairmen of the gathering were Albini Brunelle, of Brownsburg, and Dave Black, of Lachute. Speakers during the evening were George C. Marler, candidate for Westmount - St. George, Sarto Fournier, M.P. for Maisonneuve-Rosemount, John Long, K.C., Montreal, Guy Favreau, of Montreal, and the candidate, the Hon. Mr. Dansereau. Philippe Valois and Jas. W. McGibbon shared the duties as masters of ceremonies to introduce the speakers.

Proceedings of the Liberal Association took place prior to the speeches. Mr. Dansereau was elected without dissent as the official candidate, and the delegates were then asked to consider a list of nominees to represent this Association at the Liberal convention in Ottawa. The list was duly adopted, as follows: W. F. Brosseau, Huberdeau, W. S. MacKimmie and P. Valois, Lachute; substitutes — W. Jolicoeur, Lachute, W. Chambers, St. Philippe, Ernest Gagné, Brownsburg.

Hon. Georges-E. Dansereau Appeals to Electorate

In 1929, said the Hon. Mr. Dansereau, the Liberals reoccupied the seats of government and inherited an impoverished province. It took a year and a half to restore the credit of Quebec laid waste by their predecessors. The Liberal policy thereafter was to spend according to current revenues. . . In 1944 the provincial revenue was $90-million. Today (according to a claim by Mr. Marler, M.L.A., unchallenged in the House) the revenue was $200-million.

FIRST CAMPAIGN MEETING FOR U.N. CANDIDATE

Following the convention proceedings of the Union Nationale organization, reported fully in last week's issue of The Watchman, the initial meeting of the campaign on behalf of W. M. Cottingham, candidate, was held Sunday afternoon at St. Michel de Wentworth. The rally was addressed by Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P., and Leopold Carriere as Mr. Cottingham's supporters.

Mr. Cottingham said he accepted the official U.N. candidature in the county because Premier Duplessis stood for sound legislation in favor of the working men; because he was fundamentally opposed to Socialism and Communism and particularly because he stood for progress.

Mr. Cottingham said he had completed arrangements with heads of the Government for the undertaking of a vast program of road construction throughout the district and for the promotion of better educational facilities. "As chairman of the Protestant School Board, I will see to the construction of better schools with provincial grants", he stated.

Mr. Héon referred to Hon. Adelard Godbout's 'shaky position' during the present campaign. He thought that Mr. Godbout did not stand up the way he should to Communism and Socialism.

Mr. Héon declared that Premier Duplessis' policies coincided with the Argenteuil English-speaking people's views on educational and business questions.

Prepayment Health Plan Discussed By Rotary Speaker

STORY AND GROWTH OF BLUE CROSS SCHEME

Brownsburg — The Blue Cross hospitalization plan, a project which has enlisted a substantial following and conferred considerable benefit in these parts, was the subject of a talk at the Rotary Club last Thursday. The speaker, George R. Logan, of Montreal, who is a field man and organizer for the Blue Cross, was introduced by Rotarian Frank Burnett, and in conclusion of his topic was extended a vote of thanks by Rotarian A. Arthur McOuat. . . Following are extracts from Mr. Logan's remarks:

Prepayment Health Plans date back many years. We recently obtained a transcript from the archives of the City of Montreal, where it is recorded than in 1655, an agreement was entered into by Etienne Bouchard, Master Surgeon of Ville Marie, and Urbain Tessier, representing 36 others, by which Dr. Bouchard undertook to treat people in consideration of the sum of a hundred sous each year, payable by each of the contracting parties, and that the payment would cover the entire family. . . You will note that the cost of living has gone up slightly since that time.

This instance is, I believe, the first in Canada where it was realized that it is better to pay for your sickness before you are sick, than try to pay for it while ill, or worse still, to have to go into debt to meet such expenses. In 1929 the idea was reborn; in the State of Texas, a group of school teachers found that after budgeting their earnings, very little was left to take care of accidents and sickness. They figured out that, as a group, if each of them was willing to put aside a certain sum each week, and place it in a pool, there would be sufficient money to take care of such unexpected expenses. The plan worked out admirably well, so well in fact, that it did not take very long before the idea spread to employees, with the result that the beginning of Blue Cross was established.

This idea did not gain a strong hold overnight. It took a few years of study and finally in 1933, the American Hospital Association formed a committee to explore the methods of prepayment and to

INTERESTED IN CANADA

Edmonton (CP) British capitalists look "favorably" upon Canada as an investment field but are handicapped by the dollar shortage, Viscount Chaplain, Conservative member of the House of Lords, said in an Edmonton interview.

Truck-Auto Crash Brownsburg Road

Around midnight last Saturday a spectacular crash occurred on Brownsburg Road, at the intersection to Mountain View townsite, when James McOuat driving a light truck collided almost head-on with a car proceeding from Brownsburg to Lachute, driven by Gerald Hammond. Accompanying Mr. Hammond was Carl Demerse, and all three, well known townsmen of Lachute, were injured.

The Farmers' Electric Supply truck, driven by McOuat, was turning into Mountain View when the accident took place. The impact wrecked both vehicles, hurling the driver of the truck across a hedge and onto the lawn of Jack Lavis' residence. Neighbors, hearing the crash, hurried to assist the injured, and Drs. F. W. FitzGerald and R. Lavigne gave treatment. The three were removed by ambulance and taxi to the Providence Hospital — Messrs. Demerse and Hammand suffering extensive cuts and bruises, and Jim McOuat having a fractured collarbone. Demerse was the only one detained at the hospital for observation.

Patrolman Albert Legault, of Brownsburg, investigated the accident, while other police officers were on hand. A large crowd of spectators and a line-up of automobiles jammed the highway.

Town Extensions Before Council

TO STUDY REQUEST FOR STORE CLOSING AT 6 P.M. SATURDAYS

An adjourned meeting of town council was held Tuesday, with Major A. Bothwell presiding and all members present.

A request was heard on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, to enact closing of local stores at 6 o'clock every night except Friday. The council considerd this a matter for further study, and the question was held over for future action.

Accounts were passed for payment totalling $8,900.

A motion was passed to extend the town's 4-inch water main from the France Larocque property, Main St. West, to Alex Barker's, Lachute Road, with two hydrants installed — the work to commence next Monday.

A motion was also approved establishing the subdivision plan of cadastral lots 1402-1403, Parish of St. Jerusalem, now part of Lachute Town — the said land belonging to Gordon Cruise — according to the plan prepared by Seraphin Ouimet, surveyor. This subdivision comprises 80 building lots.

Petition for laying of a sewer on part of Chatham Street was granted by council.

It was resolved that in future all fuel for the Auditorium and Town Hall be purchased by tender.

Fire Chief Geo. Y. Deacon divulged the fact that tires on the town fire truck had been in use, without blow-out or failure, for 14 years. On the Chief's recommendation it was agreed the tires should be replaced, at a cost of $400.

Councillors voted favorably on a decision to retain Jacques Poulin, surveyor, of Ste. Agathe, to prepare a plan of the complete waterworks system, at a fixed rate of $1,500.

Police Chief D. Villeneuve was authorized to represent the town at the coming congress of police officials, July 30-31, August 1-2, at Rimouski.

The council endorsed a vote of sympathy to the family of the late Archie D. McGibbon, in his recent passing. Mr. McGibbon was a former occupant of the mayoral seat and an active participant in civic affairs.

We Grow – In All But Civic Stature

"What's Wrong with the Traffic Committee?" might more aptly head this front-page complaint — and the question is on everybody's lips.

Last Thursday two cars crashed at the intersection of Barron and Robert Streets. Last Saturday a more serious collision happened at the intersection of Barron and Grace. . . The need for stop-signs at the Barron Avenue crossings had been discussed many times at council meetings, and recognized by the councillors — as far back as a period when "lack of materials" was the excuse for delay. Today there is no lack of materials.

In previous years, some success in the control of centre parking on Main Street has been effected by white lines marked on the pavement. This year there are no markings. The result is disorderly parking of trucks and cars, at all angles and all distances from the centre; and worse still, the obstruction of crossings from several side-streets — all of which is inconvenient at busy hours.

New buildings, new Neon signs — new bus routes, new taxi operators, new traffic — new crowds, new faces, and a bigger influx of summer visitors — yes, this town is growing fast, in everything but the civic stride!

Scores Freak Triumph, Hole-in-One at Golf Course

Joe Dumais played a second ball off No. 8 tee on the local golf course last Friday night and watched it hit the concrete on the right-hand water hazard, bounce up onto the green, and trickle into the cup for a par three in two strokes. . . Such an occurrence is even more unusual than the coveted hole-in-one.

Tells Origins of Local Place Names

Last Saturday proved an interesting day to the members and friends of the Historical Society of Argenteuil, who gathered at Carillon Museum and were given an address by Notary Gaetan Valois of Lachute, on the origin of French place names in Argenteuil. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. G. F. Kuhring, who also paid tribute to the late Dr. H. B. Cushing and to his painstaking efforts in behalf of the Museum. "The three stalwarts, Dr. B. N. Wales, Dr. Maude Abbott and Dr. H. B. Cushing, have passed on and it is our bounden duty to carry on the work with still greater endeavor, and in this way cherish the memory of those great souls for their long and useful life".

Mr. Valois, who is busily engaged in writing a book of his memoirs, gave an interesting talk of early days. In speaking of Vide Sac (empty bag), he recalled the St. Hermas people settled extra children in Vide Sac with food bags for length of stay, and when empty they would go home for more. River Rouge was the border between farmers in spite of its crooked course — origin of name unknown. St. Philippe, part of "La Branche", stream of four branches. Carillon, originally named after a smuggler.

One day Col. Bye in Montreal was told there was a good water power up the Ottawa. His first stop was at St. Andrews and he was told, "Why go so far? There is a good water power on the North River (Lachute)". He got there and was received by Rev. Mr. Bradford. He was disappointed at the falls. Mr. Henry Hammond's mother had broken her churn, but nothing daunted, she soon churned enough to make some butter for the meal and Col. Bye returned home. . . Lachute might have been By-town, but missed its destiny.

Youth Drowned In Rouge River

Harrington — Arthur McVicar, 17, the son of Victor McVicar, of Harrington, was drowned in the Rouge River near his home on Tuesday afternoon. The accident occurred while the victim was bathing in the river a few hundred feet downstream from the bridge to Rivington. Four younger playmates were the only witnesses of the accident.

Miss Marguerite LeClair, and her brother Jean-Denis, told Dr. Jules Lafleur, the county coroner, that the victim had been rolling a pulp log along a sloping rock at the water's edge. He slipped and fell into the river. Unable to swim, he was quickly carried downstream by the swift current. His friends were unable to give him any assistance.

As soon as the alarm was spread, operations were undertaken to recover the body. Within two hours Coral Young, of Harrington, brought the body to the surface about a hundred yards downstream. After a careful examination, Dr. Dwight Smith, of Kilmar, pronounced the victim dead. The coroner's jury delivered a verdict of accidental death by drowning.

The funeral is being held in the Anglican Church at Calumet this afternoon, Thursday.

Orangemen Attend Ottawa Celebration

Around 150 members of the L.O.L and L.O.B.A. from this county, travelling by rail and highway, attended the 12th July Orange commemoration at Lansdowne Park, Ottawa, on Monday. The number from this district included several Quebec Grand Lodge officials, with members from Lachute, Lakefield, Dalesville, Arundel and Avoca, including many ladies of the Orange Order. The oldest member to attend from these parts was Henry Trineer, Calumet, patriarch member of Grenville Lodge, who is 89 years of age.

With representatives from all over Ontario, points in Quebec and the United States, there was a large gathering on hand. It was stated by W. J. Armstrong from the speakers' platform, that the parade surpassed those previously seen in Toronto, which is considered the seat of Orangeism in the East. Mr. Armstrong is editor of the Orange Sentinel. A Montreal band took part in the procession.

Rt. Wor. Clifford Bradley, of Bristol, Grand Master of Quebec, was present among officials on the platform.

An observer of the proceedings notes an interesting fact, in the use of the original prayer from the Church of England prayer book in the 1690's after King William's deliverance of Protestantism.

Preceding these 12th July observances, there was a mass parade and impressive service of devotions on Sunday at Lansdowne Park.

Autos Collide At Intersection

Crashing of metal, timber and concrete alarmed the neighborhood around Grace St. and Barron Avenue, Saturday evening at 6.30, when a taxi travelling east, driven by Philippe André, Lachute, collided with a car proceeding down Barron, operated by Robert Arcand, Lachute. Crashing at the intersection, Arcand's automobile swung across the sidewalk, hit a tree and plunged into a hedge surrounding the Fournier residence. Neither driver was hurt, although both cars were considerably damaged.

Cst. Albert Legault, of Brownsburg, investigated the accident.

Plans Laid for Annual Lachute Open Tournament

With the president in the chair, a meeting of the various committees was held at the Lachute Golf Club last Thursday night to set in motion plans for the big Annual Open Tournament, to be held Saturday and Sunday, August 28-29. Various resolutions concerning expansion and improvement of this sports classic were discussed and adopted. Advertising booklets containing score card, ticket on draw, and many other interesting features, are to be prepared, as was done last year, and members guarantee distribution of a minimum of two thousand of these. It is hoped by the committeemen that district merchants and businessmen will once again take advantage of this medium, and at the same time give a boost to an event which is helping to put this town on the sports map.

It was also tentatively agreed that amateur play on Sunday, August 29, would be cut to those with handicaps of six and under, thus limiting the field to top amateurs and professionals and providing first class entertainment for the spectators. Once again the big names of golfdom will be on hand to give their usual brilliant display. Facilities for accommodating in comfort the ever increasing crowds which attend this event, have been greatly extended over the past year, and it is fully expected that the 1948 "Open" will be the biggest and best to date.

Accidental Death, 8-Year Boy Falls From Hayload

The tragic death of Donald Silverson, aged 8 years and one month, occurred at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Silverson, six miles east of Lachute, in the early evening of last Friday, July 9.

Donald, his father and brother Harold, were loading hay, when the horses suddenly lowered their heads and jerked the reins which Donald was holding, unbalancing the lad, who fell over the front rack of the wagon, landing on the back of one of the horses and thence to the ground.

A physician was called and, on examining the boy, found no bones broken, but unfortunately the little victim succumbed about an hour and a half later. . . The coronor, Dr. Jules Lafleur, gave his opinion that death resulted from an injured spleen caused by sudden impact with the horse's back.

The largely attended funeral service, conducted by the Rev. W. H. Britton of the Lachute Baptist Church and the Rev. Geo. B. Hicks, of Dalesville Baptist Church, was held Sunday afternoon at the Dalesville church. Burial took place in the cemetery at that place, the pall-bearers being four cousins — Messrs. Robert Dixon, Ronald Kennedy, Raymond and Norman Reside.

Left to mourn his loss are his father and mother, his elder brother Harold, and twin brothers Willie and Willis.

Aged Woman Dies After Fall

In the early hours of Sunday morning an aged lady at Morin Heights, Mrs. Margaret Brenagan, 86, met sudden death in falling down a flight of 13 stairs. She was found by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Babskin, with whom she was living. Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur, investigating the death, was informed that the aged lady, rising from her bed, had gone to the door of her room and staggered, falling down the stairway. The coroner pronounced her death due to natural causes, giving his opinion she had succumbed to heart failure as a result of shock.

Notary Appointed to University Position

Owing to his appointment as Professor of Notarial Practice at Montreal University, Roger Comtois, who has been associated with Notary G. Valois for some time, is now leaving Lachute to take over his new duties. He carries with him the good wishes of friends in this town. It is expected that Mr. Valois' son Simon, will fill Mr. Comtois' place, and the firm name will now be known as Valois & Valois.

REPORT HAIL STORM

La Salle, Man. (CP) — A severe summer hail storm cut a half-mile swath through La Salle, severely damaging gardens. Other crops suffered only minor damages.

Gatineau LINES

During the past few months the people of Quebec have heard quite a bit about the problems of Western Ontario where a large and expensive plan has been launched to change the provincially-owned electrical system from 25 cycles to 60 cycles. The question is not one to bother the people of the Gatineau area — because 60 cycle has always been available for their use — but it makes an interesting story.

While 25 cycle power can be transmitted over long distances more economically than 60 cycle power, there are some very definite disadvantages in the design and cost of 25 cycle transformers, electrical motors and more particularly in electric lighting.

To the average person, it is in electric lights that the difference is most noticeable. Using alternating current — which is the kind generally used — the electricity flows to and fro through the light bulb many times a second. Every time it flows it encounters resistance in the wires of the bulb and makes them white-hot. It is this light from the white-hot wires in the bulb which creates electric light. When the current alternates or stops for a fraction of a second, the wires cool off.

All this happens very quickly — in a 25 cycle system 25 times a second; in a 60 cycle system 60 times a second. In the 25 cycle system, however, the change occurs slowly enough for the wires to cool, and causing the lights to fade. This alternate lighting and fading causes the lights to flicker. In the 60 cycle system the wires don't have the same opportunity to cool, and so the flickering is not noticeable. This, of course, is why the 60 cycle lights are preferable to the 25 cycle lights.

The people of Gatineau area are fortunate in that they have always had a 60 cycle system. As a result there is no noticeable flicker in the lights they use, and they do not have to face the inconvenience of changing their radios, clocks, and refrigerators and other motor driven equipment over from 25 cycle to 60 cycle operation.

Dr. Barton Remains As Deputy Minister

Dr. G. S. H. Barton, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who has reached retirement age, has been asked by the Dominion Government, to continue in his present position until June, 1949.

Dr. Barton's contribution to Canadian agriculture as Deputy Minister since 1932 is well known. The war naturally added increased responsibilities, for Canadian food and agricultural supplies soon became just as essential as the more tangible weapons of war used on the actual battlefield. During that time Dr. Barton was a key figure on most of the Allied committees whose task it was to keep supplies of food and other agricultural commddities flowing to Allied countries and armed forces overseas.

In the international field he headed the Canadian delegation to the original United Nations Conference on Food and Agriculture at Hot Springs, Va., in 1943, and has attended all subsequent conferences of the Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO) in 1945, 1946 and 1947. At the 1947 Conference in Geneva, Switzerland, Dr. Barton was appointed Canadian representative on the Council of the Organization. The Council acts as an executive body of FAO to keep the world food and agricultural situation and inter-governmental commodity arrangements under constant review, with a view to stimulating action and co-operation among member governments.

In view of Dr. Barton's broad experience of Canadian agriculture and his intimate knowledge of world food and agricultural conditions, the Government considered that his services should not be lost to the Dominion Department of Agriculture at the preent time.

Weeds — The Farmer's Constant Problem

Most things depend upon the point of view of the beholder, and even some of the flowering weeds can be attractive — on someone else's farm. But to the practical farmer, however attractive the flowers, and however euphonious their names — foxtail, shepherd's purse, tumbling mustard—they are only hindrances which create a constant problem to efficient production.

One of the reasons that weeds remain so great a problem, despite the development of new and more powerful weed killers, says G. A. Elliott, Associate Chief of the Plant Products Laboratory Services, Dominion Department of Agriculture, is that so many are put back into the soil through improperly cleaned seed. Some weeds are so prolific in seed production that relatively clean fields can become badly contaminated in two or three years if the weeds are allowed to go to seed, or if poorly cleaned crop seed is sown.

A single plant of wild mustard, stinkweed, pigweed, foxtail or campion produces about 10,000 to 20,000 seeds; shepherd's purse about 50,000, and tumbling mustard as many as 1,500,000 seeds. And so inconspicuous are these seeds that their presence is not readily noticed.

Milk Production Decline

Total farm milk production for Canada in the month of April was nearly eight per cent less than that of April, 1947, according to the June Dairy Review of Canada, following the trend shown in the first two months of the year.

Fluid sales for the month were five per cent less than those of the same month a year ago. Fluid milk declined nearly three per cent while fluid cream on a milk basis was reduced by almost 14 per cent. Sales of milk by provinces showed decreases in all sections of the Dominion, except in British Columbia. Cream sales decreased in all provinces.

Milk used in dairy production fell approximately 12 per cent below that of April, 1947. All provinces shared in this reduction except British Columbia.

Farm income from dairying in April, however, was about 20 per cent greater than that recorded in the same month of the previous year. Milk sold off farms for all purposes averaged $2.99 per hundred, as against $2.27 per hundred in the corresponding month of 1947.

Imported Cabbage Worm And Its Control

Imported cabbage worms are the velvety green caterpillars which feed on cabbage and cauliflower, riddling the foliage with holes of irregular shape and size . . . . Two other caterpillars are sometimes troublesome, the cabbage looper and the lava of the diamond-back moth, but fortunately all three species may be controlled quite easily with arsenical or derris dusts.

With late cabbage, dust the plants with one part of lead arsenate diluted with four parts of hydrated lime or talc, preferably in the early morning or late evening when the foliage is wet with dew. Try to obtain a light even coating of dust but pay particular attention to the centres of the plants where feeding is most prevalent. Lead arsenate is considerably more effective than calcium arsenate for the imported cabbage worm, and for this reason a home-mixed lead arsenate dust is to be preferred to the ready-mixed calcium arsenate dusts commonly sold by seed stores. Injury to late cabbage occurring in July is usually of little importance for the plants eventually outgrow the early injury, so apply the first dust during the first week in August and repeat the applications at ten-day intervals. A minimum of two applications will be required to protect the plants where the insects are numerous, and three to four applications in outbreak years.

Early cabbage usually requires no treatment for the imported cabbage worm, but in outbreak years considerable injury may occur to the heads shortly before harvest. In this case, substitute a proprietary derris dust for the arsenical, since the derris residue is non-poisonous to humans. Because of the poisonous residue, arsenics should not be used on cauliflower once the heads have started to form.

Mr. Duplessis:
SPEECHES DON'T BEAT COMMUNISM!

Duplessis is telling the voters of Quebec that "the Liberals are giving billions of our money to foreigners".

WRONG!

The Liberals are not giving. Since the war, they have been lending Canadian dollars to the British and to those brave "foreigners" — the French, the Belgians, the Dutch, the Norwegians and others — who were our allies during the war and whose countries were ravaged by Hitler's hordes. Every cent of that money stays in Canada — much in Quebec.

The Liberals are lending to those "foreigners" for these reasons:

To feed, clothe, house and provide medical treatment for millions of brave men, women and children who risked their lives for us during the war.

To show these heroic people that we, the Canadians, have a heart and are their friends; that they do not need to turn Communist to get a chance to live again.

To provide these millions of people with millions of Canadian dollars they spend in Quebec and the rest of Canada; and, in that way, keep big markets for our farms and factories, keep up purchasing power at home, and furnish Canadians with more jobs and wages than they ever had before.

Duplessis knows this; of course, he knows all this.

He knows the Liberals are not giving away billions of dollars to "foreigners". He will say the Liberals gave $154,000,000 to UNRRA. Yes, it's true if you call it giving to get back more than three times that amount in U.S. funds for the purchase in Canada of our agricultural products.

He knows the Liberals are merely doing their best, like the people of other democracies, to stop Communism from sweeping the world, from sweeping away our Quebec way of life. The United States of America are giving billions of dollars to Europe and Asia to fight Communism and save the American way of life.

Duplessis knows that, while he is making speeches about Communism, the Liberals are doing something about it.

BUT DUPLESSIS WANTS TO HIDE SOMETHING

Duplessis knows that the Liberals, by keeping Quebec and Canada busy and prosperous, make it possible for all of us to give him more tax money to spend than he ever had before. That tax money is the money which, l'Union Nationale boasts, "Duplessis gives" to the people of the Province of Quebec!

VOTE LIBERAL and BEAT COMMUNISM!

Happy Holidays

THIS is holiday time and almost everywhere in Canada the trek is on, to cottage and wilderness, mountain and seaside. But whether pleasure-seekers go to an exclusive resort or pitch a pup tent under the pines, they need to practice two essentials for a happy holiday — care and common sense.

Even the man who wanted to go camping instead of visiting his mother-in-law, can have a good time planning how to spread his fun over his long-awaited two weeks' vacation.

We've all seen people who worked so hard at enjoying themselves during the first three or four days of their holidays that they were physical wrecks for the rest of the time. It is a good idea to take it easy at first — only brief spells in the water and on the beach at the start of the holiday period, a two-mile hike instead of a 10-mile trudge until muscles toughen, a row around the breakwater instead of across the lake that first glorious afternoon and so on.

But more to be pitied than the exhausted would-be "iron-men" are the unfortunates who bear the scars of vacation mishaps until late in the fall. For the unwary, many perils lie in wait.

Knowing how to spot poison ivy can avert days of torture. Insistence on pasteurized milk instead of raw milk, a little care in making sure water is uncontaminated, and a foolproof system of handling meat and other perishable foods will help ward off a spell of sickbed. Knowledge of first aid and of artificial respiration may save a life.

Holidayers should be carefree but not careless. Then their memories of a refreshing respite from the daily grind will brighten the long 52 weeks until holidays roll around again.

Last one in's a dead fish!

It Can Be Done

AGAINST a background of flags of all democratic countries, union and management representatives of 1,500,000 men met recently in a great demonstration in the heart of the coalfields of Britain. They presented evidences of "The Miners' Answer" to 2,000 delegates including members of the Greek, Italian and British Parliaments. "They came from the coal mines of France, Holland, Belgium and Germany to find an answer to the problems of Europe," we are informed in a report of this gathering.

Peter O'Connor, who worked for 40 years in the Scottish coalfields, is credited with having struck the keynote of the conference. "The spirit of teamwork among men", he continued, "and between management and men, is the answer to coal production. We will never get production by telling men to work harder. And men just producing more coal will not save Britain, but men producing more coal, and guided by God, will save democracy."

Introducing the German delegation who represented 880,000 men, August Halbfell, Minister of Labor of North Rhine Westphalia, who had been seven years in a Nazi concentration camp, said, "Now the call is going out to all the mineworkers for Moral Re-Armament, so that the right force shall prevail everywhere in our nation. That is the great hope of Germany today."

From the Rhondda Valley coal areas of South Wales, called Little Moscow because of intense Communistic leanings, a trainload of miners came. And from Northern France. "Let us be realistic," said Monsieur Joseph Sauty, secretary of 200,000 miners in the Catholic Mineworkers Union of that section. "The world is divided into two camps. We have to choose whether we will follow the great line of Christian civilization or take the road based on materialism. This is the hour for getting together, the hour for courage to put moral standards into action in our personal and family life, our work and in our trade union life."

Old Age Is What You Make It

YOU, who feel old before your time, should consider the following statement which appeared in a recent issue of The Rotarian. After all, we're said to be only as old as we feel.

At the age of 77, Benjamin Franklin went to Paris to serve his country, and after 80 wrote his famous Autobiography.

At 80, Plutarch began to learn Latin, Socrates to play musical instruments, Cato to study Greek.

Clara Barton founded the first National Association for First Aid at 84, took up typewriting at 89.

Gladstone at 80 started his campaign to overthrow the Conservative Government, became Prime Minister of England at 83.

Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt extended the mileage of his railroads from 120 to 10,000 miles between the ages of 70 and 83, earning more than 100 million dollars.

Von Moltke still served as chief of staff of the Prussian Army at 88.

Galileo Galilei discovered the diurnal and monthly changes of the moon at the age of 73.

At 89 Michelangelo painted immortal canvases, at 82 Goethe completed "Faust", at 85 Verdi composed "Te Deum", and at 83 Tennyson wrote "Crossing The Bar".

All of which goes to prove that man has no "best age". It's by what you make of it that old age is measured.

YOUNG PEOPLE who fail to choose a life activity which gives them a purpose and provides them with satisfactory self-expression, are like Carlyle's unhappy people: "No landmark on the earth; no lodestar in the heaven."

— Campbellton (N.B.) Tribune

"Quote from Yesterday"

"THAT MAN is a success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who leaves the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul; who never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who looked for the best in others and gave the best he had. His memory is a benediction."

— Robert Louis Stevenson

Lachute School Board Asked to Make Public Statement of Policy

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

The elections for the Lachute High School Commissioners are now settled for another term, and a statement of policy of this board should be publicly made.

For the past five years, the teaching staff of our school has been laboring under difficulties due to overcrowding of pupils, and a little over two years ago, a public meeting of taxpayers was called to discuss this problem. At this meeting, the school board was given permission to proceed with plans for enlarging the school, with the proviso that these plans be submitted to the ratepayers for approval.

As far as I know, there has been no public announcement regarding progress made. It is now up to the new board to make such announcement and to submit a public statement to the taxpayers, either through the medium of the press or by public meeting.

Blue Cross Plan

assist in the formation of prepayment plans throughout the country. With the help of hospital and medical authorities, the idea grew. Blue Coss was formed with the object of service to the community.

All good ideas spread; it was not long before Blue Cross became international. In fact, in 1933, while the Amercian Hospital Association was studying "group hospitalization", many committees in Canada were doing likewise. In 1938, under the auspices of the Central Council of Social Agencies in Winnipeg, Manitoba, was formed the first approved Blue Cross Plan in Canada.

Other plans soon developed in Canada. In 1942 special legislation was obtained incorporating Quebec Hospital Service Association as a body without capital stock and without monetary gain, for the purpose of entering into contracts with individuals or groups of individuals to provide hospital care and treatment in consideration of the payment of a periodic fee, and to enter into agreements with hospitals established for the caring of the sick.

All governors and officers serve without remuneration, and during the brief period we have been in operation, many of these gentlemen have given freely of their time at considerable personal expense.

I would like to tell you a little of what we have done, what we are doing and what we hope to do. . . Membership in the plan being on a group basis through the place of employment, it was not long before many groups were enrolled. In fact, during the first year, 468 groups were formed, representing a total of 29,361 participants. During this first year $71,000 was paid to the hospitals for the care and treatment furnished to our subscribers. By 1944 our membership had increased to 63,188 persons and during that year the hospitals received $228,000 for the services rendered to our subscribers. It was during this year that the Association in keeping with the non-profit principle, increased subscriber benefits without adjusting the subscription rates.

As time went on, it was quite evident that hospital bills were in most cases accampanied by surgical or medical bills. The Association accordingly applied to the Provincial Government for the permission to offer medical and surgical care. . . The immediate response was somewhat overwhelming; during the first three months of 1947, the Association received applications for surgical care to cover in excess of 100.000 persons. Today, the Association throughout Quebec is protecting some 384,358 persons for hospital care, 221,059 for surgical care and 139.489 for medical care. During the past year we have paid to hospitals the sum of $2,115,403.11 for care and treatment rendered to our participants.

The objectives and purposes of Quebec Hospital Service Association are to provide a means whereby persons may budget against the expense of illness for themselves and the members of their families, to stabilize hospital income, to improve and to raise the health level of the community. In other words, we are striving towards providing services which will make this country a better place in which to live, to make it possible for people in all walks of life to obtain adequate hospital and medical care without the fear of expense; and to provide such services on a non-profit basis so that the highest possible percentage of funds may be returned to the subscribers by way of benefits.

In this community, with the cooperation of such groups as the Rotary Club, we can make Blue Cross available to everyone who is unable to join a group through their place of employment.

An Arab was taken in a car across a very bumpy section of the desert. So bad was the going that at last the car overturned and the Arab was thrown out. Instead of turning in anger on the driver, he picked himself up and with an apologetic air said: "I haven't learned to ride one of these things yet."

Joanne had been a rather naughty girl nearly all day. When her mother was putting the little girl to bed, she patiently reminded her of her nightly prayer. . . "and, Joanne", she continued, "ask God to make you a good girl tomorrow".

Joanne looked inquiringly up at her mother and then asked brightly: "What's on for tomorrow?"

Forest loss is your loss...

Panic : : : despair : : : a lifetime's work burned out by a careless match, a smouldering campfire. This is not only one innocent man's loss—the guilty seldom suffer—but a serious loss to every Canadian. Timber, wildlife and streams, basic elements in our national economy, are all destroyed by the forest fire.

By observing the simple rules of the woods, which every real camper and sportsman obeys, you can help prevent the forest loss which costs Canadians nearly four million dollars a year in timber alone.

HELP PREVENT FOREST FIRES
1. Throw cigarette ends in the water or snub them out on a rock.
2. Break used matches in two.
3. Build campfires near the water on rocks or well cleared mineral soil.
4. Make sure your fire is out before you leave it unattended.

The Language of the Trees

Have you ever heard the voices of the maples
As they whisper soft and low at eventide?
Have you ever heard the laughter of the birches
When they shake with mirth as gentle breezes glide?

Have you heard the ceaseless chatter of the poplars
As they gossip to each other hours on end?
Have you heard the lordly elms proclaim their message
When sweeping gales their mighty branches bend?

Have you ever breathed the tang of cedar hedges
When morning dews have tipped
each leaf and blade?
Have you ever caught the perfume of the lilacs
As it wafts at evening sunset down the glade?

If you've never heard the message of the forest,
Or enjoyed the sight and perfume of each bower,
You have missed the sweetest message Heaven sends us,
For God dwelleth in each leaf and branch and flower.

Brownsburg Keen in School Board Election

By Watchman Commentator

Brownsburg — There seems to be no wavering of interest in things educational within the Brownsburg Protestant School area. The election results Monday night were awaited as anxiously as if the outcome had the political significance of its big brother in the larger sphere, and the prolonged counting of the votes had its dramatic moments as the various conflicting bulletins were issued to the crowd waiting outside the school building.

Arthur Campbell, who is an old school commissioner himself, contributed a humorous interlude by a play upon words of the specimen voting-ballot posted on the doorway. This had to do with King William and the Battle of the Boyne, which appropriately enough was the anniversary date — July 12.

It is so long since there was a contest for seats in the Protestant school board that memory fails to recall. There were changes of personnel at one time or another, but without the necessity of a formal election. This year the board was enlarged from three to five members, so that a whole new slate was being voted for. The keen interest can be judged from the high percentage of property-holders who voted — over 60 per cent casting their ballots.

The outgoing board had done a good job and left a clean record of sound administration. The provincial government, within whose orbit education is administered, recently took over the debts of the Brownsburg Protestant and Catholic schools, so that now the incoming board starts with a clean ledger.

As is usual in such matters the old board, no matter what its record, after a long period in office enters the election lists burdened with "two strikes" against. . . The ambition of the voters is to instill new blood — "give some other one a chance". Well, this result was no different; a completely new panel was elected and we are left to await — and with confidence, because the new board is a sound one — another year before assessing results.

Liberal Rally Held at Lachute Auditorium

Reviewing his efforts for this county while serving as Minister of Roads and Minister of Public Works, Mr. Dansereau recalled that — with a restricted budget at the outset of the Godbout regime, followed by warime curtailments and labor shortage — he had still been instrumental in achieving several projects — the Lachute-Brownsburg Road, No. 8 Highway from Grenville to Pte. au Chene, the Rouge Bridge, and White's Bridge at Lachute. The Liberal Government had also contributed substantially to the new Brownsburg and Grenville Catholic schools; to the rebuilding of the Huberdeau orphanage destroyed by fire; and renovation of the Montfort orphanage which had fallen into disrepair. . .

Mr. Dansereau recalled, also, that his father while representing Argenteuil at Quebec had literally pioneered the routes from Lachute to Morin-St. Adolphe, which had been little better than wagon trails. Concerning these highways, 30 and 31, Mr. Dansereau recognized their increasing importance today, and pledged his influence, if re-elected, to have them improved and hard-surfaced without delay.

Spirited Supporters

John Long, K.C., made reference to the constructional work on Montreal highway under the U.N. government, alluding to this stretch as "Sunset Drive — a few miles out of St. Hermas". He had a vehement word for the issuance of roads and works contracts without tender, and compared this province unfavorably with Ontario in matters of taxation. . . George C. Marler, M.L.A., with his added experience in Montreal's executive administration, launched a heated criticism of present Quebec policies. . . Sarto Fournier, M.L.A., drew loud applause for his spirited address, which waxed to a crescendo to successfully outspeak a bibulous heckler at the rear of the hall.

Extensive Damage in Week-End Hail Storm

A severe hailstorm with thunder and lightning, climaxing the oppressive heat last week-end, swept through this area Sunday afternoon and caused damage to crops and properties. The havoc is reported over a district extending from the Ottawa Valley northward to Lakefield. Grain, corn and hay crops were beaten flat in River Rouge and the Lachute Road districts; in some cases loose hay was whirled into fantastic shapes. Orchards and apple crops were also damaged, while in this same area and towards Lakefield trees were uprooted, and windows were broken in homes and farm buildings. In spite of the hot weather, it was reported hailstones could be "scooped up with a shovel" for some time after the storm. Electric power services were disrupted several times.

Skunk "Rescued" by Valorous Cyclist

(Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews E. — A teen-age summer visitor, while cycling along the River Road saw a small animal moving along the rodside, pushing an object in front of it. A closer ispection revealed it was a skunk with its head in a jam jar. Dismounting, the girl took hold of "stripey" with one hand and the bottle with the other and soon released the head. The happy animal ambled away, leaving only a light scent on his rescuer's slacks. . . The also happy girl felt her good deed was worth a (s)cent!

PUT YOUR WATCH TO BED

Montreal (CP) — Jewellers here say if your watch is losing time, it's taking a beating from humidity. When humidity goes over 55 per cent, watches like human beings, slow down. The answer — especially in the case of a wristwatch — is to take it off, put it in a cool place and give it a day's rest.

'Open House' at Life Boys' Camp This Week-End

St. Andrews East —

Plans are complete for a feature week-end at the Life Boys' camp, on Albt. Dorion's farm — an event to which the public are cordially invited. Starting Saturday morning, a field day will be held; all boys of the town are invited, as well as those at Tyndals Camp. The afternoon will be devoted to an aquatic meet, and a display of Life Boy work. In the evening a special camp-fire program will climax the day's events, featuring Cst. J. Archer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He will act as reviewing officer in the afternoon, and will tell some thrilling stories at the camp-fire. Cst. Archer will be in full uniform.

On Sunday, the boys will attend service in the morning, and will conduct an evening "fireside" service in the United Church, similar to the one successfully held last Sunday. The Rev. C. A. Selby, who has now arrived at camp, will participate and there will be selections by the choir, Cpl. John Shepherd and Miss Elsie Dorion. The singing will be led by organ ad piano, played by Miss Wales and Capt. J. Howard Richardson.

Sunday afternoon will be "open house" again, with Cst. Archer as special guest. During his stay at camp Cst. Archer will conduct daily inspection as well as take an active part in the program.

Several astronomers are expected to visit the camp this week, that the boys may gain further knowledge concerning the constellations. This, along with motion pictures, will provide thrilling programs in the evenings.

Brownsb'g Beats Tough Opponent in Wendover

Brownsburg — Local softballers won their hardest game of the season, against Wendover last Sunday, by the score of 9 to 4! The score was no indication of the play, as it was a real battle all the way, and it is considered Wendover will be Brownsburg's biggest threat in the play-offs.

Manager Maurice Danis handled the team like an old-timer, and the results certainly prove that when he switches players, he knows what he's doing. The Brownsburgers hit them in the eighth inning to score four runs, and that was the safe margin that won the game, because up until this point it was a touch-and-go contest.

The baseball schedule finishes next Sunday when Fassett visits Brownsburg, and then the teams go right into the play-offs.

With first team playing third, and the second playing fourth (2-out-of-3), the winners of the semi-finals will play 3-out-of-5 for the championship of B Section of the Papineau League. They will then play off with A Section for the League title.

So the fans may anticipate some real good ball for the remainder of the summer.

Following was the line-up for last Sunday's game: R. Prud'homme C, R. Vallee P, M. Tnompson P, F. St.Onge 1B, M. Legault 2B, R. Maude SS, H. King 3B, K. Simpson RF, F. Leroux CF, B. Petley LF. Subs—W. Tessier, R. Summers, J. Murdoch.

Art of Piping Revived In Old Glengarry

The art of piping has had a rebirth in old Glengarry. Once a bit of Auld Scotia transplanted in Canada, this home of the MacDonalds, MacLeans, Munros, MacRaes, Grants, Morrisons, Camerons (names that ring like the roll call of the Clans at Culloden), had forgotten the music of the Gael.

But in 1942, Pipe Major Stephen MacKinnon of Montreal — one of Canada's great masters of the Pibroch — visited Alexandria once a week to conduct classes in piping.

Already his young pupils have won recognition in piping circles and two of them, Beverly Campbell and Connie Kippen, will compete at the Glengarry Highland Gathering to be held in Maxville, Saturday, July 31.

The program for this event features Piping and Highland Dancing, Track and Field Events, while Pipe Bands from all over Eastern Canada and Northern New York State have entered the competition for bands.

Over 15,000 people are expected attracted by the music and games of Auld Scotia.

Lachute Golf Club
Special Commentary

The weatherman, who has consistently frowned upon the ladies' Wednesday afternoon tournaments this year, finally relented and they were able to run off a two-ball foursome July 7. They have also completed the first round of the Drew Trophy and the field is narrowing.

Thirteen of our lady members attended the big field day at Kanawaki Club last Friday, and Mrs. Dorothy Rigg did us proud by walking off with a tie for low gross in the Bronze division. Nice going, Dorothy!

The mixed tombstone competition was rained out last Sunday. The mixed team championship draw should be out by now, and play will get under way next week at the latest.

The Jones Cup is down to the semi-finals, with Barrie Elliot vs. Jack Reade, and René Coté vs. Royal Raymond. July 26 is the date for competition of third round down to finals.

Seeing Barrie Elliot's name in there reminds us to congratulate him once again. This hardy hitter is pulling the right club out of the bag every time these days, and covered nine holes at Marlboro in 37, over the week-end. Was two under par after six holes — which is good golf, they tell me.

Pièce-de-resistance of the week was provided by Joe Dumais last Friday night. Joe's feat is given prominence elsewhere in this edition — but we add here that such a performance only goes to prove the old adage "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again".

8 Years in Litigation, Suit Decided In Favor of Brownsburg Corp'n

The Supreme Court of Canada on June 25 last rendered judgment putting an end to a long drawn-out litigation, between J. A. Auclair, contractor of Giffard, near Quebec, and the Corporation of the Village of Brownsburg. A review of this case makes an interesting story. . .

In 1940, at the beginning of the war, due to the fact that hundreds of workers with their families had come to Brownsburg to work in the munitions plant — the Brownsburg Council decided for reasons of public health to provide the municipality with waterworks and a sewerage system. The Council accordingly consulted Messrs. Gohier & Dorais, civil engineers, of Montreal, asking them to prepare plans and estimate the cost of the complete system — the works to include a dam at the intake, a chlorination plant, a sewerage system, and a septic tank — the engineers' fees to be included in the total cost. . . The engineers complied with this request, estimating the total cost at $152,556.

Legal Preliminaries

The Municipal Council, in order to take advantage of Federal legislation of 1938 known as "The Municipal Improvements Assistance Act, 1938", next applied to the Federal Government to obtain a loan for this amount, at the rate of 2% per annum — which loan was duly granted by Ottawa.

The Municipal Council then adopted a loan by-law to authorize the borrowing of this amount, which by-law was duly approved by the ratepayers and by the Department of Municipal Affairs at Quebec.

The Brownsburg Municipal Council thereupon instructed its engineers to prepare final plans and specifications, and to call for tenders for the construction of the whole project.

The engineers prepared plans and specifications and called for tenders — the lowest of which was that of J. A. Auclair — and at a meeting of the council held September 11, 1940, a resolution was adopted accepting Mr. Auclair's tender for the sum of $118,240.

Clause in Tender Obstructs Proceedings

However, after this meeting of the council, it was discovered that all the tenders contained a clause to the effect that "rock excavation was to be paid for, at an extra charge of $3 per cubic yard". The members of the Council had not been advised by the engineers that rock was to be paid for as an extra charge.

The engineers had made no soundings in order to estimate the volume of rock to be excavated at this extra cost, and no one could therefore calculate the total cost of such a contract. The Mayor of Brownsburg (at that time, Mr. Albani Brunelle) after consulting with the other members of the council (at that time Messrs. Hector Pariseau, G. I. McFaul, W. J. Graham, Romeo Charron, Demias Dyotte and Lemuel Wilson with Emile Hebert, secretary-treasurer) and their legal advisers, refused to sign any contract of that nature with Auclair. Such a contract would have been, in effect, for an unknown and unlimited amount — while the corporation by its by-law was limited to the sum of $152,556; moreover, it would have been in direct violation of Article 627A of the Quebec Municipal Code, which forbids a municipal council from entering into contract for the construction of any public works, until the council has appropriated the money required for the cost of same.

Mayor Brunelle, on September 14 following, called a special meeting of the council—at which meeting the councillors unanimously rescinded the resolution accepting Auclair's tender; they similarly cancelled all the other bids mentioning extra for rock excavation, and instructed their engineers to call for tenders for the over-all project.

Tenders were received on September 25, and the lowest tender, that of Napoléon Lagacé, was accepted.

Lawsuit Instituted For Damages

Mr. J. A. Auclair immediately instituted action against the Corporation of Brownsburg for the sum of $25,000, alleging breach of contract, and accompanied the action with a writ of injunction to prevent Lagacé from executing the contract.

The injunction was contested, and the writ was quashed by judgment of Justice Louis Cousineau, dated November 16, 1940.

The principal action for the sum of $25,000 was defended by the Corporation on the grounds that no contract had been entered into between the said Mr. Auclair and the Corporation, and that the Municipal Council had the right to rescind its resolution, as it had done.

After a long trial, the judge of the Superior Court condemned the Corporation of Brownsburg to pay to Mr. Auclair the sum of $5,000 as damages for breach of contract together with all costs.

Judgment Appealed

This judgment was appealed to the Court of King's Bench, appeal side, in Montreal, by Brownsburg Corporation; and by unanimous decision the court reversed the judgment of the Superior Court, dismissing Auclair's action — and holding that, inasmuch as no contract had been signed with Auclair, the Municipal Council had the right to rescind its resolution accepting Auclair's tender.

Appeal Judgment Upheld

Mr. Auclair, however, appealed this judgment of the Court of King's Bench to the Supreme Court of Canada, and the latter Court confirmed the judgment of the Court of King's Bench of the Province of Quebec, holding that the municipal council of Brownsburg had the right to rescind its resolution accepting Auclair's tender, and that no binding contract had ever been entered into between the Corporation of Brownsburg and Auclair.

Thus, "Finis" may be written to this case, which may be consided something of "cause celèbre" in the administrative affairs of this district.

Messrs. Legault & Legault, advocates of Lachute, acted for the Corporation of Brownsburg.

ST.EUSTACHE MAYOR FACES COURT ACTION

St. Eustache, Que.—Proceedings to unseat Mayor Paul Gagnier as mayor of St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac have been taken in Superior Court. Mr. Justice Gerald Fauteux issued a writ of quo warranto and hearing will take place later.

The petition submitted by Romeo Turgeon, lawyer, on behalf of Georges Dube, a journalist of St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac, alleges that Mayor Gagnier has been sitting illegally on the town council since last February.

It is claimed that he is not the owner of property worth at least $300 as required by law.

"Notwithstahding his incapacity to sit on the council," the petition adds, "the defendant took part illegally in the town council's deliberations and participated in the adoption of by-laws."

Man Drowns from River Craft Near Chute à Blondeau

The body of Maurice Garceau, 21, of Yamaska, who was drowned Friday in the Ottawa River above Chute à Blondeau when a Canadian International Paper Co. float upset — was found Sunday evening at the south shore of the river some distance below the scene of the mishap.

Maurice Carpentier and Paul Emile Lariviere, of Chute à Blondeau, made the discovery while walking along the river bank near the wharf.

Employed by M. Robidoux, contractor, Garceau lost his life about 11 o'clock Friday morning while engaged in bringing a government dredge up the river for the C.I.P. It is reported the crew were adjusting a cable to tow the craft upstream. (The accident is attributed by valley residents to hazardous navigation in low water, caused by neglect to repair a break in the Carillon dam) . . With Mr. Robidoux and two other workers Garceau was pitched into the river when their float was upset in the midst of a swift current. Although a good swimmer, Maurice could not overcome the current. His three companions succeeded in reaching shore.

Dr. H. H. Kirby, of Hawkesbury, the district coroner, declared death to have been accidental. The fatality was investigated by Constable J. P. Trudel of the Ontario Provincial Police.

'Bobby' Locke Will Be Lachute Visitor August 29, Annual Open Tournament

FAMOUS SOUTH AFRICAN PROFESSIONAL ENTERS CONTEST HERE

The president of Lachute Golf Club, Gilbert E. Ayers, disclosed to a meeting of the Tournament Committee last Thursday night that "Bobby" Locke, internationally famous golf professional from Johannesburg, South Africa, had signified his intention of competing in the Annual Lachute Open Tournament this year.

Locke's entry brings to this tournament the world's most famous golfer, a name to conjure with on fairways and greens wherever the game of golf is played. There is only one precious trophy which so far has eluded this fabulous shotmaker, and that is the United States Open. Despite this fact, Locke remains the most feared and respected man in competition today.

The war cut into his golfing activities. He flew as pilot of a heavy bomber with the R.S.A.A.F. through the worst of it. Demobilized at the end of hostilities, he left his club, on the outskirts of Johannesburg in the great gold belt of the Transvaal, for the folding money of the lush U.S.A. summer circuits. Since then his name has become a legend in golfing circles, as he leaves course records and phenomenal scores scattered over four continents and literally hundreds of clubs. He won the Canadian Open last year at Toronto Scarboro with the unheard of total of only 268 strokes for 72 holes of play. (Divide that by four!) Incidentally, he has collected a sizeable fortune on the way.

A perfectionist with every stroke, the feature of his game, if any feature excells the others, is his putting. "Bobby" gives full credit for this to an ancient wooden-handled putter which he inherited at a very early age from his father. Sports writers on the U.S. circuits, astounded by his performance on the greens, labelled him "Puttin' Pete".

Bobby is big, personable and genial. He is a sportsman of the old school, even to the point of insisting upon wearing plus fours in this age of slacks. His personality and performance has brought much to golf and the sporting world in general. As a visitor from a sister dominion in the Commonwealth, as a fine sportsman and gentleman, and, last but not least, as a golfer than whom there is none better — he is welcome indeed on this, his second visit to Canada and his first to this part of it.

BANK HOLD-UP AT ST. JEROME

St. Jerome, Que. (CP) — Loss in a robbery last week of a Main Street branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale was set at $15,000 after bank officials checked their books.

The bank was robbed by a red-haired gunman who is believed to have diverted police to the north end of the city by pulling a false fire alarm before he entered the bank.

Provincial police, who set up road blocks immediately after the robbery, said the gunman walked into the bank shortly before the 3 p.m. closing hour.

With customers and other employes unaware of what was going on he pointed a pistol at Miss Morand and told her in French "this is a holdup — give me the money."

Scooping up the cash, he fled in a car.

Child Drowned At Lake Anne

At Lake Anne near Morin Heights at 7.30 o'clock Monday evening, a two-year-old tot, Malcolm Savage, was drowned in shallow water near the summer cottage of his grandfather, W. S. Johnson.

The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Savage, Montreal, had apparently wandered away from a group of playmates. As soon as he was missed, the family and neighbors searched the surroundings, and the little body was found floating offshore in two feet of water. Dr. A. Nesbitt, of Ottawa, a neighboring visitor, applied artificial respiration, but without avail.

Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, investigated the mishap next morning and pronounced death accidental. According to the coroner, the child's parents entertained a belief that the victim had slipped head foremost down a play chute and struck the sandy lake-bottom, losing consciousness.

Lachute Autoist Has Miraculous Escape at Crossing

A Lachute war veteran, Perley Murdoch, counts himself lucky to be alive today — having escaped with only minor bruises, when his automobile was struck by a C.N.R. passenger train Tuesday evening at the Monalea crossing, near the Ottawa river front.

Murdoch was returning home from his shift on the canals, at around 7 p.m., when he failed to see the approaching westbound train. The locomotive struck the rear part of his car, dragging it for well over 200 feet. Murdoch, suspended head downward from the auto, was dragged along the gravel roadbed, perilously near the engine's driving wheels. When the train was brought to a standstill, the train crew were amazed to find the motorist alive.

Murdoch sustained bruises on his legs, and minor cuts. His car was almost completely wrecked.

Lakefield Cleric At 76th Milestone

On Monday, July 26, one the best known citizens of these parts, the Rev. C. W. P. Baugh, of Lakefield, Que., attains his 76th birthday.

During his many years of preaching he has served in the parishes of Papineauville, Arundel, Morin Heights, and in other Anglican parishes outside this county. For his age, he is remarkably healthy and active. Apart from being in charge of Lakefield Parish, he is also priest-in-charge for Morin Heights and Mille Isles, a member of the Central School Board, and of various Lodges.

The Rev. Baugh has lived in Lakefield for the past 13 years, and when he retires he plans to reside here in Lachute. He hopes, however, to continue his work for many years to come.

Lawn Social Held By Arundel W.I.

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel —

The Women's Institute of Arundel held their first big effort of the season last Thursday evening, in the form of a lawn social, held on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Staniforth. Booths of candy, fancy work, home-cooking, quilt raffle, fishpond, and refreshments, were gaily decorated. Especially original was the fishpond, which attracted young and old alike. The fortune-telling tent did a rousing business, and had a waiting list all evening.

The social was officially opened by the president, Mrs. E. A. Bulley, who welcomed the guests. Participating in the program were — Mrs. G. Cooke, soprano; Mr. E. A. Bulley, tenor; Mr. Harry Mannard, bonist; Mr. W. A. Smart, comedian; Miss Elizabeth Foley, elocutionist; and Miss Audrey Pope, tap dancer. Tickets were then drawn by Audrey Pope for the three quilts, and in order of their drawing the winners were — Mrs. Whibley, Sr., Bevan Lake, Miss Marion Dixon, Dalesville; Gordon Moore, Arundel.

A special attraction of the social was the Midway, erected especially for the amusement of the male guests; this was conducted by Messrs. E. A. Bulley, Sid and Jerry Bennett, David Beers, Bob Allan and Si Baugh — and sincere thanks are tendered to these gentlemen whose efforts proved so fruitful.

The president, officers, and members of the W.I. wish to express appreciation to all who contributed to making this initial effort such a success; to Mr. Frank Davis for the use of lumber; Mr. B. Coxen for cartage; the United Chuch for use of tables; and the Girls' Guild for use of the flower baskets; also Messrs. Douglas Cooke and Percy Staniforth, who were responsible for the wiring and lighting. Special thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Staniforth, who so generously proffered their lawn for the event and who worked enthusiastically to make it a success.

Over $187 was realized from this effort — to be allocated to the special School Fair Fund and towards work of the W.I. branch.

Property Transfer

The National Breweries warehouse on Robert Street, to be vacated when the proprietor, Lionel Laurin, occupies his spacious new building on Bethany Road, has been sold to Ernest Laurin, of Lachute, who will use the premises for his fruit and vegetable business. The transfer was negotiated by Jules Lamarche, local realtor.

Roads Become A Major Issue in Election Campaign Speeches Through Constituency

Contradictory Meeting Followed Official Nomination Proceedings

Dansereau (Lib.), Cottingham (U.N.) and Clairoux (U.E.) File Names as Candidates

Three candidates, Hon. Georges E. Dansereau, former minister of Roads and of Public Works in the Godbout Government, W. M. Cottingham, carrying the Union Nationale colors, and J. A. M. Clairoux, representing L'Union des Electeurs (Social Credit), were officially nominated on Wednesday afternoon for the County of Argenteuil in the provincial elections of July 28.

A contradictory meeting followed the nomination proceedings, the speakers being the three candidates, John Long, K.C., of Montreal, Philippe Valois, lawyer, of Lachute, and J. A. St. Andre, of Montreal, in behalf of Hon. Mr. Dansereau; P. Lachapelle and Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P. for Argenteuil, supporting the Union Nationale nominee.

Mr. Dansereau, seeking elections to the Legislature for a 5th term, reviewed his accomplishments while at Quebec, charged that road projects started under his administration had been stopped by the Union Nationale, and held that the province had been on the brink of financial ruin when the Liberal Government assumed power in 1939.

Mr. Cottingham refuted two charges — first that his health was poor, and second that he had consented to "sell the patronage" to Mr. Héon for $5,000 should he be elected. He said he supported Premier Duplessis' agricultural and social platform, and that school commissions had received much aid from the U.N. administration.

Mr. Campbell, of Morin Heights, and Mr. Legault, K.C., of Lachute, were joint presidents.

No Watchman Issue For August 5

Following what has become a widespread custom among weekly newspapers, The Watchman will suspend publication for one issue, August 5, to allow for staff holidays —a vacation which will be especially in order after the rush of election work. For our issue of next Thursday, it is expected that complete election returns from the Argenteuil polling districts will be available for publication.

Customers for printing are asked to make provision for this closing week, and order their needs ahead.

The recent hail storm which caused damage to crops and properties hereabouts, gives significance to the news item concerning a storm in the Red Deer, Alta., district, where it is reported "some flat hailstones were 10 inches across and the bigger ones when melted almost filled a cup."

Local Optician Died at St. Jerome

Late Henri J. Lejour, O.D.

The death of Henri-J. Lejour, O.D., who had conducted an optical clinic here for the past eight years, occurred last Thursday after a brief illness, at his home in St. Jerome. His death, although sudden, followed a long period of failing health which had been apparent to his friends and business associates here.

The late Henri Lejour, 55 years of age, formerly conducted a pharmacy in Lachine, Que. In later years he practiced as an optometrist at St. Jerome and here in Lachute, where he made numerous friends. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, the St. Jerome Chamber of Commerce and the Cercle Universitaire de Montréal.

He is survived by his wife, the former Jeanne-J. Kovachik, one brother and two sisters residing at Lachine, which was his place of birth.

The funeral was held at Lachine on Monday morning.

Milk

At one time several small suppliers delivered milk from door to door in Brownsburg, but today with the advent of pasteurization, milk service has become big business. The Lacasse plant and business recently changed hands for a considerable sum, which may have set other minds thinking as there are three suppliers now offering service. So far there has been no effort to cut prices, despite the keen competition. Increased service and improved products is the keynote in sales talk

Fire Protection

Since Fire Chief Robbins got down to business in rounding the fire brigade into shape, very considerable progress has been made in providing the village with a thoroughly well equipped and efficient firefighting force. So interesting and various have the practice drills become that now, for the first time, there is a waiting list of prospective members applying for positions. The work is being carried out in conformity with the latest and most up-to-date methods of firefighting, and the men are rewarded by a merit system which acts as a really worthwhile incentive.

The equipment has been considerably augmented and improved, and a grant has just been obtained from the Provincial Government which should ease the cost on the municipal council. Several thousand dollars has been expended in providing a fully equipped service within the last year, in addition to a thawing machine which did yeoman service in the difficult freeze-ups last winter.

Householders should note that with the changed telephone service the number to call in case of fire is 2301, giving the number of the nearest hydrant.

Dalesville Bridge

Saturday saw the opening of the Dalesville bridge to general traffic, and road workers have been busy in preparing the approaches since that time. The general contour of the road has been considerably improved, and in all, a good job has been done. This is an important link on Route 31, which has been of late a whipping-post for "letters to the editor" transcending in vivid description the Burma Road of war years. We have mentioned Route 31 before in these notes, and it still remains the foundling of alternating political parties. We have long since come to the conclusion that, until we have a mouthpiece in the government ranks in Quebec, the road will remain — Route 31.

District Rallies on Behalf of U.N. Candidate

Children must be provided with free transportation to school in rural districts, George H. Héon, K.C., M.P., said at 16 Island Lake last week-end, during an address in favor of William M. Cottingham, the Union Nationale candidate

"Nationale Union supporters are discussing real government during the present campaign," Mr. Héon said. "On the Liberal side, it's a campaign of despair, Liberal supporters throwing charges right and left in the hope of having their candidates elected."

With the National Union, he declared, it is a case of discussing good government, sound government, where administrators take the interest of their fellow-citizens to heart. . . "For example, Premier Maurice Duplessis is already paying 100 per cent of educational costs in certain districts," Mr. Héon said. "Liberal Leader Adelard Godbout is promising the payment of 90 per cent of educational costs. We are already 10 per cent ahead of him."

Mr. Cottingham deplored the condition of roads in Argenteuil County. He said he was under the impression that the Liberal Party had considered residents of the riding as "people who wanted to live in the woods, away from everything."

Mr. Cottingham added he would devote considerable time to the improvement of education in the county. "We want our children to learn something", he said. "As chairman of the Protestant Central School Commission, I know the problems and I will find a solution to present difficulties."

Speaking Monday at a meeting in St. Philippe, Mr. Cottingham claimed that "the Province of Quebec now has a government whose business approach is unequalled in the history of Canadian finance."

"A proof of the sound administration of public affairs under the National Union," he said, "is the fact that the government has not borrowed one cent, even for capital expenditures, since February 1946. I believe that it is the first time a government anywhere in Canada has not launched a bond issue over a period of two years." he stated.

"Compare this with the years 1940 to 1944 when the Godbout administration borrowed on 16 different occasions to meet its obligations," he said. In its four years in power, the National Union borrowed on only five occasions between August 1944 and February 1946, and it has not borrowed once since then. The money raised by the five National Union bond issues was used exclusively to

Liberal Meetings Held In North of County

Better roads for Argenteuil County as a means of developing its tremendous tourist facilities were pledged by Hon. Georges E. Dansereau, Minster of Roads and of Public Works in the last Godbout Cabinet, at week-end rallies that marked his campaign as Liberal standard-bearer in the provincial elections of July 28.

Speaking at 16 Island Lake, Montfort and St. Michel, Mr. Dansereau recognized the needs of these separate districts, reviewed his accomplishments while representing his county at Quebec and promised that the all-important highway question, by far Argenteuil's chief complaint, would receive his prompt attention when his mandate is renewed next Wednesday and the Liberal government assumes power.

Mr. Dansereau recalled that less than 20 years ago only the railroad reached 16 Island Lake, with the exception of small and inadequate roads; in 1930 the road to Weir was built, and in recent years the road to Morin Heights had been planned by the Liberal Government in its road program, when the U.N. took power.

When the Liberals returned to office in 1939, Mr. Dansereau said, the finances of the province were in a "deplorable state", all sources of credit had been cut off through the U.N. policy of extravagance

Success Attends Rotary Carnival

Brownsburg — The Rotary Club was favored with mostly fair weather for its annual carnival, held in Brownsburg on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of last week. As a result of this and the support accorded by the citizens of Brownsburg, Lachute and the vicinity, the Club now possesses sufficient funds to carry out its various charitable projects for Argenteuil residents over the next twelve months.

One or two innovations were introduced and proved popular with the children, who also particularly enjoyed the fireworks each evening and the pony rides. The use of the ponies was donated by Wilmer Stevens, of Vankleek Hill, and transportation arrangements were made by Alwyn Stewart, of Brownsburg.

Through the medium of this report, the Rotary Club of Brownsburg wishes to express its keen appreciation of the generous backing given by the local population to this carnival, which thus assured its financial success. The Club also wishes to express its grateful thanks to the many residents who assisted with the work of booth erection and operation during the carnival week.

The winner of the Bendix washing machine was Mr. Joseph Laforest, of 33 Chatham Street, Lachute.

Gatineau LINES

Electricity used by the customers of the Gatineau Power Company is produced from generators which are driven by water power. In this process water is built up behind dams and allowed to fall against turbine blades. The force of the falling water makes the turbine and the generator connected to it, revolve, thus producing electricity. From this process comes the word hydro-electric, or electricity produced from water power.

Since Canada has plenty of rivers and lakes it might seem at first glance that there would always be plenty of water power to make electricity. But rivers depend for their water on rain and snow. During long dry spells the rivers and streams shrink in size — and in the case of smaller rivers, may dry up entirely. If this happened at a power plant, the generators would stop and the flow of electricity would be halted.

To meet the problem, the companies build storage dams, throughout the water shed of the rivers they use. These dams create reservoirs of water which, in many instances, become huge lakes. When the normal level of the river falls, the water is released from the reservoirs and flows down stream — to provide the turbines and generators with a more constant supply of energy.

At Baskatong near the headwaters of the Gatineau River, the Gatineau Power Company has built reservoirs with a capacity of 95,000,000,000 cubic feet of water. Other reservoirs are located at Cabonga, on Gens de Terre Rivers, with a capacity of 45,000,000,000 cubic feet of water. As is the case with most reservoirs, the Company built them and turned them over to the Province to be operated by the Quebec Streams Commission. These huge, expensive reservoirs are many among the precautions taken by Gatineau Power Company in its efforts to assure its customers of electricity, come drought or high water.

Soil Surveys Aid Farm Planning

The value of soil surveys to Canadian agriculture, both now and in the future, is discussed in "The Agricultural Institute Review", contributed by P. C. Stobbe, who specializes in soil and agricultural engineering in the Division of Field Husbandry, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Sketching the early development of soil surveys in Canada from their initiation by the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, some 34 years ago, Mr. Stobbe points out that soil surveys are now carried on in all provinces through co-operation of provincial departments of agriculture, agricultural colleges and the Experimental Farm Service of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The approximate area surveyed to date by all types of survey is about 214 million acres, of which about 135 million acres are occupied land and only 77 million acres are improved farm land. Most of the unoccupied land has been covered only by broad reconnaissance surveys to determine roughly its potentialities and to determine where most detailed work is justified. There are still about 35 million acres of occupied land and some 14 million acres of improved farm land which have not been covered by soil surveys or any kind, although some preliminary inspection trips have been made.

Mr. Stobbe points out that soil surveys are not an end in themselves; their greatest contribution probably is in providing a basis for further investigation. They have aided greatly already in the establishment of soil-climatic zones which are broadly associated with different types of farming, crop zoning and fertility requirements. The location of important agricultural developments, such as irrigation and conservation projects, are based on soil surveys, and similarly, sub-marginal land which should be taken out of cultivation is determined through surveys. The establishment of areas suitable for production of special crops such as tobacco, apple orchards, sugar beets, fibre-flax, and market-garden crops, all owe much to the work of the soil surveyor.

OTTAWA EXHIBITION LIVESTOCK ENTRIES CLOSE ON JULY 30th

The livestock at the Ottawa Exhibition this year will be extended in scope and interest by the introduction of the Shorthorn and Guernsey classes, for which there are a large number of attractive cash prizes.

Prizes in all the other established livestock classes, including horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry, have been increased by one third over last year and an excellent showing of livestock of all types is assured. Many new breeders, especially in the Junior Department, will be showing for the first time.

Closing date for entries in the livestock classes is July 30 and applications must be in the hands of the Exhibition or post-marked not later than that date. Applications should be made on the printed forms which were included with the prize list. This has been widely distributed, but additional copies may be secured from the Central Canada Exhibition Association, Lansdowne Park, Ottawa, if needed.

Harvesting Vegetables

(Experimental Farm News)

Harvesting vegetables is not difficult, but care is necessary to do it well. This is particularly so with vegetables picked from plants which bear fruit all summer and also to those to be placed in storage, says Charles Walkof, Dominion Experimental Station, Morden, Man.

Normally, peas and beans will yield over an extended period, beginning in late June or early July. But careless picking, sometimes done unwittingly, may seriously interfere or even stop further production early in the season. The plants of these vegetables are brittle and easily broken or bruised by careless handling. The recommended practice is to hold the plant firmly with one hand, preferably where the pods are attached and with the other pull the pods off sharply, one or two at a time. Continuous pod production is actually promoted in this way.

Several methods are used to harvest such leafy vegetables as lettuce, spinach, or chard. One of these involves cutting the plants at ground level. Another is to cut off the leaves one and a half inches above the ground. The latter encourages a new crop of leaves to form. Still another procedure is to twist off the plants by hand. This is not favored because it crushes the roots to the extent that they may actually stop growing.

Vegetables intended for temporary, or for winter storage, should be handled as carefully as eggs. They are composed of tender and brittle tissue which bruises easily. Bacteria and other spoilage organisms will quickly enter such broken tissue and cause complete deterioration in a short time. Vegetables for storage should not be thrown around, shaken up or rolled from one place to another. Careful handling is important in getting the most value out of garden products.

THE LAST WORD IN RIDING COMFORT...

The NEW EXTRA LOW PRESSURE

Silvertown by B.F. Goodrich

You'll have the smoothest, safest, most luxurious ride you've ever had . . . cushioned against the shock of running over bumps, ruts, stones and other objects. These big, buoyant, billowy tires smother road shock instead of transmitting it to the car and to you — because they run on only 24 lbs. air pressure!

BUT THAT'S ONLY HALF THE STORY!

A 35% stronger tire body gives you extra blowout protection — longer tire life. Hundreds of skid-resisting edges in the tread mean faster, safer stops.

And — you can also enjoy FREEDOM FROM PUNCTURES! The sensational, new Seal-O-Matic Safety Tube . . . developed by B.F. Goodrich . . . seals punctures instantly, permanently, as you ride.

See your B.F. Goodrich Dealer today!

HERE'S THE REASON:

28-32 lbs. AIR PRESSURE

MORE AIR BUT ONLY 24 lbs. AIR PRESSURE

MORE AIR in the tire and LOWER AIR PRESSURE permit SMOOTHER FLEXING ACTION that cushions all shocks. MORE TREAD on the ROAD gives smoother riding, safer stops and longer mileage.

TO A CANADIAN returning from abroad probably the most meaningful of the flood of sensations to greet him on his homecoming is the distinctive sound of the engine whistle. The low, prolonged wail as the train speeds past Maritime marshlands and fishing streams, quaint Quebec farming communities, rugged northern Ontario, the limitless western plains, or the Rockies' mighty grandeur, is as nostalgic and significant a sound as is bagpipe music to the Scot.

The recent threat of a Dominion-wide railway strike reminded Canadians not only of the importance of the railways to our modern economy but of the part they have played in unifying politically the vast areas of the Dominion.

The picture of the bearded Donald Smith, later Lord Strathcona, driving the last spike in the Canadian Pacific Railway is familiar to all Canadian school children. The significance of that act, at Craigellachie in the Rockies in 1885, was British Columbia's consent to enter Confederation, thus making real the dream of one nation "from sea to sea".

The railways' part in the settlement of the prairies was another step in Canada's progress toward its present strength. The thousands of central Europeans, the women in their colorful costumes, the men with determination and hope in their faces, have given strength to Canada's economic life and diversity to its already diverse culture.

The sight of train after train of seemingly endless lines of freight cars streaming toward that famous "Eastern Canadian Port" loaded with goods for the liberation of Europe during the war is still a fresh memory. Today, as the freights take up their task of bearing to the St. Lawrence and eastern seaboard ports the food and basic materials for the rehabilitation of Britain and the continent, Canadians are aware of the railways' part in bringing the strength of the new world "to redress the balance of the old."

Train whistles have a mournful sound but it's a reassuring one, reminding Canadians of the romance of the past as well as the great future that lies ahead.

The Old Reed Organ

AT AN EAST END auction sale last Saturday, among the chattels of a faded past appeared one of those organs that graced the parlor of every well appointed home. Memories of its former owners, now dead and gone — and of their leadership in musical circles of the Baptist Church hereabouts — summoned back a vision of the happy gatherings around this instrument in days gone by... It sold for a song; but its passing is not unnoticed by many who cherish the simple pleasures of an earlier generation.

Of relevance in this reminiscent vien is an item in the Bowmanville Statesman reporting the sale of an organ factory. . Forty to fifty years ago (observes our contemporary) nearly every home possessed a reed organ around which the family and friends gathered for an evening singsong. Only the older people today can even remember it. Perhaps the radio helped to put the finishing touches to the old organ.

Whatever the reason is, in recent years it has been almost impossible to give away a reed organ. For a time the price was about five dollars, but then it got so nobody wanted one even at that low figure. Now the home that owns a reed organ is almost impossible to find.

They were not easy to play. The keys needed a heavy hand to press them down, and if the player stopped peddling hard with both feet the music stopped with a groaning wheeze.

However, the old reed organ played its part in furnishing pleasure in the family life the passing of which is so lamentable.

Immigration Does Not Depress Wages

CONTRARY to an opinion expressed in some quarters that immigration tends to lower wages, past history and statistics show that it does not.

During the thirteen-year period from 1900 to 1913, Canada experienced the greatest influx of immigrants in her history. Immigration rose from a normal inflow of 50,000 a year at the beginning of the century to over 400,000 in the fiscal year 1912-1913. Statistics show that a general increase in wages of between forty and forty-five per cent took place during this period. This shows the fallacy of the belief that immigation depresses wages.

In support of this contention, the Minister of Labor quotes from a memorandum prepared in 1943, by the Department of Statistics, as follows: —

> "Over the 1900-13 period, the general increase in wages was between 40 and 45 per cent. Moreover, it was in the years of heaviest immigration that the rise was fastest. Indeed, the only check in the continuity of the rise, (which occurred towards the end of 1907 and the beginning of 1908, following the financial stringency of those months) synchronized with a drop in immigration. There can be no doubt that in those days, buoyancy in both immigration and wages went hand in hand and were the product of another and common impulse. That impluse, it is unnecessary to say, was the great and general economic prosperity of the country."

Studying a period when wages did drop, 1930-35, we find that immigration had nothing to do with this drop since immigration during this period was practically negligible. In 1935, only 11,000 immigrants entered this country.

In the light of this information, it is obvious that immigration alone does not affect the rise and fall of wages. The trend of wages would seem to be contingent on the national economy and the basic law of supply and demand.

Not Good Luck But Good Driving

THE CONNECTICUT Department of Highways has been making a survey of traffic accidents and drivers, and reports that most "repeaters", or accident-addicts, insist that accidents are the result more of bad luck than bad driving. That is, of course, a theory quite without foundation.

A safe driver may come to grief through the fault of another, but a driver who tries deliberately and constantly to avoid accidents seldom interrupts a journey with a stay in hospital or a sojourn at a strange hotel while his car is repaired.

There are many men and women who have driven for years, and tens of thousands of miles, without being involved in an accident, and this does not come about from good luck. It comes from competent driving and ceaseless vigilance, from a deliberate policy of not taking chances.

Those whose records show accident after accident cannot convince any traffic expert that it's just bad luck. It's bad driving, more often than not.

NEWS ITEM of world significance. —"As entries for the 1948 Olympic Games closed on June 16, 62 nations had accepted the invitations. Russia had not applied for membership in the International Amateur Athletics Federation, nor created a National Olympic Committee, thereby excluding herself from participation."

CHILDREN as well as young people and older folk, must realize the grave danger in disobeying one or any of the important rules of swimming and bathing, if the number of accidents is to be decreased.

COMMENDS SCOUTING

His Eminence J. C. Cardinal McQuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, in a special message to Canada's Boy Scouts said recently:

"The Catholic Church throughout the world has made use of the Boy Scout Movement, which is providentially adapted to the needs of boys today.

"Some of the great saints of the Church like Thomas More in England and Isaac Jogues in Canada, have been held up as perfect examples of the Scout Law and Promise. As the present Pope Pius XII has said, 'Scouting gives to the worship and service of God the pre-eminent place that it ought to have in human life'.

"I rejoice on the Fortieth Anniversary of the Boy Scouts Association, and I pray God to bless and increase its beneficent work."

Liberal Meetings Held Last Week-End, North of County

and waste, and it took two years for the Liberals to "set the house in order". Being at war, there were sharp restrictions on provincial expenditures and scarcity of materials and labor, but even at that, with a budget that had reached only $90-millions in 1944, much had been accomplished in Argenteuil by the Liberal administration. However, since the Union National had gone in, Mr. Dansereau said, nothing had been done for the county, although the budget had been increased to $200-millions, this money being spent in a few favorite counties and "on such scandalous projects as the Chicoutimi Road" that had to date cost $13-millions and would eventually cost $25-millions.

During the past two weeks, the former Minister of Roads said, the Union National had rushed into a haphazard road building program designed to buy Argenteuil's votes. Projects undertaken by the Liberal Government and abondoned by the U.N. the day after the last election were now being resumed in a desperate effort to mislead the people; but Mr. Dansereau warned, these were only "election roads" and only went to show how little had been done by the U.N. administration in the past four years.

That electricity had reached certain municipalities in recent months, Mr. Dansereau said, was not because of the influence of the U.N. government. This had been accomplished, he claimed, because certain men had had the initiative to form co-operatives to bring electricity in, and the power companies had realized that they had to do their share to provide the people with power if they were not to be considered as trusts indifferent to the public's welfare.

At Montfort, Mr. Dansereau recalled that he had been responsible for renovation of the orphans' home, at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars; he had been happy to accomplish this in the interests of the many children who looked upon this institution as their home. "You can be assured", he said, "that in the future I will do anything in my power to help you; and I will see to it that your requirements are promptly met."

Philippe Valois, lawyer of this town, speaking in support of the candidate, reminded his listeners that Mr. Dansereau had been entrusted with two important portfolios while at Quebec, the Ministry of Roads and of Public Works, and this had been an honor not only for Mr. Dansereau but for the county as a whole. Mr. Dansereau, he said was the logical man to send to Quebec. He had proved his integrity and his sincerity, he was familiar with all the problems of the county, and when he reassumed his duties as Minister he would be in an excellent position to look after Argenteuil's road needs, so essential for the development of the county's great tourist and natural wealth.

Mr. Valois ridiculed the Union National charges that co-operation with Ottawa was a threat to Quebec autonomy and that they were the sole defenders of the province against communism.

L. L. Legault, K.C., of Lachute, also spoke in favor of Mr. Dansereau and asked the electors to accord him their united support on the 28th.

Scottish Landlords Have to Count Deer

New British Law Requires Report on Number and Sex

London (CP)—Parliament doesn't profess to know how it will be done but landlords henceforth must count or closely estimate their deer in the inaccessible hills and make faithful report of their number and sex.

The new Agriculture Bill (Scotland) requires a return showing the number of deer estimated to be on the land plus the number killed in any season.

But, said Lord Polwarth, with the memory of Highland crags in mind, "any estimate of the number of deer on any land at any time must be in the nature of a very wild estimate indeed."

But if the landowner failed to make a return or "recklessly furnishes any information which is false in a material particular" he would be liable to a fine of £50 ($200).

Lord Morrison, for the government, said that landowners seeking to rent their deer forests usually knew fairly accurately the number of deer on the land.

Lord Polwarth said he suggested that when Lord Morrison visited Scotland his advisers should send him out in a deer forest for a day "so that he may spend a pleasant time in counting deer."

CITIZENS NEEDED

BUSINESS MAN DIED SUNDAY AT GRENVILLE, QUE.

Late Agnas Lavigueur

A well known citizen in the Grenville and Ottawa Valley area, Agnas Lavigueur, died Sunday at Grenville, at the age of 52.

Owner of considerable property in the district, he was formerly active in business at Calumet and also operated a hotel at Hawkesbury. Latterly he had conducted a summer resort and restaurant business at the Grenville approach to the interprovincial bridge. He is mourned by his wife, the former Laura Dumoulin, and two foster children.

The funeral was held Wednesday at the Grenville Parish Church, followed by interment at the Catholic cemetery.

STRANGE COURAGE

A wonderful sight to see at evening are the numerous deer grazing along the roadside. We sometimes wonder where hunters get the courage to shoot such beautiful and graceful animals.

Papineau Baseball League SEMI-FINALS

1st GAME — 3-out-of-5 SERIES

WENDOVER at BROWNSBURG

Sunday, July 25, 2.30 p.m.
at C-I-L Picnic Grounds,

ADULTS 35c. CHILDREN 10c.

B'burg in Lead, Enters Baseball Semi-Finals

The Brownsburg baseball team finished the Papineau schedule last Sunday in first place, by beating Fassett 10-3.

It was a very one-sided contest, as these two were the top and bottom teams in the league, Fassett having lost 10 games straight. The future games promise better ball, as the four top-ranking teams start the semi-finals next Sunday.

Wendover plays in Brownsburg, first game in a 3-out-of-5 series, with Alfred playing at Hawkesbury. The winners are to play 3-out-of-5 for the championship of "B" Section of the Papineau Baseball League.

Following was last Sunday's line-up — R. Prud'homme C, M. Thompson P, M. Vallee P, F. St.-Onge 1B, J. Murdoch 2B, R. Maude SS, H. King 3B, K. Simpson LF, F. Leroux CF, B. Petley RF. Subs, W. Tessier, R. Summers, M. Legault.

Umpires, J. Duncan, J. Seary.

Moore's Tigers Defeat Montreal Star "Flyers"

At Upper Lachute last Sunday, the Tigers trounced the Montreal Star Flyers to the tune of 24-10. The score was no indication of the play, however, for it was a keen tussle all the way, and the Montreal Star squad will doubtless stage quite a battle when they return in three weeks.

Both managers handled their teams perfectly, and it was not until the seventh inning that the Tigers broke lose to take the game by a wide margin.

Next Sunday Moore's Tigers travel to St. Andrews to play the softball team in that community; the game starts at 2 o'clock sharp.

Following was the line-up for last Sunday's game — J. McGill C, S. Gordon P, K. Nicoll 1B, D. Wilson 2B, R. George 3B, E. Moore SS, B. Wolfe LF, G. Riddell CF, G Mair RF.

Girls' Teams to Play At St. Andrews East

St. Andrews East—A departure from conventional softball activities in these parts will be an event at St. Andrews ball-park on Sunday, August 1, when two young ladies' teams will stage an exhibition game. The opposing teams will be from Woodland Taxi, Verdun, and Canadian Converters, Montreal.

Mayor Georges Duhamel will pitch the first ball, opening the game at 2 o'clock. The two ladies' teams will afterwards be entertained at St. Andrews Inn. . . In case of rain, the game will be postponed till the following Sunday.

Duplessis the Leader!

"Our Political Platform Is Province Wide"

These Extracts from Reliable Publications Are a Challenge to Anyone to Prove the Contrary

"Our People Want to Stand On Their Own Feet, Not On Any Government's Back."

Maurice L. Duplessis, K.C., M.L.A., Premier

"Certainly, We Will Play Ball with Ottawa, But We Insist On Our Share of the Gate."

"The unchanging and unchangeable policy of the National Union is its belief in private enterprise well understood."

— Trois Rivieres, June 21, 1948

"If Ottawa wishes to reduce the age from 70 to 65 at which old age pensions will start, very well, the Province of Quebec will pay its share of the cost of pensions to those from 65 to 70, as it does for those aged 70 and over."

— Quebec, June 22, 1948

"For this development we need money. To get this money we need our revenue. A time of unprecedented development is not a time to be under administration by censorship. Our taxation rights are essential."

— St. Jean Port Joli, June 28, 1948

"It is not the time to give for $65,000,000 a year what is worth $400,000,000. It is impossible for Quebec to be under the tutelage and curatorship of Ottawa. Quebec would not be able to progress in growth. We would have to cede for one-fifth of their value all our rights."

— Matane, June 24, 1948

"We in this province will elect a government by ourselves, and not have one which has to get elected through another government."

— Montreal, July 3, 1948

"After this income tax had been in existence a year, Mr. Godbout had ceded it, and other tax sources worth in all $400,000,000 a year to Ottawa for $20,000,000 a year."

— Riviere du Loup, June 25, 1948

"Socialism is the front door to Communism. What would Quebec guarantees be with a C.C.F. government in Ottawa? The Quebec Legislature is a fortress against a C.C.F. government or a Communist government in Ottawa. Our protection is our legislature."

— St. Anne de Beaupre, June 29, 1948

"In 1944 we had against us the Federal Government, the radio, the newspapers, the Bloc Populaire and other forces, and we won. What will the situation be today in the light of our performances, in the face of what we have done for the youth of the Province."

— Rimouski, June 24, 1948

To sum up — As leader of the National Union Party, I am again privileged to come before you and solicit your patronage. We exposed a corrupted regime when we first secured a mandate to govern. Our heritage at that time was a sad state of affairs -- over-manned departments, public works unfinished and unpaid for -- education neglected -- public buildings run down and political wolves in every corner of the province. We ask you now, "Look at the record." ... Look at the health, wealth and prosperity our people enjoyed during the years of our administration. We again ask your support to carry on our work. We shall prove worthy of your trust and as a great man once said, "With malice towards none and charity for all." With God's help we will keep our fine province happy, prosperous and contented. This is our pledge to the electorate for this 1948 election.

Yours very truly,

M. L. Duplessis

MADE IN CANADA

Olympic Games Open Next Week

BY DOUGLAS MURRAY,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It's simple to sit back and reflect that it's time Canada made a good showing in an Olympiad. It's not so easy, however, for men who are determined to bring laurels to our country.

For instance, one of Canada's best hopes, little Gerard Cote, hasn't much time to reflect. This 135-pounder does most of his reflecting as he pounds along the highway out of St. Hyacinthe, Que., covering an average of 25 miles a day, three times a week.

Everyone looks to Cote as a gleaming hope to win the Olympic marathon in the London games this year, because he has met the toughest competition on the North American continent while running in the Boston marathon — which he has won four times.

Cote says, "I'd gladly give back three of my victories in Boston for an Olympic triumph."

To gather an idea of Cote's chances, here are two comparative times. His best time in the Boston marathon made in 1943, was 2.28: 25.8. K, Son of Japan won the 1936 Olympic event at Berlin in 2.29:19.2. Cot's better time for the Boston marathon doesn't mean he's a sure thing, but it does indicate he's close to it.

The little man with the stout heart and indestructible muscles realizes what he will be up against with the change of climate in England. He shouldn't be too worried as he won the 30-mile World Championship race in England while still a sergeant in the Canadian army. Incidentally he set a record winning that grind.

The 34-year-old dynamo doesn't under-estimate his rivals. He thinks an Englishman will win the marathon. He comments that he did a lot of running when he was stationed in England and found the air too damp. He explains that it was difficult to breathe after 20 miles or so.

This is probably sheer modesty. If Cote himself doesn't think he stands much chance, why is he running 20 to 30 miles three times a week? Why does he devote most of his spare time from tasks at the Veterans' Hospital at St. Hyacinthe, where he is employed, travelling to Montreal so he can run over more difficult courses?

The answer, of course, is determination to win.

The marathon in the first modern Olympiad fell to a man with a terrific determination. Back in 1896 in Athens, a Greek peasant, with fierce national pride, decided the first marathon wreath must fall to a Greek. So Spiridon Loues started to practice in the hills where he tended sheep and although he was unknown, he beat his supposedly better opponents.

If Cote, with the usual big cigar in his mouth, doesn't place the Olympic wreath on the Canadian maple leaf, it won't be for lack of trying, or for lack of ability.

Caledonian Games at Maxville Gathering

Ottawa, July 13 — More than 15,000 Scottish sports enthusiasts from Canada and the United States will gather for the Glengarry Highland Games in the Eastern Ontario town of Maxville, July 31. Program will feature piping contests, competition in Highland Flings, Sean Triubhas and Sword Dances, and field events. General old-time dancing is planned for both afternoon and evening.

Glengarrians the world over have cheered the revival of Caledonian games in Glengarry county. Glengarry, a traditionally Scottish community, was settled by early Scottish immigrants to Canada, and is known to the world through the novels of Ralph Connor.

Death Removes Pioneer Farmer of Rawcliffe

The Late John Kerr

Ogdensburg — This community lost one of its oldest and most respected residents, in the person of Mr. John Kerr, who passed peacefully away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wallace McKiddie, on July 4.

The late Mr. Kerr was born at Rawcliffe, December 24, 1865. He was married to Miss Annie Kimball, who predeceased him a number of years ago. One daughter, Linda, was born of this union, with whom Mr. Kerr moved to Ogdensburg after her marriage.

John Kerr was one of the pioneer farmers in Rawcliffe and will be greatly missed by his many friends. He had a jovial nature and was always ready to help those in need.

He leaves to mourn his loss his daughter Linda (Mrs. Wallace McKiddie); three grandsons, William, Perley and Donald McKiddie; two sisters, Christie (Mrs. A. J. Hubbard) of Eau Claire, Wis., and Mary (Mrs. Robert Clark), of Chippewa Falls, Wis., and several nieces and nephews.

The remains rested at Deforges Funeral Home until July 6, then were taken to the Anglican Church at Grenville, where service was conducted by the Rev. A. E. Hawes. Pall-bearers were Messrs. Ernest and Edmond Nixon, Wm. Loughren, Wm. J. Bigelow, Joseph and Holland Kennedy. Beautiful floral offerings bore silent testimony of love and esteem. Interment was made at the Scotch Road Cemetery.

Life Lost in Ottawa River

Residents of Cushing and adjacent districts heard with sorrow that the low water of the Ottawa River (due to the defective dam at Carillon) had taken its toll in a still more serious form than that of loss of river traffic: on Friday, July 16, a valuable life was lost as well. Maurice Garceau, of Yamaska, 21 years of age, was attempting to lay a cable with which to have a float towed up the river — low, because of the unrepaired break in the dam — when he was thrown into the water and drowned. The body was recovered on Sunday and the coroner from Ontario was notified.

HOW TO LIVE AND WORK

Winston Churchill, at three score and thirteen years, can still maintain his unbroken record for fitness under stress. It isn't just chance. He has worked out his own formula that took him through the most exhausting years of the war:

"I always went to bed at least for one hour as early as possible in the afternoon, and exploited to the full my happy gift of falling almost immediately into a deep sleep. I was rewarded by being able to work through the night until two or even later—sometimes much later — in the morning, and begin the new day between 8 and 9 o'clock. This routine I observed throughout the war, and I commend it to others if and when they find it necessary to get the last scrap out of the human structure". — J.L.R.

A happy beginning

It's never too late to start saving money regularly — but it's never too early either.
Many substantial bank accounts, and not a few larger personal fortunes, owe their existence to habits of thrift acquired early in life.
Such stories always have happy endings. When a special need arises for ready money to meet an emergency or to take advantage of a business opportunity it's a warm and happy feeling to know that the money will be there when you need it.
There is no better time to start saving than right now!

Avoca Girl Is Bride In Recent Ceremony

McArthur - McCallum

In the Cote des Neiges Presbyterian Church, Montreal, on the afternoon of June 26, the marriage was solemnized of Annie Evelyn, only daughter of the late Neil McCallum and of Mrs. McCallum, of Avoca, Que., to Mr. George Alexander McArthur, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McArthur, the Rev. J. M. Kik officiating. The wedding music was played by Miss Doris Killam. The ushers were Mr. Drennan McArthur, of Arundel, and Mr. Arnold Patterson, of Mille Isles, nephews of the groom. Baskets of pink and white peonies adorned the church.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Dr. Lester McCallum, of Ann Arbor, Mich., wore a two-piece dress of white embroidered piqué with matching white straw hat, and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Neil McCallum, wore a frock of turquoise blue and a corsage of pink roses, while the bride's grandmother, Mrs. James Arthur, was gowned in purple crepe with a corsage bouquet of white carnations.

A reception was held in the church hall, where the bride's table was centered with the wedding cake and arranged with bowls of pink and white peonies and baby's breath.

Phillips - MacKiddie

The marriage of Margaret Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. Stanley MacKiddie, of Lachute, and of the late Mrs. MacKiddie, and Hal Courtney, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips, of St. Andrews East, was solemnized at three-thirty o'clock on Saturday, July 17, at Lachute United Church. The Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiated, with Mrs. S. S. Campbell playing the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in ivory slipper satin made on fitted lines, with a long train, a headdress of lilies-of-the-valley, and wore her mother's wedding veil. She carried a bouquet of Calla lilies.

The bride was attended by Miss Bernice Gordon as maid-of-honor and Miss Joan Phillips, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. They wore floor-length gowns of taffeta, made on fitted lines with headdresses to match, and carried bouquets of variegated sweet peas. The maid of honor and bridesmaid were in blue and yellow respectively.

Mr. Peter Phillips was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Messrs. Kenneth and Maynard MacKiddie, brothers of the bride.

The reception was held in the church hall, where the tables were decorated with roses, sweet peas and larkspur. For the wedding trip by motor to Toledo, Ohio, the bride wore a blue chambrais and white eyelet suit, with white shortie coat and white accessories, and a corsage of red roses. The couple will reside in Montreal.

IN A RUT

In an English political oration: "I was born an Englishman, I have lived an Englishman, I hope I shall die an Englishman."

From the back of the hall, in an unmistakable accent, came the question: "Mon, hae ye no ambeetion?"

Arundel United Church Scene of Pretty Wedding

Cooke - Cooke

On Saturday evening, July 17, at half past seven, Arundel United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Stella Cooke, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cooke, was united in marriage to Mr. Leslie James Cooke, B.S.E., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Cooke, of Arundel. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Cushing, of Montreal, assisted by Mr. Kenneth Fenton, acting minister of the church.

The church was beautifully decorated, banks of ferns forming a background for large baskets of delphinium and gladioli, and candelabras with white tapers shedding a soft light. Over 80 guests occupied the pews, which were marked with white flowers tied with white tulle.

Mr. Warner Norman, organist of St. James United Church, played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Margaret Sevigny, niece of the groom, sang "I'll Walk Beside You".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a white satin gown made with a fitted bodice with a sheer nylon yoke, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and a full skirt with a short train. Her fingertip tulle veil was held in place with a coronet of white flowers, and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses. Her only ornament was a string of pearls.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Sidney Bennett, as matron of honor, who was dressed in a floor-length gown of pale blue sheer nylon over taffeta, cut on princess lines, with a shoulder-length blue veil held in place by a halo of blue flowers. She carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas.

Little Linda Bennett, niece of the bride, made a dainty little figure in her floor-length dress of sheer pink nylon over taffeta, with a fitted bodice, and a quaint little bustle at the back. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of pink and blue flowers in her mittened hands.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Hugh Cooke, was dressed in pink gabardine with a straw hat trimmed with black, and white accessories.

Mr. Homer Cooke attended his brother as best man. The ushers were the brothers of the bride, Messrs. Stanley and Stuart Cooke.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Bennett. The bride's going-away costume was a blue dress, white shortie coat, white hat and white accessories. The happy couple left for a lengthy boat trip, and on their return will reside in Arundel.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Graham and daughter, Ottawa; Mr. J. Groom, Mr. Knox, Montreal; Miss V. Woods, St. Andrews East; Rev. and Mrs. Cushing, Montreal; Mr. Charles Forbel, St. Jovite; Mr. and Mrs. Charles McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. James Moncrieff, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Moncrieff, Mr. and Mrs. R. VOTE LIBERAL!

TO THE ELECTORS:

It has been a great honor for me to have been chosen as Liberal candidate in Argenteuil County for the provincial elections of July 28th., and I wish to thank my fellow citizens for this mark of confidence and ask them to return me to the Quebec Legislature for a fifth term. I will serve them to the best of my ability, with a view to the future progress of our farming communities, our industries and our tremendous, yet scarcely developed, tourist facilities.

Argenteuil County has unexcelled natural resources in the form of some 500 lakes, set in a beautiful mountainous playground, and the development of this territory through an improved network of roads will bring superior living conditions and opportunities for the residents of this area. My father, when he was Member at Quebec, built the present roads from mere wagon trails, and they then, for administration purposes, became the charge of the Department of Roads. This permitted the development of our tourist trade to a comparatively great extent but our potentialities are so vast that they have scarcely been touched and existing roads are now inadequate.

I am fully aware of this problem and it is my intention, when I am entrusted with the authority to do so, to:—

1. Improve and pave Highway No. 31 between Lachute, Arundel and Huberdeau.

2. Complete the Lachute - St. Jerome Road, started when I was Minister of Roads but stopped, with cancellation of contracts, by the Union National.

3. Complete Highway No. 29 between Grenville and Carillon, which was also started under the Liberal administration and stopped by the Union National.

4. Improve and pave Highway No. 30 between Lachute, Morin Heights and St. Adolphe.

5. Improve the many roads connecting these main arteries and leading to the innumerable lakes and summer resorts throughout the county, according to their importance.

6. Work towards the constant development of our tourist trade through the maintenance of winter roads where this is possible.

Working under conditions of war which severely restricted our resources, and with a budget that had reached only $90 millions in 1944, many projects were undertaken and completed in Argenteuil while I served you at Quebec. I recognized the need and gave to Brownsburg the road long needed; Route 8 Calumet - Fassett was rebuilt and paved; the Rouge River bridge erected; the Huberdeau Orphanage constructed; the Montfort orphanage renovated; the White Bridge at Lachute erected and schools at Brownsburg and Grenville provided.

Reference to these schools brings up the matter of education, so essential to the future of our county and of our country. I am more than familiar with your requirements in the educational field and these will be promptly met if you renew my mandate on the 28th.

Agriculture, like tourism, is an industry very vital to the growth and prosperity of our county. The Hon. Adelard Godbout is a farmer in his own right; he is very close, through experience and circumstance, to the man who tills the land. Under his guidance as prime minister, agriculture will receive the attention it so richly deserves and which has been lacking under the existing government that saw fit, for some unaccountable reason, to withdraw the subsidy on cheese — to mention but one instance — which had been accorded by Premier Godbout.

The future development of tourism and agriculture depends also largely upon electrical facilities still lacking in many communities. That in recent months electric power has become available to certain centers and will reach other areas soon is not the work, as some think, of the Union National Government. To the contrary, this development can be attributed to the program and policy of Premier Godbout which convinced the power companies that they had a responsibility towards our country folk if our province was to grow and prosper as it should. I will see to it that this policy of Mr. Godbout continues to benefit our county.

As regards the industrial worker, I stand for his liberty in all matters and justice for all. I greatly regret the difficulties which occurred in Lachute last year, with the ensuing hardships for many families, and hereby condemn the Union National Government for having acted in such brutal manner. The success of our industries and subsequent development of our country must be based on good relationship between employee and employer and such harmonious conditions will lead to greater happiness and welfare for those people who inhabit our industrial centers.

The government candidates have been campaigning under a great smokescreen of communism and provincial autonomy. Admitting that we have to fight communism not only in our province but throughout the country, it is another thing to say that Quebec is a hotbed for communists; it is an insult to our population and a discredit upon our province. The other great battle cry is that our autonomy, the right to run our own province, will be taken from us should we cooperate with Ottawa. Financial arrangements with the Federal Government are needed if we are to benefit from its program of family allowances, old age pensions, unemployment insurance and family sickness benefits, and in no way is our autonomy threatened; in fact, Hon. Mr. Godbout has stated that such financial arrangements will be submitted to the people for approval before they are entered upon. It is as false to say that our autonomy is in danger, as it is to place such emphasis on the communist issue in this campaign. It would be better for the Union National to talk less about these matters, and more about their administration.

Again, I wish to thank those who offered me the Liberal candidature and supported me in the present campaign and I ask the citizens of Argenteuil to weigh seriously the issues in next Wednesday's elections, and if they judge that I have in the past served them loyally and with justice, to return me to the Quebec Legislature for another term, that I may continue to work in their interests and in the interests of the province as a whole.

Georges-E. Dansereau

HON. GEORGES ETIENNE DANSEREAU

Minister of Roads and of Public Works in the last Godbout Government, Mr. Dansereau is the logical man to send to Quebec to represent the people of Argenteuil County.

When he was entrusted with two important portfolios in the last Liberal Government this was more than a personal attainment; it meant that the citizens of Argenteuil, for the first time, had in their representative in the Quebec Legislature a Minister who held two vital cabinet posts, that of Roads being of tremendous significance for this county.

When the Liberal Party is returned to power in the elections of July 28th, Mr. Dansereau will be in the fortunate position of resuming the work he had begun for his county, work which was abruptly stopped by the Union National Government when it was elected in spite of its great need and of its vital bearing on the future development of our district.

The Liberal Party stands for:

ABOLITION OF THE SALES TAX.

REVISION OF FAMILY ALLOWANCES to provide justice for our large families.

INSTITUTION OF A PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT LOAN SYSTEM to assist families in the purchase of their own homes.

A PROGRESSIVE AGRICULTURAL POLICY, including stabilization of farm prices through seasonal premiums and establishment of permanent foreign markets for agricultural products.

REDUCTION OF AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS' LICENSES TO $1.00.

PROTECTION OF PUBLIC HEALTH, embracing health insurance in co-operation with the central government, the medical profession and the mutual insurance companies.

DEVELOPMENT OF EDUCATION through complete restoration of autonomy to school commissions and increased subsidies to school boards.

FAMILY SECURITY including an organized scheme of health insurance conforming to our family and social traditions.

A SOUND COLONIZATION POLICY.

AND GET ROADS FOR ARGENTEUIL

AUX ELECTEURS:

On m'a fait le grand honneur d'être choisi comme candidat libéral pour le comté d'Argenteuil aux élections provinciales du 28 juillet. Je désire remercier ici mes concitoyens pour cette marque de confiance et je leur demande d'assurer, pour une cinquième fois, ma ré-élection à la Législature de Québec. Je m'engage à les représenter de mon mieux, à contribuer au progrès de nos paroisses rurales, de nos industries et à mettre en valeur nos innombrables possibilités de tourisme jusqu'ici non développées.

Au nombre de ses ressources naturelles sans égales, le comté d'Argenteuil possède quelque 500 lacs situés dans un cadre merveilleux de montagnes. Grâce à un réseau de routes améliorées, le développement de ce territoire procurera de meilleures conditions de vie et de multiples avantages aux résidents de ces régions. Pendant son terme d'office comme député de ce comté, mon père fit construire les routes actuelles — jusqu-alors chemins de montagnes elles passèrent désormais pour fins d'administration, aux charges du Ministère de la Voirie. Le développement de notre tourisme en fut accrû; toutefois nos possibilités en cette matière sont tellement vastes que les routes actuelles sont devenues insuffisantes.

1. Améliorer et paver la route No. 31 entre Lachute, Arundel et Huberdeau.
2. Compléter la route Lachute - St. Jérôme commencée alors que j'étais ministre de la Voirie et suspendue par l'Union Nationale avec cancellation de contrats.
3. Compléter la route No. 29 entre Grenville et Carillon, également commencée sous l'administration libérale et suspendue par l'Union Nationale.
4. Améliorer et paver la route No. 30 entre Lachute, Morin Heights et St-Adolphe.
5. Améliorer et paver, suivant leur importance, les artères conduisant aux nombreux lacs et endroits de villégiature du comté.
6. Assurer le développement du tourisme par l'entretien des chemins d'hiver, là où la chose est possible.

Pendant la guerre, alors que je vous représentais à Québec, malgré les difficultés de l'heure et avec un budget qui ne s'est élevé qu'à 90 millions en 1944 plusieurs projets ont été entrepris et menés à bonne fin dans le comté d'Argenteuil. J'ai donné à Brownsburg le chemin jugé nécessaire depuis longtemps; la route No. 8, Calumet à Fassett, a été construite; le pont de la rivière Rouge érigé; l'orphelinat d'Huberdeau construit; l'orphelinat de Montfort restauré; le pont Blanc à Lachute construit et des écoles à Brownsburg et à Grenville érigées.

Parler de ces écoles c'est rappeler combien l'éducation est essentielle à l'avenir de notre comté et de notre pays. Je connais vos besoins en matière d'éducation et je vous promets de m'en occuper activement si vous renouvelez mon mandat de député le 28 juillet.

L'agriculture, de même que le tourisme, est une industrie essentielle à la croissance et à la prospérité de notre comté. L'honorable Adélard Godbout est un cultivateur par état; grâce à ce fait et à sa vaste expérience, il est très rapproché de la classe rurale. Sous sa direction comme premier ministre, l'agriculture recevra l'attention qu'elle mérite et qui a fait défaut sous le gouvernement existant, lequel a jugé bon pour une raison inconcevable, de retrancher la prime sur le fromage — pour n'en mentionner qu'une —accordée sous le regime Godbout.

Le développement du tourisme et de l'agriculture exige que le service de l'électricité soit assuré à toutes les parties du comté qui en sont encore privées. On a fait crédit à l'Union Nationale, dans certains milieux, du fait que les communications électriques ont été assurées dernièrement à certaines régions qui en étaient jusqu'ici dépourvues. Bien au contraire, ce développement est le résultat de l'application du programme et de la politique de M. Godbout qui, lorsqu'il était premier ministre, a convaincu les compagnies d'électricité qu'elles avaient le devoir, par l'électrification rurale, d'assurer le bien-être de notre population et la prospérité de notre province. Je m'engage à ce que le comté d'Argenteuil bénéficie largement de cette politique de M. Godbout.

Quant à ce qui concerne la classe ouvrière, je proclame que la liberté et la justice doivent être accordées à l'ouvrier. Je regrette énormément les difficultés qui sont survenues à Lachute l'an dernier qui ont occasionné des peines à un grand nombre de familles. Je condamne ici le gouvernement de l'Union Nationale d'avoir eu recours à la force en de telles circonstances. Le succès de l'industrie et le développement de notre pays doivent reposer sur la bonne entente entre l'employé et l'employeur: ces conditions harmonieuses assureront le bonheur et le bien-être de la population des villes industrielles.

Tous les candidats du gouvernement font campagne sous la double bannière de la lutte anti-communiste et de l'autonomie provinciale. Prenons pour acquit que la lutte anti-communiste doit être poursuivie non-seulement dans notre province mais dans tout le Canada. Mais pourquoi affirmer que le Québec est un foyer tout désigné pour le communisme? Cette affirmation est une insulte pour notre population et une source de discrédit pour notre province. L'autonomie: autre cheval de bataille. On affirme que le droit de gouverner à notre guise notre province, sera le prix de notre collaboration avec Ottawa. Nous avons besoin de consentir des arrangements financiers avec Ottawa si nous voulons obtenir notre part dans le programme de sécurité sociale: allocations familiales, pensions de vieillesse, assurance-maladie. Notre autonomie n'est pas en danger. D'ailleurs, M. Godbout a affirmé que tout accord financier avec Ottawa sera soumis au peuple dans un référendum. Il est aussi faux de dire que l'autonomie du Québec est en danger que d'attacher autant d'importance à la lutte anti-communiste. Dans cette campagne, l'Union Nationale ferait mieux de parler moins d'autonomie et de communisme et de renseigner davantage l'électorat sur son administration.

Une fois de plus, je désire exprimer mes remerciements à ceux qui ont proposé ma candidature et qui m'apportent leur soutien dans la campagne actuelle. Je demande aux électeurs du comté d'Argenteuil de réfléchir longuement sur les conséquences du résultat de l'élection de mercredi prochain. S'ils jugent que je les ai jusqu'ici servis avec loyauté et justice, je leur demande de renouveler mon mandat à la Législature de Québec pour un autre terme. Je pourrai ainsi continuer à travailler dans leur intérêt et dans l'intérêt de toute la province.

Georges-E. Dansereau

2 EVENTFUL DAYS AT BOYS' BRIGADE LIFE BOYS' CAMP

St. Andrews East — Saturday and Sunday were eventful days at Camp Stedfast, as the boys in camp were thrilled by the presence of their good friend Cst. J. Archer, of the R.C.M.P. From a most successful field day and aquatic meet, both of which were entered into fully by the campers — to the special inter-camp baseball game, which was interrupted by rain, but proved just as thrilling when turned into an amateur evening with stories by the "Mountie", singing, stunting and a feature by the Captain — not an idle moment prevailed.

On Sunday morning, the boys paraded to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Cst. Archer accompanying them. The afternoon, being still "open house", afforded an opportunity to parents of viewing the camp, many of them availing themselves of this opportunity both on Saturday and Sunday. During the afternoon a special feature was conducted by Cst. Archer after inspecting the tents and boys on parade. He found the tents in ship-shape and the boys very smart in their naval uniforms. For over an hour he chatted with them on the campus as they enjoyed their "rest hour", and found a very deep spot in their hearts for his stories concerning experiences of the Mounted Police. . . Sunday evening, the boys conducted a Fireside Service at the United Church with the Rev. C. A. Selby delivering a very fitting message to the boys in particular. Miss Elsie Dorion sang a solo, "No Night There", Cpl. John Shepherd played "The Lost Chord" on his cornet, and the choir also took part. Many well known hymns were sung by the congregation, led by both piano and organ, with Miss Wales at the piano and Capt. J. Howard Richardson at the organ.

Camp will have many features this week — baseball games with Tyndale Camp being highlights, with a trip to the Museum, as well as other items that make for the enjoyment of the campers. A closing camp-fire will be held Friday night. This will be the occasion for presenting many awards earned at camp, as well as welcoming as visitors a number of the officers who will be present on this occasion. Lieut. Sam Hallam will be back on Friday and remain with the rear guard.

"ALONG THE FAIRWAYS"

Lachute Golf Club Special Commentary

It cannot be denied that most of our members are great lovers of nature and the outdoors, and are really friendly towards the creeping, crawling, hopping, running and flying creatures thereunto appended. Not so "Flak" Waller, whose anti-duckcraft tactics are not to be condoned under any circumstances. This high hitter hoisted a cloud-busting shot off No. 6 tee right smack dab into the middle of a squadron of mallards, thereby failing to spread death and destruction only by the narrowest of quacks.

On the other hand there is the touching sight of H. M. Kerr's trained pet groundhog locating Hugh's ball in the rough and rolling it slyly but surely onto the fairway and ever nearer the green.

They say the game of golf was invented by a Scotsman. Someone by the name of McTavish probably. Times have changed. A McTavish visited our course the other day, a man who is reputed to be one of the finest drivers in the country. On the course, the more he drove the more he stayed in one place. He forgot to say "giddap"!

Royal Raymond, who incidentally has been playing a much improved brand of golf, dropped his tee shot from No. 3 hole into the No. 9 cup on the putting green the other night. This reminds us of Philippe Valois' feat of a couple of years ago, when he played off No. 3 tee and dropped his shot into No. 3 cup on the putting green. When you duplicate that one, please let us know.

He's up, he's down! Les Thompson gained complete mastery of the game on No. 1 the other night. Ten minutes later the game gained complete mastery of him, on No. 2.

To the Electors of Argenteuil:

I have had the signal honor of being chosen as Government candidate, at a convention attended by both English and French-speaking delegates, representing every poll in this constituency, and all the other candidates at the convention have officially and publicly assured me of their generous support.

In accepting the nomination, I have had no other purpose than to serve the county's best interests, and being retired from active business, I am in the fortunate position of being able to give my full time to the public office I am now seeking.

Logically, one who is wholly and exclusively occupied with the success of his private business, and who cannot give sufficient time to public affairs and his constituents, should not, in fairness either to himself or his constituents, seek a mandate from the electorate.

Since I have been officially nominated, false rumors have been spread as to my physical condition, and my renouncing of what is quite wrongly called "patronage". . . . My doctors have given me their O.K.; and I intend to exercise alone, and under my sole responsibility, this same patronage — which I am informed, is at best, a most ungrateful and exacting task.

I am seeking support from the Argenteuil electorate, as Government candidate for the following reasons:

(a) In the opinion of all financial, industrial and business authorities, the present Government has given our Province sound, orthodox, prosperous administration on a pay-as-you-go basis, the while reducing our public debt, incurring no new obligations, and spending close to $80,000,000 in promoting better health, better roads and better schools.

(b) The present Government has been, and remains, a champion of responsible free enterprise, and a bulwark against Communism and Socialism.

(c) Peace, order and security have been and will continue to be maintained in this province by the present Government, with the result that the flow of tourists is continually increasing, and thousands of new industries are establishing themselves in the province.

(d) The educational policies of the present Government have saved hundreds of School Boards from financial difficulties.

(e) The present Government has been, in the opinion of The Montreal Star, "splendidly fair to the English-speaking minority".

One last word: I am most grateful to our French-speaking compatriots for the whole-hearted support they are giving me, one of the English-speaking minority, in the present election. Their gesture is a great contribution to racial harmony and national unity, and can be offered as an example to the rest of Canada.

Mr. Cottingham said that although the government increased its expenditures for social services and for better facilities in all departments, and although it increased capital assets of the province by a record $80 millions, the Duplessis administration reduced the net debt of the province by more that $31 million dollars in the past three years, a new and unequalled record, Mr. Cottingham claimed.

Mr. Héon discussed roads. "We don't believe in making promises," he stated. "As this meeting is being held here, the streets of St. Andrews East are being paved and the Ottawa highway (Carillon-Grenville) is being resurfaced.

Ayers - Shuttle Co. Field Day Proves A Major Success

The second annual field day and picnic of Ayers Limited and Dominion Shuttle Co. Ltd., held last Saturday at Lachute Exhibition grounds, was a marked success. Of the approximate number of employees in these two companies — 1,000 — it is safe to conclude that scarcely one was absent during the afternoon and evening proceedings; and together with their wives and families, members and friends of the management, and invited guests, the crowd witnessing the evening program reached in the neighborhood of 3,000. The grandstand was filled to capacity.

Cloudy skies and occasional rain showers detracted little from the crowd's enjoyment, although the track events were somewhat marred by "heavy" navigating. Nevertheless there was keen competition in the athletic events, and the contests occupied the entire afternoon.

The children regaled themselves with free beverages and ice cream. Prizes were distributed in the evening, with the president, Gilbert E. Ayers, on hand, and Marc Carrière as master of ceremonies. Highlight in the prize distribution was the drawing for five valuable entrance prizes, including an electric refrigerator, a washing machine, bicycles and radios. A special award to the outstanding athlete in the afternoon's events went to Gordon Jamieson, who is engaged during the summer months at Dominon Shuttle Company.

25 Year Club

During the past year 10 names have been added to the Ayers Ltd. "25 Year Club", and at this stage of the proceedings recognition was given to the 10 qualifying employees, as follows:

Miss Béatrice Rochon, Messrs. Magloire Brisson, Roméo Gagné, Omer Gravel, J. B. Larocque, Albert Monette, Arthur Parizeau, Lionel Plouffe, Willie Proulx, Fred Williams.

Miss Richon was presented a bouquet of 25 gladioli and a 17-jewel wrist watch. The male members were also presented with wrist watches. . . The 25 Year Club now exceeds 70 members.

Bowling League Awards

Trophies for the season's bowling were given to the Tweed Dept. All-Stars as winning female team. These included — Rolande Bellefleur, Mercienne Gravel, Bernadette Larocque, Odette Duchesne, Juliette Poirier, Pauline Brosseau.

Highest Single award went to Marie-Jeanne Lacasse; highest average, Rolande Bellefleur; highest three games, Hélène Fortier.

Highest average, Georges Boisvert; highest single, Philippe Joly; highest three games, Lionel Robinson.

Mr. Carriere again presided over the successful amateur show, which evidenced some notable talent in song, dance and instrumental numbers. An excellent performance by a group of radio artists followed, with Marcel Gamache as master of ceremonies.

Top-quality athletes, both amateur and professional, were presented, in acrobatic numbers, weight lifting, boxing and wrestling—a program bringing to the younger element of the Mills district a prowess which many, doubtless, might otherwise be never privileged to witness in a lifetime.

The hearty applause accorded to the president, the Ayers family, and management, was eloquent of the public appreciation for this big day. To the small fry especially, it was an occasion to be long remembered.

The program concluded with a brilliant fireworks display and the crowd dispersed around midnight.

Prize winners are listed elsewhere in this issue.

PARTNERS IN WORK

Demagogues have often been heard to declare that the employees' interests and those of industrial or commercial enterprises are in absolute opposition to each other. Can that be so? We do not think so, since both exert themselves to better their lot while contributing to the common good.

'Dog Days' See No Flagging Zeal In W.I. Sessions

MEETINGS REPORTED FOR MONTH OF JULY

Arundel branch of Quebec Women's Institutes reported an attendance of 18 members and six visitors at their July meeting, when Mrs. A. G. Leggett, county president, was guest speaker. At this meeting also, further plans were made for their lawn social. Mr. Frank Shaughnessy, of the Bell Telephone Co., showed three films portraying progress in telephone communications.

Brownsburg had as their guest speaker Mr. George Logan, field man and organizer of the Blue Cross. Mrs. G. Todd and Mrs. R. Crosby, delegates to Macdonald College, gave a report of the provincial convention held there. A parcel was sent to Britain and a donation to the British Columbia flood victims. A brief silence was observed in memory of a deceased member. Mrs. L. Roberts was the recipient of a baby gift, and Mrs. Wm. Fletcher was presented with the blanket donated by Dupuis Frères, which she had won for the most prizes taken at the W.I. exhibit at Lachute Fair. A parade of old-fashioned dresses was staged by the members; prize for the best costume was won by Mrs. R. Johnston. Prizes for the youngest and oldest grandmothers were awarded by Mrs. Berubé and Mrs. Moncrieff. Plans were made to hold a "family picnic" in August.

Ask Public Attend Meetings of New School Commission

The following letter, addressed to the Protestant taxpayers of Brownsburg School Municipality, deserves front-page prominence. Conscious of their difficult undertaking, the newly elected school commission makes this bid for co-operation, by inviting their electors to be present at the school board meetings and to maintain their interest through a personal knowledge of the proceedings:

To the Electors,
Protestant School Municipality
of Brownsburg.

The members of the Protestant School Board wish to thank the ratepayers for their interest in the recent school board election, and to extend an invitation to them to continue showing this interest by attending the monthly school board meetings, which will be held on the last Monday of every month at 7.45 p.m.

The Protestant School Commissioners are your representatives, and only by your support can they do their best to further the interests of the school and the educational program of our children.

Protestant School Commissioners School Municipality
of Brownsburg.

Brownsburg Phone Service Expands

An addition of dial facilities to serve 300 more Brownsburg subscribers was completed recently, according to L. W. Ball, Bell Telephone manager for this area.

As a result of this addition, Brownsburg numbers have also grown — to four digits each. The increase was effected by prefixing the digit "2" to all existing numbers.

A further result of the extension is the tranfer of more than 70 subscribers, who have been receiving service from the Lachute exchange, to the enlarged Brownsburg exchange. These transfers, now being carried out on a line-by-line basis, will be completed early in August. All subscribers who will be affected have been informed.

Although there is sufficient exchange equipment in service now to allow for expansion for some time, a few of those waiting for telephone service cannot be served until wires and cables are provided, Mr. Ball said. Because of delays in obtaining necessary supplies, the required additions to the wire and cable network cannot be made until next year.

Girl Burned to Death, St. Adolphe

A coroner's inquest was opened Monday in the case of Gitta Miller, 13, an Outremont girl who was burned to death in her parents' summer home at St. Adolphe during Sunday night; the inquest was postponed until August 7 pending further investigation by the Provincial Police.

The coroner, Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, was informed the fire broke out at 11.15 p.m. Sunday. Occupying the luxurious cottage were Mrs. Miller and four children. The mother, discovering the blaze, hurriedly called the caretaker at his cottage nearby. They were instrumental in saving two children, a boy and a girl; a third child ran from the fiercely burning residence without aid — Mrs. Miller and the three youngsters all suffering burns. The flames spread so rapidly that rescuers were unable to reach the fourth child, Gitta, whose charred body was found next morning where she had fallen suffocated near the kitchen.

The volunteer fire squad and trailer pump at St. Adolphe were brought into action, water was pumped from the lake, and part of the kitchen was saved. Practically the entire dwelling, however, was destroyed. Residents estimated the value at $35,000.

Det. Garcia Leroux, of the Provincial Police, investigated the fatal blaze.

No Issue of Watchman Next Week, August 5

To provide for staff vacations, there will be no publication of The Watchman next week. District correspondents are asked to bear this in mind, but to record for the following issue any news of importance which may arise in their localities. . . Only emergency printing orders can be filled by The Watchman Press during this vacation week.

Lion Designs Proposed Canadian Flag

After many years of debate, near-agreements, and disappointments, there has emerged a suggested national flag for Canada which may some day be adopted. All Lions will be proud if this should be done, for the designer of the new flag is a Lion, T. G. Henstridge of the Lions Club of St. Lambert, Quebec.

Lion Henstridge is a veteran of World War I, and a student of heraldry, which is highly important in the choice of an official banner.

Three outstanding features mark the new flag: A field of white crossed by ten blue stripes representing the nine provinces and the nation; the Union Jack in the upper left corner, signifying the adherence of Canada to the Mother Country; and in the lower right corner the Canadian Maple Leaf in red, with the French Fleur de Lis in white superimposed. These features mark a compromise among the 2,409 designs submitted to the parliamentary committee appointed last year to consider the matter.

The design is to be submitted to all Lions Clubs of Canada with the hope that they may endorse it and urge Parliament to adopt it.

Female Athlete of International Fame Entered for Lachute Open Tournament

"BABE" ZAHARIAS PAST OLYMPICS STAR AND WINNER OF BRITISH LADIES' OPEN GOLF '47

What may prove to be a test case in professional golf circuits is the entry of "Babe" Didrikson (Mrs. George Zaharias) in Lachute Golf Club's eighth annual "open tournament" on August 29. Her appearance here will be another feather in the cap of the tourney management, who last week announced the entry of South African "Bobby" Locke in this big local event.

Considered equal to most of the male golfers in the world and holding decisions over such stars as Byrn Nelson and Ben Hogan, this outstanding world female athlete will get a chance to see what she can do against Locke, now ranked among the first three money winners in world golf.

Since turning pro after winning the British women's open, Babe Didrikson has unsuccessfully tried to smash the barrier excluding women from major golf events in the United States. It is not known whether the Canadian Professional Golfing Association or the Quebec Golf Association has given the stamp of approval for her Lachute entry, but according to a Montreal authority, it looks as though all is straightened away for the Babe to start swinging with the men on August 29.

There is little question that Mildred Zaharias is still the world's top woman athlete. But she is no longer the rough-and-tumble tomboy (or "muscle moll" as some sportswriters preferred to call her) that she was in the days of the 1932 Olympics. That was an era when her specialties were baseball, basketball and track. Now trim, athletic and 32, she carries 145 lbs. gracefully, wears silly hats, nylons and red fingernail polish when she dresses up.

The retreat from tomboyishness began when she married cauliflower-eared George Zaharias, a 300-lb. wrestler. The bride gave up baseball (she could throw farther than most big-league outfielders) and winning track meets singlehanded. The bridegroom shortly after the honeymoon, quit being a wrestler. Now he promotes wrestling matches in Colorado State.

Babe and George met on a Los Angeles golf course, where a promoter, as a gag, had put the wrestler and the lady golfer in a threesome with a minister. After they were married, they kept on golfing together. On the fourth tee at Brentwood one day, the Babe hit a terrific drive down the fairway. Then George, just a plain country golfer, went through some of the contortions of his trade — flying mare, airplane spin, body-twist—and hit the ball about three yards farther than Babe. Said Babe: "I always said I could fall in love with a man strong enough to outdrive me."

There are few men in the land who can outdrive Babe Didrikson; she once slammed a ball 408 yards, and averages an amazing 240. But the Babe contributes more to ladies' golf than just swat: she is a crowd-puller.

Montreal Man Is Drowning Victim

Monday evening at the north end of Lake Tamaracouta, Mille Isles, a Montrealer, Marc Henri Peloquin, lost his life by drowning.

Camping on the lakeshore with his father and brother, Peloquin, aged 30, set out at dusk in a kayak, a small single-seated canoe. As he was returning at dusk, around 8.30 p.m., the father and brother saw the craft upset about 100 yards off-shore. Peloquin, who was an able swimmer, was then seen swimming towards the campsite, but he suddenly submerged and did not reappear on the surface.

The two spectators hurried to the spot in a rowboat, but could find no trace of the victim. Help was then summoned from the Scout camp at the far end of the lake, and a crew of life-guards and senior campers, equipped with lights and tackle, continued the search until 3 a.m. They then abondoned the task, returning again early next morning. By daylight the body was soon found and recovered, from a depth of 10 feet of water.

Coroner Dr. J. Lafleur, conducting an enquiry on Tuesday, pronounced the death accidental, due to drowning; he gave his opinion that Marc Peloquin had suffered heart failure while in the water. Det. L. Coulombe made investigation for the Provincial Police.

Clear Majority for Govt. Candidate, A Newcomer to Provincial Politics

Riding Had Been Consistently Liberal at Quebec Since 1927

"The tumult and the shouting dies" — quotes our commentator, elsewhere in this edition. The election campaign in this constituency lacked nothing of the old-time ardor . . as the oratory reached its peak and climax, it lacked not even the personal and unsavory aspersions that mark the usual run of electoral campaign. For those who favor this form of diversion, "a good time was had by all". There have been bigger, better, more vituperative campaigns in Argenteuil; compared with many in the past, this one may have appeared tempered with moderation. At least there was no lack of oratory, local and imported. The virtues and discrepancies of the two major parties were iterated and reiterated — with criticism for both from the still small voice of a third, the minority representation.

WILLIAM M. COTTINGHAM
U.N. Candidate, Elected
M.L.A. for Argenteuil.

The results tell the tale. Today the riding is Union Nationale!

By a clear-cut decision of 402 majority, William M. Cottingham, the Union Nationale candidate, was elected yesterday in the provincial election to represent Argenteuil County. Defeated candidates were Hon. Georges E. Dansereau (Liberal) and J. A. Clairoux (Union des Electeurs). Mr. Dansereau had successfully overcome all previous opposition and held the seat since 1935, having occupied two cabinet posts in the Godbout regime . . Reports on the votes polled (furnished by the district returning officer, E. M. Jones) show — Cottingham 5455, Dansereau 5053, Clairoux 781; overall majority for Cottingham, 402.

A few districts show returns of particular interest, as follows:

Total votes in the 12 Lachute polls showed: Cottingham 1158, Dansereau 1241, Clairoux 385 — giving Mr. Dansereau a plurality of 83.

In Brownsburg Mr. Dansereau also took the lead, with 124; Cottingham 670, Dansereau 794, Clairoux 80.

St. Andrews gave a 213 majority to Cottingham, Grenville a 163 majority to Dansereau, and Huberdeau 176 for Cottingham.

Thus Argenteuil follows the general trend in the Union Nationale ascendancy, which became apparent with the first election returns reported last night. The swing is more notable in this riding since Argenteuil has been consistently Liberal in provincial politics since 1927, when Jos. L. St. Jacques, now Justice of the Court of Appeals, retired from the Conservative representation.

Excitement ran high in centre town last evening, as the public gathered around committee headquarters to hear the reports. Between 9.30 and 10 p.m. the vote favoring Wm. Cottingham was conclusive. Climax of the hectic day was a party rally at the Auditorium, where the speeches continued almost with pre-election fervor until midnight. Mr. Cottingham briefly thanked his supporters for their arduous efforts, and again pledged his devotion to the best interests of his county. Georges H. Héon, K.C., M.P., ex-Mayor Léopold Carrière and several of the party's leading campaigners spoke from the platform. It was a jubilant but orderly gathering, terminating a strenuous day for the workers of both major parties.

Rodeo Judge's Job Is No Bed of Roses

Ponoka, Alta. (CP) — The life of a rodeo judge is not an easy one, you can take if from two veterans of the Western Canadian and United States circuits.

Frank Sharpe of Turner Valley, Alta., one-time all-round champion cowboy of North America and now a rancher with rodeo judging as a sideline, and Fred Galarneau of Hanna, Alta., spare-time horse dealer, vouch for the hazards of the ring.

Sharpe, 47, and Galarneau, 37, both "too old" for active cowboy punching, travel through the west judging rodeos, and say the mental hazard is as tough as the physical.

The work is nerve-wracking and "we must be able to know a bucking horse on sight, make a fast judgment, and have faith in our own ability."

The judges have to be right down by the chuts from which the animals are released and there a judge sooner or later gets trampled by a steer or horse.

Both Galarneau and Sharpe have been run over, but suffered little more than bruises.

Most folks would rather exert their influence than themselves.

Gatineau LINES

Work on an extensive expansion program undertaken by Gatineau Power Company to provide better service to its customers is moving along nicely now after considerable delays occasioned by difficulties in obtaining deliveries from the companies who are manufacturing equipment for the development program. In some instances material is coming in only now after being scheduled for last December.

Meanwhile, a 10,000 kilowatt transformer station in the Laurentian area has now been installed at St. Jerome and will provide more power in the region of Ste. Agathe. Most of the work has been completed on several substations which are going into operation as part of the expansion plan. Work on additional high-voltage lines is moving ahead on schedule.

A new 1,500 kilowatt sub-station at Shawbridge went into operation in the early part of July. At Piedmont, a 1,000 kilowatt sub-station was completed and put into operation in mid-July. A 1,000 kilowatt sub-station was put into service at Val Morin and a fourth sub-station at St. Jovite went into action earlier this summer. All of these developments are designed to provide more service to people in the Laurentian area.

At Aylmer, the sub-station capacity has been increased from 450 to 800 kilowatts, which has improved the situation considerably in this district. Throughout the Gatineau River area, too, a number of extensions which will bring electrical service to new customers are being completed as fast as the necessary equipment can be moved in.

All of this indicates that while the farmers have been making hay in the fields, Gatineau Power Company has been making hay in terms of its program to provide increasingly better service to the people in the area.

ENGLISH JOURNEY

By WALTER R. LEGGE

In this series of articles it is my hope to present an accurate picture of conditions as they are in England today, to contrast present conditions with what I found when there with Canadian editors in 1942, and to make them as interesting as possible.

There are so many conflicting reports of what the English are now enduring that this will be an effort to present factual information as I find it.

To begin with, it is difficult but not impossible to get bookings to Europe today. There still is a serious shortage of ships, but Mrs. Legge and I were fortunate in being able to get accommodation on the Ascania leaving Halifax and returning from Liverpool.

Mr. Abbott's dollar saving program has not made travelling any more pleasant. It has stopped the privilege of allowing friends to go on board ship to see you off. Also once on board, passengers are not allowed to come off again before the ship sails.

The boat train arrived at Halifax at about 2 p.m. and those passengers (nearly all of them) who went on board were forced to stay there, although the ship did not sail until 10.30 p.m. that night.

Although the passenger must declare on a Form H the amount of money he or she is taking with them, the customs officers insist upon seeing and counting it. This is one of the ways in which government regulations undermine morale by considering everyone as a felon. The passenger's signed statement is not accepted at face value and is apparently only used as an added charge against the passenger, if as the government seems to hope, he has either intentionally or not, made a mistake.

If the examining officers are at all suspicious, the passenger's person and baggage are subjected to a thorough search.

We did not go on board at once, but going up to the Nova Scotia Hotel, had a delightful visit with the members of the Nova Scotia Press Association, who were gathered in session there. With them also were R. A. Giles and W. McCartney, president and manager of the C.W.N.A.

The "Ascania", although not a very fast ship, has many advantages, not the least of which is that she is a very steady ship. We were told by passengers who had travelled on many other ships that the Ascania does not roll as much as other larger and faster ships. Certainly we had a very mooth voyage and very few passengers suffered from sea sickness.

The chief officers, Capt. W. M. Stewart, O.B.E., H. E. Wardrop, purser, H. Tweed, chief steward, and others are exceedingly pleasant and all can spin exciting yarns of their war experiences. Capt. Stewart, who was on his first trip in command of the "Ascania", having previously been Staff Captain on both of the Queens, was for most of the war in command of a ship sailing up and down the east coast of Africa and although he escaped torpedoing, had his share of excitement and difficulties.

Every member of the ship's complement seems anxious to do everything possible for each one of the passengers.

Ships at present are crowded on every trip and there were about 800 passengers on board. There was a very large number of children, but they were all remarkably good, and there is a well equipped nursery which is popular with the smaller children.

While first class accommodation was filled the public rooms were not overcrowded, and it was always possible to find a comfortable chair, or a table on which to play cards, if desired. The tourist accommodation, we were told, was much more crowded.

The "Ascania" is listed as still under austerity conditions but it is difficult to say just where there is any austerity. Certainly not in the dining room, where meals are as good as in peacetime.

A typical breakfast menu lists 5 different fruits, 7 breakfast cereals, grilled fresh herrings, calves' liver, broiled bacon, eggs in any manner desired, cold meats, 6 kinds of bread, waffles, buckweat cakes, with maple or golden syrup, preserves, marmalade and six different beverages.

During the morning hot broth is served in all the public rooms.

At noon, a luncheon menu is as varied as the breakfast one, and about four p.m. tea is served to everyone in the public rooms.

The dinner menu is the best of all. Here is a sample one taken at random:— Oysters on half shell; Hors d'oeuvres; Consomme or cream soup; Poached filets of Turbot; Veal and ham cutlets; Roast sirloin of beef; Haricots vert; carrots vichy; boiled, rissolées or voisen potatoes; roast chicken; strawberry souffle; wine jelly; vanilla or orange ice cream; canope anchois, coffee or tea.

There is nothing about such menus to suggest austerity.

There is plenty of entertainment provided. Horse racing, bingo, and other amusements are organized each evening, while a ship's orchestra of five pieces plays at regular hours. Deck tennis, shuffle-board and other games are popular, and no one need have a dull moment.

All in all, a voyage on the Ascania is just as enjuoyable today as it was before the war.

If the modern cars are so much better than their predecessors, why cannot drivers show equal improvement? —Exch.

"Faust" Presentation Atop Mount Royal, By Montreal Festivals

One of the most elaborate settings ever devised for opera in Canada has been built for the production of Gounod's Faust, which the Montreal Festivals is giving on the summit of Mount Royal on Tuesday evening, August 10, with Eleanor Steber, Nicola Moscona and other distinguished Metropolitan Opera stars.

The setting, specially designed and built, is an immense unit setting based on the suggestion of an entire medieval city. Three gigantic arches surmount and background the stage, thus permitting the actual use of the sky reflecting the nocturnal illumination of the City of Montreal itself.

This elaborate structure has been devised in part to accommodate the inclusion of the Walpurgis Night Ballet which constitutes virtually the fourth act of the work. The ballet is invariably omitted, even in Metropolitan productions, on account of the heavy scenic and production demands it makes. It is believed this will be the first time it has ever been performed in Montreal, although the actual ballet music is celebrated in concert performance.

The unusually spectacular nature of this Faust production has been made possible by the cooperation of the City of Montreal, which has placed the terrace and Chalet atop Mount Royal at the disposal of the Montreal Festivals. This has made possible the engagement of a large supporting cast.

Emil Cooper is directing Faust.

In addition to Miss Steber and Mr. Moscona, the cast includes Joseph Victor Laderoute in the title role, Francesco Valentino of the Metropolitan at Valentine, and Maxine Stellman as Siebel. The large ballet led by Metropolitan soloists will be under direction of Boris Romanoff, with Marcel Laurenceau in charge of the chorus.

A Real Home

A real home is made by the home-loving spirit of those it shelters — otherwise it's just a house. But, it is essential that the house be well planned and well built, of the best materials. It assures comfort, and comfort makes the house home-like.

Many of the best homes in this town and county have been built of materials from our yards. Their owners have profited by trading with us — and so may you.

Forest loss is your loss...

Panic : : : despair : : : a lifetime's work burned out by a careless match, a smouldering campfire. This is not only one innocent man's loss—the guilty seldom suffer—but a serious loss to every Canadian. Timber, wildlife and streams, basic elements in our national economy, are all destroyed by the forest fire.

By observing the simple rules of the woods, which every real camper and sportsman obeys, you can help prevent the forest loss which costs Canadians nearly four million dollars a year in timber alone.

HELP PREVENT FOREST FIRES
1. Throw cigarette ends in the water or snub them out on a rock.
2. Break used matches in two.
3. Build campfires near the water on rocks or well cleared mineral soil.
4. Make sure your fire is out before you leave it unattended.

Humors in Election List

HUMOROUS sidelights occur in those grim enumerations of names and occupations called the voters' lists. Although the casual Quebecker would scarcely select these pages for light diversion, they offer more of human interest than one finds in the average business or telephone directory. In certain cases it might appear that the enumerators compiling these lists had been chosen for their sense of humor as a prime qualification.

Appended to electors' names are such occupations as Lady or Gentleman, in many instances where neighbors agree these subjects do not merit such polite appellations. Or a certified bum in the countryside community may be dubbed with some genteel profession which provokes a smile, while the man in a dignified job is designated as Laborer.

Two designations in the Argenteuil lists mystify us completely: certain male voters appear with the description "Hostess", and one female is described as a "Stafer". . . In these instances, your guess is as good as ours!

"Old Home Week" Idea

THE OLD HOME WEEK idea is gaining favor. This year more towns and cities than ever before are calling home their scattered sons and daughters from across the continent to renew acquaintance with the people and scenes they left behind.

For both the stay-at-homes and the wanderers the reunions are happy occasions.

Older folk, returning to old haunts, marvel at how much the town has grown, how Main Street has spruced up and the business people have effected many improvements. With the entire community in the best bib and tucker, they realize that the home town was a mighty good place after all.

The younger men and women who went away to the war and, when they left the services, just happened to settle in the cities, gaze on the familiar streets with mingled emotions. To them, despite chamber of commerce figures on population increases, the old town may look smaller than ever. But, as they mingle with friends of their schooldays, they inevitably wonder whether they would be happier in the small town than in the busy — and lonely — big city.

The parades, led by a brass band, the public dinners, the church services, the picnics, the beauty contests, the quiet family get-togethers and the display of new babies — all the events of the reunion week add up to wholesome fun and memories to be long cherished.

Love of family, love of home town and love of country are all intermingled in these celebrations which give present citizens of the towns a chance to look at those who left to make their mark elsewhere, and give the seekers of the far horizons an opportunity to draw new inspiration from the scenes of their youth.

HOW TO MAKE FRIENDS AND I. P. — Col. Robt. R. McCormick, arriving from Dublin in his private Flying Fortress "Chicago Tribune", apparently was greeted with no cordial welcome — at least, if one may judge from his statement on arrival. . . "I don't hate the British, why should I?" he is reported to have said at the London airport. "The feeling built up against me is due to your English newspapers which print more propaganda that news."

Col. McCormick planned to remain three or four days. We — who have read, not the propaganda but his own venemous effusions—wonder if he stayed that long!

IT WILL no longer be necessary to sit around the house waiting for the telephone to ring in case you miss an important call — reports Hardware, Metal & Electrical Dealer. A British manufacturer has come up with a new gadget that answers the phone, apologizes for your not being home, takes down any message that's given, and relays the message to you when you arrive home.

The new device has three switches — one for recording, one to rewind, and one for reproduction. When the switches are set, the telephone's ring starts it running. It announces: "This is the residence of So-and-so. Any message for him will be recorded and reproduced on his return."

One Man and Inflation

WHAT ONE man can do to hold the line against inflation is answered by the action of a Canadian baker, Cecil Morrison, of Ottawa. During the war, as president of the National Council of the Baking Industry of this country and later as Bread Administrator for the Government, Morrison helped peg the whole price structure by holding the price of bread at pre-war level.

With controls removed after the war, the price of bread jumped 30%. Bakers were still losing money. Some answered the situation with a further price rise. Morrison said, "There's only one way to stop inflation; someone's got to stop raising prices." But Morrison himself was losing money. What could he do? Here entered what he called, "The moral factor in business."

He asked himself what was the right thing to do, rather than the expedient thing. He took his family into his confidence and shared his conviction. They agreed and backed him. Then he told his banker.

"You can't do it," was the answer, and Morrison knew the banker was right — in one respect. He could not do it alone. So he called in his foremen, salesmen and the office staff, and explained the situation. He enlisted them in his fight and they responded.

Economies began with the boss, and from there, economies in the plant were initiated by the staff, who through longer hours, reductions in pay, etc., cut the losses and restored profits in a matter of weeks. Morrison's competitors have followed his lead, and other industries have followed suit.

Without the "moral factor" Morrison said he (1) wouldn't have thought of the country first, and (2) wouldn't have had the moral courage to carry out his convictions. For the baker personally it began in 1932 when he decided to run his life with a new aim: "Make God the boss, do what He tells you — sweat to make Canada great instead of yourself."

In Socialist Britain

A LETTER read by Mr. Rhys Davies, Socialist M.P., in the British House of Commons, is cited in an editorial by the Granby Leader-Mail, comparing conditions in Great Bhitain and Europe with those enjoyed by people of the American Continent. Even at its worst, the red tape of manpower manipulation in wartime Canada had nothing to compare with the experience here described:

"Dear Sir, My daughter married a young man from Scotland in April this year, and we thought that he would have no trouble in finding a job in the Wigan coalfield, where we all reside. I took him to Victoria Colliery and they could not find him a job. We then went the Alexander Pit and we got the same answer. We then tried Leyland Motors; they would give him a job if he could get a green card from the employment exchange. He failed to get a green card at Chorley because he lives at Blackrod. Then Blackrod advised him to go to Horwich for a green card, but he could not be supplied with a green card at Horwich because his prospective job was at Chorley. Horwich, however, could offer him a job in a local paper mill but as they needed miners at Atherton they could not give him a green card for the Horwich job. We then went to Chaunters Pit at Atherton but the under manager was off sick, and his deputy told him to wait a few days when he would be likely to start at Atherton. We then went to the area officer at Kirkless site, Aspull, to be told to go to Victoria Pit. In the end, he started work at Alexander Pit, up to his knees in water, and gave up in disgust and returned to Scotland."

THIS ONE came from a well known civil servant in Ottawa, an Irishman:

The difference between a slowdown, a recession and a depression —

A Slowdown is when you have to tighten your belt;

A Recession is when you have no belt to tighten;

A Depression is when you don't have any pants to hold up.

THE WEAKNESS of government-operated business enterprises is that they do not have to make ends meet. They can always fall back on government funds — which means tax money.

Water -- Friend or Foe of the Summer Resorts

SMALL GROUP ORGANIZED HERE FOR WATER SAFETY LINKED WITH RED CROSS PROGRAM

By NORA ROUTLEDGE

When the sun shines down from a cloudless sky and the mercury rises — when the wind is nothing but the hot breath of summer — when humidity is at saturation point — then your clothes stick to you and your nerves begin to fray; mole-hills turn into mountains and the milk of human kindness sours in your soul! . . What to do?

The remedy is this — a swim in some cool blue lake or river! With the first plunge, all the miseries of heat, all the irritations of frayed nerves, drop away. Those of us who are past youth, recapture it again — swimming, we feel free and young, as well as cool.

But unfortunately our good friend, the cool water of lake or river, can also turn into a treacherous enemy and all too often our daily paper carries the result. The figures on deaths by drowning are not up to date, because they are all reported under the classification of "accidental deaths" — so that the last exact figures from the Department of Statistics are for the year 1945, when there were one thousand deaths from drowning in Canada.

The tragic fact is that an overwhelming percentage of these deaths are unnecessary, and could be prevented if swimmers would only make themselves familiar with the rules of water safety. Parents particularly should know these cardinal rules, and should see that their young fry adhere strictly to precautions which will safeguard their lives while swimming.

Anyone who has had the grim experience of seeing a strong young body taken, dead and dripping, out of the water, immediately develops a healthy respect for the rules of water safety. Behind a headline like, "Youth Drowns at Summer Resort", often lies a tale of ignorance or carelessness, or both. It was perhaps a hot day, and it was too long to wait the requisite two hours after a meal. Or the fellows were going fishing in a canoe and it seemed sissy to stay on shore just because one couldn't swim and didn't know how to handle a canoe. Or perhaps the night was hot and stuffy and the water looked and felt inviting, and it was thrilling to swim out, alone, into the silent night!

The Canadian Red Cross is anxious to instruct Canadians in swimming and the techniques of water safety. The Quebec Provincial Division has established a Swimming and Water Safety Committee. Two full-time directors are carrying out the organization of a program throughout the province. They state that Quebec Province heads the list in the number of deaths by drowning — far out of proportion to its population. In the larger centres of the province, only one person in ten is able to swim at all, and of this number, practically none has had any working knowledge of water safety.

The Red Cross is convinced that a great deal of practical educational work will have to be done before there can be any hope of reducing the drowning rate.

The surest way (say the Red Cross) to prevent a person from drowning, is to teach him early in life how to swim; and since even experienced swimmers drown sometimes, it is also necessary to teach all swimmers the essentials of water safety.

Even without a knowledge of the alarming statistics, anyone familiar with the fundamentals of water safety can appreciate the ignorance of the swimming public — simply by sitting on any beach and watching the sublime disregard of most swimmers to such ordinary rules as the following (quoted with permission from the "Swimming and Water Safety" Manual of the Canadian Red Cross Society):

No one should ever swim alone.

It is advisable to keep out of the water for at least two hours after eating a full meal.

No one should be allowed in a canoe until they have passed both a swimming and a canoe test in order not to endanger their own as well as the lives of others.

No one should ever push or throw even an experienced swimmer into the water because of the danger of striking the head or the back on the side of the pool or wharf.

It is necessary to have a strong swimmer in a boat accompany you in a long distance swim, because of the danger of cramps or exhaustion.

Anyone anxious to learn about water safety may get in touch with their local branch of the Red Cross. Trained men are only too ready to organize a student group and to teach them approved methods of safeguarding the lives of swimmers.

Such a group has been organized in the Lachute area, with the authorization of the Swimming and Water Safety Committee of the Canadian Red Cross, under the direction of Mr. Keith W. Clarke, Lachute. This group is made up of children spending the summer at Camp Ste. Malvina (formerly Bourbonniere Camp) on the North River. They plan to hold a "Red Cross Day" in the latter part of August, when they will be tested and, if successful, be awarded badges and crests in their various classes. In the evening, they will hold a fair and amateur entertainment, the proceeds of which will be donated to Lachute Unit of the Canadian Red Cross.

Fred Allen was discussing the flower show with Portland. "Tom Breneman", she said, "entered an orchid."

"He must have sent it in great haste," remarked Fred. "There was an old lady still pinned to it."

Tribute from A Visitor

A letter to the editor written by the Rev. W. J. Sipprell, D.D., minister of the United Church in Victoria, B.C., gives pleasurable impressions of his visit to this community as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis. The writer extols at some length the hospitality of the residents, the spirit of the community, the attractions of the surrounding country, and concludes in the following vein:

"I am sure I shall long treasure fragrant memories of my friends of Morin Heights, to whom I was glad to come and from whom I was sorry to go, but I hope that my road of life may turn again sometime to the lovely Laurentian Hills and my good friends at Morin Heights. . . The friendship of kind and sincere folk, wherever they are found, give to life a meaning that makes it worthwhile, and it is on the paths of such friendship only that the peace of the world may someday be found".

Scouts Under Canvas At Tamaracouta Camp

Last Saturday the Lachute Boy Scout Troop accompanied by a contingent from Brownsburg, all under leadership of Asst. Scoutmaster Frank Bedard and Acting Troop Leader Grant Riddell, left by car and truck for a two weeks' training period at the big Scout camp at Tamaracouta. Scoutmaster Arnold Waller, of Brownsburg, and Scoutmaster J. N. Robinson and former Troop Leader Jack Steeves, of Lachute, accompanied the troop for the week-end.

Those attending from this area included — Patrol Leaders Victor Shearsmith, George Barker and Joe Lamontagne, Patrol Seconds Bobby Giles, Tommy Jamieson and George Young, and Scouts Garth Boyd, Glen Copeland, Buddy Cook, Jimmy Murdoch, Gregor Albright, Arvid Nymark and Sandy MacGibbon from Lachute; and Russell Hazel, Robert Warwick, Dean Prosser, Bruce Mason, Paul Ingram and Ernie Zimmer from Brownsburg.

Camp Tamaracouta is bigger and better than ever, and really looked good to the boys after the 20-mile trip over the rough winding roads from Lachute. The Troop is encamped in the Touchwood Hill area, which is high, dry and sandy. Tents are well situated, have board floors and should be dry in any weather. The Lachute camp consists of four patrol tents, headquarters tent, supply tent and canvas tarps over the cooking and dining area. Everything is kept spotlessly clean and is thoroughly inspected daily by the Camp Factor and the Medical Officer.

The daily dinners served in the main mess hall are well cooked, tasty and generous. The other two meals of the day are prepared by the senior Scouts and served in the troop dining area, and there could be no complaints about the few the visiting Scoutmasters enjoyed.

The Scouts will be busy learning their badge work and passing the various tests. . There will also be swimming, boating, games, nature study, tracking, hikes, handicraft training, and generally learning what it means to be "a real good Scout". The Tamaracouta method of swimming instruction is noteworthy, and almost any boy can be taught to swim properly in the two weeks' training period. In the 36 years this camp has been operating there has never been a serious swimming accident.

Although Scouting is essentially an outdoor activity, adequate provision is made for rainy days and suitable programs will be carried on under cover. The camp is well equipped; it has a mess hall seating nearly 500, with cooking and refrigerating areas, a trading post or store, artificer's shop with pumping station and lighting plant, museum, hospital with resident medical officer, recreation hall, handicraft shop, boat house, docks and swimming areas. This is all under the leadership of the Camp Factor and two assistants, with a storekeeper or trader, chief artificer, harbourmaster (in charge of boats and docks), an efficient cooking staff, and a number of senior Scouts from Montreal for general duties.

Visitors are welcome at the Camp on Sundays, but owing to lack of space meals cannot be served to any visitors not in Scout uniform. Parents in Lachute and Brownsburg may rest assured that their Scouts are being well looked after, well trained, well fed, and having the time of their young lives. They will return home August 7, tanned or burned, maybe not as clean as when they left, but with memories they will cherish for the rest of their lives.

Aftermath of Elections

— By M. V. Trayers —

The tumult and the shouting dies:
The captains and the kings depart:
Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart.

All the pomp and pageantry of the election parade has moved on. It is eminently fitting that a proud and grateful Canada will place in the forefront of that august line the most distinguished of her native sons and daughters.

Each city, town and rural hamlet will produce its quota of public heroes. Men who have fought and bested death by some spectacular feat in far-off fields, on high seas, or in Arctic wastes. Men who have discovered new scientific empires in test tubes, in light rays, in atomic energy or in the magic thunderous waterfall. Men who have achieved fame in the field of human progress. Men who have risen to the heights in the greatest attribute of all — spell-binding oratory. Men who have left a record of worthy accomplishments, and have gone on to even greater work for the betterment and progress of the area of their mandate; and men who have promised the millennium without a realization of the cost or the impossibility of fulfilling it!

Yes: the parade moves on. The arena is deserted. The bands have been unlimbered and lay silent. The loudspeakers have been stilled. Words no longer circle the ether, awaiting, at the opening of your radio switch, the opportunity to assault your ear and fire your brain with the record of the past or the promise of the future. Just faint echoes of "the tumult and the shouting" waft low from the retreating rearguard.

But somewhere along that crowded line of march, trudges the Unknown Hero. His shabby figure is sure to be jostled to the outermost fringes of the cheering multitude—his threadbare suit a mere anonymous smudge against which will be etched in greater glory the court attire and resplendent uniforms of the officially labelled great and near-great who enter the ornate portals of the legislative building at Quebec. The glow of patient loyalty in his faded blue eyes, of devotion to the great cause of democracy, will be lost amid the shimmering splendors of the victors — the heroes of the hustings. He is the Unknown Hero. Hero of yesterday. Unknown today. — He is the voter.

Rousseau once wrote: "The English people fancy they are free; it is only during an election of members of parliament that they are so. As soon as these are elected the people are slaves, they are nothing. In the brief moments of their liberty the use they make of it fully deserves that it should be lost". . . When you think back on those few hectic weeks of pre-election deeds and promises, how true are the words of Rousseau!

You must be acquainted with the fellow who sat astride the fence. On one side were the shifting sands of political defeat; on the other the firm ground of victory. The lush grass of boastful propaganda, interwoven camouflage of campaign oratory, lay on either side. There was little to reveal the quagmire from the land of solid foundation. So there he sat watching his fellows of determined principles proceed onward to the left or to the right, until the sucking quicksands showed one side being sunk in defeat — he could now swing off the fence to join the victorious throng, in acclaim to democracy.

Byron says, "The devil was the first democrat". . . Lycurgus being asked why he, who in other respects appeared to be so zealous for the equal rights of men, did not make his government democratic rather than an oligarchy, replied, "Go you, and try a democracy in your own house." . ."If there were a people", says Rousseau, "consisting of gods, they would be governed democratically; so perfect a government is not suitable for men."

Democracy is not just a word, to be shouted at political rallies and then put back into the dictionary after election day. The service of democracy must be something more than lip service.

It is a living thing — a human thing — compounded of brains and muscles and heart and soul. The service of democracy is the birthright of every citizen, the white and the colored, the Protestant, the Catholic, the Jew, the sons and daughters of every country in the world, who make up the people of this land. Democracy is every man and woman who loves freedom and serves the cause of freedom.

Thanks to the Electors

I wish to thank the electors of the County of Argenteuil for the confidence they have placed in me by turning out in such large numbers to support me on election day. Argenteuil is now among those on the long list of Counties which returned the Government to power with such an overwhelming majority.

I feel now that my work has only begun. It is my intention, in the near future, to visit all sections of the County with a view to obtaining first-hand information regarding the most important needs. This, at the same time, will give me an opportunity to thank many of you personally. I particularly wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Georges Héon and Mr. Paul Carrière for their loyal and staunch support throughout the entire campaign, and also all those who so willingly gave of their time and energy. I would like to make special mention of the wonderful support which my French-speaking friends gave me to the end.

WEREN'T VERY THIRSTY

HOBBLE SKIRTS MAKE COMEBACK IN FALL STYLE

Buyers Say Mature Women Don't Want Exaggerated Full Skirts, Padded Hips

By DOROTHY ROE

New York (AP)—You might as well face it — the hobble skirt will be back on the American scene this fall.

Previews of the fall fashions show that the much-beleaguered new look has undergone a drastic change. Instead of full, flowing skirts and padded hiplines, designers are going for the straight, tight skirt, slightly longer than spring styles, and slit to the knee.

Among the first to open her fall line was Jennifer, the diminutive Viennese designer who has made a considerable dent in the New York fashion consciousness in her first year. She shows what she calls the "whistle silhouette'—featuring a skin-tight skirt reaching almost to the ankles, with a buttoned slit in the centre back. The slit is necessary for walking.

Jennifer advocates the 10-inch skirt length for street wear, although some models shown at her opening were considerably longer. She also features rounded, natural shoulders, sometimes puts a whisk of fullness at the back of a skirt, undetected from the front.

Philip Mangone, one of the pacemakers in the tailored suit and coat field, predicts a greater variety.

Buyers to Have Choice

"There are going to be all kinds of silhouettes this fall, none extreme. Women are going to wear what they want to, anyway, and they will have a choice."

Skirts definitely will be longer, however, says Mangone—"because they are more becoming that way." He predicts the most popular length for street wear will be 12 inches.

Such fullness as is seen in fall clothes will be concentrated at the back of the skirt for the most part. Apron fronts also are new, and there is a Victorian feeling to the mode.

The wide, circular skirts will be seen mostly in junior and teen-age fashions — and designers express hope that the youngsters will put on shoes with heels to wear with them.

The predominance of slim skirts is a direct result of buyer demand, as many store buyers, now in New York to stock up for fall, came with specific orders as to what their customers want.

Most mature women, say the buyers, do not want exaggerated full skirts and padded hips. Such fashions, customers have said in no uncertain terms, are not suited to present-day life in America.

The return of the hobble skirt, is the sensational development thus far in the fall style forecast. However, it is safe to say that even this will be modified to consumer taste by the time it is delivered to the stores next fall.

Marriage at Brownsburg

McArthur - Hutchin

The wedding of Eileen Hutchin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchin, to Perley McArthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McArthur, took place July 10 in the Brownsburg United Church, the Rev. A. G. Moore officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Carpenter, of Ottawa, sang a duet during the signing of the register, and Mrs. C. J. Wheeler was at the organ.

Miss Madeline McArthur, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant. The best man was Mr. George Hutchin, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. L. Carpenter, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin with inserts of lace, her three-quarter length veil was caught in coronet style, and she carried sweet peas.

The bridesmaid wore a sky-blue taffeta gown with full skirt and shoulder-length veil of the same color, carrying sweet peas.

Mrs. Hutchin, mother of the bride, was in a dress of printed silk with navy accessories. Mrs. McArthur, mother of the groom, wore powder blue with white accessories.

After the reception, which was held at the home of the bride's parents, the happy couple left for a motor trip; the bride wore for travelling a suit of light brown gabardine with white accessories.

Fines Imposed for Fishing Without License

Resident and non-resident fishermen who neglected to take out licenses before going out to wet their lines during May, contributed more than $550 in fines for their neglect of the law, which provides that everyone must secure, and wear, a license to fish lakes and salmon steams in this province.

About 80 people paid amounts ranging from $6 to more than $20. The fishing privileges cost $1 for residents and $5 for non-residents, plus 10 cents for the metal holder in which the license must be worn. Each license is valid for the holder, his wife and children under 18.

Residents who were caught fishing without licenses paid $5 for their carelessness or disregard of the law. Non-residents were fined $10 and in some cases $15 And in each case, the fisherman still had to buy his license or risk another fine and possibly confiscation of his equipment.

HOW TO END RAFFLES

To our way of thinking it would be smarter to allow raffles, for charity institutions and other worthwhile projects, with careful supervision. Then there would be so many raffles under way and so many ticket-sellers that the average person would become fed up, and build up a lottery allergy and cease to buy. — Morden Times

Women's Interests

Good News for The Piggy Bank

The homemaker today finds herself in the vortex of a merry-go-round. She is paying close attention to her budget and trying to serve meals that show no evidence of pinched pennies. The economy measures may be easily hidden by subtle seasoning, unusual ingredients or a particularly attractive way or serving .

The home economists of the Consumer Section at Ottawa offer some hints which they hope will be helpful. A general rule is "watch the waste line, buy carefully and use thriftily".

First of all, waste must be curtailed. One way to do this is by careful buying so that no waste occurs before the food is used. Appetites must be judged carefully so that there aren't too many little dabs of food left over from the meal.

Tested recipes, accurate measurements and careful cooking are all real economies.

Just now, the fresh garden vegetables should be used generously to supplement other foods. And here is a good idea —don't lift the lids from cooking vegetables — it wastes heat and lengthens the cooking time. Lettuce, parsley and cress are not only for decoration. They are foods which should be eaten.

There is a certain amount of loss when food is transferred from the cooking pan to serving dish. Using the same dish for cooking and serving eliminates waste as well as dish-washing.

If strong-flavored cheese is used for flavoring in sauces or scalloped dishes, it requires less than if a mild type is used. A dash of mustard added will give a sharper taste.

Vinegar from pickled beets or juice from canned beets make an excellent base for jellied salad.

Gravy left from a roast and added to vegetable water and a few bits of vegetable make a soup that will surprise the family.

Here are a few good good ideas, which include a tasty way to stretch meat and a new salad worth trying when the garden has tender beets ready to use. The economy features of the dessert will be scarcely noticed, for it looks and tastes so good.

Chinese Pie

1½ Lbs. lean lamb, veal or beef (shoulder, shank, neck or flank), 1 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste, 2 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons fat, 1 onion sliced, 3 cups water, 3 cups carrots sliced, 1 cup peas, 3 cups seasoned, fluffy mashed potatoes.

Cut meat into one-inch cubes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in flour and brown in hot fat. Add onion and cover with the water. Simmer 1½ hours or until meat is almost tender, then add carrots and continue cooking until meat and carrots are tender. If stew is not thick enough, blend in additional flour, mixed with a little water. Season, add peas and place in a casserole. Cover with the mashed potatoes. Bake in a hot oven, 400°F., about 10-12 minutes until topping is puffed and golden brown. Yield: six servings.

Beet Salad

3 Cups grated raw beets, ¼ teaspoon grated horseradish, ½ cup cooked salad dressing, ¼ cup shredded cocoanut, lettuce.

Mix beets, horseradish and salad dressing. Heap on lettuce leaves and top with cocoanut. Serve at once. Yield: six servings.

Argenteuil W.I. Sessions

"Your favorite sport, and why" was the roll-call at Frontier branch. A gift of money was given towards the prizes at the County Fair. Interesting reports were heard of the W.I. convention at Macdonald College, and an Ayrshire Calf Sale was catered to by this branch.

Members of Jerusalem-Bethany W.I. answered the roll-call at their meeting by bringing an antique, and telling its history. A report of the provincial convention was given by the delegate, and it was decided to send another parcel to Britain. A community picnic was arranged for August 3.

Lachute branch exchanged their library books, and members of the Blue Cross paid their dues. Mrs. S. Milnes gave an excellent report of the W.I. convention at Macdonald College.

"Scottlands", the beautiful summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, of Montreal, was the site of the Lakefield branch meeting. Final plans were made for the food sale held this month. A parcel is to be sent overseas. An excellent report of the provincial convention was given by the delegate, Mrs. W. Sherritt. The "novelty apron" was opened, Mrs. Ross Evans winning the apron, for the most original verse. The roll-call was. "Name an important event during the past year".

Mille Isles made plans to hold a community picnic and food sale at Tamaracouta Camp on August 28. A comprehensive report of the provincial convention was given by one of the delegates. Mrs. Gilbert Ryan. A parcel is being sent to Britain, and towels and face-cloths, as requested, to British Columbia flood victims.

The Rev. W. B. Rosborough spoke on "Our Canada" at the Pioneer branch meeting. A report of the convention was heard, and plans were made to hold a lawn social. A gift is being sent to a sick member, and a box of clothing to the B.C. flood victims.

Upper Lachute branch remembered sick members with flowers and cards. Plans were made to hold a picnic in August. Mrs. Ross Muir gave a report of the provincial convention at Macdonald College.

The Women's Institutes' Personal Parcel Plan

Approximately 1,100 food parcels sent to Great Britain by the Quebec Women's Institutes, was the total recorded this past year under the Personal Parcel Plan. The 99 senior branches of that organization have taken 117 personal addresses and nine Institutes in that country to whom these are sent every month; and even so, inquiries are still being made at the Q.W.I. Office for further Institutes that may be contacted.

In addition, used clothing is also sent that may be made over for children, and is very much appreciated by the severely rationed British housewife.

Many warm friendships are being established with the grateful recipients, and gifts are sent back, of books depicting their way of life, views of the countryside, and one branch reports an embroidered calendar of exquisite workmanship, which was on display at the handicraft exhibit at the time of the provincial convention of the Q.W.I.

Domestic Arts Show At Parliament Buildings

Mrs. Roswell Thomson, President of the Quebec Women's Institutes, attended the official opening of "Les Arts Domestiques" in Quebec. This exhibition of Handicrafts is being held in the Provincial Parliament Buildings during the months of July and August and is designed to show what can be done to beautify the home through the medium of handwork. Madame P. C. LeBeau had charge of the plans for this exhibit, and while attending the recent convention of the Q.W.I. at Macdonald College, extended a cordial invitation to all Institute members to visit this instructive undertaking.

Brownsb'g and Hawkesb'y Win First Semi-Finals In Papineau League

Brownsburg — Papineau League baseball play-offs started off with a bang last Sunday for the Brownsburg Club, when they shut out Wendover 5-0. It was good close ball all the way, but the hitting of the Brownsburg boys proved too much for the opposition.

Next Sunday the Brownsburgers visit Wendover, and it is foreseen this will be a good game, because in pitching, Maisonneuve of Wendover is a steady, hardworking player; and realizing that overconfidence could be their downfall, the Brownsburg squad will be right in there playing to win.

Buses will leave from Ouellette's store at 12.30 p.m. Sunday. Anyone wishing to go, please contact J. J. Seary or W. L. Tessier.

Hawkesbury beat Alfred 5 to 3 last Sunday in their first semi-final game.

Last Sunday's line-up was as follows:

Roger Prud'homme C, Maurice Thompson P, Fern St. Onge 1B, Maurice Legault 2B, Roy Maude SS, Howie King 3B, Ken Simpson LF, Fred Leroux CF, Bernie Petley RF.

Spares — Bill Tessier, Russ Summers, Jim Murdoch, Paul Emile Hebert.

Big Future for Plastics Seen by Rotary Speaker

PROCEEDS OF CARNIVAL NEAR $1,400

Brownsburg — An increase of at least 10 per cent in volume of sales by the Canadian plastics industry was predicted for 1948 by Frank G. Rice, plastics authority with Canadian Industries Limited, speaking before the Rotary Club of Brownsburg on July 22; title of his topic was "Plastics for Breakfast".

Mr. Rice estimated that Canadians will spend more than $50,000,000 for plastics in one form or another this year.

"Unless there are great advances in both merchandising and consumer knowledge, it is doubtful there is another case in Canadian history where so much money will have been spent on consumer goods with so little appreciation of what was being purchased," he said.

The fact that many people got the impression during the past two years that plastics were the biggest "gyp" of the year, was not without reason, the speaker declared. Variety of plastics materials and products became so great in so short a time, it was almost impossible for manufacturers and buying public to keep up with the changes. Since the midsummer of 1947, however, radical improvements have been noticed, so that today plastics products, with few exceptions, are of high quality and usefulness.

Mr. Rice thought that the many types of plastics materials will gradually give way to a more limited variety with broader applications. While the possibility of plastics houses and cars seemed short of ridiculous a few years ago, there is no reason to believe that such products are not impossible but will take many years to develop.

The speaker was introduced by Don Brewster and the thanks of the club were extended by Past-President Wes Freeland.

Attending as guests of the Rotarians were many friends who had wholeheartedly assisted the club in making the recent carnival such a great success. President Norm Somers, in expressing the Rotarians' thanks, stated the net proceeds of this effort would amount to nearly $1,400. "Orchids" to Mrs. Sally Bewick and Rotarians Arthur McOuat and Jim Finlayson, for meritorious service, were presented by the president.

Boys' Brigade and Life Boys Terminate Successful Camp

After two weeks of exceptionally fine weather, Camp Stedfast came to a close Friday evening, breaking all previous records of achievement. Never in the eight years of operation has the camp reported so much activity, and more particularly swimming activity, with boys passing from beginner to proficient standard within this brief period. This reflects great credit upon Jimmy Dugan, who so ably directed the water activities.

In place of a closing camp-fire, due to unfavorable weather a concert was given by the boys, each tent contributing to this variety performance. Tent 4, led by Cpl. John Shepherd, topped the competition with 406 points. They were taken for a trip to Hawkesbury by the Captain, with refreshments thrown in. This reward, as well as the Camp Stedfast crests, went to Cpl. John Shepherd, Ptes. Donald Wood, Alex Wilson, Richard Kalau and Eddie Stefani, members of the tent.

Individual points in the Brigade section were topped by Harry Atkinson, with 75, seconded by Alex Wilson. The former was awarded a Boys' Brigade sports sweater, while the latter received a flashlight. The Life Boy section was topped by Eddie Stefani, with 52 points, winning a set of field glasses, seconded by Jimmy Seymour, who received a book and camp crest. Third in the list was Bob Greenbury, a recent addition to the Life Boys from Regina. He received an autograph album and crest.

Cross-river swim was completed by nearly all campers. The quarter-mile swim was completed Friday by Harry Atkinson, John Shepherd and Eddie Stefani. A special award of a baseball bat was presented to the most altruistic boy, following a secret ballot amongst the campers, and Harry Atkinson was again victorious.

The camp "gas-bag" was read, bringing out all the highlights and "puns", then a hearty vote of thanks was expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dorion and Miss Elsie, for their wholehearted contribution to the enjoyment of the campers. Mr. E. C. Calder was praised for his interest in the camp, and appreciation was expressed for his assistance in transporting the boys to and from the various events. Both Mr. Dorion and Mr. Calder received Brigade sweaters as a token of appreciation.

An interesting exchange feature between Tyndale and Stedfast Camps took place on Thursday afternoon, and was thoroughly enjoyed.

In winding up activities for this camp, the feeling of all officers was that it had been the best session yet, and augured well for the future.

St. Andrews Defeats Moore's Tigers 26-9

Last Sunday at St. Andrews the local softball team defeated Moore's Tigers to the tune of 26-9.

Credit for the win must go to St. Andrews' pitcher, who played a great game and really kept the Tigers swinging.

These two teams will play a return game sometime towards the end of August, when the Tigers will seek to avenge their defeat. It was the Tigers' first loss in five games.

Next Sunday, August 1, at Moore's Restaurant grounds, the Tigers will play a return game with the North River team; the game starts at 2.30 sharp.

Line-up for last Sunday was — J. McGill C, E. Moore P, K. Nicoll 1B, D. Wilson 2B, S. Gordon 3B, R. George SS, B. Wolfe LF, D. Leishman CF, G. Mair RF.

Jumpers to Compete At Hudson Heights Horse Show Saturday

The Hudson Heights horse show, to be staged Saturday, July 31, is primarily a Hunter show, featuring jumps usually encountered in the hunting field. The show ring, the largest in Canada and equal to two Madison Square Gardens, is large enough to accommodate practically all types of jump and permit the horses to negotiate the course at full gallop and at all times in full view of the audience.

The field in which the show is held lies just opposite the Whitlock Golf Club. Special stands have been erected for this year's show.

Featured in the competitions will be a number of horses which have won their spurs at many of the important meets both in Canada and in the United States. The events will begin at 10.30 Saturday morning, and continue through till six o'clock, with a break for lunch.
