Plans Advancing for '49 Spring Fair Manager Reports Progress; Growth And Prestige Reflect Local Credit

For successive years the advance publicity on Lachute Spring Fair has claimed record-breaking entry lists, and anticipated high-peak attendance. The claims have been well founded, but at such early dates, were necessarily speculative. . . For Lachute Spring Fair 1949, however, the directors may positively claim a record number of exhibitors; an advance list prepared by Alex Bothwell, secretary-manager, gives proof of this fact — whereas no such list was available at this stage in previous years.

A total of 161 exhibitors had registered with the secretary up to the offical closing date last Friday. The number last year was 144. A perusal of the list reveals many old, familiar names showing all varieties and classes of livestock, but there are also a number of new exhibitors — reflecting the wider repute of this annual show, and a standard in which these newcomers will find no disappointment.

Most of the judges in livestock and poultry have been selected. The following are announced, with a few still to be appointed:

Heavy Horses — Jack Torrance, Markham, Ont.

Light Horses—Robert Hollingsworth, King, Ont.

Light Horses — Alex Rochon, Montreal, Que.

Ayrshire Cattle — Robert Seitz, Wisconsin, U.S.A.

Holstein Cattle — Prof. Alex Ness, Macdonald College, Que.

Shorthorn Cattle—Prof. Hamilton, Macdonald College, Que.

Swine — Donald Stewart, Osgoode, Ont.

Poultry & Rabbits — Maurice Wallace, Iroquois, Ont.

On the broader aspects of this big annual exhibition, the following is specially contributed on behalf of the Publicity Committee:

"THE COUNTY FAIR"

By Ethel M. McGibbon

The organizers of the Lachute Spring Fair some 60 years ago, stood on the site of the present fair grounds surveying the foothills of the Laurentian Mountains and proclaimed it the most beautiful spot for its purpose they had even seen. Thousands more will likewise exclaim this June 15-18, for the 15th is opening day of the Lachute Fair — now the largest spring fair in Canada.

Reservations will have been pouring into hotels and guest houses for weeks past; distant relatives will have planned timely visits to their Argenteuil County kin. Tourists will have arranged to take in this so typically Quebec Fair at Lachute. And each when intermingled with the throngs of the midway or grandstand will irresistibly have absorbed the carnival spirit. There are the thriller rides and the laughs at the clown on the race track, and the great excitement of watching the horse races, all there, complete from the shavings to the hurdy-gurdy, to the peanuts, popcorn and hot dogs. The air is pungent and the senses reel to that spirit which only a country fair can exude. Just as the midway requires many cars to bring it to the grounds, so does the Fair itself require all the shows, exhibits, competitions, cattle calvalcades and such, to bring it alive as true as its name.

The Arts and Crafts exhibit, sponsored by Argenteuil County W.I. and Cercles des Fermières, is competitive in nature and includes practically everything from hooked rugs to wood work. Several of these artists hang their work for sale as well as to inspire others of talent. The judges of these, as well as of the home-cooking and flower competitions, keep the women folk in a dither until their decisions are announced. The County Horse Race brings local rivalries to a high pitch and farmers from both near and far vie with each another for ribbons and cash prizes over cattle, horses and poultry. Boys and girls have keen competition in their cattle and horse judging. Lovers of horses and harness races hover about the race track and grandstand hoping that this season another record may be broken as when Miss Bumpus broke the 2.08½ record some three years ago.

Many local and provincial industries maintain demonstration booths at which the manufacture and application of their products are explained. Indeed, it's a great week, Fair Week in Lachute. But it's all in keeping with the intent of the Society's founders who, in 1826, wrote into the constitution of the County of York Agricultural Society (as it was then called) "to improve the mode of Agriculture and the general improvement of farm and home manufactures".

It is always pitifully ironic that those who sow the seeds of what is destined to live in their memory are rarely privileged to partake of the ripened fruit. For those founders to see the Fair of today as compared with the one-day fair in Lachute in 1889, would indeed be heart warming. The purchasing of part of the present site from the late Henry Hammond estate established fair-grounds permanency. Since then the fair has been held annually in Lachute with the exception of 1940.

Previous to this the fair was held in St. Andrews, Carillon, Muddy Branch and on the farm of the late George Fraser in Lachute.

Many, whose names are synonymous with Fair progress, have worked hard and long for a non-profit purpose. Does not this speak for the character of the Society itself? indeed, for the men themselves, if not for the Argenteuil character. In fact, the very essence of the Lachute Fair is typically Quebec with its two distinct races and languages, and its people and visitors seem to become imbued with the Laurentian Mountain spirit of tolerance and freedom.

Drumhead Service Here Next Sunday

A Legion church parade, and divine service at the Lachute High School grounds, will be held at 2.45 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, June 5, following the procedure of the drumhead service held last year. The Rev. W. B. Rosborough, of Lachute United Church, will conduct the devotions.

Legionnaires will form up at the new Legion Memorial Hall on Foundry Street at 2.30 p.m. and from there they will parade to the High School grounds. The Lachute High School band will be in attendance.

Brownsburg veterans are also joining in the service. (Notice of formation will be found in the Coming Events column, page 5.)

The general public are cordially invited to attend this observance.

Form Assoc'n of District Teachers

The first meeting of the Argenteuil - Two Mountains Teachers' Association was held at Lachute High School last Friday, with over 60 teachers present.

Through this new venture it is hoped that much will be accomplished to develop the general and social scope among members of the association.

The proposed constitution was very ably presented by Mr. B. A. Millar, of Lachute High School, and duly accepted by the group.

An interesting address was given by Mr. G. W. C. Ginn, executive secretary of the P.A.P.T. on the value of local associations, and a general view of the work of the P.A.P.T. among its province-wide membership.

The election of officers followed, after presentation of a tentative slate by Mr. F. H. J. Royal, principal of Lachute High School. Those elected were —

President, A. Thompson, L.H.S.; vice-president, Dennis Staniforth, Brownsburg; secretary-treasurer, H. MacKrith, Grenville.

Chairman, Program Committee, Mrs. Harris, St. Eustache.

Chairman, Athletic Committee, A. McGerrigle, Grenville.

In addition the following three members were elected delegates to the P.A.P.T. fall convention — B. H. Millar, Lachute; M. Graham, Arundel; Miss Edwards, Brownsburg.

Miss Ruth Low, president of the P.A.P.T., then addressed the newly-formed association and emphasized the need for unity among members of the P.A.P.T. She characterized the P.A.P.T. as an association meaning, "Prestige, Associated with Powerful Teamwork".

Continuing her address, Miss Lowe also emphasized the need for constructive thinking in the teachers' profession, thereby transmitting the same to the classroom.

Miss Lowe's remarks might be summarized in the conclusion that, "As teachers we rank with the best, by producing the best in the pupils."

The meeting was then adjourned, to re-convene on the fourth Friday of September.

Refreshments were served and a pleasant social period was enjoyed.

(Through this report the secretary expresses thanks of the newly formed group to those of the organizational committee who devoted much effort to its formation.)

HUMANITY STILL IMPORTANT

Ah, yes, these people who come to us from the war-weary, oppressed regions of Europe have every right to wonder at the wonderful way we live in a wonderful country. Theirs will be the rich experience of finding that humanity still is important in this country.

3-County Conf'ce Here for Municipal And Corp'n Officers

Arrangements have been made through the Quebec Department of Municipal Affairs to hold a one-day course here for the guidance of municipal and school officials. The conference will be held this Friday, June 3, at Lachute Auditorium.

The course will deal with the administration of Public Affairs and Municipal Valuation. The discussions will be in the English language, for the benefit of the English-speaking officers of the municipal and school corporations of the counties of Argenteuil, Gatineau and Pontiac.

These sessions will be conducted from 9.30 a.m. to noon, and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., with luncheon at the Golf Club. Between 200 and 225 members are expected to participate.

P.-Conservatives Hold Convention Here Tonight

A party conclave is being held by the Progressive-Conservatives tonight (Thursday) at the Auditorium, with delegates and substitutes from all polls in the newly combined Argenteuil-Two Mountains constituency, numbering almost 400. However, the choice of candidate would appear a reasonable certainty, and it may be predicted at this stage that Georges H. Héon, K.C., will be elected to carry the party banner.

This meeting, apart from the formalities, is expected to evidence enthusiasm as a rally of the old party stalwarts and followers. Joint masters-of-ceremony will be Léopold Carrière, mayor of Lachute, and Ronald Halpin, K.C., of St. Eustache. Joint chairmen of the platform session will be Mayor A. G. Munich of Weir and Mayor Omer Brunet of St. Benoit, who are respective wardens of the County of Argenteuil and the County of Two Mountains. It is further stated that no fewer than 22 mayors from throughout the two counties have signified their willingness to support Mr. Héon on the platform this evening, and to endorse his candidature.

Notables present to address the meeting will include the Hon. Jean Paul Sauvé, Quebec Minister of Youth and Welfare; the Hon. Omer Côté, Secretary of the Province; W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. for Argenteuil; and John Crankshaw, K.C., of Montreal.

Following the assembly it is intended by the organizers to hold a reunion for the delegates and guests, at Mr. Cottingham's farm.

P. Valois, Advocate, Liberal Choice for This Constituency

Under presidency of the Hon. Joseph Jean, K.C., Solicitor General in the Federal Government, the Liberal organization of Argenteuil-Two Mountains held its convention last Thursday afternoon, and Philippe Valois, B.A., LL.B., advocate of this town, was unanimously chosen as candidate for the party in this constituency. The proceeding were held at the municipal hall in Ste. Scholastique.

Two delegates and a substitute from each of the 116 polls were notified of the convention, in the prescribed manner, and nominations were received from those accredited to vote. . There were six nominees in all — Jas. W. McGibbon, ex-M.P., Lachute; Georges-E. Dansereau, ex-M.L.A., Grenville; Philippe Valois; E. F. Brosseau, Huberdeau; Gerard Tremblay, St. Eustache; Georges Methot, St. Hermas. As the nominees were called upon to speak they thanked their friends and supporters but each in turn withdrew in favor of Mr. Valois, who was left the unanimous choice for Liberal candidate.

Chairman of the public meeting which followed, was Mayor Joseph Lacombe of Ste. Scholastique. Speakers besides the Hon. Jos. Jean, K.C., and the newly-named candidate, were the Hon. J. Connors, member of the Quebec Legislative Council, Messrs. Georges E.-Dansereau and David Black.

Improvements to Police Quarters

Changes effected in the local police quarters should satisfy both the needs of the three-man force and also the protests of the Protestant Ministerial Association for more humane jail accommodation.

In that obscure section of the town hall which previously housed nothing in particular and everything in general, one now finds a brightly painted office, in which the customer — if he has dealings with the police department — transacts business over a smart counter or enters by a swing gate. Or one may enter farther, into the prison chamber, where a bright, clean aluminum-painted cell looks quite inviting. This room is airy and well lighted. Police Chief D. Villeneuve hopes to have another "coop" installed — as he remarked, the bars were almost bulging with four inmates in the single cell last week-end.

Voting in Progress for Queen of Legion's 'Peanut Day'; Veterans Promote Sales

MORE CASH DONATIONS TO MEMORIAL HALL

Lachute Branch 70 of the Canadian Legion reports good progress in sales preliminary to the Peanut Day arranged for Saturday, June 11. Many willing members and helpers have made a house-to-house canvass and sold peanuts in the shopping centres — finding the public generally cooperative and attracted by the voting campaign, through which the Peanut Queen to ride the decorated float of June 11 will be selected. The drawing for a radio, of course, is also an attraction.

This effort, which has been well publicized (thanks to the collaboration of local businessmen) and which will be further advertised before the actual day — is another big venture on behalf of the Memorial Hall building fund. The public have given warm support in this enterprise, and the Legionnaires are confident there will be a still more generous response in the Peanut Day campaign.

The popularity contest for selection of the Peanut Queen, closes next Wednesday at noon. The voting up till Tuesday evening last (with Brownsburg, however, still unheard from) gave the six young ladies the following standing:

Yolande St. Denis 2,850; Jean McMahon, 15,600; Yvette Gagné 8,050; Ghislaine Danis 7,750; Marion Dixon 12,450; Vivian Kennedy 3,150.

The Legion gratefully acknowledges the following cash contributions to the Memorial Hall fund, since last reporting on the finances of this project:

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jones $50; Erskine Rodger $5; Sidney Berry $2; Norman Boa $5.

To Preside at Que. Bakery Conference

Mr. J. A. Ménard, president of the Lachute Bakery Ltd., will preside next week at the 20th annual conference of the Quebec Bakery and Confectionery industry, to be held June 8-9 at the Three Rivers armoury.

The latest equipment designed for bake-shops of all capacities, and the newest products of the trade, will be displayed in connection with this convention.

Subjects to be discussed by various speakers will include "Nutritive Qualities of Bread", "Density of Bread", and "Hygienic Practices in Manufacture and Distribution". The conference thus promises an instructive and interesting program.

WOMEN CO-OPERATE

"In most communities, ours not excluded, it is found that the women's organizations have acquired the all important attribute of working together. Men's organizations are different. In this community it is apparent that there is a lack of co-operation between them", remarks the Altona (Man.) Echo.

Prime Minister Receives Warm Welcome

Civic Greeting and Informal Acclaim; Brief Visit Here During Election Tour

Although one hour late in his scheduled visit to Lachute last Monday afternoon, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent received a warm welcome from the populace of this district, who filled the Auditorium to capacity and greeted him wholeheartedly in crowds outside its doors. It was a political rally, no doubt . . . but regardless of party or prejudice, age or status, the people welcomed this opportunity to hear — and in many cases to meet personally — the leader of their Government and the first commoner of their country.

Arriving from Montreal, where he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Civil Law at McGill convocation that morning — via Ste. Rose and St. Eustache, where he had held brief meetings in the afternoon — the Prime Minister proceeded directly to the Auditorium platform and received a warm ovation. He was introduced and welcomed by Mayor Léopold Carrière, who voiced the sentiments of the citizenry in his usual happy manner, speaking in both languages. This was the first time, since the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen visited the Victoria Hall here in 1921, that Lachute had been thus honored in welcoming the Prime Minister of Canada. Regardless of political affiliations, the citizens paid tribute to their visitor today, and appreciated the honor, said Mayor Carrière, who symbolically tendered to Mr. St. Laurent the keys of the city.

Following a brief address in French and English, the Prime Minister was thanked by the Liberal candidate, Philippe Valois, for his courtesy in visiting this town and county.

Also seated on the platform were two supporting members at Ottawa — the Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transport, and Elie Bertrand, representative for Prescott constituency; also Gaston Lacroix, K.C., of Montreal. From this particular locality were — the County Warden, Mayor G. Munich of Weir, together with mayors of various municipalities; James W. McGibbon, ex-M.P.; Georges E. Dansereau, ex-M.L.A.; and other stalwarts from the Liberal ranks in the constituency.

The Right, Privilege . . and Responsibility of the Electors

The very nature of this gathering, said the Rt. Hon. Mr. St. Laurent, exemplified the difference between our way of living and that of totalitarian nations. It was the people's happy privilege, and responsibility, to express their voice in the affairs of government and to elect those whom they chose to occupy the offices of state.

In the coming election he asked that such choice be made on the merits of performance rather than on the basis of promises.

The Prime Minister briefly reviewed the acts of social legislation implemented by the Liberal party — interpreting these as measures to ensure that, in this land so richly endowed by Providence, none might suffer hardship or privation; that distribution be fostered also by every means to uphold progress in agriculture, commerce and production. He cited his party's record, and while urging that the people elect men of proven experience in the conduct of this policy, he remarked with optimism his impressions of the public favor on all sides. . . In Argenteuil-Two Mountains — concluded the speaker — Mr. Valois was committed to this clear and satisfying program, to full support of the Prime Minister and the principles of his government — and Mr. St. Laurent bespoke the endorsement of the electorate, by voting for Mr. Valois in the coming election.

New Zealand Led the World in Social, Economic Legislation, Speaker Shows

WAR CASUALTIES, PROPORTION TO POPULATION, WERE GREATEST OF ANY PART OF COMMONWEALTH

INTERESTING FACTS IN ROTARY CLUB ADDRESS

Mr. James Thorn, High Commissioner to Canada for New Zealand, spoke to the Rotary Club last Thursday on the subject, "New Zealand in the World". The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Wes Freeland, and during the evening the gathering enjoyed a pictorial impression of the country through the showing of excellent films.

In portraying New Zealand's part in world affairs during more than a century of time, the speaker traced its early settlement and progress — from its discovery by a Dutch explorer, Abel Tasman, in 1642 — its re-discovery in 1769 by the famous English navigator, Captain James Cook — the subsequent British migration —and its inclusion as a British possession in 1840.

"The first organized group of British immigrants landed in Wellington, now New Zealand's capital", said the speaker. "They had been dispatched by the New Zealand Land Company, and it will interest you Canadians to know that this Company was formed by three men who played a great part in Canadian history, Lord Durham, Charles Buller and Edward Gibbon Wakefield, who between them drafted the famous Durham Report which brought responsible Government to Canada.

"So that in 1840 New Zealand was launched into the modern world. In 1852 the British Government gave New Zealand a constitution and in 1854 responsible government was conceded.

"The Treaty of Waitangi was an act by which the British Government sincerely intended the protection and welfare of the Maoris. Most regrettably an article in the treaty dealing in the land transactions led to misunderstandings and wars with the Maoris.

Union Organizers Granted New Trial

Montreal, June 1 — Madeleine Parent and Azellus Beaucage, were granted a new trial in the Court of Appeal on Tuesday, on the charges of seditious conspiracy and conspiring to intimidate for which they were convictied and sentenced to two years each in jail at St. Jerome, on February 6, 1948.

The charges were laid during a strike called by the United Textile Workers of America (A.F. of L.) at Lachute in 1947.

Verdict and sentence given in Court of King's Bench at St. Jerome were declared by the appellate bench in Montreal to be inoperative as, following appeal by the accused, the record of the case could not be completed for the appellate court's consideration because the official stenographer, Joseph Casgrain, died leaving untranscribed some 4,000 pages of shorthand notes of evidence heard at trial.

Tuesday's judgment granted a motion by Parent and Beaucage asking for quashing of conviction and seeking a new trial. At the same time the judgment rejected a contention by the Crown that, as the record could not be completed, appeals against the verdict and sentence must be abandoned. The Crown Prosecutor contended that the death of the stenographer put an end to the right to appeal of the accused. "To admit any such theory", said Mr. Justice Gregor Barclay in delivering the court's unanimous judgment, "would constitute a palpable injustice."

Calf Sale Held by Ayrshire Club

Cool and threatening weather last Saturday did not prevent a good crowd of enthusiasts from gathering for the 5th annual calf sale of the Laurentian and North of Montreal Ayrshire Breeders. Some 33 calves were sold, for an average of $155.50 for bulls and $99 for females. . . The event was held at the Exhibition Grounds.

Top price was $300 paid by A. E. Bowen, of Hatley, Que., for Springlea Swankey Boy, a promising young bull consigned by C. J. Miller, of Lachute. Neil Leishman, of Lachute, was the lucky winner of the calf bred by Richard McAdam, tickets for which were on sale.

Grant Beattie is president and R. S. Walker secretary of the club.

The sale was opened by a brief talk from W. Erskine Rodger, the popular vice-president of the Canadian Ayrshire Association. Ray Demers was auctioneer and Francois Boulais, Quebec Ayrshire fieldman, handled the pedigrees. Forbes McOuat and Alex Bothwell assisted the president and secretary in selecting the animals.

On the whole, prices were considered very fair and the animals were widely dispersed. Many buyers were present from outside this territory, including such points as Howick, Senneville, Greenfield and Hatley, Que.; and Maxville and Dalkeith, Ont.

Gatineau LINES

Another Forward Step

Last week, two years of preparation and construction work bore fruit in the Laurentian region, when another phase of the expansion program of Gatineau was completed — a phase, incidentally, which is an example of how fast the demand for electric power is increasing in many sections served by Gatineau.

The work completed was the extension of our 110,000-volt transmission line through to Ste. Agathe, giving the Laurentian area a more dependable service and increasing the transmission line capacity north of St. Jerome. Thus, although the high power line stops at Ste. Agathe, the benefits from it fan out far to the north, east and west of that Laurentian centre.

Power started flowing over the new line as soon as the last connections were made in a new 10,000 kilowatt transformer station at Ste. Agathe. At this completely modern station, heavy transformers which were on order for more than two years reduce the voltage of the power off the 110,000-volt line down to 26,000 volts before feeding it out over secondary lines to all surrounding districts.

When Gatineau Power first launched the present expansion program, the plan called for a 110,000-volt line as far as Ste. Adele, with 26,000-volt lines carrying the power north of there. So rapidly has the demand for electricity increased, however, that it later was decided to send the high power line right through to Ste. Agathe. The 110,000-volt power now reaching Ste. Agathe travels a total of 130 miles from our power plants on the Gatineau River, by way of Calumet and St. Jerome.

The growth of electrical living is exemplified in the creation of such a powerful transformer station embodying all the latest in engineering and electrical design so deep in the Laurentians. Even five years ago, nobody dreamed of a 110,000-volt line at Ste. Agathe, in fact, in those days everything north of St. Jerome was fed off a single 26,000-volt circuit.

Strikes, Elections -- Sidelights on the News

By M. V. Trayers

The Asbestos Strike

Hopeful signs have arisen by which it may be judged the termination of the Asbestos dispute is in sight. There has been much confusion as to the issues and details involved in this strike, especially in regard to the position taken by the Roman Catholic Church; and if one is to form an opinion from the French-language papers as well as the English papers, this confusion becomes worse confounded.

One thing to be realized in judging labor questions in this province is that our labor legislation is outdated and outmoded. An endeavor was made at the last session of the Quebec legislature to introduce a new labor code, but its provisions raised such a storm of criticism that it was withdrawn.

It has been declared by the Quebec Labor Minister that the strike is illegal, and like the Lachute strike of recent unpleasant memory, provincial police were moved in to enforce the law. An outstanding English lawyer once said, "There are illegalities which are not crimes", and we may apply this aphorism to the present strike with some justice. There are a few points which lend perspective to this view.

When the last contract was being negotiated between the Johns Manville Company and the asbestos union, the procedure lasted almost a year. When similar negotiations were in progress this year, a deadlock was reached after one or two meetings. The workers — faced with the same prospect as the year before, a long drawn-out series of talks — struck. The strike was illegal under the present antedated law.

Another factor which has to be taken into account. . . Burton Ledoux, an American Protestant journalist, published a grave exposé of health conditions, claiming that asbestosis was rampant in the area due to bad dust conditions. Among other appalling charges it was shown that the death rate for tuberculosis in Thetford Mines was five times that in comparable industrial towns elsewhere. There were other reasons, but asbestosis was a contributing factor. Mr. Ledoux had a somewhat similar article published on conditions in Lac Remi, with the result that the mine was shut down.

The workers are represented by a Catholic union, being predominantly French-Canadians. On this point "The Ensign" writes: "The 'habitant' is by nature long suffering and law abiding. A feeling has been growing that some employers were only too glad to benefit unduly from these qualities". The action of the Catholic Church in coming to the aid of the strikers' families has been criticized and to a great extent misunderstood. The Bishops have aided the hungry families of the strikers, and they have tried to settle the dispute, but they have not taken sides in the legal details of the dispute. The Church concerns herself with principles, not with methods. To quote again from "The Ensign": "It is not the business of the Church to judge the particular points at issue between the union and the companies concerned, but it is the duty of the Church to see that justice is done and that the poor and the weak receive especial care and protection. We have been told the Church has no business meddling in such affairs. But in the name of justice it is her business to see that the workers get a fair hearing; and in the name of charity it is her business to see that hungry homes are helped. Hunger, no less than violence, is a poor weapon."

As Quebec Goes — So Goes Canada

The election campaign has another month to run, and during that time some crystallization of opinion may be evident, but up to the present the issues before the people are anything but clear. True there have been a lot of charges and refutations, but not one concrete principle of policy worth a minute's consideration has been put before the electors. Party tactics have made a particular play for Quebec's support, and not without reason, as history makes plain. The strength of the Liberal party as a whole has risen and fallen as a barometer with the strength of the Liberals in Quebec. Quebec elected Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1896 and swept the Liberals into power. In 1911 Quebec deserted him and swept Sir Robert Borden into his place. In 1921 Quebec returned Mackenzie King's administration, and retained him in power when all Canada was swinging to Meighen in 1925 and 1926. Five years later Quebec faltered in its support of King, and his support in the house fell to a low ebb. The Bennett government acceded to power. In 1935 and in 1945 Quebec led the way — so that it is no wonder that both parties are earnestly wooing Quebec support; for as Quebec goes, so goes Canada.

"Sunnyacres Sketches"

— II —

Random Writings on the Rural Scene

By Margaret Cook

Jane and I took a day off recently. We made the excuse to our respective husbands that we must see the daffodils in bloom at Sunnyacres. Actually, we were fed up with housework. What the Roman Catholics refer to sentimentally as the Month of Mary is to me the Moon of Misery. My soul shudders at the woollens to be washed and put away, the curtains, bedspreads, and even walls to be cleaned, the storm windows to be taken off, the screens to be put on. Not being a superwoman I do not personally do all these things, but I do my share — with one eye on the outdoors. . . It is a month-long struggle between an Irish temperament and an Eastern Townships training.

This time the Irish won, and eleven o'clock found us with our two little girls bowling along the smooth new road to Lachute. A short stop in that town to buy delectable cakes and then we tackled Route 30. The next 13 miles of gravelled mountain roads were an eye-opener to Jane (who is a New Yorker exiled to Montreal). However, we arrived safely just after mid-day . . and there were the daffodils all about the yard. But Wordsworth has said it better than I can:

"Ten thousand saw I at a glance
Tossing their heads in sprightly dance."

Perhaps not ten thousand, but we picked enough to fill two pails, and there were more.

Feasting our eyes was fine, but Betty and Patsy intimated that the stomach also has its rights, so we laid a fire in the big range, another thrill for Jane, an effete person who doubtlessly learned to cook on gas. While she happily experimented with lunch, I snooked out to check upon things.

In the orchard, four of the six new trees were putting forth tender, green leaves, and the old trees were quietly going about their annual resurrection. Scattered here and there through the orchard were the yellow bells of the Dog-tooth Violet, locally known as Adder's Tongue.

Down near the well, I came across quantities of Spring Beauties, lifting their pink-striped faces to the sun. On the hill-side above the well, the blueberries were in bloom. The blueberry bush is a picture from early spring till late autumn. Just now, the leaves are greyed-green, the tiny bell-like flowers a clear scarlet. Later, in June, the berries are a very pale green against the darker leaves. Then, for a little while, the fruit is a delicate mauve-pink before it turns to the frosted-blue of maturity. After the autumn frosts, the leaves are a dull purplish-red before they drop.

After lunch, Betty announced, "I am going pollywogging"; so we accompanied the two children to Long Lake, well knowing that no pollywogs would be found in that icy water, but anxious to see the Brook. The Brook is the outlet of our own little lake. It meanders demurely along the pastures till it reaches the road, then begins a series of jumps to Long Lake. We sat some time at the foot of one of these, watching the joyful water leap over the rocks and fall in a mass of foam in the quiet pool below. Jane sighed, "Oh for a rod!" and the little girls leaped from rock to rock with yelps of excitement but I was content to let the sun soak into me, to listen to the waters and to sniff the mingled odors of Spring.

Mints

At my feet the Water-mint was coming up. My herb book says there are 30 different species of mint, but at Sunnyacres I have identified only two positively, the Water-mint, and the American Apple-mint. A third mint, which I think is the Corn-mint, is common. All mints have square stems, and purplish flowers. It is an extremely useful herb, with medicinal as well as culinary uses.

An infusion of Water-mint is efficacious in attacks of colic, flatulence, cholera and diarrhea. I use the Apple-mint in all lamb dishes and the third variety in cooling drinks. This use I owe to the Chinese chef at the neighboring boarding-house. During the intense and prolonged heat of two summers ago, we used to see the chef picking great bunches of mint. Upon questioning, he assured us it was "velly cool" and later I found his wisdom confirmed in a book on herbs.

But to return to the Brook. Our ears are assailed by the rude bangings of a flicker as he drums on a dead cedar, while on the other side, deep in the woods, we hear the beautiful, plaintive notes of the white-throated sparrow. A blue king-fisher zooms down the lake looking for a lunch, and settles on a tree hanging over the water. Across the lake, the summer cottages are as yet shuttered and quiet, no raucous motor-boat disturbs the level blue of the water. Again I am reminded of Wordsworth and his theory of God in Nature. Whatever spirit is abroad here, it is definitely not that of Man. In this spot, what Mrs. Smith said of Mrs. Jones seems of small moment. What, after all, has Mrs. Smith's fat

The Economy of Using the Best

"EVERYTHING TO BUILD ANYTHING"

The economy of using the best possible materials is made apparent in the upkeep problem. A house or business building may be "thrown together" with cheap material, and it may "look all right," but after it has stood the shock of weather, the real test comes.

It is false economy to use poor materials — and we so advise everyone who buys from us. Our success is due to honesty in materials and prices.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS

Do you heed the request: "Keep Off the Grass"? Most people do . . . but there is always the odd person who pays no attention. Whether this sign is in a park or on your neighbor's lawn, it is common courtesy to respect it. The sign is there because someone wants the grass to grow, not because of a selfish whim. A community is only as beautiful as you care to have it . . . and by doing your share you are making a real contribution to "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Prime Minister and the People

THERE IS something inspiring about a political meeting — if you look at it the right way. The thought impressed us during Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's visit to Lachute.

In a crowd such as gathered on this occasion to welcome a figure representing the government of the people, one who symbolizes the soul and tradition of a colony grown strong in nationhood — in this picture, we say, there's a glimpse of true democracy. For here in the crowd one met all strata of the people, and those of mixed political affiliations; there were children just out from school, laborers in their working clothes, stenographers, teachers, tradesmen, professional men, the upper and the leisured class both men and women — the powdered, the immaculate, the unwashed and unshaven.

And before them, speaking in plain and unaffected phrases at the microphone, mingling with the crowd, shaking hands with oldsters and young folk — here was a man who had served his country well as Minister of Justice and Secretary of State; today His Majesty's first Minister of this Dominion — stating the record of his party and pleading for support, before the common people.

It happened to be the Right Honorable Prime Minister. It might equally have been a member of the Loyal Opposition, a less notable candidate for office, a fledgling, a newcomer; the principle is the same. Could the working of democracy be more realistically illustrated?

Yes, there is something inspiring about a political meeting — and not necessarily in the speeches.

Not All Problem Kids

SO MUCH attention is given to the problem teen-ager today that a foreign visitor couldn't be blamed for believing most of our girls and boys of high school age are only one wiener roast away from a reform school.

It's true, that is some centres there are gangs of young people who defy authority. They get into trouble, are brought into court and have their brief hour in the spotlight. It is doubtful that there are any more of this type than there were a generation ago, or a generation before that. We have always had roughneck gangs and they probably always will be with us.

There should be no suggestion, however, that these dead-end kids are typical of our teen-agers. Rather, they are the problem fringe whose questionable exploits overshadow the well-behaved, industrious youngsters representative of our youth today.

The average teen-ager is a good kid who studies as his Dad did, or harder, loves games and plays them hard, and otherwise conducts himself as a good Canadian. We don't think he or his sister can be beaten in any country. Someone should stand up every little while and say so.

Not that the teen-ager needs any more appreciation of his worth. Any more might spill over. This sometimes is a trial to parents whose self-confidence may have been roughed up a bit by life. They can only pray no depression comes along to cut him down to size too abruptly.

There are other things wrong with the teen-ager besides over-confidence. He listens to too much of Dizzy Gillespie's be-bop music and not enough to his parents. He doesn't . . . But the trouble with listing his faults is that his virtues keep cropping up in one's mind. He'll never know as much as his Old Man, of course, but he'll do — he'll do.

Doré, Perch and What-Have-You

HOW MANY times have you been annoyed by running into some unpronounceable name of fish or game? You are reading happily along and then — bang! — you stub your tongue on something like this: ". . and in the deeper waters we find lake trout (Cristivomer namaycush namaycush)"! Probably many a deep distrust of scientists in general has sprung from their use of such mysterious language.

But there is a good reason for it, after all. Say "doré" to a fisherman in Quebec and he knows exactly what you're talking about. Cross the line into the States, and "doré" does not mean a thing. The American fisherman calls the same fish a "wall-eyed pike", or maybe a "pike-perch". You can usually thresh such things out with your friends, but in the interest of uniformity throughout the world, scientists must be more exact.

And more formal too! Like the Chinese, they consider the family name most important, so they put it first. You may know from observation and hearsay that the common pike and the muskie are cousins, but it takes their scientific tags to establish for certain that they belong to the same family or Genus. Esox lucius is obviously a relative of Esox maskinongy. . . Smith, John . . . Smith, Bill.

And the third word? For example, lake trout (Cristivomer namaycush) turned out to have some slight differences among themselves, necessitating breaking the names down still further. The originally described form repeats the second name, (Cristivomer namaycush namaycush), while the group which is a little different gets a new one (Cristivomer namaycush siscowet). See how it works? Smith, John (with brown hair), and Smith, John (with red hair).

The actual scientific names may be of little interest to the layman, but are essential to comprehension among scientific workers; don't degrudge them this luxury of self-expression in the text.

WHAT a glorious experience is this in which we take part each year, this resurgence of spring. Everyone rejoices in it, even if he is unconscious of the reason for the uplifting of the spirit that comes with the season.

New Zealand Led World In Social and Economic Legislation, Speaker Shows

"But with the end of the Maori Wars there began for New Zealand a period not only of internal development but of concern for her safety in the South Pacific. If you will look at a map of that area you will see to the north of New Zealand and Australia a large number of islands which might be used as a defensive screen, to say nothing of their wealth-production capacity."

Through lack of protective measures, Germany occupied Western Samoa at the outbreak of the 1914-18 war, continued the speaker. . . "It is of interest to say that within a few weeks of the outbreak of that war, New Zealand troops occupied Western Samoa. As a matter of fact this was the first enemy territory to be taken over by troops of the British Commonwealth. When the war ended we were given a mandate over this territory by the League of Nations, and when the United Nations was created after the last war, we became the trustees of Western Samoa.

"Since 1899 New Zealand has played its part in three wars along with the United Kingdom, and other members of our Commonwealth, the South African War, and the two World Wars. The two World Wars cost New Zealand with its population of 1,800,000 nearly £700,000,000. In the second, 8,000 of our airmen passed through the Commonwealth Air Training Scheme here in Canada, our Royal New Zealand Navy fought in the Atlantic, the Indian and the Pacific Oceans, and one of our ships, the 'Achilles', took part in the action that destroyed the 'Graf Spee' in the South Atlantic. Our casualties, in proportion to our population, were the greatest of any part of the Commonwealth, not excluding the United Kingdom.

"You will recall that during this war New Zealand was threatened by a Japenese invasion. When a country like ours is menaced by Japan it is not surprising if it becomes acutely conscious of its proximity to the Asiatic Continent where more than one-half of the world's population lives. Our great neighbor, Australia, was actually bombarded by the Japanese, and joins us in this consciousness. Events have forced us both to examine more closely than formerly our attitude towards two problems: (1) Our responsibility to the inhabitants of the South Western Pacific Islands, and (2) our relations with the peoples of Asia. It is clear to us now that we are in a dangerous situation which can only be met by policy which will bring a response of friendship.

"We are confident that the Canberra Pact, and the South Pacific Commission which resulted from it, will contribute to friendly understanding not only among the powers concerned, but among the Asiatic populations, which already are showing an active interest in these operations.

"These measures express the spirit which brought us into conformity with the idea of the United Nations. In the modern world there is no real safety for any nation through mere power and domination. We may have to defend ourselves, but our only real hope is in the protection afforded us by a world organization which all will observe and respect. Through such an organization we can look at the world as a unity, and co-operate to achieve the well-being of its people.

"Consequently, we have taken an active interest in the United Nations. New Zealand is a permanent member of the United Nations Trusteeship Council and of the Economic and Social Council, of which I am at present the President. A New Zealander is also Chairman of the United Nations Social Commission, so that our work on the United Nations has been generously recognized.

"New Zealand is now the world's greatest exporter of butter and cheese, the second greatest exporter of meat, and the third greatest exporter of wool. Last year we sent to Great Britain 120,000 tons of butter, 80,000 tons of cheese and 350,000 tons of meat. I tremble to think of what the food situation in Great Britain would have been like had we not been able to do so.

"We have also set examples in another field. For more than 50 years New Zealand has won a world-wide reputation for economic and social experiment. In 1893 we enfranchised our women. We were the first country in the world to do so. Our Maoris have the same political, economic, social and educational rights as the white population. Every Maori man and woman over 21 years of age has the right to vote.

"Again New Zealand was the first nation in the world to pass an Old Age Pension Act, in the early 1890's. By growth and expansion this Act has flowered into the Social Security Act, easily the most comprehensive and generous in the whole world. Towards the end of the war Sir William Beveridge told the world over the BBC that it was on the New Zealand Act that he based his Social Security Scheme which now in its main principles is the law of Great Britain.

"Well . . that is our record and thinking people in New Zealand are proud of it. From small beginnings our people over 100 years have labored to create a new and humane spirit in the world. I am certain that in the future they will continue to contribute to everything that will make for a better life for the peoples on this earth."

The speaker was thanked for his fine address by Rotarian Don Brewster.

OBITUARY

Death Calls Lifelong Resident of Brownsburg

Late William Jas. Stewart

The death of William James Stewart, a lifelong resident of the Lachute - Brownsburg Road, occurred last Saturday in Montreal, where he had been under hospital treatment. Mr. Stewart, in his 75th year, had been ill for three weeks.

With exception of a few years spent in Butte, Montana, he had lived his entire lifetime on the homestead of his forbears. He was a member of the Brownsburg Baptist Church, and had been a Shriner in the Masons, affiliated with the order in Montana.

The funeral, held from his late home on Tuesday, was conducted by the Rev. J. Gordon Duncan of Maple Ave. Baptist Church, with ladies of the church forming a choir. The remains were interred at Dalesville Cemetery. Pallbearers were Messrs. F. D. Barlow, Albt. Dixon, Irvin Bain, Jos. McAndrew, Erskine McOuat and Bert McGibbon. There was a profusion of flowers from friends, relatives and fellow residents.

The late Mr. Stewart is survived by his two sons, John and Allan, of Niagara Falls, Ont.; also three sisters and three brothers, mostly of this district — Mrs. Ed Lalanne, Lachute; Mrs. J. Flood and Miss Annie Stewart, Brownsburg, Robert, of Brownsburg, Gordon, of Morin Heights, and Edward, of San Francisco.

Notable Anniversary

From June 5 to 12, the Anglican Church throughout the world is celebrating the 400th anniversary of the publication of the Book of Common Prayer in the English language. By the First Act of Uniformity the Book of Common Prayer came into use on Whitsunday, June 9, 1549.

Nigeria Missionary Gives Stirring Message at Week-Night Meetings

The Rev. Harold K. Germaine, who has spent many years as a missionary in Nigeria, West Africa, and is now a Deputation Secretary of the Sudan Interior Mission, is conducting a "World Vision Missionary Conference" in the Lachute Baptist Church this week, concluding on Friday night. . . The Sudan Interior Mission was founded in 1893 by three young men named Gowans, Kent and Bingham to meet the spiritual need of the millions living in the vast Sudan. The former two died within their first year, while the third came home broken in health. . . Out of this small beginning has come a glorious work. The Mission now has 701 missionaries, 122 main stations and many more out-stations, 13 doctors, and 50 nurses. Last year 18 new stations were established in Central Africa, bringing the gospel within the reach of 1,500,000 people for the first time.

Head-hunters once presented their brides with human heads in token of bravery and the marriage vow. "Now in thousands they have been washed and made clean through the blood of the Lamb. We have sat down with as many as 500 at a time to 'remember the Lord's death, till He come'," states this missionary speaker.

"Moslems, not a few, join in bowing — not to a dead prophet but a living Christ. Many a soldier colored and white, through these same missionaries was led to Christ right in Africa. What if these three men had not gone to Africa! What if the Sudan Interior Mission had not been founded!"

There are 27,000,000 souls in the Sudan, twice the population of Canada, still awaiting the message of Christ's salvation for the first time. What of similar untouched areas in the world? . A New York journalist says: "There are approximately 23,482 missionaries. These are paid the average of $50 a month and there are no 'ratings' in missionary work. The Christian Church has provided 19 missionaries for every million of unevangelized people. There is about one division of missionaries to the world. In the last war Hitler had 300 divisions of soldiers in Germany alone. Think of it!"

One day of war would pay for six years' continuous missionary work. The firing of one single big gun would pay for a missionary's services for ten years! . .

"Startling, isn't it?" comments the speaker, on the above facts. "May God startle us! 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature'. In nineteen hundred years this command has not been obeyed, but by a paltry few. Christians, unless you obey now, to go, give, and pray, you will answer before the judgment seat of Christ!"

Salads for Summer

A successful salad presents a picture — crisp, cold and colorful — suggesting the coolness of a dewy morning on the most sultry summer day. Salads are therefore an ideal summer food.

Lettuce is the standard green, and green-leaf lettuce makes the basis of most summer salads. The average garden offers several greens which add texture and flavor. These are spinach, chard, parsley, nasturtium leaves and the young tops of beets or turnips. Other plants such as pepper-grass, cress, Chinese cabbage, romaine and endive are worth trying.

Sometimes shredded greens are a more interesting background than the whole leaves. The home economists of the Consumer Section have an excellent idea for shredding. Roll several leaves into a tight roll and slice crosswise in thin slices to make fine, even shreds.

Jellied salads or jellied meats may be made in a spare moment, and be ready to serve on the salad plate. Jellied meat loaf is party-like for cool summer eating. It is a good way to use the end of Sunday's roast.

Cottage cheese is an excellent choice for the more substantial summer salad because it gives the sensation of coolness and blends well with almost any other food.

Much of the success of a salad depends on the dressing. It is better to have the dressing on simple salads, fresh and tangy, rather than rich.

Jellied Meat Loaf

1 Tablespoon gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 1½ cups meat stock, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon finely chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento (optional), ¼ cup chopped sweet pickle, 1 hard-cooked egg, 2 cups chopped cooked lean meat (beef, veal or pork).

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes, add to hot stock. Add vinegar, salt, onion, pimiento and pickle. Slice hard-cooked egg and arrange in the bottom of a wet or greased mould, pour in ¼ cup of jelly mixture. Let stand until set. Add meat to remaining jelly mixture, pour over eggs and set aside until firm. Turn out to serve. Yield: six servings.

Albanian Salad

1 Lb. fresh young spinach, 4 slices of bacon, 1 tablespoon bacon fat, 1 tablespoon malt vinegar, ⅛ teaspoon black pepper, ¼ cup French dressing (about).

Wash spinach thoroughly. Use only the spinach leaves; discard stems. Dry spinach well, then crisp in refrigerator as least one-half hour. Meanwhile fry bacon slowly, pouring off fat as it collects. When bacon is partially cooked, cut in small pieces. Continue cooking until crisp. Shred spinach. Add cooked bacon, a tablespoon of the hot bacon fat, vinegar and black papper. Add French dressing slowly and mix lightly until spinach is well coated. (A quarter of a cup may be too much). Allow to marinate in refrigerator about 20 minutes before serving.

Eggs in Tomato Aspic

1½ Tablespoons gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 2 cups tomato juice, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 hard-cooked eggs, 1 tablespoon salad dressing.

Soak gelatine in cold water. Combine tomato juice, onion juice, sugar and salt. Heat to boiling point, add gelatine and stir until dissolved. Half-fill 6 individual moulds with jelly mixture. Remove shells from hard-cooked eggs, cut eggs in half, remove yolks and mash, season and mix with salad dressing. Pack yolk mixtures into whites. When jelly is partially set, place half a devilled egg, with yolk down, in each mold. When jelly is completely set add remaining tomato-gelatine mixture. Allow to set. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with watercress or asparagus tips. Yield: six servings.

Shut-In's Day on Sunday, June 5

(An annual international day set aside to encourage remembrance of the sick and disabled that it may bring some extra cheer and fellowship into the lives of those who cannot mix in the normal social life of unhandicapped people.)

Visit A Shut-In

Have you ever visited a shut-in? I do not mean a friend who has been confined to bed for a few weeks with an illness from which he or she recovered. I am thinking of someone who has been confined to bed or at home or in some hospital for months — yes, perhaps years.

If you have visited a shut-in, then you will appreciate the work that the Shut-in's Day Association is doing. As you entered the sick-room of your friend you immediately experienced your own inadequacy. You said to yourself, like many in the same situation: "What can I say — what can I do to ease the burden of one who is shut off from the normal activity of life?" Then suddenly you found yourself facing one whose face brightened with a smile — a smile of welcome, a smile of appreciation. For, you see, to him someone came from a busy world — someone cared — someone remembered.

Some of you who have read this message perhaps have never known the satisfaction of visiting a shut-in. Will you accept this challenge? Will you make an honest effort on Sunday, June 5, to visit at least two persons who are unable to take their place in active life?

Ask your minister for their names and addresses; then go to them. You will receive an inspiration and you will come away, saying to yourself: "I did not help them — they helped me". Yes, your own vision of life will be broadened and you will know the satisfaction of a mission fulfilled. Will you try it on Sunday, June 5? And more important — will you visit a shut-in whenever you have the opportunity throughout the whole year?

May our Lord be able to say to you: "I was sick and ye visited Me — inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

— By Rev. R. G. MacMillan, Goderich, Ont.

ANY QUESTIONS ON C-I-L AMMUNITION? ASK LEONARD WILSON

LEN WILSON'S motto might well be the "Good Work Sells Itself" above the chart on which he checks the quality of shot shells manufactured in Brownsburg. Len's "good work" has been going on for 50 years and there's no one in all Canada who knows more about ammunition than he does. Yes, Len has the longest service of anyone at the C-I-L Ammunition plant. He has worked up right from the bottom to the responsible position of special consultant on ammunition production. But Len doesn't stop there. In his spare time he is a Brownsburg town councillor, a keen gardener and raises dogs. Seems like 24 hours' work a day, but Len finds time for other hobbies and he has the full co-operation of C-I-L in his duties for the community. We believe that Len Wilson is just as much a credit to Brownsburg as he is to C-I-L.

soul to do with mine? . Here Jane interrupts to say it is three o'clock.

By four, we are on our way back to the city. We stop once at Lake Sir John to pick a spray of dog-wood and bunches of smelly, red trilliums. Near St. Eustache a horrible stench of burning rubber assails our nostrils, and there seems to be a howling banshee under the hood. We creep into town to the nearest garage. The mechanic, taking off the wheel, mutters darkly of a burned bearing. But the bearing is intact. A conical object, however, is hanging by one thread of one screw against the wheel. This, the mechanic is surprised to identify as the heater; it, and friction against the rubber tire, had produced the bizarre effects mentioned above. Much relieved, we breeze along to Cartierville, where we lose a hub-cap — and no amount of searching can recover it, although we both saw it fly off into an adjacent field. Slightly chastened, we arrive home at seven. At eleven, as I gratefully relax between the cool sheets, Wordsworth and the daffodils are again with me — mentally, I mean — and I go to sleep, saying to myself:

"For oft, when on my couch I lie
In vacant, or in pensive mood,
They flash upon that inward eye
Which is the bliss of solitude.
And then my heart with pleasure fills
And dances with the daffodils."

One Triumph, Two Defeats For Local Baseball Club

Close Game Witnessed Here

The L'Heureux vs. Lachute baseball fixture here last Thursday turned out to be one of the best games ever witnessed by Lachute fans. Both teams were held scoreless for eight full innings. It looked as if the game would end in a draw, as L'Heureux failed to score in their half of the ninth. Lachute, however, succeeded in getting Gozenko on base and advanced him to third for a scoring chance. M. Paré then hit a single to score the winning and only run of the game, for Lachute.

Gervais struck out 10 men in this game and allowed only two hits to the opposing team.

Beauharnois Takes Laurels

Lachute came out on the losing end of a home-and-home series with Beauharnois last Sunday, by scores of 9-3 at Lachute and 12-2 at Beauharnois. The team did not play up to par and were outclassed by a squad which shows evidence of constant practice and good sportsmanship.

Losing pitchers for Lachute were (1) at Lachute, Nucci, (2) at Beauharnois, Gervais.

Brownsb'g Bowling Team Wins Deschamps Trophy

Brownsburg — Brownsburg has maintained its supremacy in bowling by winning the Deschamps Trophy for the third straight year. They have now won the prize outright, and at a pleasant little ceremony last week the trophy was placed on display among the many others in the Social and Athletic Club. The Lachute team which contested the finals with Brownsburg made a gallant effort, but were unable to outscore their more experienced opponents. The trophy, a beautiful silver cup, was donated by the late Marcel Deschamps, well known Lachute enthusiast and former owner of the Bowling Academies in both Lachute and Brownsburg.

In the ten-pin playoffs just completed for the E. J. Johnson Trophy, the team captained by John Duncan won out, five games to two, in a best-5-out-of-9 series over the team of Bill Campbell. This series was of an exciting nature, as the issue was in doubt for a considerable part of the time; and owing to some players being unable to take part on the night selected, the decision hung on the absent players' score marked up at a later occasion. In this way a lot of player-interest was aroused, and the pros and cons of each performance were avidly discussed.

Lachute Golf Club Special Commentary

Our club was honored last Monday evening by a visit from the Right Hon. Louis St. Laurent, who dined in the club house following his appearance and address at the Lachute Auditorium. Our distinguished guest visited informally with the occasional members present. The Prime Minister remarked that he would like nothing more than a round of golf on the course, but that his schedule for the day did not permit of such diversion.

There was the usual good turnout for the Opening Dance and from all reports "a good time was had by all". This year's increased club facilities provided still better entertainment for the large crowd.

In spite of members' strenuous activities on the dance floor, no one was missing at the tee-off time in the Opening Tournament at 2 p.m. next day. This was another highly successful Opening, with scores fair-to-good. Winners' names appear below.

We could even remark upon the energetic member who turned up bright and early at 9 a.m. all set for a practice round before the tournament — without benefit of golf shoes. It is not recommended procedure to attach spikes to your socks and play it that way, but we suppose it could be done. . . Flash! Sam has found his shoes.

First rounds of the C-I-L Purvis Cup match play are underway, and to date we know of one contest decided — by a pin. Giles Perodeau, putting with that calm and deadly accuracy we know so well, hit the post, thereby forfeited the hole, and as it happened the match, to Norm Somers. Incidentally, we understand the pin was not vertical at the time, but believe that Giles had carefully set it in the horizontal position as a backstop and that he was shocked to hear that such shenanigans are not cricket, let alone golf.

Visiting our course for a day of golf next Saturday will be a group from the Montreal District Alumni Association of the University of Toronto. We extend a cordial welcome to these distinguished gentlemen, graduates of Canada's top-ranking University. (Now please give me back my arm, Hugh).

Finest Quality— Easy to Use
"SALADA" TEA BAGS

It happened not far from Piccadilly Circus, in one of those men's barber shops which have the accent on glamour.

The customer was the West-end playboy type, and his manicurist was extremely pretty. Followed the usual badinage . . and then the young man said: "Will you have supper with me tonight — and then maybe a night club?"

"I don't think I should", said the girl. "I'm married, you see."

But the playboy was the self-confident, high-humored, marriage-mustn't-mean-shackles type.

"Nonsense! Ask your husband, I'm sure he won't mind."

"Ask him yourself", said the girl. "He's shaving you."

Partisans Rally to Political Meets As Candidates Launch Campaign

Warm Support for Both Major Parties; Third Contender, Union des Electeurs

Nominations for the June 27 federal election campaign take place next Monday. With assurance from a Union des Electeurs contender that he will enter the fray for Argenteuil - Two Mountains, it is indicated this will be a three-way campaign, similar to the last federal contest in this county. A Lachute man, Joseph Orphir Desjardins, will represent the Union des Electeurs (Social Credit) party.

Meanwhile, the officially endorsed candidates of the two major parties, Georges H. Héon, K.C. (Progressive Conservative) and Philippe Valois, B.A., LL.B. (Liberal), are getting into stride for an intensive campaign throughout the newly-combined riding of Argenteuil - Two Mountains — which covers a wide territory.

Héon Nominated P.-Cons. Candidate At Party Assembly

CONVENTION HELD AT AUDITORIUM

At a large and enthusiastic gathering held at Lachute Auditorium last Thursday evening, Georges H. Héon, K.C., was unanimously chosen Progressive-Conservative candidate for Argenteuil-Two Mountains, by the 425 delegates (of whom 275 were French-speaking and 150 English-speaking).

The convention was presided over jointly by A. Gaston Munich, warden of the County of Argenteuil, and Omer Brunet, warden of the County of Two Mountains. On the platform were 20 mayors of the various municipalities of the constituency. Léopold Carrière, Mayor of Lachute, and Rônald Halpin, K.C., of St. Eustache, acted as joint M.C.'s.

In accepting the nomination, Mr. Héon thanked the delegates for the confidence they had shown in him and said that the fact that both French and English-speaking delegates had given him unanimous support was a magnificent example of racial harmony and one which should discourage the Liberal organization in stirring racial and religious issues.

Mr. Héon attacked the Liberal Party in the Province of Quebec for "the worst racial and religious appeals Canada has ever known."

Addressed Organization Rally in Montreal

Mr. Héon, chief organizer for the party in this province, addressed a joint rally of Progressive-Conservative men and women organizers at the Place Viger Hotel in Montreal on Tuesday evening.

Since the opening of the campaign, Mr. Héon said, Mr. St. Laurent and his supporters had constantly appealed to racial prejudices in their effort to retain power. He cited particularly the political campaigns of two French-speaking Federal Cabinet members, Alphonse Fournier and Lionel Chevrier, as fostering racial prejudice.

Liberal Rallies In Northern Parts Of Argt'l County

P. VALOIS, CANDIDATE, RECEIVES ACCLAIM

Philippe Valois, Liberal candidate in the forthcoming federal elections for Argenteuil - Two Mountains, has his election campaign in full swing and is being supported on the platform by party stalwarts throughout the constituency.

On Sunday, June 6, Mr. Valois was at St. Adolphe d'Howard after mass, where his presence and a galaxy of supporting speakers drew a large crowd. Presiding was Mayor Gratton, and speakers included Georges-E. Dansereau, ex-M.L.A., Dr. Bernier, of Montreal, Guy Favreau, Jules Trempe and Mr. Valois. From St. Adolphe the party moved through Montfort, 16 Island Lake and Huberdeau, where presiding officers were Mr. Barlow, Mr. L. C. B. Dupuis and Mayor Gaston Laurier, respectively. At all these meetings, the speakers warmly endorsed the Liberal program of the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, and dealt at some length with its various aspects, including the Family Welfare Act and Old Age Pensions. Speakers also answered various criticisms recently levelled at Liberal policies by Conservative campaigners.

On Tuesday evening, Mr. Valois was at St. Joseph du Lac and was welcomed by a large crowd. The gathering overflowed the hall and it became necessary to hold the meeting outdoors, where Mr. Valois received a warm ovation. Supporting him on the platform at this meeting were Mr. Robert Turgeon, ex-president of the Young Liberals Association, Dr. Bernier, Mr. Charest and Mr. Bernard Deschesnes.

STAGE SET FOR SUCCESSFUL 'LACHUTE FAIR 1949'

Indications Point to Public Attendance And Entries Exceeding Previous Years

While various committees of the Argenteuil Agricultural Society have been tackling their respective jobs . . while Secretary-Manager Alex Bothwell and his clerical staff have kept the records and book-work up to date . . at Lachute Fair Grounds crews have meanwhile been busy with spring-cleaning and renovations to ensure a site befitting the importance of the annual Spring Fair, which will officially open next Wednesday.

Bright-colored paint on the roofs of many of the buildings gives evidence of this preparation, while a close-up view reveals the livestock stables have been re-whitewashed and disinfected. Additional land acquired near the main entrance will afford more extensive space for parking and for industrial displays. It is expected there will be still more variety in machines and equipment displayed, for double the space allotted last year has already been booked; and there should be no lack of interest along the line of new products and modern procedures. The new land acquired will also facilitate the entry of traffic, two distinct gateways relieving the congestion at the main entrance, which has always been a handicap at peak hours.

The committeemen are co-ordinating their work so that no detail may be neglected. And their task is no mean responsibility, for the upward trend of attendances gives indication this may be the biggest exhibition in the county's history. Already the list of exhibitors has set a high record — registrations having been closed out at 167.

An item of interest is the engagement of Jean Lalande, a professional announcer, to keep the grandstand crowd informed on the program of events, especially the horse show, which is a feature attraction each evening at this spot. Well versed with names and faces in this specialized field, Mr. Lalande, who hails from St. Jerome, has had considerable experience at top-flight horse shows across the country. He is described as a versatile commentator and thoroughly bilingual.

Vaudeville is back on the program, for free entertainment of the onlookers — four acts have been engaged. An instrumental group will liven the proceedings with music from the bandstand.

Altogether, the stage is set to ensure the success of another big Exhibition. The town and countryside may contribute in some measure to these preparations — by co-operating for the comfort of visitors and the general atmosphere of hospitality, and by joining their friends to swell the grand attendance.

Council Considers Tenders Submitted

The June session of Lachute Town Council was held on the first of the month at the Victoria Hall. Mayor Léopold Carrière presided, and all members were present with the exception of Ald. Stanley Holt.

The mayor read a letter received from Provincial Transport Company, stating that action would be taken within a few days regarding the parking of buses on Main St.

Permission was granted to the Lachute Branch of the Canadian Legion to hold a peanut tag day and a dance, on June 11.

By-law No. 177 regarding sidewalks in the Town of Lachute, was adopted in its first and second readings.

It was decided that Lachute Town Corporation would enter the membership of the Union of Municipalities of the Province of Quebec, and that Mayor Carrière and the financial adviser, Germain Filion, be appointed delegates to represent the town at the Union's convention.

It was decided to call for tenders for painting and redecorating the Victoria Hall and the Town Office, tenders to be in the secretary's hands not later than July 5.

Applications for the position of Town Officer were presented by the secretary, with the following salaries specified:

Albert Legault, $3,500 a year; Simard Larocque, $40 a week; Philippe Desjardins, $2,400 a year; Donat Pharand, $45 a week; Laurea Laurin, $3,000 a year.

Tenders were also received for supplying 25 tons of coal according to requirements advertised. The bids were as follows:

L. J. Dumais, $20.50 a ton; Lloyd Kettyle, $20.40; Horace Lafleur, $20; C. E. Dorris, $20.75 for stove-coal, $20.50 for egg-coal.

The meeting was adjourned to the privacy of the secretary's office to consider the foregoing offers.

It was thereupon moved by Ald. W. Morrissette, seconded by Ald. E. Provost, that 25 tons of coal be purchased from L. J. Dumais, at $20.50, delivered at the Auditorium or Town Hall.

It was moved by Ald. Morrissette, seconded by Ald. P. Chartrand, that Simard Larocque be engaged as Town Officer at a salary of $40 a week.

It was then moved in amendment by Ald. W. Cousineau, seconded by Ald. MacKimmie, that the tenders for Town Officer be considered at the next regular meeting of council.

There being five votes for and three against, the amendment was then carried.

It was ordered that a street-light be installed on Robert Street between St. Jacques' building and Mrs. Paquette's.

Anti-Tb. Clinic and X-ray, Free Service At Fair Grounds

A new departure in the field of Public Health is to be put into effect next week at the Fair Grounds during the days of the Exhibition.

The Anti-Tuberculosis League—under the direction of Dr. L. Turcotte, County Health Officer, and working in co-operation with the Montreal branch—is setting up a tuberculosis clinic on the ground floor of the Main Building. A 70 mm. X-ray machine will be on hand, together with the necessary personnel so that anyone may take advantage of the service.

As these examinations can be made with a minimum of inconvenience, and are free of charge, it is expected that this will be one of the busiest places during the Exhibition proceedings.

On Monday, June 13, a special clinic will be held at the Social Club in Brownsburg with this same equipment, from 1.30 to 5 in the afternoon, and from 7 to 9 in the evening. . On Tuesday afternoon the clinic will be held in the Town Hall at St. Andrews East, from 2 to 5 o'clock, and also from 7 to 9 in the evening. . . During the remainder of the week the equipment and operators will be at the Fair Grounds.

Legion Service On School Grounds

Many spectators witnessed the Legion parade and drumhead service at the Lachute High School grounds last Sunday afternoon. Fine weather favored the occasion.

Legion members from Lachute and Brownsburg branches, and the Brownsburg women's auxiliary, paraded from the memorial hall on Foundry Street. They were preceded by the High School band, by small contingents of the Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs, and a larger group of the Girl Guides, all flying their respective colors and wearing their uniforms or symbols of membership.

Members of the local Protestant clergy took part in the devotional program — the Rev. C. Maclean, the Rev. G. T. Spriggs, the Rev. C. R. Lang, and the Rev. W. B. Rosborough, who delivered the sermon. Taking as his text the passage "Fight the good fight of faith", Mr. Rosborough emphasized the needs of spiritual warfare, which was the first front today in men's search for peace, accord and righteousness. The minister compared these needs with the requirements of a battle campaign — the strategies under which our veterans had fought in distant fields; such elements as determination, preparedness against surprise, resistance against stronger forces, were factors applicable to the "inner conflict" which confronts us individually and collectively today.

The school instrumentalists under their director, Earl Morrison, played an effective accompaniment for the hymns.

Old-Timer from West Enjoying His Visit

Mr. Jos. McCluskey, of Ribstone, Alta., paid a friendly call to The Watchman while in Lachute last Friday. It is 39 years since Mr. McCluskey left Laurel for the West, where he has since made his home, and 21 years since his last visit here. In commenting upon his recent photograph in The Watchman (taken on a visit to his brother Matthew in hospital) — Mr. McCluskey remarked he eagerly looks forward each week to receiving the local paper, which he compares to "a letter from home," and which keeps him in touch with local affairs. He expects to stay in this district for the Lachute Spring Fair, where he will doubtless meet many more friends and relatives.

B'burg Veterans Celebrate D-Day

Brownsburg — Monday evening, June 6, witnessed the greatest number of veterans ever to gather in Brownsburg, when well over 200 attended a function at St. Onge's Hall in observance of the fifth anniversary of the invasion of Normandy. Besides the members of Brownsburg branch of the Legion, there were large delegations from both Lachute and Hawkesbury. Two members of the American Legion were also present as guests.

In addressing the gathering, the president of the Brownsburg branch, Hector Steele, reminded the veterans that the primary purpose of the affair was to pay tribute to the memory of the many local boys who fell on D-Day and in the subsequent campaign, particularly around Caen. Following the silence, a toast to the King was proffered by Sid Stilwell.

The lighter spirit of the evening was entered into rapidly, and singing under the leadership of Dick Cordick was spontaneous and harmonious. A song competition between the various sections of the armed forces followed — the Navy obtaining perhaps a slight edge, with a rollicking interpretation of its doings in the recent war. After a buffet lunch, talented professional entertainers from Montreal kept the audience interested for nearly an hour. Don Reid's orchestra also provided spirited music, which was heartily enjoyed by the boys.

Govt. Authorities Give Instruction on Property Valuation for Municipalities

A conference of considerable importance was held here last Friday — the first conclave of its kind in this province conducted in the English language, designed as a move to correct the lack of uniformity in property valuations. This inequality is a matter which affects the administration of every municipal and school authority in Quebec, whose revenues are derived almost entirely from property tax; it is a matter which reflects also on the credit standing of the municipal or provincial authority, whose capital assets are the sum-total of valuations.

It was logical, therefore, that the Quebec Department of Municipal Affairs should seek to remedy these irregularities through the county, municipal and school administrators, those directly responsible for homologation of the rolls; and the assessors, those responsible for property appraisals and adjustments. . . It was for these officials that the first experimental study-course was conducted last Friday; and English-speaking members of the various boards and commissions in Argenteuil, Gatineau and Pontiac counties were present, numbering well over 200.

Morning and afternoon sessions were held in the Auditorium, presided over by Gaston Munich, warden of Argenteuil County and Mayor of Weir. Luncheon was served at the Golf Club chalet, where Georges H. Héon, K.C., and W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. spoke a brief word of welcome and venture.

Prominent in the proceedings were Dr. Clement, of Cedars, Que., president of the Quebec Union of County Councils, Mayor Léopold Carrière of Lachute, and the following officers of the Department of Municipal Affairs: J. Migneault, president of the Municipal Commission; H. Laurent, director of the Commission for Montreal District; Hervé Gagnon, chief inspector-auditor; C. Sasseville and F. X. Martel, inspectors-auditors; also Messrs. Chevrier and Sarault. Edward M. Jones, secretary of Argenteuil County Council, was active in the details of organization.

Detailed clauses in the Municipal Code, dealing with preparation of the valuation roll especially for rural municipalities, were discussed from the platform, and questions were answered. The procedure to be taken by the three assessors and their secretary-treasurer; the entering of their findings as to land and immoveable values, also as to proprietorships and tenancies, for voting purposes; the homologation of the roll by council, and the revision, all on specified dates — these details occupied a full morning and afternoon of discussion.

The requirements of the Municipal Code are definite in the foregoing details. But, among school and township electees, the old rule-of-thumb methods have been generally accepted as traditional. It devolves therefore upon the assessors themselves, to apply the law in a manner which may appear revolutionary — and upon the secretary, who records their findings and translates them into terms of revenue, to strive for a more equitable sharing of corporate tax burdens. . . It was to all such appointees and officials that the study course here was directed, and the Quebec Department of Municipal Affairs is to be commended on this means of approach.

ANY FOLK SONGS?

Watching and listening to the Polish and Lithuanian folk singers and dancers at the Sigma party . . we got to wondering just what a group of Canadians would do if, while in one of the European countries, they were called upon to perform with some Canadian folk songs and dances.

Feted on Return From Tour O'seas

Mr. Marc Carrière, who returned last week from a trip to Europe, where he was official delegate of the Professional Industrialists Association at the first annual meeting of the UNIAPAC in Rome, Italy, was guest of honor at a dinner sponsored by a group of employees of Ayers Limited and Dominion Shuttle Company, at the Lachute Golf Club chalet last Sunday evening.

A total of 75 employees, representing the different committees, such as the Industrial Co-operation Committee, Ayers Saving Bank executives, and La Ruche Co-operative Store executives, attended this reception. The directors of Ayers Limited and Dominion Shuttle, and the Revs. Eugène Cloutier, Adrien Giard and Léo Clément, were also present as guests of the employees on this occasion.

Roger Dépratto, vice-president of Ayers Industrial Co-operative Committee, acted as chairman of the reception — inviting Mr. Carrière to give a resumé of his trip to Europe. The guest of honor, who had the privilege of a private interview with His Holiness Pope Pius XII, gave the audience a very interesting synopsis of his tour through England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium and the Netherlands.

Mrs. Marc Carrière was presented with a bouquet of spring flowers by Miss Charlotte Chartrand, second vice-president of Ayers Industrial Co-operation Committee.

Ovila Legault, president of the Administration Committee of Ayers Savings Bank, thanked Mr. Carrière for his interesting talk.

The occasion was voted an entire success.

Legion Takes Stock of Fund Campaign Projects; Peanut Day This Saturday

YVETTE GAGNE ANNOUNCED "PEANUT QUEEN", BY POPULAR VOTE

The regular monthly session of Argenteuil Legion Branch 70 was held last evening, with a large and enthusiastic attendance.

Comrade the Rev. Chas. Maclean was appointed to act as chaplain of the branch, an office which he accepted with pleasure.

Reports were brought in from various committees; and the Peanut Day, which takes place on Saturday, is being looked forward to as something of a gala event in the community. Voting for the six Peanut Queen contestants has been heavy, signifying a large response to the peanut sales campaign. Appreciation is accordingly extended to the public for their loyal support of this project. All are invited to participate on Saturday and help make the dance, at the High School grounds that evening, a notable success.

Result of the voting, which was completed last night, accorded a majority of votes for Miss Yvette Gagné, of Brownsburg, to act as Peanut Queen on Saturday. Besides enjoying this honor, the popular Yvette wins a $25 award.

Figures in the public ballot ran very close. Following are the three leading contestants:

Yvette Gagné	35,500
Jean McMahon	34,500
Marion Dixon	33,800

The Memorial Hall is progressing favorably, but funds are still needed, and the Legionnaires wish to impress the fact that public support — both to the Peanut Day effort and the drawing for a Dodge car — will greatly assist them in their aim to complete the building this year.

CATHOLIC CHURCH GETS LOCOMOTIVE BELL

Mackayville, Que. — Since December, 1947, the church of Notre Dame de l'Assomption here has been without a bell. The situation was rectified last month by R. C. Vaughan, C.M.G., chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, who, on behalf of the railway, donated a bell from a diesel locomotive. Recently, at a ceremony attended by hundreds of parishioners, the bell was blessed by His Excellency Rt. Rev. A. Forget, bishop of St. Johns, Que.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. (CP) — All permits to start fires in the woods of this district have been cancelled because of the dry condition of the bush. No permits will be issued until the danger is past.

Gatineau LINES

Transformer Stations

One of the biggest—and yet least noticeable — jobs of a power company is that of keeping the capacity of its transformer stations always ahead of the demand for power on the lines leading out from the transformers, or "sub-stations" as they are called. Every new power line that goes in creates a different situation back at the sub-station from which that particular line will get its power — and the sub-stations are constantly growing in size and number as a result.

Take the new sub-station recently opened at Arundel, for example. It is a small, compact-looking affair, not particularly impressive to anyone except an electrical engineer, and yet the flow of electricity into a whole network of Laurentian centres — such as Arundel, Huberdeau, Weir, Sixteen Island Lake and Bevan Lake — depends upon the smooth operation of the heavy transformers in that station. With a capacity of 450 kilowatts, it replaces the former 225-kilowatt sub-station — and the voltage in the entire circuit served by it has been raised from 2,300 volts to 4,600 volts. That means more power, steadier power, for every customer in the Arundel area.

A much bigger sub-station, serving a greater area, is under construction at Vaudreuil, and will go into operation just as soon as the necessary transformers can be delivered. This is a 3,000-kilowatt station, which takes 66,000-volt power and feeds it out to the surrounding area at 26,000 volts. The new sub-station is close to the new Gatineau Power office at the junction of Highways 17 and 2.

Sometimes the demand for power grows as fast as new sub-station equipment can be put in. Just a year ago, for instance, the demand around Shawbridge became high enough to justify increasing the sub-station capacity from 450 kilowatts up to 1,000 kilowatts. No sooner had this been done than the demand for power went up again, and Gatineau now is increasing the capacity of the Shawbridge station for the second time in less than two years — up to 2,500 kilowatts this time. At the same time, the Ste. Julienne sub-station will be increased from 600 kilowatts to 1,500.

And so it goes over the whole Gatineau system. The things that are noticed most are the new distribution lines going up — but behind every new power line is a new or enlarged transformer station increasing capacity to keep up with changing conditions.

Did You Know?

The Argenteuil community of Lakefield will soon have electric service for the first time — the latest addition to the expanding Gatineau network.

Lime Will Correct Soil Acidity

The importance of liming to correct soil acidity has long been recognized as good soil management. Soil acidity is a major problem in Newfoundland, the Maritimes and Quebec, and a lesser problem in Ontario, the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia. It is not generally known, but in some areas even the virgin soils require liming. Where lime is required, it should be applied regularly as it plays an important part to productive soils, says G. W. Michael, Associate Chief (Fertilizers), Plant Products Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

An application of 1,000 to 2,000 pounds of ground limestone every four years in the rotation will maintain a satisfactory level in most soils. It is applied by broadcasting and working it into the top soil. Before lime is applied, the soil should be tested to determine if it is required. High alkaline soils may be as harmful to some crops as acid soils are to others. A. P.H. of 7.0 is considered neutral.

Canada uses about 450,000 tons of agricultural lime annually but much more should be used to maintain a satisfactory P.H. level. The Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture have a joint lime subsidy policy so that lime can be delivered very cheaply on the farm.

The Provincial Governments operate the policy through their agricultural extension staff. Farmers interested in purchasing agricultural lime should contact their local agricultural representative regarding the lime subsidy policy.

GOOD CEMENT

A good rule to remember in mixing cement is — change the proportion of sand and gravel, but do not change the proportion of water and cement. Four Imperial gallons of water are recommended per sack of cement used in most types of farm construction. With this amount of cement and water 2¼ cubic feet of sand and three cubic feet of gravel are suggested.

Slugs Can Soon Spoil the Garden

Slugs are the grey, snail-like creatures which eat the leaves of tender vegetables, leaving a slimy trail on the foliage and on the soil beneath the plants. They do not restrict their activities to vegetables, as anyone with a rockery in the garden will know.

They shun daylight and thrive only where there is plenty of moisture. They are most troublesome in rainy seasons, and in low-lying areas of heavy land or where there is a mass of foliage growing close to the ground.

Plants in infested soil may be protected by a thin film of hydrated lime dusted over the foliage and on the ground after the sun has gone down and feeding has commenced. Hydrated lime is effective only when dry, and for this reason a few dustings every three or four days is more effective than one heavy one. Bordeaux mixture is also repellent to slugs and plants kept covered with the spray will be protected in some measure from attack.

For small gardens, where cost is not as important as under field conditions, baits of methaldehyde and bran are satisfactory. They can be bought ready mixed at most seed stores, and should be used according to the manufacturers' directions.

VIOLATES ACT

At Newmarket, Ont., recently, Dan Andruzke of Kettleby, Ont., was fined $25 and costs, or thirty days, for allowing, or causing to be moved, onions which had been previously placed under detention, without first obtaining written authority from an inspector.

This action was taken under the provisions of the Farm Products Grades and Sales Act of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Neighbor Community Fights Poison Ivy

A heated campaign against poison ivy is being conducted by the citizens of St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac.

The campaign is sponsored by a joint civic organization consisting of the Citizens' Association, Gyro Club, Canadian Legion, Boy Scouts Association, Catholic and Protestant school boards, and the local golf and country club.

According to C-I-L Agricultural News, the summer resort district was plagued with poison ivy for many years. It overran the beaches, gardens, parks and woods. Each summer a large percentage of the population — adults and children — suffered from ivy poisoning.

Last year the citizens got together and resolved to eradicate the creeping menace. Volunteer fighters were divided into ten teams. The area was first mapped showing infestations of poison ivy. Each team was given an area to cover. Ivy patches were sprayed with the lethal chemical — ammonium sulphamate.

So spectacular were results last year that it is expected one spraying of ivy this season will reduce instances of poisoning to a minimum. Ammonium sulphate is highly effective where complete eradication of plant life is required. While it is not toxic to animals, care must be observed in its application so it will not kill valuable plants.

Stern-Wheelers, Riel Trial Highlighted in History

Winnipeg (CP)—One of the great sights of the springtime in the old days of Winnipeg was to see stern-wheelers docking at the foot of Main Street to take on about 150 settlers heading up the Assiniboine River to homesteads at Souris and Brandon, says John J. Conklin.

Mr. Conklin came here from Hamilton, Ont., in 1881. His uncle, E. G. Conklin, was one of Winnipeg's early mayors. At 80, Mr. Conklin is probably the city's oldest newspaperman. He joined the staff of the Free Press in 1888 and except for a brief interlude in the '90's remained with the paper until his retirement in 1940.

One of the big events of those early days was the trial of Louis Riel at Regina for leading the Northwest Rebellion. Although this took place before Mr. Conklin joined the newspaper, he recalls the stories of the trial and the uneasy tension after Riel was hanged.

"The railway sent a special train to Regina to bring Riel's body back to Winnipeg. There was a lot of tension in town and some people were afraid the Orangemen would raid the train here. The railway cleared the tracks and let her go right through the city at top speed and across Louise bridge into St. Boniface."

Culturally, the city was better supplied in the 1880's than it is in the 1940's, Mr. Conklin says. There were five bookstores in the downtown area, every one "very finely stocked."

GREATER MARKETS- better marketing!

The stores of Canada tell the story.

Smart new fronts and clean, bright interiors; up-to-the-minute facilities for faster, easier, more convenient shopping; modern displays and smartly packaged products: all are the visible symbols of Canada's modern merchandising progress.

Canadian distribution methods are more effective, more efficient than ever. Recent advances in marketing have been as remarkable as these in this country's record-breaking production and the development of natural resources.

The whole vast field of merchandising today presents new and greater opportunities for successful Canadian careers.

"Imagination in business knows no geographical boundaries.

In this young and vigorous nation originality, based on sound thinking, pays off. To the young Canadian who is willing to raise his sights above the conventional, and work hard to make his vision come true, no country today offers greater opportunities for success than our own", says Hedleigh Venning.

HEDLEIGH VENNING

began his career as a junior salesman in 1926. From the beginning, he became aware of the opportunity awaiting the application of imagination and creative thinking to any job. A keen student of modern packaging, an enthusiastic and energetic worker, he is now vice-president in charge of sales of Shirriff's Limited, one of Canada's larger food product companies; a great believer in scientific marketing and a leader in the field of selling and advertising.

Trade and Good Will

THE 1949 Canadian International Trade Fair at Toronto has provided an object lesson in world relations. It has shown that when exhibitors and buyers meet to promote the trade of their respective nations, political and social ideologies are relegated to the background.

The mere fact that 36 countries including Canada, Britain and the United States — the world's three greatest trading nations — were represented at this international market-place, is noteworthy. It is significant that exhibitors and buyers from countries behind the Iron Curtain participated.

"This is a place where men can exchange ideas as well as goods", said Charles Sawyer, United States secretary of commerce, in opening the fair. He was right. In an atmosphere of friendly competition, exhibitors and buyers by personal contacts contributed not only to improvement in world trading conditions, but also did their part in promoting international friendships.

Started last year as an experiment, the fair this year attracted exhibits from 1,500 firms. On opening day, Mr. Sawyer was flanked by Rt. Hon. Harold Wilson, president of the British Board of Trade, and Canada's trade minister, Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, ample testimony to the fair's importance.

In the huge showplace at the Canadian National Exhibition were housed exhibits ranging all the way from Canadian diesel engines to Siamese silver and Czechoslovakian ceramics. A veritable Tower of Babel chatter went on in many tongues.

The 12-day fair was open to the public on three days and thousands took advantage of the opportunity to learn something of the products of other lands. But the exhibition was, first and foremost, a business affair, the more so this year with intensified competition in a buyer's market.

Above all the fair represented a real effort by Canada to promote world stability and peace.

Salvaging Farm Waste

A SELECT group of men are hard at work devising methods of putting more money in the farmer's pocket by salvaging farm waste and surpluses. Very little is heard of them, for the science they are engaged in is virtually unknown. It is called "chemurgy" — that branch of applied chemistry devoted to industrial utilization of organic materials, especially farm products.

The accomplishments of chemurgic chemists are making history. Take straw, for example. Millions of tons are set afire annually by prairie farmers because they could find little use for it. Recently, two scientists in Peoria, Illinois, developed a new method of processing wheat straw into high grade paper and pulp board. This will place insulating board from straw in a position to compete with similar material made from wood.

Another chemist, Carl Miner, sought to find out how waste corncobs and oat hulls could contribute to better living. After years of experimental work he discovered a chemical from these called "furfural" which has become an important ingredient in the manufacture of petroleum, nylon, synthetic resins and antiseptics.

In Idaho, a potato growing community is richer by $5,000,000 each year because of a new industry which manufactures white starch from culled potatoes. In Canada the national chemurgic committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is knee deep in chemurgic research with the National Research Council. A recent project involved the use of excess wheat in the manufacture of starch and dried gluten.

While the above are only a few examples of chemurgic research, they are enough to indicate the continuing importance of farming to the national economy.

UP TO press-time last week, our Ottawa Valley contemporaries reported two candidates in the Grenville - Dundas riding — James Franklin Casselman (Liberal) and Arza Clair Casselman (Prog.-Conservative). Up to that stage the contest appeared strictly a Casselman versus Casselman affair.

Comment on Shortage of Nurses

CANADIAN hospitals are short 8,200 nurses. The figures were revealed in a report last week at the 10th biennial conference of the Canadian Hospital Council, in Quebec City. The shortage, moreover, is "permanent, not temporary", said the report, prepared by Miss Edith G. Young, director of nursing at Ottawa Civic Hospital.

The report continues that the nurse shortage situation "will grow progressively worse in spite of the fact that student enrolments have been higher in recent years."

The situation is such that "luxury private duty nursing" is something hospitals are beginning to frown upon. "The whole picture forms a vicious circle. . Many of the conditions in the hospital cannot be improved until there are enough nurses, and until conditions are improved, graduate and student nurses will continue to leave the hospital", the report stated.

In spite of the shortage the number in ratio to the nation's population has improved. In 1943 there was only one nurse to every 543 Canadians, while by 1948, there was one for every 312 Canadians.

The report on the nurse shortage stirred a number of suggestions. . Dr. Owen C. Trainor, of Winnipeg, suggested hospitals take in girls who have not been through high school, and train them as auxiliaries. Dr. Gilbert A. Turner, superintendent of Montreal's Royal Victoria Hospital, thought nursing courses might be cut down from three to two years. This, on the other hand, made one delegate exclaim that courses shouldn't be trimmed down too much.

The report asked that a national nursing survey be made with a view to examining the situation as a whole. It was pointed out that 10 provinces were working along independent lines and a common pattern would be hard to find. Dr. G. D. W. Cameron, Deputy Minister of National Health and Welfare, did not think a national survey would "add one nurse in the next two years — and that is the time you will need them most."

When asked if the government could divert national health money for nurses' accommodations, Dr. Cameron suggested hospitals put their requirements before the Government.

TODAY'S children cannot be brought up in the "see no evil, hear no evil" outlook of yesterday — the common knowledge of the death camps of the last war, enthusiastic youthful discussion of the international controversy on atomic bomb control, and the public interest in rocket development — all preclude this.

On Compulsory Voting

By R. J. Deachman

Election day will soon be here. Elections cost money. There are, of course, those who will say: "That's a good thing, every dollar spent is a dollar earned by the man who receives it. Waste is rarely beneficial. The transfer of money from one group to another does not add to the national income."

The problem on election day is getting the people out to vote. They no longer regard voting as a duty. They don't want to vote unless they have somebody to haul them to the polls. A man of experience told me a few days ago that the cost of an election is now anywhere from 7 to 10 times more than it was in 1939.

Australia has tried compulsory voting. Only 54% recorded their votes at the first Commonwealth election. At the end of the 1st Great War it ran around 57%, now the average is approximately 95%.

There are objections, I don't like compulsory voting, rightly or wrongly that view is held by a great many others in the Dominion of Canada. They would claim that the vote of a man who is compelled by law to vote has no particular value. He is voting because he has to, not because he wants to.

There are arguments on the other side — good ones too. They deserve consideration. Would people take a wider interest in political and economic issues if they knew they had to vote? There must be some who fail to vote merely because of emotional diffidence. They dislike to do something they have never done before.

There is much to be said on both sides. I would like to have the opinion of others and the reasons for their point of view. Write in care of this newspaper. Your name will not be used without your permission.

CARELESS PARKING

WOULD REVIVE ARBOR DAY

It is time Arbor Day was brought back into being. A clean-up day is needed in this town. One has only to take a stroll around back lanes and alleys and scan back residential yards, to see the need for such a day.

THE NEWCOMERS

It may have been our imagination at work but as we rolled along . . the other day in a train whose passenger list included a generous quota of newcomers from Europe, we felt we were looking at humanity getting its first tastes of the democratic freedom we have enjoyed for so long and thought so little of.

— Elmwood (Man.) Herald

"Vote As You Like – But"

By Don Bickerdike, Dunany

These are the days (once again) when we are fired with election slogans. The most predominant cry, sung out in the true spirit of democracy, runs like this: Vote As You Like — But Vote. This heraldry no doubt leaves us filled with a deep sense of responsibility and on election day we feel proud that we have helped ourselves and democracy by casting our ballot. We have followed the slogan and voted — as we liked. In all too many cases the "as we like" means that we have voted for a certain party, either because our parents voted that way and we carry on the family tradition, or because most of our friends vote for that party so it must be the best one. The main idea seems to be that we get our vote in, whether our knowledge of political affairs has reached fourth grade standards or not.

It is true that we are not always presented with an unbiased report on our politics, and indeed, perhaps very seldom do we get a political news story that is not colored for one party or another. But surely we have the intelligence to take a sufficiently lively interest in our own affairs to be concerned with the way our country is run. And this should warrant a certain amount of reading and a critical view upon what we read. Goodness knows that, particularly around election time, there is laid before us enough political history to make us want to vote with conviction. But in too many cases our conviction stems more from a loyalty to our grandfathers (whichever side they might have favored) than from any real personal feeling about the matter. We cast our vote alright, but too often without sufficient study and forethought.

We can be reasonably sure that the people who fostered the slogan, "Vote As You Like — But Vote", did not mean that any old haphazard square was good enough. Let's hope that when we put down that X, we are terribly sure where we want it to go. Let's make certain our X on the ballot is a sign of intelligence and not the X employed by the illiterate.

Canada's great Leader

LOUIS ST. LAURENT, Prime Minister of Canada

At the polls on June 27 the voter must ask himself, ahead of anything else, who should be head of the government.

In Louis St. Laurent, Canada has found a great national leader.

That he had high abilities of the mind was proved by his career in law. That he had wisdom in cabinet, unique gifts in parliamentary debate and a quick grasp of large affairs became clear as soon as he entered the Government. In international affairs, as one of the original advocates of the Atlantic Pact, he made himself a world figure who spoke out as no Canadian before him, in the councils of the nations.

He also revealed an understanding of ordinary people, because he is one of them.

This warm and essentially simple human being is the real St. Laurent, the product of the small town, of humble beginnings, hard work, a big family and the friendliness of country neighbors.

In blood, language and instinct he combines the qualities of two great races.

To the voter it is equally important that St. Laurent is the leader of a truly national party, with proved strength from coast to coast, the only party which can hope to form a stable government after the election. His character, his ability and his achievements have made him the leader of all the Canadian people.

Party Prospects in the Coming Election

By M. V. Trayers

The next two weeks will reveal — by newspapers and radio — predictions of electors rallying to the party, and deflections from opponents, depending on which party is announcing its wares.

It is a good selling angle, and although the voters should and possibly are aware that such tactics belong to the usual stock-in trade of party publicists, quite a number fall for this old routine. Already the Liberals are advising their followers that, despite the certainty of victory, workers should not be over-confident. But the difficulty is that one cannot announce sweeping rallies and "certain victory" without registering in the minds of party followers an air of confidence.

The greatest upset in the history of political campaigns is of too recent memory (that is, the presidential campaign in the United States last year) to allow party strategists to inspire their supporters with this "certain victory" complex.

The Progressive Conservatives are somewhat protected against such a disaster as befell the Republicans in the States, no matter how their papers or pollsters may predict victory, because the very nub of their campaign is a challenge to confidence. Their want of confidence in the government party becomes epitomized in the slogan, "It's time for a change". There can be no softening of their effort to bring about this change.

Last week we said there was no outstanding issue before the people; and although the tenor has stepped up, there is still a lack of focus, nothing to get excited about in the campaign. The Liberal Party stands on its record, and no matter how good a record may be, one soon tires of playing it over and over again. There is a truism in life, that progress never stands still; we must either progress or go backward. We may retain a copy of yesterday's newspaper as a souvenir, but as reading matter its content soon gets stale; records are all very well, but the general desire is to emulate them or smash them.

The Progressive Conservatives want a change. In a changing world such as we live in today this is not surprising. In fact it is inevitable. There was one thing that the party needed more than anything else — that was a change in leadership. To be sure, it changed often enough within recent memory, but its leaders lacked color and confidence. This cannot be said of Mr. Drew; and his campaign, so far as it has developed, is the kind of shot in the arm required to raise the party's prestige.

The party that wins a majority must win Quebec, and the Progressive Conservatives are making a determined effort in this regard. Enlisting Mr. Héon to fill the office of chief organizer was an astute move. When the probabilities for party leader were being considered last year, Mr. Héon was seriously favored in certain provinces. No other member of the party has support and confidence of Premier Maurice Duplessis like that enjoyed by the member for Argenteuil, and the influence of Duplessis' supporters with their electoral machine, is going to be a factor of considerable importance in winning Quebec.

Writing in "Saturday Night", Wilfrid Eggleston—Ottawa observer and one-time Watchman correspondent — has this to say: "Last January, when the full import of Nicolet-Yamaska had sunk in, and when George Drew had opened up in the House with both barrels, the private convictions of the Liberal party were to the effect that their political position was deteriorating rapidly and that they were likely to be submerged by a tidal wave of public opinion at the next election."

The position has changed but little since then. By all accounts Héon won the Nicolet-Yamaska fight, and now with the National-Union machine behind him, Héon might well win Quebec.

Grenville School Activities

The pupils in Mrs. Dumouchel's and Mr. MacKrith's classrooms were taken on a trip to the County Museum at Carillon last Friday afternoon, as a History study project. The children were much impressed with the antique curios on view, and the atmosphere of history surrounding the exhibits. Such trips aid in making the study of History more real and interesting. . . The children and teachers would like to thank Mr. R. Bradley, the curator, for his kind assistance in arranging this trip.

Devotes Long Life To Indian Welfare

Preservation of Crafts Aim of Victoria Woman

Vancouver (CP) — A 90-year-old Victoria woman is one of British Columbia's ablest fighters for Indian rights.

She is white-haired Miss Alice Ravenhill, founder of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society, whose latest conribution to a life-long cause is a pledge won from Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent that "more will be done for the Indians."

Confined to her room because of a hip injury Miss Ravenhill received a special visit from the prime minister during his Western tour. Still as alert in her thinking, she entered into a lively discussion with Mr. St. Laurent on the future of Indians and their crafts in this province.

The prime minister said in discussing treatment of Canada's Indians:

"Up to two decades ago we acted as though we thought they were headed for extinction. But there has been much done now that will result in increasing their numbers".

Miss Ravenhill presented Mr. St. Laurent with a brooch in the form of a papoose fashioned from beads by children at the Nanaimo Tuberculosis Hospital for Indians. The prime minister kept it for his 15-year-old granddaughter.

Miss Ravenhill will herself be honored with a doctor of science degree from the University of British Columbia.

Callander—Oliva Dionne, father of the quintuplets, said last week he would not be surprised if one or more of his five famous daughters became nuns.

He emphasized that the girls, who celebrated their 15th birthday, have complete freedom of choice in their vocations. Since birth the quints have received their religious and scholastic education from the Sisters of the Immaculate Conception.

It is rumored here that Mrs. Dionne is encouraging her daughters to enter an order. One rumor has all five considering the idea.

Mr. Dionne said: "What the girls choose to do with their lives is their own affair entirely. But I won't be surprised if one or more of them enters the sisterhood. It is a matter for themselves alone to decide."

MODERN SCHOOLS' COLOR PLANNING BY PSYCHOLOGIST

Tinted Walls, Broad Windows and Green Glass Blackboards in Maryland Country Schools

By JACK DAVIS

Iowson, Md. (AP) — Turn some educators and psychologists loose with brick and mortar and a little hard cash, and what do you have?

Green blackboards — yellow chalk — three delicately tinted walls and a fourth of window glass — roofs with glass brick centres — plastic dishes.

That's a condensed description of Baltimore county's new schools. It could happen in most any county; for except that Baltimore county includes some of the overflow of the city of Baltimore, its rolling farmland and small towns could be placed in any of the more populated states and feel perfectly at home.

The modernization of the county's schools began immediately after the war. Three new buildings already are in use. Three more will be ready in September.

The men behind the program wanted something more than the biggest for the cheapest, so they called in education authorities and psychologists to help design the plans. The results have drawn education officials from all parts of the country to see what the "contemporary" school looks like.

The green boards and yellow chalk? Remember the "good old days", how you sometimes had to squint at the wall-slate because of the glare from the window? And how the glare was made more pronounced by the whiteness of the chalk?

That's a thing of the past here. The green boards, made of glass sheets, are sandblasted to eliminate smoothness and glare. It is well established that yellow chalk is much more restful to children's eyes.

Noise Muffled

Remember the monotony of white or cream walls broken only by the black board and small, old-fashioned windows? Here, two walls may be a pale green, and another wall and the sound-deadening ceiling pink. The fourth wall is mostly broad windows.

The color psychology and the sound-deadening ceiling apparently are quite effective. When the county school physician made his first visit to the new elementary building at Loch Raven—with an enrolment of nearly 700 — he turned to the principal and asked: "Is this a holiday? Or have you got mufflers on the children?"

At Rosedale elementary, there is still another modern touch. First graders have an entire suite to themselves. They have their own entrance and lavatories.

The kitchens are a dietician's dream. The stainless steel fixtures, electric stoves, electric dish washers, deep freeze units and unbreakable plastic dishes provide tools to cook and feed any combination.

What has all this cost? Since the end of the war, the county has spent $12,000,000 on the six new buildings and on repairs to the older ones. The county commissioners now are seeking authorization to float a bond issue for $16,000,00 0more to finance a still $16,000 more to finance a still Edward G. Stapleton, superintendent of schools, estimates it is possible the county will spend up to $33,000,000 on its schools by 1960.

PARDON our pointing . . . with pride.

But it's an event when the number of bank workers passes the 40,000 mark—as it did last year. That's 65% more than before the war.

It's an event, first, because it shows the increased use of Canadian bank services . . .

More deposit accounts: now over seven million. More funds: customers' deposits now reach nearly seven billion dollars. More services: to farmers; to personal and small-business borrowers; to war pensioners; to people receiving Family Allowances.

It's an event, too, because of the kind of men and women who have joined our ranks. Eager to get ahead, they are finding in banking an interesting job, a challenging career. They can tell you how important privacy in banking is to the Canadian way of doing things.

Going to your bank is not like having to deal with a state bureau—but that's how it would be under state monopoly.

Major Details of

The Progressive Conservative Party's Declaration of Policy—Drafted and Approved by Canadians from every Province—Representing Every walk of Life

George Drew

I have now visited all ten provinces since Parliament was dissolved. In one thing there is widespread agreement throughout the whole of Canada: it is time for a change. The important thing for all Canadians to decide between now and June 27th is what that change will be. On earlier occasions over the radio I have put forward some of the reasons why a change is so necessary if we are to restore Parliament to the people and lift the burden of taxation and arbitrary controls from the shoulders of those who are doing the work of the nation in all their many daily tasks. At this time, with the election four weeks away, I would like to review some of the major details of the Declaration of Policy which was drafted and unanimously approved by the delegates of our Party from every constituency in Canada and representing every occupation. I have already referred at different times to many of its details. This is no hastily-drafted election manifesto. It is not my statement of policy, or statement prepared by any group or committee. It expressed the unanimous opinion of delegates from every province who met in Ottawa from September 30th to October 2nd last year.

Details are embraced by the three words which interpret the purpose of the undertaking we give to Canadians: Opportunity, Security, Freedom. Those words constitute no meaningless, time-worn slogan. They represent the broad purpose of a dynamic and progressive plan of action which we have placed before you as a convincing reason why you should support the Progressive Conservative candidate in your own constituency, no matter what party you have supported in the past.

May I quote the very first words contained in that Declaration of Policy: "Freedom is one and indivisible. If economic freedom is lost, political freedom will be lost. Economic freedom is the essence of competitive enterprise, and competitive enterprise is the foundation of our democratic system. All history shows that competitive enterprise provides the maximum of production and therefore the maximum of social security. For those reasons we affirm our belief in the principle of economic freedom. Economic freedom will promote thrift, foster and encourage the qualities of self-reliance, industry, and initiative which have brought this nation to its present enviable position. It will preserve and improve our standard of living."

With that statement, and believing in freedom as we do, we have also undertaken to make the necessary amendments in our Criminal Code to deal effectively with those who are working to establish a Communist dictatorship here in Canada. In the name of freedom we do not intend to permit treacherous, anti-Christian agents of that evil tyranny to destroy the freedom for which Canadians paid so great a price. We also believe that our constitution must be respected and observed to preserve national unity and also to make secure our own freedom by those wise balances of authority between the dominion and the provincial governments which were devised as a check on the concentration of power in the hands of the national government. Believing that the strongest basis of freedom is the encouragement offered free people to better their own condition by saving from what they earn and building a home as the centre of the family life, we are opposed to a system of taxation which makes it difficult to save even with the present relatively high earnings.

I take this opportunity to review some of the major features of our policy with particular reference to three words: opportunity, security and freedom.

OPPORTUNITY

First let me refer to the word 'opportunity'. The Progressive Conservative Party will assure opportunity to all our people by:

A bold and progressive national development programme

Canada is on the threshold of her greatest period of development, if a vigorous government, with faith in the future is given the opportunity to bring into production the immense resources which we possess in every part of Canada. While the vast areas of the North challenge our vision and our courage, there is no part of Canada where there are not new opportunities of development if we provide the electric energy and other sources of power which will encourage new industries and new types of agricultural production which can make every part of Canada more productive in the years ahead.

Our national development programme will cover the development of power, oil, coal, mineral resources and the transportation facilities necessary for their full use. In particular we will establish (a) a National Development Advisory Council in co-operation with the provinces; (b) establish a National Power Authority to co-operate with the provinces in the technical examination of possible power development and in the actual development of electric power at cost; (c) undertake the commencement of a joint conservation, irrigation and power project on the Saskatchewan River; (d) encourage the development of power in the Maritime Provinces from coal as well as by other means; (e) promote the development of the great iron ore resources of our country and the establishment of greatly expanded steel industry within Canada; (f) stimulate the development of petroleum and other mineral resources in co-operation with the provinces by taxation and fiscal policies which will encourage the investment of risk capital; (g) institute a vigorous programme of water conservation, reforestation, flood control, irrigation and drainage schemes throughout the whole of Canada for the reclamation of unproductive land and the preservation of our soil, and along with other similar activities in co-operation with the provincial governments; (h) establish a positive programme of marshland reclamation and development; (i) take effective steps at the earliest possible date to co-operate with the provincial governments in building the Trans-Canada Highway and feeder roads, which will not only greatly increase our transportation facilities, but also help to open out the vast possibilities of the tourist business in every part of Canada; (j) remove the discrimination in freight rates between the several geographical areas of Canada so that all sections of our country may receive the full benefit from the development of our great resources; (k) deal effectively with the special transportation problem of Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, Cape Breton and Vancouver Island; (l) take the necessary steps to proceed with the development of the power and waterways project on the St. Lawerence River.

Expansion of trade

The ultimate value of all our development depends upon the distribution and sale of what we produce. Because of our tremendous producing capacity we are one of the world's great exporters. The external markets for our surplus products contribute very largely to the pay envelopes which buy the food, clothing and other necessities in every Canadian home. Look around you in your own home now. The things you have depend upon that overseas trade, no matter what your occupation may be. Overseas markets have been lost, and our trade is dangerously threatened by the government's foolish trade and monetary policy. As our trade with Britain and other overseas markets are lost, Canadians are being reassured by the volume of our exports to the United States. We believe in increasing our exports to the United States to the highest possible level. We believe that all Canada's exports can be, and should be, tremendously increased. We know, however, that disastrous results would follow any attempt to depend exclusively upon exports to one nation no matter how friendly that nation may be. The loss of our trade in wheat, lumber, fish, apples, dairy products and the other things that we have been shipping overseas means more than a mere question of dollars and cents. It means a loss of business on the railways, in the seaports, and on the ships which have been carrying this trade to the world. It would dislocate our whole internal trading organization and force serious readjustments of employment with our railways and other transportation services. The Progressive Conservative Party pledges itself to adopt every practical means to expand our internal trade with the United States and with all other nations where we can sell what we produce. By reciprocal trade agreements we will promote and expand our trade overseas and also with the United States. Particularly we will (a) remove all abnormal trade barriers imposed by way of license, quota, or embargo; (b) remove the arbitrary provisions of the Foreign Exchange Control Act; (c) re-value the Canadian dollar within the limits permitted by the Bretton Woods agreement and seek such modification of those agreements as are necessary to permit our dollar to assist our external trade in the normal way; (d) open negotiations immediately for the purpose of making the dollar and pound convertible, so that we may open and expand our lost overseas markets in the sterling area.

Reduction of Taxes

The greatest encouragement to work, production and trade is the opportunity to receive a fair return from which money can be saved for our families, our homes and provision for the future. Even with high earnings today, our present tax system is making it difficult to save and is greatly increasing the cost of everything we buy. Reduction of taxes and sweeping reforms in our system of taxation are necessary to encourage initiative and reward hard work. With that in mind, the Progressive Conservative Party has undertaken to: (a) increase the personal income tax exemption to at least $2,500 for a married person, and to at least $1,250 for single persons; (b) increase the exemption for dependent children by $200; (c) lower the general rate of personal income tax; (d) allow deductions to farmers for work done by members of the family who share the work of the farm; (e) end the persecution of our people by tax-collectors acting under arbitrary power; (f) encourage development and improvement of small businesses operated by the owner by allowing proper exemption for money which is put into the improvement of the business and not paid out in profits; (g) provide for a graduated reduction in taxes on other small businesses upon the portion of the income left in the business for further development and consequently for the increase of employment; (h) abolish nuisance taxes and make substantial reductions in general sales and excise taxes on necessities.

SECURITY

The Progressive Conservative Party assures security to all Canadians by the following Declaration of Policy.

Security of Employment

We believe that the greatest assurance of employment in Canada is based upon the fullest development of our resources which will create new employment across the whole country and increase the domestic markets for all that we produce. In addition to the discovery and employment of new resources, the remarkable scientific developments of the past few years have greatly widened the use we can make of all the resources we possess. In co-operation with the various provincial governments we will explore every possibility of expanding the opportunities for work by encouraging new types of production.

Contributory Social Security Programme

The Progressive Conservative Party puts forward a contributory social security programme providing the following benefits amongst others:

1. Believing that provision for our senior citizens at a level of payment which will give them a feeling of independence in their retiring years is essential, we have stated that we do not believe that old-age pensions should be regarded as a favour, but should be a right and that no charge should be made on such property as has been saved during their working years, nor should there be any enquiry as to whether some money is being earned by the person receiving the pension. We believe that the laws of the country should not discourage saving during the working years and such work as our people wish to do in their old age. For that reason we provide for old-age pensions at 65 without a Means Test.

2. Unemployment Insurance benefits will be extended to include payments for time lost due to accident or sickness.

3. Adequate medical and hospital care will be provided for our people under a national health programme which will also include the most extensive preventative health services.

4. The same family allowance will be paid for every child, no matter how many children are in the family, and the nutritional and other services for our children will be greatly improved.

These, and other provisions included in our programme, will be worked out in co-operation with the provinces, so that the highly-skilled and experienced public welfare services of the provincial governments will be available.

An Effective Programme for the Construction of Homes

1. Loans and priorities will be made available to those who desire to build their own homes. 2. Low-cost housing can, and will be provided under plans approved by the dominion, provincial and municipal governments which will be administered by the municipalities. 3. The cost of building homes can be reduced by encouraging new types of construction. What is causing so much concern to our people at present is not only the shortage of housing accommodation, but also the excessive cost of small homes, particularly those required by our young people starting out in life. In this respect I might point out that while I was Premier of Ontario we introduced a Housing Act in regard to which the official publication of the Canadian Legion had the following to say and I quote from their editorial: "Veterans everywhere will acclaim the new housing legislation recently enacted in the province of Ontario. In this new housing legislation the Ontario government is blazing new trails, out of which might materialize the long-awaited, over-all plan for the successful solution of the housing problem in every part of the dominion, which the Legion has been pressing for so hard ever since the war ended." The effect and application of this Act was necessarily limited by the overriding authority of the dominion government, which restricted supplies for building homes by their restrictive regulations. We will remove those restrictions and the principles of that Act to which I have referred can be made effective in the wider field by constitutional agreement between the dominion, provincial and municipal authorities who must all play their part in solving this very urgent problem.

Security for our Farmers

Our programme sets out a very complete statement of policy in regard to stability of income for our farmers. I will refer to some of the more important provisions: 1. We undertake to enact floor-price legislation based on the following principles: (a) A definite formula in the Farm Prices Support Act for arriving at floor prices. (b) This formula will allow for variation in production and demand for individual products. (c) Floor prices will be announced well in advance of the production period. (d) The floor price will be arrived at in consultation with representative producers.

We favour the restoration of the Canadian Wheat Board Act of 1935 to serve as a marketing agency for wheat producers. We are in favour of coarse grains as well as wheat being handled on a voluntary basis by the Wheat Board. We assure that producers themselves will decide the method by which their wheat will be handled and sold. This statement of policy, and it is an emphatic statement of policy, is based upon our belief that marketing boards, representative of producer organizations should, and will, determine their own method of marketing. The Wheat Board and all similar producers' boards, will be made up of producers themselves and not be mere agencies of some department of government.

3. We will establish a board of livestock commissioners.

4. We will extend the activities of the Federal Farm Loan Board so that farmers may take advantage of long-term, low-interest rates in the purchase and development of their farms.

5. We will increase the facilities for agricultural research to explore new uses of agricultural products for industrial purposes and in co-operation with provincial Departments of Agriculture conduct thorough studies of contagious animal and plant diseases to reduce the heavy annual loss from this cause.

6. In determining agricultural policy, we will enlist the co-operation of farmers' organizations throughout Canada and those specializing in particular types of production, so that all administrative as well as advisory boards will have representation of those with expert knowledge of the subject upon which they will be asked to deal. These and the other provisions in our agricultural programme are all based upon the belief that the best interests of agriculture throughout Canada can be served under the guidance of those with practical knowledge of each agricultural activity.

Security for Labour

(a) Our national development programme, our proposed tax reform and our plans for the expansion of trade offer the assurance of expanding employment in the years ahead. Good working conditions and satisfactory terms of employment can be assured best by effective laws governing labour relations. In the field of national jurisdiction, the Progressive Conservative Party puts forward a policy based upon the belief that good working conditions for our people and friendly relations between workers and management are not only in the best interests of our workers, but also in the best interests of every Canadian. We believe that the position of labour must be constantly improved and that the security and happiness of all our workers must be protected by legislation which will provide for effective collective bargaining, determination of the mutual rights of workers and management, as well as the conciliation and settlement of difficulties which may arise. With this object in view, we will establish a National Labour Council which will have equal numbers of representatives of labour and management. This council will examine and consider the causes of labour disputes and propose satisfactory solutions for such problems. It will also conduct research into the ways in which labour relations can constantly be improved.

(b) We will provide for greater representation of labour on government boards, commissions, and agencies.

(c) We will encourage profit-sharing plans for the sharing of profits of workers by such adjustment in taxation and otherwise as will encourage plans of this kind.

(d) We will constantly improve the legislation providing for compulsory collective bargaining, certification of labour organizations after a majority vote, machinery for conciliation of disputes, fair and adequate wages, standard hours of work having regard to the nature of the industry concerned, and holidays with pay.

We have also an excellent programme for Security for Veterans

We believe that the government of Canada has no greater responsibility than to make adequate provision for the young men and women who served Canada in two world wars. Our Party has at all times insisted that the promises made during the war to those in service should be carried out in the spirit as well as the letter of the assurances which were given. Our programme therefore gives the following undertakings to our veterans:

(a) To establish a standing committee of the House of Commons on Veterans' Affairs which will regularly review all veterans' problems;

(b) to retain and constantly improve all existing veteran legislation;

(c) to eliminate all unnecessary delays in dealing with veterans and to simplify procedure;

(d) to extend pension benefits to the members of the merchant navy;

(e) to accept as the basis for all decisions the medical category recorded on enlistment and to regard physical condition below that standard during service as the actual result of military service;

(f) to stabilize the pensions of veterans of the First World War, providing for upward revision where the disability has increased;

(g) to increase and extend the provision of war veterans' allowances with an increase in the amount that a veteran may earn over and above the allowance paid.

FREEDOM

Our constitutional freedom is based upon the democratic principle that the people's chosen representatives in Parliament are supreme, and have the final responsibility for all laws which affect the rights of our people. This principle is the corner-stone of all our freedom. The Progressive Conservative Party pledges itself to put and end to statism in Canada and terminate bureaucratic action by government order-in-council, ministerial proclamation, and departmental regulation. We will restore responsible government answerable to the elected representatives of the people. We believe in the widest possible measure of personal liberty consistent with law, order and the general national welfare. We are opposed to all powers which invest in the government arbitrary control over the rights of the individual. We pledge ourselves to restore the full supremacy of the law and the equality of every citizen under the law. We believe that the closer government is to the people, the better government always is. We are determined to conserve the authority of the provincial and municipal governments over those local affairs which can best be dealt with by men and women who are in intimate contact with them. We are strongly opposed to centralization of legislative and administrative power over local affairs, and to any breach of the constitutional authority of any of the provinces under the British North America Act which made us one nation. On assuming office we will arrange for a dominion-provincial conference to consider all aspects of dominion-provincial relations and establish an effective basis for close and continuing co-operation between all the governments of Canada. We believe that national unity depends upon respect for our federal constitution and the clear definition of the responsibility of the dominion and provincial governments, with assurance of adequate financial resources to carry out those responsibilities and with adequate financial resources to the municipalities to carry out their many very important responsibilities. In preserving our freedom it is essential that freedom of speech be fully protected. For that reason, it must be a matter of concern to all Canadians that the government-owned radio system which plays such an important role in the exchange of ideas should have become a propaganda agency of the government. May I emphasize that in my belief the staff and technical experts of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation are trying to do a good job under utterly impossible conditions. As you know, any attempt on the part of the employees of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to improve the organization only results in immediate disciplinary action. The summary dismissal, for instance, of Mr. Joel Aldred, one of the best known broadcasters of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation just the day before Parliament dissolved, because he had publicly suggested improvements within that organization, is merely an indication of the extent to which free speech is being restrained by the present government. We undertake to restore freedom of speech over the radio as well as otherwise, and to place the supervision of all broadcasting in Canada under an independent administrative body. We further undertake to abolish the license fee on radio receiving sets. We do this because this license fee, which is supposed to be for the services given by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, is unjustified because there are many parts of Canada where our people receive no services from the publicly-owned stations. All our freedom and all our security depend upon our national security and independence. For that reason, one of the first resolutions adopted unanimously by our delegates from every province last October, was an expression of unqualified support for the establishment of a defensive union of the Western Powers, which has since taken form in the North Atlantic Security Pact. Our support of that policy has at all times been stated in the same words and with the same emphasis in every part of Canada. The collective preservation of peace and the combined strength of the free nations now gives increased importance to national defence and the efficiency of our defence forces. We undertake to set up a standing committee on national defence which will keep Parliament and the people informed regarding the state of our defences and will also assure the most effective use of the money we spend for the purpose of providing defence forces.

The points I have covered in these remarks are only some of the progressive, practical and constructive policies which will be put into effect by a Progressive Conservative government. I believe this statement will provide convincing reasons why you should cast your ballot on June 27th for the Progressive Conservative candidate in your own constituency so that the public business of this great country will be handled by a strong, vigorous and progressive government in the years ahead.

Georges Héon Nominated At Enthusiastic Meeting

"My compatriots", he said, "are not being asked to choose between two parties and vote according to their political beliefs; they are unashamedly being told to choose between a French-Canadian and an 'Englishman', between a Catholic and a Protestant."

He challenged Prime Minister St. Laurent to deny:

That Lionel Bertrand, Liberal M.P. for Terrebonne, speaking at a rally at Ste. Therese the previous week said, "You have to choose between Mr. St. Laurent, a French-Canadian and a Catholic, or Colonel Drew, a Protestant and a Freemason."

That Alband Flamand, Liberal commentator, speaking over station CKAC under Liberal auspices every Sunday, invariably refers to "the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, a Catholic and French-Canadian" or "Colonel Drew, a Protestant and Freemason".

That Hon. Alphonse Fournier, minister in the St. Laurent cabinet, stated in Plantagenet, Ont., May 27, that "when the chief of the government is French-Canadian, it is the first duty of his compatriots to firmly support him".

That on May 23, Mr. St. Laurent stated, according to Le Canada, "If my compatriots of Quebec of my language and religion want one of their own . . to continue to be Prime Minister of Canada, let them unite with the majority of their compatriots across the country and contribute to a Liberal victory".

That in the official Liberal literature of the Laval and Nicolet-Yamaska campaigns, it was stated that "five English provinces have Catholic M.P.'s of the French language in the House of Commons. All these M.P.'s are Liberals."

He invited the newspapermen present freely and impartially to interview the 275 French-speaking delegates present "and confirm that each one and his family have been canvassed to vote for Mr. St. Laurent because he is Catholic and a French-Canadian, and against Mr. Drew because he is English and Protestant."

"It is about time", Mr. Héon said, "that Mr. St. Laurent put a stop to these tactics, because taking on noble airs and posing as an aloof but dignified savior of the national conscience — the while allowing his Quebec henchmen to sow the seed of disunity through racial and religious appeals — would make of him the most distinguished political pharisee Canada has ever known.

"In this historical constituency of Argenteuil - Two Mountains, where the two races have lived harmoniously together, striving to build a united, free and sovereign Canadian nation, these shameful tactics, conducive to disunity and strife, will be condemned on June 27 next by such an avalanche of votes as will bury them forever", he said.

"I appeal to all French-speaking compatriots in the Province and indeed across Canada, not to fall prey to those doubtful sentimental appeals, which will cause lasting resentment and irreparable prejudice to the cause of nationhood.

"There are ten provinces in Canada", Mr. Héon concluded, "nine of which are English-speaking. Shall we, by endorsing these racial and religious appeals through our votes, tear this country asunder as in the days of 1917, or shall we, as the electors of Nicolet-Yamaska, honorably and courageously show the nine other provinces that we know where our duty lies".

River-bed Gives Up Rich Bomb Harvest

Fishing Nets Empty, Brothers Turn to Old Bombing Range

Ottawa (CP) When commercial fishing fell off in their old haunts two years ago, two Picton, Ont., fishermen began fishing for bombs.

Tey've dragged more than 24,000 practice bombs from the bed of the Ottawa River since then, and sold them for scrap metal. The bombs were dropped on Shirley's Bay, 12 miles from here, during wartime R.C.A.F. training operations.

Mel and Ray McIntosh began dragging for the practice bombs near Pictou on Lake Ontario when their fish catches fell sharply in 1947. There were several old bombing ranges near Jicton, and soon fishing became just a spare-time occupation for the two brothers.

Now they own four power-boats, and have done no fishing since 1948.

The business is highly competitive. Other fishermen have joined in and the hardest job is to find an untapped bombing range. The McIntoshes brought two boats to Shirley's Bay and took the cream of the crop before competition arrived. Within two weeks, the old range had been cleaned out. The bombs are dragged up with special rakes.

Some 35,000 bombs were drppoed there from a service flying school at nearby Uplands and the big R.C.A.F. base at Rockcliffe. Many of the bombs are buried deep in the mud of the river. Some of them failed to explode when dropped and became hazards for the fishermen.

One type of the nine-pound bombs — with a lead core in a cast-iron casing — is worth 40 cents in salvage, and they have been sold for as much as 75 cents. The other kind — solid cast iron— is worth eight cents.

But the McIntoshes say the old bombing ranges are becoming harder and harder to find.

"We can always go back to fishing for fish, I guess", said Ray McIntosh. But he agreed he wasn't too happy about the idea.

Unesco itself, as part of its educational reconstruction job, has taken steps to promote closer contact between the various towns and villages set up for handicapped children throughout the world.

In Quebec, the excursions will apply from all stations Montreal and west, and from all stations in Ontario as far west as and including Port Arthur, Armstrong, Windsor and Sarnia.

Return tickets will be sold at the normal one-way first class fare plus one third, and will be good going from Monday, June 20, until midnight on Monday, September 5. On the return trip, tickets will be honored within 21 days after date of sale. Stop-overs will be allowed at all points within the final limit of the ticket.

GUARD TREES

One of the most forward steps in conservation was taken by the Haldimand County Council just recently in passing a Trees Conservation bylaw. Nothing in the by-law will interfere with a farmer using tree gowth for his own purpose, but wholesale slaughter of trees is controlled by permit.

POSTAL SURPLUSES

Surpluses from postal activities have been in the neighborhood of ten to eleven millions of dollars in recent years. It would be interesting to learn how much of this figure has been derived from the terrific rates of postage charged on food and gift parcels sent by Canadians to the Old Country and continental Europe.

W.M.S. Sectional Meeting Held at Morin Heights

Morin Heights United Church was the scene of the annual meeting of the Ottawa Valley Section (Montreal Presbyterial) of the Woman's Missionary Society recently.

Members of the Montreal executive as well as representatives of auxiliaries and affiliated groups gathered in the morning.

In the unavoidable absence of Mrs. R. D. Bradford, district vice-president, Mrs. F. S. McGibbon, of Lachute, occupied the chair.

After the call to worship, members of the Shawbridge auxiliary took the devotional exercises, following which Mrs. M. Dey, president of Morin Heights Woman's Association, extended a hearty welcome to all present.

Mrs. McGibbon then brought greetings from the section and presented the president, Mrs. Porritt, who in turn introduced the other members of the Montreal executive.

Mrs. Porritt spoke of her trip to the Dominion Board meeting recently, and also of the still great need of used clothing for Europe.

An appropriate solo was sung by Mrs. E. Barker, of Lachute, with Mrs. C. S. Jamieson, of Morin Heights, at the organ.

Mrs. Usher, as representative of the W.C.T.U. of the province, as well as all Canada, gave a brief talk on the convention of that body recently held in Ormstown.

On the close of the morning session with prayer by Mrs. Shaw, of Harrington, lunch was served in the church hall by the ladies of Morin Heights.

At the opening of the afternoon session, the Rev. Mr. Wood brought greetings and expressed his pleasure, and that of his church, at having the meeting held there.

Devotional service at this point was taken by Mrs. W. Y. King of Cushing, with a closing prayer by the Rev. A. G. Moore.

Mrs. Porritt then addressed the meeting, taking as her theme "Advance".

At the close of this address Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon, of Lachute, conducted an impressive "In Memoriam" service for members who had passed on during the year.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Miss Gwen Suttie, of Montreal, who spoke on Japan, giving a vivid picture of the opportunities open for missions in that country at the present time.

An organ solo was given by Mrs. C. S. Jamieson, of Morin Heights.

Several other ladies gave a brief report of the work of their respective auxiliaries, and the benediction brought this very successful meeting to a close.

Auxiliary Groups Enjoy Presentation of Scenes in Church Mission Work

(Our District Correspondent)

Weir, Que.—On Friday evening, June 3, an interesting gathering took place in the church hall at Weir, when members of three branches of the Women's Auxiliary — namely, The Glen, Arundel and Weir, met together to witness a screen showing of the slides on "One Family" (Parts I and II) in connection with missionary work in China, Japan, India and parts of Canada with which the branches are interested.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold Laws, of Montreal, came here to present these slides — Mrs. Laws being the educational secretary of the Montreal Diocesan Board.

A short program had been drawn up by the president of the Weir branch. The meeting opened with a Prayer for the Church, by the Rev. G. R. Barnett, who acted as chairman for the evening. This was followed by the Members' Prayer and Hymn, also the Lord's Prayer, after which Mr. Barnett introduced the speaker. Mrs. Laws gave a lucid and instructive talk as each slide was shown.

Mrs. J. C. Veit, president of the Arundel Branch, thanked Mrs. Laws at the close for the privilege the gathering had enjoyed in witnessing these slides, and for the interesting talk with which she had accompanied them.

The meeting was closed with prayer by the Rev. G. R. Barnett, followed by the singing of the national anthem.

Refreshments were then served by the ladies, concluding an evening that will long be remembered by all present.

Retreat for Clergymen Of Anglican Deanery Of St. Andrews East

At the invitation of the Rural Dean, the Rev. A. E. Hawes, B.A., L.Th., the Rev. R. F. Palmer, of Cambridge, Mass., conducted a retreat here for the clergy of St. Andrews Deanery. Evening Prayer was said by the Rev. C. R. Lang, L.Th., Monday evening, June 6, in St. Simeon's Church. The address given by Dr. Palmer on this occasion outlined the purpose of the retreat, namely "to draw near to God". . . "Come ye yourselves apart and rest awhile".

On Tuesday morning at 7.30 o'clock, Holy Communion was administered, followed by breakfast in the church hall served by ladies of the W.A. of this parish. The retreat continued from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1.30 to 5 p.m.

Members of the clergy present in addition to the above-mentioned, were—the Rev. G. R. Barnett, of Arundel; the Rev. C. W. P. Baugh, of Lakefield; the Rev. J. H. Jones, M.A., of Montebello; the Rev. S. T. Willis, B.A., L.Th., of Rawdon; the Rev. W. M. Trivett, of Mascouche; the Rev. E. C. Royle, S.Th., of Vaudreuil; the Rev. W. J. Ellis, L.Th., of Grenville (retired); and the Rev. G. T. Spriggs, of Lachute (retired.)

Dinner and tea were also served by the ladies of St. Simeon's W.A., and thanks were expressed to the hostesses of the parish by the Rev. Mr. Barnett, and to the Rev. Dr. Palmer by the Rural Dean.

Boyd - Ovens

Miss Gladys Maud Ovens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ovens, of Kars, became the bride of Mr. Ivan Ambrose Boyd, son of Mr. Edward Boyd and the late Mrs. Boyd, of Brownsburg, Que., last Saturday afternoon in Parkdale United Church, Ottawa.

Rev. A. Y. Robertson, of North Gower, officiated at the marriage. Mr. Asquith played the wedding music and Mr. A. Culbert sang. The church was decorated with snapdragons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Hazel Boyd, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid. Mr. Clayton Boyd attended his cousin as best man. The ushers were Mr. Heber Boyd, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Wendell Hyland, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore a white satin gown designed with a fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline inset with lace. Her long sleeves came to points over the hands. A headdress of orange blossoms and net, which had been worn by her great-aunt on her wedding day, held her finger-tip veil in place and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The reception was held in the Orange Lantern Inn and later the couple left on a motor trip to Western Ontario. The bride travelled in a navy blue gabardine suit with matching accessories. The couple will live in Brownsburg.

Besides friends and relatives from Kars, Brownsburg and Lachute, out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Robson, Mr. Angus Robson and Mrs. Beverley, all of Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. A. Golden Wedding Event Celebrated at Cushing

(Our District Correspondent)

Cushing — An enjoyable event took place in the Stone Hall, Cushing, last Saturday evening, June 4, when Mr. and Mrs. John Innes celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage, surrounded by their family and a large group of other relatives and neighbors, as well as friends who had come from "far away places" to help make this happy event happier still.

This golden wedding party, a celebration keenly appreciated by Mr. and Mrs. Innes, as well as all others present, was tendered to them by their family — Mrs. C. Meservy of Ottawa, Mrs. McGerrigle of Quebec, Floyd and J. McAllister Innes of Montreal.

All their daughters-in-law and sons-in-law were present, and their grandchildren — Mr. C. Meservy and daughters Isabel and Mary; Dr. H. McGerrigle of Quebec, daughter Jean and sons John and Graeme; Mrs. Floyd Innes, and Mrs. J. McAllister Innes and son Bobbie and daughter Nancy. Also present was Mrs. Jas. McAllister, Sr., of Ottawa, a lady 93 years young; and upon request of her friends who remembered her musical abilities in the past, Mrs. McAllister favored with a music selection — playing correctly and with spirit, from memory, that old Scotch favorite "Auld Land Syne" in its entirety; the audience joined wholeheartedly in singing, "Should auld acquaintance be forgot". (Mrs. McAllister was the first organist for St. Mungo's Church following the old precentor days, and held that position for many years.)

It was the pastor of St. Mungo's, the Rev. Jas. Fraser, in 1899, who performed the ceremony uniting in marriage John Innes and Isabel McAllister, both parties having been attendants of that church since their infancy. Mr. Innes has for many years served as elder in the church of his youth, while Mrs. Innes too has been active in church work down through the years.

These facts were commented upon by the Rev. A. G. Moore, who was toastmaster for the evening. Mr. Moore, in mentioning their good works in connection with the church, said that, not only had they been active in church work but in all things pertaining to the community. Mr. Moore had noted this in the few short but happy years he had been minister of St. Mungo's. The speaker interspersed a number of witty and humorous remarks in the toast to the "bride and groom", which added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The Rev. Mr. Moore also called upon others for a few words of appreciation. Among these were Mr. Arthur Weir and Mr. A. E. MacRae of Ottawa, brothers-in-law of Mrs. Innes, and Mr. Lemuel Cushing of Montreal — all of whom were happy to join with Mr. Moore in expressing good wishes.

Their son, Mr. Floyd Innes, of Montreal, expressed the happiness of the family in having the opportunity to celebrate the golden wedding of their parents, and also voiced their special appreciation to the former bridesmaid, now Mrs. R. Gardiner, who had come by plane all the way from Winnipeg to be present at this time.

"Happy Birthday to You" was sung for the benefit of Mrs. Innes, who was celebrating her birthday at the same time.

Mr. Innes in a few brief but well-chosen words expressed appreciation to their family for this party, also to Mr. Moore as toastmaster and to his neighbors and the friends who had come from such great distances to be with them at this time.

Among those noted taking part in the gathering were — Mrs. R. Gardiner, of Winnipeg, (bridesmaid); Mrs. Jas. McAllister, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. A. E. MacRae, Mr. Bob MacRae, Mr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. Arthur Weir, Mrs. D. Cameron, Miss Mabel Cameron, Miss Helen Moffat and Miss Vera Smith, all of Ottawa; Miss Mildred Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. K. Doody, of Montreal; Capt. and Mrs. J. D. Weir, of Senneville; Mrs. E. C. Higginson and Mrs. Jas. McAllister, Jr., of Hawkesbury. Those seated at the bride's table were Mr. and Mrs. Innes, their bridesmaid Mrs. Gardiner, Mrs. J. McAllister, Sr., Mrs. J. McAllister, Jr., and Mr. Arthur Weir.

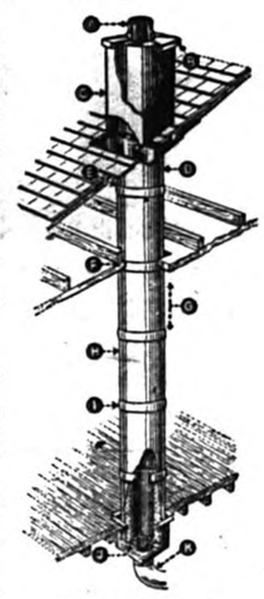

The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, also decorated with silver candelabra holding tall candles. Roses and candles formed the decorations throughout. A special vase of yellow roses centred the tea table, which was presided over by Mrs. J. P. Bradley, niece of the bridal couple, and Mrs. L. M. Gaston.

The appreciation of all present was voiced in the hearty singing of "For they are jolly good fellows", followed by a social time when old acquaintances were renewed and a few dance measures indulged in — which all enjoyed immensely, and in particular the bridegroom, who proved that he had lost none of his old agility and grace of movement, while Mrs. Innes preferred to sit quietly in conversation with old friends.

Congratulatory telegrams from Toronto and various western cities were read by the toastmaster during the evening.

CARLING'S CONSERVATION CORNER

The burning of grasslands upsets the balance of nature. It destroys the cover of dead grass that helps to restore fertility to the soil, and kills young trees, wild-flowers and ground-nesting birds. Remember, it pays to keep nature in balance.

Bride's Bag of Tricks

It is music in any woman's ear to hear it said "she sets the best table for miles around", for good cooking is an important part of good living.

The bride, who is taking charge of a home for the first time, finds it quite different from helping at home, for now everything seems to demand her attention at once.

The home economists of the Consumer Section at Ottawa have many ideas for the inexperienced cook.

A good recipe never goes out of style but it may be adapted to meet the present need.

The old ways, well tried,
may be your guide;
The new ways, with science applied, will be your pride.

Allowing for the poetic license of this jingle, it carries a truth. Grandmother's ideas, however good, could have been improved by accuracy. Here are some good rules.

Follow the recipe exactly and use level measurements. Measure dry ingredients first.

Light the oven ten minutes before time for using and set the oven regulator at the proper temperature.

Beat egg whites before yolks so the beater will not have to be washed twice.

Take butter and other fats out of the refrigerator some time before using. (They are easier to measure).

Use small saucepans when making sauces. Most sauces should be cooked over very low heat or in a double boiler.

After a mixture boils, turn the heat low. (Water can get no hotter than boiling).

Taste all foods before serving.

Cover all dishes in the refrigerator.

Peel onions under water to prevent tears.

To blend flour and water for thickening, put in a small jar, screw the top tightly and shake. Use the amount needed. Keep the remainder in the refrigerator for future use.

Grease the saucepan in which chocolate is to be melted. You will not waste chocolate and the pan will be easy to wash.

"To prevent macaroni or spaghetti from boiling over when cooking put a teaspoon of fat in the water.

"To make crumbs the easy way, put the dry bread or crackers in a clean tea towel, gather the corners in your left hand and with the right hand, work the bread until it is crumbled. No crumbs on the floor and no rolling pin to wash.

When custard or cooked salad-dressing curdles, remove it from the heat at once, pour into a cold bowl and beat vigorously with a rotary egg beater.

Start bacon frying in a cold pan.

Roast the bird with breast down. It keeps the meat moist.

Turn breast up for the last half hour to brown.

Flour the meat for stew in a paper bag. Mix flour and seasonings in the bag. Drop meat in and shake until each piece of meat is well coated.

DON'T APE MEN, EDITOR ADVISES WOMEN OF TODAY

Dr. Ruth N. Anshen Says True Marital Happiness Comes With Emotional Maturity

By MARIENNE IZSAK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

New York (CP) — Women don't want to be women. They'd rather be men.

According to Dr. Ruth Nanda Anshen, Ph.D., editor of "The Family, Its Function and Destiny", that's the trouble with the world today.

Women are so busy proving to themselves and to others that they're as smart as men and can do anything a man can, that they let their womanly duties slide.

But what is worse, Dr. Anshen says, they cause their family to feel insecure. As a result, children no longer respect the authority of the home.

"Only when the family is integrated", Dr. Anshen stresses. "Responsibility for the family rests more heavily upon women's shoulders than upon men's."

Unfortunately, there is no easy road to family integration. It must be worked at and a lot of preconceived notions of love and "live-happily-forever-after" theories discarded. Many of the Romeo and Juliet ideas to which young people are exposed are responsible for later unhappiness.

"Young couples think love is as common as cheese." Dr. Anshen sighed. "John looks at Mary working in the kitchen or scrubbing floors and decides she's not the glamor girl he married. He either wants to give up or find the dream girl he is sure is waiting somewhere."

How To Be Happy

True marital happiness comes with emotional maturity, Dr. Anshen holds, and is the result of emotional, psychological and intellectual compatibility.

Another mistake couples make, she finds, is turning their love into an "I want" love instead of an "I give" love.

"The motto is 'I love you because I need you' when it should be 'I need you because I love you'."

Dr. Anshen thinks she has a recipe for amicable family life, as well as for national and world living: "Consider the wishes of others as well as your own and try to find a common ground — and don't be stubborn about giving in a bit at times".

Sending young children to nursery schools is a mistake, Dr. Anshen believes. Children should play together near their homes but they should always feel they can return and find their mother is there.

Careers that take women outside the home, Dr. Anshen opposes with fervor.

"However, I do not always practice what I preach — I'm a mother myself!" she pointed out.

"More of our friends have Telephones— and we all use the Telephone more!"

DAY AND NIGHT, seven days a week the telephone is at your service. Quickly and easily it keeps you in touch with everything and everybody everywhere. There are 400,000 more telephones and two million more calls a day than there were three years ago. And service is getting better all the time.

In three years, however, costs of important raw materials for telephone lines and cables have risen sharply. Copper prices have doubled, zinc and lead prices tripled. Yet, up to now, despite rising costs on all sides, there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 22 years ago. Few things give you so much real value at such low cost as your telephone.

We've broken all records but there are still orders we haven't been able to fill. We will keep right on working and building to make your telephone service a bigger bargain than ever — to continue to provide more and better service at the lowest possible cost.

These gentlemen with the mattress-faces are citizens of MacLeod, Alta., members of the MacLeod Anniversary Whiskers' Club who won't touch a razor until the town's anniversary celebrations are over in July. The colorful history of MacLeod will be the basis for a pageant complete with Blackfeet Indians in war paint, scarlet-coated R.C.M.P. and rum-runners. The town's history began in 1874 when a log fort was built on an island in the Oldham river to suppress invading whiskey peddlers from Fort Benton, Montana, who had built a fort themselves on Alberta soil. They called it Fort Whoop-up, and it deserved its name.

The match committee are preparing a letter to members, and hope to make it a monthly issue. This letter will contain information of general interest concerning club activities. It will explain the new handicapping system, seasonal fixtures, rules of golf etiquette, and such like. It will also, for the time being, take the place of the fixture booklet, which must await the end of the election rush for its printing.

We understand that the Jones Cup qualifying round is to be played Saturday, Sunday and Monday, June 18 - 19 - 20. Play will be as usual, 18 holes with handicap, and the top 16 net scores qualify. Activity in the ladies' department of the club is well under way. On Wednesday afternoon, June 1, they held their "White Elephant" tournament. Joliette Took Lead In Baseball Scoring Lachute took the short end of the scoring in two well-played home-and-home games against Joliette baseballers last Sunday.

Gervais pitched a fine game at Lachute in the first encounter, which ended in a 4-all draw.

In the second game of the day, played at Joliette, a newcomer to the Lachute club, "Lefty" Labreche, pitched well and secured nine strike-outs. Errors in the Lachute diamond and field gave the opponents their scoring chances, and the game ended in a 5-1 victory for Joliette.

Lachute now is in a fourth-place tie with St. Jerome in the Northern Section of the League.

Lachute Fair Opens With Promising Outlook

New Records Marked, High Attendance Expected, Annual Exhibition in Second Day of Progress

Lachute Spring Fair 1949 opened yesterday with highly favorable prospects — with every human provision for its successful outcome — with all livestock stalls and concessions well occupied — and with fine weather prevailing.

Daniels midway properties were installed early in the week, and many of the animals for the horse show, racing and livestock competitions began arriving last week-end direct from Ormstown Show.

Most of the business and industrial displays have now been set up — and these evidence a considerable increase, the demands for space this year being more than double those of 1948.

The lunch quarters and dining room are in charge of John Maitland, of Brownsburg, and besides the several pop stands and hot-doggeries operating in the midway, a refreshment booth is being conducted near the main entrance by ladies of the Trinity Church at Calumet (in aid of building-repairs). The county branches of the Women's Institute again have their extensive showing of handicrafts, flowers and cookery in the main building, where the entries have been judged and ranked on their merits.

In the show-ring before the grandstand, Gavin Walker of Lachute is a newcomer this year in the ringmaster's role, while Jean Lalande of St. Jerome is the professional announcer, introducing the animals, owners and riders to the audience. Afternoon and evening vaudeville shows, including four acts, are being presented on a platform before the grandstand. Wally Frederic's six-piece band is performing in the intermissions.

Judging commenced yesterday on Percheron and Canadian horses (Jack Torrance, of Markham, Ont., being the judge) and with the light horse show in the evening. Today, Shorthorn, Canadian and Jersey cattle are also being judged; and there is enlarged seating space for spectators overlooking the cattle ring. Poultry, sheep and swine are meanwhile being judged in the barns, and again this evening the horse show will be a main attraction. A novel spectacle will be the appearance of two six-horse teams—which, when measured in terms of horse-flesh, is "really something". These entries are being judged today and tomorrow. Dairy cattle will present a formidable task for the judges. The Ayrshire entries have set a remarkable record, with a list of 265 animals — the largest number entered at any Ayrshire show with the exception of the Royal Winter Fair.

In the Main Building

The Women's Institute and Cercle des Fermières exhibit this year is a distinct credit to the ladies of the district. It is interesting to note also that town ladies are in charge of one or two of the trade displays.

Besides the W.I. handicrafts which occupy an extensive layout in the main show building, local welfare enterprises are represented by something new — a free X-Ray clinic conducted by the Anti-Tuberculosis League, through arrangement of Dr. L. Turcotte, county health officer.

Outdoor Displays

The Lions Club exhibit of a Dodge car and other prizes in a ticket-drawing to be held Saturday afternoon, is commanding good support. This effort is on behalf of the Legion's building fund and other community welfare works.

Among Star Salesmen

Lucien Savard, local agent for Metropolitan Life, was among 150-odd representatives and their lady guests attending the Metropolitan star salesmen's "Honor Club" conference recently. This business and social gathering was held at the Seigniory Club, Montebello, with most of the officials from Canadian head office in attendance, and a number from New York.

It was the ninth year in succession that Mr. Savard has qualified for this distinction in the Company's sales force.

Appearing in Horse Show at Lachute Spring Fair

Two interesting spectacles in the horse show at Lachute Spring Fair. . . At the left is something new in this year's program, a six-horse team of Clydesdales entered by the T. A. Wilson Lumber Company, of Cannington, Ont. There are two such teams competing; the other outfit belongs to Campbell & Young, of Bristol, Que. . . Right, "The Reaper", a horse of the Harvester breed embodying rare grace and contour. This horse was imported from California by Miss L. Guerasio, of Montreal; the owner and rider is Miss Viola Lallemand, of Huntingdon, who appears dressed in cowboy costume.

Three Candidates Enter Field to Contest Argent'l - Two Mountains; Joint Meeting on Nomination Day

On Monday, June 13, three candidates were officially nominated to contest the federal seat of Argenteuil-Two Mountains in the coming elections — Georges H. Héon, Member for Argenteuil in the last Parliament, as official Progressive - Conservative candidate; Philippe Valois, official standard-bearer for the Liberal party; and J. Orphir Desjardins, running under the aegis of the Union des Electeurs (Social Credit).

The post-nomination proceedings took the form of a mixed meeting, now traditional in this riding. The assembly, held at the Auditorium, was under the joint chairmanship of Albert Laframboise, Mayor of Ste. Scholastique Parish, and G. E. Dansereau, ex-M.L.A., of Grenville. Opposing speakers were heard in support of the candidates of both parties — Mr. Desjardins (Union des Electeurs) being absent from the meeting. The speakers included—Wm. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. for Argenteuil; Dollard Dansereau, U. Laurencelle, and J. Moisan, in support of Mr. Héon; Jas. W. McGibbon, Sarto Fournier and Dr. Bernier in support of Mr. Valois.

The two candidates defined their individual policies in the forthcoming campaign, and their guest speakers elaborated on the broader lines of party policies.

A large gathering was on hand to listen to the speeches, and the meeting was orderly at all times.

Pilgrimage to Shrine; Plans for Development

Brownsburg — On Sunday last about 2,000 pilgrims from the English-speaking parishes of Montreal took part in a pilgrimage conducted by the Franciscan Fathers from the Provincial House, Dorchester Street, and assembled at the shrine of "Our Lady", on the Brownsburg Road. This pilgrimage is to be the first of many conducted by the Franciscans, whose desire is to ascertain the suitability of the shrine for converting to a "house of peace" for aged members of the religious order. If the project is successful, it is also proposed to enlarge the accommodation now being planned, so that laymen can also rest here in peaceful quietude.

Prayers were offered for the success of the work to be undertaken, and religious ceremonies were performed on the grounds, where the many people present joined in with inspiring devotion.

The visitors were transported by special train to Lachute on Sunday morning, then forming a procession to the shrine. They took their departure from Lachute C.P.R. station late in the afternoon.

The Franciscan Fathers have acquired possession of the shrine through the beneficence of the Ayers family, and are negotiating for an extension of the area from some of the adjoining land-owners. Before a decision is made on the number and kind of buildings to be erected, considerable investigation must be made; but it is expected that the delay will not be over-long.

Next Sunday another pilgrimage of French - speaking Catholics will be conducted to the shrine, when it is expected that even larger numbers of the faithful will be present.

Campaign Meetings Staged in Various District Centres

Provincial Rights Important Factor in This Campaign, Says Hon. Paul Sauvé

In St. Benoit, County of Two Mountains, the Hon. Paul Sauvé, Minister of Youth and Welfare in the Quebec Government, was the principal speaker last Sunday at a rally on behalf of Georges H. Héon, K.C., Progressive-Conservative candidate for Argenteuil - Two Mountains.

As far as Quebec is concerned, the present federal campaign is but a continuation of the fight for provincial autonomy decided by the people in the provincial election last July, said Mr. Sauvé, whose appearance in his native village marked his first active participation in the present campaign.

(The Sauvés, Paul and his father the late Senator Arthur Sauvé, have never been defeated in 41 aggregate years they have represented the Two Mountains seat in the Provincial House,)

"Have no illusions about the provincial campaign last July", said the Hon. Mr. Sauvé in stressing his theme of provincial autonomy, "The fight on that occasion was between Premier Maurice Duplessis and Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent. It wasn't between Premier Duplessis and Adelard Godbout as Liberals would now like to have you understand."

(Our District Correspondents)

St. Andrews East — An open-air meeting in support of Philippe Valois, Liberal candidate, was held Tuesday evening outside the town hall at St. Andrews East — where, in spite of the oppressive heat, a considerable crowd listened to the speeches over a public-address system.

Joint presidents of the assembly were Victor Potier and Stanley Rodger. The chairman was Robt. Turgeon, of Montreal, and besides the candidate, the speakers were Chas. Ed. Bertrand; Roland Lefrançois (former president of La Jeunesse Libérale); Guy Guérin, a promising young orator and student from the University of Montreal; and in conclusion the ex-M.L.A. for Argenteuil, Georges E. Dansereau.

The Liberal policy and program were enthusiastically upheld, and the Progressive-Conservative were assailed by the platform speakers — with special reference to the party leader, the Hon. George Drew, and to Mr. Héon, opponent to Philippe Valois in the Argenteuil-Two Mountains contest.

Arundel — Two well attended political meetings were held in Arundel during the past week when, on Wednesday evening Mr. Philippe Valois addressed the voters on behalf of the Liberal party. Mr. Jas. McGibbon was the chairman. Mrs. George McGibbon also addressed the meeting. On Thursday evening Mr. Georges H. Héon, K.C., held a meeting on behalf of the Progressive-Conservative party. Dr. R. B. Henry, of Arundel, acted as chairman. Other speakers during the evening were Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., and Mr. Ross, K.C., of Montreal.

Avoca — The Progressive-Conservatives held a meeting on Monday evening at the local school. Loud-speakers were placed outside to make the assembly more comfortable for listeners.

Speakers were Mr. Georges H. Héon, provincial Progressive-Conservative organizer, Mr. Wm. Cottingham, M.L.A., and Mr. Hill, K.C., of Montreal.

Social Event for K. of C. and Ladies

At a Knights of Columbus social function last week, held in the local assembly hall, trophies were presented to winners in the Council's recreation program, now terminated for the season.

Proving himself a notable in sports as well as in civic affairs, Leopold Carrière (Mayor of Lachute) was awarded the season's golf trophy.

Prizes for bridge were presented to — Mrs. R. Beaulieu, L. Savard (Grand Knight of the Council), and Mrs. John MacDonald.

Carpet bowling trophies went to the team comprising Henri St. Onge (skip), Yvanho Chevrier, Roland Husereau, Alex Guenette.

Games were played during the evening, and a buffet luncheon was provided.

Legion Peanut Day Was Gala Event

Much energy expended by Legion committeemen in preparation for their second Peanut Day campaign, resulted in a successful outcome of their venture last Saturday. The unsettled weather conditions caused misgivings at intervals during the day, but rain held off to permit the parading of the Planters float in Lachute and Brownsburg, complete with the Queen and attendants, and enabled the veterans, Scouts and Girl Guides to make an effective sales canvass.

The day's proceedings were officially opened outside the campaign headquarters (Hammond's Radio Shop) on Main Street, where Alderman Stanley Holt, acting os pro-mayor in the absence of Mayor Léopold Carrière, gave civic support by making the first purchase of peanuts for the day. The vendor was a Girl Guide member, Florence Copeland. A brief word of appeal on behalf of the Legion was given by President Roger D'Août, in French, and by ex-President Stewart Jones, in English. Alderman Holt also spoke a few words in his civic capacity.

Climax of the event was a lawn dance that evening, held on the local High School grounds, where the layout was admirably arranged and well illuminated. The floodlighted float with the Queen, her attendants and the "peanut men" was the centre of attraction, and dancing was enjoyed till midnight, accompanied by the popular Legault family orchestra. A capable M.C. to call the sets and conduct the proceedings over a public address system, contributed much to the success of the evening. Refreshment booths were operated by the veterans. The highlight of the program was the presentation to the Peanut Queen (Miss Yvette Gagné, of Brownsburg) who as winner of the popularity contest by vote of the public, was presented with an award of $25. Her attendants (Misses Jean McMahon, Marion Dixon, Ghislaine Danis, Yolande St. Denis and Vivian Kennedy) as contestants in the voting, received each a prize of $10, donated by The Watchman. Another feature of interest was the drawing for an automatic radio phonograph, which was won by Howard Morrow, of Dalesville, with ticket No. 1094. The presentations were made by Roger D'Août and R. A. Giles.

Thanks of the Lachute Legion Branch 70 go to the Queen and her attendants, the Planters Company, local merchants and citizens, the local and provincial police, and all helpers in Lachute and Brownsburg who made this Legion Peanut Day possible. The net proceeds, approximately $1,200, will be used to help build the Memorial Hall in Lachute.

Proprietors and Sidewalks -- Disregard Of Store Hours -- Problems at B'burg

MATTERS DISCUSSED BY VILLAGE COUNCIL

Brownsburg — Mayor James Donaldson presided at the regular council meeting, with Councillors Somers, Lafleur, Wilson and Pariseau in attendance. The secretary-treasurer, Emile Hebert, read the minutes of last meeting, which were adopted as read.

The mayor called attention to the prevalent use of air-rifles in the district, and suggested that steps be taken to have this menace controlled. The police were instructed to be particularly watchful in regard to these weapons.

Fire Chief A. Robbins reported on several defective chimneys which were in a dangerous condition and should be attended to without delay. The council instructed the chief to take whatever action he considered fit to have these chimneys repaired.

It was also reported that the chimneys being constructed at wartime houses were not in accordance with the council's by-law. The chimneys were not erected from below the the frost line. This matter was also handed to the Fire Chief for his attention.

Council considered another complaint, which stated that materials used in repairs to wartime houses were strewn all over the roadway, constituting a danger to the public using the roads. The secretary was instructed to notify the construction manager to have this remedied.

Supervision of the council's work crew was under discussion, and it was reiterated that the mayor be informed daily of the work contemplated for the day — the secretary to notify the foreman to report each morning to the mayor before starting work.

The council have undertaken to clean the chimneys of the corporation area at a rateable cost, and the Fire Chief was directed to get the necessary help and equipment for this work. It was decided to clean the chimneys, the work to be inspected and passed by the Fire Chief, but that the cleaning should not extend to inside equipment, either pipes or furnaces. The question of notifying home-owner of the time when his chimney was to be cleaned was discussed, and arrangements to suit the convenience of the owner are to be worked out by the town foreman.

Paul Filion attended the council meeting to inform the members that he had now finished the work on the road through his housing project and was prepared to hand it over to the council for maintenance. It was decided the roads committee and the mayor inspect the road before taking it over.

Mr. Scarborough, storekeeper, appeared before the council to inquire into regulations regarding the closing of stores and hours of business. Some of the members voiced concern over the way business was being conducted in the small stores, and asked to have the law enforced. The secretary was instructed to write the store-

Orphanage Boy Is Drowning Victim

Two young orphanage lads at Huberdeau, tired of institution life, decided to run away recently. Making a raft, they attempted to cross the Rouge River. The frail craft however tipped, and Henri Magier, 15 years old, failed to swim to shore. The other lad returned to the orphanage, and fearing punishment, it was not until three days later that he explained what had happened. The tragedy occurred on May 5 last. Despite dragging operations the body was not found until last evening, June 15, when two fishermen, Laurent Godin and Emile Laurin, discovered the victim partly submerged.

Det. Philippe Thérriault, of Lachute, investigated, and at an inquest held by Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur, the drowning was pronounced accidental. . . The victim's home was at Cap-de-la-Madeleine, Que.

FORMER PHYSICIAN HERE IN CONTEST AT VERDUN, OPPOSED MACKENZIE KING 1945

Dr. Richard Monahan, who practiced as a physician for a short time in this town, assured the Verdun riding of an interesting election campaign June 27, when he filed his nomination papers Monday, 15 minutes before the deadline.

The 70-year-old doctor is a native Montrealer, veteran world traveller and linguist, who in 1945 ran against Prime Minister Mackenzie King in a Glengarry by-election where the latter was seeking a House of Commons seat following his personal defeat in Prince Albert.

Dr. Monahan is running as an Independent. He was accompanied by his agent, Adhemar Lavalle, when he entered the office of the returning officer.

Dr. Monahan, who was born of Irish parents, returned to Canada recently from a trip abroad, it is stated in a Montreal news report.

He is a graduate of McGill and is married to Anna Harriet Leonowens, granddaughter of Mrs. Anna Leonowens who was the heroine of the popular novel, "Anna and the King of Siam." Her father was a teakwood merchant in Siam who dealt also in elephants, at one time owning as many as 200. Mrs. Monahan is a McGill arts graduate.

Dr. Monahan, who has practiced in China, India, Mexico, Italy, England, Ireland and Canada (including Main Street, Lachute), and other countries, was with the British Fleet in the First World War and saw action in the Battle of Jutland. He speaks Spanish, Italian, French, German and English, and "reads the Bible in all of them."

His opponents in Verdun are P. E. Cote, M.P., J. W. MacGillivray, P.C.; William Dodge, C.C.F.; J. Fortin, Social Credit.

Our Natural Resources

Canada has a wide variety of natural resources. That is a statement speakers and writers like to emphasize. It is a perfectly true statement; compared with many countries, Canada has indeed abundant natural resources.

There is one phase of this picture however, which is of more than passing interest. Canada's natural resources have been here since the beginning of time. When the early explorers reached this country they found it possessing vast natural resources, but it is a historic fact that the Indians who lived in the country knew nothing of how to utilize them. It is equally true that for generations the people of Canada did not develop this wealth as we understand the term today.

The reason is relatively simple. The greatest mine was nothing more than a pile of rock until somebody spent the time, money and effort to make a mine out of it. A forest was just a lot of trees until men spent the time, money and effort to make pulp, paper or lumber out of the trees. The most productive farms were merely waste land until our forefathers spent the time, money and effort to clear the land, to cultivate it, to build houses and barns, to sow crops and make the land grow things. Natural resources are never sources of wealth or material until the labor of men makes them productive.

Similarly, rivers are nothing more than a lot of running water until men harness it, control its energy and make it work for the citizens of the country. The farms, forests, mines and rivers in the Gatineau area — in fact all natural resources — were of no value until they were put to work. As a result of this work and effort, our natural resources are valuable today to the country as a whole and contributing to high standards of living, comforts, conveniences, health and education of the individual, which were impossible until they were tamed by men.

Farm Topics

Keep the Soil On the Farm

It takes about 400 years to produce an inch of soil. One heavy rain can undo centuries of Nature's soil making if the rain water is not controlled. Given the opportunity, the soil will be washed into creeks, rivers and out to sea.

The top six inches of the soil is the main natural resource of farming lands the world over. In all too many countries it is being allowed to "run away". Governments are conscious of this soil loss and are spending millions of dollars on drainage, reforestation, assistance in the use of fertilizers and agricultural lime, and on other conservation projects.

But in thinking in general terms, often the particular is overlooked. The farmer who on his own farm diverts what may be only a trickle today, may prevent a steady stream tomorrow. Changing a contour, grassing a water course, planting a few trees—half a hundred small and inexpensive operations — if done in time, contribute to the overall program of soil conservation.

In the final analysis the only asset of a farm is the soil. If the soil becomes unproductive, the farm is useless. The soil cannot be too well cared for, and part of that care is to keep it on the farm.

Feather Picking May Be Answered

Feather picking in laying birds may be a problem of the past for Canadian poultrymen, if long-term experience bears out initial results achieved in tests at the Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow, Ont.

Green feeds — chopped alfalfa hay is the most effective tried so far — seem to hold the cure for this vicious habit. Cut in half-inch lengths, steeped in cold water overnight, drained in the morning and fed in shallow tubs, the alfalfa makes a hit with gourmets of the chicken coop, leaving them with neither the taste nor the inclination to pick at one another.

The steeping overnight is important. If the alfalfa is fed dry, the birds are uninterested. It must be steeped to stimulate their appetites and to get the desired results.

Overcrowding, inactivity and lack of bulk in the feed have frequently been identified as contributing to outbreaks of feather pulling, but even where these conditions do not exist the trouble still occurs. Once under way, feather picking leads to cannibalism if allowed to run unchecked.

Green feeds cure the problem by preventing it. Of course, much depends on the quality of the alfalfa as well as the steeping process. Second cutting, or still better, third cutting hay because of its finer stalk, is less wasteful than first cutting.

One question still to be answered is whether or not all alfalfa regardless of soil on which it is grown, will control feather picking. When they have the answer to that one, poultrymen will know to what extent the problem has been solved.

Inspectors Kept Busy

Inspectors of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, who check on the supplies which farmers use, are busy men. Those of the Plant Products Division inspect a variety of supplies, including seeds, feeds, fertilizers, pesticides, binder twine, hay and straw, and flax fibres. Most of these are stocked by the same dealer and so, by having the same inspector capable of checking all these products, cost of inspection is reduced considerably and inspectors do not have to go too far afield from their homes for overlong periods.

But this arrangement means that inspectors must be right up on the job, and must not only know the particular product but also the regulations governing its sale or production as laid down under the different Acts.

Technical developments have complicated inspection work and even though a university degree is necessary, inspectors must study continuously to keep abreast of their jobs.

Exceptionally havy seasonal demands for such services as field inspection of registered and certified seed crops, and the grading of hay, have to be met by the employment of temporary inspectors.

Two Mountains to Have Artificial Breeding Centre

It has been decided to organize an artificial breeding centre in the County of Two Mountains, and plans are in progress to have the centre in operation in as short a time as possible.

The decision was made at the recent annual meeting of the Two Mountains Livestock Breeders' Society, held at Oka under the chairmanship of Albert Laframboise. This society was organized in 1926 and has always had as its chief aim the improvement of livestock through modern methods of production and breeding. The work of the Society is helped through a grant from the Department of Agriculture.

There are 85 members of the Society, who own between them 1044 head of cattle. It is a condition of membership that R.O.P. be practised for at least the first five years, and that records be kept of feed consumption, milk prices, and breeding performance. There are still four members in the Society who have been carrying on this program for the past 22 years, and 10 others have been doing it for over 10 years.

In order to make the information that has been obtained through the years available to a larger number of farmers, the Society has adopted a new constitution, under which it will be, in effect, an extension service of the Institut Agricole d'Oka.

Dr. Mercier was present at the meeting and gave valuable information about the organization and operating of an artificial breeding centre, gained from his experience at the centre at St. Hyacinthe. He reported that there are now, in the St. Hyacinthe district, 21 local clubs who report themselves well satisfied with the progress that has been made to date.

The Old Fence Feuds

A NEW sentiment is springing up these days around the old line fence, giving rise to an improved spirit of rural goodwill.

It's a far cry from the days, still remembered by the fathers and the grandfathers of the present generation of farm youth, when the location of line fences touched off some of the bitterest disputes and family feuds ever known in the farming settlements.

In those not-so-good old times, every foot of cleared land had to be won from the wilderness by back-breaking toil. Much of the work of land clearing was done by hand and often the task of removing the trees, stumps, roots and boulders from a field extended over several seasons.

Small wonder, then, that a man jealously guarded each precious acre of his clearing in the bush — or that an unscrupulous settler sometimes tried to claim land that a neighbor's hard work had prepared for the plow. Services of a surveyor were hard to come by, and disagreements over the proper placing of a line fence created bitter enmity between families who could have found benefit in being friends. Worse still the boundary feuds often carried over from one generation to another.

When farms were handed down from father to son, the old markings of their limits remained, some good and some bad. In most cases, no necessity arose for surveying or re-surveying, and the old line fence stayed put.

But in the last few years, changes have come. In many sections of the countryside farms have been passing out of the control of families who originally held them. Sale of the property has entailed title searches, surveys and the exact determination of farm boundaries.

With the lines thus methodically fixed, sources of disagreement have been removed, and today's farmers can go forward with their neighbors to new heights of community achievement.

In Fighting Terms

A NEWS item from Ottawa states that the Canadian Legion has launched an attack on "apathy and indifference" with the objective of getting people to vote in the forthcoming federal election. Those words "apathy" and "indifference" (writes one of our regular commentators, Lewis Milligan) are too mild and abstract; they tend rather to soothe and excuse the delinquents. The apathist is lazy and destitute of feeling. The indifferent is one who doesn't care — isn't interested.

The Canadian Legion represents the men who fought and died for the preservation of the freedom and democratic institutions of which the right to vote is a basic principle; and those veterans have a special right to demand that every able and patriotic Canadian citizen should turn out to VOTE in the coming election. Is that too much to ask in return for the sacrifice and the service rendered by our citizen soldiers, sailors and airmen for the preservation of the liberty we now enjoy?

Save Drowning Victims!

ALL DROWNING fatalities are not necessarily due only to carelessness on the part of the victims, according to Dr. Gordon Bates, of Toronto, in the current issue of "Health", magazine of the Health League of Canada. Too frequently there is lack of knowledge as to proper means of artificial respiration on the part of onlookers anxious to help.

Artificial respiration should always be immediate and continuously applied by persons with some knowledge of the procedure — the article continues. There are misapprehensions, however, which in some cases have led to tragedy. In spite of widespread publicity about ten years ago in the Canadian press, there still remains in the minds of many the idea that a person who has been under water for more than a few minutes cannot be revived by artificial respiration. This is not true. There have been instances of individuals who have been revived after being as long as half an hour in the water. A committee of the Health League, under the leadership of the late Sir Frederick Banting in 1938, issued a statement to the effect that artificial respiration should be kept up continuously for four hours, or until there is evidence of rigor mortis in the victim. It is also most important that one should make certain in all cases that the air passages of the patient are unobstructed.

For A Happy Retirement

RETIREMENT, in order to be a happy period in one's experience, must be planned just as carefully as the career that preceded it. — So think a majority of people answering a question by the Financial Post. Furthermore, retirement does not necessarily mean a hobby. Hobbies are fine, but to be happy, man needs to serve in some way or another.

Older men with time to spare can find a worldful of opportunities for human service in community projects, the church, municipal councils, Chamber of Commerce, studying social trends, farming, education, government.

Retirement, says one reply, can be the beginning of opportunity for service, not the end.

Bulldog Breed

THE HEROIC tradition of the Canadian Mounties, that they always get their man, is now being emulated by the collectors of income tax.

An employer in an eastern Canadian port sends in the information that one of his men has just had his wages garnisheed by the local tax office for unpaid income tax for 1947. The amount of the deficiency is one dollar and twenty cents. . . Estimated cost of proceedings up to and including issue of the garnishee order, ten dollars.

Profits of Manufacture Highly Over-Estimated

St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N.B. — Proof that profits of Canadian manufacturing industry are only about one-half what the general public thinks would be a fair return for the risk involved, was presented last week at the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association by Hugh Crombie, of Montreal, chairman of the Association's Education Committee.

The speaker's figures, based on a nation-wide questionnaire on the breakdown of industry's sales dollar, disclosed the fact that profits amounted to 6.2 per cent in each dollar of sales. Impetus to the figures was supplied by the fact that C.M.A. members responding to the profits questionnaire employed 400,000 people and had total annual sales of over 3½ billion dollars.

"Surveys of public opinion in Canada indicate that the average person thinks that manufacturers make a profit which may be as high as 32%. The same people say that, while this is far too much, they would regard a profit of 10% to 15% as not unreasonable", said Mr. Crombie.

"Actually, it is only 6.2%. That is all the manufacturer has left after he has paid his employees, his suppliers, the government and other legitimate claims and also has set aside funds to pay for the replacement of his machinery and equipment when it wears out. In other words, he has only slightly over six cents out of the dollar to cover dividends to shareholders and those funds which he must retain in his business for future expansion and the creation of more goods and more jobs."

SPECIALIZED JOB

It takes more intelligence to farm effectively today than it did in the days of the horse-plow because, along with the elemental methods of production, are the more exacting techniques, heavier capital investment, more changeable market conditions, difficult tax problems, and numerous other factors which play so important a part in modern farming and stock-growing.

YOUR FUTURE . . . AND CANADA'S

Conditions have been good the last few years. More people are working than ever before — making more, spending more, saving more.

Isn't that what you want? After all, you have a family to think about . . . and you are planning for their future . . .

The Liberals are planning and working for your family's future too.

Here are some of the things the Liberals are doing:

Family Allowances are increased. Already a billion dollars has been invested in Canada's children. Millions of boys and girls are better clothed, fed and housed — have a better chance for an education and a real start in life — because of this Liberal measure. It has brought new security and well-being to countless Canadian homes.

In housing, too, the Liberals have taken the lead in providing Canadians with decent homes. More homes have been built in Canada, in relation to population, than in any nation. Already a million Canadians live in homes built since the war. The liberal government is ready to help solve the low-rental housing problem and has offered its cooperation to provinces and municipalities.

Then, there is the Liberal health program. Already federal grants are helping the provinces to increase their health services. But the Liberals' aim is a nation-wide contributory health insurance plan which will end, for everyone, the tragedy of inadequate health care and the financial strain of lengthy illness.

Or take employment. Liberal measures are helping to maintain employment in Canada at record levels, and at the same time unemployment insurance reserves have been building up. The government has encouraged enterprise and high production. Plants have expanded, new industries started up. New opportunities are being created every day.

Old Age Pensions and pensions for the blind have been steadily increased by the Liberal government. But it isn't stopping there. Its aim is a nation-wide plan of contributory pensions which will help everyone to enjoy a comfortable and secure old age — automatically and as a right.

These are all part of the Liberal program of social betterment . . . a program to achieve a "national standard of social security and human welfare which assures the greatest possible measure of social justice to all Canadians".

Farm Community Mourns Good Friend and Neighbor

Late Rupert D. Bradford

After an illness of several months, there passed away suddenly on June 13 at his home in North River, a well known and respected citizen, Rupert Duncan Bradford, son of the late W. H. Bradford and his wife Annie MacGregor.

Mr. Bradford had spent all his life in this community and at the time of his marriage in 1918 to Lulu C. Burk, he settled on the farm of the late Mr. Jim Boyd. As well as being a farmer of no mean repute, he operated a dairy with his brother Douglas for a number of years, and was very well known, especially in the west end of this town. He was always interested in public and church work, and served on the Chatham Council and the Trustee Board of the former Methodist Church.

There are left to mourn his loss, besides his loving wife — two sons, Kenneth, in Montreal, and Harold, at home; also his brothers, Douglas and Bruce, of North River, Cecil, of Winnipeg; and his sisters, (Eva) Mrs. R. M. Beckett, of Fort William, and (Grace) Mrs. R. D. McGibbon, of Calgary.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, service being conducted at the home by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough of Lachute United Church, of which church Mr. Bradford was a member. The many beautiful floral offerings bore silent tribute to the esteem and respect in which the late Mr. Bradford was held. Pall-bearers were his lifelong neighbors — Messrs. Geo. McOuat, Harry Turner, J. K. MacKimmie, Melvin Graham, Fred Wilson and Everett McGibbon.

Aged Resident Dies

Late Miss Amellia Combie

The death of Miss Amellia Combie occurred at the home of her nephew, Mr. George Combie, Lachute Mills, on June 9, at the age of 85 years. The late Miss Combie was born in Labrador, coming to Lachute in childhood, and had since made her home here. She is survived by one brother, Jacob Combie, of Lachute Mills, two nieces and three nephews.

The funeral was held Friday from Menard's funeral home to St. Simeon's Anglican Church, of which the deceased was a member; the service was conducted by the Rev. C. R. Lang. Her favorite hymns were sung — "For ever with the Lord" and "Jesus, keep me near the cross".

The pall-bearers were—Messrs. Andrew Falconer, Fred Stein, Andrew Neill and Jacob Combie. Interment was made in Lachute Cemetery.

Sidewalks

A progress report on the construction of sidewalks was before the meeting, and it was noted that the work was proceeding satisfactorily. Councillor Denault introduced the matter of house-owners making their own sidewalks. There were two applications before the meeting from people on the opposite side of the road to the present project, and as it might be some time before the council undertook to do the work on that side, Councillor Denault pressed to have permission granted to those people. Councillor Lafleur saw no reason why house owners could not build their own, provided the work was done to the satisfaction of the council. Councillor Denault moved that this be agreed to, provided it was not made a precedent for future applications.

Councillor Somers moved a direct negative, stating that the contractor when taking on the work of making sidewalks submitted an over-all price. There were instances where he had to do considerable filling before the groundwork was ready to receive the concrete; in such instances he suffered a loss, but in other places he was compensated somewhat by not having to expend so much time and material. It would not be just or right, to allow some persons now to pick and choose which ones they would do. Councillor Pariseau seconded, and added that it was invariably found that one man could make a good job of the work while his neighbor adopted a poor standard and worse finish. The council would have to take over the two jobs and suffer heavy repairs on the poor work.

The council decided that, the time limit having passed on the permission to build sidewalks by home-owners, all further work must be executed by the council.

Mr. L. C. Thompson, acting for C-I-L, requested the council to take over the light on Greenwood Ave., which had been maintained by the company since the road was given over to the council some time ago. This was agreed to.

Dr. L. Turcotte, county health officer, wrote to inform the council he had communicated with the several people not yet connected to the water main and the sanitary disposal system (who, he had informed the council on a previous occasion, were in need of such conveniences), and he would insist that these delinquents get connected.

The Canadian Legion, Brownsburg branch, wrote to thank the council for a contribution towards the hockey rink.

Mayor Donaldson informed the meeting that he had called at Provincial Police Headquarters in the matter of obtaining a suitable police chief, and he expected that in the near future a very satisfactory man would be available. At the present time, strike action in the province left very few officers available for outside work.

The intake dam on the water system was under discussion, and Councillor Somers was of the opinion that the water was not low enough yet to make a reliable survey. By next meeting it was expected that the survey could be before the council.

Announce Closing-Dates, Ottawa Exhib'n Entries

In Ottawa during the week from August 22 to 27, some $35,000 will be distributed in prizes at the Central Canada Exhibition Association's 56th annual show, to be held at the familiar Lansdowne Park stamping grounds.

The Exhibition, in large measure is designed to bring town and country folk together in friendly mingling, wherein they may look with pride upon a reflection of their daily achievements.

The man who, more than any other, IS the Central Canada Exhibition, Manager H. H. "Herb" McElroy, wants this year's show to be the most successful yet. He is confident that this success will be achieved but realizes full well that, as the country goes, so goes the Central Canada Exhibition.

Mr. McElroy observes that full note should be taken of the closing dates for entries in the various exhibiting departments of the Central Canada Exhibition, which are duly advertised in this journal.

Interested persons who haven't already received a copy of the Central Canada Exhibition Association prize list which gives full details of the $35,000 to be distributed at the "Ex", may obtain one by writing to Mr. McElroy at Lansdowne Park, Ottawa.

President of Canadian Bankers' Association

Native Son of Nearby Papineau County

J. U. Boyer, newly elected president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, was born on a farm at St. André Avellin, in the neighboring county of Papineau. He started his banking career in 1918, entering the services of the Provincial Bank of Canada direct from school. Today he is general manager and a director of the Bank.

It is almost a tradition in Canadian banking for the top officers of the chartered banks to come up the ladder from junior ranks. Mr. Boyer was no exception. He held various positions in Montreal, Ottawa and Windsor before his appointment in 1930 as manager of the Bank's main office in Montreal. Six years later, in January 1936, he was made general manager and, as such, a member of the Canadian Bankers' Association. He became a vice-president of the Association in November 1945.

Mr. Boyer has always shown a keen interest in social welfare.

In recognition of his devotion to the welfare of his fellow-men Pope Pius XII decorated him with the medal "Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice" in April 1949.

He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade.

Plans for Quebec W.I. Annual Convention

Plans for the 35th annual convention of the Quebec Women's Institutes have been announced. This will take place June 28 - 30 at Macdonald College, and approximately 200 rural women are expected to be in attendance. Routine business will be discussed under the leadership of the provincial president, Mrs. R. Thompson, Abbotsford, and speakers will bring authoritative information on topics connected with Institute work. These will include Mr. J. H. Lavoie, B.A., F.E., L.S.A., director of Horticultural Service, Dept. of Agriculture, Quebec; Mr. F. E. Wolff, Toronto; Dr. H. J. G. Geggie, Wakefield; Miss Ruth M. Low, Assistant Supervisor of English, Protestant Schools, Montreal; Mrs. John O'Neil Gallery, Montreal; and Miss Katherine Winser, Cowansville. Films have been arranged to add variety to the program, and a demonstration, made available through the courtesy of Miss Laura Pepper, chief of the Consumer Section, Marketing Service, Ottawa, will be a highlight on the last day of the convention.

A handicraft exhibit is being held in connection with this event again this year. This will be officially opened Tuesday evening, June 28. Articles made at the handicraft classes, held in the branches under the supervision of the Q.W.I. handicraft technician, Miss May Birch, will be on display at that time, in addition to one article from each branch. This should make a most creditable showing and will reflect the growing interest of the members in these creative arts.

The provincial board is convening Monday evening, June 27, at the same place, and sessions will continue throughout the following day.

Mail Order Course For Naughty Dogs

London (CP) — British doggies are going to school — by mail.

The National Canine Defence League announced it has begun a seven-lesson correspondence course for disobedient dogs. More than 2,500 dog-owners are getting training instructions through the mail.

"It's not our plan to teach dogs to jump through hoops, but we are aiming at a high standard of elementary obedience", said a league official. Lesson No. 1 is teaching the dog to "heel" on the lead and there follow lessons on "heeling" without a lead, turning, sitting, "staying put", coming when called and standing still.

The second lesson is not sent until the dog-owner advises that his dog has passed the first lesson successfully.

Bigger dogs learn easily. An official said Alsatians, Labradors and other large breeds take only between two and three weeks to absorb the first lesson. The smaller breeds take a month or even six weeks. Also, the younger the dog, the quicker it is to learn.

So far, the league said proudly, "we haven't had a failure".

NEW DISCOVERY RETAINS FLAVOR IN FROZEN EGGS

Shells Unbroken by Latest Process; Cooks Turn Out Better Cakes, Mayonnaise

By Warren Rogers Jr.

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—A new discovery may soon be sending Junior to market with instructions to "get the frozen eggs, not the fresh ones."

And chances are Junior and the eggs would have the same birthday. But the eggs frozen in the shell would look and taste fresh and for certain purposes like baking and making mayonnaise would be even better.

The discovery was hit upon by Dr. Socrates Kaloyereas of the Louisiana State University. Dr. Kaloyereas is associate food preservationist at the university's department of agricultural chemistry and biochemistry.

His method, developed during two years of experiments, is the first under which eggs have been successfully frozen in the shell. Before they always broke. This was because the water content turning to ice expanded about 10 per cent and cracked the shell.

When he started, Dr. Kaloyereas explains, he found two chief problems. First, space had to be gained inside the egg for expansion when it froze. Second, the white froze faster and was cracked when the inner yellow turned to ice.

Here's how Dr. Kaloyereas solved the problem:

The egg is placed in a box with a dehydrating agent such as phosphorous pentoxide. The air is pulled out of the box creating a vacuum. Then the egg is frozen in the vacuum at 15 to 20 degrees fahrenheit.

Several things happen to the egg. Primarily, between two and three per cent of its free water is taken out. And the proportion of its bound water clings to the surface of some substance of the egg so that it does not freeze. Thus it does not expand.

Other Changes

A molecular change in the white also comes about. Some of the natural jelly-like portion turns to liquid, which has less volume. This gives more room for expansion.

The freezing rate of the yellow and white reverses so that the yellow freezes first and expands. The white gives way. Then the white freezes and takes up what space is left within the shell.

Anybody who eats one of Dr. Kaloyereas' eggs cannot tell it from the barnyard variety, he says. But his biggest boost, he adds, came from the home economics department at the university.

The department was given a batch of fresh eggs and another of Kaloyereas-frozen ones. Without knowing which was which, the kitchen experts whipped up angel food cakes and mayonnaise. The fresh eggs came out second best.

"The home economists told us", Dr. Kaloyereas says, "that the cake and mayonnaise made from our eggs were better in texture and in taste."

Dr. Kaloyereas was born near Athens, Greece, in 1902. He was graduated from the university there, received his master's degree at the University of California, his doctorate from the University of Saloniks, Greece, and did graduate work at Cambridge in England.

Muskie Season Now Open, Anglers Can Co-operate

Muskie and pike anglers are requested again to co-operate with the biologists — in research work started last year in Quebec which will ultimately culminate in mass restocking of rivers with the prized muskie.

To this end, the man who lands a muskie or a few pike should contact at once the biological bureau of the Quebec Department of Game and Fisheries, and report his catch. (Office in the University of Montreal, phone ATlantic 9085. . All charges are assumed by the office.)

Upon receiving word from the angler, the office will despatch a biologist who will proceed with a few questions pertaining to date, time and exact location of the catch, the tackle and bait used. He will then remove the head and stomach of the fish, which will be stored away for complete analysis next winter. Such data as will be thus accumulated will be broken down into charts, which will provide hatcheries with information sufficient to ensure the successful restocking of muskie. This information will also add to the biological knowledge of bass, which haunts much the same waters as does the muskie, and as bass is very often found in the tomach of pike and muskie.

The field biologist will then indemnify the angler with 25c for each pike examined, and $1 for each muskie — despite the fact that you keep your fish, and that he has practically dressed it for you.

The Quebec Federation of Fish and Game Associations urges all anglers to extend the biological bureau their full co-operation. The muskie season opened June 15, and the catch limit is three muskies per day, or an aggregate of 30 pounds.

Gasoline for Overseas Visitors to Britain

London — Britain's Ministry of Fuel and Power announced that, as from June 1, 1949, special allowances of gasoline coupons for up to 250 miles motoring will be provided for overseas visitors who hold a Commonwealth or foreign passport and who, during their stay, borrow a private motor vehicle (free of charge) or purchase one second-hand. The overseas visitor must have entered the United Kingdom not more than six months before the date on which application is made. Only one allowance under this scheme will be issued to a visitor in respect of any one stay in Britain or during any period of six months.

During 1948, the Dominion Department of Agriculture approved the registration of 789 pesticides, and an equal number had been received and were under consideration.

PROPHETIC JUDGE

Montreal (CP)—Recorder Leonce Plante must be a good prophet — or a good judge of character. Giving suspended sentence for drunkenness to an offender in court here recently, Mr. Plante told the man, "I'll see you tomorrow". Sure enough, next day the man was in court, on the same charge. He was fined $40 or two months in jail.

THIS CAN BE THE DAWN OF OUR GREATEST DAY!

Canadians have never willingly elected to power a government which has failed to remain faithful to the democratic principle of free enterprise.

By their insistence on retaining emergency powers granted for war only, the Liberals have confused and frustrated every branch of our economy by a mass of ever-changing orders and regulations. Canada's future, your own future and the future of your children hang in the balance. On June 27th, vote for the Progressive Conservative Party which will insist on government being the servant of the people—not the master!

HIGHLIGHTS OF PLATFORM

TAX REFORMS
Income tax exemptions will be raised to $1,250 for single persons and to $2,500 for married people. Allowances for dependent children will be increased by $200. The present heavy sales tax, which cuts the purchasing value of the dollar by more than the tax, will be sharply reduced. All unnecessary nuisance taxes will be abolished.

FARM SECURITY
We will ensure stability of income to farmers by the enactment of permanent floor price legislation. We will incorporate into the Farm Prices Support Act a definite formula for arriving at floor prices, to be set only after consultation with representatives of producers. Floor prices will always be annouced well in advance of the production period.

SMALL BUSINESS
With sky-high taxes owners of small businesses have been left with far too little of their profits to carry out desirable programs of expansion. We will grant exemptions to private business where profits are re-invested in enterprise and expansion. We will also encourage business in general by allowing the Canadian dollar to find its own level.

BETTER SOCIAL SECURITY
We will make available to every Canadian by a "Contributory Social Security Program; Retirement Pensions at 65 without a Means test; sickness and disability benefits; extended un-employment insurance benefits with payment for lost time, due to accidents or sickness.

We Further Pledge

- Family allowances paid at the same level regardless of the number of children.
- Immediate completion of the Trans-Canada highway.
- A free market for gold.
- Government extravagance and increased spending will be cut.
- The development of natural resources to provide jobs for all.

These are but a few of the more important features of the Progressive Conservative Program. For our complete program call your local Progressive Conservative office.

He referred to the intimate contact which this part of the Province of Quebec has had with North China in the person of Dr. Wm. McClure, one of the group of seven men and women who some 59 years ago went out as pioneer missionaries from the Canadian Church.

Customers' — Corner —

How do you like the checkout system in our stores? Have you any suggestions for improving it?

Our trained, efficient checkers make every effort to speed up the checking-out process and spare you any unnecessary delay.

But we admit that devising a checkout system that meets all the needs of all our customers at all times is one of our toughest problems.

We welcome any help you can give us in solving it.

What changes would you make in the checkout stands if you were running your A&P store? Please write:

Customer Relations Department,
A & P Food Stores,
Drawer No. 9,
St. Henri P.O.,
Montreal, Quebec.

If you like to keep track of what you're spending — A & P's system of price-marking will be a great help to you.

Do you add up your grocery bill as you fill your basket? Do you like to feel sure the check-out cashier is tabulating your purchase correctly? We think most of our customers do. That's why A & P employs the system whereby every can, jar and package in the Grocery Department, and every item and package in the Produce and Meat Departments paid for at the check stand, has the price marked on it. This also enables you to check your purchases against your cash register slip after you get home.

WHAT DOES A NEW C-I-L PRODUCT MEAN TO YOU?

Frankly quite a lot. And let us tell you why. BILL RICHARDSON works in the C-I-L Development Laboratory at Brownsburg. There he helped develop a special design for the seismocaps to be used in Canada. Incidentally, seismocaps are needed to determine the rock structure of oilfields . . . and Bill is seen testing one here in the lab. This new product is made by C-I-L in Brownsburg, thus starting a chain of events which lead to plant expansion, more jobs for people in Brownsburg and Lachute, and more pay cheques for both communities. So you see how Bill Richardson's work in the lab and the work of all C-I-L experts brings a wide spread of increased prosperity. C-I-L is continually looking ahead, in the same way it did when work first started on the seismocap. That's what a new C-I-L product means to you.

Fluffy, Cool Desserts

Menus change with the weather. Hot-weather food, while meeting all the standards of good nutrition, must have a suggestion of coolness. This requirement applies particularly to desserts. They must be satisfying yet light and refreshing as a breeze.

Ease of preparation is another important factor in the eyes of the homemaker.

Fortunately nature offers fresh fruit just at the right moment for use alone or with custards, whips and gelatine desserts.

The home economists of the Consumer Section say that an excellent way to stretch a little early-season fruit, so that it will serve more people, is to use it in or serve as a garnish on one of the fluffy cool desserts made with milk and eggs.

Here are several desserts that are not too sweet and are excellent to top off either simple or elaborate meals.

Rhubarb Custard Fluff

1 Teaspoon cornstarch, ¼ cup sugar, 2 cups hot milk, 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 egg whites, ¼ cup sugar, 1½ cups cooked sweetened rhubarb.

Mix cornstarch and sugar and add slowly to heated milk in top of double boiler. Cook 3 minutes or until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Pour mixture over well-beaten egg yolk. Return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, set in pan in cold water and beat with egg beater until light and fluffy. Add vanilla and chill. Beat egg whites until stiff, add ¼ cup sugar, beat until meringue will hold in peaks, then fold lightly into chilled custard. Alternate custard and rhubarb in fartait plasses and serve at once. Yield: six servings.

Strawberry and Banana Sponge

1 Cup halved strawberries, ⅔ cup sugar, 1½ tablespoons gelatine, 3 tablespoons cold water, 1 cup boiling water, 3 tablespoons lemon juice (1 lemon), ⅓ cup mashed banana (1 banana), 2 egg whites.

Sprinkle sugar on berries and let stand until sugar is dissolved. Soak gelatine in cold water. Dissolve in boiling water and add lemon juice. Chill. When partially set add stiffly beaten egg whites and banana. Fold in berries, turn into 6 lightly oiled or moistened moulds. Chill. Serve with whipped cream or custard sauce. Yield: six servings.

Molasses Lemon Pudding

4 Tablespoons cornstarch (or 6 tablespoons flour), 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅓ cup cold water, ½ cup molasses, 1½ cups boiling water, 2 egg yolks, 2 tablespoons butter, juice and rind of one lemon, 2 egg whites.

Combine cornstarch, sugar and salt with cold water. Stir until smooth. Add boiling water and molasses. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add beaten egg yolks, butter, lemon juice and rind. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Chill. Yield: six servings.

Many Friends Attend Wedding Ceremony at Lachute Baptist Church

Bigelow - Boyd

The marriage of Muriel Beatrice, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William John Boyd, of Louisa, Que., to Mr. Gordon George Bigelow, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bigelow, of Dalesville, Que., was solemnized in the Lachute Baptist Church last Saturday at four o'clock, in the presence of a large gathering. The Rev. W. H. Britton officiated, assisted by the Rev. W. S. Whitcombe of Toronto. Mrs. Helen Hardie, of Thurso, played the wedding music and sang during the signing of the register. A variety of June flowers were used to decorate the church.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Alex Sutton, of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, wore a long-sleeved gown of blush satin having a fitted bodice and full skirt with Alacone lace yoke. The sleeves, coming to points over the hands, were trimmed with lace, and with tiny satin bows on the sleeves and yoke. Her blush pink three-quarter length veil was held in place by lily-of-the-valley. She carried a white Bible trimmed with pink roses having streamers of white ribbon and rose buds.

Miss Isobel Boyd, as maid-of-honor, wore a frock of moire blue taffeta with puffed sleeves and long matching mittens. Her fitted bodice was trimmed with a row of tiny matching bows. Her fingertip veil was held in place by sweet peas, and she carried a large nosegay of sweet peas.

Two nieces of the bride acted as flower girls — little Miss Joyce Boyd, of Kingston, in pink moire taffeta with a yoke of white eyelet embroidery and pale blue velvet ribbon streamers, and matching headband trimmed with sweet peas; and Miss Iris Boyd, of Sudbury, dressed in yellow brocaded taffeta with yoke of white eyelet embroidery, and pale yellow velvet streamers and matching headband trimmed with sweet peas. They each carried a small nosegay of sweet peas.

Mr. Earl Sutton, of Sault Ste. Marie, was best man. Ushers were Mr. George Clarke, of Verdun, Que., and Mr. Gerald Boyd, of Kingston, Ont.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at McArthur's Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow left on a short wedding trip. They will live in Hamilton, Ont.

Out-of-town guests were from Toronto, Sudbury, Kingston, Montreal, Calumet, Thurso, Ottawa, Gaspé, Mascavide, and from the State of Michigan.

Thirsty Britons Like Apple Juice

Wisbeck, Eng. (CP) — The way Britons are taking to apple juice, it soon will be as much a part of the natural diet as tea and milk, says Francis Smith, head man of the Apple Juice Producers Association.

Britons drank 433,000 gallons last year. Ten years ago the figure was 45,000 gallons. At present about 3,000 tons, or 10 per cent, of Britain's apple crop goes into juice. It gives growers an outlet for second-grade fruit.

Growers estimate that when the market returns to normal and Canadian and American apples are back in full competition with the British product, up to 60,000 tons of below-par domestic apples will be available for juice making.

Lachute Golf Club Special Commentary

Hats off to Paul Osidak, Lachute Golf Club's assistant pro, who topped the field at Meadowbrook last Monday in the Montreal and District Assistant Professionals' Tournament. Paul did it the hard way, going out on the softer first nine in 41 and then taking the tough second half in regulation figures at 35.

Paul started playing golf while caddying at Islesmere as a young man of 10 years, and was one time caddy for the noted Ed Furgol. As a seasoned veteran of 20, Paul came to us this spring from Laval-sur-le-Lac.

While looking over the field of skilled hitters, let's not forget some of our noteworthy amateurs. . . We give you Ossie Carriere, whose Pinehurst pilgrimage seems to have paid him large dividends. Thirty-six's and thirty-seven's are all in the order of Ossie's day — and he will match you cards if you don't watch out.

And then there's Jack Reade, the buxom basher from Beaconsfield and Brownsburg. Jack was in there bashing them out with the Stork Club on Sunday and tied the field for low gross with one of his not-unusual 76's. We regret to report that two other of our promising young amateurs got slightly smeared — with paint — in this same tournament.

LACHUTE SPRING FAIR IN REVIEW -- A STORY OF CO-OPERATION REPAID IN SUCCESSFUL OUTCOME

Credit to Directors and Management

Favored with fine weather beyond expectations (Lachute Fair is usually attended by one day of rain), the annual exhibition here last week was held on four of the brightest and warmest days of the season thus far. In spite of the oppressive heat, all details of the program were fulfilled with one exception, namely, the Saturday livestock parade. The final count of livestock exhibitors was 179, an all-time high record.

The heavy list of dairy entries, particularly Ayrshires, was reflected also in a keener interest around the cattle ring. It has been aptly suggested by one observer that the spectator-stands, already enlarged this year, need to be extended for greater accommodation of the public, and to be suitably covered with a roof as protection against heat, glare and possible rain.

The public attendance ran high, although there are varying opinions as to its comparison with last year's figures. As usual, Friday was the big day, and it is reliably estimated there were 15,000 people on the grounds when the attendance reached its peak.

A group of disabled veterans from military hospitals in Montreal, were brought to the Fair by chartered autobus. They were accorded good accommodation in the grandstand and a warm brand of hospitality from the officials. There were about 30 men in the party.

Improvements On Trial

The improvements to the grounds this spring were put to a practical test. The new exit gate certainly relieved congestion at the main entrance. The exit lane, however, appears to have access from other directions, and cars were seen approaching by this road in disregard of the one-way traffic signs. The newly acquired acreage at the main gate also definitely eased the parking, especially as regards the livestock trucks and conveyances; but still more important, it provided needed space for machinery and heavy exhibits, which would otherwise have set an embarrassing problem in demand for space this year. . . This new land, however, definitely requires much further attention; efforts are needed to embody it as an integral part of the commercial and show area, for at present it appears isolated, especially to those unfamiliar with the changes.

Supervision of the grounds and traffic regulation were again capably handled by a group of uniformed Imperial Frontiersmen, in charge of Lt.Col. Ernest Emmett.

The midway appeared well conducted, and with exception of one reported mishap and casualty on the merry-go-round, everything met with the requirements of law, order and security.

Community and Trade Shows

In the main building the three projects of outstanding community interest — the Women's Institute and Cercle des Fermières displays, and the Anti-Tuberculosis free X-ray clinic — were very well supported. It needed Jean Lalande to give them an occasional boost over the public address system, however — from which it might be profitably observed that a few well-placed and striking signboards would serve a good purpose in visual advertising.

The W.I. display of handicrafts, flowers and cookery was augmented by needlecraft and woodwork produced by the school pupils; for these the Brownsburg Rotary Club furnished cash awards as an incentive to competition. Also included with this layout in the upstairs of the building was a creditable array of woven fabrics and garments made on a homecraft loom by Miss Piché, of East Settlement.

The main building also held a display of Everlast plastic dishes. Mrs. D. D. Mitchell and Mrs. I. Jamison had charge of this showing, on behalf of D. D. Mitchell Reg. It was interesting to see other local ladies — Miss Janet McOuat, Mrs. Norma Rogers and Mrs. R. McOuat, demonstrating in the interests of Ogilvie Flour Mills and Farmers Supply Co., in the outdoor booths.

The lunch-room and dining-room arrangements, the latter operated in cafeteria style, met with general approval of the public. John Maitland, of Brownsburg, had charge of this concession. The Trinity Church (Calumet) W.A. also operated a refreshment stand, and although somewhat off the beaten track, they did a substantial business. (A quick review of the trade displays is given on page 2 of this issue.)

The Dodge automobile and runner-up prizes in the annual Lions Club drawing, were a centre of interest and activity. Both Lions and Legion members worked hard to promote sales until the critical hour Saturday afternoon, when the lucky tickets were drawn.

Heat Oppressive

The extreme heat during Fair Week was a trial to the crowds of humanity who worked and spectated on the grounds. It was a still greater strain upon the animals, however, especially the sheep. It was reported that Slack Bros., of Waterloo, Ont., lost five sheep in transit to the show. Cecil Acres lost a boar, and Gilbert E. Arnold lost a prize-winning colt, for which there had been no stable accommodation and the animal suffered fatal exposure to the heat outdoors.

On account of the hot weather, also, the parade of all livestock — a big Saturday afternoon feature — was not held this year.

Horse Show

The Horse Srow was an item of unfailing interest, and the grandstand held capacity crowds during the evening program. Jean Lalande as announcer, and Gavin Walker as ringmaster, kept things running smoothly. The public, the riders, exhibitors and all hands concerned, were well informed on the classes and general proceedings.

The display of Tennessee horses by Gordon R. Smith was an interesting sight. These animals move with a characteristic gait, as trained to the need of plantation overseers. A saddle class which also attracted attention was the local Western rider class, which numbered about 12 entries.

Poultry and Rabbits

Main exhibitors in cattle, horses, sheep and swine are mentioned elsewhere in these pages. Space this week does not permit lengthy reference to the poultry and rabbits. It seemed to the onlooker, however, that this department of the show revealed a remarkably high quality and quantity of exhibits. The poultry barn was well patronized; the display drew considerable interest and provoked admiring comments.

Kiwanis Prizes

The Kiwanis Club of Montreal was represented by Past-President Geo. S. Cowie and other officials to present prizes in the junior calf judging on Saturday. Winners were—1st Beulah Purdy (trophy), 2nd Kenneth McOuat, 3rd Allan Graham, 4th Earl Graham. (Detailed results, page 6.)

Mr. Cowie also presented three cash prizes to winners in the Grade Agricultural Horses — 1st T. A. Wilson, Cannington; 2nd Campbell & Young, Bristol; 3rd M. and D. Smith, Lachute.

Formidable Task

There were over 260 animals entered in the Ayrshire classes. The unprecedented number of calves and dairy cattle assembled in the smaller show-ring for various contests, gave indications that the judges had no mean task this year. Due credit should therefore be accorded to the gentlemen who passed on the merits of the various breeds of livestock.

TO CITIZENS' ADVANTAGE

Looked on with an open mind, one cannot help but admit that B.C.'s hospitalization scheme is a good thing in principle and, if carried out justly, it can do inestimable good to all citizens.

— Port Alberni (B.C.) Advocate

Correction

The Watchman is informed (by one better acquainted with the team and exhibitor) that the six-horse outfit pictured on the front page of last week's issue was credited to the wrong owner. This fine Clydesdale turnout, we are told, belonged to Campbell & Young, of Bristol, Que., and not to T. A. Wilson Lumber Co., of Cannington, Ont., who exhibited the only other six-horse team at Lachute Fair.

Child Drowned At St. Andrews

Little Brian Harrison, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Harrison, of Muskegon, Mich., and grandson of Mr. George Simpson, was drowned last Thursday evening at the latter's home on the North River at St. Andrews East.

It is learned that the mother had been in the company of her two boys on the shore and around the premises. Suddenly missing the presence of her elder son, she called him but received no answer. Hurrying to the river's edge she there found his discarded life-jacket, and immediately instituted a search. Several good swimmers from the neighboring homes dove repeatedly into the river, and finally the body was recovered in about 15 feet of water by J. Paquette, a local resident; the victim had then been under water for more than an hour. . . Dr. A. L'Allier of St. Andrews Village had meanwhile been summoned. Dr. F. W. FitzGerald also arrived from Lachute and an inhalator squad, Geo. Y. Deacon, Chas. L. Duncan, Geo. W. Deacon and Colin McOuat. With the use of this equipment artificial respiration was applied for two hours, with no response; thereupon the victim was pronounced dead.

Dr. Jules Lafleur of Lachute, district coroner, conducted an enquiry and gave a verdict of accidental drowning.

The child was taken to his home in the United States for burial. The sympathy of many friends in the St. Andrews community is extended to the parents and relatives in their loss.

Main St. Store Swept by Fire

Around 9 o'clock this morning, the Esquire Shop on Main Street was the scene of a blaze which gutted the premises, completely destroying the stock of men's furnishings and also substantially damaging the building. The fire started in the front of the single-storey frame store, possibly caused by the electric wiring. The proprietor, Paul ("Pep") Parizeau, who resides next door, had not yet opened the premises. He suffered injury to his hand, which was cut by glass when he broke open the rear door.

Employees of North River Motors Ltd., across the street, were the first to notice the blaze, and summoned the fire brigade.

Moseley's Brown Derby Winner of County Race

Chas. Moseley's Brown Derby, driven by A. Rodger, took the honors in the County Race last Thursday — which, for most local turf enthusiasts, is the feature event of the Lachute Fair racing program. The Brownsburg horse came first in three heats (at 2.19¾, 2.19¾ and 2.18¾) to claim top money in the $250 purse.

Second was Miss Senator Volo (E. Kennedy, Brownsburg, owner and driver), arriving sixth, second and second in the three respective heats.

Third was Marc Guy, owned by Paul Joly, of Lachute Mills, and driven by H. Joly; this horse arrived second, sixth and third.

Fourth, fifth and sixth places among the six entries, were taken by — Prince Chips (Ladouceur Bros., St. Andrews); Northern Louise (L. St. Jacques, Lachute); and Private Dale (T. Morin, St. Philippe).

A note of interest here is the triumph of Ernest Kennedy's horse. The despair of previous trainers, this animal was rated a very dubious prospect for the tracks; but with patience and perseverance its new owner, in a very limited training period, groomed his entry into shape and ran a good second among the county contenders.

The three-day racing events were run off without hitch or mishap, with a good representation of entries — from Quebec, St. Lawrence Valley centres in Ontario, Ottawa Valley towns, and New York State. Public interest reached a high pitch, and the horse racing, in capable charge of Jas. MacKimmie, was altogether a successful phase of the Fair proceedings.

Newspapermen have to be tolerant. The editor of a famous U.S.A. publication has just had a Peruvian fish named in his honor.

Windstorm Causes Power Break Lasting 17 Hours

In a brief electric storm around 2 p.m. on Wednesday, a fierce wind left in its wake a scene comparable to the havoc of a hurricane. Part of an ancient elm tree at the intersection of Robert St. and Main St. West, toppled onto the high-tension power lines, snapping poles right and left on Main, Robert and Mary Streets. Some of the poles carried 26,000 and 2,200 volt cables, and the section became a maze of tangled wires and splintered poles.

Gatineau Power Co. line crews both from this town and from St. Jerome, tackled the formidable job of replacing poles and restoring the power system. The linemen worked all through the night making the repairs. The circuits were not re-established until 7.15 o'clock Thursday morning. Lachute centre and east wards, and other areas, had meanwhile been without electric power for over 17 hours.

Industries experienced a serious tie-up as a result of this mishap, and a number of establishments depending on heat and refrigeration, including bakeries, dairies and others, suffered a considerable loss.

Lions Drawing At Fair Grounds

WINNER GETS NEWS IN ACT OF SHAVING

A Brownsburg man, J. L. Gagné, was holder of the lucky ticket (737) which won the Dodge De-Luxe car last Saturday at the Fair Grounds. . . The drawing, made by the County Warden, A. Gaston Munich, Mayor of Weir, was the climax of the Lions Club's annual effort, which creates high interest in Lachute and district.

Mr. Gagné was not present at the grounds. His wife was there however. Mr. Gagné, incidentally, was in the course of shaving when informed by telephone of his good fortune. He hurriedly applied a towel, and with his face part-shaven, came down to Lachute to take possession of the prize.

Other winners were — Mme Leopold Gagné, Notre Dame de la Paix, Papineau Co., (9929), electric stove. . . G. Guy Larocque, St. Lambert, formerly of Lachute (556), washing machine. . Clifford Kirkpatrick, Morin Heights (769), bicycle.

Total cash receipts in this Lions-Legion dual sales campaign were $6,505.55; this amount is $247.46 lower than last year.

Of the net proceeds of $4,153.83, two-thirds was donated to Lachute Legion for the memorial building fund, and the remainder retained by the Lions for their charitable work.

At the Lions Club meeting Tuesday evening Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, acting chairman, presented a cheque of $2,769.22 to the Legion president, Comrade Roger D'Aoust, and fitting appreciation was expressed to the club.

The members of both organizations extend thanks to the public for their generous support, and to all who contributed to the success of this effort.

Improvements to Railway Property

Collaborating for the improvement of properties adjacent to the railway station here — on a suggestion respectfully submitted by the Lachute Chambre de Commerce — the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has made a good start in this somewhat formidable task. The freight yard has been notably improved by the clearing of a weed-patch and filling of a ditch along Foundry Street from the Bethany corner. This area has been levelled and turfed, now presenting a more pleasant spectacle both from the highway and the railway — and it is from these points of access that most visitors receive their first impression of Lachute.

The railway company is to be commended upon this effort and other recent improvements to the station platform and yard, and the Chambre de Commerce hopes for a continuance of this work in the general interests.

The airlift in Germany has given Britain and the U.S.A. advantageous experience applicable to the supply of airborne armies.

B'burg Accident At Intersection

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — A serious accident occurred at a corner of Maple Ave. and Mountain St. on Wednesday afternoon. A heavily loaded truck belonging to Lionel Lafleur ploughed into an old Ford driven by George Golden which was crossing in front. The truck took the car right off the road and tossed it clear of the roadway onto the adjoining property, which is on an elevation several feet higher, and wedged it in behind an electric light standard, a battered, broken hulk. The truck itself suffered considerably. A terraced frontage combined with stone, and a municipal hydrant were uprooted and damaged. George Golden was severely shaken and suffered cuts about the face and head. The truck driver escaped uninjured.

Processions Held For 'Fête-Dieu'

Thousands of Parishioners Join in Demonstration

The heat wave subsided last Sunday and weather conditions were favorable to the annual Corpus Christi celebration, an important date in the calendar of Roman Catholic devotions. All parishes in the district held suitable observances.

In Lachute, large numbers of the faithful in both parishes, Ste. Anastasie and St. Julien, took part in the eucharistic processions. In Ste. Anastasie following the 10 a.m. mass, with Rev. Bérard, c.s.v., carrying the Sacred Host, the long procession included all organizations within the parish — male, female and juvenile. They proceeded over a route specially decorated with flags and evergreens, to a repository erected outside the home of Joseph Ethier, Grace Street East, where the benediction of the blessed sacrament was given.

In St. Julien parish, Lachute Mills, a similar observance was held Sunday evening, with the curé, Rev. Fr. Adrien Giard, officiating. The scene of the processional rites was the Providence Hospital, where a beautiful repository had been arranged for this religious occasion.

Construction Work Is Commenced on Route 31

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg —

At last, a start is being made on Route 31. The contractors moved in this week and started to cut through the first leg of the route to St. Jovite. Progress on this highway will necessarily be slow. It is doubtful if the full benefit of the operations now starting will be felt in their entirety for the next three years. It is an immense job to turn this "rut through the woods" into a decent road, and many obstacles stand in the way before the project is completed. Now that a start has been made, we can rest assured that it will be pushed ahead with vigor.

Prog. Cons. Chief, Col. George Drew And Mrs. Drew, Received Popular Acclaim at Auditorium Rally Here

At the Lachute Auditorium, filled to its utmost, Col. and Mrs. George Drew received an enthusiastic welcome Wednesday afternoon from representatives of all parts of the Argenteuil and Deux-Montagnes constituency.

Seated on the platform with the guests of honor were — Mayor and Mrs. Léopold Carrière, Mr. and Mrs. G. Héon, W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., and Mrs. Cottingham, Hon. Paul Sauvé, together with many county mayors and their ladies. Joint chairmen, were O. Brunet, Mayor of St. Benoit, and A. G. Munich, Warden of Argenteuil County.

A cordial welcome was extended by Mayor Carrière, who referred to the splendid example of unity set by this county, which also had representatives in both provincial and federal parliaments who were bi-lingual. He expressed appreciation of the honor afforded him on this occasion and also re-affirmed his loyal support of the Progressive-Conservative party.

Bouquets were presented to Mrs. Drew, by Miss Jean Faubert, of the Bar-X Hotel, Stonefield, and by Miss Dawson, of Lachute. Miss Louise Cyr and Miss Rhéaume, of Lachute, presented boutonnieres to Messrs. Drew and Héon.

The Hon. Paul Sauvé briefly paid tribute to the grace and charm of Mrs. Drew; she and her husband, he affirmed, had endeared themselves to the people of Quebec.

Col. Drew was the next speaker and it was some minutes before the applause subsided and he was able to address the audience. Expressing his appreciation of such a friendly welcome, he paid tribute to the work done by the local candidate, Georges H. Héon, K.C., both locally and provincially in building up the organization, and was sure that on Monday next he would be elected with a large majority. . . As for himself, Mr. Drew was surprised at any suggestion that he should hesitate to come to Quebec, and that any might wonder why Ontario and Quebec should now be working so closely together. They had, he said, been in close co-operation for years past and he thought the nation could be made much stronger by close co-operation between the provinces. At the moment, he said, it appears as though the Government cannot work with either Ontario or Quebec.

Mr. Drew criticized the Government's high taxation program. He expressed pleasure at seeing so many mayors present. "These are men", he stated, "who know the problems of the everyday citizen, and we have them among our many candidates across Canada". Taxes should be arranged that they will not fall so heavily upon the home owner. The constitution, he said, should be respected, the laws carried out, and municipalities empowered to levy their own taxes. He denounced the "bureaucrats", who, he stated, were only "theorists working out ideas for our people. . . It is time we got back to real democracy. Let us pay what we rightfully have to, and be free to do as we please with the rest."

Mr. Drew repudiated accusations made against him relative to Family Allowances, and termed them untrue. He was, he stated definitely, in favor of Old Age Pensions at age 65, Social Security and Family Allowances.

In closing, Col. Drew again thanked the gathering and urged "all who want a return to responsible government" to get out on Monday next to vote and work for Georges H. Héon.

Speaking also in the French tongue, Mr. Drew was loudly applauded.

Mrs. Drew also addressed the gathering in French, and received a cordial ovation, which ended in the singing of "Vive les Canadiens". She appealed to the ladies to put forth every effort, reminding those who were indifferent as to voting, of the wonderful opportunities and privileges which were ours to enjoy in this great Canada of ours.

Mr. Héon, in a few words closed the gathering by thanking Mr. and Mrs. Drew for their visit, and stating that Argenteuil-Deux Montagnes would be among the first counties to be visited by the new prime minister, Col. Drew, after his election.

Meeting Held by Union des Electeurs

Louis Even, promoter of the Social Credit movement in this province and in French-Canada, was speaker at a well attended meeting of the Union des Electeurs last Sunday at the Clairoux hall. The speaker, who visited Lachute on behalf of the candidate in this constituency (J. Orphir Desjardins) is director of the Institut d'Action Politique and editor of the journal "Vers Demain".

J. A. M. Clairoux was chairman of the gathering. Mr. Even elaborated on the policy of the Union des Electeurs party and explained the principles of Social Credit. Mr. Desjardins addressed the meeting and solicited the public support at the polls in the coming election.

Corpus Christi

There was a very large procession marking the Corpus Christi ceremonies at the St. Louis de France parish on Sunday. The route was lined with flowers and evergreens, and altars set up along the way. The various religious societies in their uniforms marched at the head of the procession.

Lady Luck

For a long time it was remarked in Brownsburg that, in the numerous raffles, sweeps, and draws taking place in the vicinity, Lady Luck turned her head when the local ticket holders sought her favor. Well, this week her smiles flashed in our direction when she bestowed two cars and three other prizes to Brownsburg residents. If the luck of the Irish would only prevail during the next Hospitals draw . . !

Lake Louisa

The road to the lake has been in rather bad condition for some time, and that's putting it mildly. Efforts have been made to get something done to improve it, but always without success. This week Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., got busy on the matter and sent a number of road machines and men over the road to have the corners cut and the bed improved. Mr. Jas. Donaldson is acting as overseer, and we have no doubt a good job will be done.

Storm Damage

A strong windstorm accompanied by heavy rain and hail caused quite a lot of damage in the district on Wednesday evening. Several trees were thrown down, and vegetable plants were laid flat. The damage to gardens was considerable and driveways were washed out.

Girls at Wellesley College, Mass., are asked to keep off the grass by a sign reading: "Give the gay young blades a chance."

Road Machine Snaps Telephone Pole

A ponderous road-building machine en route from Montreal to Ottawa, while navigating the corner at Bethany and Main Streets with some difficulty, came in contact with the sidewalk and lurched against the telephone pole near J. W. Lefebvre Ltd., at the corner of Main and Meikle. The mishap occurred last Friday afternoon. The pole was snapped in three places, and the butt came to rest against an iron railing; it might otherwise have shattered the plate-glass store window. The pole was strung with numerous phone lines and cables, but fortunately none of the wires was snapped. The pole was secured with rope until a Bell Telephone crew replaced it on Monday.

Ladies Entertained At Vacation Spot

Members of the United Church W.M.S. spent an enjoyable afternoon on Tuesday at Nymark's Lodge, St. Sauveur, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Nymark. About 45 ladies took advantage of the invitation, and were hospitably received by their hosts. After a tour of the lodge, which is spacious and tastefully finished, and which has a swimming pool and ski facilities, the party were served tea in the dining room. . . Mrs. F. S. McGibbon expressed appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Nymark for their kind hospitality.

Thomas Mann recently described democracy as the "political expression of Christianity".

Gatineau LINES

Trees

Everybody is glad, these late June days, to see the trees out in full greenery again after the long winter months of bareness. Power companies are glad to see the trees in leaf again too — but their general approval has certain limitations too.

Trees are always a bit of a problem to power companies. In the winter they are inclined to snap off in storms and fall across power lines. In summer, their leafy foliage is likely to sweep down over the lines and — occasionally — cause short circuits.

Power companies spend a lot of money each year, watching the trees growing close to their lines and cutting out branches as they get big enough to threaten the wires. Customers can help improve their own power service by co-operating with the power company in making sure that all branches requiring cutting are cut or reported to the company for action.

The trees may cause circuit trouble in two ways. In bad storms, they may snap off and fall across the wires, pulling the lines to the ground with them and disrupting service until the trouble is fixed. While this is the more spectacular way in which they do damage, it really isn't the most important way. Much more frequent is the trouble caused when wet tree branches "ground" power lines and cause short circuits.

When this happens, wet branches—which are good conductors of electricity—touch the power lines and the power flows down the branch into the ground — or, sometimes, sets fire to the branch. As it is a great deal more difficult to find the source of the trouble when a single branch in heavy foliage may be the culprit than it is when a whole tree has fallen across a line and broken it, the 'wet branch' trouble actually causes power companies more grief and more lost time than the fallen tree.

Power Company customers can help avoid both kinds of trouble by making sure that trees in their locality do not get too close to power lines.

Did You Know?

In an average year, a company such as Gatineau Power spends thousands of dollars in locating and cutting out tree branches likely to cause circuit trouble, and in remedying power interruptions caused by trees. —

A MILLION DOLLARS WORTH PLEASE, MR. MCFAUL!

We would hate to try to work out the number of bills IRA MCFAUL has added up since he started his store in 1903. He's been serving plant personnel ever since — in the same helpful, cheerful manner. And there's a special smile for LILLIAN TESSIER who has come to do her weekly shopping at Ira's store. Lillian formerly worked with C-I-L and when her husband (he works with C-I-L) gets his pay, off they go to do the shopping. C-I-L's wage list for Brownsburg amounts to well over one million dollars a year and a lot of that goes in the form of grocers' bills. Yes, we could buy a lot of groceries with a million dollars. But, of course, there are other things to buy too and C-I-L pay goes in goods and services of every description — to people of every description and trade — to the Citizens of Lachute and Brownsburg!

Swim, But Be Careful

HAVE YOU ever found yourself being pulled under a body of water, gasping for that one precious gulp of fresh air — finally getting your reprieve. Very often, people aren't that lucky.

It's not very pleasant, this business of drowning — certainly not for yourself, your family or your circle of friends. But according to figures recently released by the Red Cross, the province of Quebec holds the unenviable record of being at the top of the list per capita for deaths by drowning.

It isn't necessary to quote figures here. Figures are a matter of secondary importance when you stop to think for a moment and realize that a large portion of deaths directly attributed to drowning could have been avoided.

Unless human nature develops a sudden reversal of form, a good number of the "wise guys" and fellows who just love to show the girl friend a few tricks in the water, aren't going to be around any more after the summer season. Others who go into the water while overheated will be courting the Grim Reaper, while the other school of swimmers — those who enter the water immediately after eating — also will add to the mounting toll of drowning fatalities.

The Duty to Vote

BECAUSE there are no outstanding controversial issues in the current election, there are many good voters who throw up their hands in general scorn of the "status quo" (the mess we're in) — in despair with the major parties and with their candidates. This trait is apparent even in our own constituency, or at least that part of it (Argenteuil County) with which we are more intimately acquainted. We find many who can voice no word of approval for either of the major parties or their representatives. Worse still, they propound their distaste for modern politics, and would have no part in further debasing administrative morals and ethics. . . And if these people are sincere in their opinions, there will be quite a few of otherwise good citizens who deliberately fail to vote.

Figuratively, these neighbors of ours throw up their hands. On this page appears a letter to a contemporary newspaper, depicting the writer "sitting with folded hands". The posture is but a figure of speech; the mental attitude is the same. Nor is it an attitude of indifference; such persons appear to be earnestly seeking the basis for a fighting opinion.

To these we can only reiterate the fact that democracy works with the participation of all citizens. It should not require a crisis, a conscription issue, a momentous national decision, to merit the views of our best thinking citizenry. Because the details of office and administration are not performed exactly to their liking, their aloofness can certainly achieve nothing towards improvement. Their abstention from the privilege of the ballot can do nothing but encourage the unscrupulous and self-seeking — their negative acquiescence is a mark in support of the more sensational campaigners, who can readily command the votes.

It is therefore the duty of all eligible electors to weigh the merits of each party, and the qualities of each candidate, and to make their vote a constructive contribution to our way of life.

"THE AVERAGE person loves dogs. But nobody, especially those who spend time cultivating front lawns and back gardens, cares to see dogs of doubtful ancestry roaming all over the premises", remarks the Elmwood (Man.) Herald.

A Great Province

Several years ago geologists estimated the province had enough oil to supply the world for centuries at the rate of consumption then in effect. However, since then the rich Leduc and Redwater fields have been found in addition to many less spectacular oil-producing areas.

This emphasis on oil has overshadowed in the public mind the diversity and abundance of Alberta's assets for building a great and prosperous community. Coal, natural gas and a fertile soil — all available in tremendous quantities — are only some of the assets.

In addition to cattle and hogs, the southwestern corner of the province has extensive irrigated areas which produce specialized yields of sugar beets, peas and beans as well as the usual grains.

An almost incredible amount of coal is present. Coal outcroppings occur in almost every part of the province and there are all types. There are occasional pockets of anthracite but not in commercial quantities. Cheap natural gas allows enticing openings for industrial development.

Alberta is called a prairie province but more than three-quarters of the province is covered with trees, much of the growth being of marketable size.

In addition to all these riches, Alberta is the gateway to Alaska, the Yukon and the Northwest Territories. It is a key point in proposed international air routes.

Some industrial leaders and economists have predicted that the province has the greatest future of any part of Canada.

At present agriculture is Alberta's primary industry but it is conceivable that some day, manufacturing, now only in its infancy, may outstrip in annual value even oil production as well as grain and cattle.

"May I Interrupt?"

"MORE THAN 90% of radio commercials and 50% of radio programing is sheer waste", Horace Schwerin, radio research head, told a Chicago audience. That conclusion (asserts The Financial Post) may come as a surprise to those who foot the bills, but not to the long-suffering public.

No person in his right mind would expect a concert audience to put up with a performance studded every few minutes with somebody's soap, patent medicine, motor fuel, or what-have-you. Even a free concert in the park wouldn't attract many people under those conditions. Yet when it comes to radio, many sponsors seem to think that this sort of thing is actually appreciated. It's too bad they couldn't see the faces of the listeners when the music fades and the loud voice cuts in with "May I interrupt the program to say a few words about . . . "

"IT IS INDEED time that the complicated and mysterious laws which govern this widespread and popular project, the raffle, were pulled into the open and streamlined into just and common-sense rulings which could be enforced without embarrassment to everyone concerned", states The Pas (Man.) Northern Mail.

THE SUBLIME and the ridiculous are often so nearly related, that it is difficult to class them separately. One step above the sublime makes the ridiculous; and one step above the ridiculous makes the sublime again. — Thomas Paine

"With Folded Hands"

(Ottawa Farm Journal)

We have a letter, unsigned but clearly genuine, from a man who says he does not intend to vote in the general election: that on June 27 he will be "sitting with folded hands" because he is quite unable to decide "which of the parties is the lesser evil".

What our correspondent is saying, in effect, is that he refuses to do his duty as a citizen of Canada. He declines to accept any share of responsibility for the government we shall have in the next four or five years. He must continue to pay taxes and obey the laws, but he says weakly that it is quite beyond his capacity to choose from among the national parties one for which he would mark a ballot.

This seems to us a rather shocking admission — such refusal to make a decision, if it were widespread, would make responsible government impossible. We suggest to our correspondent that he review his position — and accept his responsibility.

77-Year-Old Clergyman, Native of St. Andrews, Studies for Doctorate at Boston University

LOST ONLY TWO DAYS AT CLASS LAST WINTER; GIVES CREDIT TO OATMEAL — AND HIS WIFE

The Concord, New Hampshire, newspaper tells the story of a 77-year-old Boston University student whose penchant for learning found earliest satisfaction right here in Lachute, at the local Academy. He is the Rev. Charles P. MacGregor, a native of St. Andrews East and brother of Norman McGregor, who resides in that village.

Following, in part, is the character sketch of this venerable gentleman, written by Dorothy G. Wayman.

Concord, N.H. — It's probably the oatmeal, says 77-year-old Rev. Charles P. MacGregor, in explanation of source of the Scotch stamina that gets him up at 4 a.m. to take the train to Boston, attend classes at Boston University, reach home at 6.10 p.m., and study to 10.30 p.m.

On Sundays he drives over to Pennacook to preach at the Baptist Church there.

With the Boston University classes finished for the year, and only a thesis left to write for his doctorate in theology, Rev. Mr. MacGregor is going to plant his potatoes, corn, peas and other vegetables at the family farm in New Hampton.

"It was my wife Sarah who started me going to Boston University" says Mr. MacGregor. "I had a little program of reading every morning something in French, in Latin, in Greek and in Hebrew. She suggested why not make the education I already had and the time I spent in further study count towards a degree. I thought it a pretty good idea. I have enjoyed the courses at Boston University immensely."

Rev. Mr. MacGregor had enough career to satisfy the average man behind him when he entered Boston University's Summer session a year ago. He was born in St. Andrews, Que., of Highland Scotch parents. His mother was a MacArthur.

"My father was John MacGregor and my oldest brother is Gregor Alexander MacGregor. For seven centuries in our family, the eldest son in one generation is named John and his son must be named Gregor, and Gregor's son is John again" explained Rev. Mr. MacGregor.

"Maybe it's the oatmeal, but we are a long-lived family. My father lived to be 89, my mother 85. My oldest brother is in his 89th year now.

"My great-grandfather Daniel MacGregor was the first in America. He came to New York in 1761 as private secretary to Sir William Johnson, the Crown Commissioner for Indian Affairs. When Sir William went to Canada, MacGregor went with him and was placed in charge of military supplies for the British troops."

"New York is the graveyard of clergymen", said Rev. Charles MacGregor in 1909, when he sacrificed a $4,000 pulpit to move to Pittsfield in Massachusetts at $2,500.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

GIVE SIRENS THE RIGHT-OF-WAY

As soon as you hear the warning siren of a fire truck, police car or ambulance, pull over to the curb if you're driving—stay on the sidewalk if you're walking. Your quick action, multiplied by that of your fellow citizens along the route may help save a human life, prevent property damage, or capture a criminal. To aid in this way, may seem a little thing—but it's one of the "little things" that make up "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

77-Year-Old Clergyman

On a clergyman's modest salary, he and his wife raised three children and gave them all college educations.

His son Robert Mercer MacGregor, Harvard '33, now associated in the publishing business in New York, was in China as United Press correspondent through the first of the Sino-Japanese fighting, taught at Reed College in Oregon, spent a year in Mexico as journalist; served in the Army with the artillery, entering action on D-Day in Normandy and coming out of it in Czecho-Slovakia. V-E Day saw him transferred to Stars and Stripes, becoming civilian editor of the sheet Army Talks and editing various publications in the European theatre.

From Pittsfield, Rev. Charles MacGregor was called to the Pennacook Church, which he has served more than a score of years. In 1943, appointed general superintendent of the New Hampshire Council of Religious Education, he tried to resign his pastorate, but the people have never consented to letting him go. He carried both jobs through the war years, and after retirement from the religious education post, took up the studies at Boston University, while continuing the Pennacook pastorate.

Rev. Mr. MacGregor — (just as soon as he gets that thesis written, he will be "Doctor" MacGregor) and Mrs. MacGregor make their home in Concord — commuting by automobile to their farm at New Hampton.

He is in superb health, with keen hearing, eyesight and memory despite 77 years of intensive effort. "I did lose two days of class last Winter when I had a cold" he admits.

The Summer session a year ago, with the 4 a.m. rising bell to catch a 6.10 a.m. train for Boston and not getting back till 6.10 p.m. was a little strenuous, but he didn't really mind, he said.

Boston University professors declare that this oldest student in the history of the university held his own in class with the pick of youthful brains and his grades were comparable to honor roll standing.

...well practically unanimous

YOU CAN still find people who "don't believe in banks"... who keep their cash in old coffee pots, or hide it in the woodpile, or carry it around.

But most folk nowadays keep their money in bank accounts. They can get it whenever they want it; and they can pay their bills by cheque. Canadians have more than seven million such deposit accounts. In terms of Canada's adult population, that makes it practically unanimous.

The banks, in turn, know they must earn this confidence by giving you the best service they know how.

Today you can take your account to any bank you choose. And what is in your bank book is strictly between you and your bank. It is your own private business.

HAVE YOU $10 in U.S. FUNDS?

If you have more than $10 in U.S. cash you should turn it in to your bank, in exchange for Canadian dollars, without delay. Existing regulations make it illegal for any Canadian resident to retain in his possession more than $10 in United States cash.

HERE'S THE REASON

Canada must have the U.S. dollars spent here by tourists in order to make them available for the payment of imported goods and services needed to keep production and employment at a high level.

Don't Scalp the Lawn

Don't clip the garden grass too short. Many people go to endless trouble in the spring fertilizing, top-dressing and rolling their lawn, only to offset much of the good they do at that time, by mowing it too close all through the summer. The shorter the leaves, the more the grass will be exposed to the burning summer sun; the more fertilizer and water will be required; and the easier it will be for weeds to encroach.

The cutting bar of the lawn mower should never be set lower than 1½ or 2 inches from the ground, except with creeping bent grasses, which are seldom used on garden lawns. Mowing should be frequent, so that clippings may be left on the lawn where they form a good source of rich nutriment. If the grass has grown too long, however, the clippings must be raked off, as if they lie on the lawn they tend to smoother the grass roots and cause dead patches to appear.

Watering is valuable during the hot summer months. A good soaking once a week is more use than a light sprinkling every other night. Watering should be continued until the soil is thoroughly moistened to a depth of four inches.

"Sunnyacres Sketches"
— III —
Random Writings on the Rural Scene

By Margaret Cook

Sooner or later, anyone who comes to Sunnyacres is sure to remark that the house seems very old, and follow it by the question, "How old is it?" Goaded to research, I looked up the few deeds I have, and found that the original grant of land was made to one Matthew Strong in the year 1882. The sum involved was thirty-five dollars and fifty cents. This for "one hundred and twenty-eight acres and two roods, the same more or less with the usual allowance for highways".

This seemed conclusive, but somehow it was not. I had always understood that the land had been cleared and the buildings made and lived in by successive generations of one family, named Scott, until 1928. Moreover, the house has the air of being older than sixty years. So I betook myself to one of the two neighbors on whose wisdom I rely when rural affairs puzzle me. (It is purely co-incidental that the two are named respectively Amos 'n Andy!) The former, as I knew he would, cleared up the matter for me. He opined that settlers "squatted" on the land until such time as the Government surveyors arrived. It was then a common occurrence for the settler most blessed with wordly goods to pay all the Government fees, thus becoming the legal owner of all the lands. Actually, the original settler remained on the homestead and bought back the land as soon as he could.

This idea would seem borne out by the second deed, which is dated 1889. The purchase price was now seventy pounds currency, a puzzling reversion to the English monetary system. This deed mentions the "buildings thereon", so the exact age of the house is doubtful.

We took possession in 1943, and still feel like interlopers, especially when our eye falls upon the marks of the pioneer axe on the kitchen beams. Someone EARNED this house with "blood, sweat and tears". Successive generations have lived, loved and died in it. This long tenure is a characteristic of many farms hereabouts. There is much to be said for continuity of possession. To look at a view and be able to reflect that what you see, your father saw, as did your grandfather — that, I feel, must give a person a sense of stability and a kind of "belongingness" that few city dwellers ever experience.

Some of this serenity of spirit seems to have permeated the old house — psychometry is the word for this theory, for everyone who comes comments on the peace of the place. As my brother-in-law remarked, "I haven't been so rested since I was here a year ago".

Just now, in the month of June, the old house is surrounded by narcissi. When we go back to the city, we take ten or twelve dozen, but no one could tell the beds had lost any. The lilies-of-the-valley and the lilacs are adding their perfume to the air, following hard on the apple blossoms.

When the apple blossoms were out, Betty and I made several excursions to the orchard just to stand under the pinky-white canopy and watch and listen to our friends the bees. Their constant humming was a Song of Life. Betty and I were entranced. The bees crawl up Betty's arms, and she has never yet been stung. I, too, find favor in their sight. It is a commonplace for me to sit cutting up crab-apples in the Autumn, with wasps clustering on the cut portions beside me. Donn Byrne writes in his incomparable prose that bees only work at homes where there is happiness. Whether that is true or not, there is something comforting and primeval in their busy buzzing.

As I write, there is a queer bouquet on the table beside me — a few bits of cotton-flower, with its fuzzy white head, a branch of flowering mountain laurel, a bit of pitcher plant, complete with dead flies, and a pure white lady's slipper — quite a rarity in these latitudes.

Along the edge of the little lake on our property, the water shrubs are a-bloom—andromeda and rosemary at the edge; farther in, leather-leaf and Labrador tea, with laurel on the high banks above. Break a leaf of rosemary and a subtle odor is released. In England, rosemary ranks with lavender in the clothes-closet. "Rosemary, that's for remembrance", says Shakespeare. Anyway, it's a lovely name.

The June evenings are best enjoyed indoors, for along with the flowers, burst forth the mosquito and the black fly. Secure behind screens sprayed with DDT, we watch the swallows dipping and wheeling, hear the loon calling to his mate, and sometimes, alas, hear Twinkles (Amos' cat) calling to Haile, whom he erroneously fancies might be his mate. Haile is deceptively soft as to expression and texture, but is actually a bonny scrapper and detests Twinkles and all his ilk.

Before finishing, I must fulfill a promise to a neighbor and tell her (and my other reader) how to make Dutch Biscuits.

First, one makes a rather rich Tea Biscuit dough. Then the dough is rolled out into an oblong about one-half an inch thick. Spread this with softened butter and on top put plenty of soft maple sugar. How much you put depends on your temperament, but it should be at least one-quarter inch thick and one half would be better. Roll this up lengthwise and cut off circular biscuits, as you would from a jelly-roll cake. Lay these slices, cut-side down in a buttered baking-dish. Pack in as many as the dish will hold and bake at 375° till done, about thirty minutes. For serving, invert on a plate. The whole concoction should come out in one lovely, dripping, golden sweetness. Set this before the lord and master, particularly if you have reason to think his mood is uncertain. It will make him coo like a dove.

My neighbor did not know what I meant by "soft maple sugar". It has the consistency of putty and is ordinarily sold in pails of ten or twenty pounds. Farmers in the Eastern Townships make this product, but it does not seem to be known in the Laurentians. The same effect can be achieved by shaving maple sugar blocks, but this is laborious. Do not use ordinary brown sugar. The flavor is inferior, and one of the secrets of good cooking is flavor. . . Much as I love the scenery, people and life in the Laurentians, I must confess that I prefer the cooking of the Eastern Townships. . . With which fighting words I now conclude!

Spotlight on Strawberries

Discussion of strawberries for July menus seems to be quite superfluous to most people. Who wants anything better than ripe red strawberries and cream, or old-time strawberry short-cake.

Certainly the dessert problem is solved for a while as homemakers serve fresh berries at every opportunity so long as the season lasts.

They have, however, the task of extending the berry season into the winter months by preserving them in various ways. Because of the juiciness and soft texture of strawberries they collapse and lose color unless good methods are used, also because most people prefer rather sweet fruit the berries often rise to the top of the sealer, making the finished product rather unattractive.

In Canada's kitchen, the home economists of Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, have been trying for years to find a method that is completely satisfactory. Now they think they have found it. The secret is in letting the berries stand in the hot syrup until they plump up. This also helps to set the color.

There are two methods, Hot Pack and Cold Pack.

(1) Cold Pack — Wash, hull. Bring to boil slowly in syrup. Cover, remove from heat and let stand from 1 to 3 hours. Pack in sealers, leaving ½-inch headspace. Partially seal and process small (pint) sealers, 15 minutes in boiling water or 20 minutes in the oven, at 275°F. Process medium (quart) sealers 15 minutes in boiling water bath or in oven at 275°F., for 25 minutes.

(2) Hot Pack — Wash, hull. Bring syrup to boil and add strawberries. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 1 to 3 hours. Bring to boil and pack hot, leaving ½-inch headspace. Partially seal sealers or completely seal tin cans. Process small (pint) or medium (quart) sealers, 10 minutes in boiling water bath or 20 minutes in the oven at 275°F.

Tin cans must never be processed in the oven, but both 20-ounce and 28-ounce cans should be processed for 10 minutes in the boiling water bath.

Strawberry Jam.—6 Cups strawberries, 2½ cups sugar.

Wash and hull berries. Leave whole. Add sugar and let stand 2 hours. Drain. Bring juice to boil 10 minutes. Add berries and cook, uncovered, 15 minutes. Pour into hot, sterilized jars, cool slightly, then pour on a layer of melted paraffin wax and leave until hardened. Add a second layer of melted wax, rotating the jar so that the wax will adhere to the side of the glass to form a close seal. Yield: 4¼ cups.

TODAY WE LIVE IN A GREATER CANADA
New Signs in the Sky...
A distant hum and a flashing streak in the outer sky announce another exciting Canadian achievement—a new jet plane designed and built by Canadians—one more example of the meteoric advances made by Canadian skills and manufacturing abilities.
In Canada, too, giant airliners, which have won international recognition, are now being built for the world's air routes of today and tomorrow.
Today our production—both in extent and variety—has attained heights undreamt of even ten years ago, creating new opportunities in every field of activity for the talents and enterprise of young Canadians.

Increase of air traffic: today Canada's commercial aircraft carry more than four times the number of passengers and three times the amount of mail they did in 1939.
One of a series presented by Molson's
to promote a fuller realization by Canadians of Canada's present greatness
"Countless New Opportunities..."

"I sometimes find it hard to realize the extent and rapidity of our plant's growth. It has all been based, of course, upon the tremendous expansion of Canadian industry in general, which has created countless new opportunities in every field of activity for the energy and enthusiasm of young Canadians."
—says HARRY J. SEHL of Kitchener.
The development of Sehl Engineering is a typical Canadian success story. Only 14 years ago, Mr. Sehl, with one assistant, began operating a small tool and die shop in Kitchener. Its expansion has been spectacular, with new lines of production added, new departments established and new plants built. Today the company, with 90 employees, is fast becoming one of the leading metal producing concerns in the country.

The candidates were from St. Simeon's Church, Lachute, and St. George's Church, Brownsburg. A newly installed electric organ and an augmented choir provided appropriate music.

The service was well attended by residents of Lachute and Brownsburg.

Presbyterian Church to Mark 117th Anniversary

On Sunday, June 26, the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church is observing the 117th anniversary of the Presbyterian Church in this community.

In 1818 the Associated Synod of Scotland, acting on the request of Christian friends in Montreal, and in the County of Argenteuil, sent out to Canada a Presbyterian minister, the Rev. Archibald Henderson, M.A., of Carlisle.

The Rev. Henderson on arriving in Canada, was settled at St. Andrews East, where he labored long and faithfully. He was an earnest and conscientious minister and did not confine his efforts to St. Andrews alone but preached in the outlying districts too, one of which was Lachute.

By 1832 the Presbyterian people in Lachute had become numerous enough to feel the need of a minister of their own, and early in July of that year they were formed into a separate congregation of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, under the leadership of the Rev. William Brunton as their minister. The new congregation were eager to build a church, and in 1833 they built the first church in the town of Lachute.

To these courageous beginnings, the people of the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church look back with gratitude and pride, and in honor of which, they are celebrating their 117th anniversary.

The special preacher for the occasion will be the Rev. Robert Lennox, Ph.D., principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, and all friends of the congregation are invited to attend this anniversary service.

To Spend $75,000 For Recreation Centre

Hawkesbury — Every dollar or cent spent in Hawkesbury at the 1st of July picnic will in turn help to build a recreation centre for the town's younger generation.

The all-day event will be the greatest ever held in that region. Starting at 2 p.m. a troupe of reputed artists from Montreal will give the best of performances. The organization is also featuring a field day with numerous valuable prizes, while on the grounds there will be different games of skill.

The main event, of course, is the big "penny sale", with a total of 400 prizes worth $10,000, and the 1949 Plymouth.

PLANT EXTENSION

Hamilton (CP) — A modern steel, glass block and brick $1,000,000 addition to the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company plant will be finished early this summer. Begun in October, the addition will provide 127,000 square feet of space.

LEADER OF THE OPPOSITION in The House of Commons, Ottawa.

No other national leader can match this record of public service on ALL LEVELS OF GOVERNMENTAL ACTIVITY.

George Drew, more than any other national leader knows that government—to remain DEMOCRATIC,—must remain in the hands of the people. As an alderman he concerned himself with the problems of his ward. As mayor, he worked for a better community. As provincial legislator, he worked in the interests of the people of his constituency. As Premier of Ontario he gave his native province the finest administration in its history . . . New England Wedding Of Interest Hereabouts

Bain - Pappas

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Anne Bain, the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. George William Bain, of Amherst, Mass., and Lewis J. Pappas, son of Mrs. Mary R. Pappas, also of Amherst, took place Saturday afternoon in Grace Episcopal Church, the Rev. John M. Coburn, rector, officiating. Miss Mildred Pierpont, church organist, played the wedding marches.

Miss Iris Bain, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ellen Pappas, sister of the bridegroom, both of Amherst, Miss Lillian Teipel, of Dallas, Tex., and Miss Barbara Nodine, of Amherst. Miss Susan Teipel, of Bronxville, N.Y., was flower girl.

Charles Johnson, of Hockanum, was the best man and ushers were Bruce Bain, brother of the bride, Wesley Moakler and Jesse Marymont, Jr.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a Chantilly lace top with panels in a star shape of lace in a nylon marquisette skirt. Her veil was of fingertip length and was caught to a Romeo and Juliet cap of the same lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, white roses, stephanotis, with a white orchid in the centre.

The maid of honor wore a gown with emerald green dots on a white background and carried yellow flowers and had a matching headpiece. The bridesmaids wore similar gowns to that of the bride and carried bouquets of summer flowers with matching headpieces.

The bride's mother wore a gown with a gray lace top with gray nylon marquisette skirt with rose underskirt. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of blue crepe.

The church was decorated with greens and four large standing bouquets. A reception was held at the Bain home for about 150 guests. The music was violin, cello and piano.

Mrs. Pappas wore a steel blue dress of organdy and nylon net for the wedding trip to Cape Cod. They will live in Charlottesville, Va., where Mr. Pappas will study law in September. For the past year, he has been a teacher of English at Montclair Academy, Montclair, N.J.

Mrs. Pappas was born in Northampton; she graduated from Smith College this June.

ALONG THE FAIRWAYS

Lachute Golf Club
Special Commentary

Competition was keen in the Jones Cup qualifying round. . . From here it looks as if nothing above a 71 will make it. A three-way tie of net 72's between Jack Reade, Rod Harley and Dave Campbell makes a play-off necessary before the draw can be arranged. The vacant spot must be filled by Saturday night, and the draw will then appear in next issue. First round Jones Cup to be completed by Sunday night, July 10.

Those surprising amateurs are still at it. Les Thompson's gross 42 looked plenty good for the top last Thursday night until Richard Muir reported in a net 56. Call for Mr. Handicap Committee!

And then last Monday Laurier Carriere carded 33-36 for a terrific [illegible]. Until we are informed otherwise we shall write this one into our book as the club member's amateur course record — over the 9-hole layout, that is; and it looks as if we'll be calling it the "old" lay-out soon. Nothing official yet, but the recent rains should make the transformation possible before too many days have passed.

In fact we understand the big crowd up from Eaton's this Friday, June 24, will go out over the 18. Saturday morning early, a small gang will be on hand from Bell Telephone, and on Sunday a moderate crowd from Montreal Star.

Heartiest congratulations to our club president, Gilbert Ayers, for his fine showing at the Seigniory Club Golf Week. At this 18th annual invitation 36-hole medal play tournament, Gilbert carded 77 on the opening round to take the honors for the best 18 holes gross, in the ten-handicap-and-under class. His 161 for 36 was beaten only by the sharpshooting Bert Barnabe.

Paul Osidak, our cheerful assistant pro, heretofore mentioned as winner in the first Montreal and District Assistant Pros' Tourney at Meadowbrook, has been hitting the ball again. Paul pushed one off No. 2 back tee and it stopped rolling within easy 8-iron range of the green. In fact, Paul used a No. 8 and set it down inches from the pin, then sank his putt for an easy eagle-three. It was 3-3-3 on the first three holes for Paul that round. . . Discouraging, isn't it?

Ladies wish to give one more reminder of their bridge party and draw Tuesday night, June 28. Looks like a goodly crowd will be on hand, and some lucky person is slated to go home with a beautiful set of golf clubs — woods and all.

Woodpeckers protect trees by eating tree-killing insects. In addition, their discarded nests (woodpeckers make new nests every year) are used by tree-nesting ducks. These valuable game birds are likely to be scarce, where woodpeckers are scarce. Woodpeckers should be protected for the double role they play in keeping nature in balance.

ARGENTEUIL - TWO MOUNTAINS FOLLOWS LIBERAL SWEEP

Philippe Valois Polls 862 Majority Against Georges H. Héon, Ex-M.P.; Reversal of Héon's Progressive - Conservative Victory Here in 1945

Liberals Jubilant as Candidate Wins Clear-Cut Victory

Argenteuil — Deux-Montagnes, in the federal election last Monday, followed the national sweep to Liberalism with a conformity that was almost uncanny. The defeat of Georges H. Héon, K.C., who as Member of Parliament had earned prestige in both provincial and federal Tory circles — and likewise the defeat of his protégé in Nicolet-Yamaska (in whose by-election triumph so recently, he had played a decisive part) — these were but two instances illustrating how thoroughly Quebec rode the tide of Liberal victory.

Concentrating on local audiences in the last days of the electioneering, both Mr. Héon and Mr. Valois brought their campaign to the platforms close at home — each trusting to the allegiance of the remoter polls. (To what extent their confidence was justified, is revealed in the district returns listed on this page.) . . . A scrutiny of these figures shows Mr. Valois notably successful in his home town divisions, equally favored in Brownsburg, the next-largest county centre, and in Calumet and Grenville. These figures, and a majority for Héon in so many of the rural polls, are striking.

Deux-Montagnes, newly amalgamated with Argenteuil in the federal redistribution, had conceded the honors of candidature to this county — both the Liberal and Progressive - Conservative choice. Among Mr. Héon's partisans here, that part of the constituency was rated a safe bet in his favor; Deux - Montagnes, however, was inaccurately estimated; the voting there appears more evenly divided.

The divisions to the north of Argenteuil, where Mr. Héon has freely mixed and mingled, generally speaking maintained their support to the Conservative cause. In the south along the Ottawa Valley, the Liberal voice was more decisively heard.

Mr. J. Orphir Desjardins, representing the Union des Electeurs, made a valiant but wholly ineffectual stand. He went down in defeat with every other candidate of his party in 55 of the Quebec ridings. Many of the polls in this constituency showed zero returns in support of the Union party.

Election night in Lachute was a climax in which public speculation became intense. After fruitless prognostications from the day's activities, the uncertainty after closing-time was of short duration. The results, as they became known, revealed the trend from an early hour Monday evening, and by 8.45 o'clock Mr. Valois' triumph was conceded without reservation. . . Radio returns meanwhile told a similar story from ridings across the country; and it needed little else to convince those most reluctant to believe.

Driving to St. Eustache with his closest friends and partisans, Mr. Valois — Liberal standard bearer newly elected to the federal seat — returned shortly to Lachute, where he was loudly acclaimed at the Auditorium. Mr. Valois, visibly fatigued by his campaign and the tenseness of election day, thanked his supporters in the sincerest terms. He pledged his utmost endeavors in the interests of all citizens, regardless of political color, and the interests of the country. He reiterated his faith in the Liberal leader, the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, and reasserted his loyalty to the Prime Minister's policies, his principles and his party.

It is interesting to recall the last two federal election results in Argenteuil. In the 1945 election, Mr. Héon, on an Independent Progressive - Conservative ticket, defeated Jas. W. McGibbon (Liberal) by a slim 128 votes . . In the previous contest, 1940, Mr. McGibbon had won a substantial majority of 1852 against Georges Héon.

Sentences Imposed In Local Thefts

A 15-year-old youth of St. Andrews East, pleaded guilty to theft of between $20 and $25 from a collection plate on the altar in the parish church. The lad committed the theft following the Fête-Dieu high mass on Sunday, June 19, and hid the loot in the bush near the railway station. The parish priest notified the local police, and suspicion rested upon the boy, who had committed previous depredations. He confessed his guilt later to the provincial detective, and the money was recovered intact the same day.

Pleading guilty at St. Jerome, the miscreant was sentenced to two years at Mont St. Antoine reformatory.

On the night of Friday-Saturday during Fair Week, the home of a business-man on Chatham Street was entered and a portable gramophone was stolen. Town police were notified, and inquiries revealed that a woman had seen a stranger at an early hour Saturday morning carrying what appeared to be a valise. The stranger was traced to the midway at the Fair Grounds, and the gramophone was recovered in one of the t

The c. was turned over to Det. Philij herriault, of the Provincial Po. Those arrested were Jean-Pau. ette, 20, of Montreal; Leonard ues, 37, of Sherbrooke; Oscar L. d, 20, of Lachute, all of whom had previous police records.

Roncarie Rides the Float!

AND A GOOD LIBERAL DRIVES THE SULKY

Georges Duhamel, genial ex-mayor of St. Andrews East, had a strenuous engagement here on Tuesday evening. At the losing end of an election bet, he fulfilled a pledge to propel his friend J. Roncarie (a Montrealer with local interests) around the streets of Lachute in a wheelbarrow. It was heavy pushing for our St. Andrews friend, who himself carries a substantial weight; but he faithfully performed the job — starting at Main Street west, making a circuit of the taverns, at each of which he treated his passenger to refreshment, and returning to the Hotel Joly in the west end. Both were happily disguised for the performance.

On the race track at the exhibition grounds that evening, a well-known townsman here acquitted a similar obligation the same evening. Thos. Martin was in the shafts of a racing-sulky and George McGibbon in the victor's seat for this star event. To complete settlement of the bet, Mr. Martin will play host at a dinner engagement, covers for four.

The scarcity of ivory billiard balls in 1868 was the reason for John Wesley Hyatt's search for and development of plastics; his plastic billiard ball was the start of the present plastics industry.

Full Membership For Community Concerts Season

Community Concerts Association has a full enrolment for the next season — the quota of 600 members having been attained in a brief membership campaign for the 1949-50 concert series.

Four concerts are planned, the dates of which will be specified as the artists' schedules are arranged. Following, however, are the approximate times of these engagements:

First concert, late in October — Sorin and De la Fuente, Spanish piano and violin team.

February, 1950 — Simoneau, outstanding Canadian tenor.

April, 1950 — The Teltschiks, piano duo.

Hole-in-One Scored, Second Day on New Course

The new lay-out of the local golf course had just entered the second day of its playing history when a hole-in-one was scored on the 155-yard No. 2 hole. W. G. Wilkey, playing in the Bell Telephone Company's annual field day here last Saturday morning, scored the perfect shot with a number five iron. Besides a threesome on the green at the time, witnesses on the tee were J. A. Fraser, and A. Trapea with whom Mr. Wilkey was playing. Mr. Wilkey is a left-handed hitter.

New Officers Elected for Ch. of Commerce

J. Romeo Charron, well known insurance broker and realtor of this town, was elected president of the Lachute Chamber of Commerce at a meeting last Thursday at the Golf Club chalet.

Jean-Bruno Ménard, retiring president, briefly reviewed the past year's activities; and Mr. Charron, in acknowledging the honor accorded to him, enlisted the support of all officers, committeemen and members for future progress and achievement. He especially urged faithful attendance at the directors' meetings, which are held at 8.30 p.m. on the first and third Mondays of each month.

Following were the officers elected:

Directors—Bertrand L'Heureux, Gabriel Valois, Clifford Cunningham, J. Romeo Legault, Paul Lafontaine, Walker K. McArthur, Romain Desjardins.

Ex-President — Jean Bruno Ménard.

It's Happened Again!

The toll at this danger-spot now reaches an alarming total in broken limbs, cracked skulls, twisted metal and shattered glass — but still the roads authorities appear unmoved to action. This latest scene at Barron's Bridge, Lachute, shows where a local service truck plunged into the North River. The driver escaped with his life, but is in hospital critically injured.

Employee Group Operates Ayers Swimming Pool

RECREATION CENTRE OFFICIALLY OPENED LAST SUNDAY

Last Sunday marked the official opening of the Ayers swimming pool for this season, and in the sultry week-end weather, numerous happy youngsters — from tots four years of age, to juveniles, youths, and adults (in fewer number) — were seen sharing the pleasure provided by this facility. The pool, however, had been unofficially in operation for a short time previous to this date.

An executive was formally elected to administer the Ayers Recreational Centre for 1949-50, representatives of the following committees having participated in naming the officers — Industrial Co-operation Committees of Ayers Ltd. and Dominion Shuttle Ltd.; Ayers Savings Bank, "La Ruche" Co-operative Store and the Ligue Ouvrière Catholique. . The officers elected by these representatives were:

President, Roland Carrière (Ayers); vice-president, Omer Rhéaume (Dominion Shuttle); treasurer, Arthur Labonté (Ayers); secretary, Gilles Mallette (Dominion Shuttle).

Directors — Albert Ouellette (Dominion Shuttle); Ralph Fitz-Gerald (Ayers); Albert Choquette (Ayers); Reynald Desjardins (Ayers).

Ayers Ltd. and Dominion Shuttle employees (including dependents), $3.

Employees' dependents over 16 years and working elsewhere, $5. (If not gainfully employed, dependents over 16 to be admitted on family membership.)

(Anyone desiring a membership in this Recreational Centre may ask one of the officials listed above or the lifeguard at the swimming pool.)

The directorate further decided to re-engage Tony Fouriezos as lifeguard and swimming instructor, and this young man is now on the job which he executed with commendable success last year.

Truck Plunged Over Embankment Into North River

Paul Leroux, night employee at North River Motors Ltd., while returning from Brownsburg with the garage wrecking-truck just before 7 o'clock Monday morning, made the misjudgment of many motorists less familiar with the danger-spot at Barron's Bridge. Driving too fast on the westerly approach to this bridge, Leroux overshot the curve and the heavy truck plowed through the cement curb and the bridge railing, then hurtling down the embankment into the river. A piece of the bridge structure pierced through the cab into the back of the seat; and the driver, who was either hurled by the impact or may have jumped clear, landed on the sidewalk, where he was found semi-conscious by residents who hurried to the scene on hearing the crash.

Dr. Jules Lafleur was summoned to give medical aid, and the victim was removed by ambulance to the Providence Hospital, Lachute, later being conveyed to the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. He was found to be suffering from a fractured pelvis, a possible fracture of the spine and a broken arm, besides internal injuries not immediately ascertained.

Paul Leroux, 29, is a Lachute Mills resident, married and the father of four children.

Closing for Vacation

In order to provide for staff holidays, this newspaper will suspend publication for one issue, on July 21st — The Watchman plant being closed from July 15 to 23, inclusive. Advertisers and customers for commercial printing are asked to bear this fact in mind.

June Sessions of W. Inst. Branches

Twenty-five members and four visitors attended the June meeting of Arundel W.I. branch. Bags which had been made from material woven during the weaving course, were on display at the meeting. Plans were made to hold a lawn social on July 15, and it was decided that the branch should assist with the Tb. X-ray clinic to be held in July. The birthday box was opened, from which $12.74 was realized during the year — this money to be used for school prizes. The Rev. G. Barnett was guest speaker and gave an interesting talk on "Travel and Education". Mrs. Geo. McGibbon also visited the branch.

Brownsburg had an attendance of 32 members and two visitors at their meeting. One new member joined the branch. A personal parcel was sent to Britain. The short course in weaving given by Miss Mae Birch, W.I. demonstrator, was much enjoyed. Thirteen bags were woven, and 15 made out of felt. On May 31 the 23rd anniversary dinner was held in the basement of Maple Avenue Baptist Church, under the convenership of Mrs. C. Vary. Some 60 members were present. The hall was tastefully decorated in W.I. colors, with beautiful floral arrangements on the tables. Mrs. A. Geo. Leggett, county president, was guest speaker. All past presidents were called upon to give a resumé of their work while in office as president.

Frontier branch heard a talk by Mrs. J. John on the Boys' Farm Home at Shawbridge. Mrs. John also spoke on her work in a receiving home for children who had to be cared for otherwise than in their own homes. The roll-call at this meeting was "Name a vitamin, and tell how it helps the body". Fruit was sent to a sick member. The sum of $5 was donated to the "Save the Children Fund" and a parcel of clothing was sent overseas.

St. Jean Baptiste Day Parade at Huberdeau

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — The feast of St. Jean Baptiste was celebrated in the neighboring parish of Huberdeau on Friday afternoon. A colorful procession including various floats from St. Jovite and Ste. Agathe, and with the band accompaniment, was enjoyed by the large crowds of residents and visitors. Quite a number of the Arundel residents attended, also a number of out-of-town cars were noticed. The community of Huberdeau is to be congratulated on the success of this celebration.

Start High School Building Project Next Week

A telegram from the Quebec Provincial Secretary's office was received last week approving issuance of the loan for Lachute High School building project. The Protestant School Commission took steps forthwith to set the building plans in motion. The architect, Grattan Thompson, and the contractor, J. S. Heustin, have since been active on the site. Arrangements are being made for accommodations, and sub-contractors in the vicinity have been contacted so that work will proceed without delay. First to appear on the job will doubtless be the excavation crew and machinery — T. P. Hall, of Brownsburg, having been engaged for this operation. It is stated by Mr. Heustin, the general contractor, that work will commence next Tuesday.

At a meeting of the United Church official board, it was agreed Tuesday evening to accede to a request of the local School Commission for use of the church basement during the coming school year, to accommodate junior pupils during construction work and until adequate classrooms are available. The agreement included provisions for fitting respect to the property and grounds, and for any unforeseen needs of the congregation as regards use of the hall.

Gatineau Power Lines

Harnessing Nature

The history of Canada is rich in stories of our pioneering forefathers who made a civilization out of a wilderness. The process was a long one. The explorers were followed by trappers, the trappers by lumbermen. While these enterprises provided sources of wealth for a few people, they did not in themselves make Canada a rich, self-sufficient country. This was the job of the pioneering settler, the man who cleared the forests, drained the swamps and created for himself an area of land on which he could raise crops and livestock. The farmer's efforts provided Canada a reliable source of food, clothing, fuel and shelter, thus taking wasting natural resources and turning them into a source of wealth for the young country.

A similar process has been followed in connection with making other natural resources useful to the country. The Gatineau, Ottawa and other rivers have been flowing over their courses for thousands of years; yet it is only in the last half-century that they have become useful natural resources in terms of their capacities to produce electric power for the use of citizens in the area served by Gatineau Power.

A tremendous amount of work, time and money was required to bring about this change from a wasting asset to a useful natural resource. Millions of dollars had to be provided to build the network of dams, to build the power houses, the generators, sub-stations, to erect the power lines and to deliver this power to the homes and businesses of the people served by Gatineau. As in the case of a well-managed farm, the power system is valuable to society as long as machinery and equipment are maintained in condition to produce a useful service in an efficient manner which makes its benefits available to a great number of people at low cost.

Did You Know?

Before it was harnessed, the flow of the Gatineau River ranged from 70,000 cubic feet per second in the spring down to 2,000 cubic feet per second in the winter. Now its flow stays almost the same all the time, providing a steady production of electric power to thousands of Gatineau customers.

Silo for Preserving Early-Cut Hay

(Experimental Farm News)

Early cutting of hay is essential if the maximum feeding value is to be obtained. Losses in protein may be as high as fifty per cent between pre-bloom and seed stage in timothy, says J. S. Leefe, Assistant in Field Crops, Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville, N.S.

In Eastern Canada, particularly in Maritime areas, hay grasses and legumes are usually ready for cutting some time before the weather is fit for ideal hay making. This results in hay being left beyond optimum maturity while waiting for good weather, or if cut early, being spoiled by rain. In either case the loss is too great to be tolerated in these days of high feed prices.

One solution is to cut the hay early and put it in the silo. Experience at the Kentville Experimental Station, and at other places, shows that good-quality grass, and grass legume silage is relatively easy to produce. Where a heavy-duty loader is already in use, the only additional equipment that may be necessary besides a silo, is an ensilage chopper.

By beginning operations with silo filling, haying can be started two or three weeks earlier. A second cut for hay may then be taken later, or the fields may be used for summer pasture.

Grass or legumes or mixtures should be allowed to wilt before being put in the silo. Moisture content should not exceed 70 per cent if the material is to be stored without a preservative. On the other hand, the moisture content should not go below 60 per cent or moulding is likely to result.

If the material to be ensiled is very wet, or if it consists of almost pure clover or alfalfa, a preservative should be added. One hundred and fifty pounds of ground grain or fifty pounds of molasses should be used per ton of material ensiled.

When ensiling grass, legumes or mixtures, the knives on the ensilage chopper should be kept sharp so that the material is cut and not shredded. The machine should be set for a cut of from one-quarter to one-half inch. Care must be taken to pack the chopped material in the silo so as to exclude all air. After the silo is filled the top must be sealed off to prevent excessive top waste. Heavy water-proof paper weighted down may be used, or, if available, a foot of sawdust makes an excellent seal.

Silage making should not be looked on entirely as a substitute for haying. Some hay would be required even where facilities for making large quantities of grass silage are available, but even under ideal conditions, indications are that hay making is a considerably more wasteful way of preserving the nutrients in grasses and legumes.

Tomato Canning Sets Record in Quebec

Province Packs 25 Per Cent of Nation's Output

Vegetable canners in Quebec packed an estimated 24,457,000 cans of tomatoes last year. It was an all-time record for canned tomatoes in this province. The nation's total for this popular product in 1948 was 83,131,000 cans, a 12-year record.

Based on industry reports and metal container requirements, a review of tomato pack statistics by the American Can Company shows considerable fluctuation over the years, although the product still ranks second in the list of canned vegetables. Peas moved ahead of canned tomatoes following the trend toward large tomato juice packs in recent years.

Record year for canned tomatoes was 1937 when, aided by bumper crops, the Dominion's food processors turned out a total of almost 85 million cans of this product.

Home and School Group Formed in Shawbridge

Formation of a Home and School Association for teachers and parents of children attending the Shawbridge Protestant Public School, was effected last week when residents of Piedmont, St. Sauveur, Lac L'Achigan, Lac Marois and adjacent municipalities attended a meeting in Shawbridge.

Mrs. W. Elliot was elected president of the new organization.

The association will meet during the summer months and plan activities to commence at the next school term in September.

Lachute W.I. gave $10 to the Girl Guides, the Brownies and the Boy Scouts. Nine dinners have been catered for the Lions Club, and refreshments were served to the Guides and Scouts at their district rally. Mrs. G. Dobbie gave the highlights of the morning session of the W.I. county convention held in Lachute High School, and Mrs. Geo. Y. Deacon gave an excellent report of the afternoon session. . . Books will be exchanged on the first Tuesdays in July and August, at 2 p.m.

Lakefield had as their roll-call, "Garden pests and how to destroy them". Plans were made to hold a food sale in July. Money was given to the local school for prizes, and a gift of money was sent to a fire sufferer who had lost all household goods by fire last winter. A report of the county convention was heard. Tickets for the drawing on a blanket were distributed. Sunshine bags realized $6.08 for the funds.

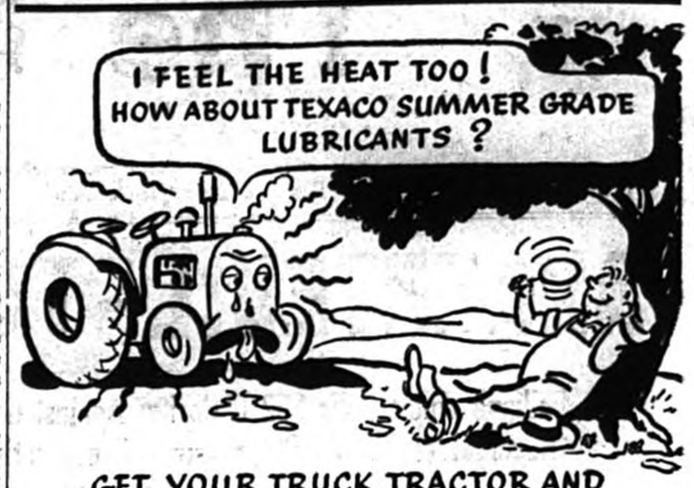

Mrs. A. Geo. Leggett, county president, and Dr. L. Turcotte, of the County Health Unit, were guest speakers at the Mille Isles branch meeting. Mrs. Leggett spoke briefly on W.I. work and gave a short outline of decisions reached at the county convention. Dr. Turcotte gave a talk on Tb. and the free chest X-ray clinics to be held at Lachute Fair, and in Morin Heights during July; Dr. Turcotte stressed the need for yearly chest X-ray examination.

There were 25 members and five guests present at the Morin Heights W.I. meeting. Dr. Turcotte visited this branch and gave a general health talk, also speaking on the anti-Tb. test to be given on July 27. Mrs. Leggett, the county president, gave a short talk on W.I. work in general, and also touched on the work of each convenership. Arrangements were made for a dance to be held on July 12, to raise funds for the branch. Mrs. F. Muncey gave a report of the short course held at Macdonald College recently. Two delegates were appointed to attend the convention at Macdonald College. The annual picnic is to be held on July 19 at the home of Mrs. J. E. Seale, Lake Anne. A home-cooking sale netted the funds a considerable amount. The roll-call was "Shoe Penny" (two cents for each size). Blue Cross fees were paid. This branch will have no regular meeting in July and August.

Pioneer branch meeting took the form of an afternoon salad tea. A salad contest was held — Mrs. S. Armstrong, Mrs. G. Smith and Mrs. H. McOuat winning the prizes for jellied salads, and Mrs. A. Thompson, Mrs. E. Cooke and Mrs. A. Maxwell for plain salads. Plans were made for a picnic and lawn social.

Aftermath of Elections

WHILE making allowance for personal enthusiasms and prejudices . . and while realizing that the fusion of Argenteuil and Two Mountains presented something of an unknown quantity in the local picture . . the outcome of the election in this constituency was, generally speaking, something of a surprise. The reversal of the popular favor from Progressive-Conservative to Liberal leanings is not easily accountable. True, there are some who profess no surprise — they have a ready explanation, that the vote hinged upon party leadership, or some other factor; but such explanations are not generally agreed upon.

We can draw one safe surmise from the Liberal victory here — that it is but a reflection of the national sweep. . . And one conclusion — that local personalities, sentiments (and issues, had there been any) are but secondary to the national trend. The Liberal program, or leadership, at Ottawa has commended itself to the electorate; and party affiliations in Argenteuil - Two Mountains — allegiance or admiration either to Mr. Héon or to Mr. Valois, the old-line party candidates — have counted but little, compared to the expression of sentiment on broader lines. Not thereby disparaging Mr. Valois' personal qualities, for he is admittedly a constructive, clear-thinking citizen, keen in his profession and popular in his associations. But our observation is, that personal appeal has taken a back seat to the national considerations of our time.

One may also safely add that the social welfare and social security measures passed during the Liberal regime have counted considerably in votes. Even though the hand dips into one public pocket to recompense the other, and even though it is the taxpayer who pays — money still flows freely and we haven't felt the pinch; so the procedure still has voter-appeal.

Lastly, we may discern that public approval for government policy will far outweigh the criticism of its abuses, no matter how grim the accusations may sound. Public opinion molified by benign, paternalizing gestures, is loath to stir itself in indignation. Therefore Mr. Drew's revelations on the Canadair transaction, and George McCullagh's tirade on newsprint and radio discrimination (well timed, well aimed blows in the party conflict — quite apart from any question of their justification) — all were of no avail. The electorate stood impervious to these allegations.

The still small voice of the Union des Electeurs was scarcely heard. With 55 candidates running in this province, not one was elected. The response requires no comment.

There was a rousing and enthusiastic vote in this election. The slogans and catch-words pressed by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and other groups, may therefore be credited with some effectiveness. The people certainly "voted as they liked", and with no uncertain weight of opinion.

Cartwheel ?

ROYAL Canadian Mint craftsmen have designed a silver dollar to commemorate Newfoundland's entry into Confederation.

The cabinet is expected to rule on the design within a few weeks. Once approval has been obtained and an order-in-council passed, it is believed some 1,500,000 coins will be struck.

The design depicts John Cabot's 1497 ship on silver waves, on the one side, with the profile of the King on the other. Appearing around the ship are the words "Floreat Terra Nova"—"May the New Land Flourish".

The Heat's On

YOU'LL find him stretched out in a deck chair in some shady spot, probably with a handkerchief over his face. Someone has just asked him when he intends to nail up that loose board in the back fence. . . "Not today", he murmurs through the handkerchief. "It's much too hot".

At this point it occurs to you that you've seen this fellow before. He was sprawled on a chesterfield then, close to the fire, with a stack of papers and magazines at arm's length. The same questioner was wondering when he planned to do a little snow shovelling. . . "Much too cold today", was the answer. "Maybe I'll tackle it tomorrow".

He's a common type, to be found in hot, dry climates and in cold, wet ones too. Sometimes he holds a glass in his hand; sometimes he seeks concealment behind a cloud of tobacco smoke. Usually the type assumes a recumbent posture although he may occasionally lumber to his feet in search of something to refill his glass or pipe.

The fellow would resent it if you called him lazy. He did a hard day's work — when was it, the day before yesterday? — and he's just a bit tired. Besides, the weather gets him down a little. He'll get the chores done tomorrow if it gets a little cooler, or warmer, and if it doesn't rain.

He has a female counterpart, too. You don't see her around as often, but you can spot her hiding place by such tell-tale clues as a sink full of dirty dishes, a thickening layer of dust and a swollen laundry hamper.

We frown on these lackadaisical citizens. They are a disgrace to the community, to the nation and to the democratic way of life.

But we don't treat them too harshly. You see, closer examination shows sometimes that they bear a striking resemblance to — ourselves.

A Glaring Fault

IN THE June issue of "Canadian Automotive Trade", an editorial entitled "It's a Glaring Fault" withholds no punches in its attack on the night-driving problem of headlight glare. The article states that the problem gets to be more of a public menace every year. With over 2,000,000 vehicles on the highways and roads of our Dominion, the headlight hazard is classed as Public Enemy No. 1 of the night driver. The magazine points out that headlight manufacturers appear only interested in getting more illumination from lights and do not worry too much about controlling the causes of glare. Lighting has not kept pace in safety and efficiency with other automotive improvements.

In addition to criticizing present design of lenses and reflectors as being glare producers, forceful attention is drawn to the inadequate methods used by both manufacturers and service departments in aiming headlights, resulting in "light in the trees instead of on the road." It would appear that a few changes in design, coupled with controlled aiming with the vehicle loaded, would greatly reduce the glare hazard.

The editorial also suggests a review of legislation governing headlight aiming; existing regulations are antiquated and worthless when applied to present-day vehicles with their variation in headlight heights. It is urged that aiming should take place with vehicle normally loaded so that the light on the high or driving beam will be on the road and not in the air. This loading suggestion is one point that automobile manufacturers should take into consideration when aiming lights on new vehicles, as newly delivered cars and commercial vehicles are the worst offenders.

Politics is what you make it — you select the politicians. If you are not satisfied, then only you can work a change. Remember, you're the boss. Canada's politicians are your employees — Canada's political parties your servants. And, above all, it's your money that is being spent. You can't afford to leave it to others. You must do it yourself. Don't be an idiot. . . Politics is your business!—Leamington, Ont., Post.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

TRIBUTE TO A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Good neighbors mean as much to nations as to individuals. There's mighty little bickering over the longest border line in the world. And, as Canadians, we can be proud of our part in this happy relationship. Therefore, on the occasion of Independence Day, the Fourth of July, we salute the people next door—the people of the United States. Let us welcome those who spend the holiday in the Land of the Maple Leaf. Let us make their visit a pleasant one. That's "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

To the Voters of This Constituency:

I respect the opinion of the electors of Argenteuil - Two Mountains, and I bow with respect to their verdict. Mr. Philippe Valois has been elected: he is truly representative of those who endorsed him, and our constituency fully deserves the representation it has selected. I extend to the victor my very best wishes.

Thanks to those fine men and women who so loyally supported me. It is an honor indeed to be defeated in the company of such devoted workers. Says Local Road Still An 'Unimproved Country Lane'

TO THE EDITOR

June 27, 1949.

Editor, Lachute Watchman
Sir:

I have been a regular taxpayer in the Parish of St. Jerusalem since 1931 and, during that time, watched with admiration the progressive development of the Town of Lachute and the County of Argenteuil. The charm of the countryside, and the friendliness of the people who live in the environs, assure continuous progress for our community — progress tempered with the charm of living. Access to our county has been much improved recently and this especially applies to Routes 8 and 41. The town itself is admirably paved and many of the new residential streets compare favorably with any city in Canada.

It has always seemed to me as a strange anachronism that the parish in which I live should be canonized.

"Hierusalem, my happy home,
Would I were safe in thee;
Would that my woes were at an end
The Joys that I might see.
Thy Gardens and thy pleasant Walks
Continually are green;
There grow such sweet and pleasant Flowr's
As no where else are seen."

Canonization and sainthood are from heaven, but what of the earth below? . . My address is River Valley Farm, R.R. 3, Lachute, and the provincial road is maintained to Dr. G. R. McCall's "North River Farm"; and although we are still on the North River and in the same parish, the last two miles of the northern part of R.R. 3 is still a narrow, unimproved, country lane. I have no criticism to make of the Roadmaster, but my frequent complaints to Council have always resulted in polite non-commital replies AND NO ACTION. Are Mr. Watson Berry, Mr. Paul Reading and myself different from other residents of the northern part of R.R. 3 of the Parish of St. Jerusalem, and how can we qualify to receive road consideration? Perhaps action is being delayed until a co-operative effort can be made with the Council of the Lake of Two Mountains. Certainly, Mooney's and Colford's have attractive, modern summer hotels. Do not they, as well as other summer residents and the farmers of R.R. 3, require better road surface?

Your esteemed newspaper has a reputation for honest endeavor, and your very name prompted me to write this letter for publication and comment from those concerned or other kind readers. What is the machinery in this democratic country to obtain road consideration? Advice will be gracefully received and I thank you in advance for your kind consideration in the publishing of the above.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Fund for Renovation of Christ Church, Anglican

St. Andrews East — The congregation of Christ Church, St. Andrews East, has decided to renovate this historic church, both the exterior and the interior of the building. Recently a campaign was launched to raise the required funds, resulting in the collection of $2,065; this sum, together with $500 subscribed during the 125th anniversary, gives a little over half of what was thought necessary to make a thorough job. Anyone desiring to help in this work may send subscriptions to Christ Church Renovation Fund, P.O. Box 113, St. Andrews East, Que.

Couple Wed Recently at Brownsburg

At a reception following the recent marriage of Miss Mary Ella Hardie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hardie, Brownsburg, Que., and William-Edward Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Stewart, Lachute, Que. — the bride and groom perform the traditional cutting of the cake.

Stewart-Hardie Ceremony At B'burg United Church

Stewart - Hardie

The mariage of Mary Ella Hardie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hardie, of Brownsburg, to William Edward Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stewart, of Lachute, took place on June 11 in the Brownsburg United Church, the Rev. S. J. Pike officiating.

The wedding-music was played by Mrs. Cedric Wheeler and during the signing of the register Miss Bertha Richard sang "Because".

The bride, given away by her father, wore a model gown of white slipper satin with fitted bodice and round yoke of lace, having a full skirt falling to a train and long sleeves coming to a point over the hands. Her hat was heart-shaped of white satin, with a veil of tulle falling to the waist. She carried a bouquet of pale pink roses. Her three attendants were Mrs. Jane Ball, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor, Miss Ruth Hardie as bridesmaid, and Miss Helen Stewart, sister of the groom, also as bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in pastel shades of yellow, mauve and green taffeta with yokes of net in matching color and long mitts of the same material, coming to a point over the hands. They carried nosegays of sweet peas and wore large picture hats of taffeta to match their gowns. They also wore two-strand pearl necklets, which were gifts of the bride.

Acting as best man was Mr. Doug Gordon; the ushers were Mr. Russell Stewart, brother of the groom, and Mr. Fred Smith.

The church was decorated with spring flowers, the pews being tied with white ribbon and snowball blossoms. A reception was held in the church hall, where spring flowers and pastel-shade candles decorated the long tables.

The bride and groom later left on a motor trip, the bride travelling in a pale green gabardine suit with natural-color topcoat and brown hat and accessories. The couple will reside in Lachute.

Incident at Kamouraska

Grant Arthurs (son of Wm. Seated on the verandah of his boarding house, he was watching three little boys putting the cattle away after milking, when the bull suddenly turned on the youngest. Having knocked him down, the bull was making a charge to gore him. Grant heard the lad's screams and ran, jumping the fence, and grasping a handful of sand which he threw in the face of the animal. The bull then halted, apparently to make for Grant, who meanwhile grabbed the boy and ran to safety — thus saving the child from horrible consequences.

See First Airplane In Isolated Nepal

New Delhi (CP) — Nepal, mountain kingdom on India's northern border from which she has drawn thousands of hardy Gurkha soldiers into her army, saw an aircraft for the very first time recently. A plane piloted by Sardar D. S. Majithia, a former wing commander of the R.I.A.F. made a perfect landing on the rough turf of an improvised air strip at Katmandu, the capital.

It took the pilot an hour to reach Katmandu from Muzaffarpur after flying over heavy clouds and at an altitude of 11,000 feet during which he saw the majestic peaks of Everest and Kanchanjanga.

The first commercial telegraph line in Canada was set up in 1847, linking Toronto, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo.

More Telephone Workers...
AND HIGHER WAGES HAVE GREATLY INCREASED OUR COSTS

IN THE PAST five years the number of employees has doubled and our payroll has gone up from 20 million dollars to over 50 million dollars. Yet, up to now, despite rising costs on all sides there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 22 years ago.

To meet unprecedented post-war demand for more telephones, our expansion and improvement of service have of necessity taken place in a period of rapidly rising costs. Most businesses have offset their higher costs by higher prices for their products. We have not yet done so.

You can be sure we will keep on doing our best to provide you with adequate and constantly improving telephone service — and to provide it at the lowest rates consistent with a fair return to our investors and employees.

Lunch-Box Breads

Whether the lunch box is carried to work, to school or to a picnic, something a little different is always welcome.

The home economists of the Consumer Section suggest baking powder breads as a lunch box food which is pleasing to both the provider and the person who eats the lunch. These breads are easy to make, easy to carry and easy to eat. From the standpoint of the homemaker their advantage is that they are usually better the second or third day after making and so may be kept on hand for home or carried meals.

Butterscotch Nut Bread

1 Egg, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons shortening melted, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ¾ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup buttermilk or sour milk, ½ cup chopped nuts, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind.

Beat egg, add sugar gradually, beating until light and creamy. Add melted shortening and blend well. Mix and sift flour, soda, baking powder and salt and add to egg mixture alternately with the buttermilk or sour milk and stir until mixed. Add nuts and orange rind. Pour into a greased loaf pan, 9" x 5" and bake in a moderate oven, 350°F., for 1 hour. Yield: 1 loaf (cuts into about 24 slices).

Peanut Butter Bread

2 Cups sifted all-purpose flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅓ cup sugar, ½ cup peanut butter, 1½ cups milk, 1 cup chopped dates.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add peanut butter and cut in until the mixture resembles coarse bread crumbs. Add milk and beat thoroughly. The batter should be soft. Add dates. Pour into a greased loaf pan, 7" x 3", and bake in a moderate oven, 350°F., 1 hour. Yield: one loaf. This is good when fresh but will cut to better advantage when a day old.

Whole-Wheat Orange Bread

2 Orange skins, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup water, 2 tablespoons melted fat, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 1¼ cups whole wheat flour.

Remove white pithy portion of orange skins and put skins through a food chopper. Add sugar and water. Cook 15 minutes. Add fat and allow to cool. Beat egg and add milk. Sift white flour with salt and baking powder, mix with whole wheat flour. Add half the dry ingredients to the egg and milk, then add orange and remaining dry ingredients quickly, stirring only until mixed. Bake in a greased loaf pan 9" x 5", in a moderately slow oven, 325°F., for 45 minutes. Yield: 1 loaf.

FASHION HINT

Printed organdie, dainty and diaphanous, joins the procession of sweet summer fabrics. It is used for a charming little afternoon dress of French blue, yellow and pink nosegays on a navy blue background. Bands of the fabric are worked in folds from a double plastron on either side of the bodice, in shawl collar formation. The neckline underneath is round and low. Folds compose the snug midriff and unpressed pleats make the skirt. Topped with a cartwheel hat, here is a nice choice for pleasing summer afternoon wear.

It happened during the housing shortage (don't most things these days?)

Walking along the river bank one day, a man saw a friend of his struggling in the water and uttering desperate calls for help. Making no effort to save him, the man rushed to town, contacted the friend's landlord, and asked for his apartment.

"Too late", replied the landlord. "It's already been rented to the man who pushed him in".

Married Recently in Erskine-American Church

de la Ronde - Sinclair

The marriage of Miss Kathleen Sinclair, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Sinclair, of Montreal, to Mr. Ronald de la Ronde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth de la Ronde, of St. Andrews East, Que., took place on Saturday, June 18, at Erskine and American United Church in Montreal. The Rev. G. R. Cragg officiated and Mr. McPherson played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Margaret Hall sang "O Perfect Love". Multi-colored peonies adorned the church.

Miss Priscilla Sinclair as maid of honor was her sister's only attendant. Mr. Raymond Blair, of St. Andrews East, acted as best man for Mr. de la Ronde, and the ushers were Mr. Howard Lalonde and Mr. George DeWitt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of brocaded Swiss taffeta fashioned on princess lines with fitted bodice and a full skirt ending in a slight train. Her fingertip veil of silk tulle was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and baby's breath.

The maid of honor wore a gown of turquoise taffeta having a fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline and a full skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and wore a wreath of the same flowers in her hair.

The reception was held at the Berkeley Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. de la Ronde later left by motor for a wedding trip in the Georgian Bay and Muskoka Lakes district — the bride wearing a white summer suit with navy accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. . . The couple will reside in Montreal.

OBITUARY

Death Severs Link with St. Andrews Pioneers

Late Miss M. E. Dewar

A former resident of St. Andrews East and a member of a pioneer family, Miss M. E. Dewar, died June 18 in Montreal, where she had resided for some years. The late Miss Dewar was a daughter of Guy Richards Dewar and Emmeline Bent. Her grandfather, Duncan Dewar, a lifelong resident of St. Andrews, was born the day on which the village received its name, September 9, 1807.

Miss Dewar spent her early childhood in St. Andrews before the family moved to Montreal. She returned to the village about 1915 and resided there for nearly 25 years. During this time she took an active part in the work of the Anglican Church. She will be long remembered for her hospitality and kindness of heart. While in Montreal, she was connected with Emmanuel Church.

The funeral service, attended by many relatives and friends, was conducted by the Rev. Harvey Campbell, D.D., of Westmount Park Emmanuel Church.

Special Commentary

Big news of the week seems to be that the new 18-hole course is open. Play thereon commenced last Friday, June 24, and since that time it has tested the tempers of more than a few. It is a beautiful course, and will be better still. We respectfully suggest that, whether you play golf or not, you should go out and see it.

And it hadn't been open more than a day when it was thoroughly chirstened by one of the boys up from Bell Telephone last Saturday. There were plenty of witnesses around, both on the tee as well as the green and nearby portions of the course, to see Bill Wilkey, southpaw golfer, score a hole-in-one on the No. 2 quarry hole. (Details elsewhere in this edition.)

The tumult and the shouting dies and may we take a moment to congratulate our fellow member and right good fellow, Philippe Valois, on his victory in the recent federal elections. In spite of the increased responsibilities Philippe has sought and won, we hope to see him once more along the fairways soon.

More than a few of our shotmakers are hitting the headlines this summer. We salute Jack Archer for his effort in the annual Montreal Sportsmen's Association tournament, held over the Mount Royal course last Wednesday, June 22. Jack tied with Jim Seeney (unattached) for top honors among the professionals.

Comes up our prize, the to-be-famous 14th hole . . . many a golfer turns logger, and the cry of "Timber!" is heard in the land. And only those of championship timber survive. This thin ribbon of fairway — which goes on like Tennyson's brook and which is surrounded by sheer beauty and already a legion of lost golf balls — we give you as a pro-paler par excellence. We hereby christen it the Needle's Eye, and may you thread it with success.

On Saturday, July 2, a group of golfers from Canadian Spool & Cotton Ltd., numbering around 25, will visit the local course.

Tuesday night was ladies' bridge party at the clubhouse, a gala and most successful event of some 40-odd tables. Apparently ticket sales on the drawing, a beautiful set of golf clubs, went well and we congratulate the lucky winner — little Therese Berniquer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joey Berniquer. The door prize, an Ayers blanket, was won by Mrs. Herbie Montgomery.

Two League Triumphs For Baseball Squad

The hometown baseballers came through with two brilliant victories over the week-end after having been in a five-game losing slump.

At Beauharnois, Lachute came from behind in the eighth inning to win 4-2 on a two-base hit by Jean Lys Millette. Labreche was outstanding as a pitcher, and G. Millette as a centre fielder in this game.

At Lachute in the evening, the locals again stepped forward in the last inning to take the game from Ville Emard, by the count of 2-1. Outstanding in this game was Roland Tanguay, who walloped the ball over the fence twice to score two home-runs and win the game for Lachute.
