Duplessis Still Favors State Lotteries Emphatic Opinion on Crime Comics

By Alan Randal

Quebec, Nov. 8 (CP) — Crime comics, if Premier Maurice Duplessis has his way, will be tougher than ever to get in Quebec Province, which already has been tagged officially as one of the provinces which has been most successful in restricting circulation of this lurid reading matter.

Premier Duplessis told the press he is in favor of "more severe measures" in cracking down on crime comics.

As a suggestion he thought the Canadian Postal Department might be called in to curb comics circulation. The Postal Department, he noted, could be severe where lotteries were concerned. It could easily move against bad comics.

Quebec's Lottery Plans

Regarding his avowed intention of some weeks ago that his government had plans for a state lottery, the premier had little news. He did say that he had often communicated with Federal authorities in the matter. What, if anything, he received in reply, remained his own secret.

But Mr. Duplessis left no doubt his feelings on lotteries are unchanged; he thinks Quebec should have them to assist in education of the poor and to help hospitals to care for "those in need." As he sees it, lottery legislation scheduled for legislature introduction after the new session starts in January is not to be a challenge to anybody but rather will represent an appeal to "good sense and logic."

Local Successes At Winter Fair

Gerald Vary, of Brownsburg, was successful with a number of his poultry, and before he returned home had bought, sold and traded many ribbon winners for other prize poultry.

Russell Sutton, also of Brownsburg, showed his Hackney pony mare, Mary Sunrise, winning the line class and the championship for registered pony mares. In the Horse Show, the same horse picked up three ribbons; there were from 10 to 12 entries in the classes. Dufferin Stock Farms and Lawrum Farms were on top of all Hackney horse and pony classes.

Shirley Peters, belonging to the Wm. G. Hewitts, Brownsburg, placed first in the Roadster over a class of seven entries. The owners are more than pleased with the way this mare has come ahead since spring.

Just Pete, for Mr. and Mrs. Geo. MacGibbon, Lachute, placed third in the Roadster Stake for 13 entries. Pete was driven by Alwyn Stewart, Brownsburg.

Pete, with driver Stewart, took fourth in the under class with nine entries, and Shirley with Pete teamed up to place third in the Roadster Pairs, with Bill Hewitt driving.

Gilbert E. Arnold featured among prize-winners in the heavier horses, taking among other awards the junior championship in Clydesdales with Arnoldwold Fyvie, and first in yearling mares. He also took ribbons in the light draught classes.

B'bg Male Chorus Successful Venture Enters ThirdSeason

TO PRESENT JOSE FORGUES AS GUEST ARTIST AT CONCERT IN LACHUTE

Sing-songs have long been traditional in Brownsburg social life, and notably at gatherings of the menfolk employed by C-I-L. For the most part these men had little or no formal musical instruction; but two years ago some of them decided to organize a choir and under able leadership acquire some training in part-singing. Their hope was that in this way they might develop a greater appreciation of music and perhaps later show some of this appreciation with concert audiences. They have done these things, and have become a choral group of which the community may well be proud. During fall and winter months they have attended weekly practices every Thursday night in the Brownsburg United Church. Members frequently gather informally on other evenings to work out difficulties. They have given three concerts, their repertoire is increasing, and they are striving for even higher standards in performance. Some of these improvements they hope to display at their forthcoming recital at the Lachute Auditorium on December 6. Both Lachute and Brownsburg are now represented in the group. Members give freely of their time and effort, and aside from funds raised in concerts they personally meet the expenses of guest artists, conductor and sheet music.

Ambulance in Highway Crash, Girl Is Killed

FREAK AND TRAGIC MISHAP NEAR ST. EUSTACHE

Crashing into a pile of 3-foot fuel wood on No. 8 Highway one mile west of St. Eustache last Friday evening, the Menard & Menard ambulance from Lachute overturned in a ditch, killing one occupant, 15-year-old Bergere Denis of Brownsburg, and seriously injuring her father, Cyrille Denis.

Mr. Denis was taking his 10-year-old son Jacques to the Pasteur Hospital in Montreal, with his daughter accompanying them. The young patient, who was suffering from diphtheria, was unhurt, and was later taken on his journey. The driver of the ambulance, Roger Martel, and his helper, named Charron, both of Lachute, also escaped with only slight bruises.

The accident occurred around 7.30 p.m. It was reported by Provincial Police that a fast-moving car passed another automobile, both coming westward, causing a wood truck, going in the opposite direction, to swerve sharply and to spill part of its load. Martel, driving the ambulance some distance in the rear of the truck, hit the logs with his right front wheel and careened into the ditch on the left side.

It is reported that after the crash the driver got out and approached his passengers to enquire whether they were hurt. The girl and her father replied that, although stunned, they were both safe. When Martel returned shortly, after seeking assistance, he found the girl dead and Mr. Denis unconscious. The latter, with his arm and three ribs fractured, was later taken to the Sacred Heart Hospital at Cartierville.

By coincidence Jean - Bruno Menard, part-owner of the ambulance, arrived upon the scene shortly after the crash, while driving home from Montreal. He stated afterwards that the ambullance was wrecked absolutely beyond repair.

An inquest under Dr. Jos. Pagé of St. Benoit, coroner for the district of Two Mountains, will be held at St. Eustache as soon as the injured man can appear to give evidence in the death of his daughter. Meanwhile the body was released for burial, and the funeral of the dead girl was held Monday morning at Brownsburg.

Det. Alfred Gagné and Traffic Officer H. Deschenes investigated the accident.

Buy A Poppy!

Buy a poppy, crimson red,
Buy today,
In memory of our boys who sleep
Far away.
Buy one for them, who harkened to
The piper's call,
With courage passed through valleys dim,
And gave their all.
Buy in gratitude for valor fine
That would not die,
That stayed the failing line and held
The torch on high.
Buy one for the men who fought
And yet returned,
They too faced the savage fire,
The hail that burned.
Buy one for those men who keep,
A vigil grim
On beds of pain but may not weep,
Buy for them.
Buy one, you men who walk today
In buoyant life
For comrades left on battlefields
Of bitter strife —
"Buy A Poppy".

Boy Scouts Organizing Toy Repair Shop

The Lachute Boy Scouts are again undertaking their annual "good turn", repairing and renovating toys for less fortunate kiddies this Christmas season. They solicit the aid of householders in this effort, and will welcome donations of games or playthings in which growing children have lost interest, or toys which are not damaged beyond repair. A telephone call to Frank Bedard (553), who is organizing the job, will bring a willing Scout to collect such gifts. Or, if more convenient, parcels may be left at three depositories in town — at Geo. Y. Deacon's, Cliff Cunningham's, or Bedard Shoe Store.

The repair shop is commencing operations immediately in premises made available by Mr. S. S. Campbell, above the Campbell store.

Garage Business Changes Hands

One of Lachute's biggest garage and dealership establishments changed owners last week—North River Motors Ltd. having been purchased from Canadian Oil Companies Ltd. by J. Emile Lacasse (of Lachute and Hawkesbury) and J. L. Legault (of Legault Bus Lines, Hawkesbury). The new partnership has acquired the business, stock and equipment, but will rent the premises from Canadian Oils.

Mr. Lacasse has been in partnership at Hawkesbury conducting the Lincoln and Mercury agency, but latterly has relinquished his interest in this concern.

George Davis, who has been synonymous with North River Motors since he succeeded the late H. Campbell as its manager in 1944, leaves the business this week, but will probably retain his connection with Canadian Oils in another department of the company's activities. On leaving his position he states he has been happy in the confidence of the local public, and trusts the new proprietors will enjoy the same good patronage and support.

The Sights You See

Those old enough to remember when the horse-and-buggy was typical of Main Street conveyances, may sometimes stop to remark on the variety of today's traffic, even in this town of moderate size.

In two hurried trips from the newspaper plant to the post-office yesterday, occupying perhaps eight minutes of our day, we observed the following:

(1) An immense self-propelled crane, (estimated 30-35 foot wheelbase and overhanging span) passing through town at a speed exceeded only by a through-freight transport going in the opposite direction.

(2) A Papineau County truck, eastbound, carrying a complete automobile — with occupants seated in the car as nonchalant as if driving under their own power.

(3) A passenger automobile with two deer aboard the front fenders; a party of hunters grouped around having themselves photographed — all on a busy thoroughfare.

Brother Appointed to High Office in Legion

The brother of Ord Anderson, resident of Elizabeth Street, Lachute, was recently promoted as General Secretary of the Canadian Legion, in succession to the late George Herwig. The appointment of Thomas Duncan Anderson to this post was made at the Legion's Dominion Council meeting in Ottawa. It is noted by the Brownsburg "Bulletin" that Mr. Anderson is a graduate of the University of Manitoba. He had a fine overseas record, including 14 months' operational service in R.C.A.F. Beaufighters and Mosquitoes. Promoted to Flight Lieutenant, he was for eight months chairman of the Air Crew Selection Board and the Air Crew Commissioning Board at Warrington, England.

Pianist, Violinist Linked Fortunes As Concert Team

SEASON'S FIRST RECITAL IN COMMUNITY CONCERTS NEXT MONDAY

Two young Americans with the will to excel and the power to fulfill their highest aims in art, are pianist Samuel Sorin and violinist James De la Fuente, who appear in joint concert at the Auditorium here next Monday, November 7, in the first of this season's Community Concert series.

In their ancestry these two artists combine almost all the strains of freedom-loving blood that go into the making of America.

Samuel Sorin was born in Detroit, of music-loving parents who gave their sons every advantage. His brother was an excellent violinist and Samuel played the piano from the age of six. He was an honor student in school, but winning the Michigan State Contest for high school pianists gave point to his chief interest, music. Aged 12, in competition with 23,000 others in the Greater Detroit competition, he won a grand piano! This solved a problem, since he had been walking eight miles a day to practice at a relative's house. Later he won the $1,000 prize of the National Federation of Music Clubs, and the Schubert Memorial Award.

James De la Fuente was born in New York, but spent his boyhood in Atlanta, Ga. At a very early age he began the study of music under the tutelage of his mother, who having been left a widow when James was a baby, had taken up piano teaching as a profession. He began studying piano, but on hearing records by Kreisler and Albert Spalding, he determined to play the violin, and entered the Atlanta Conservatory of Music. After a short interval of study, he played for Albert Spalding, who recognized his potentialities as a concert violinist. At 11 he was a winner in numerous music contests, and on his graduation in Atlanta was awarded a six-year fellowship at the Juilliard Graduate School.

Hector Lamarche Former Mayor and Business Leader

MANY CITIZENS ATTEND FUNERAL RITES

The Late Hector Lamarche

Among those prominent in the progress of this town during the past quarter-century was Hector Lamarche, ex-mayor and industrialist, whose death occurred at his home here last Friday at the age of 60.

President of the Lachute Creamery Ltd., the late Mr. Lamarche was a prominent and progressive citizen. With the aid of his sons he built up a successful industry manufacturing butter and dairy products, here in Lachute.

He was born at St. Philippe d'Argenteuil on January 8, 1889, the same year as the parish church was erected in that village. In 1911 he was married to Miss Delia Fortier, at St. André Avelin. He engaged in various occupations — as a farmer, merchant and carriage maker at St. Philippe — until 1919 when he removed with his family to a farm at French Hill, Ont. In 1924 he came to Lachute, organizing the industry which has grown to considerable proportions under the name of Lachute Creamery Ltd. . . Towards the end of last year, on the 25th anniversary of the founding of this establishment, he was honored with a membership in the Pioneers of the Dairy Industry, a group of veteran manufacturers.

The late Hector Lamarche was a third degree K. of C. He took an active part in numerous social, religious and municipal projects, in which he was valued by his coworkers for his ability and keen desire to serve. He was active in the construction and advancement of the Ste. Anastasie Church, and served as a warden of that church.

In 1933, and again in 1935, he was elected to the Town Council, and became mayor of Lachute in 1941.

The late Mr. Lamarche is mourned by his wife; five sons, Horace, Laurent, Félicien, Gaetan and Claude; and three daughters, Bella (Mme Rodrigue Chevrier), Jeanne d'Arc, and Thérèse (Mme Georges Clermont). He is survived also by his sisters, (Berthe) Mme Joseph Grignon, (Rose Alba) Mme Fortunat Deslauriers, and his brothers Léonidas, Albert, Ernest, Romuald, Ronaldo and Fernando Lamarche.

A large and representative gathering attended the funeral rites, conducted by the Rev. Fr. Vanier, Superior of Villa St. Martin, Montreal, at Ste. Anastasie Parish Church on Wednesday morning.

Monseigneur Labelle, former curé of the parish, now of Montreal, was present, while many members of the clergy from neighboring parishes and elsewhere took part.

Among delegations attending to pay their last tribute of respect were a group representing the Dairy Industry of this province, the Knights of Columbus, la Ligue Sacré Coeur, the Mayor and Council of Lachute, besides the parliamentary representatives of this and neighboring constituencies, and many other notables.

Honorary pall-bearers were five brothers and Albini Lamarche, a cousin of the late Mr. Lamarche.

Veterans to Parade for Remembrance Rites

The Remembrance Day rites in Lachute will be arranged along lines similar to previous years. The veterans of Legion Branch No. 70, and members of the various juvenile groups, will again take part. Veterans will meet at 10.30 at the Legion Hall on Foundry Street, then proceeding to the Auditorium where the observances will commence at 10.45 a.m. under chairmanship of Mayor Léopold Carrière. Members of the clergy will conduct the service, and it is expected that Philippe Valois, M.P., and W.M. Cottingham, M.L.A., will be present to address the assembly. This will be followed by the gathering of children and the general public at the Cenotaph, and the laying of wreaths.

Poppy Sales A Prelude to Annual Remembrance Day Anniversary

The annual Poppy Campaign will be brought before the local public commencing this week-end, and it is timely to give thought to the aims and objects of this canvass.

The recent opening of a new Memorial Hall by Lachute branch of the Canadian Legion may be regarded as evidence of perseverance and prestige in this great organization, of which Lachute forms a minor segment. Now as a soundly organized body across the Dominion, the Legion carries appreciable weight; the veterans have a voice and influence in the peacetime progress for which they gave so much in time of war. . . And this is just and fitting.

The growing importance of the Legion, however, is but one side of the picture. On the other side are a proportion of veterans permanently impaired in health and barred from an active livelihood — also the wives left widowed, and families left fatherless, who still proudly carry on.

The Poppy Fund is not for Legion memorials and Legion finances, it is a succor to veterans in personal privation and distress, and to dependents in need. The Poppy — emblem of this humanitarian aid — is actually fabricated by ex-servicemen disabled by wounds or sickness. The purchase price goes as revenue to the Vetcraft Shops employing these men, while local profits from the canvass accrue to the locally administered Poppy Fund.

These facts deserve earnest consideration, so that the Poppy Campaign will receive generous support throughout this district.

New Angles on Safety Theme by Rotary Speaker

STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF THE HUMAN ELEMENT

Dan A. Gasper, superintendent of the Canada Cement Co. plant at Hull, Que., was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club on Thursday evening of last week. Dan is well known among the clubs of the entire Rotary District and, because of his ability as a speaker, is in great demand in this capacity.

Mr. Gasper is a native of Cape Breton, N.S., and a Civil Engineer by profession. He has been a member of the Hull Rotary Club for five years, having acted in various official capacities, including a term as president. He served in the First Great War, and was also keenly active during the last war in connection with Red Cross work and Victory Loan Campaigns.

The subject of his address was "Let There Be Light". As one who has been actively interested in safety, not only in industry but also in all other fields as well as the home, he approached the problem from a new angle. He maintained that the great majority of accidents occurred because those concerned did not have the right mental attitude. This may be due to any number of reasons — dissatisfaction, worry, unhappy home life, or ill-health.

The speaker briefly reviewed the developments which have taken place in industry, especially during the last 50 years. He pointed out that prior to the turn of the century very little consideration, if any, was given to the worker. If he took sick or met with an accident, there was just nothing to be done about it. Employers, for the most part, drove their employees unmercifully. They attempted to extract the greatest possible amount of work for the least amount of pay. . . About 50 years ago these conditions began to change. Employers began to notice that their profits would be just as large or perhaps larger if their employees were happy and contented. Then, of course, workers began to form unions in order to give them the power to attempt to correct many of the evils which existed. . . Despite the great strides which had been made to prevent accidents both in industry and other types of business, the death toll, the total number maimed, and the cost of accidents today, are appalling.

The speaker maintained that the chief reason for this was the fact that sufficient recognition was not given to the importance of the human element. Industry has developed the trades and crafts so that, in many cases, as much as 98% of the work is being done by machinery. But something has been overlooked or entirely forgotten, the human being, whose presence is still necessary. The speaker quoted statistics which proved that where workers were happy and contented, the accident ratio was lowest.

Harold Barrie introduced the speaker, and Stewart Jones expressed the thanks of his fellow Rotarians.

Judge Presides On Civil Suits

CONGRATULATES CONFRERE ON APPOINTMENT

Justice Liguori Lacombe, of St. Jerome, presided at several cases in the county court here recently — suits varying from slander to collection of damages from a tenant (in which judgment is pending), and two cases against hotelkeepers for infraction of the National Revenue Act (in both of which fines of $25 were levied, with costs).

At the opening of court last Monday, Judge Lacombe took occasion to publicly congratulate a colleague, Mr. Georges H. Héon, K.C., upon his appointment to a judgeship in the Magistrates' Court of the District of Montreal, and wished him many years in which to enjoy his judicial duties.

Per Capita Outlay On Liquor $30.96, Education $13.70

DOMINION STATISTICS ARE CITED IN LEAFLET BY TEMPERANCE LEAGUE

"Which Paid Better Dividends?" is the title of a revealing leaflet distributed at a temperance service of the united Protestant congregations, last Sunday evening in the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church. Following is the full text of the article, distributed by the Quebec Temperance League:

Which of the two below was the better investment for Canada in 1947?

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimates that 525 million dollars' worth of liquor was consumed in the Dominion in 1947. This includes the tourist trade and 98 million dollars on "re-sale profit." The total "apparent consumption" was 159,108,475 gallons, valued by the Provincial Liquor Commissions at $423,959,348. Giving the tourist trade the benefit of the 98 million dollars re-sale profit, plus 8% on the balance (a generous allowance) this leaves $388,856,760 worth of liquor drunk by Canadians in 1947. The increase in ten years over 1937 was 265% in cost, 138.5% in quantity, while the population increase was 13.86%. This gives the following averages for 1947: Per capita, $30.96; per household, $131.00; per drinker, $78.61 — the drinker average based on 64% (Gallup Poll) of the adult population.

The total cost of public school education in 1947 was $168,870,606, which averages — per capita $13.70; per household, $57.16.

For the Province of Quebec, using the Quebec Liquor Commission annual reports, with the Dominion Bureau of Statistics population figures, we have:

Averages — per capita, $25.50; per household, $127.54; per drinker (64% of adults) $66.34.

The total revenue for public school education in the Province of Quebec was approximately $34,467,266, which averages — per capita, $9.28; per household, $46.63.

The increase of liquor consumption in the province over 1937 was — in cost 243%, in quantity, 108%, while the population increased 18.18% . . .

"The extra cost for alcoholism and its results in industry, in rehabilitation, in lost income, in crime, is not given. Probably, like the cost in heartbreak, in broken homes and such, it is incalculable", concludes the article.

Gatineau LINES

"Waste Not, Want Not"

"Waste not, want not" says the old proverb — and it is certainly one that can be applied to electricity these days.

Many of our customers may remember the fall and winter periods of a year ago when water levels were dangerously low; when all through the neighboring province of Ontario there was strict rationing of electricity; when Gatineau Power avoided rationing to its domestic customers partly because those customers responded so well to its appeals to conserve power.

The same low-water level seasons are with us again now, as during the summer months lack of rainfall has required drawing an a substantial volume of water from our reservoirs far up in the Gatineau Hills. As regards water supply, we are a bit better off than we were this time last year. But our customers are using more electricity too! Once again we must appeal to everybody's good judgment so that electricity is not wasted between now and the spring.

Already the pinch is beginning to be felt elsewhere. Already there are restrictions on the use of water heaters, space heaters, store lighting and other things in Ontario. Here in the Gatineau area we think we may be able to avoid such restrictions — but it can be done only if every customer co-operates by saving power wherever possible.

Electric water heaters, electric stoves, pumps, motors, washers, irons and toasters — these are the things which are heavy users of power. Lights are, by comparison, small consumers of electricity. We mention this because sometimes people feel they are helping a lot by turning off an unneeded light — forgetting that a water heater left on needlessly may use 50 times as much power! By all means, we advocate turning off unnecessary lights, but it may well be that many other wasteful practices are going unnoticed.

Gatineau has stored up every possible drop of water since the end of last winter. It is making the most possible use out of that water in the months ahead. The situation is somewhat better than it was last year. If we can have the full co-operation of our customers we hope that we can pull through to next spring without electricity rationing to our domestic customers — but we need that co-operation to do it.

Did You Know?

That each gallon of electrically-heated water wasted from a tap means hundreds of gallons of water wasted at the power plant.

Pianist and Violinist Linked Their Fortunes

Sorin's studies led him meanwhile to this same school, where it is the custom for advanced pianists to be given their choice between accompanying and teaching. Sorin wished to teach, but without knowing this, Albert Spalding, who was a great admirer of his talent, requested that he play for all of his pupils. It was in this way that, for the first time, Sorin became acquainted with De la Fuente, who was at that time Spalding's ace pupil.

Both Sorin and De la Fuente married fellow-students at Juilliard, Mrs. Sorin being Edith Wise, pianist, and Mrs. De la Fuente, Helen Bacchus, violinist (now a member of the Bary Ensemble, which will visit Lachute later this season).

After graduation, both remained connected with Juilliard — De la Fuente representing the school in Conway, Arkansas, where he was also instructor in fencing, knife fighting and bayonet tactics with the A.S.T.P. Unit at Hendrix College. Until the close of the war he combined his specialized Army instruction with concert work, conducting, teaching chamber music, giving concerts and lecture recitals to colleges in all sections of the States. In the summer of 1945, De la Fuente travelled by air throughout the South Pacific on a U.S.O. tour and was on Guam when hostilities with Japan ended. His programs of classical music known as "Concert Time" received one of the highest ratings of any production in the forward areas of the Pacific Theatre of Operations.

Sorin, who had already won acclaim on a tour comprising 72 concerts, entered the Transport Corps as a private and rose to the rank of Lieutenant, serving with the armed forces for three years. Upon his release from the service, for more than a year he devoted himself to preparing a coast-to-coast recital tour. De la Fuente's concerts have since brought him fame in all America's largest cities and towns, and in hamlets too.

These two artists pooled their resources — giving recitals under the auspices of clubs, church and civic groups. Their results were so successful that they were booked for a series of joint concerts by Columbia Artists Management, Inc. — and through this medium the Lachute Community Concerts Association hails their appearance here as an auspicious opening for the 1949-50 season.

The Elusive Venison

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — It was the hour of midnight. Shakespeare describes it thus: "It is now the very witching time of night; when churchyards yawn, and hell itself breathes out contagion to this world; Now could I drink hot blood and do such business as the bitter day would quake to look on". . .

Well, our midnight was not altogether as melodramatic as that, and although the business we have to report cannot be said to "quake the bitter day", it was nonetheless a strange bit of business. It was all on account of a drink — not hot blood; just cold beer. Three young hunters recently were flushed with the success of bagging a doe, and returned to Brownsburg rather proud and somewhat elated. They called into one of the hotels and toasted their kill, to the accompaniment of the usual sport stories. Those assembled therein went out to see the evidence, a fine doe strapped to the side of the car. After a few more toasts the three departed to divide the spoils, but — you guessed it; when they reached their car there was nothing to divide — the doe was gone. This time rifles were of little use in pursuing the chase, so they called upon the Police Chief and related their sad story. It was 1.30 a.m., but the chief went on the search, and after about one hour's hunting returned to the hotel with the doe intact. He had found the venison concealed in the trunk of a car — a taxi. The taximan in accounting for the deer said, "Someone played a trick on him". He was charged with possession and requested to tell it to the judge. . Good hunting, we say.

A Man's World?

THE WOMEN still say it's a man's world — sometimes we wonder. The sage who remarked that he was head of the house, but his wife was the neck, said plenty.

From all sides we are bombarded with statistics about the big stick women wield in the nation's economy. They spend an almost unbelievable percentage of the weekly payroll. Financial authorities report that they hold controlling interests in investments. In short, from all that is said and written on the subject, the little woman has the first and last word on the disposal of her lord and master's income, no matter what tax bracket it falls in.

Not only that. The nation's advertising today is largely directed at madam. Newspapers have stepped up the number of women's pages until they form a considerable chunk of the public's reading fare.

The pay-off came the other day when we saw an automobile advertised as "the most beautiful thing on wheels." Not a word about efficiency, mileage per gallon or details of mechanical operation that a man checks before making an outlay of a couple of thousand dollars. Then frequently the upholstery comes in colors to match "her" wardrobe, the trunk is roomy for grocery shopping and the wide vision windows keep one up to date socially.

Of course it may be good psychology. Get the little woman to lure her man into the motor showroom, and then go ahead with the less glamorous but more essential details of vehicular equipment.

We could agree with that point of view if it were not that such zany attitudes have invaded precincts sacred to women. A kitchen is no longer full of labor-saving devices so that the housewife can escape its confines as fast as possible. Interior decorators now aim at making it lovely enough to loaf in.

Thirsty towels come rainbow-hued. Washing machines are so streamlined and alluring that the charlady can come attired in her pink-tea clothes on washdays.

Is this overlay of fluff, disguising the inside workings of everyday monotony, a serious indication of the trend of the times, of superficiality and escape from fundamentals? Or is it the touch of gaiety and charm this old world needs as it does its daily twirl?

Thoughts on National Radio Week

A FRIEND of ours never listens to the radio. . . Well, hardly ever. . . He does count on it first thing in the morning to tell him the time. One morning he snapped it on and virtually hit the jackpot. As the machine warmed up and the sound came swelling in, an announcer's voice was saying: "The time is exactly twenty-nine minutes after seven o'clock, Eastern Daylight Saving Time". Inordinately pleased that not an unnecessary word had to be listened to, our friend snapped it off at once and returned to his buttered toast, the morning paper propped in front of him. None of this new-fangled canned news for him.

Considering the distinctly limited use to which our friend puts his sound machine, his dismay when it failed to respond one day was entirely disproportionate. Lengthy consultations were held with various radio mechanics and the machine was eventually removed for repair purposes, but only on condition that one in perfect working order be substituted without delay. We pondered this one for some time, and arrived at the conclusion that what had knocked our friend for a loop was the interruption of a small personal service — perhaps only comparable to a luxurious dream moment when the butler draws back the curtains and informs one respectfully: "Good morning, sir. The time is 7.29, sir."

We have all become, in varying degrees, dependent on the personal service that radio offers. We can all have, at stated hours, our symphony concerts, our dance bands, our sportcasts, our educational programs, our church services and our dramas. WE even like to think that people sometimes tune in Neighborly News on Sunday mornings, because we view this broadcast as but an extension of the personal service rendered their respective communities by the 200--or-more weekly newspapers which come under review.

In a few short years since the voice of radio has been introduced to us in our homes, it has become a member of the family, whether our personal tastes label the voice a nuisance or a blessing. This personal feeling which we have developed for radio has not grown by chance. The voice which speaks to you (and the men and women — there are hundreds and thousands of them — behind that voice) appreciate the fact that it is not only an invited guest but one of the family. Like a member of the family, it can become very annoying at times. However, let us hope that age will mature and mellow the voice of radio as it does most of the members of the family.

(Sentiments on the observation of National Radio Week, October 29 to November 5 — written by Don Fairbairn, spokesman for the weekly press, heard Sunday mornings over the CBC in "Neighborly News".)

Letters to the Editor

WITH AN ear to the sounding-board of public appreciation, the editor is keen to learn what features of the weekly newspaper are most acceptable. While editorials rate far short of a priority, we have ample evidence that they are read. Among certain readers, however, there is one feature of the editorial page which commands avid interest, and that is, the Letters to the Editor.

These letters, when they appear, afford an outlet for some collective or personal "beef", and they are popular undoubtedly because other readers share their sentiments. Newspapers — The Watchman specifically — are usually glad to accord hospitality to such writers for this reason, but only when their complaints are based on reason and not spite, and only when such complaints are constructive. There is always the provision, of course, that these opinions are "not necessarily those of the editor".

One other detail in this department should not be overlooked — which is the object and purpose of our present editorial. . . The Watchman does not insist on publishing the writer's name; he may contribute anonymously if he so wishes, but the editor does require to have the writer's name and signature as evidence of good faith.

A signed letter appearing on this page recently drew the attention of municipal authorities sincerely seeking to remedy the writer's complaints; they endeavored to contact him, but found that his signature, apparently genuine, failed to identify him—there was no such person. . . More recently, ourselves having cause to write to a correspondent before publishing his views, The Watchman's letter was returned by the postal authorities — the name or the address, possibly both, being incorrect or fictitious.

To such writers we repeat, this is plainly abusing a privilege. If any correspondent has a sincere complaint, and would take advantage of the local newspaper to air his grievance, it is poor ethics to mislead the editor on his identity. The least one can do is to give his correct name and address.

DESPITE her boasts, the industrial progress of Russia is desperately slow. Production per man-hour is far below the leading nations of the world.

Ontario Visitor Views Taxation in Quebec

TO THE EDITOR

Maple View Farm,
R.R. 4, Hawkesbury, Ont.

Dear Sir:

I spent 10 days back home in Quebec recently, and what was most to be remembered was the taxes now being paid by Quebecers. To me Quebec "autonomy" is costing Quebecers huge sums and is killing the province. . . Everything taxable is taxed, with a promise of more under the cry of Quebec's autonomy.

Already there is a steady move to Ontario to get away from the taxes.

If these huge taxes were giving Quebecers better things it would not be so bad, but such is not the case. Quebec roads in Wentworth and Chatham are a disgrace. Route 31, for example, has not been improved in 20 years and I was told that it is to be closed this winter, just as it was years ago. The 500 or 600 feet graded this past year is so rough one's tires are cut. . . My friends tell me all the Laurentian roads except the Ste. Agathe highway are in bad shape.

One would think that the Lachute, Chatham and Wentworth councils would be eager to have some of the huge sums collected spent on making highways.

I meet many fellow farmers from Quebec now as they come to Hawkesbury and other towns to buy margarine. They sell their milk but see no reason why they should pay 60 cents a pound for butter.

My automobile costs me $8 a year and $1 driver's license. In Quebec it was $20, and $2.50 for driver's license; then here there is no sales tax like in Quebec, and our schools and school books are free.

Autonomy is an expensive thing for Quebec. Everywhere I went on my visit there was discouragement. Surely there is no reason why Quebec Canadians should have to pay such high taxes and not have even better roads, schools, etc., than Ontario, where we pay less than half as much.

Yours for a better Quebec —

Z. A. Demers

Geography Studied From Adopted Ship

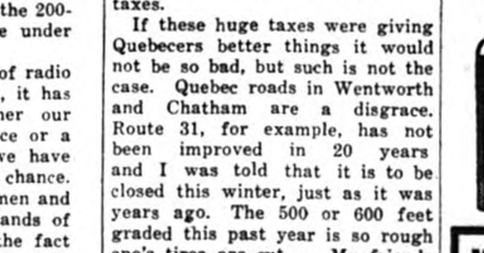

Oslo (CP) — Teaching geography to Norwegian public school children is made easy when the youngsters have a ship of their own in which to sail around the world.

The pupils never leave their class room, but many schools have adopted a ship in the country's big merchant fleet and follow its sailings in far-away seas by studying the countries it visits.

Thus it was an exciting event for 40 youngsters from Slemmestad when they came to Oslo to see their own ship, "Tatra".

They had followed the ship's movements for years. Once aboard, they scanned the ship from stem to stern.

"The 'Tatra' is something special at our school", said principal Ola Sveen. "Her picture is hanging in most classrooms, they've followed her movements throughout the world and have exchanged countless letters with members of the crew."

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

GIVE OUR KIDS THE "BRAKES"

We can't expect little children to avoid traffic dangers unless we train them to do so at home—and at school. It's our job as parents to see that they learn and practice all the rules of safety. It's our responsibility as motorists to drive carefully at all times—but particularly in residential areas and near schools. Let's give our kiddies the "brakes" and help to reduce the accident toll! To save a life—or a lifetime of suffering is one of the most important aims of "Good Citizenship".

"IN BROWNSBURG"

Specially Contributed

Winter Sports

The organization devoted to erecting an ice-rink starts its campaign to obtain funds this month. The task before the Association is a big one. The proposed rink is for the youth of Brownsburg, now and for the years to come. The support towards its erection must come from Brownsburg, now and for years to come. There may be assistance from government sources, but first a clear and definite assurance of determined self-support must be established before any reliance can be placed on other assistance, be it government or other.

There are 600 families in Brownsburg, and on the present basis of calculated cost each family must subscribe $150 to put the campaign over the top. This may seem a considerable effort on the part of many families, but if we take the distribution of cost per capita, it works out at about $30. During the war years this amount was rather small potatoes when compared with the various campaigns to collect funds at the standard that Brownsburg was so justly noted for. . . When the canvasser calls, the people of Brownsburg will rise to the occasion with civic pride and spirit.

Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en brought forth its quota of spooks and witches, and the cry of "shell out" issuing from their uncommunicative lips was satisfied by tributes of nuts and candies, apples and cookies. The spirits of destruction were not so much on the rampage as demanding intervention from the law, but the usual missing gate or upset vehicle was visible evidence of the night's events when the dawn cast its peaceful glow the following morning. There was a higher proportion of the typical witch on the rounds this year. The old woman enjoying under the cloak of anonymity another fling at flamboyant youth. "That ends this strange eventful history — second childishness."

Accident

The recent tragedy suffered by the Denis family cast a gloom over the district. The death of the little girl accompanying her sick brother to a Montreal hospital, was a heart-rending occurence. Cyrille Denis also suffered a broken and bruised body, as well as a sad and bruised heart. The sympathy of the district goes out to this sorrowing family.

Divorce in Quebec

Legislation proposed in the Federal Commons would bring Quebec's divorce cases before the Exchequer Court rather than before Parliament. It was introduced by Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg Centre). . . Queried on this the premier termed it "evil legislation" because it would give the "impression of additional approbation to divorce to those who favor it."

The Frontier

The untapped iron ore resources of Ungava came back into the news when Trade Minister Howe in a Montreal address said these potentialities might well turn the balance in favor of rapid development of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Seaway

He reviewed what he called Canada's "prosperous", well balanced and booming economy", touched on Quebec titanium discoveries and the current building of a titanium refinery at Sorel and said development of the Ungava iron deposits is closely linked with the St. Lawrence Seaway plan to provide low-cost water transportation from the mines to the Great Lakes steel industry.

Red Shield Appeal

The subscription list to the Salvation Army's annual campaign for funds, is still open, and the local chairman, Mr. Eric A. Hibbard, would appreciate gifts from any residents intending to contribute, so that the collection may be terminated. Readers are requested to remit their donations to the local Bank of Montreal on behalf of this worthy cause.

STRIKE THREAT WINS

Birch River, Man. (CP) — A threatened strike by high school students, in support of requests for a new stove and more windows in their one-room community hall classroom, has succeeded. The improvements were made and the students stayed at school. A new four-room school is also planned.

Lady Resident Mourned By Many Friends

Late Mrs. Thos. Patterson

It is with regret we record the death of one of Lachute's respected lady residents, Mrs. Thos. Patterson, who died at her home here on October 25.

The late Mrs. Patterson was formerly Mary Elizabeth Sutton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Sutton, of St. Amedée, Que., and was 79 years of age. Mr. Patterson predeceased her six years ago. For the past two years Mrs. Patterson had been in failing health, but bore her infirmity with a true Christian fortitude.

She was a lifelong member of the Anglican Church, and for the many years that she resided in Lachute she was always keenly devoted to St. Simeon's Church and the Ladies' Guild.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Jas. Curren, and one brother, John Sutton, both of St. Amedée, Que.

The funeral service, conducted by the Rev. C. R. Lang, was held at St. Simeon's Church last Thursday afternoon and was largely attended. Burial took place in Lachute Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were her five nephews, Russell Sutton, Garnet Curren, Earl Sutton, Norman and Oscar Patterson, and Hugh Martin.

Old Seigniory Resident Died Suddenly Tuesday

Late Mrs. Wm. Hale

A resident of the Seigniory settlement for the past 30 years, Mrs. Wm. Hale passed away suddenly on Tuesday, at the age of 76.

The former Miss Ada Hope Blevin, of Liverpool, England, she was married to William Hale 55 years ago in Montreal. In 1919, after serving in the First Great War, Mr. Hale moved to this district and took up farming.

Her husband and six children remain to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother — William Hale, of Scarboro, Ont.; James and Richard, of Montreal; Margaret (Mrs. Wm. Hands), of Ottawa; Isabel (Mrs. Wm. Rolfe), of Greenfield Park, Que.; Mabel (Mrs. Thos. Harris), of Brantford, Ont.

The funeral takes place this afternoon, Thursday, at 2.30 o'clock, followed by interment at Lachute Cemetery. . . Many friends and relatives will attend to pay tribute to one whom they had learned to love and respect.

Fellow war-veterans of Mr. Hale will serve as pall-bearers — Messrs. E. M. Jones, Earl McMartin, Chas. L. Duncan, Roy P. Fraser, James Duncan and R. A. Giles.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Women's Guild at St. Andrews East

(Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — Mrs. John McLeod was hostess to the Women's Guild of the United Church on the afternoon of October 26. It was agreed that a Valentine Tea be held in February. Three members who gave up their connection as they are leaving St. Andrews East—Mrs. Ed. Morrison, Mrs. C. Leishman and Mrs. V. F. Lilly — were presented each with a dainty china teacup and saucer. Miss Lamb spoke of Mrs. Lilly's faithful service as secretary, and Mrs. Clifford Miller expressed regret at the loss of the friendly services of Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Leishman. Mrs. McLeod was assisted by Miss Phyllis McLeod and Mrs. Lilly in serving refreshments.

Ministerial Association

The Argenteuil Protestant Ministerial Association will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, November 7, at 10 a.m. in the Maple Avenue Baptist Church, Brownsburg. The Rev. G. T. Spriggs will be in charge of the devotional period. All ministers are urged to be present, as the annual business meeting is to be held, also the program for the "Week of Prayer" is to be drawn up.

Dedication of Font, Triple Baptism Held At Brownsburg United

Brownsburg — At the morning service in the Brownsburg United Church last Sunday, a beautiful baptismal font was dedicated by the minister, the Rev. S. J. Pike. Purchased by contributions from families and homes where baptisms had already been administered, and sponsored by the Cradle Roll department of the Sunday School — this wish and intention of the late Miss Anna Hanson, former superintendent, became a reality, carried out by a committee consisting of Miss W. White, Miss Eleanor Hanson and Mrs. H. White. Miss E. Hanson has carried on the role of superintendent which was so ably filled by her late sister.

The service on Sunday morning included the sacrament of baptism, when the infant sons of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Reilly, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Paquette, were baptized receiving the names, respectively, of Donald Bruce, Philip Barr and Bernard George.

Next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, in keeping with the Missionary and Maintenance project of the church observed this month, there will be an exchange of pulpits between the minister and the Rev. C. B. McLauchlan, of Montreal. A week from next Sunday evening, November 13, there will be a missionary picture-recording.

The flowers at this church last Sunday were in memory of the late George Richard Hardie, placed there by his family. Mr. Hardie died October 27, 1948.

Dedication Service and Congregational Supper Recently at Lakefield

Lakefield — The Lord Bishop of Montreal held a dedication service recently in Holy Trinity Church, when three memorial tablets were dedicated, also the new lighting system recently installed.

The memorial tablets were in honor of the following:

The Rev. H. P. Mount, given by his wife and family.

Mrs. Hugh Mount, given by her husband.

Mrs. E. Richards, for many years president of Lakefield branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, given by the Lakefield W.A.

The two sanctuary lights dedicated on this occasion had been donated by Mrs. Thomas McCambly, and the two entrance lights by Mr. Kenneth Trickey.

The Rev. Stanley Andrews accompanied Bishop Dixon and took part in the dedication service.

A supper was served in the Gibb Hall prior to the service, when a large gathering enjoyed a bountiful meal served by the ladies of the congregation.

The rector and Mrs. Baugh take occasion to thank publicly all those who helped to make this occasion such a success — spiritually, socially and financially.

BACK TO CHURCH

There is no lack of room in all of this town's churches, and the clarion call for workers was never more clear and insistent. We will have a better community in every respect if we place the church in the midst.

St. John Ambulance Long-lived in Tradition Of Selfless Service

St. John Ambulance workers, who daily throughout the Province of Quebec give First Aid treatment and First Aid instruction without pay and without any charge to the public, have launched an appeal for funds to cover the essential expenses of their humanitarian work. The province-wide objective of the St. John Ambulance Appeal (October 31 to November 16) is $285,000. Funds are urgently needed, said Lt.-Col. J. Darley LeMoyne, president of the Provincial Council, for bandages, medical supplies, First Aid manuals, the operation of First Aid posts and ski huts, costs of the home-nursing service, the operation of ambulances, and such services as blood-typing and serum banks.

The St. John Ambulance workers in their familiar black uniforms with distinctive white belts and white haversacks containing their First Aid equipment, are long in a tradition of selfless service to the public, for their Order of St. John of Jersalem goes back eight centuries. . . St. John Ambulance work began in Canada in 1891 under English direction; and the Canadian association was formed in 1914.

At sports events, at parades and public meetings, at exhibitions and fairs, wherever First Aid treatment may be required, St. John Ambulance workers are on hand, without pay for their time, and without charge to the public or to organizers of the event they are attending. Their function is to serve where needed, to be prepared for disaster, for fire and blood and famine, and they ask for funds so that they might save lives tomorrow.

A saving, healing, baptizing Faith in the Lord Jesus, with a confidence in His soon and sudden Return.

Jesus' Boyhood

Little is known of Jesus' boyhood. As he grew he learned the carpenter's trade and worked at it until about 30 years of age. During that time his life was doubtless that of the ordinary dweller in Nazareth. People knew nothing of his growing in their midst. At the same time, however, the people of Palestine were restless and were looking for the Messiah.

During the month of November, the CBC "The Way of the Spirit", a series of religious plays broadcast on Sundays at 1.30 p.m., tells how Jesus himself was preparing to bring the Kingdom of God to his people. It pictures the years immediately preceding the beginning of his public life — the conflict still in men's minds as to the manner of his coming; the preaching of John the Baptist, the forerunner of Jesus, and his revelation that the Messiah was in their midst; Jesus' baptism by John the Baptist and his temptation in the desert; how John and Andrew became Christ's first followers; and Jesus' first miracle.

"The Way of the Spirit" is written by Canon J. E. Ward and Earle Grey, and is produced in the CBC Montreal studios by Rupert Caplan.

The Search for Peace

Peace is as sure as tomorrow's sunrise and just as independent of men.

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulders, and his name shall be called Wonderful Councillor, the Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace.

Of the increase of his government, and Peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his Kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with justice and with judgment, from henceforth even forever, the zeal of the Lord of Hosts will perform this.

Wedding Solemnized Recently at Hamilton

Allan - MacVicar

St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Hamilton, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, October 15, at 3.30 o'clock, when Margaret Jean Elizabeth, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan MacVicar, was united in marriage to Mr. William Stuart Allan, only son of Mrs. Grace Allan and the late Mr. William Allan. The Rev. W. I. McLean officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was tastefully decorated with standards of white and yellow gladioli. Mr. Thomas Sisman, the church organist, provided the wedding music while Mr. Clifford Hansen, soloist, sang "Because" and "Through the Years".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white slipper satin and Venetian lace fashioned with a moulded lace bodice and sleeves ending in lily points over the hands. The picture skirt had a bustle of the lace and satin, forming a long fan train. Her veil, of Swiss nylon net with appliqués of satin at the hemline, extended the full length of her train and was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls and bugle beads. Her only ornament was a pendant of amethysts and pearls, which had been worn by the bride's mother. She carried a cascade of red roses and white pom-pons.

Attending the bride were Audrey MacVicar, her sister, as maid-of-honor; Norma MacVicar (another sister), Betty Buchanan, Shirley Stuart and Marion Smith, cousins of the groom, as bridesmaids—all dressed alike in gowns of aquamarine satin fashioned with sweetheart necklines, the skirts having scalloped hemlines, draped to the sides over net and falling into slight trains. Their matching mittens extended in points over the hands. They wore headdresses of white miniature 'mums and carried cascade bouquets to match, tied with white satin ribbon. Their only ornaments were pearl necklaces given to them by the bride.

Married recently in St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Allan appear above cutting the cake at the reception following the ceremony. The cake was made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. John Bigelow, of Calumet. Mrs. Allan is the former Margaret Jean Elizabeth MacVicar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan MacVicar. The groom is the son of Mrs. Grace Allan and the late Mr. William Allan, all of Hamilton.

Mr. Stuart MacClary acted as best man for his cousin, and the ushers were Roy MacVicar, brother of the bride, Robert Stuart, cousin of the groom, James Daley and Ronald Dale.

A reception for 110 guests was held at the Brant Inn, the decorations being carried out with white 'mums. The bride's table was centred with a four-tier wedding cake made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. John Bigelow, of Calumet, Que.

Mrs. MacVicar, the bride's mother, received, wearing copper lace over taffeta with dark green accessories and a corsage of Lestra Hibbard roses. Mrs. Allan, the groom's mother, was dressed in mulberry crepe with dove grey accessories, and had a corsage of white gardenias.

Later the happy couple left by motor for a honeymoon trip to New York City and other points, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with navy blue accessories and shortie coat of grey fur fabric — her corsage being of white chrysanthemums. They will reside in Hamilton.

What He Did

Two trucks met on a country road just wide enough for one. Truck driver No. 1, a scrawny frail little man, leaned out of his cab:

"Turn out, you", he shouted. "If ya don't I'll do to you what I did to the last guy who wouldn't turn out for me."

Two-hundred pound muscular driver No. 2, not caring to have trouble, pulled out. But as the other truck rumbled by, he yelled: "What'd ya do to that other guy?"

Hallowe'en Party Held By W. Inst. at Cushing

(Our District Correspondent)

Cushing — Frontier Women's Institute held a successful Hallowe'en party for the children and their parents in Elliott's Hall. Prizes were given for costumes, Mr. and Mrs. D. Clark being first prize-winners in the adult class; they represented a bride and groom of many years ago — the gentleman in knee breeches and the lady in hoops. The second prize went to Mrs. Ross Townsend as an old witch with her broom. Myrtle and Myrna Gaston were prize winners for costumes, also for singing in the amateur contest. Miss V. Heatlie and Miss Wilson, of Lachute, won a prize for their violin duet, and Helen and David Black as youthful singers — Helen also winning a prize for her costume as a little old lady. There were a great many prizes given to the younger ones, also small gifts to those who were not prize-winners. A peanut scramble ended the frolic, and all the little ones went home sleepy but happy.

The Rev. A. G. Moore was master of ceremonies, with Mrs. Moore, Mrs. A. Vowles and Miss E. M. Graham as judges. John Heatlie, Jr., favored with a guitar solo and song, also accompanied his wife and Miss Irma Heatlie in a western song. . . One particularly attractive little costumed person was little Karen Griffith, who represented a pumpkin.

Brownsburg Male Chorus Enters Third Season

Often such ventures are begun with great enthusiasm but after a season or two interest waves. Not so here. Credit for their increasing enthusiasm must go largely to their able and patient conductor, Mr. Warner Norman. With untiring effort and expert leadership he has encouraged them when progress seemed slow, praised them when some difficult passage was mastered. Taking a leaf from the Postmasters' Orders, "neither rain nor sleet, snow, ice, etc. . " has held terrors for him. Befurred and be-mittened, he has "coolly" driven many hundreds of miles to work with his protegés.

Mr. Norman is organist and choirmaster at St. James United Church in Montreal, choirmaster for the Masonic Choir and Montreal Men's Choir. He is frequently heard in radio performances, and his tremendous presentation of the immortal Haydn's "Creation" at St. James United will be long remembered by lovers of sacred music.

For their coming concert, as in the past, the Choir will have Miss Doris Killam as their accompanist. Miss Killam is organist at Douglas Presbyterian Church, Westmount, and has starred in both concert and radio work. She is presently ten of the fingers in Buddy Payne's "Twenty Fingers of Melody".

Featured in the concert of December 6 will be guest artist Mlle José Forgues, who needs no introduction to French-Canadian audiences, as she is well known for her work in radio over the French networks. Mlle Forgues is a past winner of the "Singing Stars of Tomorrow" series, and has sung one season with the New York City Opera Company. As a petite and charming lady of agreeable personality, and as soprano of international repute, her appearance here in Lachute will undoubtedly be one of the musical highlights of the coming season.

ONIONS HELP ARGUMENT

Edmonton (CP) — Two huge onions, weighing about three pounds each, were used to back up an argument by Ross Creek farmers for an irrigation project. Seeking provincial aid, the farmers told the department of agriculture that the onions were grown in an area where farmers had started irrigation on their own.

Cheese Hard to Beat For Nutritive Value

There is no better value in food than cheese. The homemaker who buys cheese receives full value for her money because she does not pay for waste as she does with many other foods.

The grocer's shelves hold old favorites and a great variety of new types of cheese to appeal to every taste. Canadian Cheddar cheese and the processed cheeses derived from it are good enough to maintain a premium on the markets of Britain and there is a demand for it in the United States. Strangely enough, Canadians eat an average of less than four pounds each annually. Surely this is another case of "the prophet hath no honor in his own country".

Perhaps one of the reasons is a prejudice arising from a misconception that cheese is difficult to digest. Cheese, a concentrated food, is so often eaten as an extra at the end of a hearty meal or toughened when cooked, that the blame may be laid on the menu-planner or the cook, rather than the cheese. Cheese, when served as a meat-alternate and combined with other foods and properly cooked, is a valuable part of the meal.

The home economists of the Consumer Section say that proper cooking of cheese implies low temperatures, since high temperature hardens protein. In general, this hardened protein is tough and stringy and naturally more difficult to digest.

Cheese carefully cooked in combination with cereal foods or fruits and vegetables makes a valuable contribution to many meals.

Cheese Sauce

2 Tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, few grains cayenne pepper, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 cup milk, ¾ to 1 cup grated or diced cheese.

Melt butter in top of double boiler. Blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk slowly, stirring until blended. When sauce is smooth and thickened, add cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Yield: about 1¼ cups sauce. Use as rarebit or sauce for vegetables, hard-cooked eggs, macaroni, or noodles, etc.

Macaroni, Tomato and Cheese

One cup macaroni or spaghetti (broken in pieces), 3 tablespoons fat, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 3 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 cups tomato juice, 1 cup grated cheese.

Cook macaroni or spaghetti in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain through a sieve or collander and pour cold water over it to separate the pieces. Melt fat, add chopped onion and cook 3 minutes. Add flour and seasonings, blending well. Add tomato juice and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Stir in cheese. Place a layer of cooked macaroni or spaghetti in greased baking dish. Cover with sauce. Repeat until dish is full, finishing with a layer of sauce and then topping with grated cheese or equal parts of grated cheese and bread crumbs. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., until thoroughly heated, about 30 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Three seams mould the hipline, the flared, inverted pleats extending from them.

The Quebec Women's Institutes are joining with other organizations in observing Girl Guide Week. The Institute, supporting as it does all factors for the betterment of rural living, has always felt the purposes and ideals fostered by the Girl Guide movements are ones that are of real value in mouding the characters of future leaders in the community. Several branches of the Q.W.I. have sponsored such groups, and all assist the work in various ways as the need arises.

"The Girl Guides are performing a valuable service for our young girls", said Mrs. R. Thompson, Q.W.I. president, reporting on a Girl Guide rally she had attended, "and I hope our members will continue to give it deserved support."

"Golden Boy" of Canadian Football

By Wally Izsak

Another football season will soon be over, and with it another great football performer will step off the bridiron and into the memories of football fans across the country.

Football's Golden Boy — Tony Golab — has announced that he is definitely through at the end of this season. Even his opponents probably regret that this must be so. His smashing plunges through the line, his bull-like rushes around end, and his bruising and deadly defensive play will be missed by both the fans and players.

The 31-year-old Golab played himself into the headlines of newspapers across the country and into the heart of every lover of the gridiron game. A flight lieutenant in the R.C.A.F. Transport Command, the handsome blonde bruiser will now concentrate on flying and take his rugby from the stands.

Tony began his football career with a Windsor high school team in 1931 and was a teammate of Toronto Argonauts' famed Joe Krol. In 1938 he moved up to Sarnia Imperials of the Ontario Rugby Football Union and in 1939 — he was only 21 then — joined Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four.

During his 10-year career with the Riders the big guy earned a berth on six all-eastern teams and seven Big Four all-star squads.

Now the combination of injuries he picked up this season and his air force job have combined to force him from the field where his name had become synonymous with good, clean football.

Once Almost Finished

Golab was thought to have been through with the game before. That was just after the war when he returned to civilian life for several months.

Tony joined up in 1941 and went overseas. In 1944 he was stationed on the island of Malta, flying fighter planes. Shot down during a mission over Italy one day he parachuted to safety. But he had to spend several months in hospital with shrapnel-shattered legs. He left the hospital to serve out the war as a flying instructor.

When he returned to Canada and announced he would play football few thought he could make the grade again. But during that first season back — in fact at his first rocking crash into the line — he showed he was still the Golden Boy of old.

And it wasn't until after that first game that many sports writers learned that shrapnel still remained in his legs. We saw for ourselves that day the livid scars left by numerous operations and the bumps produced by shrapnel imbedded under the skin.

This is his final year in football and he wants to make it a successful one. The husky has been on only one Grey Cup winning club — in 1940 when Rough Riders were given the Dominion title by default after the west failed to send a contender east.

He's hoping that his team will come through with the eastern championship this fall and that his injuries will still allow him to play for — and perhaps help win — the Grey Cup.

NATURE UNSPOILED

YOURS TO ENJOY

The SCREECH OWL'S name is a misnomer. He doesn't screech at all—the best he can do is a quavering whinny, which doesn't sound at all savage! He lives on mice and grasshoppers for the most part, and nests in hollow trees, particularly in old orchards. He should always be protected.

Three of the boys, Dave Foreman, Gordon Dewar and Everett Arthurs, attended the McGill-Queen's football game in Montreal, and enjoyed the event in spite of rainy weather. They have now become keen McGill supporters.

The dance held recently in MacIntyre's hall was a success from both a social and a financial angle. The school is indeed grateful to the owner for the use of this hall. It is reported that quite a considerable sum was realized; this money goes towards the purchase of school playground equipment.

Recently, Lowe Bros. Dairy installed a freezer. Now one sees the children supplementing their noon lunches with ice cream. It has been felt by the staff that milk products are highly beneficial to the health.

The sale of Junior Red Cross calendars is now under way. Possibly a youthful salesman has called on you; if not, then you may expect one soon.

The collection of soap wrappers was concluded and the collected wrappers and covers have been shipped to Toronto. The children now await the results of their collection. If successful, they stand to earn quite a handsome prize.

A very interesting, as well as educational film was shown to the pupils on Friday last. The title was "Enchanted Forest". This was the first venture in securing rented films, and if the enthusiasm exhibited by the children is an indication of its benefit, then one would gather it is a worthwhile undertaking.

Lassoed 40-lb. Sturgeon In River Near Ste. Rose

Montreal — While repairing his truck by the Mille-Isles river near Ste. Rose, Ernest Tanguay of Montreal saw a fish jumping close to the bank. He tried to catch it with his hands, but it escaped. Taking a rope from the truck he made a lasso and went after the fish again. Either the sturgeon leaped into the loop or it was a lucky throw, for Tanguay caught it fast, hauled it ashore and dumped it in the truck.

As he drove on toward Ste. Therese he noticed the fish had disappeared from the rear of the truck. He returned to Ste. Rose, where he found a group of citizens in the middle of the street watching the great fish, still jumping.

Tanguay brushed off an offer of $15 for his catch, reclaimed the sturgeon and headed home to show it to his friends. It was still alive when he reached his home, so he filled the bathtub and plopped the 50-inch sturgeon in.

Fish and Game Department officials said Tanguay's catch was perfectly legal. Sturgeon may be caught with nets only by licensed commercial fishermen, but if they want to try for them the way Tanguay did, it's O.K.

Deficits, Alleged Irregularities in Municipal Affairs, Discussed at Meeting of Chatham Ratepayers

M.L.A., Auditor and Quebec Municipal Experts Questioned on Financial Status and Procedure

Decide to Seek Legal Advice with View to Taking Matter to Courts

(Our District Correspondent)

Democracy in action — as exemplified at a meeting in Cushing Stone Hall on Wednesday evening of last week — is a refreshing and satisfying experience. In this time of Iron Curtains, religious persecutions, violated human rights and forced suicides, it is indeed a "good to be alive" feeling to partake in a citizens' forum where the elected and electors, the governed and the government, meet on a common platform and debate the rights and duties of either, their privileges and limitations, their advantages and grievances, without thought of threat or reprisal, without rancour or strife, and in an atmosphere of serious discussion interspersed with good humor yet withal a concerted desire to "let justice be done though the heavens should fall."

The occasion of this interlude in the life of a rural community was the post-election visit of Argenteuil's member of the Legislative Assembly, Mr. W. M. Cottingham, whose itinerary traverses the constituency from one end to the other. . . The Cushing visit was potent, however, with more than ordinary interest, owing to the uneasiness and doubt surrounding the affairs of Chatham Municipal Council within recent months.

Stories of alleged financial shortages, inefficient (or lack of) audits and financial statements, and alleged cloaking or withholding of facts concerning the affairs of the Council . . . alleged repayments to plug immediate leaks, and other unsupported rumors of defalcations . . . highlighted by police scrutiny of the taxpayers attempting to attend council meetings — such stories were rife in the district preceding the advent of the new Council. The recent striking of a special tax rate, with the resignation of the Secretary-Treasurer and the temporary appointment of a new one, served to heighten, rather than to allay, the prevailing doubts and whispers.

Into such an atmosphere Mr. Cottingham, the elected representative of the people, ventured with the firm purpose of dispelling the fog of uncertainty and laying before the people all the facts, palatable or otherwise, with a view of taking competent action to defend the people's rights and possessions, and to restore their Council and local administration to a sound

Fine Performance Opening Program Of Concert Season

Lachute Community Concerts Association held its initial concert of the 1949-50 season at the Auditorium last Monday. The directors' selection of the new duo piano-violin team, Sorin and De la Fuente, proved a decided success, as these talented young musicians gave a really outstanding performance.

Mozart's Rondo from the Sonata in E Flat was the first selection on the program, and this music of the 18th century held much appeal for the audience. The ever beautiful Ave Maria by Schubert followed, and the varied interpretations, with 'double stopping' intonations by Mr. De la Fuente was one of the highlights of the evening.

The Caprice for violin alone, the Recitative and Scherzo by Fritz Kreisler, gave De la Fuente a great opportunity to show his masterful technique as a violinist, and the varied phrasing on all positions of the violin brought appreciative applause from those present.

Brahms' Hungarian Dance No. 1 in G Minor, completed the first part of the program.

Pianist Samuel Sorin then gave two piano solos, "The Maiden and the Nightingale", by Granados, a rendition of light poetical beauty, and a "Ballade" by Chopin, the latter being better known. Mr. Sorin gave a fine demonstration at the piano, and one can easily see why he has had such success with many famous orchestras in the United States.

No evening of classical music is complete without Beethoven, and Sorin and De la Fuente combined again for the great master's Kreutzer Sonata. This rendition, of passionate intensity, again captivated their listeners.

Rev. J. A. Lackey, 20 Years Rector Here, Dies in Ottawa

The Rev. J. A. Lackey, who occupied the Anglican rectorate here for 20 years prior to his retirement in 1932, died last Friday at the home of his son in Westboro, suburb of Ottawa, where he had resided for the past year. Mr. Lackey had frequently visited here among members of St. Simeon's Church and former friends in the parish. He made his home with members of his family, and was in his 84th year at the time of his death.

The Rev. Jacob Albert Lackey was born in Goulbourn Township, educated at Ottawa and Perth, Ont., and after teaching school for five years he studied for the ministry, graduating in 1893. He served 40 years in the clergy in many parishes in Quebec, in the West and the Northwest. He was an Orangeman for almost 65 years.

The Rev. Lackey was married to the former Marcilla Vaughan, who died in 1905. Seven years later he was married to the former Victoria Strachan, who predeceased him in 1924.

Surviving are three sons, Elmer, of Westboro, the Rev. Albert Osborne, of B.C., and Harold, of Stanbridge East, Que., and one daughter, Elsie, in California.

The funeral was held Monday at Stanley's Corner, Ont. A few of his former friends from this parish attended.

W. Inst. Library Opened to Public

In view of the fact that Lachute has no public library, the Lachute Women's Institute at a recent meeting made plans to extend their library facilities to the public. This library is now open in the school basement every Friday evening, from seven to eight o'clock.

At present there are nearly 600 books in the W.I. collection, nearly all of which are recent fiction. It is hoped that this will be expanded to include other types of literature as the demand is made known.

A small deposit is required of all persons enrolling, who are not Institute members. This is to ensure return of the books. The deposit is refundable if the person leaves the library within a year. Institute members, regardless of their branch, are not required to pay this deposit.

Money raised from the nominal charges for book rental will be used to expand the library and to further the work of the Institute.

It is hoped that the public will support this new venture, as the nucleus of a public library that could fill a real need in the community. Suggestions as to purchases of books will be welcomed by the library committee.

Magistrate Takes Oath In Ceremony Monday

Chief Magistrate Auguste Boyer announced that Georges H. Héon, K.C., recently elected to the rank of Magistrate by Premier Maurice Duplessis, will be sworn in next Monday at 10 a.m., in court room No. 3 of the Magistrates' Court, in Montreal.

Magistrate-elect Héon, who has been given jurisdiction throughout the entire province, will be sworn in by Chief Justice Boyer in the presence of members of the Court of Appeals, Superior Court, the Magistrates' Court and Criminal Courts.

It is expected that a delegation of Mr. Héon's friends from this community will be present to witness the ceremony.

Automobile to Local Winner at Rotary Prize Drawing

A Meteor car, first prize in the season's Rotary drawing, was won by Noel Lemay, a farmer and business man of Staynerville, near Brownsburg, at a turkey bingo held in Lachute Auditorium last Saturday night.

Mr. W. M. Cottingham, local provincial member of parliament, drew the lucky number, 9754, before an audience of 700 people.

The second number drawn by Mr. Cottingham was 4888, held by H. Larche, a resident of Lachute, which won for him a bicycle valued at $50. (Mr. Larche is employed as operator at the C.P.R. station.)

Doris Racine, of Buckingham, with No. 10440 won a beautiful radio as third prize.

The drawing was the conclusion of a campaign conducted by the Brownsburg Rotary Club to provide funds for under-privileged and crippled children and other welfare work in the Lachute-Brownsburg area.

Door prizes at the bingo were won by —

Miss Margaret Shepherd, Horace Deslauriers, Mrs. Rolland Elkington, Mrs. Adelard Ranger, Mrs. Stanley Hunter (Hawkesbury).

Dan Beavin, Mrs. Tom Izzard, Marcel Chenier, Mrs. J. Kettyle, Lebert Home, D. S. Forbes (St Andrews), Jean-Louis Seguin, Bill MacGibbon.

Mrs. Leonard Boyd, Miss Jeannine Leblanc, Mrs. Arthur Gravel, Earl Tomalty, Russell Noble, Miss Gloria McIntyre, Miss Phyllis Murdoch, Jim Hay, Mrs. Ed Barker, Cecil Clarke, Mrs. Tom Pasco, Roger Simard.

At the end of the evening, Rotary President Linton W. Armstrong thanked the Lachute Branch of the Canadian Legion for active assistance in operating the bingo, and at the same time expressed appreciation for the support, not only of those present but the many people in the district and afar who had contributed to the success of the drawing and bingo.

Noel Lemay was present at the bingo and came forward to receive the keys of the car, amid loud applause. . . After having his picture taken, first with Mr. Cottingham and the club president, then with the car and other Rotary officers, Mr. Lemay, all smiles, drove his prize home.

Yorkton, Sask. (CP) — A 14-foot memorial cross, carved from native granite, has been erected in Yorkton cemetery in memory of the soldier-dead of two world wars. The cross was unveiled by Mrs. S. C. de Balinhard, a war widow, and Mrs. H. Wilson, who lost two sons.

Big Contract for Water and Sewer In New Parish

Contract for the construction of a water and sewerage system in the mills section of Chatham — that portion of the Township known as the new Parish of l'Immaculée Conception, contiguous to Lachute Town — was negotiated on Monday between representatives of the municipality and the contractors, H. J. O'Connell Ltd.

The agreement was passed in notarial form before Jacques Beaudoin, N.P.—Mayor F. Whissel and Councillor Aurel Pharand signing for the Corporation of Chatham, and Geo. O'Connell (vice-president) on behalf of the company.

The amount of this contract is $255,634.66. The project is the outcome of long study, and of negotiation between Chatham and Lachute (which will be the source of water supply). The by-law was passed by Chatham Council and the plans and specifications drawn up by Seraphin Ouimet, civil engineer. The contract calls for completion of the work by October 1, 1950.

Mr. O'Connell, signatory for the contractors, stated they would start moving machinery to the site as soon as possible.

Traffic Light Installed At Highway Intersection

A traffic signal was installed Wednesday at the junction of Chatham Street and the Brownsburg Road. Suspended directly over the intersection, an amber light flashes continually in both directions on the Brownsburg Road, while a red light flashes to warn drivers approaching from Chatham and Route 8.

November Session Of Town Council

All members of Town Council were present, with exception of Ald. Ernest Provost, at the recent assembly for November, presided over by Mayor Léopold Carrière.

Ald. Stanley Holt was appointed pro-mayor for the next three months.

Accounts were approved for a total amount of $4,811.66; credits were submitted for $891.59.

By-law No. 178, concerning the adoption of a revised Police Code, was passed in its second reading.

Notice of motion was given that, at the regular meeting to be held December 7, a by-law to levy the taxes for the year 1950 will be presented for adoption. Notice was given also for a measure to amend the business tax by-law.

It was resolved that, whereas amusement tax tickets had been transferred to buyers on basis of the tax only, the rolls would now be sold to include also the actual cost of the tickets as supplied to the corporation.

It was voted that Mr. Robert Todd be notified that after December 1 his services would not be required as Town Officer; but that his name would be retained on the payroll as adviser until the end of the year, and at the same salary.

Building permits were granted to Gerald Menard, for a house on Foundry Street, and to Emile Pomminville, for a house on Wilson Street — the construction to be carried out under supervision of the Roads Committee.

New Appointee – Retiring Manager of Local Bank of Montreal

Donald M. Hay, to assume charge of Lachute branch.

Eric A. Hibbard terminates long banking career.

New manager of the Lachute office of the Bank of Montreal is Donald M. Hay, who was born and educated here and began his career at the bank's local office 25 years ago. He succeeds Eric A. Hibbard, in charge of the branch for the past 4½ years, who is retiring on pension at the end of this month, because of ill health.

Joining the B of M's Lachute branch in 1924, Mr. Hay gained his early banking experience here and at branches in Montreal, Cornwall and Ottawa. He was made manager of the B of M's Grand Falls, N.B., office in 1947, whence he returns to Lachute.

While in Grand Falls, Mr. Hay took an active part in community affairs. He was director and treasurer of the Rotary Club, chairman of the finance committee of the Labor Day celebrations, chairman and comptroller of the Grand Falls Athletic Association, and county chairman and treasurer of the Canadian Cancer Society.

Mr. Eric A. Hibbard, a native of Ottawa, was educated in Berthierville, Cowansville and Fredericton. He began his banking career in 1916 in Cowansville, subsequently gaining considerable experience in B of M branches throughout the Eastern Townships, including Bedford, Richmond and Sherbrooke. He was appointed manager of the B of M's Grand'Mere office in 1941, which position he held until his transfer here four years ago.

Mr. Hibbard has taken a keen interest in community affairs during his stay here. He has acted as chairman of the Salvation Army appeals, is a member of the Golf and Country Club, the Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce, and is honorary treasurer of the Argenteuil Agricultural Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Hibbard plan to spend the winter months in Florida, on the advice of his doctor. They will return to Lachute in the spring to take up permanent residence.

Remembrance Day To Be Fittingly Observed

High School Holiday; Annual Exercises at Auditorium and Park

The Remembrance Day rites in Lachute have been arranged along lines similar to previous years. The veterans of Legion Branch No. 70, and members of the various juvenile groups, will again take part. Veterans will meet at 10.30 tomorrow at the Legion Hall on Foundry Street, proceeding to the Auditorium where the observances will commence at 10.45 a.m. under chairmanship of Mayor Léopold Carrière. Members of the clergy will conduct the service, and it is expected that Philippe Valois, M.P., and W.M. Cottingham, M.L.A., will be present to address the assembly. This will be followed by a general gathering and laying of wreaths at the Cenotaph.

The only variation from the usual procedure of these exercises will be as regards the school children. In conformity with an official announcement from Quebec, Friday will be observed here as a school holiday. The teaching staff at the local high school, however, have made due reference to the significance of this date and urged upon town children to attend the Remembrance Day exercises.

Noted War Correspondent Invited Saturday for Legion Armistice Banquet

The Remembrance Day banquet of Branch No. 70, Canadian Legion, will be specially notable this year in the guest speaker who will favor this special occasion — namely, Ross Munro, who served as war correspondent in the western theatre of operations during World War II. Apart from exciting and often hazardous duties, which made the role of war correspondents a memorable one and their names almost a household reference, these men — and Munro perhaps particularly so — enjoyed a certain public regard for their part as liaison officers between Canadian homes and their youthful warriors, whose whereabouts and destinies were often unknown to their families for weeks on end.

Ross Munro is now a member of the Press Gallery at Ottawa.

The Remembrance Day banquet takes place this Saturday at the Golf Club chalet. It is an occasion on which the veterans of Lachute and district unite to pay annual homage to departed friends, and to relive the memories of valorous days.

To Hold Ceremonies Remembrance Day at Brownsb'g Cenotaph

Brownsburg — The customary Remembrance Day ceremony will be held at the Cenotaph on the lawns of the Social Club in Brownsburg on Friday, November 11, commencing at 10.45 a.m. The service will be under joint direction of the Rev. Father P. Manseau, the Rev. S. J. Pike, the Rev. G. B. Hicks and the Rev. James G. Duncan. The Brownsburg Legion has arranged for servicemen, its Ladies' Auxiliary, Scouts, Cubs and similar organizations to parade at the C-I-L parking lot near the water tower in Brownsburg between 10.15 and 10.30 o'clock, to permit the column to march off in time to arrive at the Cenotaph just before the commencement of the service. Servicemen will wear uniforms if they have them available; otherwise the dress will be berets and medals.

On the following Sunday, November 13, the Brownsburg Legion will hold its annual memorial service at the United Church in Brownsburg, with its Auxiliary and other organizations attending. On this occasion the parade will fall in at 2.30 p.m. at the same C-I-L parking lot, and will move off in time to reach the church before the start of the service at 3 p.m.

Holstein and Ayrshire Clubs' Annual Joint Business and Pleasure Session

The annual meetings of the local Holstein and Ayrshire breeders' groups were held in separate sessions at a joint meeting last Friday in Lachute Auditorium. The event, which was followed by dancing and an evening of social diversion, drew a large attendance from the rural district.

Mr. J. Proulx, Holstein fieldman, and Mr. W. L. Carr, of the Selective Registration Board, were on hand, and both gave interesting reports and figures on the Holstein breed for the past year.

The Holstein District Breeders' Club elected the following directors for the ensuing year:

Pres., Douglas Clark; vice-pres., Douglas Bradford; directors, Leonard Boa, Albert Stewart, Paul St. Jacques, Arnold Parker, John Myers, F. W. Allman, C. Stokie; and Harold Wilson, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. François Boulais, Ayrshire fieldman, gave an interesting talk on the progress made by the different Ayrshire clubs throughout the province, and on the different "Red and White" shows held this fall. Reference was also made to the annual Ayrshire calf sale held last May by the Laurentian Ayrshire Breeders' Club at the local exhibition grounds. . . . The breeders voted in favor of holding another such event in the coming year.

The Laurentian Ayrshire Breeders' Club elected the following officers:

Pres., Grant Beattie; vice-pres., Forbes McOuat; directors, Raymond Blair, Clarence Miller, Junior Heatlie, Arthur St. Jacques, Albert Dixon, Keith Pollock, Douglas Rodger; and Stewart Walker, secretary-treasurer.

At the close of the meetings, music was furnished for dancing by Legault's Orchestra, while George MacKenzie gave valuable assistance in "calling the sets". Dancing was enjoyed by both young and old until the early hours of the morning.

The ladies of Jerusalem - Bethany Women's Institute furnished an excellent lunch.

Lawsuit Concerns Maintenance of Front Road

JUDGMENT RENDERED ON INTERESTING POINT OF MUNICIPAL LAW

An interesting point of municipal law was settled by Justice André Demers in St. Jerome this month.

The lawsuit was between the Parish of St. Sauveur, County of Terrebonne, and E. Chartier, one of the ratepayers of that municipality, who was the plaintiff. Mr. Chartier's property is situated between St. Sauveur Village and Morin Heights.

The plaintiff, by a deed of sale negotiated in 1914, had bought from the Parish of St. Sauveur (the defendant in this case) a lot for the sum of $10, and the secretary-treasurer, by resolution, was authorized to sign the deed.

Following this deed, a neighbor of the plaintiff had looked after the maintenance of the front road until the year 1943.

In the month of November 1945, the council of the Parish passed a resolution by which the plaintiff was notified to see to the maintenance of his front road. Following this, however, the Parish was obliged to attend to the maintenance of the front road belonging to the plaintiff and the latter was assessed accordingly. The plaintiff paid the assessment under protest, and took an action to have the resolution of assessment annulled.

In summarizing the case and pronouncing judgment, Justice Demers stated that the plaintiff based his action in annulment on his deed of sale and a clause therein specifying, "The vendor declares that the lot hereby sold is exempted from the maintenance of the front road".

The secretary-treasurer of the Parish in 1914 was not authorized by the resolution to sign a clause of exemption for the maintenance of the front road — the judgment continues. Therefore it is assumed that the deed of sale does not show that the Parish had assumed the maintenance of the front road, and also that the secretary-treasurer had exceeded his authorization.

The maintenance of the front road was established in the public interest by the Municipal Code, and the resolution of 1945 which brought about the present lawsuit does not create any new charge, but only seeks the application of the law. Even if the deed of sale had given the maintenance of the front road to the Parish, which it did not, it would be doubtful if a municipal council, without special authorization of the legislature, did not exceed its power in assuming such an undertaking.

"We are therefore in presence of a resolution made in conformity with the law and which cannot be annulled by an unauthorized declaration of a secretary-treasurer", concludes the judgment. "The plaintiff cannot therefore obtain annulment of the resolution concerning his obligation to the maintenance of his front road. Therefore, plaintiff's action is dismissed with costs."

Fernand Legault, of the local law firm of Legault & Legault, acted as attorney for the defendant corporation.

It was once believed that living human beings placed in corner-stones would ensure the stability of a building.

Remembrance Day

O Lord, this day we turn again
To Thee for guidance in this hour;
That in the hush of silent prayer
Will come to each, new strength and power
To build a world, free from the pain
Of wars and strife and hopeless days.
Because we, too, have pledged our lives
To find Your Plan in all our ways.

Re-kindle now the flame of peace
That grows, as men and nations see
When self and greed become their God,
Theirs is the sin — they serve not Thee.
O Father, make these cold hearts burn
With sick remorse that will not cease
Until we learn that wars will end
Only when hearts have found Your Peace.

Affairs Before B'burg Council

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — The new parking by-law met with opposition from two of the business houses, at a council meeting here Monday night. An amendment to allow parking on one side of Main on St. Onge hill till 12 midnight, and parking on the west side of Bank also till 12 midnight, was passed.

Carl Clauson complained about the rough condition of Northcliff Street. It was explained that this street was still the property of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. It was decided to write the company in order to have it given over to the council or have it repaired.

There was another complaint of fast driving along Maple Avenue. Signs are going up this week which are to be a warning that a speed of 10 miles will be enforced approaching the traffic light.

The Fire Chief reported two fires during the month — one at Mr. Goyette's, in a chimney which was cleaned that day; the other in a house belonging to a man named Paquette, caused by a defective chimney. The Chief stated the fire was in the wall and hard to control until be pushed down a concrete block chimney on a bracket, revealing the fire behind. Damage was small, about $100.

The police report included five charges — four taken before a J.P. and one to St. Jerome. Fines totalled $40. A number of dog licenses were collected, and inspection of tax at places of amusement was reported. The Secretary was directed to report some abuses to Quebec. There was a long discussion on the operation of the tax law and the council's responsibility in seeing that the tax was collected. The Mayor said it should be made plain that this tax goes to pay the cost of mental institutions and hospitals, and if it was not forthcoming the people would have to support these institutions by direct tax. Some effort is to be made to bring this matter to the attention of the people.

The question of letting the garbage collection out for tender was discussed, but no decision was made.

The Three Bears

The bedtime classic of the Three Bears found a parallel last week in an incident reported by our Avoca correspondent. A party of five men, on a hunting trip last Thursday, met three bears and bagged them all — and that was no fairy story.

The group included Elmer Kelly and his son, Jas. Trineer and son James, and Cecil Young.

That bears are plentiful in this neighborhood is substantiated by the fact that Fred MacLeod and Irving Arthurs shot one, and Clarence MacLeod bagged another, only a few days previously.

Gatineau LINES

Storm Fighters

The days are getting shorter, and colder. All over the Gatineau area, winter is drawing closer. Wind, snow, ice and sleet will soon be part of the Quebec scene again.

Power company repair crews are preparing for those days. They know that everything that Old Man Winter can devise will be hurled against the poles and lines which carry vital electric power to over 50,000 customers of Gatineau Power. They know, too, that trouble will develop from time to time in the months ahead — because the poles and the wire have yet to be made that can withstand all the tricks of winter weather.

Everything that can be done ahead of time has been done. Lines have been inspected, and made as nearly weather-proof as possible. Tree branches which might be blown across the lines have, as far as possible, been removed. Depots of reserve equipment are located at strategic points all over the Gatineau system. Despite the heavy schedule of new construction work which has kept the crews busy for months, preparations for the testing time ahead have not been overlooked.

Despite all this, it is almost inevitable that trouble spots will develop during the worst of the winter weather. It is then that the repair crews will be fighting clogged roads, numbing cold and the meanest tricks of Old Man Winter in order to restore service as quickly as possible.

It isn't any fun battling through heavy drifts to locate a power break in the midst of a storm. It isn't any fun working on top of an ice-sheathed pole in a high wind. It isn't any fun to fight to the limit of human endurance against the weather until circuits are fixed. But the power crews do it because it is their job — and because they take pride in their ability to meet everything the weather can throw at them, and eventually beat it.

So, if the power goes off during the winter, and it may be for hours in isolated areas, it might help to think about the power crews. Circuit breaks are a terrible inconvenience to our customers, but they aren't an inconvenience that nobody is doing anything about. No matter how violent the storm, every power break will be the signal for some of the best weather-beaters in the country to get out and stay out until the trouble is repaired. A power crew just doesn't sit around indoors waiting for the trouble to fix itself.

Did You Know?

That during some storms last winter, line crews of Gatineau worked 30 hours with minimum rest periods in order to restore your service.

position within the least possible time and with the least possible financial loss.

With him, Mr. Cottingham had brought the Mayor, Mr. F. Whissel, and members of his council; Mr. Jacques Beaudoin, recently appointed secretary-treasurer; Mr. A. Gaston Munich, County Warden; Mr. Thomas Corry, newly appointed auditor; and two representatives from the Department of Municipal Affairs and the Municipal Commission at Quebec, Mr. Saffville and Mr. Laurent — as well as all the necessary documents, books, papers and government files, upon which to base a clear understanding of the situation confronting the people, resulting upon the action or lack of action of their municipal council and its officials.

The Stone Hall was crowded to overflowing when Mr. Cottingham, acting at the request of the Mayor (who was recovering from a recent indisposition) in the capacity of chairman, briefly recounted the events leading up to the calling of the present meeting. Most people, said Mr. Cottingham, try to avoid trouble, but he had gone around the country looking for trouble. If there was trouble or conditions requiring the attention of the Quebec Government, he as the representative of the people wanted to become acquainted with them, and use whatever talents or means he had to rectify them, or have a good try anyway. When the present meeting was arranged, he was aware that the people of Chatham Municipality would want to know something about the affairs of their Council, which had been in the news in a most unfavorable light for some time past. He had therefore come prepared to place the situation fairly and fully before the people; he had all the necessary information and personnel present, and no one need go away uninformed, no question would be left unanswered. He wanted everyone present to make the fullest use of this occasion to satisfy his mind that, as a taxpayer or as an interested party, he was fully acquainted with the position. Mr. Cottingham then introduced the various officers present, and concluded, "We could make speeches covering the matter of the council, and deal in detail with most of the things you people have in mind, but it would not be the best way, perhaps." They would instead stand at the bar of the people's right and listen to the voice of the people from the floor, answering as completely as they could any questions directed towards them. Before closing Mr. Cottingham announced that the Department of Health at Quebec had issued an ordinance to the Chatham Council that a waterworks and sewerage system be installed to supply the Parish of the Immaculate Conception, which comprises that area bordering Lachute and containing a new church and about 400 families. This utility would cost about $200,000, for which a bond issue would be floated; it would be self-supporting and paid for by the people it served.

Mr. Thomas Corry gave a resumé of the work of auditing the books of the council. His firm had completed the audit of the municipal council and had almost completed the audit of the school commission. They had found it necessary to take spot audits of the years 1947 and 1948, and had made a complete audit of 1949. The statement of a previous audit was in the hands of the taxpayers and they found the cash more or less as Mr. Dion had calculated. There was a further sum of $500 deficit which they believed was not an oversight as it had not been presented to Mr. Dion. The total shortage as revealed by the audit was $5,452. They had circulated all the taxpayers, and returns were coming in at the rate of 25 per day. All objections have not yet been received, but he felt certain that not more than $2,000 over the amount stated would be revealed as a deficit—making a total shortage of $7,500 or thereabouts. The finances of the municipality were in a sound state as, at present, after taking in the special tax of 50c on the $100 just imposed, but not allowing for the costs of the audit or of running the municipality to the end of the financial year, there is a surplus of $5,800. He would venture to state that at the end of the year "the very worst you can expect is to break even. You should find your municipality in a balanced position."

After Mr. Corry's statement the meeting was thrown open to questions. Questions were asked with startling rapidity, and handled by the chairman with efficiency and despatch. (Much of the information sought was repetitive, so in the interests of a clear account of the proceedings we report those questions showing a continuity and giving a complete picture of the situation as we saw it.)

Mr. Plamondon wanted to know "why we owed the bank $3,000 while we had $7,000 in outstanding cheques."

Mr. Corry replied there was a sum of $3,380.72 due to the bank at the end of the year. There was $9,750 in cheques issued which had not been cashed. There were receipts for these cheques, but it is different from cash on hand. "We found the cheques, but there are still cheques to the value of $1,200 which have not been presented. If these cheques are now presented to the bank they will not be paid as we have stopped payment."

Question 2. — If the council is now in a sound position, why was it necessary to strike a special tax? . . There were two outstanding accounts, to the Bank and to the Municipal Commission for public assistance. The bank debt was a temporary loan and had to be renewed each year, and the Department wanted payment of monies which were received by the Council for the purpose of that special account. Both were on demand, and we thought it better and more economical in the taxpayers' interest to pay off those debts.

Question 3. — If there were $14,000 arrears in taxes, why were these not collected rather than strike a special tax? . . Mr. Corry: Actually we did collect some $10,000; to run the municipality we needed this money; if there were no special tax we would be at the moment $5,000 in debt.

Question 4. — After Mr. Dion's statement of audit were any deficits discovered by Mr. Corry? . . . Mr. Corry: "Not a great deal. He left out the debt of Public Assistance."

Question 5. — The Public Assistance account goes back seven years; how did Mr. Corry find out its position if he only made audits for three years? . . . Mr. Corry: "This sum amounted to $4,700; they had to get a report from Quebec covering the period as the books did not show anything. The gross revenue of the Council was $29,977.50. Municipal service cost $15,729; with the other items the total expenditure was $20,000.

At this point the questions centered around the probability of Quebec being lax in discovering the negligence of the Council in

Remembrance Day, 1949

YEAR after year, since the first World War ended on November 11, 1918, we have been observing Remembrance Day with pomp and ceremony. All across Canada, as well as in many countries, we gather at cenotaphs to chant "O Valiant Dead", to lay wreaths of commemoration, to bow low the head for two minutes' silence. We gather, are briefly uplifted, briefly repentant for our own and our nation's sins, and go our way.

For a few moments we are "comrades in a great sacrifice".

But how can Remembrance Day, 1949, serve so that the day may yet come when such sacrifice need never be made again?

The answer is to be found in the two minutes of silence. Supposing we as individuals, as a nation, could catch the reality of God's guidance in those precious moments. What might happen if, during that silence, each of us resolved at all costs to find the answer for enduring peace, beginning with ourselves and our homes?

On a Remembrance Day during the Second World War, Lieut.-Commander Frederick B. Watt, R.C.N.V.R., penned the following lines (here quoted with his permission):

"When that day dawns which means release
From killing and from being killed,
Who then shall make the living peace
In which our dreaming is fulfilled?
Who then, with freedom freshly bought,
Will claim the vision, pay the price
Of being that for which we fought —
Nor think of it as sacrifice?

"When fired self-interest roars its claim,
Our Father, grant us will enough
To meet it with the cleaner flame.
Remind us we are warrior stuff
Who held no height, no battle turned
By shoddy hope or soft appeal,
But husbanded the truths we learned
Through eloquence of driven steel."

In the light of present-day events, these lines surely signify the spirit that is needed and by which all of us can be fired and inspired today.

The Veteran Re-established

IT BEHOOVES us now to give a special thought to Canada's ex-servicemen — for tomorrow, November 11, is their day.

First, in self-scrutiny, we believe our veterans will generally approve the manner in which Canada is acquitting her debt. Our government — elected of and by the people — made elaborate, even generous, provisions for soldier re-establishment. Nor were these plans left on the blueprints; they were put into action, adjustments applied where necessary, and individual consideration given through specially trained veterans' officials. True, these plans have not materialized without a hitch, or even in complete fulfilment. Housing is one instance in which the veterans suffer notably — but no more than any other section of the population in the middle and lower category. All have suffered equally, through a cycle of circumstances and (opinion has it) through government bungling. . . But we feel that, generally speaking, the veteran has been fairly treated — down from those valorous days when the ideal of his sacrifice was painted in terms of glory — till today when, with the glamor gone, it remains a matter of earning one's bread and sheltering one's dependents at a reasonable standard.

And on the other hand? . . Youth is growing up, the torch is thrown to younger hands, the reins of progress — etc., etc. . . But let us not under-estimate the potentialities of our veteran population, now reinstated in civilian roles, now vigorous and organized. Let us not overlook them as a powerful influence, a fine constructive force for Canada's future. For that is what they are today —fighting in peacetime as they fought in battle, for nationhood and its high ideals.

The Canadian Legion may be commended, and warmly supported, as a stabilizing force in our economy. The nation is the sum total of its communities — and here in our own small segment, we have but to appraise the worth of local Legion branches to appreciate them as a community factor. In Lachute there has just been witnessed a fine demonstration of organized effort, in the building of the new Memorial Hall. In the veterans' many enterprises to finance this undertaking, in their collaboration with other groups and clubs, and in a hundred different ways, we appreciate their effort towards the common end of public welfare.

Yes, the servicemen richly deserved our practical gratitude. And if Canada has measured up in meeting these obligations, we count such gestures further justified in the fine contribution our veterans have made to civilian living and peacetime reconstruction.

Blue Ribbon for Merit

THIS YEAR for the last time, red ribbons will be tokens of triumph for livestock in the parade of champions at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair. Starting with the 1950 show, blue ribbons instead of red will mark the first-ranking animals.

The change also will go into effect at the Canadian National Exhibition next summer.

Old-timers among the exhibitors and spectators at the Winter Fair, being held this year November 15-23, may shed a tear for sentimental reasons over the passing of the traditional ribbon of red. And some of them are almost sure to ask why the system of red ribbons for quality, still followed in Great Britain and several other countries, is being abondoned for the blue ribbon marking used chiefly in the United States.

If they take their questions to officials of the Royal, they will be told that the answer lies in the growing number of persons who attend agricultural shows in both Canada and the United States, either as exhibitors or as visitors. Livestock breeders from the States sometimes are puzzled when red ribbons are handed out in Canada for prize-winning stock and grain exhibits, while Canadians at United States shows find it hard to get used to seeing blue ribbons on champions.

Fair officials say, too, that there is more interchange of exhibits between fairs in Canada and the United States than between those in Canada and the United Kingdom. If Canadians show their products in Britain, they should soon feel at home again among the red ribbons used so long in Canada.

Thus the Royal Winter Fair is passing over sentiment for uniformity in prize symbols of North American farming. If the change brings about increased international friendship, one of its principal aims will have been accomplished.

PHILOSOPHY from the Virden Empire: Too often it has been found that those who retire at an early age to take life easy deteriorate rapidly, while other elderly people keep right on working and right on enjoying life to the full. After all, life without some purpose it not worth living.

AMONG unkind individuals we would place high on the list the person who takes a tiny kitten far from home and sets it out alone. If a kitten must be disposed of, it isn't necessary to leave it alone and friendless in a lonely wilderness.

To Hold Banquet for Mr. Georges H. Héon At Lachute Auditorium

(Specially Contributed)

The recent announcement of Mr. Georges H. Héon's elevation to the Judgeship of the Magistrates' Court of Quebec, was received with great pleasure by his host of friends throughout the County of Argenteuil. Congratulatory messages have been pouring in from all sides since his appointment became known. . .

It is hard to picture Georges Héon in the grave and solemn atmosphere of the court, clothed in the dignity and sternness so indubitably associated and so necessary a part of "the court". Rather do we picture him as the doughty champion of oppressed rights, denouncing in ringing tones any oppression of the people's freedom, or any enactment of legislation not derived from the people's choice. Now he steps out of the arena where laws are made into the sombre chamber where laws are administered. He is well fitted for the task. His practice before the courts has enlarged his experience and ability, and matured his legal knowledge. As a constitutional authority Mr. Héon has few equals, and his knowledge of constitutional law may well serve to further elevate his prestige and advancement to still higher office in the judiciary.

His many friends in Argenteuil join in marking the occasion of his great honor by a banquet and presentation to be held at the Auditorium at Lachute on Monday evening, November 14. High luminaries from the legal world will be present to do honor to a respected confrere, and the citizens of Argenteuil will be there to fete a friend.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Ministerial Assoc'n Plans Observance January 2-6 World Week of Prayer

The Argenteuil Protestant Ministerial Association held its regular session at the Maple Avenue Baptist Church, Brownsburg, on Monday. The Rev. C. Maclean, president, occupied the chair.

The Rev. G. T. Spriggs conducted the devotional period. After reading Ephesians 6, 18-20, he spoke on the need of constant prayer in the work of the ministry. The speaker gave a brief account of the Wycliffe College Alumni meetings, and touched upon some of the subjects discussed.

Arrangements were made for the annual Universal Week of Prayer. Members of the various congregations in Brownsburg and Lachute are asked to keep the week of January 2 - 6 clear of other events in order to observe this period in prayer and meditation.

The Rev. C. Maclean conducted the election of officers, with the following results: Rev. J. G. Duncan, president, Rev. G. T. Spriggs, secretary-treasurer.

Next meeting is to be held November 28, in Lachute Baptist Church, when the Rev. S. J. Pike will conduct the devotions.

Anglican Congregation at St. Andrews Worships In United Church

St. Andrews East — By the kindness of the Rev. A. G. Moore and the session of the United Church, the congregation of Christ Church (Anglican) met for service in the United Church last Sunday.

The Rev. G. T. Spriggs reported that the missionary apportionment for the third quarter, in the Diocese of Montreal and the Dominion, had been paid, with considerable increase over the same period last year.

Next Sunday the Church of England service will again be held in the United Church, at 11 a.m., as Christ Church is still under repair; the work is progressing but it may be a few weeks before the building can be opened for regular services.

Annual Men's Supper At Lachute United

The annual men's supper of the northern section of the Montreal Presbytery of the United Church, was held last evening in the Lachute United Church, and it was again an outstanding success. Men from the congregations of Morin Heights, St. Jerome, Ste. Therese, St. Andrews East, Cushing, Brownsburg, Harrington and neighboring regions were present, to hear leaders of the Missionary and Maintenance enterprise.

The Rev. N. A. McMurray, of Wesley United Church, Montreal, dealt with the statistical angle of missionary work of the United Church, and the secretary, Rev. R. deWitt Scott, also of Montreal, gave a stirring appeal.

Ex-Moderator the Very Rev. T. W. Jones, of Calvary United Church, Montreal, was the main speaker. He told of the far-reaching sphere of missionary work of the church in Canada and Bermuda, of the Christian workers in missionary hospitals, aboard ships, and in the Arctic regions. His remarks were interspersed with many humorous stories. The speaker also strongly appealed for men workers in the Sunday schools.

Thanks were extended to the speakers and to the local Woman's Missionary Society for the delightful meal.

Couple Honored by Fellow Church-folk At B'burg Presbyterian

Brownsburg — On Thursday night of last week in the Presbyterian Church at Brownsburg, a gathering of the congregation was held to do honor to Mr. and Mrs. John Connelly.

John Connelly has taught in the Presbyterian Sunday School for over 40 years and has been a member of the Kirk Session of the church for nearly 25 years, so as an expression of gratitude for this long term of faithful service, the congregation presented to Mr. Connelly a fine leather travelling bag, and to Mrs. Connelly a pair of Ayers blankets.

John Connelly came to Canada from Scotland, and ever since arriving in Brownsburg he has been a good constructive citizen of the town. He has been a member of the local school board for many terms, president of Brownsburg branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society for nearly 20 years, and in every way has done his utmost to promote the welfare of the community.

It was in recognition of these many years of good service that the members of Brownsburg Presbyterian Church desired to honor Mr. and Mrs. Connelly. The presentation was a complete surprise to them, but they expressed their delight with their gifts, and a happy social evening was spent.

FIGHT WRONG IDEAS REGARDING BAPTISM

London (CP) — Many of Britain's clergy say that some parents have come to regard baptism as merely a matter of having the child "done" — like vaccination or a good luck charm.

This was stated in the second interim report of the joint committees of the convocations of Canterbury and York on baptism, confirmation and Holy Communion.

To make the significance of baptism clearer, the report suggested parents might be required to give a week's notice in writing of intention to have a child baptized; that there might be pre-baptism instruction of the parents on its meaning, and that there might be solemn public baptisms at fixed times of the year.

The Search for Peace

Peace is as sure as tomorrow's sunrise, And just as independent of Man.

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder, and his name shall be called Wonderful Councillor, the Mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace;

And of the increase of his government and peace, there shall be no end.

— Isaiah 9: 6-7.

Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth. It may be ye shall be hid, in the day of the Lord's anger.

— Zephaniah 2: 3

The meek shall inherit the earth, and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.

— Psalms 37: 11

The Earth abideth forever.

— Ecclesiastes 1: 4

TIMMINS BOYS CATCH BEAR CUB

—Central Press Canadian

Caught by boys in a Timmins, Ont., backyard, this four-months-old bear cub didn't have long to live. Later in the same day he became impatient with captivity and had to be killed. Jerry Haniske, 13, and Paul Cambridge, 14, spotted the cub on their way to school and chased him down the street. They wound up late for studies.

...well
practically unanimous
YOU CAN still find people who "don't believe in banks" . . . who keep their cash in old coffee pots, or hide it in the woodpile, or carry it around.
But most folk nowadays keep their money in bank accounts. They can get it whenever they want it; and they can pay their bills by cheque. Canadians have more than seven million such deposit accounts. In terms of Canada's adult population, that makes it practically unanimous.
The banks, in turn, know they must earn this confidence by giving you the best service they know how Today you can take your account to any bank you choose. And what is in your bank book is strictly between you and your bank. It is your own private business.

Q. W. Inst. Now Has Over 100 Branches

The number of branches in the Quebec Women's Institutes has now gone over the 100 mark. With the formation of a new branch at Nitro, in Beauharnois County, the total now stands at 101 senior branches with a provincial membership of approximately 3,000.

Two members of the Q.W.I. executive, Mrs. W. C. Smallman, Dundee, past president, and Miss Joy Guild, Macdonald College, secretary, were present at the organizational meeting to explain the framework of the Institute, its scope and purposes, and to assist with the election of officers.

The village is peopled largely by veterans, who work in the arsenal there, and their English war brides, and the Nitro W.I. executive feel the programs and services offered by the Q.W.I. will be of definite value to the women of such a community.

The new branch is assured of a warm welcome into the provincial organization and a sincere wish for success and enjoyment in carrying out their programs.

Meal in A Sandwich

The main course in the noon meal of many people is served in a sandwich. Such sandwiches should be as satisfying as the meal served to the family at home; good sandwiches need imagination but fillings need not be elaborate or take much time in preparation.

To the person who carries a lunch every day, whether to school, to the office or to the factory, variety means much. A different kind of bread, a new filling or even a new shape makes the sandwich lunch more interesting and appetizing. The office worker or school girl wants compact sandwiches, preferably odourless, while something substantial appeals to the hard working man and the hungry school boy.

For the person who packs the lunches there are a few pointers worth knowing. Fillings that may be made in quantity when convenient and stored until required are a time saver. A number of sandwiches may be made at one time, wrapped in moisture vapor-proof paper and frozen ready for later use. These sandwiches will thaw sufficiently for the meal even if still frozen when packed in the lunch box.

Sandwiches are often a suitable course for the home meal, particularly when they are dipped in egg and milk and sauteed as French toast.

Egg-Meat Sandwich Filling

2 Hard-cooked eggs, 1 cup ground cooked meat, ½ cup salad dressing, 2 tablespoons chopped mustard pickles, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon chopped onion.

Mash hard-cooked eggs with a fork. Add ground meat, salad dressing, pickle, salt and onion. Yield: 1½ cups. Sufficient for 10 sandwiches.

Peanut Butter and Apple Spread

½ Cup peanut butter, 2 tablespoons salad dressing, ¾ cup chopped raw apple.

Mix peanut butter with salad dressing to a smooth consistency. Add chopped apple. Yield: 1 cup. Sufficient for 8 sandwiches.

Cheese and Egg Spread

1 Tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1½ tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon mustard, ¾ cup milk, 1 tablespoon vinegar, ½ lb. Cheddar cheese (freshly grated), 2 hard-cooked eggs (chopped).

Melt butter and cook onion in it for 1 minutes. Add flour, sugar, salt and mustard and stir well until blended; add milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add vinegar and cheese and continue cooking until cheese melts and mixture is smooth. Add eggs and cool. Store in a covered jar in a cool place. Yield: 2¼ cups filling.

"How's your aunt today"?

"She can't complain".

"Heavens, I didn't know she was that sick".

attending to its financial commitments. Both Mr. Corry and Mr. Cottingham explained that it is the duty of the Council to have an audit and supply Quebec with a copy and relative information. Quebec does not know what the municipality owes or what taxes are collected if there has not been an audit and a copy supplied to Quebec.

Mr. Saffville explained that both auditors and the departments are dependent upon the secretary to produce all the documents, otherwise they have no knowledge of the true state of affairs. If a taxpayer pays $100 and gets a receipt but the secretary does not enter it in his books, the auditor cannot see it and knows nothing about it. There was an item of $1,500 which was taken as the correct amount; instead it was revealed that this amount should have been $5,000. If people paid amounts and presumably got receipts yet cannot produce those receipts — unless the secretary admits to those amounts there is no way of settling the matter other than paying again.

Mr. Morrison asked a series of questions which led up to the matter of bond coverage. Mr. Corry explained that the secretary owes the council, at present standing, $5,452. A bond was in force for the amount of $1,000. "There may be some irregularities in the bond. We have no means of knowing. The insurance company refuses to show the application, how it was signed and its contents, and further refuses to admit responsibility for any amount, because of absence of audit."

Mr. Saffville explained at some length the position with regard to bonding the secretary. He said Quebec was satisfied a bond existed and that it was valid, but it was a matter for the courts to decide and that the Council would be well advised to consult a good lawyer. He refused, in answer to another question, to commit the Department to any responsibility in the matter; it was purely the business of the Council to make sure that a bond existed. The feeling of the meeting was to pursue the matter in court and proceed against the secretary. At this stage Captain J. D. Weir addressed the meeting from the floor and said there was no use proceeding against the former mayor, he was a voluntary official and had no responsibility beyond doing what he thought best. "The secretary has no means from which we can recover anything of the shortage. We have been presented with a pill, and however bitter, we just have to take it. Going to law against the bonding company is futile, as they have a battery of lawyers which we would have to oppose and in the end we might lose. Our best endeavor is to see that it does not happen again."

Mr. Cottingham explained at this point that Captain Weir was one of the reasons for this meeting. The Captain had applied to Quebec for a Royal Commission to investigate the position of the Council. He, Mr. Cottingham, had tried to avoid the cost of a Royal Commission (which might run into some thousands of dollars) by producing all the facts that he could get hold of. If they were still not satisfied at the position as now explained, they could still go ahead and have a Royal Commission.

A questioner asked if it were possible that some further assets might be discovered. Mr. Corry replied there is a possibility that there may be more. The returns are now coming in, and out of every 25 replies ten contain cheques, ten contain objections, and five are misaddressed. Some received receipted bills although they paid no tax. Some people write in to know where St. Philippe d'Argenteuil is, as they never knew they owned any property there!

Mr. Hammond asked the term of the bond. Mr. Corry replied, one year.

Mr. MacGibbon enquired if the secretary had paid back as much as $10,000 to try and balance the books. Mr. Corry replied: "He may have put back some small amounts but nothing like $10,000.

Further questions dealt with the rights of taxpayers with regard to attendance at council meetings and inspection of books, and several matters which can be found contained in the Municipal Code. (Meetings are open to the public, and all papers and books may be inspected by a taxpayer or interested party at any reasonable time).

Captain J. D. Weir said the meeting revealed there were irregularities; he suggested the matter be taken to court and obtain a judgment against Bernard Lamarche, make him come before the people with the auditors and give the information necessary to clear up the mess — then let it go at that. Captain Weir further proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Cottingham for his untiring efforts on their behalf, and the very efficient and capable manner in which he had presented the facts and conducted the meeting tonight. He would ask the Mayor to move a vote of thanks to Miss M. Douglas for the use of the hall, and see that steps were taken to put it back in an orderly way after the meeting.

Mr. Cottingham expressed appreciation of these sentiments. He added that he had done his utmost in the best interests of the Council; he was elected by the people to represent them and he had no thought of shirking the work. He was always available where the business of the public bodies or the interests of Argenteuil were concerned. Mr. Cottingham said there was an order on Public Assistance by which councils could recover from the direct relatives of the person receiving the assistance, but a mayor should not sign an indigent card unless he was sure the facts were as stated, otherwise it was public robbery.

The meeting, after some further discussion, decided to seek legal advice with a view of taking the matter to the courts. The proceedings were adjourned at midnight.

Opening Performance Of Concert Season

In lighter strain, the musicians teamed again for favorite selections from the opera "Carmen", and the special arrangement for violin and piano gave ample scope for both artists to show their special talents.

Three piano solos by Mr. Sorin were then given. A light arrangement by Griffes, "The Fountain of the Acqua Paola", was followed by a dramatic and contrasting number, "Suggestion diabolique" by Prokofieff. "The Beautiful Blue Danube" of Johann Strauss was the final solo — a composition which always holds tremendous audience appeal.

A distinctive French composition by Gabriel Fauré was the closing rendition by the duo, and this performance called forth many generous encores.

Mr. Linton W. Armstrong and Mr. Gabriel Valois, president and secretary of the Association, respectively, announced there would be a general meeting of the Association in the Victoria Hall, Lachute, on Wednesday, November 16, when important business would be discussed. They expressed the hope that many members would be present at this time.

After the concert, Messrs. Sorin and De la Fuente were guests of the officers and directors of Lachute Community Concerts Association, at the Golf Club chalet.

N.H.L. Prognostications

"SPORTS CAMERA"
By Wally Izsak

The season is young, with a long time to grow, but already the cramped standings in the National Hockey League are indicating that the team with reserves in depth will be the one to beat.

That team at this time appears to be once again the Stanley Cup champions, Toronto Maple Leafs, who have more standard-grade major league players and fewer individual stars than any other club.

The Leafs were said to be lucky last season, when, after finishing fourth, they went on to take the cup. They were lucky in that they drew the badly-bruised Boston Bruins in their half of the semi-finals and then took on the battered Detroit Red Wings in the finals after the Wings' bruising series with Montreal Canadiens.

But the Leafs had taken the trophy in the two previous seasons in much the same manner. Their depth in players had prevented them from becoming too crippled or the individual player too overworked. Now that the schedule has been stretched to 70 games it emphasizes even more the need for a team to have player depth.

Four of the N.H.L. clubs, including Toronto, were involved in player trades during the off-season and again the Leafs benefitted.

They traded three players on their Pittsburg farm club for Bob Solinger, a minor leaguer who promises soon to gain major league class. Chicago Black Hawks also have benefitted with the acquisition of Frank Brimsek, the goal-tending wizard from Boston. But Chicago is generally weak in other spots.

Boston Left Short

Boston, in turn, has lost strength with the departure of Brimsek. They gained a top-notch defenceman in Bill Quackenbush from Detroit but gave up three players, Clare Martin, Pete Babando and Jim Peters, in return. Then, too, they lost a rugged rearguard through the retirement of Johnny Crawford.

Detroit Wings, although they gained little with the acquisition of the three Bruins and lost their best defenceman, once again appear slated for the runner-up spot. They seem to have sufficient player strength to outclass every other club with the possible exception of Toronto.

Montreal Canadiens' chances took an upswing when they persuaded starry Elmer Lach not to retire and they still have one of the best-scoring forwards in Maurice (Rocket) Richard so the club could slide into third position.

There's little to back up this guess but Hawks possibly could move into fourth place through the work of Brimsek. It all depends on whether the club's shaky defence tightens up and whether the speedy forwards start to backcheck and keep Brimsek from being snowed under by rubber.

The last two positions seem like the biggest toss-up. New York Rangers and Boston have little to establish themselves as threats and likely will battle it out for those two spots out of the playoffs.

Leafs' most powerful opponent is over-confidence. If they can lick that and also overlook the "What's the matter with the Leafs" cry that will pop up when they hit a slump, they look like better than even-money bets to take the honors again.

Notables and County Friends Join In Presentation to Georges H. Héon

At Testimonial Banquet Honoring His Appointment to the Judiciary

A turbulent career in politics closed this week on a note of sentiment, as 325 friends from all ranks in this county gathered at a testimonial banquet in Lachute Auditorium to honor Georges H. Héon, K.C., on his elevation to the judgeship. Mr. Héon had taken the oath of his office that morning in the Magistrates' Court of Montreal, his judicial seat; and at the function here honoring his appointment, he literally bade farewell to the practice, the profession, the political and community role which had occupied him for 15 years past. On this occasion the friendships he had established in that time were impressively evident. Mrs. Héon was a partner in the honors of the evening, which were conveyed in very tangible form by the presentation of a De Soto custom automobile, a gift to them from the people of this constituency.

Justice Georges H. Héon

Chairman was A. Gaston Munich, County Warden; while Roger Lagarde, junior partner in Mr. Héon's law practice, was master of ceremonies. Others seated at the head table were —

The guest of honor and Mrs. Héon; Mrs. Roger Lagarde; Hon. Alexandre Taché, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, and Mrs. Taché; Hon. Justice Auguste Boyer, Chief Justice of the Magistrates' Court, Montreal; Chief Recorder Roland Paquette, City of Montreal; Hon. Judge Herman Barrette, of St. Jerome, and Mrs. Barrette; Hon. Justice Jules Poisson, of Montreal; Hon. Justice Liguori Lacombe, of St. Jerome, and Mrs. Lacombe; Recorder Pascal Lachapelle, City of Montreal; Philippe Valois, M.P.; W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A.; Stanley Holt, pro-mayor of Lachute, and Mrs. Holt; Mr. Jean-Louis Héon, Plessisville, Que.

Following the toast to the King, Chief Recorder the Hon. Roland Paquette sponsored a toast to the Bar of the province, to which Philippe Valois, M.P., gave an able reply. The Hon. Alexandre Taché, one of Mr. Héon's former University colleagues, toasted the Magistracy at large, and Chief Justice Auguste Boyer, proved an intriguing orator in responding to the toast and in welcoming the guest of honor on entering the judiciary.

Building Debated In Rouge School Municipality

A public meeting of the Protestant ratepayers of Rouge River school municipality was held recently in Campbell's Hall, Bell Falls, when Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. and chairman of the Central Board, was present together with G. Y. Deacon, member of the Quebec Protestant Committee, L. J. King, inspector of schools, and Linton W. Armstrong, secretary-treasurer of Central Board. Mr. J. Trineer, chairman of the local board, presided.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the proposed new school at Bell Falls. Mr. Cottingham reviewed what had taken place to date, and also the action taken either to have the new bridge built across the Rouge River from Avoca, or to have the existing one repaired. This matter had been thoroughly studied by the engineers of the Department of Public Works, said Mr. Cottingham, and they had reported there were so many other bridges needed in the province, where the volume of traffic was very much greater, that it was difficult to have much work done for some time yet. In view of this it was an open question whether it was wise to proceed with the construction of this school immediately. In view of these developments, the Central Board was making every effort to ensure that as many as possible of the children concerned, have a chance to get a better education now. It was for this reason that it had been decided to establish a bus route, at least on a temporary basis, from Avoca to Grenville. According to all reports this seemed to be working quite well.

Upon being questioned, Mr. Cottingham gave a rough estimate of the cost of a new school and what it would mean in increased taxes to the ratepayers. As the special tax for new construction would be considerable, he thought it wise to proceed slowly, to make certain that no mistake was being made, and to explore the possibility of providing the children concerned with better educational facilities without having to burden people with a special tax, which would exist for years to come.

A vote was taken from among the ratepayers present, as to whether or not they wanted the new school built now on the site already purchased (on property formerly owned by Adam Page). The result was 42 in favor, with 9 opposed. The school board were then informed that it was up to them to take what action they saw fit.

Citizenship Note in Programs Held for Catholic Children

The Sunday afternoon recreation for Catholic kiddies, known as Les Loisirs, has entered upon another season and already presented some attractive programs. The entertainments, held in the basement of Ste. Anastasie Parish Church, have been attended by crowds numbering well over 900 local children, and gifts of candy are handed out for good measure — so that these events, usually centering upon some constructive or educational theme, are voted unanimously satisfying.

The 1949-50 series opened recently with a friendly "causerie" by the R.C.M.P., when officers of the Mounties in their popular uniform and local members of the provincial and town police, joined forces to establish a bond of confidence and friendship with the younger element.

Last Sunday a similar effort in the fostering of young citizenship took the form of a Fire Prevention program. Emile Caron of the Fire Commissioner's Office, Montreal, was a speaker and guest of honor, while Fire Chief Deacon and several members of his brigade were present in uniform. Films were shown and the hazards of fire impressed in an intriguing manner upon the young audience. Fireman George MacKenzie won rousing applause with a round of tap-dancing.

Gatean Cousineau is president of the Comité des Loisirs, which has achieved such notable success in the past and is now well embarked on another interesting season. Others of the committee are — the Rev. Curé W. Lacourse, chaplain; Romeo Legault, secretary treasurer; Robert Marcil, recording secretary; E. Courtois, L. Hamel, G. Joannette, L. Chevrier, A. Lacroix, L. Savard, Mrs. G. Cousineau and Bro. H. Levert.

"Tempus fugit" Lend A Hand!

THIS is an appeal — but one which imposes no hardship, demands no sacrifice. . .

The Watchman is informed that, despite a promising start, the response to the Boy Scouts' Toy Repair Shop has languished, and the boys have but few donations to occupy their good intentions. What they need is — broken but repairable toys — trucks, trains or tricycles in which youthful owners have lost interest — dolls, woolly bears and stuffed animals relegated to the closet of forgotten things.

Roll them out — send them along! The Scouts will be glad to stitch and glue and remedy their defects (the Girl Guides are helping, with needle, thread and feminine skill) — and at Christmas time, glad hearts will thrill to gifts made possible by your timely thought.

Help the Scouts with their Good Turn. They deserve it too! . . See advertisements sponsored by local merchants.

Arundel Taxpayers Meet Prov. Deputy And County Warden

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — An interesting meeting was held last week at the Maplewod Inn, when Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., and Mr. A. G. Munich, Warden for the County, addressed a large gathering of taxpayers.

Mayor R. B. Henry of Arundel presided, and introduced both the speakers, who discussed frankly various subjects pertaining to the affairs of Arundel. After the addresses the meeting was thrown open for questions; the session was promptly taken advantage of, and a number of vexing problems were aired. At the close of the meeting the guests were cordially thanked by the chairman.

REMEMBRANCE RITES STIRRED REVERENCE FOR SACRIFICE

Four Years Since Last Hostilities Ended

Led by a pipe and drum band, the Legionnaires of Lachute — comprising a large group of veterans from the two World Wars — paraded to the Auditorium for the annual Remembrance Day exercises last Friday morning.

A fair representation of citizens, adults and children, attended the devotions. Present on the platform were the chairman, Mayor Léopold Carrière, the Rev. C. Maclean, the Rev. W. B. Rosborough, the Rev. C. R. Lang, the Rev. W. H. Britton, the Rev. C. T. Spriggs, Mr. Philippe Valois, M.P., and Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. An array of poppy wreaths, 17 in number, illuminated by the stage lights, and the flag-draped table at which Mayor Carriere so ably presided, formed an impressive setting.

The observance of the traditional two minutes' silence, and the address by the Rev. C. R. Lang, highlighted this part of the ceremonies. (Address reported on page two.). . . The gathering then adjourned to the Memorial Park, where Mayor Carriere placed a wreath on the civic memorial, dedicated to Lachute's fallen heroes in the Second Great War. The rites were then continued at the Cenotaph. Here the Legion lined up in formation, flanked by the Scouts, Cubs and Guides, all flying their colors. Representatives of the different firms, clubs, churches and various industrial, social and service organizations, were called forward to deposit their wreaths.

Mayor Carriere at this point introduced Mr. Philippe Valois, M.P., and Mr. Cottingham, M.L.A., who voiced appropriate remarks in both languages. . .

There were numerous children witnessing the ceremonies, including a body from the St. Viateur School with religious brothers and nuns; and for these younger listeners Mr. Valois appropiately emphasized the significance of the things they had observed this day — the veterans, the flags, the martial music — and the sacrifice, of which these poppies and the wreaths were memory's symbol. . . Speaking in English, Mr. Valois, asked the question — "Why" these things should be; these demonstrations, these symbols, these sad regrets. He echoed the query of a contempory author, who asked if this were a time to be marked in history as "an era of collective treason". . . Why must there be war? . . The speaker gave no answer, but left the question in the minds of his listeners, that the exercises of Remembrance might not be just "an idle gesture".

Mr. Cottingham felt that no further words were needed (in which sentiment the gathering agreed, for cool weather was placing a strain on the public endurance). The symbol of silence was the highest tribute of this day, he said — echoing the thoughts of a previous speaker, the Rev. Mr. Lang. Mr. Cottingham took occasion, however, to voice a tribute to the late John A. MacKimmie, whose sudden death the previous night had left a gap in the veterans' ranks this day.

The bugler sounded "Last Post" and "Reveille", which concluded the proceedings with fitting solemnity.

Memorial Library At Hudson Heights Honors War Dead

Hudson Heights, Que. — Louis Rene Beaudoin, M.P. for Vaudreuil-Soulanges, officially opened a war memorial library at Hudson Heights last week, and Canon J. J. Willis unveiled a roll of honor recording the names of 370 residents of Como, Hudson and Hudson Heights who served in the First and Second World Wars.

The Rev. J. A. Mowatt, pastor of Wyman Memorial United Church, opened the ceremony with an invocation and the Rev. Henri Cloutier, curé, pronounced a blessing.

Argenteuil Scores in Ayrshires at Toronto "Royal" Show; J. H. Black Wins Third-Time Gr. Championship

It is expected that the livestock consignment to Toronto "Royal" which left here by C.P.R. last week — eight carloads in all — will be the largest entry list from any one county appearing at the exhibition this year. It is certainly the largest shipment ever entered from this district. Four carloads of horses were loaded at Grenville by Arnoldwold Farms with other horse exhibits shipped by John Heatlie and Son. The four carloads sent from Lachute freight-yard were all cattle, consigned by Jack Black, Erskine Rodger, E. K. Wilson and J. P. Bradley & Son. Included also with this shipment are cattle entered by Erskine McOuat, A. D. McGibbon & Sons and Clarence Miller — all Ayrshires and Dual-Purpose Shorthorns.

J. H. Black Scores Again

In one respect the Argenteuil entries have already scored a record, namely, in J. H. Black's top-ranking Ayrshire bull, which won the grand championship yesterday, making three such wins in succession. It is the fact that these championships were won under different judges, that sets a record in the annals of this big show.

Following are the local standings in Ayrshire judging yesterday, received direct from Toronto by telephone to The Watchman:

(Special to The Watchman)

Ayrshires

Grand Champion Bull, J. H. Black.

Junior Bull Calf (class of 27) — 1st J. H. Black, 8th J. P. Bradley, 10th Sid Patterson.

Senior Bull Calf (class of 17) — 2nd Erskine Rodger, 4th J. P. Bradley.

Junior Yearling Bull — 2nd J. P. Bradley.

Senior Yearling Bull — 6th J. P. Bradley.

Bulls 2 years and under — 2nd J. P. Bradley.

Bulls 4 years and over — 1st J. H. Black, 3rd J. P. Bradley, 5th Erskine McOuat.

"The Keys Are Yours"

At a recent bingo event in Lachute Auditorium, Noel Lemay of Staynerville, top prize winner in the season's Rotary drawing, is seen receiving the keys of a Meteor custom automobile from Rotary President Linton Armstrong. Onlooker at this presentation is W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. (centre) who officiated for the drawing of the lucky tickets.

Store Assisted in Vets' Poppy Campaign

Returns from the poppy campaign in outlying districts are not yet complete, but pending a full report of the collection in and around Lachute, one instance of fine co-operation deserves mention this week. This is the splendid window display arranged by the A & P Store, Main Street, in connection with the campaign. The Legion wishes to express, through this news paragraph, its cordial appreciation to the manager and the company.

Morin Hts. Worker Has Eyes Injured

(Our District Correspondent)

Morin Heights — Germain Pagé met with a painful accident on Friday last while working in his father's blacksmith shop. Flying metal or solder struck both eyes, and he was rushed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Montreal. It is not known as yet just how serious the injury may prove to be.

Killarney, Ont. (CP) — There was some indecision in Joe Lowe's motorboat as he raced Mrs. Joe de Lamorandiere and a nurse to hospital at Little Current. They finally decided they couldn't make it, turned back to Killarney, and soon after they landed, Mrs. de Lamorandiere gave birth to a baby boy.

Q.W.I.'s Co-operating in Young Canadians' and Adults' Libraries

The promotion of Community Libraries is one phase of the varied interests of the Quebec Women's Institutes. Every encouragement and support is given to those already existing, small circulating ones are started among members of a branch, and the work of the branches at Wakefield and Scotstown in opening and successfully operating libraries for the benefit of their communities is well known throughout the province.

Reflecting this desire to bring good reading within the reach of all, the Q.W.I. is joining with other organizations this week in observing "Young Canada's Book Week". Those who are behind this idea are asking Canadians to examine the library service which their communities provide for children, decide whether they should take action for its improvement or expansion, and stress that all adults be made aware of the importance of reading in the lives of young people.

A list of 50 books for Young Canadians, selected by the Canadian Association of Children's Libraries, and representative of recent books, has been prepared especially for this "Book Week". A copy is on file in the office of the Q.W.I., Macdonald College, which will be loaned on request, or copies may be purchased from the Canadian Library Association, 46 Elgin St., Ottawa.

Honor Memory Of Flying Officer

At the Bell Telephone building here last Friday, a small gathering witnessed the unveiling of a plaque in memory of Flying Officer Chas. Cyril Drew, A.F.C., an employee from this town who gave his life in the Second World War. A brief service was conducted by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough in the presence of Bell employees, a few immediate friends and those related to the late Flying Officer (Mr. Sidney Drew, of Lachute, his brother, being the closest relative surviving).

Mr. Rosborough spoke of Cyril Drew in happy and affectionate terms, recalling his participation in the youthful enterprises of this town, his pre-eminence in sport, and his fine physique. Mr. L. W. Ball, district Bell Telephone manager at St. Jerome, gave the brief dedicatory address, voicing the Company's pride and appreciation for the sacrifice of this employee in the service of his country.

The bronze plaque is of tasteful design in keeping with the Bell Telephone offices; it is situated in the main lobby facing the public entrance.

F/O C. C. Drew met his death April 13, 1944, while on reconnaissance duty with the R.C.A.F. overseas. He is buried at Brookwood, Surrey, England.

Many at Funeral Of Late Citizen, John MacKimmie

Residents of Lachute and vicinity were shocked to hear of the sudden passing of John A. MacKimmie, which occurred early last Thursday evening.

While suffering from a heart ailment in recent years, Mr. MacKimmie had enjoyed fair health and on the same day as his death had been assisting in the Curling Club in preparation for the season's activities.

The second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jas. P. MacKimmie, John was born in Lachute January 1, 1899. He attended the Lachute Academy, then for a number of years worked with his father and brother William in the carpentry and contracting business. With the advent of the First World War, he volunteered and enlisted with the McGill Siege Artillery Draft under command of Sir Stafford Brunton. After training in England, he served in the Signal Corps of the 10th Siege Battery.

Returning from overseas in 1919, he later acquired the bakery business of the late Robt. Hamilton. He retired from this line in 1942, and latterly had conducted the undertaking business under the name of J. P. MacKimmie Reg'd.

In 1929 he was married to Miss Ruby Rodgers; his wife and two daughters, Margaret and Jean, are left to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father. Also left to mourn his passing are his sister, Elizabeth (Mrs. Arthur St. Onge); two brothers, William and James, nephews, nieces and a host of relatives and friends.

Of a friendly and genial nature, John was often called upon at entertainments to recite Drummond's habitant selections, at which he was a master.

His chief recreation was curling, and until recently he had been most active in this sport, bringing honor to the town and club by his splendid play in many bonspiels. He was considered among the very best of skips.

During his younger days John was as outstanding hockeyist; he played a consistently clean game, and much to his credit, was never known to receive a penalty.

He was a lover of horses and took great interest in the annual harness racing at Lachute Spring Fair; he was committee chairman of these events for several years.

A member of the United Church and on the Board of Stewards, he was also a Past-Master of Argenteuil Lodge No. 67, A.F. and A.M.; a member of Laurentian Chapter No. 24; a Past Noble Grand of Laurentian Lodge No. 14, I.O.O.F., and a Past-President of Argenteuil Branch No. 70 of the Canadian Legion.

The funeral was conducted on Sunday afternoon by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough, and was very largely attended, the Legion forming a guard of honor and the Masonic brethren taking part in the service at the grave. Pallbearers were — Messrs. Arnold Scott, Jas. W. McGibbon, Ross Muir, Donald G. MacRae, Russell Rodgers and Mervin Case.

A profusion of flowers bore silent testimony to the well spent life of one who will be sadly missed by all who had the privilege of knowing him.

Interment was made in Lachute Cemetery.

Sworn as Commissioner Of Superior Court

Police Chief D. Villeneuve was made a Commissioner of the Superior Court for the District of Terrebonne, at St. Jerome last week, Judge Hector Perrier administering the oath. This office authorizes the police chief to receive any affidavit or declaration required by the Superior Court of the district.

Ross Munro, War Correspondent, at Armistice Banquet

Those to whom Ross Munro was known, in the past, as a by-line attached to exciting war stories — which is in itself a notable distinction — had no doubt speculated on his appearance and personality. It was the experience of the Lachute war veterans to meet him here last Saturday, as speaker at their Remembrance Day get-together. And they found Mr. Munro — not the swashbuckling newsman of movie characterizations, but a quiet, friendly chap, spectacled and somewhat scholarly of appearance, an unassuming speaker but one obviously well informed, both on matters of war strategy and on non-military events.

Over 90 veterans assembled for the annual Legion banquet, which was served at the Golf Club, under chairmanship of President Roger D'Aoust with Comrade Jim Duncan as M.C. Others at the head table were the speaker, the Rev. Chas. Maclean (chaplain), Comrades Dave Campbell and Bud Brash.

In a few fitting words the Rev. Maclean stressed the more solemn purpose of this occasion, which was primarily a gesture of remembrance to fallen comrades of the two past wars; and the assembly stood for a moment in silent tribute.

Following the toast to the King, Comrade Brash introduced the speaker, whose personal friendship he had enjoyed for many years. He recalled that Ross Munro, prior to the war, was the youngest member of the Press Gallery at Ottawa, corresponding for Canadian Press. As a war correspondent he had become well and favorably known for his narratives of Canadian contingents in various western sectors. Today Mr. Munro is back in Ottawa, reporting for Southam Press the affairs of the House of Commons, and other assignments of the day.

Most Significant Operation Of Second War

The speaker held the close interest of his listeners with observations on the principal western and Mediterranean campaigns, recounted in a quiet, effortless manner.

Mr. W. M. Cottingham will be present at the English School on his post-election visit next Tuesday, November 22. The members of the council and schoolboards are to provide Mr. Cottingham with an opportunity of meeting the people, and of learning of their needs and matters demanding attention in and around the municipality. County Warden Mr. A. Gaston Munich will accompany Mr. Cottingham and explain the proposed system of valuation which has been advocated for the county as a whole. It will be a public meeting, and questions concerning municipal affairs will be welcomed and answered.

Mission

Large numbers of English-speaking Catholics are attending a mission being conducted by the Redemptorist Fathers. The 7.30 evening sermons are largely attended, while many attend the morning Mass and lecture at 5.45 o'clock. Father Dever, who is the principal speaker, opened the mission on Sunday, which will continue throughout the week. The English-speaking people have a week's mission each year, and avail themselves of the opportunity to hear a series of good sermons during this period.

Even Before Devaluation

Even before it became necessary to de-value the Canadian dollar recently, the cost-of-living index in Canada had shown a steady increase and stands now at 162.7. That meant that the cost of everything had shown a general increase of almost 2/3 as compared with pre-war days.

The cost of electricity is part of the cost of living — but the figure for electricity itself in the index is only 85.5. In other words, while other things generally were rising by almost 2/3 in cost, electricity was dropping by almost 1/6.

Power companies have absorbed steadily increasing costs in recent years — costs which, as yet, have not been passed on to the consumer. Wage increases in the power industry have kept pace with wage increases in most other industries. Wage increases in other industries have meant higher costs in materials used by power companies in construction, operation and maintenance of lines.

Increased costs, without increased revenues, cannot be absorbed indefinitely by a power company no matter whether it is privately or publicly owned. In fact, the charges of some publicly-owned power producers have already been raised.

The consumer of electricity naturally has an interest in this matter of costs. He also has a protection which is lacking in most other fields — the protection offered by the Provincial Electricity Board. It is worthy of repetition that this regulated power industry cannot finance out of its earnings the plant expansion required to meet public demand for service. On the contrary it must be financed in large part by the funds of investors, who must be assured that the business will earn enough to attract and safeguard their savings.

European Star Appears on Police Benefit Program

Nina Martell

A European star, Nina Martell, will be the feature artist in a variety concert at the Auditorium, November 28 — the first public performance ever sponsored by the Police Department here, in aid of local police funds.

The organizer of this event Florian Aubin (a former Canadian champion swimmer) has received encouragement through the support of local businessmen to a souvenir program, to be issued in connection with this performance. Mr. Aubin and Police Chief D. Villeneuve anticipate a "packed house", and suggest that all desiring to attend this artistic revue should buy their tickets now. Tickets are available at the local police headquarters, and all support to this effort on behalf of the police fund will be appreciated.

Nina Martell

Attached to the Belgian concert troupe directed by Stan Brenders (of the Belgium Music Hall, Brussels) Nina Martell sang for soldiers of the Allied Armies during the war, including the Canadians, who heard her at Atlanta Hotel and the Beaver Club in Belgium, and the Americans at the Shipper Club in Anvers. She also performed with the well known "Ramblers' Band", and previously filled a contract with Jelso Records. . . Following her appearance in Lachute Nina Martell has a contract with Morocco Club in New York.

Variety Cast

A talented cast completes this program, including Tom Auburn, the great magician, and a galaxy of vaudeville performers, acrobats, balancers, dancers and singers. Georges Bouvier, the well known radio and stage artist, will be master of ceremonies.

Noted War Correspondent Ross Munro, Speaker at Legion Armistice Banquet

The most significant single operation of the war, the one contributing most to the final victory, in his opinion—was the Dieppe Raid. This was the "trial run" for the invasion of Europe. It was a tremendously costly action, but it taught the high command what course it must not take — that is, to attempt to land at a fortified port. The Germans read the lesson the other way, for they hastened to strengthen their port defences . . while the Allied command altered their plans and prepared to invade the open beaches, and to establish the Mulberry artificial harbour — with results since recorded in the triumph of D-Day. The Dieppe Raid sadly evidenced the need of fire power and bomber support; and this lesson too bore fruit in subsequent seaborne raids. "In every combined operation after Dieppe, its lessons were put into practice. It was the greatest pay-off assignment of the Canadian forces."

In this manner the more notable operations in which Canada took part, passed under review and the speaker interspersed his impressions. Sicily, Salerno and Ortona were mentioned, and those actions with which Munro had been more immediately concerned. He referred to the Canadians' stand at Caen as a real highlight of their part in the over-all hostilities. The 3rd Division, he recalled, were 53 days in the line, casualties were heavy and the fighting as bitter as anywhere. By holding the Caen area, the Canadians ensured the American advance of Patton's tanks to the left. And they rated small glory from the American commentators — but it had been part of the strategy, and was carried out according to plan.

There were other campaigns in which the Canadian troops played a significant part in the pattern of the war — all of which made interesting listening, for many among the audience had been actually on the spot — in the infantry, behind the rifles and the gun muzzles (as Mr. Munro remarked), while he had served in a role affording broader perspective to the fighting.

Where Do We Stand?

"And now where do we stand?" concluded the speaker, traversing the years to the present day. "Things seem more unsettled than ever, although people in Ottawa like Claxton, Pearson and St. Laurent expect no immediate emergency, after four or five years of uneasy grace. A British diplomat remarked recently that 'the world will walk for a long time along a plateau of tensions'. That is being realistic."

Military exercises on Canada's frontiers had shown a serious need of equipment, particularly in the Air Force. There were statements in the House indicating the realization of our defensive needs, and that something constructive was really being planned. A case can also be made for compulsory reserve training, the speaker opined. "We are vulnerable the way we are", was his laconic conclusion on Canada's defences.

Comrade Chas. L. Duncan thanked Mr. Munro in a sincere and able manner, and added a note of tribute to Canada's war correspondents overseas.

The gathering then adjourned to the lounge for a social session, in which many favorite war songs were revived in rousing harmony. Comrade Chas. Duncan and Paul Courville, popular member of the Golf Club management, accompanied at the piano and solovox.

Babe Ruth's longest home run was hit off Howard Ehmke on June 13, 1921, at the Polo Grounds in New York. The ball travelled 460 feet in the air.

"Significance of Silence" Stressed by Speaker at Remembrance Exercises

"This is not an occasion for much talk", said the Rev. C. R. Lang, speaker at the Remembrance Day exercises at Lachute Auditorium, "it is rather a time for silence. When the war came to an end four years ago, a great hush momentarily fell upon the world . . the tumult and the clash of arms was still . . and the silence in that hour was more impressive than the joy".

The two minutes' silence is the heart of our Remembrance; there are occasions in life when speech is an intrusion. In this brief silence the minds of our ex-servicemen will leap over thousands of miles, to fields of honor, to graves where fellow warriors sleep. . And those bereaved by war will feel the touch of a vanished hand. Silence is by no means emptiness — said the speaker, emphasizing the point of his theme.

This was the silence of Reverence. "Death is always awesome. And when you multiply it by 20 millions, it becomes overwhelming. It seems so unjust that the flower of youth should be wasted in this way. . . But were they wasted? Are the leaves in autumn wasted — have they not fulfilled their mission?"

"Death is not the only mystery in whose presence we stand on Remembrance Day. There is the mystery of Sin", said the speaker, alluding to the hates and greeds, the lusts and prejudices, that cause war. There are also the perplexities of pain and bereavement. We can stand in reverent silence, praying that out of the welter of war there may come lasting good to humanity.

This was likewise a silence of Love . . and lastly a silence of Resolution. . . The Rev. Lang recalled the psychology of Nazism and totalitarianism leading up to the last world conflict. "We believe that man is made in the image of God and has the God-given right to develop as a free being. To coerce him into silence and complete submission to the State, is a denial of God and man. . To save us from this, our heroic dead gave their all. And we today must resolve that they shall not have died in vain. Let our silence therefore breathe a resolution, to uphold the freedom and dignity of man." . .

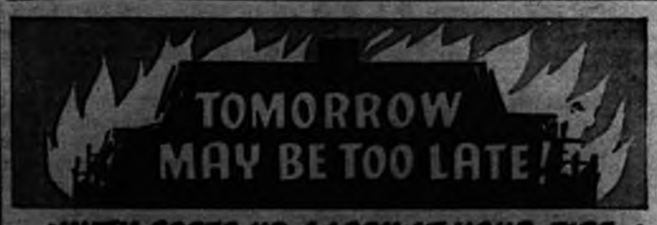

"Over the broken dead,
Over the trenches and fire,
Bugles of God rang out
'Cease Fire'.

"Woe to the nations of men
Who in their heat or desire
Break that stern order of God,
'Cease Fire'."

OBITUARY

Reginald P. Campbell, Former Resident Here, Dies in Montreal

A former resident of Lachute, Reginald Parson Campbell, passed away suddenly at his home in Montreal, last Saturday morning as he was about to leave for his work.

"Reggie", as Mr. Campbell was generally known to acquaintances here, was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Campbell and was born in Lachute on May 5, 1895. In 1911 the family moved to Ottawa, where in 1917 he entered the employment of the Canadian Pacific Railway as a fireman, later reaching his ambition to be an engineer. He was often seen on the local North Shore line, his run being between Montreal and Ottawa.

He was a member of the Baptist Church and was also connected with various railroad organizations.

Others in the family circle are two sisters, Laura (Mrs. Walter Martin), of Prescott, Ont., Mildred (Mrs. G. R. Mullan), of Hudson Heights, Que., and three brothers, Howard, of St. Catharines, Harold, of Brockville, and Ross of Toronto.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, in the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church, service being conducted by the Rev. C. Maclean of Lachute and the Rev. J. G. Duncan of Brownsburg. Many relatives and friends from this vicinity attended in remembrance of the father, Mr. Geo. Campbell, and in sympathy with the family, many of whom spent their childhood days at the old homestead in Dalesville.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. Howard Campbell, St. Catharines, Harold Campbell, Brockville, Ross Campbell, Toronto, G. R. Mullan, Hudson Heights, Bert Raymond, Ottawa, and Mason Crosby, Dalesville.

Interment was made in Lachute Cemetery.

Holland Teaches A Lesson

THE EDITORIAL page of The Montreal Gazette is campaigning to show the stupidity and tragedy of destroying food at any point in the world while other points are in need.

Planned destruction of surplus food gives Socialists, Marxists, and men everywhere a just cause for indicting both government and business. In answer to this problem, The Gazette printed the story of a bumper crop yielding a surplus of 200,000 tons of vegetables in Holland. The Dutch Government attempted to sell this surplus to American and British authorities in Germany, but the latter had neither the funds nor the authority to buy it.

"The Dutch Government", says this story, "had little to be thankful for to Germany." Professor Egbert DeVries, special economic adviser to the Dutch Ministry of Overseas Affairs, had even less to be thankful for. He had, in fact, every reason for hating the Germans, who had put his wife in concentration camp where she died during the German occupation.

DeVries, however, saw the impossibility of building a decent world on hatred. Through his own change of heart he was able to induce the Dutch Government to send this food as a gift to the Ruhr. And, when he found the Germans had no means of transporting it, he was able to go back and induce his Cabinet to defray the transportation costs.

"The aftermath of this action", says the writer, "was an improvement in trade relations between Germany and Holland. . . And it resulted in hundreds of Marxists re-examining their own philosophy of hatred and reaching a conclusion like that of Professor DeVries."

This action, starting from change in one man's heart, transformed economic loss into gain. Out of man-splitting self-concern and disagreement, it produced a nation-uniting force. It met the tidal wave of an idea that cannot be legislated, organized or bombed out of existence, and overcame it with the power of a superior idea.

Old But Timely

"THERE ARE persons who constantly clamor; they complain of oppression, speculation and pernicious influence of accumulated wealth.

"They cry out loud against all banks and corporations and all means by which small capitalists become united in order to produce important and beneficial results. They carry on mad hostility against all established institutions. They would choke the fountain of industry and dry all streams.

"In a country of unbounded liberty, they clamor against oppression. In a country of perfect equality, they would move heaven and earth against privilege and monopoly. In a country where property is more evenly divided than anywhere else, they rend the air, shouting agrarian doctrines. In a country where wages of labor are high beyond parallel, they would teach the laborer he is but an oppressed slave.

"What can such men want? What do they mean? They want nothing, sir, but to enjoy the fruits of another man's labor."

— Who made this speech, and when? asks R. J. Deachman, in citing this gem as fresh as today's vegetables from the corner grocery. The answer is: Daniel Webster, before the United States Senate in 1828.

WHILE it is true that veterans under certain circumstances have the advantage of specific legislation, it should be remembered that when an emergency arises speed is the essential requirement in providing assistance. Through the comradeship of the Canadian Legion their needs are learned and the assistance is forthcoming.

Wanted, A Santa Claus

AS THE YULETIDE approaches, we begin to feel that the prestige of this town suffers from the lack of a Santa Claus to call its own. By the crowded appearance of our Main Street at the peak of the Christmas shopping, one would judge that the volume of business justifies, somewhere in some enterprising store, the existence of a Santa Claus — or even a part-time Santa Claus, with two or three merchants sharing his expenses and dividing his services. When one weighs, against this lack, the numerous family trips to Montreal (where Santa's are stationed in several leading stores), it would appear that the loss of holiday trade emphasizes the demand for one fat, jovial St. Nicholas right here in Lachute.

We feel that the idea deserves attention. And many harassed parents, we know, would appreciate Santa's accessibility here, so that they could more easily satisfy their children's desires.

Town-Planning Is For Everyone

DESPITE the pronouncements of some so-called experts who seek to hide their lack of practical experience behind high-sounding gobbledygook, town-planning is a subject which the average man can consider and discuss with obvious advantage to himself and his community. Certain technical problems require expert study and advice, but one doesn't have to be a doctor to appreciate the value of hospitals, nor an expert chef to enjoy a good meal — says the Chamber of Commerce bulletin for October, under the title "Town Planning Is Not High Hat".

Sound town-planning is essentially a matter of conservation — of wise and careful management. It calls for the imaginative use of those resources which we possess. Good town-planning has eliminated waste; it has maintained and encouraged both physical and spiritual well-being; it has banished ugliness; it has stimulated commercial and industrial enterprise.

Town-planning can be achieved in only two ways. The individual can be forced to conform to some rigid pre-conceived plan, or he can be persuaded to co-operate because he willingly supports a practical plan which he believes will develop the community along sound lines. The experience of many towns and cities has shown that only this latter method will succeed over the long term required for constant growth and improvement.

Town-planning is for everyone, and it is high time that it was taken out of the rarefied atmosphere of planning for planning's sake and brought down to earth so that it can be appreciated at the level of the man in the street. Planning Boards and commissioners — yes, even the dreamers — have their rightful place but their plans for guiding the future growth of the community should receive the careful scrutiny of hard-headed men of business, who will foot most of the bill and benefit or suffer most by the results.

This is a job now being done by committees in many Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce — concludes the bulletin.

MORE THAN a third of all the deaths caused by firearms occur in the last three months of the year, which proves that there is an open season on hunters as well as game. If you're out hunting, be careful and make sure that the only fatalities are wild game.

A 'Fly' the Spider Fears

(Contributed)

Donald Peattie tells many interesting anecdotes about the various species of firefly in this month's Literary Digest.

The firefly is the only living creature that has the power of emitting flame from its body. I quote from the article, as follows:

The barefoot natives of the West Indies tie big brilliant fireflies called cucuyos to their toes to light a path through the jungle. . .

The light of the firefly is one of Nature's great miracles. It is light without heat — perfect illumination. That is something man has only recently achieved. The firefly is eerily cooler than the air of the summer night which it illumines.

The male firefly flashes on an average every 5.8 seconds. The female's signal is much weaker and she answers the male's signal every 2.1 seconds after she sees it. They flash somewhat more often if the weather is warm, less frequently if it is chilly.

You may be able to decoy the males to you. Place a flashlight in the grass and signal every 2 seconds in answer to each flash in the air above.

The luminous organs consist of two layers of tissue in the last segments of the abdomen. Near the surface is a layer of granules and back of it a layer of crystal cells which act as reflectors. These granules are the source of the light. Through them runs a network of air tubes and nerves.

When the firefly flashes, probably the air tubes open, oxygen rushes over the granules, and they flare up as an ember brightens when you blow on it.

Biological chemists tell us that the luminous organs contain an oxidizible or combustible substance called luciferin. However, it will combine with oxygen only in the presence of an enzyme called luciferase, also found in the granules.

But this luciferase has a double power over the luciferin — it can deoxidize it too, as though you unrusted rusty iron, so that it can be used over and over.

With one statement by Donald Peattie I disagree. He says that the flame-throwing ability of the firefly is not used to frighten its enemies, serving rather to attract them to the firefly. Frogs have been found which had eaten so many fireflies their insides were revealed as if by a fluoroscope. He neglects to say the frog is no fair match for the tiny firefly.

One dark night last summer, I noticed a spider in the corner of a window pane. In the lower opposite corner a firefly had become ensnared in the spider's web.

The firefly, as Mr. Peattie says it does, when hurt or excited, was emitting constant flame.

The four-eyed spider regarded the firefly malevolently. He would crush the six-legged beetle in his mandibles, antennae and all. . . The spider plummeted down on his hapless prey. He came to within a hair's breadth of the firefly and then retreated as precipitately as he had attacked. He rested a minute and then descended again on his helpless antagonist, but blinded, baffled by this living ball of fire, he once more beat a hasty retreat.

Shortly after, the firefly broke loose from the web, which had probably become weakened by the flashes, and rambled nonchalantly away.

Judge Georges-H. Héon Feted by County Friends

Jean-Louis Héon, industrialist of Plessisville, Que., spoke feelingly on behalf of his family, voicing both pride, and a full measure of gratitude to those whose loyalty his brother, Georges-Henri Héon, had enjoyed in his public career. (Mr. Héon's mother and another brother, Raymond, were seated among the audience). Mr. Héon presented his brother with a toga, a judge's cloak.

Two speakers were called upon to voice the local sentiments — Henri St.-Onge and W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. Speaking respectively in French and English, they did justice to the many services which Mr. and Mrs. Héon had rendered to the community. To "Georges", as he was familiarly known (it would be difficult to address him "Judge", remarked Mr. St. Onge) and to "Jeannette" his partner, a warm tribute was paid, recalling their devotion to many social, religious, patriotic and community enterprises — to which Mr. Cottingham added the staunch support of free speech, free enterprise and fairness to minorities, which Mr. Héon had upheld throughout his parliamentary career.

Mr. Munich, County Warden, added a word of tribute and good wishes on behalf of his fellow mayors; and Roger Lagarde, who had been taken under Mr. Héon's wing as partner in his practice, voiced a warm appreciation of his qualities.

Messrs. Cottingham and St.-Onge made the formal presentation of the new 1950 automobile to the honored couple from their county friends, and Miss Claudette Therrien presented a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Héon, who briefly thanked the gathering and organizers of the banquet.

This was virtually his "swan song" in the political life of this constituency, said Judge Héon. "But I leave the field of combat with the smoke of battle still in my nostrils", he added, referring to his last political campaign. He paid tribute to his adversary and successor, Philippe Valois, M.P., who was participating here in this gesture of good will; and to both deputies present, Mr. Valois and Mr. Cottingham, he affirmed they had the honor to represent "one of the best counties in the province", where unity and harmony prevailed and minority rights were respected. There was no segment of the population more loyal or more truly Canadian than Argenteuil, he claimed during his address, and he was proud to have represented this constituency. "May divine providence help you to work together for a united nation". . . In thanking his friends for their generous gift, Mr. Héon assured them that much of his leisure time would be spent among them in this county.

PEAT BOG YIELDS BONANZA HARVEST

Toronto (CP) — There is a pretty good chance that the cranberries you will have with this year's Christmas dinner will come from the farm of George B. Mollard, of Toronto and MacTier, Ont.

Five years ago Mr. Mollard started growing cranberries — a business which, in Ontario, is about as common as elephant herding.

Most of the province's cranberries come from Wisconsin and Massachusetts, but the enterprising Mr. Mollard literally dug into a bog of almost pure peat which is ideal for growing the berries, and came up with a crop he estimates will net him about $15,000 a year.

But it isn't like growing anything else, he says. One of his difficulties is discovering how to grow the berries. It takes a lot of hard work, experimenting, and a bit of the gambling spirit.

But $15,000 is a nice reward for a gamble.

A survey of more than 10,000 accidents involving trucks and commercial cars in nine industries, shows that backing improperly is the most common cause of accidents — says Dean Keefer, a vice-president of the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company.

Esteemed Resident of Cushing Called by Death

Late Edward Whelehan

Cushing and surrounding communities are today mourning the loss of one of their best loved citizens, Edward Whelehan, son of the late Edward Whelehan and his wife Mary Dunn.

This highly respected family of good Irish stock settled in 1855 on a farm at the Front of Chatham, as it was then called, in one of the fine old stone houses of this countryside. To this couple were born eight children; now the only surviving members are Mrs. Annie Funcheon, of Monalea, who recently celebrated her 92nd brithday, and Miss Margaret Whelehan, of Cushing.

Edward, the youngest, was born over 80 years ago, spent his lifetime and passed peacefully away in this same house, on November 12, after being confined to his bed for the last two months. His sister, Margaret, who has shared this hospitable home throughout the years, has been most devoted, and a number of nieces and nephews have also been untiring in their kind attentions.

Mr. Whelehan was a man of sterling character, quiet disposition, unassuming manner, and a good neighbor, generous with his practical help and in his warm-hearted friendliness to young and old. Being a good reader, possessed of a fine intellect and a keen sense of humour, "Uncle Eddie" had an unusual knowledge of many things, which was a constant surprise and delight to his friends. He was an industrious farmer and noted for the excellent quality of his maple syrup, a product much in demand and shipped from coast to coast of Canada.

The funeral took place on Tuesday morning from the old home to the Parish Church at St. Philippe, with interment in the family plot. The floral offerings were numerous, and a beautiful tribute to a worthy man. The pall-bearers were — Messrs. L. Villeneuve, Roland Desforges, Fraser Watson, Roy Gaston, Edward Byrne and Anthony Barron.

Among relatives attending from a distance were — Mrs. Alden Loring, Miss Margaret Saltmarsh, Miss Irene Hart and Mr. Robert Hart, of Concord, N.H.; Mrs. Douglas Hartley and son Kenneth, Miss Katie Whelehan, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whelehan and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly, all of Montreal; and Mrs. Ferguson, of Lachine. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Danford, Montreal, Mr. Owen W. Keatley, of Ottawa, and Mr. Franklin H. Keatley, of Arnprior, Ont., were also among those present.

Brownsburg

Miss Clarice Mason, of Montreal, was a recent guest at her home here.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Arthur Campbell and other relatives of Mr. Reg Campbell, who passed away suddenly last week. His funeral was held from the Lachute Presbyterian Church on Monday.

Miss Marjory Morrison, of Ottawa, spent the week-end at her home here.

Mr. M. MacAdam, of Chapleau, Ont., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. MacAdam.

Plan Traffic Cops For British Flying

Air Corridors, Traffic Signals To Guide Civilian Pilots

London (Reuters) — Civil aircraft flying over Britain may soon be controlled by "traffic lights" and "stop signs" along skyway flight lanes, just like road traffic.

Aiming at a fool-proof system of complete air safety, the ministry of civil aviation has devised a plan for "block signalling" down air corridors linking main terminals.

The first "skyway", along Britain's busiest air route from London to Bristol, and then to Shannon, Eire, should be in use early next year.

Others, from London to Prestwick, Scotland, Dublin to Liverpool, and London-Birmingham-Liverpool-Prestwick, are to follow shortly.

Each corridor will be 10 miles wide. At either end will be "traffic cops"—ground controllers. They will have every aircraft along the route in constant view on long-distance radar sets which can penetrate the densest fog or thickest cloud.

Pilot and ground controller will be able to speak to each other by radio telephone.

Spaced along the corridors will be a series of radio beacons which will serve the dual purpose of milestones and traffic signals.

Just as a train is not allowed to pass a signal until the section ahead is clear, so planes will not be permitted to fly past a beacon until there is a clear course ahead.

The system, already used in the United States and several European countries, should prove especially efficient in handling fast jet aircraft.

The Search for Peace

Peace is as sure as tomorrow's sunrise, And just as independent of Man.

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder, and his name shall be called Wonderful Councillor, the Mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace:

And of the increase of his government and peace, there shall be no end. — Isaiah 9: 6-7.

Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth. It may be ye shall be hid, in the day of the Lord's anger. — Zephaniah 2: 3

The Earth abideth forever. — Ecclesiastes 1: 4

But the wicked shall not inhabit the earth. — Proverbs 10: 30

The wicked will be destroyed. — Psalms 145: 20.

For the wages of sin is death: but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. — Romans 6: 23.

Well-Loved Citizen Mourned

The very sincere sympathy of this community is extended to Miss Margaret Whelehan, also her sister Mrs. R. Funcheon, in the recent loss of their brother, Mr. Edward Whelehan. Mr. Whelehan was "Uncle Eddie" to most of the younger generation, and very highly respected by the older members of the community — one of whom remarked, on his passing, "That was one man who never did harm to anyone".

TODAY WE LIVE IN A GREATER CANADA

New Signs in the Sky...

A distant hum and a flashing streak in the outer sky announce another exciting Canadian achievement—a new jet plane designed and built by Canadians—one more example of the meteoric advances made by Canadian skills and manufacturing abilities.

In Canada, too, giant airliners, which have won international recognition, are now being built for the world's air routes of today and tomorrow.

Today our production—both in extent and variety—has attained heights undreamt of even ten years ago, creating new opportunities in every field of activity for the talents and enterprise of young Canadians.

Increase of air traffic: today Canada's commercial aircraft carry more than four times the number of passengers and three times the amount of mail they did in 1939.

"Countless New Opportunities..."

"I sometimes find it hard to realize the extent and rapidity of our plant's growth. It has all been based, of course, upon the tremendous expansion of Canadian industry in general, which has created countless new opportunities in every field of activity for the energy and enthusiasm of young Canadians."
—says HARRY J. SEHL of Kitchener.

The development of Sehl Engineering is a typical Canadian success story. Only 14 years ago, Mr. Sehl, with one assistant, began operating a small tool and die shop in Kitchener. Its expansion has been spectacular, with new lines of production added, new departments established and new plants built. Today the company, with 90 employees, is fast becoming one of the leading metal producing concerns in the country.

A Success Story – Meat

A roast seems to be a choice of meat for most special meals and in most families a roast is served at least once a week.

Meat varies in quality and price according to the type of animal and also according to the different cuts from the same animal. A roast is not necessarily one of the most expensive cuts. The end of the loin of pork, fresh or cured pork shoulder, chuck, round, or short ribs of beef and shoulder of lamb are good values in meat and may all be served as a roast if cooked by the right method.

Tender cuts are best when cooked by dry heat at low temperature. These cuts require no added water and low temperature throughout the cooking period reduces shrinkage.

The less tender cuts usually require some added water to aid in breaking down and tenderizing the tissues.

Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb

From 3 to 4 lbs. boned shoulder roast of lamb, salt and pepper, 3 cups bread dressing.

Have butcher remove all bones from roast and leave it flat. (Be sure to take home bones for soup). Wipe meat with damp cloth. Season with salt and pepper. Make 3 cups bread dressing and use to fill cavity in roast. Sew or skewer up the open side. Place meat on a rack in an uncovered pan. Add no water. Roast in a moderate oven, 325°F. to 350°F., allowing 25 to 30 minutes per lb. for medium-done roast and 30 to 35 minutes per pound for well-done roast. If a meat thermometer is used, it should register 175°F., for medium and 180°F., for well-done roast.

If desired, the outside of the roast may be rubbed with a cut clove or garlic, or the surface of the roast may be sprinkled with salt, pepper and a little marjoram and the mixture rubbed into the meat.

Sweet-Sour Beef

4 Pounds beef (chuck, shoulder, rump or round), 2 cups vinegar, 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon whole black pepper, 3 bay leaves, 3 tablespoons fat, 1 teaspoon salt.

Remove excess fat from meat and reserve. Soak meat 8 hours or overnight in vinegar and water to which peppers and bay leaves have been added. Turn meat once during soaking. Drain very well, saving liquid. Heat fat from meat in heavy kettle, add meat and brown on all sides. Add salt and 1½ cups of the reserved liquid. Cover and cook slowly 2 to 2½ hours or until tender, adding more liquid during cooking if necessary. Remove meat and serve gravy separately. Yield: eight to ten servings.

Stuffed Baked Heart

1 Beef heart (or 2 calves' hearts, about 3 lbs.), 3½ cups soft bread crumbs, ½ cup finely chopped cabbage, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, ½ teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup milk, 2 tablespoons fat, melted.

Remove veins and arteries from heart with scissors. Slash centre to form a large cavity; wash thoroughly. Mix remaining ingredients and stuff cavity lightly with the dressing; skewer or sew. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Place heart on a rack in an uncovered roaster and bake in a moderately slow oven, 325°F., until tender, 2 to 2½ hours for calves' heart, 3½ to 4 hours for beef heart. Baste occasionally, adding a little hot water if necessary. Yield: six servings.

Successful Meeting of Ladies' Orange Lodge

Laurentian L.O.B.A. No. 943 had an exceptionally large gathering in their lodge room here on November 9.

W.M. Mrs. Billingham presided, and many visitors from Montreal, Verdun, Harrington, Grenville and Cassburn were welcomed.

The occasion marked the official visit of the R.W. Provincial Grand Mistress, Mrs. M. Ball, who gave a thought-provoking address urging the members to put their best into their lodge work and so bring it to efficiency. She reminded her audience that the L.O.B.A. is benevolent and charitable, and is not in any way antagonistic to those who worship in a different manner; the Order even believes and strives for religious liberty for all.

Other speakers included the Past Grand Mistress, Mrs. Roberts; the Deputy Grand Mistress of British America, Mrs. Erskine; the Past Grand Mistress, Mrs. Walker; the Provincial Grand Secretary, Mrs. Helm—all of Montreal; the Grand Director of Juveniles, Mrs. McVicar, of Harrington; and R.W. Rev. G. T. Spriggs, Deputy Grand Chaplain of British America and Past Grand Master of Prince Edward Island. Representatives of the various visiting lodges also brought greetings.

Subscription Lists for Protestant Orphanage

An unsigned communication from Calumet district has listed 120-odd subscribers to the Orange and Protestant Children's Home — with amounts ranging from 12c to $5 for individual donors, and including $30 from North Star Lodge.

Although a shorter list collected by Harrington Juvenile Lodge was published last week, it is regretted The Watchman cannot report in full the collections which have been made by all lodges throughout this county. It will be realized that such lists would be too lengthy for the space presently available in these pages.

"Young Canada's Book Week" Observance

During this week, November 12 to 19, Quebec joins the Canadian Library Association in promoting "Young Canada's Book Week". Community libraries have special displays of books, both old and new, to interest children — and librarians will be on hand to explain the many ways in which books may help guide, even correct if need be, the reading habits of the young.

In relation to books, it is interesting to note that in the overcrowded business world facing a girl today, Canadian libraries offer many opportunities. Miss Grace Crooks, head librarian of the Montreal Children's Library, is most enthusiastic about the interests that revolve around a librarian's life. She stressed during a recent interview, the importance of promoting libraries to play an even greater role in educating Canadian communities to acquaint themselves with the limitless resources that literature offers.

Perhaps one of the most interesting phases of the work is in children's libraries. For here one has the personal gratification of showing the youngsters the pleasures and knowledge that lie between covers of books they will remember. More and more parents are realizing the importance of good books for children, and interest has increased during the past years to a degree where requests are pouring in from communities asking for libraries to better educate children. Librarians will be needed to staff these bookrooms, and so it will pay a girl today to prepare herself for these future opportunities. In libraries, there is no "thumbs down" policy on women holding top positions. A head librarian may be, and often is, a woman, as is proved by Miss Freda Walden of Hamilton, Ont.

What are the requisites of a good librarian? Personality, tact, understanding and a natural "liking for people" are all important. A fully qualified librarian must have a B.A. degree as well as an extra year of post-graduate study to obtain her B.L.S.C. It's an interesting career, and one of the few remaining professions where demand still exceeds supply.

Pepper at High Price

Halifax (CP) — The price of pepper these days is nothing to sneeze at. . . W. H. C. Schwartz, president of a spice house here, says he believes pepper is selling at its highest price in 500 years. He said it is now the highest in the 108-year history of his business.

During the last 10 years the price has risen from nine to 65 cents for a four-ounce purchase.

"During that same period, the cost of raw pepper on the New York market has jumped from three cents a pound to the present record of $1.40 for raw pepper and $1.60 for white pepper.

The whole trouble seemed to be lack of shipments from the Netherlands East Indies, which provided 70 per cent of the world's needs before the war. There hasn't been a shipment from there since the war.

WOOING DONE QUIETLY

Winnipeg (CP)—Young Winnipeg couples in city parks keep their lovemaking "within bounds", F. T. G. White, parks superintendent, announced recently. He was commenting on an Ottawa report that civic authorities were cracking down on couples "making passion playgrounds" out of the Ottawa parks.

Play Opens Tonight at Lachute Curling Rink, Earliest in Club History

The Lachute Curling Club will be open for play this evening, Thursday — thus marking the earliest opening date in the history of the club.

An Invitation Mixed Bonspiel has been arranged for the week of November 28 to December 3. Sixty rinks from the different clubs in the Branch will compete for prizes and trophies. A limited number of Lachute rinks will enter this bonspiel, and to determine which rinks will enter, a Qualifying Round for Lachute rinks will be held on the week of November 21 to 24. Rules for this Qualifying Round are posted in the clubhouse and all members wishing to enter rinks must leave their names at the club not later than 3 o'clock Saturday, as the draw will be made that night.

This Saturday, commencing at 2 o'clock, the weekly Mixed Bonspiels will be resumed. It is hoped that all members will turn out for this first event of the current season. Light refreshments will be served.

HUGE WELSH MANSION HOME FOR MUSHROOMS

Llandilo, Wales (Reuters) — Edwinsford, a stately 60-room home in a beautiful valley here, has been converted into a "mushroom mansion."

Outwardly the sprawling building retains its 17th-century charm. Inwardly, three former Polish army officers who were demobilized in Britain have turned it into a factory. Mushrooms sprout in the dining room, billiard room, wine cellar and stables.

Rich antique furniture has been replaced by tier upon tier of mushroom beds. Gilt mirrors surrounding the large ballroom reflect the image of dusty piles of boxes, for it has become the main office and the packing room.

Next year the "invasion" is to be carried a stage further. There will be mushroom beds in the main bedrooms on the first floor.

A cross between the English Dorset and German Merino will increase South Africa's mutton yield.

New Society Formed To Munch on Weeds

British "Simplers" Use Plants for Food and Drink

London, Oct. 25 (Reuters)—Because David N. Landale of London took tea with a family at Carshalton, Surrey, 16 people there now eat garden weeds and wash their hair in elderberry juice.

The reason is that Landale is president of the Society of Simplers. He has 40 members in his Hampstead Heath area and Carshalton has now become branch No. 2, with 16 members.

The leader of the Carshalton branch, H. Watling, invited Landale to meet his family and "talk things over". The result was an unusual tea party.

Round the table sat Mr. and Mrs. Watling, their daughter, Lorna, and son, Derek. A common weed in full bloom was in a vase in the centre of the table.

"Eat it", said Landale, and broke off a handful of leaves and ate them.

The family followed suit and finished by pouring hot water on the remaining leaves and allowing them to soak for a few minutes. The result was a refreshing drink.

"Every day people waste good food in their gardens by destroying weeds", said Landale.

Landale recommends chickweed for savory sandwich. His latest recipe is wild strawberry and dog rose petal jam, which he has called "Titania Wedding Feast".

"Our society will take the country by storm once it gets a footing", said Landale.

Good Attendances; Interests Cover Various Subjects, Bring Benefit to Worthy Causes

Twenty-eight members of Arundel W.I. attended the November meeting of this branch, when two food parcels were packed for overseas and plans were made to pack a special one for Christmas. A sick member was remembered with a gift. Mr. Dennis Staniforth, principal of Brownsburg school, gave an illustrated talk on his trip across Canada. As this meeting was open to the public, it was well attended and much enjoyed by all present.

Members answered the roll-call with "an improvement for their school". A personal parcel was sent to England. The sum of $10 was given to the Q.W.I. Service Fund, $5 to the Grace Dart Hospital, and $21 to the Mrs. Alfred Watt Memorial Scholarship Fund. Cookies were packed and sent to Ste. Anne's Military Hospital for Remembrance Day. W.I. films entitled "Common Concern" were shown. An address was given by Mrs. Geo. Leggett, county president. A Hallowe'en party was held for the children, and junior amateur night, with prizes given for costumes, amateur music, etc. Candy and nuts were provided with refreshments as a treat for the children.

Members of Jerusalem - Bethany branch answered the roll-call with a short sentence in French. The Citizenship convener gave an interesting reading on "What Citizenship Means to Canadians". The sum of $5 was donated to the Salvation Army and $5 to the Q.W.I. Service Fund. A quiz contest was held.

Lachute branch donated $10 to the Salvation Army. Mrs. Coderre-Smith was guest speaker at this meeting. She spoke on the necessity of the Save the Children Fund as a worthy cause, stressing the dire need of food, clothing, shoes, soap and medical aid for the underprivileged children of Europe.

Lakefield had as their roll-call "the color of your wedding dress". A Christmas parcel was sent overseas. Names were drawn for the exchange of Christmas gifts among the members, also children's names were drawn. The sum of $10 was voted to the Watt Memorial Fund, $5 to the Q.W.I. Service Fund and $3 to the County Scholarship Fund.

Members of Mille Isles branch answered the roll with the name of a man prominent in the news at the present time. A parcel was sent overseas, and another one is to be sent in time for Christmas. Among the guests were Mrs. Geo. Leggett, county president, and Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, county vice-president. Mrs. Leggett addressed the meeting on W.I. work.

Morin Heights had an attendance of 25 members and one guest at their meeting. The roll-call was "where I would like to go if the W.I. would pay for it." A report from the sick committee was given by Mrs. Moss. A Christmas party was planned. Mrs. Dey, convener of National and International Relations, gave a reading on "Newfoundland". A White Elephant Sale netted the funds $6.20. Two boxes are to be sent overseas for Christmas. CATTLE EXPENSIVE, SO ARE RUSTLERS

Kamloops, B.C. (CP) — Cattle rustlers beware. The British Columbia Beef Cattle Growers Association has increased the reward for the arrest and conviction of cattle thieves.

When first offered three years ago the reward was $150. Now it has been boosted to $500.

Cattle rustling has not increased, but the market value of the range animals has. That's what is behind the higher reward.

Legion Dance in New Memorial Hall

Last Saturday, in an atmosphere of happy informality, with soft lights and good music, the Legionnaires of Lachute and their guests enjoyed a dance in the new Legion Memorial Hall.

Music was supplied by Lowe Bros' orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. MacTavish also played the piano and fiddle for square dancing, and the hall rang merrily with the whoops of square dancers as they got under way, with James Duncan and George MacKenzie calling the sets.

Good Returns from Poppy Campaign

Although not quite as successful as in previous years, the annual Poppy Campaign has again added considerable to the fund for disabled veterans. Purchase of these emblems helps the cause here and also assists those who make them, most of whom are veterans unable to do other kinds of work.

The weather was somewhat unfavorable for the canvass, but the public responded well; and in Lachute the collections slightly exceeded those of previous years.

Local Branch No. 70 of the Canadian Legion wishes, through the medium of this report, to thank all who have given time and effort in making this campaign a success.

Two districts have yet to be heard from; results so far are as follows:

Calumet & Grenville	$28.94
Lakefield	$9.00
St. Andrews East	$30.71
Lachute	$356.13
Wreaths	$182.00
Total	$606.78

From the above sum the cost of wreaths and poppies has to be deducted, but still a substantial profit will remain to further this worthy cause.

Meeting With B'burg Taxpayers In M.L.A.'s Post-Election Circuit

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — Mr. W. M. Cottingham's post-election visit to Brownsburg took the form of a public meeting at the Social Club on Tuesday. Some misunderstanding in the application for the school building, which venue had been advertised, accounted for the attendance not being as large as it might otherwise have been. On the other hand one of the audience explained that there was deep appreciation of the very fine job Mr. Cottingham was doing as provincial representative, and there was very little more the people could ask from their M.L.A.

Mayor Jas. Donaldson opened the meeting by welcoming Mr. Cottingham and Mr. R. Beaulne, roads engineer, and commented on the interest Mr. Cottingham was taking in municipal and school affairs by coming to meet the people and learn for himself at first-hand the needs of those whom he represented.

Mr. Cottingham said he enjoyed meeting the people; he was sent to Quebec to represent their views and requirements, and unless he met the people and talked with them (and not to them or at them) he couldn't present the true facts as reflected by association with their problems. He had thought the work of their representative was a periodic effort, but he now found it a full-time job. He liked the work, and was doing his best; he was pleased at the returns he had obtained from the various departments of the government and from the various people in authority. He had obtained a lot of grants for maintenance, new works and development in Argenteuil, in spite of the fact that his predecessor, Mr. Héon, was a hard man to follow. Argenteuil has been well treated proportionately by the Quebec Government.

The road situation was not good; it was bad all over the province. The area is so large, and the costs so high, it presents an enormous problem. Quebec is larger than England, Ireland and Scotland, with France, Spain and a few of the American States thrown in, but the population is sparse and cannot provide the taxable capacity to make the kind of roads we would like.

This year the government had concentrated on Education; Argenteuil was well served under this heading, and Brownsburg received handsome recognition both for Catholic and Protestant schools.

The meeting, following the practice of all Mr. Cottingham's meetings, was opened for questions, some of which led to lively, though good-natured, discussion. Among the subjects about which questions were posed, and answered by Mr. Cottingham, were — the 2% provincial tax; margarine; Sunday liquor laws; the amusement tax; Skating Rink grant; technical school or trades school; and some local road work.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Cottingham and Mr. Beaulne, moved by Mr. C. H. Moseley, brought the meeting to a close.

Hawkesbury Has Employment Office

A new National Employment Service office was opened at Hawkesbury on Tuesday of this week, to conduct affairs of this federal government department and the Unemployment Insurance Commission for the Hawkesbury district.

Soeur Gabrielle, Familiar Figure at Local Hospital, Leaves for Timmins, Ont.

Sister Gabrielle-Marie, a familiar figure at the Providence Hospital, took her departure Wednesday for Timmins, Ont.

As head nurse at the local hospital, she was affectionately regarded by her patients, and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the attending physicians — having worked devotedly, night and day, for the smooth operation of the institution and comfort of its inmates. She was, in fact, one of the two religious sisters engaged in the founding of this hospital six years ago, and the only member of the original staff remaining till this time.

Auto Burns After Collision

At five o'clock Friday evening George Scott, of Cushing, was severely injured when his car and an auto driven by Lucien Laurin, of Grenville, came into collision. The crash occurred on the river-front highway near St. Mungo's Church, Cushing, as Laurin was driving home from the canal works. Both cars were wrecked by the impact, and both drivers were taken to Hawkesbury for medical aid — Geo. Scott being treated at Dr. T. W. Smith's Hospital for a fractured thigh and lacerations about the face, while Lucien Laurin was treated by Dr. C. Lafrance for minor injuries. Both were allowed to return to their homes.

Officer H. Jones, of the local traffic squad, was called to investigate, and as Laurin's car was being removed by a tow-truck from Hawkesbury, he noticed flames emerging from underneath the wreck. Before the tow-truck could be halted and detached from the car, the blaze engulfed Laurin's auto and left it completely beyond repair.

League Reports on Anti-Tb. Progress Here During Year

GOOD WORK IN ARGENTEUIL AND TWO MOUNTAINS

CHRISTMAS SEALS CAMPAIGN TO BE PROMOTED WITH INCREASED ARDOR

The Christmas Seals Campaign for 1949 opened this week. There will be considerable publicity to promote this appeal in Argenteuil and Two Mountains, and it is opportune to pass in review the work achieved by the Laurentian Anti-Tuberculosis League in these two counties during the past year.

The over-all contributions last year (the committee reports) amounted to $3,654.80 — $2,188.80 from Argenteuil and $1,466 from Two Mountains.

During the year, almost every municipality in the area was visited by clinic personnel with modern X-ray equipment. At the Lachute Spring Fair in June, the League had a mobile clinic on the scene and 1,000 persons came forward voluntarily for X-ray examination. Altogether, 5,977 X-ray films were taken in the county during the year through these visits, plus 1,250 at the County Health Unit also with apparatus made available by the League. Of this total of 7,227 examinations, 22 cases of tuberculosis were revealed and 60 suspicious cases placed under observation.

By means of these group examinations, unidentified Tb. cases have been brought to attention and the subjects recommended for treatment — thus preventing infection of others.

Tuberculosis exists among the population, and the most effective means of detecting it is through the X-ray. More adequate funds will permit the Laurentian Anti-Tuberculosis League to continue this work on a wider scale.

This has been the major undertaking of the League, which solicits a generous public response to Christmas Seals to further the enterprise. "For your health, and the health of your children" is the keynote of their appeal.

Cranberry Portage, Man. (CP) — Isolated voters in northern Manitoba from Hudson Bay to the Saskatchewan border got their ballots by parachute in the recent Manitoba provincial election. Results were brought out by dog team and short-wave radio.

Another Main Street Property Transferred

The J. R. McOuat property on Main Street, one of the more pretentious buildings of a past business era, was acquired by a new owner this week — Yvon Cadieux, Lachute Mills jeweller and proprietor, having purchased the property from Mrs. J. R. Charron.

Mr. Cadieux has ideas of remodelling this site as a business and residential property, very shortly. The Provincial Bank, which has occupied one side of the premises for 40 years, will likely continue in the same stand, while Mr. Cadieux will operate his jewelry and watchmaking business in this central location and modernized quarters.

Business Meeting Of Concerts Ass'n

The annual directors' meeting of the Lachute Community Concerts Association, under chairmanship of the president, Linton W. Armstrong, was held November 16, when the financial report was presented by the treasurer, Willard M. Steeves, and a vote of appreciation was extended to Secretary Gabriel Valois and to the executive for their efforts devoted to the success of the organization.

The secretary read a communication from Community Concerts Service advising that Léopold Simoneau, lyric tenor scheduled for the third concert of the current season, would be delayed for a week longer in his engagement with Paris Opera, therefore it would be necessary to defer for one week the date of his appearance in Lachute. It was decided accordingly to notify all members by post-card.

The appointment of a nominating committee was suggested by W. M. Steeves, and on this suggestion Jacques Bedard proposed five members, who were duly approved — this committee to bring forward at the next annual general meeting, early in 1950, a slate of 20 officers and directors to conduct business for the ensuing year. Those appointed on the nominating committee were — Messrs. Armstrong, Valois and Bedard, Miss Juliette Rodrigue and Mrs. G. Guilbert.

Other committees were formed, including a body to supervise arrangements for the concert hall, and a reception committee.

Conferences in Rl'y Safety Car

"Safety Instruction Car No. 58" made a stop-over in the siding at Lachute C.P.R. station last Thursday. Despite an impression that this was strictly a means of instruction for rail employees — the number of children and townsfolk who visited the car, and who listened to the lectures and watched the movies presented, found it of very practical benefit.

A brief talk on transportation rules, and the block system of railway signals with a demonstration of its operation, were the only technical sidelights given at the adult session Thursday evening. Hazards of the home, industry and level crossings were also discussed, and films shown on fire prevention and safe practices in the factory. About 60 representative persons from local businesses were welcomed to this session by Mr. I. Beriault, station agent here, who acted as chairman and introduced the three speakers, Messrs. W. H. Walker, A. Dubé and Germain Benoit.

During the same day a demonstration was held for C.P.R. employees of the adjoining sections, and another for an audience of senior school children. At the children's session, the danger of clambering beneath stationary freight cars, or over couplings, was specially emphasized.

Opening this mobile "classroom" and affording such instructive programs to the public, is a commendable gesture on the part of the C.P.R. Safety Bureau.

Former Principal of B'burg Catholic School Awarded Teaching Prize

Cyprien Lacasse, B.L.S., former principal of the Bouchard School at Brownsburg and now principal of the college at St. Sauveur des Monts, has just been awarded the teaching prize of the Quebec Department of Education. The recognition was given on recommendation of Joseph Pagé, who was promoted to the Department at Quebec from his former position of school inspector.

Gvt. Paternalism, Less Self-Reliance Easy Steps to A Totalitarian Order

Lions Club District Deputy Governor Urges Personal Effort, Cherishing of Principles

A visit from Deputy District Governor Alfred Cadman of Montreal, was the occasion of a large turn-out at the regular meeting of Lachute Lions Club, held at the Hotel Joly last Tuesday evening. Lion Cadman was accompanied by 25 members from the Montreal district.

The visiting official gave a thought provoking address in which he decried the popular conception that social largesse was "free" security, and deplored the growing tendency to state paternalism . . Following are extracts from Mr. Cadman's address. . .

"How many of us stop to think of some of these things, the privileges we enjoy — enough food and clothing for all and some to spare for less fortunate people — justice and liberty—service organizations. . .

"Canada is an independent nation bound only by silken threads of sentiment to the British Commonwealth. We have a country of vast resources of minerals, forests and water powers, a sturdy population of 13 million people. We stand high among the nations of the world in trade and commerce and prestige and we have a standard of living second perhaps only to the U.S.

"This country has been built up in less than 100 years under a system of free enterprise and democratic government. It was built up by the courage and endurance of our pioneers, the hard work and energy of our people, the self-reliance and industry of millions of Canadians.

"Our way of life, call it free enterprise, capitalism, democracy, call it what you will, has developed slowly, sometimes painfully, but I believe it has reached the highest point yet reached and it embodies all we know as Western civilization."

The speaker here compared conditions in less favored lands — in Europe, the Orient and even South America. . .

"Would any of you, of your own free will, choose any other country in the world in which to live and bring up your children? Is there any country in the world which offers greater opportunities for free men, men of character, of self-reliance of initiative and energy? Have we something to be thankful for?

"But let us remind ourselves, these conditions existing in other countries did not just happen overnight.

"This country of ours did not suffer all the hardships of war but it has felt the effects of some of the propaganda, some of the changes in thinking.

"People began to think of security, not in terms of security from our enemies and from danger, but in terms of social security, security from everything that could happen to them from cradle to grave.

"We have an ever-increasing demand for the government to do things for us, to give us baby bonuses, old age pensions, unemployment insurance, free doctors, free medicine, free houses. People are becoming less self-reliant, less independent; we are forgetting the old-fashioned virtues of honest work and thrift.

"There never was a greater delusion than this 'free' era. You may be sure that if somebody offers you something for nothing, you get plenty of the something

Lost Hunter Found Wet, Tired, Hungry

Maurice Tetreault, 33-year-old resident of Longueuil, was lost in the bush from early Sunday morning until noon the following day, in the vicinity of Lost River. None too warmly clad, and with nothing to eat since he left home at 3 a.m. on Sunday, he was cold, and wet and considerably exhausted when searchers found him about 1½ miles west of the highway. In that part of the countryside the snow had fallen almost one foot deep.

Tetreault's story was that he had arrived with a friend at Roger Paquette's, on the old Patry farm, soon after 7 a.m. Sunday. They had separated to go hunting for a while, until the occupants of the camp awakened. Tetreault sighted and wounded a deer; he followed the animal about two miles, then shot and killed it; but in the meantime he had completely lost his bearings. During Sunday night he heard shots fired by searchers, also the whistle blowing at Kilmar mine, and police officers' sirens, but the hunter had no ammunition left with which to shoot and indicate his position.

A posse of men from Kilmar, with Traffic Officers Howard Jones and Albert Legault, were joined in the search by Tetreault's two brothers and a friend John Montgomery, who came from Longueuil when notified that Maurice was missing. He was found by Montgomery, and tracks in the snow indicated the hunter had walked in circles before taking a stand to await the search party.

Recovering

SIR HARRY LAUDER, 79-year-old comedian who three months ago was nearing his "last curtain call", is now reported steadily recovering. At his home in Lancashire, England, where he has been suffering from cerebral thrombosis and uraemia, the veteran entertainer was reported this week to have "sat up in bed".

Accidents

Numerous minor mishaps occurred in the first blasts of icy winter along the streets and highways, as automobiles bumped or skidded. A more serious accident at Alfred took the life of a young girl and caused fractures of one leg and several ribs on the person of her sister, Carmen Lalande, who was well known in Brownsburg as a C-I-L employee. She is at present under medical treatment at the General Hospital, Ottawa.

In Court

At St. Jerome District Court a resident of Brownsburg was sentenced to three months in prison for breaking and entering, at 2 a.m., the home of a married woman and her two children, whose husband was working nights. The sentence was later altered to a fine of $25 with costs, and bonds for good behavior for two years.

Transient Killed on Grenville Highway

Ovila Gauthier, of Alexandria, Ont., a 61-year-old cripple who has been frequently seen around Lachute, was fatally struck by a delivery truck late Friday afternoon, on Route 8 about 2½ miles west of this town. The victim, who had only one leg and walked with a crutch, was proceeding towards Lachute, allegedly in the centre of the road, when struck by Jean Paul Richer, of Lachute Mills, who was driving his bakery truck towards St. Philippe. The accident occurred just before 5 p.m., and the victim died within a short time, having suffered a fractured skull.

Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur was informed by Richer and his young passenger, Leopold Rochon, that they passed a car coming from the opposite direction, then came unexpectedly upon the cripple walking in the middle of the highway. The driver of the other car, who, looking into his mirror, had seen the truck swerve, also stated the man was some distance from the edge of the pavement when he passed him.

The coroner pronounced the death accidental. Traffic Officer Howard Jones investigated; and Det. P. Therriault, with Det. Alfred Gagné of the homicide squad, conducted their enquiry on behalf of the Provincial Police.

Worry causes sickness — and sickness causes worry. If one can be banished both most likely will disappear.

Electrical Living

One month from today it will be Christmas again — that time of year that comes around so quickly for adults but so terribly slowly for children. For Christmas is a time for children, a holiday from which adults derive their greatest enjoyment through participating in the happiness of children.

It must often occur to parents that the children whose happy laughter makes any festive season a happy one, are growing up in a world totally different from the world of the parents' own childhood. Tremendous changes have come about within the last generation, changes which hold the promise of an even brighter, happier, future.

How different are the automobiles, trains and airplanes — taken so much for granted by today's children — from methods of travel of a generation ago. How different are our electrically-operated telephones and telegraphs from the ways in which we used to communicate with each other.

For that matter, how different is our very home life from what it was such a short few years ago. Today's children can accept without thinking of it the fact that electricity pumps their water so that there is no more back-breaking hauling from the well; they are accustomed to having electrically-heated water come out of the tap, and don't have to think about how troublesome it once was to have hot water just when it was needed. They see Mother cooking the Holiday cheer in an electric oven, and do not think of all the wood-chopping that is being avoided. They accept as ordinary the action of an electric washer, an electric iron, an electric toaster, a vacuum cleaner. They see electric lights on a Christmas tree, and do not think about the time when dangerous candles were used.

To the care-free minds of children, these things have always been with us. Only adults can realize how great has been our progress in so short a time.

Good lighting in industrial plants and offices, as well as in schools and homes, is a necessity where maintenance of health and operating efficiency is concerned.

Science is playing an increasingly important role in Canada's new Army. In heavy anti-aircraft, for example, complex radar equipment predicts to within a few feet exactly where the target is and will be. The gunners, their backs to the target, fire with amazing accuracy by instrument.

Training men in the use of modern scientific equipment is a major requirement in Canada's new Army. Thousands of young men are attending some of the finest schools in the country, specializing in electronics, radar, radio and telephone. In addition, there are openings for clerks, drivers, mechanics and many other trades.

New higher pay, good food and quarters, trades training and the opportunity for advancement make the Canadian Army Active Force one of the most attractive careers open to young men today. You are eligible if you are 17 or over and can meet Army requirements. Visit your nearest recruiting office soon for full details. Bring certificates of birth and education with you.

Exile from Sunnyacres

— XI —

By Margaret Cook

Continuing the Series "Sunnyacres Sketches"

Hardly anyone has a good word for November, too much the eleventh hour for most people; moreover, the medical profession ranks it with March in their books — credit for them, debit for us. . . But, for the writer, November belongs in that bright galaxy of months that begins in sunny July, climbs to its zenith in golden October, then gradually slides down to the white desolation that is January. Actually, November's sole bid for favor lies in the fact that it is the overture for that divine play, the Christmas festival.

In November one makes the Christmas cakes. There is something very satisfying in heaping mounds of raisins, currants, dates, figs, peel, nuts and cherries; in getting out a dozen or two of eggs and tossing them all in with one grand, nonchalant gesture. (I speak as a writer, not as a cook, of course.) Then come the long hours in the oven, while the mingled odors of eastern spices and western fruits, with perhaps a suspicion of brandy, gradually spread through the whole house. When the cakes are finally cooling on the rack — the large square one for our Christmas table; the long oblong one for poor, rich Uncle 'Arry in Lancashire; the little round one for the friends in an apartment — how soul-satisfying is the sight. One swells with pride and for a moment fancies oneself on a par with the super-woman written up in Proverbs 31, "She is like the merchant's ships; she bringeth her food from afar" (v. 14); or again, in v. 27, "She looketh well to the ways of her household and eateth not the bread of idleness". Moffat, in his translation, renders that latter verse thus — "She keeps an eye on her household; she never eats the bread of idleness". I feel the latter more perfectly portrays what was an admirable, but grim, character.

In November, too, wise people do their Christmas shopping. Strangely enough, this is the month we do ours, but it is dislike of crowds rather than pure wisdom that urges us on. Anyway, by the time November arrives our Christmas shopping awaits only the meeting of opportunity and wherewithal, for we belong to that class that inveigles friends into stating likes and dislikes in seasons quite remote from Christmas, makes a note of these remarks and acts accordingly. Thus, the notebook carries odd bits like this — Mary likes the sets of herbs (packed in Argenteuil County, by the way). — There is a new Jalna book out. — Gerald says he cannot find any gooseberry jam in the shops. — Meg is using Bill's shaving lotion for Eau de Cologne. . . With this book in hand, shopping is a delight. Sometimes things are complicated by Santa Claus. When we explained to Betty that she could not expect from us both skates and a doll's pram because both were expensive, she replied quite reasonably, "Yes, I know, so I am going to ask Santa for the pram."

Out-of-doors is rather bleak just now, but until a week or two ago we rejoiced in our chrysanthemums. They began to bloom in the middle of October, and only on November 10 bowed their frilly, pink heads to repeated frosts, and some snow. All that time, they massed themselves in spashes of pink and green against the deeper rose of the warm brick wall in the front, and under the old apple tree in the back yard. Everyone passing, walked with their eyes turned to that last lovely souvenir of summer.

As I write, in the middle of November, the old apple tree has yet all its leaves although its young companion, the crab, has stood bare for two weeks. Perhaps those wise ones who insist that the seasons are changing, are right.

Feeling the need for a little relaxation last week, we went to see an English movie-comedy. It was good entertainment, and we once more began discussing wherein lies the difference between English and American comedies. We decided that the English ones rely upon repartee and delicacy of innuendo for the effect, whereas the American stresses the ridiculous in action and situation. An executive in one of the movie companies favoring American films, has another theory—namely, that the English comedies are funnier simply because they are less censored, which, in turn, he attributes to the rapid, clipped English voice that defeats the predominately French ear of our Board of Censors. As he says bitterly, "They get away with murder." It is a thought that has in itself all the makings of a first-class comedy. In any case, a bouquet to Mr. Rank for his efforts to deliver us from the bondage of Hollywood. A very intriguing personality, J. Arthur Rank — flour miller, teetotaller, millionaire, Sunday School teacher and movie maker.

Finally, a note from the Children's Corner —

Scene — in the hall.

Betty (to my pleased surprise): "No, it would get all creases".

Guest: "O.K. Maybe you had better hang it up. It's my Sunday coat. My mother said as I was coming, 'Don't wear you Sunday coat'. So I wore my Sunday coat."

After this amazing conversation, they calmly sat down at my feet on the living-room rug, and began to play Pick Up Sticks. This would have provided a psychologist with a whole chapter, but I thought it wiser to ignore it.

CHEQUE MADE GOOD

Kipling, Sask. (CP) — A cheque, dated September 17, 1914, to Norman Fox has finally been paid by Chester rural municipality. Mr. Fox died before cashing the cheque and it went with his papers to his executor, who also died before the cheque was cashed. Finally A. Gowley, a Grenfell lawyer, got the papers, found the cheque this year and cashed it.

Safety-Conscious Juveniles

IT IS interesting to note that the Safety Bureau of the C.P.R. makes provision (as it did in Lachute last week) for school children to attend demonstrations given in its travelling classroom. The officials place a high value on safety instruction to children, recognizing in them the workers, the travellers and the home-makers of tomorrow.

The Province of Quebec Safety League takes a similar attitude and is endeavoring to exert the same beneficial influence. While writing a brief story on the Safety Car, by coincidence our attention came upon a Safety League bulletin, November issue of the "Brigadier". Parents and teachers might well impress upon their children some suggestions from this bulletin:

"There are many ways in which you may co-operate in insuring your own safety and that of others at school", says The Brigadier. "If you discover in or around the school any conditions that may cause an accident, report them immediately to your teachers. You will thus render an important service to your school and to your companions, as you may be instrumental in saving a life.

"Keep your eyes open for accident dangers. For instance, anything that may start a fire, a stone nearly toppling off the building, a defective tread in a stairway, nails sticking out of a plank, etc.

"If you observe one of your schoolmates in the act of doing something dangerous, warn him against it — in a friendly way, without hurting his feelings. It is by no means cowardly to point out that something is dangerous and to warn against it.

"On the other hand, there is nothing so senseless as to expose oneself unnecessarily to danger. Take for instance the foolish practice of trying to get the other fellow to do a crazy and dangerous thing by saying: 'I dare you'. It is far braver to answer such stupid challenge by saying you would readily do it if it were to save somebody's life or to be useful in any way, but that in a case like this where there is no such reason, it would be silly to attempt it.

"Never miss an opportunity of proving that you are safety-minded. Join all the safety movements organized to fight accidents in school or in your neighborhood. Contribute to the success of the fire-drills, as they are necessary to insure your safety in an emergency.

"Remove from the school grounds any possible accident causes. Nothing is more productive of accident and fire as an untidy place where refuse is spread upon the ground.

"It would not help the reputation of your school if you were held responsible for a serious accident. Be proud of your good reputation. Do your best to uphold it."

Christianity and Conservation

THE WORLD'S population increases at the rate of 50,000 a day. It is stated that nearly 20,000,000 a year die of undernourishment. How can all these millions be fed? Seventy per cent of the world's population are food producers. They do not all produce the same amount of food.

The earth is man's greatest living asset. Work it for the good of all, and there will be enough for all. Exploit it for yourself, and millions starve.

Throughout history a nation's attitude to the land has been a yardstick of materialism in that nation. For the earth feeds those who feed it. It gives to those that give. But it starves men or nations who try to rob it and is niggardly to those who try to squeeze it dry.

The great Amercian dust-bowls were once for hundreds of miles one of the richest wheat-lands of the world. Now, only the cactus flowers show what man's greed does to the land.

In Britain, millions of idle or half-active acres still spotlight an idle or inert nation in a hungry age.

Rome's downfall began when the Italians quit agriculture and started to grow their bread by slave labor in Africa. The wheat from Africa was fine, but the Italians' attitude to hard work had declined. They were no longer ready to give sweat and toil to the earth in return for a smaller cash reward than they could obtain in the big cities. So the nation smashed.

But under Providence, mother earth is bountiful; God's plan is plenty. It is not His way that there should be forced upon humanity the equal distribution of a minimum. He means to feed His children in full measure, flowing over. But it is God's earth — and it has to be done His way.

We can follow the advice Moses gave his people 3,000 years ago: "If you live by God's rules and obey His orders, the land shall bear its crops, and you shall have plenty to eat."

The Atom Pile

CHALK RIVER, the big project on a remote section of the Ottawa River and the cradle of Canada's atomic future, opened its doors for a limited public inspection last week. It left the privileged few who were allowed to see its awesome mysteries, voicing superlatives.

The group going through the plant was the 14-member House of Commons atomic committee. The trip to Chalk River, some 125 miles northwest of the Capital, was made as part of the committee's infant strides into securing a comprehensive picture, and a working knowledge, of Canada's atomic effort. The members of the committee used such terms as "tremendously pleased", "wonderful", "very worthwhile" and "far beyond their expectations." . . . But they told very little of what they actually saw. They saw many highly secret experiments and were given considerable secret information. They, like the scientists working at the plant, appeared certain to guard Canada's atomic secrets until the time arrived that they could safely be told to the world.

Family Food Habits

PRESENT-DAY food habits are causing the medical profession much concern, states the Public Health Bulletin, publication of the Toronto Department of Public Health.

"Both adults and children are eating far too much of the more expensive rich, sweet foods — cakes, pastries, candies, soft drinks, etc.", says the Bulletin. "These are the foods which supply energy only, which lead to overweight and enter into the serious modern dental picture as well. They are expensive in more ways than one.

"On the other hand, the cheaper, healthier and more nutritious foods, milk, the whole grain cereals, whole wheat bread, fruits and vegetables, etc., that supply, as well as energy, bone building and health materials, are neglected.

The Bulletin states that such necessities are neglected by children often because the parents do not care for them sufficiently. Bad food habits of parents as a rule are an influence on the eating habits of the children because foods that parents accept are also usually accepted by the family.

"When parents decide to eat and to enjoy the right foods, thus setting the example for their children, they not only do themselves a good turn but are shaping the dividends which come from a healthy, well-nourished family."

Discussing overweight, the Bulletin says that medical authorites ascribe this condition almost invariably to overeating, especially to the overeating of wrong foods, and very seldom to glandular disturbance.

Immigration Outlook

NEW MEASURES to attract immigrants from Britain and France can be expected to follow announcement by the Government of a new Department of Citizenship and Immigration — says Kenneth R. Wilson in The Financial Post. These measures are still in the formative stage but proposals being considered are:

1. Advancing full amount of capital sum immigrants are now allowed to bring out;
2. Cheaper ocean fares;
3. Immediate availability of social insurance benefits such as family allowances, unemployment insurance.

Decision as to policies will not be made until the new Minister has been named.

Behind the new discussion is the disturbing fact that immigration from Britain and elsewhere has been falling off very sharply in the last few months. In 1948, total British immigration was 46,000; for 1949, the figures will be approximately 30,000.

JOB TO BE DONE

A section foreman of the (Pacific Great Eastern Railway) track crew nonchalantly swung a hammer that drove home the first spike in the extension that will stretch on to Prince George. Makes Comparison of Wages and Productivity

TO THE EDITOR

R.R. 1, St. Philippe.
Editor, The Watchman.
Dear Sir:

The 1828 speech by Daniel Webster, quoted in your November 17 issue, is a misrepresentation of the facts of the case in question. Criticizing the opponents of the present social order, it intimates that their complaints are unfounded.

To simply state that in America "wages are beyond parallel" proves nothing as to whether or not their complaints are justified. One slave may receive better treatment than another. The American worker today is the cheapest and most exploited on earth, receiving one-sixth of the wealth he creates. Although his real wages are the highest, his relative wages (wages in relation to his output) are the lowest of the low. This is explained by his tremendous productivity, which exceeds by far that of all other nations. Wages per unit of what he produces are below those of the coolie.

We must view living standards, not by comparing them to those in other countries, but in the light of the possibilities. Over 60 per cent of the wealth in the U.S.A. is in the hands of one per cent of the population, according to government statistics — which one could hardly call "evenly divided".

Whether any of the oppressed and exploited victims of capitalism "want to enjoy the fruits of another man's labor", is anyone's guess, but to date it is the capitalist class that is living on the fruits of their (the working class') labor. And how!

The Friendly Chickadee

If a man feels a bit low in spirit on November days when clouds are mufflers around mountain peaks and fields are sere and forlorn, all he needs to do is watch the black-capped chickadees tumble around the old apple trees behind the woodshed. Black Cap is a symbol of optimism and courage. He's a humble fellow who asks no quarter from storm or temperature. He takes the days as they come and makes the most of them. It is a bit incongruous that the scientists find it necessary to label him Penthestes atricapillus It is a top-heavy name for such a small, blithe spirit.

From now until April the black caps stay around the farmstead. In spring they seek the woodland and excavate a home in a decaying punky stump of grey birch or old pine. The lady lays from five to 10 small white eggs with rich red-chestnut-brown spots. The male is an excellent father; he helps build the nest with its lining of plant fibres, fur and feathers; he takes his turn incubating the eggs and works assiduously bringing food to the hungry young. One of Nature's appealing sights is the day the nestful of young fluffy chicks leave the nest; they remind one of a flock of tiny Barred Plymouth Rock chicks.

The Black Cap is one of our most valuable native birds. It consumes tremendous numbers of insect pests. It finds its food on trunk and limb, on the ground and in shrubs. But it is in winter that a man most appreciates its friendliness. When he is chopping wood the birds come around and chant their names in husky, altoish tones. Grey days or sunny their disposition is always happy. We are glad that chicadees stay around.

THE LAUGHING REFORMERS

The medium of the comic panel as one of the greatest present-day forces for social change might be considered a marvel of the 20th century. To create social change is one of the greatest problems of our social scientists.

—Trenton (Ont.) Courier-Advocate

Government Paternalism

and you get plenty of the nothing. . No Government in the world has any money except what it takes out of the taxpayers' pockets.

"Well, these things creep up on us, like a cancer in the body they are insidious, slow but sure, suddenly we find it is too late. Socialism has been defined by a Communist as the first step to Communism, and Communism is the last stage of Socialism. Socialism, Welfare State, Labor Progressivism, Communism, Marxism, Titoism, Stalinism — call them what you will, they are all of the same breed and all lead to the same end — government by a minority, loss of individualism, denial of human rights, freedoms and liberties.

"Perhaps you will say, well, baby bonuses are a good thing, free medicine is a good thing, the welfare state or social insurance is a great ideal. Maybe so, but let's not fool ourselves, let's keep our feet on the ground. . . All these things may be good but they are not 'free'. They have to be paid for, and the more of them we have, the more we give the government authority to spend our money. . . Secondly, every time government sets up a welfare plan it automatically sets up a bureau or a department to administer it, and the result is an army of petty bureaucrats issuing forms and directions telling us what to do and how to do it. Finally, we have a great part of the people working for the government and why should they vote against the boss when election time comes! Thus we get a dictatorial government and, as time goes on, we land ourselves into totalitarianism.

"There is a lot you can do about it, and it has a lot to do with Lionism.

"While we are convinced that our system of free enterprise and democratic government is the best we are not blind to the fact that it contains injustices and inequalities. . . But don't forget that men have been working out these ideas for thousands of years; we have made wonderful progress, we shall never attain perfection. . . But we don't have to pull the house down because the front steps are shaky.

"Members of Lions Clubs are pledged to maintain the principles of good government and good citizenship, to help the underprivileged, the blind, the crippled, all those less fortunate than ourselves."

U.N. Drafts Traffic Convention

Tackling world road traffic problems, a U.N. conference has agreed on an international road traffic convention which eventually would help motorists in all countries. The convention suggests the adoption of a simplified international driving permit which would be honored everywhere. The above exhibit of driving permits issued by 40 countries shows the necessity of reaching some form of simplification and greater uniformity in driving permit requirements.

Six Juveniles Apprehended For Breaking-Entering and Series of Recent Robberies

In connection with a number of recent robberies, six juveniles were placed under arrest this week, five in Lachute and one in Montreal; the young offenders are from 15 to 19 years of age.

Det. Paul Provost, of the Provincial Police, and the town force under Chief D. Villeneuve, were instrumental in the arrests following robberies which occurred at the Bolodrome, Cunningham's tobacco store, the B.A. Oil premises, and at Dr. London's summer residence in Harrington Township. At the latter place a revolver was stolen, which was used allegedly in another case included in the charge against these young marauders — a hold-up on the highway near Lachute Golf Club, in which a St. Hermas farmer and businessman was victimized.

The six youths are held at St. Jerome pending proceedings.

It is stated from the local police offices that, with these developments, every robbery brought to attention of the town police department since last spring has been followed by arrest of the offenders.

District Governor Visits Rotary -- Commends Club On Spirit and Progress

The regular meeting of the Brownsburg Rotary Club was highlighted last week by the official visit of the District Governor, Raymond Brunet, of Hull. A "club assembly", consisting especially of the board of directors and committee chairmen, was held prior to the dinner meeting. Reports on the activities of each committee were presented to the Governor and discussed.

A new member, Jean Belanger an official of Tower Company Ltd., Lachute, was inducted at the regular meeting by the Governor.

Governor Ray addressed the meeting in his usual colorful manner. He said that, although his position required a great deal of arduous travelling, he was finding it one of the most interesting experiences of his life. Whereas there were many different clubs which operated in many different ways, yet it was notable that they all had one interest in common — the ideals of Rotary.

He spoke of Rotary as an International organization, represented in more than 80 countries in the world, with many hundreds of thousands of members all working towards the same objective, peace on earth.

He spoke of Rotary from the point of view of the individual club, how it filled a definite need in the community, an organization which would be sorely missed were it ever disbanded.

He also spoke of Rotary from the viewpoint of the individual member and of how this organization provided him with an opportunity to become a more useful citizen to the community.

Governor Ray closed his remarks by congratulating the local group on its many activities, its excellent fellowship, and said that it was one of the better clubs in this Rotary district.

Scouts Bill and Bert Burroughs, brothers, bicycled from Ottawa to Vancouver after the Boy Scout jamboree; took six weeks to do it. . Roast beef might have been as cheap, thought Mrs. John Kadeschuk of Yorkton, Sask., when a prairie chicken crashed dead through the window of her living room (replacement $2.30), and a while later heard a thud at the back door, found another dead chicken. . Lucky boy was Jack White, of Red Deer, Alta., who bought one of 100 five-dollar tickets on the world series, copped the five hundred.

Farmer Knew Bargain

Waldheim, Sask.—P. A. Jansen, of Waldheim, is a farmer who likes a bargain.

So, when he unexpectedly received a $5 Government hog premium cheque, he looked around to see what he could get. Then he mailed the cheque, still uncashed, to "UNICEF, Ottawa."

He didn't get anything for himself, but he did get a bargain. Just look what the cheque did for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

1. Enough Canadian powdered milk to give 10 children a glass of milk a day for a week.
2. Enough cotton to make 15 diapers for an infant.
3. Enough leather from Canadian hides to make a pair of shoes for a child.
4. Provided tests and vaccinations for eight children against tuberculosis.
5. Enough raw wool to make cloth for a child's coat.

Farmer Jansen knew a bargain when he saw it, he added another dollar to provide a day's dose of cod-liver oil, made from Canadian-caught fish, for almost 300 children.

The Search for Peace

Peace is as sure as tomorrow's sunrise, And just as independent of Man.

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder, and his name shall be called Wonderful Counsellor, the Mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace;

And of the increase of his government and peace, there shall be no end. — Isaiah 9: 6-7.

Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, It may be ye shall be hid, in the day of the Lord's anger. — Zephaniah 2: 3

The meek shall inherit the earth, and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. — Psalms 37: 11

The Earth abideth forever. — Ecclesiastes 1: 4

But the wicked shall not inhabit the earth. — Proverbs 10: 30

The wicked will be destroyed — Psalms 145: 20.

For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. — Romans 6: 23.

Farmer Politicians at Royal Winter Fair

Toronto (CP) — Three famous farmer-politicians visited the Royal Winter Fair last week. . . Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born British newspaper publisher, Premier McNair of New Brunswick and Premier Jones of Prince Edward Island toured the fair, chatting with exhibitors and running a professional eye over prize livestock.

Lord Beaverbrook has three dairy farms in Britain, Premier McNair raises principally sheep, and Premier Jones is a general farmer. Premier Jones was quick to point out he was the only one of the trio who was a farmer before entering politics.

OBITUARY

Old Grenville Resident Leaves Many Relatives

The Late Willis C. Crooks

After a lingering illness Mr. Willis C. Crooks passed peacefully away on Saturday evening, at his home just east of Grenville.

Mr. Crooks was born at Grenville in 1871, and had followed the occupation of farming practically all his life.

He was thrice married. His first wife was Miss Elizabeth A. Barley, of Carillon, who predeceased him in 1914. From this union there survive five sons, Howard and Jack, of Grenville, Clifford and Russell, of Buffalo, N.Y., Herbert, of Lansing, Mich., also three daughters, Mrs. F. Crossfield (Lilian), of Abbotsford, Que., Mrs. W. Wilson (Edith), of Valois, Que., and Mrs. F. Hunter (Elsie), of Ottawa.

From the union with his second wife Miss Agnes Dawes, of England, who died in June 1927, were born Mrs. J. Hancock (Hazel), of Lakeside Heights, Que., and Mrs. J. Archibald (Melba), of Pender Harbour, B.C.

Later in life Mr. Crooks was wed to Miss Lucy Kirkwood, of Rawdon, Que. Their children are Maureen and Jean, of Montreal, and Larry, at home.

Two step-children, Mrs. J. McSpurren (Kathleen), of Toronto, and Oliver Kirkwood, of Grenville, and his only brother, Frank Crooks, of Grenville, also survive.

Of a quiet and unassuming nature, Mr. Crooks was well liked by all with whom he came in contact, and was a devoted husband and father.

Many floral tributes and a large attendance of relatives and friends were true testimonies of respect to a real neighbor and friend.

Pall-bearers were his four sons, Howard, Jack, Clifford and Russell Crooks, with two nephews, Willis Crooks, Jr., and Fred Crooks.

The Rev. A. E. Hawes, of Valois, former rector at Grenville, conducted the funeral service, which was held in St. Matthew's Church. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

Good News
FOR SICK PEOPLE
Rheumatic, Arthritic, Neuritic Pains, Backache, Weak Kidneys, Stomach Disorders, Dizzy Spells, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Headaches, Poor Appetite, Lack of Vitality, Constipation

Regardless of how long you have been a sufferer and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try Sarnak, the new internal medicine. Feel and enjoy the results within one week after you start taking it. Sarnak comes from the earth—Nature's laboratory. Contains only Nature's botanicals and minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatic, arthritic and neuritic pain, backache, weak kidneys, stomach disorders, constipation. Individual ingredients in Sarnak have been used and recommended by the medical profession for years, now for the first time put together in this combination.

MRS. BERTHA M. PERRY

TORONTO NURSE TAKES SARNAK FOR ARTHRITIS

Mrs. Bertha M. Perry, 1044 Lake Promenade, Long Branch, Toronto, is highly respected in her profession of nursing. Mrs. Perry relieved a cruel case of arthritic pain by taking Sarnak; her letter to us is interesting. Mrs. Perry writes: "I have been a sufferer of arthritis for a long, long time. It takes courage to live with arthritis. The pain seemed to creep up my neck and down my arms. My fingers were swollen, knees stiff. I would take as many as 10 to 12 A.S.A. Tablets a day but still suffered. I started taking Sarnak and in about a week's time I began to get relief. Arthritic pain made my life miserable but now, thanks to Sarnak, I have found blessed relief from pain and sleepless nights."

Arthritic, rheumatic and neuritic pain, lumbago, gout, neuralgia, roughly speaking, all belong to the same family of pain. Often a person suffers from not one but several of these painful conditions. Oft times such pain makes it difficult to move the arms and legs. Often lumbago or backache strikes with such pain that the sufferer has difficulty in straightening up. In extreme cases pain from one of these conditions makes it difficult for a person to find a restful way to lie in bed.

Nurse Perry spoke for all sufferers of this type of pain when she said it takes courage to live with arthritis, but there is hope. Daily we are receiving letters from people who tell us that they have had their first relief from pain by taking Sarnak medicine. While Sarnak holds out hope for you, will you go another day without trying it?

FOR THOUSANDS of years, ever since Hipocrates, the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines have been a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. Sarnak will help enrich your blood; help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anaemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy, see what Sarnak will do for you.

AMAZING RESULTS
Medical records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional, mineral iron anaemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite; when your eyes lack that bright sparkle and your mind brilliance; when headaches get the best of you and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down; then that's when you may look, with hope for relief towards Sarnak.

THOUSANDS of people are kept in daily misery with rheumatic, arthritic and neuritic pain, toss and turn in bed with racking pain; knees, legs, shoulders, arms and hands often swollen and sore. The analgesic properties of Sarnak are compounded in the medicine to bring you fast pain relief. Sarnak acts fast to bring relief from this type of pain because it is in liquid form; no tablets or pills to dissolve in the stomach. Sarnak starts its effective relief from the first dose.

I just can't save money!

That's what I used to say, and it was true. Sometimes I'd dream of the day when I'd have time and leisure to do all the things I wanted to do, but I had to admit I wasn't doing anything about it except dream. I never seemed to be able to put anything aside.
Now, I know those dreams will come true. They're guaranteed.
Through a simple saving plan which, strangely enough, I've found involves no hardship, I am now saving money for the first time in my life.

Beans Help Food Budget

Beans are a valuable part of the diet in some sections of the country but seldom used in other localities. Stories of lumber camp life always emphasize the great pots of fragrant beans and the real enjoyment by the men of this satisfying hot food. Baked beans are a Saturday night special in many families and would soon become a favorite in others if they were once tried.

Perhaps the chief reason why the homemaker overlooks beans in her menu planning is the length of time required to develop that special deep-brown flavor. There are, however, other and quicker ways to cook beans and still have the "come-on" odour and satisfying flavor and texture.

The home economists at Ottawa have developed a few recipes which will appeal to the homemaker on account of the ease of preparation and to the family because of the real goodness.

Baked Bean Soup

3½ Cups canned tomatoes (1 28-oz can), ¼ cup finely chopped onion, 1 small piece bay leaf, ⅛ teaspoon powdered cloves, 2 cups baked beans, ½ cup water, 1 teaspoon pepper.

Mix tomatoes, onion, bay leaf and cloves together. Simmer for 5 minutes in a covered saucepan. Remove bay leaf, add beans, water, salt and pepper and simmer for 10 minutes. Press mixture through a sieve. Reheat and serve. Yield: six servings.

Bean and Cheese Casserole

1 Cup dried white (navy) beans, 1 small carrot, 1 small onion, ¼ green pepper (optional), 2 stalks celery, 3 tablespoons fat, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, salt and pepper to taste, ¾ cup grated "medium" Cheddar cheese.

Soak beans overnight, in water to cover, then cook until tender, about 1½ to 2 hours. Drain. Cut carrot, onion, green pepper and celery into small pieces. Make a sauce of the fat, flour, milk, salt, pepper and cheese. Arrange vegetables and beans in alternate layers in a greased baking dish. Cover with cheese sauce and top with a mixture of grated cheese and bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°F., until vegetables are tender, about 30 minutes. Left-over cooked vegetables may be used and the cooking time shortened to 15 to 20 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Chili Beans

1 lb. Ground raw beef, ½ cup chopped onion, 2 cups white (navy) beans, 1 cup chili sauce, 1 to 2 tablespoons chili powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 small bay leaf, 4 whole cloves, ⅛ teaspoon pepper.

Brown beef and chopped onion in a dry pan, stirring constantly. Add cooked beans and stir for about 5 minutes. Add chili sauce and seasonings and simmer, covered, for 15 to 20 minutes. If mixture thickens too much during cooking, additional vegetable water or tomato juice may be added. Yield: six to eight servings.

BETTER BOOK PLAN

Many Canadians, living in rural areas, are deprived of the pleasure and information good books provide because the cost of establishing a home-library is beyond the means of the majority of families. A more realistic approach to the problem is now being offered here in the proposed regional library plan.

Pot Bulbs Now For Spring Blooms

If you have not potted those Dutch bulbs you bought for flowering in the house, now is the time to do so. If they are left lying about too long, they will dry out and lose quality.

So-called Dutch bulbs include hyacinth, tulip, daffodil, or narcissus, and a few of lesser importance. They are grown indoors for spring flowering. The soil is not very important, but should contain a fair amount of sand. Peat or leaf soil may be added, but barnyard manure is best omitted unless very well pulverized with age.

After potting, water well and keep the bulbs in a cool dark part of the basement. Six to eight weeks is about the average storage time during which the root system develops. During this period keep the soil moist but avoid dryness or saturation.

When the top growth is about an inch long, the pots should be moved to a light position in the basement and should remain there until a slight change in color from yellow to green occurs.

From then on, the blooms may be forced in a room that is colder than the living room — often the hall or a cool window is a suitable place. The bulbs should remain there until the leaves expand and the flower buds appear. At that time they may be safely moved into a warmer temperature. The full blooms will last longer if kept out of direct sunshine.

Skirts To Be Short In "Minever Story"

Elstree, England (CP) — It's back to the air raid shelter for "Mr. and Mrs. Miniver", otherwise known as Canadian-born Walter Pidgeon and Greer Garson.

The scene they have been filming for "The Miniver Story" is almost a replica of the air raid sequence in the original Miniver movie, "Mrs. Miniver", in which they sat in a shelter reading "Alice in Wonderland."

What has this to do with a post-war Miniver chronicle? Why, it's part of a flashback sequence in which Mrs. Miniver thinks about the war.

Miss Garson is one movie star who is not afraid to show her legs in out-dated skirts. She has insisted that her clothes in the film faithfully reproduce those of the immediate post-war period.

Criticism of the earlier Miniver movie was that she dressed much too grandly for an architect's wife. This time she will try to suggest the clothing-coupon era by spending most of the film in simple suits or blouses and skirts.

British Youth Club Cuts Snobs to Size

London (Reuters) — Some boys and girls joining British youth clubs start off by being "snooty" — because their parents are better off or because they think they have a superior job — but there is no place like a youth club for "rubbing the corners off", according to the National Association of Girls' and Mixed Clubs.

In fact, the association declared in a report published recently, the youth clubs are producing a generation which does not know the meaning of "snobbishness."

An official of the association said: "Clubs used to be snobbish. There used to be the rough, tough club and the 'refined' club. Now, there is only one club — the youth club."

"The change has been gradual, but it has become very evident during the last year."

Grand Lodge Officers at Orange Annual Sessions

The annual meeting of the County Orange Lodge was held in Lachute last Saturday. The W.M., R.W. L. Tomalty, presided. The marshal, L. Hodge, presented R.W. Grand Master C. Bradley, R. W. Bro. L. Janes, president of the Orange and Protestant Home; R. W. Grand Treasurer R. M. Butler; R. W. Assistant Grand Secretary J. Fynn—and the County Master welcomed them with fraternal grand honors.

Most of the visitors addressed the gathering and brought inspiring messages. The work of the Orange and Protestant Orphanage was reported on; this home is practically ready for occupation. There has been $16,000 subscribed from all parts of Canada, and at present about $3,500 is on hand. An appeal is being made for "sustaining members" (at an annual subscription rate of $5 or over) to carry on the work.

The election and installation of officers was conducted by Grand Lodge visitors, as follows — W.M., Bro. A. Bissell; D.M., Bro. G. Beauchamp; chaplain, R.W. Rev. G. T. Spriggs; rec. & fin. sec., Bro. C. Demerse; treas., R.W. Bro. N. Morrison; marshal, Bro. L. Hodge; 1st lec., Bro. G. Morrow; 2nd lec., Bro. R. Dawson; auditors, Bros. L. Dawson and H. Morrison.

Mixed Games Started Saturday at Curling Club

The assumption that life in rural centres is "somewhat dull", may be true of some small towns, but such cannot be said of Lachute.

Now that artificial ice is available at the local Curling Club, enthusiasts are able to embark on the "roarin' game" considerably earlier, and the regular mixed bonspiels held each Saturday, started on the 19th of this month. The attendance howeyer was small, as there were several other meetings and church events being held that day. About 14 rinks were played, which is much below the average. This Saturday will see a start in earnest, and mixed play will continnue throughout the day, with refreshments and prizes at night.

Elimination is taking place during the week for entries in the big invitation bonspiel; over 60 rinks from near and far are expected to participate. At the close of this grand event, which takes place on December 3, a turkey supper will be served by the ladies in the clubrooms. Members wishing to attend are requested to procure tickets by Saturday next, November 26, in order that provision can be made for all.

FAKED LOVE CALL LURES MOSQUITO

Salisbury, S. Africa (CP) — South African scientists carrying out research into insect control and the wiping out of malaria have played havoc with a mosquito's love life.

They reproduced with a tuning fork the wing-tones of a flying female mosquito. An amorous male mosquito nearby dived on the tuning fork. But when the scientist cut off the antennae of the male mosquito — the organs through which he heard the female hum — the male mosquito shunned both female and tuning fork.

Scientists are investigating further this new method of controlling malaria-carrying mosquitoes. They already know that if a female's wing-hum is below or above normal pitch male mosquitoes ignore her.

Men's trousers are now made of nylon. Shower-proof, they are handy for golf, gardening, fishing.

FULL CAST AT LACHUTE AUDITORIUM, NOV. 28

A cast of outstanding artists, some of them newly arrived from Europe, will appear in the Police Fund benefit performance at the Auditorium next Monday — for which Police Chief D. Villeneuve and the organizer, Florian Aubin, have been busy making preparations. Mr. Aubin has organized similar programs in 18 cities of this province. (Mr. Aubin, incidentally, is an ex-champion swimmer).

"I sincerely appreciate the cooperation we have received in our Souvenir Program", states Chief Villeneuve, in connection with this show; "and I thank those who have already purchased tickets. The advance sale has reached 300 tickets to date" . . . The police department solicits full public support in this effort to inaugurate a local police fund.

Nina Martell, the beautiful European star, and Ramona, the songstress from Haiti, give some indication of the quality of the cast. Tom Auburn, the great magician, intrigues his audience in an hour's performance. Lolita Decarlo and Therese Daly, dancer and singer; Luke and Paul, acrobats; Mrs. Anna Drake, another accomplished singer; and Freddie Dawson, Toronto-Montreal pianist and accompanist, and also a popular comedian — make a varied and complete cast.

Bet Manley (CKVL) and Al Turps will fill the role as announcers for the English-speaking listeners, and Georges Bouvier, ever-popular with his French radio audiences, will keep the ball rolling hilariously as M.C.

Commencing at 8.30 sharp, the program will last for three hours. As seating capacity is limited to 600, patrons are urged to attend on time.

Police Chief D. Villeneuve

Florian Aubin, Organizer
