National Health Week, Jan. 29th - Feb. 4th

Crusade for Health Gaining Wide Support, Says Official

Proof that National Health Week has attained the status of the most important annual event in the field of health education in Canada, is seen in widespread support accorded this sixth annual observance, says Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada, which sponsors the event in co-operation with departments of health and education.

"It is evident to those of us who have been campaigning for many years in the interests of a healthy Canada that our people are aware of the need for health measures", states Dr. Bates. "We believe, too, that people are awakening to the wonderful possibilities for greater enjoyment of life through good health."

Dr. Bates instances support given the Health Week observance by government officials and departments, radio, newspapers and other publications, and a wide range of voluntary and professional organizations. Sponsorship of special newspaper advertisements and radio announcements by commercial firms highlight this impressive campaign. . . As a further instance Dr. Bates called attention to the January issue of the monthly Royal Bank Letter, entitled "Crusade for Health." This issue of the publication was entirely devoted to health and National Health Week.

"It is a factual and inspirational call to Canadians to join what has devoloped into a mighty worthwhile effort", Dr. Bates said. "Distribution of 200,000 copies of the English edition, and 50,000 copies of the French-language edition is being made. . . A few years ago it would have been considered almost bizarre for a bank to interest itself in matters which appeared to belong only in the field of the doctor. . . This action is indicative of the fact that business men realize now as never before that the first wealth is health."

Progress in Art Class Held in Brownsburg

Brownsburg — The Brownsburg Art Class has concluded successfully five lectures under the direction of Peter Douet, a competent artist and instructor associated with the Montreal School of Art and Design. The class has been learning the fundamental techniques of oil painting and charcoal sketching from a live model, and a pictorial lecture on the history of art has broadened the members' conception of oil painting and provided a background for the present work.

While many of the students have never painted pictures before, the class as a whole has done some surprisingly good work. The instruction is intended to develop unity of subject and harmony of color and curve, three factors in painting which are difficult to incorporate in a picture without constant and adequate instruction.

The classes are being held at the Consolidated School each Thursday.

Report on Que. W. Inst. Semi-Annual Board Meet

The addition of rugmaking to the crafts being offered by the Quebec Women's Institutes has been announced. This decision was reached at the recent semi-annual meeting of the Q.W.I. Board in Montreal. As the Tweedsmuir Competitions, which are held biennially, feature a section for hooked rugs, a spirited discussion showed the interest taken by the members in this project — and Mme. P. C. LeBeau, secretary of the Home Economics and Handicrafts Division, Quebec Department of Agriculture, and Miss Alice Lighthall, president of the Provincial Branch, Canadian Handicraft Guild, Montreal, who were guests at the meeting, gave much helpful information as to what constitutes an original design and hints on workmanship.

Citizenship, which forms one of the Q.W.I. standing committees with Mrs. E. S. Reed, Gaspé, as convener, also evoked much discussion. Mrs. Thomson urged the members to make a study of the Bill of Human Rights. Copies of this, together with a study outline, are being distributed to all branches to assist in this project.

Miss Esther Kerry, president of the Local Council of Women, Montreal, was another guest and attended all sessions. The Q.W.I. is affiliated with this organization, and Miss Kerry expressed pleasure at this co-operation, stating, "It is the right thing that we in the city, and you in the country, should work together."

Reports on the various Q.W.I. projects, suggestions from the conveners of standing committees and plans for the annual short course in Leadership Training, were other items of a full agenda and reflected the expanding interests and influence of the Q.W.I. as it copes with the many problems arising in rural communities.

Mrs. R. Thomson, Abbotsford, Q.W.I. president, was chairman and all counties were represented with the exception of Gaspé and Brome.

Near-Triumphs for Lady Curlers in Major Bonspiels

In the Coronation Trophy games in Montreal last week, Mrs. W. M. Cottingham and Mrs. W. K. McArthur carried the honors for Lachute into the final rounds — the former rink losing by only one point to Mrs. Clark (St. George's), for the Coronation, and Mrs. McArthur's rink ceding victory to Mrs. Cheese (Royal Montreal) for the Balmoral Trophy. Mrs. F. E. Earle's quartet had dropped out earlier in the play, in the semi-finals.

As runners-up, Mrs. Cottingham's team were presented with Coronation pins, and Mrs. McArthur and her team-mates were awarded silver coasters.

Competing in the annual Tweedsmuir games on Tuesday, Mrs. Cottingham and Mr. F. A. Brennian skipped two teams to a successful outcome against St. George's, for honors in the Montreal district. The Lachute ladies will re-enter the play next Monday, meeting two Lachine rinks at Royal Montreal. The local teams comprise —

Mrs. Jas. MacKimmie, Mrs. K. Campbell, Mrs. J. R. Charron, Mrs. W. M. Cottingham (skip). Score, 20-7.

Mrs. J. R. McOuat, Mrs. S. J. McFaul, Mrs. W. K. McArthur, Mrs. F. A. Brennian (skip). Score, 14-8.

Today (Thursday) the Lachute ladies have a team playing in the annual Sewell Trophy at Seigniory Club, meeting formidable competition in a rink skipped by Mrs. T. J. Agar of the Toronto Granite Club, trophy winner last year for the third time. (Granite rinks have taken home the trophy 12 times since 1932). There are 36 rinks competing in the four-day bonspiel. Lachute's entry includes —

Mrs. L. Ayers, Mrs. G. F. Calder, Mrs. Jas. MacKimmie, Mrs. F. E. Earle (skip).

On home ice, play was commenced yesterday for the annual Vice-President's Prize (irons), following the group system. The singles are also on the current program.

Lachute Club were hosts to two Vankleek Hill teams on Tuesday competing for the Cottingham Cup. Both local rinks won this engagement—Mrs. G. G. Mitchell against Mrs. Garrett, and Mrs. Geo. McGibbon against Mrs. Hall — and Lachute, the holders, thus retained the trophy.

The monthly tea of the Ladies' Curling Club takes place February 6, at 4 o'clock.

Anglican Clergy Told To Avoid Politics

York, England (AP)—The Archbishop of York has ordered Anglican clergymen of his diocese to keep politics out of their sermons when they deal with the general election scheduled for February 23.

"No sermons should be preached in support or criticism of any of the parties", said the archbishop, Most Rev. Cyril F. Garbett, in a diocesan leaflet. "Prayers should be offered for God's guidance to the elector and the elected", the leaflet said.

Labor Party circles previously had interpreted recent political remarks by some clergymen and prelates as anti-labor.

Dr. Garbett said in his statement that "much of the hostility to the Roman Catholic Church on the Continent is largely due to its active intervention in party politics".

A Church of England spokesman in London said the archbishop's order would be "highly persuasive", even for clergymen outside his diocese.

Federation of Agriculture Views Farmer's Position

Ottawa — The 14th annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture opened this week with a statement of policy on government price supports for farm products.

H. H. Hannam, federation president, called for permanent support as a necessary step to a proper balance in the national economy. In his presidential address opening the two-day meeting, Mr. Hannam said unemployment in Canada will "rapidly become much more serious" if farm purchasing power continues to decline.

"We believe that the Canadian economy can be maintained on a lower price basis", he said. "But we must protest the forcing down of farm prices from 1949 levels, unless and until prices of those goods and services which farmers buy show a corresponding decline."

Labor Situation In Brownsburg

Brownsburg — Village Council gives evidence of concern over a situation resulting from recent lay-offs at the ammunition plant, caused by a readjustment of the labor program in accordance with the needs of the C-I-L. A delegation consisting of Geo. Therrien, president, and two other officials of the employees' union, met with the Council recently, as a result of which, a committee conferred with Mr. Harris Sherwood, works manager, on Tuesday, and it is hoped that difficulties from the local angle may be remedied. The C-I-L policy of preference to those of senior service has found a proportion of Brownsburg men on the lay-off list, with the result that the Council has been requested in various cases to find employment for these citizens. The town committee conferring with the management on this situation consisted of Mayor Jas. Donaldson, Councillors Antonio Denault and Maurice Lafleur. It is reported the committee appeared satisfied that every consideration was being given to the local employees.

Ace at Bowling

Miss Monique Charlebois, who claimed the rare distinction of bowling 12 consecutive strikes for a perfect 450 points at the Lachute Bolodrome — a record in local bowling, and also a rare feat in the annals of the game. As reported in last issue, Miss Charlebois was playing in a regular Commercial Girls' League fixture when she scored this triumph.

Scouts' Fund Campaign To Commence Monday

"To produce the kind of citizens Canada needs —strong, decent men". . . The need of such citizens today is evident on every hand. And this is the aim of the Boy Scout movement, whose activities are apparent in almost every organized community.

Scouting pays — but Scouting costs. . . In the national campaign (well organized in Lachute, Brownsburg and elsewhere hereabouts), residents are asked to give generously when the canvassers make their calls next week. Remembering that every donation is a sure investment in manhood's future, the Laurentian District committee, under C. E. Richardson, president, are confident of the public's wholehearted support.

Local Man Proves Whiz at Mechanism—Or Just Lucky

At the hardware and sports goods show last week at Atwater Market, a local townsman, Sid Drew, visited the Evinrude Motors booth, where one of the exhibits was an outboard motor with working parts shown in cross-section visible to the spectator. There was a contest in which visitors were invited to guess the total number of parts in the motor. . . Sid Drew scratched his head pensively, wrote down a number and deposited his entry.

Drew was at home on the sick-list Monday morning when his telephone rang, and he was informed he had guessed the exact number of parts, 532, and was the winner of a 1.5 h.p. Evinrude Sportsman outboard. . It happened that on Saturday, only two days previously, he had purchased a larger-model Evinrude at the local dealer's, John McFaul & Son.

Discuss Plans for Next Concert Season

Some of the directors of Lachute Community Concerts Association met just recently to discuss plans for next season with Harold Kendrick, the representative from New York.

Campaign week is planned for the fourth week in May, when it is hoped to increase the membership to 800. This would substantially increase the Association's budget, thereby making it possible to continue having at least four concerts of the usual high calibre.

Mr. Kendrick informed the meeting that plans were being made to tour certain outstanding group numbers in this part of Canada next year. These included the De Faur Chorus, consisting of thirty-five negro singers, the seventeen-piece St. Louis Sinfonietta, the Philharmonic Piano Quartet and the Trapp family. While nothing definite is known as yet, it is possible that one of these groups may appear in Lachute next year.

A considerable number of individual artists were also discussed, such as Pierrette Alarie, Helen Jepson, Martha Lipton, Dorothy Maynor, Camilla Williams, Dorothy Sarnoff, Nino Martini, Arthur Kent, David Lloyd, Conrad Thibault, Eugene Istomin, S. Weissenberg, Sascha Gorodnitzki, John Knight, Gyorgy Sandor, Sanroma, Ricardo Odnoposoff, Carroll Glenn, George London and many others. All in all, preliminary plans would indicate another most successful concert season next year.

D. MacRae Victor in Centre Ward Election

With just enough election to satisfy the taxpayers that civic politics are taken seriously in this town—the perennial council shuffle has passed, and all is set for the first sitting of the City Fathers in the civic year, next Wednesday.

In an enthusiastic contest yesterday for centre ward — the only campaign for the filling of four vacancies (Theo Ranger having withdrawn from the west ward nomination, leaving Ald. W. Morrissette uncontested) — ex-Alderman Donald G. MacRae deafeated the new aspirant, Jean Lemay, with a decisive majority of 164 votes. There were 514 ballots cast, a very high proportion of the 720 eligible to vote. The results were —

MacRae	334
Lemay	170
MacRae majority	164
(Spoiled ballots)	10

Rotary Event Held in Lachute

Ladies' Night — a diversion featured by Brownsburg Rotary Club periodically in the year's program — was brought to Lachute last week, when members with their wives and guests, numbering a considerable crowd, gathered Friday at the Legion Memorial Hall for a social evening. Don Reid's music-makers were on hand, and dancing was enjoyed until the early hours next morning. Legionnaires acted as waiters during the evening and upheld the hospitable atmosphere of the establishment.

Among those attending were a party of 20 Brownsburg friends to honor Reg Wallace on his departure from that community. Mr. Wallace, a brilliant pianist, also contributed much to the program of entertainment.

Visit to Industry

For their regular meeting the previous week, the Rotarians assembled at Dominion Shuttle Company Ltd., and were conducted on a tour of the plant, witnessing the manufacture of plywood and other specialized products. This was followed by the club dinner, held at Joly's Hotel, where Basil Riddell, of the Shuttle Co. staff, was present to answer questions on different aspects of manufacture at this industry.

President Linton W. Armstrong occupied the chair.

"More Things Are Wrought by Prayer. . ."

— By M. V. Trayers —

Last Easter, 17 of Hollywood's highest-paid stars appeared on a radio program; 'twas but a one-hour's show, of which the play was prayer and the theme song "Hail Mary full of Grace, the Lord is with thee".

The aggregate time was worth thousands of dollars, yet those 17 talented fun makers received next to nothing. Bing Crosby; Spencer Tracy; Jimmy Durante; Maureen O'Hara; Ethel Barrymore; Tyrone Power . . all the big names were there, playing the parts allotted to them by an obscure Irish immigrant who never produced a play before, and who was unknown to music, drama or song, in the Hollywood sense. . .

This story really begins in a small village called Carracastle in County Mayo, Ireland. Pat Peyton was born there, the fifth of 11 children. When he was 19 years of age he emigrated to America. Some of his sisters and brothers were there before him. He worked as a day laborer at odd jobs but eventually found pretty constant employment as a church janitor. It was there that he met Monsgr. Paul Kelly, who took a liking to the blond Irish youth and sent him to college. After graduating from college Pat Peyton enrolled at Moreau Seminary, South Bend, Indiana, with his brother Tom. The brothers served their novitiate and after four years at Notre Dame graduated together in 1937.

It was then that Pat, big, healthy-looking and strong, contracted tuberculosis and landed in a Washington hospital in poor condition. . . The doctors were doubtful of his recovery and after several unsuccessful treatments, were considering collapsing the lung. Pat asked them to wait a month while he got in touch with a doctor friend. During that month Pat prayed more earnestly and more firmly than he had ever prayed before. For a while he held his own, and then, much to the surprise of the doctors, he began to get well. A few months later he was completely recovered and went back to college to resume his studies. Perhaps his recovery was due to those early treatments. . . His friends and himself believed it was due to prayer.

Back in Notre Dame he was ordained a priest in June 1941, and was later transferred to Vincentian College at Albany, where he was wont to impress upon the students the value of prayer and particularly public homage to the Blessed Virgin. Thinking of his own big family in Ireland, praying together at night around the kitchen table, he advised, "The family that prays together stays together."

Father Peyton was so sure that his surprising recovery was due to prayer and the Blessed Virgin, that he wanted to share his joy with every living soul. He wanted to do homage and give thanks, and for some time he criss-crossed the United States, talking in churches, schools, halls and clubs, begging Catholics to return to the family Rosary, saying over and over again, "The family that prays together stays together".

Emboldened by his small success he had the idea of embracing every faith in his campaign for prayer, and with this end in view he approached the executives of one of the big networks and suggested a half hour's program of prayer. Without money to offer, and with such a revolutionary idea of "entertainment", he received cold encouragement. He continued to contact the executives for a one-hour radio program over a national network, but without much success — until one day he had an inspiration. The networks were building a Mother's Day program when Father Peyton appeared at the office and asked, "Would you give me an hour on Mother's Day if you had a big film star on the program and if you didn't have to pay for the star?" The radio executive took the bait and said, "Sure — of course — if we don't have to pay. But who's going to get a big star for nothing?" "I am", the priest answered quietly.

Father Peyton went home, picked up his telephone, and called Bing Crosby in Hollywood. It was one chance in a million that Bing would answer such a call, and even if he did, it was a smaller chance that he would find time to put on an hour's radio program for an unknown priest who couldn't pay a cent fee. The one in a million chance came off! "I am a priest in Albany", came over the phone to the surprised singer, "Would you do something for the Blessed Virgin?" It was probably the most unusual salesmanship ever used on the crooner. The reply was characteristic of Bing. "Father, I don't mind if I do".

Farmers Ask Price-Support Action To Bolster Returns, Loss of Markets

"WEEK AT OTTAWA" — by KEN METHERAL

Ottawa, Feb. 6 (CP) — Canada's farmers told government leaders in no uncertain terms last week that they wanted price-support action to bolster sagging prices for farm products.

The pleas for help started last month when Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced that the greater part of the rich United Kingdom markets had been lost because of Britain's serious dollar-shortage.

Last week the pleas began building up into a full-throated roar. Farmers wanted price-support action. They wanted it in a hurry and they wanted lots of it.

Earlier this month the government announced a floor price for bacon, and pegged cheese at a minimum factory price of 27 cents a pound. Last week, after considering the problem for the past month, Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced that the government would support the price of eggs.

Poultrymen appeared generally satisfied with the government plan whereby packing plant and other cold-storage operators are guaranteed a price of 38 cents a dozen plus cost of storage on all unsold grade A large surplus eggs. Grade A medium eggs will be supported at 36 cents.

Taking into consideration cost of storage, Mr. Gardiner estimated that surplus eggs would cost the government about 42 cents a dozen. This price compares with an average of 47 cents obtained under the United Kingdom egg contract last year.

Farmers Won't Lose

Dr. J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture for British Columbia, appeared to sum up the average reaction to the announcement when he said egg producers will "not get rich but they won't suffer a loss".

C. F. Luckman, of St. Williams, Ont., chairman of the National Poultry Council, said that "although the price is low, it's not too far off what we asked."

For Canadian housewives, it meant that the retail price of eggs will likely climb five or six cents a dozen before the end of the month.

The government announcement about eggs stilled poultrymen's pleas for aid but only spurred those coming from the dairy industry.

As the week ended dairy farmers, holding their annual convention right in Ottawa, went on record as asking for a three-cent boost in the floor price of cheese and a variety of other government assistance.

They demanded that the government boost the cheese floor price from 27 cents a pound to 30 cents; that the government help finance the export of concentrated milk products; that the government fix the support price of butter at not less than the present 58 cents a pound; that the government lop off the eight-per-cent sales tax on ice cream.

Dr. H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said the market outlook for farmers at this time is "definitely discouraging" and added that net farm income last year dropped $125,000,000 from 1948's figure.

"In other words", said Mr. Hannam, "the situation is much the same as at the beginning of other depression periods. Unless adequate action is taken to head it off, a major crisis is developing in Canadian agriculture".

Dairy Industry to Adopt Sales Campaign

Canada's dairy industry, which is "big business" when it comes to size, plans to adopt one of big business's methods — advertising.

Dairy farmers of Canada, meeting at Ottawa in annual convention, agreed unanimously on an all-out advertising campaign designed to boost sagging domestic sales of milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products.

Sales promotion of farm products has usually been left to processing companies, but the Dominion Dairy Association's sales promotion and public relations committee decided farm organizations should start carrying the ball.

The committee lined up a program which called on dairy farmers' organizations across the country to sell producers on the need for an advertising campaign through the daily and farm press and radio.

It urged promotion of high-quality products, co-operation with milk and cream buyers to collect funds for the program, special emphasis on individual dairy products, and research and promotion of new products. The program would also study buying habits of consumers and their reaction to various types of packaging.

Export Reports

Since Canada's economic health relies so strongly on exports, it was important news last week when Ottawa announced the result of Canada's export trade in 1949.

Her bid for a larger share of the rich United States market sent exports to that country soaring to an all-time high last year. Total value was $1,503,459,000 — an increase of more than $3,000,000 over the 1948 figure.

But Canada's over-all export drive, hampered by shortage of dollars in overseas markets, fell slightly in 1949. Total exports for the year were $2,992,000,000 compared with $3,075,000,000 the year before.

Successful Year Under Review at United Church

The annual meeting of the congregation of the Lachute United Church took place in the church hall on Tuesday evening, with the Rev. W. B. Rosborough presiding.

Annual reports of the various organizations within the local church, and including the churches in East Settlement and Thomas' Gore, were presented. These all indicated that the year 1949 had been very successful. The larger groups, such as the Ladies' Aid, the Woman's Missionary Society, the newly-formed Young Women's Auxiliary, the Young People's Union, the Sunday School and the C.G.I.T. Group, had all been very active during the year.

Clifford Cunningham, who had been appointed treasurer in place of the late Dr. G. A. Clunie who had served in this capacity for 44 years, presented the reports of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund and the General Financial Statement. These indicated that a larger amount than the previous year had been donated to Missions, and that the church was in an excellent financial position.

The meeting discussed the problem of enlarging the choir room, which has been found most inadequate for present-day use. It was finally decided to obtain plans and estimates, which are to be submitted first to the Official Board for approval and then to a meeting of the congregation.

Refreshments were served by the ladies at the close of the meeting.

Electric Meters

Anybody who has examined his electricity meter knows that the mechanism is sealed up so he can't open it. The power companies are in the same position; they cannot open meters either.

Every meter installed for a customer by Gatineau Power Company is first tested for accuracy and then sealed by an inspector of the Department of Trade and Commerce. After it is sealed, it is a Federal offence for any company or individual to tamper with it. It operates in home, farm or factory to protect customers against any possibility of paying for electricity they don't use.

Tested Every Six Years

Ordinarily, each meter is taken out and tested by the Department of Trade and Commerce every six years. During the war, this regulation was relaxed because there were not sufficient inspectors to test the meters — but even then the electricity customer was protected. It was arranged that when a tested meter was found to be "running fast"—recording more power than was actually used — a refund would be made to the customer covering all the "fast running" back to the time when it normally would have been tested under the six-year system.

In this way, electricity customers remained protected against faulty meters. As a matter of fact, customers came off better than power companies under this arrangement, because there was no provision to give the company more money if it turned out that the meter had been running slow instead of fast and was not recording all the electricity used.

Even now, it is possible that without ever knowing it, a number of people receive a bit of electricity for which they are not charged. Actually, a meter is much more likely to run slow than fast as it gets old, because the oil inside ages and becomes sticky, tending to slow down the meter.

Land Is Investment If Properly Used

Land is either well looked after or mismanaged. Land has one peculiarity that distinguishes it from all other natural resources such as coal, oil or minerals. It does not become used up as do these, but may be retained perpetually in good condition if proper planning and management are put into force. On the other hand, land that is not carefully and properly worked becomes used up and worthless. No one can afford to let this happen.

Weed Control in Grain and Pastures

The control of weeds in grain seeded down to grass and clover is a many sided problem, says George Knowles, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. First the chemical used should control weeds. Next it should not harm the clover or grass, then it must not reduce the yield of grain. Finally it should be possible to apply this chemical cheaply and with equipment readily available.

At the present time there are three chemicals which offer some hope of controlling annual weeds in grain which is seeded down. These chemicals are calcium cyanamide dust, dinitro compounds, better known by the trade names Sinox and Dows Selective, and 2,4-D.

Of the three 2.4-D is the easiest to apply for it can be put on in a low volume of water by the inexpensive type of sprayer now in general use for other types of weed control. Sinox or Dows Selective comes next in ease of application, but since it must be applied in at least 80 gallons of water per acre a large volume sprayer, the type used for orchard spraying fitted with a broadcast boom, must be used to apply this herbicide. Calcium cyanamide, which is a black powder, is the most difficult to apply. First of all it must be put on when the foliage is wet with dew or immediately preceding dew. It is not active as a herbicide when applied on dry foliage. Then cyanamide dust should be applied uniformly and suitable dusting equipment is not readily available in the areas where seeding down to grass and clover is the most common practice.

Calcium cyanamide dust and Dows Selective or Sioux is applied according to directions do not reduce grain yields. The injury they cause to grass and clover is so slight it can be ignored. Both these herbicides control mustard and some other species of annual weeds.

Unfortunately 2,4-D, the chemical which is cheapest, easiest to apply and controls the most weeds, is rather severe on clover, but the results of experiments show that all species of clovers are not equally sensitive to 2,4-D treatments. They seem to work in this order of resistance — red clover, ladino, alsike, alfalfa and sweet clover. The latter two are very sensitive even to very small amounts of 2,4-D. Another encouraging finding is that clovers, as they advance in growth, become more resistant to 2,4-D. Of course the weeds also become more resistant as they grow older. But there was less clover injury when spraying with 2,4-D was delayed until the grain was up about 14 inches than when the chemical was applied on grain at a height of 6 inches.

Brood Mares in Winter

It is particularly important that fares in foal are not allowed to be idle during winter months, as they usually produce weak foals — no matter how they are fed. They should be given mild exercise each day. Deep snow, however, and the hauling of heavy loads should be avoided.

A brood mare's ration may be made up of a variety of feeds; however, it is essential that it be nutritious and contain a generous supply of protein and minerals. A good grade of mixed hay, oats and bran will supply all the necessary requirement. A few roots fed daily will also prove beneficial. The amount of hay and grain to be fed daily will depend upon the size of the mare, her condition and the type of work she is doing. Naturally the more she is required to do — the larger the daily grain ration. Young mares that have not completed their growth must be fed quite liberally.

New Phone Directory Now In Distribution

The "Book of the Month" for many residents of Lachute and vicinity is the new issue of the telephone directory, according to L. W. Ball, Bell Telephone manager for this region. The new books reached subscribers here last week.

Featuring on its cover the familiar figure of "The Spirit of Communication", the new green-covered edition of the telephone directory replaces the buff-covered book issued last year. It contains 112 pages in its alphabetical section.

The first telephone directory in Canada and probably in the British Empire, published in 1878, consisted of a single sheet, 18 by 5½ inches, and contained the names of a mere 68 subscribers.

The old book should be discarded as soon as the new directory arrives, Mr. Ball warned, for more than 7,000 new and changed listings are included in the forthcoming edition. It contains listings for Ste. Adele, Ste. Agathe, St. Jerome, St. Jovite and other centres.

The manager also cautioned subscribers to give the obsolete directories a thorough "shaking out" before they are discarded, as old directories have been found to contain documents, folding money and letters. Lists of frequently-called numbers kept on office desk-pads, on cards pinned to the wall by the home telephone, or in pocket note-books, should be checked and changed when the new directory arrives.

New Gvt. Department of Resources, Development

The Department is divided into five branches, each under a Director. These are: Administration (C. W. Jackson); Development Services (R. A. Gibson); Public Projects (J. M. Wardle); Forestry (D. A. Macdonald); Canadian Government Travel Bureau (D. L. Dolan).

A Curse of the Courts

A DISTURBING statement came from the Ontario Supreme Court bench recently. It outlined in sharp relief a problem which many laymen possibly have not realized.

The statement, by Mr. Justice E. R. E. Chevrier, had to do with perjured testimony. It followed sworn evidence by two groups of witnesses in a civil case. Each group flatly contradicted the other on a point of fact which could have allowed little room for doubt — whether the defendant had lived in a certain house over a period of months.

"Obviously", said Mr. Justice Chevrier, "someone has been swearing to falsehoods."

He spoke even more strongly, about court evidence in general, and said that people simply do not respect their oaths. And he called on judges to put their foot down against perjury — what he termed "this curse of our courts."

As a judge, Mr. Justice Chevrier realizes the importance of honest testimony to the fair operation of the laws of the country. It would seem that realization is not shared widely enough among the public.

After all, the average person might very well go through life and never appear in court. The few who do might think that a lie — even under oath — is not such a serious thing if it helps them avoid a fine or even imprisonment.

But the fact remains that laws exist to uphold the entire structure of society — the relations of one man with another. It is conceivable that if laws cannot operate fairly, with justice to all, then one of the strongest supports of society is seriously undermined.

Laws are such that although perjury might assist one man, it only too often works injustice on another.

To quote Mr. Justice Chevrier: "An innocent man may go to the gallows and a scalliwag may go unscathed because people commit perjury. It's just as bad in civil cases; a man's fortune, his reputation, may be ruined because too many swear falsely in our courts."

Society must learn that honesty is the necessary correlative of justice. The individual must learn that though dishonesty may help him some day in court, another's dishonesty can as easily ruin him.

Canadian Industry Expands

INDUSTRIAL expansion in Canada is proceeding at a more rapid pace than is generally realized. Some 260 new plants have been established in this country from abroad during the last two years. Approximately 180 of these firms are branch plants of well-known United States concerns, sixty being engaged in the development of the oil industry. Some sixty companies originated in Great Britain and twenty in other countries. Most of these firms are now engaged in the production of goods which, in the main, would otherwise have involved an outlay of American dollars, or are committed to such production, and are providing additional employment for some 8,000 Canadians.

Canada is expanding more rapidly in relation to her gross national production than the United States, the most highly industrialized country in the world. Canada is spending more on goods and services to improve the standard of living, and also expanding the capital structure of the country at a higher rate than ever before. Total capital investment in 1949 reached a peak of 3.3 billion dollars, and it is expected that the figure for 1950 will be approximately the same.

The development of industry in Canada must always, in the final analysis, be a product of individual initiative. The individual is the dominant factor in our philosophy of life. In fact, industrialization in Canada means private individuals and private companies starting new businesses or expanding existing ones. In this effort, governments can help, but the help is effective only if sufficient initiative and vision are forthcoming from the business community.

An Enemy Backing Up

TUBERCULOSIS is a tough enemy. Fifty years ago when the Canadian Tuberculosis Association was formed it was a popular belief that if laws against spitting could be enforced, tuberculosis would be wiped out in time. It might be — but the time would be something like several thousand years.

A great deal more militant and diversified program has been undertaken and though TB is being pushed back slowly — the death rate has fallen from 200 to 37 per 100,000 — it does not yield easily. In a National Health Week review of the situation, the Canadian Tuberculosis Association says that Step One was to provide sanatorium beds so that patients could be admitted as soon as their case was discovered.

Then it was realized that there was urgent need to find cases earlier, for the sake of both the patient and those with whom he was in contact, and programs were launched to find cases in the early stage, before the symptoms warned of danger. This program to find cases early is still expanding, reaching out to include the whole population.

It has been the hope of scientists that vaccination would work the wonders against TB that it did against smallpox. This hope was not fully realized but at least it has been found that BCG gives partial protection to those who have never been exposed to tuberculosis germs, and it has greatly decreased the incidence of the disease among those who of necessity are exposed to the disease but who have not previously been infected.

Another new horizon is rapidly widening — the possibility of cutting down the number of recurrences of this disease by fitting the patients for suitable work when they leave the sanatorium. Those who have given the matter most attention are quite convinced that the number of recurrences can be reduced by sound rehabilitation.

Along with these advances, there has been increased use of drugs and surgery in treatment.

The forces against tuberculosis are strong, and if employed to the full, they will be victorious.

A MAN drawing unemployment insurance, baby bonuses on ten children, and housing parents who receive old age pensions, can make a nice living off the taxpayers without working.

More Factors in the U.K. General Election

By Larry Smith,
Kemsley Scholar in Journalism

If February 23 turns out cold, blustery, snowy or rainy, and should those meteorological conditions perchance coincide with a setback for the British Labor Party, a lot of Socialist ex-Members of Parliament will give voice to a loud "I told you so."

They are the men who wanted a "snap" election in the autumn, when weather was good and economic prospects grim. Failing that, they felt the election should be delayed until June, hoping that the economic climate would improve and feeling, at least, that June would provide better campaigning and polling weather than February, Further, they would have had the Party's 50th jubilee celebrations, now cancelled, to help whip up the old fighting spirit.

This weather problem, which chances most, is complicated by the Labor seems to feel might hurt its new limit placed on the number of cars a candidate may use to get voters to the polls. Under the Representation of the People Act, passed in 1948, a candidate is limited to one car for every 1,500 electors in his district.

Other features of the Act make the results of this election more difficult to predict, for the whole electoral pattern has been changed. There will be 625 seats in the new Parliament, instead of the present 640, and only 62 seats are unaffected by the new distribution which has redrawn the lines of most constituencies.

The general policy of the new act was to revise constituencies so that each elected member should represent approximately 60,000 voters. To achieve this there has been a considerable amount of "carving" and amalgamation. In some cases, predominantly rural constituencies have had their character greatly altered by inclusion of an industrial town, perhaps tipping the balance the other way.

Another feature affecting the number of seats, has been elimination of university representation and the redrawing of the City of London as a constituency. Formerly, for example, an Oxford student or a City businessman was entitled to a vote in his place of residence and also at university or in his place of business. The City of London, with only 12,500 residential electors, had a representation of two M.P.'s. It is now merged with a larger area to form a new constituency with one member.

The number of voters to choose the holders of a reduced number of seats has increased by approximately 1,500,000. What these new voters, many of whom will be casting their first ballot, decide is a big question.

Also giving much concern are the 7,863,121 voters who did not take the trouble to visit the polls in 1945. There is far greater interest in the forthcoming election, and doubtless many of these will vote. Conservatives are confident that many of their supporters didn't vote last time, feeling sure that Churchill, the architect of victory, could retain power without their support. Labor, on the other hand, has laid no claim to these people, although it will certainly woo them.

The so-called service vote poses another unpredictable factor. The vote itself is negligible this time — there are about 140,000 qualified voters in the forces. But in 1945 there were 3,000,000 service voters, and it is held by many that those votes put Labor into power. Nobody can prove that, but everyone wonders how the three million will vote after four years of civilian life. Last time the fighting was over, they were twiddling thumbs in distant lands, and Labor promised them a fast boat to Blighty. Some say, too, many of them might have voted Labor in 1945 because the service vote, among the ranks, is more often than not "agin the government."

It appears that there will be a number of candidates in the field, with perhaps two-thirds of the seats being decided in three-cornered fights. Conservatives and their National-Liberal supporters are contesting all 625 seats, as are the Socialists. The Liberals plan to confuse the picture with at least 400 candidates and the Communists will probably muster just over a hundred.

The Liberals, with but 11 members in the last Parliament, provide another of the imponderables, for no-one knows just what the potential Liberal vote is today, nor how many would hesitate to vote Liberal for fear of rendering their vote virtually useless. Critics are jocularly saying that the Liberal M.P.'s in the next Parliament can drive to the House in one taxi!

Liberals will undoubtedly retain their seven Welsh seats, but the four English seats are all precarious. Three of them were decided by narrow majorities of 1965, 198 and 949, respectively, in straight two-party fights last time.

Dissolution of the present Parliament finds the Labor Party holding 390 seats, the Conservatives 194, the Liberal-Nationals 13 (they support the Conservatives), the Liberals 10, and Independents and others, 33.

In 1945, the Labor Party received 12,000,000 votes, (including 4,000,000 who had obviously never voted Labor before) while the other parties combined polled a few hundred thousand more.

As in many another country, it requires only a small shift in the total number of votes polled to produce some amazing results in the make-up of the House of Commons. The question which will plague people until the wee hours on election night is what kind of shift there will be in those 35 million votes.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Ministerial Association

The Argenteuil Protestant Ministerial Association met last Monday in the hall of St. Simeon's Church, Lachute, with the president, the Rev. J. G. Duncan, in the chair.

The guest speaker, the Rev. Drummond Oswald, General Secretary of the Quebec Religious Education Council, dealt with the history of the Council and its present work. The origin dates back to 1836 in the days of the Sunday School Union, and the organization is today affiliated with the Canadian Council of Churches, together with the various Religious Education Boards of the several denominations. The work is to assist in every way possible along the following lines — training religious education leaders, Sunday School, and the many groups of boys' and girls' activities.

At the close of the address the members engaged in discussion touching many angles of the subject.

The secretary reported on various matters dealt with since the last meeting.

It is hoped the next meeting will be on February 27, at 10 a.m. in the Presbyterian Church hall, Lachute.

Young People's Fireside

A "Fireside" for the young people will be held on Sunday, February 5, at 8.15 p.m. in the Lachute United Church hall in observance of Inter-Church Youth Sunday. Young people from all churches are cordially invited. A collection will be taken and refreshments served.

"Guard Your Health — Know How". This is National Health Week in Canada, an annual observance designed to awaken in you and your fellow-citizens a consciousness of the value of good health — personal, communal, and national.

Church of Redeemer, Weir, Visited by Bishop

(Our District Correspondent)

Weir, Que. — The Church of the Redeemer, Weir, was well filled on Sunday afternoon, January 29th, when the Rt. Rev. John Dixon, Lord Bishop of Montreal, visited the church. The service was conducted by the Rev. G. R. Barnett, priest in charge of the parish, and a very impressive sermon was delivered by the Bishop.

Immediately following the service the congregation adjourned to the church hall, where an informal reception was tendered to the Bishop.

Refreshments were served in buffet style by the ladies of the Women's Auxiliary.

Annual Meeting of B'burg United Church

Brownsburg — With all organizations reporting another of their best years, the annual meeting of the Brownsburg United Church congregation, held recently, showed added interest and indicated still greater developments in the future.

In the open nomination some eight more Stewards were added to the Board, a Director of Music with the Organist and the Choir committee on the new organ given the green light.

With the redecorating of the church auditorium in the past year, the placing of a new carpet and added memorial furnishings, as well as the baptismal font, have enhanced the dignity and appearance of the church, while the Sunday School has reached a new high in attendance and importance. Upwards of 50 were reported in the Cradle Roll Department alone. Sunday School classes are also exercising their needs and privileges in various gatherings during the week, both in the church hall and in the homes of their teachers.

The Capital Pension Fund committee had almost met its $3,000. allocation, typical of other financial obligations of the church's life and work, in which the Missionary and Maintenance Fund was given its right place.

The minister, the Rev. S. J. Pike, expressed his gratitude for the loyalty and co-operation of the congregation, as well as the interest taken by the ladies in the manse interior, and the Trustee Board in their work of redecorating the manse exterior during the past year. It was noted that the exterior of the church building had also been attended to.

With the enlarged Board of Stewards and the newly appointed visiting teams, the special Evangelism Campaign is getting under way, leading up to the Easter communion and reception.

The recent Sunday School Promotion service, and the Installation service of organizations' officers, further indicates the expanding work and fellowship of the congregation, while visual aid and wholesome recreation have a prominent part in the Religious Education program.

"More Things Are Wrought by Prayer . . "

The arrangements were made and the priest returned to the radio executive. He was beaming as he said, "Mr. Crosby will sing for us if you give me that hour on Mother's Day". . . . "Crosby? You mean Bing Crosby?" Father Peyton replied, "Yes" . . That was when Father Peyton's dream came true.

A few days before the program was to go on the air, Germany surrendered. That Sunday was proclaimed a day of thanksgiving. Together with Bing Crosby on the program, Father Peyton had Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Sullivan, parents of the five Sullivan brothers who had gone down with the cruiser "Juneau".

The program brought an avalanche of approval from Catholics, Jews and Protestants. Telegrams and letters poured in requesting a repeat — and most of them contained cheques and money.

Today the Family Theatre is a success. It has 390 outlets and is broadcast around the world. Many of the film stars ask to get on again and again. Jimmie Durante called Father Peyton to complain he hadn't been invited to participate. As actor Jimmy Stewart says, "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

United Bowling Group Elimination Contest And Social Evening

The annual elimination contest of the Lachute United Church Bowling League was held Monday evening, the first round ending with the following scores —

Mission Band 3 vs. Ladies' Aid 5
S.S. Teachers 9 vs. W.M.S. Reds 3
W.M.S. Blues 11 vs. Red Cross "A" 5
Y.P.U. 6 vs. The Raps 4
Red Cross B 7 vs. The Aces 4
The Vikings 4 vs. Y.W.A. 2

All three games in the second round were close contests, with the W.M.S. Blues defeating the Ladies' Aid 3-2 after an extra end. The Y.P.U. came through with the score of 4 against the Red Cross "B" 2, while the Vikings played consistently good bowling to defeat S.S. Teachers 3-2.

The semi-finals draw matched the Vikings against the W.M.S. Blues, which ended with a 3-0 score for the former team, making the final game between the Y.P.U. and Vikings.

This game was keenly fought, both teams playing steadily and alternately taking the lead. This game ended with the new entrants of the league, Vikings, winning by the score of 5-3.

After a fine assortment of refreshments, served by a very efficient ladies' committee, the president, Merlin Evans, called upon the Rev. W. B. Rosborough to present the prizes to the winning Viking team (Torkil Jensen, Mary Jacobsen, Mrs. Paul Jacobsen and Marius Paulsen). The runners-up, the Y.P.U. team, were also complimented on their fine bowling.

THE MOST RELIABLE SOURCE FOR AN ANSWER TO LIFE'S PROBLEMS

"And all thy children shall be taught of Jehovah; and great shall be the peace of thy children." — Isaiah 54:13.

The Bible clearly teaches

THAT JEHOVAH is the only true God, from everlasting to everlasting, and is the Maker of heaven and earth and Giver of life to his creatures; that the Word or Logos was the beginning of his creation and his active agent in creating all other things; and that the creature Lucifer rebelled against Jehovah and raised the issue of His universal sovereignty;

THAT GOD created the earth for man, made perfect man for the earth and placed him upon it; that man yielded to unfaithful Lucifer, or Satan, and willfully disobeyed God's law and was sentenced to death; that by reason of Adam's wrong act all men are born sinners and without the right of life;

THAT THE LOGOS was made human as the man Jesus and suffered death in order to produce the ransom or redemptive price for obedient men; that God raised up Christ Jesus divine and exalted him to heaven above every other creature and clothed him with all power and authority as head of God's new capital organization;

THAT GOD'S CAPITAL ORGANIZATION is a Theocracy called Zion, and that Christ Jesus is the Chief Officer thereof and is the rightful King of the new world; that the faithful anointed followers of Christ Jesus are Zion's children, members of Jehovah's organization, and are His witnesses whose duty and privilege it is to testify to Jehovah's supremacy and declare his purposes toward mankind as expressed in the Bible;

THAT THE OLD WORLD, or Satan's uninterrupted rule, ended A.D. 1914, and Christ Jesus has been placed by Jehovah upon the throne, has ousted Satan from heaven, and now proceeds to vindicate His name and establish the "new earth"; (Rev. 12:12)

THAT THE RELIF and blessings of the people can come only by Jehovah's kingdom under Christ, which has begun; that His next great act is to destroy Satan's organization and establish righteousness completely in the earth; and that under the Kingdom the people of good-will surviving Armageddon will carry out the divine mandate to "fill the earth" with righteous offspring, and that the human dead in the graves will be raised to opportunities of life on earth.

Edible Valentines

By Betty Barclay

Valentines are not limited to paper, ribbon, buttons and bows. The good old Saint may be honored by serving edible Valentines. Tarts may be heart shaped. Many foods may be decorated with candied hearts. Even first and main courses may be brought to the table with a smiling Cupid much in evidence. Edible Valentines are "fun". Try them:

London Loaf

1 lb. Ground raw beef, ½ lb. ground raw pork (or 4 cups left-over cooked meat) 1 teaspoon salt, 1 onion, minced, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, ½ cup bread crumbs, ½ cup milk, scalded.

Combine meat, salt, onion, parsley, the Worcestershire sauce and eggs. Add crumbs softened in milk; mix well. (If cooked meat is used, use extra crumbs and milk). Pack in well-greased ring mold, bake in moderate oven 350°F. 25 minutes for left-over meat and 1 hour for raw meat. Turn out on hot serving platter. Fill centre of mold with parsley potato balls and buttered green peas. Arrange glazed baby carrots on outside. Serves 6 to 8. Make a sauce for meat loaf by heating a can of mushroom soup with drippings from meat.

Valentine Divinity

½ Cup light corn syrup, 2 cups sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup water, 2 egg whites, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup candied cherries, chopped, ¼ cup nut meats, chopped.

Combine first four ingredients in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Then cook without stirring to hard ball stage (260°F.) or until a small amount of mixture forms a hard ball when tested in very cold water. Just before syrup reaches 260°F. beat egg white until stiff but not dry. Pour syrup slowly over egg whites, beating constantly until all syrup is added. Continue beating with wooden spoon until nearly stiff enough to hold its shape. Add vanilla, cherries and nut meats. Pour into buttered pan and mark into squares or drop from tip of spoon onto waxed paper. Makes approximately one pound.

Cherry Delight

1 Package cherry-flavored gelatin, 2 cups hot water, 2 tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Pour 1 cup gelatin into 8 x 4-inch loaf pan and chill until firm. Cut in ½-inch cubes.

Chill remaining 1 cup gelatin until slightly thickened. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Add cherries. Then carefully fold in gelatin cubes, adding half at a time. Pile in sherbet or parfait glasses or in large serving dish. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Two tablespoons maraschino cherry juice may be substituted for 2 tablespoons water. Or add 4 drops almond extract to dissolved gelatin.

Ambassador Strawberry Tarts

1 Egg white, ¼ cup sugar, 1 cup cream (whipped), ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1½ cups shredded coconut, (cut or chopped), 1 box quick-frozen sliced strawberries, sweetened, 6 baked 3½-inch tart shells.

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Fold whipped cream and vanilla into egg-white mixture. Add 1 cup coconut. Place strawberries in tart shells, pile cream mixture on fruit, and sprinkle with remaining coconut. If desired, place one whole strawberry on each tart before sprinkling with coconut. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Table Treats from The Root Cellar

All up-and-coming meal planners know that the family needs vegetables every single day. Knowing the value of vegetables is one thing and getting the family to eat them is another. The old saying about leading a horse to water may apply equally well to small "Betty" or "Bob" who balks at carrots. If mother can make those vegetables look so good and smell so delicious that the family can't resist trying them and if they taste good enough for second helpings the problem is solved.

Carrots, beets, turnips and parsnips seem to offer a great variety of choice when they are put into the cellar in the fall. By the time February appears on the calendar, the family begins to wish for a change. One reason is that some of the crisp freshness is lost in storage but a greater reason may be that the homemaker always serves all vegetables plain boiled. This may be fine once or twice, but the very best food suffers from such monotony.

The curious point is that very often one of the different ways of cooking the vegetables may be more simple and require less time in preparation than the regular method. The home economists of the Consumer Section at Ottawa suggest trying these recipes to add interest to winter menus:

Browned Parsnips or Carrots

6 Medium parsnips or carrots, flour, 3 tablespoons fat.

Cook vegetables whole in a small amount of boiling, salted water or steam until tender. Depending on the age and condition, carrots will take 20 to 40 minutes; parsnips, 30 to 40 minutes. Cut lengthwise in ½ inch slices or in quarters. Dip pieces in flour and sauté in hot fat until golden brown. The cooked vegetables may be mashed, seasoned and shaped into patties for sautéing. Yield: six servings.

Turnip Puff

2 Cups hot mashed turnip, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ tablespoons fat, 1 egg.

Add dry ingredients and fat to hot turnips. Beat until light. While still hot, add beaten egg yolk. Cool. Beat egg white until stiff, fold into turnips. Place in a greased baking dish. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., for 20 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Honey Beets

3 Cups diced cooked beets, 2 tablespoons fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons honey, ½ cup water, ½ cup vinegar.

Melt fat in saucepan, add flour and honey, stirring constantly. Gradually add water and vinegar. Cook until slightly thickened, about 5 minutes. Add beets and continue cooking until beets are thoroughly heated. Yield: six servings.

Baked Carrot Fingers

6 Medium carrots (cut lengthwise into fingers), ¼ cup hot water, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon fat.

Place carrots in greased casserole. Mix hot water, salt and fat. Pour over carrots and bake, covered, in a moderately slow oven, 325°F., for 1 hour or until tender. Yield: six servings.

Christ Church, St. Andrews, Scene of Pretty Wedding

Clattenburg - Robertson

Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in the Anglican Church at St. Andrews East, the wedding took place of Mary Lydia Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Arthur Robertson, and Warren Peter Clyde Clattenburg, son of Capt. and Mrs. Clyde Clattenburg. The Rev. C. R. Lang officiated.

The church was decorated with white snapdragons and ferns on the altar and white satin bows marked the guest pews. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Kendrick Dorion, of Lachute, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, of St. Andrews East, formerly of Granby, Que., sang "I'll Walk Beside You".

A precedent was set by having the wedding service completely recorded.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Robertson. Mr. Bruce Clattenburg, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Kendrick and Gordon Robertson, brothers of the bride.

The bride wore a wedding gown of heavy white satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, tight-fitting bodice and long, tight sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her veil of tulle illusion was fastened with clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of Nile green taffeta designed with Peter Pan collar and tiny matching buttons down the front, with matching mitts and bandeau. She carried a bouquet of yellow poms.

Mrs. Robertson, mother of the bride, wore a gown of wine velvet, with matching hat of ostrich feathers, and grey accessories; her corsage was of white carnations.

A reception was held in the United Church hall, where the tables were beautifully decorated with white bells and streamers, flowers and ferns and tapering white candles. The bride's table was centred with the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Clattenburg left later by motor. For travelling the bride wore a suit of English gabardine with a maroon topcoat and grey accessories. . . The couple will reside in Montreal.

Out-of-town guests were — the Rev. and Mrs. Geo. T. Spriggs, Mrs. C. R. Lang, Mr. and Mrs. O. Kendrick Dorion, Mr. James Dorion, all of Lachute; Miss Adria Barclay, Westmount; Mrs. E. Mount, N.D.G., Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. C. Parker, Greenfield Park; Miss Enid Robertson, Montreal; and Mr. Arthur Robertson, St. Laurent.

A hint: He who talks by the yard and thinks by the inch, should be kicked by the foot.

Series "A" semi-final will bring together the teams finishing first and fourth in the season's standing of the Quebec-Ontario Hockey League. Series "B" semi-final will be contested by the second and third-place clubs. Both series will be a best three-out-of-five games. The eventual winners will meet in the Series "C" finals in the best four-out-of-seven games for the J. U. Nadon Trophy.

Feb. 11 (Saturday)—Series "A"
Feb. 14 (Tuesday)—Series "B"
Feb. 16 (Thursday)—Series "A"
Feb. 18 (Saturday)—Series "B"
Feb. 21 (Tuesday) — Series "A"
Feb. 23 (Thursday)—Series "B"

The Lachute Club have yet to play four games away in order to complete their schedule. Theirs has been an up-and-down season, but with a complete roster of players the locals should be tough to beat in the play-offs.

Brownsburg, after a slow start, is again gaining momentum as the play-off stage is reached.

Hawkesbury have dominated, holding first place since the season started, and are undoubtedly at the moment the "class" of the league.

Grenville, like the Lachute team, with a complete roster of players will also be very much "in there".

Tickets for both semi-final series will be in circulation next week. Purchasers will exchange same on the night of the event at the box-office. (The tax on these advance tickets will be paid by the competing clubs). Don't forget, the first game Saturday, February 11.

Brownb'g School Defeats Macdonald High 7-2

Brownsburg — On Saturday last Brownsburg Consolidated School was host to three hockey teams from Macdonald High.

Following were the results:

Sr. Boys — Brownsburg 7, Macdonald 2.
Sr. Girls — Brownsburg 2, Macdonald 2.
Jr. Boys — Macdonald 2, Brownsburg 1.

Ideal weather conditions and a fast ice surface helped to make this an outsanding occasion in local school hockey. All three games were very fast, hard fought and clean right to the final whistle, and provided many thrills for the large crowd of spectators who gathered to see them.

Tallies for Brownsburg (senior boys) were scored by Moseley, from Cumbers; Brewer, from Vary; Vary, from Mason; Mason, from Brewer; Vary, from Brewer; Moseley, from Cribb.

For Macdonald — scores by Dutrisac; and Jones, from Adams.

After the final game all players gathered at the school to enjoy refreshments and dancing.

Clear Rink for Hockey -- Scouts' Good Turn

BROWNSBURG TROOP ACTIVITIES

Brownsburg — The Brownsburg Boy Scout Troop gathered in the Consolidated School last Tuesday night for their usual weekly activities; but upon learning that the open-air rink had not been cleared of snow and there was a Senior League game scheduled, they turned out and toiled with shovels, brooms, etc., so that the game could be played. . . Just another instance of the Boy Scouts' good turn.

The local committee is proceeding with arrangements for the National Campaign for Funds by the Boy Scouts Association, which commences February 6 and is scheduled to finish on the 22nd. A smiling collector (or two) will be knocking on front doors during the campaign, anxious to explain the aims and objects of Scouting; and of course, to receive contributions which will ensure that the good work can be carried on.

Scouters endeavor to train our boys along the proper lines; they give their best without remuneration, buy their own uniforms and sometimes spend their own money for the good of the cause. All that the citizens are asked to do is to pass along a little of their folding money.

You will be delighted with this fragrant tea

New President of Cdn. Ayrshiremen Views Milk Production and Prices

ERSKINE RODGER, DELEGATE TO DAIRY MEET, GIVES REPORT AND ADDS INFORMAL COMMENT

At the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association annual meeting in Toronto last week, W. Erskine Rodger, of East Settlement (who was elected president of the Association) presented a report on the recent annual session of the Dairy Farmers of Canada. Mr. Rodger attended this assembly at Ottawa as official delegate of the Ayrshire Breeders. Following is a digest of his report, which is of concern to the widespread dairy interests of this community. . .

It was an honor and a privilege for me to represent our Association at this gathering. . . At the general meeting, Mr. Gilbert McMillan, one of the Ayrshire Association's own members and delegates, was chairman.

Directors' reports, given by the secretary, Erle Kitchen, showed that they were active in doing all they could to further the interest of dairy farmers across Canada. They advised that a larger consumption of our products might be attained if well advertised; a better product should be in the minds of the producers; more careful handling, in better and more attractive containers, etc.

We were also honored by having as president one of our members, in the person of Gilbert McMillan. His address was well taken. I could not pay him a greater compliment than to give you his final remarks urging a two-fold program to assist the industry:

1. The industry had to get across to the consumer public that a low-priced dairy industry was not conducive to a better standard of living. Purchasing power in the hands of the dairy farmer was just as important as full employment and fair wages for workers.

2. The industry had to analyse its operations carefully. The best grade of milk had to be produced at the lowest possible cost.

The Hon. James Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, gave us a real pep-talk, giving us to understand that the food producers, in his mind, should do their own marketing as the Government wanted to get out of the food business as quickly as possible. He also mentioned the need of educating the Canadian to consume more of our dairy products. If this was done, the producers would not need to worry so much about surpluses or supplying other markets.

Dr. H. A. Derby, chief of the Marketing and Merchandising Service, Dairy Products Division, Ottawa, addressed the meeting much on the same lines as Mr. Gardiner.

Being your representative and a whole milk producer, I attended the discussion of the Whole Milk Group. It was interesting to hear the different reports given by the delegates of each province. Prices ranged on whole milk from $4 per cwt. to $4.59 to producer, delivered, and retailed from 16 to 19 cents per quart or $6.40 to $7.60 per cwt. to consumer.

Surplus milk was handled in many different ways and I would like to commend the way in which Montreal's surplus is handled. It is done by a plant in the city, owned and operated by the producers themselves. The surplus milk is pooled and the price is based on the sales of the different channels sold or manufactured into.

Another thing that interested me was the different standards used with reference to butterfat. Some markets based their price on 3.4% milk with .03c per decimal-point difference, others on as high as 3.8%, with .05c per decimal point.

The banquet was addressed by Dr. H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and of the International Federation of Agriculture. He urged a continuation of Government price support for farm products. Farm prices should be held at the 1949 level until other factors start to decrease. He remarked that city housewives who rejoiced over tumbling farm prices may shortly find themselves unable to rejoice because their husbands are unemployed! . . That farmers had to fight ceaselessly to get Canada to place them on a par with other citizens in the economic system.

Two films were presented, one on Mastitis, and another "55,000 for Breakfast Every Morning". These were well received.

Since presenting this report, Mr. Rodger has been asked by some consumers this question: "Why does fluid milk cost more than milk for cheese, butter or milk in concentrated forms?" The question has prompted the following reply, submitted to The Watchman for the interest of its readers:

Fluid milk is one of our main and important daily foods; it must be handled carefully. Special supervision of all phases of its handling — from the feed for the cow, to the milk she produces, and delivery to the consumer — must be exercised, to ensure good health. Health inspectors are on the road all through the year checking dairies, dairy barns, health of animals, feed, transportation, etc.; even the health of the persons handling the milk is checked.

It is essential that fluid milk be produced the year round, as it is a perishable food and cannot be stored any great length of time. Butter, cheese and concentrated milk can be stored and its food value or keeping qualities are not affected to any extent.

It is more costly to produce fluid milk because of winter production. Cows must be kept indoors about eight months; the best of hay must be stored, silos filled, and grain provided. In addition, the fluid milk producer must provide different forms of concentrated feed to get the essential balance to produce the milk. All this takes careful study and planning, and above all a large capital outlay in a good farm, machinery, buildings, dairy equipment such as coolers, milking machines, cans, pails, etc., also a supply of washing powders and veterinary needs. For winter production the dairyman must plan

French-Canadian Tenor for Feb. 14 Community Concert

Leopold Simoneau, Tenor

A Montreal suburbanite now at the peak of an operatic career, comes close to his native hearth, with the appearance next Tuesday of Leopold Simoneau, tenor, at Lachute Auditorium. Direct from the Paris Opera, where he has just filled an extended engagement, this French-Canadian singer is in top form, and his recital is keenly anticipated by the Community Concerts membership in this town and district.

Soloist with leading conductors, including Sir Thomas Beecham, Wilfred Pelletier and Efram Kurtz; star of over 170 opera performances with such organizations as the New Orleans, Montreal and Central City Opera Companies and the Opera Comique and the Paris Opera; radio and concert performer of exceptional artistry — such are the accomplishments of Leopold Simoneau, this brilliant new lyric tenor.

Born in a two-storey cottage in the suburbs of Montreal, Simoneau inherited a natural musical tradition from his father, who was a professional singer. But this conducive environment was cut short at the death of his mother when Leopold was just 10 months old, and he was sent to the home of a married sister in Providence, R.I. He lived there until the age of 13, when he returned to Canada.

It was then that he decided to be a priest. But, as he puts it, "I went to college for seven years, and that changed my whole conception of life; I decided to devote it to art." He attended Levis College from 1933-39, and received his B.A. degree from Laval in 1941.

Wage Increase Granted To Paper Mill Workers

The employees of J. C. Wilson Ltd., Local 437 on the International Brotherhood of Papermakers, successfully negotiated with the Company management for an increase in wage rates. The increase, affecting nearly 140 workers provides for a raise of 4 cents an hour for men and 3 cents an hour for women, retroactive from January 3 last.

Negotiations were conducted to the satisfaction of all concerned — the employees being represented by Louis Proulx, president, Philippe Brisebois, vice-president, and Emile Tessier, secretary, of the local union, together with J. O. Lambert, general representative of the Brotherhood, from Ottawa.

Morin Hts. Seeks Zone Ski Committee Meeting

Montreal—Albert Basler, chairman of the Morin Heights Development Association, has written Paul Ramage of the Laurentian Zone Ski Committee seeking the privilege of playing host to the next Canadian Amateur Ski Association annual meeting. Members of the Morin Heights Municipal Council, citizens and others interested are anxious that the meeting be held in their town.

Fire Leaves Three Families Homeless

Lachute Fire Brigade was summoned to fight a dwelling-house blaze in 15-below-zero weather Tuesday night. The outbreak occurred in a large 2½-storey frame house belonging to J. Edmond Ranger, insurance agent, on Grace Street West. The alarm was sounded about 15 minutes after midnight and the firemen were active for two hours combatting the stubborn blaze.

Site of the outbreak was an upstairs wall; and spreading into the top storey, the roof and the upper walls, the flames did considerable damage. Water, directed into the house from two lines of hose, also caused damage to the interior and contents of the lower floor.

The proprietor, Mr. Ranger, was absent at the time, being confined to hospital. Besides his large family, the building was occupied by two other households and also a small restaurant.

Mr. Ranger had part coverage on his property loss, and ample insurance on his effects, to which there was heavy damage.

Mme Rosa Dupuis and her daughter occupied another tenement in the building. The woman, suffering from a leg fracture, had difficulty in getting from the building.

E. Lavoie, with his wife and family, recently from New Brunswick, suffered the complete loss of his furniture and belongings; it is understood there was no insurance, and the furnishings had been newly purchased on his arrival here. Mr. Lavoie had only his night-clothing in his possession, although his wife and family had hastily dressed before their escape.

Mr. Ranger's family are now occupying one of the Deacon apartments above the fire station.

Directs Training of Scout Leaders

E. F. MILLS, Executive Commissioner for Training at Canadian Scout Headquarters, Ottawa, who will be the guest speaker at the luncheon preceding the 39th annual meeting of the Provincial Scout Council to be held in Three Rivers this Saturday, February 11. Mr. Mills' Scouting career goes back to 1910, when he was appointed Assistant Scoutmaster of a Scottish troop. Since then he has held a number of posts in Canada, and is presently serving on two important world Scouting committees by appointment from the International Scout Bureau, London. His work at Canadian Headquarters includes the training of Scout leaders throughout the country; and it is his responsibility to direct the national training program and to plan courses of instruction and approve suitable leaders to direct them.

Food does not have to be fancy to be nutritious. Both your health and your pocketbook will benefit if you purchase and eat the plain foods — cooked whole grain cereals, whole wheat bread, milk, eggs, raw and cooked vegetables and fruit, fish and various kinds of meat.

Scouts' Campaign Now in Progress

The value of the Boy Scout movement needs little argument — in theory it is a sound enterprise for citizenship — in practice it has been proven, both on a world-wide scale and in its local application. . . Yet Canadian Scouting is not reaching as many boys as it should. Scouting is doing much with very little money; it cannot extend its usefulness without increased resources.

The Scouts are doing everything within their limited means to help themselves. Scout leaders are giving generously of their time, energy and financial means. The public, in the current campaign, are asked to contribute "Dollars Today for the Men of Tomorrow".

Collectors are now calling, and the canvass is progressing satisfactorily in this community. Local officers and committeemen of the Laurentian District solicit wholehearted support from this locality; they commend to their fellow residents this appeal — for an investment in health, character and growing citizenship.

Former Mayor Dies At St. Jerome

J. A. Legault, former mayor of St. Jerome, died Tuesday in his 87th year.

First elected mayor in 1913, he served for six terms in that capacity until 1927. While at the head of the town council, Mayor Legault was instrumental in the construction of an aqueduct, the municipalization of the lighting service and the establishment of numerous important industries in St. Jerome.

Ch. of Commerce Supper Speaker On "Qualities of A Business Man"

A Chamber of Commerce dinner-meeting at the Hotel Laurentien last Thursday drew a gathering of members and guests numbering around 80. President J. Romeo Charron occupied the chair, and special speaker for the occasion was Lucien Bergeron, liaison officer and fieldman of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Seated with the president and speaker at the head table was Philippe Valois, M.P., Notary Gaetan Valois, with officers and directors of the Lachute Chamber of Commerce; and noted among the attendance were business executives, professional men and representatives of almost every trade and enterprise in town.

The hotel management catered in a manner which deserved high commendation. Following the toast to the King, and the supper proceedings, Mr. Bergeron was very ably introduced by ex-President Jean-Bruno Menard. The speaker keyed his audience to unwavering attention with a ready wit and humor, as preliminaries to his more serious topic. On conclusion he was thanked on behalf of the Chamber and guests by Horace Lamarche, another valuable and active member of the group.

By courtesy of Ayers Limited, the fine color-films portraying the manufacture of woollens at this local industry, and community activities among mills employees and the Lachute citizenry, were shown on the screen to conclude this successful evening's program.

The Make-Up of A Business Man

Having mixed with business men from day to day in all parts of the province, and listened to their complaints, witnessed their failures and shared their successes — Mr. Bergeron appeared well qualified to speak on his chosen subject. Following is a digest of this discourse. . .

Referring briefly to the inherent qualities of personality, those qualities on which a man is judged, the speaker mentioned the positive factors of — personal interest, good will, sociability, energy, and initiative. Then came the intellectual factors — memory, imagination and judgment.

McGill Redmen Win 6-4 In Exhibition Game Here

Coming from behind twice in a jam-packed 60 minutes of exciting hockey, the McGill Redmen, senior edition, defeated a fast-skating team of all-stars from Lachute and district 6-4 here on Monday. This exhibition tilt was a benefit game for the Lachute branch of the Canadian Legion and was played before a near-capacity crowd at the Lachute Arena.

The Redmen took a 3-2 lead for the first time early in the second period and never looked back from there. Although Lachute outskated them for most of the game, and managed to tie the score 4-4 in the final session, McGill's extra polish and finish around the net was enough to earn them victory in a contest that was Grade A from the spectator's viewpoint.

Laliberté opened the scoring for Lachute early in the first period, but McGill soon tied the score as Andrews poked Taylor's rebound into the empty Lachute net. Lachute went one-up again on a goal by Hebert, while Sanderson of McGill was off for holding. However, Dorion put the McGill team back in the game when he stickhandled around the startled defence and set up Murphy for the Redmen's second goal, which tied up the game.

In the second period Dorion and Reynolds beat goaler Martin, while Lachute countered with one tally notched by Belisle. Going into the final session trailing by one goal, the all-stars fought hard to get on equal terms, and finally Lafrance tied the score on a difficult angle shot which McLellan, the McGill goaltender, fanned. But the Redmen soon regained their lead on a goal by Irvin, and with a few minutes to go Reynolds clinched the victory on a long, hard drive from the blue-line. The game ended at that score, a 6-4 victory for McGill.

Lachute High School instrumental band was present to add pleasure to the occasion, playing several selections, under leadership of their director, Earl Morrison.

After the game the players gathered at the Legion Memorial Hall where supper was served and a pleasant social hour was spent before the return trip to Montreal.

The game was arranged through generous co-operation of Dave Campbell, a former Lachute townsman well known in hockey circles and coach of the McGill team. Proceeds of this friendly game will be used to help pay off the outstanding debt on the hall, and sincere thanks are due to Mr. Campbell and his boys.

Lady Curlers Lose Bid in Tweedsmuir Eliminations

Following their initial success last week against St. George's in the Montreal district Tweedsmuir games, the two Lachute ladies' teams advanced another step by defeating the Lachine entries on Monday. The following day, however, their luck turned and the Lachute curlers lost to Royal Montreal, thus dropping out of the eliminations. The local rinks included —

Mrs. Jas. MacKimmie, Mrs. K. Campbell, Mrs. J. R. Charron, Mrs W. M. Cottingham (skip).

Mrs. J. R. McOuat, Mrs. S. J. McFaul, Mrs. W. K. McArthur, Mrs. F. A. Brennian (skip).

The Sewell Trophy entry from Lachute had a similar experience in their games at Seigniory last week. Mrs. Earle's foursome took the laurels in their first encounter with Mrs. T. J. Agar's formidable team from Toronto Granites on Thursday, then going down in defeat against Mrs. Tuttle, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Dawson, also of Ottawa. The Lachute rink comprised —

Mrs. L. Ayers, Mrs. G. F. Calder, Mrs. Jas. MacKimmie, Mrs. F. E. Earle (skip).

He said he expected the new fire truck within two weeks, and he would require a water supply tap to be installed at the fire station. Councillor Wilson moved that boots and hats be obtained, as requested by Chief Robbins, to a value of $167.24. Councillor Denault seconded the motion.

Legion Plays Host To Service Clubs In Appreciation

There have been ample activities at the Legion Memorial Hall in recent weeks, and good use is being made of this new and attractive building, which now has a fully equipped modern kitchen with facilities to provide anything from sandwiches to a full course dinner.

The hall, which is one of the finest Legion meeting-places to be found anywhere, was built mainly through the effort and hard work of the veterans themselves; but various organizations helped appreciably from the financial end in the completion of this big undertaking, and are continuing with their support in helping the ex-servicemen to liquidate the $8,000 mortgage.

In appreciation of these efforts, Branch No. 70 recently entertained both the Rotary Club of Brownsburg and the Lions Club of Lachute, the latter having dinner and holding their regular meeting at the hall last Tuesday evening. For many of the members, it was their first visit to the new hall, and surprise was expressed at the comfortable and cordial atmosphere which presented itself. Legion President Sam Milnes extended a welcome to the Club, and Lion Fernand Legault thanked the veterans for their kindly gesture.

Wednesday programs of entertainment are conducted weekly at the Legion Hall, in the form of movie presentations, and a Mardi Gras dance is planned by the members for February 21.

Agric. Society Reviews Vankleek Hill Fair, Plans Discussed for 1950

Reports of committees were heard at the annual meeting of the Vankleek Hill Agricultural Society last week, and President Leslie Nixon expressed satisfaction that the 1949 exhibition was one of the best in the history of the society.

It was decided to continue a Black-and-White and Red-and-White exhibition at the same time and to aim at later becoming an open Class-B Fair, when larger grounds and better accommodation could be established. Russell Sutton, of Brownsburg, gave many interesting pointers on conducting a light horse show. This proved so successful last year that it may be enlarged. A. T. Cleland, of St. Hermas, and John Heatlie, of Brownsburg, both outstanding exhibitors of light and heavy horses, complimented the board on the success of last year's exhibition. Jos. St. Denis, an honorary director, stated that what was needed was a live and forward looking directorate who were not afraid to expand and enlarge.

D. A. McPhee was complimented on being chosen a member of the all-Canadian judging team. M. A. MacLennan, of Lancaster, urged the society to obtain insurance against accidents on fair days.

Leslie Nixon, president for three terms, desired to retire from the Board. Following are the executive officers for 1950: President, Russell Newton; vice-presidents, W. J. McIlwain and Leslie Allen; directors, Harry Leroy, Dr. G. D. MacIntyre, D. A. McPhee, W. A. Newton, Horace Nixon, Barton Hunter, Dr. D. A. Irvine, Carl Murray, Stanley McRae, E. H. Allen, Grant Wharry, Eric Barton; lady directors, Mrs. W. A. Newton, Mrs. J. T. MacDonald, Miss Alice Leroy, Mrs. Leslie Nixon, Mrs. B. G. O'Flaherty; secretary-treasurer, B R. Richardson.

CANADIAN BRASS FOR YUKON TRIAL

—Central Press Canadian

A group of Canadian officers taking a leading part in Exercise Sweetbriar, the U.S.-Canadian manoeuvres, this month in the Yukon, are shown above during indoctrination training under way for weeks at Wainwright military camp in Alberta. Thirteen hundred Canadian troops, stationed there, have been getting accustomed to the winter conditions which they are expected to encounter during the exercise. Left to right: Lieut-Col. R. A. Keane of Fort William, Ont., who has been designated deputy ground force commander; Brigadier R. C. Coleman of Calgary, who will be chief Canadian umpire; Maj.-Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, G.O.C. western command, and Lieut.-Col. Cameron of Ottawa, who is commanding officer of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Local Power Failures

In the winter months especially, any power company operating in a climate such as this inevitably faces the heavy problem of keeping its service in operation despite all the attacks of the elements on the pulsing power lines. When a line goes down during inclement weather, a considerable area may be left without electricity for a time — but at least the repair crews are usually able to find the trouble quickly and repair it with a minimum of delay.

Even more troublesome to the power companies — and more annoying to customers — are the local power failures which result from trouble in small local transformers as a result of excessive loads on fuses. Such troubles take longer to trace and, when there are a number of them at one time, longer to repair. The customer himself could frequently avoid such troubles by letting the Company know what electrical equipment he is installing.

It works this way. Each household or commercial circuit is served by a small local transformer nearby. As a precaution against excessive loads which could cause fires, these transformers have fuses and the capacity of the transformers and the strength of the fuses is determined by the size of the electrical load which will be required.

Suppose, then, that a customer starts taking electrical service and tells the power company that all he is installing is lighting and a few low-power appliances. For his own protection, the power company installs light fuses on the transformer. If the customer then starts using electric stoves, electric water heaters, pumps, space heaters, engines, the power company changes the transformer and fuses to suit — if it knows about it. If it doesn't know, the transformer and fuses to serve the small load remain, and when too heavy a load is placed on them the fuses blow out or the transformer is damaged.

Power failures like that could be avoided if the customer would advise the power company about installation of the heavier electrical equipment so that the proper transformer and fuses could be installed to suit his changing needs.

Industrial Life Insurance Issues 44th Annual Report

The directors of the Industrial Life Insurance Company report that during the year ending December 31, 1949, the Company improved still further its exceptionally strong financial position and the growtn of insurance in force was very satisfactory.

New business effected totalled $33,835,532, and business in force at the end of the year amounted to $168,335,308.40. The increase in the insurance in force was $15,987,021.80.

The total receipts from premiums, interest, etc., were $5,592,469.47, an increase of $647,467.25 over 1948. Although the gross rate of interest declined slightly to 4.66%, this nevertheless is much greater than the average rate earned by other life insurance companies in Canada.

Disbursements to Policyholders

To policyholders, widows, dependents and other beneficiaries, $939,600.42 was paid during the year. Since its foundation, the Company has paid a total amount of $6,918,335.03 under its insurance contracts. The mortality experience continued to be very satisfactory. Considering the increase in business in force, the amount of death claims paid in 1949, $360,728.80, compares favorably with the amount of $352,072.03 paid in 1948.

Assets

The total assets available for the security of policyholders now amount to $16,694,531.28, an increase for the year of $2,587,013.93, or 18.3%.

The excess of market value over book value of the bonds and stocks is $299,683.74, which compares with $135,480.55 at the end of the previous year. This fact, and the high yield which is being obtained on the total invested funds, show the excellent position of the Company's investments.

Liabilities

The largest items in liabilities is the policy reserves of $14,041,708.73, which is an increase of $2,232,647.09 over last year. Ample provision has been made for all liabilities of the Company. The policy reserves are more than 10% in excess of minimum government requirements.

The Company has been setting aside additional amounts for the last few years to strengthen the reserve position, so that at the end of 1949 all policy reserves were on a net level premium basis with 3% interest.

During the past year, the Company has opened three new ordinary branches in the City of Montreal, two in the Castle Building and the third in the new Phillips Square Building. Also, the construction of the Company's new Head Office building at Quebec has been proceeding satisfactorily. It is expected that this building will be occupied by the staff in the late fall of this year.

CONTROL MARKSMEN

Shooting for juveniles under supervision and on properly-administered ranges is something to be commended, but haphazard banging away at tin cans and birds within hitting distance of private property and unsuspecting citizens, is something that should be stamped out.

French-Canadian Tenor For Community Concert

Throughout this period he had been appearing, as an amateur, in local musical and theatrical productions. He was church soloist at St. Patrick's in Montreal; he made his stage debut at the age of 17 in a college production; and he earned his first salary (the munificent sum of $3.00) for singing three songs over a radio program. The $3 was spent immediately for more songs — and the next time he earned more money.

Things moved swiftly for the talented young tenor. He won the Montreal Symphony soloist contest over 30 other competitors and made an operatic debut with the Variété Lyrique of Montreal, singing the leading tenor part in "Mignon" seven times in 11 days. He was engaged for the American premiere of Berlioz's "Te Deum" and under Emile Cooper, maestro, sang 14 times in "Martha" with the Central City, Colorado, Opera Company. Sir Thomas Beechman engaged him for a Montreal production of Mozart's "Abduction from the Seraglio".

Five years ago, in the studio of his Montreal singing-teacher, Simoneau met the beautiful coloratura, Pierrette Alarie, who made her debut at the Metropolitan in 1945. After a long courtship — working, singing, and acting together — they were married in Montreal in 1946. When Efram Kurtz and Wilfred Pelletier shared the podium at alternate concerts at the Concerts Symphoniques de Montréal, the guest soloists were Leopold Simoneau and his charming wife, Pierrette Alarie.

Together Simoneau and Alarie have appeared in opera, in concert and in recital. Like Ferruccio Tagliavini and Pia Tassinari, they have become a famous husband-and-wife team. During a tour of France in 1948, Simoneau made his Paris debut with the Opera Comique singing the role of Wilhelm Meister in "Mignon". Alarie also made her Paris debut the same season. So successful were their initial appearances in the French capital that the Paris Opera engaged them both for leading roles throughout the following season. On their return trip to Canada from Paris their plane was unexpectedly delayed for a day in London. A friend persuaded them to sing for the manager of the Covent Garden. So impressed was the famous London manager with their singing and their acting that he presented them that afternoon on the stage of Covent Garden before a delighted audience. He offered them a contract and urged them to stay, but they were already pledged to the Paris Opera and their plane was leaving in a few hours.

This season Simoneau and Alarie have filled their engagement in Paris, starring together in such operas as "Lakme", "The Barber of Seville", "The Magic Flute" and "The Pearl Fishers". Simoneau has also been singing the leading tenor roles in "Mignon", "La Traviata" and "Don Giovanni". But because they like singing for American and Canadian audiences, Simoneau insisted that their contract with the Paris Opera permit them to return to this side of the Atlantic for a two-month concert tour before completing the last six months of their year-long contract.

Game Law Violations

IN PINNING the major blame for fish and game depletion upon the native "sports" rather than on tourist visitors, Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, is but asserting a fact which is apparent to conservationists outside the cities — those with an ear to the ground and an eye to the surrounding scene. There are many instances which should be brought from the obsurity of local knowledge out into the open, and Mr. Dolan's remarks may have some effect in stricter enforcement of the game laws in spots where it is needed.

Mr. Dolan said in an address at Kenora last week: "There are some very sincere people in this province who seem to think those of us who are promoting the tourist industry are in some way in league with hunters and anglers concerned only with the destruction of our fish and game. . With that view I take exception. I know of no tourist official or tourist operator who is not genuinely concerned with the conservation of our wildlife. To have any other policy would be to enagage in a form of economic idiocy."

Canadian anglers and hunters are responsible, more than anyone else for the despoilation of Canadian wildlife, Mr. Dolan went on. "It is not the tourist angler or hunter who is depleting our forests of game and our rivers of fish", he declared. The indictment is one that must be placed upon our own people, and the figures of our game departments will prove the truth of that assertion."

The federal tourist director then gave figures is support of his claim, citing the most recent available annual statistics from the game departments of the provincial governments.

In British Columbia in 1948 there were 51,374 angling licenses issued to residents and 13,793 to non-residents. To resident big game hunters in B.C., there had been issued 66,564 licenses and to non-residents only 3,600 licenses.

"But let me tell you the rest of this story, and it makes rather sordid reading", said Mr. Dolan. "In British Columbia in 1948 there were 1,114 prosecutions of residents for violation of the game act there, and only three non-residents convicted". . . "These figures give the lie to those who say, and say so often, that the visiting sportsman is the one who is slaughtering our game and violating the regulations. Does anyone honestly believe that 3,600 visiting sportsmen will kill more game in any one season than 66,000 Canadians?"

The same story runs through all the provinces, including Quebec, said Mr. Dolan. (Resident fishing licenses in this province in 1948 totalled 71,752 and non-resident licenses 20,329. Hunting licenses sold to residents totalled 94,979 and to non-residents 2,219.) The final tally of fish and game act violations across Canada in the year 1948 (including Ontario, for which Mr. Dolan had no figures available at the time) — shows 3,397 violations by resident sportsmen, and only 470 by non-residents.

THERE is a danger of following precedent too closely. Many of our cities are snarled in traffic jams today because we are following crooked paths made by cows centuries ago.

SO EGGS are down in price. That makes it look bad for the politicians in the next election. If the trend continues, the hen fruit may be economical enough to throw at unpopular candidates — observes the Corner Brook (Nfld.) Western Star.

Moving into Middle-Age

RECENTLY the question was asked of an American writer whose daily newspaper column is widely syndicated in the United States, what life holds for a man after retirement from active business.

The writer turned to a paper issued recently by the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene for his answer, and the suggestions contained in the paper are well worth the consideration of all persons who have moved into what is generally known as "middle age".

The seven points made in the paper are:

1. Physical health and fitness are of primary importance. But exercise and effort must be tempered by good judgment. Don't undertake hard work that would have put a strain on you even 20 years ago. Talk with your doctor.

2. Appearances are important. Elder agers sometimes become careless and untidy. Women sometimes begin to dress the way Queen Victoria did. Keep neat and keep cheerful even if it's hard work.

3. Keep active, too.

4. Don't let your intellect rust away. Reading, music, attending public lectures and meetings, taking part in new community projects, learning about new points of view, are all "good medicine". Maybe you have never before had time to participate in the work of your neighborhood Improvement Association. Begin now.

5. Constantly seek new companions. Don't depend entirely on those who have also retired. Try to get the point of view of younger people, too.

6. Keep your independence, as far as is humanly possible. Don't surrender it for "security".

7. Religion, a philosophy of life, a faith to live by, play an increasingly important part in life as men and women grow older. If you are not satisfied in this respect, begin to explore the world around you.

Muffling the Neighbors

TWO OUT of every three families who live in flats in Britain are disturbed by noise made by their neighbors, according to the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, which has now issued suggestions for abating this nuisance. One of the most important of these is that the flats of the future should incorporate a "floating floor", made with about two inches of concrete over a layer of glass wool which rests on a concrete sub-floor. It is cheaper than close carpeting and will reduce most irritating noises such as the radio and the crying of babies to bearable limits.

IT IS gratifying to note that there has been no great rush on the part of farmers to sacrifice either their hogs or their poultry (following price drops). This is commendable, as the dumping of either one on the market would only create a more serious situation.

Speaks on "Qualities Of A Business Man"

Among the acquired qualities, as contrasted with the inherent, were certain phases of physique, depending much on early upbringing and survival of hazards. Many handicaps of physique, however, can be overcome by will and perseverance. . . There were also the social factors, acquired through family and school environment, friends, pursuits and interests.

Business may be regarded, not as a profession or vocation, but rather as a social function, infinitely varied — from the production of goods, as in our industries, to exchange of commodities, currency, etc., and the prduction of services — all of which give scope to the same application of desirable qualities.

There has always been an impression among a certain type, that one could enter the business world with the minimum of personal requirements. Conceptions have changed, however, and one has come to realize that business today imposes a certain intellectual discipline, exemplified in the close study of methods, markets, merchandising, and the quality of one's product.

The successful man today is he who explores new possibilities, he who exploits a new idea.

Health is the biggest asset of the businessman, in respect to his physical qualities; yet, paradoxically, too often he is subject to digression from the regular routine, deprived of the opportunity to relax, with so many intrusions upon his leisure time. . . It appears that most businessman disregard their physical needs. Rest, exercise and medical regime are essential to man's well-being, and must not be lightly overlooked. . . Other physical assets are poise, mannerliness, deportment and correct speech.

On the intellectual side, the prime requisite of a successful businessman is a practical mind — the ability to discern facts of importance and those of less consequence. Business is not dealing in abstractions, it is a very real and concrete process.

Second in importance among a man's intellectual qualities is the ambition to succeed; and ambition should be measured not in terms of acquiring wealth but, rather, of attaining an ideal — in which process, wealth becomes only an instrument in rendering greater service, achieving greater things.

Thirdly, the sense of observation, a key to the improvement of defects and the fulfilment of needs — and fourthly, imagination, providing the solution to man's problems, creating the ideas which open avenues of high accomplishment.

Next in order of essential qualities, is an eye to detail — in economics and incidentals of service which count in larger terms in the business enterprise, thus contributing to success.

Finally, judgment, which may be rated as the keynote of progress and is accordingly of great value in the businessman's make-up. If it is an inherent virtue, still it may be fostered by observation, developed by experience — enabling a comparison of merits, a decision on procedure, such as competition so frequently demands in every business throughout the day's routine.

There are other qualities no less important, such as honesty — the practice of the Golden Rule; faith in oneself, optimism and confidence in one's policies and actions; and the ability to "get along", tactfully but convincingly directing the human element of a business aggregation.

Good humor — which the speaker mentioned as an afterthought — is another eminently useful quality, smoothing the rough spots and winning friendship in many otherwise difficult experiences.

"The businessman can no longer be satisfied with his own abilities, however", the speaker added. "He must be fully conscious of his economic obligations. — That, today, is the doctrine of social responsibility in business. . . Your community is a major enterprise in which you are all shareholders; you are called upon to further the progress of that enterprise, according to your talents, your experience and your means. The businessman can no longer content himself with profit-motives, he must 'humanize' his business and give full consideration to its human and personal elements. . . In so doing, he will climb the peak of social living; knowing that he is contributing to the joy and welfare of his fellowmen, he will share immeasurably of that happiness."

Boy Scouts The World Over

HONOR MEMORY OF "B.-P."

The memory of the founder of the Boy Scout and Girl Guide Movements, Lord Baden-Powell of Gilwell, will be honored in Canada on February 19th, when Scout-Guide Sunday will be observed. Baden-Powell, famous as the Hero of Mafeking in the Boer War, organized the Boy Scout Movement in England in 1907. Today Scouting has a world membership of five million in more than 40 countries.

MOOSE LODGE PROVIDES SCOUT BOOKS

Moose Lodge members in Brockville, Ont., have, for the second year, voted $50 to the local Boy Scouts Association. This year the money was used to provide a set of Scout textbooks for the Brockville Public Library.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY, SAYS PREMIER

Declaring that "There has been a sad breaking down of home life which has been robbing millions of children of guidance to which they are entitled", Premier Manning of Alberta told a recent provincial conference of Boy Scout leaders that they have a greater opportunity than ever before in their work with the boys of Canada.

ONE EVEN SMALLER!

A claim that Canada's smallest Scout Troop — three boys and a Scoutmaster, is located at Buffalo Creek, B.C. — has brought out the fact that at Tuktoyaktuk, N.W.T. is Canada's smallest and most northerly Troop.

Located about 90 miles northeast of Aklavik and 200 miles north of the Arctic Circle, the Tuktoyoktuk troop consists of Noah Neyaviak (13) and William Nasogalvak (13) and their Scoutmaster is Miss Dorothy Robinson, a teacher at the Mission School there.

(Our District Correspondent)

Morin Heights — Ed W. Kneeland was installed as president of the Morin Heights Branch of the Canadian Legion, at ceremonies in the Bellevue Hotel recently. He succeeds Albert Basler, who was presented with the past-president's badge after 2½ years in office.

Other officers installed were — Jack E. Watchorn and Kenny Binns, vice-presidents; F. Colin Cameron, treasurer; Fred Muncy, secretary; G. W. Seale, sergeant-at-arms; A. Basler, E. H. Holgate, C. Baumel and E. Green, executive committee.

World-Famous Course May Stay in Lachute

Last Monday evening, visitors enjoyed seeing an introductory session of the course which has produced such books as "How to Win Friends and Influence People" and "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living" — all a product of Dale Carnegie.

Those who attended this session of the Dale Carnegie Course were enthusiastic about it. They made it clear that they want the entire course to be continued on Monday in Lachute. It would be easier for Mr. Metzler, the sponsor of the Dale Carnegie Course, to use Mondays for the presentation of the course in a city in Ontario, where people have already seen changes in character of local men and women who have taken the course. All the other days of the week are taken up with Dale Carnegie Courses in Ottawa, Hull and Montreal.

Lachute and Brownsburg people at the meeting said that they believed there had not been enough time for most local folks to arrange to attend on a Monday evening. They stressed that the course was new to most people. Over half of those present enrolled in the course (provided it is continued here) and urged Mr. Metzler to present one more session, on Monday, February 13, so that all those interested in helping their home town could arrange to come and visit this last open meeting.

It is hoped that the citizens of Hawkesbury, St. Jerome, Brownsburg, and other places near Lachute will turn out Monday night in large numbers to visit a session of this remarkable course.

The instructors are all trained by Dale Carnegie in New York City after taking the course and later being voted as directors of a class. These instructors come chiefly from Montreal, New York, Boston, Baltimore and Washington. Visitors are under no obligation whatever, although they usually prefer to join in the dinner ($1.25) which is served as the session progresses. It may be noted, some may find it difficult to be there as early as 6 p.m., when the session starts, but they should plan to attend, whatever time they arrive. They can be sure of a friendly atmosphere of welcome, and an unusually entertaining evening.

Grenville Consolidated School News

A successful dance was held at the school last Friday, February 3. Everyone attending reports that it was a very enjoyable affair. On behalf of the teachers and pupils, your reporter would like to thank all those who attended and helped to make the event a success.

The boys have played two hockey games with Kilmar. The honors were divided, the teams from each school winning a game. By the time this column goes to press, a game with Lachute High junior team will have been played. It is expected there will be a home-and-home game played. The boys expect to be hosts to L.H.S. next week. They are also hoping that games can be played with the Brownsburg School junior team.

Bishop's Recent Visit to Grace Church, Arundel

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — The Lord Bishop of Montreal was here to administer the sacrament of Confirmation in Grace Church on January 29. The visit of the Bishop was a departure from precedent, as no one recollected an Episcopal visitation during any previous winter; normally this takes place in summer.

In his address, the Bishop stressed the aspect of continuity in the Church's life. In Confirmation, the especial feature of such continuity is, of course, the Apostolic Succession; the Bishop, in his person and in his heritage, is the means of granting those same gifts which had been granted in the primitive Church even of the New Testament, by the same means.

Not the least impressive feature of this service was its traditional simplicity. It served to underline the necessity of the rite.

The congregation was glad to have the opportunity of welcoming its Bishop, and to welcome those who had become full members of the church.

Milk Production, Prices

to have his cows freshen during the winter months, preferably in the early part of the winter.

The amount of milk one produces during the winter, when production is lowest, forms the basis for the amount one can supply the fluid market during the summer months. Producing on these quotas, one must send any surplus production into other channels of the milk trade.

Due to lack of sunshine, confinement to buildings, quality of feeds, etc., many losses can occur in the producing herd during the winter months; and if there is any loss in the milking herd, in order to keep up one's quota of milk, the producer must buy in cows to maintain his regular supply of milk, or else lose his market, or take a lower quota.

Milk for cheese, butter, etc., is mostly produced during the late spring, summer and fall. . . Cows are fed a maintenance ration, during their dry period in the winter, which is less costly than for cows milking during that time. . . . They do not consume as much feed, and not the same care is necessary while indoors. . Less help is needed, and qualifications to produce milk for this market are not so rigid. Also it is produced during the time when less care of the cows is needed due to being on pasture and outdoors. There is less amount of loss due to disease, etc.

Mastitis, one of the worst diseases which attacks the udder of the cow, is less noticeable during this period and is more easily controlled than in winter; this could also be said of other diseases that may attack the milking cow.

The difference in price of milk for these different markets is less than for fluid milk to the extent of about $1.60 per cwt.

I trust I have in some measure made my arguments clear, so that the consumer will understand the reason why he pays more for fluid milk as he gets it in a bottle at his door each morning.

To the producer I would point out that, if the price of milk for cheese, butter, etc., decreases, the price of whole milk for the fluid market will be affected too. Therefore it is essential to the whole milk producers to support any plan that may help these other producers to keep their price at the present level.

Finances Under Review

since 1948, was redrafted, and proposed by Councillor Somers and seconded by Councillor Wilson. Councillor Somers observed that the council was only asking that the liquor laws be enforced particularly as regards night closing, and that Sunday regulations be as defined in the act, which was pretty good and just to all concerned.

A legal opinion from Legault & Legault cited numerous cases of jurisprudence to support the opinion that the council was responsible for the damage done to Mr. Malacket's window by a passing car. Councillor Ouellette moved that the bill be paid, $104.60, with legal fees of $20. The Mayor remarked that he had had the old window removed and crated, and would realize a considerable sum for it when sold.

THE MOST RELIABLE SOURCE FOR AN ANSWER TO LIFE'S PROBLEMS

"And all thy children shall be taught of Jehovah; and great shall be the peace of thy children." — Isaiah 54:13.

The Bible clearly teaches

THAT JEHOVAH is the only true God, from everlasting to everlasting, and is the Maker of heaven and earth and Giver of life to his creatures; that the Word or Logos was the beginning of his creation and his active agent in creating all other things; and that the creature Lucifer rebelled against Jehovah and raised the issue of His universal sovereignty;

THAT GOD created the earth for man, made perfect man for the earth and placed him upon it; that man yielded to unfaithful Lucifer, or Satan, and willfully disobeyed God's law and was sentenced to death; that by reason of Adam's wrong act all men are born sinners and without the right of life;

THAT THE LOGOS was made human as the man Jesus and suffered death in order to produce the ransom or redemptive price for obedient men; that God raised up Christ Jesus divine and exalted him to heaven above every other creature and clothed him with all power and authority as head of God's new capital organization;

THAT GOD'S CAPITAL ORGANIZATION is a Theocracy called Zion, and that Christ Jesus is the Chief Officer thereof and is the rightful King of the new world; that the faithful anointed followers of Christ Jesus are Zion's children, members of Jehovah's organization, and are His witnesses whose duty and privilege it is to testify to Jehovah's supremacy and declare his purposes toward mankind as expressed in the Bible;

THAT THE OLD WORLD, or Satan's uninterrupted rule, ended A.D. 1914, and Christ Jesus has been placed by Jehovah upon the throne, has ousted Satan from heaven, and now proceeds to vindicate His name and establish the "new earth"; (Rev. 12:12)

THAT THE RELIF and blessings of the people can come only by Jehovah's kingdom under Christ, which has begun; that His next great act is to destroy Satan's organization and establish righteousness completely in the earth; and that under the Kingdom the people of good-will surviving Armageddon will carry out the divine mandate to "fill the earth" with righteous offspring, and that the human dead in the graves will be raised to opportunities of life on earth.

OBITUARY

Lady Resident Is Mourned, Well and Favorably Known

Many Attend Funeral of the Late Mrs. Leonard Bedard

Genuine regret among Lachute townsfolk was occasioned by the death last Friday of Mrs. Bedard, wife of Leonard Bedard, a well known Main Street citizen. A loyal partner with her husband in his store business, and an active participant in parish and town enterprises, she was loved both for her charm and her friendliness. Hers was a personality which had impressed itself upon the public and her numerous friends and acquaintances. . . Eight years ago she was reprieved by surgery from the threat of a fatal illness, and had enjoyed comparatively good health since that time. She suffered a recurrence of her ailment, however, and passed away at her home, where she had been confined for the past few weeks. She was 43 years of age.

The late Mrs. Bedard, formerly Rachel Legault, was born at Montpellier, Papineau County. She was married 21 years ago, and is survived by her husband and two daughters, Helene and Francoise, who have been attending college at Rigaud and St. Jerome; also three sisters, Mrs. J. Desjardins, of Ste. Rose, Mrs. Herve Dumouchel, of Montpellier, Mrs. Edouard Robert, of Montreal, and one brother, Louis, of Montpellier.

Enthusiastic in women's work in her parish, she was a member of the Ladies of St. Ann Society; she had also been an active member of the ladies' auxiliary of the local hospital (Les Dames Patronesses de l'Hôpital de la Providence), also of the Lachute Curling Club and Lachute Golf Club.

The large gathering at her funeral, held Monday morning from Ste. Anastasie Church, also the spiritual offerings and the profusion of flowers, bore testimony to her standing in the affections of the community. There were many relatives and friends from a distance. Clergy officiating at the funeral mass were the Revs. L. J. Rodrigue, A. Campeau and R. Lacroix, former colleagues of Mr. Bedard's student days, and the honorary pall-bearers were the late Mrs. Bedard's fellow members of the Ladies of St. Ann Society. Interment took place at Lachute Catholic Cemetery.

THE OPEN DOOR

Burnaby, B.C. (CP) — Prison officials are wondering just how effective prisons are. Eighteen prisoners escaped in 1949 from Oakalla prison, which is surrounded by a high barbed-wire fence, while only 12 youths took leave from New Haven Borstal Home, where there is no fence and the door is always open.

Mr. MacHardy, who was one of 12 children, was born on the original MacHardy homestead, where he now resides with his sister. It was here that he spent his early years. Later he moved to Delburne, Alta., where he lived until he returned east 10 years ago. Welden, assisted his great-uncle at blowing out the candles. A singsong, ably assisted by Mr. MacHardy himself, was much enjoyed. The serving of refreshments brought to a close an enjoyable evening. Mr. MacHardy expressed his deep appreciation to all who had helped to make the party a success.

Better Batter Puddings

Winter appetites demand desserts that are hot and substantial. Now is the time for the homemaker to bring from her special book the best recipes for baked and steamed puddings that "mother used to make" and serve them to an appreciative family. She should also try a few that are new and different.

The solid and often too heavy boiled, suet pudding has been superseded by lighter, fluffier types that are just as satisfying.

From the files of the Consumer Section at Ottawa, several recipes are offered for delicious batter puddings to serve with winter meals.

Almond Sponge

½ Teaspoon salt, 4 egg whites, ¼ cup sugar, 4 egg yolks, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, 1 cup sifted pastry flour (or 1 cup less 2 tablespoons sifted all-purpose flour), ½ teaspoon baking powder.

Add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff but not dry. Gradually beat in ¼ cup sugar. Beat egg yolks and gradually beat in the remaining ¼ cup sugar and flavorings. Fold half the stiffly beaten yolks, then add the flour which has been mixed and sifted with the baking powder, stirring lightly. Fold in the remaining egg whites. Turn into a lightly greased 8 x 8 inch cake pan. Set in a pan of hot water and oven-poach in a moderate oven, 350°F., for 40 minutes. Serve with the following sauce. Yield: six to eight servings.

Fruit Sauce

1 Tablespoon cornstarch, 2 cups juice from canned fruit, dash of salt, 1 teaspoon almond extract.

Mix the cornstarch with a little of the cold juice and blend until smooth. Heat remaining juice and gradually add the cornstarch mixture and the salt. Cook about 5 minutes, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add flavoring. Yield: six servings.

Brownie Pudding

1 Cup sifted all-purpose flour (or 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted pastry flour), 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons cocoa, ½ cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons shortening, melted, ½ cup chopped walnuts (optional), ¾ cup brown sugar, ¼ cup cocoa, 1¾ cups hot water.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and cocoa. Add milk, vanilla, and melted shortening; mix until smooth. Add nuts. Pour into greased 8 x 8 inch cake pan. Mix brown sugar and cocoa; sprinkle over batter. Pour hot water over entire batter. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°F., 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot. Yield: eight servings.

Steamed Fruit Pudding

2 Cups canned fruit with juice, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour (or 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted pastry flour), 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons shortening, ½ cup milk.

Cut fruit in small pieces, pour fruit and juice into the greased top of a double boiler. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt, cut in shortening and add milk. Spread over fruit. Set over boiling water, cover closely and steam 35 minutes. Turn out to serve. Yield: six servings.

Barrister's Wig Covers Tresses

London (CP) — How to get hip-length hair under a barrister's wig was a problem of Lady Davson, recently called to the bar.

She solved it by braiding her hair in two coils at the back of her head.

Lady Davson, like her mother, refuses to cut her hair — even for a barrister's wig. Her hairdressing experiments were made with the help of her father's wig.

Daughter of Sir Rhys-Williams, Lady Davson followed her father's profession and was successful in the Hilary Term Bar examinations.

She is 26, mother of a two-year-old daughter, and will soon be reunited with her husband who has been away for a year on the family sugar estates in British Guiana.

Lady Davson will go on the Welsh circuit and between cases she will paint pictures.

"The Way of the Spirit"

Little gatherings like the one pictured here take place every week at the CBC studios in Montreal. Seated with hands crossed is producer Rupert Caplan; gathered around him are six Montreal actors who frequently take roles in the regular Sunday program, "The Way of the Spirit", heard at 1.30 p.m. The purpose of the discussions is to achieve a unity of understanding in the cast before it goes on the air with another of the dramatic scripts on Biblical themes, prepared in Toronto by Earle Grey and Canon J. E. Ward. Around the table (left to right) are: Eileen Clifford, Gerald Rowan, Tim Whelan, Mr. Caplan, Alfred Gallagher, John Calicos and Eleanor Stuart.

U.K. Road Campaign For Child Safety

London (Reuters) — The Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents has launched its Britain-wide children's safety campaign for 1950 with the slogan "On Guard - Children".

The society's 17 accident prevention federations, to which are linked thousands of road safety committees, have all pledged support in reducing the heavy toll of children killed and injured on the roads.

The ministry of transport has arranged a national children's safety week during March with the co-operation of the ministry of education.

Teachers and police will support the 12-month campaign. The society has prepared a wide range of new material for use by local authorities, including posters which feature Walt Disney's Donald Duck and Muffin the Mule of BBC television.

Though the 1949 figures are not yet complete, it was announced that at the end of nine months child deaths were 42 less than in the corresponding period in 1948, but child injuries were higher. Three-quarters of all child pedestrians killed were under seven years of age and most of these deaths resulted from collisions with heavy vehicles, trucks and buses.

"The modern slaughter on the roads has one thing in common with Herod's massacre. It is the very young who suffer most", observed Richard Llewellin, president of the society.

Child's Book Tells Forest-Saving Tale

Victoria, B.C. (CP) — The B.C. forest service has just published another story book designed to impress on children the value of forests to British Columbia and the dangers of fire in the woods.

The book, entitled "How the Fir Forest Was Saved", is by Victoria author Hugh Weatherby. It is a seuel to "The Adventures of the Forest Folds" published by the service in 1940.

The 55-page book is illustrated with sketches by the author. Forty thousand copies have been printed for distribution, mainly to the schools.

"How the Fir Forest Was Saved" has been written in simple words suitable for children up to 12 years of age.

Its locale is apparently a coastal forest. The central character is a forest ranger who has made friends with the animals of the forest.

The story deals with a fire which breaks out as a result of carelessness by campers. The fire-fighting technique of the crew is described. After the fire has been extinguished those responsible for the outbreak are brought before a magistrate. Those responsible for extinguishing the blaze and saving the fir forest are rewarded.

Fr.-Speaking Canadians Add Sparkle to Dale Carnegie Course

One of the most delightful features of the Dale Carnegie Course presented in Canada is the naturally eloquent expressiveness of the French-speaking Canadian — especially those who speak only a little English.

American instructors find a charm in their colorful accent which is really an asset, and which usually wins for them the majority of prizes which are presented almost weekly throughout the course.

The tendency of the original Canadians to philosophize, is another contribution which enriches the course. Although there are a tremendous number of other educational features, the sponsor, Mr. Metzler of Boston, feels that through these classes, he is learning a new appreciation of Canadian philosophic thought and expression.

There are sometimes people in the class who speak a little English, but who do not read English easily. Mr. Metzler is arranging to provide them with French editions of the main textbooks used in the course.

Semi-finals in the Stackhouse Trophy games will be played on February 10 — W. K. McArthur vs. R. Todd. and G. Calder vs. J. Blais.

Several teams have been playing in the Lachine Bonspiel, with favorable results. These included — D. Hay. H. Scott, R. Fraser, D. MacTavish (skip); K. McGibbon, Rev. C. Maclean, L. Cruise, A. Ogilvie (skip). Both teams were matched against Montreal West, the first scoring a tie and the second a 6-plus. On Saturday J. McOuat, S. Drew, H. Morrison and G. Calder (skip) had a 2-plus score against Beauharnois at Lachine.

Wednesday saw the opening of the Mackie Cup contest, which is a "sudden death" decision — skips and thirds comprising the seniors, with firsts and seconds as juniors.

The Saturday mixed bonspiel was well attended. This week visitors are expected and there will be special music for the evenings enjoyment. Refreshments will be served at 10 o'clock. Games will start at 2 and 7 p.m.

School Hockey Saturday to Declare Division Leaders

Brownsburg Consolidated and Hudson High Schools meet in Hudson on Saturday next to decide division leadership in school hockey.

After Hudson's unexpected 2-0 defeat in Brownsburg on Saturday last, interest has reached fever pitch. Both schools will be there in force, and if last Saturday's game is any indication of the brand of hockey to be expected, the supporters are assured of fast, clean, hard-fought hockey.

Hudson has promised Brownsburg a barn dance after the game — win, lose or draw.

Espionage, Airways and Relaxing of Import Controls, in News Forefront

By George Forster

Ottawa, Feb. 1 (CP) — Canada's external affairs minister, L. B. Pearson, came back from the Orient last week and told reporters there is a real danger that the entire Far East may fall under Soviet imperialism.

Mr. Pearson, on his round-the-world trip, attended the Commonwealth conference in Colombo, Ceylon, and visited other countries in the Orient.

The conference, he said, showed that the world's centre of gravity is shifting from Europe to the Far East. It concentrated on problems in Asia and found a feeling that while Russia was being held in Europe, Communism was making great progress in Asia.

China has a Communist government. There are Communist-led disturbances in Korea, Communist rebellions in Burma and Communist bandits in Malaya. In Indo-China there are two rival governments, one of them Communist.

Mr. Pearson said he will discuss the question of recognition of the Chinese Communists with the cabinet. But there was no doubt the Chinese Red leaders were Moscow-trained Communists who wanted to tie China to Moscow as close as the European satellites were tied.

Whether that could be done was another matter.

Espionage Hangover

The arrest of Klaus Fuchs, a 38-year-old British scientist, on charges of atomic spying for Russia, reverberated through the capital last week.

The Canadian Press learned that Fuchs had been interned in Canada as an enemy alien early in the Second World War. He had fled to Britain from Germany as a refugee, was sent to Canada for internment but was later released to take part in the allied effort that produced the first atomic bombs.

But more important was the realization that the Fuchs incident might make even more difficult the realization of Canada's hopes for wider exchange of atomic information with Britain and the United States.

Canada's atomic research has been directed towards peace. But the disclosure that a top-flight member of Britain's research teams — who had extensive knowledge of U.S. research installations — had given secrets to Russia, made informed Canadian sources believe that the U.S. would impose even tighter security regulations.

The case also indicated that Canada has speeded up her counter-intelligence work since the spy probe of 1946. Now, the R.C.M.P. are believed to be working in close co-operation with the F.B.I. and Scotland Yard.

Informed sources believe that the spy probe didn't stop Communist spying in Canada. The report of the Royal Commission said several Russian rings were operating, but the prosecutions dealt with only one.

Airlines Dispute Ends

The long dispute over the Canadian-U.S. air agreement ended when Colonial Airlines of New York called off its fight against the agreement.

Colonial challenged the agreement in the U.S. courts because it gave Canada the right to name an airline — Trans-Canada Air Lines — to compete with Colonial on the Montreal-New York route.

In return Canada's Air Transport Board suggested that Colonial might lose its license to fly the route. Top-level talks between Canada and the United States followed. Then Colonial suddenly withdrew from the case and said it would put in a bid for the New York-Toronto route.

Canadian officials said all provisions of the agreement would be implemented within a month and T.C.A. would be able to fly from Montreal to New York — after a delay of eight months.

Controls Go

With Canada's reserves of gold and dollars reaching a post-war peak, the government last week lifted many of the import controls that were imposed in November, 1947, in a drastic dollar-saving move.

It appeared that the move would result in lower retail prices for many manufactured goods. Trade experts said stiffer competition would knock the prices down. The controls, while admittedly conserving dollars, also protected Canadian industry. This runs counter to the government's policy of free, multilateral trade.

Still on the prohibited list are pork, cut flowers, soft plastic sheeting, electric-lighting fixtures and appliances, coin-operated machines, and comic and pulp magazines. Imports of many other items from the U.S. can be moved only on a quota basis.

Finance Minister Abbott said the changes removed most of the outright prohibitions on imports.

Appointment to School Commission

At a session of the Lachute Protestant School Commission on Tuesday evening, with Chairman Jas. W. McGibbon presiding, the resignation of one of the members, Geo. F. Calder, was duly accepted. Mr. Calder's resignation had been tendered since last meeting of the board.

By unanimous vote the commissioners elected Edmund W. Smith, of Vide Sac, to fill the vacancy — the secretary being instructed to submit these proceedings to the Director of Protestant Education, for confirmation. . . Mr. E. W. Smith is ex-mayor of the Parish of St. Jerusalem.

Two Blazes at Oka Institute Laid to Firebug

Montreal — A self-admitted pyromaniac who told police that twice within 16 days he set fire to the agricultural college at Oka, Que., causing damage estimated at more than $12,000, is due for arraignment at St. Jerome today (Thursday).

Det.-Lieut. Leopold Trottier, of the provincial police, identified the alleged firebug as Olibert Senecal, a 40-year-old former Montrealer, who for several months had been employed as a floorwasher and handyman at the Oka agricultural school, which is operated by the Trappist Order.

According to police, the first fire occurred January 26. Starting in a series of lockers in the basement, flames quickly spread throughout the four-storey brick structure and caused $10,000 damage before the Trappists, who have their own fire-fighting equipment, could bring the fire under control.

The school officials did not suspect arson. Last Saturday night, however, a second fire broke out in the basement.

With the help of students, the priests put out the flames before they spread to the second floor. Damage this time stood at $2,000 and school officials began to suspect the fires were the work of an arsonist.

Throughout the week-end, Lieut. Trottier questioned more than 10 employees of the agricultural school. Senecal was taken to provincial police headquarters in Montreal Sunday night and subjected to further interrogation.

"Finally Senecal gave us a sworn statement in which he confessed starting the fires", the police record went on. "He said he was simply crazy about the sight of flames. He was one of the first at the scene of both fires, and even gave the priests a helping hand."

L. St. Jacques Named Justice of the Peace

Lucien St. Jacques, former alderman for west ward, who retired from office in January 1949, has received notification of his appointment as a Justice of the Peace for the judicial district of Terrebonne. The appointment, on authority of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, became effective February 1, and Mr. St. Jacques takes the oath of office this week before the clerk of the court at St. Jerome.

CLEAN SLATE FOR YOUTH

30 Sleigh-Loads of Happy Kiddies in "Les Loisirs" Annual Sleigh Drive

A spectacle rare in this age of mechanical transport, was seen on the streets here last Sunday afternoon — when a procession of 30 teams and big sleighs, with capacity loads totalling more than 1,000 children, toured Lachute and Lachute Mills on the annual kiddies' sleigh-ride arranged by "Les Loisirs" of Ste. Anastasie Parish.

Perfect weather favored the occasion, and the keen enjoyment of the youngsters was evident in their enthusiastic spirit and their radiant faces.

On conclusion of the ride, refreshments in the form of hot chocolate, milk and cakes were served to the young guests in the basement of the church. Here the owners and drivers of the respective teams — some of whom had driven a long distance into town, to contribute their part in this big outing — were loudly acclaimed as they were presented before the crowd.

The event was under personal direction of Gaetan Cousineau, president of "Les Loisirs", who drove along with the parade in a jeep kindly furnished by Fairway Sales & Service. Lucien Savard was in charge of the loudspeakers which led the singsong en route. Romeo Roussel and an aggregation of over 100 helpers, looked after the general organization; while Dr. Jules Lafleur, Thos. Ayers and Jacques Bedard made a photographic film of the big event, which will be screened on a later occasion.

The committee of "Les Loisirs" expresses, through this report, hearty appreciation on behalf of this town and district to all who assisted. It exemplified real citizenship on the part of those who offered their teams, and the drivers who gave their time and effort to afford such an outing for these children, long to be remembered. From the kiddies, and from the organizing committee, this expression of thanks includes—

E. K. Wilson (driver N. Lepage); Geo. McGibbon (driver A. Labonté); Lowe Bros. and Mr. Hadley (drivers A. Desjardins, H. Coderre); S. Lefort; L. Lamarche (driver R. Lamarche); J. Charlebois.

Ménard & Charlebois (driver Z. Chevrier); D. Guay (driver R. Guay); E. Lacasse; A. Laurin (driver R. Laurin); P. Guay (driver G. Guay); Ben Hammond (driver Ed Hammond); R. Lemay; F. Lemay.

R. Campeau (driver F. Campeau); J. Laurin; C. Laurin; O. Brunet; R. St. Jacques; R. Beaulne (driver R. Seguin); A. Coderre (driver M. Seguin); Cres Hadley (driver R. Coderre).

L. Lemay (driver G. Lemay); N. Lemay; L. Ouellette; L. Morrin; C. Lauson; J. P. Simard; R. Matte; E. Laurin.

(If any have been inadvertently omitted from this list, their help is nevertheless appreciated). In addition to the above, the local police, with cars furnished by Germain Lacoste and Gaetan Lamarche; the traffic police represented by Albt. Legault, officer on duty; and Gaetan Laforest, taximan, who provided the car with loudspeakers — these also contributed notably to the successful event.

B'burg Council Changes Election Date January to May, More Favorable Season

(By Our District Correspondent)

The Boy Scout campaign for funds is progressing favorably in Brownsburg municipality. At the last session of the council an appeal from G. H. Quinn was held over to another meeting, as the council's budget had not yet been passed and no appropriation to cover contributions had yet been made.

The cost of heating the municipal garage and fire station has been before the council on a number of occasions, and members consider it rather high. Mr. Stan Harris suggested at last meeting that this cost could be considerably reduced with alterations to the equipment and oil-burners, and offered to do the work and show results for the sum of $32. Councillor Somers was in favor of giving the job to Mr. Harris, as he thought the reasoning behind the recommendation was sound. This course was adopted.

The bridge at Maple Avenue South was under discussion, the subject being introduced by Councillor Denault. It was explained that the absence of a rail on the side made the structure very dangerous for pedestrians, as there was a slope towards the water, and it was a simple matter to slip into the seething waters below. Councillor Wilson said the bridge was too narrow for present-day traffic, and although he was not sure to whom the responsibility belonged, he would press for temporary repairs, with a widening of the bridge as a later demand. The secretary was instructed to write to the engineer of roads.

The Department of Municipal Affairs wrote relative to prefabricated chimneys, and gave a somewhat qualified approval; up to the present, final approval had not been received from the underwriters. Fire Chief A. Robbins expressed himself as definitely opposed to any chimney not constructed from a cement or brick base. Chimneys resting on floors were no better than those on outside brackets. They were "even more dangerous", said the chief. The council's by-law did not allow of any such chimney being erected and before it could be accepted the by-law would have to be changed. It was further explained that this so-called "mail order chimney" was no cheaper to erect than a good brick and tile chimney.

Councillor Wilson brought the matter of telephone calls before the meeting. It was decided that in future all calls be identified when presented for payment, with the vouchers.

Future civic elections will not be held in the month of January, after the poor showing of the electors at the last election. The date set was the second Wednesday in May.

Mr. Paquette submitted a written complaint regarding diversion of a creek by the council, which flooded his land. The matter was referred to the works foreman for immediate attention.

Mrs. Wm. Fletcher also wrote to say a culvert had been closed, which caused water to enter her property. The Mayor explained that Mr. Mason had filled in a hole left after the removal of a tree, and filled the culvert at the same time. It was decided to put the matter on the spring program.

The merchant supplying the Police Chief's cap, payment of which was held over from last month, offered to submit the invoice justifying the cost of $29.50. It was decided to pay the amount.

Garbage Collection and Tenders At Special Meeting

At a special meeting of the Brownsburg council held on Monday night, with a full membership in attendance, the question of garbage collection was dealt with.

There had been several tenders ranging from $2,300 to $4,800, which were opened at the last meeting, but before these were considered, Councillor Lafleur raised the point that a comparison of the costs of collection, by the council's own men or by tender, be discussed.

He was supported by Councillor Wilson, who estimated that it cost

New Type of Construction

An advanced system of non-traditional house construction has been developed by a company at Salisbury, England. This method can be used for the construction of flats, hospitals, administrative buildings, and for large-scale housing projects. Pre-cast concrete units which are made in the factory, are transported to the building site by special lorries adapted to carry them. Only 40 panels are required to build a pair of semi-detached houses, which can be erected in four days. This system results in the saving of 930 man-hours over the traditional type of house. All the building processes can be worked by unskilled labor. . . Picture shows setting of the final panel to complete the first-floor walls in a pair of houses.

Dried-Milk Order

Ottawa — An early spring gift of almost $250,000 has just been made to the dairy farmers of Canada with the purchase, by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, of about three-quarters of a million pounds of dried whole milk, mainly for distribution to the needy children of Europe and the Middle East. The milk, specially vacuum-gas packed in 30-pound tins for UNICEF use, is the regular 26% butter fat product.

Dates on the purchase, which was made through the Dairy Products Board of Canada, specify that delivery of the milk shall be made before the end of March.

Timber Wolf Shot North of Calumet

Cutting logs in the woods north of Calumet recently, Silas Hall became conscious of a wolf in the neighborhood. The animal howled around his camp, and made friends with his dogs when he went to the bush. It was early last week that he first sighted the lone wolf playing with the dogs, and it scampered off as he approached. It was about this time that two sheep were found slaughtered on the V. J. Johnston farm, which is on the Rouge River road five miles north of Calumet. Several deer carcasses had also been discovered around that area.

After his day's work last Friday Silas Hall was driving his team homeward at a spot called O'Hara's Swamp, when he saw the wolf following him in the dusk at a distance of 30 or 40 feet. Without stopping his team, he turned stealthily on the sleigh and aimed with his .303 rifle, killing the animal instantly.

The big she-wolf, weighing about 85 lbs., was a centre of interest on Main Street here next day, when Hall brought the carcass to Game Warden Leslie Bates "to see about a bounty" The heavily furred brute had a lame hind leg, indicating it had been injured or shot at some time; it was probably for this reason that it foraged alone, unable to accompany the pack.

Council Appoints Committees for Various Phases of Administration

At the regular February council meeting last week — the first assembly of the aldermanic year— Mayor Leopold Carrière assumed his customary role in the chair — the full council being present with exception of Ald. W. S. MacKimmie.

The secretary-treasurer made a formal report on the recent election, in which Omer Laurin (east ward) was voted a new councillor by acclamation; W. S. MacKimmie (east) and W. Morrissette (west) were also returned by acclamation; and D. G. MacRae (centre) was re-elected.

Ald. Stanley Holt was appointed pro-mayor for the next three months and was authorized to sign cheques in the absence of the Mayor.

Committees were formed as follows:

Roads and Streets — D. G. MacRae, W. Morrissette, E. Provost.

Waterworks — W. Morrissette, O. Laurin, D. G. MacRae.

Fire and Police — S. Holt, P. Chartrand, E. Provost.

Health and Hygiene—E. Provost, W. S. MacKimmie, D. G. MacRae.

Lights — J. Charlebois, P. Chartrand, J. Belanger.

Reception and Embellishment — J. Belanger and S. Holt.

Auditorium — O. Laurin, J. Charlebois, S. Holt.

Relief — P. Shartrand, Omer Laurin and Council.

Finance — W. S. MacKimmie and Council.

It was moved by Ald. Ernest Provost, seconded by Ald. P. Chartrand, that Mrs. E. Deslauriers' plan concerning Frances Street be approved by the council.

Ald. Provost also moved, with the support of Ald. Laurin, that a Commission be formed to prepare a Basic Code on valuation, and that the said commission (composed of Germain Filion as chairman, Linton Armstrong and Réal Urbain, with John W. Greene, of Morin Heights, as secretary) be granted remuneration of $5 a day plus expenses, and that salary for the members of this commission be 50c an hour during sittings.

Brownsb'g Legion To Start Building In Coming Spring

Brownsburg — At an enthusiastic meeting held in St. Onge's Hall on February 14, preliminary architectural plans for the Brownsburg Legion's Memorial Hall were approved. These plans were prepared by Mr. F. Sundberg and Mr. Steve Istvanffy after considerable study. The building will be approximately 70 feet by 30 feet, and the hall proper, which will be equipped with a stage, will accommodate 250 people. The basement will include a clubroom for use of members of the Legion and its Auxiliary, a fair-sized kitchen, and quarters for a steward. It is estimated that the material cost of building and equipping will range from $13,000 to $19,000, depending upon the interior finish. Members of the Legion and community supporters will provide most of the labor required in the erection of the building. The location of the Memorial Hall will be on the west side of the site for the proposed community skating rink. Mr. Gratton Thompson, architect for the new Lachute High School and the proposed extension to the Brownsburg Consolidated School, has offered to prepare the drawings, and has agreed to make a substantial contribution to the Legion fund.

For the purposes of building, the Brownsburg Legion has been organized into a close-knit working unit. The area has been divided into four districts, with district captains and group leaders to facilitate quick contact with members. The Legion's Auxiliary also is co-operating wholeheartedly with the Senior Branch, and has many plans under way to raise funds to assist with the financing of construction. They include a picture show, scheduled to take place at the Capitol Theatre on Wednesday, March 8, for which tickets are now on sale. (The feature will be "Portrait of Jenny", starring Jennifer Jones and Joseph Cotton. Home-made candy will also be sold). A supper is also scheduled to take place in the basement of the United Church, on March 23.

Hector Steele, immediate past-president of the Brownsburg Branch, was nominated unanimously as the delegate to the convention of the Quebec Provincial Command of the Legion, which will be held in the middle of April. The meeting was also informed of a generous donation of $100 towards the Memorial building fund which had been received from Emile Lacasse, of North River Motors Ltd. A donation of $10 to the current local Boy Scout campaign was approved.

A special camera, sent up 70,000 feet in a balloon cluster by University of Chicago scientists, has photographed for the first time a 20-billion-volt cosmic ray "bullet" as it shattered the core of an atom.

Lyric Tenor at Community Concert

One of French Canada's own sons was guest performer for the Lachute Community Concerts Association, at the Auditorium here on Tuesday evening. Leopold Simoneau, formerly of Montreal, who is now winning the critics' praises in the United States and Europe, was heard by over 600 patrons in the Lachute audience, as he sang a lengthy repertoire of operatic and semi-classical scores. His accompanist was Mr. Donald Comrie, of New York, who filled an excellent supporting role, and also played two solo compositions during the program.

In the first part of the concert, a seventeenth-century aria, "Jour heureux" from Dardanus, an opera by Sacchini, was sung by Simoneau. Rimsky Korsakoff's "Song of India", always a concert favorite, was also rendered by the vocalist, followed by an extremely difficult linguistic solo, "Danse Macabre", which is usually interpreted as an orchestral selection.

Several of Franz Schubert's compositions were given by Simoneau in Part II of the program — "The Trout" being the only well-known composition of the group. "Phyllis has such charming graces", by Wilson, was the first of two English songs, which were warmly applauded.

Two grand operatic arias featured in the latter part of the program. "Questa o quella" from Rigoletto, a song full of life and vitality, was splendidly interpreted by Mr. Simoneau. By contrast, Jules Massene's "Le Reve" from Manon, was a light but beautiful melody, in which the tenor used a "head-voice" in the high lyric phrases, blending gracefully with the accompanist's rhythmical tone-poem. This aria was one of the finest of the evening.

The concluding song was by the Italian composer, Rossini, and Mr. Simoneau rendered his "La Danza" with feeling and mastery. Two encores concluded the recital.

Appreciation

President Linton Armstrong and Secretary Gabriel Valois both expressed appreciation for the kind co-operation of the Knights of Columbus, who had planned their "bingo" for February 14, but due to unforeseen developments this date had to be used for the Community Concerts engagement.

Uranium is now being prospected for "from the air" in airplanes especially equipped with new detection devices that react to radioactivity.

1,760 Admissions to Big Brownsburg Bingo

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — The monster "bingo" held last Sunday at the parish hall by the Knights of Columbus was a huge success. There were 1,760 door tickets sold and receipts were $3,000. Most of the major prizes were won by local people, with a good share going to Lachute and Hawkesbury. The proceeds were handed to the church committee to assist pay for the recent renovation of the St. Louis de France Church.

The Bouchard school holds its festival on Sunday, February 19, when valuable prizes will be offered for numerous ice competitions — skating, racing, and figure skating. A hockey game will be featured between Brownsburg and a team from Montreal and exhibitions of jumping will be given by Maurice Daoust of Montreal.

Auto License Plates Available at Registrar's

Auto and truck license plates, which have been somewhat delayed in delivery at the local office, are now available for issue. Chas. Bedard, registrar for this district, would appreciate the cooperation of motorists in applying early at his office, in order to avoid the rush and congestion experienced each spring season.

Gatineau LINES

Less Than 10 Cents a Day

Gatineau Power Company serves some 60,000 domestic customers. Some customers use a lot of electricity in their homes; some use comparatively little. On the average each customer uses less than 10 cents worth of electricity each day.

That's less than the price of a couple of chocolate bars, less than the cost of a quarter of a package of cigarettes. For that amount of money, the average customer of Gatineau gets lighting whenever he wants it, and in addition electricity does a wide variety of other things for him. It may do the washing and the cooking, provide music, polish the floor, heat water, toast bread, pump water or even milk cows. It doesn't do all things for all people but it does a lot of things for a lot of people.

In view of all this, that figure of less than 10 cents a day is amazingly cheap. It is particularly cheap when we consider how much money must be spent before electric power can be produced at all. Dams must be built to control water flow. Power plants must have expensive machinery. Thousands of poles, millions of insulators, hundreds of miles of wire — all are needed to bring the power from far-away generators into the home, the store or the factory.

When you consider the large investment required to generate and distribute electricity, the figure of less than 10 cents a day paid by the customer is small indeed.

From either viewpoint— from the service it provides, or from the cost of operating an electricity system — electric power today is the cheapest thing we buy.

Big Increase in Farm Tractor Use

There has been a fourfold increase in the number of tractors in the past twenty years in the major farming regions of the world. But in 1947 tractors still provided only 15 per cent of the draft power on farms, according to a recent FAO report. Latin America, the Far East, the Near East and Africa, containing together nearly half of the world's cultivated land, have only 2.5 per cent of the tractors, the remaining 97.5 per cent being in North America, Europe, the USSR and Oceania.

The rapid mechanization of farming in Europe is bringing a reduction in the manufacture of farm machinery suitable for operation by draft animals, though there still remains in use a great deal of animal drawn equipment.

While the number of tractors provides a good general index of farm mechanization in any particular country, it does not alone indicate the extent to which mechanical power is used on farms. The hours of work tractors perform the year round must be considered. Few details of this are available, but for the United States it was reported in 1941 that farm tractors worked on the average 493 hours annually. In the United Kingdom the estimated figure is 800 hours a year, and in the USSR the range for collective farms in 1936 was 800 to 1,600 hours.

By-Product Feeds For Dairy Cows

In the winter feeding of milking cows it is important to balance the quality of the roughage fed with protein feeds. The main protein supplement feeds used are by-products of industry and milling. Other by-product feeds are used to supply bulk, succulence and even replace roughage.

The most common high protein supplements in the dairy ration are linseed oil meal, cotton seed oil meal, soybean oil meal and corn gluten meal. The oil meals are by-products of the paint and edible oils industries, while corn gluten meal is a by-product in the manufacture of corn starch. These feeds range in content from 30 to 45 per cent protein crude analysis, and are interchangeable in the ration for dairy cows.

Dried brewers grains, rye and corn distillers grain and gluten are by-products which might be considered intermediate in protein feed content, ranging from 18 to 30 per cent crude analyses. These feeds may replace each other and are quite suitable for dairy cows in providing up to one-third of the grain ration.

Wheat bran, a by-product of flour milling, is one of the most common dairy cattle feeds. This feed provides bulk and its laxative effect is desirable for high producing cows. Wheat bran fed as a hot mash is a favorite for newly freshened cows.

Other by-products such as sugar beet pulp and apple pommace are fed to dairy cattle when available. Similarly wet brewers grains are a suitable dairy cattle feed where available.

While numerous other by-product feeds have been tested as cattle feed, the groups discussed here are in common use and the individual feeds used in making up the dairy ration depend largely on their price and availability.

In preparing rations for milking cows at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, says V. S. Logan of the Animal Husbandry Division, the practice followed is to use oats and barley as the basic carhohydrate feeds and mix these with the protein supplement feeds. Equal parts of oats and barley constitute half the ration and two or three of the protein supplements are added to make a ration of from 17 to 20 per cent crude protein depending on the type of legume roughage fed.

Sun Life of Canada Increases Dividends to Policyholders

1949 Was a good year for Sun Life. Total benefits paid last year $114 million. Company largest investor in Canadian homes under National Housing Act.

With $18 million—a substantial increase over 1949 — allotted for policyholders' dividends to be paid during the current year, the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada enters its 80th year of public service with a promising outlook for 1950. During the year just past, the total amount of life insurance which policyholders purchased from the Sun Life exceeded $372 millions, continuing the unbroken record of selling more new life insurance per annum than any other Canadian life company. Insurance in force with the Sun Life now amounts to $4,187,000,000, an all-time high. Total income of the company in 1949 was $238,000,000.

The 79th Annual Report of the Sun Life of Canada just issued indicates that benefits paid to Sun Life policyholders and benficiaries since the Company's first policy was issued in 1871 have now reached $2,240,000,000. Last year alone over $114,000,000 was paid out in benefits. In recent years the Company has given particular attention to providing funds for the construction of homes, and of its total assets which now exceed $1,527,000,000, more than $83 millions is invested in Canadian residential mortgages.

At the Annual Meeting held at the Head Office of the Company in Montreal, the President, Arthur B. Wood, reviewed the remarkable progress of life insurance over the last 50 years. In 1900, with a population of just over five millions, total life insurance in force in Canada amounted to $404 millions, or about $75 per capita. Today the population has reached 13½ millions but life insurance in force has risen to $14 billions, or $1,045 per head, more than 13 times the 1900 figure. The Sun Life's own business has more than kept pace with this increase, today's total in force of $4,187 millions comparing with only $53 millions in force at the beginning of the century. During these 50 years, too, Sun Life policy provisions and privileges have been broadened, available options increased and many new benefits introduced. Even before 1900 the Company was the first to introduce the "unconditional" policy, following later with the popular Sun Life non-medical insurance plan. The Company also issued the first Group Pension policy written anywhere in North America, an epoch-marking event in the history of life insurance.

One of the outstanding features of Sun Life operations during 1949 was the pronounced increase in the Company's Group business. Hundreds of thousands of office, factory and other employees in business and industry throughout Canada and the United States are today protected by the generous terms of Sun Life Group insurance and annuity plans. The Company's experience and service in this particular field is unsurpassed. Today, the importance of Group insurance is recognized by all those concerned with the encouragement and maintenance of good relations between management and labor, and the welfare and social security of the individual employee.

The Sun Life story for 1949, including the President's address as delivered at the Annual Meeting, is contained in the Report to Policyholders now on the press. A copy will be sent to every policyholder, while others may obtain the Report on request from any of the branch, group or mortgage offices of the Company, or from O. H. Lagarde, Lachute, or J. S. Thompson, Brownsburg, Local Representatives.

Modern Pioneers

IT'S A long jump from the rugged expanses of Canada's northland to Antarctica, but few who know the North were surprised to read that a former bush pilot, Flt.-Lt. Peter Borden St. Louis, on loan from the R.C.A.F., piloted the plane which recently rescued scientists marooned near the South Pole for the last three years.

Canada has contributed two unique features to aviation — the bush pilot, unequalled for courage, resourcefulness and adaptability, and the Canadian-built bush plane. The two naturally go together, as they did for the rescue feat in Antarctica.

Strange missions have been the custom, rather than the exception with Canada's bush pilots. Playing nursemaid to a load of live beaver or partially-tamed huskies, or making a mercy flight — often in brutal weather — are routine missions. During the Second World War most of them enlisted quickly and formed a strong nucleus for the Royal Canadian Air Force and Ferry Command.

Almost everyone in the thinly-peopled sections of Canada has his own stories or legends of these airmen. Mining, lumbering and pulp districts know that without the bush pilot, life would be more arduous than it is.

For years, almost the only contact between the rich gold-mining town of Yellowknife, N.W.T., and the "outside" was by plane, first the bush plane, then the transport. Labrador's iron fields were discovered by men flown in and kept equipped by bush planes.

Usually a modest fellow, the bush pilot is a man's man, a good person to know and to rely on when the going gets tough. After the war some fliers, attracted by the illusory glamor, tried their hand at the helm of a plane. Few lasted because the profession does not call for the "neck or nothing" attitude, often necessary in war.

Rather, the need is for solid business men, with heavy investments in their planes and equipment. Their passengers are interested in the safest kind of transportation possible.

As a result, those who stayed have a "sensible" courage, which tries to eliminate every possibility of danger, while maintaining the best traditions of their calling, flying over any terrain and in most passable kinds of weather.

With Canada's expansion, more and more of the bush pilot's routes are being taken over by chartered air lines. Here again his contribution is strongly felt. Many are hired as pilots, others as executives and supervisors. But they were the pioneers who helped chart the clearings for the growth of the country.

Centralization of Industry

IN THE DAYS of free trade between city and country, the country was a reasonably prosperous place in which to live and raise a family.

In the country, folks were content to work a bit harder and a bit longer to take care of the extra cost of delivering their produce to the city markets.

In the city, manufacturers and merchants knew that rural business was important and their costs would have to be controlled so that country folk could afford to buy in sufficient volume to keep urban commerce profitable.

That was in the days of free trade. . . Before the government bureaucrats and the unions stepped in.

Now manufacturers in unionized industries, have to pay about the same rate of wages and work the same hours whether their plants are located in the remote village or in a large metropolitan centre. As a result, with the economic advantages of the smaller community gone, industry has centralized to protect itself.

We have through our government condoned this trend. We have, in fact, encouraged it by giving the force of law to such industry-wide bargaining agreements. Government-approved transportation rate schedules have similarly reduced the competitive advantage of certain communities. Municipalities have been restricted by provincial legislation in attempts to encourage industry to locate outside the major cities.

While Great Britain has, in the face of an atomic age, given legislative encouragement to decentralization, Canada's metropolitan areas continue to expand.

Will a bomb be necessary to awaken our economic and social common sense?

THE FULL responsibility for avoiding hard times cannot be given to the government, for if we seek free enterprise in Canada, then free enterprise must solve our economic problems.

Short-Wave Potential in Times of Emergency

IMPORTANCE of the weekly newspaper as a medium of communications is well recognized — and when the newspaper and radio media team up, there is no holding their potential in time of emergency. C. M. Freeman, editor of the Val d'Or Star, has illustrated this point.

Mr. Freeman recently got a letter from the Canadian Lumbermen's Association in Ottawa that took six days en route. . . At the same time Editor Freeman happened to be checking on a new northern short wave net of radio amateurs for operation at times of crisis. . . The letter was only a circular sent to all weekly newspapers asking if they would be interested in news releases from the association's annual convention, which took place in Montreal this week. However, it inspired the weekly's editor to put the embryo network to the test. . .

He decided to reply by short wave as well as by post, and put a young Val d'Or "ham" operator, Herbert Shaw, to work on the job. Minutes after the editor's message went out from station VE2ABS in Val d'Or "to mark its potential value for forest fire or other disasters", operator B. Bourne of VE3YA, Ottawa, was phoning the message to a staff member in the association's office.

Next night, back came a second signal from the mining town: "We could have wired (but) we felt that the short wave system may be called upon to render vital service to Canada in the future, and that using this service, in a message to the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, we could dramatize what is being done, and could be done in any type of emergency." He added that he knows well what unpreparedness did in 1918-39, instancing the loss of a young R.C.A.F. Pilot Officer. "for whom we held and hold a father's affection."

For A Modern-Day Solomon

WHILE the rest of us worry about the H-bomb and the disappearing British egg market, a horse fancier named Mac McKay, down in St. Stephen, N.B., has a worry all his own.

It seems that Mac has a friend named Roy Creamer and that Roy had a horse, "a real race horse" he calls it. Two years ago Roy left the horse with Mac. The deal was that Mac was to feed and take care of it for a half-interest.

That seemed a fair trade to Mac then, but time has blunted his enthusiasm. With oats at $3 a bag and bran $3.10 he has laid out $600 on the nag and still owns only half of it. Roy, it seems, hasn't made a move to race it or take it back.

Mac's problem, which he set out in a letter to the Saint Croix Courier, is this: "Which half is mine and which half does Creamer own?"

He called the sheriff on the phone, saying he wanted to shoot his half. At first the sheriff, a little hard of hearing, thought Mac was some Conservative who wanted to shoot him. Even after that was cleared up, the best suggestion the sheriff had was to shoot Roy and keep the horse.

Shooting Roy isn't advisable unless Mac is a Liberal and a good friend of the sheriff's to boot. And he can't shoot the front half of the horse. That would be fatal, and goodness knows how much Roy would ask in damages. After all, the nag's supposed to be a race horse.

If he shoots the back half the horse still might die and Roy could sue. Or if it weren't fatal, Roy could probably take the whole horse on the grounds that Mac had terminated his interest in it. . .

If there's a Solomon around in this day and age, he's welcome to take on the job of solving this problem in horseflesh.

"THE WEIGHT of evidence appears to be on the side of a continued downward trend in the U.S. price level, provided there is no great increase in defence outlays", says the current Monthly Review of the Bank of Nova Scotia. It appears likely that the downward pressures on the Canadian price level in the near-term future will be at least as great as, and possibly greater than, those working to reduce prices in the United States.

THE PERSON who has the courage to make a new resolution is at heart an adventurer. He is challenged by a new goal and faces that way. There is nothing to lose, but one might gain much through the strength of a new resolution.

Tories Will Win British Election, Says Beverley Baxter

The Tories will win the British general election on February 23, says Beverley Baxter, Canadian-born journalist and regular London contributor to Maclean's.

Baxter makes his prediction with some reputation as a political prophet. In 1945 he forecast the Labor victory in England and he forecast that President Truman would be re-elected. In "I say The Tories Will Win" in the current issue of Maclean's Magazine, Baxter presents his arguments for a Churchill victory:

"The defeat of Socialist governments in Australia and New Zealand plus the virtual rout of Socialists in Canada will have a profound influence on the British, who are becoming more and more conscious of the necessity and opportunities of Commonwealth unity."

"The large Services vote in 1945 went overwhelmingly against the Conservatives. This time the services vote is small but will traditionally go against the government."

"In 1945 young people voted for Socialism in the belief that they would find it dynamic and exciting. In the last three years the Young Conservative Movement has swept the country because youth has found itself frustrated by controls."

"Growing sections of trade unionists are realizing that unions cannot have an independent existence under Socialism or Communism. I do not say that the breakaway will be large, but it will count."

"The middle classes put the Socialists in last time because a solid Labor vote is not enough for a majority. Now the middle classes are bearing such a burden of taxation that they have become almost a distressed section of the community. They are certain to rally in great numbers to the Conservative banner."

"The Conservatives should have a great swing-over of women voters . . The housewife detests the unfortunate Strachey; she is sick and tired of queues and she is not going to be told by her husband how to vote. In fact the housewife may well hold the reins of destiny in her hands — and who has a better right?

Writes Baxter: "My final argument for a Conservative victory is Winston Churchill. I believe that even his opponents have realized what the nation lost when the electorate declared he could no longer speak as Britain's prime minister. If he rises to the heights which we know he can reach then I believe the spirit of the nation will soar on the wings of his words."

Baxter is himself a Conservative M.P. seeking re-election to the English House of Commons. Baxter predicts he will win, too.

Rockcliffe Residence For Opposition Leader

Ottawa —

At the last session of parliament, action was taken to provide Canada's prime ministers with a permanent residence.

Last week, similar action was taken on behalf of the leader of the Progressive Conservative party, with some indication that the home purchased for him might, possibly, be used by the opposition leader regardless of party.

M. Grattan O'Leary, vice-president of the Ottawa Journal, announced that he had been asked to head a committee of citizens, belonging to both major parties, but officially associated with neither of them, who felt the opposition leader needed a home of his own.

Mr. O'Leary announced the purchase of a spacious grey stucco home in Rockcliffe, an exclusive residential suburb of Ottawa, to be given, in trust, as a permanent home for Progressive Conservative leaders.

Its first occupant will be George Drew, present Progressive Conservative leader, who is expected to move in around April 1. Prime Minister St. Laurent's new home probably won't be ready until September.

Quebec Parliament Opens, Big Legislative Program

By Richard Daignault

Quebec, Feb. 13 (CP) — Premier Duplessis made known that his government would introduce provincial rentals legislation during the session of the Quebec Legislature which formally opened on Wednesday of this week.

The Premier, who gave the news at a press conference, added: "We must await a decision of the supreme court of Canada on federal rent control. We cannot anticipate on a judgment in a case that is before a court.

"But when that decision is taken we must be ready to take the means to accomplish our duty. We will seek the most appropriate, most efficacious and best legislation, giving justice to all, tenants in particular."

Other law projects, among the three dozen or more expected, were: A Quebec state lottery, juvenile training schools, and bills concerning the University of Montreal, fish and game, jurisdiction of the provincial magistrate's courts over matters involving parish corporations.

Between 75 and 100 private bills are expected to be presented, by municipalities, corporations and individuals.

The Premier earlier made known a $15,000,000 provincial loan which will be re-payable in five years in United States or Canadian funds at the choice of the lender. Purpose of the loan in the United States is to redeem an earlier bond issue in the U.S. maturing at the end of March.

The new bonds, bearing interest at 2¼ per cent were sold at 99.1157 and will be marketed by a United States syndicate at 100.1157.

Renewed Canvass for B'burg Community Rink

Brownsburg — The following is an additional list of subscriptions on behalf of the Brownsburg Community Rink Association. The campaign to raise funds for the erection of an arena in Brownsburg, which began last November, was interrupted over the Christmas holiday season and it was decided to put off any further canvassing until a later opportune time.

The campaign committee found itself handicapped in its original drive by a lack of canvassers. At a recent meeting of the various community organizations, it was decided that each representative group would undertake responsibility for a district. The drive will now re-open on February 21 for a period of three weeks, and it is hoped that everyone interested will have had an opportunity to subscribe.

Total subscriptions to date exceed $7,100, and pledges have been given by 204 individual subscribers, giving an average of a little better than $33. These figures are considered encouraging by the committee, who have set their minimum objective at $35,000 in order to allow construction to proceed as anticipated in early spring.

List No. 3

Mrs. Margaret Branchaud $25, Miss Joan Brewer $25, Morton Brewer $25, John Connelly $50, Harold S. Dando $40, Gaston Daoust $12.50, John Duncan $48, Gilles Franche $25.

Clifton Graham $25, Miss Cecile Grondin $12.50, Charles Harding $50, Miss Doreen Izzard $15, Exellavah Labelle $12, Georges Lefebvre $50, Harold Lupien $25, Miss M. M. MacGregor $10, W. H. Maslin $10.

Arthur Parisien $12, Miss Dorothy Passmore $25, Philippe Raymond $15, Archie Robinson $50, Paul St. Denis $12, Denis Staniforth $50, J. S. Thompson $50, Paul Villard II $50.

Brownsburg Council

the council but $1,600 to make the collection, and that the people were very satisfied with the way it was collected at present.

Councillor Lafleur called attention to the number of men who were at present unemployed; if the council discontinued the collection they would have to lay off some men and possibly have to provide for them anyway.

After considerable discussion it was decided to continue the collection by the council's men and truck, and to demand that proper containers be used so as to facilitate collection. The question of an extra charge for commercial garbage was held over for further experience of the added difficulty which such garbage entails.

There were three tenders for the council's truck. This was also retained; a comparison of its value as a trade-in for a new one is to be made before it is again offered for sale. (Offers of trade-in on the cost of a new truck are invited — consideration of which will be made at next meeting. The truck favored is a 2½-ton model).

Complaints were before the meeting regarding the handling of tickets at some of the places of amusement in the village. The secretary reported that one of the picture houses had not purchased any tickets for the month of January while the other had ordered 3,000. Arrangements were discussed by which the council can check on the proper cancelling of tickets sold; the plan is to be put into operation forthwith.

Councillor Ouellette brought to the attention of council the matter of the overhead water line at the water-bridge on Main Street, with a recommendation that it be taken off the side of the bridge and run underneath. It was dangerous at present, as the steel covering was broken in places and could easily destroy a person's clothes as they passed. Councillor Somers was of the opinion it should be run under the riverbed, as it should have been done in the first place; he averred it is most likely frozen solid anyway, and if it were not for the fact that there is a loop line, there would be no water. The matter is to be looked into this summer.

NOBLE FRENCH WINE WASTED ON BRITONS

London (CP) — La Journée Vinicole (French wine journal) has some hard things to say about wine-drinking in Britain.

"The new rich do not know how to drink", it says. "The upper 10 can no longer afford to drink, and the working classes have not yet reached the point of being able to drink wine."

Of the new rich, it adds: "They know nothing about wine and will swill down the noblest of wines as if it were beer or mineral water."

"And all thy children shall be taught of Jehovah; and great shall be the peace of thy children." — Isaiah 54:13.

The Bible clearly teaches

THAT JEHOVAH is the only true God, from everlasting to everlasting, and is the Maker of heaven and earth and Giver of life to his creatures; that the Word or Logos was the beginning of his creation and his active agent in creating all other things; and that the creature Lucifer rebelled against Jehovah and raised the issue of His universal sovereignty;

THAT GOD created the earth for man, made perfect man for the earth and placed him upon it; that man yielded to unfaithful Lucifer, or Satan, and willfully disobeyed God's law and was sentenced to death; that by reason of Adam's wrong act all men are born sinners and without the right of life;

THAT THE LOGOS was made human as the man Jesus and suffered death in order to produce the ransom or redemptive price for obedient men; that God raised up Christ Jesus divine and exalted him to heaven above every other creature and clothed him with all power and authority as head of God's new capital organization;

THAT GOD'S CAPITAL ORGANIZATION is a Theocracy called Zion, and that Christ Jesus is the Chief Officer thereof and is the rightful King of the new world; that the faithful anointed followers of Christ Jesus are Zion's children, members of Jehovah's organization, and are His witnesses whose duty and privilege it is to testify to Jehovah's supremacy and declare his purposes toward mankind as expressed in the Bible;

THAT THE OLD WORLD, or Satan's uninterrupted rule, ended A.D. 1914, and Christ Jesus has been placed by Jehovah upon the throne, has ousted Satan from heaven, and now proceeds to vindicate His name and establish the "new earth"; (Rev. 12:12)

THAT THE RELIF and blessings of the people can come only by Jehovah's kingdom under Christ, which has begun; that His next great act is to destroy Satan's organization and establish righteousness completely in the earth; and that under the Kingdom the people of good-will surviving Armageddon will carry out the divine mandate to "fill the earth" with righteous offspring, and that the human dead in the graves will be raised to opportunities of life on earth.

Reviews Progress Of Sun Life Company

Montreal, Feb. 14 — Dividends to policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada are to be increased during 1950. This announcement was made by Arthur B. Wood, president, at the 79th annual meeting, showing that Sun Life had continued to maintain its foremost position, selling more new life insurance in 1949 than any other Canadian company. The total amount of life insurance purchased from the Company last year exceeded $372 million, while benefits paid to policyholders and beneficiaries during the period amounted to more than $114 million — a new record. Total benefits paid by the Sun Life since the Company's first policy was issued in 1871 stand at $2,240,000,000. The assets of the Company are now at an all-time high of $1,527,000,000. Sun Life is by far the largest investor in Canadian residential mortgages, with more than $83 million held in provinces from coast to coast.

A sidelight of Mr. Wood's review made reference to the contribution of life insurance towards improving the nation's health. Average life expectancy has risen by about one-third since 1900, when a child born in North America was given a life of 48 years. Today, the expectancy for a male child at birth is 66 years, and for a female, 71 years. This improvement is due to sharply reduced mortality during earlier years of life and the elimination of illness hazards once considered formidable. However, much remains to be done, particularly in the fields of cardio-vascular and cancer research. The Life Insurance Medical Research Fund, established by the life companies of Canada and the United States, was promoted to support medical research in the interest not only of life insurance policyholders, but of the community generally.

MINERALS SEARCH

The mineral possibility of the Woodstock area, discussed off and on for a number of years, will be more closely examined now. Veterans Affairs Minister Milton F. Gregg announced the first airborne magnetic survey of a section of the province would be undertaken shortly.

PUBLIC WARNING

UNSCRUPULOUS salesmen are attempting to prove, by using so-called "tests", that "aluminum cooking utensils are harmful to health".

Baking soda, steelwool, boiling water and other substances are used in misleading ways to "prove" these untrue and malicious statements. DO NOT BE MISLED BY THESE "TESTS", THEY PROVE ABSOLUTELY NOTHING.

Facts About Aluminum

On February 13th, 1947, the world-famous Mayo Clinic in Rochester reported: "It has been proved over and over again that there is no harm in aluminum and that its use for cooking utensils is entirely safe."

"Next to gold and platinum, aluminum is the best metal for food vessels — even better than silver."
—The British Medical Journal

"We know of no danger to foods cooked in aluminum cooking utensils, and we believe that propaganda against aluminum comes from quacks, cranks, fadists or unethical salesmen."
—The American Medical Journal

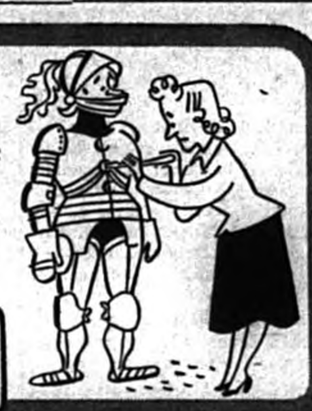

If a salesman makes statements derogatory to aluminum, ask him to put his statements in writing, obtain his name and the name of the company he represents, and report it to

Teaching Handicrafts To Quebec W. Institutes

"25 Branches visited and a total of 612 completed articles made at handicraft classes", states Miss E. M. Birch, handicraft technician for the Quebec Women's Institutes, summing up her first year of work for that organization. This has taken her to all parts of the province, a total distance of 5,500 miles being covered during that time.

Instruction is given by Miss Birch in weaving, leather, felt and shellcraft with keen interest shown in all sections and many repeat visits requested. Members are becoming particularly enthused about weaving. Several branches have had floor looms built, while others are buying them, taking advantage of the grant offered by the Department of Agriculture to assist on the purchase price. Table looms are also being procured and the pamphlet compiled by Miss Birch, "How to Thread up a Table Loom", has proved of benefit to these beginners. Copies of this are available at the Q.W.I. office to all members interested in this craft.

Miss Birch has just returned from a week in Quebec City, where she has taken a course in rug-making at L'Ecole des Arts Domestiques, and she is now prepared to give instruction in this work in addition to the crafts previously offered by the Q.W.I.

London (CP) — For what it's worth, a second use for mistletoe is listed in the British Pharmaceutical Index.

But British doctors say that the medical value of mistletoe stewed in milk can be dismissed as being as legendary as the more traditional use.

The Index says stewed mistletoe has been "thought helpful" in lowering blood pressure, lessening the cardiac impulse and in treating hysteria and St. Vitus' dance.

Apples -- the Old Standby

The spaces on the shelves get wider and wider as the supply of home canned fruits decreases. Fortunately the homemaker can use more and more apples. The family will never tire of apples for, when cooked in various ways and in combination with other ingredients, they seem like entirely different fruits.

In the fall, when apples are first picked and have all their luscious freshness, there is no need to accent the flavor but, after several months of storage, the apples may need pointing up with a little spice or flavoring extract as an accent to tempt the appetite.

For the little touch that gives extra taste appeal try sweetening with honey or maple syrup in place of sugar. Nutmeg and cinnamon are commonly used but a dash of ginger or the merest touch of cloves gives a new tang. A sprinkling of orange or lemon rind seems to bring out natural flavors. Almond extract will often have the same effect. Whatever is used, the rule is that it should be added with a light hand, otherwise the delicate apple flavor will be overpowered.

No matter how good the apple pie and applesauce, there is no reason why they should be the only apple dishes served.

The home economists of the Consumer Section think these recipes are excellent:

Royal Apples

6 Apples, ½ cup sugar, 1½ cups water, few drops red vegetable coloring, 1 egg white, 2 tablespoons sugar.

Pare and core apples. Cook sugar, water and apple parings for 5 minutes. Remove parings and add red coloring to syrup. Add apples and cook very slowly until tender. Place the apples in a serving dish, cover with the syrup and cool. When thickened, garnish with a meringue made from the egg white and 2 tablespoons sugar. Brown meringue delicately in a moderately hot oven, 375°F. Serve very cold. Yield. six servings.

Apple Dessert

6 Red apples, 1½ cups sauce (see below), 6 teaspoons apple or other red jelly, 3 egg whites, ¼ cup sugar.

Core apples and prick skins. Bake in a casserole in a moderate oven, 350°F., until tender. Pour sauce over and around apples. Top each apple with meringue made from the stiffly beaten egg whites and sugar. Garnish each apple with a spoonful of jelly and oven-poach in a moderately slow oven, 325°F., until meringue is delicately browned. Serve hot or cold. Yield: six servings.

Sauce

3 Tablespoons sugar, pinch of salt, 1 cup milk, 3 egg yolks, ½ cup milk, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Mix sugar, salt and 1 cup milk. Heat in double boiler. Beat egg yolks with ½ cup milk. Add slowly to hot milk. Cook, stirring constantly, about 8 minutes or until the mixture coats a spoon. Remove from heat, add flavoring and use as directed above.

FASHION HINT

Color and the clever use of fabric lend distinction to an attractive bright-lights costume. The red velveteen weskit is strapless, form-fitting and buttons snugly in front. Covering the decolletage is a tiny matching envelope bolero jacket with push-up sleeves. To complete the picture is a skirt of lime-colored rayon surah with its zig-zag hemline turned up and buttoned to day length. Come evening and down it comes for full evening length, which makes it a nice notion for the travel-light voyager.

United Ladies' Union

On Wednesday, February 1, the Ladies' Union of Arundel United Church held their first meeting of the new season. The new president, Mrs. Percy Staniforth, conducted the business part of the meeting, after which the afternoon was spent in quilting. Co-hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. N. Moss and Mrs. Percy Staniforth.

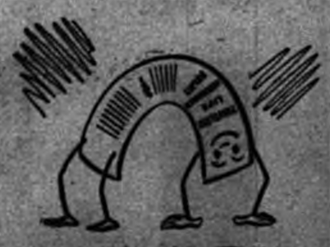

Farm Forum Event

A delightful and well attended "500" party was held at Maplewood Inn on Monday evening, January 30. The event was held under the auspices of the four Farm Forums of Arundel, who instead of holding their regular monthly Rally, took this opportunity to get together for a social evening. Cards were played at 16 tables and at the close of the evening refreshments were served.

Girls' Guild

The Girls' Guild of the United Church held a bean supper on Friday evening, February 3. Owing to the lack of snow the sleigh-drive scheduled to take place on this occasion had to be cancelled; however, some took in the hockey game, while the younger folks enjoyed skating. They all met later in the evening and partook of home-baked beans and other good things which the ladies had provided. Games and contests were held, and everyone voted the affair a great success. A substantial sum was realized, which will be used in the work of the Guild.

Women's Editor Dr. Ruth Nanda Ansheh says the trouble with the world today is women don't want to be women. They'd rather be men.

Good Breakfast Urged Before School Hour

If children are sent to school without having eaten a good breakfast, says the Montreal Department of Health, they are unlikely to profit fully from their lessons.

The individual needs and tastes of children are bound to differ, and therefore the mother is asked to use her judgment in taking as a base the following menu suggested by the department:

Orange, tomato or grapefruit juice; cereal (preferably cooked); an egg with ham or bacon; bread, butter, cheese — and pasteurized milk only.

It is also pointed out that if children go to bed early and get up early enough in the morning, they are much more likely to enjoy and to eat a hearty breakfast.

Lachute and Hawkesbury Split in "A" Play-Offs

Third Game Here Tonight; Brownsburg Ahead of Grenv'l in "B" Series

AT THE ARENA
By John H. Dunne

Hawkesbury eked out a 6-5 overtime win on Thursday last against Lachute, but the locals ran roughshod over the Ontario team on Saturday by the score 8-2 — and at the moment they loom as the "dark horse" for the championship of the Quebec-Ontario Hockey League. There should be a determined struggle at the Arena this evening.

Near Riot at Arena

Brownsburg defeated Grenville 7-5 on Tuesday night in the Series "B" semi-finals, in a thrilling, hard-fought game. The match ended in a near-riot as women partisans of the losing club endeavored to attack a referee, but the local police calmed them down in a few minutes—offering the alternative of keeping the peace or spending a few hours' quiet reflection in the local Bastille. (The female sex when aroused can really make a great deal of noise, especially when play-off hockey time rolls around). The arbiter, by the way, reached security unscathed. . . Brownsburg will meet the Grenville club here again this coming Saturday.

A benefit carnival for Gaston Millette, former Lachute player who was hurt while playing during the early part of the season, will be held on a date to be announced in next week's column.

The Arena intends making a special effort in his behalf, because throughout the hockey seasons that the locals have been under our jurisdiction, there was no better team player or more easily handled member of the team than this young man. Watch for the date, as there will be many attractions; tickets for this affair will be sold in advance, at a nominal fee.

Brownsburg Canvass in Boy Scouts' Campaign

Special Joint Service Arranged

Brownsburg — With the assistance of a number of volunteer canvassers, the Boy Scouts Group Committee at Brownsburg has collected approximately $255 for the Laurentian District to date, and much of the work is still to be completed. The canvassers are getting such a cordial welcome that they find it difficult to complete more than a few calls each evening.

A combined church service has been scheduled for the United Church on Sunday, February 19, at 7 p.m.; this will be attended by Girl Guides, Brownies, Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs. It is understood that the devotions usually held in other churches at the same hour have been re-arranged or cancelled in order to help make this special service a success.

Two rinks from Hawkesbury are due here today (Thursday) competing for the Cottingham Cup.

In the annual Sherbrooke Bonspiel next week, two teams of Lachute lady curlers will take part in the play.

The monthly tea of the Ladies' Curling Club was held last Monday; and the regular club meeting will be held next Monday, February 20, at 3 p.m.

Que. Bills to Create Social Welfare Courts, Prohibit Obscene Literature

"The Week at Quebec"

By Richard Daignault

Quebec, Feb. 21 (CP) — A fairly heavy legislative program was put before the Quebec Legislature last week as the annual session got underway. Already 33 government bills have been notified to the Legislative Assembly and other bills have been announced.

Mr. Justice Antonin Galipeault, sworn in as acting Lieutenant Governor to preside at the opening ceremonies in the absence of Sir Eugene Fiset who is ill, read the 1,250-word speech from the throne.

The speech gave, in broad outline, a view into general government policies. It also promised legislation in many fields.

Two outstanding bills before the Legislature, will include one to create social welfare courts to handle problems of juvenile delinquents, old age pensioners, indigents, the insane, child adoption and family relations.

The other proposed law is one to ban obscene literature from circulating in the province.

The social welfare courts bill provides that such tribunals may be established in towns and districts with at least 50,000 people.

No more than 10 judges for the special courts will be appointed at present and in some cases district magistrates may be called on to perform the duties of district welfare judges.

One change the law will bring is that judges of Montreal and Quebec City courts of juvenile delinquency will become social welfare judges. Salary of the Chief Judge of the new court will be $9,000 annually and other judges will be paid $8,000.

The bill concerning obscene literature was announced by Premier Duplessis, who said the government has no wish to "interfere with liberties" but seeks to restrict sale of "indecent publications that contain pictures some of them more than pornographic."

He said the proposed law would not apply to newspapers or religious publications and suggestions regarding its provisions will be sought from the liberal opposition.

The bill will permit provincial police seizure of publications tending towards indecency, and their examination by three members of the provincial film censorship bureau.

Other listed laws promised increase of provincial farm loan funds by $8,000,000; increase of rural electrification funds by $3,000,000; government grants up to a total of $500,000 to help towns and villages set up fire-fighting equipment, and authority to spend up to $2,000,000 for land draining.

MAY GROUND SCREWBALLS

Vancouver (CP) — "Screwball" pilots may soon be eliminated from British Columbia airways. A "grounding committee" was formed at Vancouver International Airport to blacklist any pilots whose foolish flying was judged to be dangerous.

Hawkesbury Awaits G'vt Approval on New Hospital

Hawkesbury — Approval of the Ontario Health Department is awaited for a new 50-bed hospital for the Grey Nuns at Hawkesbury, to cost about $400,000. While approval of the final plans is still awaited, it is understood an agreement has been reached on the size of the hospital.

If the province approves the project the Federal Government would contribute $1,000 a bed toward the cost.

Need of a new hospital was stressed with the present Notre Dame Hospital, built in 1927, only containing 25 beds, including the children's ward.

The project calls for two other buildings of 50 beds each, one for invalids and incurables, and the other as an old men's home. The total outlay for these buildings, to be added later, would be in the neighborhood of $1,200,000. It is expected construction will go ahead in the spring.

The Provincial Government will also contribute $1,000 a bed towards the cost.

Mardi-Gras Event Held at Legion Hall

At a get-together for the Lachute Legion on Tuesday evening, in the form of a Mardi Gras dance, legionnaires enjoyed a pleasant session of fun and dancing. Many came to the hall dressed in humorous, and some in very elaborate costumes. Music was supplied by Lowe Bros'. orchestra. Games were played and prizes presented to the winners, refreshments being served in conclusion.

This was just one of the many activities that have been held at the Legion Memorial Hall since it was completed, and the building is affording the veterans of two world wars a place in which to gather and enjoy congenial company, to hold meetings and provide necessary aid to fellow veterans in need. The Legion has been active in finding work for ex-servicemen lacking employment, also in securing homes, and supplying financial and medical help when needed. These are some of the efforts which have received impetus by the building of a Legion Hall, and when the public encourage the veterans in their work, they help not only the legionnaires but others to whom they extend their aid.

The veterans are now planning a "bingo", to be held March 22 in the new building; further particulars will be published later.

To Promote Local Red Cross Appeal

Lachute Red Cross unit is preparing to lend its weight to the annual appeal for funds, to be held in the month of March with a national objective of $5,000,000.

There will be ample publicity on the peacetime work of the Red Cross, in its national and international scope. It may be of more immediate concern, however, to view the activities of the local organization as its representatives embark upon their canvass in this town and district. A few of these activities include — the "loan cupboard" supported by this branch to provide articles and supplies for use in the sick-room; and the hospital beds, loaned at a nominal weekly charge. It is reported these were in use 95 per cent of the time, last year, and the branch has recently acquired its fifth bed, to meet the increasing demand. The Providence Hospital in Lachute (it may be mentioned) is one of the 11 institutions outside Montreal which gives Red Cross blood transfusion service free to needy patients.

Another local activity is the knitting and sewing of relief garments by loyal Red Cross workers, besides many peacetime roles of community and national importance.

The committee in charge of the local appeal includes — Mrs. A. Taylor, Mrs. G. G. Mitchell and Mrs. Leonard Ayers. Mrs. F. E. Earle is treasurer and Mrs. C. E. Richardson in charge of "special names".

Feted by Canadians Vacationing in Florida

Lieut. Col. J. E. Seale, of Morin Heights, was guest of honor at a luncheon picnic held at Boynton Beach last Saturday, February 18, to celebrate his 81st birthday, which took place on the 19th, the following day. Approximately 70 Canadians holidaying in Florida, personal friends of the Colonel and Mrs. Seale, were present. A delicious lunch was served and the Colonel was then called on to cut a decorated birthday cake; he was assisted in this undertaking by Mrs. Seale. The Colonel was then presented with a beautiful pipe and a supply of tobacco.

Colonel Seale thanked his many friends for their extreme kindness. Several appropriate songs were sung, and an enjoyable occasion was spent by all present.

Colonel and Mrs. Seale have now spent several winters in Florida and have a wide circle of friends there. Such a gathering is eloquent of the esteem with which they are regarded. They take an active interest in the shuffle court and Canadian Club activites, and also have numerous American friends in the vicinity. The Colonel is regarded as one of the outstanding bridge players in the community.

Colonel Seale also received numerous greeting cards and telegrams from his many friends, on the celebration of his birthday.

Country Club Held Successful Dance

A Valentine dance sponsored by Lake Louisa Country Club, the second annual event of its kind, was held last Friday at Lachute Auditorium. It proved both enjoyable from the social point of view, and successful for its financial outcome; the proceeds from this venture are devoted to the funds of the club, which serves an important purpose in the community life of the Lake Louisa summer colony, promoting the interests of the residents and affording recreative outlets for the younger habitués.

Around 75 Montrealers were in attendance, travelling by automobile and in two chartered buses. Thus it was an occasion for many pleasant reunions.

Don Reid's orchestra provided the music, and Valentine decorations had been arranged by energetic young workers interested in Lake Louisa Country Club activities. The ladies also served refreshments and willing helpers conducted the check-room. Altogether, it was a good co-operative effort crowned with merited success.

A drawing for Ayers blankets and an auto rug was won by Mr. Leslie Gatehouse, of Montreal, and Mrs. Ernest Copeland, of Lachute, respectively.

Good Progress Noted in Arundel School Extension

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — A visit of inspection during the past week revealed that great progress is being made towards completion of the new wing of the Arundel School.

The auditorium is almost ready for use, and the tiled floor is marked out for basketball and badminton. The modern kitchen is a room that would delight any woman's heart, with its ample cupboard space, steam-table and good lighting. The classrooms are also well lighted, and will receive ample sunshine through their spacious windows. There will be a principal's room, teachers' rest-room, secretary's office, boys' and girls' washrooms and showers.

The community is looking forward to the time of its completion, when all the conveniences of this building will be in full use.

10 Years' Sentence for Arsonist at Oka

Admitted Setting Fire to Agricultural Institute

St. Jerome — Judge Hermann Barrette last Friday sentenced Olibert Senecal, 40-year-old self-confessed pryomaniac, to 10 years in penitentiary after he admitted setting fire to the Trappist Order's Agricultural College at Oka the previous week. The blaze caused $2,000 damage.

Senecal, who served a six-month term at Joliette eight years ago when convicted of a charge of attempted arson, admitted in Magistrate's Court that he set the fire, and also a fire last January 26 in the school which caused $10,000, damage, because he "loved the sight of flames."

The school accommodates nearly 250 students who study agriculture and veterinary work.

February Meetings in County W.I. Branches

Twenty-six members and two guests attended the February meeting of the Arundel W.I. A social evening was enjoyed, with games, contests and refreshments, convened by the executive.

The meeting of Brownsburg branch was in charge of the 2nd vice-president, Mrs. H. Potter. Thirty-seven members exchanged Valentines as their roll-call. There were three guests present. A "personal parcel" was sent to England, and a gift to a sick lady who was formerly a member. Pamphlets in connection with Health Week were distributed by the convener, Mrs. N. MacAllister. Mrs. Geo. Leggett, county president, gave an interesting report of the semi-annual provincial board meeting, held in Montreal. Plans were made to hold a salad tea and sale of home-cooking later in the month. Games were played and refreshments served at the close of the meeting. On Saturday, February 4, this branch gave an enjoyable Valentine party for the children and grandchildren of members, in the United Church basement.

Frontier branch held a Grandmothers' Day meeting, with 24 members and two visitors present, among whom there were five grandmothers. A prize was given to the youngest and the eldest grandmother, and each one gave a two-minute talk comparing the past and the present. A parcel of clothing was sent overseas. Fruit was sent to three members who had been hospitalized. Mrs. A. G. Leggett, county president, gave a resumé of the board meeting held in Montreal.

Mrs. Leggett also attended the meeting of the Jerusalem-Bethany branch, giving an interesting talk on Institute work in general, and bringing the branch up to date on what is happening in county Institute work. Mrs. H. Jacobsen was another guest speaker, giving an instructive talk on Denmark, its people and customs.

Twenty-three members were present at the meeting of Lachute

City Salesman Collects Prize, 1950 Automobile

A car "drawing" these days is a common affair — but still a thing of unique physchological interest. . .

For every dozen optimists, who count the days with confidence and build fantastic dreams on the prize they're sure to win — there is still one practical soul who deposits his ticket in a drawer (with 59 others, past and pending) and promptly forgets it. . .

It was the philosopher, the one-in-a-dozen, who fell heir to the DeLuxe Meteor Sedan drawn last Thursday at the Knights of Columbus bingo.

Charles Clusiau, the winner, came Saturday afternoon from his home in Verdun, Que., with his wife and two sons to collect the prize; and they were a highly elated family. They were greeted by B. Gosselin and J. G. Lamontagne, two stalwarts of the K. of C. council, at Pollock & Graves Motors Ltd., local dealers, who had supplied the automobile at cost price. Here Mr. Clusiau paid his dollar (the nominal purchase price), plus taxes amounting to five per cent on the list price of the automobile, and forthwith took possession.

At 11.30 p.m. last Thursday, Mr. Clusiau had received a phone call telling him of his good fortune. His first remark was not recorded, but it was likely "Phooey!" — for he was convinced someone was pulling a joke. It turned out, however, that he actually held the winning ticket, No. 7613.

Charles Clusiau is a sales representative for France Film in Montreal, handling projection equipment. He informed The Watchman on Saturday, that in the course of his business contacts, he buys numerous tickets and gives them no further thought. This one, however, which was sold to him by Bernard Dumais, paid dividends which he little expected. The Clusiau family did not own a car prior to this stroke of good luck.

Defence in the Night

One of the first air-to-air photographs to be taken of the new Vampire night fighter, the De Havilland 113, Britain's latest night fighter. It is a two-seater machine, fitted with radar, and the nose and cockpit layout are based on the design of the famous Mosquito night fighter. It has been designed to combine the performance of the standard Vampire fighter with the crew and equipment of existing night fighters, and exceeds the performance of the latter by something like 130 m.p.h. and an extra operational ceiling of 8/10,000 ft.

Community Rink For Vankleek Hill

Following is Item No. 1 of community news in Vankleek Hill, as summarized in a headlines of last week's Eastern Ontario Review:

Community rink to be started in April — Women's Institute to have kitchen, lounge room and hall — Farmers donating logs — Local truckers to haul them into mill — Committee appointed to select site — Campaign for funds moves into high gear.

Curling Foursome Brings Home Mitchell Trophy in E.T. Bonspiel

Last week two rinks of Lachute curlers — one skipped by W. S. MacKimmie, the other by D. MacTavish participated in the Eastern Townships Bonspiel, held at Sherbrooke and surrounding clubs. There were 78 rinks entered in the bonspiel, and the Lachute foursome skipped by D. MacTavish (who appears to be equally successful with a curling stone in the wintertime as he is with a race horse in the summer) returned home with the Mitchell Trophy.

This team ran high scores in most of their games — in all of which, with one exception, they were the victors. Their opponents, in the following order, were players from — Montreal West, Lennoxville, Thetford Mines, Lachute (their brother rink, whom they unfortunately had to eliminate), Lennoxville, and lastly Sherbrooke.

At the conclusion of the final game, they were presented with the trophy, together with pressure cookers to each player. Among the impressions brought back was the delightful rink that has been established in Magog, with two sheets of artificial ice and not unlike the Lachute rink. This club also gave the impression that they will be definitely heard from in the near future.

Mr. MacTavish's rink was composed of himself, Geo. Muir, Geo. Calder and C. McOuat — who are now resting from their labors.

The Sherbrooke Record, in reporting the highlights of five trophy bonspiels in this annual event, gives the following account of the showdown for the Mitchell award:

The Nicol-MacTavish duel developed into a knock-out game, as both teams kept tossing fast ones, with the odd draw mixed in. It was a tight game until the seventh end, when MacTavish picked up a three end to jump out in front 9-5. In the following end Skipper Nicol had a big house built up with six stones counting, but MacTavish tossed one down to roll and wick in around and count. In the following end MacTavish came through with a repeat to cut Nicol's rink out of four and count another singleton. The match ended in the next end as Skipper MacTavish, still pulling off his outstanding shots, chalked up four to move ahead 15-6 and take the match and the J. S. Mitchell and Company trophy.

On the home ice, the finals of the President's Prize were played Tuesday night, E. M. Jones winning the trophy against Geo. Muir.

Finals are also pending in two other annual contests as this report goes to press, namely, the Senior and Junior Mackie bonspiels.

Lady Curlers Entered In Sherbrooke 'Spiel

Two ladies' teams from Lachute entered in the annual Sherbrooke Bonspiel last Monday, and play is still continuing in these contests. The Lachute entrants are —

Mrs. K. Campbell, Mrs. A. Hills, Mrs. J. R. McOuat, Mrs. W. M. Cottingham (skip).

Mrs. N. W. Boyd, Mrs. A. Ogilvie, Mrs. J. Barbour, Mrs. Geo. McGibbon (skip).

Lions' Effort for Crippled Children, Easter Seals Drive

To Participate in Organized Effort Throughout Province

The Easter Seals Campaign, to raise funds solely for the benefit of crippled children and adults, will get under way very shortly. Half a million sheets of an artistic Easter Seal are to be distributed during the month of March, with the co-operation of various Service Clubs in this province who have volunteered to organize their respective territories. . The Lachute Lions Club are sponsoring the drive in this particular district.

The Quebec Easter Seal Society has been incorporated under provincial charter for the purpose of organizing the campaign and coordinating the efforts of the Service Clubs, whose members will dispatch thousands of envelopes enclosing a sheet of seals, inviting the recipient to contribute a donation for the benefit of cripples.

The use of seals as a means of raising money for charitable purposes is a world-wide custom, notably the Christmas Seal, in the battle against tuberculosis. In the same way money is raised through the Easter Seal and devoted solely to aiding cripples. The idea was started in the United States some 15 years ago and has spread throughout the continent. Ontario has had most successful results from its campaigns for the past four years. Last year the idea was taken up by the Rotary Club of Montreal, with the co-operation of some other Service Clubs with excellent results.

This year, however, through the Quebec Easter Seal Society, the whole province has been organized and territory allotted to specific Service Clubs. Rotary will look after the Island of Montreal and the municipalities adjacent to it on the South Shore. Sherbrooke and Granby Kiwanis Clubs will be the centres for the Eastern Townships effort, while the Lachute Lions Club will be responsible for this area. In Quebec City, Hull and Huntingdon, the local Rotary Clubs will be the focal point, while in Three Rivers and Shawinigan Falls the campaign is being conducted directly by the Society.

In every territory where a Service Club is conducting the campaign, one half of the gross proceeds will be retained by that club to expend on behalf of cripples in its own locality. The other half will be forwarded to the Quebec Easter Seal Society, for distribution on a province-wide basis for the work of rehabilitation of cripples.

For example, a grant will be made to the Province of Quebec Society for Crippled Children Inc., which for 19 years has done splendid work in seeking out crippled children in all parts of the province, providing them with braces, boots and other orthopaedic equipment, arranging for their medical or surgical treatment in recogized children's hospitals, and providing transportation for them to and from the clinics. In addition, the Society takes some 265 children to its summer camp at St. Alphonse de Joliette, each for a month, with beneficial results to their health.

Because it is believed there are many hundreds of adults in the province who are cripples, and for whose rehabilitation there has been no organized effort, the Rehabilitation Society for Cripples was formed last year with the object of providing older cripples with physical equipment or special training to become useful, self-supporting citizens. A plan is now in preparation to establish a centre or centres for this work as soon as funds are available, and a representative Board of Directors has this matter in hand.

There are other projects specially devoted to the welfare of crippled children and adults who, through the Quebec Easter Seal Society, will be benefactors from the generosity of the public in the purchase next month of Easter Seals.

Music Festival for District Schools To Be Held Here in Month of April

Syllabus Outlined for Competitions

A Music Festival open to all the schools comprising the Central School Unit of the Counties of Argenteuil and Two Mountains, is being planned for the last week of April by a special committee of the newly-formed Teachers' Association. This is a new venture designed to further the interests of good music among the young people of the district communities.

This Festival will consist of classes in which individual pupils may compete with piano, vocal or instrumental solos. There are other classes in which the various grades of each school may participate in group singing. Junior and senior choirs, rhythm bands and instrumental ensembles will also be featured in the competitions.

The object of the Festival is to encourage the pupils in their musical study, and to give them an opportunity to see what the students of other schools are doing.

The actual program will be given in a morning and afternoon session, with a concert in the evening presenting some of the best performances of the day, also with special music which will be procured for the occasion.

Two Montreal music specialists have been asked to act as adjudicators, but no definite arrangements have yet been completed in this respect.

The success and continuance of this venture can only be assurred by the support of all the people in the area, and the committee are confident the event will receive this well merited support.

County Lumbermen Head Committees

At the 42nd annual convention of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, held last week in Montreal, two local businessmen prominent in the industry were named chairmen of respective bureaus in the organization — Georges-E. Dansereau, of Granville, heading the hardwood bureau, and Leopold Carrière, of Lachute, heading the retail lumber department.

A number of mill operators from this district attended the conference and benefitted by the discussions. The Association, among its resolutions, commended the federal government for passage of the act "making it possible for the Dominion to financially assist in the preservation and improvement of our Canadian forests" and urged the provincial governments to co-operate with the federal authorities in making the act effective.

Harold E. Gill, president of the Birch Lumber Company, Montreal, was elected president of the Association and Roland Bock, president of the Shearer Lumber Co. Ltd., was named vice-president.

Gatineau LINES

Same Size, Same Rate

Probably everyone who gets an electricity bill knows that the cost per kilowatt is based on a sliding scale; the more electricity used, the less the cost per kilowatt hour.

There are, however, two other factors which have an important part to play in keeping the electricity costs as low as possible:

Similar rates for communities of similar size.

The one-meter system.

As these two factors are of considerable importance to our customers, we would like to take a couple of columns to review them for you.

Similar Rates

The principle of "same size, same rate" consists of establishing equal rates for communities of equal size, regardless of their distance from the source of electricity. It costs a lot of money to move electricity any distance over transmission lines. It costs more to provide service to a customer 20 miles from a power station than it does to a customer 10 miles from a power station.

At first thought it might appear that the power company would be wise if it charged the cost of moving electricity directly to the customers who use it regardless of their distance from the source. If the power company did this, however, it would bring hardships to many communities. Places located a long way from the source of power would then have high electricity rates. Since the cost of electricity is an important factor in many industries, the industries would probably move away from a high cost area; and many communities would grow smaller and less prosperous, not through any fault of their own but merely because they did not have cheap electric power.

It was to avoid this situation that Gatineau Power Company established the principle of equal rates for communities of equal size regardless of their distance from the source of electricity. This system is now general throughout practically all of the province. It means that each community has the same chance of progressing as every other community of similar size.

Next week we would like to explain the one-meter system and the way it benefits our customers.

Sees Shortage of Horses On Canadian Farms

Production on many Canadian farms may be endangered within two or three years by a nation-wide shortage of work horses, a Federal horse expert said in Ottawa last week.

Dr. F. J. Leslie, a director of the Agricultural Department's Animal Health Division, said the shortage would develop unless Canada's farmers started immediately on a large-scale horse-breeding program.

Breeding of foals and yearlings by Canadian farmers has dropped off to the danger point and is not sufficient to ensure replacements", Leslie said." If breeding continues to decrease, many farmers soon will find it impossible to get enough horses to work their farms."

Leslie said there were about 1,800,000 farm horses in Canada, "the minimum number of mature animals required by the nation's farmers".

He said breeding had dropped to a low where it represented only about 4.19 per cent and that this was a "dangerously low figure". He urged farmers to take immediate action to bring the percentage up to 10 or 12.

"At least 10 per cent of the work horse population should be producing foals and yearlings to assure a future supply of horses", he said.

Hitch-Hiking Pests

The danger of infesting a territory with "foreign" agricultural pests by means of air transport is keenly felt by Canadian entomologists.

Although no large outbreaks of destructive insects have been directly attributed to this means of pest migration, it is well known that certain insects have been found in cargos of airplanes several hundred miles from their natural habitat. Should spraying and quarantine regulations be relaxed, there is no reason to believe that a serious outbreak could not occur, states G. R. Snyder of C-I-L's agricultural chemicals division.

Spraying has proved to be the most effective way of controlling the spread of insects by aircraft, Mr. Snyder claims. Passenger and cargo planes alike should be sprayed with DDT to build up a toxic deposit of insecticide in the plane's interior. This should be supplemented by the use of an aerosal to give a rapid knock-down of more susceptible pests.

Disinfection is only required when the insect population of the two ports of call are different or if an insect-borne disease occurs only at one.

Quality Crops With Quality Seed

A good starting point for crop quality improvement is to sow pure seed of those varieties that have proved suitable for the areas where the crop is to be grown. The grower who purchases Registered or Certified seed is getting the highest grade of seed obtainable in Canada. Registered seed type plant per 10,000 plants, while certified seed may only have one contains less than one major off-off-type plant in every 1,000 plants. These high grade seeds are sold only in sealed containers with official tags bearing the grade and variety name. This is the purchaser's guarantee that the seed he has obtained comes up to the stringent standards for grades as set forth by the Canadian Seed Growers' Association and the Plant Products Division, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

There are numerous advantages from using high quality seed. It assures highest grades possible, since the use of pure seed has eliminated the off-grades impure seed might bring. Uniform maturity, too, is assured — a matter of considerable importance with the increasing use of combine harvesting for many crops. And the possibility of increasing weeds is reduced to a minimum because of the almost complete absence of weed seeds in this high quality seed.

Canada's Population Anticipated 14 Million End of Current Year

Ottawa —

If Canada's population keeps on growing as quickly as it has since June, there should be 14,000,000 people in the country by the end of 1950.

The population stood at 13,707,000 in December, after increasing 26,00 0a month for the six previous months, the bureau of statistics reported. At that rate, 14,26,000 a month for the six prev-of this year.

There are indications, however, that the rate of increase is slowing down.

During the last five years, 362,451 immigrants have come to the Dominion. But in 1949 the number was only 95,217, a drop of 24.1 per cent, and the number is expected to be even smaller this year.

Current restrictions, the newly-formed immigration department said, prevent some people from leaving western Europe for Canada and "it is practically impossible for members of many other races in Europe to leave their countries".

Should Government Own Property?

MUNICIPAL governments profess to be outraged at the new tax formula offered by the federal government to remunerate cities, towns and villages for what have been to date tax exempt properties. We have every sympathy with the municipalities but we wonder whether they have as yet got to the heart of the problem.

Our federal government spends millions of dollars of our tax money each year to build public buildings across the Dominion. Millions more are spent to revise and repair these buildings. Many of these construction projects are dictated not solely by economic need, but by political and employment considerations. Few of us would argue that our public investments in undertakings of this type are handled efficiently or economically. Public construction is very often a "pork barrel" product.

Might it not be worthwhile to consider the practicability of disposing of current publicly-owned buildings and refusing to build any more? Rather we, as a government, would adopt the same procedure as is now found to be most efficient by large business, namely the leasing of property on long-term rentals.

If the government required space in a particular municipality, it would advertise that it was prepared to rent space of the following specifications for a certain period of time and would invite tenders for the supplying of that space. Private contractors who had land sites on which they wished to erect buildings could then offer their proposals. Existing property owners could tender, making such conversions, themselves, as would be necessary.

In this way, we believe, millions of dollars' worth of our money would be saved and the whole question of the tax relationship between the federal government and the local municipal government would be solved.

Property would remain, as it should be, in private hands. That privately-owned property would pay its proper tax load. The federal government would not have millions of dollars tied up in property sometimes of dubious value. The actual true cost of operating each government department, insofar as property charges are concerned, would be known annually through annual rentals.

The Power of A Woman

WHEN Chambers of Commerce, municipal groups, town councils, transportation experts and economists discuss the problems of attracting industry to a particular municipality, they talk about such things as freight rates, proximity to the source of material supply, and distribution costs.

They are partly right, for these are factors which have some part in determining the most economic location of any industrial enterprise.

Never, however, underestimate the power of a woman!

In recent discussions with several manufacturers who are considering moving their plants from large cities to smaller communities, we were told that the biggest single obstacle was not the cost of moving, the finding of adequate personnel, nor freight rates, but merely convincing the wives of certain key employees that life in a small town was "human".

One manufacturer who had moved to a point 60 miles outside Toronto some three years ago was being forced to return to the city because the wives of certain of his executives would not adjust themselves to life and friends in a smaller centre.

Making strangers feel at home, improving local recreation facilities, raising the cultural level of a community and other similar considerations are often "pooh-poohed" by hard-headed business men and labor leaders, who claim that the main job of a chamber of commerce or a town council is to go out and get more industry.

It often happens, however, that seemingly unimportant considerations such as these are the very things which determine the industrial and commercial prosperity of a town or village.

Many industrial heads move their plants to new communities because they are attracted by the way of life in those communities, not because of economic factors. They like the fishing. They like the people. They like the beauty of the streets. They are impressed by the cleanliness of the town. In other words, they think that's the sort of place I'd like to live in and raise my children. And if their key executives feel the same way, the industrial progress of that town is sure.

A friendly welcome and a friendly face is often a greater asset to a community than a strategic location.

Memo to Scientists

WE HATE to bother the scientists. They've given us flying machines and television sets and penicillin and super-bombs. They've improved our diet and streamlined our automobiles. . . But we wish they'd do something about the weather.

All we need is a simple gadget with a row of buttons on it, so we can control the temperature with a thermostat and turn on a rain shower or snow flurry when we want it. And turn them off when we've had enough.

Take this winter, for instance. Hotelkeepers in the Laurentians complained because there wasn't enough snow to attract skiers. Railwaymen in the Rockies had so much of it that they couldn't keep their trains running.

It isn't consistently cold enough for southern Ontario youngsters to play hockey outdoors, nor warm enough for Vancouver couples to promenade in Stanley Park.

A few more gadgets would help. An outdoor air-conditioning unit could keep the crops reasonably moist during dry spells. Speckled sunshades, tailored to the individual, would keep the sun's rays off the spots that freckle.

The weather remains one of the least-understood feature of our existence. Meteorologists can predict it a little more accurately than a man can pick a winner in a horse-race, but not much. And when their worst predictions come true, nobody can do very much about it.

Perhaps the people who drop dry ice into clouds to produce a rainstorm will eventually make the trick work often enough to trust themselves to put on a performance in front of an audience. So far their record is spotty. . . But maybe they'd be wiser not to improve their technique too much until they're sure they can drop pieces of absorbent cotton into the clouds afterwards to make the rain stop.

A HELPFUL hint from the Ontario Department of Highways: Keep in the pocket of your car a small rag wrapped around a handful of common salt and tied up. It will be a big help when you have to clean a layer of frost or frozen rain off your windshield (and other windows too). Another handy thing is an old razor blade in some kind of holder.

MANITOBA is preparing to adopt permanent license plates for automobiles. Car thieves, observes The Financial Post, will not like this, because it will make their work more difficult, but the average motorist will certainly cheer. No longer will it be necessary to fray tempers and fingers in wrestling with rusted bolts, not to mention wasting time. No one, not even the bureaucrats who invented the plan, has ever been able to advance one good reason for this annual renewal of plates. . . Except those of us who see the evidence of extreme climate and uncertain roads (we may add). The battered license plates on cars sometimes appearing in this town might present an argument for re-issue of the markers in exceptional cases.

"SPORTS CAMERA"

By Wally Izsak

Conn Smythe, they say, is one of the shrewdest player traders hockey has ever seen. And by past experience this has been borne out.

Smythe, they also say, is one of the smartest publicity-getters the game has had. And this, too, is borne out.

In the last six months the general manager of Toronto Maple Leafs has twice shoved other news from sports headlines with statements that echoed through the National Hockey League. The Battle of Broda's Bulge — when goalie Turk Broda of the Leafs was ordered to slim down or else — is still fresh in the memories of most hockey fans.

And recently came his verbal tiff with Weston Adams, president of the Boston Bruins. And from all appearances that, too, is a neat publicity stunt. It came about this way.

Smythe, on his way back to Toronto from a Florida vacation, stopped off at Boston to watch his team play. While there he called a press conference and made the statement that Boston doesn't know how to sell or publicize hockey. He also said Art Ross, Bruins' general manager, had been "gagged" by Adams.

Naturally Adams vigorously denied these charges. Ross, too, denied the "gagging" report.

But right or wrong, Smythe certainly demonstrated how to "publicize" hockey, for the verbal goings-on between the two men was picked up right around the circuit.

Even at that, Adams' explanation of falling Boston gates bore some logic. Said Adams: "Smythe has a dream schedule and ours isn't good. We'd like to have 24 Sundays with our other 11 dates split between Saturday and Wednesday."

"Smythe . . . has all the best of the schedule. He has all those Saturday nights, Toronto's best night of the week."

The cry was "Go west, young man", but now the signpost points the other way for budding young Canadian boxers — they're going over to Great Britain.

Li'l Arthur Kin of Toronto started it when he took off for London and snatched the British Empire lightweight crown. He returned to Canada and then signed up with an American promoter and presently is fighting out of Philadelphia.

After King's success in England other Canadians followed and currently there are at least five top-notchers making a name for themselves over there.

Two are Canadian champions — heavyweight Vern Escoe of Toronto and bantam-weight Fernando Gagnon of Quebec.

Escoe, along with another successful heavy, Earl Walls of Windsor, Ont., have their eye on the British heavyweight title. The two latest arrivals are middleweight Frankie Belanger and bantam-weight Charlie Savard, both of Quebec.

Advanced weather predictions have been made successfully, according to Brown Instruments engineers, by electrically measuring the effects of atmospheric changes on large trees and recording the results on electronic devices.

"I Prayed Out Loud"

(Christian Science Monitor)

For 20 miles downhill, around curves, and through downtown Milwaukee the front section of a Diesel locomotive rolled at high speed without brakes or power after a collision with a trailer truck had freakishly cut it loose from its train and broken the compressed air hose.

"I prayed out loud", said the engineer, William Jordan. "I yelled to the fireman to pray out loud, too. And our prayers were answered. We came in on a wing and a prayer."

The engine finally came to a stop on an upgrade after dispatchers and a quick-thinking secretary to the general superintendent had worked at high speed to clear the track for it and set engines to catch it if necessary.

Men and women often turn to God for help when every material resource apparently has failed; many thousands can say with conviction that this course helps. It is equally important and equally a protection that, whether in emergencies or in everyday affairs, we consistently pray that God's will be done, that right steps be taken, and that we and others be protected from harm.

Many Canadians who started work in railway shops have risen to high executive jobs with their lines.

SHOULD PAY TAXES

All through the year pedlars operate in town. They pay no taxes, they have no reputation to maintain, they have no concern for the good of the town. We believe that out-of-town pedlars should be expected to pay a substantial business tax.

STILL EXPORTING BRAINS

The resignation of a young veterinarian from the Nova Scotia Agricultural College indicates this province is still doing a flourishing export business in the commodity it can least afford to spare — brains.

COME TO CHURCH !

"And the hour shall be filled with music,
With songs, and praise, and prayer;
And the burdens of life shall be lifted
From all who enter there."

It is good for us in the general uproar of the world to pass through a season of quiet meditation and put our fingers on our spiritual pulses and see what kind of life we are living. We cannot best estimate our own life in the noise of the street and the turbulence of the world; we need to retire within and shut the door that we may see with a quiet eye and balanced judgment what manner of persons we are. The world is too much with us, and late or soon we spend our spiritual substance in worldly ambitions and anxious living. Simply to step into the seclusion and quiet of a church tends to cool our fevered pulses and calm our agitated hearts and give up peace. God is the great need of our souls, and while we should always live in His presence, yet there are times and means for realizing in a special degree His nearness.

Exile from Sunnyacres

— XIV —

By Margaret Cook

Circumstances have made it necessary that we be in the city a great deal this past month, therefore this will deal with various phases of urban life that may be of interest to those fortunate enough to live "far from the madding crowd."

The easiest way to reach the city from our suburb is by train, and since trains are often late, one hears some very queer conversations in the waiting-room. These being carried on in more than normal tones, we have no qualms in reporting them. The following was heard some two weeks ago. It is not verbatim, but is an abridged and correct report: —

First Young Man: "Where are you this year?"

Second Young Man: "I'm out at C—— (a well-known college)".

F.Y.M.: "What's it like?"

S.Y.M.: "Fine! Lots of beer and women. No rules about hours. I often stay out all night".

F.Y.M.: "How much does it cost?"

S.Y.M.: "Less than $400 altogether."

F.Y.M.: "Why, I pay that much in tuition."

S.Y.M.: "Well, I can't live with them at home, so I live out there. And do we have fun!"

F.Y.M.: "Can you get a degree?"

S.Y.M.: "Yes, you can, but we don't; we get only a diploma. There are fellows that work, but we don't. We go to the lectures, but at night we just hell around. Once we took some women students and we all got stewed — nearly got expelled over that."

F.Y.M.: "What's the food like?"

S.Y.M.: "Lots of crabbing about that, but I like it. It all depends on what you are used to at home"..

Here the train came around the bend, and in the ensuing scramble we lost sight of these two specimens of college youth. We do not say that they are typical of their generation, but it does make one wonder if the current trend to send everyone to college is producing quite the type of citizens a young country requires.

Eating in restaurants, as well as commuting, has its compensations. Whether one eats in the better-class French places where one is welcomed as an honored guest by a suave host, or in the get-your-order-at-the-counter eateries, one soon becomes aware that Montreal is changing. It is becoming cosmopolitan rather than French, and one hears all around one German, Spanish and Scandinavian. These are our new Canadians talking and, for the most part, they are a good-looking crowd, distinguished from the rest of us only by their intonations and their better manners. Waiting for our order the other day we witnessed an amusing incident. . .

A young, broad-shouldered fellow came and seated his companion in a booth while he went to the counter to order. Soon after, two mean-looking males entered and, seeing no place they fancied as much as the cosy, green-lined booth with its lone female occupant, they urged her to seek a smaller table. To our surprise, she meekly took a draughty table near the door. Returning to the booth with two trays of food, the young man was puzzled to find the strangers in occupancy. It was then that the conversation became audible to the interested ears around. "You asked my vife to move!" bellowed the tray carrier, "Vhy did you do that?" He lowered the heavy trays to the table and hunched his big shoulders over the slim young table-grabbers. He was a husky man of foreign extraction and wore the white coat affected by barbers and hairdressers; moreover, he had a large and aggressive moustache, so that he must have appeared to the unhappy youths as a malevolent walrus. We waited hopefully for something nasty to happen."Vell!" he said, heavily and loudly, "You were very, very rude." After this oral wrist-slapping, he sat quietly down beside his meek little wife and ate stolidly, oblivious alike of our smiles or the red faces of the two in the booth. My companion was moved to remonstrate with me. "You", he observed coldly, "are grinning like a Cheshire cat at the discomfiture of those fellows. It is very rude."

"They deserved more than they got", I retorted, "and anyway, you are being rude, too", for in his annoyance with me, he had put his arms into his coat with such vigor, that he had poked the man at the table behind him. This, added to the stifled mirth over the other episode, was too much for the assembled diners and we left the place on a gale of laughter. Montreal, I thought to myself, is fun. Toronto is polite but aloof and a little dingy; Winnipeg is brisk and alive with an all-pervading wind riding a cold north light; in Vancouver, the light is gentle and the people friendly; San Francisco is the most beautiful city on the continent, to our way of thinking; Boston is London in miniature, and London is indescribable; Paris is History in a gay jacket . . . but Montreal is FUN!

After the comedy at the restaurant, we returned to the Missionary meeting we were attending along with 359 other women and four men, two of the latter being the Primate of all Canada and the Lord Bishop of Montreal, respectively. The afternoon wound its way slowly through various reports and greetings, enlivened by only two stirring speeches, one by a nurse who had spent the better part of her life in China. She was a tiny woman but still undaunted and optimistic, although she had left China in the grip of the Communists. Said she, "I am not discouraged about our work, because it is also God's work."

The other speaker was the Field Secretary of the M.S.C.C. Always eloquent, he excelled himself on the subject of post-war Japan, much to our secret amusement, because he had previously confided that the sight of so many women addled his wits with fright. Fuel was added to my mirth by this interchange with a lady I had

ANNOUNCING JEHOVAH'S KINGDOM

That is what the "Watch-Tower" has been doing since the year 1879.

Its Mission: This journal is published for the purpose of enabling the people to know Jehovah God and his purposes as expressed in the Bible. It publishes Bible instruction specifically designed to aid Jehovah's witnesses and all people of good-will. It arranges systematic Bible study for its readers and the Society supplies other literature to aid in such studies. It publishes suitable material for radio broadcasting and for other means of public instruction in the Scriptures.

It adheres strictly to the Bible as authority for its utterances. It is entirely free and separate from all religion, parties, sects or other worldly organizations. It is wholly and without reservation for the kingdom of Jehovah God under Christ his beloved King. It is not dogmatic, but invites careful and critical examination of its contents in the light of the Scriptures. It does not indulge in controversy, and its columns are not open to personalities.

Until May 1st you may have the Watch-Tower, twice monthly, with eight scriptural booklets, for the small sum of $1 per year. Start a study of God's Word and find out the meaning of the terrible things you now see coming on the earth. — Write to 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto.

THE MOST RELIABLE SOURCE FOR AN ANSWER TO LIFE'S PROBLEMS

"And all thy children shall be taught of Jehovah; and great shall be the peace of thy children." — Isaiah 54:13.

The Bible clearly teaches

THAT JEHOVAH is the only true God, from everlasting to everlasting, and is the Maker of heaven and earth and Giver of life to his creatures; that the Word or Logos was the beginning of his creation and his active agent in creating all other things; and that the creature Lucifer rebelled against Jehovah and raised the issue of His universal sovereignty;

THAT GOD created the earth for man, made perfect man for the earth and placed him upon it; that man yielded to unfaithful Lucifer, or Satan, and willfully disobeyed God's law and was sentenced to death; that by reason of Adam's wrong act all men are born sinners and without the right of life;

THAT THE LOGOS was made human as the man Jesus and suffered death in order to produce the ransom or redemptive price for obedient men; that God raised up Christ Jesus divine and exalted him to heaven above every other creature and clothed him with all power and authority as head of God's new capital organization;

THAT GOD'S CAPITAL ORGANIZATION is a Theocracy called Zion, and that Christ Jesus is the Chief Officer thereof and is the rightful King of the new world; that the faithful anointed followers of Christ Jesus are Zion's children, members of Jehovah's organization, and are His witnesses whose duty and privilege it is to testify to Jehovah's supremacy and declare his purposes toward mankind as expressed in the Bible;

THAT THE OLD WORLD, or Satan's uninterrupted rule, ended A.D. 1914, and Christ Jesus has been placed by Jehovah upon the throne, has ousted Satan from heaven, and now proceeds to vindicate His name and establish the "new earth"; (Rev. 12:12)

THAT THE RELIF and blessings of the people can come only by Jehovah's kingdom under Christ, which has begun; that His next great act is to destroy Satan's organization and establish righteousness completely in the earth; and that under the Kingdom the people of good-will surviving Armageddon will carry out the divine mandate to "fill the earth" with righteous offspring, and that the human dead in the graves will be raised to opportunities of life on earth.

OBITUARY

Late Sydney V. Kendall

Mr. Sydney V. Kendall passed away quietly after a long illness in his home, "Drumkeen", at Carillon Hill last Sunday, February 19.

A small family service was held at the residence on Tuesday, conducted by the Rev. A. G. Moore, of Cushing, and the remains were taken to Montreal for cremation, and thence to Toronto.

The late Mr. Kendall, 63 years of age, was born at Croydon, Surrey, England; he was educated at Seaford College, and came to reside in Canada in 1910.

He is survived by his wife, the former Anne Louise Burrus, two daughters, Mrs. G. B. Simpson and Mrs. David D. Millar, also four grandchildren.

Late Peter A. Thomsen

The death of Peter A. Thomsen, a quiet and unassuming citizen, little known but respected by his friends and fellow workers, occurred last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Paulsen on Henry Street. In ill health for some months past, he had been under treatment at the Royal Victoria Hospital, returning to Lachute a few weeks ago.

Mr. Thomsen was born at Thisted, Denmark, on December 17, 1894, and emigrated to this country in 1927. He had lived in Lachute for the past 15 years, being employed as a carpenter and cabinet-maker at the former Cottingham Supply Company and at Ayers Limited. He was unmarried, and is survived only by a sister, Mrs. V. Jensen, and other relatives in Denmark.

His spirit of good citizenship was manifest over the past several years in a gift of his own workmanship — a beautiful inlaid cabinet, to a pupil of the Household Science class at the annual prize-giving of Lachute High School. A group of school pupils were present at the funeral service, as a token of tribute to his generous encouragement. The Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiated, in the presence of his fellow countrymen and friends in this community.

Pall-bearers were — Norman Silverson, John Simon, Martin Niederkorn, Marius Paulsen, W. Boa, and L. Elder. The remains were borne to their last resting place at Lachute Cemetery.

MONTH'S MEETINGS OF W.I. BRANCHES

branch. Thank-you letters for parcels sent overseas, were read. After the business meeting, Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., spoke on the subject, "What do You Consider Your Responsibility as a Citizen to Be?" He pointed out that it is the duty of every citizen to do his or her part, all working together to make this country a better place in which to live.

The roll-call at Morin Heights was, "Say something nice about your neighbor to the right". Members of this branch will assist in the coming Red Cross campaign. Another "personal parcel" is to be sent to England. A "military whist" was planned for later in the month. A parcel of cotton and linen was sent to the Canadian Cancer Society, Montreal. A sale of home-cooking netted $8.60 for the funds. A film, "The Loon's Necklace", was much enjoyed and was also shown to the school children. The attendance at this meeting was 20 members and six guests.

Pioneer branch held a quilting bee, the quilt having been donated by a member. At the business meeting, a salad tea was planned for later in the month. Another box was sent overseas. The suggested program was read and discussed. Plans were made for the annual meeting, and flowers were sent to a bereaved family.

Current events were read at the Upper Lachute - East End meeting. Old linen and cotton were collected for cancer victims. The program for 1950-51 was prepared. Mrs. Geo. Leggett, county president, reported on the findings of the board meeting held in January. A Valentine box had been prepared by the convener, and an exchange of Valentines was held.

(Branch presidents—please send programs to Mrs. Albert Ward, Mille Isles, as early in March as possible.)

Baked Beans Provide Satisfying Main Dish

Baked beans and brown bread have been standard Saturday night fare in the eastern provinces and also in many homes right across the country. The combination makes an exceedingly appetizing meal on any day of the week.

The white pea bean, commonly known as the Navy Bean, is an economical and satisfying food. A small quantity of these beans is produced in all provinces, but Canada depends almost entirely on the bean produced in five counties in Ontario to supply its domestic requirements.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, give these pointers on cooking dried beans.

1. Pick over beans, then wash thoroughly.
2. Soak in cold water (3 cups water to 1 cup beans) for at least eight hours or overnight.
3. If possible use soft water for soaking beans. Hard water is apt to toughen the skins.
4. Cook beans slowly. Simmer rather than boil.
5. Be sure to use enough water. Beans absorb water while cooking.

"Baking" beans in the pressure saucepan may seem to be impossible but beans cooked this way are remarkably good and are ready quickly.

Baked Beans

2 Cups white (navy) beans, ¼ lb. salt pork or smoked pork fat, 3 tablespoons brown sugar, 3 tablespoons molasses, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon mustard, ¼ cup chopped onion, 2 tablespoons catsup, 2½ cups water.

Pressure Saucepan Method. — Soak beans, in water to cover, overnight. Drain and place in bottom of pressure saucepan with other ingredients. Cook at 15 lb. pressure for 50 minutes. Yield: about six cups.

Oven Method. — If using a 3-qt. bean pot or baking dish, double the above recipe. Soak beans, in water to cover, overnight. Drain. Cover with fresh water and simmer covered for ½-hour. Drain. Place piece of salt pork in bottom of bean pot. Add beans and remaining salt pork. Mix brown sugar, molasses, salt, mustard, onion, catsup and water and add to beans. Cover pot and bake in a very slow oven, 250°F., for 6 to 8 hours, removing cover during the last half hour of baking. Add boiling water as required during baking, to keep beans covered with liquid. Yield: about 12 cups.

Bean and Cheese Casserole

1 Cup dried white (navy) beans, 3 cups boiling water, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 small carrot, 1 small onion, ¼ green pepper (optional), 2 stalks celery, 3 tablespoons fat, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, salt and pepper to taste, ¾ cup grated "medium" Cheddar cheese.

Soak beans in water to cover, overnight. Drain, add 3 cups boiling water and salt to beans and simmer covered, until tender, about 1½ to 2 hours. Drain. Cut carrot, onion, green pepper and celery into small pieces. Make a sauce of the fat, flour, milk, salt, pepper and cheese. Arrange vegetables and beans in alternate layers in a greased baking dish. Cover with the cheese sauce and top with a mixture of ¼ cup grated cheese and ½ cup fine, dry bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°F., until vegetables are tender, about 30 minutes. Left-over cooked vegetables may be used and the cooking time shortened to 15 or 20 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Joins Staff of Weekly Journal

Miss Joy Guild, who for the past few years has served as demonstrator-secretary for the Quebec Women's Institutes, has resigned from that office and accepted a position with the Family Herald and Weekly Star.

While serving in that capacity for the Q.W.I., Miss Guild has travelled extensively throughout the province, her work taking her to all sections represented in the organization. The varied duties connected with her position, which has included organizing new branches, conducting demonstrations, assisting in county programs, judging at school and county fairs, etc., have brought her into contact with all members, and her efficiency and charming personality have won their esteem and friendship.

Sincere regret is expressed at their loss but all join in wishing her every success in her new field of service, connected with a publication designed to promote rural interests.

FIVE YEARS OF TOIL HELPED CHILD DANCE

Bexley, England (CP) — Doctors call seven-year-old Janet Warren a "miracle child".

For five years they worked to correct a congenital leg deformity. At last they pronounce the legs "perfect".

Janet, born with both hips dislocated, now can run, dance and play with the other kids — after years in hospitals and then in splints.

Industrial Teams Even in League Hockey Finals

The Bears (Dominion Shuttle Co.) having eliminated the Pioneers (Ayers Ltd.) in a two-out-of-three semi-final series, with a 15-minute overtime session last Wednesday and a score of 10-8 — the Shuttle team was then set to meet the league top-notchers, Ayers Tigers, last Sunday, in the first of a three-out-of-five final round. .

This game was a thriller which rattled the rafters of the local Arena, and it took 25 minutes of overtime after three well-matched periods to bring a decision — Ayers Tigers taking the honors, 4-3.

In the second showdown of this intense inter-company series, the Bears (Dominion Shuttle) won last night, 6-3, thus bringing the teams even 1-1 and keying the fans to still keener enthusiasm.

not seen for years. — "Your husband is not a Canadian, is he?" Thinking this a very queer question, I said he certainly was. "Well, he is a wonderful speaker, anyway", she went on. It took me several seconds to realize that she thought I was the wife of the gifted missionary who had just spoken.

Thus February eases into March in the cities, while along the Laurentian brooks, the pussy willows will be exposing their soft grey backs to the winds of spring. The dogwood will soon be clear crimson against the white of the long-awaited snow; the willows will be bright saffron in the sun, and little furry shapes will sniff the air for that first delicious scent of spring. . .

With these thoughts, we stay ourselves while the streets turn to slush and the epidemic of influenza and mumps wears itself out.

Grenville Consolidated School News

By Martha Richardson

A Valentine party was held at the school on February 14. This did not follow the pattern of former occasions, but was more along the lines of a theatre party. The film, "Elephant Boy", was rented from Arrow Films for the entertainment of the pupils. It was a thoroughly enjoyable party. Just before the showing of the picture, the Valentines were distributed to the children. Dozens of them appeared from the mailboxes. . . A highlight of the party was the drawing for a box of chocolates; this was won by Mr. E. Crawford, of Avoca. Proceeds from this raffle went to the chocolate milk fund.

The hockey team visited Lachute to play the L.H.S. juniors, and came out on the short end of the score. They had a really enjoyable time, however, and profited by this game in no small way. They played against a strong and well coached team. It is hoped that a return game can be arranged.

On the evening of Friday, February 17, the children had a sleigh-ride. Following this refreshments were served, and the remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing and a singsong. From all reports it was a very good party. The pupils would like to take this means of thanking Mr. T. D. McMichael for taking them on the ride.

This coming Monday is to be a holiday. When it was announced, there were many, many smiles and no disappointed folk. It is called a "breather holiday", a brief respite for teachers and pupils between the Christmas vacation and Easter.
