"Good Neighbors - Good Citizens" Theme of Prov'l W.I. Convention

All Counties of Q.W.I. Represented, with Appreciable Number from This Community

"Good Canadian Citizenship is the integration of all people within our country into the principles upon which our society is based", said Miss Constance Hayward of the Citizenship Department, Ottawa, giving the keynote address at the opening session of the annual provincial convention of the Quebec Women's Institutes, held at Macdonald College last week, June 27-29. Stating that the whole program of the Institute is a form of Citizenship, Miss Hayward went on to say we must increase our own knowledge of our country and realize each one of us belongs to an ethnic group and must learn to accept the others. She felt the Q.W.I. could help in language education for immigrants in rural areas and stated integration is complete when each feels he is part of the community. "We should increase our own knowledge of the framework upon which our Canadian democracy is built", said the speaker in conclusion, "and have a clear understanding and recognition of the balance between the rights of the individual and the demands of society".

Following the general theme of the convention, "Good Neighbors—Good Citizens", other prominent speakers were heard at the various sessions to discuss all aspects of Institute work, which is designed to promote this building of good citizens. Prof. H. A. Steppler, of the Agronomy Department, Macdonald College, spoke on "Soil Conservation", and the problems connected with feeding a hungry world. Dr. Baruch Silverman, Director, Mental Hygiene Institute, Montreal, enlarged on "Child Training and Adult Adjustment"; and "Education for Leadership", was the title of a talk by Mr. M. J. Dunsmore, Principal of Granby High School and President of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers. On the closing day Mrs. Kate Aitken, of The Montreal Standard, told of "This World of Women".

Pertinent films were shown at all sessions, including the FAO film, "55,000 for Breakfast", which was released just in time for this showing.

All counties in the Q.W.I. were represented at this gathering, with an approximate registration of 180. Members from Lachute and Brownsburg branches attended the Wednesday sessions, making a total of 240.

The slate of officers for the ensuing year was presented at the last session on Thursday, by the chairman of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. George Leggett, Lachute, and was approved as follows:

Past-President, Mrs. W. C. Smallman, Dundee; Hon. Vice-Presidents, Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie, Lennoxville, Mrs. M. E. McCurdy, Lennoxville, Miss A. S. Pritchard, Wyman; President, Mrs. R. Thomson, Abbotsford; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. G. E. LeBaron, North Hatley; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. G. D. Garvey, Stanbridge East; Secretary, Mrs. H. G. Taylor, Macdonald College; Treasurer, Mrs. George Parsons, Bury.

Conveners: Agriculture, Mrs. J. D. Lang, Brysonville; Education, Mrs. A. Coates, East Angus; Home Economics, Mrs. T. H. Kirby, Cookshire; Citizenship, Mrs. E. S. Reed, Gaspe; Welfare & Health, Mrs. H. Ellard, Wright; Publicity, Mrs. W. T. Evans, Lennoxville.

Mrs. E. E. Morton, of Vegreville, Alta., President of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, was a guest at the convention, bringing greetings from the National organization and giving an inspiring talk on W.I. objectives. Other guests were Mme. P. C. LeBeau, secretary of the Home Economics & Handicrafts Division, Department of Agriculture, Quebec; Mme. J. B. Cadrin, St. Anselme, president of the Dorchester Federation "Les Cercles des Fermieres"; Mrs. Wentworth L. Fay, Malone, N.Y., hon. president of the State Federation of Home Bureaus; Miss Esther M. Kerry, president of the Montreal Council of Women; Miss Alice Lighthall, president of the Quebec Branch, Canadian Handicraft Guild; and Miss M. Arnold, a member of an English W.I.

An exhibit of handicrafts made by Q.W.I. members, was a highlight of the convention and attracted many visitors. A collection of beautiful rugs, kindly loaned by Mme LeBeau from "L'Ecole des Arts Domestiques", Quebec, formed a valuable addition to the display.

The convention concluded with a tour of the City of Montreal.

Display by 'Cercle Des Fermières', St. Andrews East

St. Andrews East — The "Union Catholique des Fermières" held the second of what they hope will be an annual exhibition, on Sunday afternoon, July 2, at the village school. Among the exhibits of handiwork were noted: patchwork quilts, loom work, including aprons, ties, scarves, rugs, etc., artificial flowers, knitted children's and men's wear, also crocheted articles, cooking and various articles of fancy work.

The president, Mrs. Z. Gauthier, explained the objects of the society and presented a fashion show of tiny tots in made-over garments.

The Rev. Father Delude voiced appreciation of the work accomplished, and gave encouragement for future effort.

This exhibition was non-competitive, but a few prizes having been given just recently to encourage the workers, these awards were drawn for. Donors were — Mrs. F. Robin, Mrs. J. P. Lanctôt, and Mr. Euclid Ladouceur. The winners were — Mrs. P. St. Jacques, Mrs. E. Raymond, Miss T. Proulx and Mrs. A. Lavallee.

At the close of the display, the exhibits of candy and baking were passed around for those present to sample.

Honor War Dead Of Summer Colony

An Impressive Ceremony at Dunany Golf Club

The golf course at Dunany was the scene of a large gathering on July 1, when a memorial tablet was unveiled in memory of Garth Fish, who paid the supreme sacrifice in World War II, and in honor of war veterans of that district. A new memorial hole was also opened on the course.

Remarks of welcome were given by the Dunany Club president, Mr. R. Raguin, who also introduced the speaker, the Rev. W. B. Rosborough. Mr. Rosborough gave an impressive address suitable to the occasion.

Miss Joan Walker, niece of the late Garth Fish, performed the ceremony of unveiling the memorial tablet. Mr. and Mrs. J. Fish, Garth's parents, were present for the occasion.

The speaker was thanked by Mr. E. A. Everson, and Mrs. Everson, president of the ladies' club, also expressed appreciation to the gathering.

On declaration of the opening of the new hole, the first and subsequent balls were played as follows:

The Army — Major P. M. Haldiman, a veteran of World Wars I and II.

The Navy — The youngest veteran of that service, A. B. Mac Haldiman.

The Air Force — The youngest veteran of that service, L.A.C. Frank Hodgson.

The Women's Services — represented by Wren S.B.A. Dorothy Sutherland.

Regrets at his inability to attend had been received from Mayor Bickerdike of Wentworth, who sent best wishes for future success of the Club.

Refreshments were served by the ladies, and dancing was enjoyed during the evening.

47 YEARS' RAILROADING

Stellarton, N.S. (CP) — George W. Cresine recently retired after more than 47 years with the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Cresine started as an engine cleaner, was promoted to fireman in 1905 and promoted to engineer in 1913, a position he held until he retired.

FLOOD-DAMAGED HOMES

Winnipeg (CP) — At least 40 Winnipeg homes were made permanently uninhabitable by flood damage. The houses, mostly basementless, one-storey buildings, have either been deserted or judged unfit for repairs.

Golden Wedding Of Grenv'l Couple

Mr. and Mrs. S. William Morrow, lifelong residents of Grenville, Que., celebrated their 50th wedding ahniversary on June 26. The happy occasion was marked by a small family gathering.

Mr. Morrow, in partnership with his brother, Mr. Thomas Morrow, conducted a merchandising and undertaking business, under the name of Morrow Bros., for well over 50 years in Grenville. In 1946 they retired from business.

Landmark Burns At Staynerville

The Staynerville Hotel, one of the landmarks of that settlement, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. The three-storey frame structure, which had seen a thriving business in past decades, had been unoccupied for the past 10 years, although the present owner, Arthur Mondoux, a government roads employee, had been to the place quite frequently.

The notel was situated near the C.P.R. station, and the alarm was raised by the station agent, H. Proulx, who sometime after he had retired at his home nearby, saw the reflection of the blaze in his room. The Brownsburg and Lachute fire brigades were notified at around 11.30 p.m., and from the supply tanks in their auxiliary trucks, the firemen applied water to the station and dwelling, which were in danger from heat and flying embers. Nothing could be done to save the hotel building or the articles of furniture it contained.

Contests for Two School Boards

Two Commissioners Re-elected in Lachute and in Brownsburg

Last Monday, nomination day for candidates to two Protestant School Board seats in Lachute, brought forth no new nominees for the vacancies. In consequence the retiring commissioners, Ross Muir and D. R. Bradford, were declared re-elected.

At Brownsburg

Two retiring members of the Brownsburg Protestant School Commission, Hugh Morrison and Wm. Brown, were returned to office by acclamation, at nomination proceedings on Monday.

Township of Gore

In Lakefield, for the school municipality of the Township of Gore, there are four candidates for two vacancies. The retiring commissioners, Rev. C. W. P. Baugh and Austin Kyle, will be running for election next Monday in contest with two other nominees, Albert E. McDonald and James R. Thompson.

St. Andrews East

There will also be a contest Monday in St. Andrews East, where Frederick A. Robertson has entered the lists with two retiring commissioners, Henry Labreche and Howard H. McOuat.

Stolen Automobile Recovered Near Avoca

A Chrysler Windsor 1948 car, reported stolen in Ottawa last Friday, was recovered yesterday near the Avoca road, 3½ miles north of Pte. au Chene. The automobile, bearing a Montreal license plate, was retrieved by Traffic Officer Albert Legault, who found the machine undamaged on a bush trail some distance off the road.

Explosion Occurs In Main St. Café

An explosion in a kitchenette at the Rex Café, Main Street, late Monday afternoon, blasted the plate glass windows on the east side of the storefront and stunned the operator René Gagnon, 32, who had come from Montreal only a few weeks ago to assist in the store. The cook-shop was in a glass-partitioned section at the front of the restaurant, situated in the Laurin Block. It is understood that René Gagnon went to light the gas jet — which he had opened a few minutes previously and, being called away from his work, had momentarily forgotten. The accumulated gas exploded.

Dr. Ant. Pager, of Lachute, was called to attend the victim, who was slightly burned about the eyes but otherwise none the worse for his misadventure.

Lineman Suffers Burns -- Revived After Electrocution

Augustin Lamarche, 32-year-old Gatineau Power employee, suffered severe burns when he came in contact with a high tension wire last Saturday. Lamarche, a resident of this town, was working on a pole line at Beech Ridge, when his arm touched the cable carrying 4,600 volts. The man was struck unconscious, and hung suspended by his safety belt from the pole, with his clothing afire.

The victim owes his survival to a fellow employee, Bernard Vanier, who was supervising the job at Beech Ridge. With commendable presence of mind, Vanier climbed the pole and lowered the unconscious man to the ground by means of a rope. He then applied artificial respiration until the arrival of a physician, Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, and Gatineau officials.

Lamarche was removed by ambulance to the Providence Hospital, Lachute, and later to the Notre Dame Hospital, Montreal, for treatment of his burns.

Since Confederation the Conservative party has won eight national elections, the Liberal party has won twelve.

Experimental Television Studios

British television equipment is now being exported to all parts of the world and manufacturers are planning transmitter stations and studios for countries overseas.

A complete television studio is to be built in Montreal and Toronto by a British radio firm which in spite of fierce competition from other countries, secured the order valued at over 300,000 dollars. Another British radio firm is to build a complete transmitter television station for Brazil. Britain's research into the development of television transmitting equipment and its problems is resulting in its television equipment becoming world famous. This picture shows a model of the Pye experimental television studios, showing the special effects studios, transmitter store, camera control equipment, studio control rooms and masts.

Montrealer Dies in Week-end Crash; Wife and Grenville Couple in Hospital

In a head-on collision between two cars on Route 8 at Calumet last Sunday, a Montrealer was killed instantly, his wife was seriously injured, and a Grenville couple also sustained grave injuries. The crash occurred at 5.30 o'clock east of Druce's Restaurant on the section of highway by-passing Calumet Village.

Fred W. Leavitt, 63, of Westmount, died instantly with skull and chest wounds and fractured limbs. His wife suffered a broken jaw and severe facial injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt were driving homeward from the North Lake Fish and Game Club.

Chas. St. Amant, of Grenville, who was proceeding westward, had both legs fractured, and Mrs. St. Amant was badly cut about the face and head.

The injured were attended by Dr. C. E. Lafrance, of Hawkesbury, and taken to the Notre Dame Hospital in that town — Mr. and Mrs. St. Amant being transferred next day for hospital treatment in Montreal.

The district joint-coroner, Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, and Det. Albert Oggier, of Montreal provincial police headquarters, were notified of the fatality. Inquest on the death of Fred Leavitt will be held as soon as the injured victims can be summoned for evidence. The body was released from the Desforges Funeral Parlors, Grenville, and conveyed to Montreal on Monday.

The deceased was a prominent businessman in Montreal, president of the St. George's Club and active in various sports and spheres of activity. . . The funeral was held this afternoon in Montreal.

Crash at Green Lake

A passenger car and a truck collided on Highway 31 near Green Lake around noon last Saturday. The car, driven by Stanley Smart, of Westmount, former C-I-L works manager at Brownsburg, was damaged to the extent of $1,000. Mr. Smart sustained a bad cut on the left leg; he was taken to Carling Lake nearby, and was treated by Dr. A. R. Coté, of Brownsburg.

The two-ton truck, owned by Federated Press Ltd., and driven by Arthur Potter, of Montreal, was also damaged, to the amount of $200. The driver was unhurt. The two vehicles, travelling in opposite directions, met on a curve.

Traffic Officer Albert Legault, of Brownsburg, investigated both accidents.

Happy Occasion for 25th Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bradford, of North River, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last Saturday with many friends and relatives, at a party given by their children. There was dancing, and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford received lovely pieces of silver, and the family presented them with a silverware set of Lady Hamilton pattern.

Congratulations were extended to the honored couple, with sincere good wishes for their future welfare and happiness.

Auspicious Occasion at Arundel, Opening of Reconstructed School

Dr. W. A. Percival, Director of Que. Protestant Instruction, and County Officials as Speakers

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — The official opening of the Arundel Consolidated School after its extension and renovation, took place Friday evening, June 30.

At 6.30 o'clock a banquet was tendered to about 60 guests including members of the school boards of Morin Heights, Harrington, St. Jovite, Brownsburg and the Central Board from Lachute. Also among the invited guests were the Mayor of Huberdeau together with five other representatives from the Huberdeau community, Mayor and Mrs. R. B. Henry, of Arundel, the chairman and members of the Arundel School Board.

Seated at the head table were Mayor Henry and Mrs. Henry; Mr. and Mrs. M. Graham; Mr. J. Moncrieff (chairman of the Board) and Mrs. Moncrieff; Mr. G. Munich, Warden of Argenteuil County; Mr. F. H. J. Royal, Principal of Lachute High School; Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A.; Mr. L. W. Armstrong, secretary-treasurer of the Central School Board; Mr. Geo. Y. Deacon, representative of the Provincial Protestant Committee; Mrs. McCabe, supervising teacher of Central School Board; the Rev. Graham Barnett, rector of Grace Anglican Church, Arundel; and the guest of honor, Dr. W. P. Percival, Superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction, Quebec.

Mayor R. B. Henry, who acted as chairman, welcomed the visitors, to which Mayor G. Munich of Weir, Mr. Melvin Graham and Mr. Edgar Boyd replied.

On conclusion of the banquet, there was a short recess to allow the visitors to inspect the school. At 8.30 o'clock the evening's program was resumed, and addresses were given from the platform by Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., the Rev. C. W. P. Baugh, Principal Royal and Mr. L. W. Armstrong. Mayor Henry then introduced Mr. W. P. Percival as principal speaker of the evening.

It was an unfortunate circumstance that, early in this second phase of the program, the lights failed; but the speakers carried on despite the handicap and all the discourses were enjoyed throughout. Another short intermission followed, after which a brief musical program was provided by the School Glee Club, and a Japanese Drill which was very colorful, was given under the direction of Mrs. Frank Davis. Two selections by the Glee Club and the singing of the National Anthem brought the program to a close, after which refreshments were served by the ladies of the Women's Institute under whose supervision the banquet was carried out.

Brownsburg Juvenile Police Club Has Outing, Guests of City Group

Brownsburg Boys Will Play Host to Montrealers Saturday, July 15

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — The first away-from-home outing of the Brownsburg Juvenile Police Club took place last week, when the boys visited Montreal at the invitation of the Montreal Club.

Eighty-seven members joined the cavalcade to see two games of softgall played by teams selected from both clubs.

The first match, between teams from 12 to 14, was won by the Brownsburg selection with a score of 14 to 11. Montreal won the second game, between members of from 15 to 18 years, the score being 12 to 11. Both games were played with great spirit and sportsmanship, and offered really enjoyable entertainment to the large number of spectator members and some of the general public. The venue was Fletcher's Field.

Refreshments were served at Lafontaine Park at which the Montreal Club were hosts. A splendid alfresco meal was served. After a round of the park's amusements and sights, the boys were taken to see the game between the Montreal Royals and the Baltimore Orioles, which was the highlight of the day's outing. The boys were received by Capt. Detective Ovila Pelletier, founder of this fast-growing movement of Juvenile Police Clubs, and Mr. Claude A. Bourgeois, well-known radio commentator and personality. Mr. Bourgeois had many nice things to say of the boys, their behavior and fellowship, in his radio broadcast the following day over CKAC, while Ron Maurier, popular sportscaster, devoted a major portion of his broadcast over CJAD to a description of the boys' visit and their qualities as good sports during their softball games.

Transportation was provided free by the Brownsburg people; in fact, some offers of cars had to be refused because of the generosity of the townsfolk. Fourteen cars were accepted, from the following — Maurice Pariseau, Larry Pressault, A. R. Hardie, Elphege Lorange, Ronald Hebert, G. I. McFaul, Adrien Lacasse, Albert Nadon, Cmer Legault, Miss Joan Hodgins, René Lafleur, Ludger Ouellette, Paul Miller, and Police Chief Henri Foucreau — to whose efforts in organizing the Club and arranging the trip, due tribute must be paid. Thanks are also due to Chas. Harding, Philippe Paquette and Jack Seary, who went along in the capacity of umpires.

A return visit will be paid by the Montreal Juvenile Police Club on Saturday, July 15, when an outing will be held at the Social Club grounds, and return games played, in this interesting adventure into the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

Sentenced on Charge of Breaking and Entering

On a charge of breaking and entering, laid by the Lachute Town Corporation, Paul Emile Dallaire, 34-year-old local man, was sentenced to three years' imprisonment last Friday before District Magistrate Hermann Barrette at St. Jerome.

Dallaire was arrested by Police Chief D. Villeneuve in connection with recent robberies from the office of A. D. McGibbon & Sons, and from a residence on the Brownsburg Road. The accused pleaded guilty.

FANTASTIC SPELLING

More profanity has been occasioned by the fantastic spelling of reporters, stenographers and clerks than probably any other failing. One of the unsolved mysteries of modern education is the fact that all sorts of degrees, high and low, may be obtained without the slightest notion how to spell a vast number of ordinary English words in common usage.

Gatineau LINES

The Chaudiere

Right in the centre of the busy Ottawa-Hull urban area are the two Chaudiere power plants of Gatineau Power Company — Chaudiere No. 1 and Chaudiere No. 2. Because they are so close to a thickly-populated area, they are probably the best known of all Gatineau Power's plants — and yet they are the smallest of all the company's properties on the Gatineau and Ottawa Rivers.

Chaudiere No. 2, which operates continuously, has an installed capacity of 22,500 horsepower in three units of 7,500 horsepower each. Chaudiere No. 1, which operates intermittently whenever there is water available to run it, has an installed capacity of 14,100 horsepower. Both plants were purchased from the Ottawa and Hull Power Company in 1928.

Just by way of comparison, the well-known Chaudiere plants between them have an installed capacity of 36,600 horsepower. Less often seen because they are farther away from big centres of population, the Paugan plant has a capacity of 238,000 horsepower and the Chelsea-Farmers plants a capacity of 290,000 horsepower between them on the Gatineau River, while the Ottawa River's Bryson power house has a capacity of 78,000 horsepower.

The powerhouse substructure at Chaudiere No. 2 is of concrete and the superstructure is of reinforced concrete. Chaudiere No. 1 is immediately adjacent to its bigger brother and is operated only when there is surplus water in the Ottawa River.

Paugan, Chelsea, Farmers, Bryson and the Chaudieres combined, account for more than 90% of the power generated by Gatineau in the Province of Quebec. The remaining small percentage comes from a number of small local power houses—plants which once were big enough to satisfy the demand in their immediate area, but which now would be completely inadequate were it not for the help they receive from the "big fellows" far away.

U.K. Agricultural Mission to Canada

Ottawa—Headed by Sir William Ogg, director of the experimental station at Rothamsted, England, and consultant director of the Commonwealth Bureau of Soil Science, a party of six eminent United Kingdom agricultural scientists and administrators are touring Canada this summer as guests of the Canada Department of Agriculture.

Landing recently at Quebec, the party are accompanied by Dr. W. F. Darke, agricultural secretary to the U.K. High Commissioner in Canada, across the country and back until they leave Montreal on August 24.

This is a return call for the visit of Canadian agricultural scientists to the U.K. last year and is part of a postwar movement towards the vital and continuous interchange of ideas related to the scientific and organizational aspects of agriculture.

During their tour of Canada they will study the most recent developments in Canadian agriculture and visit the most outstanding agricultural institutions of this country. For instance, their itinerary includes an airplane trip over Prince Edward Island from Charlottetown, guests of the provincial government, an extended tour of the great St. Mary's dam and canal system from Lethbridge. They will also visit representative farms from coast to coast, manufacturing and packing plants, experimental farms and stations, universities and agricultural colleges, provincial and federal government buildings, offices and personnel.

Nitrogen Necessary For Virgin Soils

Each year across Canada hundreds of acres of virgin soil are prepared to bear harvest. Marginal land is cleared of brush and trees, swamps are drained and forests cut back.

Many farmers, however, are often disappointed by the poor crops or total crop failure after the first plowing. Likely reason for this is the lack of nitrogen in the newly-cleared soil, suggest agronomists of C-I-L agricultural chemicals division.

In explanation, they state that the nitrogen in the soil is "tied up" in the decomposition of the materials plowed under. The addition of fertilizer high in nitrogen plus good soil management will usually result in a good yield on virgin soil. When decomposition of organic material is completed, nitrogen is again released and becomes available to growing plants.

Since nitrogen requirements vary with each crop, a soil analysis should first be made and recommendations followed closely.

Dutch Immigrants For Ontario

Montreal — More than 300 Dutch farmers bound for settlement on farms in various parts of Ontario under the sponsorship of the Canadian National Railways colonization and agriculture department, passed through Montreal recently aboard a C.N.R. special train en route to Toronto. The arrival of the immigrants at Quebec in the S.S. Volendam brought to approximately 3,500 the number of Dutch farmers who have come to Canada this year. While the majority have settled in Ontario districts, a number have gone to western Canada.

The Summerby Memorial At Macdonald College

Honors Late Robt. Summerby, Professor of Agronomy and Former Lachute Boy

One of the highlights of the recent Farm Day at Macdonald College was the official opening of the Robert Summerby Memorial Greenhouse by Ross Clarkson, one of the governors of McGill University.

The late Robert Summerby was native of Beech Ridge community here, and attended the Lachute Academy in his boyhood. . . At the time of his death in September, 1946, he was chairman of the Department of Agronomy at Macdonald. His life was centred around Macdonald, having been a member of the first graduating class in 1911 and on the staff until his untimely death, except for one year's leave in England, where he studied mostly at Roth- a native of Beech Ridge community by all his students, he was one of the landmarks of the college to them. He was chairman of the Department of Agronomy for more than 25 years. He was a Robertson Associate and had also been awarded the Agricultural Order of Merit for Quebec.

Potato Test at Charlottetown

Ottawa — A paper of interest to potato growers in Eastern Canada was read at the Agricultural Institute of Canada Convention at Charlottetown, P.E.I. It covered an investigation begun in 1927 at Charlottetown Experimental Station into the use of manure and chemical fertilizers for the production of potatoes, and the value of rotating the crop. The soil on the plots was a brownish-red sandy loam.

On some of the plots, potatoes have been grown continuously, and on the rest a three year rotation of potatoes, grain and clover was used. The effect of manure alone and in combination with fertilizers was studied. In addition nitrate of soda was contrasted with sulphate of ammonia as a source of nitrogen, and the effect of limestone as opposed to no limestone. The effect of different rates of application of the manure and fertilizer also entered into the experiment.

The general conclusions drawn from this 22 year test show that better yields of potatoes can be obtained when the crop is grown in rotation, and that manure is extremely beneficial on this type of soil. The highest yields came from the manured plots and were higher where manure alone was used, than when half manure and half fertilizer was applied. It was found that nitrate of soda is preferable to sulphate of ammonia as a source of nitrogen, and that ground limestone is beneficial.

POISON IVY PATCH

One of the most effective methods of controlling poison ivy — writes H. C. Kenny in the C-I-L Oval — is spraying it with "Ammate". A solution consisting of one pound of the chemical in one gallon of water is sufficient for 100 square feet of the poisonous foliage. Sprays of sodium chlorate, 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T have also proven satisfactory.

Bulb Growing in B.C.

Vancouver, (CP) — Stump land can raise a profitable crop, says H. A. Paver, if you know what — and what not — to plant.

Mr. Paver, who farms in the Bradner district of the Fraser Valley, favors bulbs. He settled on 20 acres of stump land 20 years ago. All the acreage was in bush "and there were no bulldozers then".

Today, 13 acres are cleared and in crop. His profits: well, Mr. Paver has one acre of daffodils and that alone nets him about $1,000 a year.

OBITUARY

Police Chief T. S. Moore Of Napanee, Ont., Was Native of These Parts

Tribute Paid by Police Colleagues and Community Friends

The death of T. S. Moore, Chief of Police at Napanee, Ont., is recorded with regret in the newspaper of that town. Chief Moore was a native of Dalesville, in this county — a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Moore. The following is quoted from The Napanee Beaver (weekly):

Over 30 members of police forces from Trenton to Kingston, including two members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police from the Kingston detachment, were in attendance at the funeral service for Chief T. S. Moore, which was conducted by Rev. Noble Hatton at Trinity United Church, June 23.

The funeral was one of the largest held in Napanee for some time. Friends and relatives from many places in Eastern Ontario and Quebec, besides people from Napanee and district, were present. The members of the police forces acted as a guard of honor while the body of the late Chief-of-Police was being taken from the Wartman Funeral Home to the church.

The pall-bearers were the five sons of Chief Moore, George and Lester, of Brockville; Stewart, of Toronto; Provincial Constable Silas Moore, of Kingston; Donald, of Napanee; and his son-in-law, Harold Kersh, of Napanee. The flower bearers were members of the Napanee Town Council and town officials. During the time of the service the business places of the town were closed.

Following the service the body, accompanied by relatives and friends and under police escort, was taken by motor to Brockville, where interment took place following a brief service at the graveside.

Chief-of-Police Moore died early on June 21, after being taken suddenly ill with an attack of coronary thrombosis the previous evening. He had served as Chief of Police at Napanee for 10 years. Previous to coming to Napanee he had been for two years Detective Sergeant with the R.C.M.P. at Sherbrooke, Que., in charge of the Quebec detachment. Before going to Sherbrooke he had been Detective Sergeant at Brockville in charge of the R.C.M.P. district from Trenton to the Quebec border.

Among those from out-of-town who attended the funeral, besides Chief Moore's sons and their families, were his sister, Mrs. Mary Brookes, Montreal; two brothers, Mr. W. Moore, Thurso, Que., and Mr. G. A. Moore, Kingston; and a host of friends and relatives from points in Quebec and Ontario.

On Thursday, tributes were paid to Chief Moore at the session of the Magistrate's Court.

Sunday Radio and Church Services

THOUSANDS of listeners across the Dominion heard recently with a tinge of regret that the CBC's religious program, the National Sunday Evening Hour, had been suspended — in its present form, at least — for the months of July and August.

The program, actually a 45-minute service of worship, was planned to appeal to "people of all faiths", and any trepidation that CBC executives may have felt at its inception has been dissipated by its favorable reception.

Every Sunday evening for 28 weeks the National Sunday Evening Hour has been broadcast from Stewarton United Church in Ottawa, with inspirational addresses given by leading figures of major denominations. The choir of the church, augmented by a number of professional singers, provided, in the choral parts of the service, church music sung with dignity and musicianship.

It was an ambitious undertaking — a response to a growing demand for a religious program on a national scale. The care given to production was evident in the sensitive integration of prayers, canticles, scripture readings, anthems and addresses. To ensure this integration and an evenly-flowing service each program was rehearsed in the afternoons preceding the broadcasts.

It was a welcome recognition of the part that radio is able to play in meeting the religious needs of thousands of church people up and down the land. This has been reflected in the number of commendatory letters received at CBC headquarters.

During July and August the broadcast will be continued in somewhat modified form. Familiar hymns and choral works by the program's Ottawa choir will occupy the time.

Will this type of program prove a satisfying substitution? Church attendance presents various difficulties. In the winter, rural dwellers have their problems, and in the summer city folk on vacation are often miles away from the nearest church service.

If people in remote areas welcomed the National Sunday Evening Hour during the winter and spring, there is little doubt that vacationists at lakeside and camp would give it the same attentive hearing in the summer.

Fire Disaster in Review

IT IS difficult to appraise a disaster until sufficient time has elapsed to allow excitement to die down and the cause and effect to be viewed with some degree of dispassion.

More than two months have gone by since a vast section of the City of Rimouski was destroyed by a fire exceeded in Canadian history only by that which followed the Halifax explosion of 1917.

The fire, which left 2,500 persons (a sixth of the population) homeless, resulted from a combination of circumstances, only one of which can be described as having been beyond human control.

The uncontrollable factor was the violent wind which whipped the area that day. Had it not been for the wind, it is reasonable to suppose that the fire would have been confined to the lumberyard in which it started.

Once it was underway, firemen were handicapped by the crowds of onlookers, who, in their eagerness to take in what must have been a spectacular sight, blocked many of the roadways and prevented the dispatch of vehicles and equipment to the scene.

Overlooked, or only briefly mentioned in most newspaper accounts of the fire at the time, was that it began when overhead power lines fell across the lumberyard.

There has been considerable comment during the past few years concerning the prevalence of overhead wires in populous areas. Only last August, the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs, meeting in convention at Ottawa, unanimously passed a resolution condemning them, not only because they were unsightly, but because they were dangerous. The resolution asked that civic administrators of our cities and larger towns take steps to study the problem with a view to gradually removing overhead wiring and placing it underground. Firemen know from experience that overhead power lines often handicap them in their work (there have been instances when fire fighting in a congested area has had to be delayed until power was shut off or wires cut by linesmen).

The Rimouski disaster is a grim reminder of the terrific power that surges in high tension wires overhead in most of our municipalities.

Poison Ivy -- and Treatment

YOUR ARM begins to itch. You rub it again and again. A rash develops followed by inflammation of the skin. When the inflamed area begins to spread and small watery blisters form, the itch becomes maddening. . . These developments may occur in a few hours or may take several days. . . Poison ivy, Borgia of the countryside, has struck.

Found in every province, poison ivy grows in greatest profusion in Ontario and western Quebec. From Quebec City eastward it is found less frequently, and from Winnipeg to the Pacific coast grows mainly at lake and woodland resorts — writes H. C. Kenny in the current issue of C-I-L Oval.

Poison ivy grows as a trailing vine or an upright plant. The leaves, arranged alternately on woody stems, are composed of three smaller leaflets. In early summer small whitish flowers appear in the axils of the leaves. Clusters of greenish yellow fruit which gradually turn white, succeed the flowers in some locations.

The toxic substance in poison ivy is called "urushiol", which is contained in the leaves, flowers, fruit, stems or roots. It may persist for months on gloves, tools, shoes and picnic outfits. Dogs, cats and other animals may transmit it to humans. It is even claimed that particles of it are carried in the smoke from burning ivy.

Treatment for ivy poisoning consists of washing affected parts with laundry soap and warm water immediately after contact. Washing with alcohol, kerosene or gasoline are alternatives. Potassium permanganate solution and calamine lotion are recommended for certain cases of poison ivy dermatitis.

IF WE ARE to have a universal old age pension without a means test, why should not our working population begin to pay for such a service at an early age? One only has to look at the figures offered in the annual statements of our huge Canadian life insurance companies, to obtain proof that many Canadians look ahead. —observes the Cornerbrook (Nfld.) Western Star.

CANADA'S dairying industry is to be commended for the start it is making toward a co-operative and determined effort to solve the industry's butter-marketing problem. The initial effort, now in progress, is designed to raise funds for a widespread campaign to promote the sale and use of butter, ice cream and other dairy products.

Consider Your Stomach

No one likes to hang about for hours waiting for work and then to be swamped by too much of it: nor does your stomach. It works best and without grumbles if it is fed at regular times and without rush. And so if you are tired or worried you should eat a smallish meal and make up for it later when you are less rushed or upset. Some people digest quickly but can't take much at a time, and for them frequent though small meals may be necessary. Conversation at meal times should be cheerful and peaceful.

Constipation is best prevented not be medicines but by eating plenty of vegetables, by regular exercise and regular habits. Stomach powders may relieve pain but they don't cure stomach trouble. In any case, indigestion is often caused by irritation or anxiety and a stomach mixture or powder won't cure that. So, if you often suffer from indigestion don't fly to patent medicines — consult your doctor.

Here are eight very simple rules about good digestion, recommended by the National Health Association:

1. Don't go to work on an empty stomach.
2. Take regular meals and regular exercise.
3. Eat plenty of body-building and protective foods.
4. Drink plenty of water.
5. Avoid patent medicines, powders or pills.
6. Visit your dentist at least once a year.
7. Don't smoke just before meals.
8. Be regular in your habits.

I, TOO - Saw England

— By T. D. Titman, Asst. Editor —

II

The English Home And Housewife

The scene of supply changes continually, and if we are to comment upon the lot of the English housewife, she should be mentioned at this point. A month hence, rationing regulations may have changed (if, indeed, they have not changed already).

To a mere male, the "points" system of purchasing is a pardonable mystery. The visitor from overseas procures his ration coupons for the prescribed period and hands them over, like a hot potato, to his temporary hostess. Maybe he strikes a snag when he is inspired to take home a box of "sweets" (candies to you, dear reader) to the said hostess — for he finds he cannot buy them without coupons, despite his most persuasive efforts across the counter.

Food conditions improved even during my brief stay in England. Points were lifted. Marmalade became less synthetic. Oranges were decontrolled and were offered for sale at six pence (eight cents) apiece.

The bread is wholesome but unattractive, being still dirty in color. My most embarrassing moment at the table was when the hostess enquired whether I preferred "white" or "brown"; and upon signifying the latter, I was unable to distinguish which was which!

English housewives have navigated so long under trying conditions, and the easing of rations has been so gradual, that habit still largely prescribes the menu. There was the incident of a milk pudding prepared for the oven, which met calamity when the dog collided with the table and splashed over a large portion of the milk. The cook almost gave way to hysteria — before she realized that milk was now decontrolled and there was plenty more in the "larder" (pantry to you, lady).

The family meat coupons are largely expended on a week-end splurge, if indeed we may call it that, and there is still that luscious dish which emigrant Englishmen dream about — roast beef, Yorkshire pudding and Brussels sprouts.

A comparison of food prices is difficult, due to varying standards, measurements, coupon allowances. The following items were noted at the time (May-June)—our over-all conclusion being that the food factor in the cost-of-living is definitely more favorable to the English household budget:

	Britain	Canada
Eggs, Grade A	.50-.56	.48
Butter (lb.)	.27	.58
Tea (quality)	.64	1.09
Meat (lamb)	.32	.90

Many readers will be interested to know the food items still scarce in English homes. I can make particular reference to these few — meat, butter, shortening, bacon, chicken, shredded cocoanut, cake flour, tea, canned fruits and sugar. Brown sugar is now a treat almost unheard of. Bananas are equally rare. Eggs are plentiful at this season. But a ham or cottage roll is still a gift of great charm, more beautiful than a pair of fragile nylons. Here it may be noted that nylon stockings of the coarsest gauge sell for 12s.6d. ($2) a pair, and they rate a queue of anxious buyers 100 yards long. The finer weights cost a guinea ($3.25) a pair, and they are rare enough.

So much for the shortages which confront the average housekeeper. But another aspect of her routine which we in Canada scarcely realize, is the customary inconvenience of her kitchen and her home in general. Planned kitchens with modern gadgets in chrome and gleaming enamel, which are familiar to us in Canada, may be seen only in more pretentious homes. Enquiries revealed the following estimates: The majority of housewives have vacuum cleaners and electric irons, but only one in 200 owns a washing machine or an electric refrigerator. In her leisure hours between household chores and brewing numerous cups of tea, milady listens to the wireless, with marked favor for the day's news and the serialized programs. Television sets are far more numerous than in this country. The antennae, of special design, drew my notice to the many houses equipped with television.

One great facility to house-cleaning duties which came to my attention in several homes was the regular visit of a window cleaner. This service is provided at a moderate charge by a tradesman equipped with his own ladder and accoutrements. What a coveted service, I thought, to residents on the Main Streets of Canada's dusty towns!

There is little in the way of central heating, of course, but the living-room hearth, with its glowing fire, is a comfortable spot on a murky eve — a centre of family sociability too, even if the rest of the house is cold and clammy.

Criticizes Restrictions On Immigration

Toronto, July 3 — "Canadians would still be hacking down the trees to clear this country if our forefathers had applied the immigration restrictions which some groups in this country are enforcing today", said Joseph Lister Rutledge, chairman of the Canadian Unity Council, commenting on the statement issued by the federal Department of Labor to the effect that since there apparently will be sufficient farm labor to meet this year's demand, restrictions have been placed on the entry to Canada of displaced persons.

"Canada has gained many fine citizens by allowing the entry of these displaced persons", pointed out Mr. Rutledge, "and if our country is to prosper and progress we desperately need more population. Some groups in Canada oppose immigration because they fear the competition for jobs. Any native-born Canadian who is willing to put in an honest day's labor can dismiss the fear of such competition.

"The experience of most people who have had contact with displaced person immigrants has been entirely satisfactory", concluded Mr. Rutledge. "Rather than exclude the many thousands who wish to come to Canada to live, we should be thinking in terms of allowing in freely all those in good health, even if we imposed the condition that they contract to go on farms or into domestic service for a certain period. We will certainly not keep Canada on the road to progress by assuming that our country has reached the limit of its opportunities."

Thompson (centre), vice-president of the eastern region, Toronto, becomes vice-president of the Prairie region and transfers to Winnipeg; and G. H. Baillie (right), vice-president of the Pacific region, becomes vice-president of the Eastern region with headquarters at Toronto. The changes became effective July 1.

Here and There

An 82-year-old resident, Alex C. MacDonald, of Springville, N.S., was suddenly stricken with—of all things — an inflamed appendix, and had to be operated on for its removal; Dr. W. A. McLeod did the job and Mr. MacDonald is recovering nicely. . Lamprey eels caught in the weir at the Big Thessalon river in Ontario are being shipped to Southern Ontario for processing into food which is given a high food rating in Europe — 150 of them are being kept alive at the Trout Rearing Station, to be shown at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Regular Session of Brownsburg Council

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — Adopting the minutes of the previous meeting, Councillors Lavoie and Denault opened the business of the Brownsburg Council meeting on Monday night last.

Police Chief Foucreau reported 76 calls had been investigated during the month, three arrests were made and two automobile accidents investigated.

Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., wrote enclosing a cheque for $2,392 in respect of a grant from the Quebec Government towards cost of fire protection equipment. The council expressed its thanks and directed that the secretary convey their remarks in suitable acknowledgment to Mr. Cottingham.

The manufacturers of the Council's new fire pump wrote acknowledging receipt of complete payment for the engine and thanking the Council for its promptness and courtesy.

It was decided to get four stepplates at a cost of $64 to put over the fenders of the new truck, to assist the firemen in mounting and dismounting from the truck.

Notification of the annual Fire Chiefs' Convention to be held at Sherbrooke, July 10-13, was received.

The Council decided to hasten the painting and repairs of the municipal buildings so that, on the occasion of the visit of several members of the Montreal detective and police forces with the Montreal Juvenile Police Club on July 15, a more impressive appearance would be presented.

Chief Foucreau reported on the recent visit of the Brownsburg Juvenile Police Club to Montreal (see story elsewhere in this issue), which was so favorably commented upon by both radio systems earlier in the week.

It was directed that application be made for a reduction on the local insurance rate, now that fire-fighting equipment had been so much improved.

A bill for $102.30 was received from the Signal Company, for repairs to the traffic light. It was explained to the meeting that this damage was caused when repairs were made by the Bell Telephone to its system. It was decided to take the matter up with them.

A contribution of $25 was authorized for the Salvation Army Campaign.

Dr. L. Turcotte, medical officer of the County Health Unit, called attention to several orders which had been issued to householders in the village to remove outside toilets, to drain stagnant water, and attend to disposal of garbage. The meeting marked its approval of Dr. Turcotte's efforts and also notified the owners of an odorous, stagnant pool at the water bridge.

The secretary, Emile Hébert, reported the valuation roll was completed and would be open for inspection for the next 30 days at his office.

Fire Chief A. Robbins reported on 23 defective chimneys. The Council authorized Chief Robbins to re-inspect all the defective chimneys within 10 days and, if his recommendations had not been complied with, an order would be issued to have them demolished at the owners' expense.

The overflow from the chlorinator was again discussed at this meeting, and it was decided to return the flow of water to its original, natural course. Inspection is to be made of the deeds on properties which it would pass through.

The matter of sidewalks was discussed at length, and it was decided to provide a definite specification for a contractor to adhere to, and the work be advertised on that basis.

The survey ordered for St. Joseph Street had not been received. It was decided to write the surveyor for his report and map.

Curfew was extended to 10 o'clock at night, up to September 1.

A Weekly Feature of Helpful Hints for Child Training, etc,

Camp Adventure

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"Can I go to camp?" In how many homes a boy or girl is asking parents this question when vacation time arrives! Two or three decades ago the camp movement was still "on trial". A select group of children from wealthy homes were sent to private camps, a small number from the slums went to Fresh Air Camps, but the camps open to children of middle class homes were few and far between.

How different is the camping picture in Canada today! Almost every district has its local camp site. This is used all season long by different groups for short term camps. The Fresh Air Camp movement has grown by leaps and bounds and the number of private camps is now within the reach of almost every family who wish to set aside money from their "Family Allowance" cheque for this very purpose. This is a splendid way to use this money from the Government because there are so many fine things a child receives from a camp experience.

In the first place, a child benefits from the outdoor life, the regular routine of meals and sleep under adult supervision, with playmates his own age. The very change from his life at home is good for a youngster. Many an "only" child has a mother who is much too anxious about the small quantity of food he consumes. At camp the child discovers that no one is going to fuss over his meals — indeed he must be on the alert to have his fair share of the good things to eat which appear at the table! Camp appetites, after exercise in the fresh air, are keen. Little wonder that many children make a gain in weight during the camp period!

Camp opens the door to many new skills and fresh interests. Swimming has a major place in most camp programs. Children who are fearful of the water and cannot swim a stroke have the chance to go in a Beginners' Swimming Class. There they make a splendid start at learning how to swim. More experienced swimmers receive expert instruction in different strokes and in diving. All the campers learn "Safety First" rules for swimming and boating. No camp can risk its reputation by carelessness which might result in a drowning — a child acquires real respect for the regulations for campers in or on the water.

The interest groups in camp are varied. Many a camper discovers a real liking for handicraft, an interest in Nature Lore, Camp Craft, Dramatics, or in any one of the many camp activities. The leader's enthusiasm is catching and it is fun to work in a small group of companions one's own age. Parents should encourage their children to continue to enjoy any new hobby they have acquired at camp.

There is no place for class snobbishness or race superiority in a good camp. Campers are all on a level, and in the Campers' Council many boys and girls receive their first insight into the values — and also the difficulties — of a democracy at work. Adults often forget how idealistic youth is, and how impressionable are boys and girls under fine leadership. A visitor at a Vesper Service held out of doors at camp is not likely to forget the real sense of worship in the singing of hymns and in the simple camp service held under the trees, looking out on the water when "Day is dying in the West".

Many children today reach adulthood and yet are far from being self-sufficient, mature men and women. Unfortunately far too large a group are still much too emotionally dependent on one or both parents. A twenty year old "mother's boy", a young woman who cannot make a decision without asking her dad for his opinion, are a pathetic sight. Camp helps in the long, slow process of growing up. There, for a week, ten days or longer, a camper learns to stand on his own feet and make a happy adjustment to life away from the shelter of the home roof. The Camp Adventure in its contribution to the development of the physique, the skills, the ideals and the emotional life of the youth of today deserves its high place in the esteem of thoughtful people everywhere.

OBITUARY

Citizen of Asbestos, Que., Brought Here for Burial

The Late Leonard Nicholls

News of the sudden death of Leonard Nicholls, which occurred recently at Asbestos, Que., came as a great shock to that community. He had been an employee of Johns-Manville Co. for the past 26 years and was a member of the company's Quarter Century Club.

On Monday morning, June 5, Mr. Nicholls went to his work as usual in apparent good health, and suffered a fatal seizure while at his duties.

He was a son of the late James and Elizabeth Nicholls, of Ogdensburg, Que., and a brother of Torrie Nicholls, of Dearborn, Mich.

A service, held Wednesday evening, June 7, at the United Church in Asbestos, was largely attended. The Rev. C. Foggo officiated. "The Old Rugged Cross", a favorite hymn of the deceased, was beautifully rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Elton Webb. Pall-bearers were — Cecil Elliott, of South Durham, Albert Olney, of Danville, Wm. Ross, of Richmond, Frank Smith, George Frerichs and John Hobbs, of Asbestos.

The remains were brought to Lachute on Thursday morning, followed by a cortege of his sorrowing family and friends. A service was held in the United Church here at 3 p.m., conducted by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough. Pall-bearers were — Arnold Scott, Allan Rodger, Clifford Cunningham, Clarence Millar, Kenneth Nicoll and Wendell O'Brien. Interment was made in Lachute Cemetery.

Floral tributes, both numerous and beautiful, bore silent testimony to the high esteem in which the late Mr. Nicholls was held. He will be sadly missed by the many friends and acquaintances who loved, honored and respected him.

Sincere sympathy is felt for the wife, son and daughter who are left to mourn his passing.

Education for Blind or Partially Blind Children

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

If there are any children in your neighbourhood, who are handicapped on account of impaired eyesight, they should apply to the School of the Montreal Association for the Blind, Sherbrooke St. W., Montreal. It is possible for blind and partially blind children to be well-educated so that afterwards they may become useful citizens.

This is a residential school for boys and girls, and children are admitted from five years of age upwards. Blind children learn to read by means of the Braille system; while those with partial vision are provided with books in large print.

Application should be made during the summer in order that the new pupils may commence when school opens in September.

"PUREBRED RUGGLES"

London, Ont. (CP) — The oldest vehicle in the fire department will be retired as soon as a new aerial truck can be purchased. The old truck started its career as a "purebred Ruggles" in 1921. Since then bits and pieces have been added by firemen until it has become unrecognizable. It has lately been used as a service truck.

Around the Home...

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

Half the joy of having a garden is having a comfortable chair in a shady nook where you can lounge and enjoy the changing beauty of your surroundings. What's the use of having a garden if you can't take time to sit down and enjoy it? These are the days when the home owner should be able to recline comfortably on a lawn seat in the dense shade of a towering maple . . . not one task to be done . . . not a care in the world . . . sounds like Utopia!

Garden Seats

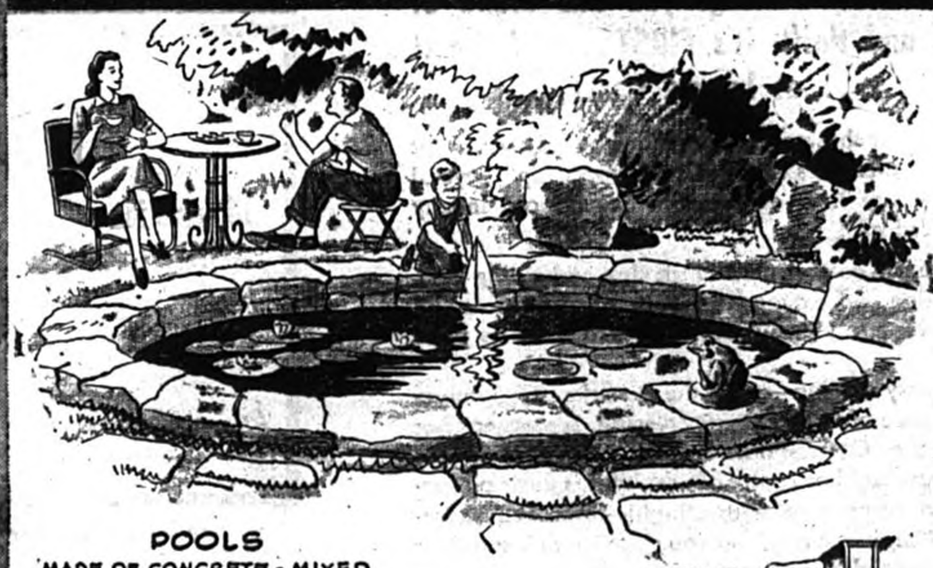

My own siestas take place in a secluded corner of the garden, well hidden from the surrounding neighbourhood. One of my prize possessions is a garden bench I made last year. True, it isn't the most comfortable piece of furniture in the world, but it is sturdy and wasn't too hard to make—as you can see from the sketch. My pride and joy is the wide bench I built around the trunk of the maple that stands to one side of the patio. It took a bit of fitting to give an attractive natural finish but it has attracted more favourable comment than any other piece of garden furniture I have made.

Garden Pools

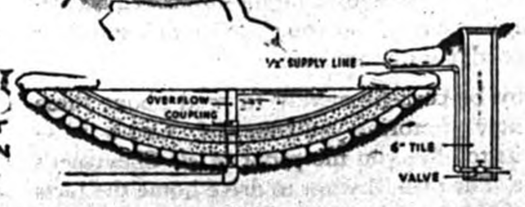

If you are like me, you'll have a bird bath and a small pool in clear view to help you relax. Nothing is quite as restful and cooling as the sound of running water and the reflection of blue sky in a still pool. The size of the pool doesn't matter—you'll get the same effect from a small binder wheel set in concrete (mentioned last month), a washtub sunk in the ground or an extensive cement job. When properly planned and planted so that it fits naturally into its surroundings, the size or expense of the pool is immaterial.

Bird Baths

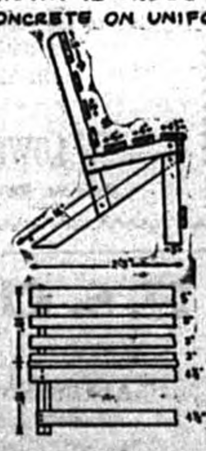

I could watch my bird bath for hours if work would permit. On a warm afternoon there is a steady procession of bluebirds, chipping sparrows, wrens, song sparrows and robins. The birds do not care how expensive the bath was. As long as the water is fresh, clean and not too deep, they will use it regularly. Between the two extremes illustrated are a host of styles and designs.

POOLS

Learn the Art of Effective Speaking

By STAN ENGEL,
Past-President of the Montreal Debating League

Learn the art of effective speaking. . .

Why? Well, as far as the men are concerned, let's listen to, and remember the import of the words of that great American railway magnate, lawyer and politician, Chauncy Depew, when he said, "There is no other accomplishment which any man can have which will so quickly make for him a career, and secure recognition, as the ability to speak acceptably".

So the ambitious man and woman can well and hopefully look forward with greater assurance to success in business through the study and practice of the art of public speaking.

Confirmation of Mr. Depew's advice has been repeated by educators, politicians, great leaders like William Jennings Bryan, and business men like Philip D. Amour, who said after building a fortune, "I would rather have been a great speaker than a great capitalist".

Even the great Andrew Carnegie cherished this secret hope, for after his death there was found among his papers a plan for his life, drawn up when he was thirty-three. At that age "Carnegie" figured that in another two years he could arrange his business so as to have an annual income of fifty-thousand. So he proposed to retire at thirty-five, go to Oxford to get a thorough education with "special attention to speaking in public".

But, you say, "I could never get up there before an audience, I'm too nervous. My knees knock, my hands shake. I get all hot and flushed at the very thought."

To you — rest assured that your nervousness is an asset, not a liability. All great speakers are nervous. But with training they learn to overcome and control that nervousness. The smart aleck who boasts he has no nerves is generally a cocky, unpopular speaker with no sparkle of ideas. One that audiences detest.

If you like company in your nervousness, you can link arms with the great Disraeli who once said he'd rather face a cavalry charge than the House of Commons. His opening speech was a flop. So, too, was Winston Churchill's maiden speech. Mastering a youthful stutter, Churchill memorized his maiden speech in Parliament, embarrassingly forgot it halfway through and had to blushingly sit down to the jeers, taunts and laughter of the opposite benches.

William Jennings Bryan frankly admitted that, in his early days, he insisted on a large tablecloth covering the speakers' table so that it almost reached the floor. Young Bryan needed it to hide his knees from the view of the audience, for he said "they fairly smote together".

So what's a little nervousness to worry about. Anyway, the immortal Cicero said, two thousand years ago, that all public speaking of real merit was characterized by nervousness.

There's another reason, one of vital importance to the ambitious, why we should learn the Art of Effective Speaking.

It is one of the surest and pleasantest means of developing the mind, our mental ability, our ability to think creatively. This is important to all of us. Remember, that famous Harvard psychologist, Professor William James, once said that the average man developed only ten per cent of his latent mental ability.

Think of it. Only ten per cent. What a tragedy of neglect and waste. Talents buried when they should be being multiplied.

Public speaking, as a hobby, helps develop those talents. It starts you thinking along other lines than your everyday occupation. It gets you out of the daily rut and opens up an ever increasing experience of new thoughts, new ideas.

Because you determine to do creative thinking and research other than what you accept as your daily duty, it develops both your imagination and your will. And in the will and the imagination rests that ninety per cent of your latent ability that Professor James claims is so generally neglected.

Pasteur once wrote to his family, "To will is a great thing, for action and work usually follow will, and will opens the door to success".

But there are very few Pasteurs in our midst. So the question is a natural one, "Is the average person up to such captaining of the mind?" In answer, William James says "The normal opener of deeper and deeper levels of energy is the will". And Brooks Atkinson attests "Every man can achieve a great deal . . . according to the burning intensity of his will and the keenness of his imagination".

Immigration

Subject to certain other factors, the policy of Government has been, for a great many years, to admit immigrants in numbers which can be absorbed into our national life. We do not want so many immigrants that some would be unemployed, nor do we want to admit any person whose occupation is such that there is no reasonable hope of his finding a place in our economy. We say, therefore, that if the information the Government has indicates that he follows an occupation which would be of advantage to Canada, or if with respect to others he is capable of maintaining himself and his dependents, he may be permitted to come in.

Hon. Walter Harris, Minister of Citizenship and Immigration

The Role of A Councillor

My faith in Local Government is founded on the fact that we as aldermen are so closely associated with the people in our respective areas and their needs, and are always on hand to hear their complaints and to take quick action in helping to remedy the cause. We do not pass it on to some remote control and make excuses for inability to assist, as is often the case in the more extensive realm of large Government or semi-Government departments.

Safekeeping for Your Valuables

AT A CENT OR TWO A DAY

Have you ever considered what a number of valuable possessions you own that call for special protection? Bonds, leases, insurance policies, important family papers, jewellery and other objects of personal value — you can store all these in a Safety Deposit Box in the vault of the Bank of Montreal for only a cent or two a day.

If you are keeping essential documents or valuables in drawers and closets at home, where they can be found by thieves or fire, weigh up this modest expense against the value of such protection. You'll take the trip out of town or spend the evening away from home with an easier mind, when the things you cannot afford to lose are locked away in your own Safety Deposit Box.

So pay a visit tomorrow to the Lachute branch of the B of M, and see J. L. A. Brouillette, the accountant. The key to your Safety Deposit Box is waiting for you.

DESTROYER'S "HERMAN" GIVEN TO B.C. MUSEUM

Victoria, B.C. (CP) — Seamen of the Canadian destroyer Cayuga turned naturalists on a training cruise in Mexican waters and returned to Victoria with a valuable exhibit for the provincial museum.

Dubbed "Herman", the exhibit was a pelamis, a poisonous parti-colored sea snake. The snake was found in the bilge of the destroyer's cutter.

The reptile apparently got into the small craft at Manzanilla, Mexico, and died soon after.

HOE-DOWN REELS AND COWBOY TUNES are given a lively once-over every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 5.45 in the CBC's Ottawa studios, when the Western Five (above) entertain Trans-Canada network listeners for a quarter-hour. Ten years ago the group went on the air with the theory that most people like to hear peppy music around the dinner hour — and they've been broadcasting their western appetizers ever since. In the group from left to right are Cammie Howard, arranger, conductor and clarinettist; Marcel Lafortune, bass fiddler; George Appleby, who plays trumpet and mellophone; Oral Scheer, vocalist; Woody Hill, guitar player; and Gen Cloutier, violinist. Howard Scheer, Hill and Cloutier are charter members of the group.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Silver Anniversary Supper at United Church In St. Andrews East

(Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — A supper celebrating the silver anniversary of the United Church of Canada and the local church, was held in the United Church hall, St. Andrews East, on Wednesday, June 28.

A delicious supper of ham, salads and rolls, followed by a fine birthday cake made by Mrs. Lawson Taylor, was enjoyed by a large gathering.

A number of appropriate speeches were made and a brief history of the church, prepared by Miss A. L. Wales, was read by the Rev. A. G. Moore.

Complimentary verses signed by the group were presented to Miss Florence Findlay, in appreciation of her good service to the school and community.

A social hour and a hearty singsong brought the evening to a close.

New Organ in Use At Christ Church, St. Andrews East

St. Andrews East — At Christ Church last Sunday, July 2, a new electric Minshall organ was used for the first time, and the congregation are grateful to all who contributed towards this addition to the church. The musical effect was all that could be desired. Mr. Payne, of Montreal, was guest organist for the occasion.

The parishioners are also thankful to Mr. Benj. Howell for his gift of a beautiful pulpit Bible, and copper wire screen doors and windows for the church building.

The Holy Bible

Authorized or King James Version of 1611

The text thereof is unaltered but this special edition appends a unique Theocratic Concordance for quickly locating important Bible passages, besides other handy Bible-study and Kingdom-witness helps. The edition is in flexible binding of maroon color, and measures 7¾" x 5⅛" x 1⅝". It is sent postpaid on a contribution of $1 a copy. — Write 40 Irwin Avenue, Toronto 5, Ont.

"This Beautiful Earth, in God's Purpose."

Our kind, loving Creator of the heavens and the earth, whose name alone is Jehovah (Psalms 83:18). . . In His book, the Bible, He says "The heaven is My throne, and the earth is My footstool: I will make the place of My feet Glorious. (Isaiah 66:1, 60:13.)

LITERAL EARTH TO ABIDE AND BE INHABITED FOREVER

Gen. 1:1: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth".

Isa. 45: 18: "For thus saith the Lord that created the heaven; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited".

Eccl. 1:4: "One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh: but the earth abideth for ever".

Ps. 37: 11, 29; Matt. 5:5: "The meek shall inherit the earth: and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever".

Ps. 78:69: "He built his sanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath established for ever".

Ps. 115: 16: "The heaven, even the heaven, are the Lord's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men".

Ps. 119: 90: "Thou hast established the earth, and it abideth".

Prov. 2: 21, 22: "The upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it. But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it".

Prov. 10: 30: "The righteous shall never be removed".

See also: Ps. 104: 5; Isa. 60: 21.

THE SEARCH FOR PEACE

Peace is as sure as Tomorrows sunrise, and just as independent of man. Unto us a son is born, unto us a son is given, and the governments shall be upon His shoulders. Of His government and peace there shall be no end. Isaiah 9:67. Daniel 2:44.

"I DELIGHT TO DO THY WILL, O MY GOD; YEA, THY LAW IS WITHIN MY HEART."
— Psalm 40:8, Am. Stan. Ver.

It was a delight to the psalmist David to know what God's will was and then to do it. To know what to do he gave careful consideration to God's law and filled his heart with it. As a result, David is spoken of in the Scriptures as "a man after God's own heart". Would you not like to have a place in God's memory too? Could any creature ask for a greater honor? Little wonder that David expressed delight! If this is your desire, begin now to fill your mind and heart with God's written Word, the Bible. The Watchtower edition of the American Standard Version, from which the above verse is quoted, may be had for only $1.50. Send for your copy today. — 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Davis Cup Prospects

"SPORTS CAMERA"
By Gord Pepper

Canada, flexing her racquet arm, meets Australia July 14-15-16 in the North American Davis Cup zone tie at Montreal. And while the Aussies are prohibitive favorites to take the honors, this country's chances have never been brighter.

Canada has tangled with Australia five times since 1914 in Davis Cup play and on all but one occasion, last year, net stars from down under have swept to victory without loss of a match.

Last year, husky Brendan Macken of Montreal swelled Canada's hopes with an upset victory in the first match over Bill Sidwell in a gruelling three-hour net classic.

This country's chances are buoyed by the fact that of Australia's five-member team, only two of the players have been in Davis Cup play before. While Canada has to add one more player to the three already named, those designated — Henri Rochon, Lorne Main and Macken — have bounced around the courts in previous Davis Cup zone ties.

Of the Australian group, only John Bromwich and Frank Sedgman have played in cup matches. The others, Ken McGregor, George Worthington and Mervyn Rose, will be seeing their first "big time" tennis.

Team of Youngsters

It might be said that this Australian Cup team is a "future" group. Bromwich is along as the veteran — the steadying influence. The average age of the other four is about 21. But even at the age of 21, Sedgman is a leading light in international tennis today. Recently he was given the No. 1 seeding for the Wimbledon matches. Bromwich is playing in the twilight of his career while Sedgman, and the other three in particular, are just coming up to their game.

Sedgman will be the key man but right behind him will be 21-year-old Kenneth McGregor who is said to be the possessor of a devastating service and a good net game. Still, McGregor hasn't seen too much "big" tennis. A six-footer he tips the beam at 180 pounds which should provide plenty of hitting power.

McGregor and Sedgman are slated to team for the doubles test and they'll likely be asked to carry most of the singles assignments.

On the Canadian side of the ledger, Rochon, 1949 singles champion, is ranked No. 1 in Canada this year while 20-year-old Main, a Vancouver product, is ranked No. 2. Macken ranks third.

Walter Stoholberg, 27-year-old West Coast player, was the fourth man on last year's squad but before the names were released for this year's squad, he announced he would not play Davis Cup tennis this year.

On past performances, Canada would score the upset of the tennis world with a win over Australia. But if experience in Cup play means anything, this country's show this year should be better than it has ever been.

The date of Easter can vary as much as thirty-five days, from March 21 to April 25.

Attended Highland Games

The Rev. Chas. Maclean was a recent visitor to the Highland Games held at Hamilton, Ont. On Friday evening, he reports, there was a military tattoo which, led by 500 pipers and drummers, was a most impressive and colorful sight. On Saturday the games were held, with a re-union of Rev. Maclean's former regiment, the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada, and on Sunday there was a large drumhead service and a happy re-union of old wartime associates.

It is High Time to Awake!

Despite all efforts advanced by world statesmen, and their promises of a better world of tomorrow, the threat of a third world war hangs over the nations, resulting in fear of the future, unbearable anxieties and nerve-strain beyond anything previously experienced. What does it all mean? Where can men turn for hope? Two world wars have been waged to secure Democracy, yet failure and disappointment is evident.

"It is High Time to Awake" and to examine the Word of Almighty God, the Bible which gives the true answer of present day conditions and the outcome.

[illegible] in vogue since the earliest days of [illegible] history. Undoubtedly, it was [illegible] that, though possibly with less [illegible] than formerly, pre-eminently the use of clubs supplemented oral symbols.

Modern developments, however, have not lessened the value either as entertainment or as a mental exercise. Indeed in these days of omnipresent radio, cinema and the press, when the frequency with which we are told what to think makes thinking difficult, and places a premium upon mental inertia and passive acceptance of [illegible] — it may be said that debating [illegible] more valuable than ever, and a vigorous [illegible] more necessary to groups of [illegible] with [illegible] interests and [illegible]. In two [illegible] to cultivate the [illegible]; to acquire a flexible [illegible] and [illegible] ideas and [illegible] to [illegible] by two [illegible] groups makes food by photosynthesis", these words would float over the head of even a practical engineer. "But", said Chase, "if the same fact were stated in the words 'Green leaves build up food with the help of light', laymen as well as experts would get the point."

These two clubs have no choice as to whether they will debate on the affirmative side of the question or the negative. Often, regardless of their personal opinions, they find themselves speaking as forcefully and convincingly as they can from a point-of-view definitely contrary to their private opinions.

As a result, old debaters will frequently tell of the undreamed of insights into the "other side of the question", which have come to them through research and reading. A broader understanding unfolds, and very often if not invariably, new, conclusive, positive ideas enrich the minds of the debaters. How necessary this is in these days of radical political opinions and conflicting ideologies.

There is another interesting phase to the art of debating. We learn to be careful with our choice of words. We study their impact. We try to select words which will most forcefully and most clearly express our ideas. Writers of business and sales letters might well profit by this. A debating club's motto might well be that of St. Paul, who said, "Unless you utter by the tongue speech easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken?"

Dean George Russell Harrison once pointed out the need for clarity by telling a story about a plumber of foreign birth who wrote the National Bureau of Standards to the effect that he had found hydrochloric acid could work wonders in clogged drains, but wanted to know whether its use would do any harm. A technical member of the staff replied: "The efficiency of hydrochloric acid is indisputable, but the corrosive residue is incompatible with metallic permanence". The plumber wrote back and thanked the Bureau for telling him that his method was okay. This upset the Federal scientist. So he consulted his superior, who then wrote the plumber, "We cannot assume responsibility for the production of toxic and noxious residue with hydrochloric acid and suggest you use an alternative procedure". But even that did not close the file.

The plumber replied how glad he was that the Bureau was crazy about hydrochloric acid for use in drains. In despair the two scientists appealed to the head of the Bureau. He closed the file by dictating this: "Don't use hydrochloric acid. It eats hell out of the pipes". The plumber found that statement both understandable and quotable.

Juices Are Popular

One of the most pleasing habits that has been acquired by most Canadians is the use of fruit juices. A supply of home-made fruit juices, stored away for winter use, is a great help to the homemaker in planning meals.

Regardless of food value fruit juice is a delicious appetizer or beverage but many of the juices have real nutritional value. Black currant juice was highly regarded as a cure-all fifty years ago, although no one knew why. Recent assays have shown it to be higher in Vitamin C (the healing vitamin) than most other foods.

There are many ways in which these prepared fruit juices may be used to advantage at any time of year. Juices of various kinds give a pleasant start-off to a meal whether it be morning, noon or night. Diluted fruit juices make cooling beverages on hot summer days.

Diluted with water and thickened with cornstarch, fruit juice makes a delicious pudding sauce.

The juice, when used in gelatine desserts, gives the real fresh fruit flavor.

Rhubarb and red currant juices are sufficiently acid to give a zip to mixtures of sweetened juices from canned fruits when they are used for gelatine jellies or beverages.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, give the following instructions for canning various juices in the home.

CURRANT JUICE: Wash, measure and crush currants thoroughly. Add 1 cup water per cup of currants. Bring to boil and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Strain through a moistened jelly bag. Add sugar if desired. Reheat to boiling point. Pour into hot containers, leaving ½-inch headspace. Partially seal screw-top or spring-top sealers or close vacuum sealers as tightly as possible. Process in boiling water bath 15 minutes or in the oven at 275°F., for 20 minutes. Complete seal on screw-top or spring-top sealers.

RHUBARB JUICE: Wash and cut rhubarb into small pieces. Add water, using half as much water as rhubarb. Bring to boil and simmer, covered, 5 minutes. Strain through a moistened jelly bag. Add sugar if desired. Reheat to boiling point. Pour into hot containers, leaving ½-inch headspace. Partially seal screw-top or spring-top sealers or close vacuum type sealers as tightly as possible. Process in boiling water bath for 10 minutes or in the oven at 275°F., for 15 minutes. Complete seal on screw-top or spring-top sealers.

TOMATO JUICE: (Method one) Wash tomatoes, remove core, cut into pieces. Bring to boil and simmer, covered, 5 minutes. Press through sieve or pureer. Bring juice to boiling point. Pour into containers, leaving ½-inch headspace. Add ½ teaspoon salt per "small" (pint) sealer. Partially seal screw-top or spring-top sealers or close vacuum type sealers as tightly as possible. Process in boiling water bath for 15 minutes or in the oven at 275°F., for 20 minutes. Complete seal on screw-top or spring-top sealers.

TOMATO JUICE (Method two). Wash, remove core. Extract juice, using juice extractor. Heat juice to boiling point. Pour into containers, leaving ½ inch headspace. Add ½ teaspoon salt per "small" (pint) sealer. Partially seal screw-top or spring-top sealers or close vacuum sealers as tightly as possible. Process in boiling water bath for 15 minutes or in the oven at 275°F., for 15 minutes. Complete seal on screw-top or spring-top sealers.

GRAPE JUICE: Wash, stem and crush grapes. Add water, allowing 2½ cups per 6-quart basket of grapes. Bring to boil, and simmer covered, 15 minutes. Strain through a moistened jelly bag. Add sugar if desired. Reheat to boiling point. Pour into hot containers, leaving ½ inch headspace. Partially seal screw-top sealers or close vacuum type sealers as tightly as possible. Process in boiling water bath for 10 minutes or in the oven at 275°F., for 15 minutes. Complete seal on screw-top or spring-top sealers.

Hamburgers Win Prizes

Wimpy fans, snack artists and all amateur cooks can test their ability to their heart's content, and win more than $100 in cash prize money at the same time, if they enter the 'Hamburger on a Bun' competition sponsored by the Women's Division at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Contestants will be required to fry Hamburger mix and onions. Stoves, frying pans, flippers, onions, relishes and hamburger mix materials will be provided by the C.N.E., explains Kate Aitken, women's director.

All entrants are being supplied with free admission tickets and a meal ticket. "No competitor will be forced to eat his own hamburger", Mrs. Aitken points out. To allow men to participate as well as women, the contest will take place the night of August 30.

Entry forms are now being mailed out on request from the Women's Division, Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, Ontario. Prospective contestants must be registered not later than August 14. Scoring the hamburgers will be based on speed of cooking, handling of frying pan and quality of the finished product.

FASHION HINT

All hail to mixmatch jobs, such as this two-piece costume that can be nicely mixed or matched with other pieces for wardrobe variety on a budget. The fabric is red, black and blue plaid cotton. The blouse has a deep square neck with a sawtooth edge at the base, and brief cap sleeves. It is shown with an unpressed pleated skirt with built-up waistband and back fastening. The skirt would look attractive with a black piqué blouse, while the top would go nicely with a black piqué, linen or cotton skirt.

New York Hats Go Masculine

New York (CP) — Husbands can breathe a sigh of thankfulness for the luxurious mode in fall millinery. It may not help their pocketbooks, but at least their own favorite homburgs and fedoras will be reasonably safe.

The little woman won't look twice at a plain grey felt fedora. Hers will have to be richer both in material and color — something like fleecy beaver, dyed in misted sunset or autumn leaf colors, or with feathers stitched down to resemble cut velvet.

Designers of women's hats have taken to the mannish shapes in a big way. One whole collection was based on the fedora, sometimes tilted to one side in profile effect, sometimes flattened and rounded to pork-pie shape, or lifted and broadened to homburg proportions. Sometimes the brim was cut away altogether, leaving only the dented crown like an army overseas cap.

This designer used no veils, except an occasional one for evening, but another collection showed plentiful use of veils to soften masculine contours of derbies, rollers and fedoras. "Eye-paint" veils, matched to eye-shadow makeup to accent the eyes, were featured. Button-on veils, beaded or be-jewelled, turned simple daytime hats into glamorous evening headgear.

Even for the cocktail hour the mannish shape is the thing. The dented crown and snap brim appear in lustrous panne velvet and satin, in gleaming cut steel beads on grey felt or jet-beaded black felt.

Would Show Tourists British Rural Life

London (Reuters) — An enterprising woman with great influence in the village life of Berkshire, pretty southern English county, has embarked on a drive to attract American tourists by assuring them of a really warm welcome from country folks and genuine "behind-the-scenes" glimpses of rural life in England.

The idea of Miss K. Talbot, of the Berkshire Village Produce Association, is that most Americans visiting Britain are keen to see more than the superficial sightseeing of "ye olde village inns" and the local manor house can show them.

She thinks they would like to meet English villagers, learn about their way of life, what they talk about and what they think of other nations.

And to give them the opportunity to see English village life as it is, Miss Talbot has started a campaign to break down the reserve of country folk towards foreign visitors, to encourage them to invite tourists into their homes, tell them about their local affairs and answer questions about English farming methods.

She hopes to see her plan in full operation by the time Festival of Britain visitors start to arrive next year.

Parents' Lament

School is out at last,
Our youngsters now are free
To pursue their little vices;
Alas, oh woe is me.

Up with crack of dawn,
Yelling through the house;
If that's a sunrise serenade,
No wonder parents grouse.

Shouting in the garden,
Proclaiming shrill their joys;
Contending with each other
To see who makes most noise.

Arguments to settle,
Knees to bandage too,
Hungry little mouths to feed;
A million things to do!

Talk about relaxing!
There's really no such thing;
Not if you have children,
And the worries children bring.

People who have youngsters
Need an extra hand,
Two more eyes, and nerves of steel,
The onslaught to withstand.

But we find consolation,
The weeks pass swift and then,
Come Fall, the little rascals
Will be back at school again.

Meantime we grin and bear it.
Now everyone agrees,
Children make a home, I know,
But pass the aspirin, please.

I.O.D.E. Purchases Royal Carpet

The grospoint carpet worked by H.R.H. Queen Mary has been sold to the I.O.D.E. in Canada for $100,000 in the first instance. The I.O.D.E. propose to show the carpet at C.N.E. Toronto in August and on a national tour. Proceeds over and above $100,000 from these showings, and from a national fund to which all Canadians will be given an opportunity to contribute, will be added to the purchase price. The carpet will ultimately be turned over to the National Gallery of Canada for public showing.

Argenteuil Softball

Boyd's Express and the Bluebirds of Lachute battled to a near-scoreless game on Sunday, but a home run by F. Brunette in the second inning gave Boyd's the only score of the game. It was a pitchers' duel all the way, with W. Tremblay and G. Tillotson doing some very fine work. Both teams played fine ball, and there were only two errors in the game. Each team made about six scattered hits, in a very close and interesting contest. This is the first game of the season that the winning team has not been scored upon. Final result — Boyd's Express 1, Bluebirds 0.

At Brownsburg, the Malacket Spiders defeated the Beavers of Lachute 19-7. Brownsburg were without the services of their two pitchers, but F. Leroux took over and allowed only 7 runs. Brownsburg now heads the league, and leads over the nearest team by 2 points.

At White Rose, the Tigers came close to upsetting the home team in a keenly contested game. The Tigers were leading 7-2 in the sixth inning, but White Rose came back to win the encounter 14-13. There was some excellent pitching by F. Donagani, and some fine hitting by both teams.

Following is the schedule for next week:

Boyd's vs. Tigers
Malacket Spiders vs. White Rose
Bluebirds vs. Beavers

Famous Bauer Sisters, Golf Stars, To Play Exhibition at Local Club

The management of Lachute Golf and Country Club disclose that they have secured two of the fairways' fairest, the Misses Alice and Marlene Bauer, for an exhibition match over the local course Sunday afternoon, July 23. Tee-off time will be about 2.30 p.m.

The girls' father, Dave Bauer, was a recent immigrant from Germany, in business in a small town in North Dakota, when he first met up with the game called golf. From that day on there was no other interest in Dave Bauer's life. He made up his mind that he would master the game himself, and that his sons would also. When his sons turned out to be daughters, Dave's intentions were altered not a bit. As soon as Alice (now 22) was able to walk, Papa Bauer started to teach her the fundamentals of golf, and when Marlene (now 16) came along, plans were laid for a golfing Bauer twosome.

Dave Bauer had long since abandoned his business enterprise and turned golf professional after a most exhaustive study of the game. When the cold prairie winters interfered with the girls' training, he packed up the whole family and moved to warmer climes. The girls lived golf the year around, and although Dave himself was far past the age when he could compete with the greats of the game, his patient study and teaching technique soon brought his two daughters a lion's share of amateur honors.

Seeded players on many an amateur card, the girls frequently found themselves finalists; and while their mother fretted around the course over the fact that they couldn't both win, Papa took the more optimistic view, gleefully predicting that the Bauer family couldn't lose. At 16, Marlene is a past holder of the U.S. Junior Girls' Championship.

In April of this year the sisters turned professional, and the name Bauer is rapidly reaching a spot of prominence among the great names of golf. Alice and Marlene come here under the management of Fred Corcoran, tournament director for the Ladies' Professional Golf Association. They have both been recently appointed to the advisory staff of Spalding's.

Lachute will be fortunate indeed to see, at an early stage in their career, two athletes whose personalities and perseverance can hardly fail to carry them to the top in their chosen profession.

Activities of Cadet Company

Despite the fact that several of the members are away for the summer, 'D' Co'y of the Highland Cadets are still going strong, and becoming more proficient every week. The boys are very enthusiastic, eager to learn, and are making good progress. Cadets Boyd, McCrea, Nymark, Lummis, Murdoch and Kelly have returned from 10 days at camp at Valcartier. On the strength of their performance at camp, and upon recommendation from Battalion Headquarters, Lieut. Tabrett announced that Cadets Boyd and Nymark have been promoted to the rank of lance-corporal. It is expected there will be several more promotions in the near future.

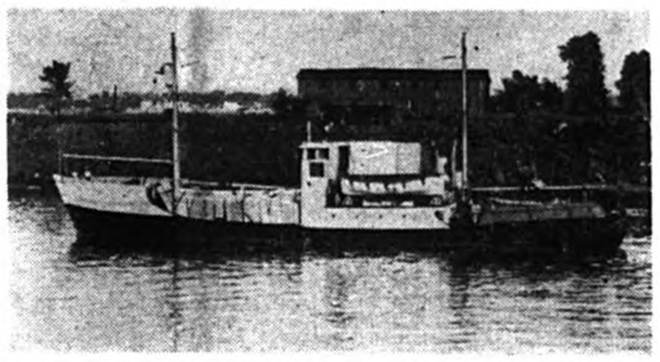

Last Monday evening 20 cadets under Lieut. Tabrett went to Brownsburg to help the local Rotary Club in setting up part of their Carnival, and also clearing brush from the entrance to the Rotary park and playground.

Efforts to secure the basement of the Auditorium have met with success—the Town Council having agreed to rent the building to the Company for a nominal amount. Therefore, next Monday the training parade will be held in the basement of the Lachute Auditorium at 8 p.m. This will undoubtedly be of great assistance to the Cadets, and the action of the Town Council in making the building available is much appreciated.

Some of the boys now have their uniforms, and it is hoped that arrangements will be completed in the near future to outfit the remainder. Boots are on order and will be delivered within the next month.

On June 27 the Cadets held a dance for members and guests, in the Legion Memorial Hall, and despite the relatively poor attendance, those who were there spent an enjoyable evening, dancing to music provided by the Lachute High School Orchestra. It is hoped to have another similar "do" next month.

Two Local Men Aboard Mission Boat, To Erect Schoolhouse in Arctic Colony

Decks groaning under the weight of supplies, the small mission ship Regina Polaris sailed last Friday from Montreal on a voyage which will take her on a four-month, 13,000-mile tour of Canada's Arctic.

— Picture courtesy Montreal Gazette

Last week a little blue schoolhouse moved away from the oil dock at Montreal East aboard the 139-ton mission ship Regina Polaris, bound for the Arctic. Two carpenters from this community, Hector McRae and Clayton Boyd, are aboard the wooden-hulled vessel. They will land at Cape Dorset in Baffin Land to erect the little school designed to accommodate 35 children. The Regina Polaris is on a four months' trip covering some 13,000 miles in the Arctic region, and the schoolhouse, specially fabricated in Lachute by Tower Company Ltd. on contract for the Department of Health and Social Welfare, is piled in sections on the boat's foredeck. Besides the four-room school there will be a dwelling for the teacher.

Actual erection of the buildings will take two weeks; McRae and Boyd, who are both experienced in perma-frost construction work, will then be transferred by plane to other projects on the company's program this season.

The little ship, which carries the white cross of the Oblate Fathers on her funnel, is loaded to the gunwales with supplies for various lonely communities, and carries eight passengers in addition to the construction men. The vessel will unload its 215 tons of general cargo in the next three weeks, and will spend the rest of the summer ferrying cargoes from Churchill to various outposts.

Traffic, Roads, Building Permits On Agenda at Town Council Meet

The regular session of Lachute Town Council was held in the council chamber last week under chairmanship of Mayor Leopold Carriere. Members in attendance were — Aldermen W. S. MacKimmie, W. Morrissette, P. Chartrand, Jos. Belanger, S. Holt, D. G. MacRae and Ernest Provost, with the secretary-treasurer, Antonio Laurin.

A report was presented on proceeds of the civic benefit show and auction held recently for fire and flood relief, which amounted to $237.45 net. On motion of Ald. S. Holt, seconded by Ald. E. Provost, the council agreed to bring the amount up to $350, to be apportioned as follows — $125 for the City of Winnipeg, $125 for Rimouski, Que., and $100 for Cabano, Que.

It was moved and seconded that the Auditorium be granted one night a week to Mr. G. Tabrett for cadet drill, at a nominal fee of $1 a month — to be so used every Monday night and at the discretion of the Council. This motion was carried on division, 4 voting in favor and 3 against.

Discussion arose over the proposal to take over from Ste. Anastasie Parish Church a tract of land to permit completion of Sidney Street through to Bethany. There being some angles of disagreement as to terms, it was moved by Ald. Chartrand, seconded by Ald. Provost, that the town submit a definite proposal for approval of the church authorities, with a time limit for acceptance in order that paving might be effected while contractors are engaged this season on the town contract for surfacing of thoroughfares. The resolution was passed on division, Ald. Jos. Belanger dissenting.

Permission was granted to the Chief of Police to reorganize the Lachute Police Funds.

Permission was granted to the secretary-treasurer to have the corporation telephone numbers changed — 1001 and 1002 instead and 204 and 903.

Another problem involving streets and traffic, concerned the establishing of a street line and sidewalk at R. McArthur & Son's, the intersection of Main, Robert and Mary Streets. The council decided to take advantage of an offer from this firm to permit widening of the corner, and to install an island for traffic circulation in accordance with the surveyor's recommendations and at the council's discretion.

Various accounts to the amount of $12,045.60 were approved for payment.

Building permits were granted to W. Chenier, G. Graham, George Paul, Paul Desnoyers, Earl Tomalty, E. J. Stevens, J. L. Landriault, Philippe Raymond and Bertrand L'Heureux — for construction under supervision of the Roads Committee.

It was moved and seconded that 15-minute parking signs be installed in front of the Rio Theatre and the business places on Main Street West from Mary Street to the fire station.

A petition was received from Geo. Y. Deacon and Philias Mallette to install 200 feet of sewer on Evelina Street. It was moved and seconded that this installation be made, and that the parties will pay for same — under the usual provisions of approval of the Roads Committee.

It was also moved and seconded that a sewer be constructed on Foundry Street East.

It was decided that Robert Todd, former town officer, be engaged to supervise paving work, at a remuneration of 90 cents an hour.

Election Monday At Morin Heights

Six candidates were nominated for two council vacancies to be contested next Monday at Morin Heights. For the third seat (No. 5) Paul Baumel was elected by acclamation. Following are the contenders:

Seat No. 1 — R. E. Jamieson, J. Kennedy, J. Harold Millard.

Seat No. 3 — Robt. N. Goodfellow, Georges A. Parthenais, F. T. Watchorn.

The Municipality of Morin Heights has latterly floated a loan issue of $25,000 to provide for the construction of a municipal building and fire station. The bonds were purchased by the Crédit Anglo-Française at a price of 96.50 and on an interest basis of 3.903.

Election Results, Two School Boards

Lakefield — A total of 74 ratepayers recorded their votes for two school commissioners in the Municipality of Gore last Monday. The Rev. C. W. P. Baugh was returned to office, and Albert E. McDonald was elected to replace Austin Kyle.

Votes polled by the four candidates were — Albert E. McDonald 37, Rev. C. W. P. Baugh 36, A. Kyle 34, Jas. R. Thompson 33.

The Gore School Board now comprises the following — W. S. Andrews, W. A. Sherritt, C. W. P. Baugh, Donald McDonald, Albert E. McDonald. Mrs. W. Y. Shearsmith is secretary-treasurer.

• • •

St. Andrews East —

Two retiring commissioners, Henry Labreche and Howard H. McOuat, were re-elected on Monday to the Protestant School Commission of St. Andrews East. Frederick Robertson was the third candidate, defeated. The returns were:

Henry Labreche 66, Howard H. McOuat 41, Fred Robertson 35.

There were 74 ballots cast out of 152 eligible to vote — which is considered a fair turn-out, in view of the proportion of property-holders who are city-dwellers and not full-time residents in St. Andrews Village.

Britain Takes Loss On Potato Business

London (CP) — The government lost more than £11,000,000 ($34,100,000) on potato trading in the year 1948-49, an official report showed.

A small loss was shown on carrots.

Sir Frank Tribe, auditor-general, said in the report that the food ministry buys all potatoes of warehouse standard at a fixed price between November 1 and March 31.

Quantities offered vary from those purchased according to yield. In a year of high yield they often exceed the number needed for human consumption. Losses therefore result in disposing of the surplus for other purposes.

In 1948-49, the ministry had to dispose of about 1,800,000 tons of potatoes.

The report said there is great variation from year to year. A poor crop in 1947 led to potato rationing. Next year there was a record output.

Rotary 'Bushmen' Make Beach and Tots' Playground

The Rotary Club of Brownsburg has achieved another community welfare project, in providing a picnic ground and swimming beach — a safe amusement spot for school children and young tots.

An ideal location was found on the old Dan McOuat farm, above the dam on the West River. Rotarian Chas. Moseley headed a committee of members and helpers, who went to work and in a few weeks licked the brush and shoreline into shape, built cabins, erected barriers for youngsters at the water's edge, and strung guideropes across the river for safety of the older children. Altogether they did a grand job in a short time.

The Rotary Club has secured the services of four supervisors for swimming and games — Miss Rachel Moseley, Miss Joan Goldthorp, Messrs. Keith Graham and Lorne Brewer — and there will be one or more supervisors on duty at all times.

There is no admission charge to this amusement park and all residents and their families, from Lachute, Brownsburg and district, are invited to visit the beach — which is a credit to the selfless and devoted efforts of those responsible for its realization.

200 Italian Immigrants Expected; Some Available For Farm Work Here

A contingent of 200 Italian farm workers is due to arrive this month on Canadian soil to take up work on Canadian farms. According to J. G. Lamontagne, manager of the National Employment Office for this region, the men have been chosen as adapted to agricultural work, and are available to Canadian farmers who are willing to engage them for a period of one year. Farmers of this community interested in employing any of these newcomers, are invited to make enquiries at the local employment office on Main Street.

Mrs. Mary MacRae Reaches 90th Milestone

Mrs. Mary MacRae, residing on Bethany Road, attained the ripe old age of 90 on Wednesday. She received visits from relatives and old friends, coming from Montreal, Lost River and Lachute district; and was also the recipient of a bouquet of flowers expressed by Radio Station CJAD, Montreal. Mrs. MacRae is alert of mind and enjoying good health and spirits.

Local Man in Auto Accident

Clifford Lowe — of the Lowe family, dairy operators in Lachute — suffered painful injuries in an automobile mishap Monday afternoon, a few miles this side of St. Eustache. The accident occurred at 5 p.m., when the driver, alone in the car, was proceeding on Highway No. 8 towards Montreal, and his automobile crashed into a truck as it turned off the road into a driveway.

Clifford Lowe suffered a fractured arm and leg, besides facial cuts. Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, of Lachute (who rushed to the scene in company with Clifford's brother) and a physician from St. Eustache rendered first-aid treatment, and the victim was transferred by ambulance to the Ross Memorial Pavilion in Montreal. The car was towed back to Lachute, a complete wreck.

It is reported that the truck involved in this accident overturned, but the two occupants escaped injury.

New Jet Night Fighter for R.A.F.

It has recently been announced that the R.A.F.'s first jet-propelled night fighter is in production. Known as the Meteor N.F.11, its appearance shows it to be a combination of the Meteor VII two-seater trainer and the Meteor VIII, the latest jet fighter to be produced for the Royal Air Force.

SMALL BUSINESS

Small business is not receiving the protection it deserves from our government, either federal or provincial. Perhaps this is because governments, too, have become too big and their sympathies lie naturally with big business.

— Campbellton (N.B.) Tribune

TROUT FINGERLINGS

Hudson Bay, Sask. (CP) — About 14,000 speckled brown trout fingerlings were recently planted in the Overflow, Greenbush and Prairie Rivers. They were taken there by truck, in a tank specially equipped to keep the water aerated and packed in ice.

Danger from Beebee Pellets

In the east ward of Lachute, there has been some anxiety among parents over the indiscriminate shooting of beebee guns by youngsters in that section. Two or three minor injuries have occurred to arms and legs, which suggest more ominous possibilities, that one of these pellets might strike a child in the eye and cause permanent injury.

Parents should issue a stern warning to their youngsters, to handle these beebee guns with care and fire them strictly in their own back yards.

Youth Drowned At Huberdeau

Accidental death was the verdict given after a coroner's investigation into the drowning of Blaise Chalifour, of Rosemount, which occurred Sunday afternoon at Otter Lake, Huberdeau.

At his parents' summer cottage, the 15-year-old youth — who is a pupil at Rigaud College — was swimming near the beach with his brother, sisters and a number of friends, when he suddenly disappeared beneath the water. His companions raised the alarm, and 10 minutes later the boy was brought to the surface, where he had gone down in a depth of 8 feet. Artificial respiration was applied by Dr. J. Gareau, who had been summoned from Huberdeau, but after two hours the victim was pronounced dead. The drowning occurred around 4.30 p.m.

Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, was notified and made an investigation.

Program Set for Juvenile Club Visit to B'burg

Interesting Event Arranged for Coming Saturday

Brownsburg — On Saturday next, July 15, the Montreal Police Juvenile Club will be paying their return visit to the Brownsburg Police Juvenile Club. The Montreal boys will make the trip by bus, and are due to arrive in Brownsburg at 1.30 p.m. They will then proceed to the Social Club picnic grounds, where the following program has been arranged:

1.30 p.m. — Arrival.
2.00 p.m. — Softball game between Clubs, boys 12 to 14 years of age.
4.00 p.m. — Softball game between Clubs, boys 15 to 18 years of age.
5.45 p.m. — Supper on the field. (The Montreal boys having their lunch, and soft drinks being supplied by the Brownsburg Club).
6.00 p.m. — Reception at Social Club, for officials of the party.
7.30 p.m. — Departure for Montreal.

Mr. J. L. Duchastel, president of the Brownsburg Police Juvenile Club, and its executive members, trust that every Brownsburg family having a member in this club will be represented, so that they can show the boys their appreciation for the work of Police Chief Henri Foucreau, organizer of the club at Brownsburg. They also hope that Brownsburg sports fans will turn out in large numbers to witness the softball games; and in doing so, have an opportunity of meeting the man who started these clubs in Montreal, Capt.-Det. Ovila Pelletier.

• • •

On Wednesday next, July 19, the Brownsburg Police Juvenile Club members will be taken to Jos. Malacket's summer place at Lake Macdonald for a day of outdoor events. There will be swimming, races, softball games, etc. The boys are asked only to bring their lunch; the club executive will supply the rest. Every member of the Brownsburg Police Juvenile Club is requested to be on Main Street, near Maple Ave., not later than 9.45 a.m.; cars will leave at 10 o'clock sharp.

Premier M. Duplessis Adamant on Mt. Royal Television Project

By William Stewart

Quebec, July 10 (CP) — Premier Maurice Duplessis has advised the CBC his government will consider the plan for a television transmitter on Mount Royal if a provincial broadcasting service is authorized.

The Quebec Government leader gave out this news at his weekly press conference last Friday. He said he made his views known to Dr. Augustin Frigon, CBC general manager, during a recent interview.

Premier Duplessis said he also told Dr. Frigon the CBC is a "voice trust" and he doesn't see why it should become a "vision trust".

The Premier said that while Montreal city authorities are empowered to grant the CBC a site on Mount Royal for television, the provincial government has reserved for itself final sanction of such a plan.

The reason for this is that Mount Royal is a reserve from which automobiles are barred and to which building restrictions apply, said the Premier. A television transmitter would run afoul the building restrictions and there are "other aspects" of the problem.

Premier Duplessis noted that his government introduced legislation for a $5,000,000 provincial government broadcasting service five years ago but has never been authorized by federal authorities to set up the system.

"It seems to me that it would be elementary justice to give the province rights to have a radio station permitting Quebec to express itself, make itself better known and benefit from publicity to the advantage of Quebec, and to which Quebec has a right", said the Premier.

Kicked by Horse, Instantly Killed

William Graham Arnold, aged 22, of Grenville — son of Gilbert E. Arnold, widely known horseman — met sudden death on the Arnold Farm last Saturday when he was kicked by a colt and died within a few minutes, of a ruptured heart.

The fatality occurred around 3.30 p.m. when the young man and four of the farm workers were rounding up a number of colts in a corral. They had caught three of the animals and William Arnold had hold of the fourth, when the latter brushed against a colt of nervous temperament, which let fly with its heels. Arnold was hit in the chest and died almost instantly.

Dr. Smith was summoned immediately from the town of Hawkesbury and pronounced the victim dead. Investigation was made by the district joint-coroner, Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute. Principal eyewitness was John Stokalko, who had been working with Arnold in the enclosure and saw the accident happen. The coroner gave a verdict of accidental death.

William Graham Arnold is survived by his wife (the former Joan Contance Higginson, of Hawkesbury) and two young children — besides his parents, two brothers and a sister.

The funeral, attended by friends from a wide area, was held Tuesday afternoon from his residence at Grenville to St. Matthew's Anglican Church. Interment was made in the local cemetery.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE NEWS

Annual Picnic Meeting Frontier Branch, Cushing

(Our District Correspondent)

Cushing —

The annual picnic meeting of Frontier W.I. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gaston on Tuesday, and this branch of the Institute expresses its sincere appreciation of this yearly privilege to both Mr. and Mrs. Gaston for their kind interest in the event.

A business meeting was conducted and wound up with interesting reports on the recent annual convention at Macdonald College, given by Mrs. R. Blakely and Mrs. A. Graham.

Races were held for the considerable gathering of children of the members, including also many guests from the vicinity, as well as youngsters from greater distances.

Following is the list of winners:

Girls 1 - 5 — Marion Elliott, Mary Macdonald.
Boys 1 - 5 — Wayne Clark, George Clark.
Girls 6 - 8 — Judy Murdoch, Malford Grace Donaldson.
Boys 9 - 11 — Bobby Skuffham, Arthur Gauley.
Girls 12 - 14 — Eunice Warwick, Lorna Clark.
Girls over 15 — Myrna Gaston, Lilian Warwick.
Three-Legged Race — Elmer Griffith and Ronnie Kavanagh.
Wheelbarrow Race—John W. Heatlie and Elmer Griffith.
Potato Race — Mrs. John Douglas.
Married Ladies' Race — Mrs. John Douglas.
Married Men — J. W. Heatlie, Jr.
Grandmothers' Race — Mrs. T. W. Weir.

New W.I. Demonstrator

Miss F. Elizabeth Campbell, B.Sc. (H.Ec.) Edmonton, Alta., has accepted the position of Demonstrator for the Quebec Women's Institutes, and commenced her duties July 10. Miss Campbell is a graduate of the University of Alberta and has been with the Blood Transfusion Service of the Canadian Red Cross in Toronto for the past sixteen months. She is an accomplished musician, a keen sportswoman, and comes highly recommended for this important work.

Plans are now being made at the Provincial office for courses in the various subjects connected with home-making and branches wishing this service are asked to contact the Q.W.I. Office, Macdonald College, as this information will assist Miss Campbell in drawing up her itinerary.

Grandmothers' Night At Brownsburg W.I.

Brownsburg —

The Brownsburg W.I. held their July meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell, Dalesville, on Thursday evening, July 6, with 27 members present, and four visitors.

Mrs. Mason Crosby, 2nd vice-president, was convener of the meeting. The motto was, "Enjoy yourself, it is later than you think", and the topic was "Exhibit No. 1 of my grandmother's possessions". Quite a number of interesting exhibits and pictures were shown.

Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, the county president, was introduced by Mrs. Crosby, and gave an interesting address. Mrs. W. Sherritt, president of Lakefield Branch, was also present, and Mrs. G. Armstrong and Mrs. J. McKenzie from Pioneer. The report of the provincial convention was read by Mrs. Dixon, and Mrs. Todd gave a brief address on the short course at Macdonald College.

The members are planning to visit the Experimental Farm next month at Ottawa. Prizes were given for the eldest and the youngest grandmothers — won by Mrs. Gardiner and Mrs. McAllister. Mrs. Stephens took photographs of all the grandmothers present, and an enjoyable evening was spent by those present.

Gatineau LINES

Amalgamation

From time to time in this column we have mentioned that Gatineau Power Company was formed some 24 years ago by the amalgamation of no less than 25 small, isolated electricity companies each serving a little area of what is now the territory served by Gatineau. It might be interesting to consider what that amalgamation of many little companies almost a quarter century ago has meant to the people who now are the customers of Gatineau Power.

Probably the first thing which springs to mind is the matter of rates. The rates of all the little companies long ago were all different, and all of them were at least twice as high as those now in effect. In some cases, the rates were as much as 10 times as high as they are now.

Another important factor is that of continuity of service. There once was a time when trouble of any kind in a single power plant meant a complete black-out of all the territory served by that power plant. As each company operated separately in its own area, there was little or no linking of transmission lines from one area to another.

Today a network of wires serves all the Gatineau area, and trouble of any kind in one plant does not mean a complete lack of electricity until the trouble is remedied. Now the plants of one area are ready at all times to take up the load from districts far removed in case of local troubles. Even the cut-offs resulting from wire breaks of one kind and another can be localized and shortened by the use of other circuits in the network. Power interruptions have been cut to a very small fraction of what they once were.

Probably the greatest advantage of all in this electrical world, however, comes from a factor which is almost entirely overlooked. It is the fact that each of the old companies operated at a different voltage and a different frequency, so that there could be absolutely no interchanging of equipment. A washing machine, a radio, a water heater, a motor, any of the electrical things we accept as commonplace today, built to operate in a certain locality at a certain voltage and frequency, would have been useless 10 miles away in territory served by another company operating on different cycle and voltage.

SEASONAL FARM TOPICS

Radio-Active Materials In Fertilizers

Ottawa — "Radio-active materials are not beneficial to plant growth and their use at present is confined to the laboratory", said Dr. H. J. Atkinson, Division of Chemistry, Science Service, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, addressing the meeting of the Provincial Fertilizer Boards held at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, and attended by Federal and provincial officials and representatives from the fertilizer trade.

Dr. Atkinson said that the use of these radio active isotopes in fertilizers had been carefully studied, first in California, and later in other parts of the world, and all experiments showed that these substances had no beneficial effect on plant growth and their economic use is not recommended at the present time.

From an academic or a laboratory standpoint, however, he said that they were being put to good use as a method of studying the movement of plant food within the plant by means of a Geiger Counter and had some value for this purpose.

Every Farmer A Chemist

Whether he realizes it or not, every Canadian farmer is a chemist. In his fields and barns he supervises one of the greatest chemical processes — that of producing food for his fellow men.

Meat, grain, vegetables, fruit and milk are the products of the farmer's work with sun and rain, with seed and tools, and the chemical elements of the soil. These last are of vast importance to him since their presence or absence may determine the success or failure of his crops.

If he is conscientious about his vocation and wishes to prosper, a farmer should know the chemistry of his soil. He should know, for example that nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium are chemical elements which are food for plants when present in proper form and amounts in soil. Since plants are not mobile, the food must be brought to them and placed where they can reach it. Keeping the soil so that it can act like an efficient chemical plant requires application of plant food in manure and fertilizers, maintaining organic matter and proper tillage for good soil structure. He should know something of the trace elements — boron, manganese, iron and zinc — all important to healthy plant growth.

Chemical soil tests and observation of crops are indicators of the state of the soil chemical plant. Poor drainage and such practices as working clay soils when wet causes poor soil structure and the plants show it. Commercial fertilizers are sources of the plant foods, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. Farmers know them as nitrogen, phosphate and potash derived from common materials such as ammonium, sulphate, superphosphate and muriate of potash or mixtures of these.

This is true chemistry with which every farmer should be familiar if he is to give back to the soil essential elements removed in harvested crops and by leaching and erosion.

Vacation Week for Watchman Press

Kiwanis Bursaries For Macdonald College

The Kiwanis Club of Montreal, through its Agricultural Committee, has just announced its intention to provide five bursaries of $100 each for students of the Diploma Course in Agriculture at Macdonald College. These bursaries will be awarded to students entering the first year of the course, and special consideration in making the awards will be given to applicants who are members of calf clubs in their home districts. The bursaries are restricted to students from the Montreal district, which includes calf clubs at Huntingdon, Ormstown, Howick, Cowansville, Lachute and Arundel.

Kiwanis of Montreal are most sincere in their interest, and most generous in their support of farm boys who are anxious to improve their position and equip themselves for a larger role in rural life. The Kiwanis believe that, given the opportunity, these future farmers can do much to improve farm life, and the relationship between farm and city dwellers.

Applications for these bursaries are to be made to The Registrar, Macdonald College, Que., before October 1, and each must be accompanied by a letter of recommendation from the applicant's school principal, agronome, or club leader.

FARM PRICES SOAR IN SOUTH AFRICA

Johannesburg (CP) — South African farmers are this year reaping the harvest of a price boom in agricultural products which has boosted their earnings to the highest level ever. The cheques they receive for 1950-51 season may total as much as £210,000,000 ($651,000,000) compared with the pre-war average of about £70,000,000.

Farmers are now getting for their products more than three-and-a-half times what they received in 1938, and June's unprecedented high index will probably be almost double the 1946 price figure.

You Can Get Your House Ready for Winter
With a B of M Loan For Home Improvement

It's wise to think about the cold weather a good while before the winds sharpen and the leaves begin to fall. And you probably have things at home you'd like to take care of before it's right on top of you. The furnace, for example, or a good insulating job.

These improvements to your home will have a happy effect upon your health and comfort, but they cost money. And you may not be able to find at once the necessary cash, even though you would have no difficulty in meeting the amount out of your annual income.

In that case, drop into the Bank of Montreal at Lachute, and have a chat with Donald Hay, the manager. The B of M has special personal loans for home improvement. If you borrow $100, for example, it will cost you only 27 cents a month, when repaid over a year. B of M personal loans are repayable in easy instalments, and Mr. Hay will be very happy to discuss with you how such a loan can be applied to your own problems.

THE MOST unfortunate people you meet on a holiday jaunt are those who admire some particularly beautiful scene and say wistfully: "If only we'd remembered to bring our camera!"

Probably most of us have been in that plight at one time or another. The family camera has been left behind in the rush of packing for a once-in-a-lifetime trip. And all through the trip, the scenery has fairly begged to be put on film, the cloud masses and sunsets have been heart-breakingly photogenic, and incidents for perfect candid shots have presented themselves at every turn.

This year, if we're wise, we'll put right at the top of the list of vacation plans: "Take a camera."

For vacation snapshots take on special charm and appeal, regardless of the type of camera used. Just as holiday time usually is the high point of a year, the photographic record of its adventures stands out in a season's picture-taking activities.

As the years roll by, the pictorial history of a family's holiday fun becomes more and more valuable. Flipping the pages of an album will stir memories of the first season you rented the cottage, the summer the dog fought a porcupine the year you bought the boat, the windstorm that toppled so many trees, the boys' first canoe trip, and so on.

Many of those occasions come only once. Almost before you realize it, they are gone — unless you have a camera handy.

Never in any other recent year have dealers stocked such an array of cameras of every type and price. Both black-and-white and color film seem plentiful and there are books galore on picture-making.

Maybe some of the snaps will come out underexposed or overdone. The odd one may be blurry because someone moved or the camera jiggled. Perhaps you'll swing the lens too far towards the sun as the shutter clicks and the picture will come out light-struck. But the good shots should capture the fun of your 1950 holiday in a form that will rekindle your memories in the days ahead.

THE BEST news that Canadian resort men find in the U.S. tourist boom is that Americans are budget-minded this year, says Business Week. "The reason is that you can have a cheaper vacation in Canada than almost anywhere away from your own home. The Canadian Government is spending $1.2 million this year in U.S. advertising to get that point across. Canada expects several million tourists to spend $300 million. That would make it the biggest year yet — and Canada is counting on it to help gather in valuable U.S. dollars. Vacations and sales of newsprint in the U.S. are Canada's biggest source of American dollars."

Morning Greeting

ONCE AGAIN this week we were awakened at 5 a.m. by the bellowing of cattle in a drover's truck on Main Street — a lowing herd impatiently moo-ing for their breakfast, while their driver tarried half an hour over his fried eggs in a nearby lunch-car. Judging by the pitch of voices, the animals ranged in age from calfhood to cowhood, and their chorus would have been a pastoral harmony — in another setting, and at any other time than 5 a.m. on Main Street.

A telephone call to police headquarters failed to raise any response. (It was learned the officers were busy on more important duties.) . . We suggest, however, that if Main Street cannot be adequately patrolled in the zero hours, then the noise should be curbed at its source. The offending truckers are old hands at the game, and should receive warning direct from the authorities. This nuisance has gone on long enough.

Need More Than Pension

IN THE next few years scores of thousands of Canadians are going to be pensioned off at 65 with little or no preparation for the new life they will face.

This is a big problem, warns The Financial Post, and it is growing bigger. At the beginning of the century only 4% of the Canadian population came in the 65-year or over group. Today that proportion is 10% and it is steadily increasing.

That group could make a substantial contribution to Canadian life. All in it would be better off with definite interests. Without these they are likely to rust out quickly, becoming merely a burden to their relatives or the state.

Some are still able and willing to do a good day's work, but under any universal and rigid pensioning scheme they have little opportunity. Some of them need hobbies and recreation. Many would be better off moving out to small places in the country where they can grow a little of their food or develop profitable sidelines. If we are to keep these people happy and healthy and useful after they leave the factory or office, then they and the public generally must understand that there is much more to the problem of retirement than merely providing a monthly cheque.

THE WORLD has changed in its religious thinking as much as it has changed in many other things. It seems, therefore, that the church must rise up and change its methods to suit the times. The principle will always remain the same, but the method could be changed to make the most of the chances offered.

I, TOO - Saw England

— By T. D. Titman, Asst. Editor —

III

The Englishman and His Diversions

"The Englishman's home is his castle" — and his garden is more cherished than the broad estates which surround many of England's historic mansions. In all the homes I visited, it was apparent that the menfolk take pride in their lawns and flower-beds, their vegetable plots and fruit trees. In suburban Britain the railways invariably border the backyards of working-people's homes, which are mostly terraced houses, some very sordid of appearance. But it is remarkable on a Sunday train journey, to see every Tom, Dick and Eustace out working in his garden. (Even more remarkable the numerous lines of washing waving in the breeze — on Sunday).

Yes, the Englishman is a lover of Nature and the outdoors. Besides his garden plot he may cultivate an "allotment" — one of those unlovely but productive patches which blot the suburban landscape. Allotments (and prefabricated dwellings, equally unattractive) are offshoots of the war which desecrate many of London's beautiful parks; but I was informed that the park allotments are all to be returfed next year, by government decree.

I met veterans of the voluntary services who were reorganizing their A.R.P. (Air Raid Precautions) units for special instruction in the contingencies of atomic warfare. The average Briton is intensely patriotic for the protection of his home and countryside. And both, in the war years, have been so pitifully mutilated, that one can fully understand his concern.

The typical Briton is a working man. The leisured class, the idle rich, the gentleman farmer (types which too often misrepresent the English in magazine caricatures), these are a segment of the population so negligible that — well, the typical Briton is still essentially a working man. The white-collar worker commutes from Suburbia to the City, sometimes with his neatly rolled umbrella, almost invariably with his raincoat over his arm. He rides in a packed trolley-bus, "tube" or train, and returns at eve to the home which is his castle.

Thus, one would expect to find him satisfied with his vocation and his hobbies. But no, our English friend is above all an enthusiastic sportsman, either in the field or on the spectator lines. His lawn-bowling, tennis, cricket or football, are essentially part of his life; and generally his most favored "wireless" entertainment is a ringside broadcast from the big matches and tournaments. . .

Which will serve to introduce the topic of cricket (in which a Watchman reader expressed particular interest last week). Cricket in England is no mere pastime; it is a national institution. Even in literature the poets have immortalized it. I approached the subject warily, a trifle cynically perhaps. True, so long ago I had played the game for the honor of the old school tie—but now, more attuned to the speed of Canadian hockey and the crisp frenzy of our N.H.L. broadcasts, I listened with some boredom to the leisurely comment from Lord's, the hub of Empire cricket. The test matches were in progress. I could appreciate my companions' high enthusiasm, but somehow I could not share it. . .

And then I went to see! Not the great test matches, but the white-clad figures in a league game at the local park. My first impressions were — that languid transposition of players as the umpire called an "over" — the padded player who meandered out from the pavilion to bat — and was this, I asked, the great exciting game? Finally, the erratic bowler who pitched a lazy, sluggish ball — a perfect ball for a "boundary" hit. . But wait! I blinked my eyes; the wicket was down — the batsman was "out". . . Another player came to bat. The same lackadaisical bowler strolled his stuff. And another man out! . . . Three times in succession that bowler curved a slow, elusive ball, and the wicket went down, for a "hat trick". . . In humility I could have hurled my all-American hat into the English firmament. From that point I was sold on cricket, completely; and during the remainder of my holiday abroad, I never missed an opportunity to watch those white-clad cricketers disporting themselves with calm dignity on the field. . . Too bad the game has never caught on in Canada.

The Englishman is equally keen in autumn and winter, when bigtime "soccer" works him to a fever, or he plays on Saturday for his company club. Maybe he is too old for active football and cricket; if so, he primes his son to carry on the old tradition, and hies himself to the golf course or the bowling green for more sedate diversion.

The Woodcock-Savold prize fight was a topic on every man's lips, a headline in every newspaper. I found myself in a dilemma, listening to that fight. Loyalty to my native England, and a keen admiration for British sportsmanship, vied with a silent hope that the laurels would come home to this great North American continent. . . They did! Savold, the American, won the heavyweight title that night; and I was glad. My friends may brand me pro-American, but I merely state the case as a matter of psychological interest.

So much for the grim business of earning a living, and the lighter business of enjoying oneself. But there are other aspects of the Englishman's routine which deserve mention.

His income is proportionately lower, his taxes higher, but in the ultimate, I believe, our English friend is better off financially. Shortages, restrictions, and a more complacent mode of living, are easier on his expense budget. He may own a car, but he drives it economically and for the maximum of pleasure. He may patronize the "pub" (that other great institution in Britain), but he is satisfied with a pint or two of "mild and bitter" or "half and half" (which is 50% your guess and 50% mine). But the "pub" is not exclusively for men. It is not unusual to see women, too, in the common taverns. An irreconcilable contrast which I observed one Sunday morning in a costal town, was the congregation emerging from a crowded church — and just across the street, on the sidewalk outside a tavern, two young women drinking glasses of ale, with a child in a carriage beside them. . . And yet I saw no drunkenness whatever.

My sympathies were wholeheartedly with menfolk whom I saw queueing up for cigarettes at the tobacco stands. I noted this quite frequently in the railway stations. Several times, at the newsstands and smaller stores, I asked in vain for cigarettes. Yet none could tell me the reason for the shortage. Ten cigarettes, loose or handed out in a paper bag, were sometimes the reward for waiting in a queue. And cigarettes cost 1/9 (28 cents) for 10, or 3/6 (56 cents) for 20. Tobacco is from 1/10½ (30 cents) an ounce. Needless to say, my English acquaintances were not heavy smokers!

FACTS NOT ENOUGH

Should our schools confine their business to reading, writing and arithmetic? The answer is obvious. Let us have information and facts, by all means. But scientific knowledge is not enough. It has already given us a world that we are afraid of. What we need to learn now, and learn quickly, is how to use our knowledge.

MENTAL RESERVATION

Fortunately, our political system encourages many to express opposite views on many questions, but too much of it is said with tongues in cheek, and we all know it.

A Weekly Feature of Helpful Hints for Child Training, etc,

When Children Swim

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

Water has a great fascination for boys and girls. Even when they are quite small, parents should teach their children that there are some safety rules which must be followed when swimming.

Never go into the water until two hours after eating a meal, for fear of cramps. (It is fun to sail a tiny boat attached to a string from the end of the dock while waiting for the whistle which begins "Swim Time".)

Never go swimming without permission, and wait until there is a "grown-up" on shore who can swim and is watching your fun.

Playing in pairs, or the "buddy system", with every child watching out for his buddy, works at camp and is a good plan to follow. Never swim alone.

Don't Become Tired

Don't stay in the water too long. Come out before you are too tired or cold. When you come out of the water, change into dry clothes. Don't sit around in a damp suit. Wade out until the water is up to your shoulders and then swim toward the shore, or swim in water whose depth you know, parallel to the beach. Do not swim from the land out into the deep water unless a boat accompanies you. Learn to float so that you can rest if necessary from swimming.

Watch out for broken glass or old tins in the shallow water, and if you get a cut, come into the house and get First Aid treatment. Wash the cut, apply iodine or mercurochrome, and then a sterile bandage.

Never dive into water unless you know how to dive and know the depth and the condition of the bottom of the lake or river.

Children should not be allowed to cry out or scream in false alarm of fear while in the water, because some child in real difficulty might call for help but no one hears his cry amid the noise. If there should be an alarm call or a person who is drowning do not attempt to rescue by swimming out to the person if there is a boat, a lifebuoy, a rope, plank or pole handy. If alone with a victim of apparent drowning start immediately on resuscitation. The first few moments are very valuable. If others are present send one for a doctor without a second's delay.

Cut out the following instructions for Artificial Respiration issued by the Canadian Red Cross Society in their manual, "Health, Home, Nursing, Emergencies", an excellent little booklet (25c.) which should be in every home and summer cottage. A boy or girl likes to learn how to do something new, and every child should know the rudiments of artificial respiration and should have practiced them on a parent or friend.

• • •

Aritficial Respiration

1. Lay the patient on his belly, one arm extended directly overhead, the other arm bent at elbow and with the face turned outward and resting on hand and forearm, so that the nose and mouth are free for breathing.

2. Kneel straddling the patient's thighs with your knees placed at a distance from hip bones.

Place the palms of the hands on the small of the back with fingers resting on the ribs, the little finger just touching the lowest rib, with the thumb and fingers in a natural position, and tips of the fingers just out of sight.

3. With the arms held straight, swing forward slowly so that the weight of your body is gradually brought to bear upon the patient. The shoulder should be directly over the heel of the hand at the end of the forward swing. Do not bend your elbows. This operation should take about two seconds.

4. Now immediately swing backward so as to completely remove the pressure.

5. After two seconds, swing forward again. Thus repeat deliberately, twelve to fifteen times a minute, the double movement of compression and release, a complete respiration in four or five seconds.

6. Continue artificial respiration, without interruption, until natural breathing is restored, if necessary, four hours or longer, or until a physician declares the patient is dead.

7. As soon as this artificial respiration has been started and while it is being continued, an assistant should loosen any tight clothing about the patient's neck, chest or waist. KEEP THE PATIENT WARM. Do not give any liquids whatever by mouth, until the patient is fully conscious.

8. To avoid strain on the heart when the patient revives, he should be kept lying down and not allowed to stand or sit up. If the doctor has not arrived by the time the patient has revived, he should be given some stimulant, such as one teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in a small glass of water or a hot drink of coffee or tea, etc. The patient should be kept warm.

9. Resuscitation should be carried on at the nearest point to where the mishap occurred. He should not be moved from this point until he is breathing normally of his own volition, and then moved only in a lying position. Should it be necessary, due to extreme weather conditions, etc., to move the patient before he is breathing normally, resuscitation should be carried on during the time he is being moved.

10. A brief return of natural respiration is not a certain indication for stopping the resuscitation. Not infrequently, the patient, after a temporary recovery of respiration, stops breathing again. The patient must be watched and, if natural breathing stops, artificial respiration should be resumed at once.

11. In carrying out resuscitation, it may be necessary to change the operator. This change must be made without losing the rhythm of respiration. By this procedure no confusion results at the time of change of operator and a regular rhythm is kept up.

The rules for swimming and method of Artificial Respiration should be read aloud, discussed and learned by the boys and girls in a family. Then they should be put up in a place where they can be easily read. Visiting children should be told that there are certain regulations which everyone keeps in swimming, and if they want to stick by the rules, that is fine . . . they are welcome to swim with your youngsters, otherwise, NO! A Red Cross official recently stated that drowning accidents have increased twenty per cent since 1939. Water in a lake or a river is a grand place for children to swim . . but a boy or girl (or an adult either) can only drown once . . . so see that everyone obeys these common sense safety precautions!

DOUBLE LIFE

Vancouver (CP) — Head waiter Curtis Graham was busy convincing patrons recently that they should attend a concert of Viennese music at Kitsilano beach. They discovered that Mr. Graham was conducting the 25-piece orchestra, his first such appearance in many months.

Historic Tribute — Funeral of Lord Wavell

Passage by River to Westminster

The Royal Family and the Governments of many countries were represented at the service in Westminster Abbey recently in memory of Field-Marshal Earl Wavell. The flag-draped coffin, on which reposed his plumed hat, baton, sword and pipe banner was borne by launch up the River Thames from the Tower of London, of which Lord Wavell was Constable, to Westminster. After a service in the Abbey it was taken to Winchester for burial.

The flag-draped coffin of Field-Marshal Earl Wavell was borne by launch from the Tower of London to Westminster for a memorial service in Westminster Abbey. At Tower Pier the coffin was lowered onto the launch, while yeomen warders saluted with their tasselled partisans. At the Tower the Honorable Artillery Company fired a salute of 19 guns. The launch was escorted up-river by two naval vessels to Westminster Pier where the coffin was carried by non-commissioned officers of the Black Watch to be placed on a horse-drawn gun carriage for the procession to Westminster Abbey. Lord Keren, Lord Wavell's only son, walked immediately behind, wearing the uniform of a major in the Black Watch. The streets were lined by units of the Army, Navy and Air Force. Decorations which Lord Wavell gained as a soldier and statesman were carried by pallbearers, who included Admiral of the Fleet Lord Cunningham, Field-Marshal Lord Montgomery, Lord Alanbrooke and Sir Claude Auchinleck. His Majesty the King was represented by Field-Marshal Lord Wilson. This picture shows the scene as the coffin was taken from the launch on arrival at Westminster Pier.

Around the Home...

Half the joy of having a garden is having a comfortable chair in a shady nook where you can lounge and enjoy the changing beauty of your surroundings. What's the use of having a garden if you can't take time to sit down and enjoy it? These are the days when the home owner should be able to recline comfortably on a lawn seat in the dense shade of a towering maple . . . not one task to be done . . . not a care in the world . . . sounds like Utopia!

Garden Seats

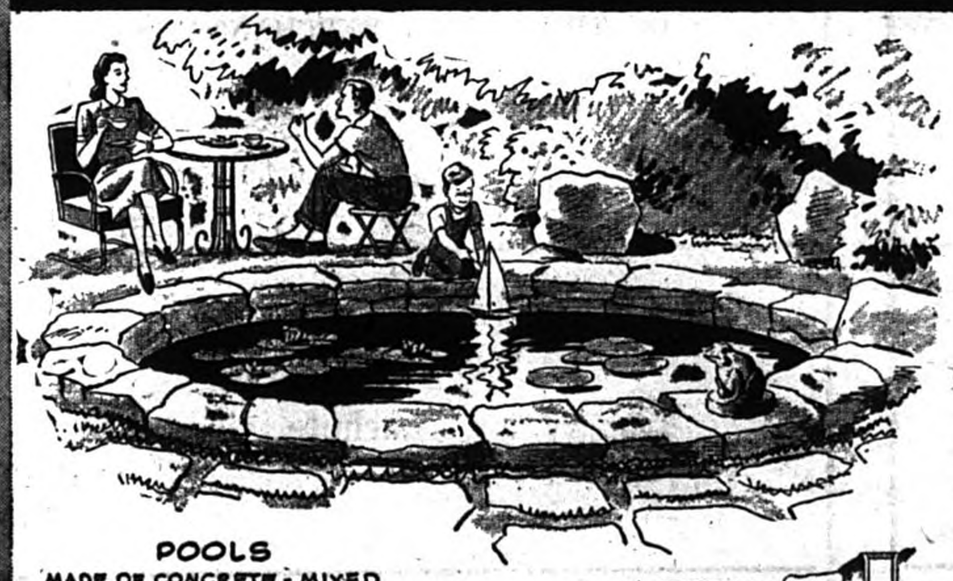

My own siestas take place in a secluded corner of the garden, well hidden from the surrounding neighbourhood. One of my prize possessions is a garden bench I made last year. True, it isn't the most comfortable piece of furniture in the world, but it is sturdy and wasn't too hard to make—as you can see from the sketch. My pride and joy is the wide bench I built around the trunk of the maple that stands to one side of the patio. It took a bit of fitting to give an attractive natural finish but it has attracted more favourable comment than any other piece of garden furniture I have made.

Garden Pools

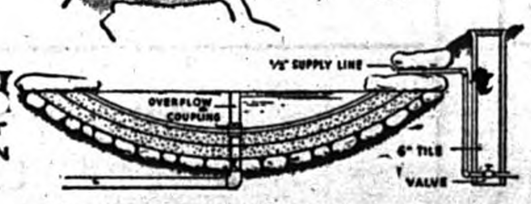

If you are like me, you'll have a bird bath and a small pool in clear view to help you relax. Nothing is quite as restful and cooling as the sound of running water and the reflection of blue sky in a still pool. The size of the pool doesn't matter—you'll get the same effect from a small binder wheel set in concrete (mentioned last month), a washtub sunk in the ground or an extensive cement job. When properly planned and planted so that it fits naturally into its surroundings, the size or expense of the pool is immaterial.

Bird Baths

I could watch my bird bath for hours if work would permit. On a warm afternoon there is a steady procession of bluebirds, chipping sparrows, wrens, song sparrows and robins. The birds do not care how expensive the bath was. As long as the water is fresh, clean and not too deep, they will use it regularly. Between the two extremes illustrated are a host of styles and designs.

POOLS
MADE OF CONCRETE - MIXED 3 OF SAND TO 1 OF CONCRETE - AND AT LEAST 6" THICK. INSIDE DEPTH SHOULD PERMIT 6" OF WATER OVER THE CROWN OF THE LILIES.

Inauguration of the Lachute Branch of the Retail Merchants Association

The first meeting of the Retail Merchants Association was held at the Lachute Town Hall on Thursday, June 27th. Many interesting questions were discussed, and in view of the importance of present conditions to the interests of the businessman, it was considered opportune to form a "Provisional Committee", aimed to organize all Lachute merchants into an association.

Members appointed for this committee were — President, T. Vachon, modern provision market; 1st Vice-President, O. Lafortune, licensed grocer; 2nd Vice-President, H. S. Church, electrician; Secretary-Treasurer, Geo. Lefèbvre, furniture dealer.

Your executive issues a forceful appeal to your good judgment, to organize a strong local branch capable of meeting local needs.

The Retail Merchants Association, since its organization in 1896, has operated continuously for 54 years, protecting the interests of the independent merchant. It is the only recognized voice and representative to approach the various governments. It is the only association which functions in the particular interests of the independent retailer. . . It is your one effective organization, and it is up to you to support it.

Through this association many services are made available to members — information, representation, advice on modern trends, publicity, arbitration, professional advice, and regular liaison with the public authorities.

A representative is at your service at any time. He arranges the organizing of your meetings, visits members once a month, takes note of complaints and requests for service. This is the sort of contact that you badly need, to meet the injustices which are experienced in every line of commerce.

Fellow members in your region urge you to unite and give greater strength to this organization.

Fondation de la Succursale de Lachute de l'Association des Marchands Détaillants

Mardi, le 27 juin 1950, la première assemblée de l'Association des Marchands Détaillants fut tenue dans la salle de l'Hôtel de Ville de Lachute. Plusieurs questions intéressantes furent discutées, et devant l'importance des faits existants, il fut jugé de fonder un comité provisoire, dans le but de grouper tous les marchands de Lachute sous une même bannière.

Les membres du comité sont comme suit: président M. Théo Vachon, épicier moderne; 1er vice-président, M. Omer Lafortune, épicier licencié; 2ième vice-président, M. H. S. Church, électricien; secrétaire trésorier, M. Geo. Lefèbvre, marchand de meubles.

Votre exécutif vous lance ce pressant appel à votre bon jugement afin de fonder une succursale forte qui saura répondre aux besoins de chacun.

L'Association des Marchands Détaillants fut fondée en 1896 et depuis cinquante-quatre ans, elle n'a jamais cessé de travailler pour défendre les intérêts du commerce de détail indépendant. C'est votre seul porte-parole auprès des gouvernements. C'est la seule association qui est fondée spécialement pour le marchand; c'est votre mouvement, et il appartient à vous de le faire vivre. Il est temps que le marchand indépendant fasse reconnaitre sa classe.

Par le truchement de votre Association, plusieurs services sont à la portée de votre main: renseignements, représentations, modernisation, propagande, arbitrage, orientation professionnelle, contact avec les autorités publiques, recrutement et organization. Un représentant est à votre disposition régulièrement. Il a la charge d'organiser des assemblées, de visiter régulièrement les membres, de prendre notes de leurs plaintes, demandes de service, etc. C'est un contact régulier dont vous avez besoin pour répondre à tous les exigences qui s'imposent dans chaque section de commerce de détail indépendant. Vos confrères de la région aussi vous invitent à vous unir à eux, afin de pouvoir dans un même bloc défendre des intérêts communs.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Special Speakers at Brownsburg - Dalesville Reg. Baptist Churches

Mr. Guy Appere, B.Th., and Mr. W. P. Bauman, B.A., B.D., will be guest preachers at the Regular Baptist Churches of Dalesville and Brownsburg on Sunday. Both young men are recent graduates of Toronto Baptist Seminary. They will sail shortly from Quebec City for France, where they will serve with the French Bible Mission. Mr. Appere is a native of France and served in the French "underground" army during the German occupation of France in World War II. During his theological studies he was French professor at the Toronto Baptist Seminary. Mr. Bauman, though born in Switzerland, has spent most of his life in Toronto. Last summer he had charge of the French Gospel Broadcast in South America on the missionary radio station "The Voice of the Andes". He also helped in the rescue work last year following the terribly destructive earthquake in the Ambato region. Some of his lantern slides Sunday night will depict scenes of the earthquake, as well as Indian life in that region.

Daily Vacation Bible School at Lachute Baptist

To Commence on Monday

The annual summer Bible School conducted by the Lachute Baptist Church will begin on Monday, July 17, and will continue through to Friday, July 28, weekdays except Saturday from 9 o'clock till 11 o'clock each morning.

An interesting program of Bible stories, gospel choruses, handicraft, including woodwork and sewing, will be among many of the features of the 1950 school program.

A hearty invitation is extended to all the boys and girls of Lachute to attend this school.

Spain is attacking its 35 per cent illiteracy.

FRIED STATISTICS

Ever eaten fried statistics? Statistics say that aid is having a gradual effect on war-wrecked economies — that ruined mills are operating again — that the crops over which armies and pestilence had marched are improving.

But statistics provide scant immediate nourishment to hungry Europeans and Asiatics. They are hungry now. They look hopefully for your CARE package to sustain them. Choose a needy family now, or let CARE choose one for you.

Either way, make a cheque or money order payable to CARE, and mail to 73 Albert Street, Ottawa, Ont.

Tulip Bulbs Stake For Dutch Immigrant

Shelburne, N.S. (CP) — When Gerrif Peereboom of Pancras, Holland, decided to migrate to Nova Scotia recently, he not only brought along his wife and two children, but he added 20,000 tulip bulbs.

When he arrived at Halifax he had only $220 in his pocket and a letter to his sponsor, a farmer at North West Harbour, N.S.

Employed first as a hired hand, he soon tired of working for someone else and decided to start out on his own. So he rented a five-acre farm at the fishing village of Port LaTour, N.S. and started spading up the land.

Now his place at Port LaTour is the show place of the village, as his house is almost completely surrounded by blooming tulips. Not satisfied, he now has 40,000 gladioli in the ground for the fall harvest.

Peereboom has his headaches, for without a truck to market his flowers, he's finding the tulip business can be difficult. Also difficult is the English language, which a Dutch war bride, a neighbor, is teaching him and his family.

"This Beautiful Earth, in God's Purpose."

Our kind, loving Creator of the heavens and the earth, whose name alone is Jehovah (Psalms 83:18). . . In His book, the Bible, He says "The heaven is My throne, and the earth is My footstool: I will make the place of My feet Glorious. (Isaiah 66:1, 60:13.)

LITERAL EARTH TO ABIDE AND BE INHABITED FOREVER

Gen. 1:1: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth".
Isa. 45: 18: "For thus saith the Lord that created the heaven; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited".
Eccl. 1:4: "One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh; but the earth abideth for ever".
Ps. 37: 11, 29; Matt. 5:5: "The meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever".
Ps. 78:69: "He built his sanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath established for ever".
Ps. 115: 16: "The heaven, even the heaven, are the Lord's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men".
Ps. 119: 90: "Thou hast established the earth, and it abideth".
Prov. 2: 21, 22: "The upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it. But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it".
Prov. 10: 30: "The righteous shall never be removed".
See also: Ps. 104: 5; Isa. 60: 21.

THE SEARCH FOR PEACE

Peace is as sure as Tomorrows sunrise, and just as independent of man. Unto us a son is born, unto us a son is given, and the governments shall be upon His shoulders. Of His government and peace there shall be no end. Isaiah 9-67. Daniel 2-44.

"I DELIGHT TO DO THY WILL, O MY GOD; YEA, THY LAW IS WITHIN MY HEART."
— Psalm 40:8, Am. Stan. Ver.

It was a delight to the psalmist David to know what God's will was and then to do it. To know what to do he gave careful consideration to God's law and filled his heart with it. As a result, David is spoken of in the Scriptures as "a man after God's own heart". Would you not like to have a place in God's memory too? Could any creature ask for a greater honor? Little wonder that David expressed delight! If this is your desire, begin now to fill your mind and heart with God's written Word, the Bible. The Watchtower edition of the American Standard Version, from which the above verse is quoted, may be had for only $1.50. Send for your copy today. — 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto, Ont.

It is High Time to Awake!

Despite all efforts advanced by world statesmen, and their promises of a better world of tomorrow, the threat of a third world war hangs over the nations, resulting in fear of the future, unbearable anxieties and nerve-strain beyond anything previously experienced. What does it all mean? Where can men turn for hope? Two world wars have been waged to secure Democracy, yet failure and disappointment is evident.

"It is High Time to Awake" and to examine the Word of Almighty God, the Bible which gives the true answer of present day conditions and the outcome.

Get the book, "Let God be True", a real help to find the meaning of the things we see coming on the earth, as prophesied in the Holy Bible; price 35c. — 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Quirk, of Montreal, spent a few days last week at "Uncle Tom's Cabin" on the rivershore.

Something of humorous interest to a number of eyewitnesses at the river last week was a summer resident of Cushing, accompanied by his dog, who were both marooned on a small raft some distance from shore, being rescued from their peril by a clothesline which was thrown out by a sympathetic onlooker. — A note to the wise: Hereafter have raft equipped with clothes line, etc., also waterwings and swimming togs for the victims, before leaving dock.

Suddenly Bereaved

The sympathy of this community is extended to Mrs. Wm. Arnold and family, of Grenville, whose husband met with a tragic accident on Saturday afternoon, which proved fatal almost instantly. Sympathy is also extended to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Arnold and family, in the loss of a loving son and brother.

Orange Picnic Held at Avoca

(Our District Correspondent)

Avoca — The annual picnic held by L.O.L. 721 was well attended by friends from far and near. The speeches by the visiting clergy, music by the pipe-band, and Scottish dances by little Miss Tooke, of Montreal, were all much appreciated. A guessing contest on the name of a cake donated by Mrs. S. E. Smith (and won by Mr. Leonard Young, of Humberstone) caused some enjoyment. The weather was ideal for a picnic.

POTATO ROTATION

Brantford, Ont. (CP) — Failure of potato chip salesmen in town to decide among themselves on their locations, has prompted a debate in city council on the subject. A recommendation, later carried, suggested that the vendors adopt a system of weekly rotation through the best locations.

Morin Heights

(Intended for last issue)

Mrs. N. Payne, accompanied by her daughter Phyllis, of Montreal, called on her cousins, Mrs. Wm. R. Bell and Miss Vera McCullough, recently.

Mrs. Wm. Rowland and son, Jimmy, with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Doré, are here to spend the summer. Mr. Rowland is spending a two weeks' vacation at present.

Sunnyacres Sketches

RANDOM WRITINGS
ON THE RURAL SCENE

By Margaret Cook

Sunday on the farm — and, in spite of the proximity of a large boarding-house, almost a traditional country Sunday. A delicious smell of stewing chicken pervades the house, a healing quiet is on the countryside, accentuated rather than broken by the faint sound of church bells. How beautiful is the sound of church bells anywhere, and how lovely the little Laurentian churches! They were built by settlers to whom the Church was the only familiar thing in a raw, new land. In the little new churches, on a Sunday, the men could, for an hour, in the beauty of the ancient ritual and the joy of the traditional hymns, forget the alien forest pressing about them; the women were doubtless happy to be able to sit for a time with God. These buildings were conceived in loneliness, and today are supported by the "sweat and tears" of the Guild and the W.A., but they are a monument to the spirit of the pioneers of these parts.

Speaking of the alien forest — we are beginning to understand the hatred and fear the country folk have for trees. We are a bare two weeks later than usual arriving at Sunnyacres, but already Nature has begun to take over. The lawn is a hayfield, the trees seem to press closer to the house, while in the garden the foxglove, aconite and delphinium wage a desperate battle with plantain, milk-weed and burdock. Nature seems to be our enemy, always watching for a lowering of our defences.

But I cannot hate the trees wholeheartedly. Consider the tamarack — or, if you are from t'Ould Country, consider the larch, a beautiful tree, a banner of lace against the sky. In the month of June, it supports tiny candle-like knobs of a clear and brilliant scarlet, so that it looks like a misplaced Christmas tree. Just now, the candles are a brownish purple, perfect against the blue-green of the feathery branches. By August, the candles will have revealed themselves as tiny new, brown cones. In November, the tamarack sheds its leaves, for it is the only deciduous conifer. Amos, who is a practical soul, tells me that tamarack is almost as valuable as cedar commercially, being excellent for fence-posts and other utilitarian objects.

We missed most of the spring pageant this year, since we could be here only one week; but it was a good week, for the narcissi, lilacs, lilies of the valley and primulas were all in bloom, and the orchard was a mist of pink and white. There were even a few late daffodils and one early peony. Around us, the hills were a tender green and the lakes a smiling blue.

Just at the edge of our little lake, we found a mass of salamander eggs. They look like frog's eggs, but the gelatinous part is a faint green — like lime Jello, says Betty — and the whole is fastened to some water plant, unlike the frog's eggs, which float free. The shape of the little creatures could be just discerned and I determined to be present at their hatching, but rain intervened and it was four days before I again ranged as far as the lake, when not a trace was to be found of the eggs. Either they had hatched or a fish had devoured them. But likely we shall see the matured product this summer. They are handsome fellows, some six inches in length, their black shining coats spotted with yellow. As household pets they are interesting, and little trouble.

All the above was written in the morning; now, in the evening, we have an interesting incident to add. Betty and I were paddling in Long Lake this afternoon, when we came upon a school of tiny things we took to be pollywogs, newly hatched. Betty had squatted down to scoop up some, when I saw, to my amazement, a fish about to attack her rear. It darted away at my outcry but soon returned with his mate and they swam fearlessly, even defiantly, toward us, and took up their place over their fry a few inches from our feet. They appeared to be both protecting and stirring up their offspring. They always kept their heads turned toward us, so we soon saw that we were intruding in the domestic duties of Mr. and Mrs. Cat-fish. We should have withdrawn, but instead we stood enthralled for a half-hour, until our feet went to sleep and we were forced to move. Later, we found this in Comstock — "The family life of the bullheads (cat-fish, to you) seems to be quite ideal. After the eggs are laid, the male watches over and guards the nest, and seems to have great family responsibilities. He is the more active of the two in stirring and mixing the young fry after they are hatched."

So here we are ready for the drama of Summer in the country; all around us a thousand creatures live out their lives, unknowing and uncaring of human desires and needs. It is restful to turn one's thoughts from the Russian menace, the Stock Market jitters and one's personal trials, to the contemplation of God's smaller creatures, pursuing their appointed way, unperturbed by the multiple fears of our existence.

Salad Days Are Here

Salads have grown in importance. The salad used to be served occasionally and as an extra garnish. Today they are an everyday "must" and often the main part of the meal.

Salads vary from the small crisp bit of green that is an accompaniment to the heavy meal to the substantial whole meal on one plate that may include even the dessert. The supper salad usually provides the complete first course on one plate but has a satisfying dessert to follow.

The right kind of salad for supper will satisfy both the men and growing boys of the family. Salads also satisfy the cook on hot summer days for she is able to keep the kitchen cool and have supper ready in less time than it takes to boil the water for the tea.

Cold meat plates with plenty of crisp greens and some other vegetables give the impression of cool freshness but are completely satisfying to the heartiest appetites. Just as beans, eggs, cheese and fish are alternates to meat in hot meals, so they may be used in cold salad meals.

These tested recipes come from the home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture.

3-C Salad

1 Tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons sugar, 1½ cups boiling water, 6 tablespoons catsup, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish (optional), 1 cup shredded carrots, ½ cup shredded cabbage, ½ cup diced celery.

Soak gelatine in cold water. Add salt, sugar and boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Add catsup, vinegar and horseradish (if used). Cool until mixture begins to set. Add carrots, cabbage and celery. Pour into six individual moulds which have been rinsed in cold water. Chill until set. Unmould on crisp lettuce and serve with mayonnaise. Yield: six servings.

Tomato Pink Mould

1 Tablespoon gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 1 10-ounce can tomato soup, 1 cup sieved cottage cheese, 1 cup mayonnaise, 1 cup diced celery, 1 teaspoon minced onion, ¼ cup slivered, blanched almonds, 2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickles.

Soak gelatine in cold water for five minutes. Heat soup and add the soaked gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Chill. Combine the cheese, mayonnaise, celery, onion, almonds and sweet pickles. Add to the gelatine mixture, blending well. Pour into one large mould or individual moulds which have been lightly oiled or rinsed with cold water. Chill until set. Unmould on lettuce and serve with mayonnaise. Yield: ten to twelve servings. If desired, ½ cup chopped green pepper and ½ cup diced cucumber may be used in place of the almonds and pickles.

Potato Tongue Salad

¼ Teaspoon curry powder, ½ cup cooked salad dressing, 4 cups diced, cooked potatoes, 1 cup diced, cooked tongue, 3 green onions (chopped), salt and pepper to taste, 2 hard-cooked eggs, lettuce.

Add curry powder to salad dressing. Mix potatoes, tongue and green onions with dressing, season with salt and pepper and let stand one hour to blend flavour. Cut eggs in quarters. Serve salad on crisp lettuce leaves. Garnish with hard-cooked eggs. Yield: six servings (5 cups) salad.

DISTRICT NEWS

Arundel

Mr. Leslie May motored here to spend the week-end with his mother, Mrs. J. May.

Mrs. A. J. Poole, and her young son, of Vankleek Hill, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Simon, who are occupying their cottage for the vacation months.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Heron have left for a vacation trip by motor, to Quebec City and up the Saguenay. They were accompanied as far as Quebec City by the Misses Dorothy Kerr and Mary MacArthur. . . Mr. Greening, of Montreal, is acting manager of the Bank of Montreal during Mr. Heron's absence.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bulley were Messrs. J. Fergus, S. Clarke, W. M. Matthews and R. Lewis, all of Montreal.

Mr. George Henvis was home for the week-end.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Flanagan entertained a party at their summer cottage over the week-end.

Mr. A. Dewar attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Agnes Rankin, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Baugh and family, of Joliette, Que., were week-end guests of Mrs. C. J. Staniforth at Caribou Lake.

Ladies' Union

The monthly meeting of the United Church Ladies' Union was held in the church hall on Wednesday afternoon, July 5. The devotional exercises were taken by Mrs. Alvin Graham, after which the president, Mrs. P. Staniforth, took the chair for the business session: Final arangements were made for the holding of the annual lawn social, to take place on the church lawn Friday evening, July 28. Various booths will be conducted with items for sale, and a program will be given during the evening. . . . At the close of the meeting, tea was served by Mrs. Ernest Swail, assisted by several of the members.

Garbage Dumping

With the view to preserving the scenic beauty of this municipality, the Municipal Council of Arundel some time ago passed a resolution providing a penalty on anybody found responsible for dumping refuse or garbage along the roads of the municipality. Through the kindness of Dr. J. C. Flanagan, arrangements have now been made for disposal of garbage in a gulley on his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Staniforth celebrated their wedding anniversary on July 7 by a short motor trip. Congratulations and good wishes from all their friends!

Old Resident Mourned

It is with deep regret that we report the passing of Mr. C. Goulden, on Sunday, July 8. Mr. Goulden (or "Chris", as he was affectionately known to his many friends) was one of the first settlers at Barkmere and has never lost his keen interest in the growth and progress of the Lake settlement. His many friends will miss him, and the condolences of all the community of Barkmere and Arundel are extended to the family.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. J. Whibley, of Bevan Lake, has had to return to Montreal on account of ill health. Friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Last year's federal government income tax collections of $1,298,000,000 were more than nine times the 1939 total of $142,000,000.

Harness Racing Now Big Business

"SPORTS CAMERA"
By Jack Sullivan

Harness horse racing in Canada, usually as rural as a fence post, has gone big time. It trotted into the big leagues in Toronto early in July with a start of a 42-day meeting.

Before it ends on August 19, the promoters will have spent close to $1,000,000 — a figure never approached before in this fast-growing sport. More than $200,000 of this will go in purses, ranging from $500 for the dashes to the biggest-ever purse in the game in the country — the $15,000 Canadian Cup August 19.

When the starter gave the "off" for the first race, it meant culmination of a two-year struggle by the promoters to put Toronto — and Canada — on the map as a big-leaguer in trots.

They spent $100,000 on a half-mile oval, within Thorncliffe race track's mile oval — the only one in Canada. They spent $100,000 on flood-lighting although the Ontario Racing Commission turned down a proposal to hold the meet under the lights. They spent another $100,000 on new barns, each one with an electric light. They built a half-mile practice track and the trotters had use of another one-third-mile track around the barns.

Various other improvements, such as enlarging the paddock, and setting up a trailer camp within the grounds complete with up-to-date facilities were made for the riders who travel from meet to meet in trailers. Everything possible was done to make it a top-flight affair.

Pari-Mutuel Betting

Even the bookmakers, a part of the scenery, will be missing. All betting will be on the pari-mutuel system, the first time in Canada that the tote has operated at a harness meet of any length.

Calibre of the horses will be in keeping with the whole show. Top-flight horses from various parts of Canada, and big money winners from the United States will be on hand, mainly for the $15,000 Canadian Cup purse.

It is unlikely the promoters will realize their expenditures the first season, but they have a long-range program on hand. It is their intention to make Thorncliffe Park a permanent "home" for the trotters and they believe the racing commission eventually will relent and allow them to operate under the lights.

The first race now goes at 4.15 p.m., E.D.T., and the last at 6.32 p.m., not allowing the trot followers much time to get to the park after their daily chores. The last race must be over before 7 p.m.

But when the arc-light racing comes — and observers believe it may even happen before this initial meet concludes in mid-August — it should put the game on a paying basis. When that comes, it is conceivable that the Thorncliffe Raceway will rank with the best in the United States.

Municipal Activities at Morin Hts. And Women's Meetings at Arundel

Morin Heights — A new $213,000 High School is to be built at Morin Heights. The contract has now been let, and the School Commissioners met last week with the chairman and members of the Central Board, together with the contractor and the architect, to discuss final arrangements for commencing the building.

New Municipal Building, Fire Station and Post Office

Plans are well under way for this new project, and the Council had two special meetings to accept the bids for the $25,000 Bond Issue allowed for by By-Law No. 56. The Crédit Anglo-Français were finally awarded the whole issue at a price of $96.50 or at a cost to the municipality of 3.903%.

Tenders for this building project were considered at a special meeting of council on Tuesday. There were eight bids received, from the following firms:

Omer Laurin & Fils, Lachute; Terrebonne Cons. Co., Ste. Adele; Major Cons. Co., Montreal; Northern Cons. Co., Ste. Adele; Albt. Codette & François Blais, Montreal; A. Christiansen, Shawbridge; Cook & Leitch, Montreal; E. St. Aubin, St. Sauveur.

The tender was awarded to Northern Construction Co., Ste. Adele, for the amount of $20,338. Architect appointed for the construction was Albert Gauthier, with Constant Nemey assistant, both of Montreal. It is hoped to have the work underway within a few days, and to be completed in the next three months.

Request from a syndicate of Morin Heights property-holders, Crédit Français - Canadien, was also considered at this meeting — that their caretaker, Audet Pagé, be commissioned as a special constable while he is so employed on this property. The council raised no objection to this proposal, and application will be sent accordingly to the Attorney General's department.

New Sidewalk

The new sidewalk being built by the Provincial Government on Station Road, and the completion of the new bridge, will be an improvement greatly appreciated by the public — the work having been achieved through the efforts of W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., for the progress of this municipality.

Council Election

Election day for councillors, last Monday, resulted in the following voting at the Red Cross Hall:

Seat No. 1 — R. E. Jamieson (244) defeated J. Kennedy (84). . . J. H. Millard withdrew from the candidature.

Seat No. 3—Georges Parthenais (187) defeated F. T. Watchorn (144). . . R. N. Goodfellow withdrew.

Seat No. 5 — Councilor Paul Baumel returned by acclamation.

There was a good turn-out of voters in spite of rainy weather — a total of 346 ballots being deposited.

Old-Time and Modern Styles at Arundel W.I.

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel—The monthly meeting of the Arundel Women's Institute was held in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening, July 11. The president, Mrs. F. Davis, presided for the business meeting, where final plans were decided on for the annual social.

On conclusion of the business discussions, the president then turned the program over to the convener in charge, Mrs. R. Moss, whose entertainment took the form of an Old-time and Modern Fashion Show. Fourteen of the members took part, and hilarity was caused when the styles of fifty or more years ago were compared with those of the present-day. There were old and new-style nightgowns, negligées, bathing suits, dinner gowns, a sports girl, a school-girl, and grandmother. Mrs. E. A. Bulley acted as commentator. The meeting was open to all ladies, and a number of visitors took advantage of the invitation.

On Friday evening, July 14, in the auditorium of the school, Arundel Branch of the Women's Institute held their annual "lawn social", which this year took the form of an indoor bazaar. The booths were tastefully decorated; there was a fishpond for the children, and games of skill for the male element present.

The program consisted of moving pictures — three short subjects, a Technicolor and a western. During the changing of the films three quilts were raffled — the first being won by Miss Barbara Staniforth, the second by Mrs. Tomalty, of Bevan Lake, and the third by Miss Frances Davis. Although the attendance was not on a par with last year, an appreciable sum will be available to carry on the work of the Institute. The president and members wish to thank all those who extended their patronage to the success of this venture.

Publication Lauds Judge Héon Ruling

The following is taken from a business exchange published in Toronto, "The Printed Word":

That forgotten man, the consumer, has been picked up off the road where he was run over by prices some years ago. He has been dusted off and given new hope. This has come about by the decision of Mr. Justice Héon in the individualistic province of Quebec. As chairman of a board dealing with the employees' demands in the Montreal tramways wage case, the judge announced that it would be impossible to grant these demands, since this would inevitably produce an increase in fares and that would be unjust to passengers, most of whom got lower wages than the tramways employees.

This is news. It has seemed for a long time that the one thing that must not be mentioned in connection with a wage dispute is that wage increases also bring price increases.

On his record of many years in public life, Mr. Justice Héon is as sympathetic to workers as may be anyone else in the country. What he said to the tramways workers is the truth. They would be money in pocket if every wage dispute for the rest of this year ended as this one has so far ended, in a frank statement to workers that there can be no wage increases, except in case of grave injustices to employees, because wage increases mean price increases. Canadian workers would still remain well paid by any standard, prices would stabilize, sales would continue brisk, and the country would avoid the danger of renewed inflationary pressure.

To Speed Nation's Military Strength

Korea Prompts Action on Dominion Defence

"WEEK IN OTTAWA"
By H. L. Jones

Ottawa, July 17 (CP) — Korea has posed a big and important question in Canada's capital. Ottawa is wondering if Communist aggression in the far Pacific might mean a new Soviet policy of subtle preparation for a third world war.

The possibility that Korea might be part of a Communist plan to sap Western strength in sideline, satellite wars to soften the democracies for a gigantic Soviet blow has not been overlooked in Ottawa, Washington or London.

It has government heads in the three capitals in close consultation on every scrap of evidence from behind the Iron Curtain. It underlines Canada's view of the Korean war — now foreseen as a more lengthy struggle than at first thought — and it has brought action to speed up the Dominion's military strength.

Ottawa has moved to boost defence spending substantially and accelerate the growth of her air power this year. The record $425,000,000 defence budget endorsed at the last session of parliament is expected to be markedly increased by supplementary estimates, probably something in the vicinity of $50,000,000 more.

These stepped up plans are timed primarily at the defence of Canada and reflect the thoughts that Korea may be only the start of bigger things. Increased orders for jet fighter planes head the list in moves to hasten and expand defence purchasing arrangements originally scheduled for this year. More radar, army equipment and naval ships also now may be forthcoming.

Five Jet Squadrons

By the end of 1951, Canada's air force aims at having five regular fighter squadrons, largely equipped with new American-designed, Canadian-built F86 jet fighters. Orders already are in for the F86's and for the Canadian designed and built, fast all-weather jet fighter, the CF100.

Part of the increased defence budget also will be used to maintain Canadian destroyers Cayuga, Athabaska and Sioux in action off Korean coasts. The three Tribal-class fighting ships arrived in Pearl Harbour last week, and joined U.S. Naval Task Force "Yoke" which is under command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as U.N. forces leader in Korea.

From now on, probably, their operations will be shrouded in military secrecy. But it has been indicated that they'll be ready for any job given them from shelling the North Korean coast to intercepting enemy ships that attempt to crack the blockade which the task force means to throw around Korea.

The fact our destroyers have to be maintained in Korean waters may mean supplies and reserves

Fire and Flood Relief Fund

Contributions to The Watchman fund for fire and flood victims in the Rimouski, Cabano and Winnipeg disasters, have been augmented by the following:

Arundel Women's Institute	$5.00
Anonymous	$1.00

These amounts bring the final total to $380.12 contributed through this particular appeal.

Four-year-old Boy Runs into Truck

Near his home on Foundry Street Serges Aucoin, four-year-old son of Leo Aucoin, was hit by a truck and suffered severe head injuries. The accident happened near the Paquin Garage, where it is reported the child ran out into the side of a Farmers' Supply Co. light delivery, driven by Jas. McOuat.

Taken to the surgery of Dr. Jules Lafleur, the boy was given an X-ray examination at the Providence Hospital, then removed by ambulance to the Neurological Institute in Montreal. His injuries were described by the physician as a possible skull fracture and brain haemorrhage.

Police Chief D. Villeneuve investigated the accident.

During World War II, U.S. pennies were made largely from shell cases, with only a small amount of virgin copper added to bring the alloy up to legal standards.

Que. Rovers Meet At Tamaracouta

LACHUTE AND BROWNSB'G REPRESENTED

The sixth Quebec Rover Moot was held last week-end at Camp Tamaracouta, Mille Isles. Allen B. Strong, assistant provincial commissioner for Rovers, told officials at Scout headquarters that out of the forums held came the formation of a provincial Rover round table, which will head up Rover Scout activities throughout the province.

Mr. Strong said the moot, the first in this province since before the war, augured well for similar gatherings in the future, especially attendance of Quebec Rovers at the moot to be held in Ontario later this summer, and more particularly at the national gathering scheduled for next summer.

Guests included Maj.-Gen. D. C. Spry, C.B.E., D.S.O., chief executive Scout commissioner for Canada, who took an active part in the forums; G. Robley Mackay, provincial commissioner; Evan McCormick, assistant provincial commissioner for training; Charles L. Duncan, of Lachute, commissioner for the Laurentian district; and more than 20 Rover Scouts from other centres including Italy, Vermont, U.S.A., Moncton, Hamilton, Toronto and Quebec districts. Total attendance was about 75, among whom were Messrs. Harold Wheatley and Ron Elliott, from Brownsburg.

Recent Weddings Of District Interest

BOOTH - MORROW

On Saturday, July 15, at four o'clock in the Church of the Resurrection at Valois, Que., the marriage was solemnized of Eileen Gill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. William Morrow, of Grenville, Que., and Mr. Edmund S. Booth, son of the late Dr. John S. Booth and of Mrs. Booth, of Montreal. The Rev. W. J. Ellis, of Rawdon, Que., officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Martha MacWhirter. Mr. Clarence Pushie acted as best man.

The bride wore an ankle-length frock of pale blue lace with a matching hat, and carried a garland bouquet of Piccardy gladioli. Miss MacWhirter was wearing a pale yellow lace frock fashioned along similar lines to the bride's, with white picture hat, and carried a bouquet of shaded gladioli.

Following the reception, the couple left for a motor trip through the Muskoka Lake District. For travelling, the bride wore a yellow tailored suit with black accessories. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Booth will reside in the Town of Mount Royal.

TIMMINS - BARRON

White and pink peonies, against a background of ferns, were arranged in the chancel and white peonies adorned the altar of Our Lady of Seven Sorrows Church, Grenville, for the marriage, at 10 o'clock Saturday, June 24, of Mary Helen Beatrice Barron, R.N., of St. Mary's Hospital, Montreal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barron, of Grenville, Que., and Mr. James Patrick Timmins, son of Mr. William Timmins, of Montreal, and the late Mrs. Timmins. The Rev. Father Theriault officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Ramona Barron, as matron of honor, and Miss Vietta Barron as bridesmaid, and little Miss Prisca Timmins as flower girl. The best man was Mr. Kevan Timmins, while the ushers were Mr. Brendon Timmins and Mr. Myles Barron.

The bride wore a long-sleeved model gown of French lace and tulle, with a fitted lace bodice and bolero with small stand-up collar and a full-fashioned floor-length tulle skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet of lilies-of-the-valley, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and gladioli.

The attendants both wore period dresses of embossed organdy, with hooped underskirts of lace — the matron of honor in lime green and the bridesmaid in canary yellow. They wore torsades of nylon in matching colors and carried colonial bouquets. The little flower girl wore a floor-length frock of sky blue taffeta and a fitted crochet cap of sky blue, and she carried a small colonial bouquet.

Mrs. Barron, the bride's mother, wore navy blue and white sheer, a navy blue picture hat of Baku straw, and a corsage of pink carnations.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where white and pink peonies were arranged in the rooms. The tables were adorned with candles, white and pink peonies and roses. The Rev. Father Theriault and Father Borinet were present at dinner. Music was furnished during the day by Pipe Major Duncan W. MacDonald and Mrs. Duncan R. McKinnon, of Cornwall, Ont. Miss Nancy Cushion, of Cornwall, gave a number of Scottish and Irish dances.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Timmins left on a motor trip through the States, the bride travelling in a frock of sheer flowered print with white and blue accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations. On their return they will reside in Ville St. Laurent.

Out of town guests were from New York, Montreal and Cornwall.

Accident Victim Dies of Injuries

Montreal — Louis Gagnon, of 6600 St. Denis Street, Montreal, who was injured in a car-truck collision June 23 at Grenville, died of his injuries last Saturday.

He was the driver of a car which collided with a truck of the Marcoux Transport Company, of Hull. Mr. Gagnon was taken to Notre Dame Hospital, Hawkesbury. Four others were injured in the accident.

Young Officer Injured in Jeep

A young man from the officers' training camp of the R.C.O.C. established just east of Lachute, met serious injury when an army jeep plunged into the ditch between Lachute and St. Andrews East on Monday afternoon. The victim was Edwin Richard Brunt, aged 23 or 24, whose home address is Claresholm, Alberta.

The accident occurred at 2.15 o'clock on a curve in the highway at Jos. Lemay's farm. Another soldier riding in the jeep was badly shaken. Two lady motorists arriving at the scene, brought the pair to Lachute, where Brunt, in a semi-conscious condition, was given first-aid treatment at the office of Dr. F. W. FitzGerald. His companion was able to proceed to the camp at E. Bourbonniere's property on the St. Jerome highway, where the company adjutant was notified. The victim was then placed in an ambulance and transferred to the Queen Mary Road Hospital, Montreal. He had severe cuts about the scalp and a possible fracture of the skull.

Body temperature reaches its lowest point early in the morning.

Annual Rotary Carnival at Brownsb'g Was Successful Event from All Angles

Clubmen's Efforts Repaid in Public Response and Financial Outcome

Brownsburg — At the Rotary Club annual carnival, held last Friday and Saturday evenings at the Brownsburg Protestant School grounds, there was a constant flow of patrons to keep the colorful scene agog with activity, thus ensuring success to the arduous plans and preparations upon which members of the club and numerous helpers had expended their time. Financially, the outcome was highly encouraging to the sponsors — enabling the Rotarians to plan still further projects in the interests of community service.

A grand display of fireworks proved especially popular with the young children, for whom another prime attraction was featured in the form of a movie program. Bingo and the games of chance were generously patronized by older folks who attended this big carnival.

The Rotary committeemen responsible for this effort pay tribute to the public response from Brownsburg, Lachute and the surrounding vicinity. The good attendance, and the generous help of ladies who assisted at the refreshment booths, is counted as evidence of a wholesome community spirit which makes these endeavors well worth while.

Vacation Next Week For Watchman Press

Annual vacation dates for the Watchman Press staff are July 21 to 29, inclusive. Customers for commercial printing are advised that the office will be open for the placing of orders, daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Correspondents and advertisers please note, there will be no publication of this newspaper next week.

Three Moose Seen Near Dunany Road

An unusual sight in these parts was the appearance of a moose family, off the Dunany Road just north of Lachute, last Sunday. A large doe was spotted by several passers-by, in the area of Adolphe Raymond's bushland and Randolph Rodger's pasture; while on the west side of the road, only 10 yards inside the fence at Moses Brown's, two yearlings were also seen. One of the latter, a male, had single-prong horns covered with the fuzz of adolescence, and it was thought the youngsters had become momentarily separated from the parent by traffic intervening on the highway.

Members' Night At Golf Club

BAUER SISTERS HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Inauguration of a Members' Night is planned for Friday, July 28, at Lachute Golf and Country Club. Entertainment will consist of nine holes of golf in two-ball mixed foursomes in the evening, followed by distribution of prizes and a dance, with a small orchestra or string ensemble providing the music. The evening will close with a midnight lunch.

It is planned to hold such Members' Nights monthly during the remainder of the summer, and for the opening event (a week from next Friday) the Club management hopes to obtain the services of a well known dance team from Montreal to provide floor show entertainment. Attendance is limited to members and their wives.

As noted in last week's edition, the famous Bauer sisters, Alice and Marlene, will be on hand next Sunday afternoon, July 23, and a very large crowd is anticipated. These young ladies are among the top few in golf today, and members here are speculating as to their showing over the local course, which is now rated as one of the most difficult on the continent.

Week-End Games, Argent'l Softball

SCHEDULE ADVANCES WITH KEEN INTEREST

Wilson's ball park was the scene of two games last Sunday. Beavers defeated Boyd's Express in the first encounter, a seven-inning affair, by the score of 13-1. The Beavers, with a new pitcher, stopped the Express team from the very outset of the game. The second set-to was a thrilling game in which the Bluebirds fought to beat Malacket Spiders 5-3 in a nine-inning game. The fixture was scheduled for seven innings, but extra sessions had to be played to decide the outcome. In the seventh round, with the Bluebirds having their last bat, Malackets were leading the game 3-0, and there were two men out for Bluebirds. The result of the game appeared a certainty, but Bluebirds rallied and succeeded in tying the score. In the eighth inning there was no scoring, but the ninth proved final, as Bob Greeley, pitching for the Malacket boys, walked the first two men, paving the way for Gaetan Poulin, who doubled to centre field scoring the two runners on base to end the game, with the Bluebirds victorious 5-3.

In Upper Lachute, White Rose continue to win and maintain their stand near the top of the league. They defeated Tigers 10-5 — the latter having won only two games so far this season. Two or three of their losses, however, have been very close games, which indicates they are not out of the running yet.

Next Sunday's schedule is as follows:

Boyd's Express vs. Tigers at Moore's playing field.
White Rose vs. Bluebirds at Wilson's ball park.
Malacket Spiders vs. Beavers at Wilson's ball park.

Standing to Date

	P	W	L	Pts
Malacket Spiders	9	7	2	14
Bluebirds	9	6	3	12
White Rose	9	6	3	12
Boyd's Express	9	3	6	6
Beavers	9	3	6	6
Tigers	9	2	7	4

District Junior Tennis Tourney at Ste. Adele

The Quebec Lawn Tennis Association junior tournament for the Laurentian District is being held this week, July 17 to 23, at The Chantecler, Ste. Adele en Haut. Boys and girls under 18 years of age are entering the competitions.

Decisions are awarded on the basis of best 2 out of 3 games. The District winners (highest boy and highest girl) will receive Q.L.T.A. medals and will play in the Montreal Zone games sometime between July 31 and August 5. Zone winners also receive Q.L.T.A. medals. District non-winners may play in Montreal Zone games, but are not eligible to receive medals.

The Provincial Tennis Championship games will be staged in Montreal on August 19, and the Dominion Championship games at Ottawa, late in August.

B'burg Legion Auxiliary Staged Annual Picnic

Brownsburg — On Saturday, July 8, the Brownsburg Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Branch No. 71, chartered a bus to convey the children to the annual picnic held at Macdonald Lake. The Auxiliary supplied soft drinks, milk and ice-cream for the youngsters, also tea for the grown-ups, and these refreshments were in great demand. Races were run in the afternoon for the children and adults, and money was given as prizes. It was a tired but happy gathering that returned home, all looking forward to another such picnic next year.

Gatineau LINES

Less Than 10 Cents A Day!

Gatineau Power Company serves some 55,000 domestic customers. Some customers use a lot of electricity in their homes; some use comparatively little. On the average each customer uses less than 10 cents worth of electricity each day.

That's the price of a couple of chocolate bars, less than the cost of a quarter of a package of cigarettes. For that amount of money, the average customer of Gatineau gets lighting whenever he wants it, and in addition electricity does a wide variety of other things for him. It may do the washing and the cooking, provide music, polish the floor, heat water, toast bread, pump water, or even milk cows. It doesn't do all things for all people but it does a lot of things for a lot of people.

In view of all this, that figure of less than 10 cents a day is amazingly cheap. It is particularly cheap when we consider how much money must be spent before electric power can be produced at all. Dams must be built to control water flow. Power plants must have expensive machinery. Thousands of poles, millions of insulators, hundreds of miles of wire — all are needed to bring the power from far-away generators into the home, the store or the factory.

When you consider the large investment required to generate and distribute electricity, the figure of less than 10 cents a day paid by the customer is small indeed.

From either viewpoint — from the service it provides, or from the cost of operating an electricity system — electric power today is the cheapest thing we buy.

Test for Hay Cure

A quick method of testing hay to determine if it is safe to place in the mow, has been developed at the Michigan State College.

The equipment, as described in C-I-L Agricultural News, consists of an oven, cylinder, weighing scale and moisture chart. To determine the moisture content of hay, the oven is fastened to the exhaust of a truck, tractor or automobile. A sample of hay is folded and pressed into a metal cylinder. Cylinder and sample are weighed, then placed in the oven. The engine is started and allowed to run a little faster than idling speed. It takes from five to seven minutes for the hot exhaust gases to dry the hay.

The cylinder and sample are then weighed again. By using the chart which comes with the equipment, the amount of moisture which was in the hay before drying can be quickly read. If the reading shows that hay has more than 20 per cent moisture, it is not safe to place in the mow.

Remedy to Make Couch Grass Twitch

(Winnipeg Tribune)

Some varieties of grass seem to have a great deal more will to live than others. Some kinds are ready to give up the ghost at the drop of the hat. This is particularly true of the kind that is guaranteed to make a lawn a velvet carpet.

This sort of grass doesn't seem to care whether it lives or dies. It can be fed with loving care with costly fertilizers, watered sedulously according to directions, cut, combed and brushed with infinite pains. And after all this, it will turn brown and die simply because a passing humming bird happens to take a short cut across it.

But there are other kinds of grasses that have a fierce will to live. This is true of the hardy stuff that thrives in caragana (Siberian Pea Tree) hedges and along the edges of driveways and fences. But the most willing of all grasses to live is the grass of the many names, not all of them printable. Couch, kootch, twitch or quack grass is probably the livingest thing in the whole vegetable kingdom. It can be attacked with fire and sword, mattock and hoe, cultivators and weed diggers, but unless every last little bit of root is captured, crated and dumped far out at sea, it will spring back into fresh green life invigorated by the encounter.

Apart from being a thorn in the sides of gardeners, couch grass seems to have no particular function. Discriminating horses, goats and cattle do not hold it in high regard as something to chew on. Rabbits spurn the stuff as tough and coarse. It is the bane of lawn mowers and causes a sweat to start on the brow on the scythe wielder. Couch grass will gleefully choke its less hardy comrades of the field out of business. It turns brown and drab when it has nothing else to do. It is arrogant because of its quasi-immortality.

But couch grass may soon get the come-uppance it so richly deserves. There have been persistent reports recently that a mighty genius in the States has discovered a chemical which will liquidate couch grass without harming other grasses. A sprinkling of this magic stuff is said to make couch grass twitch, quake and finally fall flat on its face to rise no more.

This seems almost too much to hope for, but the reports keep coming in. We can hardly wait for the first shipment of this miracle chemical to arrive to these parts.

Garden Pest Film Goes to Theatres

"Life Under a Leaf" is the title of a motion picture that is now being released to the Canadian theatres. Produced by the National Film Board in its Canada Carries On series, the film is a 10-minute version of the Canada Department of Agriculture 16mm coloured production, "Vegetable Insects". The theatrical release is also in colour, but some new footage has been added and the commentary slanted toward movie audiences.

Timed to coincide with the arrival of garden-pest worries, "Life Under a Leaf" shows the more common insects, screen-size, in action and includes basic advice on how the gardener can combat them.

It was made under the technical supervision of Alan G. Dustan and W. G. Matthewman of the Division of Entomology, Science Service, and Mr. Dustan appears in one scene.

HOW TO MAKE A PEA SHELLER

Homage in the Garden

All 'round the garden the bluebells are ringing
Like church bells calling the faithful to prayer,
Among the tall grasses the violets are bowing
Their beautiful heads, like choristers fair.

While Jack-in-the-Pulpit his sermon is conning,
Softly the summer wind sighs through the trees,
And the roses are pouring from bushes and arbour,
Perfume like blessings on each wayward breeze.

The larks in the meadow their anthems are raising,
A chorus that reaches afar to the skies,
While the bees sing their praises from flower to flower,
Then, laden, on gossamer wings they arise.

The robin and swallow a duo are trilling,
Their dusk song of homage to heaven ascends,
Their dulcet tones spread like a vesper at evening,
Voicing their faith, that our own far transcends.

Around the Home...

Half the joy of having a garden is having a comfortable chair in a shady nook where you can lounge and enjoy the changing beauty of your surroundings. What's the use of having a garden if you can't take time to sit down and enjoy it? These are the days when the home owner should be able to recline comfortably on a lawn seat in the dense shade of a towering maple . . . not one task to be done . . . not a care in the world . . . sounds like Utopia!

Garden Seats

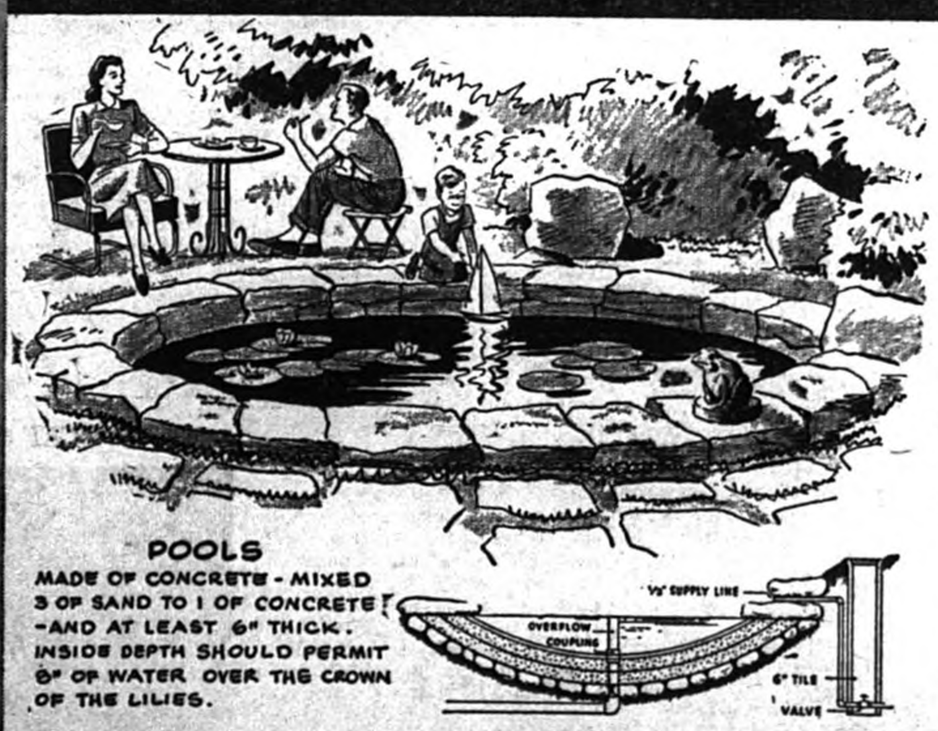

My own siestas take place in a secluded corner of the garden, well hidden from the surrounding neighbourhood. One of my prize possessions is a garden bench I made last year. True, it isn't the most comfortable piece of furniture in the world, but it is sturdy and wasn't too hard to make—as you can see from the sketch. My pride and joy is the wide bench I built around the trunk of the maple that stands to one side of the patio. It took a bit of fitting to give an attractive natural finish but it has attracted more favourable comment than any other piece of garden furniture I have made.

Garden Pools

If you are like me, you'll have a bird bath and a small pool in clear view to help you relax. Nothing is quite as restful and cooling as the sound of running water and the reflection of blue sky in a still pool. The size of the pool doesn't matter—you'll get the same effect from a small binder wheel set in concrete (mentioned last month), a washtub sunk in the ground or an extensive cement job. When properly planned and planted so that it fits naturally into its surroundings, the size or expense of the pool is immaterial.

Bird Baths

I could watch my bird bath for hours if work would permit. On a warm afternoon there is a steady procession of bluebirds, chipping sparrows, wrens, song sparrows and robins. The birds do not care how expensive the bath was. As long as the water is fresh, clean and not too deep, they will use it regularly. Between the two extremes illustrated are a host of styles and designs.

Ho-Hum

THERE ARE dog days in the news business — just as there are languid moments in the human spirit, this warm summer weather. Especially is this true in the experience of small-town journalism; news fluctuates like the ebb and flow of the tide, but with less certainty and regularity. . .

It occurred to us last week-end, that the news-editor might keep himself continually occupied in a negative sort of way — by deflating all the rumors which people mistake for news. . . Last Sunday, Main Street was agog with an automobile theft and a suicide. But it transpired that a Montrealer, in a borrowed car, had left his clothes on the bank of the North River and gone swimming. And being a good swimmer, he swam far — out of sight, and was still swimming vigorously when local police solved the disappearance and dispelled the tragedy.

Down the River

WE MAY be unduly impressed, through recent experience of shipboard travel — but in the grounding of the Cunard liner Franconia and its subsequent rescue this week, we find something of an epic tale.

In the chapters of maritime history, this is but a minor paragraph, perhaps — not comparable with the fate of the Noronic, or the numberless tragedies which occur beyond protective shores and coastlines. . . Yet there was something inspiring about those little tugs of the St. Lawrence River, and the ice-breaker Lady Grey, straining the hawsers to refloat an ocean giant and save her from destruction.

But perhaps it is behind the scenes that we glimpse a performance still more notable — in the steamship company's offices where this incident created an emergency difficult to imagine. There had been a passenger list of 850 aboard the Franconia — young folks and old folks on their way at last to England, after detailed plans and tiresome preliminaries. When their journey, scarcely begun, was suddenly interrupted — immediate arrangements had to be made for their alternative transit, even in the face of heavy sailing lists. Passengers and baggage had to be transferred to other ports, to other vessels and other travel lines — some even proceeding by way of New York, and others by airline. And in little over a week after the mishap, all these travellers will have been accommodated. . . Shipping officials and booking staffs have sweat blood in the meantime, no doubt; but this sequel to the Franconia's misfortune is surely an epic of co-operation and efficiency which deserves some praise.

The King!

PERHAPS you are one of those people who are uncertain regarding the correct procedure when a toast to the King is proposed. Uniformity is sadly lacking in this observance. 'Echoes', the official magazine of Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, explains how it should be done:

There is a specific procedure prescribed for the Armed Forces when a Toast to His Majesty is proposed, and, while various organizations may have their own customs for this occasion, there is a definite formality to be observed by civilians, when a Toast to the King is correct.

The chairman rises, brings the audience to attention, and asks them to rise and drink a toast to His Majesty. At this, the audience rises and the chairman says: "Ladies and Gentlemen, the King". Then and only then, is the glass lifted from the table, held at eye level for a moment, then one sip of liquid is taken and the two words "The King" repeated before the glass is replaced on the table.

No other procedure is correct for a civilian pledging the health of His Majesty.

The glasses are never clinked. Guests must not smoke before the Toast has been proposed. It is not correct to play or sing the National Anthem when a Toast to His Majesty is proposed.

Study the Imports

A COMMON-sense clipping: "Despite a desire on the part of many Canadians to buy goods made in Britain, the exporting practices of the British appear to be designed to throw monkey wrenches into Canadian machinery. As an example, the textiles they send here are largely textiles of a kind this country makes, and not of a kind we import from the U.S., where we should reduce our buying . . textiles as a group comprise from a third to a half of total British sales in Canada. . . . Why not send us steel of the class and kind this country imports from the U.S? The squadrons of trade experts who have been appealing that sentiment be traded for cash, should make a closer study of Canadian imports from the U.S. If, for instance, a goodly number of Canadian factory workers lose jobs because of increased imports from Britain, will that not reduce the Canadian market for British goods?

WE ADMIT that most of our business depends upon the people living in the surrounding district. It should therefore be one of our first duties to support and assist anything that is in the interest of the farmer — says the Humboldt (Sask.) Journal.

I, TOO — Saw England

— By T. D. Titman, Asst. Editor —

IV

I travelled much in Britain, during my brief holiday described in these chapters. And always I was pleasantly impressed by the courtesy of transport officials, the helpful attitude of ticket collectors, conductors and porters. Even the man-in-the-street, on questioning, would step considerably out of his way to indicate a turning or to direct me to a destination. There was that incident while motoring through a Tyneside mining village, where, uncertain as to a turn in the highway, my host and driver hailed an urchin with a bicycle. He gave us clear and courteous directions, and my companion, thinking the lad deserved a tip, called him back and extended in his hand a shilling "Wha' for?", asked the boy; we explained our offering was a mark of appreciation — whereupon the youngster mounted his bicycle and away, with a vociferous "Garn!" (which might mean, in effect, "Go take a jump!" or some Canadian equivalent of disdain).

I saw nothing to indicate a chiseling for tips, and only once did I feel that I was overdoing the thing — when I found myself with no small coinage to reward some minor service. It was not a costly experience anyway, but uncomfortable, in the feeling that I might be setting a precedent at the expense of fellow tourists.

At this point I recall that big day in Britain that brought the de-rationing of gasoline. It was in a busy city that one genial newsvendor (spotting the Americanism that seemed to brand my appearance in box-car letters), held out a newspaper and yelled, "Here y'are, guvnor, another bit o' freedom!" I specially remember the occasion because I was on the highways immediately afterwards; it was Whitsun week-end, a big holiday in the English calendar. The narrow streets of little towns were congested with cars and motorcycles of every shape, size and color — chugging each gasp of petrol as though they had found a new lease on life. These, and the ubiquitous parties of cyclists — boys and girls in shorts and scant attire, leaning low over the handlebars, all hell-bent for someplace in a hurry — made England's roads a scene of life and hubbub on that auspicious week-end.

There are interesting scenes which deserve some mention — some of which appear in the conventional guide-books, many of which do not. There is a fascinating story in the coalfields of Northumberland — the tall shafts over deep underground workings — the smouldering slagpiles fed by bucket-cables or conveyors, which mar the countryside. Much like the sawdust piles, but less lovely, that mark the sites of a myriad sawmills in Quebec. Still more interesting are the areas of open-cast coal mining in the North and Northeast of England, where in many parts immense machines have levelled the abandoned workings, and coalfields have been reclaimed for cultivation. . Then there are the lime quarries of Derbyshire, the smoke-bellowing steel mills of Sheffield, and the concentrated industries of the Midlands. . . All of which are described in the geography texts; but how much more revealing to view these things oneself, with an awakened consciousness of Britain's industrial potentialities in war and peace.

My visit to the British Industries Fair at Castle Bromwich, Birmingham, was an appropriate sequel to these impressions. But here I learned something more — that, while England knows how to produce the goods, she is equally adept at displaying them. Let no one say that America has a monopoly on showmanship. An industrial fair such as this show at Birmingham, with its miles and miles of exhibits, could prove mighty tiresome to the visitor. But the B.I.F. was so attractively arranged, its booths and stands embodying all the cunning crafts of modern display, that footweariness gave way to desperation; for there was too little time to do it justice. . .

The scene changes. . . Moving south and east to the Channel coast, there are contrasting impressions — glimpses of unspoiled villages interwoven with history, tradition and adventure; the smugglers' retreats; the storied scenes of classical literature; haunts of the great celebrities in arts, letters and statesmanship, the abodes of poets and authors, past and present.

Apart from the latter in generous numbers, Sussex County has its rich quota of scenic charm. The rolling Downs reveal expanses of landscape in refreshing green, and of seascape in cooling blue, their heights ending abruptly at the coastline in sheer cliffs of gleaming white. Graceful seagulls circle over towering pinnacles of chalk, and the azure ocean blends at the horizon with the softer pastels of the sky. Such a picture is the panorama at Beachy Head, which is one of the scenic "musts" of Sussex. It is both formidable and fascinating. I was told that they come from far and near, the despondent and dejected (with one-way railway tickets) to hurl themselves over this steep, imposing cliff; and there could be no uncertainty as to the outcome!

Eastbourne's terraced, horticultured seafront, its corporate refinements and select decorum — in contrast with Brighton's glamor, crowds, commercialized parades — the holiday traffic, the train and autobus excursions; across through Hampshire and Dorset counties — the ocean and trans-Channel ports, the naval garrisons; all these, interspersed with England's ancient landmarks — the castles and cathedrals and little historic churches, the old thatched roofs, quaint Elizabethan inns and houses . . . there's a wealth and variety of interest here for every visitor. Especially for those whose muscles and arteries lend themselves to that popular English pastime — hiking. Walk (they say) and the spirit and sentiment of England walk with you.

From this delightful lap in my itinerary, the Southhampton Express bore me in speedy comfort back to London, the hub of the Empire, and into a heat wave which reminded me of Canada in the good old summertime.

Salesmen Nation Builders

Halifax (CP) — Salesmen rank next to clergymen and doctors in the building of a country, a professional relations expert told a service club here.

Dr. W. J. Heather, director of professional relations for the American Optometrical Association, declared:

"The salesman is the spark-plug of civilization.

"The salesman is a 'want' creator. He cannot be content to fill people's needs. Filling needs is not sufficient. He makes people want things that make civilization a little better."

Qualifications for a good salesman: He must be healthy and a good actor.

From Now On, What?

(Contributed)

Our universal cold war has turned hot — the shooting has begun. Apprehension reigns throughout the western front; within the Iron Curtain misinformation and appalling ignorance. Fifty-nine and a half centuries of hit-and-miss human effort leave us all in a mental state of chaos and futility. Material comforts are the happy possession of the minority, and cruel poverty to the masses in or out of the communistic areas. Science, scholarship and politics ignore the only solution of this world-wide drama. Remedy is beyond human aid and explained only by divine revelation. The end fast approaching was foretold at the dawn of time and is at the disposal of all who would know.

Genesis, the book of beginnings, records the origin of our present creation and also human relationships and institutions. In type it speaks of new birth, new creation replacing present chaos and ruin.

The sin problem, as affecting our earthly condition is satisfactorily expounded, and correct relation to God revealed. The roots of all subsequent revelation are here implanted for the comprehension of all. The testimony of history authenticates it all as the one and only inspired record of future events. The second book, Exodus, records redemption out of Egyptian bondage. Egypt is the world in type, land of wealth, poverty and general sinfulness, for which judgment is the only remedy. Redemption establishes relationship with God, expressed in worship, fellowship and service. The guilty thus obtain forgiveness, cleansing and restoration from their Adamic fall from grace.

The third book details correct walk, worship and service of redeemed people in contrast to surrounding paganism. God first speaks literally out of a mountain to which approach is forbidden, and later dwells in a tabernacle constructed by supernatural direction and befitting His holiness. All this centres in the history of a selected nation, Israel, whose story depicts, in type, human history from the past to the future eternity, when time as we understand it, ceases to exist.

Forty years of wilderness wanderings illustrate the Christian life from new birth to bodily salvation, id est, resurrection. Thus far has been recorded creation and fall, redemption, worship and now service and walk. Self-will has no place, and each individual has a definite place and objective providing for an orderly life. Moses, the great leader, is about to be deceased, reaching an age of 140 years.

The desert wanderings are summarized in view of impending entrance to covenanted possession. God's moral judgments are unfolded and instructions detailed as to occupancy of Canaan, illustrating the Christian's translation from the terrestrial to the celestial sphere. Key-words are "Thou shalt", as disorder has no place with the almighty. Instructions, warnings and predictions counsel, advise and foretell the story of Israel — and by it, that of the human race.

Twenty-five centuries have now elapsed; apart from this very small nation, all humanity is sunk in deep depravity and utter despair. A few men of criminal tendency rule mankind for their own pleasure, until replaced, usually by murder from other aspirants.

For another 15 centuries the scene changes for the worse always, until we read of Herod the king, a monster of great ill-fame.

With the birth of Jesus Christ, B.C. 4, the whole scene gradually changes. God manifest in the flesh, is born of a woman and the kingdom of heaven is offered unto Israel and through her to all mankind. Refusal of material salvation is culminated at Calvary, where Jew, Greek and Roman unite in destroying God's Son, second person of the Holy Trinity. By this act the whole race become responsible for religious man — the Jew; intellectual man, the Greek; and military man, the Roman — all came together and unitedly committed the sin of all time.

Contrary to secular history, all man's contact with his Maker now changes. The Gentile world was laid aside at Babel, B.C. 2247, and the Jewish nation A.D. 33. This brings us to our own dispensation, scripturally known as the Church Age or sixth era of time in the divine economy. "The Lord added to the church daily such as were going to be saved." Forty centuries of testing and salvation by works has passed by; grace replaces law, for the debt of sin has been liquidated and faith alone is now the means of new birth. This glorious gospel has now been universally rejected for nineteen hundred and seventeen years, and according to divine writ will soon be withdrawn. "Strait is the gate and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it."

This is increasingly true with the increase of worldly knowledge, "For man by wisdom knows not God". What an extraordinary assertion!

Today's deplorable world condition, politically, is no surprise to the enlightened of "the household of faith". Three divisions now comprise the human race, Jew, Gentile and Church of God. The first awaits national restoration and racial supremacy, as it once acquired, B.C. 992, under Solomon. When this occurs "the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea." "Everyone that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall even go up from year to year to worship the King, the Lord of hosts . . and it shall be that whoso will not come of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship . . even upon them shall be no rain." From these prophecies we learn that after much judgment and cleansing the Jew will again be supreme nationally, Jerusalem will be the centre of wealth and interest to the humiliation of great cities, and all present political relationships be scrapped.

Of course, all this is incomprehensible to the natural mind — "which receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God!" From the fall at the very dawn of creation, mankind has rejected truth and accepted falsehood, and doubtless will continue to do so until the end, when "all things shall be subdued unto Him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all and in all", and "death is swallowed up in victory".

THE HYPHEN ELIMINATED FROM CANADIAN CITIZENSHIP

By ROMUALD BOURQUE, Mayor of Outremont, Que.

They say that there is nothing new under the sun — yet in Canada today we have almost fifteen million representatives of something that didn't exist even five years ago. We have almost fifteen million Canadian citizens — and a Canadian citizen is such a new thing in this world that many people don't know it even exists!

Up until 1946 there was no such thing as a Canadian. That is how new you and I are in this twentieth century world. There were people born in Canada with English - French - Scottish - Irish - Polish - German or some other brand of ancestors, so they were listed officially as British subjects — of English, French, Scotch, or whatever descent. To those stubborn people who insisted upon filling out forms by stating simply that they were Canadians, the officials simply refused to issue the desired documents. In order to secure a passport or a visa, or a registration card during the war, you simply had to say what your national descent was — and according to that descent you were listed on your official document.

Today that necessity has disappeared. When you apply for your official papers and are asked your nationality, you may reply simply and straightforwardly — Canadian. And the official who interviews you must accept that as an answer, no matter how much he may wish to classify you as some hyphenated creature with only half a nationality of your own. Canadians exist today — in their own right. A man, or a woman, can now be as proud of being a Canadian as a citizen of little Switzerland can be of proclaiming himself a Swiss. And, as I will subsequently illustrate, there is a rather strange similarity between the citizen of Switzerland and the citizen of Canada and one about which some Canadians should know more.

Now this may all seem like reviewing some ancient history which is none too important in a world which is rushing towards disaster at a rate unparalleled during all the human story. Official recognition of Canadian citizenship may seem to be an unimportant achievement. Indeed, there are some who feel that it is a step in the wrong direction. Nationalism, they say, is the great danger of the age. Wars are caused by nationalism and why should we contribute to the potential causes of war by creating here on this North American continent another nation. Why should we not be satisfied to remain part of a wider entity — the British Commonwealth of Nations, for instance, or the United Nations — from which all of us, whatever our origin, originally sprang.

There is certainly logic to such an argument. None of us in Canada wishes to add contributions to the causes of war. We all want peace. We all want to conserve rather than destroy. We all know the folly of national hatreds and the dangers of international jealousies. Yet, I believe that we in Canada can contribute more to the causes of world peace and can serve ourselves and others better by becoming one nation than we can by remaining what we were before. Hitherto, legally, in our own eyes and in the eyes of the world, we were a mixture of people, suffering each other but living none too well together.

There were very clear and obvious reasons for that situation. In spite of our association with the other great British nations, for which most of us had respect and a few of us had love, we had no common loyalty. In the name of common sense, it was too much to expect people who had come here from European countries to suddenly develop a great love and loyalty for a country overseas, thousands of miles away, which by inheritance they had learned to fear, hate or distrust. These people were willing and able to love and be loyal to Canada — but nothing could have persuaded them that they owed love and loyalty to England.

Even to the English Canadian that attitude does not appear unfair. You cannot wipe out the fruits of history in a year or in a generation. America won the loyalty of its diverse people because it was America and nothing else but America. Canada's people were divided, antagonistic, lacking in understanding because they were many people with many loyalties. They were still

Safe Boating

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

Parents would do well to follow the strict rules about the use of boats by boys or girls which are enforced at any first-rate camp. No camper is allowed to go out in a canoe or sail boat until that camper has passed a swimming test. A non-swimmer is thus very eager to qualify for the special privilege of a paddle or a sail. In these two types of boats there is greater risk than in a row boat or punt. Even in comparatively safe boats, in some camps, non-swimmers must put on life belts before going out on the water, in a boat in charge of a capable adult. There is a definite time in the camp schedule for instruction, not only in swimming but in learning to paddle or sail. Campers are taught how to care for a boat, the names of the parts of a boat and never to take foolish risks when on the water.

Taking care of possessions is something which most children must learn from imitation and instruction, and a boat is no exception to this rule. Boys and girls should be taught that boats are valuable; they cost money! They are necessary for travel in many parts of the world and they are essential for the commerce of mankind. Pleasure boats add much to the relaxation and enjoyment of a holiday and it is usually a boat of this type in which boys and girls are especially interested.

They should learn to carry paddles or oars with the blade upright in the air so as not to crack or dint the blade. A boy or girl should learn never to step or sit in a boat and rock it when it is pulled up on dry land.

Children can be a real help in keeping any small craft baled out and free from sand or dirt, which injure the finish of the inside of a boat. When in strange, shallow water they can help to watch for rocks or floating logs or "dead heads" which might rip the boat.

Some good general safety rules for boys and girls in boats are as follows:

A boat is no place for fooling or wrestling. Act sensibly.

Help keep the boat level from side to side and on an even keel from bow to stern.

Don't go in an overloaded boat, overloaded either with freight or passengers.

Don't lean over the side of a boat.

Don't stand up or change place in a boat.

If you can't swim, wear a life-preserver belt when you go in a boat.

If a sudden rain storm comes up or an unexpected "blow" keep calm and don't get in a panic.

Last, but not least, if the boat should tip, even if you are a good swimmer, and not far from land, stick to the boat. Numerous drownings would have been avoided if this excellent rule had only been followed.

It's Never Too Soon To Start Saving!

You Can Open Your Youngster's Savings Account with One Dollar

Like some grain crops, the earlier you plant the savings habit, the better its yield. And it's certainly a habit worth planting, for countless success stories show how saving builds happy homes and successful careers.

More and more Canadian parents are getting their youngsters off to a good start by helping them to open their own savings accounts at the Bank of Montreal. The first deposit need be only a dollar — not a lot for the ownership of a savings account and a new B of M passbook.

Having his own account will be powerful encouragement to your youngster to go on saving out of his own pocket money — for the things he really wants. He'll learn to persevere.

Donald Hay, manager of the Bank of Montreal branch at Lachute, or any member of his staff, will be pleased to help your youngsters open their accounts, and show them how the B of M looks after the savings of its million and more depositors.

48-DAY JOB

Victoria, B.C. (CP) — A local ship-building company has established some sort of a record here — prefabricated parts for a 150-foot ferry built in 48 working days. The sections were constructed here and then taken to Kelowna by train for assembly. The ferry, to carry 40 cars and passengers, will run on the Okanagan Lake between Kelowna and Westbank.

In the year ending March 31, 1949, the interest paid by the federal government on the public debt cost Canadians $464,000,000.

PETROLEUM DISCOVERY!

EXTRA PICK-UP EXTRA POWER EXTRA ECONOMY

Gasoline must have a balanced volatility to give maximum speed of pick-up, smooth acceleration and at the same time minimum vapor loss; the inclusion of Butane gives that EXTRA PICK-UP to CHAMPLAIN 3 X GASOLINE.

To obtain that maximum power from a motor car the engine must be free of knock—knocking means loss of power; catalytically cracked gasoline gives the high octane "anti-knock" qualities which result in the EXTRA POWER of CHAMPLAIN 3 X GASOLINE.

The quick pick-up, the smooth acceleration, the freedom from knock mean that the maximum energy of gasoline will be used by the engine. This scientifically balanced gasoline results in the EXTRA ECONOMY of CHAMPLAIN 3 X GASOLINE.

CHAMPLAIN BENZOL AND CHAMPLAIN ETHYL for cars needing higher octane

If your car engine is designed to use only premium-grade fuels with still higher octane rating, you will enjoy more thrilling power and better all-around performance by asking for Champlain Benzol or Champlain Ethyl Gasoline.

RESEARCH ON AIRCRAFT FUELS BRINGS NEW KIND OF GASOLINE

Scientific research during the early days of the recent war resulted in a new method of producing the high octane gasoline so necessary for airplane fuel—the catalytic cracking of petroleum. This process was introduced into Canada some time ago and catalytically cracked gasoline is now an ingredient of Champlain's new brand of 3 X GASOLINE.

Butane—that volatile petroleum product—has also become available for inclusion in Champlain gasolines, giving them that quick starting, that smooth acceleration so necessary for top performance.

Look for the CHAMPLAIN 3 X sign—Fill your tank and prove for yourself that CHAMPLAIN 3 X GASOLINE has that—

A Montreal Landmark

As you come up the river to Montreal, the first thing you are likely to see is the towering cross standing high on the summit of Mount Royal. Now brilliantly lit at night, this famous landmark has looked out over the bustling city below for 305 years.

It was on January 6, 1643, that Chomedy de Maisonneuve, founder of Montreal, erected the first cross on the site of the present structure, in fulfillment of a solemn promise. The present cross was erected in 1924 in memory of the city's gallant founder. According to legend, when Montreal was first settled, the French colonists made what they thought were adequate preparations for the long winter months that lay ahead.

However, they were not familiar with the mighty St. Lawrence, and the fort they built was situated on the lowland near the present Youville Square. Just before Christmas ice formed on the river around St. Helen's Island, and gradually the water started to rise. As an ice jam was formed, the water continued to rise, until the fort itself was threatened.

It was then that Maisonneuve planted a cross on the bank of the river, and swore that if the water did not rise beyond that point, he would plant a cross on the summit of the mountain that loomed behind. The ice jam broke, the waters receded, and the fort was saved from inundation.

Maisonneuve stood by his vow. After Christmas a group of men cut a road through the forest leading to the mountain, and others set to work making a huge altar and cross. On January 6 Maisonneuve and the 50 colonists made the long trip to the top of the mountain and erected the cross, after which the Rev. Father Du Perron celebrated mass.

Home Truth

Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Ontario Welfare Minister, speaking before the Social Welfare Conference in Toronto gave voice to a wholesome and necessary truth. "Governments are apart from the people", he said. "They merely distribute revenues from taxation. More and more I am becoming impressed with the work done by private agencies. It is true that welfare begins at home. Develop the whole of the agencies in your own community because they are most effective."

— Joseph Lister Rutledge

The Hyphen Eliminated

officially — and in their hearts — German Canadians, Polish Canadians, French Canadians and English Canadians. And too often the emphasis was on the word before the hyphen instead of on the word that followed it. In the heat of argument the word Canadian disappeared — and the disputants becames Poles or Germans or French or English.

Our common citizenship ends all that. We are no longer hyphenated Canadians. We are just Canadians. We owe a common loyalty — to Canada. We have no first grade or second grade citizens — we are all equal in the eyes of the law — in our own eyes — and in the eyes of the world. We enjoy the right to call ourselves Canadians — now we must learn to deserve that right.

And now I would like to return just for a moment to my previous reference to the little country of Switzerland. I previously asserted that we are now able to call ourselves Canadians, just as the Swiss can call themselves Swiss — and I added that there is a very close similarity between Canadian citizenship and Swiss citizenship. I think that similarity is not only interesting but is worth discussing at this particular time in Canada.

Switzerland, like Canada, is a small country — from a population standpoint — with very big and powerful neighbors. Like Canada, too, it is a great trading nation and has won a place in the world by its ability to manufacture precision products and sell them on the markets of the world. Like Canada, Switzerland cannot live by itself — it must export or die.

Those are important resemblances — but this is the most important of all. Like Canada — Switzerland is made up of several peoples — like Canada it has more than one official language. More than Canada, it is trilingual—not bilingual. The people of Switzerland have three official languages — French, German, Italian. The people of Canada have two — English and French.

Left alone, without united citizenship, the people of Switzerland would inevitably have divided into three antagonistic parts — French, German and Italian. They needed first a common loyalty and second a common respect for each other's differences before they could work together in one nation. They achieved that common loyalty and they achieved the understanding and respect for the rights of each other that enabled them to survive as a peace-loving, happy nation in war-torn Europe. How easily they could have been torn apart during the emotional period of war when by ancestry they were separated into three camps.

In Canada we have now established the common loyalty. We have yet to accept fully our responsibilities towards each other and to develop the understanding and respect for each other that will permit us to create a single nation that can live happily and prosperously.

There is no longer such a thing as an English Canadian. Let us remember that and let us bury the term. If those whose mother tongue is French wish to refer to their compatriots of another language, they should refer to them simply as English-speaking Canadians—or better yet, simply as Canadians. On the other hand, those whose mother tongue is English should refer to their compatriots who speak French either as French-speaking Canadians or better yet simply as Canadians.

Our problem in Canada today is to eliminate the hyphen from our minds, our hearts and our business and social relationships as thoroughly as we have eliminated it from our official documents. Our problem is to learn to live together as Canadians — forgetting those historic pasts which are no longer any concern of ours, wiping out forever prejudices that grew because we had no common attachments to which we could apply our emotional fervours.

Pedestrians Test Colored Road

During the past few months pedestrians have unknowingly been helping to test paving surfaces for the South Bank exhibition, which will be one of London's main features in the Festival of Britain 1951. The purpose of the tests is to discover the relative durability of the various colors in which asphalt can be made. The test surfaces have been laid in London's Liverpool Street.

Ideal City Population

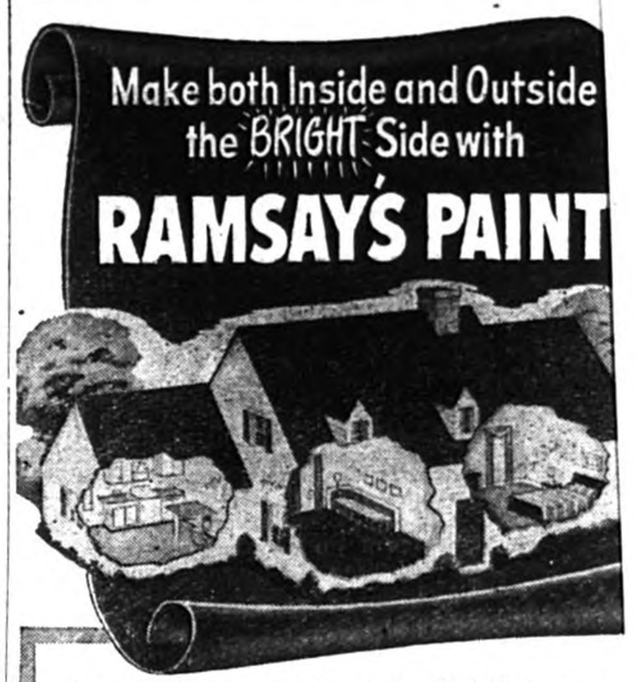

A population of between 50,000 and 60,000 would seem to be regarded as the best number to ensure opportunities for the living of a full life in the setting of the British Isles. This was stated by Miss Eila Campbell, lecturer in geography at Birkbeck College, London, when she addressed the Dunedin Travel Club in Australia recently.

The population of Sweden is half that of Canada.

Household Science and Agriculture Bursaries By Q.W. Institute

Two bursaries are awarded annually by the Quebec Women's Institutes at Macdonald College. A scholarship, the "Campbell McFarlane Memorial", goes to a girl from the rural districts of Quebec who obtains highest standing in the first three years of the B.Sc. (H.Ec.) course. This is given in memory of the first demonstrator, Miss Frederica Campbell, whose work in laying the foundation of the Q.W.I. is largely responsible for its present success. The other bursary is awarded to the boy with the highest rank in the first year of the Diploma Course in Agriculture who is returning to his father's farm at the completion of the course, or is taking up one of his own.

The names of this year's winners were announced at the recent Q.W.I. Board meetings. These are Miss Carol Edna Laurie, Hemmingford, and Mr. Robert Asbil, Rawdon, respectively. The awards will be presented by an official of the Q.W.I. at the College General Assembly this fall.

LIFE IS PRECIOUS!

Men cling tenaciously to it even in this world of sorrow and uncertainty. If our few fleeting years could be extended into eternity and present sorrows replaced by unbroken happiness, wouldn't this earth be a wonderful place? Would you like to live forever on earth in perfect tranquillity and peace? Like to, yes! But can you? That is the question soon to be discussed by the president of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Inc., Mr. N. H. Knorr. Note the time and place of this free Bible discourse and make it a point to attend:

CAN YOU LIVE FOREVER IN HAPPINESS ON THE EARTH?

Public Address by — N. H. KNORR, President, Watchtower Society.
SUNDAY — AUGUST 6 — 3.00 p.m.
YANKEE STADIUM, New York City

This free public Bible lecture will climax an 8-day international convention of Jehovah's witnesses. More than fifty-five nations and islands of the sea will be represented among the thousands of delegates. You are invited to the entire convention from July 30 through August 6. PLATES SYMBOLIZE CATHOLIC LOYALTY

Montreal (CP) — Small silver door plates to indicate opposition to Communism and faith in the Roman Catholic Church are being sent here by the Catholic Youth Movement in Rome.

The plates, part of a church campaign against Communism, show the hand of the Pope giving benediction, with St. Peter's Cathedral and a cross in the background. The International Institute of the Sacred Heart in Quebec will distribute them to parishes all across Canada. They will be issued only by parish priests.

Youth Movement officials said the plates, sent all over the world, will give a clear indication of opposition to Communism and faith in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. MacKimmie, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Earle, Miss Elsie Earle, Miss Agnes McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. Linton W. Armstrong, were guests at the marriage of Miss Evelyn McDonald to Mr. Clifford Warren, at the Montreal West United Church last Saturday. . . Miss MacDonald is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert MacDonald, former residents in Lachute east ward, and was a pupil at Lachute High School before their removal to Montreal West.

Shower for School Teacher, Bride-Elect, at Lakefield

A miscellaneous shower was held last Thursday evening at the Gibb Parish Hall in honor of Miss Mary K. Baugh, whose marriage takes place in the near future. The hall was adorned with roses from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Legg. Friends from the entire community gathered to extend good wishes to Miss Baugh, who is leaving Lakefield after her marriage to reside in Grenville — while continuing her teaching duties at Lachute High School. Many beautiful gifts were on view. In conclusion refreshments were served by the ladies.

Those attending from Lachute and Montreal were — Mrs. R. McOuat, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. V. Shearsmith, Mrs. E. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. E. Evans, Mrs. L. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. R. Dawson, Mrs. S. Boyerd, Mrs. S. Andrews, Mrs. Leavitt, Mrs. Yeudall, Mrs. Reggler, Mrs. R. Andrews, Miss Welch, Miss M. Webster, Mrs. A. Barton, Mr. Camp, Mrs. D. McIntosh, Mrs. L. Kerr, Mrs. Rae, Mrs. Copeland and others.

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, of Lachute, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Violet Rachel, to Mr. William Keith Pollock, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pollock, also of Lachute. The marriage will take place at the bride's home on Friday, August 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewen Albright announce the engagement of their only daughter, Elizabeth Amelia, to Mr. Arthur Richard Tremaine, elder son of the late A. T. Tremaine and of Mrs. Tremaine, of Westmount. The marriage will take place in Christ Church, St. Andrews East, on Saturday, August 12, at four o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon M. Styles, of St. Stephen, N.B., announce the engagement of their daughter, Gladys Elizabeth, to Gordon Kenneth Sly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Sly, of Lachute, Que. The marriage will take place on August 19 at the Union Street Baptist Church, St. Stephen.

Mr. and Mrs. Fernand Legault are spending two weeks in Digby and Halifax, N.S., having made the trip by automobile.

NON-DRINKING PARTIES

An open letter appealing for non-drinking office parties has been directed to offices throughout Philadelphia by a "Safety Committee" representing leading Christian laymen and the head of the Philadelphia Board of Rabbis. It points out that "Accidents, arguments, indiscretions — all are most likely when responsibilities are ignored and inhibitions are released under the influence of alcohol. If employees plan a party, may we count on you to encourage the kind of party that omits entirely the use of alcoholic beverages?"

NEW TELEPHONE RATES

The Board of Transport Commissioners has ordered our first general rate increase in 23 years

EFFECTIVE JULY 22, 1950

In accordance with an interim order of The Board of Transport Commissioners, telephone rates will be increased on July 22nd. These rates will apply until the Board makes a final decision on the application for higher rates that we made last October.

No one, of course, wants to pay higher prices for anything. Though our costs have been going up faster than our revenues for some time, we delayed applying for increases until it was clearly evident we could not continue to operate satisfactorily without higher rates.

Most things you buy and the things we buy too, have gone up in price in recent years, and nearly all of them more than the revenue increase we asked for. The temporary rates now ordered by the Board give us only part of the revenue we require. If we are to continue towards our goal of providing service to all who want it, when and where they want it, we must receive the balance of the increase for which we applied.

Although the cost of telephone service has finally gone up, when you think about it, the value of telephone service has gone up even more. In terms of convenience, security and friendly contacts, a telephone is worth far more than it costs!

HOW TO FIND YOUR NEW RATE

Look up your exchange area in TABLE "A". Its rate group appears beside it. Below, under the corresponding rate group column in TABLE "B", you will find the rates for the most widely used classes of service. If you need any information about other rates, please call our business office.

LONG DISTANCE RATES

New rates apply on Long Distance calls between many points in Quebec and Ontario. Increases vary from 5 cents to 25 cents, depending on distance and class of call. Long Distance rates on calls outside Ontario and Quebec are unchanged. Details are available at our Business Offices.

OTHER RATES AND CHARGES

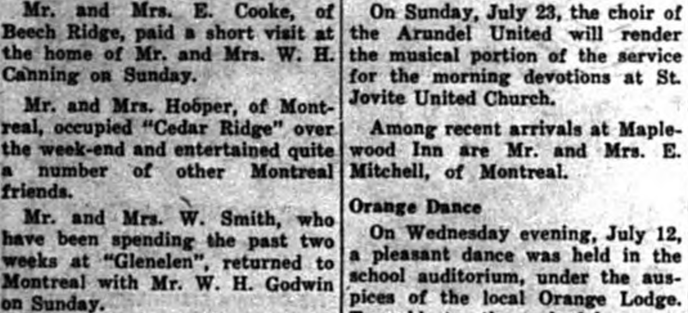

Information about other new rates and charges may also be obtained from our Business Offices.

*MESSAGE RATE — The monthly rate provides for the number of outgoing local calls shown opposite "Message Allowance", and unlimited incoming calls. The rate for each outgoing local call in excess of the Message Allowance is 5c.

NOTE — The rates quoted for Individual (including Message Rate), 2-Party and Rural Service are for wall telephones. Desk telephones are 20¢ more and hand telephones 35¢ more than shown. The Extension rates quoted are for any type of instrument.

You'll find the cost of telephone service has not gone up as much as most other things you buy. Its cost is still low — one of the smallest items in your budget. Today as always your telephone is big value.

1. The nourishing glass of milk from Grandma is the happy ending to this story. It started when Nature put aluminum in the earth itself. That is why this important mineral is right in the milk we drink.

2. And Nature gave aluminum qualities that make it ideal in contact with food. Many milk pails . . . many parts of modern milking machines are made of aluminum.

3. From farm to dairy . . . from country to city . . . rich, wholesome Canadian milk is being increasingly carried in aluminum containers to reach you fresh and pure.

4. And to cap it all, many bottles of milk are protection-sealed with shining aluminum foil tops. Aluminum assures cleanliness for this most sensitive of all foods.

No other material is more "food-friendly" than aluminum. Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of a food or a drink, there's an "inside story" of perfectly protected flavour, quality and purity.

AMERWOOD IS PRE-FINISHED • AMERWOOD IS EASY TO APPLY • AMERWOOD IS BEAUTIFUL

Pre-Finished AMERWOOD

PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is the new and beautiful wall panelling that arrives on the job completely finished. Ready to apply in the lengths that suit your job. No waste.

PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is the new and beautiful wall panelling where the hard grooth stands in bold relief. It has been stained, lacquered, baked in an infred oven (the same as your modern car bodies), waxed with a polish many times harder than the simonize you would apply to your car and then polished to a satin finish.

PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is ⅜" in thickness, comes in 6", 8", 10" widths and 8', 10', 12', 14', 16' in length. Packed 6 boards to the package and in three attractive colors, Amerwite, Amerocn, Amered.

When PRE-FINISHED AMERWOOD is applied and your last nail is driven the job is then complete, no paint, no fumes, no extra muss. It requires no extra tools, just hammer, saw and square. Drop in and see it at our yards.

A Heart of Gold

"The egg is a jolly good fellow,
His heart is a treasure of gold,
The white will beat up like a billow
And uses you'll find manifold."

This jingle has a great deal of truth behind it, for as long as man has lived, eggs have been an indispensable part of his diet. A supply of eggs is always a good start towards any meal.

Canada has set standards for grading eggs, so that the homemaker buys eggs by grade. For finest flavor and perfection she buys grade "A". For economy, the lower grade "B" may be used in general cooking such as batters or as a binder for other foods.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, say that the old question of preference for brown or white eggs comes up over and over again with arguments on both sides. The color of the shell has nothing to do with grade or food value, but many people are still very definite in their preferences.

When eggs are plentiful, homemakers can give their families many delicious egg treats such as angel food, sponge cake, custard and souffle. She may even try her hand at meringues. There are, however, some fine points on using eggs to the best advantage. The temperature of an egg affects the separation of the yolk and white and the whipping of the white. An egg just out of the refrigerator separates most easily because the white is firm and the yolk less easily broken. The white will whip more easily if it is not too cold.

How long to whip the white is another secret worth knowing. The beaten whites should be stiff but not dry. If they are to hold their air bubbles, while they are folded into a cake mixture and cooked, the walls of the bubbles must not be stretched too thinly by overbeating. If the beaten white holds up in a soft peak and looks glossy but not dry it will be just right. Equally good results should be obtained with any type of egg beater but if an electric beater is used the speed should be kept moderate.

Acid and salt help in keeping the stiffness of beaten egg whites. Cream of tartar is often added to the whites in making angel or sponge cakes for this reason. On the other hand, the smallest particle of egg or other fat in the white will prevent its being beaten to good volume.

There has always been one general rule in egg cookery—"cook at low temperature". There are now some exceptions to that important rule. Cooking under pressure in moist heat allows high temperature without toughening the white of the egg.

After much experimental work, the experts now agree that with modern, well-controlled ovens it is practical to bake angel cakes at a higher temperature than has been recommended. This one is worth trying.

Angel Cake

1 Cup egg whites, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 cup sifted fruit sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, 1 cup sifted cake flour.

Beat egg whites and salt until frothy, add cream of tartar and beat until stiff but not dry. Beat in ½ cup of the fruit sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time. Add flavoring. Sift remaining sugar with the flour four times and fold into meringue, 2 tablespoons at a time. Pour into an ungreased 9" tube pan. Bake in a very hot oven 425°F., for 25 minutes. Yield: one 9-inch cake.

Often a slightly different supper dish is a real find to the homemaker. This quickly-made and festive-looking egg dish will meet with approval.

Eggs on Toast

6 Eggs, 6 tablespoons catsup or chili sauce, 6 slices buttered toast, salt and pepper, paprika.

Separate eggs. Drop egg yolks in boiling salted water, reduce heat. Cook until hard. Spread 1 tablespoon of catsup or chili sauce on each slice of toast. Press egg yolks through a sieve, arrange on the toast slices, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Beat egg white until very stiff, spread over yolks on toast, sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Bake in a hot oven 400°F., until brown, about 5 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Speed Military Strength

will have to be sent there. The R.C.A.F. is reported preparing for a dozen different emergencies, both affecting the defence of Canada and Korean aid if called upon. Use of R.C.A.F. transport planes to fly American men and equipment and possibly supplies and reserves for our destroyers across the Pacific is one possibility. But so far there has been no cabinet approval.

External Affairs Minister Pearson said at a press conference last week that no further aid beyond our three destroyers was contemplated at this time. But if further aid in the form of military or air strength were thought necessary, then parliament would be recalled to give the matter consideration.

Clubs to Benefit In C.N.E. Prizes

Members of service clubs can win as much as $100 in cash awards for their respective organizations by enlisting teams in the Canadian Travelogue competition sponsored by the women's division of the Canadian National Exhibition.

Each team is to consist of three members of the same organization or group, Kate Aitken, C.N.E. women's director points out. Teams will be given slips bearing the names of Canadian cities and towns. These slips must be pinned to a large map and each city or town placed in its approximate location.

With the object of increasing knowledge of Canada, this competition is scheduled for the night of September 8. Last day for filing entry forms is August 14. Prospective contestants may obtain registration forms now by writing to the Women's Division, Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, Ont.
