MUSIC FESTIVAL IS HIGHLIGHT THIS WEEK-END

Full Program of School Contests Concludes Saturday Evening With Public Recital

The official program for the Spring Music Festival of the Protestant Schools of Argenteuil and Two Mountains, to be held in Lachute High School this week-end, May 4 and 5, is published on page 3 of this issue.

The following notes are of interest concerning the visiting adjudicators. . .

Mr. Harry Norris, the adjudicator for the instrumental section of this festival, is a native of New Zealand. He was the first to be awarded the Australasia Scholarship, which entitled him to study at the Royal Academy of Music in London. He became the conductor of the D'Oyle Carte Opera Company, and during the eleven years that he held this position, he made two tours of America. In 1929 he settled in Montreal, where he has been training and conducting operatic societies, teaching privately, and playing violin and viola in the Montreal Symphony. At present, he is training the orchestra of the Montreal West High School, and is the Teacher of Music for St. Helen's School for Girls, Dunham.

Dr. D. M. Herbert, adjudicator for the vocal section, is the Supervisor of Music for the Montreal Protestant Schools. For many years he was the Music Specialist for Baron Byng High School, which became well known for its choral work. Dr. Herbert has also been organist and choir master at St. Martin's Church and Emmanuel Church in Montreal.

Miss Adshead, of St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac, is holding an Art display in Commercial B Room during the Festival. The display will be open to visiting schools on Friday afternoon and Saturday, and to parents of the art pupils from 7.30 to 8.30 on Friday night. Miss Adshead has been holding art classes in the Lachute High School on Saturday afternoons during the past term, and the display will feature the work of her pupils.

Protestant School Board For Ste. Adele Area

Says the Montreal Gazette columnist On the Record: "L. Cochand putting in the final licks on organization of a Protestant School Board for the Ste. Adele area. Just finishing up a sea of forms in duplicate, triplicate, quadruplicate and quintuplicate and shipping them off to authorities."

Premier Officially Accepts Invitation

A letter from Premier Maurice Duplessis confirming his acceptance of an invitation to officiate at the opening of Lachute Spring Fair on June 13, has been received here by Wm. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. The letter says, in part:

"I anticipate the pleasure of presiding over the Official Opening of your important Exhibition at Lachute on Wednesday, June 13 next. Notwithstanding very exacting demands upon my time, I am unable to deprive myself of this pleasant opportunity."

Premier Duplessis further requests that his acceptance be conveyed to Mr. Clement Tremblay, O.B.E., president of the Agricultural Society, and to Mr. Gaston Munich, county warden, who has extended to the Premier an invitation to a luncheon to be held at the Lachute Golf Club on the day of his visit.

Flood Scene at St. Eustache

Melting Laurentian snows have caused floods in many Quebec towns. At St. Eustache and St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac, hundreds of homes were surrounded by water. The above scene gives some indication of the damage and distress caused by recent flooding.

Plan 3rd Annual Boy Scout Rally

ALL BRANCHES OF DISTRICT SCOUT MOVEMENT TO GATHER MAY 19

Brownsburg — The committee in charge of arrangements for the 3rd Annual Rally for Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs and Brownies, met in the Social Club, Brownsburg, on April 28 to discuss arrangements for this year's event, which is scheduled for the Lachute Fair Grounds on Saturday, May 19, at 2 p.m.

Seven Scout Troops and eight Wolf Cub Packs will attend the Rally from towns and villages throughout the Laurentian District. The Girl Guides and Brownies will also be there in large numbers.

Boy Scout Troops will enter competitions in First Aid, Signalling, Bridge Building and campsite layouts. The badge parade will probably be bigger and better than in the last two rallies. . . The Wolf Cub Packs will participate in games, badge displays and the badge parade. . . The Girl Guide units will participate in pyramids, signalling, folk dancing, team games, flag display and badge parade. . . The Brownies will demonstrate their skill at skipping, in a musical march and in the badge parade.

The ladies of the Brownsburg Women's Institute will again be in charge of the concession, which dispenses bottles of pop, sandwiches and good things to eat.

Last year's attendance was better than the first venture, and this year's turnout should be even better. The weather is always fine on "Rally Day", the entertainment by the rising generation is "tops" — so all readers are urged to attend.

Vancouver (CP) — Tourist association officials were told that too many American tourists are "following the birds to Victoria and overlooking Vancouver". Mansell Miller of the Pacific Stage Lines said Vancouver needs a good slogan.

SEVEN-FOOT STEER HORNS SOUVENIR FROM TEXAS

A souvenir of woolly Texas was received recently by W. Lorne Dawson from friends in that southern state, where Mr. and Mrs. Dawson spent a pleasant winter vacation this past season. The exhibit is a pair of Texas steer horns with a spread of over seven feet, mounted on a polished wood base with tooled leather. Relic of a mammoth breed which is now becoming rare, it is doubtful if there has ever been such an immense pair of horns seen in these parts. For the past few days Mr. Dawson has had his prize on display at one of the local hotels.

Lachute W. Inst. Visits "Watchman"

Tour of Publishing Plant Is Highlight of "Publicity" Meeting

Members of Lachute W.I. met at the Giles Publishing House on Foundry Street on Tuesday afternoon and were conducted on a tour of the building by R. A. Giles, the Managing Director.

Commencing in the spacious office, they were shown specimens of the work executed by this firm. Then followed a demonstration by each operator in the various departments illustrating the type of work performed.

Contrasts in the old and new methods of typesetting and press work proved to be very interesting. It was felt that the County of Argenteuil may well be proud of its representative in the field of publishing, news distribution, and printing service to the public at large. . . Before leaving, the president of the Lachute W.I., Mrs. F. A. Brennian, appropriately thanked Mr. Giles and his staff for their courtesy and hospitality during their visit. . . This instructive program was arranged by the branch Publicity convener, Mrs. A. G. Leggett.

The meeting was then transferred to the Legion Hall for the regular business.

Miss L. Stalker read a paper on The Lachute Watchman, its functions and relationships with the local public.

Letters were read from recipients of overseas parcels. This work is being continued with the co-operation of the local Lions Club.

Timely hints on the care of gladioli, and provision for window-box gardens in winter, were given by the convener of Agriculture. The Home Economics convener reminded the members of the "squares" to be made for the Red Cross quilt.

The annual Short Course will be held at Macdonald College from May 28 to June 1 next.

Each member was urged to make or bake something for the June Fair display. Exhibits of flowers and decorations are to be shown.

Miss Adshead is holding an exhibit of Art work this Friday evening, from 7.30 to 8.30, in the Lachute High School. Parents of pupils and others interested in Art are requested to lend their support in encouraging the young people and their teacher in this work.

Brownsburg W.I. members celebrate their 25th Anniversary this Friday, May 4 — an occasion on which the Lachute branch tenders warm congratulations for their many years of W.I. achievement.

The County Convention is being held in Brownsburg on Friday, May 11; sessions commence at 10 a.m. The guest speaker will be Mrs. W. D. Harvey.

3 Children Drown On Flooded Farm At Grenville Bay

Shortly after the noon hour last Thursday, three youngsters were drowned from a boat on flooded farmland bordering the Ottawa River at Grenville Bay. The tragedy, claiming the lives of Diane Beaudoin (aged 4) and two little neighbors, Denis and Aubert Brisebois, (aged 6 and 4, respectively) occurred on the Beaudoin farm. The parents missed their children when it came to dinner-time, and neighbors, searching around, saw a boat adrift off shore. Two little bodies could also be discerned bobbing on the surface about 50 feet from the water's edge.

The three youngsters were promptly recovered by men rowing to the spot, and Dr. A. Charbonneau, summoned from Hawkesbury, tried artificial respiration; but the children were beyond resuscitation, and all three were pronounced dead.

The district coroner, Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, and an investigator for provincial detective headquarters, conducted an inquiry, and the coroner rendered a verdict of accidental death.

One version of the triple tragedy is that the children climbed into the boat, which became untied and started drifting into the current. The children became panicky and one by one jumped out into the water.

NEW ZEALAND DAIRY PRODUCTION HIGHER

New Zealand butter fat production from farmers in 1949-50 was 406 million pounds, an increase of 2.9 per cent over the previous season. The increase was due to excellent climatic conditions and an increase in the number of cows. Dairy factory production was valued at £58.7 million, an increase of 8.9 per cent over the 1948-49 season.

Drowning Verdict In Morin Fatality

The body of Gordon James Hay, 52-year-old war veteran who was well and favorably known around Morin Heights, was discovered in an artificial lake at the Rockcliff Inn last Sunday morning. An early-riser walking on the dam at the outlet of the lake, made the grim discovery. The hotel management and local police were immediately notified. The body was recovered and Det. Anatole Roch of the Provincial Police homicide squad was assigned to the investigation.

Due to circumstances surrounding the man's death and the possibility of foul play, the Attorney General's department ordered the body brought to Lachute, where Dr. J. M. Roussel, provincial medico-legal expert from Montreal, performed an autopsy. As result of the findings, however, the verdict was one of accidental drowning — Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur, of Lachute, stating death was caused by asphyxiation due to immersion.

Gordon Hay had been in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Graves, serving as cook at the Rockcliff Inn for the past 30 years continuously, with the exception of three years in the armed services in World War II. He had last been seen in a hotel at Morin Heights at 2 a.m. on the night of the fatality.

The victim is survived by a sister residing in Philadelphia, and a half-sister in Montreal.

Abnormal Road Conditions Subject Of Complaint

The condition of the roads throughout this county has been the cause of more vociferous criticism this spring than any in the past. For some reason it would appear the winter months caused more havoc than usual. Reports have been received that a local oil truck crashed through a temporary bridge where the road had been washed away. The case is also reported of a man who, in order to get his wife to hospital, had to use a four-wheel-drive army vehicle and two teams of horses. Even at that, it took him four hours to travel ten miles.

The roads to St. Jerome, Arundel and Dunany were completely impassable for a while and, even after a lapse of several weeks, are still reported to be in very poor condition. Similar conditions prevail in many cases on paved roads, where treacherous holes are left unattended for weeks at a time to trap the unwary motorist.

A great deal of this criticism is being levelled at those in charge of the road maintenance. When the M.L.A. for this county, Mr. W. M. Cottingham, was interviewed in this regard, he stated that he was making a personal investigation into these conditions and that orders had been issued to dismiss any employee found negligent in his duties.

OLDEST ITALIAN

Cornwall, Ont: (CP) — Nicholas Lebano, Cornwall's oldest Italian resident, died at the age of 98 after a brief illness. He had made his home in Cornwall since coming from Italy 70 years ago and was an expert gardener. He operated a grocery for 20 years.

Picadilly Weepers were the moustache and long, drooping whiskers worn by fashionable men of England in the 1860's.

LIONS CLUB SPEAKER ON TOPIC OF NYLON

Speaker at the regular Lions Club session Tuesday evening was Mary Roddick, merchandising consultant of C-I-L Nylon Division. A film was shown bearing on her topic, which revealed the wide utility of nylon in present living. (Report of this meeting held over for next issue, through lack of space).

Townsman in Crash Near St. Eustache

Returning home from Montreal late last Saturday night, Laurier Carrière, a Lachute townsman and member of a well known local firm, Lachute Lumber & Millwork Ltd., was sideswiped by an eastbound car on a stretch of highway just this side of St. Eustache. On a long curve in the road, Carriere's automobile, a new 1951 convertible model, was telescoped by the impact; the left front wheel was torn off and the car catapulted into the ditch. Laurier Carriere, crushed behind the steering wheel, suffered four fractured ribs besides various bruises and cuts. He was attended by a physician from St. Eustache and later removed by ambulance to the Sacré Coeur Hospital at Cartierville. A passenger with Mr. Carrière, Miss Lorraine Fournier, of Montreal, suffered cuts about the face caused by glass from the shattered windshield; the young lady was not seriously injured, however. The couple were assisted by fellow residents of Lachute who came upon the scene shortly after the accident.

The eastbound automobile, occupied by two men returning to St. Eustache, was a Drive-Yourself car. The latter was heavily damaged, but the occupants suffered no serious injury.

On May 24th, 1844, Samuel Morse sent the world's first telegram from Washington to Baltimore.

B'burgers Win C-I-L's Highest Safety Award

Brownsburg — Nearly 1,000 employees of the Brownsburg C-I-L took part in a ceremony at the works last Friday to mark their completion of the accident-free period required for the C-I-L award, highest of the company's safety awards, earlier this year. Each employee received an individual prize for his or her part in attaining a record of 2,138,600 man-hours without a lost-time accident.

The gathering was addressed briefly by H. Grenville Smith, C.B.E., recently elected president of C-I-L Works Manager H. M. Sherwood and Charles Stephens, safety supervisor at the Works, also spoke.

With them on the platform were L. W. Haslett, manager of the ammunition and explosives department; S. J. Smart, manager of the ammunition division; E. R. Complin, manager of the industrial relations department; and E. L. Williams, of the public relations department, all of whom came from Montreal to attend the ceremony; Norman Somers, assistant works manager; and J. B. Chalmers, general manager of Canadian Safety Fuse at Brownsburg.

In congratulating the employees, Mr. Smith said that he was glad to visit Brownsburg again and that he had brought them the congratulations and best wishes of George W. Huggett, chairman of the board, who had been detained in Montreal. The Brownsburg employees, Mr. Smith said, had demonstrated again the truth of a slogan which always had appealed greatly to him: "Safety Is No Accident". The record they had achieved was one that could not be achieved by mere chance. It required a high degree of co-operation on the part of every employee in the plant, and their performance had been remarkable.

When C-I-L had first instituted its safety award plan back in 1929, the accident frequency rate throughout all company plants was about 28 or 29. Today, the efforts of the employees, including those in the offices, had reduced the rate to about one-tenth of that figure and Brownsburg had played an important part in this achievement. In 1933, 1937 and 1950 not a single lost-time accident had occurred at Brownsburg Works, and he hoped that 1951 would take its place beside these years, Mr. Smith said.

The Brownsburg safety record of 411 accident-free calendar days was the equivalent of one man working alone for 1,000 years without an accident. It was the first time the C-I-L award, highest of the four awards under the company's no-accident plan, had been earned by Brownsburg, and only the ninth time it had been awarded since the plan was inaugurated.

The achievement also was marked by a dinner that evening in the St. Onge Hotel at Brownsburg, which was attended by about 125 long-service employees and supervisory personnel.

TROTTERS GET GATE

Goderich, Ont. (CP) — They've cut down on the "starting jitters" here. The Goderich Racing and Trotting Association now has a mechanical starting gate which accommodates five horses. More than 30 horses quartered here during the winter already have had practice in breaking from it.

Natural gas is usually found with crude oil in underground vaults of stone, shale and sand.

Local Clubmen To Verdun Rotary

Twenty-one Rotarians journeyed to Verdun last Thursday evening for an inter-club meeting with the Rotary branch in that city. A special speaker was on hand, in the person of Dr. Lloyd Patterson, Director of the Montreal School for Crippled Children. Dr. Patterson gave a very impressive address on the work being done in that institution. He outlined in detail the financial situation of the school, showing the sources from which revenue was obtained to operate, and how these monies were spent. As this is considered a private school, the directors are continually faced with a financial problem, especially as expenditures continue to mount from year to year. He expressed his gratitude to the Rotary Club of Verdun for their continued support during the last few years.

The speaker told how gratifying it was, to note the outstanding success of so many of their pupils. Many people assume that a depressing atmosphere must exist in this school; it is interesting to note, however, that almost every visitor remarks on how happy the children appear to be. Almost without an exception, each one makes a major effort to do his or her best.

After the meeting the members adjourned to the bowling alleys, where nearly everyone took part in this popular game.

Farm Dwelling Destroyed by Fire

The farm home of Douglas Bradford, a Lachute School Commissioner and well known resident, was destroyed by fire Wednesday shortly after 5 p.m. The house was a large brick structure in North River Settlement. Sparks from the chimney are believed to have settled on the adjoining woodshed and started the conflagration. Mrs. Bradford, her son and daughter, were in the home, and summoned Mr. Bradford from the field where he was at work. Neighbors rallied to give assistance, and a crew from Lachute Fire Brigade pumped water from the well. Owing to the limited water source, however, nothing could be done to save the residence. The farm buildings escaped damage, thanks to favorable wind direction. Most of the furniture and effects were removed from the blazing home. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

There are approximately 456,000 words in the English language.

Prizes Awarded to Brownsburg Employees for Safety Record

For achieving a record of 2,138,600 accident-free man-hours — the equivalent of one man working alone for more than 1,000 years without a lost-time accident — employees of the Brownsburg Works of Canadian Industries Limited received individual awards at a ceremony at the Brownsburg Works last Friday. The above photos, taken during the ceremony, show (left) H. Greville Smith, C.B.E., president of C-I-L congratulating the employees on their achievement; (right) L. W. Haslett, manager of the ammunition and explosives department of C-I-L, S. J. Smart, manager of the ammunition division, Harris M. Sherwood, manager of Brownsburg Works, Mr. Smith, and Norman D. Somers, assistant manager of Brownsburg Works — looking over some of the awards the employees are to receive.

Gatineau LINES

Our 25th Birthday

This year Gatineau Power is observing its 25th Anniversary, after completing a Quarter Century of service to customers throughout a large section of Quebec Province.

Since that day in 1926 when Gatineau Power Company came into existence, 28 small separate electricity systems have been consolidated and expanded into a single unified system served by seventeen power stations with an installed capacity of nearly three-quarters of a million horsepower.

Many of the small power plants which once served local areas are still in operation today. Each one puts its share of electricity into the unified network of wires, but the output of all the small plants combined would produce less than ⅓ of the electricity used by our domestic and commercial customers today.

Gatineau now serves more than 66,000 customers and — because of the widespread use of appliances which has developed in the last 25 years — each customer uses much more power than a customer of 25 years ago. Electric stoves, washers, pumps, water heaters, ironers, toasters, radios and all the other things which we take for granted in this electrical age, were rare indeed.

This greatly expanded use of electric power is one of the reasons why electricity today in the Gatineau area costs our customers only a fraction of what it used to 25 years ago. Another big reason is that most of the power now comes from big, economical power plants on the Gatineau and Ottawa Rivers instead of from the little local plants which — per horsepower — are more expensive to operate.

Speaking of the decrease in cost of electricity:

DID YOU KNOW?

That since 1939, the cost of living index has gone up 78.3% while the index of electricity has gone DOWN 10%.

Census of Crops

In the 1951 Census of Agriculture, which will be taken in June, the enumerators will gather statistical data from farmers throughout Canada which will be used in measuring the changes that have occurred in Canadian agriculture since the last all-Canada census in 1941. The data will also be used to establish a new base or "benchmark" for the annual estimates of field and forage crops published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

As in the past, census enumerators will visit each individual farmer to assist in the completion of the census schedule. The Bureau will make provision for farmers to obtain advance copies of the schedule. This will enable farmers to fill in as much of the information as possible before the enumerator calls, thus saving the time of both farmers and enumerators.

Due mainly to the opening to settlement and later development of the prarie lands, there has been a sharp increase in the acreage devoted to field crops in Canada in the past 50 years, according to census data and annual acreage estimates. The Census of 1901 placed the area under field crops at 19,800,000 acres. By 1941 the figure had risen to 55,800,000 acres, and in 1950 the estimated total was in the close neighborhood of 62,000,000 acres.

A Graphic Report on Forest Management

Montreal — A report to the people of Canada on the management of forest lands leased from the Crown has been issued jointly by Canadian International Paper Company and New Brunswick International Paper Company.

The two companies report to Canadians how, under the supervision of the Provincial governments, they manage 13 million acres of forest in Quebec and New Brunswick "like a vast tree farm, harvesting them in such a way that they will last forever".

Entitled "These are your Forests", the report consists of a 28-page photographic essay on the things seen in the course of a 1,500 mile trip taken through the forest by car, boat and plane, by Raymond St-Louis, 15-year-old school boy from Gatineau, Que.

In a message addressed to young St-Louis, Vernon Johnson, vice-president and general manager of C.I.P., states in the introduction: "As a Canadian, you are part owner of the vast Crown forest lands of Canada. We want you to see that we are good tenants and take care of your forests so they will live and grow forever. We are good forest managers and we want you to know that".

Young Raymond St-Louis was accompanied on his trip by Eugene Lessard, chief forester of the 6,000 square mile tract of managed forest in the upper Gatineau which he visited, and by "Manny" Wilson, Canadian International extension forester in charge of the educational program launched by the company. Photographs in the report were taken by William Vandivert, former "Life" magazine photographer widely known for his work in Great Britain and China during the war.

Time to Start Again

THE FARMER has a spring in his step as he walks the earth these exciting days. And his cheerfulness can't all be traced to the mellowing influence of the warm sun.

The time to start another cycle of seedtime and harvest is at hand and he's eager to get on with the job. As he casts his eyes over the slopes and meadows and estimates how soon planting can be started, his mind leaps ahead to the days when they will be green with midsummer growth and still farther along to the time of harvest. He estimates the returns he can expect from each division of the farm — given good growing weather and barring destructive whims of the elements. He is aware that upon his skill and judgment will depend the extent to which his farm contributes to his family's prosperity and to national production in these disjointed times.

So, as the children shout for joy, and womenfolk attack the spring housecleaning, the farmer smiles with confidence. His big job is ready, and he can hardly wait to start it.

Turnover Tax Would Hit the Farmer

IF THE federal government goes ahead with that proposal to . . allow the provinces to levy indirect taxes, hardest hit Canadians would be the farmer and the housewife — states a weekly exchange, The Tweed News.

The so-called Turnover Tax would be on everything sold at retail. Merchants say a three per cent hidden sales tax might mean that prices would rise four to 4½ per cent. Everyone would suffer, but the farmer would be hit more than once. . .

First, a farmer is a business operator. But, unlike most business operators, he must buy all his materials and equipment at retail . . implements, seed, stock, fertilizer. A Turnover Tax on these would boost his production costs.

Second, a Turnover Tax boosting prices of farm produce sold in retail stores would create buyer resistance and likely a consumer demand for reduction in returns to farmers.

Third, since farmers live long distances from manufacturing or processing centres, they would have to pay the Turnover Tax on both the original price of goods and the transportation costs to the centres near which they live.

Fourth, if a farmer sold any of his produce direct to consumers, he would have to turn tax collector.

Fifth, while many city workers would recover part of the cost of living rise by reason of cost of living bonuses, the farmer would watch his production costs and cost of living rise, while his "wages" remained the same.

Sixth, in large centres keen retail competition would tend to keep price boosts created by the Turnover Tax at the lowest possible point, but in rural centres, where competition is lacking, merchants would, justifiably, try to recover ALL the tax. The farmer would be the goat again.

Most unfair thing about Turnover Tax is that it is paid on what is spent for consumer goods. It is not based on ability to pay — concludes the Tweed News editorial.

Youth's Regard for Property

DISRESPECT for property is so generally attributed to teen-agers, that one is apt to regard this as an inevitable failing of modern youth. There is an incident in the week's news, however, which proves that pride of possession may be fostered even to embrace those community properties which belong to "nobody in particular". We cite this story not only for its interest, but for its moral encouragement. . .

Grade X students at Newmarket High School have asked Town Council to restore a pioneer graveyard which lies on the outskirts of their town. And they've offered to help. . . "Many of Newmarket's pioneers are buried there", they said in a letter to the Council. "The gravestones of people prominent in early Ontario history have fallen over and the graves are overgrown with brambles and weeds.". . . The students, who became interested in the cemetery through their history classes, have offered to help restore the site.

Britain Goes On Show

BRITAIN as a nation goes "on show to the world" today, when His Majesty the King launches the great "Festival of Britain" — perhaps the greatest national festival in history. His Majesty will declare the Festival open from the steps of St. Paul's Cathedral in London. The ceremony is being broadcast and televised, and by the time this newspaper reaches the mails, many local listeners may have heard the highlights of the event.

The King and other members of the Royal Family, will attend a Service of Dedication in St. Paul's Cathedral, and this evening Their Majesties will grace the opening ceremonies at the Royal Festival Hall — His Majesty unveiling a commemorative tablet.

These proceedings will officially launch a demonstration which extends to many regional events throughout the country. In addition, every village and centre will have its flower display — a determined effort to make the British countryside a mass of bloom, accentuating that perennial miracle that it truly a festival in itself.

Britain's pride in tradition and craft may well be an inspiration to this country of ours. . . Especially in the beautification of home surroundings, Canadians should find impetus in this example of the Mother Country, which, beset by economic restrictions and austerities, is sparing no effort to captivate the spring and glorify God's gifts of nature.

CANADA can support 50 million people well — if Holland, the size of Vancouver Island, can hold 10 million, if Sweden, half the size of British Columbia can support seven million, if Great Britain, not much larger than Southern Ontario, can provide homes for 50 million, and if the United States, with a population of 7½ million in 1810, could add over half a million on the average of every year for 50 years.

"Lovely Ladies" With All-Feminine Cast

The St. Simeon's W.A. embarked on a new avocation last Saturday evening, when they entered the field of dramatics and made a hit on their initial venture. The cast was directed by Edna Dawson, who did a fine job, and all the characters in this non-male three-act play gave a splendid performance, presented in the St. Simeon's hall.

Though there were no men in the play, all the various worries of the harassed females could be traced to the opposite sex. The bride lost her groom . . and another lost her bonds, belonging to her gangster mate. The maid was to marry a man she had never seen, but lived long enough to be able to change her mind . . while another with a job, found her boy-friend was two-timing. The actress, the newswoman, the Swedish maid, in fact all the cast were good.

It is likely that this play will be sponsored shortly in nearby towns, and it could well be repeated in Lachute, though one of the larger stage settings would add considerably to its successful presentation.

The Statute of Westminster, passed in 1931, stated that the United Kingdom and the Dominions were "autonomous communities within the British Empire, equal in status".

Nature Lore Hikes

(Copyright)

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"The young corn is green, brother,
where the rabbits run,
It's blue sky, and white clouds,
and warm rain and sun
It's song to a man's soul, brother, fire to a man's brain,
To hear the wild bees and see the merry Spring again."

— John Masefield

Many poets have sung about the glory of the out of doors, and there is a touch of the poet about every Nature lover who delights to go hiking in the country in any season of the year. Boys and girls like to go exploring. It is excellent for their bodies to spend time in the fresh air and sunshine, and it is good for their powers of observation to look with a keen glance along the trails and woods. One of the best gifts a parent can pass on to a child is a Nature Lore hobby which finds an outlet in hikes with a purpose.

The way to learn about the out-of-doors is not through books, or magazines, or papers, but by direct attention. A parent who wants his child to live with Nature and appreciate her wonders, must be willing to take time to go on expitions into the countryside with him. If these hikes are linked with a specific goal they are much more fun. Here are some suggestions of things to do during or after a walk in the spring, some of which will be suitable for you to carry out.

Watch for the return and departure of the birds on their migration flights. Make your own calendar marking the name of the bird, a brief description of it, where it was seen, what it was doing and the date on which you observed it. Look up some facts about the birds who come back to your vicinity.

Make an exploration trip along the banks of a stream. Watch the action of the water in washing away the soil. Look for snails, fish, insects, tadpoles and frogs and toads. Bring home some frog's eggs in a large jar of water and watch them develop.

When the wild flowers are beginning to bloom make a trip to see them. Notice that most of them come out in blossom and foliage before the trees are in full leaf. Why is this? Enjoy the wild flowers without picking any but the very common ones — and even then remember that a small bouquet tastefully arranged is more artistic than a large number of flowers crammed into a vase. Be sure you do not pluck Jack-in-the-Pulpit, Trillium, Columbine, Lady's Slipper or Marsh Marigold, and never, never tear up Maidenhair Fern. All these are becoming almost extinct in large areas because greedy people have despoiled the woods.

Prepare a sturdy shoe box, with holes for ventilation and a glass on the top for a "cocoon box". Place a cocoon on its twig (if you are fortunate enough to find one). Watch carefully for a moth or butterfly emerging from a cocoon in the late spring. This is one of nature's miracles.

Make an animated tree map, marking all the different kinds of trees which you can identify along the way. If you live on a farm or own a cottage, making a nature trail can be a grand vacation project. Plan to put up permanent markers on each tree and on each marker write the common name of the tree, the scientific name, and one brief interesting fact about it.

Other absorbing things to do when on a hike will likely occur to you or your boy or girl. There is one marvellous thing about the study of nature — no one can ever feel they have learned all there is to know, or enjoyed all there is to enjoy in the out-of-doors.

Dr. Arthur Thompson, the great scientist, once said the beginning of all knowledge was wonder, and wonder was akin to worship. Elizabeth Barrett Browning wrote:

"Earth's crammed with Heaven, and every common bush afire with God. But only he who sees takes off his shoes."

Sports Announcer

Saturday is the big day for sports fans — which makes it the big day for Jack (Shorty) McCabe, too. Again this summer, he'll handle network coverage of many major sporting events — golf championships, horse races, powerboat, sailboat and rowing regattas. On top of that, McCabe has a brand-new job — "behind the desk" of a new show called CBC Sports Page, which will be heard from 9.10 - 9.30 p.m. Saturdays on CBC Trans-Canada, starting the first Saturday after the last hockey program. Each edition will present a "big story" — a by-lined feature of the week; a "battle royal" — open discussion of a recent sports incident; a "provincial digest" of sports news; and a glance at what's happened to one of the sports greats of the past.

Modern methods of merchandising which reduce costs of distribution are the consumer's best defence against the rising cost of living.

Marshlands Produce Big Vegetable Crop

Potato Yield Notably High On Niagara Peninsula Land

Welland, Ont. (CP) — An Italian family which recognized the value of water-bogged lands in southern Ontario is reaping big dividends on the vegetable produce market today.

In 1944 the Torti family came from the productive Holland Marsh some 40 miles north of Toronto and settled on 165 acres of tangled swampland at Wainfleet, 10 miles southwest of Welland. They believed part of the 3,000-acre swamp could be farmed successfully. Clearing and breaking the land proved difficult, but finally, by 1946, the Tortis were ready to start planting. They sowed potatoes, onion and late summer vegetables.

Carl Torti says that crops have increased steadily since that first planting and even surpass early expectations. Five years ago the marsh yielded 550 to 600 bushels of potatoes an acre. Now, with only 40 acres cleared and drained, the average yield is closer to 1,000 bushels an acre.

The Tortis' run their farm with four men, except in the fall when they hire extra harvest hands. They invest in machinery to keep down labor costs. Their latest piece of equipment is a $3,000 carrot combine. This machine, with seven men, in 5½ hours last fall, dug, topped and basketed 1,900 bushels of carrots compared with the usual rate of five bushels an hour for one man working with hand tools.

Other farmers seeing the results are buying surrounding lands. The provincial government and the township became interested last fall and already have made headway in draining other parts of the swamp.

Southern Ontario is well-endowed with vegetable-producing marshlands. Farmers 50 years ago started to drain and clear a 500-acre swamp at Bethel in Humberstone Township. It was not until 30 years ago that people first realized how rich and fertile the soil actually was. Grains such as corn, wheat, oats and barley were planted at first but it was soon discovered that vegetables grew much better.

Now, radishes, carrots, turnips, beets, onions and cabbage from the marshlands are sold at premium prices. The average yield for cabbages, which weigh as much as 10 to 18 pounds each, is about 15 tons an acre a year.

Top Movie Honor Is Taken Lightly By Judy Holliday

Filmdom's Oscar-Winning Queen Has Gone Long Way in Five Years

By Cynthia Lowry

New York (AP)—Judy Holliday, filmdom's new Oscar-winning queen, is an unorthodox actress who celebrated her coronation by going off in the country to smear lye on some old oak boards.

Off-stage she is about the most un-actressy movie star ever encountered. She resembles in no way — except the brass color of her hair — the big-hearted, bird-brained Billie Dawn of "Born Yesterday", which theatre, movie and radio fans have joyously taken to their hearts.

When the Motion Picture Academy award was announced, Miss Holliday and her husband celebrated properly for a few hours, caught a little sleep and then quietly departed in their modest automobile for their 1790 farmhouse which boasts newly installed plumbing and no telephone.

"We found some beautiful pieces of old wood in the attic", she explained, "and we took off the paint with lye. Then we had to sandpaper them down and finish them off. They are going to look wonderful as panelling — when we're finished".

She glanced at her hands, where two broken fingernails and eight skinned knuckles bore evidence of her week-end occupation.

Despite a fanatic interest in remodeling the old house on their rural three acres, Miss Holliday is enormously concerned with another enterprise: a new role and a new voice. Frankly, she's a little nervous about how it will be received.

Regardless of the reception, it will close neatly an exciting five-year cycle. It was in 1946 that Judy Holliday jumped into the Billie Dawn role on three days notice and overnight became a Broadway star. A few days before she was an unemployed, seriously broke young actress finagling desperately for a chance to play the heroine — matinees only — of Elmer Rice's "Dream Girl".

Back to Broadway

Miss Holliday returns to Broadway next month in a sort of Roman Triumph — playing the heroine in a revival of "Dream Girl". The part resembles Billie Dawn in no way, which pleases her for she has a horror of being typed.

"But I'm going to get a lot of complaints and kicks about this", she explained in a modulated, pleasantly low voice and with impeccable diction. "For some strange reason people get upset at the suggestion that I'm not really Billie, but an actress playing a role."

There seems indeed to be two Hollidays, and currently Judy is taxed to keep demands on actress Holliday from lousing up the existence she enjoys as Mrs. David Oppenheim.

Although she became a star overnight, Judy served a long, tough apprenticeship. Her real start came when she joined three other young actors as a barnstorming troupe.

She is under contract to make one film a year now — she doesn't like being away from her husband and New York. She was a howling success as sparring partner for Tallulah Bankhead on a big radio show — in her Billie Dawn voice. She's set for a return to Broadway. She's still a stranger to television, but for only one reason: "I've got to get my weight down first", she said in tones of utter despair.

Because railway freight rates on wheat have remained unchanged since 1922, over-all freight rates have risen only 30 per cent in Canada since the start of the war.

Local Democracy Gets A Work-Out

Democracy, American style, gets a good workout, once a month or oftener, when the Village Board of Goshen, ancient seat of Orange County, N.Y., holds a special or stated meeting — both open to the public. Citizens of both genders pop in, pop off, and pop out, angry or mollified, but satisfied on one point: The right of free speech has been exercised untrammelled by any rule of syntax of parliamentary procedure.

Any subject within the extensible limits of public interest or good taste is open for discussion at Goshen Village Board meetings. When they gather, Board members know there is a certain amount of public business to transact, but when the Mayor looks around to size up the gallery, and asks, "Any new business?" they don't know what will come next.

Sometimes what follows is mild and pleasant, as when the lady managers of the library reported that Roland Harriman, eminent patron of harness racing, had suggested the founding of a Hall of Fame to celebrate Goshen as "The Cradle of the Trotter". Sometimes it is amusing, as when a lady asked the Board to reprove another lady, next door, whose dog had bad garden manners, or when a group of television-set owners asked to have an interfering "ham" radio operator declared a public nuisance. But there are occasions on which shirt-sleeved indignation boots fancy-pants decorum out the window.

"Spirited Exchanges"

"That's a hell of a way to treat a hero!" roared Phil Pines, an exasperated Erie track supervisor, when the Board recently expressed a doubt of its power to piece out or supplement the slender pension of a disabled cop. It sounded as if Pines were addressing negligent section hands. The policeman, John Golemboski, had suffered a cerebral stroke some time after he had fought, hand to hand, with a robber cornered in a village hotel, and was retired on $33 a month.

"Peanuts!" shouted Pines in disgust. "It won't pay the rent of a roof over his head!"

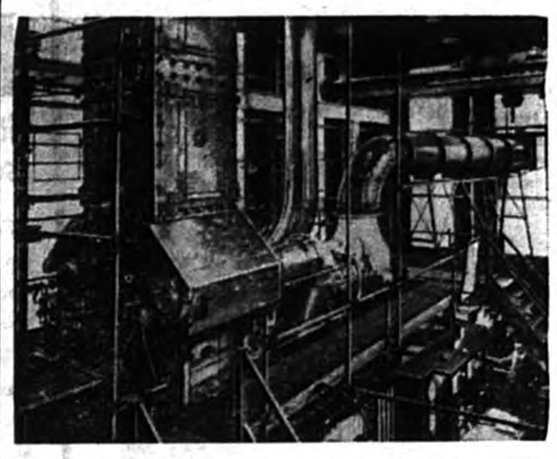

"Damn" is another expletive perhaps not infrequent, but still not in uncommon use. Board members generally manage to maintain their dignity, and especially when women are present, some restraint is practised by vehement advocates of this or that. Yet four-letter words do slip out in the course of what the Independent-Republican weekly calls "spirited exchanges" — and the women never seem to mind.

There was a woman in the audience during the Board's January meeting, when an ordinance was discussed to prohibit car parking in the path of snowploughs clearing streets after winter storms, and she heard a lot of four-letter words. The Independent-Republican reported the session as the most tempestuous of the year. The ordinance was enacted, and immediately dissidents who wanted the village kept "as comfortable as an old pair of bedroom slippers" announced organization of a Taxpayer League to make the village election this month something of a trial for trustees who want another term.

Orange is one of the original New York counties, and Goshen is one of the original (though not the first) Orange settlements. The village was built around a church, the Presbyterian, which three years ago observed its 225th anniversary. Many of its structures, including dwellings, were built a century or more ago. The building where the Board meets is the Town Hall, which originated as the Farmers' Academy, embodying a smaller school where Noah Webster taught before the Revolution, and where he is said to have prepared the first drafts of the Blue-Back Speller.

Gas Turbine for British Tanker

A revolutionary development in marine propulsion came into the news recently when the "Auris" gas turbine was given its first public showing. The outcome of four years' development by a British engineering firm, this engine will be the first full-scale gas turbine in the world to be applied to ocean-going shipping when it is installed in the Auris, an 8,221-ton British tanker. Among major advantages of the marine gas turbine are its ability to run on heavy, economical fuel, its easy maintenance, moderate weight and virtual absence of vibration.

Clean Up — Paint Up — Fix Up

Some people probably think of a clean-up movement as something that results in a more beautiful and attractive community. It does have that effect, and a fine thing it is, too. A clean and good looking city does for its citizens what a new hat does for a woman, or a new suit for a man. It is better because it looks better.

The values of a thorough round of cleaning, painting and fixing, however, have far more than surface application. The scope and manner of the annual drive contribute tremendously to the establishment and maintenance of good health and comfort. Cleanliness makes for the eradication of mosquitoes, rats and all sorts of pests and menaces that thrive on rubbish and untidiness.

Certainly, energy and efficiency in cleaning up make a big contribution to our ability to prevent fires, and Canada has a splendid record in fire prevention efforts; thus the clean-up fits right into that scheme of things. It will take a lot of doing to improve on what has been done before, but that has been true every year for a long time. We hope every man, woman and child will determine now to play a part in one of the most useful undertakings of the civic year.

Credo of A Canadian

I believe in Canada, with pride in her past, belief in her present and faith in her future.

I believe in the quality of Canadian life, and in the character of Canadian institutions.

I believe in the Commonwealth of Nations within whose bounds we have found freedom, and outside which our national life would lose its independent being.

I believe in our abiding friendship with our nearest neighbors; an honest friendship without either the subservience or the mimicry which must impair true partnership.

I believe that Canada is one, and that if our minds dwell on those things which its parts have in common, we can find the unity of the whole.

I believe that with sound work, the spirit of a team, and an awareness of ourselves, we can look forward to achievement beyond our imagining.

— Vincent Massey in "On Being Canadian" (Published by Dent & Sons).

Per Capita Comparison

"Canadians have a bad habit of estimating their accomplishments in American values. If they habitually made comparisons on a per capita basis, a lot of inferiority would vanish."

$2,000 Paid to 'Providence' For Blue Cross Patients

BENEFITS TO ARGENTEUIL SUBSCRIBERS IN 1950

At the 9th annual meeting of the Quebec Hospital Service Association, which operates the Blue Cross Plan in this province, it was revealed that 600,000 Quebec residents are now subscribing to the Blue Cross hospital plan, and that 80% of that number also subscribe to the surgical plan.

During 1950, a number of Argenteuil County residents were admitted to the Providence Hospital, Lachute, and Blue Cross paid $2,000 on their behalf. Blue Cross has now paid well over $21,000,000 since 1942 for care given Quebec residents. 85 Hospitals located in Quebec are now affiliated with Blue Cross, and 1913 Quebec doctors are participating in the Plan.

Although hospital and medical costs have steadily increased since 1942, when Blue Cross was first established, Blue Cross has weathered every increase, has decreased its rate of operation to a low of 9.1%, and has maintained its financial reserves at a sound level. Reserves now stand at $1,431,000.

The Blue Cross Plan now has nine years' experience, and this will prove of great benefit to the public in the years to come. Hospital and medical protection is undoubtedly the form of insurance or protection which has the largest utilization. During 1950, it was established that 127 out of every 1,000 Blue Cross members were admitted to hospital.

Humanity Fights for Food

Slow starvation stares into the gaunt faces of tens of millions as it stalks grimly through the earth.

Reports gathered world wide in the past few years inform us that one-fourth of the world is starving. Today, millions are dying for lack of food. Indications seem to point to the fact that tomorrow may be even worse. This is truly serious, because human life is at stake. Bible prophecy, however, foretold a more serious famine in these words: "A famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD". Amos 8: 11

The Watchtower magazine recognizes this serious shortage of spiritual nourishment in the world today, and so it taps the great storehouse of Scriptural truths to nourish, strengthen and sustain those who desire to be fed. By means of Bible truths published in its columns, there is no lack or shortage of food here. Its pages are filled with bountiful provisions — bread that satisfies and gives life to the eater. It feeds the mind and heart of the truth seeker with spiritual food. A veritable "feast of fat things"! Why not partake of this abundance and avoid the spiritual famine stalking the land? Let The Watchtower magazine aid you to be filled and satisfied.

Married Recently at B'burg United Church

Jackson - Hyde

A pretty wedding took place in the Brownsburg United Church, Friday afternoon, April 6, at 3 o'clock when Greta Marion, second daughter of George Hyde, of Mille Isles, and of the late Mrs. Hyde, was united in marriage to George Perley Jackson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson, of Brownsburg. The Rev. S. J. Pike officiated.

Miss Mona Hyde, as bridesmaid, was her sister's only attendant and Mr. Albert Turney was groomsman. Mr. Denis Boyd, step-brother of the bride, and Mr. Basil Jackson, brother of the groom, were ushers. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Harry Ball and during the signing of the register she played, "Oh Promise Me".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor-length dress, the bodice being made of Russian lace with a triple net nylon skirt. The sleeves came to points over the hands. Her veil of nylon net reached the hem of her skirt and was fastened with a coronet of pearls. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in pale blue sheer with a yoke of seed pearls and a blue poke bonnet. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Mrs. Hyde, step-mother of the bride, wore a blue taffeta dress with matching accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Jackson, mother of the groom, wore a navy blue crepe dress with matching accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

For travelling, the bride wore a pale blue gabardine suit with white and navy accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

A supper was held in McArthur's Hall, Lachute, where the immediate family attended, and the reception was also held in McArthur's Hall, many friends gathering to wish the newlyweds much happiness. The couple later left to spend a few days in Niagara Falls, and upon their return took up residence in Mount Maple.

Out of town guests were Miss Mary Jackson, Miss Neomi Ivall, and Mr. Robert Ivall, of Christieville.

Field Commissioner Visits Boy Scout Troop

The 1st Lachute Troop Boy Scouts were honored last Friday by a visit from J. L. MacGregor, Provincial Field Commissioner, from Montreal.

Mr. MacGregor inspected the troop and expressed satisfaction with the boys' neat appearance and general turnout.

After inspection he tested the boys in a game of observation, which is part of the Boy Scouts' training program. Later the Commissioner watched the boys carry out their weekly program.

At the close of the evening Jack Ogilvie and John Assad were presented with their Assistant Scoutmasters' hat badges. While presenting these, the Commissioner welcomed the recipients into Scouting as leaders.

After the lowering of the flag, Mr. MacGregor spoke to the boys about "being Scouts at all times" and urged them to aid in all community activities.

Mr. MacGregor also held a general discussion with the local Boy Scout Group Committee on future and past activities.

Ministerial Association

The Argenteuil Protestant Ministerial Association met in the United Church hall on Monday.

The Rev. C. R. Lang gave the devotional address, taking as his subject the Ascension of our Lord, based on the account given by St. Luke. The event had a meaning both to Christ and his followers. It was the beginning of the ministry of intercession and enabled the Holy Spirit to give power to the Church. Our Lord was King, Prophet and Priest, and is still today in the world as such.

A report was given on the Temperance Rally, held recently, and emphasis given to the approaching campaign for $25,000 in the Province of Quebec.

Final plans were made for the joint meeting at Hawkesbury on May 28. Arrangements were also undertaken for the observance of Christian Family Day on May 13.

Facts About Jams And Their Uses

If you are one of those industrious, far-sighted homemakers who still have quite a few full jars on your shelves — the time has arrived to take stock of what you have on hand. In other words, you can start your spring cleaning among the jam jars.

Those jams which are specially popular with your family have probably already disappeared, but you may find a jar or two of such jams tucked away on a high shelf to put on the breakfast table some fine morning when one of the family has a birthday, or a favorite cousin, aunt or uncle is paying you a visit. The smart thing to do is to alternate the few kinds of jams you have left, so that you won't be carrying any of the less popular ones over into next season, and for greater variety, you may want to buy some jams and honey to use along with your home-made ones.

There are three "kinds", and many varieties, of jam sold in our shops. The Consumer Section at Ottawa tells that jams are made according to definite standards, or, as we might call them, commercial or large-quantity recipes accurately followed. First, there is "Pure Jam" made from fruit and sugar only, except that, in the case of a fruit naturally low in either acid or pectin, a small amount of either, or both, may be added to make up the deficiency. Then there is "Jam with Added Pectin", while the third kind of jam is a combination of apple or rhubarb and another fruit., apple and plum, for example. A pure jam has about one and one-half times as much fruit in it as a jam with added pectin, and about four times as much of the more expensive fruit as a jam containing apple or rhubarb.

You'll notice that the kind of jam, in both senses of the word, is always shown on the label. It gives the name of the jam according to the fruit used and also you'll see the words "pure jam" or "jam with added pectin" or "apple or rhubarb" and, naming the other fruit jam. Then there is the net weight of the jam or the amount in fluid ounces. Incidentally, jams may be sold in only five sizes of containers, ranging all the way from a six fluid ounce jar (half a pound of jam) to a 48 fluid ounce container which holds four pounds of jam.

The Consumer Section reminds us that jams have other uses besides being a spread for the breakfast toast. They recommend that you try these tested Jam Squares or Jam Cake the next time you want to bake something a little out of the ordinary.

Jam Squares

½ Cup sugar, 1¼ cups sifted pastry flour (or 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted all-purpose flour), 1 teaspoon baking powder, ⅛ teaspoon salt, grated rind of 1 lemon, ⅓ cup shortening, 1 egg, ½ cup strawberry jam.

Mix and sift together sugar, flour, baking powder and salt. Add grated lemon rind. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles fine oatmeal. Add well beaten egg, blending thoroughly. Press ⅔ of the mixture into a greased 7" x 7" cake pan, dot with the jam. Drop the remaining ⅓ of the dry mixture by spoonsfuls on the jam. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°F., until lightly browned, 40 to 45 minutes. These are best when eaten fresh. Yield: 1 pan of squares 7" x 7".

Jam Cake

¾ Cup shortening (preferably part butter), 1 cup brown sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup jam, 3½ cups sifted pastry flour (or 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour), 1 teaspoon baking soda, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup sour milk.

Cream shortening until fluffy, add sugar and cream well together. Add well-beaten eggs and jam and beat thoroughly until light and creamy. Mix and sift together the flour, baking soda, baking powder, salt, nutmeg and cinnamon and add alternately with the milk to the creamed mixture, blending thoroughly. Bake in a large greased 10" x 10" cake pan in a moderate oven, 350°F., until done, about 1 hour. Yield: 1 cake 10" x 10".

Plans for Annual Q.W.I. Convention

Plans for the annual provincial convention of the Quebec Women's Institutes, June 26-28, at Macdonald College, were discussed at a recent meeting of the executive of that organization. It is expected Mrs. Raymond Sayre, of Ackworth, Ill., president of the Associated Country Women of the World, will be the guest speaker at the opening session, Tuesday evening, June 26. Mrs. Sayre is at present on an extended trip to New Zealand and Australia, visiting Women's Institute groups, and will be the guest of the Australian Government while in that country, where she is spending a week in each of the six States. She will attend executive meetings of the A.C.W.W., held in London early in June, and hopes to reach Canada in time to be present at some of the sessions of the Q.W.I. convention.

Two new societies have been added recently to the international organization, the Netherlands Association of Housewives and the Associated Women of New Jersey Farm Bureaus, bringing the total to 107. Countrywomen are being well represented at U.N. conferences this year. The A.C.W.W. has a consultant at Lake Success, representatives will be going to two UNESCO conferences in Paris in June and Miss Amy Kane, past president of New Zealand W.I., will attend the Indonesian Regional Conference of the U.N. Department of Public Information.

GOOD SITE

Swift Current, Sask. (CP)—Plans to create a park at Duncairn dam, where wives and families can enjoy picnics while the men go fishing, are being made here. Plans for the park 25 miles southwest of here include a children's playground, shade trees and a wading pool.

Month's Meetings Of W.I. Branches

Lachute W.I. had an attendance of 27 at the monthly meeting for April—at which Mrs. C. W. Baugh, county president, was also in attendance. The guest speaker was Denise Bell, R.N., Doctor of Chiropractic, who described various methods of healing used in different countries of the world, and concluded by saying that the greatest healer for body and mind is "the desire to have health". Lachute Branch is anxious to establish a Loan Fund for the purpose of assisting girls desirous of entering the nursing profession and to aid young students in furthering their education.

Morin Heights had 17 members present for "Home Economics" night. There was a talk and discussion of Fair Work. The roll-call was "Name a dish for Sunday, prepared on Saturday". The sum of $10 was voted to the Legion for a public rink. Prize for a home-made candy contest was won by Mrs. C. Cameron.

Upper Lachute - East End reports at attendance of 21. Mr. A. Paulsen, of Lachute, gave a talk on planting trees, and answered questions on the growing of berries and pruning apple trees. A quilt was pieced and quilted by a member.

Arundel had 22 members in attendance. A business meeting was held and the program for 1951 was planned. Arrangements were made for a pageant to be held in May depicting several "New Canadian" citizens in national costumes of their homelands. This program will be under supervision of the Citizenship convener.

Brownsburg had 36 present. A pageant was presented by the members, entitled "The Dominion from Sea to Sea", under convenership of Mrs. Geo. Helmer. Mr. L. Lachappelle was guest speaker, his topic being Vancouver and the Okanagan Valley. A quilt is being made for the Red Cross. Flowers and fruit were sent to sick members.

Frontier branch had 23 members present for their "Publicity" meeting, which featured a panel discussion. The roll-call was answered by a joke. Mrs. Eric Stephens sang a vocal selection. A plant and fruit were sent to sick members, 40 picture scrapbooks were sent to the Junior Red Cross, also a box of used postage stamps.

Canadian banks now hold $4,700,000 in unclaimed bank balances awaiting proof of ownership.

DAIRY PRODUCTS MAKE Your FOOD DOLLARS GO FARTHER

Every housewife these days is fighting the "battle of the home budget". She is quite aware that food costs have soared, and was not surprised when the Cost of Living Index at March 1st. last showed food at 244.4 compared with 100 for the base period of 1935-39.

The Dairy Farmers of Canada, faced with rising costs like everyone else, are pleased to draw attention to the fact that Dairy Products in the same index stood at 200.1 while other foods in the index were 247.5.

The price of Dairy Products is not at all out of line with other items in the Cost of Living Index, nor with wages in industry. While milk, butter and cheese stand at 200.1, clothing stands at 196.6 and home furnishings at 199.3. Wages based on hourly rates of pay in Canada stood at 226.8 as of Dec. 1, 1950, according to Department of Labour Statistics.

By using more of Nature's Fine Foods—Dairy Foods—the housewife can serve wholesome, nutritious meals and make her food dollar go farther.

Inter-Church Bowling At Lachute United

Carpet bowling leagues of the Anglican, Presbyterian and United Churches engaged in a series of contests Monday evening in the United Church hall. Two teams from each league entered for the Cup play-off, with total scores to count.

St. Simeon's, captained by Geo. Leggett, were matched against United (L. W. Hammond, skip). The former team had a commanding lead of 10-4 at the 8th end, but their opponents were able to gain 6 points in a row to tie the score 10-10.

Wyman Strong of St. Simeon's played against Jean Underhill's Presbyterians, and though the ends were closely contested, the former team won 10-5.

The third game between United Church and Presbyterians, with Grace Rosser and Archie Cowan, skipping, respectively, was a close fight. At the 10th end, the score was 7-7, with the Presbyterians making a great come-back. The last two ends gave the United team 7 additional points, concluding at 14-7.

Merlin Evans, president of the United society, extended a welcome to the visitors, and the ladies of that league served refreshments. Geo. Leggett expressed thanks on behalf of the visitors. The trophy was presented to Miss Grace Rosser, who accepted the award on behalf of the two United teams.

Total scores for the contestants were: United 24, Anglican 20, Presbyterian 12.

Co-operation Achieves Success in School Music Festival

Adjudicators' Comment is Helpful and Encouraging

1,200 Children from School Area Participate, Venture Proves Highly Constructive Throughout

Last Friday and Saturday, Lachute High School was host to over 1,200 pupils from schools in the Central Unit who took part in the second annual Music Festival, as well as to students who came from such distant points as Rawdon and Shawbridge Boys' Farm. In the large and interested audience there were many townspeople, parents and teachers from outside the Unit. Both the adjudicators expressed satisfaction with the effort shown by all participants.

The adjudicator for the instrumental section, Mr. Harry Norris, spoke to each group, pointing out ways in which general improvement could be attained. He stressed that he intended his criticism to be always constructive, and hoped that both pupils and teachers would benefit from his remarks.

At the close Mr. Norris (who was present at last year's Festival) said that he had found a great improvement this year. The children were showing more interest, he said, and the Festival itself was a fine effort which was having its effect on their general outlook regarding music. He said he would like to see any type of ensemble encouraged, as these call for group rather than individual effort. The solemn faces of the children, he felt, were not in keeping with music; the children should learn to ignore their surroundings, throw themselves wholeheartedly into their music, and in this way they would gain greater pleasure from it.

On Friday afternoon, after the vocal solos and duets were completed, Dr. D. M. Herbert, adjudicator for the vocal section, remarked that much could be done to improve the singing with more effective breath control, variation in expression, and open mouth for better tone. The participants were urged to smile at the audience — to remember that the audience is sympathetic to their offerings. He brought the various classes together, to demonstrate how to sing joyfully, and how to sound sad and unhappy. He urged that boys be given songs within their vocal range and within their experience for interpretation. He illustrated the part proper phrasing plays in songs.

The groups who sang duets were praised for good blending of voices, and were urged to sing in public as often as possible, in order to develop poise and stage presence.

Many of the same remarks applied to Saturday's grade and school choirs. In addition, he suggested that the notes be "attacked cleanly" rather than slurred, that the musical terms given as aids to a song be interpreted correctly, that the choirs keep a steady rhythm, that the conductor be in control of the choir at all times, and to use the time signature set for the piece as the rhythm of the song. Several of the groups in the afternoon session were very highly commended.

To the splendid help given by both adjudicators, the children and

Election Monday in Chatham -- and Probably in B'burg

Nominations were held Wednesday for three council seats and the mayoralty of Chatham Municipality. There are eight candidates for the three council vacancies, and two for mayor.

Secretary-treasurer Harold Derouin reports the following contestants for the election, to be held Monday next, May 14:

For Seat No. 1 — J. F. Whissell, Philippe Malette, Aurel Pharand, W. H. Robert.

For Seat No. 2 — Albert Lemay, Albert Tessier.

For Seat No. 3 — John F. Black, Keith Lowe.

For Mayor — W. E. Hammond, Douglas G. Simon.

The councillors terminating their mandate of office are Aurel Pharand, Adelard Laurin and Alvin Heatlie. J. F. Whissell is the retiring mayor.

Antonio Denault, retiring councillor, and Hector Parizeau, a former Mayor of Brownsburg, are candidates for the mayoralty in that village, following nominations held yesterday.

There were also four nominations for three council vacancies — Vincent Charbonneau, Jack Golphin, Lorne Ball and Aldege Carriere.

Unless there are withdrawals in each case, election contests will be held next Monday.

The vacancies have occurred on termination of James Donaldson's office as Mayor, and the aldermanic terms of Councillors Wilson, Lafleur and Denault.

2 Lives Sacrificed in Traffic Crash, First Major Mishap of 'Open' Season

Swift tragedy removed two brothers from a party of young men, mostly Brownsburgers, driving from Lachute to St. Hermas on Sunday afternoon. Three miles east of town, on the curve at a one-time schoolhouse on the Montreal highway, a passenger car overtook a light delivery truck. The two vehicles came into contact and swung off the curve; the truck mowed down a telephone pole and buckled around a big elm tree, while the car veered through a wire fence and proceeded 480 feet into a field before coming to a standstill.

The dead are Willie Giroux, 31, of Montreal, driver of the truck, and his brother, Noel, 18, of Brownsburg, who was seated at the right-hand side of the cab.

Real Joly, 21, a C-I-L employee at Brownsburg, was seated between the two victims. Badly cut about the face, he was treated at the Providence Hospital until Tuesday evening, when he was permitted to return to his home.

Willie Giroux, who leaves a wife and three young children, died around 6 p.m. Sunday, 1½ hours after the mishap, at the Providence Hospital. The younger brother, unmarried, also died soon after admittance to the hospital. All victims were treated by Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, who was called to the scene of the crash.

The occupants of the passenger car — who were apparently members of the same party — escaped lightly; the driver, Euclide Desforges, 38, sustained a cut forehead, and his passenger, Gaetan Huneault, was uninjured. Huneault was on leave from military service at the time.

Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur released the bodies of the two victims for burial, pending inquest to be held May 15. The double funeral, attended by a large gathering of friends, was held Wednesday morning from the St. Louis de France parish church at Brownsburg.

Officer Albert Legault made the traffic investigation, while Det. Anatole Roch, from the provincial homicide squad, made inquiry into all circumstances surrounding the tragedy.

25th Anniversary Notable Celebration For B'burg W. Inst.

Brownsburg — The Brownsburg Women's Institute celebrated their 25th anniversary with a banquet in the United Church hall last Friday.

The tables were decorated with sweet peas, daffodils and iris, and in the hall were touches of blue and gold, the W.I. colors, with the Institute banners on the platform.

Guests at the head table with the president (Mrs. Chas. Stephens) were — Mrs. A. G. Leggett, honorary county president; Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, county president; Mrs. John Boyd; the Rev. S. J. Pike; the Rev. N. H. Brock; Mr. Leonard Wilson, pro-Mayor; Mr. Philippe Valois, M.P., and Mrs. Valois; Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., and Mrs. Cottingham; and Miss Ruth Low, the guest speaker. . . The table was centred with a three-tiered fruit cake made by the vice-president, Mrs. Charles Vary, iced and decorated with silver leaves.

Minutes of the first meeting of the Brownsburg W.I. branch were read by Mrs. R. Kennedy, who was secretary-treasurer at that time, and highlights of the early W.I. activities were given by the secretary, Mrs. T. Zimmer.

Toasts were voiced to the life members by Mrs. Vary, and replied to by Mrs. Enlow. Mr. King Amos read a letter of good wishes from Mr. J. S. Giles, who was absent, and Mrs. Baugh, the county president, congratulated the Institute on attaining its 25th anniversary. Mrs. Peter McQuaig, Mrs. C. H. Jackson and Mrs. John Boyd, of Montreal, were guests. Mrs. J. F. Seary read the Memorial Roll and repeated Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar", a brief silence then being observed.

Greetings were read by the secretary, from the Lachute Women's Institute and from a W.I. branch in England. Miss Ruth Low, of Montreal, was the special speaker.

The ladies of the United Church catered successfully for this banquet. A pleasant social evening was enjoyed in conclusion of the happy event.

Farmers and the 1951 Census Schedules

Keep Questionnaire Forms Until Enumerator Calls

In common with the rest of the 730,000 farmers of Canada, farmers of this district have received through the mails copies of the agricultural questionnaire that is being used in the 1951 Census of Canada. If there are any whom it has not reached, they may obtain a copy at their nearest post office.

The farm schedule was sent out by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in advance to enable farmers to prepare their answers to the questions at their convenience and thus save time when the census enumerator calls some time in June. An accompanying letter asked the farmers to complete the schedule so far as they could and have it on hand in readiness for the enumerator. They were particularly requested not to mail it to the Bureau of Statistics.

In spite of this request, several thousand farmers have completed their schedules and sent them to Ottawa. In consequence, the Bureau has sent out a special request to all the weekly newspapers of Canada asking them to remind their farm readers to keep the schedule until the census taker arrives to complete the details and to pick it up. Forms that are mailed to Ottawa will just be mailed back to the sender, since they require completion on the spot by the enumerator to ensure complete census coverage.

Many Fans See Baseball Opener At Local Stadium

With the closing of the membership campaign for L'Association de la Jeunesse Sportive on April 30, the organizers expressed themselves highly gratified with the result—450 season-ticket members having subscribed $15 each to ensure a good financial backing for the season's baseball. It is considered encouraging to have the public support and interest behind this sport; and Lachute being linked with the Laurentian Senior Baseball League on a soundly organized basis, a full and highly competitive schedule promises ample interest for the public.

Lachute's initial engagement in the Northern Division schedule of this league took place last Thursday at St. Jerome. The official opener at Lachute Stadium, however, was witnessed by a large crowd here on Sunday.

The schedule of games for Lachute during May and June is published on page 7, together with the closing list to complete the summary of member-subscribers.

Nylon Termed "Aid to Easier Living", C-I-L Speaker at Lions Club Session

Within the fourth meeting before conclusion of the current club year, competition is running keen among the Lions Club attendance teams—Stanley Church's aggregation having edged Jean-Bruno Menard's squad from first place at last week's meeting.

This was an interesting session, with the medicos to the fore—since Dr. F. W. FitzGerald was "Lion of the Day". A number of local physicians were guests, and President Horace Lamarche called Lion Ralph FitzGerald (the in-coming president) to the chair while his brother received the tribute of his fellow members.

Lion Phil Roy presented the Doctor's biography, saluting him as an active community worker and a staunch Lion, with a creditable record of service in the club presidency and on numerous committees. It was of interest to learn that in his profession Dr. FitzGerald is licensed to practice in all countries of the British Commonwealth and 24 of the 48 American States. He has ministered at the birth of 3,600 infants, and has performed 1,200 tonsillectomies without mishap.

Highlight of this meeting was a film presentation and talk on Nylon, given by Mary Roddick,

Mary Roddick, merchandising consultant for Nylon Division of the C-I-L, guest speaker at the Lachute Lions Club meeting.

B'burg Councillors Patiently Serve; Same Old Problems in New Dress

Brownsburg — There are some subjects which crop up with unfailing regularity, like flowers and floods in spring, or storms and snows in winter, to be discussed at the council meetings. Over the years we have reported on waterworks, sidewalks, parking, early closing and snow removal; like the fleas in the old jingle, they seem to go on "ad infinitum". The saving feature of this monotony is that there is always something new in the manner of their presentation — a new dress each time, a different locale or different personalities. This week the subjects were again —waterworks, sidewalks and parking.

It was the penultimate meeting of the present council, but its business was conducted with no less zeal than its predecessors. After the preliminaries, the secretary, Emile Hebert, reported that the late constable, Mr. Fletcher, had returned all the equipment in his possession to the police department.

Chief Choquette read his report of activities for the past month, which was of a routine nature.

Leo Paquette came before the meeting with a complaint regarding a creek eroding his property. This water was diverted into his property from its original bed, and had been the subject of repeated discussions at previous council meetings. After some further discussion, Mr. Paquette said he would not put up with it any longer. He was fed up coming to meetings asking to have the matter rectified, and he expected the councillors were fed up listening to the same old story from him.

Mayor Jas. Donaldson remarked: "We are going to finish it now, as we much prefer compliments to complaints" — and it was decided to try and pipe the water into another water discharge.

Parking

Police Chief Choquette asked for direction regarding parking at the Catholic Church on Sundays.

The mayor was of the opinion there should be no parking from the water-bridge to Legault's. There is a sign on the hill. It was decided to place another sign lower down; it was also decided to replace and paint several other signs and have the traffic direction signals inspected, repaired or replaced with new ones, as required.

Out of this discussion a motion proposed by Councillor Wilson was passed to have the service pumps at Brownsburg garage moved in to the side of the building, so that cars will not be on the public street during servicing. The Chief was instructed to see that no taxis were allowed to stand for hire on the public street. Any taxi parked outside the owner's premises awaiting hire, was to be subject to a fine.

The secretary reported that two strangers parking on the street while having a meal at a restaurant had a ticket put on their auto at the bequest of a taxi-man who wanted to park his own taxi there. The Chief remitted the fine when the by-law was explained to him. He was now aware that taxis have no parking privileges in Brownsburg.

Sidewalks

A letter was received from a number of residents along one side of Rosedale Avenue, requesting a sidewalk be laid. There was a long discussion on the matter of sidewalks in general, and the effect of the present contract in particular. Evidently there was nothing to stop the laying of several streets with sidewalks, no dearth of cement, no lack of aggregate, and no shortage of work to do. There was some question of the contract, which the contractor, Mr. Brisson, said was declared void by a desire to call for new tenders as expressed at last meeting. There was also a question of back-fill and grading, which the meeting was in favor of subcontracting. Unable to resolve the why's and wherefore's, it was decided to advertise in The Watchman and have tenders submitted to a special meeting called for Tuesday evening. After the contract is let, it is required that the work be proceeded with immediately.

Fire Protection

The meeting unanimously voted a resolution of appreciation to the Minister of Public Works, the Hon. Mr. Laurin, and Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., from whom a cheque for $1,660 was received completing a grant towards fire equipment—the secretary remarking they had been very generously dealt with.

Fire Chief Robbins read his report for the month — three small fires — and asked for information on a ladder and trailer. He had a quotation of $200 for a 40-ft. truss ladder, and it was decided to inspect the ladder. The trailer, which was required for fires outside the municipality, was set for consideration at next meeting when it was expected prices, etc., would be before the council.

A sum of $25 was donated to the Youth Welfare Organization.

It was reported by the waterworks committee that the chlorinator was back in operation after a number of spare parts had been fitted. . . This matter will be dealt with in next week's issue.

Fish Are Jumpin'

It's true you can't go fishing on Main Street — but at least you can see them rising to the fly, in John McFaul & Son's sporting goods window. With electric-propelled regularity, two big-mouthed bass rise all day from a placid pool, in a setting of rocks, brush and greenery. They fascinate the youngsters and attract the attention of passers-by. There is ingenuity and considerable fixin' in this window display; the idea deserves due credit.

By-Law Restrictions Are Modified

Protest on Transport Noises Effective; Sydney Street Sewer Installation Stalled

The regular May meeting of Town Council was held last Wednesday under presidency of Mayor Jas. W. McGibbon, with all members present.

It was moved and seconded that By-Law 182 (Art. 26) be amended and that permission be given for Payer's potato-chip wagon to park on the south side of Main Street alongside the Park, and that a parking reservation be painted accordingly — said permit being subject to cancellation upon decision of the Council. . . The motion was carried on division, 7 for and 2 against.

It was similarly moved and seconded that Menard's potato wagon be permitted to park on the south side of Millway and the east side of Main, subject to cancellation upon decision of the Council. . . The aldermen voted 8 for and 1 against.

It was moved by Ald. Donald G. MacRae, seconded by Ald. Ernest Provost, that tenders be called to build a concrete sidewalk on the east side of Wilson Street and south side of Millway, under the supervision of the Roads Committee; tenders to be in the secretary-treasurer's hands not later than May 15 next.

A letter was received from the Red Cross Society, Lachute branch, requesting Council to purchase a mattress, pillows and blankets for cases of urgency or sickness, such as occurred recently. . . The Chief of Police here stated that it was his intention to buy these out of proceeds of the next Police Fund campaign.

Ald. Ernest Provost, seconded by Ald. Alcidas Laurin, moved that the Chief be authorized to organize the said campaign for 1951, as in preceding years.

A letter was received from Marcoux Transport Ltd. acknowledging receipt of a communication from the secretary-treaurer, and thanking the town authorities for drawing attention to unnecessary noise caused by their drivers during the night hours. The Company stated that immediate attention had been given to the matter.

Petition was received from ratepayers of Sydney Street, protesting the proposed construction of a sewer and waterworks on the said street. A letter was also received from Chas. E. Dorris, a landlord on Sydney Street, withdrawing his signature from the first petition, which had requested Council to install sewer and waterworks.

It was moved by Ald. Omer Laurin, seconded by Ald. Wilfrid Morrissette, that both petitions and letter be left in abeyance for further study.

One tender was received to supply and maintain flowers and shrubs in the Memorial Park — A. Paulsen being awarded the contract for $185.

It was voted that the Roads Committee be authorized to make a survey of all town streets for the purpose of installing house numbers, and that the secretary-treasurer be authorized to purchase the necessary numbers.

A building permit was granted to W. M. Jackson for construction on Main Street East.

It was moved by Ald. Wilfrid Morrissette, seconded by Ald. Stanley Holt, that waterworks be installed on Cruise Boulevard, under supervision of the Water Committee.

Your Electrician

Your neighboring electrical contractor is a qualified craftsman and an independent businessman who can help you whenever you have any problem in electrical living.

The Power Company and the electrical contractor each plays a part in making it possible for you to enjoy the comfort of electricity. The job of the power company is, in effect, to deliver the electricity to your door. The job of the electrical contractor is to bring the power inside the door, and to make sure that your premises are — and remain — ready and safe to handle that power.

The electrical contractor is equipped to attend to all your wiring needs within the home, your business premises, or on the farm. He does not make the connection to the wires of the power company. In the same way, the power company is not authorized to interfere with the internal circuits of any premises.

DID YOU KNOW?

A power company is prohibited by law from delivering power to any premises until it receives a certificate of inspection and approval from the Provincial Board of Electrical Examiners.

Your electrical contractor contributes to your safety by his knowledge of what is sound and what is unsafe in electrical work — because electricity moving over inadequate or faulty circuits can become a dangerous enemy instead of a helpful friend. It is false economy indeed to attempt to do a job which should have the experience and practical knowledge of a qualified electrician.

So, when electrical work on your premises is involved, consult your electrical contractor. He can show how to get the most in efficiency, economy and safety from your electrical circuits.

To the Taxpayers of the Municipality of Chatham:

Last year a group of taxpayers got together in an endeavor to have elected to office in the Municipality, a number of men of proven honesty, integrity and ability. The full slate which this group proposed was elected but owing to lack of co-operation from some members of the Council, the full benefits of this have not yet been felt.

Once again this group is putting forward and requesting you to elect a group of candidates for every office which is up for election, including that of Mayor.

These, too, are men of proven ability and integrity who will work for the good of the Municipality as a whole and endeavor to bring the Township's affairs out of their present turmoil and chaos which must all be paid for by the Taxpayer.

Our slogan is "ELECT THE SLATE" and we earnestly request you to think about the men listed below and to elect the full list as proposed. Watch out for attempts to lead you astray by "Dark Horse" candidates who are put up to split your vote.

In considering the drastic need for changes in the Council will you remember the following points: —

1. What steps have been taken to deal with the serious shortage of funds which developed some time ago, either through the Civil Courts to recover the money, or through the Criminal Courts to punish the responsible party?
2. What information is there on the Municipality's funds that were reported missing during the past winter?
3. Was any attempt made to call for Tenders or to obtain competitive prices for the building of the Council Hall?
4. Has the Council taken any steps to appoint a General Superintendent to supervise its works and be responsible for them and for the accounts submitted?
5. Is it true that a "Bingo" was held last summer to purchase furniture for the Council Hall?

There are many other points with which you as Taxpayers are only too familiar.

We request that the new Council, when elected, give full and public information on the state of the Township's finances and on the other points about which the Taxpayers are so concerned.

We further suggest that the Secretary which it appoints should be a bilingual person able to deal with matters in both languages.

The following suggestions were contained in our letter of last year but they apply to this election as well and perhaps are even more important because it is clear that a decisive majority is essential.

Get out and vote — and we would suggest that you consider the qualifications of, and vote for:

FOR MAYOR — Douglas G. Simon, Box 63, Lachute, Que.

FOR COUNCILLORS — John Black, R.R. 1, Brownsburg; Albert Lemay, Lachute Mills (Immaculate Conception); W. H. Robert, St. Philippe.

"DO NOT FORGET, IT IS YOUR MONEY"

Don't be fooled by promises that your taxrate won't be raised — an increased assessment will increase your taxes just as effectively, and it's far harder to get rid of.

If you are — a British subject of 21 or more, owner of property valued at $50.00 ($200.00 if a non-resident) or tenant of property worth at least $20.00 per year, and entered on the valuation roll as proprietor or tenant — OR —

If you are the wife or husband, son or daughter of a proprietor entered on the valuation roll as such, a British subject of 21 or over and have lived for at least the past year in the Municipality with your husband or wife, father or mother (if a widow) —

THEN you are an elector and have a vote. USE IT.

ELECTION: May 14, 1951.

POLLING PLACES:

- 3 Booths at Immaculate Conception Parish, Chatham E.
- 2 Booths at St. Philippe.
- 1 Booth at Dalesville — Ogdensburg — Chatboro and Grece's Point.

— J. D. Weir
Chairman,
Taxpayers' Committee

P.S.: Readers kindly note change in suggested slate since issue of our circular letter. Mr. D. Leclair having declined to stand for nomination, our candidate for this seat is W. H. Robert — for whom we solicit the public support.

Aux Contribuables de la Municipalité de Chatham:

L'an dernier un groupe de contribuables s'est réuni afin de tenter de porter à l'administration de la municipalité un groupe d'hommes dont l'honnêteté, l'intégrité et la compétence étaient prouvées. Tous les candidats solidaires que ce groupe proposa furent élus, mais à cause du manque de co-opération de quelques membres du Conseil, l'on n'a pas encore ressenti les avantages de cette coalition.

Une fois de plus ce groupe présente et vous prie d'élire un groupe de candidats à chaque charge pour laquelle est tenue l'élection, y compris la charge de maire.

Ceux-là aussi sont des hommes dont la compétence et l'intégrité ont été prouvées, et qui travailleront pour le bien de la municipalité proprement dite et tenteront de libérer les affaires du canton de l'état de marasme et de chaos dans lequel elles se trouvent présentement et pour lequel les contribuables doivent encaisser les conséquences.

Notre mot d'ordre est: "ELISEZ LE GROUPE SOLIDAIRE", et nous vous prions instamment de vous arrêter à penser aux hommes dont les noms apparaissent sur la liste et de les élire tous, tel que nous le proposons. Ne vous laissez pas tromper par les "candidats de paille" dont le seul but est de diviser le vote.

Dans votre considération des changements radicaux qui s'imposent au Conseil, rappelez-vous les points suivants:

1. Qu'est-ce qui a été fait pour régler, soit en s'adressant aux cours civiles pour récupérer l'argent, soit aux cours criminelles afin de faire punir le ou les coupables, le sérieux détournement de fonds qui s'est produit il y a quelque temps?
2. Quelle information existe-t-il au sujet des fonds de la Municipalité rapportés comme manquants au cours de l'hiver dernier?
3. Y a-t-il eu tentative de faire appel à des soumissionnaires ou d'obtenir des prix concurrents pour l'érection de la salle du Conseil?
4. Le Conseil a-t-il fait des démarches pour nommer un surintendant général pour surveiller ces travaux, en assumer la responsabilité et contrôler les comptes soumis?
5. Est-il vrai qu'un "Bingo" fut tenu l'été dernier pour acheter les meubles pour la salle du Conseil?

Il y a plusieurs autres points qui sont, pour vous, contribuables, malheureusement trop bien connus.

Nous demandons que le nouveau Conseil, lorsqu'il sera élu, donne des détails entiers et publics sur l'état des finances du Canton et sur les autres sujets qui préoccupent tellement les contribuables.

Nous suggérons de plus que le Secrétaire qu'il nommera soit une personne bilingue, compétente à traiter les affaires dans les deux langues.

Les suggestions qui suivent étaient contenues dans notre lettre de l'an dernier mais elles s'appliquent également à cette élection et sont probablement plus importantes à cause du fait qu'il est démontré clairement qu'une majorité décisive est essentielle.

Ne manquez pas de voter — et nous suggérons de vous arrêter à penser à la compétence, et de voter pour: —

POUR LE MAIRE — Douglas G. Simon, Case Postale 63, Lachute.

POUR LES CONSEILLERS — John Black, R.R. 1, Brownsburg; Albert Lemay, Lachute Mills (Immaculée Conception); W. H. Robert, St. Philippe.

"C'EST VOTRE ARGENT QUI EST EN JEU"

Ne vous laissez pas tromper par la promesse que votre taux de taxe ne sera pas augmenté — une estimation augmentée entraînera tout aussi bien une augmentation des taxes, et il est plus difficile de s'en débarrasser.

Si vous êtes — Un sujet britannique de 21 ans ou plus, propriétaire de biens immobiliers d'une valeur de $50.00 ($200.00 si vous êtes un non-résident) ou locataire d'une propriété valant au moins $20.00 par année, et inscrit au rôle d'évaluation comme propriétaire ou locataire — OU —

Si vous êtes l'épouse ou l'époux, le fils ou la fille d'un propriétaire inscrit comme tel au rôle d'évaluation, un sujet britannique de 21 ans ou plus et avez vécu pendant au moins cette dernière année dans la Municipalité avec votre époux ou votre épouse, votre père ou votre mère (si elle est veuve) —

ALORS vous êtes un électeur et avez droit de voter. SERVEZ-VOUS DE CE DROIT.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

For A Beautiful Community

THERE IS something stirring about spring in Canada, a sort of fever that gets into the blood of its people, an urge to be up and doing.

All of a sudden, somehow, the sunshine takes on a vivid brightness that is lacking in winter — a brightness that shows up with startling clarity the ugliness that has accumulated during the snow-bound months.

Piles of rubbish, litter on the streets, shabby buildings, gaping fences, untidy gardens, all seem to cry out for something to be done.

Homes, too, seem to need the application of good soap and water and elbow grease.

It is well then that the urge to do inspires our people at this season, for there is much to be done.

Small towns in Canada during the past few years have improved remarkably in appearance, the result of growing community pride. But most of them have a long way to go before the term "beautiful" may be honestly applied to them.

What is a beautiful community?

One, we would say, which shows the results of care and hard work, where business places, homes, parks, streets, gardens, are maintained with pride and good taste. Where flowers and trees are tended with loving care. Where the people take so much pleasure making their community attractive that they work harmoniously together to achieve that end.

How does our community measure up?

Are there shabby, broken down old buildings? Are streets strewn with papers and rubbish? Are lanes heaped high with refuse? Are the roadsides allowed to grow rank with grass and weeds knee high? Is street lighting poor? Are business places down at the heels? Are lawns and gardens unkempt? Do homes and buildings need repair and paint?

If the answer is "yes" to even one of these questions, there is work to be done.

Beauty in our town can be achieved only by everyone working together to clean-up, paint-up, plant-up, fix-up, light-up, and mow down. Such a campaign this spring is a wonderful way to develop not only an attractive community but also a wholesome community spirit.

Let's get busy, every one of us, and make our town the most attractive small town in Canada. If we do that this spring, putting into the project our pride and hard work, in time we will be able to say that our town is truly beautiful.

And strangely enough, we will gain immeasurably from the satisfaction of achieving together what no one of us can bring about alone.

Those "Good Old Days"

HAVE YOU ever dreamed what a relief it would be to escape from today's tensions to the ancient "good old days?" . . If you have, you can stop kidding yourself. The "good old days" are a myth, not history. Things, and people, really have changed only on the surface in nearly 4,000 years.

The authority for this is Samuel Noah Kramer, a University of Pennsylvania professor whose speciality is studying the ancients, especially the Assyrians.

Kramer has just finished translating documents inscribed 1,700 years before the birth of Christ. Modern idiom apart, the documents have a surprising 20th century flavor. For example, Kramer quoted:

"You can have a Lord, you can have a King,
But the man to fear is the tax collector."

As for war, the ancients knew it well, and they considered it futile, as in this piece:

"You go and carry off the enemy's land,
The enemy comes and carries off your land."

The documents he translated were found by an archaeological expedition from the University earlier this year. The language used in the carvings was Sumarian, now extinct. The tablets were found in the ancient city of Nippur, near Baghdad.

The Assyrians learned early about women too. They wrote:

"A restless woman in the house adds ache to pain."

Learning By Experience

BACK IN 1945 the Socialists took office in Britain as the result of a long campaign of explaining to the public that profits were the real trouble with our system of society; that, if profits were reduced and wages increased, then all would be well. In fact, at the time, the Socialists did not seem to have any understanding of the value of profits to anyone except capitalists.

Now, the British Labor Party has published a little pamphlet called "This Cost of Living Business", in which there is quite a different attitude. It turns out that profits are necessary. Corporations get out of their profits the money which they need to expand and re-equip their business.

If there were no profits, then the money for this purpose would have to be found from some other source. The pamphlet does not mention it, but the only other source would be taxation.

In addition, what profits are left after this process, to be distributed to shareholders, are too small a part of the cost of any item to make much difference in prices. "Even if profits were eliminated altogether, there would still be a cost of living problem."

This is the voice of experience. Perhaps the British Socialists are still Socialist in theory, but they at least have learnt something about how the world of business functions.

Indeed, they have learnt so much that they point out that the only cure for inflation is increased production, and the only palliative even for a short time is to stop all increases in wages, salaries and profits, as well as to impose higher taxation.

Do Canadian Socialists understand all this? They continue to argue that it is profits and not wages which cause prices to be high, but the British Socialists, after six years of experience, feel differently about it.

I.Q. Test

CANADIAN readers of the New York Sunday Times must have got quite a shock at one of the "Fifteen News Questions" asked, in all seriousness, in that publication's regular feature the other day (says The Financial Post). This was: "What is Canada's capital?"

Over the years Canadians have become accustomed or reconciled to a good deal of American ignorance of Canadian geography. And now that the famous Quints are growing up, many of our good friends south of the border have even forgotten where Callander is.

But surely readers of such an outstanding paper as the New York Times should be expected to know not only the name of our capital, but also that of all the principal countries of the world. Most Canadian schoolboys would certainly be able to name them.

CANADIANS are beginning to become a stiff-necked people — from watching their cost-of-living soaring sky high.

"AT CERTAIN ages all humans are given to the habit of destruction. Right here in Deloraine (says The Deloraine Times, in Manitoba) there are young men — and, likely, young women — who have no regard at all for the property of others. There is something wrong in the education and the home training when youngsters deliberately smash windows in public buildings and shoot signs full of holes."

ONE OF the most unfortunate casualties of the federal government's campaign to restrict spending is the program of financial aid to housing. J. H. Sturdy, (Saskatchewan) minister of rehabilitation, remarks that housing in U.S.A. is being proceeded with at an accelerated rate over 1950 and he fails to understand why materials in this country are in such short supply. We cannot understand it either.

Lack of trained teachers is causing an educationai problem, 200 one-room rural schools in Canada being closed because of no teachers.

Success of Second Annual School Music Festival

At the Saturday evening concert, which was the culmination of the Festival, there were approximately 600 people in the High School auditorium.

Mr. F. H. J. Royal, principal of the school and supervisor for the County, introduced his remarks by saying that there is a very definite educational value in an event of this kind. Not only do children learn to appreciate music, but it becomes one of their most prized leisure-time activities. Young people who have such interests do not enter the ranks of juvenile delinquents. There is excellent rapport among the schools as a result of such co-ordinated participation.

Mr. Royal expressed his thanks to the Lachute Protestant School Commissioners for the use of their splendid facilities, and to the teachers of the Central School Board for their co-operation. He called them "willing workers", stating that practically every teacher in the Unit had given help in some form. He spoke in particular appreciation of the work of Mr. Shirley McKyes, who was the "king pin" in the arrangements for the Festival and who did a tremendous amount of work. Mr. Royal was appreciative also of the constructive criticism offered the teachers by the adjudicators. He gave a warm welcome to the large gathering present and thanked them for their enthusiastic interest.

Mr. William Cottingham, M.L.A., chairman of the Central Board, was pleased that of 1,500 pupils enrolled in the schools, 1,200 participated in this Festival. He spoke of the greatly improved facilities which added to the enjoyment of the occasion, mentioning the new public address system. Mr. Cottingham, too, voiced appreciation of the tireless efforts of Mr. McKyes. The adjudicators, he said, had remarked on the great improvement, and the audience could judge for themselves how well the interest in music had been stimulated. The affair was a demonstration of what was being done in every school in the county. . . Mr. Cottingham also thanked the teachers for their work, on behalf of the School Board.

Mr. McKyes stressed again the point that the Festival is non-competitive. In the competitive type of Festival, contestants are awarded marks in comparison with one another. In this type of Festival, however, the pupils are not contestants but participants, and their Honor Certificates are an award for effort. The sole aim is to encourage one another on to better achievement. In the words of the Festival theme, "It is not what a child does with music, but rather what music may do for the child".

The final program was a representative performance, in which groups and individuals from all schools within the area contributed their part.

A Festival such as this could not attain such marked success were it not for the efforts "behind-the-scenes" — of committees giving unstinted service, supported magnificently by personnel from all the schools involved. In addition, many of the residents in each community supplied transportation, acted as accompanists, or otherwise gave valuable help. The monitors deserve special commendation for their cheerful acceptance of responsibility, and the highly efficient discharge of their duties.

The Festival Committees consisted of the following:

Executive—S. E. McKyes (chairman), F. H. J. Royal, Dennis Staniforth.
Financing, Printing, Transportation—Linton Armstrong, F. H. J. Royal.
Music Selection, Program — S. E. McKyes, B. A. Millar, Philip Grant, Mrs. Donald McCabe, Dennis Staniforth.
Secretarial — Miss Blanche Stewart.
Hall Arrangements, Ushering, Marshalling — B. A. Millar, A. E. Thompson, R. J. Burton, King Amos, Mrs. Donald McCabe.
Billeting and Catering — Mrs. Norma Rogers, Miss Barbara Vrooman, Mrs. Alma Walker.
Publicity — Mrs. Donald McCabe, Mrs. R. J. Burton.
Entertainment — Keith Russell, Arthur Bond, Robert Wyse, John C. Hawes.
School Representatives — Lachute, S. E. McKyes; Grenville, Miss Elaine Meredith; Brownsburg, Philip Grant; Kilmar, Miss Mary Reid; Morin Heights, Mrs. V. Seale; Arundel, Mrs. Irene Craig; Grande Fresniere, Mrs. Pamela Johanson.

Sincere appreciation should be extended to the accompanists, Miss J. Rodrigue and Mrs. B. Clement, who so generously gave of their time and talent.

At the home of his mother in Brownsburg, James Madden, aged 36 years, youngest son of Mrs. Hugh Madden and the late Hugh Madden, entered into rest on April 30, after a lengthy illnes.

The funeral service was held at the Regular Baptist Church at Brownsburg, service being conducted by the Rev. Geo. B. Hicks, assisted by Pastor Ellis, of Calumet. A favorite hymn of the deceased "Jesus and Me" was sung by Pastor Leverne Poirier.

Interment was in the family plot at Lachute Cemetery. Pall-bearers were — Raymond Madden, Lester Gauley, Gordon Nixon, Walter Murdoch, Harvey Purdy and Ian MacDougall. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Left to mourn are his mother; two brothers, Gladwin, of Harrington, and Leonard, of Kilmar; also his sisters, Mrs. A. McCutcheon (Olive), Mrs. W. Service (Gertie), Mrs. G. Brunt (Bertha), Mrs. S. Murdoch (Alma), Mrs. J. Murdoch (Millie), and Mrs. Earl Langdon (Doris).

Lions Club Auto Is Sitting Pretty

The Lions Club car, a sparkling 1951 Ford which is first prize in the annual drawing for welfare funds, took the spotlight on Main Street yesterday — having been removed from the Deacon showroom to an elevated platform apposite the Laurentien Hotel. In this prominent position, spotlighted at night, it will remain until Fair Week. In the meantime, weekly drawings for supplementary prizes commence this Friday night at the Main Street stand.

Yvon Robert, Mat Idol, At St. Jerome on Sunday

Prime attraction on a westling card at the new St. Jerome Arena this Sunday evening will be the Yvon Robert vs. Tiny Mills (Boston) bout, promoted by Bernard Gareau and Roland Ouellette.

Yvon Robert, popular French Canadian mat titlist, dethroned and now making a spectacular comeback, is probably the most sought-after wrestler on the continent. His engagement to meet Tiny Mills, Boston bad man of wide repute, is considered a triumph for the St. Jerome opening venture.

Two preliminary bouts will be featured before the main event (advertised on page 12 of this issue). It is stated by the promoters that part of the proceeds from this show will be turned over to the St. Jerome Rotary Club for its charity funds.

Seale-Thompson Nuptials At Brownsburg Manse

A pretty wedding took place at the Brownsburg United Church manse on Saturday, April 28, at 3.30 p.m., when Verna Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thompson, of Brownsburg, was united in marriage to Thomas Wesley Seale, son of the late Russell Seale and of Mrs. Seale, of Louisa, the Rev. S. J. Pike officiating.

The groom's sister, Mrs. Owen Young, was the matron of honor, and Mr. Owen Young was the best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of navy Russian silk with eyelet trimming and navy accessories; her corsage bouquet was of red carnations. Her attendant was dressed in navy sheer, with a corsage of red carnations.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bride, wore a crepe dress of navy and lighter blue shade, and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Seale, mother of the groom, wore a figured navy silk dress and a corsage of pink carnations.

The wedding supper was served at the home of the bride, where the tables were decorated with spring flowers and lilies from Bermuda, kindly provided by Mr. H. Moseley, Sr.

The happy couple left on their wedding trip to the United States. On their return they will reside at Louisa.

Home Improvement Finance Plan THROUGH YOUR Dealer

Plan de Finance au service des PROPRIETAIRES pour l'Amelioration de leurs Maisons

ARE THERE LIMITS . . .

TO THE AMOUNT, AND TIME ALLOWED FOR REPAYMENT?

Yes. The minimum credit is $100.00 and the maximum $2,000.00. The repayment plan provides for equal monthly instalments in round figures over periods of six, twelve, eighteen or twenty-four months as you may select. You say how much you can afford to pay each month and your dealer will select a plan satisfactory to you.

WHAT IS THE CARRYING CHARGE?

OR COST OF THIS CREDIT?

One-half of one per cent per month on the total credit arranged. Thus a $300.00 credit to be repaid in 12 monthly instalments would cost $6.00 per $100.00 or $18.00 in all. There is no other charge except in the case of small credits of $250.00 or less for which an additional service charge of $1.00 is made.

Y-A-T'IL UNE LIMITE . . .

AU MONTANT A OBTENIR ET AU TEMPS ALLOUE?

Oui. Le crédit minimum est $100.00 et le maximum est $2,000.00. Vous dites combien vous pouvez verser chaque mois et votre marchand vous choisira un plan qui saura vous plaire.

QUELS SONT LES FRAIS . . .

OU COUT DE CE CREDIT?

La moitié de un pour cent par mois sur le total du crédit disposé. Ainsi un crédit de $300.00 remboursé en douze paiements mensuels coûterait $6.00 par $100.00 ou $18.00 en tout. Il n'y a pas d'autre frais excepté dans le cas de petits crédits de $250.00 ou moins pour lesquels un montant de $1.00 sera ajouté pour frais de service.

AGED MAN RISKS FLAMING DEATH TO SAVE FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY

John Borland, of Lethbridge, Alberta, crawls into blazing house; drags small boy to safety

1. A 3-room house and all its contents were completely destroyed by fire a few weeks ago near Lethbridge, but no lives were lost — thanks to the courage of an elderly man. Mrs. Heggedal, returning from a visit to a neighbour, saw smoke seeping from the windows of the house. Terrified at the thought of her two children trapped inside, she rushed in and saved the baby. But flames and smoke prevented her from returning for the older child.

2. Then John Borland appeared. "I'm an old man," he said, "but I'm going in to get that boy!" Then, with no thought for his personal safety, he entered the flaming house . . . and, crawling on his hands and knees, braved the scorching flames and choking, hot smoke. After moments that seemed like hours to the gallant old gentleman, he found the little boy.

3. Among the many anxious spectators outside, none was more fervently grateful than Mrs. Heggedal when Borland appeared with the screaming partly burned youngster safe in his arms. John Borland's heroism stands as a shining example to every Canadian. We are proud indeed to welcome him into the company of those who have won THE DOW AWARD.

The Church and Town Government

• Address by the Rev. C. T. F. Goy, to the Interstate Convention on Local Government, at South Melbourne, Australia.

If I began this address by using the hackneyed expression, "Gentlemen, it is with mixed feelings I stand before you"—you would probably say to yourselves — the usual orthodox ministerial introduction. . . .

Well, whether you like this type of opening or not, I do begin by the confession that this invitation is accepted by me with mixed feelings.

Firstly, it is a pleasant surprise to discover that you have called in the church to your convention. For many years, the common attitude adopted by men in authority has been that the church, while a very worthy and valuable institution in the life of the community, had its own place, and in that place it ought to stay. It was held that only on rare and unavoidable occasions was it necessary to call in the representatives of the church for the purpose of consultation. In other words, the church was kept in a watertight compartment, the lid of which was only occasionally lifted. Happily, those days are rapidly disappearing, and the tendency for governments and local governing bodies, and even for bodies on an international level such as the League of Nations, to call for the presence of advisers from the church has continued to grow and what is more, to produce useful and happy results. I congratulate you therefore on this invitation extended to a representative of the church to make some contribution to this present convention. Secondly, I am fully aware of the deep responsibility which rests upon me to represent the greatest and most influential organization in the world — no man can lightly accept such a role — and thirdly, I am fully aware that I have my limitations, that no individual is really adequate to be spokesman of so great an organization as the church.

None the less, I am here, and with all humility and real earnestness I will endeavor to make some contribution to your deliberations.

I had better apologize at the very beginning for some of the terminology I may use in the course of my remarks. If I get a little mixed up with such words as mayors, presidents, rates, taxes and so on, I feel sure you will bear with me and try to understand what I am talking about.

The first point I wish to make is that we are invaluable to each other. Take the realm of education, which, in the beginning was the sole job of the church and which, now, in the main, has become the responsibility of the State. Literacy is a statute requirement — every citizen must be taught to read and write, and when hundreds of thousands of people open their Bibles and sing from their hymn books every week, they come to the church already taught to read the printed word. When the child attends Sunday School it is given the literature of the Sunday School, but it is taught the art of reading at the local school. The church gains in that. But the church, in turn, makes its contribution to government in many ways.

The principal contribution of religion to the laws and by-laws of the land, is in the creation of a moral consciousness. The job of a governing body is to create laws that are just and right. How do the legislators know what is just and good when they make their decisions? Only by the conscience of the community, and that conscience is created by religion. Take it away and only social necessity is left. If ever the day comes when the church ceases to create the community conscience — the days of justice and mercy will disappear — the value of human life will be forgotten — and in time we shall be back to the laws of the jungle.

Maybe I could illustrate that by the story of the man who made a model town, and set the whole thing out on a table, where it made a perfect picture. His student son had been asked to prepare a thesis entitled, "If there were no church?" and was seeking the advice of his father in the preparation of the thesis. His father invited him to come into the room where he had set out his model town. "Now son", he said, "you watch what happens if we remove the church and its influence out of this town. Firstly, all the places of worship must go" — and ruthlessly he pulled out all the ecclesiastical buildings, leaving some ugly blanks. "Now", continued the father, "without religion there would be no such thing as 'free education', and, as it was of old, education would be left to the privileged few, so here go the schools—the high school—the public library—the technical school" — and he pulled them out. "Son", said the father, "without religion there would be no ministry of healing — for that all began with the founder of the church, the first great healer in the world, so reluctantly I must remove the hospitals — the homes for the aged, the infant welfare centres, and all the other institutions for the sick and the helpless". By this time the town was a wreck, and the boy was looking very sad as the deft fingers of his father continued the process of removal, picking out the Boy Scout Hall, the children's playground, the community centre, the ambulance depot and many other such places, until at length the young fellow with tortured mind cried out, "No more Dad, for goodness' sake, there's nothing left worthwhile."

Gentlemen, that's what I mean — the spirit of sheer goodness, of compassion, the quality of love for one's fellows, by which all these worthy things were created — where did that spirit come from? It came from Him of whom it is said — "He looked out on the multitude and had compassion on them"; and that spirit, at all costs, we must keep alive, and to keep it alive is the church's job. To establish the norm of righteousness, justice and mercy.

Makes Week's Meals On $4 Food Budget

Moose Jaw, Sask. (CP) — Miss E. Monan, regional government nutritionist, showed old age pensioners here how they could get a week's tasty meals out of a food budget of $4.

For the final meeting Miss Monan showed them how to prepare an appetizing dinner, in the oven using foods from the week's $4 market list.

She prepared a meat loaf, vegetable casserole, a baked potato and apple crisp pudding. She used left-over vegetables for the casserole, combining three — peas, corn and carrots — with a cream sauce. She sprinkled the casserole with cheese and baked it in the oven until the cheese was melted and the vegetables heated through.

Woman Psychiatrist Solves Dog Problems

Toronto (CP) — When a dog a wife has brought home persists in growling at the woman's husband, a real domestic problem arises.

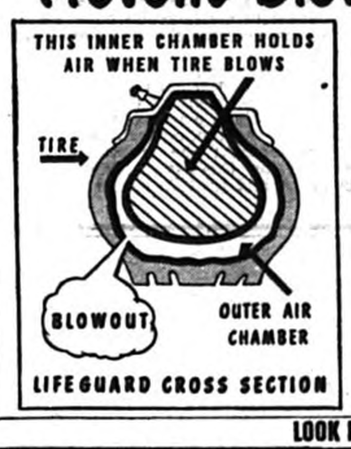

Some couples take their troubles — and their dog — to Bay Meyers, a practical psychiatrist who prefers dogs to people. She usually traces the difficulties to the way the owner treats the dogs.

"Not long ago, a couple called on me with just this problem", Miss Meyers said in an interview. "I told them to bring the dog over. They agreed and paid the fee. Finally the very night they were to bring the dog for the first time, the wife called and said they'd decided there was nothing wrong with the dog.

"The wife explained that her husband had come to the conclusion that the dog, with some superhuman instinct, had detected a hidden flaw in him. He had decided to consult a psychiatrist — not for the dog, but for himself."

Miss Meyers says that the only thing wrong with dogs is their owners. "There are, I suppose, a few naturally vicious dogs in the world, but I haven't met one yet", she said.

A Mother's Gifts

(Copyright)

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

The second Sunday in May comes round again and Mother, in thousands of homes, is showered with all kinds of gifts, large and small. Each and every member of the family from Dad down, try to put into tangible form the love which is in their hearts. The deepest emotions are hard to express in words . . perhaps that is why the slogan, "Say it with Flowers!" has become famous.

All year, Mother is giving her children much more than food, and shelter and clothes. Home-making is a real career and more and more women are recognizing that it is the most satisfying, and possibly the most complex and demanding of all vocations. The unseen presents which children receive from their parents are those which build character. They are the material of which life is woven for this and future generations. What are some of the most important things a mother can pass on to a son or daughter?

O. Douglas, who was John Buchan's sister, once said, "Our parents gave us the richest gift young people can have, the feeling of being loved the treasured beyond words. They made it plain to us that they cared far more that we should be good . . just simple, happy, good, than that we should attain to riches and honor". It was a home like this from which John Buchan (Lord Tweedsmuir), one of Canada's most loved Governor Generals, came. It is this blending of warm affection and high ideals for which there is no substitute in a real home.

Another gift which a mother often gives to a child is belief in himself, and in his value to the world when he grows up. The great artist, Benjamin West, said "It was my mother's kiss made me a painter". Many men and women have gone out to earn their living with the necessary self-confidence which plays a vital part in success. They knew their mothers counted on them and believed they would win out.

Mothers color the attitude a child has to others. If she has a friendly, out-going personality and if people are welcome in her home, her children are likely to follow her example. The lonely, suspicious adult, or the grown-up with bitter race or religious prejudice has missed a mother's gift of loving other people.

The way a mother uses her leisure time influences her children. If she loves reading, if she enjoys good pictures and fine music her children will have a taste for these things in our culture which enrich life. Enthusiasm for hobbies, love of the beautiful, like religion, is "caught, not taught".

It is true that a child's religious faith is the greatest gift of all a child receives from his mother. The simple prayers repeated at her knee, the Bible stories and favorite hymns are all interwoven. Children are curious about everything and a mother does a child a great service if she answers his questions about God, about right and wrong, about Heaven, about the ceremonies and sacraments observed in the family's church.

"Don't you feel mad when you have to stop your play and get dressed up for church?" one little girl asked her friend.

"Oh, no! Mummy and I like doing things together", the youngster replied. "Sunday is a special day. We have treats at meal time and wear our best clothes. She says it is God's Day and when we go to church we go to God's House. At bed-time Mummy reads aloud from our Bible Story Book."

A mother should recognize that a child's religious training is one of a mother's most important duties. If she herself is a happy, active Christian, her children will learn far more from what she is and does than anything she says.

On Mother's Day, mothers might well ask themselves: "Am I giving my child not only love and ideals, self-confidence and friendliness, appreciation of beauty . . but most important of all, faith in God?"

A Report To The People of Canada On Forest Management

In a "Report to the People of Canada" issued this week, Canadian International Paper Company, together with New Brunswick International Paper Company, tells how, under the supervision of provincial governments, it manages 13 million acres of crown forests, "like a vast tree farm, harvesting them in such a way that they will last forever." Raymond St-Louis, 15-year-old schoolboy from Gatineau, P.Q., describes in the report, entitled "These Are Your Forests", the things he saw in the course of a 1,500 mile trip through the woods of the upper Gatineau, north of Ottawa. Photos above are taken from the report. Top left, Eugene Lessard, chief C.I.P. forester in the Gatineau, shows Raymond how the forest goes to pieces once it has passed its prime. Trees must be harvested when they are mature, Raymond learned, as otherwise they fall prey to the wind, disease and insects. By giving Nature a hand in taking the old trees out, foresters help the growth of a young, more vigorous crop. At top right, Raymond tries to lift one of specially insulated boxes in which Canadian International Paper Company ships to its forest camps, fresh meats cut up into steaks, chops, and other pieces ready for use. At lower left, Raymond watches a forestry engineer reading aerial photographs from which are drawn the maps used in forest management. Raymond learned that Canadian International does not fell a single tree on the lands it leases in Quebec and New Brunswick until a 10-year plan of operations has been drawn up and approved by the Provincial government. Thus, no more wood is harvested than will grow in a year. At lower right, magnified many times from its three-quarter inch length, is the spruce budworm which has destroyed 12 billion cubic feet of wood in Canada in the last ten years. Tiny white speck in circle is a parasite which feeds on the budworm and eventually destroys him, and which is being used by Government entomologists to fight the budworm. Canadian International Paper is distributing the report to 4H clubs and other groups interested in forest and wildlife conservation.

Two Public Performances By Brownsburg Male Choir

WITH OUTSTANDING GUEST ARTISTS

The Brownsburg Male Chorus, inaugurated in 1947, will conclude their fourth season of activities with two recitals in the coming week — at Arundel this Saturday, and at Brownsburg United Church on May 17 (as advertised elsewhere in this issue).

Warner Norman, who has been largely responsible for the accomplishments of this group, is choir director of St. James United Church and among the leading figures in Montreal musical circles.

Two outstanding guest artists will also be heard with the choral group — Doris Killam, organist and pianist who, besides her role as accompanist, captivates her audiences with masterly solos at the keyboard; and Harry Maude, top-ranking bass baritone singer in Montreal.

Like Mr. Norman, these two artists are well and favorably known throughout the city. With their assistance, Warner Norman a few weeks ago presented Mendelssohn's oratorio Elijah, which was generously acclaimed by the music critics and columnists.

With such notable singers and the Brownsburg choristers, a local group of which this community may well feel proud — a real feast of music is assured in the two coming performances.

Despite the current century's fantastic mechanical progress, hand signals with arm, flag or lantern, remain an essential part of train operation in Canada.

PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN CURE

By DENISE BELL, R.N.

PART IV

THE CHOICE OF HAPPINESS VERSUS POSSESSIONS

There is a greater force by far
Than public opinion or a war,
It is the love of all mankind,
Big or small . . the poor, the blind,
Revolting or angry, stupid or cruel.
Nothing in life but love is real.
Material things, they couht for much
Until one has them, they are such Trivial values, that one wants more —
An endless desire, a yearning for
All one sees of power and place.
A constant longing, a futile race
Because there isn't a goal to attain
In this mad grasping for personal gain.
The goals elude, in constant procession,
The cravings remain in endless succession;
But true living is giving, not getting,
Depending on power that's there for the asking,
Trusting in love and the beauty of goodness,

Tom Gard's Note Book

It is supposed to be everyone's duty to take an interest in community and municipal affairs. Realizing that my participation in such things was nil, I decided to attend an open meeting called by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce for their annual spring clean-up, paint-up, plant-up campaign. Things turned out as I might have expected! Home beautification is one subject on which I can really get wound up. As you may have guessed, I talked myself right into a job helping to organize the program. Oh well, it's one job I'll like as time spent trying to help people improve the appearance of their home and their property is time well spent.

Does Your Gate Say Welcome

One task I must do this spring is finish the entrance to our garden behind the house. The barbecue was completed last year and some of the border planting but nothing was done to divide the service area from the garden area. I decided on a white random-width picket fence and have been collecting old packing box boards, cleaning them up and applying the first coat of paint. The archway will offer support for some climbing roses I'm going to plant as soon as I can get them. My dahlias, too, must be divided and planted soon.

Storm Door to Screen Door

I'm certainly glad time was found last fall to convert that screen door into a storm door. It has saved fuel and made the back hallway much warmer. The task was not difficult once started and angle irons at the four corners took the extra weight of the glass. Now the door stays put and just the screen and window section is changed each year.

An idea that has been filed away for the future was picked up in Granby the other day. A young couple I was visiting had taken a cheap office table, cut the legs off, made a shelf of the drawer cavity and finished it up as a coffee table. Painted black and trimmed with gold it was right smart and blended well with their other furniture.

Slipper Chairs

All of the cleaning up is not being done outside these days. I found my wife making slipper chairs for the bedrooms out of three old kitchen chairs she picked up at an auction several days ago. All the talent is not confined to one side of this household!

I hope I have established my point in your minds — behind all decisions in legislation and regulation stands the moral conscience of the community — and that conscience is created and maintained by the church.

The second point I wish to emphasize is that you men are elected to office to deal with the needs of your fellow-men. You must put the emphasis on the right place. All your plans for better roads, sewer and water schemes, housing projects, parks and playing areas, commercial enterprises, town planning and cultural advancement are but means to an end, and they are only important when they are related to flesh and blood. The welfare of your fellow men is your first and greatest consideration.

Gentlemen, I believe that one thing only can save our nation and mankind in general, and that is a right conception of our duty and of our individual responsibility to one another, and we can only get that sense of duty and of individual responsibility to one another when we get a right conception of man and of his place and function in the Universe, and we can only develop a right conception of man and his place and function in the Universe when we get a right conception of God and of His purpose for the world.

I know you have your material projects to put before your electors—and no doubt, you make your promises to them of certain things you will support or introduce if elected. They are, of course, important, but the most important is that you are there to serve your fellow men—you are dealing with flesh and blood first, and roads next. The moral and spiritual welfare of your community is of far more importance than the commercial or manufacturing growth and reputation of your town.

This is one of the reasons why we must never allow local government to die out. Centralization of government becomes increasingly impersonal. But your type of government is personal—you get closer to the people, you have a better chance of preserving your sympathy for and knowledge of your fellows. You are there, not to be served but to serve.

In a little country town in which I once lived the vote of one councillor turned a perfectly good cricket and football oval, into a dog racing track. He was caught up on the catch cry that "dog racing is the poor man's sport"—it certainly does make many men, and their wives and kids with them, very poor. That vote turned a thing of beauty into a hideous paddock littered up with unsightly impedimenta, it attracted to the town an undesirable element and, whether you agree with me or not in principle, the net result was much misery in that town. I know, because I had to deal with much of it. Women couldn't buy shoes and clothes for their children, and I collected a few pounds to help some of such people along the road. That councillor handed me a £5 note and said "I would give ten times that amount if I could withdraw my vote."

I know I am treading on delicate ground here — but you asked me to come. Is a councillor responsible for the moral welfare of the community? The answer is yes! He must never cast a vote that will let his people down. He is dealing with flesh and blood—human beings—human souls—and his answer to the great question "Am I my brother's keeper?" must always be "Yes, I am".

It is on issues of this kind that councillors could well call in the church for advice.

Another point I wish to make is that the church is vitally interested in your programmes for the cultural, educational and aesthetic welfare of the people. The church has always been interested in the physical welfare of people. Following on the precept of its founder it believes in giving bread to satisfy the physical hunger of men before it commences to give the bread of heaven. All you do in the realm of healing — care for the sick — public health and hygiene — baby welfare, etc., will continually receive the blessing of the church. But moves for the mental and cultural uplift of the people are also our concern. We want to back you up in any schemes you may have for the lifting up of the cultural tone of your community. Here again is a point of mutual interest, wherein you would do well to seek the advice of the church. I know how easy it is for a council to be dominated by some pressure group. How often have excellent schemes that would have benefitted the whole town been scotched by a ratepayers' association or some other pressure group.

In one inland town in which I lived a scheme to construct an Olympic swimming pool in which the children could be taught the necessary art of swimming and which would have given so much joy to a population in a hot area forty miles from the nearest river—was scotched by a little but powerful group of ratepayers who were afraid of an almost insignificant rise in local rates. The need for these baths was so great that a group of church people decided to form a non-profit company and put them there. I know all about that —I took out just a very small amount of shares — twenty £5 shares, and for years I was shelling out call-ups to keep the thing going. We went bankrupt in the end—but the baths had become an institution in that town by that time and the council was compelled—indeed they were very happy to take them over. Today they are paying their way handsomely and proudly bear the name —"Municipal Baths" and bring pleasure to thousands of adults and children alike.

When you are up against that kind of decision —you must meet the pressure groups with the invincible argument that you are there to serve the people — that "flesh and blood" is your primary concern, and you can never honorably escape that responsibility.

I could go on at length on this line—but repetition will not get us anywhere.

I want to tell you the story of the wonderful motto carved in marble over the entrance of the famous Congressional Library in America — the building and designing committee of that magnificent structure could not agree upon a suitable inscription, so acting on a brainwave they sent out a questionnaire to 5,000 ministers of religion asking for suggestions. By an overwhelming majority the result was the recommendation of a text from Holy Scripture—the 8th verse of the 6th Chapter of the Prophet Micah; these are the words: —

"What doth the Lord require of Thee — but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God".

My friends in local government, let that be your motto, justice, mercy and faith. Your place in the community is vital and influential. You are the creators of the true spirit of legislature, which spreads from below to above—from local Council to State — from State to Commonwealth.

William Gladstone once said that "The basis of all human society is home-life—if the character of our homes is good, then the character of the nation will be good".

I want to apply that to the realm of government. If the local government is good and true and decent, then the State government will in turn be good and true and decent—and then the same qualities will be found in the Federal sphere of government.

You set the pattern; upon the foundations laid by you the whole legislative system is created and maintained. In true democracy we start from below and work up to the top. That is where your importance comes in.

So then—what is required of you—but to do justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God. And let me assure you that if that be your aim and ideal, then the Church is with you and behind you with its influence, its help and its prayers, one hundred per cent.

India Cautious on Mixing Science With Agriculture

Old Religious Reliefs Hamper Scientific Treatment of Cattle

Bombay (Reuters) — The Indian Government, working to improve cattle breeds and increase the number of livestock, is striking a shrewd balance between scientific animal husbandry and sentimental Hindu veneration of the cow and bull.

India already has the largest number of cattle of any country — 180,000,000 head, or one-quarter of the world's cattle — but it has the lowest per capita production and consumption of milk.

A "key village scheme" to promote good breeds of cattle now has been launched under government auspices. The Indian Veterinary Institute has intensified its research work on animal nutrition and on methods of improving the nation's livestock. Dairy farms, on scientific lines, are also being established.

But religion enjoins the Hindus to worship the cow. Bulls are sacred. Furthermore, the Hindu creed of "Ahimsa" (non-violence) militates against the slaughter of animals.

These sentiments have inspired a "cow protection" movement which agigates for a total ban on cow slaughter. The sponsors of this movement also seek the establishment of "cattle rest homes" to care for unproductive cattle.

Try Middle Path

The central and state governments, in line with the secular nature of the Indian Republic, prefer a middle path. They are averse to a total ban on cow slaughter but have forbidden the slaughter of milch cattle and animals useful for farming and breeding purposes.

Nevertheless the anti-cow-slaughter agitation has many adherents in the country. There have been protest demonstrations and strikes demanding the closure of local slaughter houses.

The Indian Veterinary Research Institute, through its pathology and bacteriology section, has been dealing with cattle diseases mainly due to bacteria and viruses. The institute also manufactures serums and vaccines.

The animal nutrition section has carried on experiments regarding the nutritive value of all feeding stuffs for cattle. Investigations show that a number of substances considered as waste can be utilized as cattle-feed, such as tapioca, mango-seed kernel and husks of groundnut.

The animal genetics section has been carrying out research to improve Indian livestock by scientific methods of production. It has introduced artificial insemination on a large scale.

Humanity Fights for Food

Slow starvation stares into the gaunt faces of tens of millions as it stalks grimly through the earth.

Reports gathered world wide in the past few years inform us that one-fourth of the world is starving. Today, millions are dying for lack of food. Indications seem to point to the fact that tomorrow may be even worse. This is truly serious, because human life is at stake. Bible prophecy, however, foretold a more serious famine in these words: "A famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD". . . . Amos 8: 11

The Watchtower magazine recognizes this serious shortage of spiritual nourishment in the world today, and so it taps the great storehouse of Scriptural truths to nourish, strengthen and sustain those who desire to be fed. By means of Bible truths published in its columns, there is no lack or shortage of food here. Its pages are filled with bountiful provisions — bread that satisfies and gives life to the eater. It feeds the mind and heart of the truth seeker with spiritual food. A veritable "feast of fat things"! Why not partake of this abundance and avoid the spiritual famine stalking the land? Let The Watchtower magazine aid you to be filled and satisfied.

Court Charge Follows Power Line Tapping

A Canadian Press story from Toronto has interest in these parts, where The Watchman is informed, on good authority, that the same abuses are in practice. . .

Toronto—Harry Biddle, 65-year-old resident of suburban York Township, yesterday denied a charge that he had tapped a hydro-electric power line. He maintained before Magistrate O. M. Martin that for eight years he has lighted his house with coal oil lamps.

Replied a hydro official: "How does Mr. Biddle account for the fact that, when the line into his house was disconnected and connected again, his house darkened and then lit up?"

"That", said Biddle, "was because I was opening and shutting the door of my coal stove at the time."

He denied a suggestion that he had by-passed a fuse box to get electricity.

The case was adjourned to a later date.

Let's Make Quickbreads

Would you like to make your meal just a little more tempting? If so, don't you think that a flaky tea biscuit, a hot muffin or a crunchy popover might do the trick? The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, are of the opinion that a good quick-bread, of one sort or another made in your own kitchen, and served piping hot right from the oven could appear more often on the family table than it does.

They tell us also that there are four main types of quickbreads, namely, tea biscuits, muffins, pop-overs as well as loaves in which baking powder, not yeast, is used to make them rise. Variations of each type are so numerous that there are literally hundreds of different ones that can be made.

Success in making quickbreads depends mainly on four points. The first requisite is to use a reliable recipe and to follow it carefully. The second point is to use good quality ingredients and unless the recipe says to have them hot or cold, use them at room temperature. Thirdly, follow the mixing directions carefully, being sure to use accurate, level measurements and lastly, but not least, bake in a well-regulated oven. A fifth point might be added and that is to serve quickbreads dripping with butter, honey, maple syrup or jam. They make anyone's mouth water just thinking about them. However, don't get the impression that serving these quickbreads dripping with honey or other sweets is the only way in which they may be served. Tea biscuits may be used as a crust topping for pies, for puddings or in meat rolls. Fruit muffins, when served with sauce, make delicious puddings. Toasted muffins may be used instead of toast with poached eggs, while pop-overs and such members of the popover family as Yorkshire Pudding and cream puffs have their own particular uses. It is easily seen that there are many forms of quickbreads, so there is no excuse for not serving them more often.

The main ingredients used in making tea biscuits are flour, liquid, shortening, baking powder and salt. Generally, the standard proportion of liquid to flour is one part of liquid to three parts of flour. Soft wheat flour or pastry flour, as we know it, makes the most tender biscuits. Eggs are not used in standard tea biscuits though they are sometimes added in such variations as scones and short cakes. The method of combining the ingredients for biscuits differs from the general method used for batters. There is, of course, a reason for this. Everyone wants a flaky texture in tea biscuits like that characteristic of good pastry. To obtain such a texture fat is chopped or rubbed into the sifted dry ingredients. When the mixture looks like course cornmeal a "well" is made in the flour-fat mixture and the liquid is added, then mixed only until the dough thickens and the flour is moist. From this standard dough many variations can be made, for example, the milk or water ordinarily used in making biscuits may be replaced with tomato juice or orange juice. For a wonderful biscuit which is perfect to serve with salads or on top of vegetable casseroles grated Cheddar cheese may be added to the dough.

As the home economists mentioned, there are numerous variations of muffins and one way in which they may be varied is by the kinds of flour, meal or cereal used in them. Those made of all cornmeal or whole wheat flour have a characteristic flavor and are quite heavy in texture. For lighter textured muffins usually an equal amount of white flour is used with cornmeal, rolled oats, bran, whole wheat or other flour. Another way to add variety to muffins is to stir in raisins, dried fruits, grated cheese, chopped ham or bacon, into the dry ingredients just before adding the liquid to the muffins. If fresh or well-drained cooked, canned or frozen fruit is folded into the muffin batter just before it is put in the pan, in a matter of minutes you will be taking from the oven a batch of most colorful and appetizing muffins. Blueberry muffins are, of course, a favorite of this type, but other berries finely chopped apples or other fruits are delicious too.

Just one little reminder, it is about baking muffins. A hot oven is necessary but do not have it too hot or a crust will form before the muffins have finished rising and the batter will break through the crust, spill over the side and form a "knob".

Young Lachute Couple Wed at United Church

McFaul - Ogilvie

The marriage of Hazel Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Ogilvie, to Mr. Donald McAllister McFaul, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McFaul, all of Lachute, took place on Saturday, May 5, at four o'clock in Lachute United Church, the Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiating. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Kenneth McOuat and during the signing of the register Mrs. Robert Blakely sang "O Promise Me".

The bride, given away by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Bernice Ogilvie. Mr. Robert Dixon acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Elvine Prophet and Mr. Robert Ogilvie. Baskets of gladioli decorated the church.

The bride wore a gown of white faille taffeta made on simple lines, the tight-fitting bodice having a deep V-neckline with a soft rounded collar and long sleeves ending in points over her hands, the full skirt falling into a train. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a cloche of faille taffeta, and she carried a bouquet of pink Delight roses.

The bridesmaid wore a gown of lavender blue faille with a Peter Pan collar and cap sleeves and a full skirt. Her headdress was a cloche of matching material and she carried a bouquet of iris and bouvardia.

The bride's mother wore a navy crepe dress with touches of white, with a gray and white hat and navy accessories. Her corsage was an orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of grey crepe with navy accessories, her corsage being an orchid.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the Legion Hall, Lachute, where the floral decorations were baskets of gladioli. The bridal table was decorated with spring flowers and centred with the wedding cake.

Later the couple left by motor for a trip to Washington and other points in the United States, the bride travelling in a blue gabardine suit with navy and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Out of town guests included relatives and friends from Montreal, Vankleek Hill, Howick and Chute-à-Blondeau.

MENTAL HYGIENE

New Glasgow, N.S. (CP) — A Pictou county branch of the Nova Scotia Society for Mental Hygiene became a reality at a meeting here. Dr. S. H. Prince, president of the N.S. society, said the new Canadian program in this field is essentially preventive in character.

Never brag about your ancestors coming over on the Mayflower; the immigration laws weren't as strict in those days!

Nylon Termed "Aid To Easier Living"

Nylon, said Miss Roddick, is the first wholly man-made fibre. It proved its capabilities in World War II, and its rapid development today suggests unlimited possibilities. In its two distinct forms — continuous filament yarn and staple fibre — Nylon has a versatility to fill innumerable needs in wearing apparel, drapes, fabrics, and other domestic, recreational and industrial needs.

Among qualities adapting this yarn to clothing manufacture are — (1) its great strength; (2) sheer texture with durability; (3) easy washing (its round, smooth fibre not readily penetrated by dirt); (4) quick drying; (5) impervious to moths.

"Tricot" nylon knitted hose or garments will not "run", said Miss Roddick, and they will retain their original size and shape. Pleats remain in their original shape with the heat-set processing. Their light weight and unscrushable quality make these garments ideal for travel, and they have attained high rating in summer and winter sports wear — this latter fact illustrating that in warmth, weight for weight, nylon is comparable with wool; this factor depends not so much on the fibre as on the manner in which it is treated.

The film, discourse and demonstration of garments were a three-fold sales promotion for Nylon — but they afforded highly interesting fare for the listening audience, to whom Nylon was hitherto a product of wondrous but vaguely understood potentialities.

The speaker and her colleague, Mr. Tobin, were introduced by Lion George Tattersfield, of the Ayers Limited textile industry. Another member of the Ayers staff, Lion Ernest Snadden, tendered the thanks of the gathering.

Mr. Harris Sherwood, works manager at Brownsburg, and supervisors on the C-I-L staff, were noted among the guests.

Local Light Horses and The Driving Fraternity

As the long awaited warm weather approaches, one sees more activity amongst the light horse people in and around Lachute, getting ready for the first shows and races.

Albert Stewart, with his assistant Mac Demers, is busy with L. H. MacQuarrie's "Jackie Mack", Emile Lacasse's young three-year-old and Cress Hadley's young mare, along with his own fine roan mare.

Russell Sutton has his fine pony "Mary Sunrise" also at Albert Stewart's, and is busy evenings exercising her, getting her ready for the first shows.

George McGibbon disposed of his roadster "Just Pete" to Cecil Carpenter of Chateauguay last fall, and "Gordie Forbes", the year-old colt, has gone to Paul Joly.

"Jean Proximity", a young filly belonging to C. Staniforth, is now at the Stewart stable.

Leon St. Jacques is busy with his new colt "Grattan Forbes" at the track. It might be mentioned here that "Grattan B", the horse he sold last year, raced at St. Jerome last Sunday; in the second heat "Grattan B" came in second, losing the heat by a nose — the time was 2.11, that being the fastest time of the day. Also busy at the track are Paul Joly and daughters with "Marc Guy", George Joly with "Van Guy L" and Punch Joly with "Caretaker's Calumet". Bill Hewitt, Sr., may be seen working Charlie Moseley's fine two-year-old "Proceeder".

"Lady Van B" was recently purchased by Ernie Kennedy from M. W. Ballantyne and it is expected she will be seen soon in harness. Ernie's other colt, "Senator Bars", who is with Del MacTavish at Saratoga, is making a name for himself in the workouts of three-year-old pacers, along with "Hasty Pete", Del's own fine trotter; the first races are June 4.

Bill and Dot Hewitt are busy with the roadsters "Shirley Peters" and "Goodwill Jack", along with saddle horses "Rambling Ace" and the young registered half-Arab mare "Saludos". Bev Johnston is also readying herself for equitation classes.

Charlie Moseley has sold his fine pacing gelding "Brown Derby" to a party in Montreal, and Bill Hewitt, Sr., has bought the mare "Miss K. Lee" from the Moseley stable. For reasons of health, and with much regret, Charlie has recided to sell out completely.

Another horse at the track, training this year and looking really good, is the Millette horse, "Peter B. Grattan". . .

Great things are expected of all these fine horses, at the races and at the shows.

Annual Convention of Women's Institutes Attended by 175 Members, All Branches

Officers Elected -- Year Reviewed; Brownsburg Scene of '51 Conference

Members of the County Women's Institutes met in Brownsburg last Friday for their annual convention, which was under the auspices of the Brownsburg W.I. and held in the Social Club.

The county president, Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, was in the chair. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada", followed by the Ode and Salutation to the Flag. Minutes of the last annual and semi-annual conventions were then read by the secretary, who also gave an interesting report on the year's doings in different branches. Then followed reports by the treasurer and conveners on different phases of work. Three posters were displayed, bearing the W.I. emblem and colors, which are to be used to indicate the Handicrafts Display at the Fair Grounds. These were made by Miss Seale, of Morin Heights.

A brief silence was observed for two members who had passed on.

The county president in her address urged that true W.I. members should keep the Mary Stewart Collect always in mind and live up to it — to keep repeating, "Let us be done with fault finding and leave off self-pretence, let us meet each other face to face and without predjudice". . . "We women have a great responsibility, for we are the ones to keep the home fires burning. Remember also, 'the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world', and it seems as though the world had been getting a rough ride, with wars and rumors of wars. Let us see to it that our

The graduating class held the spotlight last Friday evening at Lachute High School, where a large crowd of adults attended the graduation program and the dance that followed. Chairman Jas. W. McGibbon of the Protestant School Commission, Principal Fred Royal and Mr. R. Burton, the XI-B class teacher, were on the platform, but the speeches were brief, bidding only god speed and good fortune to the main actors of this perennial drama. There was a deal of sentiment and humor, however, in the dramatic phase of these ceremonies—which will remain a highlight in the school years of those who took part.

The graduating class this year numbers a total of 43—and the experience of these 43 pupils, all present on the platform — girls in their white graduation gowns and boys in their courtliest manner and appearance — was also specially notable since it was the first such ceremony to be held in the new school building.

Kenneth Trickey was master of ceremonies, and his remarks included due reference to the above facts. This young man performed his duties as chairman with such poise and confidence as augur well for his success — for it is understood he has chosen the ministry as his future profession. . . There were others, too, who took part in the program and excelled in oratory — the most notable being Joyce Gordon, who reviewed the past school record of her classmates, and Jean MacAdam, the valedictorian. With somewhat lesser command of oratory, but with lively humor and interest, were Margaret MacKimmie and Lorne Brewer, visualizing their different colleagues in future scenes; also Joan Goldthorpe and George Gordon, who recited the last will and testament of their class.

Criminal Blame on Driver in Recent Dual Tragedy

At the Court House here on Tuesday evening, a coroner's jury rendered a verdict of criminal responsibility against Euclide Desforges, 38, of Lachute Mills, in the death of Willie Giroux, 31, and his brother, Noel, 18, killed following a car-truck collision on the Montreal highway near East Settlement on Sunday, May 6.

First witness heard at the inquest, under Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur, was Traffic Officer Albt. Legault, who stated the measurements and positions of the two vehicles — the light truck which crashed into a tree, killing two of the three occupants, after colliding on a curve with the passing car — and also the position of the car following the accident, namely, in a field, 480 feet from the scene of contact.

Chief witness was a Diamond taxi driver named Latreille, who was proceeding to Montreal when the two vehicles passed him, travelling (he stated) at least 50 miles an hour. Latreille said he had seen the car and the truck touch twice before the latter hit the tree and the car veered into the field.

Real Joly, 21, a passenger with the two fatally injured brothers in the truck, stated the party were proceeding from Lachute to the hotel at St. Hermas; he admitted there had been a wager that the last to arrive should pay for drinks.

Det. Anatole Roch, of the provincial homicide squad, stated he had examined the highway at the fatal spot; the road surface was in good state, and driving conditions were otherwise favorable at the time of the accident, he said.

The car driver, Euclide Desforges, stated that the truck had run into his car as he was passing it. From the driver's seat, however, he could not tell exactly how the vehicles had come in contact.

The inquest was heard in presence of a large crowd of spectators. The jurors retired and after due deliberation declared the car driver, Euclide Desforges "criminally responsible for the accident and for the two deaths".

The jury comprised — Jos. Raymond (chairman), Wilfrid Raymond, Thomas Stewart, Floriat Proulx, P. Elmer Leger and Geo. St. Laurent.

COMBATS DELINQUENCY WITH BOYS' WORSHOP

Kamloops, B.C. (CP) — A clergyman in this interior city thought a boys' workshop might do something to combat juvenile delinquency.

The result of four years of work by Rev. P. A. Gaglardi, pastor of Calvary Temple, is a hobby shop containing $2,000 worth of equipment.

Merchants contributed such equipment as electric and acetylene torches, steel lathes and all kinds of carpentry tools.

The shop is open to all boys eight years old and up, no matter what their particular religion.

Mr. Gaglardi says he hopes that the shop will not only help to keep boys out of trouble, but may lead them to a vocation they will wish to follow later.

Quota Exceeded, Red Cross Appeal

A creditable total of $3,340.80 has been subscribed in the Red Cross annual appeal conducted recently in this community. This total for Lachute District is well over the quota of three thousand dollars, and is also substantially higher than the collection last year, which amounted to $3,162.

This result is gratifying to the local Red Cross branch — who, through the medium of this report, express sincere thanks to the loyal canvassers in all divisions, and likewise to those who responded so generously with their donations.

Joint chairmen of the appeal for Lachute District were Mrs. W. M. Steeves and Mrs. W. M. Hooper. Treasurer was Mrs. F. E. Earle, who has filled this valuable role for several years past. Mrs. Earle submits the following detailed report:

Scout-and-Guide Rally At Exhibition Grounds This Saturday Afternoon

The third annual Rally by the Brownies and Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs, Boy Scouts and Rover Scouts, will be held at the Lachute Fair Grounds this Saturday, May 19, at 2 p.m. (Time 1.30, announced in advertisements in this issue, is for assembling of the troops. The program proper commences at 2 o'clock.)

The events to take place were described in some detail in a previous issue of The Watchman. However, the organizers would like to remind all those interested in the Scout movement, not to miss this interesting event.

Units will attend from various towns, including Ste. Rose, Rosemere, St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac, Morin Heights, Grenville, Lachute and Brownsburg.

Admittance is free and, with favorable weather, all who attend will be assured of an enjoyable program of entertainment.

Community Concert Campaign Target Is 700 Members

Campaign Week being now in progress, memberships for the Community Concerts season 1951-52 are being received and reported by team captains to the campaign headquarters at Bedard Ltée, Main Street, Lachute. The objective this year is a minimum of 700 members.

The membership campaign is well organized. Enthusiasm was evident in the inaugural supper, attended by over 60 workers last Monday at Lachute Golf Club. Representatives were present from Lachute, Brownsburg, St. Andrews East, St. Hermas, Vankleek Hill and Hawkesbury.

Chairman of this fourth annual campaign dinner was Linton W. Armstrong, president of the Community Concerts Association, who, together with the new secretary, Raymond Beaulieu, voiced his confidence that the minimum of 700 members would be enrolled in the allotted time. Last year the list had approached 690.

Warm appreciation was expressed for the services of the retiring secretary, Gabriel Valois, and Mrs. Valois, who during the past three years had played an active part for the succees of the organization.

Despite the non-arrival of an organization representative, who was dated by Columbia Artists of New York to attend this meeting, the purpose of the gathering was achieved and the campaign well arranged.

By way of entertainment, Miss Juliette Rodrigue played a number of classical selections at the piano.

Douglas G. Simon Mayor of Chatham

St. Philippe — Results of the municipal voting in Chatham Township last Monday, are reported by H. Derouin, town secretary, as follows:

For mayor — Douglas G. Simon polled a majority of 388 against W. Ed Hammond; 770 votes to 382.

For councillor, Seat No. 1 — W. H. Robert defeated J. F. Whissell by a majority of 480; 763 votes to 283. (Two other candidates for this seat, Philippe Mallette and Aurel Pharand, withdrew before polling time).

Seat No. 2 — Albert Lemay defeated Albert Tessier by 447; 742 votes to 295.

Seat No. 3 — John F. Black defeated Keith Lowe by 351; 674 votes to 323.

The proportion of votes cast out of 2,036 eligible voters on the municipal roll, is considered only a fair turn-out.

SEES TEMPERANCE REVIVAL

Halifax (CP) — Rev. John Linton of Toronto, general secretary of the Canadian Temperance Federation, said here there is "a rising tide of interest" in temperance throughout Canada. He noted several provinces have asked that the federal government appoint a royal commission to investigate the alcohol problem.

A Sentiment for Citizenship Day

(WEDNESDAY, MAY 23rd)

I am glad of this opportunity to extend greetings and good wishes to all of my fellow Canadians on the occasion of the observance of our second Citizenship Day.

This Day was set apart last year with the thought that its annual observance would serve to make Canadians appreciate more fully the value of their citizenship by emphasizing its advantages and responsibilities with regard not only for ourselves but for our status and worth in the Commonwealth and in the world.

This Canada of ours is no ordinary nation. Made up as it is of people of different languages, cultures and religious beliefs, it stands today as a great example of what can be accomplished as a result of a deep respect for and tolerance of the rights and opinions of others.

If the world is to have a really secure peace, if countries are to live in harmony, these conditions will come about only through genuine understanding and the development among nations of the kind of partnership we have developed here in Canada, and through which we have made Canada a great and united country.

— LOUIS ST. LAURENT, Prime Minister

ALLIGATORS PETS OF WELLAND MAN

Welland, Ont. (CP) — One resident of this Niagara Peninsula town has a hobby that would send shivers down the spines of most people averse to the crawling, creeping reptiles of the lower animal kingdom.

E. C. Teachout has been collecting and raising alligators and crocodiles since 1941 — and he enjoys it. He has species from many foreign countries. He obtained his first alligator from a United States dealer, but expects to soon receive specimens from India, Africa, Australia and South Africa.

He keeps his "pets" in an ordinary glass aquarium. This is possible only for a limited period. Alligators grow from eight inches at birth to a length of 13 feet at maturity. Crocodiles have been known to attain a length of 30 feet or more. Alligators, Mr. Teachout claims, are fairly docile, but crocodiles are considered treacherous at all times.

Industrial Show Staged at St. Jerome By Kinsmen Club

An industrial exhibition sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of St. Jerome opened last evening in the St. Jerome Arena. It will continue until Sunday.

Eighty booths featuring exhibits from the industries in the St. Jerome area are included in the array of attractions.

Defective Water Purification Remedied At B'burg; Past "Neglect and Ill-Use"

Brownsburg — The discovery of chlorine as a purifier of water was a tremendous step forward in the eradication of diphtheria and other diseases contracted by drinking impure water; but like many of the other safeguards to life provided by science and common sense, we are sometimes negligent in its use. At a recent meeting of Council, it was observed by Councillor N. Somers that he doubted if the chlorine service had been adequate or efficient for a long time past. The installation was in a deplorable state from neglect and ill-usage and it was doubtful if any chlorine could get through the corroded pipes. The work was not being well done; the chlorinator building was being used as a dump for an assortment of things. The councillor doubted if the members of the committee were not guilty of negligence; it was a disgrace. Evidently the discovery of this state of affairs was revealed because of a complaint that the machine had broken down. Councillor Ouellette discovered the gauges were not working and endeavored to have them repaired, and Dr. L. Turcotte, of the local Health Unit, reported that daily samples for testing had not been turned in to the analysts for two months.

The Council took the care and inspection of this work out of the hands of the village foreman and appointed Aldège Neveu, at a salary of $500 a year, to maintain and service the system. It was decided to provide a record of daily inspections and submit a monthly report signed by the waterworks committee. It was also decided to install an electric heater to replace the present oil heater, and open the building to public inspection so that a condition of affairs such as was just corrected, could not again become possible.

The motion for appointment of Mr. Neveu was proposed by Councillor Ouellette.

Park Avenue

The offer by Mr. W. J. Graham to hand over the present waterworks system on Park Avenue, which services a number of residences on that street — on condition the municipal corporation connects to its present system, a distance of 600 feet, also erects the necessary fire hydrants and maintains the street — was accepted on the recommendation of Councillor Somers, who had inspected the installation and reported on the cost of the enterprise. The work is to be undertaken by contract within one year, and is estimated to cost about $6,000. Councillor Denault seconded Councillors Somers' motion.

• • •

Trees

Councillor Wilson made a strong plea for preservation of the maples along Maple Avenue, and the Council offered to take the matter into consideration consistent with the exigencies of marching civilization as regards sidewalks, power lines and safety from dead limbs.

Councillor Somers remarked he would rather have a sidewalk than risk his limbs and neck walking under shade trees. A woman had her leg broken when knocked down by a passing automobile there this week.

An order was issued to the corporation employees not to remove garbage set out in 45-gallon drums. Garbage must be packaged and wrapped in containers of a size that one man can conveniently lift onto the truck.

Mother - Daughter Banquet by C.G.I.T.

The annual "Mother and Daughter Banquet" was held Monday evening in the United Church hall. Among the special guests was Miss Daisy MacNeill, Girls' Work Secretary of the Religious Education Council for the Province of Quebec.

Heather Graham, C.G.I.T. president, was chairman at the banquet and proposed the toast to the King. Ruth Rae Walker proposed a toast to the Church, which was responded to by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough. A toast to the W.M.S. was proposed by Barbara Pollock, which was responded to by Mrs. Wm. Pollock. Helen McMahon proposed a toast to the Mothers and Guests, which was responded to by Mrs. Thos. McMahon.

The toasts were followed by a sing-song, after which Mrs. L. Pelletier, assisted by Miss D. MacNeill, presented lanyards to 12 of the senior girls. C.G.I.T. pins for perfect attendance were donated and presented by Mrs. H. Jacobsen to three girls. Small prizes were given to three girls who had missed only one meeting. Each girl in the group was presented with a Purpose card by Mrs. L. Pelletier.

Miss Daisy MacNeill gave a very informative and inspiring address on the topic of Camp Life, Church Training and Leadership, after which the evening was brought to a close by the singing of "Taps".

Dairy Situation and Future Outlook Described in Talk by Club Speaker

Subject Vital to This Rural Community Holds Interest of Representative Audience at Lions

While the Lions Club program Tuesday evening held a variety of interests, there was that aspect of "specialization" recently apparent in these meetings — inasmuch as the guest of honor was a dairyman, the speaker was a dairy expert, and many of the guests were otherwise associated with this important industry.

The speaker, Wm. C. Cameron, who was referred to by President Horace Lamarche as "the head of the whole dairy industry in Canada", carries the official title of Associate Director, Marketing Service, Dairy Products, Federal Department of Agriculture. His experience has covered dairy farming, business and co-operative administration in the West, professorship and government work, giving him an intimate knowledge of every branch of the dairy industry — with a speck of gold mining in his earlier experience, by way of variety.

The importance of dairying in the Canadian economy was illustrated by Mr. Cameron in the fact that 2½-million Canadians — 17 per cent of the population — are dependent, directly or indirectly, upon this industry. In 1949 the net returns from dairy produce were exceeded only by those from grain production. The annual value of all dairy products in Canada is 1½ times that of electrical manufactures, twice that of automobiles and four times the combined output of gold and silver. The dairy business buys from every other industry, service and profession in the course of its operations. Dairy cattle and their products rank first as a source of all farm income in Canada. . . .

But, to these and other material facts, the speaker added — dairy foods represent a still greater value in health and stamina to the nation. He illustrated by the quantities of milk products fed to Air Force personnel, especially night fliers, in the last war; the increasing use of milk in school lunches, and the prominence of milk products in recommended diets.

Mr. Cameron spoke highly of the quality of Canadian produce. He dealt with trends in the demand — for fluid milk, evaporated milk, butter, cheese, ice cream and other milk products — showing that increased demands for home consumption had reduced available supplies for export. And unless there is an upturn in total milk production, there will be less and less for export, he said.

The butter situation had fluctuated until today the balance between domestic supply and demand is evening up. . . But at this point the speaker touched upon "the outlook", as a sequel to his lucid summary of the dairy picture. It might appear there is no serious problem before the dairy producers of Canada; but actually the industry finds reason for grave concern. . .

The future depends on many factors: the relationship of labor costs to overall production; the trend of prices, which now finds other commodities advancing at a speedier pace than those of dairy produce. This situation, and the greater revenue returns from beef, had caused many dairymen to disperse their herds and enter more profitable lines of production. Another major factor is competition in the form of oleo oil products — concerning which the speaker was questioned and cross-questioned by his interested audience. This competition is emphasized by the fact that, where margarine and vegetable oil substitutes are in use, these ingredients are introduced into various other so-called "dairy" products apart from butter.

Mr. Cameron felt himself privileged, he said, in such instances as this, to foster a better understanding between the rural producers and urban consumers, upon a matter so important in Canada's national economy.

The speaker was introduced by President Lion Horace Lamarche, and Lion Don Titman extended the thanks of the gathering.

Jas. Lowe, president of Lowe's Dairy, was saluted as "Lion of the Day", in a brief eulogy by Maitre Fernand Legault, with his inimitable wit. Lion Jim Lowe was specially commended on his co-operation in this club and in other community spheres, and a special tribute was voiced for the home and family in which he had grown to manhood, culminating in the family enterprise of Lowe Bros.

A highly encouraging report on the annual car raffle was given by the committee chairman, Léopold Carrière. The attendance contest, reviewed by Ian Gordon, found Lion S. Church and his team still in the lead.

The gathering numbered around 50 — among whom Lion Gaetan Valois, 1951 census returning officer, introduced four divisional inspectors in this census area, as his personal guests.

Civic Election At Brownsburg

Brownsburg — A total of 660 voters turned out to elect Hector Pariseau over his only opponent, retiring councillor Antonio Denault, as mayor of Brownsburg for the next two years — out of a possible 1,335 electors on the lists. In the French quarter Mr. Pariseau had a majority of but two votes over Mr. Denault, but in the English section of the village he rolled up the commanding figure of 284 to 32 for Mr. Denault.

After the incorporation of the Village of Brownsburg in 1935, Mr. Pariseau was the first mayor elected, retiring in '36 when Geo. Ball took over under an alternating French-English arrangement. Since then he has served on the council for several years and has always represented the views of the moderately progressive and financially conservative element. Mr. Pariseau is a well known and widely respected business man; he is an able administrator of great experience — qualities which advanced his candidature over his younger and less-tried opponent.

None of the outgoing councillors sought election as such, which found four new aspirants in the field—Aldège Carrière, Vincent Charbonneau, Lorne Ball and John Golphin. Of the four, Mr. Golphin was the only one with previous council experience, and he was the one defeated.

A fifty per cent turn-out of the electors is, at best, a poor showing. There was nothing to excite interest, and it could be judged from the calibre of the candidates that, no matter who became elected, the business of the council would be ably conducted.

Tabulation of the votes:

— Mayor —

Convent Poll	Social Club Poll
H. Pariseau 122	284 (Elected)
A. Denault 120	32 (Defeated)

— Councillors —

Convent Poll	Social Club Poll
V. Charbonneau 207	116 (Elected)
A. Carriere 151	173 (Elected)
L. Ball 77	203 (Elected)
J. Golphin 60	219 (Defeated)

A feature of the count was that but one vote saved the presiding officer, Emile Hebert, from deciding between Mr. Ball and Mr. Golphin — 280 to 279. The two French candidates were also one vote apart — Mr. Carriere 324 and Mr. Charbonneau 323.

Planning

Spring is traditionally the time when everybody starts putting into effect the plans they have been making during the past winter. Farmers are sowing their crops. City dwellers are in the midst of some pet improvement project. Renovation work is in full swing everywhere.

A power company is no exception to this general pattern of human behavior. With the winter behind, repair crews and construction crews are busy throughout the territory to bring improved service.

But the power company can't decide to do something today, and start doing it tomorrow. Where other people might do their planning weeks or even months ahead, the power company has to think in terms of years to schedule its work so that the greatest good can come to the greatest number of customers. The planning of even a comparatively simple change of circuits involves lines, poles, sub-stations, transformers, meters, power plant capacity and many other things.

Above all, construction and repair work involves new materials. Such materials must be manufactured, often "custom built" for the job — and delivery dates are often subject to conditions over which neither the power company nor the manufacturer of the equipment can have any control. Transformers, for instance, must be ordered months in advance to provide any reasonable assurance that they will be ready when required for a new project.

DID YOU KNOW?

Much of the material Gatineau is using this spring had to be ordered over a year ago. Some of the material being ordered now isn't expected until the middle of 1952.

Even when electrical materials are ordered far in advance this way, unexpected delays may put the delivery date even farther off than expected. The manufacturer may promise delivery at a certain time, and then not be able to meet that date because he too may be held up by shortages of what he needs — steel, iron, porcelain, insulating materials.

It all makes the task of planning a power company's expansion a difficult and an unending one. It explains why no power company can always install a new line or improve an old one at a moment's notice.

Personal Budgets Tailored to A "T"

Personal Planning Provides the Answer to Financial Problems

Like most people, you have probably tried to budget. If you didn't altogether succeed, maybe it was because you tried to fit a ready-made budget to your particular circumstances. What you need is a budget-plan that's tailored to your personal requirements . . . as individual to you as your clothes.

That's the main reason for the success of the Bank of Montreal's recently announced family-financing system called Personal Planning. With it, you can get yourself a budget-plan that's custom-built to size — the size of your income, your needs, your aspirations.

First, you decide what you want your money to do . . . then plan with what you have. The important point is: it's not how much you make . . . but what you do with what you get. If you adopt a "tough" attitude to your money — show it you're the boss—you can organize your life to rid yourself of money worries.

A visit to the B of M's Lachute branch and a word with Leo Brouillette, the accountant, will get you a copy of the bank's booklet on the subject. If it's not convenient to call personally at the B of M, Mr. Brouillette says he will be glad to mail a copy on request.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

National Inventory

HERBERT Marshall, the Dominion statistician who is the big man behind Canada's census to be taken next month, has said that the vast operation will be the most important survey in the country's history.

The reasons are not hard to find. Canada is entering a period of what may prove to be unrivalled expansion and rapid population growth. With this expansion she is assuming ever-widening responsibilities in a world clouded by the threat of war and sorely troubled by economic problems.

With this over-all picture in mind, it is plain that an inventory of the nation's manpower, natural resources and agricultural and industrial potentialities will prove of incalculable value, not only to the government, but to business and labor as well. It is, in a sense, an intelligence service by which national commitments may be made and the country's future gauged.

When the 18,000 enumerators take to the roads in June and census machinery starts to hum, Marshall and his assistants will be ready to assess the results of two years' intensive research and planning.

This business of census-taking is not merely a matter of counting heads, gathering vital statistics and so on. With each succeeding census new surveys have been made and the forthcoming count will again break new ground. For instance, a detailed study will be made for the first time of Canada's commercial fisheries and the country's irrigation projects will be covered thoroughly.

Every question to be asked has a bearing on basic social and economic conditions in the Dominion. Citizens are required by law to answer the questions on the census paper. But the information given is secret and may be used solely for the compilation of statistical facts.

The cost? Yes, it has gone up like everything else. It will probably be about $9,000,000. But it doesn't look so big when figured out at 65 cents a head.

THERE ARE in every community a certain number of grousers, men who like to criticize and complain. Grousing, if carried far enough and indulged in by enough people, can just about ruin a town, and the pity of it is that few towns are as bad as the grousers seem to think.

Great To Be A Canadian!

NEXT Wednesday, May 23, is Canadian Citizenship Day. In the House of Commons nearly a year ago, Prime Minister St. Laurent, with the concurrence of all the provincial Premiers, urged that on this date suitable exercises "be observed, both in schools and by public spirited organizations, in order that we may become more deeply conscious of our own citizenship and all that it implies". . . We hope to see this occasion fittingly noted by local organizations, and especially in the schools and youth movements of this community.

On this second observance of Citizenship Day, we can offer no more appropriate quotation than the following, entitled "What Is A Canadian", from the Kiwanis International Magazine :

"We are citizens of Canada, either by birth or by adoption and naturalization.

We are citizens of the Commonwealth.

Our skins may be brown, or yellow, or black or white, but we are Canadians.

Our name may be Podolski, Fraser, Wong, Spermanti, Dubois, Schmidt or Jones.

Our forefathers may have come from Glasgow, Prague, Tokyo, from Dublin, Bordeaux, Rotterdam or Newcastle.

We may be laborer, student, doctor, merchant or machinist.

Whatever we are, whatever our occupation, whatever our background, if we accept Canada as our country, and with it the democratic way of life, we are Canadians.

We have the right to speak freely, to worship freely, but with these rights we must learn our duties — to speak wisely, to worship wisely, to choose our leaders wisely.

We inherit, along with 14,000,000 other Canadians, a vast half continent, abounding in resources and opportunities for a good, healthy and a happy life.

We inherit two great cultures — the Anglo-Saxon and the French — and more than thirty others as well. We are creating out of these a new and growing Canadian culture.

We are at the dawn of great things, for us and our country.

It's great to be a Canadian."

COMMUNITY co-operation can receive a further boost if rural and town citizens put forth a special effort to become better acquainted with each other and work together for the good of all — says the Carrot River (Sask.) Observer.

Starlings A Pest In Trafalgar Square

By Sydney Brookes

London (Reuters) — London has been getting the bird in a big way, and Londoners don't like it, but don't know what to do about it.

The birds in the case are starlings — millions of 'em. Nobody knows why, but the starlings have taken a fancy to the Trafalgar Square section of London, long the exclusive preserve of the world's best-fed pigeon flock.

The starlings aren't horning in on the pigeons' pitch at the base of the Nelson monument. The pigeons still have the flock of grain-giving daytime tourists all to themselves.

The starlings move in about an hour before sunset.

Each night and morning from Trafalgar Square faces lift skyward out of the rush of traffic to see millions of them wheeling in massed flight as they come in to roost, or leave at dawn for their feeding grounds in the country.

It is thought they may be attracted by the warmth sent up from the city's streets and buildings, and the traffic.

Eight road traffic streams converge in Trafalgar Square. Below ground, five railway systems criss-cross at this meeting place for the city's 8,000,000 people, and send their ventilating exhausts upward.

The square makes its own climate — dusty, smoky, murky, but, doubtless, warmer than the outside world. The starlings are attracted to the surrounding buildings. They have adopted Trafalgar Square; and by sheer weight of numbers defy human ingenuity in its attempts to get rid of them.

Cursed as Pest

Health and building authorities curse them as a pest. They foul all the buildings. Their droppings become a menace to public health. Their noise, echoing over the city rooftops, interrupts work by day and slumber by night.

From the Square, as ever-greater numbers of the birds have discovered the amenities of London by night, the flights have spread out. They now roost along Whitehall, on Scotland Yard, on the Admiralty, on the National Art Galleries, on Charing Cross station. They even threaten the houses of parliament and Westminster Abbey.

Many solutions seem obvious, but everything thought-up so far would create fresh problems.

If poisoned grain were laid and the birds died over London, disposing of the bodies would create a huge problem for the city's sanitation squads.

One man wants to put up scarecrows and tin-cans. Another suggests that the fire brigade use gas jets to suffocate the starlings. Ferrets, it is suggested, could be let loose at night on the rooftops, or the Ministry of Agriculture could find some starling-eating owls.

One enthusiast proposed that low flying airplanes should trail nets across the Square, morning and night, to catch up whole flights at a time.

While admitting the shortcomings of his generation (the parents of today) Jas. W. McGibbon had a word in their defence — modestly impressing that the townsfolk and taxpayers had "done everything they knew how — given the best this community could offer", in order to equip this graduating class "to step out from school into the school of experience".

Principal Fred Royal had a comprehending reference to a "great ordeal" awaiting these departing pupils — the longest days of their life, in that period from June exams to August 1 when results would be announced. "Be busy bees — get yourselves something to do", he advised, in order to ease their anxiety. Over the past five years Principal Royal had watched closely over the development of this class of pupils, and it was with deep feeling that he bade them farewell and wished them happiness.

A presentation on behalf of the school hockey boys was made to Mr. J. C. Hawes, a member of the teaching staff and coach of the team this past season. Jim Campbell, team captain, did the honors.

A pleasurable period of dancing concluded the big occasion. To the music of the Westernaires orchestra from Montreal, the graduates and escorts set the ball rolling with the colorful Grand March. The school orchestra played in the intermission. Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria. The hall was tastefully decorated — all such details having been arranged by the Grade XI students themselves. And altogether, this gala date in the High School calendar was shared by the public in full measure.

The basis of Canadian prosperity is a high national income distributed with regard to individual contribution to production.

Prize Sensation — A Live Baby

More than 5,000 people milled around inside and outside a big Los Angeles super-market whose manager announced he was giving away a live baby and would give it a college education. The night of the give-away the market had on hand a Western band which led the assembled crowd in singing while awaiting the main event. Then out of the night a siren screamed and an ambulance skidded to a halt in front of the store. Out stepped a doctor and a nurse holding the precious bundle, all wrapped in blankets and dainty little clothes. The "baby" turned out to be a $100 pedigreed cocker spaniel puppy, and the promised college education was a training course at a kennel.

LEGION BINGO, TOMORROW (FRIDAY, 8.15 P.M.) AT LACHUTE AUDITORIUM

85th Birthday At Brownsburg

Brownsburg — On the evening of May 12, Mrs. William Tomalty was pleasantly surprised when about 40 relatives and friends gathered to express their good wishes for more happy years to be added to her already lengthy span. She was presented with a beautiful purse well filled with money.

Out-of-town guests were from Ottawa, Montreal and as far east as Lacolle, Que.

Mrs. Tomalty enjoys the best of health, and is alert to all the activities of life.

When I was in Paris last summer, I tried earnestly to make the messages on the postcards I sent friends back home short and personal. For a sculptress friend I chose a picture of the statue of the Venus de Milo, glorious in her unarmed, unclothed beauty, and on it wrote: "Naturally I thought of you when I saw this."

Some postal employee exercised his traditional right to read postcards, and when it was delivered, my message carried this enlivening postscript: "You must be quite a dame, Arline!" — From "Life's Like That" in Reader's Digest.

Thanks to Electors

At this time, I would like to take the opportunity to thank my supporters in my election as Mayor of the Municipality of Chatham.

At all times I will endeavor to improve the situations at hand, and I accept the responsibility the ratepayers have bestowed upon me, with the assistance of the councillors.

Again, many thanks,

— D. G. SIMON,
Mayor of Chatham.

Remerciements

Je profite de l'occasion pour remercier tous ceux qui m'ont aidé à l'élection civique, dans laquelle j'ai été élu maire de la municipalité de Chatham.

En tous temps je ferai mon possible d'améliorer les conditions actuelles, et j'accepte, avec la co-opération des conseillers, le mandat que les propriétaires m'ont confié.

Municipalité de Chatham.

County Convention Of Women's Institutes

homes and schools are organized, and the better we will face the future. Let us strengthen the weaklings in the community", said the president in her address.

The meeting was adjourned for the noon hour, and the ladies proceeded to the Legion Hall, where a tasty meal was served, the tables being decorated with spring flowers.

Among those seated at the head table were Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, county president; Mrs. Harvey, 2nd vice-president of Q.W.I.; Mrs. G. Leggett, hon. county president; Mr. W. M. After dinner, a pageant was presented by members of the Brownsburg W.I., entitled "The Dominion from Sea to Sea". This depicted the pioneer days in Canada, and the presentation was much enjoyed.

Returning to the club room for the afternoon session, the roll was called, with 175 present. The strength of the organization was further revealed in the fact that there are now 3,000 members in Quebec, enrolled in 100 branches.

Mrs. Harvey, 2nd vice-president of the Provincial Board, brought greetings from Mrs. Thompson, provincial president, who is having to resign from her position due to ill health. Mrs. Harvey expressed thanks from the Board for all the organized efforts assisted by this county, but specially urged the local Institutes to work for their own, to support the Service Fund, and to encourage School Fairs. . . The speaker congratulated Mrs. A. Graham for having won again, with an essay she had entered in the Tweedsmuir Competition.

The Argenteuil W.I.'s were invited to have their delegates present at Macdonald College on June 25 to meet with the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, who are holding their 17th Biennial Conference there from June 18 to 25.

Hundreds of Bird Species Are Native to Canada

EXPERT TELLS LORE OF BIRD-WATCHING

Percy Ghent
(in The Montreal Gazette)

When immense flocks of robins, cedar waxwings, warblers, thrushes, bluebirds and the various species of sparrows wing northward in the spring with scores of other bird species, they are returning to their native land.

A vast percentage of native North American birds nest and breed in Canada and spring is the time when their acquaintance can be made most easily. It is always interesting to make a check list to see how many you can identify.

This census-taking can yield surprising figures on occasion. On a spring trip sponsored by the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, a party of bird observers, amateur for the most part, registered a score of 143 species on a single day. They ranged from majestic eagles to tiny warblers, all seen in the woods and marshlands at Long Point, on Lake Erie, admittedly an ideal site, for it is on a recognized migration route.

But even in cities the score can be excellent when eyes and ears are trained to recognize plumage, flight habit and song. Cedarvale Ravine, cutting through a busy residential and business area of Toronto, was visited by a young naturalist a total of 500 times over six or seven years. His list of species observed reached a total of 167. Included were eagles and ospreys, herons and hawks, as well as the smaller birds from warblers and kinglets to cuckoos, sandpipers and wood peckers.

From Newfoundland to British Columbia, Canada at any time, and especially in spring time can be a wonderland of beauty, music and sustained interest for those who take up bird study in more than a casual way. And the number of such students grows rapidly year by year.

Like his gorgeous relative the blue jay, the Canada jay of modest black and grey plumage is a comedian. Life in many a lonely camp of the Canadian Northland is enlivened by the antics of the Canada jay, better known as the whiskey jack, the inevitable white man's adaptation of the Indian name, "wiskedjak".

A thieving clown, this jay is a "picker up of unconsidered trifles", trinkets of any shiny variety have an irresistible appeal for him. Even more astonishing is the jay's scope of appetite. Everything from old moccasins to shaving soap is grabbed for a meal.

Probably the finest singer of all native American birds, the mockingbird, is essentially a Southern species. Yet, for some years, pairs have been summer visitors to the Canadian shores of Lake Erie, especially the western end.

Canadian ornithologists report that stray pairs have been seen in Southern Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and in Southwestern British Columbia.

Whenever and wherever seen in Canada, the occurrence should be reported in as full detail as possible to the nearest available ornithologist. Evidence of the permanent settlement of mockingbirds in Canada would be of great value.

Municipal Affairs At Morin Heights

Morin Heights — At the regular meeting of Council for May, held in the Red Cross hall, all councillors were present, under the chairmanship of Mayor Charles D. Campbell. The Council were signally honored on this occasion by having with them Mr. J. C. Serault, Inspector Auditor from the Quebec Department of Municipal Affairs.

The meeting opened with the usual prayer, and the minutes of the previous meeting were approved, including a by-law bearing the number 57 for the Municipalization of Winter Roads, giving the Council more jurisdiction in the handling of this problem. . .There were two proprietors present, however, who had done their best to retard the by-law by circulating a petition, and it was proven during the evening, when the payment of the accounts was passed, that had it not been for the by-law these would have had to pay a portion of a bill presented, whereas with the by-law the Council had power to handle the matter. Councillor Max Baumel remarked it would appear that there were those who would criticize the Council no matter what was done for the benefit of the municipality, but usually such were the first to benefit by the legislation passed.

Mr. Kappler, Shell Company representative, was present to interest the Council in a weed-killer produced by his company, for destruction of weeds on the roadsides; he stressed its value to any municipality, in the saving of manpower over the hand-brushing method used in the past.

J. H. McMahon, the town auditor, gave an interesting resumé of the financial statement.

The Council decided to call all interested tradesmen to an informal meeting for discussion of a Business By-law, to be held Friday, May 25 at 8 p.m., so that their reactions or suggestions could be consjdered before any by-law upon this matter is written.

The Secretary read a letter from Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. for Argenteuil. This communication enclosed a letter received from the Hon. Romeo Lorrain, Minister of Public Works, stating that through Mr. Cottingham's efforts the Department would make a grant to the municipality of $10,000 as reimbursement for expenditure on fire system, equipment and fire station.

A resolution was passed expressing the Council's appreciation to Mr. Cottingham and the Hon. Minister of Public Works, and the thanks of all people in the municipality.

The question of having the front grounds of the Municipal Building sodded and sown with grass, was discussed and dealt with.

Approval by the Minister of Municipal Affairs was received for the adoption of Daylight Saving Time.

A letter from Mr. Hervé Gagnon was read, acceding to a request that Mr. Serault be present at this meeting. Mr. Serault thanked the Council on behalf of the Department which he represented, and said that they were willing at all times to do whatever they could to facilitate the affairs of any municipality. His department had followed with interest the growing advancement of this municipality, and he complimented the Morin Heights authorities for having adopted a suitable code system for their valuating and valuation roll. Mr. Serault further stated that they had recommended to the new municipality of Lac des Plages the adoption of a similar code system, and asked for permission to have the services of Mr. Green, the secretary, to assist Lac des Plages in this matter. Council agreed to this.

Mayor Campbell thanked Mr. Serault for being present, and asked him to convey to Mr. Gagnon, Chief Inspector Auditor, the gratitude of the Council for their assistance.

A request from the Banque Canadienne Nationale to open a branch office in Morin Heights, signed by the manager at Ste. Adele, stated that the Bank would like to rent a portion of the Municipal Building, presently occupied by the kindergarten classes of the Protestant school. The Council authorized the Mayor and the Secretary to sign a lease with the Bank if they made a final decision to open a branch here.

Reports of the Police Director and Fire Chief were read. It appeared that grass fires were causing the Fire Brigade to turn out unnecessarily. The Fire Chief also asked for a new stirrup pump, and that something be done about the platform at the top of the tower, as the present arrangement was not working satisfactorily. Authorization was given for immediate attention to this trouble.

The Council also acceded to a request from the Fire Chief that no parking be allowed for 60 feet from the centre of the Municipal Building and east and west of that point, as it impeded the fire engine from leaving the station to answer calls.

Office hours for corporation business were established from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. each weekday except holidays.

The Secretary reported that through the efforts of Mr. Cottingham the municipality were being given a new bridge and road at Christieville — that Mr. St. Arnaud, engineer, had been here with the proposed plans, and that he would be submitting a copy of these plans for information of the Council.

The Secretary asked for authority to proceed with the cleaning of the waterworks system; this was granted.

Councillor Willis Seale, roads commissioner, and Fred Kennedy municipal inspector, are to meet with the Secretary and arrange the financial allotment for each road division for the coming year.

For 50 years Canada has maintained one of the world's largest and best fisheries research institutions, the Fisheries Research Board.

Children and Flowers

— By NANCY CLEAVER — (Copyright)

"One of the gifts which my parents gave to me which I appreciate greatly, is a love of flowers", an older woman once told a friend.

"I am so thankful that as a small child I was allowed to help plant and care for bulbs for winter blooms, and flowers for the garden."

A gardening hobby is one which may be begun in very early years and can be enjoyed throughout life. The Seed Catalogue's arrival is a real event in many homes. The lovely colored pictures of vegetables and flowers are most attractive, even if they are almost too optimistic! A child can learn the names of many favorite flowers and also the different colors by playing a little game of finding flowers or colors with an older member of the family.

When mother and dad are making plans on paper for the garden, if there is a small boy or girl in the family, do include the child in the discussion! If at all possible, promise the child a small piece of land for his very own. Let him draw his own plans. Make a few suggestions of vegetables and flowers which are easy to grow. If seeds are started indoors, let the youngster help in caring for them, turning the boxes toward the light and watering the plants.

Flowers make a very special appeal to girls, but boys, too, may be quite proud of the flowers they have grown themselves. Lessons of finishing up on a task, carefulness and patience, may be all learned in gardening. It is good, too, for a child to feel that he has his own share in this family enterprise.

The ability to arrange flowers in an artistic way is a real art. Many people make the mistake of crowding too many flowers into one vase. A mother who has a knowledge of flower arrangements can teach her daughter how to make a pretty table centre. Anyone who wants to learn more about flower arrangement may find information at a public library.

Children love to pick flowers for a shut-in friend, or for someone who has shown them special kindness. A small boy or girl should have the opportunity to discover the joy which comes from giving others pleasure. A mother, who had sent her little girl to an invalid with a bouquet of sweet peas from the garden said to her daughter when she returned home, "Smell your fingers". The small girl immediately noticed the faint but lovely perfume of the sweet peas. The mother said to her: "A kind act done to another person, whether it is giving flowers or anything else, always leaves some fragrance on the fingers of the giver."

"A" For Asparagus

"A" is for asparagus, the first of the spring vegetables. The home economists of the Consumer Section tell us that it is the first new vegetable which starts the canning season and the freezing season as well. They also tell us that it is actually a native of Europe and was one of the favorite vegetables of the ancient Romans. Canadians eat only the spears of asparagus but in some other parts of the world the seeds are used to make a beverage resembling coffee.

Asparagus, once planted, is one of the few spring callers in the garden that shoots up uninvited, uninvited but always welcome. This perennial plant requires two years of cultivation before a crop may be harvested. Once planted it is a hardy guest which calls for little service, other than room service, that is, space to grow, with no competition from weeds.

Mary Washington or Martha Washington are the most common varieties grown in Canada. However, no matter which variety consumers buy there are certain points that should be watched. First of all, the asparagus should be a good green color, and it should be crisp and moist. Often, as asparagus gets older the tips open up and tend to dry out so it is well to look for stalks which have compact tips. When asparagus is being prepared for cooking it should be washed very thoroughly, being careful to remove any dirt which may be hidden under the scales which are found clustered on the stalks. Actually, these scales may be removed if necessary. The tough ends of the stalks should be broken off because the butt end is usually quite woody. For cooking, the asparagus should be tied in a bundle and placed upright in a small amount of boiling salted water and cooked until tender, about 10 minutes. If a pressure cooker is used the asparagus should be cooked at 15 pounds pressure for 1 to 2 minutes.

Any family would enjoy these tender green stalks when they are served hot with a cheese sauce, a cream sauce or with just a little lemon-butter. If any of the stalks are left-over they are wonderful to cut up in salads or they may be served on lettuce with mayonnaise. Asparagus sandwiches, either rolled or plain, are another popular way of using this attractive green vegetable.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, say that the best start for canning asparagus is an early one, particularly for those who have an asparagus patch in their garden. Insure the quality of canned asparagus by starting early in the morning to speed the tender young stalks on their way into clean, hot jars or bright clean cans. Prepare asparagus for canning in the same manner as it would be prepared for cooking, being sure that the asparagus is cut in lengths to fit whatever type of container that is to be used. The asparagus should be tied in uniform bundles and allowed to stand upright in sufficient boiling water to come halfway up the stalks. It should then be covered and brought to the boil and allowed to boil for 3 minutes. After the 3 minutes boiling, the asparagus should be removed from the water and packed hot into the container. All the tips should be up, except the 3 stalks for the centre, which should be placed with the tips down. One-half teaspoon of salt should be added to each pint sealer or 20-ounce can or, if quart sealers are used, 1 teaspoon of salt should be added. The asparagus should then be covered with boiling water, allowing ½-inch headspace in glass sealers and ¼-inch in tin cans. Pressure canning is the only really safe way of canning vegetables although some homemakers can vegetables in a boiling water bath with success. When canning asparagus in a pressure canner thirty minutes at 10 pounds pressure should be given pint jars or 20-ounce cans, and 35 minutes for quart sealers or 28-ounce cans.

Most everyone who is fortunate enough to own a home freezer or is able to rent frozen food lockers, naturally wants to freeze asparagus, for use throughout the year. Once the stalks are all washed, cleaned and cut in uniform lengths for freezing they should be blanched, that is partially cooked, in boiling water allowing 4 minutes for large stalks and 3 minutes for medium stalks. After the blanching is completed, the asparagus should be cooled immediately in ice water. When the asparagus packed and sealed in cartons so is completely cooled it should that no moisture will be lost during the time the asparagus is in storage. The cartons should then be frozen immediately.

The Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, has excellent booklets on the canning and freezing of Canadian fruits and vegetables. An person who would like these booklets may obtain either or both of them, free of charge.

Graduate Nurse Is Bride In Church Ceremony

Stewart - Sly

The marriage of Evelyn Janet Sly, R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Sly, of Lachute, to Mr. Frederick M. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron L. Stewart, of Hemmingford, Que., took place at Lachute United Church on Saturday, May 12, at 3.30 p.m., with the Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiating. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Kenneth McOuat. Mr. Eric Arnott, cousin of the bridegroom, as soloist sang "The Lord's Prayer" immediately before the ceremony, and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Phyllis Hartland, R.N., as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Lloyd Parker and the ushers were Mr. Edgar Sutherland, brother-in-law of the groom, and Mr. Gordon Sly, brother of the bride. Baskets of gladioli decorated the church.

The bride wore a semi-formal gown of white brocaded satin made with fitted bodice, Queen Anne collar, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and a full skirt. She wore a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a bandeau of pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Pinocchio roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The bridesmaid wore a semi-formal gown of dusty pink tissue faille, having a high neck, winged collar, fitted bodice, three-quarter length dolman sleeves, with a pink headdress and grey accessories. She carried a cascade bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and mauve sweet peas.

The bride's mother wore a rose crepe dress with navy accessories and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress with navy and white accessories and a corsage of light pink roses.

A reception was held in the United Church hall, where the floral decorations were gladioli and sweet peas, the bridal table being centred with the wedding cake.

Later the happy couple left by plane for Calgary, Banff and other points in the Rockies, the bride wearing a pink-lilac gabardine suit, navy blue accessories and a corsage of pink and white sweet peas.

On their return they will reside in Montreal.

Annual Course in Leadership Training

Final plans have been completed for the annual short course in Leadership Training, sponsored by the Quebec Women's Institutes, at Macdonald College, May 28 to June 1, and applications arriving at the provincial office would indicate a full enrollment of 40.

The class in Leatherwork, under Miss Frances Wren, Handicraft Department, Macdonald College, is now filled and only a few vacancies remain in the classes in Sewing, Advanced Weaving and Rug-Making, under the Q.W.I. technicians Miss F. E. Campbell and Miss Ida R. Bruneau, and Mrs. A. W. Perkins.

Practical courses in Gardening, by Mr. D. W. Pettit, Dept. of Horticulture at the College, the Use of Color in the Home, by Miss Campbell, and a discussion on Civil Defence, by Major Blacer, Montreal, are new features added this year, while items being repeated by popular request include the demonstration on Poultry by Prof. W. A. Maw of that Department, Learning to Operate a 16 mm. Projector, and the evening series, "Running the Organization", by members of the staff of the Adult Education Service.

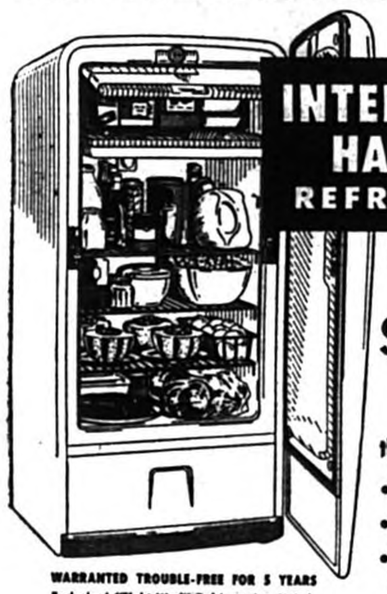

The course is financed by a generous grant from the Provincial Department of Agriculture and the Q.W.I. Service Fund, which is maintained by voluntary contributions from the members.

CULINARY MASTERPIECE

Montreal — An ornate 100-pound cake in the form of a detailed model of the 83,700-ton Cunarder Queen Elizabeth was shipped to England recently from New York for exhibition during the Festival of Britain.

Measuring four feet from stem to stern, and 18 inches high, the cake was baked by Reginald Guest, chief confectioner of the Queen Elizabeth. The over-size cake required 80 man-hours during three voyages to complete. Mr. Guest, holder of numerous first prizes for his artistic work, was assisted by Anthony Wright, a student cook aboard the Queen Elizabeth. Mr. Wright made numerous sketches of the Queen Elizabeth, which were carefully followed by the chief confectioner to reproduce on a small scale the considerable amount of detail in the prototype. Every detail from keel to masthead — including insertion of some 1,400 portholes — was reproduced in the cake.

Scout-Guide Rally Big Event for Young Fry

Third Annual Field Day Shows Vitality Of Scouting Movement in Laurentian Division

The weather man smiled last Saturday afternoon on the Annual Rally of the Boy Scouts, Wolf Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies — the third such occasion held at the Lachute Exhibition Grounds.

Almost all units of the Laurentian District were on hand to participate in the various events, which in several instances were bigger and better than last year's.

Among the guests of honor were W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. for Argenteuil, who welcomed the assembly; Gil Wheeler, Boy Scouts' District Commissioner, Eastern District, Montreal; Miss Lilian Poltrick, Field Commissioner for Cubs, Montreal District; John MacGregor, Provincial Field Commissioner, Montreal; Miss T. E. Pattison, Division Commissioner, Girl Guides; Mrs. Wm. J. Hyde, Quebec Provincial Commissioner, Girl Guides; and C. E. Richardson, President, Laurentian District Council, Lachute.

The Rally Committee was headed by A. B. Waller, chairman, and A. R. Todd, secretary, both of Brownsburg.

King's Scout Certificates, the highest honor in Scouting, were presented to five Scouts of the Ste. Rose Troop and three members of the Brownsburg Troop (Ernest Zimmer, Robert Warwick and George Pasco).

District President C. E. Richardson read a letter of appreciation to Charles L. Duncan, retired District Commissioner of the Laurentian District, and presented Mr. Duncan with a club bag on behalf of the Laurentian Council. (Mr. Duncan was obliged to retire from his duties owing to ill health). Text of the testimonial was as follows:

"Dear Mr. Duncan: We, the members of the Laurentian District Council, members of the Canadian Girl Guides' Association and all Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies associated with the Lachute Rally, have felt that we owe to you a very great debt of gratitude; and we pause for a few moments at this our Third Annual Rally to try and express to you the thanks and appreciation that we so sincerely feel.

"As we look back to the First Lachute Rally in 1949, we see you as its head in the capacity of District Commissioner. Your experience in Scouting, as well as in other fields of labor closely associated with it, your outstanding qualities of personality and leadership, made it a tremendous success. And we rejoice with you that you were able to give so much happiness to so many people. As Commissioner, Instructor, Scout and Friend, you have given of your best and won our highest admiration, our respect, affection and gratitude.

"Gladly, sir, do we delight to honor you today. We sincerely ask that you will accept this address and accompanying gift as a small token of our feelings that no words can adequately express.

"Our earnest prayer is that God's richest blessings may abundantly rest upon you and yours, and that you may long be spared to see and enjoy the further development of this great work which is so dear to your heart."

A new Cub Pack from Grenville was welcomed to the Rally; also a new Scout Troop from Laval West.

Industrial Arts Display At Lachute High School

Parents and friends are invited to an Industrial Arts display at Lachute High School on Tuesday, May 29, from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Work executed by the boys of Grades VI to IX, inclusive, under tuition of Mr. Harry Salisbury, specialist in this department, will be on view for interested observers.

Demonstration Feature at Lions' Weekly Drawing

Winner of the radio in last Friday's weekly Lions Club drawing, was Mrs. G. Indanes, who is employed at the summer residence of General Walford on Rural Route 7, Lachute. The ticket was sold by Nelson Carriere, of Brownsburg.

A feature of this event was a public demonstration of the police radio equipment, an example of community benefits made possible by Lions Club funds. Amplified at the automobile stand on Main Street, voices of several citizens were heard over the police two-way communiciation system — including W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A.; Stewart Jones, Rotary Club president; Leopold Carriere, ex-Mayor and chairman of the raffle committee; Fernand Legault, chairman of the Catholic School Board; and Linton Armstrong, secretary of the Protestant Central School Board.

Fish Conservation At Lake Louisa

Netting of fish under the eyes of the law, in the Laurentian lakes of this well supervised area, is as strange a sight as one would expect to see. But that is what happened, in the view of two or three dozen spectators at Lake Louisa last week-end.

The fish were suckers; and the manoeuvre was prompted by residents aiming to reduce the number of these offenders which prey on the spawn of trout and game fish in the fall season.

The sucker — that ugly-visaged specimen familiar to all fishermen — spawns in the spring, unlike its more desirable fellows in Laurentian waters. Around an inlet at the north-east side of Lake Louisa these fish have been swarming in the past week or so; and through Game Warden Leslie Bates, special permission of the Department of Game and Fisheries was given to raid this spawning bed and net the suckers. So (under Bates' personal supervision, to ensure that no game fish were removed in the operation), a net was hauled in twice last Sunday, and the whole disgusting lot were suckers — 300 pounds of them!

Successful Students at Macdonald College

B.Sc. (Household Economics) First Year—Miss C. A. Dunn, Lakefield.
B.Sc. (Household Economics), Second Year — Miss J. McArthur.*

Boys' Potato Club Started in Arundel

Around 20 boys in the Arundel district have started growing Green Mountain potatoes.

Each boy has been provided with 12 pounds of certified seed, and the County Agronomist, Alex Bothwell, gave the members a demonstration on cutting and planting their seed. Each boy was also provided with a bulletin giving instructions on cultivation and spraying the potatoes during the summer months.

The boys will exhibit samples of their crop at the Arundel School Fair in the month of September. This children's fair is being organized under the Arundel Women's Institute.

A Freak Deer — She Gets Around

(Our District Correspondent)

Cushing W. — Last Saturday on their farm in Cushing West, Mrs. C. Fraser Watson watched a young doe come up from the river and travel across the farm. The animal had one characteristic rare to the deer family — a long bushy tail, marking it almost as a freak among the species. When Mr. Fraser Watson arrived home at noon, he reported having seen a doe of the same description and peculiarity which crossed the road in front of his truck Friday morning on the Kilmar Road, some 15 miles distant.

Fed'l - Provincial Talks On Old Age Pensions

"THE WEEK IN QUEBEC"
By Bernard Dufresne

Quebec, May 22 (CP) — Premier Duplessis returned from a short vacation this week and immediately set off for Ottawa to attend Federal-Provincial talks on old age pensions.

Chief item on the conference agenda was a constitutional amendment to give the Federal Government power to deal with old age pensions. Justice Minister Garson announced in Ottawa some time ago that Quebec and several other provinces have agreed on the wording of a constitutional amendment that would give the Federal Government such power.

The problem of another constitutional amendment to authorize the provinces to levy an indirect sales tax of three per cent to pay their share of pensions, has been set aside for the present.

The plan calls for a $40-monthly old age pension to persons 65 to 69 after means test. The Federal Government and the provinces would share equally in the cost. A $40-monthly pension to persons 70 and more without means test, paid for by the Federal Government alone.

London — About $18 million worth of bicycles and motor cycles were exported by the U.K. during the first quarter of 1951 — an increase of $2.36 million on the 1950 average.

Safety Conference and Dinner Attended By Executives and Keymen of Industry

The annual conference promoting the interests of industrial safety, was held here Tuesday in the form of a dinner meeting at the Hotel Laurentien — for which E. E. L'Abbée, field organizer of the Quebec Association for the Prevention of Industrial Accidents, had made necessary plans and preparations.

There were approximately 80 industrial executives and supervisors present from this district.

The gathering was under chairmanship of Philippe G. Roy, manager of Dominion Shuttle Co. Ltd., and seated at the head table were the speakers, T. H. Miller and Paul Cooke, acting general manager and assistant general manager, respectively, of the Association; Philippe Valois, M.P.; W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A.; H. M. Sherwood, works manager of Brownsburg C-I-L; Leopold Carrière, president of Lachute Lumber, Ltd.; Stanley Holt, pro-mayor; and Roger Régimbal, personnel director of Ayers Limited.

Mr. Miller spoke in English, and Mr. Cooke in French, citing the local statistics on industrial accidents, which showed a slight improvement. Questionnaires were distributed during the gathering, upon which an open forum was conducted. A film was also shown, entitled "The Human Factor", which dealt with factory operations and effective supervision for accident prevention.

Driver Gets Fine, Permit Suspended

SEQUEL TO TRAGEDY ON MONTREAL HIGHWAY

Euclide Desforges, of Lachute Mills, driver of the car in the recent dual fatality on the Montreal highway, was sentenced before Justice Herman Barrette at St. Jerome on Friday — receiving suspension of his driving permit for three years, and a fine of $50 and costs. The judge imposed the maximum penalty provided by law on a reckless driving charge.

Killed in the accident, the first major mishap here this spring season, were Willie and Noel Giroux, aged 31 and 18. The Giroux brothers were riding in a truck which was contacted by the passing car on a curve at East Settlement. Both vehicles catapulted from the highway, the truck crashing into a tree. . . A coroner's jury subsequently held Desforges "criminally responsible".

The Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada, which met in Quebec for its 16th annual convention, turned down a resolution that Canada should adopt a flag distinct from any other. The National Chamber had previously approved the principle of a national flag. The resolution was introduced jointly by the Junior Chambers of Beauharnois and Levis.

Conviction at St. Jerome Court

In court at St. Jerome last Friday Justice Herman Barrette gave sentence in the case of Denise Bell, Registered Nurse and Doctor of Chiropractic, convicted of having "practised medicine without a license". The accused, who has conducted business as a chiropractor in Lachute for the past few months, was defendant in an action taken by the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

The judge stated that the judiciary did not make the laws; the laws were there for the judge to interpret and apply. Accordingly he imposed a sentence of costs and $50 fine, or 26 days in jail. Denise Bell, who had no legal counsel, declined the offer of extended time for payment of the fine; she also rejected the offer of colleagues to bail her out, electing to go to jail in substantiation of her principles.

Golf Club Has 750 Membership

PLANS LAID FOR SEASON, ANNUAL MEETING HELD

The annual general meeting of Lachute Golf and Country Club was held at the clubhouse last Thursday, May 17, with a representative attendance, and the president, Gilbert E. Ayers, occupying the chair.

The usual pattern of business was dealt with, relative to golfing activities of the Club for the current season, and the following playing officers were elected:

Match & Handicap Committee

Captain, Art Lapp.

Assistant Captains, K. W. McGibbon, Ralph FitzGerald, E. Snadden, Jimmy Campbell, Bill Steeves.

Publicity Committee

A. Ord Anderson was again elected chairman — the committee being made up of the above-named captain and assistant captains.

Entertainment Committee

The following ladies — Mrs. C. E. Richardson, Mrs. H. Sherwood, Mrs. George Tattersfield, Mrs. J. Martin and Mrs. Jim MacKimmie. . Representing the men's group — Ralph FitzGerald and Ian Gordon.

Mr. Ayers thanked all those who had worked on the various committees in the past; he congratulated the new slate of officers and wished them every success.

The president also reported that he expects the "Annual Open" to be an outstanding success again this year; the feature attraction at this tournament will be Ben Hogan, who is considered to be one of the best, if not the leading golfer in the world today.

Jack Archer, the Club professional, reported that the course is in excellent playing condition.

The Lachute Golf and Country Club has made great advancement in the past few years and may now be considered among the best courses of Canada. The clubhouse facilities are second to none in the Dominion, and everything possible is being done to create an atmosphere of comfort and congeniality for the members. Clubhouse and dining room facilities are under the capable management of Roger Gravel. Also at the Club this year, there is a new and efficient staff under supervision of the Steward, R. Joubin. (Members wishing any arrangements of the dining room for special occasions, are asked to contact Mr. Joubin, who will gladly give the matter his attention.)

President, G. E. Ayers.
Vice-President, Thos. Milnes.
Directors, R. C. Rogers, Geo. Tattersfield, Leonard Bedard, Fernand Legault, C. H. Rhodes, E. M. Jones, Laurier Carriere, Dr. Jules Lafleur, Philippe Valois, Bert Rigg and Oswald Carriere.
Hon. Treasurer, A. G. Leggett.
Secretary, Chas. L. Duncan.
Auditors, H. Underhill, P. G. Roy.
Club Manager, Roger Gravel.

Big Developments Noted in West-End Sports Facilities

Growth of Mills Community Reflected in Fine Sports Grounds and Organization

A simple item in these pages recently, to the effect that floodlights were being installed at the west-end ball park, gave little idea of the extent of the undertaking. Actually, the size of this job is apparent only to those around the scene, for it is a $20,000 project. Some of the facts are interesting. . .

Steel being unavailable for the light-standards, it was necessary to bring 10 poles of B.C. spruce, 80 feet long, from the far west, at a delivered cost of approximately $300 apiece. The tall forest-giants are being sunk at the base 10 feet deep, resting in rock and concrete. Due to water seepage, forms have to be built in the excavations, in which to pour the concrete. Strata of earth and concrete are then laid until the hole is filled, thus giving stability to these immense poles.

The light-standards are set outside the fences, so as to cause no obstruction in the park, and when completed (within another two weeks) they will carry 120 high-powered lamps.

A mobile crane from Dominion Shuttle Co. is used to erect the poles. The entire job is being executed by Ayers Limited work crews and electricians, and the cost is being borne by the Company, with the possibility that "l'Association de la Jeunesse Sportive" (the organization sponsoring local baseball in the Laurentian League) will ultimately acquire this installation.

Big Improvements

Further improvements are noted at the ball park, where the stadium has been finished with waterproof plywood; and a spectator stand is being built adjacent to this, to accommodate 400 children. It is expected later to construct a bandstand for the Ayers instrumentalists.

With the park re-seeded this spring, and all these improvements under way, it might look as if Lachute now needed only — the players! However, no detail has been neglected in the line-up either — and if Lachute's representation in the Laurentian Senior Baseball League is all that we have heard it to be, then this town may expect bigger things this season than it has ever yet aspired to.

At Ayers Recreation Centre

Meanwhile, a big program is afoot at the Recreation Centre, where the swimming pool will be freshly painted and ready for a popular season opening about June 15 (after school duties have been conscientiously completed!) The restaurant at the swimming pool, blown down in a windstorm last fall, has been rebuilt, and work will be in progress this week on two new tennis courts. There are also plans to install shuffleboard courts.

Meanwhile the Company softballers are warming up, and the industrial leagues will be in formation to start their schedules shortly. . .

Altogether an interesting outlook for the west-end working community, and for the many fans and participants around town who share these fine facilities initiated by, and centering around, the Ayers industries.

Programs for Community Concerts Are Tentatively Selected for Next Season

OVER 600 ENROLLED FOR MEMBERSHIP

The annual membership campaign of the Lachute Community Concerts Association ended successfully last Saturday night. Jacques Bedard, campaign chairman, states that when all reports have been received from outside points, the total enrolment will exceed 600. While this is slightly less than last year, it is still sufficient to enable the organization to plan four concerts next season.

A meeting was held Saturday night with two representatives from the New York office, for the purpose of choosing the artists for next season. While these arrangements have yet to be officially confirmed, one of the concerts is expected to feature the Columbia Canadian Trio — Miss Joan Rowland, pianist, Miss Betty-Jean Hagen, violinist, and William Hossack, cellist. These Canadian-born musicians offer a program of trios, duos and solos — a variety concert of proven musical talent. Another concert will be the Columbia Operatic Trio, consisting of Miss Helen George, soprano, William Upshaw, tenor, and Carlos Sherman, baritone. This too will be a variety concert with solo arias, duets and trios. The third concert will be the internationally-known harpist, Miss Mildred Dilling. "Queen of her domain", she has played in every state of the Union, in Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Hawaii, Britain and Europe. This promises to be a rare treat of entertainment. The fourth event will be a piano recital by Ervin Laszlo, a very young Hungarian-born artist who recently created a sensation in New York. Life magazine said, "The music critics nearly jumped out of their seats."

When the dates and all other arrangements have been officially confirmed, members of the Association will be individually advised, well in advance of the first concert.

Rotary "Adventure In Citizenship"

LACHUTE YOUTH IS GUEST IN NOVEL PROGRAM

A phomising young Lachute High School student, Kenneth Trickey (Lakefield) has been in Ottawa this week as a guest of the Rotary Club in a so-called "Adventure in Citizenship".

This novel venture, sponsored by Ottawa Rotary with the co-operation of other branches of the Club throughout the Dominion, has brought together during the past four days selected high school students from various parts of Canada, for a round of sight-seeing in Ottawa and first hand observation of the Government of their country in operation.

The four days' program has included a visit to the House of Commons while in session, a call upon His Excellency the Governor General at Government House, meeting cabinet ministers and members of Parliament at social gatherings, participation in group discussions led by prominent educationalists, and finally the receiving of Certificates of Canadian Citizenship at the hands of the Prime Minister, the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent.

The young guests have been shown the Capital's scenic driveways, the Central Experimental Farm, National Art Gallery, the several museums, and have inspected the large scale model of the National Capital of the Future.

During their stay the young visitors have been guests of the Ottawa Rotary, many of them in the homes of Rotarians. The delegates were selected by their schools, in branch Rotary Club areas, and travel arrangements were made by the local clubs.

To help people who arrive at the Festival of Britain with their dogs (which are not admitted) the National Canine Defence League have provided a $3,000 mobile kennel near the entrance.

New Colors for the Coldstream Guards

As Colonel-in-Chief of the Regiment, the King recently presented new colors to the First and Second Battalions of the Coldstream Guards. The ceremony took place at Windsor on the golf course below the east terrace of the Castle. The two battalions, with their bands, were inspected by His Majesty the King. Gatineau LINES

The 24th of May

The 24th of May — variously known as Victoria Day or Empire Day—is one of the oldest national holidays we Canadians observe. From the day when the Fathers of Confederation welded the scattered sections of this country into a whole, we have in various ways observed this date in holiday mood.

At first glance, the distribution of electric power may not seem to have much to do with Victoria Day, and yet there is a rather interesting connection between the two. The holiday was originally named in honor of Queen Victoria — and the death of Queen Victoria in 1901 came just when the electrical industry as we know it today was being born.

It is amazing to consider the vast changes which electricity has brought to our way of life in just one-half century. When Queen Victoria died, lighting by electricity was a new-found wonder, available to few people. The first electric street railway was just about to go into operation. Electric cooking, electric water heating, electric cleaning were unknown. The first long-distance telephone call was just being made. Electricity in industry — with all the advantages of production which it was to bring — was hardly more than a dream. Radios weren't even in the dreaming stage.

Electricity has made tremendous changes around the world in the 50 years since Victoria's time — and nowhere have those changes been so marked than in our own Province of Quebec. Today Quebec stands as an electrical giant, producing more than half the power generated in Canada, which in turn is one of the world's most highly electrified nations.

Probably the Gatineau River provides one of the most revealing indications of the changes which 50 years have brought. Just half a century ago, the first power plant on the Gatineau went into operation. The entire output of the plant wouldn't be enough to supply the needs of a single domestic customer today! And Gatineau Power now has 66,000 customers, many of them industries using tremendous amounts of power to give employment to thousands of people.

Today the river produces more than 500,000 horsepower of electricity in three plants of Gatineau Power. The water is controlled by giant Mercier Dam — its 1,200-foot length and 100 foot height makes it one of the largest in the world — built by Gatineau Power to make pleasant electrical living in a large part of Quebec.

SAYS YOUTH IS PAID TOO MUCH ATTENION

Winnipeg (CP) — Bring up your children like hothouse flowers and they'll wilt later in the outside world, says Rev. Thomas Saunders.

The pastor of Chalmers United Church here said in a sermon, he thought adults did too much for young people, paid them too much attention. Too much publicity was given to young people in sports and society news. It was out of proportion to their place in the community.

This made them feel much more important than they really were. Some day they were going to receive a great shock. Said the minister: "We are not preparing our youth adequately for the future. We are allowing them to experience more life than is due at their age."

Personal income and income of corporations have gone up in the same proportion since 1939. Both have been multiplied by three.

Animal Disease Control Federal Dept. Display At Lachute Spring Fair

Ottawa — Strong eradication and control measures have freed Canada of the most destructive and highly contagious animal diseases. But two important enemies — Brucellosis (contagious abortion) and Tuberculosis — still plague the cattle producer.

And the battle to retain and widen control of animal diseases continues. The health and economic welfare of everyone in this country is concerned.

For these diseases are not only a burden on the livestock industry, a vital source of food and revenue, they often are communicable to man.

Because of this communicability of many animal diseases, no national health program can be successful unless the control of animal diseases is a success.

Both Brucellosis and Tuberculosis are responsible for large financial losses to the livestock industry and both are communicable.

Information on these two important and diseases will be placed before the public this year in a Canada Department of Agriculture booth at the Lachute and Ormstown Exhibitions. The exhibit is designed to show the nature and forms of Brucellosis and Tuberculosis and to indicate how the department is carrying on its control program.

The Health of Animals Branch, Department of Agriculture, at present has under test for T.B. about 6.4 million or 77 per cent of Canada's 8.3 million head of cattle. The program is carried on through a system of testing and the slaughter of infected animals. Its success to date is indicated by the fact that 3.3 million head of cattle now are in accredited areas.

An area is accredited when, on the last general test prior to accreditation, it shows an infection of less than one-half of one per cent.

A total of 89,000 head of cattle are under supervision for Brucellosis control in Canada. Some 57,000 of them are listed as Brucellosis free.

T.B. testing covers more than 1.5 million cattle in Quebec. And more than one million of them now are in accredited areas. It is significant that some of these areas which now are accredited showed, on the initial test, infection as high as 25 per cent. Brucellosis testing covers 9,000 head of cattle in Quebec.

One Dairy Farmer For Every 32 People

Toronto, Ont. — "When 430,000 dairy farmers must supply dairy foods for more than 14 million people, as is the case in Canada today, the preservation and expansion of the dairying industry becomes a matter of the utmost importance to Canadians", says Gilbert McMillan, President of the Dairy Farmers of Canada.

"This works out to one dairy farmer for every 32 people", continued Mr. McMillan. "Add to that the fact that the dairy cattle population on our dairy farms is decreasing with alarming rapidity, and the seriousness of this situation for our citizens is apparent".

Among the remedies suggested by Mr. McMillan is that of building a greater consumer demand for dairy products. "Even if we get a price that permits profitable production, we must also have the outlet for the sale of all we can produce. It is these factors that will encourage the producer to remain in business", he said.

Through its advertising and sales promotion program, the Dairy Foods Service Bureau is helping to increase the demand for dairy foods thus creating a greater domestic market for an increased production. The program is being continued with the help of the fund built by the June Advertising Set-Aside. This is made by each dairy farmer permitting one cent per pound of butterfat sold in June to be set aside for advertising purposes. Last year, more than $300,000 was set aside by dairy farmers across Canada. The general satisfaction with the first six months of the campaign, as expressed by farm groups across the country, indicates that this year's set-aside will substantially exceed last year's total.

Fredricton, N.B. (CP) — Plans for pasture competitions on a county basis were announced here by Agriculture Minister A. C. Taylor. They are part of New Brunswick's pasture improvement program for the coming season.

Annual Meetings of Provincial Orange Lodge

Annual meetings of the Provincial Loyal Orange Association and the L.O.B.A. of the Province of Quebec were held in Montreal last Friday and Saturday. There was a good attendance of members from all parts of the province, and special visitors from Ontario. The Grand Master, Nelson Morrison, and Grand Mistress, Sister Price, presided at their respective meetings. Many from Argenteuil County took part in the proceedings.

Grand Master, W. E. Atkins, of Bury; Dep. Grand Master, E. S. Heatherington, of Sawyerville; Jr. Dep. Grand Master, L. Tomalty; chaplain, Rev. G. T. Spriggs; secretary J. Pynn; treasurer R. M. Butler.

The L.O.B.A. re-elected most of their officers.

It is expected that the next meeting will be held at Bristol, Ont., in May 1952.

Juggling the Seasons

THERE'S a squeeze play in Canadian sport — and summer sports are caught in the middle.

When the amateur hockey season carries on almost to mid-May, as it did this year, we think it's time that sport fans, and players too, took time out for a little thinking on the situation.

Judging by the small crowds, the fans aren't enthusiastic about watching hockey titles decided when the baseball season is under way and the sports-minded are thinking more of fishing, golf and tennis than of skating.

To illustrate, the final game of the Alexander Cup major hockey series drew only 2,787 devotees to Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens to see Valleyfield Braves win the title by defeating Toronto St. Michael's Monarchs.

Coach Toe Blake of the Braves had this pertinent comment:

"The series should have been wound up weeks ago. Gosh, they're well into baseball and everyone's thinking of golf and other sports".

Winter sports are not only lapping over into late spring; they're starting up in the fall before the baseball season is finally wrapped up and often before the first frost has put a nip in the air.

The National Hockey League got under way last year on October 11, with a 70-game schedule, 10 games more than previously. Football teams already are scouting the field for new players for autumn campaigns. The punters and passers will be in action within a few (relatively speaking) weeks. The Interprovincial Rugby Football Union starts its schedule this year on August 29 — little more than three months away.

If this trend goes on — and the spread of artificial ice rinks is helping — the traditional summer pastimes like baseball, tennis, swimming, fishing and the rest may find themselves in competition with fall and winter sports.

We don't see the sense of stretching the hockey season into the lap of the warm weather. But there's one sure remedy. If that's the way sportsgoers feel, all they have to do is to stay away from May-time hockey games. Once the pinch is felt at the box office, the sports moguls will get the idea fast.

Maybe it's a good idea; maybe it's a bad idea. It's up to the players and the spectators to decide.

ONLY when citizens are aware of the fact that they, personally, have to pay for the cost of government and governmental services do they realize that they, personally, have responsibility in seeing to it that government is operated efficiently.

A WORD of caution is needed. . . As golfers take their drivers in the back yard for swings, as fishermen tramp along the streams, as gardeners rake and stoop with more zeal than usual — it is well to remind them to "take it easy".

MAYOR P. Horace Boivin of Granby is reported to have said the placid Quebecer will have to say goodbye to his traditional rocking chair if he wants his province to have its share of new industries. . . Rocking chairs as such can easily be interchanged with swivel chairs. Industrialists mostly use swivel chairs.

Echo of John Fisher

"EDMONTON now looks like any place in Texas. Even the kids are acquiring a drawl". . . "The Americans have taken over the Canadian oil industry".

— Such comments slip easily and often through Western Canada conversations these days, says the Financial Post, echoing a conviction voiced by John Fisher, in a memorable address at the High School here last year. (Remember, he asserted we Canadians lacked confidence and initiative in the opportunities of this great country?)

What's the truth? — asks the Financial Post. Have Canadians been too slow on the draw to realize and participate in Canada's newest industry?

Well, the Americans are betting $132 millions this year that they will find more oil in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. That's an official estimate of U.S. participation in Western Canada's oil development for 1951. It gives the U.S. 60% of the $220 millions which it is estimated will be spent on exploration and development this year.

Quotations Misquoted

"FREEDOM", a weekly paper published in Wellington, New Zealand, puts us right on a few familiar quotations. Read them, but never again refer to "A needle in a haystack", the proper quotation is: "A needle in a bottle of hay"! Time has changed many of these quotations, perhaps in some cases the old is better than the new:

"He who hesitates is lost" is a misquotation of Joseph Addison's "The woman that deliberates is lost".

People say "Cool as a cucumber", when Beaumont and Fletcher wrote, "As cold as cucumbers".

The Bible does not say "Escaped by the skin of my teeth", as most people will have it, but "Escaped with the skin of my teeth".

An angry women is apt to declare "All men are liars". King David, in the Psalms, said no such thing. He was careful to prefix that saying with some very significant words: "I said in my haste, all men are liars".

Nor does the Bible say, "There is safety in numbers", but "In the multitude of counsellors there is safety".

Robert Burton did not write, "The exception proves the rule", but "No rule is so general, which admits not some exception". And he did not write, "When in Rome do as Rome does", but "When they are at Rome, they do there as they see done".

Nearly everyone talks about "Possession is nine points of the law", when what Colley Cibber wrote was "Possession is eleven points in the law".

The full and proper quotation for "Hell knows no fury like a woman scorned" is "Heaven has no rage like love to hatred turned, nor hell a fury like a woman scorned".

George Crabbe did not write "Where there's a will, there's a way", but "Be there a will and wisdom finds a way".

Another Wage Round

Just a year ago, management and union officials were hailing the General Motors - United Auto Workers collective bargaining agreement as marking the opening of a new era in industrial relations. The most notable feature of that agreement was a clause which provided for a wage increase for the workers every time there was a rise in the cost-of-living index. Trade union leaders asserted at the time that the "escalator clause" (as it was called) had banished the bogey of inflation from the minds of the workers and provided prospects of a prolonged era of industrial peace.

Such prospects have been considerably dimmed by recent utterances of United Auto Workers' president, Earl Wilson, who declares that "despite the wage increases already won, these have been more than wiped out by selfish racketeering on the part of business barons who see only profits in these hectic days of preparing for the defence of democracy". In other words, despite the escalator clause which insulates the workers from the impact of rising living costs, another wage round is in prospect.

General Motors and other industries which entered into collective bargaining agreements which included the cost-of-living escalator clause did so in good faith and in the belief that the result would be an era marked by the absence of labor disputes and strikes. UAW President Earl Wilson's intemperate denunciation of the agreement suggests that appeasement is just as dangerous a device in industrial as in international disputes.

RECALLS WHEN CREAM BOUGHT BY THE INCH

Mr. Jackson says the cream was poured into a can about 14 inches high and a foot in diameter. The cream then was measured with a stick.

A small quantity of the cream next was placed in a bottle and shaken under temperature to produce butterfat. This was weighed and the weight was multiplied by the depth of the cream in the can to ascertain the pounds of butterfat in that particular can.

From 1939 to 1948, gross value of Canada's manufactured goods rose from $3.5 billion to more than $11.8 billion.

TO CORRESPONDENTS:

With the re-opening of country cottages and the influx of summer visitors, social items overtax the district news-space. During this season correspondents are asked to omit the repeating "week-enders", also the visitations between neighboring communities, and such items of minor interest — giving precedence to the more important social events. Thank you!

Forest Fires in Quebec Province

Dry, warm weather brought forest fires in widely-separated parts of Quebec province. A message from Hon. J. S. Bourque, Lands and Forests Minister, asked for public co-operation in forest conservation.

Speaking in connection with National Tree Week, Mr. Bourque said the co-operation of all is needed. Otherwise money spent by the government in forest protection will bring no result.

There is also a need for the reforestation of cut or burned-out areas.

Districts affected by the year's first fires were Temiskaming, Abitibi, St. Maurice, Chicoutimi, Lake St. John, Riviere du Loup and Rimouski.

A forest protection service official said that unless the fire threat dropped with cool weather and rain, the government will apply a ban on forest travel.

SHUNS CITY LIFE

Pretoria, S. Africa (CP) — After half a century of civilization, C. Badenhorst decided he was tired of it. Weary of wandering around the country, he decided to go into voluntary exile.

On the banks of the Aapies River north of Pretoria he built his home among the thick foliage of a marula tree. With a roof of straw and tarpaulin, branches for rafters and a flooring of corrugated iron, Badenhorst has lived contentedly in his perch for three years, far from international wrangles and high living costs.

Kirkland Lake, Ont. (CP)—Hyman Kaplan, who died here at the age of 69, was a district pioneer who built the town's third business establishment, a general store. He underwrote the late Sir Harry Oakes' first mining ventures.

Woman Teacher Is Scout and Cub Master

The most northerly government schoolroom in Canada is the territorial day school for Eskimos at Tuktoyaktuk, whose windows overlook the Arctic Ocean. Besides the three R's, Eskimo boys and girls learn manual training and sewing and have their own Boy Scout and Girl Guide troops. Their teacher, Miss Dorothy Robinson, of the Department of Resources and Development, is the only woman in Canada — perhaps in the world — who holds a Boy Scout Medal. This award is made in the extraordinary case where a woman has taken over Cubmaster and Scoutmaster duties. Miss Robinson received the award at Tuk-Tuk last year amid her little throng of Eskimo Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies.

ARE YOU MAKING PROGRESS TOWARD GETTING THINGS YOU WANT MOST?

B of M Plan Puts Personal Aims On Sound Financial Foundation

Getting what you want out of life is rather like target-shooting. To hit your bull's-eye you must ignore other targets, concentrate on your own, and take steady aim. If you fail to do this, sure as shootin' you'll miss the mark.

Realizing the dreams you cherish — of security — a home of your own, a pleasant retirement — is not so much a matter of income . . it's what you do with the income you have that counts. Probably you can attain these things on your present wages — but it takes planning. That's where the B of M's Personal Planning money-management system can help you . . . especially in these days of rising prices.

Personal Planning is scientific budgeting . . but with a difference. It says: "This is your personal plan — unlike any other in that it deals with your dreams, your needs, and your income". It is as personal to you as the clothes you wear. And — unlike traditional budgeting — it doesn't take the fun out of life.

You are invited to drop into the Lachute branch of the Bank of Montreal and see Leo Brouillette, the accountant, for your copy of that bright little book called "Personal Planning" which shows you how to get yourself on a sound financial foundation and stay in that happy position.

Your Child's Teeth

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"What perfect teeth she has! Just like little pearls! I hope it will be a long time before you have to take her to the dentist!" an older friend said to a young mother.

"I am going to visit the dentist with her next week", the mother answered, "She's just three, but I want her to go with me and become acquainted with the dentist and his assistant. Then when she is older and has to go to his office to get work done, she won't be frightened!"

A friendly visit of a little child to the dentist does pave the way for a happy relationship later. The child looks on the dentist as a friend. The shiny new equipment and the big chair fascinate a child's eager mind. In the long run, because it will likely eliminate panic later, this early visit is worthwhile.

Parents want their children to have attractive teeth because they add to a child's appearance. Many youngsters have a charming smile, displaying a perfect set of teeth.

Healthy teeth, well formed and in their correct place, help in pronunciation. Never laugh at the First Grade child who has lost his baby front teeth and is lisping! Your amusement may make him self-conscious. If a child loses a permanent front tooth in an accident, for the sake of his speech it should be quickly replaced, by a false one.

Dentists know that unless a false tooth is put in where a permanent one has been, not only speech is affected, but the child cannot bite or chew so well. The teeth on either side of the space are apt to grow a bit crooked. The opposite tooth in the other gum (above or below the space) may grow too long if the damage is not repaired.

Semi-annual visits to the dentist should be a must in every family schedule. The dentist is a professional man who can advise puzzled parents about special mouth problems.

They may mention two new developments in tooth care which are almost too recent to be accurately evaluated. The use of fluorine in water and the action of ammoniated tooth paste preventing decay are both receiving a good deal of publicity. Research workers are studying their effectiveness.

There are a number of sensible suggestions on which most dental authorities agree. For proper care, teeth should be brushed after eating and at bed time, last thing at night. The motion of the brush should be up and down, not sideways. The insides of the teeth (next to the tongue) should be brushed too.

It is the tiny food particles which get lodged in the spaces between the teeth and in the small grooves, which produce holes. The starches and sugars act on the fat covering the enamel of the tooth, and before long decay is apt to set in.

A certain amount of sugar, providing energy, is necessary in a well-balanced, normal diet. But many dentists warn against the constant eating of candy (particularly hard candy and also chewing gum which remains in the mouth) and soft drinks because of the acid condition in which the mouth is left. It is difficult to see to it that children brush their teeth after these treats. Better have "a binge" of soft candy or other-treats, once a week, immediately after a meal, and then brush the teeth.

Good health and good teeth are dependent on each other. A balanced diet is of great importance to both. Digestion begins in the mouth with the thorough mastication of food.

For the sake of the child's appearance, speech and health, do train your child in good habits — brushing the teeth, eating proper food and regular visits to the dentist. Your child will thank you for a fine set of teeth when he grows to maturity and in middle or later years he may not have to purchase dentures!

Wedding at Rimouski

Decoste - Claviaux

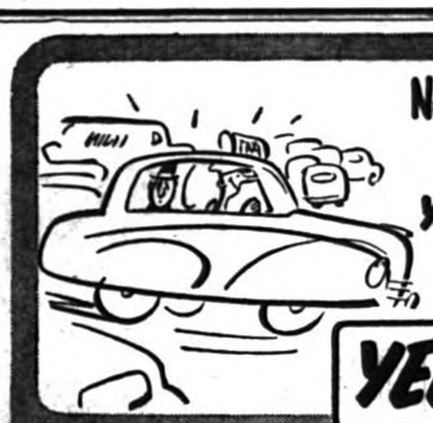

The wedding of Miss Colombe Claveaux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Claveaux, of St. Francois Xavier Heights, to Mr. Patrick Decoste, of St. Andrews East, son of Mrs. Léon Decoste, took place on May 19 at the St. Francois Parish Church, Rimouski, the Rev. Father Charles Lepage officiating.

The bride was given away by her father, and the groom was supported by his brother-in-law, Mr. Armand Lajoie, formerly of St. Andrews East.

After the wedding at Rimouski, a large reception was tendered for the newly-weds by Mr. Armand Lajoie, owner of the "Versailles". The couple are spending their honeymoon in New York for two weeks, and will return to St. Andrews East, where their permanent home will be ready shortly.

Can You Live Forever in Happiness on Earth?

Modern medical science has made great strides forward in its effort to extend the life span of man upon this earth. Yet few among the men of renown in the field of medicine would care, or dare, to say that life without end could actually be gained on this earth, and, much less, to promise life in happiness. However impossible this may seem to be, there is such a hope before men today, and that hope is set out in the Holy Bible.

Just how this is made possible for those who set their desires upon this hope and yearn to see such a thing come about is plainly and satisfactorily presented in the publication entitled "Can You Live Forever in Happiness on Earth?" In this absorbing booklet the reader will find a reasonable answer to this important and interesting question. Do you want to have a positive answer to this question for yourself? Every intelligent creature would normally want to say yes, especially if life and the full possession of it in perpetual youth on a beautiful paradise earth without sickness, disease or death to trouble one would be theirs, and happiness without end could be had and enjoyed. Learn how you may enjoy this life and how to take a wise course to get in line to receive the benefits of such an arrangement.

This 32-page booklet "Can You Live Forever in Happiness on Earth?" will be sent to you for a contribution of 5 cents. You may want to have additional copies for your friends and neighbors; these can be had at 8 for 25 cents. Send for these now. — Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto.

Arundel Grads Honored At Supper and Dance

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel—The Students' Council of Arundel School, composed of Grades VI to X, entertained the 1951 Graduating Class to a supper last Friday evening, May 18, in the school auditorium. Invited guests included Principal M. Graham and the staff, also the ex-graduates of the past five years.

Lloyd Gray proposed the toast to the King, which was followed by the toast to the Graduates, also by Lloyd Gray, and responded to by Gordon Moore. Immediately following the toasts, Mr. Graham addressed the graduates, consisting of Messrs. Gordon Moore and Norman Davis, Misses Marilyn Gray and Barbara Staniforth.

After the supper the guests were entertained with an informal dance, during which Mr. Laporte, of St. Jovite, took several pictures of the event.

Shut-In's Day, Sunday, June 3

"Sick and Ye Visited Me"

Sick! To those who think of sickness in terms of the periodic headache or the seasonal cold, there is a whole world unknown to them. It is the world of close confinement, where folk for one reason or another must view the world through the eyes of others. There remains for the shut-in the newspaper, the radio, the personal visitation — these three — and the greatest of these is the personal visit.

The first Sunday of June is set apart annually, by the Shut-in's Day Association. The invitation is extended to visit at least two folk who are sick — not that one should ever feel he has discharged his full obligation by such observance one Sunday a year. It is but a token of our recognition and remembrance of the Shut-in at all times.

Let no one think that by making such visits we are conferring a favor upon those visited. In a very real sense just the opposite is true; they present us with a privilege; invariably they render us a service. There is no greater corrective for our distorted sense of values than to talk with one who has made the skillful adjustment to the restraint that is the normal life of the Shut-in. Anyone who has had the close friendship of one of these has experienced the enlargement of his own life. One comes to realize how feebly he exercises the full measure of health and strength, full powers of body and mind which he possesses as compared with the amazing use that others make of their limited capital of these resources. Truly they live "a large life in a small room".

In His Name who said: "I was sick, and ye visited me" let us unite in making the first Sunday of June a worthwhile occasion.

(Ministers are asked to announce the Day from the pulpit, in the church calendar, and in the church press announcements).

Women's Institute

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the auditorium Wednesday, May 9, the president occupying the chair. After the business was concluded, the program was turned over to Mrs. Douglas Cooke and Miss J. Eaton, who, owing to the unavoidable absence of the Citizenship convener, Mrs. G. Cook, supervised a pageant, and read a paper on "The Rights of Women".

Members of the Arundel W.I. who attended the annual county meeting at Brownsburg, included — Mrs. Alec Dewar (representing the president), Mrs. Roy Staniforth, Mrs. Percy Gordon, Mrs. Arthur Scott, Mrs. S. Swail, Sr., Mrs. R. Moss and Mrs. Alvin Graham.

Mrs. Percy Staniforth, convener for the Red Cross, wishes to make a correction in the campaign results — namely, that Rockway Valley should have been credited with the sum of $11.25, instead of $4.25 as stated.

Choral Concert

Under auspices of the Arundel Farm Forum groups, the Brownsburg Male Chorus recently visited here, to present a musical treat which will be remembered for a long time. This talented group was under the conductorship of Warner Norman, organist and choirmaster of St. James United Church, assisted by the well known pianist, Doris Killam. Soloist for the evening was Miss J. Forges, soprano, who won the "Stars of Tomorrow" award in 1947.

It was regrettable that more of the community did not turn out to hear this group of singers, who have won such high praise for their work in the past. It is discouraging to a group such as this, to journey so far and to be greeted by a mere handful of people, and it is a matter of regret that more of our residents could not have been there. Those who did attend were loud in their praise of the performance.

This is Muriel Millard, the French Canadian chanteuse who is now heard on the Rythmes de Paris show, CBC Trans-Canada, at 9 o'clock on Friday nights. In addition to her extensive radio experience, chiefly in Quebec, Miss Millard has also sung in television; she is one of the few Canadian singers who have been chosen to sing for American viewers, who saw her introduced as "the atom bombshell". Last year the Montreal magazine, Radio Monde, picked her as its 1950 radio queen. Rythmes de Paris, a newcomer to the English audience, has been heard on the CBC's French network for over a year and Miss Millard has been a frequent guest soloist. She has also been starring in a French network show of Latin American songs.

MAN RACES TRAIN TO RESCUE BOY CLINGING BETWEEN CARS

George Bell, of Niagara Falls, Ont., risks life to snatch youngster from precarious position

1. 5-year-old Bobby Woodhouse had been playing with two older boys near the railway tracks. A freight train, stopped for a few moments, proved to be too great a temptation to resist . . . and soon all three were clambering over one of the tank cars. Then the train started to move! The older lads managed to jump off . . . but, as the train gathered speed, Bobby found himself clinging to a rod just above a coupling.

2. Seconds after a witness had phoned the police station, city employee George Bell jumped into a police car with two constables. Speeding through the city streets, they were stopped by a cadet parade. But Bell leaped from the car and raced 400 yards to the railway right-of-way . . . shouting to the boy to hang on. One of the passing tank cars hit his shoulder — but he kept running.

3. Lunging in between the cars where the lad was clinging, Bell got a grip on his arm. As he started to pull him away, the platform of the car behind struck him and sent him spinning. But he was still holding the youngster! Bobby later admitted that he could not have hung on much longer. We are proud to pay tribute to George Bell through the presentation of The Dow Award.

FASHION HINT

The simply smart little dress with its own jacket is going places this season. The jackets are either matching or contrasting in both color and fabric, the two linked by coat lining or trimming. Orange and green dotted foulard is used for a charming dress. The yoke terminates in the little bands forming tiny sleeves, and there is a peg-top skirt. The flared topper is of natural raw silk lined with the dress fabric and has pushed-up sleeves and pockets with curved flaps.

TESTING THE INSULATION

To demonstrate the insulation efficiency of an electric cooking range which is insulated with fibreglas, the manufacturer stages a highly effective bit of showmanship. A batch of cookies is placed in the oven at 375 degrees. At the same time ice cubes wrapped in 3-inch fibreglas are inserted beside the cookies. At the end of twelve minutes the cookies are removed perfectly done and the ice cubes are found frozen in their insulating blanket.

McGill Honors Dr. John Williamson Discoverer of Rich Diamond Fields

Honorary Degree, Doctor of Science, Is Conferred on Former Argenteuil Boy

Dr. John Thoburn Williamson, the "Diamond King" whose fabulous discoveries in South Africa have made him famous in the past few years, was one of five distinguished figures to be given a degree "honoris causa" at the McGill Convocation in Montreal last Monday. . . John Williamson, whose mother and brother reside in Lachute, was born and raised in this county, proceeding to McGill where he took his B.A., subsequently specializing in Geology to attain his M.Sc. and Ph.D.

Dr. Williamson was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Science. He was presented at the Convocation by his former teacher, Dean J. J. O'Neill, of the faculty of Engineering, who is chairman of the University's department of Geology. Dr. O'Neill introduced the honored scientist with the following citation:

"Mr. Chancellor: Today McGill is pleased to recognize officially the achievements of one of her graduates, achievements which typify in a striking manner what may be won by determination, hard work and the courage of convictions based on sound knowledge and training.

"Travelling northward through Africa, Dr. John Williamson worked for a time on diamond placers in Tanganyika, and, after thorough study of the geology, he became convinced that the source of the diamonds was not local, as generally believed. With courage and determination he left his position and had spent all his resources in two years of lonely and intensive prospecting when success finally crowned his efforts. The development of the property offered difficulties in wartime almost insurmountable.

"The prospect has now been developed into one of the greatest diamond mines in the world and is the source of great wealth, which has been used as a trust, contributing greatly to the development of Tanganyika, and to the betterment of mankind.

"Mr. Chancellor, I have the honor and great personal pleasure to present to you, in order that you may confer on him the degree of Doctor of Science, honoris causa, John Thoburn Williamson, an excellent geologist, who has won fame for himself and brought renown to his alma mater."

This will be followed (10.03 a.m.) by the usual 'Neighborly News' program.

Premier Duplessis' Speech To Be Broadcast June 13 At Official Opening Ceremony, Lachute Spring Fair

County Exhibition and Stock Show Is Focus Of Agricultural Interest in Eastern Canada

Special to The Watchman

Wednesday, June 13, will be an auspicious day for Lachute and Argenteuil County. For the first time in the history of the Lachute Spring Fair, arrangements have been made for the Premier of Quebec Province to be present and officiate at the opening.

Premier Maurice L. Duplessis, who will officially cut the ribbon opening the big event, will address the assembly — a crowd which, it is expected, will be one of the largest ever to attend this fair. The Premier's address will be broadcast.

One of the largest and finest spring fairs of its kind in Canada, the annual Lachute event has long been a focal point of agricultural attention — with a galaxy of special attractions, coupled with the exhibition of the finest livestock in Eastern Canada.

Advertisements in rural weeklies throughout Quebec and Ontario have attracted the attention of farmers of Eastern Canada, and many whose show stock is well known, will be on hand for this competitive occasion.

It has been said that "as goes the Spring Fair in Lachute, so goes the agricultural show season" — and if this axiom be true, Eastern Canada is in for a fine season, if advance trends are any criterion.

Stemming from the Town of Lachute itself and spreading out through the County of Argenteuil and beyond, the interest in this Spring Fair began some weeks ago, far ahead of the usual starting time. Now, still two weeks ahead of the date, interest is at a notably high pitch.

There will be a parade of fine stock, circus acts, vaudeville, and all the attractions so dear to the heart of everyone who has ever attended a Spring Fair.

Presence of the Premier has assured an attendance of cabinet ministers and legislative deputies, as well as the cream of the gentlemen farmers of Eastern Canada, who will be on hand to hear the address of the Premier opening the Fair, and to renew acquaintances, both politically and agriculturally.

The Premier, fresh from a vacation, and about to celebrate the 25th anniversary of his entry into the provincial legislature, is expected to make this event one of the highlights of his late spring and summer season.

H.S. Industrial Arts Display Reveals Students' Progress in Practical Training

Parents and friends who visited Lachute High School on Tuesday to inspect the students' exhibit of industrial arts, expressed amazement at the creditable workmanship displayed in this varied range of products.

Under the tuition of Mr. Harry Salisbury, specialist in this department — and with a comprehensive range of hand-tools and power-tools provided in the industrial arts room — pupils in Grades VI to XI have manufactured wooden articles all the way from simple tie racks and porridge sticks, to polished coffee tables and smoking stands.

The value of this training was specially appreciated by menfolk among the visitors, recalling that manual training in the past generation imparted no information, either theory or practice, on such useful power-tools as the bandsaw, planer, sander, lathe and shaper. These are now capably handled by the more advanced pupils, and the knowledge is an asset to be appreciated in adult life.

Besides the 200-300 visitors on Tuesday — this display was also viewed by pupils of all school grades the following day. Other articles in the exhibit included such things as turned table-lamps, magazine stands, desks, bookcases, two well finished coffee tables constructed of black cherry — besides many items more elementary.

Another branch of training is Farm Mechanics, also taught by Mr. Salisbury. In the practical side of this study, Grade XI pupils have dismantled an automobile engine, replaced the piston rings, examined the ins-and-outs of transmission and ignition, and put the car back in service on the road!

RATIONING WATER

Picture House Changes Hands

After many years the popular "Capitol" is reported to have been acquired by new ownership. If present plans mature, the house will be closed for extensive alterations and remodelling, and an entirely new decor will meet the patron at a later date.

Change of Owenrship

A change has also taken place at the Brownsburg Garage. Doug Hay of Lachute has taken over the business as a going concern, and plans extensive alterations in the near future.

Spring Pursuits

Gardeners have not had much to complain about, so far as the weather is concerned, and in consequence many gardens are far advanced. The seasonable exchange of small talk is—either the number of fish that one caught or the number of tomato plants the other planted. Every year the "good" lakes seem to get farther and farther north and more difficult of access. Perhaps the fish are retreating before the onslaughts of the ever-increasing nimrods. Unlike the Korean war, they don't appear to advance again. An acquaintance of ours hooked onto a line at a distant lake recently, and on pulling it in discovered there was a fish securely hooked on it. . . This was one of the big ones that got away!

New Council

The newly formed Council will hold its first meeting on Monday night. There are a number of important items on the agenda.

HORSES AS FOOD

(Owen Sound Sun-Times)

Horseflesh may be a safe enough food. It is eaten as a matter of course in a number of European countries, and even in Canada. A horseflesh butcher shop was recently opened in Edmonton. From all accounts, it is being fairly well patronized.

But the very idea of eating horse meat is flatly repugnant to most of us.

If we Canadians ever do eat horseflesh, we want to do so of own own free will and accord, and with the full knowledge that we are doing so.

Free X-Ray at Health Unit Booth, Lachute Fair

The Argenteuil Health Unit, with Dr. L. Turcotte in charge, will again be represented at the Lachute Exhibition, offering to all comers the free X-ray T.B. test.

These chest X-ray examinations performed by the Anti-Tuberculosis League in co-operation with the Health Unit, serve not only to detect T.B. but also to provide evidence of other maladies arising from heart conditions, malignant or benign tumors, chest diseases caused by dust, etc.

Public response to the Christmas Seals Campaign has been instrumental in making this examination free to all residents. County readers are urged to have an X-ray at the Fair, to protect their homes and families against possible T.B. infection.

New Minister To Be Inducted

A call having been extended by the Lachute and Brownsburg Presbyterian Churches to the Rev. Dr. W. Harold Reid, latterly minister of Fairmount-Taylor Presbyterian Church, Rosemount — the induction service is being held this evening (Thursday) at 8 o'clock in the Margaret Rodger Memorial Church, Lachute, The Rev. J. S. McBride, of Ephraim Scott Memorial Church, moderator of the Montreal Presbytery, will preside, and the Rev. J. K. Ross Thomson, minister of McVicar Memorial Church, Outremont, will preach the sermon.

Very Rev. Dr. C. Ritchie Bell, of the Presbyterian College, will give the charge to the minister, and the Rev. Dr. I. Montgomery, former minister of Knox Crescent and Kensington Church, will give the charge to the congregation.

Two Accidents On Highways

Girard Gagné, of St. Jerome, aged 29, was injured when his car went out of control on the curve at East Settlement (scene of a recent dual tragedy on Route 8), and crashed into a tree 500 feet east of that spot. The driver suffered a broken knee-cap and leg injury when the car upset. Passengers in the auto — Mrs. Gagné, three children and a friend — escaped unhurt. The victim was brought by ambulance to the Providence Hospital, Lachute.

The incident occurred at 4.45 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

* * *

On the Kilmar-Calumet highway on Tuesday, about four miles north of Calumet, a fruit and vegetable truck belonging to the firm of Gamble & Robertson, Ottawa, upset when the road surface caved in. Damage to the vehicle was considerable.

A gaping hole in the gravel highway was caused by a washout undermining the roadbed.

Fugitive from Jail Recaptured Here

After escaping from the St. Jerome jail around 10 p.m. last Saturday, Alec Boyer was curbed in his brief taste of freedom, being apprehended here in a highway check by local police officers. The prisoner, about 30 years of age, was recaptured shortly after 11 o'clock in a St. Jerome taxi which he had chartered to drive to Lachute.

News of the man's escape was communicated to Police Chief D. Villeneuve here, who relayed the information to Det. Philippe Therriault. Csts. W. Lepine and Sabourin, with Det. Therriault, took up their position on Route 41 approaching Lachute, and the second car which they halted was the taxi carrying the fugitive.

Boyer — who had only 17 days to go on a year-and-a-half stretch for issuing false cheques — was returned to St. Jerome the following day.

Members' Night At Golf Club

First "members' night" at the Lachute Golf Club this year was held Thursday, May 24, and took the form of a two-ball foursome. Tee-off time was 5 o'clock and a good turn-out was on hand. Foursomes played nine holes, and the competition was keen.

Golf was followed by a very enjoyable dinner, after which prizes both for the evening's play and for the various competitions of the past year, were presented. A three-piece orchestra provided popular dance music to round out the evening's enjoyment.

Killed in Collision With Stray Calf

Among the week-end traffic deaths was that of a 20-year-old youth from St. Philippe who, with a friend, was catapulted from a motorcycle when the vehicle struck a calf on the road between Grenville and Stonefield. The mishap occurred around 6 p.m. while the pair were riding from Stonefield to Grenville. Traffic Officer Albt. Legault and Det. Anatole Roch, of the Provincial Police homicide squad, investigated the accident.

One of the riders — Claude Leveillé, of St. Philippe, died at the Notre Dame Hospital in Hawkesbury five hours after the crash. The driver of the motorcycle, Omer Lalonde, 21, of Grenville, was taken to the same hospital with severe head and body injuries, and was removed Sunday to the Neurological Institute in Montreal. His condition was reported as serious.

P.O. BREAKS EVEN

Ottawa — "The U.S. Post Office operates at an annual deficit of $500,000,000; in contrast, Canada's Post Office breaks nearly even — and gets criticized for economy measures". — Deputy Postmaster General Walter Turnbull.

Main Street Sees Demonstration of Life-Saving Aids

The weekly drawings at the Lions Club stand on Main Street are becoming quite an attraction. The committee took occasion last Friday night to publicize the club's life-saving devices — the emergency rowboat with grappling irons, and the pulmotor, placed at the service of this community for drowning and similar emergencies. The town fire-truck was brought to the scene, carrying the boat, which is normally suspended in the fire hall ready to be lowered onto the truck as the need arises. Fire Chief Deacon and Lion President Horace Lamarche gave the necessary explanation. Next, with the aid of a Scout first-aid team, Dr. F. W. FitzGerald and Dr. Jules Lafleur gave a demonstration on artificial respiration with the aid of the oxygen inhalator. . . Altogether it was a brief but instructive session, witnessed by a considerable crowd of people.

Winner of the radio in this second drawing of the weekly series, was Aurel Chevrier, town caretaker, Lachute; and salesman of the lucky ticket was Roger Ouimet.

Another High In C-I-L Safety

Brownsburg, May 31 — With a safety record of 2,800,000 accident-free man-hours, employees of the Brownsburg ammunition works of Canadian Industries Limited have won the C-I-L II Prize — Works Manager Harris Sherwood announced today. Each employee will receive an individual award at presentation ceremonies to be held in the near future.

One of the highest awards under the Company's no-accident plan, the C-I-L II Prize has been won only twice previously since the plan was inaugurated 20 years ago.

In all, Brownsburg employees have gained 23 Company awards for safety, Mr. Sherwood stated. These include the Department Manager's Prize, won 10 times, the President's Prize seven times, the Board of Directors' Prize four times, the C-I-L Prize, and the C-I-L II Prize.

The Brownsburg works also holds the safety record for the small arms ammunition division of the sheet metal industry as listed by the National Safety Council, covering both Canadian and American firms. This record of 3,543,950 accident-free man-hours was established in 1943 and 1944.

Women's Institute Branch Affairs For Month of May

Arundel Women's Institute had 25 members present to hear an interesting paper on "The Rights of Women in Quebec"—or rather the lack of them! A pageant was presented by pupils and teachers of the Arundel Intermediate School, depicting the national costumes of 12 of Canada's new citizens.

Brownsburg branch, with an attendance of 37, had Mr. Merlin Evans of Lachute as guest speaker; his address was on Flowers and Shrubs. This branch catered for the Scout Rally in Lachute. The 25th anniversary of this branch took the form of a banquet, held in the United Church hall. A gift was presented to Mrs. Lynch, who is leaving Brownsburg shortly. . . The annual county convention was also held in Brownsburg.

Frontier branch had 32 members, who heard an interesting address by Mr. Russell, the Agriculture teacher of Lachute High School. Gifts were presented for two new babies.

Lachute branch had an attendance of 23. The members were conducted on a tour through the Giles Publishing House by R. A. Giles, managing director, and were shown different specimens of work in the various departments, from setting the type to completion. It was interesting to note the difference between the old and new methods of typesetting and presswork. Mrs. F. A. Brennian, president, thanked Mr. Giles and staff for their courtesy and hospitality.

Lakefield, with 11 members present, had Mr. Albt. Ogilvie as guest speaker, on the subject of Flowerbeds and Perennials. It was planned to send a parcel overseas. A bazaar and food sale are to be held in July.

Mille Isles had an attendance of seven, answering the roll-call with "A Garden Hint". A letter from the Quebec Cerebral Palsy Association was read. Plans were made to attend the county convention in Brownsburg.

At Morin Heights, 22 members responded to the roll-call by answering the question, "What do you plant first in your garden?" Three interesting films on Agriculture were shown by the principal, Mr. Blakeley. Rosebuds were made by members for St. George's Day, to be sold by the Boy Scouts to raise funds for their troop. Slips and bulbs were exchanged.

Pioneer branch had 13 members present, and Mr. A. Ogilvie gave an interesting talk on Planting and Care of Bulbs. A Red Cross convener was elected and plans discussed for making quilts for the Red Cross. A questionnaire on Home Economics was filled in by the members.

"Church Is Rampart Against Subversive Ideas". Premier Rules Out Sunday Labor

By Bernard Dufresne

Quebec, May 29 (CP) — The answer to the world newsprint shortage is not Sunday labor for Quebec pulp and paper mill workers — but more mills. . . Such is the stand taken by the Provincial Government and made known by Premier Duplessis during his two-day visit to Baie Comeau last week-end.

The Premier made the trip for the inauguration of the construction of the McCormick Dam, part of a $15,000,000 power development on the Manicouragan River.

Premier Duplessis said a suggestion for Sunday labor in newsprint mills was made in some quarters "under the pretext more newsprint would help various countries in the fight against Communism".

"The first law" he said, "is the Divine Law. The church will always remain a rampart against subversive ideas, and workers must not be deprived of their church-going habits. Nothing must be done that would keep them from going to church."

Quebec Province produces more than half the newsprint output of Canada. If more is needed, the government feels the solution is more mills. The Premier said his government would study plans for establishment of a third mill at Baie Comeau on a site suggested by Arthur A. Schmon, president of Quebec North Shore Paper Company. The firm operates two mills in that St. Lawrence River north shore town.

The McCormick Dam, named after Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune and pioneer pulp and paper mill owner in Baie Comeau district, is part of a 90,000 horse-power hydro-electric plant. The plant, expected to be completed early in 1953, will supply reserve power for the Quebec North Shore Paper Company and help complete electrification of the area.

The Quebec Government, as soon as Federal legislation for an enlarged old-age pensions program is passed, is prepared to enact concurrent legislation of its own, it was learned here. If necessary, a special session of the Quebec Legislature will be called to give effect to the government's decision, outcome of a two-day Federal-Provincial conference on pensions at Ottawa last week.

Premier Duplessis headed the Quebec delegation during the meeting at which "general agreement" on the principles of the new pensions plan was reached. The plan calls for equal sharing by Federal and Provincial governments of the cost of pensions to the needy between the ages of 65 and 69.

Quebec co-operatives in charge of rural electricity built 1,117 miles of power lines last year and extended their service to 4,569 customers, the Quebec Rural Electricity Bureau said. The figure showed co-operatives built more new power lines than private companies. Seven new co-operatives went into operation in 1950 bringing the total number in the province to 39 established since 1945.

TIT FOR TAT

A husband facing a court charge of threatening his wife agreed to submit to a mental examination provided his wife did the same. "Fair enough", said Magistrate Polson in binding over the man to keep the peace pending the joint visit to the psychiatrist.

Gatineau LINES

225 Million Gallons

It takes a lot of water to make electricity, but there is one nice thing about it — the water isn't lost or changed in the process. It does its job, and then can go on its way unchanged.

Gatineau Power Company has established a system of control dams and power stations which regulate the flow of the Gatineau River at 10,000 cubic feet per second in order to produce the greatest possible amount of electricity for its 66,000 customers.

Or, if you really like big figures, it means close to 2,000,000,000,000 gallons of water per year!

That's a lot of water, and yet every bit of it is used three times over by the power company. At three different points on the river below our storage dams we have power plants — and each drop of water produces its share of electricity at each plant before continuing its way down the river. But it still takes 225,000,000 gallons an hour on the Gatineau River alone to keep Gatineau customers supplied with electricity.

DID YOU KNOW?
One cubic foot of water falling 10 feet has sufficient force to produce about one horsepower of electricity.

Naturally, a power company doesn't "use" water in the sense that people "use" water when they drink it. Rather, a power company "borrows" water from a river, makes it work to produce electricity, and then returns it to the river. Other people who depend on the river for water for other purposes don't lose the water which produces the power. On the contrary, they gain — because the power company's storage dams and power plants regulate the flow of water and assure a more even supply than would be possible in any other way.

Against Shortage

A big meat store in San Francisco is issuing special cards to regular customers as a "protection" in the event of rationing or a meat shortage. The customer leaves his name and address for the store's file. He receives a card which says: "This card will be your customer identification in case things get rough". Several thousand cards have been issued.

Hay and Pasture Seed Mixture

The formula of a hay and pasture mixture is of basic importance to the purchaser and should be carefully noted. The regulations under the Seeds Act stipulate that "Hay and Pasture" seed mixtures offered for sale must be labelled to indicate the correct percentage of each of the component kinds.

Such labelling provides information to appraise the value of the mixture; it enables the purchaser to choose a grass-legume combination which meets his particular needs and which is adapted to his soil, climatic and other conditions. A well-balanced grass-legume combination generally produces more hay of better quality, it makes better pastures from the standpoint of succulence, permanence and seasonal production.

Care Needed in Using Pesticides

All insecticides and other pesticides must be toxic to the organisms they are designed to control and nearly all are toxic, to a greater or less degree, to man and animals. A few, such as pyrethum and derris, which are highly effective against certain insects, present little danger to warm blooded animals.

Registration requirements for pesticides under the Pest Control Products Act call for appropriate poison markings and warnings on the labels for the guidance of the users of these products. Where necessary, the word "Poison", the skull and crossbones symbols and the antidote are prescribed. For the less acutely dangerous materials such simple cautions as avoiding inhalation and contact and preventing contamination of foodstuffs are regarded as sufficient. But no pesticide product should be described or treated as "safe", "non-poisonous" or "non-injurious", says P. M. Overholt, who supervises registrations under the Act.

During the past few years numerous new chemicals have been developed for pest control, some of which are only moderately hazardous while others are highly dangerous to man and other animals, if carelessly used. Insecticides of the chlorinated hydrocarbon class, of which DDT is the most familiar example, are toxic to man and animals but can be used with reasonable safety when precautions are observed. A more recent class of insecticide, the organic phosphates, highly effective against aphids and mites in orchards and greenhouses, and represented by parathion and allied compounds, are among the most acutely dangerous pesticide materials and call for the most rigid care and precaution in handling and using, comments Mr. Overholt.

The aim of all concerned is to maintain and improve the effectiveness of pesticides and at the same time to reduce the danger to a minimum.

Blanching Vegetables

In recent years locker plants for frozen foods have taken an important place in the food budgets of thousands of Canadians from coast to coast. Householders in town and country are now making use of this method of food preservation and both fruits and vegetables are being used in increasing quantities. F. E. Atkinson, food technologist at the Experimental Station, Summerland, B.C., has found that a large proportion of locker space is given to vegetables which will seriously deteriorate if not properly blanched, and warns that hay-like flavors and dull colors may result if precautions are not taken.

Mr. Atkinson describes blanching as a treatment whereby vegetables are subjected to steam or hot water for varying lengths of time. It is designed to kill the cellular tissues and thus reduce harmful reactions to a minimum. In a sense it is a pre-cook treatment so that when later on the product is removed from the locker, all that is required before serving is to bring it to a boil for a short time.

Corn on the cob, for example, when cooked fresh from the garden is often boiled for 10 - 12 minutes, while a satisfactory blanch for large cobs would be eight to ten minutes. When they are taken from the locker or freezer, only two to three minutes boiling is needed. The combined heating treatment for the frozen corn is therefore practically the same as if the cobs had been cooked as a fresh vegetable.

Suggested time for blanching different vegetables is given in Publication 733, Freezing Fruits and Vegetables. Copies are available on request from the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Mr. Atkinson points out that it is of the utmost importance to chill the product immediately after blanching in ice water or under the cold water tap. It should then be packaged and delivered to the storage locker as quickly as possible.

Householders have found that many products can be put into the locker with little preparation and kept satisfactorily for several months. Typical of this group are blueberries, gooseberries and cranberries. Other fruits such as strawberries, raspberries and loganberries should be in syrup or fruit juice and dry sugar combined.

Lifelong Resident Leaves Many Relatives

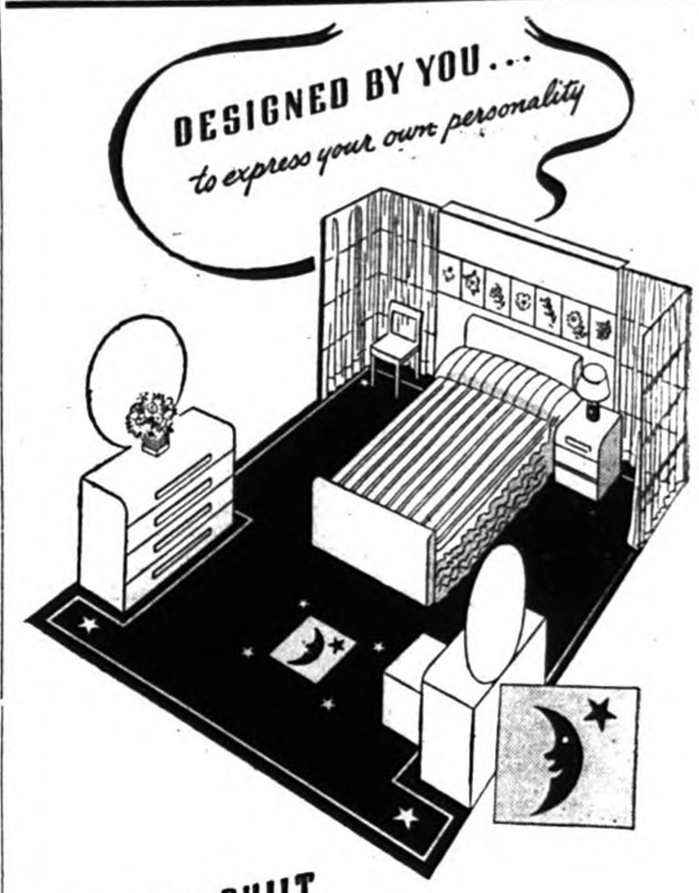

The Late Albert Tomalty

An old and respected resident, Albert Tomalty, died May 19 at his home in Lakefield. Mr. Tomalty, 75 years of age, was a native of nearby Louisa, the son of Arthur Tomalty and his wife, Elizabeth Curran.

During his lifetime spent in this vicinity, he had served as councillor in the Municipality of Gore. He was a past-master of the Lachute Orange Lodge and also of the County Orange Lodge. Before moving to Lakefield, he was engaged for several years in the occupation of cheesemaker at Louisa.

He is mourned by his widow, the former Ida Scott, and by seven children — (Myrtle) Mrs. Gilbert Warwick, and Lyle, of Detroit; (Velma) Mrs. Stanley Boyd, of Lachute; (Rita) Mrs. Ian McGregor, of California; Oscar, of Hamilton; Percy, of Montreal; and Earl, of Lachute. There remain also 17 grandchildren and four great grand-children.

The funeral service, conducted by the Rev. C. W. P. Baugh, was held May 22 at Trinity Church, Lakefield. Beautiful flowers bore evidence of widespread sympathy, and a large gathering at the funeral testified to the esteem of many friends and neighbors. The remains were borne to their last resting place in Lachute Cemetery. Pall-bearers were—Messrs. Ross Evans, Austin Kyle, Lorne Dawson, Wallace Thompson, Amor Kerr and Chas. Andrews.

Success Story Surpassing Fiction

A SON of Argenteuil came back this week to his alma mater, old McGill; he stood with the great, to receive the recognition of an honorary degree. . .

When Dr. John Thoburn Williamson attended the University's annual convocation — rubbed shoulders with distinguished men in different spheres — and shared the inspiration of this great occasion with 1,547 fresh and youthful graduates — he must have experienced very strange reactions! Here in a triumphal role, which by his modest nature was scarcely of his choice or seeking, we picture this successful Canadian retracing across the adventurous years (the sometimes barren and discouraging years) the memory of his student days. That memorable graduation day when he had stood, as these young graduates stood again, in hope and pride and optimism.

Williamson had applied himself diligently to his studies. In the nature of his calling, however, diligence was no guarantee of shining triumph. But his love of Geology, his chosen science, and the same perseverance he had displayed in his college days, led him onward until, in distant Tanganyika, success rewarded his intuition and his determination. . .

But again, in his modest nature, these thoughts were far removed from Dr. Williamson on this great Convocation Day. Such thoughts could, however, and probably did, occur to many who witnessed the dignified and colorful proceedings — including those hundreds of young hopefuls receiving their diplomas. To them on this occasion, there could have been no better example than the success story of Dr. John T. Williamson, whose devotion to his job paid off in terms undreamed of.

We, too, salute this local son — today a celebrity in achievement.

These Patriotic Holidays

CITIZENSHIP Day on May 23, Empire Day on May 24, and July 1 should be combined, thinks The Financial Post. "Here are three separate national observances of virtually the same fact squeezed within less than three months, and two of them on consecutive days."

In this welter of observances, special days stand to lose all dignity and meaning — the Post contends. This is particularly so of Citizenship Day, which in a single year has been almost forgotten. Why not consolidate all these observances in one celebration and make it really amount to something?

— That reference to "lost dignity" is substantiated in a glaring instance, to which our Sunnyacres columnist draws attention this week. It seems that — no fooling! — to the rising generation Victoria Day is becoming officially dubbed and recognized as "firecracker day".

QUOTE from Tolstoi: "It is pleasant to dream of eternity, but for an honest man it is enough to have lived his life, doing his work."

Some Like It Smooth

The OLD-TIMER hitched back on his chair and announced that things had been much tougher in his day. And his younger audience listened to his tale with an air of polite indifference.

It wasn't that they necessarily disagreed with him. Obviously it's easier to plow a field with a tractor than to dig it up with a spade. Certainly it's more pleasant to shave with an electric razor than with cold water and a straight razor of doubtful sharpness.

But, the youngsters muttered among themselves, is that anything to brag about?

All credit to the pioneer with his axe and canoe who opened up the hinterland for his great grandchildren to enjoy. All honor to the settler who tilled his field by hand and fought off wolves and Redskins to protect his crop. Their place in history is secure.

And yet, if those men had been born 150 years later, would they trade in their car for a covered wagon and their mining stock for a musket?

They might still be pioneers — men who flew into the Northwest Territories to find uranium or sat in laboratories finding out how it could best be used.

But they would no more think of doing without a radio or a telephone than their great-grandfathers would have shunned the warmest clothing or the best Sunday dinner available to them.

By and large, it's human nature for most men to do their best to provide a comfortable living for themselves and their families. Now, as 150 years ago, it isn't always easy.

Now, as then, a man may find that he must endure certain incidental discomforts in the pursuit of that goal. But whether his main enemy is an abnormally low temperature or an abnormally high cost of living, he endures it only because he must.

Imagine the reception today's teen-agers will get in another 50 years when they brag about how hard it was to find a place to live, back in 1951!

THE EASIEST way to have your face lifted is to stick out your chin. The quickest way to give the community a face-lifting is to roll up your sleeves and pitch in on a one-man beauty campaign that will inspire the whole street. Community beautification depends on the attitude of every citizen. No by-law ever invented will work a miracle — states the Campbellton (N.B.) Tribune.

"DO NOT Pick the Flowers" is a common sign in Canada's parks. But in Ireland they read more subtly, "Let it be said of these flowers that they died with their roots on".

OUR greatest trouble today is that our neighbors are always buying something we can't afford.

Railwaymen Must Learn New Rules

Wilfred List
(in the "Globe and Mail")

The bells that are clanging along the railway lines these days are calling 150,000 railroad men across Canada back to classes again.

And waiting for them is a little red primer. The study of this book is a must for all men, from vice-presidents down, who have anything to do with the operation of a train.

The red book is a new revised and universal rules book under which all Canadian railways under the jurisdiction of the board of Transport Commissioners will operate beginning August 26.

By that date all employees affected must master the rules and pass both written and oral examinations in order to continue on the job.

Up to now the various railways have operated under their own set of rules. The new book, drafted by a committee from seven railways, will mean that a man will only have to qualify once no matter which line he works for.

But more than that, the new rule book is an effort to keep pace with progress with railroading and aims at an even higher safety record for Canadian railways.

If anyone visualizes the job of a railway executive as a nice soft-cushioned seat in a plush office, they need only look in on the classes conducted for officers of the railroad.

In Toronto, where instruction in the new rules has begun on the C.P.R. line, G. N. Curley, general manager of the C.P.R.'s eastern section, recently put his pen down with some relief after answering the last of the 1,068 questions in the examination book.

The instruction and exams for officers of the railways are being conducted by P. W. Raines, the system's rules supervisor, who had a hand in framing both the rules and the exams.

Re-education of the men will be carried out by a team of instructors, who themselves went through a grilling on the rule book. Each man who passes receives a rules card.

There are different exams for the different categories of employees. The officers and the operating men write the complete and toughest test. Trainmen and firemen write a condensed version, known as the B Book. Then there is an exam for telegraphers, and another for section foremen and signal men.

VERSATILITY

When I went to school my favorite subject was recess. At the time I had only two ambitions. One was to be able to play the piano by ear without going to the trouble of learning music. The other was to become a circus performer. I accomplished the former at the age of 27, the latter at the age of 47, which is the age an average performer decides to call it a day and retire to his farm in California. Ten years later I was beginning to get tired, not of the act, but of the travelling and other forms of grief peculiar to show business. I wanted to become a singer, but had to quit owing to ill health. My doctor told me that every time I sang it made everybody sick. Since retirement, I have found time for lots of interesting activities — botany, birds, a little fishing, carpentry, writing, painting, reading, and performing magic tricks at amateur shows.

I am not an expert at any of these lines, but get a great kick out of them and can't help feeling sorry for those who have only a single-track mind. It must be tough to know nothing but one's work and one's way home. I realize that specialists are required for this world's work and that they are of utmost importance. But are they happy? I know a public accountant who is a perfect whiz at figures, statements and balance sheets, but does not know the difference between a nail and a bolt. He cannot do anything with his hands. He knows nothing of preparing a garden and of the thrill of watching the carrots and onions come up.

I may be dumb at figures, in fact I know no one quite so dumb, but I'd never change places with him in spite of his splendid income.

Be seein' ya! — Uncle Walt

Something That Everyone Can Do

This is a very active, interesting kind of world. Most of us have so many things to do, and a great many more things we are planning to do when we have the time and opportunity. Our very activity keeps us so busy that we tend to overlook the fact that there are a great many people who are shut out from the normal type of life, by being shut in. To remind us of these folk, and to urge us to do something for them, the first Sunday of June is set aside annually as Shut-in's Day.

Plan to make Sunday, June 3rd, the day in which you show at least two shut-ins — a civilian and a disabled veteran — that you care. It could be through flowers, a gift or a letter; or a personal visit in which you leave behind some little token of your thoughtfulness. But above all don't forget them until Shut-in's Day comes again next year to remind you once more.

In His name who said, "I was sick and ye visited me", let us unite in making June 3rd a rare, unforgettable day for the Shut-in and for ourselves.

A paragraph in the Brownsburg news of May 10 reported the incident of a ticket put on an auto outside a restaurant, "at the request of a taxi-man who wanted to park his own taxi there". . . "EXILE FROM SUNNYACRES"

By Margaret Cook

We write from Sunnyacres, whither we came on Victoria Day. Motoring on "the twenty-fourth" is unlike that on any other day of the year; only then does one behold springs sagging with the weight of humans of assorted ages, in various stages of excitement; delirious dogs, hanging palpitating tongues from windows; blasé cats, slitting their eyes in contempt of the excitable dogs; baby-carriages tied on the back and canoes on the top. All urban Canada is on the move, out to garner the fleeting, sunny hours of summer. Not that it is really summer yet, the grass and trees are too fresh and green and everywhere the fruit trees are dressed in their bridal white.

The orchard at Sunnyacres is again a thing of beauty; the two old crab trees tower above the others, a pure white except when the westering sun hits them, then they shine with an unearthly radiance. The blossoms on the other trees are pinky-white. It is sheer delight to lie outstretched on the old swing-couch and look upward into the masses of blossoms on the tree overhanging the porch. All day long the bees sing their happy song, their gold-and-black bodies making just the right accent of color among the pink blossoms etched against the blue bowl of the sky. And all day and all night we breathe in the odors of apple blossoms, narcissi, primulas, fir trees, new ferns, blue violets, white violets, lilacs and lilies-of-the valley. Late May is one of the most delightful of our seasons — except, of course, for the black flies and the mosquitoes, which lie in wait all day among the lush young grasses, only to issue forth hungrily at sundown, after which, one does not go out without reason!

So, we do our walking in the daytime and see various interesting sights. Today, we were over at the place irreverently known hereabouts as the Swamp Angel's. There we saw the common blue butterfly and the swallow-tail. The former is the small, blue butterfly generally seen hovering over partially dried mud holes; the swallow-tail is a colorful creature, black, with trimmings of orange, yellow and blue, and is common throughout Canada and the United States. In the waters of the creek, flowing alongside what was the Swamp Angel's garden, were several finny forms which the man of the house gleefully identified as trout, but which the young daughter of a neighboring friend insisted were cat-fish. We hope they were trout; ever since our accidental presence at the overture of a cat-fish's life, recorded in this column a year ago, we have had a profound respect for that whiskered fish-person.

Coming home, a partridge calmly walked across the road, into the bush where she blended so well into the leaf-strewn ground that she was practically invisible. Which brings up the question of why there are so many thousands of the young maples about. Never have I seen so many. I am informed that these things go in cycles, that we have just passed through a cycle devoted to tent-caterpillars and other pests, and that now Nature is bent on restoring the balance. . . Perhaps some of our farmer readers have another explanation.

Daughter Betty is interested in all creatures, and has quite a respectable working knowledge of names and characteristics; but occasionally her tongue slips and we have such absurdities as, "I am a Pheasant". This, because we had allowed her, in the interest of coolness, to go out attired in a cast-off smock of ours, simply that and a pair of sandals. Somewhere, she had learned that smocks and sandals are worn by many Eastern peasants.

The wonted respite from routine which we enjoy at Sunnyacres is somewhat curtailed this time by the presence of two children of school age, who, in accordance with school law, must be taught each school day; accordingly, our mornings are taken up with Arithmetic, Geography, French and Spelling at the Grade IV level and other studies, notably French, at Grade IX level. In our suburb, there is a noticeable antagonism to the study of French, a bent carefully fostered by most of the parents, so that the ignorance of this most beautiful and facile language is truly deplorable. It is quite possible for a pupil to occupy a desk in the Grade IX class-room and not be able to count to 20 in French. As for more complex things, such as use and position of pronouns in a sentence, they are left to what our pupil refers to scornfully as "geniuses". Some of this ignorance can be truthfully laid at the door of school authorities, but the greater part is due to the unenlightened culture of the public at large. So long as the parents ignore their French-speaking neighbors, just so long will their children refuse to learn any language but their own. As we have pointed out before, this is the kind of thing that eventually leads to war. It has always been our contention, that had Hitler been married and had he travelled in foreign lands, we should have been spared the late tragic upheaval. All the modern dictators have been untravelled, uncultured people, and few have had the supreme advantage of a normal, family life. Recent articles have pointed out that family life, as we know it, is rapidly disappearing in the country to the south of us; that no one marries with any idea of permanence, but merely of experiment. All this was being discussed recently at a tea-party, whereupon one of the group exclaimed, "How different from here! Here we just fight it out!" Nicely put, I thought. . . Those of you who have seen the current English film in the city will remember that when the mother of the bride suggested "O Perfect Love" as a hymn at the wedding, the married sister cynically quipped, "Why not 'Fight the Good Fight'?". . . Now we have probably wounded the feelings of some of our readers. We do not seek to disparage the marriage tie nor the family life. We think the endless discussion of all kinds of problems necessary to the carrying on of family life, is an invaluable training. It sometimes is exasperating, but no one has as yet thought up anything better for the formation and preservation of our present culture.

But the whippoorwill calls from the orchard, so it must be at least nine o'clock, and Twinkles (the neighbor's cat) is saying in cat language, "Come out, my love, come out." The long, soft hair of our male Persians always deceives him. We shall discourage Twinkles and go to bed, blissfully removed from the fire-cracking celebrations of the city. . . Victoria is rapidly being forgotten. The children now refer to the holiday as "fire-cracker day"!

9TH DECENNIAL CENSUS JUNE, 1951

Appoint Transport Group For Defence Purposes

Toronto — The Canadian Government has appointed a committee of experts to plan essential transport services following enemy attack upon this country. This is revealed in the current issue of the trade magazine "Bus and Truck Transport".

According to the magazine, the committee includes top executives from the railways, air lines and road transport. Their job is to "create a blueprint for essential transport services during a national emergency, and for possible evacuation of target areas".

The committee is headed by Federal Transport Commissioner H. B. Chase, C.B.E., and includes Major-Gen. F. F. Worthington, Canada's civil defence co-ordinator.

The magazine article states: "Gen. Worthington told the committee that a major function of transport would be the supply of aid to any devastated area from nearby communities. As well, it might be necessary to organize evacuation and to move great numbers of people over great distances. The wide separation of Canadian cities presented a problem not encountered in Europe, nor, to so great an extent, in the United States.

"Where an area was chosen as a reception centre it was estimated that the number of people who could be taken in from other cities was 50% of the area's normal population. That alone would be an immense problem and, for such emergencies, there must be an overall co-ordinated plan.

" 'In the case of the railways we must know where their rolling stock is and how best we can use it', Gen. Worthington said. 'In addition we may have to face the fact that we may lose some parts of the railway system through enemy action and, in those cases, road transport must be ready to step in.

" 'Air transport will be needed to bring in the most vital commodities to an attacked area — most likely medical supplies and medical personnel. This would be done by the heavier aircraft, lighter aircraft would be employed in air reconnaissance for fire fighting and, perhaps, highway traffic control.'

"Turning to the role of road transport, Gen. Worthington said two main needs were to arrange adequate fuel supplies and traffic control. 'Police control inside cities will probably not be too bad', he told the committee. 'There will be civil defence traffic routes and only authorized vehicles will be allowed to use them.

" 'But we will have to anticipate traffic jams on the open roads, away from target areas, because we feel that as soon as an attack begins, mny people will jump into their private cars and the highways may become blocked. One job of this committee is to figure out how highway traffic can be controlled and kept moving'."

FOR PARENTS ONLY...

"Discipline" or "Punishment"?

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"I'll punish him!" . . or . . "She'll get punished for what she has done!" . . How much more often parents use the word "punish" instead of "discipline"! Surely it is important that fathers and mothers look at their children's actions in the light of discipline rather than merely that of punishment.

Punishment, if effective, prevents an undesirable action from being repeated. Discipline should do more than this. It also encourages initiative. The two terms are not interchangeable. Punishment is the red "Stop!" sign. Discipline may flash either red or the green "Go!" signal, as different occasions arise.

Discipline is on three levels. The parent disciplines the little child by one method or another. When the child begins to mix with playmates away from home, in addition to the parental discipline, his companions shape his actions by gang approval or disapproval. Older brothers and sisters influence the child too. The child's teacher at school also moulds the child's standard of behavior.

But the goal of the adult is self-discipline. Parents must always keep this in mind. The child's future rests on this. So does the success of any democratic state. Good fathers and mothers want their children to grow to be responsible citizens.

What is discipline? Is it not the methods used to get a child to do or not to do certain things? Discipline begins very early. Baby specialists are pointing out to new parents that although an infant needs a routine, this may vary a little. Good management consists of a wise mixture of firmness and flexibility. A sensible day's routine, which is usually followed, does away with much unnecessary conflict over a child obeying commands. There is "a happy way" of doing most things. Children like to know what to expect — and what is expected of them, in dressing, eating, sleeping, etc.

Every child is different. So is every parent! A method of discipline which has been extremely successful with the oldest in the family may not be so satisfactory with a second or third child.

A firm "No! No!" may prevent timid little Ann from going near mother's hot iron. But Tommy is more difficult to handle. The forbidden iron fascinates him. When mother is out of the kitchen for a minute to answer the phone, although he knows he is doing wrong, he quickly touches the hot iron. His enraged cries tell his mother that the "Law of Consequences" has worked on Tommy to teach him that disobedience can be painful.

When a child is old enough to assert his will, what he wants and what mother wants at times is bound to conflict. Children can behave like "little angels" and the very same youngsters can also amaze their fond parents by their contrariness and naughtiness! Training a child calls for endless stores of patience, understanding and consistent, fair treatment.

A weary mother with two or three small children is often tempted to rely on father to discipline a defiant child. "Just wait till your dad gets home from work!" she threatens.

This is a poor plan to follow. A deferred punishment is not nearly so effective as an immediate one on a child. Then too, a busy father's brief interval with his child at the end of the day should not be clouded by rehashing of wrong-doings. Both the father and child need a peaceful, happy evening hour.

Our grandparents (and to some extent our parents) were not greatly troubled by the problems of discipline. Children were "to be seen and not heard". If they dared disobey, corporal punishment speedily descended on them. There was one simple rule — a naughty child was well spanked and even an older boy or girl received a "switching", for any signs of resistance against an adult's wish.

Modern parents find life with their offspring much more complex. Unquestioning obedience is not a complete end in itself. Unfortunately, the whole subject of discipline is apt to descend to a "to spank" or "not to spank" battle.

There is no one rule which fits every case. But a fine understanding relationship between parent and child is of utmost importance, whatever the means used to train a boy or girl. Different methods of discipline will be discussed next week.

Be Boss of Your Budget

New B of M System Helps You Gain Mastery Over Your Money

Are your pay-days just benefit performances for your landlord and various trades-people, with little cash left over for the main performer? Are you neglecting to get your share of your own income? If so, it is time you put yourself on your own payroll with Personal Planning.

Personal Planning is a family-financing system designed by the Bank of Montreal to make you boss of your budget and master of your money. It shows you how to make a master-plan to rid yourself of constant money worries, even with prices still rising. You don't omit paying the landlord or the grocer, but you do pay yourself a percentage of your income that you can put into savings, bonds, insurance, a pension, or anything else you really want. Careful planning gets the most out of your money. First thing you know, it is doing for you most of the things you always thought it should.

There's no longer any need to muddle along making ends meet, with nothing left over for the future. Whatever your income, it will go further, do more for you, if you're a Personal Planner. You can get a booklet about Personal Planning at the Lachute branch of the Bank of Montreal. Donald Hay, the manager, says that, in getting a copy, there is no obligation — except to yourself.

They both stressed leadership and the training of leaders for church work.

Representatives of the executive committee of the Montreal Presbytery included Mrs. Porritt, the president; local representatives were from Arundel, Brownsburg, Cushing, Lachute, Morin Heights, St. Andrews East, and several welcome visitors came from Hawkesbury and Vankleek Hill.

Can You Live Forever in Happiness on Earth?

Modern medical science has made great strides forward in its effort to extend the life span of man upon this earth. Yet few among the men of renown in the field of medicine would care, or dare, to say that life without end could actually be gained on this earth, and, much less, to promise life in happiness. However impossible this may seem to be, there is such a hope before men today, and that hope is set out in the Holy Bible.

Just how this is made possible for those who set their desires upon this hope and yearn to see such a thing come about is plainly and satisfactorily presented in the publication entitled "Can You Live Forever in Happiness on Earth?" In this absorbing booklet the reader will find a reasonable answer to this important and interesting question. Do you want to have a positive answer to this question for yourself? Every intelligent creature would normally want to say yes, especially if life and the full possession of it in perpetual youth on a beautiful paradise earth without sickness, disease or death to trouble one would be theirs, and happiness without end could be had and enjoyed. Learn how you may enjoy this life and how to take a wise course to get in line to receive the benefits of such an arrangement.

This 32-page booklet "Can You Live Forever in Happiness on Earth?" will be sent to you for a contribution of 5 cents. You may want to have additional copies for your friends and neighbors; these can be had at 6 for 25 cents. Send for these now. — Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto.

Freighter's Galley Is Family Concern

Five Years Aboard Canadian Boat

Montreal (CP) — Five years ago when she couldn't find a suitable home ashore, Mrs. Alexander Murray shipped out aboard the Canadian freighter New York News with her husband, its chief cook.

Ever since then the galley has been a family concern. "There's only one thing that could get me to leave the boat and that's my rheumatism", she says.

Ashore or afloat, there's only room for one boss in the kitchen — and Mr. Murray's better half is now the chief cook. But he still reigns supreme in the pie department. "He's a whizz at it", "Ma" proudly asserts.

There's never a dull moment when the ship hits rough weather. "Ma" raves about the recipes she comes up with during a storm, when the rolling vessel tosses the ingredients of one pot into another and vice-versa. "The only trouble is you can't eat them", she adds thoughtfully.

When she lived ashore, Mrs. Murray couldn't look at sea-water without turning a light green, but now she's ready to pit her sea legs against any member of her sex afloat. The whole crew agrees that they have yet to see the storm that could knock "Ma" off her pins.

Her 86th Birthday

Mrs. Matthew Rodgers, of Foundry Street, Lachute, celebrated her 86th birthday on Monday, and received many good wishes from relatives and old friends. Although quite seriously ill for a while during the past winter, "Grandma" Rodgers has recovered sufficiently to be up and around the home, and is enjoying life with her usual happy outlook.

Progressive-Conservative Provincial Convention

The Quebec provincial rally of Progressive-Conservative partisans is being held this week, June 1-2, at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal. Any organizers or supporters in this constituency desirous of attending the assembly are asked to contact Notary Jacques Beaudoin immediately. (Notary Beaudoin, of Lachute, was named last February as temporary representative of the party in this division. His telephone number is 178.)

Hawkesb'y Citizens Ired By Schoolboy Rowdyism

Vigilantes Supervise Playground

Hawkesbury — Stone throwing and other rowdyism by local schoolboys, endangering homes in "Knob Hill", Hawkesbury's new residential area, is being curbed by a voluntary committee of 25 citizens.

Vigilantes take turn supervising activities in the school grounds adjacent to the new homes. Voluntary supervisors do their turn of duty from 6 p.m. until sundown and the grounds are "out of bounds" after the gates are locked for the day.

A new steel fence was recently erected around the school grounds by the Hawkesbury Public School Board, but "Knob Hill" people strenuously objected to the boys' playful antics.

Dr. W. H. Rapson, board chairman, came up with the solution of voluntary supervision. Setting an example for other parents, Dr. Rapson stood his turn as the first volunteer supervisor.

At Official Opening Of Lachute Spring Fair

For the benefit of those who cannot attend, the address of the Premier will be broadcast . . but it is expected that all roads will lead to the Lachute Spring Fair on June 13, and that they will carry thousands of Argenteuil County farmers and their families to the event, as well as thousands more from all parts of the province and from Eastern Ontario.

Already it has been indicated that there will be large representations from many adjacent counties, and delegations are expected too, from Quebec, Three Rivers, the Eastern Townships and the Montreal areas.

At 12.30 on June 13, the Premier will be the guest of honor at a luncheon at the Lachute Golf and Country Club, to be given by the Argenteuil County Council, of which A. Gaston Munich is Warden.

Old Resident Revisits

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Periard, of Seattle, Wash., passed through Lachute on a hurried motor trip, staying only a few hours. It is 50 years since Mr. Periard left here for the West, and naturally he found very few of his boyhood associates here. He had a glimpse at the old homestead (now occupied by Messrs. H. Carson and H. M. Gall) where his father conducted a tailor shop — then taking a drive to Lake Louisa, after which he was on his way. His greatest surprise was to notice that, what he remembered as bushland near his old home, is now a beautiful residential section.

Reminiscing

Mr. Hugh Mitchell, of Chatboro, in a reminiscent mood recalls that in the year of 1890, Messrs. Albert Mitchell, Wm. Wilson, John Knox, John Noyes, Richard Graham and himself, all of this district, left old Argenteuil and went west to work for the Bigelow & Walker Lumber Company, of Washburn, Bayfield County, Wisconsin, U.S.A. — and in the words of Mr. Mitchell they "played their part among the great of Wisconsin over 60 years ago" . . Of that group, the only two survivors today are Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Graham.

THE LADIES ENTERTAIN FOR LUNCH!

(Our District Correspondent)

Cushing — At last year's Sectional gathering of the United Church Women's Missionary Society, held in Arundel — Cushing was chosen as the place of meeting for this year, and the date set for early this spring, May 22.

A little more than a month before that date the members of the Society learned that the Stone Hall, which had for many years been at their disposal, would not be available this year. . . Mrs. W. Y. King promptly came to the rescue with the offer of her commodious home for the serving of lunch and tea. The meeting itself could be held in St. Mungo's Church, but all facilities for catering had been removed when the Stone Hall was first made available.

The electric pump in the private residence needed attention, and was sent to Montreal to be repaired for this special date. As might be expected, it did not return in time; but the plumber installed a temporary pump so that a supply of water would be available.

The morning dawned bright, and with no cloud on the horizon to mar the day in any way — until Fate wagged a crooked finger once again. The Gatineau Company decided to change some of its power lines, and without a word of warning the electricity was cut off; and it remained off from about nine o'clock in the forenoon until about two o'clock in the afternoon, despite frantic telephone calls from those in charge of the luncheon, who were faced with the task of catering for 90 ladies and had no water supply of any kind. It was only through the aid of willing helpers (the young ladies of St. Mungo's Church, who although not members of the W.M.S., were giving their time for the day) that the luncheon could be served, and on time. They formed a "bucket brigade" and carried water from neighboring wells — thus helping to make a success of the occasion in spite of all difficulties. . . The sincere appreciation of St. Mungo's W.M.S. is tendered to these young women and to all who helped in any way.

Women Taxi-Drivers Surprise for Fares

Eve Laws, operating under the trademark of the Diamond Taxicab Association Ltd., said she really gave some of her first customers a big surprise. One man even apologized and started to get out of her cab.

Eve has been driving for a good many years and boasts that she has driven everything from a Cadillac to a truck. She speaks three languages: English, French and German, likes her new job because there is "plenty of fresh air and sunshine".

A. Anderson, one of the owners of the company, says he will have six other women drivers shortly and they will not be allowed to have men passengers in the front seat with them and must return to the garage daily by 5 p.m.

BIRDS LOSE FRIEND

Nanaimo, B.C. (CP) — John Dominco, friend of the birds, is dead. He fed the pigeons of Nanaimo streets every day at a set time for many years, and had a passion for befriending dogs and other animals.

200 New W.I.'s Formed In England Last Year

The 34th annual report of the National Federation of Women's Institutes, England, presents a vivid picture of the growth of the movement in that country. 200 New groups were formed during the past year, making a total of 7,500. The Island Federation of Jersey and Guernsey, where Institutes were first formed after World War II, has been affiliated with the English Federation, and the work is growing rapidly in the Isle of Man, where there is now a total membership of 400. This island has also been taken into the National Federation.

The section of this report dealing with Denman College reveals another busy year at this W.I. institution, the only one of its kind in the world. 1,640 Students have stayed at the College, 48 "A" courses were given, which are open to any W.I. member, and 28 "B" courses taken by members who are willing to pass on what they have learned to other Women's Institutes.

Members of the Quebec Women's Institutes have a particular interest in this College, as the Warden, Miss Elizabeth Christmas, is an honorary member of the Belvedere W.I. in Sherbrooke County, and made many friends when she visited this province a few years ago.

For Elusive Olives

Olives can now be removed from the jar without the use of a pickle fork. To boost sales without increasing prices, the olives are individually impaled on the branches of a plastic "tree". The entire contents are lifted out and stood on a receptacle on the table where they serve an additional use as a decoration. Unused olives can be replaced hygienically in brine for later use. — Marketing

Parade of Floats for Ormstown Fair

Ormstown, Que. — With a large list of entries in all departments, the 1951 Ormstown Exhibition, which opens on June 6 and continues until Saturday night, June 9, promises to be one of the most successful in the 38-year history of this famous agricultural fair.

In the cattle section alone, entries received number more than 400, including 119 Jerseys, 117 Ayrshires and 150 Holsteins, Canadians and Dual Purpose Shorthorns. Fifty-four heifer calves will be shown in the junior department by members of the Boys' and Girls' Calf Clubs in Ormstown, Huntingdon and Howick.

The horse show, which is held every evening and on Saturday afternoon, has drawn close to 100 entries this year. They include many of the finest horses from Quebec, Ontario, New York and Vermont.

Harness racing will be held each afternoon following the opening of the Exhibition on Wednesday night. Three races, with nine heats, will be run daily. Entries are already up near the 150 mark.

Colorful ceremonies have been planned for the official opening which will be featured by a Parade of Floats organized by 200 Ormstown High School students. The students will take part in the parade, as will Ormstown's "Home Town" Band.

Light Horses Win At Aylmer Show

At the Horse Show held in Aylmer, Que., by the Ottawa Valley Light Horse Association last Saturday, Russel Sutton, with his pony "Mary Sunrise", brought home two seconds; and Bill Hewitt, with Tom Martin's "Goodwill Jack" shown as a roadster, picked up two thirds in open and stake classes and when teamed with Dr. Don Cherry's "Miss Lee Hal" they won first place in the teams. "Saludos", owned by the Hewitts and shown by Mrs. Hewitt, placed third in the Hack class, this being her first show under saddle.

Cecil Whyte, of St. Jerome, was winner of the open and stake classes with his fine Hackney mare "Fairview Bonny", with Mr. Whyte driving, while Cecil Elder, driving stablemate "Malcolm of Whitelane" placed third in the two classes; also, as a team they placed first.

For those in the district who had advance sale tickets to this show, it is stated that the winners were all drawn from Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hewitt are readying "Goodwill Jack", "Shirley Peters" and "Rambling Ace" for the light horse show at Ormstown next week.
