Pilot Tells of Seeing Montreal, Toronto Simultaneously from Great Altitude

Exciting Sidelights on Modern Jet Aviation Given at Rotary Club

Mr. A. J. Lilley, one of the founders of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, and at present the chief test pilot for Canadair Ltd., addressed the Brownsburg Rotary at its weekly club meeting last Thursday.

Speaking on "The Transonic Age of Flight", Mr. Lilley anhounced that, starting in May, it will be possible to board a B.O.A.C. jet airliner at 7 a.m. in London, England, fly to Montreal, drive to Brownsburg, have breakfast, and be at work at 9 o'clock the same morning.

The development of jet aircraft has been so fast since the war that the old piston-driven propeller aircraft are today old-fashioned. As a matter of fact, even the earlier types of jet aircraft have become obsolete by now.

Jet aviation has introduced a whole new host of aeronautical problems. One of these is that the ailerons, rudders, and other control pieces formerly manipulated by hand must now be moved by pneumatic or electric operation. The rush of air past the wings and tail is so great that human muscle cannot move the controls.

Another problem is the force of gravity which builds up as the plane is circling or coming out of a dive. The pilot's body is pressed backward at as much as seven times its weight. If this pressure were not counteracted, the blood from the head would rush to the back portions of the body causing "blacking-out". This danger is offset by the use of anti-gravity suits — "G" suits, as they are commonly called. As the body is pressed back the "G" suit inflates, pushing against the blood vessels in the back, thus forcing the blood to stay in the head.

The art of leaving a stricken plane in the air is not as easy in jet aircraft as it is in slower planes. In propeller models, the pilot pushes back the canopy, crawls out, and jumps clear. The jet plane, however, is moving so fast that the pressure of air past the fuselage makes it impossible to push back the canopy. When it is necessary to "bail out" of a jet plane, the canopy must be blown off, and the pilot and seat blown out of the plane. Once out, he disengages himself from the seat, drops down to 15,000 feet (where the air is heavy enough to breath without supplementary oxygen), then pulls the ripcord and floats down to safety.

Mr. Lilley pointed out that the biggest problems in jet aviation are not to design planes to travel at terrific speeds, but rather to build them so that a human can live inside them travelling at such speeds.

For all that, the modern jet plane is more comfortable than the old wartime types. The cockpits of modern planes are heated, air conditioned, and pressurized for the pilot's comfort.

Describing an actual flight, the speaker said that before starting the motors, the pilot must look both to the rear and to the front to see that no one is in the way. Anyone standing in the blast of a jet motor is "fried" in an instant, and, from the front, stands a chance of being drawn into the intake column.

Jet planes are taken off and flown to a high altitude quickly because they consume so much fuel in the heavy air at sea-level. Even at 40,000 feet, however, the motors use 500 gallons of fuel per hour. In the air, there is no vibration, and the motors are very quiet; all that can be heard is the rush of air. On clear days, it is possible to see a wide area of country. Mr. Lilley said that one day last week he was flying at 40,000 feet 150 miles west of Montreal, and could see both Montreal and Toronto — nothing but smoky smudges at that distance.

In the rarified air at 40,000 feet, manoeuverability is slow. It takes from 6 to 8 miles to make a turn. The planes move so fast, the only way they can keep contact is by radar.

Commenting on present-day jet aircraft, the speaker declared that the MIG is superior to our jets. The only reason the United Nations planes are so successful is that they have more skilful pilots. With constant improvement, however, Mr. Lilley is confident that we will have (to use his own words) "flying men and flying machines ready to meet any challenge".

Mr. Lilley was introduced by Dick MacLean and thanked by Dave Schwartz. One guest, G. Kilgour Hardie, attended the meeting.

TO REVIVE ANNUAL CARILLON CELEBRATION

The traditional Carillon fete honoring the exploit of Dollard des Ormeaux and his followers, is to be revived by a committee in the St. Jerome Diocese, and will be held this year as an adjunct to the celebrations of the French-Language Congress. Groups will be organized and a general pilgrimage to Carillon will be the order of the day. The date set is Sunday, May 25.

Chamber of Commerce Honors Two Citizens for Long Community Service

Social Evening at Civic Auditorium

It was a gala evening at Lachute Auditorium last Thursday, when Lachute Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with Kraft Foods Limited, sponsored a social gathering and program. There was a capacity audience to hear the various speakers, to view the Kraft color films, and to enjoy refreshments later in the Auditorium basement, served by courtesy of the Kraft field staff and representatives of Carnation Milk Company.

Master of ceremonies and chairman was Horace Lamarche, energetic president of the Chamber of Commerce. Seated on the platform were Philippe Valois, M.P., W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., Mr. A. Desparois, Kraft sales representative, several prominent citizens, and young ladies who had competed in the subscription contest for L'Argenteuil", new French weekly newspaper.

Mr. Lamarche referred briefly to the Chamber's activities. Refuting an often-heard complaint, he stated in his remarks: "If Lachute has been unsuccessful so far in enticing new industries, it is not because of local opposition on the part of some persons or factions." Citing the success of other growing centres he mentioned that Sherbrooke had made a civic appropriation of $700,000 for industrial promotion; Granby had voted $500,000; and St. Jerome was expecting to devote $120,000. In Lachute there have been no such financial resources to work on.

The Chamber of Commerce was circulating 25,000 stickers advertising this year's Lachute Spring Fair, the cost of which had been met by the Argenteuil Agricultural Society — to whose collaboration Mr. Lamarche gave public recognition.

A total of 36 local merchants have linked up with the retail sales promotion campaign known as the "C.C.C." (Chamber of Commerce Campaign) aiming to make Lachute the "shopping centre of the Lower Ottawa Valley".

A guest of honor on the platform was Mr. J. S. Giles, to whom President H. Lamarche paid glowing tribute for his 55 years of community service as publisher of The Lachute Watchman, presenting him with a framed Certificate of Merit from the Chamber of Commerce. The occasion also

W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A. In Radio Broadcast

W. M. Cottingham, Member of the Legislative Assembly for Argenteuil, was heard at 10.30 o'clock Monday evening in a radio broadcast from Station CBM. Speaking on behalf of the Union-Nationale party, Mr. Cottingham lauded the advances of this province in different spheres of activity — particularly in the exploiting of its mineral assets and promotion of industries. Credit was given to the government leader, Premier Maurice Duplessis, for Quebec's high prestige made possible by policies fostering this growth.

Ayrshire Breeders' Assoc. National Headquarters to Be Established in Ottawa

Ottawa — The Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association has purchased a building in Ottawa to serve as national headquarters.

Announcement of completion of the deal was made Monday by E. Wilson Richmond, secretary-treasurer, following an executive meeting where the final details of the purchase were settled.

The purchase thus ends what during the past two years has been a contentious issue among Ayrshire members — as to whether the building should be located in Ottawa or Brockville, with the matter twice going to a general vote at the annual meeting.

Approval of an Ottawa location and establishment of the full executive as a building committee came at the annual meeting in Toronto this year. Funds for the purchase of a new headquarters' location were raised from breeders throughout the country through the donation and sale of calves and special cash donations.

The building now purchased is located in Ottawa's west-end, close to the Central Experimental Farm.

"Arbor Week" in Quebec To Be Observed May 4-10

Next week has been proclaimed Arbor Week in the Quebec Official Gazette.

The proclamation says:

"The forest is one of the most important resources of the province; it is important that conservation and its restoration be assured by all possible means. . . this can only be realized insofar as the public is truly forest-minded . . this mental attitude is the basis for the love and care of trees".

Resident Killed on Highway at Ste. Dorothée

Cancer Dressing Station

Cancer dressing centre in Montreal, where sterilized dressings are prepared for allotment to district distribution points, one of which will be established in this area. This valuable work, undertaken by the Canadian Cancer Society, is made possible by public contributions. An appeal in connection with the Society's annual campaign is now underway in Argenteuil County, through the local "sections" in Lachute and Brownsburg. . . Contributors in Lachute may hand in their donations to W. M. Steeves, treasurer, at the Bank of Nova Scotia. Brownsburg residents will be canvassed personally, or may hand their contributions to Miss Ann David, secretary.

FOOT SEVERED IN MOTORCYCLE CRASH

A grim accident occurred on the riverfront road between Stonefield and Grece's Point, around 4.40 o'clock last Sunday afternoon, when Laurence Derouin, 26, of St. Philippe, had his lower leg completely severed in a motorcycle smash.

Derouin, who is well known as an assistant in the family store at St. Philippe, was pleasure-riding on his brother's cycle, when he lost control of the machine and collided with a telephone pole. His leg, caught between the motorcycle and the pole, was severed below the knee. A passenger riding with Derouin also suffered a broken leg.

Medical aid was summoned, and the victims were removed by ambulance to the Notre Dame Hospital at Hawkesbury.

Traffic Officer Albert Legault, of Brownsburg, investigated the accident.

GRASS FIRE SPREADS, BUILDINGS IN DANGER

A grass fire east of Lachute spread out of control last Sunday afternoon, and farm buildings were in considerable danger before the blaze was extinguished.

A tract of land situated between the North River and the St. Jerome highway, was being burned over, and in the southward breeze the flames spread to the Roy Evans and Andrew Nicoll farm lands, burning eight acres of grass and pasture. Neighbors battled the fire with shovels and water, but dense smoke hampered their work to the leeward of the blaze. An ice-house and a quantity of lumber was burned at Mr. Evans' place before Lachute firemen arrived at the scene, by which time the many willing helpers had the outbreak pretty well controlled. One of Andrew Nicoll's cottages was in the route of the spreading fire, and was saved only by a timely change in direction of the wind.

Special to The Watchman and L'Argenteuil

Many delegates from Lachute and district attended a regional supper gathering of the French-Language Congress at the Lapointe Hotel in St. Jerome last Thursday, at which the guest speaker was Paul Gouin, technical advisor to the provincial executive of this movement.

Among those attending from this immediate vicinity were — Gaetan Valois, N.P., and Mrs. Valois; Simon Valois, N.P., and Mrs. Valois; Mr. Alfred Dionne, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gosselin; Dr. and Mrs. Roger Lavigne; Mrs. W. H. Ayers; Miss Lina Lefebvre; Mr. and Mrs. Gaétan Leclerc; Mr. J. G. Lamontagne; the Rev. Léo Clément and the Rev. C. E. Gougeon; Dr. and Mrs. Charles Roy, Messrs. Laurent Beaudry, Armand Alie, Yvon-E. Leblanc, the Rev. F. Coursol, the Rev. Montour, Messrs. Claude Guilbert, G. E. Marchand, the Misses Gilberte Marchand, Madeleine Racicot, Suzanne Racicot; Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Trottier.

Many other parishes in this county and in the surrounding region were also well represented.

Firemen Kept Busy, Minor and Major Blazes

Many Calls in Town and Nearby Municipalities

With grass fires and chimney fires occurring sometimes two and three a day, Fire Chief Geo. Y. Deacon reports his department has been continually "on the hop" for the past two or three weeks. One variation from these lesser incidents was a fire which broke out in a truck belonging to Alex Lapointe, of Beech Ridge, on Bethany Street near the station yard.

The trend became more serious on Tuesday, when a grass fire spread to a shed at the rear of Hector Chartrand's home on Catherine Street, which is beyond the Lachute limits in St. Jerusalem. It required a 150 ft. length of hose to subdue this blaze, and the shed was almost completely burned.

Hawkesbury, Lachute and Kilmar sent equipment to comat a serious blaze at the Foundation Company properties in Marelan, Chatham Township, at 5 p.m. yesterday. Two buildings were burned, a carpenter's shop and an office — the latter being situated in an old two-storey house. The work of the firemen was instrumental in saving the frame of the house and much of the office contents.

At 8 p.m. Lachute Fire Department was summoned to a fire at Ayersville, in a one-storey cottage owned by Fred Williams. The structure was saved, though much of the interior and furnishings were burned. The Lachute crew laid two lines of hose, boosting the low water pressure from the hydrants by means of the truck pump.

In this latter incident the Fire Chief's radio communication was used to summon the town's auxiliary truck, which was then returning on the highway from the Marelan blaze.

BACK TO TUGBOATS

Vancouver (CP) — Hon. J. H. Cates, provincial labor minister, who has represented North Vancouver in the legislature for seven years, is "Captain Johnny" again. He announced his retirement from politics to return to his tugboat business with his brothers, Charles and Jimmy.

To Increase Provincial Traffic Force by 25

Quebec (CP) — Premier Duplessis announced last week the Government has decided to hire 25 more highway and regular police constables. The decision was taken at the request of Solicitor-General Rivard.

The premier gave increase in the number of roads maintained and kept by the Provincial Government, as well as development of new areas, as the reason.

Memberships Drive For Community Concerts Next Week

The executive of the Lachute Community Concerts Association is completing plans for the annual camapign for members for next season. The opening dinner meeting is to be held as usual at the Golf Club, on Monday evening, May 5, when Mr. Delormier, the official representative from New York, will be present. The campaign will actually begin on Tuesday, continuing for the remainder of the week. It is expected an executive meeting will be held either Friday night or Saturday afternoon for the purpose of selecting artists for next season. It is for this reason that an all-out attempt is being made to have all subscriptions turned in by the end of the week. The executive then has accurate information regarding the amount of their budget which, in turn, has an important bearing on the selection of artists.

A new departure is being planned this year. A special concert will be held in the Lachute High School auditorium on Saturday night, May 10, featuring a local artist, Miss Marcelle Lafortune, of Lachute. Miss Lafortune, who has been studying music at Ville St. Laurent for a number of years, is considered an accomplished pianist. She has prepared an attractive program of popular numbers, and it is expected this will prove to be a real musical treat. Attendance at this concert will be free of charge to all those who join the Association this year.

Couple Died Suddenly Vacationing in Florida

Late Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Guilbert

A double demise causing great shock and sorrow among relatives here, occurred this week at Casadoga, Florida, where Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Guilbert, of Brownsburg, both succumbed to heart seizure within a short time of each other. The couple were visiting relatives in Florida when Mrs. Guilbert suffered a sudden heart attack, and died. The severe emotional strain affected her husband so acutely that he too took a heart seizure, to which he succumbed a few minutes later. Mr. Guilbert was 64 years of age; his wife was 60.

Old residents of Brownsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Guilbert were well and favorably known hereabouts. Their remains being brought here for burial, a double funeral service will be held Saturday, May 3, at 10 a.m. from St. Louis de France parish church in Brownsburg.

The late Edgar A. Guilbert was three times married — to Adelia Morin, to Laurence Paquette, and to Rose Paquette. He is survived by two sons and two daughters — Gaetan, of Lachute, Bernard, of Perth, N.B., Rita and (Cora) Mrs. Owen Stephens, of Lachute. He is mourned also by a sister at Casadoga, Florida, with whom the couple were visiting.

Mrs. Guilbert (the former Rose Paquette) is survived by three sisters — Mrs. Vital Lacasse, of Montreal, Mrs. Zénon Pitre, of Hawkesbury, and Miss Annette Paquette, of Buckingham.

Sympathy of many friends is extended to the bereaved relatives in this district.

Temperance Demonstration In St. Jerome Diocese

Opening in Lachute last Sunday, a temperance campaign throughout the Catholic diocese of St. Jerome is continuing this week. Lacordaire and Jeanne d'Arc assemblies have been held Monday evening at St. Andrews East, Tuesday at Calumet, Wednesday at St. Benoit, with other meetings scheduled at Ste. Anne des Plaines and Mont Rolland. A delegation will travel by special bus from Lachute to attend the closing demonstration on Sunday at St. Jerome.

In connection with the inauguration of this week-long campaign, a conference was held at St. Julien parish church here last Sunday afternoon for leaders of the 22 Lacordaire groups in the diocese, under the presidency of Germain Bellemare. A banquet was held in the church basement that evening, organized by the St. Julien group. There were 125 present, with Alcide Léger and Miss Laurette Ledoc presiding as respective heads of the Lacordaire and Jeanne d'Arc societies of that parish. At a soiree concluding the day's events, at the Catholic Superior School, Mgr. Emile Frenette, bishop of the diocese, presided.

Ayersville Enters First By-Laws on Municipal Statutes

First by-laws of the new Ayersville Municipality were adopted at the regular council meeting Monday evening, with Mayor Gilbert E. Ayers presiding.

By-law No. 1 sets the date of regular sessions as the last Monday of each month, at 7.30 p.m., with the Immaculate Conception parish hall as place of meeting.

By-law No. 2 provides for a street-lighting contract with Gatineau Power Company.

A resolution was adopted ratifying all existent business taxes of Chatham Township to apply and remain in force for Ayersville, of which township the new municipality was formerly a part.

Armand Brisson, secretary-treasurer, was appointed collector of amusement tax — which, with the early opening of the baseball park, will bring revenue to the municipality.

Permit fees for bicycles were set at $1.25 a year; for dogs, $2.50; for female dogs, $5. These permits and license tags will be available shortly.

Inasmuch as the Chatham statutes provide for the levy of special taxes by council resolution, and these provisions remain in force for Ayersville, the municipality will follow the same procedure.

Mayor Gilbert E. Ayers read an exchange of correspondence with W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., relative to the council's request for extension of Ayers Street to Highway No. 8. Mr. Cottingham stated he was negotiating with the Minister of Roads for fulfilment to this request.

Pending adoption of a building by-law, prospective builders are requested to voluntarily submit their plans for council approval — Aldermen Germain Poulin and Albert Lemay being authorized to consider such projects submitted.

Application was received from Mrs. Quenneville for permission to open a store in the municipality. Council raised no objection and wished her good luck in the venture.

Daylight Saving Time, already in effect since last Sunday, was officially adopted by the council — notice of same to be sent to the Department of Municipal Affairs.

The municipal office is situated at the residence of Armand Brisson, secretary-treasurer, who is in attendance for business from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, and from 2 to 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

High School Jnr. Grades Closed Through Epidemic

At a special meeting of Lachute Protestant School Commission last Thursday it was decided, in view of the prevailing epidemic of sickness, to close the junior grades of Lachute High School for one week. Notice was issued accordingly to pupils of Grades I to VII inclusive, and these classes have been suspended during the present week.

Numerous cases of measles and chicken-pox had occurred, considerably reducing the recent attendance among younger pupils.

Old Offender Before Court, Pleads 'Not Guilty'

Paul Emile Allard, 21, arrested on Tuesday of last week at Carillon while making the round of his muskrat traps on the canal, was brought to justice by Det. Philippe Therriault of Lachute, and appeared before the district magistrate at St. Jerome on Friday. The Carillon man, with a previous record of three months in reform school and three months in jail, faced no fewer than seven charges of theft and false pretences.

On five separate occasions Lachute taxi operators had been duped by Allard, it is alleged. Demanding to be driven from Lachute to Carillon, on arrival the customer had enquired the fare, which was invariably $3. In each case, asking the taximan to wait while he "went" to get the money — it is stated the man "went" and did not return. Another case was of a hotel patron at Carillon wishing to purchase some fish. Allard reportedly offered his services, was given $5 to procure the fish, and thereupon disappeared. The final complaint was that of a drinking partner at Lachute, from whom it is charged that Allard stole a $35 wrist watch. The watch was recovered by the dectective at Pte. Fortune, where Allard was allegedly trying to dispose of it.

Allard, who pleaded "not guilty", will stand trial on May 14.

Summer Cottages

Beginning to think about the summer cottage? Might as well start thinking about making sure the electricity is ready to go on when you want it too.

For several years, we have been reminding our summer customers around this time that they should get their applications for summer electricity service in early. This year several hundred people have realized the importance of notifying us early and their applications are already in. That gives us a chance to schedule the work of connection so that their power can be there when they want it.

We hope many hundreds more will get in touch with the Gatineau Power office nearest their cottage within the next few weeks so that we will know when they want power. Incidentally, the summer service rates are already in effect, as of yesterday.

Probably there will still be summer cottagers who wait until the last minute, those who call us on a Saturday morning and want their power on that afternoon. They are likely to be disappointed because, with upwards of 3,000 special connections to be made, last-minute orders disrupt the work schedule and lead to delays which are inevitable.

Those delays can be avoided by early notification to the power company.

June 4-7 Dates for Ormstown Fair

Ormstown, Que. — Ormstown's annual Exhibition and Horse Show will be held this year from June 4 to 7, according to Carlyle Dickson, secretary-treasurer and manager.

On the program are three afternoons of harness racing, daily judging of livestock entries from a wide area of Quebec and Ontario, and horse show events in the indoor arena four evenings and the closing Saturday afternoon.

Exhibition officials are preparing for a new record in entries and attendance this year. Attendance in the four days of the 1951 exhibition hit a record 22,000.

Appeals for "Voluntary Fire Rangers"

Appealing to all citizens of Quebec to become "voluntary fire rangers", and save the woodlands from destruction, Mayor Camillien Houde, M.P., issued a public message through the Canadian Forestry Association.

"Quebec's endowment of forest wealth is rapidly building up new industries and new employment", says Mr. Houde. "World markets look to this province more and more as their source of supply. This means that every acre of woodland in Quebec becomes more valuable year after year.

"We cannot afford to be proud of this situation until we banish forest fires. The great majority of such fires are caused by human carelessness, and every one of them is a threat to future employment and the welfare of hundreds of communities. Certainly we cannot make a conflagration of the forest resources and expect them to produce wages for our people. I am, therefore, making this appeal to all citizens to take the utmost precaution to keep Quebec's forests free of fire whenever they enter the woods for recreation. I make a special appeal to motorists and sportsmen not to take any chance with unextinguished campfires and lighted tobacco. In other words, consider yourselves as voluntary fire-rangers and as trustees for a forest heritage that must be kept intact for all the years to come."

Oat Variety Recommendations

Ottawa — Assessing the values of established cereal varieties to local conditions and in evaluating new crosses and strains of cereals, is one of the important phases of Illustration Station work carried on in co-operation with the Cereal Division of the Experimental Farm Service.

In the seven-year period, 1945-1951, twenty-three oat varieties have been tested on nine different Illustrated Stations in Eastern Ontario, says L. M. Casserly, of Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Thirteen of these varieties have been discarded as unsatisfactory. In only a few instances were varieties dropped because of lack of yielding ability. In many cases, lack of disease resistance, mainly rusts, had been an important reason for eliminating some otherwise very useful varieties. In certain cases new introductions were not superior to already licensed sister varieties.

In the seven-year period, the oat variety Ajax has given the highest average yield. Ajax is early, semi-resistant to stem rust and has good straw. The kernel is thin-hulled but somewhat small in size.

The sister varieties of oats, Abegweit and Beaver, in which are combined semi-resistance to stem rust and moderate resistance to crown rust, followed Alax is average yields. Abegweit is slightly later than Beaver and has given higher yields. The grain of both varieties is of good size and quality.

The variety that placed fourth in average yields is Lanark, a variety to be recommended for severe rust areas in Eastern Ontario. Lanark is early, has considerable rust resistance and straw strength. The grain is of excellent quality.

The variety Roxton, a tall, vigorous, medium late, light hulled oat with semi-resistance to rust has given excellent yields on the lighter soils. In certain seasons, Roxton has been a top yielder. However, its late maturity and very long straw on fertile soils are factors that detract from its value.

The seriousness of plant disease changes and will continue to change the evaluation of cereal varieties. Certain varieties that are very useful today may be rendered useless in a short time by the spread of a new strain of rust or other cereal disease. Growers should keep abreast with the development of new varieties.

Horizontal Silos

Ottawa — Horizontal silos, a modified form of trench silos, are built almost entirely above the ground surface. This type of silo is more adaptable to the use of modern harvesting machines and silage can be removed with tractor manure loaders.

When constructing a horizontal silo on level ground, the bottom of the silo is at the ground surface and no excavation is required. Where the silo is located on sloping ground, only one end of the silo base is at ground level. Sufficient earth is excavated to make the base of the silo almost flat and thus the other end of the silo is below ground according to the slope of the land.

Walls of a horizontal silo may be constructed by setting up two parallel rows of heavy posts about 12 to 14 feet apart, says W. Kalbfleisch, agricultural engineer at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The posts used for this purpose are 12 feet long, set 4½ feet in the soil and are located 4 feet apart in the row. Planking material, 2 inches thick, may be used to sheath the inside of the posts and form the silo. Earth should be banked up about 3 feet high along each side of the silo to seal the walls. Two strips of rolled roofing material may be placed along the top section of the silo to keep air out of the silage.

Supplementing Pasture For Milk Production

Ottawa — Even on good pasture milking cows in high or medium production should receive grain supplement if the milk flow is to be maintained. Cows on pasture will consume from 90 to 150 pounds of grass daily. The upper extreme of this amount, under good grazing conditions, will support a cow weighing 1200 pounds and producing about 38 pounds of milk daily, based on feeding standard recommendations. Average grazing supplies nutrients for a yield of 20 pounds of milk daily or less for a cow of this weight. It is evident therefore that some supplement is necessary even during the lush pasture growth of spring.

The procedure followed at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, is to feed no grain to cows producing less than 20 pounds of milk daily. Cows producing over 20 pounds of milk daily are fed a supplementary grain allowance at the rate of one pound for each five pounds of milk, for cows in the range of 20 to 35 pounds production, and at the rate of one pound of meal for each 3 pounds of milk for those producing over 35 pounds daily.

Experiments have shown that during periods of lush growth, as in the spring, the protein content of the pasture herbage is almost twice as high as during periods of dry weather which occur as the season advances. It also has been found that cows milk better if the lush, high protein grass is supplemented with feeds low in protein. In fact there is evidence that the high protein content of pasture herbage during the early season grazing may even reduce production. A safe practice then is to use a low protein supplement of oats and barley for the month after the cows are first turned out. As the season advances high protein supplements such as linseed oilmeal should be added to the oat-barley grain ration at the rate of one part of linseed oilmeal to each three of four parts of oats and barley.

Salt should be available either in blocks or fed in the meal.

During periods of dry weather, which often occur in July and August, a further supplement of silage or hay is often necessary. Experiments at Ottawa have shown that with cultivated pasture, excess grass growth can be cropped in mid-June, cured as silage, and fed to the cows during such dry periods.

Spit-and-Polish Time

SPRING fever affects people differently. The first balmy days fill some with energy, others with the desire to do nothing more vigorous than doll in the sun.

The little woman starts housecleaning, while her better half is set to turn out the garage or wash windows. Rains sweep away the accumulations of winter, and trees and fields grow misty green. Spring bonnets bloom, and "wet-paint" signs are the order of the day.

Colorful provincial and state license plates on the highways mark the start of the 1952 tourist season.

This year the tourist really expects his money's worth, particularly if he is from the United States. With the Canadian dollar above par for the first time in 14 years the shoe is on the other foot. At the same time income from tourist business is important to our national economy.

Since the cost of a Canadian holiday has gone up, painting and brushing up the local scene is more important than ever this year. An extra bit of spit and polish is mandatory. Cleaning the "welcome mat" does not complete the job of keeping the tourist business coming. That is a season-long proposition.

Appearance is not everything, but it's surprising how the well-turned-out town or community gets itself talked about. Hundreds of thousands of tourists will throng Canada's highways and the attractive town or village is the one where they will spend their money.

The welcome sign at the limits of a drab and rundown community is an irony that few visitors forget.

A BIRD'S EYE view of the welfare state, as seen by Sir Charles Darwin, eminent British scientist: "At present, the most efficient way for a man to survive in Britain is to be almost half-witted, completely irresponsible and spending a lot of time in prison, where his health is far better looked after than outside."

A Major Driving Hazard

HEADLIGHT glare is rated one of the most costly hazards among the car driving public. Even traffic and safety authorities are beginning to feel that something should be done about eliminating this worst enemy of the night-driving motorist.

Headlight glare-has been with us for 30 years and gets more troublesome each year. Nighttime accidents form the greater percentage of all driving accidents, and the majority of these are caused by one factor — outdriving vision as allowed by car headlights.

With no opposing glare from the lights of oncoming vehicles a driver behind properly aimed lights can drive at 50 miles per hour and be sure of being able to stop in time if a situation occurs wherein he should stop or slow down. But let only 7,000 candle-power from opposing headlights glare in his eyes, and vision is reduced by two thirds. In other words at 50 miles per hour he will take 180 feet to react and stop but he can only see 100 to 150 feet down the road through the glare of opposing headlights even with the lights on the low or passing beam.

Let the full candlepower of two 25,000 c-p headlights (on the high beam) face a driver on the road, and he just can't see anything for several seconds. From 300 feet in front of the lights until he passes through the glare he is driving blind and trusting to luck that nothing gets in the way. That's why drivers who have knocked down pedestrians at night claim that they didn't even see the person they hit.

Everybody is beefing about headlight glare, yet little is being done about it. Actually in Canada there is no authority who is responsible for approving headlights as being anti-glare. Provincial regulations say that lights shall be approved and yet in no province is there any authority who attempts to approve or disapprove lights for glare or any other factor.

In fact, other than to check lights for operation on the annual vehicle inspection (compulsory in one or two provinces), traffic and safety authorities are doing nothing to check or reduce this national hazard.

The Canadian Automotive Trade has waged a lengthy campaign for better headlight aiming to reduce glare, and has succeeded in some measure in getting the manufacturers to do a better job on vehicles as they leave the factories. . . . Out of all this propaganda comes a ray of hope for improved lighting. General Electric headlighting research engineer Val J. Roper (in the U.S.) states that some progress is being made in changing the lens pattern to improve ditch lighting and reduce the light which presently glares in the eyes of the oncoming driver.

Jack Miner Theories

THE LATE Jack Miner, Canadian naturalist, always gave reasons for his opinion. He would say if man shoots ducks for food, then man should shoot the crows to the same proportion, because the crows are the duck's enemies during the nesting season.

If man shoots red deer for food, man should kill the timber wolf to the same proportion. Man upsets Nature's balance so it is up to man to balance it. Jack Miner would say: "If the potato bugs attack my potato vines, I use Paris Green. I don't wait for God to send another bug to kill them."

No man ever believed in Natural Habitat more than did Jack Miner. One needs only to visit his home and bird sanctuary. There you will find 53,000 trees, plants and shrubs planted by the late Jack Miner, because he used to say an ice storm or a blizzard can come and if wild life such as pheasants and quail do not have food and shelter, fully 90 per cent of such game can be wiped out by the storm. He would always add that no one ever saw evidence of an ice storm or a blizzard ever reducing predators. Such being the case, then the Great Horned Owl and other predators that are enemies of our more valuable bird life should be reduced to the same proportion that the ice storm reduces the more valuable game, because this mass of predators is left to live on the ten per cent of our game birds which is left after such a storm. All out of proportion.

In other words, our game birds cannot stand man's guns, ice storms, a blizzard and the predators. It is up to man to reduce the predators to the same proportion that our game birds are reduced by such causes.

High Cost of Labor

THAT WAS a great big "IF" that Mr. Howe inserted in his statement that Canada could keep inflation under control if labor would not rock the boat — writes E. J. Young, of Toronto, in a commentary to these columns.

Labor was not long in making its reply. It intends to go right after what it wants, and will not be deterred by any fear of upsetting the boat. From every side, demands are being made for new contracts providing for higher wages, escalator clauses, and union shop. Organized labor seems to have the notion that, in the escalator clause, it has a formula that will enable it to keep ahead of inflation, and keep wages rising automatically, as fast as the cost of living goes up.

What it doesn't seem to understand is that as other classes in the community become impoverished by the high cost of labor, they will be forced to buy less of the only thing labor has to sell. They will employ less labor.

Higher wage rates are of no advantage to the man who has no job; but higher prices will make short work of any little savings he may have been able to lay aside.

Inventing Is Tough !

It's a sad life! Every time I invent some new gadget, along comes someone else that puts it into production on a mass scale before my blueprints are even dry. For some time I had been working on a new kind of license plate with invisible numbers, so as to enable crooks to make a clean getaway after a bank robbery. Now all 1952 Quebec plates are just like that. . .

So now I have to turn my colossal intellect into some new channel, and have come up with my Double-Breasted Toaster. The idea is a simple one. A double-sided piece of carbon-paper is placed between two slices of white or brown bread and placed in the toaster. The heat melts the waxy composition on the carbon-paper and discolors the bread, giving it the appearance of being toasted, thereby saving much time in the preparation of breakfast, as two slices on each side of any standard toaster can be made at one time. One or two difficulties have still to be ironed out. Blue carbon-paper is the wrong color. I must obtain brown, and seem to have difficulty obtaining it. The only alternative would be to get all bread companies to turn out a Lavender Loaf to match the blue paper.

I'm still working on this during the time I can spare from my Plastic Tea Bags. The trouble with the conventional tea-bags has always been that the tea gets soaking wet and useless after been used once. With my Plastic Bags, which are waterproof, the tea stays dry and can be used repeatedly, resulting in a great saving of tea.

I regret that my Magnifrying Pan, announced last July, has not yet come into production. I am simply waiting until world conditions become somewhat more stable. (Stable means that state when the consumption of horse-flesh becomes more general.)

Be seein' ya!

Uranium Brings Boom In Northwest Mining

Prince Albert, Sask. (CP)—Saskatchewan, famous for its grains, ist experiencing another kind of boom this year as mining men and prospectors seek to tap its extensive mineral resources.

Although there was a boom as long ago as 1936 when the Goldfields gold rush was under way, only a small portion of the province's 80,000 square miles of pre-Cambrian rocks have been explored.

The current claim-staking rush, based on uranium finds in the northwest and base-metal prospects in the northeast, could result in 1952 being a record year. To date the number of claims staked is ahead of the rate in 1951 when a record 2,030 were staked.

In 1940 the total value of minerals recovered was slightly more than $8,000,000, but by 1948 this had jumped to $30,000,000.

Uranium is the most sought after mineral. Iron, copper, nickel, zinc and gold also are being discovered.

Have You A Question ON UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any point do not hesitate to send your question to your district Unemployment Insurance office. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Following are some questions with answers which may be of interest to you: —

Q. I am a laborer. During the summer I work on the farm, in winter time I work in the bush. I am paying unemployment insurance contributions, but this work is seasonal in nature and I am not able to work long enough to be able to draw benefits. Have I the right to ask the farmer, in summer, to pay unemployment insurance contributions when I am willing to pay my share?

A. No. Employment on a farm is not insurable and even if the farmer were willing to pay contributions for you when you work for him he is not permitted to do so.

If you work more than half the year on a farm you may apply for exemption (which would relieve you from paying any contributions) when you work in the bush. This would be entirely voluntary on your part and your employer in the bush will provide you with the necessary form if you wish to be exempted.

You mention that you never work long enough to draw benefit. You may not be aware that if unemployed during the months of January, February or March, you may be entitled to supplementary benefit. The number of contributions required to qualify for this benefit is considerably lower than that necessary for regular benefit.

In Brownsburg

Specially contributed to The Watchman

Spring

Time was when we slipped softly and smoothly into a mudhole on the roadway, which was later repaired by a load of gravel and everyone seemed happy. Nowadays we have advanced to bouncing into a sharp-edged pot-hole which costs us a new tire and flips our latest dentures out of our mouth. . . How civilization progresses!

Down the Drain

We wonder if many people read the doings of the Brownsburg Council; we would like to know how they regard them. We shall probably learn a little about it this month when three council seats become vacant. Most of the council's business is of a routine, repetitious nature, and nothing more so of late than water wastage. It's an old story of allowing a taxpayer to hook on to the municipal water system in any way he likes, at his own expense, and then threatening to cut off his water supply because he is suspected of wasting it to prevent freezing. There was a lot of heat engendered when debating this question, and fanciful figures of water consumption were splashed about in proof of the running half-inch tap. . .

Now someone discovered that a large water main had connected itself to a sewerage pipe, and this vital necessity was pouring itself "down the drain". When the trouble was corrected, up jumped the water pressure; the reservoir which couldn't be filled rose to overflow, and everybody was happy — or were they? A third-class engineer could have discovered this break in a casual inspection, and a lot of frayed tempers would never have been frayed. . . . The moral of all this — you frame it.

Applied Pressure

The federal government is listening to a lobby chorus to take over the responsibilities and the costs of Education. It might too, but knows Quebec would fight such action to the last ditch. There are some things not worth taking as a present. Quebec thinks this is one of them, saying in effect, "Give us back our money (taxes) and we will take care of our own debts B.N.A.-wise."

* * *

The Issue

The Liberal government is probing the headlines for an election issue with suitable appeal. Don't be surprised if they come up with a proposal to pay our hospitalization bills and enlarge our health units to take care of a lot, if not all, private practice. Don't think it wouldn't be a good card to play — it would.

As a second thought, it seems strange that our "in the hole" hospital financiers never thought of issuing an insurance against hospital expense, payable in monthly or periodic premiums to cover cost of possible sickness. Why leave this lucrative business to a third party to build up balances of millions of dollars out of the fear and dread of possible sickness?

SPORTS FROM SEA TO SEA: All across Canada, sports-minded vacation planners are casting a speculative eye to the future, because summer time is outdoor sports time. Plans are already in high gear at the Canadian Pacific's coast to coast string of hotels and summer resorts which offer the ultimate in fishing, swimming and boating in fresh water or salt, golfing on some of the country's most renowned fairways, and many other forms of recreation. This beautiful water-hole at Digby Pines in Nova Scotia (top left) is a challenge to par-buster and novice alike. Following clockwise is a view of swimming at Banff Springs Hotel in Alberta, where water sports are enjoyed against a mountain backdrop. Always a zestful game, tennis is really exhilarating in the crisp mountain air of the Canadian Rockies at Banff and Lake Louise. Although found right across Canada, trout in the Rockies will prove a stern test for the angler, as well as a proud trophy, as the beauteous fishergal seems to be telling the Mountie.

IT'S A STEAL: It's like taking candy from a child, laugh these beauteous damsels as they give a new twist to the old story of the "one that got away" by stealing the fish from the line of the sleeping fisherman. With the opening of the fishing season the gals decided to go fishing in the CNR's huge display at Central Station. The permanent display, depicting springtime in Canada, features the sleeping angler, leaping fish and real waterfalls but not, unfortunately, the pretty young ladies.

Bobby Jones, Golf 'Great', Past 50, Now Ailing

By Gerry Lougheed,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Bobby Jones, who scored his unprecedented "grand slam" of golf in 1930, observed his 50th birthday recently, a shadow of his former self.

Seated, he still looks like the husky athlete who won the four top prizes in the world of golf 22 years ago. But when he walks he shows the effects of a spinal ailment that struck him in May, 1948.

Jones wears a steel brace on his right leg and uses two canes in walking. He suffers continuous pain with the same sort of stoicism that hid the nausea of a nervous stomach in competition on the links.

Bobby said farewell to active participation in golf when the spinal disease first struck. By profession, he is a lawyer but he hasn't practised for some time.

But he stays busy and keeps smiling. He gives about three hours daily in his office to his duties as president of a bottling firm. He also is president of a company which manufactures sporting goods.

Despite his illness, Jones retains a zealous devotion to the game which brought him so much fame. He keeps a hand in the sport by serving as president of the Augusta, Ga., club where some of the big time tournaments are played.

Bobby started playing golf at six. At 14 he advanced to the quarter-finals of the United States Amateur. The next year he won the Southern U.S. amateur title. Two years after that he went to the finals of the U.S. amateur and was hailed as the "wonder boy".

He won the first of the four U.S. Open champoinships in 1923. The following years he won the U.S. Amateur — for the first of five times — and repeated in the U.S. Open.

Both the U.S. and British Open titles went to Jones in 1926. In following years he picked up the U.S. Amateur again and repeated in the U.S. Open event.

Bobby put on his greatest display in 1930 and was acclaimed as the world's greatest amateur shotmaker. That was the year of his "grand slam" victories in the U.S. Open and Amateur and corresponding tournaments in Britain.

Macaulay Camp Supported By United Ch. Presbytery

Macaulay Camp, situated on the Ottawa River near Hawkesbury, is one of the enterprises supported by the Local Services Fund of the Montreal Presbytery of the United Church. The property comprises about 21 acres, has an attractive grove of elms at the entrance, a spacious area for camp activities and one of the few good beaches on the south side of the Ottawa River.

The original purpose of the camp was to provide a holiday for needy mothers and children from United Church missions and churches. Now, in addition, the property is used by the Cubs for three weeks — by the Young People's Union for a week's convention — by the W.M.S. Training School for a week. Naturally the revenue from these organizations assists greatly in the cost of operating and maintenance.

On the property there are a dozen cabins for campers, Manager's cottage, Leader's cabin, large recreation hall with verandahs on three sides and fireplace. The original farmhouse provides an office, a well-appointed kitchen, including oilburning range and electric refrigerator. A dining hall accommodating 150 has been added. With a very modest start, the camp presently has a replacement value of over $50,000 and looks like a good investment.

But that is the dull side of the story. Consider the thousands of mothers and children who have had a happy holiday at the camp over the years. Consider what the camp has meant in improvement of health—in restoration of morale—in giving renewal of life to tired spirits. Actual related experiences will stand up to these in an amazing way. Macaulay Camp has been worthwhile. It is a good investment.

AMERICAN MIGRANTS STEADILY ON TRAIL TO JOBS IN ALASKA

Edmonton Now Stop-Off Point For Whole Families Seeking New Oportunities in North

Edmonton (CP) — In spring and early summer, every Wednesday is "Alaska Day" here. That's the day most Alaska-bound Americans arrive for a brief stop-over before continuing the long trek north.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gordon, whose auto camp here has the magic name "Alaska" blazing in neon letters, accommodate a large share of the migrants. They say most of the travellers leave their homes on Monday, reaching here about the middle of the week.

The motorcar migrants, all U.S. citizens, are moving to Alaska in anticipation of opportunities in construction work, general business and just plain homesteading in the "last frontier" of the United States.

Many are not sure what they will find when they reach Alaska. But all want to be in on the ground floor of whatever it is.

They expect to receive big wages for all types of work, but are prepared to live in shacks.

They come from no special class. They are carpenters, mechanics and drivers. And there are large families starting a new life.

Typical of the construction workers were four Fairbanks-bound men from Missouri — F. E. Whittle, Byron Coburn and Robert and Jack Morrow.

Whittle, a carpenter returning for the fourth time to Alaska after wintering in Missouri, estimates he earned $6,600 in nine months in Alaska last year.

"We had one Alaska-bound mother stop here", Mrs. Gordon reported. "She had four children, one of them four months old. But she said that if the men could do it she could, too."

Angel Cakes

Now that eggs are in good supply, homemakers will want to take advantage of the low prices and treat their families and guests to that favorite delicacy, Angel Cake. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, have been experimenting on Angel Cake. What an array of mouth watering flavors and exciting colors were produced. This is their recipe for the standard Angel Cake and some of the other ones that they liked best.

Angel Cake

1 Cup egg whites, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 cup sifted fruit sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, 1 cup cake flour.

Beat egg whites and salt until frothy, add cream of tartar and beat until stiff but not dry. Beat in ½ cup of the fruit sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time. Add flavoring, sift remaining sugar with the flour four times and fold into meringue, 2 tablespoons at a time. Pour into an ungreased 9" tube pan. Bake in a very hot oven, 425°F., for 25 minutes or in a moderately slow oven, 325°F., for 1 hour. Invert pan and let cake hang in pan until cold. Yield: one 9-inch cake.

Variations:

1. Butterscotch: Substitute 1 cup brown sugar, closely packed, for the fruit sugar. Omit almond flavor. ½ Teaspoon rum extract may replace the almond.
2. Cherry: Fold ½ cup chopped maraschino cherries, which have been thoroughly drained, into the batter.
3. Chocolate: Reduce flour to ¾ cup and sift ¼ cup cocoa with dry ingredients. Omit almond flavoring.
4. Chocolate Ripple: Omit almond extract. Grate 1 ounce unsweetened chocolate. Pour ¼ of batter into tube pan and sprinkle with ½ of grated chocolate. Continue in this manner, finishing with batter on top.
5. Daffodil: Omit flavoring. Divide batter in half. Fold 4 well-beaten egg yolks and 1 teaspoon lemon juice or lemon extract into one half. To other half add ½ teaspoon vanilla. Drop by spoonfuls into pan, alternating white and yellow batter.
6. Maple Walnut: Omit almond extract. Reduce vanilla to ½ teaspoon and add ½ teaspoon maple extract. Add ¼ cup finely chopped walnuts with last addition of flour.
7. Marble: Omit almond extract. Divide batter in half. Fold 2 tablespoons sifted cocoa into one part. Drop by spoonsfuls into pan, alternating with white batter.
8. Peppermint: Omit almond extract. Add ½ teaspoon peppermint extract and a few drops of green food coloring.
9. Spiced: Sift with flour, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, and ¼ teaspoon cloves. Omit almond flavoring.

Says Army Training Good for Fair Sex

Montreal (CP) — Mina Rogozik, the former commander-in-chief of Israel's women's army, says that army training is just as good for women as it is for men.

The women of Israel are "better housewives, better workers and better women" as a result of their compulsory military service, begun at 18, she said.

Now touring Canadian and United States cities, Miss Rogozik heads the Hisradut absorption department for Haifa and the northern districts of Israel.

"The main task in Israel now is the rehabilitation and obsorbing of the thousands of immigrants", she said.

Miss Rogozik was educated in Israel and New York and became an active member of Hagana in 1938 when she was placed in charge of a women's battalion in Haifa.

During the Second World War she served in the British army as a company commander. During the fighting in Israel she was asked to organize the women's army corps and under her leadership this women's army grew to 12,000.

She has been with the Hisradut for 18 years and took over her present post of co-ordinating work among newcomers five years ago.

THELMA LONE BROWNIE AT GREAT BEAR LAKE

Edmonton (CP) — Ten-year-old Thelma Roline is the only Brownie at Port Radium, sub-Arctic uranium-mining settlement on Great Bear Lake about 800 miles north of Edmonton.

Her eyes sparkling, Thelma stood at attention in the Port Radium schoolhouse while she was enrolled as a Brownie by Miss Beth Riddock of Calgary, field secretary of the Girl Guides.

Thelma's four brothers, all Scouts or Cubs, were present in uniform and gave their sister "three cheers" as the ceremony ended.

Miss Riddock told of Thelma's initiation on her return from a 4,000-mile airplane trip as far north as the Arctic coast, during which she inspected Brownies and Cubs, presented badges and gave short talks on guiding.

Kitchen Ranges for Canadian Housewives

For rural and urban Canadian housewives, one of the most essential pieces of home equipment is the kitchen range. Fourth year architectural students at the University of Toronto present models of new designs in kitchen ranges, worked out by them as an experimental project in co-operation with two Canadian manufacturing concerns. Canadian students in every part of the country who wish to take advanced studies in product design can now try for three scholarships in this field, being offered this year by the National Gallery of Canada in co-operation with the National Industrial Design Committee, Ottawa.

"Let's have dinner here," I said to the Chef, as we stopped to read the menu posted on the window of a small restaurant.

"But Madame, this place looks most inconsequential; I might even say, it looks like a 'joint'."

"But it's being managed with intelligence, Chef. See that list of appetizers? They even include Caesar salad. We'll take a chance."

Individual Bowls

Even before our order was placed, the young waiter brought a basket of crisp rolls and individual bowls of Caesar salad.

"How come you serve a green salad first, garcon?" asked our Chef.

"The manager will be glad to answer your question," said the waiter.

In a moment he appeared. "I always serve rolls and a tossed green salad first, because it keeps the customers busy while I prepare their food to order. Besides, they are sure to eat the good greens."

Tomorrow's Dinner

Caesar Salad
Stuffed Meat Loaf

(All measurements are level; recipes serve four.)

Caesar Salad

This consists of garlic croutons and tossed salad.

Garlic Croutons: Cut enough enriched bread into ¼" cubes to make 1 c. Fry until crisp in heated olive oil; cool.

Salad Mixture: Rub a large salad bowl with cut garlic. In it arrange 1 small head each romaine and lettuce cut into bite-sized pieces. Sprinkle with ⅛ tsp. dry mustard ⅛ tsp. black pepper, ¼ tsp. salt and ¼ tsp. grated Parmesan (or cheddar) cheese. Pour over 3 tbsp. olive oil and mix lightly. Then add the juice 1 lemon. Break in 1 whole raw egg. Then toss the salad gently but thoroughly. When mixed, toss in the croutons. Serve at once.

Stuffed Meat Loaf

Combine ½ lb. each raw beef, pork and veal with 1 peeled medium-sized onion. Put through the chopper twice. Add ½ c. raw oatmeal, 1 beaten egg, 1 tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper and 2 tbsp. water or tomato juice. Mix thoroughly. Then roll out on a piece of waxed paper to make a thin oblong sheet. Next, combine 1 c. mashed potato, 1 c. grated raw carrot and ¼ c. minced green pepper. Spread over the meat; roll up like a jelly roll.

Rub a pan with meat fat. Put in the meat loaf, fold-side down. Over the top lay 2 strips of bacon, each cut in 4 strips. Bake 40 min in a moderate oven, 375 F. Baste twice with ½ c. hot water, 1 beef bouillon cube and the drippings from the pan. Serve with brown gravy.

Trick of the Chef

When stewing or baking rhubarb, add 2 or 3 whole cloves.

Have you ever been confused as to which cannister contained bread flour and which contained cake or pastry flour? There is a simple test to tell the difference. ALBERTA WOMAN, 81 MAKES BIG WOOL RUG

Breton, Alta. (CP) — Eighty-one-year-old Mrs. J. E. Flesher, inspired perhaps by Queen Mary's carpet, has just completed a huge wool rug begun 18 months ago.

The huge rug is hooked with wool yarn on special canvas in three sections, each three by 12 feet. In her younger years, Mrs. Flesher made many hooked rugs and quilts but this was her first attempt at large-scale work.

Singing Comes First

Ever since she made her radio debut in Ottawa at 16, singing has come first with sultry-voiced Norma Locke, heard Sunday nights at 10.30 on the CBC Dominion network in the Mart Kenny Show. She has been singing with Mart since 1944, and a few weeks ago became Mrs. Kenny. Norma expects to see quite a bit of Canada in the next few months. In May she and the band will do a tour of Northern Ontario towns, followed by a trip to Halifax to play for the Press Club Ball. In September she and Mart hope to take the band as far west as Vancouver.

SCOTS SHEPHERDESS TENDS FLOCK OF 100

Merstham, Surrey, England (CP) — The age of women shepherds isn't over. Blonde, blue-eyed Mrs. Christina Edney, 28, is proof of that.

Mrs. Edney, an attractive Scots girl who spent five war years in the Land Army, recently spent a year with her husband on a world tour that included a study of sheep farming in Australia.

Back in Britain, Edney bought his wife 100 sheep, which she looks after herself, making £1,000 a year profit. Her flock of 100 ewes produce the high rate of 175 lambs a season.

She says she always carries lamb "medicine" with her and never gives up hope on the weak ones. "I've had as many as 22 lambs round the fire", she said. "Sometimes I have to resort to brandy, but I have rarely lost one."

FASHION HINT

Coming along nicely in the fashion parade is the printed fabric, usually done in tiny neat figures and widely spaced, rather than the big splashy jobs of vivid color schemes. This one is of silk shantung, very crisp like taffeta, and it is printed sparsely in little white stylized flower motifs on a French blue ground. The stand-up collar stems from the tucking around the neck which is released into just enough fullness to soften the bustline. Full, soft sleeves have notched cuffs. The same type of tucking from the waist is released into the fullness of the skirt.

MONTREAL YOUNGSTERS LEARN CULINARY ART

Montreal (CP) — Leona Harris, a 22-year-old Montreal brunette, is "betraying" her sex.

She's training potential bachelors and doesn't realize it. Her followers — 9, 10 and 11 years of age — are learning to cook.

In their seven-month course at an east-end boys' club, the boys have learned to bake a cake and cookies, make pancakes, fudge and a variety of goodies.

Leona shows a lot of patience during the weekly cooking classes. She also teaches a group of girls.

She said the boys are a little more "difficult" than the girls. "They get restless and if I'm not a little strict they start playing tag around the tables."

County W.I.'s Hold Annual Meetings in Month of May

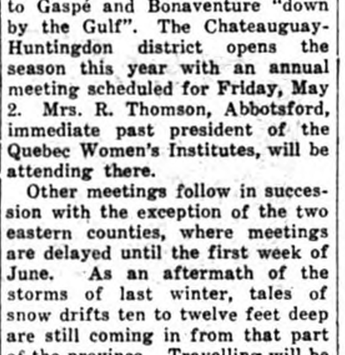

May is the month of annual meetings for County Women's Institutes. Following a procedure adopted several years ago, a member of the provincial executive attends these meetings in turn, a practice that keeps branches in touch with provincial affairs while yielding a picture of the local scene for the larger body, a valuable contact.

This custom entails much travelling, as the 20 county units are scattered from Pontiac on the west to Gaspé and Bonaventure "down by the Gulf". The Chateauguay-Huntingdon district opens the season this year with an annual meeting scheduled for Friday, May 2. Mrs. R. Thomson, Abbotsford, immediate past president of the Quebec Women's Institutes, will be attending there.

Other meetings follow in succession with the exception of the two eastern counties, where meetings are delayed until the first week of June. As an aftermath of the storms of last winter, tales of snow drifts ten to twelve feet deep are still coming in from that part of the province. Travelling will be uncertain for some time to come.

FOR PARENTS ONLY...

A Weekly Feature of Helpful Hints on Child Training

"Who Is To Blame?"

— By NANCY CLEAVER — (Copyright)

"Who is to blame?" How many weary parents have impatiently asked this question? Their child has been into mischief, some damage to property has been done, or there has been a quarrel which has progressed from name-calling to fighting.

Mother or dad want to live in peace with their neighbors. Order must be restored. This disturbance is a nuisance and the parents are annoyed.

It is very natural to look for a "scapegoat" and to heap all the blame on him. Individuals, and nations, too, have been doing this for a long time. Hitler, when Germany was going through a difficult period, picked out the Jews. He accused them of being the reason for the nation's trials and his treatment of the Jewish race was horrible beyond description.

But quite ordinary folk who loath dictatorships are sometimes tempted to follow Hitler's example. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will feel more comfortable if they are assured that it is the child down the street and not their son who has broken the windows in the empty apartment house. They want to be able to point the finger of scorn at someone else. They say, "Let us get this trouble settled quickly so we can forget about it."

Some parents don't even pause to inquire "who is to blame?" They either immediately jump to the conclusion that their youngster is completely innocent and begin building up a case against the other children involved in the incident, or they may take the opposite line — at once pounce on their child as the guilty one! Punishment is promptly administered and they feel that at least they are not "sparing the rod and spoiling the child!"

But what about the reaction of the boy or girl? Children have a high regard for justice. If they know they are partly to blame, and mother keeps on insisting that it certainly wasn't their fault, they are apt to feel confused or even guilty.

If they are punished severely — or even lightly — when they were absolutely in the right, their resentment is fierce! "Mother didn't even give me a chance to tell my side of the story", they mutter to themselves. "Next time I'll do as I like, if I'm going to catch it from her, even when I'm not to blame."

The parent's role as judge will be easier if he gives his child a chance to state briefly "What happened?" The child who is crying should have a moment or two to calm down. If there are two or three children in the family who are implicated, let each describe what happened in turn, without interruption.

"How did it happen?" forces the child to look back on the incident and try to discover just why it came about. This is a good question, because, as they get older, they will recognize that no one person is to blame for a mishap. Likely several people share the responsibility for initiating a wrong course.

"What can be done about it?" guides the child into thinking of ways to repair damage he has had a finger in. If his quarrel has been with another child, he chooses some way to repair the strained relationship.

When parents stand by at all times even through trying and painful ones, there is a good possibility that every situation can be a learning one. Both children and adults are bound to make mistakes. There is hope for the race so long as the same error is not repeated a second time.

Mother and dad can best help their child, not just by asking "Who is to blame?" but by encouraging their child to recall what happened, to ponder over the causes and to make a wise decision about what can be done about the mistake.

The ability to look objectively at a situation and the willingness to accept the consequences of one's actions are very vital in growing up! "What happened? How did it happen? and What can be done about it?"

Art and the Home

Books on Art

The other day I was very interested in receiving a letter which asked advice on buying a general book on the History of Art which would be suitable for children as well as for reference.

I was very pleased to receive such a letter, because I think that no library is complete without a book on that subject. Yet by the same token I was stunned by the words "suitable for children".

Art is a representation of emotions which are transferred from the artist to canvas and then back to the viewer. The artist is out primarily to satisfy a desire — meaning that he is painting for himself. If someone else likes it, that is fine, (and it is how he makes a living, which is important), but the main thing in his life is a striving with himself. Honesty, and probably self-denial, are inescapable, if you are a true artist. Needless to say, in Art there are many forms of prostitution. In some cases Commercial Art forms or creates the greatest number. This is because they do not have the freedom which is essential in the Art world. A monetary remuneration is important, but a person liking the artist's creation is equally so.

The other day, by coincidence, I received a new book on Art, entitled "The Story of Art", written by Professor E. H. Gombrich. Nearly everyone who writes a book on Art is a professor; but this, however, does not put him above criticism, nor does it put his book on that plane which escapes the critics. The book is excellently worded and brought to the level that everyone can understand. The book is profusely illustrated, and some plates are colored, so that you can get a good idea of the originals. Unfortunately, no matter how much time and money may be spent, a reproduction doesn't compare to the original. The color isn't true, it's distorted. The plate, I think, that deserves special merit is the illustration of the "Annunciation and Scenes from Dante's Divine Comedy" by Frescesco D'Antonio Del Cherico, which was painted about 1485. The beauty and detail are remarkable, and gorgeously portrayed. Naturally Art and Religion are inseparable, therefore we may expect to find many illustrations in that sphere. Architecture, and sculpture too, are represented, though for an all-around book it is rather weak in that respect. It is also weak in the predecessor of Grecian Art, and also in Arts in the Asiatic World. These though, Professor Gombrich realizes, as he points out in the introduction. Yet I don't think they detract too much from the readability of the work. This book is very readable and enjoyable, and profusely illustrated, with clear understanding.

Naturally, we have our own ideas on what a book of Art should contain; we all have our preferences. I am no exception. There are millions of paintings scattered throughout the four corners of the world and the seven seas. You would be amazed where, and what shapes it takes on. People for the most part love to be surrounded by beautiful things, and representations, or as the theme goes, "What poor fools we mortals be."

With those obvious links missing, I think that I would be only too glad to recommend this book to my readers. I also want to thank the person who addressed the letter to me.

In 1930 one-sixth of the average Canadian's total personal outlay was for rent and lodgings; by 1950 this had dropped to one-ninth.

How to Protect Your Home from Burglars

Social Evening Sponsored By Chamber of Commerce

served to celebrate the launching of Lachute's new French weekly, "L'Argenteuil", and ex-Mayor Léopold Carrière presented cheques from the Chamber to winners of the ladies' subscription campaign contest. Appreciation was expressed to the district clergy, subscription canvassers, advertisers, and all who had assisted in the successful inauguration of this newspaper, and the editor, Mr. Conrad Langlois, was complimented on its general make-up and content.

The cash prizes were awarded as follows:

1st, Miss Réjeanne Vivarais, $100; 2nd, Miss Leonie Ladouceur, $50; 3rd, Miss Jeannine Ouimet, $25; 4th, Miss Ghislaine Racine, $15; 5th, Mrs. Camille Brisson, $10.

Honorable mention — Miss Majella Lagace, Miss Rhea Menard, Mrs. Alfred Williams, Miss Betty Williamson, Miss Georgette Ouimet.

Mr. J. S. Giles and Miss Réjeanne Vivarais spoke briefly in reply, and R. A. Giles, general manager of the publishing firm, conveyed sincere thanks to the Chamber of Commerce for its impetus to the French publication. He also presented personal tokens to the subscription solicitors, and to Mrs. H. Lamarche, wife of President Lamarche, he tendered a handsome bouquet of flowers.

Another honored citizen "in absentu" was Alexandre Labonté, 65 years in the service of A. D. McGibbon & Sons, who has been a familiar figure to three generations in Lachute, driving his delivery cart with slabs from the McGibbon Mill. Mr. Labonté is now confined to his home through advanced age, but his son, Harry, who is also in the employ of the McGibbon firm, was present on the platform to receive the Chamber's Certificate of Merit for long community service. Mr. Douglas McGibbon paid tribute to Alex Labonté's long and faithful record, and made the presentation on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Philippe Valois, M.P., stated that, while there were gratifying evidences of material progress all around, these are essentially the outgrowth of Ideas; and it is as necessary to foster the ideas and ingenuity of the people as to promote their tangible growth. In this regard the new journal, "L'Argenteuil", was destined to fill a valuable role among the French-Canadian populace of Argenteuil, and to promote the "bonne entente" for which this constituency is so favorably known. Mr. Valois, reminded his listeners, however, that the enterprise implied certain responsibilities, and the new newspaper could only fulfill its aims with continued public support.

Mr. W. M. Cottingham was another welcome speaker on this occasion, paying warm personal tribute to Mr. J. S. Giles for his work in civic, community, charitable and wartime projects. Mr. Cottingham spoke principally, however, on the subject of roads, replying specifically to a "$64 Question" posed by Mayor Jas. W. McGibbon at the last general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

With regard to the Trans-Canada Highway, there had been much study, and plans were not definite. However, it had been shown by traffic counts that over 50% of in-coming motorists from the Montreal direction proceeded through Lachute to northerly destinations, and that the original idea of by-passing Lachute through St. Jerusalem would not appreciably reduce congestion. The link from Route 8 (via Cote St. Louis) to Route 41 (the St. Jerome highway) was under complete reconstruction, and would probably be part of the Trans-Canada route passing through Lachute — which would meet the general desire among local businessmen. In addition, to relieve congestion of incoming traffic via Bethany, it seemed probable that a road would be built through Sandy Hill from East Settlement to Upper Lachute.

On the Mayor's question concerning Barron's Bridge, Mr. Cottingham gave assurance there would be a new bridge in the same approximate location; and also that, if the town would provide for the acquisition of land from frontages on Main Street East, this thoroughfare would (he had no doubt) be widened at the expense of the Department.

President Lamarche thanked these speakers, expressing particular satisfaction of the merchants in the assurance that Lachute would not be by-passed by the Trans-Canada route.

Among the 14 entrants suggesting the name "L'Argenteuil", which was the judges' choice for the new French journal, Miss Marguerite Dorion of St. Andrews won the prize-drawing, receiving an Ayers cushion-rug. The door prize, a hamper of Kraft Foods Products, was won by Miss R. Desormeaux.

Two color films provided the entertainment of the evening. Presented by the Kraft Foods Ltd., the first of these was entitled "The Cheese Album", a Hollywood production with Otto Kruger, showing historic origins of cheese manufacture, modern methods of production, and interesting variations in its preparation for table use. The second film showed the Kraft Parade in connection with Salad Week, observed last year in Lachute and Brownsburg. In this colorful record, many local citizens and storekeepers were recognized. The audience were informed that the film had been shown in Chicago and various points of the U.S., having won for this sales division of Kraft Foods the top award among 125 district promotion campaigns.

The sponsors of this program were thanked by Dr. Roger Dumais, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, who also commended the progressive spirit of the present officers of this organization, and solicited full co-operation of the public in the Chamber's efforts.

In conclusion the crowd adjourned to the basement, to enjoy a social period and tasty refreshments provided by the Kraft Foods Ltd. and the Carnation Milk Company.

Duplessis Pledges Action To 800,000 Petitioners on Liquor Law Enforcement

By René Lagace

Quebec (CP) — Nearly 800,000 persons want stricter liquor law enforcement in Quebec Province.

A delegation of the National Committee of L'Action Catholique in this province presented a petition to Premier Duplessis recently, bearing the names of 796,626 persons.

The petition, launched by the Committee in 18 dioceses during the winter, was sponsored by Quebec's Roman Catholic archbishops and bishops.

A breakdown showed that 321,131 people in the Montreal diocese signed the petition, 28,342 in Ottawa, 272,051 in Quebec, 62,675 in Rimouski and 112,429 in Sherbrooke.

It was also approved by 696 municipal councils and 1,749 different associations.

The petition asked for:

1. Strict enforcement of laws governing the sale of hard liquor and beer;
2. Heavier penalties for delinquents;
3. A reduction of the period during which alcohol and beer can be obtained with meals on Sundays;
4. The closing of grills from midnight Saturday until 8 a.m. Monday;
5. A gradual reduction in the number of liquor permits issued to different establishments.

Premier Duplessis told the delegation he was glad to see that a warning was sounded against alcoholism, pledging his support and promising to act upon the suggestion it contained. He said the government was happy to have the full co-operation of religious authorities in the curbing of abuses in licensed establishments.

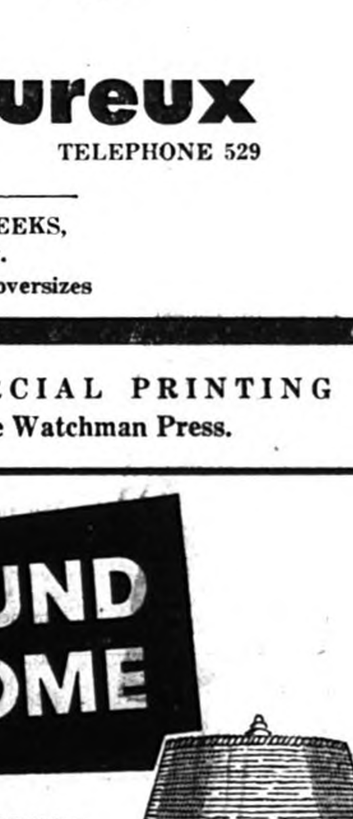

He scorned at people who tried to give the impression that circulation of the petition was "a political movement." This was unfair to those who signed, the church and the ones who gathered the signatures. But, added the premier with emphasis, it was worse when some people interpreted the petition as an indication that the "French-speaking Canadians are a race of drunkards."

"It is supremely unjust to imply such a thing because abuses are committed by a minority. . . In Montreal we are faced with many dangers, from the alcoholic point of view, but the situation there is no worse than in other large centres. Still, as Canadians and Catholics, we must do better and seek perfection."

To illustrate the rapid growth in military aviation's reliance on automatic control devices, Minneapolis-Honeywell aero engineers point out that the electronic equipment in a jet fighter plane today is more complicated and costly than a whole jet plane of the type used in World War II.

When restrictions such as those of the Liquor Act are not respected by the public because they are in many respects unenforceable, it would be the sensible thing to frame laws which would be observed.

"THE COMMODORES"

Meet "The Commodores", whose songs with a nautical flavor are heard on the CBC Trans-Canada network every Tuesday night at 7.30. From left to right, they are baritone John Ringham from Vancouver; tenors Harvard Reddick from Bloomfield, Ont., and Carl Tapscott from Toronto; and bass Donald Parrish from Wallaceburg, Ont. Three of the men date their partnership from days when they were together in the Navy Show during the Second Great War. They formed a quartet backstage and later sang together on concert parties. After the war one the four decided to go back to his job in Winnipeg, and Reddick joined The Commodores in his place.

Antonio Fontaine, President; Armand Corbeil, Antonio Daunais, J. Achille Lachapelle, Alexandre Lavigne — all Commissioners.

Whereas the revenues of the Commission are insufficient to meet the requirements of the schools and that it has become necessary to increase them by imposing a special tax called Education Tax;

Whereas the said School Commission has been duly authorized by law to impose such a tax;

Whereas the annual revenue collected by the Commission from the said tax shall, after deduction of the expenses incurred by the said Commission for the imposition and collection of such revenue, be shared every three months by the said Commission between itself and the School Trustees for the School Municipality of the Town of Terrebonne, proportionately to the number of children from five to sixteen years of age of each of the Roman Catholic or Protestant religious denominations, respectively, residing in the territory common to both.

In Consequence, it is moved by Mr. Armand Corbeil, School Commissioner, and resolved, that a resolution be and is carried as follows:

1. The School Commissioners for the municipality of the Town of Terrebonne, in the County of Terrebonne, may, by resolution, impose and levy, from the 1st of July, 1952, inclusive, in addition to any other tax, a special tax of one per cent, called Education Tax, of the same kind and in accordance with the provisions of the Retail Sales Tax Act (Revised Statutes, 1941, chapter 88 and its amendments), on the retail sale or purchase price of all moveables, moveable effects, merchandise and articles of trade whatsoever, including gas and electricity used for lighting, power or heating and telephone service sold or purchased within the present limits of the school municipality of the Town of Terrebonne, in the County of Terrebonne;

2. The said tax shall be levied and collected at the same time, in the same manner, on the same conditions and with the same sanctions as the tax levied under section 4 of the said chapter 88 of the Revised Statutes of 1941 and its amendments.

The annual revenue collected by the Commissioners from the said tax shall after deduction of the expenses incurred by the said Commissioners for the imposition and collection of such revenue, be shared every three months by the said Commissioners between themselves and the School Trustees for the School Municipality of the Town of Terrebonne, proportionately to the number of children from five to sixteen years of age of each of the Roman Catholic or Protestant religious denominations, respectively, residing in the territory common to both.

3. The School Commissioners are authorized to enter into agreements with the Minister of Finance of the Province for the collection of the tax the imposition of which is authorized by this act.

Worthwhile Results in Scouts' Paper Canvass

Scoutmaster Basil Riddell reports a total collection of 12,700 lbs. of paper in the round-up last Saturday. This salvage is shipped to a Montreal paper company, which pays $16 a ton — the proceeds being a welcome addition to the Troop's operating fund.

Appreciation is expressed to the public who contributed to this collection, also to the firms of Geo. Y. Deacon, Lachute Motor Sales and Pollock & Graves Motors, who loaned trucks for the occasion.

Something Wrong Somewhere

(Specially Contributed)

Now that we have time to pick up the pieces left of our bank balance after our income taxes have been paid, we become acquainted with what the financiers term a surplus, which to most of us is of a bright red color.

The father of governments in Ottawa is embarrassed with the generosity of our contributions, so much so that it assures us that as soon as things come on the market it will buy a lot more. Outside of Canada our dollar is strutting his stuff and throwing his weight around—but at the corner grocery store we know he is not half the man he was.

Our provincial treasury is busting over the lines of its balance sheets (on paper anyway), and red ink is almost unknown in our provincial accounting departments.

Ottawa and the provinces seem to be doing all right, but the lower forms of government are in a red mess. The City of Montreal can't pay for its snow removal and it is welshing on its grant to one of the hospitals. It can't afford a concert hall to provide for the culture of its citizens, and its face is pot-holed green or red with envy at Toronto's cost-soaring subway.

Nearer home, Lachute wants its neighbors to assist it in building an incinerator — a laudable idea enough; is juggling figures in an effort to increase its water supply. Chatham is trying to balance its books, and Brownsburg is working on a shoe-string, paying on the instalment system. . .

And so it goes 'cross country. There is something radically wrong with this top-heavy structure — Ottawa bulging, Municipalities starving. We need a top-to-bottom overhauling of the tax set-up, to find a cure for the sickness of our local municipal and school boards.

All but one of the members were present. Final arrangements for the joint meeting with the Eastern Ontario Ministerial Association were made; this will be held in St. Simeon's Church hall on May 27, at 2.30 p.m. Justice Labrosse, Senior Magistrate of Prescott County, is to be the guest speaker, dealing with his work and experiences with Juvenile and Family Courts.

The matters of the Quebec Temperance League, and the due observance of the publication of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible in September, were left for the executive officers to arrange.

The Rev. Dr. W. H. Reid introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Capt. H. Doig, who has recently returned from the battlefields of Korea. Capt. Doig briefly outlined the set-up of the present Canadian Army Chaplaincy service, mentioning many of the problems to be faced in the training camps and at the front. In his remarks the speaker answered two questions, viz: "What the Christian Church Can Do", and "What the Army Chaplain Can Do".

Mrs. S. Kerr, Lakefield, Celebrates 90th Birthday

Mrs. S. Kerr, a well known figure in the Lakefield community, attained her 90th birthday on Wednesday, April 23, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilfrid Morrison, Lachute, where she has been spending the past three months.

Still active and of keen mentality, Mrs. Samuel Kerr was greeted by a number of friends and relatives, and received gifts and flowers in honor of the occasion. Later in the day she was taken to Lakefield, where she resides in the summer season with her son, Amos, at Kerr's Farm, the old parental home.

Mrs. Kerr came from Ireland when six years of age — a long, tedious voyage in those days — when her mother and others of the family came to join her father at East Settlement. Later, in her married life, Mrs. Kerr made her home in Lakefield, where she has lived since that time.

This week has been an additional "holiday" for the pupils of Grades I to VII. Measles, scarlet fever, chicken pox and even a few cases of mumps have been going around, making it necessary for the School Board to close the elementary grades for a week.

• • •

The Music Festival, which was to have been held this Friday and Saturday, has also been cancelled on account of sickness, causing great disappointment to the pupils who were preparing to participate.

• • •

Last Tuesday morning, April 22, the first period was devoted to a school assembly. After the singing of the National Anthem, Principal F. H. J. Royal introduced Mr. B. J. O'Rourke, of the MacLean - Hunter Publishing Co. Ltd., who gave the pupils advice on how to earn money for extra-curricular activities. He presented the Students' Council with folders, which were in turn passed out to the pupils. The folders were appreciated by the pupils as a help in procuring sound selling and business experience. The assembly closed with the singing of "God Save the Queen", after which the pupils resumed their classroom studies.

N.H.L. Red Wings Still Piling Up Honors

SPORTS CAMERA

By Gerry Lougheed,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Detroit Red Wings, who made a runaway race of the regular National Hockey League schedule, and then wrapped up the Stanley Cup with eight straight playoff victories, are still piling up honors.

The Wings, a well-balanced club without a weakling from the goal out, have four players on the N.H.L. All-Stars No. 1 team — three of them the unanimous choices of the sports writers and sportcasters who pick the squad each spring.

The 100-per-centers are goalie Terry Sawchuk, and defenceman Leonard (Red) Kelly and right-winger Gordie Howe. All of them made the First Team last year, Kelly also being a unanimous choice then. Left-winger Ted Lindsay is the other Red Wing named to the "Dream Team", a repeat performance for him, too.

Completing the team are two members of Montreal Canadiens, who bowed to the Detroiters in the Stanley Cup final; rearguard Doug Harvey and veteran centre Elmer Lach. Lach has made the squad twice before — the last time in 1948 — but it was the first appearance for Harvey.

That forward line of Howe, Lindsay and Lach is a powerful unit. They wound up in that order in the scoring race and counted a total of 220 points.

Second Team Surprises

The surprises are Henry and Buller.

Henry, who broke into professional hockey 10 years ago, was rescued from minor league existence by the Bruins and made a remarkable return to the big-time.

The Bruins bought Henry from Indianapolis in the American Hockey League when it seemed his major league days were over. He'd been up in the N.H.L. twice before — with Chicago and New York — but sent down again.

His record wasn't too impressive last season. He allowed 174 goals — second highest total in the league — but rated a lot of credit for lifting Boston into fourth place and a spot in the playoffs.

Buller, like Sugar Jim, was a veteran minor leaguer but, in contrast, an N.H.L. rookie. Picked up from Cleveland of the American League, Buller showed well, but had to edge a couple of established stars for his All-Star berth.

Anglicans Win Cup in Inter-Church Bowling

Two teams from each of the Presbyterian, United and Anglican Churches met in the Anglican Church hall to compete for the bowling trophy, which is played for annually.

The winners of the first round were as follows:

Presbyterians — (Skip, John Simon) vs. United, "Raps" (Skip, L. Hammond) — won by Presbyterians, 11-5.

Anglicans, Young People (Skip, W. Strong) vs. Presbyterian No. 2 team (Skip, A. Cowan) — won by Anglicans, 12-8.

Final Round

Presbyterians (Skip, John Simon) vs. Anglican "Seniors" (Skip, Geo. Leggett) — won by Anglicans, 19-4.

The Rev. C. R. Lang, rector of the Anglican Church, in a few brief remarks congratulated the winners and presented the cup; he thanked the large number present for their enthusiasm and sportsmanship.

Refreshments were served by the Anglican ladies' bowling committee during the social hour.

Mr. A. Geo. Leggett, of St. Simeon's Church, expressed his pleasure in such good fellowship during the evening, and called upon Merlin Evans of the United Church Bowling League, and John Simon of the Presbyterian Church, who expressed their thanks, especially to the ladies of the Anglican Church for their refreshments.

It was suggested that next year an inter-group bowling league might be formed, with church and other societies participating in monthly contests.

Complaint on B'burg Garbage Dump Spurs Suggestion, Joint Incinerator Project For Three Municipalities

(Our District Correspondent)

Ruts and Rills

The contours of the properties in Brownsburg are of such an undulating nature that water erosion of the sandy soil is quite a problem to control.

Some time ago the local Council endeavored to end a sore spot in Chenierville by piping a line through some properties adjoining the chlorinator building.

The trouble ceased for a while. Now the owners are back again. This time the water runs alongside the pipe rather than inside, and the matter of seeking a remedy starts all over again.

Shooting the Breeze

Councillor Lavoie reported to last Council meeting that some sidewalks are so elevated from the inside properties that it might be well to erect a railing to keep pedestrians from toppling in. Mayor Pariseau felt the Council's staff were very busy at the moment, but examination of the complaint would be made, and steps taken if necessary. The use of an explosive rivet to pin the uprights of such a railing, was suggested.

Busy Firemen

Fire Chief A. Robbins reported to last meeting of the Council there were eight fires since last report. Six were chimney fires, where little or no damage was caused — at Paquette's (St. Joseph St.), Bert McCulloch's, Joe Fletcher's, Alphonse Leroux', E. Paquette's and N. Pilon's (Maple Ave.). Two were grass fires, on the Canadian Safety Fuse Company's property. The Chief was so alarmed at the rash of fires, that he applied for fire extinguishers for the Corporation's fire truck, vehicles and tractor.

A Good Loser

The electric siren, whose installation (like Finnegan's train) has been "on again, off again" for years — has at last reached the completion stage. Chief Robbins, who has strenuously opposed its operation on the grounds that the rush of spectators would hamper the firemen's work, has now applied for an electric press-button to be installed at the fire station. For what purpose? — To call the firemen.

Burned Up

Mr. T. P. Hall appeared before Council, to enquire where the municipal dump ended and where his land began. Councillor Somers was sure the dump now exceeded the original one-acre and was perhaps encroaching onto Mr. Hall's property. They would have to "get a line on it". Mr. Hall also complained of the hazard created by burning refuse at the dump. Chief Robbins suggested water containers to hold a supply at that location for the fire truck — the Mayor remarking they would be shot to pieces with bullets. (A bullet came uncomfortably close to the garbage collector last week.) A pipe from the river for suction was not very favorably considered. Clearing with a bulldozer some distance around might help a lot. Councillor Charbonneau favored the idea of joining Lachute and Ayersville in the Chamber of Com-

Housebreakers Active Over Week-End

Two town families, absent over the week-end, were victimized by robbers during Saturday night.

The home of Jas. MacKimmie on Bethany Road was entered by a side door and effects of considerable value were taken, including five valises, a quantity of silverware and jewelry. Mr. and Mrs. MacKimmie discovered the robbery on their return home Sunday.

A similar robbery occurred at the residence of Alderman Donald MacRae on Bedard Boulevard, where the family, returning home Monday morning, found the back door broken open. The loss in this case was less heavy, some jewelry, old coins and a small amount of money having been taken.

Police gave the opinion that newspapers left on the doorstep gave indication to the culprits that the occupants were away from home. Det. Philippe Therriault took over the investigation, assisted by Police Chief D. Villeneuve.

HIT-RUN OFFENDER BROUGHT TO JUSTICE; SEVEN LOCAL ARRESTS

Shortly after midnight last Friday an automobile belonging to Dr. L. Turcotte, in the centre parking lane on Main Street, was struck with ear-splitting impact by a westbound car, the driver of which proceeded on his way, regardless of the damage. The incident occurred opposite the residence of Dr. M. Papineau. A passing motorist gave particulars which sent Town Constable Oscar Sabourin in pursuit, and Georges Lecompte, 26, of Ste. Monique, was arrested after a brief chase. Turned over to Det. Philippe Therriault, of the Provincial Police, the offender was taken to St. Jerome to face a charge of driving under the influence of liquor and failing to stop at the scene of an accident. The case will be brought to court this Friday.

A companion with Lecompte was charged with interfering with police in the arrest, and was fined $3.

Disorderliness

The following night three young men were arrested, also by Constable Sabourin, for disturbing the peace outside a local hotel. They were found guilty before L. E. Dumais, Justice of the Peace, and condemned to pay a fine of $5 each, plus costs.

Two associates who attempted to prevent the arrests were also placed in the police cells, but were later released with a reprimand from the Chief of Police.

90-Year-Old Resident Was Born on High Seas

Mrs. S. Kerr, who celebrated her 90th birthday just recently (April 24), has the distinction of being born 'twixt this land and that. When asked the land of her birth, this venerable Lakefield resident can reply only that she was born "on the ocean wave", though there is no uncertainty as to the nationality of her parents, who were plain Irish.

This interesting fact concerning Mrs. Samuel Kerr was overlooked in a reference to her birthday last week, due to confusion as to dates. Mrs. Kerr has in her possession a testament, given to her mother by the captain of the vessel; on the fly-leaf of the mother's treasured testament is written the record of the birth of her daughter aboard ship, on April 24, 1862. It was a long, tedious voyage across to Canada in those times — but Mrs. Kerr, of course, recalls nothing of that highlight in her infancy, except what her mother recounted later.

When Mrs. Kerr's parents moved to Lakefield she was still very young, only six years of age; and she has spent practically her entire lifetime there ever since, now living with her son, Amos Kerr, on the same homestead.

Performance of School Music Fete Cancelled -- Now To Be Broacast As CFCF 'Music Festival of the Air'

Radio Program Producer and School Music Supervisor Collaborate for Broadcast On "Voice of Youth" Feature

Who said "No Music Festival"? . . . If radio listeners tune to Station CFCF (600 on the dial) this Sunday, May 11, at 2.05 p.m., they will hear the "Voice of Youth" program, featuring none other than the Argenteuil and Two Mountains Counties "Music Festival of the Air".

Not to be outdone by the cancellation of the Annual Spring Music Festival, which was to have taken place on May 2-3, Bill Pettie, of CFCF, conceived the idea of using the air waves instead.

After concentrated preparation and much work, all concerned were naturally disappointed at the cancellation of the Festival, which could not be helped, but this new idea has given both teachers and pupils a lift.

Mr. Pettie, with his engineer, and Shirley McKyes, school music instructor, have been visiting the schools in the two counties, recording items from each. These will be welded into a program which radio listeners will hear on Sunday.

Mr. McKyes, Supervisor of Music for the Protestant Schools, states that, although the Festival was cancelled and the final "show" abandoned, still the children have had the benefit of good training, which, after all, is the main thing.

Ch. of Commerce Outlines Plans for Granby Caravan

Favorable Comment on Lachute Publicity; Inauguration of "C.C.C." — Local Campaign For Promotion of Retail Business

"Industry and Commerce in Lachute"

Contributed by Lachute Chamber of Commerce

In the monthly bulletin published by the field service of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce appears a paragraph commending this column as an effective gesture in public relations. The item reads as follows:

"Excellent Publicity: The Lachute Chamber of Commerce is conducting, to good effect, a weekly column on the front page of the two local newspapers "L'Argenteuil" and "The Watchman", in which to report its activities. This form of publicity might be used to advantage by other branches of the Chamber of Commerce".

It is gratifying to note the Lachute Chamber of Commerce thus cited as an example to others in the matter of publicity. The two local weeklies, meanwhile, share in this commendation; and there is keen satisfaction also in the knowledge that the publishers, by their co-operation, show recognition of the Chamber's efforts for development of the industries and the tourist business in this region. . . . This, in brief, is the prime objective of our organization — to attain which, it is necessary to establish a definite program, to study methods of achieving our aims, and finally, to put them into effect for the benefit of all concerned.

Publicity, through the medium of our newspapers — through bulletins, letters and other means — will continue to aid in the functions of Lachute Chamber of Commerce.

Industrial Caravan To Granby, Que.

The following item has been submitted for publication in several dailies and weeklies, of both languages, in Montreal, the Laurentians and the Eastern Townships:

On Wednesday, May 28, over 100 industrial and business men from Lachute, in approximately 30 cars, will visit the City of Granby. This proposed visit is creating considerable interest and promises to be a highly successful venture.

The Caravan will assemble at Lachute Auditorium at 7.30 a.m., proceeding on its itinerary at 8 o'clock, passing through Montreal around 9.15 to reach Granby at 11 a.m.

Traffic officers will escort the cars, and communication en route will be maintained by means of radio-telephone.

Mayor Horace Boivin will be the speaker at a luncheon in the Granby Hotel; his topic will be "The Industrial Development of Towns and Cities in Quebec Province."

During the afternoon the Caravan will visit various sites and industries of the city.

COMMUNITY CONCERTS ENROLMENT LAUNCHED AT CAMPAIGN RALLY

700 Subscribing Members Is Objective of Drive This Week

A supper gathering at Lachute Golf Club Monday, combined both social and business aspects of the Community Concerts Association—the rally being a preliminary to the membership canvass in progress this week, and to organization for the 1952-53 season. About 80 persons attended.

President Linton W. Armstrong was in the chair. Mr. N. Delormier, a representative from the New York office of Columbia Artists, was present to discuss the campaign, and the artists available for bookings next season.

The chairman expressed regret in the recent passing of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Guilbert, of Brownsburg, who would be missed as two ardent members and supporters of the Concerts Association. On behalf of the gathering he expressed sincere sympathy to their family. Mr. Armstrong, followed by secretary Raymond Beaulieu, gave an enthusiastic talk on the week's membership campaign, urging an intensive drive for 700 enrolments, and prompt reporting to campaign headquarters (situated at Bedard Ltée, Lachute).

Delegations at the meeting were welcomed from Brownsburg, St. Andrews, Hawkesbury, St. Jerome, St. Hermas, Kilmar and l'Orignal.

A climax to campaign week will be a piano recital at the High School auditorium this Saturday, given by Miss Marcelle Lafortune, talented young Lachute artist. The entertainment will be free to all members having subscribed for the

MILLWORKERS' CRAFT AND FASHION DISPLAY OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

Well over 600 people were on hand at St. Julien Parish Hall last Sunday evening for the first annual Hobby and Handicraft Show presented by the employees of Ayers Limited and Dominion Shuttle Company.

Some 440 items, ranging from delicate crochet and tatting work to hand-made furniture and machinery, were exhibited and admired by the enthusiastic crowd.

The Ayers Band, under direction of Chas. Del Vennes, started the evening's activities with a group of well rendered selections.

Roger E. Rigimbal, personnel supervisor at Ayers Limited, got the program under way by dedicating the show to those employees whose efforts in handicraft work had made the exhibition possible. Greater shows from year to year are in the offing if the same efforts are repeated, he believed.

A very attractive fashion show was then presented under direction of Miss G. Gignac, sewing technician from the Department of Education, featuring the pupils of the sewing classes which were held in conjunction with this exhibition.

Finally the exhibition was officially opened, and the public were permitted to view at close range all articles entered for display.

Judges of the entries were Mrs. Roger Raymond, Brownsburg; Mrs. Dollard Charron, Brownsburg; Rev. Father Guindon, of St. Viateur College, Lachute; and J. Charlebois, Lachute. This committee appraised the various exhibits on Saturday and selected the following winners:

PRELIMINARIES IN ORATORY CONTEST AT LIONS' MEETING

An inspiration to many members of the Lions Club was the performance of four young orators, taking part in the preliminaries of a youth oratory contest at the local club meeting on Tuesday. The assembly was the regular club gathering, held at the Laval (Joly's) Hotel under presidency of Lion George Tattersfield. The attendance numbered around 40, including guests from Lachute High School staff, Principal F. H. J. Royal, Miss G. Stanton and Mr. Austin Thompson, and the Rev. Fr. Briard, of the Ecole Supérieure, under whose coaching the young speakers showed both merit and confidence.

The public speakers and their topics were as follows:

Miss Helen McMahon (Grade X) — "Our First Canadian-born Governor-General".

Wilmer Andrews (Grade XI) — "Alberta, the Texas of Canada."

Raymond Legault (Grade XI) — "The Advantages of Bilingualism."

Marcel Grondin (Grade XI) — "Canada As A Nation".

Each student spoke for five minutes and the subjects were of their own choice. The selection of the judges gave first place to Wilmer Andrews in the English-speaking section, and Raymond Legault in the French section. The four speakers received cash awards.

The winners of this preliminary will at a later date meet contestants chosen by other clubs in the Zone contest. From this point the winners will proceed to a final contest at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, meeting winning orators from Lions Clubs throughout Ontario and Quebec.

The panel of judges comprised — Dr. F. W. FitzGerald, Bert Rigg and Don Titman for the English speakers; Fernand Legault, Horace Lamarche and Roger Regimbal for the French speakers.

André Lefèbvre, committeeman on attendance, reported N. W. Boyd's team consistently in the lead. Ian Gordon reported on progress of the major fund-raising effort of the season, the sale of tickets for the Lions Club Golf Tournament.

Matters of business were discussed, including the voting of 20 juvenile memberships in the Community Concerts Association, enabling school pupils to attend these functions next season.

Ian Gordon was biographer honoring Reg Courtien as Lion of the Day, and generous gifts were handed out by courtesy of Harrison Bros. "P.O.M." Bakeries, for which Lion Courtien is district agent — Dr. F. Therriault and W. M. Steeves winning two special prizes of fruit cakes.

CLUBMEN ENLIGHTENED ON ANOTHER ASPECT OF AIR TRANSPORT

The Brownsburg Rotarians are still "up in the air" following their second interesting discourse on modern aviation. . . Last week Mr. Jack Charlston spoke on the Helicopter, at the regular Thursday night club meeting.

The speaker expressed the firm belief that the helicopter will some day "come into its own", but reminded his audience that there are still many difficulties to be cleared up before this type of aircraft becomes a profitable and practicable means of transportation. So far only 2,000 have been made; 15 of these are in service in Canada. At present their performance is poor, their safety record leaves much to be desired, they vibrate tremendously, and have a high maintenance cost. However, in the past, gloomy pictures were painted for the locomotive, the automobile, and the airplane, and they have all lived it down. In time, so will the helicopter.

At present, helicopters have been used very successfully in military service. In Korea, they are conveying injured men directly from the field to the hospital ships, sometimes in a matter of 15 minutes.

For future civilian purposes, the helicopter has an advantage over conventional aircraft, inasmuch as it can be landed in a small space. Since the potential passenger will not have to drive out to the airport, and since the helicopter can be loaded with the motors running, it will be able to "outfly" the fastest jets over distances up to 100 miles.

Mr. Charlston was introduced by Art Lapp and thanked by Jean Belanger.

During the brief business session it was announced that the annual Rotary Carnival will be held on July 11-12. Another Rotary event to be held in the near future is an auction sale, from which the proceeds will be devoted to community welfare.

A new member, G. Kilgour Hardie, was inducted into the club by President John Chalmers.

Second row — Réal, 10, violinist; Mrs. Desjardins, mother of the musical family, guitarist; Helen, 7, violinist; Jean-Louis, 13, guitarist. . . Mr. Desjardins, an employee of Lowe's Dairy, has plenty to occupy his spare time, coaching and encouraging these young musicians. His wife—hasn't much spare time.

AFFIRMATIVE VOTE BY ST. ANDREWS CITIZENS FOR NEW TOWN HALL

Special to The Watchman and L'Argenteuil

St. Andrews East — A majority vote in favor of spending $35,000 for construction of a new town hall, was recorded by taxpaying proprietors in an open referendum on Tuesday. Out of 155 voters, 121 were in favor and 33 against — one being "undecided".

The affirmative vote represented a total property valuation of $483,125 against an opposing valuation of $190,100.

The question put to the proprietors was whether the Council be authorized to borrow and spend $35,000 for a new structure, on the site of the old town hall razed by fire — the construction to include a new public hall 30 by 90 feet, with adjacent two-storey building 25 by 30 feet to provide dwelling quarters for the town constable, office for the secretary-treasurer, and a garage or accommodation for fire equipment. The proposition was placed before the taxpaying electorate without provision of plan or specification, and without assurance of any government assistance in the project.

St. Andrews Mills Get Substantial Order For National Defence

Jail Term for Theft And False Pretences

Paul Emile Allard, 21, of Carillon, who was arrested by Det. Philippe Therriault the previous week on seven charges of theft and false pretences, appeared for trial before Justice Eugene Lafortune at St. Jerome last Friday.

The accused pleaded guilty, and was given a sentence of six months in jail.

An old offender with two previous records, Allard was accused with the theft of a watch, and with various misrepresentations at the expense of local taxi operators and hotel associates.

The value of Canada's periodical publications in 1943 was $121 million and they were paid for by $82 million of advertising and $39 million by subscription or sale.

Gatineau LINES

Trouble Calls

Quite frequently our service crews answer a trouble call from a customer, only to find on arrival that the trouble is on the customer's own lines, not those of the power company. That kind of call costs the company money, but it costs the customer money too because part of the cost of sending out the crew is charged to him.

It's the same as calling a mechanic a considerable distance from a garage because your car won't start, and when he arrives he finds the only trouble is the car is out of gas. His time still has to be paid for.

When the power goes off, it is a good idea to check first and make sure the cause doesn't lie within your own wiring before calling the power company. It may be a blown fuse, a frayed or parted wire, or a small circuit overloaded by the use of too many appliances in use at one time.

Eliminating the cause of the trouble without calling the power company in cases like that can save you money. But naturally, as soon as you are sure the trouble lies outside your own wiring, we appreciate your trouble call because it lets us get moving on the remedy as quickly as possible.

merce proposal to erect an incinerator. The cost of $30,000, mentioned in one report, appeared high to the Fire Chief, who had information of one erected at Guelph, Ont., for $12,000. It would be an ideal solution, all concurred — especially if a little government assistance could be procured.

His Good Deed

Rotary President J. Chalmers and Treasurer O. Blouin asked the Brownsburg Council to assist in financing the Rotary's playground and swimming pool, since the flow of donations and means of collecting them has diminished through the multiplicity of appeals draining the public purse. There is also the matter of more stringent government watchfulness of the popular "bingo" and other games of chance. While Councillor Lavoie was calculating the past years' grants to such activities, Councillor and Rotary Past-President N. Somers proposed $100 — a four-fold increase. President Chalmers gratefully acknowledged the council's generosity, and promised it would be well spent. Mayor H. Pariseau appreciated the interest Rotary has taken in providing an off-the-street, safe playground for young people, and commended the civic spirit which prompted such interests. The Youth Welfare Committee of Rev. Paul Manseau received a similar grant.

No Dice

The Police Chief thought it would be opportune to have a helper on certain occasions. The meeting did not see it his way, and refused. Mayor Pariseau, who is also a Justice of the Peace, stated that the Chief could call on any member of the public to help him — refusal to do so meriting a fine of $50. . . Councillor Lavoie did not appreciate damaging his clothes or person in a street fight.

What the Law Allows

Councillor Charbonneau wanted the license for female dogs increased to $5. He was all fouled up with roving dogs, and when he saw in The Watchman that Ayersville Council had set such a rate, he felt it was a headline they could usefully and profitably follow.

Secretary E. Hebert was not impressed. The code did not allow of a higher charge than $2, and Georges H. Héon (now Justice), who drafted their by-law, had said so. Councillor Lavoie thought the law might have changed since then. It was decided to enquire.

Ontario Fights The Warble Fly

Guelph, Ont. (CP) — The Ontario Agricultural College here is the centre of a campaign which is attempting to control the parasitic European warble fly in Ontario. Experts estimate that the fly does $100,000,000 damage a year to cattle in North America.

Prof. A. W. Baker of O.A.C., head of the control committee, explained the action of the warble fly:

Flies lay their eggs on cattle and small maggots hatch. These maggots burrow into the body of the animal and spend the winter wandering about inside. In spring they burrow out again and drop to the ground as pupa. Several weeks later they hatch into flies.

Ontario's 2,260,400 head of cattle could be protected for about 50 cents a head a year by spraying them with a solution of derris or cube (pronounced "cue-bay") in April and May. The last cattle census estimated the value of Ontario cattle at $360,000,000. The warble fly may reduce milk production of a herd by 25 per cent and keep beef cattle from putting on weight.

Provincial assistance is available to townships in Ontario if two-thirds of the cattle owners pass a petition asking for a township warble fly control law.

In Bruce county townships where treatment has been in operation for three years, the average number of grubs on each immature animal has been reduced from 12 to 1½. This year 76 townships have control programs.

Fertilizer Placement Increases Yields

ment experiments conducted in more than half the States in the U.S., agricultural scientists have learned that yield increases of 20 per cent and higher were obtained using these machines on corn.

Experimental fertilizer placement machines are helping to determine how to use fertilizers to get the greatest crop yields.

From nearly 800 fertilizer placecotton, potato and tobacco crops. In all experiments the fertilizer was precisely placed rather than broadcast.

In 12 typical experiments with different vegetable crops, localized side placement of fertilizer as compared with broadcast applications, increased yields an average of 47 per cent. The machines are usually attached to an ordinary farm tractor.

Entry Lists Published For Horticulture Exhibits At Annual Ottawa Fair

Ottawa — Exhibitors planning to show in the Horticultural Department of the 1952 Central Canada Exhibition have been given a flying start with publication of entry lists more than three months before fair-time.

A wider variety of classes is aimed at providing keen competition for all interested in horticulture.

Entry forms and information may be obtained from the Central Canada Exhibition offices, Lansdowne Park. The Exhibition will be held August 18-23 this year. Closing date for entries in the Horticulture Department is August 4.

The Canadian Horticultural Council is offering diplomas to exhibitors obtaining highest aggregate points in the cut flowers, pot plants and regular vegetable classes. The Ottawa Horticultural Society is contributing substantially toward the prizes for cut flowers.

An event of great interest is the decorative floor display, with prize awards up to $600. There will be two displays of cut flowers and of decorative arrangements. There is a good prize list for the pot-plants section.

Many entries are expected in garden vegetables, with 37 classes catering to a widespread variety of produce. Major prizes will be given for collections of vegetables.

The fruit display has always been a most popular feature and this year should prove no exception. Another section in the Horticultural Department is for agricultural produce, including potatoes, field carrots, mangels, corn and turnips.

It is felt that early announcement of the prize lists will enable exhibitors to plan their entries to greater effect.

Farm Radio Forum Conference This Month

The National Farm Radio Forum annual conference will be held at McGill University, Montreal, May 30-31.

Chairman of the conference will be Dr. H. H. Hannam, President of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Following the Farm Forum conference, there will be a national conference on Adult Education, held at McGill University on June 2 to 6.

At Bourlamaque, Que., Ald. Tremblay introduced a by-law which put the onus for water rates collection from proprietors instead of the tenants. . In what is thought to be an action without precedent in B.C., Mayor A. C. Wilde of Vernon, on recommendation of council will appoint an alderman as city's liaison officer on the Vernon district school board. . Dr. W. T. McGorman, at Port Arthur, Ont., is 89, still practicing and has been for 59 years.

The Hit-and-Run Mentality

TWO HIT-AND-RUN incidents occurred in Lachute last week-end — two parked cars being struck by passing motorists, who failed to stop. The crashes occurred during the night; and having the dubious fortune to reside in the business section of Main Street, where they occurred, we personally heard both collisions.

To the credit of the police officer on duty, and to an eyewitness who stopped to give information, the constable gave chase and brought one of these offenders to justice. The other apparently escaped.

The mentality of a hit-and-run driver is sometimes hard to understand. That one could, with utter disregard to life and property, flee from the damage which he has caused, rates the culprit on a par with an irresponsible child. Although accidental, his offence however is more serious than that of a youngster who deliberately breaks a window and scrams to safety. This type of mental disease is perhaps incurable; there is no guiding conscience to foster the sense of decency or responsibility. It behooves all law-abiding citizens therefore to lend a hand, and assist the authorities in every way to apprehend these highway hoodlums.

Baby-Sitting -- 1952 Style

AS SURE as parlors have disappeared and dining-rooms are on the way out, grandmothers and maiden aunts aren't as available for baby-sitting as they once were.

Instead of sitting up nights nursing Susie when she has the measles, Grandma more likely is attending a bridge party or club meeting.

And it is highly unlikely that you will find Aunt Mary sitting home with the twins while their parents go to a Saturday-night movie. She probably is "doing the town" herself — either with some of the girls or with one of her men friends.

The "baby-sitting" generation of a quatter-century ago — the men and women in the "over 50" group — has been emancipated. The old folks no longer are the servants of the young. They have come to understand that life is just beginning when the grey hairs start to show.

Probably more than anything else this change in society has given rise to the new profession of baby-sitting. These days in towns and rural areas teen-agers earn their weekly pocket-money sitting with the neighbors' youngsters.

In some parts such a demand for sitters has arisen that companies actually have been formed to cater to the need.

Baby-sitting is a product of a changing order. Nowadays young parents want to get into their own homes by themselves with their children and without in-laws or other relatives.

The young couples know that it is important for a mother to get away from the children occasionally. They also know that it is right for parents to find their social and recreational life together, sometimes with their children, sometimes without them.

Let them go out for an evening's fun secure in the knowledge that their offspring is being tended by an alert teen-ager who has been told what to do in case of emergency.

Rural Revolution

OVER THE PAST 50 years farm operations in Canada have progressed from hand and horse labor to an occupation that is highly mechanized and scientific. The farmer himself has changed from a hewer of wood, leading an isolated life, to a citizen of the world — a logical development of producing food for export.

This great revolution on the farm, according to Dr. G. E. Reaman, actually began when the mechanical reaper displaced the sickle and scythe more than 100 years ago. But it wasn't until 1900 that real progress was made in mechanization of farm practices with the introduction of the gasoline engine. By this means the farmer achieved power in a controlled quantity that enabled him to free himself from horse-produced power.

Dr. Reaman, who is head of the Department of English at the Ontario Agricultural College, reviews the scientific developments in the last 50 years, in the current issue of C-I-L Oval. When the laws of genetics came to be understood, it was possible to breed dairy cows which gave more milk. Much experimentation has taken place in both breeding and feeding poultry, so that today any fowl which does not produce satisfactorily is eliminated from the flock. The discovery of antibiotics has meant a great deal in fighting and overcoming diseases in animals as well as humans.

In the field of pesticides, DDT was probably the first wonder-working insecticide. Many others followed soon after. New fungicides, rodenticides and weedkillers have been developed. Other new chemicals cause the leaves to fall off ripened crops to facilitate hand and machine harvesting.

No longer does the farmer point a finger of scorn at "fancy farming" carried on by scientists. He now realizes they are working for him.

Have You A Question ON UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any point do not hesitate to send your question to your district Unemployment Insurance office. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Following are some questions with answers which may be of interest to you: —

Q. I work in the bush. I pay unemployment insurance contributions during my employment but I cannot see my insurance book once a month because the company's office is located at hundreds of miles from where I work. Once when my work was completed, I noticed that all the stamps had not been put in my book. I asked the employer to put the stamps in, but he objected. Where could I get some information on how I can get the stamps that I have paid for during my employment? Moreover, has an employer the right to keep my book hundreds of miles from my job? Has an employer the right to refuse to show the book to an employee when the latter asks him for the book by letter?

A. Your employer is required to let you inspect your insurance book twice a month so long as the request is made for the inspection to take place at times convenient to him.

If at any time, after discussing the matter with your employer, you feel that he has not made enough contributions on your behalf, report the matter to your local office. Be sure, however, that you first discuss the matter fully with your employer.

There is nothing to prevent your employer keeping your insurance book anywhere that he chooses.

Q. If a person is drawing benfit can he follow some private course? Suppose he has finished with his courses and has a diploma. He wishes to follow a gas and electrical welding course. Can he follow a day course if he is drawing benefit?

A. Payment of benefit to a claimant taking a course of instruction can only be made if the course has first been approved by the Commission and he has been directed to it by the Commission.

The genial man seated at the table next to ours at a Boston restaurant thanked the waiter for his courteous service and added that he wouldn't be in again for some time.

"You aren't a Bostonian, sir?"

"No, I live in Bangkok, Siam."

"Indeed, sir?" said the waiter, suitably impressed, then continued with some satisfaction, "We get a lot of out-of-town customers, some from quite a distance." He dropped his voice confidentially. "You see that man over there, sir?" He's from Wheeling, West Virginia."

Warning on Dud Bombs And Hand Grenades

By Bernard Dufresne

Quebec, May 6 —

Army authorities here have warned Quebecers to report any dud hand grenades or bombs they may have in their possession, "as they are a real source of danger."

The warning followed an announcement by Brig. Frank Fleury, commanding eastern Quebec area, that 10 dud hand grenades have disappeared from an out-of-bounds range at nearby Valcartier camp.

Eleven unexploded grenades, left in the snow during winter training, were found more than 10 days ago. When army engineers arrived to remove the bombs, 10 of them had disappeared. The army presumed they were taken by children.

Brig. Fleury said he was not asking police aid, because this might frighten children into destroying the grenades themselves, which could prove fatal. "Anyone making a report will not be subject to inquiry or investigation", he said.

Public Support Enlisted in United Ch. Campaign for Training School Building

"The contribution of the United Church Training School to the leadership of our Church both at home and overseas is widely recognized. A new building is essential to the continuation of its work. I commend the forthcoming campaign to every congregation for generous support" — says the Rev. J. Lavell Smith, chairman of the Board of Management of this school, situated in Toronto, for which an appeal is being currently launched throughout the United Church congregations.

Three hundred women have graduated from the school since Church Union. This year 110 women are needed for Church work in Canada and overseas — 30 for overseas service as Church workers, teachers, nurses, doctors and social workers; 40 for Home Mission work as community missionaries, nurses and on Indian reserves; 40 as congregational workers in self-supporting congregations in Canada and in other capacities.

This is the only centre for the exclusive purpose of training women for all types of full-time work through the United Church, excepting the ministry.

The School Today

Forty-four students are now housed in totally inadequate quarters. A new training school is needed to allow for more students and better facilities. The United Church Training School now operates in two residences, some distance apart. One of these houses must be vacated because of housing regulations. The other cannot be enlarged. A new site is, therefore, imperative. The Board of Regents of Victoria University has made property available on its campus. This will make the University of Toronto facilities more accessible to the students and at the same time give visibility and significance to the school.

The New Building

The new school will be simple and functional, providing accommodation for 75, including staff of the school and household staff. It will include bedrooms, dining room, kitchen, common rooms, a chapel, a library, two seminar rooms, a craft shop and recreation room, and offices for administration purposes.

The General Council has approved the building of a new school and the campaign for funds. The Board of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the Conferences have also given approval, and endorcation has been given by the Dominion Board of the Woman's Association Council. $600,000 is the amount needed. Contributions may be spread over 1952 and 1953. This is a capital campaign and will not recur. Donations qualify as a deduction for income tax purposes. Congregational committees have been organized throughout the Church. Contributions should be made through these committees.

The campaign for a new United Church Training School will bring attention to the part women play in the professional work of the Church, the necessity of adequate training for this work, and the urgent need to challenge young women to find their vocation in the Church.

"A successful campaign will enable the school to meet more adequately the great need for women to give full-time service in congregations; and, through the training of leaders for Christian Education among children and young people, to help the Church meet the challenge of today", says Mrs. J. L. Halpenny, president of the Dominion Woman's Association Council.

English Catholics Of Montreal Archdiocese Plan Demonstration

Montreal — Catholics of the English-speaking parishes of the Archdiocese of Montreal have arranged for a public demonstration of faith to take place Pentecost Sunday, June 1, at Molson Stadium, McGill University. The event has the approval of Archbishop Paul-Emile Leger and Bishop Lawrence P. Whelan and is receiving support from beyond the Montreal area in the English-speaking Catholic centres of Quebec and Eastern Ontario. It is anticipated that the event will be the most impressive gathering of its kind yet organized within the province.

Hon. Mr. Justice Frederick T. Collins is chairman of the Committee in charge of arrangements undertaken by the Holy Name Society of Montreal, and with the cooperation of all diocesan and parochial organizations numbering more than 150 units. The religious ceremonies are being arranged by Rev. John D. Purcell, Director of the Archdiocesan Union of the Holy Name Society, and some 30 branches of the Society under John C. Creeley, President, have been enlisted in the work of preparation.

The theme of the gathering is: "I believe in God", the first affirmation of the Apostles' Creed, and the demonstration is in accordance with the appeal of Pope Pius XII that all Catholic laymen should make known their faith in a world where great materialism prevails in some quarters.

K. of C. Bridge Tourney Concludes with Banquet

Tapestry Depicting Women's War Work

London (CP) — Four years ago Women's Institute members in every county of England and Wales began to embroider a tapestry depicting the work of women in the Second World War. It was a project they had planned since 1945.

The finished work has recently been displayed at the Victoria and Albert Museum here.

The centre panel represents the three services, work on the land and in industry. Framing these are 18 medallions illustrating every kind of war work done by women — not forgetting the housewife. The expression reproduced in petit point in this last tiny panel is remarkable. A weary woman waiting at a bus stop — probably after a night in an air-raid shelter — is portrayed .

The embroidery is of professional standard, yet some of the workers had first to go to school at Winchester to learn the stitches they were to teach others.

The labor of joining the work, which was in 15 pieces, was tedious. One join, 66 inches long, entailed 1,200 threads being threaded through corresponding holes in the canvas: it was accomplished so accurately that there is no trace of the join.

More than 2,000,000 stitches have gone into the tapestry: about 3,000 in each small picture and 145,000 in the centre panels. Thirty-five pounds of moth-proof wool was used on the canvas, which measures 15 feet by nine feet.

Recent Paper Canvass by Brownsburg Boy Scouts

Brownsburg — The salvage paper collection held in Brownsburg April 26 by the Boy Scout Group Committee, resulted in over six tons of paper being collected.

The Committee greatly appreciates the co-operation of all who helped make the drive such a success; especially those who donated paper or furnished trucks, and also the Boy Scouts who were actively engaged in the work.

German Executive Will Build Quebec Factories

Dr. M. E. Klee, owner of one of Germany's big chemical industries, said recently he had abandoned plans to build plants in the United States and will now build in Quebec.

The German industralist, who lost 80 per cent of his Cologne plant installation during the war bombings, said he planned to talk with provincial government officials before making any announcement on his plant site.

Dr. Klee was one of 850 passengers who arrived last week aboard the Greek Line steamer Columbia.

"Before the war we had planned to set up our plants in the United States", he said. "Naturally we had to shelve our plans. Since then Canada has expanded industrially so rapidly that it has even greater prospects from a chemical standpoint. . . "

Canning Rhubarb

Stalks of red rhubarb are nosing through the ground. Now is the time to use as much as possible of this luscious fruit, and to can or freeze some for later on.

Canning

Cold Pack Method

Wash, cut rhubarb in half-inch pieces. Pack. Make a medium syrup with one cup sugar and one cup water (this makes about 1½ cups syrup), cover fruit with boiling syrup, leaving headspace. Process in boiling water bath, allowing 10 minutes for pint sealers or 20 oz. cans and 15 minutes for quart sealers or 28 oz. cans.

Solid Pack Method

This method is especially recommended for canning rhubarb for making pies or puddings.

Wash, prepare rhubarb and crush part of it in the bottom of a preserving kettle. Add remaining fruit and heat for a few minutes or until juice just starts to flow. If necessary, add a little water to prevent scorching. Pack in sealers or cans, crushing fruit down slightly so that it is covered with its own juice. Sprinkle 2¾ cups sugar per quart sealer between layers of fruit. Leave headspace and process in boiling water bath, allowing 10 minutes for pint sealers or 20 oz. cans and 15 minutes for quart sealers or 28 oz. cans.

Raw Canning Method

Pack raw rhubarb in sterilized sealers or cans and cover with boiling syrup, leaving headspace. Completely seal. Place on several layers of newspaper in a tub and pour in enough boiling water to cover tops of containers by at least three inches. When adding boiling water, care should be taken not to pour it directly on sealers. Place a blanket or rug over the tub, tucking it in well around the sides. Leave 10 to 12 hours.

Canned Rhubarb Juice

Hot Pack

Wash, cut rhubarb in small pieces. Add one cup water per quart of rhubarb. Bring to boil and boil, covered, 5 minutes or steam without adding water. Strain through moistened jelly bag. Add sugar if desired. Reheat to boiling point. Pour into hot containers, leaving headspace. Process in boiling water bath, allowing 10 minutes for both pint and quart sealers.

Freezing Rhubarb

Choose early spring rhubarb of good color. Use any one of the following methods:

1. Wash and cut stalks in one inch lengths. Make a medium syrup, using one cup sugar to one cup water. Pack rhubarb in cold syrup, to cover, or pack in dry sugar, using 4 pounds prepared fruit (about 11 cups) to 1 pound sugar (2 cups).
2. Remove leaves and root ends, cut stalks to uniform size, about 8 to 10 inches. Tie in small bundles, carefully wrap in moisture-vapour-proof paper and tie or seal securely.
3. Make into sauce. Sweeten to taste and pack cold.

For complete canning and freezing instructions, write to the Canada Department of Agriculture in Ottawa for their free bulletins, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" and "Freezing Fruits and Vegetables".

Lamb Curry

One of the nicest things about having a leg of lamb for dinner is the thought of the wonderful lamb curry you can make with the leftovers.

Always a favorite with everyone, serve it with fluffy boiled rice and a tossed green salad, and you will have a meal that will whet the appetite of anyone.

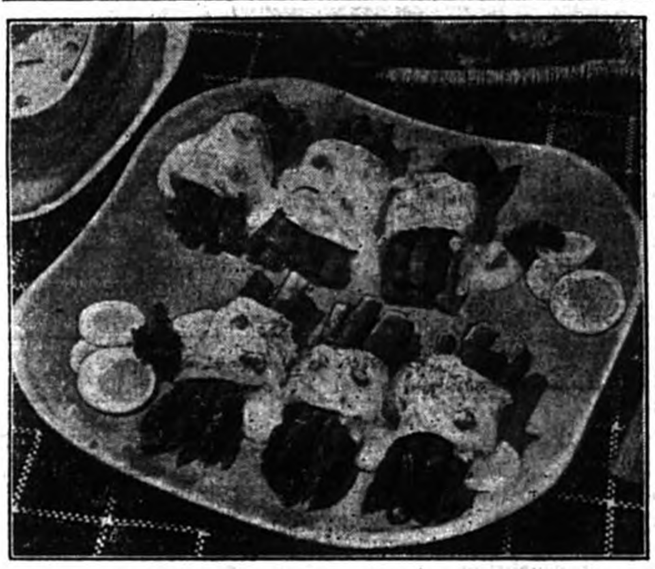

Lamb Curry

2 Cups cooked lamb (cubed), 2 tablespoons flour, ¾ teaspoon curry powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 small onion, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 cup boiling water, 2 beef cubes, ¾ teaspoon vinegar, hot cooked rice.

Mix flour, curry powder and salt; roll cubed lamb in this mixture. Slice onion; brown slightly in butter or margarine. Add lamb, brown. Blend the prepared beef cubes in boiling water and add to lamb (2 teaspoons liquid beef extract may be substituted, if desired.) Add vinegar and cover. Simmer 15-20 minutes or until meat has had a chance to warm through. Place ring of rice on plate and your lamb mixture in centre.

Cooking With Condensed Soups Is Modern Method

ASK any best cook her secret of success these days—and she's pretty sure to give credit to condensed soup. You're probably an enthusiast yourself.

Cooking with soup is a habit that's helping many homemakers make ends meet—from the standpoint of both minutes and money. The double-rich, double-thick soups make such fine cooking sauces. Start with one of them and it's easy to prepare a casserole or any meat or fish dish that calls for sauce as an ingredient or as a topper. Each soup contributes a special tantalizing flavor of its own—whether you're using tomato, cream of mushroom, chicken or celery soup.

Just think of all the recipes that give extra-good results in shortcut time by way of soup cookery. It's an amazing array from ham loaf to cheese soufflé and French dressing. One prize dish that's as much in season right now as the flowers and sunshine is "Chicken Slices in Cheese Sauce".

Chicken Slices in Cheese Sauce

1 pound asparagus, cooked (fresh, frozen or canned)	1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
6 slices cooked chicken	½ cup shredded cheddar cheese

Place asparagus in bundles in a flat baking dish or pan; top each with sliced chicken. Stir soup and cheese together; pour over chicken. Place under broiler, or in hot oven (450°F.), until lightly browned. Arrange on platter. Makes 6 servings. NOTE: For variation, use either cream of mushroom or celery soup instead of chicken.

—SOUP SCOOPS—

Nibblers Tray: At lunch-time, a tray of pick-up foods is pleasant to nibble along with bowls of soup. Make up the tray with dill pickles, wedges of smoked cheese, and buttered toast fingers (rye bread).

• • •

Party-Style Beans: To give glamour to plain-Jane pork and beans, bake them with pineapple kabobs. Use pineapple chunks and cubes of canned luncheon meat for the kabobs; string them alternately on toothpicks, three per pick. Place kabobs on top of beans in a casserole; pour a little pineapple juice over them; heat all in a moderate oven. Fix two kabobs for each serving.

• • •

In Honor of Mother: How about the family pitching in to get Sunday night supper on Mother's Day while she enjoys a holiday. Even the youngest can help in the kitchen if it's an easy soup-and-sandwich menu. Cream of mushroom soup with toasted bacon and tomato sandwiches makes a good combination. For a festive finish, strawberry shortcake.

WOMEN BUSY WORKERS IN LEGISLATIVE JOBS

Regina (CP) — The Saskatchewan legislature has no women members at present, but not for behind the scenes is Miss Nell Carter.

Miss Carter is assistant clerk of the legislative assembly. She looks after gathering together the material that is tabled in the legislature every day during sessions—annual reports, returns to the assembly and such.

She also sees to it that the questions and answers, votes and proceedings, and orders of the day are typed out and sent off to the printers every evening after the house rises.

Helping Miss Carter is Miss M. Martinac, permanent typist in the legislative assembly office.

Another task assigned to women is typing the transcripts of members' speeches. The speeches are recorded in the House. As soon as a recording is completed, it is taken downstairs, where four women type the speeches verbatim.

Children Grow Too, in Your Garden

— By NANCY CLEAVER, — (Copyright)

"Daddy, let me buy some seed packages all my very own", Tommy asked eagerly one evening after supper when his dad was making plans for his garden and drawing up a list of seeds and other supplies which he needed.

"Aren't you a bit young to be planting things all yourself?" his father asked.

Tommy's eyes shone happily: "I'd like to try. I've helped you and Mummy several years, and last spring Mummy promised me that maybe I could have my own little corner in the garden this year. I know what I want to grow . . . carrots, because they are good to eat raw, and nasturtiums because they are pretty and easy to grow too, and their leaves taste nippy". "Be sure you don't go chewing up the little black insects that sometimes are on the underside of their leaves!" Tommy's Dad warned him quickly.

"I'll ask your mother about you having a garden after you go to bed. If you plant the seeds you will have to take care of them. We don't want to be ashamed of your part of the backyard when Granddad comes to inspect the vegetables and flowers!"

When Tommy's parents talked over their son's garden they decided to let him go ahead.

"He's so keen about it, it would be horrid to say No! if we can say Yes". There are lots of things Tommy has learned about growing things from helping us. And after all it's more important that he should grow, than that we should have a very grand garden, where he's no small spot of his own", his mother observed.

I remember an old woman with a large family in the village where I grew up. They had a marvellous family garden . . each child had two rows of his own. She used to say proudly, "We grow children, too, in our garden!" and it was quite true. They had a lot of fun, it kept them out of mischief, and it was really astounding the quantities of flowers and vegetables they produced", Tommy's Dad added.

Enthusiasm for gardening is as catching as measles. If Mother or Dad, or both of them, get a lot of satisfaction from a gardening hobby, of course their child is going to want to dig and plant and water and watch the small green sprouts appear. Adults can see quite plainly that a bud appearing or a bud opening is a real miracle in a child's eyes . . and in this prosiac world are there not too few "miracles"?

Children comprehend a great many things before they go to school and parents can make a gardening venture a real "learning situation". A child becomes skilled and acquires knowledge by actually doing things himself. He does have to have guidance and some help, but these should be kept to the very minimum.

Here is a chance for him to make choices and do let them be his own decisions, within limits. Your child is the most important "crop" your garden can produce!

New Program for Junior Women's Inst.

Activities for junior girls are receiving much attention from the Quebec Women's Institutes. An entirely new program is being planned under the leadership of the Junior Supervisor, Miss F. Elizabeth Campbell, and a report from the recent meeting of Junior Counsellors reveals the emphasis that is to be given this work.

The aim is defined as, "The J.W.I. is organized to offer rural young girls a program through which they may develop and practise good citizenship". Projects to be undertaken include such topics as Homemaking, Good Health, Clothing — 1st and 2nd years, Gardening, Handicrafts, and Fine Arts. Suitable recognition badges will be issued on successfully completing any of these, which are to be worn on the Junior sweater, but only at meetings or other officially organized activities. The junior pin, which was especially designed by the girls themselves, may be worn at any time.

The careful selection of counsellors is an essential part of the Junior program. It is recommended, but not demanded, that these be W.I. members and all junior groups are to be sponsored by the senior branch in that community.

Miss Campbell anticipates a busy season, as inquiries reaching the Q.W.I. office would indicate many new groups are to be formed as a result of this more dynamic approach.

Garden-Graph

No matter how eager you are to grow them, tomatoes should not be set out until all danger of frost is past. When you do, remember that the plants respond to care and cultivation.

If you buy your plants select only sturdy, stocky ones. Look for dark green foliage. Don't be tempted by tall spindly seedlings that top the plants in other flats. They are apt to grow all to foliage, when what you want in these days of high food bills is an abundant crop of actual tomatoes.

Set tomato seedlings a little deeper than they were growing in flats or pots, as the case may be.

As shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, a plant can be set as deep as the first shoot of leaves. If pot-grown, set the root ball deep, as illustrated. The soil can be filled in gradually as each plant becomes established.

The lower leaf stems on a tomato plant always turn yellow and drop off. Therefore, such leaves can be removed at planting time, if you so desire.

Tomato stakes should be planted before the plants themselves are set out. If the stakes are driven into the ground after the tomato plants have been set here is always danger of injuring the roots.

You may be intrigued by the so-called Husk tomato. It is not a true tomato. It is also called the Ground Cherry, Winter Cherry and Strawberry tomato.

Its fruits are shown in the Garden-Graph. They are yellow in color and each is enclosed in a loose paper-like husk. The fruit, however, is excellent for preserving and for pies. When dried in sugar the fruits are often used like raisins in cakes and puddings.

"I put away my hard-earned money"

This young bank depositor recently wrote to his bank manager:

"I made a goal of $1,000 for this year. It is two years since I opened the account with two dollars. I owe thanks to you that I put away my hard-earned money where it will benefit me . . . I do not wish to touch it for the time being."

Building up a bank account means work and sacrifice. But Canadians know the value of having savings handy in time of opportunity or need: they maintain 7½ million savings accounts in the chartered banks—almost twice as many as ten years ago. At the same time bank staffs have almost doubled. That, and higher wages, have increased bank payrolls almost three times.

More people use the banks, more people work for the banks than ever before.

The School Commissioners for the municipality of the Town of Terrebonne, in the County of Terrebonne, may, by resolution, impose and levy, from the 1st of July, 1952, inclusive, in addition to any other tax, a special tax of one per cent, called Education Tax, of the same kind and in accordance with the provisions of the Retail Sales Tax Act (Revised Statutes, 1941, chapter 88 and its amendments), on the retail sale or purchase price of all moveables, moveable effects, merchandise and articles of trade whatsoever, including gas and electricity used for lighting, power or heating and telephone service sold or purchased within the present limits of the school municipality of the Town of Terrebonne, in the County of Terrebonne;

2. The said tax shall be levied and collected at the same time, in the same manner, on the same conditions and with the same sanctions as the tax levied under section 4 of the said chapter 88 of the Revised Statutes of 1941 and its amendments.

The annual revenue collected by the Commissioners from the said tax shall after deduction of the expenses incurred by the said Commissioners for the imposition and collection of such revenue, be shared every three months by the said Commissioners between themselves and the School Trustees for the School Municipality of the Town of Terrebonne, proportionately to the number of children from five to sixteen years of age of each of the Roman Catholic or Protestant religious denominations, respectively, residing in the territory common to both.

Such agreements may stipulate that the secretary-treasurer of the School Commissioners shall be permitted to examine all reports or statements furnished under the provisions of the Retail Sales Tax Act (Revised Statutes, 1941, chapter 88 and its amendments).

4. Section 28 or Chapter 88 of the Revised Statutes, 1941, and its amendments (Retail Sales Tax Act) is declared applicable to the Education Tax imposed by the School Commissioners under this act, mutatis mutandis.

Farm Population Down 320,000 in Ten Years

Canada's farm population declined by more than 320,000 in the last 10 years, the Bureau of Statistics reported this week.

The decennial census completed last June showed a 10 per cent drop in farm population to 2,827,732, the bureau said.

In the same period, 1941-51, nonfarm rural population increased by more than 37 per cent to 2,553,444 and urban population by 32.7 per cent to 8,628,253.

Total population in Canada increased to a record 14,000,000 from 11,500,000 in 1941.

The cut in the number of persons on farms was felt in all provinces, except British Columbia where numbers jumped. The almost general decline reduced Canada's proportion of farm population to 20 per cent from 27 in 1941.

Tom Gard's Note Book

Some months ago I handed out a tip as to how one might antique an old picture frame. This must have aroused considerable interest for the matter has continued to pop up from time to time. It is a pleasure to repeat the formula.

TO ANTIQUE A PICTURE FRAME

Old picture frames, heavily ornamented with deep carvings are ideal for the purpose. In applying the glazing fluid the trick is to brush it on evenly, then wipe off immediately by working from the centre towards the edges, or removing it from the high points of the carvings. A light coat of varnish gives the finishing touch.

BEDROOM SCREEN

We have a new neighbour on our street. He turns out to be quite handy with tools. His first job after moving in was to construct a fine bedroom screen using B.C. Fir Plywood, and when finished he started to construct a second one for his sister, but this time he utilized scrap wood from packing cases. It is a question which is most attractive.

BIRD FEEDING STATION

A naturalist friend has constructed a bird feeding station from an old piano seat, the top being of glass to permit full view of the birds. An old coffee table might serve the same purpose. He endeavoured to impress upon his visitors that the closed end should always face the prevailing wind as this prevented the feed from being blown away.

STRETCHER FOR SOCKS

Necessity is the mother of invention, so my friend George turned a coat-hanger into a stretcher for socks. To make it more attractive he gave it a coat of enamel by simply dipping it in the can and then hanging it up to dry.

In Brownsburg

Specially contributed to The Watchman

Three councillors finish their term of representation this month. If they have done well or ill, it becomes the responsibility of the taxpayers of Brownsburg to recognize it at next Monday's election. The result of their work as councillors has been fully reported in the pages of this newspaper during the two years of their term, and now it stands for accounting.

A lot of work has been done during those two years: more sidewalks have been laid, waterworks have been improved and extended, security and peace has been maintained, and the routine affairs of the Council have been attended to. There is a lot of work to be done. More sidewalks are needed. The streets are second to none, thanks to government assistance, and Brownsburg also has first-class fire fighting equipment. But more streets need opening; the waterworks need a major repair job at the upper section; and snow removal could be speeded up and improved. Fire insurance is costing more than it should because of this defect in the water system, and taxes are not improving from the taxpayers' point of view.

The citizens are becoming more civic-minded, and perhaps slowly, but nevertheless positively, more concerned about the sort of municipal government they are getting. Their interests are at stake and the means of defending and improving them comes but once a year. . . Next Monday is that day.

The Cenotaph

It is heartening to report that a committee has been formed to look after the care and improvement of the Cenotaph. Long ago the Corporation, the only elected body in Brownsburg, should have undertaken the care of this sadly neglected monument. Even now a grant of funds should be placed aside to assist those of the present rehabilitating committee. At the moment the form of assistance required is bulbs and flowers. An appeal is being made to gardeners and flower-growers, for plants suitable for planting in the vicinity of the Cenotaph, and anyone desiring to help in contributing, may do so by sending plants to the Legion Hall, or calling number 2672 or 2838 Brownsburg, when arrangements for collecting can be made.

Death Calls Well-Loved Parish Priest at Huberdeau

Mgr. Joseph-Louis Pilon, priest at Huberdeau, Que., died Tuesday morning at the age of 70.

In ill health for several years, the Rev. Pilon had been hospitalized for several months, then returning to his presbytery, where he succumbed early last Tuesday.

Ordained to the priesthood in 1905, he had been curé at Huberdeau for the past 26 years and fostered the religious development of the parish. He was instrumental in building the church and presbytery, also the convent, and was active in the establishment of a central school in the village. He was held in high esteem by his former bishop, Mgr. Limoges, of Mont Laurier, although for the past several years ill health had withdrawn him from the active ministry.

Last rites will be held Friday at 10 a.m. in the Huberdeau parish church, Bishop Frenette of St. Jerome chanting the funeral mass, with the Bishop of Mont Laurier also in attendance.

"Emotional Health" Topic At Lachute Women's Inst.

The May meeting of the Lachute Women's Institute was held in the Legion Hall on Tuesday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. A. Taylor, in the chair.

Several articles made up by Miss Janet McOuat in the recent Felt Course conducted by Miss Ida Bruneau, of Macdonald College, were on display.

Mrs. F. McGibbon and Mrs. F. A. Brennian will represent this branch at the County Convention, to be held in the Lachute High School on Saturday, May 17.

Mrs. A. G. Leggett distributed personal membership cards for the Cancer Society, urging all members to sign them and enclose their contribution, thus supporting a worthy fund.

Mrs. F. McGibbon kindly offered flowers from her garden to the ladies of the W.I. wishing to exhibit floral arrangements at the Spring Fair.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. M. Tillotson, convener of Health and Welfare. The president introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. S. M. Istvanffy, R.N., who showed a film on "Emotional Health". This film was followed by comments drawn from Mrs. Istvanffy's personal experiences and observations. . . The speaker was cordinally thanked by Mrs. F. Brennian.

The June meeting will be under the convenership of Mrs. G. McGibbon, Agriculture convener.

Pledge Marriage Vows At Shawbridge, Que.

Thorburn - Wilson

A very pretty wedding took place at three o'clock on May 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson in Shawbridge, Que., when their daughter, Carol A., was married to Vincent, son of Mrs. Arthur E. Thorburn and the late Mr. Thorburn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Capt. Horace Baugh, of Morin Heights.

The bride was given away by her father. She wore a grey suit with black accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses and baby's breath. Her sister, Mrs. J. Ball, was matron of honor.

The bride's mother was dressed in pale blue and the groom's mother in cocoa brown.

The best man was Mr. J. Dumesnil.

The house was prettily decorated with carnations and roses. Only the immediate family and a few friends were present.

The newly-wed couple left immediately after the ceremony for a motor trip to different points in the Laurentians and Ontario.

Oil Pipeline to Ontario Passing Thro St. Eustache And Oka Regions

Toronto — Following indications by the Trans-Northern Pipe Line Company, and a recent statement by Premier Maurice Duplessis, regarding early construction of a 10-inch underground pipe to supply petroleum to Ontario from the Montreal East refineries — A. N. Norne, president of the company, envisages this pipeline in operation by the first of October next.

The three companies — McColl-Frontenac, Shell Oil and British American — will contribute each a third to the cost of this project, which will connect from the three big refineries in Montreal East to outlets in Cornwall, Prescott, Maitland, Kingston, Belleville, Port Hope, Toronto, Clarkson and Hamilton. A six-inch pipe will branch 44 miles from the main conduit to serve Ottawa.

Mr. Horne stated recently that the piping, from a Canadian plant in Welland, was in course of delivery and that ditching would start as soon as the ground was in fit condition.

The conduit, first of its kind in Eastern Canada, will follow a course southeast to St. Vincent de Paul, crossing the Riviere des Prairies and the Mille Iles River, through the St. Eustache area, across the Ottawa River from a point near Oka, and thence to Cornwall. At Oka the pipeline will pass through the Trappist farm, and Mr. Horne paid tribute to the co-operation of the Trappist monks, who have already removed trees in readiness to permit progress of the work.

Mr. Horne stated that this conduit will enable the oil companies to pipe as many as 19 different grades of product, including auto and aircraft gasolines, kerosene, light and intermediate fuel oils.

Lachute High School News

Epidemics

Last week the school was unusually quiet, as Grades I to VII were suspended due to sickness. Since some pupils were coming to school with the measles, the High School pupils had to undergo an examination to see if any had become infected. The elementary grades returned on Monday, May 5.

Banquet and Graduation Dance

The High School is brimming with suppressed excitement as the night of the Banquet and Graduation Dance draws near. People are running "to and fro" with details of business handed out to them by the committees.

The management of the Banquet is under the capable supervision of Heather Graham (chairman) and of Audrey McOuat (treasurer). Everyone is certain the arrangements will go smoothly under their direction.

The Banquet, which is held in honor of Grade XI and given by Grades IX and X, will start at five-thirty. The guests (teachers and their wives, the board members and their wives, and Grades XI and XII), will be efficiently served by the girls of Grade IX.

After the Banquet is the Graduation Dance. The exercises start at eight-fifteen, and the actual dance will start at nine o'clock.

The gymnasium will be decorated in blue and white, under the supervision of Margaret Holt, some time before the dance. Myrna Gaston will also be busy beforehand, seeing to the refreshments. At night she will turn everything over to Grade VIII to provide for the guests.

The Grade VIII boys will be doing their share of the work, checking the coats.

CARE OF OIL PAINTINGS

"What care should be taken of an oil painting?" is a question which has often been asked.

Naturally, during a year, much dust can accumulate on the surface of a picture. This can easily be brushed away with moist rag — just dampened, but not wet. After that, just wipe with a perfectly dry, soft rag; an old diaper works very well.

Now, what about a picture that is old and dull? If the picture is quite old, a thin coat of Damar Varnish can be applied on the surface, with a soft brush. The coat should be even and thin. This will restore its gloss, and bring out hidden highlights. Beforehand, you can rub the canvas gently, yet firmly, with a raw potato; this acts as a cleansing unit, and works very well. After that, wash off the surface of the canvas with a moist rag, dry thoroughly, and then let it stand a few days so that it will be perfectly dry. Then apply the Damar Varnish. It takes a while before the varnish will be dry. Sometimes it takes several weeks, sometimes only a few days. The best time to do it is on a cool, clear day, so that the dust won't be scattered about; use a flat inside surface. Then put it on top of a closet, or in an out-of-the-way spot. If possible, keep it flat until it dries thoroughly. Do not apply the varnish too often, because, instead of bringing highlights out, it will cover them up, and kill the life of the painting.

Framing also is important. The color of the picture should be complemented by the frame. The style is also changing from the dark-colored frames to a lighter off-white tone, which gives the picture more appeal. I like a light shade of gray because it blends with both the setting of the picture, where it was painted, and also the home furnishings. A wide frame isn't essential, but a good width is about 2 to 2½ inches for an average 12 x 16-inch picture. This is plenty wide. For smaller paintings, however, the larger the picture the wider the molding that could be used effectively.

"Arbor Week" Highlights Forestry Resources

By Bernard Dufresne

Quebec, May 6 (CP) — "Arbor Week" was marked by many communities throughout Quebec Province with propaganda campaigns for forest conservation and forest fire prevention, special ceremonies and tree plantings.

The Quebec Forestry Association joined with 4-H Clubs in warning against fires, which destroy an average of $500,000 worth of timber each year.

Jules A. Breton, general manager of the forest group, said fires were caused mostly by careless persons travelling in woodlands.

He said that "the 2,000,000 trees which will be planted this spring throughout the province represent only about two per cent of the number of trees which will be destroyed by fire during the summer."

The trees, which will be planted by farmers and smallholders of timber limits, come from nine nurseries operated by the Quebec Government. Last year, a total of about 1,200,000 such trees were distributed by the department of lands and forests.

In an "Arbor Week" message, Lands and Forests Minister Bourque said, "Trees are Quebec's most important source of wealth, as they shape our financial, commercial and industrial organization." He said the total value of forest products — newsprint, paper, lumber, and other smaller industries — amounted to close to $600,000,000 annually.

* * *

Asked about rumors of an increase in the price of newsprint, Premier Duplessis last week said none had been decided by Quebec manufacturers, but that if an increase is announced, his government will study problems arising from the boost.

"We don't run after problems", he told his regular press conference, "but we deal with them when they come up."

Apparently referring to the special rate he obtained last year for Quebec Province newspapers, the Premier said the government's past actions could be used to gauge its future policies. He did not elaborate.

The rebate was obtained after a $10-a-ton increase from $102 to $112, excluding a 10-per-cent sales tax, in June, 1952.

EDUCATION, HIGHLIGHT IN WEEK'S NEWS

Graduation Event, School Music, Parent Interest

As extra-curricular activities take a back seat with the impending ordeal of final exams — the past week might well rank with Education Week hereabouts, through events spotlighting public attention on the district schools. Many parents and citizens have shared the interest of these events, which include a Parent-School meeting at Brownsburg, graduation "doings" at Lachute, and a Music Festival of the Air favorably publicizing the schools of the Argenteuil - Two Mountains area.

The Lachute High School banquet, graduation exercises and dance last Friday fulfilled the pupils' expectation as a social highlight in their scholastic year. The event is held annually in honor of Grade XI, whose members are guests of Grades IX and X for this colorful occasion.

At the banquet in the school cafeteria at five-thirty o'clock, the teachers and their wives, the school commissioners and their wives, the year's graduates, and the post-graduates of Grade XII and present pupils of Grade X, were the guests. The pupils of Grade IX served the meal.

Heather Graham was toastmistress in absence of Bill Steeves, who had been commissioned for this duty. Heather proposed the Toast to the Queen. Helen McMahon proposed success and fortune to the graduates, responded to by Ruth Clark, and Val Pattee pledged the Toast to the School, to which the School Commission chairman, J. W. McGibbon, replied.

In the school auditorium at eight-thirty, Robt. Duncan was efficient master-of-ceremonies for the graduating exercises, which were witnessed by a large attendance of parents and citizens. The hall, cheerily adorned with evergreens and decorations in the school colors, was a distinct credit to Margaret Holt and her committee.

Commissioner J. W. McGibbon, speaking for the School Board and the public at large, extended congratulations to the graduates occupying seats of honor on the platform. "We have gone the limit to extend to our young people facilities of education the like of which are unexcelled anywhere. We have offered the best within our ability — we hope they have appreciated and benefitted by it. And we trust that in future life their experience at Lachute High School will stand out as a pleasant and inspiring memory". In concluding his brief remarks Mr. McGibbon voiced sincere good wishes to the graduates.

Ann McGibbon, daughter of the commissioner and one of the graduates, introduced her classmates individually, who came forward to receive from their teacher, Bob Wyse, the diplomas symbolic of their school career.

Marilyn Grey and Wilmer Andrews pronounced the "last will and testament" of the graduating class.

Principal F. H. J. Royal in his remarks stressed that "extra bit of training" required in the competitive vocational field. "Today as never before, Industry is calling for High School graduates. The Armed Services are clamoring for qualified volunteers. The Professions need recruits with academic background. . . Industry particularly is screening its personnel. so that today it requires just that extra bit of training to reach the top of the ladder". Despite criticisms heard concerning present-day school graduates, Principal Royal confidently believed they "would make better citizens than those of former generations. . . Our pupils are well able to stand on their feet and express their opinions — and they have definite opinions", he added, as one could substantiate that fact. With a note of regret at their impending departure, Mr. Royal also extended good wishes to the class.

Edna Noble and Keith Quinn cited the "class prophecy", and Marina Griffith gave the Valedictory, which was a triumph among the students' speeches and a credit to this young orator.

The Grand March opened the dancing and lighter sociabilities of the occasion, the graduates with their escorts and partners leading off in the proceedings, to music provided by the Westernaires Orchestra.

The committee in charge of the entire arrangements was headed by Val Pattee, and their efforts deserve high commendation.

Gregor Albright, Wilmer Andrews, Garth Berry, Marjorie Calder, Ruth Clark, Dilley Clattenburg, Florence Copeland, Betty-Ann Cunningham, Norman Davis, Robert Duncan, Myrna Gaston, Myrtle Gaston, Esther Gauley, Laurin, Sandy MacGibbon, Pearl MacBernard Golphin, Marilyn Gray, Marina Griffith, Margaret Holt, Marianne Rae, Reginald Mason, Marion Mason, Ann McGibbon, Lona Meyer, James Murdoch, Edna Noble, Ronald Noble, Joan Oswald, George Pasco, Val Pattee, Gordon Patterson, Keith Quinn, Elisabeth Robertson, Beverley Robinson, Violet Steele, Mary Townsend, Ruth Rae Walker, Lillian Warwick, Robert Warwick.

LARGE RADIO AUDIENCE HEARS DISTRICT 'MUSIC FESTIVAL OF THE AIR'

Because of the prevalent epidemic of contagious diseases, the Spring Music Festival of the Argenteuil and Two Mountains County Schools had to be cancelled. However, between Shirley McKyes (music instructor), Bill Pettie (CFCF's roving recorder), and David Grier (radio production engineer), the idea of the Music Festival of the Air was born. This was heard over CFCF on the "Voice of Youth" program at 2.05 o'clock last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. McKyes, Mr. Pettie and Mr. Grier visited and recorded selections from the Lake of Two Mountains High School, Lachute High School and four intermediate schools, including Grenville, Kilmar, Brownsburg, Arundel and Morin Heights. The repertoire included group, quartet and solo numbers, both instrumental and vocal. Only a limited number of items could be included in the short time allotted, but the program gave a representative cross-section of musical activities and left a very creditable impression of musical achievement in the schools.

At the close of the program the adjudicator, Mr. J. Scott, and Mr. S. McKyes, commented on the program. They praised the pupils for the careful preparation evidenced in their performance, and also on its standard of quality. Mr. Scott said that Quebec had been rather backward in music compared with other provinces — but, "given a little time, Quebec will not take a back seat to anyone", added Mr. McKyes.

DECIDE TO ORGANIZE HOME-SCHOOL ASSOCN. AT BROWNSBURG

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — Last week the usual Parents' Night, when parents get together with the teachers and discuss the possibilities of one's pride and joy and the other's aim in life, developed into a session endeavoring to discover a more complete and possibly continuous means of co-operating in the business of Education.

The chairman of the School Board quickly vacated the rostrum after opening the proceedings to allow the principal, Mr. King Amos, to bring the parents up-to-date on the latest communiqué from the health authorities on the contagious diseases now prevalent in the district. The gist of the information is to notify the Health Unit at Lachute and abide by the instructions issued from there.

Mr. Pat Reilly, School Board chairman, then called upon Mr. Wes Freeland, who introduced himself by disclaiming any desire to run for office, because of various other distracting activities, and

Lachute Post Office in Same Local Family Over 100 Years

Postmaster H. M. Gall recently completed 46 years with the Lachute Post Office, 41 years actually as postmaster and the previous five years as assistant. When he became postmaster on March 4, 1911, he was perhaps the youngest one in Canada, as he had then just reached his 21st birthday.

"Post Office" however is in his blood, and he is the fourth generation of his family to be postmaster, an appointment held by his great grandfather, his grandfather and his father before him.

This is perhaps a record — it was at the time that he became postmaster. And another record which may have been set is that Lachute's postmastership has been for well over 100 years in the same family.

During Postmaster Gall's tenure of office he had seen postal services revolutionized — starting with the introduction of Rural Mail delivery,. Parcel Post, and C.O.D., not to mention Air Mail and All-Up Air Mail Service. What interests him particularly is that he has witnessed the postal revenues of Lachute climb from a mere $3,600 to $38,000, and the staff increase in size from one assistant to seven, plus eight Rural Mail couriers. Lachute has grown in his time from a village of 1,800 to a town with a population (including rural surroundings) approximately 10,000.

Postmaster Gall has served on Lachute Town Council for 12 years, and was elected mayor in 1928. He is a life member in the Masonic Order, a Shriner and a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason. His two sons served in the last war and the older boy, Lieut. Hugh W. Gall, gave his life for his country while with the Black Watch of Montreal (R.H.R.). His other son, Wing Commander Wilson Gall, remained in the Air Force after the war and was recently posted as Second in Command at Trenton, Ont. Mr. Gall is a member of the Kirk Session of the local Presbyterian Church.

A new Post Office is being erected here shortly, and it will be the third which Postmaster Gall will have occupied. Perhaps he is the oldest postmaster in years of service in Canada.

I.O.O.F. VETERANS HONORED BY LODGE

On Tuesday evening at McArthur's Hall, a banquet was tendered to veterans of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Oldest member, of 57 years standing, was Bro. Allan Paul, who was unable to be present. Bro. J. S. Giles, 51 years in the order, was absent also, being on a visit to England. Next in years of service in Laurentian Lodge No. 14 was Bro. John Cunningham, who expressed his appreciation of the tribute being made to the veterans. In longevity of membership, the following are noted — S. S. Campbell, 47 years; A. Campbell, 46; W. Painter, 46 (absent); H. Poulin, 45 (absent); R. Carpenter, 45 (absent); G. Brennian, 45, (absent); G. Y. Deacon, 44 (absent); J. Speight, 43, (absent); Theron Carpenter, 42, (absent); F. Jordan, 41 (absent); W. J. Deacon, 41; G. I. McFaul, 40 (absent); A. Murdoch, 40; G. Dixon, 40; J. Hutchin, 40 (absent). There were numerous others present wearing 25-year jewels, and all enjoyed a supper served by the ladies of the Orange Order. Past-Grand Bro. W. Cooper presided and gave a short address of welcome. Others present spoke briefly. Later in the evening there was entertainment, including moving pictures, and a happy reunion of many old friends.

Red Cross Votes Expenses For Two Candidates in Aquatic Instruction Course

Lachute branch of the Red Cross, at its recent meeting under chairmanship of Mrs. W. M. Cottingham, president, voted $30 from the local Swimming and Water Safety fund, to meet expenses of two students or delegates to attend a provincial aquatic course.

Candidates to this course, to be held June 20-29 at Lac Trois-Saumons, L'Islet, Que., contribute each $15 toward food and accommodation, the remainder being paid by the Provincial Government.

The two local grants were voted to Lachute High School and the Ecole Supérieure, whose personnel will be asked to select a representative from each school, over 17 years of age and well qualified, to take this special swimming instruction course.

Mrs. Geo. McGibbon is chairman of the Water Safety committee of Lachute Red Cross — from whom full particulars may be obtained on this subject.

Chamber of Commerce Salutes Local Transport Firm, Boyd's Lachute Express

Contributed by Lachute Chamber of Commerce

The Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways served the transportation needs of local trades and industries exclusively, until the advent of the first truck transport company in Lachute, in April 1930. . . N. W. Boyd, a well-known citizen of this community, then launched his business, to facilitate communications between Lachute and Montreal, and all intermediate points on No. 8 Highway. With a 1½-ton Ford truck, Mr. Boyd had his Montreal terminal at No. 8 Queen Street, shared by J. B. Baillargeon Ltd.

Boyd's Lachute Express Limited then had its quarters at the rear of Douglas Simon's feed and grain store, Foundry Street, where there was accommodation for one truck and a small warehouse.

In July, 1930, J. W. Scott was the only employee. The personnel increased to three in the spring of 1931, when Boyd's moved their warehouse to Robert Street and opened a small office with Paul (Pep) Pariseau in charge.

Road conditions were not as good as today, and the business, increasing from year to year, obliged Mr. Boyd to buy new equipment yearly.

Ayers Limited were the first industry to patronize this modern way of transport in Lachute, while the Canadian Industries Limited were the pioneers in Brownsburg. This example was soon followed up by many other trades, businesses and individuals in the district.

Three years later, in 1933, Boyd's Express moved their Montreal warehouse to 299 Young Street, and in 1937 to 36 Ann Street, to finally settle down in the spring of 1946, at 1450 Barré Street West, where Mr. Boyd has acquired an interest in a modern large terminal with two other transport companies, the McCrum Transport and Champlain Express Inc.

In Lachute, the accommodation was becoming so inadequate that, in the fall of 1940, Boyd's had to move into its own warehouse, erected outside the town limits, on Bethany Road. This fireproof, modern, spacious building can store many pieces of equipment as well as freight; it has an adacent garage where two mechanics are on duty 24 hours a day, and a large head-office.

Boyd's modern fleet has tremendously increased in the march of time, to the benefit of this district; it now has 20 large semi-trailers and 21 trucks and tractors. Six of their vans proudly advertise some of Lachute's local industries.

In 1947, Boyd's purchased Frank McKinnon's permit, which extended their public service to Gatineau, home of the Canadian International Paper's largest plant, as well as subsidiaries to that company. With a small office and warehouse on Sherbrooke Street, Buckingham, Boyd's Express also transported the products of Electric Reduction and James McLaren.

During World War II, Boyd's Express had one of their units operating daily for six months between Montreal and New Jersey, transporting war materials. They went as far as Chatanooga, Tennessee, on one occasion — a 3,200 mile successful drive, on a special war transport mission.

Boyd's Lachute Express handles approximately 75,000 tons of freight annually, and employs a personnel of 50. Teletype service between the Montreal, Buckingham and Lachute offices, contributes to speed and service, and Boyd's Lachute Express, operating over 20 years, with its motto "Ship the Safe Way", hopes to continue giving its numerous customers the best satisfaction in the years to come.

Atikokan, Ont. (CP) — This northwestern Ontario town is going to get a new post office. The structure, 30 feet by 60, will cost an estimated $25,000.

GALA OCCASION – AYERS 25-YR. CLUB WELCOMES 15 NEW MEMBERS

Lachute Golf Club was the setting for a colorful gathering last Saturday, as members of the Ayers "25 Year Club" and their wives were guests of the Company at a banquet, which was attended by approximately 200 people.

The evening's program was under the chairmanship of Mr. Gilbert E. Ayers, president, who warmly welcomed the 15 new members to the Club. He paid appropriate tribute to the old employees for their aptitude in learning new trades and new jobs, and so helping the founders of the Company, and their successors, to establish in Lachute an industry which was able to survive the hard years as well as thrive in prosperous years — the progress of the Company being at all times parallel to the development of its employees' trades and skills.

Mr. Leonard Ayers congratulated the members on their perseverance, and Mr. Tom Milnes remarked on the harmonious family spirit which exists in the organization.

Mr. Philippe Valois, M.P., and Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., also offered best wishes to the employees, as well as to the Company.

Towards the end of the banquet, gold watches and souvenir buttons were distributed to the new members and the evening's entertainment was rounded out with songs and music provided by the Breault family orchestra.

With the addition of the 15 new enrolments, the Club's membership has reached an impressive total of 98. Employees welcomed into this distinguished group were:

New Members

Louis Joseph Bigras, Roméo Robert, Lawrence Tomalty, Henri Joly, Paul Emile Gravel, William Rogers, Charles Lorange, Philippe Joly, Arthur Labonté, Henri St. Jacques, Adélard Gagné, Jean Louis Rochon, Lionel Danis, Mme Alice Provost, Mlle Laurette Séguin.

Council Asks Enforcement Curfew and Traffic Laws

The regular May session of Town Council was held last Wednesday, under presidency of Mayor Jas. W. McGibbon. All members were in attendance.

On motion of Ald. W. S. MacKimmie, seconded by Ald. Dr. Jules Lafleur, Ald. E. Provost was appointed pro-mayor for the ensuing three months.

A request from Philippe Masson for installation of sewer and water system on Sydney Street, was referred to the Roads Committee for investigation.

Following a request by W. Chenier for sidewalk installation fronting certain lots on Isabella Street, the secretary-treasurer was instructed to advise the property-owners concerned.

Ald. W. S. MacKimmie, seconded by Ald. E. Provost, moved that sealed tenders be called to supply 25 tons of coal for heating of the town buildings.

Fire Chief Geo. Y. Deacon appeared before the Council to suggest improvements to the auxiliary fire pump, recommending that it be installed on a three-ton truck. The Fire Department, he stated, had funds to meet the greater part of this outlay, and the corporation would be required to invest a sum of $600. The Fire and Police Committee were authorized to study the proposal.

Police Chief D. Villeneuve asked permission to re-establish his Police Fund — the Council giving due approval.

The "Jeunesse Sportive" asked permission to announce its baseball event last Sunday by loudspeaker and to stage a street parade. It was moved by Ald. E. Provost, seconded by Ald. R. Morrissette, that the organization be permitted to advertise its games with loudspeakers between 1 p.m. and 8 p.m., Sundays excepted; disapproval was given to the suggested parade, however, as it would cause undue disturbance to Sunday religious services.

Ald. Stanley Holt proposed, and Ald. Dr. Jules Lafleur seconded, that By-law 182 be amended so that the 30-minute parking restriction on Main Street apply only between 9 a.m. and 10 p.m., daily, including Sundays. . . An amendment by Ald. E. Provost, to exclude Sundays, was rejected by a vote of 8-1; and the proposed by-law amendment was adopted.

Building permits were granted to Ulysse Nadon, for remodelling of his Main Street store; Réal St. Jean and J. P. Fournier, for residential building on St. Julien Street; Georges Clermont, for a house on Sydney Street — all works to be under supervision of the Roads Committee.

The Council then adjourned to the secretary's office, where it was decided to instruct the Police Department to rigidly apply all traffic by-laws, and also the Curfew By-law (No. 135) compelling all children under 14, unaccompanied by adults, to be indoors by 9 p.m. Standard or 10 p.m. D.S. Time — under penalty of a $20 fine, payable by the parents concerned.

On motion of Ald. D. G. MacRae, seconded by Ald. E. Provost, it was decided that the Council commission P. Laliberté, engineer, to apportion estimates on sewerage and water installation, using the same excavation for both systems, on Bedard Boulevard east of Bethany Street.

HUMOR HAS BECOME 'BIG BUSINESS', SAYS ROTARY CLUB SPEAKER

The address at last week's meeting of the Brownsburg Rotary Club took on a lighter aspect, as Dr. Warren Beasley spoke on the theme, "What's Funny".

Dr. Beasley, a past-president of Hawkesbury Rotary, pointed out that humor has become "big business". A large part of the press, and large portions of radio time, are devoted to comedians. Indeed, the top-ranking comedians are better known than are leading politicians, scientists and authors!

Taking Jack Benny as an example, Dr. Beasely told his audience that Benny has a large staff of writers, who have thousands of jokes on file. When preparing a program, they select all the jokes pertaining to that particular situation, pick the best of these, and work them into the script.

Each program is recorded, and the studio audience reception is classified as to volume and type of laughter. This information helps them to choose the type of jokes the audience will enjoy most.

Dealing with the philosophy of humor, the speaker pointed out that jokes can be classified in the following categories — repetition, surprise, superiority, exaggeration, falsification, immorality, ridiculous. One author has, in fact, proposed that "jokes are funny only because they make you feel superior".

Dr. Beasley warned his audience, however, that if they try to analyse and classify each joke they hear, the joke ceases to be funny.

Following his talk, the speaker illustrated by relating several well chosen humorous anecdotes.

The speaker was introduced by Keith Rutherford and thanked by Les Thompson.

The Brownsburg Club played host to a number of visitors, among whom were Larry Ayliff, president of Hawkesbury branch; Mr. David, president of Chesterville branch, Bob Allen and Charles Cotton, of Hawkesbury; and Mr. Wm. Freeland, of Toronto.

This also is proverbial, that though eternal justice be graciously gentle, yet it may seem severe.

B'BURG COUNCIL NOTES A NEW ANNOYANCE IN LOUDSPEAKERS

(Our District Correspondent)

Park Avenue

For a street name having rather high-class associations, the Brownsburg prototype is in bad condition. The street is privately owned, and an attempt by the owner, Tom Hall, to have the Council take over maintenance, failed (for the present, at least) because the conditions necessary, proper ditching and surfacing, were not fulfilled. Mr. Hall will have the repairs carried out and the road committee will then decide on taking over the street.

Another private street, owned by Paul Filion, could not be maintained by the Council because of lack of width and ditching. The Council is awaiting a report from Paul Laliberté, consulting engineer, Lachute. . . Evidently Mr. Laliberté is having trouble tracing records, which is a common occurrence with properties in Brownsburg.

A New Nuisance

Mayor Pariseau recalled that when the corporation was formed no by-law was thought of to control loudspeakers going around the streets. "We were all low-speakers then". He thought they should not tolerate the nuisance further. The matter will come up at next meeting.

Taxi Insurance

An application by Reg Raymond for a permit to operate a taxi, brought on a discussion about passenger insurance. Councillor Charbonneau commented there are now 29 taxis in Brownsburg. Mayor Pariseau spoke strongly in favor of compulsory insurance, but was doubtful of the Council's power to enforce it. Most of the councillors spoke in favor of insured taxis. The secretary was directed to get a legal opinion on the Council's position in the matter.

Town or Village

That hardy annual of status — whether Town or Village? — sprouted up again at last meeting of the Council. This was in consequence of a pleasure-cum-business trip taken by members of the Council to celebrate the new aldermanic year. During their stay in Montreal, the members met the Minister of Municipal Affairs, and evidently this matter was one of the subjects discussed. It seems but fair to the taxpayers of Brownsburg that a report of those discussions with the Minister be placed before them. The question is an important one in several aspects, and in financing an information-gathering trip of this nature, the taxpayers want to have the facts. True, their representatives have learned the facts, but this month half of them, having completed their term of office, may be replaced by others not informed of the position. . . The secretary, Mr. Emile Hebert, promised a report at next meeting of the Council.

Maple Avenue Waterworks

It was decided to start work on repair of this installation immediately. The matter is somewhat involved, because the contractor got an engineer's certificate and feels he should be paid some money withheld by the Council. After the job was finished the Council found the tiles were laid on an up-grade.

More About Trouble Calls

Last week we talked about power failures which are caused by trouble on the customer's own wiring. We pointed out that the customer can often correct such troubles without calling the power company.

That doesn't apply, however, to troubles which result from tree branches which fall against or rub against power lines. In cases like that we like to learn about the trouble whether the branches are affecting wires on the customer's premises or not, so that experienced line crews can clear up the difficulty without danger.

Sometimes customers, with the best intentions in the world, cause even more serious troubles by damaging lines in attempting to remove trees or branches which are close to power lines. Quite aside from the damage, there is always the danger to the life of the inexperienced person who works too close to live wires.

Our customers can help us provide better service by continuing to report cases where trees are spreading close to power lines and by co-operating with us in the removal of dangerous branches on their property.

Tractor Power-Lifts

The only surviving hydraulic lifts for agricultural tractors developed in Great Britain since the war are the Adrolic units built by the Milngavie (Scotland) firm, Adrolic Engineering Co. Ltd. This comparatively new light engineering industry is attracting attention in agricultural centres throughout the world and production is running at peak. The unit is built round a specially designed rotary hydraulic pump, in which oil pressure is increased to 2,000 lbs. per square inch. This pressure is used to operate a ram connected to a three-point tractor-plow linkage, which lifts the plow bodily in a horizontal position instead of at an angle as in the two-point linkage type.

Care at Calving Prevents Losses

Ottawa — To be profitable, a beef cow should raise one calf a year. If, through negligence or lack of attention at calving time, the calf dies, loss is incurred because the cow is maintained for a whole year without any returns. With proper care, most losses can be avoided.

There are four steps which beef producers should take to avoid such accidents, says Mr. P. E. Sylvestre, of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. These are — (1) Watch for signs of approaching calving, (2) Have a comfortable place for the cow. (3) Make sure that the calf starts breathing, (4) Make sure that it gets its first drink early.

When breeding dates are not available, a close watch should be kept for approaching signs of parturition in the cows. An early sign is the enlargement of the udder. This is followed by a change in its content from a watery secretion to a thick milky colostrum. At about the same time, there will be a loosening of the muscles around the tail and pinbones. Later on, as labor pains begin, the cow will show signs of uneasiness. Frequently, she will lie down and get up at short intervals. This is the time when a closer watch is necessary.

At the Central Experimental Farm, calving takes place in the cows' winter quarters. Taking advantage of the cow's desire for isolation at calving time, the warmest part of the pen is well bedded with clean straw. The cow is then left alone. After about two hours, if calving has not taken place an inspection is made for abnormalities. Difficult calving is generally the result of too large a calf or malpresentation.

In the first case, traction on the calf as the cow labors is generally sufficient. In the latter case, however, a veterinarian is called at once, as too long a delay may weaken the cow.

After the calf is born, the mucus is removed from the calf's nostrils to facilitate breathing. If the new-born calf does not show signs of life, pressure on the ribs, and traction on the tongue will help start breathing. The next step is to apply tincture of iodine to the navel cord to prevent possible infection. Finally, the calf is placed in the driest and warmest spot and both cow and calf are left to themselves.

A normal calf should nurse of its own accord. If after five or six hours, the calf has not nursed, it should be helped. It is a good plan to have the calf suck each teat. Calves sometimes select one or two teats only, and neglect the others, which may result in complications such as swollen quarters, or even complete loss of quarters.

A normal calf should be up and around the day following its birth. When this happens you may be sure that the calf is out of danger, and well on its way.

Famous Cow Produced Almost 200,000 lbs. Milk

Macdonald Oleana Supreme, famous Holstein producer, bred and owned by Macdonald College, died recently in her 17th year after compiling a lifetime total production on official Record of Performance test of 196,384 lbs. milk containing 7797 lbs. fat, average test 3.97 per cent butterfat. Of her 13 tests, six were made on three-times-a-day milking and seven on twice-a-day milking.

"Oleana's" lifetime butterfat total is the second largest ever made by a Holstein in Canada, standing next to that of the famous Springbank Snow Countess who had 9,062 lbs. fat. As a senior three-year-old "Oleana" established a World Record for butterfat production in the 305-day division on three-times-a-day milking with 848 lbs. fat from 19566 lbs. milk. This still stands as a Canadian record. In the same lactation she produced in 365 days 976 lbs. fat from 22,241 lbs. milk, which record was second in Canada for fat at the time it was made.

Zinc Sulphate and Potato Yields

Seed potatoes dipped in a solution of zinc sulphate prior to planting are sprouting earlier, grow more vigorously, blossom earlier, and yield better than the untreated potatoes, as shown by results of experiments conducted by the Federal Department of Agriculture.

The tubers were dipped for 1½ minutes in a one per cent solution of zinc sulphate and yield increases were about 12 bushels per acre at the Charlottetown Experimental Station, P.E.I.

Where potato vines were sprayed repeatedly with zinc sulphate solution at the rate of 1 to 2 pounds zinc sulphate per acre, yield increases amounted to 20 bushels per acre, with marked prolongation of the life of the potato-foliage. It was further observed that light blight in the susceptible Green Mountain variety was more effectively controlled if the fungicide used for spraying contained zinc sulphate.

Zinc sulphate was also applied as a fertilizer at the rate of 29 pounds per acre with resulting yield increases of 20 bushels per acre.

Reclamation Project Sponsored by Dutch

Expect to Supply Farm Produce To Rapidly Growing Vancouver

Vancouver (CP) — The first 400 acres of a 6,600-acre Dutch-sponsored reclamation project at East Pitt Meadows, about 30 miles from here, will be planted in oats this spring.

Huge drainage ditches totalling four and a half miles, now traverse the first section of the tract planned for cropping.

A rotary plow is preparing the seed-bed and a draining trench is being dug across the fields to lead off surface water.

A powerful pumping station, with a capacity of 80,000 gallons per minute, is nearing completion and will be in operation soon to keep the land dry when spring freshets raise water to flood level in the Fraser and Pitt rivers.

Valuable Land

The tract is the last large piece of land in the southwest corner of British Columbia available to supply Vancouver's growing population with milk and other farm products.

Present plans are that the land be subdivided into 40-acre dairy and mixed farming establishments, with some speciality crops on smaller acreages.

Dutch engineers, headed by Dr. Nikolas Biezerveld, have repaired a break in the old dike on Pitt Lake built before the First World War by a Vancouver group, which previously reclaimed the land but abandoned it because of difficulties which arose during that war.

The general superintendent, Teunis Plomp, said that first cost of the reclamation would be at least $500,000.

The eventual value of the land, however, will be more than $1,320,000.

There are 25 men now working on the job, most of them building the brick-and-concrete pumping station.

Many of these are Dutch immigrants, some of whom still wear their traditional wooden shoes.

Overall production of manufactured dairy products in many of the principal producing countries of the world in the fourth quarter of 1951 declined below that of the comparable quarter of 1950. Butter, canned milk and dried milk production declined markedly, but cheese output showed only a slight decline.

FINE CATCH

Trenton, Ont. (CP) — Factory worker Ken Allore claimed the biggest catch as the trout season opened. From a stream near Brighton he hooked a three-pound brown trout measuring 19½ inches. A lowly hook and worm did the trick.

THE COW AT THE COUNCIL TABLE

The Reeve and Council were startled, but Jim explained.

"Lactic acid from spilled milk is playing heck with my barn floor. I've brought Bessie along to bear me out."

"Moo-oo-oo!" said Bessie, meaning "You're darn right."

"Battery acid is doing the same to my floor," said Bob Harris, the garage owner.

It turned out that Tom Black, the photographer, Bill Short of the cooperative packing plant, Harry Smith, the laundry proprietor, Elmer Park of the sheet metal works, were all having acid trouble, too.

"Guess we were smart to put in Vitrified Clay Pipe for our town sewerage system," said the Reeve. "No trouble with acids or corrosive waste there! Vitrified Clay Pipe gives permanent protection, because it's bonded by fire, inside and out. Good investment that was, eh, Jim?" "Moo-oo-oo!" said Bessie, meaning "You bet your life!" 9-2

Picnic Days Ahead

THE ARRIVAL of warm weather is always the signal for the start of the Sunday picnic, practically an institution with town families who have a car and are within driving distance of friends or relatives in the country.

It provides a happy link between urban and rural living, even for those picnickers who set out for no particular destination and spread their cloth and their food on a wayside table or in a shady nook.

For families with small children, it is a mixed blessing.

Dad, of course, likes to get out and romp with the youngsters in the open air. He can show off his knowledge of wildlife, teach his sons and daughters the names of trees and flowers, and show the boys how to build a campfire or make whistles from green alder branches.

Mother, however, usually finds that most of the work of organizing and staging the picnic falls upon her. She must make sandwiches and prepare salads, see that there are enough dishes and forks and spoons, and figure out how to keep the coffee hot and the milk cold. While the picnic takes the place of one or two meals at home, there still are some dishes to be washed after the outing.

Most farm families welcome the chance to get together with their city kinfolk and friends. But some of them shake their heads ruefully over the trash left behind on the picnic grounds by the visitors — paper scraps, cardboard boxes, tin cans, broken bottles and so on.

More deplorable is the litter some thoughtless folk leave on the side of the highway or even toss from their cars as they speed along through the countryside. A paper napkin fluttering against a windshield in heavy traffic could cause an accident. Broken glass on the shoulder of the roadway can lead to a blowout and possibly a smash-up. Scattered refuse of any kind spoils the beauty of scenic drives.

Picnic days are here again. The responsibility of keeping them enjoyable for everyone rests on all picnickers, young and old, who set forth joyfully on their expeditions into the great outdoors.

ONE OF the great mysteries, writes Napier Moore, is how a garden, carefully tidied up in the late fall and covered with a blanket of snow for months, when spring comes can disgorge such an outstanding amount of litter!

Hands Across the Border

"CANADA-United States relations are an example to the world". More than just a catchphrase used by exuberant platform orators, this statement has very real meaning — first, because it is true, and second, because this relationship is one of the cornerstones of our free society — says the current bulletin of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. The United States and Canada, with their abundance of raw materials, their genius for mass-production and, above all, their deep and abiding faith in the cause of liberty, are today the arsenal and the very backbone of the free world in the struggle against Communism.

The Communists have been quick to see that a close and friendly relationship between Canada and the United States constitutes one of the most formidable obstacles to their plans for world domination. That is why the Communists, apparently in a state of frenzy, are letting loose with such charges as appear in the headlines of the "Canadian Tribune", newspaper of the Communist party in Canada.

We in the United States and Canada are inclined to take our relations with each other too much for granted. Occasionally we even slip into outright apathy concerning our problems, and when this happens our enemies waste no time in putting their propaganda machine into play in an attempt to magnify any dissension and drive the wedge deeper.

The need for promoting ever-greater understanding between citizens of the United States and Canada is, therefore, very apparent. Specifically, we need action, not just words. In this vein, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce launched last month an 11-point action program through its 700 member-groups. It has also enlisted the aid of its 2,300-odd corporate members. . . And it is interesting to note that a subsequent issue of The Canadian Tribune devoted four columns to blasting this program of the Canadian Chamber!

Slant on Pin-Ups

PRETTY girls in scanties, bikinis, pyjamas and other stages of undress are a menace to motorists, says Councillor A. O. Elmhirst at Worsborough, in the County of Yorkshire, England. They may just be pin-up girls on posters, but they distract motorists, he claims.

"No one can resist glancing at a pin-up girl", he said, "and a second and longer look can cause a bad accident."

The councillor wants County Planners to remove such posters and billboards along busy highways in his district. "I'm a motorist myself. And I never pass a pin-up girl without looking at her."

The Goose That Laid --

FINANCE Minister Abbott has announced the removal of consumer credit restrictions, thus leaving it up to business men to offer whatever they like in the way of down-payment and time-to-pay terms for a wide list of goods, ranging from automobiles to furniture and wrist watches.

Seller and consumer hailed this news as a happy omen; but meanwhile, Mr. Wage-Earner finds his payroll deductions, his taxes at-source and in-the-ultimate so burdensome, that he will not be readily tempted to mortgage his future on instalment buying.

Test of Party Strength

ALL POLITICAL parties at Ottawa will welcome a test of strength in a miniature general election May 26. That is the date for six federal by-elections to fill two vacancies in each of three provinces — New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario.

The ridings are Gloucester and Victoria-Carleton in New Brunswick; Missisquoi and Roberval in Quebec, and Waterloo North and Ontario riding in Ontario.

The standing in the house at present is: Liberals 181; Progressive Conservatives 45; C.C.F. 13; Social Credit 10; Independent four; Independent - Liberals two; vacant seven; total 262.

THE popularity of cost-of-living escalator clauses in union contracts is taking a nose-dive, reports The Financial Post. The wage C.O.L. tie-up was fine while the index was going up. Now it is coming down and unions want to get off. . . If the downward pressure lasts, escalators will be dropped from most of the major contracts coming up for re-negotiation this spring and summer.

Adult Canadians borrow fewer of the country's 6,500,000 public labrary books than they did ten years ago, while boys and girls borrow more; juveniles account for two-thirds of public library book circulation.

When my shy and retiring nephew, who is anything but a forceful speaker, came home from college with a grade of A in Public Speaking, the family asked how on earth he did it.

"Well, we were marked chiefly on our ability to hold the attention of the class, and I decided to find a subject that would do just that. I read up on Indians and spoke on 'The Correct Procedure to Skin and Shrink a Human Head'."

Have You A Question ON UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any point do not hesitate to send your question to your district Unemployment Insurance office. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Following are some questions with answers which may be of interest to you: —

Q. Has a person the right to chop wood for his own use while receiving unemployed insurance benefits?

A. There is nothing to prevent a claimant being paid benefit while he is chopping wood for his own use provided that if suitable employment is offered to him he is prepared to abandon his wood chopping and take the job offered.

• • •

Q. I am living in Richmond County, 40 miles from Drummondville and I own a property. Could I draw some insurance benefit from my closest local office?

A. If you are living on a farm property there may be some question as to whether or not you are unemployed. You must, however, deal with the local office that serves your area.

Q. After having worked for six years in a factory I was laid off due to a lack of work. I began to draw some benefit. Later on I got married. They have stopped paying me benefit for a two-year period telling me that I did not work for 90 days after my wedding, which I could not do because they were always refusing me work. One of my friends was in the same position as I was and nevertheless she received all her benefits without any interruption. I would like to know why.

A. There must have been some substantial differences between the circumstances surrounding your claim and those of your friend. All claims in like circumstances are treated the same. If you care to give the name of your friend we shall be prepared to show you wherein those differences lie.

MAJOR PROBLEM

Eventually the politicians will give us the five-day week, and then appoint a Royal Commission to find out why the cost of living is going up.

Woodland in the Spring

With the bees among the flowers
And the fleas among the bowers,
There is nothing like a woodland in the Spring —
When there's people of all classes
Peering through high-powered glasses
To observe the different birds upon the wing.
Every morn when day is breaking
And all Nature is awaking —
That's the time to start observing Woodland Ways —
When the forest paths inviting
Lead one on to scenes exciting
In the realm of warblers, flickers, wrens and jays!

Just to see those birds a-nesting,
Ever working, never resting,
To observe them is a never-ending joy.
It's a pastime most entrancing
To be cautiously advancing —
If you're middle-aged, once more you'll be a boy!
I'd rather be Tom Sawyer
Than a banker or a lawyer
When the brook-trout start a-bitin' in the creek.
With old clothes and bamboo pole
Near some silent fishin' hole —
Or better still, to camp there for a week!

Take those bloated millionaires
Who are loaded down with cares —
They simply wouldn't know what real life means.
I'd rather be just me
With a fishin' pole and free,
With a sandwich and a tin of pork an' beans.
I could live with them for hours,
Just the squirrels, birds and flowers—
Of life I wouldn't ask another thing,
Than to just be near akin
To young Huckleberry Finn
There's nothing like a woodland in the Spring!

Be seein' ya!

Church Dedicated to Repentant Thief

Kingston, Ont. (CP) — A church that took its name because it fitted the church's location — almost across the street from the Portsmouth penitentiary — celebrates its 60th anniversary this year.

It is the Church of the Good Thief, said to be the first Roman Catholic Church in the world to be dedicated to the thief who died on Calvary beside Christ.

The late Archbishop J. V. Cleary laid the cornerstone in 1892. At that time, he said:

"I hope that the sight of the cross surmounting it may remind the poor convicts of God's infinite mercy and prompt them to . . . repentance . . . after the manner of the good thief."

Stone to build the church came from the penitentiary quarry. All materials used in building the church were prepared, fashioned and hauled to the site by convict labor.

Designer and builder of the church was Michael Sullivan, who also designed the Royal Mint at Ottawa.

Member of Old Argent'l Family Dies in West

The Late Wm. Jas. Bates

Relatives here have received news of the death of Willie James Bates, which occurred last week at his home in Gifford, B.C. A native of the Avoca district, Mr. Bates was around 77 years of age and had been in the West since early manhood — having gone to the Klondyke with his brother and, after returning East, later settled in British Columbia.

He is mourned by his wife, formerly Martha Spalding, of Gatineau, also a son and two daughters in British Columbia.

Surviving members of his family are five brothers, Leslie and David John Bates, Lachute, Jos. Henry Bates, Welland, Ont., Dan A. Bates, Montreal, and Herbert Bates, St. Catharines; also two sisters, Mrs. H. Sutton, Lachute, and Miss Jenny Bates, Montreal.

Late David H. Black Was Resident of Lachute And Lachine, Que.

After a short and unexpected illness, Mr. David Handyside Black passed away at the Lachine General Hospital on Friday last, May 9.

A former resident of this district, having been born at St. Canut in 1884, he was married to Miss Rose Dumas, of this town. On leaving Lachute Mr. Black was employed by the Dominion Bridge Company at Lachine, where he served for 37 years. In 1949 he retired and returned to take up residence in Lachute.

Surviving, together with his wife, are four sons, William and James, of Lachute, Edgar, of Vermillion Bay, and David, in Montreal; also six daughters, Mrs. G. Whitehead (Helena), of Montreal, Mrs. L. Foden (Jean), of Prince Albert, Mrs. W. Hallam (Janet), of Pointe Claire, Mrs. G. Tabrett (Winnifred), of Lachute, Mrs. R. Griffis (Florence) and Miss Blanche, both of Montreal. Three sisters also remain — Mrs. Mary Gibson, of Winnipeg, Mrs. Geo. Norton and Mrs. Christine Cummerford, both of Rome, N.Y., also one brother, John Black, of Burlington, Vt.

The funeral service was held in Lachute United Church on Monday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. W. B. Rosgorough, of Lachute, and Rev. J. W. Patterson, of St. Andrews United Church, Lachine.

GOOD BEGINNING

Winnipeg (CP) — Manitoba crops are "two to four weeks ahead of normal" this spring, said H. E. Wood of the provincial agricultural department. Providing there is sufficient rain and no killing frost in May, prospects are "very good" for another heavy harvest, he said.

DUST BOWL REMINDER

Winnipeg (CP) — Clouds of dust whipped up by strong west winds reduced visibility on Manitoba roads early this month, reminding many drivers of the great dust storms which swept Manitoba and Saskatchewan in the 1930s.

Interesting Topic at Women's Institute

"What Is A Forester, and What Is His Work?" was the topic of an address given by Mr. Mansel Wilson, manager of Canadian International Paper Company's branch at Grenville, who was guest speaker at the recent W.I. meeting in Brownsburg.

An outline was given of the place forest industries occupy in the Canadian economy. The forests, being the source of raw material for these industries, have to be carefully managed, thus necessitating the need for men trained in Forestry.

Foresters require a good education; after receiving their senior matriculation they are required to take four years university training from which they receive a Bachelor of the Science of Forestry (B.Sc.F.) degree. Men with this training may go into the following types of work — Forest Management, Wood Technology, Wildlife, Parks, and Recreational work. Foresters because of their aptitude for the out-of-doors fit into the above positions quite naturally.

A brief description of the organization of the Grenville Woods Division wa given along with an outline of the C.I.P. Co.'s Harrington Forest Farm development. The Forest Farm will be a demonstration area on woodlot management and will also provide an opportunity for research in forest management and in the development and use of logging equipment suitable for use on woodlots.

After the talk an International Paper Company motion picture was shown entitled, "In Partnership with Nature".

May Split Glengarry Electoral Constituency

Speculation is rife again in Ottawa that the federal constituency of Glengarry, which sent the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King to the House of Commons in 1945, may soon be eliminated.

Basis for the crystal gazing is the official 1951 census report which shows a decline of 1,000 in the population of Glengarry since 1941. With 17,702 persons, Glengarry is the smallest constituency in Eastern Ontario and among the smallest in all Canada.

It is expected Glengarry may be split between the neighboring constituencies of Prescott and Stormont, or a complete revision of the Eastern constituency boundaries may be undertaken, giving Ottawa a new one.

WORLD BANK LOANS AT WORK

A COLOMBIAN expert conducts a class in mechanics for farmers who are using agricultural machinery financed by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. The World Bank is a Specialized Agency affiliated with U.N.

AS A RESULT of the International Bank's Loans to Chile, that country has acquired modern agricultural machinery to increase its food production. The tractor in the picture hauls logs to a sawmill located at Concepción near the Chilean coast.

NEAR LIEGE, Belgium, stands a brand new power station which will increase the electricity output of both Belgium and Luxembourg. The power plant was partially financed through a loan of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Cleric Says Eskimo Happy, Industrious

Natives of Eastern Arctic Now Fully Christianized

Calgary (CP) — Eskimos are one of the happiest peoples in the world, says Rev. G. A. Ruskell, an Anglican Church missionary who has just completed five years' work in the eastern Arctic.

Mr. Ruskell, who was in Calgary briefly, before returning to England, said that Eskimos can build an igloo of snow blocks in 50 minutes. Only a certain quality of snow is used for the blocks, cut by knife to fashion the igloo.

A popular misconception about Eskimos is that they sleep with their clothes on, added Mr. Ruskell, a native of Ireland who was educated at Oxford University.

Eskimos took off their clothing before going to bed and sleep in eiderdown bags, the Anglican missionary reported.

"Eskimos don't marry for love", said Mr. Ruskell, "but for self preservation. A wife . . . must above all be able to sew well." It is her duty to look after the igloo. The man's duty is to hunt, providing the family with food and with skins to sell to traders.

Mr. Ruskell, in talks to service clubs, had some other observations:

"Eskimos are honest to an extreme degree, with no thought of stealing or telling untruths."

Every Eskimo in the eastern Arctic now is a Christian although it was only 60 or 70 years ago that the first missionary visited the area.

"Their language is one of the world's oldest, very pure and beautiful. Until a white man learns the language, he is not in a position to judge the worth of an Eskimo."

They eat their meat raw because it takes too long to cook it.

Car driver — "No, I can't say I've ever had to complain of backseat driving. In fifteen years I've never had a word from behind".

"What kind of car do you drive?"

"A hearse".

B of M Rates High in Advertising Redership

Two public surveys on transportation and publication advertising give the Bank of Montreal the highest readership rating of any of the national advertisers tested in the studies.

These honors follow closely upon the B of M's citation by the American Bankers Association for its entry in "Banking's 1952 Forum in Print". Of the 27 banks on the continent receiving awards, the B of M was the only Canadian institution so honored.

The transportation survey, the fourth annual study of this nature undertaken by the Canadian Advertising Research Foundation, is a scientific analysis of the value of streetcar and bus advertising, and determines the relative readership ratings of individual advertisements.

B of M advertising cards have appeared in all C.A.R.F. transportation studies to date, and have consistently attained high ratings. The last survey indicates that 53 per cent of the bus and streetcar-riding public saw the bank's message, which consisted solely of a picture of a blond-haired young boy grinning over the good news in his B of M passbook. The only words used in the message were the bank's name and slogan.

Newspaper Advertising Readership Far Above Average

The publication advertising survey, by Gruneau Research Limited in the Toronto Telegram, showed that the B of M's advertising rated 17% in public noting, while the average for other financial institutions in the survey was 7%.

The award given to the B of M by the American Bankers Association was for its advertising of "Personal Planning", a new system of family financing, and for its promotion of "Canada Today". The latter is a compact, illustrated brochure designed to publicize the commercial and industrial opportunities of Canada among businessmen abroad. "Canada Today" recently won another award in the "25 Canadian Direct-Mail Leaders Contest", one of three top advertising honors earned by the B of M in 1951.

ADVENTURE SPOILED

Timmins, Ont. (CP) — Tony Baraban, 9, and Mike Kovach, 11, were quite content on their raft on Gillies Lake when anxious onlookers summoned firemen. The firemen who rowed out and took the young adventurers aboard said the boys seemed "annoyed" at their rescue.

Water Storage Helps Summer Timber Work

Halifax (CP) — Forests Minister A. W. MacKenzie says his department has done considerable work on the insect problem, a menace to the Nova Scotia lumbering industry.

Once strictly a wintertime effort, lumbering is becoming more and more a year-round operation. But summer logging has brought many problems, the biggest being the insects.

Operators find it impossible to haul all logs from the woods as they are cut.

Softwood logs left until summer or the next winter attract two types of boring insects — the sawyer beetle and the shot-hole borer. They lodge in the bark or wood of the logs, and as they bore tunnels the value of the logs goes down.

The department says logs cut or left in the woods during the summer should be sawn, peeled, or stored in water deep enough to wash over them.

Chemical methods are generally more difficult, more expensive and less effective than sawing, barking or water storage of the logs.

Lady (at party): "Where's that pretty maid who was passing out cocktails a while ago?"

Lady: "No, I'm looking for my husband."

She's at the awkward age — too old for teddy bears, too young for wolves.

Groucho Marx, when told he could smoke if he didn't annoy the lady airplane passengers, remarked, "You mean there's a choice! Then I'll annoy the ladies."

Daffynition: Jukebox, a device for inflicting your musical taste on people who wouldn't give a plugged nickel for it.

An admiral, when asked why they called a ship a "she", replied, "Plunging decklines amidst the swells."

Bread, the Staff of Life

Bread, the staff of life, is almost as old as life itself. There is evidence that as early as ten thousand years ago, during the Stone Age, bread was used. These early loaves were made with coarse flour which made them hard and unpalatable. Through the centuries, flour has been improved to produce the light, delicious bread we now use.

As with most early foods, there have been many superstitions about bread. Even today, in Morocco, stale bread is considered an excellent cure for stuttering. Egyptians believe that licking a stale crust will cure indigestion. The home economists of the Consumer Section at Ottawa say that it is certainly no superstition that bread is one of the most important foods in the world today. Most homes in our country use bread in some form at nearly every meal. Probably bread has the unenviable distinction of being one of the foods most wasted; crusts are cut off sandwiches and discarded, slices dry out, or the ends of the loaf become stale and the bread is thrown away. There are so many ways to use leftover bread that this waste is entirely unnecessary.

Bread that is slightly dry will still make excellent toast; in fact, it is better than bread that is too fresh. Toast cut into pointed shapes makes attractive garnishes for creamed dishes made of egg, meat or other good foods. Toast tulips may be used in place of patty shells for creamed chicken or meats. They are made by cutting bread into slices one-quarter inch thick. Remove the crusts and brush both sides lightly with butter. Press a bread slice into muffin tins and brown in a moderate oven of 350°F.

Toasted sandwiches make a filling addition to a lunch of soup or salad. A surprising and different sandwich is made with apple sauce, slices of mild onion and strips of bacon spread on toast. Broiled and served hot, it's downright good!

Soups may be garnished with croutons, which are simply toasted bread cubes heated in melted butter. Cheese croutons add an exciting flavor to French Onion Soup and Cream of Tomato Soup, while those seasoned with garlic or herbs give that extra something to creamed vegetable soups.

Dried bread may be rolled with a rolling pin, grated or put through the food chopper to form fine crumbs. These should then be kept in a well-ventilated crumb jar. These crumbs can be used for meat, poultry or other foods that are rolled in egg and crumbs for frying. Fine crumbs added to cookie or muffin mixtures give them a delicious, nutty flovar.

There is a funny song that goes "The Waiter shouted through the hall, 'You get no bread with one meat ball'." With present day prices, that would strike a pathetic note, for bread is a clever way of stretching meats. Meat loaf, hamburgers, hash and croquettes extended with fine dry or soft crumbs all make economical dishes. To make soft bread crumbs, just tear slices of bread in small pieces with the fingers or with a fork. Bread stuffing for poultry and for meats such as beef rolls, veal birds, pork chops, pork shoulder roasts or frankfurters are old ideas but still as good as ever. Using a generous amount of stuffing will not only save precious pennies, but add attractiveness and flavor as well.

In the dessert line, a well-made bread pudding is snubbed by no one as a leftover dish. It takes slow, careful cooking and if cooked properly, is a tasty, economical treat. Raisin bread or other types may be used and any one of a long list of flavors and fruits may be added to give a "dessert with a difference".

Armed with these suggestions, there should be no difficulty in using up the odds and ends of that bread loaf.

Ever tried adding a little molasses to whipped cream? It's wonderful on gingerbread or pumpkin pie. The new flavor and color are interesting and appealing.

EIGHT-YEAR-OLD IS CRACK SHOT

Montrose, Scotland (CP) — Eight-year-old Jeane Purvis is the youngest crack marksman in Britain. Tiny member of Purvis Industries Rifle Club, she uses a standard model rifle.

Jeane has been shooting for little more than a year, but has already appeared at the principal meetings in Britain.

GOING PLACES — A smiling Joan Penny typifies passenger reaction to the new short form inter-line ticket being introduced today by the Canadian National Railways. The new booklet ticket replaces the former unwieldy strip of coupons, like the seven-foot one draped around her neck, which has been in use over the past years for travel on two or more rail lines. The new ticket is compact; is easily read and refunds on unused portions are speeded because the ticket contains all pertinent information as to routing and fare paid.

Let's Eat

BY

IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"The sap's a-runnin'!"

In many parts of Canada, the sap of the sugar maple is drip-dripping into pails, ready to be carried to the sheds and evaporated into maple syrup. The flavor of this incomparable "sweet" is universally popular. I understand that soon all maple syrup will be made by another method. The maple sap is heated for two hours under atmospheric pressure causing the water to evaporate. The result is a dark syrup concentrate, from 4 to 6 times stronger than the original. It is then blended with sugar cane-syrup and water to make a syrup of fine maple flavor.

Tomorrow's Dinner

Spanish Tomato Bisque
Chopped Minute Steaks with Fried Onions
Mashed Potato
French String Beans
Maple Trifle
Coffee Tea Milk
(All measurements are level)

Recipes Serve Four

Spanish Tomato Bisque

Scald 1 qt. milk; add 2 tbsp. chopped onion and 1 minced green pepper sauteed until soft in 2 tbsp. butter or margarine. Simmer 2 c. canned tomato 10 min. with 2 tsp. sugar, 1 tsp salt and ⅛ tsp. pepper. Stir in 3 tbsp enriched flour blended with 2 tbsp. water and stir until boiling. Simmer 3 min. Combine with the milk; serve without further cooking.

Maple Trifle

Place 4 unfrosted plain or sponge cup cakes in a small casserole. Prick each 6 times with a fork. Then combine ½ c. maple-blended syrup with ¼ c. cold coffee, or use ¼ c. water in which ½ tsp. soluble coffee has been dissolved. Pour over the cup cakes. Cover and let stand an hour or longer in a cold place. Place in deep sauce dishes; pour maple custard sauce around the base of each. Top with whipped cream, or a whipped topping, and a sprinkling of chopped nutmeats or shredded coconut if desired.

"Ham-O-La-Las" From the Chef

Mesdames! It is my considered opinion that men are most enthusiastic over maple syrup with ham, sausage or bacon. Therefore I highly approve of the ham-o-las, which I tasted for the first time recently.

Ham-o-las: For each person make 2 thin plain pancakes. Put together with slices of chopped ham omelet. Pour over some melted butter and pass plenty of syrup. Oh, la la!

Mayor of Duncan Critical Cupid

Duncan, B.C. (CP) — Mayor J. C. Wragg has a new job besides running the city's business. He has just opened a "marriage service".

Two years ago two girls chose this Vancouver Island city to find mates because they fell in love with the name of Glenora, a nearby section of the community.

The Mayor found correspondents for the girls and since then his "bureau" has boomed.

He carefully screens all those who wish to write to his "clients", because, he says, "I don't want any of these girls to be disappointed. They (the men) have to pass me before they can write to the girls."

This year's special attraction is a 19-year-old girl from Middlesex, England, who describes herself as five feet three inches tall with brown wavy hair, blue eyes and a fresh complexion. She says she likes classical music, reading, sports, dancing, films, current affairs and walking.

Mayor Wragg forwards all letters to the girl, whose name he declined to give, upon satisfactory passing of his critical "censorship".

Waste Not, Want Not

Every thrifty homemaker practises the old saying "Waste Not — Want Not" for she can't afford to waste anything. Generally, when food is wasted, it is not actually thrown away in heaps, it is dribbled away in dibs and dabs. Vegetable water goes down the sink, milk sours, bread goes stale and so on. The most logical person to concentrate on not wasting food is Mother, but it should be a matter for each member of the family to think about. Everyone can do his or her part to assist.

There are many distractions to keep you from paying attention to your cooking. The phone rings or the baby cries and when you get back there is that peculiar odour — scorched food. When leaving a room, turn the stove down to low or turn it off completely, or with certain foods, use a double boiler. It takes longer but it is safer in the long run. If the deed has been done and the food is scorched, put the part that doesn't stick into a clean pan immediately. Do not stir the scorched part or the burnt taste will spread. Once the food is in a clean pan, the next step depends on the type of food. If it is a vegetable, add more water and continue cooking. Incidentally, the home economists of the Consumer Section, Agriculture Dept., suggest that if the burnt taste still persists when the food is to be served, add a little cheese or onion juice to vegetables, a little catsup or Worcestershire sauce to eggs or a little chocolate or lemon flavor to milk products. These added flavors help to hide the burnt taste.

Improper cooking methods cause waste so often in the kitchen and all too often no one realizes it. For instance, in meat cookery, it has been proven that meat cooked in a very hot oven may shrink in weight as much as half. If it is properly cooked in a slow oven, it should shrink only about one-eighth of its weight. The motto is "Cook Meat Slowly". Vegetables when overcooked, as well as being unpalatable, have lost some of their nutritive value. Cook them as short a time as possible in as little water as possible.

Always use tested recipes and standard measuring cups and spoons when cooking. If improper utensils are used, the results are wasteful and costly.

Plan shopping so that there is no waste. Do you buy too many vegetables or do you have cheese go dry because it couldn't be used? When shopping, always have a grocery list. It may be a mental or a written one but base it on your meal plans. Learn how all the grade marks and the information on the label can help you to become an efficient shopper, not one who just picks up something here and there whether it is needed or not. When groceries are brought home, be sure to store each type of food in the place it will keep best. Some foods such as lettuce, butter, eggs and so on need refrigeration. Clean the lettuce and wrap it or place it in a vegetable crisper. Do not put it in the refrigerator — paper, string and all. Other foods such as cereals, nuts, raisins should be kept in closed containers, not just left in boxes which will probably break. Not only does proper storage keep food shelves in neater condition; it also emphasizes the home economists' point for the day: "Avoid Waste".

APPLAUSE FOR STUDENTS

It may be contrary to democracy's concept of "free speech" but we cannot help but applaud the group of 200 University of Toronto students who "interrupted" the May 1 Queen's Park gathering of Communists in Toronto. We have for too long sat back complacently and let them get away with their scurrilous propaganda.

Our Wild Flowers

— By NANCY CLEAVER — (Copyright)

When the warm Spring sunshine floods the world with golden splendour and the soft breezes blow and the birds are calling to each other from the trees, do you not long to walk in the woods to see the wild flowers? There is no more satisfying family excursion or finer adventure for a parent and a child than hiking in the outdoors together.

We in Canada are rich in the wealth and variety of our wild flowers — round-leaved hepatica, white bunch berry, yellow spotted adder's-tongue or dog tooth violet, lacey Dutchman's breeches, yellow, white, mauve, blue and purple violets, fragile bloodroot, tiny pink twin flower and striped Spring Beauty — this is just a beginning of the list of wild flowers we can claim.

Unfortunately because greedy, thoughtless fingers have picked some of our wild flowers and left none growing for seed, some of our lovely species are becoming rare. Indeed, a few like the fragrant trailing arbutus and the exquisite pink and white showy Lady's Slipper and its cousin the yellow moccasin flower are almost extinct in many areas.

The poet, Ethel Romig Fullor, wrote of the Great Creator's work in "Prodigality" in these lines:

"The Artificer wastes beauty so;
He is prodigal of snow,
He paints a hill with violets
Which no one sees, and He forgets."

These are fine lines — but the catch is that although in Canada for centuries to come we will likely have snow in the winter no matter how we use it, there is no doubt that we cannot count on having violets in the Springtime, unless we can be content to admire them where they grow — and leave them without plucking them!

There are some flowers which are particularly vulnerable to the attack of the ardent "picker". The trillium is one of these — because the leaf is plucked with the flower, leaving only a stump of a stem and the probability that the tiny root will not survive such treatment.

The late Andy Clarke beloved for his "Neighbourly News" once mentioned with appreciation the treatment of wild flowers on Mrs. D. A. Dunlap's farm supervised by Dr. Ralph Jenkins. He pointed out that a law was laid down by the owner of Donalda that no one should pluck or uproot a wild flower on the premises. The result was a glade where there was "the grandest showing of trilliums one could possibly imagine. It is a sight worth going miles to see. Other wild flowers follow in profusion as the season advances."

Here is a good rule for any owner of a farm or woodland lot to make public and see that it is observed.

No Wild Flowers
To Be Picked Here!

A post script "Beware the Dog" might be added — but after all, reasonable people should be willing to abide by reasonable suggestions — especially when they are visiting — and on a stranger's property too.

But the greatest protection of our wild flowers lies not in rules but in parents and teachers working together to educate our boys and girls in the conservation of all wild life and in the appreciation of beauty as it grows in its natural state. "Do not destroy life — including plant life; unless it is harmful!" should be as well known to our children as their arithmetic tables. Wild flowers are a heritage of the past — we owe it to boys and girls of future generations to guard them from being wiped out.

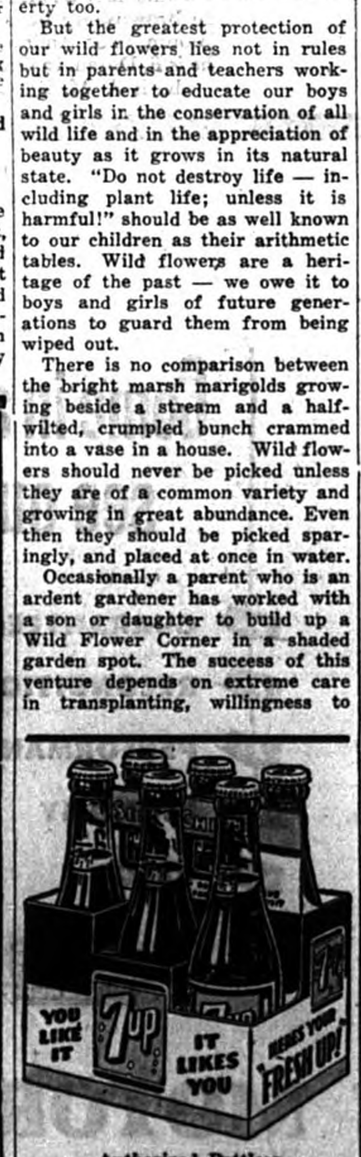

There is no comparison between the bright marsh marigolds growing beside a stream and a half-wilted, crumpled bunch crammed into a vase in a house. Wild flowers should never be picked unless they are of a common variety and growing in great abundance. Even then they should be picked sparingly, and placed at once in water.

Occasionally a parent who is an ardent gardener has worked with a son or daughter to build up a Wild Flower Corner in a shaded garden spot. The success of this venture depends on extreme care in transplanting, willingness to carry earth from the woods too, and sufficient shade and moisture for the plants. One specimen of each kind, or a small clump, are sufficient for garden of this sort. A good substitution for picking a bouquet of hepatica, if it is blooming profusely in your district, is to take a low bowl and a trowel and cut out a clump, root and all. This makes a charming centre-piece for a table and when the petals have fallen the clump can then be transplanted outdoors.

In a materialistic and pagan world the beauty of the out of doors speaks to mankind of spiritual things and the hand of the Great Creator. Fortunate the child whose parents share with him their appreciation of wild flowers and all wild life! Fortunate the boy or girl who is encouraged to cultivate "the seeing eye"! Elizabeth Barret Browning's famous lines are so true they are worth memorizing:

Earth's crammed with Heaven,
And every common bush afire with God;
But only he who sees take off his shoes —
The rest sit around it and pluck blackberries.

No man is poor who has had a godly mother.

'Facts, Fingers and Fun' Q.W.I. Leadership Course Planned for May 26 - 30

Applications are coming in at a satisfactory rate for the annual leadership training course, "Facts, Fingers, Fun", sponsored by the Quebec Women's Institutes at Macdonald College, May 26-30. With the deadline date at hand indications would point to a full registration of 40, the maximum number for the course.

Much interest has been shown in the class added this year for the first time, "New Life for Your Programs". This will be instructed by Miss Roberta Ridley, of the Information Centre, Adult Education Service at the College. Members were required to state on the application form in which class they wished to enroll at both morning and afternoon sessions and this was the first to be filled to capacity. Crafts are taught at the latter sessions.

The provincial president, Mrs. G. E. LeBaron, North Hatley, will be attending the course this year, and will assist in the evening sessions, which will be carried on for the three nights of the course under the general heading, "Running the Organization". Prof. H. R. C. Avison, Director, Adult Education Service, will also be present to lead the discussion on "Conduct of the Meeting", at one of these periods.

A party on the closing night winds up the week's activities.

disclaiming also any practical knowledge of the subject he was about to discuss — the formation of a Home and School Association. The speaker said he had read all the literature he could obtain on the subject and would retail the information obtained for the benefit of his listeners.

The purpose of the Association is to bring into closer relation the Home, the School and the Community. To assist in forming public opinion favorable to reform and advancement of the education of the child. To develop between educators and the general public such united effort as shall secure for every child the highest advantage in physical, mental, moral and spiritual education. The organization is to be strictly non-partisan, non-racial, non-commercial and non-sectarian. There are hundreds of such organizations throughout Canada, and over one hundred affiliated with the central organization in Quebec Province.

At the conclusion of Mr. Freeland's talk, a lively discussion revealed the sentiment of the meeting in favor of forming such an organization, and a nominating committee was appointed to proceed with the work of getting the association on a sound basis.

The following compose the nominating committee: Miss Primmerman, Mr. George Connelly, Mr. Roy Cruise, Mr. M. V. Trayers and Mrs. Cocksedge.

A meeting will be called in the near future to present the slate of nominees, and to launch a drive for membership among the general public.

DISCOVERS GRAVE OF SOLDIER SON BY VIVID DREAM

Yorkshireman Killed on Beaches Of Dunkerque Had Been Buried In Unknown Soldier's Grave

By Norman Cribbens

Ellerbeck, England (Reuters) — Wreaths of poppies rest on the overseas grave of Lance Corporal Teddy Watson, killed in action on the beaches of Dunkerque in 1940.

The red cloth poppies, made by disabled British war veterans, are sent regularly to Dunkerque military cemetery by the British Legion, on behalf of 70-year-old Mrs. George Watson of this Yorkshire village who discovered her son's grave in a dream.

"There is no doubt that Mrs. Watson's dream led to the identification of the grave", a British Legion official said. "It was identified by three articles found inside — a rosary, a cigarette holder and a photograph belonging to Corporal Watson".

For years after he was killed Mrs. Watson fretted over the fact that her son — 29 when he died — lay in an unknown soldier's grave somewhere in France. His remains had never been found.

One night she dreamed she went to a military cemetery in France — she thought it was Dunkerque — and walked through a rough wicker gate to Teddy's grave. The grave, in her dream, was just the other side of the gate.

The dream was so vivid that Mrs. Watson decided to leave her pretty rustic cottage here and go to Dunkerque. She and her 70-year-old husband pooled their savings and bought a round-trip air ticket to France.

Almost Accurate

The dream proved correct in every detail but one. The military cemetery was the same. So was the wicker gate. But the grave they sought was not directly behind the gate. It lay several yards to the left of it.

Several graves were opened before the right one was found. Proof came with the disinterment of the rosary, cigarette holder and photograph.

Mrs. Watson knew the rosary because she had given it to Teddy the night before he sailed for France with the Green Howards regiment in 1940. And she knew the photograph; it was a portrait of herself.

"I think some guardian angel must have taken me to the grave in my sleep", Mrs. Watson said, "it is all very wonderful."

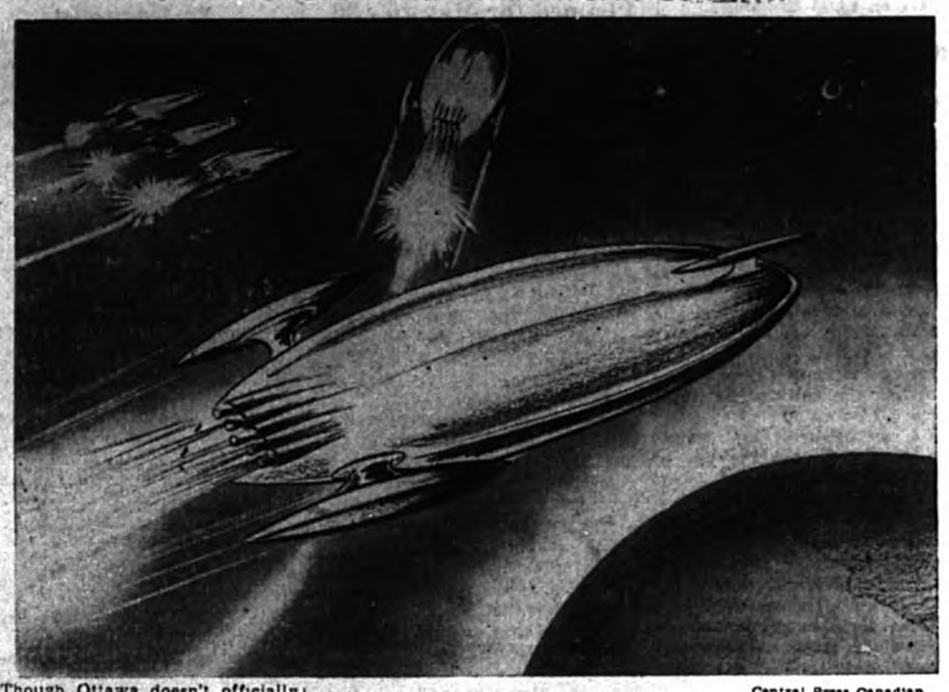

Mr. and Mrs. Watson do not plan to visit France again. They are happy to spend the rest of their days in their cottage, one of a small group of dwellings lying snugly in the hollow of the Hambledon Hills.

"We are to old to travel now", Mr. Watson said. "But we shall always treasure the memory of our trip and we have a nice picture of our son's resting place.

"Whenever we want to we can send a wreath via the British Legion."

Lance Corporal Watson's grave is now in the care of the war graves commission. The rough wooden cross marking the grave of an unknown soldier has been removed, and in its place is a headstone bearing the words, "Lance Corporal T. J. Watson, killed in action 1940".

CAN'T IGNORE THEM—THEY WON'T GO AWAY

Central Press Canadian

Though Ottawa doesn't officially admit the existence of such things as "flying saucers" or the presence of unidentified aircraft in Canada's skies, high-ranking scientists and officers admit they are as mystified as anyone else about the numerous reports of strange-looking objects in the sky. Mrs. Harry Bennett and Mrs. Wesley Baker reported "two silver streaks" high in the air over Haliburton, Ont. Mrs. Marie Woodland, Hamilton, said she and several other women saw a "blimp-like object" hovering over Hamilton. And from various parts of the U.S. come reports of unidentified bodies always high in the air and always looking like no conventional craft. So, while officially ignoring them, Ottawa is collecting data that may explain every case as mere natural phenomenon—or, as the artist here suggests, as visiting airships from outer space.

HONOR PIONEERS

Little has been done so far to commemorate the pioneers. Isn't it just time that western Canada should inaugurate 'Pioneers' Day'?

WATCH FOR CHILDREN

We want to make an appeal to all motorists to exercise extra care where children are playing, and near schools, and when school buses are taking on or discharging their charges. Despite warnings given by parents to exercise care, children are most apt to forget when they are engaged in playing.

WHY TORONTO?

Alberta cattle raisers could make a strong case against the practice of setting the floor price at the Toronto stockyards. After all, a lot of beef is slaughtered in western abattoirs and consumed by western people.

DOG POISONERS

A dog poisoner is on the rampage again. It is true that damage to garden plots is not uncommon where such are overrun by roving dogs, but even this would not afford any dog poisoner that unlawful means of destruction. A despicable act, and sometimes indulged in by those who should know better.

DAYLIGHT TIME

"Are you in favor of daylight saving?" That is the wording of the plebiscite to be submitted to the people of this province at the coming provincial election and we hope the "annual" question will be settled for many years. For our part, and we believe the majority of people hereabouts in this agricultural district, we are opposed.

If it's news when a man bites a dog, it should certainly be news when a pet rabbit jumps on a chair on which reposes a .22 calibre rifle, hits the trigger and discharges a bullet which grazes the hand of the rabbit's owner, asleep on a nearby bed.

Rev. LaVerne Poirier Ordained Recently Into Pentecostal Ministry

(Special)

Peterboro, Ont. — Five men were ordained to the full Christian ministry at the closing service of the Eastern Ontario and Quebec district conference of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada.

Those ordained were — LaVerne Samuel Poirier, pastor of the Pentecostal Church, Brownsburg, Que.; H. T. Hilsden, Port Hope, Ont.; Ernest W. Zilch, Toronto; William C. Stevenson, Havelock, Ont.; and John I. Rogers, Coboconck, Ont.

The Rev. Dr. J. Eustace Purdie, of Winnipeg, read the Scriptures and offered prayer; the Rev. W. B. Greenwood, of Belleville, Ont., the District Superintendent, delivered the ordination charge to the candidates, after which each individually gave his ordination vow; and the Rev. G. B. Griffin, pastor of Danforth Gospel Temple, Toronto, delivered the ordination sermon, "Shepherds of the Flock".

The Rev. L. S. Poirier, pastor at Brownsburg, is a native of Montreal who, despite his French-Canadian name, is in practice an English-speaking Canadian. His parents came to Montreal from the Gaspé Peninsula. Mr. Poirier received his theological education at the Eastern Pentecostal Bible College (then in Toronto, now in Peterboro) graduating from his three-year course in 1948.

He came to Brownsburg to take over the pastoral leadership of a small group of Pentecostal followers a little over two years ago. The work has had a steady growth under his leadership, services being held on Sunday in the Brownsburg Legion Hall, and the week-night prayer meetings in the homes of members. They hope to be able to erect their own church building this summer.

This Christian Canada

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that members and adherents of Canada's 10 largest religious denominations make up 96 per cent of the country's population. Four per cent takes care of the members of tiny religious groups, of those who profess no religion at all.

Put in another way, about 95 per cent of the people of Canada are members of Christian denominations or profess some degree of adherence to the Christian faith. Canada is predominantly a Christian country, and this is a factor in our social and political life that never can be ignored.

It is quite true that with a large number of these Canadians their adherence to Christianity is a fragile thread. Nevertheless there is that link — perhaps surviving from childhood associations — and they are the better for it.

Active church members, the men and women who concern themselves with congregational and denominational affairs, are the hard centre of Christianity. But when the people have to stand up and be counted for a census we see clearly that the assumed indifference to religion of large numbers of them is not truly representative of their feelings.

Pretty Ceremony at St. Andrews East

Gentleman - Fraser

The marriage of Frances Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Fraser, of St. Andrews East, Que., to Mr. Robert Richard Gentleman, son of the late Richard W. Gentleman and of Mrs. Gentleman, of Montreal, was solemnized at 2.30 o'clock on Saturday, May 10, in Christ Church, St. Andrews East.

The Rev. C. R. Lang performed the double-ring ceremony, and Miss Albena Mackett, of Montreal, was at the organ. Baskets of tulips, snapdragons and carnations decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. James Burton, as matron of honor, and Mrs. George Gates and Miss Marjorie MacCulloch as bridesmaids. Mr. George Gentleman, uncle of the groom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. George Fraser and Mr. Lawrence Moore.

The bride wore a white floor-length strapless gown of satin, with lace bodice extending into points, with a very full over-skirt of tulle sweeping into a slight train. Her tight-fitting, long-sleeved lace jacket, fastened with a row of tiny buttons, ended in frills over the hands. Her veil of tulle illusion, extending to the hem of her train, was held by a crownless hat of matching lace, and she carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli.

Her attendants were in identically-styled frocks of nylon net over taffeta, with lace bodices extending into the skirt and banded with taffeta, with matching lace boleros. They wore tiny headbands of matching net, and taffeta mittens. Mrs. Burton wore yellow, while Mrs. Gates was in lilac and Miss MacCulloch in green, and they carried arm bouquets of multi-colored gladioli.

Mrs. Fraser, the bride's mother, wore a street-length dress of navy blue crepe, with white and navy accessories and a shoulder spray of red roses. Mrs. Gentleman, the bridegroom's mother, wore a street-length dress of gray crepe, with mauve and black accessories and a shoulder spray of red roses.

Spring flowers decorated the Legion Hall in Lachute for the reception. Later, the couple left for Miami Beach, Florida, the bride travelling in a navy blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenia. Mr. and Mrs. Gentleman will reside in Montreal upon their return.

Missionary Prisoner Of Chinese Reds Relates Experiences

(Our District Correspondent)

St. Andrews East — The Spring Thank-Offering of the St. Andrews United W.M.S. was held on May 7 in the Presbyterian Church — the United Church being under repairs.

The meeting was addressed by Dr. Stewart Allen, recently a prisoner of the Chinese Reds. Dr. Allen was formerly the head of a United Church mission hospital in Chungking, China. His account of his experiences and the general religious situation was listened to with great interest by a large gathering from St. Andrews and surrounding communities.

The Rev. G. W. Case, minister of the United Church, who presided, thanked the Presbyterians for lending their church. The Rev. Dr. W. MacMillan, minister of the Presbyterian Church, led in prayer. Mr. H. W. Flower gave a fine rendering of "O Rest in the Lord".

Mrs. Hall, on behalf of the W.M.S., moved a vote of thanks to the speaker. At the close of Dr. Allen's address the meeting was thrown open for questions, which continued for about half an hour. . . . Many stayed to meet Dr. and Mrs. Allen in person.

Recent Wedding at St. Matthew's, Grenville

Gauley - Welden

Miss Eva Welden became the bride of Mr. Victor Leaman Gauley on Saturday afternoon, May 3, at 2.30 o'clock in St. Matthew's Anglican Church, Grenville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Welden and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Gauley.

The Rev. P. R. Stote solemnized the marriage, amid a setting of spring flowers. Mrs. R. Owens was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Welden.

Mr. Homer Gauley acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Glen Gauley and Mr. Ronald Matthew.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace over nylon, fashioned with a Chinese neckline, fitted bodice with tiny buttons down the front, and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held by a satin headdress. She carried a full cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses.

For travelling the bride wore a navy blue gabardine suit with white and navy accessories. She carried a grey kidskin jacket, and an orchid corsage completed the ensemble.

Out-of-town guests were from Montreal, Huntingdon, Verdun, Ottawa and Thurso.

Result of Recent Scout Fund Appeal

Returns in the local canvass in connection with the Boy Scouts' national appeal for funds, are made known by Bernard Jenkins, secretary. The total collection in Lachute Town amounts to $1,028 — which is $128 less than last year's total ($1,156).

The result is considered very gratifying, this slight drop being attributable to unavoidable setbacks in the campaign, and appreciation is expressed to all who gave their support, both as collectors and contributors.

Community Concerts Artists Selected For Next Season

since she was seven, under the tuition of Mlle Anne Mayrand — starting at the local convent, then proceeding to the Sisters of Ste. Croix music school on Cote des Neiges. She won Mlle Mayrand's bursaries in 1950 and 1951, and took her Music Laureate with distinction at the age of 13. While continuing her studies, she expects to teach music next year at an institution of the Sisters of Ste. Croix.)

Following the recital the directors of the Association met with Mr. Delormier, Columbia Artists representative from New York, to discuss next year's series of concerts. Subject to the confirmation of Head Office, four concerts are planned for next year. The first will be by Jorge Bolet, a popular pianist who has played with marked success with the Pittsburgh and New Orleans symphonies. The second will be a violin recital by that brilliant young American artist, Dorothea Powers, who has played as soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony, Minneapolis Symphony and the Philharmonic Orchestra. Miss Powers is the proud owner of the magnificent "Earl of Plymouth" Stradivarius violin. The third concert will feature that internationally-known mezzo-soprano, Martha Lipton, described in "Life" magazine as the Metropolitan "glamor girl". This well known artist has at least a dozen roles to her credit at the Metropolitan, numerous re-engagements on the Firestone Hour and various engagements with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchesrta. The fourth concert will be one which has been discussed for several years, the De Paur Infantry Chorus, 35 negro singers who have achieved tremendous success on two continents. . . . The concensus of opinion is that this series will prove the most successful to date.

Dynamic Film: "RETURN TO FAITH"

The story of a man who was running away from life because he had lost faith in God and in himself. Then in the face of momentous crisis, the trust of two understanding people restored his faith in God, his fellow man and himself. He was convinced there is no God, until a little boy came into his life.

"Let God Be True"

Today, in 121 lands and isles of the sea, the good news of God's kingdom is being preached. This good news tells that the one true God is Jehovah, that he is from everlasting to everlasting, the fountain of life, and that he is a God of wisdom, justice, love and power. (Ps. 36: 9; 62: 11; 83: 18; 89: 14; 90: 2; Prov. 2: 6, 7; 1 John 4: 8). It further tells that God's kingdom is now established, and that it soon will end all unrighteousness and usher in a new system of things; a world wherein man will learn war no more, a world wherein every man will sit under his own vine and fig tree with none to molest him or make him afraid; a world wihout sorrow, pain or crying; a world where, instead of people dying, the dead will be coming back to life. (Mic. 4: 3, 4; John 5: 28, 29; Rev. 11: 17, 18; 21: 4).

"Let God be found true, though every man be found a liar". (Romans) 3: 4). So wrote the apostle Paul, and Jehovah's witnesses today adhere strictly to that principle, even as evinced by the foregoing. For further proof see the Bible study aid "Let God Be True", which discusses such subjects as Jehovah, the Messiah, Satan the devil, man, the soul, prayer, the sabbath, baptism, salutes and politics, images, etc. Contains 320 pages, with scripture and subject indexes. Bound in beautiful green cover, gold leaf stamped. Available on a contribution of 50 cents. Write to — The Watchtower; 40 Irwin Ave., Toronto 5.

Scotch Pine Popular For Christmas Trees

St. Williams, Ont. (CP) — Evidence of the Christmas tree boom in Ontario is seen at the forest department station here which expects to ship out more than 7,000,000 trees this year, 85 per cent of them Scotch pine.

Conservation groups, individual farmers and county commissions plant the trees on waste land. When the trees are grown to Christmas tree size they are worth from $1 to $2 on the retail market. Normally only individuals sell the trees.

Besides the Scotch pine the station produces red pine, spruce, many other conifers and some hardwoods — all given away free of charge.

A request this year was received from Odette Churchill, internationally famous underground agents in France during the Second World War, who wanted two trees "for sentimental reasons". They have been shipped to her in London, England.

Five hundred thousand trees left the station this week to be planted by the department in the Sault Ste. Marie district.

Art and the Home

Books, Authors and Art

Many thanks for the letters about the book which I brought to your attention a few weeks ago. This encouraged me to bring another new book to your notice — one I think that you will like very much.

Have you ever wondered about the different authors in "Literary America?" I have many times wondered where they came from, and a little something about their personal life. What, maybe, their homes were like; the times in which they lived — and I have been generally curious about them. You might even say "nosey"! Also why no one has ever written an anthology of biographical inscriptions for the average library? Yet before I start musing too deeply, I ought to get back to the subject by telling you the name of the work and its co-authors.

The title is "Literary America", and it is written by David E. Scherman and Rosmarie Redlich, who is also known as Mrs. David E. Scherman. It was published by Dodd, Mead and Company, New York, during this current year. This, as the authors claim, is "A Chronicle of American Writers from 1607-1952, with 173 photographs of the American Scene that Inspired Them". The book itself has 175 pages, and with 173 gorgeous plates in black and white, it makes very easy and enjoyable reading. In the book they have truly covered the United States, to which they limited their study. There are pictures of California, where Jack London had his ranch, to the broad Mississippi, which Mark Twain loved and wrote about. Maybe not all will agree with the selection of photographs, taken by Mr. Scherman; that is only natural. But when you see the overall beauty of the book, you put it down and muse over the ones that appeal to your imagination. One that appealed to me was the depiction of Florida, where Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings sketched "The Yearling", the bubbling spring. Another example is "Land's End", where Edith Wharton had her one-time residence. Edith Wharton, you will remember, wrote "Ethan Frome". In this scene we see a gorgeous home at Newport, Rhode Island, looking out over the broad Atlantic.

As this book is about authors represented in American literature, Canada, although part of the great American Continent, is not represented, yet I do not think that it detracts from the beauty or readability of the work. We have all read or heard about "House of the Seven Gables" and to see it is really a revelation. Also, to see the scenes which inspired people, makes us sit up and take notice, as to why we also haven't been stirred more than just to say, "It's lovely, isn't it!"

Incidentally, I also think that every library should have this book because, through its perusal, the reader can understand some of the motives that motivated the authors — you can maybe understand their feelings, when you see the scene dramatically portrayed before you. One limitation is that the scenes are black and white, and in some cases hard to visualize where, in color, the visualization is done for you.

However, if you are a camera fan, you will admire the spectacular photography; if you are a "nook worm", you will revel in the motivating scenes; if you are a book collector, you will treasure this volume as one of the most unusual books that you own; or if you don't like books, this may stimulate you to reading some masterpieces of American literature.

Who will deny that there are much the same features abroad today that created "Studs Lonigan!"

Double-Ring Ceremony At Maple Avenue Church

Vanstone - Heatlie

A double-ring ceremony was solemnized at the Maple Avenue Baptist Church, Brownsburg, on May 10 at 2.30 p.m. by the Rev. N. H. Brock, when Erma Elizabeth, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Heatlie, became the bride of Mr. Howard James Vanstone, of Hawkesbury, Ont.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pink Charmaine suit with navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink and white roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Paul Eleftherondakis, who wore a gray gabardine suit with red and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom was attended by Mr. Jack Doyle, of Hawkesbury. Ushers were Mr. Paul Eleftherondakis and Mr. John W. Heatlie.

During the signing of the register Mrs. R. Blakley sang "Through the Years" and "I'll Walk Beside You".

A reception was held on the church lawn and luncheon was served in the church hall.

The couple left for Ottawa and thence to Niagara Falls. They will reside in Hawkesbury, Ont.

Among the out-of-town guests were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vanstone, of Dalhousie, N.B.

Lachute High School News

By Anne Dwyer

Contagious diseases are not keeping as many pupils from school as in the past few weeks. However, there are still cases of chicken pox and measles occurring, mostly in the High School. As a sidelight of these outbreaks, the pupils get their French lessons over the tape-recorder, which is a new experience for them.

Banquet

Friday afternoon was a busy time for Grades IX and X. The cafeteria had to be decorated and the tables set. Mrs. R. Fraser, Miss E. Stanton and Miss B. Vrooman supervised while the girls worked. The boys went out to the bush to pick trilliums to decorate the tables, returning with great bunches of these beautiful flowers.

The couples started to arrive a little after five-thirty. After grace was said by Mr. A. Bothwell, the grads, high school teachers, board members and their wives, and Grades X and XII, did full justice to the delicious turkey dinner served by the Grade IX girls.

Toastmaster of the banquet was to have been Bill Steeves, but since he was stricken with the measles just before the occasion, Heather Graham acted as toastmistress. . . Helen McMahon proposed the toast to the grads and Ruth Clark replied. Val Pattee toasted the school, and Mr. J. McGibbon responded.

In addressing the graduates, Mr. McGibbon talked about the knowledge that they had gathered during their school life. "For example", he said, "you have learned that there is more to geography than just knowing that there is a pawnshop around the corner in Pittsburg, Pennslyvania." . . . This brought the Graduation Banquet of 1952 to a close.

Graduation Dance

The Graduation Exercises opened after pictures had been taken of the graduation class. Bob Duncan, master of ceremonies, first introduced Mr. J. McGibbon, who congratulated the grads and wished them success for the coming years.

Ann McGibbon was the class historian, introducing each pupil. After they were presented to the audience, the grads were presented with their diplomas by Mr. B. Wyse.

Wilmer Andrews and Marilyn Gray in solemn voice read the "Last Will and Testament of the Graduation Class". This was the humorous note in the exercises. The pupils of Grades IX and X could be heard laughing as they listened to the bequests left to them.

Edna Noble and Keith Quinn were the Class Prophets. (If everything turns out to be all that they have promised, the class will be a great success.)

This year's Valedictorian was Marina Griffith. On behalf of her class she thanked the parents for their wonderful guidance and the teachers for their valuable help.

The final speaker introduced by M.C. Bob Duncan was Principal F. H. J. Royal. Mr. Royal warned the pupils not to "go looking for an executive position". He also assured the parents that their children were going out into the world as well equipped with education as they themselves had been.

The Westernaires played the Grand March, while the graduates went through their paces. They also had the first dance, as per custom. The proceedings ended at one o'clock, bringing to a close the day that will never be forgotten by the graduating class of 1952.

There was quite a flurry when it was discovered that at every Sunday School session the little fellow was praying, "Lead us not into temptation but deliver us some evil."

Near-Miss for $140 At the Cinema Lachute

In the Foto-Nite feature at Cinema Lachute last Friday, the name of Romeo Gagné was called, and Mr. Gagné came forward for the potential $140 cash payment for his photo — but it was the wrong Mr. Gagné. His signature did not coincide with the entry card. Romeo Gagné the claimant, resides on Thomas Street, but the lucky one was Romeo Gagné, Chatham Street, who was absent and missed the jackpot of $140 for his portrait.

To show all's fair and aboveboard, the Chatham Street Romeo will appear on the stage next Foto-Nite to assure the public he's the one.

Cash attraction at the theatre this Friday now amounts to $150.

Changes in our educational system are not over-dramatic and apparent to the eye, but through the years, the little steps become strides from one mountain peak to another.

Fans to Judge Most Valuable Players on Local Baseball Team

Lachute baseball fans will be given the opportunity of acting as sole judges of the team's most valuable players through their personal ballots for the Lord Calvert Trophy this season, it was announced this week by the Lachute club.

The voting campaign will be similar to the one operated successfully in other cities. In Montreal, the crowd does the deciding at the N.H.L. games of the Canadiens in hockey, and for the Alouettes in football. During the past season, Quebec and Sherbrooke handed over their voting to the hockey supporters and the reaction was an instant success.

In this "Player of Distinction" voting, Lachute fans will choose the most valuable players at every Lachute home game. The ballots will be found in the program. After every game, the votes are placed in the various Lord Calvert boxes located at the exits of the ball park.

At the end of the season, the player with the most ballots will be awarded the Lord Calvert Trophy. Three points count for a first-place selection, two for a second, and one for a third. Results of the voting will be carried in the local newspapers each week.

"This idea is a very good one, because it helps to bring the fans that much closer to the team", commented club official T. Vachon of the Lachute team. "We have seen it operate very successfully in other cities and I'm sure the fans here will welcome the opportunity of acting as judges of our baseball team", he added.

ALONG THE SKYLINE TRAIL: Along the skyline trails and through the fabled passes of the Canadian Rockies this July, 130 "dude riders", straddling their securely saddled cayuses, will view some of the most spectacular scenery on the continent. The "dudes" are Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, an organization founded by J. Murray Gibbon, well-known author and former general publicity agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway, and during the last two weeks in July will participate in five-day and six-day rides in the Egypt Lakes — Marmon Ridge area of the Continental Divide near Banff, Alta., jumping off point for the expeditions. The five-day ride, starting July 18, costs $65 per person and the six-day jaunt, beginning July 25, costs $75, which includes horse, saddle equipment, tepee accommodation, meals and guide service. All riders are eligible for membership in the 29-year-old Trail Riders organization.

Resolution at County W.I. Urges A Member on Every Council and School Board

Mrs. G. Cooke New County President in Office, Succeeding Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh

Members of the County Women's Institutes met in Lachute on Saturday, May 17, for the annual convention, which was under the auspices of the Frontier W.I. and held in the auditorium of the Lachute High School.

The county president, Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, was in the chair. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada" followed by the "Ode" and salute to the flag.

A presentation of a corsage of red roses to Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, was made by Mrs. A. Graham on behalf of the members, expressing appreciation for the help and inspiration she had given during her term of office.

Minutes of the annual and semi-annual conventions were read by the secretary, followed by the treasurer's report — these reports showing that the Institutes had passed a very busy and successful year.

In the business session that followed, correspondence was read including a letter from Mr. F. H. J. Royal, principal of Lachute High School, commending the County Institutes for a new project, that of an "Educational Loan" by which a pupil finishing Grade XI may borrow money to help further his education.

A brief silence was observed in memory of two members who had passed on.

Mrs. A. G. Leggett, provincial convener of Health and Welfare, spoke briefly of work done in her field, and thanked the branches for their donations to the Cancer Society.

Dr. L. Turcotte, County Health Officer, was present to award certificates to those who had taken up the Home Nursing course. He made mention of this very worthwhile project and praised those who had given their time to this work.

The meeting was adjourned for the noon-hour, and luncheon was served in the cafeteria. Seated at the head table were Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, county president; Mrs. Le Barron, provincial president; Mrs. A. G. Leggett, honorary county president; also several guests from Lachute representing different phases of W.I. work in Agriculture, Citizenship, Health and Welfare, Education, Publicity and Home Economics.

After the luncheon, Mrs. R. Blakely favored with a song, entitled "Trees". She was also the piano accompanist for Misses Myrtle and Myrna Gaston, who sang "Road to the Isles" and "Toorie an' his Bonnet".

During the afternoon sessions conveners gave reports on their year's work. The provincial president, Mrs. Le Barron, then spoke on Institute work, urging her listeners to be "democratic" and to consider the wishes of others. She extended good wishes for the coming year, telling the members to "go out and do the things you can do — strive to do your best in your homes, your community and your county."

The county president, Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, thanked all those who had helped during her term of office. "Keep on trying to be better citizens", she urged, "and to help others to be better citizens. Be strong enough to get out and meet the world; and I ask every W.I. member to do all she can to make this a better world. Be true to ourselves, our homes and our churches!"

Mrs. A. Taylor, chairman of the nominating committee, then presented the slate of County W.I. officers, as follows:

Officers

Honorary president, Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh; president, Mrs. G. Cooke; 1st vice-president, Mrs. M. Crosby; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. D. Clark; secretary, Mrs. C. Stevens; treasurer, Mrs. N. Morrison.

Conveners

Agriculture, Mrs. H. MacDonald.
Citizenship, Mrs. R. Sicuso.
Health - Welfare, Mrs. Melvin Dey.
Education, Mrs. Gordon Hay.
Publicity, Mrs. Douglas Rodgers.
Home Economics, Mrs. Ross Muir.

Still Big Pike in the Old North River

This pike, 37½ inches long and weighing around 22½ lbs., was caught recently in the North River at Centreville by Aimé Lapointe, who lives on the Ayers Dam road. Lapointe was fishing with his father, Henri (pictured above), and was casting from shore with a bait of salt pork when the big fish struck. Also in the picture is Aimé's young brother, Bernard.

Henri and Aimé Lapointe also report having caught a 22-inch trout in this same section of the North River below Lachute.

Townsman With New Artificial Limb Is Grateful for Aid

Xavier Prevost, a townsman of Lachute, just recently received a new artificial leg to replace the limb he had worn for the past 39 years, which had developed defects and become no longer useful, incapacitating him for work.

Mr. Prevost, proud of the new-found agility which gives him a happier outlook on life, called at the newspaper office this week, anxious to publicly express his gratitude to the Lions Club, which voted a donation to meet half the cost of this limb — and to W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., through whose efforts a Quebec Government grant was procured to meet the remainder of the cost.

Child Falls from Tree, Suffers Skull Fracture

Special to The Watchman and L'Argenteuil

Brownsburg—Jean Marc Massie, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Massie, of Brownsburg, suffered a fractured skull last week-end when he fell from a tree. The boy had climbed the tree in a playful adventure, when a branch snapped under his weight; he fell to the ground, his head striking a rock.

An uncle ran to the lad's assistance, and Dr. A. R. Coté was summoned. After giving first aid, the physician ordered the victim's removal to Montreal, and he was conveyed by ambulance to the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Boy Scout Troops are functioning in Grenville, St. Eustache - sur - le - Lac, Brownsburg, Lachute, Laval West, Shawbridge, Ste. Rose and Rosemere. . . It is hoped and expected that all these groups will be well represented. The event will therefor show the district movement in its full numerical strength.

The formal program commences promptly at 2 p.m., and it is earnestly hoped by the Officials, Scoutmasters and Cubmasters that there will be a good spectatorship of parents and friends to demonstrate the public support in this youth organization.

RECKLESS BOATING

Orillia, Ont. (CP) — Aftermath of a motorboat accident last August, Harry Lipman of Toronto recently was fined $100 and costs for driving a boat recklessly. His motorboat towing a water skier crashed into another boat and one person was injured.

Ont. Hydro Taking Over Hawkesbury Division of Gatineau Power Company

Hawkesbury — The Ontario Hydro is to take over the distribution system in the Hawkesbury Division of the Gatineau Power Company, where there is a total of some 3,100 customers of all classes. Agreement has been reached between Hydro and the Quebec company for the purchase of these distribution facilities.

Included in this distribution system are the municipalities of Hawkesbury, Vankleek Hill, and L'Orignal and a large rural section. The total load involved, including that supplied to the Canadian International Paper Company at Hawkesbury, is a little over 10,100 kilowatts or 13,400 horsepower.

Service to these customers will be provided by means of a 115,000-volt transmission line built by Hydro between Cumberland and Hawkesbury, a distance of approximately 50 miles. This line ties in with the Commission's transmission system at Cumberland on a supply line from Maclaren-Quebec Power Company, one of the Commission's suppliers.

Curfew Siren To Be Sounded

On orders of the Town Council for re-enforcement of Curfew By-law No. 135, the practice of former years is now resumed in this town — the sounding of the fire siren, to indicate all children under 14, unaccompanied by adult or guardian, must be indoors or on their own premises. The siren will be sounded at 10 p.m. D.S.T. during the summer months, and at 9 p.m. on reverting to Standard Time next fall.

No Council Contest in Chatham Township

At nominations last week for three council vacancies in Chatham Township, Councillor Fraser Watson, of Cushing, and Councillor Ernest Lacasse, of St. Philippe, were reelected by acclamation to Seats 4 and 5, respectively.

For Seat No. 6 there were two candidates nominated, Wilfrid Campeau and Basil Clark, both of Staynerville. The former withdrew in favor of Mr. Clark, thus making a contest unnecessary.

This result is gratifying to many of the taxpayers, as there had been keen rivalry in the two previous elections for this municipality.

Chatham Council now comprises the following members — Councillors W. H. Robert, John F. Black, Paul Richer, Fraser Watson, Ernest Lacasse and Basil Clark.

Chamber of Commerce Outlines Plans For Industrial Caravan to Granby

Contributed by Lachute Chamber of Commerce

It is encouraging to note the recent face-lifting applied to various business premises on Main Street, both interior and exterior. Among the latest are the Liquor Commission store, in a completely renovated site formerly occupied by "Esquire Shop" . . . also the latter removed to rebuilt quarters new and modern, next door. . . Dominion Store has been redecorated in attractive colors. . . The Bank of Nova Scotia has also been considerably improved along modern lines by the installation of what is known in banking circles as "the straight line counter". The inside enclosures of the tellers' space have been removed; this allows much more space for the staff and provides three tellers' wickets, which will provide speedy service for customers, especially on busy days. The office has been newly decorated and presents an attractive appearance.

The Chamber of Commerce notes these improvements with considerable pleasure, and congratulates the business men and managers concerned.

Industrial Caravan to Granby Next Wednesday

A major activity in the Chamber of Commerce this month will be the 'Industrial Caravan to Granby', which will probably be the last on our program of visits before the summer-season. Mozart Carriere, hairman of the arrangements committee, gives a final outline of plans for this event, to be held next Wednesday, May 28:

1. Members of the Chamber and their accompanying guests will assemble outside Lachute Auditorium at 7.30 a.m.
2. The Caravan will proceed at 8 a.m., passing through Montreal around 9.15 and arriving at Granby around 11 o'clock.
3. Reception at the city hall on arrival at Granby.

5. During the afternoon, an inspection tour will be made to one of Granby's most important industries.

The foregoing plans suggest this venture will be a great success, and those who have not thus far arranged to attend, are urged to do so. The Chamber president affirms that this is an unusual opportunity to publicize Lachute. . . Let's make it a "go"!

"C.C.C." for Sales Promotion

Under the signia of the "C.C.C", this campaign was launched last week, May 12, and is already showing appreciable results. The Chamber president gives the following impression of retailer and consumer reaction:

"Shoppers have welcomed the C.C.C. idea with enthusiasm, and many are showing their desire to buy at participating stores. We receive numerous phone calls relative to this campaign, and many persons call every day at our Premium Centre at the Gatineau Power showroom, to learn further particulars.

"We know certain people who visited Lachute last week, who bought articles of clothing here, and were directed by their hosts to stores linked with the C.C.C., so as to benefit by the premium coupons.

"We could add several instances showing the consumer-consciousness created by this campaign, a new buyer-psychology which bids fair to make Lachute 'the Shopping Centre of the Ottawa Valley'.

"Merchants of the C.C.C. also give an encouraging testimony. Certain of these, who doubted the merits of the scheme, have changed their viewpoint since shoppers refused to order unless they were assured of receiving the coupons. One merchant asserts that the C.C.C. boosted his sales $200 last week. Another retailer, who is not a participating member, candidly admits he has lost sales, and that if the campaign continues to gain such popularity, he will feel obliged to join the ranks."

— So this is proving an effective means, not only of attracting local purchasers but also of interesting outsiders. In buying from merchants who are C.C.C. members, shoppers should ask for their value coupons. The merchant will be glad to comply, and the purchaser will benefit by the premiums available. It's well worth it!

Al Smith called the New York Fulton Fish Market his "alma mater".

Automotive Transport Shown as Big Factor in Canadian Business

Truck Transportation Is Speaker's Topic At Regular Lions Club Session

Camille Archambault, public relations officer of the Automotive Transport Association (Quebec), was speaker at the regular Lions Club meeting on Tuesday, with President George Tattersfield in the chair. The assembly, held as usual at the Laval (Joly's) Hotel, was well and enthusiastically attended.

The trucking industry has a record of public service of which it may well be proud, said the speaker. In 25 years, road transport has become a vital part of Canada's economic system. Without government subsidy, it has attained its status on sound business merit. In the same way as consumers buy competitive products, the public has supported road transport as giving best service at the lowest overall cost.

Restricted supplies had had some bearing upon the increased popularity of road transport. Mass transportation, to which rail transport is adapted, was then not a major concern. Shippers and buyers were interested in transporting goods in quick order, in small quantities, permitting prompt replacement, economical outlay and eliminating the need of bank credits.

Truck transport has given faster shipment on short hauls than ever before in the progress of Canadian business. Delivery-at-the-door has reduced packing and crating costs and minimized loss by damage.

Mr. Archambault cited figures to show how the United States, in employing truck-delivery of mail, had effected savings of millions of dollars.

The record of the trucking industry, he claimed, was a typical story of competitive enterprise; the story of men launching business, often with a single truck, and turning their profits, with their initiative, back into these private enterprises to give better service.

The speaker exemplified the role of trucking by reference to the nine-day railway strike in 1950. People predicted that the country would be "paralyzed", but instead, thanks to road transport "not a citizen lacked the necessities of life". . . Reference was made also to the part played by this industry in such emergencies as the B.C. and Manitoba floods, and the fire disasters at Rimouski and Cabana.

Mr. Archambault also showed how trucking concerns contributed fairly and equitably to highway costs; and how vehicles were subject to rigorous regulations governing distribution of load weights to avert highway strain. The Automotive Transport Association enthusiastically supports the demands of government transport inspectors in this respect.

Road transport possesses a flexibility and advantage over rail communications which would be invaluable in civil defence and time of war.

Introduced by a local member of the trucking fraternity, Lion Nat Boyd, the speaker was afterwards thanked by Lion Phil Roy.

A good citizen and energetic club member, Roger Legault, was honored as Lion of the Day.

Dr. F. W. FitzGerald reported returns of $460 from the Easter Seals campaign, compared with an amount exceeding $600 last year. Dr. FitzGerald was also appointed as representative of this club for the local section of the Cancer Society.

Apathy in Elections

Of the 1,283 voters on the lists, less than 41% or 523 went to the polls at Monday's civic election — the French voters being in a higher percentage than the English. This may be accounted for by the fact that women take very little interest in municipal elections — added to which, Monday's laundry is of more importance to the busy housewife than civic affairs. It is surprising the number of male voters who show no interest in civic affairs, who think voting is too much trouble, and of no benefit to them anyway; but they hand over a million-dollar business, in which they are shareholders, to a board of directors whose qualifications have never been examined and whose ability is an unknown quantity.

Siren

After a lot of time, talk and Tammany, the municipal siren which was purchased by a former council has been installed and operating. There have been none of the dire consequences so glibly foretold as an irritating adjunct to fire-fighting. It howls its warning at nine p.m. each evening, and so far the only ones we have heard objecting are the kids, who are ordered to be off the streets at that time.

Premier Maurice Duplessis Will Visit Harrington Forestry Farm

Official Inauguration of Centre Established By Canadian International Paper Co.

Prime Minister Maurice Duplessis has accepted an invitation to visit this county on Thursday, June 5, to officially inaugurate the newly established forestry station at Harrington.

The Premier will be greeted by W. M. Cottingham, M.L.A., and will speak in both languages — his discourse to be broadcast over several Quebec radio stations. Time of this broadcast is tentatively set at 2 p.m., after which the Premier in a public ceremony will officially open the Canadian International Paper Company's forestry farm. Mr. Duplessis will be invited to plant a number of tree saplings, by means of a planting machine used by the Harrington foresters for the benefit of district farmers and woodlot owners. This will be followed by some interesting demonstrations in woods-culture and forest harvesting.

Canadian International Paper Company acquired, for this forestry project, farm lands which had been abandoned as non-productive for seasonal crops, and experts are planting quick-maturing trees. Intensive research is carried on, and the Company's forestry services are placed at the disposal of woodlot owners in Argenteuil County and the surrounding district. The project, situated on the Rouge River, comprises 12,000 acres of woodlands, which are managed systematically to produce in perpetuity. It is aimed to instruct farmers in conservation and cultivation of the forests, and to operate their woodlots on economical and productive lines.

B'burg Election Brings Two Newcomers to Council

Brownsburg — The final count of ballots in the municipal election found but four votes separating the first from the second and the second from the third candidate. There were but four candidates for the three vacancies, "Jock" Maitland withdrawing from the contest. Twenty-two votes topped the poll over the lowest candidate, showing a narrow margin as the limit of choice. The details were as follows:

René Lafleur (new)	138	180
Sam Rose (new)	207	107

GRATIFYING STORY IN PLACEMENT OF DISABLED WORKERS

Rotary Speaker Describes Big Selective Service Uundertaking

Last Thursday, the Brownsburg Rotary Club heard Mr. P. R. Appleby, of the National Selective Service, Montreal, speak on the "Employment of the Disabled Worker".

Mr. Appleby described his work with Selective Service, placing disabled workers with businesses and industries in Montreal. The disabilities cover a wide range of handicaps — lung, heart, and stomach ailments, defective vision and hearing, arthritis, diabetes, paralysis, amputations, epilepsy, low mentality, neuroses, and age. Ex-prisoners and alcoholics also fall within the ranks of the "disabled". Mr. Appleby and his staff try to find a job for each.

On first approaching prospective employers for these cases, very often a good deal of opposition is encountered. Selective Service workers are told that the work would be "too strenuous" for the disabled job-seeker, or that they "tried employing this type during the war and found that it didn't work out". Many of them, however, have actually never even considered employing disabled workers.

The speaker said that his first approach is to ask to go through the various departments of the business or industry, to see if he can find any places where a disabled person might be capable of doing a job as well as the "able" person

Progress Report

The annual report of Gatineau Power Company, covering operations during 1951, contains a number of facts which may be of interest to our customers as well as to the 12,000 shareholders of the Company. Here are the highlights:

—A growing demand for electricity increased the Company's revenue, but taxes and higher costs of labor and material brought about a substantial drop in net earnings for the year.

— During the year, 162 miles of pole lines were constructed and 84 miles of distribution lines were added to existing poles.

— The company now serves 71,000 customers, over half of whom reside in widely-spread rural areas.

— A 110,000 volt switching station is being built at Lachute and a 32 mile high-voltage line is being constructed from Lachute to Cedars which will interconnect the company lines with those of Hydro-Quebec. We hope to tell you more about this important step in another column.

— A new 15,000 kilowatt substation is planned for Dorion.

— A 15,000 kilowatt transformer has been installed at Ste. Agathe, and the 10,000 kilowatt transformer from Ste. Agathe will be moved to St. Jerome to provide additional power facilities there.

— Voltage was increased during the year on a number of local lines, and new or additional transformer capacity has been installed at some of the more important substations throughout the territory.

— Similar work, all designed to provide better service throughout a steadily-growing area, is planned for 1952.

London — Six young farmers, three men and three girls, will represent the National Federation of Young Farmers' Clubs on a tour of Canada and the United States.

These visits are the great event of the year in young farming circles and endow the selected candidates with a status which carries its obligations in a round of winter lectures on their return to the U.K. and their home club.

Breakage of Silos

Ottawa — Grass silage and the use of forage harvesters tend to increase silo pressures by 50 to 75 per cent. As a result a number of silos on farms have cracked or have completely broken down.

When silos were filled with corn by the corn binder method the crop dried off considerably during harvesting operations. When a harvester is used for direct cutting, the corn frequently has more moisture on ensiling and the weight per cubic foot materially increases, Wm. Kalbfleisch, Agricultural Engineer, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, points out.

Grass silage that is relatively dry weighs about 50 to 60 pounds per cubic foot. Wet grass silage may weigh 75 pounds and thus increases pressures inside the silo.

For grass silage and damp corn, many silos require additional reinforcing hoops. The following will serve as a guide to these reinforcing requirements. Silos 14 feet in diameter and 30 feet high should have one reinforcing bar one-half inch in diameter, spaced one foot apart on the bottom 8 feet of the silo. At a spacing of 30 inches, three-quarter inch bars are required. As the pressure is less towards the top of the silo, smaller diameter rods are used on the upper sections of silos.

British Columbia Peas For Quebec Soup

A friendly bond between two provinces which are 2,000 miles apart has been formed by peas.

Gourmets the world over acclaim the excellence of the pea soup prepared in Quebec. But many of the peas which went into the preparation of this gastronomical delicacy were likely grown not in Quebec but in the North Okanagan Valley of British Columbia. For it is in the dry climate of this rich valley that peas of a size and flavor unsurpassed elsewhere in Canada are produced. When B.C. peas are combined with the culinary artistry of the Quebec housewife, the result is a pea soup that is spoken about with reverence in eating circles.

The B.C. growers supply Quebec with marrow-fats, yellow and green split peas, whole peas and a soup mix. The problem of getting the peas to Quebec's self-service stores without bags splitting open during the long haul across the continent was overcome by packaging peas in a double-walled bag of "Cellophane" cellulose film and packing the bags snugly in shipping cartons.

N.B. Opens School For Farm Students

Shediac, N.B. (CP) — The first residential folk school in New Brunswick opened an 11-day term here with 28 rural residents in attendance from Westmorland, Albert and Kent counties.

Courses aimed at qualification for leadership in community affairs were planned for the men and women students, aged from 18 to 50. The curriculum included lectures on farming topics, dramatics, group recreation and the organization and conducting of meetings.

The school was sponsored by District No. 4 of the New Brunswick Farmers' Association, with Thomas Austin, of the Co-operative Farm Services at Moncton, as principal. Co-operative units, agricultural societies, women's institutes, farm forums, service clubs and boards of trade supported the project.

Annual Hay Crops

Ottawa — Annual hay crops can help materially when roughage feeds are short because of winter-killing of legumes. Many annual hay crops will produce considerably more roughage per acre than a first year hay field in which legumes have been killed. Their main disadvantage is the cost of seed, fertilizer, and labor in preparing the land. But situations do arise where this extra cost is justified to tide the herd over a difficult period.

In order to supply reliable information on the value of various annual crops for hay, a number of these crops have been tested at the Experimental Station, Fredericton, says T. C. Chiasson, for a ten-year period. Crops tested were oats; oats and peas; oats, peas and vetch; oats and rye; six varieties of millet, sudan grass and sorghums.

Results indicated that oats is the most reliable and adaptable annual hay crop tested. Good yields of oats hay were secured under a variety of conditions, such as wet or dry seasons, light and heavy land and early or late seasons. In addition it possessed other advantages over the other crops. For instance, seed is relatively inexpensive and usually available on the farm. Secondly, oats-hay can be cured easily during good weather in July while crops like millet, which are not harvested until September, are usually difficult to cure. Thirdly, weeds are not so much of a problem in oats as in crops like millet. Most weeds present in oats will be cut before they ripen seed.

Yields of oats-hay at the Station, averaged 3.04 tons per acre over a five year period. A mixture of oats and peas during the same period averaged 3.01 tons per acre. The mixture of oats and peas is one of the most satisfactory annual hay crops tested. Peas, being a legume, increase the amount of protein in the feed and this forage will most nearly take the place of clover as a hay crop.

A mixture of two bushels of oats and one bushel of peas per acre has been found satisfactory.

The variety Chancellor is the most suitable variety of peas for this purpose. Any variety of oats is suitable provided it is cut for hay when the oats are in the milk stage.

Springtime Foraging

IF EVER there were a back-to-nature season it is now, when the smell of growing things fills the air, and city and town folk yearn for a life close to the soil.

Nostalgically they hie to the country of a Sunday, bent on a variety of ventures which may range from picking wild flowers to doing a bit of trout-fishing and gathering stones for the rock-garden.

The fishing is pure pleasure and calculated to bother no one. The stone-gathering is all very well — just as long as the gatherers don't churn up freshlly planted fields in the enthusiasm to get at the rocks.

The wild-flower picking is a different matter.

Why are these annual spring raids made on the patches of violets and other blooms which glow in quiet out-of-the-way spots throughout our swamps and wooded lands?

Because wild flowers are pretty, some will say. Because they don't belong to anybody, say others.

For most persons — and particularly for those from the city — it seems necessary to take some of this spring-time beauty back into their homes.

It seems to be grasping after a distant memory of childhood when nothing was so important in spring as a trip to the woods for mayflowers and lady-slippers.

Let the pickers think a little though, and they will come to realize these delicate plants wither and die soon after they are plucked from their native surroundings.

What is even more serious — careless pickers frequently destroy the plants, unrooting them in their greediness to get at the flowers. On the other hand, roots of certain species die immediately the bloom is picked. The trillium is one of the latter, and each spring it is being unreasonably "exploited".

Instead of picking big bouquets wouldn't it be better to leave these pretty plants in their habitat? Let them continue to blossom and delight others who will come to admire them in the springs to come.

A Doughty Quebecer

IN THE annals of French-Canada, there are few triumphs of determination to compare with that of Romeo Vincent, erstwhile of Granby, Que., to whom posterity should raise a fitting monument.

What did he do to merit such acclaim, this valorous Quebecer? Did he level a Red platoon single-handed on the battlefields of Korea? Or shake the deliberations of the United Nations with a startling idea? . . No, he caused no such minor sensation. Something far more momentous was this man's achievement. He accomplished the impossible.

It is told this week in one brief paragraph: "Thanks to the never-say-die spirit of a French-Canadian named Romeo Vincent, baseball has ousted cricket from some at least of the playing fields of Britain." And there's a news-picture of the baseball team to prove it.

We cannot resist reprinting further details; it is a story to rank high in the year's news. . .

The 30-year-old ex-soldier from Granby, who came back to Britain after the war because his English wife was homesick, decided that cricket was popular in Britain only because there was nothing else to do, so he started promoting baseball — says the news report, from Kent, England.

It was tough, at first. His mates in the mines at Snowdon Colliery didn't take to the game and the Canadian had to be in his own words "very stubborn". But using a blackboard and other borrowed equipment, he gradually taught the pitmen the fundamentals of baseball. When they were ready to take the field he started them on softball, then switched over to baseball.

Now the Snowdon Magpies (as Vincent calls his pitmen's team) have started their first season in a six-team league, and the league's going strong.

Instead of the lazy summer sounds associated with cricket, a slow-moving but deep-rooted game that is supposed to be a reflection of the British character, the quiet community now resounds to the sharp crack of bat on ball and cries of "Slide, Kelly, Slide!"

Be Prepared – Swimming Hazards

THAT MORE swimmers than non-swimmers are drowning victims, may seem a paradoxical statement. But Dr. A. T. Bazin, chairman of the Water Saftey Committee of the Red Cross, gives the reason for this fact. It is because they take chances. "People who can swim", he adds, "usually try to reach shore if their boats overturn. Non-swimmers cling to overturned boats and have better chances of being saved."

H. E. Herschorn, president of Quebec branch of the Royal Life Saving Society, asks parents to teach their children "the few simple rules on water safety". Such knowledge may mean the difference between life and death.

The simple rules as taught by experts are:

1. No swimming for at least two hours after a heavy meal.

2. Keep away from water that is too cold or you'll get cramps.

3. Swim parallel to the shore and never alone.

4. Don't swim at night unless in familiar spots.

5. When boating make sure the craft is seaworthy and do not overload.

6. Never change positions in a boat.

7. When a boat founders because of leaks, passengers should sit on the bottom — bodies are lighter and the boat will not sink lower than neck level.

Practical Aid to Public Health

THE GRANTING of Life Insurance Medical Fellowships to 13 scientists in Canadian medical schools to enable them to undertake specific research projects, draws attention to the tremendous contribution the life insurance companies operating in Canada are making to the work of improving the health of the nation.

For more than 25 years the life insurance companies have joined through the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association in making contributions aggregating nearly $1,000,000 to such organizations as the Canadian Tuberculosis Association, the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council and the National Committee for School Health and to several medical research studies. This much-needed financial help has permitted these public health bodies and numerous researchers to expand their work greatly for the Canadian people as a whole. Had it not been for this help it is doubtful if these organizations and workers would have accomplished so much. The joint contributions to these organizations are in addition to those made by many companies individually for public health, hospital and medical research purposes.

The sum total of the grants made by the life insurance companies in Canada to promote medical research and public health is often overlooked, but is a significant contribution to the welfare of the country.

CULTURE IS PERSONAL

There has been considerable argument over the further subsidizing of the CBC to help Canadian talent. But you cannot achieve a Canadian culture by this means. It must come from the heart, from a love or desire to excel in a particular field.

"THINGS AN' STUFF"

— By — WALTER HENRY JACKSON

Have You Heard These Lately?

Some weeks ago a friend gave me a book supposed to contain five-hundred of the world's best jokes. Four hundred and ninety-seven of these I hadn't laughed at since I was in short pants. Here are the other three. . .

The village idiot was driving an ancient car along a country road when he overtook a pedestrian, to whom he offered a lift. Every few minutes the driver would slow down, reach down and grab a handful of yellow powder in a tin box at his feet, and throw the handful of powder out of the left window. This strange action was repeated several times, when the stranger asked:

"What is that that you keep throwing out of the window?"

"That's yellow powder", replied the driver.

"Yes, I can see that. But what's it for?"

"To keep wild lions and tigers from following the car."

"But there are no lions and tigers in America."

"I know that. And a mighty good thing, too. I'll tell you why. This yellow powder is no damn good!"

* * *

At a rural lodge meeting, the chairman was much concerned about the falling-off of membership. "One reason", he said, "is the disgraceful state of the lodge hall. The windows are too dirty to see through, the furniture is covered with dust, the floor is littered with cigar and cigarette butts. Why, we haven't even got a cuspidor."

A timid little man at the back of the hall rose to his feet.

"Mr. Chairman", he commenced. "May I say a few words? I have been a member of this lodge for twenty years and have never held any kind of an office. How about electing me cuspidor?"

* * *

A man, just returned from a fishing trip, was describing his adventure with an angry bull that had chased him across a pasture.

"There was only one tree in the whole field", he said. "The nearest branch was fifteen feet from the ground. The bull was right behind me. I made a mighty leap for the branch, and luckily, I caught it.

"You mean to say you caught a branch fifteen feet from the ground?" said his listener.

"You bet I did. I missed it going up, but I caught it coming down!"

Have You A Question ON UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any point do not hesitate to send your question to your district Unemployment Insurance office. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Following are some questions with answers which may be of interest to you: —

Q. I am working in the bush. The employer tells me that all the lumberjacks who are cutting one hundred cords of wood will not pay any income tax once the cords are cut. The employer also says that I have not paid any unemployment insurance contributions because I have not paid any income tax. I told him that I insist that I pay my unemployment insurance contributions, but he objects. Has he the right to refuse my payment of contributions because I have cut the number of cords requested by him so that I would not have to pay any income tax?

A. There is no connection whatsoever between the payment of income tax and the payment of unemployment insurance contributions. If contributions are payable for the work that you do and your employer refuses to pay them you should report full particulars to the nearest local office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

* * *

Q. I have been working in a factory for 20 years. Moisture and gas are annoying me very much, so much so that I am compelled to see my doctor every month. Am I able to draw insurance benefits while looking for another job?

A. If the conditions at the place at which you work are such that you are compelled, for medical reasons, to quit, you may be eligible for benefit whilst seeking other employment. In these circumstances, however, you should first obtain a certificate from your doctor showing that it was necessary for you to give up your job.

You could, before separating from your present employment, make application for employment at your nearest local office. It will then try to find you another job that will be suitable for you. If this course is followed, no time may be lost between jobs.

INSPECT BEEF IMPORTS AT LACHUTE, GRENV'L, HULL AND MANIWAKI

Provincial Police officers are engaged on the surveillance of trucks transporting beef and hides, in the centres of Grenville, Lachute, Hull and Maniwaki, according to Police Director Hilaire Beauregard. The chief added that his men were concerned mostly with the importation of hides, and that the officers engaged were selected from the traffic police force.

Transports operated by the larger trucking companies are the cause of little concern, he said, since the drivers can readily produce papers indicating the nature of their loads, and their destinations. Such is not the case with truckers of doubtful character, however, and it is necessary in some cases to call in a provincial meat inspector or to direct the trucker to an abbatoir to ensure that he is meeting the requirements of the law. There had been no reason so far to confiscate any of these loads, stated the chief, as all doubtful cases had been eventually proven to the satisfaction of the inspectors.

Since the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan, it has been illegal to import western beef into Quebec, and the police surveillance was imposed after reports received some weeks ago by Dr. Ant. Pratte, meat inspector in Montreal, that local authorities had "seen" western beef in the Montreal area. There were rumors also of black market activities, and western beef entering the province labelled from Toronto packing houses. Assurance has been given however, by Dr. J. M. Veilleux, of Quebec, chief of the provincial veterinary service, that such complaints were unfounded. He stated that Quebec buys a greater part of its beef from Ontario shippers holding the necessary Quebec permits.

The Young Fellows Club at Weyburn, Sask., to celebrate their 30th anniversary presented the city's Union hospital with a cheque for $2,000. . . Knox Church at Neepawa, Man., is a family affair; 50 years ago, The Press reported, Robert Burns was elected to the board of managers and Wm. Thomson to the sessions; recently at the annual meeting Robert Burns III was elected to the board, and W. Harold Thomson, grandson of the pioneers, re-appointed treasurer. . . The Shaunavon (Sask.) Standard says, "It is better to bestow our kind words and acts upon those dear to us while alive, than to load the coffin with flowers and ourselves with outward signs of mourning when they are gone."

INST. OF THE BLIND DIVISION ESTABLISHED, CHARTER PRESENTED

Set Objective $2,000 In District Appeal

At a meeting of the Lachute-Argenteuil Advisory Board to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, held Wednesday evening, the committee charter was presented by L. A. McClintock, district supervisor. Mr. R. Cairns, in receiving the charter, thanked the donor, assuring him that everything possible would be done to assist the Association, both in taking care of those already blind and in the prevention of blindness.

Tony Zaplaski, a member of the blind fraternity, delighted those present with a piano selection.

Many will no doubt be surprised to learn that there are 27 cases of known blindness in the County of Argenteuil which are being looked after and properly trained. Formerly this county was connected with Valleyfield division, but owing to distance and expense, it was deemed advisable to work separately; but with Two Mountains adjoining and having 35 cases, it is proposed to unite these two districts.

The Quebec Division is one of six across Canada. Each division is broken up into zones. There are 12 districts in Quebec.

There is a field man (a blind person) for each district, and also a blind home-teacher who visits those afflicted, giving helpful instruction.

Two local cases were reported on, one of which is now attending the School for the Blind in Montreal and making excellent progress in fitting himself for a useful life. The other is doing well at home and will soon be able to attend the school.

As the care of the blind, and assistance to their needs, requires the expenditure of cash, it was decided that a campaign should be launched to raise funds for this worthy cause, and an objective of $2,000 was set. The exact procedure for obtaining this amount has not yet been decided upon, but will be announced later.

A booth will be operated at the Fair Grounds during the Exhibition, where there will be demonstrations of what blind citizens can do to help themselves, and at which anyone wishing to assist the local division may leave a donation. Meanwhile, anyone desirous of helping in this campaign for funds may leave their donation with Miss L. Miller at the Bank of Montreal.

$2,000 is a small amount to expect from an entire county — so do your part; you never know when you might be afflicted with blindness.

Former H.S. Teacher Dies Following Accident

The death of Lionel E. Upton occurred at the Neurological Institute in Montreal last Sunday, following an accident. Mr. Upton, 32 years of age, was instructor in Industrial Arts at Huntingdon and Howick. While painting the walls of the manual training room at Howick High School the previous Wednesday, he fell and struck his head, causing injuries to which he succumbed in hospital last Sunday.

Mr. Upton was formerly on the staff of Lachute High School, engaged in manual training and classroom instruction. He later taught at Grenville, before moving to the Eastern Townships.

He is survived by his wife, the former Phyllis McLean, who was also on the local school staff, and by three children.

The funeral was held Tuesday at Ormstown, Que.

Stefansson Recalls First Arctic Trip; Lived With Eskimos

Montreal (CP) — Vilhjalmur Stefansson says Eskimos really know how to take care of themselves.

The Canadian-born Arctic explorer told the Women's Canadian Club recently of his first Arctic trip in 1906.

Dr. Stefansson first visited the Arctic in the summer, but the boat that was to have picked him up was wrecked.

"I found myself facing the winter in a suit of summer clothes, with $200 in my pocket and nothing to buy with it", he added. To survive, the group learned to live as the natives did.

Although he disliked fish, Dr. Stefansson, after three weeks of acute hunger, learned to down raw fish and cold water for breakfast and lunch, cooked fish and fish soup for dinner, cold left-over fish for a mid-night snack. "I never felt healthier in my life", he said.

This type of diet proved to be one of the reasons why Eskimos rarely die of illness, he said. Dr. Stefansson added that the Eskimos were known at that time as "a happy people", probably because of their excellent health.

Another thing the explorer found on that trip was the wisdom of the Eskimo dress of fur-lined caribou hide shirts and trousers. In northern Manitoba, Dr. Stefansson had worn "45 pounds of clothes and had to run around to keep warm". The Eskimos wear from seven to 10 pounds of clothes and are often too warm in 50-degree-below-zero weather.

OBITUARY

Lady Resident Died Recently

Late Mrs. Hugh Mitchell

The death of Mrs. Hugh B. Mitchell occurred at Lachute on May 11, in her 77th year, after a lingering illness. The late Mrs. Mitchell was born in Chatboro and before her marriage was Miss Jessie Forrester.

Remaining to mourn her loss are her husband and one daughter, Myrtle (Mrs. G. G. Goodenough), of Potsdam, N.Y., also three brothers, Norman, of Toledo, Ohio, Archie, of Prince Albert, Sask., and Donald, of Montreal.

The funeral took place Wednesday, May 14, from the MacKimmie Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. Wm. Chambers, L. Wilson, J. Robinson, R. Morrison, P. O'Brien, and J. Douglas.

There was a large attendance to pay their last tribute of respect, and many flowers bore evidence of the esteem of her friends and fellow residents. Interment took place in the St. Andrews Cemetery.

BLOSSOM FESTIVAL ATTRACTS TOURISTS

Kentville, N.S. (CP) — Tourists from England and the United States are showing an early interest in this year's Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival.

A family in Yorkshire, England, was among the first to book hotel reservations for the colorful annual festival and several motor clubs in the United States have requested information.

The six-day affair opening May 28 will feature the usual crowning of a Queen, a church service on the grounds of historic Grand Pré park and the usual round of dancing, curling, and band concerts.

GOLDEN CELEBRATION

Gilbert Plains, Man. (CP) — Celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Gilbert Plains' weekly newspaper, The Maple Leaf, editor E. O. Brown and his wife entertained pioneer subscribers. Among the gathering was David Stewart, 83, first subscriber to the paper.

MAIL DELIVERY IN NORTHLAND HAZARDOUS JOB

By Aircraft, Truck and Boat to Isolated Homes in North Saskatchewan

Ile à La Crosse, Sask. (CP) — The city mailman has his hazards, but they don't compare with those of Henry Schneider, especially during the spring breakup.

Dangerous is the word for methods employed by mailman Schneider, who often gets wet delivering the Queen's mail from Meadow Lake to isolated families at Beauval and Ile à la Cross in Saskatchewan's northland.

Most first-class mail is flown north by government plane from Prince Albert, but parcels of needed clothing and bulky first-class letters go by truck. After 150 miles of near-impassable roads to Meadow Lake, Schneider takes over. Near the journey's end partly-open rivers and lakes must be crossed.

After leaving Green Lake, 35 miles from Meadow Lake, mailman Schneider's truck crawls about 10 miles an hour over rutted, teeth-chattering roads. He says it's unusual if a spring or an axle of the truck isn't broken on each trip.

His first ordeal comes at Rat Creek ferry. Mail bags must be dragged from truck across ice to a skiff in open water. At the other side, bags are again pulled over ice to another truck that has come from father north.

From there another long, laborous drive brings the mail to Beauval. There, if Beaver River flows, the winter road is cut off. Fort Black and Ile à la Crosse are 30 miles away over the worst part of the route.

Along the way, at each government telegraph station, Schneider's progress has been wired ahead. At Fort Black, skiffs and two or three men await his arrival.

To avoid wetting the mail, loaded skiffs are shoved over the ice. If the ice breaks the skiff drops harmlessly into the water and, although the men may take a soaking, the mail stays dry.

Once Schneider had to have a five-ton transport pulled from Ile à la Crosse Lake when it broke through ice into 40 feet of water.

Occasionally the mailman gets wet, but the Queen's mail goes through.

Award-Winning Broadcasts

This enterprising CBC team was responsible for two of the award-winning broadcasts at the International Competition for Educational Programs recently held at Columbus, Ohio.

Eugene Hallman, at the typewriter, is the author of "No Escape", one of the winners. He also plans and edits the other award winner, the CBC program "Cross Section".

His colleague, looking on, is Art Hiller, who ably handles the production details of both programs. . . Each of these two men had had considerable radio experience before joining the CBC.

BELL TO CANADA

When the 'Empress of Australia' is broken up for scrap, the ship's bell and a plaque commemorating the rescue work of the crew in Yokohama during the 1923 earthquake will be presented to Vancouver resident Captain Sam Robinson, the ship's master at the time.

"... saved me days, perhaps weeks, of work"

After returning from his first trip to the West, a business man wrote his bank:

"I arrived having no idea where to start in to make the connections I required. The thought occurred to me that perhaps the bank, which has been very helpful to me on numerous occasions, would give me some guidance. Mr. W. proved to be of tremendous help. He introduced me to the people I should have met and saved me days, perhaps weeks, of work."

Every chartered bank works this way. Whether you walk into your neighborhood branch or one a thousand miles away, you will find the same full range of banking service—and the same readiness to help.

The thriftiest of shoppers, my wife goes through a regular ritual in making her selections at the super market. She examines, weighs and compares each item. She isn't above sniffing the food, and at the meat trays —! It was there one day, when she was involved in deciding between six frankfurters for 30 cents or 12 for 59 cents, that she became aware a man was waiting for her to make her choice. "I'm sorry", she said, moving to one side.

"That's all right. Take your time. What's good enough for you is good enough for me", he said cheerfully.

At that, she looked at his cart, and saw that it was bulging with duplicates of her purchases.

"I reckon", he explained, "that you're getting your money's worth, if anyone is!"

Man can criticize woman all he wants to, but we know three things in her favor:

1. She never wastes $2 worth of shotgun shells to shoot a 25-cent rabbit.

2. You never heard of her giving a waiter a $2 tip because he smiled at her.

3. We've never heard of a woman who would pay $25 for boat hire to get where the fish are not.

Oven-Fried Chicken For the Crowd

Expecting week-end guests; or perhaps you are helping to cater for the church supper? Oven-fried Chicken may be the answer to the question what to serve. It is an excellent way to prepare chicken for that "something different" menu.

The following recipe is for 8 servings but the quantity may be increased as desired. This recipe is based on using 2 small broiler-fryer type chickens which average around 3 pounds undrawn.

Oven-Fried Chicken

2 Eviscerated chickens (approximately 2¼ pounds each), ½ cup flour, 2 teaspoons paprika, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, fat for frying, ¼ cup butter melted, ¼ cup broth or milk.

Disjoint and cut chicken into pieces for serving. Wipe thoroughly with clean damp cloth. Place flour and seasonings in paper bag and shake to mix. Place 2 or 3 pieces of chicken in bag and shake to coat evenly with flour mixture. Repeat until all chicken is coated. Meanwhile melt sufficient fat in heavy frying pan to make a layer at least ½ inch deep. If a large quantity of chicken is being prepared, browning will be speedier if a layer of fat 1 to 2 inches is used. Heat fat until a drop of water just sizzles in it. Brown chicken in fat. Remove pieces and arrange in a simple layer in a shallow baking pan. Combine melted fat and broth or milk and spoon over chicken. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°F. until chicken is cooked, about 30 to 40 minutes, turning once to crisp evenly. The chicken is cooked when the thickest part of the drumstick cuts easily and there is no pink color visible. Serve hot or cold.

RURAL CHARACTERISTICS

Many communities seem to be adjusting their habits so that they can live the good life with all the benefits of modern science and industry. Most important, they encourage good fellowship and neighborliness, cherished characteristics of Canadian rural life since pioneer days. — Woodstock (N.B.) Sentinel-Review

Mixes Save Time

With a supply of ready-mixes on hand there is no need to panic when company drops in unexpectedly. Using a tea biscut mix, for example, it takes only a minute or two to get a pan of biscuits ready for the oven. Then while they are baking, the hostess can serenely chat with her guests, confident that in a short time something quite delicious will be ready to serve.

Do you know that you can make several kinds of ready-mixes right in your own kitchen? For Mother who has to count her minutes, mixes made up in quantity and stored in tightly-covered containers on the pantry shelf or in the kitchen cupboard are, indeed, a great help. Then, when baking time comes around, instead of having the kitchen cluttered with dirty dishes, all one needs are three utensils: a mixing bowl, a mixing spoon and a measuring cup. What a saving in dish-washing time this is! The business girl who does her own cooking will find ready-mixes a blessing too. During the week-end she can prepare a supply and this will make the problem of cooking on busy days much simpler.

A tea-biscuit mix can be used in many ways. That favorite supper dish, Eggs à la King, served shortcake style, is quick and easy to make, especially with the mix. The foundation of a good-old-fashioned Rhubarb Cobbler is tea-biscuit dough, so here is another place where the mix can be put to excellent use. Then, too, with simple additions to the basic mix, such delicacies as piping hot Cheese Biscuits, Coffee Cake or a Fruit Roll can be produced on short notice.

Pastry mixes are another boon. Time and energy can be saved by making up a quantity of pastry mix at once. Then it takes only a few minutes to make a pie when it is needed. Pie crusts are more likely to be consistently good when made with mixes. You can go even farther and make up a large batch of pastry dough. The dough, however, must be well wrapped and stored in the refrigerator.

Here are the directions for making Tea Biscuit Mix and Pastry Mix which the home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, have tested and highly recommend.

PASTRY MIX
(makes three two-crust pies)

7 Cups sifted pastry flour (or 6 cups sifted all-purpose flour), 1 tablespoon salt, 2 cups shortening (blended vegetable or lard).

Mix and sift flour and salt. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until pieces are size of small peas. Store in a covered container in refrigerator or other cool place.

To Make a 9" Two-Crust Pie:

2¼ Cups pastry mix, ⅓ cup water.

Make a well in the centre of the mixture and gradually add water, working it in by using a cutting motion with a knife. Lift dough onto pastry board, pat and roll out.

TEA BISCUIT MIX
(makes 4-5 dozen biscuits, medium size)

8 Cups sifted all-purpose flour (or 9 cups sifted pastry flour), 4 tablespoons baking powder, 1½ tablespoons salt, 1 cup shortening (blended vegetable or lard).

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles fine bread crumbs. Store in a covered container in refrigerator or other cool place.

To Make 12 Medium Tea Biscuits:

2 Cups tea biscuit mix, ⅔ cup milk (appoximately).

Add milk slowly to mix, to make a soft but not sticky dough. Toss on a floured board and roll lightly ½ to ¾ inch thick; cut, place on a baking sheet and bake in a very hot oven, 425°F., for 12 to 15 minutes.

Wife Preservers.

Pour ice water immediately on grease that has been spilled on the floor. It will harden the grease before it can soak in, making it easy to scrape off with a dull-bladed knife, then wash the spots with hot soapsuds.

Are You A Good Daughter-in-Law?

(There are only two possible answers to each question, YES or NO)

29. Do you sneer at her to your friends?
30. When people make jokes about mothers-in-law, do you smile rather knowingly?

Now count up the number of times you've answered YES.

0 to 5 Times. — It's hard to believe that anyone so wonderful as you could exist. Either your mother-in-law is charming, or you are unbelievably sweet-natured, or else you're just not telling the truth.

5 to 15 Times. — You may congratulate yourself on a highly successful management of an extremely difficult relationship.

15 to 25 Times. — We don't expect many people to get better marks than this, but it would be so nice for your husband and your mother-in-law if you determined that you could.

25 to 30 Times. — Madam, you are a menace.

ASSOCIATE MEMBER CANADIAN CHAPTER

21 Grace Street LACHUTE Telephone 995

The couple pictured above were united in marriage recently at All Saints Church, Crawford Park, the Rev. Joseph Vokey, M.B.E., a cousin of the bride, officiating at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Barrie is the former Miss Gertrude Ann Vokey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Vokey, of Hingston Avenue, N.D.G., and Dalesville; and the bridegroom, Mr. Norman Barrie, is the son of Mrs. Helen Barrie, of Sarnia, Ont., and of the late James Barrie, of Glasgow, Scotland.

Marriage of Interest At Crawford Park, Que.

Barrie - Vokey

The marriage of Gertrude Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Vokey, of Notre Dame de Grace and Dalesville, Que., to Mr. Norman Barrie, son of Mrs. Helen Barrie, of Sarnia, Ont., and the late James Barrie of Glasgow, Scotland, was solemnized recently at All Saints Church, Crawford Park, the Rev. Joseph Vokey, M.B.E., cousin of the bride officiating at the double-ring ceremony. Miss Muloch was at the organ. White snapdragons decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace over satin and nylon tulle, the bodice accented by a net yoke with a high jewel neckline, the lace sleeves tapering to lily points over the hands, and the flared skirt of lace over nylon net and satin. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held by a sweetheart bandeau of tulle and pearl, while she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Malcolm Campbell, as matron of honor, in a pale blue taffeta frock having an off-the-shoulder net neckline, wore a blue net and pearl bandeau and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The best man was Mr. Charles Barrie, the bridegroom's brother, while Mr. Albert Barrie, another brother, and Mr. Harvey Vokey, Jr., cousin of the bride, ushered.

Mrs. Vokey, the bride's mother, wore a street length dress of navy blue crepe with toning lace and a pink flowered hat, her shoulder spray of Talisman roses. Mrs. Barrie, the bridegroom's mother, in navy blue printed crepe, wore navy and white accessories, a cluster of Sweetheart roses at her shoulder.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the rooms were adorned with spring flowers. Leaving on the wedding trip by motor for the Laurentians and Ontario, the bride wore a navy blue suit with a white flowered hat, her snakeskin accessories completing her costume. Upon their return, the couple will reside in Sarnia, Ont.

Several guests were present from Sarnia.

Tips for Picnickers

Save those empty egg cartons. They make excellent boxes in which to pack hard-cooked or deviled eggs, or later small fruit like plums. They are easy to carry in the picnic basket when packed in an egg carton. The box may be broken apart as desired, to provide fewer compartments.

* * *

When serving roast chicken at a picnic, try making sandwiches of bread and butter and the chicken dressing — then the chicken can be eaten in the fingers and you don't have to worry about forks for the dressing.

Modern Farm Wife Business Partner

Toronto (CP) — The farm wife of today is a different woman from the so-called "drudge" of a few years ago, Cyrille Laurin, Manager of Farmer's Magazine, told the annual meeting of the Ontario Retail Hardware Association here recently.

Mr. Laurin said the rural wife of today helps her husband in his business much more than she used to and far more than is generally the case in the urban family.

He said successful farming shows a decided and important trend toward the man, wife and family partnership. The partnership movement is vitally important to keep the young farm people on the farm and to give them an assured future at an early enough age to allow them to live lives of their own", he said.

Men Most Forgetful, Says Hotel Official

Montreal (CP) — Mrs. L. Walsh, in charge of the lost property department of a big Montreal hotel, believes men are the most forgetful creatures in the world — and she has plenty of evidence to support her belief.

"Since I have been looking after the hotel's lost property office, I have known them to leave everything in their rooms from a set of false teeth to a suit of evening clothes", she says.

Just then a man came into her office, looking uncertainly from side to side.

"I can't find my spectacles, I can't find my spectacles", he kept repeating.

A quick check through Mrs. Walsh's collection of lost articles uncovered the man's spectacles, for which he was very thankful. Mrs. Walsh explained that they had been found in the lobby of the hotel earlier in the day and had been brought straight to her by a porter.

Mrs. Walsh got a letter from a man in Copenhagen who wanted to know if he had left his umbrella at the hotel several months earlier. It turned out that he had and it was immediately sent to him.

Mrs. Walsh says that although women may not be as forgetful as most men, they usually forget something unusual.

"There was a women who left a mink coat behind", she recalled. "She wrote us about it nearly two months later. As soon as we established the validity of her claim we sent it to her."

Family Hospitality

— By NANCY CLEAVER — (Copyright)

"The fellows may drop in after the Scout meeting. How about some eats, Mum?

* * *

"Susan wants to hear my new records Friday night. She's coming over right after supper."

* * *

"The gang are going to the Saturday matinee. Could we throw a supper party without too much fuss?"

* * *

Home hospitality is valuable to a boy or girl at any age, but it is exceedingly important during the teen years. An adolescent is apt to know moments of insecurity about his place in his own age group. It is a great help to be able to ask "the gang" in at short notice or feel free to invite a special friend to enjoy music or a game or some other pleasure.

Informal entertaining is much less strain on a teen ager — and on the family — than a formal party. Any parent who is puzzled by the behaviour of a tall son or daughter when "company" is present should read or re-read that incomparable story "Seventeen" by Booth Tarkington. Turn to the chapter beginning "At Home to His Friends" for an amusing but painful picture of William's brain storm over dressing for the party for his best girl, "Miss Pratt!"

Recent surveys in different communities have brought to light the "beef" of many adolescents about the lack of parental friendliness to their companions. A boy may be critical of his father's ways, of his mother's hair-do, but all the same he wants to know he can bring his chums in the front door with him. Almost-grown-up daughter may think a small brother or sister a perfect pest. She may judge her mother as sadly lacking in sophistication, but nevertheless she does want, from time to time, to invite her friend or friends into her home.

Fathers and mothers are seldom asked why they are so reluctant about endorsing an "Open House" plan for younger members of the family. They may be very busy, or worried by financial or health problems. They don't do much entertaining of their friends, so why should they bother about their children's chums?

Sometimes parents consider hospitality a luxury which costs too much. Boys and girls who are earning money in their spare time with paper routes, running errands, baby sitting, etc., should share at least half the bill of "eats" for the crowd.

Dad may think, with good reason, that mother's job of running the house is already too heavy. Added to her regular duties, cleaning up in the morning after a teen age "do" the night before is no fun for her. Son or daughter should be smart enough to see to it that mother does not find her kitchen looking as if a cyclone had hit it after "the gang" have dropped in!

An older boy or girl do not want mother hovering around after a late show giving directions about the kitchen "clean up". With a little home encouragement, son or daughter can organize some co-operation for a "wash-up" gang or tackle the job themselves after the company has gone home.

Annual Convention Of Quebec W. Inst.

Advance notices of the annual provincial convention of the Quebec Women's Institutes are now out. This will be held June 24-26, at Macdonald College, and an agenda has been drawn up which will emphasize the role of rural women in the political, civic and educational life of the country.

Delegates to this convention are always appointed at the annual branch meetings in March and the names forwarded to the Q.W.I. provincial office. Programs and application forms have been distributed to all these this week and a large attendance is anticipated as several important changes in policy are to be proposed and discussed.

The annual board meeting will be held immediately preceding the convention, at the same place, with the first session scheduled for Monday afternoon, June 23.

FLY-BY-NIGHT PROBLEM

It is really much better to deal with the business man of your own town, who is there to stand behind the goods he sells you and to give you satisfaction for what you buy. When buying from the stranger who drops into town for a brief day or so and is never seen again, the person dealing takes the risk.

IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"Whether canned meats are a good buy or not depends on the kind of meat, and the price.

"I have found by comparative tests," continued the chef, "that canned ham, ox tongue, turkey, or chicken cost more per pound than the corresponding fresh or smoked meats weighed after cooking. When feeding the family inside the budget, these expensive meats should be home-cooked.

At Moderate Price

"But there are several moderately priced canned meats the homemaker can use. And she should not look down the nose at them. I mean what is called luncheon meat, canned chopped ham, corned beef and roast beef which is like the pot roast."

"When combined with other ingredients and seasoned for flavor-lift, a 12 oz. can furnishes enough to make an appetizing entree for four persons at low cost.

"Par example, Madame: luncheon meat sauce for spaghetti; canned chopped ham and rice croquettes; corned beef made into a shepherd's pie with canned peas and a mashed potato top; or curried beef made from canned roast beef."

Tom Gard's Note Book

During the past summer I was quite interested in what a friend had done for the junior members of the family. Down in the corner of the yard I noted that four braces provided supports for a canvas covering, and a couple of discarded drapes served to screen the front. Two squares had been cut to serve as windows, and the little girls were quite protected from the noon-day sun.

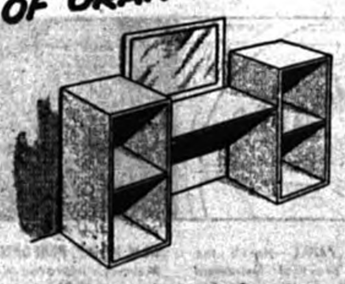

For rainy days, or during winter, accommodation had been provided in the basement, where the children could play house to their heart's content. Two orange crates, a connecting board and an old mirror served to make quite a nice dressing table for the children.

This same thoughtful father had assisted his son to make good use of spare time. Pieces of lath, picked up nearby where a house was being built, provided suitable material for a salad spoon and fork. The pattern had been taken from the pantry, giving the necessary outline. Patient work with keyhole saw, pocket knife and sandpaper finished the job. Now most of the boy scouts in the neighborhood are making similar sets.

A week ago, when visiting an Air Force station, saw how one of the boys had dressed up his recreation room with attractive pictures, which gave a third dimension effect. He had pasted down pictures (from advertisements, etc.) on quarter inch plywood. When thoroughly dry, using a coping saw, he cut close to the picture removing surplus wood. Then sanding carefully he trimmed the picture flush with the plywood. On the back of the cut-out he glued, or tacked, three small blocks. These prevented the picture from hanging flat on the wall. A small ring was used to hang the picture. The finishing touch was two coats of thin varnish to give the necessary lustre.

If refinishing or imitating antique furniture or objects, use a finish of raw umber and a glazing liquid; brush on and immediately rub off, working away from the centre towards the edges — or removing it from the high points of the carvings or mouldings. A light varnish gives the finishing coat.

When painting a bedroom, parlour, garage or den, you get a pleasing matching finish on such small accessories as coat hangers, handles of all kinds, tools, etc., by just dipping in paint and letting dry.

Boy Scouts The World Over

PRESIDENT OF SCOUTS

The Hon. Ray Lawson, Oakville, Ontario, was elected president of the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scouts Association, on the nomination of Canada's Chief Scout, The Hon. Vincent Massey, at the annual meeting in Ottawa recently.

NEW MEMBERSHIP RECORD

Canada's Boy Scout membership reached a new record of 134,215 at the end of March, 1952, an increase of 5,455 since December 31, 1951, when there were 128,760 members. At the end of 1945, census figures showed a total of 94,677 Scouts in Canada.

TIME'S REVENGE

"B.-P's Copse" at Charterhouse School, County of Surrey, England, has a special significance for Scouts — for here as a schoolboy Lord Baden-Powell practiced Scouting. The wood was out of bounds — so he learned to "freeze" when a master passed by, and he snared rabbits, skinned and cooked them over smokeless fires to avoid notice.

From April 23 to 28 last, thirty schoolmasters camped in "B.-P's Copse" to learn about Scouting.

TO REVIEW BIG PARADE

When from 6,000 to 7,000 Brownies, Wolf Cubs, Girl Guides and Boy Scouts held their 14th annual parade in Hamilton, Ont., on May 17, they were reveiwed by the Governor-General, the Hon. Vincent Massey, who is also Chief Scout for Canada.

FOR BOYS OF ALL CREEDS

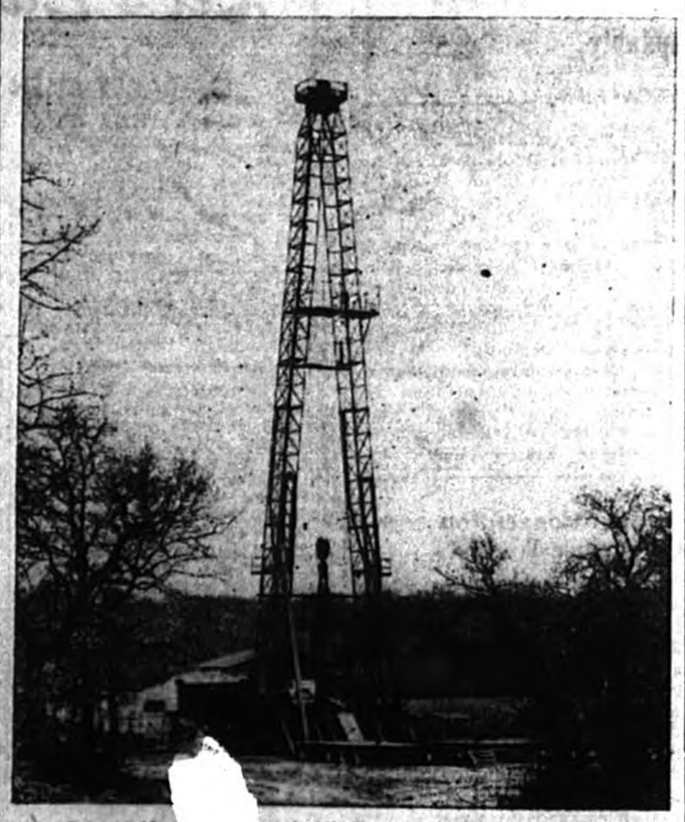

Canada's 3,024 Scout Groups embrace many denominations. Here are the affiliation: Anglican 455; Baptist 101; Hebrew 23; Latter Day Saints 37; Lutheran 23; Presbyterian 129; Roman Catholic 451; Salvation Army 74; United 444; other Denominations 25; Canadian Legion 90; Community 802; Handicapped 9; School 49; Service Club 166; Miscellaneous 146.

The 25 huge trucks left Nocona May 6 and were due at the northern field about May 20. Field operations, part of an ambitious program calling for one new drilling a week for 50 weeks, are slated to begin before the end of the month. A similar rig will start via truck convoy for the Leduc Field following completion of tests in Texas, according to Frank Kaftel, president and managing director of the company.

International Event At Sorel, Que.

Probably the greatest public event in the long history of Sorel is scheduled for Saturday, June 14, when cabinet ministers and top personalities of the governments and armed services of both Canada and the United States converge on the St. Lawrence River city for five-way ceremonies involving ships and guns for both countries.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, Defence Production Minister C. D. Howe and Defence Minister Brooke Claxton will lead the Canadian government representation at the event, which upwards of 10,000 people expect to witness. The United States party will include top personalities of both Navy and Army, and both Canadian and American ships of war will be at anchor in the river during the ceremonies.

Two of Sorel's main industries are involved in the event, with guns from Sorel Industries Limited and ships from Marine Industries Limited being turned over to Mr. C. D. Howe's Department of Defence Production, which in turn will present guns to the U.S. Navy, the U.S. Army and the Royal Canadian Navy; an Arctic Patrol Vessel and a new type minesweeper to the R.C.N.

Mrs. St. Laurent, wife of the Prime Minister, will christen the Arctic Patrol Vessel, H.M.C.S. Labrador, which will be put into operation by the Royal Canadian Navy as a patrol and weather ship for both North American countries. The minesweeper—H.M.C.S. Chignecto — built mainly of aluminum, will be christened by Mrs. Claxton, wife of the Defence Minister, and is also to go into service for the R.C.N.

Two types of guns are to be naval guns will be turned over to Limited. Twin-barrelled 3"/50 naval guns will be turned over to the U.S. Navy and the Royal Canadian Navy, and the first 120-mm. anti-aircraft guns will go to the U.S. Army.

"Our Brother's Care"

Shut-In's Day, Sunday, June 1

Shut-In's Day is an annual international day set aside to encourage remembrance of the sick and disabled, that it may bring some extra cheer and fellowship into the lives of those who cannot mix in the normal social life of unhandicapped people.

Patrons are the Lieutenant-Governors of the Provinces.

A book was written some time ago entitled, "Fifteen Decisive Battles of the World".

Even in our day when battles rage more fiercely than ever before, the greatest and most decisive are not those fought in bloody contests of arms; they are those waged in the hearts and souls of a great host of men and women engaging the doughty foes of the human spirit: Pain, Helplessness and Depression. Such a conflict is liable to end in defeat unless reserves are brought up to bolster morale and to make resistance more vigorous. These reserves are furnished by friends and neighbors and fellow-mortals from far and near, and these reserves are Sympathy, Understanding, Remembrance and Kind Service.

Shut-in's Day (June 1) is an occasion for all to unite, both sufferers and sympathizers, in the crusade against Gloom, Melancholy and the giant Despair, with the forces of Faith, Courage and Hope in whose sign alone sufferers become victors.

Remember the Shut-in, especially on the first Sunday of June, by making him a call or sending him a card, by taking him for a ride, or best of all, taking him to his church.

"Help us to help each other, Lord,
Each other's cross to bear;
Let each his friendly aid afford,
And feel his brother's care."

— Rev. D. W. Williams

In East Berlin they're telling about Premier Stalin's efforts to find out what the man-on-the-street really thinks about him. Carefully disguised, Stalin went into a Moscow saloon and struck up a conversation with a Russian worker. After a few drinks, he casually asked the worker how he really felt about Premier Stalin. The worker looked around the room fearfully, then beckoned his drinking partner to follow him out of the saloon and down the street. When they were out of sight and earshot of eavesdroppers, the worker looked around once more to be sure no one was listening, then whispered softly into Stalin's ear: "I'm in favor of him".

Soissons was the first French city to make compulsory the bottling of milk sold at retail, and has been provided with a bottling machine by UNICEF. now doing it. Here again, he meets opposition. Foremen and fellow workers are often reluctant to have someone working among them who is physically handicapped.

Once this opposition is overcome, however, it is a different story. These people have shown that they can more than hold their own in a job where their disability is not a hindrance. Of the hundreds placed, only a small proportion have proven to be failures, even in heavy industry. In many cases, the disabled worker does so well that the placement officers are asked for more of them.

Even with these encouraging results, however, there is a huge backlog. There are new applicants all the time. At present Mr. Appleby has over one thousand applicants in Montreal waiting for jobs to be found for them.

The speaker urged his audience to remember that "we are all physically handicapped to a certain degree". He asked that employers give "recognition of ability instead of disability."

Mr. Appleby was introduced by Keith Russell and thanked by King Amos. Two guests, Mr. J. G. Lamontagne, of Lachute, and Mr. Harry Greenspon, of Hawkesbury, attended the meeting.

That the St. Simeon's Society of Dramatic Players are making a name for themselves, was well evidenced Saturday evening when the Lachute Auditorium was filled by an attentive and appreciative audience who witnessed the comedy presentation, "The Adventures of Grandpa".

The play throughout was interesting, and at times had listeners in fits of laughter — many complications and difficulties arising, with poor old Grandpa seemingly the cause of it all. However, as generally happens, all ended well, with everyone happy; and those an evening well spent.

OBITUARY

Late Alexander Dewar Was Among Oldest Residents of Arundel

Arundel — The death occurred here on Saturday, May 10, of Mr. Alec Dewar, one of the older residents of Arundel. The deceased was born in Grenville, and was one of the sons of the late Alexander Dewar and Hannah Thompkins. He settled in Arundel in 1905, and during his residence here married the present Mrs. Dewar, widow of the late William Boyd. He was a faithful attendant of the Masonic Lodge and a member of the Anglican Church, both of which will feel his loss keenly.

The funeral was held on Tuesday, May 13, from the residence, where a Masonic service was held by the officers and members of the Laurentian Lodge 81, after which the body was conveyed to Grace Anglican Church, the Rev. Mr. Busing conducting the funeral service. Three favorite hymns of the deceased were sung, "Abide With Me", "Fight the Good Fight" and "The Sands of Time Are Sinking". Mrs. Wm. Morrison, Sr., was organist.

The deceased is mourned by his widow, two sons, Sandy Dewar, of Parent, Que., and David Dewar, of Arundel; also a sister, Mrs. E. Walker, in Chicago.

The floral tributes were both numerous and beautiful, testifying to the esteem in which the late Mr. Dewar was held by numerous friends and acquaintances in the community.

Interment was made in the Arundel Cemetery. Pall-bearers were Rt. Wor. Bro. Percy Staniforth, Wor. Bros. Dr. W. L. Morrison and Harry Boyd, Bros. Edw. Graham, George Champagne and Alfred Morrison, of the Masonic Order.

Among those from out of town attending the funeral were Dr. and Mrs. Allan Taylor, of Trenton, Ont., Mrs. David Dewar, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Grant Boyd, of Parent, Que., Mr. S. Dewar, also of Parent, Que.

The sympathy of the entire community is tendered to the bereaved family.

Graduation Exercises At Morin Heights

(Our District Correspondent)

Morin Heights — On Friday evening, the Grade IX pupils of the Intermediate School held a dance in honor of the Grade X class. Following a program of musical numbers intended for the Music Festival, the chairman of the local School Board, Mr. Willis Seale, called the graduating class to the platform, where Dorothy Wood, of Mille Isles, was valedictorian. Corrine Watchorn, of Christieville, read the class history, Geraldine Kirkpatrick, of Mille Isles, read the "last will and testament" of the graduating class, and Denis Baskin presented the class prophecy.

Principal M. Blakely then introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Robt. E. Jamieson, O.B.E., Dean of Engineering at McGill, who spoke to the graduating class on the value of Education, with particular emphasis on engineering as a vocation. (Mr. Jamieson is well-known and highly respected in this community; he has a summer home at Lake Echo, and is a member of the local council.) Mr. Jamieson was thanked by C. E. Seale.

Dancing was then enjoyed by the pupils, parents and other guests.

Brownies' Ceremony At Brownsburg

Brownsburg — Last Thursday evening in the hall of the Brownsburg United Church, five new Brownies were enrolled in the Brownsburg Pack. Parents of the Brownies and members of the Local Association were present to witness this interesting ceremony, conducted by "Brown Owl" Miss Alfreda Zimmer. Due to the measles epidemic, only five of the 12 candidates were enrolled. These included — Sandra Silverson, Judy Petley, Helen Beecroft, Kathryn Stephens and Sandra Steere. Helen Galbraith led the Pack in the Brownie Prayer.

Several presentations were made, consisting of a Golden Bar to Joan Murdoch, and three-year Service Stars to Willow Dixon-Smith, Linda Murdoch and Carol Damant.

Proficiency Badges were awarded to the following —

Skater's — Linda Murdoch, Willow Dixon-Smith, Judy Elliott, Judy Donaldson, Nancy Freeland and Linda Graham.

Collector's — Willow Dixon-Smith.

Home Orderly's — Helen Mason, Willow Dixon-Smith and Linda Murdoch.

Pathfinder's — Willow Dixon-Smith and Linda Murdoch.

Judy Donaldson was invested Sixer of the Lepricons, and Heather Galbraith as Second, while Nancy Freeland was invested as Second of the Kelpies.

A competition in knot-tying followed, many of the Brownies showing remarkable speed and skill in producing the various knots, and calling forth much applause.

At the call of the Brown Owl, the Brownies formed their Fairy Ring, gave their "Squeeze Goodbye", sang "Taps", and left the hall by means of the "tunnel".

Graduation Banquet and Dance Held at Arundel

(Our District Correspondent)

Arundel — On Friday evening in the school auditorium, the Students' Council of Arundel School tendered a banquet and dance to the graduating class of 1952.

The banquet took place at 7.30, and guests at the head table included the School Commissioners and their wives, the teaching staff, the Rev. and Mrs. Busing, Principal F. H. J. Royal of Lachute, Mr. Shirley McKyes, and the graduates — the Misses Beverley Graham, Francis Gray and Mae Labelle, and Lloyd Gray.

The head-table was tastfully decorated in the school colors, green and yellow, with green candles placed at intervals and flowering plants, which lent a gay atmosphere to the occasion.

The toastmistress was Miss Joan Bennett, vice-president of the Students' Council, and the toasts proposed were — "The Queen", by Lloyd Gray; "the Graduates", by Charles Johnston, responded to by Mae Labelle; "the School", by Dr. W. L. Morrison, responded to by Mr. Royal. The vote of thanks was given by Miss Francis Gray.

The remainder of the evening was spent in round dancing, with the Lachute High School orchestra in attendance, adding much to the enjoyment of the dance. The parents of the pupils from Grades VI to X were guests for this part of the evening, as also were the graduates of former years.

The committee in charge of decorations is to be highly congratulated. The ceiling of the auditorium was completely hidden with green and yellow streamers, interspersed with groups of balloons, while around the dance space were set small tables in cabaret style, and in place of the overhead lighting, numerous floor lamps shed a mellow light. The stage and orchestra setting were also tastefully decorated.

Approximately 150 guests attended this function, which was pronounced an unqualified success.

Art and the Home

— By D. C. Muller

Lighting

Probably one of the most important chapters in home planning is Lighting. This includes both natural and artificial. I will discuss natural lighting first.

How much light should a house get? Modern tendency is to allow as much as possible, with glass, and glass bricks. Glass bricks are costly; therefore, until the cost comes down considerable, they will be used primarily for decorative purposes. This will tie in as much as possible with functional design as well. Yet it is not possible, unless you are quite wealthy, and where cost is no consideration, to build entirely with glass.

There is another problem too, that is the breakability of the material. It is possible for a little child to do a lot a damage in such a house. Glass bricks, though, are tough, and can stand much abuse. Sheet glass can be obtained in an "unbreakable" form. Also, if you have a large sheet, you need another sheet, set off about an inch, creating a vacuum for insulation purposes. If you don't have that extra sheet in the winter, even with proper heat, the cold can penetrate the area by the glass; but with that extra sheet, all the space can be heated evenly.

Why do they place so much emphasis on light?

The new United Nations Building is made almost entirely, on the front and sides, of glass in one form or another. It is unusual for a building to be constructed with so much glass, yet the workers occupying the building think that it is wonderful, for on dull, dark days they can get all the light that it is possible to obtain. In the home that is important, for when the children cannot go out it is still possible for them to be in the sun. Also, it makes the home brighter, and reduces the cost of electrical bills. It also makes the home more livable, in that lightness is more enjoyable than the gloom of the former days.

One of the most unusual characteristics of Old English estates, is the amount of light. Those houses will never go out of style, nor be solemn-looking inside. The trend set in the Elizabethan days, however, was changed, from functionalism to flamboyant. This is where they went off the track, because it persisted, until we again found that, with high prices, we had to turn again to functionalism.

Lachute Tigers Triumph in Week-End League Events

Initial triumphs in the Laurentide League schedule for Lachute Tigers baseball team, gave the locals a 12-3 victory over Ste. Therese Sunday afternoon, and a 4-0 score against the same team here on Sunday evening.

The evening clash was the opening event for Lachute Stadium. Horace Lamarche, Chamber of Commerce president, pitched the first ball, and Lionel Laurin, president of L'Association Sportive, was the catcher. L'Abbé Chas. Gougeon was at bat.

On Saturday the Tigers defeated Joliette 11-1 at Joliette.

This evening, Thursday, Valleyfield will visit Tigers as the schedule gets into full swing after delays due to unpropitious weather.

Big-Time Baseball, Souces of Supply

By Gerry Lougheed,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Red Rolfe, manager of the Detroit Tigers baseball club, figures the pennant races of the last few years have been dominated by ready-made stars from a source of supply that no longer exists — the negro leagues. Consequently Rolfe forsees a general levelling-off during the next couple of seasons.

The Tigers got off to a poor start this season and Red said he couldn't see any really bright prospects for this team in the immediate future.

"We had to start from scratch to build up our farm clubs after the war", said Rolfe, "and we're just beginning to get a few players from them. But if it wasn't for the players from the negro leagues, most of the other clubs would be in the same boat — except the New York Yankees."

Rolfe figured the Cleveland Indians wouldn't have gone very far last season without the sparkling play of negroes Luke Easter and Larry Doby. "Or where would Brooklyn have ended without Jackie Robinson, Don Newcombe and Roy Campanella? Or the New York Giants without Henry Thompson, Monte Irvin and Willie Mays?'

Those players were the cream of the crop harvested from the negro leagues after Brooklyn magnate Branch Rickey broke the ice by signing Robinson as the first negro to play in modern organized baseball. Although Mays — a rookie sensation last year and now slated for army induction — may be considered as a product of the Giants' farm system, Rolfe said that they were able to bring him along rapidly because of his previous experience with the Birmingham (Ala.) Black Barons.

The Yankees, with the best-equipped farm clubs of any major league organization, managed to get most of their new talent without going outside their own system. But other clubs — such as Detroit — which didn't join in the bidding for negro stars haven't fared so well.

From here on, the situation won't be the same, Rolfe declares. The negro leagues folded after losing their outstanding stars and no longer can supply players who are ready for the majors. Now any new talent getting up to the big time will have to come through the regular minor league channels.

Livestock Entries Closed, Indication of Outstanding Show for Spring Fair '52

Horse Show, Harness Racing, Bigger Midway, Vaudeville, Handicraft and Junior Contests to Provide Full and Interesting Program, June 11-14

With the closing of entries for exhibits, there is every indication of another big livestock show for Lachute Fair this year. All breeds of cattle will be represented, with a large number of new exhibitors as well as those of former years. Horses, sheep, swine and poultry are again entered in force, assuring one of the best exhibits at Lachute to date.

The Fair also offers for the amusement of all those attending, a bigger Midway than ever, with many rides designed especially for the children. Vaudeville will again be presented, with four acts each evening and afternoon, starting Thursday. Harness races will be run in the afternoon of these three days also.

Judging begins on Wednesday afternoon for the horses, with the Horse Show every evening and breeding classes each day. Judges this year will be Farrell Vincent and Frank Hodgson for the light horses, and John Saunders for the heavy horse classes.

Cattle classes begin on Thursday, the Jerseys and Guernseys being judged that day by Professor Alex Ness, of Macdonald College. The Guernseys are a new breed, so far as this Fair is concerned, this being the first year they were included in the Prize List. Dual-Purpose Shorthorns and the Beef breeds will also be judged Thursday, placings being made by J. G. Gibson, of Caledonia, Ont.

Ayrshires and Holsteins will again hold the Friday spotlight — judges being J. C. Watt for the Ayrshires and D. S. Dunton for the Holsteins.

The Sheep, Swine and Poultry placing will be held on Thursday, as in former years, being judged by Professor Hamilton, George Mayrand and John Tilt, respectively.

The handicraft and home-cooking classes have been opened to anyone wishing to participate this year, and a remarkable response has been evidenced in this department.

Wednesday will feature a buck-saw contest in the afternoon as an added entertainment, the finals being staged on Saturday evening.

Saturday once again features "children's day", with free entry to the grounds for all kiddies under 12 years of age, reduced prices for rides in the Midway, and the judging of the students' handicrafts, home-cooking and, of course, the Calf Club.

GRADUATION DINNER AT B'BURG SCHOOL

Stewart Jones of Lachute In Role of Principal Speaker

Brownsburg — In a break with tradition, the parents of the graduating class were invited guests at the graduation dinner given by the Students' Council, with the assistance of the Brownsburg Branch of the Women's Institute. It was a cheerful and festive occasion, as well as being interesting and instructive. There was an air of good fellowship and pleasant association throughout the evening, and the various speakers were appreciated and applauded.

Mr. "Pat" Reilly, chairman of the School Board, opened the proceedings by calling on Steve Istvanffy to say "grace". Bruce Mason called the toast to the Queen, after which the guests fell to and did justice to a delightful repast. The Institute are to be congratulated on the splendid achievement their culinary art provided, and the perfect manner with which it was served. It was a triumph of blended tastes.

Paul Zsombor gave the valedictory address — a headline of precise and carefully reasoned appreciation of the benefits gained, and effort expended, in the decade during which he attended school there. (Paul is a worthy student, of serious mein and pleasing disposition. He leaves Brownsburg this year for higher schools, and may we hope, a brilliant future.)

Clarence Mott in his Farewell to Grade X revealed a clear-thinking grasp of the road ahead; this student, too, is gifted with a pleasing and clear enunciation, so easy to listen to.

Principal King Amos introduced the main speaker, Mr. Stewart Jones, whose address was based on the application of business practice to life; taking stock and planning. Mr. Jones traced the course of his own adventure through life, with an admonition to beware of the pitfalls he encountered, and a hope that future essays be improved upon. It was a very interesting talk, and interestingly delivered. There were many rich examples of conduct and character, providing an inspiration and goal to govern the journey through the years that lay ahead.

Miss Marlene Trayers thanked Mr. Jones for his instructive glimpse into the future, marking the sign-posts that showed the way, and the pitfalls that needed avoiding. To the teachers she handed encomiums of praise for a difficult task well done, for their loyal, helpful and earnest assistance in making that moment possible.

A dance followed the evening's festivities, at which a large number of students, parents and friends participated. The hall was beautifully decorated. There was a lavish use of flowers entwined in the school colors, with the crest of Brownsburg Consolidated School predominating.

SOMBRE PICTURE OF KOREA PORTRAYED BY ROTARY SPEAKER

Club Hears Missionary From Battle-Torn Korean Territory

The Rev. Howard Doig, in an address to the Rotary Club at Brownsburg last Thursday, painted rather a discouraging picture of the situation in Korea.

Recently returned from missionary work in Korea, the Rev. Doig assured his audience that we are in a "shooting war". It is his belief that the North Koreans do not want peace, they prefer instead to enlarge the war. The country itself is by now, of course, in ruins. A country of high, treeless hills, it presents tactical problems never encountered in the European war.

The men doing the fighting are well equipped, well fed, well clothed. Their chief problem, however, is some place to go to get away from the fighting. There are no villages left, and nothing to go to. Occasionally, they get a short leave in Tokyo, but even this has its limitations. Many of them spend much of their spare time trying to alleviate some of the suffering of the natives. The Rev. Doig stressed the tragic circumstances of the South Koreans, particularly the orphans.

The speaker urged his audience to do what they can to keep the Korean war in the minds of the public, to write to any men they know in Korea, to reassure them that they are not forgotten.

The Rev. Doig was introduced by Mac Walker and thanked by Dave Schwartz. Guests attending the meeting were Larry Aylieff, Geo. Richard, Sonny Ogilvie and Don McFaul.

Highway Casualties in Crash Near St. Eustache

Montreal — Pierrette Lafrance, 16, of Ste. Scholastique, was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital, Montreal, with a fractured skull following an accident in which five others suffered slight injuries on Highway No. 8 near St. Eustache Sunday night.

Fernand Gerard, 19, and Isabella Drouin, 16, of Ste. Scholastique, were in an auto being driven toward Montreal by Norman Mainville, 19, of St. Benoit. In the car that was in collision with it were Mrs. N. Cyr, 40, and Cecile Cyr, 31, of Montreal.

Woman Drowned From Canoe, Near Shawbridge

Montreal — Mrs. Paul Lamequin, 23, and her husband, of Barclay Ave., Montreal, were thrown from their canoe when the light craft overturned in a lake near Shawbridge on Saturday. According to police, another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miron, both 20, of Montreal, saw the upset and paddled out to help, but their craft turned over too. They reached shore safely, as did Mr. Lamequin. Mrs. Lamequin was drowned; her body was recovered two hours later, and taken to the St. Jerome morgue.

Toll of Industrial Accidents Stressed at Gathering and Public Rally in Lachute

Annual Campaign Sponsored by Quebec Association For the Prevention of Industrial Accidents

The conference of the Quebec Association for Prevention of Industrial Accidents, held annually in this centre, opened Monday evening with a supper meeting at the Hotel Laurentien, attended by approximately 50 employers and foremen of local industries and several leading citizens, under the chairmanship of A. Gordon McOuat, of T. McOuat & Son Ltd.

Guests at the head-table included Philippe Valois, M.P.; Wm. M. Cottingham, M.L.A.; Horace Lamarche and Leopold Carriere, presidents of Lachute Creamery and Lachute Lumber and Millwork, respectively; A. Ord Anderson, personnel supervisor of C-I-L, Brownsburg; and Jean-Paul Roy, secretary-treasurer of Dominion Shuttle Co. Ltd.

Paul A. Cooke, joint-manager of the sponsoring Association, conducted a forum and showed films on Occupational Safety instruction. Messrs. L'Abbée and Morin were others representing the field staff of the Association.

Safety instruction in industry today is based as much on psychology as technique, stressing the importance of the human factor. It is not possible to change human nature, but the aim is to fully understand it and use such knowledge to the best advantage.

It is highly important that supervisors teach the why's and how's of machinery operated by their employees, particularly novices. Every operation must be minutely analysed. The employee's interest should be ensured, he should then be given a trial with the machine or equipment he is to operate, then checked to verify that he has grasped the correct procedure. Particular hazards, and proper precautions, should be fully explained.

Approximately 60,000 industrial accidents happen yearly in this province — hundreds proving fatal and many causing serious disability. Such accidents have cost our industries $14,500,000 annually — without mention of the terrific cost in human suffering. It is therefore worthwhile to give serious effort to curbing this toll.

The Association has launched a challenge to all industries — the month of June without an accident!

Messrs. Paul Cooke, A. G. McOuat, Philippe Valois, W. M. Cottingham and Leopold Carriere addressed the meeting.

A public rally for all workers, with presentation of a film program, was held Tuesday evening in the Auditorium.

"Mr. Texas", First Western Film on Christian Theme, To Appear at Auditorium

"Mr. Texas" — the world's first Christian western picture, which has been produced by the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association —is appearing currently in a series of premiere showings in various Quebec and Ontario centres. The film will be shown here at 6.30 and 8.30 p.m. Wednesday, June 4, at Lachute Auditorium.

Produced by Great Commission Films of Hollywood, and directed by Dick Ross, the picture stars Redd Harper and Cindy Walker, both former professional screen players who have given their lives and talents to Christian service.

The picture tells the story of Jim Tyler, a Southwestern cowboy who wanted success above everything else, so that he might be known as "Mr. Texas". Oil wells, cattle raising, rodeo riding, all are part of his climb to fame. Well on the road to success and recognition, he is angered when his sister becomes a Christian during the Billy Graham campaign in Fort Worth. A serious rodeo accident sends him to hospital, and the resulting impact of a Christian message on his life has a strong appeal to the viewer.

Interspersed throughout the film are scenes from the Fort Worth Campaign, with an evangelistic message by Billy Graham, scenes from the counselling room, the prayer and preparation behind the campaign, and actual broadcast scenes of the "Hour of Decision", weekly coast-to-coast broadcast of the Graham team.

Outstanding music plays an important part of the film, with George Beverly Shea and the 1,000 voice Crusade Choir singing "The Railroad Song", "Wonderful Peace", and "Just a Closer Walk with Thee". New songs sung by Redd Harper and Cindy Walker include "Beloved Enemy" and "Wide Rollin' Plains", both written by Miss Walker, and "Each Step of the Way", written by Mr. Harper. The musical setting is provided by the Sons of the Pioneers and the orchestra score is by Ralph Carmichael and a concert orchestra. The world famous Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band is featured in the rodeo scenes.

The film is being shown here through the efforts of Bob Klemm, pastor of the People's Church, Lachute, from whom further information may be obtained.

PREMIER HERE JUNE 5, FOR OFFICIAL OPENING OF FORESTRY FARM

A large number of farmers and woodlot owners from Argenteuil and neighboring counties in Quebec and Ontario are expected to attend the official opening of the Canadian International Paper demonstration forest farm at Harrington, on the Rouge River, by Prime Minister Maurice L. Duplessis, on Thursday June 5, at 2 p.m. Harrington is 37 miles from Lachute, and special arrows and road signs will show the way to the new tree farm, which covers an area of 12,000 acres.

The idea behind the C.I.P. project is to encourage farmers to consider trees as just another farm crop, which can be harvested profitably year after year.

Now that the Company's pulp mill at Hawkesbury has been converted to the use of hardwoods, farmers in the surrounding communities have a ready market for the hardwood growing on their private woodlots.

Various demonstrations in tree planting and other sylviculture operations will feature the official opening of the Harrington tree farm.

Farmers will have an opportunity to witness the performance of a log loader developed by foresters working under the supervision of Mr. "Manny" Wilson, director of the Harrington project. Another piece of machinery worth seeing in action is the small tree planting implement which can be attached to any farm tractor. Mr. Duplessis will be invited to operate one such tree planter.

Found on Highway, Severely Injured

On Route 31 near Carling Lake last Saturday evening, Chas. Kennedy, a Brownsburg resident, aged 39, was found lying on the highway, apparently suffering from severe injury. Passers-by, John Duncan and three companions, returning home to Brownsburg from a fishing trip, placed the injured man in their car and brought him to that village, where Dr. F. W. FitzGerald was summoned from Lachute. He found the man suffering from a broken arm, back injuries and general contusions. The physician ordered the victim's removal by ambulance to Montreal, where hospital examination revealed he also had a fractured pelvis.

No information was given to explain the cause of the man's condition.

Chamber of Commerce 'Caravan to Granby' Proves Interesting Venture

Radio Broadcast Gives Publicity to Occasion; 120 Members and Guests Enjoy Outing, Viewing Granby's Civic and Industrial Sights

Sponsored by the Lachute Chamber of Commerce, in connection with its program of Industrial Education, the eagerly anticipated visit to Granby became a reality on Wednesday. As scheduled, some 40 cars carrying approximately 120 members left Lachute Auditorium at 8 a.m., escorted at front and rear by radio and police cars. It was truly a "caravan" in modern style, and printed cards on each auto advertised the fact that a visit to Granby was in progress.

Through kindness of Messrs. Jas. Lowe and Y. Robert, of the Sunset Barbecue, an ice cream breakfast was served and various members were recorded on CKVL for radio broadcast during the afternoon and evening. This is an ideal spot to stop for meals, light refreshments or ice cream, and from the spacious upstairs restaurant there is a splendid view of an adjoining attraction — a fine swimming pool.

The party left this point at 10 o'clock, again escorted by police, and reached Granby just as workers were on their way home for noon lunch. With sirens blowing, the long string of cars attracted considerable attention, and some effective publicity in bringing the name Lachute to the fore, as was also done in the radio broadcast.

Mayor Horace Boivin of Granby extended a cordial welcome and invited all to sign the civic visitors' book which, he stated, contained the names of many notable persons. The City Hall is a building of which Granby is justifiably proud, being well and artistically designed, with spacious and attractive grounds in front.

At the luncheon, Mayor Boivin gave an interesting discourse on the ways and possibilities of attracting new industries, and referred to the many opportunities that both smaller centres and the whole of Canada had to offer.

Appreciation was expressed by ex-Mayor Leopold Carriere, of Lachute, and Gerard Lefebvre presented Mayor Boivin with a Certificate of Merit from the Lachute Chamber of Commerce. An invitation was extended to the Granby Chamber to pay a return visit to this town.

Other notables of the Scouting movement are also expected to attend this big event, which will bring together the Scout Troops and Wolf Cub Packs of the entire Laurentian Division.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETINGS REPORTED FOR MONTH OF MAY

Arundel W.I. meeting was attended by 26 members. Mr. H. Cavill was guest speaker, dealing with the topic, "Women's Place in the World of Today". The meeting was under the convenership of Mrs. A. Scott (Citizenship). An afghan and a quilt are to be auctioned at a bazaar in July, the proceeds going to W.I. work.

Brownsburg reports an attendance of 32. Members enjoyed a short course on Weaving, given by Miss F. E. Campbell. It was arranged to have Mr. Donald Muller, Art teacher from Lachute High School, judge paintings in the Art course, and to have the four works selected sent to the W.I. convention at Macdonald College. . . The sum of $5 was donated to the Children's Memorial Hospital. Plans were made to cater for the Scout Rally in Lachute, and for the Brownsburg graduation banquet. . . Mr. Mansel Wilson, of Canadian International Paper Company, was guest speaker, his subject being "What Is a Forester, and What Is His Work?" He stressed the proper management of forests in order to preserve our Canadian economy, mentioning also the Harrington Forest Farm development and the Grenville Woods Division of the C.I.P. He then showed a film, "In Partnership With Nature".

Frontier branch had 29 members and guests present, including ladies of the Brownsburg W.I. — the meeting being held in Brownsburg Consolidated School, under the convenership of Mrs. Basil Clark (Agriculture). The sum of $10 was voted to the Children's Memorial Hospital, also $10 for School Fair work. Mr. Keith Russell, Agriculture teacher of Lachute High School, showed two films on Conservation.

HOLE-IN-ONE AT OUTSET OF LOCAL GOLFING SEASON

"News and Views in Golfing Circles"

(Specially Contributed)

The golf season is here at last and, in spite of Old Sol and his inconsistency, the course at Lachute is in excellent shape for this time of year. Many of the golf fraternity have been out already and some good rounds have been turned in, including a hole-in-one by Lucien Barrette on Saturday, May 23.

The local season was under way officially last Friday, when President Gilbert Ayers presided at the annual meeting of the members of the Lachute Golf Club.

The meeting elected the following to the Match and Handicap Committee:

Vice-Captain, Ken McGibbon.
Assistant Captains — Les Thompson, Pat Carriere, Lionel Gaunt, John Watson and Bill Steeves, Jr.

Following the election, the president outlined briefly the plans for the coming season, after which Jack Archer, the popular club professional, held a short discussion on the major rule changes that have taken place since last season.

After adjournment of the meeting, the members were favored with a very fine piano recital by

Damage at St. Hermas in Early Morning Blaze

Special to The Watchman and L'Argenteuil

An outbreak of fire occurred at 5 o'clock last Saturday morning at the establishment of Esdras Pesant at St. Hermas, destroying a shed, an automobile, a large quantity of building lumber and extensively damaging a blacksmith shop. An adjacent grist mill was saved, thanks to the efforts of volunteer firefighters and fire equipment from St. Hermas Village and Ste. Therese. A provincial official of the Department of Lands and Forests, who happened to be in the community at that time, also gave valuable assistance with a powerful chemical extinguisher. The blaze was under control by 6 a.m.

Tourist Centre Opens In Hawkesbury

The Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity officially opened a tourist reception centre in the Town of Hawkesbury last Friday, in time for an anticipated influx of visitors during the holiday week-end. It is hoped to make this centre a valuable adjunct to the tourist business of Hawkesbury and surrounding district.

'GROWING PAINS' IN NEW AYERSVILLE FINANCIAL SET-UP

Ayersville Council will shortly appoint evaluators to assess properties with a view to preparing a new valuation roll. The present roll is comparatively recent, but rapid strides in construction since last year make it advisable to draw up a new roll.

New business tax levies were adopted by the councillors last Monday, at their regular meeting under the chairmanship of Mayor Gilbert E. Ayers. All the by-laws applicable to Chatham Township remain in force for the new municipality, but in the case of business taxes, it was considered advisable to make amendments, notably in certain tax reductions.

The Council is continuing its efforts for the prolongation of Ayers Street to join Route 8 — Ayers Limited having agreed to give, without charge, right of way for the required width on its property. Negotiations have been undertaken with other proprietors concerned, Messrs. D. G. Simon and W. E. Hammond, through whose land the projected road would also pass.

Philias Lévis, town foreman, is to be sworn in as a special constable, but will not wear police uniform.

Requests were made by the municipality to Gatineau Power Company for the installation of three more street-lights.

Bicycle permits are now available, and all owners are required to procure these without delay, from the secretary-treasurer, Armand Brisson.

The municipality is still without an established financial status — pending adjustment of its affairs with Chatham, the homologation of a new valuation roll, the adoption of a budget and, thereupon (with Quebec approval), the issuing of debentures.

Novitiate Student Drowned at Carillon

A religious brother of the Ste. Croix Order, an inmate of the Novitiate at Carillon, met his death by drowning in a small artificial lake near the institution building last Friday night. The victim, Brother Laurent Desbiens, was only 19 years of age.

He was missed from his dormitory Friday night, but his misadventure was unknown to his fellow students until next morning, when a boat was found adrift on the pond at the rear of the building (formerly known as the Bellevue estate). It was believed the young man had rowed out at 7.30 p.m., and in some way had fallen into the water. His body was seen by the Superior of the institution at 6.30 next morning. The victim was in water four feet deep, holding his spectacles in one hand; it is believed he may have stooped to reach something, and toppled from the boat.

Funeral rites at the Ste. Croix Novitate on Monday were followed by his interment at St. Laurent. The young man's widowed mother, Mrs. Joseph Desbiens, Saint-Philippe de Charlevoix, and relatives reside in Charlevoix County.

Circumstances of the accident were investigated by Det. Philippe Therriault, of Lachute, and the district coroner, Dr. Jules Lafleur, gave a verdict of accidental drowning.

Stephen Foster, who wrote songs about the south, was a northerner.

Gatineau LINES

Planned Interruptions

This is the time of year when our line crews are busiest, making repairs, putting lines into shape, making summer connections and doing the highly important maintenance work which couldn't be done in the worst part of the winter.

That means men are working on lines making improvements which, one way or another, will be of benefit to all our customers. Sometimes it is impossible to do certain parts of the work without cutting the power off for a short time. That is a "planned interruption".

As far as possible, we try to tell our customers in advance about a planned interruption. Sometimes, though, it isn't possible to warn everybody affected. If the power goes off in the afternoon, particularly on a clear day when it is unlikely that trouble from storms might occur, the chances are it is a planned interruption.

In cases like that, you can be assured that line crews are working at top speed on something which is of utmost importance to good service, and that the interruption will be made as short as possible.

A word to farmers operating brooders, in this connection. If you will let us know about the brooders, we will take special care to interrupt your service only in the case of utmost necessity, and then we will try to let you know in advance how long the interruption will last.

CALVES SENT TO ITALIAN FARMS

Montreal — Some 350 calves, all Holstein heifers from Ontario and Quebec, were recently shipped to Italy from the Montreal stock yards, in what is believed to be the first shipment of its kind to that country.

The calves, from three to seven months old, were brought to Montreal in eight Canadian National Railway stock cars and later shipped aboard the S.S. Nadia for Trieste, Italy. They are being sent to build up the depleted herds there.

A Clean Range For Chickens

Ottawa — A good clean range is essential for the successful rearing of strong, vigorous stock. Clean range means land upon which no chickens or other poultry have been kept for a period of time long enough to allow all diseases and parasite eggs to die — usually two or three years.

Since disease is perhaps the greatest limiting factor in poultry production, isolation and sanitation throughout the brooding and rearing periods are of first importance, says J. L. Tessier, of the Experimental Station, Kapuskasing, Ont. The young stock should therefore be raised on an area isolated from the pens of older birds, preferably on ground not ranged by chickens for several years, since some of the commonest diseases of poultry are passed along from the old birds to the young stock.

The isolated area should be large enough that rotation of pastures can be employed. For instance, if a field were divided in quarters, it is a simple matter to plan a rotation whereby the flock is moved each successive year onto a clean alfalfa pasture. This allows three years for each field to become clean before again having poultry on it. There are various kinds of rotations. At Kapuskasing a four year rotation of one year of oats and three years of alfalfa and clover, has given satisfactory results.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the value of good clean pasture in the poultry program. From 10 to 20 per cent of a growing bird's feed requirements from 10 weeks of age to maturity, may be saved where good range is available. Therefore, pastures should be kept short, lush and leafy so as to supply a feed of high nutritional value. Since it is the tender new growth that is most appetizing and makes the most nutritious pastures, the mower should be run over the range to keep the green feed tender whenever the growth becomes too coarse and high. Sunshine also helps to keep the chickens healthy and promotes the proper development of bones.

The feed and watering troughs should be moved every few days for a distance of at least 15 feet to reduce contamination of the ground around them. It is important to have portable shelters, and to move them frequently. This practice will improve the sanitation and more completely utilize the pasture crop.

Another factor of importance relates to the overcrowding of the chicks on range, which increases mortality. An acre of alfalfa range will accommodate 400 birds. Growing chicks which have access to a clean range will develop into strong and healthy birds at lower feed costs.

Columbus Brought Cane

On his second voyage to the New World, Columbus brought cane cuttings to Hispaniola, the island that is now the Dominican Republic and the Republic of Haiti. By 1509 sugar was being produced there in profitable amounts.

Fertilizing Pastures

Ottawa — The benefits from fertilized over unfertilized pastures are well illustrated by the results of trials conducted for a number of years by the Division of Field Husbandry, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, and at several of the Eastern Branch Farms.

In the Ottawa districts on the basis of forty different fertilizer trials conducted over a number of years, fertilized areas produced, on the average, 60 per cent more herbage, on a dry weight basis, than unfertilized areas. The fertilizer treatments had a beneficial effect on the composition of the herbage as well as on yield. Fertilized plots contained, on the average, 50 per cent more clover and 30 to 40 per cent less weeds than unfertilized plots.

At Lennoxville, Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere and Normandin in Quebec, average increases of 50, 55 and 63 per cent respectively were obtained by fertilization.

In the Maritime Provinces, at Fredericton, N.B., Nappan and Kentville, N.S., and Charlottetown, P.E.I., fertilized plots have produced over 50 per cent more than unfertilized plots.

It is not possible to suggest any one fertilizer that would be suitable for all soil and climatic conditions. In general, phosphorus is almost certain to be required, and on heavy soils where legumes grow naturally, it may give the desired increase. Where clovers do not grow naturally, the use of fertilizers containing nitrogen is generally advisable. In addition potash is usually necessary for sandy soils.

In the interests of economy there is a limit to the amount of fertilizer to apply. A liberal initial application of not less than five hundred pounds will generally be the most economical. This should be followed by similar treatments at intervals of three or four years.

C.P.R. Appointment

A. J. Mahon, a native of Quebec City, has been appointed general passenger agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal. His territory includes the Maritime Provinces as well as Quebec, part of eastern Ontario and the eastern United States. Joining the railway at Montreal in 1913, he has been general passenger agent for the C.P.R.'s prairie region at Winnipeg since 1948.

Meeting of Orange Order, Provincial Grand Lodge

Delegates to the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge at Bristol, Que., on May 24, from the County of Argenteuil were:

L. Tomalty, N. Morrison, L. Ward, C. Ingram, W. J. Cooper, V. McVicar, S. McLean, N. Dewar; the Misses S. McVicar G. Noble, Dumoulin, Mrs. G. Ball, Mrs. S. McLean, Mrs. P. McVicar, Mrs. S. Holt, Mrs. Copeland and Mrs. E. Copeland.

The Grand Lodge sessions (both L.O.A. and L.O.B.A.) were held in Pine Lodge, Bristol, being largely attended by delegates from all parts of the province.

The report of the Orange and Protestant Children's Home at Rosemere, Que., was particularly encouraging; the debt is gradually being reduced in addition to meeting the running expenses. The health and happiness of the children is gratifying. The Orange Association expects to celebrate July 12 on the grounds of the Rosemere Home.

When Sirens Sound Music

NOISE adds no attraction to life on Main Street, for those unfortunate enough to live there. But there is one prevalent addition to the pandemonium which affords some degree of compensation. It is the siren of the patrol car, which has been heard repeatedly these past few Saturday nights — indicating that the police are on their job to curb speeding and the disregard of stop-signs.

We can put up with this sort of noise, in moderation, in the assurance that it is a step to safeguard our townsfolk and our children from speeding drivers, who have defied the elements of safety too long.

The siren of the curfew, at 10 p.m., is another nightly sound not too offensive to the ear. This, too, is an indication that local by-laws, framed for the town's well-being, are to be observed and not ignored.

What Do American Tourists Want?

THERE ARE some conflicting ideas on the tastes and desires of visiting tourists; and to decide on any doubtful question, it would seem the best solution is to place oneself in the visitor's shoes. In our tours to farther fields — be it overseas, to the United States, or to Canada's vacation spots — we are definite in the things we like, and emphatic about those which displease us.

Comes to our attention the action of a local storekeeper, who demanded a 10 per cent exchange on American money (exorbitant beyond excuse). . . . Have we been treated thus across the border? We have. . . Did we like it? We did not. . . No matter what satisfaction one may find in such retaliation, it is both unfriendly and undignified.

The French-Language Congress diocesan committee, convening recently at St. Jerome, called for a general application of French in signs and publicity throughout the Laurentian tourist area. . . Is the move well-founded? We hope so. It has our personal favor; but we are not so sure of its enthusiastic acceptance by strangers unfamiliar with the French tongue.

When our American friends come to Canada they are visiting a foreign land, and they do certainly want to have the feeling that this is a nation different from their own.

They do not want the Stars and Stripes waved in their faces, proud of their own flag though they are. Some Canadians drag out the American flag on every possible occasion, with the idea that they are being courteous to American visitors. This is not the case. The only time the American flag should be flown in this country is at some joint Canadian-American undertaking. To fly it at any other time is bad manners. American tourists want to see the Union Jack or the Canadian Ensign flying in Canada, not their own flag.

Canadians should get away from the idea that Americans are flattered when we name our restaurants "The New York Beanery" or use some other pseudo-American name for our tourist enterprises in the hope of inveigling tourists to come in. Cheap imitations do not make an American visitor feel at home. There are fine Canadian names which are seldom seen. Canadians perhaps should get to know their own history better.

We must do everything we can to build up a sound reputation for hospitality, to smooth the way for American tourists in search of Canada. We must see to it that American visitors get full value for the money they spend here. And most important, we must be ourselves!

American tourists want to get to know Canada and Canadians. We must impress them with the fact that we are a courteous, fair dealing people, glad to welcome them to our country.

Safety on the Farm

FROM statistics garnered from the National Safety Council, farmers lead a rather dangerous life. For every one killed accidentally many more are seriously injured. In contrast to such occupations as mining, construction and transportation, farm injuries are mounting.

While the increasing use of machinery may be the cause of the rise in the accident rate, farm animals are still a major hazard to the rural worker. In one report they are at the top of the list, with horses causing the most mishaps. Cows and bulls come next. A third of the farm casualties are among children due to the fact they are allowed to ride or be close to operating machinery.

One cannot blame farm machinery for being the major cause of the mounting rural accident frequency rate. Axes and pitchforks take a sizeable annual toll and they have been used for centuries.

There is no doubt that when one analyses the causes of farm accidents, carelessness will be found to be the chief reason behind them. Manufacturers of modern farm machines are careful to place safety guards on them. These are removed when repairs are being made and often are not placed back. Safety instructions on pesticide containers are disregarded and since many pesticides are poisonous, death or painful illness could occur from carelessly handling them.

While industry has well-developed safety campaigns, the farmer is usually on his own and suffers most when he is laid up from an accident. It is up to the individual farm, therefore, to organize its own safety program and conscientiously follow it.

Origins of Passing Interest

IN A 1774 New York paper, a caterer, Phillip Lenzi, announced he had just arrived from London, England, and was prepared to supply to the gentry various confections, including ice cream. Three years later, the New York Gazette - Mercury carried other advertising for Lenzi, in one of which Lenzi offered to supply "ice cream of what sort they please to order". These are believed to be the first public mentions of, or advertisements for ice cream on this continent.

Ice cream and water ices had been known in Europe for many years before the method of making reached America. Marco Polo is credited with introducing frozen confections in Europe. When he returned from a trip to Asia at the end of the 13th century, he brought back a recipe for making water ices, which is said to have been used in Asia for thousands of years before.

The first appearance of ice cream in America occurred about 1700. There is record of a Governor Bladen of Maryland writing of a dinner, "we had a dessert no less curious; among the rarities of which it was composed, was some fine ice cream, which, with the strawberries and milk, did eat most deliciously". This was probably the first ice cream sundae.

— Quite a delectable topic, too, as springtime brings our first suggestion of warm weather, and ice cream will soon reach the seasonable peak of its popularity.

T'aint Funny

There's nobody so sad and solemn
As he who writes a comic column,
Unless it is a circus clown
Who usually tries to drown
His sorrows at the nearest bar —
While in the ring he is a star!
Comedians, and funny folks
Who make a living cracking jokes,
Convulsing all with merriment
In theatre, or hall, or tent,
Usually seem, in private life,
To be weighed down with woe and strife. . . .
The reason for this is because
They thrive on laughter and applause,
So when the show is over they
Have no incentive to be gay.
The curtain falls, the lights go out,
There's hardly anyone about —
So to his room the funny guy
Retires with a mournful sigh.
He's not invited out to dine
Nor loaded down with cakes and wine.
The folks who paid their dough to hear him.
In private life would not come near him.
And so he says, "There may be money,
But there's no fun in being funny."
Next time you see me any place,
Just holler, "Hi-ya, Sourface!" . . .
There's nobody so sad and solemn
As he who writes a comic column.

Be seein' ya!

Apartment Drawback

We have heard many arguments between country and city dwellers as to the respective merits of living in either place. None made the impression that a brief scene we happened to see last week-end did. During a drive through the countryside surrounding Montreal, the driver of the car in which we were travelling stopped as we watched a group of about five boys, ages 5 to 11, romp in a field.

There was only one difference between these lads and similar groups which may be seen clowning around the parks and playgrounds in any city. These boys had dogs. For each boy there was a dog. All were nondescript (the dogs, that is!) and all followed faithfully in the footsteps of their masters.

But we know that from the faithful obedience and sheer unselfish love that these dogs were lavishing on the small boys that their lives were richer. And that, whether aware of it or not, they were learning lessons in companionship, love and fidelity that will stand them in good stead when faced with the many moral, ethical and problems of courage that require a decision in later life.

The boy brought up in a city apartment too seldom is allowed the companionship of a dog or pet of any kind. They miss a precious part of growing up. We feel that this is one of the strongest points that can be made for raising a family outside a large city.

—R. T. Rudd in The Alcan Ingot

When his doctor advised a change of climate, the eastern city-dweller went looking for a healthful place to live in the Southwest. In a small Arizona town he approached an old-timer sitting on the steps of the general store.

"Say", he asked, "what's the death rate around here?"

Spring Song in the Rain

"Sunnyacres Sketches" — By Margaret Cook

As we write, Nature seems to be determined to laugh at us. The rain bombards the metal roof, drops like hail stones from the trees, and blows from all quarters if one ventures out. We ought to know, because we are just back from a jaunt to the second well, a bad 200 yards from the house. We wore army oilskins, trousers, cape and a cute little sheik's turban number with rubber boots to complete the ensemble; in them, we were secure from the rain but hot and cumbered. So now we know how the Army felt on manoeuvres. After that, the old house welcomed us with its softly glowing floors, the color of old pumpkins. The big range gave off a gentle warmth, also the delectable odor of roasting turkey. Altogether, there are worse spots, even if it is sodden rather than sunny.

So here we all are (I speak for the summer colony) on another 24th. Soon it will no longer be the 24th, but the 25th or 26th, or what-have-you. All holidays on a Monday, is certainly a sensible thing and pleasing to Labor, which must be placated at all costs, but it will take at least a generation before people are reconciled to the less of some undefinable sense of continuity inherent in the words Victoria Day, Dominion Day, etc. We hear also that we are in danger of losing the designation Dominion Day; it is, we believe, to be Canada Day. It seems that some people are touchy about the word "dominion"; a slight touch of illiteracy, perhaps — why not consult a reliable dictionary? Anyway, there is nothing so irritating as the person who is always detecting an insult where none is intended. We take that back; perhaps the person who never notices a snub is even worse. We once had the experience of living in the staff quarters of a college and, as you may know, life there can be very difficult. In the course of our avocations we must have mortally offended a colleague, for she did not speak to us for three months, of which the writer was blissfully unaware until a friend, seeking to avert a painful encounter, enlightened us. At that time, we had two friends both suffering from the name Myrtle. It doesn't do to call one, affectionately, an old so-and-so, if the other and more mature one is within earshot.

It is hard to give any endearing report of life at Sunnyacres, when one is immured indoors, but it is a fact that the Whippoorwill is back and calls all night long from his dusky coverts, the Canada Bird (white-throated Sparrow) tells of his love for his country at frequent intervals, and the frogs continue their orchestra, but only the light strings are near the house; we have to go to Long Lake to hear the bass viol. Indoors, Peter, the grey Persian, purrs happily in the heat of the stove. This year, he is the cat of the house, the senior cat having died last November. Life here enthrals Peter; never a dull moment, says he — mice, rabbits, June bugs, bees — life is just too full; he hardly stops to eat. Just now, he is asleep on one of the beds; how much we could learn from cats, or, indeed, from all animals! If fate makes fun (that is, active fun) impossible, cats simply curl up and sleep it out. Very sensible. We remember reading of a famous man who, when asked what was his favorite sport, replied he had none, that if he by chance felt like taking a walk or other excercise, he lay down quietly till the feeling passed away.

There has been no opportunity for a long walk, but on the trip to the well, we noticed with approval the blue violets nodding their heads to the hard rain-drops, the white ones simply lifting their faces to it. The ferns are at the stage where they are fiddle-heads. We always mean to try a dish of these, esteemed as a delicacy in New Brunswick, but have never got around to it. The apple trees are late this year with their blossoms, there is just a faint sense of pink about them, as yet. The lilacs are still little tight mauve cones. On the other hand, the narcissi are early, the grape hyacinth is flourishing and there are even a few late daffodils in the shadier parts. All the wild cherry blossoms are out, making the countryside a fairyland. We have three graceful sprays in the house, against the pale yellow wall they have a faintly Japanesey air. The rest of the household is strictly Canadian. The man of the house is doing something gruesome in Physics; the aunt who keeps us company, is making a braided rug; and two little girls on the porch are chanting a weird ditty around an imaginary witches' brew. Presently, they inform us, they will be changed into bats. I do not know what then evolves, but I hope they have not read up on vampires.

Speaking of children's games, we have been listening lately to those endless chanties that accompany skipping games. We particularly liked this one:

I had a little brother
And his name was Jim.
I put him in the tub
To see if he could swim.
He drank all the water
And he ate all the soap.
And he died a little later
With a bubble in his throat.
In came the doctor,
In came the nurse,
In came the lady
Out went the doctor,
Out went the nurse,
Out went the lady
With the alligator purse.

— And there, suddenly, it stops, leaving the unfortunate Jim in the tub, we suppose. Presumably, the demands of the rhythm are fulfilled. One wonders where these nonsense jingles originate; they are probably authentic folk songs handed down from generation to generation. They may even, in some cases, have had some factual origin. It is a fact that the Mother Goose rhymes were originally political satires — the "Sing a song of six-pence" one, having to do with the unfortunate habit of Henry VIII of seizing monasteries, especially those which had waxed wealthy, so "Wasn't that a dainty dish to set before the king?"

Guests are due shortly, so Mary had better become Martha, the meal so far consisting solely of turkey and pudding.

Double-Ring Ceremony In Church at Lakeview

Bethune - Hutton

Pink and white snapdragons arranged with fern formed the decorations in the Fraser Memorial Presbyterian Church, Lakeview, on Saturday evening, May 10, at seven o'clock, for the marriage of Edith Sarah, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hutton, of Lakeview, to Mr. Linton Cameron Bethune, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Bethune, of Lost River, Que. The Rev. Dr. W. Harold Reid officiated and Mr. Harold Banton played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length dress of white lace and satin with a fitted bodice and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. The yoke of nylon marquisette was embroidered with pearls, and her fingertip-length veil of embroidered tulle illusion was held in place by a pearl coronet which matched her dress. She wore a rhinestone necklace and earrings, and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and American Beauty roses.

Miss Norma Williams, as bridesmaid, wore a floor-length dress of pale blue taffeta with a fitted bodice, cap sleeves, and matching mitts. The yoke of her dress was of nylon marquisette and her short veil was held in place by a crown of pleated net. Her jewelry was rhinestones, and her bouquet was of pink and white gladioli.

Miss Jean Ambeault, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a floor-length dress of yellow taffeta fashioned on the same lines as the bridesmaid's dress. Her short veil was held in place by a band of flowers, and she carried a basket of mauve and white sweet peas.

Mr. Wenville MacMillan was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Wilbert Ambeault, and Mr. Wm. White.

Mrs. Hutton, the bride's mother, wore a dress of navy sheer with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Bethune, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in navy crepe with navy accessories, and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Following the reception, held in Weir Church hall, Mr. and Mrs. Bethune left for a short trip, the bride wearing a dress of pale mauve crepe and lace topped by a light beige shortie coat, a white hat and navy accessories, her corsage being of yellow roses.

FAVORITE TUNE

Sheffield, England (CP) — Mrs. Rose Monfredi, who often offended the authorities by sounding the horn of her ice-cream truck on Sundays, went to court recently for replacing the horn with a musical box which plays "Auld Lang Syne". But Mrs. Monfredi was acquitted — the court decided that the tune was a good one and annoyed only the police officer who made the arrest.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS

What's Cooking in Your Neighbor's Pot?

Travel abroad in your own home! Enjoy the romance of Vienna or the mysteries of the Orient at your own dining room table! Probably the most fascinating thing about travelling is sampling foods of other lands, but you can do it without travelling. Many cooks have built up remarkable reputations by serving foods that are foreign and different.

Foreign cookery has many thrilling ideas to offer. The home economists of the Consumer Section at Ottawa have been exchanging recipes and ideas with some New Canadians and have found new ways to season foods, sauces they have never tried before and many different ways to serve meats and vegetables. Of course, other countries may have many foods that are not available here but many ideas can be adapted to Canadian foods. These adaptations are often just as good as the original.

China is the cradle of all Far Eastern cookery. Many of its exotic dishes have distinctive flavors. Pork and chicken are the most common meats in China. Vegetables, the standby of their diets, are cooked for only a short time. When cutting vegetables for Chinese dishes, be sure to cut the pieces on the slant as they do in China. A simple Americanized version of a Chinese dish that can be made with leftover pork is "Sub Gum". Here is a recipe for it, from the home economists:

Sub-Gum

One 4-ounce can mushrooms, 2 tablespoons fat, 2 cups diced cooked pork, 1 tablespoon chopped onions, 6 stalks celery (2 cups sliced diagonally in ½-inch pieces), 1 green pepper, cut in strips (optional), 1 cup pork gravy, 1 20-ounce can bean sprouts, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, 3 cups hot cooked rice.

Drain mushrooms, reserving the liquor, and brown in hot fat in large pan. Remove mushrooms, add pork and onions and sauté until lightly browned. Add browned mushrooms, celery, green pepper, gravy and mushroom liquor. Cover and simmer until celery is tender, about 30 minutes. Add drained bean sprouts and soy sauce and simmer 5 minutes. Arrange rice in a ring on a hot serving dish and pour pork mixture in centre of ring. Serve immediately. Yield: four to six servings.

Most Europeans have great respect for food — they have had to do much with little and are rated among the world's best cooks. French cuisine has contributed much to our own, both in the names of dishes and in the actual preparation of them. Their hors d'oeuvres, omelettes and subtle use of spices are known the world over. Perhaps Canadians can learn most from their "potage". Soup in France is different from soup in Canada. It usually makes up the whole meal. It is quite thick and has a rich meat and vegetable flavor. Here are some ideas for making soup, from the home economists of the Consumer Section. French cooks brown soup bones in a hot oven first to give the soup an extra rich flavor and color. The vegetables also get special preparation. Almost any combination is used but the French find that too many carrots, turnips or cabbage give it a sweet taste. The cut-up vegetables are sautéed in butter until slightly brown for added flavor, then simmered with the bones. To make the soup richer and to give it more body, egg yolks are sometimes added at the last minute.

In French cookery water is never used in gravy. There is always a supply of stock in every home, which is boiled down to a thick jelly-like consistency and used in place of water to make the gravy.

The "Smorgasbord" is known as the "National Institution of Sweden", where a table is set apart from the dinner table, laden with a countless variety of foods. These are served buffet style before dinner as appetizers and consist of a tantalizing selection of bread, meats, fish, cheese, eggs and vegetables prepared hors d'oeuvres style. In Canada smorgasbord becomes a whole meal rather than just appetizers.

The Dutch love of food is depicted in many Dutch paintings. "The Potato Eaters", for example, shows a group of well-fed men sitting around a well-stocked table. Their food, such as "Hutchpot", is filling and healthful. In one type of "Hutchpot" all the vegetables are cooked together, then mixed and served around a brisket of beef. Another dish is made by wrapping pieces of raw veal around hard-cooked eggs, then boiling until the meat is tender. Spices are commonly used. Nutmeg is added to many cooked vegetables, particularly to beans. Another interesting fact is that a type of French toast which the Dutch often eat is flavored with cinnamon and lemon juice.

New Emphasis on Design Development Boon to Home Owners

The shape of the plastic mixing bowl, the design of an electric iron, the appearance and utility of a desk lamp, the development of a kitchen range, all have a new importance and a new meaning today in Canada. Research into the better design of Canadian products is now being promoted in all parts of the country, and, as new designs and new products appear, Canadian home owners from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Prince Rupert, British Columbia, are the beneficiaries.

Some Canadian schools and universities have co-operated with manufacturers in presenting practical projects to advanced students for experimental purposes. These projects to date have been for improvement of lighting equipment, improvement of kitchen ranges, for "time and motion saving" kitchens.

Consultant designers are also being brought in more and more by factory management themselves to assist, and in some cases, direct surveys of consumer needs and reactions to proposed changes in household equipment. Much of the emphasis here is on the kitchen — the city and rural housewife's domain!

Recently, the Canadian Association of Consumers asked its 12,000 members across the country if they were satisfied with the design of the many useful articles for the home. They found that the majority of those answering thought most stoves sold these days have ovens placed too low. Other surveys made by manufacturers, however, dispute the theory that consumers will buy or even want ranges with higher placed ovens. And so, today, Canadian manufactureres in this field are considering all sides of the question.

One of the jobs of the National Industrial Design Committee, with headquarters in Ottawa and members in all parts of Canada, is to co-ordinate research of this nature. Members of this Committee, which was formed in 1948, include some 30 Canadian manufacturers, retailers, designers, research and educational officials and representatives of government departments interested in design.

The principal aim of the Committee since its inception has been to promote the greater use of Canadian talent in the design of Canadian manufactured objects, produced by Canadian workers. To this end, the Committee has been holding product design competitions which have attracted as many as 300 entries, and presenting scholarships to advanced students in co-operation with the Industrial Design Division of the National Gallery of Canada.

NEW STAGE STAR AUDREY HEPBURN CHARMS CRITICS

Ranks with Veteran Actors In Comedy "Gigi", But Only 23 Years Old

New York (AP) — Pert and pretty, Miss Audrey Hepburn has become Broadway's latest star since making her debut here in the title role of "Gigi". Only 23 years old in real life, she plays a 16-year-old to perfection.

After the premiere of this play, critics heaped so many praises on Miss Hepburn's performance, that producer Gilbert Miller ordered her name mounted in lights as the star of this new comedy, which has a supporting cast of several veteran stage stars.

Miss Hepburn has brown hair, short bangs in front and a long bob with slight curls over the ears and back of the neck. She looks exactly offstage as she looks onstage with the exception of scenes in "Gigi" where she is dressed up in fancy clothes and her hair put up in a stylish fashion.

"Being a star", Miss Hepburn said, "doesn't make you feel any differently".

This was her first legitimate or "straight" play on the stage. She had been a dancer in the London production of 'High Button Shoes' and she was in several English musical shows after that. Meanwhile she continued her singing lessons, worked with her ballet classes and took occasional model assignments. She played minor leads in two British films and in one French film.

A Worried Star

"Now that I am a star on Broadway," Miss Hepburn said, "my immediate reaction was that I became suddenly worried."

"As a star I felt that I was far more open to criticism. It may be wonderful to have your name in lights, but I've just begun to work and worry."

She was born in Brussels, Belgium. Her father was Irish and her mother Dutch. Shortly after her eleventh birthday, the Germans entered the Netherlands and she went to school there under a Dutch name, emerging with a perfect command of the English, French, Dutch and German languages.

"I studied some ballet during the German occupation", she said, "but I had to give up my classes as we were so short of food that I couldn't walk up the stairs to my home after exercises in my dancing class. We were rationed to a half-loaf of bread, made of brown beans and husks, and a pound of potatoes a week.

"We went to Holland from Belgium because my mother thought it was safer there. It was safe nowhere, as we found out."

PICKLES BOOST FARMERS' TRADE

Kentville, N.S. (CP) — Now it's pickle week, and of all places, here in the Annapolis Valley, where the apple blossom festival is an event preceded by year-around planning.

Observanance of Pickle Week this year was marked with an official proclamation from Mayor R. W. Rottler, who was presented with a huge cucumber — in the form of an ash tray — before the ceremony.

The pickle business is the newest of the industries providing a shot in the arm for Valley farmers these days while the apple industry is depressed.

In the late 1850's, evaporated milk was sold on the streets of New York. It was ladled out of 40-gallon cans to the consumers' containers, in the same manner as fresh milk was sold in the early days.

When honey is shipped from province to province, it must be inspected for cleanliness, tested for water content, then graded and marked. A great deal of honey sold within the province where it is produced is also graded. Honey is graded No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3. It is also classified according to color which indicates the flavor. Generally, the darker the honey, the stronger the flavor.

Several of my young married friends have asked me for suggestions for a new type of buffet meal to serve guests on Saturday or Sunday night. For instance, they asked about a pork dinner that is easy to eat because no knives are needed, and that can be prepared in advance.

"It would be interesting, different and easy to have an Italian style buffet, Madame," observed the Chef. "It would also be inside the budget. We could have plenty of substantial soup, a very big salad bowl with my new version of the pizza, and for dessert, your new orange zabaglione. Although made with orange juice instead of marsala, it has the approval of this Chef."

Under the leadership of Miss Helen G. McArthur, the president, nurses from all parts of Canada and representing all fields of nursing will discuss ways and means by which they may serve the community more effectively. Demonstrations and exhibits of recently adopted nursing methods will also be given at two of the sessions during this important convention.

Guest speaker will be L'Abbé Arthur Maheux, L.Litt., M.S.R.C., Archivist at Laval University, who will deliver the Mary Agnes Snively Memorial address. His topic is to be "National Unity".

Pimiento Tricks to Brighten Vegetables

By BETTY BARCLAY

Whole canned pimientos can be the quick and easy means of "dressing up" many ordinary dishes. Their mild, spicy flavor and vivid color will vary the monotony of your family's favorite vegetables and give them pretty airs worthy of special luncheons or dinner parties.

Try chopping pimientos into the peas, beans or lima beans. Or dice them into the white sauce for cheerful vegetable casseroles. Use a cookie cutter to shape leaves or flowers for especially festive garnishes that will add piquance to cauliflower, turnips and potato dishes.

Pimiento Party Beans

1 Package frozen lima beans, 1 4-oz. can or jar whole pimientos, 1 7-oz. can mushrooms, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 small onion, minced, salt, pepper.

Boil lima beans in 1 cup salted water ten minutes. Sauté minced onion in butter, add mushrooms and liquid, and add to lima beans. Boil gently for another five minutes, season with salt and pepper. Garnish with leaves or other shapes cut from whole canned pimientos with the aid of a cookie cutter.

Perfect Tuna Casserole

IF ever a dish deserved the compliment, "How Perfect," this tuna combination is it. One try and you'll see. It's so perfectly easy to make, perfectly grand to eat.

The luscious flavor team of condensed cream of mushroom soup and tuna give the dish its high-powered come-on for eaters. And if you want a Lenten dish, just use cream of celery soup instead of mushroom. Results are equally pleasing.

Right on your kitchen shelf, you can keep the makings for this one. A can each of mushroom soup, tuna, and green peas—plus a bag of potato chips. It turns suppers into something special, is a perfect choice for luncheon parties. The cost will cheer you too.

Perfect Tuna Casserole

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup milk
1 7-ounce can (1 cup) tuna, drained and coarsely flaked
1¼ cups crushed potato chips
1 cup cooked green peas, drained

Empty soup into a small casserole; add milk and mix thoroughly. Add tuna, 1 cup potato chips and peas to soup; stir well. Sprinkle top with remaining ¼ cup potato chips. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings. Garnish with whole potato chips around edge if desired. Note: For Lent, use condensed cream of celery soup instead of mushroom soup.

SOUP SCOOPS

Springtime Garnish For Soup: Cream of celery soup looks all dressed up for spring with a bright green garnish like chopped chives or parsley. Treat the family to this on St. Patrick's Day or the First Day of Spring.

Hi-Hat Spaghetti Casserole: A Lenten dinner to be proud of is this. Pour 2 cans (3½ cups) of spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese into an ungreased 1½-quart casserole; place in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 20 minutes. Meanwhile beat 4 egg yolks lightly; combine with ¼ cup shredded Cheddar cheese. Beat 4 egg whites until stiff; fold in yolks. Pile eggs on top of spaghetti; continue baking at 375° F. for 30 minutes or until lightly browned. 6 servings.

"Soup-Prise" For Lent: A soup combination that calls for extra big bowls is made by mixing 1 can each of condensed clam chowder and cream of celery soups. Add 2 cans of milk slowly, stirring constantly. Simmer about 5 minutes.

FOR PARENTS ONLY...

A Weekly Feature of Helpful Hints on Child Training

Parents and Cheating

— By NANCY CLEAVER — (Copyright)

"To cheat and live with myself is tough — but to fail in an exam and face mother is much worse — so I choose cheating, if I can get away with it!"

This was the frank comment of an adolescent to a trusted counsellor who was trying to help him with his extreme nervousness at examination time.

What do you think of it? Where would you place the responsibility for the boy's using another student's answers — on him? or on his mother?, or on both of them? At least his conscience bothered him sufficiently that he felt uncomfortable about it! But his last remark showed that to him the important thing was not to get caught!

How would you feel if the boy who said this was your son? Do you expect such high marks from your boy or girl, that cheating in order to come up to your expectations, is a real temptation? This is worth thinking about.

Parents don't want their children to cheat at school. Whatever may be their own practices in "fooling" the customs, or a store, or turning a sharp corner when it comes to money, they hope that their children will act "on the square". It seems too bad that some fathers and mothers refuse to see that the best way to teach honesty is by their own example. Not just one occasion, but throughout the years, a child is quietly observing whether or not mother or dad have a code of right and wrong which they stick to!

Mothers and fathers naturally desire to be proud of their child's school report. They could do more than they do, in many cases, to help their child in his studies. Not that they can do his studying for him — that is his job.

The last thing they want to produce is a "little leaner". A girl who looks to mother for a nod before giving an answer, or a boy who waits till Dad can help him with a difficult arithmetic question, without even tackling it himself, are not being genuinely helped. They are being hindered in learning to stand on their own feet about their school work by their mis-guided parents.

But when a child is in the lower grades in public school and begins to have homework, a parent can see that there is a definite place with good lighting where the student can work. Proper lighting is very important, to avoid eye-strain. A comfortable chair and steady table, and the minimum of interruptions are essential too.

In some homes, children declare that they can study "fine" with a radio going full blast — but how can a child concentrate easily and keep his mind on his work with music, conversation and announcements all competing for his attention?

A boy or girl often needs a little encouragement in planning a schedule for home work. Here again there should be a fixed time every school night for studies. Shortly after supper, at seven or seven thirty, according to the age of the student, has been found satisfactory in most homes. The study period should be long enough to complete the necessary assignments without feeling hurried and with a short break every half hour.

Youngsters need to be free between four o'clock and supper to see their chums, to follow their own special interests and play. They like a little time right after their meal and at bed time to relax and read or do some handicraft or whatever appeals to them. But if Studying Time is fixed by the clock — this saves mother from nagging at them that they "should begin soon"!

Faithful, efficient studying usually prepares a child well enough that when tests or exams confront him, he won't be in a panic. If he keeps up with his work from day to day, he should have confidence in his ability ot pass.

Here again the parents' interest in their child's progress will be of assistance. They should accept him as he is, and not expect a brilliant record if his abality with books is only fair. Possibly he has a mechanical bent or a flare in some line in which he will be successful in earning his living, even if he is not among the honor students.

Almost every child is bound to have a little fling at cheating "the same as the rest of the kids". A mother does well not to be terribly shocked if she discovers that her dear little Johnny is in hot water over copying the answers from the boy in front of him. But she should make it quite clear that cheating is something which is stupid and foolish as well as a disgrace. Without preaching at him, a parent can gradually get it across to her child that it is vastly more important to do the right thing, and rely on your own work at school, than it is to make higher marks, based partly on another scholar's knowledge. Character is shown by what a boy or girl does in writing exams or anything else when no one is looking.

Leadership Training Course This Week at Macdonald College

The annual Leadership Training Course, sponsored by the Quebec Women's Institutes, has been in full swing at Macdonald College. With a maximum enrolment of 40 this got underway Monday, May 26, with a brief meeting before classes, at which the provincial president, Mrs. G. E. LeBaron, North Hatley, wished those attending a happy and fruitful week.

The title expresses the purpose of the course: "Facts, Fingers, Fun". Members are trained for leadership in these three phases of any community program; how and where to get facts, crafts, and recreation; and the almost perfect attendance every year testifies to the value W.I. members attach to this provincial project.

A generous grant from the Provincial Department of Agriculture helps to finance this course, and the balance is met from the Q.W.I. Service Fund, which was established and is kept up by voluntary contributions from the branches. The fact this fund is thus maintained at a working level, is further tangible evidence of the influence this course has in promoting the work of the Q.W.I.

BCG Vaccination Against Tuberculosis

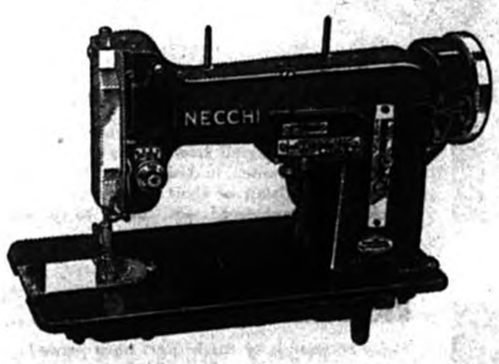

Dr. Johanne Bentzen, writing in the current number of "Health" magazine on the use of BCG vaccination against tuberculosis, says, "We have used BCG (Bacille Calmette Guerin) in my homeland, Denmark, on an increasing scale since 1925, and on mass scale since 1940, and I might mention in passing that we have not seen one single case of tuberculous meningitis among vaccinated children in all the years this vaccine has been used there. At the present time we are vaccinating about 14,000 a year in Copenhagen alone — a city about the size of Toronto".

BCG was developed in France in 1908 and its use has been spreading gradually round the world since that time. Despite rumors to the contrary, Dr. Johs. Holm, chief of the Tuberculosis Division, State Serum Institute, Copenhagen, and leader of the International Tuberculosis Campaign, states categorically that "there has not been one single instance published to prove that BCG has caused a case of progressive disease, either in man (and many millions have been vaccinated), or in any kind of animal. Animals, even the most sensitive to tubercle bacilli, have been given large doses of BCG without a progressive disease being caused."

"The fight against TB is partly preventive and partly curative. BCG is not the only preventive measure and it is no excuse for neglecting such other tremendously important factors as improving of living standards and facilities for detection, isolation and treatment of infectious cases, but BCG is quick and inexpensive in comparison with any other prophylactic measure and it is my hope", continued Dr. Bentzen, "that also in this country it will increase steadily in popularity."

National Conference on Trade Apprenticeship This Week at Ottawa

Three-Day Conclave On Growing Inadequacy of Skilled Labor Supply

Only a microscopic percentage of the number of production workers in three of the industrial groups most important to defence are being trained by industry for skilled jobs, delegates to the first National Conference on Apprenticeship in Trades and Industry were told at its conference this week in Ottawa.

A Department of Labor survey indicated that many industries are not training nearly enough workers to fill requirements of our industrial growth and it seemed unlikely that even enough training is being done by industry at present to meet normal replacement needs.

The three-day conference, the first of its kind ever held in Canada, was under the chairmanship of Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor, and attended by Provincial Deputy Ministers of Labor, Provincial Directors of Apprenticeship, officials of Provincial Departments of Education responsible for Apprenticeship classes, representatives from each Provincial Apprenticeship Board and Committee, representatives from employers and Labor, and training supervisors of manufacturing plants.

Canada's recent tremendous capital investment all reduces itself to the work of skilled men who know how to do their job, said George J. McIlraith, Assistant to the Minister of Trade and Commerce. He declared that a supply of skilled workers was essential in maintaining our industrial growth and that the best way of keeping up the supply was by training our own young men to fill skilled jobs in this country.

Arthur MacNamara, chairman, said that, while it was recognized that the railways, the construction industry, certain service trades, and some of the larger industrial or manufacturing plants had well-organized training programs for certain skilled trades, it was evident from recent developments that there was need for much greater activity in this respect even in those trades which had been designated and organized under provincial apprenticeship Acts and in which apprenticeship was more or less compulsory.

The three main purposes of the conference were, first, to examine available evidence regarding the alleged shortage of trainees in skilled trades, second, to review existing plans and programs for such training, and third, to receive from this representative body suggestions and recommendations which will increase the number of apprentices or trainees in all parts of Canada, and gain closer co-operation in our mutual efforts to develop and maintain adequate effective training programs.

The Deputy Minister stated that we can best meet the need for skilled workers by training our own people. He was not overlooking the possibility of bringing in skilled workers from other countries, but in most cases these workers were badly needed at home.

Reports received regularly from employers showed that there was a group of about 25 occupations in manufacturing which were repeatedly mentioned as being in short supply, regardless of short-run changes in the labor market. Such occupations were mainly in the machine shop and metal trades, including machinists, welders, patternmakers, tool and die makers and some types of machine operators. There were some trades required in manning defence plants, including shipbuilding, in which qualified men were very scarce, such as electricians, fitters, radar mechanics and draughtsmen.

J. M. Pigott, of Hamilton, Ont., speaking on behalf of the Canadian Construction Association, said that the greatest shortage with which the construction industry has had to contend was the shortage of skilled manpower.

Mr. Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, pointed out that while there is considerable variation in the ratio of apprentices to tradesmen in different industries, the industries with the low ratios are often those which have off-seasons and cannot give continuity of employment. Mr. Bengough said that the Trades and Labor Congress was heartily in agreement with the plan of increasing the number of skilled workers through a well-organized apprenticeship program.

Canada Now Supplying One-Third of Nation's Own Oil Needs

Nova Scotia Bank Reviews Widening Influence of Prairie Oil and Gas

The past year has ushered in a new phase in the history of Prairie oil and gas, says the current Monthly Review of The Bank of Nova Scotia.

Just a little over a year ago, Alberta oil, brought 1,126 miles by pipeline from Edmonton to Superior, Wisconsin, and thence down the Great Lakes by tanker, reached Ontario refineries, and the capacity of the pipeline is rapidly being increased. Before the end of last year, the announcement was made that a second oil pipeline would be built, this time westward across the Rockies. Work on this 700-mile line has already commenced, and by 1954 oil should be flowing through it to serve the Vancouver area and it is hoped eventually the larger market in the Pacific Northwest States as well.

Natural gas, too, has begun to move beyond the confines of the home market: the export of a limited quantity of gas to Montana for defence purposes, authorized early last year by the Alberta Government, began in February, and last month the Alberta Government gave its approval to a plan for building a pipeline to export gas from the rapidly developing Peace River area to Vancouver and the Pacific Northwest States.

The year also witnessed the beginnings in Alberta of an industrial development based on natural gas as fuel or raw material that may in time assume substantial proportions. Construction of two large chemical plants has begun at Edmonton, now Canada's fastest growing city; a little farther east a nickel refinery is being built; and smaller industries also based on oil or natural gas have sprung up in various parts of the province.

Another vista is opened up by the widespread interest in the Athabaska tar sands around Fort McMurray in northern Alberta. Several companies have taken out leases with a view to exploring the feasibility of obtaining commercial production from the oil-saturated sands.

In the five years since the discovery of the Leduc field, says the Review, the oil industry of western Canada has forged ahead rapidly.

It has been authoritatively estimated that by the end of 1951 no less than 160 million acres of prairie land were under lease or reservation compared with only 20 million in 1946, and already during 1952 several million acres have been added to this total, including large tracts in the Peace River area of British Columbia and Alberta.

"20 Ways to Kill Your Association"

1. Seldom, if ever go to a meeting.
2. If you do attend, find fault with the work of the officers.
3. Never accept an office. It is easier to criticize than to do things.
4. If asked by a chairman to give your opinion regarding some matter, tell him you have nothing to say. But say plenty after the meeting.
5. Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary; but when other members roll up their sleeves and willingly and unselfishly use their ability to help matters along, howl that the Association is run by a clique.
6. Hold back your dues as long as possible, or don't pay them at all.
7. When a banquet is given, tell everyone money is being wasted on blow-outs which make a big noise and accomplish nothing.
8. When no banquets are given, say the Association is dead and needs a can tied to it.
9. Don't tell the Association how it can help you; but if it doesn't help you, resign.
10. If you receive service without joining, don't think of joining.
11. If the Association doesn't correct abuses in your neighbor's business, howl that nothing is done.
12. If it calls attention to abuses in your own, resign from the Association.
13. Keep your eye open for something wrong, and, when you find it, yelp.
14. At every opportunity threaten to quit and get your friends to resign.
15. When you attend a meeting, vote to do something and then go home and do the opposite.
16. Agree to everything said at the meeting and disagree with it outside.
17. When asked for information, don't give it.
18. Cuss the Association for incompleteness of its information.
19. Get all the Association gives you, but don't give it anything but H———.
20. Kick about the cost of membership, even though you spend as much as an entire year's dues on a few night-clubs or a "little party". — Exchange

Let's get down to the Solid Facts!

Chevrolet Trucks Can Save You Money All Along the Line

LOOK at the facts before you buy. They'll show you how a Chevrolet truck can mean really substantial savings on your hauling or delivery job. And they'll show you why.

In every detail, Chevrolet trucks are designed with the customer's job and payload in mind. Their economical, dependable Valve-in-Head engines, famous for power and stamina, keep fuel consumption low. Sturdy hypoid rear axles, deep channel-type frames, Flexi-Mounted cabs. Recirculating Ball-Steering and other Advance-Design features keep maintenance costs down. Value is built in to stay in — safeguarding your truck investment.

More Canadians buy Chevrolet trucks than any other make. Let the facts lead you to Chevrolet trucks for real savings — right from the start and on through the miles. Come in and talk over your truck needs and see how you can save money all along the line!

Fact No. 1

More Truck for Your Money

Check the comparative value of Chevrolet trucks, and you'll see for yourself how Chevrolet gives you far more for your money. In design, in craftsmanship, and in every last detail of their construction, Chevrolet trucks are engineered and built to unsurpassed standards of value.

Fact No. 2

Rock-Bottom Operating Costs

Many thousands of truck users have proved to their own satisfaction that Chevrolet costs the least of all to own and maintain! Valve-in-head economy, in the 92 h.p. Thriftmaster, 105 h.p. Loadmaster, 114 h.p. Torquemaster and 120 h.p. Workmaster saves on gas. Chevrolet's special 4-way engine lubrication system reduces wear, keeps oil costs low.

Fact No. 3

Engineered and Built for Your Loads

Chevrolet trucks are engineered to your payload requirements. You don't waste money by buying "too much truck" — you don't risk work interruption or slow downs by buying "too little truck." Frame, axles springs, body, brakes, and power are part of a well balanced team that does the job at lowest cost.

Fact No. 4

Lower, Slower Depreciation

Records show that Chevrolet trucks consistently bring more money at re-sale or trade-in than any other make of trucks which cost about the same when new. Chevrolet's market value stays up because the value stays in. Here is further evidence that Chevrolet is the best truck buy — and that's why more truck users buy them!

Well Known Citizen Dies Suddenly

Sincere sympathy is expressed to the bereaved family and relatives of the late Norman Silverson, whose sudden death during Monday night caused a severe shock to his wide circle of friends and associates. Mr. Silverson, 46 years of age, succumbed to a heart seizure without previous illness or warning, at his home on the Brownsburg Road. He was a carpenter by trade, and widely related in these parts.

The funeral is being held this afternoon, Thursday.

GOLDEN INVASION

Peterborough, Ont. (CP) — This district recently was treated to an invasion of evening grosbeaks, gold-colored birds about the size of robins, usually seen only in Manitoba. They appeared here in much larger numbers than usual.

QUARTER CENTURY CELEBRATION BY MORIN HEIGHTS W.I.

(Our District Correspondent)

Morin Heights — The Morin Heights branch of the Women's Institute celebrated its 25th anniversary on Monday evening with a banquet at the New Alpino Lodge. Seated at the head table were — Mrs. Gordon Cooke, county president, and Mr. Cooke, of Arundel; Mrs. J. Douglas Davis, first president of the branch, and Mr. Davis, of the Town of Mount Royal; Mrs. Jack Watchorn, honorary branch president, and Mr. Watchorn; Mrs. J. W. Green, branch president, and Mr. Green; Mayor and Mrs. C. D. Campbell; Mr. Marvin Blakely, school principal, and Mrs. Blakely.

Mrs. Green proposed the toast to the Queen, and later to Queen Mother Mary, who celebrated her 85th birthday that day.

Mrs. Jack Watchorn then read a paper entitled "The W.I.", in which she summarized the history of the Institute from its first meeting at Stoney Creek, Ont., to the present day. Following this she gave a resumé of the activities of the local branch, from its first meeting on May 26, 1927.

Mrs. Gordon Cooke, county president, then spoke for a few moments, commenting on the enthusiasm and energy shown by this branch, and encouraged the members to keep up their good work "For Home and Country".

Mrs. J. D. Davis regretted that she could not speak as she was suffering from laryngitis, for which Mrs. Green made her apologies.

Mr. Blakely then thanked the members for all the support they had given the school, particularly for the scholarship that is being given this year for the first time, to the pupil leaving Grade X with the highest standing, who intends to continue his or her education.

Two other charter members, Mrs. Wm. Doherty and Mrs. J. E. Seale, then spoke briefly, saying how interesting and instructive they had found the meetings down through the years.

Mrs. Green, on behalf of the W.I., then presented the Municipal Council with a flag for the top of the Municipal Building. This was accepted by Mayor Campbell, who promised the ladies that in the very near future they would see it waving in the breeze.

A social hour was then enjoyed, followed by moving pictures shown by Mr. Blakely.

TWO OLD-ESTABLISHED NEIGHBORING FIRMS MARK ANNIVERSARIES

Industry and Commerce in Lachute

Contributed by Lachute Chamber of Commerce

Two neighboring family enterprises, favorably known throughout the district, have been celebrating their anniversaries with special sales — one at H. M. Lavigne Inc., established 32 years, and the other at T. McOuat & Son Ltd., in their 64th year of business.

The H. M. Lavigne establishment is widely known as a department store, while T. McOuat & Son Ltd. enjoy a considerable custom in hardware, machine and foundry work. But it is still more noteworthy that these two firms have held the most cordial co-operative relations, despite certain competitive lines of goods — a mutual regard which may perhaps have counted as a notable factor in their progress through the years.

The late H. M. Lavigne, and his successor Roland Lamarche, with Gaetan Leclair as general manager — and Arthur A. McOuat, still active in business with his son, A. Gordon McOuat — have witnessed and participated in the sound progress of their respective firms, and both anticipate a future of equally gratifying advancement.

Our Visitors from Across The Boundary

The Chamber of Commerce has been informed that a local merchant recently exacted 10 per cent exchange on American currency. Beyond the fact that this demand is excessive, it also reflects unfavorably upon the retailer concerned. It is reasonable to require current exchange rates on American funds, but this is no justifiable occasion to exploit the customer.

We would like to emphasize the warm welcome we accord to U.S. visitors, and are anxious to contribute to their enjoyment during the tourist season. There are many opportunities to exemplify this welcome, and it is hoped all local business men will extend fair dealing, courteous service and every assistance within their power.

Boy Scouts' Rally on Exhibition Grounds

The secretary of the Laurentian Division, Boy Scouts Association, has extended an invitation to all Chamber of Commerce members to attend the district rally, this Saturday at 2 p.m. on the Exhibition Grounds. This is the fourth annual event of its kind in this division, and it is hoped that all members, their families and friends will accept this cordial invitation.

"Granby Caravan"

After lunch a tour of the city gave some idea of the extensive building projects going on, both in residential and industrial lines, many of the better-type homes being most modern and attractive in architectural design.

There are several parks, where swans, peacocks and other birds, with various animals such as elk, bears, zebra and monkeys, all seem to be living contentedly, and which are always a great attraction.

Two industries were visited — that of the Imperial Tobacco Company, where the process of manufacture from leaf to finished product was demonstrated, and the Milk Co-op Company, where the manufacture of powdered milk and butter was viewed with interest.

By this time it was 6 o'clock and the large delegation bade farewell to their hosts, proceeding on their homeward trip after a full day of pleasure and valued experience.

The Lachute Chamber of Commerce, with Horace Lamarche as president, are to be congratulated on this tour as another very successful and educational event, and while Granby, with its 26,000 population, is a very fine and remarkable city, Lachute Town also has great possibilities, and it is hoped that its future will well substantiate the slogan, "Watch It Grow".

A total of 5,053 box cars were delivered to the Canadian National Railways during 1951, with 3,670 more to be delivered from outstanding orders as of December 31.

We fill prescriptions with utmost care and accuracy.

Gideons Society Grateful For District Support

The Laurentian Camp of the Gideon International wish to sincerely and heartily thank the ministers, official boards and congregations of the various churches in the Laurentian district, for the co-operation and financial support which they have given the Gideon ministry during the past weeks.

The Gideons would also like to thank those merchants in the area who gave window space for their display material.

The Bibles and testaments are placed by the Gideons through the financial support they have received. . . "May the prayers of Christian people ascend to God, that He may bless them to the extension of His Kingdom", concludes this message of acknowledgment.

Joint Gathering of Prot. Clergy from Argenteuil And Eastern Ontario

The Argenteuil Protestant Ministerial Association met in joint session with the Ontario East Ministerial Association on Tuesday in St. Simeon's Church hall, Lachute.

The majority of members of both Associations were in attendance, and enjoyed the mutual fellowship of the occasion.

The Rev. C. R. Lang opened the meeting with a short worship service — the hymn, Scriptures and prayers having as their central thought the Ascension of our Lord.

The guest speaker, Magistrate Labrosse of Prescott County, Ont., was introduced by the Rev. A. Gordon Faraday.

Magistrate Labrosse touched on events in his long life, and mentioned the deep friendship he had experienced with those of different faiths and language. The main part of his address dealt with his work as a magistrate, particularly among juveniles, and the rehabilitation of the unfortunate. He stressed the need to impress on people the deep solemnity of the oath taken on the witness stand.

A very hearty vote of thanks to Magistrate Labrosse for his timely and interesting address was voiced by all present.

The members of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Simeon's Church very kindly provided afternoon tea for the gathering, which was much enjoyed by all present.

"Awake From Sleep"

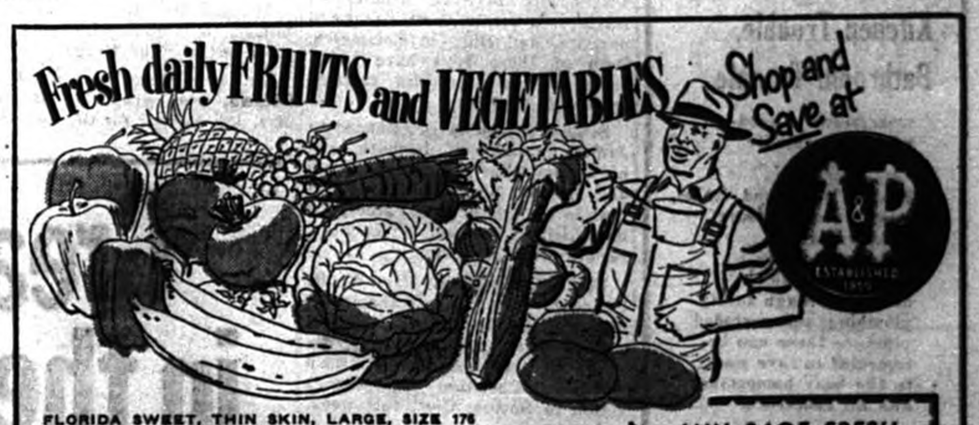

It has become a byword to say, "It is later than you think!" But bywords are too often taken for granted. It becomes too easy therefore to laugh off a weighty truth. Our times are generously heaped with scoffers anxious to ignore critical conditions. They feed on propaganda aimed at proving the permanency of man's rule. International crises are disregarded; moral collapse is passed with a wink. But nineteen centuries ago a warning was sounded against such sleepy attitude: "You know the season, that it is already the hour for you to awake from sleep, for now our salvation is nearer than at the time when we became believers." The writer was the inspired apostle Paul; the citation is recorded in the Bible, at Romans 13:11.

Showing that he had in mind a time future from the date of writing, the same apostle wrote to the young Christian overseer, Timothy: "But know this, that in the last days critical times hard to deal with will be here. For men will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, self-assuming, haughty, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, without gratitude, with no loving kindness, having no natural affection, not open to any agreement, slanderers, without self control, fierce, without love of goodness, betrayers, headstrong, puffed up with self-esteem, lovers of pleasures rather than lovers of God, having a form of godly devotion but proving false to its power; and from these turn away."—2 Timothy 3:1-5.

The semi-monthly, 32-page news magazine Awake! accurately reports on global affairs and matters of broadest interest. It employs neither commercial advertising, censorship nor propaganda. FORESTS HUGE FACTOR IN CANADIAN ECONOMY

Parrsboro, N.S. (CP) — Industrialist C. Ernest Harrison says the forests are the keystone to Canadian agriculture, mining and fishing industries.

"This is particularly true in the Maritimes", he said. "The forest is the greatest asset of all and without its wealth the others could not exist.

"Could there be mines without timbers, fishermen without boats, homes without wood"?

He urged citizens to guard their raw resources from fire, greatest scourge of the forests.

"After all', he said, "the people who use the woods for recreation and employment are the custodians of the rights of coming generations."

Reader's Digest Award

Marina Griffith, valedictorian of the graduating class at Lachute High School, has been given the Annual Award of The Reader's Digest Association for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community — it is announced by Principal F. H. J. Royal.

Miss Griffith will receive an honorary subscription to The Reader's Digest for one year and an engraved certificate from the editors, "in recognition of past accomplishment and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come".

The Reader's Digest Association has presented these awards yearly in senior high schools throughout Canada and the United States to the highest honor student of the graduating class.

The awards are part of the educational program sponsored by the Association and were a logical outgrowth of the wide use of The Reader's Digest in school work.

Marina Griffith, who attends school from R.R. 1, St. Hermas, was given this award through co-operation of Principal Fred Royal and his teaching staff.

Arundel Student Was Valedictorian at U.N.B. Graduation

An Arundel boy, Drennan McArthur, was chosen valedictorian of the graduating class of '52 at the University of New Brunswick. Graduation exercises were held recently at the University in the capital city, Fredericton.

J. Drennan (Dan) McArthur, a senior Forestry student, has been particularly active in dramatics while attending U.N.B.

Speaking for the class of '52, in the course of his address he stated, "We do not owe society any debt or duty, but we are part of society and we stand or fall with it. Our duty is to ourselves and we can only be true to ourselves by a course of action that will result in the good of all.

"The men and women who gathered in this university some years ago will now disperse, each on his own way. They will go forth in search of many things. The foremost of goals will probably be success and each will define it in his or her own special way. The success of the search will depend on the individual and how well he knows himself and fits his definition of success to his personality. It will depend also on the society in which he lives. The opportunity to achieve success and happiness can hardly exist in the absence of a healthy and stimulating atmosphere. Yet we have no right to expect that such a situation will be thrust upon us. We will have a chance to make an effort to secure the proper conditions. If we accept that chance and act, many may profit. If we refuse it many may lose. . . "

Drennan McArthur's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. McArthur, of Arundel, and other members of his family, were present for the graduation ceremonies.

Miss Marcelle Lafortune. On behalf of the club, as a token of appreciation for her performance, Miss Lafortune was presented with a bouquet of roses by Mrs. W. M. Cottingham and a cheque by Mr. Gilbert Ayers to aid in continuing her studies.

The evening's activities ended with the showing of movies of the 1951 Canadian Open.

Mixed Two-Ball Foursome

On Saturday there was a mixed two-ball foursome tournament. After the battle was over, and the divots had settled back into place (we hope), the following were declared winners:

1st Low Gross — Mrs. W. M. Cottingham, Mr. T. Lewis.
2nd Low Gross — Miss Bernice Ogilvie, Mr. R. DeBellefeuille.
1st Low Net — Mrs. P. Valois, Mr. J. Duncan.
2nd Low Net — Miss M. Lafortune, Mr. R. Stephens.
Consolation — Mrs. L. C. Thompson, Mr. D. Heggie.

Opeping Dance

On Saturday night the opening dance was held. This was a successful event and, with a fine orchestra to supply the music, those present really cut some fancy capers on the dance floor.

This event is fast becoming a highlight of the social calendar, and many out-of-towners were in attendance to attest to its ever-increasing popularity.

A feature of the dance was the playing of Phil Ladouceur on the Hammond electric organ during intermissions. Phil, by the way, will be with the Club all summer to make life more enjoyable, especially after a bad round of golf.

Those who have not visited the club as yet, are in for many surprises. The clubhouse is bigger and better than ever. There is even an aquarium room in which to relax, and canarjes providing songful entertainment for those who dine in the very comfortable dining room.

Next Sunday, June 1, is the President vs. Vice-President match, and all male members are urged to join in. This is a new tournament to this club; and members are reminded that scores in the tournament will be used to determine those qualifying to enter the Jones Cup Competition.

Social Event, Reopening Of Flying Club At Hawkesbury

Hawkesbury — The re-opening of the Hawkesbury Flying Club was celebrated with a party and dancing at the clubhouse on Saturday evening, May 24, and proved a successful event. Members from the Ottawa Flying Club and Buckingham Gliding Club were present and many other out-of-town visitors also attended.

Miss Claire Vinette, of Alfred, Ont., was presented with a special club pin in recognition of being the first lady to graduate as a Private Pilot under the Government Approved Training Plan through the Hawkesbury Club. Miss Vinette, better known to the Hawkesbury members as "Claire", passed the flying test and examinations last December, but this is the first occasion that the members have had an opportunity to honor their lady member, of whom they are very proud.

In view of the fact that so many of the members were unable to be present on this occasion, it was decided to postpone the drawing of the Private Pilot's Course until the day of the Sixth Annual Air Show.

This event is scheduled to take place on Sunday, June 29, and final arrangements are now being made for an interesting program with special attractions, details of which will be announced in the near future.

Tiny Davis and Negro Orchestra Well Received At Brownsburg 'Spot'

Tiny Davis and her colored orchestra were well received at the Flamingo Club, Brownsburg, on their recent visit. Besides being adept musicians they proved themselves talented entertainers, presenting some sensational novelty numbers. The large crowd attracted by this event were kept in a swinging mood from start to finish, and called repeatedly for more, even after the instruments had been packed away. Then followed a stampede around the bandstand by fans in search of autographs.

This was the first venture in bringing such an outstanding group to Brownsburg. Due to their high rating and the expenses involved, the proprietor, Romeo Gervais, took a financial risk with this booking, but the effort having created such enthusiasm, he is making arrangements to bring in more such attractions to the Flamingo Club.

"Around the Country"

— Jim Greenblat —

Out on a hike from Boissevain, Man., Don and Brian Ransom returned with 10 young timber wolf cubs they found in a den; boys now richer by $100 in bounty. . . . Born on the Lachapelle farm at Newington, Ont., was a two-headed pig, alive and eating out of two mouths; veterinarians give it a chance for survival. . . At Hobbema, a few miles south of Wetaskiwin, Alta., the Alberta Pacific grain elevator was saved from destruction by fire by the bravery of a painter, Egan Jensen. A cradle seat was constructed with a guide rope attached, and on this he let himself out of an upper hatch high on the elevator suspended on a long cotton rope, and he was able to direct a stream of water from hose at the seat of the trouble, the hose being hauled up to him with another rope.
