Two presentations to aid Blind Institute

Two appreciable gifts were accepted recently to promote the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in this county. Shown above are key workers in the CNIB and its Auxiliary with others concerned in the staging of a successful dance at the Lachute Golf Club, August 16 last, from which net proceeds of $422.14 are being handed over in the form of a cheque to Tony Zaplaski (seated), field secretary of the organization.

The gift of a "talking book", a valuable device in recreation and education for the sightless, is donated on behalf of the Knights of Columbus local council by Stanley Church, Grand Knight (right) to Léopold Carrière, CNIB chairman. The secretary of the organization, Mr. Zaplaski, beams approval.

Hunting season now underway; kills reported

Local game wardens report a surprisingly good kill for the opening week-end of the deer and duck hunting seasons despite heavy underbrush, and changes in Zones and hunting regulations.

A summary of the Quebec game and hunting regulations for 1958 announces the deer hunting season for this area (now designated as Zone D) from last Saturday, September 27 to November 16. The bag permits male, female or fawn of this species.

An innovation in the rules this year, limits to five the number of persons who may participate in a drive for deer. The law allows 48 hours for the registration of a deer killed, and a special seal will be used this year. License tags are also made out of a heavier material and must be attached to the "kill" when leaving the bush.

Zone D is north of the St. Lawrence and the Ottawa rivers, embracing this section. Hunters are advised to ask for a copy of the Game Law Summary when buying their permit. Other information is available from game wardens (in Lachute, Fernando Lamarche, tel. LO 2-4782, or Adelard Gagné, LO 2-2215.)

The partridge season runs from September 27, while ducks in the Southern district may be taken between September 20 and November 28.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police on Monday issued a warning to all duck hunters that the Migratory Game Birds Act will be enforced "to the letter of the law."

Seven duck hunters already have been arraigned to appear in court next week on various hunting violations said to have been committed in the local bird sanctuary on the Ottawa River.

Two men will be charged for using .22 calibre rifles; and five will be charged with carrying loaded shotguns in the sanctuary. One of the five carried an automatic shotgun and another was found with a double barrel shotgun, both of which are illegal for hunting anywhere.

An RCMP offical also explained that "no one is allowed to have in his possession live decoys nor may he use a power boat for duck hunting."

Local plowman now competing in world plowing match in Germany

Allan Hammond, who last October won himself a place on the Canadian team to the World Plowing Match, left last week for Germany where the Canadian team plows in competion on Friday and Saturday of this week. This is the first time in the history of world plowing matches that a Quebec farmer is representing Canada. This year, the match is being held at Stuttgart, Germany.

Allan Hammond

The local entry left Lachute on Wednesday last for Toronto where with the other members of the team, he attended a banquet. They then left by air for London and on to Zurich where they arrived Friday. It is expected he will return home October 14.

He won a place on the two-man team by placing third in the International Plowing Match at Simcoe, Ont., on October 17 of last year. He was competing for the Esso Silver Plow, emblematic of the Canadian championship.

Two Ontario farmers — Jow Tran, 36, of Claremont, and Bob Timbers, of Mount Albert, both former Canadian champions, placed first and second. Allan Hammond therefore became Tran's teammate in the world match since competition rules permit only one representative from a province on the world team. Tran and Hammond are attending the match with a manager, and are all travelling as guests of Imperial Oil.

Mr. Hammond, 32, son of Ben Hammond, is a thoroughly practical agriculturist, working the 300-acre family farm on Bethany Road outside Lachute, where he specializes in Ayrshire cattle. When he won the honor, he was competing at the International level for the second time and scored 139 out of a possible 200 points.

The 44th International match, sponsored by the Ontario Plowmen's Association, drew contestants from seven provinces and an estimated 75,000 spectators.

Another district farmer, Albert Raymond, of Ste. Scholastique, tied for fourth place with 138 points in the Ontario competition last year.

Anti-Polio clinic operating tomorrow is open to all adult area residents

Final arrangements have now been completed for the first free adult Anti-Polio Vaccination Clinic to be held in Lachute. This clinic, which has been sponsored by Branch 70, Canadian Legion, will be held in the Legion Memorial Hall, Foundry Street, from 2.00 to 4.00 p.m. and from 7.00 to 9.00 p.m. tomorrow, October 2.

Local doctors and registered nurses have volunteered their services and the registration will be handled by members of the senior Branch and the Ladies Auxiliary. As this immunization is free to all adults of the district, every citizen of the community is asked to make it a point to attend this clinic. Any person not receiving their first shot on October 2nd cannot have this shot at the second clinic.

The series of three shots must be given in the proper sequence, the authorities advise.

The second shots will be given at a clinic to be held in the Legion Hall on October 30 and the final shots will be given approximately 6 months thereafter.

Due to anti-cold vaccinations received by employees of Ayers Limited and Dominion Ayers Plywood Limited, the Health Department has decided to delay the polio shots for these two firms and J. C. Wilson Limited by approximately two weeks. Clinics will be held at the plants concerned at a later date in order to complete the job of adult immunization in this area. B. A. Jenkins is chairman in charge of arrangements for these clinics.

County teachers hold meeting; track meet Oct. 4

The Argenteuil Teachers' Association held its first dinner meeting of the 1958-59 term in the Brownsburg High School on Thursday last.

Plans for the Track and Field Meet were discussed. This event, organized by the Athletic Committee of the Argenteuil Teachers' Association, will take place at the C.I.L. Picnic Grounds, Brownsburg, on Saturday, October 4 at 1 p.m.

An Education Committee was elected as follows: chairman, Mr. L. Rossart, Lachute High School. Representatives — Lachute High School, Miss S. Soule; Grenville High School, Mr. L. Kerr; Harrington Intermediate School, Mrs. D. Morrison; Brownsburg High School, Miss A. McOuat.

This committee annually sponsors a drama festival, a public speaking contest and a choral speaking competition. It is expected that this year the drama festival will be held in November.

Mrs. D. McCabe, past president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, and presently a member of the Argenteuil Teachers' Association, discussed recent P.A.P.T. affairs.

The association was honored to have as guest for the evening, Miss Hannah Smith, of Lachute. Miss Smith spent some time in Holland where she was sent by the Canadian Immigration Office. While there, she taught English to the Hungarians who were soon to make Canada their new home. Miss Smith showed interesting and educational slides, which she had taken during her stay overseas.

Mayor proclaims October as Anti-Polio month

Town Hall,
October 1, 1958

Dear Citizen:

You are no doubt aware that an Anti-Polio Vaccine Clinic has been made available free-of-charge to all adult residents of this Town under sponsorship of the Canadian Legion March of Dimes.

By now it is a well known fact that these painless injections of Salk vaccine will effectively protect our population from all three types of polio.

I urge all adult citizens of the Town of Lachute to avail themselves of this free protection on the dates advertised, commencing tomorrow.

Also, in order to assist the Canadian Legion with this immunization campaign, it is with pleasure that I hereby proclaim the month of October to be Anti-Polio Month in the Town of Lachute.

LEOPOLD CARRIERE,
Mayor of Town of Lachute

W.C.T.U. speakers urge moral courage to 'live' temperance

— By Janet P. Graham —

Halifax is a city of many historic memories and many beautiful surroundings — also seems to be a favorite city for holding conventions, as there were three at least in progress, counting the National Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which was held in West End Baptist Church, Halifax, September 15-19.

Quite a number who had planned to hear Mrs. Cecil Heath of England, Hon. Corresponding Secretary for the World's Union, who were arriving by Canadian National Railway from Saint John, N.B., to Halifax, were held up at Sackville, N.B., by a tide washout for three hours, and so missed what to them was to have been the real highlight of the convention, some of them having seen and heard Mrs. Heath on TV a few days previously.

Sitting, counting the minutes as it were, was rather disturbing to those of us on that train and the conductor's complacent reply to our question, "How long are we going to have to sit here?" — "Haven't the slightest idea, Ma'am", did not make us feel very happy, seeing that we had a wakeful night. But we were unavoidably held up, miles from our destination, because an over-enthusiastic wind had swept the tide through a sort of cave to undermine the railroad track. Fortunately it was daylight, and the washout plainly visible to the engineer.

On board, too, were a dozen at least, deaf-mute children who had boarded the train at Saint John — en route to the school for deaf-mutes in Halifax. To those of us who pitied them because of their condition, the time of watching their hand conversations, their actions to convey their meaning, and their heads nodding and twisting about by way of emphasis, seemed intolerably long.

When at last the wheels began turning our genial conductor said, "Well, ladies, you are going to get to your meeting after all." We did, by means of swift taxi service — only to find a few stragglers who had remained behind to map out the next day's doings, with no one present whom we recognized except Mrs. Perrigo of Toronto, the National president, who had difficulty realizing it was really us, come all the way to Halifax just to enjoy a convention.

(I could here narrate many incidents, and re-tell the experiences of many fellow-passengers, to emphasize that the travelling public should ply the questions to drivers of their buses and conveyances, and remove all possible doubt as to directions, times and destinations. Elderly travellers, in particular, seemed to suffer inconvenience through misleading or inadequate information.)

So much for the journey and those who had a few hardships because of it. And now to the convention itself, at least a few items about it — beginning of course with the banners, beautiful in their bright blue background, imprinted with the emblem of each province. Ten of them in all. Five on each side of the platform all the same shade and size, a convincing proof that we members of the Woman's Christian Union are, although divided into provinces, are one in heart and working together in the best interests of our Dominion and with the strong desire to prevent if possible the lives of our young people from being ruined with liquor — their young minds distorted by its use, and their health undermined and their god-given bodies abused because of their use of intoxicants — in many cases too with the consent of their parents, who because they are afraid they will lose prestige in their social world if they do not serve and keep liquor in their homes. They prefer to sacrifice their own children, just to keep up with the drinking crowd.

The young girl who won the Public Speaking contest, asked this question in her address: "Should I accept the social glass and become one of the crowd, or should I leave it alone?" She answered her own question by saying: "The students who take one glass at a social function usually begin one of the most unwanted habits of their life"; also. "The drinking student cannot hope to pass or gain the education which is so important to success, also perhaps it is not always the student's fault, though maybe the old saying, 'Like father, like son' holds true in the matter of drinking." Her final answer to the start of the downward career by accepting the first glass, was "NO, don't take it! The broad grassy path may look inviting, but in the long run the narrow path will lead you to a fuller richer life."

Mrs. Ross Eaton, in an address later, said: "Liquor is making social cowards of Christians" — which is quite true, when you hear hitherto temperance supporters claim that they have to "keep it on hand" for guests, etc., because everyone else is doing that. . . Thank God, everybody else is not doing that, only the social cowards, who (according to Mr. Don Gilchrist of the Allied Youth Movement) along with a sneering Press caused the defeat of the Prohibition cause.

The Press of Halifax could not be given that appelation, because every meeting was given full publicity and all special addresses reported in full. Not by request of the convention, but by the request of the newspapers themselves. Mrs. Craw, head of White Ribbon Tid-

CNIB activities in sight conservation, assistance, recreation, rehabilitation

At an Advisory Board meeting last week, the affairs of the CNIB were found to be on a satisfactory footing, with increasing support and enthusiasm evident in the overall survey of activities.

Léopold Carrière, chairman, reported on results of the benefit dance held at the Lachute Golf Club last August. The Board expressed appreciation to the Golf Club for making its facilities available for the dance without charge. Mr. Carrière suggested that this should be an annual event.

Stanley Church, Grand Knight of the Lachute Council, K. of C., made a presentation of a "talking book" on behalf of his organization. The chairman expressed gratitude for the assistance of the Knights of Columbus in providing the Institute with this valued aid.

Eyesight Clinics

A. T. Zaplaski, field secretary, noted that in the course of eye examinations and treatment at the CNIB Clinic, there were a number of people unable to pay for the service. These obligations would be honored by the CNIB; from March to June those amounted to $127. Clinical reports on the cases had been received from Dr. Kral. . . The latter will resume these clinics in the near future, in accordance with the number of requests.

Women's Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary held their annual picnic for the blind people of this county, in July. Also in attendance were the sightless from Terrebonne, Two Mountains and Laval. The Women's Auxiliary of St. Jerome were in charge of the blind of Terrebonne. Gifts were given to all the blind through the courtesy of the Ste. Rose Lions Club, and many donations from local business firms were appreciated. The refreshment committee was under direction of Mrs. Doug Ogilvie and the recreation was organized by Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Belanger.

Several people were in receipt of good used clothing. The clothing committee is under the direction of Mrs. L. Dion.

Visits and Assistance

During the summer the Field Secretary made, in all, 87 calls. Two talking books have been repaired. Five people have been receiving medical supplies with special discount, and the Institute has paid for medical supplies for three blind people. During the summer two blind people took advantage of the sales room service. One person requested food and one man received clothing, purchased by the CNIB. Mr. L. A. McClintock, supervisor of field services, has made it possible for a local case to be provided with a hearing-aid.

Fund Campaigns

The field secretary outlined arrangements for the organization of campaigns in the following municipalities: Wentworth, Chatham, St. Andrews East, Morin Heights, Grenville, Arundel, Brownsburg, Weir, St. Adolphe d'Howard and Lachute.

Consideration will be given towards providing office quarters for the CNIB when the present lease would expire next May. Some exploratory suggestions were advanced and it was decided that the next step would be to consult with Mr. McClintock, the supervisor.

Montrealer fined; left accident

Roger Beauchamp, 34, of Montreal, appeared in St. Jerome court on Tuesday last and pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He was fined $75 plus court costs and his driver's license was suspended for a three month period.

Beauchamp was arrested following an accident in Lachute September 20 in which he hit a local taxi, driven by Roger Larocque, and causing an estimated $400 damage, left the scene of the accident.

The charge was laid by Sgt.-Det. Ralph Allen.

No inquest in Grenville death

District coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur declared the death of Alfred Berthiaume, 56, of Vankleek Hill, Ont., due to natural causes following the lumber merchant's body being found in the Grenville canal on Wednesday morning last. No inquest was held.

According to Sgt.-Det. Ralph Allen, who investigated, the deceased was known to stop and eat his packed lunch in various places, usually close to water and the man's open and partly-eaten lunch was found in the front of his truck, parked on a wharf near the canal.

No water was in the lungs of the recovered body and it is believed that the victim had suffered a heart attack. In addition to having a bad heart, he was also diabetic.

The victim was married and the father of a large family. His body was recovered in the immediate area where Henri Marleau, also of Vankleek Hill, drowned several weeks ago.

Community Park closed for season; Rotary Club plans for Free Bingo

A work-party of Rotarians last Thursday put away all park equipment bringing to a close another successful year of operations. The members adjourned to the park following the regular dinner meeting held in the Brownsburg Legion Hall under the chairmanship of President Syd Patterson.

It was announced by the president that a donation to aid in the educational expenses of a local crippled child has been approved, and Rotarian Dick MacLean appealed to all members to attend the Anti-Polio Clinic being held in the Lachute Legion Hall Thursday, October 2.

Bingo Chairman Keith Hickson outlined details of the free bingo which is to be held in the Lachute Auditorium on Friday, October 10. Admittance to the hall is free as are the first five and the final game. All prizes will be cash awards or vouchers.

A Ladies' Night has been planned for club members and friends the night previous, Thursday, October 9, in the Lachute Legion Hall.

Wins medallion for typography

A young Lachute man who has progressed notably in his chosen career of graphic arts — Raymond Church, son of Stanley Church, well-known citizen — recently won the Rolland Paper Student Medal for the best typographical design submitted by 60 craftsmen across Canada.

Raymond, 24, studied for three years at Laval University before going on to L'Ecole des Arts-Graphiques in Montreal, where he was given training in the technicalities of layout, typesetting, engraving, presswork and general esthetic design.

Though Raymond Church is a commercial artist by profession, his talents are numerous and stretch a good way beyond the field of typography. He paints ceramics, has won a poster contest and makes a hobby out of fine painting.

His latest typography award is one of several prizes and bursaries received during the pursuit of his professional studies.

To raise bread and butter money he leads and plays drums with a four-piece band on the week-ends. But like many artists, his present and foremost ambition is to go to Paris to study art for a year or more.

Polar bears escape from parked van; one still on loose

From meagre information gathered as we go to press it is learned that three polar bears were released from a refrigeration van on Monday evening, about three miles west of St. Philippe. Two were recaptured but the third, weighing some 800 pounds and valued at $1,000 is still at large, with the owners and other hunters still on its trail.

The animal is reportedly tame, having been caged for some six years and would not likely take to the bush, but farmers and residents of the district are warned to be on the lookout and to keep children in close vigil as a precaution against possible attack.

LEGION NOTES

— by —

Branch 70 (Lachute) Correspondent

Ex-presidents under chairmanship of Com. Jim Clark are busy preparing a tentative slate of officers for the coming year. This is not an easy task, as too frequently those qualified are unable or unwilling to accept office.

All members are requested to support the Anti-Polio vaccine clinic, the Bingo, and the shooting match, which are currently on the Legion calendar.

Our Branch membership now stands the highest in history — 164 paid-up members. The treasurer will be pleased to receive dues from an additional 12 members whose names are still on the active list.

Our Branch-sponsored Friday evening Teen-Age Dances have had a face-lifting this year under a committee formed by the following members: Doug Ogilvie, chairman; Mrs. H. Simpson, secretary; and Tom Smith, treasurer. Complete control of the dances has been assumed by this committee and their many assistants. Two major changes include — the need for all Teen-Age members to complete an application form, which must be signed by the parent or guardian before a membership card is issued; and the elimination of all smoking in the hall during the dance. The first above is designed to elimnate those few over-age characters who were responsible for some of the Legion committee's worry during the past year, and the second to prevent a very few youngsters from taking advantage of the locale to steal a few puffs. The Legion Branch has also undertaken to finance a uniformed constable to take care of traffic and general deportment outside the hall.

Suitable identification cards in plastic holders have been provided and all teen-agers are requested to wear these at the dance in order that the teams of Legionnaires on duty each Friday can identify them as members of Club 70.

The annual fee for a teen-ager to belong to Club 70 is $1. Each member is permitted to sponsor one teen-age friend per month, at 25c. To prevent the situation where youngsters may show up without their identification cards, they are fined 25c the first time and not admitted thereafter. Replacement of a lost identification card costs a quarter.

Members of the Branch 70 Ladies' Auxiliary look after the Coke Bar and are kept quite busy.

Since instituting the above changes all Branch members are pretty well agreed that they have encountered an extremely well-behaved group of young citizens and are very pleased with the way things are going. This is the way we want to see it; and the best way in which the teen-agers can show their appreciation to the Branch is to make certain that none of their members abuse the privilege.

Here's hoping that these youngsters have happy dancing for many Friday evenings to come!

Incidentally, parents are invited to look in once in a while, as long as they do not insist on going in! Any parents wishing to assist in this venture are invited to contact the chairman, Doug Ogilvie.

See you next week!

— P.R.O.

Fire prevention tips for approaching winter

Proper precautions against fire could avoid many of the 60,000 fires that break out in Canada each year, according to the All Canada Insurance Federation.

Because of increased use of heaters, fireplaces and stoves during fall and winter months, the federation makes the following suggestions for greater safety:

Matches and cigarettes are a major cause of fire; make sure they are not left burning.

Do not smoke in bed.

Be sure that ash trays are readily available in every room.

Have electrical wiring checked before winter sets in.

Electrical repairs and extensions should be done by qualified experts.

Chimneys and heating equipment should be cleaned and checked at least once a year.

Clear old magazines, rags and other inflammable objects from attic and basement.

If your house is an old one, be doubly sure that all heating and electrical equipment is safe.

Keep small children away from stoves and heating equipment.

Use only clean, first quality fuel for heaters and furnaces.

Do not block exits or stairways with portable heaters.

HIGH ENROLMENT

Sunnyacres in full Autumn bloom; city and summer homes compared

"Sunnyacres Sketches"

By Margaret Cook

When you read this, we shall be in that glorious month, October, but as we write, the last days of September are slipping away.

Here at Sunnyacres, summer lingers; the flowers are bigger and better than they have been all summer, even some late lupins out, and the bronze chrysanthemums just coming into bloom. The large, frilly marigolds are a study in green, gold and pure yellow, and the pansies lift their kitten-like faces to the warm sun at the south of the house. But the tree behind the shed has once more put on its scarlet robes and tries to outdo the large maple beside the lane, which has chosen yellow for its last appearance. Sometimes I think the scarlet one is more beautiful, and sometimes it is the yellow one, especially when the sun is shining directly into it. Then it is breathlessly beautiful. The poplars are still in their summer green, the ferns, too, but the bracken is greeny-brown and emits that haunting odor of almonds when one walks through it. So the year balances between the seasons.

People sometimes say to me after a stay in our city home, "What have you at Sunnyacres that you have not here?" The very fact that they ask it, tells me that it would be uesless to try to explain to them, but to readers in this district, it will convey something, when I reply, "We have peace". The lady who wears the purple pants will undoubtedly sympathize since she once wrote, "I am always glad to return to the peace that is Shrewsbury." In our own case, it is the surcease from noise that is so healing. The affair of the Seaway is just now at its frenzied worst, for the opening is due next July. This noise goes on day and night, diesels bellow like a bull-moose (or so I fancy; I have never heard a bull-moose), jets zoom overhead, dogs bark and children scream. This in one of the quieter suburbs of Montreal.

Then there is the telephone — in our particular group at the church, we are currently preparing to have a party for one hundred and thirty-one children. These are the Little Helpers. They are kept in reasonable control by the joint efforts of some twenty women, but even so, one wonders if the helpers would not be more accurately spelled with two l's. True it is that we could not organize this brawl without a telephone, yet that instrument does add its voice to the general din. But up here, one hears only the occasional jet, and the even more occasional bird, although it is true that last night, a cat wailed mornfully around the house, doubtlessly making our Peter restless. It was a grand night for cats and lovers, full moon, visibility so good that the colors of the trees were distinguishable.

Speaking of cats, going back to our little lake this morning, a grey one scuttled across the path at a point far from any house. Ours was the nearest, a quarter of a mile away, the next must be at least three-quarters of a mile, so we concluded that this was one of a family of cats that rumor has it lives by their wits all the year round out-of-doors. When one of our celebrated blizzards arrives, I often think of these brave pussies. Just how do they survive? Do they dig down deep in the snow, or hole up in a cave? Cats are truly a queer folk and very resourceful; they make up in cunning what they lack in strength. I hurry on lest the head of the house make the obvious comparison.

The artificial lake mentioned in this column a month ago, is now an accomplished fact. Coming past it on our way up, we exclaimed at its beauty. Just so a few hundred years ago, must it have looked, for this is obviously the site of a dried-up lake. We are happy for its originator, but still cringe at the thought of its beauty defiled by soft drink bottles, cigarette boxes, candy wrappers, and of its shores echoing to the full-throated cries of modern children. The Victorians had a saying, 'Children should be seen and not heard.' The Victorians had beards, too, and beards are coming back, I have seen some intriguing specimens about the city, so perhaps the silent child will also come into fashion.

We were just interrupted by three young hunters, who came in for tea. We spent a pleasant half-hour talking with them on various subjects: biology, burglars, refrigerators that run on kerosene, college admissions, aching teeth all figured in our conversation but, as the head of the house pointed out, I did not ask their opinion on the state of the world or on women, two topics of consuming and general interest. It was nice to see our young friends. In the country, where neighbors are not just somebody who lives next door there is more opportunity for the exchange of ideas, less consciousness of the differences between generations. It is a more sane way of life.

This reminds me of a joke on mental diseases told by a lecturer we heard last week. A motorist had a flat just outside the grounds of a mental hospital. The process of the removal of the tire, the putting on of the other was watched with interest by one of the patients inside the fence. The motorist was dismayed to find he had mislaid all the bolts, so necessary to the completion of his job. What to do? The patient spoke up, "Why not remove two bolts from the other wheels and thus make it possible to proceed cautiously to the nearest service station." It was a good suggestion, and the stalled one's expression must have registered his surprise at its origin. Whereupon the mental case, quipped, "I may be crazy, but I am not stupid." There is a great truth in that remark. It is our observation, borne out by psychologists, that it is the clever rather than the stupid that become insane. After all, a vacuum has nothing to go crazy about.

Before I forget, a lady in Lakefield would like to know if there is any organization or person in Lachute interested in collecting magazines for hospitals. In our suburb, our periodicals are taken out to Ste. Anne's Military Hospital every fortnight. The nearest institution of that kind to Lachute would seem to be the sanitorium at Ste. Agathe. How about it? If you have any idea please call LO 2-1417. Something was also said about the disposal of Christmas cards. We believe the Red Cross once appealed for these for children in Korea, and, of course, there is the Montreal Children's Hospital. A pity to see these pretty things merely torn up and burned.

We were going to say something about the new Fall fashions and about steak and kidney pie, but both will keep till next time. The paper warns me space is running short and the light wanes, making me wonder once more if Sunnyacres is more beautiful in bright sunlight or at dusk. The clouds are opalescent just now, but the head of the house is hungry and the chicken in the oven smells delicious, so Mary will straightway become Martha.

Catholic Women's League holds Prov'l convention

St. Jerome Diocesan Council of the Catholic Women's League of Canada was host to the Eleventh Annual Provincial Convention of the C.W.L., which took place at Manoir d'Esterel, St. Marguerite du Lac Masson, September 12 and 13. Delegates from the ten Dioceson Councils in the province attended.

The business sessions were conducted under the chairmanship of Miss Ruth Robinson, of Quebec City, Provincial President. The Convention Luncheon was presided over by His Excellency the Most Reverend Lawrence P. Whelan, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Montreal and Provincial Director of the League. Seated at the Head Table, along with Bishop Whelan, were Monsignor Pierre Decary, Rector of St. Therese Seminary, representing His Excellency Bishop Frenette, of St. Jerome, the Rev. Father T. O. Grenier, Director of St. Jerome Diocesan Council, C.W.L., Miss Ruth Robinson, Provincial President, Mrs. Ross Alexander, Past Provincial President, Miss Muriel Buck, National Officer, Mrs. W. J. Dundin, Past National President and Mrs. A. J. Relecom, President of St. Jerome Diocesan Council.

In his luncheon address, Bishop Whelan stressed the importance of accepting New Canadians and of helping their integration into the Canadian culture and way of life. He emphasized that we, in Canada, are all children or descendants of immigrants and that our establishment on these shores does not give us monopoly. His Excellency said that we are in a period of transition — in the process of forming our own nation — and that whereas the British, Irish and Scotch formed the bulk of immigrants in the first half of this century, the shift is now to other ethnic groups, notably Hungarians, Italians, Poles and Ukranians who, in turn, will contribute their own culture to add to ours and out of this "melting pot" there will emerge, in future years, a great new generation of Canadians with a varied background and broader interests.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Summertime need not be the only time for eating out-of-doors for motor-borne families. It's hard to beat a "fall cook-out" in the crisp, cool days of autumn.

So, pack up your car with "eatables" and utensils and head for a provincial or national park or some picknicking spot in your area. Such parks cater to outdoor cookery with ready-made grills. But even if there isn't a provincial or national park near you, simply take along one of the new, inexpensive portable grills in the luggage compartment.

You can take the labor out of your "fall cook-out" by preparing some of your dishes at home in advance. Keep the fun in by cooking your main meat dish over the open fire. Grilled steaks and barbecued chicken always have a special tangy taste when they are cooked and eaten out-of-doors.

For a unique picnic treat, prepare the Armenian specialty, Kabobs. Just cut pieces of lamb or beef into small squares. Then skewer alternate layers of meat, tomato and onion, either on a metal rod or green stick and roast over low coals. An already-prepared barbecue sauce will add that important, extra flavor.

Beforehand, at home, put your hot dishes, such as soup, Spanish Rice or vegetables in the new, wide-mouthed thermoses. Salads and desserts can be placed into separate plastic or cardboard containers.

With proper planning, a "fall cook-out" can be as easy as a meal at home — and twice as much fun for all.

Hogs to Sweden, selected to improve breeding strain

Ottawa — Thirteen Canadian hogs purchased by Sweden were shipped overseas last Friday.

The Yorkshires were secured to introduce new blood to a swine population that is feeling the effects of close breeding.

Sweden turned to Canada as a country making similar hog performance tests to determine) (1) Rate of growth; (2) Feed utilization; and (3) Carcass desirability.

Testing has been carried out in this country since 1928, according to J. G. Lefebvre, Livestock Production Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, and it involves over 3,000 pigs a year.

Canadian records were studied by Gunnar Trulsson, secretary of the Swedish Pig Breeding Association and technical adviser to the Swedish Government, before he inspected a number of herds in July.

He selected eight boars and five sows, nine in Ontario and four in Prince Edward Island. Nine owners were involved.

Rigid specifications were set by the Swedish breeders for leanness, fast growth and low feed requirements, and Mr. Trulsson made certain they were met.

Health requirements were also high and one of the reasons Canada was chosen was because of its disease control measures and freedom from foot-and-mouth disease.

A one-day rest period was scheduled for the hogs at the Montreal stockyards.

Good Feed, but too dear!

That story we hear quite often, and so many feeders have told each other and repeated it themselves that they have become convinced it is true. So much so that they don't even try figuring to find out which feed is the cheapest.

It is much easier to compare Purina's price per bag with the price of X.Y.Z. feed and say Purina is too dear, it is 50c a bag dearer. The price you pay for a bag doesn't mean a thing; it is the number of eggs, gallons of milk or pounds of meat that determines which is cheaper.

One of our erstwhile customers some years ago found that X.Y.Z. dairy feed was 70c a bag lower in price than Purina. So he promptly switched to X.Y.Z. feed. This happened away back in 1954.

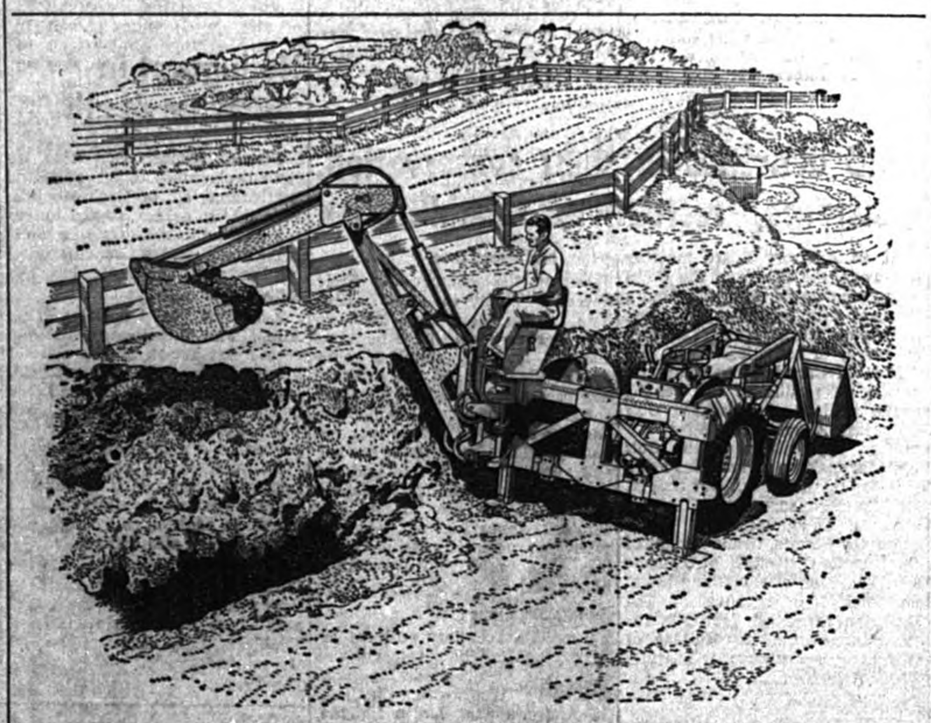

Now say he feeds an average of two bags a day of this feed, that would be a saving of $1.40 a day and for 1500 days till the present he should have saved $2100.00. That amount should be worth saving. BUT did he save it. My guess is that he LOST that much for if he had made $2100 I am sure he would have a new car long before this instead of driving the same one that he had for about two years before he made this switching.

But the sorry part of it is that he hasn't done any figuring and still doesn't know he is losing money.

Use a pencil, paper and scales and know which feed gives you the most eggs, milk or meat and feed Purina Chows for MORE PROFIT.

Anti-Polio Clinic

LAST WEEK MAY have been official Immunization Week across Canada but tomorrow is the "big day" in Lachute as Argenteuil Branch 70, the Canadian Legion, in cooperation with the Quebec Command, offer the first of three free polio vaccine shots at the Legion Hall, Foundry Street.

The Salk vaccine will be administered by local doctors to adults only, children receiving their free shots at the County Health Unit's numerous clinics.

In Canada alone, a total of 273 cases of Poliomyelitis were reported last year and 26 of these resulted in death. Of this, the Province of Quebec had 37 cases and six deaths. This decrease from previous years is directly attributed to clinics such as the local Legion is sponsoring in Lachute, according to the Health League of Canada.

In 1955, the vaccine was approximately 80 percent effective in preventing paralytic polio, the Health League reports. Up to the end of October of last year, with about 5,000,000 Canadians having received at least one vaccine shot, polio incidence was about 65 percent below the five year average for the same period.

With these figures to back up the local clinic, it is to be hoped that all adults will be on hand and support the Legion in their effort to "Vaccinate in '58".

Quebec's highways and others

WE HAVE ALWAYS been under the impression that Quebec's roads were the worst in Canada but after returning from a better than 2,000 mile trip through New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and the North-Eastern States, it was a pleasure to get back to Quebec highways. They may not be the best, but are sure not the worst.

We were surprised, as a large number of our readers would be, to see what is considered a first class highway in parts of these areas. It is true they have some highways comparable to our best but on the other hand, some of their main highways are no pleasure to drive on.

While we feel our own highways can never be safe enough, we take pleasure in congratulating the Provincial Government for its good work and express the hope that this will continue throughout the province.

Canadian Weekly Newspapers Week

EVER WONDER what makes a weekly newspaper tick? Now is a good time to examine the question during Canadian Weekly Newspaper Week.

The important thing in any weekly newspaper is you. Yes, without our readers we would be lost. You are the reason we exist. Our job is to serve you with local news and views. And the little industrial plant that publishes this weekly newspaper owes a good deal of its prosperity to just how well you think we do our job.

If a nation is healthy, the main reason behind its health is that its small towns are vigorous, developing communities. Around the centre of that energy and vigor Canadian weekly newspapers are proud to feel they play an important part.

The weekly press is really the voice of small-town Canada. More than 700 of them from coast to coast report and record local news and views. Through their advertising columns they aid in the gigantic job of moving local and national merchandise. Their job of informing you continues week-in and week-out. Whichever way you look at it they are the basic medium of communication in the Nation.

Now, during Canadian Weekly Newspaper Week, is a good time for us to assess the importance of a Free Press. Look through this week's issue of this paper. It won't be as fat as the New York Times nor will it have the circulation of Life Magazine. But it's likely the only newspaper in the world that gives a hoot about your town. Its Editor is glad to back local projects, glad to help local organizations because he knows that his future and yours run down a common path.

Vast improvements have been made in the little industrial plant that produces your newspaper. During the past decade, right across Canada, new presses and typesetting machines are common sights in weekly plants. Newspaper publishers are proud of the progress they have made . . . they are proud too each week to serve you with more local news and pictures than ever before.

Right at the beginning of this editorial we made the statement that weeklies are the voice of small-town Canada. Well, that's still true, but we note in recent years with interest the growth of the weekly suburban press. These posh cousins on the outskirts of big cities are a new national phenomenon. Right under the nose of the big dailies and lots of TV stations, the suburban weeklies are prospering at a terrific rate. You see right across the Nation people are used to hometown news and even when they become a part of big sprawling cities they want to belong to something like the old home town.

Now it's plain to see in our very complicated society today that the big city dailies have a place and so do radio and TV stations, how could we do without them, but wherever you go or wherever you come from chances are there is a weekly newspaper ready and able to serve you with local news, views and advertising and now during Canadian Weekly Newspaper Week the weeklies of Canada take pride in the service that they have given to Canadian society.

Idea for older couples

MANY CANADIAN couples whose families are now grown and happily established in homes of their own, have found the conversion of their old home to a multiple dwelling a source of income for the future as well as a genuine interest in the planning and execution. Technical advice should be sought at the start, notably on the limitations of present plumbing and heating facilities. But with expert advice, there is no limit to what taste and imagination can accomplish.

If it is desirable to finance such a conversion job out of present income, the banks are prepared to assist with a government-sponsored Home Improvement Loan. Terms of repayment are generous and interest rates surprisingly moderate. The local manager will be glad to explain details. So, if you are the owner of an older home too large for present needs, you may be well repaid to explore the possibilities of conversion to a multiple dwelling.

Needless loss

THE LOSS of life by fires in Canada increases every year. Last year it reached a record total of 640 — 250 men, 133 women and 257 children.

In 1956 the total was 601, including 233 children, and in 1955 it was 569, including 247 children.

Apart from this tragic toll, direct property damage last year also reached a record figure — $134,700,000. And this does not include the costs in lost incomes, in hospital treatment, in business and trade and in Canada's economy generally. It does not include the damage done in Canada's forests.

These figures are enough to shock everybody into the realization that Fire Prevention Week October 5-11 in not just another notation on the calendar.

It is a week set aside by royal proclamation in the name of Queen Elizabeth of Canada, an appeal to all citizens to curb careless causes of fire, in the home and elsewhere.

For federal, provincial and municipal fire officials all stress that an appalling proportion of the loss in lives and property is caused by plain human carelessness, by failure to observe the most elementary rules of fire safety and common sense.

In plain language, most of this tragic toll is unnecessary. It doesn't have to happen, and it should not happen.

Schools, theatres, hotels, hospitals and other large public buildings undergo regular inspection for fire hazard. Factories large and small are conscious of this need.

It is in the citizen's own homes that new efforts are urged to eliminate fire dangers. Fire departments in any community will be happy to make a thorough inspection, on invitation of the home owner.

But it doesn't need a trained fireman to spot the fire hazards that exist in too many homes, awaiting an accidental happening to bring tragedy. It's largely a matter of good housekeeping, of clearing out rubbish.

It's put in a nutshell by the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals, and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs:

Don't give fire a place to start.

Farmers' Problem

I spent the week-end with farm relatives. They have very nice homes, most of the modern conveniences, but they find ready cash hard to come by. Other farmers from the district dropped in and there was a good deal of talk about farm problems.

Earlier in the day, I had walked and driven about the countryside a good deal, in search of ducks. I had been impressed by many of the older buildings, built at least a generation ago. So when the problems had all been talked over at length, I asked a question that had been bothering me.

"How," I asked, "did the men and women who lived on these farms — in some cases your fathers or uncles — manage to build such impressive buildings? This house we are in, for example, with so many fine rooms for the family and also that big annex for staff. Was farming so much better then, before they had such good roads, so many fine implements, fertilizers, weed sprayers and the rest? Were they supermen, or is there something wrong with you?"

We were all friends and relatives, so I had hoped to start a lively but friendly little battle.

Instead, my cousin said, "Say, I've often wondered about that myself. My forebears must have been darn good farmers. If I had to build this house now, I just couldn't raise that kind of money. And if the wife had to go back to canning, curing, cooking and the rest of it on the old-fashioned range, without running water beside her, I think she'd head for the city!"

His wife laughed. "It's a good question", she admitted. "But I think I know how they did it. To start with, they didn't need a great lot of cash money. Everything they bought came cheaper, a lot cheaper. John put a metal roof on that old granary — and that roof alone probably cost several times more than the whole granary cost when his father started farming here. And you should see the bills we pay for gas and oil, for equipment, for clothing, for everything we buy! And believe me, one way or another we pay for our better roads and better schools and all the rest. It's impossible these days to decide to be thrifty — the government forces you to progress, even if it breaks you!"

Well, that started it! And much to my surprise, the farmers were more critical of themselves than I thought any group could be.

"We've concentrated on getting higher prices for our products — the toughest job. We'd have been better to resist the high prices of things we must buy. We ought to fight to keep taxes down, inflation in check, wages reasonable, so that we could sell our prolucts and avoid surpluses. We've got to keep things in balance where an hour's labor on the farm can be traded for an hour's labor in the city. Otherwise, we're sunk. You just can't force high-priced products on foreign buyers."

Who first brought radium to Canada?

The first radium was brought to Canada by William Henry Beauford Ajkins a physician who was born in 1859 in Richview, Peel County, Upper Canada. He graduated from the Toronto School of Medicine in 1881 and also studied in New York, London, Edinburgh and Vienna. He visited the Curies in Paris, brought the first radium to Canada, established radium therapy in this country, and made important contributions towards the control of malignant diseases. Following his postgraduate studies, he settled in Toronto where he practised for the rest of his life and held staff appointments at various hospitals. He died in Toronto in 1924.

Who was Simon Dawson?

Simon Dawson was a civil engineer who came to Canada as a young man from Scotland. He explored the country between Lake Superior and the Saskatchewan River for the Canadian Government, and his report, published in 1859, was one of the first documents to point out the possibility of settlement in the northwest. In 1868 he opened communications with the Red River country by what became known as the Dawson Route, and in 1870 he superintended transport over this route of the troops comprising the Red River expedition.

What is the Architectural Conservancy of Ontario?

Saving the fine buildings of Ontario's colonial days from destruction and conserving places of natural beauty are the principal aims of this organization which was founded at Toronto in 1933 by public spirited citizens. By arousing public opinion, it has saved lake and forest areas from industrialization. Numerous fine historical buildings have been saved from destruction, restored and maintained as relics through the efforts of the Conservancy. Photographs, measurements, and architectural documents are collected for the archives of the organization in Toronto.

What Canadian village is noted for its collection of holy relics?

Numerous pilgrims come every year to the village of Annaville, Quebec, which has one of the largest collections in North America of holy relics from Italy and the Holy Land. The village received its name from the fact that its first parish priest brought back from Rome a relic of Saint Anne.

What Town was Once an Autonomous Icelandic Settlement?

The Town of Gimli, Manitoba, once was a self-governing Icelandic settlement. The name Gimli means "The great hall of heaven" and was so named by the first Icelandic settlers when they landed there on the shore of Lake Winnipeg in 1875. It was the parent colony from which many other Icelandic communities developed in Manitoba and the United States. About 75 per cent of the population is of Icelandic origin and each year an Icelandic celebration is held.

The site originally was in the Northwest Territories and from 1878 to 1887 is was a self-governing unit with its own constitution. It was incorporated as a village in 1908 and as a town in 1946. Its economy is based on agriculture and the commercial fishing and fish-processing industry of lake Winnipeg. It also is an RCAF training centre and a summer resort.

Competition is a Wonderful Thing

Canada is flourishing under free enterprise and so, naturally, is the life insurance business. In fact, Canadians prize the guaranteed security of Life Insurance so highly that, in relation to national income, they lead the world in ownership of this valuable property.

Competition in the life insurance business assures the utmost benefit to Canadians who buy this important product. They can choose, at will, from policies offered by over eighty companies in this country before signing on the dotted line.

To reach a wise decision they are able to draw on the experience and knowledge of exceptionally well-trained life insurance agents.

Because of this good and useful service, Canadians are continuing to acquire more life insurance every year.

All Aboard

with G. E. MORTIMORE

People from the Old World often remark that Canadian and American fruit, vegetables and meat are good-looking but tasteless.

They say that our food is grown and packaged for appearance only, and that in the struggle to attain picture-book size and color, both flavor and nutrition are forgotten.

I suspect that the charge is true. There is no reason why an apple, for instance, should not be large, handsome and tasty all at the same time. But it does not work that way. One quality seems to be gained at the expense of another.

The mass technique of our machine civilization have been adapted from the factory to the farm. For maximum profit, live-wire farmers wring as many crops of large vegegetables and fruit as they can from the land, keeping the tired soil in artificial good humor with pep pills and vitamins in the shape of synthetic fertilizers.

Other elements in the conspiracy are the North American zeal for sanitation, and North American concern for the outward appearance of a thing and indifference to its inner nature. I do not suggest that all inhabitants of Canada and the United States are guilty of these faults, but only that there is common tendency toward them on this continent.

A housewife will pay as much for two small scrubbed carrots in a plastic bag as she will pay for a dozen dirty carrots in a burlap sack.

The dirty carrots may be larger, more numerous and twice as nourishing. But they look messy. People of this continent do not like to think about the muck and slime from which life grows. They prefer to regard themselves as spirits who have no connection with the earth.

An earthy carrot is a rude reminder of man's connection with lower forms of life. It has no place in the antiseptic environment which the mass production engineers, the salesmen and the advertising men have made for us.

Furthermore, it takes a little work to wash carrots and potatoes. North Americans — particularly, North American housewives — are getting lazier all the time.

Admiration for size was something that seemed to go with a new continent that was built on a large scale. The importance of a slick, handsome appearance has been dinned into us now by two generations of entertainers and advertising men, in magazines, films and letterly, television.

The idea of nourishment and inner worth — except for lip-service paid to it, for appearance's sake — has fallen into neglect.

The tasteless sanitary carrot and the large handsome, sawdust-flavored berry are neat symbols of our civilization.

The supermarket, more than any other single institution, is to blame for the trend toward luscious-looking but insipid food. For all its merits of cheapness, cleanliness and convenience, the giant market has placed a premium on looks and has discounted flavor and nourishment.

However, it is futile to mourn too much about the loss of these values. People of another generation will not miss them, because they will be brought up from infancy to eat cardboard apples and draw their real nourishment from vitamin pills.

Services held for four members of family killed in highway accident

The funeral services for the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, and their two sons, Norman and Earl, were held on Tuesday, September 23, at the Presbyterian Church, Mille Isles. The Rev. Dr. Stanford Reid, officiated, assisted by the Rev. H. G. Baugh and Mr. Donald MacLeod, Presbyterian student minister at Mille Isles.

Dr. Reid took for his text "The Lord Gave and The Lord Has Taken Away, Blessed Be the Name of the Lord." The Rev. Baugh read the lessons and Mr. MacLeod offered prayers of comfort. "Rock of Ages", and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" two favorite hymns of the deceased, were sung.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick who celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last year, are survived by a daughter Thelma (Mrs. Harry Lister), of Morin Heights, and a son Elmer, of Montreal, seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, the former Margaret Ward, of Kilkenny, is survived by two sisters, Ida (Mrs. Raymond Copping) of Montreal, and Maud (Mrs. George Kirkpatrick) of Mille Isles. Five brothers, Jack of Mille Isles, William and Albert, of Kilkenny and Ernest and Harry, of Lachute.

Mr. Charlie Kirkpatrick, one of the oldest residents of Mille Isles and a life time member of the community is survived by five sisters, Lottie (Mrs. Gardner) of New York and Montreal, Edith (Mrs. Pritchard) of Moose Jaw, Sask., Irene (Mrs. Thomas Noble) of Lachute, Annie (Mrs. W. J. Dawson) and Mattie (Mrs. J. Molyneux) both of Montreal and one brother, Walter, of Mille Isles.

Mr. Norman Kirkpatrick who had lived his entire life in Mille Isles and been active on the Mille Isles Council and the Morin Heights School Board; is survived by his wife, the former Agnes Smith, of Montreal and four children — Geraldine (Mrs. A. Bigras), of St. Martin, Marion (Mrs. Ross Roberts) of Verdun, Stanley and Winston, of Mille Isles and five grandchildren.

IN MEMORIAM

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear daughter, Mildred, who passed away, Oct. 4, 1957. — Always remembered and sadly missed by Mother, Mrs. Alice Wilson.

"I watched you suffer, I heard you sigh,
All I could do was just stand by.
When the time came, I suffered too,
For you never deserved what you went through."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear mother, who passed away, Oct. 4, 1957. — Ever remembered by her daughters, Louise, Glenna, and son, Guy.

"We were not there, Mother dear, to see you die,
To hold your hand or kiss good-bye,
But we'll remember our whole lives through
The last few words we had with you."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear sister, Mildred Gaudreau, who passed away Oct. 4, 1957. — Always remembered by her brother, Willard, sister-in-law, Dorothy, and niece, Annabell.

"Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past.
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her home, to suffer no more."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear sister, Mildred, who passed away Oct. 4, 1957. — Always remembered by Matt and Eunice.

"I stood by your bedside, my heart was sore,
I tended you with loving care, till I could do no more.
In tears I watched you suffer and slowly fade away.
God knows how much I miss you as it dawns one year today."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear niece, Mildred, who passed away Oct. 4, 1957. — Always remembered by Uncle Jim.

"Like falling leaves the years slip by,
But thoughts of you will never die.
In my heart you are there to stay,
Loved and remembered day by day."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of our dear sister, Mildred, who passed away Oct. 4, 1957. — Ever remembered by her brother Theron, and Aurore, Gloria and Scotty.

"We little knew when we woke that morn
The sorrow the day would bring,
For the call was sudden, the shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear friend, Mildred, who passed away, Oct. 4, 1957. — Always remembered by Muriel and Foster Campbell.

"We miss your smile, your kindly ways,
We miss the things you used to say,
And when old times we do recall,
That's when we miss you most of all."

SMITH — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Rebecca, who passed away Oct. 4, 1955. — Ever remembered by Laughlin and family.

"Always in our thoughts."

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

MEIGHEN — The family of the late Mrs. Emily B. Meighen wish to thank the minister, and members of the Ladies' Guild of St. Simeon's Church, and other friends for their kind expressions of sympathy during their recent bereavement.

35th Annual meeting of St. Andrews Deanery held in Arundel

The 35th annual meeting of St. Andrew's Deanery was held in Arundel on September 27. Approximately 180 people attended from Grenville, Calumet, Weir, The Glen, Kilmar, Arundel, Brownsburg, Lachute, Lakefield, St. Andrews East, Rockway, Rawdon and Montreal.

The Rev. Bussell conducted the Service of Communion in Grace Church at 11 a.m., assisted by the Rev. Stote, of Grenville. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. David Conliffe, of St. Mark's Church, Pointe Claire, who spoke on "Unity".

Luncheon and the afternoon meeting was held in the school auditorium. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Henry, and Mrs. Wenville Graham acted as secretary. Reports were heard from the various Montreal Diocesan officers present.

The guest speaker was Bishop Chandu Ray, of Lahore, Pakistan, who gave a most interesting talk on church work in his country.

Tea was served, joint hostesses for the day being the W.A. members of Arundel, Weir, Rockway, and The Glen.

English mass this Sunday; C.W.L. membership meeting planned for next week

On Sunday, October 5, a Mass for English Speaking Catholics will be celebrated at Ste. Anastasie at 8 o'clock.

A membership meeting of the Catholic Women's League will take place Monday, October 6 at 8 p.m., to be held in l'Ecole Euperior and a guest speaker will be present.

Members of four congregations honor Rev. Ralph Watson on his departure

Members of the four congregations which have been served for the past five years by the Rev. Ralph Watson, accompanied by their families, met in St. Mungo's Church Hall on Saturday evening to wish their departing minister the best in his new charge of Laval West and St. Eustache. Mr. M. Wilson was chairman for the evening, and the hall was beautifully decorated with fall flowers, also blooms of tubercous begonias provided by Mrs. M. Wilson.

The first part of the program was a sing song of old favorites, accompanied by Miss Davidson and Mrs. Russell Owens, who took turns at the piano.

Mrs. W. Y. King then presented Mrs. Watson with a Life Membership Certificate and pin from the W.M.S., of Cushing, of which Mrs. Watson had been first vice-president. As Mrs. Watson was returning to her seat, she was met by Mrs. Jas. Coney, who pinned a lovely corsage on her shoulder on behalf of the ladies of the congregation; also a smaller one on little Maureen and placed a floral bandeau on her small head. Mrs. Watson fittingly replied to both gifts.

Mr. Wilson then called upon Mrs. W. Usher to take over, who in turn requested that the Rev. and Mrs. Watson come to the front. Mrs. Usher read an address, stressing the congregation's regrets because of their removal, also stressing very pointedly the kindness and good works of the both of them and especially of the Rev. Watson's guidance and encouragement in the building of the church hall, and of his faithfulness to the work of the church in general.

Mr. Fred Gauley, of Grenville charge, expressed the love and good wishes of the Grenville congregation with Mr. Lawson Taylor speaking for St. Andrews East and Mr. M. Wilson for Calumet.

Mr. L. Wilson then produced the gifts from the four congregations, consisting of a beautiful silver tea service, including a tea and coffee pot, hot water jug and sugar and cream, a cheque of $75, a suit bag for travelling for Mr. Watson, a watch for little John, and a gold bracelet for little Maureen.

The Rev. Watson expressed the thanks of himself and his family, for the beautiful gifts, in a speech which clearly defined their regret at leaving their kind friends in the vicinity, with whom they had been so closely associated for the past five years, and also stated that their great interest in the local community would continue to follow on through the years.

During the evening, the Rev. Watson screened the moving pictures he had taken from time to time, of different people and scenes, work parties, weddings, Daily Vacation Bible Schools and children's picnics, all of which proved the real depth of his interest.

The Rev. Watson's faithfulness to church and community work which came to his hand and to which he was continually called upon for help, which he has never failed to give wholeheartedly, as president of Home and School Associations, Padre to the Legion, and local reserve unit, or as organizer and counsellor to a Young People's Group which he formed during the past two years, will long be remembered.

The Rev. Watson had a busy and satisfying life in this community, which has made its residents, to whom both the Rev. and Mrs. Watson have endeared themselves, feel that they have been specially benefitted by his stay amongst us.

New secretary appointed for Quebec Women's Inst.

Miss Norma Holmes, Stanstead, has accepted the position of secretary for the Quebec Women's Institutes. This was announced by the Q.W.I. Executive at a meeting held this week in Montreal.

In addition to her business training, Miss Holmes has a background of experience in the Women's Institute. Her mother, the late Mrs. W. H. Holmes, was one of the pioneers in Institute work in that area. She assisted the first Q.W.I. demonstrator, Miss Frederica Campbell, in organizing the first branches in the county, November 1913; one in her own community of Way's Mills, and a few days later at Tomifobia. Mrs. Holmes was president of the first named for several years and later became the first county president, when Stanstead was organized on this larger basis. A county scholarship has now been established to her memory.

Miss Holmes herself, is president of her own branch, Stanstead North, and 1st vice-president for the county. And still in the family, Mrs. W. B. Holmes, Ayer's Cliff, the present provincial convener of Welfare & Health, is a sister-in-law.

Miss Holmes will begin her duties at the provincial office, Macdonald College, the first of October.

Jehovah's Witnesses hold circuit convention in Montreal next week

October 10-12 have been chosen as the dates for the semi-annual circuit convention of Jehovah's Witnesses, it was revealed Monday by P. A. Rae, presiding minister of the local group, who went on to explain that the selected theme for the convention would be, "Expanding Our Ministry."

"The object of the convention," he said, "is to help each minister become better qualified to preach the Gospel among the people of the community. As practical Christians we believe that religion should be taught in the homes. This is the method Jesus and His apostles used and we are copying their example."

"The program we are going to attend in Montreal," he continued, "will open in the Kaiserman Memorial Hall, 5101 Esplanade Avenue, where services will be held on Friday and Saturday. On Sunday the program will be transferred to the Canadian Slovak Hall, 7290 Hutchison Street, for the remainder of the sessions."

"The highlight of our convention," Mr. Rae concluded, "will be the public talk, 'The Watch Tower Society In God's Purposes" on Sunday at 3 p.m. by Mr. Laurier Saumur, our district supervisor."

Officials announced that more than 1,000 delegates are expected to attend from the Montreal area.

C.N.I.B. Financial campaign planned for Chatham area

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind will commence a campaign in the Township of Chatham on Monday, October 6. This year's campaign will be under the able chairmanship of Mr. Willie Robert. At present there are two blind cases in the Township of Chatham who are receiving various services from the Institute.

During the past year, eight people received eye examinations, treatment and glasses.

The objective for the entire county is $5,100 and it is hoped the citizens of Chatham will contribute $500. The Institute is in desperate need of funds to look after the 47 blind people in the County of Argenteuil and to help the countless number of people who are not blind but do require eye examinations and treatments by opthamologists and the furnishing of glasses.

Your contribution will assist the Institute to help many people who have not the funds for the protection of their eyes.

All the canvassers are volunteers and they are well known to you. We request that you receive these workers cordially and assist them in their humanitarian work. Be as generous as you possibly can.

Listed are the names of all the canyassers in the Chatham Township: financial chairman, Mr. Willie Robert, canvassers, Bruce Bradford, Tom Weir, Reg Morrow, Mrs. G. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Perley Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ouelette, John Douglas and W. Peloquin.

W.C.T.U. speakers urge moral courage to 'live' temperance

ings, was constantly in demand by persons from the Press wishing to get access to the reports and addresses, which she was collecting for White Ribbon Tidings. One of the speakers at the closing banquet, the leader of the Ministerial Association, said in his brief address that "no other convention had been given such publicity as this convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union."

Miss N. Martin, head of the Temperance Study Course which is held every autumn, spoke of the rapid increase of younger alcoholics. "Social pressure", she said, "affects teen-agers more than anything else, and in the race to conform, alcohol is accepted. The National Temperance Study Course is being conducted and reaching thousands of children and teen-agers from coast to coast, but because of lack of leadership, lack of conviction on the value of education against alcoholism, and other factors, thousands more are not being taught the danger of beverage alcohol. But the number of young people who took part in the temperance Study Course during the past year totalled 24,093."

Mrs. Thompson, of the Department of Health and Nutrition in the W.C.T.U., said that "scientific facts revealing what the use of alcohol can do to the mental, physical and social well-being of mankind, as they pertain to economy, health and sane living, should be constantly made public."

Dr. Watson Kirkconnell, president of Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., in his address said: "We are rapidly becoming one of the most alcoholic nations"; also "The drunken man or woman is simply a crazed animal at large. Not a day passes without new cases being reported of drunken murders, or drink-inflamed rape, of parents swilling in the beer parlor while their children freeze or burn to death, of drunken accidents on the highway, of drunken insolvency, cruelty or desertion. . . "Liquor", he said, "is the handmaid both of fornication and seduction, the soaring divorce rise and the instability of the Canadian home."

"Year after year", said Dr. Kirkconnell, "Canada and the United States have been drinking more than they drank the year before. The number of alcoholics in Canada at the present is 200,000, and at least five each who suffer with and because of them." His address cannot be given in full, but his closing words should be recorded: "Is it too much to ask the Christian in Canada that he show a little moral courage and give his support to temperance for the welfare of his neighbors, and his children's lives?"

Salvation Army donations needed to reach objective

Geo. Y. Deacon, local financial chairman for the Salvation Army campaign, reports that the campaign is still on and in need of further donations to meet the objective for the area.

Donations may be turned in to the chairman or any member of the organization.

CWL meeting at Brownsburg

Brownsburg — The C.W.L. St. Louis de France sub-division, held their first fall meeting last week. General business was discussed under the chairmanship of Miss Muriel Jackson, with Father Hurtubise present.

Reports were read by conveners and details of the provincial convention held at Maison d'Esterel were given.

Mrs. Laura Hall was appointed as new Welfare convener.

A social evening for members and guests, was planned for the October meeting. It is hoped that a large number will attend.

The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. Myra Summers' committee.

STONES AND BULLETS

At this season of the year the transmission and distribution lines, on which the Company's customers depend for their electricity, suffer damage needlessly.

Between the stones thrown by children — and sometimes by adults — and bullets of hunters, insulators are broken and wires snapped each year.

Every broken insulator or snapped wire means an interruption of electrical service, which in turn means annoying trouble for someone. That someone is often a friend or acquaintance of the person responsible for the trouble.

Persons who use electric wires or insulators for targets are poor friends indeed to their neighbors.

You will be helping yourself and doing the Company a service if you assist in discouraging the practice of using the Company's poles, wires and insulators as targets.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES
Only God's kingdom, which you pray for in the Lord's Prayer, will heal all nations. Six thousand years of a violently changing pattern of governments have proved man's inability to rule himself in absolute justice and peace. But relief is already in sight! In our generation the start toward universal reconstruction has been made! Already Jehovah God is gathering together the beginning of a new nation destined to live on earth forever. Its nationals come from all families of the earth. You can join them! Read . . . HEALING OF THE NATIONS HAS DRAWN NEAR. The price of this booklet is only 5 cents, or three for ten.
Write 150 Bridgeland Avenue, Toronto, Ont., or ask any Jehovah's Witnesses whom you meet, anywhere. They will be glad to serve you.

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"What darling pink toes! What happy little feet he has!" a visitor exclaimed as she watched an infant clothed just in diapers, on a hot summer day, waving his chubby little legs in the air.

The correct way to walk or stand lets the main pressure fall where there are bones to support it. The weight rests on the outer, rather than the inner edge of the foot. High heels hurt the spine by throwing the weight forward in an unnatural way. The toes should be put to use in walking or standing. The heel should strike the ground first and there should be a "springiness" to the step.

Children need flexible shoes, low broad heels, and round toe caps with plenty of room for each toe to lie straight and a little space between the toes. The shoe should have a strong shank and fit snugly around heel and instep. Children's feet grow very rapidly and thus new shoes must be longer and wider than the child's feet. Laced shoes can be adjusted somewhat to the size of a child's foot, but children often need new shoes two or three times a year.

The bill for shoes in a family with several children amounts to quite a sum. But it can be stretched by keeping shoes clean, shined, and in good repair. A small child enjoys a visit to a shoe repair shop. An older school child can take responsibility for looking after his shoes and getting them mended. Have the shoe shine material assembled in one box and keep it filled with the necessary polishes, brushes, and cloths.

To ensure that there is the necessary extra half or three-quarters inch "room to grow" beyond the toes, a parent can measure a child's foot by having him place the full weight on his foot while standing on a piece of paper. Holding a pencil upright in a perpendicular position, draw the outline of both right and left feet. Then draw the outline of both of the proposed new shoes. The shoe outline must be outside the foot outline, with the essential surplus room at the toe. Both feet are drawn, because sometimes there is quite a difference in the size of right and left feet. Too small shoes can be blamed for corns, bunions, and much unhappiness, and so can poorly fitting stockings.

A mother usually takes time to dry her baby's feet carefully. But when the pre-school child comes to the independent "me do it" stage, Mother must watch to see that the skin between the toes is thoroughly dried after washing. School children need to be reminded to be thorough in drying their feet after the bath and swim time. Damp skin plus germs (which are apt to lurk around the pool edges and the showers at an indoor pool), may result in Athlete's Foot. This should be treated at once under a doctor's direction.

Ingrown toe-nails can be extremely painful, and some even require a minor operation. They can be avoided by cutting the toe nails straight across and very slightly beyond the tip of the toes. Nails should not be cut or pared down at the sides to give a rounded effect.

Happy feet! How many things contribute to this condition! In many areas, families are enjoying hiking as an outdoor activity which is hard to beat. Many youth groups are placing a new emphasis on the fun of walking in the fresh air along the rural roads, exploring the paths in the woods, and climbing in the hills. There is a new appreciation of the importance of physical fitness. As J. G. Holland once pointed out, "in adventure, wings are for the angels, but feet are for men!"

HEARTY SOUP FOR FALL DAYS

The days are turning cooler . . . the leaves are changing color . . . both wonderful signs of fall.

Appetites, too, take a turn at this time of year. They are sharpened by increased activity and brisk weather. As a result, hearty meals are in order. Soup . . . with its tempting aroma and stick-to-the-ribs quality can be the mainstay of such meals. With the wonderful assortment of available canned condensed soups, nourishing meals can be prepared quickly.

Sure to hit the spot is this combination . . . bean with bacon and beef . . . so warming and satisfying. Ladled from a gaily colored tureen . . . it becomes "party fare".

To go along with this colorful soup . . . pass a basket of sandwiches . . . perhaps melted cheese on buns and Boston brown bread with cream cheese . . . include an array of homemade relishes. Then for dessert . . . a spicy Harvest apple pie and hot coffee.

BEAN AND BEEF CHOWDER

1 can (10 ounces) condensed bean with bacon soup
1 can (10 ounces) condensed beef soup
1½ soup cans water

Combine soups and water; heat. Makes 4 servings.

VEGETABLE BEAN SOUP

1 can (10 ounces) condensed bean with bacon soup
1 can (10 ounces) condensed vegetarian vegetable soup
2 soup cans water

Combine soups and water; heat. Makes 4 servings.

Teenage lunch for 'back-to-schoolers'

Many teenagers apparently pack their own lunches for school and too often, because of lack of time and knowledge, short change themselves on nutrition. A lunch menu should include milk in some form (as beverage, pudding or soup), fruit or vegetable (both if possible), a protein food such as poultry, meat, fish, eggs or cheese, and buttered bread, rolls, or muffins. These are the foods recommended in Canada's Food Rules.

Teenagers are so anxious to be popular and peppy, and yet they frequently work against themselves because of their poor eating habits. A good lunch and breakfast based on the foods above help put bounce in the step and better marks on term exam papers for these active young people.

Home Economist, Dorothy Batcheller of the Poultry Products Institute, points out that if the dinner menu is planned with an eye to usable leftovers for the lunch box, even the teenager will find the preparing and packing of a good lunch simple. For example, a few extra potatoes boiled at dinner, can quickly become a potato salad with the necessary protein value when a chopped hard-cooked egg is added. Left over cooked beets, become a tasty salad when diced and dressed with finely chopped hard-cooked egg and French dressing, or with salad dressing and sliced egg. Cold sliced poultry is quickly converted into tasty sandwiches, and for an extra zip, a little poultry seasoning may be added to the butter before spreading the bread.

Food is more than just fuel. The body is like a motor car, fill the tank with gasoline and the car will run only as long as there is also plenty of oil lubricating all the many moving parts. Food which contains all the necessary things to keep the body functioning should be used daily, and Canada's Food Rules provide the check list.

Cheddar cheese is month's feature

What's in the cool wind of October? It is news of the October cheese festival in Canada. Presiding at the festival will be King Cheddar, ruler of Canada's very important dairy industry.

Cheddar cheese is a basic variety of cheese made from cow's milk and ripened by bacteria. In the shops it appears in either a deep rich cream or yellow color, the only difference between the two being some added vegetable coloring to give the natural cheese a yellow color.

Cheddar is marketed and sold according to age. "Mild Cheddar" has been ripened only a few weeks. "Medium" is aged for several months, while "Old Nippy Cheddar" has been ripened for a year or more. A distinct flavor develops, strong in proportion to the degree of ripening, and the cheese gradually mellows.

Cheddar cheese is excellent for serving at meal time and for adding flavor to bland foods in cooking. One pound of Cheddar will give approximately four cups of grated cheese.

Process Cheddar cheese is popular too. In its manufacture, Cheddar chese is mixed into a homogeneous mass, pasteurized and poured into moulds or packages. Food color, seasonings, relishes, certain preservatives and water solids derived from milk may be added to process cheese. Process Cheddar slices easily and blends very well with other foods when a little heat is applied. It is excellent for cooking as well as use on a snack tray or in sandwiches and salads.

There are three golden cheese rules to bring delight in the rich, mellow flavor of Cheddar to your table:

1. Buy the right amount for your purpose, making sure to choose the type that pleases your family's taste.
2. Store Cheddar properly.
3. Cook with care.

Storing Tips

Wrap cheese in heavy waxed paper or foil or pop it into a covered container and store it in the refrigerator or other cool place. In storing a large piece of cheese, protect the cut side with a coating of paraffin or a piece of waxed paper pressed on with a hot iron.

Remove cheese from the refrigerator long enough before using to allow it to reach room temperature. Every bit of the full flavor in cheese is brought out at room temperature.

Save the firm scraps after cutting cheese, grate them, and store in a covered jar.

Cooking Tips

To mix cheese evenly with other ingredients, the cheese is usually melted, grated or ground.

To cook cheese, "easy" is the word to remember. Treat it gently when heating — don't shock it into a rubbery tough mass by subjecting it to high temperatures. "Oven-poaching" and baking in a moderate oven for only the length of time necessary to thoroughly heat the mixture, are cooking methods recommended for cheese dishes.

Cancer check-up

An annual cancer check-up takes less time than a golf game or permanent wave; yet it is one of science's most important weapons against the disease, according to the October Reader's Digest. The magazine quotes a spokesman for the American Cancer Society: "A few years ago, we were saving one in four people stricken by cancer. Today the figure is one in three. It could be one in two, without the discovery of a single new drug."

Written Specially for The Lachute Watchman

By Edna Usher

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Starting next January 1 teeth troubles should be over for Ontario children, as far as expenses for the family is concerned.

In the New Year, the provincial government and the Royal College of Dental Surgeons introduce a scheme whereby all children under 16 in families receiving mother's allowances will receive free dental care.

Between 17,000 and 18,000 children will be affected. The province will pay a flat rate of $8.40 a year for each child to the College of Dental Surgeons.

The Catholic Women's League has suggested family allowance payment for children of landed immigrants, to be administered by the family allowance department from the date of arrival of the immigration in Canada.

Making Mincemeat

It's a long time since making mincemeat was a chore the whole family helped with — chopping the meat and apples, seeding the raisins and grinding and blending the spices.

Everything about it is easier for today's homemaker who not only has a food chopper and can buy seedless raisins and prepared spices, but isn't even expected to have meat in her mincemeat.

Here is a modern-method recipe for green tomato mincemeat which can be made now for Christmas:

Ingredients: four pounds green tomatoes, four pounds apples, four cups seedless raisins, two cups currants, half-cup mixed peel, four cups sugar, four teaspoons salt, three-quarters cup vinegar, one cup chopped suet, two tablespoons cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon nutmeg.

Wash tomatoes, remove core from stem end, then put through food chopper using coarse blade. Wash, peel and core apples, then chop finely. Combine all ingredients, bring to a boil uncovered for 30 to 40 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour into hot sterilized sealers and seal immediately.

Hot Soup

Appetites usually sharpen as the weather does the same, and soup, replaced by salad and fruit juice during summer, comes into its own again.

Bean and beef chowder is a combination of ready-mixed soups which may prove popular. Combine a can of condensed bean and bacon soup with a can of condensed beef soup, add a can and a half of water, and boil.

Age of Sprays

The push-button age has arrived with a vengeance. If you want to keep the dogs off the lawn, paint a hard-to-get-spot in the house, eliminate frying smells or catch a falling curl, push the right button and — presto! Or so the manufacturers say.

There is, it seems, a dog repellent which can be sprayed on the lawn (or on house furniture) and it is guaranteed to keep Fido away.

Air fresheners puffed into the house, and then, if all this button manipulation has made your hair limp, you can use a hair spray to clip your curls into your coiffure.

Have You A Question on UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any point do not hesitate to send us your question. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Q. My husband is an old man now, but has paid into the unemployment insurance fund since it first started. Is there anything in it for him when he retires or if he should get sick?

A. The Unemployment Insurance Act insures your husband against loss of work if he is available for work but for industrial or economic reasons cannot obtain it. To qualify for benefit he must, therefore, show that he is unemployed, ready and willing to take work if it is available, and unable to obtain suitable employment. If, when he retires, he is not interested in obtaining other employment, he will not be eligible for benefit. The Act does not insure him against loss of work because of illness. However, if he were unemployed and receiving benefit when he happened to become sick, his benefit would not be stopped on that account.

Q. If I take a job in non-insurable employment can I still be insured and pay my own premiums?

A. No. Except where your employment becomes non-insurable because your yearly earnings have risen to more than $4,800 and where you have already been insured for at least 30 weeks in the two-year period immediately preceding this event, and make application through your employer to continue to remain insured. This must be done within six months of your salary going over the ceiling; moreover, you would have to pay the entire contribution — your employer's portion and your own.

the RENAULT Dauphine lets you brag about being modest!

Tell your friends you average 44 m.p.g. in your RENAULT Dauphine and you're being modest! In a motor sports club Economy Run held in June, 1958, at Hamilton, Ont., a RENAULT Dauphine was the best, averaging 81.6 m.p.g. over a 90.7 mile course. Another very popular European car was second with 62 m.p.g. But, as the 81.6 m.p.g. were made under very favourable driving conditions, we of RENAULT would never claim that mileage for the type of driving you would do in a RENAULT Dauphine.

When choosing a car, be careful of exaggerated claims. Remember, the RENAULT Dauphine will average 44 m.p.g. really! And, it costs only $1825 fully equipped in Halifax, Saint John, N.B., Quebec City, Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver.

For a demonstration, phone RENAULT at RI. 8-9661 or AV. 8-4291.

1,340 Persons vaccinated at free adult anti-polio clinics

Legion-sponsored public clinic was community effort with willing helpers

Members of Lachute Legion, Branch 70, and the Provincial Chapter, Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis, combined forces to arrange a very successful free Anti-Polio vaccine clinic for adults in Lachute.

Some 640 persons were vaccinated in two clinics at the Legion Memorial Hall, and an additional 700 employees in separate clinics on the premises of Ayers Limited, Dominion Ayers Wood Products, and J. C. Wilson. Foundation personnel commented that this is one of the highest percentages of population immunization in any area in the province to date.

Perhaps the greatest surprise to most persons immunized at this clinic was the speed with which the operation was carried out, and the fact that the needles are almost painless. Age too was no limitation, as cards were recorded for persons ranging from 15 to 80 years.

The Legion president, R. O. MacLean, B. A. Jenkins, chairman of the clinic, and the Foundation are most grateful to the local doctors and registered nurses, members of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary and many others without whose assistance this clinic would have been impossible. Their generous contribution has resulted in a large saving for the Canadian March of Dimes Fund which financially supports this work.

Those persons who received "shots" at the clinics are reminded to retain the tickets they were issued with, for presentation at the second clinic to be held on October 30.

Persons taking part in this clinic included the following:

Afternoon Clinic

Physicians — Dr. John C. MacKimmie and Dr. J. E. Christie.

Registered Nurses — Mrs. Gerald Walker, Mrs. Richard Ayers, Mrs. Lecnard Ayers, Mrs. Léopold Carrière.

Registration and Other Duties — Mrs. H. Ward, Mrs. C. Graham, Mrs. W. Skinner, Mrs. S. Bradshaw, Mrs. W. Brawshaw, Mrs. K. Kettyle, Mrs. E. Ward, Mrs. S. Stewart and Mrs. L. Elder; Mr. Ken Riley, Mr. C. E. Richardson, Mr. R. A. Giles, Mr. Stewart Jones, Mr. P. Lecorre and Mr. Fred Stein.

Evening Clinic

Physicians — Dr. L. Turcotte, Dr. André Sauvé, Dr. F. W. FitzGerald.

Registered Nurses—Mrs. Richard Ayers, Mrs. Léopold Carrière, Miss L. Harrison, Miss L. Papineau, Miss Lamarre and Mrs. J. F. Gorman.

Registration and Other Duties — Mrs. H. V. Bailey, Mrs. S. Bradshaw, Mrs. W. Bradshaw, Mrs. B. Bradford, Mrs. D. Ogilvie, Mrs. J. Coney, Mrs. J. Pillage, Mrs. E. Ward, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. R. Thorburn; Mr. J. Martel, Mr. P. Lecorre, Mr. S. Bradshaw, Mr. D. Ogilvie, Mr. G. J. McNair.

Nurse Mercier, of the Foundation, supervised all clinics in the area.

Permits granted and accounts approved; constable engaged on temporary basis

Civic sidelights and business details occupied the attention of Council, aside from one or two major considerations at the regular meeting. Mayor Léopold Carrière presided — the only member absent being Ald. Mozart Carrière.

Request for a donation to the French-language library "Le Carrefour du Livre", was held over for study.

Permission was granted to Lachute Women's Institute to organize a UNICEF "hand-out" for Hallowe'en.

The services of Mme Yvette Raymond as acting secretary-treasurer were retained to the end of the fiscal year, with a salary increase of $10 a week.

Building permits were granted to — Martin Niederkorn, for a residential property on College Street; Doriment Plouffe, for renovations to his property on Bedard Blvd.; Russell Murray, for a bungalow on Main St.; J.-J. Dumoulin; and Réal Morrissette, for construction of a garage.

Council authorized the Mayor and secretary to renew a lease with with the Department of National Defence for $100 a month rental.

The resignation of police constable Raymond Labelle was accepted, and hiring of George Taylor as temporary constable was ratified.

The month's accounts submitted for approval amounted to two cents short of $10,000 — $9,999.98. These were duly passed for payment.

Two blazes mar outset of Fire Prevention Week

Two fires of a serious nature on Monday put Fire Prevention Week in Lachute off to a bad start, damage being estimated at close to $10,000, not covered by insurance. The fires took place in an Ayersville garage, Larocque Auto Body, and in the radio repair shop owned and operated by George Helmer.

The first call was received in the early afternoon and firemen arrived to find the garage buildings engulfed in flames. Gutted in the building was a 1950-model car, new tires, tools and general garage equipment owned by Hector Larocque, Durocher Street, Ayersville. Damage to Mr. Larocque's house immediately in front of the garage, and to that of a neighbor, was slight, caused mainly from heat and flames fanned by winds.

At 8.25 p.m., the alarm again sounded, and this time, flames were rampant throughout the large building in which George Helmer's Radio Shop is housed, at rear of the Liquor Store, Main Street. Firemen battled the blaze in all sections of the former garage, and the fire here is believed to have been caused by electrical wiring. The majority of the contents of the shop were not too severely damaged, but the loss, which was considerable, was not covered by insurance. The building is owned by Paul (Pep) Pariseau.

Two lines of hose were laid to battle each fire, operations being directed by Police - Fire Chief Fernand Trépanier.

Council votes $1,500 grant to Federation of Charities

Appearing before Town Council last week at the regular monthly session was a delegation on behalf of the Lachute Federation of Charities. Mayor Léopold Carrière read a letter from the campaign chairman, Dr. Chas. Roy, and the Federation president, Jean-Paul Roy, spoke on behalf of the annual charity drive October 14-21. As an outcome of these representations, Council voted a grant of $1,500.

Dr. Roy's letter stressed the importance of the campaign, and the increasing needs in its scope of charitable aid.

President Jean-Paul Roy quoted extracts from a letter by Canon Paul Manseau, director of Social Service for the diocese, in which he lauded the accomplishments of Mr. Dufresne, officer of the Social Service in Lachute. It appeared that sums dispensed upon the needy of this community amount to $100,000 annually, equalling the payroll of a smaller industry, and that the cases handled by the agent here are becoming so numerous as to require an additional helper.

The Mayor let it be known that the Council is in full accord with Mr. Dufresne's endeavors; he understands the needs of the people and the responsibilities of the Council. "The Town is also doing its part", continued the Mayor; "our welfare records show that $21,232 has been dispensed over an eight-month period this year. However, we are happy to acknowledge the work achieved by the Charities Federation, and have decided to vote a contribution of $1,500."

Ald. Dr. Jean-Paul Dorion noted that, if the grant had been considerably increased ($1,000 in 1958), it was thanks to better service given by the Social Service worker.

Ald. Gérard Lefebvre stated he was glad to be the sponsor of this resolution for he was well aware of the benevolent work effected by the Federation (he was campaign chairman in 1955). He was also happy to propose the motion, inasmuch as the Federation had received no grant from the municipality during his year as chairman!

In Ayersville, the municipal council voted a contribution of $800 to the Federation. Councillor Edgar Cyr, seconded by Rosaire Quenneville, sponsored the motion for this amount, while Maurice Dumais, moved an amendment to raise the donation to $1,200. There was a split vote, the original motion being carried.

Ceremonies Saturday to open Charities Federation appeal

Proceeding to mark the opening of Federation of Charities campaign next Saturday, will include a street parade (weather permitting), the installation of a symbolic "thermometer" in front of the Town Hall, and brief speeches by the Federation president, Jean-Paul Roy, and Mayor Léopold Carrière, appealing to the public generosity. Formal presentation of cheques representing donations of the Greater Lachute municipalities, will also form part of the proceedings.

Starting point of the parade will be the corner of Princess and Hamford Streets opposite the Ayers Mills; time, 2 p.m. The tour will end at the Town Hall, where the public are cordially invited to witness the foregoing ceremonies. In case of rain there will be no parade and the formalities will be held inside the town building.

The objective for this big community effort to meet charity and recreation needs in Lachute, Ayersville and the contiguous area of St. Jerusalem, is $18,260. High in the order of benefits are the Social Service and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind; but equally important are the clothing centres for needy families, and the playgrounds and recreation programs for youthful citizens.

The campaign is billed for October 14-21. Numerous helpers and organizations will be deferring their regular activities to take part in the canvass, and it is hoped the true spirit of charity will prevail, to boost this community venture in a big way and ensure a successful outcome.

The following ladies have agreed to act as canvassers among the English-speaking families: Miss L. Lowe, Miss L. Harrison, Mrs. Clayton Robinson, Mrs. W. Butterfield and Mrs. Keith Clark. . . This section of the canvass is in charge of Col. Ernest Emmett.

Winner of Legion McGill scholarship

Alex E. MacGibbon, a graduate last year from Brownsburg High School, has been awarded a $150 scholarship from the Quebec Provincial Command, Canadian Legion — according to a letter received from K. L. Woolly, the Provincial Secretary.

The scholarship has been sent direct to McGill University as a part-payment of tuition fees, where the winner is entered in first year Engineering; a certificate will be presented at a later date. The scholarship is open to families of all veterans in the province.

In addition to the Provincial award, McGibbon was presented with a $50 cheque from Brownsburg Branch 71, Canadian Legion, for having placed first in his class.

Capt. 'Dave' Weir was notable figure and County citizen

Capt. J. D. Weir

Capt. Joseph Davison Weir, O.B.E., J.P., noted in inland marine circles, and a valued citizen of this County, died last Saturday in the Smith Clinic at Hawkesbury, where he had been taken following a seizure of illness at his home in Cushing last week. He was 77 years of age.

Born in Grenville, Capt. Weir went to work as a deckhand aboard river and lake boats, receiving his master's ticket in 1904 at the age of 23.

By 1909 he was assistant superintendent of lighthouses for the Montreal district of Marine and Fisheries. In 1913 he became superintendent in charge of construction and lights for the Montreal district.

He was made a member of the Order of the British Empire by the late King George VI in 1946, and early afterwards became marine agent and superintendent of the United Montreal Pilots Association, Montreal.

At the time of his retirement, in 1947, Capt. Weir was harbourmaster of the Port of Sorel and superintendent of lights for Montreal district.

After his retirement from marine service, Capt. Weir formed the Sorel Dock and Stevedoring Company and specialized in all forms of harbor and marine construction. He was associated with the company at the time of his death.

Capt. Weir was a justice of the peace for Montreal and Terrebonne, and a member of the Shriners International.

He is survived by his wife, the former Katy Margaret Hartley; one daughter, Mrs. A. Taylor (Eileen), and two sons, Kenneth and Robert. Capt. Weir had latterly disposed of his home at Sonneville to make his year-round residence in Cushing.

The remains rested at the MacKimmie Funeral Home — funeral being held Tuesday from St. Mungo's United Church near his riverfront home, followed by burial at St. Andrew's East Cemetery.

253 Bottles of blood from successful clinic in B'burg

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — In the September 17 issue of The Watchman, Brownsburg area citizens were asked to keep in mind that the mobile blood donor clinic would be in town on September 23. It is gratifying to note that quite a number of people did keep it in mind, and as a result, the Red Cross blood bank was enriched by the addition of 253 bottles of whole blood.

A total of 265 men and women volunteered, 144 in the C-I-L plant clinic and 121 at the clinic held in the Legion hall. While colds, 'flu and jaundice histories kept away some of the old "regulars", some 30 new donors were registered. This in itself is considered a great step forward, since after a man or woman has made a donation once, the feeling of uncertainty is gone and they usually return year after year. New donors have often been heard to say, "Well, that was easy, I'll certainly be back next year."

Sincere thanks, on behalf of the Red Cross and of the recipients of blood transfusions, are extended to all those citizens who donated their blood, time and energy to make the clinic a success. A special "thank-you" is extended, too, to those people who provided food for Red Cross Clinic staff and local executive members.

Underwriters condemn local fire equipment, council to purchase additional pumper-truck

A full report on "Municipal fire protection in the Town of Lachute", dated February, 1958, and submitted by the Montreal Branch of the Canadian Underwriters' Association, was read at last Wednesday's regular meeting of the Lachute Town Council, held under the presidency of Mayor Léopold Carrière and in the accompanying letter reports they are "much inferior to our standards."

The report was prepared by the Canadian Underwriters' Association as the Town of Lachute benefits from a special fire insurance rate and it is the policy of this organization to visit such municipalities to make sure their protection is up to the Association standards.

Following the reading of the report, a loan by-law for $30,000 was drawn up and passed in three readings at an adjourned session of Council the following evening, Thursday. This by-law will be open for ratepayers discussion at a meeting to be held in the Lachute Town Hall this Friday, October 10 at 7.30 p.m. and if necessary, a referendum will be held following that.

The by-law is to provide for the purchase of a new fire truck, street and sidewalk snow removal equipment and the necessary renovations to the fire station.

In addition to this, Town legal advisor Fernand Legault and Engineer Paul Laliberté, have been authorized to prepare a zoning by-law in addition to a building by-law, in consultation with the Council, this to be finished not later than December 31, 1958. Mayor Carrière was also authorized to consult with the Hon. W. M. Cottingham in connection with a grant towards the purchase of the new fire equipment.

The report consists of 42 sections, the first 31 being on general conditons in the town proper, waterworks system, fire department, and finally hydrant tests. Sections 32 to 42 are "general remarks and recommendations" which are pointed out in the accompanying letter for Council to "read attentatively", and a resumé of which follows:

32. By-laws — Existing building regulations are decidedly inadequate to meet present day requirements. It is, therefore, recommended that complete municipal ordinances be prepared and adopted, particularly in regard to the following items: Building; Fire Limit; Fire Prevention; Oil-burning equipment for heating purposes; Storage of explosives and inflammable liquids; and Chimney Sweeping, all of which the report goes on in detail.

33. Water supply requirements. — To meet actual requirements for the present population (7,000) water supply should be available at a rate of not less than 3,600,000 gallons per day for a 10-hour fire-fighting period; in addition to this approximately 1,000,000 gallons per day are needed for domestic supply needs. The results of the fire flow tests as described in Item 30, indicate that the water supply available is presently 50% short of requirements.

34. Distribution System. — "Circulation is fairly good but the system suffers from an excessive amount of small mains which seriously reduce the amount of water available for fire fighting.

35. Hydrants. — Additional hydrants are required at a few locations.

36. Water metering service. — To obtain accurate records as to water consumption in the town, it is strongly recommended that a water metering device be provided and that daily records of consumption be filed for reference.

37. Auto combination pumper, booster and hose car. — An appliance of this type should be provided. It should comprise a fire pump with a booster system and suitable accommodation for ladders, hose and other equipment. This section goes on as to requirements for various sections of the truck, all of which must be approved by the Fire Commissioner, Province of Quebec.

38. Ladders. — At least 200 feet of assorted ladders should be provided, with one of sufficient length to reach the roof of the highest building. These ladders should be carried on the fire apparatus.

39. Fire station. — Requires in part a cut-off wall from the municipal garage as well as adequate facilities for washing and drying hose.

40. Fire Brigade. — The existing fire brigade is decidedly undermanned. For the present population (7,000) a brigade of at least 22 men is required, including seven of whom are fully paid, one of whom is the chief. The fully paid men to be without other duties and in attendance at the fire hall day and night; the remainder should be volunteers paid per annum.

If the foregoing requirements regarding fully paid men cannot be met at this time, arrangements should be made for four volunteers to sleep at the fire station.

It is strongly recommended that drills be held regularly in order that all members of the brigade may become fully familiar with the use and manipulation of fire fighting equipment with instructons in fire-fighting tactics.

41. Alarm System. — As the present population exceeds 5,000 it is urgent that consideration be given to the provision of a complete alarm system of the telegraph (fire box) type.

42. Police Force. — The night patrol should be provided with a watchman's clock in connection with a few call stations in the principal built-upon portions of the municipality.

Letter stipulates action necessary by local council

410 St. Nicholas St.,
Montreal, Que.,
July 24, 1958

(Translation)

Mr. Jacques Poitras,
Secretary-treasurer,
Town of Lachute.

Dear Sir:

In following with our policy to periodically visit all localities benefitting from reduced insurance rates, we recently made a complete inspection of the fire protection facilities in your municipality. It is with pleasure that we include with our letter, two copies of a report prepared following this visit.

This report indicated that the fire-protection facilities available in Lachute are much inferior to our standards. Since our last inspection, the population has increased considerably but the aquduct system has not been improved to take care of the needs of this additional population. The same old fire truck is still in service.

We would appreciate it if the Council would read attentively this report, particularly the recommendations found on pages four and five, sections 32 to 42.

The fire-protection equipment actually available is inferior to that being used when the fire insurance rates actually applicable in Lachute were established. It is absolutely necessary that your council take the following steps to remedy the conditions so that they will be on the level they were when the rates were established:

1. Purchase a new fire truck.
2. Separate the fire station from the remainder of the garage by means of a cement block wall.
3. We are submitting a program for over a period of from 3 to 5 years, to modernize the aquduct system.

We would like to receive the views of your Council in regard to our recommendations afterwhich we will inform our companies of the actual existing situation.

Sincerely yours,
— J. J. Amyot

Mrs. N. Holland named president at Historical Soc'y annual meeting

Noted zoologist guest speaker, Society's 24th annual gathering

The 24th annual meeting of the Historical Society of Argenteuil County was held in the Museum at Carillon last Saturday. The president, Mrs. George McGibbon, conducted the meeting, and there were about 85 members present.

The annual reports were presented and the following slate of officers was elected for the coming year:

Hon. President, Mrs. George McGibbon.

President, Mrs. Norman Holland.

1st vice-president, Mr. Mac E. Walker.

2nd vice-president, Mr. Arthur F. Hanly.

3rd vice-president, Mr. Clément Tremblay, O.B.E.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. R. Davidson.

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. L. Duncan.

Legal Secretary, Mr. Fernand Legault.

Treasurer, Mr. Leighton York.

Auditor, Mr. H. D. Clark.

Directors — Miss A. L. Wales, Mr. Russell Graham, Mrs. A. O. Ponder, Mrs. W. Papineau, Mrs. H. Owen, Mr. C .B. Kevin Clarke, Miss B. Robertson, Mrs. A. Graham, Miss F. M. Douglas, Mr. Manuel R. Wilson, Mrs. George McGibbon, Mr. A. G. Talbot.

Mr. A. G. Talbot moved a vote of thanks to the officers of the 1957-1958 season. He gave an interesting synopsis on the history of the Society, and the progress made through the years, making special note of the outstanding contributions made by the Hungerbuhler and the Abbott families.

Mr. Clément Tremblay said a few words to the meeting, noting the good results achieved by the Society. He congratulated the president, Mrs. George McGibbon, and the other officers for a job well done, and wished continuing success to the new president, Mrs. Norman Holland.

After the business session of the meeting, Mr. Mac Walker, introduced the speaker, Dr. Gerald Isles, of the Zoological Department at Lafontaine Park.

Dr. Isles gave a very interesting and informative talk on his work. He had been associated with zoos and animals all his life, his father having been Director of the Manchester Zoo in England. Dr. Isles succeeded his father in this position at the age of 21.

The speaker had been associated with the Manchester Zoo until a short time ago when he accepted an invitation to come to Montreal and form a Zoological Park, to be known as the Angrignon Zoological Park. This is in the planning and building stage now, and Dr. Isles talked extensively on the work and problems involved in planning a zoo. He showed detailed plans of the new zoo and explained the layout and buildings being erected. He also showed pictures of some of the interesting animals that can be found in zoos, and told some amusing stories of his experiences with them.

The speaker was thanked by Mr. F. Legault on behalf of the Historical Society, after which tea was served by the ladies of the W.A. of Cushing United Church.

Illegal hunting near St. Michel

Lawbreaker charged after shooting 700-pound moose

Further game law violations and charges indicate that the wardens have a fair check on local hunting areas, and that infractions will meet penalties provided by the law.

Raymond Larocque, of Pointe Fortune committed a serious offence in shooting a moose at Lac Denine, two miles from Lac Grothé near St. Michel. Moose is prohibited game to hunters in Argenteuil County, the species being protected by law the year-round. The animal killed by Larocque was a female of about 3½ years, weighing 700 pounds.

The incident was reported by Roger Richer, guide at St. Michel, to provincial wardens, Fernando Lamarche, Lachute, and Alphonse Cléroux, St. Martin. The offender's gun was seized and the moose carcass confiscated. The offence is punishable by a fine of $300 to $500, but the man will be charged only with slaughtering a cow moose.

Another hunter was caught in the bush last Sunday without a hunting permit; penalty for this infraction is $10.

Correction on hunting report

Following several requests from readers as to a clarification of an item which appeared in our columns last week on hunting regulations, we are pleased to inform those concerned that a series of mistakes lead to the printing of the article.

The incident occurred in the bird sanctuary in the Verdun-Laprairie basin, and not in the locality and the statements attributed to an R.C.M.P. officer regarding the fact that "autoloading and double-barrel shotguns are illegal for hunting anywhere" is unfounded, as both are legal anywhere in the Province.

The original release was "picked up" by a news source in an incorrect manner and The Watchman, along with several other newspapers, carried it as such.

Branch 70 (Lachute) Correspondent

Quite frequently we have occasion to voice our thanks, on behalf of the Branch, in this column. In our dealings with people, in connection with Legion and other community work, we find that most folks are pretty fine people. .

Once again this became apparent to us when arranging for Lachute's first free Adult Anti-Polio Clinic. Approximately 25% of our adult population has been given the first immunization shots. Throughout the province, to date the organizers have encountered an average of 5% to 10%. Our extremely good turnout can be credited to many of our very generous citizens. In addition to those mentioned in the report on the Clinic, Branch 70, is most grateful to Gites Publishing House for its fine coverage and editorial; Mayor Léopold Carrière and the Council, for the proclamation of October as Lachute's Anti-Polio Month; and to the following industrialists — Mr. R. Regimbal and Hubert Lemire, of Ayers Limited; Mr. G. Lefebvre, of Dominion Ayers Wood Products Co. Ltd.; Mr. R. M. Cairns, Mr. Buz MacRae and Mr. P. Guenette, of J. C. Wilson Ltd.

Mr. N. MacGeorge transported several of the sightless members of our community.

Needless to say, we are most grateful to the doctors and nurses, in particular to Dr. Turcotte of the local Health Unit, who has been most co-operative.

On behalf of President R. O. MacLean, we say — thanks very much!

Curlers' recent golf tourney was notable success

The second annual golf turnament of the Lachute Curling Club was held recently at the local course. The 70 players participating comprised curlers from other clubs, including Buckingham, Cornwall, Maxville, Montebello, Montreal, Ottawa, Seigniory and Thurso.

Eighty-five curlers attended the dinner and distribution of prizes, which followed the golf competition. Howard Morrison, president of the Curling Club, welcomed the visitors, thanked the prize donors, and congratulated Gordon Davidson, chairman of the Golf Committee, and his assistants, C. E. Richardson and Jean Belanger, on a well-organized tournament.

The president then presented the Lachute Curling Club golf trophy to Don McFaul, who led the competition with a net score of 71.

The local members with the lowest gross was Laurier Carrière, 86.

The principal winners of visitors' prizes were Paul Major, Montreal St. George, with a net of 71, and David Moon, Seigniory Club, with a gross of 77.

Outdoorsman back to happy hunting grounds

Main Duck Island,
South Bay, Picton, Ont.
September 30, 1958

Dear Editor:

Back again on the Island. As you know I didn't expect to be back up here until next spring. However, Mr. Dulles is going to be on the Island for a few days, so that it was necessary to open everything up again. A terrific storm has held everything up on the Lake — including my getting out to the Island.

Just to start things off right for our readers: I hadn't been on the Island 10 minutes when I shot two Canada geese. I used nine shots to get them, but don't make me feel too bad about my shooting. Boy, there must have been about 200 geese. O.K., I know I only got two! Anyway, I gave them to the fisherman who brought me out. I hope to have a duck dinner tomorrow. It won't be too hard getting one of those. There are hundreds hanging around.

I saw only nine deer, this first day back, but by the time I get through, I guess I will be sick of them. I guess I am going to have a few steaks during my stay. Be it short or long, I don't know that yet. But be it short or long, I don't care too much.

I had a good trip down — three flats, one punctured gas tank. That was a job fixing, miles from nowhere. To take the tank off, was easier said than done. Borrow a soldering iron, solder, tin for a patch — all from a farmer, who gave me a lot of help. Finally getting it back, then trying to clear the gas line of all the dirt that had been sucked into it. I said my prayers a few times at that. But I managed to get things running, of sorts. I was almost tempted to leave the Heap right where it was a couple of times. . . Great sport, however!

My letter will naturally be short this time. When I've had a chance to look around again, it will be longer. So until next time — Good Hunting!

Two persons hurt in car accident

Paul Trottier, 47, and Miss Marie Boucher, 43, both of Montreal, were rushed to the Notre Dame Hospital, Hawkesbury, early Sunday morning following an accident on Route 8, near Calumet.

The accident occurred around 5 a.m. when Miss Boucher apparently lost control of the 1955 model car which went into the ditch and rolled three times; it was demolished.

Both persons were treated for injuries of a serious nature. The accident was investigated by Traffic Officer Ronald Massie.

Organize for new badminton season

Lachute Badminton Club resumed play for the year 1958-59 on Wednesday in the High School gymnasium.

With a promising number turning out, it is hoped the club will have as successful and interesting a season as last year, in which they went on several invitational tournaments, including Cornwall, Valleyfield, St. Hubert and Verdun, besides their league games with Hawkesbury, Kilmar, Calumet and Brownsburg. Also, most of these clubs in turn came to play in Lachute — which created keen competition and interesting exchanges.

It is hoped that all past season's members will return this year; new members are also invited to join. Commencing at 8 in the evening, there are three separate courts, on which play will continue to 11.

La Ruche Co-op annual meeting of shareholders

About 60 persons showed interest in the business and financial affairs of La Ruche Co-operative by attending the annual shareholders' meeting recently. The meeting was chaired by Antonio Patry, and the financial report showed business to the amount of $410,000 during the year just terminated. Particular mention was made to improvements to service in the grocery department of the business.

Roger Gravel, chairman of nominations, submitted candidatures for the directorate, and elected by formal vote were three new directors — Rosaire Pagé, Paul-E. Gauthier and Marcel Dallaire.

The executive of La Ruche now comprises — Antonio Patry, president; Roger Gravel, vice-president; Gaetan Proulx, secretary; Raymond Underhill, treasurer. Directors, Henri Trichard, Omer Corbeil, Henri Legault, Wilfrid Bélair, Sylvio Cadieux, René Robertson, Reynald Desjardins and Alphonse Gauthier.

Roland Raymond is manager of the enterprise.

PLANT NOW FOR SPRING BLOOM

ALL the so-called small or minor bulbs can be planted from now on into November or as long as the ground is not frozen. Early spring blooms will reward your efforts.

Many of these lesser known bulbs are hardy and once planted will take care of themselves.

Two of the minor bulbs which can be used with pleasing effect in almost any home garden are shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. They are the Scilla Siberica and Chionodoxa, which is also known as Glory-of-the-Snow.

Scilla Siberica produces spikes of blue flowers, four inches tall. The bulbs should be planted three to four inches deep. They grow well in sun or shade.

Chionodoxa blooms very early in the spring. The flowers are blue, shading off to pure white in the centres. The bulbs do well in sun or shade. Plant two to three inches apart and cover with three inches of soil.

Although the bulbs multiply by gradually developing "offsets," it is well to leave them alone from year to year to give them time to develop bulblets.

Every few years a top dressing of rotted manure should be spread over the bulb bed to help sustain their vigor and increase the flower spikes.

Jet air travel topic heard at Rotary meeting

Final plans for a ladies' night, to be held at the Lachute Legion Hall tomorrow evening, Thursday, and the free Rotary bingo, at the Lachute Auditorium Friday evening, were announced at last Thursday's dinner meeting of the Brownsburg-Lachute Rotary Club — at which Don Barbour was inducted as a new member.

President Syd Patterson announced Brownsburg as the winners of the month's attendance competition with three weeks' perfect attendance and one week with 99 percent. Lachute's overall average was 94 percent.

A gift from the Club was made to Rotarian Don Wilson, whose marriage takes place this Saturday.

Ross Smyth, supervisor of the Speaker Service, TCA, then addressed the gathering of members.

"Airline passengers will travel almost twice as fast, twice as high, and twice as comfortably when Trans-Canada Air Lines puts its DC-8 Jetliners into service in early 1960," he pointed out in his opening remarks.

He said that the $6,000,000 airplane will fly at 550 miles per hour at an altitude of 35,000 fet. Flying times will be cut almost in half. For example, London, England, will only be six hours from Montreal.

Mr. Smyth said that T.C.A. would operate those huge jetliners on its Trans-Atlantic and non-stop transcontinental services.

"The DC-8s will have a mural in the lounge depicting each Canadian province. Each of the airliners has six washrooms, two kitchens hot and cold running water, flushing toilets, etc. — in other words, all the comforts of home."

The speaker pointed out that each of the DC-8s four engines develops 17,000 pounds of thrust, which is the equivalent power produced by four diesel train locomotives.

TCA expects to be the first intercontinental airline to be completely turbine-powered in 1961: the DC-8 for long range routes, the Viekers Vanguard for Intermediate runs, and the Viscount for the shorter legs.

The Vanguard, expected in late 1960, is a turbo-prop or prop-jet similar to the Viscount only double its size. The Viscount, the world's first propeller-turbine airliner, has been in TCA service since 1955, he said.

"Only fifty years ago," Smyth said, "the first airplane flew in Canada. Today an airplane takes off or lands in this country every ten seconds."

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Cliff Cunningham, local agent for the company, and thanked by Rotarian Fred Royal.

Ch. of Commerce national president

Albert C. Ashforth, Toronto, who has been elected President of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce at the national business organization's 29th annual meeting at Montreal on October 6-7-8. He was formerly first national Vice-President of the Chamber. Well known in Canadian business circles, Mr. Ashforth in business life is President of the Toronto-Dominion Bank. Active in association, Chamber of Commerce and community work, Mr. Ashforth (born in Toronto in 1893) is a director of a number of financial and industrial organizations, is on the Advisory Committee of the Boy Scouts Association, and CARE of Canada, and on hospital boards. Like many top bankers, Mr. Ashforth began at the bottom of the ladder as a junior with the old Bank of Hamilton in 1909. A widely-travelled man, he is acquainted with all phases of the Canadian economy. He takes over from Ralph C. Pybus, Vancouver, former President of The Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Civic dates by proclamation

Agenda of the Town Council assembly last week included a veritable calendar of proclamations extending into the month of November:

1. Ald. Gérard Lefebvre moved that October be proclaimed "anti-polio month", in view of the adult inoculation clinics held here under auspices of the Legion.

2. Ald. Stanley Holt proposed the observance of October 26 as "Columbus Day" in this community celebrating the 25th anniversary of the founding of Council 2752, K. of C.

3. Ald. Edgar Pollock proposed that November 7-8-9-10 be recognized as "Poppy Days" for the Legion-sponsored sale of poppy emblems to aid needy veterans and their dependents.

4. Mayor Carrière has subsequently marked for observance "Grocery Month in Quebec", during October in this community. The designation coincides with the provincial convention of the Food Retailers' Association of Quebec, with which a number of local merchants are affiliated.

Wife, next morning: "I heard the clock strike three as you got home, John."

Hubby: "It was beginning to strike eleven, dear, and I stopped it so that it wouldn't disturb you."

Reddy Kilowatt says -

You Can Help Prevent Fire

Many tragic fires are reported as being due to "Defective wiring."

Electric wires in older premises were not intended for the heavy loads they require to carry today. They were installed almost wholly for lighting, and before most of our modern electric appliances had come into general use.

With age, the insulation on these older wires becomes brittle and drops off. The partly bare wires thus become a fire hazard.

With overloading such wires become a positive fire menace!

Consider the additional appliances you are now using, compared with the appliances you had when your wiring was first installed. If you have added appliances without regard to the maximum load the wiring was intended to carry — you are incurring a grave risk of fire, regardless of the condition of the wires.

Bringing your wiring up to date does not necessarily mean a complete re-wiring of your premises.

In your own interest — for the safety of your loved ones — we suggest you consult your local electrician, if you have any doubts as to the adequacy of your wiring, for today's electrical living.

EDITORIAL NOTES...

"In this Parliament are three Estates, the Lords Spiritual, the Lords Temporal and the Commons: but in the Reporters' Gallery yonder sits a Fourth Estate more important far than all.
— Edmund Burke

"We told you so..."

WE DON'T LIKE to say "we told you so" but there seems little else to say at this time. We have, for the past five years, been fighting along with ex-Fire Chief Geo. Y. Deacon and present Chief Fernand Trépanier, for improved fire-fighting equipment. These requests, for the most part, have been turned down by three different councils.

Early this spring, J. M. Bahl, an engineer with the Municipal Fire Protection Department, Canadian Underwriters' Association, visited Lachute and stated that a report would be forthcoming on the inadequate fire-fighting apparatus, etc. This report, which was sent July 24, has now been made public and even we were surprised at its recommendations.

Council, at last Wednesday's meeting, discussed the report and at an adjourned meeting the following evening, gave first reading to a by-law to borrow $30,000 for the purchase of a new fire truck, snow removal equipment, and other items.

This is but the first thing that has to be done, but it is a start. In addition to this, a long-needed zoning by-law and building by-law are being prepared, also on the insistence of the report from the Canadian Underwriters' Association.

All-in-all, the situation seems to be under control. If the recommendations are followed, Lachute will be adequately protected, but this is Lachute alone, not the surrounding municipalities. If not, fire insurance rates will be increased and in the long run, it will cost the rate-payers considerably more in increased insurance premiums than it will in increased taxes.

We are pleased to see Council acting on this report, which apparently was unknowingly shelved during a change of office personnel. We have been lucky, and if our luck continues to hold out until this equipment is purchased and other recommendations put into effect, we won't be required to say "we told you so" under more serious circumstances.

It is fitting that this action being taken by Council comes on the eve of Fire Prevention Week and we hope that this National Week will make Council realize the importance of their actions.

Tenders have to be called for, but even before this, specifications have to be drafted and we feel that the present fire department along with ex-Chief Geo. Y. Deacon should be called upon to submit their recommendations as to the type of equipment needed for local conditions, no one knows this better than those who have been working under difficulties for many years.

"Prevent fires and save lives..."

THE ONE GREAT obstacle to fire prevention is the virtual refusal of the individual to realize his personal responsibility in regard to the common hazards that exist, to a greater or lesser degree, in almost every home and business establishment.

Perhaps the most tragic phase of fire is that it is practically wholly unnecessary. Eighty percent or more of fires — including many of those which cause the greatest waste in both life and property — could have been prevented by the exercise of care and the sort of knowledge that is expounded during the annual Fire Prevention Week and which can be easily obtained from various private organizations or from local fire authorities in any community.

The citizen who disregards fire risks might be termed the "unconscious arsonist", and his name is legion. It is his home that burns, or his factory. But the entire community pays for it, in the loss of taxes on destroyed property, in higher insurance rates, in lost employment or business opportunity. Fire prevention is largely a personal matter — but fire waste is of importance to the entire nation. There has never been a fire, no matter how small, that did not do its part to prevent progress.

When tang governs tint

THE SWEETER THE TANG of sap, the redder will be the leaves in autumn.

That's an old saying which many Canadians recall about this time of year as they watch flaming gold and crimson spread across the woodlands.

The maples, most vivid of the trees in autumn garb, produce the sweet sap that is turned into maple syrup in a valuable spring-time industry. Fruit trees, which have a special sweetness of sap, also run to colorful autumn leaves for a brief spell before their branches are swept bare by the wind.

Just as the sugar in the sweet juice of many of the trees seems to influence the coloring of the fall foliage, the tannin in the make-up of some others also plays a part. The oaks, traditional source of tannin, also bear the deepest reds and the strongest purples in the autumn hills.

It's a matter of chemistry, the matter-of-fact scientists say. The color change has to do with oxidation, with pigmentation and with chemical change.

Besides providing dwellers near the color-struck groves with a vista of beauty, the new forest hues have recently taken on economic value for their districts. Special motorcades in Ontario's Muskoka region and elsewhere attract countless visitors, while hundreds of tourists head to the Laurentians in this province, attracted by the colorings for which our hills are justly famed.

To many a wise vacationist in Canada, motoring has a special lure in autumn. The Canadian Government Travel Bureau says highways are uncrowded, accommodation plentiful without the need for reservations. The air is crisp and stimulating, sunshine bright and warm, and the nights cool enough to make a top blanket advisable.

Canada's scenic national parks in eight of the 10 provinces also offer special autumn attractions. Wildlife, sensing the approach of winter, is more active than usual and more easily seen. Big game animals roam freely along leafy trails and migratory birds can often be seen preparing for their southward flights.

Government hospital insurance plan

THE GOVERNMENT Hospital Insurance plan, in force in Manitoba since July 1, has already given rise to some disquieting developments. According to Dr. L. C. Bradley, administrator at Winnipeg General Hospital, patients have been staying an average of a day longer than before the plan came into effect. More than 200 patients in need of hospitalization have had to be turned away because those fortunate enough to secure admission, with the taxpayer footing the bill, have remained in hospital rather than convalesce at home. Says Dr. Bradley, "I can't blame the new plan, nor can I directly connect it with the situation, but it would appear to be the cause."

Other hospital administrators in Manitoba are no less concerned about effects of government hospital insurance scheme. One of these is Dr. Paul L'Hereux, medical director of the St. Boniface hospital, who is worried not only about the problem of overcrowding but about the rigid rules and regulations to which hospitals must conform. Dr. L'Hereux feels that the effect of the insurance plan will be to bring all hospitals directly under the control of the Government. Now, he says, "when you are told how much money you can spend, who you can admit, when you can admit them, and how much money you will be getting, you have very little autonomy actually left."

Similar views are expressed by Dr. F. W. Porter of Toronto, president of the Canadian Hospitals Association. According to Dr. Porter, the hospital insurance schemes give Government "absolutely watertight control" of the hospital, from sanctioning equipment to employing administrators.

Unfortunately, rules, regulations and red tape, characteristic of state medicine, don't do much to help back to health those in need of hospital care. Nor does regimentation encourage the research in medical science and the training of nurses and physicians in which Canada's hospitals over the years have played a notable part.

How to raise a juvenile delinquent

THIS LIST of do's and don'ts, guaranteed to produce a juvenile delinquent, has been compiled by the police department of Houston, Texas. It has been widely circulated in that state and merits careful study on the part of parents everywhere. Here is the list:

Begin in infancy to give your child everything he wants. He will grow up believing the world owes him a living.

Laugh at him when he picks up "dirty" words. They will make him think he is cute.

Don't give him spiritual training before he is 21, so he can make up his own mind.

Praise him in his presence to the neighbors and show how much smarter he is than the neighbor's children.

Never use the word "wrong". It may develop in him a guilt complex. He will be prepared later on to believe when he is punished that society is against him and that he is being persecuted.

Pick up after him and do everything for him, so that he will be experienced in letting someone else carry his responsibilities.

Have no concern for what goes on in his mind. Let him read anything.

Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children.

Give him all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own.

Take his part against policemen, teachers and neighbors. They are prejudiced against your child.

Let him eat and drink anything he wants whenever he wants it.

When he gets into real trouble, defend yourself and say, "I never could do anything with him."

My Adventure

My son built himself a mosquito-sized hydroplane and powered it with a hepped-up outboard motor, and this summer has scared the living daylights out of his mother and me, watching him take off across the lake like an atomic projectile. Then, out of a clear blue sky, with a crowd of teen-agers around, he said, "Dad — why don't you try my boat?"

I don't know what possessed me. To begin with, there wasn't enough room in the thing for me to sit comfortably. A slim youth has to adjust himself carefully in order to manoeuvre; and I am, unfortunately, no longer a youth nor too slim.

"Sure, son," I said. "I've been hoping to get a chance at it."

The look of surprise on the faces of those arrogant young teen-agers was a tonic; but I noticed that behind my ribs the old heart was starting to rev up like an outboard itself. But the chips were down.

A small hydroplane with a big motor doesn't plane easily. You must put the motor at full speed, stand up and lean forward against the ribbing to force the nose down. Then you can squat on your haunches and hope it doesn't flip over.

I aimed the boat out from the dock, started it, twisted it to top speed, leaned forward and it began to plane. I squatted, my knees aching and shaking. But I felt a sense of exhilaration. I'd show these young whippersnappers. Then the opposite shore loomed up, and somehow I managed a quick turn, holding my breath.

I went once around our small lake, and I was beginning to feel more relaxed, and I even enjoyed the sense of speed. Then I remembered Bill's instructions. "Dad — be careful about stopping. You've got to do everything you did when starting only in reverse. Slow the motor, stand up quickly, and lean forward. Otherwise, she'll swamp herself and you'll dunk the motor."

I didn't give a hoot about the motor by this time. I didn't want to dunk myself. I made a tentative effort to see if I could stand. I was by no means sure I could untangle myself from the boat, with a big gasoline tank and myself sandwiched in there so tight.

So I headed like a bullet for our pier. As I got closer — and I seemed to get there awful fast — I could see grins a mile wide, except for Bill and my wife. I guess he was worried about me dunking the motor in an attempt to stop; and I think my wife was wondering if the old boy had finally flipped his lid.

It is wonderful what you can do if you must, and luck favors you. About ten feet from the pier I said a quick prayer, squeezed the motor to slow, and somehow stood up and leaned (I really fell) forward on the ribbing. She planed in smoothly.

"Pretty good, eh?" Bill said.

"Oh . . . I guess I handled her all right," I said modestly.

"I mean the boat," he said.

There was no general applause. Not from the crowd. There was even a scolding from the wife. But I felt good. Mighty good. There's life in the old boy yet!

PITCHED TOO HIGH

Recently an eminent New Zealand theologian expressed the opinion that church music was pitched too high for the average members of the congregation. This is not news to us. How many times have we stood up in church in anticipation of going all out on a well-known hymn only to find that we could not reach the high notes.

KNOW YOUR Canada

Prepared by the Research Staff of Encyclopedia Canadiana

What town was named after the grizzly bear?

Kelowna, administrative and selling centre of the central B.C. fruit and vegetable industries, located on Okanagan Lake, 80 miles from the U.S. border, got its name from a corruption of the Indian word for "Grizzly bear". Father Pandosy, an Oblate priest, established the first mission of the Okanagan Valley here in 1859. In 1893 the post office was established, and in 1905 the community was incorporated as a city.

Since the end of the Second World War, large numbers of prairie people of European extractions have take up residence in Kelowna, but prior to that the population was predominantly British. This is reflected in the wealth of flower gardens, both public and private which show the influence of British and European styles of horticulture. The city has the reputation of being a clean, progressive community-minded, fruit growing centre, but other industries have helped to make Kelowna an important link in the province's industrial growth. Besides lumbering, which is the second industry in importance, this B.C. "Interior" hub attracts many tourists with its sport fishing and excellent aquatic facilities. Its international regatta — claimed to be Canada's greatest water show — draws many outstanding competitors each year.

With an average annual precipitation of only 12.5 inches, and an average mean temperature for the three winter months over a 82-year period of 28.7° Kelowna is chosen by many elderly people as an ideal place to settle upon their retirement. There are facilities for a variety of sports, including a fine golf course, an artificial ice-curling rink and a modern memorial arena. Summer sports centre around the excellent Aquatic Club.

Where is Ontario's smallest township?

The smallest township in Ontario is Adolphustown, sometimes referred to as the Plymouth Rock of Ontario. It is situated 31 miles southwest of Kingston, at the entrance of the Bay of Quinte from Lake Ontario. It was founded by United Empire Loyalists in 1784 and named after the tenth son of George III.

A stone obelisk commemorates its founding. The church built by the Loyalists is still standing and in use as the parish hall.

The community set a precedent for Ontario on March 6, 1792, by holding a town meeting, a limited measure of self-government which the Upper Canada Legislative Assembly legalized in July 1793. James Noxon of Adulphustown was one of the organizers of the Canadian Society of Friends.

What Sheltered Place gave the Name to a Canyon?

An Objibwa Indian word meaning, literally, "To make for shelter" provided the name for Ontario's Agawa Canyon, a 12-mile canyon, on the Agawa River, with cliff walls over 800 feet in height. It is situated about 115 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie in Algoma District.

"Where are we going, Dad?"

Along with the desire to go places and see things, Canadians have an urge to get ahead in life . . . to have guaranteed financial security. That's why they own more life insurance, in relation to national income, than any other people.

Over 7½ million Canadians own life insurance because they feel it offers them a variety of guaranteed benefits not obtainable in any other way.

Every year an increasing number of Canadians buy life insurance as their major source of family and personal security.

This strong belief in the ownership of life insurance means that Canadians may well continue to be the world's best insured people, in relation to national income.

Ownership of life insurance reflects the confidence that Canadians have in the well trained, helpful agents who offer them this valuable property.

Publisher's 90th birthday

In extending congratulations to our president and publisher on his recent birthday, we take pleasure in printing the following tribute and greeting to J. S. Giles, which appeared in the editorial column of The Montreal Gazette on Saturday last, the day of his 90th milestone:

Today Mr. John S. Giles, publisher of The Lachute Watchman, celebrates his 90th birthday.

It is a special kind of birthday, for Mr. Giles has become more than a person; he is part of Lachute itself. The whole community will share his birthday; it is a community event. And far beyond Lachute, other friends of Mr. Giles will join in good wishes to a man who has lived so useful and kindly a life.

It was back in 1895 that Mr. Giles, a native of Southampton, England, came to Lachute. In the early days he put out his paper on an ancient hand press, after he had hand set the type. But he came to own The Watchman, to modernize it, and to make it of service and influence to the great Ottawa Valley.

More than ten years ago — in 1947 — he marked the 50th anniversary of the newspaper under his ownership. At that time he said: "From the time I arrived in Lachute, I have always been thankful to God for the opportunities of building up a business that has proved helpful to the community, as well as providing me with modest means by which we have been able to help others less privileged."

Mr. Giles has worked for all that is best in his community, not only through his paper, but in many other ways. He sang in the choir of his church, was president of the Lions Club, served in various offices in the Board of Trade and Town Council. In the war he led the campaign that raised money to purchase a Spitfire, known as "the Argenteuil Spitfire".

It is not only that Mr. Giles has had a happy spirit in his life and work; that spirit has enabled him to do so much. As a happy man, he has had a natural ability to be constructive and helpful, to reconcile differences and enlarge goodwill.

So long a life, lived in such a way, has many rewards. But the greatest of these, at four score years and ten, is to know the Shakespearian reward of —

. . that which should accompany old age,
As honor, love, obedience, and troops of friends. . .

McELROY — At Hawkesbury, Ont., on Oct. 6, 1958, to Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McElroy, a daughter (stillborn). -1p

VARY — To Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Vary (née Myrtle Dewar), Brownsburg, a daughter, on Oct. 6, 1958, at the Smith Clinic, Hawkesbury, Ont. Both well.

IN MEMORIAM

BENNETT — In memory of a dear father and grandfather, who passed away Oct. 9, 1957. — Ever loved and sadly missed by Vern, Lila and boys.

FOX — In loving memory of my dear wife, Mrs. Catherine Fox, who passed away Oct. 8, 1956. — Always remembered, Willie.

"Days of sadness still come o'er me,
Tears in silence often flow,
For memory keeps you ever near me,
Though you died two years ago."

FOX — In fond and loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Catherine Fox, who passed away Oct. 8, 1956. — Always remembered — daughter Kay, son-in-law Ernie, and grandchildren Glenn and Patsy.

"When the Lord said, 'You have finished,
Come up higher, Mother dear,
You have won a crown in heaven
By your love and kindness here' —
We remember well our sorrow
As we stood beside your bed,
All our deep and heartfelt anguish
When we saw that you were dead.
We miss your kind and willing hand,
Your fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without you, Mom,
We miss you everywhere."

FOX — In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Wm. Fox, who suddenly passed away Oct. 8, 1956. — Sadly missed by her daughter, Jessie, and son-in-law, Kennie.

"In a grave softly sleeping
Where the green grass gently waves,
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
Whom we loved but could not save,
To those who have a mother —
Cherish her with care,
For you never know her value
Till you see her vacant chair."

FOX — In loving memory of a dear grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Fox, who passed away Oct. 8, 1956. — Always remembered by Roy and Janey.

"What would we give if we could say
'Hello, Ma' in the same old way,
To hear your voice, to see you smile,
To sit and talk with you awhile."

FOX — In loving memory of Mrs. William J. Fox, who passed away Oct. 8, 1956. — Always remembered by John, Greta and grandchildren.

"It's not the words, they are but few,
It's the golden memory, we keep of you.
Each leaf and flower may wither,
And evening sun may set,
But the ones who love you dearly
Are the ones who will not forget."

LANGILLE — In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Melvin, who passed away Oct. 12, 1934. — Lovingly remembered by Mom, Dad, sisters and brothers.

"The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away."

Church lady and early Co. president of Women's Inst.

Late Mrs. John Boyd

Funeral service, conducted by the Rev. Canon Andrews, was held Saturday at the D. A. Collins Chapel, Montreal, for Maria Jane Strong, 88, wife of the late John Boyd of Lachute.

Mrs. Boyd was well known in this community, having lived the greater part of her life here. She was always active in community and church work. During her residence in Lachute she was the second County president of the Argenteuil Women's Institutes and a life member of the Jerusalem - Bethany W.I. branch.

In Montreal she was an active member of St. Matthew's Church W.A. and Guild, at Hampstead. She was a life member of the W.A. of the Missionary Society of the Church of England of the Diocese of Montreal.

She was a devoted mother, and up to the time of her illness five weeks ago, showed a keen interest in all her family.

She leaves to mourn her loss three sons, Norman and Leonard, of Lachute, Ernest, of St. Laurent; seven daughters, (Ina) Mrs. Gordon Todd, Brownsburg; (Ethel) Mrs. W. Rowell, Derby, Vt.; (Alma) Mrs. Gordon Smith, Lachute; (Hazel) Mrs. S. J. Luman, Sorel; (Reta) Mrs. Dennis Staniforth, St. Eustache; (Edith) Mrs. J. Crawford, Montreal; (Doris) Mrs. E. L. Poure, Granby. She is survived by 20 grandchildren, 25 great-grandchildren, and two brothers, Wallace, of Edmonton, and Norman, of White Rock, B.C.

The pall-bearers were six of her grandsons — Russell Todd, Arnold Boyd, Ross Boyd, Harold Smith, Hale Lunan and Don Todd (substituting for Cmdr. Ken Rowell). Interment was made at Lachute.

The beautiful offerings bore testimony of the high esteem in which she was held.

Kilmar

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watkins, also Heather and Scott Watkins, of Toronto, visited here last week, at Mrs. T. Purcell's and at Mr. and Mrs. John Purcell's.

Congratulations of this community are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young and to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nelson, who were married recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boyd recently motored to Ottawa to visit the former's sister.

CANADA GREAT, BUT TOO FAST

After two weeks in Canada, Scottish immigrant Alex Cavan, 26, has concluded that Canada is indeed the land of opportunity — provided you can stay alive on the roads. He has been in two traffic accidents in the Toronto area while a passenger in trucks. He escaped with minor injuries but admits that he "hae ma doubts" that he can keep up with the fast pace here.

Dinner and prize presentation at Morin Hts. School

(Our District Correspondent)

Morin Heights — On Friday evening the Home and School Association provided a delicious dinner to the pupils of the Intermediate School who had graduated from Grade VII last June, also their parents, members of the School Board, their wives and husbands, and distinguished guests.

Later, in the gymnasium, the graduates were presented with their certificates by Mayor C. D. Campbell, Mr. Leslie Buzzell, chairman of the Protestant Committee, Mr. Paul Baumel, chairman of the School Board, and Mr. Roy Williams, principal of the school. Replies were made by two of the graduates, Eileen Watchorn, representing the girls, and Howard Hannah, representing the boys.

Mr. Williams then introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Buzzell, who gave an interesting address to the graduates. This was followed by dancing, to music provided by an orchestra from Montreal. Refreshments were served, by courtesy of the Home and School members.

To Our Friends and Customers:

We are happy, through the medium of this newspaper, to extend sincerest thanks to all old friends and patrons for the encouragement they have given us during our 26 years in the grocery business on Chatham Street — also to our suppliers, for their good service. We solicit the same good support to the new proprietor, and we shall be pleased to welcome our friends at the "Four Roads Hotel" (former Café Marquise) in Brownsburg.

Quiet wedding at United manse

Boyd - Hammond

The marriage of Miss Jean Agnes Hammond to Mr. Edward (Ted) Leonard Boyd took place quietly Saturday evening, October 4, in the Lachute United Church manse. Mrs. Boyd is the daughter of Mr. Benjamin M. Hammond and the late Mrs. Hammond, of Lachute. Mr. Boyd is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Boyd, of Kilmar, Que.

The bride wore a beige tweed suit on semi-tailored lines with brown accessories and a white feathered cloche. Her corsage was of bronze mums.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Delmer Hammond, of Cookshire, Que., who wore a green wool suit with brown accessories and a shrimp feathered hat. Her corsage was of white mums.

Mr. J. A. Murdoch, of Lachute, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. Later Mr. and Mrs. Boyd left for New Jersey on their wedding trip.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

From Paradise Lost to Paradise Regained

Here is an exceptional book that explains the Bible from the first man to more than a thousand years beyond our present day. It is written in simple language so persons of limited education will be able to read it and understand it. The type is large and bold, and many large illustrations help to tell its powerful story. It is a book that both adults and children will enjoy reading. It may be had for the small sum of 75 cents.

Write 150 Bridgeland Avenue, Toronto, Ont., or ask any Jehovah's Witnesses whom you meet, anywhere. They will be glad to serve you.

Induction of Rev. R. Watson at Laval West

Several interesting events marked the induction of the Rev. J. Ralph Watson, B.Com., B.A., B.D., as minister of Laval West United and Trinity United of St. Eustache, last Wednesday evening in the Laval West Protestant School auditorium. The occasion was graced by the presence of the chairman of the Montreal Presbytery, the Rev. E. D. Errey, B.A., of Hamstead; Dr. R. DeWitt Scott, D.D., secretary of Presbytery; the Rev. J. K. Brown, B.A., of Montreal; and the Rev. John Shearman of Wyman Memorial of Hudson, Que., who acted as a commission from the Montreal Presbytery.

The service, well attended by the congregation of both churches, was led by the Rev. Errey, assisted by Dr. Scott who read the lesson, while the Rev. J. K. Brown led in prayer. Solos by Dave Wilkinson and Mrs. J. Ford, of Laval West, added to the service. The Rev. John Shearman preached the sermon using as his text Ephesians 3-20, reminding the people of God's abundant power beyond all our needs. He recalled that it was just 14 years ago that as a youth the session of Trinity United Church had recommended him to Presbytery for the ministry in the United Church. Fellow students at McGill University, the Rev. John Shearman, asked the co-operation of the two congregations for his friend, the Rev. Ralph Watson.

Dr. Scott called upon all members of Presbytery in the audience to come forward and assist in the induction. These were — the Rev. Francis Doxsee, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, the Rev. Wilson Bridge of Lachute United Church, the Rev. W. B. Rosborough of Lachute, the Rev. R. R. W. McGregor of Christ Church, St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac, with laymen J. A. C. Kidney, of Laval West and E. J. Shearman of Trinity.

Reading the commission from Presbytery, Dr. Scott called upon the Rev. Wilson Bridge to relate the steps in the call to the Rev. Ralph Watson of Cushing and found these to be in order.

The Rev. Errey proceeded with the formal induction.

A reception to the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Watson was held following the service, given by the Woman's Auxiliaries of both churches. This was very much enjoyed and enabled the people to meet their new minister and his wife.

Dedication this Sunday, service at Mille Isles Presbyterian Church

Mille Isles Presbyterians will be dedicating their new church furnishings this coming Thanksgiving Sunday, October 12, at 7.30 in the evening. Special speaker will be the Rev. Dr. W. Stanford Reid, Dean of Men's Residences and Associate Professor of History at McGill, and the service will be conducted by the student minister, Mr. A. Donald MacLeod. Special music will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bracewell and Miss Lilly Pollock. Mr. Carl Elder will be the organist.

This marks the completion of a year's work on the church. During this time the building has been completely repainted, new pews installed, and an oak baptismal font and communion table have been presented to the congregation. The communion table was made by Mr. William H. Crussell of Mille Isles in memory of his wife, and the font is a memorial to Miss Ellen Kinloch and Mr. George Kinlock, by their sister and wife respectively, both of whom reside in Morin Heights. A heating unit, given to the church by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McAllister, will be used for the first time.

The church, which forms a joint charge with the Cote Saint Gabriel Presbyterian Church, celebrates its centenary next year.

Events at United Church in Brownsburg

Brownsburg — Autumn activities are again underway at Brownsburg United, after a summer of relaxation among many of the organizations.

A successful fall supper was held on the evenings of September 23 and 24, and appreciation was felt for all of the assistance given.

Rally Sunday program for the Sunday School took place in the body of the church on Sunday morning, September 28, with Mr. C. Wheeler, Sunday School superintendent, presiding, and remarks by the Rev. G. Bruce.

The W.A., also the W.A. "B Group", Hi-C and Explorers, have all had their opening meetings. A Christian Education meeting was also held on September 30.

The Rev. Mr. Bruce gave a talk on "Experience on Missionary Student Fields" at a recent W.M.S. meeting.

Work has now started in preparation for the third annual "Every-Member Visit". The aims of the campaign are to strengthen the spiritual life and to renew the financial program of the church in this community for another year. The work of the planning committee will extend over a six-week period, and will end with a visit by church members to the homes of all families in the congregation.

Social and Personal

Cst. and Mrs. Gregor Albright and infant daughter arrived here last week from Kamloops, B.C., in company with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ewen Albright, who have been visiting their son and daughter-in-law and other relatives in the West.

Donation to C.N.I.B. from Two Brownsburg Boys

The Women's Auxiliary to the C.N.I.B. takes this opportunity to express a public thank-you to two young boys of Brownsburg, Christie and Geoff Boal, who donated $1.01 to aid in helping the blind. . . During the summer these boys planned and produced a "circus", from which they raised this amount. Their efforts, and those of their little friends, are warmly appreciated by the W.A.

Women's Institute held Military Whist

A military whist was held in the Lachute Legion Hall last Tuesday under auspices of the Pioneer Women's Institute. Following were the prize winners:

First—Mrs. T. Brazeau (captain), Mrs. J. R. Owen, Mrs. H. Hammond, Mr. T. Brazeau.

Second — Mrs. A. McMahon (captain), Mrs. R. Hardie, Mrs. R. McFaul, Mrs. J. P. Moore.

Door prize — Mrs. J. P. Moore.

A bushel of apples was also drawn for and was won by Mrs. S. Dewar. The firm of Lacasse Automobiles also donated prizes. Refreshments was served in conclusion.

Mr. Thos. Iddon supervised the card-playing routine.

Christening

The christening of Mary Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Gordon (the former Florence MacRae), of Montreal, was performed by the Rev. Jas. Armour at the home of the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. MacRae, Bedard Blvd. The ceremony was held at 4.30 p.m. last Sunday, tea being served afterwards to the immediate relatives. Present from Montreal were Mr. and Mrs. A. Holden, aunt and uncle of the child.

Mrs. Wm. Bolster, of Springfield, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Giles for an extended visit.

Mr. Lornie Payne, of Beaurepaire, Que., spent a few days here as the guest of Mr. D. J. Bates and sister, Mrs. Sarah Sutton.

Presentation

A party was given Saturday evening for Miss Elsa Napp, of Montreal, by the Lakefield W.I., at the home of Mrs. W. L. Dawson in Lachute. The occasion was in honor of her approaching marriage to Mr. David Burnett, of Montreal and Ottawa, which will take place on October 18. Miss Napp was presented with an electric coffee percolator.

Notable Milestone

Mr. J. S. Giles, celebrating his 90th birthday last Saturday in good health and spirits, received greetings and best wishes from his many friends and relatives. Although less active today in the publishing business which bears his name, Mr. Giles finds satisfaction in the enterprise now managed by his family, and derives his greatest pleasure from the memory of past associations.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Cangardel and young son, Jean-Marc, left last week via New York to return home to Paris, after an extended visit here with Mrs. Cangardel's mother, Mrs. L. L. Legault.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Jenkins and family are visiting friends and relatives in Cobourg, Toronto and Thorold, Ont., this week.

Christening in Essex, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jackson (the former Marie Jacobsen) announce the christening of their son, Stuart Albert, at the United Church in Essex, Ont., with the Rev. D. A. Facey officiating.

Godparents of the infant were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Kennedy, of Essex.

The baby was dressed in a christening robe first worn by his grandfather, Mr. Hans Jacobsen, Chibougamau, Que. (formerly of Lachute) some 60 years ago.

Christening at St. Andrews

A christening ceremony took place Sunday afternoon at the historic Christ Church, St. Andrews East, when the infant daughter of Cst. Gregor Albright, RCMP, and Mrs. Albright, was named Deborah Lee — the rector, the Rev. C. R. Lang, and the Rev. G. T. Spriggs, officiating. (Cst. and Mrs. Albright, stationed at Kamloops, are home to visit their respective families in Lachute.)

Godparents were Mr. E. Copeland as proxy for the child's uncle, Cst. Glen Copeland, who was unable to attend, also the infant's aunts, Mrs. Dick Tremaine, of Valleyfield, and Miss Audrey Copeland, Lachute.

After the ceremony, refreshments were enjoyed at the home of the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Copeland, Lachute.

Ceremony at Brownsburg

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Andrew Brown shown following their wedding in the Brownsburg United Church on Saturday, October 4. The bride is the former Lois Catherine Dixon-Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dixon-Smith. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gawn G. Brown — all of Brownsburg. The couple will reside in Brownsburg.

Public meeting to discuss affairs of Social Service

The Social Service of St. Jerome Diocese, which has maintained an office and representative in Lachute for the past five years, has arranged a public meeting at the Town Hall commencing at 8 p.m. on October 14, with an open invitation to all residents interested in the social welfare of this community.

Purpose of this meeting is to inform the public on functions fulfilled by the Social Service in this region. Concrete facts and figures will be given to substantiate the efforts achieved by this organization. There will be an opportunity also to view its effects from a social as well as a financial aspect.

The Social Service personnel are anticipating a good turn-out at this assembly. The community is well represented on the administrative body by four civic-minded townsmen, Messrs. Gérard Lefebvre, Horace Lamarche, Roger Lagarde and Dr. L. Turcotte. The full-time Social Service worker, Léopold Dufresne, is at the disposal of the public at any time, at his office situated in the Town Hall.

Red Cross meeting for October

The regular monthly meeting of the Canadian Red Cross Society, Lachute Branch was held Wednesday, October 1, with the vice-president, Mrs. F. W. FitzGerald, in the chair.

Mrs. Fraser Morrison reported that the workroom will be receiving new supplies immediately, and her committee would be very interested in welcoming new workers and seeing the faithful volunteers again. Members of the Work Committee will be on hand every Wednesday afternoon at the United Church hall. Materials for girls' nightgowns, wool for sweaters and socks, are now available.

A special vote of thanks was moved to Mr. G. F. Calder, for his generous donation of a sewing machine to the Red Cross workroom.

New W.I. branch formed at Dalesv'l

An organizational meeting of the Women's Institute took place Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Morrison in Dalesville.

The County president, Mrs. Geo. McGibbon, and the first vice-president, Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh, both spoke on the purpose of W.I. and the importance of living, rather than just repeating, the words of the W.I. creed, which is the "Mary Stewart Collect".

Officers elected were as follows:

President, Mrs. Chas. Hall; 1st vice-president, Mrs. J. Goya; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. K. Morrison; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. Gillies.

Conveners

Agriculture, Mrs. H. Vokey.
Education, Mrs. G. McCormick.
Citizenship, Mrs. E. Morrow.
Home Economics, Mrs. E. Coulson.

Publicity, Mrs. R. Dixon.

Opening of Church Hall at St. Sauveur

St. Sauveur — The official opening of the new $45,000 church hall in St. Sauveur is taking place Saturday, October 18, at 4.30 p.m., when Canon C. W. P. Baugh will declare the hall open, and the rector, the Rev. Horace G. Baugh, will lay the cornerstone. The ceremony will be brief, allowing time for the guests to inspect the splendid new structure, which will amply fill the needs of the Church of St. Francis. Everyone is welcome to attend.

The sum of $33,000 has already been received towards the hall.

Low-fat dessert in style with that 'lean look'

"You get more LEAN of the MILK in DAIRY QUEEN — more proteins and more minerals — less fat!"

That's why DAIRY QUEEN fits so well into the modern trend toward leaner foods . . . leaner figures . . . a more active, healthful life.

Fresh milk can be separated into two main parts: one part is butterfat, the other is the non-fat part. Where state laws permit, DAIRY QUEEN is ice milk with more of the non-fat part of the milk — the part containing the proteins, minerals, and most of the vitamins that make milk nature's most nearly perfect food.

DAIRY QUEEN, unlike many frozen desserts, has less air whipped into it so you get more of the good milk itself. That's why, pint for pint, as DAIRY QUEEN comes from the freezer, it weighs almost half again as much as ordinary ice cream.

Treat your whole family to DAIRY QUEEN! Serve it often! With every ounce you get "more LEAN of the MILK" — the part that gives you relatively more of the body-building proteins, and vitamins — and less of the fat.

So enjoy DAIRY QUEEN! We take special care to make it fresh, smooth, and delicious.

Thanksgiving

(Copyright)

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"Don't talk to me of solemn days in Autumn's time of splendor.
Because the sun shows fewer rays and these grow slant and slender.
Why, it's the climax of the year — the highest time of living!
Till naturally its bursting cheer
just melts into Thanksgiving!"
C.G.

Children love special days and they like to hear about the first celebration of Thanksgiving by the Pilgrim Fathers. We catch a glimpse of this Thanksgiving in 1621 in the letter of Edward Winslow to a friend in England. He mentioned particularly the man who went out hunting at the order of Governor Bradford for fowl, "So that we might, after a more special manner, rejoice together after we had gathered the fruit we entertained (the Indians) and feasted."

Thus wild fowl was the forerunner of the Thanksgiving turkey of today. Venison, vegetable, fruits and pumpkin pie were also part of this first harvest feast. Early in the eighteenth century, one year, Thanksgiving had to be postponed a week because the necessary supply of molasses had not arrived to make the pumpkin pies!

There are no pies quite like mother's pies in the opinion of most families. But if there is a teenage daughter in the home, why not let her try her hand at making the pumpkin pie for this occasion? If she has had some experience, let her have the satisfaction of making the pumpkin pie all herself, and be lavish with your praise of her "production".

Thanksgiving is a family day. These Red Letter Days when members of a family gather under one room have real value in strengthening the family bond. Parents do well to encourage their children to be courteous to the elderly members in the family connection. They may not see them often, and thus may regard them almost as strangers. Great Uncle Tom or Cousin Martha may have their eccentric ways, but they will appreciate the younger folk taking time to chat with them.

Thanksgiving should be an occasion not just for feasting and fellowship, but also for giving thanks to Almighty God for all His goodness to us. The Thanksgiving services were held in the churches when this festival originated. Today our churches should be full to overflowing. Compared to most of the peoples of the earth, the lot of Canadians is a highly favored one. It is a poor type of person who takes his blessings for granted.

Why not read aloud in the family circle the words of Psalm One Hundred:

"Know that the Lord is God!
It is He that made us, and we are His,
We are His people and the sheep of His pasture.
Enter His gates with thanksgiving, and His courts with praise!
Give thanks to Him, bless His name!" (R.S.V.)

A child who knows no outpouring of his soul in gratitude to the Creator, because his religious instruction has been neglected; a child who has never learned a bedtime prayer at his mother's knee; a child who has never been helped to see the hand of the Creator in the beauty of the world — is in a very real sense a "handicapped" child.

Gratitude "the music of the heart" is an acquired virtue. It is also true that it is very easy for a small child, who has received religious teaching from his earliest years, to be truly thankful to God for special gifts. Children are sensitive to the beauty and wonder of the out-of-doors — the scarlet and golden leaves of autumn, the first snow fall, a brilliant sunset, a full moon and the twinkling stars. Encourage your little boy or girl not only to repeat his prayer which he has memorized, but also mention to God a "Thank You" for something he has enjoyed.

W.I. extends to wives of Indian miners

"Can you help us with an adult education program for our Indian women?" This is a request that has come to the office of the Quebec Women's Institutes from Chapais, in the Chibougamau district.

Eight families of Indians are among those residing there to work in the mines. The men are on terms of complete equality, and the management staff of the mine would like to make it possible for the women also to be integrated fully into the life of the community.

Miss Anna Christie, Home Economics director for the Q.W.I., is arranging to spend a week there to discuss possibilities for such a program, and to conduct some practical classes in nutrition and home management for the Indian women.

It is hoped that eventually a branch of the Women's Institute can be formed there, which will include every woman in its membership. If successful, this would be the first of its kind in Quebec.

Stuffing with a-peel

FRUIT STUFFING IN ORANGE CUPS

Great hostesses' reputations are frequently built on simple tricks such as serving the stuffing which traditionally accompanies the Thanksgiving poultry or the Sunday roast of pork in cups made of orange shells. It's such an easy way to decorate a meal . . . all you do is fill scooped-out orange shells with a savory bread crumb stuffing. This recipe gives a stuffing that's sure to please all tastes, for the portion baked in the poultry has a moist texture while that baked in the orange cups tends to become more crumbly and has a crisp crust on top. The orange juice and shell impart a delightful, subtle flavor to the stuffing.

Orange Stuffing for Poultry

Yield — sufficient stuffing for 2 medium-sized chickens and six orange cups.

10 Cups coarse soft bread crumbs, ¼ cup chopped parsley, 3 medium-sized oranges, 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, optional, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1/3 cup butter or margarine, ½ cup finely-chopped onion, ½ cup thinly-slieed celery, 3 tablespoons orange juice.

Combine bread crumbs and parsley. Cut oranges in half and carefully cut out pulp, discarding membrane and any seeds; add pulp to bread mixture (save the orange shells and any juice). Sprinkle with monosodium glutamate, if being used, salt and pepper.

Heat butter or margarine; add onion and celery and fry slowly, stirring often, until vegetables are tender but not browned. Add to bread-crumb mixture and toss lightly with a fork. Use all but about 2 cups of the stuffing to fill chicken body cavities. As the chickens roast, serrate the edges of the orange shells. Drizzle orange juice over remaining stuffing and pile into shells lightly. Arrange shells in a shallow pan. Half an hour before taking the chickens from the oven, put in filled orange shells to bake.

Big Users of Textiles

For clothing and household use Canadians use about 42.5 yards of textiles per year, about three times the world average.

Banana muffins full of flavor

Muffins that capture the delightful flavor of ripe bananas are a treat that's sure to be appreciated any hour of the day. These light and tender muffins are the ideal complement to a fruit salad at luncheon and they team equally well with a beverage for the dessert course at meal time. Like all muffins, they're at their best served warm . . . they're delightful fresh from the oven or re-heated at serving time.

BANANA MUFFINS

Yield — 1 dozen muffins.

1 2/3 Cups once-sifted all-purpose flour, or 2 cups once-sifted pastry flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 2/3 cup lightly-packed brown sugar, 1 well-beaten egg, 1 cup mashed ripe banana, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/3 cup shortening, melted.

Grease 12 muffin cups or line with paper cups. Preheat oven to 400°F. (hot). Sift the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt together twice, then sift into a bowl. Mix in brown sugar.

Combine well-beaten egg, mashed banana, vanilla and melted shortening. Add to dry ingredients and mix lightly. Two-thirds fill prepared muffin cups. Bake in preheated oven about 20 minutes. Serve hot or reheated, with butter or margarine.

Sudden Death

Fashions

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

The sweater dress is a new and popular theme in fall knitwear, which this year seems prettier and more practical than ever. This one is in flat knit wool in such colors as ruby or emerald. The high square neckline is ribbed. The slip-through sash of ribbing is placed fashionably low. If you've never been too enthusiastic about wool knits, we urge you to try on a dress such as this. Chances are that you'll find it as wearable as it is comfortable, as becoming as it is useful.

Teatime Topics

By Edna Usher

Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Canadian Association of Consumers is campaigning for longer bed sheets. In its most recent bulletin it urges housewives to insist on a sheet 108 inches long, instead of the more usual 90 inches.

Flannelette sheets, much on the market as cooler weather comes, are the ones most involved in the "shortie" complaint, the CAC says.

"Because so many consumers express dissatisfaction with the lengths of flannelette sheets available in many stores, we must stress that manufacturers do make longer sheets, and are anxious to sell them," says the bulletin, "but they are slightly higher-priced than the so-called popular size. If the retailer does not stock longer sheets, the consumer should request a special order."

Canadian Cheese

Canada's October cheese festival will soon be here. The foremost national cheese product is Cheddar cheese. Colors may be rich cream or yellow, the difference being added vegetable coloring.

Cheddar is marketed and sold according to its age. "Mild cheddar" has been ripened only a few weeks. "Medium cheddar" is aged for several months, and "old nippy cheddar" has been ripened for a year or more.

Careful storage is essential to retain the flavor of cheddar cheese. Wrap it in heavy waxed paper or foil or pop it into a covered container and store it in the refrigerator or other cool place. In storing a large piece of cheese, protect the cut side with a coating of paraffin or a piece of waxed paper on with a hot iron.

Remove cheese from the refrigerator long enough before using to allow it to reach room temperature.

Save the scraps after cutting cheese, grate them and store in a covered jar.

To mix cheese evenly with other ingredients, the cheese is usually melted, grated or ground.

In cooking cheese, just take it easy. Treat it gently when beating — don't shock it into a rubbery mass by using high temperatures.

Old Furniture

"Old furniture for new" is the latest cry in the upholstery market.

According to the men in the trade, salvaging structurally-sound old frames can save up to 50 per cent on the retail price of factory-constructed furniture.

Worn upholstery can be replaced by fabric which will stand more wear, chesterfields can be sliced into sectional pieces, the puffy contours of an over-stuffed living-room set can be changed to the lean lines of a contemporary suite.

If furniture was produced during the war when curved bits of wood substituted for metal springs, the first set of coils can be installed.

The re-upholstering process usually takes about three weeks.

When the actor David Niven was mess officer of the Highland Light Infantry, says the Reader's Digest, he once bought a load of caviar from a Russian ship, and served it to his men as a special treat. To his astonishment there was considerable grumbling. He asked one old-timer what was wrong.

"Well," said the soldier with a glare, "this ruddy blackberry jam tastes of fish!"

MISSILE TO REPLACE AVRO'S ARROW

Instead of the Arrow, Canada's greatest effort in aircraft production, a U.S. ballistic missile will be the mainstay of our aerial defence. The missile, the Bomarc, shown right in flight and above on display in New York, has a range of 200 miles, a speed of 1,500 mph and can climb to 60,000 feet. It is controlled from the ground and can be equipped with conventional or nuclear warheads. In the next three years Canada will spend $264,000,000 in developing missile sites. Work on the Arrow will continue at the A. V. Roe plant in Malton, Ont., but it is not planned to manufacture enough to equip squadrons for Canadian defence.

Basic precautions for touring mishaps

by Carol Lane

Health and happiness are your best companions on the road. To care for little upsets that may occur and to make your touring more carefree, carry a few basic medicine chest supplies like these:

1. A first-aid kit consisting of cotton, gauze pads, adhesive tape, adhesive bandages, antiseptic and scissors.
2. Aromatic spirits of ammonia.
3. A pain reliever such as aspirin.
4. Remedies for such troubles as indigestion, motion sickness, head colds, poison ivy, sunburn and windburn.
5. An eye solution and an eye cup.

You may also wish to pack special prescriptions, vitamin pills, remedies for allergy conditions, liniment and a thermometer.

Most of the above items can be purchased in small quantities and in unbreakable containers. Pack everything in a small box and keep it in your car's glove compartment for easy access.

Have You A Question on UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any point do not hesitate to send us your question. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Following are some questions with answers which may be of interest to you:

Q. I understand $4,800 is the ceiling for contribution purposes for salaried employees. If paid by the hour, however, a person can earn far more than this and still be insurable. Why is this?

A. There are two reasons. First, employees paid at hourly rates are more subject to intermittent unemployment than salaried employees, even when the hourly rates are quite high. Generally speaking, employees on salary have employment of a more continuous and regular nature and are not so subject to intermittent unemployment because of bad weather, shortage of materials, etc. Hence employees on fixed salaries exceeding $4,800 a year are considered to have little need of insurance against unemployment. Second, the earnings of hourly rated employees vary greatly because of overtime, broken time and other employment conditions. It is therefore more difficult to pre-determine what total annual earnings will be. A tradesman in the building and construction industries, for example, may have abnormally high earnings one year and low earnings the next due to broken time. To prevent his continually moving in and out of the insured classes and to give protection to this type of worker he is insured regardless of the amount of his earnings.

Q. My wife lost her job some weeks ago and is now drawing $19 a week unemployment insurance benefits. I am now out of work but I am told I can only draw $23 per week. Last year I drew $30 a week. What is the reason for the difference?

A. Your wife is not considered a dependent while she is drawing unemployment insurance in excess of $14 a week and, therefore, you are now drawing the single rate which is $23.

Q. I have always worked full time but now I am ill. My doctor says I can only work a few hours each day. I don't feel equal to working more than that and the employment office says they haven't any part-time work that I could do. Can I draw benefits until I find something suitable?

A. If you left your last employment because of illness, you cannot draw benefit until you are again capable of and available for work. Whether or not you can draw benefit until some job within your capacity becomes available depends to a great extent on your physical condition and on local conditions. You should file a claim with your local National Employment Office and give full particulars so that a proper decision can be given.

To every crevice of the human heart

Someone has said that it is impossible to read Shakespeare or Tennyson intelligently unless one knows the Bible. Charles Dickens was once asked where he got his wonderfully natural literary style, and he replied "from the New Testament to be sure."

The result of constant and careful Bible reading is always the moulding of great thoughts. We are all interested in the men who made the Bible — men like Paul, the Gospel writers, Jerome, Luther, Wycliffe, Tyndale and others; but what a story could be told if we could know of all whom the Bible has made. . . The secret of the Bible Society's success lies just here, that this Book reaches down into every crevice of every human heart.

TIGER KILLS CHEETAH AT ZOO

This hen-pecked tiger went on the rampage at Toronto's Riverdale Zoo, after a domestic battle with his mate. Attendants separated the tigers by letting the male into the mutual exercise yard shared by two cheetahs. But a slide door jammed preventing the cheetahs from escaping to their den fast enough. The tiger killed the female cheetah and critically mauled her mate. A hose and long poles were used to force the killer into a corner while two men went to the rescue of the cheetahs.

SEEK CONTROL

Kelowna, B.C. (CP) — British Columbia school trustees at their 54th annual convention approved resolutions asking for more control over money raised locally, after one delegate said trustees were only "rubber stamps" for the government. The delegates asked for more control of minor and emergency expenditures.

Bereavement and Community Loss

The sincere sympathy of this community is extended to Mrs. J. D. Weir and family in the rather sudden passing of Capt. J. D. Weir on Saturday in the Smith Clinic, Hawkesbury; also to the brothers and sisters of the late Capt. Weir.

Captain Weir's passing is also Cushing's loss, because of his help in connection with the church and general welfare. He was a good neighbor to all around him.

Bell Falls

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Warren, of Montreal, spent last week-end at Warren's Cottage.

Pretty wedding at Lost River Presbyt'n Church

MacTavish - MacMillan

The Presbyterian Church at Lost River was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday evening, September 20, when June Edith Agnes, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William MacMillan, of Lost River, was united in marriage to Dougal Duncan, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacTavish, of Harrington. The Rev. James Armour of Lachute officiated at the double-ring ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. James Armour.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length dress of white satin with tulle and lace, styled with fitted bodice and V-shaped neckline dotted with sequins, long tight sleeves pointed over the wrists, and a full skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place with a tiara of pearls and rhinestones, and she wore a pearl necklace with matching earrings, a gift from the groom, and carried a horseshoe bouquet of red roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Gordon MacCullough, as matron of honor, wearing a ballerina-length dress of blue lace and net over taffeta with matching headpiece; she carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

Miss Beryl MacTavish, as bridesmaid, wore a ballerina-length dress of yellow lace and net over taffeta with matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

Miss Marian MacMillan, sister of the bride, wore a ballerina-length dress of lilac lace and net over taffeta with matching headpiece, and carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

Miss Julie MacTavish, cousin of the groom, was flower girl, wearing a pink nylon frock with a small hat of pink flowers, and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Walter MacTavish acted as best man for his brother. The ushers were Mr. Wenville MacMillan and Mr. Lloyd MacTavish.

During the signing of the register, the organ was played by Mrs. Armour.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue crepe dress, with powder blue hat and matching accessories, and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother was attired in royal blue with powder blue hat and accessories, also with a corsage of red roses.

Later the reception was held at Arundel auditorium, where a large crowd were assembled to shower the happy couple with congratulations and best wishes.

Later Mr. and Mrs. MacTavish left on their wedding trip, the bride wearing a turquoise blue suit with pink accessories and shoulder spray of pink roses. Many out-of-town guests were present from Lachute, Montreal, Ottawa, Marbletown, Hawkesbury, Grenville and Calumet.

Avoca

Mr. and Mrs. S. McArthur, of Arundel, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McPhee on Sunday last.

Mr. Evan Bates wishes to thank all kind friends who remembered him during his five weeks' stay in hospital — with visits, letters, cards and many other tokens of kindness.

Mr. Allan McPhee wishes to thank his kind friends for letters, cards, visits, and telephone calls during his stay in hospital; all have been sincerely appreciated.

Congratulations to Grenville School on having captured the sports cup for the third year in succession from Lachute and Brownsburg.

Morin Heights

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Davis, and the latter's mother, Mrs. Scott, of Montreal, returned home on Sunday after spending three weeks' vacation at their cottage here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clive Riddell and family, of Montreal, spent last week-end in Mille Isles visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Riddell.

Masonic Banquet

The annual banquet and ladies' night of Laurentian Lodge No. 81 was held at Gray Rocks Inn, St. Jovite, on Wednesday evening of last week. Wor. Master the Rev. Robt. Blair, of Montreal, welcomed the members and guests, while Mr. Percy Staniforth introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Norman Rawson.

Recent Marriage

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Beverly Waugh (formerly Beverly Mary Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wood), who were married here in Trinity Church on Saturday, September 27, with reception held at Rockcliff Inn.

Mrs. E. G. Graves and her daughter, Mrs. J. St. Jacques and children, spent Wednesday in Hudson visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hulley.

Mrs. Bernice Coolan, of Verdun, spent last week-end here at her cottage.

Mrs. Ethelwyn Aldom, of Montreal, is enjoying an extended vacation here at her cottage at Lake Echo.

The sympathy of this community is extended to the relatives of the late Mrs. John Boyd, who died last Thursday at her home in Montreal.

Mrs. R. Page left this past week to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Covington Stevens, at Pittsfield, Mass.

After an absence of about 40 years Mr. Norman Blay, of North Bay, Ont., returned here last week to spend several days visiting his brother-in-law, Chester Morrow and Mrs. Morrow, and renewing acquaintances with many of his old friends.

Mr. John Goodfellow, of Montreal, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Goodfellow.

The Local Farm Scene

World experts on Genetics held conference at McGill University

Application of genetics in the field of agriculture will result in mounting benefits, Dr. C. H. Goulden, director of Experimental Farms Service, predicted.

Canada has saved up to $60,000,000 annually through introduction of rust-resistant wheat, he said, and "we have just touched the fringe of advantages to be gained from plant and animal breeding using genetic principles".

Dr. Goulden took an active part in the International Congress of Genetics, winding up week-long sessions at McGill University recently. Close to 1,500 delegates from 45 countries attended.

Goulden Impressed

A leading authority on the role of genetics in agriculture, Dr. Goulden was impressed with the international conference — first held in Canada.

"Papers were given by outstanding men in every field", he said, "and there were lively topics".

A major Canadian contribution to the Congress was an exhibit displayed by the Department of Agriculture, demonstrating the use being made of genetics. It was the centre of attraction for people of all nationalities.

Other contributors to the exhibit were the universities of Saskatchewan, Alberta, Manitoba and Toronto, the Ontario Departments of Agriculture and Lands and Forests, and the Canada Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources.

Subjects Discussed

The panels centred on:

1—Tomato breeding in Canada.

2—Genetics of flower color in snapdragons.

3—Development of a variety of sweet clover containing no coumarin, which sometimes changes to di-cumarol, an alkaloid which destroys the clotting power of blood in animals.

4—Tracing the evolution of ladybird beetle genus chilocorus.

5—Breeding of wheat for resistance to stem sawfly.

6—Work done on genetics of the stem rust organism.

7—Breeding of oats for resistance to stem and crown rusts.

8—Inheritance of stem rust resistance in wheat.

9—Genealogy of Selkirk, the first commercial variety of wheat in North America to incorporate resistance to stem rust race 15B.

10—Chromosome substitutions in wheat and their effects.

11—How common wheat evolved from primitive ancestors, and the evolution of other wheat species.

12—Improvement of forest trees by selection of individuals and source of seed.

14—Effect of environment on different strains of poultry.

15—Development of the Lacombe hog by Department of Agriculture authorities. It is a fast growing, high quality bacon breed.

While technical enough to interest the expert geneticists attending the conference, the Canadian story was told in such a way as to be understood by the layman.

It was one of a number of exhibits on display in the McGill University Winter Stadium.

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

Corn Cobs Have Feed Value

Hay or silage may have disappeared pretty fast during the course of the winter while the farmer finds it still necessary to provide these feeds. Especially under these conditions, corn cobs should be considered as a hay or silage substitute. This also applies to other low grade roughages such relatively coarse hay, corn shreds or corn stover, and barley or oat straw.

Dr. Bohstedt

Extensive studies at Wisconsin with some 6,000 cattle, sheep, swine, and horses showed oat mill feed, essentially oat hulls which are much like corn cobs in composition, to be worth about one-half the feed value of corn grain.

Studies with horses at the Ohio Experiment Station proved the ground cobs to be worth half of the corn grain.

Of course the relatively high value of ground cobs for different farm animals can be obtained only if the cobs or other high fiber feeds are fed in balanced rations having enough protein, minerals and vitamins for good nutrition.

A number of good cattle supplements have been developed. As an example, "Purdue Supplement A" one of the earliest "complete" cattle supplements devised has this composition: soybean oil meal 650.5, molasses 140, 17%-protein dehydrated alfalfa meal 140; bone meal 52, salt with cobalt 17, vitamin A and D concentrates 0.5 pound, total 1000 pounds.

This 32 per cent protein supplement fed at the rate of 3.5 pounds per day along with the ground corn cobs or other low-grade roughage to wintering beef cows or steers produced daily gains of from 1.0 to 1.5 pounds per head. Of course, in fattening rations some additional corn or other grain had to be fed. In dairy rations the ground cobs should not replace more than half of the good hay that would ordinarily be fed.

This supplement can be made more economical by replacing 250 pounds of the soybean oil meal with 210 pounds of corn plus 40 pounds of urea to keep the supplement at the 32-per cent protein level.

It is seen that the supplement at the rate it was fed, provided plenty of good protein, a source of energy by way of molasses for the rumen "bugs," and fair amounts of calcium, phosphorus, salt and cobalt. Furthermore it provided two important fat-soluble vitamins as well as other principles contained in alfalfa meal to enable ruminants to thrive on such coarse roughage fed with it.

The cobs were ground through a hammer mill equipped with a half-inch screen, when intended for cattle. When using cobs for pigs they should be ground in a hammer mill equipped with a three-sixteenths or even a one-eighth inch screen.

Ground corn cobs should be mixed with suitable feed or supplement because, by themselves, they are not very palatable.

Question: How come cattle on roughage feed eat more salt than cattle on heavy grain rations?

Answer: The mineral content of roughage, particularly early season pasture is so unbalanced, usually low in potassium, that the cattle need a larger amount of salt when fed roughages than when on heavy grain rations. In addition to this, experimental work on balance studies indicates that possibly cattle on concentrates retain sodium and chloride in the body better than those on very bulky rations.

"Regional" topics to be feature of Farm Forum season broadcasts

For years, farm people across the country have asked that more of their own local problems be aired on Farm Forum night.

This year, there are no fewer than three occasions when just this will be done. Once this fall, and twice during the winter months, Monday night will be set aside for a Regional Broadcast. They'll range all the way from Territorial Waters, a hot item in Newfoundland — to the problem of suitable Crop Insurance, on the Prairies.

Each of these topics, and others, in other provinces, will be developed by, and produced by the CBC Farm Department in the region.

In Newfoundland, the producer will be Jack Watts, and in Halifax, Keith Russell, a former Lachute High School staffer. In Toronto George Atkins will hold the reins, while on the Prairies, Lionel Moore, and his associates will be in charge. In British Columbia, Tom Leach and Jack MacPherson will handle all three broadcasts.

Let's take a quick look at the November 10 Regional Broadcast, as presently scheduled.

In Newfoundland, Territorial Waters will be on the agenda: where they end, and where the rights of nations sharing in the fishing industry begin.

The Maritime Provinces have tackled "The Orderly Marketing of Maritime Farm Products" a hot item in any part of Canada. The material for the forums will be prepared by Clarence FitzRandolph, Agricultural Officer, Atlantic Provinces Economic Council.

Ontario and Quebec have a fine show lined up, on the subject of "Conservation". Gavin Henderson of the Ontario Conservation Council will prepare discussion material.

On the Prairies, Farm Forums will discuss "Crop Insurance" and its many implications. There will probably be a Panel Discussion among farmers and Insurance experts, on this one. Saskatchewan Farm Forums will probably prepare the Guide material for the groups.

In British Columbia, a revitalized group of Forums will have their Rally Broadcast, as plans now stand. They will enjoy a somewhat different type of Regional show, on this first occasion.

But remember . . . whether you belong to a Forum or not, the Broadcasts and the Guides are about subjects you'll find interesting.

The regional broadcasts, on your CBC station, will be on November 10, February 9 and March 9. Don't miss them.

Farms grow too

The future of the family farm may not be as uncertain as some people have suggested, according to a speaker at the recent North American Farm Economics Conference in Winnipeg.

The well-run family farm is doing very well, explains The Financial Post, because it has become bigger, more efficient and highly mechanized. What are disappearing are the rundown little farms that were too small for modern agriculture.

In the old days, 100 acres in the East or 160 in the West were about all the average family could handle and they provided enough cash income to maintain the average farm family. But today with machines, and depending of course on the type of farming followed, a family may be able to handle 10 times as much land and only by so doing is there any hope of sufficent income.

TOURIST TRADE

Charlottetown (CP) — The tourist situation for Prince Edward Island "presents a bright picture indeed", said Provincial Secretary Earle MacDonald, reporting visitors to the end of August were well over the figures of last year.

Farmer's gift saves him tax

A farmer who legally transfers a share of his farm to his wife or to one of his children for farming purposes, can now claim a maximum exemption from taxation of $10,000 on that share.

Such a deduction may be claimed only once by a donor.

The maximum exemption was previously $4,000.

Confidential!

The mother of a rather tough little boy in a Toronto school sent this note to teacher, according to the Reader's Digest: "John was not at school yesterday because I took him to see the National Ballet. Please don't tell the other boys."

Where is the Highest Waterfall East of Niagara

One of the highest falls east of Niagara and, incidentally, the widest broadway east of Winnipeg, are in the Town of Grand Falls, N.B. The town also is credited with having the largest water-pressure tunnel in Canada and the largest hydro-electric power plant in New Brunswick. The community was first a French post, then in 1790 a British military outpost. It was incorporated in 1896 and serves as business centre for the adjoining St. George and four surrounding parishes. It boasts a weekly newspaper, Cataract; two modern potato-starch factories and a potato-chip plant; two hospitals and a public library.

YOU CAN AFFORD TO FORGET — IMPERIAL CAN'T

...because four generations of Canadians have come to depend on Imperial products on the road, on the farm, in the home

Imperial started supplying Canadians with oil products in the very early days of the industry in Canada . . . in fact, 1880 was the year it made its start in this business.

In most areas of Canada, it was an Imperial refinery which first began making oil products locally.

Imperial pioneered, too, in supplying Canadians with products when and where they were needed. (As far back as 1907, Imperial opened the first service station in Canada . . . and perhaps in the world.)

Today, as over the past 78 years, Imperial recognizes its responsibility to bring Canadians the most modern of oil products at the lowest possible price.

Losses that Cost Plenty!

One thousand dollars per farm is the estimate placed by one authority on total annual losses sustained on each of the nation's two million largest farms and ranches from parasites, diseases and mishandling of livestock. . . This is in the United States, but will no doubt apply to Canada in the same proportion. Most of this $1,000 annual loss is preventable!

One meat packer estimates that $1.26 is lost from bruises and condemnations for every beef animal slaughtered. The cattle grub costs feeders more than $7.00 per head in hide damage, trimmed loins, and in loss of gains. One feeder says that shipping fever has cost him $5.00 to $10.00 per head for every steer fed for the last 20 years.

WHAT CAN BE DONE to reduce these losses? By making you all aware of these losses and helping you control these losses. Purina and its dealers stand out from all other feed manufacturers in providing a complete line of research, approved and farm-tested SANITATION PRODUCTS, to help you lick this problem.

We stand ready to help you with information and Sanitation Products that are second to none in either quality or price. So start cutting losses today!

Lions proceeding immediately with artificial outdoor rink

Jim, Colin McOuat and Lowe's Dairy give valuable co-operation in project

Diverted from their Arena project by expropriation of land they had acquired for that purpose, and delayed in their ambitions by inadequate funds, the Lions Club will now proceed on a modified but decisive plan to provide skating facilities for Lachute's young enthusiasts.

The plan is now to equip and operate an open-air artificial ice rink with provisions for parking space, dressing room and restaurant, and with a caretaker for maintenance — all to be in operation, if possible, for the outset of the coming season.

Generously collaborating in this scheme is the firm of Lowe's Dairy — Jim Lowe, senior partner, being himself an ardent Lion and public-spirited citizen. Also the McOuat brothers, Jim and Colin, who own land adjoining the dairy, and have made this available to the club. The rink will be situated on this tract, east of the dairy. They have further offered the use of the hills surrounding this skating rink area for the purposes of skiing and tobogganing. This gesture by the McOuat brothers is warmly appreciated.

Lowe Bros. Dairy is presently using a very efficient ice-making plant which was acquired by the club for its planned arena. The ice-rink refrigeration pipes will be connected up with the brine tank and pump. Lowe Bros. will supply power for the refrigeration, and have offered the use of a building extension for a restaurant, two rest rooms and two toilets. . . All of this represents an appreciable aid to the undertaking.

This project is well beyond the theoretical stage. (A contract has since been signed for supply of the required equipment, and installation, and work commenced Monday on levelling of the land.)

Lion Horace Lamarche, chairman of the Major Projects committee, laid before the Lions directors the results of his intensive study and investigation. The directorate approved unanimously. Reporting again and outlining plans at the general meeting last week, Lion Lamarche said that views, ideas and offers of aid had snowballed to an enthusiastic momentum.

At the general meeting — conscious of the deplorable lack of supervised skating facilities for young folks here (hundreds of whom flock, mostly by thumb, to the arena at Brownsburg throughout the winter season) — also, anxious to remedy this situation, even on a compromise basis far short of their visualized arena in Lachute — the Lions then voted unanimously in favor.

Lion Horace Lamarche was thanked by President Phil Tremblay for the impetus he had given, and there was general confidence that the move would prove a constructive step to fill a long-felt need.

Ayersville shows property and population gains

Ayersville Council, with Mayor Maurice Champagne presiding, gave study last week to the valuators' report, which had previously been approved with some modifications.

The report gives practical proof of the municipality's growth, the total valuation being $4,786,970 — an increase of $1,150,000 over last year's roll. (It is generally estimated the valuation figures in Ayersville are around 80% of actual value.)

Taxable property is set at $4,247,620; non-taxable, $539,350, including schools, churches, exhibition grounds and buildings, the site of the future hospital, the Notre Dame de Lourdes shrine properties, and municipal buildings.

The count of population shows an increase of 150-odd persons, from 2,403 to 2,557.

Evaluators for the municipality were Messrs. Edouard Lajoie, Hermas Leroux and Chas.-Edouard Gauthier.

Capt. J. D. Weir mourned by many

The late Capt. J. Davison Weir, O.B.E., J.P., whose death occurred recently at the age of 77, following a seizure of illness at his home in Cushing.

Apologies are due to the relatives concerned, for an error in the portrait inserted with an obituary last week — engravings of the late Capt. Weir and his brother, Thos. Weir (also Captain), having been filed at The Watchman without identifying initials.

Two promotions at Post-Office

A rating board, composed of Messrs. P. E. Choquet, Area Superintendent, G. Therriault, Montreal District Personnel Officer, and R. Pilon, Postal Officer I of the local office, assembled to nominate two Supervisory Letter Carriers following a local competition.

The two happy candidates are J. W. (Bill) Black, on the left, and Hubert Legault, on the right.

Their duties will be to replace regular letter carriers when not on duty, to check routes as to volume and distance travelled, to train inexperienced help and, when necessary, to supervise the staff of letter carriers.

Thos. Smith heads Poppy committee for Legion "70"

Tom Smith was named head of the 1958 poppy committee for Lachute branch of the Canadian Legion. The announcement was made following the general meeting of the branch.

Mr. Smith's first act was to get in contact with representatives of the outlying districts which take part in the poppy campaign each year — St. Andrews East, Carillon, Cushing, Grenville, Kilmar, Lakefield, Mille Isles and Arundel.

It is too early to announce any detailed plans of the campaign, but the committeeman expressed a desire to see more residents taking part in the Remembrance Day ceremony at the cenotaph. This year Mr. Smith would like to have more residents take a more active part in Remembrance by placing wreaths. Many residents who want to place wreaths were not aware that such participation is encouraged.

Mr. Smith also stated that the Legion would place wreaths on behalf of any citizen.

Although the objective for the 1958 campaign has not been set, it is expected to be higher than last year's target of $400.

Nieuw Amsterdam Trio for Community Concert Oct. 29

Community Concerts will open the season of recitals locally with a program by the Nieuw Amsterdam Trio on October 29.

This instrumental group has been enthusiastically acclaimed by critics everywhere for its exciting interpretations of the great masterworks of Trio Literature. Its unique achievement is the harmonious blending of the two great musical conceptions of our times: the tradition of the Viennese school and the broad horizon of the American scene in the world of music.

Community Concert members are anticipating this opening with keen pleasure, as the inaugural of another successful musical season in Lachute. The recital will be held as usual in the High School auditorium, commencing at 8.30 p.m. sharp.

The Nieuw Amsterdam Trio features three highly talented musicians — Edith Mocsanyi, pianist; Joseph Rabushka, violinist; Daniel Vandersall, cellist. All have scored triumphs in solo and group performances.

A letter from the Concerts directorate to all members, advising dates of the three engagements this season, makes note of the fact that a branch of the Association is now operating in Ste. Anne de Bellevue, and that local subscribers will be able to attend, without charge, the concerts arranged to take place in Macdonald College; the Lachute membership cards will entitle holders to attend, after seats have been reserved for local members until 8.20. Lois Marshall, soprano, will be featured in one of the recitals at Ste. Anne's.

Mothers invade Brownsb'g Council to protest speeding on streets

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg — Speeders beware! Brownsburg mothers have arisen to ensure that you no longer endanger the lives of their children! A group of determined women from Maple Avenue South invaded the usually exclusive male environment of the council room on October 6, to demand police protection for their offspring. Led by Mrs. J. Chalmers, who acted as spokeswoman, the mothers made it clear to the Council that they would no longer stand by and see the lives of their children endangered by irresponsible drivers.

Commercial vehicles, including mail trucks, were mentioned as being among the worst offenders, but a number of out-of-town drivers and certain local residents continue to demonstrate their disdain for the law and other people's lives. While the women were interested in speed law enforcement throughout the town, they were naturally more interested in their own street.

Mrs. Chalmers stated that since, Maple Avenue was the continuation of a highway, inadequate and inconsistent speed limit signs on Maple Avenue South probably contribute to the problem by not making drivers fully aware of the fact they are in a 30-mile zone. Of course, this applies only to those drivers who are not familiar with Brownsburg streets. For those who are acquainted with them (local residents, etc., there is no excuse whatever! It is an extremely dangerous practice when drivers exceed the speed limit late at night or in the early morning, but to do so during the daylight hours when school children frequent this narrow road, is a deadly gamble.

As a final indication of their determination, the ladies informed the Council that if conditions were not vastly improved during the next month they would return in November in greater numbers. The group left no doubt in the minds of the councillors that they have no objection to the town earning a reputation for being hard on traffic violators. Such a reputation can be instrumental in saving lives, and the citizens may therefore be justly proud of their Council and law enforcement officers.

George Therrien, who is one of the two councillors in charge of the police department, assured the female guests that the new police chief would be working 12 hours a day from now on, and that speeding on Maple Avenue and elsewhere in the town would be eliminated.

While speeding can certainly be eliminated by the levying of heavy fines, drivers could save their own money and other people's nerves (and possibly lives) by abiding by the town laws. . . How about it, car owners?

The big news is out at last. . . Richard Gagnon has been officially appointed to the position of Chief of Police. Best of luck, Richard! In his temporary status last month, Chief Gagnon issued 16 speeding tickets, 2 red light tickets and 4 parking tickets.

The police department has requested the co-operation of all store owners in leaving at least one light burning overnight in their establishments. This illumination provides much needed assistance for the police officers, who patrol the streets to ensure the security of commercial buildings.

Fire Chief Arthur Robbins reported that his crews had answered only two alarms during the month, but that 1,053 chimneys had been cleaned.

Council revamped the civic elections procedure by adopting a motion to have the terms of office of the mayor and councillors changed, from two to three years. This means an election in May 1959.

Council also passed a motion to extend an official "thank-you" to the Hon. W. M. Cottingham for authorizing repairs to certain roads in town, and for the presentation of a cheque from the Provincial Government, in the amount of $515.99, as a fire protection subsidy.

The answer to the water-sewerage expansion problem is still unknown. A great deal of correspondence with Provincial Government authorities has ended in a request to forward plans and estimated costs of the proposed projects to Quebec. It is the sincere hope of all members of the Council that this action will result in approval of the request for assistance in making these sorely-needed service extensions.

With the ice and snow of winter not too far in the future, Council discussed purchase prices of a supply of salt for the roads. Since something like 60 tons were used last winter, prices merit careful discussion.

Council adjourned after having approved payment of monthly vouchers amounting to $1,646.89, plus an additional $649.25 in payment for rental of sewer-cleaning equipment.

Northmount Lions welcomed here by local club

Twenty-eight members of the Northmount Lions Club were welcome guests at the meeting of the local group last week. The total attendance was around 75, making the event one of the most enthusiastic gatherings to date this season.

Chaired by the president, Lion Phil Tremblay, the session dealt with club business besides pleasurable sidelights and exchanges. Lion Archie Jeffries, Zone chairman for Northmount, who is also a summer resident of this County, introduced the head table notables, all officers of the two clubs.

Royal Carrière, whose up-and-coming quartet was depleted by illness, led a rousing song session in which all joined heartily.

The president tendered greetings to that "grand old man of Lionism", International Counsellor J. S. Giles, on the celebration of his 90th birthday.

Ex-District Governor Dr. F. W. FitzGerald welcomed the visitors and spoke briefly on "Lionism on the March", a theme assigned to him as Information chairman.

Lion Herb Linder, recreational director for the Town of Mount Royal, spoke with pride on the activities of his department, which he described as one of the best civic recreational programs on the Island of Montreal.

Lion Horace Lamarche reported on the findings of his committee (Major Projects) leading to the adoption of plans for an artificial ice rink — as outlined elsewhere in this issue.

By courtesy of René Laurin, Dow representative, and arrangement of Dick Pearson, Program chairman, an interesting film was shown on the 1957 Grey Cup final.

Nursing Sister gets promotion

Nursing Sister Doris Marjorie Whinfield, of Calumet, Que., presently serving with the 4th Canadian Infantry Brigade in Germany, has been promoted to the rank of Captain. Capt. ## $30,000 Loan approved for purchase of new fire truck and snow equipment

At a public meeting Friday night in the Town Hall, called in connection with the proposed by-law to borrow $30,000, no objection or dissenting voice was heard and the Mayor accordingly declared the by-law approved and adopted. The meeting lasted two hours, in fulfilment of requirements of the Towns and Cities Act (Article 593), and during this session By-law 211 dealing with the loan was read in both French and English.

Purpose of this loan is to purchase a new fire truck with pumping capacity of 600 gallons a minute; also various machinery and equipment for winter maintenance of streets and sidewalks. The loan will be negotiated through the issue of 3½-year debentures, the annual interest and charges of which will be paid by means of a special levy on taxable property, imposed by Council.

Award winners at International plowing match

Two district men were among prize-winners at the International Plowing Match held last week in Crysler, Ontario — Albert Raymond, of St. Benoit, placing second and Lucien Maisonneuve, of St. Philippe, placing fifth. Both were entered in the Visitors' Class. Amounts of their awards were not ascertained; total prize list was in the neighborhood of $15,000.

Prov'l leader of Liberal party to speak here Oct. 22

The Hon. Jean Lesage, leader of the Liberal party in Quebec Province, will hold a meeting in the Legion Hall, Lachute, on Wednesday evening, October 22 — according to information given to The Watchman this week. The meeting will commence at 8 p.m. While the Liberal leader will be the principal speaker, he will be accompanied by other notable speakers and party supporters.

This is Mr. Lesage's first visit to the constituency since his election as Opposition leader in Quebec, and all are cordially invited to attend the rally here next Wednesday.

14 Charges and convictions against hunters in district

Provincial Game Warden Adelard Gagné, assisted by special warden Romuald Bell, on Sunday night arrested five persons and charged them with jack-lighting deer. The five appeared before Justice of the Peace Henri St. Onge and were fined $100 each, four rifles and the large jack-light being confiscated.

The arrests were made near St. Michel at 11.55 p.m. Sunday. Convicted were Alphonse Durocher, Rodolphe Besner and Réal Lalonde, all of Dorion, Que., Achares Auguste Besner, of Vaudreuil, and Jacques Brier, of St. Elzear.

Two Ontario residents were fined $50 each when they appeared before the Justice of the Peace on charges of possessing rifles in their car without Quebec hunting permits, and seven Quebec residents were fined $10 each on the same charge.

All arrests were made by Game Warden Gagné.

Priest injured in car mishap

The Rev. Bro. Victor Myette, 26, of the "Frères de L'Instruction Chrétienne" order at Oka, was treated in the Smith Clinic, Hawkesbury, following an accident last Friday afternoon on Route 29, near Cushing. He was in a ¾-ton truck driven by a fellow priest of the same order, the Rev. Bro. Albert Lauzon, 51, who suffered only minor injuries.

The truck was headed in an easterly direction when it swerved out of control after touching the gravel shoulder of the road and smashed into a tree, which prevented the truck from toppling down a 20-foot embankment into the water. The injured priest was taken to the Smith Clinic by ambulance. The accident was investigated by Traffic Officer Albert Legault, who reports the damage was in the vicinity of $1,000.

Hit-run mishaps, two out of three are apprehended

Provincial Police investigated three hit-and-run accidents over the week-end, and co-operating with Lachute Town police, managed to arrest two of the sought parties. The accidents occurred in St. Philippe, St. Andrews East, and near Johnson's Lake on the Louisa Road. Arrested were Gilles Gérard Gagnon, 35, of St. Laurent, who failed to stop after hitting a car owned and driven by John Walters, of Verdun; and Roger Lanoue, 38, of Lindsay, Ont., who hit the truck owned by Labreche & Freres, St. Andrews East, driven by Henri Labreche, 56. The arrests were made by Sgt. Roger Massie, accompanied by Police Chief Fernand Trépanier and Cst. Gilles Poirier.

Traffic Officer Gérard Loyer, in investigating the third hit-and-run incident late Saturday night, recovered a stolen car damaged to the extent of $400, the thief having left the scene. The car, belonging to Mrs. Eugene Raymond, of Outremont and Lake Louisa, was believed to have been stolen from the lake around 10.20 Saturday, and approximately half an hour later smashed into a car owned by Denny - Stewart, Montreal Shoe manufacturers and driven by Stewart Mossey, of Montreal and Lake Louisa; this car was damaged to the extent of about $200.

The Raymond car, a 1953-model sedan, was found near the former McGibbon lumber mill, about two miles from the scene of the accident, the thief having escaped and left no clue to his identity.

Flasher signals for C.P.R. Hamford Street crossing

Ayersville Council session for October was brief, due probably to the fact that the members had assembled several times during the preceding month to deal with business requiring attention. Mayor Maurice Champagne occupied the chair and Wilfrid Durocher was the only councillor absent.

Henri and Robert Legault, building contractors, put before the Council a request for 4,000 feet of sewer installation on the Hay farm, Brownsburg Road, where the applicants apparently have plans for construction of about 21 homes to meet a demand for new buildings.

Since the Council is preparing a general plan for servicing the hospital area, the request from Messrs. H. and R. Legault will be included in this plan.

Bills for the month, amounting to $1,258.48, were approved for payment.

Building permits were granted to Wm. Wilkes, for a house, and Arthur Vallée, for a private garage, both on Tessier Street.

Following an exchange of correspondence with the C.P.R. authorities regarding installation of flasher-signals at the Hamford Street crossing, Council decided to lay a sidewalk on the west side of this crossing and to widen the street pavement. It appears the installation of signals will cost $18,700, and their maintenance $560 a year. Initial costs would be apportioned 75% to the C.P.R. and 25% to the municipalities concerned, namely, Lachute and Ayersville. Cost of maintenance will be payable half by the railway company and half by the two municipalities.

The meeting was adjourned after discussion on the foregoing business.

'59 License plates black on yellow

Quebec — Quebec motor vehicle license plates for 1959 will have black numerals over a yellow background, according to a Quebec Transport and Communications Department spokesman.

The plates will be the same size as those currently in use, but the word Quebec and the year will appear below the license number instead of above.

Sale of 1959 license plates is scheduled to begin early in January. All 1958 plates expire February 28, 1959.

Civic donation to Federation of Charities

At the Town Hall last Saturday, in a function climaxing the inauguration of the annual Federation of Charities campaign, the municipal authorities presented their cheque of $1,500 as a donation on behalf of the town populace. Seen above (left to right) are Alderman Gérard Lefebvre; Philippe Raymond, joint campaign chairman for Ste. Anastasie Parish; Mayor Léopold Carrière; Jean-Paul Roy, president of the Charities Federation; Dr. Chas. Roy, campaign chairman; Fernand Berthiaume, publicity chairman; Msgr. Chas. Wm. ## Auto crashes into diesel locomotive; no serious injuries

A 1958 sedan owned by Dominique Dubois, 45, of Ste. Therese, on Monday evening smashed into the side of a fast moving five-car diesel locomotive at the C.P.R. crossing on Route 8, just west of Pte. au Chene. The three occupants of the car escaped serious injury.

The accident occurred at 8.18 p.m. — the driver and two passengers, Jacques Berthiaume, 29, of Rosemere, and Bernard Dubois, 43, of Ste. Therese, all receiving treatment by Dr. Drummond Smith, of Hawkesbury, for scalp lacerations, bruises and sprains.

The car was demolished in the accident, which was investigated by Sgt. Roger Massie and Traffic Officer Gerard Loyer.

Brownsburg hunters warmly clad

A lightweight, exceptionally warm hunting outfit is worn by Don Todd (left) of Brownsburg. His companion, Irwin Martin, also of Brownsburg, is fortified with quilted underwear. Both outfits and the sleeping bag are insulated with "Terylene" fibrefill, which has an insulation factor comparable to the more expensive grades of down.

Comparison of various clothing for late-season hunting enthusiasts

Just how much clothing does a hunter need to be comfortable, especially late in the season when the skies are threatening snow, and the temperature is near the freezing point?

Huddled in his blind, his hands and feet becoming numb, the hunter may well feel envious of the ducks flying merrily beyond range of his gun. Their main problem is expelling heat trapped by their highly efficient insulation of feathers. Other animals living in cold climates have equally magnificent protection. For example, intricate heat exchange mechanisms prevent heat loss in the flippers of seals and whales.

But if man is not as elegantly and efficiently clothed as these other animals, at least he is fast catching up. Scientific studies of clothing needs and the development of new materials with high insulation-weight ratios is making it possible for hunters to be much more comfortable, even during cold weather.

As comfort is subjective, personal experience is the most important way in which a hunter can determine how much clothing he needs. Nonetheless, in carrying out scientific studies of clothing needs in the Arctic, the U.S. Army devised a measure known as the "clo". This unit is defined as the amount of clothing a seated man needs to be comfortable in 70 degrees F. air with relative humidity of 50 percent and air movement of 20 feet per minute. They determined that a man, under these conditions, loses 50 kilogram calories of heat per square meter of body surface per hour. Wearing the same clothing, he loses heat at three times this rate while walking in 40 degree air and at six times the rate while exercising at five degrees below zero.

One question which puzzled the scientists was why the G.I. stationed in Alaska seemed to need three times as much clothing as the Eskimo. It used to be thought that the Eskimo was constitutionally different from other people: his basal metabolism rate is about a third higher than the average for other people. But the scientists found this to be the result of his exceptionally high protein diet — about a pound of meat a day. U.S. soldiers put on this diet soon showed a correspondingly high rate.

However, diet is not the whole story. The Eskimo was able to wear less than the G.I. because his clothing was more efficient. Until recently, he depended solely on hunting as a source of livelihood. His skillful development of warm, lightweight clothing was a direct response to a need to travel faster and farther and carry more food when searching for game.

"Warmth without weight" — this is the fundamental principle in the design of good hunting clothes; and it is natural that such an excellent hunter as the Eskimo should grasp and apply it so efficiently. Of course, this expression of it is not quite exact. In fact, to speak of "warm" clothing is almost misleading. It is true that, in a tactile sense, some clothing feels warmer than others. But no clothing, unless it is an electrically-heated suit, actually generates heat. What matters is its ability to trap heat given off by the body.

The Eskimo wears furs, hardly an inexpensive means for clothing soldiers on northern duty, or hunters on late seasonal jaunts. The search for economical materials that could provide greater insulation per pound than wool, cotton and other natural fibres, led to the testing of synthetic fibres under Arctic conditions. One of these, "Terylene" fibrefill, which is manufactured by Canadian Industries Limited, was found to have an insulation factor comparable to the more expensive grades of down. In addition, it has other advantages. It is moth, vermin and mildew proof. It is easily stored safely and, when damp, dries more quickly than the usual filling materials.

One of the tests was made by a meteorologist serving on "Operation Hazen", four-month expedition sponsored last year by the Defence Research Board to explore conditions on Lake Hazen and the Gilman Glacier of Ellesmere Island. He had a "Terylene" filled sleeping bag and parka and found both to be comfortable at temperatures as low as 30 below.

Canadian manufacturers are now making hunting jackets and vests, quilted underwear and many other men's and women's garments which are insulated with "Terylene". These garments are never stiff and the filling remains soft and resilient, even after long use.

Although quilted clothing containing "Terylene" is warm, it is not bulky; and this is most important to hunters.

Apart from the awkwardness which it causes, bulky clothing can be inefficient. This was shown by a simple evperiment conducted at Yale University. Successive layers of insulating cloth were wrapped around blackened copper cylinders containing water at body temperature. With each addition, heat loss was reduced, until the growing bulk of the cylinder reached a certain size, and then heat loss began to increase. The reason for this is the increasing surface-to-volume ratio. Cats and other animals seem to know this principle instinctively, for they will curl up into a ball if it is chilly, thus reducing as much as possible the ratio of their surface area to volume. On hot days, they will do the opposite and stretch out, thus exposing as much surface area as possible.

An interesting consequence of this principle is that very small creatures cannot survive in the Arctic. For example, a shrew could not live there. The main reason is that his ratio of surface area to volume is too great.

In choosing hunting clothing there are other considerations besides warmth and lightness, but these are the main ones. Once these needs are satisified, you can indulge your fancy in the styling of pockets and other secondary features which are important, but not absolutely fundamental.

Opportunity to co-operate

A general outline of plans for the Lions Club outdoor rink with artificial ice, appears elsewhere in this newspaper. The project is well in hand, to have the rink ready in good time for the skating season.

Heading the list of collaborators to date are two public-spirited donors who have made available the land, buildings and some of the facilities necessary for this venture. These, deserving special mention, are:

Lowe Brothers Dairy,
Messrs. Jas. and Colin McOuat.

Other offers have been tentatively made, and inasmuch as there will be many opportunities to help this project in various ways — those in a position to do so are asked to communicate with the Lions Club president, Phil Tremblay, or the key committeeman, Horace Lamarche.

Passenger Hurt

In a collision between two cars at the intersection of Hammond and Church Street in Ayersville last Monday afternoon, a lady passenger suffered injuries necessitating her transfer from the local hospital to a Montreal institution, for further medical care.

The cars involved were owned by Gerard Charron, advocate, of Buckingham, who was accompanied by his wife and two children, and Gordon Carpenter, of R.R. 1, Brownsburg. Mrs. Charron was the only person hurt in the collision.

Chief Adrien Cyr, of Ayersville, investigated.

More news from Duck Island

Main Duck Island,
South Bay, Picton, Ont.
October 6, 1958

Dear Editor:

Well, I finally have managed to look over the Island. Mr. Dulles came in the end of last week, and we have driven all over, taking a good look at everything. The Pheasants don't seem to be too plentiful, but otherwise everything is normal.

Now I'm going to make your mouth water, but how would you like roast Duck whenever you wanted it! No fooling, that's just about the way it is. Seems you can get one for supper any time you want.

The snakes are all gone, that is, for the winter. Believe me, it sure feels like snow today. There have been some real windstorms. In all, the weather is miserable.

When I came back over to the Island, I didn't really know how long it would be for. As I told you, the owner was not expected here again this year. However, he may be back about November 15, so I'm here till then, and possibly till December 15. So I will drop you a line from time to time. Another thing, the fishermen don't come out this way unless requested. You have to tell them beforehand when you want them back. Mine should be around any day now — if he doesn't forget to come!

I can see a big flock of Canada Geese passing by. They will probably land down in the south of the Island.

One thing I almost forgot. The Department of Lands and Forests came over the other day by plane. They looked the Island over, and are of the opinion that at least 10 deer should be taken off. Could be I'll be having venison instead of duck, one of these days!

Hope this gets to you sometime soon. Good hunting!

Dance in honor of LHS gymnasts and instructor

The Lachute High School Graduates' Athletic Association is holding a dance Friday evening in honor of L.H.S. gymnasts Reg Stansfield, Ron Cairns and Garry Cruise, along with coach Arne Petersen. The event will be held at the Masonic Hall. Dancing will be from 9 to 1 a.m. and a reception for the boys will be held at 10, to which all are cordially invited.

The executive of the Association is appealing to the general public to support this project, in honor of the boys who made such a fine showing at the Open Canadian Athletic Championship Games held in Vancouver during August. In the keen competition, these boys brought home three championships, two silver medals and four bronze medals.

The general public are cordially invited to attend.

CHEVROLET

It's shaped to the modern Canadian taste with a lean, clean silhouette, crisp new contours, beautifully restrained accents. It brings you more spaciousness and comfort with a new Body by Fisher. It has a bright new sheen – a new kind of finish that keeps its lustre without waxing for up to three years. New bigger brakes. Vast new areas of visibility. New Hi-Thrift 6. New handling ease and road steadiness. It's new right down to the tires!

Never before has an automobile manufacturer made such sweeping changes two years in a row. And never before has any car been new like this one.

The 1959 Chevrolet is more than a restyled car — more, even, than a completely new car. It's your kind of car. Shaped to reward your new taste in style. Designed to anticipate your desire for greater roominess and comfort. Engineered for greater safety, economy, ease of handling and smoothness of ride.

Your first look shows you that Chevrolet says new like nobody else. New Slimline design brings entirely new poise and proportion to automobile styling. Inside the new and roomier Body by Fisher you'll find truly tasteful elegance. And you'll have clear seeing from every seat. The new Vista-Panoramic windshield curves overhead — and there are bigger windows all around.

When you take the wheel, you begin to find that Chevy's newness goes down deep. A new steering ratio makes handling easier. New suspension engineering gives you a more stable ride. There's a sweet new edition of Turboglide.* Eight V8's plus a new Hi-Thrift 6 that goes and goes on a gallon. New and bigger brakes. Even new tires!

There's still more! A new Magic-Mirror finish that keeps its shine without waxing or polishing for up to three years. New Impala models. Wonderful new station wagons — including one with a rear-facing rear seat. And, with all that's new, you find those fine Chevrolet virtues of economy and practicality. ## His Holiness Pope Pius XII

IN THE DEATH of Pope Pius XII, people of the Protestant and Jewish faiths sympathize with their Roman Catholic compatriots, who comprise 44 percent of the Canadian population.

It is worthy of note that Pius XII's ascendancy to the holy office in 1939 coincided with an onslaught which brought trials unprecedented in world history. It was but a symbol of the era to follow, when horrors were a nightmare in the memory, but querulous uncertainty continued to test the faith of humankind. This period has posed a stern challenge to the pontiff of the Roman Catholic world, whose followers in many millions became absorbed by Communism.

The times have surely emphasized the high importance of his mission — a role in which His Holiness combined a strength of personality, a seeming friendliness and approachability, a comprehension of modern problems — all these qualities together with the solemn dignity inherent in his office. . . For these qualities and for his tireless efforts to promote peace in the world, Pope Pius commanded the esteem of his Roman Catholic flock, and of Protestants and other creeds alike.

Certain citizens within our circle were privileged to meet His Holiness personally. To these his passing has more real significance. But to the Catholic community in general, in mourning for their spiritual leader, all religious affiliations in this County express their sympathetic concern.

50 Years of plodding

ABOUT 600,000 families, and the Canadian postal department, passed a half-century milestone on October 10. Canada's first rural route was placed in operation on that date in 1908, between Hamilton and Ancaster, Ontario, introducing a postal service whereby country dwellers had their mail delivered to their homes. . . The contractor on R.R. No. 1, Hamilton, wended his way for seven miles from Hamilton to Ancaster, Ontario, and returned, each day serving householders along the route of travel.

When this system was introduced, it was confined to existing stage routes, but strong claims were made by those on other roads, with the result that by 1912 all persons residing along well defined roads over a mile long became eligible for rural mail delivery. Another advantage was that Rural Route couriers were permitted to sell postage stamps, take applications and accept money for Money Orders and Postal Notes. By November of that year, over 25,000 boxes were being served, on 900 routes.

Over the years, the number of calls has continued to increase, and on almost all country lanes the horse and buggy has now been replaced by an automobile. A few hours' travel by car covers a route which formerly required a day to complete. As happened in the case of the original service, some rural routes are the forerunners of letter carrier delivery as Canadian cities continue to expand. In 1951, in an effort to provide mail service to isolated groups of families on the Newfoundland coast, several "Water Rural Routes" were started. They were over 30 miles long and patrons were served by motor launch once a week. There were no mail boxes involved, as patrons met the boat at the wharves and conducted their postal business on the spot.

While not strictly speaking a rural route, the Alaska Highway service also handles mail for country people. From the end of steel at Dawson Creek, B.C., a three-day journey twice a week brings the mailman over 900 miles to White Horse with all surface mail for the Yukon. He also tends the needs of eight Post Offices en route and stops at a number of non-Post Office points, where patrons can transact Post Office business with the courier.

The largest number of boxholders are served on Rivière des Prairies R.R. No. 1, in Quebec Province. On this 25-mile daily journey, over 1,100 householders are served, as well as two Revenue Post Offices.

In reporting to Parliament this year, the Hon. William Hamilton, Postmaster General, indicated that some 600,000 householders are now served by 5¼ thousand rural routes and that over 37 million miles are travelled annually by the R.R. couriers. He also stated that over 4,000 group mail boxes now accommodate 40,000 patrons. These are an interesting development of rural service introduced after World War II. At one stop, a courier may serve 10 to 50 or more patrons using nests of boxes erected at central points in the borderline areas between cities and rural districts.

The style of the mail box has changed somewhat over the years, as did the mode of transportation.

Priming for the UNICEF "Shell-Out"

THROUGH THE United Nations Children's Fund, the Hallowe'en gifts of thousands of Canadian boys and girls are converted each year into health-giving milk and vitamins, life-saving medicines and vaccines for sick and hungry children in more than 100 countries and territories around the world. This SHARING of a traditional holiday, whether planned on a group or community-wide basis, has meant extra benefits at home, too. Through a fun project for children, about children, and carried out by children, everyone has an opportunity to work together on a non-political, non-controversial program that has received the approval and support of national religious and civic organizations across the country. The children of Canada — and their parents' — enjoy this new Hallowe'en for UNICEF even more because of that warm feeling that comes from helping others.

It has taken time to spread the spirit and organize this "Shell-Out for UNICEF" scheme. It has been slow to catch on in the smaller communities outside the cities, but we are gratified to see the idea being adopted more energetically in Lachute this year, and in the hands of the capable Women's Institute committee.

People turn to good friends when they need help. Governments can do this too. UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, is one friend they can count on when children are concerned. UNICEF aid is now helping more than 50,000,000 mothers and children each year in over 100 countries.

Through the "Shell-Out" venture and the co-operation of many agencies, Quebec Province raised $972 in 1955. In 1956, on a more solid basis of organization, the proceeds climbed to $7,182; and in 1957, to approximately $25,500.

As Hallowe'en approaches, The Watchman takes occasion to prime its readers for a more earnest approach from local small-fry. It is hoped by this means that Lachute will contribute to a collection far exceeding previous results in Quebec Province.

A busy, bustling time

THE SHOUTING and the tumult of the World Series put the stamp of finality on the summer season.

On the calendar, summer ended some weeks ago but it takes the final out of the last game of the great baseball classic to convince most people that autumn really has arrived.

Now, with the bets paid off, the pools completed and attention on the sports pages focussed fully on football and hockey, there is no excuse left for not settling down and preparing for the coming winter months.

October is the month when church and community groups swing into full activity. New executives are on the job, putting into practice the ideas they worked out during the summer while lazing in a deck chair on the back lawn. Already the presidents and secretaries may be beginning to have second thoughts. Plans shaped in the mellow glow of July and August lose some of their lustre when put to the test in the fall.

The school term is well under way. Teachers know the first names of most of their pupils; homework is becoming a little stiffer; youngsters have relished the Thanksgiving Day week-end and their first holiday.

This is a busy, bustling time. Perish the thought so soon, but Christmas cards are appearing in the stores and lay-away savings clubs are advertised to lessen the burden of Christmas costs.

What Canadian raft sailed across the Atlantic?

Perhaps the best known Canadian instance of a raft being used for travel was the "L'Egaré", a 30-foot structure composed of cedar logs. This was floated with the aid of a sail across the Atlantic Ocean in 1956. Its captain was Henri Beaudout and it was manned by a crew of three from Montreal. The crossing to Falmouth, England, took 88 days.

Which is the oldest golf club in North America?

Canadian golf enthusiasts were first organized in 1873 with the formation of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, which remains the oldest established golf club in North America. Since that time, the original club has been joined by more than 600 others across Canada. Though at first, golf was strictly an eastern pastime, with the formation of the Royal Canadian Golf Association in 1896, the sport was taken up in Victoria, B.C.

The Canadian Ladies Golf Union was formed in 1913 and the Professional Golfers Association in 1911 with the first championship being played in Toronto in 1912.

Outstanding among early golfers was George S. Lyon, who took eight Canadian amateur titles between 1898 and 1914, and won the first Canadian Seniors Association Championship in 1918.

When was the first press photograph published in Canada?

Canada's first illustrated paper, the Canadian Illustrated News carried a photo of Montreal's new custom house on June 3, 1871. It was reproduced by means of "Leggo's granular negative process". Inventor of this process was William A. Leggo, who was born in Quebec City. He and his four brothers worked to develop a process of photolithography, and joined with Georges Edouard Desbarbes in publishing the Canadian paper. They later joined him in forming the Graphic Company in New York which published the Daily Graphic, first daily illustrated paper. William Leggo's inventions included a means of speeding cable and telegraphic communication.

Who composed "O Canada"?

The music of "O Canada" was composed by Calixa Lavalee, a composer and conductor born at Vercheres, Lower Canada. It was composed at the request of Lieut.-Governor Theodore Robitaille, and was first played at Quebec on June 24, 1880. Lavallee studied music in Montreal as a child and about 1857 he ran away to New Orleans with a theatrical troupe. During the American Civil War he served as a bandsman in the northern armies and in 1863 returned to Montreal to teach music. He served as conductor and artistic director at the New York Grand Opera House, studied piano and composition in Paris, and returned to Canada to promote operatic productions in Montreal and Quebec. His published work includes two operettas, choral and orchestral selections, piano pieces and songs.

What is the Last Post Fund?

The fund operates under federal charter to prevent the burial in a pauper's grave of any veteran who has seen active service with Her Majesty's forces. Its Montreal headquarters are donated by the federal government and it is further financed by government grants and other donations. Since the Second World War, it has undertaken an average of 600 burials a year.

Declines C. of C. presidency, for health reasons

Lachute, Que.
October 8, 1958

Mr. G. A. Downing,
Secretary,
Lachute Chamber of Commerce,

Dear Mr. Downing:

When the local Chamber's Nomination Committee recently invited me to accept nomination for the post of President for the coming term, I accepted without having thought it over carefully.

My physician, Dr. Jacques Castagner, became aware of my decision through The Lachute Watchman and reproached my action, in view of the fact that he had treated me from October 1957 to June 1958. Dr. Castagner has advised me that I must restrain my business and social activities to the strictest minimum if I am to continue enjoying the little good health I presently have.

I therefore have no choice but to decline the nomination and advise you that I cannot accept the presidency of Lachute Chamber of Commerce for the 1958-59 term, though I would thoroughly have enjoyed it.

I hasten, however, to bring to your attention that, should I, in the opinion of the Executive body, be of service to our various communities at some time in the future, it will give me great pleasure to do my best for the public at large in whatever way I can without endangering my health.

Under the circumstances, would you be kind enough to express my sincere regret to the Nominating Committe for the reversal of my decision concerning their most generous and distinguished offer.

— Leonard Bedard

Of Many Things

— By Ambrose Hills —

Wonderful Cops!

In a couple of weeks I hope to get to Montreal and one of the things I look forward to is being directed, in traffic, by those wonderful Montreal cops. While Winnipeg is my home, and I have all due respect for our minions of the law, traffic cops here look and act like glum and gloomy incompetents compared to the traffic gendarmes in Montreal.

When I lived in Montreal there was a traffic cop on Côte des Neiges Road who was better to watch than a symphony orchestra conductor. The Freshie Parade which tied up Winnipeg traffic could have flowed past him without a hitch. Not that he ignored a bad driver or a clumsy one; he did not — he assisted them in such a manner that they were better drivers after they passed his corner.

I've tried, ever since moving to Winnipeg, to figure out why the French traffic cop puts our lads to shame. I believe it is all a question of mental attitude.

In Montreal, when a cop must give you a ticket, you feel that both he and you have been caught in the net — that he suffers with you, particularly if it is some minor infraction. He almost weeps with you as he makes out the ticket, muttering imprecations about the stupidity of the laws which have put the two of you in such an embarrassing situation.

In Winnipeg, you get the feeling that the policeman is hoping that tomorrow he'll get you again, or that some new intricacy in the law will help him trap you. There is no camaraderie between motorist and police, no gaiety, no togetherness. The visitor to Winnipeg enters the outskirts to find that both the law and the cops are arrayed against him. The visitor to Montreal soon feels that he has a tough driving job ahead, but that somehow those smiling, gesticulating cops will shepherd him through it unharmed and happy.

I think I'll start a campaign here in Winnipeg. After all, we exchange students between East and West; we exchange college professors; we exchange insults. Why not, for a short period of say a couple of centuries, trade cops?

All Aboard

with G. E. MORTIMORE

Some people make a habit of standing in the way. They clog the aisles or escalators in department stores. They walk one pace out of a doorway and stand there, blocking everybody's path.

The people who block the way are seldom, if ever, thin young men or short squat girls. Correct me if I am wrong, but it seems to me that the gangway-hogs are nearly always buxom ladies of mature years.

I know it is dangerous to generalize. No scientific survey of exit-hogs has been taken. But if a survey is taken, I am sure it will bear out my theory that the average pest of this kind is a well-proportioned matron with an armful of parcels sticking out on all sides. They don't mean to get in the way. It's just that nobody has ever explained to them that there are other people in the world besides themselves and their friends.

If anyone says "Excuse me," or "Do you mind if I get past?" the exit-hog will gaze at the newcomer with puzzled annoyance. She does not intend to stare rudely. The idea that other people exist, and actually want to use some of the space that she is occupying is strange to her.

To the lady, it is almost as if a cat had said "Good afternoon", or a tree had sprouted legs and walked away.

Gangway-hogs exist among motorists, too. At the height of the 5 o'clock rush the other day, a lady in a big station wagon was observed double-parked on the main business street.

When other drivers came up behind her, she flourished her hand out the window in an impatient, beckoning motion, directing the people into the middle of a dense stream of cars.

No break appeared in the line of cars, and the people behind could not obey the double-parked woman's order. But she remained parked there for a full 10 minutes, and went on beckoning.

What could have been going through the mind of a woman who so rudely ignored other people's convenience? If science ever devises TV or radio that will pick up thoughts, I would like to tune into her frequency and find out. But I think I would soon switch to another channel. It would be dull viewing.

Atlanta (AP) — An autopsy confirmed that Willie Ester Ray, 55, died of rabies.

Bitten on the nose by a dog 26 days ago, Ray was admitted to Grady Hospital nine days ago, lapsed into a coma early this week and died without regaining consciousness.

He became the city's first rabies victim since 1946 and the state's first since 1954.

DEATH

WELDEN (Alice Jane) — suddenly at Weir, Que., on Oct. 15, 1958, Alice Jane Beaven, beloved wife of the late Richard Welden, in her 76th year. Funeral Friday, Oct. 17, at 2 p.m. from the Church of the Redeemer, Weir, Que.

IN MEMORIAM

FLETCHER — In loving memory of William Fletcher, who passed away Oct. 19, 1947. — Always remembered by his family.

MacLEOD — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Hannah Andrews, who passed away Oct. 18, 1950. — Fondly remembered by her husband and family.

"Just a prayer from us who loved you,
Just a memory fond and true,
In our hearts you will live forever,
Because we thought the world of you."

STOREY — In fond and loving memory of my dear husband, who passed away Oct. 19, 1957. — His wife, Hazel.

MacLEOD — In loving memory of a dear son, Alden, who was killed on Oct. 15, 1955. — Ever remembered by Mother and Dad.

"Close is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech
But not too far for thought to reach,
Who shall say the grief is lessened,
Time the smile may hide the tears,
Memories keep the wound still open
Despite the passing of the years."

MacLEOD — In loving memory of a dear brother, brother-in-law and uncle, Alden, who was killed on Oct. 15, 1955. — Ever remembered by Bernie, Stanley, Keray and Karen.

"Memories are treasures no one can steal,
Death is a heartache no one can heal,
Time only dulls the pain,
But we will remember, no matter how long."

CNIB appeal in Grenville

At a recent meeting of the Grenville volunteer workers for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, held in the office of the Canadian International Paper Co. on October 6, arrangements were completed to conduct the annual campaign in the Grenville area, commencing on Monday, 20th.

Chairman for the campaign is Mr. Frank Knights. Workers for the district are as follows: Grenville, Lynus Neville, George Dolan; Calumet, H. G. Brannan; Kilmar, John White; Harrington, Clarence Bennett; Pointe au Chene, Mme André St. Amant; Avoca, Mrs. A. McPhee.

Objective for the campaign is $800. The Institute is deeply grateful to all workers, as their effort is purely voluntary.

During the year the Institute has served 47 blind people in the County of Argenteuil. In this county there are 20 blind males and 27 blind females; of this total there are six blind children, four boys and two girls. Although it did not receive its objective last year, the Institute was obliged to make each dollar stretch as far as possible. The CNIB is hoping that the citizens of Grenville and district will be generous so that all the services may be given and paid for by the local office.

The canvasser who will call is well known to you. Please receive him or her as kindly as you did in the past. If you know of anyone who needs eye care please give the names to the canvasser. Anyone wishing to donate and who has not been called upon, may leave contributions at the Bank of Nova Scotia, with Mr. Lynus Neville.

Weir

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Booth, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Booth, were here from Montreal to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kerr.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Colquhoun and son, Alden, of Sturgeon Falls, Ont., also Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Bates and son, of Englehart, Ont., renewed acquaintances here last week.

Mrs. Roy Williams and daughter, Linda, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Craig and son, John, of Montreal, spent the holidays at their cottage here, and had as their guest Mrs. Geo. Clifton, of Longueuil.

Mr. Phil Williams spent a few days in Montreal last week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Philips.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beaven and sons, Ralph and Clifford, of Montreal, spent the holidays at their cottage, having as their guest Miss Heather Bates.

We regret to report that Mr. Arthur Beaven had to be rushed to hospital on Sunday. Friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Mr. Val Morrison was home from Seven Islands to spend the week-end with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Williams, of Verdun, spent the holidays with Royce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Wenville MacMillan, of Verdun, and Cadet Ronald Williams, of the Royal Military College, St. Johns, were here to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Williams.

Turkey Supper

The annual turkey supper held at Round Lake Inn on Saturday evening was once more very successful, and the ladies of the W.A. thank all those who in any way helped to make it so. Special thanks to Mr. E. M. Schippel, who so kindly gave the use of his hostelry.

Among guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Owen for the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Owen and family, of Lachine, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Owen and family, of Beaurepaire, also Mr. and Mrs. B. Thompson, of Montreal.

Watchman Want Ads bring results.

Arundel

Dr. and Mrs. C. Flanagan and a number of guests occupied their cottage over the holiday.

Mrs. Alvin Graham had as her holiday guests the Misses Beverley and Margaret Graham, and Mr. R. Toeppner.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Barrie and daughter, Pamela, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Graham over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Dixon, of Dalesville, visited Mrs. Wm. Swail over the week-end.

Christening

At the Sunday morning service at Grace Anglican Church, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flanagan was christened, receiving the names Peter Neil. The godmother was Miss Diane Orr and the godfathers Mr. Arthur Abbey and Mr. Neil Hanna. The Rev. Mr. Bussell performed the ceremony.

CNIB Appeal

Arundel branch of the Women's Institute are taking charge of collecting for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The campaign is now in force, and it is hoped for a liberal response when residents are contacted by the canvassers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe and Mr. J. Champagne spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Champagne.

Automobile Mishap

What might have proved a fatal accident occurred Sunday night when two strangers travelling from Huberdeau crashed into a transformer pole in front of P. Flanagan's residence, on the way towards Arundel. Although the car turned over, the occupants received only a bad shaking up, with bruises and contusions. Cause of the accident was not ascertained by this correspondent.

Church Supper

Over 200 persons enjoyed a turkey supper in the school auditorium Saturday evening, and did full justice to the home-cooked meal. The supper was held under the Arundel Church Guild and the Ladies' Union — who take this opportunity to thank the friends who attended this function, making it a success both socially and financially. The results certainly repay the great preparation and work put into these functions, and congratulations are extended to the organizers and helpers. Proceeds will be used to improve the chancel of the church.

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Moore over the holidays were — Mr. and Mrs. J. Colquhoun, their son and grandson, Aldie and Richards, of Sturgeon Falls, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Moore, Messrs. E. and R. Burns, Mrs. Gordon Stone, Miss Evelyn Kelly, Mr. J. Alexander, Mr. D. Cairns, Mr. and Mrs. G. Moore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Moore and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kulagowski.

St. Andrews drive for CNIB will commence Oct. 20

At a meeting of workers called October 7 at the St. Andrews Golf Club by the financial chairman, Mr. Tony Paré, Mr. L. A. McClintock, supervisor of field services, gave an account of the work being done by the CNIB in the Province of Quebec.

The Institute is giving services to five blind people in the St. Andrews - Carillon district.

During the campaign Mr. Paré will be assisted by Mrs. Paré. Already the latter has been interesting many people to assist with the campaign, which is to commence on October 20. Mr. Paré has set the objective at $500.

It is confidently felt that the people of St. Andrews East and Carillon will do everything in their power to assist the Institute. ... Your dollar may be the means of saving someone's sight, or the regaining of sight by a blind person through a corneal graft, which has been made available by the Institute when they established the eye bank.

Workers for the district are — chairman, Mr. Antoine Paré; assistant team captain, Miss Phillis McLeod; Mrs. J. P. G. Mellers, Mrs. Audrey Bradley, Messrs. Stanley Rodger, Ernest Rodger and Marcel Decary.

Cardinals will elect successor to Pope Pius XII

By Pat Usher,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

While Roman Catholics throughout the world mourn the death of their spiritual leader, cardinals of the church are preparing for the task of electing a successor to Pope Pius XII.

The College of Cardinals in Vatican City has called a conclave to begin October 25 to choose a new pontiff.

Funeral services were held Monday in St. Peter's basilica for Eugenio Pacelli, who died at Castel Gandolfo, his summer palace near Rome, after reigning as supreme pontiff of the church for 19 years.

Most of the church's 55 cardinals are expected to attend the secret conclave of the College of Cardinals to elect a new Pope. The election will be held in the Vatican's Sistine chapel. The cardinals may choose the new pontiff from among their own number, or perhaps select a prelate who is not a prince of the church. The balloting will go on until the choice is made by at least two-thirds plus one of the cardinals present.

Pope Pius XII, who became known as the "Pope of peace" in an era of wars and troubles, suffered a cerebral stroke on October 6, a second stroke two days later and died early on October 9.

The death plunged his church — with 500,000,000 adherents around the world — into sorrow and brought tributes from leaders in every walk of life and of many faiths.

Thanksgiving theme fittingly observed at Lachute United

A large congregation, including many visitors, gathered in Lachute United Church on Thanksgiving Sunday, when with appropriate hymns and music, the choir and congregation gave thanks to God for the material and spiritual blessings of another year.

The choir, under the leadership of Mr. L. B. Hopkins, organist and choir director, gave a very fitting rendering of "O taste and see how gracious the Lord is!" The Rev. Wilson Bridge, minister of the church, spoke on "The Thankful Heart."

A service of Thanksgiving was also held at East Settlement during the afternoon, with Mrs. Edward Armstrong at the organ, and the Rev. Wilson Bridge as the speaker.

A word of thanks is due to the people of both congregations for their gifts of harvest produce and canned goods, which were afterwards delivered to the Protestant Children's Home at Rosemere, the transportation being provided by the minister and Mr. Leslie Kerr, of Lachute.

Old and new friends will be interested to know that at the morning service at Lachute on Sunday, October 19, there will be an opportunity to see the new choir gowns, which will be dedicated during the service.

Announcement on UNICEF Day and Hallowe'en effort

(TO THE EDITOR)

Lachute, Oct. 14, 1958

Editor, The Lachute Watchman
Dear Sir:

On October 1 the Lachute Town Council consented to proclaim Friday, October 31, "UNICEF Day" in Lachute.

The Lachute Branch of the Women's Institute are organizing an appeal on behalf of The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. Money collected is used to provide medical and physical relief to children throughout the world.

It is the intention that on Friday, October 31 (which is of course Hallowe'en Night), children of Lachute will be calling on householders, who are asked to donate dimes, nickels and pennies, and place them in the containers which will be carried by children wearing the official collectors' badge.

Any children who have not been contacted through the youth organizations of the town, and who wish to take part in this project, are asked to obtain badges and collecting boxes from the United Church basement on Friday afternoon, October 31.

Further information, if desired, can be obtained by telephoning LO 2-5677.

Sincerely yours,
— Geraldine Butterfield

Jehovah's Witnesses held circuit convention in Park Extension

"The Canadian Slovak Hall, Park Extension, became a beehive of activity as our circuit convention drew to a close last Sunday," reports Mr. Peter Rae, presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. "The auditorium was packed out on Sunday afternoon, when Mr. Saumur, district supervisor, spoke on the subject, 'The Watch Tower Society in God's Purpose'."

Mr. Saumur told how the organization of Jehovah's Witnesses began as a mere handful in Pittsburgh, Penn., in 1872. It grew rapidly and was then incorporated in 1884 as the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, and moved to Brookyn, N.Y. The name was taken from the Scripture, "Upon the Watchtower, Oh Jehovah, I am standing constantly. . . ." (Isaiah 21:8 ASV). From this headquarters, instructions are sent out to 84 branches that supervise more than 16,000 congregations in 170 lands. In Canada the branch is located in Toronto, which also has its own printing plant.

"It was pointed out to us," says Mr. Rae, that there is a tremendous demand for Bible literature, and in order to meet this need the Society has built factories all over the world. Last year, the factory in Brooklyn alone produced over 121 million pieces of Bible literature.

"Mr. Saumur answered a question we are often asked, 'How do Jehovah's Witnesses finance all their work?' . . . He pointed out that Jesus never found it necessary to solicit funds for his ministry, that for the same reason we have never passed the collection plate or charged dues. All activity is supported by voluntary contributions.

"In conclusion Mr. Saumur stated that the Watch Tower Society is being used for God's purpose. We had 716,901 ministers in the field last year and these devoted more than 100 million hours to preaching the Gospel."

It was reported that the local congregation reached a 10% increase in the number of active "ministers" during the past six months.

School of Ballet now in operation

The second year of the Lachute School of Ballet has commenced — following a very successful season last year. The Elizabeth Leese Ballet School of Westmount is again the parent organization, and Miss Joan Bouchard the ballet teacher. This year, the pianist is Mrs. Pringle, a post-graduate of Manchester College of Music, England.

Many readers will recall the interesting and successful program presented last year by the Lachute School of Ballet, and at the moment there is room for about six additional pupils who might care to enroll, perferably in age groups up to seven years, and over ten.

This ballet organization is endeavoring to give the best instruction possible at the most reasonable cost, and if there are any parents interested, they are advised to contact Mrs. E. Gow, 739 Main Street, or telephone LO 2-6102.

Guest speaker welcomed and officers elected by Ministerial Association

The Argenteuil Protestant Ministerial Association assembled in the United Church, Lachute, last week with the Rev. W. Bridge, president, in the chair.

After the usual devotional service, the president introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. A. V. Ottiwell, of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal.

The visitor spoke briefly concerning the "Literature Table" in the Cathedral, mentioning that leaflets dealing with Sin and Forgiveness were most in demand by the general public. It would appear that people are much concerned about this subject, and this might be expected, since Sin is basic in human nature. Sin is "missing the mark". Forgiveness is assured when we are really penitent and desire to be forgiven by God and our fellow man.

Thanks were expressed to the speaker by the Rev. Mr. Bridge. The result of the annual election of officers was as follows:

President, the Rev. G. W. Bruce, of United Church, Brownsburg; secretary-treasurer, the Rev. G. T. Spriggs, re-elected for the 10th consecutive year. The latter was also reappointed to represent Argenteuil County on the Quebec Temperance League.

Closing event, presentation of prizes to lady golfers

A record of more than 100 lady members of Lachute Golf and Country Club attended the closing dinner and prize presentation last Wednesday evening. Prior to the Club event, Montreal and Lachute members were entertained at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Ayers.

Bronze chrysanthemums decorated the tables in the colorful club dining room, and the silver trophies and prizes were attractively displayed on the prize table.

Mrs. R. Gravel, president, thanked all committees for their splendid support during the season, and complimented the Entertainment Committee (Mrs. L. Bedard, Mrs. L. deBryne, Mrs. M. Carrière and Mrs. D. Heggie) on all the arrangements for the closing dinner, which made it such a pleasant event.

Mrs. Léopold Carrière presented Mrs. Gravel with a special gift, on behalf of the club members, in recognition of her two years' active service as president.

Mrs. Howard Watson, Ladies' Match Captain, read the prize list and moved a vote of thanks to the members of the Prize Committee (convened by Mrs. R. Carrière and comprising Mrs. G. Tattersfield, Mrs. Sam Milnes) for the tasteful selection of prizes — also to Mrs. E. Leonard and Mrs. P. Tremblay for wrapping them so beautifully.

Cancer topic at Lachute W. Inst.

The monthly meeting of the Lachute Women's Institute was held in the Legion Hall, with Mrs. J. A. Gordon in the chair.

The roll-call was answered by members giving their ideas on how to avoid accidents in the home.

Mrs. W. E. Butterfield gave a report on what had been accomplished towards organizing the UNICEF Hallowe'en program. Arrangements are being made to show the Danny Kaye film at the High School, October 22, Girl Guides and Boy Scouts helping to distribute tickets. In this connection Friday, October 31, is being declared UNICEF Day in Lachute, and citizens are requested to give generously when the collectors call. The Dairy Queen has kindly offered to donate boxes to be used for the collection — the committee receiving office to be the United Church hall.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Butterfield for her efforts towards this worthy cause.

Suggestions for raising money in aid of the Home for the Aged, and the awarding of school prizes, were left in the hands of the Finance Committee.

Mrs. E. Rogers, convener of Welfare and Health, addressed the meeting, her topic being Cancer. She dealt with the different aspects of this disease and danger signals, stressing the importance of periodical checkups. With early diagnosis, in many cases Cancer can be cured, she said, and it is up to every individual to do their part to help stamp out this dreaded disease.

Mrs. Walker Scott expressed thanks to Mrs. Rogers for her helpful and informative talk.

SPEEDING

Just as a speeding motorist misses the beauties of the landscape, so an individual speeding through life with no time for the church, misses the rich experience that comes through worship and fellowship. Christianity is something beautiful and satisfying, capable of transforming a weary life into fruitful living and of giving confident hope for eternity; but to enjoy it we must take time to be holy.

Solicit support for Children's Home 'Pound Day'

Once again harvest time is here, and what better way is there to take part in the real spirit of the season than to share some of our harvest bounty with those less fortunate than we!

Can the 19 little children at the Orange and Protestant Children's Home in Rosemere count on you to support their annual "Pound Day" to be held on October 25?

Any contribution such as vegetables, potatoes, canned goods and dry staples, to help fill their depleted pantry shelves, would be most appreciated. They may be sent direct to this most deserving home, at 56 Philip Street, in Rosemere, Que., or phone Mrs. S. Holt (LO 2-5696), who will arrange for donations to be picked up.

INTRODUCING THE NEW 1959 HILLMAN

everything you want in an imported car—plus Hillmanship

ECONOMY—35 miles to the gallon! That's the favorite economy feature of the Hillman. And there's another — the low initial cost. That's why, for the money, Hillman is "best buy" among imported cars selling for under $2000.

PERFORMANCE—larger engine, larger battery, increased acceleration for better performance at today's highway speeds.

COMFORT—deeper, foam rubber seating. Ride relaxed even on those long trips.

STYLING—Brilliant new curved grille. Beautiful new colors—vivid 2-tones, distinctive single colors.

SAFETY—Single-welded unit construction of heavy gauge steel for greater strength and safety . . . freedom from rattles.

HILLMANSHIP—to drive the 1959 Hillman is to discover it. It's the result of brilliant British craftsmanship, a precision-built engine, distinctive styling and solid construction. Discover Hillmanship today.

For Parents Only...

A Weekly Feature of Helpful Hints on Child Training

Punctual and Tidy!

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

Do you think that boys are more aware of time than girls, while girls are naturally tidier than their brothers? Some parents have arrived at this conclusion, but perhaps it is a matter of temperament. But certainly neat and orderly habits are an asset to a young person starting out on his own!

Learning to tell the time on a clock is useful to a child in training him in punctuality. Tiny tots have little sense of time. They live in the present. They are aware only of what one writer has called, "the lovely now."

Dawdling often annoys a mother, but it is usually a passing phase. A gentle warning that play is going to be interrupted soon: "Dinner is nearly ready; I'll be calling you in before long," helps to prepare a child to leave his play and come in to his meals on time. "Hurry" is a word which is frequently heard in many households. But if used too often it loses its effectiveness.

The school age child who daydreams and just won't take his responsibility of getting himself off to school in good time, may have to learn the hard way. One or two unpleasant experiences in being late will teach him to be punctual much faster than mother's nagging.

Small boys may seem to be indifferent to standards of clothing or cleanliness; but even they don't want to be different from the rest of "the gang." Most children hate to be conspicuous. They don't wish to attract adverse criticism from an adult in authority by being tardy or untidy.

A woman who has not struggled with bringing up a little child, particularly a small boy, may have little conception of how hard it is to install these so-called "minor" virtues. It is true that there are exceptions. There are occasional youngsters who seem to be naturally neat and punctual by the time they have reached school age. But children are not born with good habits; they must be acquired. The process is often a slow one, demanding a lot of patience.

A little child needs both help and encouragement in learning to be tidy. "You pick up your blocks and I'll help you," or "While you put your shoes in their place I'll hang up your dress."

Praise is a great help. Mothers scarcely pass a day when they must remind a son or daughter of a "neat job". At the same time an adolescent should be taking increasing responsibility for his personal appearance, his own room and being on time for his appointments.

There are some people who have made a fine contribution to the world who have been neither neat nor punctual. There are some houses which are kept so extremely tidy by a diligent wife and mother that neither husband nor children find it very much fun to be at home. There have been charming men and women who seem to have been born with no "time sense."

Parents do know that this is all true. Yet by example and training, for the sake of the child's efficiency and happiness in the adult world, they do want him to achieve as great a degree of neatness and punctuality as it is possible. There are two assets in orderly living. They are also necessities for young people who want to make a good impression on possible employers!

Savory salmon with biscuit rings

A deft touch with seasonings, a deviation from the usual in the shape of things — these are what turn staple items from the pantry shelf into memorable meals. The Fisheries Council of Canada has provided a tested recipe which does just that. Popular and ever-reliable canned salmon is baked in a zesty sauce with a biscuit topping that hints appealingly of delicate herbs and looks extra special due to the round shape which doughnut cutters achieve. The appetite and eye appeal of Savory Salmon with Herbed Biscuit Rings belie the simplicity and economy with which it can be prepared.

Savory Salmon with Herbed Biscuit Rings

2 Cups flaked canned salmon, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1¼ cups milk, salt and pepper to taste, 2 tablespoons finely minced parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.

Flake and drain salmon, reserving liquid. Melt butter, blend in flour, then blend in milk and reserved salmon liquid. Cook, stirring, until smooth and thickened. Season lightly with salt and a little pepper. Blend in salmon and remaining ingredients. Pour into a greased 6 or 8-cup baking dish. Top with Herbed Biscuit Rings. Bake uncovered in hot oven preheated to 425 degrees F. until biscuits are done, 12 to 14 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Herbed Biscuit Rings

Prepare baking powder dough, by adding about one-third of a teaspoon of herbs (sage, thyme and savory combined) to the dry ingredients for your favorite recipe calling for two cups of flour, or use two cups of prepared biscuit mix. Cut prepared dough into rings with doughnut cutter.

WOMAN IS LEADER IN CIVIL DEFENCE

Sudbury, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Velma Donegan of Sudbury is believed the only woman co-ordinator of Civil Defence in North America.

She joined this city's CD organization in 1950 as secretary, and two years ago became head of the 2,000-member group.

She has taken the courses at the Civil Defence College at Arnprior, Ont., has assisted in planning national CD exercises and took part in the sixth annual conference of the U.S. Civil Defence Council.

Homemaker Clubs on Indian reserves

How can the Quebec Women's Institutes work more closely with the Indian Homemakers' Clubs? This was one of the questions discussed when the Clubs held their provincial convention at Notre Dame du Nord, in the Temiskaming Reserve. A representative from the QWI attended and possibilities were explored, which it is hoped will lead to constructive action along this line.

Exchanges will have to be confined to the English-speaking Clubs, which form about half the membership, as W.I. material is all in that language. These groups will be put on the mailing list for program helps, pamphlets, and other pertinent information that is found useful by Institute members. Courses by the Q.W.I. technicians are also offered, on the same basis as to W.I. branches. One has already been held at this place, on "Nutrition". This was well attended, and the Indian women keenly interested and most appreciative of this service.

The Homemakers' Clubs, patterned along the lines of the Women's Institute, with the same motto, "For Home and Country", are doing excellent work in coping with problems on the reserve. The Federated Women's Institutes of Canada are asking all provincial units to make all possible contact with the Clubs, in the hope of eventual affiliation and integration.

Teatime Topics

By Edna Usher

Canadian Press Staff Writer

The case of the cracker package has been cracked by the Canadian Association of Consumers.

Some CAC members had complained about deterioration in the quality of wax paper used in packaging cereals and crackers.

A biscuit firm explained: "Crackers are baked to a point where they have a minimum moisture content. Low moisture helps to retain the fresh, crisp qualities so necessary to a good cracker.

"In protecting the cracker, the paper we use, which is waxed, must have a very low moisture content also. (If the paper has a higher moisture content than the cracker, it evens itself by permitting the cracker to absorb excess moisture thus creating a condition in the cracker that is undesirable.)

"It is preferable to have the paper dry and brittle than have the cracker gather moisture from the paper and thereby lose its distinctive crispness."

Bathing Suits

The Canadian Association of Consumers has also turned its eyes in another direction — women's bathing suits.

The Association wants a greater selection of garments in larger sizes.

But a manufacturer tells them:

"For many years we have manufactured bathing suits styled and designed specially for women in sizes 44 to 52, but response from the trade dwindled and we have dropped these styles now. We know consumer interest exists — it is lack of interest on the part of the stores."

The fight has now spread from the beaches to the factory field, to the shops.

Tomato Specials

Tomatoes are cheap and plentiful just now. Here are some ways to use them.

Have you tried green tomatoes baked or fried?

If you want to fry them, cut the washed tomatoes in half-inch slices, sprinkle with salt and pepper, then either fry them in hot bacon fat or butter for 10 to 15 minutes, or dredge them with seasoned flour before frying, or dip the slices in beaten egg and bread crumbs before frying.

For baking, green tomatoes should be washed and halved, then placed cut side up in a baking pan.

Top with one of the following: salt, pepper and melted bacon fat or butter; bread crumbs mixed with chopped onion, marjoram, salt and pepper and a little melted butter; chopped onion with melted butter, curry powder, salt and pepper added; bread crumbs, grated cheese, melted butter, salt and pepper.

Bake in moderately hot oven until tender — 40 to 50 minutes.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Fire. It's rarely a problem for motorists. But if a little flame does break out, it's good to be ready to handle it. Here's how:

Turn off the ignition. Get everyone out of the car and off to a safe distance.

Stand with your back to the wind so flames blow away from you.

If the fire is up front, use gloves or a cloth to lift your hood. Douse the flames at their source with a fire extinguisher, dirt or sand. Don't use water. It might spread the fire. If the trouble started in the electrical system, detach the large battery cable so fire does not break out again.

Fires near the fuel tank can be put out in the same manner, but stand back, work fast and get away quickly since an explosion may occur.

If upholstery is on fire, use either your fire extinguisher or water. Pour it on slowly so it sinks into the fabric.

If the fire is bad enough, and you're near a phone, call the firemen.

It's a good idea to carry a fire extinguisher in your car. Small ones which fit into the glove compartment or onto the steering shaft are available.

Editor's Note:

Evidence of the soundness of the above information and advice was brought home to us last Saturday as we sat in our own car a little distance away from one of our local garages. As the mechanic started up the engine we saw a flash of fire, and in a matter of seconds smoke and flame were pouring from the hood. Had it not been that a fire extinguisher was close at hand, the whole car would no doubt have been demolished, with probably serious burns to the service man.

It costs little for a fire extinguisher, but it can save you much and is a splendid investment.

NEW BRUNSWICK BUILDS A TOLL-BRIDGE

New Brunswick has re-entered the toll-bridge field and, after the lapse of a half-century, the province's first toll-bridge begins to take shape. Here, a construction crew is shown placing the first beam of No. 1 pier of the concrete-steel span of the $4,000,000 causeway-bridge connecting the N.B. mainland at Shippegan, Gloucester county, with Shippegan Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Have You A Question on UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any point do not hesitate to send us your question. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Following are some questions with answers which may be of interest to you:

Q. I am a student. I worked for 55 days last year and 40 days this year. Am I entitled to benefit?

A. No. To qualify for benefit a person must have 30 contribution weeks in the two years immediately prior to claim and eight of these weeks must be in the year immediately prior.

Q. I worked five years for the Federal Government in the Ordinance Bureau at Montreal. In September, I was transferred to another office in the Department of Agriculture and ceased to pay unemployment insurance contributions. I am getting married and I am free to leave my position or keep it. If I resign voluntarily, can I draw my benefits or do I have to work a certain number of days to draw them?

A. It appears that your present employer, the Department of Agriculture, considers that you are in a position in which you can be expected to continue permanently and, therefore, under the regulations, the Department is not required to make any further unemployment insurance contributions on your behalf. Protection given by your previous contributions will continue for a limited period. Should you become involuntarily unemployed and be unable to obtain other employment, and make a claim for benefit within that period, those contributions would enable you to qualify. If you leave your employment voluntarily, without good cause, you are liable to be disqualified up to a maximum of six weeks.

Quick turn-about

Montreal — Within 16 hours of her arrival here October 2, from Liverpool with 900 passengers, the 22,000-ton Cunard liner Sylvania turned about the following morning for the eastbound crossing with 600 passengers and a full complement of cargo and mails.

Harbor officials say the Sylvania's speedy turn-around may establish a record for large passenger liners in the Port of Montreal.

With a scant 16 hours in which to land and embark 1,500 passengers, 5,000 pieces of baggage, 1,260 tons of cargo, 5,743 bags of mail and more than 50 tons of stores, the Sylvania's entire ship's company remained on sea watches to tackle the problem.

On the pier alongside, customs officers, 10 gangs of longshoremen and the Cunard shore staff worked throughout the night so that the Sylvania might sail on time. While inbound cargo and mails were being unloaded, stores for the eastbound crossing were taken aboard.

In the Days of the Bomb!

— By Lewis Milligan —

"Isn't the world in an awful mess!" exclaimed my landlady as she brought me my morning paper. "I was just glancing over the front page headlines," she said, "and there's nothing but war, war everywhere. Even here at home there's no peace, what with all these strikes. As if there weren't enough men out of work already — I can't understand it!"

Neither could I, and I shrugged off the problem.

Thinking it over, my mind ran back to the days when the world was in a similar mess before and during the First World War, and I recalled H. G. Wells' story, "In The Days Of The Comet." The gist of that story is that while the nations were at war there appeared a large comet which was approaching nearer and nearer to the earth. It finally struck the atmosphere and impregnated it with a new kind of gas that changed the belligerents and all mankind into agreeable and co-operative socialists. Wells didn't call them socialists, but as he himself was a belligerent socialist and probably realized that he was partly responsible for the mess the world was in, he introduced the comet as a quick tranquillizer of all parties.

The story is told by a man who was a socialist before the great change occurred. He is discussing the world situation with a scientist friend:

"I wish at times," said I, with a gesture at the heavens, "that comet of yours would indeed strike this world — and wipe us all away, strikes, wars, tumults, loves, jealousies, and all the wretchedness of life!"

"Ah!" said Parload, "it could only add to the miseries of life."

"What would?"

"Collision with a comet. It would only throw things back. It would only make what was left of life more savage than at present."

"But why should anything be left of life?" said I . . .

That might have been written about the threat of the Atomic Bomb today, and with more certainty that there would be nothing left. And yet we are piling up lethal missiles and testing their power of mass annihilation as though we intended to blow up the earth if the United Nations finally failed to find a peaceful solution to our international problems.

Wells' idea of the Comet, like that of "The Time Machine" and his other pieces of scientific fiction, was highly imaginative; but some of his forecasts have been realized in our own time. And while we can hardly expect a comet to come to our aid in resolving the mess the world is in today, the idea has great scientific possibilities. Scientists may never be able to devise a mechanical comet, but they have already launched sputniks, which have encircled the earth and broadcast valuable information about conditions in outer space.

How about a sputnik that would broadcast a tranquillizing gas into our atmosphere and change, at least, our war-minded international politicians and strike-minded labor leaders into sane and peaceful moderators? The same effect might be accomplished if our scientists could invent a bomb that, instead of deadly nuclear fall-out, would impregnate the atmosphere with laughing-gas. Just imagine the effect that would have upon the tragically-serious proceedings of the United Nations! The delegates would die laughing at each other — and at themselves individually. Bring on the Laughing Bomb!

Certificates given at Morin Heights school graduation

Morin Heights — On Friday evening, October 3, at the Morin Heights Intermediate School, graduation exercises were held for 22 pupils leaving Elementary School and entering High School. The event started with a delicious buffet dinner in the school cafeteria for the graduates, their parents and honored guests. This was followed by the graduating exercises, held in the school auditorium.

The program opened with the singing of "O Canada". The Rev. H. G. Baugh and the Rev. C. G. Westhaver then led the gathering in prayer, and the hymn, "Lead Us Heavenly Father", was sung.

The principal, Mr. Roy Williams, in a few well-chosen words addressed the graduates and welcomed the large gathering of parents and friends.

The presentation of certificates then followed. Mr. Paul Baumel, chairman of the School Board, presented the following with their certificates — Grace Baldwin, David Barker, Joanne de Bassecourt, Arthur Elliott, Elizabeth Gillingham, and Evelyn Goodfellow. Mr. L. N. Buzzell, chairman of the Protestant Board of Education, presented certificates to — Howard Hannah, George Hartmann, James Ireland, Carol Jamieson, Helle Juul and Sherril Kirkpatrick. S/Ldr. E. Lee, associate member of the Board, presented certificates to — Judy Kirkpatrick, André Leclair, Jacques Leclair, Claudette Lesieur, Gary Rutley and Joseph Seale. The principal presented the final four certificates to — Jane Stanley, Eileen Watchorn, John Watchorn and Donald Weir.

Miss Eileen Watchorn then said a few words on behalf of the girls of the graduating class. Master Howard Hannah spoke on behalf of the boys of the graduating class.

The guest speaker, Mr. L. N. Buzzell, was introduced by the chairman of the School Board, Mr. Paul Baumel. Mr. Buzzell's remarks were mainly directed to the graduates; he encouraged them to apply themselves and endeavor to acquire as much education as possible.

Dancing was then enjoyed to the music of the Les Tisshaw Trio.

Salt Prevents Abortions Caused by Weeds

It has been found that cattle that are starved for salt frequently resort to eating weeds to satisfy their strong craving for salt or anything that approximates the taste of salt. Quite a number of weeds contain large amounts of nitrates and are known to cause abortion in cows.

To avoid abortions and other forms of weed poisoning losses, it is essential that your cattle and other livestock on pasture have free access to all the salt they may want. This holds true regardless of the kind of pasture and in all periods of the growing season.

Dr. Bohstedt

The Wisconsin Experiment Station last year reported that many mysterious abortions occured in otherwise healthy cows that were grazing on unimproved marshland pastures. The station workers traced the abortions to weeds.

The weeds most often found responsible for abortions were red-berried elder, certain species of goldenrod, stinging nettle, and white and purple boneset. Other weeds found high in nitrates and potential causes of abortion are: Bull thistle, Canada thistle, burdock, lambs quarters, pigweed and young plants of cinquefoil.

To confirm the cause of the abortions the Wisconsin workers used 2,4-D on a part of a pasture and left a similar part of the pasture as a control. Only one out of eight heifers on the treated area aborted, the rest having healthy calves. However, seven out of eight heifers on the untreated pasture aborted.

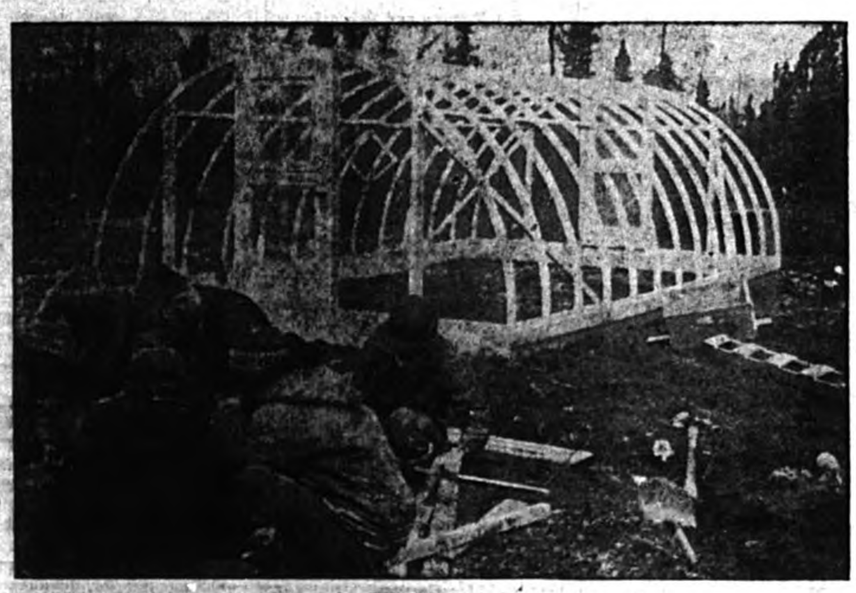

In continued tests 10 out of 12 heifers aborted on wild, weedy marshland pastures while only one aborted on pasture without weeds. Proper fertilization as well as spraying for weeds is recommended.

There are many areas throughout the country where the pasture conditions are similar to the test areas in Wisconsin and good farmers will prevent abortions in their stock by taking care in fertilizing and by spraying for weed control. Even in the range country where weed killers and proper fertilization may be out of the question, ample and convenient salt supplies will reduce the danger of abortion caused by these troublesome weeds.

Question: We have been using a direct-cut forage harvester for making grass silage and we have a problem in portioning a given amount of preservative for each ton of forage. We have no means of weighing the forage. Can you suggest a way of closely estimating the weight of a wagon load of chopped green hay?

Answer: Loose chopped green forage as it is hauled in from the field will weigh about 15 pounds per cubic foot. With this weight estimate it should not be difficult to determine the cubic content and the approximate weight of your truck or wagon load of chopped forage.

Questions from readers will be answered in the column or by direct reply. Please send your questions to Dr. Bohstedt c/o Salt Institute, 33 North La Salle St., Chicago 2, Ill.

Agriculture in the Arctic

What at first sight appears to be a dice game in a rural setting is actually a working party of Eskimos headed by R. I. Hamilton of the Canada Department of Agriculture. The scene is False River, Fort Chimo, Quebec Province, 850 miles north of Montreal, where attempts are being made to grow a few crops in the short summer season which this cold area enjoys. Some potatoes, cabbages and barley have been produced and it is hoped to add more fresh vegetables with the aid of greenhouses in which polythylene and substitutes replace the conventional glass. Tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers, beans and corn will be raised in structures like the one under construction above. A few inches below the surface at Fort Chimo the ground is permanently frozen, making outdoor cultivation of most crops very difficult, if not impossible.
(Department of Agriculture, Ottawa)

Versatile soybean popular in Canada

A plant with an Oriental background and a seemingly unlimited Western future is the soybean.

Its popularity skyrocketed as new commercial uses opened up. Canada last year produced 6,000,000 bushels of soybeans and imported another 8,500,000 bushels, according to Economics Division, Canada Department of Agriculture.

Yet Canada's production is dwarfed alongside that of the United States and China. Between them, they supply 90 percent of the world demands. The U.S. alone grew 470,000 bushels in 1947.

Various Uses

The versatile soybean is now being used in margarine, shortening, salad and cooking oils, biscuits and other bakery products, fish and meat packing industries, soaps and cleaning preparations, paints, plastics and linoleum.

It is even being used in some countries to make concentrated milk for children.

The soybean was introduced to North America for growth in the 1930's, but it was slow catching on. In those early years, Canada was producing under 200,000 bushels.

During the post-war years, though, it has found its place in the Western economy.

Used in Paint

Canada consumption last year amounted to 140,000,000 pounds of soybean oil.

The paint industry increased its use 300 percent during a seven-year period ending 1956 — thanks to an extensive research program. It used 6,850,000 pounds of oil two years ago.

Soybean consumption in the plastic industry is ten times higher than it was in 1950. In miscellaneous foods and in the meat and fish packing industry, the use of soybean oil has shot ahead.

Soybeans are grown in Southwestern Ontario — Canada's corn belt.

Other Oils

Consumption of linseed oil, made from flax, remained static between 1949 and 1956, with a slight downward tendency noted in the last year.

Rapeseed, on the other hand, is becoming an increasingly important product and in Canada last year, 640,000 acres were planted — yielding 6,500,000 bushels.

Rapeseed was grown and used extensively in Europe in the 19th century as a marine engine lubricant. It was introduced to this side of the Atlantic during the last war.

In Europe rapeseed oil is used extensively in food but in Canada it is used in food only in small quantities.

Major changes in Canada Dept. of Agriculture

Ottawa — A general reorganization of the Canada Department of Agriculture is being undertaken and should be fully in effect by April 1, 1959, the beginning of the fiscal year — the Honorable Douglas S. Harkness, Minister of Agriculture, announced recently. The plan envisages:

1. A Research Branch, to incorporate all units of the present Experimental Farms and Science Services into one efficient research organization.

This will bring the "team" approach to the solution of a given problem—something toward which departmental scientists have been trending more and more in recent years but which unified administration and programming will make easier.

2. A Production and Marketing Branch to bring similarly under one head the regulatory work of grading and inspection heretofore performed by the Production and Marketing Services. This branch will also include Price Stabilization and such other activities as may be undertaken by the Department to help solve problems arising in this general economic field.

3. An Administration Branch to embrace Organization and Personnel, Property and Finance and the present Information Service and Economics Division. These units serve all branches of the Department.

A fourth branch may be formed to include Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration, Prairie Farm Assistance Administration, Maritime Marshland Rehabilitation Administration, and any future activities in the conservation field.

Many details remain to be worked out with respect to exact lines of authority, said Mr. Harkness, but such matters are at present under study by the Department, and decisions concerning them will be announced in due course.

With the rapid advances that have characterized agriculture during recent years, he pointed out, changes in departmental organization have become necessary if the Department is to discharge effectively its responsibility to the farming public.

Last major change in the set-up of the Department came in 1937.

Govt. farm loans hit high record

Ottawa — Canadian farmers last year borrowed a record $21,278,450 from the Canadian Farm Loan Board — a 52 percent increase over the previous year — it was announced by the Board.

A further increase to $30,000,000 is predicted for the current year.

Report for the year ending March 31 showed 3,702 loans approved, compared with 2,921 loans for $13,978,700 in the preceding year.

The Board was established as a Government agency in 1929 to make long-term mortgage loans for general farm purposes.

Funds are obtained from the Government at current interest rates and lent to farmers for periods up to 30 years at a rate sufficient to provide for administration costs and the cost of funds. Present interest rate is five percent.

Average loan last year was $5,748, compared with $4,785 in the previous year. About 63.4 percent of the total was approved to buy land and pay land-secured debt, as against 58.5 percent the preceding year.

March Position

At March 31, there were outstanding 22,494 first mortgage and 1,364 second mortgage loans for a total of $68,490,523 — an increase of $14,742,159 over the previous year.

By the year's end, 92.1 percent of the total due for interest had been paid, compared with 90.5 percent in the preceding year. A total of $4,943,240 of principal was repaid. Further, 89.3 percent of all first mortgage accounts were in good standing.

PIG PROFITS

There are many factors in feeding pigs that can mean profit or loss.

First and probably the most important is the size of the litter. You will feed a sow from breeding to farrowing about 500 lbs. feed and from farrowing to weaning about another 500 lbs. feed.

If you feed that "dear feed", Purina, it will cost you around $45.00. Now if you get a 10 pig litter your pigs will have cost you $4.50 each. Of course you could use a cheap feed that would cost you around $3.00 a cwt., that would mean $30.00 to feed the sow and if you got a 5 pig litter then each pig would cost you $6.00 each. CHEAP EH?

Again the size of the pig when farrowed has a big influence on how soon he goes to market. A 1½ lb. pig will take much longer and more feed to get to market weight than a 2½ to 3½ lb. pig will. Purina will give you the heavier pigs the cheap feed will not. That is where that DEAR PURINA FEED shows its extra value.

Purina costs more per bag but Purina research and know-how has put into Purina Pig Ration the wherewithal to make you more money.

Won't you switch your pigs onto the Purina Plan today. We deliver.

Breaking ground for Lions Club rink

Work commenced last week on levelling and excavating for the artificial ice rink in East Ward, an immediate project by the Lions Club to provide a full winter's skating for young enthusiasts of Lachute. The plans envisage still further use of this site as a winter playground and recreation spot. . . The youngsters kibitzing on the scene (right) seem to ask the question, "When?". There is assurance the rink will be operating in good time for the skating season.

Young girl killed while leaving High School bus

A tragic mishap occurred Tuesday afternoon on Route 8 when eight-year-old Linda Chambers of St. Philippe district, disembarking from a school bus and crossing the highway, was struck and killed by an automobile.

The child was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Chambers. Driver of the car was Germain Lacoste, 50, Lachute business man.

William Wilson was driving the children home from Lachute High School on his regular route. The bus stopped three-quarters of a mile west of the village, at around 4 p.m. A sister of the victim, seven-year-old Barbara Chambers, crossed the street towards her home. Linda followed, passing in front of the stationary bus, and was hit by the car.

A physician, Dr. André Sauvé, was summoned immediately from Lachute. He pronounced the child dead, and the body was subsequently brought to the Menard funeral home in Lachute. Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur will hold an inquest at the civic hall Friday, October 24, at 8 p.m.

Investigating officer was Cst. Lawrence Cruise, assisted by Cst. Paul Perrier, both of the provincial traffic squad, Sgt.-Det. Ralph Allen assuming charge of the investigation.

Sympathy of the community is expressed to the bereaved parents and family.

Arrest follows hit-run mishap

Laurent Cadieu, of St. Philippe, was arrested in Lachute Sunday evening by Sgt. Roger Massie following a hit-and-run accident in Whisseltown.

The accident occurred at 8 p.m., when the accused allegedly sideswiped a car owned and driven by Eugene Gaudreau, of Ottawa, causing an estimated $550 damage. The incident was investigated by Traffic Officer Lawrence Cruise.

Transferred to Sherbrooke, Que.

Keith Hickson, Canadian Pacific Express agent at Lachute for the past five years, who has been transferred to Sherbrooke, effective next Tuesday. An active community worker, Mr. Hickson is a past-president of the local Rotary Club, president of the St. Patrick Society of Lachute, a director of the CNIB, and a member of Canadian Legion Branch No. 70.

No replacement has been named to the local office, Mr. Hickson leaving to take over a considerably larger office. His wife and three children will be leaving Lachute for their new home shortly.

Home and School outlines season's program schedule

Lachute Home and School Association held its first meeting of the season on Tuesday of last week, under chairmanship of the president, Mr. Ken Riley. The program committee announced the bill of fare for the year:

At the November meeting Mr. Fred Royal will speak on the School. During December there will be no meeting, but as a fund-raiser a Skate Sale will be held.

In January Mrs. Clarke, from the Discussion Group, Montreal, will present some points which will be open to discussion by members present.

February meeting will be devoted to Mrs. McKay, a former Supervisor of English for the Province of Quebec, when a Book Fair will be introduced.

The March meeting will take the form of a panel group along the lines of "Fighting Words" of TV fame.

April will follow the pattern of last year, with a "Careers Night", which proved so interesting last season.

Projects of the year were then outlined. Mr. Royal suggested that parents arrange to undertake the supervision of the younger children on the ice during the winter skating sessions. A "rota" will be worked on at the November meeting.

Assistance for needy families was also suggested as a worthwhile ideal. Mrs. M. Walker undertook the organization of a Welfare committee.

It was also proposed that a number of parents adopt the role of "Class Mothers" to assist the teachers in the junior grades. Mrs. G. Tabrett will endeavor to get this venture underway.

The business of the evening having been concluded, a film entitled "Family Circles" was shown. This proved interesting and provided food for thought. It pointed out many details that the average parent is apt to take for granted, particularly the delicate instrument of the child's mind. So important was this film that it was requested that it be shown again, to enable more parents to enjoy it.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, November 11, at 8 o'clock in the Music Room of Lachute High School. The speaker will be Mr. Fred Royal. All parents are welcome, with special reference to fathers, who will find something of interest too.

Poppy objectives climb with rising welfare costs

Lachute Legion's poppy committee is raising its sights this year considerably over last year's target.

According to Tom Smith, chairman of the poppy committee, the goods and services which poppy funds provide for needy veterans and their dependents are critically tied to the cost-of-living.

"Our aid deals with the necessities of life", Mr. Smith said. "We provide food, shelter, and clothing, the very things which have gone up in cost. The buying power of the welfare dollar has been constantly shrinking, and the only alternate is to seek more dollars to provide the same standard of service."

Contacts have now been made with outlying districts which come under the jurisdiction of the Lachute branch. In charge of these districts are the following:

St. Andrews East — Mrs. Lloyd Bradley and Mrs. R. Davidson.

Carillon — Mr. Jim Coney.

Cushing — Mr. H. V. Elliott and Mr. Jim Coney.

Grenville — Mrs. Tom Trainor and Miss D. Trineer.

Arundel — Women's Institute (Mrs. W. Graham, secretary).

(It is expected the districts of Kilmar, Lakefield and Mille Isles will be organized during the coming week.)

Natural death coroner's verdict

A verdict of natural death was given by District Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur, following the recent demise of Douglas Easterbrooke, a 16-year-old Montreal youth, who died while hunting with his father at Lac Coursel, near Rockway.

The youth, who was subject to epileptic fits, was found in the water at the edge of the lake. No inquest was held.

Townsman wins trip to Scotland

Ticket drawing held at Rotary Club meeting

Syd Drew, local photographer and active townsman, will be joining 20 Rotarian curlers on a three-week trip to Scotland — following a ticket drawing held at the regular meeting of the Brownsburg - Lachute Rotary Club on Thursday last. The winner was one of 50 persons who purchased tickets on the draw at a cost of $10 each, providing sufficient to cover the cost of the trip and incidental expenses.

Others from this area making the trip include — Linton Armstrong, Jack MacKimmie, George McGibbon, Gerald Boyd, of Morin Heights, and Clarke Houple, of Maxville.

Keith Hickson, chairman of the recently held bingo, reported net profit from this event was in the vicinity of $445, all bills not being in at that time.

Jim Campbell, director in charge of Community Service, introduced two fellow Rotarians, namely Georges Defosses, in charge of the Tree Farm project, and Jean Belanger, in charge of Vocational Service, both of whom outlined their plans for the coming year, in addition to past planning.

Speaks for physicians on Regional Hospital project

The local Hospital Medical Board, comprising practicing physicians in Lachute, Brownsburg, St. Andrews, St. Hermas and St. Benoit, devoted their recent meeting to a study of the proposed Regional Hospital — this being the first time the final plans have been considered collectively by the group.

Dr. Roger Lavigne, reporting for the Medical Board, states that in general they were very agreeably impressed with the simplicity of the building, which is designed to accommodate from 50 to 60 patients. The physicians agreed that, without extravagance the building committee had sought to embody in the plans every provision for the comfort and safety of the inmates, and for the application of up-to-date principles of science and artistic construction.

Among interesting details of these plans: No room will contain more than four beds, each room having its own separate bathroom.

An oxygen system is "tapped" to each ward, operation room and case room; similarly, a suction system for drainage apparatus — these are now generally installed in modern hospital buildings.

An original and individualistic feature of the hospital is that the administrative quarters, operation and emergency rooms, X-ray department, laboratories and pharmacy, and the sick rooms, are all on one floor, while each independent and self-complete.

Major question confronting the building committee is — when? . . According to information given to the Medical Board, a thousand details are being scrutinized to draw up the required specifications, but work will definitely begin next spring and the building completed within two years.

The Medical Board notes with satisfaction that the Sisters of Providence, who have given such devoted service in hospitalization here over the past 15 years, will operate this new hospital.

The Board, through its spokesman, Dr. R. Lavigne, also offers warm collaboration with the committe on any matter in which it can be of help, and is sincerely concerned for the welfare of the population and efficient treatment of the sick.

Fine co-operation sets ball rolling on artificial rink

The Lions Club, with their artificial ice rink well under way in the East Ward, gave special mention last week to the initial co-operation received from Messrs. Jim and Colin McOuat and Lowe's Dairy.

The Lions wish to acknowledge, with equal appreciation, more donations of services or other considerations received from the following:

Paul Laliberté — engineering services in connection with levelling and surveying of site.

Lachute Lumber & Millwork Ltd. — earth moving and levelling.

Welden Motors Ltd. — services of bulldozer and grader, with operator.

Whissell Cement Products — donation towards tile for ditch.

Bell Telephone—co-operation of engineers in excavation work.

Other services have been offered and taken advantage of, for which the club officials are duly grateful. Public co-operation is making this venture a true community undertaking — as it will also prove, when materialized, a community asset.

For drivers' tests

Sgt. Roger Massie, of the Provincial Police Traffic Department here, has received work the next license testing "clinic" will be in Lachute, at the Court House, Wednesday, November 5, from 9 to 5 o'clock.

Follow-up clinics for anti-polio vaccinations

A joint announcement has been issued by officials of the Brownsburg and Lachute branches of the Canadian Legion advising that free clinics will be held for those adults who have already received their first anti-polio vaccine shots. These clinics will be held as follows:

Brownsburg Legion Hall, Wednesday, October 29 — afternoon, 2 - 3.30 p.m.; evening, 7 - 9 p.m.

Lachute Legion Hall, Thursday, October 30 — afternoon, 2 - 4 p.m.; evening, 7 - 9 p.m.

Persons attending either of the above clinics will be requested to present the stub of their record card upon entry. However, in order to insure that no person misses the second shot, anyone having lost their stub should take the matter up with the person in charge of the clinic. This also applies to anyone requiring the third shot at this time. In addition, persons unable to attend a clinic in one location, may take advantage of the other.

Local doctors and nurses will again be in attendance. Vaccine will be made available for employees of those industries who previously held clinics on their premises.

For information, contact — J. W. Humphries, Brownsburg, or B. A. Jenkins, Lachute.

It is expected that third and final shots will be scheduled for about May, 1959.

Held criminally responsible in auto death of St. Hermas man

Yvon Gagnon, 28, of St. Hermas, was found criminally responsible Monday evening in the death of Ferdinand St. Onge, a 58-year-old resident of the same municipality. The fatal accident occurred October 7 at the junction of the Vide Sac Road and Route 8.

Both drivers were injured in the collision, and were treated at the Providence Hospital, Lachute, St. Onge being transferred to the Sacré Coeur Hospital, at Cartierville, where he succumbed to injuries the following day. The victim had been driving to Lachute with his daughter at the time of the accident — the daughter being employed at an office here.

Evidence presented before the six-man jury resulted in a verdict of "criminal responsibility". District Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur presided, and the Crown Attorney was Marc Boucher.

Gagnon was released on property bail and appeared in St. Jerome Tuesday for his preliminary hearing.

All branches represented at County W.I. semi-annual

Speaker from CNIB discusses psychology of sightless people

The semi-annual convention of the Argenteuil Women's Institutes was held Saturday in the music room of Lachute High School. All branches were well represented. The meeting was opened by the repeating of the Mary Stewart Collect. Mrs. M. Wilson, past-president, then conducted the installation of the newly-elected officers.

A word of welcome was given to all branches by the president, Mrs. Geo. McGibbon.

Minutes were read by Mrs. N. E. Smillie, in the absence of the secretary.

The president introduced Mrs. C. Hall, who is the president of the newly-organized Dalesville W.I. This addition makes the 11th branch in the Argenteuil County.

The treasurer reported that $200 had been loaned from the Educational Fund.

A minute's silence was observed in tribute to Mrs. John Boyd, a former County president, who passed away recently.

Two branches presented their donations towards the Home for the Aged.

Mrs. C. Prosser, Handicraft convener, read the prize list for the next Lachute Spring Fair exhibit.

The convener asked that the 25 cent per member for Fair work be paid in January, instead of April. A resolution was also passed to donate an extra 10 cents to aid the County funds.

It was moved by Mrs. M. Wilson, seconded by Mrs. W. Seale, that the nominating committee should be comprised of five members. Brownsburg would chair this committee and the other four would be the presidents from Dalesville, Frontier, Jerusalem-Bethany and Lachute.

There will be a wreath placed on the cenotaph at Lachute on Remembrance Day.

A report was given by Mrs. M. Wilson on the Home for the Aged.

Mrs. M. Wilson then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. L. McClintock, from the Montreal branch of the C.N.I.B. Mr. McClintock spoke on the different aspects of blindness, especially emphasizing those of the blind homemaker. His final thought was that one should be casual, normal, natural and sympathetic toward a blind person. The speaker was thanked by Mrs. C. W. P. Baugh.

To conclude the meeting Mr. McClintock raffled, by Chinese auction, a leather wallet made by the blind. This was won by Mrs. Geo. Leggett.

Standard Time again next Saturday midnight

The annual reminder is published for the benefit of readers, that Daylight Saving Time ends this Saturday, October 25, at midnight.

It is recommended that clocks and timepieces be set back one hour at that time, so as to avoid confusion in church services, rail schedules and other arrangements affected by the change on Sunday. (New rail timetable appears in this issue.)

Five juveniles charged in entry of summer homes

Investigation into 11 charges of breaking and entering with theft, also property damage and theft, has finally resulted in the apprehension of five juveniles, the eldest of whom is 14, and two of whom are 11 and 12-year-old girls. The incidents occurred at Morin Heights, and have been going on from time to time since February of this year.

Charges against the five were laid in St. Jerome court on Tuesday, and the miscreants, along with their parents, will appear in juvenile Court at St. Jerome later this month. Included in the thefts were four rifles, several bows (minus the arrows), and tools. One summer residence was shot-up with the stolen rifles.

The investigation was carried out jointly between Police Chief A. J. Whiteway of Morin Heights and Sgt.-Det. Ralph Allen, of the Provincial Police.

Impaired driving charges bring fines, license suspensions

Charges of driving under the influence of alcohol were laid against several district motorists, all of whom appeared in St. Jerome Court on Friday last and were found guilty.

Sentenced were Lucien Beaulne, 38, of L'Orignal, Ont., Gerard Sequin, 27, of Grenville, and Georges Rozon, 23, of Lachute. All three were sentenced to fines of $75 plus costs, their drivers' permits being suspended for a three-month period.

A similar sentence was given in the case of Gerard Gagnon, 38, of Montreal, charged with hit-and-run. Roger Lanoue, 38, of Lindsay, Ont., received the same fine, with no license suspension, on a hit-and-run charge. Gagnon was charged in connection with an accident involving the car of John Walters, of Verdun, which occurred in St. Philippe, while Lanoue's charge was laid following a collision with Henri Labreche in St. Andrews East.

All charges were laid by Sgt.-Det. Ralph Allen.

District Deputy visits lodge at Masonic Temple

A large gathering greeted District Deputy Grand Master Bro. Geo. Mabee, from Bourlamaque, who, accompanied by Bro. L. S. Pease, of Val d'Or, paid his official visit to Argenteuil Masonic Lodge, No. 67, on Monday evening.

The first degree was exemplified and Wor. Bro. W. White, as Master of the lodge, was complimented on the excellent work exemplified for this occasion.

An inspiring address was given by the D.D.G.M., the topic being "What Does Masonry Stand For?"

Supper was served in the spacious hall, following the proceedings of the evening.

Visitors were present from Quebec City, Grenville, Hawkesbury, Morin Heights, Buckingham and Scotland.

Before closing the evening's activities, those present were reminded of the Ladies' Night banquet and dance being held at the Temple on Saturday, October 24, starting at 6.45 p.m., and the Sunday parade to be held at the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church on October 25 at 11 a.m. (at which regalia will be worn).

Brownsburg family ousted by blaze

Larry Frigault was the owner-occupant of this frame dwelling 1½ miles from Brownsburg Village on the Staynerville road, destroyed by fire Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Frigault have a family of 10. The couple, and those of their children left homeless by the blaze, have been sheltered by friends and neighbors in Brownsburg, pending rental of a house in St. Philippe. Frigault is employed at the ammunition plant, also at a local hotelry in off-time.

Chief A. Robbins with seven firemen and equipment arrived from Brownsburg to find the house well ablaze. They were on the scene from 6.30 to 9.30. With water from their pumper-truck and a nearby well, they saved three outbuildings in close proximity. When the well was pumped dry, they hurried to Brownsburg to replenish their booster tank, then returning to douse the smouldering debris.

The house and contents were a complete loss, but it is understood the owner had partial insurance coverage. Cause of the outbreak was reported to be an overheated furnace pipe.

LEGION NOTES

— by —

Branch 70 (Lachute) Correspondent

Executive and general meetings held recently have seen considerable business cleared away. Among other items, new furnture and fixtures to dress up the basement clubroom have ben ordered. Com. Ernie Gordon has installed a new wrought - iron railing on the recently-erected back entrance steps; and additional dishes and cutlery will be received shortly. All materials are now on hand for the new office, and work parties will commence its erection between rentals.

Com. James Clark, chairman of the Nominating Committee, presented a proposed slate of officers for 1959 at the last general meeting; this will be covered in detail in a later issue.

A successful bingo and an equally successful shooting match were held recently. Com. Jack MacKimmie made arrangements for the shooting match.

The major item on the Legion calendar for November is the Memorial Supper, to be held in the Legion Hall on Saturday, November 8, starting at 6.30 p.m., and the Armistice Service and Parade to be held on Tuesday, November 11. Com. James Pillage is looking after the sale of tickets for the banquet. Com. Doug. Ogilvie is arranging the dance to be held after the banquet. Members are requested to invite their friends to this social evening, starting at 9.30 p.m. A news letter to all members will cover the details. In the meantime, Com. Tom Smith has divided the town into districts and will require as many members as possible to assist with the sale of Poppies on Friday evening, November 7, and Saturday morning and afternoon, November 8. Give Tom a call if you can make it! Further details on the Poppy Campaign for the information of the general public will appear in these columns weekly between now and November 7.

See you next week!

Keen interest in fox hound trials at Rivière Rouge

The Lower Ottawa Valley Fox Hunters Association held another successful field trial recently at the Rodger Bros.' farm in Rivière Rouge.

The weather was cool, and foxes scarce after the outbreak of rabies last spring, but enthusiasm was high among the many fox hunters. Clubs were well represented from Ottawa, Quyon, Terrebonne, Montreal, Huntingon, and the local club, Lachute, with St. Andrews and Carillon, comprising the above-mentioned Lower Ottawa Valley Association, which alone had approximately 20 entries.

This was a qualifying trial, with several hounds entered being eligible for the All-Canadian National Championship Trial being held this year at Bambury, Ont., on October 30, 31 and November 1.

The judging was ably handled by several experienced local fox hunters, with Mr. Roger Mouffe of Montreal as master of hounds.

In the evening, a dinner and presentation of prizes took place at the Carillon Hotel. The club was honored to have with them around the dinner table Messrs. E. D. Bonnyman and A. L. Pimlott, governor and secretary, respectively of the All-Canadian Association, both from Ottawa, and Mr. O. W. Knechtel, of Montreal, vice-president of the same Association. All voiced their approval of the wonderful site at which the field trial was held, and of the beauty of the surrounding countryside.

The trophy for the All-Age class went to Mr. M. Ball, of Ottawa, whose hound, Ridgemont Flashy Rex, took highest general average, with second place honors going to Mr. R. Roy of Carillon, for his hound, Silver. The trophy for the Best Derby Hound went to Mr. Gordon Bradley, of Lachute, for his hound, Bourbon.

All in all, the field trial angle of fox hunting is providing sport, arguments and entertainment for a large number of people.

Exile wide-eyed at exodus of Canada Geese

FROM OUR OUTDOORS CORRESPONDENT

Main Duck Island,
South Bay, Picton, Ont.
Oct. 12, 1958

Dear Editor:

I'm trying to get this off in a hurry, as I believe one of the fishermen is coming out today.

I have been watching the Canada Geese going back South. Boy, what a sight. Some of them stopped on their way, not very many, about 500 of them that you could get close enough to shoot. And strange as it may seem, not a shot did I fire. They were as safe on the Island as if they had been in church. This has been going on for the past four days. I would imagine that I have seen, flying or resting upward to 20,000 geese!

Today has turned out one of those days where it has done everything. First nice, rain, nice, more rain and now it's blowing a real gale. The geese that are going by are having a real tough time of it. I'm just as content to stay right in the house. And I hope that it dies down enough for the fishermen to land.

Well, I guess there won't be any shooting of the Pheasants this year. Orders are that there will be no killing. Maybe next year, if they manage to hang on. The hawks, etc., must have taken a big toll of them as they are few and far between. Could be the climate has a lot to do with it, also. Another thing, with the pheasants being put on the island so late in the spring, they didn't have much chance to nest. I have only seen a very few young ones.

I just thought of a very good idea. No shaving or washing for at least a month! (The Big Boy will be back then.) By that time I won't feel the cold, or anything else. I wonder how crummy I would get. But I don't think it's such a good idea.

By the way, did you ever hear this one? . . . A fellow owned and bred the most vicious bulldogs in the country, he had taken all kinds of ribbons for their ugliness and viciousness. Well, one day he had his best out for a walk when the bulldog spotted a mangy yellow cur. Right away the bulldog tears in for the kill, but to his owner's surprise and dismay, with one snap of its jaws the mangy cur kills the bulldog.

"What the h— kind of dog have you got, Kid, that can do that to one of the best fighting dogs in the country?"

"I don't rightly know, Mister, but before I cut his tail off and painted him yellow they told me he was a crocodile."

The snakes are all holed up for the winter, so I haven't had any fun with them. All the birds are going. Pretty soon it will be a very bleak-looking place. Except for the Deer and Pheasants there won't be anything to see. The odd ship going by, but that won't be for long now. One thing I really want to see, and that is how far does the ice extend out into the Lake; anything more than a mile and I'll stay here! I don't think I'd like to walk too far out in this lake on the ice. That, I hope is a long way off yet.

Well, the fisherman hasn't come yet; still got my fingers crossed.

— Bob Atchison

Fine turnout, good weather for annual Plowing Match

The Argenteuil Plowmen's Association held their annual plowing match on Saturday at the farm of Eddy Kettyle, Lachute.

The Association is indebted to Mr. Kettyle for the use of his land, as owing to such a wet fall, it was an ideal field for the occasion. Also, to Mr. Ernie McOuat for the use of his field for parking cars.

The judges for the tractor classes were Erskine Rodgers and Clifford Oswald, and the horse classes were judged by Rory MacTavish. Appreciation is due to these gentlemen for donating their time and efforts, and their placings pleased everyone.

It was a very successful day with 30 participants taking part — five in horse classes, and 25 in tractor classes.

Allan Hammond is to be congratulated for winning the cup three years in a row, and it now becomes his own property. The cup was presented for the best ridge in the field. The Junior Cup was won by Ronnie Bain.

It is hoped to have a large crowd at the plowmen's presentation dance being held at the Masonic Hall, Brownsburg Road, on Friday, November 7.

Following is the list of winners in Saturday's field classes:

Science helps to protect bettors at race tracks

Racing associations and the federal government are working closely together to protect Canada's betting public. The bettor himself shoulders the cost. Out of every two dollars laid down at a track wicket, one penny is earmarked for protective measures.

Supervision of pari-mutuel betting at most Canadian race tracks is the responsibility of the Canada Department of Agriculture.

Half-Million Take

Criminal Code legislation provides that one-half of one percent of all money wagered in the "sport of Kings" at supervised tracks goes to the Federal Government for administrative purposes, and last year this amounted to over $500,000.

During the racing season, tracks in every province except Quebec are staffed by specially trained RCMP officers. They keep a careful eye on tickets, odds quoted and the money bet and paid out on each race.

Camera Helps

Also, the tell-tale evidence of the camera is even more extensively used. A film patrol was inaugurated for the 1958 season, offering a moving picture of everything that goes on in the race even when the horses are out of official sight.

All photos are available immediately.

Inaugurated in 1958, too, was a policy of Government financial assistance to tracks in taking urine and saliva tests of horses. Qualified chemists run laboratory tests to make certain drugs haven't been used to stimulate or retard a contender.

Responsibility of carrying out the tests rests with the racing associations, although the government reimburses the cost up to a stipulated amount.

Tackling an economic problem

INCREASING ATTENTION on a national scale is being given to the seasonal employment fluctuations which affect this community, the next community, and almost every village, town and metropolis across Canada. From serious study of this economic ailment, it is hoped that industry, government, labour (or a combination of brains from all three) will soon come up with a practical solution. . . Hasten the day!

In July a National Winter Employment Conference was held in Ottawa to consider the problem of seasonal unemployment. More than 90 representatives of business firms and associations, including the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, labour organizations, governments and other institutions were represented at the Conference. Some very useful discussions took place and there was a consensus that every effort should be made to stimulate employment particularly during the winter season.

In a recent letter from the Minister of Labour reference was made to the local winter employment campaigns sponsored by the Department of Labour and the National Employment Service which resulted "in conclusive evidence that interior work of all kinds can be done just as well in winter as in summer." The Hon. Mr. Starr points out that such work can often be done more conveniently in winter because of the availability of necessary materials and skilled labour. An appeal therefore is being made to business interests generally to promote the sale of their goods and services in the winter months with a view to supplying as many jobs as possible during this period.

The following policy declaration on this subject was approved at the 1957 annual meeting of the Chamber:

"Seasonal Unemployment in Canada is a problem meriting serious consideration and discussion because it involves a recurring annual waste of manpower and frequently of productive capacity. The Chamber recognizes the solving of this problem is the responsibility of all groups in Canada. The Chamber pledges its co-operation in efforts to solve this national problem."

The meeting went on to make the following recommendations:

1. That corporations plan their work as far as practicable to give employment during any seasonal unemployment period, and

2. That Chamber of Commerce members co-operate with local agencies in the development of plans at the local level to combat seasonal unemployment.

Strange but true

IT SEEMS THAT Wichita, Kansas, has other claims to distinction than Wyatt Earp, State Marshal, and those other TV heroes now immortalizing its hoary legends.

Wichita has produced an anomaly on the labor front which is both surprising and reassuring. Word comes that 1,000 unionized workers of the Sutton Corporation in that city have voted in favor of a reduction in wages and fringe benefits. Faced with a possible shutdown of the plant due to shrinking orders, employees and their union leaders were honest enough to recognize that the only protection against a threat to their employment lay in cutting costs — including wage costs.

Union officials elsewhere are unfortunately not so honest with their union members, and cause them to jeopardize their employment by forcing them to demand wage increases even when business is bad — says the Fort Erie Letter-Review, commenting on this incident. And when that happens, a short-lived gain in wages is more than offset by the fact that those who win do so at the expense of their fellow-workers whose jobs are destroyed in the process.

Doomed to extinction?

A RAY OF brilliance sometimes flashes from the least expected places. It took a Johannesburg used-car dealer to crystallize, in most original terms, some of our own unvoiced impressions on the trend in automobiles.

The automobile, this genius states, is carefully repeating the history of the dinosaur. Like this prehistoric animal the American car is becoming so large, and so weighed down with chromium-plated armour, that it is "doomed to extinction".

The dealer said that things have been so quiet in the second-hand car market recently that he has been able to study the history of the dinosaur and has found some significant points of comparison. Like the American car, dinosaurs were "almost world-wide in distribution, and their remains are especially numerous and well-preserved in parts of the United States." There is this difference, however: "The dinosaur laid eggs, which is not among the talents of the automobile. It is quite clear, though, that in their elaborate styling and gimmicks the stylists have done just that — laid an egg."

Very much — our business

DOES THE average Canadan care how well (or how badly) his or her community is governed? If interest in local government elections over the years is any criterion, the answer must be a resounding NO.

In this County we may present a more creditable record, but in a Cross-Canada picture here are the facts. . .

Hardly more than thirty percent of those eligible to vote in such elections usually do so, against fifty to sixty percent in provincial elections, and seventy to eighty percent in federal ones. And yet, as has so often been observed, of all three levels of government, that of the municipality touches us most closely.

Water, sewerage, garbage collection, street construction and repair, lighting, police, fire parks — such services as these are all vital to life as we know it. They may not be the last word in excitement, but we would be in a pretty poor state without them. Their provision is the business of municipal, or local, government, and is, therefore, our business.

Nor should we forget that municipal business today is BIG business. The explosive post-war growth of our cities, towns and villages has meant an enormous expansion of these local government services. And where else have the huge sums necessary to finance this expansion come from if not from taxes?

Thus, the mayors, reeves, controllers and councillors who serve their communities bear a heavy load. On their shoulders rests the responsibility to spend the tax mills both wisely and well.

All the more reason, then, why we should all see to it that the best qualified and most able citizens become candidates and secure election. We can do worse than remember that, locally, quite as much as in wider spheres, we get the government we deserve.

Viewpoints and perspectives

SPREADING TOO FAR. — The drift to the suburbs may be over, thinks The Financial Post. The problem, it explains, is to combine space and gracious living with a job in the heart of the city. The more space, the farther from the job and the more time consumed in getting back and forth. Eventually, so much time may be taken up in daily travel that precious little is left for the gracious living.

The increasing number of city apartments is considered evidence of a return to the city, or at least a substantial slowing down of the trek to the suburbs.

Perhaps it is just as well. If every Canadian lived in a one-floor bungalow, on his own half acre or so of ground, the whole country would soon be turned into a suburb. And not all of them would be happy either. Not everybody is a born gardener, and the big city still has some advantages to offer the gregarious that cannot be found in suburbia.

ENCOURAGEMENT to the work of the Rotary and the Lions Clubs, sponsors of two notable youth-projects in this community, is found in this quote from a Huntingdon Gleaner editorial:

"We must do something to make this town more attractive to children, so that they will love their home town and want to work for it — not be waiting for the first opportunity to leave it."

CHIEF NEED. — "What this world needs — " seems to be uppermost in everyone's mind. But what does it need more than for all of us to live according to the teachings of Christ and to spread those teachings until everyone in the world knows them and wishes to live by them. The world will not be ready for lasting peace until that day arrives.

Farmers complain of the land being too dry and hard for fall plowing.

The new railway water tank in the West End is now in operation, with a steam pump.

Mr. Percy Miller, of St. Andrews, has been engaged as miller at the Lachute Mills.

On Monday night the Brass Band of Lachute are holding a torch light procession through the principal streets of our village.

Tuesday was Fair Day in Lachute. Very few cattle and horses were brought to town. Country produce there was none, save two carts of apples which sold from 60 cents to one dollar a bushel. A brisk business was done in the taverns, and a wheel of fortune was in full operation near Mr. Rodrigue's hotel.

On a recent voyage in the Northern Seas Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Tennyson, prime minister and poet laureate of England, received the freedom of the burgh at Kirkwall, Scotland.

Death — Ann Conley, widow of the late James MacDonald of Shrewsbury, was called from here to the world of spirits on Tuesday, October 25, at the age of 65.

A ball given by the No. 2 Troop of Cavalry at St. Andrews, was a great success.

"My Life Insurance man did a grand job for me, Ed"

All talk over the back fence isn't about sport, or politics, or television programs. Very often it's about such vital things as looking after the family and having enough money to retire on.

Your life insurance man is well equipped to solve these problems. He is trained to analyse all the facts about a family's future requirements. He serves Canadian families by offering practical plans to meet individual needs.

Life Insurance representatives have exceptional training opportunities today. Their own companies provide them with basic courses covering a wide variety of subjects.

Through the Life Underwriters Association of Canada they have access to the experience of many able men who have helped to make Canadians the world's best-insured people. This Association has a 2-year training program for its members. And, in addition, for those who desire to pursue more advanced studies, there is a 3-year university extension course leading to the Association's designation of Chartered Life Underwriter (C.L.U.)

This thorough training plus practical experience in helping people explains why millions of Canadians welcome the services of the modern Life Underwriter.

A failing of government

If governments persist in doing everything else under the sun but govern, I'm afraid I'm going to become an anarchist!

Those of you patient enough to read me for years will recall that long before the scandal hit the headlines, I warned you that the government adventure into a huge printing bureau across the river from Ottawa was a shameful and costly blunder. Now The Ottawa Journal reveals that when the building was going up, reporters and photographers on the paper were "turned away — alike by doorman and executives in authority."

You'll also recall that I warned you about the government entry into the gas pipeline business. I said it would make personal fortunes for a group of promoters, but the taxpayers would carry the risk. The government went right ahead with deals and secret negotiations and nobody seemed to care much — until it was too late.

Now we have a new government.

It will become subject to all the temptations the old government eventually yielded to. It, also, will yield, unless the voters are watchful.

The toughest problem for a government is to truly govern, to make decisions on thorny problems. But that's why we put them there, and that's what we pay them to do.

The easiest thing for a government to do is spend our money. Anybody can build a pipeline — and charge it up to the people! Anyone can build a massive printing bureau — if the money comes from the public cash box.

Today's government is already being pressured into similar enterprises.

A group of promoters want a crude oil pipeline built from Edmonton to Montreal — even though everybody knows it would be uneconomical, and would put the price of gas and oil up. There is pressure from CBC for a whole new group of buildings — although the people want programs, not buildings. Small business wants subsidies, colleges and universities want money, everybody is shouldering up to the trough.

Who pays for all this? Well, I know a farmer who says he could be fairly well off if he was allowed to be, but "I can't be thrifty any more. Progress is pushed on me. The government keeps spending my money, for things I don't need or want." He knows who pays for all this. . . He does. So do I. So do you.

When are we going to tell the governments to get back to their real job — governing?

New CPR Vice-President

R. A. Emerson, who has been appointed Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

FARMERS GOOD TALKERS

Farmers are a notch ahead of their city cousins as conversationalists. This is particularly true when they are at home on their own fields where they have ready-to-hand illustrations with which to make a point or illustrate an argument.

We have long suspected that Canadians are the fat boys of the world. Now two doctors confirm the theory. So it must be true.

The doctors examined 100 top athletes taking part in a training program in Toronto and reported them carrying excess weight.

They also examined the Canadian team at the Empire Games in Cardiff, and compared them with the athletes of other countries.

The doctors brought in a tactful report which in blunt terms, meant that our boys were too plump, jowly and short in the wind.

On the average, they were fatter than anybody else, because they ate too much and trained too little.

If the athletes are flabby, what can the rest of the populace be like?

What encouragement is there for non-athletes to resist that second helping of mashed potatoes, when our track and field men are lining their stomachs so lavishly?

The misery gang has been telling us for years how spoiled and decadent we are. We have treated such warnings with contempt. Now it transpires that the misery gang is right.

We may actually be eating our way toward the fate of Rome — sliding to destruction down a steep, greasy slope of southern fried chicken pies a la mode and chocolate sundaes.

Chances are that we have already lost the next war, on that battleground that lies between the hors d'oeuvres and the steak.

Unless we can persuade those wicked financiers to put an end to the prosperity that threatens to smother us in our own lard, we will soon be too obese to fight.

Bell Telephone rate increases effective Nov. 1

Increases of 10 cents a month for two-party residence telephone service in Brownsburg and Lachute, and of 25 cents for one-party residence service, become effective November 1, 1958, following an order of the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada issued on October 10 — according to R. R. Pearson, Bell Telephone manager here.

The increase for one-party business service is 55 cents monthly, which would make the rate $7.05 a month.

There will also be slight changes in long distance rates in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario.

A comparison is given of the present and new rates for typical classes of service in Brownsburg and Lachute:

DISTRICT NEWS FROM OUR COUNTY CORRESPONDENTS

October meetings in W.I. branches

Arundel W.I. members had Mr. Graham, principal of Arundel High School, speak to them about the need of better books for the school library. The Agriculture convener reported on the excellent exhibit at the School Fair.

Each member of Frontier branch had to make up a question on "Do's and Don'ts for Car Drivers" for their roll-call. These questions were answered by Police Chief Richard Gagnon, of Brownsburg.

Miss A. Christie, of Macdonald College, spoke to the Jerusalem-Bethany Institute on the topic of "Quilts and Quilting". A sum of money for prizes was sent to Lachute High School. A donation was sent to the proposed "Home for the Aged".

Lachute W.I. heard an address on Cancer. They were also shown a film on UNICEF, and a collection was taken up for this fund.

Lakefield members gave a penny for every inch around their waist, for the October roll-call. They also made a presentation to a member in honor of her approaching marriage. Plans are being made for a military whist in November, at the Legion Hall.

Mille Isles held a successful bingo and social evening, October 4, instead of their regular meeting.

An "Education Night" was held by Morin Heights, where the Grade 8 teacher, Mr. Bennett, gave an interesting talk on "Education in England".

Upper Lachute - East End members each told the number of their descendants, as the roll-call. Slides and a talk on Spain and Italy were very much enjoyed. A trip is being planned to visit the Experimental Farm and the Parliament Buildings. A donation was sent for the Home for the Aged.

Several branches ordered boxes of Christmas cards from UNICEF.

Calumet

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Druce included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Druce, of Victoria, B.C., Mr. and Mrs. J. Druce, of Hawkesbury, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Grainge, of Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Murphy and sons, Jeff and Graham, spent the long week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Foreman in Sherbrooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Ian Mahon, of Ottawa, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mahon.

Mr. Woodrow Brigden, of Gaspé, was a week-end guest of his sister, Miss Mildred Brigden.

Garnet Bigelow, posted with the Canadian Army in B.C. since returning from a three-year stay in Germany, spent several days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bigelow, before proceeding to Camp Borden where he will take a new course. Mrs. Bigelow and daughters, Susan and Hazel, remained in B.C.

Misses Maidie Whinfield and Penny Foreman, of St. Eustache, spent the week-end at their homes.

Mrs. T. H. Foreman and daughters, Diane, Cathy and Judy, spent last week-end in St. Lambert, the guests of Mrs. J. Irving. While there they visited the Granby Zoo, and motored to Cowansville to visit friends.

Organized here for Hallowe'en UNICEF Shell-Out

Eight years ago one small Sunday School class celebrated a "UNICEF Hallowe'en". It was their idea, and they loved helping other children. Each year many more joined in the fun, from cities, towns and villages across North America. In Canada alone last year their combined gifts of pennies, nickels and dimes rang up the amazing total of $75,000. This collective gift was converted by UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, into protective vaccines, penicillin, antibiotics, milk, vitamins, and many other things to make and keep children well and strong.

This sharing of a traditional holiday brings us more fun right here at home too! Costumes are donned, spooks and spacemen ring doorbells asking for treats, parties are gayer . . . all the traditions of Hallowe'en are retained but they sparkle with the warm inner glow that comes from doing something for others.

This fall, youngsters already celebrating a UNICEF Hallowe'en hope that many more will join them to make 1958 a record year. Lachute Women's Institute has taken hold of the idea in this town, and on Hallowe'en numerous youngsters wearing the UNICEF tag will be happy to receive dimes and nickels in this "Shell Out" for a worthy cause.

LIFE AND ITS CHANGES

Life has been described as "a series of compulsory adjustments."

Changes come in every life, unasked, unexpected. How we face them — with bitterness, resentment, or courage — is the test.

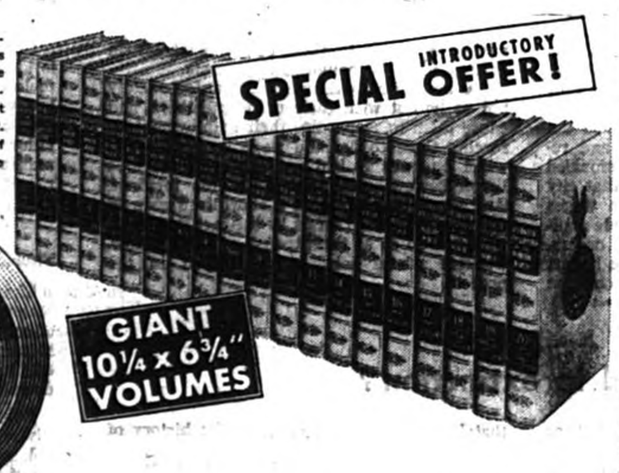

Prayer helps. Through it we learn to accept life as it is and not only to make the best of it, but to make the most of it. This is our sacred trust.

Concert trio here next week

The Nieuw Amsterdam Trio — Edith Mocsanyi, pianist, Joseph Rabushka, violinist, Daniel Vandersall, cellist — who will be greeted by Community Concert-goers here in the first of this season's recitals, next Wednesday, October 29, at Lachute High School. In Holland, Austria, Italy, Puerto Rico, and in leading cities of the United States, this group has been acclaimed in glowing terms by the music critics. Filling engagements for over 50 concerts in a coast-to-coast tour this season, the trio has been described as "the best of its kind". Its three artists (in the words of one prominent critic) "play together as three people who were born to play together."

Wilson - Dixon marriage vows at Dalesville

The marriage of Claire Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Dixon, of Montreal and Stanerville, to Mr. Donald Gordon Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Wilson, of Lachute, took place Saturday, October 11, in the Dalesville Baptist Church, the Rev. George B. Hicks officiating.

Mrs. Keith Morrison played the wedding music and "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love" were sung by the Rev. and Mrs. K. Miller, in duet.

Tall white tapers and baskets of bronze and gold chrysanthemums decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie fashioned on empire lines, with panel back which softly draped into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of sheer French illusion fell from a matching peau de soie bandeau embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of gold Sweetheart roses.

Miss Marlene Murdoch was maid of honor for her cousin, and bridesmaids were Miss Eunice Wright and Miss Carol Tomalty, cousin of the bride; little Donna Lee Madden was flower girl.

The moss and foliage green sheath peau de soie dresses with cummerbunds worn by the attendants were street-length, and their matching bandeaux were of the same material fashioned in petals of these two shades. They carried bouquets of gold and bronze baby chrysanthemums. The little flower girl was gowned in gold peau de soie; her bandeau and tiny basket bouquet were of bronze baby mums.

Mr. Keith Wilson, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Clarence Smith and Mr. Kenneth Wilson, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Dixon, mother of the bride, chose a gown of café-au-lait Jerome crepe with matching hat and brown accessories, and a corsage of gold Sweetheart roses. Mrs. Wilson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of aqua faille with black accessories and corsage of white gardenias.

Following a reception held at the Masonic Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left for the Northeastern States, the bride travelling in a sheath dress of nutria wool with mink hat and muff, and wearing a corsage of yellow Sweetheart roses.

The couple will reside in Lachute.

The challenge of Missions extension emphasized at church gathering

The annual Missionary and Maintenance Supper sponsored by the W.M.S. of Lachute United Church, was held on Wednesday evening, October 15, the church hall being filled to capacity.

This year, breaking with tradition, it was decided to invite the wives of stewards and elders of the church, and this proved to be an interesting innovation.

Ministers and men visitors from the following churches were present — Morin Heights, Brownsburg, St. Andrews East, Cushing, Hawkesbury, Laval West, St. Eustache, Dorval and Lachute.

The guest speaker was the Rev. Gordon Porter, D.D., Superintendent of Home Missions for the Province of Quebec and Eastern Ontario.

During the interval following the supper, friends joined in a sing-song led by Mr. Lundy Pearson, who also gave an effective rendering of "Where'er You Walk" (Handel), accompanied by Mr. Lowell Hopkins at the piano. A surprise item during the singsong was the fact that Mr. John Nicol, an old and valued member of the church, happened to be celebrating his 86th birthday that day, and the audience joined in singing, "Happy Birthday to You".

Congratulations were also extended to Allan Hammond, who had just returned from the International Plowing Match held in Germany, in which he attained 12th place.

Dr. Porter, in the course of his address, surveyed the varied activities of the Board of Home Missions of the United Church of Canada. He went on to explain the phenomenal growth of the church across Canada, a growth which has necessitated three new buildings (churches and church halls) plus one new manse, every week. He went on the explain how at Knob Lake in Northeastern Quebec in the sub-Arctic, a new church (St. Paul's) was opened a year ago, in an area which is the source of more than half of Canada's total iron ore supply. The people there have attained a sacrificial standard of stewardship, which, if practiced throughout the United Church as a whole, would establish a new record in generosity.

The speaker described the work being done in the asbestos country, southeast of Montreal, an area that produces 90% of the world's asbestos supply. After many years of sacrificial work and giving, the people have opened a new church replete with all facilities. In the uranium country south of Bancroft in Eastern Ontario, the Home Missions Board acquired a site for a church, and a new congregation has been organized. Whilst they are awaiting construction of the new building the congregation meets in the local school. At Lac Napoleon, deep in the Laurentians, a small community of French Protestants have built a new church which is now in use.

Other highlights touched upon by the speaker were the work being done in the Church of All Nations in Montreal, at St. Columba House, Point St. Charles, and in two hospitals, namely, Bella Coola and the Cruise Memorial Hospital at Vita, Manitoba. These are but two of the 13 hospitals supported by the United Church.

"Church Extension," said Dr. Porter, "is more than a story of physical and financial effort. In the Acts of the Apostles, the extension of that day is described as God's act in Church opening the 'door of faith unto the Gentiles' (Acts 14.27.). In bringing the Church to new and needy Canadian communities, surely something of great significance is happening that will have a bearing upon the ultimate destiny of our people."

At the conclusion of the gathering, the chairman, the Rev. Wilson Bridge, called upon the Rev. Garfield W. Bruce of Brownsburg, to thank the members of the W.M.S. for an excellent meal, and upon the Rev. Ralph Watson of Laval West, to thank Dr. Porter for his challenging and heart-warming account of Home Missions work.

United W.M.S. held Presbyterial rally

A successful Fall Rally and Literature Tea was held in Rosedale United Church by the Montreal Presbyterial of the United Church W.M.S.

Inspiring and thought-provoking messages were given by the leaders of the devotions.

Departmental secretaries gave reports on their respective aspects of the missionary work. Mrs. John Watters gave a stirring talk on Stewardship, emphasizing that all possessions are God-given, and to be good stewards we must tithe our talents, time and money.

Miss K. Harriet Christie, principal of the United Church Training School, Toronto, gave a travel talk on her trip to Japan, Hong Kong and Korea, bringing a very vivid picture to the minds of her listeners of the great needs of the people in these places. One of the needs most stressed was workers, who would be willing to go out and work as partners with the people, thus helping and showing them some of the things that would make living easier and happier. Miss Christie was a delegate to the Conference on Christian Education held recently in Japan.

The highlight of the evening was the large attendance of young people. Over 100 C.G.I.T. and Mission Circle girls attended. The choir for the evening was composed of C.G.I.T. girls.

Miss Christie brought greetings from the training school, where five girls from Montreal are in attendance.

Bible Society annual meeting Sunday, Oct. 26 in Presbyterian Church

The annual meeting of Lachute branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society will be held next Sunday, October 26, at 7.30 p.m. in the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church. The new secretary for Quebec Province, the Rev. T. D. Jones, will be present at this meeting to report progress and outline the future objectives of the Society.

The Rev. T. Dale Jones, L.Th., commenced his work recently as district secretary for Quebec of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada. He succeeds the Rev. E. Ralph Adye, who is now senior secretary of the Upper Canada auxiliary.

Mr. Jones is an Anglican minister of English birth who was educated at Emmanuel College, Saskatoon. He comes to this work with splendid recommendations. He has served in parishes in western Canada and western Ontario, and was a chaplain in the Royal Canadian Air Force from 1942 to 1949.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

The Whole World Is Talking

. . . . about the 1958 Divine Will International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, where a quarter of a million persons assembled to learn from God's Word what the divine will is for Christians in this generation. NOW . . .

. . . all the principal convention talks will be available to you in issues of THE WATCHTOWER. You will want to read all this vital information during the next year. Send $1 so you will not miss an issue. Or —

. . . if you already subscribe for THE WATCHTOWER, send $1 for AWAKE! for one year.

Write 150 Bridgeland Avenue, Toronto, Ont., or ask any Jehovah's Witnesses whom you meet, anywhere. They will be glad to serve you.

P.S. BE SURE TO GET THE OCTOBER 15 SPECIAL ISSUE OF THE WATCHTOWER.

A faithful friend... bringing you daily comfort and convenience

...your telephone!

It is natural to take for granted its little everyday uses. Yet—perhaps it is in these many little ways that we are most often reminded of the wonderful value of that friendly "member-of-the-family"—the telephone.

Honored by co-workers on retirement

Group photographed at a presentation by fellow-workers to Henri St. Onge, retiring from the C.P.R. after 46 years' service. Among this gathering in the freight building at the station yard, all departments of the local depot are represented — passenger, telegraph, express, freight, customs and sectionmen.

CPR man retires after long service

Mr. J. Henri St. Onge spent his last day in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway on Tuesday, October 14, when he retired from service.

Starting when quite young, as a water boy with the section crew, he has worked his way up and during his career has been foreman, assistant agent at Ste. Scholastique, trainman on the Laurentian Division, and finally Chief Clerk here in Lachute.

He has been attached to the local depot during the service of seven successive station agents, namely, P. Monette, P. A. Trottier, J. W. Dumouchel, P. D. Lessard, Jos. Gignac, I. Beriault and the present agent, J. O. Portelance.

With the exception of two years overseas, Mr. St. Onge has spent 46 years with the Company and now retires with the best wishes of his many associates and friends.

Tokens from Business Firms

To mark their appreciation of his services to the business public, a number of citizens gathered as a surprise party last Wednesday afternoon, to tender tangible tokens and good wishes from various firms and industries. Ayers Limited was represented by Thos. Ayers; Dominion Ayers Wood Products by Gérard Lefebvre; J. C. Wilson Company by Philippe Guenette; Lachute Creamery by Horace Lamarche; Lachute Lumber & Millwork Ltd. by Mozart Carrière and Roméo Legault (the latter acting as master of ceremonies); the Caisse Populaire by Robt. Marcil; and the Palace Hotel by Rodrigue Chevrier. Leonard Bedard, a close friend, and L. J. Dumais, son-in-law of Mr. St. Onge, were also among this group of well-wishers.

Fellow-Workers and K. of C. Associates

Later that afternoon, his fellow workers in the C.P.R. assembled to offer good wishes and to present Mr. St. Onge with a tooled leather desk set and a toilet kit. Telegrams from C.P.R. officials and numerous friends were read on this occasion.

At a Knights of Columbus function in the local hall last Sunday, another surprise gesture was tendered by fellow members in honor of Henri St. Onge, a loyal worker in the order for many years. On behalf of the members, Horace Lamarche made the presentation of a K. of C. signet ring.

Hallowe'en Foolishness

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

The end of October with its celebration of Hallowe'en is a time of fun and frolic whose origin goes far back in time. In the old Celtic calendar, October 31 was the last day of the year and on this night witches and warlocks walked about and held their wicked revels. The ancient Romans, early in November, had a festival in honor of Pomoma, goddess of fruit trees. The Druids in Britain had a festival in honor of the Sun God and in thanksgiving for the harvest. They believed Samon, Lord of Death, called together the witches on that night.

In the Middle Ages in Britain, many people believed that the spirits of the dead were allowed to return and visit their homes on Hallowe'en. The eve of this festival came to be called "All Hallow E'en or All Saint's Eve" — with hallow having the same meaning as our word "holy". The early church fathers kept this and many other festivals, which had a pagan beginning, and gave to them a Christian significance.

Witches and spirits don't cut a very big figure in our land — except on October 31. Perhaps it is just as well.

The oldtimers of Scottish descent relate that on this date bonfires used to be lit before each home. A circle of stone was placed by the members of the family around the glowing embers, each one putting one stone in place. It was a bad omen for the owner of the stone, if it moved in its position during the night of October 31.

The character, Jack O'Lantern, is said to have come from the Emerald Isle where a man was shut out from heaven because he was so mean. This is difficult to believe of an Irishman! However, so the story goes, he was such a practical joker, that it was considered Hades was not the place for him. His punishment was to walk the earth till the final Judgment day.

In the junior grade of public school, the students have a happy time drawing illustrations of witches and black cats and pumpkins and making decorations. Mother and Dad may think these "art treasures" a bit crude, but they have been fun to make and there is always value in satisfying effort. Don't fail your youngster by not taking an interest in the drawing he brings home for you to see!

In homes where there are three, four or five year-olds who are longing to "do things!" an investment in an orange poster paint jar is a good idea. A three-year-old will likely want to paint the whole sheet orange, but an older child can draw and color pumpkins. These little poster paint pots are more satisfactory for a small child's use than the usual paint box, and they are not much more expensive because they do last for quite a long time.

Spread out newspapers on a table or the kitchen floor if you have no easel, give your child a large sheet of paper, and then let him go ahead and paint whatever he likes! He needs no adult directions for this activity.

Maple Candy – year-round favorite

You'll find Maple Brittle and Maple Fudge easy to make and delightful in flavor. Why not make some of each? While you're at it wrap up a pretty dish full of candy to take along to a shut-in friend next time you visit them.

Maple Brittle

Combine 2 cups maple syrup, 2 tablespoons butter, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar and a few grains salt in a saucepan and boil to 280°F. or until syrup, when dropped into cold water, forms a rather brittle thread which piles up in zigzag fashion. To prevent formation of sugar crystals, do not stir syrup. Immediately pour into a lightly greased 7" x 7" pan, being careful not to add scrapings from saucepan. When firm enough, mark into squares. When cold, invert pan and tap gently on bottom to remove candy. Break into squares.

Maple Fudge

Measure 2 cups of maple syrup and 4 tablespoons butter into a large saucepan and boil to 234°F. or until syrup just holds together when dropped into cold water, not ice water. Remove from heat and let cool to lukewarm. Then beat until mixture begins to lose its gloss. Pour immediately into a lightly buttered 8" x 4" loaf pan. Cut into squares before it has completely hardened.

First secretary of Federated W. Inst.

"Quebec's loss is Ottawa's gain", says a communiqué from Q.W.I. headquarters. "Our Mrs. Taylor", as she has been known to every member of the Quebec Women's Institutes since she first organized the Provincial Office at Macdonald College 10 years ago, is now in Ottawa setting up her office as the first National Secretary of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada (FWIC). The congratulations and best wishes of all the Q.W.I. go with her.

The new office of National Secretary is at 34 Central Chambers, 46 Elgin Street, Ottawa, Ont.

The first sniff of autumn seems to give homemakers the urge to paint everything in sight. As the woman of the house often wields the brush, here are some tips:

Paint can be rough on the hands, so use hand lotion on hands, arms and face, dig your nails into a cake of soap, and to be especially safe, wear gloves. The lotion will offset the drying effects of paint, varnish, or solvents, and will simplify removing the paint.

At work, the quickest and most effective way of painting wood furniture is by spraying. You can reach crevices and hollows with a spray that a brush would skim.

Experts suggest a good exterior enamel for wood or rattan furniture rather than ordinary house paint which may "chalk" and soil clothes.

House paint can be used, however, if you add a finish coat of varnish.

Auto enamel is one of the best finishes for steel furniture, but asphaltum paint, which has good resistance to weather, will give wrought iron the proper dull-black appearance.

And when it's all done, clean the brush on paper and rinse it in turpentine or a solvent. Then dry it, wrap in paper and store flat.

Cut Calories

Using a non-caloric sweetener can really take the fatteners from your diet.

The following recipe for prune whip contains only 98 calories a servings, against 227 if made with sugar.

Ingredients: half-pound dried prunes, one cup water, one teaspoon unflavored gelatin, one tablespoon water, four egg whites, two teaspoons lemon juice, two teaspoons sweetener.

Simmer prunes in water until soft. Pit prunes and force through food mill (with the juice they are cooked in). Soften gelatin in one tablespoon water; dissolve over hot water. Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually beat in the dissolved gelatin, lemon juice and sweetener. Then fold in the prune pulp. Chill.

Save extra laundry on baby bonnets by attaching the ribbons with gripper snappers. Then the ribbons can be removed for the extra washing they require.

All-new Meteor is your kind of car. Fresh, trim of line, exclusively Canadian. Completely redesigned and distinctively restyled Meteor is a step up—a car ahead in its field in everything but price.

It runs on regular gas best. Six or V-8, you'll gain on mileage, too. Meteor's new Econ-O-Fuel engine design not only saves you money by the mile, but it also means better performance where you need it most. And with Meteor's full-flow oil filter, you'll only need to change oil every 4,000 miles. Another saving is a new aluminized muffler that lasts twice as long. And Meteor for 59 adds pleasure to savings.

There's almost six inches more legroom . . . 450 inches more viewing area . . . a heater that can't overheat . . . new Econ-O-Matic, the simplest, most economical automatic. Interiors have extra luxuries like individually night-lit controls and a more convenient foot-operated parking brake.

A 59 Meteor is an upward step in every way but price.

It brings you new assurance in safety features that include a deep-dish steering wheel, safety door locks and a wide-contour frame for all-around passenger protection.

There's more that's new, more that's desirable in Canada's exclusive fine car in the low-price field.

See 59's newest, the 59 Meteor, soon. Only then will you know how fine a low-price car can be. Make distinctive Meteor your upward step for 1959!

When did the Frog Lake Massacre occur?

The white inhabitants of the settlement of Frog Lake, now in Saskatchewan, were slain by Indians during the Riel Rebellion. The only man to survive was William Bleasdell Cameron, who was in charge of the Hudson's Bay Company Post there. He was taken prisoner by Big Bear's band of Cree Indians and held captive for two months. He wrote a book about this adventure which was re-issued in 1950 as "Blood Red the Sun". He edited the Fort Frances Times, and later settled in Vermilion, Alberta, where he founded and edited the Vermilion Signal.

Who served a jail sentence in his underwear?

William James Herder, who founded the St. John's Evening Telegram, Newfoundland's first daily newspaper, in 1879, was a great champion of the freedom of the press. He once was cited for contempt of court for refusing to name the writer of a letter that appeared in his newspaper, and was sentenced to 30 days in jail. He declined to wear prison garb and wore only his underwear for four days, by which time a petition signed by almost every adult in St. John's won his release. The newspaper still is published by his descendants.

Where was the first meal ever cooked by electric power served?

One of many ingenious electrical inventions by Thomas Ahearn, Ottawa-born industrialist and inventor, was used to cook a dinner served at the Windsor Hotel in Ottawa. This was said to be the first meal ever cooked by electric power. The invention probably was one of the electrical devices which won him a gold medal at the Ottawa exhibition in 1892. Beginning as a telegraph operator, he soon began to show his genius for inventing electrical apparatus. In 1882 he established the firm of Ahearn & Soper, electrical engineers and contractors, which built long-distance telephone lines from Pembroke to Quebec, and also land lines of the Commercial Cable Company from ocean to ocean. In June 1891, the firm established in Ottawa the third electric street railway in North America.

Hospital Denies Unqualified Man Delivered Babies

Jack Brett, now a reporter on the Prince George, B.C., Citizen, says he obtained a position on the staff of St. Paul's hospital in Vancouver and, though his medical knowledge was obtained from reading medical books, he delivered three babies with only nurses in attendance. Hospital authorities admit he was on staff but say he did not deliver the infants. He could be fined $100 for unauthorized practice of medicine.

Amateur fliers have busy club

Edmonton (CP) — Private flying is a big business here and the Edmonton Flying Club has a full-time staff of 24 and the largest membership of any flying club in Canada.

The club started in 1927 with two Moth aircraft, a shed and a small membership. Today its 1,000 members have the use of a dozen club-owned aircraft.

Through the years its members have included such men as Grant McConachie, president of Canadian Pacific Airlines; James Bell, manager of the Edmonton municipal airport and Art Rankin, chief pilot with Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Moss Burbidge, instructor with the club for 10 years, won the McKee trophy, Canada's highest civil aviation award, in the late 1930's.

The flying club now has a large hangar in which 70 aircraft owned by members are stored. Breakfast "fly-ins" to other towns are part of the summer club schedule, and two nights a week are devoted to night flying.

Annually, 20 to 30 RCAF cadets are trained at the club and awarded flying scholarships by the RCAF. One of these students won the Banker Bates trophy in 1950 as the best cadet pilot in the country. Numerous other awards have gone to club members.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Because of the convenience of car travel, visiting has become a major national pastime.

Guests, however, can either "break" you or be a pleasant social break — depending on your ingenuity.

Recently, on a tour through the prairies, I observed a sensible change from the accepted method of extending invitations. It's an invitation which subtracts hospitality's economic hazards, adds hilarity and multiplies its frequency. It's the "pot-luck" dinner party.

The hostess supplies the main course of the meal. But she has no qualms about assigning each invited couple to bring either appetizers, relishes, desserts, punch, or any other portion of the food. A round-robin arrangement alternates the hostesses' chores, keeps expenses and work down to an enjoyable minimum. Incidentally, the share-the-work arrangement extends to the men. They do the dishes.

In horse and buggy days, the parlour was kept closed except for weddings, funerals and the gathering of the clan on Thanksgiving or Christmas. Today, although the car has scattered us, it has also brought about a more informal sociability. Visiting no longer requires such elaborate preparation either by the traveller or the hostess, even on traditional feast days.

And it doesn't require pots full of money either — if you and your friends organize "pot-luck" parties!

DAYLIGHT TIME

If daylight time is to be of any benefit to the farmer, the only period in the year in which this would be the case is during the shortening days of the fall.

Garden Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY

A simple method of obtaining new peonies is by dividing old plants. However, this applies only to peonies which have been in the ground from three to five years. In addition to giving you new plants, dividing does the old ones good.

Dividing is best done from September to November, and the earlier the better.

After digging up an old clump, cut back the stem to four inches. After dividing the clump, each section should have a piece of root attached to a portion of the crown and one or more eyes or buds, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Dust the cut surfaces with sulphur before replanting.

Good blooms can be expected the second year after planting and with care and feeding the plants should continue to thrive for many years.

New peonies can also be had by layering the lower stem of an established plant, as shown in the Garden-Graph. This, too, is best done in the fall. The layered and rooted stem may be severed from the parent plant for two years.

Peonies when properly planted do not require winter protection, except during the first winter after planting.

Morin Heights

(Intended for last issue)

Mrs. Wm. R. Bell was in Montreal attending the Teachers' Convention, also visiting with her mother-in-law, Mrs. R. B. Bell, in Verdun.

Mr. and Mrs. Graeme Bell spent Thanksgiving with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bell. Mr. Bell was also here for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gillingham and daughters, of Toronto, visited with relatives recently.

Plans for Church Hall

Trinity Anglican Church is making plans for the immediate construction of a church hall. The site will be on the main street, purchased recently from Mrs. F. Partridge for $4,000, of which she donated $1,000 towards the Hall fund. The location is one of the finest spots in the village, and will fill the needs of the Sunday School and the many activities of the church organizations.

Entertained for Bride-Elect

Those who entertained for Mrs. B. F. Waugh (formerly Miss Beverley Woods) prior to her marriage were — Mrs. Bernice Coolon, at a cup and saucer shower; Miss G. McDonnell, at a kitchen shower; and Miss M. Pagé, at a personal shower.

Christenings

At the Church of St. Francis in St. Sauveur recently the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jacobsen, of Ste. Rose, was christened, receiving the names Peter Eric. The Rev. H. G. Baugh officiated. On Sunday evening, October 12, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Korte, of Ottawa, received the names Mary Lou.

Wed in Morin Hts., couple to reside at Elmwood, Ont.

Waugh - Woods

In Trinity Anglican Church, Morin Heights, on September 27, the marriage took place of Beverley Mary, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Woods, to Mr. Bev Francis Waugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Waugh, of Owen Sound, Ont., with the Rev. H. G. Baugh officiating.

Mr. Carl Elder played the wedding music. The church was prettily decorated with gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a cocktail-length dress of white satin and lace, fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a circular band of gilt-de-soie, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white mums.

The bridesmaid was Miss Madeleine Pagé, wearing yellow nylon chiffon and carrying a bouquet of yellow roses and white mums.

Mr. Ivan Legge, cousin of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Sterling Woods and Mr. Melvin Woods, brothers of the bride.

Following a reception at Rock Cliff Inn, Mr. and Mrs. Waugh left for their wedding trip. The bride chose for her going-away costume a cocoa-brown suit, beige feather hat and brown accessories.

The couple motored through the States en route to Elmwood, Ont., where they will reside.

Out-of-town guests were from Owen Sound, Elmwood, Walkerton, Dabbinton, Ont.; Montreal, Lachute and Dunany.

Ring prospects in heavyweight class

SPORTS CAMERA

By Milt MacPhail,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Nothing excites certain boxing fans more than the idea of an up-and-coming heavyweight steadily fighting his way toward a title bout.

For years the heavyweight champion has been an American and most of the leading challengers were Americans. Now, some new candidates have appeared and it looks as though the top ranking contenders will be found outside the United States.

Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, undefeated European heavyweight king, currently is the No. 1 contender for Floyd Patterson's world title following his recent one-round knockout of previously unbeaten Eddie Machen. Another American hope, Willie Pastrano, was stopped in the fifth round by British heavyweight champion Brian London. Johansson and London now are matched to fight for the Swede's European championship next June, unless Johansson gets a crack at Patterson.

Right here in Canada, Toronto's George Chuvalo is considered a good possibility. Canadian fight fans, and many observers in the United States, are still optimistic over his prospects. (Ring Magazine ranked Chuvalo as the 10th leading heavyweight in the world prior to his defeat last week by Pat McMurtry at Madison Square Garden.)

Yvon Durelle, the British Empire light-heavyweight champion from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., is one fighter who likes to keep busy. Part of Durelle's training for his world title bout with champion Archie Moore in Montreal December 10 is three or four tuneup bouts. Yvon started tuning up when he knocked out Louis Jones of Rockford, Ill., in the second round of their bout at Moncton. The victory was the 76th, and 40th knockout, for Durelle in 98 pro bouts.

Boy Scout groups aid youngster

Vancouver (CP) — Scouting in Canada today is concerned about the three boys in every four who do not belong to a youth group, says Fred J. Finlay.

The 55-year-old chief executive commissioner of the Boy Scouts Association of Canada said in an interview here there are 250,000 Cubs, Scouts and Leaders in Canada's Boy Scouts, or one boy in five in Cubs, and one in 10 in Scouts.

The association would like to see a better ratio, especially from boys who do not belong to any association, he said. More adult leadership at the volunteer and committee levels is needed to achieve this.

Because there is more for youth to do today than say 50 years ago, the general age of Scouts is dropping, he said. Scouting officials hope through current reorganization and program extension to retain more of the 16 years and older group.

TORONTO TO HAVE MODERNISTIC CITY HALL

Critics call it a clamshell, an oyster or a half-eaten hot dog, but to Torontonians it's their new city hall and, if nothing else, it will be the subject of controversy for decades. The design was chosen by a panel of judges in a world-wide contest. The circular building to the right will rise 350 feet high, taller than the present highest structure in the British Commonwealth, the Bank of Commerce building, three blocks distant. Between the two crescents is a council chamber, saucer-shaped and low, which inspires the critics' label of "oyster."

$56,000 a year on Bible translation

An average of $56,000 a year is spent by the British and Foreign Bible Society on the translation work which precedes publication of Scriptures. At the present time the translations department of the Society is working in 283 languages.

Many of these are for Africa and Asia. In Africa alone the Scriptures are now distributed in 300 languages and to the extent of 1,000,000 volumes a year.

Publication of the gospels of St. Mark and St. John in some of the leading vernacular newspapers in India created so much interest that voluntary workers were needed to cope with the correspondence.

JOLSON NOTES

By Irvin R. Warwick

The following item appeared recently in Danton Walker's "Broadway" column, New York Daily News: "The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce to immortalize Al Jolson further with marble sidewalk blocks in three locations in the film capital after the first of the year. Decca is putting out a LP record taken from tape just discovered in a California vault, all tunes sung by Jolson on the old Kraft Music Hall Show. . . ."

This item was accompanied by a picture of Al. The LP referred to is "The Immortal Al Jolson", a really great record available at your Decca dealer's.

"Struggling to Stay Alive"

— By Lewis Milligan —

What I don't know about banking and high-finance would fill a large-sized book, so that I hesitate to enter into the present discussion of the rights and wrongs of the International Monetary Fund and International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. That is quite a verbal mouthful and it must involve the collection and distribution of an enormous amount of money. The only trouble is in getting enough contributors to the Fund to meet all the demands by poor and undeveloped countries.

India is one of those needy countries, and Prime Minister Nehru has complained that his country is not getting enough to carry out his ambitious five-year plans of development. It seems that some of the World Bank economists have contended that India might be attempting too much in those plans. To that Mr. Nehru has replied that his plans were not ambitious enough when "measured against the needs of a continent stagnating for centuries." He argued that the real division of today's world was not between Communists and anti-Communists. The great divide, he said, was between have-not nations, "struggling to stay alive," and those with highly developed industrial economies. He expressed India's gratitude to the World Bank for assistance given "in the past and present." India, with loans amounting to over half a billion dollars, is the bank's largest borrower.

All this came out at a meeting of the Monetary Fund's representatives at New Delhi. It was reported that President Eisenhower's proposals to strengthen the bank and fund by increasing their capital reserves would meet "over-whelming approval." But it was pointed out that the bulk of the money would have to come from the United States, West Germany and Britain, "none of which showed an excess of enthusiasm today."

No mention was made of what the Soviet Union might contribute or whether it has contributed anything at all. This is rather strange, for the five-year plan was a socialistic venture. Mr. Nehru admitted that it was to be an experiment in socialism, and he has the audacity to appeal to capitalist countries for funds to ensure its success! If, as Mr. Nehru says, India today is "struggling to stay alive," he himself must share most of the responsibility for that condition. He and his party were in too great a hurry to take over the government of India from the British. They made a Declaration of Independence, with the result that the whole country was thrown into a state of civil war and is now divided into several states, none of which is really independent. They are entirely dependent upon outside help and "struggling to stay alive."

Mr. Nehru recently expressed a desire to retire as leader in that struggle, but was persuaded to stay on. Presumably, his followers reminded him that he was the Moses who led them out into the wilderness and that he had no right to leave them there.

Have You A Question on UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any point do not hesitate to send us your question. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Following are some questions with answers which may be of interest to you:

Q. One of my acquaintances was dismissed from his employment because he made false entries on his time card. Will this affect his claim for benefit?

A. Falsifying a time card would be regarded as industrial misconduct. Consequently, the claimant would be disqualified from receiving benefit for a maximum period of six weeks.

Q. I had to leave my employment when my request for a week's leave of absence to attend to some personal business was refused by my employer. Will I be disqualified from benefit?

A. The Umpire, who is the final authority under the Unemployment Insurance Act, has held that absence from work to attend to personal matters does not constitute just cause for leaving a job. However, all of the circumstances such as the reason for the request, the urgency of the business, etc., would be considered by the insurance officer and the period of disqualification fixed accordingly.

Q. My husband is an old man now, but has paid into the unemployment insurance fund since it first started. Is there anything in it for him when he retires or if he should get sick?

A. The Unemployment Insurance Act insures your husband against loss of work if he is available for work but for industrial or economic reasons cannot obtain it. To qualify for benefit he must therefore show that he is unemployed, ready and willing to take work if it is available, and unable to obtain suitable employment. If when he retires he is not interested in obtaining other employment, he will not be eligible for benefit.

The Act does not insure him against loss of work because of illness. However, if he were unemployed and receiving benefit and happened to become sick, his benefit would not be stopped on that account.

RECALLS WAR RECORD OF FAMED ST. CROIX

Ottawa, Oct. 8 (CP) — When the navy commissions HMCS St. Croix this month, the new destroyer falls heir to the proud wartime record of her namesake. The first St. Croix was one of 50 old U.S. destroyers turned over to Britain in 1940, and with five others was commissioned in the Royal Canadian Navy.

She sank her first submarine on convoy escort in 1942 and bagged another the next year. But in September, 1943, she was sunk by a homing torpedo, one of the first victims of this acoustic device. Only 81 of her 147 crew were rescued, and in turn they were torpedoed aboard the British frigate Itchen and only one of the St. Croix's original crew survived.

1st Anniversary, Bank of Montreal in Ayersville

Ayersville's first bank — the local office of the Bank of Montreal — marks its first birthday next Tuesday, concluding a year of service to local people, according to Donald M. Hay, manager of the Lachute B of M, under whose direction the Ayersville office operates.

The Hamford Street bank first opened its doors on October 28 last year with Miss Louise B. Miller as accountant-in-charge. Since that time it has made an important contribution to the district and has eliminated the need for Ayersville merchants and residents to travel to Lachute to conduct their banking business.

Although a newcomer to Ayersville, the B of M has a long record of service across Canada, and has been able to place the huge resources of the parent bank behind individual communities.

Over 140 years old, the B of M was founded by nine Montreal business men in 1817. Two weeks after the opening of the Montreal Bank, as it was first known, the B of M opened an office in Quebec City, thereby initiating the Canadian branch banking system, one of the finest in the world.

RARE SPECIES

Granby, Que. (CP) — A pair of monkeys of a rare species were given to the Granby Zoo on its recent 10th anniversary by the director of the Royal Society of Antwerp, Belgium.

Finds deep support of church in Yukon

Montreal (CP) — A transient population is a problem facing the church in the Canadian northland, says Rt. Rev. Tom Greenwood, Anglican Bishop of the Yukon.

"It is difficult at times for a particular church to maintain a constant congregation since many of the people are mining families and move about," said Bishop Greenwood while here for a visit.

"But there is still a deep active interest in religion, and the population of the Yukon now is about 12,000, an increase of more than 30 percent from 1956."

He said the Yukon in recent years has progressed by leaps and bounds in many fields, particularly education and industry. And the area was easily accessible, with "fine gravel roads" linking main centres.

At Whitehorse, there is a 1,000-student school that serves the district for miles around. Christ Church (Anglican) Cathedral there, built in 1900, is believed the only log-built cathedral in the Commonwealth.

A graduate of Trinity College, University of Toronto, the Anglican prelate served as vicar of the Church of St. Peter at Hale, Cheshire, in England, during the Second World War.

He was later assigned to the Fort McMurray mission in Northern Alberta and in 1949 served as a missionary in Yellowknife, N.W.T.

He was consecrated Bishop of Victoria five years later and succeeded Archbishop W. R. Adams at Whitehorse shortly after.

Dwarf geraniums suit small homes

The popularity of smaller, compact homes is expected to turn Canadian attention to dwarf geraniums, long known in Europe as a house plant.

G. S. Swain of the Experimental Farm at Kentville, N.S., reports that the dwarf geranium develops to maturity in a three-inch pot and produces single or double flowers in a variety of colors and with green or fancy-colored foliage as required. Aldebaran, Brookes Barnes and Salmon Comet are recommended.

The semi-dwarf geranium can be obtained for landscaping where low-growing annuals and bedding plants are required to make the most of a small area. Among these, Emma Hossler, Kleiner Leibling, Mr. Everaarts and Red Spider are well known.

Both dwarf and semi-dwarf can be propagated as easily as the standard plant and reach maturity in about the same time.

OX-CARTS FEATURE YORKTON FESTIVAL

Yorkton, Sask. (CP) — This town 100 miles northeast of Regina had a three-day festival to celebrate its 75th birthday.

While pioneer families from the district watched, ox-carts rolled into town to re-enact the founding of Yorkton. Citizens were clad in old-time costume.

Ancient combines and threshing machines were demonstrated. Doukhobor women baked golden loaves of bread in outdoor ovens. Indians from the Whitecap and Thunderbird bands put on displays of tepee erection and camp-breaking.

About 20,000 persons watched the shows at night, with programs of Hungarian, Swedish, Indian and Ukrainian folk dances.

Ask governments get together on food reserves, and world agriculture

Ottawa, Oct. 14 — Bold and determined action by the governments of the world to establish agencies for the use of the world's food and raw material reserves — in the interests of human welfare and a healthy world agriculture — was asked by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture at the world farmers' conference in Brussels.

An eight-man Canadian delegation attended the 10th Conference of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers. This world organization is made up of national farm organizations of 30 countries, on five continents.

H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, addressed the opening session on the grounds of the International Exhibition. He said there is no lack of proposals and studies in this field of international co-operation. What is needed is the will to implement them. The fundamental concept, he said, of an international agency through which governments would adopt joint programs for utilizing the world's reserves of food and raw materials in such a way as to realize their value for human welfare, at the same time avoiding the undermining of the agricultural trade and economies of exporters and importers, is one that IFAP wholeheartedly endorses.

"The renewal of the present International Wheat Agreement when it expires next year is an urgent need for ensuring stable and reasonable prices for world trade in wheat, and a substantial volume of trade at such prices," it was unanimously declared by world farmers at the concluding sessions.

"Of the questions before the conference, Canada's most immediate and pressing interest was in the wheat agreement," Dr. H. H. Hannam, said. The conference, he noted, not only firmly declared for a new International Wheat Agreement, but also made proposals that the International Wheat Council that administers the agreements should be the international agency through which surplus disposal to underdeveloped countries should be kept on an orderly basis.

"Canada has always pressed through IFAP for better international co-operation, in dealing with the problems of world agriculture," Dr. Hannam said, "and this year is no exception."

Resolutions were passed firmly endorsing the principles of international commodity agreements. "A highly critical world butter surplus problem today has drastically reduced world butter prices and much conference discussion was devoted to this problem," Dr. Hannam noted.

James G. Patton, President of the National Farmers Union of the United States was elected President of IFAP, succeeding John Andrews of New Zealand. Dr. Hannam was reappointed an executive member.

Insulated barn defies cold and stormy weather

Dairy barns need insulation to conserve animal-produced heat, which maintains suitable temperatures for comfort and effective ventilation.

Insulating, says J. W. White, Field Husbandry Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, must remain dry to be effective. It must be protected from the weather on the outside and from moisture on the inside.

Insulation may be nailed to the inside of studs in sheet form, tacked in between the studs or joists in bat form, or packed between the studs.

Air Movement

Moist air constantly moves from the inside of a dairy barn to the outside, and moisture-proof materials are valuable in keeping insulation dry. These include tough fibrous paper coated with tar, a thin metallic material glued to paper, or plastic films.

Thickness of insulation hinges on the number of livestock, desired barn temperature, and the outside temperature. A barn at Whitehorse, Yukon, would, for instance, require better insulation than one in Southern Ontario.

Concludes Mr. White: "A dry dairy barn that can hold the desired temperature in cold, stormy weather is a great asset and well worth the expense of proper insulation."

Brown Hay Can Cause Losses

Brown hay is something like toast, or like the heel of a freshly baked loaf of bread. Some parts of the starch and the protein have become caramelized and taste sweet.

So it is not surprising that when a little brown, tobacco-cured hay is offered to cows, they eagerly reach for it and obviously relish the taste of it. But, is it as good as the action of the cows seems to indicate? No, it is not. As a matter of fact, this brown hay is lowered in nutritional value, particularly reduced in vitamins and proteins which were destroyed in the browning process.

Dr. Bohstedt

Hay, to become browned has to be damp when put into the stack or barn. This is seldom done intentionally. To prevent the browning, and loss of nutrients, many farmers sprinkle from 10 to 20 pounds of salt per ton on the hay as it is put into stacks or the barn. Of course, if the hay is excessively damp, even salt cannot be depended upon to prevent browning.

When stored damp, the hay passes through a severe sweating process, sometimes reaching a temperature that is not far from that necessary for spontaneous combustion. The process is comparable to that of making charcoal, where outside air is excluded in a process of maintaining heat while preventing flames.

If all at once in the high temperature of browning, the hay should be torn apart, it might very well burst into flames.

While the browned hay is eagerly eaten, its value as a tasty tidbit is more than offset by its vitamin and protein loss. Some European experiments have shown that the overheated and "case hardened" protein of brown hay is practically indigestible.

At the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station some years ago when brown hay was compared with green hay of the same kind, the cows at the beginning liked the brown hay, but soon tired of it.

If fed as the only roughage for months at a time, particularly to young stock, severe nutritional deficiencies are bound to appear and these "brown hay" deficiencies spell losses to the farmers.

Question: Why is it that shredded corn stover heats and steams so much more than corn shreds did before we grew hybrid corn?

Answer: Hybrid corn is not afflicted with root rot as much as the open-pollinated corn and partly for this reason stays green longer. The stalks retain their moisture longer and need a longer period of drying in the field before shredding and stacking or storing in the barn. A lot also depends on the particular strain of hybrid corn.

Make the MOST of Your "Young Stuff"

Your "young stuff" — chicks, calves, pigs, poultry — are the foundation of your future livestock capital and income. It's important to see that this foundation is well and truly laid.

"Well begun is half done". . . "It's the first step that counts". . . "A good beginning is half the battle". . . . "A young thing never gets over a bad start — or a good one". . . There's a lot of practical sense in these proverbs!

Here's another angle. Young things have "the urge to grow". Their ability to make full use of good feed, their "feed efficiency", is highest during their first few weeks or months.

It's sound business to take advantage of that fact, and the scientific knowledge of growth nutrition Purina offers you — putting the two together to work for you.

For growthy, thrifty, clean-cut calves, and a real saving in time, work and money, feed Calf Startena to 4 months.

IMPERIAL HELPS YOU FEEL SECURE WHEN THEY FLY

For as long as Canadians have flown, Imperial's leadership in aviation fuels and lubricants has helped make flying safer, surer

Canada's earliest airmen depended on Imperial aviation products, in war and in peace. Imperial gasoline powered Canada's first air mail flight, in 1918.

As more modern planes flew, Imperial research provided them with the new fuels they needed. For many years, Imperial was the only Canadian manufacturer of aviation alkylate, an essential ingredient of aviation gasoline.

The special skills and technical knowledge acquired over the years make Imperial the nation's major supplier of aviation fuels.

MIGHTY MERCURY TRUCKS

Introducing for '59

LIGHT DUTY SIX OR V-8—New payoff-proved Mercury Light Duties are here with many new improvements, new advancements. Both Six and V-8 engines run best on lower-priced, regular gasoline. Handsome new styling combines with Mercury's big capacities to give you trucks that look like a million, yet work for pennies. An industry-new seat covering wears twice as long as former fabrics. New Multi-Drive Merc-O-Matic provides two automatic driving ranges for all conditions. New power transfer differential helps prevent bogging down in mud, snow or on ice. Your Mercury Truck dealer has the full story.

MEDIUM DUTY SIX OR V-8—'59 Mercury Medium Duties offer you payoff-proved economy, power and comfort in conventional, tilt cab and school bus models. But '59's story doesn't end there. They're new from modern grille to far more durable seat covering materials. New improvements in both Six and V-8 engines give you full short-stroke power from lower-priced, regular gasoline. A new internal shoe parking brake, standard on all Mercury Medium Duties, gives nearly 50% greater holding ability. These are just a few of the payoff-proved features that make Mercury Trucks Canada's best buys for profitable medium duty trucking.

HEAVY AND SUPER DUTY V-8—'59 Mercury Trucks give you more of what you want for Heavy and Super Duty operations. These payoff-proved giants in conventional, tilt cab and tandem models feature Mercury's rugged V-8 engines. And they run best on lower-priced, regular gasoline. A wide range of transmissions includes the fully automatic Transmatic and the 8-Speed Roadranger. New rear axles and lower rear axle ratios give you top capacity and economy. Cabs feature stronger construction, heavier sheet metal reinforcements and longer wearing seat fabrics. Get the full story from your Mercury Truck dealer.

THEATRE DESTROYED; DISASTROUS SPREAD OF FIRE AVERTED

Heavy loss in midnight conflagration; Lachute and Brownsburg crews fight Main Street blaze from all angles

It was a long time coming, but the fire that has been expected for years by local firemen arrived with such force that it wiped out the Cinema Lachute, local movie house, causing damage in the immediate vicinity of $120,000. The call was received at 12.20 a.m. Tuesday and firemen were on the scene all night, several of the local volunteers leaving around 10 a.m. yesterday. Adjoining buildings of Chas. McFaul and Son, and the adjoining Assad Block now owned by Ed Manseau, were saved from the raging flames and only slight smoke damage resulted. Also consumed was the former garage of L. J. Dumais Reg'd., at the rear of the Assad Block, owned by Donat Saulnier. Mr. Dumais, however, saved his trucks and the majority of other possessions.

The fire, at first believed to have been localized in the rear section of the theatre, spread throughout the building, apparently racing along the tar-painted inside of the cement blocks and wall covering, and from here going into the roof, ceiling and air-conditioning unit.

It was at first believed by Chief Fernand Trépanier, who directed operations, that the fire was caused by a furnace explosion. This was later found to be incorrect by insurance adjusters, who (at last report) were stumped on the cause, attributing it to a short-circuit near the tarred walls or in the air conditioning system. This has not been officially confirmed, however.

Burning embers drifted down on warehouses, sheds and garages to the west of the theatre, but thanks to recent wet weather, and to metal roofs in a number of cases, the sparks caused no outbreak in this direction. One neighbor took the precaution to connect his garden hose, and others removed their cars from garages in the line of fire.

Raymond Beaulieu, manager of the concern for Quebec Cinema, (owned by Wm. and Thomas Trow), reports the gutted structure as a total loss. The evening's receipts and papers pertaining to the operation of the theatre were, however, recovered from the safe later Tuesday morning.

Mr. Beaulieu reports leaving the theatre at 11.05, just an hour and 15 minutes before the outbreak was reported. Persons passing on Main Street at this time, saw no evidence of fire in the front section of the building, but at the same time the rear of the cement block structure was virtually a raging inferno. At times early in the fire, the flames swept through the rear exit doors off Berry Street, and lapped at the roof of the structure despite a line of water in each door.

The local brigade, working under difficulties from the time of their arrival, appeared to have the blaze under control when the already stiff breeze increased in strength, and necessitated the calling in of the Brownsburg brigade. This crew arrived shortly after two a.m., and under Chief Arthur Robbins, laid three lines of hose to effectively combat the blaze from spreading to the buildings on the west side, owned by Mrs. J. H. Mason, and the C.P.R. station across Berry Street, where some 30-odd windows were cracked from the intense heat.

Part of the rear section of the wall collapsed and from this reporter's view, at the end of a hose on top of the Chas. McFaul store, flames appeared to be reaching out to within a short distance of the Mason property.

The fire in the front of the theatre was battled from the lobby and entrance doorways, as well as from the two adjoining buildings. The men on the McFaul building managed to check the flames in this section of the roof, but were eventually forced off the roof by smoke and the intense heat of the burning tar-and-gravel roof.

A portion of the wall near Beaton's parking area crumbled, several firemen narrowly escaping injury. This ignited the garage occupied by L. J. Dumais Reg'd, but by this time, all but some 50-odd cases of motor oil had been taken from the building. The remainder, however, ignited, and caused considerable trouble for firemen, who had to battle flames in the small tin-lined, asbestos-siding building for several hours. The oil, however, did not explode.

All three firefighting vehicles were at the fire, including the condemned ladder truck, and Tuesday morning not a single length of hose was left on either of the trucks still at the scene of the all-night blaze. The Lachute crew battled the blaze with seven lines of hose, a total of several thousand feet being laid from five different hydrants.

Many spectators played an important role in combatting the blaze, the local brigade lacking sufficient crew to properly man all hoses laid and at the same time carry on the other duties expected of them.

The cement-block walls, a portion of which fell during the height of the fire, were levelled late Tuesday morning under orders of Police - Fire Chief Fernand Trépanier — the walls being considered a public hazard.

At one stage of the fire, occupants of the Assad Block started moving their furniture out of the threatened structure, but here, as in the case of the McFaul Building, the flames were halted by sufficient deluge of water, good construction, and a wind blowing westward which cleared the heavy smoke enabling firemen to get at the flames.

It was the dense smoke, in evidence throughout the fire that prevented entry to the building at the outset — most of the blaze being concentrated in the ceiling at the start.

Criminal responsibility verdict in child's death

Germain Lacoste, 50-year-old Lachute businessman, was held criminally responsible by a coroner's jury under District Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur on Friday evening last, at an inquest into the death of Linda Chambers, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers, St. Philippe.

A five-man jury returned the verdict on hearing the testimony of eight witnesses, and after a recess of only seven minutes — basing their verdict on Section 36-a of the Quebec Motor Vehicles Act which states "when a motor vehicle overtakes an autobus which is stationary for the purpose of taking on or discharging one or more passengers, the operator of such vehicle shall not drive beyond or meet such autobus." (The law adds that this provision shall not apply within the limits of towns or cities.)

The fatality occurred on Tuesday afternoon of last week when a bus, owned by the Lachute Protestant School board and driven by Wm. Wilson, of Lachute, stopped some three-quarters of a mile west of St. Philippe at 4 p.m. The victim crossed the highway towards her home, passing in front of the stationary bus, and was hit by the car. Her sister, seven-year-old Barbara, then crossed the highway.

A physician, Dr. André Sauvé, was summoned, from Lachute and pronounced the child dead; the body was taken to the local morgue, where identification was made.

The inquest got underway at 8.10 p.m. with Sgt.-Det. Ralph Allen; Crown Prosecutor Marc Boucher; Bernard Bulteau representing Antoine Paré, lawyer for James Chambers, father of the deceased; and Lucien Thinel, as attorney representing Mr. Lacoste.

Following the inquest, Mr. Lacoste was released on $950 property bail before a Justice of the Peace, bail to be good until Friday, when he is scheduled to appear in court for arraignment; he will then register his plea to the charge of manslaughter which has been laid.

Evidence was given by Traffic Officer Lawrence Cruise; school bus driver Wm. Wilson; James Chambers; Quebec Provincial Police photographer Léopold Surprenant; Bobby Gain and Hilda Myres, both passengers on the bus; and Barbara Chambers, younger sister of the deceased.

Evidence was given as to the markings of the halted bus and its position on the highway, Traffic Officer Cruise stating the car driven by Mr. Lacoste was found 82 feet in front of the bus, in the left-hand ditch. Skid marks showed 106 feet and 50 feet, respectively, for the right and left wheels.

Wm. Wilson testified to the fact that, before approaching the Chambers driveway, he noticed a car overtaking him, and took precautions to let the car pass before stopping his vehicle. He noticed another car, but as it was a considerable distance away, did not pay too much attention to it. He stated he heard no horn, and the first indication he had of a mishap, was seeing the car strike the victim.

Bobby Gain and Hilda Myres both gave testimony as to the girl's leaving the bus, the former hearing a horn and squealing brakes, the latter hearing neither.

Barbara, younger sister of the deceased, reported her sister leaving the bus first and standing a short distance behind her at the time of impact. She stated that, in the past, Mr. Wilson had told them before crossing to wait for any car on the highway, but on this occasion, nothing was said.

Mr. Lacoste, driver of the car involved in the accident, reported seeing the bus some 300 to 400 feet away, but stated he saw no flasher or "stop" warning. When he realized the bus was stopped, according to his testimony, he was too close to the vehicle to abide by the law and stop.

In closing the testimony, Dr. Lafleur read Article 36-a of the Motor Vehicles Act (reproduced in part above), and after seven minutes' adjournment the jury returned the verdict of "criminal responsibility".

Ceremonies held for K. of C. Council's 25th anniversary

The Knights of Columbus held colorful ceremonies last Sunday for observance of the 25th anniversary of the local Council.

A special celebration of mass at Ste. Anastasie Church opened the morning proceedings, with the Rev. Paul Dumais as celebrant, assisted by his brother the Rev. Raymond Dumais — both sons of the late J. Emile Dumais, who was charter president of the Council. Assisting also was the Rev. Maurice Valois, son of the late Notary Gaetan Valois, a charter member, and the Rev. Jacques Joannette, son of Gustave Joannette, another member of the Council.

Gaetan Cousineau, general organizer of the celebrations, had the Little Rosary Choir and other juvenile choristers from Montreal under the Rev. J. M. Lamonde, and the Rev. Tougas as organist. This group also presented a concert in the afternoon at l'Ecole Secondaire.

A cocktail party and banquet in the evening was attended by about 350 persons. Roméo Legault was master of ceremonies; Mgr. H. D. J. Brosseau, honorary canon of the Ottawa diocese and an old friend hereabouts, was guest speaker; and musical interludes were provided by the Duhamel orchestra, which later provided accompaniment for the dancing.

The guest speaker was introduced by Lucien Savard and thanked by Gaetan Cousineau. Various toasts were proposed during the banquet ceremony. Floral baskets were presented to wives of the various Grand Knights who had served since inauguration of the Council; and flowers from the tables were also taken to the home of the Rev. L. Eugène Cloutier, chaplain of the Order since its commencement here, who was unable to be present due to illness.

High School opening and prize-giving ceremonies

Innovations in the annual prize-giving proceedings at Lachute High School became necessary this year due to the ever-increasing enrolment; in consequence, the ceremonies in the assembly hall last Friday embraced only the senior grades. There were other changes, too, the customary speeches being superseded by a lengthier program of individual talent and group entertainment by the pupils. . . Generally speaking, the break with routine procedure proved a pleasant change.

For the entertainment feature, Mrs. G. R. Rigby, the H.S. music teacher, was highly complimented by the chairman, Commissioner Lorne Duncan, and the principal, Mr. Fred Royal. Mrs. Rigby, a licentiate from the Royal Academy of Music (London), had tutored the pupils in this creditable program of singing, acting and instrumental numbers. Appreciation was shown on behalf of the school when a young pupil, Marilyn McOuat, presented Mrs. Rigby with a bouquet of roses.

Remarks by Chairman

Regrets were expressed on behalf of Mr. James W. McGibbon, the School Commission chairman and perennial m.c. for this event, and on behalf of the Hon. W. M. Cottingham, both of whom were unavoidably absent.

Commissioner Duncan capably substituted for the former, and in his address as chairman touched briefly on aspects of the school administration and upon trends in education. In this connection, there were increasing costs which inevitably reached the taxpayer, and with its effect on the pocketbook, education had commanded a keener interest from the parents. Educators realized the need to cater to pupils' ability, with consideration to capacity and type, rather than to confining the curriculum to the mass average. Also, there was a noted digression from prescribed

MORE THAN MAKING ICE...

Club primed on rink maintenance and full recreation advantages

There's more to maintaining an ice rink than installing refrigeration and compression and "letting 'er go". The Lions Club rink committee are aware of the problems — but to the lay member, unversed in the science of ice-making, a talk by Herb Linder, recreation director for the Town of Mount Royal, revealed many unsuspected technicalities. . .

The meeting last week was chaired by President Phil Tremblay, and the artificial ice rink was a prominent topic. Lorne Duncan, committee chairman, reported general progress on the undertaking; Bert Rigg outlined steps in construction to date, exhibiting plans for dressing rooms, canteen, etc.; and Donald M. Hay spoke on the financing. All reported the co-operation received had been most encouraging. Jos. Dumais will head up another challenging aspect of this venture, in charge of Administration.

Over 50 men were present, including one or two guests. Royal Carrière was a star performer, in introducing the head-table and also in directing the song session — his quartet again giving a fine performance.

The speaker, a fellow-Lion who has graced the profession of Recreation with experience in two provinces and success in several different centres, had much to say on the technique of ice-making. But ice and skating facilities were but an idle cog in the larger mechanism which he understood to a "T", and a topic he could really warm up to, namely, organized recreation. An organized program was essential to success, envisaging hockey leagues for all ages, and interests for adults. There were financial aspects in operating a rink and incidental facilities. There was a prime need for leadership and motivation — all of which was a step ahead of the Lions Club at its present stage, but revealed in Herb Linden a valuable friend and advisor for their future guidance.

The speaker was immensely impressed by the progress made on this project, since his visit here only two weeks previously. He was ably introduced to the membership by Fernand Legault, and thanked by Horace Lamarche. The latter, as sparkplug of the rink project, and responsible for its materialization this season, spoke at some length on the visitor's views pro and con, and his qualifications to express himself on the project now in hand.

'Andy' Cleland express agent

Andrew ("Andy") Cleland, a ten-year employee of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, was on Monday named local agent to replace Keith Hickson, recently transferred as agent to Sherbrooke.

A resident of this district, Mr. Cleland has been employed as driver, then as clerk at the local office, since his service in the Canadian Army during World War II. He assumes his new responsibilities today.

Man found dead at St. Michel

Armand Bigras, 69-year-old resident of St. Michel de Wentworth, was found dead in his home last Sunday. The discovery was made when his family came to visit him. Arriving from Montreal they found the door barred on the inside. They knocked repeatedly but could get no answer, whereupon they decided to call the police.

Officer Gérard Loyer, of the provincial traffic squad, arrived and forced the door. The body was then found inside — appearances indicating the victim had been dead several days.

District Coroner Dr. Jules Lafleur pronounced the death due to natural causes. The funeral was held Tuesday morning, from the Menard Funeral Home in Lachute.

Inspection tour of 'Bell' dial exchange

Automatic dial telephones having completed a year of satisfactory operation at the Lachute exchange, Bell Telephone Co. extended an invitation last week to leaders of various clubs, corporations and industries to inspect the complex equipment which makes this operation possible and gives efficient service to subscribers in this area.

The members of Brownsburg - Lachute Rotary Club were escorted through the plant last Thursday evening. On Friday afternoon only a small group of citizens took advantage of the more general invitation, but these few, hospitably received by the manager, Dick Pearson, and technical officials of the plant, found the visit highly instructive.

The new extension to the Bell premises on Water Street affords space for the expansive and intricate equipment required in the dial operation. The premises are kept specklessly clean; this, in the ultimate nerve centre of the system, the equipment room, avoids possibility of dust interrupting the delicate mechanism or causing short circuits.

One of the plant technicians, Wm. B. (Bill) Swail, acted as guide to the group, while Guy Sigouin, plant foreman of Central Office, was on hand to inform them on broader aspects of the Company's operations.

In "corridors", banked high with apparatus, there are sliding ladders by which the technicians can reach in and make necessary adjustments. Circulating through these lanes the visitors saw the numerous devices for protection of the thousands of interconnecting circuits, and for testing their efficiency.

Much space, understandably, is occupied by the selectors, by which the manual dialing progressively selects a specified number. There are also the alarm devices, by which a line not properly functioning will sound a gong and draw attention to the defect.

Amplifier tubes by many hundreds are arranged to increase volume over Long Distance lines. The several teletype machines operated by business firms in this area have a prototype in this main equipment room, by which their operation can be immediately checked for efficiency.

The rectifier converting "alternating" current from the power supply to "direct" current by which numerous immense batteries are charged, is also an important unit. The battery supply must carry on at all times in case of power failure — in addition to which a generator in the plant will take over to restore the charge. All these and other devices, including the coin-box relays for pay stations, were viewed with interest by the group.

Back of this intricacy of wires and mechanisms is a vast outfit of tools and stockpile of spares; these too are all methodically stacked and housed.

The group finally visited the trouble department, where index cards give information on each consumer connection, and an operator at the test board can identify and pinpoint all troubles of a routine nature.

Here, on conclusion of the tour, Mr. Dick Pearson and the Bell Telephone Co. personnel were thanked by Mr. R. A. Giles on behalf of the visitors.

Clergy, press, business and municipal interests are represented in this group escorted on a tour of inspection at the Central Office of Bell Telephone Co., on Water Street.

LEGION NOTES

— by —

Branch 70 (Lachute) Correspondent

Legion members and others are reminded to turn out for their second Anti-Polio shots, to be given free of charge at the Lachute Legion Hall, Thursday, October 30. Most folks will be anxious to have their series of shots completed in the wake of the recent serious epidemic in Detroit. Clinics will be held along the same lines as previously. There were many complimentary remarks on the efficiency of the doctors and nurses at clinics held in Brownsburg and Lachute, and these remarks were well-deserved.

Members will receive their Remembrance Banquet ticket with the monthly newsletter. Once again the Ladies' Auxiliary (Branch 70) have agreed to prepare the meal — this should be attraction enough to bring out all the members! A guest speaker will be in attendance. This is the most important function in the Legion year, and to date it looks as though it will be the best attended of any similar supper in the history of the Lachute Branch. Incidentally, any veteran of the Armed Forces may attend as guest of a member of Branch 70.

Watch for a special announcement on the date of the next Bingo. Comrade-President MacLean has announced that, due to extensive bookings of the hall on Saturdays for the next several weeks, the Bingo night will be changed. Mr. McGill was the lucky winner of the first jackpot, having won the special game on two consecutive evenings.

French-speaking members of Branch 70 may receive the French-language insert in the monthly Legionary Magazine by calling the secretary, Mrs. D. Graham, at LO 2-2815, and requesting same.

See you next week!

Partisans spread Welcome mat for Hon. Jean Lesage, Liberal chieftain

"Never has Quebec Province had such need of scientists, and men qualified to analyse and understand the events of our times . . . and the only way to have such men is to open the doors of knowledge to all, through free education." . . . This, in effect, was the statement made by the Hon. Jean Lesage, Liberal opposition leader in Quebec, on his visit to Argenteuil last week.

He emphasized the problem of education as the most vital and important for the population.

The rally was held last Wednesday evening in the Legion Hall, Lachute.

"Must men and women be discriminated against because they have children and they wish to educate them? Is it just, that a wealthy parent can pay for advanced education for his children, while a farmer or laborer with equally intelligent offspring must take them out of school after their elementary course?" asked the Hon. Mr. Lesage. "I say the government of Quebec must find means to bring education within easier reach, equally accessible to all of equal ability and ambition. The sons of the common people have as much right to education as the sons of the rich."

Hon. Jean Lesage

"The Liberal party," continued Mr. Lesage, "is drawing up a general policy on education which will benefit all, not only the privileged few. The question will be broadly debated at the convention of the party to be held in Montreal, November 1-2. Other matters will be employer-employee relations, seeking better unity and co-operation; and improvements for agriculture. . . . "This will be your convention," continued Mr. Lesage, addressing the partisans, "and I urge you to attend in large numbers. Even if you are not delegates from your constituency, you will be made welcome. You will see democracy at work, you will breathe freely and feel the efforts of free people not overridden by a dictator."

The Hon. Jean Lesage went on to explain the re-organization of the party, designed to establish the Liberal organization on a democratic footing. "Instead of having a dictatorial party like the Union Nationale, we will have a democratic set-up in which the electors are free to say what they wish and what they think."

Mr. Lesage was accompanied here by Richard Hyde, M.P.P. for N.D.G., and Commodore Paul Earle, both of whom addressed the gathering.

Bernard Gosselin was chairman; and Philippe Valois, ex-M.P., and the Hon. Georges-E. Dansereau also spoke briefly. Mayor Noël Lemay of Chatham was among those on the platform.

Liberals appoint County delegates for convention

At the rally of Liberal supporters to meet their new leader, the Hon. Jean Lesage, a formal election was held of official delegates from this County to attend the approaching party convention in Montreal, November 1-2 at the Windsor Hotel. The Hon. Georges E. Dansereau presided for the election, and Roger Lagarde acted as secretary. Following were the delegates appointed:

Antoine Paré, St. Andrews; Philippe Baril, Grenville; Léon Tessier, Brownsburg; Mrs. Geo. McGibbon, Dalesville; Harvey Barlow, Laurel; Sydney Swail, Arundel; Maurice Coulombe, Lachute; and Bernard Gosselin, in his capacity as ex-candidate.

Regional Chamber to honor deputies at reception Nov. 9

The Laurentian Chamber of Commerce, embracing Chambers from Lachute and northeast into the Laurentians, is planning a supper and reception at the municipal hall in St. Jerome, to honor the ministers and deputies from the various constituencies. The event is planned for Sunday evening, November 9.

Several cabinet ministers and a considerable number of federal and provincial members of parliament have signified their active support of the Chamber movement and their willingness to attend this function. (Among these are the Hon. W. M. Cottingham and J. Octave Latour, M.P.)

It is hoped to have a good representation from the member municipalities. Information on arrangements is available from Chamber of Commerce officers in the respective communities.

Progressive Conservatives to organize in all constituencies

Quebec — Quebec Province Progressive Conservatives plan to form a provincial association and organize local party organizations in all ridings in the province.

The decision was announced last week following a caucus of Quebec Federal Conservative leaders and Commons members presided over by the Hon. Mark Drouin, Senate speaker, and Robert Perron, Quebec district party organizer.

Sen. Molson sees les Canadiens as prov'l institution

By W. R. Wheatley,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Montreal — Senator Hartland Molson looked back on his first year as president of a National Hockey League club and found himself enthusiastically happy.

"Most things in life are largely dependent upon people and associations, and pleasant people have been involved in my first season," Senator Molson said in an interview with Canadian Press.

He is happy over the success of the famous Montreal Canadiens and over the ability of the executives who direct the huge organization.

Especially he has enjoyed his association with the players.

"I try to meet them personally as often as I can. But I don't interfere with the running of the club. I'm careful not to do so. I like to have personal chats with the players, to talk generalities, to visit the dressing room occasionally.

"I feel we are very fortunate in the type of players we have on our club. Naturally they are in the limelight and can't help being popular and idolized, yet they are well behaved, and I feel they are a good influence in setting a good example for youngsters."

Little more than a year ago it was announced Senator Molson, who also heads the brewery organization bearing his name, had bought controlling interest in the Canadiens organization from Senator Donat Raymond. Senator Molson, now 51, is a former athlete himself. He played on a Dominion intermediate championship football team and on a hockey team in the Memorial Cup finals.

As president of Canadiens he has been "very happy with the Forum organization headed by Frank Selke, one of the greatest persons in sport, an exceptional man, very human and vitally interested in the problems and well-being of his personnel. This is particularly important to the team. He has great ability to inspire the players to do their best for the club and for themselves.

"I think that in Frank Selke, Ken Reardon, Toe Blake, Sammy Pollock and Frank Carlin we have a team there as well as with our players."

"I have always been interested in sport. I agree with Frank Selke in saying that when a spectacle ceases to be a real sporting game then we will lose the spectators we now have.

"That's one reason I don't want to see hockey get too rough. I believe it would not be impossible for hockey to suffer the way lacrosse did. The crowds don't like chopping heads and mayhem."

For Canadiens' future, "we want to keep the best team possible." . . . "But the time may come when we may weaken the team because of sentiment — when sentiment will outweigh hard-headed judgment. We may become so attached to some players we won't make a change for younger players. Then the youths in our farm system may come back to haunt us. Yet we do want to see the youngsters get their chance and we wouldn't stand in their way."

Senator Molson feels that Canadiens are a local institution, not only in Montreal but in the province, an object of pride and the management has something of a position of trust.

"We have a high proportion of French-speaking boys and we want to try to keep it that way."

So far as the NHL is concerned, Senator Molson thinks a well-balanced league is desirable.

He was quick to add, with a sly smile: "But we don't think there is any harm in one team being way out in front. We don't want to alter that if we can help it. At the same time we don't want a couple of teams way down in the hole."

He was asked about the players-owners council, set up last winter.

"I think there should be a workable arrangement through which there is no difficulty in players bringing their problems to us — not in the form of a union, as we were threatened with.

"In hockey everything is individual. Players are individuals. A contract is individual.

"We appreciate the players. They are the core, the hard centre of hockey. There's no reason we would want to have them worrying over something.

"I feel any problem can be solved by talking things over. Any player on our club can go to Frank Selke. I'm ready to help myself.

"But I don't want to deal through a lawyer."

It was probably inevitable that the Senator talked about Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Canadiens' brilliant 37-year-old star.

"The Rocket is one of the youngest players on our team now," he said, smiling. "He's a fine fellow, a great competitor of great spirit. He has matured in every sense. I'm delighted to see a young player like him making the younger players step. He's good for several years yet."

The Senator's greatest hockey thrill last season? That was easy. The Rocket's three goals against Detroit Red Wings in a Stanley Cup semi-final game.

Road maintenance – costs and efficiency

FIRE FIGHTING and snow removal equipment are taking a front seat with the Lachute Town Council at the present time, and before long, we feel confident that with the approved loan by-law of $30,000 the situation will soon be improved.

We agree that new equipment is necessary in both cases and feel that no matter how much fire apparatus is purchased, we will still not have too much. Road maintenance and snow removal is another question however, and as a possible solution, and one we most certainly think is worthy of study, we reproduce in part an editorial from The Northern Beacon:

"We are not experts on road maintenance — in fact the extent of our knowledge of road conditions is cursing the authorities when we bounce over pot holes or get stuck in the snow — but we wonder if the local administration is not taking the wrong track on road maintenance and snow removal.

"These days many municipalities — large and small — are having their garbage removal handled by large outside contractors with efficient 'sanivan' trucks. This is being done, in most cases, for less than the cost when it was handled by munieipal employees — yet the public finds the service satisfactory.

"Some municipalities are having their snow removal handled in the same manner. Large contractors with heavy equipment are removing the snow quickly, efficiently and cheaply. Why? Because they use machines rather than men, and use them to capacity. Where a snowblower, for instance, costing $25,000 or more could not be purchased by a small town, a contractor using that machine in half a dozen towns can well afford to buy and use one.

"It seems to us that the same principle of mechanization could be applied to summer road maintenance, with improved roads and lower taxes for the residents. Certainly the condition of the roads in Rosemere and Ste. Therese indicates that something is wrong with the present system. Perhaps the purchase of more equipment is indicated, we do not know, but we do think the possibility of outside concerns handling the winter and possibly the summer road maintenance warrants investigation.

"Let's look at all the angles before we buy expensive equipment which will stand idle a good deal of the time. Any piece of machinery is too expensive if it is not used to capacity."

We feel sure there are several local concerns who might be interested in the job in Lachute. In any event, Council has nothing to lose and a lot to gain in investigating this possibility.

This Royal Commission report gets action

ATTORNEYS-GENERAL and other ministers from 10 provinces gathered in the Capital recently and came to an important agreement with the federal government effecting major changes in the country's prison system.

The main decision at the two-day meeting was that eventually — over perhaps a three-year period — the federal government will take over responsibility for all offenders sentenced to a year or more in prison. It now handles only those serving two years or more.

And all sentences of between six months and one year will be eliminated, so that provincial jails will handle only sentences up to six months. Federal penitentiaries would increase emphasis on reform, reducing the punitive element, and it was felt a proper job of reform could not be done in less than a year.

Upon the judges will fall the responsibility to decide, through study of each convicted person, whether reform and the longer term is needed, or only punishment and the shorter sentence.

Possibly the most important outcome of the conference was unanimous agreement in principle that virtually all 44 recommendations in the 1955 Fauteux Committee report on penal reform should be accepted as the basis for changes. These include broad suggestions for improvement of parole methods, for special institutions for alcoholics and for criminal and sexual psychopaths, and for a general switch of emphasis from punishment to reform.

Some 2,800 prisoners would have to be transferred from provincial to federal institutions, raising the federal proportion of the 21,000 total prison population to 8,700. The federal outlay would be in the millions, providing better and specialized accommodation for its present and prospective increased penitentiary population.

Good manners

ONE OF THOSE combined quiz-and-opinion programs came up not long ago with this quotation:

They will come no more,
The old men with beautiful manners.

The idea was to name the author, then fight over whether what he said was right.

None of the four panelists was able to guess the writer (Ezra Pound). But the resultant word-fest was revealing. The impression left on the viewer (at least by more vocal members of the panel) was that these people were in agreement that manners are in a sad state, and that it would be a good thing if the world could return to the mannered artifice of the days of powdered hair and silk knee-breeches. Listening, one could almost be convinced that the difference between a good and evil deed might be measured by the manners of the doer. One could almost see a couple of panelists regretting that no snuff-box was handy to curl a pinkie over.

The revelation was in this — that no one suggested, in 15 minutes of animated talk (conducted of course in a mannerly way), that perhaps the real test of manners is how effectively they ease human contacts. That they are a kind of good-nature, a natural courtesy.

But that, of course, would be to recognize that the gloss, the convention, the imposed rigidities of codes, are less important than kindliness in life. — And that would never do.

The discussion must have brought to mind in some listeners, however, quotations from writers other than Pound. Notably Dr. Johnson's comment on Lord Chesterfield's letters, that they combined the teaching of a certain type of morals (which cannot here be specified) and "the manners of a dancing-master."

Or this from Hillaire Belloc:

Of courtesy — it is much less
Than courage of heart or holiness,
Yet in my walks it seems to me
That the grace of God is in courtesy.

A share in space exploring

FOR MANY YEARS before Sputnik, it was characteristic of the Russians to claim credit for every known invention. It was a standing joke, in fact; no one took the matter seriously.

Now it's the other way about! This month there came an announcement from an unexpected source, Johannesburg, that a "Spinning Jimmy" whirling around the earth in Russia's Sputnik III, telling Soviet scientists about conditions in outer space, is actually an invention of the University of Witwatersrand, S.A. The "Rand Daily Mail" reports an announcement to this effect was made by the University on October 8.

According to a Russian report, the "Spinning Jimmy", or electrostatic fluxmeter, is part of the key equipment in the Sputnik. It was invented 10 years ago by Dr. D. J. Malan, Senior Research Scientist in Johannesburg, and Dr. Basil Schonland, who is now Director of the Atomic Energy Institute at Harwell in England.

"We are proud", Dr. Malan said. "The Russians must have picked it up from a paper we published in Britain in 1950. It took us about three years to develop — and a lot of trouble. We needed something to measure the very quick changes in static electricity which occur during a lightning flash."

There are two "Spinning Jimmys" in the Sputnik. They may, according to Professor Hales, solve the mystery of the aurorae, the Northern and Southern lights. These colored lights have been described as "staggeringly beautiful, changing, moving, melting". And while the "Spinnning Jimmys" circle the earth in the Sputnik, the prototype lies on the roof of the Bernard Price Institute in Johannesburg.

Viewpoints and perspectives

ENCOURAGING SIGN. — All over North America night school education is booming. This is encouraging in an era about which there is much headshaking. Perhaps, if we are making such a good show at improving our minds and the skill of our hands, we shouldn't be so ready to give up hope for ourselves as being on the downward, slippery slope.

— Kitimat (B.C.) Northern Sentinel

NEED FOR PRAYER. — A prayer room in the House of Commons — why not? If two world wars with their tragedy, grief and suffering and inculculable loss taught us anything, surely it was that freedom-loving peoples must by their own efforts keep united and strong; and that above all there is need for a "prayer room" in all our council chambers, in all our homes — and in every heart.

Douglas — Father of British Columbia

Sir James Douglas, a leading figure in the fur trade who served as governor of Vancouver Island and the mainland colony, is credited by the new ten-volume Encyclopedia Canadiana with preserving the area for British during the great gold rush of 1858 .

The encyclopedia states that the vast majority of newcomers during the gold rush were Americans and that Douglas, then governor of Vancouver Island, was determined that settlement by Americans should not cause the British to lose the area, as he had seen them lose Oregon less than 20 years before.

He was in no position to keep the miners from pouring in, but with the help of a small contingent of Royal Engineers, a few ships of the Royal Navy, a handful of magistrates and Judge Matthew Baillie Begbie, he preserved law and order and kept firm possession of the country.

Sir James came from Scotland in 1819 to work for the North West Company, which was absorbed by the Hudson's Bay Company in 1821. His ability soon was recognized and he was entrusted with a number of important missions for the company.

In 1842 he explored the south end of Vancouver Island, and in 1843 superintended the building there of Fort Victoria. In 1845 the Columbia district was placed under a Board of Management instead of a superintendent and Douglas became one of the three members of the board.

Following the Oregon boundary settlement, the British Government deemed it wise to establish a Crown colony on Vancouver Island. This was done in 1849, under the auspices of the Hudson's Bay Company, and Douglas moved to Fort Victoria to act as the company's agent in the new colony. The first Governor, Richard Blanshard, stayed little more than a year, and Douglas became Vancouver Island's second governor in 1851.

When the colony of British Columbia was established on the mainland in 1858, Douglas became governor there as well as of Vancouver Island, but the appointment was made on condition that he sever his connection with the Hudson's Bay Company.

Douglas was not a democrat and was never at ease when dealing with elected bodies, but his energy and honesty more than compensated for this during the early days of the two colonies.

Douglas' term of office as Governor of Vancouver Island expired in 1863; he retired as Governor of British Columbia in 1864. For his services he was created K.C.B., 1863. He toured Europe in 1864-65; the rest of his life was passed quietly in Victoria. He died on August 2nd, 1877.

Striking men out of jobs

By Lewis Milligan

"Ontario labor leaders last night rapped the federal and provincial governments for ignoring unemployment. In a two-hour meeting, delegates to the Ontario Federation of Labor convention charged those governments with 'filing away' labor pleas for action."

The above is the first paragraph of a report in the Toronto Daily Star. In other columns of the same paper there were reports of strikes organized by the same labor leaders which had put many thousands of men out of employment. . .

The Federation unanimously adopted a statement which said: "Government spokesmen have failed to point out that a rising wage level and increased consumer buying can make a dynamic contribution to economic recovery. There has been no effort by business or government to reduce prices and so stimulate the demand for consumer goods."

Consistency is a rare jewel in the arguments of labor leaders, and in their actions they entirely contradict themselves. In the above statement they said: "We deplore the bankruptcy of government policies that can neither prevent a recession, nor control it." They said there was immediate need for a "crash" program to provide jobs and pointed out that on August 21 there were 133,000 unplaced job applicants in Ontario, "some 33 per cent more than a year ago."

And what action did those labor leaders take to relieve that situation? They added 10,000 to the number of unemployed in Toronto alone by a strike in the building industry. In Hamilton, at the time of writing, 8,000 workers have been deprived of their jobs and regular wages for ten weeks by a strike in the steel industry. In Sudbury a month-long strike at International Nickel had put 14,000 men out of employment.

Even assuming that the union demands for wage increases were justified, there was no justification or horse sense in putting those men out of their jobs and leaving them without any wages at all. Millions of dollars were lost by those strikers, and their consumer buying power has not only been reduced to the pittance of strike-pay for the present, but when the strikes are over they will be poorer in consumer buying than before. Very few of them with families could maintain them for a month without going into debt.

A strike is indeed a "crash" program, which removes men from their jobs, impoverishes their families, and at the present time can only add to the recession.

Royal Commissions

I notice that a subject for discussion this season on the Citizens' Forum series is "Royal Commissions: A Waste of Time and Money?"

I've been wondering why the subject was chosen. Surely it must have been because royal commissions are no longer respected as much as they used to be. When I was very young, it was thought that when a man of whatever political faith was appointed to a royal commission, he made it a point of honor to shed all bias and judge issues according to merit.

I am afraid I cannot believe that any longer; I am afraid few men who have been around believe it. It may have been almost true once; it may still be true of some appointees; but in the main, I think Canadians are fed up with so many commissions, often appointed merely to get the government off the hook.

For that reason, I was delighted to see that the Citizens' Forum, which has often seemed to me to be a forlorn and useless series, has chosen this subject at this time. And they are also tackling the pressing question of international unions, and the thorny problem of government and organized charity. I, for one, shall listen attentively to the Forum this season. It promises more, I think, than it ever has in the past. And the session on royal commissions ought to open many eyes, if it is conducted in a forthright manner.

The business of appointing a royal commission every time a problem comes up is one of the worst sins of government. Problems which have been threshed out, and for which painful answers are obviously needed, aren't solved by having a royal commission paw them over through costly months. Governments ought to have the courage to govern and make decisions when necessary without stalling. Royal commissions to whitewash government blunders are even more fraudulent.

There are rare occasions when a royal commission is justified. Questions of observation and fact may be solved by royal commissions if they are not political appointees but trained members of the judiciary. Perhaps on such matters they serve a purpose; but even then, the same facts and observations are quite often widely known already, and do not require rehashing simply to give public opinion an opportunity to crystallize.

If Citizens' Forum, by open and frank discussion, can make it clear to government that the public knows what royal commissions are all about, we may have less of them and save considerable money. Saving some money would have the virtue of being something new and different, anyhow!

Canadian Quiz

1. Name the eight Canadian rivers of more than a thousand miles in length.
2. Personal income tax was introduced in Canada in what year?
3. What tree that grows in Canada sometimes reaches a height of 300 feet?
4. In 1951 cost of operating the CBC was $9.5 million. What is the current annual cost?
5. What proportion of the Canadian population is counted as being in the nation's labour force?

ANSWERS: 5. About one-third. 3. The Douglas Fir of British Columbia. 1. The eight rivers are the Mackenzie, Peace, Yukon, Columbia, St. Lawrence, Nelson, Saskatchewan, Churchill. 4. More than $40 million. 2. In 1917, supposedly as a temporary war tax.

with G. E. MORTIMORE

Recently we have been staying in a house with a wood stove. It's a big heavy one with a nickel rail in front and warming compartments at the top.

I sat in a kitchen chair for a little while and propped my feet on the open oven door, the way I used to do sometimes on a winter day in the old house.

Over there was the wood box, like the box I used to fill (though not so often as I was supposed to) when I was a boy.

There are a number of wood stoves with wood boxes around, just as there are steam locomotives around. But nowadays you can hear people talking about them in a patronising way, as though they were museum pieces.

Personally, I like wood stoves better than oil stoves. We have an oil range of fairly modern design at home, and it has given us nothing but trouble. I know what people will tell me — that we don't know how to run it.

But I notice that every house I enter where there is an oil stove has that headachy smell of oil in it.

It felt good to escape from our oily little monster and prop my feet on the oven of a wood stove, and hear the fire crackling, and smell the clean aroma of a wood fire.

I felt sad when we moved my mother out of the old house, and they disconnected the wood stove to take to the auction room. What a workhorse that stove had been, and what memories were ingrained in it!

I remember when I was struck by a craze for chestnuts. I wanted to make the chestnuts hard in a hurry, so I baked them in the oven.

For days that stove was cluttered with chestnuts. My parents must have been long suffering. But I think I was too zealous, because I baked many of the chestunts too long and hot, and they cracked.

On the water heater next to the stove, my dad and I used to stick stamps that had been soaked off envelopes, and leave them to dry.

When the heat penetrated the stamps they would curl up and fall on the floor, where we retrieved them for the collection, or to add to our store of duplicates.

Sometimes I sneaked in wet socks and rubber boots to be dried out briefly in the oven after wading in the river, fishing, or playing in the snow. I remember the pungent smell they had.

Those were just a few of the jobs the old wood stove did. It gave you splinters in the fingers, sometimes, when you brought in the wood. But I liked the old wood stove, and I wish I was sitting in my parents' kitchen again on a winter's day with my feet on the oven door, dreaming a boy's dreams, and hearing my father's tales of the distant countries.

Urges safeguards to supplement law on school buses

(TO THE EDITOR)

Box 503, Brownsburg, P.Q.
October 24, 1958

The Editor,
Lachute Watchman.
Dear Sir:

With regard to the safety of school children who have to cross highways or busy roads after leaving a school bus, I can't help but feel that their safe crossing is left almost entirely with the motorist.

There are highway laws and highway police to enforce them but there are some motorists that are either ignorant of these laws or just don't bother to obey them. So why expect a child, even though the youngster may have been cautioned by the bus driver to be careful, to have more sense than adult motorists.

A school bus driver's responsibility towards his charges appears to be only while the children are in the bus; as soon as they step out of the bus they are on their own.

It seems to me that something like the following would be an improvement over this situation, and parts of it may even be included in a school bus driver's contract.

(a) First of all, I believe a flat, circular flashing light, about a foot in diameter with the word "STOP", should be mounted on top of the bus so that it is visible to all motorists approaching the bus from either direction. This light could be put in action as soon as the bus stops.

(b) Before opening the bus door, the driver should check to see if the road is clear. If not, he will leave the door closed till traffic stops. Only then will he allow children to leave the bus, and watch till they are safely across the road.

(c) The driver then turns off the flasher and proceeds to his next stop.

It seems rather foolish to leave a child's safety almost entirely in the hands of a motorist when it could be handled much more efficiently if the bus driver would take the initiative while he still has the situation in hand.

I feel sure that bus drivers would welcome any criticism that would eventually put into motion some method that could be adopted to further safeguard the lives of their charges.

Léo Clément, parish priest; Maurice Grondin and Roger Martel.

N.S. signed hospital insurance agreement

The others are Ontario, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Newfoundland. Nova Scotia's program becomes effective January 1, the same date as Ontario's. Those of the other signatory provinces have been in effect since July 1.

Brownsburg Cubs will collect for UNICEF

Brownsburg — This Hallowe'en the Brownsburg Wolf Cubs will again be doing their "Good Turn" for the underprivileged children of the world.

Dressed in the traditional costumes of spooks, witches and goblins they will be calling on you with containers bearing the UNICEF stickers.

Last year the Cubs collected $63 for the United Nations Children's Fund. This year, with pennies, nickels and dimes you drop in their cans, they hope to do better.

Please join in the evening's fun on Friday and "Shell Out" for UNICEF.

Late L. R. McGain favorably known in Cushing area

Cushing — Residents here are mourning the loss of a valued friend, in the passing of Mr. Leonard Robertson McGain, who for many years has been spending the summers in Cushing, with Mrs. McGain and their family. The children now are married and have families of their own.

Mr. McGain — who passed away in the Smith Clinic at Hawkesbury on October 15 after a brief stay there — had been in ill health for about two years, but keeping up his regular church attendance until several months ago.

He was born on the Isle of Man, England, and came to Canada in 1913, where he joined the Bell Telephone Co. soon afterwards, and was employed in the accounting department for 41 years until his retirement in 1954.

He was an elder in Queen Mary Road Church, as well as superintendent of the Sunday School and a member of the choir. He was also a regular attender and supporter of St. Mungo's Church, while in Cushing.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, the former Florence Knights; two brothers, Arthur, of the Isle of Man, and the Rev. J. A. McGain, of Wareham, England, as well as his family — his son, Ashley, of Cote St. Luc; Pauline (Mrs. R. A. Hollingworth), of Montreal; Nonie (Mrs. R. L. Cordner), of Essex Junction, Vt.; and Mona (Mrs. J. W. Brown), of Cote St. Luc. Mr. McGain was not only a kind husband and father, but his sympathies and good deeds embraced many with whom he came in contact.

From Collins Funeral Home the remains were taken to Queen Mary Road United Church, for service conducted by the Rev. E. E. Erry, assisted by the Rev. J. R. Watson, of Laval West (until recently pastor of St. Mungo's Church in Cushing), and were brought to St. Andrews East Cemetery for interment on October 18. The flower-laden cortege was followed by many of his friends from Montreal and other places.

C-I-L increases worker benefits

Montreal, Oct. 24 — Additional health insurance and vacation benefits for its 8,000 payroll and salaried employees across Canada, were announced today by Canadian Industries Limited.

The announcement said that effective December 1 of this year, C-I-L's contribution for health insurance will be $5.70 per month for employees with dependents and $2.00 a month for those without dependents. This will replace the current monthly contribution of $4.70 for employees with dependents and $1.80 to employees without dependents.

The announcement further stated that effective January 1, 1959, employees who have completed 25 or more years of service will have their annual vacation period boosted from three weeks to four weeks. This will affect some 600 employees.

Standing with him were the present Wardens, Messrs. Jack Kennedy and F. T. Watchorn. The rector officiated.

Grenville

Mr. and Mrs. James Welden were the recent guests of Mrs. Ella Peters, of Windsor, Harold Laviolette and family, of Detroit, and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell, of Toronto.

Lady resident died in hospital

The Late Mrs. A. I. Brown

One of the older residents of this county, Mrs. A. I. Brown, died October 23 in the Montreal General Hospital, following a month of failing health. She resided with her two sisters on the eastern corner of Bethany and Main Streets. During her residence here for the past nine years, she had attended the United Church and had a constructive interest in its affairs.

She was the widow of a Methodist minister, the late Rev. Dr. A. I. Brown. They resided in Peterborough, where her husband predeceased her about 20 years ago. Mrs. Brown came to reside with her sisters in Bell Falls, about 15 years ago, later moving to Lachute.

The late Mrs. Brown is mourned by her two sisters here, Mrs. Albert Brown and Mrs. Joseph John, and a brother, Neil McCallum, at Bell Falls. Other relatives are her nieces, Misses Isabel and Edith McCallum, also Mrs. Borden Sheridan and children Lorne, Grant and Peggy, of Smiths Falls.

Funeral service was held last Friday at the MacKimmie Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. Wilson Bridge, of Lachute United Church, assisted by the Rev. Jas. Armour of the Presbyterian Church. The remains were taken to Peterborough, Ont., for interment.

Successful outcome to CNIB canvass in Chatham

Mayor Léopold Carrière, as chairman of the Argenteuil Advisory Board for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, has announced results of the campaign for the Township of Chatham, which has now been successfully concluded. The total amount is $923.33. This is considerably more than anticipated, and the Advisory Board is deeply grateful to Mr. Willie Robert, who was the financial chairman.

This success is an indication that the people of Chatham are solidly behind the Institute. All team captains and canvassers have worked hard to achieve the goal. Mr. Thos. Weir of Cushing heads the list for obtaining the highest collections. However, the Board is equally grateful to those who turned in the least amounts; without their help, the grand total could never have been reached.

The Advisory Board to the Institute and the staff wish to thank publicly the following workers Mr. Willie Robert, chairman; Mr Thos. Weir, Mrs. Gerry Collins Mr. Reg Morrow, Mr. and Mrs Perley Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peloquin, Mr. L. Ouellette, Mr. Jean Paul Laframboise, Mr. Bruce Bradford, Mr. John Douglas, Mr. Donat Guay, Mr. W. H. Robert, Mrs. Edith Paulson, Mrs. Judy Dixon, Mrs. E. Morrow, Miss Muriel Gunn, Mr. Adelard Gagné, Mr. Bernard Ouellette, Mrs. John A. Meyer and Mrs. M. McAndrew.

New Pope is elected

Roman Catholics across the world have a new Pope. Since the death of His Holiness Pope Pius XII on October 9, they were without a papal leader. The 51 Cardinals of the faith culminated their deliberations on Tuesday with the election of a new chief — signified by the traditional signal of white smoke which issued from the chimney of the Sistine Chapel in Vatican City. . .

The Pope will be known as His Holiness Pope Jean XXIII. He is Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, Patriarch of Venice; born in 1881, he is an Italian by birth.

The date of the new Pope's coronation was reported unofficially as November 9. There was also some speculation that it might be held on his birthday, November 25.

ARE YOU AWAKE?
We are living in momentous days, but are you awake to their significance? Are you informed on the issues and events of our day? Do you know how they relate to God's Word? Are you alert to how discoveries by science confirm the Bible's accuracy? Do you keep informed on the things learned in the many other branches of human knowledge and endeavor? . . .
The AWAKE! magazine will keep you awake to all these things. It is the companion magazine to THE WATCHTOWER. The popularity of AWAKE! is revealed by the fact that 2,800,000 copies are printed every issue. It is a magazine you should have in your home, especially if you are a busy person. Its short but meaty articles permit busy people to keep well informed on many branches of human knowledge, including world affairs. For the small amount of $1 it can be sent to you every two weeks for an entire year.
Write 150 Bridgeland Avenue, Toronto, Ont., or ask any Jehovah's Witnesses whom you meet, anywhere. They will be glad to serve you.

Opening event and prize-giving at High School

academics of the "grammar school" into technical fields and qualities of leadership, to fill the needs of a young and promising country such as Canada.

Commissioner Duncan spoke of delays in the acquisition of land for the school extension, but stated it was confidently expected to proceed with the construction next spring.

Theme by School Principal

The annual opening ceremonies, well attended by parents and adults, are a platform for public relations outside the medium of the Home and School. In this connection, the remarks of Principal Fred Royal generally give food for thought beyond the statement of facts and figures. After referring to the school enrolment and academic standing against provincial averages, also the teaching staff, among whom he mentioned the newcomers this year and their respective qualifications — Mr. Royal emphasized again the need of co-operation between staff, school board and parents. In this corporate effort for high achievements, he said, the members of the staff are "ready to do all they can."

Parental attitude is important. School is not necessarily a place to like or dislike, and the purpose of the staff is not directed at this target. The primary function of the school course is work — to implant good working habits towards the acquisition of knowledge. The student must put work before pleasure; and in this particular detail the home influence is important. The speaker made reference here to television and late hours. Seriousness of purpose was all-important; parents and teachers must guard against "pampering" their charges with non-essential indulgences, and distractions. . . Actually, he said, the pupil does not want to be pampered.

Another obligation upon teachers and guardians is to help teenagers with their choices and decisions. Despite their own convictions, pupils, especially in the early teens, are far from self-sufficient. The school today is very conscious of this need for guidance and direction.

Finally, the principal emphasized the need for honesty between staff and parents. Nothing can be achieved by misleading either parent or teacher as to a child's progress in school or his studies at home.

With a word of appreciation to the benefactors, donors, business firms and social organizations which made this part of the program possible, Principal Royal here presented the prizes and scholarships.

Following is the list of bursaries and prize donors, as read to the gathering:

Meikle Endowment, Walker Endowment, Bellingham Endowment, E. H. Wilson Endowment, G. F. Calder Endowment, Peter Thompson Endowment, McBurney Endowment.

Prizes — Ayers Limited, Late John McFaul, James McGibbon, Hon. W. M. Cottingham, G. Y. Deacon, Mrs. E. K. Wilson, Lachute Legion Branch 70, J. S. Giles, Ross Muir, C. Tremblay, E. Smith, Rev. C. W. P. Baugh, N. W. Boyd, Geo. Paul, Late W. M. Scott, George Tattersfield, Lachute Women's Institute, St. Jerusalem and Bethany W.I., Upper Lachute and East End W.I. Pioneer W.I., Lakefield W.I., and one anonymous donor.

In conclusion, Col. Ernest Emmett presented a trophy on behalf of the Lions Club, and a prize on behalf of Ayers Limited, to two top winners in the 1958 School Fair.

Program

Items in the program of entertainment were gymnastics and calisthenics by the renowned High School trio, Stansfield, Cruise and Cairns, coached by Mr. Arne Peterson; selections by the Junior Choir, tutored by Mrs. Rigby; a Choral Speaking demonstration by Mrs. K. Fraser's Grade V group; piano solo by Robin Fraser; vocal and guitar selections by the popular Matthews sisters, Judy, Gwen and Linda; and a colorful number, "Come to the Fair", performed in operetta style by the Grade VII girls' chorus. The stage was attractively decorated.

Hawkesb'y School concert band played at Grenville

Grenville — The Hawkesbury High School concert band presented an enjoyable concert in the Grenville High School auditorium last week. The band, with two bass viols and three cellos augmenting the traditional instruments, played the following program under the baton of their leader, Mr. H. Haakman:

|---|---|
| The Thunderer — March | Sousa |
| Valse Suite from Spain | Chabriev |
| Selection from Carmen | Bizet |
| High School Cadets — March | Sousa |
| Valse King Favorite | Johann Straus |
| Blue Danube Waltz | Johann Straus |
| Anchors Aweigh — March | Sousa |
| March | H. Haekman |

The concert was much enjoyed. The student body always looks forward to the coming of this fine band to entertain them every year.

The members of the executive wish to thank the proprietors of the "Cinema" and also their many kind friends who helped to make the food sale a success.

TOPSY-TURVY

It's getting to be a topsy-turvy world. On one hand we have Russia, the ultimate in socialism, changing directions and veering toward capitalism's free marketing of farm products. On the other hand here in capitalistic Canada more and more of our farm products are being brought under the planned economy controls of socialism. — Melita (Man.) New Era

For Parents Only . . .

Learning to Read

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"Mummy, I can read!" with what pride a child announces this!

How quickly children today learn to read! When mother and dad went to school, possibly there was no kindergarten and no talk of "reading readiness." Perhaps they struggled for days with the old-fashioned phonetic system of learning sounds for each letter or certain combinations of letters of the alphabet. Today's methods of teaching reading are certainly different — and faster and better than those of a generation ago. Now a pupil learns to recognize a whole word rather than the letters which make it.

It is usually confusing for a child if parents try to teach him to read before he starts to school. It is very likely that their way and the teacher's techniques are not at all alike. Instead of the child having an advantage over his classmates, he may be all "mixed-up" when the teacher attempts to teach him to read.

Grown-ups often forget that learning to read requires a certain maturity and quite a number of skills. A child must be able to focus both eyes on one object. Then, too, he has to follow a line of print across a page, then swing back to the next line, without losing the place or sense of the sentence. It is indeed a HIGH OCCASION when a child suddenly begins to associate the symbol on a page with a word in his vocabulary!

It isn't always easy for a sociable youngster to work all by himself and concentrate on the book in front of him for a period of time, without another child's or an adult's assistance. It is unlikely that the average youngster below six years is really ready to learn to read, in the opinion of most educational authorities.

This does not mean that the home has no vital part in learning to read. The desirability of reading is demonstrated each day by parents who quite evidently enjoy reading themselves. Newspapers, magazines and books have a share in the family budget of folks who believe like Sir William Osler that money invested in a library gives much better returns than mining stock.

The child's own attractive picture books with colored illustrations are kept in a convenient place. Perhaps mother has sewn white cotton or cardboard squares together to make a sturdy picture scrapbook. There is a shelf too, for story books, the old favorites and mother goose rhymes and fairy tales. Reading aloud in a story book is one of the most enjoyable events in a child's day.

Where is there a more appreciative audience than the small boy or girl who begs, "Read me a story"? Parents may grow a bit tired of "The Three Little Pigs" and other favorites, but what child wearies of these characters, or is not excited by their adventures?

Mothers and fathers might pick up some tips on how to read a child's story aloud from one of the several excellent radio children's story tellers as CBC's Mary Grannan. Imitate the sound of the voices of different characters and vary the pitch and rate of reading. Then when you finish, sometimes suggest to your child that he re-tell the story in his own words. Another good plan is to read two-thirds of a well-known story and let him finish it.

Words are tools, and this interest in the printed word and ease in expressing himself, all help to prepare a child to learn to read. When he goes shopping with Mother to buy groceries, let him spell out the words on the labels of the cans. If he notices a billboard, and asks "What does it say?" tell him, and then let him repeat the sentence. When a letter arrives from grandmother, read aloud bits of it which will interest him. All these ordinary experiences, contribute to his store of words with meanings.

Radio — and even TV can never replace reading as an essential part in our civilization. Learning to read is a most important step in your child's education! Do all you can to awaken the interest of your pre-school child in the printed word, but do not attempt to do the work of his school teacher of the future. Parents and teachers each have their own distinctive role to play in developing skill in reading. May your own son or daughter have Happy Sailing on the Sea of Literature!

BOOK CIRCULATION

Saskatoon (CP) — Book circulation of the Saskatoon public library is growing by leaps and bounds. In the first eight months this year it totalled 290,000, an increase of 26,000 over the previous year.

Hallowe'en is shell-out time

The Women's Institutes are interested in UNICEF. Mrs. E. B. Watson, Provincial Convener of Citizenship for Quebec, wants to remind the members that Hallowe'en is Shell-Out time, when the children of each community can help by collecting money for the less fortunate children of other lands. To quote Mrs. Watson: "Not one of you would refuse food to a hungry child, nor help to the mother of a sick child among your neighbors. These neighbors are just farther away. It is also educational for the children — especially if you show films."

Potatoes Grilled Tomatoes
Lettuce Russian Dressing
Bartlett Pears
Cream Cheese
Coffee Tea Milk

All measurements are level; recipes for 4 to 6

Corn Soup New England: Combine 1 (1-lb.) can cream-style corn, 1 pint boiling water and 1 tablespoon chopped onion. Simmer 20 minutes.

Meantime, make 1 pint medium white sauce as follows:

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan.

Stir in 3 tablespoons enriched flour, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar and few grains nutmeg.

Remove from heat. Add 1 pint milk. Return to stove. When boiling, add corn. Cook-stir until boiling and thick.

Accompaniment, crisp popcorn or crunchy cornmeal crackers.

Mixed Grill: To 1 lb. flank steak, add a meat-tenderizer according to directions on the jar. Brush with cooking oil and seasoned salt. Broil as usual.

At the same time on broiler rack, place 6 skinless frankfurters, brushed with table mustard, and ¼-inch thick lengthwise slices of scrubbed, not peeled raw white potatoes. Brush with cooking oil and dust with seasoned salt.

Turn when golden brown and finish cooking.

Broil about 7 minutes. Turn once.

Trick of the Chef

Add a few shucked oysters to Cream of Corn Soup. Heat 5 minutes or until edges ruffle.

Fruit on top

Festive desserts can do wonders for any meal. This Rosebud Upside Down Cake combines a tender cake-base and tasty topping made principally of canned apricot halves and Maraschino cherries. This pudding is delicious served with whipped cream or an Apricot Sauce which uses to advantage the syrup of the canned apricots called for in the pudding recipe.

Rosebud Upside-Down Cake

3 Tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 cup lightly-packed brown sugar, 1 tablespoon water, Maraschino cherries, 1 can (20 ounces) apricot halves, 1½ cups once-sifted all-purpose flour, or 1¾ cups once-sifted pastry flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon grated nutmeg, ½ cup shortening, ⅔ cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, ½ cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Grease a 9-inch round or 8-inch square cake pan. Preheat oven to 350°F. Combine butter or margarine, brown sugar and water in a small saucepan and bring to the boiling point, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Pour into prepared pan. Cut Maraschino cherries into quarters, almost through; separate segments to fashion "rosebuds" and arrange in syrup in prepared pan. Drain apricot halves (save the syrup). Arrange apricots in pan, cut sides down — a "rosebud" under each half.

Sift the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, salt and nutmeg together. Cream shortening; gradually blend in granulated sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating in well after each addition. Combine milk and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with milk, combining lightly after each addition. Carefully spread batter in prepared pan. Bake in preheated oven 45 to 50 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream or the following Apricot Pudding Sauce.

Apricot Pudding Sauce

(Yield — about 1½ cups sauce)

Syrup drained from a 20-ounce can apricot halves, water, 1½ tablespoons corn starch, few grains salt, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.

Measure syrup drained from apricots and add water to bring measure up to 1½ cups liquid. Measure corn starch and salt into a small saucepan; gradually stir in apricot syrup and water mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened and comes to the boil. Cover and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until no raw flavor of corn starch remains — about 5 minutes. At serving time, stir in lemon juice and butter or margarine. Serve hot.

What makes a woman buy?

Sellers not only have to study consumer preferences but the degree of such preferences in order to press for more business, Dr. L. E. Drayton of the Economics Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, told an audience at the National Dairy Council annual convention, held recently in Montreal.

Preferences vary considerably in intensity at different times, he said.

A housewife buying milk in a store where two brands are sold may have tried both and found no recognizable differences between them. Nevertheless she buys one of the two and thereby makes a choice.

The most trivial thing may have determined her decision, such as a desire for variety. Many so-called "impulse" purchases are so motivated, showing that low intensity preferences are prevalent in shopping practices.

The same housewife choosing between butter and margarine may have strong convictions that butter is better for her and her family in choosing that commodity. She will probably continue to buy it instead of margarine even if it costs 10 times as much as the substitute because her intensity of preference is high, said the economist.

The forces leading to changes in buying habits are several, including merchandising practices, advertisements and social pressures. Becoming accustomed to specific foods is another powerful factor which indicates that the present strong preference for butter over its substitutes will weaken as time goes on, said Dr. Drayton. He thought it possible that housewives induced to use margarine for a few weeks would continue to buy it.

He described taste panels, sales tests and random sampling used as means of finding the characteristics of consumer preferences. Pyschologists have recently entered this field claiming that the housewife does not know why she buys what she does buy, so that direct questioning such as used in some surveys is useless.

But motivational and general survey methods do have their uses, depending on how far a planned campaign is to go, thought Dr. Drayton.

Teatime Topics

Written Specially for The Lachute Watchman

By Edna Usher

Canadian Press Staff Writer

A woman is the "driving force" behind a school bus in Bowden, Alta. She is Mrs. Nettie Divel, who made such a good job of parking school buses in a small space in her husband's garage that she now chauffeurs 48 children to school every day.

Five feet tall and weighing 104 pounds, she drives the bus eight miles to collect youngsters.

"Many of them don't get out of bed in the morning until they see the bus," she said. "But I always wait for them."

On the first day of school this fall five mothers did not realize they should accompany beginners to school, so Mrs. Divel stood in for the parents.

She has a son of her own, aged eight.

Foster Parents

The Catholic Women's League of Canada (115,000 strong) is seeking foster homes for underprivileged children.

More than 500 foster and adoption homes were found by the League across Canada last year. But more are needed and the League is considering setting up child welfare plans for every diocese.

They also want to eliminate salacious literature to help combat juvenile delinquency — and they want to clean up radio, television and films.

Plum Drinks

Plums, in good supply this season, can be eaten fresh or cooked and for winter use may be canned, frozen, or used in jam, jelly or chutney.

Two sparkling plum drinks can be made from plum juice.

To make the juice, take two pounds of dessert plums, two cups of water, one-third to two-third cups of sugar, depending on the hardness of the fruit.

Wash plums, add water, and boil until plums are soft (eight to 10 minutes). Remove the heat and immediately drain through a sieve or jelly bag. Add sugar to hot juice and stir until dissolved.

To make the appetizer, use two cups of juice and a small bottle of ginger ale.

To make the punch, use two cups of juice, two and a half cups of apple juice and a small bottle of ginger ale.

Chill all ingredients and combine just before serving. Add ice as desired.

Best Cooks

Women are better cooks than men (as though they haven't always known it) admits John E. Coles of Toronto, president of the Canadian Restaurant Association.

He said women as cooks are: cleaner; more efficient; more conscientious.

But he added a rider: "The male fits in better in administering a mass-feeding department because women take suggestions from men better than they do from female bosses."

LAUGHING TIME FOR BALD MEN

There's profit in being as bald as Herb Coakwell. The price of haircuts is jumping from $1 in Toronto to $1.25, but as far as Mr. Coakwell is concerned it might as well be $5. Other cities in Canada may experience a similar boost in the near future.

The handsome executive

An abundant crop of hair, a uniform set of sparkling teeth and just the right amount of avoirdupois going to waist can promote a well-adjusted personality, social contacts and business acceptability, writes Vince Lunny in The Financial Post.

Belief in the truth of this statement has sparked a new boom in the beauty business for males. From politicians to salesmen, hundreds of men — dissatisfied with their looks are making changes. Sales of toupees, capped teeth, optic lenses and exercise devices — to say nothing of girdle-equipped shorts and elevator shoes — are rising.

More than 100,000 Canadians wear some type of hairpiece. Average cost: $100.

Two per cent of the men dye their hair or have grey streaks retouched compared with 25% of the women in the middle and upper income brackets. Cost: About $10 every two weeks.

Two per cent of people requiring optical aids use contact lenses, until recently mostly women. Now half those being fitted are men. Cost: Anywhere from $150 to $300.

Suggest survey of pollution by towns on Quebec side

Ottawa — Assistance with individual municipal sewerage problems was rejected by the Federal District Commission at Ottawa in favor of an overall survey of the Quebec side of the Ottawa River.

The commission decided on the survey after an appeal from the corporation of Deschenes, Gatineau County, for assistance with its proposed water and sewerage system. The commission will likely ask Federal assistance for the overall survey.

The meeting is expected to be the last of the FDC, which is being replaced by the National Capital Commission.

Substantial order, codfish to Brazil

Ottawa — The Hon. Gordon Churchill, Minister of Trade and Commerce, just announced that arrangements have been made for the sale of $600,000 worth of Canadian salt cod to Brazil.

Canadian exporters in Newfoundland, the Maritime Provinces and Quebec have already been advised and have completed arrangements for shipments to the Brazilian market.

Mr. Churchill warmly welcomed this step by the Brazilian Government, enabling Canadian exporters to re-enter the important Brazilian market for salt fish. As a result of exchange control measures by Brazil, Canadian exporters have for many years been at a serious disadvantage in competing with other suppliers.

DEMOCRACY CELEBRATES IN NOVA SCOTIA

Dressed up with flags and colorful bunting, historic Province House, Halifax, Nova Scotia, was the focal point of events commemorating the 200th anniversary of the first representative government in Canada, established in the Nova Scotia capital in 1758. Climax of the year's celebrations came when a special session of the provincial legislature was held, attended by 19 "legislators," attired in 18th-century style parliamentary garb, representing Nova Scotia's first elected assembly.

To ask establishment of Govt. Housing Ministry

Montreal, Que. — The Quebec Retail Lumber Dealers Association will, during its forthcoming annual convention, which will take place at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel next November 7 and 8, will make representation to the Federal Government and request the creation of a Housing Ministry.

This was indicated by J. Alex Babin, president of the Association, who said that the home building industry is a very important factor in the economic aspect of this country and a definite curb to seasonal employment.

Many other problems relative to the lumber and the building industry in general are slated for discussion at the convention, ranging from home improvement, advertising, unfair competition, pre-cut, market situation and other allied lumber topics.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

For driving in fog — the best advice is, DON'T. But if you must, here are a few good tips:

Use low-beam headlights which shine down under the fog and provide the best light. Avoid bright lights which fog reflects into your eyes. In daylight, keep lights on so others will see you.

Always be able to stop within the distance you can see ahead. Drive slowly. If necessary, crawl. If you can't see ahead, get your car entirely off the road and stop and wait for the fog to lift.

Keep your windshield clean. If it becomes dirty, stop at any Shell service station and the attendant will clean it for you. He will be glad to.

Use the right edge of the road to guide your car.

Avoid sudden stops. Signal first to drivers behind by tapping on your brakes so your tail lights flash.

Beware of patches of fog. Slow down before entering them. They may thicken suddenly and unexpectedly.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

Garden Graph

FLOWERS IN THE SNOW

By planting a selection of bulbs this month, the home gardener can have color in the garden from earliest March through May next year.

Among these bulbs should be a quantity of snowdops, which are the earliest flowers to bloom. Sometimes in January or February and without fail by March, they live up to their name by blooming when the snow melts enough for them to be seen.

Snowflakes also belong to the Snowdrop family. Both are shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Snowdrops naturalize easily when planted under three inches of soil. They should be planted thickly. They require no attention and can remain undisturbed for years. They will grow in sun or shade.

There are several varieties of Snowflakes. Vernum is the earliest, blooming in late March. Next in blooming order is the variety Aesvitus, which flowers in late April. The variety, Gravetype Giant, blooms still later in the spring. It does best in a shady location.

The winter aconites, Eranthis hyemalia, should be planted as soon as received since the bulbs may deteriorate. Snowdrops also need to be put into the ground at once. Others can be set out right through the weeks of fall planting.

Royalty and the Bible

The Bible is a well used book in the Royal Household. The connection of the Royal Family with the Bible, and the Bible Society, has been of long standing. One king's name is immortalized in the King James, or Authorized Version. The printing of the Bible in England is supervised by Royal Charter.

Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, and the Queen Mother are both patrons of the British and Foreign Bible Society. The Duke of Edinburgh usually reads the Scripture lesson in the churches when the Royal Couple attend Divine Worship.

Canada's strength as a moral influence in international affairs is based largely on the fact that her beginnings were founded on the teachings of the Royal Book — the Bible.

DISTRICT NEWS FROM OUR COUNTY CORRESPONDENTS

Avoca

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Young, of Red Rock, have been visiting their parents and friends here for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Arthurs and children, and Mr. John Prophet, left last week for Carleton, N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Card, from Bermuda, were visiting the latter's mother, Mr. Jas. Arthurs, for a few days last week. Mr. and Mrs. Hand, of Ottawa, accompanied them here.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Mahon, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Mahon, of Vankleek Hill, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tomachevsky. Mr. and Mrs. Greg Tardiff, of Montreal, were also visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bates, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kelly, visited their respective daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Kelly, at Carleton, N.B., over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Bates, of Harrington, are spending a few days at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Hugh Bates and Mr. Bates.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith and family, of St. Philippe, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kelly.

Bereavements

Sympathy of this community is extended to Mr. Neil McCallum of Harrington, in the loss of his sister, Mrs. J. Brown, widow of the late Rev. Mr. Brown, of Peterborough, also to the sisters, Mrs. Flora Brown and Mrs. Edith John, of Lachute. Also, deepest sympathy is expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Chambers and family in the loss of their little daughter, Linda, in a highway tragedy last week.

Orange Meeting

The L.O.L. 721 held their monthly meeting in the Orange Hall on Tuesday last, conferring the Royal Arch degree upon one of its youngest members, Mr. McLean. Members were present from Harrington, Grenville, Brownsburg and Lachute. A social evening with refreshments followed the lodge session.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen MacLeod, of Ottawa, and Mr. Douglas MacLeod, of Kamloops, B.C., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Andrews.

Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Edward Andrews' were Mrs. Everett Young and family, also Miss Shirley Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan MacLeod, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Andrews, spent Sunday afternoon at Vankleek Hill.

St. Andrews East

Mrs. Vernon Rayson and son, Gregory, of Montreal, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Ross Hyde.

Miss Violet Bennett and Mr. Arthur Robertson, of Montreal, visited Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Robertson on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon and little son, Terry, visited Mrs. Lilly and Mr. Snowdon on Saturday. Messrs. Angus and Bruce McDonald, of Lachute, were their guests for the week-end.

Col. Hugh Wallis, of Senneville, Que., and Mr. Hamilton, of the State Historical Society of New York, were calling in St. Andrews on Saturday, looking up historical data about Sir John Johnson's family.

Silver Wedding

Mrs. Lloyd Bradley and Mrs. Douglas Rodger were joint hostesses last Saturday evening at the Rodger home, on the occasion of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rodger's 25th wedding anniversary. They received best wishes and congratulations from their immediate families and friends.

Autumn Thank-offering

The autumn thank-offering meeting of the W.M.S. of the United Church will be held on Sunday evening, November 2, at 7.30 o'clock. Miss Jean Stewart, on furlough from her recent field in Gypsumville, Manitoba, will be the guest speaker.

Mabel

Mrs. Leslie Tomalty spent the past week in Toronto attending the convention of Baptist churches. She also visited friends while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Villemar, also Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Villemar, of Cornwall, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith, of Valois, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Jackson, were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson during the week-end.

Mrs. Gerald Tomalty spent a few days in the Smith Clinic, Hawkesbury, where she has been undergoing medical treatment. Friends wish her a quick return to health.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Clark and daughter, Jean, visited Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tassie in Montebello on Sunday.

Rawcliffe

Octogenarian Feted On his Birthday

Friends and neighbors gathered here recently to offer congratulations to Mr. Wm. MacGillivray on his 80th birthday. He was the recipient of many useful gifts, and also received congratulations from the Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker.

Mr. MacGillivray is hale and hearty, and very popular with the younger generation.

Colored slides, shown by Mr. Wm. Hopkin and Mr. Orton MacLeod, were enjoyed by everyone.

Refreshments served by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hopkin brought to a close a very pleasant evening. . . Friends wish Mr. MacGillivray many more happy birthdays.

81st Birthday

Congratulations are extended to Mr. Joseph Kennedy, who will celebrate his 81st birthday on October 29. Mr. Kennedy is one of the pioneer settlers of this community.

Catholic League at Brownsburg

Brownsburg — The October meeting of the Catholic Women's League, St. Louis de France Subdivision, was combined with a social evening for members and guests. The benediction in the church was first given by the Rev. Father Hurtubise, followed by a short business meeting in the parish hall, conducted by the president, Miss M. Jackson.

Plans were made to hold the annual Christmas basket raffle.

Volunteers were called upon to canvass for the Crippled Children's Campaign on the 24th.

On adjournment of the meeting, the gathering heard as guest speaker Mrs. P. Relecom, St. Jerome diocesan president, who explained the C.W.L. and its functions.

Bingo games were played and prizes won. Mrs. G. Chalmers, Social convener, and various members, served refreshments.

The League wishes to thank all guests who participated in making this occasion such a pleasant one.

Long lifetime spent in vicinity of Morin Heights

Late Mrs. Richard Wood

Morin Heights — After a lengthy illness, Mrs. Mary Ann Wood, wife of Richard Wood of Morin Heights, passed away on October 21 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Elder.

The late Mrs. Wood, who was in her 95th year, was born in Mille Isles and spent her life in this vicinity.

Left to mourn are six daughters and three sons—Mrs. Walter Elder (Everetta), Mrs. Cecil McCullough (Gladys), Mrs. George Williams (Alice), Mrs. Edna Isenberg, all of Morin Heights; Mrs. Jack Deluce (Elizabeth-Lily) of Chapleau, Ont.; Mrs. Lena Kennedy, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Wilfred and Jeffrey, of Christieville, and Clement, of Los Angeles; also 20 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were six of her grandsons — Russel, Stanley and Gerald Deluce, of Chapleau, Ont., Lorne Elder and Allan Wood, of Morin Heights, and Carmen Wood, of Lockport, N.Y. At Mrs. Wood's request her grandson, Carl Elder, was organist at the funeral service, at which the Rev. Horace Baugh officiated. The service was held October 24 in Trinity Church, Morin Heights.

Native of Morin died in Townships

Late William Thompson of Island Brook

Morin Heights — Mr. William Thompson passed away at his home in Island Brook on Saturday, September 20, in his 87th year.

Born at Morin Heights in 1871, he was the third son of the late James Thompson and his wife, Rachel Dempsey.

Mr. Thompson, a resident of Island Brook for 49 years, was a member of the United Church. His life was one of devoted service to his family, his church, and the interests of his community.

Predeceased by his wife, Mary Elizabeth Good, in 1949, he is survived by three daughters and one son — Violet, Mrs. S. J. Lucas, Calgary, Alta.; Dorcas, Mrs. P. M. McNab, Chilliwack, B.C.; Leona, Mrs. E. G. Crack, Kingsbury, Que.; Melvin, Island Brook, Que.; and three sons-in-law, S. J. Lucas, P. M. McNab and E. G. Crack. Also surviving are seven grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Prayers at the home were led by the Rev. Ernest Breen, of Cookshire, followed by funeral service in Island Brook United Church. Interment was in the family plot in Island Brook cemetery.

Relatives from a distance attending the funeral included a daughter, Violet, Mrs. S. J. Lucas, of Calgary; Mrs. Frank Goldthorpe, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hulley, Ville St. Laurent; Mr. Merlin McCullough, Montreal; Mr. James Thompson and Mrs. E. O. Pollock, Lachute, Que.; Mr. Arthur Hammond, Mille Isles, Que.; Mrs. Alex McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Eric McCullough, of Morin Heights.

Many friends were present from Kingsbury, Sherbrooke, Cookshire, Bury, Sawyerville, Danville, East Angus, Bishopton, Scotstown, Richmond, Windsor Mills and Lennoxville.

Morin Heights

Mrs. Lila Aumais, of Montreal, has been here for a couple of weeks visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Weir.

Mrs. Geo. Goodfellow, who has been ill for several weeks, has recuperated sufficiently to be able to go to Lancaster, Ont., to spend a week with her husband.

Mr. Matt Dey returned here last week after spending a week in Otterburn Park visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dey.

Mrs. Heli Summerauer, who has spent the summer months at Banff, Alta., is at present spending a couple of months with her mother, Mrs. Alma Watchorn, at Christieville.

Friends of Mrs. John Elder, of Christieville, will be pleased to hear that she has been discharged from the Royal Victoria Hospital following a major operation, and is now recuperating at the home of her son, Howard and Mrs. Elder, in Rosemere.

Mrs. Alma Watchorn spent a long week-end recently at Templeton visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Scullion.

Sympathy of the community is extended to the family of the late Mrs. Richard Wood, who passed away Tuesday last at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Elder.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bennett, of Montreal, spent the week-end here at their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Wood and family, of Lockport, N.Y., spent the week-end here visiting his sister, Mrs. C. McCullough and Mr. McCullough.

Miss Marilyn Dey spent the week-end as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Riddell at Mille Isles.

Restaurant Closed

After being in operation about 40 years, Boyd's Restaurant closed its doors this past week. We understand it is to be renovated and changed into apartments.

(Intended for last issue)

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Staniforth recently motored to Alcove, Que., to visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Staniforth, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Briscoe, motored to Crysler, Ont., for the International Plowing Match.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Douglas and family, of Ottawa, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott.

Week-end visitors at Mrs. Alvin Graham's were Beverly, Clark and Earl Graham, of Montreal, and Mrs. Harold Wilson and Miss Isabelle Clark, of Ste. Rose Heights, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scott, accompanied by Mrs. E. McGrail and son Kenneth, recently motored to Metis Beach to visit with Miss Ina Scott, who is on the teaching staff there.

25th Anniversary

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Desjardins on their silver wedding, October 16. On Sunday, the family and a party of close friends tendered them a dinner, and they were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Friends and relatives from Ste. Agathe and Calumet attended. . . Sincere good wishes for many more years of happiness are extended to this couple.

Week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Moore were Mr. E. Burns, Miss Kelly and friend, and Mr. Lewis Rafuse and daughter, Mrs. Miller — the latter two joining Mrs. Rafuse who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Hall Cox are occupying their home here after an extended visit to Prince Edward Island.

Good Hunting

A hunting party — Messrs. Rathwell Morrison, Stanley Dobby, Gerald Gordon, Keith and Ivan Rathwell — returned home with a worthwhile trophy in the form of a large moose with a 60-inch antler spread. Well done, Nimrods!

BLIND PLAYER

Edmonton (CP) — Norman P. Gale, 59-year-old blind cribbage player, hit the jackpot recently with a perfect 29 hand — the first he's had in 30 years of playing cribbage.

HUNTING GOOD IN NORTHERN ONTARIO

The antler span of this moose is 59 inches. It was shot by Paul St. John near Kapuskasing, Ont., and weighed 1,800 pounds. In the truck is another moose, shot by Paul's brother Arthur. It weighed 1,300 pounds.

The Local Farm Scene

PRIVATE APARTMENTS FOR CALVES

Living alone and liking it, calves are housed in individual "calfloos" at a research farm at Elk River, Minn. The calfloos, flat-roofed, weather-tight wooden structures, are the chief feature of a new calf-raising system based on principles of isolation and disease prevention. Each "calfloo," spaced at least eight feet apart to help prevent transmission of airborne disease germs from one unit to the next, is four feet high, four feet wide and six feet long. A calf is placed in a unit shortly after birth and has no physical contact with other animals.

Piglet protection pays dividends

Heavy baby pig losses in the critical first hours after farrowing may mean the difference between profit and loss to the commercial swine producer.

This loss can, for the most part be overcome, says Dr. H. T. Fredeen of the Lacombe Experimental Farm, by confining the sow in a stall or crate during and immediately after farrowing. This prevents nervous or clumsy sows from crushing the little pigs.

Farrowing stalls have certain advantages over crates.

They are simple and cheap to build and require a minimum outlay of labor and materials. Bolted construction permits rapid dismantling for storage when farrowing has been completed. The pen area may be used for other purposes afterwards.

Sows should not be confined in the stall too long before farrowing, since the lack of normal exercise may be detrimental. If possible she should enter the stall the day before her litter is due or, if the due date is unknown, when signs of preparing to farrow are evident.

Cut straw or shavings may be used for bedding.

Ample water and a light taxative feed should be provided.

After farrowing, the sow and litter should be left in the stall for two or three days. The sow will settle down and the pigs will become sufficiently active that upon removal from the stall, crushing should be minimized.

Detailed information on the construction and use of farrowing stalls can be obtained by writing Dr. H. T. Fredeen, Experimental Farm, Lacombe, Alta.

WHAT IS THE PRICE OF YOUR LAYING MASH?

During a conversation with a prospective customer the other day, he asked me what the price of our Laying Mash was. . . . Well what was wrong with asking a normal question like that? LOTS! First, the answer would not give him any information. Our Laying Mash might be away lower in price by the bag than the one he was feeding, or it could be away higher. Neither of these facts would make him any wiser!

But had he asked me HOW MANY EGGS a bag of our Laying Mash would produce, then he would be able to judge whether our mash or the one he was using was the cheaper. That is, provided he was checking production on his present mash.

Purina Chow usually costs more by the bag than other feeds, but Purina Research and experimental farm testing has shown Purina just how much of the different ingredients they must put into the chow to give maximum returns per bag. Also, they have special machinery for MICRO MIXING, that ensures every ounce of chow contains the exact same ingredients as the other ounce. So that you are not buying FILLER instead of FEED.

PURINA CHOWS ARE NOT MADE TO SELL AT A PRICE BUT TO PRODUCE BEST RESULTS AT LOWEST COST.

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

Salt Is Essential In Body Processes

Salt is vital to all living creatures and its two elements, sodium and chlorine, serve several purposes in life processes.

Recognizing the human requirement for salt the Illinois State Medical Society's Committee on Nutrition issued an emphatic warning against the fad for self-imposed "salt-free," "salt-poor," or "low-sodium" diets. The warning states that sodium is vital to the life of every cell in the body and that chlorine is also required for health. For instance, an adequate supply of chlorine permits the body to manufacture hydrochloric acid, a component of the gastric juice which is necessary to digestion.

Dr. Bohstedt

The medical warning concludes: don't go on a low-salt diet unless ordered to do so by a physician.

Of course your dairy cows, your swine, sheep or steers are not liable to go on a low-salt diet to slenderize, or in the belief that the diet will lower their blood pressure. However, if they are not fed their full requirement of salt their health will suffer and you will lose milk, meat and wool as a result of their lowered efficiency.

Health, growth, production, work and life itself depend on the presence of salt. Your animal's blood, for instance, contains more salt than all other minerals combined.

Nature knew what she was about when she put so much sodium and chlorine into this vital circulating tissue of the body. She knew that salt controls the water content of the body by regulating the permeability of the cell walls, and that sodium takes part in respiration during every single breath. It is the sodium bicarbonate of the blood that carries the carbon dioxide out of the system.

While the chlorine from the body's salt supply goes to forming the hydrochloric acid of the digestive juices, the sodium becomes part of the bile that is so necessary for digestion.

There are other ramifications of the functions of salt in the body processes but it should suffice to point to its essentiality in the three basic body activities: blood circulation, respiration and digestion.

It sometimes seems that the animals know their need for salt better than the farmer because when it is available they eat only what they need and when it is not available they search for it and go to great lengths to obtain it.

Question: Is it better to feed concentrates separately or on top of silage? What are the merits for the two systems?

Answer: I don't believe this question has been put to a critical test. But from observations of ruminants that were slaughtered immediately after being fed or watered, the solids and liquids are not channeled quantitatively to any particular part of the compound stomach. They are apt to be splashed over the contents of more than one stomach. The roughage or coarse part of the ration does of course go directly to the paunch to be later regurgitated to the mouth for further chewing and then reswallowed. Most entrapped grain has previously been washed rearward to the true stomach and the intestines. So it seems that whether grain is fed separately as in a milking parlor, or is fed on top of silage, it will ultimately be digested regardless.

Have You A Question on UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

In this column we publish questions about unemployment insurance and employment, together with answers received from the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

If you are uncertain about any point do not hesitate to send us your question. We will obtain an answer and publish it in this column.

Following are some questions with answers which may be of interest to you:

Q. I am shortly to be laid off my regular employment. For the past six months I have driven a taxi two nights a week earning about $12 a week. Would this prevent me from drawing benefit?

A. You may continue with your part-time employment but you must declare all of your earnings from that source, and from every other source, each week, as these might affect the amount of benefit to which you are entitled.

Q. I was a brakeman but as a result of a train accident six months ago my left arm was amputated. I am now fit for a different type of work but have been unable to locate any. I am in receipt of a permanent pension from the Workmen's Compensation Board of $1,000 a year. Would this money interfere in any way with my receiving unemployment insurance benefits?

A. No. Workmen's compensation payments made under a permanent settlement would not interfere with the receipt of benefits. To get benefit, however, you must be able to do work of a kind that there is a reasonable probability of obtaining.

Q. I am a widow and when I filed my initial claim I was denied the dependency rate in respect of my son Paul, 18 years of age, whom I mainly support as he earns only $65 per month as an apprentice. I would like to know why the dependency rate has not been granted me.

A. Inasmuch as your son earns $65 per month he is not considered as being wholly or mainly maintained by you, and you, therefore, could not get benefit at the dependency rate for him.

Several Farm Forums open activities; radio broadcasts commence November 4

Quebec Farm Forums are preparing for a busy season, and prospects are for more members. Three meetings were held October 21-23 in the west of Pontiac County. Argenteuil members held a rally in Lachute High School this week. Papineau and Gatineau members are having a travelling "workshop" October 28-30 and will celebrate "Co-op Week" in Canada with a meeting of co-op and Farm Forum members in the Legion Hall at Buckingham, October 30. Brome members are meeting in the Knowlton High School for a special double-feature — two programs, one for the men and one for the ladies.

This year for the first time, individual families may join Quebec Farm Radio Forum and will receive the "Guides" without belonging to a Farm Forum. "Guides" will be mailed directly from the provincial office to the individuals. And even this bulletin has had a face-lifting this year.

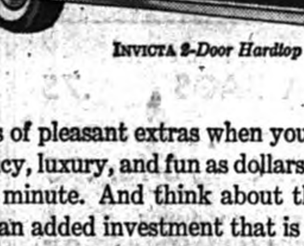

The first broadcast of the season will be heard over CBM at 8.30 p.m. Monday evening, November 4. "What Price Freedom?" asks whether farmers have forsaken their freedom for economic security. It's certain to provoke some warm discussions. The second broadcast is for the provinces of Quebec and Ontario only. You'll hear two farmers from Ontario (who have some quite opposing views) talking about "Conservation". Dr. Mercier, director of the Lennoxville Experimental Farm, tosses some sage comments into the conversation.

Local fat stock takes top awards, Sherbrooke Show

Sherbrooke, Que. — Angus steers, as in 1957, won both the grand and reserve champion steer awards at the Sherbrooke Fat Stock Show. The champion, bred and shown by Dr. G. R. McCall, of Lachute, sold for $1.52 per pound to Chas. Morantz, while the reserve, shown by last year's winner, L. T. Porter of St. Andrews East, sold for 82 cents to the same buyer.

Milk production greatly increased

The year 1958 may go down in the history of Canada's dairy industry as the year of the great increase in milk production, D. B. Goodwillie, Canada Department of Agriculture told the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers' Marketing Board at Toronto.

Milk production during the first seven months of this year, he said, was over seven percent higher than for the previous record year. An increase of three or four percent has been the pattern in recent years.

More Butter Made

On the heels of this sharp increase came some difficulty in marketing products in which milk is used.

Butter production is currently about 17 percent higher than the record year of 1957, while consumption is down three percent. Most of the increased milk production has been funnelled into the manufacture of butter.

This has been a difficult year for cheese, although there are now some signs of improvement. Production is down 10 percent and consumption somewhat higher.

Exports Less

Stocks at August 1 were the highest since 1945, due chiefly to the loss of export markets. Exports for the first half of the year were less than 1,000,000 pounds.

The concentrated milk industry has been operating normally, and no major change is anticipated this year except with dry skimmed milk. It is running an unprecedented 66 percent higher than ever before.

This increase is brought about by: (1) A desire by farmers to ship milk rather than cream; (2) Price differential between dry skimmed milk and other by-products and its resulting effects on butter production — a much larger percentage from whole milk rather than cream as it was a few years ago.
