ARGENTEUIL - TWO MOUNTAINS PRODUCES TOP PLOWMEN —

World plowing match entrants from this area in three annual contests

Hammond in Rome, St. Benoit farmer to Paris next year

At Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, there was a gala atmosphere last week-end — plowmen from all over Quebec and Canada at large, gathering for the provincial plowing match on Thursday and the all-Canada competition the following days.

Argenteuil's representation in the provincial match — Lucien Maisonneuve of St. Philippe, Victor St. Pierre, of St. Andrews, and Maurice Charlebois, of Beech Ridge — made a good showing but were "outplowed" by veteran plowmen from the neighboring County of Two Mountains, Albert Raymond, of St. Benoit (first), and R. Renaud of St. Eustache (second). Mr. Raymond received the Esso plaque for the provincial title.

Allan Hammond, of Lachute, accompanied the Argenteuil team but was ineligible to compete, since he is a representative for Canada in the international event this year. . . . After a busy week attending the county and provincial matches, Allan left Saturday night from Dorval Airport and is presently in Rome for the big showdown. The other member of Canada's two-man team is Robert Timbers, of Mount Albert, Ont.; they are also accompanied by their manager and are guests of Imperial Oil. . . . Mr. Hammond also qualified to compete in 1958 at Stuttgart, Germany.

Meanwhile, Albert Raymond and R. Renaud, as provincial winner and runner-up, respectively, entered the national championship race and Mr. Raymond, the entrant from St. Benoit, was declared 3rd-place winner with a score of 546½. The champion was Bill Dickson of Brampton, Ont. (596).

Raymond and Dickson will form Canada's team to compete in the world competitions next year at Paris, France.

The second-place winner, Grant Wells, of Stouffville, Ont., was ineligible for the international competition because regulations of the Canadian Plowing Council prevent two members of the same provincial team from attending the big show.

A spokesman for the Canadian Plowing Council emphasized that these competitions are not just a pleasant get-together for farmers.

"It stimulates interest in the proper use of farm implements," he said. "But, more than that, it keeps before the people of Canada the fact that the plow is the basic instrument in food production and as such is a symbol of peace and goodwill."

The plowing field at Macdonald was surrounded by autumn-colored trees and brightly-decorated exhibition tents of leading farm equipment manufacturers, lending in air of general gaiety to the scene.

Five injured in auto collision

Two Montreal residents suffered serious injuries on Saturday afternoon when the car in which they were driving was involved in an accident with another vehicle on Route 41, just outside the Lachute town limits.

Taken to Montreal hospital by ambulance were Mr. and Mrs. S. Leon Norwiche. Robert Truesdale, 39, and Gerard Boularge, 23, also Montrealers, received minor cuts.

The accident occurred at 3.30 p.m. on the St. Jerome road, when Robert Truesdale saw a car passing a third vehicle and heading towards him. In an effort to avoid the oncoming car, Truesdale headed for the ditch, and was there struck by the approaching auto, driven by Mr. Norwiche, 59. The accident resulted in damage of approximately $400 to each car.

Street lighting job completed in town

Gatineau Power completed last week the changes so far ordered in Lachute's street-lighting. Commenced on August 29, the job was completed on September 26. There are still a number of streets unaffected by this improvement, but the Company awaits decision of the town authorities before proceeding on these lesser thoroughfares.

All 60 light units on Main Street, from the Catholic Cemetery at the western limits to the Protestant Cemetery at the eastern boundary, have been changed to 250-watt mercury-vapor lights in approved brackets — with the exception of two fluorescents which were previously erected experimentally in front of the town hall. There are also 9 mercury lights on Bethany, 1 on Sydney, 15 on Bedard Blvd., 8 on the Brownsburg Road, 5 on Hamford — a total of 131. Elsewhere, new 300-watt street lights have been installed on Foundry and Robert, and in other parts all 100-watt incandescents replaced by 200-watt lamps.

All this lighting equipment is the property of Gatineau Power, which installs and maintains the lights. On its part, the Town Corporation pays yearly rental of $55 on each pole with mercury light, $36 for each 300-watt, and $25 for each 200-watt light. Incidentally, the Gatineau maintains 600 poles in Lachute; a number of these are used jointly by Bell Telephone.

For lighting purposes Lachute is divided in two sections, east and west, and the power is switched on by a "magic eye" actuated by daylight intensities morning and evening.

Successful 2-day blood clinic nets 479 donors; 163 in B'bg

An army of Blood Donors, 479 strong, converged on the Lachute Auditorium during the two days of a very successful clinic held last week.

A record of 157 new donors was chalked up. The regular ones, too, were out in full force. Every donor was given a haemoglobin test to determine if he or she was in good physical condition; 20 were rejected due to low haemoglobin, colds, or having had malaria.

Approximately 380 c.c. of blood was taken from each donor, who received an identity card showing his blood group and the number of times blood had been given.

At the last clinic in 1958, and in other years, donors from St. Andrews East came to Lachute. This year, however, that community is having a clinic of its own on October 6th, and considering the fact that many will attend locally, the committee feels the results of the Lachute clinic are very satisfactory.

Chairman Roger Regimbal expressed appreciation on behalf of the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic to all who gave so generously of the life-giving fluid. Also to all those who gave their wholehearted support in making the clinic a success — the civic authorities, the clergy, the press and radio, the local industries, the service clubs, the women's organizations, the volunteer nurses and all those volunteers who were part of the clinic for two days and worked behind the scenes, telephoning and organizing during the weeks beforehand.

"Organizing a blood donor clinic is a tremendous job, which requires a great deal of time and effort," said Mrs. W. FitzGerald, president of the Lachute Branch of the Canadian Red Cross. "We wish to congratulate the committee on the results obtained, and thank all those who helped."

Results of the blood donor clinic in Brownsburg last Wednesday show 163 donors — making a total of 642 blood donations in the two communities. The St. Andrews East clinic today (Thursday) should swell the district total to a very gratifying figure.

Mr. W. C. Morrow, chairman of the Brownsburg campaign, wishes to thank the volunteer donors and all who assisted in any way.

A special invitation to all who for some reason were unable to attend either the Lachute or Brownsburg clinics, is extended by St. Andrews East. The Blood Donor Clinic will be in operation there October 6, from 2 to 5.30 p.m. and from 7 to 9.30 p.m. The need is urgent. All blood given today is used in transfusions within 24 hours.

Weekly sessions of St. Andrews Power Squadron

Weekly sessions of the St. Andrews Power Squadron will be held over the winter months, which will be open to persons interested in increasing their knowledge and improving their technique in handling boats. Emphasis will be placed on the various types of safety equipment and proper boat handling, including the reading of navigation charts and the use of other aids such as the compass, buoys, etc. The course is open to ladies as well as men, and it is not necessary that they own or use a boat. The size of boat is also not important, as the principles apply to all.

Certain books and supplies must be purchased at nominal cost, and in order to obtain some idea of the number interested and to order these books as soon as possible, it is requested that any of the following members be contacted for further details: N. D. Somers in Brownsburg; R. Legault, M. Trickey or J. G. McIndoe in Lachute.

"Over Ninety" Birthday Club

Mr. J. S. Giles received greetings Tuesday on the celebration of his 91st birthday. Among many appreciated tokens was a bouquet of flowers from the Town Corporation, which he served many years ago as mayor and councillor. He was also feted at the Lions Club Tuesday evening, being presented with a cake in the shape of an "L" with lighted candles.

Mr. Giles, publisher of The Watchman, continues to enjoy good health.

Liberals elect delegates to prov. convention

At the Legion Hall here recently, members of the Argenteuil Liberal Association met to appoint their delegates to the sixth congress of the Quebec Liberal Federation, which is being held at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel on October 7-8-9.

Rolf Nelson, secretary, was chosen unanimously to represent the Liberal youth of the County, while Antoine Paré, president and Rodrigue Durocher, former Liberal candidate were automatically designated to represent the senior organization, with other delegates elected by vote as follows:

Bernard Gosselin, Fernand Legault, Q.C., and Roger Lagarde, of Lachute; Paul Frappier, of Laurel; Leon Tessier, of Brownsburg; Gaetan Paquette, of Ayersville.

Substitutes named were — John Duncan, of Brownsburg; Gaston Gagné, of St. Michel; S. W. Rodger, of St. Andrews; Wilfrid Morrissette, of Lachute.

Correction

Results of the Cancer Campaign, published last week, showed returns exceeding the $4,500 objective "by over $600" . . . This was a typographical error — the total being $4,654.36 as stated, or $154.36 over the target.

New group-coordination for welfare proved workable by case in point

Representatives of ten local organizations met at city hall last Wednesday evening to deal with the problem of social welfare in Lachute town and district. At this first business meeting, chaired by B. A. Jenkins of the Canadian Legion, five individual cases of need were discussed and action taken by interested groups. One additional case, involving the responsibility of the local and provincial authorities for indigents requiring ambulance service, was aired by the group. Further information on this subject will be presented at the next meeting by Mr. L. P. Dusfresne.

One outstanding example of coordination occurred at this meting which exemplified the possibilities outlined by the chairman at the start of the session. In this instance a request for a wheelchair was received by an organization without available funds at present for this purpose. The request was immediately taken up by the representative of another group who specialize in assisting crippled children, and the request will be considered at the next meeting of that organization. The representative of a third group present offered the services of a wheelchair immediately, to tide over until a chair could be procured on a permanent basis. In addition, it was pointed out by a Government representative that a grant is available on the purchase of wheelchairs under these conditions. Therefore the work of possible days and weeks was covered by this meeting within minutes. In fact, positive assistance is now quickly assured for a crippled youngster which may otherwise not be forthcoming due to lack of information on the part of the person making the request.

Upon completion of the introductions, Chairman B. A. Jenkins reviewed the purpose of this group:

"As you are aware, this meeting will in no way interfere with the welfare program of any organization. The main objects are fourfold:

"(a) To prevent unnecessary overlap of efforts.

"(b) To pool information, where desirable, thus reducing the problem of investigation for each organization.

"(c) To assist Mr. Dufresne, Social Welfare representative, through our personal knowledge of any cases he may encounter.

"(d) To provide more effective assistance with less delay for those in need."

The next meeting date will be Wednesday, October 26.

Those present and the organizations represented were —

Canadian Legion — B. A. Jenkins, R. A. Giles.

*Canadian National Institute for the Blind — W. G. Richardson.

*Lachute Federation of Charities — Richard Valois.

Lachute Lions Club — Rod Carreau.

*Lachute Police Dept. — Chief A. J. Whiteway.

Social Service — Horace Lamarche, L. P. Dufresne.

Richelieu Club—Roland Menard, Guy Lagarde.

Rotary Club — F. H. J. Royal.

Unemployment Insurance Commission — G. A. Downing.

Record reviewed at High School annual presentation of prizes and bursaries

The annual school opening at L.H.S. took place last Wednesday afternoon for the junior grades, and Friday evening for the senior grades — the ceremonies and prize distribution in each case being attended by a large gathering of parents and friends in the school auditorium.

Vocal and musical entertainment was provided by the pupils on each occasion, directed by the music instructor of the school, Mrs. G. R. Rigby. The numbers gave evidence of fine training. Soloists in the evening entertainment were Joyce Plummer and young Douglas Jenkins.

School commissioners, members of the clergy and representatives of prize donors and organizations were on the platform at the evening affair on Friday. The school board chairman, Jas. W. McGibbon, gave a brief address and conducted the proceedings.

Chairman Jas. W. McGibbon

By way of comparison Mr. McGibbon recalled that when he first became chairman 14 years ago the teacher payroll was from $40,000 to $50,000 a year, whereas today it was over $165,000. "We feel we have a right to expect the best for local education — and we believe, on the basis of results, that we are getting it." As to the ever-expanding school facilities, there had been an appreciable addition to the premises on school consolidation in 1932; there has been a further large addition 10 years ago; and again this year, the building is being still further extended. The old Academy section will eventually be torn down and replaced.

Mr. McGibbon acknowledged a provincial grant of $272,000 towards the present addition. He paid tribute the the District Home and School Association as a "sounding board" of public opinion; and he regretted the lack of public attendance at the school board's monthly meetings.

Principal F. H. J. Royal

Giving account of the school's achievement in the past year, Principal Fred Royal stated that 1960 had marked the highest percentage of "passes" in the records of the school as far back as 1906. Following successes in a few supplemental subjects, there had been 34 out of 37 students to qualify for High School Leaving certificates — or 92%, compared with an average of 75% for the province. He congratulated the teachers and Grade XI students on this fine result.

In the past three years, approximately one-half of the L.H.S. graduates had gone on to college or

"If Winter comes can Spring be far behind?" questions the poet Swinburne. At any rate the little girls of Lachute High School (Grades 2-A and 2-B), with happy, smiling faces framed in their daffodil bonnets, seem to have no doubts at all that Spring is almost around the corner.

These little girls entertained on the afternoon program of song and music, at the school's junior prize-giving exercises.

Newly appointed Returning Officer

DR. JEAN-PAUL DORION, veterinary surgeon, of Lachute, who has been appointed by the Government as District Returning Officer for Argenteuil-Deux Montagnes, for federal election purposes. He succeeds Notary Richard Valois in this capacity.

The appointment follows annulment of the 1952 Federal Election Act and adoption of the 1960 Act, which cancels all previous appointments.

The function of federal returning officer has been in the Valois family for 40 years here. The late Notary Gaetan Valois filled the role for 33 years, and was succeeded by his son, Richard Valois, in 1953.

Thefts from several summer homes; two face charge

Two St. Andrews East residents, Sylvio Normand and Pierre Giraldeau, both 20 years of age, were arrested last week and charged with theft from summer cottages in the district.

The two are scheduled to appear in St. Jerome court on Friday of this week. Following the arrests, a considerable amount of merchandise was recovered, fitting the description of items reported stolen.

Charges were laid by Sgt.-Det. Aimé Bertrand.

On Monday of last week, a Lake Louisa resident, Mrs. Reta Colpitts, surprised a man in her summer cottage. The Montreal resident arrived at the cottage shortly after five p.m. to find a sizeable amount of her possessions piled at the door ready for loading into a car.

As she entered the building, the man fled. Provincial police were notified and are investigating.

Another robbery reported to police was at the Fraser Lake summer home of Thomas Ayers. Mr. Ayers arrived at his residence early last week to find it looted of a considerable number of items, including cameras, fishing equipment and household accessories. Provincial Police were notified and have the theft under investigation.

Community Concert staged by all-Canadian ballet troupe

A large and appreciative audience enjoyed the first of this season's Community Concerts, last Saturday evening in the High School auditorium. "Les Grands Ballets Canadiens" (Montreal) presented a program virtually new to this town. Although ballet professionals, and duo teams, have appeared here before, this was the first large-scale troupe performing on a local stage. As anticipated by the Community Concerts selection committee, the program received a warm public acclaim.

The recital included farcical, poetic and dramatic dances, presented by this thoroughly Canadian group of 20 young persons with the polish of perfectionists. Unfortunately, two of their more spectacular numbers (from the viewpoint of technique), were necessarily omitted due to stage difficulties.

Impressive aspects of this show were the superb lighting, which amplified the color and atmosphere; the simple but effective scenic arrangements; and the appropriate costumes. This was silent drama in exotic decor. The choreography exemplified the theme throughout, and the recital was a credit to Mme Ludmilla Chiriaeff, ballerina and producer, Fred Thomas, technical director, and their entire troupe. Pianist was Claude Poirier, who dextrously accompanied with difficult tempos and ecstatic airs.

"Les Grands Ballets Canadiens" was founded seven seasons ago by Mme. Chiriaeff, who remains its president. She drilled her dancers, many of them drawn from her own academy in Montreal, into a first-rate ensemble, and presented them in scintillating new productions of standard works as well as in many original new ballets. Striving to create an indigenous product, she has placed the emphasis of the troupe on native themes. Many of the new works have been choreographed by Mme. Chiriaeff herself and by the company's leading male dancer, Eric Hyrst, and many of them are set to scores by contemporary Canadian composers.

It is felt by the organizers that this was a happy prelude to a successful series and a still wider sphere of enjoyment — since the Community Concerts Association has reached an enrolment of over 500 members this season.

Attend Quebec retailers' congress

The annual conference of the Quebec food retailers' organization is being held in Sherbrooke on October 9-10. Delegates from the local grocery fraternity are Ted Vachon, of Lachute, and Lucien Denis, of Brownsburg. At this gathering there will be chosen the "grocer of the year" for Quebec Province.

Any members of the district association desiring information on the coming conference should communicate with Jean - Chas. St. André, storekeeper at Brownsburg.

Argenteuil Outdoors

A column for the sportsman

— By BOB ATCHISON —

Duck hunters by the dozen around the district! The increase over last year seems to be 100%. Personally I have never seen as many before, and it is regrettable the number who don't know the first thing about handling guns. Talking to Ken Pollock the other day, this was his complaint: On his farm they have a sugar bush, with all the necessary equipment including the sugar house. Last weekend some jokers visited the bush, and after shooting everything that moved, they started on the house itself. Windows shot out, walls holed, cans shot up. When is this stupid practice going to be stopped?

Sunday down on the Ottawa, the wife and I saw eight fellows in the one blind. Not one of them knew the first thing about Duck shooting. They were all of Italian extraction. There is no objection at all to them enjoying our shooting, but there should be some way to teach them. Just from this one gang, chances of a fatality were terrific.

With the Deer season opening too, there will be more grief in the bush. Let's hope by this time next year some workable legislation comes from the Government on come up with something that this hazard. New York State has should work very well. To begin with, all old licenses must be kept and turned in at the opening of a season, or when applying for a new permit. If you have never had a permit before then you have to take a test to qualify. Before, only a person under 21 years of age had to do this, now it is for everyone. If you lose your permit, then you have to swear to an affidavit and still take a test. Good should come from this law. Maybe some such thing could be enacted in this province. I know all real sportsmen would welcome it. It does seem strange that shooters can mistake another human being for a squirrel, deer, rabbit or what-have-you!

Fishing is still very good, (not Trout). The North River has been yielding some nice Doré and Northerns, and will continue for a while yet. Lake Sir John is still producing excellent Perch. The Bass have dropped off a lot, mainly due to the water chilling off very fast. But these Perch are beautiful eating, and there are lots of them. Lake Louisa is producing as usual, not as good, but still well worth going out after. I did hear of a couple of Greys taken just the last day of the season that weighed in at 3 lbs. each. There was also a little action from Patterson's Lake up near Lake Hughes; these were Brookies, and not very big, but they were Trout.

Information is being handed out on what the Government is going to do in our County. It sounds very good, but maybe it would be a good idea to wait and see. Certainly some of the lakes should be opened to the public and stocking in a lot of them is a must. But just stocking a lake is not enough; first of all people must be taught that every game law we break is not only hurting people, but the country as well. All the education handed out on conservation doesn't seem to be enough, so what should be done? Some one has to come up with a solution, and soon.

I wonder how many local birdwatchers have seen the Gosh Hawks around. There are four of them, and they can be seen hovering around the fields right below the town towards the North River. There are a lot of birds in the vicinity right now that should have been on their way south some time ago. Even Scarlet Tanagers have been seen this past week. Black and White Warblers are still in the area — how long for, it would be hard to say.

Ever try getting a pair of bush boots ready for another season, after they have been left for months? I saw a pair that had been treated this way. All leather, which made it worse, they were a beautiful shade of green! Boots like this are expensive, and should be looked after. I don't think it's too hard to put a little dressing on them. Dubbin, saddle soap, or neet's foot oil will do a lot for them. Comfort for the feet in the bush is a must, and should be remembered. If they do happen to be all leather and get wet, all you have to do is pack them with newspaper or warm sand to dry them. Even your gun-slings should be looked after with oil, etc. It's a lot easier to use a soft, pliable sling than a hard, cracked one. As a matter of fact, this applies to all your equipment, be it leather, canvas or cloth. Look after it — it pays.

The crows are still with us, and can be got with very little trouble. I've used the new Mossberg Magnum a couple of times, and find it a nice little weapon. It's very accurate up to about 150 yards, and does pack a hefty wallop. For the part-time varminter, it's perfect. Of course, for the real shooter it's the 220 or some such class. This particular calibre is getting to be popular, far outclassing the 218 Bee and the 219 Zipper. Reading about these calibres it seems they are becoming obsolete, as far as the steady shooter is concerned. Only a very few companies are making these cartridges, so that they have to be hand-loaded. This can't be fooled around with, so that they are gradually fading from the picture.

One more thing that should interest someone: Bow Hunting. With my talk about the careless shooters, something should be said for these boys. This type of hunting is deadly in the hands of an expert, and to tell the truth most of them are just that. There really isn't much that could be said of them being careless, as they are not. Most of them realize just how deadly a weapon they are using, and treat it accordingly. I do know a broad-head hunting arrow sure tears a hole in an object. I remember reading of a hunter who drilled a fox with one of these, and actually pinned the fox to a tree. When you do see these sportsmen or women with bow and arrow, you can't help but feel they are in it for the sport and not for the kill. Too bad this couldn't carry over into the guns.

Last word — guns and liquor don't mix. Either don't drink or don't shoot. A life is worth more than any drink you may want.

Presentation of prizes, bursaries university — five times greater than the proportion when the present principal took over . . . These were records which the school might well feel proud of.

On a less encouraging note, there had been a high failure rate in Grade X — 13 pupils out of 46. This, said Principal Royal, had been anticipated by the staff, since a number of pupils had been advanced to that grade without qualifying merit — hoping they might catch up on their studies. It should also have been anticipated by a number of the parents and students too, he added — since the periodic report cards are a usually reliable indication of a student's application to his studies.

This year there are 759 enrolments, filling 26 classes — three of which are being accommodated in the basement of the school. . . With the noise of construction outside, but with harmony and determination within the school, both among teachers and pupils, the principal looked forward to a successful year ahead.

Mr. Ernest Gow spoke on behalf of the Home and School, touching upon the nature of its programs and soliciting the support of parents in greater numbers.

In presenting the numerous prizes, Principal Royal paid sincere acknowledgment to the individual and group donors, and to deceased citizens whose endowments had given the incentive of awards and bursaries to deserving students.

Several new scholarships were presented this year — one from the Legion 70 Auxiliary and another, jointly to two recipients, from the Home and School. Mrs. S. Bradshaw and Mrs. John Thorpe, respective presidents of these two groups, made the presentations. Another addition was the Elizabeth Gordon Memorial Scholarship; this was presented by Mr. Walter S. Gordon.

Mr. Robert Haydon, on behalf of the Lions Club, presented the cup for the aggregate winner at the School Fair, and Mr. Gow, on behalf of Ayers Limited, presented travel rugs to the two runners-up.

Plan classes in physical education

Mrs. Britta Heyden, who has a diploma in Rhythmical Gymnastics and Sports from Germany, and a certificate for Physical Education from Quebec, plans to open classes in Lachute and St. Andrews. All persons interested are asked to phone LE 7-3683. The classes are based on the famous founder of free movement, a specialty in our modern time, to give women exercises to work muscles not ordinarily used in normal daily life. Special attention will be given to over-tense people, by breathing exercises and correcting posture. The results of such lessons should be a co-ordination of movement and an improved outlook on life.

'Meet the Teacher' night at Lachute Home-School

Last year, the Lachute Home and School Association inaugurated the "Meet the Teacher" Night, designed for the purpose of enlightening parents on the year's curriculum in the various grades, so that they might know just what is involved for the children's studies and homework. This is not an occasion for individual conferences.

The Home and School Association extends an invitation to all parents of school-age children to attend this meeting on Wednesday, October 12, at 8.15 p.m. in the music room of Lachute High School. If parents or any interested persons desire to join the Association, the membership fee is only $1.50 yearly per family, which also includes the Home and School publication.

Raised winner of Connaught Pk. race

"Lennie Boy", a horse now owned by a resident of Smiths Falls, Ont., recently won $5,600 in a 3-year-old colt stake at the Connaught Raceway, Ottawa. It is interesting to note that this pacer was bred and raised by a former Lachute district resident, Roy McPhail, whose stables are at South Mountain, Ont.

AS FINE AS NEW AS YOU CAN GO

Now! Full comfort, full luxury in a trimmer, full size car

With a car that's so new clean through, Buick was able to start right down on the ground and compromise on no component all the way up.

IT STARTED WITH AN ALL-NEW FRAME

Buick's new X-frame made way for lower door sills, a smoother, quieter ride, easier handling and better insulation of the body from road shock.

The new frame allowed a NEW CONTROL-ARM SUSPENSION

From this came flatter cornering and mirror-smooth going over the bumps as well as the highway. Buick has a new semi-floating rear axle, too! This combines what engineers call Torque-Tube Drive and Hotchkiss Drive—giving you the finest features of both.

The new axle allowed a NEW HIDE-AWAY DRIVE SHAFT

Buick put a totally new kind of double-joint into a 2-piece drive shaft. This let it bend down under your feet—and down went the hump in the middle to give you far more flat floor space than before.

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

Now! The room, ride, go, pride of the costliest cars plus the savings and ease of the small

It took combined GM and Buick ingenuity to work the near miracle which made this car possible. Here is FULL-SIZE LIVING WITH NEW-SIZE CONVENIENCE.

COMFORT? STRETCH OUT!

The Special gives you more headroom than most new-size cars, more legroom than most new-size cars, more shoulder room than most new-size cars—and more total room for comfort.

CANADA'S ONLY ALUMINUM TRANSMISSION

Not another new-size car has it! New Dual-Path Turbine Drive is the liveliest automatic in any car. It's like having two transmissions—one with an oil connection for infinite smoothness, the other with a direct mechanical connection for greater go and greater gas savings.

CANADA'S FIRST ALUMINUM V8

puts the power in the Special. It develops astonishing power per pound. The Special got this power without adding weight. And there you have the start of a great gas savings story.

SAVINGS? TERRIFIC!

The Special gives you the gas savings of a compact without giving up go-power. It sells in a price area you'll like without giving up looks. The miracle explained: the smartest engineering in years plus the new wonder materials.

The missing persons

THIS IS THE SEASON of the year when service clubs, youth groups, church and cultural organizations soar again to the peak of their activity. Autumn brings a new vitality to community living, and thrusts into prominence the very small minority of workers who contribute to this healthy revival.

Newspaper Week is in the offing, and it is timely to view the role of the local newspaper in this revival. . . .

A newspaper is the mirror of the community it serves. It reflects the good and the bad. In short, it can only report the news; it cannot create news.

Because this is true, some of the same names and faces appear repeatedly in its columns. They appear because these are the people who are the ones who lead and do the work for the various organizations in the community.

Many refuse to run for public office; even a larger group refuses to accept committee appointments or positions of leadership in the organizations that make up life in every community; and many more refuse to participate (do the work) in the activities of these groups that make news.

These are the people who are missing from a newspaper's columns week after week. That isn't the choice the newspaper editor made, however. If it were possible, an editor would like to have everyone's name in the paper every week.

Until new names and faces take part in the many facets of community life that make news, they will be conspicuous only by their absence. A newspaper has no choice — it can only report the news, it cannot create it.

We take a leaf from the bulletin of the Alberta Civil Service, to pay tribute to "The Faithful Few":

When the meeting's called to order and you look around the room,
You're sure to see some faces that from out
the shadows loom;
They are always at the meetings, and they stay until they're through —
The ones that I would mention are the Always Faithful Few.

They fill the many offices, and are always on the spot,
No matter what the weather, though it be cold or hot;
Conditions may be dreadful, but they are tried and true,
The ones you can rely on are the
Always Faithful Few.

There are lots of worthy members who will come when in the mood,
When everything's convenient, they can do a little good;
They're a factor in the meeting, and are necessary too . . .
But the ones who deserve the medals are the Always Faithful Few.

If it were not for these persons, whose shoulders at the wheel
Keep the institutions moving, without a halt or reel —
What would be the fate of meetings, where we have so much to do?
They surely would be failures without the Faithful Few.

Pause for Thanksgiving

PROBABLY FEW among the rushing thousands of Thanksgiving Day holiday travellers ever take a few minutes to reflect on the meaning of this ancient festival.

Amid crowded highway traffic, and packed trains, planes and buses, there really isn't much time to reflect on anything — unless it's a fleeting vow to keep out of the accident list that inevitably follows any holiday week-end.

But it's worth remembering that the tradition of this great autumn holiday goes back to ancient lands long before the birth of Christ. Primitive peoples always set such a day apart to give thanks for the harvest.

On this continent, the first Thanksgiving Day was observed by the Pilgrim Fathers after their first harvest in Massachusetts in 1621. They were also thankful merely for surviving in the strange new land. Many of those who had landed from the Mayflower at Plymouth the previous year were already victims of scurvy and exposure.

In Canada, the holiday has not always been a festival of harvest. The first Thanksgiving Day in Canada was proclaimed in 1872, to give thanks for the restoration to health of the Prince of Wales, later Edward VII.

It became an annual holiday in 1879, but was held on various dates, and for various reasons. In 1887 it was held on June 21, to celebrate Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee, and again in 1897 Thanksgiving Day was a celebration of Victoria's Diamond Jubilee.

In 1902, the holiday was proclaimed for August 9, to coincide with the coronation of Edward VII.

It was not until 1957 that a specific day on the calendar was set aside as Thanksgiving Day for that year and subsequent years — the second Monday in October.

In line with the trend of recent years, that makes Thanksgiving Day one of the popular long week-end holidays. It's still not too late in the season for a visit to the country, and many summer cottage owners now use it for the final trip to close things down for the winter.

If every traveller would think of the meaning of the holiday, perhaps there would be fewer accidents.

Neighbors uninformed about Canada

PRIME MINISTER John Diefenbaker's address to the United Nations (we were informed) was not carried on the U.S. television networks . . .

American magazines with Canadian editions (we believe) carry none of the Canadian topics or articles in their U.S. versions . . .

Instances such as these are commonplace, and the ignorance of Canadian affairs in the United States is not difficult to understand.

"Newsweek" recently told its readers that in the period when No. 10 Downing Street is under repair, Prime Minister Macmillan and his staff "will run the Commonwealth from Admiralty House." This misinformation — says The Printed Word — is in the U.S. tradition There is hardly a Canadian who has not been asked by friendly United Statians when Canada was going to throw off "the yoke of England."

Another question that Canadians sometimes are asked is when we are going to stop paying taxes to Britain. If Canada ever did pay taxes to Britain, it is not recorded in any history books used in the Canadian public schools. On the other hand, it is a fact that the British taxpayer paid for a good deal of the defensive works on the two coasts and there are many people now living who remember when the last of the British garrisons left Halifax and Quebec. The Esquimalt naval base was also a British base until quite recent years.

It is possible the man Thompson, the Mayor of Chicago who hated King George V so much, would have argued that these British garrisons were there to keep the native Canadians from rising in revolt. Actually these defensive works were designed to defend Canada from invasions from the United States.

Visitors to the Citadel at Quebec sometimes gaze with awe at the enormous cannon that were put there in the regime of the first Duke of Wellington, also at the cost of the British taxpayer. These big guns were never fired because it was said the repercussions would have cracked every pane of glass for miles around on both sides of the broad river. The cost is said to have been several millions of pounds sterling when a pound sterling was a pound sterling.

Quoting still from The Printed Word — there needs to be a great deal more of "Know Canada" propaganda in the United States. The United States people as a whole love us as neighbors. And we are in fact good neighbors. But Canadian advertising and other propaganda in the United States, are mainly for the purpose of advertising for tourists. There are other phases of Canada and Canadianism that the United States people should know better.

Ill-chosen hero

AN EXAMPLE OF faulty sense of news value in the CBC — says the Fort Erie Letter-Review — was a recent TV interview with James Hoffa, an American labor boss, whose U.S.-based international union, the Teamsters' International, is notorious for the corruption among its U.S. officials, and for the sinister associations between union officials and the U.S. underworld of crime. In both Canada and the U.S. the Teamsters have been expelled from membership in the national labor congresses.

Why did the CBC choose to spend Canadian taxpayers' money to give Jimmy Hoffa the privilege of appearing to a nationwide TV audience? Why was so much of the time of Mr. Hoffa's "interview" devoted to depicting the opulence of his office and the folksy aspects of his family background? Why should Canadians be interested in the fact that Mr. Hoffa makes his own breakfast? The Close-Up interview revealed that Mr. Hoffa has been on trial lately. But it did not reveal why.

NEVER A DULL MOMENT

The season of the autumn hue is something to look forward to — those crisp and mellow days, although it's sad to see the Summer go.

Just think how fortunate we are! We never have to travel far, or even have to travel near to get a change of climate here.

There's no monotony at all. We have the Summer, Spring and Fall, and even Winter's not so bad as those that the old-timers had.

Indoors, protected from the storm, with maple logs to keep us warm, it's nice to entertain old friends each evening till the winter ends, and talk about the days of yore while listening to the blizzard's roar. We then have time to do some chores — the kind that can be done indoors. There's pickles on the pantry shelf — the kind that Mother made herself. There's jam and cookies on the shelves so handy we can help ourselves. The apple barrel's standing by, while jelly-jar and apple pie are on the table every night. Why shouldn't we be gay and bright? In Southern climes it's always found to be the same the whole year round, and most monotonous, but here, we get a change four times a year. Trees budding, trees in bloom, trees bare — and not a cent for railroad fare.

Just stick around the seasons through. The one you like will come to you!

Be seein' ya!

— Uncle Walt

B.M. ranks high in standards of advertising

Montreal — For the second consecutive year, the Bank of Montreal has been rated first among the nine Canadian chartered banks and second among the 15,000 banks of North America for its advertising over the past 12 months.

The standing is reported in the annual "Bank Ad-Views" review of Canadian and U.S. financial advertising.

The Seattle-First National Bank placed first among all North American banks.

With the exception of only two years in the past 15, the B of M has been rated first among Canadian banks in the "Bank Ad-Views" survey and has received a "Socrates Award" each year.

Twice during the same period, the Bank of Montreal was first among all North American banks.

SUCCESS is provision for leisure in the later years!

HAVE YOU PROVIDED FOR YOUR LEISURE? One of the nicest things about success is being able to look forward to the years ahead . . . to know that when the time comes to retire, you will be able to enjoy the carefree leisure you so richly deserve. But this kind of leisure costs money. That's why so many men guarantee it with LIFE INSURANCE.

It's a good feeling to know that both your financial future and that of your family are secure . . . to know that regardless of what happens you have built a guaranteed income you cannot outlive.

How about you? If you don't have enough provision for your later years . . . maybe it's because you don't own enough LIFE INSURANCE with valuable savings features. Look into it. Your LIFE INSURANCE man is a most important person to talk to on your road to success.

Save and be safe with Life Insurance

If you want success you need: CONFIDENCE in yourself and your future . . . EXTRA MONEY to seize opportunity . . . SECURITY to give you freedom of mind. And in the later years, when you'll appreciate it the most, LEISURE to enjoy the rewards of your achievement. These are the ingredients of success. These are the things that LIFE INSURANCE can help to give you.

My two little boys have been playing Kasavubu and Lumumba.

They have no clear idea about the politics of the Congo (who has?) but they keep hearing the two names on the radio, and the idea has stuck in their heads that these two leaders are the principals in a thrilling adventure story — an African western.

The game usually starts in bed, morning or evening.

"I'm Lumumba," says John.

"I'm Voobo," says Michael.

Then there is a wild scramble among the blankets, with shrieks and cries of "Bang! Bang!" as the rivals contend for power.

"I'm in charge," shouts John.

"No, I'm in charge," Michael squeaks. "Bang! I shot you."

"Yeeee! I got away and took your place," says John. They still tend to think of government in terms of kings, queens and palaces, rather than in terms of elected parliaments.

"Owow, you hurt my leg," says Michael, and then he flies into a rage and grabs a handful of his brother's scalp. The game of Kasavubu and Limumba develops into a real fight. It ends with tears and a yell of pain.

While I was separating the two little boys today (they are seven and five years old) it occurred to me that many grown-ups in the world limelight act in much the same way that John and Michael do.

The behavior of grown-up Americans toward visiting Communist heads of state has been that of disgruntled small boys.

American longshoremen wouldn't handle the ship that carried Communist leaders to attend a United Nations meeting. The Communist heads of state had to land at a tumbledown wharf. No government officials were there to meet them.

The Communists were told they couldn't leave Manhattan Island. Grown-up government officials talked about "security precautions," but I think the real reason was an old-fashioned temper tantrum.

Through his uncouth behavior at the last Summit meeting, after the embarrassing spy plane incident, Khrushchev had hurt American feelings. So the Americans decided that the Communists could not play in their yard.

The Communists are unpleasant and crafty fellows. However, sulks and temper-fits on the Western side won't make them any better.

Of Many Things

— By Ambrose Hills —

THE FAMILY

It would be a foolish father who would force each member of his family along precisely the same lines. The wise father tries instead to give each youngster a chance to develop his potential skills to the utmost, avoiding discrimination of any kind. To hold back an ambitious child in favor of a slower one would be considered foolhardy.

Most families operate sensibly, so that each member may develop fully. The young earner who saves most is allowed to keep his savings and use them in his own way and is not obliged to turn them over to his less frugal brother or sister. In other words, the normal penalties of life are allowed to operate side by side with the normal rewards. In the happy family, a great deal of flexibility exists under a set of rules fair to all. A good father would not impede the success of one son in order to insure the success of another.

Does this mean that there is no charity in family life? Not at all. In home after home, the more talented child will voluntarily assist a slower brother. This is true charity, because it is on a voluntary basis, and thus has great spiritual value.

Few public organizations can match the family unit for spiritual values. Families where there is lack of love, compassion, generosity, charity and innumerable other values, are rare indeed. Even a man who is a rotter in public life will display remarkable virtue in the interests of his family, even to the point of risking his life for them.

The world will never go completely to pot as long as family life continues. If ever the family unit is destroyed, and public authorities attempt to replace natural parents, civilization will be doomed.

God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still."

FOX — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. William J. Fox, who passed away Oct. 8, 1956. — Always remembered by John, Greta and family.

"You never failed to do your best,
Your heart was true and tender,
You worked so hard for those you loved,
Then left us to remember."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear sister, Mildred, who passed away Oct. 4, 1957. — Always remembered by her brother, Theron, and sister-in-law, Aurore.

"Loving thoughts, true and tender,
Just to show we still remember."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear mother and daughter, Mildred, who passed away Oct. 4, 1957. — Always remembered by Mother, daughters, Louisa and Glenna, and son, Guy.

"Asleep in God's beautiful garden,
Away from all sorrow and pain —
Some day when life's journey has ended,
We will be together again."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear sister, Mildred, who passed away Oct. 4, 1957. —Always remembered by Matt and Eunice.

"Though her smile has gone forever
And her hands we cannot touch,
We will never lose the memory
Of one we loved so much."

GAUDREAU — In loving memory of a dear niece, Mildred, who passed away Oct. 4, 1957. — Always remembered by Uncle Jim.

"In silence she suffered,
With patience she bore
Till God called her home
To suffer no more."

FISHER — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Sydney B. Fisher, who passed away Oct. 9, 1959. — Always remembered by his wife, Valeda, and family.

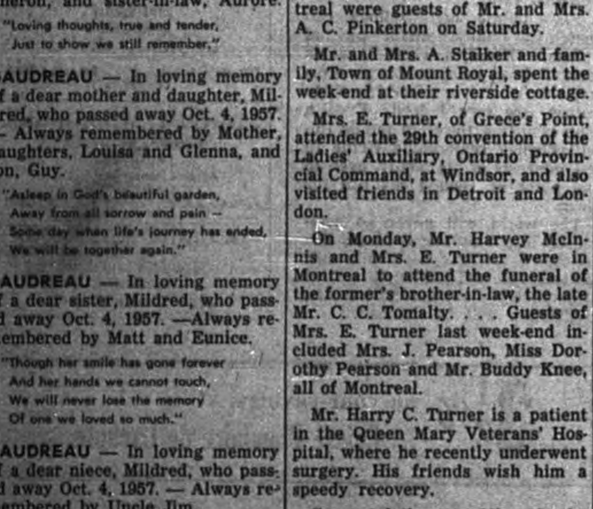

"You bade no one a last farewell
Nor could you say good-bye,
You were gone before we knew it,
And only God knows why.
Deep in our heart the memory is kept
Of one we loved and will never forget."

THORBURN — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Enid Thorburn, who passed away Oct. 12, 1959. — Ever remembered by Victor, Gail and Brent.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

OGILVIE — We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for acts of kindness while in hospital, and also for acts of kindness and messages of sympathy during our recent sad bereavement in the loss of a devoted husband and father.

Plan re-opening of School for Retarded Children

Lachute Association for Retarded Children met recently to re-organize for the current scholastic year.

It was suggested that information be obtained from the Provincial Government as to possibility of obtaining financial help for a School for Retarded Children.

In answer to a question as to what benefits could be derived from membership in Provincial or Federal Associations, it was pointed out that these associations have psychiatrists who give I.Q. tests for cataloguing the children, and that they help in obtaining trained personnel and teachers.

It was resolved that the school should be opened this fall on October 11. President L. W. Armstrong was requested to obtain from the Protestant School Commissioners their attitude towards signing a contract with a teacher when one is obtained. Also, the secretary was instructed to write the Presbyterian Church requesting the use of the church hall for this school.

Letters were sent to the following — (1) Lachute Lions Club, thanking them for assistance in past years and requesting the continuance of their subsidy towards the transportation of the children. (2) Catholic Women's League, soliciting help for the school maintenance. (3) Miss M. Douglas, expressing appreciation of past help. (4) Legion Branch 70, requesting their consideration of assistance for this cause. (5) Various incorporated companies, soliciting whatever assistance they would contribute.

Mrs. Geo. Leggett was appointed chairman of the Auxiliary Committee.

The president read a letter of resignation from the secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. R. Cairns was appointed to this position.

President L. W. Armstrong also expressed the wish that the Association would, in the near future, appoint a replacement for himself.

Appreciation was extended to the Parish of St. Jerusalem for use of the municipal office for this meeting.

Bible Society annual meeting and report

The annual meeting of the Bible Society was held in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday evening. The meeting opened with a hymn, prayer and scripture reading, conducted by the Rev. C. W. Sorley, president of the Argenteuil Ministerial Association.

The Rev. Jas. Armour, president of the Bible Society, presided over the busines meeting. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Rev. C. W. Sorley.
Treasurer, Mr. Russell Elliott.
Recording secretary, Mrs. W. J. Morrison.
Corresponding secretary to be elected later by the new executive.

The Rev. D. Jones brought a message on the work of the Bible Society, admonishing those present, that if this work of distributing God's Word is to go forward, it must be supported by our gifts and our prayers, and reminding his listeners that it is God's Word in the heart of man that can fit him to justly solve the problems of the world in its present critical condition.

During the past year the Scriptures were published in an additional 15 new languages. In Canada this past year the Bible Society distributed 302,524 volumes in 77 languages, and contributed over $450,000 for world-wide work of translation, production and distribution. Canada is being asked for $750,000 this year to carry on this work.

The organization is now known in Canada as the "Canadian Bible Society," and is the third largest group of the total 23 Bible Societies.

The Rev. Jones then screened a film entitled "The Potter's Wheel," showing workers distributing the Word in India and illustrating that, as the potter can take the prepared clay and mold it into a vessel of his choice, so the Lord can take the dedicated life, no matter what the race or color, and fashion it to suit His purpose.

An offering was received, after which the Rev. J. Armour dismissed the meeting in prayer.

A word of appreciation goes out to the retiring officers for their faithful work during the past years — Mrs. H. B. Hewitt and Miss Gertrude McMahon.

It was regrettable that there was such a poor attendance at this meeting, which represented so worthy a cause.

Visitor Here has filled Notable Roles

D. A. McGibbon, L.L.D., F.R.G.S., of Hamilton, former professor of Political Economy at the University of Alberta and professor emeritus of McMaster University, was a recent visitor in this vicinity.

Mr. McGibbon has filled many distinguished appointments in the growth of Canadian economy. In 1922 he was made commissioner by the Government of Alberta to investigate the relationship of banking credits to rural conditions. He was also a member of the Royal Grain Enquiry Commission appointed by the Dominion Government, 1923-24. In 1930 he was a member of the Canadian delegation to the Imperial Conference in London. He is the author of several books and has donated his extensive library to the Mills Memorial Library, McMaster University, in Hamilton.

Dr. McGibbon is the grandson of the late Captain Peter McGibbon, whose stone house, built in 1847, still stands on the Dalesville-Louisa Road.

While visiting relatives here, he was the guest of the Misses May and Catherine McGibbon, Lachute.

Wed Saturday at St. Ignatius Church, Montreal

Marino-MacAdam

The marriage of Eleanor Catherine MacAdam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross MacAdam, Lachute, to Donald J. Marino, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Marino, of Montreal, took place at two o'clock on October 1 in St. Ignatius of Loyola Church, Montreal. The Rev. Father McElligott officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace over satin appliquéd with tiny lace flowers. The bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long lily-point sleeves. The full skirt, trimmed with scallops of lace at the hem, swept from the self bow at the back. A coronet of seed pearls held her veil of tulle illusion, and she carried American Beauty red roses.

Attending the bride was her cousin, Miss Florence MacAdam, of Lachute, who chose a gown of iridescent green faille fashioned with a fitted bodice with a decollete neckline, brief sleeves and a bouffant skirt. She wore a matching feathered bandeau and carried golden mums.

Mr. Frank Marino acted as best man, with Mr. Gerald Marino as usher.

Mrs. MacAdam, mother of the bride, wore a gown of sapphire blue printed matte jersey with matching feathered hat and a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Patrick Marino, sister-in-law of the groom, wore a gown of amethyst wool jersey with matching hat and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Berkeley Hotel. Later the couple left on a motor trip to Niagara Falls and the New England States, the bride travelling in an Arthur Jablow Chinese red walking suit, blin-and-blin. She wore a white maribou hat, black accessories and a corsage bouquet of feathered white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Marino will reside in Roxboro.

Mr. Melchior Roby, of St. Jerome (former C.N.R. agent here, now retired) revisited old friends here one day last week.

Mr. Harold Deacon, of Deacon Motor Sales Ltd., was in Peterborough, Ont., to attend a meeting and showing of motorboats on September 26-27. The visit included a tour of the Traveler Manufacturing Company plant.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. David Girling, of Lachute, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Beverley Girling, to Robert Edward Smalley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smalley, of Verdun. The marriage will take place on October 15 in the Lachute United Church, at 4 p.m.

Girl Guide groups, Lachute and B'burg

An enjoyable and informative week-end was spent at Morin Heights Patrol Leaders' Camp recently by Ena McNair, Judy Evans, Ann Cunningham and Nancy Dobbie.

The 1st Lachute Guides have commenced their fall activities at the St. Simeon's Church hall with a membership of 31 Guides and two Leaders. Any girls having reached their 11th birthday are cordially invited to attend the meetings, which are held every Tuesday evening at 7 p.m.

Brownsburg — On September 9-10-11, a Patrol Leaders' week-end was held at Morin Heights. Kathryn Stevens, Louise Freeland, Heather Connelly, Patrol Leaders, and Mary Vowles, a Second, attended this camp from Brownsburg. Mrs. E. Evans, Lachute, was the leader for the Brownsburg and Lachute companies. . . . The Guides were driven by Messrs. Alvin Connelly and Wes Freeland.

This week-end was a training session for patrol leaders so that a Guide Company might run more smoothly. The Guides learned leadership, new games and new methods.

The Guides returned Sunday, and the drivers of the cars were Messrs. Arthur Morrison and Charlie Stephens. A special thank-you is extended to those providing transportation.

CWL meeting and recent activities

The ladies of the Catholic Women's League of Lachute resumed their regular monthly meetings on October 3 — four new members being welcomed by the president, Mrs. Leonard Bedard.

A change has taken place among the executive members; Mrs. Martel will replace Mrs. Oswald as treasurer, and Mrs. Bernicky has accepted the 2nd vice-presidency, replacing Mrs. Hanlon, who has moved away.

Following the conveners' reports, the president outlined events at the last provincial convention, in St. Johns. Mrs. C. Lowe gave a detailed report of the picnic held in June for the English-speaking Catholics.

A study club was discussed—this to get underway in the near future. Mrs. Bernicky was appointed convener of a tea and hat show, the date of which has not yet been set.

At this meeting the members were honored with the presence of some of the members of St. Columban's subdivision. Guest speaker in attendance was Mr. R. Regimbal, a director of the new hospital now being erected in Lachute. The president thanked the speaker after a very interesting talk regarding the hospital construction.

In August, some of the members attended pilgrimages to Notre Dame de Lourdes shrine, Cap de Madeleine, and Mayo, Que.

Father H. Conway, the Director, who this summer enjoyed a tour in Europe, celebrated the first English mass on September 11; this celebration of mass will take place every second week in the basement of Ste. Anastasie Church.

The provincial convention held in St. Johns drew a good attendance from this subdivision. Certain members on September 14 motored to St. Eustache to attend a meeting of the Catholic Forum, which is being organized for the near future. The members volunteered their services at the recent Blood Clinic.

The meeting was closed with prayer, after which refreshments were served, convened by Mrs. Fred Bernicky.

Legion Auxiliary October meeting

The October meeting of Legion Branch 70 Auxiliary was held on Monday evening, with a good attendance.

The president, Mrs. Wm. Bradshaw, conducted the meeting and referred to the Auxiliary Bursary won by Miss Margaret Dawson, who has found great satisfaction in winning this award, designed to help persons trying to further their education.

Plans were made to cater for the Armistice Dinner also to a wedding. On October 17 the Auxiliary will be hosts to patients from Ste. Anne's Military Hospital.

At the next meeting, November 7, a film will be shown on "Artificial Respiration" explaining the mouth-to-mouth method. All members are requested to try and attend this meeting.

Hostesses for the refreshments were Mrs. N. Lavis and Mrs. Jas. Duncan.

APPRECIATION

We would like to express our thanks and sincere appreciation to all who came to our aid with gifts, money and many acts of kindness during our recent time of trouble.

Mail Driver Retires

After 24 years of uninterrupted, faithful service, and feeling he has done his bit for the community, Mr. Jack Moncrieff has now retired from his rural mail route; friends feel sure he has earned a rest. No matter what the weather, with a few exceptions Jack always got the mail delivered, and our warmest esteem is felt for his untiring devotion to duty. His route has been taken by Mr. Kenny Ronalds, who has an exceptional record to live up to. We wish him all success!

For the past week the Bell Telephone have been busy burying the telephone cables, and we hope by next spring to have the dial system installed.

The Woman's Association of the Arundel United Church are holding their annual Thanksgiving supper in the school auditorium on Saturday, Oct. 8, from 6 to 8 p.m. A full-course turkey supper will be served.

THANKSGIVING FOR OUR CANADIAN HERITAGE

(Copyright)

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"Come, ye thankful people, come,
Raise the song of harvest-home:
All is safely gathered in,
Ere the winter storms begin;
God, our Maker, doth provide
For our wants to be supplied:
Come, to God's own temple, come,
Raise the song of Harvest-home."

— Henry Alford, 1810-1871.

Thanksgiving festivals in many lands throughout the ages have been associated with the end of the harvest. When this hymn of gratitude was written last century, a large section of the Canadian people lived on farms and were conscious of their dependence upon the Creator for fertile soil, rain and sunshine. Today there is a steady movement from rural areas to our large cities, but our national life will be poor indeed if we, as a people, neglect to attend the public worship of God and express our thanksgiving for our rich Canadian heritage.

Harvest Festival

The Thanksgiving Festival in many lands coincides with the conclusion of the harvest festival and hundreds of men and women who grew up in the country now live in cities. There has been a downward trend in the number of farmers and farms in Canada. But there has been a growth in farm size of over 27 per cent in the past 25 years, made possible by the use of power equipment. The 27 Dominion experimental farms are helping farmers in their vital task.

Excellent up-to-date pictures, not only of agriculture, but of forestry, mining, fisheries, manufacturing and other phases of Canadian life, are given in the Canada Handbook (price $1) published annually and printed by the Queen's Printer, Ottawa. This survey is well illustrated and very useful where there are school-age children.

Good Opportunity

Susan Tweedsmuir, as the wife of one of our best loved governor-generals, had an exceptional opportunity to see Canada and this is what she wrote in A Winter Bouquet: "Nature has been very generous to Canada, bringing her endless sheaves of wheat and pouring into her lap a vast variety of minerals. She has bestowed upon her an army of valuable fur-bearing animals, great forests, which supply wood for building and pulp for paper, great rivers of salmon, groves of apple trees, as well as a third of the fresh water of the world."

Air-Minded

Canadians are naturally air-minded and they are proud of the part our young men played in the RAF and the RCAF in two world wars. John A. D. McCurdry's famous first flight in Canada on Feb. 23, 1909, in the Silver Dart at Baddeck, Nova Scotia, was also the first successfully controlled flight in a heavier-than-air machine at any point in the British Empire by a British subject. Two of the very readable books which marked the golden jubilee of aviation in Canada were In Canadian Skies, by Frank H. Ellis, and Airborn from Edmonton, by Eugenie Louise Myles, both published by Ryerson.

Greatest Asset

The greatest asset of any nation does not lie in material resources, but in the character of its people. At the same time, we who belong to the "have" nations cannot close our ears to the cries of hungry, poorly clothed and housed millions in poverty-stricken lands.

At Thanksgiving time we thank the Creator for all His good gifts to us and we remember "to whom much has been given, much will be required." Out of our bounty, let us welcome those who are newcomers to our shores.

Housewife poses Why Nots!

"I have just finished cleaning my radiators. What a perfectly awful job that is; there just doesn't seem to be one tool in the world, made or improvised, that will do a decent job of it! Why, I wonder, aren't radiators attached to the floor with hinges?"

So begins Ottawa housewife Edith Corbett in her article titled "Why Not?", in the current issue of Canadian Homes magazine. Mrs. Corbett echoes the oft-felt frustrations of thousands of Canadian women about the various inconveniences they experience in housework.

In her cascade of Why Nots, she asks: Why don't flour sifters come in little sets like measuring spoons? Why doesn't a bag for sugar and flour have a tag to tell you which is the right string to pull it open with? Why can't a plastic cloth be woven with the somewhat revolting coldness-to-touch removed? Why do vacuum cleaners have to have tangle-able cords? Why can't they be transistor-operated like pocket radios?

More of her despairing queries: Why isn't all furniture flush with the floor — why is there always that little space for the care and breeding of dust mice? Why not garbage disposal units for every room in the house? With a push-button blower system, they could be installed at a corner of the floor, she suggests. Then we'd have a complete waste basket, garbage, and dust disposal.

Many a reader will have her pet "Why Not". Mrs. Corbett's is: why don't manufacturers of furniture turn out a set of slipcovers that fit exactly to go with a suite? Then, she says, you could have a heavy-duty plastic or denim set for every day; a wool frieze set for Sunday, and a glorious brocade for show-off occasions.

Other why nots by Mrs. Corbett include a suspended "cage" to hold babies, plastic vases and plant pots as handsome as true reproductions, and lastly why don't manufacturers of children's shoes leave a little white space between the sole and heel to record the child's name and address in indelible ink?

To make ironing an easier chore, do it to music. It develops rhythmic strokes and will dispel boredom, says the information service of Manitoba's department of agriculture.

The secret to easier ironing is rhythm. The iron should be moved rhythmically up and down the board because this lengthwise sweep covers more distance before it has to be stopped and reversed. The shorter crosswise stroke, or ironing in all directions, uses more energy.

Fatigue, caused by standing in one position for a long time, is ironing's major drawback. Height of the ironing board is important for comfort which helps combat fatigue. The experts say the extra money for an adjustable height board is well worth it.

Sitting down provides the best comfort. Use a high stool with a foot rest and a comfortable back. If you're the type that "just can't sit to iron" wear a pair of comfortable shoes and stand on a foam rubber pad.

Perforations in a metal ironing board allow the steam to penetrate the material and board. This makes the task cooler and the material dries faster.

If the legs are set well back into the centre of the board, slim skirts can be ironed more easily.

A foam or felt pad should be placed under the ironing board cover. Silicone covers which don't scorch and which can be cleaned with a damp cloth are recommended.

New Material

A new vinyl-coated material which resembles leather will make it appearance on the Canadian market this fall. It's a product of a Kitchener, Ont., firm.

The vinyl used in the product has a cellular structure which accounts for its soft texture and a foaming process gives the material the pliability of leather. It's backed with a stretchy knit jersey.

Montreal coat designer, Lydia, is using the material in full length and three-quarter length coats that are fully pile-lined. The manufacturer says the material is windproof and will not stiffen in cold weather. It should not be dry-cleaned but can be cleaned with soap and water.

Cucumber Relish

For a quick and easy, delicious cucumber relish, try this recipe from the Ontario department of agriculture.

You need seven large cucumbers and five large onions. Chop these fine, cover with salt and let stand overnight. Drain well the next day.

Ingredients for the dressing; 3 cups vinegar, 2½ cups white sugar; ½ cup flour; 2 dessertspoons mustard; 1 tsp. ginger; 1 tsp. tumeric.

Mix the ingredients and cook for five minutes. Add the drained cucumbers and onions and cook until thick. Watch carefully and stir frequently to prevent scorching. Cook approximately eight or 10 minutes longer. Then seal in sterilized jars.

TOMORROW'S DINNER

Asparagus Cooked-in-Milk
Broiled Lamb Chops
Potatoes Anna
Carrots Oven-Braised with Tomato
Frozen Apple Sauce Cream
Hot or Iced Coffee or Tea
Milk

Measurements are level; recipes for six

Asparagus Cooked-in-Milk:

Wash 2 lbs. asparagus. Cut off tough ends; scrape stalks.

Cut into 1" lengths, but leave delicate tips whole.

In 2-qt. saucepan or double boiler top, measure three cups milk. Bring to boiling point.

Add asparagus. Simmer over low heat 25-30 minutes or until fork-tender; or cook over hot water about 35 minutes.

Season to taste with salt and pepper; add one tablespoon butter.

Serve in small soup bowls.

Garnish with sizzling croutons.

Frozen Apple Sauce Cream:

Into contents one (1-lb.) jar chilled, not-too-sweet apple sauce, fold half cup heavy cream whipped stiff with half teaspoon ground cinnamon and ⅛ teaspoon ground nutmeg.

Transfer to freezer tray. Freeze at lowest temperature one hour or until firm. (Stir after first 15 minutes.)

Serve in sherbet glasses.

POTATOES ANNA FROM THE CHEF

Wash and peel nine long white potatoes; cut in thin crosswise rounds. Dry.

Generously butter round pan about 8" in diameter and 4" deep.

Lay rounds in overlapping circles on bottom. Dust with salt and pepper. Spread with ½ tbsp. room-soft butter.

Add second layer of potatoes; continue until 6 layers are in pan.

Cover. Bake 25 min. in hot oven, 450 deg. F. Uncover 15 min. to brown.

Drain off any excess butter. Turn out on heated platter. Garnish with parsley.

French-speaking Guides to hold sale Oct. 7-22

The French-speaking Girl Guide movement in St. Jerome Diocese is steadily increasing in strength. From 75 Guides and 30 Jeannettes (juniors) four years ago, these numbers have increased to 250 and 100. Leaders are from 17 to 23 years of age, and during the month of August 21 team captains from St. Jerome, Ste. Therese, Ayersville, and Lachute attended a five day camp and instruction course.

The Guides' sponsoring committee is seeking funds to meet expenses involved, and the girls will conduct a sale of chocolate bars from October 7 to 22, to raise a little profit for this work.

HERE! THE GREATEST SHOW ON WORTH! CHEVROLET

SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear — the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. A car so right for you in so many ways that once you compare it with the rest of the crop you'll agree nothing else near the money measures up to it.

We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and manoeuvring) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher — just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, headroom has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more legroom, too — front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely — what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details that make this sensationally sensible '61 Chevy a new measure of your money's worth.

NEW '61 CHEVY CORVAIR

More space . . . more spunk and wagons, too!

More room — more for you, more for your things. More dependable operation. Smarter, smoother styling. More miles per gallon. Station Wagons, too.

Corvair for '61: a complete line of complete thrift-cars from Chevrolet.

To start with, every Corvair Sedan and Coupe costs less. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon . . . quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner . . . a new, extra-cost optional heater that warms everybody evenly. Riding along with this extra economy: more room inside for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have almost 12% more useable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them. They're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagons do a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagons you're going to have to see — they give you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things. Compare that with any other Canadian wagon going!

Corvair's whole thrifty line-up gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first chance you get at your Chevrolet dealer's.

TV SCANS CUSTOMERS IN DRUGSTORE

Two television cameras scan the interior of a Toronto, Ont., drug store watching for pilferers and unattended customers. Abraham Bergson, owner of the store says "it gives us an excellent chance to spot customers who are not being served" and insisted although pilfering from hidden counters has been a major problem the main idea for installing private TV was to provide better service. The Grill and the Gang

Sermon topic by the Rev. John Shrier, Pastor of Pentecostal Assembly

This article you are about to read is a result of united testimony of both young and old alike. Our society is, and has been for some time, faced with a plaguing problem, namely, that of the grill and the gang. This problem has too long been smoothed over and left under cover, while our whole society suffers. I, for one, believe we ought to bring it out in the light and take a long, lingering look at this problem, and scrutinize it closer than ever before.

The Grill

The grill as such should represent a place to eat, but in our society and community it has come to represent drink, delinquency and destruction. In talking with two different officers of the law, I have come to the conclusion that they are waiting for the united testimony of the people to reach vociferous tones before they will feel safe in taking any action.

Now the grill, which in our case has been ill-defined and lies under a false cloak, has become a hang-out and a refuge for the youth of our community. Our youth are being allowed to enter and frequent these grills without ever being accosted or questioned as to their age or their adulthood. The sad and most lamentable fact is that many of the youth are gaining entrance to these places contrary to parental knowledge. It follows, logically, that our youth cannot always be under the parental thumb but must many times be entrusted to our society, be what it may. We must, by God's help, keep it clean and wholesome so as not to crucify and corrupt the flower of our youth.

There have been different cases cited to me where youth have been allowed to linger at the grills until they have disgraced themselves by intoxication. This kind of thing and the grill have become synonymous. Because of this the clergy are often approached by parents with problems in their own homes, problems which inevitably arise from a prevailing situation.

The question constantly asked by the clergy, the social groups and other public servants, with no apparent answer, is — What can be done? As a minister of the gospel I feel a debt to our society to warn them of their complacency and indifference on this problem.

The Gang

It should be stated, before we pursue this question, that this is a universal term which involves everyone. There must be companionship, and we must have friends, but the issue does not lie here but rather in the fact that the gang is, and has been, allowed to set the standard.

If it has been accepted as a popular or common thing for young folk to frequent these grills, then the gang follows with the jovial strain, "Well, everyone is going, so we might as well."

Because a thing is popular today, it too often has been considered right; but I think, our teen set ought to be helped to consider the right or wrong of a thing by a much higher standard. The question arises, "If the gang has set the standard, who is going to break it and set a new one!" The answer is simple, it must be done by the adult populace, and it must be done with a challenge to the manliness of their personality. As a rock-and-roller once put it, "It takes a man to go against the gang."

Jesus Christ always appealed to our highest instincts and showed the constant need of self-denial and personal action with faith. He said, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me." There must be a turning to the old paths of righteousness if we are going to enjoy anything better than a bestial existence, and if our youth are going to be kept from an overwhelming catastrophe.

How many T-bones in a steer?

"Canadian Cattleman" tells the story of a display which the Manitoba Stock Growers set up at the Winter Fair to show the disposition of a carcass of beef. Using a 1,175 pound steer as a basis, the Growers demonstrated that 1,021 pounds of this carcass were saleable in some form — 689 pounds of this being the dressed carcass, and 332 pounds being by-products. The dressing percentage was 58.6% and the carcass graded Choice.

From the 689 pound carcass a total of 170 pounds of bone, fat and shrink had to be deducted leaving 519 pounds of saleable retail cuts. Over the counter from this steer there was available — 33 pounds of prime rib roast; 26½ pounds of sirloin tip roast; 25½ pounds of sirloin steak; 18½ pounds of club steak; 16½ pounds of T-bone steak; 3 pounds of Porterhouse steak.

In other words there were only 123 pounds of choice, high-priced cuts from this 1,175 pound steer. Medium priced cuts added up to 92 pounds, and there were 304 pounds of cheap cuts such as chuck, plate, brisket, shank, short-ribs, etc. This may come as a surprise to some consumers who were of the opinion that "beef-on-the-hoof" and "beef-on-the-plate" are one and the same thing.

Electric larynx for voice-impaired sufferers

A battery-powered electronic larynx, for persons who have lost their voices through surgical removal or paralysis of the vocal cords, will be available in limited supply in Ontario and Quebec starting in October, The Bell Telephone Company announced just recently.

While esophageal speech — a method of swallowing air and then releasing it in a controlled manner — remains a preferred means of communication for Laryngectomees, the new device will serve as a supplementary aid to them and will be particularly valuable during the extended post-operation period.

Developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories, the electronic larynx will be offered on a non-profit basis. The instrument resembles a streamlined electric razor, contoured to fit the hand and designed to be held against the outside of the throat while being operated. It transmits sound waves through the flesh and into the throat cavity, replacing those normally produced by air passing over the vocal cords. Speech is produced by forming words with lips and tongue, just as in normal conversation.

The electronic larynx will be produced in two models, one high-pitched to simulate the female voice, and the other with a lower pitch for men.

How to ruin auto tires

In these days of growing unemployment, the Canadian Highway Safety Council feels every automobile operator should know how to contribute his full share to keeping the tire-makers busy. As a public service, it offers these gems of advice from the Rubber Association of Canada on how to wear out the tires on a car:

1. Always travel at the highest speed.
2. Turn corners as fast as possible.
3. Always use jack-rabbit starts.
4. Make every stop a panic stop — lock the brakes.
5. Ignore recommended tire pressures.
6. Slam over pot-holes, rocks and curbs. Don't miss any.
7. Never rotate the tires.
8. Maintain wheels unbalanced or misaligned.
9. Spin wheels whenever possible on gravel, in mud or snow.

Careful attention to these nine points will yield big dividends in shortened tire mileage, increased gas and oil consumption and rapid deterioration of brakes, front-end, transmission and other parts of the car. Lengthening car and tire life by anywhere from 20% to 50%, thus saving dollars and grief, is no way for motorists to keep the employment picture bright.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

A NEW INSPIRATION FOR THE MOTORING WORLD

You are looking at the completely new Cadillac for 1961—a motor car that will inspire the automotive world for years to come.

While unmistakably Cadillac in stature and in majesty, it represents a totally new concept in fine car design and engineering.

Its graceful silhouette reveals less overall length and increased headroom. Its delicately formed roof lines provide an almost uninterrupted panorama of vision—while a crisp, new sculptural design of front, rear and sides confers on it a degree of distinction that is entirely new to motoring.

Beneath this visual elegance resides a host of dramatic engineering advancements—an even finer, quieter and smoother-performing engine . . . an entirely new front suspension system . . . a lubrication-free chassis . . . wonderfully improved steering and braking . . . and greatly increased manoeuvrability and handling ease.

This new world of motoring pleasure has been interpreted in eleven individual body styles—each with an exceptionally wide selection of beautifully crafted and appointed interiors . . . and an unusually generous choice of accessories, fabrics and colors.

Your dealer will be proud and privileged to introduce you to the entirely new 1961 Cadillac at any time. We sincerely believe that you will find it an inspiration in motor car quality and goodness.

DISTRICT NEWS FROM OUR COUNTY CORRESPONDENTS

Cushing

Mr. and Mrs. W. Yeudall, of Pointe Claire, were guests on Monday of Mrs. L. R. McGain, who accompanied them on a trip to Gray Rocks Inn in the Laurentians, for the day.

The Women's Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. W. Y. King, on Tuesday afternoon, October 11, at the usual hour.

Mrs. L. R. McGain spent several days in Montreal, and had as Saturday guests at "Tynwald", Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paytner, of Montreal, who were visiting friends in Grenville for Sunday.

The beautiful flowers in St. Mungo's Church last Sunday were placed there in memory of the late Capt. J. D. Weir by his daughter, Mrs. A. Taylor, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Greeted by Friends on Her Birthday

Cushing residents evidently feel that, when someone reaches the age of "three score years and twenty," it is something to take notice of. Proof of this is the fact that several groups surprised Mrs. A. Graham on Wednesday afternoon with felicitations and gifts. Mrs. Graham, who has been a resident of Cushing and vicinity for 57 years, deeply appreciated this bit of unexpected attention. . . . Other callers during the week at the Graham home were Mrs. Bailey and Mr. A. McOuat, of Lachute, and Miss Lambert, of Cushing West.

Miss Jean Genest, of Montreal, spent the week-end at her Cushing cottage.

Miss Annie McDowell and brother, Jack, of Montreal, occupied "Glenifer" over the week-end. Mr. Jack McDowell will be in residence for the entire week. They were guests of Mrs. L. R. McGain on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Pitt were week-enders at their cottage, having as their guests Mr. and Mrs. D. Taylor and baby.

Miss Carol Martin and father, Mr. Lorne Martin, of Montreal, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gain. Miss Bonnie Gain, also of Montreal, visited her parents over the week-end.

St. Mungo's ladies catered on Saturday for the wedding supper of Miss Beauchamp and her bridegroom, in the church hall. The ladies are also holding a Thanksgiving supper in the hall on Saturday evening.

Mr. J. C. Dougall, of Cote St. Luc, spent the week-end as the guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. A. T. Graham. Miss Elsie Graham was also at "Bayside Farm" for the week-end.

Mrs. S. H. Beecher and Mrs. J. L. Maw left on Thursday to spend the winter in Montreal.

Landmarks Being Demolished

Another Cushing home has been taken down and carried away. This was once the home of the late Robert Dobbie, who prior to that time occupied houses in and near Lachute. Another house on Bayside Farm, the smaller one, is being threatened for demolition any time now. The barn adjacent to it has been taken down and is being removed, and a start has been made by the purchasers, on the larger barn back of the Graham stone house. A large shed adjacent to the house has been taken down, but the remains not all as yet carried off, to Oka, to be erected in smaller buildings. On passing through Oka one sees familiar beams, etc., being erected into place for buildings of some kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Canning, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. George Drew, motored to Arundel on Sunday. Mrs. Drew will be leaving Wednesday to join her husband in Gaspe, for a short holiday.

Grenville

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hughes, of Montreal, are holiday guests of Miss Gertrude Cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Matthew and Mr. Ronald Matthew, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Higginson, were in Montreal on Sunday.

Sympathy is extended to the wife, family and relatives of the late Rowland Matthew, who passed away in Montreal on Saturday, October 1. Service was held on Tuesday, with interment in the Grenville Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. James Oakman and daughters, Linda and Gail, of Pointe Claire, were Saturday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dewar.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, of Montreal, were week-end guests of Mrs. Mary Davy.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brazeau visited with relatives in Montreal last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rayn, of Roxboro, Que., were week-end guests of Mr. R. B. White and Miss Eva White.

Mrs. William Jones, and Mrs. Mary Davy and Mrs. Earl MacIntyre, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Corl Gauley.

Mr. Vernon Dawson, of Ottawa, visited at the Dawson home on Sunday.

Mabel

Mr. Murray Nason and children, of Toronto, called on his sister, Mrs. Perley Clark and Mr. Clark, during the week-end. He was accompanied home by his mother, Mrs. Chester Nason, who has been visiting here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas MacCullough, of Montreal, visited Mrs. George Murdoch for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Clark, also Andrew and Brian Clark, visited Mr. and Mrs. B. Wyman at Chute à Blondeau on Sunday.

Avoca

Mr. and Mrs. Ancel Young, of Port Colborne, have been on a visit to their parents, Mrs. S. Arthurs and Mr. Jos. Young. Mrs. Arthurs is returning with them to spend the winter in Port Colborne.

Mrs. Wm. H. Kelly and daughter, Carolyn, of Aylmer, spent Sunday with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Farrara have returned, after having spent a pleasant holiday with friends in Dalhart, Texas.

Anniversary Gathering

Friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dobbie, in Harrington, on Friday evening to extend hearty congratulations on their silver wedding anniversary and present them with a purse, to select a gift of their own choice. A very pleasant evening was spent, and delightful refreshments were served.

Congratulations

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Andrews on the occasion of their 49th wedding anniversary, celebrated recently (September 27).

Mr. J. Doherty, of Montreal, spent the week-end at his home.

Friends in this community are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Bates back from their sojourn in Harrington of 17 years. They will spend the winter in the new cottage owned by their son, Alex.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. G. Young on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Russel MacLeod, of Erie, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. Allan MacLeod, of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Mooney, of Vankleek Hill; Mrs. Robert Dobbie, of Belleville, Ont.; Miss Jessie McIntyre and Miss Marjorie Vaillancourt, of Montreal; and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Boyd and Wendy, of Calumet.

The Rev. Mark Beaufoy, rector, will hold Thanksgiving service, also Holy Communion, in St. Mary's Church on Sunday, October 9, at 2.30 p.m.

The Misses Elaine and Joan Arthurs spent the week-end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tomachevsky.

Mrs. Edward C. Young's daughters — Mrs. Swanson, Miss Susan Young, of Washington, Mrs. Wm. Scott of Falconbridge, Ont., and Mrs. Gunn, of Ironbridge, Ont. — have returned to their homes after visiting their mother in Pte. au Chene.

Mrs. Chas. Storey, who spent the past three weeks in Montreal, has now returned home.

St. Andrews East

Mrs. Fraser Robertson returned home Friday from Maynard, Mass., where she had been visiting her aunt, Mrs. G. Forgie.

Miss Miller, of Dundee, Scotland, visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dorion last week.

Mrs. G. F. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Wainwright Shaw, of Ottawa, visited Miss Lamb recently. Mr. Jack Muir, of Montreal, also called on Miss Lamb.

After spending six weeks with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Eaton, Mrs. Galloway sailed on Friday to return to her home in Johannesburg, S. Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have left to spend the winter in Florida.

Mrs. E. E. Beckel, who had spent a week with friends in Kingston, Ont., returned home on Sunday.

Mrs. G. A. Lilly visited her son, Mr. V. L. Lilly and family, at Baie d'Urfe, for several days. Mrs. Lloyd Lilly had just received word that her mother had passed away suddenly on September 26, at her home in Wales.

Pretty ceremony, recent marriage in Arundel, Que.

MacArthur-Phillips

The marriage of Gordona Marybell Penelope Phillips, daughter of the late Rev. Gordon Phillips and of Mrs. Phillips, of Montreal and Arundel, to Mr. Leonard W. MacArthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, of Rockway Valley, took place in Grace Anglican Church, Arundel, Que., on September 10. The Rev. Frank Bussell, rector of the Parish, and the Rev. John Martinson of Kenora, Ont., officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given away by her godfather, Mr. George Grivakis of Montreal, wore a street-length dress of white organza, with a full skirt, Chinese collar and three-quarter length sleeves. Her shoulder-length weil was held in place with a crown of sequins and pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red Sweetheart roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Wilson Reusing of Dorval, as matron of honor, wearing a street-length dress of avacado green organza, similar in style to the bride's, and a pill-box hat of rose beige holding in place a circlet of matching veil. Also attending the bride was Mrs. John Martinson, of Kenora, Ont., wearing a similar dress in pale rose with white accessories; and Miss Mary Boyd of Arundel, bridesmaid, wearing a full-skirted chiffon dress of rosy-peach, with matching feather bandeau, and white accessories. The attendants carried semi-cascade bouquets of yellow shasta daisies.

The ring-bearer was Master Philip Reusing, nephew of the bride, who carried the rings on his great-great-grandfather's open Prayer Book.

Mr. Morris MacArthur, of Lachine, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Stuart Phillips, of Medicine Hat, Alta., brother of the bride, and Mr. Carl Champagne, of Arundel.

The organ music was provided by the bride's mother, who composed a special voluntary for the occasion.

The groom's mother wore a two-piece dress of evening blue with a small black hat and cage veil and matching accessories, and a corsage of Sweetheart roses. The bride's mother wore a flowered black silk sheath dress, a large black velvet hat with off-white accessories, and carried a corsage of white carnations on her handbag.

The reception was held in the Arundel School auditorium, and was attended by more than 500 guests.

For travelling, the bride wore a two-piece dress of avacado green with white and green accessories and a corsage of green orchids.

Harrington

Visitors at the home of Mrs. D. McTavish recently were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Morrison and family, of l'Abord à Plouffe; Miss Jean McTavish and Mr. Rod Haughton, of Ottawa; Mrs. W. D. Morrison and granddaughter, Gail Morrison, of Weir; Mr. Val Morrison and Owen Rathwell, of Shawbridge; Mr. and Mrs. Coral Swail and family, Mrs. Val Swail, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, all of Arundel.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Simms, of Howick, spent a few days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bennett.

SIS MAY GUARD ALL CANADA

Four years ago, Jack Parish, a former Toronto policeman and army intelligence officer decided there was a vacuum in industrial security. He retired from the force and set up his firm Security and Investigation Services Ltd. Today he has a private army of 115 investigators at present operating throughout Southern Ontario, but Parish has plans for expansion across Canada to take over as the nation's number one operator. About seventy per cent of the staff have either police or military provost experience and seventy-five per cent of their work is industrial security, patrolling building sites and guarding existing plants. Pictured above two SIS men compare notes on a security job.

Our lopsided trade balance

— By Lewis Milligan —

One of the arguments put forth in favor of a greater influx of immigrants was that, by increasing the population, it would provide a larger home market for Canadian products and thus offset our dependence upon export trade for the sale of our surpluses. That was quite logical, and if we had kept our home market for ourselves all might have been well; but what happened? We increased our home market by importing millions of new consumers, but at the same time we increased our imports of foreign products and reduced our exports.

Our home market is flooded with foreign-made goods of almost every description, except wheat and other farm products, which are costing us more to produce, subsidize and store away than they are worth for sale.

Is it any wonder that we have several thousand unemployed? It is not owing to our lack of the "know-how" or the latest production equipment that these foreign goods are pouring into our home market and putting so many of our people out of work. Our exports consist chiefly of raw materials, which return to us in manufactured goods at prices with which our factories cannot compete.

"No nation was ever ruined by trade," said Benjamin Franklin. But the word "trade" implies a reciprocal interchange of goods or services on a fair competitive basis for both parties. The balance of trade may vary from time to time in favor of one side or the other, but a permanent one-sided trade is worse than no trade at all. No business can prosper or even carry on with a cronic debit balance. It may bolster its working capital by borrowing from the bank, but the banks themselves depend on a favorable balance of trade and the condition of foreign exchange.

The lopsided trade between Canada and the United States alone has handicapped Canadian industry, which has been able to carry on only by American investments, which secure control of natural resources development and large industries.

Just as if that was not enough, our home market is invaded by German and Japanese products, which are depleting the sale of homemade goods, putting more Canadians out of work and exporting Canadian capital to those countries. British products are also being imported, but there is some reciprocity in that trade. We won the war against Germany and Japan, but today those two nations are winning the peace, so far as trade is concerned.

A teacher in a Toronto school of languages told me the other day that she had been tutoring a German woman, the wife of a manager of the Volkswagen company, in English. In the course of their conversation, the woman proudly said: "We have conquered the world with that car." And it would seem that they have.

And the Japanese have certainly conquered the Canadian market in electrical appliances. Recently I was looking for a transistor radio and was shown a vest-pocket-sized set for $24.95. It was made in Japan. I was told it was their "best seller." Other sets were priced at $34.95. A few years ago I examined a small transistor set in Vancouver; it was priced at $79, plus a local sales tax. I turned it down and later bought a small battery set for $17, bearing the name, "Wales." I presumed it was made in Britain. When I had it repaired in Toronto, I was told it was made in Japan. The moral is obvious.

The Germans and Japanese have made a marvellous recovery from the loss and suffering they endured in the war, and we should not be jealous of their success; but it is not selfishness or spite on our part if we desire to defend our industries from these foreign invasions of our home market.

AN INSTRUCTIVE TOUR —

Pulp-Paper Day open house at C.I.P., Hawkesbury

National Pulp and Paper Day was celebrated across Canada last Wednesday, September 28, to mark 150 years of continuing contributions by the industry to the progress and well-being of the country.

The Hawkesbury sulphite pulp mill of Canadian International Paper Company was one of the major participants, and the public was invited to see the production of dissolving pulps and of sulphite sheet. Some 1,000 people from the town and neighboring communities toured the industrial site.

One of the highlights of the day was a National Pulp and Paper Day reception sponsored by the company at the Abenaki Club. Speakers included Hawkesbury Mayor Rosaire Gascon, C.I.P. Manager of Manufacturing F. J. Giffen, and Mill Manager G. H. Spence.

Earlier in the day, an official tour was held in which the following participated — the Mayor and Town Council; Osie Villeneuve, M.P.; members of the local clergy; heads of local industry; education authorities; the two mill Union presidents; the chairman of the Senior Chamber of Commerce; W. T. Bennett, vice-president, Engineering, C.I.P.; R. J. Stevens, manager Sulphite Pulp Mills; and M. R. Wilson, manager, Grenville Woodlands Division.

During the tour, visitors were shown the new high yield sulphite plant, completed earlier this year at a cost of $1,000,000.

Three-legged stool supports entire trade of Canada

The pitchman on the corner, the artist, the Union organizer the corner grocer, the staid banker, the bus driver, the bond salesman, the industrialist, the farmer, the miner, the financier, and Canadians everywhere depend on successful production by Canada's primary industries. More than 98 per cent of this primary production comes from the forest, the farm, and minerals — the three-legged stool that supports all trade, commerce, and business in the land. About one third of this primary production flows from the forest industries, in which pulp and paper alone accounts for more than two-thirds of all the wealth flowing from the woodlands. Thus, this one industry alone touches the well-being of the nation and generates, directly and indirectly, one of every seven dollars in the income of every Canadian. In its pulp and paper mills, Canada has no more valuable asset nor any worth more care.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

When you're home, and you've finished a meal and had a smoke, do you throw the garbage and cigarette butt out the window into your garden?

Well, what's the difference between that and tossing trash out of your car window, littering the roadside?

There's no excuse for being a litterbug. Use your car ash tray. For other trash, take along a paper bag, and dispose of it when you reach your destination. For fruit rinds or pits, use a plastic bag that moisture won't ruin.

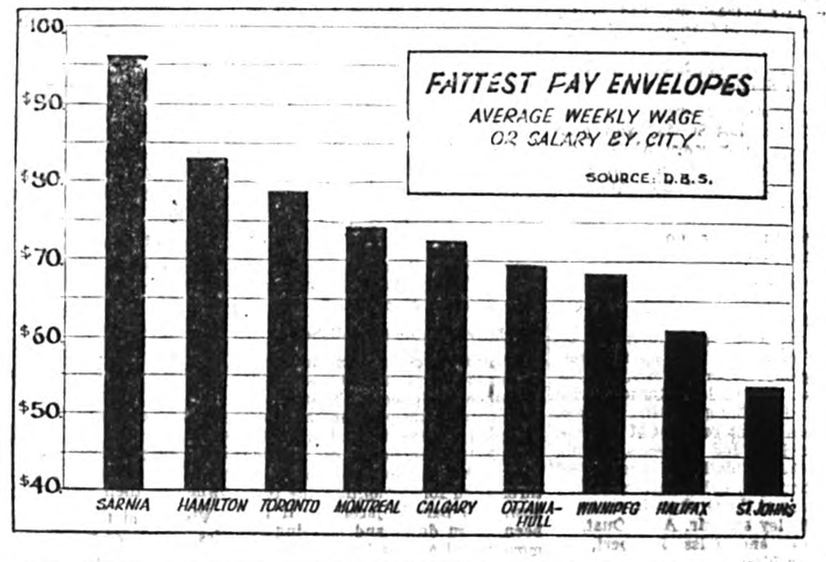

In Ontario, a group of teen-agers recently gave up an afternoon of leisure to collect bottles that had been discarded along the roadsides throughout their county. Their clean-up efforts are to be commended. It's a shame they had to give up their own time to tidy up some one else's mess.

There are fines for littering our highways, but the culprits are seldom caught, and the cost of enforcing the laws is high.

The only sensible answer is for every motorist — and car passenger — to be his own "policeman". Don't throw any trash onto the road.

Let's keep our scenery worth seeing!

Que. 96th annual teacher convention October 6-7

While Protestant school pupils are enjoying the yearly "Convention Holiday", their teachers, 5,000 strong, will be attending the 96th annual convention of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, to be held at the High School of Montreal this Thursday and Friday, October 6 and 7. The sessions are open not only to teachers, but also to the general public.

At the opening general session on Thursday morning, the president of the P.A.P.T., Mr. Henry E. Wright, rector of the High School of Montreal, will speak on "The Challenge of the Sixties".

On Thursday evening, Dr. Hans Selye, Director of the Institute of Experimental Medicine and Surgery at the U. of M., will discuss his research and its significance for teachers. Fourteen members of the P.A.P.T. will receive the Order of Scholastic Merit, which is a recognition presented to outstanding educators.

Smaller meetings will be devoted to specific subjects of the school curriculum, addressed by specialists. Among these will be Mrs. May Hill Arbuthnot of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, who speaks on "Enjoying Poetry with Children" and on "Significant Values in Children's Books"; Miss D. Constance Fuller, of the Toronto Teachers' College, whose subject is "Why Johnny CAN Read"; Douglas J. Wilson, writer of the "Design for Living" feature of the Montreal "Star"; Abbe Maheux of Laval Uuiversity; Dr. Alastair MacLeod of McGill University; and Dr. Trevor Lloyd, also of McGill.

The annual business meeting of the P.A.P.T. will also be held at this convention.

A Canal for sale

Now's your chance to have your own private canal, says the Financial Post.

The Department of Transport is expected to call tenders soon on the 15 mile-long Soulanges Canal on the St. Lawrence River.

Probable cost: About $160,000 for the land, another $70,000-$80,000 for the buildings.

AFRAID TO STAY ALONE?

A woman's scream is still her best defence against the stranger who forces his way into her home, according to Paul Brock writing in October issue of Chatelaine. He advised women not to attempt to argue or fight with an intruder, but to get out as fast as possible — screaming.

A person bent on maliciousness or crime would not be reasoned out of his plans, the writer said, but he could be frightened away.

'Canadian women have finest legs'

Toronto — Japanese exports to Canada, long-time plague of the Canadian clothing industry, have started encroaching on the domestic market for ladies' nylon hosiery, Waldo J. Mullins, chairman of the Hosiery Fashion Council revealed to an audience of Ontario retailers. Mr. Mullins said that total imports of hosiery into Canada had risen from 178,000 dozen pairs in 1954, to over 500,000 dozen pairs in 1959.

"Japan in the first five months of this year shipped 9,000 dozen pairs to Canada — a tremendous increase over previous figures. Although this total is not yet large, the figures are significant", said Mr. Mullins.

In the marketing of modern hosiery, Mr. Mullins said that retailers were failing manufacturers in two main respects; in not taking advantage of the many promotion campaigns undertaken by manufacturers, and by being "price conscious rather than quality conscious". "It is discouraging to the manufacturers, to see retailers buying what is nothing more than hosiery junk and then offering it to their customers because it is cheaper than quality merchandise. Thinking in this field must improve if we are to be fair to our customers," he added.

In discussing the fashion aspects of modern hosiery, Mr. Mullins said that Canadian women — "who have perhaps the finest legs of any women in the world" — are far more fashion conscious than their United States counterparts. This was illustrated by the Canadian woman's instant acceptance of tinted hosiery as a fashion accessory.

Consumer Assocn. annual meeting in Quebec this week

The Canadian Association of Consumers is holding its annual meeting in Quebec City October 4-5-6, to receive reports, consider resolutions and elect officers. This is the first time the Association has met outside Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal.

Since its beginning 13 years ago, the Association has gained a membership 27,000 strong, with 17 national sponsoring organizations, and branches from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia. CAC is not a testing organization to evaluate competitive merchandise. It has concerned itself chiefly with consumer education, consumer representation, setting up standards and acquiring protective legislation for consumers.

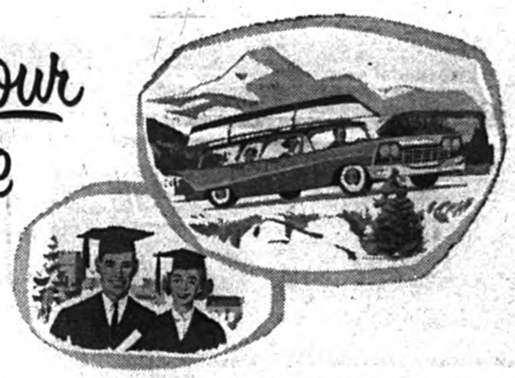

Resolutions to be presented to the meeting indicate that members are safety conscious, for they refer to fire extinguishers, X-ray shoe-fitting machines, safety features in the packaging and labelling of drug and household products, and safety features in automobile construction. Textile labelling and the finishing of clothing will also be reviewed; and sales promotion methods, including trading stamps, will certainly be discussed. With government standards now established for children's garments from age one to 18 years, there should be an encouraging report on standardized garments.

THE CROW, AN UNPAID HEALTH OFFICER —

Some Facts about Birds

By Norman Thorburn — Specially Contributed

In his travels about his fields, a farmer enjoys the companionship of many birds. I have often been amazed at the knowledge of birds displayed by farmers.

One winter, my team of horses almost stepped on a snowbird. I picked it up, and found that its wing was broken. I stuffed it into the pocket of my windbreaker, and took it home. We found out that a snowbird likes timothy seed; it wouldn't eat the clover seed at all. A few days later its wing got better, and it flew out an open window.

Most farmers are sorry to see the disappearance of several of our species of birds. Last summer, for instance, two pairs of bluebirds were seen on our farm. They raised two broods of young. This year there were no bluebirds.

Some farmers state that in 50 years there will be no song birds left in Canada — we use too many insecticides.

The shooting of birds, always a popular pastime, is now possibly the fastest growing sport in North America. Ten years ago, there were one million duck hunters in the U.S.A. Today, there are three million. In Canada, there has been a corresponding increase of hunters of this one species of birds, alone. There are millions of other hunters shooting grouse, partridge and almost any bird that flies. I myself have shot at crows, although without much luck.

The history of the birds of North America is a sad one.

The passenger pigeons that once blotted out the sun as they passed, have been extinct for 50 years or more. The whooping crane now numbers but 33 lonely specimens. There are but 2,000 trumpeter swans left in the entire U.S.A. including Alaska. The eagle, owl, hawk, blue crane, bittern and kingfisher, etc., have been reduced in numbers to the extent of a corporal's guard. Even good forest management mitigates against the owl's chances of survival — by cutting down hollow trees, at the top of which owls burrow into the rotten wood to make a nest. Raccoons and porcupines also den up in hollow trees.

There is no sport more thrilling, no pastime more exhilarating, more titillating to the human senses, than to take a gun, point it skyward, squeeze the trigger, hit a big bird, watch it pirouette momentarily, grotesquely in the heavens, and then plummet like a stone to earth. . . . I would enjoy that myself, but I like to see living birds.

But the future of the birds of North America is not entirely without hope. The eagle, owl and hawk, are protected, in British Columbia. It was found that mice, rats and other rodents increased tremendously when these birds were killed. A common barn owl can kill, in one night, as many mice as a dozen cats.

The owl is protected in Ontario. The gull, a web-footed waterfowl with habits similar to our crow, is protected all over the U.S.A.

When the Mormon settlers of Utah were waiting to cut their first crop of grain, a host of locusts (the large grasshopper) invaded their fields. Starvation stared the settlers in the face — when a great flock of gulls swarmed down and devoured the locusts. A monument to the gull can be seen to this day in Salt Lake City. The gull, like the crow, is a scavenger and carrion bird, an unpaid health officer.

Grasshoppers are probably the worst pest the farmer has to contend with. We lost about a thousand bushels of oats (roughly $1,000 worth) to grasshoppers one year. I never forgave the grasshoppers.

This year, as well as last year, the grasshoppers were bad. People were tramping them underfoot, even in Montreal.

After we mowed our hay, I made a special point of examining the birds that were eating grasshoppers. What did I find? Three birds, which Canadians do not regard very highly, were doing all the grasshopper eating — the blackbird, the starling and that wily old renegade, the crow.

Ninety-nine per cent of the damage done by crows is done to farmers, and yet many farmers like crows. Crows steal other birds' eggs, that is true, but besides being a scavenger, an unpaid health officer like the gull, the crow is the kindest of birds to other members of his corvine tribe. Numerous instances have been recorded by ornithologists, of crows darting down in the face of hunters to rescue a crippled and wounded friend. A pair of crows have been seen rescuing a drowning fellow-corvine, each crow tugging at one wing of the stricken bird.

Compared to the crow, the sparrow is a black-hearted villain. I learned a hymn, as a boy, that speaks tenderly of the sparrow, but we have seen sparrows usurping swallows' nests and tossing the young swallows out to die.

We have a crow friend we call Tailless. He has been with us for two years. He has no tail; he flies through the air like a shot-up plane returning from a foray over enemy territory

For a long time he flew alone. Lately, however, he acquired a mate. These last few days we haven't seen him. Possibly he has flown south. . . . But on the first Saturday of the duck shooting season, long before daylight, an awful "cannonade" awakened me from my slumber. Guns were barking everywhere along the river, and long after sunset, when darkness enveloped the land, the rumbling of heavy artillery re-echoed in the hills. . . . Perhaps our crow friend didn't survive the deadly barrage of that memorable day.

To probably a third of mankind, the crow is a sacred bird. (I am not fooling!) In Katmandu, capital of the State of Nepal, behind and above which oriental city looms the majestic eminence of Everest the world's loftiest peak, now claimed by Red China — pious processions of both Buddhists and Hindoos parade annually to pay hommage to the sacred crow.

I can imagine that the crow is revered by the people of the Mohammedan faith as well. Swarms of locusts breed in the Arabian and Sahara deserts, and fly, with the aid of the prevailing winds, onto the lush green fields of Egypt and Syria and other Arab peoples. When these locusts arise, not a blade of grass can be seen sometimes. The greatest enemy of the grasshopper family, locusts, cicadas and our common grasshopper, is that so-called worthless pest, our common crow!

Although a fox would turn up his nose at an old crow's carcass, the flesh of the young crow is good to eat. Young crows or rooks have been eaten for centuries in England. In fact, the blackbirds that emerged from the pie that was set before the king, are considered by most Englishmen to have been young crows.

Long life to the birds!

WESTERN MAYOR REAL HANDYMAN

Didsbury, Alta. (CP)— W. H. Metz did such a good job as garbage collector and dogcatcher in this central Alberta town that he was elected mayor.

But the retired farmer had more municipal experience than that. While he was on the farm 18 miles west of here he served 17 years as councillor for the municipal district of Mountain View, 12 years on the health unit and eight terms on both the school board and the rural telephone board.

He moved here in 1957, and when a slight crisis arose in the garbage collection department Mr. Metz was asked to take it over because he had a team of horses and knew how to drive them. He also became dogcatcher, and since neither job was a full-time occupation he added the job of night watchman, patrolling the streets from midnight to daylight.

Plane misses airstrip, crashes in yard

Four persons escaped with minor injuries in a mishap shortly before noon on Monday, when their rented plane overshot the Lachute Airport runway and, flying a few feet above the ground, severed a telephone pole on Bethany Road (Route 8) approximately a mile away, crashing into a garden in the front yard of Col. Ernest Emmett, close to the Lachute Golf and Country Club.

The plane was piloted by Russell W. Gates, 31, an Ottawa resident, who was an experienced pilot. He was accompanied by his wife, Jean, 29, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren O'Neill, both 30, of Montreal.

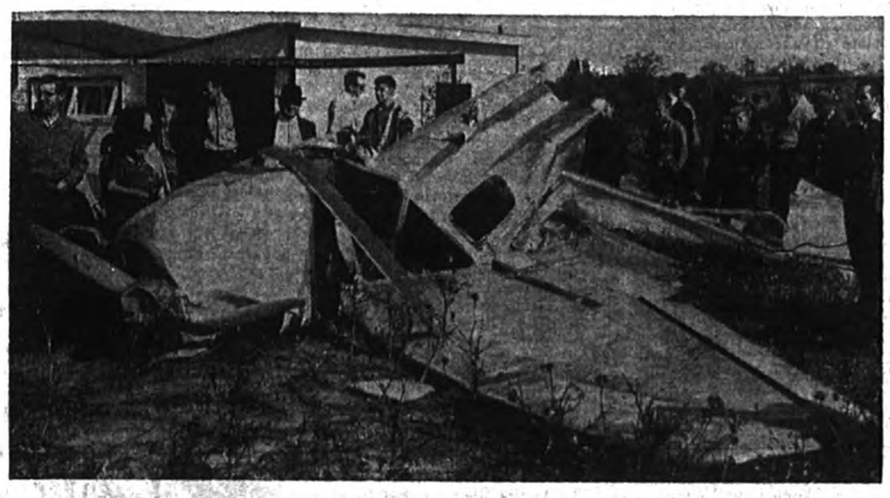

The pilot walked away uninjured from the crash, the other three occupants being treated for cuts, bruises and shock. All received treatment at the Providence Hospital, where they were taken by private car and ambulance.

The single-engined Cessna 172, rented from Laurentide Aviation, Montreal, took off from Cartierville Airport at 11.15 a.m.; the crash occurred about 30 minutes later.

Sgt. Roger Massie of the Provincial Traffic Police investigated the accident.

According to another police officer, the pilot reported he bounced in the field several times, hitting a horse and a fence before colliding with the pole; he attempted to fly under the wires, while unable to gain altitude. The left wing of the plane was sliced from the body of the light aircraft, after which the plane nose-dived into the ground across the highway and somersaulted, smashing the aircraft to pieces. Fortunately, the plane did not catch fire.

A witness at the airport stated the plane attempted to land with the wind, and was unable to get down until the last 300 feet of the strip. An investigation is being held into the crash.

Fire Prevention theme at Lions Club, Volunteer Fire Brigade feted at supper

Around 70 members and guests lent enthusiastic voice to the Fire Prevention theme at last meeting of the Lions Club, with President Dr. Eric Mongeon in the chair. The guests included, among others, the members of Lachute Volunteer Fire Brigade, who were introduced individually by Chief Don McCulloch. This gesture was a prelude to Fire Prevention Week (October 9-15), and the special speaker, W. M. Cottingham, representative for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, proved a convincing orator to impress the vital message of this occasion. (Mr. Cottingham's discourse is published on the Fire Prevention pages featured elsewhere in this issue.)

The guest speaker was ably introduced by a school-day contemporary, Lion Donald M. Hay, and was thanked on behalf of the club by Lion Gordon McOuat. Mr. Cottingham, incidentally, is a charter member of this club, one of four still surviving and in active standing. He spoke with some pride on the growth and achievements of the club over the past 26 years.

Another pleasurable link with old records was the presence of Lion Jack Giles, celebrating on this occasion his 91st birthday. International Counsellor and a past-District Governor, Mr. Giles is another long-standing member of the club respected in Canadian and International circles, and a regular "attender" at the Lachute meetings. He was congratulated by President Dr. Mongeon and presented with a huge cake in the shape of an "L" with lighted candles.

Fernand Legault, Q.C., acknowledged from Tony Malacket a gift of $6 towards toys for children at the St. Philippe foster home; this he presented to the committeeman in charge, Miville Trickey.

Horace Lamarche, in charge of Membership, reported optimistically on the drive for new and younger recruits — a number of whom will be welcomed shortly into the club (over a dozen; it is expected, of average age 29 years). Lion Horace Lamarche, who incidentally is the civic fire and police commissioner, was the sparkplug of the Fire Prevention theme of this meeting.

Jos. Dumais, Lions' Rink Chairman this year, indicated there would be ice on the artificial rink ready for skating by October 28.

Roger Regimbal informed the meeting that preparations were taking place for the grand opera presentation on October 22. The opera is Verdi's "Il Trovatore", to be staged at l'Ecole Supérieure by the Ottawa Grand Opera Association.

Royal Carrière, as Attendance chairman, gave some gratifying figures to indicate the club's high spirit of enthusiasm.

Other committeemen gave reports.

Brownsburg residents impatient for promised sidewalks, Maple Ave. South

Brownsburg — The relative calm of the council chambers was disturbed, and Council spent a few uncomfortable minutes at the October 3 session, when Mrs. J. Chalmers asked point-blank why there had been no progress toward the installation of sidewalks on Maple Avenue South. The Councillors' reply was, "Steps have been taken — the project has not been lying dormant."

There seemed to be some confusion as to whether the municipality or the provincial government was the owner of this thoroughfare, since a group of citizens had apparently been told that "Brownsburg" was the owner and consequently would be responsible for widening the street preparatory to installation of sidewalks. On the other hand, Council maintained that the province was responsible, since Maple Avenue is now part of Route 31 and thus provincial property.

Mayor René Lafleur assured Mrs. Chalmers that every effort was being made to provide the walks, and that the proposed winter works program for the town was being planned with this project in mind.

Fire Chief Fern Brisson reported that only one call had been received during the month. This involved a trip to a local residence to douse a burning transformer in a TV set. Chief Brisson announced that Fire Prevention Week would be held from October 9 to 16, with plans to call out the fire crew and equipment for a tour of the town to publicize the campaign.

The passing of the holiday season has brought a large reduction in lake traffic on week-ends, and a corresponding drop in the number of speeding tickets issued by Police Chief Boutet's department. Twenty-one drivers paid a total of $263 in fines for exceeding the speed limit, and 59 were given warnings for this and other infractions. The police department has done a fine job of cutting down speeding during the summer, possibly saving lives and preventing damage to property. . . . For the sake of the 3,400 people in Brownsburg let's hope the speed trap is not packed away for the winter!

Faces trial in Ste. Adele shooting

Mrs. Beverley Ann Weary, 28, was ordered last week to stand trial November 15 at St. Jerome on a manslaughter charge, stemming from the death from a rifle bullet of a guest at her Ste. Adele home last May 16.

Mrs. Weary was originally charged with murder in the death of Clifford Bruce Bridger, 33. In mid-June, however, St. Jerome Judge Camille de Martigny rejected this charge at a preliminary inquiry and committed Mrs. Weary to trial by jury on a manslaughter count. The evidence, he found, showed neither proof nor suspicion of murder. He released her on bail.

Mrs. Weary testified at a coroner's inquest that she borrowed a rifle because she feared for her safety. There had been prowlers around her house, wheels had been stolen from the cars of visiting friends, and the steering mechanism of her auto had been tampered with.

The night of the fatal shooting, she said, she thought she heard a noise outside. She started out with the rifle, but slipped in her stocking-feet and the weapon discharged.

Two killed on level crossing

Two residents of L'Orignal, Ont., were instantly killed at 7.39 p.m. Sunday when the car in which they were driving was hit broadside by an eight-passenger-car diesel train. The accident occurred on Route 8, at a crossing just west of Pte-au-Chene.

Dead are Charles Lecuyer, 44, and Anatole Laflamme, 24. They were headed from Pte-au-Chene to Fassett at the time of the mishap. The east-bound passenger train was held up until 9.45 p.m., at which hour the track was cleared of debris.

Ayersville Mayor answers protests —

Pro-tem appeasement to objectors on special tax in hospital sector

At the regular Council meeting in Ayersville, a number of taxpayers from the hospital area brought before Mayor Gaetan Paquette their grievances which fell on absent ears at the previous assembly — the matter of sewers and water mains to the new structure, for which they had been billed with a special tax in some cases exceeding $200.

Mayor Explains

Mayor Paquette first voiced his regrets that he was not on hand to receive the delegation at last meeting, stating the conclave he had attended in St. Andrews had been planned four days in advance. He denied emphatically that he had given political matters precedence over the affairs of his municipality, and stated that, if he had been advised of the intentions of the delegation to attend, he would have been prepared accordingly. Touching on his political activities and visits to Quebec, he asserted that nevertheless he had missed only eight Council meetings out of 53.

Mayor Paquette then gave information which was not previously available in his absence, on the public works in question and the levy of the special tax. The tax bills had not been sent out last February, he stated, because he knew they were too high, and was hoping to find some possible remedy.

To terminate this subject, the Mayor suggested that the delegation should meet with the Council, the legal consultant and the engineer who had drawn up the plans.

Furthermore, it was moved by Councillor Rosaire Quenneville and seconded by Councillor G. Gauthier, that if a provincial grant is forthcoming for the hospital building, a part of that grant should go to the municipality towards the costs of providing water and sewer service to the area.

Routine Business

A letter was presented from Dominion Ayers Wood Products, holding the Council responsible for $11,000 damage to the company's buildings caused by the laying of a sewer main on Hamford Street.

It was moved by Coun. Doug Simon, seconded by Coun. Wilfrid Durocher, that the Council should disclaim any responsibility for this damage and ask for a statement from the engineers who had executed the installation.

A cheque of $339 from the Department of Municipal Affairs was received as a balance of grant towards a municipal loan for unemployment relief work. Accounts totalling $5,160 for the month were approved for payment.

The evaluation roll, revised during the past summer, was duly homologated with exception of one valuation — the hospital being raised from $380,000 to $550,000.

A taxpayer, Gaston Plamondon, raised a query on Ayersville's accumulated deficit of $90,000; the Mayor replied that the Council is awaiting the visit of an authority from the Department of Municipal Affairs, who would give a clear picture of the situation. The Mayor asked for patience pending this investigation.

Jacques Poitras, secretary-treasurer, was authorized to see the Bank of Montreal manager for a temporary loan of $7,000 for sidewalk costs, pending the receipt of tax payments.

Varied matters at Town Council

At the session of the Lachute Town Council held on Wednesday of last week, Jacques Poitras presented Council with a document preparing for the incorporation of the Young Liberal Association of Argenteuil as a recreational club with headquarters in Lachute.

This request for incorporation, signed by Messrs. Poitras, Marcel Therrien, Dr. Charles Roy, Roch Diotte, Fernand Poulin, Guy Urbain, Guy Legarde, Conrad Gagne, Jean Marc Belzile and Paul Emile Hebert was approved in principal by the Council members.

In the absence of Mayor James W. McGibbon and the pro mayor, Ald. Horace Lamarche presided. A credit note was approved for the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church relative to the valuation of a building purchased from George Muir and now the church manse. It was also proposed and seconded that Réal Urbain, newly elected alderman to whom the chairman extended greetings, take over the committee duties of ex-Alderman Gerard Lefebvre.

The temporary engagement of Police Cst. Kenneth Fahey, hired to replace Cst. Gagné, was ratified on a motion of Ald. E. O. Pollock, and seconded by Ald. Réal Morrissette.

The Lachute Town Council will be the October 22 hosts of the St. Jerome diocese St. John the Baptist Society. The organization also obtained permission to exhibit regional manufactured products in the Town Hall lobby.

The Police Department was authorized to purchase 18 brigadier belts to identify crossing guards at the school zones. In addition, a course is to be given these brigadiers by the Police Department.

The accounts for the month, totaling $16,448 were approved for payment, after which the meeting was adjourned.

Police and Fire reports presented before Council

Reporting, via Police Commissioner H. Lamarche, at the October Council session — the town police department continued to give a good account of itself.

Chief Whiteway's summary showed $1,614.65 collected for various traffic offences, $77.50 received for permits issued, and other revenues ($75.50) totalling $1,767.65 for the month of September. (An item among miscellaneous receipts shows: "Car left at station, not claimed; sold by the department, $5.00.)

Lest it be interpreted that the police department is a mere fund-raising agency however, let it be mentioned there were duties and emergencies to keep the squad quite active. There were 268 service calls requiring attention, 29 traffic accidents investigated, and 97 court cases presented by the police. Twenty-three persons were given protection at police headquarters, and four cases of injuries received attention. There were three robberies and four arrests.

Fire Chief's Report

The Commissioner also submitted a report from Fire Chief Donald McCulloch listing seven fire calls in the month — four in Ayersville, one in St. Jerusalem and two in Lachute.

Vox populi scores a point, river-wall lights to remain

The light-standards on the North River revetment wall from Deacon's to the railroad track will remain undisturbed — according to indications at the last Council meeting, where Reg Courtien, business man, presented a protest from 15-or-so proprietors in that region objecting to removal of the lights.

It is recalled a note of sentiment was voiced by Ald. Horace Lamarche at the September meeting when it was proposed to tear down the lights because they had filled their term of usefulness. Protest was echoed in the two local newspapers, and taken up in earnest by residents along that stretch of Main Street.

The matter, at least, is pigeonholed until the next meeting, Council agreeing temporarily to the request. The lighting-committee chairman, Ald. Stanley Church, was not in his customary seat at the outset of the meeting. It is probable the Council will rescind its decision to remove the lights, also that the posts will be overhauled and strong-er lamps inserted to replace the old 100-watt units. The cement wall is also in need of renovation.

(After the meeting, it was learned from Ald. Church that the current is presently disconnected, as the wiring is in a dangerous condition.)

Ald. Horace Lamarche chaired the meeting, in the absence of the mayor and pro-mayor.

New snow units, old equipment sold

Municipal authorities last week completed the purchase of heavy snow removal equipment valued at $28,000 and including a Sicard Junior snow blower, costing $19,200 plus tax, and two sidewalk tractors and blowers costing $3,985 each.

Previous to this, the corporation sold its old snow removal equipment, the John Deere tractor being purchased by Grant Beattie for the sum of $1,800; a similar unit was sold for $1,000 to Harry Valley and a snow blower to the same man for $300. Two sidewalk blowers were sold to Lachute Auto Parts for $150 each, the third being sold to the Lions Club for the nominal fee of $1.

Motorist died in collision

Roland Lanthier, a 21-year-old Hawkesbury resident, died in the Notre Dame Hospital, Hawkesbury, on Tuesday afternoon following an accident at the approach to the Perley Bridge, on the Quebec side, on Route 8-A near Grenville.

The accident occurred at 4.30 p.m. when the victim is reported to have lost control of his 1953-model car, which struck the sidewalk and then swerved in front of a truck owned by E. Laurin & Fils, Lachute, driven by Arthur Trottier, 24, of Brownsburg — resulting in a head-on collision.

Lanthier was treated on the spot and rushed to hospital by ambulance. He died a short time later.

No date for an inquest has been set.

Drivers' permits

The mobile unit for issuance of new driving permits will be stationed at the Court House on October 26. Those wishing to apply and undergo driving tests, should present themselves at this time and place. The staff will be on duty commencing 9 a.m.

A column for the sportsman

— By BOB ATCHISON —

All the early Duck hunters have the same complaint. Too few, too high. The shortage can be attributed to the very poor conditions for these birds this past summer. In our own district we know just how bad these were. Early this year, things looked optimistic for the Ducks, due to the high water; fields were flooded, pot holes and swamps were full. It did look very good for a time. Come summer though, and this all changed. Even with a fair amount of rainfall it would have been enough for the birds to get by on, but as we also know, rain came only after long periods of dry weather. The result is showing up now in all the water fowl. From reliable reports this was not a limited condition, but was common all over the North American continent.

As for the Ducks flying too high this could be because of the light winds, and the number of gunners after them. Naturally the higher the winds, the lower the birds will fly, even with a good phalanx of shooters banging away at them. This will change shortly with the coming of cooler weather and heavy winds.

It remains to be seen if there are any Ducks left though! Some of the sporting-goods stores tell me that the increase in shotgun sales is up about 25 per cent over last year. This is due no doubt to changes in the game laws in certain sections. With everyone taking up the gun for sport, it sure bodes no good for all wildlife. . . . I'll class the humans along with this, too.

Bird lovers, I just watched a White-Crowned Sparrow and his mate. This bird is not common around this part of the world, so we are told, usually making its habitat in the Southern States, the west coast of Canada, and the northernmost part of Eastern Canada. I guess actually there are a good number of them around if we were to look for them. They are easily spotted; the white crown and grey breast make it a very outstanding bird. You cannot mistake it for the White-Throated Sparrow, as the bird is just what the name implies, white-throated — whereas the Crowned variety is pure grey. At any rate, all these birds are well worth watching.

The Jays are getting back into the swing of things. All over the area they can be seen, along with all the later birds getting ready to head south. Pretty soon we will have to be putting out the feeding stations for the winter birds.

Perch fishing is extra good just now, and well worth trying. A good feed is in prospect for those doing so. As usual, Lake Sir John is about the best of our fishing spots. Only the odd Bass shows up, and these very small. With Trout all finished for this year, it's not time to put up the tackle. Some of the best fishing will be occurring now. Northerns are taking artificial lures very well. These bruisers sure give a good account of themselves. Doré are hitting very well in the River. Not too big (by big I mean 4 or 5 pounders); but the odd 2-pounder, excellent eating, almost as good as Perch. Even the Pike are good. With the water cold, the flesh is firm and well worth eating. It's all in the preparing, however. If they are not filleted, the bones will get you down. If you don't want to go to this trouble, bake them — with the right seasoning and stuffing a meal fit for anyone. Some good feeds are in prospect right now, what with rabbits, fish, ducks, maybe some doves. Sounds good, anyway.

We read in The Watchman of the youngster caught shooting with a .22 in the town limits. Right in this one case is the question for all sportsmen. How come these lads could be out without proper supervision, and how come they had no training in the use of firearms? If there is any argument on this — then why were they shooting in an inhabited area?

Don't get me wrong, this is not a beef to have all guns taken away. Canada was founded on a rifle and hunting knife, and everyone should know how to use these. It seems strange we talk of juvenile delinquents. What can be done to help them — how about teaching them the use and handling of firearms? Sure there will be all kinds of arguments about this, but I say, a person trained in the use of firearms is a safer risk than one who is not.

One very good thing is the placing of responsibility for any hunting accidents, by the Provincial Police. This is a good start in the right direction. Let's hope that teeth are put into the edict — then the accidents will drop by a considerable number.

The Crows are getting ready for their flight south. This is a great opportunity for the varmint-shooter. In the past couple of days they seem to have multiplied into dozens. On a drive around the county last Sunday all kinds of them were seen — more than I have ever noted in this area. Another wonderful sight was the Black Squirrels. Even right near home two of them were spotted; I was more than surprised to see these. A few of the red variety were also seen, along with our friend the Rabbit — but not as many of these as during the summer; I am wondering if anything is happening to them. A few Partridge were also seen, but these will be getting very wary now with the gunfire around. After the first few shots these birds are very hard to find, unless you have a dog. As most of the Partridge shooting in this area is the stroll-and-shoot method, it's pretty hard to get a bag of them.

A few Muskrats are showing up around the river. There have been a few of them all summer, but they seem to be on the increase. I understand this district was very good at one time for these rodents. The Otter are still with us, and for anyone wanting to see these "sports", a careful lookout if you are travelling on the river will no doubt give you the chance. They seem to range from the Iron Bridge to White's Bridge. Watch out for a furrow in the water, then you can see the heads.

I have been waiting for the Geese flying south. For the past few years I have been keeping tabs on their flights north and their return south. Today at 11.20 a.m. the first flight went through — 20 Geese, so that was the outrider group. In a few days the main flights will be passing by. Believe it or not, in the last four years these birds have been on their way south with only a couple of days difference in their timing. It makes you wonder just how these magnificent creatures know when to leave. You may explain that they know when the cold weather is through, or when it's on the way. But last year we had terrific storms and lots of cold weather on the Island, and by all indications the Geese should have passed much sooner. But no, they came when they were ready, and the first flight was on October 2.

Seeing them today in the sky sure gave me a thrill. To hear the calls floating down to earth, and see a free spirit moving in the sky, is unforgettable. I'm not the only one who feels like this either. The slow, majestic beat of the great wings makes you wonder just how they can keep going for such great distances.

A word to the wise. Look before shooting, then look again to make sure.

NO MULLIGANS

Lachute Golf and Country Club, Ladies Section

The Club dining room was an appropriate setting for the bevy of colleens who attended the closing dinner and distribution of prizes on October 5.

The attractive table decorations, the menu, and the number of members present all bespoke of the meticulous planning by the Entertainment Committee to make this a truly gala evening. (Committee — Mrs. Leonard Ayers, Mrs. Leopold Carrière, Mrs. Creighton "Dick" Richardson and Mrs. Charles Roy.)

The Prize Committee (Miss Fleur-Ange Carrière, Chairman, assisted by Mrs. Leonard Bedard and Miss Yves Miron), provided a touch of piquancy with an intriguing display of trophies and packages, which were the subject of much speculation throughout the dinner. The alluringly wrapped gifts were the artistic work of Mrs. Ernest Leonard and Mrs. Philippe Tremblay.

Mrs. F. W. FitzGerald, president, complimented members of all committees for the proficient manner in which they executed their duties throughout the season, and expressed appreciation for their support during her first year in office. Mrs. Robert Cairns, past president, then read the slate of nominees for office for the year 1961.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the prizes. Mrs. Roger Gravel, Match Captain, announced the various winners, who were as follows:

Club Championship, Mrs. Richard Stephens. Runner-up, Miss Janet Young.

Drew Trophy, Mrs. "Torchy" McKeagan. Runner-up, Mrs. Philippe Tremblay.

B Class Trophy, Mrs. Frank Feldman. Runner-up, Mrs. Jim Neil.

C Class Trophy, Mrs. Lou Kushner. Runner-up, Miss Vi Belanger.

President's Prize, Miss Hanna Smith. Runner-up, Mrs. Charles Roy.

Captain's Prize — A Class, Mrs. Jim Huggan.

Vice Captain's Prize — B Class, Mrs. Emily Medland.

Captain's Prize — C Class, Miss Edmée Caron.

The 1960 player with the greatest reduction in Handicap for A and B Class is Mrs. Paul Lefebvre with 26.66%.

The 1960 player with the greatest reduction in Handicap for C Class is Mrs. Victor Fisher with 34%.

Ringer Competition — A Class Gross (2-way tie), Mrs. Jim Huggan and Miss Janet Young.

A Class Net (3-way tie), Mrs. John Jelinek, Miss Phyllis Baird and Mrs. Norma Rogers.

B Class Gross, Miss Mary Preece.

B Class Net (2-way tie), Mrs. Pauline Levesque and Mrs. J. P. Lupien.

C Class Gross, Miss Hanna Smith.

C Class Net, Miss Nathalie Nordheimer.

First Competition, Medal Round, A Class, Mrs. René Coté; B Class, Mrs. John Jelinek; C Class, Mrs. Fred Wener.

Second Competition, Honey Pot, A Class, Miss Barbara Brown; B Class, Mrs. John Jelinek; C Class, Miss Hope Garneau.

Medal Round, C Class, Miss Nathalie Nordheimer.

Putting, A Class, Mrs. Paul Lefebvre; B Class, Mrs. Jack Codas and Mrs. J. P. Lupien (tie); C Class, Mrs. Gordon Higginson.

Medal Round — A, B, C Classes, Mrs. William Cottingham.

Tombstone, A Class, Miss Rita Guilbert; B Class Mrs. Arthur Lamond; C Class, Mrs. Abe Schwartz.

Honey Pot, A Class, Mrs. Emily Medland; B Class, Miss Ann David; C Class, Miss Hanna Smith.

The Junior Trophy presented by Mrs. Howard Watson was won by Miss Anne FitzGerald.

Mrs. Gravel closed the proceedings by thanking members of the Match Committee for their co-operation during the season.

While congratulatory remarks were exchanged and gifts admired, it was evident that the Prize Committee had devoted much time to choosing and purchasing an appropriate gift for each winner. All recipients were delighted with their awards!

Mementos of the 1960 Season

The completion and opening of the new 18-hole golf course on September 3 was the highlight of the season. The thrill of exploring the new course — each hole bringing to the fore a sense of adventure and a new challenge. . . . The appreciation of a lesson or a word of encouragement from Louis de Breyne, the Club Pro. . . . The stimulating feeling of competition infused into the players as the number of active members in the Ladies' Section soared to 150. . . . Ron Going, the Assistant Pro, beaming with the pride of ownership upon the purchase of that snappy red Austin Healey convertible. . . . Being piqued at the weatherman who allowed the skies to rain on Sunday, August 21, which compelled the cancellation of the mixed tournament, and the corn roast which was to be held at the Old Sugar Camp. . . . John Miron, the Starter, for whom a career in the Diplomatic Corps is recommended. . . . The August storm which so ruthlessly destroyed innumerable trees around both courses as well as the totem pole on the 17th hole, one of the Club's most admired and most cherished landmarks. . . . The psychological effect of Mrs. Pring's warm smile and cheerful greeting when members entered into the Locker Room disillusioned after all hope of tallying a record breaking score had been shattered. . . . The tremendous success of the closing tournament, and the long hours of work which each weekly event represented to the Match Committee — Mrs. Roger Gravel, Mrs. Paul Lefebvre, Mrs. Mozart Carrière and Mrs. Jim Huggan. . . . The new acquaintances which were made, and the sense of achievement experienced as points were subtracted from handicaps. . . . Winter plans ranging all the way from sculpting to Yoga classes, as varied as the number of individuals. . . . how interesting it will be to compare notes next May! . . . Till then, fare thee well.

LEGION NOTES

"ACTIVE SERVICE YESTERDAY COMMUNITY SERVICE TODAY"

As the time grows closer to another Armistice Day, the mind seems to start looking back, and long-forgotten incidents and buddies start turning up in your thoughts. One remembers so-and-so who was with (and here the names of the units are not as recorded at CMHQ, they are the old familiar nick names that were used so fondly and proudly — remember?) The Novies, the North Shores, the Chauds, the Sand, Dust & Gravels, the Maisies, the Hasty Peas, the Van Doos, the RCR's, the Strathconas, the Sigs — one can go on and on thinking of chums living and dead who have served with the sea, ground and air forces. It all keeps building up, until suddenly it's Armistice Day and you are back on parade. Marching with your Legion comrades, but each of us in our own little world with our own thoughts and bitter sweet memories.

The memorial parade will be held on Sunday, November 13. The Armistice Day dinner will be held in the Legion Memorial Hall on Saturday, November 12.

The dedication and presentation of the 25-pounder field-piece will take place Saturday, October 15. As mentioned before, this field-piece is being presented to the Legion by the 131st Battery (Lachute) of the 37th Field Regiment RCA. The Legion in turn will hand the gun over to the Town. The saluting base will be at the Court House on Grace Street, which will be passed on the return route of the parade.

All members are asked to turn out for this event. The parade will move off from the Legion Hall at 3.30 p.m.

Try and make a point of turning up at the Bingo on Thursday evening, October 13, at the Legion Hall. All proceeds are for the Legion welfare work.

The Classic Ford Look for 1961

GALAXIE TOWN VICTORIA—one of Ford of Canada's fine cars...built in Canada

Canada's First Carefree Car

The automobile news for 1961 is all Ford. Carefree features combined with the Classic Look make these exciting new Fords a pleasure to drive . . . rewarding to own. Here's a car that promises lower upkeep and less operating expense. Here's a car that offers you elegance in every line. Although '61 Fords are shorter and narrower outside than last year, they still have every bit as much room on the inside where it counts. Pick out the model that's just right for you . . . slip behind the wheel and enjoy a new kind of comfort and ride. Drive a carefree '61 Ford soon at your Ford Dealer's.

Here is why '61 Ford is Canada's First Carefree Car

Lubricates itself—Your new Ford will normally go 30,000 carefree miles without chassis lubrication.

Cleans its own oil—The unusually thorough oil filtering system gives up to 4,000 carefree miles between oil changes.

Adjusts its own brakes—The new, carefree brakes automatically adjust themselves for wear.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion.

Guards its own muffler—Carefree Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized to normally last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Takes care of its own finish—Carefree Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing.

ANOTHER FORD FIRST: The written warranty on all 1961 Ford Cars is now extended to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first

Your Ford dealer has the carefree car you want!

Appalling waste and tragedy

BY ROYAL PROCLAMATION, made in the name of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth of Canada, October 9-15 is Fire Prevention Week. The proclamation appeals to all citizens to curb careless causes of fire which last year claimed another heavy toll of human life and property.

The sum of provincial reports for 1959 was — 556 lives lost; $120.5 millions of property consumed; 82,421 fires reported.

The proclamation sets out the magnitude of the human loss over the last ten years: 5,356 lives and an estimated 16,000 seriously injured and scarred.

The direct out-of-pocket waste of the decade to the living and working places of Canada was more than one billion dollars. Such a sum is double the ten year cost of all our universities and colleges. It is twice the cost of a St. Lawrence Seaway. Perhaps ten times the billion dollars was the indirect loss to the national economy. Nor does the figure include forest fire waste.

Tragic as is the record, there are heartening, if short-term aspects.

In 1957 our fire losses reached an all-time high. Probably no nation in the world had ever before exceeded Canada's per capita property cost of fire for that dismal year — $8.05.

This table gives the figures for 1957, 1958, 1959:

No. of Fires	82,088	86,919	82,421
Lives	638	532	556
Property (millions)	$133.5	$120.3	$120.5
Population (millions)	16.6	17.05	17.65
Per capita	$8.05	$7.05	$6.82

The simplest factor behind 90% of all fires for which it is possible to run down a definite cause: human carelessness and neglect.

While it's the "large loss fires" ($50,000 and more) which run up the yearly bill, Canada's 55,000 fire fighters believe, and with reason, that fire prevention education starts in the home. For it is in the home that more than three-quarters of all fires happen. It is in the home that three-quarters of all fire deaths occur.

Consequently, the fire fighter particularly directs his country-wide message this year to four million homes: Check your home against fire hazards.

Comes, too, the enduring slogan: Don't give fire a place to start. And, giving voice to the hapless victims of fire, especially children, women and elderly folk: Don't leave us alone with the hazards of fire.

Federal, provincial and municipal authorities join with industry and public-spirited organizations in backing the campaign. Joint sponsors are the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs, in support of fire prevention drives in 2,700 municipalities.

Ottawa and the municipalities

OTTAWA MAY move soon to provide some relief for one of the main obstacles to Canadian expansion — the financial woes of Canada's municipalities. There is talk of a municipal loan fund to provide financing for local public works. It is obvious to everyone, comments The Financial Post, that something should be done about the appalling decrepitude of most of Canada's towns and cities. To look at most of our communities, one would think we were one of the world's poor and backward lands. But one of the facts of life is this: Desirable municipal spending is often held back by the creaking machinery of local government, where a promise not to spend money is often the way local politicos can ensure election. It is held back, too, by the totally obsolete tax system which depends so heavily on property tax and which penalizes the man who improves his property.

If Ottawa goes for a municipal loan fund — and encourages municipalities to do their borrowing in Canada — quite a flow of desirable results could develop; and now is perhaps a very good time to give the economy this extra push. But Ottawa needs to plan carefully the terms on which it would help with such loans. Its efforts should be to offset the lethargy and foolishness engendered by local politicos, not contribute to them.

Unemployment — more realistic version

WITH WINTER approaching talk of seasonal unemployment has once again become fashionable — says the Fort Erie Letter-Review. Commendable, therefore, is a move taken by the Labor Department at Ottawa to show that unemployment of a seasonal nature is not all involuntary. Indeed, a substantial proportion of those listed as "unemployed" during the winter months are people who don't want jobs anyway. They include students returning to school, farmers, unpaid family workers on farms, as well as many who hold summer jobs in the tourist, food-processing and other industries, which achieve peak activity during July, August and September.

According to Labor Department figures, persons with jobs in February, averaged over the last five years, have been 620,000 fewer than persons with jobs in August. The Department estimates, realistically enough, that of this 620,000, only some 250,000 are really victims of seasonal unemployment. The others just don't intend to work in the winter months anyway.

Too much jargon!

RECENTLY, in two different Canadian cities, two lawyers spoke on the same subject — and, more remarkably — they agreed. Canadians, they said, are letting jargon obscure their sence of the value of language.

Gilbert D. Kennedy, deputy attorney-general of British Columbia, was castigating lawyers on this point; Chief Justice Dana Porter of the Ontario Court of Appeal criticized educationalists.

Mr. Kennedy, confining himself to the lemming-like rush toward legalese, made a point: "Why is it necessary, in writing of an automobile accident, to say: The said driver of the aforementioned vehicle wantonly and without due regard for his duty to my said client, on the day aforesaid, collided with my said client at the intersection aforesaid and caused injuries to my said client as detailed hereinafter. Such conduct was negligent. . . . Why not, he asked, say "I believe the driver's negligence caused by client's injuries?"

Mr. Porter, his sights on educationalists, said Canadians are letting the use of jargon borrowed from technical disciplines lead to "a jumble of complex vagaries."

"There are many categories and not the least are the soothing jargon of the politician and the deplorably inexcusable jargon of the professional educationalist. We don't write or speak any more, but 'communicate and verbalize' . . . It is quite old hat to speak of vocational training within the profession — modern educationists provide their pupils with marketable skills."

Both the learned gentlemen, with due respect, missed a real bet in skinning the mystifying art of sportscasting.

The day when sports writers could get away with calling a basket "riffling the curtains" or a hockey goalie "custodian of the twine" ended when they took the buttons off shoes. . . . And a home-run is seldom a "circuit clout" any more.

But when was the last time you heard a touchdown referred to as a touchdown on a sports broadcast? A major, yes; a teedee almost invariably; and a six-pointer, occasionally.

The thing comes full circle when the young athlete, thinking that must be the way people speak in his chosen sport, perpetuates the terms. In short, it's catching.

In other words, the jargonization of verbalization may be leading us to fail in articulation between levels leading to cross-fertilization idea-wise . . . See what we mean?

Viewpoints and perspectives

CAN'T BE DONE. — It's all very well for our government leaders to promise more and more with conflicting promises to take less and less. It can't be done. Canada's economy is only as strong as its export business, and our overseas customers are more interested in the price to be paid for a product than in helping to provide Canadians with the security of welfare measures which they, themselves, do not share. — Lacombe (Alta.) 3 Quebec hardwood plywood plants suspend operations

The impact of imports of low-priced plywoods is increasing in intensity, and three manufacturers of hardwood plywood, all in Quebec Province, have been forced to suspend operations. As a result some 420 men have been released, and orders for raw materials — principally veneer logs — have been cancelled, causing a further reduction in the work-force.

Plywoods from Japan are manufactured under low-wage, low operating costs conditions, impossible to duplicate in Canada. The vast supply of veneer bolts, primarily from the Philippines, feeds the Japanese plywood industry and enables it to increase production nearly at will, and provides the foundation for competition which Canadian manufacturers cannot possibly meet.

The seriousness of the situation is reflected in the fact that the import of plywoods from Japan has increased from a total of less than one million sq. ft. in 1950 to more than 50,000,000 sq. ft. in 1959. During the first half of 1960 the upward trend in imports has continued, and there is no indication that — short of strict controls — any betterment of this situation can be anticipated.

The marked downtrend in housing, noted since the beginning of 1960, has further curtailed the hardwood market, and there is the general feeling that unless effective measures are immediately taken the whole industry will be faced with imminent economic disaster.

Which Town took its Name from a Sermon?

The town of Melita, Man., 18 miles from both the Saskatchewan and United States borders, is reputed to have received its name from the theme of the first church service to be held on the site. The topic of the sermon was the story of St. Paul's shipwreck on the island of Melita, as recorded in Acts 28: 1.

Melita is situated in the centre of a good farming area.

The papers are full of stories about men who cash worthless cheques and get sent to prison — after they have spent the money.

From the police court news, most of the retail stores appear to be staffed by yokels who are eager to hand over the day's take in exchange for an IOU scrawled on a piece of wrapping paper.

What becomes of these gullible merchants when I want to cash a cheque? They are nowhere to be found.

The day I go in a store to cash a cheque, every face that stares at me is that of a Mike Hammer, a Dick Tracy or an Hercule Poirot.

From the furtive way that I enter they can tell that I am up to no good.

The first sound I hear is the "click-click" of safety catches on pistols. A large, rock-jawed clerk glowers at me from behind a counter.

"Yes?" he snarls.

"Not guilty," I stammer. "That is, can I cash a cheat — uh — a cheque for $2?"

Out of the corner of my eye I can see a tight-liped man moving up at a crouched run to cover me from behind a display of baby food.

"May I cash a cheque?" I repeat hoarsely, outlining a cheque-shaped oblong in the air with my finger.

The man continues to study me narrowly.

"You're a stranger in town, aren't you?" he says.

"I've been coming in here every day for 10 years. My name is Martin — er, that is, Mortimore."

"Any identification?"

I tumble out a wad of papers, and extract one of them. "Here's my driver's licence," I mutter.

"This isn't a drivers licence. It's a notice from the telephone company, threatening to cut off your phone."

"Oh! I must have left my driver's licence in my other coat."

He riffles through the papers. "Sorry, Mac," he says, and gives a broad grin, to show that he is human after all. "You know how it is. If I cashed cheques for everybody who came in, I'd be out of a job. Nothing personal."

"Good luck anyway," he says, as I shamble from the store.

A minute later, he cashes a $303.98 bad cheque for a plausible man who just blew in from Denver. He is now paying it back at $10 a week.

Of Many Things

— By Ambrose Hills —

MR. K AND THE CBC

It is possible that the geniuses at the CBC feel they are being very bold and daring by asking Mr. Krushchev to appear on their best Canadian network show.

Bold and daring it may be; but foolish, too, unless handled with great skill. If it is to be another interview such as the one with Mr. Hoffa, in which he was made to appear as a likeable, urchin-type tough guy being persecuted by the courts, then Canadians will be paying a handsome bill to be taken in.

Remember that Mr. K had the run of the USA last year in a good-will tour of which he took full advantage. He had valuable network appearances on radio and television. Yet he did everything possible to thwart a similar opportunity for Mr. Eisenhower to present the ideas of the free world to the people of Russia.

And Mr. K, who is now to have our TV network at his disposal, did not even remain at the United Nations where our Prime Minister, John Diefenbaker, was making a tremendously important and thoughtful speech. Mr. K, instead of listening, went to a luncheon at the Biltmore with Cyrus Eaton, Canadian-born millionaire.

Why, then, should the taxpayers of Canada extend to Mr. K the use of our costly broadcasting system?

Perhaps the CBC had very good reasons for extending to the greatest proponent of Communism the use of our networks. Perhaps it was their feeling that Krushchev would flop there just as he did in his attempt to make a spectacular propaganda show out of the UN. Perhaps they merely want to let us all have a close-up view of the man who represents the only really large colonial power on earth screaming about the colonialism of the free world powers?

Decisions such as this one, in the light of recent Russian actions, make taxpayers uneasy. Are we paying the shot to allow Mr. K to boast of another propaganda victory?

If so, shouldn't we have some assurance of equal time on the Russian government television system?

IN MEMORIAM

FRASER — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Robert Fraser, who passed away Oct. 9, 1958. — Sadly missed by his wife and family.

"Looking back with memories
Upon the road we trod,
We bless the years we had with you,
And leave the rest to God."

FRASER — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Robert Fraser, who passed away Oct. 9, 1958. — Sadly missed by Irene Duncan and family.

"Today brings back sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest;
Who will always be remembered,
By those that loved him best."

FRASER — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Robert Fraser, who passed away Oct. 9, 1958. — Always remembered by May, Arthur and family.

"Resting where no shadows fall,
In perfect peace, he waits us all;
God will link the broken chain,
As one by one we meet again."

FOX — In loving memory of a dear Mother, Mrs. Wm. Fox, who passed away Oct. 8, 1956. — Daughter Jessie, son-in-law, Ken, and grandchildren, Roy and Janey.

And you four years today —
No one knows the lonely grief
That's buried deep inside."

FOX — In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Wm. Fox, who passed away October 8, 1956. — Always remembered, daughter, Kay, son-in-law, Ernie, and family.

MacLEOD — In loving memory of a dear son, Alden, who was killed on Oct. 15, 1955. — Ever remembered by Mother and Father.

"Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow,
For memory keeps you ever near us,
Though you died five years ago."

MacLEOD — In loving memory of a dear brother, brother-in-law and uncle, Alden, who was killed on Oct. 15, 1955. — Ever remembered by Bernice, Stanley, Keray and Karen.

"Deep in our hearts a memory is kept
Of a brother we loved, and will never forget."

POULTER — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Agnes N. Poulter, who passed away Oct. 15, 1959. — Sadly missed by George, Madelyn, Karan, Barbara and Keith.

"One sad and lonely year has passed
Since our great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that day,
No one can ever tell.
God gave us strength to meet it,
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
It's lonely here without you,
We miss you more each day,
For life is not the same to us
Since you were called away.
You bade no one a last farewell,
Nor even said good-bye,
You were gone before we realized,
And only God knows why."

POULTER — In loving memory of a dear grandmother, Mrs. Agnes N. Poulter, who passed away suddenly, October 15, 1959. — Always remembered by Pat, Jack and Wanita.

"You bade no one a last farewell,
Nor even said good-bye;
You were gone before we knew it,
And only God knows why."

THORBURN — In loving memory of a dear daughter and sister, Enid Thorburn (Kirby), who passed away October 12, 1959. — Ever remembered by Mother and family.

"Asleep in God's beautiful garden,
Away from sorrow and pain,
God called her home
To suffer no more."

WELDEN — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Alice Jane Welden, who passed away Oct. 15, 1959. — Gladys, Sandy and grandsons, Dickie and [illegible]

"Always in our thoughts."

Verdi grand opera to be presented here October 22

The opera "Il Trovatore" by Giuseppe Verdi will be staged on Saturday, October 22, at L'Ecole Superieure. Mr. Bob Haydon of Lachute, will again sing the leading tenor role. Soprano Mathilda

Bob Haydon, Tenor

Lazarowitz will be remembered for her lead role in "La Traviata" last year, as will baritone Peter-Emanuel Collen. Contralto Paulette Costello plays a leading role as the gypsy.

This is a Lions Club presentation, and it is hoped there will be a repeat of last year's enthusiastic attendance. The company of the Ottawa Grand Opera Association will be a little larger than last year, due to the large cast required to perform "Il Trovatore". A 17-piece orchestra from the Ottawa Philharmonic will supply the music, and the opera director will again be H. Bramwell Bailey.

Story of Independ't Merchant is told at Lachute W.I.

The monthly meeting of the Lachute Women's Institute, chaired by the president, Mrs. Linton Armstrong, was held October 4 at the Legion Hall.

The guest speaker on this occasion was Mr. W. B. Younkie, who was introduced by Mrs. George Muir, convener of Education. Mr. Younkie, who makes his home in this district, is vice-president and treasurer of Shop and Save, formerly Hudon & Orsalie Ltd., holders of the I.G.A. franchise in Montreal.

The subject of Mr. Younkie's address, "Story of the Independent Merchant", was most interesting and informative. He pointed out that, about 34 years ago, the chain store had begun to be so popular that the independent grocer could not compete. About this time, a certain Mr. Frank Grimes conceived the idea of forming an Independent Grocers' Alliance (I.G.A.) with the sole purpose of aiding the small merchant. This alliance proved so helpful that there are now 696 stores and 90 supply depots stretching across U.S. and Canada (with the exception of New Brunswick), and I.G.A. is the second largest retail grocery in the world, only surpassed by A&P.

The individual stores are owned, sometimes by one man, who is often the manager and who may use his own name and sign, or it may be owned by a group. The stores are served from the supply depots — the local I.G.A. being serviced from the Ottawa depot. Price range, advertising and salesmanship are studied by a staff of 29 specialists, and the information gained is passed along to the independent grocer. A fee is charged for such services, and it is expected and demanded that the policies of the alliance be carried out. However, if the store proves to be unsuccessful, the independent grocer may, without obligation, discontinue the business on one day's notice. Anyone accepted under this alliance is provided with the services of engineers both in locating and building.

Grocers operating entirely on their own, said Mr. Younkie, are becoming fewer and fewer, and many of these are able to continue only because of the beer license.

Mr. Younkie felt it was becoming increasingly more difficult for the small merchant to operate a successful business without the help of such an organization.

Mrs. Geo. Leggett thanked the speaker for his interesting address.

At this meeting, it was arranged that a "dessert card party" be held November 1 in the Legion Hall.

Sector Plan organization working in four churches of this district

The word Sector is one that we have been hearing frequently of late because it refers to something of interest and importance taking place in this area. We believe that the readers of The Watchman would be interested in the following information: — From Halifax on the Atlantic Coast to Victoria on Vancouver Island, something well over a thousand churches are working co-operatively on the Annual Every Person Visitation; and another thousand are using the method by themselves. In Halifax there are 27 churches; in Vancouver 40; in Edmonton 42; in Calgary 30; in Winnipeg 30; in Toronto over 100; in Montreal over 60.

"So the story goes, until every major city in Canada with the exception of Quebec and cities in Newfoundland, is interdenominationally co-operating in a wonderful spirit and with great results," so wrote Mr. Stirling Kitchen, Secretary of the Stewardship Committee, Canadian Council of Churches. The word "Sector" is a term that is frequently used in connection with the Every Person Visitation to which Mr. Kitchen refers here. Sector refers to an Inter-denominational Visitation in which churches in a particular area or sector work co-operatively for an Every Member Visitation in each congregation in an effort to strengthen the spirit life, leadership and finances of the churches.

A Sector Group has been established in this area and early in the spring the Lower Ottawa Valley Sector Project was organized and the following officers elected —

Chairman, Rev. Wilson Bridge.
Secretary, W. H. Maslin.
Treasurer, Bories Arran.
Director, Rev. Garfield Bruce.
Assistant Director, Rev. Cyrus Lang.
Director's Secretary, Miss Laura Davis.

The Lachute United Church, St. Simeon's Anglican Church, the Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church and the Brownsburg United Church have affiliated with this program.

Five training dinner meetings for committees whose members will give leadership to the Sector Program in their own churches, are being held under the direction of Rev. Douglas Pilkey, of Dorval, a Councillor appointed by the Canadian Council of Churches for this purpose.

General Committees have been appointed by each church as follows:

Lachute United Church

General Chairman, Kilgour Hardie; Program Chairman, Stuart Armstrong; Resources Chairmen, Charles Duncan and Robert Giles; Visitation Chairman, Stewart Jones; Materials Chairman, Edmund McFaul; Follow-Up Chairmen, Charles Duncan and Robert Giles.

St. Simeon's Anglican Church

General Chairmen, Bernard Jenkins and Harold Maslin; Program Chairman, Robert Bailey; Resources Chairman, Lionel Gaunt; Visitation Chairmen, Stanley Holt and Angus Strong; Materials Chairman, Bories Arran; and Follow-Up Chairman, George Leggett.

Margaret Rodger Memorial Presbyterian Church

General Chairman, Donald Heggie; Program Chairmen, Walter Turner and Donald Hay; Resources Chairman, Robert Duncan; Visitation Chairmen, Kenneth Ball and Ernest Gordon; Materials Chairman, C. E. Richardson, and Follow-Up, General Committee.

Brownsburg United Church

General Chairman, Cedric Wheeler; Program Chairman, S. E. Rose; Resources Chairmen, Ronald Barnett and Douglas Clarke; and Follow-Up Chairmen, Ronald Barnett and Douglas Clarke.

The members of these committees earnestly hope for the prayers and assistance of all the people in their respective churches so that God's work may be done and his name glorified.

We'll be friends with anyone! Some folks think churches are like exclusive clubs, catering only to extra good or extra moral people. But churches are also for people who are in need of particular help. If you are sick, despondent, unloved, without hope, come to our friend! Jesus came to solve problems. Our Sunday school is busy training youngsters to avoid the pitfalls of life and helping adults to meet the problems they already face. We'll be friends with anyone. May we be yours?

Gr. champion and top-priced steer at winter show

The grand champion steer award at Sherbrooke Winter Fair last week was won by Dr. G. R. McCall of North River Farm, Lachute, with his Aberdeen Angus prize entry. Mr. Bill Brass, representing Dr. McCall, received the Canada Packers silver tray at the breeders' banquet.

Mrs. T. C. Stuart, of Titura Farms, Arundel, took top honors in the Shorthorn division.

Dr. McCall won Premier Breeder, Senior and Grand Champion Female, and Reserve Senior Male. Mrs. Stuart took Senior, Junior and Grand Champion male, Senior, Junior and Grand Champion Female, and the Quebec Shorthorn Club special award.

Special prizes for herds of six steers of each breed to be shown were: Grand Champion Steer, and Grand Champion Aberdeen Angus, Dr. G. R. McCall, Lachute. Steer and Grand Champion Shorthorn, Mrs. T. C. Stuart. Mrs. Stuart also won the Canadian Shorthorn Association prize.

James Brass, of Lachute, won Calf Club awards.

At the fat stock sale last Thursday, the top price steer — Dr. McCall's 932-pound Aberdeen Angus grand champion — brought $1.25 a pound, or a total of $1,165. The animal was purchased by Steinberg's, of Montreal.

IN CASE OF FIRE — GET OUT FAST!

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

During the winter months over and over again fire destroys a house and lives are lost.

Each year in Canada, the number of deaths from fires is around the five hundred mark. In a recent decade over one thousand five hundred children died as a result of fire, many of them little tots left all alone in a home "just for a few minutes" while mother went shopping, called on a neighbor or departed with father to spend an evening of recreation.

There are three important things to do, in the following order, if a fire breaks out in your home. Get everyone out of the building; Call the Fire Department (if necessary from the nearest neighbor's house); Fight the flames until help arrives. A baby sitter should be old enough to be responsible in an emergency and know the above procedure.

The majority of fires break out at night. Every family of school age children should hold a council and plan the quickest, safest way for each person to get out of the house. The following safety procedures, if wakened by fire, should be known to the school youngsters as well as adults.

Before opening a door, feel if it is warm. If it is warm, do not open it. Many people are killed, not by burns but by breathing overheated gases. If the door is cool, brace your foot behind it and open cautiously. If hot air rushes in, slam it shut. If smoke, but not hot air or flames are in a hall, throw a wet towel, if possible, over your head and crawl on hands and knees along the floor. Close every door after you.

Do not jump from a window except as a last resort. If you must get out this way, tear and knot sheets to make a rope ladder. Drop bedding out the window to break a possible fall.

Memorize the number of the fire department. Post it up beside your phone. In an extreme emergency tell Central your address and that you need the fire truck. Discover how long in your area it will take help to reach you from your professional fire fighters. If you consider this unsatisfactory, do something to make your fire department's service more efficient.

Fire fighting is a job for experts but the first five minutes are more valuable in extinguishing most fires than the next five hours. There are three types of fires and a good fire extingusher does an efficient job on all three. Remember (a) that water will put out wood, paper, clothes fires; (b) grease and flammable liquids on which water should NOT be thrown but baking soda will smother; (c) electric equipment, again baking soda is a good weapon.

If clothing catches on fire, do not run. Wrap up in a rug or quilt and lie down and roll on the floor, beating out the flames with your hands.

Last but not least, do not be tempted to run back into a blazing house to rescue possessions, once every member of the family is safely outside. Your child needs two parents. A great many people have lost their lives dashing in for money or valuables. Don't take a foolish risk. It's bad enough for a family to have their home damaged or lost by fire — don't add the extra heartbreak of a funeral.

INSTANT BANANA

The latest on the market is instant banana, reports The Financial Post. Canadian-controlled firm that developed orange crystals that reconstitute immediately into orange juice on addition of water, now has come up with lime, lemon, tangerine, grapefruit, pineapple and banana crystals. The banana crystals already appears in a custard and cake mix.

Fruit Cake uses apple

A new appetizing use for apples has been introduced in Canada.

Diced apple — properly candied, colored and flavored — may be used instead of cherries and citrus peels for fruit cakes, reports the Canada Department of Agriculture.

The apples are prepared by a vacuum method of treating fruit for pie fillings and solid-pack canned apples that was developed a few years ago at the Summerland, B.C., Research Station and is now used commercially.

The vacuum treatment removes the gases from the diced apple tissues and makes them firm enough to withstand the syrup treatment for manufacture into Candied fruit.

This process, points out researcher F. E. Atkinson, permits use of Canadian apples as an important bakery fruit.

The same colors can be used with apples as with cherries or zucca melon. When citrus peels are being handled in the same factory, a mild citrus flavor can be imparted by using some of the citrus syrups on the diced apple. A mild maraschino flavor has also been found attractive.

There are two limitations in the manufacture of this product:

(1) It has to be made from apples that are firm and sound.

(2) The fruit should be candied when the apples are fresh, since storage of the prepared apple has not been found practical.

Ham patties

A wide variety of delicious apples is now available on the Quebec market for your eating and cooking enjoyment.

Our most versatile apple, the Quebec McIntosh, which, by the way, produces a juice of unexcelled taste and quality, is ideal for the preparation and cooking of ham patties.

Ham patties can be dry and unappetizing — so try these. The flavorful Quebec McIntosh and the tangy juice keep them moist and tasty!

2 Cups leftover ham (chopped), ½ cup breadcrumbs, 2 eggs (beaten), ¼ teaspoon salt, pinch of pepper, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 5 tablespoons ham or bacon fat, 2 Quebec apples, 1 cup apple juice, grated rind and juice of ½ a lemon, 2 tablespoons brown sugar.

Mix the ham, breadcrumbs, eggs, mustard, salt and pepper. Shape in six flat patties, the size of an apple slice. Slice the unpeeled apples into 6 thick slices. Sprinkle one side lightly with sugar. Place in hot fat, sugared side down. Brown lightly on both sides, without overcooking the apples.

As they are ready, place in bottom of shallow casserole. Quickly brown the ham patties in the remaining fat and place each one on a slice of apple. Blend the grated rind and juice of lemon with the apple juice and brown sugar. Pour around the patties. Bake 20 to 25 minutes in a 325° F. oven.

HINT

Do not keep cake and bread in the same storage box, as cake absorbs the moisture from the bread.

Swiss Rabbit-on-Toast
Eggplant Fritters
Chopped Spinach Timbales
Corn-on-Cob Pea
Deep-Dish Peach Pie
Hot or Iced Coffee or Tea Milk

Measurements are level; recipe for 6

Swiss Rabbit-on-Toast, a variation of "Fontina": Soak 1 tsp. caraway seeds in water to cover for 15 min.

Meantime, in double-boiler top combine ½ lb. grated Switzerland Emmentaler cheese, 2 tbsp. flour, 1 egg, ½ tsp. salt, ⅛ tsp. pepper and 1 tbsp. room-soft butter. Stir thoroughly to blend.

Place over hot water.

Gradually stir in 2 c. heated milk and caraway seeds, drained. Cook-stir until thick and creamy.

Beat with wire whisk for super-smoothness.

Serve on buttered toast or in toast baskets.

THE CHEF'S EGGPLANT FRITTERS

Steam-cook 1 (1-lb.) eggplant, peeled and cut in chunks, for 30 min. or until soft. Mash with potato masher.

Add 1 egg and ¾ c. flour sifted with ¾ tsp. salt and 1 tsp. baking powder. Beat in ¼ c. milk.

Let stand 15 min. to slightly thicken.

Fry like griddle cakes on hot oiled griddle, dropping on batter by heaping tablespoonfuls. Turn once.

Allow about 8 min. for thorough cooking.

Grecian touch

Angelina of Toronto sought inspiration from Greece in a fluid gown of a brushed Arnel blend jersey. Its opulent look stems from richness of texture, smoky color of winter white, and the generous but disciplined blousing. It is a sheath in the back, balanced with a straight panel. The sleeves, of one piece with the bodice, state the case for the bare-arm look this season. The gown was presented at the fall showing of the Association of Canadian Couturiers.

Teatime Topics

Specially Written for The Lachute Watchman By Edna Blakely, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Eager housewives may be making a mistake in waxing their furniture too frequently. This builds up a film on the finish which spoils its beauty.

At the most, says the Canadian Furniture Manufacturers' Association, polish every few months — about three times a year is preferable. Brisk dusting will restore the surface between waxings.

Furniture should be dusted regularly and care should be taken because some dust particles are abrasive. Stubborn marks can be removed by washing with a soft cloth and a mixture of one quart of warm water and one teaspoon of mild detergent. Wipe dry with a soft cloth.

The finish should determine the type of polish used on furniture with a glossy sheen, such as satin-rubbed or high gloss.

No Perfect Finish

The association says the age of miracle finish isn't here yet but it may be coming soon. "Intensive research is being carried out to perfect a finish which will be resistant to almost everything the housewife tries to keep off her furniture — nail polish remover, glass rings, hot dishes and burning cigarets."

A vinyl plastic covering which can be cleaned with a damp cloth is being used extensively. Sometimes it is used on the hard-wearing areas such as the arms and head-rest portion of a sofa or chair.

Reversible cushions with plastic on one side and fabric on the other are versatile for family and company use.

Buying Furniture

It's important to know what you are getting when you buy furniture. Carol Sanderson, a home design specialist with Manitoba's department of agriculture, has given advice on how to choose a chest of drawers.

She says to ask the salesman if it is made of hardwood. Hardwoods — walnut, mahogany, oak, maple, birch or cherry — last longer, take more punishment and keep a better finish.

The finish should be smooth with no rough or uneven spots. Good joints at the corners will have a wooden tongue or round pin that fits into a slot or socket on the corresponding piece.

Little blocks of wood should be glued or screwed into corners, behind legs and under drawers to reinforce the points of strain. Drawers should open straight and shut easily. Drawer glides, preferably metal, help easy movement.

Screws, not nails, will be used in high quality furniture to attach the back panel.

The sides of the drawers should be dovetailed — that is wedge-shaped cuts on one side interlocking the wedged-shaped cuts on the other side. The bottom of the drawers should be set in grooves along the sides and back and the inside surface should be sanded and lacquered.

Ask if the chest is finished to resist heat, food and liquid stains.

At the conclusion of play a buffet supper was served, which was enjoyed by all after an afternoon in the sunshine and fresh air.

Pretty wedding held recently at Morin Heights

Curry-Gillingham

The marriage of Grace Beverley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry John Gillingham, of Morin Heights, to Mr. David Ross Curry, son of the late Major Rufus Malcolm Curry and Mrs. Margaret Curry, of the Town of Mount Royal, was solemnized October 1 at three o'clock in Trinity Anglican Church, Morin Heights, the Rev. Horace G. Baugh officiating.

Mr. Carl Elder played the wedding music accompanied on the violin by Mr. Albert Rutledge. Mrs. M. Simms, as soloist, sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

Standards of white gladioli and giant mums were used to decorate the altar. Two massive arrangements of potted bronze mums were placed at the chancel steps and similar flowers were used in the naive of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white corded peau de soie sheath dress with matching bouffant overskirt caught at the waistline with a matching bow. It was fashioned with a round neckline and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. Her chapel veil of tulle illusion sprinkled with seed pearls was held by a tiara of drop crystals and seed pearls. She carried an heirloom ivory prayer book decorated with white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Isabelle Currie, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and wore a cocktail length silk peau de soie champagne sheath dress with a matching bouffant overskirt trimmed with Chantilly lace. She wore matching accessories and a feathered headdress and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of bronze and gold mums with yellow shasta daisies.

Mrs. Sydney Burrows and Miss Bonnie Gillingham, sisters of the bride, were the other attendants and wore identical-style dresses to that of the maid of honor; they were cocoa brown in color with matching accessories.

Mr. Rufus A. Curry acted as best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. John Gravel and Mr. Neil Dyson.

Mrs. Henry Gillingham, mother of the bride, chose a Dior blue sheath dress of Italian lace over taffeta. She wore a Dior Blue Zephyr hat trimmed with peacock feathers and had black accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Margaret Currie, the groom's mother, was in a loden green peau de soie sheath dress trimmed at the bodice with matching Italian lace. Her hat of green velour was trimmed with feathers. She wore mink colored accessories. Her corsage was yellow Sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the dining salon of the Bellevue Hotel. Autumn leaves and cut flowers decorated the tables.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Curry left for Florida. The bride chose for travelling a Nat Gordon plum wool ensemble with matching coat and a Dorée original black velour hat, trimmed with black white-tipped feathers; black leather accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

On their return they will reside in the Town of Mount Royal.

The bride is a graduate of the Montreal General Hospital.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. M. Howard, of Ottawa; Mr. L. Hesketh, of Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Curry and Mr and Mrs. H. G Gillingham, of Toronto; Mr and Mrs. W. Killick, of Lacolle; Mr. and Mrs. M. Blakely, Mr. and Mrs. W. Marston, Mr. and Mrs. R. Marston and Mr. J. C. Marston, of St. Eustache sur-le-Lac.

M.P.P. voices Fire Prevention theme; Cottingham is speaker at Lions Club

A talk given by W. M. Cottingham, M.P.P., as guest speaker at a Lions Club meeting last week on the Fire Prevention theme. (Text is slightly abridged.)

Once a year, many organizations and many individuals get together and set in motion, for a period of a few days, a rather well lubricated piece of propaganda machinery — with the aim of convincing people, young and old, that they have a duty to themselves and their fellow-citizens to prevent fires.

No one will deny the importance of Fire Prevention Week. If anyone had any doubts about this, the grim statistics of deaths by fire would soon convince them. There is no denying that today communities are better protected — and here I would like to pay tribute to our Volunteer Fire Brigade founded 42 years ago by a great public-spirited citizen, the late Geo. Y. Deacon.

Similar initiatives have given the same kind of protection to other communities, whose citizens, in the past, could only stand by when the scourge of fire struck and see their homes burn to the ground. One could never praise too highly the unselfish devotion of these citizens who, day and night, are always ready to risk their own lives in order to protect the lives and property of their neighbors.

In other, larger communities, fire protection has been improved and perfected. In the past several years the Provincial Government has increased considerably its grants to communities wishing to improve their firefighting facilities.

Municipalities usually have a whole set of rules, in addition, aimed at preventing fires or minimize the danger of fires. But we must admit that this is not enough, because Fire Prevention goes much beyond the reach of municipal administration. . . . The rest is up to every citizen. And it is here that every citizen — man, woman and child — must take over, in order to protect every home from the disaster of fire. It is here that the intervention of various bodies is of the utmost importance, for they help tremendously (as the Lions Club is doing on this occasion) to stress the importance of Fire Prevention. I believe there are very few fields of endeavor where so much can be done by so many. For Fire Prevention is not only the task of government bodies, it is the task and duty of every citizen without exception.

Fire Prevention must begin in the home. No government action can be effective unless we recognize this. No amount of knowledge concerning fire protection can be of any use if it is not applied in the home first. It has been said that, if every one swept in front of his house, the street would be clean. The same applies to Fire Prevention: if its rules were applied in every home, communities would be safe.

The tragedy of fire goes much beyond the millions of dollars' damage suffered every year, for it reaches to strike at members of countless families. Thousands of lives are snuffed out every year. Thousands of men and women perish in fires; and what can be more tragic than the death of thousands of children by the ordeal of fire?

It follows, then, that Fire Prevention, like charity, begins at home. It is up to every adult in the house to apply the rules of safety, to teach them to the younger members of the family able to understand them and follow them, and to protect those children who are too young to protect themselves.

I would like to stress an important factor: These special periods devoted to Fire Prevention do a magnificent job. They highlight the problem vividly. They create awareness. But human nature being what it is, interest soon wanes, and although the danger remains every day of the year, it becomes more distant in the minds of the people. As time goes on, the sense of danger is blunted; people carry on as usual, and repeat the same dangerous routines that could spell the loss of lives and property. There are very few homes where, day in and day out, some one does not do something which, except of the grace of God, could easily provoke disaster — from the man whose smoking habits or hobbies are a potential danger, to the woman whose domestic chores are just as dangerous, and to the children whose fascination with matches has destroyed more homes than any of the other factors combined.

Adults are old enough to be conscious of the danger they are to themselves and their families. And they should be old enough to know how to cope with it. In addition, it is their responsibility to see that potential danger is removed from the youngsters.

No one can afford to relax in this vital task of preventing fires in the home. Every cigarette lighted, every meal prepared, every cleaning rag stored in a dark closet, every drop of cleaning fluid used, every new electric lamp plugged in, every session at the ironing board — spell Danger with a capital "D".

I would like to suggest that intensive Fire Prevention propaganda be promoted continually in every home. I am convinced that some of this Fire Prevention Week publicity could be carried on throughout the year. I am sure that experts in publicity could devise some reminder, easily kept on hand, that fire prevention is a matter of eternal and daily concern. I am also sure that newspapers, radio and TV stations would periodically agree to publicize such warnings prepared by competent agencies.

I don't mean to imply that annual campaigns should be done away with — quite the contrary. I only believe that, since the problem is one that involves mostly the human factor, there should be a continuous flow of information on the matter.

W. M. Cottingham, M.P.P.

I would like to suggest that fire prevention should be very much a part of the curriculum in our schools. I know that some teachers make it a point to discuss the problem with their students. But more could be done in that respect. The child's mind is easily impressed and what could more impress school boys and girls, than the explanation of this deadly threat that lurks in their very homes. Children are fascinated by fire; they could be just as easily convinced that they could play an important part in protecting themselves, their parents and their homes.

During 1959, 87 persons lost their lives through fire in Quebec; of these, 41 were children. In addition, 390 men, women and children were injured more or less seriously. Our first concern, of course, is the saving of human lives. . . . But we cannot ignore material losses either. For the same period, they amounted to close to 41 million dollars. Fire, as it has been often pointed out, is a terrible master.

I cannot help but feel, it is the concern of every right-thinking citizen when it comes to such grim realities. Much has been done in our community to improve matters. But we cannot afford to relax. Let us hope that, through our common effort, we can still improve the record, and in so doing help others less fortunate to make progress in the daily battle against the scourge of fire.

THOSE PORTABLE SPACE HEATERS!

If you use a portable oil space heater in your home, remember that it represents a definite fire hazard. It should be set obsolutely level and should not be carried around from room to room while burning. Changes in draft are liable to cause explosion. Canada's fire services hope that just as soon as you can you will dispense with it in favor of a more permanent type of heating unit.

Criminal liability possible for neglect

For a compassionate community there can be no sadder news than the death by fire of children in the home.

The shadow deepens when the headlines read: "We left them alone only for a few minutes. . . ."

For the stricken family, the shadow lasts a lifetime.

No child (and, for the matter, no very old or dependent person) should ever be left alone. This is a vital message from Canada's fire services, not just for Fire Prevention Week but throughout the year.

There are various provincial penalties for callous neglect of children. And section 189 of the Criminal Code of Canada reads; "Everyone who unlawfully abandons or exposes a child who is under the age of 10 years, so that its life is or is likely to be endangered or its health is or is likely to be permanently injured, is guilty of an offence and is liable to imprisonment for two years."

There is a tragic monotony to the files of the last year in which 223 children died: Alone in house, 6 children die. . . . Mother next door, stove explodes, baby dies. . . . 3 children playing with matches, perish in flames. . . . Cigarette lighter burns fatal to boy, 5. . . . Two children, one 4, the other 4 months, burn to death when wood stove starts fire while mother visits neighbors. . . . Mother in tavern, child dies in flames.

Parents who go out have a duty to their children, to the community and to themselves to see that the youngsters are properly looked after.

The heartening acceptance of this obligation in homes across the land is reflected by the fact that baby-sitting has become more than a casual occupation for many people. It has even developed into a regular profession.

The Fire Chief has information on child protection. If you do a fair amount of baby-sitting, call him, he'll be delighted to hear that you mean business and that, like him, you are deeply concerned with the welfare of your charges.

Volunteer home inspection is wise plan for safety

Your home is your castle! This tradition is sacred to the program of voluntary home inspection by the fire service. That is why the inspection of any home is subject to the friendly wish of the owner or tenant, without involvement of any kind.

If a fire fighter knocks at your door, let him in. His aim is to help you uncover fire hazards and bring them to attention.

He will ask to see kitchen, basement, yard.

If you're wise, you will accept his suggestions, as have hundreds of thousands of Canadians.

What he has to say concerns the safety of your home, perhaps your own life. There's no expense to you and it doesn't add to your taxes.

He is at your door either under a planned municipal program — or at your own invitation.

While public and commercial buildings in Canada must submit to a rigid fire inspection, the home and the owner's privacy are respected. Nevertheless, it is in the home that three-quarters of all fires occur so often with tragic loss of family life.

Effective Approach

More and more across the nation, voluntary or courtesy home inspection has been established as an effective approach to the problem. While the program is highlighted during Fire Prevention Week, it can apply throughout the year.

Usually inspectors work in teams down the street, from a fire department vehicle which is always in radio touch with headquarters in the event of emergency. Unless specifically asked, they confine their attention to basement and yard. Besides trash, they are alert to storage of flammable liquids and stove ashes, smoke pipes and chimneys, and faulty or frayed wiring. They look for obviously unsafe or doubtful conditions. They will give you a private and personal written report of their findings, without use of your name and without gossip about the neighbors. And they will not advise on repairmen or equipment suppliers.

Rest Up to You

It's been a completely friendly call, and the rest is up to you.

As the fire services say, "The best fires we fight in the home are those that never happen."

The scorching breath of fire

Three-quarters of home fire victims die upstairs, untouched by the flames from below. The oxygen vital to life has been replaced by the superheated killer gases, including carbon monoxide. Such is the "chemistry" of fire and death by fire.

The story is tragically familiar to fire fighters, who, almost every day, report it under the headline: suffocation by fire.

The Coconut Grove night club fire of 1942 in Boston is a well-known example. But even more striking were those of two fires in northern Canada within the last half century. Their stories need to be better known.

The first of these was the Porcupine conflagration in 1911, just after the fabulous gold discoveries.

At the bottom of an 80-foot mine shaft, the bodies of 34 persons were found — life (and oxygen) devoured by the searing heat overhead, from which they had sought escape.

Fire years later, in the Matheson fire, some of the 223 victims were found peacefully at rest under culverts, in root houses and ravines, unburned.

A few lived through the ordeal by constantly drenching their heads under water-soaked blankets and sacks from which they could extract the barest amounts of oxygen.

Let their experience be your guide, if ever you have to face the terrible personal fact of fire. Use your head.

Without oxygen in your lungs, you are dead, probably in the time it takes to read this sentence.

Now you know why the fire fighter heads for the roof of a house to chop open a hole.

Salute Volunteers

In many of the smaller Canadian communities where professional fire services are not maintained, residents relax in the knowledge that their local fire-fighting volunteers are ever on the alert against fire.

These volunteer forces, made up of fellow-citizens who are of all ages and from every walk of life — farmers, merchants, businessmen— give of their time and effort in studying and practising the latest techniques in fire prevention and combat methods.

Canadians everywhere salute the volunteer fire-fighters of the nation.

Bargains not always cheap

Still current and choice is the overheard remark by a dear old lady:

"I bought 30 ampere electrical fuses because they are twice as strong as the 15 size and because they cost just the same."

Another overheard remark by a lady:

"Fuses you buy today aren't as good as they used to be 10 years ago. They keep blowing out."

To the first lady, as the fire fighter points out, the answer is that the "weaker (15) size" is probably the only safe one.

To the second, the answer is that she is probably using many more appliances and connections than she did 10 years ago, on the same wiring.

Important tips on fire extinguishers

If you have a fire extinguisher in your home but don't know how to use it properly, you're living in a fool's paradise if you rely on it to do a job in emergency.

This is a straight-from-the shoulder warning by one of the nation's senior fire prevention officers.

Read the instructions on the housing of the extinguisher and bone up on them at intervals.

Know what the extinguisher is capable of doing. Some types are ineffective in certain situations. Know what these are.

Because extinguishers in general have a short operating time, there's no point in starting it going when you're 50 feet away from the fire. By the time you close in on the blaze, its effect may be lost.

The Who, Why and When of Fire Prevention

Something is missing from Fire Prevention Week in 1960 — the man who started it all. During the year Rev. T. Alfred Fleming, longtime resident of Owen Sound, Ont., died in Cleveland, aged 86.

A 1909 fire in an Ohio school, killing 173 children because a janitor forgot to keep an exit unlocked, gave Mr. Fleming the germ of the idea for the annual campaign which since 1922 has been set by royal proclamation in Canada and by the President of the United States. Actually a Fire Prevention Day was first observed in Nova Scotia, Ontario and Saskatchewan and in 1919 a royal proclamation was issued nationally for the day.

By common consent of both countries, the week's observance is timed to the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire, Oct. 9th, 1871, this month being the start of colder weather and added heating.

Fire safeguards for farm dwellers

Eternal vigilance, as every smart and prudent farmer in Canada knows, is the price of fire prevention. Otherwise, the fruits of months of toil and the profits of years may vanish.

For every Canadian, and particularly for the thousands now enjoying suburban or country living, without the "round-the-corner" protection of a civic or full-time fire department, what the fire-wise farmer does to avoid giving fire a place to start is worth a hard look:

1. Lightning. See that the rods are well and truly grounded. If their use has an insurance benefit, it is imperative that the installation complies with the provincial regulation.

2. Gasoline. The smart operator never re-fuels a hot motor; spilled gas can go "boom" in his face. The same goes for a power lawnmower; if the "little woman" or the kids like to trim the grass while you doze in a hammock, see that they know the hazards.

3. Matches and smoking. Not to be tolerated in any circumstances around a barn or dry fields. Warning signs on the subject are available freely for the asking from a variety of sources. The owner who puts them up and sees that they are heeded, rates a bow from the volunteer fire brigade. There's nothing more frightening (and harder on the neighbor's nerves) than a grass fire out of control.

4. Electricity. The "do-it-yourself" amateur is asking for trouble when he works in this department. Be an expert or get one for the job. And play the game with the power commission by insisting, too, on a final inspection.

Baby Sitting short course

Here, for parent and for the sitter, are standard rules for baby-sitting:

1. The sitter selected should have a sense of responsibility and should like the children and preferably live in the neighborhood.

2. Instruction should be given in writing as well as orally —

Where you are going and telephone number, or the name and number of someone to call in an emergency.

Your telephone number and location of telephone.

Emergency telephone numbers for FIRE, POLICE, DOCTOR.

How to call the fire department. Location of exits.

How to control the furnace or stove.

Leave a flashlight in case of power failure.

3. Guide to the sitter in emergency:

Get the children safely out. Even if it's cold, don't wait to dress them. Wrap them in a blanket.

Even the smell of smoke or gas is enough warning to call the fire department, or summon help. Be sure to say exactly where you are. If you can, turn on the front light to attract attention.

Don't ever re-enter the house. Smoke or gas from a very small fire may be fatal. If you are trapped inside, remember that the air near the floor is usually better in a smoke-filled room.

Inside, don't turn on or off any electric switches. This may create a spark, ignite gas vapors, and cause explosion.

Reddy Kilowatt says -

You Can Help Prevent Fire

Many tragic fires are reported as being due to "Defective wiring."

Electric wires in older premises were not intended for the heavy loads they require to carry today. They were installed almost wholly for lighting, and before most of our modern electric appliances had come into general use.

With age, the insulation on these older wires becomes brittle and drops off. The partly bare wires thus become a fire hazard.

With overloading such wires become a positive fire menace!

Consider the additional appliances you are now using, compared with the appliances you had when your wiring was first installed. If you have added appliances without regard to the maximum load the wiring was intended to carry — you are incurring a grave risk of fire, regardless of the condition of the wires.

Bringing your wiring up to date does not necessarily mean a complete re-wiring of your premises.

In your own interest — for the safety of your loved ones — we suggest you consult your local electrician, if you have any doubts as to the adequacy of your wiring, for today's electrical living.

Some birds useful to apple growers

Unlike most birds, which are considered a nuisance by orchardists, two species of woodpeckers are welcomed by apple growers in Nova Scotia.

The northern downy and hairy woodpeckers destroy an average of more than 50 per cent of the codling moth larvae on the trunks of apple trees, studies at the Canada Department of Agriculture's Kentville, N.S., Research Station have shown.

And, points out researcher C. R. MacLellan, the codling moth is one of the most destructive pests in apple orchards and often is difficult to control by chemical means.

Codling moth larvae develop to maturity within the fruit and later spin cocoons beneath the rough bark on the tree trunk, where they spend the winter. Woodpeckers begin to attack the larvae in mid-summer, increase attacks in fall and taper off during winter.

Woodpeckers find the codling moth larvae under the bark by sight and touch. They recognize the cocoon on sight, but more often they tap with their beaks and locate the exact spot by sounding. After finding a larva, the bird either flicks the bark off with its chisel-shaped beak and feeds on the exposed larva, or drills a hole through the bark into the cocoon, withdrawing the larva with its barbed tongue.

Chemistry as production tool

Agricultural production in Canada would only be half what it is today were it not for chemical protection against insects and other pests, says J. R. Miles, Canada Department of Agriculture entomologist at Chatham, Ontario.

Pesticides put in the soil before planting control soil insects or weeds, sprays and dusts protect crops from insect damage throughout the growing season, and fumigants destroy pests that threaten stored food.

Many experiments are conducted to determine the safest and best insecticides and the proper time for application. Chemists determine the amount necessary for insect control, how long it is effective under different weather conditions, and the safe intervals between the last application and harvest.

Some insects, such as the European corn borer, require long-lasting insecticides.

Crops such as asparagus, which are harvested every two or three days, need an insecticide that acts quickly and leaves no residue.

Studies at Chatham show that DDT and DDD may be used safely against the tomato fruit-worm on ripe tomatoes that are to be processed into juice. The insecticide stays on the skins and does not appear in the juice. No residues have been found on kernels of corn from plants treated by the insecticide for control of the European corn borer.

Results of experiments are on control calendars, available to growers for choosing the best and safest materials. Treatments aim at effective control without the risk of residue remaining on the edible portions of the crops at harvest.

The farmer has the responsibility of choosing the best materials and applying them according to recommendations outlined for him.

By this co-operation of manufacturer, scientist and grower, the public is assured of clean, wholesome food.

Junior Bengal Lancers at Ottawa Winter Fair

Patrons attending the Ottawa Winter Fair, October 24-29, will see one of the finest riding acts in the country with the presentation of the Halifax Junior Bengal Lancers.

These boys and girls, ranging in age from 12 to 14, are keen riders and exceptionally skilled in this pastime. At the Winter Fair they will put on their own musical ride and the very difficult tent-pegging events usually associated only with the incomparable R.C.M.P. horse troop.

They will present their show each evening, with a special matinee performance on Saturday afternoon, October 29.

The Bengal Lancers are organized at Halifax as a non-profit riding company. About 15 of the 20 riders will be girls. This isn't because the girls are better riders, but because there are more of these young ladies interested than there are boys.

When farmer reinvests earnings

The more a farmer earns the more he invests in non-residential construction, machinery, equipment and repairs, it appears from a recent study of capital-income expenditure undertaken by the agriculture department's economics division.

In 1935 for instance, net farm income totalled only $237.6 million and capital expenditures amounted to $71.5 million, or 30 per cent of net farm income. In 1958 when net farm income had risen to $1,277 million, capital expenditures rose to $649 million, or half of net farm income.

These ratios indicate that 35 per cent of net farm income during the 1935-58 period and supports the assumption that income is the major factor in determining the size of farm investment. Another factor is, of course, the farmer's ability to channel income into productive investment opportunities.

Ch. Commerce organizes water-source inspection

A "pilgrimage" of 50 townsfolk overcame their misgivings sufficiently to view the source of their daily water supply, in a tour to the waterworks intake on Cottingham's farm last Sunday afternoon organized by the Chamber of Commerce.

The group of men, women and children — representatives of the Chamber of Commerce — the Mayor and two aldermen — Dr. L. Turcotte, county health officer — and Mr. Cottingham — saw at first-hand the rudimentary screen which serves as Lachute's "filtration" device. Some, of course, were acquainted with the conditions at this spot, but to others the impression was far from edifying.

From the very elementary installation serving to filter the town's water, it was remarked among visitors at the intake that it was surprising there are not more impurities than the odd fish which emerges from our taps, also that there are no epidemics affecting our population from this source.

Mr. Cottingham extended a welcome to his property, and Dr. Turcotte commended the Chamber of Commerce on its initiative in bringing this situation to the fore.

Photographs were taken to give visual evidence of conditions at the shack and filter; pictures of the visiting groups appear in this issue, and other photos will be featured as space permits.

Group of townspeople photographed on the farm of W. M. Cottingham, M.P.P., last Sunday afternoon, at the intake of Lachute's water supply. This was the occasion of a tour organized by Lachute Chamber of Commerce, to acquaint residents with the mode of filtration and "purification" at the source of this town's drinking water.

W. M. (Bill) Cottingham extended a welcome to visitors on his farm, during the public inspection of Lachute's water-supply facilities. With Mr. Cottingham here, one may recognize a few Chamber of Commerce members, including Messrs. Gabriel Valois, Antoine Malaket and Guy Lafortune. At the rear, Dr. Eric Mongeon, dentist, also displays an interest in conditions at the water intake.

New parish church takes shape, progress noted at St. Andrews

Construction of the new parish church and presbytery at St. Andrews East is advancing speedily, and it is quite possible the district parishioners will be able to celebrate midnight mass in the basement of the new building, this coming festive season. The parish priest the Rev. Father P. H. Rivest, hopes to be installed in the new residence by the end of November.

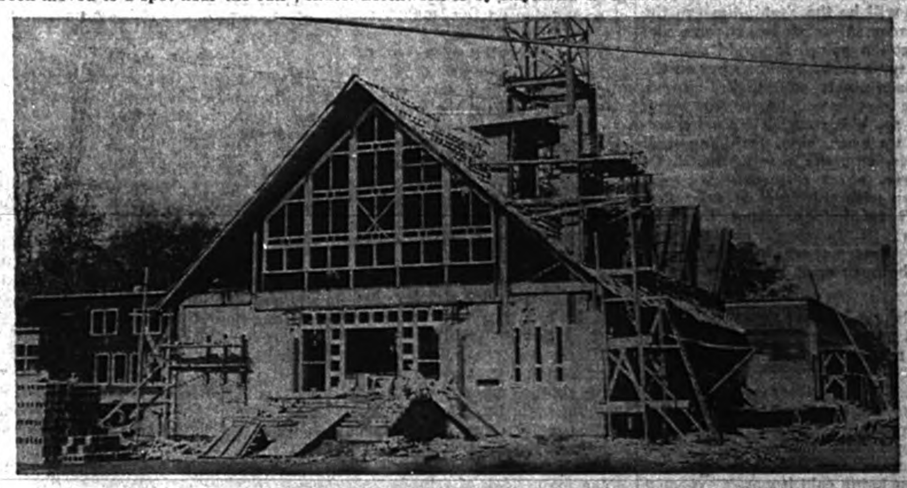

The familiar old edifice of this church, it is recalled, went up in smoke one cold morning in December 1958. Nothing was saved from the conflagration. The old presbytery escaped unharmed; this has been moved to a spot near the railway bridge to make way for a more fitting residence. It is hoped the church will be ready for use by March 1961.

Cost of the church and presbytery will be in the neighborhood of $232,000, and the furnishings will cost another $25,000 or thereabouts.

Architect for the modern-style building is Gilbert Moreau, of Montreal, and the building contract is in the hands of Lebeau Construction, St. Jerome. Certain subcontracts were let to local tradesmen — electric installations by H. S. Church, Lachute; plumbing and heating by Georges Raymond, Lachute. Brickwork is by Raymond & Fils Inc., St. Jerome; plastering by Despatie & Frere, St. Jerome; stonework by Lampron, of Montreal.

Founded in 1822, the Catholic parish of St. Andrews now includes 300 families, or about 1,500 persons. The Rev. Rivest, priest since April 1956, succeeded Canon J. H. A. Dulude who died in March of that year.

Since the church was destroyed by fire, religious devotions have been held in the village school. Each Sunday, assisted by a fellow cleric from the Ste. Croix novitiate, Father Rivest celebrates five masses in winter and six during the summer months.

Cancer workers fill gratifying role – Officers elected at annual meet

The annual meeting of the Canadian Cancer Society, Lachute Branch, was held on Tuesday of last week in the Court House headquarters on Grace Street, with Mrs. W. M. Cottingham presiding.

Significant interest in the work of the Dressing Service was reported by Mrs. C. E. Richardson and Mrs. J. E. Leonard, who expressed appreciation for the many hours of voluntary service given by workers from Lachute, Brownsburg, St. Andrews and Kilmar. Their report, covering a period from September 1959 to September 1960, showed 489 volunteers had worked 1,239 hours to make a grand total of 106,065 cancer dressings of various sizes (January to August 1958 — 132 volunteers worked 335½ hours and made 49,955 dressings).

A special vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. G. E. Ayers to Mr. W. M. Cottingham for the generous contribution of office and workrooms used weekly by members of the Canadian Cancer Society.

Mrs. C. Duncan and Mrs. Mac Walker moved that a letter of thanks be sent to Miss Juliette Rodrigue for her services to the Society.

The president, Mrs. W. M. Cottingham, congratulated the Argenteuil Cancer Campaign Committee headed by Mr. R. Carrière and Mr. W. M. Steeves, and their committees, on surpassing their objective of $4,500 with a grand total of $4,654.34 for 1960.

The annual election of officers for 1960-61 was held, Mrs. J. R. McOuat presenting the slate as follows:

Hon. pres., Mrs. Leonard Ayers; pres., Mrs. W. M. Cottingham; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. Gilbert Ayers; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. Geo. Leggett; 3rd vice-pres., Mrs. F. W. FitzGerald.

Secretary, Mrs. E. M. Jones.

Treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Tattersfield.

Welfare — Mrs. M. Guilbault, Mrs. Richard Ayers, Mrs. W. M. Hooper, Mrs. Leopold Carrière.

Dressing Service — Mrs. C. E. Richardson, Mrs. R. Cairns.

Treasurer for Dressing Service, Mrs. Albert Giles.

Historical Society 26th annual meeting; A. Hanley pres., Dr. R. Rigby speaker

The 26th annual meeting of the Argenteuil Historical Society was held Saturday in the Museum at Carillon.

Mrs. Norman Holland was in the chair and opened the meeting by welcoming the assembled members and guests.

Mrs. L. R. Duncan, corresponding secretary, gave both secretaries' reports — Mrs. R. R. Davidson, recording secretary, being presently in Europe.

Mrs. Horton D. Clark, auditor for the Society, read the report prepared by Mr. L. York, the treasurer. Mrs. A. Graham proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Clark for his assistance in auditing the books of the Society.

Mr. T. Lund, curator, had written an interesting and humorous account of his activities at the Museum, beginning with the difficulties of the spring floods and ending by telling of the success of the bridge-tea. Mr. Lund reported 3,825 visitors to the Museum, an increase of 1,362 over last year. This report was read by Mrs. Graham.

The slate of executive and directors was presented by Mrs. Geo. McGibbon, chairman of the nominating committee. The officers are as follows:

Hon. Pres., Mrs. Norman Holland; pres., A. Hanley; vice-presidents, Mac E. Walker, A. Talbot, Miss A. L. Wales.

Rec. sec., Mrs. H. Watson

Corr. sec., Miss H. Lambert.

Treasurer, L. York.

Richelieu Club and guests at anniversary addressed by eminent heart specialist

The eighth anniversary of the Richelieu Club in Lachute was very fittingly celebrated at the Golf Club last Saturday with a cocktail party, banquet and dance, uniting 150 members, wives and guests in a gala event which also aided the club in its specific undertakings — namely, charity among needy children and development of the Richelieu playground.

Dr. Paul David, director of the Institute of Heart Diseases in Montreal, proved an illuminating speaker on this vital subject. He spoke with clarity and the authority of an expert, on the topic of heart ailments, their diagnosis and treatment.

Dr. David was introduced by a close friend, Judge Georges H. Héon, who renewed acquaintances here after many years' absence. Judge Héon was elected M.P. for Argenteuil-Deux Montagnes in 1938 and was re-elected in 1945; he is now a resident of Montreal. . . . The speaker was thanked in fitting manner by a colleague in the medical fraternity and member of the Richelieu Club, Dr. Marc Papineau, of Lachute.

The function was chaired by Dr. Chas. Roy, dentist, president of the club.

A. Hammond 5th; echoes of recent plowing matches

Allan Hammond, of the Bethany Road, one of Canada's two representatives at the world plowing match held just recently in Rome, is on a brief tour as this item is written, but is expected home today (Wednesday), arriving by plane at Dorval Airport.

Allan placed fifth in the big international plowing match — an achievement deserving high praise, since the competition was very keen. Mr. Hammond's team-mate, Bob Timbers, of Mount Albert, Ont., ranked fourth, in the large class of 29 entrants. England's representative took first-place laurels. Between first and fifth places there were only four points of difference in the scoring.

Montreal — J. A. Lafortune, agronomist for the Quebec Department of Agriculture, said the lands chosen for the Canadian Plowing Championships at Ste. Anne de Bellevue September 30 were the "best available".

Mr. Lafortune, a technical adviser at the match, was commenting on complaints by a British Columbia contestant that the plots were "about the poorest piece of land a man could find."

Joe Saville of Cobble Hill, B.C., also charged the tractors furnished for the match were in poor shape.

Tractors for the match were rented from farmers in the area. Contestants requested the model they preferred, he said, and in every instance "we supplied what they asked for."

(Mr. Saville took part in the Argenteuil County match here, and was second-place winner.)

Field artillery piece handed over to Town -- World War II memento

A brief but impressive ceremony was held at the Memorial Park on Saturday, October 15. A 25-pounder field piece was presented to Branch 70 of the Canadian Legion, by the 131st Battery (Lachute) of the 37th Field Regt. of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Artillery. The Branch in turn handed the gun over to the town.

In the absence of Lt. Col. Malouf, Major Stutt, 2 i/c of the 37th Field Regiment, presented the gun to B. A. Jenkins, president of Legion Branch 70. In his remarks Major Stutt pointed out that a field piece was both a weapon of offence and of defence. It was therefore a very suitable type of memorial. He also drew attention to the fact that this was a Canadian-made gun and would also serve as an excellent reminder of the marvelous work done in the plants and factories by the defence workers.

President Jenkins, in accepting the gun on behalf of Branch 70, referred to the excellent community work that is done by the members of the Legion, and that the Legion will never let the country forget the sacrifices that our war dead made in order that we and our families may live in peace and prosperity. He expressed the thanks of the Legion to Mayor McGibbon and his council, for accepting and installing this gun as a memorial to those who served their country during the second world war — the older guns in the park symbolizing the first world war.

Mayor McGibbon thanked both the Legion and the R.C.A., and assured them that the Memorial Park would continue to be a focus point of the town and surrounding district, as the founders of the park had desired.

The inscription in the gun "handbook" which now rests in the Legion archives at the Memorial Hall, reads as follows:

Presented by the 131 Field Battery (Lachute, P. Que.) of the 37th Field Regiment Royal Regt. of Canadian Artillery 1 25-pr Gun, to Argenteuil 70 Canadian Legion and Presented by Branch 70 to the Town of Lachute, Que., To serve as a memorial of World War II. 15th Oct., 1960

Joining in this parade with the 131st battery and Branch 70 were the local Cadet Corps, the Girl Guides, Boy Scouts and Cubs. Among the distinguished guests present were Mr. J. O. Latour, M.P., Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.P.P., and members of the clergy.

St. Jean Baptiste Societies to meet in diocese conf'ce

The St. Jean Baptiste Societies of the entire St. Jerome Diocese are holding their ninth annual general assembly in Lachute and Ayersville this week-end. The organization numbers several thousand members in all parts of the diocese.

Arthur Villemaire, president of the Ayersville society, will welcome the delegates at 1.30 p.m. on Saturday, and from that hour a comprehensive program of activities will continue until the closing banquet Sunday evening at the Golf Club chalet.

There will be a reception at 8.30 p.m. Sunday, tendered by the Ayersville group; and also in the vein of entertainment, the wives and lady guests will tour Lachute on Sunday afternoon and view a display of local manufactures at the civic building, where they will be guests of the town authorities in the reception hall.

Two boys killed on bicycle

Vankleek Hill, Ont. (CP) — Jean Rock Cadieux, 13, and his 11-year-old brother Robert were killed last Friday when the bicycle they were riding was in collision with a taxi-cab two miles north of Vankleek Hill on Highway 34. The boys were on their way to school when the bicycle was in broadside collision with the car, driven by Lawrence Lacombe, Vankleek Hill.

Meet-the-Teacher program at local Home and School

There was a record attendance at the October meeting of Lachute Home and School Association on Wednesday last, when approximately 120 members were on hand for a "Meet the Teacher" Night. After a short business period under chairmanship of the president, Mrs. John Thorpe, the parents went to the various classrooms to meet the respective teachers, who explained the courses of study and answered questions regarding the curriculum.

The membership committee have been very active, and after contacting most of the parents, have enrolled 250 families, which is a considerable increase over last year. The executive of this Association extends a welcome to any interested person to join.

Due to the fact that school buses can no longer be used for anything but transportation of children to and from school, the Home and School Association will make an effort to have this ruling revoked by the government, as many inter-school competitions, such as drama festivals, hockey, basketball and field days, are affected by this change in policy.

The meeting closed with light refreshments.

75 Blood donors at first clinic in St. Andrews

Owing to a series of unforeseen circumstances, the Red Cross blood donor clinic held for the first time at St. Andrews East proved disappointing — only 75 out of a potential 300 donors attending the clinic.

The generosity of Mr. Antoine Paré in extending the use of the Golf Club premises for this clinic, as well as the co-operation of Mrs. Paré and Golf Club staff, is greatly appreciated.

Mrs. F. A. Hungerbuhler, the organizer, expresses sincere thanks to all who gave their time, and their blood, without whose co-operation the clinic would not have functioned as satisfactorily as it did.

Harrington farmer died in mishap with tractor

Zotique Proulx, a 59-year-old Harrington district farmer, was found dead by the side of the road near his farm, early Monday afternoon. The body was discovered by John Courte, also of Harrington, who notified the local detachment of Provincial Police.

According to the investigating officer, it is believed the victim was headed up a hill on his tractor which for some reason stopped, rolling backwards into a ditch. The victim is believed to have suffered a heart attack, this being attributed as the cause of death.

No inquest will be held into the accident.

Cigarettes seized, not bearing prov'l revenue stamp

Two officers of the Revenue Department of the Province of Quebec searched a restaurant recently at Grenville, where they found and seized several hundred packages of cigarettes.

Under direction of Inspector Joseph Thivierge, the officers raided the Bar-B-Q and seized numerous cigarettes, the packages failing to carry the necessary Province of Quebec revenue stamp. These officers belong to the Department of Excise Tax dealing specifically with tobacco.

Argenteuil Outdoors

— By BOB ATCHISON —

I don't know if it was the opening of the Deer season, or the opening of the Human season, it was tough on everything in the way. I saw seven very small ones going through Lachute on the first weekend (Deer I mean). These are the first crop — the dumb animals which haven't yet learned not to trust us. It would be pretty hard to forecast just how the season is going to end up, but the Deer are going to be very hard to get from now on. Not very much happened during the opening to make us happy. When you hear of all the fatalities among all the supposed hunters, it sounds as though we have a war on our hands. Maybe this will be the shot-in-the-arm the government needs to get some sort of action going. It would seem to me some curb should be put on the indiscriminate selling of firearms. This may sound harsh, but when you see kids running around shooting up everything, including mail boxes, etc., the time is NOW. Of course, a lot of people will not agree with this kind of talk; that can't be helped. What CAN be helped is the stupid and criminal way firearms are handled, be it in the bush or at home.

Fishing has been very good this past week. Sir John is still tops, but not for long now. Last week we had a terrific afternoon on this lake. The weather was not too warm, but the Perch and Bass more than kept us active. Perch were exceptionally big and firm (good eating). As for the Bass, with the water being cold it wasn't expected to get any of these. But get them we did, which only proves just how much anyone knows of the habits of wildlife. Talking to a gentleman who had just finished his last week of vacation, he stated the fishing has been the very best he ever had.

The North River sure has been living up to its reputation as a producer. Some very good Northerns are being taken and released. One thing that makes anyone happy, is to see some of the boys who fish this river consistently tie into something worthwhile. Then to see them release these fish after being beaten, is even more satisfying. Most of these boys live conservation instead of just talking of it. You can bet if they are willing to give up their catch and just retain the memories, then they are sportsmen and deserve to be called such. More power to them.

A lot of talk has been heard about the Lynx around here, and I must say a lot of the talk has claimed there are no Lynx. One acquaintance phoned to tell me that he had seen two of them on the Lakefield road. Another told me of seeing one on the Dunany road. It's great that these very timid animals are being seen — and I think, appreciated. The only reason I can think of to account for their appearance during the day is the shooting going on in the bush — or rather, the young war in progress. Also one of the Moose was seen again. From reports, these animals are not a bit afraid. The man who reported this instance states he was within 100 feet of it before it took off!

Some of the duck shooters had a little luck. A couple of hunters got tired of waiting for the non-existent Ducks and went after Partridge. Some switch, but it paid off. There are a good number of these birds around, even though other parts of the province seem to be in short supply. It's one of Nature's ways of showing us up.

The main flock of Canada Geese have gone through — just four days after seeing the flock of scouts. It was a magnificent sight to see, one that a number of Lachute people also shared. I don't know of anyone taking a shot at them; but that would have been useless, from the height I saw them. The Ducks are not getting any easier to shoot either. The same sad complaint, too far and too few.

Wouldn't it be nice to have Moose in quantity around this County once more. But only if they are left alone will this happen. You know, when we think of all the game that could be around us with very little trouble, it's a wonder we aren't overrun with it. I said with 'very little trouble'; maybe that was a mistake. There is always trouble trying to teach people conservation. Some people do practise it, but others never will. We don't seem to realize that what father used to do is not for us. It isn't a question of going out and getting 20 Deer or a couple of barrels of Trout anymore. This has been the case very often right in our district, and I'm afraid it's still going on in a smaller way. Having the opportunity of really going over this County, I am convinced that the number of law breakers is astounding. It is strange that Fish and Game Laws don't mean a thing to the average person, and when they are caught breaking them, the usual answer is, "So what, there is plenty more." But being plenty is a thing of the past.

I mentioned last week of the White Crowned Sparrow and seeing a couple of them nearby. I have since learned that a lot more of them have been spotted. The way the southern birds are migrating further north every year, is remarkable. We have been very lucky this year in viewing a host of birds not usually seen this way.

It may be that the scientists are right, that our summers are getting warmer all the time, with the result these birds are visiting us more and more.

Here's a story that should be told for the benefit of everyone going into the bush. It seems there was a party of four out-of-town hunters in the area. After splitting up and hunting for awhile, they started heading out to the road — or so two of them thought. This is the rather funny part. These two wandered around all night with out getting out. At daybreak everything was fine. Only a matter of 10 minutes' walk, and they hit a road. In just one hour they were back with the others, who had spent the night in the car. Now get this — not one signal shot had been fired, no fire had been lighted, no one had been notified of their disappearance. In other words, not a thing had been done to try and effect a rescue. As for the two men wandering around all night, they sure were looking for trouble. I know it's easy enough to say "sit tight", but that is the only thing to do under the circumstances. . . . The best thing this group can do is stay out of the bush at all times, then they will be safe.

One final word: Animals do NOT wear colored clothes. Don't take a shot at something unless you know what it is. It's better to be safe than sorry.

thanks of the members to the retiring officers.

At the conclusion of the reports and discussion, Mr. Hanley introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Reginald Rigby, Director of Research at Canadian Refractories Ltd., who gave a most interesting and informative lecture entitled "Our Heritage of Christian Symbolism". Dr. Rigby illustrated his lecture abundantly with pictures taken by himself in Britain, Europe, U.S.A. and Lachute district. He was ably assisted by Mr. Harry Booth as projectionist.

At the conclusion of the address Mrs. George McGibbon expressed the appreciation of all present to Dr. Rigby, and welcomed him as a new member of the board of directors.

The meeting adjourned, and friends and members moved to the lower floor of the Museum, where a splendid tea had been prepared by the ladies of the Women's Missionary Society of the Lachute Presbyterian Church.

St. Andrews East

Mrs. Wm. Green, of Montreal, and Mr. Sydney Cameron, of Adamsville, Que., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. McPhee during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Rodger, of Lachute Road, left Sunday for Virginia. They were accomanied by Miss M. E. Rodger, of Montreal, and Mrs. Ross MacAdam, of Lachute.

Mr. John Bradley, who was a patient in hospital at Hawkesbury, is now recuperating at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bradley, Isle aux Chats.

A number of St. Andrews residents went to Carillon Saturday afternoon to attend the annual meeting of the Historical Society of Argenteuil County.

Mr. Kenneth Rodger left Monday for Macdonald College to enter as a student in Agriculture.

Family Bereaved

Sincere sympathy is expressed to the relatives of the late William Bryson, Chief Petty Officer, R.C.N., who was drowned in Connecticut early Tuesday morning. He was 38 years of age. . . . Full particulars have not been received as this issue goes to press.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford, of Lachine, Que., visited Mrs. A. Gates on Saturday.

With the district Girl Guides

Brownsburg — The first two meetings of the Brownsburg Girl Guides were in the form of hikes. On the first venture the Guides cooked their supper over fires, thus obtaining practice for the next week, when they passed various tests. All of the 2nd Class Guides present passed their Fire test, and several others passed parts of their Hiker and Pioneer badges.

On October 4, the third meeting of the season was the annual "Flying-Up Ceremony", the following Brownies being admitted into the Guides — Katherine Bourne, Ann Lapp, Beverly Billingham, Carolyn Summers, Willina Robitaille, Patsy Low, Sandra Hall, Linda Dixon-Smith and Susan Sugden.

This makes an enrolment of 28 Guides this season. Several Brownies were also enrolled.

There was a good number of parents in attendance, and the occasion was enjoyed by all present.

Brownies

Brown Owl Alfreda Zimmer presented certificates of enrolment to Brownies Karen Camus, Catherine Zimmer, Karen Chalmers, Cheryl Tomalty, Cindy Ball and Noreen Murdoch. These six girls had joined the Pack as "Teenies" several weeks before, and had attained the standard required for acceptance into the Pack.

The following appointments were made to fill vacancies in the Sixes:

Elves — Sixer, Heather Ross. Second, Grace Watchorn.

Pixies — Sixer, Ann Camus. Second, Debbie Campbell.

Leprechaun — Sixer, Layne Cowley. Second, Lorine Murdoch.

Fairies — Sixer, Rosemary Steere. Second, Shirley Wilson.

Kilpies — Sixer, Carol Creswell. Second, Ann Jackson.

The ceremonies closed with the Brownies playing a singing game, and afterwards joining the Girl Guides in "Taps".

Branch 70 Correspondent

"ACTIVE SERVICE YESTERDAY COMMUNITY SERVICE TODAY"

The presentation ceremony of the field gun at the Memorial Park on October 15 has been covered on another page of this paper. Thanks are due to the Legion members (far too few!) who turned out for the parade, and special thanks to the Girl Guides, Boy Scouts, Cubs and Cadet Corps, who all helped with this impressive ceremony. Com. Tom Smith and his committee are to be congratulated on a job well organized and conducted.

Com. Martel reports that the Bingo of last Thursday was very successful. Remember that the jackpot wasn't won, and that it will be bigger and better than ever next month.

The next parade of Branch 70 will be on November 13, when we observe Armistice Day. The Harrington Kilmar Pipe Band will supply the music for this event.

Com. Ken Riley is in charge of the Poppy Campaign this year. He and his committee are organizing the sale of the wreaths and poppies for the district.

Keep the evening of November 12 open for the Armistice Supper. Com. Pres. B. A. Jenkins is arranging for a guest speaker.

Another date to remember is the Hallowe'en dance, which was mentioned in the news letter.

Remember also that the hospital equipment is available for anyone in the district needing it. Also that new members are welcome to the Branch.

Every minute of every day for the past 12 months someone, somewhere, has bought a new Ford Falcon

61 Falcon at your Ford dealer's today

FALCON FORDOR SEDAN—one of Ford of Canada's fine cars . . . built in Canada

Remarkable record for a new car, isn't it? But then, the Falcon is a rather remarkable car.

It has honest room for six, combined with handy size and dimensions that make it terrific for driving in traffic, a pleasure to park. It delivers up to 35 miles to a gallon, with 85 lively horsepower designed for Canadian roads and loads. (There's an optional 101 horsepower engine available in the '61 Falcon if you want even snappier performance.) The Falcon runs so smoothly and quietly you sometimes forget the engine is on. Trunk room is generous, visibility practically unlimited. And as for style, in all modesty, it really is a beauty!

433,440 Falcon owners (one for every minute of every working day) live all around the world. One of them lives in your neighbourhood. Why not have a chat with him yourself?

Worth worrying about – now

CANADA is a free country. It is therefore entirely proper that there should be more than one point of view about imports as about most everything else. So let us here consider the arguments of Canadians who do not share the growing concern being felt on the subject of import competition.

There are those who think that concern about the influx of imports is premature and overdone; and, more importantly, liable to upset those countries which are the principal markets for our exports. Such people, it seems, seriously underestimate both the vital importance of the manufacturing industries and the extent to which many of these labor-intensive industries have already been hit or are being threatened by the swelling volume of imports of a kind made here in Canada.

The source of such imports — whether from the U.S. or the low-wage countries — is immaterial if the effect of their mass consumption by Canadians is to throw thousands of other Canadians out of work, or cause more and more companies to go under and whole industries to contract. There is evidence in plenty that this is indeed what is happening.

The fact that our foreign purchases rose last year by more than $500 million to a near record of $5,538 million, and that no less than 78 per cent of all imports were fully manufactured goods, has certainly contributed to unemployment and been a major factor in limiting job opportunities in Canada this year.

Those who would play down the impact of imports also overlook another all-important point. Namely, that year by year we are spending abroad hundreds of millions of dollars more than we can pay for with our exports. Over the past five years we have over-spent in this way to the incredible tune of $2,631 million.

We have so far been able to continue as we have only because of the willingness of foreign investors to pour funds into this country's development. But the interest burden that we, as a nation, must meet on such foreign investment soared in recent years to the point where the annual servicing of this debt alone now costs us more than $500 million, a standing annual charge on future national earnings.

Against such a background, is it really premature to be concerned over the consequences of excessive consumption of competitive imports? And is it premature to ponder the implications for Canada if we continue in this way?

The answer to these questions is emphatically in the negative. It is neither too soon to worry nor to seek to mend our ways. For if not now — when? . . . When the foreign investor no longer chooses to finance us as he has done in recent years? When the bottom falls out of the ecenomy, taking with it our much vaunted living standards?

Canada is one of the great trading nations of the world. The markets for our major exports — pulp and paper, aluminum, nickel, copper, iron ore, wheat, fish and the rest — are not going to suddenly all dry up and be lost to us, any more than we are suddenly — or for that matter ever — going to be able to get along as a nation without still importing many commodities. . . . Nevertheless, the case for cutting down on our foreign purchases of goods of a kind made in Canada by Canadians, is surely an irresistible one.

When children help children

COUNTLESS Canadian boys and girls are getting ready to follow the example set ten years ago by a few Sunday School pupils who donated their Hallowe'en "treats" of coins to the United Nations Children's Fund. Last fall, despite bad weather in much of the nation, Hallowe'en for UNICEF pennies, nickels and dimes totaled $200,000.

The effort is being promoted in Lachute again this year, through both the English and French schools. Parents are urged, ahead of time, to enlist the enthusiasm of their children in this cause — and householders are reminded once again, there is today a humanitarian note to the celebration of Hallowe'en.

UNICEF's version of a centuries-old tradition offers striking counterparts to the original event. For the pre-historic Celts of Ireland and Scotland, and for the Gallic Druids, October 31 was the harvest festival — and today in this country that date marks an ample harvest of coins which will grow into health-giving medicines and body-builders for as many as possible of the world's needy children who would lead a short, sick and hungry life if they received no help.

Hallowe'en was a day when masks were worn to scare away evil spirits, or hung on trees to propitiate the mythological divinities — and today Canadian children wearing masks help combat the evils of mass disease and malnutrition among other children, and help foster the modern miracles of medical care and food research.

Young Canadians who carry the familiar orange and black carton with the UNICEF label for the first time this Hallowe'en, and those who are getting ready to wear a UNICEF tag once again, feel rightly proud of their participation in history's greatest project carried out by children to help children.

As others see us

WE ARE PRONE enough to berate ourselves concerning our various social habits (or should we say anti-social?), that it is perhaps not out of place to record once in a while the comments which visitors from afar make about us when they return home. In this connection the following letter, which appeared recently in an English provincial newspaper, is quoted by the bulletin "Industry":

"Sir — I have just returned from a month's holiday in Canada. I travelled 1,500 miles by car. I visited Victoria, Ottawa, Niagara Falls, the 1,000 Islands, and Kingston. I spent ten days in Vancouver and two weeks in Toronto, visiting every part of these two cities. I did not see enough litter to fill one dustbin.

"The fine for throwing trash onto the highways is fifty dollars (near £20). Tables and benches are placed along the great roads at suitable spots for picnics, with the inevitable trash-can for rubbish. Rarely does one see a hedge or a wall before a house — just a well-kept lawn free from litter. Canadians are indeed litter-conscious."

— Good to know someone gives us full marks for something!

Viewpoints and perspectives

FARM SECURITY. — While there have been preachments aimed at getting people off the land into employment in cities, it would now appear that such is hardly advisable. While farm income may not be so high it gives far greater security than is available to the hundreds of thousands of unemployed people in Canada today. — Brooks (Alta.) Bulletin

LIQUOR ADS. — The small weekly newspapers in Saskatchewan are having a difficult enough time in their efforts to keep publishing. The added revenue that could and would be available through liquor, wine and beer advertising would, in many cases, mean the difference between the red and the black side of the ledger. — Humboldt (Sask.) Journal

BOOK LEARNING. — It would seem wise to devote all the time necessary to book learning, and use only what is left over for extra-curricular activities. — Stanstead (Que.) Journal

DROP AT FAIRS. — The year 1960 has been an off-year for Western Canadian fairs and exhibitions. It is to be noted that every one of these annual events on both A and B circuits has experienced a loss in attendance from the previous year. — Estevan (Sask.) Mercury

GIRLIE SHOWS. — This community could do without the type of burlesque show operated in connection with the carnival that played the community recently. . . . This particular carnival had been given permission to use the school grounds mainly because the calibre of their show was reasonably good. They lost ground with the introduction of the girlie show. — Atikokan (Ont.) Progress

TOO MANY PEOPLE for far too long have come to accept the notion that state intervention is both desirable and beneficial. — Melfort (Sask.) Journal

THE LACHUTE WATCHMAN

75 YEARS AGO

Friday, October 2, 1885 —

Mr. Alex Riddell is erecting a new residence with a mansard roof on Princess Avenue.

Some malicious person has raised a false report that Mr. John Raitt, tinsmith of this town, and his family have the smallpox. There is no truth in this report.

At Toronto Exhibition four first prizes and a medal were awarded to the Lachute firm of Fish & Ireland, and a letter from the Antwerp Exhibition states that a bronze medal has been awarded for their "National Foods" exhibited there.

Mr. C. S. Burroughs has entered an action in Superior Court at Ste. Scholastique against Joseph Palliser and the proprietors of The Watchman for publication of a letter signed by Mr. Palliser — in which Mr. Burroughs has computed his reputation as a lawyer and landowner was injured to the tune of $15,000.

The great Mammoth paper machine for Mr. J. C. Wilson is being put up this week. Very few people have any idea of the extent and capacity of this business.

During the great thunder storm a new barn and other buildings of Mr. Geo. B. Hooker, Centreville, were burned to the ground.

50 YEARS AGO

Friday, October 7, 1910 —

Those present at the regular meeting of County Council were — M. J. Strong, warden; H. Dixon, Dr. Legault, Messrs. Daw, Black, R. Dobbie and P. Dobbie, councillors. . . . On a motion it was decided to have 15 electric lights installed in the Court House.

Messrs. O. B. Lafleur & Sons have secured the contract for erection of a large government school at Caughnawaga. Robt. McArthur has been awarded the heating and G. Deacon the roofing.

Brownsburg — Our mail is increasingly heavy for our population. The mail-carrier had to arrange for a second rig from Stay nerville on one occasion — there being too many sacks for one load.

A number of young people have banded together as the Lachute Athletic Association, and have rented premises on Main Street. Officers are — President, Melvin Copeland; vice-pres., H. McIntyre; committee, Earl Todd, Alex Pollock, H. Hammond; secretary, Wm. MacKimmie.

St. Andrews — Dr. Robert Simpson of Montreal is building a pretty summer residence on the west bank of the North River.

A Brownsburg branch of the Overseas Club is being formed — an organization recently started by the "Overseas Daily Mail", London.

Mr. William J. Boyd has installed a telephone in his store on Main Street.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, October 3, 1935 —

Mrs. J. B. Cooke, a lifelong resident of St. Andrews district, died recently; she was the first president of Pioneer W.I.

Sir George Perley, honorary colonel of the regiment, laid the cornerstone of the new armoury of the Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars, on Cote des Neiges.

The Young Communists of Russia have an official journal Komsolskaya Pravda, which lately deplored the introduction of the rumba, tango and foxtrot since they are turning their dance halls into "dens of iniquity".

"At the root of every quarrel lies the fallacy of 'divers weights' and 'divers measures'." — Rev. W. B. Rosborough.

Cyclone hits outskirts of town. . . . Photographs in this issue show extreme havoc to the Copeland home and barns. Path of damage in the foothills and Laurentian Mountains.

"Le Progrès de Lachute", new weekly newspaper, makes its bow with extravagant claims as "the biggest, most important and most powerful publicity medium in Lachute". . . . Since the stockmarket crash, the local public is not so gullible as to be misled by loud noises.

At the Historical Society's annual meeting, with Dr. B. N. Wales presiding, Mrs. Archie Graham of Cushing recited one of her own poems, "The Old House", which was a plea to save the old treasures and not destroy them.

A historic old building, the Stone Hall in Cushing, has been purchased by Miss M. Douglas and is being renovated. The Hall served the early Methodists for over 30 years, before being acquired by the Cushing family.

ADMISSION CEREMONY

Winnipeg (CP) — An admission ceremony for new students, tried this fall for the first time, is expected to become an annual feature at the University of Manitoba, officials say. They said the first such event, attended by about 1,000 new students and their parents, was a great success.

OF HEALTH, WEALTH AND HAPPINESS

It is fairly safe to predict that most everybody in Canada wants health, wealth and happiness; and it is equally safe to say that most everybody disagrees to some extent on how those blessings can be achieved.

Often the methods used to obtain wealth certainly do not bring either happiness or health. For example. if our government forced us all at gun point to slave hard for ten to twelve hours per day at assigned jobs, there is very little doubt but that we'd become a powerful and wealthy country — for a time. We would not be happy, however, and our energies and initiative and inventiveness would wither fast. Some nations, at this very moment in history, are doing just that — forcing their people to produce for the State at a tremendous speed in an effort to catch up to us. They have made great progress in some lines; but have fallen far short in others. There are indications that the people have tired under this regimentation and coercion, and some of the governments are now using incentives more like ours to get production out of the citizens. Russia, for example, is rapidly adopting many of our capitalist incentives.

Canada probably has the best system of all. We do not aim for wealth alone. Our governments use persuasion far more than coercion to encourage us to produce. We are not the wealthiest people in the world, but we are a healthy and happy people.

It would be a terrible blunder, in my opinion, if we changed our course and aimed at wealth alone. If our spiritual values — freedom, happiness, self-reliance, etc.—were sacrificed in order to assure wealth, wealth would turn to ashes in our mouths. Fact is, the wealth we did gain in such a manner would not last, because human beings, like race horses, cannot be whipped to the tape too often or the spirit dies.

There is a great deal of talk about economic growth these days. Some economists seem ready to sacrifice almost anything to achieve it. Most Canadians, however, while eager to see economic growth, are far more eager to hold onto the spiritual values which, in the long run, would make such growth a real and lasting thing.

Who had a monopoly of Newfoundland transport?

Sir Robert Gillespie Reid, a Scot who distinguished himself as a bridge builder and railway contractor. Born in 1842, he went to Australia in 1865 where he engaged in gold mining and the construction of public works. In 1871 he arrived in Canada and during the next twenty years built such bridges as the international span at Niagara, the Lachine bridge across the St. Lawrence at Montreal and the Soo bridge at Sault Ste. Marie. He transferred his activities to Newfoundland in 1890 when his firm obtained an important railway-building contract from the Newfoundland Government. By 1896 he had completed the cross-country line from Placentia to Port aux-Basques. A contract made in 1898, but modified by the succeeding government, gave him ownership of most of the island's Crown lands and a virtual monopoly of its transportation and communication systems. Control of the railway, steamships and telegraphs then passed to the Reid Newfoundland Company, incorporated in 1901 with Reid as president and controlled by the Reid family until taken over by the Newfoundland government in 1923. Sir Robert died in 1908 in Montreal.

Grown-ups have only a vague idea how it feels to be a child. Sometimes a flash of insight shows them a glimpse of that country where they used to live, with all its hopes and fears and dreams in such vivid colors. But they can only see a fraction of it.

When one of my little boys proudly gives me a drawing of a deer that he has done for me, with seven legs and an egg-shaped body and a happy smile, I try to imagine what is going through his mind. But I can't catch it.

It's equally hard to imagine how the child feels when he is deeply and wretchedly afraid, having done something he knows to be wrong. My older boy recently broke the handle of my father's landing-net, a thing that can never quite be replaced.

When someone found this piece of trout fisherman's gear hidden in some bushes, and the boy confessed that he had broken it, I felt inclined to spank him.

Then I saw that his face — usually full of mischief — was tense and white with terror. Had I done that — made him so afraid? I told him that I wasn't going to hurt him, but I was sorry that he had broken his grandfather's net, and not told me about it before.

He broke into tears, and said he was going to work around the house and save up his nickels and dimes until he had paid for a new handle. He cried for some time after that. I did my best to imagine how he felt, but it was a long way out of my reach.

Then I got talking to a lady about childhood experiences, and she told me this: —

"I was very absent-minded as a small child. I wasn't trusted to go on errands, in case I lost the money or forgot something. My sister was sent instead.

"Well, my sister was away and my mother just had to have something — I forget what — from town. I was handed two dollars and solemnly told not to lose it . . .

"I don't know what happened. I must have been paralyzed with fear, and my mind must have gone a blank. But somehow I lost that two-dollar bill. When I got to my father, who had a store in town, I had forgotten what I was supposed to fetch as well.

"I told my father that I had lost the money and forgfotten the message. He said he would telephone my mother and find out. He came away from the phone and seemed to pick up something, and he said:

"'Isn't that funny, you must have dropped it just as you came in here.'

"And I was so much relieved, I think I persuaded myself at once that it was true. Some years later I got to know that he had just taken out two dollars of his own to spare my feelings, and I appreciated very much what he had done for me."

"As the lady talked, I thought about the times that I had seen a scared, bewildered look on a child's face. And it occurred to me that I had not often been as understanding as that father who 'found' the $2."

(TO THE EDITOR)

R.R. 7, Lachute, Que.
October 17, 1960.

Editor, The Watchman.

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Lachute Women's Institute we are again collecting for UNICEF, United Nations Children's Fund, on Monday, October 31, 1960. This is a completely voluntary participation and based on sharing with other less-fortunate children of the world.

Last year many organizations in the outlying districts of Lachute collected and contributed generously towards this effort.

Once again we ask those organizations interested in this worthy cause to contact me at LO 2-6255 to obtain official boxes and pamphlets.

Thanking you in advance,

Sincerely,
Mary McOuat

O'BRIEN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Davis O'Brien, who passed away Oct. 24, 1959. — Always remembered by his wife, Allie, and family.

KELLY — In loving memory of our dear mother (Minnie), who passed away Oct. 21, 1950. — Always remembered by her family.

"Please God, forgive a silent tear,
A fervent wish our Mum was here;
There are others, yes, we know,
But she was ours and we loved her so.
Dear God take a message
To dear Mum in heaven above,
Tell her how much we miss her,
And give her all our love."

MacLEOD — In loving memory of dear Mother, Hannah Andrews, who passed away Oct. 18, 1949. — Always remembered by the family.

"You left us suddenly,
Your last thoughts unknown,
But you left us with memories
We are proud to own.
God saw you getting weary,
He did what He thought best,
He put His arms around you,
And whispered, 'Come and rest'."

MacRAE — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Windsor, who was called away suddenly Oct. 25, 1959. — Always remembered by his daughter, Viola, son-in-law, George, and grandchildren.

"One year has passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away;
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still."

MacRAE — In loving memory of a dear brother, Windsor, who passed away Oct. 25, 1959. — Always remembered by his sister, Lottie, and brother-in-law, Tom.

"Deep in our hearts you will always stay, Loved and remembered every day."

WOOD (Mary) — In loving memory of a dear Mother, who went to rest October 21, 1958. — Lovingly remembered, the Family.

"A mother who gave us the best of her life,
Who cherished our secrets, our sorrows, our strife;
Who taught us to love and taught us to pray,
Dear mother in heaven, God bless you today.
Your life was unselfish, for others you lived,
Not for what you received, but for what you could give.
Just a loving thought, just a silent tear,
A beautiful memory of a mother so dear.
Dear God take a message to our mother above,
Tell her how much we miss her, and give her all our love."

Arundel

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Keuster were Mr. and Mrs. H. Tremblay and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Krueger, and Mr. and Mrs. Trimmermans, of Montreal.

Holiday week-end guests at Mrs. Alvin Graham's were the Misses Margaret and Beverley and Mr. Earle Graham, Mr. and Mrs. W. Houston, and Mr. R. Toeppner, of Montreal.

Holiday week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Rathwell were Mr. and Mrs. I. Rathwell, of Low, Que., Mr. and Mrs. K. Rathwell, Mr. and Mrs. M. Rathwell, and Mr. Owen Rathwell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott had as their holiday guests Mr. and Mrs. L. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Lyseck, of Coulonge, Que., Mr. and Mrs. A. Barker, of Lachute.

Mrs. C. Oulton and daughter spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. MacArthur.

The Woman's Association of the United Church held the regular monthly meeting last Wednesday evening, with the president, Mrs. H. Johnston, in charge. Routine business was dealt with, the highlight being the splendid result of the rummage sale, which yielded the sum of nearly $200; this will be held for special work of the church. Guests were Mrs. Carpentier and Mrs. Parker, of Mont Tremblant, Que. The devotional exercises were taken by Mrs. Gibbons and Mrs. Farran. Serving the refreshments were Mrs. E. Gray, Mrs. W. McMahon and Mrs. Harold McMahon, hostesses.

Women's Institute

The Women's Institute held its monthly meeting last week, the chair being taken by Mrs. Gordon Cooke, in the absence of the president. Members of the Jerusalem-Bethany branch were welcomed and warmly greeted by the chairman, who called upon the County president, Mrs. S. Doig, to address the members. Mrs. Foster Campbell, the convener for Home Economics, requested the members to send in to her any new ideas they might have for the W.I. booth at Lachute Fair. Routine business being dealt with, the meeting was turned over to the vice-presidents, Mrs. P. Staniforth and Mrs. H. Johnston, who were in charge of the program. This was held in the auditorium, where the ladies of Arundel Branch modeled hats made out of articles usually found in the kitchen; the creations were both weird and wonderful, and created many a laugh. This being "Grandmothers' Night", all the grandmothers were called upon and congratulated. The meeting was brought to a close by a bountiful repast.

Weir

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Loudin were Mr. and Mrs. Wray Knight and son, Graeme, of St. Johns, Que., Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Staniforth, daughter Janet and son Bobby, of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. J. Champagne and Mrs. F. Champagne, of Arundel.

Mr. Clifford Larose, of Montreal, visited at the home of his mother, Mrs. P. Larose, on Sunday.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Craig were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Craig and son, John, Mrs. R. G. Bowie and daughter, Carole, all of Montreal.

Mrs. W. Dubeau spent the past week in Montreal, visiting friends.

Mrs. G. Heneault, of Montreal, and Mrs. Oliver Lane, of Dorval, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kerr.

Mrs. Wm. Owen, accompanied by Mrs. R. Lawrence, of Montreal, paid a short visit to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Beaven, in Lachute last Sunday.

Late Alex David was formerly storekeeper here

Funeral service was held at the Syrian Orthodox Church on Jean Talon Street last Wednesday afternoon for Alexander Michael Courey David, 58, who died at St. Mary's Hospital following a lengthy illness.

The owner of Hilda's Dress and Beauty Shop in Ville St. Laurent, Mr. David was born in Rashaya, Lebanon, and prior to his moving to Montreal he owned several business establishments in Ste. Agathe, Lachute, St. Jerome, and Windsor, Ont.

Mr. David was a member of Laurentian Chapter, the IOOF of Lachute, and the Montreal Eastern Star, Chapter No. 20.

Some 30 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. David operated a clothing store on Main Street, Lachute, in the premises now occupied by Dr. M. Papineau, and during their stay here they made many friends.

He is survived by his wife, the former Marguerite Anber; his sons, Robert and Michael; two daughters, Grace (Mrs. Gordon Battah) and Sandra, and one grandchild.

Burial was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

A well-known resident mourned at Harrington

The late Murdoch McRae

On Thursday, October 13, after a lengthy illness, the death occurred of Murdoch McRae, in his 82nd year. The late Mr. McRae was well known in the vicinity, having been an employee of C.I.P. for over 30 years.

Left to mourn his passing are two brothers, Rory and Addison, and one sister, Sarah, all residing in Harrington.

The funeral was held from his late residence, conducted by the Rev. G. W. Bruce, of Brownsburg.

The hymns sung were "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Jesus, Keep me Near the Cross".

The pall-bearers were — Messrs. Robert Hadley, George Corbett, Charles Downing, Borden McCullough, Thomas Jackson and Earl McRae. The remains were laid to rest in the Harrington cemetery.

Lachute couple celebrate their golden wedding

To mark the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson were "at home" to their relatives and friends during the afternoon and evening of Saturday, October 8, at the residence of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smith, Vide Sac.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson (the former Gertrude Mary Kettyle) were married October 5, 1910, at the Kettyle farm, Bethany Road. The Rev. B. B. Brown officiated. The organist was Mrs. Edna Tutthill (the former Edna Pratt), cousin of the bride. Both the Rev. Brown and Mrs. Tutthill were present at Saturday's gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson retired from their farm in Lachute East 15 years ago, and have since resided in Lachute. They have three daughters, two sons, six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

A family dinner and presentation had been held some time prior to this date.

Guests from a distance attending Saturday's "at home" included — Mr. and Mrs. George Munson and family, Peterborough, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson, Kemptville, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Barclay, Smiths Falls, Ont.; Miss Margaret Barclay, Miss Cheryl Robinson, Sudbury, Ont.; Mrs. George White, Renfrew, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Alec Barclay, Vankleek Hill, Ont.; Mrs. Edna Tutthill, Elyria, Ohio;

Miss Grace Smith, Quebec City; the Rev. B. B. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Goodfellow, Mrs. Doris Townsend, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Brown, Mount Royal; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Minchall, Pointe Claire; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wight, St. Laurent; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Scanlon, Dorion, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Barclay, Pointe Fortune, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. Burt Rankin, Huntingdon, Que.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. S. Loven, of Vancouver, B.C., Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Whitrod, the Misses Caroline and Elizabeth Hunter, of Outremont, and Miss Marilyn McGruer, of Saint Laurent, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hopkins and Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nicoll Feted on Anniversary

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nicoll on Thursday evening last, when members of the Jones family gathered to celebrate the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Stewart Jones was master of ceremonies and recalled incidents of their past. Randy Jones presented them with flowers, and they were also the recipients of an electric fry-pan and Dutch oven.

Movie pictures of different family gatherings during the summer were shown by Mr. Albert Blute. Dainty refreshments were then served, bringing a very enjoyable evening to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. George MacNeil and family, of Toronto, spent the Thanksgiving week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morrison.

Party Held for Couple On their Silver Wedding

An impromptu party was held October 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Silverson, tendered by relatives and friends to honor them on their 25th wedding anniversary. On presenting the couple with a set of lamps to mark the happy occasion, Mr. Norman Reside, a nephew, wished them good fortune and continued health and happiness, as spokesman for those present and also on behalf of the many friends not present.

(Such was his surprise on seeing the automobiles in his driveway, that Mr. Silverson called to his wife: "Come, see a car with about fifty headlights!")

An evening of singing and dancing was enjoyed by all in attendance.

Hospital veterans entertained by Legion Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Legion Branch 70, Lachute, entertained patients from Ste. Anne's Military Hospital on Monday evening last. The guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. W. Bradshaw, and other members of the Auxiliary.

During the course of the evening, bingo was played and the guests joined in a sing-song, which was much enjoyed by all present. Mr. Henri Lecorre of Lachute was in attendance and warmly welcomed by the gathering.

Thanks of the ladies are extended to the senior branch for their co-operation and help in this effort, with special mention to Messrs. Ken Riley, Doug Ogilvie, Jim Duncan and Sam Bradshaw.

Refreshments were served, and the guests departed by bus after expressing their thanks for an enjoyable visit.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

McRAE — The family of the late Murdoch McRae wish to express their thanks and appreciation for visits, floral offerings and the many acts of kindness shown them in their recent bereavement.

Gideons Intern'l held Zone rally here recently

The Quebec Gideon camps met in the Lachute Baptist Church on Saturday, October 8.

The meeting opened at 2 p.m. The retiring Zone leader, Mr. W. Gardiner, presided at the afternoon session.

The devotional speaker was the Rev. L. Hisey, pastor of the Lachute and Dalesville Baptist Churches. The theme of Rev. Hisey's message was, "The Word".

Dr. Arthur Hill, of Sherbrooke, Que., and Mr. Leonard Crimp, of Leamington, Ont. (vice-president of the H. J. Heinz Co.), addressed the meeting. Dr. Hill and Mr. Crimp are Dominion trustees of the Gideon organization.

Also present was Mr. George H. Snudden, from Moncton, N.B., Mr. Snudden is Eastern field secretary.

Mr. Brodie Brittian, of Ormstown, Que., was elected as Zone leader for the next four years.

The Ladies' Auxiliary also met in the afternoon. Mrs. Stanley Forbes, of Vankleek Hill, president of local auxiliary, chaired the meeting, and Miss M. MacKinnon, guest speaker, spoke on "Prayer and Devotion."

Sixty-four persons attended the evening banquet. These were Gideons and their friends. The president of the local camp, Mr. Lawrence Tomalty, was banquet chairman.

The guest speaker on this occasion was Mr. Leonard Crimp. Mr. Crimp is in charge of the Foreign Extension work; he presented a report on this work.

Mr. Crimp is going to India in January 1961 to form Gideon camps for the distribution of Bibles and Testaments.

The couple will reside in Verdun. — Photo, Syd Drew

'Pound Day' Oct. 29 at Children's Home

Plans are in progress for the annual Pound Day at the Orange and Protestant Children's Home, Rosemere, Que.

Each year this day is set aside, when all members and interested friends meet at the home. It is the earnest wish of the Board and Directors that all will make a special effort to attend and bring along their donations of canned goods, vegetables, etc., which will be greatly appreciated.

Anyone wishing to contribute and unable to attend, may phone LO 2-5696, and arrangements will be made to have their donations picked up and delivered to the Home.

School for Retarded resumes classes

The School for Retarded Children has started classes in the hall of the Presbyterian Church, with a regular teacher and helpers for each morning session.

The local Association for Retarded Children would like to form a Women's Auxiliary in connection with this enterprise. All women's organizations will be contacted in the near future, in the hope that they may be able to help carry on this very worthwhile project.

Others who are interested are asked to contact either the secretary, Mrs. R. Cairns, or Mrs. G. Leggett.

Drivers' permits

The mobile unit for issuance of new driving permits will be stationed at the Court House on October 26. Those wishing to apply and undergo driving tests, should present themselves at this time and place. The staff will be on duty commencing 9 a.m.

BELL LINES

by Bill Flanigan your telephone manager

A young home maker had put a load of towels into her drier when the phone rang. She picked up the call on her laundry extension. While talking, she noticed that there was something peculiar in the last batch of laundry. She had only white towels and here was something jet black whirling around and around in the drier. She quickly finished her call, stopped the drier and emptied it. There amidst the towels was the family cat, angry, hot and dizzy but none the worse for its ride. If the housewife had had to go upstairs to answer the call, it probably would have been a different story. Even with nine lives, it's doubtful if any cat could stand a lengthy trip in such an overheated merry-go-round. It's a reason for having an extension which we hadn't thought of.

Do you have friends or relatives in distant cities — folks you haven't seen or heard from for some time? Of course, we all have. Sometimes we write, but somehow this does not make the distance seem shorter. How nice it would be to chat with them and hear their warm, friendly voices again. Here's where the telephone can make the distance melt away and give you the feeling of being with them. A visit by Long Distance gives so much for so little. Take a look at the rates on the inside front cover of your telephone directory and see for yourself. Remember, after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday rates are lower. Keep in touch by Long Distance . . . it's quick, it's personal and it's satisfying.

Every year we hear of tragic hunting accidents which mar the reputation of this excellent sport. The other day we came across some words of advice which might be well worth repeating here. "Keep your shooting controlled by a hill or other back stop! A 30-06 is dangerous up to three miles. Identify your game before you shoot! Match shot and shell with your gun! Keep the barrel clean and free of mud, snow and other obstructions. Allow only empty guns in cars, trucks, boats, camps and homes! And make sure the safety catch is on! Never leave a loaded gun unattended! Never climb trees, fences or cliffs with a loaded gun! Carry your gun so you control the muzzle at all times, in case you stumble. Don't mix hunting and alcohol! Wear brightly-colored clothing." May we also remind you not to fire in the direction of wire and cables, glass insulators, or microwave towers. Your carefulness in this regard will help to protect services that are vital to you and to people you know. Enjoy happy, safe hunting this season.

One of our women employees in a suburban area of Montreal was awakened by a prowler one night recently. She quickly flicked on all lights in her home to frighten the intruder away, and then called the police. The kindly cop told her that if she were disturbed again she should leave all the lights out and call the station immediately. . . . "You do have an extension, don't you?" he queried. "Yes," was the reply. "Well, just pick up your new Princess — it lights up for you — and call us. — You DO have a Princess, of course?" "Well, no," was the reply. "My, that's too bad," concluded the policeman sadly. . . . Evidently our lovely new Princess extension telephone has admirers in the police department.

MORE PROOF... IT PAYS TO FEED PURINA

Ken Saunders and his son Tom depend upon milk for most of their income. Their Purina Dealer is Hunter's Farm Supply, Hagersville.

"YOU CAN'T ARGUE WITH THE FACTS!"

30,678 lbs. More Milk in First Year on PURINA

In the 12 months November 1957-October 1958, the 25-cow Ayrshire herd owned by Ken and Tom Saunders of Nanticoke, Ont., produced 213,242 lbs. of milk.

In October 1958 their milking ration was changed to Purina Cow Chow and grain. And in the next 12 months the same cows produced 243,920 lbs. — an increase of 30,678 lbs.

"You can't argue with the facts," says Mr. Saunders, the senior partner. "The feed — Purina — did make the difference. Both our hay and pasture were better in the previous year — 1959 was a really 'rough' year for pasture around here — and still our cows milked better."

Record of Performance figures show that the Saunders' herd's "BCA" rose by 15% for milk, 18% for fat.

Results like these, traceable directly to feeding, should interest any dairyman! Talk over the Purina Programme with us and get the facts!

United Nations Day

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"If you see the picture of the U.N. flag in the newspaper, mother, keep it for me. I want it for my Current Events scrapbook. The teacher says that everybody should know this flag and what the U.N. is doing."

"Perhaps we could send away for a copy of that light blue flag with its white polar world surrounded by twin olive branches."

"That would be tops. Then I could paste it on the cover!"

The name "United Nations" began to be used during World War II. The common dangers and hardships of a war tend to bind allies together. The "U.N." title signified the hope that the people fighting together for freedom would be united in building a peaceful world. In April of 1945 when victory seemed sure, fourteen hundred delegates from forty-six countries met in San Francisco for a conference on international organization. On June 26, 1945, this gathering adopted the charter of the United Nations.

On U.N. Day, October 24, we remind ourselves and our boys and girls that the first and foremost aim of the United Nations is to Keep the Peace! But another important goal is to develop international co-operation in economic, cultural, social and humanitarian problems. By its charter it also tries to forward regard for human rights and the fundamental freedom of all. The task of the U.N. is to "develop friendly relations among nations based on respect for the principles of equal rights and self-determination of peoples".

The U.N. differs from the League of Nations in that the great powers have membership in it and the majority of small nations too. The United States never joined the League of Nations and Russia was a member for only a short time. The formation of the U.N. has not abolished the threat of global war. But it does provide the meeting ground for the discussion of problems and want and ignorance which contribute to suffering and warfare on a "large scale."

At school our children may learn about the work of the U.N. carried on by five agencies: the General Assembly; the Security Council made up of six members from the General Assembly and the permanent "Big Five"—China, France, Great Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States; and the Economic and Social Council; the Trusteeship Council and the Secretariat. One of the best investments a family can make is a membership in the United Nations Association in Canada. Then literature of the U.N. will come regularly into the home.

There are three books for boys and girls handled by McGraw-Hill Publishing Company of Canada which deserve warm commendation. Do ask to see them at the Public Library and if at all possible plan to buy one of these books for your family bookshelf. For young children there is "A Garden We Planted Together" prepared by the United Nations Department of Information. "A Fair World For All" by Dorothy Canfield Fisher explains the Universal Declaration of Human Rights for older boys and girls. There are many fascinating tales in Legends of the United Nations by Frances Frost.

Books and newspaper accounts of people and events in other parts of the world and special U.N. radio broadcasts can form the basis for a good family discussion on the United Nations.

Your older school age child should be proud of the contribution Canada has made to world peace.

Be prepared to explain to your children that the United Nations in its present form is not without faults and weaknesses — but these are inevitable in the kind of competitive world in which we live! Try to point out to them some of the difficulties in finding a pattern for peace in the Far East. Show them that the North Atlantic Pact is not an enemy to the U.N., but a necessary form of protection for freedom-loving, democratic nations.

"Rome was not built in a day" and it may take many decades before the United Nations becomes a more perfect instrument for maintaining world peace. In the meantime be sure your children know something of the thrilling stories of the U.N. fighting the underlying causes of war and misery — hunger, disease and ignorance. The United Nations needs your support and you need the United Nations in a world in which you hope to raise your children to maturity!

HONEST FINDER

Ottawa (C — William Hanna of Ottawa almost lost $60 when he spotted a phony parking ticket on the windshield of his car. He placed his satchel containing the money on the sidewalk to remove the ticket and then drove off. The money was returned to him by Mrs. Edna Hamilton of Hull, who traced him through The Citizen.

October is Cheese Month

This year Canada is celebrating the eleventh time in which October has been named National Cheese Festival Month.

Attractive, tangy, nutritious and wonderfully aromatic are the many varieties of Canadian cheese on the market. Here in a country with a high production of this staple food and in these days of rising food costs, cheese is being used more and more as a basic food. Cheese has long been recognized for its high food value and "Canada's Food Rules" list it as a "must" in weekly diets.

With imagination and planning, you can incorporate cheese into every meal. For breakfast try a cheese omelet or scrambled eggs with cheese. For lunch serve macaroni and cheese or grilled cheese sandwiches — always favorites with the younger set. Make a cheese sauce to serve over vegetables or a casserole with a cheese topping for easy-to-prepare supper dishes. Mix cheese cubes in a tossed salad for added color and tangy goodness. And for dessert, what could be better than a piece of apple pie topped with a thin slice of Cheddar cheese!

Did You Know That:

— 3 Ounces of cheese provide about the same amount of protein as a 3 ounce serving of meat.

— Besides body building protein, cheese has other food values, being particularly high in vitamin A and essential minerals.

— Cheese becomes stringy and rubbery when cooked over high heat. To avoid this, melt cheese in a double boiler rather than over direct heat. When melted, cheese is cooked.

— Mould which may develop in natural cheese is not harmful. Just cut it off and use the cheese beneath.

— ¼ Pound of cheese equals 1 cup grated.

The Consumer Section has prepared a booklet called "Cheese Dishes" containing suggestions and recipes for using cheese. This booklet is available free of charge by writing to the Information Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Let's Eat

BY IDA BAILEY ALLEN

MONDAY DINNER

Stuffed Tomato Saladettes
Veal Pot Roast Vinaigrette
Parslied Potatoes
Green Peas and Baby Carrots
Lemon Snow with Chilled Crushed Pineapple
Coffee or Tea Milk

Measurements are level; recipes for 6 to 8

Veal Pot Roast Vinaigrette: Dust 3 to 4 lbs. boned breast of veal inside and out with 2 tsp. monosodium glutamate, 2 tsp. salt and ¼ tsp. pepper.

Fill pocket in veal with ¾ c. minced parsley, ¼ c. minced onion and 1 crushed section garlic. Fasten with picks or skewers; lace with clean white string.

Place in heavy kettle.

Add 1 thin-sliced peeled carrot and 2 tsp. beef bouillon powder. Pour in boiling water to ¼ height of meat. Cover.

Simmer 2 to 2½ hrs. or until fork-tender.

To serve, slice meat and pour over hot vinaigrette sauce.

Accompany with parslied white potatoes and sliced turnips.

Lemon Snow: In double-quick time by this new method: Dissolve 1 pkg. (3-oz.) lemon-flavored gelatin in 1 c. boiling apple juice; add 1 tsp. lemon juice and 10 ice cubes.

Stir constantly 2 to 3 min., or until gelatin starts to thicken.

Remove any unmelted ice cubes and save; let gelatin stand 5 min.

Place dish containing gelatin mixture in large bowl. Surround dish with cold water and unmelted ice cubes.

Add 1 egg white to gelatin. Whip with egg beater until fluffy and thick. Swirl lightly into serving bowl. Refrigerate until firm.

Decorate with cubed candied ginger and drained canned crushed pineapple.

Chilled pineapple or custard sauce, the accompaniment.

Teatime Topics

Specially Written for The Lachute Watchman By Edna Blakely, Canadian Press Staff Writer

If you are among the families who feature turkey more than occasionally on the menu, you will be interested in new ways to serve the leftovers.

A nice way to use up turkey is to stuff and bake vegetables with a turkey filling. Green peppers, hollowed tomatoes, egg plant and vegetable marrow can all be used.

Cut the tops from six well-shaped green peppers and remove the seeds and white pithy ribs. Parboil for two to three minutes in boiling salted water.

Drain and fill with a turkey mixture made by combining two cups chopped cooked turkey, one cup cooked rice, 1 tbsp. minced onion and one beaten egg. Season the mixture to taste with salt and pepper and add additional herbs or spices if desired. Top each stuffed pepper with fine bread crumbs and dot with butter and a sprinkling of paprika.

Set upright in a pan containing about ½ inch of hot water. Bake in moderately hot oven of 325 degrees until the pepper shells are fork tender, about 25 minutes.

Sterilizing Soil

Those pots in the oven may not contain food. Soil for house plants can be sterilized quite easily in the kitchen by placing a pan of moist soil in a 200-degree oven for at least half an hour.

If you prefer to do your work outdoors, place six inches of soil on a metal sheet. Heat over a fire, stirring frequently so that the bottom layer won't burn.

A third method suggested by horticulturalist H. Bailey of Ontario's agriculture department is known as the hot water method. Pour enough boiling water through the soil to heat it to 170 to 200 degrees. Drain to the right moisture content before using. If the soil just holds together when you squeeze it, you have the right moisture content for potting. The sterilization provides protection for plants against many diseases.

A good soil mixture can be made by mixing seven parts compost or good garden soil, two parts organic matter (well-rotted leafmold or peat), one part well-rotted manure and two parts building sand. The experts advise adding about half a four-inch pot of superphosphate to every bushel that you prepare. If the soil is low in fertility, add one-quarter of a four-inch pot of complete fertilizer and the same amount of superphosphate for each bushel. Mix well.

Teaching Manners

One group of delegates at the Canadian Conference on Children at Ste. Adele, Que., decided schools have been forced into taking more than their share of responsibility. An example, they said, was the school teaching manners to children who should have learned them at home.

Study groups concluded that the best place for children was in their own home even if the home was not equipped with the appliances which have now become status symbols. Warmth and affection were the requisites of a home, they said.

Local effort for UNICEF Hallowe'en

From the original venture of a small Sunday School class in 1950, there has grown the wholehearted participation of well over two hundred thousand boys and girls in more than 1,500 Canadian communities, in the world's greatest and most heartwarming effort by children to help children.

The UNICEF Hallowe'en campaign is sponsored here by the Women's Institute. Assisting will be Mrs. Gordon McOuat to promote the idea among English-speaking school children, and Mrs. Roger Gravel enlisting support through the French-language schools.

For 1961-the Classic Ford Look

GALAXIE TOWN SEDAN—one of Ford of Canada's fine cars... built in Canada.

Best of the breed makes it carefree

You'll thrill to the pleasure of a real winner when you try the carefree 1961 Ford. Although '61 Fords are shorter and narrower outside than last year, they still have every bit as much on the inside where it counts. Rewarding to own and a pleasure to drive . . . that's the promise of the carefree '61 Ford at your dealer's now.

Here is why '61 Ford is Canada's First Carefree Car.

Lubricates itself—Your new Ford will normally go 30,000 carefree miles without chassis lubrication.

Cleans its own oil—The unusually thorough oil filtering system gives up to 4,000 carefree miles between oil changes.

Adjusts its own brakes—The new, carefree brakes automatically adjust themselves for wear.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion.

Guards its own muffler—Carefree Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized to normally last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Takes care of its own finish—Carefree Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing.

(Certain features illustrated are optional at extra cost.)

Put your money on a winner.

Trinity Church

At Trinity Anglican Church on Sunday morning the guest speaker was the Rev. Donald H. MacLennan, of Hamilton, Ont. The church was filled to capacity, and the 21-member choir led the singing of the Thanksgiving hymns, assisted by a group from the Koinonia Fellowship, Montreal.

At St. Francis, St. Sauveur

At Saint Francis' Church, confirmation was administered by the Rt. Rev. John Dixon, Bishop of Montreal. Many of the congregation were unable to find room in the church. The candidates were presented by the rector.

The rector also baptized nine children.

The church was beautifully decorated for the celebration of Harvest Thanksgiving. Following the service, a magnificent cake, marking the rector's 10th anniversary in the parish, was cut in the church hall, with everyone enjoying refreshments.

The grounds surrounding the Church of Saint Francis have been greatly improved by landscaping, and paving of a large parking area, which can easily handle 60 cars. Several hundred feet of cedar hedge have been added, and shrubbery planted in front of the main hall.

Cushing

Mrs. J. Brown and family, of Cote St. Luc, were guests of Mrs. L. R. McGain the earlier part of the week, returning to Montreal on Wednesday and taking Mrs. McGain to spend a few days with her.

Guests of Mrs. Archie Graham and son, Allan, on Monday night were Mr. and Mrs. John R. Graham with their son and daughter, Shirley, of Monalea Road. Evening callers on Friday were Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, of Lachute, accompanied by Mr. Heydon.

Guests at Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Elliott's on Sunday were Miss Enid Robertson, of Montreal, also Master Raymond Coney, of Montreal East, who was spending his birthday week-end with his mother, Mrs. Jas. Coney, at "Stonehaven". Mrs. Coney was a guest at the Elliott home also. . . . We wish Raymond many happy returns of his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Drew, who have just returned from a Gaspé holiday, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Canning over the week-end.

Mr. Gerald K. Cushing and Mrs. Cushing, were in residence at "Millside Cottage" over the week-end.

Mr. H. Bailey has returned from several weeks' stay at Frobisher Bay — to the pleasure of his many friends. Miss Florence Holmes, of Montreal, was a week-end guest at the Bailey home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Buzzell, of Montreal West, were at "Woodbine Cottage" for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thom are spending several weeks at the home of their son, Mr. Robert Thom, in Montreal.

Local transport held roadeo eliminations

The drivers, seen holding their awards and prizes, are attached to four different terminals of Boyd's Express, namely, Lachute, Masson, St. Jerome and Montreal. To qualify for the Provincial Roadeo it is also required that each entrant have an accident-free record for a period of one year. The Dominion contests climaxing the various provincial roadeos will be held in Toronto sometime in November. The company's time-honored slogan, "Ship the Safe Way", is partly visible on the transport above.

Group discussion type of program at Grenville H. & S.

The last meeting of the Grenville District Home and School Association was a very successful one, with a turnout of over 70 people.

A novel way of group discussion was introduced by Mr. William T. Bray, Program chairman. Four subjects, all dealing with school problems, were thoroughly discussed by group leaders, Mrs. Willis Crooks, Mrs. C. G. Foreman, Mrs. S. Capyk, the Rev. P. R. Stote, Mr. Alfons Ozers, Mr. Lloyd Thomas, Mr. Jeffrey Arnold and Mr. Len Madden — each having a group of parents, and also a teacher to give their ideas from a teacher's point of view.

Refreshments were served as the discussions got under way, and each of the four subjects was given a thorough going-over for about 15 minutes. Group leaders were asked to present the findings on each subject. The conclusion on all four subjects will be gone over by Mr. Bray and Mr. Piprell, and a brief on each group report will be sent to each leader. This is to give the group leaders time to correct any wrong impression understood by the program directors. The total sum of all findings will be given at the next general meeting, October 26.

At this meeting Mr. Leslie Kerr introduced the following new staff members — Miss M. Annear, Grade 6; Miss Sleep, Grade 9; Miss V. Grant, Grade 10. Mrs. John Herbst is also back for three days a week for Science and Mathematics in the High School grades.

It is hoped that this open discussion-group type of program will be of assistance to teachers, parents and students.

The Association takes this opportunity to thank new members, and hopes to see more at the next general meeting; as the chairman, Mr. T. H. Harries pointed out, there is "Unity in Strength".

Cushing

(Intended for last issue)

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Cushing and daughter, Sherrie, of Montreal, occupied "Millside Cottage" over the long week-end. Mr. Roy Coghill was also in residence at "The Mill".

Mrs. S. H. Beecher, of Montreal, visited her Cushing home, "Lilac Lodge", accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. L. Maw, Mrs. Geo. Layton and Miss Alice Eadie.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Burton and sons, with Mrs Burton, Sr., were at their Cushing home over the long week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson and son occupied their riverside cottage for the Thanksgiving holiday and week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hollingworth and family were guests of Mrs. L. R. McGain for the Thanksgiving week-end.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Moore and boys visited their cottage here, also called at the Graham home.

Mrs. L. R. McGain, of "Tynwald" has presented St. Mungo's Church with a lovely altar cloth in deep red bearing the emblem of the United Church. This will be placed on the high pulpit, and was accepted by the Rev. K. Feltham on behalf of the congregation last Sunday. This emblematic cloth was given by Mrs. McGain in memory of her husband, the late L. R. McGain, a faithful attender of St. Mungo's Church, and is much appreciated by the members.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Buzzell occupied "Woodbine Cottage" over the week-end.

Miss Annie McDowell was the guest of her brother at "Glenifer" for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Visitors at the home of Mrs. L. M. Gaston were Mr. and Mrs. Rankin and son, of Huntingdon, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Logan and daughter, of Brockville, Mrs. N. Humphrey, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Edgar Boa, of Pointe Fortune.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Patterson, of Montreal, were Sunday guests of Mrs. H. Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dougall and son, Graham, spent the long week-end at "Bayside Farm".

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weir, of Baie d'Urfé, also his sister, Mrs. A. Taylor, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, were in Cushing on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fuller and baby daughter, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bryerton of Rosemere. They were accompanied to this family gathering by Mr. Bryerton, Sr., and sister, Mrs. Villeneuve, of Carillon, also by Mr. Earl Bryerton and Miss A. O'Bien, of Brownsburg Road.

Recognition to Teacher

Miss Elsie M. Graham was one of the group of teachers presented with the "Order of Scholastic Merit" at the meeting of the Provincial Board of Protestant Teachers, in Montreal, and in company with the others received a bronze inscribed medal, a small replica of the larger medal, a corsage and certificate. Miss Graham is already Assistant Principal of Riverview School in Verdun.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Gleave and sons, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Canning on Sunday. Russel as a young boy spent his summers in the riverside cottage which his parents had built for them. This cottage has changed hands many times. The latest occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Groom, have bought a cottage at Lake Louisa, leaving this one to whatever fate Hydro Quebec has in store for it.

Master Raymond Coney, of Montreal, spent the long week-end with his mother at "Stonehaven."

Women's Institute

Frontier W.I. held an interesting Educational meeting in St. Mungo's Church Hall, with Mrs. John Black as convener. A spelling bee and other items were enjoyed. The attendance included five members from Look-Out Bay branch of the Institute, across the Ottawa River.

A resolution was passed, to be sent in the name of Frontier W.I., disapproving of an article in Macdonald College Magazine under the heading "Whisky Chocolate". This article, they felt, degraded the magazine in the estimation of all Institute members, whose motto is "For Home and Country". The suggestion that Irish chocolate bars liberally laced with whisky could be imported into Canada, and their use promoted with the help of advertising would — they feel — be a menace to the children of Canada, who would from infancy be trained in the use of liquor. Anyone who read the article could not think otherwise, in the opinion of the Institute.

The Women's Institute was first formed because a young mother believed her child had died because she herself had not known how to care for it properly, and felt that some such organization should be formed to which young, inexperienced mothers could turn for advice. Why, after all these years, should anyone suggest that "Whisky Chocolates" be imported, to encourage and form a demoralizing habit?

All worthwhile organizations should be on the alert against such ideas and protest accordingly.

Billion-mile success

COMET comes to Canada

It's here! The first car that combines fine car flair with compact economy. The car that brings big car ride to small car handling. The car that set all-time U.S. sales records in just seven months and went a billion miles to prove that it is the better compact car. And just look what it offers: ■ The only compact with fine car styling, new value-packed Comet has a spirited look from dual headlights to glamourous rear deck. Interiors are luxurious. The profile has classic proportions. ■ Comet is family size. 114-inch wheelbase—longer than other compact cars—provides comfort for six adults. You enjoy big car ride with small car handling ease. Trunk space is family size, too—over 28 cubic feet. ■ And Comet offers a choice of Thrift-Power 101 hp six-cylinder engine—or standard 85 hp Six. Both peppy engines—with either automatic or standard transmission—operate on regular gas. Gives up to 33 mpg fuel economy. ■ Choose a sedan or a station wagon in either two or four-door models. All are designed in fine Comet style—with true Comet quality and value. See and drive the new Comet now. Then you'll really know why this billion-mile success is the better compact car in Canada today.

1961 Comet four-door sedan: one of Ford of Canada's fine cars . . . built in Canada.

SIGNAL YOUR INTENTIONS

A word of warning would have prevented this fall.

The case of the abstract cow

A "black cow" has been built by scientist at the University of Manitoba.

The contraption will never produce milk but apparently it appeals to horse flies, and that is the point of the experiment.

It consists of a plastic dome mounted on a tripod. Bobbing beneath the cone is a large black balloon. At the point of the cone is a chamber trap for flies.

To a horsefly it represents what they see in a cow — a large object and a black, moving silhouette which radiates heat. It sits in a field near the University campus and attracts flies so that entomologists can observe horsefly behaviour.

Dr. A. J. Thorsteinson, head of the Department of Entomology in the Faculty of Agriculture, says this abstract approach to flycatching could continue to produce new and useful information for 20 years.

The Entomology Department is mapping the behavior patterns of insects native to Manitoba. In particular they want to determine how insects find and select food. Financial support is being received from the Manitoba Department of Agriculture, the Defence Research Board and the National Research Council.

Although much of the work is fundamental research, Dr. Thorsteinson says the basic findings even now have many practical applications.

Two other biting flies, the stable fly and the black fly, also are being investigated. Another phase is research into the eating habits of grasshoppers.

Some people, including some scientists, believe that an insect need only sniff the wind and it will fly fairly directly to the nearest food.

Dr. Thorsteinson believes insects fly in a random pattern until some stimulus causes them to stop flying and start feeding.

He thinks the abstract cow may be instrumental in answering some of these questions. And he says a graduate student is working on another weapon — an abstract flower.

Consumer group passed several resolutions

The Canadian Association of Consumers — 28,000 women strong — will be emphasizing safety in the home and on the highway, during the coming year.

The national convention held recently, approved resolutions calling for safety devices as standard equipment on cars, and for labels on home extinguishers containing potentially dangerous fumes. It also laid the groundwork for a safety campaign to warn of the dangers of plastic bags in the home.

The Association continued its appeal for improved inspection of meat and other foods. It asked the Federal Government to provide more money to the Federal Food and Drug Division and directorate, so that it could increase staff and expand inspection facilities.

It repeated demands that provincial inspection of meat be carried out.

Terming highway deaths "a national tragedy" the Association recommended that car makers install safety features as standard equipment on all makes. Devices approved by the Canadian Highway Safety Council should be used.

The 100 delegates from all parts of the country heard reports that the Association's campaign against trading stamps had "met with mixed success". Some provinces had banned stamps, others had decided to await a ruling by the Supreme Court of Canada, and others had done nothing to ban them.

Plastic covers cut silage losses

Plastic covers will cut silage losses at the top of the silo, according to J. R. Lesard of the Kapuskasing Experimental Farm.

Normally, in a 150-ton upright silo, spoilage will vary from three to ten tons. At the Kapuskasing station, spoilage was reduced to less than a ton by covering the silo with a plastic film. The annual amount saved was even greater than these results indicate, since an air tight cover also reduces the dry matter losses.

Plastic covers can also be used to advantage on trench and stack silos. In such silos dry matter losses of 50 per cent are not uncommon. When capped with a plastic film total losses may be reduced to about 10 per cent, which compares favorably with those in upright silos.

Air is one of the main causes of silage losses and plastic covers provide a relatively inexpensive air barrier. The plastic film should be of dark color and at least 0.004 inches thick. The entire surface of the silage has to be covered and the edges sealed.

For upright silos a ring of wet material or sawdust around the silo, on top of the plastic film, acts as a seal by keeping the edges of the plastic cover against the silo walls.

With trench or stack silos the plastic film should be firmly secured, and sealed along its edges with soil. If the covers get torn they should be repaired immediately.

CLOSING IN ON JOBLESS CHISELERS

Unemployment insurance chiselers beware, warns Don Peacock in The Financial Post. The Treasury Board has approved a Labor Department request for an increase of more than 50% in the Unemployment Insurance Commission's force of claims investigators.

This doesn't mean prosecutions will be stepped up — at least not right away. Instead, new enforcement officers will probably be used in attempts to educate employers and employees in the importance of being honest about unemployment insurance claims.

Expropriations in Hawkesb'y, minimum halt in utilities

Toronto — Daily routine in Hawkesbury will be continued with a minimum of interruption while sewers, watermains and service lines are changed, in the take-over of land and properties to make way for flooding — said Harry Hustler, of Ontario Hydro's land and realty department. Hydro engineers, he said, have completed a detailed program to be worked out in conjunction with the expropriation proceedings. He said a meeting would be held with the town council to inform the citizens, as soon as matters were sufficiently advanced. Expropriations in Chenail Island (The Snye) were proceeding last week.

Mr. Hustler recommended that proprietors affected should inform the Hydro office at Hawkesbury if they desire an early agreement, or if they believe special circumstances warrant an immediate enquiry on their properties.

If properties were not immediately required by the Hydro authorities, rental agreements could be made in such cases to permit occupants to remain temporarily in these properties.

If necessary, said the Hydro officer, additional staff might be assigned to the Hawkesbury office to expedite the business of expropriation.

Relinquished Idea Of Embankment

Chairman James S. Duncan said recently that proposals for an embankment along the Ottawa River shore had been abandoned. The decision means approximately 180 properties within the town's boundaries will be acquired by Ontario Hydro on behalf of the provincial government for lease to Quebec, as set out in the 1943 agreement between the two provinces.

Hawkesbury — Mayor Rosaire Gascon said here there was "nothing we can do now" about the Ontario Hydro decision to purchase 180 properties which will eventually be inundated.

At one time a proposed embankment that would have protected the properties appeared to be the solution for the owners.

"I think we did everything we had to do. The Toronto decision is to follow expropriation. We tried pretty hard before to get the embankment", Mayor Gascon said.

Some people were for expropriation and some for the embankment, and expropriation had won out.

Grenville farmer mourned by friends and relatives

Winner of the Agricultural Merit gold medal award this year, Mr. Edgar Larose of Grenville died suddenly last Thursday evening in the Royal Victoria Hospital, where he had been under medical observation since October 15.

The late Edgar Larose

In addition to the honor conferred upon him at the Quebec Provincial Exhibition, Mr. Larose and his wife were feted recently by their friends at the Century Inn, Grenville. He had served successively as commissioner and chairman of the Grenville Catholic School Board.

Fifty-six years of age, the late Edgar Rose is mourned by his wife, the former Florence Lord; two brothers, Edouard, of Montreal, and Lionel, who resides also on the farm; and five sisters, Mme M. Dubeau, of Quebec, Mme A. Lemay, of Grenville, the Rev. Sister Mary Madeleine, at Leachfield, Conn., Miss Rose Larose, of Detroit, and Miss Vic Larose, R.N., of Saint John, N.B.

High School teacher talks on Education at Lions Club

An attendance of between 50 and 60 at the Lions Club last week heard a revealing address by Mr. Bob Wyse on the subject of Education. Mr. Wyse, president of the Rotary Club, is a senior member of the Lachute High School staff, with B.Sc. and B.Ed. degrees from Mount Allison University; he is also chairman of the Protestant School Board at St. Andrews.

In his talk, Mr. Wyse outlined the multitude of roles which a teacher is expected to fulfill, both academic and extra-curricular, and he effectively enlisted from his audience an understanding of the problems confronting teachers today.

The speaker was ably introduced by Herb Graves. . . . In thanking Mr. Wyse on behalf of the Club, Gabriel Downing, as National Employment officer for this district, corroborated the increasing need for education to equip young people for careers, and urged that parents should shoulder their responsibility in supporting the teachers to the fullest extent.

Club Business

The meeting, chaired by President Dr. Eric Mongeon, was attended by a number of prospective members and a few guests. Among the membership were two charter Lions of 26 years' standing.

A former president, Phil Roy, presented five-year perfect attendance buttons to Dr. Eric Mongeon and Jos. Dumais, also one-year buttons to several others.

It was noted that Chief A. J. Whiteway, with provincial and municipal authorities, will hold a safety clinic for school children in November.

Secretary Keith Clark's report on busines executed at the directors' meeting, was heard with wrapt attention. This included also matters of Regional and District concern.

Lion Jos. Dumais spoke on preparations for the rink opening, October 28, and solicited full support in the canvass for season memberships.

Navy personnel and veterans at officer's funeral

The late Wm. Bryson, R.C.N.

St. Andrews East — Relatives and many sympathizing friends attended the funeral of the late Petty Officer William Bryson, R.C.N., who met his death accidentally by drowning on Tuesday of last week.

The remains were brought here for burial in St. Andrews Cemetery, service being held last Friday in the Presbyterian Church, conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. H. Reid. A Naval chaplain, Padré Taylor, assisted the Rev. Dr. Reid and conducted rites at the graveside, in the presence of a Naval contingent, six of whom served as pall-bearers. Also present was a guard of honor from Legion Branch 70, Lachute, who placed poppies on the bier. There was a profusion of flowers, and a large attendance at the funeral from this community and distant parts.

The son of Wm. George Bryson and the late Christina McFarlane, he was born at Ormstown in 1923, and was 37 years of age. He received his education at Ormstown and Lachute High Schools and served in World War II, rejoining the R.C.N. in 1952. . . . He was a veteran of many invasion landings, both n the Mediterranean and in France. In the post-war period, he received a citation for bravery in an outbreak of fire aboard a vessel in 1952. In 1956 he was aboard HMCS Labrador on a memorable 18,000 mile voyage in Arctic waters.

Petty Officer Bryson, serving on H.M.C.S. Chaudiere, met his death at New London, Conn., U.S. Naval base.

A letter of condolence from his Commanding Officer, addressed to the father of the deceased officer, states in part: "Your son's quiet good humor earned for him the respect and friendship of, not only his messmates, but of all who knew him." The letter states that Petty Officer Bryson slipped and fell into the water returning to his ship at 11.45 p.m. October 17. A comrade made a near fatal attempt to save him. The body was quickly recovered, but expert medical attention failed to revive him. On October 19 his shipmates held a service aboard ship in tribute to his memory.

He is mourned by his father, at St. Andrews; one sister, (Eileen) Mrs. J. Campagna, of Maryland, U.S.A.; and four brothers, Russel, in Montreal, Danny, at St. Andrews, Lloyd and Murray, of Lachute.

Rotary speaker on present-day food retailing industry

The Rotary Club of Brownsburg-Lachute had as their recent speaker Mr. W. B. Younkie, introduced by Rotarian René Dagenais, who spoke on the Independent Food Merchant.

The food industry is divided into two groups — corporate chains and independents. Independents are broken into (1) voluntary groups such as IGA, (2) co-operative groups such as Richelieu, (3) unaffiliated — said the speaker.

In the U.S., corporate chains in 1947 had 37% of the total food business, and in 1959 had 39%. In 1947, unaffiliated independents had 34% and affiliated 29%; but in 1959, the 34% had dropped to 14%, and the 29% had risen to 47%.

IGA, Independent Grocers' Alliance, with over 6,000 independent food merchants in Canada and U.S. (696 in Canada doing $264-million last year in sales), is the second largest retail food organization in the world. It started in the U.S. 34 years ago, and 10 years ago in Canada, and it gives to its independent merchant members all services rendered by corporate chains to their stores, plus the personal attention of an owner. IGA, a voluntary group, not only provides for its independent merchant members the benefits of mass buying, but much more important, the benefits of specialized selling assistance, along with help in engineering services to provide store layout plans, equipment planning, expansion planning, and also financial aid, and in short, all phases of store operations.

As can be judged from the tremendous growth of IGA, the independents who joined such groups as IGA have excellent chances for profitable operation in this highly competitive food distribution industry and have, in fact, achieved such success that many independents now own two and more stores; and this trend to greater strength through grouping together must continue for the future well-being of independent food merchants.

Mr. Younkie was thanked by Rotarian Ken Riley.

Police investigate damage to rink, other incidents

Lachute Town Police are presently investigating damage at the Lions Club skating rink in the West End, where the refrigeration pipes for the artificial ice were reportedly perforated with .22 calibre bullets. The damage is believed to have occurred within the last several weeks.

Gatineau Power employees had a pole to replace on Elizabeth Street early last week, following a fire in which children were burning leaves. The fire was reported to local police authorities, who answered the call with the emergency vehicle, extinguishing the blaze. By the time the fire was reported, however, flames had consumed enough of the pole to require its replacement.

Public acclaim for opera 'Il Trovatore' by Ottawa troupe

A fair crowd witnessed the Ottawa Grand Opera Association's second presentation in Lachute, the performance of Giuseppe Verdi's "Il Trovatore", at l'Ecole Supérieure last Saturday evening.

It is rarely that a full operatic work, by trained artists and with symphony accompaniment, is offered for public entertainment in the non-metropolitan areas; it is therefore regrettable that only a small portion of the populace took the opportunity to share this treat.

PAULETTE COSTELLO, who plays a dramatic role as a gipsy woman.

The program was a Lions Club presentation, the second such venture in Lachute — "La Traviata", by the same composer, having been performed here last year.

"Il Trovatore", a tempestuous plot on a more dramatic theme, gave greater scope to action and expression, scenic effects and costumes. It was a three-hour performance, to which the Ottawa Grand Opera Association of almost 40 players did full justice. The orchestra of 18 pieces gave a finished performance, with sympathy to the varying moods of the drama, and fitting sound effects.

"Il Trovatore", a story in a Spanish setting, presents drama and tragedy involving nobility, a gipsy band and nuns of the cloister, in a very varied characterization. The leading parts were played by — Matilda Lazarowich as Leonora, a noble lady of Aragon; Robert Haydon as Manrico, a gipsy troubadour; Peter Emmanuel Collin as the Count di Luna; Paulette Costello as Azucena, a gipsy woman, and others who sang formidable roles in this lengthy production. The singing and acting were superb; the same may be said of the musical and scenic backgrounds.

Much of the credit for this fine performance is due to H. Bramwell Bailey, the director, and Mrs. Bailey, producer and one of the leading singers. The performance of a well known local tenor, Robert Haydon, is a matter of pride to his associates and Lachute residents. Mr. Haydon, a graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, played the hero role, with fine voice and acting.

ROBERT HAYDON, who plays Manrico, the gipsy troubadour.

Lions Club President Dr. Eric Mongeon welcomed the audience at the outset of the performance, and Mr. Pierre Couture, one of the more prominent actors, gave a synopsis in French before each act of the opera — the libretto of which was sung in its English translation.

The artists were entertained by the Lions executive at the Golf Club during their visit to Lachute.

Denies theft from textile mill

Jean-Jules Gagnier appeared before District Magistrate Camille de Martigny in St. Jerome court on Monday charged with complicity in the theft of $485 worth of blankets from Ayers Limited, Lachute.

The accused, who had previously pleaded not guilty to the charge and was sent for preliminary hearing on Monday, was ordered to stand trial at Criminal Assizes. He was allowed bail of $950.

Attorney for the accused was Philippe Cutler.

Lions' skating rink reopens for season Friday evening

The Lions Club artificial ice rink, near Lowe's Dairy, will open this Friday evening for a long and (it is expected) active season of activities. Skating, hockey and broomball will provide organized and supervised sport for all ages. Junior leagues have capable organizers to line up their teams, and wholesome competition should be in evidence between young hockey enthusiasts soon. . . . The opening should proceed as scheduled, except in event of very abnormal weather.

For skating on the opening night, the usual admission will be charged to non-subscribers. However, on Hallowe'en, October 31, there will be a free masquerade with prizes for costumes and treats for the youngsters.

Season Memberships Solicited

The Rink Committee, chaired by one of Lachute's busy businessmen, Jos. Dumais, has mailed circular letters to all householders and potential supporters, enlisting subscriptions for season memberships. Season tickets are $5 per household or individual, plus $1 for each child in the family wishing to skate. (Maximum charge for any family, regardless of number, not to exceed $10.) . . . Considering that the season extends over approximately five months, this rate is by no means excessive.

For those who have no family but who wish to help in this project for youth recreation, the Club would appreciate a "supporting membership". Many requests are received from less fortunate families, and through such benefactors, the Lions are happy to extend the privileges of their rink to a number of poor families each season.

Long Sault District Council Scout meeting

The annual meeting of the Long Sault District Council was held recently in Brownsburg, with representatives from Thurso, Grenville, Brownsburg and Lachute reporting progress and prospects for the coming year. It was announced that a charter has recently been granted to a new group formed at Arundel under the sponsorship of the Tree Farm Association; also, plans for operation of a Wolf Cub Pack there are nearing completion.

Under the chairmanship of District Cubmaster J. W. Humphries, J. R. Golphin presented the report of a nominating committee which included Mr. Lloyd Thomas and Mr. C. L. Duncan. The following officers were elected to Council for the 1960-61 season:

President, D. N. Atkins.

Vice-president (Public Relations), Ernest Gow.

Vice-president (Group Contact), Harry Booth.

Secretary, G. H. Quinn.

Treasurer, C. E. Richardson.

Badge Committee chairman, G. B. Noble.

Conservation chairman, R. T. Reppert.

Camping Activities chairman, C. C. Rippberger.

Member-at-large, B. A. Jenkins.

In recognition of completion of the various stages of Wood Badge training for leaders, Mrs. T. A. Bignell, of the 1st Lachute Wolf Cub Pack, was presented with her Wood Badge by District Commissioner M. R. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson introduced the guest speaker, Provincial Field Commissioner J. A. Robson, whose remarks emphasized the dangers of too much conformity, and the fallacies of the popular attitude that indivdual thought and action is of little consequence in meeting today's situations and problems.

Mr. Lloyd Thomas expressed the meeting's appreciation to Mr. Robson.

Transport drivers win prov'l awards in truck roadeo

Marcel Desjardins, a Boyd's Express Ltd. driver, won top award in the Single-Axle Trailer Class, at the provincial truck roadeo held last Saturday in Montreal.

Two other Boyd Transport operators were among the winners in this contest — Jacques Charbonneau second in the straight truck class (winning the Quebec Safety League Trophy), and Grant Scott third in the tandem trailer class.

The competitions were held at the Quebec Hydro parking lot. A qualification for all entrants was one year's record as an accident-free driver.

Prize winners at Richelieu anniversary

Winners of cash prizes in a drawing at the recent Richelieu Club anniversary banquet at Lachute Golf Club were as follows:

$50 — Denis Pesant, Lachute;

$50 — Marcel Lefebvre, Montreal;

$50 — Albert Landry, Lachute;

$50—Claude Lamarche, Lachute;

$100 — Tom Johnson, Lachute;

$100 — Joseph Bélanger, Montreal, C. E. Dorris, Lachute;

$100 — Oswald Carrière, Lachute;

$250 — Bruno Proulx, Hawkesbury;

$1,000 — Mme Guy Sigouin, Lachute.

Advanced Time ends Saturday at midnight

Lighter mornings and darker evenings will be the order of the day when Standard Time comes back into effect next Sunday. Readers are reminded to retard their clocks one hour at midnight Saturday — thus to enjoy an extra hour's sleep — and to adjust their schedules to Standard Time for church services and other activities on Sunday.

Crossing Patrol in operation at Catholic H.S.

A long-needed school patrol has been put into force by the Lachute Police Department, and is presently operating out of l'Ecole Supérieure, where the school authorities have offered full co-operation — reports Police Chief A. J. Whiteway. To date, the Council has donated six shoulder belts, as a means of identification for the crossing guards, and motorists are requested to give the boys their complete co-operation.

The youths are still taking a course from the Police Department, and it is hoped to have all the Catholic School crossings protected by students before too long. . . . Authorities at the High School are not taking part in the program at the present time.

A column for the sportsman

— By BOB ATCHISON —

A phone call this past week from Murray Lyster about the stray bullets flying around his place, only makes you realize how bad it has become. The Provincial Police were informed of this situation and took the necessary action.

This is really serious, and something should be done about it, soon. We all know the numbers that have been killed or wounded in the last few weeks. This weekend (October 16) the bush is just alive with hunters. On this north side of the river it is getting worse every week. Everyone in the province is up in the air about this now, and we can only hope the authorities will do something this time.

The rabbits are disappearing all the time. As we know, thousands of them were around this spring. I even thought rabbit hunting would be one of the highlights this fall. However, they have just about all gone. All the hunters I have talked to say the same — they didn't see any at all.

A few of this species that have been shot recently have all been the same, covered with animal lice, and two of them so bad that the hair had been cleaned right off the eyes and patches of skin removed all over the body. Once again we see just how Nature has a way of taking care of the heavy population of animals. With no foxes around, the rabbits have not been molested so the rate of birth has been very high. Evidence of this can be seen in the bush; everything in the way of small shrubs, etc., has been cleared right into the ground.

The hunters are still passing through town with their deer. Some of the bigger ones are starting to show up. One I saw was a beautiful animal, 12 points, and in very good condition. There was also a bear on the radiator of a car. By the time this was got home, I don't think any of the hunters would be very interested in eating it, especially if they had had to clean it themselves. I kind of hope they do sample some of it; from then on, bear will be on the "not wanted" list. It's funny how all these animals are killed just for the sake of killing. I'm sure most of the bear killed by hunters are never even used as rugs. Getting them tanned is a costly proposition, and one not usually thought of until it's too late.

Crows are still around, and they seem to be pretty safe for the time being, for everyone is out after bigger game. To me they are never out of season, and certainly I get as much kick out of shooting one of these as any other game. As far as I am concerned, seeing these black killers in action among a nest of young partridge or pheasants is enough for me. Getting into the eggs is bad enough, but to see them killing the young birds is something that makes me forget they are supposed to be useful. Of course, there are a lot of other creatures like this, but one of the worst offenders is Old Blackie.

Fishing is still very good for Perch. Excellent sport, if you like this type of fishing. Very big ones are starting to show up now, and until ice forms, they will be giving good sport.

Any of you who have been in the bush this past few days, will no doubt have seen the numbers of dogs. There sure are a lot, and it's a problem what to do with them. I know the law states that any dog seen running loose in the bush during hunting season should be shot, and to tell the truth I've been tempted a couple of times. It isn't too serious at present, but later on when the deer are starting to drift down this way, the dogs will be a threat to their survival. For anyone whose dog is running loose, take care of it, or else! A lot of us have seen dogs running deer, and believe me it is not a pretty sight. If everyone had the opportunity of seeing a thing like this, they would understand.

Not very many ducks can be seen around, and so far this season the shooting has been poor. A friend was out last Sunday all day, and got two — one Black and one Wood. Naturally I have the skin of the Wood; the feathers are good for flie-tieing.

Even around Picton where the duck hunting is usually good, conditions have been very poor. Also around the Great Lakes this fall, it's poor; and reports from Ducks Unlimited do not indicate it will get any better for a number of years. I mentioned before about the building of the South Saskatchewan Dam, and the effect it will have on the breeding grounds. Fortunately, the governments are going to try and do something about this; one good thing they are starting now and not waiting until later — which has been the way in Quebec this past while; let's hope that is a thing of the past.

1. Compass.
2. Waterproof match box.
3. Hunting knife.
4. 18 Rounds or more of ammunition.
5. Good boots, and a spare pair of socks.
6. A couple of chocolate bars.
7. A canteen of water.
8. Fish hooks and line.
9. Small hand axe.
10. First-aid kit.

Not too much weight is involved in this kit, and it could save your life. Don't forget, no matter how good you may think you are in the bush, you can still get lost — or worse, hurt.

P.S. — Don't use your guns as crutches or walking sticks — or they may be used as stretchers!

Ottawa River rumor dispelled

Quebec — Fish and Game Minister Gerard D. Levesque assured Quebec anglers recently they need have no qualms on fishing in the Ottawa River because of an unfounded rumor concerning radiation.

Published rumors some time ago stated there had been an accident at the Chalk River atomic reactor, and that a radioactive fallout had rendered the Ottawa River dangerous.

He said an investigation carried out by Dr. Gustave Prevost, head of the province's biology division, showed such an accident had not occurred and that there was no need for any fears about fishing or eating fish caught in the Ottawa.

Hog cholera cases in Quebec

Outbreaks of hog cholera in three premises in Quebec have been announced by Agriculture Minister Hamilton.

The infection was first detected October 4 on a farm in Shefford County near Granby, and 42 swine were slaughtered.

A further outbreak occurred in a piggery at Terrebonne County, where 1,100 swine were slaughtered, and a third outbreak was detected last Thursday at Laval County, where 600 swine are being slaughtered.

RETARDED CHILDREN

With special help, 25 of every 30 retarded children can be trained in the basic skills — reading, writing and arithmetic — and be prepared for gainful employment. Four more of the 30 can be trained for self-help and often for useful work. Only one of the 30 will be helpless enough to require lifetime care, reports the Reader's Digest.

Lightweight Champ

Eddie Beattie, Hamilton, Ont. boxer, who survived an operation to close a hole in his heart, captured the vacant Canadian lightweight crown after a fifth round TKO over Bobby Hamilton of Edmonton, Alta.

Hockey Night in Canada

Danny Gallivan (top inset) and Bill Hewitt (bottom inset) are keeping CBC-TV viewers and CBC listeners fully informed during the 1960-61 National Hockey League games at Montreal and Toronto. Gallivan is the play-by-play commentator for Montreal Canadiens' home games. Hewitt, assisted by his father, Foster, describes the action of Toronto Maple Leafs' home games. Both announcers do the commentary for radio and television.

FOOTBALL INTRODUCED

Rimouski, Que. CP — Football is coming to the Lower St. Lawrence with formation of a four-team league from parishes around Rimouski. The game has never been played here regularly, although soccer has been played in schools for five years.

District news, Girl Guides

A meeting of the Girl Guides Local Association was held in the United Church hall last week, chaired by Commissioner Mrs. M. Wilson. Two companies, St. Eustache and St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac, were welcomed to the district, thus enlarging the division to five groups.

Mrs. Wright, of St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac, has taken over the duties of Badge Secretary.

Reports were read from all district groups, and refreshments were served in conclusion by the Lachute ladies.

A Guides' Jubilee supper is being held in Montreal on November 21.

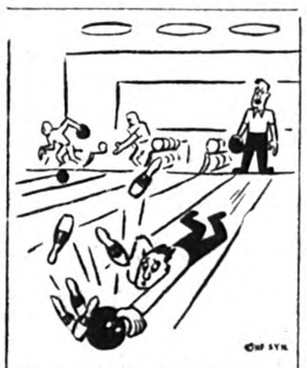

The next Local Association meeting will be held in the Boy Scouts' Hall on November 17, at 8.15 p.m.

Municipalities and winter projects

Quebec CP — Jean-Louis Doucet, deputy minister of Municipal Affairs, said winter works projects to be undertaken by Quebec municipalities will more than double last year's total of $16,000,000.

He said 132 municipalities had already submitted 209 projects, expected to cost $13,000,000. However, he expected as many as 400-500 municipalities to participate in the winter program this year.

The Municipal Affairs Department must approve all winter work projects. Municipalities, in turn, receive financial assistance for labor costs from both the federal and provincial governments.

What Hallowe'en pennies can achieve

OCTOBER 24 was United Nations Day; and another date next week, October 31, will effectively highlight a fine humanitarian example of United Nations effort. . . . This is the so-called "UNICEF Hallowe'en". On this occasion numberless organizations, including the Women's Institute in Lachute, will captivate the enthusiasm of children to spice their fun with a real thrill — that of helping other children, less-privileged children in less-privileged countries, in a very material way.

A single penny given to the Children's Fund can mean enough vaccine to protect a youngster against TB; a nickel can represent the penicillin to cure a case of yaws; 20 cents represents the antibiotics to treat a child for trachoma; 50 cents can supply enough DDT to protect four children from malaria for a year; and $1 can provide sufficient sulfone tablets to treat a young leprosy victim successfully for three years.

If all the children who benefitted from UNICEF-provided anti-TB vaccine marched four abreast, five feet apart, their procession would reach around the world at the Equator. If all the vitamin capsules shipped by UNICEF were placed end to end, they would stretch a distance greater than the width of the Asian continent. All the glasses of UNICEF-supplied milk that have helped nourish hungry children would fill about 30 bottles the size of the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

More and more organizations, churches, clubs, youth leaders and individuals are encouraging children to devote their Hallowe'en fun to UNICEF. The giant steps of the past few years, during which UNICEF has snowballed from a single venture to a national tradition, are a source of pride to all who take part. For the 55 million underprivileged receiving aid this year, it is hoped that Hallowe'en for UNICEF will enjoy a record participation in 1960.

Folly stalks the countryside

"IT IS A REAL tragedy that faulty use of firearms should cause, during one week-end, almost one-third of last year's total casualties," states Paul Leboeuf, general manager of the Quebec Safety League, commenting on 10 accidental deaths caused by firearms in the recent Thanksgiving week-end. "This shameful record shows once more the urgent need for a Safety Education Centre to promote safety education to children and adults alike, through tests and demonstrations that will reach the public through audio-visual means," he adds.

In the interests of home safety, all persons possessing firearms are urged to keep them out of the reach of children's hands. When returning home from a hunting trip, all weapons should be carefully checked to make sure they are unloaded, and then be kept under lock.

Similarly, to all hunters it is seriously suggested — their own lives are today in greater danger than the hunted animal, as any foolish action or negligence on the part of a fellow-hunter may have tragic consequences. . . . There are too numerous examples of "foolish action or negligence" in the woods and farmlands around this countryside. We refer our readers to instances cited in a letter on this page, and by our outdoor columnist on page 2.

A challenge from top authority

A LOUD and powerful cry for the survival of Canada as a separate nation came from the Governor of the Bank of Canada. Never in the history of that institution has such a vigorous pronouncement been made on such an urgent, but different and controversial subject — says The Financial Post.

As Governor of the Bank of Canada, James E. Coyne is perhaps the best-informed man in Canada on the economic problems of which he speaks. As Governor he is and must be politically nonpartisan, so it is not as a defender or as an opponent of the government that he speaks. But he is thoroughly Canadian. With great bluntness he speaks of the grave unemployment problem in which we now find ourselves, and he indicates that only drastic steps will provide more than temporary cure.

He points to the overwhelming degree to which Canada is now foreign-owned. He says: "We are now at one of the more critical crossroads in our history, perhaps the most critical of all, when economic developments and pre-occupation with economic doctrines of an earlier day are pushing us down the road that leads to loss of any effective power to be masters in our own household and ultimate absorbtion in and by another." He refers to a "compelling reason, which is becoming more important every year, why it is essential for the Canadian economy to produce the highest possible percentage of goods and services within Canada rather than rely on imports financed by increasing our foreign debt."

There isn't a single business or businessman in Canada who may not be deeply affected by the portent of the Governor's address. It will be profoundly disturbing to some, as the present facts of the case are profoundly disturbing to a great many Canadians. It is unquestionably one of the most challenging addresses ever made in this country.

Plug those leaks!

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE chiselling is a heartless business — says the Fort Erie Letter-Review. Those who draw benefits to which they are not entitled place in jeopardy the Fund's ability to meet the most urgent need of those who, through no fault of their own, are without jobs and unable to find work.

To be commended, therefore, is the Labor Department's decision to try to plug the leaks that are draining the Unemployment Insurance Fund, by educating employees and employers alike to the requirements of the law, and impressing upon them the fact that only in case of legitimate unemployment can benefits be claimed.

Viewpoints and perspectives

RESEARCHERS studying eyewitness accounts of disasters find that women are actually cooler-headed than men, especially when their families are in danger — reports the Reader's Digest. There are more men than women patients in mental hospitals, and more men than women commit suicide.

CREDITABLE AIM. — Fred Tilson spoke to Newmarket Rotarians last week on the subject of credit, and told the story of a sign in a little gas station in Auburn, Maine. It read: "Use our credit plan, 100 per cent down and nothing each month."

BIG CARS. — We still say that Canadian cars are too big and many a garage has to be made larger, and this means more expense. . . . Plainer, sturdier, more economical and serviceable cars will woo the buyer more than the futuristic designs and fancy looks.

HUNTING TRAGEDIES. — The feeble excuse — "I thought it was a deer" — is scant consolation for a bereaved family and little salve to the conscience of a hunter who kills one of his counterparts in the woods.

THE LACHUTE WATCHMAN

75 YEARS AGO

Friday, October 9, 1885 —

Assessors have completed the evaluation of property in Lachute, which is likely to reach nearly half a million.

The town secretary, Mr. D. Raitt, having sustained property damage by parties throwing stones through his windows — thought to be a gesture of revenge against him for endeavoring to keep down disturbances in the town — the Council resolved to give him every assistance to apprehend and prosecute the guilty parties.

James Murphy, of North River, is holding an extensive sale of farm stock.

The town census shows 1311 persons residing in the municipality. Taxable property is over $454,000 — untaxable over $29,000.

Mr. Raitt has stated his services as town officer to be worth $400 a year, and failing receipt of that amount, signifies he is perfectly willing to resign.

Mr. John Fraser of Lachute, while leading a bull to the Agricultural Show, had a narrow escape from death when the animal broke loose and attacked him.

Public prayers for suppression of the smallpox are offerd in many of the Lachute churches every Sunday. . . . Much discussion is heard on the merit, or ineffectiveness, of vaccination.

Directors of the Argenteuil Agricultural Society held a County Exhibition of fancy work, dairy products, manufactures, livestock, etc., at St. Philippe.

50 YEARS AGO

Friday, October 14, 1910 —

Mr. Peter Cruise, energetic agent of the Canadian Dairy Supply Co., has sold no less than 16 of the celebrated Green Feed Silos. Our farmers are surely keeping abreast of the times.

Mr. Bishop has completed his new hall on Main Street (later to become the Rex Theatre — Ed.) and has secured The Passion Play for the opening occasion. The hall will be known as the "Albert Hall".

Last issue of the Renfrew Mercury states: It is doubtful if Canada can produce a better all-round horse judge than Mr. Geo. Hay, of Lachute.

Brownsburg — We would suggest that those responsible for the wretched conditions of the road between here and the Village of Lachute, be given a free trip over it in a springless rig.

Gordon Hampton has returned from the West, where he spent a pleasant few weeks looking up many of the town boys.

25 YEARS AGO

The recent unofficial census of the town and parish of St. Jerome shows a population of 11,500.

"I salute Mussolini for having unified my country." — Haile Selassie.

Records of the district auto license registrar, Mr. P. Chabot, show a total of 2068 cars, trucks, motorcycles, tractors (67) and service trucks (4). There were 1705 operators' permits and 355 chauffeurs' licenses.

At the Lachute W.I. meeting, the County president, Mrs. G. F. W. Kuhring, dealt with arguments frequently heard against "the fads and frills" of modern education.

The Louis-Baer prize fight was shown this week on the Rex Theatre screen.

Misses Edna Aitken, Edith Jones and Gertrude McMahon, and Messrs. Stuart Armstrong and Herbert Gordon, attended the Young People's conference at Huntingdon.

John McArthur Campbell, veteran lumberman of the district, died at the age of 70.

Messrs. Leonard and Gilbert Ayers have entered Babson Institute at Wellesley, Mass., as students in the two-year course.

Messrs. Ben and Harold Maiden, of Lachute Mills, shot a 210-lb. deer while hunting near Avoca.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Moore, of San Diago, Calif., motored home to spend a few weeks with Mr. Moore's father.

James Bennett, a former mayor of Harrington, died in his 70th year.

WHERE YOU LIVE

Every fall I take a couple of hunting trips in the northern part of Manitoba, and every year I tell myself I ought to move up to Dauphin to be near the good hunting.

Last week, when I was building myself a grass and weed blind on a field near Methly Beach, a young farm lad came over for a chat. He was from Magnet, Manitoba, and was over in the Dauphin area to cut a season's supply of dry firewood.

"Where are you from?" he asked me, eyeing my fine gun and the decoys I had spread around. I could tell he was comparing them with his own single shot and his plywood decoys.

"Winnipeg," I said.

"I nearly took a job there," he told me. "I could of made good money, too."

"Why didn't you?"

"I kind of like it here," he said. He had good reasons. He loved to shoot; he enjoyed the independence of his country life. He worked hard, he said, but could take time off to hunt from time to time and make up for it later. He was energetic — he had a blind for himself put up in about half the time it had taken me, and when the ducks came in he downed his share with the single shot.

After the shoot we had coffee from my thermos and did a lot of talking. He wondered why I didn't come up to that country. He had always thought a writer could live just any place at all. I told him that was true to some extent for story writers, but that article writers needed to be close to libraries and markets.

"I guess it's a choice everybody's got to make," he said. "I'd like more money, but then, it doesn't cost as much to live up here, and I'm pretty free, and then there's the hunting and fishing."

I think the encounter wound up with some slight envy on both sides, although my shade of green might have been just a tinge deeper than his.

If a person could make as much money up near those Dauphin hunting grounds, however, I'd bet my last dime that at least half the population of Manitoba — the hunters, anyhow — would be up there tomorrow. Then how long would those prairie chickens and ducks last? They'd probably move south, while the big pay moved up Dauphin way! Emerson was certainly right about the laws of compensation!

KNOW YOUR Canada

Prepared by the Research Staff of Encyclopedia Canadiana

What does Reservation mean?

This is a term used to signify the withholding of royal assent to a bill by a Governor-General or a Lieutenant-Governor in order that the question of giving assent may be referred to a superior level of government. The purpose of the power of reservation was to enable a Governor to defer the passage of legislation where doubt existed as to its constitutionality or its conformity with the policy of a higher government. Although the British North America Act still contains a section giving the Governor-General power to reserve a bill passed by both Houses of Parliament, pending the Sovereign's pleasure, it would now be clearly inappropriate and contrary to the spirit of the constitution for a Governor-General to do so, since such a step would require the United Kingdom government to advise the Sovereign on a Canadian matter. Lieutenant-Governors, however, have on a number of occasions reserved provincial bills, usually on the advice of the federal government. The last time this happened was in connection with three Alberta bills in 1937.

Capital letters are taking over the English language. They're doing it quietly. That's their cunning.

At one time, capital letters used to march along tamely enough, each of them escorted by a guard of lower-case letters: Member of Parliament, Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Then a few of the capital letters got loose and began sauntering around the language on their own: M.P., R.C.M.P.

There did not seem to be any cause for alarm. The lower-case letters were far away in the majority. And those big fellows like M.P. and R.C.M.P. weren't doing any damage. They seemed friendly. Everybody knew them.

Anyway, they had dots clamped between them, to keep them from running loose.

Then some of them shook off their dots and began swaggering around in threes and fours. YMCA. CBC. There seemed to be more of them.

It wasn't a sudden invasion. They moved in by subterfuge, like Storm-Troopers disguised as jolly tourists. They sent the respectable "capwords" in first to unlock the gate: MP, VC, UN. Before you could say WHO? a herd of exotics came galloping and panting in: UNICEF, UNESCO, NAACP.

They infiltrated the editorial pages, where they mingled with some of the longest and proudest words in the language. They began to assume some of the privileges of words themselves.

Many of the capwords had been cutely molded in the form of words from the start: CARE, ACTION (American Council To Improve Our Neighborhoods) and CAT (Clean Air Turbulence, a condition that is thought to be clawing airplanes to pieces).

It won't be long before the capital letters take over the language completely, and only a few lower-case letters cower timidly in their shadow.

To keep track of all the capitals, some learned man should collect them all in a Directory of Integral Capital Terms In Ordinary National Accepted Use — in short, DICTIONARU. (Never mind the last letter. Capwords can be spelled any old way).

But some of us may want to save our language from being trampled to splinters by the invading mob of capitals. Then we should organize at once as the Honorable English Language Protectors, a group that will be familiarly known as HELP!

Says countryside unsafe since onset of hunting season

(TO THE EDITOR)

Brownsburg, Oct. 21, 1960

Editor, The Watchman.

Dear Sir,

I would like to bring to your attention the danger existing in our community.

Since the hunting season opened it is just not safe to live here. The week days are bad enough, but on week-ends, you never know when a bullet will go whizzing past your ear.

These so-called hunters hunt day and night, and completely disregard "No Trespassing" signs. In fact they take them down to make a fire! They enter gates and never shut them. They come into private lands where cattle are at pasture. And I'm sure most of these hunters do not know a reindeer from a cow!

We lost a Registered Ayrshire cow last week — a valuable cow, due in November. Not content with just shooting this cow, they tried a butcher job on her also; but when this sport became too tame for them, they left her.

This letter is a warning. When men come onto your property and shoot wildly without regard to your rights, there has to be a stop to it. We are afraid to let our children out to play.

The government issues a license to a hunter. Does this entitle him to shoot on another's private property? If so, should not the government be responsible for our loss?

We pay taxes every year—why? During hunting season we lose the value of cows, etc. I'm asking you, is it right, and is it fair?

This year, so far it has been cattle — and a great loss to us. Has a child got to be killed before something is done to these trigger-happy sportsmen?

Sincerely,
John W. Heatlie

Lifelong resident laid to rest

The late Edgar Strong

On Sunday, October 16, after a short illness, the death occurred of Edgar Strong, who had been a lifelong resident of this community.

Mr. Strong, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Strong, was born at Lakefield, Que., where he spent the early years of his life, later purchasing a farm in St. Jerusalem, where he farmed for over 30 years. Disposing of this farm in 1946, he moved to Lachute.

Funeral service was held on Wednesday, October 19, at St. Simeon's Church, and was conducted by the Rev. C. R. Lang, assisted by the Rev. B. J. Thorpe of St. Laurent.

Mr. Strong leaves to mourn his passing his wife, the former Elsie Hodge; two sons, Wyman, of St. Laurent, and Angus, at Lachute; one daughter, Elizabeth, at home, and one grandson — also two sisters, Mrs. Harry Scott of Lachute, and Mrs. Wesley Hamilton of St. Laurent, and three brothers, Ira, of Shawbridge, Leslie, of Lakefield, and Cecil, of Lachute.

The pall-bearers were — Messrs. James Bates, Douglas Davis, Herbie Gordon, Stanley Holt, Dougall Leishman and Gordon Silverson.

The many beautiful floral tributes bore silent testimony of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

The remains were laid to rest in Lachute cemetery.

Lake Keatley

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Bennett left Wednesday of last week to spend the winter months in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Miss Enid Stewart, of Montreal, was the recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Stewart.

Wed at St. Andrews East

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard Boa shown following their wedding in St. Andrews Presbyterian Church on Saturday, October 22. The bride is the former Lois Ruby Smith, of Montreal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Smith, of Lachute. The groom is the son of Mrs. Allan Boa of Lachute, and of the late Mr. Boa. The couple will reside in Lachute. — Photo, Syd Drew

Married recently in United Church

Smalley-Girling

The marriage of Beverley Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Girling, of Lachute, to Robert Edward Smalley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smalley, of Verdun, took place recently in the United Church at Lachute.

Standards of white and yellow gladioli and giant white mums and candles decorated the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white sculptured velvet. The fitted bodice had a V-neckline, with long fitted lily-point sleeves. The bouffant skirt was floor-length with a slight chapel train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a cap of seed pearls and a soft white nylon bow at the back. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and yellow mums.

Mrs. Charles Hughes, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and the bride's attendants were Miss Joan Peters and Mrs. Cameron Smith, sister of the groom.

The attendants were dressed in identical outfits, with white ostrich-feather hats and short white gloves. Their princess sheath dresses were accentuated by full peau-de-soie skirts in a scalloped design, with matching shoes — Mrs. Hughes being in grotto blue and the bridesmaids in claret rose. They carried identical cascade bouquets of white mums.

Miss Wendy Hughes, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a floor-length gown of grotto blue peau-de-soie, with matching headpiece and carrying a basket of white and yellow Pinocchio pompoms.

Mr. Stuart Thompson was best man, Ronald Peters and Cameron Smith acting as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a gown of Dior blue crepe with matching hat and French tapestry accessories. The groom's mother wore a gown of silver and autumn green brocade with matching hat and bag.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Masonic Hall, Brownsburg Road. Later Mr. and Mrs. Smalley left for a trip through Eastern Ontario and the United States — the bride travelling in a dark-brown two-piece wool dress with Persian lamb trim and matching accessories and a corsage of yellow Talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Smalley will reside in Verdun.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Beulah MacAdam, of Burlington, Ont.; Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Dean, of Hampstead, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. C. Guthrie, of Rawdon, Que.; Miss Annie MacKinnon, of Toronto; Mr. Clarence MacKinnon, of Massena, N.Y., and many from Montreal and neighboring districts.

Social and Personal

At the Woollen and Knit Goods Manufacturers' Association annual meeting, held last week at the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa, Mr. George C. Tattersfield of Lachute was reelected to the executive, and Mr. Clément Tremblay, O.B.E. (a past-president) as a director ex-officio.

Mrs. Pierre Cangardel and son, Jean-Marc, left by plane for New York on Monday, to return by the liner "Flandres" to her home in Paris. Mrs. Cangardel has spent an extended visit here with her mother, Mrs. L. L. Legault.

Mr. and Mrs. James Berry returned Sunday from a motor trip through Maine and the Maritimes, visiting friends and spending a week with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Garth Berry, in Moncton, N.B.

Week-end guests at the home of Mrs. J. Warwick were Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Tomalty, of Sudbury, Mass., Mrs. Chris Dahl and daughters, Meredith and Karen, of Waltham, Mass., Mrs. E. Tomalty, of Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson, of Ottawa.

Mr. Dudley Collins, of London, Ont., while attending a conclave of Insurance representatives at Ste. Adele, paid a brief visit here last week to renew acquaintances in Lachute and Dalesville. (Mr. Collins is the son of a former Baptist minister in this pastorate.)

Dr. Jean Paul Legault, specialist in Urology, attended a medical conference at Winnipeg in company with doctors and representatives from 40 countries. Dr. Legault was honored with the appointment of president of the Board of Surgeons for the Canadian section of this world organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Ord Anderson returned last week-end from a vacation at Daytona Beach, Florida. Mrs. Harder, who has spent a considerable time with her daughter and son-in-law here, is presently residing with another daughter in New York.

Mr. Jim Campbell left last week by plane for a vacation tour in Britain and on the European Continent, intending to be absent for three weeks.

Mrs. Gordon Davidson returned Friday, aboard the liner Empress of Britain, after 10 weeks' absence on a visit to the British Isles.

Mr. Ivan Fraser, of Tillsonburg, Ont., spent a few days here as the guest of his brother, Mr. Roy P. Fraser and Mrs. Fraser — also visiting his sister, Mrs. J. H. Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kerr, of Saskatoon, were in Lachute last week renewing acquaintances. Mr. Kerr left Lachute 44 years ago and took up farming in the West. They were accompanied on their trip by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. Howe, of Regina. While here, they visited Mr. Kerr's sister, Miss E. Kerr, of Lakefield, and various friends in Morin Heights and Arundel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lister, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McCambly, of Morin Heights, accompanied by Mrs. Florence Jackson of Lachute, were among those who were in St. Laurent last Saturday attending the wedding of Miss Garry McDonnell, of St. Laurent, to Mr. Sterling Woods, of Montreal (formerly of Morin Heights).

Mill superintendent earns retirement

Mr. Clarence Rogers, a long-time and trusted employee of Ayers Limited, retired last Friday after 40 years' service with the firm. Entering the office of the company, he later was transferred to the mill operations, where his dependability and devotion earned advancement to the job of felt mill superintendent, which position he has held for many years.

At a gathering of well-wishers at the mill on his departure, Mr. Rogers was presented with gifts from the employees and the office staff, tendered with a fitting address by Mr. Clement Tremblay, senior official of Ayers Limited. . . . Friends join in wishing Mr. Rogers full enjoyment of his leisure years.

W.I. whist party in Masonic Hall

Ladies of the Upper Lachute-East End Women's Institute held another successful whist party in the Masonic Hall in aid of the proposed "Home for Senior Citizens". Players participated at 42 tables, and the following were prize winners:

First — Mrs. E. Armstrong (captain), Mr. and Mrs. R. Gordon, Mr. E. Armstrong.

Second — Mr. M. Lees (captain), Mrs. E. Cruise, Mrs. N. Maidens, Mrs. M. Lees.

Consolation — Mrs. F. Hartland (captain), Mr. and Mrs. F. Touchette, Mr. F. Hartland.

Door prize winners were — Mrs. P. E. Dixon-Smith, Mrs. John Hadley, Mrs. Jean MacDonald, Mrs. Isabel Smith, Mrs. Betty Boa, Miss Gertrude Moncrieff, Mrs. Ruby McFaul, Mr. Bud MacGeorge, Mrs. Helen Smith and Mrs. H. Swail.

A large basket of groceries was also drawn for; this was won by Mrs. P. Wilson, of Cushing.

As refreshments were being served, Mrs. Sherman Doig, the County president, cordially thanked the members and all those who had made this event so successful.

United Church holds laymen's conference Oct. 29 in Montreal

Over 100 laymen of the United Church of Canada will gather to discuss the organizing of laywork in their church. The theme for this conference will be "Christian Laymen in Action". Phil Spence and Ralph Wilson, secretaries from the National Board of Men, will address the men and then will hold a question period. Ralph Wilson will deal with the organization as it affects all laymen, while Phil Spence will deal with the division set-up specifically for men's clubs. The afternoon sessions will be held in smaller workshop groups to enable the delegates to concentrate the discussion in their own particular field of work. After dinner the Rev. P. W. Jones, minister of Dorval United Church and honorary president of the Lakeshore District Council of United Church AOTS Men's Clubs, will address the gathering. Lunch and dinner will be served to the delegates by the Cedar Park Women's Auxiliary. Emphasis will be on the training of leaders in the laywork of the United Church, and this conference is attracting a large number of officers and committee chairmen. Interested laymen who have not already registered should contact their Clerk of Session, or their minister.

This conference is open to all men of the United Church in the Montreal-Ottawa Conference.

Mining plant for Oka district

A famous cheese-producing area — the Oka district — may finally be destined for importance in the mining field, through its extensive deposits of columbium ore. (Columbium is used in steel, chemical and nuclear industries.)

Frank Kaplan in The Financial Post reports the break-through: Seven years after discovery, a plant is in the planning, to handle 500 tons of ore daily, to produce at least one million pounds of columbium pentoxide concentrates annually for St. Lawrence Columbium & Metals Corpn. —formerly the St. Lawrence River Mines. First production is slated for July 1961. Total cost of the plant, using a mechanical separation process developed by the company, is expected to be only $1.5 million. Eventually it is hoped that this will be merely the first unit of a much larger operation.

Brownsburg juniors go 'Hallowe'en for UNICEF'

As in past years the Brownsburg Brownies and Cubs will again ring doorbells on Hallowe'en night with the now familiar words, "Shell Out for UNICEF."

Within the last few years, in thousands of communities, Hallowe'en for UNICEF has become a full-fledged tradition. The enthusiastic acceptance of Hallowe'en's new dimension has made this the greatest project ever carried out by children to help children.

Last year UNICEF aided over 55,000,000 mothers and children in less-fortunate lands, supplying them with food and medicine.

Big or small — welcome all the children wearing the orange and black emblem of UNICEF this Hallowe'en.

1c — enough for five large glasses of milk.

1c — enough B.C.G. vaccine to protect a child from tuberculosis.

5c — enough penicillin to cure one child of yaws.

NO PRIORITY

Company executive to junior executives: ". . . and when Mr. Biglee's son starts working here tomorrow he'll have no special privileges or authority. Treat him just as you would anyone else who was due to take over the whole business in a year or two."

Mourn death of well known Lachute resident

The late Mrs. Fred McGill

On Thursday, October 20, Mrs. Fred McGill passed away suddenly at her home on Sydney Street, in her 42nd year. The late Mrs. McGill enjoyed a wide circle of friends and relatives. The former Rita Dupuis of Hawkesbury, she was the the wife of Fred McGill, an employee at Canadian Refractories Ltd. in Marelan. Prior to their residence in Lachute they lived in Kilmar for 17 years.

Funeral service was held in the Lachute United Church, the Rev. W. B. Rosborough officiating. The hymns sung were "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "The Old Rugged Cross". Interment was in Lachute Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were — Mr. Lorne Duncan, Dr. G. R. Rigby, Messrs. A. O. Phillips, Richard Young, Victor Elliott and Percy Ferrara.

Left to mourn are her husband and daughters, Patsy and Florence; six sisters and eight brothers. All her sisters and brothers were able to be here, with the exception of one sister living in North Bay.

'Meet the Teacher' night at B'burg Home and School

Brownsburg — The Home and School "Meet the Teacher Night" proved to be as popular as ever on Wednesday last, as some 100 parents walked the halls and sat in classrooms throughout the school. Mothers and fathers listened with interest, and sometimes awe, as the teachers explained the subjects and teaching methods used. The general consensus of some of the parents was that education has come a long way since they attended school!

Among the faces of the teachers in attendance the parents noticed those of five who are teaching in Brownsburg for the first time. — Carol Barclay from Pointe Fortune, Que.; Lorna Clark, from Brownsburg; Eileen Hoare, from Grenville; Elaine Smith and Frances Fletcher, from Saint John, N.B. The first three listed attended Macdonald College, while the latter two are graduates of Fredericton Teachers' College.

With parents being interested in the actual class teachers who shepherd their children, Miss Carol Barclay, the Physical Education instructor, and Miss Ruby Primmerman, the French specialist, were not hard pushed for explanations of their activities. A thought for the future — since for obvious reasons these two fields should be, and no doubt are, of great importance to parents, perhaps they could be shown to advantage sometime in the near future.

Brownsburg Home and School meetings are always well attended, attesting to the fact that the Association executive usually comes up with interesting and profitable programs and projects. On the books for this year is a study of education, designed to determine whether a practical system of vocational guidance can be integrated into the school system locally.

Of interest also — the military whist set for Friday evening, October 28, sponsored by the Association and the Students' Council.

Kilmar

Sympathy of this community is extended to the family and friends of the late Zotique Proulx of Harrington, and the late Mrs. Fred McGill of Lachute.

A large number of people from Kilmar attended the Union banquet held at the Montana Inn, Pointe au Chene; an enjoyable time was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bigelow, of Bryson, Que., spent some time at Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bigelow's last week; they also attended the funeral of the late Mr. Zotique Proulx.

Mrs. Ernest Fox was hostess at a birthday party held in her honor last Thursday; about a dozen ladies attended and a pleasant afternoon was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Villeneuve, Mrs. E. Noble and Mrs. J. Noble motored to Toronto recently, to visit relatives and friends.

Parents and Hallowe'en

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"My Mum thinks Hallowe'en is one awful nuisance! She'll be glad when it is over! Tommy said sadly, "What does your Mum say?" John looked horrified at his chum's remarks, and then answered frankly: "Oh, we have fun at our house at Hallowe'en!"

A nuisance — or fun — what a contrast in the atmosphere in Tommy's and John's homes towards the end of October! What is your attitude to special days in the calendar like Hallowe'en? It makes all the difference to family good times if the parents, especially mothers, look at the plans and nonsense which are associated with the eve of All Saint's Day with kindly eyes.

Busy children are happy children and most mothers of small children know that investment in handicraft supplies is money well spent. Sheets of orange and black cardboard can be cut into pumpkins, witches, black cats, and all sorts of designs or silhouette scenes. Large, soft wax crayons with a paper covering are easy for little fingers to grasp and large sheets of wrapping paper or pages from an old wallpaper sample book can give the young artist many enjoyable half hours. Colored chalk and a blackboard or pastel crayons and colored drawing sheets are appreciated by school age youngsters for their Hallowe'en drawings. But small jars of poster paints each with its own brush and large sheets of paper provide the best fun of all!

Hallowe'en is "dressing up time!" Wise is the mother who has a trunk or a large carton filled with articles of clothing which can be used on just such occasions! All sorts of things come in handy — gloves, scarves, purses, bits of lace and ribbon, artificial flowers and feathers as well as old dresses and suits.

Children love to pretend and there is nothing which many of them enjoy more than acting in a play. Sometimes Hallowe'en costumes start them on a series of Saturday afternoon dramatics planned and produced by a neighborhood "gang." It doesn't seem to matter if the number in the audience is very few — what each child wants to do is to be in the play for some part, long or short!

It is too bad that the custom of calling on the homes of friends in masquerade costumes, in many large centres, has degenerated into a large-scale "Shell Out" campaign — though fortunate that this custom is now increasingly channeled to humanitarian needs, through the UNICEF organization.

Candy-making has quite an impetus at Hallowe'en time in many homes. This is a good time to let a son or daughter learn how to read a recipe carefully, assemble all the necessary ingredients and utensils, and then follow the directions exactly. There is no candy which tastes quite so good as a piece of one's own making!

Hallowe'en also provides a discussion on property damage in many households. When does a prank, or a practical joke, overstep the bounds of good sense? Is Hallowe'en a valid excuse for a gang of fellows to destroy fences, gates, etc., and break windows? Is this really rather childish? What does your youngster think about the destruction of your own and other people's property?

Possibly his ideas and standards are quite different from yours. He may feel much less responsible about the neighbor's possessions than you do! But it is worthwhile to let each other know what you are thinking and why. If you believe in democracy and free speech in theory — an adolescent in your home plus Hallowe'en gives you the chance to put some of your theories into practice in the friendly exchange of ideas!

Hallowe'en apples

Closely associated with our memories of country fairs and exhibitions this past summer are the sparkling, rosy red candy apples on a stick which tempted us from almost every refreshment booth. Candy apples can also be made at home, and with Hallowe'en in the offing, we're sure that many a young cook would love to try her hand at helping mother dip some for the Hallowe'en party. The home economists of the Consumer Section give you their tested recipe for Candy Apples.

Candy Apples

Wash and polish medium red apples. Remove stems and stick wooden skewers well down into stem end of apples. For 9 apples, combine 3 cups granulated sugar, ¾ teaspoon cream of tartar, ½ teaspoon salt and 1 cup water in deep saucepan or top part of double boiler. Add red food coloring until syrup is desired color.

Place saucepan over direct heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. Then cook rapidly without stirring to " medium crack" stage (290°F.) or until syrup when dropped into cold water forms a rather brittle thread. To prevent syrup turning to sugar do not stir while syrup is boiling.

As soon as syrup reaches 290°F., remove from heat, keep warm and immediately begin dipping apples, one at a time. Twirl about and place, stick up, on waxed paper to cool and harden.

W.I. to organize UNICEF Hallowe'en

The fun, the excitement, the colorful costumes traditionally associated with Hallowe'en have remained unchanged, but something new has been added. Now the joy of giving enhances the pleasure of receiving, the spirit of helping brings a new significance to an evening of merriment. Enthusiastic children who share their Hallowe'en treats know that in many parts of the world the most coveted "treat" is treatment for a maiming disease. They know that the coins they collect can mean that another child will escape the ravages of malnutrition. Such a result increases the enjoyment of Hallowe'en as children realize the satisfaction that comes from helping others.

By the same token, adults welcome this opportunity to channel youthful energies along constructive rather than destructive lines.

The Women's Institute in Lachute, sponsoring this effort locally, is distributing black and yellow Hallowe'en boxes and identifying tags to young participants, through the schools and Sunday Schools. Support of the public will be appreciated.

FACINATING FOREIGN FOODS SOUTH AFRICAN "BOBOTEE"

"BOBOTEE"

½ cup onion, chopped
2 tablespoons butter or oil
1 slice of white bread
1 cup milk
2 eggs, beaten
1 pound ground beef
1-½ teaspoons to 1 tablespoon curry powder
Juice of 1 lemon
12 almonds, chopped
8 dried apricots, soaked and chopped
¼ cup chutney
Salt and pepper to taste

1. Saute onion in butter or oil until golden brown.
2. Soak bread in milk, remove and squeeze dry. Add beaten eggs to milk.
3. Mix the beef with bread, onion, curry powder, lemon juice, almonds, apricots, chutney, salt and pepper.
4. Add half of egg mixture and blend well. Place in a greased shallow baking dish or 6 individual casseroles. Hollow center slightly to allow for rising.
5. Bake in moderate oven (350°) for 20 minutes.
6. Remove and pour rest of egg mixture on top.
7. Return to oven and continue baking until custard sets, about 25 minutes.
8. Serve with yellow rice.

Serves 6.

Food value in new fish chowder

In the crisp days of autumn, a hearty warming fish chowder is a welcome dish. It tastes good, and it is good for you. All of the fine flavor and food value of the fish and vegetables is retained. None is discarded in cooking liquid. Here is a recipe for a wonderful fish chowder with stick-to-the-ribs quality. Make it using any variety of fish fillets desired. Cod and haddock fillets are especially recommended.

Autumn Fish Chowder

1 Pound fish fillets, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons cooking oil or butter, ½ cup thinly sliced onion, ½ cup sliced carrot, ½ cup sliced celery, 1 can (20 ounces) tomatoes, ½ cup uncooked noodles, 4 cups boiling water, 1 tablespoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, finely grated Parmesan cheese.

Cut fillets into 6 portions of about equal size. Sprinkle with lemon juice and allow to marinate in refrigerator while preparing broth. Heat fat in a deep saucepan; add onion, carrot and celery; cook over low heat for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add tomatoes, noodles, boiling water, salt and pepper. Add fish and lemon juice, again bring to simmering temperature, cover and simmer 10 minutes longer. To serve, place a piece of fish in each warmed soup bowl, fill the bowls with chowder and sprinkle with a little grated Parmesan cheese. Makes 6 servings.

SPARSE POPULATION

Exclusive of the Territories, Canada has less than nine persons per square mile of area, while density of population in the U.S. exceeds 50 persons per square mile.

Teatime Topics

Specially Written for The Lachute Watchman By Edna Blakely, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Nurses everywhere are expected to hail a move by Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children to conduct a nursing survey.

The work will be done by Gertrude H. Hall, former director of nursing service and education at the Calgary General Hospital, and will start next January.

Although some of the results will be applicable to other hospitals, the Hospital for Sick Children with one-third of its population made up of infants, is expected to present some unique problems.

The superintendent of nurses, Jean Masten, says the normal daily care of the babies never lets up. "If a nurse can be relieved of some duties, non-essential to nursing, the quality and quantity of nursing will improve."

The pattern of nursing has changed so that the nurse "no longer does things for the patient; she does things with the patient," Miss Hall said.

Added Zest

Want to add pep to your meals? Pick up some interesting herbs the next time you visit the grocer.

Here are suggestions from the Ontario department of agriculture's information branch:

Chicken soup can be livened up with a pinch of rosemary or a dish of paprika. Serve with crackers spread with cheese and sprinkled with celery seed.

There's renewed interest in tomato juice if a pinch of dill seed or a bit of oregano is added.

Stuffed celery is enhanced if caraway seed is mixed with cream cheese and sprinkled with paprika.

Onion salt, dill or caraway seed is a welcome addition to cottage cheese.

Savory, tarragon or mustard gives superb flavoring to devilled eggs.

Season potato salad with plenty of celery seed or, for subtle flavor, cook potatoes with a bay leaf onion.

Transforms Salad

Tossed salad is transformed by adding curry powder to an oil-vinegar dressing.

Vegetables can be brightened too. Add thyme or a pinch of garlic salt to green beans and try sprinkling beets with tarragon while cooking, or use a little tarragon vinegar for a tart flavor.

Herbs may also be used with meat. Flavor hamburg patties with basil or season with curry powder. Blended marjoram and savory may be added to the basting sauce of roast pork.

If you're frying chicken, try sprinkling the pieces with thyme and marjoram, then roll in flour. Chicken pie tastes better if poultry dressing is added to the crust.

Basil brings a subtle flavor to beef stew as dill seed will if sprinkled on lamb chops before broiling. And try seasoning meat balls with savory, mustard or garlic salt.

Bear Rugs

For years bear hunters have been getting scatter rugs made from the bears they shoot. A Canadian company now has come up with a panda bear rug for children.

The life-like head opens to allow the child to pull it over his head if he wants to play at being a bear.

Wife Preservers

It's a temptation to set a wooden salad bowl full of tossed salad in the refrigerator to keep the lettuce crisp until time to eat. Don't do it! Both heat and cold are damaging to woods.

For sport wear or marketing

Accurate proportioned tailoring marks this smart slack suit, an ideal way to achieve the suave look for sports or marketing. McCall Patterns 5263 and 5262 are made up in pale blue Arnel blend flannel. The fabric is soft, but firmly woven to retain shape beautifully. It washes without worry and needs only a light touch of the iron.

Grandson of late Rev. Jas. Fraser died recently

Meaford, Ont. — Sympathy is expressed here to the Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Fraser in the loss of their son, John.

John (a grandson of the late Rev. Fraser, minister at Cushing and Pointe Fortune), was born October 10, 1917, at Black River Bridge, N.B. He received his education at Cushing, Que., and various places in Ontario.

For the past ten years he conducted a general store at Baltimore, in the Cobourg district. Before entering into business, he had worked with the Alton Douglas Lumber Company at Kiosk and the Goodyear Rubber Company at New Toronto.

In February of this year, Mr. Fraser entered Toronto General Hospital; he underwent surgery and treatment for a brain tumour, returning home in June. He entered Cobourg Hospital in September, and died there October 3.

He was married 12 years ago to the former Flora E. MacLellan of Mimico, who survives with a son, Ian Hugh, at home. Five brothers and two sisters also survive, all of whom were in attendance at the funeral services October 6, at the United Church, Baltimore. They are — Philip, of C.N.R. School No. 3, Redditt, Ont.; Major J. T. Fraser, M.C., of Vancouver; Dr. M. M. Fraser, F.R.C.S., of Regina; Rev. Donald R. of Byron, Ont.; Neil A., of Kingston; Bessie, Mrs. A. G. Reynolds, of Toronto; and Alma, Mrs. Harvey McKinlay, of Ravenna.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Wm. E. Sunter, of Baltimore United Church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. A. G. Reynolds of Toronto, and the Rev. Earl Toombs, of Campbellford. Interment was in the United Church Cemetery at Baltimore.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the wife and family of the late Mr. Zotique Proulx.

BIRD-CALLING

Bird-calling, a new hobby, can be enjoyed by everyone — reports the Reader's Digest. Even a beginner can summon birds to his window. All he needs is a record player and an album of bird songs. The best time to call birds is in early spring, preferably before noon, but some birds, like bluejays and owls, may come at any time of the year.

Visit to Lachute's 'Filtration Plant'

Scenes recorded at recent tour to water intake organized by Lachute Chamber of Commerce

"Elementary, Dr. Watson!"

Here is the device which serves to filter the town's drinking water — a wire screen which may be raised and lowered by cables and pulleys. When the screen is inadvertently left in a raised position, householders are liable to find wrigglers or minnows "on tap".

— But not too sanitary

This corner of the "filtration plant" can scarcely be considered weather proof; but at least it lets the daylight in. But worse still, visitors found it situated in a swamp littered with dead branches and vegetation.

An imposing structure

Here is Lachute's "filtration plant" — a shack covered with galvanized iron sheeting, which houses the "filter". Water samples are taken at this spot.

Not for sight-seeing

Not far from the "filtration plant", a half-submerged boat gathering leaves and branches may be seen in the stream feeding Lachute's water system.

BIG ENOUGH TO BE A BETTER BUY

1961 Meteor Montcalm four-door hardtop, one of Ford of Canada's fine cars—built in Canada.

A car claiming room for six should also deliver comfort. And luggage space big enough for six. The new Meteor—with its distinctive straight line look—delivers. It's a better buy because it's the roomiest Meteor ever. The most stylish and the most comfortable. ■ Fact is, there isn't a car near it in price that can better the space it offers. And yet, outside, Meteor is actually trimmer than last year by noticeable inches. Trims operating costs, too, because of new built-in maintenance features ■ Now you will normally drive 30,000 miles between lubrications, up to 4,000 miles between oil changes. Brakes adjust themselves automatically. And Meteor's muffler now lasts three times as long as most others ■ All this plus an all-new Warranty for 12,000 miles or one full year – whichever comes first ■ The new Meteor is a better buy because it's big enough—in size and savings!

Certain features illustrated or mentioned are standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

The Problem of Survival

By Lewis Milligan

Freedom of the press is a cardinal principle of democracy. That includes not only freedom to express opinions on public questions and government policies, but also freedom to operate commercially. The preservation of those two freedoms, which are really one and interdependent, is the objective of the Federal Government in appointing a Royal Commission on Canadian Magazines and Periodicals.

In explaining the reasons for the Commission, the Order in Council states that the publishers of Canadian periodicals have made repeated representations to the effect that the financial results of publishing such periodicals have been deteriorating because of growing inequitable competition from foreign periodicals in various forms. Such competition includes the publication of "Canadian editions" of U.S. magazines and the printing in the United States of special "runs" to be sold in Canada and for which Canadian advertising is solicited. It is pointed out that both the circulation revenues and the advertising revenues are affected by these factors, and the Canadian publishers claim that they are in urgent need of relief by some form of government action.

For confirmation of that claim, one has only to glance at the stacks of American publications of all kinds prominently displayed for sale not only on news stands, but in drug stores, supermarkets, small shops in side streets, and in restaurants. The aggregate sale of this imported printed matter must be enormous. Think of what that means in adding to our big debit balance of trade with the United States, to say nothing of its depressing effect on our home printing trade and publishing business.

Apart altogether from the financial drain on our economy involved, the effect of this monopoly is to Americanize the thinking and emotions of Canadian readers. The Order in Council calls attention to this as follows: "It is widely recognized that if Canada is to continue the development of a strong national identity its publications must play a vital part; for a strong and healthy periodical press, including both those publications which are of particular interest to general consumers and those which circulate in more restricted fields, such as professional and business publications, contribute substantially to the general development of any nation."

This is not to accuse American publishers of a deliberate attempt to denationalize us. Those publishers are enterprising businessmen who compete with each other by catering to the American public. They can hardly be blamed for seeking a wider market, especially such a convenient and wide-open one just over the border. The problem is very complicated, and the purpose of the Royal Commission is to gather and examine factual material and make recommendations for government action to relieve Canadian publishers of what they regard as annihilating competition.

Parasites on Christmas trees

Ottawa — Before Christmas trees are cut for market, growers should examine the new needles for small swellings caused by gall midge larvae.

Infested needles are shed in late fall, and trees with a noticeable number of galls are likely to be rejected at the shipping yard for that reason.

However, Canada Department of Agriculture forestry experts R. S. Forbes and C. C. Smith of Fredericton, N.B., claim that midge larvae seldom injure a tree seriously. If left until the larvae's attack is subsided, infested trees usually recover and can be cut for the Christmas trade.

Infestations of gall midges occur in Eastern Canada every few years, in trees of all ages, but mostly younger trees and those of poor vigor are attacked. The insects were numerous in many parts of the Maritime Provinces from 1956 to 1958, but since then numbers in most areas have declined.

Other insects that attack the midges help to keep these pests under control, but no satisfactory insecticide has yet been obtained to do this job.

Farm products to Czechoslovakia

Ottawa, Oct. 19 — A six-man delegation from Czechoslovakia, winding up a three-week visit to Canada, announced that it has purchased 100,000 bushels of flaxseed, 100 tons of hybrid corn, 50 tons of alfalfa seed, 2,000 baby chicks and 30 Holstein heifers and one bull.

Indications were that there may be more business between the two countries.

Assistance seen for Canadian textile producers

Ottawa (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming indicated that the Government is considering further assistance to Canadian textile producers.

Mr. Fleming, speaking to the Canadian Woollen and Knit Goods Manufacturers Association, gave no specific promise of tariff protection, but indicated that assistance is under consideration in two specific areas.

He urged the industry to give the Government its views on tariff board recommendations concerning tariffs on hosiery and knitted goods, marrow fabrics, lace and embroideries and wool manufactures.

"The Government," he said, "is considering renegotiation of these (tariff) items as a group".

Mr. Fleming reviewed the quotas imposed by Japan on textile exports to Canada and said the Government is preparing to negotiate quotas for 1961.

"Imports from Hong Kong into Canada of several of the textile products upon which Japan applies controls have increased substantially this year," he added. "Further increases in imports of these products from Hong Kong could recreate the disorderly situation in our market which the Japanese have taken steps to avoid."

Readers prefer newspaper ads

The quality of the weekly newspapers has forged ahead in the last decade and will rise to new heights in the next ten years, Werden Leavens of the Bolton (Ont.) Enterprise, in-coming president of the C.W.-N.A., told delegates to the recent annual convention in Vancouver.

"While we must be spurred on by the competition of other media, we must constantly remember that we are not so much in competition with television and radio, but with ourselves, to turn out better papers.

"Advertising is the life blood of our industry, and we must constantly study our position in these changing times", Mr. Leavens said.

He referred to a recent survey which showed that 65 per cent of the people polled prefer to read advertising in newspapers and only 14.5 per cent preferred television as an advertising medium. In the same survey, 61 per cent preferred television without advertising; 68 per cent preferred newspapers with advertising.

Retiring President Leslie E. Barber, of the Chilliwack (B.C.) Progress, told editors that putting a dog into orbit might have earth-shaking consequences, but was not necessarily the most important thing that happens to a man during the day.

"There is strong emphasis today on newspaper reporting which interprets all that happens in the race for space", Mr. Barber said. "The average person can absorb only so much about satellites and missiles. When events happen which he only vaguely understands, he turns to those things he does understand . . . .

"He understands his weekly newspaper, since he is keenly interested in how much his taxes are going up, who won the bonspiel, and where the Smiths went on their holidays."

This is the need, he said, which Canada's 750 weekly newspapers fill in the lives of many Canadians.

"Weekly publishers try to publish the news faithfully and honestly, and to run a profitable business. In an era of rising costs the latter objective has become relatively more important than it was 50 years ago, because our plants now represent substantial investments and the return from the labor dollar spent is constantly shrinking.

Western horses find eager buyers

WHAT'S NEW

The Financial Post regularly reports on new products, new uses, new ideas, new money-makers. Here's the latest:

A room air-conditioner now incorporates a clock timer which can be pre-set to start the air-conditioner at any desired hour.

Red tissue is not caused by a bloody nose, reports The Financial Post. It's dyed so hunters can blow their noses without fear that somebody will mistake their handkerchief for the white flash of a deer's tail. The "flare red" tissue comes in pocket-size packs.

A blackboard duster now comes in an aerosol can. The spray cleaner returns the surface of the chalkboard to its original black or green, the maker says. You hold the can about 12 inches from the board, spray it lightly, then wipe it dry with a clean cloth. A 16-oz. can will clean an area of about 20 sq. ft. 200 times, it is claimed.
