Scene of half-million investment to improve town's water supply

In a morass of mud and materials, heavy machinery on tractor treads has been working to complete the new reservoir and filtration plant on schedule. A huge cement truck of 26-ton capacity was pouring pre-mix concrete for the dam, when our reporters visited the scene recently. Cement work was proceeding almost around the clock, following delays caused by heavy snowfall, and anticipating a curtailment of cement supplies due to closing of the highways to heavy traffic.

During the winter, the actual construction has been carried on beneath plastic coverings, as seen above, but these have now been removed.

The stream at Pollock's Falls has been diverted past this site through a wood-lined channel. Thawing in the upper reaches has been normal, but any undue flooding must inevitably stir more mud than usual into the stream presently feeding Lachute's water system.

Our photographer took this view from the top of a power pole, on which electricians were installing insulators for the cables. The structures seen in the picture will include a concrete dam, intake and spillway, sedimentation basin, offices, laboratory and chemical storage, filter units and controls, and reservoirs for filtered water supply. There is reasonable anticipation by the contractors, H. J. O'Connell Ltd. and Pollock-McGibbon Ltd., that the work will be completed by the end of May.

Illegal to pass halted schoolbus

Motorists are once again advised by Cpl. Maurice Dinelle of the Quebec Provincial Police, that it is a violation of the law to pass a school bus stopped to take on or disembark passengers. These buses may not be passed from either direction, and prosecution of offenders will be pressed with severity.

Officers elected for Rotary year

At last week's meeting of the Brownsburg-Lachute Rotary Club, new officers were elected for the coming Rotary year (July 1, 1962, to June 30, 1963).

At a previous meeting the Board of Directors drew up their slate of officers to do the most efficient job for the club; this was presented at a regular meeting for the members' approval and in some cases further nominations were made from the floor. Where there was more than one nomination for the same office, a vote was taken. As a result of this procedure, the in-coming officers are as follows:

President, Jack MacKimmie; vice-president, Larry Presseault; secretary, Les Davies; treasurer, John Giles.

Directors — Bill Morrow, Tom Johnson, Ron Barnett, George Desfosses.

The members extended congratulations to the new officers and wished them the best for a successful year, in their personal drive for the betterment of Rotary International.

Thieves active over week-end —

Safe robberies reported in hotel and private residence

Burglars had an active week-end in Lachute, and two safes were robbed during Saturday night. One was at the Hotel St-Onge, Foundry Street, where the 350-lb. safe was removed bodily, and the other was at the home of Mr. Thomas Ayers, where the strongbox was rifled on the premises and the robbers helped themselves.

At St-Onge Hotel

Theft of the safe at Hotel St-Onge was discovered around 12.30 a.m. on Sunday, in a lapse between two floor-shows presented in the grill. It appears the safe had been rolled the length of an 80-foot corridor and heaved from the second storey into a snowbank, where it was loaded into a vehicle waiting at the rear of the premises.

Constables Réal Arcouette, André Laurin and Roméo Gagné arrived from town police headquarters around 12.35 a.m., and were joined by Chief Hebert, also Officer Fauchon of the Provincial Police.

Later on Sunday a woman resident notified police that there was a safe in the St. Louis Montée area. Cpl. Maurice Dinelle and Officer J. P. Légaré, of the Provincial Police, went to the spot and brought back the safe, which was the one missing from the hotel. It is understood it had contained about $300 in cash, $2,500 in cheques, some jewelry and insurance policies.

Police are continuing their investigation.

At West End Residence

Entry to the Ayers residence, on Queen Street, was gained by breaking in the front door, facing the river. An exact estimate of the loss is unknown; the Ayers family, presently vacationing in Hawaii, are expected home later this week.

According to Cpl. Dinelle, of the Quebec Provincial Police, the safe in this case was opened by smashing it with an axe and other tools. Known to have been stolen are four or five fur coats, bonds and securities, jewelry, a TV set and a radio. The robbery took place Saturday night, and was discovered early Sunday.

Boats on flooded river, more homes on the move

(Our District Correspondent)

Cushing — The newly-formed lake on the Ottawa River has had the first boats on its surface — seen on the Ontario side. The occupants of one appeared to be fishing, while those in the other boat appeared to be trying to salvage cedar logs and posts which had been frozen into the water, raised by the partial flooding some time ago. A fallen tree which also had been frozen into the water on the Ontario side, suddenly popped up on the Quebec side on Thursday, and will remain there, its cedar branches waving, until a stiff wind starts it on a journey farther downstream.

Cushing homes seem to have been on the move these past two weeks. . . .

On Friday of the previous week persons using the road leading to Cushing from St. Philippe, found their way blocked from both sides by the former home of Mrs. A. Starnes, obstructing the road just below the hill at Donat Guay's. Travellers had to turn around and find an alternative route to their destinations. Again on Saturday, the same house was obstructing motorists around St. Philippe, as it was being hauled up No. 8 highway to its new position in Chatboro. . . . On Monday motorists using the Gauley Montée had to turn, and again find some other way to reach their destination, as the kitchen part of the old Starnes home was being drawn up to Route 8 on that road.

Early Saturday morning the former summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Longmore (and later of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson, Montreal) was moved swiftly down the Cushing front road and up about three acres on the Ostrem sideroad. The basement excavation had been made and the house was set on beams. This house was purchased from Hydro-Quebec by Mr. Decoste, of Grece's Point, who plans to make his home there in future.

Dunlop salutes trucking industry

A "hero award" from Dunlop Canada Ltd., accompanied by an engraved gold watch, was presented last week to a Boyd's Express driver, Jules Laurin, who was instrumental in saving nine-year-old André Loyer from drowning through the North River ice a year ago, March 7, 1961.

Young Loyer, on his way home from school, crashed through the ice near the Wilson Paper Co. dam. He was holding onto the ice with both hands when Laurin and a Wilson employee, Francois Leduc, were able to reach him by means of a long plank. The boy was taken to the mill clinic, stripped of his clothing, wrapped in a blanket and treated for shock.

Firemen called to three outbreaks during past week

A potentially serious blaze was averted early Tuesday morning at Desrosiers Automobiles, Brownsburg Road, with the early arrival of Roger Massie, a garage employee, who at 7.15 opened the garage door to see flames shooting from the air compressor compartment.

He immediately summoned the Lachute Volunteer Fire Brigade. The firemen quickly extinguished the blaze, which was still confined to the immediate area and had not spread into the ceiling. . . . The damage was slight.

A fire on the St. Jerome Highway, near the junction of Route 30, caused several thousand dollars' damage on Wednesday of last week. Firemen were summoned at 9.25 a.m. and arrived at the building, owned by Lorne D. Campbell and occupied by Edgar Villeneuve, to find the kitchen a mass of flames.

A line was laid from the booster tank on the fire truck and using "fog" (water sprayed under high pressure), the fire was extinguished with a minimum of damage. This was one of the first actual tests by the local department in the use of "fog", and according to Assistant Chief Harold Deacon, the method proved to be highly successful.

The building was partially covered by insurance, while the effects were un-insured. All contents of the kitchen were lost, and smoke and heat damage was reported in the remainder of the building.

Extensive damage to a truck owned and operated by the firm of H. J. O'Connell was reported by Fire Chief Don McCulloch on Monday, when the vehicle caught fire on Grace Street. No reason for the outbreak was apparent, as the driver had only just started the truck and was allowing it to warm up following the cold-snap of Sunday night.

C-I-L representative, former townsboy, feted by sporting groups in Manitoba

A flowery tribute appears in a western newspaper to Bob Todd, a C-I-L ammunition sales representative in Winnipeg, who has been transferred by his company to Toronto offices. After nine years in the West, promoting the interests of outdoors and sporting organizations, he was feted by various groups on his departure.

Bob, a graduate of Lachute High School and formerly with C-I-L at Brownsburg, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Todd, of that community.

Following are extracts from the news story on his departure:

Attending the different meetings were representatives of gun-dog groups, rifle and pistol associations, youth movements, and the dozens of game and fish federation locals across the province that Bob has worked with in his nine years here.

All had two things in common, love for the outdoors and respect for Bob.

All had nice things to say about Bob — some flowery, others folksy — but they all reflected the imprint he had left on the outdoor field in Manitoba.

His job was to boost ammunition sales, but he did more than that. He boosted the whole outdoors.

Of all the groups which benefitted from Bob's touch — and they were many — the most lasting benefit will be felt among the youngsters.

Working with the committee of the Junior Rifle, a training program of the Game and Fish Federation, he lent his knowledge to help build the program into one of the leading safety programs of its kind on the continent.

Thousands of boys and girls have been graduated with the know-how to handle firearms safely.

Bob has been transferred to Toronto by his firm, which puts him back among the trout streams of his youth.

He'll take back with him a fly rod to work those streams, and many testimonial gifts.

Bereavement here in triple fatality, N'fld hotel fire

Sympathy of many friends is extended to Mr. Ralph FitzGerald and members of the FitzGerald family in the death of their brother, Arthur, in a hotel fire at Harbour Grace, Newfoundland.

Three bodies were recovered last Wednesday after a blaze which swept the 24-room hotel. The victims were Arthur FitzGerald, 64; Mrs. Louis MacKay, 39, and her nine-year-old daughter, Carol. All were permanent boarders in the hotel. Few people were in the wood-frame building at the time of the blaze.

Mr. FitzGerald, a bachelor, had been in impaired health for a number of years, as a result of injuries sustained in World War I. He last visited his brothers here, Ralph and the late Dr. Walter FitzGerald, two and a half years ago.

Mr. Ralph FitzGerald proceeded to St. John's, Nfld., by air to attend to the funeral arrangements. The funeral was held Saturday, with burial at Harbour Grace.

The late Arthur FitzGerald is survived by his brother and sister, Ralph and Mrs. W. J. Jones (Geraldine), both of Lachute, also a brother, George, of Vancouver.

New directories distributed by Bell Telephone

The 1962 telephone directory for the Lachute area is off the press. New issues go into the mail this week, on their way to homes and offices in some 20 district localities.

According to regional Bell Telephone manager Bernard A. Parent, 36,789 copies of the directory will be distributed this year,

Restriction on truckload weights

All county roads are under the "thawing-out" restrictions at present, the enforcement having commenced at midnight last Sunday.

Transport and truck operators are requested to contact the local Provincial Police office for information as to the weight of loads permitted, so as to prevent unnecessary trouble on the highways.

'Is Separatism the Answer?' winning speech in contest by Toastmasters in B'burg

Brownsburg — "Is Separatism the Answer?", was the title of the winning speech by Alex Abugov, at the Brownsburg Legion Hall last Saturday night.

The occasion was the annual speech contest for an Area group of clubs, when 100 Toastmasters, their wives and guests, gathered for dinner with host President Lloyd Thomas of the Hawkesbury Club in the chair.

Alex Abugov, businessman from Cornwall representing the Seaway Club, defeated three contenders — Wes Freeland, for Hawkesbury; Lloyd Taylor, for Valleyfield; and Ken Davies, for Chateauguay clubs.

Beauharnois, the fifth club in the group, conduct their regular meetings in French and decided not to have a contestant in this part of the program, which consisted of prepared speeches of seven minutes' duration.

In the impromptu section, where contestants were given a choice of three topics and about an hour for preparation of a two-minute talk, their representative, Phil Lemay, made a good case for compulsory voting. However, the winner of these briefer speeches was Martin Lindner of Valleyfield, who gave an impassioned talk in favor of a more open immigration policy for Canada.

Walt Valters, of Lachute, won the Best Critic Award among the clubs, for constructively evaluating a speech given for that purpose.

Lloyd Thomas introduced the guests, who included Stan Clendening of Valleyfield, Lieutenant Governor of the Eastern Canada Toastmasters District, and Mrs. Clendening; Les Camus, president of the Brownsburg Branch of the

Jr. Chambers plan regional meet here April 8

Junior Chambers of Commerce of the Laurentides Region will assemble for their general meeting next Sunday at L'Ecole Secondaire, Lachute. The meeting starts at 1 p.m.

This will also be the first general meeting of the new Lachute Junior Chamber of Commerce, whose affiliation with the Quebec Federation was announced by the charter president, Jacques Michaud, on March 11.

A special invitation to this Sunday conference has been extended to young businessmen of Terrebonne and Ste. Therese. It is hoped to see Junior Chambers established in each of these centres in the near future, to augment the regional organization.

"ARGENTEUIL OUTDOORS"

By BOB ATCHISON

The General Report of the Minister of Game and Fisheries has just come to hand. This makes very pretty reading at times. Dealing only with the periods of '55-56 to '59-60, it shows in a very small way just what this present regime has done for our wildlife, etc. For instance, in '59-60 there were SUPPOSED TO BE 65,000 Speckled fry, 4,000 fingerlings and 4,136 yearlings released in the County of Argenteuil. Along with the 3,000 fingerlings of Lake or Grey trout that were released, this is a good number. However, just where these fish were stocked is not shown, and I, along with a great number of other fishermen, sure would like to know just where these trout were placed. My only thought is PRIVATE CLUBS.

As for the moose kill, it doesn't look too bad on paper, and with this information only to 1960, it does not show the true figures. From the period of '56 until '61, the moose kill has increased almost threefold. This is not funny, even though some may laugh it off. A disaster is upon us as regards our wildlife and it is going to take a lot of forceful laws to get it back in shape. Even the fines levied for this period do not look too good. Just over $10,000 difference during this period, and when you consider all the promises of how poaching was going to be a thing of the past in Quebec, it makes unconvincing reading. Instead of the poacher being hit hard, he is being helped in almost every way to break the laws.

As we all know, the matter of fines has always been a laughing matter in Quebec, and especially this past couple of years. What the trouble is can only be guessed at — and it's a good chance your guess is right.

With the present discord in party ranks, it is not too hard to see what is going to happen to our own County regarding natural resources.

Now for something more optimistic. Streams and rivers are starting to show signs of life, and this is more than welcome. We have an opening in the river from the overflow of our spring. This runs the year round, no matter how cold. Anyway, this morning I was able to watch a muskrat feeding in this opening. Some place along the way it had found a beat-up carrot, and believe me, it sure was enjoying this. It hung around for about half an hour, until a couple of red squirrels showed up, robbing the bird feeders. The blacks are out now in great numbers, and it looks like a good year for them. Birds by the dozens are all over, scrounging for food. More hawks have shown up, and these have chased the starlings out in a big way. I am glad of this; the next thing to be chased is the crows, and I still certainly do my part in this matter!

I wonder how many of you read the article in the Montreal Star about the wild dogs of Tristan da Cunha and their killing of 700 sheep. There were only 15 dogs left on this island when it was abandoned in October, and since then they have all turned to killing — with the result they all had to be destroyed. Leaving them behind was an inhuman thing to do in the first place, to my way of thinking.

A preview of the new boats in the Boat Show for the Outdoors Writers of Canada, certainly brings home the fact that boating is no longer a back-room sport. Boats of all shapes and sizes were on view. In most of them, the safety factors play a big role.

Seeing some of these boats gave me the impression that boat builders are finally waking up to the fact that this is a family sport, and that special care should be given for their protection. Of course, for the real super-speed fan, there were the souped-up outboards capable of speeds up to 80 miles an hour. I wondered about this a little; I may be wrong, but it would seem to me the rating on these types should be, not "miles per gallon", but "gallons per mile".

A one-man submarine was also on display, along with a dream of a boat — a Chinese junk that was built in Hong Kong. Not finished as we would expect a boat to be, in chrome fittings, etc., it was obviously built with pride in their craft. The show-stopper, however, was a Richardson aluminum boat, 40 feet, with the hull made of this metal throughout — cutting the weight in half, with, I believe, a resultant economy in running. . . . They sure did have some beauties at this show.

While in town, I also had the opportunity of seeing some of the new rods from England. These were all of bamboo, or cane, whichever you prefer to call it. A few of the dealers stated that this type of rod is increasing once more in popularity, and they seemed to think the trend would increase. I'm inclined to believe that too — or until a glass rod is built that will replace them. Maybe it will, but I don't think I will be around to see it.

Black squirrels have just about taken over the bush these days. It is very sticky going, with lots of moisture, but it is still worth taking a jaunt to see what is doing. Syd Drew was telling me of seeing two deer on the mountain the other morning, but naturally did not have his shooting equipment (cameras) with him. However, going back the next day, photographically loaded for bear and anything else that came along — yes, you guessed it; there were no animals in sight.

A remark was passed by our Attorney General Lapalme a short time ago, that anyone carrying a hand gun in the province was a privileged person. Maybe I'm all wet, but it seems to me that some explanation of this remark should be forthcoming. To begin with, to the best of my knowledge there is no law on ANY statute books that says this. Furthermore, there is no law that says we have to have a permit to carry same. Nor is there a law that says we must be fingerprinted and photographed before getting permission to own same. I may be wrong about all this and would certainly welcome authentic information. But until I learn otherwise, then an explanation is due, to all the gun men in this province.

Don't mistake me — I am still not in favor of everyone having a gun, be it a pea-shooter or a high-powered elephant killer. What I object to is the fact that quotations of every kind come from supposedly responsible sources giving us the impression we are a bunch of dopes and should be treated as such. Another thing that worries me — liberties are so easily taken from people, but very hard to get back. . . . If we think back not too long ago, these same traits were characteristic of a notorious little jerk with a mustache.

Ski Trails

By Ross Cclo,
Director, Ayers Ski School

Carnival day, this past Saturday, proved to be a big success, with all the children and adults having a wonderful time.

Although wet snow descended most of the day, it did not stop the members from joining in the events. Cars started rolling in around 9 a.m., and everything from small tigers to overgrown cats popped out. The costumes displayed originality, style and skill, and they had entailed a lot of thought and work.

The first event was an obstacle race for the Junior members, at 10 a.m. The course, which was set up by Bud Tucker and myself, consisted of straw bales which the children had to pass over and around, and large tires to go through. Besides being a lot of fun, it also gave the onlookers a few laughs.

The obstacle course for adults was similar to the children's, with a few exceptions. Mixed couples were drawn and tied together with a 6-foot length of string. If, during the run, the string broke, it had to be repaired before continuing. The hazardous course included three wine stops stratigically placed to add to the enjoyment of the run. One was placed at the beginning to get them off to a good start; and, needless to say, when they finished, all were quite happy.

The weiner roast started at 3 p.m.; all the children roasted their own, over an open fire. Mustard, relish and cakes were set out on banquet tables, and between the burned and the underdone weiners, they all enjoyed themselves.

The day was rounded out with a Swiss fondue and dancing, to a very good trio, for the adults. Prizes were also awarded to the race winners, for best costumes, limbo and twist contests, and door drawings through the course of the evening.

All in all, everyone seemed to have a wonderful time, and thanks should go to Bill Jones and his social committee for a very well planned and smoothly run event.

The Ram Ski Club, which has just completed its first year of operation, I think, has been a big success. There are presently close to 400 members in the club, and I'm sure it will grow stronger and better. This column is not large enough to include names of the people who have done so much to put the club on a strong foundation this year. I only hope many more will join in and support the activities next year. As the saying goes, you only get out of something just what you put into it.

LHS teams in basketball games

By Carol-Ann Demerse

On Saturday last, the basketball teams from Lemoyne High School visited Lachute High School for four exhibition games.

The first game was between the senior girls. The L.H.S. team were victorious by a score of 36-10. The three local sars were Janis Leblanc, Gwen Matthews and Elizabeth Hay.

The second game was between the Lemoyne Town team and the Lachute Town team — the latter being victorious by the score of 56-33.

The third game was between the two senior girls' teams. L.H.S. won once again, by a score of 29-12. The three local stars were Linda McCaskill, Mary Beth Painter and Betty Elkington.

The final game was between the two senior boys' teams. The Lemoyne team won by the score of 35-43. The three local stars were Gordie MacKay, Gary Cruise and Herbie Underhill.

Fishing Assocn. meeting and films to be held Apl. 11

A general meeting of the Argenteuil Fishing Association is being held April 11 at the Hebert Hotel in Ayersville. (This meeting is being held next Wednesday due to the peak interest in the N.H.L. playoffs on the date previously arranged, April 5.)

Following the opening, at 8 p.m., a financial report and review of the past year's activities will be presented, and plans discussed for the current year.

Two films will occupy the lighter side of the program, one on fishing and the other on the 1961 Stanley Cup series.

There will be door prizes, and the general public are cordially invited to this open meeting.

United Church bowling playoffs

The first round of the Lachute United Church Bowling League playoffs was held on Monday evening, and in the total-point "A" series, both East Settlement (Les Gordon) and All Stars (Reg Stansfield) took a 3-point lead over St. Andrews (Mrs. W. Bridge) and Bluebirds (Mrs. H. Riddell) by identical scores of 9 to 6. These same teams will play against each other next Monday.

In the "B" series elimination contests, Margaret Gordon's Beavers trimmed the perky Teen-agers (Grace Gordon) 15 to 6, while the St. David's foursome (Mrs. E. Armstrong) downed Redwings (Grace Rosser) 11 to 5. The St. George's team (Owen Todd) had a commanding win over Gladys Davis' St. Pat's, 15 to 5, and the other contest of this series was a close fight between Thistles (Jack Gorman) and Maple Leafs (Mrs. D. Smith), with the former team winning 8 to 7.

Line-ups for next week are as follows:

East Settlement vs St. Andrews
All Stars vs Bluebirds

8.15 p.m. —
Beavers vs St. George's
St. David's vs Thistles.

Royal Canadian Legion, and Mrs. Camus; and Dr. and Mrs. Reg Rigby, of Lachute.

Don Hart of Kilmar, Toastmaster Area Governor, then took charge of the meeting which he had organized, and proceeded to conduct the contests. Vic Fahri, of Hawkesbury, chaired the impromptu section.

The 10 judges, two from each club, included George McGibbon of Dalesville and George Dolan of Grenville, local club members.

Dancing concluded the evening, to make a full and enjoyable program.

Topics Heard

There was much food for thought in the speeches. Separatism, a very topical subject, was constructively handled by Alex Abugov. He pointed out the long-term advantage of Quebec's emphasis on a classical education, and how they were rapidly catching up technologically. He also pointed out the need for a strong nation where it will be necessary to compete for our standard of living with larger and larger economic units, as indicated by the Common Markets.

Lloyd Taylor, a business proprietor from Valleyfield, with 12 years in Toastmasters, spoke on the subject, "A Time for Everything". As a businessman, he stressed the need for proper allocation of time. Nothing we do will bring back one second. We must not neglect to live, in our competitive rush for business.

Ken Davies, of the Chateauguay Club, claimed in his talk, "Our Shook-Up World", that we are paying for our comfort with our nerves. In our complicated world today, there are so many decisions to be made constantly, that we are confused. The simpler life of our forefathers meant greater peace of mind. Greater emphasis on the spiritual values must be our aim.

"Stop! Think! And Act!" was a plea by the first speaker in the contest, Wes Freeland, for more and better reading. We learn our moral and spiritual values through experience, or by reading, and life is so short. As the old Dutchman said, "Too soon vee get old, too late vee get Vise". Associating with the great men of the past and present, by reading of their thoughts and feelings in books, magazines and newspapers, cannot help but improve our mental stature. . . . Read for enjoyment, read to improve your job — but don't neglect to read to enrich your life through appreciation of those things that money will not buy, was this speaker's theme.

Six injured in three-car crash at Perley Bridge

Six persons suffered injuries, one being critically hurt, in a three-car collision Saturday afternoon on the Hawkesbury approach to the Perley interprovincial bridge.

The injured were Eugene Dubeau, 45, of Brownsburg, in a serious condition with a fractured knee and multiple head contusions; his wife and 17-year-old daughter, Claire, with facial and leg contusions, both taken to the Smith Clinic at Hawkesbury; Jacques Dicaire, 22, of Hawkesbury, driver of a Lacroix taxi; Mrs. John Fox and her three-year-old granddaughter Laura Lee, of Calumet, who both suffered shock and bruises. The latter two were treated at the Smith Clinic but allowed to return home.

Mr. Dubeau, taken to the Notre Dame Hospital, was later transferred to Montreal for medical care.

The taxi driven by Dicaire first collided with the car occupied by the Dubeau family. The recoil from this latter vehicle caused another collision with a car driven by Mr. Fox. All three autos were badly damaged.

Municipal and Provincial Police officers from Hawkesbury investigated and assisted the victims.

an increase of 2,188 over last year's figure.

More than 4,700 directories will go out in Lachute alone, the Bell Manager said.

"The new edition is effective from April 1st", he added.

This year color plays a special role in the directory publication. The introductory pages of useful telephone tips, are in pink and blue to distinguish English and French.

The front cover features a sketch of the Court House in St. Jerome.

Mr. Parent suggests that you discard your 1961 directory when the new one comes.

Blue books of telephone numbers are available free of charge at the St. Jerome office. Customers are recommended to check their old lists of frequently dialed numbers against the new directory.

OF COBBLERS, LAWYERS, CABBAGES AND KINGS ...

Within the next few weeks, as we in a democracy are wont to do, our Liberal Party Associations, at the local level, will name their delegates to the Liberal Party Convention for the County of Argenteuil - Two Mountains. An old "saw" would have the choice of candidates decided in "smoke-filled back rooms". We, of the Liberal Party in Argenteuil - Two Mountains, know the delegates named will have a choice to make, and that they will reach their decision after mature thought.

Standards have been established over the years, as to what assets a "good candidate" must have.

REAL G. LECUYER

A GOOD CANDIDATE MUST:

— Be of the party in thought and in deeds.

— Have some knowledge of municipal affairs, the cost of public work and services, as well as of the problems of public administration.

— Have shared in the activities of the community and acquired a sense of public responsibilty.

— Have taken part in charitable organizations and in social welfare groups.

— Have joined wholeheartedly in youth activities at any level.

— Have been a leader in town improvement movements.

— Have acquired credits in all the above fields so that he will not be a novice to public affairs when elected to parliament.

A GOOD CANDIDATE MUST ALSO:

— Really want to be a candidate, and not someone who has to be "coaxed" into running because of clan rivalries. He should not be a man who is seeking office as a step to further personal advancement. He must be an "enthusiastic candidate", a ready worker who will keep at it.

Judged from these criteria, and in every one of the above-mentioned spheres, my personal record shows: That I have acquired the necessary factual experience; that I have sought out responsibility when I knew it could be of help; that I have proven I could assume leadership and work without thought of self or personal gain; that I can be a good candidate.

(This advertisement has been published and paid for by the Citizens' Committee supporting the candidature of Réal Lécuyer at the Liberal Convention for the County of Argenteuil-Deux Montagnes.)

Many friends mourn citizen of Ste. Therese

Late Arthur James McGrandel

Residents of Ste. Therese de Blainville and district were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Arthur J. McGrandel, who suffered a heart seizure at his home early Monday morning, March 26.

Arthur, who was in his 53rd year, was the elder son of the late Stewart McGrandel and of his wife Lucy Moore, of L'Annonciation, Que.

Left to mourn his passing, besides his beloved wife (the former Simone Vallee), are two daughters, Lucy and Shirley, a sister (Eva) Mrs. Jack Hodson, of Camp Bouchard, Ste. Therese, and a brother, Stewart, of Morin Heights. He was predeceased by a little son, Norman, at the age of six, on March 4, 1953.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Ste. Therese United Church. The Rev. J. C. Johnson conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. Canon C. W. P. Baugh, of Lakefield.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Henri and Hormidas Vallee, Walter and Charles Leroy, Byers Dodds and Oliver Purcell.

Numerous relatives and friends attended from Montreal, Ottawa, L'Annonciation, Quebec City, Grenville, Weir, Arundel and The Glen.

Interment was made in the family plot in Arundel Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Earl Tomalty, of Detroit, is here this week visiting with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Boyd, Barron Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Rigg spent the week-end visiting with their relatives in St. Johns, Que.

Mrs. John Rayson and Miss Olive Rayson, of Montreal, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dawson, Cottingham Boulevard.

Miss Muriel Lang has entered the nurses' training school of the Catherine Booth Hospital, Montreal.

Mrs. Gerald Lawson and sons, Terry and Kevin, of Ottawa, are spending this week with Mrs. Lawson's mother, Mrs. Norman McRae.

Bereavement

Mr. Ralph FitzGerald returned from Newfoundland Monday midnight, after having travelled by airline for the funeral of his brother, the late Mr. Arthur FitzGerald, who met tragic death in a hotel fire at Harbour Grace, Nfld. . . . Ralph was accompanied here by his brother, George, who was returning to Vancouver after having travelled by air to Newfoundland on receiving news of the tragedy.

Mr. Wayne McRae spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman McRae.

Mrs. Keith Nairn, of Edmonton, spent a week visiting her mother, Mrs. Geo. Morrison, Hill Head.

Wedding Ceremony at United Church Manse

Cooper-Campbell

The marriage of Miss Laurette A. Campbell to Mr. William B. Cooper, both of Montreal, took place last Saturday, March 31, in the United Church manse. The Rev. Wilson Bridge officiated at the quiet ceremony, in the presence of a few very close friends, namely, Mr. and Mrs. John Roy and Mrs. T. C. Cooper, of Montreal, and Mrs. A. F. Bothwell, of Lachute.

After the ceremony the bridal party was entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Bothwell. The bride and groom left shortly afterwards for a motor trip to Washington and Boston.

Attending the funeral of the late Mrs. E. N. Lyon in Sherbrooke last Thursday were — Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Dawson, Ronald Dawson, Mrs. Haddon McDonald and Mrs. Wilbert Sherritt.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Simpson, of Hamilton, were guests of the latter's father, Mr. H. E. Underhill, visiting also with relatives and friends over the week-end, while en route to Montreal, where they attended a dinner in honor of Dr. Rosco, retiring warden of the Royal Victoria College.

Mr. H. E. J. Joyce, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, returned from a two-day conference in Ottawa, where he met with 60 other Scotiabank managers, mostly from Eastern Ontario, to discuss staff, credit, customer relations, international operations, protection and other key aspects of banking.

A "Close-Up" of Interest

This coming Sunday afternoon, a CBC-TV "Close-Up" program on Channel 6 will feature the Laird of Inverlochie (a former Canadian, Joseph Hobbs) at his castle and in his Scottish surroundings. This item will be of special interest to a group of local citizens — Messrs. Jack MacKimmie, Ross Muir, Cliff Cunningham and Melvin Dey (Morin Heights) — who were guests at the Laird's home, north of Fort William, Scotland, on their overseas tour last summer.

Women's group organized, Liberal supporters

Femine supporters of the Liberal cause gathered at the Legion Hall recently to form an Argenteuil County Association.

Above may be seen (first row) — Mme Lucien Durocher, secretary for St. Andrews; Mlle Suzanne St. Pierre, director of Young Liberals; Mme Rose Carriere, secretary for Grenville; Bernard Gosselin; Mr. and Mrs. Rodrigue Durocher; Mme Lucien Clément, French-language representative for Grenville; Mme Raymond Gauthier, organizer for Lachute; Mme George Godmer, secretary for Morin Heights.

(At the rear) — Mme Conrad Gagné, 4th vice-president, Lachute; Mme Sylvio Labelle, English representative for Grenville; Mme Rémi Séguin, 1st vice-president, Lachute; Mrs. Annie Goldup, secretary; Mme Noella Durocher, president, Lachute; Mme Cyrille Gagné, treasurer, St. Michel; Mme Bernard Gosselin, 2nd vice-president, Lachute; Mme Conrad Lafleur, 3rd vice-president, Brownsburg; and Mme Yvon Foucault, secretary for Whissell Town.

Club member shares impressions of Tahiti trip

At the Richelieu Club last week, Dr. Marc Papineau entertained his fellow members with impressions of Tahiti, which he had visited on his recent mid-winter vacation.

Dr. and Mrs. Papineau, with Mr. and Mrs. Donat Saulnier, had made the trip by jet aircraft, and during an absence of three weeks had gleaned an overall impression of climate, customs and surroundings in that remote South Pacific island, where there were flowers in profusion and a glowing hospitality among the inhabitants.

The speaker was introduced by Notary Jacques Beaudoin and thanked by Dr. Chas. Roy. Guy Belanger gave the brief business talk of the evening. The president, Dr. J.-P. Dorion, chaired the meeting.

The regular assembly next week takes the form of a sugaring party.

12th Round in Argenteuil Bridge League

The 12th session of the Argenteuil Bridge League's 16 scheduled tournaments took place at Brownsburg, March 26.

Winners in the North - South position were Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Boal, while Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Fillingham held up the men's end by topping the East-West section.

The race is entering the home stretch, with but four meetings remaining. The average of each player's best 10 performances will govern in the contest for season championship prizes. In the forefront are Mr. Leclair, Mr. St. Onge and Mrs. Pollock, but there are quite a few others in close contention.

The 13th session will take place at Lachute, April 9. Players are reminded to arrive by 7.45 p.m. to accommodate an 8 o'clock deal.

EVANGELIST'S TOPIC —

'A faith for times like these'

The Rev. J. K. Zeman, of Toronto, will be guest speaker in the program of evangelistic services being held during the week of April 8-15 at the Maple Avenue Baptist Church, Brownsburg. The Rev. Zeman, born in Czechoslovakia and a graduate of the University of Prague, came to Canada in 1948. He was pastor of Beverley and Bethlehem Churches in Toronto, and at Villa Nova near Brantford, and has served as Field Counsellor of the Home Mission Board of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec. Recently he was appointed Assistant Superintendent of the Home Mission Board.

Rev. J. K. Zeman

The Rev. J. K. Zeman will preach a "Christian faith for times like these," at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services on Sundays, and 7.30 p.m. on week-nights Monday through Friday.

Movie films from the series "This Is the Life" will be shown at 7 p.m., prior to each evening service.

A warm welcome is extended to everyone wishing to attend the films and the services.

APPRECIATION

Mrs. Hilda Carrière wishes to express thanks to her many friends and neighbors for their cards, flowers and acts of kindness during her recent sojourn in hospital.

APPRECIATION

Mrs. Walter MacLean thanks all kind friends who remembered her with visits, cards, flowers, letters and gifts while she was in hospital recently at Hawkesbury.

Notice to the Public

I wish to thank all my customers for their support during my association with the firm of Jos. Malaket & Fils. I am no longer in connection with this company, and will give further announcement of my business plans through this newspaper.

EDITORIAL NOTES...

"In this Parliament are three Estates, the Lords Spiritual, the Lords Temporal and the Commons, but in the Reporters' Gallery yonder sits a Fourth Estate more important far than all."
— Edmund Burke

Role of the Chamber of Commerce

WE HAVE ALL heard the expression — "You can't fight City Hall". This seems to be a common attitude of mind now with respect to all governmental authority. It is not uncommon to hear men say in this country that they can't be associated with any action, or campaign, which appears to be critical of government, for fear of reprisal. If this becomes a general attitude, then we have taken a long step towards slavery. . . . There must be a greater separation of political and economic power. Think of what would happen if every member of every Board and Chamber, every Service Club, every freedom-loving citizen, would let our elected representatives know that we want sound, efficient and economical government and resent being bribed like idiot children.

The above paragraph is taken from its context in the News-Letter of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. The thought is expressed, we believe, rather as a warning than as a general portrayal of the situation in Canada. Thank heavens our Chambers and Service Clubs have retained the liberty of free expression and the initiative to use it.

The newly-formed Junior Chamber of Commerce of Lachute is an omen for relationships very different from those suggested above. Patterned after the senior trade organization of this town, it will follow a fine example, of citizens and businessmen not hamstrung by, or dictating to, their civic administrators — but working hand in hand with them for local progress. To such extent that City Council here has from time to time called upon the Chamber as a sounding board of public opinion.

This is an example to be proud of — but one which we believe is more general than exceptional, at least in comparable centres of this province.

The other side of the picture is an incentive for us to keep it so, and to uphold this fine record of civic co-operation.

It works both ways

OVER THE YEARS this newspaper has been ardent and active for inter-racial harmony, an ideal to which (we believe) we have made a modest contribution in our own community. We continue zealous for this cause. And despite our personal opinions, we try to be tolerant on Separatism — at least to the extent of endeavoring to understand the viewpoints of its advocates.

But one thing we fail to comprehend, is how the minority will be treated if Quebec becomes segregated and self-governing. Indications are not too promising. . . .

Today in Quebec, every mail brings official communications from political or government sources, printed only in French. There is no sign of the bilingualism which Dr. Chaput and his Separatists consider so imperative. Apparently the sanctity of minorities is an ideal to be glorified but not practised, by some of those in authority.

Literary handouts from government departments and political groups are sent to newspapers for one obvious purpose, namely, free publicity. To any public relations officer directing such material to The Watchman, and lacking the courtesy to send it in English, we give assurance his effusions will receive quick access to the waste paper basket. (English-speaking press agents may expect the same treatment from our French-language editors, we are sure.)

World Health Organization — 14th milestone

THIS YEAR marks the 14th anniversary of the founding of the World Health Organization, one member of the United Nations family of specialized agencies. . . . April 7 is World Health Day.

Every year WHO's Member States — which now total 109, or more than the number belonging to the United Nations itself — select a theme for World Health Day. For 1962 it is "Preserve Sight; Prevent Blindness."

Here are a few highlights of WHO's accomplishments over the years:

— In 1950, with the assistance of WHO, the government of Haiti launched a campaign against Yaws, a disfiguring disease that was then the country's No. 1 public health problem. At that time about three out of every four Haitians suffered from Yaws. Following the campaign, Yaws disappeared from Haiti.

— In 1955 WHO's Member States voted to launch a global eradication campaign against Malaria, one of the oldest and most persistent menaces to man's health. By 1961 malaria was eradicated in 39 countries with populations totalling 305 million. Eradication campaigns are underway in 67 other countries with populations of 767 millions. Last year alone malaria was stamped out in four countries where live seven million people. . . . This is man's first world-wide attempt to eradicate, rather than merely control, a major communicable disease.

— WHO provided emergency health assistance to the Republic of the Congo when, on gaining independence, that country lost all its doctors overnight. As there are still no native Congolese M.D.'s, WHO is continuing this assistance through some several hundred international health workers of all kinds, providing basic health services until the new Republic is able to staff its own national service.

— WHO has repeatedly come to the aid of disaster-stricken countries with emergency supplies, expert advice, provision of technicians and other aid. Chile, India, Morocco, Egypt and Brazil are a few of the nations who have received this sort of WHO emergency aid.

— WHO maintains a world-wide medical intelligence service that brings all countries up-to-the-minute information on the state of health around the world. This service gives governments immediate warning of the outbreak anywhere of any pestilential disease.

These are just a few of WHO's services to its Member States.

Viewpoints and perspectives

SAME HERE — GOOD INVESTMENT. — When the boys and girls committee of the Jarvis Lions Club recommended the building of an outdoor rink earlier in the season their suggestion was met with doubts from many quarters. Nevertheless the committee sold the club on the merits of their idea, and the rink was built. The success of the undertaking is no longer in doubt. It has been full value for the money expended.

— Jarvis (Ont.) Record

NO CORNUCOPIA. — We urge clubs to think carefully before going to Mr. Merchant for donations. Think if your club could not raise the money for prizes through some other means. Too many clubs take the attitude that Mr. Merchant has lots of money and he should help out.

— Nipigon (Ont.) Norshore Sentinel

PARLIAMENT is being asked to authorize a loan from the Treasury of $25,000,000 to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. Within another five or ten years, unless there is genuine reform in the application and administration, there will be an annual appropriation of this sort of thing for the Unemployment Insurance Fund. Seasonal workers, self-employed and the frauds should not be able to draw from this fund even if other funds must be set up for them.

— Fort Erie Letter-Review

TV ADVERTISING. — The impact of television has a powerful influence on the ordinary citizen, and this is why there should be a more rigid control of the type and content of advertising carried across a network. To date there appears to have been little or no control.

BARBERSHOP WISDOM

"How would you like your beard trimmed, sir?" the barber in the story asked.

"In silence," the wit was supposed to have replied.

Good repartee, no doubt. The wit, however, missed considerable wisdom.

Barbers get to know a great deal about human beings. And a knowledge of humans, their virtues, their faults and foibles, is at least as valuable as book learning. Some of the "longhairs" I have watched and listened to on television and radio lately would probably do better if they spent more time in the barbershops, a haircut as a secondary consideration.

While this column is being written, there is a plethora of television commentators giving us the "inside story" of why Mr. Hazen Argue left the NDP. Each has a theory of some sort. None seems to have much understanding of the human being in question. My barber sounded more convincing to me than the lot of them. He said, "I guess Hazen figured the voters at home wouldn't back him in that Party. He wants to represent his constituency."

My barber doesn't think there is as much juvenile delinquency today as there was when he was a kid. "I have a lot of teenagers come in here," he said. "I've been cutting hair on Canadian youngsters for thirty years, in small towns and in the city. There's not a finer crop of kids anywhere than you get today. They tell you how they want their hair cut. Do it their way and they thank you; muff it by cutting it a bit too short, and they tell you about it politely. They don't thank you and then go out of the shop and criticize you. Their fathers aren't always as straightforward."

My barber likes people with honest views which they state forcefully. He often says things to stir up some talk. He is pretty disgusted when a customer would rather agree than have the gumption to argue.

I suppose the barber is wrong about some things. My guess would be, though, that his comments are usually close to the truth. He forms his convictions from a pretty careful study of human beings and what makes them tick. He doesn't accept everything he reads or hears. It has to jibe with human nature or he rejects it. Political commentators might do better if they would use a similar check chart.

Over the Years

THE LACHUTE WATCHMAN

75 YEARS AGO

Friday, March 25, 1887 —

It is said that, to draw a circle 150 miles around Toronto would embrace one-half of the assessed wealth of the Dominion.

Mr. F. C. Ireland and Mr. D. Campbell have each received a diploma and medal for their cereal products, from the London Exhibition in England.

The town of St. Jerome has purchased a new Merryweather fire engine for $3,450.

Dr. Thos. Christie has been appointed an assessor on the McGill Board of Examiners.

W. G. Stewart, B.A., of Arundel, has successfully passed in the medical examinations at McGill.

"The Methodists and the Church of England" is the title of a little book written by Mr. F. C. Ireland, of Lachute. It is for sale at 25c a copy, proceeds going towards the building fund of St. Simeon's parsonage.

50 YEARS AGO

Friday, April 5, 1912 —

Brownsburg — Mr. M. C. Fletcher, of the Nobel West Quarter Factory, Scotland, has arrived to work as a chemist here with Dominion Cartridge Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon MacKimmie and two sons left this week for Calgary.

Mr. J. P. Hammond, for 37 years a resident of California, is here visiting his brothers, Messrs. R. C. and T. W. Hammond.

Dr. Alex Rodrigue, formerly of Lachute but recently of Quebec, has purchased the property and practice of the late Dr. J. B. Menzies.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, April 1, 1937 —

Mr. Chas. Duncan, honorary representative for this district, has been furnished with a program outlined for the Quebec Musical Festival Competition.

An old man named Aubin, of the French Hill in Brownsburg, sightless in both eyes, severed one of his fingers while chopping firewood. He was attended by Dr. A. R. Coté.

There is talk of a new road to take through traffic around the Village of Calumet, instead of through it.

Brownsburg — Miss Eleanor Campbell, of Macdonald College, visited her sister, Mrs. C. L. Stephens.

Miss Hazel LeCras, of Montreal, spent Easter at the rectory with her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. C. LeCras.

Stephen May and Sydney Drew are spending this week with the former's parents in Ste. Agathe.

Mr. Henri Lachance, welder and metal worker, and Mrs. Lachance, have been spending the winter in Florida.

Bernard Gosselin, attending L'Assomption College, spent the Easter holidays here with his parents.

Two beautiful trees have been removed from the corner of Bethany and Main Streets, to make way for better approaches to Muir Bros'. service station, a steadily increasing business enterprise.

Two Oka Indians, charged at St. Jerome with theft of wood from the Baron Empain property, cited through their counsel a law of 1717 which, they claim, legalized their cutting of wood on private property in Oka.

DO YOU RUN YOUR MONEY — OR DOES IT RUN YOU?

One of the toughest things in the world to do these days is to live within one's income.

A survey made a few years ago among people with incomes ranging all the way from $2,500 to $25,000 a year showed almost everyone wanted one thing more than anything else . . . just ten per cent more money!

"That would solve all my problems," everyone said.

But they're really wishful thinkers, says Don Hay, manager of the Bank of Montreal's Lachute branch. He has found there's only one real way to get on top of the situation. That's to learn to live within your income — and like it!

Mr. Hay doesn't just talk about it, either. He has some sound suggestions about how to do it, too. Why not ask for a copy of the B of M booklet, "Blue-Print for Successful Personal and Family Planning." It's free on request from the Lachute B of M.

It makes interesting reading. And it may do a lot to help you out of those dollar doldrums.

Montreal area sets $150,000 goal in Easter Seals for crippled children

The many extra demands reaching the Quebec Easter Seals Society in the last year have spurred the determination of 1962 campaign workers in their efforts to meet the $150,000 objective for Greater Montreal, said Robert E. Meagher, the Society's president.

Here in Lachute, Lions Club President Ernest Emmett states that 6,000 strips of seals and return envelops are in the mails for prospective subscribers in this County.

There is no door-to-door canvass in this annual appeal. It is strictly a direct-mail approach dependent on its worthiness, and on the sympathy of health-enjoying citizens whose hearts are touched by the handicaps of crippled children. The Lions Club, in keeping with its solicitude for less-fortunate fellow beings, is the sponsoring organization for this district.

The Quebec Easter Seals Society has its Montreal office in the Sun Life Building. Through this agency various organizations benefit from the proceeds of Easter Seals — such as the Mackay Centre for Deaf and Crippled Children, with its summer camp at Ayers Cliff; the Rehabilitation Institute of Montreal; the Occupational Therapy and Rehabilitation Centre; the Cripples' Aid Committee of the Rotary Club of Montreal; the Province of Quebec Society for Crippled Children and its camp at St. Alphonse de Joliette.

It is of special note, however, that a portion of the contributions in this district remains with the Lions Club, while still strictly earmarked for benefit of the physically handicapped. The assistance given locally, through this medium, has included many deserving cases over the years — such as wheelchairs, orthopedic braces, an artificial limb, and aid to retarded children.

Col. Emmett and the Lions Club solicit the support of all Watchman readers, to permit the continuance of this good work. . . . Return the pink envelope with your contribution, but please do not return the seals — this only incurs collect-payment for postage.

Things 'n Stuff

By Walter Henry Jackson

WHAT IS A COYPU?

Another name for this animal is Nutria, which is also the trade name of its fur. The Latin name, in case you're interested, is Myacastor Copyus. "Castor", of course, means beaver, both in French and Latin.

This animal is about the size of a beaver, length about 3 feet including the tail, and weighs about 20 pounds. They are found on both sides of the Andes Mountains from Peru southward, and live near lakes and streams in burrows that they dig in banks.

During the 1930's a few pairs were imported into the southern United States for rearing as furbearers. About 1940 several hundred were washed from their enclosures by floods and have since overrun the entire country in the states bordering on the Gulf, doing enormous damage to crops and undermining farm land by burrowing into the banks of streams. They can produce from three to 12 offspring every four months, so you can well imagine what pests they can become.

I was surprised to read recently that England was also experimenting with them in East Anglia. Floods also released many from their pens, and there are now estimated a quarter of a million coypus overrunnning the country. An article in the Illustrated London News states that they are considering rounding up many of them and sending them to Africa to combat a certain weed that is now choking the newly-formed Karieba Lake. But as yet it is not known whether the coypu would like this particular plant. Would they go for it in a big way, or would they hate it and go further inland and destroy crops?

What puzzles me is this — if they are so big and so prolific, why is their fur so expensive, even if only the underpart of the skin is useful? One would think that their fur would be about half as expensive and twice as plentiful as muskrat.

I don't want a pair for pets. They are said to have practically no intelligence, and look like very large guinea pigs. I have seen advertisements in American magazines offering them for sale for breeding. There's no limit to what the Get-Rich-Quick boys have to offer. So far as I know, there are few of them in Canada — for which perhaps we should be thankful!

Be seein' ya!

Mrs. Jan Kaprusiak, of Westmount, accompanied by Miss Nora Somerville, of Montreal, visited her father, Mr. Andrew Graham, last Wednesday — both ladies having attended the funeral of their aunt, the late Mrs. Wm. Somerville. Mrs. Kaprusiak visited her father again on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown, of Pointe au Chene, called on several friends last Wednesday, including Mrs. A. Graham and son, Allan, also Miss A. Davidson and Miss Ruby O'Brien.

Mrs. A. Graham was the guest of her sister, Miss J. Pollock, of Lachute, last Thursday, also attended the showing of Temperance films in the Presbyterian Church that evening. One of the films was on loan from the Provincial Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of which Mrs. F. Crawford, a former Arundel girl, is the president.

The Association of United Church Women of St. Mungo's Church held a quilting in the church hall, on Thursday of last week.

Mr. Ernest Hartley, of Montreal, visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Taylor on Saturday.

Mrs. L. M. Gaston had the Rev. Ralph Watson, Mrs. Watson and children, of Laval West, as supper guests on Sunday. Prior to going to the Gaston home, the Rev. and Mrs. Watson and children spent some time visiting Mrs. A. Graham and family. Other Sunday guests at the Graham home were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dougall and son, Graham, of Cote St. Luc, accompanied by Mrs. Cedric Dougall, of Brigham.

Mr. Frank McAdam, also Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McAdam, of Montreal, were visitors of Miss Ruby O'Brien and brothers on Saturday.

The senior badminton team of Cushing, and the seniors from Kilmar, had an enjoyable game together in St. Mungo's hall on Monday night, which ended in a tie.

Mrs. Douglas Bradford, of North River, spent Thursday afternoon with her aunt, Mrs. Archie Graham.

Mrs. Geo. Kelly left Saturday for Sherkston, Ont., where she will visit her son, Douglas and family. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kelly and children, who went to Port Colborne to visit friends.

Mr. Allan Copeland, of Guelph, Ont., spent the week-end with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith.

Mrs. Geo. Kelly, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. James Bates of Lachute, visited her daughter, Mrs. Wm. E. Andrews, in Ottawa last Saturday.

Mr. Guy Kelly is busily occupied in his sugar bush at the present time.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kelly were their sons, Percy, from Prince Albert, Sask., and Jack and his wife, of Drummondville, and their daughter, Gay, of Montreal.

The Rev. Anthony Reid, of Montebello, will conduct service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McPhee on Sunday, April 8, at 2.30 p.m., with the celebration of Holy Communion.

Old resident died at St. Andrews

The late Wm. C. Stonard

Mr. William Charles Stonard, of St. Andrews East, passed away March 28, after an illness of over two months' duration. He is survived by his wife, the former Ethel Rosina Millbank.

The late Mr. Stonard was in his 92nd year. Mr. and Mrs. Stonard were married in London, England, and on December 27, 1961, a number of their friends and neighbors called to mark the occasion of their 62nd wedding anniversary. They have resided in St. Andrews East for some 40 years.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Winter C. LeCras at Christ Church (Anglican), St. Andrews East, on Saturday, March 31. Burial was in the St. Andrews East Protestant Cemetery.

Remember Jack Miner

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"I took to the woods as naturally as a park here," Jack Miner writes in his autobiography, when he relates that after living in Ohio his parents and their ten children moved to Ontario, and "at the age of thirteen I was liberated in Canada, a sportsman's paradise."

On April 10 Canadians recall the birthday in 1865 of the man who pioneered in establishing Canada's first Bird Sanctuary where artificial feeding was employed. For his work in this field he was awarded the Order of the British Empire.

Early in this century Jack Miner realized the necessity of conservation of our natural resources. He formed one of the first Game Protective Associations in Canada, indeed on this continent. His Bird Sanctuary near Kingsville became famous and served as a model and inspiration for several hundred other bird havens. In the barren fields of his farm Jack Miner and his workers dug the hollows for the ponds for wild ducks and geese. Countless trees were planted as a wind break and for the use of insect eating song birds.

In 1909 Jack Miner began his tagging activities when he placed an aluminum band on a black mallard duck. This duck was killed in North Carolina. Six years later Jack Miner decided to concentrate on banding Canada Geese. On the tags he wrote his address and a verse of Scripture. During his life time he banded hundreds of geese. This project helped both the Canadian and U.S. governments in establishing strategic bird sanctuaries and in regulating shooting privileges.

In his public addresses, Jack Miner's calibre. The first concern of parents is the character development of their children. Jack Miner's two books, "On Current Topics" and "Jack Miner and the Birds" may be found in most public libraries. His interest in the conservation of our natural resources — our soil, our water, forest, flowers, fish, birds and mammals is something we all can claim as our own and pass on to the rising generation.

It is a fine thing for Canada and for the preservation of bird life on this continent, that after his passing, his sons continued to carry on Jack Miner's work. Any family making the trip to this Bird Sanctuary will have a wonderful memory to treasure. Jack Miner is a name every young Canadian should know — even as his sanctuary is known to the birds, as Edgar Guest points out in his four line tribute written to the great naturalist while he was still alive:

"From pole to pole the wild fowl have spread Jack Miner's fame;
The youngest goose in Canada by now has learned his name,
And so to old Jack Miner this simple thought I pen;
He's better known in bird life than in the haunts of men."

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

If you're going on a touring vacation or week-end trip, take your camera to record the fun.

When you do, bear these tips in mind:

Have your camera checked before you leave. Repairs en route waste time and may rob you of good shots.

Keep the camera within easy reach — not packed away. Be prepared to shoot quickly. Always have film in the camera. When you finish one roll, load another immediately. If you switch from one speed film to another, or from black and white to color, write the kind of film on a piece of adhesive tape and stick it on the back of the camera.

Carry a small notebook and make notes about the photos you take. Identify people, places and things — and mark the date. Number your rolls (with pencil on the cardboard container) and watch these numbers with your notes. Tell the person who processes your film to keep the negatives with the proper container. When you paste the pictures in an album later on, you'll welcome this identifying material.

Don't shy away from taking pactures in dim light. Both black and white and color films now come in extremely fast emulsions. Ask your photo dealer about them; then follow the directions inside the package.

Bake a loaf of banana bread

Although bananas were discovered along the Indus River several centuries before Christ, they were not brought to the American continent until 1516. Since that time they have not only been eaten raw, as a fruit, but cooked in many different dishes. One especially delicious way of using bananas is in this recipe for Yeast-Raised Banana Bread. The finished loaves are fine-textured with a very tender crumb. The bread can be served just sliced and spread with butter or margarine, or made up into sandwiches with a filling of peanut butter, jam, marmalade, etc.

Yeast-Raised Banana Bread

Yield — 2 loaves

Measure lukewarm water; stir in the 3 teaspoons sugar. Sprinkle with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well.

Meantime, combine salt, the ¼ cup sugar, melted butter or margarine, well-beaten egg, mashed banana and 3 cups of the flour. Beat until elastic. Stir in dissolved yeast. Work in sufficient additional flour to make a soft dough — about 3½ cups more. Turn out dough onto floured board or canvas and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1½ hours. Punch down dough. Turn out onto lightly-floured board or canvas and knead until smooth. Divide dough into 2 equal portions. Shape each portion into a loaf and place in greased loaf pan (8½ x 4½ inches, top inside measure). Grease tops. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 45 minutes. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 45 to 50 minutes. Cool on wire rack. Sprinkle tops with sifted icing sugar.

Milk for calcium to maintain the 'prime of life'

(Consumer Section)

When we speak of the prime of life, we refer to that period when we are in our best health. After 40, we are past our prime, and although we relinquish some of the beauty and strength of youth, we can still retain its vitality and vigor, a well-functioning nervous system and positive good health. To do this, a well-balanced diet that includes an adequate supply of calcium is of first importance.

In our Canadian meal patterns there is only one food that furnishes the body with sufficient calcium, and that is milk. It has no substitute. The easiest way to get enough milk is to drink it as is. However, some adults do not care for milk as a beverage with meals but there are other ways to get your minimum of 1½ cups a day. Here the Consumer Section in Ottawa lists some of them:

— Drink milk between meals in place of one of the numerous cups of coffee or tea — it will be a treat to your nervous system.

— Drink milk as a night cap and a vehicle to dream land — try it warm when you find it hard to unwind at the end of the day.

— Use milk instead of water for thinning condensed cream soups.

— Eat more cheese; it is milk in concentrated form.

— Serve more chowders — and how about oyster stew?

— Choose ice cream for dessert or a between-meal snack.

— Put some of your daily quota of milk into desserts like blanc mange, custards, rice or tapioca puddings.

— Order (or make) a feather weight soufflé, a fondue or a rarebit for lunch; they all contain milk.

— Use milk in creamed dishes like à la king; creamed peas and eggs; scalloped potatoes; cheese sauce for fish and so on.

— Get more milk in breakfasts — on cereals — in waffles.

There are several kinds of fresh milk at most dairy counters — whole, partially skimmed, skim and buttermilk. Buy the one best suited to your tastes but use some kind every day, for you need at least 1½ cups for vital good health.

Teatime Topics

Specially Written for The Lachute Watchman

By Edna Blakely, Canadian Press Staff Writer

A Toronto neurologist has come up with some advice that will undoubtedly be met with glee.

Dr. Livia Mitis, of Women's College Hospital, told an audience of women executives to take time to learn to play again.

"And do yield to that impulse to buy the hat you can't afford. Do have fun."

Dr. Mitis spoke during a course in management sponsored by the Toronto Business and Professional Women's Club.

She likened executives to racehorses who had all kinds of ability and drive but who did not always know when to stop.

Sometimes tension resulted from an individual's inability to stand up to outside influences, or from fatigue. The symptoms of fatigue often went unrecognized. They include insomnia, disturbed sleep and early waking. Being waspish was another indication that the individual was not so much annoyed with others as with herself and that she did not possess the superhuman qualities needed to keep going without stopping.

A person beset by stress was similar to a person bitten by a mosquito. The bite set up tension, and relief was sought in scratching.

"If you are bitten, but if you have a six-pound trout on your line, it wouldn't matter if a whole army of mosquitos were after you," Dr. Mitis said. "This may be the same stress, but there is not the same tension involved."

Dress Up Your Dinners

Now that spring is here, thoughts turn to spring fashions. It's fun to dress up and it's also fun to dress up the dinner table. Many women have favorite meat or dessert dishes but all too often the vegetables are ignored.

Here are a few ideas from the home economists of the Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture.

Try mustard sauce to give canned or frozen beans or peas a perky taste. Blend together 1 cup mayonnaise, 1 tbsp. prepared mustard, 3 tbsps. milk, and ½ tsp. lemon juice. Pour over drained vegetable and reheat for four or five minutes. Sprinkle with almonds and serve. The recipe makes enough sauce for six servings.

To give carrots a springtime look, try this glaze. Prepare, cut into fingers or rounds and cook in usual way 1½ pounds of carrots for six servings. When just tender, drain, add 2 tbsps. butter, 1½ tbsps. honey and 1 tsp. chopped parsley. Heat uncovered for two or three minutes, stirring carefully until carrots are well glazed.

To give frozen kernel corn new treatment, place one 16-ounce package in a greased one-quart casserole with 2 tbsps. cream, ½ tsp. salt and a few grains of pepper. Dot with 2 tbsps. butter, cover and bake in a 400-degree oven for 30 minutes. Makes four to five servings.

Tomatoes can be used to add a splash of color to a salad. They are marvelous too as a hot vegetable and may be stuffed and baked or halved and broiled. A little basil or thyme is recommended as the seasoning.

LEGION NOTES

Branch 70 Correspondent

"ACTIVE SERVICE YESTERDAY COMMUNITY SERVICE TODAY"

At the last general meeting three new members were presented for admission into Branch 70, namely, Alice Eileen Taylor, Walter Service and William Robert Parr.

We extend congratulations to "L'Argenteuil" on the celebration of its 10th anniversary. The medium of the press has always been, and always will be, an essential part of any community. May they have continued success.

Congratulations are also in order for Cde. E. Evans and his band of Midget hockey players, for winning the cup. Capping an undefeated season, they emerged champions in a contest which extended to two overtime periods with Quenneville team. Good show, lads; we are proud of you all.

Bingo tonight at the Memorial Hall. Cash prizes and jackpots up for grabs.

Don't forget — the Easter dance scheduled for Saturday, April 21.

The other day one visited the fount of liquid refreshment (mind you, just to get a bottle of cooking wine for the Missus). There was quite a line-up ahead, so one gazed over the published listing on the wall. Many a name brand, especially of European distillate, brought back a flock of memories . . . some pleasant, some painful, some remorseful. You former flyboys, erstwhile foot sloggers and tin-can, deep-water lads, no doubt will have the same memories concerning some of the following:

Aquavit — Scandinavian crystal clear, 100-proof firewater, flavored with anything from iodine to raspberry syrup.

Calvados — France's form of hard cider, made from apples that have been cross-bred with hand grenades.

Grappa — From Italy — is never collected until it explodes, and then is collected with asbestos buckets.

Arrack — Finally we have Dutch Arrack, distilled from turpentine and discarded tulip bulbs.

Prolonged use of any of the above cheap and potent elixirs requires the constitution of an ox or John L. Sulivan in his bare-knuckle days. If one needed something stronger, they asked for Pernod, which, although 100-proof licorice rocket-fuel, is still classed as an aperatif. Pernod, depending how much water you took with it, was either a Polaris missile or an invalid's pick-me-up.

Once Ken Morgan, confronted with 20-odd different bottles of little known European distillate, and an equal number of shot glasses, decided to sample each and take notes. Although they started off in a clear, bold hand, they became more and more indecipherable. This is all one can glean from them today:

Centerba — Italian distillate of grape seeds, 140-proof. (Why are my ears spinning and shooting out sparks?)

Cana — Spanish version of Bay Rum. (Please, Mother, my last thoughts were of you.)

Koum-Kouat — Orange marmalade and kerosene from Corfu. (Why is the room getting so dark, Corporal?)

Citroyen — Dutch citrate of magnesia. (Can you hear the harps strumming?)

Solberon — Dutch mulberry mucilage. (Suddenly, I am not afraid any more, but hold me tight, anyway.) . . .

From there the notes trail off to squiggles and scrawls.

The best cure for a hangover derived from over-indulgence of any of the above, is an Italian Bitters known as Ferna Branca. An ounce of this vile-tasting compound, taken straight down the gullet, has a startling effect. First, both ears spin like cartwheels, but in opposite directions; the head jumps three feet off the neck; finally, all the extremities become rigid. If rigor mortis doesn't set in, the ears soon cease rotating, the head is pulled back as if on an elastic band, and motion returns to the arms and legs. For some reason, you feel that you aren't going to die after all. Heaven knows what's in it! But as long as it works, who cares?

Thought for the Day — The ability to withhold criticism is as wonderful a talent as the ability to sing.

April 7 Is World Health Day

PRESERVE SIGHT — PREVENT BLINDNESS
Theme For 1962

This little girl is suffering from a "lazy eye". Though not too serious the condition diminishes the child's vision and, if not arrested in time, may lead to weak-sightedness and even eventual blindness. The way to correct this is through exercises like the one she performs here. By covering the good eye she trains the lazy one to work properly.

A lazy eye is only one of a host of menaces to good vision a child runs in growing up. Of the world's 10 million blind people about 650,000 are children. Yet fully two-thirds of this global burden of blindness need never have occurred. It could have been prevented. Naturally, the best place to begin blindness prevention is with children.

It was in recognition of the tragic and unnecessary waste that blindness inflicts on the world's human and economic health that the 109 member states of the World Health Organization chose "Preserve Sight — Prevent Blindness" as the theme for the celebration April 7 of the UN specialized agency's fourteenth anniversary.

WHO Director-General Dr. M. G. Candau says: "With proper treatment by drugs and surgery, sight could be restored to millions who are now losing it; preventive measures can ensure that in the future the numbers of the blind will be a third or less of what they are today."

"It cannot be repeated too often that the cost of preventive services is only a fraction of what could be saved by reducing the burden which the blind inevitably represent for any country's economy."

wonder QUESTIONS

ANSWERED BY THE RESEARCH SERVICE OF THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE

I WONDER . . . Curiosity is a priceless gift. A youngster's daily questions indicate a bright, inquiring mind. They should be answered intelligently. In this column periodically the editors of this newspaper, in cooperation with The Book of Knowledge, will print those questions — and the answers — most frequently asked by children of their parents.

Why Does an Onion Make Our Eyes Water?

Our eyes are really watering all the time, since we are always producing tears that pass over the eyeball to keep it clean. We blink to carry the tears that appear under the upper lid over the surface of the eye. These tears escape into the nose. We say that our eyes water when the tears form so fast that they cannot escape quickly enough. Onions give off something to the air that excites the ends of the nerves of touch in the eyeball and the eyelids. A message is sent to the brain telling the tear glands to make tears quickly; and we say that our eyes water. There is use in this, for the rapid flow of tears helps to protect the eyelids and the eyeball from the pungent stuff the onions give off.

Has the Day Always Been Divided Into 24 Equal Hours?

No. In ancient days the Egyptians and the Greeks divided the daily periods of light and darkness into twelve each. As the period of dark and light vary with the seasons, the length of the hour kept changing. At one season there would be something like sixteen hours of light and only eight of darkness . . . as we reckon hours today. This meant that the twelve hours of light would each be longer than the twelve hours of dark at this special time of year.

This arrangement was so inconvenient that in the 13th century an Arabian mathematician introduced equal hours all the year around. The length of the hour was based on the twelfth part of the period of daylight at the equinoxes, when day and night are of equal length. It was not until some time later, however, that this hour was generallly adopted all over the world.

H'bury merchants offer $2,500 cash, New York trip

On April 13 someone in Hawkesbury or district will win a trip to New York for two, if his or her name is drawn in the first weekly contest of the new promotion organized by the Hawkesbury Merchants Association.

This new promotion, which will be identified by the handshake symbol, started April 2 and will continue until May 5. The first draw will be held Friday night, April 13, at 10.30 in the Hawkesbury Town Hall.

In order to launch this contest with a booster, the Hawkesbury Merchants Association thought it fitting to give the winner of the first contest an opportunity to choose between a trip to New York for two people or the $500 in cash. The winners of the remaining four weeks will each receive $500 cash, making a grand total of $2,500 in prizes for this contest.

To participate in this contest the population need only shop in any of the 120 business establishments, fill in a free entry slip, and put it in the contest box.

Unlike the last contest organized by the Hawkesbury Merchants Association, these slips will not be accumulated from week to week. Each week will be a contest of its own. Therefore, to be eligible every week, entries must be made weekly.

The Hawkesbury Merchants Association invites the population of the region to try their luck and at the same time take advantage of the many specials offered by member merchants.

what are the basics of

THE POLICY 'HERE...
Sickness is a universal hazard. And regaining health frequently calls for extensive and expensive hospital treatment. Since last January, our Provincial Government sees to it that you receive — free — the required hospital care every time your doctor deems it necessary. This includes standard ward accommodation, the usual meals and the agreed hospital services. That sums up our Québec Hospital Insurance Service.

...AND ELSEWHERE
In several other provinces, you must register and then pay a monthly premium in order to qualify under their hospital insurance systems. In Ontario, for instance, the monthly premium is $2 per person or $4 per family. Here, nothing of the kind. Québec supplies you with free hospitalization, providing you fulfill two prerequisites.

1st condition: BEING A RESIDENT
Firstly, you must have lived here at least three months. In which case, your children qualify from birth. But if you are just getting settled in this province, you must wait three months before being entitled to free hospital treatment.

THE CASE OF TRANSIENTS
Transients — such as tourists, visitors and relatives from other provinces — do not qualify under our Hospital Insurance Act. Services received by such persons in a Québec hospital are charged to the patient, or to the hospital insurance of his own province.

PROVING YOU'RE A RESIDENT
The hospital may request at any time that you prove your residency, namely, that you have been permanently established in this province for over three months. You can perhaps handle this by showing the usual identification papers: birth or marriage certificate, driving licence, credit cards, hunting or fishing permit, passport or what have you. If you are too weak or ill to comply personally with this formality, the person with you must attend to it.

2nd condition: THE DOCTOR'S RECOMMENDATION
Free hospitalization is conditional on your doctor considering it medically necessary. If he deems that your case can be handled satisfactorily elsewhere, you are not entitled to free hospital care. But if you are sent to the hospital on his recommendation, you may remain there as long as required from a medical point of view.

IN CASE OF ACCIDENT
If you ever require urgent admission — for instance, as the result of being injured in a serious accident — the person in charge at the hospital may authorize your admission, without waiting to check with your own doctor.

A COSTLY OPERATION
As you can see, our Hospital Insurance plan provides every resident of this province with the required full-range hospital care — on a free and efficient basis. A truly colossal and costly undertaking: the assignment is to supply, as needed, free hospitalization to over 5 million insured residents — entailing this year a governmental expenditure of more than $140 million!

HELP US HELP YOU
Plain common sense suggests that each one of us fully cooperate with our Hospital Insurance Service. Never ask your doctor for hospital treatment unless it is absolutely needed. Never remain at the hospital one day too many: this is an unfair and costly practice. Don't stretch a fine prerogative. Your conscience . . . and your taxes . . . will feel all the better for it!

New sailing craft on view at Deacon's annual boat show

The Sunfish, a trim little craft that has sparked the revival of Canadian interest in sailboating, will be on display at the All-Family Boat Show at Deacon Motor Sales Ltd., 260 Main Street, Lachute, from Friday of this week until April 14. . . . Since this boat, and a bigger sister, were designed in 1947, they have mushroomed in popularity. There are now more than 25,000 of them in North America, more than any other type of sailboat.

Easy handling and speeds of up to 15 knots have combined with low price to make the Sailfish and Sunfish favorites with both experienced sailors and first-time enthusiasts. They are manufactured in Canada by Sailfish Sportscraft Ltd., Richmond Hill, Ont., and this will be their first year on display at Deacon's boat show.

These boats are highly portable, riding easily on the roof of a car or in the back of a station wagon. Hull weights range from 82 to 142 pounds, overall lengths from 11'7½" to 13'10", and beams from 31½" to 48½". Sail area is 65 square feet for the standard Sailfish and 75 square feet for all other models of Sailfish and Sunfish.

Hulls are molded fibreglass on some models, marine plywood and Phillipine mahogany on others. Fittings are brass, bronze or aluminum. Masts are of aluminum alloy, heat-treated and anodized. Three types of sails are available — in cotton, nylon and dacron.

Crew capacities range from 300 to 500 pounds. The ease of handling makes them suitable for swimmers of any age, from children to grandparents. This has been a big factor in the popularity of Sailfish and Sunfish, for they make it possible for all members of a family to enjoy the sport of sailing.

With no standing rigging, Sailfish and Sunfish can be completely rigged in a matter of minutes and can be launched anywhere, with no need for dock or mooring space. They have patented flip-up rudder mounts for quick launching and beaching. The dagger-boards are easily raised or removed for handling the boat in shallow water.

The pontoon-type hull makes the boats unsinkable and impossible to swamp. In the event of a capsize they can be righted quickly, by one person, without taking in sail. New developments for these craft in 1962 include a wider choice of colors in some models, a specially-designed trailer for those who prefer to transport them in this way, a new snap-ring method of attaching sail to booms, an expanded line of accessories, and an illustrated 34-page book with experts' tips on handling and sailing Sailfish and Sunfish.

Frank Ryan heads Ottawa '62 Winter Fair

Frank Ryan

At the annual meeting of the Ottawa Winter Fair directors held recently, Frank Ryan was elected president.

From a farming family in Renfrew County, Mr. Ryan still retains his interest in agriculture. His Hackneys are famous the world over. His Holstein herd at one time was one of the finest in Eastern Ontario. The extension of the City of Ottawa resulted in the sale of the dairy herd, with a consequent expansion in beef and sheep.

L. H. Nicholson, formerly Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, is the retiring president. Dr. D. R. Cherry, well-known veterinarian and horseman, is 1st vice-president. W. E. Burton, of "Steeton" Farm, Vars, 2nd vice-president; Ernie Burton has long been famous for the excellence of his Holsteins, his sheep and swine. He has exhibited all three extensively.

$1,000 grant to library, other affairs before Town Council at April sitting

At the regular Council sitting for April, held under chairmanship of Mayor Fernand Legault, Q.C., a grant of $1,000 was approved for the "Carrefour du Livre". Ald. Lauréat Laurin sponsored the motion, seconded by Ald. Stanley Church, who spoke words of commendation on the activity of this west-end library. . . Jean-Marc Belzile espressed thanks to the Council for their support.

As regards a letter from the engineering firm of Lorrain, Tourigny & Associates, the latter were requested to prepare a statement of additional expenses and amounts to be credited on the filtration plant construction, same to be submitted at next meeting of Council.

A letter was read from the Department of Municipal Affairs authorizing the $52,000 debenture issue, on 10-year term, under By-law 226.

Branch 70 of the Royal Canadian Legion was granted permission to exhibit a speedboat and trailer on Main Street during April and May, in connection with the Legion's drawing at Lachute Spring Fair. The police department will supervise and approve the placing of this display.

The CNIB was granted a credit of $103.50 against municipal tax on its property (Drew Street) for 1962.

A letter from Victor Barré, lawyer, in regard to a claim from Jean-Paul Latreille, was referred to Roger Lagarde, legal advisor, with instructions to represent the town in this claim.

It was moved and approved to petition the Quebec Roads Department for complete re-paving of Main Street, east from Bethany to the town limits.

K. W. Clarke, east ward resident, appeared before Council to ask questions about the water supply in his section of the town. Messrs. Laliberté, Lorrain and Curran, engineers, together with members of the Council, explained the present difficulties and gave all information requested.

A contract prepared with Gatineau Power Co. to augment electric power supply to the filtration plant, having been duly examined and verified by the engineers, was accepted for signature of the mayor and secretary.

A complaint from L.-J. St. Jacques on smoke rising from the garbage site, was reported to Ald. Dr. J. P. Dorion.

A communication from Gatineau Power concerning installation of new service lines, was referred to Ald. Stanley Church.

Permission was given to the provincial "Prudentia" committee for highway safety, to publicize in the town streets during the bicycle marathon which will pass through here next summer.

A committee comprising Aldermen L. Armstrong, L. Laurin and Dr. L. Middleton was commissioned to meet with representatives of Canada Trust Corpn. regarding establishment of a proposed plant in Lachute.

A sum of $65 was voted for a page display in the Lachute Fair program.

Accounts totalling $14,515.66 were approved for payment, and the meeting was adjourned until Wednesday, April 18.

Alderman Dr. J.-P. Dorion was absent from the civic assembly.

Celebrate "Library Week"

To mark the opening of Canadian Library Week (April 8-14) officers of the "Carrefour du Livre" held an informal reception for guests at the auditorium. Town Council took this occasion to signify its civic blessing, presenting the president with its annual grant, to the amount of $1,000. Above, left to right, are — Aldermen Alphonse Thibodeau, Francois Charlebois and Dr. J.-P. Dorion; Dr. Roger Lavigne, president of the "Carrefour"; J.-M. Belzile, librarian; and Alderman Stanley Church.

Wells, springs in demand for drinking water

Consumers in Greater Lachute serviced by the town water system are thankful for the friends and rural-dwellers who have their own source of supply, and to whom they can turn for clear drinking water.

Freshets have stirred mud, and brought down sedimentation, too heavy for the inadequate filter-screens at the intake. But the water cleared up considerably Tuesday, after the rains had stopped.

Water is flowing over the dam of the new filtration plant, swilling new mud into the creek below, and with the spring break-up of ice and thawing in the upper reaches, it is understandable that the water should be unusually dirty at times.

Unfortunately, the operation of the filter chambers in the new plant will be one of the last steps as construction proceeds. It is therefore evident that this condition will continue intermittently while workmen are busy in the basin, and while spring rains periodically stir up the black earth.

It may be of consolation to readers that, despite "alluvial deposits" in the water, the chlorination is working effectively and the bacterial tests are satisfactory. This is the report from the County Health Unit, according to four samples of the water checked daily.

Credit is due to the local plants with artesian wells, which have made their water supply available to private citizens — also to residents on the outskirts and rural fringe, who have cooperated with less fortunate householders relying on town tapwater.

As president of the Lions Club and promoter of Easter Seals (for which the Lions are sponsors in this district), Col. Ernest Emmett has the satisfaction of a job well done, with 6,000 prospective subscribers contacted by mail, and industries and corporations approached by personal letter.

It is hoped there will be a generous response, to aid towards the $150,000 objective for the Montreal area. Those who have received Easter Seals strips can help in two ways, namely:

(1) Return the pink envelope with your contribution enclosed. Do not return unused seals, as this only incurs expense for return postage, at double rate. (Your own postage stamp on the return envelope will also save expense.)

(2) Use seals on every piece of correspondence, whether business or social, to publicize the appeal.

Writing in The Gazette last week, W. W. Bauer, M.D. ("Health for Today") stated:

"Everyone has always been sorry for crippled children. But the modern attitude is that just being sorry isn't enough. Something has to be done to prevent and to overcome crippling. . . Today's attitude toward the disabled is not one of pity and resignation. It is one of militant determination to help restore them to effective and worthwhile living."

Crippled children, through the Quebec Easter Seals Society, will receive a helping hand from a special television French-language network presentation of Canadian playwright Gratien Gelinas' classic "Bousille et les Justes", April 29. The two-hour show, a Canadian premiere, stars some of Quebec's best known French-speaking actors and will be sponsored by Dow Brewery.

AT AYERSVILLE COUNCIL —

Mayor, councillors disagree over snow removal order

Expenditure for the removal of snowbanks in Ayersville (undertaken on a decision of Council in absence of the mayor, in the recent storm period) was vetoed by Mayor Paquette when March expenses came up for approval at Council last week.

Councillors Plamondon and Champagne clashed with Mayor Gaetan Paquette over this item. Council passed the bills for payment, then the mayor placed his veto on this particular account, claiming there had been no budgetary provision for it.

Councillor Raymond Champagne, who was pro-mayor at the time in question, argued that the need was urgent and Council had been convened to discuss it; but the Mayor was absent. Council had taken legal advice, and had acted within its rights to order this snow removal, the councillor claimed.

Councillor Plamondon backed this contention, also pointing out that, according to the Municipal Code, municipalities are under obligation to maintain their streets in passable condition.

Mayor Paquette, citing certain clauses in the Code, persisted in his veto.

And Other Items

Other business was transacted without incident, dealing mostly with correspondence.

A damage claim from Leonard Gagné for broken fence and shrubs during snow removal, was referred to the insurance company.

A donation of $25 was voted to the Red Cross, and authorization for a $65 space in Lachute Fair program.

Permit for operation of a French-fried wagon was given to Guy Montpetit, and a request from Raymond Robertson for erection of a gas tank on Durocher Street was held over for further information . . . A salary increase was given to Louis Brisson, employee of the municipality.

Coun. Gaston Plamondon was named pro-mayor; and it was ruled that in future cheques should be signed by this authority in absence of the mayor, instead of by the finance chairman.

A letter from the Department of Health advised that a $3,118.45 grant to the municipality was being held against its debt of $8,000 to the Department. It

H'wksby clubmen join Rotarians at Curling supper

Last week's meeting of the Brownsburg-Lachute Rotary Club was one of those "extra specials" . . . Each year during the Lachute Curling Club's spring bonspiel the Rotary Club holds a supper meeting at the Curling Club; on this occasion last week, the Hawkesbury Rotarians were invited for an inter-club meeting.

Also present was President Art Lapp, who was just back from a five-weeks business trip "down under" to Australia.

Another highlight of last week's meeting was the induction of a new member. Ross Cole, director at Ayers Ski Centre, was sworn into the club by Linton Armstrong.

To top the evening, Dr. Cecil Martin was guest speaker. After a splendid supper, prepared by members of the Ladies' Curling Club, the Rotarians adjourned to the music room of Lachute High School to hear Dr. Martin, who is the Professor of Anatomy at McGill University. Dr. Martin, who has addressed this club twice before and is well known in the vicinity, entitled his talk, "The Brain". The topic proved interesting, and quite humorous at times. The feature was enjoyed by all, as was the entire evening.

Tax increase 10c per $100 adopted by B'burg Council

(Our District Correspondent)

Brownsburg—A crowded council room, whispered comments and rustling of petition sheets, produced an expectancy that eventually fell flat at the April session of the Brownsburg Town Council. A rumor that the councillors were about to buy a new car for the chief of police, concurrent with news that municipal taxes were being upped, appeared to have increased the interest of taxpayers to the point where extra chairs had to be brought in to seat all the visitors.

Controversy was easily avoided when Council stated its view on the subject: "Increased insurance rates, and car allowances, make the present system undesirable. It will be to the town's financial advantage if a car is purchased for the municipality. With a town-owned auto, its availability for local police duties will always be assured."

Secretary Vincent Charbonneau opened tenders from six automobile dealers, whose prices for most well-known models were surprisingly uniform. Council hoped to make a decision at a later meeting.

Police Chief Roger Boutet's report, which listed 11 disorderly conduct complaints, nine accidents, nine parking tickets, but no speeding tickets, leaves no doubt that one way or another the police department must have a chief with a reliable car.

Councillor Ernest Legault, who had been absent from a previous special meeting, went on record as being against the tax increase of 10c per $100 evaluation. Mr. Legault — who had missed the "crucial" meeting, after a number of fruitless budget sessions had been held and others called off— opined that, had he been there, he is sure that the bill would not have passed. In reply to his assertion that a $4,000 surplus in last year's finances did not justify a tax increase, other councillors remarked that the surplus was on paper only — repayment of bank loans would more than use up the $4,000. With the increase, municipal taxes will be $1.50 per $100 evaluation, and will bring in a revenue of $51,342.00, according to the 1962 budget. Total revenue for the year, including fines, grants and other taxes, is estimated at $60,530.71. Expenses for the year are forecast at $65,135.02.

Maurice Grondin, soon to occupy the "new" Brownsburg Pharmacy, raised the question of property lines again, when he asked Council if the municipality would accept responsibility for accidents occurring on the sidewalk in front of his building. It seems that here again, though the sidewalk is used as a public thoroughfare, it is located on private property. Council shelved this one for the moment, until the problem could be studied in more detail.

Flooded highways

Highway No. 8 to Montreal was closed last Sunday night over a stretch between St. Hermas and Belle Rivière. Barricades were set up to divert traffic around a flooded area. The water subsided somewhat, and the traffic was in normal circulation on Monday.

There was a considerable depth of water over the St. Jerome highway near Robertson's bridge at the County line, according to reports on Monday. Traffic, however, was not diverted; cars were passing through in a normal manner on Tuesday.

Infant death at Morin Heights

Mario Maltais, a three-months-old child, was found dead in his crib last Sunday at Morin Heights. The parents of the infant, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Maltais, found the victim apparently succumbed to suffocation.

Provincial police made their inquiry, and Dr. Roger Lavigne, joint district coroner, pronounced the death accidental.

Paper salvage in Brownsburg

Brownsburg residents are reminded that the Boy Scouts will collect waste paper on Saturday, April 28. Newspapers and magazines should be securely bundled or packed in cartons, and left at the street for pick-up, which will commence at 1 p.m. In the event of rain, the collection will be made on the following Saturday.

Routine affairs, Chatham Council

Routine affairs occupied the Chatham Council meeting held April 2 at St. Philippe, under chairmanship of Mayor Roméo Foucault.

Zenephon Plouffe was allowed delay in regulating the matter of the Laurin-Guay branch of the Laurin watercourse, in Chatham Municipality.

Donat Lafleur was engaged as municipal roads officer for the year.

A grant of $15 was voted for the Red Cross, and it was ruled that Daylight Saving Time should be adopted as usual for this coming summer.

Bills amounting to $343.63 were approved for payment.

VISITORS AT LIONS CLUB —

Hockey Award celebration to climax minor leagues' activities at Lions Rink

Sunday, April 15, will be Hockey Award afternoon for teams and star players in minor leagues at the Lions' Rink this past season — according to arrangements made by Gaetan Malacket and announced at the Lions' meeting last week. The presentations, to be held at Lachute Auditorium, will commence at 2 p.m.

George Locke, chairman of the rink's governing body, warmly thanked all who had assisted in the rink affairs, notably, Fred Jeffery as president of the leagues; Jacques Bourgoing, manager of the rink; and Clifford Lowe and his firm as sponsors of two teams (Bantams and Pee-Wees) and ever-present collaborators in matters of rink maintenance. Special mention was given also to sponsors of the 14 various teams and to others who had assisted in another big season at the rink.

This enthusiastic club meeting was chaired by President Col. Ernest Emmett, who also requested all members to do their part in buying and boosting Easter Seals.

A notable visitor from N.D.G. club, All Carr, Zone chairman, was introduced by Horace Lamarche. The visitor, with four fellow clubmen from N.D.G., came to officiate for the presentation of two membership plaques, and perfect attendance and long service awards. Among these latter receiving "Old Monarch" certificates from Lions International, Lion Gordon McOuat was presented with the 20-year recognition, while others received 15 and 10-year certificates. . . . The Zone chairman commended these loyal members on their fine record, also others who had up to eight years of perfect attendance. Mr. Carr was thanked by Vice-President Royal Carrière, and was given the token gift of an Ayers blanket.

Lion Don Hay was "booster" of the evening, extolling the services of "My Bank" and narrating some humorous incidents in his banking experience.

Lion Ian Gordon publicized the year's major fund project, the annual $1,000 cash drawing to be held April 28 (closing date, April 21).

Postmaster retires after 38 years service

On September 30 last, one of the oldest established post offices in this district was closed and the "patrons" transferred to rural route service.

The closing of this office at Riyington, brings to mind the fact that it was established in 1877 when Mr. McIntosh, the grandfather of Mr. McVicar, was appointed postmaster. The office has been "in the family" ever since.

Mr. Victor McVicar, a member of the armed forces in World War I, was appointed postmaster in 1923, and has served in that capacity for 38 years. In appreciation for his loyal services he was awarded the Coronation Medal in 1953. His wife, Mrs. Laura McVicar, has been his faithful and efficient assistant, and during the past four summers has filled the position of postmistress at the Banff Springs Hotel in Alberta.

Mr. McVicar will now devote his energies to the operation of his general store, and every wish is expressed for his continued good health in the years to come.

Victor McVicar receives a retirement certificate signed by the Minister of Postal Services, and a letter of congratulation from the Deputy Minister, presented in his home by Achille Gauthier, public relations officer for the Montreal postal district. Mrs. McVicar, who also serves as postmistress at Banff Springs Hotel in the summer seasons, was a witness to this happy occasion.

Lachute's Junior Chamber of Commerce will stage a road safety test on Sunday, April 29, at l'Ecole Secondaire, in co-operation with a program of the Canadian Junior Chambers.

The Roadeo is designed to test the skill of young drivers, and help them to exercise more caution on the highways. It will also provide an opportunity for the same young drivers to gauge their proficiency and ability behind the wheel.

The tests are held through courtesy of the All-Canada Insurance Federation and the Imperial Oil Company. The local winner will be eligible for entry in the all-provincial contests for $2,500 cash awards.

Drivers eligible to take part must be under 20 years of age and in possession of a driver's permit. An entry form appears elsewhere in this paper, for use of those desiring to register.

It is hoped that many young drivers will turn up for these trials, which may be instrumental, possibly, in saving lives on the highway — maybe their own.

Week's Epigram

"ARGENTEUIL OUTDOORS"

By BOB ATCHISON

With the opening of the trout season only a week away, a few pointers on early fishing may help you. With this type of fishing, and extremes in the water temperature and conditions, it is impossible to state that a certain bait will catch fish. I have often used the small, hard-shell crawfish with good results. When this bait is used, forget all about your sinkers; this has to be drifted downstream, and any weights would spoil it. As a matter of fact nearly all early fishing is of the free-drift type, with not too much action given to the lures. Even the type of lures you use in spinning is not too important, as it seems all the spinners will take fish. If you are going to use flies (and this I would recommend), then the big streamers are the thing. Colors do not have much to do with it just now; almost everything that moves in some way will be taken. With the ice covering all the waters, the fish are not too fussy, and this should be remembered. Even your style of getting to the stream will not have too much bearing on fesults. At least, not the cat and mouse display that is called for later in the season.

The fly man has a good chance of catching some decent fish, if he doesn't forget that the water is running fast and not too much stripping should be done at this time. It's nice to have long lines out, but it's useless to have your flies bouncing off the banks. My own personal flies for this time of the year will be the Crane type; any color will be good, with heavy dressed hackles. The buoyancy of the fly will be helped with the large hackle, and this is all to the good in this type of fishing. . . Anyway, good fishing to you all!

Birds by the thousands are now with us. The wonderful noise from these feathered dusters early in the morning, is something special. It reminds me of a huge symphony of assorted sounds. Some of the birds I have not seen in this district before, so can only presume they have decided to come a little farther north. I'm going to have to start to learn birds all over again. Huge flocks of Juncos can be seen; watching these always makes me think of "what the well dressed person will wear". Certainly they are a very neat and precise bird, always looking as though they were "going formal", with the grey vest and black back with the trim of white on the tail. There are also a number of robins around, but not feeding from the feeders. Loggerhead shrikes have just about disappeared for the time being. Of course the Great Grays moved on some time ago, and I don't think they will be back until the cold comes once again. The Red Wings have taken over the open water and a babel of noise comes from these places, with the odd Purple Grackle showing up among them. A couple of Brown Creepers have been reported; these may be a little early — of course, they could have got mixed up in the weather these past few weeks. Ducks can be seen along the Ottawa River above the new dam, and for the time being they seem to be safe from poachers. . . . We will be welcoming all the flashier birds back in a short time, and this I'm sure we will be happy to do.

It looks as though some of the Game Wardens are really living up to their manuals. I was reading about a couple of these officers taking a target shooter into custody for being near a deer yard. However, it seems not a trace of deer were in the vicinity.

It is only through experience that matters of this sort can be resolved to everyone's satisfaction, and experience does not come with a few weeks' training and a diploma. Not too much blame can be attached to the wardens; after all they are trying to do a job that very few people will touch. Being a warden is no cinch. What with low pay, political repercussions, and everything else that goes with it, only very few stay with the job. Until this is remedied it will be the same wherever we go in the province.

As you know, at times I have given information about this business of poaching in the County. A phone call this past week took exception to this. The gent had this to say: "They are being paid to do a job, and should not have to depend on the people to help them perform their duties". I cannot go along with this style of thinking, and I'm sure not too many of you readers share his opinion. To prove the point, I have received numerous calls giving information of infractions of the law. Passing the information on to our wardens has in some cases brought convictions. I hope that all outdoors people will follow the example, as only in this way can we ever be able to say poaching IS under control. During this call a rather illogical argument was given for the shortage of ALL game. Too many poor hunters in the bush, was given as the reason. We all know that years ago deer and moose were shot all over this County, the meat being sold to hotels, etc. Today this is not the case, and we know it by the shortage of the deer. Don't get me wrong; I'm not even THINKING that this is stamped out. It is not, but with the poor protection wildlife has been getting, and is still getting, that is the only reason for shortages in anything.

All forms of game have been shot out in this County, and all real sportsmen know it. At any rate, the wardens still need everyone's help, so let's give it.

Our Fishing Association is presently carrying on a drive for new members. This should be supported by everyone, as it deserves to be. If people would only realize that an association of this kind is for their benefit, maybe they would help it a little. Anyone interested in picking up a ticket can get them at the Lunch Car on Main Street.

Looking over some of the creeks and lakes around, suggests it will be at least another two weeks after the season opens before the lakes will be open. Not free of ice, just open. Creeks are naturally pouring water down into the North River, so these can be fished. Watch yourself if you are going to wade them. They are very fast, with holes you don't know about. Another noticeable point — someone must have taken the cleaning of these creeks upon themselves, or maybe they decided to keep them clean during the cutting. I have never seen them so clear of junk as they are now. This also applies to the North River — but not to the highways, as is very obvious!

One last thought before the fishing really gets going: Take NO more than you can eat in one meal; and this doesn't mean being a pig about them, either.

Lachute rink wins annual "Open" curling

Linton W. Armstrong, president, hands the Quent Miller trophy to the winning skip, Art Lobel, and his team, Arne Petersen, Carl Rodger and Al Gillis. This Lachute foursome won the trophy, defeating Bill Ott's team from Outremont, 4-3, in the final game of Lachute's annual Spring Curling Bonspiel.

Winners of the consolation were another Lachute rink, skipped by Syd Drew, who defeated Jim Humphrys' Brownsburg quartet, 9-4.

Main and consolation events won by home teams in Spring bonspiel

The 14th annual Spring Bonspiel at Lachute Curling Club ended Saturday evening in one of the most spectacular games ever seen on local ice, when a Lachute rink skipped by Art Lobel edged out Bill Ott and his Outremont foursome.

From the start of the first end, it was evident that it was going to be a close game, and the many spectators present taxed the facilities of the clubrooms to watch these two strong teams battle for position. The score was tied at three-all at the end of the ninth end, with three dead ends. The Outremont rink was shot and guarded when Lobel went to play his first rock. He elected to draw behind one of his own stones at the front of the house. It was a beautiful draw, and his rock came to rest as shot-rock and partially guarded. Bill Ott attempted to draw to this rock for a freeze, but was a little over-weight and wrecked on one of his own stones in front of the house. This gave the Lachute rink the game, and Lobel did not have to play his last stone. This rink consisted of Arne Peterson (third), Carl Rodger (second) and Al Gillis (lead). Bill Ott had Larry Janis playing third, Jim Campbell second, and D. Deroworiz lead.

At the same time, the playdown for the Consolation was taking place on the other ice. Here another Lachute rink, skipped by Syd Drew, scored a comparatively easy victory over Jim Humphrys and his Brownsburg rink. Syd had Stewart Jones as third, Duncan Graham second and Jack MacKimmie lead. The Humphrys rink consisted of Bill Hamilton as third, W. Dimock second, and B. Racine lead.

During the playdowns in the afternoon there was another spectacular game between Bill Cook's Pointe Claire rink and Bill Ott — the latter winning the game on his last rock with less than an inch to spare.

There were a total of 154 entries in the bonspiel, which opened on Friday, March 23 — the largest number of entries for the last five or six years, evidence that the popularity of this event continues to increase. As usual, the members of the Ladies' Club served full-course meals every evening, thereby providing one of the most attractive features of the bonspiel.

Linton W. Armstrong, club president and chairman of the bonspiel, presented the prizes after the games on Saturday evening. He thanked the out-of-town curlers for their support, and made mention of the fact that the calibre of curling seen in the playdowns could only be compared to that in the Brier at Kitchener last month. He paid tribute to the ladies for their splendid co-operation, and to the reception committee, consisting of Dick Richardson (chairman), Ed Foster, Stan Cockhill, Frank Brennian and Bill Haldimand. The president also expressed his gratification for the support rendered by the local members throughout the bonspiel.

Anglican Church bowling league

The Rangers (skipped by H. Maslin) and the Stars (skipped by the Rev. C. R. Lang) managed to survive during their first and second rounds, to qualify for the finals of the Anglican Church bowling, which will take place April 23.

This will be followed by the presentation of prizes and a social gathering.

United Church bowling play-offs

The second stage of the Lachute United Church Bowling League play-offs was held on Monday evening. In the Class "A" games, the league champions, St. Andrews (Mrs. W. Bridge), were eliminated by East Settlement (Les Gordon) by the total score of 24 to 16. The other Class "A" game finished with Reg Stansfied's All Stars defeating Bluebirds (Mrs. H. Riddell), 17 to 14.

In the sudden-death Class "B" series, the Beavers, skipped by Margaret Gordon, won against St. George's (Owen Todd) 13 to 5, while St. David's team (Mrs. E. Armstrong) defeated the Thistles (Jack Gorman) 11 to 8.

The semi-finals line up as follows; the skips will arrange playing date.

East Settlement vs. All Stars
Beavers vs. St.David's

The winners of this series will play after the annual banquet, which is being held on Monday, April 30.

In A Library

I wandered into a library,
And the silence was like a tomb,
Then voices were all around me,
And they spoke right out of the gloom.

It was in the early evening,
And the embers were burning low;
I looked all around for the people,
But there were none that I would know.

But I seemed to hear their voices,
And they spoke of the strangest things.
Did I really hear these people,
Or had my thoughts just taken wings?

One spoke of lights of a city,
Of the hustle and rush and noise;
One told of her home and family,
And of all her sorrows and joys.

Then I heard all about nature,
The mountains and rivers and trees,
Flowers that bloomed in a garden,
And the lazy hum of the bees.

A voice that was sad and lonely,
With sobs, spoke of a wayward son;
Another told of toil and strife,
And of battles that he had won.

They talked of romance, sex and greed,
Of gaiety, fun and sorrow;
They prophesied to all mankind,
Of what might happen tomorrow.

Then, as I sat in that library,
And heard all the things they had said,
I pictured there a battlefield,
Where the blood all around flowed red.

As I slowly turned the pages,
I smiled, for I knew at last,
Where all the voices had come from —
From the writers out of the past.

— By Ethel Kettyle, Brownsburg.

Indications of increased givings, Red Cross appeal

Following the "blitz" canvass on Monday night of last week, there were indications of an increase in the district response to the annual Red Cross appeal. The co-chairmen of the campaign, Howard Morrison and Gaetan Leclair, were on hand at the civic auditorium with clerical helpers to receive reports from canvassers as they completed their districts. The chairmen expressed satisfaction at this stage — the door-to-door response being considered as generally indicative of the trend, which was definitely upward.

This result has since been substantiated by returns from the rural canvassers, and also from business subscribers. Both have showed an increase.

More outside areas are still to be heard from, and final results can be listed only when these reports are complete.

Messrs. Morrison and Leclair, in reporting this gratifying trend, pay high tribute to the district captains and canvassers for the efficient manner in which they conducted the "blitz" approach.

Lachute W. Inst. April meeting

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute, Lachute Branch was held in the Legion Hall on Tuesday of last week. Mrs. R. R. Davidson, convener of Home Economics, read an interesting and informative history of the Quebec Women's Institute, from the time of its organization at Dunham in 1911, to the present day.

This summer a cairn will be erected at Dunham and a plaque unveiled commemorating this date.

Lachute W.I. officers for the current year are — Hon. pres. Mrs. Linton Armstrong; pres., Mrs. Angus Taylor; vice pres., Mrs. Gordon Davidson; secretary, Mrs. Roy Fraser; treasurer, Mrs. George Tattersfield.

Conveners

Agriculture, Mrs. Geo. Leggett
Citizenship, Miss Catherine McGibbon.
Education, Mrs. Geo. Muir
Home Economics, Mrs. R. R. Davidson
Publicity, Mrs. Alex Clarke
Welfare & Health, Mrs. E. J. Rogers.

Murder-suicide near St. Jerome

Quebec Provincial Police said that the case of a man and woman found shot to death in a parked car near St. Jerome last week, was one of murder and suicide.

The victims, whose bodies were discovered by a passing motorist, were identified as Huguette Lacasse, 20, of St. Jerome, and Jacques Braban, of Lafontaine. A .303 rifle was found on the front seat of the car. Two bullets had been fired.

A coroner's inquest was set for sometime this week.

Mayor, aldermen in disagreement on snow expense was decided to pay off the remainder in instalments of $500 annually.

Building permits were granted to J.-G. Gravel, for a house on Richelieu Blvd.; Napoléon Corbeil, for a garage on Chatham; Benoit Robertson, for a house on Bradford Ave.; and Gérard Gauthier, for an extension to his property on Durocher St.

Coun. Doug Simon was absent from the session.

VETO OUT-VOTED

The mayor's veto on payment of a $2,600.50 bill for snow removal was reversed by decision of Council at a special meeting held last Friday evening. . . The amount was one included in a total of $6,219.22, which had been "frozen" in toto by the mayor's veto against payment.

Pro-mayor Gaston Plamondon chaired the special meeting on April 6 — which was called April 3, all members, including the mayor, being formally notified by Georges Brisebois, town officer. . . The mayor and Coun. Douglas Simon were absent from the meeting.

The meeting dealt exclusively with the one item in the minutes, adoption of motion for approval, and instructions to Jacques Poitras to effect payment of the bills.

Women's Institute at Brownsburg

Brownsburg — Mrs. Sharman Doig, W.I. county president, was guest speaker at the Women's Institute meeting held last Thursday evening, giving an interesting report on the recent board meeting held in Montreal.

The modeling of the many hats made at the millinery course proved once again how much the members benefit by the various courses sponsored by the W.I.

During the business session, plans were made to visit the Celanese plant at Sorel, and also the C-I-L plant here. Recently a demonstration was given by Mrs. C. M. Oliver, a representative of the Canadian Celanese Ltd., featuring their newest product, carpets made of Trilan, with a display of Propylon and Trilan materials. Colored slides of the Sorel plant, one of the finest carpet mills in Canada, were shown.

Plans were also made for a coffee party and bake sale, to be held in the Legion Hall on Wednesday, April 18, at 10 a.m.

Following the business session, the executive presented a humorous skit entitled, "How Not to Conduct a W.I. Meeting" which was enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Mason Crosby commented on the errors they had made, and how best to correct them.

BIRTHS

McOUAT — To Mr. and Mrs. Korbes McOuat (née Mary Kennedy) on March 28, 1962, at the Smith Clinic, Hawkesbury, Ont, a son.

STRONG — To Mr. and Mrs. Angus Strong (née Katherine Hind) at the Providence Hospital, Lachute, on April 7, 1962, a daughter; sister for Scott.

DEATH

ROBINSON — At Lachute, April 7, 1962, Clara Sarah Kettyle, beloved wife of the late Robert Robinson, in her 87th year.

IN MEMORIAM

DEWAR — In loving memory of our father and grandfather, John, who passed away April 14, 1961. — Always remembered by his daughter Audrey, son-in-law, Aldege, and grandchildren, Derrick and Michael.

"No one knows how we felt those days
As we sat by your bedside
And watched you fade away.
Only God knows how helpless we felt
That we could just stand by,
Watching you suffer, hearing you sigh;
When the time came we suffered too,
For you never deserved what you went through . . .
But when we saw you sleeping
So peacefully, free from pain,
We could not wish you back
To suffer through that again.
Those who have parents —
Cherish them with care,
For you'll never know the loneliness
Till they're no longer there."

LAMARCHE — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Albini Lamarche, who passed away April 16, 1961. An anniversary mass will be sung in Ste. Anastasie Church at 8 a.m. April 16. — Always remembered by his wife, family and grandchildren.

"With tender love and deep regret,
We who loved you can never forget."

ROWE — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, David Rowe, who passed away April 9, 1959. — Always remembered by his wife, Florence, and family.

"We cannot bring the old days back
When we were all together,
But secret tears and loving thoughts
Will be with us forever."

MATTSON — In loving memory of Norma, who passed away on April 10, 1960. — Always remembered by the family.

"In our hearts you will always stay, Loved and remembered every day."

APPRECIATION

MASSIE—Mrs. Hormidas Massie and family wish to extend their sincere thanks to friends and relatives, here and away, for their many kind expressions of sympathy in cards, masses, flowers, telegrams, visits and acts of kind, done shown them in the recent passing of the late Hormidas Massie.

Choral Society suspends till fall

After the rehearsal last Sunday afternoon of the Argenteuil Choral Society, it was decided to postpone practices until the early fall season, possibly September 9.

This is the first time in several years that no pre-Easter cantata is being presented. Due to the lateness of Easter this year, it was difficult to arrange consistent and satisfactory practices, so the group will resume in the fall, when bigger plans will be undertaken.

Resurrection Morn

In that far-off Eastern Garden
There was solemn silence there,
And the perfume of the flowers
Lay like incense on the air.

And little birds expectant,
Sat tense on leafing boughs
On that first glad Easter morning,
When Our Saviour, Christ, arose.

The bees had ceased their humming,
And Nature held her breath,
Our Lord was awake and coming
Frow out the jaws of Death.

As that silent, white-clad figure
Emerged from out the tomb,
His face wore a smile so tender,
That the lillies burst in bloom;

And the birds forgetting silence,
Poured anthems note by note
In peans of adoration
From each tiny, joy-filled throat.

With arms outstretched in blessing,
He stood, a moment, there
His eyes the world caressing,
His heart a fervent prayer.

'Twas wafted up to Heaven
To the great white throne above,
This plea, that all His children
Might know that God is Love.

There glorious guardian angels
Their watchful vigil kept,
As o'er the dim old landscape
The Dawn of morning crept.

Social and Personal

Mr. Lorne Payne, of Montreal, visited here with Mr. D. J. Bates, on Monday of this week.

50th Wedding Anniversary Of Dalesville Couple

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Bigelow, of Dalesville, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow (the former Beatrice M. Barrows) were married by the Rev. Geo. H. Gagnon in St. Simeon's Church, Lachute, April 10, 1912.

Cst. and Mrs. Tom Jamison and daughter, of Ottawa, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Delorme and sons, of Montreal, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Giles.

Their 65th Anniversary

Friends extend warm wishes to Mr. and Mrs. John Millar, old residents of East Ward, who will be celebrating their 65th wedding anniversary this Saturday, April 14. Mrs. Millar, 89, has been confined to bed for some years, while Mr. Millar, 90, is up and around the house — both cheerful and enjoying life.

Engagement

Mr. Jack Cheslock wishes to announce the engagement of his daughter, Dorothy Alice, to Mr. Rene Gaussiran, of St. Jerome. The marriage will take place on May 5.

Mr. Fernand Berthiaume attended a meeting of French-language weekly editors, at Montmorency Falls last week.

Travellers Delayed

Mrs. Jas. Armour and young daughter, Sharon, were among passengers aboard the Empress of Britain awaiting her sailing overseas from Montreal. Mrs. Armour intends to visit relatives in England and Ireland for the next three months. (Sailing of the Empress has been delayed by the walk-out of St. Lawrence River pilots). . . Mrs. Armour subsequently chose an alternative route, having left Dorval by air Tuesday night for Prestwick, and thence to Belfast.

In Florida for Conference

Mr. Theodore A. Lemoyre, supervisor for the Sun Life of Canada, in St. Jerome, is attending that Company's special agency conference, being held at Hollywood Beach, Florida, from April 8 to 12. The conference, held every two years for Sun Life managers and salesmen with outstanding records, deals with current developments in the business.

Mr. Lemoyre has represented the Sun Life of Canada in the Laurentian area for the past two years, and is a resident of Ste. Marguerite Station, Que.

Mrs. Lemoyre accompanied her husband to the conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tomalty and daughter, Kimberley Ann, of Detroit, returned home Friday of last week after having visited the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Boyd, and other relatives and friends in the district.

Couple Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Smillie of Fort Covington, N.Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor Anne, to Mr. John W. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hall, of Largo, Florida.

Miss Smillie is a junior at State University College, Geneseo, N.Y., where she is majoring in Library Science. . . Mr. Hall who is a member of the faculty of Salmon River Central School, Fort Covington, received his Bachelor of Arts degree in History and Government and his Master of Education degree in Secondary Education from the University of Maine.

A summer wedding is planned.

Auxiliary Card Party

At the recent military whist of Legion 70 Auxiliary, the prize winners were as follows:

First — Mrs. G. Brown (captain), Mrs. F. Gauley, Mrs. D. MacLeod, Mrs. K. Massey.

Second — Mr. S. Dewar (captain), Mrs. S. Dewar, Miss G. Moncrieff, Mr. T. Iddon.

At Church of St. Francis

Guest speaker at the Sunday morning service in the Church of St. Francis, St.-Sauveur, was the Rev. A. R. Gualteri, minister of the Ste. Adele United Church, who brought an inspiring message on the Passion of Our Lord. The service was conducted by Mr. Ian Grant, rector's assistant.

Concluding the series of Lenten services will be the 9.30 a.m. service this Sunday, when F/Lt. W. C. Hewitt, of the R.C.A.F. at St. Hubert and Lac St. Denis, will speak on "The Meaning of Palm Sunday to the Christian World."

"Some of these Manse mattresses are the rocks in the bedrock of our faith."

OLD HAND

Lashburn, Sask. (CP) — W. T. McMurdo has started his 51st year as secretary-treasurer of this village 155 miles west of Prince Albert. Mr. McMurdo took the office March 20, 1912.

Late Mrs. Robert Robinson

The funeral of the late Mrs. Robert Robinson took place at the MacKimmie Funeral Home on Monday afternoon; service was conducted by the Rev. Wilson Bridge, assisted by the Rev. W. B. Rosborough.

Mrs. Robinson, the former Clara Kettyle, was born in Hill Head, and taught school for a number of years. . . She was a member of the United Church, a member of the W.A., and a life member of the Women's Missionary Society; also a member of the Upper Lachute-East End Women's Institute, and an ardent worker for the Red Cross.

She leaves to mourn her loss one son, Wesley, and daughter-in-law, Edythe; one brother, Edmund T. Kettyle; and one sister, (Gertrude) Mrs. Wm. T. Jackson. Her husband predeceased her 16 years ago.

Pall-bearers were her four nephews — Lloyd, Kenneth and Douglas Kettyle, and Ernest Jackson; E. W. Smith, and Owen Todd. Burial was made in the Lachute Cemetery.

The Bible Today

The Rev. Maynard Booth, secretary of the joint agency of the British and Foreign Bible Society and the National Bible Society of Scotland in Rhodesia and Nyasaland, reports increased activity in his area since the opening of the new Bible House in Salisbury last year where Scriptures in 84 languages are distributed.

An interesting Bible Quiz (of which 23,000 copies have been distributed) has been undertaken and Mr. Booth has received some interesting answers to the Quiz. One reply to the question, who was Jesus' first disciple and whom did he bring? was, "Peter was the first disciple and he brought fish." To the question, why did Jesus wash the disciples' feet, one answer was, "Because they were dirty", and another, "So his disciples could wash the soles of other people." It was learned from another reply that some of the disciples were fishermen and the others were sinners.

The men, called colporteurs, who distribute the Scriptures to the remotest part of the territory report great interest and increasing demand. One old man after some of the Bible stories were explained to him said, "I must have these books". The colporteur asked, "What use will these books be to you when you cannot read". The old man replied, "My son has learned to read at school and he will read them to me." So the Word of God is made known through God's little ones.

Public Notice

School Municipality of the Town of Lachute for Protestants Only

Act 9-10 Elizabeth II, Chapter 30 (Bill 85), which received Royal Assent on June 10, 1961, amended many sections of Division IV of the Education Act which concerns election of school commissioners or trustees.

Residents of the area under control of the Lachute Protestant Board of School Commissioners should note the following:

Conditions required to be an Elector (9-10 Elizabeth II, Chapter 30) —

Section 125: "To have a right to vote at any election of school commissioners or trustees, it shall be necessary:

1. to be of the age of majority and a Canadian citizen;
2. to be entered on the electoral list, and
3. to be the owner of real estate or of a building, be entered as such on the valuation-roll; or to be the spouse of such owner and have been DOMICILED in the municipality for the last six months, or
4. to be the father, mother or tutor of a child who was less than 18 on the preceding 30th of June, and have been DOMICILED in the municipality for the last six months."

Qualifications to be eligible for the position of School Commissioner —

Section 122: "Every person who has been domiciled in the municipality for at least the last 12 months, able to read and write, qualified to vote under Paragraphs 1, 2, and 3 of Section 125, and who has paid all his school taxes before the 1st of June, and every minister of a religious faith ministering in the school municipality, shall be eligible as school commissioner or trustee."

"No person may be elected as school commissioner or trustee or hold such office on a school board of which his spouse is a member."

The above are the requirements for the right to vote at school elections, and the requirements to be a school commissioner. The Electoral List will remain on deposit at the office of the secretary-treasurer, in Lachute High School, up to and including April 17, 1962. It would be appreciated if any interested ratepayers would appear to look this list over, as April 17 is definitely the last day for filing (in the office of the secretary-treasurer) WRITTEN requests for additions to or removals from the List.

Nominations for school commissioners will be on the first Monday in June, from noon to 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

CANADIAN LIBRARY WEEK, APRIL 8 - 14 —

Read and digest!

IT WAS APPROPRIATE for Library Week — though we believe, that intended to coincide with this date — that Council granted $1,000 to the work of Le Carrefour du Livre. One councillor (Ald. Stanley Church) spoke glowingly of the influence of this institution, among student and adult readers who patronize it.

It was appropriately near to the occasion, also, that a Toastmaster in the recent area contest at Brownsburg spoke on the subject of Books, urging more and better reading. "Associating with the great men of the past and present, by reading of their thoughts and feelings in books, magazines and newspapers, cannot help but improve our mental stature. ... Read for enjoyment, read to improve your job — but don't neglect to read to enrich your life through appreciation of those things that money will not buy," was the theme of this talk, given by Mr. Wes Freeland.

"We are more dependent on books than we commonly realize, and Canadian Library Week provides an excellent way in which to remind us all of the increased importance of books and reading in our modern way of life," wrote Prime Minister John Diefenbaker in an endorsation of this annual week.

"Of all the diversions of life, there is none so proper to fill up its empty spaces as the reading of useful and entertaining authors." — These words are as true today as when Joseph Addison wrote them, regardless of advances in other media of communication in recent years.

Notable books of 1961 have been listed by the staff of the Windsor Public Library and of Assumption University of Windsor, with special markings of the Governor-General's Awards. The list offers the public a wide selection of books and has been published for Canadian Library Week, now in its fourth year.

Canadian Library Week, April 8 - 14, is a national event, administered by a Council (chairman, the Hon. Mr. Justice D. C. Abbott) and is sponsored by the Canadian Library Association, the Book Publishers' Association, la Société des Editeurs Canadiens du Livre Français, and by friends of libraries. The chief aim is to stimulate interest in libraries of all varieties. It invites Canadians to visit their libraries and to use their many resources — books, periodicals, films, records, etc. "Reading is the Key", is the motto for 1962.

We have several libraries in Lachute — so easily accessible that they may be considered "public", even though they boast no building to accommodate their books, or full-time staff to administer them. We may mention "Le Carrefour du Livre" and libraries in the Catholic schools, and the Women's Institute and Protestant High School libraries. . . . This National Library Week should provide a greater incentive to make use of these facilities, whether for pleasure, for reference or for instruction.

Canada in wartime

A TASK that started out five years ago as a dreary cataloguing job in an airplane hangar near Ottawa, has resulted in production of a 13-part television documentary on Canada's part in the Second World War. This Wednesday viewers will witness the second program in the series, which is of stirring interest to veterans, relatives, and the grown-up generation whose memory of wartime is still poignant with reality.

A four-man National Film Board crew was assigned in 1957 to check and make a scene-by-scene list of millions of feet of war film stored in the hangar on an airstrip at Pendleton, near Ottawa.

A year later, before the job was half finished, the men were confident they had turned up more than enough film footage to produce a documentary feature on the role Canadians played at home and overseas during the war.

The result of subsequent work under NFB producer Stanley Clish is this 13-part series of half-hour shows on the CBC-TV.

"The series is a nostalgic reminiscense of an era," says Mr. Clish. "These programs will portray a cross-section of a nation and its people, both at home and abroad."

Crime and the courts

NORMALLY, few persons risk the wrath of the Bench, but in recent months criticism of Criminal Court judges in Quebec has been heard several times.

Easy bail for serious charges was criticized by Chief Detective William Fitzpatrick of the Montreal police force in January, and metropolitan newspapers echoed his criticism.

The latest blast at the courts came last week from attorney-general Georges Lapalme. Mr. Lapalme lashed out in the Legislature at "the weakness and complaisance of the courts towards criminals" as a matter over which his department had no control. He said early parole and low bail, despite pleas from crown prosecutors for higher bail, sometimes allowed individuals to immediately commit another crime.

Criminal investigations were rising in the Montreal and Quebec City regions, said Mr. Lapalme. Criminal Courts operated "like factories" and the pressure was "almost tragic."

Parliament was informed that Quebec Government will add four permanent crown prosecutors at Montreal and two at Quebec to handle the rash of criminal cases.

Conservation — a memorial to Jack Miner

IN 1947, some three years after the death of the late Jack Miner, after considerable study of governmental authorities it was unanimously decided to set aside the week of April 10, which was Jack Miner's birthday, to be known as National Wild Life Week.

A bill was prepared by the late Hon. John R. MacNicol (Conservative) and when introduced in the House of Commons it was seconded by Hon. Joseph Bradette (later Senator Bradette) and after discussion from the floor of the House it was voted unanimously to have the week of April 10 known officially as National Wild Life Week as a memorial to the late Jack Miner.

When the vote was taken it proved to be the first Bill in the House of Commons and Canadian Senate since Confederation to pass unanimously without a dissenting voice.

The week is much different from most special observances, because it is strictly an educational week to promote conservation of bird and animal life and all natural resources. It is truly a living monument to the late Jack Miner, at no cost to anyone, because no one is allowed to sell or promote sales of any article, nor solicit funds for any cause. On the contrary, future generations will be on the receiving end of the wise efforts made by us during the coming years to protect and conserve for future generations that follow us.

Subsidies "buy" the votes

BUTTER MAKES the headlines so often in Canada that a visitor might get the impression that the butter surplus is of itself Canada's greatest problem. Actually it's not the surplus, it's the subsidy, or rather the subsidy phobia, that is the problem — says the Fort Erie Letter-Review.

It is a phobia not confined to the Canadian government. According to a committee on agriculture report to the U.S. Congress, more than 80 countries have programs of agricultural price supports and export subsidies. This does not necessarily prove the worth of subsidies. It could just as well prove that 80 countries can be as wrong-headed as one.

Subsidies inevitably result in surpluses. If there is a subsidy, there is a hand stretched out to receive it. Good government should be the best vote bait, but politicians of all parties are unwilling to dignify the electorate by offering that bait alone. Subsidies, they evidently believe, are a surer way of landing the fish.

WITH SEPARATISM —

Civilization or suffocation?

(From The Montreal Gazette)

If Quebec had chosen separate nationhood in 1867, she would almost certainly be seeking to join Confederation today, Canada's Minister of Mines and Technical Surveys said recently.

Hon. Jacques Flynn, in an address to the Club des Anciens de Sainte-Marie, cited the modern-day tendency of nations to form closer economic and political ties as the basis for his argument. "In Europe today, we see ten nations seeking to form a Common Market which would give them closer economic, political and cultural ties.

"The same thing would certainly be happening here if Quebec had turned down Confederation in 1867."

"Separatism becomes popular periodically — every 10, 15 years or so. I can remember it was being hotly discussed while I was at college.

"The idea is not new but the conditions are. Separation today is more possible than it has ever been."

But separation today would be a mistake from which Quebec could not recover on her own, said Mr. Flynn. "As an independent nation, would we have civilization — or suffocation?"

The latter is far more likely, he argued, with economic failure the probable result.

"We fear foreign investment in Quebec, just as English-Canadians fear it in the rest of the country. But it is necessary at our stage of development and we could not obtain it as readily as an independent state.

"If the separatists succeed, we will find ourselves in a terribly inferior position."

CONSULT THE TAX EXPERTS

By the time this column appears, readers will be preparing to file their income tax. I hope some of you have a big enough income to take this advice: consult an expert when you are filing your return.

In my opinion, every individual not on a payroll where the tax is taken from him, ought to consult an expert accountant every year or at least every second year. Usually, they can show you how to save money. The income tax people are strict, but they certainly can't expect you to pay any more taxes than you really owe. . . and the tax business is a complicated one . . . at least I find it complicated.

There was a time, not so many years ago, when there were no income taxes at all, or when the amount involved was quite small. Today, with government spending reaching alarming new heights all the time, important amounts are involved even when you pay only what you are obliged to pay.

Consulting a book on the subject, or a man who has made it his profession, is only good sense. In fact, as life gets increasingly complicated, individuals ought to give more thought to the advice that is available to them from day to day in many areas.

Business dealers are quick to consult specialists. Individuals should be wise enough to do the same.

When in doubt, always look for all the information available. When you have secured it, then use your own best judgment. You cannot make sound decisions when you are uninformed.

Well . . . you notice that I started on the subject of taxes and wound up on something else. Poor journalism perhaps — but who wouldn't like to get off the tax subject as quickly as possible?

Canadian Quiz

1. Ranked by value, what are Canada's first five export commodities?
2. Tax payments take what proportion of the net national income of Canadians?
3. Is Canada's population currently increasing at the rate of 9 per cent annually, 7 per cent, or 2 per cent?
4. What proportion of Canadian families own their own homes — one-quarter, one-half, or two-thirds?
5. Personal income taxes account for what proportion of the federal government's total tax revenues?

ANSWERS: 5. Less than one-third. 3. Current rate of increase is 2 per cent a year. 1. In 1960: newsprint, wheat, lumber, wood pulp, aluminum. 4. Two-thirds. 2. About one-third.

PENALTY

At various times in history, counterfeiting has been punishable by death.

PRE-NATAL BUDGETING CUTS FISCAL IMPACT OF BABY

It's a happy home when a new baby is on the way, and the parents-to-be are happier than ever when the extra costs involved are taken care of.

Mr. Don Hay, manager of the Lachute Branch of the Bank of Montreal, suggests that many Canadian couples about to have their first child often don't realize just how costly parenthood can be. Medical bills for Mom, the baby's layette, the furnishings for his room, and baby food, are all expense items.

That's why Mr. Hay suggests it's a sound idea to plan ahead financially for your Great Expectations. Why not plan a B of M Stork Savings Account? Simply work out an estimate of the costs involved, divide the amount you will need to save by the number of months remaining, and deposit that amount in your B of M Stork Savings Account regularly each month.

Your local B of M has a useful folder on the subject called "Paying for your new baby". Why not drop in and pick up a copy, or, if you wish, phone Mr. Hay, who will be glad to mail you one on request.

Things 'n Stuff

By Walter Henry Jackson

CAWS FOR COMPLAINT

I've caws for complaint", said the the Carrion Crow
As he silently flew o'er the vast fields of snow,
Fed up, but not fed, and quite down-in-the-mouth —
Though black, he felt blue as he longed for the South.

"I've caws for complaint" said his sorrowful mate,
"Our eggs will not hatch, for the season is late.
We can't keep them warm in this nor'easter blow."
"Nor Easter-Eggs either," retorted the crow.

"We've caws for complaint" said the Carrion Crow
As the late spring nor'easter continued to blow.
"We daily grow weaker, when we should grow stronger.
We can't carrion in this way any longer."

"We've caws for complaint" said the Carrion Crow,
"When out came the warm sun, and out went the snow.
So quickly they flew to a Crow-Bar to dine.
Their Cro-cussing stopped, and they're now doing fine!

When worse poetry is written, I will write it.
Be seein' ya!
— Uncle Walt.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

Do judges and magistrates wake up in the middle of the night, and wonder if they did the proper thing?

I think they must. The magistrate sees a frightened and confused man standing in the dock, charged with stealing a watch or throwing a stone through a window.

Those actions were inevitable. The man threw the rock or stole the watch because of the kind of person he was. He could no more help doing it than water can help running downhill.

There were many reasons why he became that kind of person — parents were too hard or too soft, a hereditary "bad seed" of emotional instability, bad companions, a mixture of all those things.

The man truly was not responsible for his actions. And yet he must be treated as though he were responsible.

That is the only way that society can keep order — to pretend that wrongdoers act from willful nastiness, and must be punished for it.

The magistrate undoubtedly knows that for almost every human being there is a practical balance of punishment and reward that will make him work his best.

He knows that, for some of the people who stand before him, all punishments and remedies came too late to do any good; these people will always be in trouble.

He must feel a sense of weariness and frustration as he applies the inevitable penalty.

And then there are others who are still within reach. Their lives may be changed by the right mixture of understanding and discipline.

How to find out that mixture and apply it — this is the challenge that the magistrate faces — a challenge of incredible complexity.

For this reason I think that magistrates — at least some of them — must wake up sometimes and wonder about their decisions.

In spite of all difficulties, their decisions often are wise. They often guide confused people to law-abiding lives.

Unfortunately, the criminal label sticks. People remember; and the record is still there, even though a man has changed and become, in effect, a different person.

Is there some way that a man could apply to have his crime slate wiped completely clean after three or four years of good living?

At least, wouldn't it be possible for a man to have the misdeeds of his adolescense and early 20's wiped off and forgotten, if he can prove that he has grown up?

DISTRICT NEWS

FROM OUR COUNTY CORRESPONDENTS

St. Andrews East

Mrs. Clattenburg, Mrs. Rogerson and Mrs. R. Hyde entertained at a farewell party for Mrs. Sheriff.

Mr. and Mrs. Comeau, of Montreal, spent the week-end with Mrs. Clattenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Patrick and Ian Patrick visited Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Jeffrey last Saturday.

Mrs. J. Fraser Robertson, who spent the winter at Maynard, Mass., has now returned home. She was the guest of Mrs. Percy Burwash for a few days until she got her house opened for the season.

Mrs. Flower and Mrs. J. M. Rodger are visiting Dr. and Mrs. Flower in Toronto.

Mrs. T. Johnson and Mrs. L. A. Bullock spent several days in Montreal last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Burwash, of Montreal, spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. James Burwash.

Avoca

Miss Carol Ann Bates and Mr. Jerry Smith, both of Ottawa, spent the week-end at their respective homes here.

We are pleased to report the steady progress of Mr. Roland McCullough, after a serious chest operation. He is now convalescing at the home of his sister-in-law in Montreal. Friends are also pleased to hear of the progress of Mr. Ernie MacLeod towards recovery. Both are from Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Arthurs, who spent the winter here, have now returned to their home at Red Rock.

Kilmar

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bray motored to Montreal on Sunday to visit their son, Johnnie, who is in hospital at present; friends here wish him a speedy recovery.

Miss Jean MacTavish and Mr. Rodney Horton, of Ottawa, spent the week-end here with the former's parents.

Miss Norma Dodd has returned to Calgary, Alta., after spending some time in Kilmar with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Dodd.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Purcell, of The Glen, spent Sunday with his mother here, Mrs. Thomas Purcell.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bigelow and family, of Bryson, Que., spent last week-end with his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bigelow.

Friday, 13th a lucky day in Hawkesbury

Hawkesbury — Someone's luck will change next Friday, 13th — but it will be for the better.

He or she will win an all-expense-paid trip for two to New York for the week-end, in a draw sponsored by the Hawkesbury Merchants' Association. Or a cash prize of $500 may be chosen as an alternative.

The draw, one of a series, is part of the Association's Easter promotional campaign. Filling in a slip at any of the 130 stores co-operating in the campaign will give shoppers a chance at the big prize.

The draw will be held in the town hall at 10.15 p.m., April 13. Four more draws, each with a cash prize of $500, will be held on successive Fridays.

To make things easier for shoppers, free parking is provided.

Cushing

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bailey, of Montreal West, were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bailey Friday of last week.

Miss M. Graham, of Verdun, spent the week-end at her home here.

Mrs. Hellmutt Truttmann entertained several of the younger Cushing children in honor of her son, Peter, last Saturday.

Mrs. J. D. Weir, Miss Olive Hartley and Mr. Douglas Hartley were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Taylor on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maw, accompanied by Mrs. Maw, Sr., were guests of Miss A. Davidson on Sunday. Mrs. S. H. Beecher visited Mr. and Mrs. L. Wilson, and also visited her summer home in Cushing.

Miss Marion Elliott, of Vankleek Hill, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Pitt, who have been spending the winter in Florida, have now returned home.

Women's Institute

An interesting meeting of Frontier W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. A. Graham on Tuesday afternoon. This was Grandmothers' Day, also the county president's visit, which was thoroughly enjoyed. Winners of the word-making contest, first to fourth, were — Mrs. Archie Murdoch, Mrs. L. M. Gaston, Mrs. I. H. Fuller and Miss Alice Davidson. The meeting next month promises to be very interesting, with films of Scotland and England to be shown; the meeting will be held in Brownsburg School, with the roll-call a Scottish joke.

Mrs. A. Graham was the overnight guest last Monday of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Dougall, at Cote St. Luc, also attended a joint meeting of the Ottawa Branch, Canadian Authors, and the Montreal Branch Authors, held in the Ritz Carlton Monday night. Mrs. Graham arrived home Tuesday, in time to entertain her fellow members of the W.I. in the afternoon.

Complaint

Telephone users in this vicinity are wondering why the phone they have to pay for, whether in order or not, is out of order so many times, causing persons to drive quite a distance to report what should be already known at the office. With ill health in the community, it is most inconvenient to have phones out of order so often.

Bereavement

Sincere sympathy of this community is extended to the family of the late Mr. Andrew Robert Graham, of Monalea Road, a former resident of Cushing — also to his brother, Frederick Graham, of the St. Philippe road. If Mr. Graham had lived until the 18th of this month, he would have been 90 years of age. His passing on Sunday night is regretted by all who knew him.

LEGION NOTES

"ACTIVE SERVICE YESTERDAY COMMUNITY SERVICE TODAY"

Sparked by the nine-game streak of Cdes. E. Hooker and L. Hodge, Branch 70 copped the 1962 cribbage championship from Brownsburg, and the Molson trophy now rests on the mantel at the Hall. Percentage winners over the season were Cdes. E. Evans and C. Tucker, from Branch 70, and last year's winner Cde. D. Graham, from Brownsburg.

There will be a social evening Saturday, 14th. These affairs if well attended can turn out to provide a good time for all.

Regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, 18th, at 8 p.m.

Friday last, Cde. P. A. Ross, Provincial Command sports officer, met with the sports and entertainment committee to go over and line up procedure, etc., for the Provincial Golf Tournament. This event is scheduled for St. Andrews Golf and Country Club, Saturday, June 2. Branch 70 is host for the event. A banquet, prize distribution and dance will be held in the Legion Hall, Lachute. The Ladies' Auxiliary will cater, and if the same support and co-operation is achieved on this occasion as with last year's convention, it cannot help but prove a huge success.

Easter Dance, Saturday, April 21.

One of the most bone-headed things a man can do is to act as if he understood women. Having enunciated this fact, we will now ignore it by offering a theory of a fundamental difference between the two sexes.

Men are essentially logical, so far as their outward lives go. In dealing with men, reason wins the day; if you can think clearly enough, and perceive accurately enough, you can understand why a man says what he does, and how to show him a different point of view. Yet, inwardly, men are not logical at all. Underneath the surface, they are often a mixture of idealistic hopes, boyish wishfulness, strong emotions, and sometimes nonsense. Occasionally peculiar — I know a man who hadn't kissed his wife in five years, yet, shot someone else who did!

Women are the reverse of this scheme of things. Outwardly, in their relations with others, they are emotional, idealistic, wishful and very often don't make sense. If you try to analyze a woman's behavior, and predict what she is likely to do next, you might as well give up, because the pieces just don't fit together. Inwardly, though, a woman is as logical as the decimal system. She knows from the time she is three years old what is important to her life, and with a sure instinct, goes directly for what means the most to her. Put one of her children in danger, or let someone treat her household disrespectfully, and you have a guided missile on your hands!

Having presented this analysis for the benefit of psychologists and others (and trusting they will not misuse it in some way, and thereby upset the generally agreeable balance of things, that has prevailed for some thousands of years) we will now run for cover.

Thought for the Day. — In money matters people are unreliable; either they talk big when they have little, or talk little when they have much.

TCA passengers 28 million

Montreal — On Tuesday, April 10, Trans-Canada Air Lines celebrated the 25th anniversary of its founding by Act of Parliament.

Since that day a quarter of a century ago, the publicly-owned airline has carried more than 28,000,000 passengers, flown one-and-a-half billion revenue miles, equal to 3,200 trips to the moon and back, and carried almost 600,000,000 pounds of air freight and express.

METRO FOOD MARKET
IN LACHUTE!..

We take pleasure in announcing that our store is now affiliated with the METRO FOOD MARKET chain, well and favorably known in Montreal and throughout the province.

This decision was taken with authorization of the directors, with a view to procuring for consumers in general, and for our customers in particular, still better prices on Meats, Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables.

This METRO FOOD MARKET will be the ONLY AFFILIATE STORE IN LACHUTE OR IMMEDIATE VICINITY, and it was only after determined negotiations that we succeeded in linking LA RUCHE with this progressive chain. The step is most gratifying, in the improved buying power which will enable us to pass along due benefits to our customers.

What A Library Offers

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"I just had no idea how much the public library had to offer the whole family until my wife insisted that I take a turn once a month bringing our boy and girl to the Saturday morning Story Hour. The children certainly enjoy it, and I've started to borrow records and mystery stories. My wife prefers biography aand handcraft books. She is thrilled with the library's wide selection." A father gave this spontaneous testimonial to the value of the library for his household.

Libraries belong to the citizens and the people, young and old who visit the public library regularly find their lives greatly enriched.

Fortunate is the little child whose mother takes him to the library to borrow a picture book before he starts to school! There are so many attractive stories for tiny tots — stories about animals and experiences a small boy or girl can understand, folk tales which have stood the test of time in many different lands, fairy tales which stimulate a child's imagination. Some adults are critical of fantasy but it has an important place in a child's intellectual growth, and most children love the old familiar fairy tales.

Teachers do a splendid job in strengthening an interest in books. Some classes visit the public library at regular times and the scholars return the books they have read and choose new ones. In the project method of teaching, pupils frequently go to the library on their own to discover more information about an historical character, other lands and peoples, natural resources, industries.

Once a bright youngster gets interested in scientific discoveries, rockets, or some other topic, he is determined to find out all he can about that subject. Dinosaurs seem to captivate small boys. When they finish reading the books available on these giants of an earlier age they turn to an encyclopedia for more details.

The enthusiasm of either an adult or a child is catching. If parents enjoy books their children are likely to be readers. A junior girl exclaimed the other day, "Mum and Dad and everyone in our family reads . . . except the baby. She's just a month old. One of my friends called me a 'bookworm'. I don't think that is a very nice name, but I don't care."

Libraries are fascinating places for children to visit and the librarian in the Boys and Girls Division knows how to make children feel at home as well as the books on her shelves. It is little wonder that the circulation in the Children's Division often equals, and in some cases surpasses, the total number of books borrowed by adults.

A trained children's librarian can help a child or a parent in selecting books which will attract that particular boy or girl. Perhaps he wants a wild animal story or help with raising tropical fish or building a bird house. Horse stories have special appeal to many girls, sports for boys. The older child who is wondering about a vocation may need help in locating the biography of someone who has been outstanding in a certain career.

Library books are not a substitute for a child's own bookshelf. Enduring hard-cover books are often given as birthday and Christmas presents. Frequently a title is chosen which has given a child much pleasure when borrowed from the library. There are many useful book lists available at most public libraries. Ask for them, because they give excellent guidance in book selection.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

We women aren't supposed to be good at figures, but here's one statistic that should make us take notice: In a recent check, it was discovered that faulty tires were responsible for 19 percent of all traffic fatalities due to equipment failure.

Protect yourself and your family by following these ten tips on tire care, passed on to me by automotive experts:

1. Keep your tire pressure at the correct level — never underinflate. Check them (when cold) before any long trip.
2. Have wheel alignment and balance checked at least once a year.
3. Every few months have the tires checked inside and out for damage such as cuts, abrasions, uneven tread wear, etc.
4. Have the tires rotated every 5,000 miles.
5. Never drive on slick, worn tires.
6. If you do a lot of highway driving, buy special high-speed tires.
7. Save extra speed for passing.
8. Take it easy on rough roads.
9. Never ride the shoulder of the road.
10. If you tend to rub the tires against the curb when parking, have metal feelers put on your car.

Three-tone coat with dress

Imaginative use of luxurious Arnel-cotton sailcloth in shades of oatmeal, gold and pale green, resulted in this elegant dress and coat costume by Raoul Jean Foure, of Montreal. A sleeveless sheath is beneath the reversible coat, whose split back seam gives effect of panels when in motion. Shown in the recent spring collection of the Canadian Association of Couturiers, in Montreal.

Raisin Sour Cream Pie Old Fashioned Delight

Chewy bits of sweet California raisins are generously distributed throughout this custardy old fashioned pie. It's the kind Grandmother served with pride, richly filled with eggs, sour cream and both brown and white sugars.

Chopping the raisins releases their full taste surprise. You'll find chopping an easy task if you toss the raisins in a teaspoon of melted butter or salad oil first.

Serve this caramely raisin pie warm or cold with a pouf of whipped cream if desired. It's delightful for coffee get togethera or to serve special guests.

OLD FASHIONED RAISIN SOUR CREAM PIE

1 cup California raisins
2 eggs
1 cup dairy sour cream
½ cup brown sugar (packed)
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Pastry for single 8-inch crust

Chop raisins. Combine with beaten eggs, sour cream, sugars, salt and cinnamon. Turn into pastry lined pie pan. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and continue baking about 25 to 30 minutes longer. Makes one 8-inch pie.

'Most essential' driving device

We cannot help admiring recent models with all kinds of gadgets and up-to-date devices created by the human brain — which make driving really automatic. But there isn't a button to push that will do "behind-the-wheel" thinking if the driver neglects some elementary precaution. Maybe the day is not far off when every car on the road will react "automatically" to different traffic situations. Until that day — if it ever comes — every driver and pedestrian must be aware of his responsibility; the first thing is to know and obey all traffic regulations, if we are to keep out of trouble, says "Prudentia". As long as there are reckless and thoughtless drivers, we must expect the unexpected, and adopt preventative measures as set forth by the Highway Code.

If You're TIRED

Now and then everybody gets a "tired-out" feeling and may be bothered by backaches. Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary condition caused by urinary irritation or bladder discomfort. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may often cause backache and tired feeling. Then you feel better, rest better, work better. 81

Rosegarland Women's Institute of Viking, Alta., has won $1,000 and the Carol Lane Award for its traffic safety education program for people of all ages.

The awards are presented annually through the Canadian Highway Safety Council and this year's top prize went to the Alberta community of 1,100 people, 80 miles southeast of Edmonton.

The second prize of $500 and a plaque was won by the Fairview Ladies' Safety Council of Calgary for a safety program for preschoolers, and the third prize of $250 and a plaque went to the Blackley District Homemakers Clubs of Dundurn, Sask., for a plan to improve the driving attitudes of teen-agers.

A merit award was given to the Central Women's Christian Temperance Union of Regina for its safety education program for senior citizens and young people.

The awards will be presented at the Canadian Safety Council conference at Regina in May. Judges for the contest were Dr. Jean Webb, Ottawa, chief of the child and maternal health division of the national health and welfare department; Mrs. Doyle Klyn, Montreal, women's editor of Weekend magazine; Mrs. Saul Hayes, Montreal, president of the National Council of Women of Canada; and Mrs. James Haggerty, Napanee, Ont., president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada.

Hairless Heroes

Much has been written about wigs and hairpieces. Now a man has come forward in defence of the bald man. He's Brad Dexter, a Hollywood actor who recently shaved his head for a movie role.

Dexter said he considered getting a hairpiece for public appearances but it was too great a nuisance. He said he has found that for the first time in his life he's being pursued by women rather than pursuing them.

The secret of bald-headed sex appeal, he says, is to shave off the sideburns too.

"The guy with the fringe on the sides looks ludicrous, sometimes pathetic, but with the clean shaven head, a man has a fierce sex attraction."

In the current pursuit for beauty, health clubs have moved into England. Lord Rank set up two reducing clubs in London through the Rank organization and more will be established all over the country.

Mrs. Donna Keith said the club she manages has more than 7,000 members who pay a minimum of $67.20 a year.

"American women are keener on enlarging their busts, while in England the bigger need is for slimmer hips and ankles."

Official Sculptor

Slim, sandy-haired Eleanor Milne has become the first woman to be named Canada's official sculptor. Much of the 36-year-old artist's work has been religious.

Her new job will be to design sculpture for federal buildings across Canada, including the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa. She was born in Saint John, N.B., but moved to Montreal as a young schoolgirl and studied philosophy and ancient history along with other subjects at Sacred Heart Convent.

Miss Milne is a daughter of a retired naval architect, William Harold Milne, and the family lives at Wakefield, Que.

BELL LINES

by JIM MENZIES

SPRING STORMS

The week of March 12 brought us a last kick from winter, with a fall of wet, sticky snow playing havoc with our lines. Starting on Monday afternoon, we began to have breaks, and by Tuesday afternoon we had over 700 stations out of service in our district. Additional crews were coming in by then, and by Wednesday at 7.00 A.M., we had 11 additional repair crews on the job, and seven additional construction crews replacing broken poles and cross-arms. All crews started at daylight and worked until after dark, and by Saturday we had all but the odd trouble cleared up. This storm came later by two weeks than the one we had last year — but unlike Milady's Easter bonnet, we hope it won't be an annual affair!

SPRING FEVER

Each year at this time most of us fall victim to a strange malady known as spring fever. The symptoms are easy to detect. Members of the fair sex usually develop a keen interest in colorful new clothing and can generally be seen sporting lovely new creations called Easter bonnets. The menfolk, on the other hand, just sit around and dream of distant trout streams. Another strange effect of this disease might be termed: "A reawakening of the nest-building urge" — an intense desire to improve and beautify the home. And that's exactly what a lot of folks in Lachute are concerned with these days. How do we know? Well, we've noticed a greater interest in our colored extension phones. As a matter of fact, there's a decided increase in the number of orders we've received in recent weeks. I guess that's proof enough. So, if you're suffering from spring fever, just relax and enjoy it. Remember, you're in good company.

Greatest Threat To Man's Sight

BEFORE AFTER

It Can Be Cured

Trachoma is the greatest single threat to the world's good sight. An estimated 500 million people, one sixth the population of the earth, are afflicted with this serious eye disease. All of them suffer visual defects of one kind or another. To many trachoma brings progressive loss of sight. On some it inflicts total blindness.

Yet if treated soon enough trachoma is a relatively easy disease to cure, as the pictures of the little Indian girl above show. On the left she appears while still suffering from trachoma — eyes secreting and squinted with pain, vision already impaired. On the right she appears after a few weeks treatment with antibiotic ointments — pain gone, eyes and vision clear.

This little girl's case might be taken as symbolic of the problem of blindness around the world. For not only trachoma but the great majority of all infectious diseases of the eye that cause complete or partial loss of sight can be cured if caught in time. Better still, most can be prevented before they even begin.

There are some 10 million blind people in the world today. About 650,000 of them are children. Many researchers put the figures even higher, at around 15 million and one million respectively, say. But all agree fully two-thirds of this darkness need never have occurred.

Trachoma, smallpox, onchocerciasis, vitamin deficiency, cataract, glaucoma, and accidents are the great cause of most blindness. Glaucoma, is responsible for 11.6 percent of all blindness in the United States, and 14 percent in England. In England 13,000 people have lost their sight through glaucoma, 30,000 in the United States.

And so it goes around the world. The human and economic damage blindness and partial blindness inflict on the world are beyond computation. In the United States alone yearly cost of welfare services and relief payments for the blind is estimated at $350 million.

It was in recognition of the urgent and global scope of the problem that the 109 Member States of the World Health Organization selected "Preserve Sight — Prevent Blindness" as the theme for the celebration April 7 of "World Health Day", the 14th anniversary of the United Nations specialized agency's foundation in 1948.

In his message for the anniversary, WHO's Director General Dr. M. G. Candau says: "On this World Health Day I would urge governments, health administrations and people everywhere to review what is being done and what could be done to prevent needless loss of sight. The knowledge is there — it remains to apply it on a wide enough scale to protest the sight of millions who, without this help, are doomed to darkness."

Have You A Question

on

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE OR EMPLOYMENT?

Q. — While on unemployment insurance benefit, I worked at a job where I got my board and lodging, but no money. Was I right in not reporting this to the Unemployment Insurance Commission?

A. — No. Board and lodging are classed as earnings and must be declared while receiving unemployment insurance benefits. Penalties are imposed for failure to disclose earnings.

Q. — I sometimes work at a part-time job on a piece-work basis while on unemployment insurance. It is difficult to know how much money I have earned on the day I am required to report to the unemployment insurance office. How can I avoid my mistakes?

A. — If you do not know the exact amount of your earnings, declare the amount which you estimate to be your earnings and then report the exact amount as soon as you know it. Failure to declare earnings correctly or the giving of false information may result in prosecution.

Q. — Should an employer return insurance books directly to the Unemployment Insurance Commission's office, or should he give them back to his employees at the end of their employment with him?

A. — The employer gives the employee his insurance book at the end of his employment with him and the employee signs a receipt for the book.

Q. — I am an employer. What am I supposed to do about employees who won't bring in their books to be stamped?

A. — When engaging a new employee you should ask him for his insurance book. If he says his book is with his former employer he should be asked to produce it immediately. If he has lost his book or he cannot produce it ask him for his registration card (a small identification card form UIC 711 or 712). This will show you the employee's insurance number. You should then write to the Unemployment Insurance Commission's local office for a new book, quoting his number and the employee's full name and date of birth.

If you cannot establish your employee's insurance number or if he has indicated he was never before insured under the Act, write to the Unemployment Insurance Commission's office for a form UIC 409, Application for Insurance Book. Upon receipt of this form have the employee complete it and then return it to the local office, who will then send you an insurance book for the employee. You may find it more convenient to send your employee to the local office where he can fill out a form 409 and at the same time receive his new insurance book or an interim insurance card. This application for an insurance book must be made within three days after you hire an employee.

Wedding ring the status symbol

By DOROTHY BARKER

Tall elms, black as a moonless night and feathered with snow, were silhouetted against the slate gray sky. They marched by my bedroom window as the train sped toward Ottawa. Naked of leaf or bud, the trees were nevertheless majestic in the prison of their winter sleep.

I always allow myself the luxury of waking gradually to the rhythm of steel wheels on steel, and the cradling of my body as the sleeper sways gently from side to side. I lay thinking about what I would tell the viewing audience of CJOH about my tripping from coast to coast, during a scheduled interview on the station's women's program "Plaza 13."

As is my habit in revery, I made the motions of twisting my wedding ring. Heavens! There was no ring to twist! My third finger, left hand, was as nude as a new-born babe. Mentally I could see the missing symbol of marital status winking its five small diamonds where I had left it on the kitchen window sill. Two hundred miles away it wouldn't do much to establish my legitimate claim to two sons and four grandchildren. Having had a bit of TV experience, I knew that a missing wedding ring would be quickly spotted by an observant female audience.

When the train pulled into the station I discovered the morning was a blustery, cold one. From the cozy warmth of my room in the Chateau Laurier I could see the figures of Canada's famous war memorial straining against a blizzard. With me was my winter guest from Baie Comeau, young, fresh and enthusiastic about her first visit to the capital city. Weather is something a native from the north shore of the St. Lawrence has little concern about. She was more concerned with the missing wedding ring and what could be done about it.

After a somewhat lengthy consultation (which I prolonged as long as possible) we decided a "stand in" ring must be purchased. We bundled up and fought our way two blocks from the hotel in search of a jewelry store.

The warmth of a Woolworth's establishment offered an opportunity to catch our breath. Dangling before our eyes was all the glitter and embellishment capable of luring even a Sheba. Beads, bangles and, ah yes, wedding rings greeted us at the first counter.

Why not, we seemed to say to each other through a mist of melting snow dripping from our eyelashes. There were only two choices, a little gold band set with a single ruby priced at 39c, and a more sophisticated carved affair resembling white gold at the extravagant price of 59c.

"Why not shoot the works," advised the hardy type beside me. This cadmium-plated circlet seemed to restore my confidence for I knew that some time during the interview my deep family pride was sure to reveal the children dangling on my family tree.

Chance to Sell Canada

We didn't need a Brink's escort to get me and my jewelry to the appointment. I realized as we drove through swirls of snow and blasts of wind that rocked the car, how wise Queen Victoria was to have chosen Ottawa as our capital. Even in the grip of biting cold the city was beautiful.

I was ushered into the makeup room where my grandmotherly wrinkles were smothered in pancake makeup, my mouth, which has stood me in good stead as a means of vocal expression and mastication for all the years of my life, made to look like Cupid's bow with a string loose and my eyes like a couple of holes burned in a blanket. I didn't recognize myself and hoped nobody else would.

Actually, when my turn came before the cameras, I enjoyed myself immensely. The klieg lights were warm and comforting, my interviewer charming and gifted in the art of asking leading questions. The opportunity this offered to find a new outlet for my travel enthusiasm made me realize that perhaps some of it would rub off on stormbound viewers possibly planning next summer's vacation trips. The human voice caught by a boom mike and coming back to one over a monitor is always strange to its owner. Mine sounded to me like an exuberant, but sincere, tourist selling Canada to her fellow citizens. I hope I did. My enthusiasm is one thing that will never be a phony as the wedding ring I wore.

J. A. POLLOCK'S
ON GETTING YOUR HEIFERS INTO PRODUCTION EARLY

Purina's calf feeding program is designed to bring your heifers to first-calf condition earlier. This means savings for you in shorter feeding time to productivity, and up to 8 months extra milk production per cow later.

In stable, feed all the good hay they will clean up. Do not feed silage until a year old. Silage is too bulky, it takes too much room in the calf's small stomach and doesn't give the "grow power" your calves need. From 4 months of age until 3 months before freshening feed 3 pounds of Purina D & F Chow per head, per day.

Supplement your pasture. Tests show that heifers turned to pasture at 6, 8 or 10 months of age and allowed no other source of feed made very slow growth. They gained only 53% of normal standard of growth. Three pounds of Purina D & F Chow per head, per day will help get your heifers to breeding weight four to eight months earlier, and will build sturdy heifers with the capacity for making milk to the full extent of their bred-in abilities.

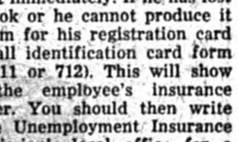

Breed according to weight. Breed Jerseys at 500 lbs.; Guernseys at 550; Ayrshires at 650; Holsteins and Shorthorns at 750. The way to keep track of your heifers' weights is with a Purina weight tape. If you don't have one, why not give me a call. I'd be happy to drop one out. And I'd like to tell you more about Purina's common-sense calf feeding program.

It's Maple Sugar Time Again in Eastern Canada!

While the old method of collecting sap is still popular, modern equipment is taking over in many sugar bushes. In this bush at Cedar Hill, Ontario, trees near the sugar house are still tapped by the old spile and bucket method. Modern plastic pipe lines strung from tree to tree gather sap from hundreds of more distant trees and carry it to collecting depots. From these tanks it is pumped to the gathering vat and hauled by trucks to the evaporator. The modern method makes for a better quality product and the saving of many hours of hard manual labor.

GARDEN MULCH

Many gardeners will soon be thinking of this year's garden lay-out. Miss Pat Harney, of the Horticultural Department at Macdonald College, advises that the mulch should not be taken off too early. The correct way is to gradually, over a period of a couple of weeks, lift it off to prevent the plants from growing too fast. In the event of a freeze-up the young shoots will not be killed.

wonder QUESTIONS?

ANSWERED BY THE RESEARCH SERVICE OF THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE

I WONDER . . . Curiosity is a priceless gift. A youngster's daily questions indicate a bright, inquiring mind. They should be answered intelligently. Can Any Plant Grow Under Ice?

This is often done by an interesting little Alpine plant called the soldanella. During the summer the flat leaves are exposed to the sun and the plant stores up fuel in the leaves until these become quite fat. Then, as time passes, they flatten to the ground, and when the snow falls, the hard, leathery covering of the leaves protects them from damage.

The plant sleeps through the winter, but in early spring the water trickling through cracks in the frozen snow above gets round the root and causes the plant to germinate. A little bud begins to open and, using the fuel stored up in the leaves, melts a place for itself in the frozen ice or snow.

As it grows up toward the light it continues to melt the snow, until at last it emerges into the fresh air, but down below the snow again freezes together round the stem. The flowers open and when the snow disappears the little soldanella is practically a full-grown plant with its blossoms open inviting the bees to enter and fertilize them. The bees accept the invitation and fruits form, yielding seeds. The plant then flattens again to the ground and stores up fuel for the following year.

If the soldanella were to wait for the snow to disappear before it began to grow it would have little chance of surviving, for there are crowds of other plants all round that would overtop it, shut out the sunshine and prevent its blossoms from opening properly. By melting its way through the ice and blossoming before the other plants have grown, the soldanella preserves its life and produces seeds which grow and carry on the race.

The way the soldanella pushes its way through the snow is a wonderful and unusual example of what those who study nature call adaptation to environment. Its environment — especially larger, more robust neighbors — seems unfavorable. Yet, by sprouting early — and this is how it is adapted — the soldanella is able to survive.

Which Animal Lives Longest?

The long-life prize for land animals has to be given to the tortoise. This animal is believed to live, under favorable conditions, up to 200 years. The elephant would take second prize with a life-span of about 80 years, but he barely beats the alligator which can live to be 75.

As a general rule we can say animals that have a long childhood — elephants for example — have a long life.

What is meant by "Crocodile Tears"?

Sometimes people will cry or pretend to cry over something about which they are not sincerely sad. We call these tears "crocodile" tears because a crocodile's eyes may shed tears when he swallows too big a bite — but he isn't a bit sorry for the animal he has just gulped down!

Forums critical of education tax on property basis

Quebec Farm Forums are unanimous in thir agreement that the present property tax works unfairly in assessing the costs of education. The most common argument is that many persons who have very good incomes own very little property and therefore do not contribute to financing of education. They think that a fair system would require these persons to contribute toward the cost of education. Taxes, they say, should be on the farm dwellings only, rather than on the whole farm which is a productive unit. Valuations and assessments are not equal between farm and town properties, or between municipalities, and this is a cause of dissatisfaction.

The Forums suggested that further education costs be met by a tax on incomes, as being the fairest method. They also thought there is a good case for federal and provincial assistance for education. This kind of assistance could assure more equal opportunity for children to receive a good education, whether they lived in a poor or a wealthy municipality, or in a poor or a wealthy province. A sales tax for educational purposes, a tax upon non-essential items, and a lottery, were suggested as means of improving on the present system.

New annuals for attractive garden display

The homeowner who keeps his garden up to date with new varieties of annual flowers is investing in good conversation pieces and attractive displays at little cost.

That's the opinion of veteran horticulturist R. W. Oliver of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa.

He tested the alyssum Rosie O'Day and found it an attractive light, rosy-mauve compact border plant when used away from like-colored flowers.

Also desirable are the new wilt-resistant China asters — Blue Waves, Pink Peony, Yellow Duchess and White Peacock — tall and branching, with large well shaped flowers true to color and excellent for cutting. They bloom from late July to frost.

Yellow Duchess — yellow being a new color for asters — combines well with the older colors. Scarlet Pimpernel is a different type with tight, incurved flower heads of clear crimson scarlet with enduring blooms. Scarlet Pyramid, a bouquet type, has a shorter blooming period as all its branches flower at the same time.

Cockscomb's solid mass of gold or scarlet has become popular. It should not be confused with the closely related Celosia spicata, whose narrow spikes of washed-out pink flowers make it suitable only for very informal gardens.

Hawaii is an excellent addition to the tall, carnation-flowered marigolds. The large, well-formed, deep-orange flowers are held well above the foliage and it can be used effectively with cream or pale-blue flowers.

Of the new petunias, Lyric is a deep-rose double, more compact than other double-flowering varieties. Red Ensign is a bright-scarlet, straight-edged single — a natural for low beds or as a border to taller varieties.

There are two impressive new zinnias. Pink Lady is a tall dahlia-flowered type with large dusty-rose flowers that fade to buff at the outer edge. It has a new type of soft color and is very attractive. State Fair is the first tetraploid zinnia variety to come on the market and the plants are still mixed in color and type. The flowers are large and the colors bright but the plants are not so tall as other large flowered types.

Grass Silage And Ketosis In Cows?

Grass silage made by direct-cut from the field having possibly 75 to 80 percent moisture has been suspected of causing ketosis in dairy cows. This is partly because of the high content of butryic acid in such silage. Symptoms of ketosis in cows have been described as halitosis, poor appetite and loss in weight. Dr. L. H. Schultz of the Dairy Husbandry Department, University of Wisconsin, has expressed himself as being doubtful about any connection between direct-cut, smelly grass silage and ketosis in cows. The relationship, he said at a recent nutrition conference, had not been established. Though granting that when cows were fed butryic acid in excess they had exhibited certain ketosis characteristics.

Dr. Bohstedt

There were more ketone bodies and less sugar in the blood. Also, because cows tend to eat less, they may have to convert body fat into milk fat—factors which favor the production of ketone bodies and the symptoms of ketosis.

Some dairymen have found that incidences of ketosis are reduced by not having the cows in a high condition of flesh at calving time, but rather in a merely thrifty condition.

If by chance there should be any relationship between smelly grass silage and ketosis, the new low-moisture, sweet smelling grass silage would effectively steer clear of that problem. This is particularly true now that there is a trend toward haylage, or heavily-wilted, low moisture grass silage having only 45 to 55 percent moisture whether stored in gas-tight or in conventional silos.

The trend toward haylage should also reduce the incidence of complaints that high moisture direct-cut silage has been responsible for gassy cheese, especially Swiss cheese. And it is true that unless care is taken at milking time, some of the bacteria from the high-moisture silage may somehow get into the milk and therefore into the cheese made from the milk.

Question: It has been stated that sheep need more salt per unit of live weight than cattle do. Why is this?

Answer: This may possibly be because sheep are called upon to grow wool, possibly because they perspire over their entire bodies which cattle do not, and possibly because sheep in general eat larger proportions of roughage to grain than do cattle. Each of these functions makes a special demand upon salt in the ration. They all argue for letting sheep have salt freely accessible at all times.

PREPARE NOW FOR GARDENING TIME

Now is the time to start collecting your seed catalogues. Miss Pat Harney, of the Horticulture Department at Macdonald College, says that every year seed companies bring out new varieties and that people should try them out. New varieties of roses have been introduced and those people wishing a hardy rose should plant a few Arctic roses this year.

Diary of a Vagabond

CONTAGIOUS CLUBITIS

Everyone belongs to a club these days. Joining is a virus that has swept the country from one shore to the other. Farm lads and lassies are susceptible from an early age when they are bitten by the 4-H bug, an effective immunization against juvenile delinquency. Pre-adults, city bred, have found the coffee club fever a heady one while listening to sentimental folk ballads nasally sung to the twang of guitars. Father joins a golf club and mother at her bridge club gambles 25c a corner weekly with the "girls", trumping their aces while forgetting to sluff her short suit in a slam bid. Clubbing seems to be the answer to our social need. Perhaps it lends a feeling of security in these troubled times.

Clubs can also be breeding places for ideas, places of mental stimulation, for whenever two or more celebrities rub elbows, sparks of inspiration are sure to fly. One such organization is the Celebrity Club on Jarvis Street in Toronto.

Smoke hung in a smog over the heads of several dozen members the day Harold Morrison, of the CN's Department of Public Relations, invited me to have luncheon here in one of his favorite haunts. I had complained of a seasonal mental inertia and he offered to explode a few ideas for me to nibble on.

As I poked a fork among peas and "Boeuf au Vin", I learned a little about the Celebrity Club. Within a stone's throw of CBC's studios in downtown Toronto, it rather reminded me of a temple. Not for its religious influence on its members, but because it is a daily mecca for working members of the arts and has a four-floor eminence.

We started our luncheon prowl in the basement regions searching for a familiar network personality I had been assured frequented this lair. The men all looked like regular business types in neat dark suits or tweed jackets and flannels. Although there was the odd bearded individual meandering from one table to another in cheery salutation. Where were the artistes I expected in turtle neck sweaters, a harried look and left-over makeup?

When PRs Get Together

Harold Morrison, among other accomplishments, was a CBC script writer before his foray into the field of railway public relations. He fitted comfortably into these surroundings, hailing, as we entered, another PR type, Frank Duckworth. This is the person who must be given credit for an original idea he put into action recently, when his firm introduced a new cake mix. The modern version of an old time recipe, he chose Old Fort York, on the shores of Lake Ontario, to whip up the first batter in century old utensils and baked the cake in a brick oven somebody's ancestor probably considered her pride and joy. He was abetted in this accomplishment by Peter Styrmo, who is in charge of the Fort and has an appreciation of original ideas.

Duckworth let little grass grow under foot after this successful venture before he approached the CN with another promotional idea for serving the spicy delicacy aboard CN diners. With their heads together, I learned how PR types cook up ideas over a plate of goulash in a celebrity atmosphere.

While the ingredients of an idea bubbled between them I searched again for a glimpse of a national celebrity. I was almost ready to concede all had eaten at an earlier hour when June Dennis walked up to Duckworth and asked him to sign his membership card. "She works here?" I gasped. "Sure," replied Morrison, "that is how the Celebrity Club is run . . . by celebrities. It was started by two famous broadcasters, who believed such a club would fill a need as a meeting place for show biz personalities and related arts, and it is managed by members of the profession."

June Dennis visits thousands of homes each weekday morning via AUDIO, a radio program with a longevity record. She is much more glamorous off camera than on, which is intended as a compliment because most guest panelists, as she often is on "Live a Borrowed Life," look more like models than interesting career women.

The world of radio, TV, script writers, producers, actors, personalities who plug commercials and the boys behind the scenes who by some miracle make all programs come out even, lost none of its romance, because I discovered these people were not endowed with an obvious aura of creativity but are just ordinary Joes like the rest of us, doing a job they have chosen as their life's work. It is the odd few who THINK they are celebrities who strike one as being "characters".

THE PAST — PRESENT — AND FUTURE

All of us in Argenteuil - Two Mountains are proud of Canada's glorious past. All of us are confident of the great future in store for our country.

BUT . . . WHAT OF THE PRESENT?
WHAT OF TODAY? . . .

— What of the 583,000 unemployed Canadians, half of whom are heads of families and the highest proportion of which, for any one province, is right here in Quebec?

— What of our Dairy farmers, with or without John Diefenbaker's Butter Poultice?

— What of our 55-year-old-plus farmers on worn-out land, or rather, on land that should never have been broken by the plough?

— What of our young people having to face life without proper training and sufficient education?

Boasting of our great natural resources under the present circumstances, is meaningless bragging.

THE CANDIDATE TO BE CHOSEN AT OUR PARTY CONVENTION MUST BE "OF THE PEOPLE". A MAN WHO WILL FEARLESSLY SOUND THE CLARION CALL FOR LEGISLATION THAT WILL BE OF BENEFIT TO "JOHN EVERYBODY — TO HIS SONS, AND HIS DAUGHTERS". . . . LEGISLATION THAT WILL ENABLE EVERY CANADIAN TODAY, IN THIS GENERATION, TO LIVE COMPLETE, PRODUCTIVE, MEANINGFUL LIVES.

I believe that I am such a man, that I am such a candidate.

REAL G. LECUYER

Year studied, officers named for District Home and School

April 11 was the date of the annual, and final, meeting of the Lachute and District Home and School Association for the 1961-62 season. It was a small, but informal and informative meeting, with several doubts and queries being settled.

In view of the small attendance at the meetings, the question of a need for a Home and School in Lachute was discussed. On this question Mr. Fred Royal, principal of Lachute High School, assured the members that the Association has been, and can continue to be, of valuable assistance to the school.

The Home and School has performed several services to the school, the chief one being the annual Scholarship award, which this year should amount to over $300. (The exact amount will not be known until after this year's Scholarship Whist, on May 16.) Each year the Association has taken a $25 advertising space in "Lampada"; has assisted Mrs. Eleanor Rigby, the music teacher, with costumes for her musical productions, and this year catered to a party Mrs. Rigby held for her choir; has found Class Mothers for the primary grade teachers; and has held a Skate Sale, which has grown increasingly popular up to this year, when it handled 90 pairs of skates, skis and ski boots.

Service to the school is one phase of Home and School; parent education is another. Many people seemed to feel the programs offered were not interesting, and yet Mr. Ernest Gow, the president, stated he had received many requests to have three of this year's programs repeated, because people had heard they were highly interesting.

Mr. Gow was commended for his very capable job in a dual role as president and program chairman, and for all his hard work to make a success of these undertakings — each in itself a difficult task.

Readers are reminded to keep May 16 in mind as the date of the Scholarship Whist, in the school auditorium. Tickets may be had from any member of the executive (or phone LO 2-8058).

New Officers

The nominating committee presented the following slate for 1962-63:

Carillon Lock to open Aug. 1, says Travel News

Canada's Department of Transport advises that work on the Carillon Lock of the Ottawa River will likely be completed in time to open the lock about August 1, 1962 — says Ontario Travel News.

The level of the water was raised in February, resulting in the flooding of Locks 3 and 4. Quebec Hydro-Electric authorities, however, have agreed to maintain the portage of boats around the works along the lines in force during the past two summers. This will permit navigation of light motor boats less than 30 feet in length. Navigation markers will be placed in the reaches between Locks 3 and 5 in the latter part of May — says the news item.

Hit-and-run fatality occurs on riverfront road

An important witness was detained 24 hours following the discovery of a hit-and-run accident on Route 29, near Cushing, late Saturday evening — according to Cpl. Maurice Dinelle, officer-in-charge of the local Q.P.P. detachment.

A passing motorist discovered the body of Maurice Pleau, 40, of Chatham, on the highway, and notified the police. The accident is believed to have occurred around 10.30 p.m.

District coroner Dr. Roger Lavigne was called to the scene and pronounced the victim dead. A coroner's inquest into the death will be held.

Prof. Lee gives views at Hwksb'y on Dollard topic

Addressing pupils at the Catholic District High Schol in Hawkesbury, Prof. Thomas Lee of Ottawa (as reported in the newspaper, Le Carillon) stated that only antagonism from high-ranking government officials prevented official recognition of his research. . . . The report does not mention which government, Ontario or Quebec.

It was unfortunate these persons had adopted such an attitude, said the archaeologist, for the Dollard battleground had now disappeared forever under the flood waters of the Carillon power development.

Prof. Lee upholds the Ontario side of the Ottawa River as the scene of Dollard's battle of the Long Sault.

Meanwhile, at a meeting in Ottawa recently of the Ontario Federation of St. Jean Baptiste Societies, it was planned to celebrate the Dollard fete May 20 on the Ross-Lavigne Farm at Chute à Blondeau, the scene of Prof. Lee's explorations.

To Lions Club Quebec-Ontario oratory finals

Two young orators who emerged as winners from the recent Lions Club contest, were escorted by Dr. Eric Mongeon, committeeman, to the district semi-finals at St. Lambert, Que., last Saturday.

Following keen competition among many young contenders, a Lachute girl, Denise Belanger of the St. Alexandre School, won highest standing among the girl orators (French) . . . Marcel Leduc of l'Ecole Secondaire gave a very fine effort but succumbed to keener talents among the boys.

Denise Belanger, a promising young student here, will proceed to the Lions Club finals, to be held May 5 at Noranda. She will compete against semi-finalists from several Quebec and Ontario districts.

Accompanying the contestants to St. Lambert were Dr. Mongeon; the Rev. Bro. Lamarche, tutor of young Marcel Leduc; and the parents and family of Miss Belanger.

Antoine Paré agrees to stand for candidature at Liberal Convention

At a sugar party under auspices of the Ayersville Liberal Association, held at the Bertrand Hall on Route 8 near St. Philippe on Sunday, April 15 (at which were present Yvon Dupuis, Federal M.P. for St. Jean-Iberville, Kenneth MacKay, vice-president of the Quebec Liberal Federation and other Liberal notables from Argenteuil-Two Mountains) — Antoine Paré, Mayor of St. Andrews East and retiring president of the Argenteuil Liberal Association, accepted the formal invitation expressed by resolutions of the Liberal Associations of Brownsburg, Ayersville, St. Andrews, Carillon, St. Philippe, Weir, Mille Isles, Lakefield, Morin Heights and other localities in the County, to present himself as a candidate at the Convention to be held in St. Eustache on May 5 next.

Before a packed hall of over 400 Liberal supporters, Mr. Paré pledged himself to wage an intense campaign to win the convention and to lead the County of Argenteuil-Two Mountains back into the ranks in a new Liberal Government in Ottawa. The audience of over 400 strongly supported the announcement of Mr. Paré's acceptance to be a candidate at the Liberal Convention.

Albert Morrissette, local contractor, dropped dead while fighting grass fire

Albert Morrissette, 64-year-old Bedard Blvd. resident, dropped dead while fighting a grass fire started on his property on Route 41, near the Vide Sac Road. The fatality occurred around 3 p.m. on Tuesday of this week.

The victim was fighting the fire with neighbors and a few passers-by, when he stopped for a "breather". He was walking to the highway to summon the fire brigade when Lawrence Hodge, a neighbor, noticed he had fallen. He immediately called Don Wilson, who had stopped by to render assistance, and they managed to pull the victim away from the flames. He was not burned. Joint District Coroner Dr. J. C. MacKimmie was summoned to the scene and pronounced the victim dead.

The remains are resting at Menard Funeral Parlors until Friday.

Inspiring talk at Rotary Club

At last week's meeting of the Brownsburg-Lachute Rotary Club, Rotarian Phil Grant was presented with his 10-year perfect attendance pin, a noteworthy record and one to be proud of.

Guest speaker for the evening was the Rev. J. K. Zeman, of Toronto. The theme of his talk was "Faith for Times Like These", a topic on which he gave an inspiring address. The Rev. Mr. Zeman was born in Czechoslovakia and lived under five different regimes before he was able to enter Canada. His talk was thoroughly enjoyed.

Young hockeyists seen embryos of future 'greats'

The number of families afforded an outlet for their youngsters' energies this past season by the Lions community rink, was indicated in a gathering of the minor hockey clans Sunday afternoon, for presentation of the trophies and awards. The civic auditorium was well filled with youngsters, parents and interested adults, to witness the climax of a successful junior hockey season sparked and operated by the Lions Club.

The occasion was m.c.'d by Roger Regimbal, and on the platform were Geo. Locke, president of the rink committee; Dr. Eric Mongeon, all-round "activator" in junior sport; and Fred Jeffery, president of the minor leagues. To these fellow-Lions and to Gaetan Malacket, committee-man responsible for the afternoon's program, Mr. Regimbal paid generous tribute. Others especially appreciated for their contribution to the season's enjoyment were Jacques Bourgoing, rink manager, and the sponsors and coaches of all junior teams, besides the referees.

Teams in the three leagues (Midget, Bantam and Pee-Wee) were — Lowe's, Legion, Boyd's, Quenneville, Loisirs, Ayers, Maroons and Canadiens.

The program was stirred to an enthusiastic pitch by color films of former NHL playoffs, loaned by Molson's and screened by the courtesy of René Laurin, distributor for Dow.

Pièce-de-resistance was the presentation of trophies, souvenir tokens and windbreakers to the young hockeyists. Each participant received a jacket in his club colors and the jubilant youngsters donned them immediately, with few exceptions.

Captains and coaches of the three winning teams were called to the platform to receive the championship trophies, as follows:

Midget League

Legion — Coach, Ernest Evans
Captain, Clarence Currie

Bantam League

Lowe's — Coach, Cliff Lowe
Captain, Carman Lowe

Pee-Wee League

Lowe's — Coach, Cliff Lowe
Captain, Mike Lowe.

Next in importance were the "most valuable player" awards, individual trophies to one member of each team evaluated the key player in the season's hockey. (These are enumerated in a picture of the group appearing in this issue.)

Three other tokens were presented — two by the boys to their mentors: Clarence Currie to Coach Ernest Evans of the Legion Midgets, and Dick Maidens to Don Neil, coach of the Legion Bantams. The third token was presented by the Rev. Yvanhoe Forest to young Jean-Luc Grenier, coach of the Pee-Wee Canadiens.

Mayor Fernand Legault, Q.C., officiated for the drawing of three winning tickets in a league drawing. The winners were — Dr. Chas. Roy, $50; Brian Fillingham, $25; Jos. Senecal, $25.

In conclusion Lion Roger Regimbal thanked each and every one who had contributed in any way to this happy conclusion, including the parents for their co-operation during the hockey season.

At Bourbonniere Camps —

Belligerent taxi fare terrorized settlement

Paul-Emile Allard, a 32-year-old St. Philippe resident, pleaded guilty to charges of attempted theft with violence, keeping three persons as hostages, and theft from the said hostages; the accused appeared in St. Jerome Court on Friday of last week. Sentence will be handed down on Tuesday next.

The incidents occurred on Wednesday of last week when two men were reported to be fighting on the new section of Route 41, near the Bourbonnière camp settlement. A passer-by stopped to assist the victim of this fracas, who was being beaten with a bottle, and the would-be rescuer was attacked for his efforts. The attacker then took to the woods — the victim, a St. Jerome taxi-driver, who was bleeding from head injuries, driving himself to hospital.

Provincial Police were notified of the incident, and upon arriving at the scene, began a systematic search for the culprit. Several cars kept driving around the triangle of the old and new roads, and one driver spotted a man running from between two houses to the home of Ronald Hodgson. The fugitive, failing to gain entry here, then entered the home of Joseph Sewell, where he terrorized the occupants, including two teen-agers, taking a watch from the boy, clothing, and other items including a small sum of money.

He then left the house and was noticed by Bob Haydon, a resident of the settlement, who stopped the man and held him in conversation, knowing that passing motorists had also seen him and were going for the police who were searching near the river.

Allard was arrested and taken to St. Jerome, where he was charged, and on Friday, pleaded guilty. The man had only recently been released from jail after serving a sentence for breaking and entering with theft, and has several other convictions on his record.

Easter Seals —

Only 9 percent reply

Reports from Col. Ernest Emmett and the Easter Seals committee are somewhat disappointing. They indicate that the best showing of replies from any one community has come, so far, from Brownsburg; but even so, the response from this community (up to Monday night) was only 10 percent of those who received seals and pink return-envelopes. The average response is no greater than 9 percent to date. This is not considered very encouraging.

With this rate of response from individual residents, the support from industries, organizations and municipalities also leaves room for improvement.

Lachute Lions Club, sponsors of the Easter Seals effort in this community, counts on a more generous public subscription to finance a number of deserving cases in the year. These range through a variety of physical handicaps, not only crippled limbs, in both adults and children. The work achieved by the Lions Club has been gratifying, while the larger portion of financial proceeds each year, turned over to the Quebec Crippled Children's Association, augments the fund available for training, rehabilitation, medical aid, orthopedic devices and summer camp periods for crippled young Canadians.

It is hoped this district will not fall short in its obligation to less-privileged and stricken youngsters. . . . Send your donation today, in the return-addressed pink envelope. Add a postage stamp, and thus save a double charge for postage-collect.

4-H Calf Club reorganized at recent meeting

The Lachute 4-H Calf Club was reorganized for 1962 at a meeting held on Thursday of last week in the Lachute High School.

Prize-money won by members last fall was presented, and old business discussed before the club was reorganized.

Donald Robertson, Federal livestock fieldman, then chaired the meeting for the election of officers. Bobby Rodger was elected president and Donald Hadley vice-president. Richard Thompson is the new secretary-treasurer and Ross Oswald and Davis MacVicar the club leaders.

Mr. Robertson gave a short talk on the Farm Surplus problem, before the meeting was adjourned until sometime in May.

Irenée Paré, the local agronome, and several parents were present at the meeting.

"ARGENTEUIL OUTDOORS"

By BOB ATCHISON

Local fishermen have informed me of many lakes being classed as PRIVATE. One instance is Lac Vingt Sous. Checking on this, I have been told that the Provincial Government poisoned this lake and restocked it with trout some time ago. As it was a public lake at the time, and still is, then there shouldn't be any trouble from landowners who might wish to keep it private. We as fishermen know of a lot of cases of owners wanting to do this for good reason. Rubbish, fires, abusive language, etc., all make for animosity towards visitors. However, this lake is public; so fishermen can take it from there.

Last summer there was a case of law-breaking regarding fishing. Since then, all that has been done is postponements in the courts. The case having been dated to come up last week in St. Jerome, I was all set to cover this. However, with the floods in the river, and living right on the side of the river, it was not possible for me to follow it up. Looking through the daily papers, I have seen nothing of this case, and am just wondering what happened.

Our system of protecting wildlife certainly stinks. No wonder it takes a dedicated man to be a warden these days. Certainly there is no incentive for him to make cases — only to have such cases thrown out of court. If this had been the case of just an ordinary fisherman, there would have been no postponements — just pay up or else. Of course, this is not the only County where this sort of thing occurs, and so long as such conditions continue, it's a poor prospect for wildlife protection. When our Natural Resources are administered for the benefit of a chosen few, then I kick.

I have been watching the North River break up this past week, and the opportunity to see some of our aquatic animals once again, makes it interesting. There is a beautiful Otter inhabiting the opposite side of the river from us. It can be seen every morning, and it is not very often one has the opportunity of seeing them so often. The color of the fur resembles that of a bleached redhead — almost, I should say. The way it rambles around with the undulating lope, makes me think of a youngster just learning to run — as though it were about to fall at any time, but just never getting to that point. My dad, who is with us for a few weeks, had to see how close he could get to it; he slipped into the river — after all, you can't walk around and not watch your footing. The resulting splash scared the Otter away . . . And incidentally, the bruises on Pop were not the colors you see in a paint catalogue. A real squishy greeny-blue.

The ducks are playing around now in huge numbers. All kinds of them. Teal, Blacks, Mallards, etc. I have thought, if this is any indication of their numbers then we may be very encouraged with the increase. However, it is early to yell about it yet. It may be that the pattern is the same as a couple of years ago, when all the birds came in all at the one time, and from then on nothing was seen coming from the south. But these ducks have been well protected while down south, and it is to be hoped they have increased in numbers.

As most of you know, insecticides and their uses have been a sore point with me. The indiscriminate use of untested killers is now very critical. Woodcock — one of the sportiest upland birds for the shooter, besides being a very tasty morsel — is now on the point of being classed as unfit for human consumption — all due to insecticides. When we consider a creature of the wild being classed like this, then it is about time we started to worry. Of course, this is happening in the U.S., but we are not exempt from blame. There are places in our country where poisons of every description are sprayed around.

With all the excitement about "fallout", it seems strange that nothing is said of these killers that do more than any nuclear deposits. Most people think that all this spray is taken up by the air and disappears forever. This is not the case. Some of these solutions cling to the fruits and vegetables we eat. Sure, we wash them, but do we remove all harmful residues? It's worth thinking about.

There has been another outcry about panthers around the Island of Montreal. It's a good thing that residents of our district take things a little easier. A picture in one of the Montreal papers showed the print of a panther that had been seen around Dorion; it makes you think a little — 8 inches long! Must be a new breed of cat, or maybe a cross between a bear and a panther.

While on this subject, the prints of a panther are almost the same as those of a domestic cat. Larger by many times of course, but the same unmistakable outline. With four toes sharply imprinted, and the heavy pad behind, it makes for the stealthy stalking of any prey. . . . The panther is of course a member of the cat family.

More and more fishermen are being heard from — with a few calls on what types of flies and lures to use. I can only say this is a try-and-change method. It is impossible to say just what fish will take at this time of the year. It's a question of trial and error, mostly error.

As I mentioned last week, my favorites for this early season are the large Crane flies with heavy hackles. The Strawman is also good at times. For anyone wanting to tie up a few of these — this is the way: Use a long shank No. 8 hook, preferably with a limerick bend, as this is a much faster hooker than other types. Wind your thread, starting from the hook, shank down to the bend; then tie in some wool of a cream color about one third of the way up. Tie it off, but do not cut the thread. Use some brown bucktail and wind it over the whole shank of the remainder of the hook. Pull tight, and in this way you will have the hair stand out in a circle. Trim this off very short, close to the body. Leave about ¼-inch near the eye of the hook to give it more action; and that's it. Before trying it out, soak it in mud or water so that it will sink rapidly, and do not use any form of sinker on it. This is a nymph type of fly, so cast it upstream letting it drift free, with only the tightening of the line as it comes down.

Just got a call on a little animal that has been caught. Friendly and seemingly very clean; from the description, it may be a flying squirrel. I'm going up later to take a look, and hope I can convince the captors to let it go. Tell you all about it next week.

We have a black dog straying around the premises just now. Very timid and starved, it sure is a sorry sight. A few good meals will help it out for awhile. Where it has come from, I don't know; but it is tragic to see neglect like this.

Argenteuil Fish and Game Association hold enthusiastic meeting and award prizes

The fish and game population of this County is in for some strenuous days this coming season, judging by the wide assortment of fishing rods, nets and camping equipment awarded last Wednesday night as prizes at the annual meeting of the newly-incorporated Argenteuil Fish and Game Association, held in the Hotel Hebert, Ayersville. A record attendance marked the event, and enthusiasm ran high as an extensive program of tournaments was approved by the members, following reports of the officers on the past year's activities.

The meeting was chaired by Paul Desjardins, president of the Association. Hector Lepage acted as master of ceremonies, introducing the speakers and distributing the prizes. Following the meeting, two interesting films on fishing and hockey were presented, and refreshments were enjoyed.

Henri St. Onge, treasurer, presented his financial report showing a substantial surplus. Denis St. Jacques reviewed the various activities and tournaments of the past season. Mr. Desjardins, president, Hector Lepage, vice-president, and Victor Barré, Q.C., legal advisor, explained the various powers given the Association under the charter recently granted by the Provincial Government. Provision had been made for election of officers in the fall, but meanwhile the present officers would remain in office as follows:

President, Paul Desjardins; 1st vice-president, Hector Lepage; 2nd vice-president, Ernest Villemaire; recording secretary, Denis St. Jacques; secretary - treasurer, Henri St. Onge.

Directors — Patrick Lalonde, André Pilon, Gaston Lepine, Agapit Roy, Remi Seguin.

Legal advisor, Victor Barré, Q.C.

The question was discussed of obtaining permission, through the Provincial Government, to hold one or two tournaments a year, outside the dry season and under proper control, on one of several good trout lakes not now accessible to the public. A resolution was adopted authorizing the Association's officers to take necessary steps to obtain such permission.

The meeting was also addressed by Germain Serve, representative of the Molson's Brewery Limited. He congratulated the members, who now number 350, on the progress made by their Association, and described activities of other organizations outside Argenteuil County, all tending to cultivate good sportsmanship and fish and game conservation.

Various proposals were made for the coming tournaments, and votes were taken on various lakes, with the following result: first tournament, on Silver Lake during the coming May; second, to be the annual Molson tournament, on the Ottawa River during June; third and last tournament to take place at Bark Lake, during September.

A feature of the evening was the awarding of numerous door prizes, which were won by — Georges Couvrette, Conrad Meunier, Paul-Emile Gravel, Jean Gravel, Mme Léo Desjardins, Mme Jacques Navion, Maurice Raymond, Fred Williams, Aquilla St-Jean, Luc Hudon, Raymond Miron, Doris Giroux, Oscar Larocque, Jocelyn Danis.

The Molson tournament prizes for last year were presented by Mr. Serve and Leonard Bedard, Molson distributor, to Mrs. Dalma Lemay, of Lachute, and Maurice Raymond, of Brownsburg.

Police Dept. report

There were 30 traffic accidents on the police report for the month of March — three with personal injury and 27 causing damage to vehicles.

A total of 303 service calls were received at town police headquarters during the month, and 19 offenders were placed under arrest for various reasons all the way from impaired driving to indecent conduct.

Fines for traffic offences, $1,044.55, and collections from other sources, $112.90, brought total revenues of $1,157.45 during the month.

Investigations by the police force included the theft of an automobile, which was duly recovered, and several cases of entry and theft.

The month's report was prepared by Chief J.-L. Hebert, of Phillips Investigation Bureau, for the April meeting of Town Council.

Auto parts "clinic" held

This group was photographed recently at a "clinic" held by United Auto Parts Inc. (Lachute Division). Among the sales and parts specialists may be seen (centre) Jean Presseault manager of the Lachute Division; Roger Audette, district manager for Hastings Ltd., who conducted the clinic; Trenton Boyd, assistant manager of the local branch; and Bill Curren, mechanic.

Exhibition of contemporary art opens April 28

Through the collaboration of Denyse Delrue and other art galleries, also of a few collectors in Montreal, the Argenteuil Art Centre will be privileged to exhibit a representative showing by contemporary French - Canadian artists — starting Sunday, April 28, and continuing for one week.

Pearl of this selection, without a doubt, will be a canvas by Paul-Emile Bourduas, whose works were featured in a retrospective exhibition recently at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts.

Other modern artists represented will be — Arseneault, Marcel Barbeau, Léon Bellefleur, Ewen, Charles Gagnon, Pierre Gauvreau, Germain, Colin Haworth, Hurtubise, Marcelle Maltais, Lucien Morin and Tobie Steinhouse.

Those familiar with artistic trends which distinguish this province, will immediately appreciate the repute of these artists. . . . In addition there are two from this immediate district, Jeanine Leroux and Guy Racine; and Giuseppe Fiore, instructor at the Museum of Fine Arts who also teaches an enthusiastic group here in Lachute.

This is a rare opportunity for art lovers to view examples of expression which are making their mark abroad, in Europe and the U.S., while gathering an increasing following here at home. It will be an opportunity for those less conversant with this trend, to learn and evaluate the momentum of contemporary expression.

All are welcome to this exhibition, and to three subsequent exhibitions programmed for the Centre d'Art (Rio Theatre building) between now and midsummer.

Paper salvage in Brownsburg

Brownsburg residents are reminded that the Boy Scouts will collect waste paper on Saturday, April 28. Newspapers and magazines should be securely bundled or packed in cartons, and left at the street for pick-up, which will commence at 1 p.m. In the event of rain, the collection will be made on the following Saturday.

Mourn old citizen of St. Andrews

The late Buchanan H. Robertson

St. Andrews East — A well known resident of St. Andrews East, Buchanan H. Robertson, died at the Montreal General Hospital on Sunday, April 8, in his 80th year.

Left to mourn are his wife, the former Ruth E. Albright; three daughters, Enid, of Montreal, Hazel (Mrs. A. I. Lemieux), of Winnipeg, Margaret (Mrs. A. W. Morse), of Glen Rock, N.J.; and two sons, Hugh, of Vancouver, and Arthur, of Chateauguay. Also surviving are two sisters, Beatrice, of St. Andrews East, Ella (Mrs. R. W. Barclay), of Montreal, and three brothers, Haldane, of Sogull, Calif., Robert and Frederick, of St. Andrews East; also 14 grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday, April 11, at Christ Church, St. Andrews East, service being conducted by the Rev. W. C. LeCras.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. Ewen and Gregor Albright, William Watson, Lawson Taylor, Horton Clark and Richard Parker.

One of oldest Chatham residents called by death

The late Andrew Graham

Cushing — One of the oldest residents of St. Philippe and Cushing vicinity passed away on Sunday night, April 8, at the home of his son, John R. Graham. The late Mr. Andrew Graham himself was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Graham, of the Fuller Road.

He leaves to mourn his loss his brother, Frederick; his sons, John R. and Cecil R. Graham; his daughter, Mrs. Jan Kaprusiak, of Montreal; one granddaughter and five grandsons, as well as a number of nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held at the MacKimmie Funeral Home on April 11, which was the fourth anniversary of the passing of his wife, the late Jeanie Somerville. Service was conducted by the Rev. James Armour, who did not dwell too much on the character and virtues of the deceased, knowing that friends and relatives, gathered to show him their last respects, knew his life story to the full. The profusion of beautiful flowers, too, bore mute testimony.

The remains were taken to St. Andrews East for interment, the pall-bearers being his son-in-law, Mr. Jan Kaprusiak, two grandsons, Andrew and Kenneth Graham, and three nephews, Allen, Cecil O. and Jas. A. Graham.

Friends and relatives noted from a distance were — Mrs. Alice Crapper, of Ottawa; Mrs. Amos Scharfe and son, Edmund, of Cumberland, Ont.; Miss Margaret McNeil, of Ormstown; Mr. and Mrs. Jan Kaprusiak, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Blore, Miss Nora Somerville and Mrs. J. C. Dougall, all of Montreal.

Extension to Trinity cemetery at Morin Hts.

Morin Heights — Trinity Anglican congregation met last week and elected Mr. Philip Moss as new people's warden, replacing Stewart McGrandel, who is shortly leaving the community for Downsview, Ont. Appreciation was expressed to Mr. McGrandel for his efforts on behalf of the church.

Mr. Teddy Muncey will act as deputy rector's warden for a four-month period, while Mr. Stanley Morgan is on course at Camp Borden. Mr. Muncey is also treasurer of the church.

This church has purchased a large section of land adjacent to the present cemetery; the area will be improved and added to the present cemetery. Purchase was made from the estate of the late Edgar Boyd, for $500.

The rector mentioned that Confirmation classes would begin after Easter, for Confirmation to be held June 23, and that Mr. Ian Grant, B.A., of the Diocesan Theological College, would be the resident summer assistant in the parish, giving particular emphasis to youth work.

New Arg. Liberal Women's Assocn. held meeting

On Wednesday, April 11, a general meeting of members of the Liberal Women's Association of the County of Argenteuil took place in the Lachute Auditorium. Requests to become members of this Association are numerous; however, to be accepted as a member, the person has to prove her sincerity as a Liberal.

The president, Mrs. Noella Durocher, extended good wishes to all present from the president of the Liberal Women's Federation of Quebec, Miss Alice Frigon.

During the meeting, arrangements for a social evening were discussed and approved. This will be proof that the Liberal ladies are good organizers.

Questions brought forward by some of the members indicated the women's keen interest in politics and their anxiety to participate in the political life of the province.

Following is the text (translated) of the letter received from Mrs. Douglas Blair, general secretary of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada:

Mrs. Noella Durocher,
President,
Liberal Women's Assn.
of Argenteuil,

Dear Madam:

On behalf of our National president, Mrs. R. A. Kinnear, and of her executive, and myself, I wish to offer you our very sincere congratulations for your election as president of the new Women's Liberal Association of the County of Argenteuil, which we are very happy to receive in our ranks.

Please accept my sincerest sentiments.

(Signed) Mrs. Douglas Blair,
General Secretary.

NOW — A METRO FOOD MARKET IN LACHUTE!..

We take pleasure in announcing that our store is now affiliated with the METRO FOOD MARKET chain, well and favorably known in Montreal and throughout the province.

This decision was taken with authorization of the directors, with a view to procuring for consumers in general, and for our customers in particular, still better prices on Meats, Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables.

This METRO FOOD MARKET will be the ONLY AFFILIATE STORE IN LACHUTE OR IMMEDIATE VICINITY, and it was only after determined negotiations that we succeeded in linking LA RUCHE with this progressive chain. The step is most gratifying, in the improved buying power which will enable us to pass along due benefits to our customers.

Watch for date of change to

to be announced in this newspaper next week!

- BEEF, Red and Blue Brand.
- GROCERIES at lowest prices.
- FRUITS & VEGETABLES, fresh produce direct from warehouse.

Customers will also receive a catalogue of METRO PREMIUMS exchangeable for cash register coupons.

IN MEMORIAM

BRADFORD — In loving memory of a dear husband, John W. Bradford, who passed away April 25, 1961. — Ida.

"They say time heals all sorrows and helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved
how much I miss him yet.
God gave me strength to meet it,
and courage to bear the blow;
But what it meant to lose him,
no one will ever know."

BRADFORD — In memory of a dear friend, John W. Bradford, who passed away April 25, 1961. — Always remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Morrow and family.

"God took him home,
It was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still."

CLELAND — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and father-in-law, George A. Cleland, who passed away April 21, 1959. — Always remembered by his wife, Alice, daughter, Audrey, and son-in-law, Bill.

"Quietly and quickly came the call,
His sudden death surprised us all..
What wouldn't we give if we could say,
'Hello, Daddy,' in the same old way.
We can still see his smiling face
And hear his footsteps on the floor."

CLELAND — In loving memory of a dear father, father-in-law and grandfather, George A. Cleland, who passed away April 21, 1959. — Always remembered by his daughter, Lila, son-in-law, Leon, and grandchildren.

"We cannot bring the old days back
when we were all together,
But secret tears and loving thoughts
will be with us forever."

TOMKIEWICZ — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Otto Tomkiewicz, who passed away April 18, 1961. — Always remembered by his wife, Lois, and children.

"As we loved you, so we miss you;
In our memory you are near,
Loved, remembered, longed-for always,
Bringing many a silent tear."

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

GRAHAM — The family of the late Andrew Graham wish to thank relatives, friends and neighbors for acts of kindness, floral tributes, cards, etc., received during their recent bereavement.

A lucky winner on Friday, 13th

Last Friday, April 13, Roger Ladouceur, 44, of Hawkesbury, saw his ticket picked out amongst 35,000 entries to be the first winner of the Hawkesbury Merchants' Association. Ladouceur chose the $500. in cash instead of the advertised trip to New York for two.

Other similar draws will be held on April 20 and 27, May 4 and 11.

Until May 7, all Hawkesbury stores will issue free entry slips. Especially this week-end while they are holding their famous Dollar Days, it is estimated that large number of people will take this opportunity to pick up what could be the winning ticket.

Northern Grenville

Mr. James Stone, of Thompson, Man., is spending some time at his home.

Bereavement

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family and relatives of the late Mrs. Christina Godin, who passed away in Montreal.

Miss Heather Stone, of Montreal, is spending this week at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Young and sons, Willis and Carl, motored to Montreal on Saturday afternoon and visited Mrs. Arnold Simpson, who is a patient in the Montreal General Hospital.

Legion Auxiliary affairs at B'burg

Brownsburg — The Ladies' Auxiliary of Legion Branch 71 held their regular monthly meeting on April 9, with Mrs. Bessie Bell presiding.

Owing to illness, the secretary, Mrs. Muriel Chacksfield, was unable to attend and a stand-in was selected for the meeting.

Conveners' reports were heard. Mrs. Florence Maitland (Welfare) has been kept busy visiting the sick. It was voted to give $400 to the Senior Branch. A trip has been planned for June 27, to tour the Avon Cosmetics plant. A donation was voted to the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides.

Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, ticket convener for the Easter Basket raffle, reported proceeds of $147.20, which will be turned over to Senior Branch to help buy prizes for the annual school-children's field day. This raffle was won by Mrs. Brigden, of Calumet. . . . A teen-age dance is to be held on April 26.

Refreshments were served in conclusion by Mrs. F. Maitland and her group.

Glen of Harrington

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eason and family, of Montreal, occupied their cottage for the week-end.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Eason, Sr., has been confined to bed; friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Easter Service

There will be service in St. John the Divine (Glen), on Easter Sunday at 2.30 p.m. The Rev. Francis K. Bussell, incumbent, will conduct the service. All are welcome.

Leah, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Reim, has received word that she has qualified for one of the 100 second prizes in the "Babes in Toyland" contest. Leah's prize will be an "Annette" doll. This contest was sponsored by Salada Foods.

Mrs. M. Whittaker has returned from a short but pleasant visit with her sister, Miss Gladys Beardmore, of Outremont — also visiting with friends and relatives at Verdun, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lane, of Montreal, spent Sunday at their cottage. Weather permitting they will take up residence for the summer this week.

Mr. John Purcell and David, of Kilmar, visited at Oliver Purcell's on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burns returned home Saturday from Montreal, where Mr. Burns underwent eye surgery. Mrs. Burns was also receiving medical treatment. Friends wish them a speedy recovery.

EASTER — EVER NEW

(Contributed)

An old Arab philosopher was once asked how he knew there was a God.

"How do I know," he replied, "whether a man or a horse has passed my tent? From the footsteps, of course." This old philosopher, looking out upon our world, found it bore the imprint of God. God has left his imprint everywhere, for He is the Creator and Maker of all things. He has created in us this glorious hope of resurrection to Eternal Life. As we glance around, we see evidence of this truth of a new life in all of nature.

Doubts have been expressed as to the authenticity of Christ's rising, but always, through our firm belief, we have cleared them away.

There are inconsistencies in the Bible Story relating the Crucifixion of Our Lord, but in themselves, they matter little. For Easter is ever and altogether NEW. Even though your voice has sung the glad "Alleluias" year after year, they cannot but be new again this year. The return of spring is new. Your thanks to God now should be new and joyful. Your promises should be renewed at the altar as you come humbly before your God.

I often think of the crowds that gather for worship on Easter Day. This is good. At low tide there are multitudes of separated pools along the shore. At high tide they are brought together and the little distinctions are lost in the splendid union of the powerful flood. The new story of Christ's Resurrection is the flood — wiping out our sins, our negligences, our forgetfulness, binding us together as one tremendous Christian family.

— (Rev.) HORACE G. BAUGH

Bluebell Phillips addressed Aux. annual gathering

On Saturday evening last, the Ladies' Auxiliary of Branch 70, Royal Canadian Legion, held their annual get-together at the Legion Hall.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Bluebell Phillips, of Montreal, author of several books and numerous poems. Her late husband, an Anglican clergyman, was for many years a chaplain at St. Vincent de Paul and Bordeaux jails. During his activities, Mrs. Phillips assisted him greatly, and her talk to the Auxiliary was based on some of the experiences they shared in trying to bring back to a better and more Christian life some of those who had fallen by the wayside. They were not always successful, but it was gratifying to know that their efforts had not all been in vain, for they had helped many, with good results.

Other invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. Iddon, the former an active worker with the Auxiliary at their regular whist drives. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Giles were also present, the former representing Mr. Geo. Kirby, president of Legion Branch 70. Sincere appreciation was expressed by Mr. Giles for the work done, and splendid co-operation given at all times, by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Mrs. W. Bradshaw introduced the speaker and Mrs. D. Ogilvie, expressed appreciation for a most interesting address. Mrs. S. Bradshaw chaired the gathering as president of the Auxiliary.

An appetizing meal was served by the ladies of the Orange Order. A social evening was held later, at which many of the husbands attended.

INVITES MAYOR

Granby, Que. (CP) — Mayor Horace Boivin of Granby has received an invitation to visit China, from External Affairs Minister Chang Hsi-Jo following a visit here last year by a Chinese trade delegation. Mayor Boivin said he cannot accept the invitation immediately, but has not turned it down.

Social and Personal

Miss Mariette Guilbault, R.N., Mrs. Jeanne Guilbault, of Angers, and Mrs. A. L'Allier of St. Andrews East, returned Thursday of last week from Florida, where they spent approximately five weeks vacationing.

Prior to leaving for a four-year stay in Soellingen, Germany, Dave Burnett, R.C.A.F., and Mrs. Burnett (formerly Elsa Napp of Lakefield), visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Napp in Lachute.

35th Anniversary

Friends far and near extend congratulations to Mr. W. M. Cottingham, M.P.P., and Mrs. Cottingham, who celebrated the 35th anniversary of their marriage last Saturday, April 14.

Friends extend good wishes to Mr. Albert Noble, Grace Street, who is a patient in the Royal Victoria Hospital, having undergone surgery on his leg. Mr. Noble is reported making good progress.

Miss Lulu Miller enjoyed a two-weeks vacation at Hollywood Beach, Florida — having returned to her duties at the B of M Ayersville branch last week.

Anglican Lenten Services

It is reported from St. Simeon's Church that, due to the efforts of the Select Vestry, the attendance at the mid-week Lenten services has been double that of previous years. Results have been most gratifying.

Store Manager Goes To Ste. Adele

Mr. Jean-Paul Hamel, who was manager here for Western Tire & Auto Supply store for three years, is now in Ste. Adele as manager - proprietor of his own accessories store, under title of Laurentide Auto Parts. The Western branch on Main Street, Lachute, closed its doors recently.

Visit Museum

The Wednesday night art group of the Centre d'Art — including devotees from Lachute, Grenville and Hawkesbury, instructed by Giuseppe Fiore — plan to visit the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts this evening (Wednesday) for an instructional tour.

Bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Scott, and their attendants, photographed following recent wedding ceremony at Lennoxville, Que.

Pretty wedding solemnized in Lennoxville church

Scott - Perry

The marriage of Carmen Maureen Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Perry, of Lennoxville, to Mr. Clifton Harold Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Scott, of Lachute, took place on Saturday afternoon, April 7, in the Lennoxville United Church, the Rev. A. B. Lovelace officiating. Mrs. F. Fox presided at the organ. The soloist, Miss Thelma Crawford, sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the service and "Bless Their Home" during the signing of the register.

Standards of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums were used to decorate the church.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a gown of white peau de soie, the fitted bodice having a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands, the skirt falling in a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of tulle illusion was held by a matchpeau de soie pillbox encircling a crown of roses. She carried a cascade bouquet of red Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Kenneth MacTavish, as matron of honor, and Miss Prudy Perry, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, were gowned alike in frocks of gold peau de soie, having fitted bodices with scoop necklines, and bouffant skirts held in the back with bows. They wore matching pillbox headdresses and carried colonial bouquets of turquoise and gold feathered carnations. Miss Linda Fowler, as flower girl for her aunt, was gowned in turquoise organza over taffeta, with matching headdress, and she carried a petit colonial bouquet of gold and turquoise feathered carnations.

Mr. Kenneth MacTavish, of Montreal, acted as best man for the groom. The ushers were Messrs. Roger MacAdam, Peter Haldimand and Donald Parker, all of Lachute.

Mrs. Perry, mother of the bride, chose a gown of Elizabeth blue lace, white organza flowered hat, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Scott, was gowned in a turquoise blue figured silk on a white background, white straw hat and accessories, and a purse corsage of white carnations.

Following the reception, held at Ripplecove Inn, Ayer's Cliff, Mr. and Mrs. Scott left for a trip to Hawaii, the bride travelling in a light woollen suit in apricot shade, with matching topcoat, white straw hat, chocolate brown accessories and corsage of white carnations.

Upon their return the couple will reside in Lachute.

Guests included out-of-town friends and relatives from Toronto, Montreal, Valleyfield, St. Lambert, Lachute, Knowlton, North Hatley, Pierrefonds and Nova Scotia.

Services at Lachute United

A special feature of the Palm Sunday service at Lachute United Church was the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and the reception of 17 new members on profession of faith. There was a capacity congregation, with people in the gallery, and chairs at the back of the church and in the aisle.

There will be a service of worship on Good Friday at 10.30 a.m. and on Easter Sunday at 11.00 a.m. Old and new friends, and visitors to the town, are invited to attend these services.

Columnist gets Legion honor

At a recent meeting of the 6th Hussars Branch No. 118, Royal Canadian Legion, Walter H. Jackson, long time resident of Westmount and contributor to The Watchman over the signature of "Uncle Walt", was presented with honorary membership in the Legion.

The president, Major A. J. Lepiez, E.D., said that the honor extended to Mr. Jackson was in recognition of his voluntary work in the entertainment field, to the Legion as well as to troops at the various camps during World Wars I and II.

Mr. Jackson, who is well known in entertainment circles, has lived all his life in Westmount. His father, the late H. Jackson, was the first to open a drugstore in that suburb.

Former Lachute girl married at Scarborough

Graham - Millar

The wedding took place in the chapel of St. Colomba Anglican Church, Scarborough, Ont., of Margaret Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton A. Millar of Ste. Anne de Bellevue (formerly of Lachute), to Mr. Clifford Michael Graham, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Graham of Toronto. The Rev. W. J. Lennox, rector of the church, officiated.

The bride was attended by Mrs. M. Patterson Waddell, sister of the groom.

Mr. Theodore Graham, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the Guild Inn at Scarborough, after which the couple left for a trip to the United States.

Upon their return they will reside in Toronto.

A little part in the Easter Miracle

PART OF SPRINGTIME and part of hope — that is the Easter Seals Campaign. The whole purpose of this campaign is to help those who cannot walk to walk again. Those pink envelopes are going out to every home. . . . If a substantial percentage of those 'pinks' are returned with a modest offering, it will allow prompt action on the requests of the many who wish to be rehabilitated.

Last year the envelopes were slow in being sent back. And it is easy to postpone sending off a letter. But in this case there is no need even to address the envelope; that is already printed. Nor is any stamp needed. Just refold it and post it, with your contribution inside.

Guarding wildlife preserves

OUTDOORSMEN and conservationists appear to have squelched a move to open public park preserves to mining interests.

The verbal skirmish concerned the Crown parklands of Ontario, but the arguments are relevant to all of Canada's 82,000 square miles of national and provincial parks, and more than 200,000 square miles of forest preserves.

Supporters of mining in the parks argued that underground operations need not seriously disturb the amenities.

Conservationists countered that mine roads and ore trucks could spoil the wilderness atmosphere of big parks like Quetico, a 1,750-square-mile preserve in northwestern Ontario. They voiced fears that permission to prospect might be the thin edge of a wedge that could expose the parks eventually to the ruinous fumes of smelters.

The argument followed publication of a special committee report on public lands that suggested a six-year-old ban on prospecting and claim-staking in the provincial parks should be eased. The Northern Ontario associated Chambers of Commerce supported the idea.

Mines Minister G. C. Wardrope stated, March 12: "I can see no reason that mining and forestry, or mining and recreation, cannot exist side by side."

Lands and Forests Minister J. W. Spooner said, two weeks later: "If there is a valuable mineral deposit within the confines of a provincial park, we as a government could hardly say it cannot be exploited."

If these statements were trial balloons put up by the government, naturalists soon began shooting at them. The Quetico Foundation, a conservation-minded body with a special interest in Quetico Park, protested that "selfish interests" threatened to violate a system of parks that make up only 1.31 per cent of Ontario's total area.

A mining promoter responded with the comment that mineral deposits in the parks lie dormant "just to satisfy the curiosity of the odd tourist".

Finally, Premier John Robarts issued a statement April 4 saying the government had no plans to open the parks to mining. He echoed the arguments of conservationists in stating that "our parklands are a priceless heritage and it is our aim to develop them for the use of all our people."

The defenders of the wildlife preserves emerged as winners. But they are not sure whether they have won the fight or only the first round.

Bunnies — and bells

YES, VIRGINIA, there is an Easter bunny . . . but sometimes, he's a bell.

According to one European legend, church bells, which do not ring from Good Friday to Easter, fly to Rome. On their way back, they drop eggs for children to find.

Bells have always been closely associated with religious observances — reports World Book Encyclopedia. Long before Christ, high priests of the Israelites wore bells as a protection against evil spirits. Since the 500's Christians have used bells to summon worshippers.

During the Middle Ages, bells were considered spiritual things. They received the blessing of a bishop and were washed with holy water — a custom popularly known as the baptism of the bell. The bishop prayed that the bell would summon the faithful to worship, drive away storms and frighten evil spirits.

Bells had other uses, too, such as announcing the curfew or calling attention to the notices of town criers. They warned of fires and called soldiers together.

In fact, the power of bells to rally people was so great that a conquerer frequently melted down the bells of a town.

Britain a market for domestic appliances

THERE ARE GOOD opportunities for Canadians to sell in Britain such things as kitchen ranges, deep freezes, commercial laundrettes, electric table and floor lamps of smart design, and many novelty kitchen appliances. S. G. Harris, Canada's Commercial Secretary in London, writing in the current issue of "Foreign Trade" magazine, says that Canadian appliance manufacturers who are prepared to enter the British market and make a serious effort to promote and sell their products there, stand a good chance of success. The Canadian manufacturer who has an appliance that he feels might sell, says Mr. Harris, will find the office of the High Commissioner for Canada (1 Grosvenor Square, London W.1.) more than ready to co-operate.

Home appliances in Britain are still considered a bit of a luxury. Prices, though perhaps moderate by Canadian standards, are still high for the average British consumer, whose wages may be only two-thirds or one-half those earned by his Canadian counterpart.

Nevertheless, the patterns of living in Britain have changed greatly since the war and nowhere is this fact more in evidence than in the home. In North America, the housewife's daily load is being lightened by an increasing number of gadgets and domestic appliances. The change, he says, has taken place more recently in Britain than in Canada and the boom in appliance sales there (with a few exceptions) is continuing. Canadian, European and United States manufacturers have all entered this competitive new market.

Viewpoints and perspectives

SEPARATISM. — Quebec cannot become an island unto itself. With the rest of Canada on one side and the even more influential United States on the other, there is little likelihood that the business language of Quebec could ever become purely French.

Titanic disaster 50 years ago was world staggering drama

London (CP) — She was the largest, fastest and most glamorous ship in the world. And she was unsinkable.

So believed the builders, the owners, the 2,207 passengers and crew and the crowds who watched from Southampton docks that April day 50 years ago when the Titanic edged away from the quay on her maiden voyage to New York.

The Titanic had cost £2,000,000 to build. She was 11 storeys high, a sixth of a mile long and displaced 46,328 tons.

Pride in the ship ran high, from ramrod, white-bearded Capt. Edward J. Smith, commodore of the White Star Fleet, down to the deckhand who told a woman passenger: "Lady, God himself could not sink this ship."

The bridge was fitted with an electric switch that could close instantly 15 bulkheads and divide the hull into a honeycomb of water - tight compartments. The ship would float with as many as four of them flooded.

Luxurious Fittings

The passengers' quarters were rich with mahogany, mother of pearl inlay, walnut, teak, mosaic, antique bronze and glittering crystal. But with all the liner's costly equipment, two things had been overlooked. The lookout men had no binoculars and the 20 lifeboats could carry only 1,178 people.

The passenger list was impressive when the Titanic sailed from Southampton April 10, 1912: New York millionaire John Jacob Astor and his wife; Montreal magnate Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Railway; J. Bruce Ismay, chairman of the White Star Line.

On the fifth night out, Sunday, April 14, the Titanic was racing at 22½ knots across a plate-glass sea in brilliant starlight, about 100 miles south of Newfoundland. The temperature hovered around freezing.

Lookout Frederick Fleet was on the alert for icebergs. But without binoculars he saw the black shape ahead just 15 seconds too late for the ship to swing aside.

Tears Hull Open

The starboard side of the ship scraped along the iceberg at 11.40 p.m. with a sound like tearing calico. Five of the 16 watertight compartments lay open to the icy sea.

Two hours and 40 minutes later, the "unsinkable" Titanic slanted bow-first into the water, stood on end against the stars and slowly disappeared from view. She took with her 1,502 lives and a cargo insured for £1,250,000.

It was the worst sea disaster in history — and one that need never have happened. Ice warnings were tossed aside by a radio operator sending greetings cables, another ship saw distress rockets but did nothing, lifeboats were launched half empty. Only 705 survived.

Newspaper editorials of the time saw the sinking of the Titanic as a shattering lesson in humility. The disaster was to echo down five decades as the end of a smug and settled era in social history — the final flourish of a way of life that permitted more than half the first and second class passengers to escape while 75 per cent of the immigrants in steerage were trapped.

Nothing would ever seem quite as safe or secure again.

Of Many Things

— By Ambrose Hills —

THE POORER COUNTRIES

You hear a lot these days about the under-developed countries, and what should be done about them.

Everybody has the answer for them. They need prosperous industries, they need capital invested in them, they need to produce goods that will sell in world markets.

Want to start a factory? You would be welcomed in many an under-developed country. They would give you attractive tax concessions. Your labor costs would be low, and labor legislation would protect you from unjustified strikes or crippling demands. In short, officially and in every other way the arms of the under-developed nations would be spread wide open to receive you.

Why would they want you?

Not because they like the way your hair is parted, or the color of your eyes. They want you because you would invest money, produce goods that would sell, create jobs that would improve the living standards of the people. They want you so they'll have big plants, with parking lots full of automobiles of the workers, and stores which cater to the workers with a steady pay cheque.

Now think on those things. Then remember this — Canada is, in many ways, an under-developed country. We just don't realize that it is. We are acting as if ours were a fully-matured economy, with plenty of people and a big domestic market. We are spending and acting as if we had it made. We no longer welcome industry with open arms — instead we grasp at it with outstretched hands, grabbing for tax money.

Canadians face a rough climate. It is no easy land. One crop a year — if you're lucky. The freeze-up is severe. If you were considering a factory, all those things might scare you from Canada. Load on top of our natural handicaps a tax burden that is just about the highest in the world, plus a philosophy of "soak the corporations", and you'll see that this particular country isn't doing much to encourage the industry it now has, let alone bring new industry here.

Isn't it time we smartened up?

WHY GIVE THE BURGLAR AN ENGRAVED INVITATION!

"You might as well give a burglar an engraved invitation to help himself at your house, if you leave valuables lying about," says Don Hay, manager of the Bank of Montreal's Lachute branch.

Mr. Hay adds that behind the steel doors of a B of M vault is the safest place for valuables such as bonds, leases, stock certificates, insurance policies, deeds, birth certificates, passports and other important family documents.

"It costs less than two cents a day to rent a B of M safety deposit box," he says, and explains that hundreds of thousands of Canadians use B of M safety deposit facilities, an indication of the popularity of this service. "It pays for itself again and again in peace of mind alone," he says.

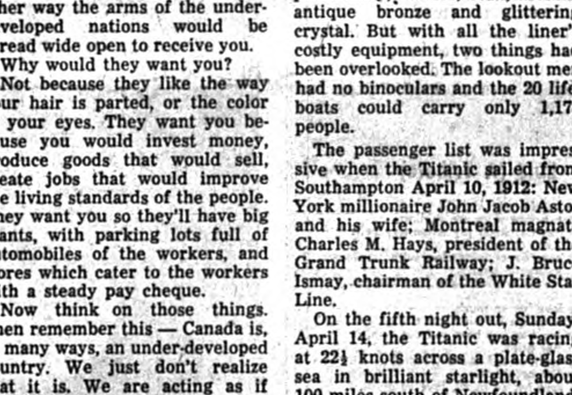

"Give the burglar a brush-off at your house," Mr. Hay advises. "Keep your valuables in your personal strong box — it's exclusively yours — in the Lachute B of M vault."

Drop in soon and see Mr. Hay about renting a safety deposit box . . . it will set your mind at rest.

EXPAND CAMPING

Toronto (CP) — The Ontario government is expanding camping facilities, such as sanitary services and water supplies, at camp sites in provincial parks, to meet an expected increase in free group camping by young people in the parks this summer. The lands and forests department reported 15,075 young people camped in the parks last summer.

ALL ABOARD With G. E. Mortimore

Everybody hates the government, at income tax time.

Editorial writers and tavern grumblers portray the government as a fat cuckoo in the national nest, crowding out private citizens and eating their money.

The critics jab the government in the ribs with pointed statistics: Taxes take 35 cents of every income dollar (or 25 cents, or 40 cents, depending on your arithmetic). A man spends 106 days of the year "working for the government" (or 100 days, or 200 days — fill in your own figure).

I know the arguments, because I have used them myself. The numbers vary, but the idea is always the same: That the government is ruining us.

It's an easy idea to accept around this time of the year, when you can feel the pain in your wallet, and your bank account is wan and feeble after the blood-letting.

Later in the year, you will feel stronger. If you are one of the lucky Canadians who make more money than you spend, your wallet will begin to fatten again.

Then you may feel brave enough to face the truth: The government is yourself. It is not an unwholesome Thing from outer space which has fastened on your back. It is a group of people whom you have hired to do some work.

By some mental black magic, this innocent group of employees becomes a league of aliens, with a separate power and life of their own.

It isn't wholly a delusion, either. People in the government may begin to think of themselves as a separate group, exercising sovereign power.

We need a book written in popular style to inform the people how much money the government spends, what the money is spent on, and who pays.

You can scratch together the information now, if you are clever, hard-working and immune to boredom. It's all there, in long government reports.

Most people, sad to say, will not take the trouble to analyze dull documents. It would be in the nation's interest to publish these facts in easily readible, non-partisan form.

Half the people won't read the book unless you put a dollar bill between each pair of pages. But those who do read the book will know that government isn't "Them". Government is "Us".

DISTRICT NEWS

Rivington

Without fuss, flooding or fanfare, the ice slipped out of the Rouge River on Wednesday night of last week.

Special Service at Avoca

On Easter Sunday, April 22, there will be no service or Sunday School in the Rivington Baptist Church. Instead, everyone is cordially invited to attend the special service to be held in the Avoca Baptist Church, at 11 a.m. An Easter play entitled "The Witness" will be presented; the choir will sing several selections, and Sunday School children will also take part.

Cushing

Miss Florence Holmes, of Montreal, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. R. T. Holmes, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bailey.

Bereaved

The sincere sympathy of this community is extended to the family of the late Buchanan Robertson, of St. Andrews East, also to his sister, Miss Beatrice Robertson, to his brothers, Robert and Fred, and the immediate relatives.

Mrs. Archie Graham was the guest on Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Sutton, of Brownsburg, prior to attending the plays staged that evening in Brownsburg School auditorium by Dalesville and Louisa Women's Institutes. These plays were well presented as well as very amusing; those who did not attend missed a humorous treat.

Work has begun on the demolition of barns and sheds which are a part of the Bailey property and which, when completely cleared away, will make a more pleasing view of the lake for the Décoste family when they move to their new home on the Ostrom Montée.

Callers on Saturday at the home of Mrs. A. Taylor were Mrs. J. D. Weir, Miss Olive Hartley and Messrs. Douglas and Lawrence Hartley. Sunday guests included Miss A. Parent, Miss J. Alexander and Mrs. E. Fairborn, of the Veterans' Hospital, Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Miss E. M. Graham, of Verdun, spent the week-end with her mother and brother.

Mr. Ray Bailey, of Montreal West, and son, Wm. Bailey, of Dorval, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bailey on Saturday.

Mr. Anthony Barnes, of St. Andrews East, was a guest on Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Morrow, of Monalea Road.

Sympathy Extended

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wilson, of Cushing and formerly of Brownsburg, have been notified of the sudden passing of their son, Wallace, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. The sincere sympathy of this community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson in their great loss; also to his brother, Mansiel Wilson and wife, and to the bereaved wife, daughter, and the Williams family, their relatives in Brownsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Weir, Mrs. L. M. Gaston and Miss A. Davidson visited Mrs. J. A. Bradley, of St. Andrews, on Sunday.

Grenville

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Millar, Town of Mount Royal, were Thursday guests of Mr. S. C. Norton.

Mr. and Mrs. Torrance McDonell and son, Mansel, of Stardale, Ont., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dewar.

Mr. Bruce Dawson and Miss Verna Wilson, of St. Lambert, were guests last week of Miss Pearl Dawson and Mr. Edgar Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Villeneuve, of Calumet, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Villeneuve and of Mr. and Mrs. Déas Dupuis.

Friends of Mrs. Guy Villeneuve will be pleased to know that she has returned home from hospital and is making steady progress to health.

Harrington

Week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bennett were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kennerly and family, of Northboro, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Meyer and family, Mrs. John McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. James McMahon and family, all of Lachute.

Friends of Mr. Roland MacCullough will be pleased to know that he has been discharged from hospital and spent the week-end at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter MacLean and Mr. and Mrs. R. MacLean, called on Mr. and Mrs. C. McMahon on Sunday.

Miss Mary P. McMahon, of Lachute, spent the week-end at her home here.

Sincere thanks are extended to those who collected for the Canadian Red Cross in this district; the donations amounted to $100.

LEGION NOTES

Branch 70 Correspondent

"ACTIVE SERVICE YESTERDAY COMMUNITY SERVICE TODAY"

Through the medium of this column, Legion Branch 70 extends Easter Greetings to all its members and friends everywhere.

Easter is from the Latin word "Pascha", a name taken from a Hebrew word meaning "Passing Over". We read in Exodus (Ex. 12, 11 f.f.) that the destroyer passed through the land of Egypt, but, that, seeing the Blood of the Lamb sprinkled on the side posts and upper door posts of the houses, he passed over. In that same night, the Jews were delivered from bondage and later received the Land of Promise. Since Christians have been redeemed and have "Passed Over" to the Children of God, they call the day of Christ's triumphant resurrection Pascha, or Passover.

Warning to Husbands — Soon it will be the time of the year when you fully intend to take better care of the yard and lawn than you did last year. This is a noble sentiment, and we are sure that a man of your character, ability and intelligence will carry through with your high resolve in every respect.

Don't say anything about it yet, even though the pressure to let your wife in on this wonderful piece of news is almost irresistible.

After a long winter, the thought of laboring in the flower beds has a wonderful appeal; but when the sweet, green shoots of new grass have been transformed into malicious, twisting tentacles of crabgrass; when the delicious spring sunshine has gradually changed to the blazing ball of solar fire we will have in August . . . then you find yourself weighing one philosophical good against another.

Why add to the feeling of guilt that will dog your footsteps as you head for the golf course, or the pool, by making visionary predictions right now?

Arundel

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bennett returned home after having spent three months in the southern U.S. While there they visited with the former's brother, of California, from whom he has been separated for 29 years.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Swail and family motored to Ste. Agathe and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Swail recently.

Andy Jansen, Jr., serving with the Royal Canadian Signals at Camp Gagetown, N.B., was promoted recently to the rank of lance-corporal.

Good Friday Service

A combined Good Friday service will be held in Grace Church on April 20, at 8 p.m. Two appropriate addresses will be given, by the Rev. Frank Bussell and Mr. Alex Dawson, on "The Crucified Lord". The United Church choir will lead in the singing. All are most welcome to attend.

Christians are reminded that the Easter Sunday ceremonial is more truly understood by supplementing it with a Good Friday devotional.

EDIE (A Tribute)

She laughs with delight
When bright skies are shining,
Her heart is sheer joy when gay bells are ringing,
Her eyes dance with glee, with everyone happy,
She laughs with delight, pure delight.

We love her so much
As she plays on our heart strings,
Our troubles are hers and our grief is her grief,
Her spirit is sad at the woes of her neighbors,
We love her so much, love so much.

Oh, why must she go
With her heart big and tender,
And leave us in tears and feeling forsaken
Her life was so good and she did so much with it,
Oh, why must she go, must she go?

We will never forget
We will always be grateful
That she was our own and lived here amongst us,
That Heaven will smile and throw wide her portals,
To welcome our friend, our dear friend.

Easter Surprises

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

In a delightful children's book "The Whole World Singing," Friendship Press, there is a delightful translation of a German Folk Song, by the author Edith Lovell Thomas, Easter Surprises. The music is arranged by Brahms and the first verse is "Out of an egg comes a singing bird;

Out of a seed comes a flower;
Dark of the night turns to morning light,
Clouds turn to snow or shower."

Children love surprises and they are often surprised to discover that similar customs are observed in many lands at Easter. Away back in the fourth century Emperor Constantine celebrated this festival with great pomp and richness. All his subjects followed his example as best they could. Except behind the Iron Curtain, Europeans wear their best finery at this time.

The egg is the symbol of life and the Christians borrowed from the Jews the art of coloring the shells. Red was the favorite Easter color, signifying the blood of Christ. The other shades imitated the gay Spring flowers. In parts of Greece, the Greek Orthodox priest gave to each member of his congregation a red egg.

In Hungary, before the Communist regime, peasants carried eggs in baskets to be blessed at church. In Eastern Poland the children used to throw painted egg shells on the streams to send messages of Spring's return to a race who were supposed to live below the earth's surface and never see the sunlight. In Switzerland and also in Bulgaria, the eggs are "matched" with friends as our youngsters match chestnuts. The one who matches the greatest number of eggs is the winner. In some European communities each worshipper attending church breaks an egg with his neighbor. "Christ is risen!" says the first person. "He is risen, indeed!" is the quick response.

After the fasting in Lent, Easter Sunday dinner is a very important meal marked by special dishes in many countries. Boiled ham, and also lamb, are favorite meats. In Mexico at Easter little sugar lambs with garlands of paper flowers are purchased in the shops. "Hot Cross Buns" are a traditional treat in many areas on Good Friday.

Each country has some distinctive Easter practices. Bull fights mark the Easter holiday in Mexico. In France candles are blessed and brought home only to be used on special occasions. The Latvians swing a wooden platform with stout ropes suspended from trees and have a Swinging Game at Easter. In Norway and Sweden a large number go on an excursion to the mountains for winter sports. Outdoor services are held for skiers. The bells ring out the glad news of Easter from many old cathedrals.

The Easter bunny which is so popular in America is a descendant of the German hare who was supposed to lay eggs for good children at Easter. Children on this continent, during and since the years of World War II, have had a lot more treats than youngsters in devastated lands.

At Easter it is good for our boys and girls to catch a glimpse of this festival as it is celebrated in other parts of the world.

"Look for the wonders of Easter time,
Wonders that April will bring.
Open your eyes for a new surprise!
God is at work in the Spring!"

Easter and baked ham go together!

Like Thanksgiving and turkey, Easter and baked ham go together. The ham that graces the Sunday table so handsomely can look and taste just as good later in the week, even though it's left-over. Here is one suggestion for re-serving the Easter ham excitingly. Make an easy ham and cheese fondue — a luscious baked, main dish custard that's almost soufflé-like in consistency.

You will need 6 slices of bread, soft butter or margarine, 1½ cups grated or diced Cheddar or Swiss cheese, 1½ cups diced left-over ham, 3 eggs, 3 cups milk, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, ½ teaspoon grated horseradish, ½ teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper.

Spread the bread with the soft margarine or butter, cut the slices in half and arrange them in a 12 x 8 x 2-inch baking dish. Scatter cheese and ham over the bread. Beat the eggs well; add milk, mustard, salt, horseradish and pepper; beat to blend; pour over bread. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven for 30 minutes, or until golden and puffed. This recipe makes 6 servings.

New officers elected for Cath. Women's League

The Rev. Father Harold Conway, O.M.I., of St. Patrick's College, director, was in attendance at the general meeting of the Catholic Women's League of Lachute, in the Knights of Columbus Hall on April 8, to assist with the election of officers for the coming term.

The outgoing president, Mrs. Leonard Bedard, opened the meeting with a message of appreciation to her executive for their cooperation during her two-year term.

Mrs. Cora Stephens read the minutes of last meeting, and Mrs. Martel gave the year's financial report. A report of the St. Patrick's supper was given by Mrs. Jean Hebert, who thanked all members who had assisted in making this event a success.

The following annual reports were read — Spiritual, Citizenship, Press, Education, Membership — together with a report from Mrs. Berniquer as tea convener, also as convener of refreshments served at the Community Concert.

Specially Written for The Lachute Watchman

By Edna Blakely, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Not too many women spend three hours making a cake but Mrs. Ruben Revas of Toronto often spends up to three weeks preparing cakes for special occasions. They sell for as much as $1,000 and are large, intricate works.

The pretty mother of two young children began baking cakes to fill in time. Her husband, a musician, works most evenings.

Orders are placed at least a month in advance to give Mrs. Revas the opportunity to design and prepare a cake.

She makes three kinds—pound, fruit or soaked cake — and keeps the recipes secret. They are blends of favorite family recipes. The icing is marzipan, poured fondant or royal and the entire cake, including all the trimmings, is edible.

When a beauty salon opened recently, Mrs. Revas duplicated in cake the interior, including one customer having her hair combed by an operator and another customer reading a magazine while sitting under the dryer.

She is having her kitchen remodelled but until now has managed to produce the cakes with an ordinary household stove. She designed her pans and had them custom-made.

"She doesn't make cakes, she builds them," a family friend once said.

Beauty and Machines

The machine-age is catching up with the world of makeup. In a Toronto department store recently women flocked around two machines that helped them select and apply makeup.

One machine, a cosmetiscope, determined a woman's skin tone and selected the correct makeup shades for her. Each woman removed a patch of makeup and put her skin against a lens.

"It's much more effective than choosing makeup shades by the naked eye," Roberta Sullivan of New York explained. "When you get the right tone it makes the difference between a woman looking just all right and perfect."

She said Canadian women should use more skin moisturizing lotions because the harsh climate causes dry skin.

At another booth, women were learning to apply eye makeup by a teaching machine. Colored slides were accompanied by earphones.

Each customer perched on a stool, removed her eye makeup and selected shades from a display. The customers applied the makeup according to instructions from the commentary. Later a makeup artist helped each woman apply makeup to the other eye.

"We think if a woman applies it herself she'll learn more than if we put it on," Joan Stevens explained. "Some women buy all kinds of eye makeup, take it home, and then don't know what to do with it."

"Sir,

Diary of a Vagabond

WANTED: A PANACEA FOR SPRING FEVER

How quickly we forget our inadequacies. I am too easily inspired to undertake jobs that belong in the hands of trained personnel. Such as making my own hats and frocks for instance.

Easter is always a challenge to my self-assured creative ability. Fashion magazines inspire me by portraying "the soft, easy elegance of Spring 1962 forecasts for the woman of fashion". What I should learn to do, if I had any sense, would be to leave the journals right on the counters of the newsstands where I found them.

But not me. After all, I would have to discover some other kind of immunity for my desire for fashion flair. Every time my hairdresser tucks me beneath a drier she hands me Vogue, Harper's Bazaar or Glamour. Just resisting their purchase wouldn't protect me against sinking dollars and energy into adornment that never sees the light of exposure to the public.

I am a life member of the sucker list. Just let me see an ad for "an outstanding sale of spring's most sought after materials" and I'm away at a gallop and another horrible "mistake" is about to be conceived.

When the fever hits me I stand like a stork, first on one foot and then on the other in a department store, leafing through volume after volume of enticing patterns. These are always illustrated by willowy young things who must weigh in at a slight 100 pounds. When eventually I choose a pattern it is quite obvious that I have forgotten I tip the scales at a weight that would suggest I am their poundage but must be holding a twenty pound sack of sugar in my arms.

Cut and Fit

I am never satisfied with buying materials for just one creation. I am the answer to a yardage buyer's dream. I usually come home with enough silk, satin, cotton and nylon material to outfit an orphanage.

Then I start cutting. If the material has a pattern, I can be absolutely sure I will end up with two left fronts, two right sleeves and a skirt that looks like Jacob's coat. After I've trailed back to the store for more material and have bitten my nails to the quick wondering whether I've made the same mistake again, I sidle up to the sewing machine and start stitching.

This is like trying to saddle a broncho. The dress starts slipping like an eel, seams end up looking like the Athabaska and all its tributaries and I end up in a sweat.

Next comes the fitting. Heavens! How Christmas and New Year's plus a winter's hibernation show on my hips. Surely I'm not THAT short, why the darned thing hangs down to my ankles!

Has Anyone a Ukelele?

Well, this year I have a wardrobe of Mu Mus, those fetching little Hawaiian creations that hang like a sack from shoulder to ankle and are detailed in print as "romantic attire for patio entertaining". All I need now is a little summer weather and a few friends to get my money's worth.

I hate to admit it, but I tackled a hat as well. Just one of those little puffs of tulle "so easy to make and so alluring". Only mine wasn't. It turned out looking like an inverted pot cleaner and was about as becoming as a dish mop. Which reminds me, maybe I should stick to domestic chores. I'm a wow at whipping up a meal and mopping up afterwards.

Happy Easter, everybody.

An Easter Thought

Now seems the time,
now seems the time,
To quote an Easter thought in rhyme,
And humbly make a solemn vow
Our gratitude to show — and how?
By helping with our contributions,
To charitable institutions.
A crippled tot, upon her cot,
Was heard to cry "Forget me not." . . .
Give a dollar, make it shine,
If unable, give a dime.
For radio-active are good deeds,
A godly blessing for many needs,
So now's the time to up and stand
And with mercy show a giving hand.

Things 'n Stuff

By Walter Henry Jackson

I PROMISED YOU THIS

The last issue of The Watchman contained verses of mine entitled The Carrion Crow. At the time I promised that when worse poetry was written, I would write it. So here it is . . .

The Lady from Spain

There was a young lady from Spain
Who tried to crawl under a train.
When it cut her in half
She said with a laugh:
"I'd better not try it again!"

Alas, the poor kid from Madrid,
She was sorry she done what she did.
So she scampered away t'ords a neighboring farm
With one of her hind legs tucked under each arm.

And away she went — a hippityhoppity,
Only to be arrested for Tresspassing on
The railroad proppity.

A moral to this story?
Well, since you've ast —
"Never crawl under a train — Wait till it's passed."

Be seein' ya!

Oppose inroads of industry on Sunday quietude

Sport and entertainment are less of a threat to a Sunday of rest and quietness than industry, in the view of the Lord's Day Alliance — according to its annual report, just issued. The Alliance still regards the commercial aspects of Sunday sport as objectionable, but concedes that for some people this may be a desirable way of spending Sunday.

What the Alliance fears most is "an unhindered invasion of industry". The report does not specify which industries are seeking recognition of their processes as continuous, but it does indicate that Alliance officials have waited upon such industries to stress their objections. If industry forces a seven-day week, the Alliance believes the results would be injurious in the extreme. Sunday rest and quiet would go. Family gatherings and outings would cease. Sunday premium rates of pay and Sunday meetings of labor unions would probably be no more, the report declares.

The Alliance has requested that the Lord's Day Act be amended in a manner to deal better with modern conditions.

New factory in operation —

St. Andrews textile co-operative to fabricate oriental-type rugs

A group of citizens from the St. Andrews municipal council and Chamber of Commerce, have organized a co-operative business venture for the manufacture of oriental-type carpets, the only fabrication of its kind in either Canada or the United States.

The factory will be virtually a craft centre, since the carpets, of wool throughout, will be entirely woven by hand; the operators will be young ladies, under guidance of two Hungarian instructors, Miss Gabriel Czupra and Miss Judith Bodo. The employees while learning their craft will be paid with financial assistance of the provincial government.

Government Aid

Government assistance has been made available in the following forms:

(1) Payment of salaries of teaching staff during training period;

(2) Payment of cost of material used during the training period;

(3) Payment of rent of premises at $200 a month during the training period;

(4) Assistance to transport trainees to and from plant;

(5) Assistance to compensate trainees not entitled to unemployment insurance.

Director

Managing director of this new enterprise in Ernest Nagy, 50, a New Canadian who left his native Hungary at the time of the 1956 revolution. . . . . A graduate of teachers' college in 1928, from that time until 1944 he held responsible positions in the weaving trade and in co-operative industry in Hungary.

For the past two years Mr. Nagy has been working on the present project. He has perfected, and holds patents for, improved operation of carpet making looms.

Materials Used

The wool used in this manufacture is supplied from Princeville, dyed and treated in this country. Samples of carpet from Mr. Nagy's workshops have been favorably received, and potential markets are well assured. The best-selling oriental type rugs are the Moroccan and Indian styles, and it is the intention of the co-operative to concentrate on producing these lines — intending to open eventually a showroom in Montreal, to sell directly to customers and take special orders.

The Co-operative

After several meetings of persons interested in the project, it was decided to incorporate under the Quebec Co-operative Syndicates Act, under the name of "La Co-operative du Tapis d'Argenteuil", with two classes of members:

(a) Working members, who will pay a membership fee of $1 each and will be entitled to participate in 50% of the net profits, in proportion to the amount of work performed by each worker.

(b) Subscribing members, who will subscribe for one or more shares of $250 each and will be entitled to participate in 40% of the net profits, in proportion to the shares held by them.

Fabrication and Design

The factory is presently employing 26 girls, but in full stage of production it is expected these will increase to 60.

Various designs for the oriental rugs will be executed by one of Quebec's successful artists, J. P. Mousseau, a painter of the avant-garde, on whose patterns the weavers are now plying their craft.

Wholesale value of the finished product will be from $25 to $28 a square yard, according to different qualities.

Directorate and Site

The co-operative is managed by six directors, three named by the working staff and three representing the shareholders. The directorate includes — Mme F. Robin, president of the Catholic Rural Women's Association (U.C.F.R.); Paul Labreche, merchant; Antoine Paré, advocate; Robt. Davidson, chartered accountant; Horton D. Clark, retired bank manager; and Mme Gérard Dulude.

The plant is situated in the newer portion of the former Convent building at St. Andrews; rented from Chas. A. Shaffer. The building comprises the actual workroom, manager's office, a showroom, and cafeteria for the staff.

The workers are principally from Lachute, St. Andrews and Carillon.

This new enterprise, with initial subscribed capital of $10,000, appears to be soundly established, with good prospects, and should prove a distinct asset to the economy of the district. (See picture on page 3.)

Numerous calls answered by town fire brigade

A full crew of volunteer firemen battled a stubborn blaze in a building in connection with the conveyor belt system, above one of the Dominion Ayers Wood plants on Hamford Street, late Monday night. The fire started in a storage shed above the building, which gathers the veneer trimmings and chipped bark and log shavings at the junction of the two conveyor belts.

Firemen were summoned to the scene around 11.45 p.m. and remained there for more than two hours. Hoses were connected to the Company water system, pressure being furnished to the trucks at between 125 and 140 pounds by the steam-driven piston pump. Three lines of hose were used to battle the fire, which caused little material damage. The blaze is believed to have been caused by the conveyor belt system or a motor in the cabin.

On Wednesday evening of last week, fire gutted the living room quarters in an apartment occupied by Mrs. L. K. Wilcox, 399 Catherine Street. Extensive smoke and heat damage resulted to the remaining contents of the apartment. Cause of the fire is not known, and the loss was not covered by insurance.

C. N. Rly. seeks abandonment of line, Autoroute to buy part of right-of-way

Montreal — The Quebec Autoroutes Authority plans to use the present CNR right-of-way north of St. Jerome to carry a four-lane divided extension of the superhighway deep into the Laurentians — if the railway receives authorization to abandon this line.

The CNR price has been accepted by the Provincial Government; and now only approval from the Board of Transport Commissioners is needed. If a public hearing by the board at St. Jerome on May 17 results in a go-ahead, the 50 miles of track linking St. Jerome and Lac Remi will be torn up and skiers should find an autoroute stretching from Montreal right to Ste. Adele ready for the 1963-64 season.

By using the path of the railroad, the Autoroute body expects to complete the extension to Ste. Adele within its budget of $20,000,000 for the job.

If it can't buy the right-of-way from the railroad, the job will mean up-hill-and-down-dale construction, complete with two bridges and grade separations — and a far bigger bill at the end of it.

Railroad officials say that, by closing the route they will save $300,000 a year — plus salvage and the undisclosed amount they receive for the right-of-way sale.

"The planned extension of the Autoroute seals our fate, financially speaking," explained J. A. McDonald, vice-president of the CN's St. Lawrence Region. "We cannot hope to match the door-to-door speed and convenience with which automobile travellers can reach the recreation areas of the Laurentians."

Passenger Traffic Declined

Passenger traffic on the railroad line, built in 1897, has dwindled steadily since the end of World War II. The railroad plans to close the line north of St. Jerome with three miles of track remaining to handle future industrial development.

The falling freight business of the line will be handled by alternate road and rail facilities north of St. Jerome. The CN already operates an express freight service in the area, using a privately-owned trucking business.

Strong opposition is expected to come from the municipalities affected by the rail shutdown, but Autoroute officials, hopeful of approval by the commissioners, are ready to call tenders a week after the decision.

Improved Highway Links

The president of the Autoroute Authority, Guy Poliquin, said that if the deal goes through there would be future improvements to roads between Lac Remi and St. Sauveur. The Autoroute extension, he said, would follow the rail track for some 10 miles from St. Jerome to St. Sauveur. The tracks then head west, while the Autoroute extension runs north to Ste. Adele.

The Provincial Government ultimately would use the CN right-of-way between St. Sauveur and Lac Remi to improve its highway system in that area of the Laurentians.

The Autoroutes president also said the new extension would end at Ste. Adele "in such a way that we can carry on in the future to Ste. Agathe."

Le Droit has story on Carillon police abuses

A long series of complaints on traffic abuses by police officers at Carillon has been climaxed by a two-column front-page spread with photographs in Le Droit, Ottawa daily newspaper — initiated by two visitors to Carillon who were each allegedly mulcted of $24 in fines.

(Argenteuil residents have long deplored these abuses. Complaints have been many, bringing ill favor on an area which should soon be capitalizing on tourist attractions. It is hoped this case will be the straw that breaks this lucrative practice, focussing attention of the authorities on avarice and officiousness which has earned ill repute for the Village of Carillon.)

Le Droit (April 19) reports the adventures of two Ottawans, Maurice and Charles Paradis:

"We were in a group of visitors with four automobiles," said the former gentleman. "I was driving along at 10 miles an hour. Seeing a police car waiting in a little crossroad, I used my two-way car radio to warn my brother, Jacques, who was following about a mile and a half behind. My uncle, Maurice, was driving the second car, about 500 feet behind.

"I speeded up to about 15 miles an hour, my uncle following. Suddenly, I saw he had been stopped by the police, so I turned and went back to see what had happened.

" 'I've been arrested for driving 42 miles an hour — I was doing only 15, and this is a 20-mile zone', my uncle complained. I confirmed this fact to the police, for the other car had been keeping pace with me behind.

"The policeman then looked at my license plate and (I quote his own words) he said, 'You come from Ontario, too. Well follow me to the station." . . .

Maurice Paradis followed. The police station was a shack (petite cabane) and the officer himself levied a $24 fine on each of them.

"The officer refused to give his name. The ticket was signed only 'chef' — at least, as far as I could make out." (The receipt, made out by him, bore only two initials.) "The same man had signed the two documents in two different ways," said the complainant, and photographs of the two forms are reproduced with the article in Le Droit.

The two informants, Maurice and Charles Paradis, told the newspaper they intended to press the matter to the limit. Said Maurice: "The Carillon Dam is only in its infancy; it will attract many tourists. I don't want others to be 'taken in' as we were."

Other Cases

Charles and Maurice Paradis of Ottawa are not the only motorists from this region arrested, judged and fined by the Carillon police (continues Le Droit). Recently this newspaper has received several complaints: . . . Jean Roger, 20, of Hull, for instance, was arrested March 18 under similar circumstances, while driving home with his wife from St. Andrews. He was charged with driving 37 miles an hour, and was fined $21.

"I don't see how I could make 37 miles an hour on a road so full of potholes," he said. "The road is in such a state one can hardly navigate at 15 miles an hour.

"I was tired," continued the driver, "and had no desire to engage in a long and useless argument, so I paid the fine. That's good,' said the officer. 'This way I save you the cost of a summons,'" the Ottawa newspaper reports.

New hospital urgent —

Conditions at Providence Hospital seen 'scandalous and intolerable'

"So long as a million-dollar investment remains idle . . . so long as the provincial government delays its grants for completion of the Argenteuil Regional Hospital . . . so long as this project is manipulated by political intruders . . . there will continue to exist, at our Providence Hospital, a situation which is almost scandalous." . . .

With these plain terms, the editor of "L'Argenteuil" introduces a critical editorial this week. And his conclusions are supported by an eye-witness inspection, from which he claims the epithets "intolerable" and "scandalous" are by no means too dramatic to describe the situation.

It was last Wednesday that the editor visited the hospital on Princess Street. During the night six confinement cases had been admitted; and at 9 o'clock the following morning, the visitor saw the patients accommodated in all sorts of inadequate and inconvenient places.

One of the patients just after childbirth was still on the obstetrical table, there being no bed available for her. Another was lying on a stretcher in the corridor. A third, awaiting a bed, was on the surgical table of the operating room. And another, approaching the time of her delivery, was in a small compartment adjoining the case room, where continual comings and goings were disturbing to her state of mind, to say the least.

The nursery accommodation was similarly overtaxed. New-born infants were in baskets placed upon a stretcher, and had to be moved constantly so that attendants could give necessary care to the babies.

"What were the hospital authorities doing in this situation?" The newspaperman explains . . . they were handling matters in the only way possible — discharging the mothers and infants only two or three days after birth, so as to release beds for new patients. He saw one mother and child leaving the hospital at that early hour, 9 a.m., pale and moaning. The young woman, a mother of only a few days, was supported on one side by Sister Gabrielle, and on the other by a staff nurse.

It is deplorable (the visitor concludes) that a community such as Lachute must be satisfied with a makeshift hospital dating back to 1943, lacking provisions for comfort, without sufficient beds, without adequate space, without all the necessities which patients and personnel deserve.

And this in the presence of a "white elephant" — the new $1,300,000 hospital building which serves no purpose for humanity.

Fortunately, the overcrowding witnessed last week at the Providence Hospital is not a normal state of affairs. But it occurs frequently enough that the public should be aware of it. It is a nightmare to doctors, the religious sisters and staff in charge, and it takes little imagination to realize the tragic impasse that would result from any influx of victims from an accident in times like this.

Patients have good reason to complain, when nursing and medical staff, have inadequate facilities for their treatment. Doctors and nurses are equally handicapped, being unable to exercise their duties as the profession demands. . . . "It is high time this evil should be overcome and work resumed for early completion of our new hospital", the editorial states in conclusion.

Year's statistics reported by Providence Hosp'l

A report on the Providence Hospital for the year 1961 has been summarized for publication. Still awaiting the improved facilities of a brand-new regional hospital, long under construction, the religious and lay staff of the present hospital reports a busy year of activity.

Superior of the hospital is the Rev. Sister Joseph-Aurèle. The staff includes 24 lay members, of whom six are auxiliary graduate nurses, five nurses' aids, a lab technician, and a dozen other employees. In addition there are five nuns attached to the hospital, with 12 Lachute district physicians in attendance as required. President of the medical board is Dr. Marc Papineau.

Hospital Patients, 1961

Adults	1,136	— Days	4,372
Infants	488	— Days	2,036
Deaths, adults			5
Deaths, infants			6
Still Births			6
Confinements			488
Surgical Cases			448
Laboratory Tests (units)			6,529
Laboratory Tests (sent out)			32
X-Rays			120

Outdoor Patients

Patients Treated	1,181
Consultations	1,612
Surgical Cases	323
Laboratory Tests (units)	2,454
Laboratory Tests (sent out)	29
X-Rays	413
Fluoroscopic	5

The above record is a creditable accounting, when one considers the building in which the staff continue their work. The patients also share the inconvenience of these existing facilities; and all look forward to the completion of the new regional hospital started some two years ago.

Sentiments and Sidelights

(Comments on the Local Scene)

Easter week-end brought a big influx of traffic to Lachute, giving some indication of the congestion to be expected on Main Street this summer. Town police had a busy time with their radar speed detector, intent on impressing the fact, early in the season, that Lachute has a speed limit.

St. John lessons in resuscitation, Save-a-Life Week

As a public service during the coming "Save A Life Week" (May 14-19) free two-hour classes in artificial respiration are being given across Canada. These classes will be provided for local citizens during each evening of the week, at places to be announced later. Those interested or wishing to register may do so by calling LO 2-2912 or LO 2-5308.

Canada has 1,200 drownings a year — one of the highest per capita death rates in the world from this cause. When a nearly-drowned person is pulled from the water unconscious, it is vital that someone should be able to apply artificial respiration immediately. . . . It is the purpose of these free St. John Ambulance classes to save people involved in water accidents or asphyxiation from other causes.

Two methods of artificial respiration are being taught, the mouth-to-mouth method and the Holger-Nielsen system.

Last year St. John Ambulance instructed 116,424 Canadians during "Save A Life Week". This is the ninth year for holding of the classes. The organization has case histories of people whose lives were saved by someone who took this training.

Man unconscious on sidewalk with fractured skull

Jean-Jules Gagnier, 30-year-old resident at 189-A Bethany Street and a waiter at the Palace Hotel, was found unconscious on the sidewalk at 3.30 a.m. on Tuesday.

The discovery was made by a town employee, Rodolphe Dencault, and a fellow worker engaged on night-work flushing the town watermains. They found the victim stretched on the sidewalk at the corner of Bethany and Grace Streets.

Constables Laurin and Arcouette, called to the scene, transported the man to hospital, where the examining physician, Dr. Zoel Saindon, diagnosed a fracture of the skull.

Chief J. L. Hebert of the town police department questioned numerous persons in connection with the incident. The chief is continuing his investigation.

Topic at Lions Club —

"History Submerged" — narrative and pictorial record of landmarks on now-flooded Ottawa riverfront

A good attendance of almost 50 Lions Club members heard one of the most interesting talks of the current season, when Dr. G. R. Rigby described the vanishing landmarks of the Ottawa Valley between Carillon and Grenville, illustrating his subject with maps and photographs projected on the screen. The talk was heard at the regular club meeting last week, chaired by Col. Ernest Emmett, president.

Flooding of the river last February above the Carillon power dam has obliterated some of the earliest history of this area, and indeed, of the nation itself. Dr. Rigby touched upon the fur trade which was a mainstay of the Canadian economy in the 17th and 18th centuries, and how the Long Sault rapids of the Ottawa had presented immense difficulties to the navigation of this trade route. Champlain, the early explorer of this route, had recorded in his memoirs that he almost lost his life in the hazardous rapids later known as Chute à Blondeau. . . . "Treadwell's Trenches", and the early canal system built by the Royal Staff Corps for military safeguards in the early 1800's — these were precursors of the more modern three-canal system built in 1876-1871 between Carillon and Grenville which is now practically all submerged.

The speaker showed slides of the old and newer locks; of the railway that replaced the voyageurs' portage route; of early buildings just recently demolished, including the forge at Bayside Farm (1835-36) which produced much of the ironwork for the canal construction, and the stately Regency-style home of Clark Noyes (1827-28) built of imported brick. The earliest homes, whose relics are now submerged in the rising river, dated back to 1809. These and many other scenes were viewed — leading up to Dr. Rigby's concluding speculation, on possible changes in the present scene 100 years hence. This was a fascinating surmise.

Argenteuil County is indebted to Dr. Rigby and his fellow researchers for martialling this information, and for permanently recording the pictorial evidence of "History Submerged" in the Ottawa Valley. . . . This sentiment was ably expressed by ex-President Lorne Duncan, who introduced the speaker, and by Fred Jeffery, who extended the appreciation of his audience.

Many matters of club and community interest were discussed during the business of the meeting. These included events planned for the immediate future, and a study report by Lion Roger Regimbal, who had been assigned to look into a future site for a more permanent community rink. More will be heard on this subject.

"ARGENTEUIL OUTDOORS"

By BOB ATCHISON

The opening day of the fishing season was not as poor as might be expected. I don't mean the fishing part of it; as usual none were taken, but that doesn't seem to matter too much. I was out very early for a couple of hours. Kind of chilly, and no fish; but you certainly need to go out like this before the fishing occupies your main interest. Looking over the creeks is worthwhile from a safety point. One of these creeks, which I fish often, has changed considerably due to torrential flow of water during the run off. Another creek, near Dunany, is choked with logs, so for a time this will be "out" as a favorite spot. At least I know I have a job to do, one of these days when it is a little warmer — clean it out.

It won't be too long now before the summer visitors return — and then the worry of forest fires. We have been lucky in this district over the past few years, but we cannot rely on this good fortune. One would believe that the bush is soaked right now, but this is not the case. Some spots are bone dry, and it would only take a spark to get a fire going. Maybe the Fishing Association could post signs along our highways warning of these dangers. I know everyone is interested in wiping out fires, but it takes constant reminders to prevent them.

I mentioned some time ago of new lures on the market for the spin-fisherman. Finished with fluorescent paints in every shade imaginable, they sure do glow. I have tried a couple in the river, and they seem to live up to the advertisers' claims in this respect. Of course there are numerous baits made only for the dyed-in-the-wool man. He at least knows nothing will ever take the lure, but he has to have it. It helps fill up the tackle box. Another thing that interests me very much — trying to repair a reel that has been jammed. Sure, they are easy to pull apart, if you have the time and tools, but when you have neither of these, it is better to get someone to do the job for you. Saves you money in the long run.

I know this is not the season for shooting, but it seems that you have to keep hammering away in the hope someone will try and do something. I am referring to those hunters who get into a district and shoot up everything in motion. I believe last fall the Government came out and started a supposed training program. From all information I can get, this is being carried on by companies only. The C-I-L is doing everything in its power to get people trained in the use of firearms, and we can thank them for this. With Les Morrow handling the works, things are happening, but not as fast as they should. Naturally, one group can only take on so much work, and that is where the Governments are falling down. Action will develop very slowly unless it is taken right now — not when the hunting season opens again.

Crows are around in great numbers, and they should provide some good sport for the varmint man. Care has to be taken, but handled right, this can be a rewarding sport. Crows, as you know, are on my No. 1 list of killers, so I act accordingly. They are cautious, and test the mettle of any hunter and his equipment. Around garbage dumps they can be found in numbers, and if you don't mind the surroundings, then stay there awhile and enjoy some good shooting.

Our canary, previously mentioned, has not been singing for a good long time. Fourteen years old, it lapsed into silence about five years ago. Last week, for no apparent reason, it started right back where it left off. Not having heard him for so long, his song seems even louder. Why this has happened we don't know, but maybe travelling all over the country with us had something to do with it — and seeing no preparations for our migration this spring, he is convinced he's staying home. There had been no change in his feed or treatment, so this could not be the explanation.

The little animal that I was informed of last week just before press time, was a flying squirrel. Just a young one, it sure was a cute little bundle. These animals will not live in captivity too long, so it was released. I don't know how many of you readers have seen these things in action. It is something to see — something you will never forget. This one sure took off in a hurry. Going up to the tip of a tree and launching itself right out into the open for the other tree, was a terrific venture. The space between must have been a good 15 feet; seeing it coming down with its legs outstretched, and the fine web between its legs acting as a sail, it is well equipped for flight. One of Nature's marvels which make you realize we humans aren't so smart after all.

Now a few tips for the fisherman. . . .

Don't let anyone tell you the fish only bite at certain times. This is not so. Every creature eats when it's hungry.

Fishing from a boat is sometimes very slow. By stamping on the bottom of the boat fish, being curious, will often be attracted to come and see what it is all about.

Fish that have been out of the water some time will be hard to scale. Try dipping them for a short time in boiling water. It really works.

To renew worn flies, hold them over a kettle of boiling water and fluff out the feathers.

The fisherman who scores most often is the one who works the water. Take your time, but don't spend more than 15 minutes in one spot unless you are catching fish.

To make sure you land your fish, don't force it; take your time and play it out. Hold the rod: tip up and let this take the strain. Very few rods are broken by this strategy.

Fish following your lures and not hitting, need a change of pace. Either a lure change, or different action. Don't just reel the lures in, work them in short jerks.

When you have caught enough fish for a feed, use a barbless hook. By filing off the barb of your hook, you can let the fish away without any damage to them.

Do not increase the drag tension on your reel if the fish is taking it out. The more line you have out, the greater the tension on the line.

If your rod is hard to get apart, place it behind your knees, with your hands outside your knees, then spread the legs. This takes apart these locked-on rods.

Remember, DON'T TAKE MORE FISH THAN YOU CAN EAT IN ONE MEAL. BE A SPORT ABOUT IT.

Finals staged by Anglican bowlers

The final playoff to decide the second-place winner in the Anglican Bowling League was played last Monday night, and resulted in a win for the Rangers (skipped by Harold Maslin) as follows:

Rangers (Score 17) — H. Maslin (skip), R. Dempster, Mrs. G. Silverson, W. Sherritt.

Stars (Score 5) — Rev. C. R. Lang (skip), Mrs. B. Jenkins, D. Brown, Mrs. Fox.

During the social hour, Mr. J. Sewell, chairman, thanked all the committees and members who had worked so hard to ensure another successful season.

Mr. H. Maslin, in charge of the Match Committee, remarked that there was not too much difference in any of the teams and all were able to offer very strong competition against the others.

Plans were made to purchase more equipment for next year.

Mr. Sewell, in presenting the prizes, congratulated the first-place winners of the league title, the Comets, skipped by Mrs. Lang, and the Rangers, skipped by H. Maslin, second-place winners.

Regulations for Fish-Game Assn.

In reference to fishing contests and trophies to be awarded by the Argenteuil Fishing and Hunting Assocation this season, the directors give the following information on rules and regulations:

All members of the Association are eligible to take part. The fish must be caught in this county and weighed-in before an officer of the Association and a witness.

To enter the Molson contest, it is not necessary that the fish be caught in this county; however, the specimen must be registered with an officer of this Association and before a witness, in the same way. Fish caught anywhere in Quebec Province may qualify.

For would-be entrants the following stores offer their co-operation in weighing the fish: Marché Lachute (Roméo Poirier) 490 Main Street; Jos. Denault, Brownsburg; Agapit Roy, Dalesville. Any director of the Association may be called upon to register the fish caught.

All fishing enthusiasts will be welcomed as members of the Argenteuil group. Membership cards may be procured through president Paul Desjardins, Sr. (Lunch Car, Main Street), Ernest Villemaire (Shoe Repair Shop, Main Street) or any other director.

United Church bowling finals next Monday

The annual banquet and final contest of the 12-team United Church bowling league will be held next Monday evening in the church hall. The semi-finals were held prior to the Easter season, with the following teams participating:

East Settlement vs All Stars
Beavers vs St. David's.

In the former contest, Les Gordon's East Settlement foursome outplayed the All Stars (Reg Stansfield) 15 to 6. In the other semi-final, the contest was very close, with Margaret Gordon's Beavers being tied with Mrs. E. Armstrong's St. David's at the 9-end, 7 to 7. It was not until the last ball was played, that the Beavers came through with a 1-ender to win 8 to 7.

Following the banquet next Monday, the East Settlement and Beavers will engage in the closing game for the championship. Both teams have reached the finals several times, so a good contest is anticipated.

The president, Mrs. Wilson Bridge, and her competent committees, have prepared a banquet in worthy style of former years.

ONCE AGAIN — TORY TIMES HAVE BEEN HARD TIMES!

Diefenbaker had his chance.

The Canadian people have had it . . .

"As long as I am Prime Minister no one will suffer" . . . There are unfortunately 583,000 unemployed Canadians who can say "nay" to that promise.

Five costly years to prove that the Tories' "man of vision" was only a visionary grasping at will-o'-the-wisps. Toryism means Big Business and Vested Interests only. The last budget proves it.

For the working man . . . nothing.

For the farmer . . . a Cut . . . in planned expenditures. Here are the percentages. The 1961-62 figure was 2.79%, whereas for 1962-1963 only 2.6% is earmarked for Agriculture.

Let us, THE LIBERALS of Argenteuil - Two Mountains, make sure of a LIBERAL victory, come June 18th.

. . . A man of proven party loyalty.

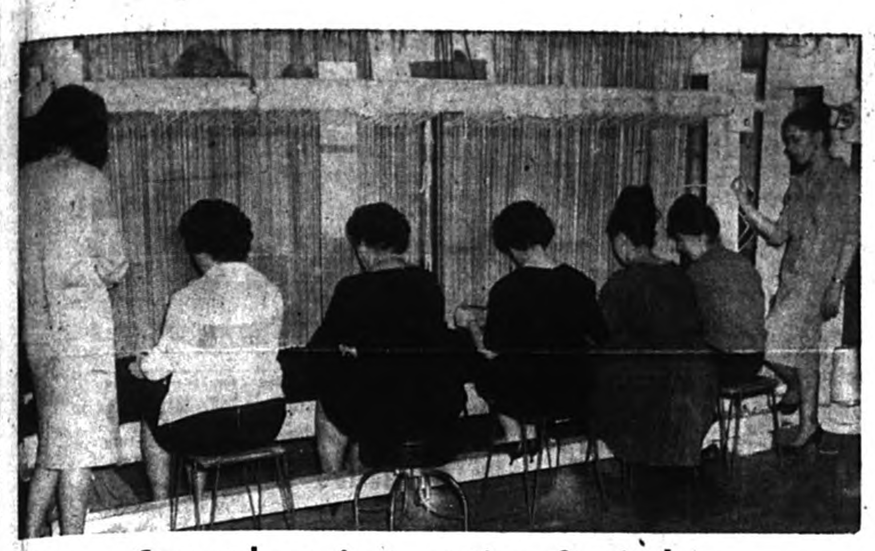

. . . A man who can rally all Liberals to his support.

EVERYBODY'S MAN — AT THE SERVICE OF EVERYONE.
The sure choice at the convention.

Need for Customs declarations on gift parcels

Canadians who want their parcels to arrive safely in Britain, will have to ensure that customs declarations are completely filled out and properly attached to each parcel — states the Postmaster General, the Hon. William Hamilton.

Information has been received from the British Post Office that many parcels from Canada are being delayed at ports of entry because of faulty customs declarations. Canadians use general terms such as "candy", "clothing", or "gifts" on the declarations. This is not a proper declaration. The British regulations require that exact nature of the contents must be indicated, as well as their value.

Mr. Hamilton pointed out that improper completion of the customs declarations can easily result in gifts being delayed and may even lead to seizure of the parcels or imposition of penalties. If the declaration does not provide sufficient information, the package must be opened by British customs officers or the addressee has to be asked for further details.

By following the regulations, it may be assured that parcels will arrive at destination without difficulty or delay.

THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS

I have before me a brittle, yellowed clipping from the Montreal "Witness" dated July 11, 1888, which reads as follows:

"Green Mountain Air at Enosburgh, Vermont. Four hours rail from Montreal. Delightful situation; pure air; grand scenery; home comforts. Terms per week, adults $4; children under 12, $2; children under one year, free. — John Spooner & Son, Enosburgh Center, Vt."

Another clipping from the same issue states that the Thistle Boot & Shoe Shop, Montreal, has Ladies' Fine Hand-Made Lace Shoes $1, Men's French Kid Shoes $1.75 (worth $2.50), and Misses' Fine Hand-Made Shoes for 90c.

Which reminds me that my folks spent a vacation at Portneuf, Que., when I was two years old. Each guest was served two boiled eggs each morning. But one day only one egg per person was issued. One of the guests complained and was informed that that was all he could expect from now on, because eggs had gone up from 10c to 12c a dozen!

But these low prices were proportionate with the wages paid in the Good Old Days. I have a friend in his early sixties who was born and raised in a small Ontario town. When his mother was in her 'teens she worked for the Richest Man in Town for $2 a month. One day she broke a plate and was docked 75c, so worked a whole month for $1.25. . . . Perhaps the good old days were not so good after all!

Be seein' ya!

In addition, members of the fire brigade have answered a total of 13 calls to grass fires during the past week. A number of the incidents were outside the town limits and could have resulted in serious damage had they not been attended to.

— LONG SAULT DISTRICT —

"Better Deal for Quebec Boy Scouts"

Thirty-seven District Commissioners met with their new Provincial Commissioner, veteran Scouter John W. H. Miner, of Granby, at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, Montreal, on Saturday, April 14, following the Provincial Council meeting.

These volunteer workers represented Boy Scouts of Canada in most sections of the Province of Quebec from Gaspé to Rouyn-Noranda, and from Stanstead to Lake St. John.

When calling this special meeting Mr. Miner said, in part, "Scouting, being a living movement, has been undergoing changes in its administrative operations and these changes definitely affect the role of the uniformed Scouter (leader) above the Group level."

Mr. Miner presented a well-organized agenda which kept the Commissioners on their toes from 2 until 9 p.m. Included in subjects discussed were, "Role of the District Commissioner", "Training — What and How — 7 Steps", "Odds and Ends" and "Closing Challenge" presented by Mr. Miner; "District Council Operation — the Place of the District Commissioner", by George W. Rutter, vice-president, Provincial Council; "Using the Commissioner Staff", by Morrey Cross, assistant Provincial commissioner (Rovers); "Remarks and Demonstration — Scouter Investiture" by David Green, Provincial field commissioner; "Using your Executive Staff and Headquarters", by Cyril J. Dendy, Provincial executive commissioner; "Scouters' Meetings" by James A. Robson, Provincial field commissioner; and "Golden Arrow" by Milton Haynes, commissioner for Montreal Southern District.

Mr. Miner stressed the need for good Scout leadership in the province. On the subject of leader selection, he had this to say: "We have a program to offer, but if you are not satisfied that the leader selected is capable of satisfactorily handling that program, then it is your duty to refuse to register him." Referring to the fact that the whole Boy Scout program is keyed to fit the boy, he cited instances in certain districts where boys have been deprived of the privilege of a full Scouting program, due to the selection of leaders inadequate for the job. Mr. Miner admonished the District Commissioners with: "You gentlemen can do more good or more harm for the boy than any other person in this organization." He stressed the fact that Group Leaders and Scouters should place more emphasis on "Duty to God" — that all of these men should profess belief in the Law.

"Watch the Scouter who does not want to take training," warned Mr. Miner. Every Scouter agrees to take training when he makes application, and Mr. Miner felt this should be stressed during his introductory interview. It is now felt that much of this training should come from the District level — as it is only at this level the needs of the individual Scouter are fully apparent.

"Scouters must know Scouting, and the Scouter's Handbook, in order to know what they are supposed to do!" concluded Mr. Miner on the subject of Leader training.

Mr. M. R. Wilson, District Commissioner for the Long Sault District, was represented at this meet by B. A. Jenkins, District Scoutmaster.

J. W. Humphries, District President, attended the morning session of the Quebec Provincial Council.

Militia, Cadets at change of command

On Thursday of last week, 21 members of the local Militia Battery, 131st Field Battery R.C.A. (M.), and 34 members of Highland Cadet Battalion "D" Company, paraded at the Craig Street Armouries in Montreal, to take part in change - of - command ceremonies.

Approximately 500 members of 10th Militia Group Artillery Regiments were on parade and inspected by the G.O.C. Quebec Command, Maj.-Gen. A. Fleury.

The occasion of the parade was somewhat unique, in that three changes took place on the same evening. The first was the change of appointment of the 37th Field Regiment's Regimental Sergeant-Major, followed by the change of the command of the Regiment from Lt.-Col. A. Malouf, C.D., to Lt.-Col. T. A. McLean, C.D., and family, the change of command of Senior Artillery Militia Officer from Lt.-Col. L. P. Martin, E.D., to Lt.-Col. A. Malouf, C.D.

Quite a number of Lachute citizens have on previous occasions met Lt.-Col. A. Malouf, and it is with interest that they wish him success in his new appointment.

Wives of some of the officers and men of the Battery were also present at these ceremonies, as were also Alderman L. W. Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong.

Liberal women organize at St. Andrews East

Last Wednesday evening a group of Liberal ladies held a meeting in the school at St. Andrews East, with a view to forming a Liberal Women's Association in that municipality.

The following attended the meeting — Mrs. Noella Durocher, president of the Liberal Women's Association of the County of Argenteuil; Mrs. Lorraine Séguin, vice-president of the same association; Mrs. Yvon Foucault, representative for St. Philippe and Whisseltown; and also Mr. Rodrigue Durocher, ex-provincial Liberal candidate.

Mrs. Durocher, the County president, gave explanations on the forming of a local association, and procedure for the acceptance of new members.

Election of the executive then took place.

Mrs. Jean Raoul Ladouceur was named president, and Mrs. Rolland Charlebois first vice-president, both unanimously.

Mrs. Ovila Roy of Carillon was named second vice-president to represent Carillon, pending the formation of a local Association in Carillon.

Mrs. Jeannette Durocher was unanimously elected secretary. Miss Jacqueline Proulx was elected to represent the Young Liberals, and Mrs. Gilberte Lapointe as feminine chief of the district for polling purposes.

The position of English representative was left in abeyance for the present.

A father of six children, Raoul Guindon of Vankleek Hill, won a $500 cash prize last Friday night at the second lucky draw held by the Hawkesbury Merchants' Association. Mr. Guindon secured the winning ticket at Rozon's Red-and-White Foodmaster store, and his $20 purchase was refunded by the merchant.

Three more draws for a total of $1,500 will be held on April 27, May 4, and May 11. Entry tickets are available free at all stores in Hawkesbury.

Short of breath?

Do you huff and puff like a steam engine when you climb a steep grade, or rush to catch a bus? Do the stairs seem to be getting longer and your breath shorter?

Many of us get a little short of breath as we grow older. Often that's only normal. However, shortness of breath can be a warning that something is wrong.

Dr. Stefan Crzybowski, Tuberculosis Division, Ontario Department of Health, commented at the Ministers' Conference held in Toronto recently, that "shortness of breath may be a warning sign that something is wrong. Emphysema, chronic bronchitis, heart conditions and other chest conditions may be the underlying factor in shortness of breath. Early treatment is essential."

If less and less exertion gets you out of breath more and more, ask your doctor for advice. The earlier most heart and lung conditions are discovered, the easier they are to cure.

Arundel

Easter has brought sons, daughters and friends here for the holidays, to share the joy of this season. We also welcome some of our summer residents, who have been busy preparing their summer homes. In the gardens crocuses are blooming, and buds are pushing their way through the soil, and we feel that summer is really on the way.

Good Friday Service

A joint Good Friday service was held in the Anglican Grace Church, with a good attendance. The United Church choir rendered the anthem, "In Joseph's Lovely Garden". Mrs. Leslie Cook played the organ. Addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Bussell and Mr. A. Lawson. The service was brought to a close with the singing of the Nunc Dimittis.

Church Supper

On Saturday evening an Easter supper was held in the United Church hall, many visitors joining with the local residents. The ladies in charge are to be congratulated on the successful result of their hard work.

Easter Devotions

Easter Sunday services in both churches were attended by capacity congregations, and lillies and spring flowers decorated both churches.

Bereavement occurred in the Easter season here, with the sudden passing of Mr. J. Edward, son-in-law of Mrs. J. May, who died of a heart attack on Saturday. Deepest sympathy is extended to the family.

IN MEMORIAM

McINTYRE — In loving memory of my dear wife, Marion, who passed away April 29, 1961. — Sadly missed by husband, Bob.

"When days are dark and lonely
And everything goes wrong,
I seem to hear you whisper
'Cheer up and carry on.'
Each time I look at your picture
You seem to smile and say,
'Don't grieve, I'm only sleeping
We'll meet again some day.'"

McINTYRE — In loving memory of a dear mother, who passed away April 29, 1961. — Sadly missed and forever remembered by Mary and Fraser.

"Many a lonely heartache
And many a silent tear,
But always a sweet remembrance
Of one we loved so dear."

McINTYRE — In fond and loving memory of dear Mum, who left us on April 29, 1961. — Always remembered, Leona and Stan.

"Not just today, but every day,
In silence we remember."

APPRECIATION

LUPIEN — Mrs. Alfred Lupien and children wish to extend their sincere thanks to friends and relatives, here and away, for their many kind expressions of sympathy in cards, masses, flowers, telegrams, visits and acts of kindness shown them in the recent passing of the late Alfred Lupien.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Taylor on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weir, of Baie d'Urfé, and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Weir, Jr., and little daughter. They also called upon Miss Alice Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Taylor and children, of Montreal, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Pitt.

Mrs. Jean Robson, of Montreal, occupied her Cushing home over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Cushing and daughter, Sherry, also Mr. R. Coghill, spent the week-end at "Ingleside".

For the first time since diesel engines have been used on our railway line, burning of grass and rubbish along the track has recently been noted.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dogge, of Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steere, of Brownsburg, were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Morrow, of Monalea Road.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Buzzell, of Montreal West, and a party of friends, were at their Cushing home on Saturday and Sunday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fuller on Sunday were Mrs. Fuller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Berry, of Hill Head, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lavock and baby, also Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Berry, of Vankleek Hill, Ont., Mr. Eric Berry, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Berry, and Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Fuller.

Mrs. L. R. McGain, accompanied by Mr. Alan Hollingworth and children, arrived in Cushing on Sunday — Mrs. McGain and the children remaining at "Tynwald" for the Easter week.

Easter Seals

Noting that returns from Easter Seals envelopes sent out had (according to last issue of The Watchman) not been returned in full, has made us wonder if overlapping in sending the seals and requests may in a small measure be responsible, as in one Cushing home where there are only two residents, four such were received — two to the lady of the house, one in the name listed in the telephone book, the other in her "writing name"; and again one to the daughter of the house, who teaches elsewhere and subscribes from where she teaches. That makes a loss of two that should not be counted on for return.

Other homes on the Easter Seals list may have the same experience. A check-up and correction of the mailing list may prove that people are not quite so neglectful as it would seem.

New officers for B'burg Catholic Women's League

Brownsburg — The Catholic Women's League, St. Louis de France Parish Council, held their monthly meeting April 11 in the church hall. The Rev. Father G. Courtubise, the director, was present, and Mrs. Robillard presided.

The conveners' annual reports were submitted. Miss Muriel Jackson, Education convener, also Catechism teacher for Grades 1 to 7, announced the Confirmation date as May 1 and First Communion day May 6. The Spiritual convener announced that a closed retreat will be held May 25-26-27 at Domaine d'Esterel, Ste. Marguerite du Lac Masson, Que.

Plans were made for the coming diocesan convention, to be held May 12 in Brownsburg — the local Council being hostesses.

After the business, Mrs. L. Camus, chairman, with Mrs. R. Summers and Mrs. T. Hall, nominating committee, conducted the election of officers for the coming year. The following were elected — President, Mrs. John Seary; 1st vice-president, Mrs. T. Hall; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. John Chalmers.

Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Noel Racine.

Recording secretary, Mrs. L. Camus.

Treasurer, Mrs. Noel Robillard.

Councillors — Mrs. Tilsley, Mrs. H. Taylor, Mrs. D. Graham, Mrs. Robillard.

The retiring president thanked the members for their support during her term of office. The Director gave a vote of thanks to the past-president and her officers, then presented the gavel to the new president, Mrs. J. Seary, and gave his blessing to all.

In conclusion, refreshments were served by Mrs. N. Racine and her committee.

Inspiring service Easter Sunday

"One of the most uplifting services I have attended in many years." Such was the comment of one of the worshippers at the close of the service at Lachute United Church on Easter Sunday. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers and Easter lillies, provided by the United Church Women's organization and Mr. Anders Paulsen.

Anthems by the choir were a Dutch Easter carol, "This Joyful Eastertide" and "Christ is Risen", a German carol, arranged by the late Mr. A. B. Hopkins, father of Mr. Lowel B. Hopkins, organist of the church. A most effective soprano solo, "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth", was rendered by Mrs. E. Fiechter, and the Rev. Wilson Bridge, minister of the church, spoke on "What Easter Means to Me."

"In this Parliament are three Estates, the Lords Spiritual, the Lords Temporal and the Commons, but in the Reporters' Gallery yonder sits a Fourth Estate more important far than all."
— Edmund Burke

Five billion dollars for tail-fins

YEARLY MODEL changes in the auto industry have cost the people of the United States a conservatively estimated 35 billion dollars since 1949. We have not seen an equivalent estimate for Canada, but five billion dollars might not be too far off target — says Teamwork in Industry.

Why doesn't industry agree to outlaw annual model changes? We have long felt this practice to be one of our most meaningless luxuries. To judge by the foregoing figures it is also one of the most costly — for both manufacturers and consumers. If we are to counter keen competition with a telling thrust of our own now and again, perhaps the producers should stabilize on proven, basic models and be content to refine and improve them as advancing technology permits. This would drive prices down and toughen our competitive punch.

We contend that the average consumer is interested mainly in the quality and durability of any product he buys. A push-button gear selector is no compensation to the man whose car leaks in every rainstorm and rusts through in six months; nor will the spaceship instrument panel on a washing machine ever warm the heart of a housewife (with a pile of children's laundry to do!) when some malfunction in the thing evades her homely skill and baffles the repairman who lacks the experience to fix anything so complex. The average consumer, we also contend, would prefer that a manufacturer spend his money and time improving the reliability and performance of his product rather than wasting it on gewgaws and gadgets which are more often a bane than a boon.

Manufacturers tell us that they are just as concerned about repeat business today as they ever were, that they want us back again and again to buy their merchandise. The term used to describe this phenomenon when it occurs is "brand loyalty". We have always reasoned that loyalty-for-quality was a fair exchange. — We'll stand up for you if your product stands up for us.

So whenever we must choose between quality and "the very latest thing", we try to make the intelligent decision. We think everyone should try to make intelligent decisions. Including industry — says this plain-speaking article.

Fish hooks to you

TIMELY TO the advent of the trout season — a word about fish hooks may save a chapter of grief for some unwary fisherman.

Fish hooks have an affinity for human hands and fingers. If the hook punctures only a fraction of an inch, it's a mere pin-prick, but if it penetrates beyond the barb, you have a problem on your hands — literally. First thing to do is to cut the line away. If the hook has gone right through and out of the flesh, cut off the barb or the base of the hook with pliers (a must in your kit) and pull the remains of the hook back or through, whichever seems easier. Cleanse the wound with a solution of one teaspoonful of salt to a pint of water, and put on a fresh sterilized pad moistened with the same solution.

Sometimes, things are not that easy. The hook may stab into the flesh leaving no barb to cut or pull out. In this case, get to a doctor as quickly as possible and have the job done safely, under a local anaesthetic. If that isn't possible within a matter of hours, you'll have to grit your teeth and take a razor blade (sterilized over the flame of a match) and cut down to the barb; lift out the hook; cleanse the wound and apply a moist dressing dipped in salt solution. Change the dressing in a few hours, making sure that the spot is not inflamed. If there is any redness, soak the hand in a hot salt solution. In the meantime, make arrangements to get to a doctor.

These do-it-yourself jobs are only in case it is not possible to get medical aid immediately.

Of course, the wise thing to do when handling fish hooks is to give them all your attention. Don't try to carry a handful as you walk over rocks. You might remember, too, that the fish gets those hooks in him and he never says a word.

Remember Hallowe'en?

JUST RECENTLY, $310,000 was presented by two Canadian children to the World United Nations Children's Fund, (UNICEF) in a ceremony in New York City.

Rosane Richman, 16, of Brooks, Alberta and Joel Thayer, 10, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, represented more than 350,000 boys and girls — including youngsters of Lachute and neighboring communities — who shared their Hallowe'en with those children in the countries where there is suffering from disease and malnutrition.

This sum, an increase over last year of $50,000, was made up of hundreds of thousands of small amounts sent in by children from Newfoundland to British Columbia who combined their Hallowe'en treats with collections for the UNICEF organization.

The presentation was accepted for the children of the world by Mrs. Adelaide Sinclair, the Deputy Executive Director of UNICEF. Completing the Canadian character of the ceremony, Mrs. Sinclair, a Canadian, was one of the original organizers of UNICEF in Canada, and has charge of UNICEF programming throughout the developing countries of the world.

Each year, since the inception of the program, Canada's children have enlarged their shell-out activities for UNICEF at Hallowe'en time, as evidenced by the size of the contribution this year.

Local organizers may feel gratified with their share in this good work.

Women making progress

ANYONE WHO wants evidence that women are winning their so-called fight for equality with men need look no further than Canada's capital.

For about as long as anyone can remember, the basement barber shop in the Parliament Buildings has been a male domain. The few women sitting in Parliament had to go to a beauty parlor elsewhere if they wanted their hair done.

Now all that is changed. With the opening of the new session, three evenings a week are being set aside for lady politicians to have their hair attended to in the barber shop, and at prices in keeping with the fee the men pay for a haircut.

Prime mover in this revolutionary change is Judy LaMarsh, 36-year-old Liberal MP for Niagara Falls and only woman in the Opposition. Others who will benefit are Immigration Minister Ellen Fairclough, Mrs. Jean Casselman (P.C.—Grenville-Dundas), Margaret Aitken (PC—York-Humber), Mrs. Margaret Smith MacDonald (PC—Kings) and four women senators — Elsie Inman, Prince Edward Island, Muriel Ferguson, New Brunswick, Marianne Jodoin, Quebec, and Josie Quart, Quebec.

The invasion of the Parliamentary barber shop isn't the only victory for the ladies, however. There were quite a few firsts for women across the country in 1961.

Perhaps the most notable was the election of the first woman to the Quebec legislature — Mrs. Claire Kirkland-Casgrain, 35-year-old mother of three.

The University of British Columbia got its first woman chancellor with the election of Mrs. Frank Ross. Not only that, but her only opponent was also a woman.

The country got its first two women bank managers, at branches of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Toronto and Ottawa, and its first two women inspectors, named by the Toronto-Dominion Bank in Toronto and Kingston, Ont.

Mrs. Rhoda Erickson of Victoria was the first woman ever named to the national executive of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, and Lillian Larmour of Hamilton became the first woman president of the Dominion Chartered Customs House Brokers Association.

With all these accomplishments, what were the men doing? Well, they still held a monopoly on positions in the National Hockey League and Canadian Football League and didn't seem threatened. And in one area they were making a slight counter-attack. A doctor in London, Ont., won the petit-point needlework class at the Canadian National Exhibition's women's division with a large floral picture.

TOWARDS PEACE

It is natural, with nuclear bombs making us worry about the fate of our children, that there should spring up a great rush of organizations claiming that, if supported financially, they can help to bring about a state of lasting peace.

Some are modest in their demands; some ask for millions of dollars. One suggests it can create peace through scientific research. This is an amazing and attractive promise.

I believe some of these groups are sincere. I fear, however, that if the important agencies for peace lose support because there are so many fledglings in on the act, these groups may do harm.

In my opinion, if there is to be a great sum of money raised for the support of peace, it should go to the United Nations. That body, while imperfect, has the best opportunity to achieve something. It is operating in the red. It needs money desperately. To create a vast assortment of smaller outfits with a similar purpose would seem dangerously wasteful at this time.

The irony of it all is that the very weapon we fear is perhaps the one best deterrent to war. It is so devastating, and so generally effective against civilians and military alike, that it makes a major war sheer lunacy. Never again, while nuclear power exists, can the top brass remain in relative safety while the ranks go forward to meet the enemy. Wherever they are, they will all meet the enemy, if nuclear bombs start to fall.

Let us pray that this new fact of war will lead, at long last, to peace.

THE LACHUTE WATCHMAN

75 YEARS AGO

Friday, April 22, 1887 —

The Baptist Church people have purchased the site facing the North River from Mr. Patenaude, for $900, and intend erecting a new church during this summer.

Mr. G. Hamilton has returned from an extensive tour through Europe on business for the Lachute Bobbin Company.

Mr. Francois Labrosse died here Tuesday from Inflammation of the Lungs.

Lachute Town Council decided to lease the property of Mr. John Larmonth, at a rental of $96 a year, for the purpose of holding Council meetings and for a public market.

Mr. J. C. Wilson, M.P., had a few carloads of freight come in to his mills here last week, the freight bill on which was $1,000.

Death — At Butte City, Montana, George, eldest son of the late Alexander McGibbon of Brownsburg, aged 41.

50 YEARS AGO

Friday, April 19, 1912 —

Mr. E. H. Wilson has returned home after a month's visit in California.

Mr. Harry Slater will be standard-bearer of the Conservative Party, while Mr. John Hay, the present Liberal representative, will seek re-election in the coming Provincial campaign.

Cushing — Mr. J. Alex Noyes left for Ottawa, to join a party of friends who leave for British Columbia shortly.

Mr. John Hope, in the baking business for the past 35 years, is retiring and offers for sale his business block on Main Street.

St. Andrews stores are closing at 6 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays during the summer months.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, April 22, 1937 —

Ten residents of St. Jerome were fined for having no radio license.

"An armament race is one in which nobody wins."

In a recent literary contest held by the Maritime Women's Club, awards in the poetry classes included a prize to Mrs. Archie Graham, of Cushing.

Mrs. Fortunat Girard, 52-year-old resident of Brownsburg, lost her life in a tragic fire this week.

About 75 hoboes congregated around the railway station at Calumet attempting to board freight trains, causing delays in the train schedules. Several C.P.R. constables and R.C.M.P. officers were called to avert trouble.

The town water tax has been revised to meet interest charges on the waterworks loan. Horses and cows are rated the same, $1 per horse and 50c per cow.

Mrs. John Hay has reopened her home in town, after having spent the winter months in Florida.

Brightly-burning beacons the length and breadth of Canada, handled by the Boy Scouts across the country, will signal the crowning of His Majesty George VI on May 12.

Death — At Lachute, April 21, 1937, the Rev. E. S. Morrison.

YOU PROVIDE THE WILL, F.I.L. PROVIDES THE WAY

If you have ideas about making your farm a better farm but hesitate because of the costs involved, have a talk with Don Hay, manager of the Bank of Montreal. He can show you how a B of M Farm Improvement Loan can help you get started now to improve your operation and increase your farm profits.

A Bank of Montreal Farm Improvement Loan can be obtained for almost any worthwhile purpose. Many farmers are taking advantage of B of M Farm Improvement Loans to lighten their work and boost their profits. Some use them to pay for painting and repair of buildings, electrification and similar purposes . . . others use them to buy new equipment — tractors — trucks, and so on.

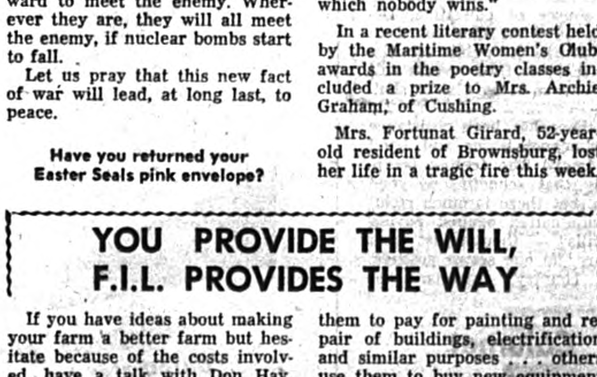

B of M Farm Improvement Loans are inexpensive — only five per cent interest per annum — and repayment terms can be tailored to your particular requirements. Why not drop in at the Lachute branch of the B of M tomorrow. Don Hay, the manager, will be glad to give you full details about a B of M Farm Improvement Loan.

Country kindness

Scandals are seldom published in the country newspapers, but if it so happens that decency demands it, the uglier details are omitted, or given a kindly touch that is wisely different from the unfeeling publicity of the city press. The offenders may be our neighbors, or people we have rubbed elbows with all our lives. They are real human beings to their home town paper, while to the great dailies they are merely grains of a sort that are ground out hourly in their news mill.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

Wandering-eye report. . . . Girl waiting on corner, lifting one foot at a time out of its shoe, wriggling toes and putting foot back. . . .

Tiny fellow hanging back at school gate, as all the other boys and girls go running in response to the buzzer.

"What's the matter, don't you want to go to school?" passerby asks. Silence. Lips tremble.

"Good idea to go in now," passerby suggests. "It'll probably be better today."

The boy moves forward uncertainly, then begins to run toward the others at the school entrance, a small figure in the big empty school yard.

Bus Stop Drama

Man and girl at bus stop at night, self-consciously moving away from each other, in the red and blue winking light of a neon sign. (Onlooker watches from a doorway.)

They look as though they belong together, but have quarrelled. They station themselves at opposite ends of bus stop, pretend to ignore one another.

But sometimes she turns her head slightly toward him; quickly turns away again when she thinks she has been observed. He does the same.

Then they begin to edge toward each other once more, until they are standing 18 inches apart. Hands move together until they are nearly touching; then grasp with fingers interlocked.

Bus arrives. Man and girl get aboard, letting go hands at the last minute before they enter. Watcher in shadow of doorway is so absorbed by this pantomime that he nearly forgets he is waiting for bus himself; rushes out and gets aboard just in time.

Joke of the Week

"I think the carburetor's flooded . . ."

The Crow and the Pitcher

Once upon a time, so the Fable tells us, a Crow was tormented by thirst and the only water he could find was out of reach in the bottom of a pitcher. With infinite patience, the wise old bird dropped pebbles into the pitcher. The level of the water rose until it was high enough for him to drink.

The Sun Life insurance premiums we pay are like the pebbles dropped into the pitcher. They bring our objectives into view. They build up an estate that provides immediate cash in the event of death or which can be used as retirement income.

Why not discuss your life insurance problems with me today? You will be under no obligation.

LEGION NOTES

"ACTIVE SERVICE YESTERDAY COMMUNITY SERVICE TODAY"

The regular monthly meeting, held Wednesday last, was chaired by Cde. R. O. McLean in the absence of Cde. president Geo. Kirby. One new member, Walter Service, was initiated into Branch 70 and the aims and objects of the Canadian Legion were read by Cde. E. W. Evans. One transfer, Cde. Joseph "Gerry" Courtois, was passed and accepted. Applications for membership were introduced from Joseph O. R. Tassé and Ernest L. Jackson.

The subject of a representative from Branch 70 at the coming Dominion Convention at Halifax, was thoroughly discussed and settled. Also voted on and approved were the purchase of a Past-President's plaque and a new Legion plaque.

Cde. D. Ogilvie discussed entertainment lined up for the Legion Day at the Spring Fair. This entertainment will be provided by the Blue Sky Revue group.

Cde. L. Bryson outlined the program for the Provincial Golf Tournament to be held at St. Andrews East on June 2, with Branch 70 as the host branch.

With reference to the monthly meeting, does this apply to YOU:

"Are you an active member
The kind that would be missed;
Or are you just contented
That your name be on the list?

"Do you attend the meetings
And mingle with the flock,
Or do you stay at home,
And criticize and knock?

"Do come to the meetings often
And help with hand and heart,
Don't be just a member
But take an active part."

If you wish to measure the quality of a community, ask what kind of education it is giving through the first 12 grades. Educating its young is probably the most altruistic and civilized action society takes. With few exceptions, those who pay for it will realize no early return for their money . . . and may even find that the students are learning concepts that clash with their parents'.

People speak enthusiastically about supporting colleges and graduate schools, where the most highly refined study is done. But for each young person who graduates from college there are six whose formal teaching ends with high school graduation. This 12-year course, not college, is the prime source of education. Depending on what they learn to understand in the public schools, our citizenry in future years will have a chance to be wise or shallow.

Yet there has been resistance to new school levies and bond issues lately. The feeling is apparently that schooling is good enough, but there is much righteous indignation against paying for "frills" — though just what frills are, no one seems positive.

Our country's standard of living, scientific progress, security in world affairs, and adaptability to swiftly-changing circumstances, depend heavily on the quality of public education we provide. With the exception of national defence, what could possibly be more important, more worthy of our full and cheerful support?

Thought for the Day —

JUST THINK

Just think! Some night the stars will gleam
Upon a cold grey stone,
And trace a name with silver beam
— And it will be your own!

That night is speeding on to greet
Your epitaphic rhyme,
Your life is just a beat
Within the heart of Time.

A little gain, a little pain,
A laugh lest you may moan,
A little blame, a little fame —
A star-gleam on a stone!

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Warren are both temporarily at the Powers Hospital, St. Philippe, due to sickness in the family normally caring for them at their home in Bell Falls.

Prov'l H.&S. meet May 4-5 in Montreal

More than 400 delegates representing some 28,000 families across the province will gather in Montreal May 4-5 for the 18th annual provincial conference of the Quebec Federation of Protestant Home and School Associations.

Feature of the meeting will be a panel discussion on the results of "Operation Bootstrap", a two-year project launched in 1960 to examine all aspects of modern education. Many of the findings have been incorporated into the brief which the Federation will present to the Royal Commission on Education.

Theme for this year's conference will be "Plan your work and work your plan".

Sessions during the first day of the conference will be held in the Physical Sciences Building of McGill University. The following day, meetings will be held in the High School of Montreal, climaxed by the conference dinner at the Sheraton Mount Royal Hotel.

Guest speaker at the closing dinner will be H. S. Billings, assistant secretary of the Department of Education of the Province of Quebec.

SEEK TAX CUT

Winnipeg (CP) — The West Regional Air Carriers decided at a conference here to seek suspension of a federal tax of three cents a gallon on aviation gasoline.

Parents and a Child's Tears

— By NANCY CLEAVER —

"Who ran to help me when I fell,
And would some pretty story tell,
Or kiss the place to make it well?
— My Mother."

In these lines Ann Taylor pictures the experience of countless mothers who meet a child's tears over a tumble of some other mishap by a story and a comforting kiss.

Distracting a small crying child by giving him a favorite toy to play with, singing a nursery rhyme or showing him a picture book, often works like magic. Quickly he forgets his grief.

Father's Horror

In some families where there is very strict discipline, a father has a horror of his son becoming a "cry baby". He frowns on mother's natural reaction to reassure the child who is hurt with a loving hug, a kiss, and comforting words.

But some crying for a child is as natural as laughter. If a child cries too long and loudly over a small hurt, perhaps mother has been too concerned, too sympathetic about a minor discomfort.

Or it may be that the child longs for affectionate support but from experience mother is too busy to bother with him. He may sense his parents' disapproval of his tears. Crying may be his way of releasing his pent-up frustration or longing for attention.

Substitute Action

A baby cries for what he wants but when he has left babyhood behind crying should lessen. A sturdy, independent youngster, instead of crying for a desired object, will substitute action to get it. Mother may be lying down when Tommy comes in from play, hungry for an apple. Instead of crying for his apple, which is on a dish on the buffet, Tommy may push a chair over near the apple, climb up and get it.

When mother follows a routine, a child knows what to expect and this eliminates much crying, and also extra work for her. Tommy knew that he could have an apple or some other fruit after outdoor play, and thus he did not have to cry for it, or bother his mother.

If parents have been too quick to anticipate every desire of their baby, it will not be easy for their small child to learn that occasionally a little time must pass before his wants are seen to. If there is a new baby in the family, or if mother is answering the phone or occupied with some other demanding task, a child may have to wait until mother can help him off with his rubbers or outdoor clothes.

Beware Blackmail

Parents are fearful of spoiling their children but are sometimes puzzled about the mark of a spoiled child. One thing to beware of is allowing a child to blackmail a parent into giving him what he wants by loud and persistent crying. He must not conclude that this gets on his mother's nerves to such a degree that in the end she gives in to him. He should know when possible why his wish is not fulfilled and then be isolated in his own room, if he tries the "big stick" of crying.

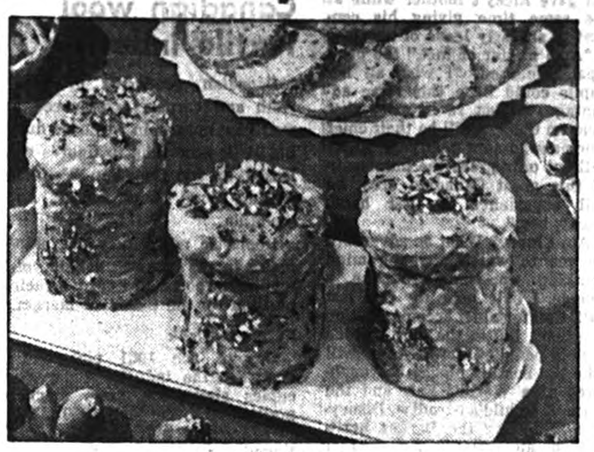

Some experts in mental health suspect that our culture has made too much of the importance of boys and men always hiding their emotions. A girl is allowed the luxury of a good cry to get over a disappointment or hurt, but a boy is expected to keep a stiff upper lip. No matter how he feels, it is considered unmanly for him to cry.

Don't Be Ashamed

At times of family bereavement, what is more natural than for those who wish to cry, whether young or old, male or female, to do so? That wise rabbi, Joshua Leibmann, advises those who mourn to be unashamed of showing their grief. Tears which come from deep sorrow help to lessen this heavy weight. The little child, the parent, the grandparents, should be able to relieve their emotions. It helps them accept their loss and once again face life with courage and with thankfulness for the richness of life which the loved one gave to them.

Deliciously different

KOULITCH

A traditional old - fashioned treat in Russia is bread called Koulitch, a delightful sweet bread for holiday or week-end breakfasts, or as a plain cake for dessert, with fruit or sherbet, any season of the year.

The following recipe suggests that the loaves be baked in washed and dried 20-ounce vegetable cans which give an attractive, mushroom - shaped loaf that's bound to become a conversation piece. If the vegetable cans are not available, the dough may be divided in two equal portions and baked in a greased 8-inch round cake pan and a greased 8½ x 4½ inch loaf pan.

Koulitch

(Yield — 4 loaves)

¾ Cup milk, 1 tablespoon granulated sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar, 1 envelope active dry yeast, 4½ cups (about) once-sifted all-purpose flour, ½ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, ½ cup seedless Sultana or bleached raisins, ¼ cup coarsely-chopped candied citron, 2 tablespoons grated orange rind, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Grease four round tin cans, such as well-washed and dried 20-ounce-size vegetable cans.

Scald milk; stir in the 1 tablespoon granulated sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Meantime, measure lukewarm water into a 4-quart bowl; stir in the 1 teaspoon granulated sugar. Sprinkle with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in the 1½ cups of the flour. Using a wooden spoon, beat until batter is smooth. Cover with a damp tea towel. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until batter is light and spongy — about 45 minutes.

Cream butter or margarine until soft; gradually blend in the ½ cup granulated sugar. Beat eggs well and gradually beat all but 2 tablespoons of the eggs into creamed mixture; beat until light and fluffy (save the 2 tablespoons egg for later use). Beat down sponge; add the creamed mixture and beat well. Stir in raisins, citron, orange rind and lemon rind. Work in additional flour (about 3 cups) to make a soft dough. Turn out dough on lightly-floured board or canvas and knead until smooth and elastic.

Shape dough into a ball and cut into 4 equal portions. Shape each portion into a ball and drop one ball into each prepared can. Each can should be about half full. Grease top of dough. Cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 hour. Brush tops with haved-out beaten egg. Place cans on a baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) 15 minutes. Reduce oven heat to moderate (350 deg. F.) and continue to bake loaves about 20 minutes longer. Unmould and partially cool on cake racks.

Note: If cans are not available, dough may be divided into 2 equal portions. Place one portion in a greased 8-inch round cake pan and the other portion in a greased 8½ x 4½ inch loaf pan. Bake as directed above. Frost top and sides of loaves with the following icing and sprinkle with chopped nutmeats.

Confectioners' Icing

2 Cups once-sifted icing sugar, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, milk.

Measure icing sugar into a bowl; stir in vanilla, almond extract and sufficient milk to make an icing of spreading consistency.

Teatime Topics

Specially Written for The Lachute Watchman

By Edna Blakely, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Theodore R. Isenstadt, director of special research projects for the Family Service Association of America, has predicted that homes for the aged and settlements for older people will become a thing of the past.

During a visit to Montreal, he said this type of accommodation had already proved ineffective and unwanted by older people, and that people confined to homes often lost their will to live.

Those in such settlements resented their segregation, and lost the sense of vitality they gained from contact with younger people.

"In the United States, they are already interspersing low - cost housing for older people with housing for younger people with families," he said.

The contact was not only good for the older people but helped children to understand the ageing process.

Major Problem

He said the ageing process is a major problem of the middle-aged.

"They have a tremendous fear of ageing themselves, so they want to push it away and ignore it."

He didn't agree with parents who shielded their children by not letting them attend the funeral of a grandparent. Such experiences prepared the child for his old age.

Women, still left with the care of their homes and husbands, were able to survive the ageing process better than men who were forced to retire at 65. The husband often was left with empty hours or hobbies which he couldn't pursue all day.

He said 9.5 per cent of the U.S. population is more than 65 years of age, and there would be an increase of older people.

"And we're not ready to minister to their needs." Older people needed adequate health care, income, home aids, friendly relationships with people of other ages and employment on a protective basis.

Consumers Complain

Consumers got their chance to voice complaints about packaging and labelling of goods when the consumer relations section of the federal food and drug directorate did a survey of 5,600 shoppers in 46 supermarkets across Canada.

The packaging of meat received much criticism. Many shoppers objected to the cardboard trays used for pre-packaged meats. Consumers said meat of a lesser quality could be hidden under better-quality meat. Others said the packages caused off-flavors.

Of the 2,363 consumers who criticized packaging, 1,061 found it deceptive in some way, 625 thought it too costly, and 324 found it fragile or hard to open or reclose. Only 210 objected to premiums and gimmicks in packages.

Overseas tour for Canadian cattle fanciers

A special all-inclusive fare of $775 minimum is being offered to Canadian cattlemen for 32 eventful days in Scotland and England. Sailing from Montreal on June 8, the party will return on the New Empress of Canada on July 10 — a wonderfully inexpensive and educational trip.

This tour offers an opportunity for first-hand study of livestock farming in Scotland and England, . . . to see the finest of herds, the infinite variety of British agriculture, the trend of future progress.

Farms, research institutes and other establishments have been carefully selected in co-operation with Livestock and Agricultural Associations in Great Britain. Shorthorns, Herefords, Aberdeen Angus, and Galloways will be among the greats to be seen. Two eventful days will be spent at the Royal Highland Show near Edinburgh, the "shop window" of Scottish agriculture for 138 years. Here the aristocrats of livestock will parade on their home ground.

And in between? Motor tours through the scenic charms of rural Britain . . . lakes, rivers, castles, cathedrals and Roman ruins . . . quaint villages and historic cities . . . Edinburgh, Chester, Hereford, Canterbury, London. Free days, too, for unplanned pleasures.

For more information on this great opportunity, see Giles Travel Agency, or phone LO 2-2494.

Diary of a Vagabond

Circumstances shape all our destinies, but it isn't often that a brochure proves to be the secret key that opens a door to adventure for a small boy.

When the family arrives at my house for a visit, the first thing the children do is rummage through my papers looking for canary newsprint on which to draw or type their inspirations on this old rattletrap machine. It is their chief amusement while their elders chat.

Among the papers piled high on my desk is a CN Maple Leaf Tour brochure outlining trips available for the coming summer. It was while their parents and I were catching up on family news recently that Ricky let a holler out of him. "Dad, look, here's a 20-day package tour to California and the Seattle World's Fair. Gee, it takes in Disneyland too, a trip across Canada by train and a boat trip from Victoria to Seattle. Can we go dad, please?"

Father of the brood multiplied the price of the tour by five and then remembered a move the family has in prospect to a new town. "Not this year, son", he replied.

I will be taking this trip plus several western Canadian sidetrips in search of copy for this column. So I stuck my neck out and offered to take Ricky along. This was fine up to a point. My trip must commence late in May or early in June. There was an obstacle called "school" in Ricky's way. I suggested his parents approach his principal and see what could be done to persuade him to allow Ricky to leave school earlier than the closing day. "Impossible" said the youngster's practical father. "Could be" said his more optimistic mother, who volunteered to call on the principal.

By this time I was building a sales talk for her to give Ricky's school master. What an opportunity for a child to learn about Canada as well as viewing "The World of Tomorrow" which is what the Fair is projecting. Lads and lassies his age will be living in that world and for them a preview is more than valuable. It will stimulate their imagination, develop their appreciation of what lies ahead and foster pride in our western way of life.

Principal Co-operates

I needn't have gone to such lengths to have his mother convince the principal. He was sold on the idea as soon as it was mentioned to him. Fortunately my first born grandchild is not stupid. His grades are in good shape and a month lost at the tail-end of a school year will not affect his standing.

The principal made one stipulation. Ricky must not be told about his good standing but rather warned that he must work hard in order to make good marks in the May tests. "He could become very lazy between now and the end of May if he thought his present grades could carry him through." was the sound advice the principal gave Ricky's mother while at the same time giving his consent to an early leave of absence.

"As a matter of fact," the principal remarked. "I wish all my pupils could have this same advantage. It just so happens that western Canada will be their chief study assignment next year. Ricky will not only grasp the immensity of this great Canadian area, he will experience it first hand. Lucky boy."

Am I lucky? What an adventure for me to watch a young mind drinking up this trip like a sponge. I only hope my feet last out! Comfortable accommodation is a boon, but in the long run it's the old pedal extremities that will take the beating on the thoroughfares of a World's Fair and the maze of a child's paradise, Disneyland. Knowing the Barker heritage of an inflated curiosity, I don't expect my 11-year-old travelling companion will miss much.

VETS BUSY

Victoria (CP) — Veterinarians spend so much time looking after sick dogs and cats they have no time for livestock, Herbert Bruch (SC-Esquimalt) complained in the legislature. He proposed one vet in each area should be kept available for emergency work with farm livestock.

Improvement in Canadian wool textile industry

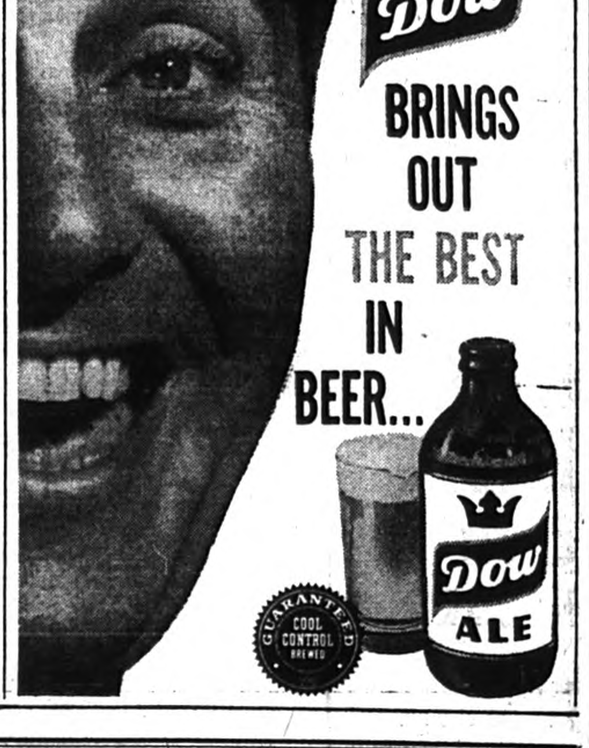

Canadian producers of wool cloth and carpets experienced a welcome upturn in business during 1961, according to figures released by the Canadian Woollen & Knit Good Manufacturers Association.

Domestic mills increased shipments in the face of a falling volume of imports, to improve their position on the Canadian market.

Future Outlook

Despite the 1961 pick-up in business, the industry today occupies about the same market position as in the early 1950's. Yet there is reasonable hope that continued new investment and application of new processes can be translated into further improvement. A great deal depends on current international developments. Should Britain, largest exporter of wool cloth to this market, join the European Common Market, there would be re-consideration of the preferential tariff treatment which these cloths are now accorded by Canada. And it is conceivable that the Geneva arrangements which seek to bring new order to international trade in cotton textiles, will eventually be broadened to include other fibres.

a big question, these days, concerning Hospital Insurance:

"WHAT ABOUT A PRIVATE ROOM?"

here are some facts and figures for EDDY EVERYBODY

STANDARD WARD ACCOMMODATION

Let's get one thing straight. Hospital Insurance has not been set up for the purpose of paying private room bills; but, more realistically, to supply free, to all, adequate hospital care. And that is precisely what you get in a standard ward, namely a hospital room numbering 5 beds or more. Therefore, if you wish the Provincial Government to foot all of your hospital bills, you must settle for ward accommodation. As at least 40% of all beds in every insured hospital must fall within this category, there should be room for you. But please bear in mind that most hospitals have waiting lists: you might perhaps have to patiently wait your turn.

WHEN ROOMS ARE FREE...

In any event, if there happens to be no vacancy in the standard wards at that time and if the doctor considers that you urgently require admission, the hospital must supply you with a room at no cost to you. But as soon as a vacancy turns up in a standard ward, the hospital is entitled to transfer you — unless you wish to keep your room by starting, then and there, to pay for it. Secondly, when your condition or that of the other patients requires it, you also receive free room accommodation. Your doctor will rule on this. But, there again, you may be moved to a ward bed as soon as you take a turn for the better.

WHEN ROOMS ARE NOT FREE...

Save those two exceptions, room accommodation must be paid for by you — or out of your supplementary insurance policy, if you happen to hold one. At that, the Hospital Insurance Service is of considerable assistance by making possible much lower room rates than those in effect last year.

SEMI-PRIVATE ROOMS

If you feel you must have a room, why not select a semi-private one? On the island of Montréal, a room numbering three or four beds will cost you $4 a day, no more; a two-bed room, $5 at the most. Elsewhere in the Province, $4 will pay for a semi-private room of any description.

PRIVATE ROOMS

Selecting a private room is not as easy, and here's why. Every hospital offers several "types" of private rooms — more or less expensive according to facilities supplied, such as running water, toilet, shower, balcony, or any other "special" feature.

As would be expected, such features vary greatly from one room to another and from this hospital to the next. You would therefore do well to ask the hospital, before admission, how much this particular room costs, and why. You are entitled to know!

But it will still boil down to this. On the island of Montréal, a private room costs $8 a day, and up. Elsewhere in the Province, the rate is $7 a day, and up — depending upon the furnishings and "special-features" offered.

Indeed, this is much less than what it used to be! Don't forget that you no longer receive bills for the cost of medicines, operating room, regular nursing care, lab tests, X-rays, etc. — since these costs are borne by the Hospital Insurance Service.

NEVER FORGET FORM AH-108

Much of this will be plain to see on your copy of "new" Form AH-108, which you must request upon being discharged from the hospital. Note the two amounts shown: the money paid for you by your Provincial Hospital Insurance, and the other amount left for you to pay because of your taking a private or semi-private room. Insist upon receiving this Form: it should clear up a lot of misunderstanding.

AND TO SUM UP...

Here is the whole story in a nutshell. Completely free hospitalization is available to you within standard ward accommodation. But it will be up to you to pay for private or semi-private room accommodation. Even then, such rooms will cost you much less than they did last year and the years before!
